

Park Committee Preparing Complete New Zoning Law

Board of Commissioners Will Have Final Say on Ordinance Which Is Expected to Clarify Many Issues Which Have Arisen Recently

During the holiday week a meeting was held in the Park Municipal Building by a group to whom the Board of Park Village Commissioners had delegated the task of preparing the draft of a brand new zoning ordinance for the village. The group consisted of Village Manager Everett B. Lane, Pierre and Building Inspector Hagger. V. Heffler, the Village Attorney. It has been decided that rather than to attempt to make all the Village has retained for this work, changes and provisions contemplated by means of amendments to the existing ordinance a new ordinance should be substituted. The completed draft of this ordinance will not be given out in advance of its submission to the Board of Commissioners, but it has been learned that a salient feature it will contain will be a rigid requirement for off-street parking. It will provide more rigidly against the encroachment of business places or semi-business places into residential restricted areas. This is a move which plagued the village greatly in recent years, and doubtless had its origin in the temporary letdown in such restrictions as a measure of cooperation in war work during the war. A number of establishments which were permitted to come in then on the explicit understanding that their tenure would cease six months after the end of the war have since raised serious objections to their being compelled to get out. Another instance has arisen wherein different parties have attempted to erect garages in such areas for the housing of trucks and other vehicles which are of a purely commercial nature. One of the cases is now in process of being tried out in the courts. The new ordinance will also lay special stress on the necessity of future residential developments providing ample living space. To this end the ordinance will provide that hereafter all residential property shall be limited to the accommodation of not more than two families. If finally adopted, this feature will bar out all terrace construction hereafter. The new ordinance will recognize the necessity of doctors' offices in the village and such will be admitted, under certain conditions. The ordinance as drawn will prohibit large establishments in the nature of clinics wherein a doctor might have a group of offices and other physicians associated with him in medical work. This issue has already led to considerable disagreement between certain doctors and the neighboring householders.

alone. The storm has added greatly to the possible total bill. The large number of beautiful trees that exist throughout the Pointe, which have been one of its most favorably noted characteristics among travellers throughout the country, suggests some idea of the salvage problem the whole region inherited from the storm. Tree surgery in recent years has become one of the highly successful divisions of the arboricultural art. Trees that are half rotted away with age or from parasites are successfully operated on and saved. The giant elm which is enclosed by the NEWS building is one of the landmarks of that locality. The NEWS owners were loathe to destroy this noble giant and went to great care and no little expense to save it. They accommodated the plan of the building to the tree's location and hired the best tree experts obtainable to take over the job of saving the tree. To compensate for the loss of root nourishment necessitated by the building of the foundations the tree doctors removed a corresponding limb growth to conform to the nourishment coming from the remaining roots. The tree experts who care for the NEWS tree called during the storm suggesting that a warning be published against attempting to make repairs on broken trees while they still carried the weight of ice and snow. It has been their experience that when such attempts are made, the damage is often increased many fold.

Albert F. Peck Taken by Death

Albert F. Peck of the Pasadena Apartments died in the Cottage Hospital on December 31. Mr. Peck was 84 years old and was born in Port Jervis, New York. He was active in the industrial life of the Detroit area. He was one of the founders of Beecher Peck and Lewis and was chairman of the board at the time of his death. He was also a founder, vice-president and director of the United Savings Bank. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence D. Buhl of 249 Lake Shore road, and three granddaughters, Mrs. Thomas E. Barbour of Oshkosh, Wis.; Mrs. Sherman Mitchell and Mrs. Robert Suydam, both of Grosse Pointe Farms. He also leaves a grandson, Lawrence D. Buhl, Jr. of Grosse Pointe Farms and four great-grandchildren. The funeral was held Saturday, from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lawrence D. Buhl and burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

Officers Elected By Garden Club

The Village Garden Club will hold a brunch at 12:30 p. m. Friday, January 16, in the Parkstone Apartments, to be followed by a business meeting at 1:30 p. m., and a program at 3. At a recent meeting of the club the following officers were elected for the New Year: Mrs. Charleton A. Mewborn, president; Mrs. Arnold Barrett, first vice-president; Mrs. Sidney Ferriss, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank Crane, recording secretary; Mrs. Francis Phelps, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. E. A. Wooten, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herman D. Scarney, treasurer; Mrs. Harvey Fruehauf, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Clarence Avery, member-at-large. Mrs. Mewborn has announced the appointment of the following chairmen for the standing committees: Program, Mrs. Wendell Wilcox; conservation, Mrs. Albert B. Hartz; horticulture, Mrs. Philip C. Baker; junior gardens, Mrs. A. W. Sempliner; highway improvement, Mrs. G. Leslie Fields; publicity, Mrs. Donald Melville; membership, Mrs. James O. Murlin; hospitality, Mrs. O. E. Hunt; finance, Mrs. Howard S. Holmes; contact, Mrs. A. M. Smith; parliamentarian, Mrs. Emerson Franz; year book, Mrs. Wendell K. Wheelock.

Bus Company Inherits One Brown Fur Coat

The Lake Shores Coach Lines notified the Pointe police departments on January 4 that they had inherited a woman's fur coat and didn't know what to do with it. The coat, a dark brown fur garment with military collar, was left in one of the buses. It can be claimed by the owner at the coach lines garage.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE

An alarm of fire turned in from the W. C. Sherwood home at 1043 Kensington on Saturday morning, Jan. 3, turned out to be only smoke from the oil burner. There was no fire.

Sewer Project DIRTIES School

The Board of Education has served notice on the contractor doing the sewer work along Kercheval that they want him to make less dirt on the streets. The holiday period has been employed in slicking up the interior of the Pierce School and the school authorities claim that the youngsters are tracking in a lot of street dirt and filth which is doing the well waxed floors no good.

Four Drivers Pay Fines in Court

Judge Victor H. DeBacke wound up the 1947 sessions of the Park police court on Wednesday morning, Dec. 31, with only four cases. These were: Mrs. Gladys K. Hemmeter, of 565 Notre Dame, charged with driving without due care and caution on entering a street under construction, was fined $1 and $6.20 costs. Mrs. Hemmeter claimed there was no barricade or warning at the block entrance on St. Paul where the accident happened, but witnesses at the hearing testified to the contrary. Mrs. Hemmeter's car went into a ditch where sewer work was in progress and had to be lifted out by police officers and bystanders. Sarah Klooster Oert, of 622 Lincoln road, for speeding, was fined $5 and $5 costs. George Lloyd McCoy, of 16620 Maumee, for driving without due care and caution causing an accident, was fined $5 and $5 costs. William Matthews, of 3027 Hillger, for failing to stop at stop sign at Charlevoix, but with no accident involved, was fined $5 and $5 costs.

WINDOW SHOPPERS?

Sometime early Wednesday morning, Dec. 31, someone broke a plate glass window in the Pearl M. Ketterer gift shop at 15217 Kercheval and stole several articles out of the window.

Missing Coats Disturb Guests

Mrs. Edna German of 12676 Frankfort, Detroit, reported to the City police that her full length silver fox fur coat had been stolen from her car while she was a guest at the Alger Club's New Year's festivities. The police soon discovered that the valuable coat had been parked in another car by mistake. Another guest at the club didn't fare so well with her coat. At 4:20 o'clock in the afternoon of New Year's day John Thorpe, of 1070 Lakeview Detroit, phoned the City police that his daughter had lost a brown Mouton coat which, he said, had been stolen from the check room at the Alger club. The police were at a loss to know how a coat checked could have been stolen unless the lady had lost the check and it had been found by some dishonest person. The coat, Mr. Thorpe said, had been purchased only three weeks ago. Self-government is only possible where people are self-disciplined.

Skids Into Path Of Second Car

Jos. G. Markham of 650 Lillibridge, Detroit, while driving west on Kercheval Saturday noon, struck a car also being driven west by Frances McMaon of 8120 E. Jefferson. Miss McMahon's car skidded on the icy road and landed in front of Markham's car. The bodies of both cars were seriously damaged. The McMahon girl was given a ticket to answer at Juvenile court on Jan. 28.

THANKS... to our Grosse Pointe friends and customers
THANKS for the great volume of business you have entrusted to this store in the three short years since its doors opened... a volume that is now taxing its capacity to the very limit. And thanks too, for the fine things so many of you have said about the fresh, superb quality of Motoligin flowers and for your appreciation of the individual designing and prompt service that your orders have received. These things indeed bring a delightful sense of satisfaction to the entire staff. It tells us, too, that strict adherence to the highly ethical principals set forth by our florists' association together with the low price level we have maintained has had more than just passing recompense.
One other point that deserves mention in this message of acknowledgement is that the establishment's policy of promoting greater use of flowers by selling even the finest of them, yes, even orchids, at the lowest possible prices, shall continue to be the hallmark of the Motoligin store. And the full stocks of fresh cut flowers, always the Motoligin in this area, shall be maintained for the prompt filling of all the needs of our customers.

Jewelry, Cash Lost At Party

Loss of an evening bag containing a cigaret case and coin purse with $150 in cash, was reported to the Farms police on Dec. 29 by Mrs. Allan Shelden of Lake Shore road. Mrs. Shelden said she lost the articles at the Grosse Pointe Club on the night of Dec. 26. The cigaret case had a platinum, ruby and diamond clasp. She valued her entire loss at about $1,000.

SKIDS INTO HYDRANT

One result of icy streets was a broken fire hydrant near Jefferson and Lakeland, when Mrs. Marie Maher, of 2865 Harper, Mt. Clemens, skidded and knocked it over on January 2.

Popular Couple Betrothed

—Picture by Fred Runnells
Engagements made high social news at the Pointe during the holidays. One of the popular young couples to become engaged were PAULINE PERRONE, daughter of the Santo Perrones of Beaconsfield, and VINCENT H. MELI, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Meli of Devonshire road.

Children Feted At Glancy Party

A unique sort of party, hosted by the Alfred G. Glancys, Jr., of Renaud road last weekend, centered in the recreation room of their home.

Invitations went out to the small-fry, with the note that their parents could come under certain stipulations — namely, that they keep their hands off the maze of electric train paraphernalia meant for the children's pleasure alone.

Mr. Glancy has made electric trains his hobby for several years and his enterprise includes everything from cow-catchers to streamlined diesels. The routes are landscaped with gravel road beds, sanded country roads, villages, beaches and cities.

The newest addition to the layout is the miniature hunting scene which boasts a lodge, mounted hunters and the prey—a small fox, all of which the couple acquired while on their honeymoon in New York.

Parents of the host children and friends of the rapt enjoyed cocktails while the youngsters played.

Among the guests were Ann Fink with Mr. and Mrs. George R. Fink, Pixie Goodenough and the Daniel W. Goodenoughs, Peter Koenig, Jr., and his parents, Ruth and Anthony Fisher with the Edwin Fishers, David and Julia Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hodges, and Bill and Louis Fisher, Jr., with Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Fisher.

Many Parties Given For Sally Sutherland

Popular Debutante Kept Busy After Her Presentation At Tea In Country Club on Saturday, December 27

One of the busiest debutantes of the season was Sally Sutherland, who was presented by her mother, Mrs. Paul H. Sutherland at a tea at the Country Club on Saturday, December 27.

Tall red tapers in silver candelabra flanked the two silver samovars on the tea table and Steuben glass compotes held arrangements of white carnations and holly.

Sally chose a gown of white tulle for her party. It was designed with the popular off-the-shoulder bodice and bouffant skirt. Fields of the tulle formed petals at the shoulder line accented with tiny clusters of blue velvet forget-me-nots.

The same flowers formed a tufted effect on the skirt of the dress. The deb carried her father's gift bouquet of white stephanotis tied with streamers of French blue.

Mrs. Sutherland wore a gown of rose beige crepe made with long fitted sleeves which puffed at the shoulder, square neckline and a softly flared skirt. Her flowers were Vanda orchids shading from pink to lavender.

Sally was assisted by her roommate at Ogontz College, Polly Brush of Cleveland, Patricia McKean, Sally Thompson, Betsy Whelden, Josephine Collins, Sally Potter and Joyce Mulkey, all of whom wore the deb's gifts of white carnations.

Mrs. John Gordon Hill, Mrs. Henry A. Kuhlman, Mrs. William McKinley and Mrs. William P. Arnold assisted at the tea table. Mrs. Sutherland's other assistants were Mrs. Walter S. Clark, Mrs. Harry L. Hosmer and Mrs. John T. Allmand. All of Mrs. Sutherland's aides wore white gardenias—also the gifts of the debutante.

Cocktails and dinner at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the tea for the senior assistants and their husbands, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland.

Joyce Kilner Bride Of R. K. Dykema, Jr.

Young Couple Enjoying Skiing Honeymoon in Laurentians Following Their Marriage in Old Christ Church

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond K. Dykema Jr. are skiing in the Laurentian Mountains on their honeymoon, following their marriage Tuesday evening in Old Christ Church on Jefferson avenue. The bride is the former Jane Kilner, daughter of the John Saunders Kilners of Seminole avenue and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond K. Dykema of Lakeland avenue.

The Rev. William B. Sperry heard the couple's vows by candlelight before an altar banked with holiday greens. The entire church was decorated with greens and red holly.

Jane's bridal gown was of ivory slipper satin designed with a sweetheart neckline edged with seed pearl embroidery. The full skirt of the dress extended into a circular train. Orange blossoms held in place the full length rose pointe lace veil, an heirloom of the Dykema family.

The bride carried a white satin prayer book which has been handed down through generations of Kilner family brides. An arrangement of mistletoe topped the prayer book and showers of silver and white streamers fell from it.

The honor maid, Virginia Downer, was in Christmas green fall and the bridesmaid, Mrs. John K. McEvoy, Barbara Noble and Mary Lowrie of Denver, Colorado, wore similar dresses of holly red.

The attendant's frocks were styled with low square necklines in front and back, long full sleeves and sweeping circular skirts, ten yards around the bottom.

All of the bridal maids wore holly in their hair and carried arrangements of holly.

Little Janie Truesdall, niece and namesake of the bride, was the flower girl in a Kate Greenaway frock of white net. She carried a diminutive arrangement of holly and wore a matching head piece.

John Dykema served his brother as best man. Another brother, Jere Dykema, the bride's brother, Charles S. Kilner, Frederick Higbie, Richard Selden Spencer, Jr., David Ross, Charles Hodges, III and Hamilton R. James seated the guests.

Mrs. Kilner chose a gown of soft French blue crepe for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore a matching feather hat and pinned a corsage of purple orchids to her shoulder.

The bridegroom's mother was gowned in green satin, designed with a draped skirt and pink flower trim on the bodice. She wore a matching coronet of satin. A small reception for the fam-

Families Unite For Christening

Josephine and Victoria Joy and Jill and John Shallcross were the principals in a christening ceremony at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church last Sunday afternoon.

The four tiny cousins are the children of the William M. Joys of Cloverly road and the John Shallcrosses of Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Shallcross, E. Mead Baker, Jr., Richard P. Joy, Mrs. Myron E. Merry of Gates Mills, Ohio, and Mrs. Alexander McLean of Washington, were godparents to Josephine and Victoria. The two out-of-town sponsors were unable to be present.

Mrs. Ledyard Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. William Joy, Joseph G. Standart, Jr., and William Healy of Chicago were sponsors for Jill and John. Mr. Healy could not be present.

The Joys were hosts at a tea for the two families following the ceremonies. Among the guests were the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Schlottman, Mrs. Harry N. Torrey and Mrs. Richard P. Joy.

Cecily King Wed During Holidays

Cecily Watlington King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. McCartney of McKinley road, became the bride of Thomas Boyce Reeve of Downer's Grove, Ill., on the evening of December 26 in Grace Evangelical Church. The Rev. Charles Scheid officiated.

Mrs. Ralph F. Anderson was matron of honor and the sister of the bride, Peggy McCartney, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mary Lou Long, Mary Jean McKenzie, Marian Breyer of Madison, Wis., and Shirley Reeve, sister of the bridegroom.

Chester Monson of Downer's Grove was best man and the ushers included Bob Kremer and Ralph Anderson of the Pointe, and Charles Waters, Jack Peninger and Donnell Wagner of Evanston, Ill.

The bride wore a candlelight brocaded satin gown with finger tip veil trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and white orchids. Her mother wore a gown of aqua with an orchid corsage and the mother of the bridegroom had a gown of soft rose and wore orchids.

Ninety guests attended the wedding reception in the Lochmoor Club. Two wedding cakes were cut, one by the bride and one by her mother, who was also celebrating her 25th wedding anniversary.

After a short honeymoon in the east Mr. and Mrs. Reeve will live in Chicago. The bridegroom is studying chemical engineering at Northwestern University.

MUSIC GETTING HOTTER. Some excitement was caused in Francois's restaurant on Fisher at midnight recently by a fire in the juke box. It was caused by a short circuit and small damage was done.

The funds raised in the coming campaign will provide the means of expanding the work in the three Maternal Health Clinics, as well as carrying on fertility referral service and counseling interviews. The Maternal Health

Visit Colorado Ski Country

MR. and MRS. C. EZRA LOCKWOOD and their daughter, POLLY, of Ridge road, Grosse Pointe Farms, pictured at Aspen, Colorado's most famous skiing resort. Polly is spending the winter there and her mother and father went out to visit her for a week, returning to the Pointe on December 30.

Two Betrothals In One Family

Mary Suzanne Kuivinen and Donald John Hutchinson Jr., Mary Margaret Farmer and William L. Kuivinen were the principals in two completely interlocked engagement announcements on New Year's Eve.

The two brides-elect are roommates at Delta Zeta sorority at the University of Michigan—and the fiances were Chi Phi fraternity brothers at the same school. Sue and Bill are the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Kuivinen of Lincoln road. Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Farmer of Moross road are the parents of Mary Margaret. Mr. Hutchinson, now of Grand Rapids, is the son of Mrs. Frederick Seymour, (formerly of the Pointe) now of St. Petersburg, Florida, and the late Donald J. Hutchinson.

The senior Kuivinen were hosts at a New Year's Eve party in their home to announce their daughter's betrothal. Each guest was presented with a pink rosebud with tiny gold lovebirds attached, bearing the names of the couple.

Sue is in her junior year at the University and Mr. Hutchinson is a graduate of the University Engineering School. The wedding will be an event of the late summer.

The news of Mary Margaret's engagement to Bill was told at a family dinner party in the Farmer home Wednesday evening. The young people are both juniors at U. of M. They will be married early in June.

Congregational Church Women to Present Skit

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will meet on Tuesday, Jan 13, in the home of Mrs. F. W. Stoum of Bedford road. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Shephard, Mrs. Warren Helle and Mrs. Edgar Hahn.

The Missionary Education Committee has planned the program for the day. An amateur skit will be presented showing the work done by the association to promote "Friendly Service" at home and abroad.

Taking part in the skit will be Mrs. Walter Zinck, Mrs. E. W. Dulmage, Mrs. Helle, Mrs. A. D. Brown, Mrs. Dudley Smith, Mrs. R. C. Diehl and Mrs. Glen Wilkerson.

Josephine Collins Makes Debut at Tea

Presented By Mother At Party in Their Lochmoor Boulevard Home; Parents Also Hosts At Dinner Following

One of the last debutantes of 1947 was Josephine Sperry Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Collins. Mrs. Collins presented her daughter at a tea in the Collins home in Lochmoor boulevard Monday afternoon, December 29.

The mother and daughter formed a pretty contrast in black and palest shell pink as they received before the fountain in the poinsettia-bedecked sunroom.

Jo wore a gown designed by Norman Hartnell in silk net. A puff of net over the shoulders set off the low-cut oval neckline. A butterfly motif of silver, pink and white sequins spangled the shoulder line and cascaded down the front of the bouffant skirt.

The deb carried her father's gift bouquet of gardenias and white carnations.

Mrs. Collins' gown was of black chiffon—relieved by the line of a pink chiffon yoke banded with silver sequins. The floor-length skirt was softly draped.

The deb's assistants, all of whom wore Jo's pink carnations, were Sally Thompson, Barbara Burrill, Sally Sutherland, Patricia McKean, Florence Spaulding, Adelaide Kilgibell and Sally Volter.

Mrs. Collins asked her sisters,

Robert Keydels Return From Florida Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Robert George Keydel returned Thursday from their wedding trip to Florida, where they motored after their marriage in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on December 20.

They stopped with his family, the Albert E. Cooney's of Merriweather road, before going to East Lansing where they have a new home on Park Lake. Both are students at Michigan State College.

Buena Belle Dittman's Engagement Announced

The engagement of Buena Belle Dittman, formerly of Rivard boulevard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dittman of Detroit, was announced on Christmas Day in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. William Gierk in Richmond, Mich.

Miss Dittman will become the bride of Robert Lee Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brown of Detroit.

Mrs. R. Bliss Wolfe and Mrs. Louis Furniss of Grand Rapids, her daughter, Anne Collins, and her niece, Mrs. George Burns, to assist her. All wore white gowns.

Gift bouquets were placed about the living room for the tea. The tea table was covered with a Pointe de Venise cloth and centered with an all-white flower arrangement in a silver bowl. White tapers in silver candleholders framed the centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins were hosts at dinner in their home honoring their daughter following the tea. Guests included the debutante's assistants and their escorts. On the latter side were John McNaughton, John Penberthy, Charles Morris, Webster Knight Jr., Bud Ross, John Cosgrove, Denny Thomas, William Mason and Pierre Thurber.

From Another Pointe of View

They plan to remain North until the middle of the month . . . When they'll return to their Colorado home . . .

BARBARA WICKING ENGAGED

It's getting to be a charming tradition, if our memory serves us rightly . . . that the first deb of the season . . . is generally the first of the buds to become a bride-elect . . . We remember this was true when Ann Whitehead bowed to society . . . and then became Mrs. Woodie Crouse . . . Then this year . . . on New Year's Day . . . Barbara Wicking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harrison Wicking of Trombley road (who was the first of the 1947-48 debutantes) . . . became engaged to Webster Bonham Knight III, . . . son of Mr. and Mrs. Webster B. Knight III of Port Haven, Gray Haven . . .

IT'S A MATCH!

Proving that society has many hardy souls . . . the Wickings' Pointe home was crowded with members of the young set and friends of the Wicking and Knight families on New Year's afternoon . . . The icy pavements just seemed to send the crowds more merrily into the Wicking home . . . where the reception hall was festive with its silver double wishing ring (adopted from the charming old English custom of holiday "kissing rings") . . . Gathered around the punch bowl in the dining room . . . guests found folders of matches attached to the handles of the punch cups . . . They opened them to read: "It's a match! Barb and Web" . . . And then the good wishes and congratulations flew . . .

GOWNED IN ICE BLUE PRINT

For her engagement party . . . Barbara chose an ice blue print afternoon frock . . . and a beautiful white engagement orchid was pinned to one shoulder . . . Mrs. Wicking greeted the guests in a jacket frock of black and white sheer wool trimmed in ermine tails . . . she wore a corsage of purple orchids . . .

SCHOOLS

And now for the vital statistics: Barbara attends Western College for Women in Oxford, Ohio . . . Webster . . . a graduate of the University of Detroit . . . is now in the school of engineering at the University of Michigan . . . He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon . . . No date has been set for the wedding . . .

PAULINE PERRONE BRIDE-ELECT

And still another Pointe engagement announced during the holiday season . . . Was that of lovely, dark-eyed Pauline Perrone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Santo Perrone of Beaconsfield . . . And handsome young Vincent H. Meli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Meli of Devonshire road . . . The betrothal was told at a large family party held in the Perrone residence . . .

VINCE TO STUDY IN ROME

Wearing her shining (and BEEEautiful engagement ring), Pauline returns this week to her studies in Centenary in Hackettstown, New Jersey . . . While Vince . . . returns to his law books at Notre Dame . . . We understand the young man is slated for post grad work at the University of Rome . . . and what could be more ideal for a honeymoon than the thrilling Italian city!

Yule Tea Given By Shirley Davis

Shirley Davis, daughter of the Harold S. Davises of Bedford road, was hostess at a holiday tea on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 30, for two hundred Grosse Pointe High School alumnae and senior girls. The Davis home was decorated with holiday greens for the occasion, and the young hostess received guests in a violet dress designed with a tiny round collar, fitted bodice, long sleeves and very full skirt. Her corsage was of pink camellias. Mrs. Davis wore a rose and royal blue gown with a high neckline, long sleeves and full skirt. The dress was accented with an heirloom necklace of turquoise and diamonds. Assisting Shirley at the table were Betty Jo Faulk, Sue Rogers, Minnie Hewitt, Janet Eckfeld, Barb Elliott, Nancy Hodges, Nancy Bolles and Joanne Broom.

St. Matthew's Women's Club to Hold Luncheon

The St. Matthews Women's Club is sponsoring a turkey salad luncheon on Thursday, January 15 at 12:30 p. m. in Kern's Auditorium. Mrs. Basil Cunningham of Bishop road will be chairman. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. A. J. Louwers, PR. 3744 or Mrs. W. Shafer, NI. 7008.

Hunt Club Holds New Year Show

The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club lost no time in beginning the 1948 program with a formal musical ride, open house and horse show on New Year's Day. Ten classes were represented in the event. In the parent and child class were Mrs. Emery B. Hatch and daughter, Poffy, Mr. John W. Mulford and daughter, Mary Andria, Mrs. Walter Stewart and Carol and Mr. G. R. McKiel and Judy. Junior members taking part in the show included Winkie Booth, Virginia McLucas, Ann Erffitz, Gloria Roberts, Nancy Ruedmann, Gay Buhl, Mary Mackay, Ethel Dupont, Jeanne Vance, Julie Chapman and Don Custer. E. D. Putnam and Ralph Ford participated in the class of hunt teams with three horses and riders.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

One generally associates the color blue with MRS. WILSON MILLS, but after seeing her in a "holiday" costume, it was realized that color has nothing to do with the subject.

MRS. JAMES ANGELL looked as though she had just stepped from the pages of the most fashionable Godey Book when seen recently.

MRS. HENRY FORD II may be considered the eleventh best dressed woman of America, by the New York judges, but she would certainly have been among the first three had they seen her in the well-cut sport costume she was wearing one day at the Little Club.

PILFERINGS

Thanks to Britain's Lord Justice Asquith for the following anecdotes.

His favorites include the tale told of Lord Westbury, who when his horses bolted, told his driver: "Drive into something cheap."

Dr. Riddings report on a scholar: "He seems to know more than he doesn't."

Winston Churchill's comment on a long dull speech by an M.P.: "The Sahara, in salt-pools."

Other favorites include Asquith's comment on the inaccurate reporter, "who heard half of what went on, and reported the other half."

The retort of Historian Herbert Paul, after hearing his opponent admit that while he wasn't a brilliant orator he was at least a sound churchman: "The first is obvious, and the second of limited interest."

Another comment on a talkative colleague whose arm had been broken: "I suppose he did it trying to hold his tongue."

And finally, A. E. Housman, dismissing an eminent German scholar as having been "born in Strasburg—a city still famous for its geese."

Pointer of Interest

MISS CARLYLE FROST OF WASHINGTONROAD AND HER MOTHER

By Olive H. Henry

Carlyle has been taking pictures since the time she received her first Brownie camera. Her main interests are photography and writing.

Her brother-in-law is an enthusiastic amateur photographer and is responsible for much of Carlyle's training.

Many amusing experiences have befallen Carlyle, as is the case with all amateur photographers.

Sally Potter—cerulean blue—freshly washed and ironed batiste—tailored Dresden figurine—grape hyacinth—tea and cakes—and Rock of Gibraltar gone feminine.

At one time Carlyle took pictures of a little girl whose face was covered with freckles.

She spent most of one day trying to reproduce a beautiful cloud effect with a red filter on an ortho film.

mary, mary, quite contrary

This being the Witching Hour when everybody picks the Ten Best Lists of Everything, we feel contrarily inspired to pick instead The Phe-witzer Prizes of 1947.

Nineteen forty seven has been far from an ANNUS MIRABILIS for the Muses.

In art, drama and music, the same restlessness prevails.

In the film—FOREVER AMBER. Because we wore our shock absorbers and found we didn't need them.

THE NOVEL—KINGSBLOOD ROYAL BY SINCLAIR LEWIS

Because Sinclair Lewis took a pulsating problem—the Racial Question in America, and treated it in a maudlin manner, unworthy of his powerful pen.

THE PLAY—ALLEGRO BY OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN

Because this musical play—as contrasted from musical comedy—was heralded with an unprecedented advance sale running to April, 1948, and then let everyone to the dark room and emerged with a blank film at every attempt. Later she learned that ortho film is insensitive to red, thus prohibiting anything from developing on the film.

Her versatility is shown by the charming portraits of children she has made and the lovely studies of ice-covered trees and shrubs.

Obviously, Carlyle enjoys taking children's pictures most of all. A particularly heartrending experience was one which occurred at a third sitting.

Her writing career began as a child; when she was angry she would retire to the privacy of her room and scribble a poem.

In the Junior League Scribblers Column will be found some of Carlyle's creative efforts which speak for themselves, and it is to be hoped that she will speak in this manner often, and in a far reaching way.

Because we're possibly doing a Double-Crosley here, since Benny is in both the top rating end top money brackets.

Favorite Recipes of People in The Know

Contributed by Mrs. C. Gilbert Waldo BISQUE TORTEE

- 1 cup milk
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup granulated sugar
salt to taste
1 tsp. vanilla
Boil this mixture until creamy.
Dissolve 1 tbs. gelatin in 1/2 cup milk. Let stand 5 minutes.
Add to warm custard and cool.
Fold in two beaten egg whites.
1 cup whipped cream.
Roll 1/2 lb. filled chocolate cookies with rolling pin.
Sprinkle bottom of pan with crumbs.
Cover with custard and then with crumbs.
Serve with or without whipped cream.

hoys emerged as a hero. Because the investigation set out to prove that anyone who serves good champagne at good dinners is offering a Here-Comes-the-Bribe to governmental officials.

THE SPORTS EVENT—THE WALCOTT-LOUIS FIGHT

Because 24 of the 40 ringside critics who thought the decision should have gone to Walcott were apparently backed up by The Champ himself—when Joe Louis said: "Walcott wasn't a second rater tonight, I WAS!"

THE ART SHOW—ERNA TRAVAS MURALS

Because Travas makes a travesty of good modern art with his poor modern art. Because, as a member of a new school of artists calling themselves Samists meaning Solitary Automatic Mood, Travas paints like a laundry medium in a phoney trance.

POPULAR MUSIC—SHE'S TOO FAT FOR ME

Because we don't know nor care who wrote this drab descent into swingtime. Because if there's anything worse than a suggestive song, it's an UNFUNNY one. Because it's the year's biggest argument for making all records more BREAKABLE.

Here's one for the Quiz Kids—why is January, the foundation garment month in the merchandising field? I'm sure that I don't know, unless it's because the little women have eaten themselves all out of shape during the holidays, and a new girdle becomes more than a desire—it becomes a definite must!

New Years may come and new years may go but that old established custom of lurching and dining at HAWTHORNE HOUSE will ever remain the same.

In January 12 issue of Life magazine, you will see the new Crosley cars. New models, new colors and new economy! BUT, if you want to see the REAL thing, — to KERCHEVAL-CADIEUX SERVICE STATION where you can see the new Crosley car RIGHT NOW and what a beauty!

Don't miss the all-round sale on now at WALTON-PIERCE. All those things you saw and hoped you'd get for Christmas, you can have now without injury to your budget.
