Drafting Honorary Chairman for Memorial Drive

The entire executive committee of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial organization paid a surprise visit on James K. Watkins at his Cloverly road home last Thursday night, to enlist his services in the campaign which will be waged shortly. Above, Chairman Alger Shelden congratulates the Farms' president just after Mr. Watkins had agreed to serve as honorary chairman of the drive. George Elworthy, Neighborhood Club superintendent, right, appears to approve of the acceptance.

On Saturday, March 20, the Grosse Pointe Schools will play host to some 46 bands and orchestras of the Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra Association. The occasion is that of the Fifteenth Annual Band and Orchestra Festival, to be held at Pierce Junior High School this year. Some 2,500 high school and junior high instrumental students will participate in this event.

Wolff Runs 4th In Woods Voting

Through an oversight the name of Howard B. Wolff was omitted from the election tabulation for the Woods village for March 8.

Kercheval "Speedway" Gets Special Police Surveillance

The residents in the Kercheval avenue-Merriweather road neighborhood are again, (or still), up in arms about the speeders who make a racetrack of the stretch between Muir road and Moross road on Kercheval.

9678 Pointers Examined In X-Ray Survey

More Than Third of Total Eligible Population Visits Mobile Unit

Grosse Pointe's tuberculosis x-ray survey campaign ended Saturday in a rush that brought the total number examined during the five weeks drive to 9,678. It was estimated before the campaign started that if 8,000 Pointers visited the mobile unit it would be a very commendable showing.

Grosse Pointe Woods turned out in force for the examinations. During the last two days of the drive more than 700 residents were examined each day. A breakdown of the figures shows the following number of persons examined in each of the five Pointes.

Park	3,214
Woods	2,375
Farms	2,116
City	1,676
Shores	297

Only residents 15 years old or older were eligible for the x-rays during the campaign. It had been estimated there are 28,650 in this age group in the Pointe, which means that more than one-third of the total eligible population availed itself of the opportunity provided.

Last fall the mobile unit visited the Pointe and examined about 1300 students in the upper classes of the high school, St. Paul's and St. Clare schools. Another 1346 adults, teachers and employees of the Board of Education, sisters and clergy of the parochial schools and others were also surveyed at that time. So more than 12,200 Pointers have been examined in the last six to seven months.

While final figures are not available on the actual number of cases of TB found here, based on the 46 cases found in the first 5,000 examined, it would appear that from 85-90 cases of actual TB were discovered in the Pointe. All of these are not active, but the cases will be referred to private physicians for further examination and treatment if needed.

In addition there were from 100-110 other cases of abnormalities discovered. These were generally with the heart or spine.

Tuberculosis occurs so infrequently in children under 15 that it was not felt necessary to x-ray this age group.

The steering committee which organized the campaign here will hold a meeting at 1:30 p. m. next Tuesday afternoon, March 23, in the Neighborhood Club to discuss the results of the drive.

The campaign was headed by Dr. Thomas S. Davies, head of the Grosse Pointe Township Board of Health. The mobile unit used is the property of the Michigan Department of Health.

Parents to Pay For Kids' Play

The unexplained breaking of a large number of windows by snowball hurlers in the Washington road section in recent days was cleared up when the City police garnered in a bevy of very small boys on March 14. The youngster made a clean breast of the whole thing and the parents will assume all damages.

Damages were suffered at 547 Washington, 522 Rivard, 606 Rivard, 551 Washington, 544 Washington, 576 Washington and 522 Lincoln.

The pane-count was too numerous to detail.

Fool's Errand Run by Police

A woman who lives in the 16700 section of Jefferson avenue sent in an alarm over the A. D. T. on March 15.

That agency called up the Park police from downtown and asked them to cover the case p. d. q.

When the Park officers got to the house they were informed by the lady that there was no trouble at all. She was just curious to know how long it would take an A. D. T. man to get out in the event of real trouble.

The police thanked (2) the lady for her precaution and returned to quarters to chalk up another fool's errand.

Cost of Memorial Depends on Amount Pointe Will Donate

Minimum of $500,000 Deemed Necessary, But Hope Runs High For Raising Much More To Suitably Honor Community's Heroes

How much will Grosse Pointe's War Memorial Library cost and how will the money be raised? These are two questions which are a subject of general discussion since the campaign organization has gone into high gear.

The answer to the first question is still rather indefinite. It has been estimated that a minimum of $500,000 should be raised to create a memorial library that would be a fitting tribute to the Pointe's servicemen and women and suitably honor the dead of World War II.

The architects are now working on tentative plans for the building, which, of course, must be approved by the campaign executive committee. There are many who feel that at least $1,000,000 should be raised for the library. The more money donated the finer will be the memorial. There is adequate land available to expand the plans and the scope and usefulness of the building.

The answer to the second question is very definite. The money will be raised by gifts of residents of the Pointe. It is hoped that every single resident will be a contributor.

Discussion has already progressed sufficiently to make it safe to say the campaign will be waged on a pledge basis rather than an out-and-out contribution plan. It is felt that if time is given the donor to make his payment, chances for raising a greater sum will be increased. The pledges will be payable over a period of at least two and probably three years. Of course, outright contributions will be very acceptable.

There are approximately 10,000 families in the Pointe community. If every family agreed to give $50 to the memorial fund, payable over a period of two or three years, the minimum $500,000 would be assured.

There are, of course, a number of Pointe families which cannot afford to pledge $50, even on a time basis. There are more families which can afford a great deal more and it is hoped that the larger gifts will bring the average donation far above the $50 mark.

Present plans call for carrying on the actual campaign during the months of May and June. By Memorial Day the committee should have a very revealing progress report ready.

There will doubtless be many special events to raise money for the fund. The Pointe branch of the American Association of University Women has already staged one function and raised a considerable sum which has been earmarked for the library.

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club was the first organization to make a pledge. As soon as the memorial plan was launched two years ago, the service organization promised to donate $2500 to the fund.

BYE, BYE BLACKBIRD

The residents at 765 Washington road phoned the city police on the afternoon of March 12 that a bird had tumbled down the flue of their fireplace and was flying about the house. They wanted some good bird catchers to net the feathered visitor. The police got him and gave him his freedom. He was entirely injured and proved to be an extra large sized blackbird.

Watkins Tosses Gauntlet To Farms Political Foes

President James K. Watkins of Grosse Pointe Farms intends to give some of his opponents in the recent election, who were loud in their claims, if elected, to make the Farms a village of sweetness and light without increasing the taxes, an opportunity to exhibit their talent.

At the council meeting on Monday night, March 15, Mr. Watkins read to his colleagues on the Board of Trustees two letters he had prepared inviting two of the men most prominent in the Better Government Group that fought him and the successful councilman candidates, to appear before the Board and tell them how to run the municipality.

The two letters were as follows:
March 15, 1948.
Mr. Horace E. Farmer,
167 Mowss Road,
Grosse Pte. Farms 30, Mich.

Alger Shelden Selected To Lead Project

President James K. Watkins of Farms Named Hon. Chairman

Alger Shelden of Lake Shore road, the man who has played the largest individual part in furthering the plan for the erection of a Grosse Pointe War Memorial, has been selected as general chairman for the campaign to carry the project to completion. James K. Watkins, of Cloverly road, president of Grosse Pointe Farms, has agreed to serve as honorary chairman.

A long step forward was taken at the meeting March 11 in the High School Library towards setting in motion the campaign for the War Memorial Library. It was the first official meeting of the executive committee for the project.

The meeting was attended by representatives of a large number of the more active and largest organizations in the Pointe. They included service clubs, veterans organizations, Friends of the Library, Real Estate, adult organizations associated with educational work, public officials of the Pointe, and many others.

As accurate a list as could be compiled with the organizations they represented included the following: Mrs. George Elworthy, the Lions Club; Mrs. H. G. Goebel and Mrs. Paul R. Baldwin, the

Skelton Heads Drive Group

Chrysler Official Agrees to Be Chairman of Organization Committee

Great enthusiasm was aroused at the meeting of the General Committee of the War Memorial Library Fund on Tuesday night in the High School when General Chairman Alger Shelden announced that Owen R. Skelton had accepted the chairmanship of the Organization Committee for the coming campaign.

This is the committee which will have charge of setting up the working organization that will push through the drive. A few minutes after the announcement four vice-chairmen were named to act as Mr. Skelton's assistants. It is understood these were named with the previous knowledge of Mr. Skelton and with his hearty approval.

These were Norbert P. Neff, Vincent De Petris, Mrs. Lloyd Hooker and George Elworthy. All of these persons have had a large experience in familiar public movements.

Mrs. H. G. Goebel was elected recording secretary and Richard Maxon corresponding secretary of the Executive Committee. Temporary headquarters will be in the Maxon-Botkin building on Kercheval until permanent headquarters are selected in a full time office manumitted in charge.

Paul L. Muehlman was elected treasurer of the campaign drive. Norbert P. Neff, J. J. Stork and George L. Schaeffer were named the committee to arrange for the removal of the temporary Honor Roll now on the High School plot to the site of the memorial library at Kercheval and Fisher.

Chairman Shelden was authorized to ask Architect Robert Desjard to prepare a preliminary sketch showing the proposed general appearance of the library building, with special emphasis on the memorial character of the structure at its entrance.

Farms Has Job For Patrolman

Chief Walter Hoyt of the Farms police announced that the department is accepting applications for examinations to fill a patrolman vacancy.

The applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 27 inclusive, high school graduates and residents of the Farms for at least one year. The examinations will be given the latter part of March or the first part of April.

Watkins Tosses Gauntlet

Dear Sir:

Your platform as quoted in The Grosse Pointe Review of March 4, 1948 includes the following: "... Improved recreational facilities for our children, including a Farms swimming pool which could be financed from increased taxes from those who are not paying a tax rate comparable to the great majority of the residents of this Village ..."

I do not understand what you mean by the phrase last quoted above, but I think you will agree that it is your civic duty to explain to the Council what you do mean. You evidently intended the readers of your statement to believe that certain property owners in the Village are not paying their proper proportion of the taxes. It would seem that the underpayment must be very substantial as you state that collection thereof would finance improved recreational facilities, including a swimming pool, which is a somewhat costly item.

This is a serious charge and if you have knowledge of any such group of taxpayers, I submit that you should promptly name them, as neither I nor any of my associates on the Council has any such knowledge.

I am, therefore, writing to ask you to furnish to the Council the names of those persons "who are not paying a tax rate comparable to the great majority of the residents of this Village."

Yours very truly,
JAMES K. WATKINS.
March 15, 1948.

Mr. Philip Moran,
164 Moross Road,
Grosse Pointe Farms 30, Mich.
Dear Sir:

I am writing you as one of the named officials of the Grosse Pointe Farms Better Government Association. In your publication "Better Government News" No. 3 of Vol. 2, dated March 1, 1948, the following statement is made:

"If your recommended candidates are elected, they plan to improve the pier, making it one of which we can all be proud, build a swimming pool if pollution of the Lake is not to be stopped, create more playgrounds, install tennis and handball courts at the pier.

"And, we believe, we have a workable plan whereby all this can be accomplished without a general raise in taxes, through readjustment of our tax structure."

Since none of your recommended candidates was elected, you are not in a position directly to put into effect this workable plan, I suggest, however, that in the best interests of the Village you should submit the details of this plan to the Council, none of whom is aware of how these improvements could be made without a general raise in taxes.

We would appreciate being advised as to just what your program contemplates and, of course, your estimate as to the costs. We would also like to know the details of the "readjustment of our tax structure." The evident purpose of your statement was to lead the citizens to believe that you have a plan to raise substantially more money for Village use without any general raise in the taxes of the majority of the citizens. I submit that you should promptly disclose the details of your "workable plan." You owe it to your fellow citizens not to keep this secret for the indefinite future.

We would also like to have you point out the provisions of the building code relating to the price of a residence referred to in the same number of your publication. We are not aware of any such provision. It may be, of course, that you had in mind the provisions of the subdivisions restrictions, over which the Village has no control.

Yours very truly,
JAMES K. WATKINS.
Not all of Mr. Watkins' constituents were of the same mind as the foregoing with respect to his handling of the Farms affairs, as evidenced by the following letter:

279 Hillcrest Road,
Grosse Pointe Farms 30,
March 10, 1948.

To Mr. James K. Watkins,
Pres. of the Board of Grosse Pointe Farms.
My dear Mr. Watkins and members of the Council:

Now that all the "sound and fury" has died down, and we are no longer greeted with mimeographed sheets of varying vacuity, stuffed into our mailboxes, may we tell you how very glad we are that you were all rejected. I know that many of us want that you ALL sincerely for the many, many hours of fine work you have done for the Village.

The personal sacrifices of time and effort you have given is appreciated by your neighbors. The big vote cast to reject you is, of course, the best expression of the citizens approval. But I cannot help wanting you to know also, that OUR family feels you should know that you have not only our approval as voters, but our personal thanks as citizens for the time and effort given, without remuneration, by you gentlemen, to make our Village the pleasant place it is.

Gratefully,
Marcelline Hemingway Sanford,
Mrs. S. S.)

number of things that would call for an early decision and would have to be attended to before the completion of any detailed plan for the actual campaign. Among these he mentioned the removal of the temporary Honor Roll from its present location on the High School corner at Fisher and Maumee to the site of the Memorial Library at the other end of the High School plot at Fisher and Kercheval. This he explained would be the visual notice to the community that the campaign was about to get under way.

Mr. Shelden warned that many of the details of the campaign would necessarily have to await the selection of a permanent general chairman to head the drive.

This touched off a spontaneous demand from the floor that Mr. Shelden himself should be the chairman. Vincent De Petris and others recalled that Mr. Shelden had carried the ball for the project from almost the moment of its inception. To him more than any other person belonged the credit for carrying through the many delicate negotiations which had advanced the project to its present favorable point. It was recognized by all that the tact, industry and patience Mr. Shelden had shown was responsible for the heartening progress that had been made.

Mr. Shelden himself strongly demurred. He believed that some outstanding man in the community should be chosen with whom he would be happy to work, and promised he would continue to give his best efforts.

Mr. Shelden's declination led to further discussion of the chairmanship. It was suggested from the floor that it had been rumored that James K. Watkins might be persuaded to head the campaign. The Watkins suggestion was favorably received and it was proposed that the whole committee call upon him and put the question up to him without further delay.

An appointment was made with Mr. Watkins at his home and within fifteen minutes a cavalcade of cars was on its way to the Watkins home in Cloverly road.

Mr. Watkins received the numerous company graciously but made it clear that it would be impossible for him to accept.

He then made a counter proposition which was an echo of the discussion held in the meeting in the high school library. He thought that Mr. Shelden was the man to head the campaign, as he had already vitalized the whole movement with his perseverance and enthusiasm. He came, Mr. Watkins said, from a family that had long been identified with the business and cultural life of Michigan and of the Pointe particularly, and seemed to be indicated as the man for this task.

The suggestion took the company by storm and after a few moments of further discussion tance, had consented to serve, with the proviso that Mr. Watkins would consent to be associated with him as Honorary Chairman. This Mr. Watkins consented to do.

In recognition of the magnanimity of Mr. Murray Sales in giving his residence to the School District for a public library, and his subsequent authorization that it might be sold after his death and the proceeds devoted to the War Memorial Library project, a resolution was proposed by Judge Kenneth M. Thomas, of the American Legion, and seconded by Mrs. Alger Shelden, secretary of the Honor Roll Association, that there be provided in the Memorial Library a special room to be known as the Jessie Carter Sales Memorial room.

This resolution was unanimously carried.

The suggestion that this room should be a special room for a children's library, has been advanced by Miss Florence Severs, the Grosse Pointe Librarian, and is supported by the friends of the Library organization.

A good many years ago the Farms had a lawsuit instituted by Detroit, which also involved sewage disposal. This issue was settled by private arrangement outside of court between the Farms and Detroit, which arrangement has run until this day.

It is believed the present issue will also be arranged amicably between the two municipalities.

The Board of Engineers whose report was the basis for the Common Council's action, agreed that the actual contamination of the Detroit water supply was negligible, and never in the most aggravated situation such as could not be safely handled by chlorination through the facilities already provided at Detroit's intake.

Now! MODUFLOW BRINGS THE MAGIC OF ELECTRONICS TO HOME HEATING

Honeywell's MODUFLOW Heating Control System has set a new high standard of home comfort. Now the magic sensitivity of electronics has been added to make Moduflow the last word in house heating comfort and efficiency.

Features of the new Electronic Moduflow Control System are:

- Electronic Chonotherm combined with new Averaging Thermostat insures accurately uniform temperatures.
- Outdoor Electronic Thermostat which anticipates weather changes.
- Electronic Control Center which governs the operation of the system.
- Extreme Sensitivity of Control combined with Instantaneous Action.
- Continuous Supply of heat does away with unhealthful drafts and cold floors.

Electronic Moduflow can easily be installed on any automatic heating system—steam, hot water or warm air. It is moderate in cost and will give you an entirely new conception of comfort.

Youth Facing Jail Sentence Has Another Case to Settle

Robert Semmler Charged With Attempting to Run Down Driver Seeking to Question Him After Near Accident

Robert Semmler, now 19, has gotten himself in trouble again via the car route. He is the same youth who got in a jam three years ago by boosting that he had driven his car, a sporty runabout, 50,000 miles that year. This was at a time when persons with legitimate business to transact were having a lot of trouble trying to wrangle enough gas coupons to carry them on their lawful journeys.

The OPA took a hand in the investigation which ensued, and Robert and associated parties had no end of trouble over withheld coupons, revoked licenses.

On December 24 last year, it is now charged, Semmler cut sharply across the line of travel at University and Kercheval, of a car in which Mrs. John E. Hannan of 82 Mapleton, and her son were riding. They avoided an accident by braking hard and stopping close to the curb.

Young Semmler, they allege, then went to the other side of the street and stopped. When young Hannan walked across to question him, he saw Semmler sitting in his car but with both doors locked.

When Hannan started to walk back to his own car, Mrs. Hannan says that young Semmler started his car quickly and tried to run her son down.

Mrs. Hannan has had Semmler arrested and at the first hearing Semmler's lawyer alleged the information was inaccurately turned in and asked for a postponement. Mrs. Hannan stated that it made no difference how many times the case was postponed, she intended to carry it to a finish.

In Pontiac on December 21 it was charged by a man coming out of a restaurant at Woodward and Square Lake, that Semmler had knocked him down and then driven away.

He was chased by Sheriff's Deputies and after a long pursuit he was stopped by the officers firing several shots at his tires.

This case came up on March 5 before Justice of the Peace Donald E. Adams of Waterford Township, Oakland county. Semmler was acquitted of the charge of driving away from the scene of an accident but on the reckless driving charge he was fined $50 and $35 costs and sentenced to 20 days in jail. His attorney asked for ten days stay, saying an appeal would be taken.

At the hearing before Judge Young on Monday night, Mar. 15, Semmler's attorney, Joel A. Bremer, asked for a postponement until April 12. Mr. Bremer intimated that he might ask for a jury trial for his client. Jury trials in Justice of the Peace courts are usually before six-man juries, although not necessarily so.

The City's side of the case was represented by Attorney Charles Wright of the firm of Beaumont, Smith, Harris and Meder.

Young Semmler's other legal engagement up in Oakland county has been appealed by his counsel and will come up in due course in the Oakland County Circuit Court.

Youngster Hurt as Car Crashes Fire Hydrant

Because Mrs. Grace Piche, of 4967 Ashley, driving on Notre Dame on the morning of March 10, cast a solicitous glance at her wee charge sitting alongside her in the car, she momentarily lost her direction and crashed into a fire hydrant in front of 702 Notre Dame.

Little Nancy O'Brien, 18 months old, suffered a small cut over her left eye. Mrs. Piche was not injured. The police took them both to Bon Secours Hospital before Mrs. Piche took Nancy home with her.

Park Employee Injured Clearing Icy Street

Alphonse Fey, aged 70, of 952 Beaconsfield, while engaged with a Park crew clearing ice at the corner of Somerset and Jefferson on March 11, slipped and fell on his ice pick, sustaining a painful puncture under his right eye. Village Manager Lane of the Park village happened along at the moment and took him to Bon Secours Hospital, where the attendants said the injury was not dangerous.

Fey was discharged from Bon Secours Hospital on Tuesday.

Each organization will play three numbers, including the required number. Outstanding judges from Michigan, Illinois, and Ohio will rate each band and orchestra according to tone, interpretation, appearance, intonation, phrasing, and general effect.
The judges include Leonard Lalcone, Michigan State College; Clifford Lilly and David Mattern, University of Michigan;
Roy Miller, Wayne University;
Merle Issac, Chicago; Harry
Clarke, Cleveland; and Arthur
Williams, Oberlin Conservatory.
The local committee includes
Dewey Kalember, chairman,
William Ferry, and Herbert Nuechterlein. The general public is invited to any part of the festival, which will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning and end at approximately 10:30 in the evening.

Repertory Theatre, recently named Russell Werneken, of 206
McKinley road, Grosse Pointe, production manager for the forthcoming productions of Oscar Wilde's comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest." Mr. Werneken will also play a small character bit.

Repeat performances of the Sophocles tragedy, "Oedipus Rex" will also be given on these two following weekends. Dates are as follows: "Importance of Being Earnest," Sunday, Mar. 21,
Saturday, March 27, and Sunday,
Mar. 28; "Oedipus Rex," Friday and Saturday, Mar. 19 and 20, and Friday, Mar. 26. Curtain: 8:45.
All performances are given at the Michigan Showmen's Association, 3153 Cass (at Peterboro).

Mack Widening To Start Soon

The initial work on the improvement of Mack avenue over a two-mile stretch between Cad-ieux and Warren will be underway in a short time.

A letter received by City Clerk
Noroert Neff under date of March 4 from A. J. Keough, engineer of Highway Development for the County Road Commission, carries this information. The contract has already been let to the Thomas E. Currie company, and will be completed on or before July 15.
The work is all a part of the general program for the widening of Mack avenue to a uniform width of 120 feet and the repaving of the street.

The information was forwarded to give the City advanced information to enable it to act with respect to the relocation of fire hydrants and other considerations effected by the widening.

A similar communication from the Road Commission was read at the Farms Council meeting on March 16.

Good Citizens In Competition

Florence Erringer of the January 1948 Class of Grosse Pointe High School, is representing the General Josiah Harmar Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage at the state conference of the DAR being held on March 17, 18 and 19 in the Hotel Statler.

Miss Erringer was chosen by her classmates and faculty members as an outstanding example of high standards of citizenship.
She is competing with other pilgrims from high schools throughout the state, for the honor of being Michigan's representative at the Continental Congress of the society which will be held in Washington, D. C. in April.

Farms Police To Take Exams

Notices have been posted in the Farms municipal building that applications are now being received for the various promotional and employment examinations in the police department to be given in accordance with the recommendation of the Police Committee and council's approval.

The examinations are conducted by agents of the Michigan Municipal League, under an arrangement existing between the Farms village and the League.

Men who grip situations don't gripe about them.

Baha'i Speaker Talks on Peace

At the first Baha'i meeting held in a public auditorium here, the Baha'is of Grosse Pointe Farms presented Miss Pari Walrath as guest speaker and showed colored slides of the renowned House of Worship still under construction in Wilmette, Ill. The meeting was held last Friday in the gymnasium of the Richard School.

Titling her brief talk "New Standards for Today," Miss Wal-rath began by observing that many people wonder if civilization has really advanced at all during recorded history. Tracing the previous accomplishments of the cultures founded by Inspired Teachers such as Moses, Zoroaster, Buddha, the Christ, and Mohammed, she pointed out that each of these cultures had flowered to bring peace and amity to formerly warring peoples, and that if we examine the peaks of these civilizations we discover a development upward, the social unit growing from the family to the tribe and then the nation.

Miss Walrath stated that the Baha'is believe in the oneness of religion. "To accept one Prophet of God is to accept them all; to reject one is to reject them all,
for their basic message was one and the same although the social teachings varied with the needs of various ages."

Pointing out that the Baha'i
Faith and Teachings were no
Utopian and impractical dream, the speaker noted that, more than 50 years ago, Baha'u'llah not only proclaimed the need but set the pattern for a world government and a world economy which would consist of a world legislature, a world executive backed by a world army, and a world court whose decisions would be final. The need for the teaching of a universal auxiliary language, and for the establishment of universal standards of currency,
weights and measures was proclaimed also, at a time when such ideas must have seemed very radical indeed.

Sarcasm is the scum off a hot temper.

Objects to Snowballs Aimed at Passing Cars

A complaint that boys had thrown snowballs at a car loaded with children, was lodged with the Farms police on March 11 by Mrs. Harold Emmons, Jr. of 361
Rivard boulevard.

Mrs. Emmons said one of the snowballs went through a car window and she feared the children might be injured. The names of the boys were obtained and their parents were notified.

First Spring Planting Done by Garden Club

Members of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club brought flower pots in which to begin their spring planting, when they met Monday, March 15, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Fox on Lewiston road.

Mrs. George Bouton of the Garden Center supervised planting operations.

Red Cross Drive Workers Hear Encouraging Report

Pointers by the score were on hand Tuesday noon in the Book-Cadillac to hear the half-year report in the annual Red Cross drive. Edwin K. Hoover of Rivard boulevard, vice-chairman of the drive president, Emmett Connelly of Ridge road, chapter chairman, acted as toastmaster and called on the division heads for reports. Alvan Macauley, Jr. of Kenwood road, drive chairman, addressed the workers.

The mid-year report showed that 44.05 per cent of the total $1,660,000 sought, had been raised. The amount, $731,386.79, is better by 5 per cent than that raised at the same point in last year's campaign, when the quota was smaller. Last year the goal was $1,334,400.

The workers heard a stirring appeal by Col. S. L. A. Marshall, editorial writer and chief historian of the European Theater in World War II.

Hit-Run Driver Runs into Truck

Foreman McIntyre, in charge of the sewer construction job on Kercheval, reported to the Park police on March 11 that a man driving a '46 Ford car, drove into the enclosure they have around their site on Nottingham and struck their pickup truck.

After this he had backed away and sped on without lights. It happened about 10 o'clock at night.

The number of the car was obtained, however, and a check up revealed that it was registered to Lee Lockridge of 295 Rivard. The case was turned over to detectives Hough and Enders.

Discovery Kills Desire to Work

Mary McElroy, an employe in the Board of Education offices, reported to the police that a colored man came into her office in mid afternoon on March 12 looking for work. He was "very tall and very black."

After a brief conversation with him she had occasion to leave the office for a few minutes and when she returned the man told her he wanted to go out and park his car in a better place.

He politely excused himself, saying he would be back in a minute or two, but up to date, like Bill Hye's coal man, he has forgotten to come back.

Neither has the $5 bill which Miss McElroy soon thereafter missed from her purse, which had been laying around too conspicuously.

Musical Tea Conducted By Jenny Lind Society

The Jenny Lind Society gave a musical tea last week in the Cloverly road residence of Mrs. Charles J. Koebel. Mrs. Evelyn Scheyer presented a musical program, "Dances through the Ages."

Tea hostesses included Mrs. Leslie G. Wrigley, Mrs. Walter W. Wood, Mrs. Alton L. Wheeler, and Mrs. Erik Von Reis.

Attending were Mesdames Otto Lundell, E. A. Benzin, Charles H. Bay, George Baer, Sigerd Svenson, Marvin V. Anderson, Willard M. Cornelius, Jr., Karl H. Charlson, Tore Franzen, H. H. Albinson, Gunnar Karlstrom, David W. Nelson, Lambert P. Rahm, and Valentine Lallberg.

Pointe Students Break Gift Mark

This year's Junior Red Cross campaign for funds in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools was one of the most successful of any year since the initiation of the program into the schools, according to Mrs. Alice M. Sheaffer, Junior Red Cross coordinator for the local schools.

She stated that the total amount contributed by the pupils of all schools was $2079.67. This amount exceeded last year's contributions by $89.74.

The Junior Red Cross campaign was handled in the schools largely by students under the direction of faculty sponsors and teachers. Patricia Rodgers, an 11A student in the Grosse Pointe High School and President of the Wayne County Junior Red Cross Chapter, contributed not only to the success of the program in the High School but to the fine results obtained throughout Pointe schools and the entire county.

Staff members of the Grosse Pointe Schools contributed $1048.50 to the Adult Division of the American Red Cross in this year's campaign.

MORE WINDOWS BROKEN

Fritz Petzoldt of 242 Hillcrest road, complained to Farms police on March 15 that someone had broken windows in his garage. He said this has happened before.

Boyd Sponsors Safety Program

Pointe students in the elementary schools are receiving a very pleasant lesson in safety this week, thanks to Tom Boyd, popular Ford dealer of East Jefferson avenue.

Mr. Boyd is sponsoring the appearance of Jerry McSafely, ventriloquist and former member of the Detroit police department.

Jerry has a very entertaining act which he stages with his dummy stooge to drive home the safety lesson. He has appeared in many schools throughout the Detroit metropolitan area as well as before countless organizations.

Mr. Boyd figured by bringing Jerry to the Pointe he could contribute to the safety of the local school children. Jerry visited six schools on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

On the fatal morning of March fifteenth, Dottie Devine dashes in, just as we are being seized with a busy spell at the desk. Now Dottie is a very Fancy Package any day but today she is a Fancy Package ready to explode.

"Mary, I'm going squ-irrelly! Cage—that's me! You know what I've been doing?"

"Practising those ballet bounces again?"
"No. I spent all last night looking for a Pink Slip", sighs Dottie.
"But you must have dozens of pink slips—"
"Oh, not that kind of slip. This Pink Slip is the one they gave me—it has my income tax and everything on it. Now what am I going to do, do, do?"
"Why just ask them for another," we suggested, mildly.
"No sale. The auditor's in Florida, and nobody knows."

"Well, Dottie, we're so UN-smart about high or even low finance that the very thought of filling out one of those tax forms gives us a Red Tapeworm—"
"I know. But what I thought is this: Maybe we might go down to wherever you go and find some sweet old Lamb who'd fill out the blanks—"
"By Dottie, every male is either a Wolf or a Lamb. Except that sometimes the Lambs turn into Wolves in Sheep's Clothing."

Disaster doesn't knock!

A mother is putting her child to bed . . . . . a tornado imprisons them in the wreckage of their home

Youngsters are busy in a schoolroom . . . . . an explosion tears the building apart

A disabled veteran builds a little business in his home . . . . . a river flood sweeps it all away

Happy young couple is enjoying a party . . . . . fire destroys the building, killing and maiming

ANY of these tragedies could happen to you and yours . . . for Disaster doesn't ask permission. It strikes without warning.

But where Disaster goes and Panic prevails, there too is the Red Cross. Prepared for action, calm in the face of danger, experienced in the succor of suffering humanity, the Red Cross brings relief quickly, generously, efficiently.

And . . . afterward . . . the Red Cross stands by the injured and the desolate through difficulties Disaster caused . . . to help rebuild their homes, restore their strength, and give them new courage to carry on.

The Red Cross doesn't stop to ask questions—it knows no boundaries, no prejudices, no limitations. All it asks is your help—for it cannot exist without you.

The sweet old Lamb of a tax expert took one look at Dottie Devine and told the rest of the line to go to some other office. And jump out as far as he was concerned.

It was clear he was an expert at more than one kind of figures. His eye went over her like a vacuum cleaner.

"You do have a form?" he clears his throat.
"Why—thank you," beams Dottie.

"I mean a Tax Form," he coughs in confusion, and pulls out the large white papers. "Now, this isn't going to hurt a bit—it'll all be over in a second—"

Dottie Devine gives him a smile to match her name.

"Now," he begins, "how much money did you make in 1947?"
"I really haven't the foggiest. But it's all spent, anyway."

"Well, make a guess at your gross income," he prompts her.
"I guess it was pretty gross," answers Dottie.

"Well, shall we say $3,000—more or less?"
"More or less, yes."

"And you're single and supporting yourself?"
"Natch. Who else would I support? One more UNwise crack like that, and I'll call this whole thing off—"

"Now, now," he soothes her. "We'll make the deductions from $3,000. What about your charitable contributions?"

"Well, I loaned ten dollars to Joanie and it turned out to be a gift. And when I modeled out at the Veteran's Hospital, the boys said it was worth a million."

"Let's call it a thousand," he scribbles on the sheet. "Now, do you have any bad debts?"

"In baby's book, all debts are bad debts. But the one that really smells is what I owe on that little wild mink jacket. I paid $3,000 for it and you ought to see it—"

"I'd love to," replies the sweet old Lamb of a tax totter. "We'll put down depreciation $1,000—that brings your income down to a thousand, minus the five hundred exemption you get—"

"Exemption from what?"
"I wouldn't know," says he. "Just exemption, it says here. That gives you $500—"

"Oh, super goody!" Dottie gleams, "when do I get the $500?"
"I didn't say you got $500," he explains, patiently.

"Well, of ALL things," says Dottie. "Do you think I'd have gone to all the trouble of squirreling around with this silly tax stuff if I thought there wasn't any loot in it for ME?"

The Sweet Old Lamb stood up. "Let's go out to lunch," says he, "and drink it over."

On the way out of the building, Dottie dips into her purse.

"Well! What'd'ye know!" she chirps. "Here's my Pink Slip. Right in my billfold. I never look for anything in a billfold. Now, what'll I do with it?"

"Just mail it into your ever loving Uncle Sam," says the tax tycoon, "with love and kisses from Dottie. Do you like the fresh lobsters at the Detroit Club?"

"They won't get fresh with ME," says Dottie. "Let's go!"

Barrington and Korte Scene of Auto Crash

A car being driven north on Barrington by Ivar H. Pearson, of 7331 Dover, Detroit, on the afternoon of March 11, struck a '46 Ford convertible driven east on Korte by George A. Gardella, of 1352 Balfour.

The front end of Pearson's car and the right side and front of the Ford were badly mangled. There was no personal injury. Both drivers got tickets for driving without due care and caution.

Junior League Plans New Follies Edition

Wednesday, June 2, Chosen for Opening Night With Repeat Performances Scheduled Thursday, Friday

The Follies of '48 is Number One project on the Junior League schedule for this coming season. Members have chosen Wednesday, June 2, as opening night for their second annual production.

Repeat performances will be given Thursday and Friday evenings with a supper dance Friday in the Grand Ballroom of the Book-Cadillac Hotel concluding the week's program.

Mrs. Guy C. Smith, chairman, will have as co-chairman, Edward A. Schirmer as co-chairman. Mrs. Thomas F. Paddock heads the production committee. Program chairman is Mrs. Harry J. Mack. On the committee are Mrs. J. Frazer Whitehead, Jr., Mrs. Donald M. Woodruff, Mrs. George R. Fink, Mrs. Nelson Holland, and Mrs. William P. Fisher.

Mrs. George B. Hefferan will supervise the fashion show which is an important portion of the Follies, while Mrs. James McMillan, talent chairman, scouts for members to play dramatic roles. Mrs. A. Frederick Kammer, Jr., will be cabaret chairman.

Co-chairmen in charge of the patroness committee are Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis, Jr., and Mrs. Tant Glancy. Mrs. Stuart Smith and Mrs. William H. Ledyard head the ticket detail, and Mrs. Theodore R. Buttrick, Jr., is finance chairman.

Mrs. J. Frazer Whitehead will select the costumes, and Mrs. Bruce Chalmers will handle properties.

The proceeds from the "Follies" go into the Junior League Welfare Fund Account. This account is expended through civic interest programs or through special projects.

Some of the League enterprises have been the Cancer Clinic at St. Mary's Hospital and at Woman's Hospital. Pioneer House, a research-training center and treatment home for disturbed boys, the Children's Theater Group, which currently is presenting "Hansel and Gretel", and a weekly radio program for children.

General ticket sales for the "Follies" will begin after April 22nd.

ANOTHER MIRROR VANISHES
Theft of an outside mirror from the car of H. G. Peel, a guest of Mrs. John Peel of 446 Roland road, was reported to the Farms police. The theft occurred on the night of March 12 while the car was parked in front of the Peel residence.

Seeking Parts In Yale Show

Grosse Pointe will be well represented in the cast of "Whoosh," the Whiffenpoof Pundit musical show to be staged at Yale, April 29 and 30.

Mrs. William Clay Ford and Mrs. John E. Caulkins, whose husbands attend Yale, tried out last week, with other wives of students and wives and daughters of faculty members, for the feminine roles. The two-act play will include 14 songs, some of which the Pointers may be called upon to sing.

After the first showing at Yale, "Whoosh" will make a tour of other eastern colleges. The Whiffenpoofs are famous as Yale's songsters, and the Pundits are an exclusive literary and social coterie.

Mrs. Ford is the former Martha Firestone, and Mrs. Caulkins was formerly Patricia Wells, of Bay City. They will make their homes in Grosse Pointe after their husbands are graduated from Yale.

Call Sent Out For Volunteers

The American Red Cross needs volunteers for the Home Service Department, to work with servicemen, veterans and their dependents. Those willing to serve must be prepared to take a short training course of a few hours for a few days.

After training the workers are asked to give but one day a week, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. in those willing to serve are urged to contact Mrs. W. F. McGraw, chairman of the Volunteer Home Service Corps of the American Red Cross, 153 East Elizabeth, Room 302. The telephone number is CAadillac 3900, Extension 131.

Luncheon Given By Mrs. Fruehauf

Fourteen guests gathered for a St. Patrick's Day luncheon yesterday in the Kenwood road home of Mrs. Roy Fruehauf. Shamrocks in the center of each card table cover carried out the March 17 decoration scheme.

Present were Mrs. Harold Sauer, Mrs. Jesse Vincent, Mrs. Lloyd Meacham, Mrs. J. Edgar Duncan, Mrs. Edgar Rietz, Mrs. David Marantette, Mrs. Navarre Bennett, Mrs. John Mutschall, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Carl Stewart, Mrs. William Gillette, Mrs. Raymond Schmelzle, and Mrs. Julian McIntosh.

Will Open Home To DAR Chapter

Mrs. James J. Comella of Balfour road will open her home Saturday at 1 o'clock to a meeting of the General Josiah Harmar Chapter of the DAR.

The hostess will serve luncheon with the assistance of Mrs. William Dunlap, Mrs. Thomas C. Whyte, and Mrs. J. Frank McIntosh.

Mrs. Comella and Miss Effie M. Downer, regent, are delegates at the DAR's state convention which is being held today and tomorrow at the Hotel Statler.

Miss Rachel Van Cleve, who was with the USO during the war, will speak Saturday on "Singing to G. I. Joe Around the World."

College Women Planning Benefit

Alumnae of the Seven Women's Colleges are completing plans for the annual benefit they give for their scholarship fund. This year's event will be the presentation of "My Romance," a musical play, in the Cass Theater on April 5. The play comes here after enthusiastic runs in Boston and Philadelphia. It stars Anne Jeffreys and Charles Fredricks. Members of the group sponsoring the play for the night include left to right, MRS. WENDELL GODDARD, general chairman of the committee; MRS. GEORGE JACOBY, chairman for Vassar; MRS. JAMES W. LEE, publicity chairman; and standing, MISS NANETTE EMERY, ticket chairman for Bryn Mawr.

Drama and Creative Arts Occupy Pointers

Events Sponsored by Fine Arts Society and Theater Arts Club Keep Local Residents Busy; Tea to Follow Plays

Pointers are busily engaged this week in both creative and dramatic programs. Mrs. John R. Pear was chairman for the fourth meeting of the Fine Arts Society of Detroit at Alger Branch Museum last evening, and Pointe actresses will take part Friday afternoon when the Theater Arts Club presents two plays in the Players Playhouse.

Mrs. Robert B. Mesmer and Mrs. Frank W. Coolidge, in the cast of "Intermezzo", have just completed five weeks of rehearsal. Members of the cast for "Dark Brown", the second play, include Mrs. Henry C. Bogle, Mrs. James B. Steep, Mrs. Ernest Matlock, Mrs. John H. Warner, Mrs. Leslie C. Putnam, Mrs. Earl J. Hudson, and Mrs. Thornton E. Waterfall.

Maurice Yenn will direct both plays.

Mrs. Matthew Carey is chairman of the tea which will follow the performance. Her assistants are Mrs. Harry L. Hosmer, Mrs. Karl G. Behr, Mrs. J. Gordon Hill, and Mrs. Simon DenUyl.

An exhibit of creative work done by members of the society was a feature of the Fine Arts program last evening. A Fine Arts gay nineties trio played 19th Century music for the occasion.

Assisting Mrs. Pear as hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Cyril J. Barrett, Ralph Calder, Mrs. Agnes Lindemann, Dr. John R. Pear,

Alumnae Groups Hold Meetings

The regular monthly meeting of Detroit alumnae of Alpha Gamma Delta was held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Rudolph E. Larson in Pemberton road. Mrs. Marshall Houghlon conducted a musical program.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Duane O. Butterfield, Mrs. Harold H. McKinnon, and Mrs. Bryn-on Phillips.

The junior group of Kappa Kappa Gamma met Wednesday evening in the Besurpe road home of Mrs. Richard Anderson. Mrs. John Engstrom was the evening's program chairman.

Pointe alumnae of Alpha Phi gathered for dinner last night in the Harvard road home of Mrs. Perry Penz.

Mrs. Forest Olds, Miss Sally O'Connor, and Miss Ruth Jane Tomblin assisted dinner chairman, Mrs. Edward MacKenzie. An evening of bridge followed.

Two Pointers were elected to office at a recent meeting of Gen. Alexander Macomb Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812. Mr. Louis Gascoigne is the new historian, and Mrs. Henry B. Joy, parliamentarian.

We're not only up against bad circumstances but against hard forces out to make the circumstances worse.

Ibex Club to Present Play to Aid Hospital

'January Thaw' Selected for Presentation on April 23 and 24 in Auditorium of Pierce Junior High School

Ibex members have selected "January Thaw" for their annual play presentation, which will be given April 23 and 24 this year in the Pierce Auditorium.

For the second straight year, proceeds from the benefit performance will be given to the Children's Hospital of Michigan, according to Mrs. Harry Esting, honorary president.

Direct from New York comes Richard Charlton, co-producer and co-director of Detroit Stage, Inc., to give the cast professional supervision. During the war years Mr. Charlton served as assistant and successor to screen star Melynn Douglas, who had charge of entertainment in the China-Burma-India theater of operations.

Mrs. Francis B. Van Deusen is general chairman for the affair. Committee chairman include Mrs. John Boydell, properties; Winifred Hughes, publicity; Mrs. Robert Hamilton, posters; Mrs. Edward Tulag, costumes and make-up; Mrs. Richard Hasse, tickets; Mrs. Henry Gage, program; Mrs.

Republican Club To Hear Knight

Members of the Grosse Pointe Republican Club will hear Hale Knight speak on "Local Community Problems," at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Allan Sheldon, 131 Lake Shore road, at 2 p.m. on Monday, March 22.

Mr. Knight is executive secretary of the Detroit Citizens League. Mrs. Lewis L. Smart, president of the club, will preside.

Marilyn Ann Parrish's Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Parrish of Prestwick road have revealed the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Ann Parrish, to William H. Gay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Gay, of Stony Creek, Conn.

The bride-elect is a student at Sullins College in Bristol, Va. Her fiance attended Virginia Polytechnic University before entering the U. S. Navy. He then attended the Naval Academy and Cornell University, and served in the Pacific Theater.

The couple are planning a May wedding.

David Williams, patrons, and Mrs. William Dentler, ushers.

In the cast of "January Thaw" are the following: Mrs. Frank Munger, Mrs. David Stapleton, Mrs. Hill Lange, Mrs. Milton Volkens, Mrs. Thomas Sage, William Dennes, John Peters, Erwin Foersterling, Joey Boydell, Dan Ruell, Eppa H. Heaton, and Jerry Harrington. Rehearsals are now in progress.

The comedy production shows the conflict involved when a widowed father in a will permits two families of opposing tastes to move into an old Connecticut farm house.

Junior League Consultant Here

Miss Mildred K. Wagle, Consultant on Welfare of the Association of Junior Leagues of America, arrived here Monday, March 15, to hold a two-day conference with the local Junior League.

"Women must practice the art of citizenship and look beyond the immediate and personal to act for the common good," said Miss Wagle. She feels that the Junior League program, based as it is on the continued education of its members for intelligent citizen participation through training courses and volunteer placement, opportunities in community agencies, provides a chance for its members to be well-informed and to combat prejudice, ignorance and indifference.

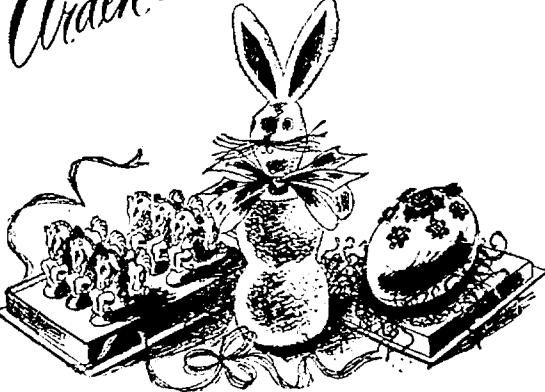

Miss Wagle joined the staff of the Association in 1945, after her return from the South Pacific where she served 27 months on Espiritu Santo, New Hebrides, as Assistant Field Director for the American Red Cross at the 25th Army Evacuation Hospital, and as Psychiatric Assistant for the 27th Infantry Division.

She holds a master's degree from the School of Applied Social Science of the University of Pittsburgh, and has studied at the New York School of Social Work.

Members of the local league entertained the visitor at a luncheon in the Country Club.

The X-Ray Examinations

The X-ray campaign for detection of tuberculosis which ended last Saturday night was a heartening experience for Grosse Pointe in disclosing such a minute proportion of its people affected with tubercular germs. It was also a creditable exhibition of the cooperation of our people with a protective public health service movement.

The results of the examinations were a broader assurance of general health welfare in the Grosse Pointe community. Very few persons were disclosed as suffering from tubercular germs and other malformations and they were turned over to their private physicians for continued observation or treatment. These examinations covered every type of affliction which the X-ray can discover.

The total result offers an assurance to the residents here that well justified the trifling inconvenience of the campaign.

The Michigan Health Department is to be commended for making these free examinations available to the people on a community wide basis, and Dr. Thomas S. Davies, our local Health Officer, is to be thanked for taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the State authorities and bringing this service to the very doors of the people.

Growing Wiser

Many signs appearing on the home front and on the broader world horizon encourage the belief that after more than three years of so-called peace the American people are beginning to move out of the bewilderment and misunderstanding which has encased them like a cloud ever since the war ended.

The one great purpose which they proclaimed at the war's end, to secure a future world peace they now realize has gone a glimmering, at least for the present.

They are beginning to become reconciled to seeing things as they are, not as they hoped them to be, and to act on that safer premise.

They know now that the promise which Russia gave, apparently voluntarily, when she wanted our help badly, that she was divorcing herself from world communism was insincere and utterly phony. The "fifth column" phrase which was employed so continuously only a few years ago has passed out of the world's political lexicon. Now it is communism, identical in technique and basic purpose. We are fast learning these facts.

Russia's studied and constant rebuff of every move we have suggested to implement the United Nations principle and effect a secure world peace has at last led us into a more practical mood to deal with things realistically. The words of sweetness and light of a few short years ago are as dead as the hieroglyphics of ancient Egypt.

If Russia will not play ball as the decent international game should be played we are getting ready to play the game as she understands it.

We hoped for the reconstruction of Germany as an economic and political entity, under the close supervision of the Allies, both for her own revival and for the world's betterment but that didn't suit the Russians who were more bent on getting their ten billions of reparation than any other consideration and wanted to levy this largely on the richer regions of Western Germany which lay in the British, American and French zones of occupation.

The answer to this has been the welding of these zones into an economic unit, and this arrangement is to be still further stiffened by a military alliance between Britain, France and her three friends among the smaller countries on the western side of the continent, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. We are already reconciled in spirit to the necessity of backing them up with our resources of money and material, and men, if necessary.

For our immediate part in this anti-communist drive we are making ready to stake a vast sum of money on the revival of Europe by a pooling of our wealth and resources with their own self help.

Americans, with all their innate horror of war and legalized murder, are rapidly coming to a state of mind that force, potential and in being, and its timely parade is the only language the Russian understands.

They also feel that this course holds, at this time, the best assurance against another world war.

Conciliation and appeasement never did more than momentarily delay an aggressive and arrogant potential enemy. The course of history in the last generation has amply proved this fact.

The growing enlightenment of our own people is another encouraging sign. The refusal of American workmen to work alongside of known communists is illuminative of their clearer thinking and basic patriotism. They properly argue there is no reason to conceal their sentiments from a group whose avowed purpose is to destroy the social, political and economic system under which they have lived and prospered. They believe that if changes are to be made they shall be participants in this change and not have them foisted upon them by conspirators and traitors taking their orders from the other side of the world.

Our people are fast developing a more forthright spirit in facing the problems that have been forced upon them, and in this new awakening lies the best guarantee that the way of life we have selected for ourselves will endure and progress into a yet happier state for us and for all men who are still free and will fight to remain so.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"You are the trip I did not take; You are the pearls I cannot buy; You are my blue Italian lake; You are my piece of foreign sky." ("To My Child" by Anne Campbell)

A prominent local doctor experienced an unpleasant thrill on a recent trip to Kentucky. Some friends arranged for him to visit one of the tobacco plantations one day when an auction was being held. They warned him not to as much as wiggle an eyebrow during the auction or he might find he had signaled the auctioneer . . . and wind up with several thousands of dollars worth of tobacco. Our hero attended, the only layman in a group of about 30 prospective buyers. He moved cautiously as a cat, fascinated with the auctioneer's chant and the quick way in which he caught the buyer's bids without their saying a word. His nose began to itch but he didn't dare scratch it for fear he'd get stuck with some tobacco.

Finally the performance was over and as our friend strolled away, still not sure of himself, one of the buyers came up to him and said, "This your first visit here?" The doctor allowed as how it was . . . then the man thumbed toward a clump of tobacco leaves and said, "You know you got a piece of that, don't you?" The usually mild-mannered Doc looked at the man in horror and bellowed "W-H-A-T." Mentally, he was already taking his case to the Supreme Court. The cruel jester then broke down and explained that he meant as a citizen, he the doctor had a part of everything purchased by the government . . . and that particular stock he indicated HAD been purchased by the government. The gentle doctor mopped his brow and got out of the place . . . but fast!

We are getting tired OF . . . and intend to take umbrage AT . . . all these references over the air and via the written word, to "grandmother's cooking." What was so hot about grandma's cooking anyway? Every time an advertiser wants to impress us with the last word in something edible, he says it's "just like grandmother used to make it." Fiddlesticks! Some of the worst food we've ever tasted was prepared by somebody's grandmother. Our idea of good advertising for food products is the sign we once saw on a bakery truck. It read . . . "Strictly home-made pies. Untouched by human hands."

A woman we know who has been married about 25 years, still complains bitterly because her husband never notices what she is wearing. She sez he wasn't that way AT ALL when they were first married! Well, she's got plenty of company. She gave us a sample of what she means. Recently, she bought a bright red hat with (believe it or not) an antenna sticking way up to her on the front, on top of which perched a grape hyacinth! The hat arrived at the house one morning, just as she had finished breakfast. Instead of showing it to her husband immediately, she disappeared into her room, donned a bright green negligee, then put the hat on and proceeded to vacuum the living room rug . . . a sound that usually attracted her husband's attention, annoyingly.

As he sat at his desk, she paraded about the room, cleaning away like mad, in, about, around, and on his feet. He glanced up, looked at her and said, "Do you HAVE to do that now?" Not a word about the hat! Finally, he kissed her goodbye and left for the office. She was still wearing the hat as she looked forlornly out of the window after him.

We've often wondered about the efficacy of those mysterious powders and solutions that are guaranteed to keep Rover from making mistakes on your rugs and furniture. A friend of ours purchased some of the stuff about 6 weeks ago and after hearing her story, we are further away than ever from a solution. It seems her small pup favored a certain spot in the dining room, so the little woman spread the powder around, but good. The first time the pup went near the spot after it had been treated . . . he sniffed for a few minutes, then curled up and slept on the spot all night. The next day he disappeared and they haven't seen hide nor hair of him since!

We were dining at our favorite restaurant the other night, when a family group came in, consisting of what looked like mamma, papa, grandma, grandpa and two small children. It was quite obvious that the little girl had never been in a restaurant before, hence she was fascinated with the surroundings. When the waiter came to take their order, they all ordered "the works" from soup to you-know-what. Before the waiter departed, the little girl looked up at him and said in a loud treble, "Whose paying for all this?"

Sara Burnham (known to most as "Aunt Sadie"), who has been Detroit's social arbiter ever since we were knee high to a bottle of gin . . . would have been highly amused had she been in the News office last week when a young man called to inquire about her. It would appear that the gent lived here many years ago but hasn't been back for sometime. He telephoned the News and asked one of the girls if Sara Bernhardt was still around! The girl said she was afraid she didn't know what he was talking about . . . whereupon the impatient young man said . . . "Surely you know who Sara Bernhardt is? S-A-R-A-B-E-R-N-H-A-R-D-T . . . she used to be in charge of all the social doings here."

The Memorial Chairman

The selection of Alger Sheldon to head the drive in the campaign to raise the funds for the War Memorial Library is a happy ending to this recent perplexing problem.

Mr. Sheldon, as head of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Association has, more than any other individual in the community, advanced this project to its present healthy state. Many of the men associated with him in the study of the memorial project for the past two years were convinced he was the man to head the final drive, but with characteristic modesty he continued to insist that some other citizen of the Pointe should fill this role. Few men in Grosse Pointe enjoy the combined respect and confidence of the Pointe area in equal degree. He will make a fine leader around whom the men and women of the area can rally to put through this splendid enterprise.

Those associated with him in the movement know that he emphasizes as of first importance the patriotic and memorial character of the enterprise. The library itself, while needed and filling a long felt want in this community, will be largely the vehicle which will enshrine for all time the solemn and grateful memory of the people of Grosse Pointe for its sons who died for their country and to preserve in enduring character the names of those who carried the burden of the day in the hour of their country's peril.

No public project has ever been presented to the people of this community which has such universal appeal. Everyone will wish to have a part in its materialization. That it can and will be done is without question, but it calls for the support of every man and woman and child. Everyone should have a part however modest in the memorial movement, but each person should contribute as generously as his means will permit.

As the plans are perfected for the campaign the public will be kept fully informed.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

What do you all do with your HERMITS out there? We have begun having an unusual number, and in this cold weather we worry about them. Every few days some gentle and kindly soul dies among his old auto parts, tin cans, dressmakers dummies and ancient newspapers. Quite often they leave old bank books which turn out to be stuffed with authentic figures. The authorities guess that New York has hundreds of these frightened people living like moles in the gloomy murk of apartments and houses. The New York NEWS says, "Unfortunately, the nests into which they crawl become health hazards and fire traps—a very serious menace to others."

MRS. VANDERBILT has a new little dog. It is a miniature PINSCHER and looks just like a tiny deer. It has sharply pointed little ears and no tail. It is shy and delicate and leaps gracefully about, touching chair or table as lightly as a leaf. Among MRS. VANDERBILT'S lunch guests last Sunday was M. JACQUES STEARN, French Minister for the Colonies in 1936. M. STEARN was in exile in this country for a time and lectured at Princeton and others of our universities. He said FRANCE will never turn communistic and that he expects war within two years. When M. STEARN left, another guest said France will turn communistic this summer and there will never be a war at all. So you see, it depends on which ear you listen with.

BETTY BETZ had a party the other day in the BLESSED EVENTS ROOM at the STORK CLUB. I don't know why it was a BLESSED EVENT because BETTY'S TEEN AGE column in the Journal American is a lusty year old and I don't know of anything else she is about to produce. The party was a perfect mixture of Park Avenue, Broadway and Newport. MAGGI McNELLIS, the gal on the radio was absolutely ultra. She wore a skintight taffeta basque, beaded in jet, and a bonnet tied under her chin with wide pink ribbons. CLYDE NEWHOUSE, Maggi's husband, said, when he saw the girl-up, "Remind me, dear, to order a boiled dinner tonight—one of us must keep his big, flat feet on the ground."

NANCY de MARGNY was at the party with her brother, just over from London, SIR SIDNEY OAKES; that darlin' MRS. JIM FARLEY, who said she is lonesome for her daughter who is now married and living in Grosse Pointe; MESSMORE KENDALL, up for a few days from Palm Beach and JARO FABRY, the illustrator. Another guest, one of the chiest women in New York, was MRS. CHARLIE BERNIS, wife of Charlie of 21 fame, and another was FRANCES BROOKS, whose parties are legendary.

The Waldorf is rubbing its hands and cracking its own ribs and crowing something terrific about its gustful cheeses, its piquant soups and its palate tickling this and that. They have opened something very special for the men. It is a kind of tavern within the men's bar called the Sign of the Bull and Bear. It is for "men who flock apart to talk the man talk, to bay at the moon with the rest of the man pack—in short to relax and just be our own ignoble and inferior selves." That's the way IRVIN COBB put it. The room is rather patterned after Simpson's in London, with the same great carts to carry the beef or the boiled fowl to your table. If they had bitter beer on tap and cheddar cheese like Simpson's, we women would never get the men out of there.

MARY and CORNELIUS STARR—he is the owner of a great chain of publications in China—had a party in their penthouse the other night. One huge window looks down Fifth Avenue. The city, as far as one could see, was a mass of twinkling lights which seemed woven on a fragile web. Crisp snow, like cold confetti, danced in the air. Central Park, across the way, lay snug and still beneath its blanket of white. The Starrs spend a good half of their time in Shanghai and have recently returned here by way of India. As a result of their travels, their parties have an international flavor, and it is extremely pleasant to come upon new faces—charming Chinese, delightful English and reserved Indians.

The drawing-room has shadow boxes filled with beautiful Chinese things—jades, crystals and fine carved ivories. NEIL said that a year before the war, the Japanese bought the apartment he lived in, in Shanghai, and forced the tenants to move out. Not knowing, at the moment, what he wanted to do with his objets d'art, he had the whole lot crated and sent to New York—since he had an apartment here also. Less than a year later the Japanese swarmed in and took over Shanghai.

Chalfonte Pave Plans Prepared

Engineer Murray Smith has prepared the paving plans for the improvement for the northern end of Chalfonte to the Farms village line.

The distance to be paved is 754 feet. The width of the paved roadway called for in the plans is 24 feet but this led to the discussion whether this width, which is the standard Farms width for this class of street, would conform to the width the Woods might decide for the prolongation of the street into that village.

It was decided to invite alternative bids for both 24 and 28 foot pavements. The bids will be opened on March 29.

CANCER KILLS

FRED M. KOPP, R.P.

Cancer has demonstrated its power to kill. Each year, 170,000 die of this disease. Of this number, 20,000 are boys and girls under the age of 20.

Alarming as these figures are, they represent the ravages of an enemy who can be defeated. We know now that Cancer can be prevented, can even be cured if discovered in its early stages.

Here is a great field for preventive medicine. Regular health examinations lead to the detection of slight symptoms, which if neglected could easily prove fatal.

Medication is always important. This depends upon the druggist. Select a good one.

Building Permits Total $2,671,150

The report of Building Inspector Theodore Beaupre of the Farms, submitted to the council on Monday night, March 15, shows that during the month of February permits were issued for eight residences of a total value of $170,000, ranging in unit price from $10,000 to $75,000.

For the year ending February 29 total permits numbering 214 were issued, of an aggregate value of $2,671,150. Of these 153 were for residences valued at $2,030,100 and the remaining for miscellaneous purposes, including one church and one school.

Crash Blamed On Mail Truck

An automobile accident at Cadieux and Charlevoix at 8:45 o'clock Monday evening, March 15, involved a private car and a U.S. Mail truck. Uncle Sam's vehicle got the ticket.

As Joseph Hahn, of 1723 Hampton, was driving east on Charlevoix he struck a mail truck, driven by Lavine Brown, of 92 Hague avenue, Detroit, who was going south on Cadieux. Both cars were considerably damaged and Hahn was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment for abrasions on both knees.

Brown got a ticket for driving across a line of through travel without due care and caution, and also for not having a windshield wiper.

81 Chickenpox Cases Reported

Childhood diseases, as usual, led the list of cases in the February report of the Grosse Pointe Township, Department of Health, headed by Dr. Thomas S. Davies.

There were 81 cases of chicken pox and 67 cases of mumps reported to the department during the month. Other communicable diseases reported included three cases of measles, and three cases of scarlet fever.

There were also one case of angina and one of pneumonia.

Trombly PTA Meets Mar. 24

Trombly School P.T.A. has planned an unusual meeting for March 24. Daniel L. Beck, owner of the Executives Selection and Training Institute in Detroit will be the speaker. His topic "The Value of the Aptitude Test," will bring out the advantage of using scientific methods when choosing men and women for hiring and for promotion, as well as proper placement of people already employed.

He will also stress in this presentation how to determine the course of study that young people should concentrate on in order to prepare themselves for life work. His institution has tested thousands of people so he is well qualified to give a practical insight into the value of the aptitude test. He will especially emphasize the use of them in helping parents and teachers to better understand their children.

The Kindergarten and First Grade mothers will be the hostesses for refreshments in the gymnasium after visits to the classrooms. Mrs. Albert Law is general chairman and Mrs. Roy Jenkins is in charge of the decorations.

The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. in the auditorium. Then there will be a half hour to consult and visit in the classrooms, and finally an opportunity to enjoy friendships over inviting refreshments.

Cooperation of All Needed To Build Memorial Library

Sports Events Seen As Way to Raise Money for Fund to Honor Men and Women Who Served and Died in World War II

By FRED RUNNELLS

For almost three years the merits of a library, an athletic field house, recreational facilities, a beacon light on Lake St. Clair and numerous other suggestions have been carefully weighed by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Study Group to determine which of them would be most fitting and appropriate in honoring our servicemen and women of World War II.

Much ink was spilled over the pros and cons of the two foremost suggestions, the library and the field house, before the Study Group finally decided in favor of the library because of its dignity and cultural benefits to the entire community throughout the coming years.

Now that we know what our goal is, it is time that we all put our shoulders to the wheel to make the fund raising campaign a huge success and assure ourselves of not the biggest but the most beautiful library in the country.

Being the originator of the field house suggestion, these words may seem strange to those of you who believed the same as I that a field house would be a fitting memorial.

I have not deserted the field house idea BUT in view of the fact that the majority of the community wants a library I sincerely believe that we should do everything in our power to help the community attain its goal.

I feel that if those of us who backed the field house plan would swing our support over to the library that in the not too far distant future the library supporters will gladly help us attain our goal.

Over 150 Grosse Pointe organizations joined forces two weeks ago at the Memorial Library meeting at the high school. At that time a representative from each of the larger organizations was asked to serve on the Memorial Council which will, in the next few weeks, draw up a fund

St. Ambrose Eliminated In Tourney

Redford Union Whips Local Team in Regional Basketball Game

By JOE FROMM

The St. Ambrose basketballers were eliminated from the Ferndale Class B state regional Thursday by a fighting Redford Union quintet 42-39. St. Ambrose led during the first three periods but fell behind in the fourth.

Howard sparked St. Ambrose to a 15-6 first quarter lead. He led the attack with seven points. Jim Burns, Joe Landry, Dick Gallo and Dick Korte each added two points.

Howard continued his pace in the second period with eight of St. Ambrose's 12 points. Landry and Gallo collected the remaining two as St. Ambrose lead 27-19 at half time.

Redford Union opened up in the second half and pulled to within three points of St. Ambrose. Howard and Burns each collect three counters and Korte two.

Redford Union held Howard scoreless till the fourth period and went into the lead. Burns was the only player to score for St. Ambrose in the final period, connecting on a field goal and two free throws in five attempts.

The St. Ambrose scoring was split up between the five starting players. Howard led all scorers with 18 points, twice that of any other player. Burns followed with nine, and Landry, Gallo and Korte four each.

Eight Redford Union players contributed to the scoring attack. Cohoea tied Burns of Ambrose for runner-up honors with nine points.

From Joe To You

Some queer things have happened in the Border Cities League this year concerning state competition. In swimming Monroe finished third in the league yet ranked second in the state while Grosse Pointe, league champs, took a fifth. Second place Royal Oak was near the bottom of the list.

In basketball all Border Cities League teams were eliminated in regionals except fourth place Highland Park, which played in the quarter-finals Wednesday after capturing the Ferndale regionals.

While Grosse Pointe students are wondering about their chances for the sweepstakes trophy, some schools are unaware of its existence. Your reporter has talked with athletes from Royal Oak and Monroe and none of them had heard of the trophy.

The Neighborhood Club League All-Stars were selected by popular vote of athletic director Bill Desrocher, the referees and the managers of the teams in the league.

The list includes Bob Messmer, Glenn Holt, Bob Brown and Tom Ireland of Hanson; Ed Lauer, Red Maison, Bob Van Tiem, Paul, Tom Wilson, Leroy Guaresimo and Woody Giest of the Francois Bulldogs. Representing the AmVets quintet are Tony Scaro and Charlie Doerner. Gabriel Richard placed Tom Molitor, George Verdonek and Jack Bretz on the squad.

The coaches of the AmVets and the Francois Bulldogs were appointed by Desrocher to handle the All Stars.

Spectators' space in the Neighborhood Club gymnasium is limited so come early and enjoy some of the finest basketball to be played in the Pointe this winter.

Furton's Team Leading League

Harry Furton's team holds the lead in the St. Paul's Men's Bowling League, according to the standings of March 11. The captain also holds the big individual game mark for the season with a 239. L. Brecht has the highest total for three games with a 616.

DuRocher High St. Paul Scorer

Paul DuRocher, St. Paul eager, scored 142 points in 17 games this season, bettering by one the 141 points scored by teammate Jim Law. Law's points were scored in 18 games.

Harry Hammond, center, came in third in scoring with 96 points. Hollerbach and Chuck Wylie ranked fourth and fifth with 77 and 70 points respectively.

Twelve players shared in the scoring. Of the 12, 10 will be back next year. DuRocher and John Hutton will be missing.

Blue Devils to Open Tennis Season April 20 Against HP

Forty-five boys turned out for the first tennis meeting of the year at Grosse Pointe High School Monday night under the direction of the new coach, Merlin Schultz.

This year's schedule opens with a home match on April 20 against Highland Park. It is rumored that Highland Park has been practicing this winter and expects to have a much stronger team this season. From all reports the entire Border Cities League will be more closely matched.

Although Monroe has lost its state champion, Vic Braden, that school expects to have another strong aggregation. Last year this team was the only one to beat the Blue Devils.

This year the Pointe team will be built around the holdover varsity members who include: Dan Guy, Harold Golla, George Kennedy, Bruce Kirchner, Bob Schneider, Bob Stritzinger, John Walton, and Marv Weaver. It is also expected that some new sophomore talent will make a strong bid for the ten-man team.

Practice has started in the girls' gym where a tennis court is again being utilized until and whenever the weather settles down. During the first few weeks the team will practice fundamentals.

One of the innovations for this season by the new coach will be a tennis ladder open to any boy

AmVets Gain In Cage Loop

Neighborhood Club League's Race for First Place Grows Hotter

The race for first place in the Neighborhood Club Basketball League got hotter last Monday night, March 15, when the second place AmVets clipped the wings of the high flying St. Paul quintet, 42-38, and moved to within one game of a tie for first place with the Hanson Chevrolet outfit.

A neat bit of stalling by the AmVets in the final minute of the game handed St. Paul its first defeat in six starts to halt a five game winning streak.

Charlie Doerner annexed individual scoring honors with 16 points and Bob Van Tiem and Ed Lauer tied for second place honors with 13 points each.

The Francois Bulldogs toyed with the Defer Cagers, 38-24, to win their fourth game of the season and move within one game of the 500 mark which they must have to become eligible for the playoffs.

Patty Hass, starting his first game this season, stole the spotlight from the Bulldogs' high scoring twins, Tom Wilson and Lee Guaresimo, by racking up 10 points for scoring honors.

On March 9 Defer edged St. Clair in a 21-20 decision. The loss dropped St. Clair deeper in the cellar sport with 5 defeats in as many starts. Doug Sigfried scored one third of Defer's points to win scoring honors.

The heretofore unbeaten league leading Apaches' encountered rough going last week and dropped two ball games to the second place Huns and the third place St. Clair No. 1 quintets. Despite the double defeat the Apaches' practically clinched the Minor division title.

The Apaches' first defeat was administered by St. Clair No. 1, 32-27, on Saturday, March 13. Jack Sailor of St. Clair was the Apaches' stumbling block when he scored 17 points to annex high point honors. Dave Connell led his team's losing cause with 11 points.

The ever-improving Huns quintet squeezed out a 20-19 victory over the league leaders on Monday, March 15, to take a firmer grip on second place in the standings. With three more games remaining on the schedule the Huns have an outside chance to tie the Apaches, but this is not probable.

Bill Pierce led the Huns to victory with an 8 point scoring performance to edge the Apaches' Dave Connell for scoring honors. In the only other game played last week Thursday March 11, the Swishers had an easy time of it by beating St. Paul, 57-32. Jim Thayer of the Swishers was high with 19 points.

Part of Farms Street Vacated

Pursuant to published legal notice heretofore made, the Farms Board of Trustees on Monday night, March 15, formally vacated that part of William avenue south of Hillcrest.

The abandoned street now reverts to the ownership of the abutting property owners.

Hoyt Submits Police Report

The report of Chief of Police Walter R. Hoyt of the Farms for the month of February covers the operations of the department in detail for that period.

It notes that the police responded to 156 police calls during the month; ten adults and three juveniles were arrested and $306 in fines collected.

DANGEROUS BUSINESS The Farms police department was enlisted to lecture a six-year-old boy who burned the hair of a five-year-old girl while playing with matches on March 14. Sergeant Allard delivered the lecture.

Blue Devil Basketball Team Drops First Tournament Tilt

Grosse Pointe High Five Appears Jittery and Sadly Lacking In High Pressure Experience as Pontiac Wins

By Fred Runnells

A tournament-shy Grosse Pointe High School basketball team started and finished its bid for a playoff spot in the state basketball tournament on the first night, March 10, when it dropped a sloppy, 31-22, decision to the Pontiac Chiefs in the first game of the Regional tournament now underway at Pontiac High School.

The Wernnetmen, sadly lacking in tournament experience, turned in their worst game of the season and were held to a meager 22 points. It was the lowest score a Grosse Pointe team has been held to in a good many years.

A deliberate Pontiac team held the Pointers to one point in the first period. Herb Gerhard registered the Blue Devils' first quarter score.

The Chiefs held a 7-1 lead going into the second period, in which Vince Schoeck paced the Pointers to within one point of a tie at the half time intermission, with five points.

In the third quarter it was all Schoeck again. Vince racked up three field goals of the five scored by the Pointers, which found them still on the short end of a 23-20 count going into the last period.

Grosse Pointe's usually reliable Bayard Johnson had a bad night offensively, making only one free throw in five attempts before he was ejected from the game, on five personal fouls, late in the third period. During the regular season Johnson could always be counted on to garner at least eight points. However, he was a stand-out on defense.

Starting the last period the Pointers were far from being counted out by the small band of Grosse Pointe students who followed the team.

It was in this portion of the contest that the Blue Devils really folded scoring only two points. The Chiefs were able to find the basket on three occasions for field goals but added two free throws to bring their total to 31 and a chance to meet Mount Clemens in the second round of play.

Mount Clemens drew a bye in the first round. Throughout the game Pontiac befuddled the Blue Devil guards by checking them in the back court, which resulted in some very poor passing. Several times these bad passes were turned into Pontiac scores as the alert Chiefs intercepted the ball end drove in on the Pointers basket.

Pontiac's captain, Wilson captured scoring honors from Vince Schoeck with 12 points. Schoeck wound up with 11.

Never has a Grosse Pointe basketball team done much in tournament play. It seems that Blue Devil teams get a bad case of nerves when playing outside their own conference. Last year's cage squad was one of the best the school has ever had and won the BCL crown but when it came to making a bid for state honors it fell by the wayside in the second round of the regionals, losing to Dearborn who went all the way to the state finals before losing.

This sad situation could be remedied if the school could find weak sisters as Mount Clemens and Hazel Park for non-league games. Both of these teams enjoy a home and home series each year with the Blue Devils and each year the Pointers chalk up four easy victories on the blue side of the basketball ledger. Neither of these teams are in a class with the Pointers and should be dropped in favor of stronger competition.

Grosse Pointe should look with favor upon a Christmas week tournament held in Saginaw each year. The tournament only counts as one game on the Pointers schedule, even though the team, if it wins the title, plays four Grosse Pointe lads a chance to overcome tournament jitters instead of waiting for the state tournament and sacrificing their chances.

Here is how the boys scored during the 1947-48 season:

Table with 4 columns: Name, GP, FG, FT, TL listing basketball statistics for various players.

KEY—G.P. (games played), F.G. (field goals), F.T. (free throws), * (played half season). Grosse Pointe's grand total was 559 for a 40.6 average as against its opponents 34.8 average. The Blue Devils free throw average was .528 as against its opponents .522.

The scoring for the players who moved to varsity and those left at the end of the season is:

Table with 4 columns: Name, FG, FT, PF, PP listing basketball statistics for various players.

Although Alex Mann scored only nine points he looked good in the games he played. He became eligible when he entered the tenth grade in February. A total of 23 players actually played during the season although only 11 players were left on the squad at the end.

The reserves had a 457 average in free throws as compared to .376 for all the opponents.

John B. Murphy Dies Suddenly

John B. Murphy, 27, of 343 Kirby road, died suddenly in his home on March 12 following a heart attack. While he had not been well since returning from war service, his death was very unexpected.

Farms firemen vainly administered inhalator treatment following the attack. Mr. Murphy was pronounced dead by Dr. H. A. Meinecke of Pemberton road.

He had lived in the Pointe for the last year, prior to which he was a resident of Detroit. In 1943 he ran as a candidate for Detroit City Clerk against Thomas Leadbetter.

Mr. Murphy spent two years as a member of the Eight Army Air Force and served with that unit at Hiroshima and Okinawa. He held the rank of private first class.

He conducted the firm of J. B. Murphy and Associates, a theatrical film service with offices in the Majestic Building. He was a member of the Detroit Variety Club and a graduate of Cooley High School.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth; a son, John Barlow Murphy, 2nd; his mother, Mrs. Irene Barlow Murphy, a very well known Detroit school teacher; and a sister, Mrs. Alexander G. Tsiantas of Nashua, N. H.

Funeral services were held Monday in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church with Dr. Frank Pitt officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

Cub Scout Heads Plan for Circus

Groundwork for a District Three Cub Scout Circus was laid at a meeting held at Denby High School on March 8. The District was represented by Charles Lord, Chairman of the District Activities Committee, and the following Cub Scout Packs sent representatives: Pack 18 of Barbour Community; Packs 42, 98, 113, 115, 129, 246, 309, 354, 420 and 455 of Denby Community; Packs 74, 86, 147, 290 and 399 of Grosse Pointe Community; Pack 185 of Southeastern Community, and Packs 118, 154, 175 and 286 of Jackson Community.

The group elected as permanent chairman, Dayton Dailey, Cubmaster of Pack 113. Pictures of last year's Denby Community Cub Circus were shown for the enlightenment of the assembled group. It was decided that the Cub Circus would be held in June and the definite date will be decided at the next meeting which will be held on Monday, April 5 in Room 202, Denby High School, beginning at 8 p.m.

The offices of Secretary, Treasurer and Circus Ringmaster will be filled by election and details regarding the location, publicity plans, arrangements for side shows and Grand Parade will be worked out.

Representatives of Scout Cub Packs 110 and 209 of Barbour Community; Packs 45 and 425 of Denby Community; Packs 19 and 156 of Grosse Pointe Community; Packs 148 and 246 of Jackson Community and Packs 244 and 272 of Southeastern Community are urged to attend in order to insure full participation by all of the 31 Cub Packs in District Three.

Leo Cole, District Commissioner, hopes that the Cub Circus project which was originated by five Cub Packs of Denby Community two years ago, and which grew to include 11 of the 12 Denby Packs last year, will now be expanded to include the entire 31 Cub Packs in District Three. Eventually, the success of this new project in Cub Scouting may lead other Districts in the United States to include it in their activities also.

WILLIAMS PROMOTED
Arthur G. Williams of Lincoln road has been promoted to second vice-president of the Commerce Clearing House, Inc., with offices in the David Stott Building.

Film to Depict Passion Story

The most powerful sermon of the screen presenting the birth, life, death and resurrection of Christ, will be shown at Calvary Lutheran Church on Sunday, March 21.

The first showing will be in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the second in the evening at 8 o'clock.

Since the scenes were made on actual location in the Holy Land this showing of the Passion Story will prove to be both inspiring and educational.

To defray the expense of this unusual program a charge of 50c for adults, 25c for older children and 10c for children under 8 years, will be made.

Ibex Club to Hear Talk By Industrial Designers

The Ibex Club will hold its second evening meeting of the year on Friday, March 19, at 8:15 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Elmer Benzin, 762 Lochmoor boulevard.

Industrial Designers Ornas and LaBarre will address the club and present displays. Husbands and escorts will be welcomed, but reservations must be made with Mrs. Hunter at TU-2-8968.

Villages Study Mack Lighting

The Village of Grosse Pointe Woods some time ago asked that a representative of the Farms village meet with its council in the near future to discuss better street lighting on Mack avenue between Cook road and Moross road.

At the Farms council meeting on Mar. 16, the invitation was accepted with the additional suggestion that a representative of the Public Lighting Commission of Detroit be also requested to attend the meeting. Part of the opposite side of Mack lies in Detroit and the better lighting of the avenue is a common problem between the three municipalities.

RIVERSIDE KIWANIS CLUB
The Riverside Kiwanis Club will listen to an explanation of the Rodent Eradication program of the Detroit Sanitary Engineer's Office at the regular weekly luncheon of the Club on Thursday, March 18 at the Hotel Whit-tier.

Bahai's to Hear Father and Son

Monroe Ioas and his son Charles will address a public audience at the Richard School, McKinley and Kercheval, Friday evening, March 19 at 8:15 p.m.

Charles Ioas, a Baha'i youth from Chicago, spent the summer of 1946 in Latin America and Central America, working with Baha'i youth groups there for world peace. Last year, he spent the summer in Mexico.

Charles Ioas will talk on "The Goal is World Order," and his father will show illustrative slides on this subject.

There is no admission charge, and no collection. The public is cordially invited.

Incentives based on fear or greed, cannot meet a nation's need.

Special Service On Palm Sunday

Special services have been planned at the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church for Palm Sunday through Easter Sunday. Palm Sunday morning the four combined choirs will sing. On Palm Sunday evening at 7:30 the combined adult choirs will present Maunder's "Olivet to Calvary" under the direction of Grace Samson, Minister of Music. The baptismal service will precede the musical program.

On Tuesday night, March 23, at 8 p.m., Dr. Albert Coe of Chicago will be the preacher at a special Lenten Service. Thursday night, March 25, services of Holy Communion will be observed. The Service of the Holy Watch will be observed from 12 to 3 on Good Friday. This is a community service with neighborhood churches cooperating.

The Easter Day begins with a sunrise service and breakfast at seven. Two identical morning services will be conducted at 9:30 and 11:15 with Rev. J. P. Hendershot as the preacher. Easter Evening worship is at 7:30 with special music. The associate minister Rev. Roger Sharpe will preach.

The All Girl Choir will sing. Marilee Thorpe, a former choir member and now an organ student at Kalamazoo College, will play an organ recital at the beginning of the service.

Your Electric Servant

You've never seen me before because I've always stayed inside the REDDY-BOX—your electric outlet. Now I'm stepping out so that we can get better acquainted.

I'm the symbol of good electric service . . . your servant that runs everything electrical.

I'm not like anyone you've ever seen before. My body is made of lightning flashes—my nose a light bulb—my ears are outlets—and those two things sticking out of my head are wisps of curly hair. I move silently in my rubber shoes. I move swiftly too, at the speed of 186 thousand miles per second . . . I'm the fastest thing on earth.

I'm your economical and willing servant who works long hours at low wages. Whenever you want me I'll be waiting in your nearest REDDYBOX—electric outlet. Remember, just . . . "PLUG IN,—I'M REDDY".

Members of the Village Garden Club will meet for luncheon tomorrow at the Women's City Club and then go on to Convention Hall for the flower show.

MRS. CHARLES A. DEAN, JR., of Lewiston road was seated at the speakers' table at the luncheon last week honoring CLARE BOOTH LUCE, who appeared in Detroit as the Town Hall lecturer.

This will be a busy two weeks for LOWRY JONES of Washington road. She boarded a train Thursday for Washington, D. C., to spend the weekend with former classmates at the Shipley School in Bryn Mawr. From Washington, her path runs to Philadelphia where she's visiting still more schoolmates.

Following a two-month stay in Bal Harbour, Fla., the FORREST W. STARLINGS are once more home in Buckingham road.

During the Detroit run of "The Inspector Calls" at the Cass, MR. AND MRS. CHARLES F. NAVIN of Yorkshire road are enjoying a reunion with their niece, MRS. MELVILLE COOPER, whose husband is starred in the play. Mrs. Cooper's mother, MRS. FREDERICK SUTHERLAND, is expected from Toronto while her daughter is in the city.

In honor of their son, LLWYD, who was confirmed Sunday in the chapel of Christ Church, the E. LLWYD ECCLESTONES gave a buffet luncheon in their Lincoln road home. Among the 35 guests was LYNN TRUDELL, another of the confirmees, who is the daughter of the Junior JAMES TRUDELLS, also of Lincoln road.

Lakeland avenue is the new address of MR. AND MRS. GEORGE BRETT SHAFFER, who have moved from Cadieux road.

Pointe Players Getting into Production

Members of the Grosse Pointe High School's thespians' organization, making up for the first performance of "The Man Who Came to Dinner", which is being repeated Friday and Saturday night, March 19 and 20 in the High School auditorium. Left to right are, BARBARA GREGORY, chief make-up artist; BOB BOLO, (leading man); CARROLL GRYLIS, (leading lady); TOM FENSKÉ and PAT HAMMOND.

The Emma Willard Alumnae Association of Michigan held a bridge luncheon last week in the home of the president, MRS. J. GORDON HILL, in Cloverly road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

MRS. HAROLD McKINNON of Grayton road was hostess at a luncheon of the East Side group of Alpha Gamma Delta alumnae last week.

MRS. FRANK W. COOLIDGE has returned to her home in Kennington road after a week's visit with her son and daughter-in-law, MR. AND MRS. FRANK W. COOLIDGE, JR., in Winnetka, Ill.

Until April 1 the R. NOBLE WETHERBEES of Whittier road will enjoy a Miami holiday.

The monthly meeting of the Rockford College Club was held in the McMillan road home of MRS. ROBERT HERDEGEN last week.

ANNE ERKFITZ will arrive March 25 from Brenau College, Gainesville, Georgia, to spend the spring vacation with her parents, DR. AND MRS. ARTHUR W. ERKFITZ of E. Jefferson avenue. Anne has been chosen by the faculty of Brenau College as a member of the International Relations Club. This club is open to sophomores, junior and senior students elected by the faculty for distinction in scholarship.

Recent returnees from Florida are MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR G. WILLIAMS of Lincoln road. They spent two months in Ft. Meyers and Miami Beach.

Kent's Reopens Optical Studios

The Kent Jewelry Company has announced the resumption of complete optical service at its store at East Jefferson and Eastlawn. Examinations, visual training and other services are available in the upstairs optical studios of the store.

Dr. Robert A. Eilertsen is in charge. He attended DePauw University and was graduated from the Southern College of Optometry in Memphis, Tenn., one of the country's largest medical and optometric research centers.

Dr. Eilertsen is a member of Omega Delta, national professional optometric fraternity, the American Optometric Association, the Michigan Optometric Association and the Wayne County Optometric Association. During the war he was stationed at the United States Naval Hospital in Portsmouth, Va., in charge of the eye, ear, nose and throat clinic's department of visual training.

Methodist Junior Choir To Sing on Palm Sunday

On Palm Sunday, March 21, the Junior Choir of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will make its initial appearance. Mrs. Fred Asmus, 454 Manor road, the director, has been rehearsing the group for several weeks.

The group includes Judith Wetzel, 425 Cloverly road; Judith Vanness, 75 Renaud road; Peggy Munson, 4175 Courville; Peggy Proctor, 31 Radnor circle; Sandra Santmyers, 303 Moross road; Carolyn Reidy, 2041 Van Antwerp road; Marcia Slocum, 2057 Lancaster road; Patricia Nichols, 422 Madison place; Rita Mary Wales, 1260 Cook road; Jimmy Brown, 1007 Yorkshire road; Peter Sterling, 1005 Kensington road; John Asmus, 454 Manor road; and Lynda Bouse, 2073 Lancaster road.

A cordial invitation is extended to the children of members and friends of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church to join this group.

Methodist Women Plan Two Group Meetings

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will hold its group meetings on Wednesday, March 24.

The Alpha Group will hold its meeting at 1 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Lee S. Walker, 865 Bedford road. Mrs. M. F. Santmyers, 303 Moross road, chairman, will preside. The project for the year will be selected.

The Doris White group will meet at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Hugh C. White, 2049 Van Antwerp road. Mrs. Francis Shaw, 19002 Chandler Park drive, will review the book "Commitment to Us" by Willis Lamont. The group will finish making the cancer pads which were begun at the last meeting.

A world-encircling family of nations cannot be organized. Like any other family it has to be born and bred.

Scouts Will See Rose Bowl Film

Films of the 1948 Rose Bowl Game between the University of Michigan and Southern California will be shown at the Father and Son Dinner of Boy Scout Troop 290 and Cub Pack 290, Grosse Pointe Woods, to be held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church at 6:30 p. m., Wednesday, March 31.

Commentator on the film will be Victor Heyliger, U. of M. hockey coach, who also will exhibit films on camping and wild life in Yellowstone Park.

Advancement and achievement awards will be presented by both the Scout troop and Cub pack. Music will be furnished by the Cub Pack Band, directed by Paul Heidrich.

Dinner will be served by the boys' mothers. Approximately 250 fathers and sons are expected to attend.

Pointers Have Parts in College Production

The spring social season of the Detroit Commercial College opened last Thursday in the auditorium of the Detroit Women's City Club, with a matinee featuring comedy skits and novelty acts written and produced by the seniors.

Grosse Pointers taking part in the cast included: Dorothea Davis, 1141 Grayton road; and Jack Newman, 1882 Lancaster.

ALARM EXPLAINED

An alarm went out on the night of March 11 that there had been a burglary and entry at the Alger Club. Investigation by the City police showed that the alarm was caused by the entry of an employee of the Club at an unusual hour when no one was supposed to be around.

ROOF FIRE IN CITY

A fire at 514 St. Clair on March 12 at 10 o'clock at night caused considerable damage to the roof. The fire was discovered by a woman in the neighborhood who turned in the alarm. The occupants, were away at the time and the fire is believed to have been caused by sparks from some neighboring chimney.

Pointe Packard Personnel Totals 200 Years Service

Henry Whiting, president of Packard Grosse Pointe, Inc., celebrated his second anniversary as a Packard dealer on March 16 by informing his customers and other friends that "twice as many new cars will be available for our distribution in Grosse Pointe and East Detroit during the year starting April 1 as we've had during the past year."

He explained the new-car quota of his dealership has been doubled as a result of "steadily-improving production" at the Packard factory.

"This news is as stimulating to us as it is to our customers who have been waiting patiently for new cars," Whiting said. "Two years ago, when I went into business for myself after nearly 25 years with the Packard Motor Car Company, I figured this dealership would give me an unusual opportunity to provide highly-personalized service on a regular basis."

"More new cars, of course, will enable us to do an ever better job in the future than we've tried to do in the past."

Although the dealership is only two years old, Whiting and his department heads represent nearly 100 years of service to Packard customers in Grosse Pointe and East Detroit.

In addition to Whiting's 27 years, Oscar G. Heinrich, service manager, has been associated with Packard 37 years; Gerald F. (Sonny) Schneider, sales manager, 21 years; Milton Reischel, parts and accessories manager, 12 years; and Edward McCutcheon, business manager, two years.

"The Packard service of the mechanics and other men in the shop adds to another 100 years," Whiting pointed out.

The dealership jointly occupies the one-story building at 15205 East Jefferson with the Grosse Pointe branch of the Automobile Club of Michigan. The structure, containing 25,000 square feet of space, is located on a lot 140 feet wide and 310 feet deep; which provides parking facilities for at least 100 cars. The service department has stalls for work on 35 cars at the same time.

Whiting estimated more than 20,000 persons came into the building during the past three months for Packard or Automobile Club service.

He said the dealership has expanded to include a body and upholstery repair department, under the supervision of Tom Hossler. This shop makes and repairs convertible tops, tailors seat covers, and repairs fire damage to body and upholstery.

"We feel the buyer's market in automobiles is not far off," Whiting said, "and frankly we are looking forward to it!"

DAR Holding State Parley

The 48th Michigan State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution is being held March 17 to 19 at the Statler Hotel with the Louise St. Clair Chapter as hostess for the three day event. Mrs. William D. Lent-Koop, the Regent of the chapter, is the general chairman.

There was a tea in Newberry House on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Henry B. Joy, national vice-president general (Honorary) of the organization. Mrs. Roy E. DeHart was chairman of this tea and Mrs. Raymond H. Berry, chairman of the hostesses.

The Wednesday luncheon was under the direction of the Junior American Citizens Committee with Mrs. Robert Jupe in charge of decorations.

Mrs. H. B. Joy will have as her house guests Mrs. Donald B. Adams, national senior president of the D. A. R., and Mrs. James Patton, the first vice-president general, (National), D. A. R.

Mrs. Robert O. Artner is chairman of the Pages; Mrs. Hanzel D. Wilson, chairman of information desk; Miss Eloise O. Gardard, chairman of finance.

For boys and girls, ages 6 and over, at the Neighborhood Club Friday evening, March 19, from 7-8 p.m., there will be added thrills and surprises so don't miss the big affair. Ten cents is the admission fee.

State's Edict Hangs Heavy Over Shores

New Developments Balked Until Solution To Sewer Problem Is Found

Village Manager Tom Jeffers of Grosse Pointe Shores presented a lengthy report to the village council at its meeting on March 8, reviewing in detail the present situation with respect to the village's sewer and making certain recommendations.

The sewer situation has long been complicated by the edict of the State health authorities that the village must proceed with the construction of a sewer system which would make a complete separation of its sanitary and storm water sewage. This was a direction more severe than has been actually applied to any of the other Pointe communities and presented a financing problem of great magnitude for this relatively small community.

The State has also prohibited the extension of its present sewage system to any new developments until such a dual disposal had been provided or promised to be installed at an early date.

It was in compliance with the state's dictum that a bond issue was proposed. This was defeated by the property owners because it entailed on them an unknown expense, but obviously a very considerable one in connecting up their present homes with the dual disposal system.

Mr. Jeffers' proposal, which followed largely the lines laid down by the Mason Brown engineering concern some time ago, was that an interceptor be built along the lakeshore for the handling of the sanitary sewage. This would be carried back to the Milk river sewer and thence down to Detroit for treatment in the Detroit sewage treatment plant.

The immediate purpose to be served would be to provide a plan whereby new subdivisions could hook up their houses under a plan which it was hoped the State Health authorities would permit for future building. It would at least keep any further sanitary sewage from entering the lake and the new developments would make a welcome addition to the village tax rolls.

This sanitary interceptor would eventually take care of all of the village's sanitary sewage.

As the plan was discussed at the meeting Monday, the fear was expressed that the State might insist that inasmuch as the village was about to undertake this partial remedy, applying in the first instance only to new construction, it might as well go ahead and do the whole job at this time.

Conservatory of Music Pupils to Give Recital

The Grosse Pointe Conservatory of Music will have its regular monthly recital on Friday evening, March 19, in the school studios at 15219 E. Jefferson.

Students of Lillian Diegel, Marie Curriess, Emily Hauss and Frank Bridges will be presented. Among the performers will be: Norman Tufford John McCurdy, Harry Eason, Gordon Genter, Joan Ticknor, Anita Hatch, Sharon Potts, Patricia Connors, Marilyn Schwartz, Grace Buhl, Jess Whitehurst, Robert Metzler, Barbara Shauman, Judy Knaggs and Sheila Sliman.

This would entail an early outlay which the village does not wish to assume at this time.

The plan is due for long and careful consideration by the trustees in the near future.

Driver Snared In Truck Hoist

Harry Matthes of Eastlawn, Detroit, had a narrow escape while unloading his truck at 351 Mt. Vernon, Grosse Pointe Farms, on the afternoon of March 9.

Matthes' shirt and jacket caught in the drive shaft of the truck's hoist. He was able to tear himself free before he was seriously injured, escaping with a scraped and scratched right arm.

Fire Extinguisher Used To Desecrate New Home

Another case of malicious mischief was reported in the Farms last week when the police were informed someone had gotten into the new home being built near the Pine Woods in Lothrop road by Alexander Girard.

A piece of lumber was used to break a window and the contents of two fire extinguishers had been emptied over the walls and ceilings of two of the rooms

Notice To Bidders Excavation and Refilling Swimming Pool Grosse Pointe Park

Sealed bids will be received by the Village of Grosse Pointe Park in their office at 15115 E. Jefferson Ave., Grosse Pointe Park, until 5:00 P. M., E.S.T., March 22, 1948, for the following work and material:

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

MRS. SANDY WEINER... home from visiting the Sam Bells in Chandler, Ariz. . . and catching up on what's been happening in Grosse Pointe . . . and that fashionable rendezvous, Hawthorne House . . . wearing a smart, soft pink wool suit . . . single breasted with boxy coat . . . and a Peter Pan Collar. With it she chose a trim white crepe blouse and let her dark locks fly in the mid-March breezes.

MRS. JAMES McMILLAN . . . long a suit devotee . . . this time lunching with friends in a trig, man-tailored glenplaid suit . . . of faint gray. Her blouse was a crisp white starched affair and she topped her neat outfit with a deep brown felt hat trimmed with a tall, question mark feather.

MRS. EDWARD S. EVANS JR. . . looking dashing in a dark brown, elegantly fitted suit with a haunting pin stripe of muted, red brown. Mrs. Evans is another of the Pointe's chic young matrons who prefers to dash about without a hat.

BRIDE-ELECT LEE VALADE making a dramatic entrance at a cocktail party in the most swithering black crepe short length evening frock. Cut very low in back, a hint of black net fell as half-collar, revealing just the lower half of the bare back. Clips caught the gown at the shoulders and it was sleeveless. Vampish as all get out.

MRS. WILLIAM FARR . . . fashion picture come to life . . . in a gray wool, long sleeved blouse, long swirl skirt of a deeper mauve tone and a cumberbund of shocking pink satin. The pink note was repeated in a satin bow which held her skin-tight coiffure at the back.

PILFERINGS

From Ilka Chase's "Free Admission," just published: "I discovered that even the world-famous and strong-minded (Bette Davis) are subjected to a weakness of my own and the discovery brought me great comfort.

"We are going on location to Arrowhead Lake, where I had never been, and the question of what to wear was a weighty one. I knew it was in the mountains, but was it really cold or just cold for California? On the other hand, the drive up would probably be on the warm side. What to put on? I finally settled for an olive green gabardine suit. Once the choice had been made, I considered it inspired and went happily off to the studio, where the cast was to assemble and be driven up in cars. Alas, my complacency was short-lived.

"No matter how pleased I may be with my clothes when I am ordering them, no matter how successfully I may feel they have turned out the day they come home from the shop and are lifted from their boxes, I have only to walk into a restaurant or the theater or a friend's house to be instantly convinced that every woman there is more appropriately and becomingly dressed than I. That day at the studio was no exception. I arrived in my gabardine, Bette arrived in distinguished tweeds, and my heart sank. Of course, I thought, tweed. Even I, dope that I am, should have known enough for that. Correct and smart. Naturally. And far better cut than this sacking I'm draped in. I drove to the mountains plunged in gloom and self-disgust.

"Later that afternoon Bette asked me to come over to her cottage for a drink with her and her husband. In the course of the visit I remarked that I liked her suit and that it was the perfect thing for Arrowhead. She looked at me in pleased disbelief. "You think so?"

"Yes, of course. I only wish I had one to wear up here." "The Duse of the screen burst into the unrestrained laughter which is characteristic of her. "My God," she said, "that's funny. I'd been debating what to wear and I finally settled for this, then you walked on the lot. I took one look at you and thought, 'Oh, course, Ilka's no fool, gabardine. That's what I should have on!' I damn near went back home to change."

MRS. LOUIS E. VANDEGRIFT OF MOROSS ROAD

By KITTY CARNEY

"I think hobbies always open doors," opined Mrs. Louis E. Vandegrift, whose life has been a succession of opening doors. "In the complexities of our modern civilization, we need hobbies. It's better for us to wear out than to rust out."

With her husband, a professor of civil engineering at Wayne University, and their daughter, Mary Lou, a junior at Grosse Pointe High, she lives at 319 Moross road.

Known for her success in the literary and radio world, Mrs. Vandegrift began her "writing hobby" some years ago by composing birthday and greetings verses for fellow workers in an insurance office in Columbus, O. Then, while the editor of the company magazine was in Europe, she substituted for him.

Named Radio Head Continuing as editor, she transformed the paper into a family type magazine, gradually taking on the firm's public relations work, advertising literature, and printing department. When the insurance company purchased a radio station, naturally Marie Williams was on the radio advisory committee. To her surprise, she was named radio station manager of operations. This position involved taking charge of administrative and technical ends, sales and programs.

The radio part of her life would make fascinating reading in itself; in fact, she has a half-completed book built around her radio experiences. In it, she will include details about the second affiliated station which the company bought, and her work in founding two other Ohio radio stations . . . all this in the days when radio was just moving from the infant stage. But that's another story.

What has the radio work to do with her writing? Besides serving as general manager of the several stations, she looked into the script problem and became adept at composing the documentary and historical scripts for many of her scheduled programs.

Time Out Despite her varieties of jobs and hobbies, Marie Williams took time out to marry Louis Vandegrift, and then continued her radio and newspaper work.

Although this prolific writer has no exact record of the number of features she has sold, she knows that at least 500 of her poems have been published. She once turned down an offer to publish a book of her lighter verse, because she hoped to write more lasting poetry.

A graduate of Ohio State University, Mrs. Vandegrift was an English Arts major. Affiliated with the American Pen Women, National Society of Arts and Letters, and Detroit Women Writers, she is also a devotee of Ohio history. She is now preparing a historical book on her home state.

Mrs. Vandegrift has been ill during most of the year that the family has lived in Grosse Pointe. She laughingly asserts that she is performing her first civic duty this month by soliciting for the Red Cross in her neighborhood. The Vandegrift home is full of interesting curios, shows the varied tastes of the three members of the family. Even singing—singing—and enjoys her work with the G. P. High a capella choir.

Prose, poetry and radio are not Mrs. Vandegrift's only loves in the hobby line. Somehow, she finds time for oil painting and has sandwiched in a few classes under Stanley Barrett at Grosse Pointe High night school. Beautiful painting in the Vandegrift home bear testimony to her talent, but the most significant example of her work is in the Ohio home from which they moved.

On the ceiling beams and panels of that living room, she painted ordinary scenes and things they liked . . . the Ohio River flowing past their home, the Pinochio characters her daughter loved, their dog, the panorama of life around them. She treasures photos of these paintings and of the Swedish style interior of that home in Worthington . . . because Mr. Vandegrift too has a fascinating hobby—remodeling interiors.

Packard Board Loses Pointers

The Packard Motor Car Company has announced the retirement of three directors—Alvan Macauley, chairman of the board; Henry E. Bodman and Robert B. Parker. Macauley and Bodman are resident of the Pointe.

George T. Christopher, president and general manager and also a director, said the board had received the resignations "with genuine regret," and added: "Mr. Macauley and Mr. Bodman are withdrawing to grant younger men the broader opportunity of director responsibility. Mr. Parker submitted his resignation last November, due to illness and on the advice of his physician. They have given many years of loyal, unselfish and deeply appreciated service."

Macauley, one of the automobile industry's pioneers, joined Packard as general manager April 11, 1910. He was appointed vice president three years later and became a director May 10, 1915. When he was named president in 1916, he retained the office of general manager. In April, 1939, he advanced to chairman of the board.

Macauley also was prominent in industry affairs for many years. He was president of what now is the Automobile Manufacturers Association from 1928 to 1945, when he retired from the industry post.

Bodman, member of the Detroit law firm of Bodman, Longley, Bogle, Middleton & Armstrong, has been a director and general counsel since, Oct. 31, 1917.

Parker has served Packard in various capacities for over 38 years—since Oct. 1, 1909, when he joined the company as a shop trainee. He became a director in 1931. He continues his service with Packard as general manager and co-partner of the Packard distributorship in Philadelphia, which position he has held for over 25 years.

Christopher said the names of three successors are being presented for stockholders' consideration in proxy notices now in the mails. They are W. Tom Zurschmiede, Henry C. Bogle and Earle C. Anthony. The company's annual meeting will be held in Detroit April 19.

At 51, Zurschmiede is a director and member of the executive committee of Crowley, Miller Company, Detroit department store. He's director and chairman of the executive committee of the Federal Screw Works, and a director of the Grosse Pointe Bank. He also has been in charge of the administration of the assets of Guardian National Bank of Commerce of Detroit and First National Bank-Detroit, on behalf of depositors and stockholders.

Bogle, 56, is a member of the firm of Bodman, Longley, Bogle, Middleton & Armstrong, Pack-

JANE SCHERMERHORN

YOU'LL shine in the Easter parade if you go to JACOBSON'S and indulge in the simply wonderful array of accessories shining there.

Plaids and/or gold is recommended by this smart shop. Take the plaids for instance (and WE WILL), we saw ties for Gibsons blouses as well as mannish styled cravats. Plaid ruffles trimming new style petticoats that twinkle below Spring hemlines. Scarves to brighten your tailored suit. Even plaid Lewis handbags with scarves to match in crisp, swank taffeta . . . mostly on black backgrounds.

There's high fashion in the gold accessories at JACOBSON'S. We saw scarf holders (offly good this season) heart-shaped . . . round ring type . . . and novelty styles. Sets of classic gold shells to make you dazzling . . . the set includes necklace, bracelet, a large and a small clip and ear rings.

THE accessory news of the moment is the snake neckline and JACOBSON'S has this good-with-every costume beauty in gold, coming in from one to four strands. And when you take that last glimpse in your mirror before starting out in the Easter parade, be sure you look into the mirror of a new gold compact from Jacobson's, there's a great variety of shapes and sizes.

Also in JACOBSON'S gold-rush: gold bags to match your new daytime gold slippers; Golden Haze hostess; gold wedge sandals for all around day or evening, wear—at the shoe department. The sandals is j-u-s-t right for the new, flared skirt.

SUIT yourself . . . or better still, let WALTON PIERCE'S GROSSE POINTE BRANCH suit you from the natty collection they have right now. The Claire McCardell double outfit we've just torn ourselves away from, is fashioned of rich, dark brown tweed. Full skirt is topped with a fitted packet, buttoned in two rows of shining gold stud buttons. Underneath the jacket, there's a toast toned cotton blouse with long sleeves. And NOW . . . underneath the tailored tweed skirt of the suit, in the most feminine manner, peeks a toast cotton ruffled petticoat. Walton Pierce told me that in warmer weather the cotton blouse and "petticoat" can be worn with great class as skirt and waist. Certainly an all-season beauty. If ever we saw one!

Color and stripes were combined ever so smartly in a young looking wool and cotton suit at WALTON PIERCE'S. A horizontal pin stripe, in blue, on a gray-blue wool background, the suit (incidentally, the collar was teddibly 1948—one of the new sailor type) jacket was finished in gay, blue buttons. The long-sleeved and tailored blouse was chic as anything . . . red and blue pin stripes on a white background.

FAMOUS WALTON PIERCE hats we saw at the Grosse Pointe Branch.

Just the thing to show off that Hobe Sound or Palm Spring tan . . . a smartly severe brown straw sailor faced in white pique. Only trim: two bent quills.

The offy good sailor in white straw trimmed in lush green velvet at the band and also veiled in green. A single spanking red rose on one side of the sailor. As saucy and Springy as an anemone.

And unless you have great resistance to beauty . . . just close your eyes tightly when you pass the jewelry at WALTON PIERCE. You'll be like a child in a candy store when you look at the costume jewelry there to offset your Spring wardrobe. For instance, unusual multi-colored fobs . . . one was a strip of flexible silver encrusted with shadowy blue moonstones. The colors are pastel and muted . . . as delicate as bon bon frosting.

NOW is the time to think about flowers for Easter. We have it on the authority of the Pointe's own ARTHUR PASELK, whose flowers have long marked, and beautifully, all important occasions in our little hamlet.

Order your Easter posies early so that you can be assured of the finest and the best plants. In pre-war quality and pre-war abundance you'll find dazzling daffodils, hyacinth, tulip and narcissus plants to transform your home into immediate and heavenly Spring! (We could all use some of that right now . . . why wait till Easter?) Also PASELK has gardenia plants, the glamor note for Easter. And you really haven't had an Easter lily plant until you've had a PASELK Easter plant. So remember, place your Easter orders by calling ARTHUR PASELK, N1. 8224.

A Special tip to all the little brides-elect in the Pointe and all the wedding guests who'll be listening to Lohengrin this Spring and Summer—the most wonderful collection of Towle silver hereabouts is to be found at the silver center of the Pointe, PONGRACZ, JEWELERS. And what is more desirable than Towle silver for a wedding gift.

There are a dozen Towle patterns AND . . . the King Richard pattern which so many have asked to have stocked. We were interested to learn that Towle silver may be bought either in place settings or from open stock, which means as many or as few pieces as you wish. Another PONGRACZ service, brides-elect may take a place setting home in the pattern they fancy and see its effect with their own linens, china and glassware.

Besides the traditional items of silver, PONGRACZ also has some lovely "extra" pieces those buying wedding gifts should ask to see. One more hint to the brides-elect, do drop in to PONGRACZ and get one of the ever so handy wedding pamphlets telling all about Towle silver and listing many helpful suggestions for the bride before that great and orange blossom day.

ard's legal counsel for many months, other members of the board are Col. J. G. Vincent, vice-president of engineering; James McMillan, director of The Detroit Bank; and Hugh J. Ferry, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

SITTER

By Carolyn Parcels Our latest sitter's seventeen. She comes from school to sit. She brings her books to study with. But never reads a bit. When Mom leaves, she gets on the phone. And talks to Tom and Ted. And laughs and tells them jokes and things. Until we're all in bed. She drinks a coke or two, and eats "A snack," and sits some more. She sits and telephones and sits. That's what Mom pays her for.

DINNER PARTY BLUES

By Mary Baldwin Van Doren Bessie, can you come to us at six? What's that—you can't? I'm so sorry. Let me see, there's Sara Rose's Aunt. Mrs. Dubbs, we have a date. We need a sitter, so— Yes, I'll call your daughter, Jane. We do so want to go. Now my dress—the black moire? I wore That to the Lee's. Amber velvet? Much too tight—the Turquoise cellanese!

Iron at rayon—please don't stick!

But, spots along the hem . . . Cleaning fluid, do your part, no one Will notice them. Eat your spinach, Linda Dear, No, Mamma cannot play. Hair to fix and nails not dry, What a hectic day! Drink your milk, and Junior you Stop throwing crumbs at me, Wait until your Dad comes home! Come, darling, one—two—three! Clean white gloves, my brand new bag, Oh, children—what a mess! No—I haven't gained that much, The cleaners shrank my dress. Smooth young matron stepping out for Dinner, drinks and fun, Full of pleasant antiodotes Of how the house is run.

IMPASSE

By Joan Hall I have a problem in the stores I simply cannot get through doors. When leaving, with my arms chock full I always push when I should pull. I seldom beat around the bush If it says "pull," I'm bound to push.

Though people often raise objections

I simply cannot read directions. I always take it on the chin. When pushing out instead of in. Something in me seems to shout Push it in, though it says "out." Now folks may think I'm pretty dumb But here's a thought that helps me some: If others aren't like me, in stores Why do they need revolving doors?

PHOTOGRAPHS

By Carolyn Parcels My mother had us photographed One day last week, and had Each of us dressed, all in his best Just to surprise my Dad.

My sister Susan sat "just so"

But Billy didn't care! He hated to be all dressed up And sit still on a chair. I hope those pictures turn out right And that we look O. K. I shouldn't want to have to spend Another day—that way!
