Senator Robert A. Taft Visits Pointe

Smart of Roosevelt place, president of the club, is seated at the table in front of Mr. Taft. Bottom: some of the cars in Touraine road that took more than 300 club members to the meeting.

Baby Honored By Call From Senator Taft

It is doubtful if Senator Robert A. Taft is the baby-kissing type of politician, but he did make a very special call on an infant just seven days old while he was in the Pointe on Monday.

After addressing the Grosse Pointe Women's Republican Club, he hurried to 234 McKinley road to pay his respects to the Charles R. Beltz family. Mrs. Beltz is the daughter of Mr. Taft's respected colleague, Senator Homer Ferguson.

She had just returned from the hospital with her fourth child, William Thomas Beltz, age one week. Mrs. Ferguson, the baby's grandmother, was also on hand to greet the Senator.

Pointes Well Represented At Meeting in Detroit To Discuss Pollution of Water

A meeting with important bearings on the quality of the water that passes Grosse Pointe and is used both here and in Detroit for water supply and swimming was held in the Detroit Common Council Chambers in City Hall Thursday morning, Feb. 19 at 10:30 o'clock a. m.

It was called by Detroit City Clerk Thomas D. Leadbetter and was for the specific purpose of hearing and discussing the report of the Board of Engineers which Detroit named to look into this problem some time ago. The report has been made and the Detroit Common Council desired its full discussion by the municipalities and public officials concerned.

All of the Grosse Pointe municipalities were invited to be represented. President Watkins and Engineer Murray Smith of the Farms along with trustees Schlaepfer and Maxon were there as well as Village Manager Land and Commissioner Ulrich of the Park. Manager Thomas Jeffers of the Shores, Edward Pate, of Pate and Hirn, engineers for the Woods; and Mayor Ralph Netting and Highway Superintendent Julius Stark for Grosse Pointe City.

The State Department of Health and the State Streams Control Commission were also represented. Robert Harper, Drains Commissioner of Macomb County was not there. His absence was regretted as his territory has been commonly regarded as one of the main offenders in the pollution problem.

The engineers presented a lengthy discussion of the whole problem, in which they said they had discovered that whereas about 70 percent of the pollution which comes into Lake St. Clair from the Macon drains first follows the American side, certain currents operate as the flow comes down to divert 80 per cent of it to the Canadian side as it approaches the end of Lake St. Clair leaving eventually only about 40 per cent on the American side.

Detroit's chief concern is to check as far as possible the present flow of sewage out of the Fox Creek vent and send it through the Conner Creek vent. The Fox Creek outlet is well above the Detroit City water intake, whereas the Conner Creek outlet is almost directly opposite the Detroit water supply intake.

Carrier Boy Has Answer To Mystery

The mysterious moving of cars that has been reported going on in recent weeks by residents in the Grayton-Bishop-Harvard area has been cleared up.

It was no uncommon thing for a resident to notice that his car was not in exactly the same position he had left it the night before. In some cases it might be a block or more away. There had been no damage done to any of these cars and obviously it was not the intent of the "borrowers" to steal them permanently.

At 5:20 o'clock on Feb. 19, Miss Pauline Van Sile of 1213 Grayton phoned the police that a young man had just tried to steal their car, which was parked in the rear of the house. When she called from her bedroom window she saw the young man run away.

She had heard the motor turning over and as the car had not started immediately she had time to investigate.

A short time later Patrolmen Van De Ginst and Mouton picked up a morning paper delivery boy in front of 1147 Grayton and took him to headquarters for further questioning.

The culprit is a boy 16 years old who lives on Minneapolis St., Detroit. He came through with a complete explanation of all the strange car movements in recent weeks.

Curfew Ordered On Sewer Work
Residents in the 1000 block of Beaconsfield along the line of the sewer work being conducted there by the Park village, complained of the noise the work causes there long after the end of the usual working hours.

When a complaint came in at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening, Feb. 17, Manager Lane of the Park village made an investigation. He gave directions to the construction concern that no more work should be carried on after usual closing hours.

Gov. Wilber Brucker To Deliver Keynote Speech on March 4

The organization meeting of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Library campaign will be held on Thursday evening, March 4, at 8:30 o'clock in the library of the High School. Former Governor Wilber M. Brucker of Vendome road will give the keynote speech which will spark the movement.

The presidents and officers of all organizations in Grosse Pointe will be invited to attend, as well as any members who are interested. In addition to these every citizen of the Pointe, not directly allied with any of these groups, will be heartily welcomed.

Those making the arrangements for the meeting were surprised to discover so many organized groups in the Pointe. They represent every form of organized community life. These include veterans organizations, fraternal societies, alumni associations, Friends of the Library, business associations, public officials and all types of governmental bodies, garden groups, social service groups, civic betterment groups and others too numerous to be recited.

The War Memorial Association and the Study Group which devoted two years to the preliminary study of the memorial project, will of course be present.

It is the hope of the proponents of the meeting to make it a complete representation of Grosse Pointe. With such an initial gathering enlisted in a movement of this high character it is felt there will be no question of the success of the campaign, which should have a more embracing appeal for the people of Grosse Pointe than any other movement that has ever been presented to them.

It is possible that out of this meeting a complete organization will be effected. If it is not possible to select a general chairman for the campaign at this meeting it will probably be left to the decision of the executive committee expected to be named at the gathering.

The whole thing was done so quickly and quietly that a man customer in the store at the time did not know it had happened. A small boy sitting on a stool by the register was so frightened he could not speak. The fellow rushed out, jumped in the waiting cab and was on his way in a matter of seconds.

A passerby, G. E. Stumb, of 264 McMillan road, Grosse Pointe Farms, saw the bandit dart out of the door and get in the cab. His attention had been drawn to the cab with engine running and door open but he did not realize what was under way until the thug came running out of the store and jumped in.

A description of the bandit was gained from the combined testimony of this man and Miss Dearnley. They agreed he was about 40-45 fair hair, blue eyes, weight about 185 pounds, height 5' 10". He was shabbily dressed and wore a shabby blue overcoat and a light tan felt hat.

Hancock's Chevrolet absorbed most of the damage, $100 worth. Loren's damage was estimated at $50 and that of Hansz at only $5. All drivers were insured and Hancock assumed all blame for the crash.

MOST UNFORTUNATE
Miss Virginia Beaupre, of 1110 N. Oxford road, had the bad luck on Saturday afternoon to side-swipe a Park scout car, as both were going east on Jefferson near Westchester. The front and rear fenders on both cars were somewhat rumbled up.

Three cars figured in an accident on Lake Shore road at Moross road at 3:30 p.m. on Feb. 22. Edward Robert Hansz of 17224 Sioux, Detroit, driving his 1947 Ford east on Lake Shore, stopped when another car in front of him pulled up to make a turn. Eugene Clinton Loren of 3103 Meldrum, was behind Hansz in his Pontiac and he also stopped.

Third in line was John Hancock of 1800 Military, Port Huron, in a Chevrolet. Hancock's car slid into the rear of Loren's, which in turn banged into Hansz's.

The Woods Council at the meeting on Feb. 17, directed Village Clerk Phil Allard to advertise for bids for supplies for the fire department. The articles to be purchased will include 750 feet of 1 1/2" hose; 500 feet of 2 1/2" hose; two aluminum ladders and various fittings.

The bids will be opened on March 16, and the estimated total cost will be about $2,000.

Woods to Buy Fire Equipment

The regular monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe Woods Club Pack 290 held on Friday, February 20, was a huge success. The boys took up a collection at the close of their annual fashion show, presented after the Michigan League for Crippled Children. The generosity of these boys has enabled their Pack to send five children to camp for two months next summer.

The boys wowed their audience with their presentation of the latest fashions. They modeled infants' wear, sports attire, afternoon dresses, evening gowns, bathing suits, night dresses, negligees and lingerie and millinery. The grand finale was a wedding party.

Special awards were also given at the meeting. The Webber Award was presented to Roy Kemp and Charles Liddle for fulfilling all of the requirements for three years of Cubing.

There were also a number of new boys taken into the Pack. Among them were David Jackson, Bernard McPhillips, John Grant, John Haskett, Thos. Asmus, Theodore Jacob and Richard Cornwall. Clarence Caldwell was taken in by an out-of-town transfer.

Mobile Unit X-Rays 3200 In G.P. Park

Residents Responding In Droves to Opportunity For Free Examinations

Three thousand — two hundred adults took advantage of the free X-ray service during the first two weeks of the Grosse Pointe X-Ray Survey which was held in the Park, the Township Health Department has announced.

The State Mobile X-Ray Unit is in the City this week. It will be located at the Neighborhood Club today and tomorrow, February 26 and 27. On Saturday it will move to Jacobson's on Kercheval where it will be open to all residents in that vicinity and anyone shopping in that area. It is also being moved to that location and remaining open on Saturday for the benefit of those who work during the week and have been unable to attend at any other time.

Starting March 2 the Survey, which is being sponsored by the Wayne County Health Department, the TB and Health Society, and the Township Health Department, will move to the Farms.

During the Park survey hundreds of volunteers gave freely of their time and effort to make those two weeks successful.

"The Neighborhood Committee under the leadership of W. G. Stammen, city clerk, did an outstanding job," Dr. Thomas S. Davies, health commissioner stated at a recent Steering Committee meeting.

The Park area was divided into four sections with a Neighborhood Chairman for each.

Mrs. Arthur D. Huse, was Municipal Chairman and her committee members were Lois Perry, Mrs. Thomas McDonald, Mrs. Richard C. Hill, Mrs. Walter Sattler, Mrs. Glenn Bray, Mrs. Ernest C. Oulette, Mrs. James E. Anderson, Mrs. Homer Martin, Mrs. Albert Nickels, Mrs. Bert Phillips, Mrs. Leonard Slowin, Mrs. J. Chargo, Mrs. George Waldob, Mrs. A. J. Chronowski, Mrs. A. ## Thieves Visit Bar in Farms

Old Brick Inn Owner Reports Loss of $619 in Cash and $800 in Liquor

Farms police are investigating a breaking and entering which occurred at the Old Brick Inn, 18696 Mack avenue, early in the morning of Feb. 20. The thief or thieves got away with $619 in cash and liquor valued at more than $800.

Entrance was gained by cutting a mesh screen and breaking a window in the back door. The cash was taken from a metal box which Mrs. Parreca, the owner of the bar, had put in a refrigerator when she left. The box was found on a kitchen table, but Detective George Champagne was unable to find any prints on it. It is believed the thief rubbed them off after cleaning the cash out of the box.

Fifteen cases and two quart bottles of assorted liquors were taken from a closet.

Mrs. Parreca said she and Jack Allor, the bartender, had been in the place until 3:45 a.m., cleaning up after the night's business. She is covered by insurance.

Whittier Made One-Way Street

Beginning Tuesday, Feb. 24, Whittier was declared a one-way street going north from Jefferson to Mack avenue.

Recent counts made by the Park police have disclosed that traffic on this street is very heavy, particularly between Kercheval and Mack.

The police believed that rather than cut the thoroughfare into two sections, one carrying two way traffic and the north end limited to one-way only, it would avoid confusion to the driving public to convert its whole length in the Pointe to one-way north bound traffic.

Following the survey in the City the Mobile X-Ray Trailer will move to the Farms where the volunteers of the Neighborhood Committees are working at the present time in the distribution of information about the project.

On February 23 Mrs. Adam Kisskall, district chairman, called a meeting of her volunteers at the Village Hall. Thirty-seven men and women have expressed willingness to participate in that district in a house-to-house canvass notifying all residents of the forthcoming survey in their neighborhood.

Mrs. Cameron Waterman, III, another district chairman in the Farms, held a similar meeting with her committee on February 24.

The Village Hall was also the meeting place for Mrs. Herbert Micou and Mrs. William Mason, district chairmen, who, with their respective committees, are completing plans for home calls within their territory.

Plans for the survey in the Shores started last Tuesday, February 24, when Thomas K. Jefforis, Village clerk and chairman of the Neighborhood Committee in that area, invited volunteers to attend a meeting.

The Grosse Pointe Survey, sponsored by the Wayne County Health Department, TB and Health Society, and Township Health Department, is in its third week at the present time and will continue through March 12.

Port Huron. This great project it was hurriedly estimated might cost as much as $125,000,000, but even with this great outlay there would be no assurance that the ice problem would not cause trouble in blocking off the supply in certain seasons.

It developed clearly in the meeting that the State Health and Stream Controls commissions regarded the withholding of all sanitary sewage and deleterious matter from the lake as a sine qua non for a pure water supply.

Grosse Pointe's early problem in the matter is the possible heavy contribution it may have to make if the sewage flow is sent on farther down to the Conner Creek vent.

No formal action was taken at the meeting although an attempt was made to have a resolution passed adopting in toto the engineer's report. It was felt that the whole problem needed much further discussion.

President Watkins of the Farms has notified the Detroit City Council by letter that the officials of that village hope the Council will not make any immediate, definite recommendations until he and his board have a chance to thoroughly study the long report.

President Watkins pointed out that it has been estimated the Pointe communities would be called upon to raise about $6,000,000 of the estimated $8,000,000 cost of the project of diverting all drainage to Conners Creek.

He said that studies have shown the Fox Creek drain is very seldom used by the Pointe area for storm drainage and it might be cheaper to enlarge this outlet and provide better purification facilities than to divert everything to Conners Creek.

Proof of the Navy's effective immunization program against tetanus is seen in the fact that not one combat casualty developed that affliction. And of some five million Naval personnel, only four cases developed resulting from accidental injuries. Of the two tetanus deaths from these injuries, one man had a record of no immunization and the other's was incomplete.

Another Old Case Cracked By Farms Police Sergeant

Labadie Obtains Full Confessions From Four Youths in Particularly Malicious Depredations on Night of April 12, 1946

Sergt. Elmer Labadie of the Farms police department leaned back with satisfaction on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 21, after marking "Solved" after an old, old case on the Farms docket.

On the night of April 12, 1946 some particularly aggravating mischief went on in the Farms. A Ford, owned by Charles Palms of Lake Shore road, had been stolen from in front of 157 Ridge road. It was later found, practically inside the C. H. MacMahon residence at 252 Merriweather road. It was obvious that the thieves had deliberately let it run wild down the hill at that location.

The porch pillars, cement steps and an evergreen on the MacMahon property had been damaged or ruined. The fenders and license plate of the stolen car had been daubed with white paint.

That same night the same kind of white paint had been poured over a 1942 Oldsmobile sedan, owned by Police Officer Louis Baldwin of the Shores, while it was parked in the rear of 455 Lake Shore road.

The police worked on the case for many weeks, but were unable to crack it. Many suspects were interviewed, but all denied any connection with this particularly malicious mischief.

On January 24 last, almost two years later, Sergeant Labadie started going back over his list of suspects. One by one he called in a number of youths of whom he was especially suspicious. He finally wormed a confession out of one member of a particular group, and the rest was easy.

Four boys, all of them 18 and all residents of the Pointe, have made full confessions. They stole a gallon of white paint from a garage in McKinley road, stole the Palms car, painted its fenders and license plate then went for a field to Mt. Clemens. They later dumped the rest of the paint over the Baldwin car and ended their night of fun by pushing the stolen Ford down the Merriweather hill.

Sergeant Labadie is now in the quandary about how to handle the case. The four boys have been in a good deal of other trouble in the past and have been on probation for a year, during which they have behaved themselves very well. In the meantime they have all reached an age where they are beyond the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, and they could be tried in criminal court.

The County Prosecutor's office has advised that the quartet be tried under a local ordinance and they may all be charged with disorderly conduct. Labadie is anxious to give them every chance, and the fact that they have behaved themselves for some time now, stands in their favor. So until a decision is reached as to how their case shall be handled, the NEWS withholds their names and hopes they are on the straight and narrow for good.

Thieves Ransack Home in Park

There was a breaking and entry at the Costi Brosian home at 1070 Wayburn on the night of Feb. 19. The home, which is the lower floor of a flat, was entered by breaking in the storm door and forcing the interior glass door.

The extent and value of the articles taken was not known when the report was made, but the place had been well rummaged.

Request for Tax Refund Refused

The Woods village at a council meeting on Feb. 17 refused a request from the Detroit Trust Company for a refund of taxes paid in 1947 amounting to $477 on the property of the Protestant Children's Home of Detroit, on a fifteen acre plot owned by the Home and Cook road.

The land is acreage acquired by the Home about a year ago. There is no building on the property now. Probably the Home contemplates the erection of a building on the property at some future time, but in view of the fact that no definite plans for such are now announced, the village commissioners were unwilling to carry the property as tax free when it might be sold to a third party for a profit at some future time.

Some of us think that cooperation means everybody doing what we tell them.

Parents Urged to Attend High School's Open House

Parents and teachers of Grosse Pointe High School students will spend Friday evening, Feb. 27, conferring together in regard to the second semester progress of the boys and girls with whom they are mutually concerned.

The occasion will be the semi-annual high school open house for parents, arranged so that mothers and fathers may meet the teachers in whose classes their children have been recently enrolled.

Service Club members will greet guests at the doors and provide them with directories listing the rooms in which teachers may be found. In many instances these rooms will not be the same rooms in which the teachers meet their classes.

Faculty members will be available for brief individual conferences from 8 to 9:45 o'clock.

The welcome message of the parents to the school is as follows: "The home is of first importance in the life of the average American adolescent. The school ordinarily ranks second in influence. Parents and teachers share an incomparable responsibility. We warmly welcome the parents of our students to this open house. We feel that parents and teachers need to know each other."

Grosse Pointe High School's semi-annual open houses are sponsored by the Mothers' Club. Committees of mothers assist in receiving the guests in the home-rooms.

weeks. He had been in the practice of keeping his eye out for a parked car, or one parked in the rear of a house, and if it had the keys in it or would start without a key he just borrowed it for the more luxurious delivery of his papers, parking his bike meanwhile in a nearby hedge. It was more fun to ride than peddle. After his route was covered he would return the car and ride home on his bicycle.

In one case he took a machine from Cadieux just north of Mack and left this car way out at Morgas and Mack. The youth has been deposited in the Juvenile Detention home and the Detroit police are investigating similar mysterious car movements in the Fifteenth Precinct north of Mack.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Save odds and ends of soap that are too small or thin for regular use. Dissolve them in hot water, using one-third cup of soap to one quart of water. Cool and set aside to jell. A jar of this soap jelly on the kitchen sink is a help when you have an odd bowl or pot to clean. Just dip a brush lightly into the jelly (keep it thin for kitchen use), and the piece will be clean in a jiffy without preparing a whole pan of suds.

Plan Community Orchestra For Residents of Pointe

A community orchestra is being organized for Grosse Pointe. It is believed to be the first of its kind in this community.

The purpose of the community orchestra is to provide an opportunity for Grosse Pointe residents to develop their musical ability and give public performances.

Any resident of the community may join this group and receive a thorough training, as well as recreational pleasure through group performance of the music of the great masters of the past, as well as modern and contemporary composers.

The community orchestra enterprise is being conducted under the auspices of the Vienna Conservatory of Grosse Pointe and the trustees thereof, who are: Albert J. Grundy, 325 McMillan, Grosse Pointe Farms; Howard J. Rose, 283 Mt. Vernon, Grosse Pointe Farms; Robert Bodycombe, 937 Nottingham, Grosse Pointe Park; Melvin S. Huffaker, 1288 Balfour, Grosse Pointe Park; and Carroll C. Grigsby, 832 Balfour, Grosse Pointe Park.

Two groups will be organized—a junior group for boys and girls up to the age of sixteen—and a senior group for men and women of any age.

Rehearsals will be held one night a week, which will be determined by the preference of the participants. The first rehearsal will be held Monday, March 1, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. in the Guild Room of the East Jefferson Presbyterian Church, Burns and Jefferson.

Players of all types of instruments are eligible, including violin, viola, cello, bass viol, all woodwinds, brass, percussion, and piano.

Michigan Consolidated Gas

thanks

Detroit Industry

The industrial plants of Detroit deserve the gratitude of everyone for their complete cooperation during the critical gas shortage. Industry recognized the necessity of keeping homes supplied with gas.

Rather than jeopardize the health and comfort of half a million families, plant after plant shut down to save gas. There was no hesitation.

Three great Detroit firms made contributions of unusual generosity. Great Lakes Steel Corporation and Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corporation dipped into their oil reserve to furnish us with hundreds of thousands of gallons, as the oil stocks for our manufacturing plants were rapidly decreasing. Ford Motor Company, from its own plant, pumped into our lines millions of cubic feet of much needed gas.

We publicly express our thanks to our valued customers, the industries, and their employees, who helped protect Detroit's homes from the hardships suffered recently by many in less fortunate cities. You gave us magnificent cooperation.

Gratefully,

Vernier Road Zoning Plan Given Airing

Petitioners Attend Spirited Meeting of Woods Planning Commissioner

There was a lively meeting of the Grosse Pointe Woods Planning Commission in the Village Council chambers on Monday night, Feb. 23, for consideration of a petition that had been presented to the council for changes in the zoning regulations for that part of Vernier road west of Mack to the Gratiot Township line.

The petition, which had 41 names attached to it, asked to have that area converted from Zone "B" into Zone "A" classification. The residents in that section want the area preserved strictly for single family dwelling house development.

Opposed to the proposal were the Vanderbush brothers who are large owners of real estate in that area, the Standard Oil Co., which probably has its eye on a service station development there and the Arthur J. Scully concern, extensive real estate operators and builders.

In addition to most of the signers of the petition about twenty other interested parties were present. They all seemed to be of one mind in wanting the street preserved for private dwellings.

The opponents of the petition proposed that the first 600 feet on Vernier be reserved for commercial development and the remainder be kept available for the multiple dwelling type of residences. This proposal is a far cry from the wishes of the petitioners. The entire road from Mack to the village line is now, under its present zoning classification available for both business places and dwellings.

Some of the opponents of the rezoning proposal were so insistent on keeping the plot open for both commercial and residential development that they hinted if the area should be restricted to single family houses only, they might sell their holdings to some other community for a public park site. This threat is understood to have come from the Vanderbush brothers.

No definite recommendation was decided upon by the Planning Commission and there is a prospect that the whole matter will be dropped in the lap of the Village Commission, in which event a public hearing of all the citizens of the village would have to be held before the zoning change could be adopted.

Wald H. McKnight, Chairman of the Planning Commission,

Conservatory to Present Student Recital Feb. 29

The Grosse Pointe Conservatory of Music, 15219 E. Jefferson avenue, will present the students of Miss Florence in a recital on Sunday, Feb. 29, at the Conservatory.

Among the students on the program are: Barbara Adair, Joan Dasef, Dorothy Dornbrock, Virginia Holbrook, Christine Hatch, Carol Ann Hoffman, John Mahoney, Maral Molyneux, Mary Jane Moran, Gwendolyn Pritchard, Mary Jane Saleda, John Salada, Antoinette Stabile, Maria Stabile, Virginia Catanese, Kathleen Mulligan and Mary Alice Naur, who will accompany them.

FOR BRIGHTER MACK

Push Candidacy Of Schweikart

A meeting of the out-county supervisors is scheduled to be held on March 4 at 6:30 p.m., at Colonial House, on Telegraph road north of Goddard.

It is no secret that the meeting is called to further the candidacy of Carl Schweikart for the chairmanship of the County Board of Supervisors this year. Mr. Schweikart at present is the representative of Grosse Pointe Township on the Board, and is also the secretary of the Out-County Supervisors' Association.

Under a rule adopted by the County Board of Supervisors some time ago the Board's chairman shall be selected at least once in every five years from among the members who are out-county, or not from Detroit.

This is the year in which this provision operates, and it is strongly rumored that Carl Schweikart is to be the next chairman of the County Board. Councilman Chester F. Carpenter, representing the City of Grosse Pointe, is the only other Grosse Pointe member on the County Board.

ACTIVE OZONE CREAM

Neglect a dry skin, and you invite that "years older" look. You tempt lines, and later wrinkles, and you encourage a noticeable scuffing of cuticle that simply won't take a smooth make-up. This dryness needs Active Ozone Cream, with its balance of moisture, oil and nascent oxygen, because this skin type, so fine and fragile, with proper care can be so beautiful.

Notice the exhilarating tingling as this cream starts to lubricate and soften that dry surface... to relieve that tense pull of dry skin... to awaken a flower dewiness to make others say, "How well you look!"

Grosse Exaggerations
 by A. PRYOR

"If I can stop one heart from breaking,
 I shall not live in vain.
 If I can ease one life the aching,
 Or cool one pain,
 Or help one fainting Robin
 Into his nest again
 I shall not live in vain."
 (Emily Dickinson)

There is a chapter on the radio, billed as "The Pagliacci of the Piano." We don't get it unless he's laughing on the outside and crying on the inside while playing his trade. Now, the "Caruso of the Piano," we could understand... but we wouldn't necessarily like it. Why are people and things forever basking in the reflected sunlight of someone else's glory? Remember all the flea bag hotels that called themselves the "Hotel Lindbergh" right after Lindy made his famous flight? A rose by any name would smell as bad, in their case.

Another irritation to us are the comments: "orchids to her" for a fancy deed, and "scallions to him" for a dirty trick. Undoubtedly Winchell (who first used these expressions) thought orchids were the top of everything and scallions the lowest form of life. That's okay if Winchell feels that way... but why do people who DON'T feel that way about orchids and scallions... keep using them descriptively? If we said Scandoso ought to be awarded a carload of hamburgers WITH onions... it would mean he or she had done something really noble... that's what WE think of hamburger and onions. Orchids? Phooey!

While sporting a mid-season cold, we seem to have acquired a Lenore Ulrich voice to go with it. When we telephoned a little mother the other day, her small fry (bless him) answered the phone. When we asked for his Ma, jnr said... "Just a minute... hold the line, BUDDY." Isn't "Buddy" the pet name usually applied to truck drivers?

Speaking of small fry... a woman told us that recently when she visited in the South, she gave the telephone number of her hosts to her nine-year-old son, telling him he might call her there but only if it was MOST important. On the afternoon of our heroine's arrival in the South, some friends of her hosts gave a cocktail party in her honor. She'd been at the party less than an hour, when she was summoned to the phone. It was the maid at her host's house... telling her she had had a long distance call from Detroit. A little boy, who said it was IMPORTANT he speak to her. The little mother was frantic. She rushed to her hostess, explained that she'd better go back to the house to call her son because it must be a vital matter and she'd like quiet and privacy for her conversation.

Her host drove her to the house at top speed and Madame promptly put in a call for Detroit. Very soon, she heard her pride and joy on the other end of the wire... telling her... SURE, he was fine. When she asked WHY he had called and what was so important, he advised her in a treble rush of words, that he had told his teacher he would show his stamp collection in the hobby show they were having at school; but now he decided he would rather show his butterfly collection, and did she (his mother) think it was too late to tell the teacher he had changed his mind! (The show was at least two weeks off.) Ma told us it was a good thing for all concerned that her host was standing within earshot... after all, one must remember to be a lady under ANY circumstances!

That man in our life gave us one of those little radios that wakes you up in the morning. It's the doggonest contraption we've seen in many moons. You set it at night (alarm-like) and wake up to the strains of Big Fat Polka... or the latest wax news... or the Irish-say patty-pig patter of Warren Michael Kelly, which is far better than a bell in your ear any day. Besides all this glamour (in a box no larger than a package of Dux)... there is a large dial electric clock staring you in the face... and it all works!

A friend of ours overheard a conversation between two women while waiting for a bus downtown... and what she pieced together from what she heard, we find most amusing. The first woman had been standing at the bus stop when the second came along. They greeted each other... then the first woman said she was on her way to her lawyers to make out a will. They talked for a few minutes about the advisability of people making out wills etc., etc., etc., then the first woman said, "By the way, you've admired that old chest we have in the hall... would you like it? I mean... I'd leave it to you in my will, that is." The second woman seemed taken aback... and stammered the usual things people say when they receive such offers.

Apparently she overcame her embarrassment because she said of course she'd love to have the chest. The will-maker then went on to ask her friend if there was anything ELSE she thought she might like left to her. The last our informant saw was the first woman whipping a small pad and pencil from her purse... and very obviously making a list of the things her friend wanted... as the latter... warning to the subject... enumerated them one by one to be recorded in the will!

There is a little queer." The humble sideline citizen is going to have his best fun right after the election. The smart boys will rush to the front to tell just how it all happened.

In the old days the Kansars grasshopper was a reliable backcaster but he seems to have degenerated in recent years. Maybe soon after Nov. 2 we will learn that the fog was too thick over San Francisco Bay on election morning or Johnny Lewis's daughter-secretary was too fat and the CIO wouldn't dance with her.

The air will be cluttered up with perfectly obvious reasons, and, how dumb we were not to have beaten the post election experts to the punch?

Yes, the election uproar is going to be a lot of fun.—But a nice thing about this American people is that the day after election their "inherent strength, majesty, wisdom and glory" will have asserted itself again. Everybody will pay their bets, hoist another drink for old time's sake and rush off to punch the time clock.

But the best bet now, on which collection is sure, is that their composite judgment will, in the long run, prove to have been correct.

Washington

America celebrated on February 22 the two hundred and sixteenth birthday of the great man who will remain forever its First Citizen.

When the descendants of the Sulgrave Manor family in England came to the Virginia colony in its early days, little could they have dreamed that a son of theirs would be the chief instrument in carving out of the wilderness of the Western World an empire to be unrivaled in the annals of all history in its wealth, power and influence, and which now, only a hundred and forty-eight years after his death, has bested the acknowledged moral leader among the world's states.

Almost since the moment of his death at Mount Vernon only seventeen days before the end of the eighteenth century, he has been venerated as the Father of His Country. It may well be that when the great political and social changes now in progress throughout the world become stabilized he will be recognized throughout the earth as the great protagonist of human liberty for all men.

It is a fitting moment for Americans to renew their study of Washington, the role he played in our creation as a sovereign nation and the principles he laid down for its progress.

Talley Rant
 by Helen Talley

NEW YORK is full of people who know more ways to skin a cat and spin a dollar than any other place I have heard of. Recently, after some mention of my name in the papers, I had an early morning postal. It was from a man named HAROLD FALLER and he said he had written a poem about me and was prepared to deliver same upon receipt of one dollar. He said it was about my activities and was written "in the joyous manner." He also added that before he became a MAIL-ORDER POET LAUREATE, he had been a SMOKE OBSERVER for the Edison Co. With those qualifications, HAROLD'S dollar was a cinch for me.

I must mention also, that HAROLD has beat his brains out for such solid customers as MERCK & CO, LEBANON REPUBLIC, IMPERIAL PEARL SYNDICATE, NATIONAL CASH REGISTER, LUM FONGS RESTAURANT, STEAM SHOVELS CORP., and JEROME ZERBE. In the "joyous manner," that is. Below is my personal poem—and if you don't think it is a lot for a dollar, you've got something. I have HAROLD'S address, and it is yours with no threads attached, in case you, too, wish to be embroiled for posterity. Cover your eyes now, and jump!

"While there are all kinds of perfect hostesses in this burg, very few can match, MRS. TRUMAN TALLEY, in the technique of the junction of the KAFFEE KLATCHE. Yes sree and yes ma'am, her KAFFEE KLATCHES are superb and never wilt, And are usually built around such personalities as tenor MIKE BARTLETT and MRS. CORNELIUS VANDERBILT. Very blithely, MRS. TALLEY swiftly catches, the real essence inherent in KAFFEE KLATCHES. SOCIALITES in the know, love to sally, to these affairs of MRS TALLEY. They bloom—indeed they do, Around the glass of fragrant brew."

Thank you, HAROLD, I never got a better laugh for a dollar.

I see by the GROSSE POINTE NEWS that there are plans for a MEMORIAL LIBRARY in your town. If you don't mind my getting into the discussion, I should like to say that it seems like a serious and important piece of news. Anything to do with libraries ties up with our school system and anything we can do to better those, is a worthwhile piece of business. Russia spends six times as much on her public schools as we do, and Great Britain, twice our amount. Our illiteracy, as we found out in the last war statistics, is a flaming disgrace. We spend 6% of our national income on liquor and tobacco—and 2% on our schools. Delaware, (at the top of the list), spends $219 per pupil, per year. Michigan, (7th), spends $98, and New York, (12th), spends $82. GROSSE POINTE has a wonderful idea. Spread the word or close the schools.

The SOCIETY OF ILLUSTRATORS puts on a show for a group of hand picked guests every year. Some show! The ARTISTS sing and act and their beautiful models show their beauty. I was invited to the preview. The show is given at their clubhouse and on two nights after the preview, the ILLUSTRATORS give it again—at 30 dollars a seat. Among the well known ILLUSTRATORS at the preview were AL DORN, AL STALEY who does BUTCH, OTTO SOGLOW (THE LITTLE KING), FRED HARMS (RED RIDER), ALEX ROSS, who does the Cosmopolitan covers, BETTY BETZ, ARTHUR WILLIAM BROWN and RUSSELL PATTERSON.

FRED WARING—the lucky WARING MIXER orchestra leader, was sitting beside me at the show. He mentioned hearing about the RANT and said, "GROSSE POINTE is a big name in my life." In 1922, he was attending PENN STATE. His college band went over to play at the J-Hop at the U. of MICH. Through the interest of TRUMAN NEWBERRY, EDELSE FORD and FRED STEARNS, the band was asked to play at the G. P. Country Club. The night at the Grosse Pointe County Club decided the future of the boys in the band—they never went back to college. There is a tag line—FRED is now a trustee of PENN STATE.

FIELD FIRES AGAIN
 It does not take long for the chronic field fire nuisance to make its appearance in the Pointe after the first thaw. The first such fire was reported at a lot next to 851 Washington road on Monday afternoon. It was extinguished by the small truck crew of the city station.

Letterbox

I read the complaint of Chas T. Hubbell in your paper of this date regarding interference with Radio Reception.

I have had this for months every night between 10 p.m. and 11 p.m. and particularly bad between 10:30 and 11 p.m. I reported this to the Radio Stations and only one took the trouble to reply, stating they had referred the matter to the Federal Communications Commission in Detroit. I got a letter from them so silly it made me laugh, asking if I knew the Ham station from which this interference came, as I stated that I thought it might be a Ham station. I replied that not having any detecting apparatus it was impossible for me to know and if I did I would not have bothered them but would have gone after it myself.

Both programs and advertisers are taking a beating unless this is stopped, for it matters not which station is tuned in, this interference persists.

When it first started it was on Sunday nights only, but now it is every night. I do not believe it is on any Edison power line for it is the same time every night, indicating a short wave station. It seems to me if on an Edison line, it would be day and night and not on the same schedule nightly.

I hope something can be done to eliminate this and I am glad to know it is not just my two radios that pick it up. The Radio detectives have gone to sleep on the job. I recall when Radio Stations went after interference it did not take long to locate it. An amateur radio was reported once before for interference out here and it let up for awhile, but resumed before long.

Gentlemen: Please find a check in renewal of our subscription to the Grosse Pointe News.

I may still be remembered in Speech and English and director of the Pointe Players at Grosse Pointe High School until the fall of 1943 when I went to McMurray College at Jacksonville, Illinois, as assistant professor of Speech.

We still find the Grosse Pointe News interesting and are enabled to keep up with the progress, matrimonially and otherwise of many of the students both Mrs. Horton and I had during our residence at Grosse Pointe.

Cordially,
 DONALD H. HORTON.

YOUNGSTER BITTEN
 Helen Kutsch, aged 7, of 3488 Buckingham, Detroit, was playing with some little friends on the St. Clare School grounds on Feb. 19 when she was bitten by a dog. The case was reported to the Park police by the Detroit police of the 15th precinct, where Helen lives.

Rotarians Told How State Operates Liquor Business

G. Mennen Williams, of Hillcrest road, Grosse Pointe Farms, one of the three State Liquor Control Commissioners gave a most interesting and informing talk before the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club at its meeting in the Whittier on Monday noon, Feb. 23, on the operations of the Liquor Control Board.

He stated that the work of this body should be of vast interest to the citizens of Michigan as it represented a business conducted wholly in their interest which aggregates approximately a gross of $125,000,000 annually.

Out of this came direct profits to the State of about $40,000,000 yearly, divided roughly between $20,000,000 profits from the sale of liquor and another $20,000,000 from licenses.

The work of the Commission is divided into seven major departments. These are Stores Operations, Enforcement, Licensing, Violations, Finance, Purchasing and Personnel.

The violations department passes upon about 1200 cases every year, in which 900 convictions are found.

In former times the three Communicable Disease Cases Drop in State

The number of communicable disease cases reported to the Michigan Department of Health dropped from 140,087 in 1946 to 100,773 in 1947.

The decrease is largely attributable to the drop from 42,261 to 9,893 in measles cases. Measles was epidemic in 1946. Another epidemic of the disease is appearing at the present time.

Syphilis and gonorrhea, while they were declining after wartime peak, led all other major communicable diseases in 1947. Whooping cough, a disease preventable through immunization, was in third place. Measles which led all major communicable diseases in 1946 was in fourth place.

The Winter's Street Ravages

The present winter has been particularly hard on the streets in Grosse Pointe. The thaw which occurred last week glaringly exposed the surface ruptures and pot-holes. As long as the street surfaces were covered with ice due to the accumulation of snow for almost six weeks, the road surface inequalities were endured with the best grace possible by the driving public, but the disappearance of the snow and ice has exposed abominable road surface conditions that will be accepted with less good nature.

A drive through the Pointe along Jefferson avenue, our main throughfare between Woodward avenue and the Pointe, is a spring-breaking, tire-blowing hazard. This street and any other that are equally bad should be repaired the moment the weather conditions permit.

In the case of Jefferson street it is not enough to fall back on the excuse that this street belongs to the County and that the avenue is to be widened some day and a modern, high grade pavement laid. It may be a very long time before this improvement is attempted, but meanwhile the people of Grosse Pointe must continue to use Jefferson avenue. The winter's ravages should be repaired quickly and this should be impressed on the County road authorities in earnest language.

Grosse Pointe is an important part of Wayne County. It undoubtedly pays a larger per capita county tax than any other section of the county. The municipalities out here should unite in driving home an argument for proper street repairs, and maintenance which the County authorities could not ignore.

The streets that are not county highways should have the early attention of our local authorities. Commendable progress in paving work has been done by the local communities since the end of the war. Grosse Pointe City in particular has spent a large sum of money on its streets, but regardless of this, all of the Pointe communities should make ready to start repairs as early as possible.

The Food Handlers

The authorities in charge of the X-Ray examinations for tuberculosis now underway in the Pointe are complaining of the lack of cooperation given the work by the employers of food handlers.

If there is any single element in the community which should quickly and willingly subject themselves to this examination it is that group which handles food. They are under a dual responsibility; not only to discover threats to their own physical wellbeing but to safeguard those whom they serve.

Much stress has been laid on the periodic examinations of food handlers. The X-Ray test now in progress is of infinitely more importance for the public protection. Every employer of such help should awake at once to the importance of backing up the X-Ray campaign by issuing binding directions to his help to take this free test.

Refusal of employees to do so should be regarded as complete proof of his or her inability to handle the food of the community.

The Political Maintop

One of the most interesting but least informing pastimes open to the average American today is to view the political scene as dished up to him by the statesmen, the near statesmen and the confessedly frank politicians who wish to serve the state wholly for their own good. Along with these come the dopesters of every political and economic shade from the heavyweights to the thightly veneered imbeciles.

On one thing they all agree; "the situation this year is most confused." That's a sure fire line in speech, newspaper editorial or with every radio know-it-all disher-outer. This isn't particularly informing but it's at least true and about the only thing on the national political horizon that is wholly true and on which we're all agreed.

Every patient reader or listener is certain to hear something that suits him fine; as well as something that makes him want to throw Aunt Mamie on a red hot stove.

There used to be a time when the major political parties were rather reliable vehicles for the conveyance to the public mind of a more or less clear set of policies and principles which the public was asked to incorporate in the coming government, but that simple and old-fashioned day has long since passed.

The present is the era of the Great Straddle. Every expression from every public speaker is shot through and through with conditions and exceptions until the speaker himself doesn't know what he is talking about, much less the fact-hungry public.

"We must have government control" but—"that Free American Enterprise by and through which we became great must be preserved."

"The Marshall Plan is probably necessary," but, "by the Great Lord Harry! not a dollar of American money must be spent on those fools in Europe which is going to add to the burden which is now breaking the backs of the American working man."

Lord, Give us a Leader!
 Give us a Man who will have the courage to nail his program to the masthead and sink or swim by it. Never has the country more needed such and never has this species been so conspicuous by its absence.

 HANDFIRE COAL BURNING FURNACES

WHY SMOKE?

THE PUBLICATION ILLUSTRATED has been prepared by the Detroit Public Schools, in conjunction with the Detroit City Bureau of Smoke Abatement, for distribution to school children as a part of the city program for smoke abatement. It represents one of the many activities of Detroit schools in "practical" education—that is, in the routine responsibilities of daily life which they will soon have to assume.

In line with its policy of enthusiastic and complete cooperation with city authorities in the abatement of air pollution, COAL HEATING SERVICE OF GREATER DETROIT calls your attention to this publication, and congratulates all concerned on its excellence and usefulness. It is a simple and graphic instruction folder for correct firing of hand-fired furnaces in a format especially designed for constant reference.

Not only every school-child, but every coal user should be in possession of this valuable publication. If you have a child of school age, he or she will probably bring his copy home. If not, ask your local coal retailer to obtain one for you. COAL HEATING SERVICE OF GREATER DETROIT has made special arrangements with the Detroit City Bureau of Smoke Abatement to obtain a sufficient number of copies for such distribution.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary

Mary Madison

The gay young Girl Reporter is sitting in the lounge of the Club, where she has her first assignment to meet the public relations man, attached to the celebrated British Author.

She is tapping her newest and sheerest nylons impatiently, with one eye on the sweep hand of her watch. In the zippered section of her wallet is her Journalism Award, her new Press Card and the photo of the lucky, lucky young man she has "given up" to go careering and careening through the labyrinthine lanes of literature. At least, that's how she thinks of it.

How could anyone — unless maybe Truman delayed on a plane—keep her waiting? Of course, unless you've been a gay young Girl Reporter yourself, you can scarcely realize how loom to a first assignment can loom to an assignment. In a nice way, match.

The Girl Reporter stands up as a tall, nervous, hollow-cheeked young man approaches her divan. She bounces quickly back on the cushions, recalling that she is still a lady as well as a newspaperman.

"So sorry, and all that sort of thing about keeping you waiting," says the Nervous Young Man.

"Not at all," she answers briskly. "But shall we jump right into it? I have an edition to make."

"Jump right into what?" he asks.

"Why the handout. The old quiz biz. What's the dope on this alleged dramatist?"

The Nervous Young Man clears his throat. "I'm really no good at answering questions. Let me ask a few. What do you think about him?"

"Me? I never think about him at all," she retorts.

"Have you seen the play, 'Reap the Whirlwind'?" If you've seen it you must have some viewpoint about the author."

"Well," sighs the Girl Reporter, "I haven't seen it. But a friend of mine has a kid sister in Spence, and she went to it one sad Saturday on passes. She says it smells—"

"Smells?" he asks, Baffled and British.

"Smells," she repeats. You know, just smells."

"Of what?" comes the B and B question.

"Just smells."

"I never can catch your quaint colloquialisms. I gather the young lady didn't like the play?"

"She says it's as slow a drip as the last trickle from a syrup bottle—and just as corny."

"Corny?" he is being B and B again.

"You know. Hammy. Whacy. Small time. In a word—Mouldy."

"Oh, I see. Or do I?" The Nervous Young Man gives a chuckle that winds up in a wan death rattle.

"She says," goes on the Girl Reporter, "that it's one of these arty-smarty pieces that no one, not even the actors or author know what it's all about."

"Not really? Surely the author must know—"

"What burns me up and knocks me cold," she rushes on, "is that these Britishers can come over and get six-sixty or eight-eighty for some old turkey that smells like the subway-circuit company of Tobacco Road. Of all the international nerve—"

"You're a very outspoken young woman," observes the lad from London.

"I'm the candid kid, herself. I'm the new generation of reporters. I'm out to strip-tease the truth and stop kidding kidders. The author of 'Reap the Whirlwind' is just out to hypnotize a lot of Town Hall Hoppers."

"Well really," says the Britisher, "you must be pulling my leg."

It was the Girl Reporter's turn to be baffled but un-British.

"Pulling my leg? It that a gag?"

"Just an old Anglo-Saxon anachronism. By the way, you wouldn't care to have tea with this alleged author?"

The Girl Reporter consulted the sweep hand of her watch once more.

"I you mean tea, no. If you mean cocktails, yes. I can beat out a few lines on him, if you'll give me a glossy pie to go with it."

"Glossy pie?" He gives an elevated eyebrow.

"Photograph of the well publicized puss of the author." She translated with a shrug. You must have one in that portfolio."

"Why, so I have. So I have!"

The nervous, hollow-cheeked young man dips into his portfolio and brings out a photograph. A photograph of the author, handing it with a knowing smile to the Girl Reporter.

"But — but this is a picture of—"

"But it's YOU—I thought you were just his press agent."

"Alas—I'm the poor alleged author himself. Shall I autograph it for you?"

The dead thud of a falling body on the floor was the fainting form of the gay young Girl Reporter.

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

While we, fretfully, rub hand lotion on wind-chapped peedies, much of the personnel of the Social Secretary . . . is moving right out of town . . . until Spring is definite . . . Mrs. Carsten Tiedeman is leaving their Kenwood road home this week-end . . . leaving for their winter home at Sea Island, Ga. . . And the Tiedeman belles . . . will join their parents at Easter time . . . The belles being the beautiful Sara . . . lovely Nelle . . . and charming Mary . . .

NASSAU BOUND

And it's no less than Nassau . . . For Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Trix of East Jefferson avenue . . . Theirs, too, will be a this week-end leave-taking . . .

SECOND THE MOTION

Everyone who knows Sir Herbert is well aware of his many charming qualities . . . not the least of which is a boyish modesty especially appealing . . .

So everyone enjoyed it THAT much more . . . when he arrived at a meeting late the other afternoon . . . took a seat quietly, and then in a spirit of helpfulness seconded the motion in question . . .

He had arrived a split minute after the motion itself was made . . . and a great uproar arose when Mr. Trix made his helpful second . . .

He had seconded his own election to a board of governors . . .

NEW YORK GOSSIP

Much domestic rumbling along the Pointe's horizons according to the out-of-town press . . .

New York's Cholly Knickerbocker . . . vacationing in Palm Beach . . . was quick to report:

"Peggy Seyburn McIlvain, heiress to Dodge millions through her mother, and John Breganza, American descendant of the royal family of Portugal, are together in Sun Valley, Idaho, apparently to enjoy the winter sports. But the real reason is that she's there to divorce Eddie McIlvain—and later marry John."

Which would be much nicer if it meant that the dashing Peggy would return to the Pointe to make her home . . .

TATTLE TALES

And along the same lines . . . The publicity departments of two smart New York hostesses DIDN'T know what they were doing . . .

When . . . on the same date . . . each reported the presence of ONE member of a Lake Shore family visiting in Manhattan . . . but very apparently NOT together . . .

And it wasn't so very long ago . . . that the wedding bells rang out . . .

THE COUNTING GAME

In New York . . . The newest rage is the counting game (according to Vogue) . . . Your guests sit in a circle and start counting . . . 1, 2, 33, etc., and the object is not to say "three" . . . or multiple of three . . . or a number with three in it (like 23) . . .

Instead, when one of these numbers comes up . . . you clap your hands . . .

But if you're a little dummy . . . and make the mistake of saying three or a multiple of three . . . you have to pay up the agreed forfeit (a dime, a dollar, etc.) . . .

The winner, of course, is the least penalized player . . . This game is good, if for nothing else . . . than to make more welcome the drinks Oswald serves . . .

CHICAGO VISITORS

There are a great number of places for short week-ends Grosse Pointes favor in the Wintertime . . .

The Alvan Macaulays junior . . . are inveterate ski fans . . . and Otsego is usually their goal as long as the snow holds out . . . This past week-end . . . they were joined for winter sports at Otsego . . .

By their guests . . . Mr. and Mrs. Paul Magnuson . . . of Chicago . . .

METAMORA WEEK-END

On the other hand . . . the James J. Phelan junior family . . . Choose Metamora . . . Winter AND Summer . . . They spent the past week-end at their country home there . . .

A gown of ivory brocaded satin was Gloria Marion Cook's choice for her recent marriage to Gordon F. Schultz at a double ring ceremony in St. Catherine's Chapel. Mr. and Mrs. C. William Sullivan, of Lincoln road, are the bride's parents. Mr. Schultz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schultz, of Upsala, Minn.

The wedding gown had a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a circular train. The bride wore her mother's veil of illusion, fingertip length, with a Dutch cap of lace and seed pearls. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses and gardenias.

Maid of honor JoAnne Cook, sister of the bride, was gowned in American Beauty velvet with fitted bodice, long full skirt and bustle. Mrs. Jack Donahue, the bride's aunt, was bridesmaid. She wore a lime green velvet gown.

Wearing halo hats of velvet which matched their gowns, the two attendants carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations. Flower girl Kathleen Edwards wore a floor length pink velvet gown with matching bonnet.

Charles Strand performed the duties of best man. Elmer and Arthur Jennings, uncles of the bride, were ushers.

After a wedding breakfast for the immediate families, a reception was held. The couple will continue their studies at Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

Pointers Help Club Celebrate Birthday

Bridge Luncheon for Women and Stag Party for Men Held To Observe 109th Anniversary of Detroit Boat Club

The Detroit Boat Club celebrated its 109th anniversary last week with two birthday parties at which Pointers were well represented. A birthday cake five feet tall was the center of attraction at both the bridge luncheon for the women and the stag dinner in the evening.

Chairman of the affair was Mrs. Wilbur Landis, who was assisted by Mrs. Ray J. Laude, Mrs. Russel Welchli, Mrs. Clarence Osborne, Mrs. Harry Hosmer, Mrs. Roger Siddeli, and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie. Mrs. David Dunlop spoke on "Flower Arrangement in the Home," accompanying her talk with a demonstration of spring flowers in novel arrangements.

Mrs. Karl Behr and Mrs. John Denier handled publicity arrangements. Mrs. Denier's house guest, Mrs. John Campbell Cunningham of Sterlingshire, Scotland, accompanied her.

Mrs. John Brabson, newly elected chairman of women's activities at the Boat Club, invited nine guests, Mrs. Buell Doelle, wife of the president of the club; Mrs. Roy E. DeHart, Mrs. Frank Wilton, Mrs. Harry M. Sisson, Mrs. C. Stewart Baxter, Mrs. Taylor H. Seeber, Mrs. Clarence B. Swift, Mrs. Theodore, and Mrs. J. C. Hurley.

Other foursomes were: Mrs. Burns Cody, Mrs. Herbert E. Cook, Mrs. John Frederick, and Mrs. Edgar A. Guest, Jr.; Mrs. John Hanna, Mrs. Walter Gehrke, Mrs. H. L. Stanton, and Mrs. Donald Campbell.

Mrs. Myron Bloy invited as her guests, Mrs. Alfred F. Taylor, Mrs. John McHaffie, and Mrs. Nathaniel Morang. Mrs. Al Massnick was joined by Mrs. A. J. Wettlaufer, Mrs. Glenn Massnick, and Mrs. Edward Isbey.

Guests of Mrs. E. C. Balch were Mrs. M. M. Kalbfleisch, Mrs. Henry George, Mrs. Clement Freund, and Mrs. Frank Horton. Another bridge foursome consisted of Mrs. Jack Osgood, Mrs. Byron C. Schram, Mrs. Roy C. Jenkins and Mrs. Don W. Miller.

Honored at Tea

MISS MARION KARLHOLM was the honor guest at a tea and miscellaneous shower given on Sunday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sheppard of McMillan road. The lace-covered tea table was decorated with spring flowers. Assisting Mrs. Sheppard were Mrs. Theodore Schettler, Mrs. R. Dion and Mrs. Richard Carter.

Miss Karlholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nils G. Karlholm of the Wardell-Sheraton, will be married on Saturday, Feb. 28, to Charles C. Schettler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schettler.

The ceremony will be held in the Bethel Evangelical Church and will be followed by a reception in the Sheraton. Following a brief honeymoon the young couple will live in Detroit.

Good intentions need two legs to get anywhere.

Christine Clark Has First Party

An opportunity afforded few babies, was Christine Clark's Saturday afternoon when she entertained at a party in honor of her first birthday. The guest of honor's mother, Mrs. William Petzold Clark, took over the entertainment reins for her daughter.

Invited were: Mrs. John Welker with Bruce and Stephen; Mrs. Edwin R. Stroth, Jr. and Linda; Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy, Jr. and Marilyn; Mrs. James Scripps III and Ann. Bobby Posselius was escorted by her nurse, since her mother, Mrs. John Posselius, is visiting relatives in Los Angeles.

The party was held on Devonshire road, where the Clarks with son Billy and daughter Christine are stopping with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Wall. The Clark family, after selling their home in Manhasset, L. I., are seeking one in Grosse Pointe.

Hill Billy Ride Staged at Club

Juniors of the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club staged something in the way of a novelty ride this week when they put on their hill billy ride in costume with the seniors taking a peek from behind the plate-glassed comfort of the spectators' pavilion.

Stage-managing the party was Geri Rounds, unable to participate in the ride because of an injury which has kept her in a cast for several weeks after a spill from her horse.

Hunt club juniors pay less attention to spurs like those than some of their elders. The current crop is exceptional and probably due to the law of averages catching up with the number of hours the youngsters put in schooling their horses for the show.

Among those spark-plugging the hill-billy ride were Jack Wideman and Sue Carson, Barbara Bull, Winkle Booth, Sue Essington, Nancy Ruedemann, Sue Spurrier, Dick Fruehauf, Mary Mulford, Janet Allen, Peggy Hatch, Carroll Stewart, Judy McKiel, Gloria Roberts, Joyce Mulkey, Sue Cruikshank and Janice Vance.

Engaged to Pointer

The engagement of JANE GRUNDMANN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grundmann of Washburn avenue, to Louis W. Charvat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Charvat of Yorkshire road, has been announced with the wedding scheduled for June. The bride-elect was graduated from Wayne University, where she was a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha. The bridegroom-elect is a senior at Michigan State College, where he is affiliated with Pi Alpha Xi, national floriculture honorary fraternity. He served for three and a half years in the AAAF.

Cocktail Party Given by Fords

The junior Frederick S. Fords, of Balfour road, entertained at an informal cocktail party Saturday in honor of Mrs. Ford's sister, Dede Brier, who has returned to Detroit.

The Frank Crums hosted a cocktail and supper party Saturday evening, and a luncheon and cocktail party was given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Jerome H. Reunick, Jr., of Vendome Road.

League's Drive Reports Heard

Captains of the general solicitation divisions of the Detroit League for Planned Parenthood fund-raising drive, met Friday at a progress report luncheon held in the League's offices at 700 Park Avenue Building.

Mrs. William A. Walker, board member who is general chairman of this section of the campaign, and her board assistants, Mrs. Harley J. Earl and Mrs. John Garinghouse, were in charge of the meeting.

The campaign, which opened on Monday, February 9 with a luncheon at the Book-Cadillac Hotel, is headed by Mrs. Henry Ford, as honorary chairman.

Record Turnout At Club Meeting

Mrs. Harley J. Earl opened her home in Touraine road Monday to a meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe.

Roy W. Gifford, chairman of Borg-Warner Corp. and chairman of the Foreign Policy Commission of Detroit Board of Commerce, addressed the meeting.

Gifford, who spoke at the Senate hearings on the Marshall Plan recently in Washington, presented the 14-point policy statement suggesting that the Plan's administration be handled by men of wide industrial and economic experience.

The heralded visit of Senator Robert Taft attracted one of the largest attendances in the history of the club. It was estimated that more than 300 turned out.

The regular meeting was held at 2 p.m. with Mr. Gifford's address following. Senator Taft arrived shortly after 4:30 p.m. He outlined what the Republicans in Congress are trying to achieve and what they have already accomplished.

As for the Marshall Plan, he said that help for the rest of the world was absolutely necessary, but that it is also vital that whatever funds are spent for this purpose be supervised in a most business-like manner.

Our theories of life are most often exploded by actual stories of people.

Doris Jeanne Brooks Weds Gordon Hassig

Announcements of weddings and plans for coming nuptials continue to hold top place on Grosse Pointe's social schedule. A recent wedding of interest to Pointers was that of Doris Jeanne Brooks and Gordon Lewis Hassig at Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church. Doris is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Coleman Brooks, of Nottingham road.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Walter Hassig.

Given in marriage by her brother, Henry C. Brooks, III, Doris wore traditional white satin and carried a miff white orchids.

Mrs. William H. Henry, matron of honor, chose a faulle gown of raspberry hue. Her arm bouquet was of iris and pink carnations. The best man was a brother of the bridegroom, Dr. Walter Hassig.

A reception followed at the home of the bride.

Audio-Visual Program Held At Meeting of Richard PTA

With one of the largest audiences of the year in attendance, Richard School had a very successful and especially instructive and informative PTA meeting on February 11. About 300 persons visited the classrooms and nearly 200 stayed for the auditorium program, which was under the general direction of Mr. Newberry, the president.

In view of the approaching date when the x-ray mobile unit will be at the school, a film on the subject of tuberculosis was presented. Mrs. Lang of the Grosse Pointe Board of Health spoke. Mrs. Purdy, the program chairman, introduced Miss Norris, the director of the audio-visual program for the school. She pointed out the various types of audio-visual aids in use in the school to carry on the instructional program. Among some of these aids are: pictures, posters, museum materials, lantern slides, still and sound motion picture film, film strips and film slides. In the display cases in the halls and on tables in back of the auditorium were displays of representative materials used to facilitate the instructional program.

Mrs. Arends, kindergarten teacher, demonstrated some of the materials used with the little folks. On rolls of paper attached to wooden spindles the five year olds enjoy making up pictures of some of their favorite stories. Then the roll is put into a box and by the process of turning the spindles the story, pictured and written up by the children, appears like a miniature movie to the observer. The little folks also make on lantern slides the pictures of their favorite story characters to be projected on the screen.

Principal Messner demonstrated the combined use of both lantern slides and music records for the purpose of making more dynamic the teaching of nature study to children of all age levels. For the recordings he used the Brand bird songs, which is a collection of 72 bird songs taken from the field. For the lantern slides he used a collection of bird slides which is owned by the Richard School. By presenting the lantern slide at the same time the bird pictured is heard on the record.

Miss Blank used sound colored film to demonstrate the use of such media for enriching the program of instruction for the middle grade pupil. The subject of the film was the "Dairy Farm", and it was obtained from the Detroit Dairy and Food Council. Units on the dairy farm are commonly used in several grades in the school, and for the pupils to be able to see on the screen a dairy farm in action is next best to visiting the farm itself.

Mr. Hammel showed the use that upper grade science teachers might make of a film strip titled, "Ancient Animals". This is a colored film strip showing the development of animal life on the earth. It is particularly appropriate for units in upper grade science. He showed the parents how the film would aid in teaching this particular unit and noted the kinds of questions he would ask of the pupils in order to clarify their learnings.

Miss Norris presented an adult film, a March of Time titled, "The American Teacher". It made comparisons between the education of long ago and the present. The audience participated in the social hour under the direction of Mrs. Lippincott.

JOB OF A FIREMAN

Smoke and fumes arising from the burning out of a motor which operated the blower at 1236 Three Mile drive at 3 o'clock a.m., on Feb. 20 brought out the Park firemen. The motor was the only thing damaged.

1200 Adults Attend Class Weekly in Pointe Schools

By DONNA LEE DAVENPORT

Elementary school children and teen-agers are not the only students attending public schools in Grosse Pointe.

More than 1,200 adults attend daytime and evening classes each week in seven of the ten Grosse Pointe public school buildings.

The adult activities program includes classes of all types. Adults are able to augment their diversified interests in such classes as bridge, millinery, conversational Spanish, typing, child-parent relationships, photography, jewelry, tailoring, machine shop, oil painting, slip-covering, and cooking.

Other courses include: water colors, dramatics, ballroom and old-fashioned dancing, music appreciation, wood shop, gym, swimming, lampshade making, practical speech, chorus, fly casting, flower arrangement, badminton, fly tying, shorthand, and tennis.

Each class meets one period each week. Enrollments range from 12 to 85 adults, and many of the classes are split into several sections. The length of class term varies from four to twenty weeks.

Residents of the community make use of all the facilities at the different public schools.

The woodshop class, for instance, offers its students a chance to use the complete wood-working apparatus available in the Industrial Arts Building of the high school. Classes make everything from bird houses to end tables and bookcases.

Courses dealing with home-making are the most popular with the women.

Those desiring to keep up with the latest fashions attend tailoring and millinery classes. During these class meetings, each week, the sewing machines and the mirrored fitting rooms are busily occupied.

Cooking is also popular with the women. Here they learn the points of the culinary art while using the modern, well-equipped, individual kitchens in the household arts departments.

Another offering which attracts a large enrollment is the jewelry class. The facilities of the Industrial Arts Building are used. Members of the class make pins, rings, bracelets, ear rings and necklaces of silver.

The conversational Spanish class has the largest enrollment of all the classes. Its enrollment is 85, almost evenly divided as to men and women.

Men enter the recreational classes in largest numbers. These include the shop classes, gym, swimming, badminton, chorus, fly casting, tennis instruction, and fly tying.

Two other classes enjoyed by both men and women are ballroom and old-fashioned dancing. In these classes instruction is given in the rumba, waltz, conga, fox-trot, and square dances.

Contract bridge class is also attended by many adults. They are taught bidding, scoring, and other fine points of the game. Commercial subjects such as typing, shorthand, and book-keeping enable many people to increase their skills.

Amateur photographers use the dark rooms and the equipment to develop, enlarge, and print their pictures. They are also instructed in setting, posing, lighting, and special effects.

The oil painting and water color classes use the art rooms of the high school Industrial Arts Building. There the classes learn new methods of color blending, shadows, stroke techniques, and design.

Instructors for the classes number over 50. They include business men and women, college extension workers, day-school teachers, housewives, and specialists.

The adult activities program is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education as a service to the community. It is the Board's desire that as many adults as possible will make use of the school facilities throughout the year.

If activities not now offered are desired, contact the Department of Community Service of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and every effort will be made to see that such activities are provided.

Woods Actors To Give Plays

Promptly at 8:30 p. m. both Thursday, March 4, and Saturday, March 6, the curtain at the Grosse Pointe High School auditorium will rise on the second production of three one-act plays by the Grosse Pointe Woods Players under the direction of M. Haythorn Bambas.

Since this growing group of Amateur Players is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Adult Education Program, no admission fee will be charged; no ticket or special invitation is required.

The plays differ greatly. "Mrs. Harper's Bazaar" by Babette Hughes, is a satirical character play produced through special arrangement with the Dramatists Play Service, Inc. Anne Apple, Maybelle Bombard, Beatrice Cook, Norma Cheatham, Cardelia Diers, Joan Hall, Marjorie Horn, and Wilma Iler present various character studies of women who experience divers problems with a movie star, the statue of a mule, several fur pieces, and a stage actress.

"Elizabeth's Young Man" by Louise Seymour Hasbrauck is a quaint, cameo-like farce involving much dramatic irony. The characters are portrayed by Helen and Reginald Howe, by Doris De Witt, and Myrtle Daugherty.

"Rumors Wanted" is a typical small town comedy by Jay Tobias. Opal McCrury plays the self-styled invalid Aggie Spratt. Her husband, invalid doctor, and friends of the family who scheme to cure her are variously handled by Howard Reece, Allan Rae Wilson, Jacqueline McCrury, Wesley Wietoff, Maybelle Bombard, Philena Davis, Dolores Edwards, and Joan Hall.

The Players will begin open readings for the late spring production on March 11. For further information, please call the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Niagara 2000, Extension 25.

LIGHT POLE KNOCKED DOWN
Mrs. John Owens of 188 Stephenson road reported to the Farms police that a light pole was broken in front of her house on the night of Feb. 19. Automobile tracks showed someone had driven a car over the curb, but there were no witnesses to the accident.

Father and Son Dinner Planned

The annual Father and Son banquet of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will be held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lake Shore road, at 6:30 p. m., on Friday, March 5. The Men's Association of the church is sponsoring the event.

Wally Weber, member of the University of Michigan football coaching staff, will be the speaker. He will show the official films of the Rose Bowl game.

Alex Kennedy, former president of the association, will speak, and Kenneth W. Smith, organist, will play for the community singing.

Alex Marshall is in charge of the ticket sale and Phillip Knope is the president of the association.

LORAINE BROWN BITTEN

Lorraine Brown, aged 18, of 833 St. Clair, was bitten on Feb. 18 by a Doberman Pinscher dog belonging to Wm. B. Ogden of 833 St. Clair. The dog was licensed and had recently been vaccinated.

Carl Van Doren To Lecture Here

Carl Van Doren, one of the 10 most important contemporary writers in the United States, will be the final attraction of the Tuesday Evening Series of impressive programs under sponsorship of Grosse Pointe Community Lectures.

"Franklin, the First Great American" will be the subject of Mr. Van Doren's lecture Tuesday, March 9, at 8:30 p. m. in the John D. Pierce Auditorium.

His "Benjamin Franklin" (1939) won the Pulitzer Prize for biography, the Franklin Medal of the American Philosophical Society and became the most widely sold biography of modern times. "Secret History of the American Revolution" (1941) and "Mutiny in January" (1943) were accepted at once as historical classics. The first of these was the complete story of Benedict Arnold, based on unpublished papers at the University of Michigan; the second, the first complete story of a famous mutiny in the Continental Army. Mr. Van Doren's later work consists mostly of history and biography, but his earlier work in literature has a high reputation. He was managing editor of the Cambridge History of American Literature, the standard work in this field.

A speaker of long and wide experience, Mr. Van Doren has appeared in every one of the 48 states, in Hawaii and the Caribbean area.

Ticket reservations may be made by calling the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Niagara 2000, Extension 25.

WINDOW SHOT OUT

Frank Marsack reported to the Farms police that someone had broken a window in his home at 213 Muir road on Feb. 18. It was believed a slingshot was used.

Bad Drivers Pay In Traffic Court

Grosse Pointe City police court, presided over on Feb. 17 by Judge Leslie P. Young, disposed of the following cases:

William Bert Tow, of 22174 Rausch avenue, Detroit, for reckless driving, paid $5 costs, and was placed on probation for 60 days.

Robert Frank Desimpel, of 1264 Buckingham, for violation of stop law, paid $5 fine and $5 costs. Avis W. Stirling, of 1005 Kensington, for reckless driving causing an accident, was found not guilty and case dismissed.

Harry O. Borden, Jr., of 5929 Hazlett, Detroit, for stop law violation, was fine $5 and costs $5.

Two Hurt as Car Slides into Bus

Two persons were injured when a passenger car slid into the rear of a stopped Lake Shore Coach Lines bus at Moross and Ridge roads at 8:23 a.m. on Feb. 18.

William J. Phelan of 1548 Lycaete, Detroit, driver of the bus, had stopped to take on a passenger. The car which slid on the icy street into the rear of the bus was driven by J. C. Jenkins of 26 Smith, Detroit.

Jenkins and Leola Johnson, 32, of the same address on Smith street, a passenger in his car, were taken to Cottage Hospital for treatment. Jenkins had cuts on both legs and his passenger suffered a bump on her forehead and a cut on her left leg. Jenkins was given a ticket for reckless driving.

More Aid Asked of State For County Institutions

Pointer Chester Carpenter Heads Committee Received By Governor Sigler at Meeting in Lansing

The special committee named by the Board of County Supervisors some time ago to present to the Legislature a plea for increased allocations from the State for the support of asylums, hospitals and aid for dependent children in Wayne County had a meeting with Governor Sigler in Lansing on Monday morning, Feb. 23 at 11:15 o'clock.

A formidable committee had been named to press this matter upon the State authorities and all were present at the meeting.

The issue arose from the fact that whereas the State constitution itself declares the inmates of these institutions to be the responsible wards of the State, the State itself has not in recent years patterned its appropriations to keep pace with the vastly increased cost of their operation.

Figures were presented to the Governor which showed that the loss to Wayne county this year alone on this count would aggregate about $3,000,000.

Governor Sigler lent a most attentive ear to the plea. He said that he already had 120 different items for consideration which he intended to present to the Legislature but he was trying to cut these down to half that number. From his reception of their plea however the committee felt that the Wayne county claims would not be omitted from this list.

Among those attending the meeting were Chester F. Carpenter of Grosse Pointe, chairman of the committee; James N. McNally, the Prosecuting Attorney of the County, County Auditors Leadbetter and Cornell, Dr. Douglas of the Detroit Health Department, Frank Kelley, Chairman of the Wayne County Board of Institutions; Dr. Haskell, head of the Wayne County Training School; Dr. Gruber, head of the Wayne County General Hospital, formerly known as Eloise Hospi-

Alert Police Work Solves Hit-Run Case

Sergeant Vaughan Gets Much-Needed Information Out of Injured Woman

The alertness of Desk Sergeant Thomas Vaughan of the Park police in following through on a telephone message which came to his desk on Feb. 17, resulted in clearing up a three-weeks hit and run mystery that had puzzled the local police.

On February 1, John G. Darty, of 15406 Jefferson avenue, reported to the Park police that his car, which had been parked in front of his place the night before had been badly mangled by some hit-run driver. There was little to go on and the incident promised to be filed with the unsolved cases of that kind.

On the 17th a woman called up for a little talk with the police. She wanted to know whether she could compel a man with whom she had been riding recently to pay her hospital expenses growing out of an accident she had met with while riding in his car.

The party had promised to pay all of her expenses and she had had to spend several days in a hospital. She was a little afraid that the man hadn't stopped his car and reported the accident and she didn't want to get him into any trouble.

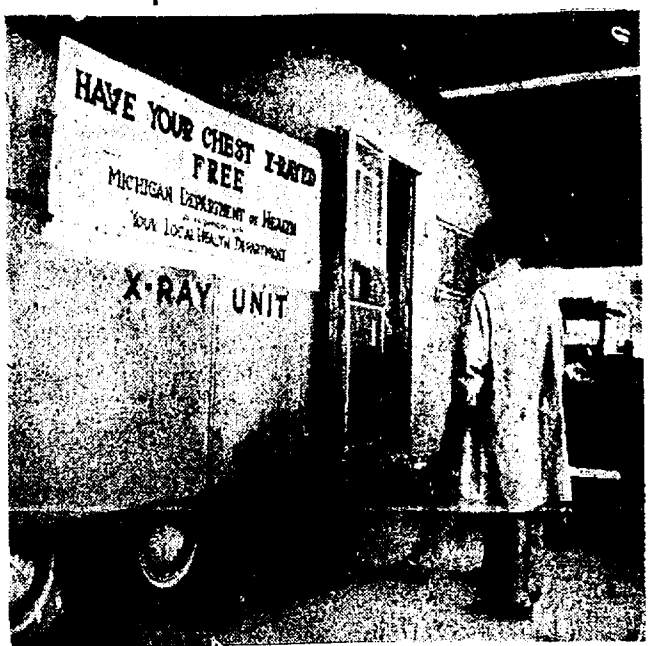

Sensing there was more hidden than appeared on the surface, Vaughan led her on gently and eventually got from her the name and address of the party with the forgetful memory. From there on it was easy going for Detective Hough to pick up Daniel Czaplicki, aged 20, of 9525 Mitchell avenue, Hamtramck.

The following morning Judge Don Goodrow jogged his memory with a $50 fine, plus $5 costs and revoked his driver's license for a year.

The settlement of the car damage and the lady's unpaid hospital expenses is subject to settlement between the parties concerned.

SKIDS INTO CRASH
J. E. Herold, of 1859 Country Club drive, in attempting to stop for a red light at Jefferson avenue and Beaconsfield on Feb. 16, skidded and ran into a car ahead, owned and driven by Travers Smith of 559 St. Clair. The Smith car had also stopped for the light. The front and back of the respective cars were somewhat damaged but there was no personal injury.

Popular With Pointers

One of the MOBILE UNITS of the State Department of Health, exactly like the one pictured here, has been in the Pointe since February 10, offering free chest x-rays to all adult Pointers for the detection and control of TB. Thousands of residents have already taken advantage of the opportunity. If you haven't, make it a point to have your picture taken. It is not only an opportunity, but a duty.

Special Children's Movies Virtually Assured Pointers

Special children's Saturday matinees, featuring motion pictures of assured merit from the Children's Film Library, are virtually assured for Grosse Pointe under a plan presented to the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council.

Eight theaters in the Grosse Pointe district are expected to participate immediately, and others may be added in the near future. Mrs. Daniel Hembel, president of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council, said:

"Now that we have persuaded many of the theater managers to hold special children's matinees, we feel that we have won a great battle," said Mrs. Hembel. "For complete success, the plan must have the co-operation of parent-teacher and church groups, and participation by all parents and children in the Grosse Pointe."

The plan was presented to the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council at the February meeting, and Mrs. Hembel urged all members to 'explain it to the PTA or church groups they represent, asking all parents to interest themselves in it.

Under the new system, the Grosse Pointe theaters will be

Recreational Body Submits Report to Woods Council

Approves Construction of Mole and Chlorination of Water at Beach; Says Swimming Pool on Mack Too Costly

The Park Commissioners of Grosse Pointe Woods have made a report to the Board of Village Commissioners as to the development of the lake-front park and their suggested disposition of that part of the Mack avenue parksite which lies in Grosse Pointe.

The report will be considered at the next meeting of the Village Commissioners on March 2. It follows:—

February 24, 1948

The Park Commission of Grosse Pointe Woods wishes to inform the residents of the Woods of its current planning.

Last December the State Supreme Court rendered the decision which gives the people of Grosse Pointe Woods the right to use its own lake-front site, purchased from Mrs. Edsel Ford, as a village park.

Since this decision the Woods Park Commission has been studying the various aspects of possible lake-front park developments in line with the limited Village finances presently available for this purpose.

This planning includes what is believed to be a logical solution for safe bathing by constructing a mole and chlorinating the water when required. This is based upon results of chlorination experiments conducted at the Grosse Pointe Farms Park, the successful chlorination last summer which made miles of Pacific Ocean surf at Los Angeles safe for bathing; also the fact that all water taken from Lake St. Clair by Grosse Pointe Farms, Highland Park and the City of Detroit is made safe for drinking by a similar chlorinating process.

The necessary facilities for chlorination can be obtained for less than two thousand dollars. Only a few parts per million of chlorine are required and its cost will run from five to ten dollars per day.

When recently presented to the Village Commission, each one of the Commissioners was in favor of this plan. The Village Commission by unanimous vote passed a resolution to have our Village Engineers make a survey of beach soil conditions, prepare plans and obtain cost estimates. The Village Engineers have just completed soundings through the ice of the beach area to develop contour plans for estimating the cost of bulldozing the area and cleaning up the beach front.

Last year tests made after bathing was stopped indicated that the bacteria count used to determine possible pollution was much less at the Woods beach than at neighboring beaches.

Many residents of the Woods still think that Milk River normally carries the Village sewage. All Woods sewage normally is pumped into the new large County interceptor sewer at the Marter road pumping station. Sewage does not enter Milk River during every rain but only when rainfall is excessive, which means that under such conditions the percentage of sewage is relatively low.

Another new item of interest for the Woods lake-front park is that the Village now has an opportunity to acquire a building from the Edsel Ford estate at what is believed to be an exceptionally reasonable figure, and moving it onto our park project. This building measuring 70 by 76 feet, is substantially constructed and its architecture makes it especially suitable as a general purpose park building. The Park Commission has carefully studied this proposition and recommended to the Village Council that an effort be made to acquire it.

Regarding plans for a Mack Avenue parksite, the Park Commission recommends that a portion of this park be developed for use this summer. Some playground equipment for this park is already on hand.

The Park Commission is of the opinion that the cost of a suitably sized swimming pool on this Mack Avenue parksite and its maintenance is too much of a financial undertaking for our Village.

Woods residents will be asked in the coming election to vote on ported to the Park police that such a sign had been removed several times recently from a lot he has for sale at 716 Middlesex. The police were requested to keep a special eye out for sign thefts.

Action Promised By Republicans

At a recent meeting between representatives of the Grosse Pointe Women's Republican Club and Republican Voters, Associated, plans were laid to assure close cooperation between the two groups in the important campaigns this year.

In a statement to the NEWS after this meeting, Richard Durant, chairman of the Operations Committee of Republican Voters, Associated, said: "The Grosse Pointe Women's Republican Club and ourselves have one common aim in view. We intend to see that every possible Republican vote is cast this November so that a Republican President may steer this country to sanity."

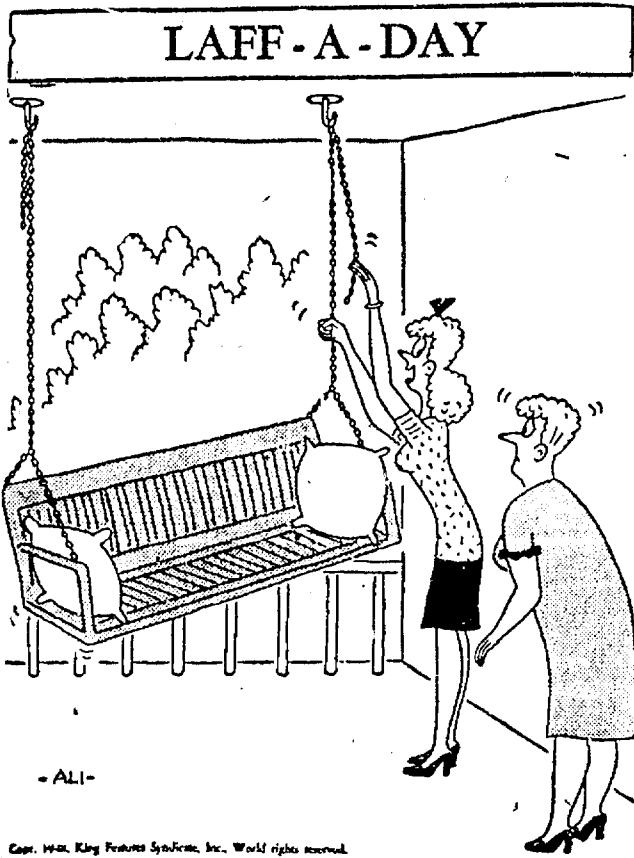

"Republican Voters, Associated, is a new organization; nearly all of our members are young people. We therefore felt that we should get in step with the Women's Club, which for 15 years has been an important factor in Republican activities. The ladies have experience, enthusiasm and know-how; there is much you can learn from them. Working together, we can go through the Pointe with a fine tooth comb for every Republican vote."

Burglar Alarms Set Off by Wind

A brisk wind on the night of Feb. 19 kept the city police hopping, and not to keep warm. At Peppet's, Inc. on Kercheval a resounding burglar alarm heard by police on their rounds, was discovered to have been set off by the wind blowing open a transom window, which in turn set off the alarm.

A storm window was blown off at the Kenneth L. Moore real estate office, and the same blow also shook a door loose and set off an alarm at the Farms Market.

New York Cavalcade

By LOUIS SQBOL

BROADWAY HALL OF FAME!

Probably we'll never get around to it — but perhaps some day when the world's current turmoil subsides and we return to the ordinary pleasantries of normal life, someone may launch the mild project of a Broadway Hall of Fame. Maybe headquarters will be at one of the leading Broadway theaters. In little niches along the walls — busts may be put up — or perhaps framed scrolls hung — or a marble column with a bronze plaque on which names will be inscribed.

There is no harm in making a few advance recommendations for candidates — all of whom, to be eligible, must no longer be part of this living, frenzied world. Surely Mark Hellinger, who loved every nook and corner of the Big Thoroughfare, though he stoutly maintained at the end that the thrill of Broadway was gone for him — and kept that M. H. I. New York license plate always on his car — surely, Mark must be right among those on top of the register.

Edwin Booth and Joseph Jefferson, Jimmy Walker — and certainly Jack Kriender, beloved dandy of the restaurant men — they would go into this Hall of Fame. It would include, too, those who did nothing more constructive than keeping Broadway's glamour and appeal blazing because of their own peculiar and highly publicized vagaries and explosive pranks.

Thus Diamond Jim Brady would deserve his place along with the much worthier Will Rogers. And, of course, there would be room for Florenz Ziegfeld, who would welcome as companions Marilyn Miller, Helen Morgan, Sime Silverman and Victor Herbert. George Gershwin died at career's peak—but early in life he had earned his right to belong to Broadway's immortals. And those partners and comrades in life—now together in death—Sam Harris and George M. Cohan—they would have to be included.

Clyde Fitch, melodramatist of an earlier day, Bronson Howard, Sam Chipman, Con Conrad, Charles Dillingham, Daniel and Charles Frohman—room would have to be made for them. Each was of Broadway and for Broadway—and because of them, among others, Broadway was what it was. And no one would deny Damon Runyon's rightful place among the immortals.

Nor can the wise-cracking, prankful Wilson Mizner be left out. The illustrious William Faversham, whose once so bright star was veiled thick with the obscurity that comes with poverty and hard-luck; David Belasco, perhaps the master showman of them all; Oscar Hammerstein, with his grand dreams, always just short of complete fulfillment; Nora Bayes, generous-hearted queen of vaudeville and musical comedy; Eva Tanguay, hoyden of the variety houses; Marie Dressler—and, of course, big-hearted Texas Guinan—all belong to our Broadway Hall of Fame.

Scores of others—some living out their last days forgotten by the Broadway of which they were so glorious a party—receiving posthumous reward in a lengthy obituary—and then more oblivion until their names have been resurrected for mention in some book or other with a Broadway background. Let's keep their names alive in this Broadway Hall of Fame—it's the least we can do.

Of course, Broadway being what it is it wouldn't be at all inappropriate to create a Hall of Ill-Fame, too—and don't think it wouldn't outdraw the other—three to one. Candidates aren't lacking—the only good thing that can be said for them is that happily we refer to them as "the late." I can start the list—anyone may add—thus: Dutch Schultz, Jack "Legs" Diamond, "Pretty" Amberg, Vincent Coll, Kid Dropper, the lads who bumped off Rosenthal for which Lieut. Becker, among others, was executed; Arnold Rothstein—and all those crooks, chiselers, grand larceny men, murderers, mobsters of another era.

Edison Reports Year of Records

Detroit Edison's report for 1947 clearly reflects the struggle of Detroit and Southeastern Michigan to break through the confining aftermath of war to a new peace-time prosperity. The company's record was packed with new all-time highs.

Its greatest accomplishment, according to Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the board, and James W. Parker, president, was that it met fully its responsibility for providing electric service to the people.

To make sure that this responsibility will continue to be met, $23,000,000 was spent on construction, the first phase of a four to five year program to total $100,000,000.

Gross revenues reached $108,960,000 (a new high which was 18 per cent above 1946) but balanced against this, expenses also reached unprecedented heights. Pay increases and new employees brought the total of wages paid to 13 per cent above 1946. Fuel costs were 45 per cent above the previous year. The operating payroll was in excess of $30,000,000. The fuel bill was nearly $24,000,000. Taxes totaled $13,000,000.

There were no increases in electric rate schedules.

Net income for the year was $11,112,568, or $1.59 a share. Dividends totaling $8,204,328 were paid to more than 40,000 stockholders at the rate of $1.20 a share. The 155th consecutive quarterly dividend was declared.

The year brought a 10 per cent stock dividend distributed on May 1. It brought a $60,000,000 mortgage bond financing operation. The bonds were sold at a premium. They bear an interest rate of 2 1/2 per cent. Half of the $60,000,000 was used to retire, before maturity, $30,000,000 of four per cent bonds. The remaining funds are being put into the construction program.

In 1923 The Detroit Edison Company set itself the task of extending lines to the point where electric power would be available to every farm in Edison territory. That job is now being completed. Edison officials believe this company will be the first serving an extensive rural area able to report 100 per cent coverage.

The average farm use of electricity is 50 per cent greater than the average city residence use. Many new uses for electricity are being developed on the farm and in the home, store and factory. The demand for industrial power is expected to increase. There is every reason to believe that Detroit Edison business will continue to grow and the company intends to be ready to handle it, according to Brown and Parker.

More than 27,000 new residential and farm customers were added in 1947. Use of electricity in the home and on the farm increased 12 per cent over 1946. The total output of electricity reached an all-time high. The output for industrial use was 20 per cent above 1946 but still slightly under the 1944 wartime volume.

Approximately 2,000 new Edison stockholders were added in the year. Of the more than 40,000 total, 44 per cent of the stockholders live in Michigan. More than 55 per cent of all individual owners are women.

Annual Drive Of Red Cross Starts Mar. 1

Pointers Again Take Leading Roles with Macauley Chairman of Campaign

It's Red Cross time. When March 1 arrives in Detroit and across the nation, the men, women and children of America will rally to the support of this great humanitarian organization . . . the American Red Cross.

In 1948 the Red Cross seeks nationally, $75,000,000. Detroit's quota is $1,660,000 as against the 1947 campaign quota of $1,334,000.

Red Cross will continue to carry a giant load during the next fiscal year, as an aftermath of war. Seventy per cent of the money will be spent in 1948 for the benefit of the veterans. Considering that at the start of World War II, there were 4,500,000 veterans in the United States and this year there are 18,000,000 veterans, it is understandable that Red Cross' job has increased many times.

Eighteen million veterans constitute 12 per cent of our population. Nationally there was an increase of 52 per cent in the total number of veterans and their families aided in 1947. This was reflected in cases handled by the Detroit Chapter of Red Cross.

Red Cross spent $11,000,000 in 1947 for disaster relief as the result of explosions, fires and floods, the worst since 1937. The almost depleted funds for this purpose have to be replenished in neighboring Mount Clemens $86,000 of Red Cross money went to alleviate hardship and suffering caused by last Spring's floods.

The inauguration of a National Civilian Blood Bank will cost both the National Red Cross and chapters approximately $10,000,000. In Detroit our nearly two-year old Detroit Community Red Cross blood bank supplied 13,000 pints of blood to 72 Detroit and Wayne County hospitals during 1947, including 940 pints to veterans' hospitals.

The rising cost of all operations constitutes another reason for the larger quota sought this year. Alvan Macauley, Jr. of Kenwood road, Grosse Pointe Farms, is leading the Detroit drive, his second year as chairman of the fund campaign.

Vice chairmen are: Dr. Leo M. Franklin, Edwin K. Hoover, Frank X. Martel, Dr. Joseph Q. Maine, Edward Cardinal Mooney and August Scholle.

Raymond T. Perring will act as treasurer and chairman of the audit committee.

On the planning committee for the drive are Emmett F. Conoley, Henry T. Ewald, Alvan Macauley Jr., William A. Moffett, William J. Norton, Joseph B. Schlottman, John M. Sullivan and Herbert B. Trix.

Mrs. William K. Muir is chairman of the special gifts division assisted by Mrs. Charles Creedon, vice chairman.

Heading the corporate gifts committee is George W. Mason. Walter O. Briggs, Jr. is industrial division chairman.

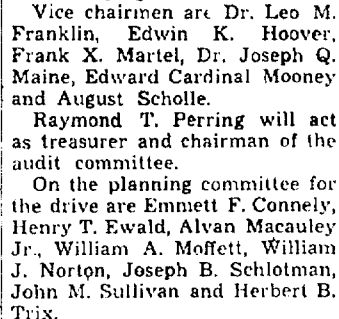

Other personnel of the 1948 fund raising campaign include John F. Ballenger, chairman, public service division; Fred C. Fischer, chairman, Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, vice - chairman, county branches; Mrs. J. Dwyer Kinnucan, Mrs. John B. Ford, Mrs. Alvin J. Carew, Mrs. Dudley C. Hay and Mrs. G. C. Tuttle, vice-chairmen, general solicitation division; William A. Moffett, chairman, Reuben Ryding, Lester Laird, vice-chairmen, public information; Mrs. William M. Hughes, chairman, speakers bureau and William S. Ralston, chairman, supplies division.

John M. Sullivan, chapter manager of Detroit Red Cross, is again campaign manager.

Vital to the 1948 campaign again will be the assistance of volunteer workers. Thousands of volunteers are needed to help handle campaign literature and for the general solicitation division. Anyone who can aid Red Cross as a volunteer should call CA 3900, ext. 272 for work assignment.

The slogan for the 1948 campaign is "It's Red Cross time." Campaign headquarters are on the sixth floor of the Red Cross Building, 153 East Elizabeth.

New Law Keeps Lawyers Busy

Lewis S. Robinson, Detroit banker, spoke before the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club at a recent meeting on the workings of the new community property law in Michigan, as invoked in filing income tax returns.

There were many points in connection with prior and subsequent property acquisitions on which the taxpayer needed explicit information in making out his return. Mr. Robinson's talk clarified many of these points.

"So many questions are involved in the preparation of a tax return under this law," Mr. Robinson said, "that it has recently been dubbed the lawyers' full employment act."
