Vernier Road Homeowners Lodge Tardy Objections to Erecting Terraces There

File Petition Asking Revocation of Permission Granted Builders Following Open Meeting Last June

A group of home owners along Vernier road attended the Woods' Council meeting on Tuesday evening, Dec. 16, and filed a petition asking the village to revoke the permission given Cox and Baker to erect a 60 family unit terrace on the lower side of Vernier adjoining the Fruehauf School on the Mack avenue side.

An ordinance had been passed by the village council in 1940 which expressly provided that either single family residences or terraces could be built along Vernier.

At a meeting held on June 3, 1947, the proposition was made to amend the present zoning ordinance so as to prohibit the erection of terraces there. Only a small group of property owners attended that meeting and practically all of them were the owners of unimproved property. They opposed the restriction on the grounds that it would impair the value of their lots if they should be limited to only single family houses.

When Cox and Baker assembled their construction machinery on the property recently and made ready to start work the owners of dwellings thereabouts became greatly excited, with the result that the petition appeared on Tuesday night.

Most of these parties professed to know nothing of the meeting held on June 3, although the village officials say every effort was made to publicize the meeting and afforded everybody an opportunity to be heard.

The village has given sanction to the terrace development because the council felt it would help to alleviate the housing shortage and at the same time

Marksman Assessed $2.20 Each for Hitting Target

Confessions were obtained from five boys in their early teens that they were members of a group which threw snowballs and ice at passing cars in McKinley road on Dec. 16, breaking the windshield of one.

Mrs. Ernest Scanes of 281 McKinley is the owner of the damaged car. She was able to provide the Farms police with the name of one of the youngsters. Through this, Detective Sergeant Elmer Labadie and Detective

Leo F. Lanzon, aged 26, of 4347 Philip street, Detroit, lies in the Bon Secours hospital with a shattered left hip caused by a pistol shot from the gun in the hands of Park patrolman Arthur Conlan. Lanzon was fleeing from the officer at about 10:30 o'clock in the evening of December 17.

Sour Note Struck by Carollers

Boys Get Saucy When Resident Refuses to Pay For Holiday Serenade

Four boys organized as Christmas carollers sallied forth on the evening of December 18, set to render sweet strains and incidentally to pick up a little holiday honoraria.

When they reached 793 Rivard boulevard and had put forth their best vocal efforts, they demanded money. When the head of the house demurred, he said they got "sassy" and he reported them to the police.

The police hurried forth to discourage any further Christmas "sassy" in the city but the ill-tempered carollers had vamoosed.

Impounded Puss Faces Sad Xmas

At the request of the residents at 266 Rivard the police picked up a stray cat on Dec. 19 that had been haunting the place. The officers gathered in a well set up brown "Tommy." He wore a collar and his fond owners, to minimize his effectiveness as a catcher of birds, had attached two small bells to his collar.

Tommy would make music wherever he went, conducive to the safety of birds and squirrels that chanced across his path.

He is now awaiting a call from his owners, immured in the cat box in the dog pound on Maumee.

Mischief Takes Despicable Form

The most despicable form of malicious mischief has made its appearance in the Pointe. Alfons A. Limberg, of 827 Fisher reported to the City police on Sunday morning that at 11:45 p.m. the night before a car with four boys in it had pulled up in front of his place and in a twinkling the boys had pulled the lights and cords off the Christmas tree in his front yard.

He and his son had run out and attempted to catch the boys but they turned off the lights on the car and sped away. In their hurry they had dropped one of the string of lights in the yard.

On the same night, the Farms police received complaints that boys had broken lights on Christmas trees at 231 and 215 McKinley road. The boys had fled before the police arrived.

Fleeing Man Shot by Park Policeman

Victim's Hip Shattered After Shots in Air Fail to Stop Him

Leo F. Lanzon, aged 26, of 4347 Philip street, Detroit, lies in the Bon Secours hospital with a shattered left hip caused by a pistol shot from the gun in the hands of Park patrolman Arthur Conlan. Lanzon was fleeing from the officer at about 10:30 o'clock in the evening of December 17.

The events leading to the shooting were: At 10:33 a message came into the Park police station from Mrs. W. K. Brown of 1437 Wayburn, reporting that a suspicious looking man was standing at the gas station at Wayburn and Charlevoix. The man had addressed profane and obscene language to her. The occasion of his speaking to her was not disclosed.

Officers A. Conlan and Slusser went around in their car and interrogated a man standing there but he established his identity and satisfied the officers he was not the man wanted. He told them that the man they were looking for had just gone down the avenue towards Alter road.

The officers drove towards Alter and saw a man apparently skulking in a doorway on Charlevoix just a door or two from Alter. Conlan called to him that they wanted to talk with him.

Instead of waiting the man ran down to Alter, turned north on Alter and ducked east from Alter across some vacant lots. Conlan took after him on foot and the man turned into the alley parallel with Alter running back towards Charlevoix. As he was running through the alley Conlan fired four shots after him, aimed in the air, calling out on each shot to halt! The man kept on running and on the fifth shot Conlan aimed at his legs and fired.

The man fell and they took him, bleeding profusely, in their car to the hospital. There after a quick examination the hospital people said his right hip was shattered by the bullet.

Later in the morning County Prosecutor James McNally called on him in the hospital and took his statement.

Lanzon was, ambiguous in his explanation as to his movements. He had thought of going into the Aloha theater nearby but it was too late and he gave up the idea. He then decided he would go and see his mother who lives on Marlborough. The conflicting part of his story was that his car was parked in an opposite direction and it did not make sense that he would walk away from his car when going to see his mother and thence on to his own home a block farther away.

A young woman living in the Park volunteered the information to the police that she thought he might be the same man who had accosted her that same evening with a vile immoral proposal.

The police took her to the hospital and she positively identified Lanzon as the man who had accosted her. On Saturday morning a warrant was issued for his arrest by Judge Victor H. DeBaekle on the charges alleged and sworn to. He will be arraigned as soon as discharged from the hospital.

This circumstance undoubtedly accounts for Lanzon's continued flight after he had been shot at four times by Officer Conlan. It also explains the parking of his car in an unusual place with the keys in and the motor running.

Sisters of St. Joseph Present Plans For Beautiful Building In Moross Road to Cost between $3,500,000 and $5,000,000

The Sisters of St. Joseph, who are in charge of the new St. John's Hospital project, have issued a beautifully illustrated brochure descriptive of its need and its physical proportions and equipment when finished. The hospital is to be built in Moross road just west of Mack over the Grosse Pointe Woods boundary line.

It will be one of the most magnificent hospital institutions in the whole country when finally completed. It is estimated to cost when finished between $3,500,000 and $5,000,000.

In reciting the need of the hospital a table is shown in which Detroit, the fourth City in population in the United States, ranks tenth in available hospital beds in proportion to population, among the first ten cities in the country. The highest hospital facilities are shown for Boston, with Pittsburgh, Washington and St. Louis in order. Philadelphia ranks fifth, with Chicago sixth, New York seventh and Cleveland eighth. Los Angeles is lowest next to Detroit.

In beds available per 1,000 population they range from 8.8 in Boston down to 3.5 in Detroit. The new hospital will front the terminus of Chandler Park drive and will be located on Moross road between Linville and Mack avenues.

The sisters state in their pamphlet that the location is admirably fixed to serve the surrounding areas, including our own Grosse Pointe.

"The sisters purchased the land out of their own meagre earnings. In addition they have received many small sums from relatives and friends of the young men and women 'who, in the recent world tragedy, gladly died that others might live free, joyous and happy lives.' They have the first $100,000 in hand.

The institution will be under the administration of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Gate Crasher Given Ticket

Because Charles H. L'Hommedieu of 120 Kenwood road was momentarily distracted from his driving when he wiped the inside of his windshield while going east on Kercheval at 5:30 p.m. Dec. 15, he crashed into the fence around the sewer construction just west of Nottingham road.

He knocked the gate off its hinges and damaged the front end of his car and its steering wheel. There was no personal injury. Mr. L'Hommedieu was given a ticket for not having his car under control.

Policeman Faces Busy Christmas

The Christmas season is getting more and more complicated for the family of Farms Patrolman and Mrs. Harold A. Beaupre. On Dec. 20 the third December baby was born to the Beaupres when Richard Thomas arrived in the Henry Ford Hospital.

This will be the third Christmas Mrs. Beaupre has spent in the hospital in the last seven years. Allen Francis was born on Dec. 17, 1940. Janet Elizabeth arrived on Dec. 21, 1943.

Mrs. Beaupre and Richard Thomas are both doing well. Harold is planning on a busy Christmas Day spent between the children at home and the members of his family in the hospital.

Flat Tire Blamed for Theft Of Mickey Cochrane's Car

City Patrolmen Mauck and Onstwedder found a Packard car at 8 a.m. on Dec. 20 in Charles place near Rivard. It had a flat tire with the key in the ignition and the heater going full blast. Later it was discovered to have been stolen from the garage of Wilton M. Smith of 11437 Otsego avenue, Detroit, the night before.

Report Sales Set Records During 1947

Old Established Concerns And New Shops All Benefit From Buying Boom

Grosse Pointe merchants this year have done the largest holiday business, in most cases, in their entire history in Grosse Pointe, and invariably a larger gross trade than last year.

This applies equally to stores of comparatively recent location in the Pointe and those which have been in business here for many years.

Merchants are loathe to have quoted the figures of their individual stores but the composite of a survey made by the NEWS on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 20, indubitably tells a uniform story of big turnover, satisfactory profits and generally agreeable merchandising business.

Merchants ascribe various reasons for this. All agree that a large amount of available cash for Christmas buying still remains in the community and the spirit of Christmas cheer has if anything grown more acute with our townspersons.

One store, oddly enough, credited much of its prosperity to the superior class of help it was able to get this year for extra clerks. Heretofore this establishment reported it has been compelled to hire young girls inexperienced in selling. This year it was able to employ many mature women who made more effective sales persons and attracted into the store large numbers of their friends who were valuable customers.

This store however reported that there was some diminution in the sale of the highest class of merchandise, but at the same time said its gross sales this year would run from 40 percent to 50 percent higher than last Christmas.

Another establishment which carries expensive toiletries said it noted no letdown in the demand for the highest priced merchandise.

The sum of the merchandising experience in the Pointe this year, over and above the usual abnormal Christmas sales, indicates that Grosse Pointe is becoming an increasingly valuable mart for the mercantile business. Its growth in wealth and population is being reflected in greater and greater volumes of sales.

There is no community in the whole country where the average per capita buying power of the people is as high as here, and the full force of this fact has been evidenced this year.

Despite the fact that three days more remained of intensive Christmas buying, not any of the merchants were unwilling to predict that this year 1947 would top all others. They expressed themselves with equal certainty on the prospects for the remainder of December.

Paul Devereux Fatally Stricken

Paul Devereux, aged 51, died of a heart attack at his home 472 Neff at 11 o'clock Sunday night, Dec. 21.

When Mr. Devereux was stricken the family called for the police with an inhalator. The police said he appeared dead when they arrived. Dr. H. B. Steinbach arrived shortly after and pronounced him dead. Mr. Devereux was listed in the City records as District Manager of the Sun Oil Company.

Albert Karrer Killed by Car

Albert Karrer, aged 75, a retired business man who lived with his sister, Mrs. Lachat, at 508 Notre Dame, was struck by an automobile about 7 o'clock Sunday night, Dec. 21, on the Detroit side of Mack near Neff. He was taken by the Detroit police to the Cadieux General Hospital, where he died early Monday morning.

COASTERS SAFEGUARDED

Last week's snow brought sleighriding back to the Pointe and once again the police are co-operating with the youngsters. The Merriweather-Moran-Charlevoix hill was barricaded during the weekend so the kids could coast in safety.

Holiday Drinkers May Find Motoring Most Expensive

The motorist who drinks and then drives may find his evening much more expensive than the cost of the cocktails and highballs.

If he is arrested during this Christmas holiday season and convicted of drunken driving, he may be assured he is going to spend some time in jail, the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit says.

Traffic Court judges have publicly announced that all such drivers will be given straight jail sentences without any alternative.

Although the convicted driver is provided with free room and board during his stay, it doesn't add up to the financial setback he suffers from time lost from his job, his family and other considerations.

Conviction of drunken driving carries a mandatory suspension of the driver's license for 90 days, the Association also points out. At the end of this time the driver may apply to the Secretary of State for reinstatement of his license, but there are several things that must be done before the license is returned.

The driver must carry liability and property damage insurance and his company must certify to the Secretary of State that he has such insurance. If, at the time of conviction, he does have such a policy, it won't cost him any more money for a while. But when his policy expires his insurance premiums will go up for a three-year period. He will be required to pay premiums at least 50 per cent higher than the regular rates.

If the driver fails to get insurance through a company—and some drivers with bad records are unable to—then he must file a liability bond for $11,000 with the Secretary of State for three years.

Or he may put up $11,000 in cash, if he wants his license back.

Miracle of Improvement At County Detention Home Reported by Schweikart

Pointe Supervisor Delighted With Vast Changes Made By New Management At Juvenile Institution; New Spirit Pervades Place

Carl Schweikart, Supervisor of Grosse Pointe township and ex-officio member of the County Board of Supervisors is enthusiastic over what he observed at the Juvenile Detention Home when he and the Detention Home Committee, of which he is chairman, made an official visit recently.

Mr. Schweikart said that whereas under the old management dirt and filth were common sights and discipline had sunk to a low ebb, the opposite now prevailed through the institution. He said they combed the place over from the deepest basement to the playground rigged up for the children on the roof. Cleanliness, order and discipline were seen on every hand.

A few months ago it was a common occurrence for boys to skip out of the Home, and usually never be returned. Open rebellion was rampant and it was intimated that some of the guards were intimidated.

The committee ate a meal in the place to see how that function was conducted. They were awaited upon by well mannered girls, neatly dressed and courteous.

In the gymnasium the boys were engaged in all sorts of exercises and athletic games were carried on in a spirit of sportsmanship and fair play. The reading room was well stocked with good books, taking the place of the gangster pulp trash which formerly constituted their chief mental food.

Mr. Schweikart said it was hard to realize what a great improvement could be made in a short time by capable management.

The Detention Home committee secured an appropriation this year to make a substantial addition to the place. It had been intended to buy the five adjoining private properties on Hancock street, but the rise in building costs had determined the committee to buy at this time only two of the properties and spend the rest of their appropriation in converting these two into a creditable, well equipped addition to the Home.

Mr. Schweikart wishes that all citizens interested in this department of reform work would take the trouble to visit the place and see the great change wrought there.

Green Barrier Fight Settled

The Woods Council on December 16 approved the plan of homeowners in the Colonial subdivision facing the parking lot at the theater on Mack and Bournemouth, for the erection of a cedar fence barrier with the narrowing of the easement from sixty feet to forty feet.

One hundred per cent of the affected property owners have endorsed this arrangement. Raymond Meurer, the attorney for the United Detroit Theaters has also agreed to the plan. It is believed Sol Sloan will also go along. Sloan is the developer of the commercial property.

Christmas 1947

As we are witnessing this year the most extensive buying of Christmas gifts and exchange of presents the country has ever known, a feeling of deep gratitude should well up in the heart of every American.

This Christmas is an uplifting anti climax to the doubts and fears and anxieties which beset the minds of men. The dour spirit which has laid hold of so much of the rest of the world is being cast aside here.

No spectre of want stalks this land. Never has there been a time in our past when there has been less of want and hardship than now.

We are suffering some inconveniences, utterly incomparable to the gruelling want and sufferings which exist in Europe.

This year should be for us both a Christmas and a Thanksgiving; and we are expressing that thanksgiving in a concrete and practical way by sending vast stores of our abundance to bring cheer to our unhappy fellow humans abroad.

We can, from our hearts, echo the answer that Frank Church of the old Morning New York Sun made to the query of little Virginia O'Hanlon who wanted to know if there was a Santa Claus. "Yet, Virginia there is a Santa Claus and he will live ten thousand years from now."

Church's assurance to the little girl in New York was penned more than fifty years ago in some of the most moving lines ever written in the English tongue.

The spirit of the Christ, portrayed in the life of the mediaeval monk, carried on with such zest in America now, is the most stable assurance the world has in this anxious hour that all will eventually be well with the world.

All men want happiness. The most direct pathway to its attainment is the one which pursues the way of the Great Nazarene.

John L. Lewis' Sunset

John L. Lewis has made a mess of his life-long ambition to be both a labor dictator and a great political boss. He aimed high; all he wanted to was President of the United States. But when Franklin D. Roosevelt, with apparently a limited life tenure, refused to accept him as his running mate, this dream died aborning.

Now Mr. Lewis' in-and-out maneuvers in his varied labor affiliations hasn't even landed him in-between and he is pretty near to being outside the breast-works of both labor and politics entirely.

His last gesture of defiance of law, when he refused to subscribe to the non-communist oath, was not supported by his own or any other union, which preferred regularity with the law of the land and continuance of facilities with the National Labor Relations Board to the leadership of Mr. Lewis. This was a bitter disappointment to Lewis, so he choose to disaffiliate again.

He has lived long enough to discover, or should have, that the era of rough shod, bulldozing dictatorship in the great labor movement in America had passed. Leadership now demands a type of statesmanship of which Mr. Lewis was never capable. He still has his miners pretty well in hand and is trying to expand their range through his cherished District 50 movement, but this is a far cry from nationwide labor leadership.

Meanwhile Mr. Lewis has grown older and whether he yet realizes it or not his sun is waning if not definitely set.

Marshall's Report

The conference of foreign ministers in London, out of which it was sincerely hoped by everybody except the Russian leaders, that some workable arrangement might be made for the future of Germany and Austria, has come to nothing.

Secretary Marshall and the other foreign ministers didn't shilly shally around about placing the blame. They have united in placing it squarely on the Russians' doorstep.

When the latter went so far in their plottings for chaos and confusion in Europe as to openly oppose the Marshall plan for the economic rehabilitation of Europe their hands were clearly disclosed. If by suffering and fear they can coerce the unhappy peoples of Europe into the ranks of Communism their purpose is gained.

The people of this country, at first annoyed and anxious because of the Russians' attitude, have latterly become only exasperated.

It has been made clear to them, according to current thought, that the Soviets are more concerned in furthering their one-party dictatorship on the world than they are in bringing hope and freedom to millions.

The people will unanimously approve the blunt words and unmistakable meaning of Secretary Marshall.

They like his talk about there being no more meetings. And President Truman has added to his stature in saying that he is agreeable to talking it over with Marshall Stalin; but only in Washington.

When General Marshall made his report to the Nation over the radio on Friday night it carried a shock and a disappointment to the American people. It would be foolish to deny this.

We have been aware that the efforts of the American representatives, as well as those of England and France, have been meeting with discouragements. The reports that have filtered out from the Foreign Ministers' meeting have told a story of stolid Russian opposition on every major proposal put forth from the western powers, that has increasingly carried the possibility of a complete breakdown.

Nevertheless, there has been a feeling, if not an actual conviction that out of these parleys would come some workable settlement that would give the green light for European recovery. We were told this in the early days of the parleys with the Russians. Our representatives said in the beginning that great difficulties would be encountered, patience would

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house . . . not a creature was stirring except the mouse in our house . . . who hasn't even a healthy respect for our cat! The louse." (Chris Chingale)

Just for a change, we shall dwell somewhat on the air waves. Last Wednesday, a female news commentator informed the land that on the previous evening, the Trumans had entertained the Supreme Court Justices at the White House. That in itself is dry commentating . . . except that she added, "Because of their strict adherence (the Trumans) to observing meatless and eggless days . . . NO FOOD WAS SERVED."

Now there is what we call an ideal way of entertaining. We presume the Justices do not drink . . . unless one would call a warm lemonade or a lime fizz or buttermilk . . . drinking. So what have we? Card tricks? Lotto? Charades? Old Maid? When WE entertain, even in a puny manner, we feel obligated to sooth the savage beasts with at least a hot dog. Ah, me! Take ye heart . . . eat, drink and be merry . . . for tomorrow ye may be President and won't have to do any of it.

Ever heard a woman say to another, "I found the BEST face cream the other day . . . you ought to try it." Nine times out of ten, the speaker is anything but an ad for anybody's face cream. Why is that? When shampoos are brought into the conversation, the ONE woman who speaks up and says "Well I use Shrink's Tarpaper soap and there isn't any better for my money!" . . . is usually the only one in the group whose hair looks awful. You'll rarely catch the woman with beautiful hands, ferinstance, saying, "I use Hinkle-berger's hand cream . . . why don't YOU try it?" But you WILL catch the woman with skin like a crocodile, telling YOU what to use.

While all you big-hearted Pointers are "remembering" folks for Christmas, don't forget the following: Your postman, milkman, refuse collectors, policemen, firemen, watchmen, newsboys and all the people who unobtrusively play a part in your daily lives. You can forget tax collectors and Fuller Brush men . . . but you know what we mean!

Wanna hear a story about reindeer? No doubt you've read about the auto company in Highland Park that "imported" ten reindeer for Christmas display? Well, old snoop Pryor can give you the low down on that picture, which we found interesting. It seems it is against the Federal law for a white man to own reindeer in the States . . . for the simple reason that they don't survive more than one summer in these hyer parts.

However, a gent in upper Michigan thinks he has solved a way to not only keep reindeer alive in the States, but also to raise them. Sooooo, he got permission from the Government to try it out . . . and he has the reindeer on a rental basis. Ringling Brothers circus is anxious to take them off his hands for the summer . . . so if you see them prancing, dancing, dundering and blitzing around the circus lot, you'll be able to nudge your companion and tell him all about it.

If you're looking for anything in the sports line, ala Abercrombie and Fitch, you might look in on Roland Gray's Sports Shop opposite the Grosse Pointe News under the elm. This is NOT an ad. Roland is an old pal known to most Grosse Pointers. He's opened his own shop recently and what he doesn't know about sports, (the kind you play), and sports equipment, you could engrave on the head of a pin. If your 4-year old is a promising Babe Didrickson, Mr. Gray will give you the right steer in the right equipment direction. Or if your grandfather still plays polo at 85, Monsour Gray will take care of that too . . . probably with a soft mallet. Anyway, don't overlook this popular spot-of-sports.

Out of the Mail Bag

"Dear Girls, I am giving a Christmas cocktail party for our . . . restaurant. DO come and enjoy it with me. Sincerely, So and so. RSP to me 137 . . . Street." (Sorry Soandso, we're RSPing to YOU that we can't be there to help YOU enjoy it.)

One of the Pointe's fancier matrons, who is entertaining her extensive family at Christmas dinner, gave us this little tidbit concerning her cook. After having given the cook the menu, Madame left the kitchen, but came back within a few minutes to add a codicil. The unsuspecting cook was conferring with the waitress in the pantry and neither saw or heard Madame. This is what our heroine heard: Cook: "And for the salad course, they want a grapefruit and avocado salad." Waitress, horrified: "GRAPEFRUIT and AVOCADO?" Cook: Yeeesss, grapefruit and avocado . . . can you IMAGINE?"

be strained to the breaking point, but that they were confident the end would be achieved. It has been in this mood that we have been listening to the news from abroad.

Now Secretary of State Marshall bluntly tells us that parleys are over. Instead of the sustained hope that some solution would be reached along the usual route of diplomatic discussion, the alternative we now have to take is to oppose the continued spread of communism by demonstrating by our works and their merits in Western Europe that the machinery of real democracy is the only hope for world recovery.

We won the war, fought to preserve democracy, because we mustered the greater material force. We are now faced with the continued task of winning the peace by a demonstration of moral forces and the example of economic advantage.

It is not a cheerful prospect but General Marshall's report clearly lays this alternative in the Nation's lap.

There is no suggestion in his report that we should abandon the course we have mapped out, but it will unquestionably hasten discussions, and in some quarters doubts, whether America should undertake the enormous commitments it has in mind.

It is a proper moment for Americans to again take stock of their enormous moral and material forces. We have within the last decade become familiar with threats and crises from abroad. A very few years ago Germany was the world exhibit of ruthless might and terror, Japan for more than thirty years was accepted as the country with whom we would some day, sooner or later, have to reckon for the "Mastery of the Pacific." What happened with those two threats is now history.

The Russians are not and never have been within themselves a great military power or self sustained economic national unit. She has vast potential resources but these are not in themselves enough. Back of these must stand the moral and spiritual resources which are the measure of true greatness in nations as in individuals. Russia is more lacking in these than any other great country in all history.

If events should move to the test, Americans can face the issue with supreme confidence. On a conflict in which human dignity, freedom and the right of self government, craved by men the world over, are arrayed against despotism, human degradation and atheism, hated and feared by all men, America's cause is supreme and will remain so, come as may the currents and tides of the human march.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

Christmas Comes But Once a Year. It's Here.

The above poem was thought up by me after a period of severe mental strain. I think it covers the whole subject rather neatly.

The thirty memorial CHRISTMAS trees which stand down Park Avenue at this season are once more adding beauty to our city. Twinkling and gleaming through the dusk and snow they are a lovely sight and a tribute of deep sentiment to the dead of World War II. Surely all who see their gentle glow and know their proud significance must be deeply touched. This year, the fourth for the Memorial, the public attended services inside and outside the Brick Presbyterian Church on Park Avenue. Six choirs from six churches sang. A sixty man color guard attended with the 1st Army Band, and representatives from all branches of the armed services.

MRS. VANDERBILT is giving her annual and beautiful Christmas party for her friends. Her old home at 51st and 5th, where the great galas used to take place, is in the process of being torn down. Her new house, on 5th at 36th is much smaller although the plan of the reception rooms, gallery and music rooms, and the arrangement of the furniture in them is almost exactly the same. I was up there the other night for a dinner MRS. VANDERBILT gave for the PRINCE and PRINCESS CHRISTIAN of HESSE — cousins of the HESSES whose jewels were stolen by that army couple. MRS. VANDERBILT wore a bright red Christmas gown and a jeweled red head band. She joked gaily about whether she would some day leave off the head band and astound everybody. Although she has not been at all well and her eyesight is a source of great worry, she was gallantly planning the CHRISTMAS party; where to place the two massive trees and what to do to please the young children.

I was the first to leave that night because I was going on to a late dance. AMBASSADOR HENRY FLETCHER saw me out to find a taxi. Waiting at the door were the cars of the guests. "Why should you take a taxi with all these cars doing nothing?" said MR. FLETCHER. Well, WHY, I ask you. Because I could say certainly, I was tucked in the PRINCE'S car. The car waited at my apartment while I changed my gown and then took me on to the dance. I hope and pray the PRINCE and PRINCESS CHRISTIAN of HESSE didn't decide to leave before their driver was safely back and standing immobile at the head of the line. Incidentally, MRS. VANDERBILT told me, not long ago, that she has always lived on Fifth Avenue. She was born on that street and has never lived off it. Considering her position as QUEEN of AMERICAN SOCIETY, that seems a proper record.

Dining with PIERRE and CHRISTINE HAAS the other night, I tasted roast goose for the first time. It seems incredible, since I've eaten everything I've ever heard of, including rattlesnake and octopus, but I just never had the lowly goose. CHRISTINE was the COUNTESS OSTROWSKA of Poland and her wouterful chef is another Pole named OSCAR. OSCAR is a dream. He is a great big, majestic man who does the dusting, cleaning, shopping, cooking, pressing and walking the poodle. In his spare time he paints. The apartment is full of his whimsies. The decorative sayings on a parchment lampshade are casually painted texts such as—Love does many things—but money does everything—Love is a conflict between reflexes and reflection.

To an ardent swimmer, living along the shores of Lake St. Clair in the summertime, is nothing short of agony.

It's like sitting down to a luscious looking blueberry pie, trying hard to keep from drooling as you anticipate its flavor. Then, time after time, before you can pop a piece into your mouth, having it hurriedly snatched away with the explanation that cook just can't be taught . . . she's used those poison berries again.

Of course, some people don't like blueberry pie, nor do they care a hoot about swimming, but lots of us like both.

Won't somebody PLEASE do something?

Surgical Instrument Expert Explains Work to Rotarians

Alfred Schmitt, in charge of the surgical instrument repair department at the Ford Hospital, gave a most interesting talk before the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club on the work carried on in his department.

Mr. Schmitt has been in this department at Ford for the past 23 years and has spent 35 years all told in this highly technical work. He learned his craft in Germany, where his father had a factory making surgical instruments.

He said that out of the war, despite all its horrors, vast contributions had been made to surgical science. He mentioned that new uses had been found for the element tantalum. This had first been discovered by a Swedish scientist nearly a hundred years ago but for many decades no special use had been discovered for its employment. The fact that it is the one substance which is tolerated by human tissue without apparent deleterious effect caused it to be used in many delicate operations heretofore impossible because of the lack of such properties in previously employed materials.

He demonstrated how a bronchoscope is worked in the removal of foreign substances from the human bronchial passages and exhibited the taking of an open safety pin from a child's throat, both when the point of the pin was embedded either in entering and on removal.

Probably the most interesting part of his talk was on the progress that has been made in developing a moveable artificial eye. Artificial eyes, because of their fixed character, reveal at once their nature. In the new type of eye an implant is made which is inserted in the cavity which has a perfectly round and highly polished base. This implant is attached to the eye muscles which permit its lateral and horizontal movement making an admirable imitation of the natural eye. To this implant is attached the usual artificial eye.

Discharged Maid Retreats After Getting Ultimatum

A maid in a Farm home who refused to be discharged, changed her mind when informed that if she didn't leave of her own volition the police would assist her.

The police received a call on Dec. 18 from a resident whose mother-in-law was having the trouble. The police pledged their help and the discharge was handed an ultimatum that she should be out of the house of her employer by 12:30 "or else."

A scout car drew up to the house a few minutes before the deadline. Just before hostilities were scheduled to commence, the maid emerged, indignant but non-resistant. As the officers watched, she beat an orderly retreat and the incident was marked "closed."

Caught Trying To Force Door

An attempted breaking and entering at the Basinger Service Station at Kercheval and Oak was interrupted at 2:55 a.m. on Dec. 21.

Oscar Douglas of the United Investigators Service, arrested Edward Kingsley Robertson, address not given, when he caught him trying to force the door of the garage, Robertson had been drinking, the police report.

He was taken to the Farms police station, where he was unable to explain his actions.

The process has no relationship to sight itself however.

The work in which Mr. Schmitt is engaged goes much farther than the mere repair of surgical instruments. It is devoted extensively to the improvement of existing instruments and the development of new ones.

It's not too late to enjoy the benefits of Automatic Coal Heat THIS WINTER!

STOKERS AND AUTOMATIC CONTROLS CAN BE INSTALLED WITHOUT INTERRUPTING YOUR HEAT SUPPLY

IF YOU ARE among those coal-users who wish they had converted from manual firing to automatic heat this winter... you can still have your wish.

Installing a stoker, even in the coldest weather, takes only a short time... so short that your home will not even have a chance to "cool off" before heat production is resumed.

Ease and speed of installation is only a minor advantage of automatic stoker heat. For convenience, economy, uniformity of heat in all weather conditions, cleanliness and freedom from care, no method of heating surpasses the automatic stoker. And—best of all—it burns low-cost, high-heat COAL... the world's most plentiful and satisfactory fuel.

BONUS FOR COAL CONSUMERS—When you use coal to heat your home, you are eligible to receive the many helpful benefits available through the coal retailers, shippers and heating equipment dealers who make up the membership of Coal Heating Service of Greater Detroit. Among these is emergency service for your stoker or furnace any hour of the day or night. If your local coal merchant has no 24-hour facilities, just call CHerry 4331.

Joy's holiday plans include spending New Year's Eve and New Year's Day with her brother-in-law and sister, MR. AND MRS. GEORGE FINK, and their children, NANCY HOPE II, MICHAEL and PETER, in Pittsfield Village near Ann Arbor.

Another dinner scheduled for FRANCES BOYER, who will make her debut Friday; her aunt and uncle, MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK M. ALGER, JR., will give a party for Frances on Tuesday evening in their home. Later, the guests will go on to the Country Club for MARGOT YAW's debut dance.

A Christmas Day cocktail party will be given by MR. AND MRS. GEORGE E. PARKER, JR., of McKinley road for about eighty guests.

MR. AND MRS. RAY JOHNSON of Kenwood road, are spending the holidays in Phoenix, Arizona. They expect to return to the Pointe in about three weeks.

Reversing the traditional procedure, MR. AND MRS. ERNEST DELBARBA of Notre Dame avenue are leaving today for Charleston, Ill., to spend Christmas with their son and daughter-in-law, MR. AND MRS. EUGENE DELBARBA, and their young granddaughter, SUZANNE. They will return after the holidays.

Another homecomer-for-Christmas is BARBARA DILL, daughter of DR. AND MRS. HUGH L. DILL of Neff road. Barbara arrived on Friday from the University of Colorado.

Traditional Reunions Mark Holiday Season

Pointe Families Gathering from Near and Far to Celebrate Christmas Together; Many Large Dinners Planned

By train, plane and car, from every point on the compass, the trek home for Christmas was a steady cavalcade all week long. Mrs. Standish Backus of Lake Shore road is one of the Pointe matrons who will be surrounded by her family for the holidays. The junior Standish Backuses arrived Saturday from their Santa Barbara, California, home and will remain for three weeks—with young Virginia of course. The following day, the Cincinnati contingent arrived, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. Lunken, Mrs. B's son-in-law and daughter, and their children, Ebbie and Esheby.

On Christmas Day, the family circle will expand even more when the nearer relatives will join the out-of-towners at Mrs. Backus' home. There will be the Charles K. Backus of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Jewett II, Harry and Neddie of Lapeer and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Marks and their Robin and Randy.

Judicious decisions are involved when apportioning Christmas visits between two families and that's the reason David O. Hamilton had his family all together last weekend in his home on Beverly road. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Thurber Jr., and the Richard S. Barrows came in from the East.

The Thurbers and little Cleve will remain with Mr. Hamilton for both holidays, returning to their Williamston, Massachusetts, home after New Year's.

Col. and Mrs. Phelps Newberry of Cloverly road are continuing their private reunion tradition—a luncheon for the family, followed by an open house and buffet supper for their friends. Mr. and Mrs. James D. Darling II and tiny Miss Cindy arrived Sunday from their home in Wayne, Pennsylvania to spend Christmas with Mrs. Darling's parents.

Among the luncheon guests are Mrs. Newberry's mother, Mrs. Christina Van Husan, Mrs. Camerone Currie, Count and Countess Cyril Tolstoi, Mr. and Mrs. Handy Newberry, Mrs. W. Howie Muir, Mrs. John H. Potter, Sally Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fran-

Chester Ray Homuths Honeymoon in South

Former Doris Marilyn Canfield Married at Saturday Ceremony in Peace Lutheran Church; Leave for New Orleans

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ray Homuth are honeymooning in New Orleans, following their wedding at 4 o'clock Saturday in Peace Lutheran Church on Balfour road. Rev. Enno G. Claus officiated at the double ring ceremony before an all-white altar. The service was read by candlelight and tapers and arrangements of Christmas greens lined the aisle.

Mrs. Homuth is the former Doris Marilyn Canfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare L. Canfield of Lakeland avenue. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Herbert Homuth of Barrington, Illinois, and the late Mr. Homuth.

The bride was gown in ice-blue satin, designed with an illusion yoke forming an off-the-shoulder line on the fitted bodice. Horizontal tucks rounded the neckline of the full skirt which swept into a long oval train. A Dutch cap of blue illusion held Doris' full length bridal veil of sheer blue illusion. She carried a large silver hoop to which were fastened lavender orchids and pink rubrum lilies.

Dorothy Rixford was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Getz and Virginia Phillips. The attendants wore identical gowns of tulle and crepe. The dresses were cut on straight lines with high round necklines, long tight sleeves and narrow slit skirts. Short peplums in the front formed fishtail drapes at the backs of the gowns.

All three wore clusters of tulle feathers in their hair and carried modern arrangements of blue iris and yellow button mums with chartreuse ribbons.

Frank Norris served as best man to Mr. Homuth and guests were seated by Richard Faulkner

Robinson-Moran Betrothal Told

At a cocktail party in their Bishop road home on Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Robinson announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Anne, to Douglas James Moran, Jr., son of the Douglas J. Morans of Raymond road.

The news was revealed by the names of the engaged couple printed on ribbons which tied white carnation corsages presented to women guests at the party. For the occasion, Patricia Anne wore a black, sequin-trimmed cocktail dress with a high neck and short sleeves. Her mother chose a cocktail frock of hunter green.

The two young people are graduates of Grosse Pointe High School. They have set no date for their wedding.

Luncheon Honor Girl Scout Head

Mrs. Lynn O'Brien, of 860 Barrington, who leaves January 7 to reside in California, was honored at a luncheon held in Hawthorne House December 17.

Over 50 Girl Scout leaders and council members attended the luncheon, and took part in presenting Mrs. O'Brien with a complete picnic kit, and a 5-strand simulated pearl necklace.

Wherever she goes Mrs. O'Brien makes it a point to become allied with Girl Scouting. In Grosse Pointe she has been Camp Chairman for three years, and has concentrated her energies on establishing and improving the Girl Scout camp at Holly, Michigan.

An untiring worker, she accomplished a tremendous job. Mr. O'Brien has played no small role in organizing the Dads' Patrol, and getting the heavy work done at Camp Holly. He has been given the highest award . . . a Thanks Badge . . . the only existing Girl Scout award for men and, incidentally, the only one in Grosse Pointe.

Toledo Attracts Many Pointers

The christening of little Elizabeth Walker Roland, daughter of the Ralph H. Rolands, Jr., of Toledo, was the focal point for a goodly amount of partying.

The little one is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney R. Small, of East Jefferson avenue. The Smalls were hosts at a small dinner party at the Little Club Saturday, honoring Barbara Towar and Molly Cameron.

Barbara, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Towar, of Hamilton court—and a deb of last September, will be godmother to Elizabeth. The co-honoree is in from art school in Chicago for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Thomas N. Bourke, and Mr. Bourke of Lakeland avenue.

Bright and early Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Small, Mrs. Frederick Harris Jr., a second godparent, Barbara Towar and Frank Roland, who is the baby's godfather, drove down to Toledo to attend the christening.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Roland were hosts at a family dinner in their home.

Sterling Sanfords Plan Reception on January 3

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Sanford will be hosts at an at home reception in their Hillcrest road home on Saturday, January 3. Invitations have been extended to about 200 guests for the open house from 2 until 4 o'clock.

Carol Sanford, who is home for the holidays from Michigan State College in East Lansing, will receive with her parents.

As long as you stand by approving others, you won't enlist others in what you approve.

Planning Spring Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Murphy of Audubon road chose Christmas Day to announce the engagement of their daughter, MARY JEANNE, to Albert Edward Dietz, Jr. of Fairholm road, Grosse Pointe Woods. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Dietz. The young couple are planning a spring wedding.

Kilner-Dykema Wedding Dec. 30

Attendants for their wedding at Christ Church on December 30 were announced last week by Jane Kilner and Raymond K. Dykema Jr.

Jane has asked Virginia Downer to be her maid of honor and bridesmaids will be Mrs. John K. McEvoy, Barbara Noble and Mary Lawrie, of Denver, Little Jane Cary Truesdall, a niece of the bride-elect, will be the flower girl.

John R. Dykema will serve as best man and another brother, Jere Dykema, will be one of the eight ushers. Sam Kilner, Frederick B. Higbie, David M. Ross, Richard S. Spencer Jr., James Truesdall, Charles H. Hodges III and Hamilton R. James complete the list of ushers.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Saunders Kilner of Seminole avenue and her fiance is the son of the Raymond Dykemas of Lakeland avenue.

Richmond Laux Host At Dinner in Home

Richmond Laux invited a group of his friends in for dinner Monday evening at his home on Lincoln road. After dinner the kids went to the Punch and Judy show, returning later to his home for dancing, potato chips and cokes.

Form Auxiliary To Aid Hospital

Some 200 women became Charter members of the Fontbonne Auxiliary, the first group organized to aid the Sisters of St. Joseph in their development of St. John Hospital.

This is the new hospital designed to relieve the shortage of hospital facilities in the south-east Detroit region. It will be located on Moross Road facing Chandler Park Drive.

Harvard's Show Set for Jan. 2

Sidelights on the Harvard Hasty Pudding Club's production, "Here's the Pitch," due in Pierce Junior High School auditorium Jan. 2, come from C. Upton Shreve, and colorful they sound.

The show is attracting much attention wherever it plays, and Friday's "Life" Magazine will have a "Here's the Pitch" spread which, according to publicity man Shreve, should guarantee a sellout for the tour.

Three of the hit songs from the production—"Just as Long as I Have You," "Extracurricular Girl" and "So Well, So Soon"—are being published and will be on sale here during the first week of 1948.

And Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodges Jr. are at work planning the New Year's Day cocktail party at the Little Club which will honor the members of the cast. Thirty debts and postdebts will be on hand, as well as some members of the Harvard Club of Michigan and their wives.

Bartemeiers to Give Family Dinner Xmas

Dr. and Mrs. Leo Bartemeier, who returned home last Friday after a week in New York, will entertain at a family dinner in their home on Cloverly road on Christmas day.

Catherine Bartemeier is home for the holidays from Visitation School in Washington, D. C. Guests will include Mr. and Mrs. William Hurley Jr., (the former Mary Bartemeier), and Mr. and Mrs. William Hurley Sr.

Champagne Glasses Tell Wedding News

Engagement of Betty Donohue and Jack Pennell Announced at Dinner Party Given in DAC by Mother of Bride-Elect

Champagne glasses were the giveaway at the dinner Mrs. Frank J. Donohue of Edison avenue gave at the D.A.C. Wednesday evening—on the edge of each glass was a red and green card, bearing the names "Betty and Jack."

The principals, whose engagement was announced formally that evening, are Betty Frances Donahue and John Clement Pennell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Anthony Pennell of Blossom lane.

For the announcement dinner, Christmas greens and poinsettias adorned the long dinner table in the DAC private dining room, and red tapers blazed.

Betty wore a Hattie Carnegie dress with an ankle-length black broadcloth skirt, white hammered satin high-necked bodice and an ermine-trimmed black broadcloth jacket. An orchid formed her corsage.

Mrs. Donahue, mother of the length gown of American beauty crepe with silver bead embroidery at the top of the skirt.

Betty and Jack will begin making their plans for a June wedding. The pretty bride-to-be attended Sacred Heart Convent, St. Mary's Academy of Monroe and Marygrove College.

Jack served four years in the Navy. Among dinner guests at the announcement party were the parents of the bridegroom-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Pennell; Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Ruen, Msgr. John J. Hunt, Mrs. Eileen Burns, Mrs. Margaret Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. O'Donnell, Frances Trainor and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Dinan.

More were Thomas J. Trainer, Thomas P. Danahey, and Mrs. Joseph P. Danahey, the Theodore A. Danaheys, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Nicols, Mr. and Mrs. Ken D. Duffy and James D. and James T. Danahey.

Reunion Party Given For Former Classmates

Mrs. Luther H. Carter of Lanter road entertained at a tea Tuesday in honor of her daughter, Barbara, who arrived Saturday from Sullins College in Bristol, Virginia.

Mrs. Carter invited about 20 of Barbara's former classmates at Grosse Pointe High for a reacquaintance get-together.

Among those attending were Betty Tesamoska, Joyce Schreiber, Marian Rennie, Marilyn Wroblek, Sally Hoyt, Nancy Gabriel and Gail Robinson.

A LETTER FROM SANTA Dear Kiddies:

I have all your letters, including the one that says you do not want anything in your sox—all you want is Frank Sinatra in

HELEN'S PERMANENT WAVE SHOP

HIS sox. Well, I don't like to disillusion you but if you'd ever seen how short Frankie looks in his sox and shaggy tweeds, I think you'd settle for a cargo of bubble gum. Besides, Frankie may be your Big Dream Boy but the place for him is strictly in your dreams because at Christmas time, Frankie goes home to his own family and is just a plain daddy.

Still, you do have a point. Ever since I read that little pink note, I've been thinking what fun it would be if I could wake up and find June Lockhart in my Christmas sox. Ever since I saw her last week in 'For Love of Money,' I've been able to understand how all the Broadway reviews sounded more like love letters than drama criticisms. All the critics who can't even agree on a prize play can agree on this: prize actress as being the greatest gift to the stage since Margaret Sullivan, Helen Hayes, or even La Belle Bergman. So it would be just downright selfish, even for Santa to monopolize the blue-eyed, golden blonde baby when every one in this old world can sure use Dream Boys and Girls.

Since Men's Night has gone into history as the high point of the most brilliant shopping season on record, from now on it's Ladies Day. And I never knew a Christmas when you girls didn't turn up with some half-past the eleventh hour shopping. I think it's because you all get sentimental as the big day approaches and have to go out and shatter the piggy bank on one more gift for your own Santa Claus. So many of you asked me what I'd like that I know all your little hearts are in the right place.

Well, since I can't or shan't have June Lockhart, I'll let you in on some wishful slinking I've been doing around the village. To begin with, I could go for an electric blanket. One with an alarm clock attached and set not to go off until about next July when the 1948 Christmas season will probably be rushed in on Independence Day. Because after all the holiday hopping I know I'm going to feel strictly an under-recover man, with Santa Claus-trophobia.

And writing of holiday hopping, I could really use some formal clothes—maybe one of those De Luxe looking midnight blue tuxedos that have been popping in the plush places in New York ever since the Met opening. And I could sure use some evening shirts—not to mention regular ones—and some silk ties and linen handkerchiefs. Because to tell you the truth I haven't had my wardrobe in top shape since the war shortages and probably your own Santa hasn't either. And after all, if you girls are going to rise and shine at all these Christmas parties, you'll want us to look like something out of Esquire.

Well, kiddies, it's time to harness up the flying reindeer. I'm heading for Europe first. I want you girls at the Pointe to know that your long months of sorting and sewing and sending gifts over there are going to make Christmas a lot more human for everybody. You see, the less you have, the more you appreciate anything. And you've all given generously. So let's make it a truly Merry Christmas—and may Nineteen Forty Eight bring us all a brighter fate!

Score 62-22 Victory in First Meet of Border Cities League Schedule; Four of Seven Individual Events Slammed

By FRED RUNNELLS

The Blue Devil swimming team successfully opened its 1947-48 campaign to retain its Border Cities League swimming title by swamping the Highland Park Polar Bears, 62-22, in the Bears own pool.

Grosse Pointe slammed four of the seven individual events. In the remaining individual events the Blue Devils placed first and third.

Only in the diving event was the "slam" slightly tainted. Flanders was tied by Highland Park's Montgomery at 44.6 points. Theron Baganz easily captured first place.

The Polar Bears' only first came in the 180 yard medley relay. Forest, Young and Shay negotiated the distance in 1:32.0 to beat out a makeshift combination of Chase, Hall and McRoberts. It was the first time this combination had teamed together and in view of the fact that the Blue Devils were so far ahead at the time this event took place, Coach Frank Banach decided it was a good time to experiment.

Grosse Pointe's final win of the meet came in the 160 yard free style relay, Ted Mumford-Bill Beardslee, Dick O'Connell and Chuck Machris teamed together for the winning combination. Beardslee substituted for Burt Spurrer who was sidelined with a knee injury.

Here are the winners by events:

- 40 yard free style (1) Machris, (2) Beardslee, (3) Warcham H.P. 100 yard breast stroke (1) Esert, (2) Young, H.P., (3) Lang, 200 yard free style (1) O'Connell, (2) Watson, (3) Sexton, H.P. 100 yard back stroke (1) Beck, (2) Forest, H.P., (3) Flom, Time: 1:11.5. 100 yard free style (1) Jenks, (2) Murphy, (3) Lenington, H.P. Time: :56.5.

Individual Medley (1) Nayl, (2) Fosmoe, (3) Allen, H.P. Time 1:24.3.

Diving (1) Baganz, (2) tie Flanders and Montgomery, H.P. 180 medley relay—Forest, Young, Shay. Time 1:52.0.

160 free style relay—Mumford, Beardslee, O'Connell, Machris. Time: 1:21.7.

The Blue Devils will resume league competition on January 9 against the Fordson Tractors. Five days later, January 16, the Royal Oak Acorns will attempt to halt the Blue Devils' winning streak and if they can't do it the Grosse Pointe High cagers have had two players absent from three of their four games. In the first game against Hazel Park several weeks ago Vince Schoeck had a strep throat and Herb Gerhard was sidelined with a knee injury.

Four days later against Mt. Clemens Spike Quirk was out with blistered feet and LeRoy Peplinski suffered an upset stomach. Friday night against Highland Park Don Miller and Barry Munro were out. Munro had badly blistered feet and Miller had been absent from school all week.

Grosse Pointe's swimming season started off with a bang last Tuesday in the first meet against River Rouge. It took four starts in the first event, the 50-yard freestyle, before the meet and Grosse Pointe's season began.

On the first start there was a false break by a Rouge swimmer and the boys had to be called back after swimming half a length. On the next two starts the gun failed to go off and the suspense was maintained for several more minutes. Finally the official started the race with a whistle and the season was on.

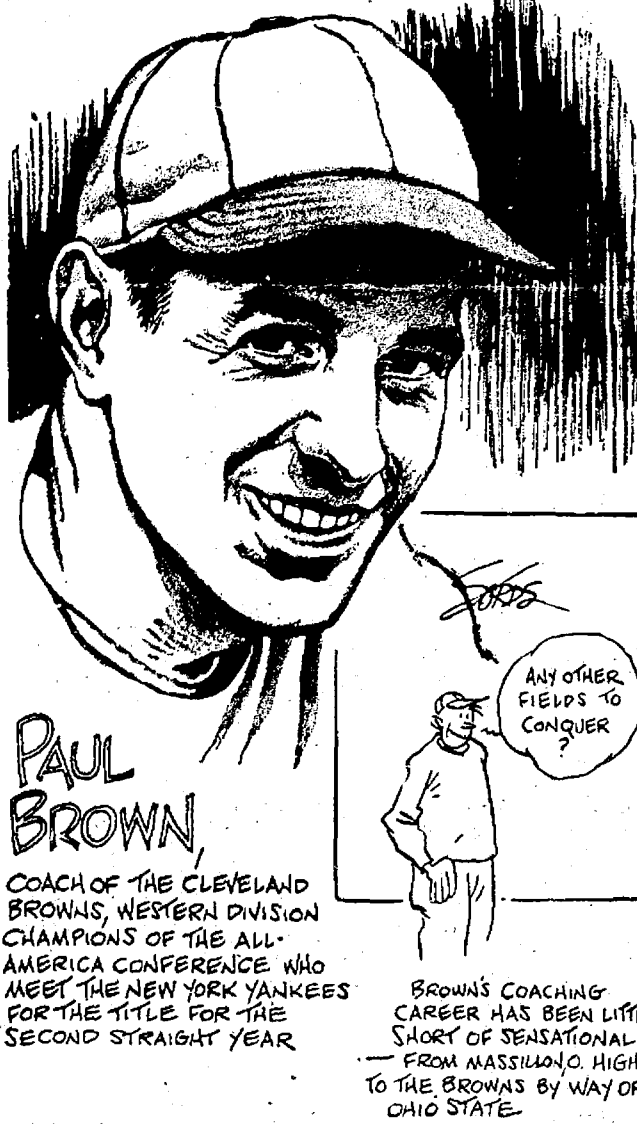

When Jerry Allen was removed from the Highland Park basketball game because of fouls midway through the fourth period, Herb Gerhard, a center, took over his guard duties.

Mr. Charles R. Jenks, father of Bob Jenks, Grosse Pointe's star swimmer, traveled to River Rouge a week ago Tuesday and watched his son swim for the first time since Bob was eight years old.

In a story printed in this column last week about Eldin Marwede I went on to say that after playing in the reserve game Marwede switched to cheerleading and led Grosse Pointe's cheering section. The latter part of this was cut out, however, because the story was too long.

George G. Mantho, former Grosse Pointe High athlete, was awarded his freshman numerals and chosen honorary captain of the freshman football team for 1947 at the Kenyon College student assembly recently.

Blue Devils' Reserve Five Loses First

Grosse Pointe's Blue Devils reserve cagers suffered their first defeat of the season Friday when they went down before a high geared Highland Park quintet, 56-30, on the Parkers' court.

The reserves could not start to roll until the third quarter but by then they were already trailing by 25 points. Highland Park took an early lead and increased it by leaps and bounds to 34-9 at half time.

Both teams played at an even keel in the second half but the 25 point lead was too much for the Blue Devils.

Bill Isbey of Grosse Pointe led both teams in scoring with 11 points. Three Highland Park players, Smart, Ozias, and Marinette, were tied for second with 10 points each.

Highland Park started out strong with the opening jump ball. The Parkers scored six points before Grosse Pointe got the ball into its own court.

The Highland Park forwards checked the reserve guards down court and the boys could not work the ball into their territory. The score stood 18-4 at the end of the first period in favor of Highland Park. The lone Grosse Pointe tally came from free throws by Bill Pierce and Bob Hays, and a basket by Isbey.

Both teams played even the second half. Highland Park's shots that went in from all directions in the first half missed their target the second half as Grosse Pointe improved its defensive guarding.

Isbey, Gary Lanseth, Duffy and Bob Hafer shared in Grosse Pointe's scoring in the third period.

Led by Jim Swift, a third string forward, Grosse Pointe rolled up 11 points the fourth period. Swift contributed six, Hafer and Isbey two, and Hays one. Grosse Pointe's two high scorers in the first three games, Bob Hays and Tom Follis, were held to three points between them. These three were made on free throws by Hays. Follis, however, shifted from his usual center position to guard.

Car Window Broken In Front of School

L. E. Clarke of 373 St. Clair avenue, reported to the Farms police on Dec. 20 that someone had broken into his son's car the night before while it was parked in front of the High School in Fisher road. Entrance was gained by breaking the front right window of the car, a 1948 Ford sedan. It was reported that nothing was missed.

St. Ambrose Quintet Looks Good While Losing Contest

By JOE FROMM

St. Ambrose cagers opened the basketball season with a 38-29 defeat administered by DeLaSalle Thursday at the LaSalle court in a non-league game.

St. Ambrose, under a new coach, Dick VanGoethem, looked impressive although losing. DeLaSalle is a first division school while St. Ambrose is listed as second division. Both schools are members of the Parochial League.

Dick VanGoethem is an alumnus of St. Ambrose, having been graduated in 1942. He received three letters in baseball and two each in basketball and football. After graduation VanGoethem played on the University of Detroit's freshman's cage team before the war and the armed service's interrupted his schooling. He played some basketball while in the service.

Van Goethem coached St. Ambrose's baseball team last spring. He is also coach of St. Ambrose's CYO team. Last year the CYO team won six and lost four and have won one game already this year.

Coach Van Goethem is a sophomore now at the University of Detroit.

St. Ambrose lead at the half, 16-15, but fell behind in the third period to trail, 28-27.

Ambrose's 6-foot 2-inch center and rebound man, Joe Landry, was removed from the game in the second half because of fouls. Jack Howard, Ambrose forward, was high point man with 16 points on six baskets and four free throws.

St. Ambrose will play in the Annunciation Invitation Tournament over the Christmas holidays. Annunciation is located at Jefferson and Parkview.

St. Ambrose will meet St. Cecilia at 10 o'clock Sunday night. A team is eliminated on a one game knockout. If St. Ambrose wins they will play again Monday night and then in the final game Tuesday if they win both days.

St. Cecilia is a first division team. They have lost two games this year, losing to St. Theresa, 32-10, and a Saginaw quintet, 63-16.

St. Ambrose's first league game will be January 6 against St. Rose.

Held in Pound

Mrs. Fred W. Pearce, of 15990 E. Jefferson, complained to the Park police on Wednesday morning, Dec. 17, that stray dogs were making days hideous in her yard by chasing rabbits. The Pearce yard seemed to be the favored hunting ground in that locality.

The police went down and succeeded in capturing one of the hunters, an English setter, minus collar or license tag. He is now locked up in the pound. Unless an owner comes around prepared to take out a license and pay an impounding fee, he will hunt no more.

League Dark Horse Whips Pointe Quintet by 44-38

Highland Park Polar Bears Continue to Upset Border Cities League Calculations in Battle on Their Home Court

By FRED RUNNELLS

The Highland Park Polar Bear continued its prowl of the Border Cities League basketball campaign by whipping the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils, 44 to 38, last Friday night, December 19, on its home court.

The victory was the second upset scored by the "league darkhorse" in many weeks, the first being scored over the pre-season favorite Monroe Trojans a week ago.

Highland Park would be just another run-of-the-mill ball club if it were not for its Captain Erwin, who was the mainpring in the Polar Bears' attack which upset the Blue Devil appeacart and handed the Pointers their first set-back in four games this season.

Erwin collected 5 field goals and 7 free throws for a 17 point total for the night to become the high scorer of both teams. Grosse Pointe's Tom Willson found the range for 12 points on 3 field goals and 6 free throws to lead the Blue Devil attack and finish second in the scoring column.

Two guards, Ross of Highland Park and Johnson of Grosse Pointe shared the third place scoring honors with 10 points each.

Veterans Willson and Guaresimo put the Pointers out in front in the first minute of play on a free throw and a field goal and held the Parkers scoreless throughout the first five minutes of play in the first quarter.

Highland Park called for a time-out and when play was resumed Edwin and Ross cashed in on two field goals apiece in the final three minutes of the first period to give the Pointers an 8 to 3 lead going into the second quarter.

It was Willson who kept the Pointers within striking range in the second period by scoring three field goals and two free throws.

Jerry Allen connected on a field goal as did Guaresimo who also collected two free throws which gave the Blue Devils the second quarter scoring advantage, 14-12, but found them on the short end of 20-17 half-time score.

Highland Park concentrated on stopping Willson and Guaresimo in the third period and did so successfully, holding both boys scoreless, but neglected to keep an eye on little Bayard Johnson, who racked up 8 points in short order. It was Johnson's last basket that tied the score at 29 all at the end of the third period.

after Jerry Allen's second field goal of the period had put the Blue Devils out in front, 25-24, half way through the quarter.

Erwin of Highland Park kept his team in the ball game in this quarter by leading the Bears' attack with five points.

Again in the final period it was Erwin who led the Bears' 15 point attack with four points. The remaining ten points were contributed by the other four players, with Ross getting two field goals.

The Parker basket must have had a cover on it in the final stanza for the Pointers poured shot after shot at it but none would go through the mesh. Of all the many shots taken only three found their mark. Willson made good on three out of five foul shots to climax a feeble nine points last period offense.

Throughout the game the Polar Bears held control of the ball at least fifty percent more than the Pointers and as a result had many more chances to score.

An outstanding feature of the game as far as the Blue Devils are concerned was the beautiful defensive play of Spike Quirk, who replaced Herb Gerhard at center starting the second half. Bayard Johnson's scoring tactics in the third period stamps him as another player who will become a Blue Devil star if he continues to improve as he has in the past four games.

Acting-captain Leroy Guaresimo played a dandy defensive game in the first half but a slight injury slowed him down considerably in the second half. This was reflected in the entire teams play.

This was the final game before league competition closes for the Christmas vacation. League play will resume on January 9 when the cagers travel to Fordson. Following the Tractor engagement the Blue Devils will make that long trip down to Monroe on January 15 and will end the first half of the season four days later when they play host to the Wyandotte Bears.

Even Scout Cars Aren't Safe Now

Henry P. Lopian, of 1364 Drexel, Detroit, driving south on Maryland on Saturday morning, Dec. 20, struck the left front fender of one of the Park's police patrol cars being driven east through North Kercheval alley by Patrolman Del Place.

Other additions to the crop of traffic damage due to slippery streets were one at Berkshire and Jefferson at 8:30 o'clock that evening when a car driven by Herbert L. Forton of 11040 E. Jefferson, going east on Jefferson, struck the rear end of a '46 Pontiac, also being driven east on Jefferson by William Gibson of 883 Westchester, who had stopped to make a left turn into Berkshire.

Another skidding accident occurred at 10:26 o'clock that night on Jefferson avenue when Joseph Kepec, Jr., of 8084 Dwyer, Detroit, was unable to control his car and collided with one being driven by George Miller of 4480 Berkshire. There was considerable damage to both cars.

The day books of all Pointe stations were dotted with similar accidents, too numerous to mention in detail. So far as recorded there was little or no personal injury resulting from them. The bad road conditions placed every body on the qui vive.

We can learn not only through our eyes and ears but through our funny bones as well.

More people are maimed by broken homes than by all our accidents and wars.

"All My Sons" Opens Dec. 25

"All My Sons," the 1947 Drama Critics Award play, will be presented by the Dramatic Guild of Detroit starting Thursday, December 25, and concluding January 10 at the Shubert Lafayette Theatre.

A committee of New York critics selected this play as the outstanding one of the year. The committee was composed of such luminaries as Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times, George Jean Nathan, John Chapman and others.

For the Detroit run, leading members of the cast will be selected from the Chicago company whose run closed recently. They include such distinguished actors as Sidney Blackmer and John Forsythe, with outstanding Detroit players also included in the cast.

Student Reports Theft of Money

Farms detectives are investigating the theft of money from a student at Grosse Pointe High School.

Jean Parker, of 20 Roslyn road, Grosse Pointe Shores, told the police that $13 was stolen from a shoulder bag in her locker in the school building on Dec. 18.

Broken Glass in Door Arouses Suspicion

A suspected breaking and entering case was reported to the Farms police on December 19. When Mrs. J. P. Moulton of 369 McKinley road arrived home at 5 p.m. she found a pane of glass near the lock broken in her back door.

When she reported the matter to the police, Officers La Ponsa, Boylan and Sylvester made a careful investigation of the house with her. As far as could be determined nothing had been stolen and apparently entrance had not been gained.

Lovers' Quarrel Ends Peacefully

Farms police were summoned to Mack and Moross in the early hours of Sunday morning, Dec. 21 to investigate a screaming woman in a car.

Officers found three men and a woman. The shrieking had stopped but the quartet was taken to headquarters for questioning. The young woman said that she and her boy friend, one of the three men, had had an argument and she had been crying.

Everything was satisfactorily straightened out she said, and they were all released. None of the four was a resident of the Pointe.

Whitmore Wins Packard Award

A third generation employee was among 403 honored on December 18 on completion of ten years' association with the Packard Motor Car Company in a gold watch presentation inaugurated exactly 30 years ago.

Past and present membership in the Packard Senior League, to which all with ten or more years of service belong, now totals nearly 11,000. Of this number, approximately half are still in the company's employ, it was pointed out by Alvan Macauley, board chairman who in 1917 initiated the annual award.

This is a record employee-company association "with few, if any, equals in American industry," Macauley said. "It typifies a rare kind of loyalty, which—as is true in all human relationships—must work both ways if it is to be of value to those who share in it."

Harley Whitmore, Jr., of the Packard motor testing department, was the third generation employee receiving his gold watch tonight. He lives at 20689 Washtenaw, Gratiot township.

Whitmore's father, now retired and living in Findlay, Ohio, and grandfather were similarly honored in years past. An uncle and cousin, long-time Packard employees, also have received their ten-year awards.

Child Swallows Mom's Medicine

The Park police station received a hurry call at 10 o'clock Sunday morning Dec. 21, to get a very sick boy to the hospital. They took little Marc Loneske, aged two, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loneske of 862 Nottingham to Bun Secours.

The child had gotten hold of a bottle of medicine prescribed for his mother and had swallowed four ounces of it.

Dr. Smyler pumped out the child's stomach and gave him an antidote, and pronounced the child out of danger at noon and the police took him and his parents back home. The doctor said the medicine probably would have proved a lethal dose for the child unless eliminated.

From far away in Nuremberg, Germany, comes this birth announcement: a son, MASON PITTMAN RUMNEY, III, was born to LT. AND MRS. MASON P. RUMNEY, JR., on Dec. 15. The baby's grandmother is MRS. MASON P. RUMNEY of St. Paul avenue. His mother is the former MARY KRENTLER. The young Rumneys expect to be stationed in Germany for the next two years.

December 30 is marked on several Pointe calendars as a day to be spent in New York, attending the coming out party of FRANCES NOBLE SACKETT, daughter of DR. AND MRS. "As a natural result my business improved"

After telling of his healing of physical illness through Christian Science, a business man continues in one of many similar letters reproduced in the Christian Science textbook,

SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Gradually...this...teaching...became a great help to me in my business. I became more friendly, more honest...acquired better judgment and was able to do the right thing at the right time. As a natural result my business improved...."

"My business had often been a burden to me, fear and worry deprived me of my rest. How different it is now! Through the study of the Bible...and of our textbook...I receive peace and confidence in God and that insight into character which is necessary for the correct management of any business."

The complete explanation of Christian Science and complete instructions for its use in healing disease and overcoming other difficulties, are given in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

In various editions, at CHRISTIAN SCIENCE READING ROOM

14730 Kercheval Ave. Detroit

All Christian Science Reading Rooms are open to the public for the study of the Bible, the works of Mary Baker Eddy, and other Christian Science literature, without charge, and for the purchase of these publications.

The partyers will include Sharon Barker, Linda Deming, Suzanne Dupuis, Sally Leiser, Tommy and Teddy Marantette, Carol Ann Pucci, Jacqueline Racine, Renee Rousseau, and Ricky and Judy Schoenherr.

Also listed are two sets of twins—Sally and Jackie Blum and Ann and Mary Carey.

The young hostess will wear a green marquisette and lace party frock.

Saw that lovable gentleman, Santa Claus, on Men's Night in the Village, dashing from shop to shop, filling the biggest shopping bag. He had on the best looking red wool suit, trimmed with ermine, and a cap to match. It didn't have the "new look" but on Santa it looked good.

CHRISTMAS AT PIONEER HOUSE

There's rejoicing at Pioneer House these days, because those five lucky boys are having Christmas twice this year! The House celebrated the Big Day on the 23rd, then the boys went home for three days and celebrated all over again with their families.

But just because it's early doesn't mean that they didn't get all the trimmings. Roly poly Charlie had been thinking of that Christmas dinner for weeks—he couldn't decide which part of the turkey to start on. The boys picked a tree out and tested their artistic abilities in decorating it. Tommy whipped up something special for the decorations—he's getting pretty handy in the workshop. They were right in on the Christmas carols, too; Joel, their counsellor, can play the piano like nobody's business, and Jimmy has the sweetest voice this side of the Vienna Choir.

At ten and eleven, they've mostly outgrown Santa Claus, but they were very careful that one of the household wasn't disillusioned. Little Tommy, the cook's two-year-old son, with the kinky hair and the shoebutton eyes, was waiting for those reindeer on the roof, and the boys made sure that they heard them, too. Santa or no Santa, the Pioneers made their lists. Each boy listed one toy and one item of clothing that he especially wanted, and the lists were turned over to the committees of the Junior League who did the shopping and gift wrapping.

They wanted all the things all eleven-year-olds pine for: football helmets, scout knives, midget submarines and skates. They wanted high topped boots, ski hoods, caps with visors, and all the rest of the equipment needed for play in the snow. The more snow the merrier as far as they are concerned, they've been filling their piggy banks with the coins they've collected around the block from their shoveling of snow.

The Pioneers hoped for more snow before Christmas, but there's ice behind Wayne University where they can try out new skates, or perhaps they'll go to a movie, but you may be sure they'll be busy as there's always some plan for the Pioneers when they're not in school.

After the festivities at Pioneer House, their homes may not seem so gay. The drab little rooms won't be filled with gifts and festive decorations, and their Christmas dinners won't have the special trimmings, but they're hoping their parents will be glad to see them. They're hoping that the day will go off with none of the scenes and harsh words that they are learning to forget.

It wasn't so much fun when they had to live at home all the time, their families separated by divorce, poverty and unhappiness. They didn't expect much out of life and they got even less, but they're learning now, learning how different things can be when people care.

It'll be kind of fun to see the folks again this year, and maybe by next year, when the boys are better adjusted and their families have learned how to understand and cope with their problems, they'll be able to go home for good, and really celebrate Christmas. —Joan Hall.

SANTA CLAUS OF EVERYWHERE

By Olive H. Henry

Christmas is the festival of the nativity. The birth of the Christ has been celebrated since the early centuries of Christianity. It is called "Christmas" because the festival was called "Christes messe," meaning "Christ's mass." There is no authentic historical record as to the exact birth date of Jesus. Historians believe that December 25th was established as the festival day (as Christmas), because it marked the beginning of the great winter festival when Britons, Germans and Gauls celebrated in pagan fashion. Christmas replaced these old pagan festivals, the symbols and customs of the one merging into the other.

At the time of the winter solstice, it was customary to hold great feasts in honor of the heathen gods, to dance and make merry. At one time these rites were filled with superstitions and excesses, leading to nonsensical mummery and orgiastic license. The early teachers of Christianity were shocked by this, and prohibited these primitive festivities as unsuited to the character of the Christ. But many of our Christmas customs and symbols are of pagan origin, such as the fir tree, yule log, holly and mistletoe.

The observance of the Christmas festival spread all over the Christian world, but the date is not everywhere the same. People coming to America from France, England, Germany, Norway and Italy all brought the customs of their countries with them, and so our celebration of Christmas is a pattern of the beliefs, customs and superstitions of many lands. Santa Claus came to America by way of Holland. Santa Claus is an American version of St. Nicholas, or San Nicolaas, the patron saint of children. The belief in Santa's coming down the chimney and filling the stockings with gifts, may have developed from the old English custom of cleaning out the chimney at the beginning of the New Year to enable good luck to enter the household.

An older legend makes St. Winifred the originator of the idea. According to this legend, the Saint, in the midst of a great crowd of converts, hewed down a giant oak which had been used in pagan worship. A great wind gripped the tree when it was half hewn and sent it crashing to the ground. Everything in its path was destroyed, except a slender fir tree, which remained standing, its green spire pointing upward. Because of the seeming miracle, Saint Winifred decreed that the fir be known as the holy tree, the tree of the Christ Child. Some writers trace the tree back to the Roman festival of Saturnalia where the pine trees were decorated with the images of Bacchus.

William Hone wrote in his "Everyday Book," "Girls, although they be ladies, are kissed under the mistletoe." The Druids regarded the mistletoe with great veneration. They cut it with a golden knife and hung it over their doors to propitiate the woodland spirits. They believed that only happiness could enter under the mistletoe. Hence our tradition of the kiss.

Laurel was used in ancient times as an emblem of peace, joy and victory. Later the Christians used laurel as decorations in the windows of the houses to show that Christ had entered there. Ivy and holly replaced the laurel in old England. The holly wreath is used to represent the crown of thorns which Jesus wore on the cross, the little red berries, symbolizing the drops of blood. The ancient Goths and Saxons had winter festivals they called Jul. The Scandinavians kindled huge bonfires in honor of the god Thor, at their feast of Jul during the winter solstice. From this has come the ancient Christmas custom of burning the Yule log. The modern Santa Claus is but a symbol for joy, peace and unselfishness which will always remain spiritual qualities, which will someday make every day a Christmas.

Baked Date Ring

6 Servings

This may be baked in a ring mold but any other pan will do as well. When cold unmold it onto a platter, cover it well with whipped cream and stud it with maraschino cherries. Surround it with holly leaves. Very effective!

Prepare:

- 1 cup stoned, minced dates
- 1 cup chopped nut meats
- Combine these ingredients with:
- 1/2 cup sugar, white or brown
- 1 tbs. flour
- 1 tsp. any baking powder
- 2 beaten egg yolks
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Fold in:

- 2 stiffly beaten egg whites
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Bake the pudding in a well-greased 9 inch ring mold in a moderate oven 350° for about 1/2 hour. Permit it to cool in the pan. Whip until stiff.

1 cup heavy cream

Fold in:

- 2 tbs. powdered sugar.
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Garnish the ring as suggested above.

Scarf Best Buy For "New Look"

Just the thing to give the new look to an old costume is a silk scarf. It may be printed or plain, large or small in almost any color you choose.

Elinor Roth, of the textiles, clothing and related arts department, at Michigan State college, suggests the 36-inch square which adds much to a costume and is new. Try using it at your throat or waistline.

Tied properly, the scarf can become the front of a blouse with a suit. It can be folded into a slender strip, wrapped close about the throat and tied so that the ends fluff out in front to add a dash of color to a suit or dress. It can be used as a belt. Or you can fold it in a triangle and tie it at the waistline. Let the point of triangle fall over one hip and tie the ends over the other. It will give the new look to a basic black dress.

COME, HEAR THE BELLS

by Ann Hebb Cioe

It's Christmas time. For a moment we live in a protected universe of charm and hope and well kept peace; because it's Christmas time. There is a tiny, far reaching voice that whispers in the heart of the world:
"Come, you old tired thing—come, hear the bells, hear the bells. The days were cold and raw. Now feel the sun on your solemn back, and see the sky—the blue, clean sky and sniff the spice of candles and pine. Come, raise your worried, fretting head and remember that you who were old are still a little child. That is your singular blessing. Remember how you love to dance . . . to dangle your legs and stare tenderly into dreams . . . to jump up and down in a quiver of affection and secret excitement. Remember now, remember the music, the music of the intimate, enormous heart that trembled and burst so many times when you were young . . . the music, the heart, the hopes, the dreams, the beauty, the joy, the yearning . . . the beautiful, unquiet music. Remember, listen, see, feel, and always return to the music.
"Drop your load on the mountain top (it will be there for another day); drop it hard and leave it alone. Open your mouth hear your tones come pure and lovely."
"For it's Christmas time. There is the star and the little Lord Jesus, the man, Christ . . . and there live all the people you love—those who have died and live in your heart, those you see when you work each day or when you play, those who pass you in the streets and look in your eyes but once, those who changes have taken away. For there is the star, the little Lord Jesus, and the man, Christ. No evil can touch you. Joy to the world."

CHRISTMAS EVE

by Shelley R. Aagesen

Before the midnight hour we left the dance
And drove through darkness and a whirl of snow—
The others had not guessed from word or glance,
And not for worlds would we have had them know
Where we were going, they would think us mad:
A little church, tall candles, spicy smell,
Warm pungent smoke of incense and the glad
Clear chiming of a 1/2-off golden bell.
We saw the Star, the Manger and the Kings,
The kneeling beasts. Your small hand in my own,
You whom I thought as glittering as your rings,
Modern and mannered as a heart of stone,
Your eyes were prayers . . . Once more the ball and rout—
Laugh on, my love! But I have found you out.
