Four Escaped Death in This Wreckage

When this car crashed into a tree at East Jefferson and Lincoln road early Sunday morning, miraculously no one was killed. So great was the impact that a portion of a fender was left sticking in the tree. A half full, unbroken whiskey bottle was found in the mangled engine that was torn from its mountings.

Parked Cars Take Beating From Thieves

Six Cases of Stripping of Accessories Reported in One Night in Farms

The stripping of accessories from six parked automobiles in one night in Grosse Pointe Farms alone, indicates an alarming spread of this particular form of crime. The thefts took place on the night of March 20; five of them in the vicinity of the high school. A seventh was reported two nights earlier.

R. M. Hays of 803 Beaconsfield avenue, reported the loss of his tail pipe extension from his 1947 Buick.

Robert Cudy of 3518 Three Mile drive, Detroit, suffered the loss of a spotlight from his 1947 Plymouth.

W. J. Bastedo of 1545 Roslyn road reported the theft of the radio aerial and two side mirrors from his Packard Clipper.

William Krieger of 380 Moran lost his radiator ornament, a side mirror and the radio aerial from his 1947 Ford.

Robert Ruck of 674 Neff road told the police an outside mirror and radio aerial were stolen from his DeSoto. All five of these cars were parked near the high school, while a play was being held in the school auditorium.

Charles D. Martz of 228 Merrilweather road, found his 1946 Ford minus its hood ornament, radio aerial, side mirror, fog light and backing light, after he had parked it in the Punch and Judy lot the same night.

On the night of March 13 a car owned by Mrs. Fred Hanna of 2101 Pletwood drive, Grosse Pointe Woods, was stripped of its radio aerial while it was parked at the high school between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

MERCANTILE LICENSES

Clerk Norbert Neff was authorized by the City Council Monday night to proceed with the annual issuance of the mercantile license taxes for the coming year. These apply to gas stations, restaurants and the miscellaneous line of business enterprises.

The list this year will be the same as last with one addition, a dairy bar that will soon open on Mack avenue near Washington.

Park to be Set for Swim Season Despite Pollution

The contract for the dredging of the Park's swimming pool was let to Leigh C. Merrill of Aigouae at the Commissioner's meeting on March 22, at a price of $3.00 per cubic yard on an estimated bulk of 1400 yards.

The sanding and refilling contract went to W. L. Emery of Detroit at $1.75 per yard.

The work is to start at once, and the whole job of placing the

Four Injured as Car Rams Tree on East Jefferson In Early Sabbath Crash

Unbroken Whisky Bottle Found in Mangled Engine; Flying Piece of Fender Imbeds Self in Tree; Vehicle is Total Wreck

One of the most serious automobile accidents in the Pointe in a long time occurred at 3:20 a. m. on Sunday, March 21.

Francis X. Seifert, aged 30, of 8 Union street, Mt. Clemens was driving east on Jefferson avenue with three other passengers in his car. Just before reaching Lincoln road he lost control, went across the street and crashed against a tree between the sidewalk and curb at the northwest corner of Lincoln and Jefferson.

The car was wrecked. The police took all four of the occupants to Bon Secours hospital where their injuries were reported to be as follows:

Seifert, the driver, had bad face lacerations and a fracture of the skull.

Harrison M. Glavin, aged 31, of Roseville, had abrasions on his skull and knee injuries. He was also killed by the police as badly intoxicated. A bottle about half full of whiskey was found, unbroken, in the mangled motor following the crash.

Paul Rishell, aged 26, of the Hoover Hotel, Detroit, miscellaneous cuts and abrasions. He has been discharged from the hospital.

Jean Rishell, aged 24, his wife, scalp, face and forehead lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

She and Seifert were both reported improving by the hospital Tuesday afternoon.

The car struck the tree with such force that a living portion

Sterling Silver Badly Misplaced

Jeweler Edward Pongraetz is mourning the disappearance of four valuable pieces of sterling silver that in some unexplained way found their way into the rubbish can and thence, undoubtedly, onto the city dump.

The missing pieces are a sugar bowl, size 4"x3", a cream pitcher 4"x3", and two bon bon dishes, each about 6 1/2" across.

The articles are far too valuable for a dump and Mr. Pongraetz hopes that some honest "comber" will find them and return them to his store on Kercheval.

Thief Flees With Flight ... Of Stairs

Complainant Explains Why Burglary Was Not as Strange as It Sounds

The theft of a flight of stairs was reported to the Farms police on March 19. The unusual burglary was easily explained by the complainant, Morris Gobel of Woodingham, Detroit.

Mr. Gobel is building a number of new houses in Ridgemoor road. Sometime after he left the scene of the construction at 4:30 p.m. on March 18, a breaking and entering occurred at one of the homes.

The missing stairs had not yet been assembled. There were 10 treads and eight risers taken. Also stolen were three plywood panels and a number of pieces of trim of odd sizes.

Village Traffic Relief Promised

Some early relief for the parking problem on Kercheval and streets running into it in the village is held in the reported decision of J. B. Holden, who owns the A. and P. Store property on Kercheval, to take down the two old properties in the rear of the store and convert the site into additional parking space. It is said this will be done this spring.

City Councilman Gerald Miller asked at the Council meeting on March 22 that a thorough examination be made of the feasibility of the City going into the public parking lot business. City Clerk Neff, who has already made a considerable study of this matter, was requested to pursue his examination further and report back to Council as soon as practicable.

Mr. Neff stated that already there were over 200 municipalities, large and small, in the state which had public parking lots.

Kalamazoo is one of the shining examples of the successful operation of such enterprises.

Under this same discussion Councilman Chester Carpenter suggested that the police look into the practicability of making the streets from Neff to Cadieux, inclusive, alternating one-way streets. He thought the adoption of this traffic arrangement might lessen the traffic problem in the Kercheval avenue area.

Both Park and City Call on County for Brand New Surface

Resolutions Adopted By Two Governing Bodies To Be Followed By Pressure if Immediate Action Is Not Forthcoming

Definite steps have been started towards getting a new pavement on East Jefferson avenue. At the meeting of the Park Village Board of Commissioners held at 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon and at a Grosse Pointe City Council meeting held three hours later, resolution were passed unanimously, which were identical in their meaning and almost in their wording calling on the County Board of Road Commissioners to proceed with a new pavement on the avenue.

The arguments were advanced at both meetings that the present pavement has so deteriorated that it was unsatisfactory and impractical to longer maintain this important highway by any temporary patchwork.

The avenue is the main stem of travel between central Detroit and its most important and beautiful residential suburb and its continuation in its present deplorable condition is intolerable.

There are reports that the City and Park will not be content to let the matter rest with a mere resolution expressing the wishes of the two communities. Arguments and influence are to be brought to bear which it is hoped will result in practical achievement.

The old argument of the County authorities that plans are in the making to widen Jefferson avenue and then put down a fine modern pavement, is brushed aside by this simultaneous action.

The argument was advanced in both bodies that the widening of the avenue is too much of an embryonic project and might be years in materializing. In addition to that there is far from a united local opinion that this avenue should be widened.

Jefferson avenue as it is, is far from a narrow street. Its present width is equivalent to a four lane highway; two in each direction and ample to carry the traffic it now bears or will bear for many years to come.

Another consideration which gives pause in the local view of the widening project is the necessity of removing scores of large and beautiful trees, whose replacements would take a good human lifetime to attain the growth and beauty of those that would be removed by any widening operation.

It is the wretched condition of Jefferson avenue at this time, following a winter of special severity, that has moved hundreds of citizens to express their indignation of their councilmen which doubtless, has resulted in this strong action by both councilmanic bodies.

The remark has been frequently heard on all sides that the two municipalities are jointly contributing about $300,000 to the county annually in taxes and it is outrageous that they should be compelled to endure longer such conditions.

Park Threatens Sewer Concern

The A. Rossi sewer construction concern doing the Park village sewer work in the Beaconsfield-Nottingham area has been falling down on its job, say the Park village authorities.

Last week Manager Lane wrote to the bonding company which backs the Rossi contract and informed it that if there is any more delay or complaint the village will take the job away from the concern and look to the bonding company to finish it.

The Council had made a proposition to the men that they work nine hours per day of regular pay for the first five days. Work was started about a week ago. Mr. Lane valued the grade length of the tunnel and was satisfied from what he saw that the promise of completion by June 1 was reasonable.

The Michigan Sewer Construction company, had the western end of the project, from where it enters the Park village to Audubon and Kercheval.

The Manager (Ross) is in contact on front three to five miles via Audubon and Vermont Highway.

'Teacher Tom' Earns Thanks Of Gratiot Township Police

Chief of Police Tom Trombly of the City bids far to earn for himself the sobriquet of "Teacher Tom".

Tom Trombly was who's unexpected capture of a notorious burglar, a police officer, to both the Council and to "Teacher Tom".

Chief Tom is a past president and has long been an active member of the Southern Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police and is a well recognized authority on the intricacies of police duties.

This service was deeply appreciated by the Gratiot township. Last Monday night a letter was

Trial Period Extended For Bus Concern

City Agrees With Park and Farms on Prolonging Test Three More Months

The City Council at its meeting on March 22, took favorable action on the request of the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc. that its trial period for testing out the revised fares schedule and the service which was entered into last winter, be extended for another three months.

The new extension runs from February 1 and is without prejudice to the City's interest in the matter.

Similar action has already been taken by the Park and Farms.

Attorney Albert Meder commended the Park for the excellent way it had handled the problems with the Coach Lines company, which were common to all the Pointe communities.

The chief grievance at the moment between the Pointes and the coach company is that there has been no improvement in the frequency of the service as promised when the negotiations on fares were underway last winter.

The addition of the ten new buses, then about ready for delivery, was given as assurance that there would be more frequent service, but instead of that it has been learned that the new buses were merely used to supplant ten old ones that were taken out of commission. There has been some small increase in seating capacity but Grosse Pointers cannot ride to or from Detroit any oftener than formerly.

The publication in the Detroit morning paper on Tuesday that the DSR had been assured of ample gas to maintain its service next year, should give some encouragement to the hope for better service out here. Shortage of gas supply was one of the reasons alleged by the bus company why it could not put on any more runs.

Sewer Project To Beat Schedule

It will be pleasant news to the residents living along the route of the big Detroit sewer under construction in the Park, to learn that this project will be completed about June 1.

The numerous complaints that have come from residents about the noise and street obstruction incidental to the work, led Park Village Manager Lane to contact the heads of the Michigan Sewer Construction company and Mancini Construction company who are doing the work, and get some definite information as to the time of its completion.

Both of the concerns told him they would be finished by June 1. This would be two and one half months ahead of their scheduled time.

The contracts with the City of Detroit called for the completion of the job in 265 days. Work was started about a year ago.

Mr. Lane valued the grade length of the tunnel and was satisfied from what he saw that the promise of completion by June 1 was reasonable.

The Michigan Sewer Construction company, had the western end of the project, from where it enters the Park village to Audubon and Kercheval.

The Manager (Ross) is in contact on front three to five miles via Audubon and Vermont Highway.

Intruder Foiled By Alert Maid

A strange man went to the door of the Elmhurst home at 1070 Berkshire road at 8:30 p.m. on March 18. When the maid answered the door he tried to enter the house, going so far as to try to stick his foot in the door.

The maid was too quick for him, however, and slammed the door against him, then phoned the police. The party was not in sight when they arrived a few minutes later. The maid's only description of him was that he was a fully dressed man and wore a checkered jacket.

City Joins Farms in Blast Against Detroit Drain Plan

Mayor Ralph Netting Raps Proposal To Move Outlet at Estimated Cost To Three Pointe Municipalities of $6,000,000

At the City Council meeting on March 22, following a lengthy discussion of the Detroit drainage project which implies a possible cost to Grosse Pointe, or rather the three communities of the Farms, City and Park, of $6,000,000, Mayor Ralph Netting expressed himself somewhat explosively on the subject and said the City would not have any part of it.

Prescott Brown, of Mason Brown and Sons, who is the consulting engineer for the City, suggested that they wait and see a copy of the report of the Board of Engineers which Detroit retained on the job, so that they might make a more informed reply to the communication from the Detroit Common Council on the subject.

Nevertheless a motion was adopted endorsing Mayor Netting's views and instructing Attorney Meder to prepare a communication to Detroit to that effect.

The proposal to take the surface flow which now dumps into Fox Creek and divert it down to the Conner Creek outlet, revolves wholly around Detroit's purpose to further protect its own water intake.

The Conner outlet would be below, or opposite this intake, while the Fox Creek outlet comes in above it.

It is acknowledged all around that it is only during occasional extreme downpours, which sometimes do not happen in an entire season, that sanitary sewage overflows from the regular conduits and gets into the Detroit river.

It is argued that during the most severe of these floods the maximum bacteria count at the Detroit intake is only 15,000 per cubic centimeter, whereas Wyandotte, farther down the water course usually has a count of 22,000. There it is successfully treated by chlorination. The Grosse Pointe argument is that during these rare and short occasions when the bacteria count reaches the higher figure, Detroit can chlorinate with perfect safety to the City's health.

The claim is that it is utterly preposterous to expect these small communities to assume an impossible financial burden merely to avoid a temporary condition reaches the higher figure Detroit.

President James K. Watkins, of the Farms village sent a letter to Detroit some days ago to much the same effect.

GOOD TAXPAYERS

Grosse Pointe is a land of good, reliable steady taxpayers, come Christmas or fannies. City Treasurer Osius reported at the council meeting Monday night that the collection of taxes to date this year ran 97.7 per cent of the total duplicate. This is about the usual rate at which Pointers perform one of the first duties of citizenship.

X-Ray Survey Results Told Drive Heads

Final Tabulations on Five Week Campaign Dis-closed at Meeting

Over 9,675 people received free chest x-rays during the Grosse Pointe X-Ray Survey which was just completed on March 12.

Dr. Thomas S. Davies, Township health commissioner, announced that 7,935 of the total x-rayed were residents of the Township. Twenty-seven came from Grosse Pointe Park and 48 from St. Clair Shores. There were 1,639 Detroiters living close to the borders who participated in the Survey.

Eleven questionably active TB cases were reported from the total, with 74 inactive cases of tuberculosis; 137 other pulmonary conditions, and 78 other abnormalities. These abnormalities totaled 325, of which 299 were in Grosse Pointe Township.

Final reports by all the chairmen on the Steering Committee were presented on March 23 at the last meeting of the group for the year.

At that meeting Dr. Davies, chairman of the committee, again commended the hundreds of volunteers who made the Survey possible and who devoted hours of their time and effort to the cause.

Special mention was made of the services given by the Neighborhood Committees. These Committees were headed by Dr. Albert Law and Mrs. Shirley George, in Grosse Pointe Park; Mrs. Arthur Husse, Municipal Area; Mrs. Paul Kolvoord, Defer Area; Mrs. Richard Distel, St. Clair Area; Mrs. John Kenower, Area 1; Mrs. Russell Smith, Area 2; Mrs. Robert King, Area 3, and Mrs. F. Rankin Weisgerber, Area 4, all in Grosse Pointe City; in Grosse Pointe Farms, Mrs. Adam J. Kiskalt, Area 1; Mrs. C. Waterman, Jr., Area 2; Mrs. H. H. Micou, Area 3; and Mrs. M. William Mason, Area 4; in Grosse Pointe Shores, Mrs. A. G. Englehardt, Area 1; and Mrs. Jack Williams, Area 2; and in Grosse Pointe Woods, Mrs. Russell Baude, Area 1; Mrs. Stephen Magvegan, Area 2; and Mrs. Harvey Christenson, Area 3.

All of these chairmen, Dr. Davies stated, had many volunteers working with them in house-to-house visits, and the importance of their work cannot be over-estimated.

The sponsoring agencies, the Wayne County Medical Society, State and Wayne County Health Departments, TB and Health Society, also expressed their appreciation to all Grosse Pointers who participated in the survey and who joined the fight against tuberculosis.

PEGGY WILLIAMS HONORED

Peggy Williams, daughter of the David G. Williams' of Moran road, has been pledged to Theta Sigma Phi, an honorary journalistic sorority, at the University of Michigan. This is her first semester in the school of journalism.

One-Way Street Proves Popular

The experiment of making Whittier a one-way north-bound street from Jefferson to Mack is working very satisfactorily. Manager Lane of the Park stated last Thursday.

The purpose of making it a north bound thoroughfare only was to split up the vehicular traffic coming into the Park from the Detroit side of Mack.

Because Whittier is the mouth of Outer Drive into the Pointe it bore an inordinate proportion of this traffic.

Recent counts made by the police at Mr. Lane's suggestion show that the total volume of traffic on Whittier has been reduced about 52 per cent, much to the satisfaction of the residents on that street.

He said he had received letters and telephone messages from between 15 and 20 householders living along Whittier commending the change.

Club Will Show Rose Bowl Film

The Optimist Club of Grosse Pointe will show the official Rose Bowl films at the Neighborhood Club at 6:30 on Friday, March 26.

These pictures are shown through the courtesy of the University of Michigan. Victor Hejlinger, athletic personnel director and hockey coach will be on hand to give a running commentary on this top football game.

The showing is open to the public at no charge, another evidence of the Optimist's slogan — "A Friend of the Boy."

Mix in Signals Cause of Crash

An accident occurred at Kercheval road at 8:45 a. m. on March 19 when a driver misunderstood the signals of Farms Patrolman Harold Beaupre, directing traffic while Kerby School children were crossing the street.

Eleanor M. Blum of 360 Belanger road, driving her Chevrolet, thought Beaupre was waving her through when he signalled for her to stop. She ran into a Chrysler owned and driven by Alan P. Beebe of 103 Merriweather road.

The Chrysler was damaged to the extent of $40.

Inhalator Saves Attack Victim

Paul C. Renner, of 518 Barrington, sent in a hurry call for the police with their inhalator, on March 17. His father-in-law George W. St. Clair, aged 75, had been overcome in the garage with a heart attack.

The police applied the inhalator for ten or fifteen minutes and revived Mr. St. Clair. At last reports he had fully recovered from the effects of the attack.

Members of School Safety Patrols Doing Fine Work

The Richard School has a very active and effective safety patrol sponsored by John Hammel, a teacher of grade 6A. He writes as follows about the work of this fine club.

Since the first day of school, the boys of the Richard School Safety Patrol have been helping to make their school and community a safer place in which to live. Four times a day, rain or shine, 23 of the patrol members take positions on busy corners where children cross, or at posts on the playground. Their job is an important and responsible one.

In the interest of safety, the A.A.A. has promoted and sponsored the growth of safety patrols throughout the country. Although the A.A.A. takes no direct hand in the organization and direction of the patrol, they are always very much in the picture. The belts, badges and raincoats are supplied by them. Regularly each month we receive pertinent safety bulletins directed toward patrol work, and the Captain of the Patrol, Charles Kingman, 6A, must send in a monthly report on the activities of the patrol. Recently, a representative of the A.A.A. presented a short talk and a training film to the group.

Recognizing the value of the duties which the boys perform, the Richard P.T.A. has backed the Patrol by appointing a sponsor, Mr. Arthur Koebel, from the membership, and by providing a fund which can be used for attendance or transportation to athletic events. Last fall the P.T.A. made all the arrangements for the boys to attend a U. of D. football game, but the threatening weather cancelled the excursion.

Likewise, the Police Department has made arrangements and transported patrol members to football games and more recently the amateur hockey finals.

Membership of the patrol is recruited from the boys in grades 4A to 6A who are good citizens of their school and do their best in their school work. They remain on the patrol unless they are suspended for breaking the rules of the patrol or the school and if they are not meeting their responsibilities in the classrooms. A record of every boy is kept by the patrol sponsor.

At present we have 55 members who are divided into "A" and "B" teams. The teams alternate in their duties so that they are on a week then off a week. A vital part of the program of the safety patrol is the weekly meeting held every Thursday during the last part of the school day. At this time, the posts for the following week are assigned, reports made, and other items come before the group for action. Earlier in the year a committee prepared a list of duties for each corner, noting particularly the special things to watch. Very shortly the group will be sponsoring a bicycle safety program.

Each semester, the patrol elects a captain. David Bayne, 6B, filled the position for the first semester and Charles Kingman now wears the badge. He is assisted by two lieutenants who are elected once a month. John Langs, 6A, and David Lippincott, 6B, are the present incumbents. The officers of the patrol check each corner several times a day to insure that all are on their posts on time and that their belts are properly worn and clean.

Every Friday after school, patrol members meet in the gym to play basketball. During the basketball season two safety teams were formed and played before wildly enthusiastic admirers among their fellow patrol members and the girls of the Service Squad who attended the two contests. Refreshments and prizes topped off the afternoon's festivities. In the fall the Service Squad and Safety Patrol attended a football game at Grosse Pointe High School.

For nine to twelve-year-olds (the range in ages of the boys), the task that they undertake is formidable. They are on their corners at 20 minutes to the hour, four times daily, and must remain alert and set an example of safety. Naturally, they need the cooperation of every child at Richard to function most effectively. Offenders, such as those who jay walk, are reported by the patrol to their teacher.

Whether they are on playground duty or a busy corner, the boys must know what to be alert for and what to do in each case. All new boys who join the patrol, after being recommended by their teacher, receive a week's instruction from older members of the patrol. As of this March a written test will also be given the neophytes to supplement the lessons given by visiting each corner.

The following are at present members of the Safety Patrol:

(All of the Pointe's elementary schools have similar patrols which are carrying on in this most effective safety program.)

Parshall Ends Six Years Of Service to G. P. Park

Howard P. Parshall completed six years of service to Grosse Pointe Park at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners on Monday afternoon, March 22.

He called the meeting to order and directed the Village Clerk, William Stamman, to administer the oath of office to the new commissioners and to his successor, Homer C. Fritsch, the new President of the Park. Commissioners Bloodworth and Koenig, who were reelected, were sworn in and the old body adjourned sine die. Karl V. Goddard the new commissioner was unable to be at the meeting and will be sworn in later.

Mr. Parshall expressed his deep appreciation of the very pleasant association he has enjoyed with his fellow members on the Board of Commissioners. He served four years on the board as a commissioner and two years as village president.

Mr. Fritsch spoke of the pleasure it had given him to have been privileged to have served with Mr. Parshall and said frankly he would have preferred to have continued as one of the commissioners with Mr. Parshall still in the chair.

When the meeting adjourned the new president and the commissioners tendered Mr. Parshall a farewell dinner at the University Club.

With the reorganization of the Board, Commissioner William Gillett was elected president pro tem, the position previously held by President Fritsch.

Organizing

Mr. and Mrs. Alger Shelden have gone to Palm Springs, California, for a brief vacation. Here Mr. Shelden will seek to store up strength for the strenuous task he will face early in April as head of the campaign that is to put across the War Memorial Library project. Meanwhile deputies he has left behind are proceeding with perfecting the organization he charted.

To Mr. Shelden, more than to any other person, goes the credit for advancing this great project thus far. It carries a mighty appeal to the heart of every Grosse Pointer. Nothing could be finer than preserving in beautiful form a memorial to our own sons who died for their country and holding in permanent letters the names of our more than 3,000 sons who went into the struggle.

With this spirit pervading the community Mr. Shelden can be assured of the whole hearted and enthusiastic support of all of his fellow citizens in the Pointe.

Crime Broadcasts

The criticism directed at crime radio programs by Inspector Sanford Shoultz of the Detroit Police Department's Juvenile Division is timely. The frequency with which this sort of slush clutters up the air has progressed from a mere nuisance to a real menace against the maintenance of a normal, healthy mental development. It is a special threat to the state of mind we are to find in the young men and women of the near future.

So common has this type of so-called radio entertainment become that a group of adult radio listeners in this community have come to refer to a certain night's program as Murder night.

Inspector Shoultz criticism was prompted by the case of a 15-year old boy who confessed he thought he could improve on the technique of one of his radio crime heroes and planned a $30,000 extortion from a business man on West Grand Boulevard.

This offensive type of radio entertainment is only slightly ameliorated by the fact that virtue is always triumphant and crime punished. The offense and real harm derives from the fact that crime is persistently publicized and, to a certain degree glamorized.

The baneful affect on young developing minds is incalculable. The stuff that is drilled into youthful minds day and night are the thoughts that stick and all too often, consciously or unconsciously, give bent and direction to their later acts.

A stop should be placed on the ranging of crime in our radio entertainment. Instead of presenting it as a thing entertaining and tolerable it should be pictured, it at all, as the dirty, despicable and cowardly thing that it is.

The case in point is only one of thousands never disclosed which distort and poison the young mind against every tenet and understanding of a wholesome and healthy society. The plague of juvenile delinquency which now puzzles and alarms the parents of the country is in a measurable degree associated with the sort of script they listen to over the air. The pictures they see in many instances still further accentuate this destructive tendency.

Those primarily at fault for this epidemic anti-social drama are the mercantile houses more interested in selling their wares than in bolstering the morals of society. They have the final word on the kind of features that a group of script writers are always ready and willing to knock together and sell for a good price.

Of equal responsibility are the great broadcasting companies. It is completely within their power to apply a guiding influence that will go far towards purging the air of this harmful stuff.

And finally, if the fathers and mothers and all persons concerned with the character of men and women of the future our children are growing into will express themselves in no uncertain way we will quickly discover an improvement.

The Invitation of Unpreparedness

A canvass that one of the great news agencies has been making of the position of the members of the U. S. Senate on the two allied questions of Draft and Universal Military Training illustrates the inability for quick and honest action on questions of vital import in a general election year.

This is the consideration that makes cowards of so many, especially those of us who hope to get elected or re-elected to public office.

Everyone realizes that our relations with Russia are running to a climax; that the only sensible way to meet this situation is to make ourselves so strong that neither Russia nor any group of countries will dare to strike the match that may lead to their own destruction.

And yet we dabble around and hesitate to do the thing that is obviously necessary. Every phase of the international situation dictates that we should have both an early limited conscription for a quick marshalling of our immediate strength and a system of military training for our long ranged and continuing defense.

It is unfortunate that this question had to come up in a general election year. Millions of mothers are chanting the refrain they did not raise their boy to be a soldier and countless thousands of well meaning but uninformed citizens are arguing that great military forces breeds a will for war.

Both premises are historically and factually incorrect. The mother that doesn't want her boy to be a soldier may have him taken from her, wholly unfit and unprepared, and dumped into a front line. The possession of great power in being does not invite attack; it forefends against it.

Because Europe was an armed camp for nearly fifty years it was spared any major war. As soon as this balance of power was upset there was a war.

We can certainly trust ourselves not to take the initiative in any war move and if readiness prevents an aggressor from attacking us, the cost of a maintained peace will be mere peanuts to a war our unpreparedness may have invited.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Harms of the world have come unto us, Cups of sorrow we yet shall drain; But we have a secret that doth show us Wonderful rainbows in the rain." (Richard Realf)

No doubt most of you have seen or heard of those engaging little horrors known as "Antsey-pants" . . . white beee-deez covered all over with large red painted ants. Through advertising mediums, they first came to light last Christmas, at which time everyone and his grandfather ordered them like mad to send to someone for a gag.

One of the recipients of this distinctive gift is a local man of whom there is no whomer in the business world. He received them (anonymously) with startled good-nature and deposited them in the nether regions of his bureau, out of reach of the children. One day recently, our hero was caught in that awkward and annoying dilemma . . . i.e., short on laundry, a thing that happens in the best run households. He couldn't very well miss a day at the office because he was minus bee-vee-deez, so he hauled out the antsey-pants and decided to wear them. After all, no one but the little man himself would see them . . . or so he thought!

Off he went to the office, not knowing that fate had a dirty trick in store for him on that day. He suffered a bad attack of acute indigestion during the afternoon and his alarmed associates called a doctor who immediately had him rushed to the hospital for an examination. When they got him in the X-ray room, he remembered the horrible underdrawers . . . but not until the bustling nurse got a good eye-ful of them. He wonders what she's telling her friends!

We wrote a letter to Arthur Godfrey (WJR, 11 a.m. daily), last week and blow us down if he didn't read it o'er the air. A few days later we started getting letters from people all over the U. S. There isn't any point to all this except that we received more letters in one week from people we didn't know, than we've received from our "fans" in all the years we've been writing this column! No man is a hero to his own valet . . . so they tell us.

All the columnists are going in for special "gripe" departments these days, so who are we to wander from the familiar path of our fellow writers? One of our larger "gripes" occurs every "first of the month" when we start paying bills. WHY don't concerns who can well afford it, enclose self addressed envelopes for their clients' convenience? The only worse offenders are those who DO enclose envelopes . . . that are JUST TOO SMALL to hold your check and the portion of the bill the company wants returned. Tsk, tsk, tsk.

We have another gripe with the telephone company. WHY . . . if they must change all the old familiar numbers we've been dialing for years . . . didn't they do it before we entered all the old ones in the new telephone and engagement pads we got for Christmas? We put 'em in ink too!

The "art" of names fascinates us . . . hence we have a list of favorites that we enjoy rolling around our speech cords. You may like Smith or Pennyfather or Cribbs or Blount. Our choice is varied as to the people the names belong to but the names themselves are potent and at times, saucy. Our long list contains such names as: Dickey Byrd, Atwater Kent, Hildegarde DeGrimme, Eric Elspeth, Scotts Cotsworth and Rocco DiMarco.

One of our favorite local women called to tell us this story . . . the kind of thing we've been anxious to print for lo, these many years. The woman's slightly under middle-aged husband, recently developed a complex of some sort that interfered in a mild way with his business life. On the advice of his physician, he consulted a psychiatrist and found he was improving under the latter's care. One night at a dinner party, the subject of psychiatry came up and our hero related his experience, adding that he'd pooh-poohed the idea at first but there was no doubt about his being helped.

One of the guests at the dinner . . . a beetle-browed, cannon-voiced old man, took over the conversation and bored everyone with this opinion of psychiatrists and psychiatry. "A lot of poppycock" seemed to be his favorite expression. The whole thing was nonsensical and any man in his right mind was a fool to be bamboozled by those soandos etc. etc. etc. He elaborated on our hero's personal problem (making him feel a fool the while) . . . and said that what troubled him was just his imagination and what he ought to do is just plain forget about it . . . ad infinitum.

The punch of the story, according to our informant, is something no one was mean enough to tell the old cocker. As far back as any of the guests could remember, their mothers and fathers used to laugh about the old duffer's fear of germs. He never left the house without wearing gloves . . . which he never removed in public for fear of catching something. If he stopped in a bar or drugstore for a drink, he always took his own paper cup with him, so he wouldn't have to use a glass that may not have been washed to suit him! As far as anyone knows . . . he is STILL that way about germs . . . but HE'S all right. HE doesn't need a psychiatrist!

"Oh wad some power the gifftie gie us To see ourselves as others see us!"

Birds of a Feather

A short shrift should be allowed every individual or group of individuals who are allied, directly or remotely, with a plan to overthrow this government.

This designation fits the Communists like an old shoe. In fact, it is the only group in the century and three quarters' history of this government to whom it does exactly apply. Not any of our internal disputes, and we have had many hot ones, ever involved the open question of the survival or destruction of our kind of government.

The southern states, whose secession brought on the Civil war, asked only to be permitted to withdraw from the Union and set up a government of their own, which as a matter of fact was patterned exactly after the one of the government they had left. The North fought to preserve the Union intact, not to preserve the right of free men to govern themselves. That issue was never in question.

Because the Communists, from their very beginning, have blatantly proclaimed their purpose to destroy free enterprise and all the freedoms it implies, by force if necessary, they have placed themselves utterly beyond the pale for leniency or toleration.

Their place is fixed as enemies of this country and all it stands for. Civil rights do not carry the right to plot the destruction of the very government which defends them.

The communist, because of his known purpose and intent, deserves no other consideration than that shown to any conspirator against our country. And all who hold views, near or at little variance from those of his communist friends, should be shown his responsibility for the company he keeps.

Healing vs Wounding

When the Atomic Energy Commission was set up, much stress was laid on the statement that it was the primary purpose of the Commission to direct its investigation towards the development of this new force as an agency for the betterment of humanity in the industrial and medical worlds.

This pronouncement is strengthened by the statement from the Commission the other day that it proposes to furnish free to the medical world three specified radio active materials useful in the study and treatment of cancer.

This is heartening news to all men of good intent; but nevertheless there remains a deal of comfort in the little publicized knowledge that this country is continuing to add to its atomic bomb stockpile.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

I started out the week wrong. I trunked bridge on Sunday and I was definitely not brought up that way. My horror at my indiscretion—an indiscretion which I may say occurs at frequent intervals—was somewhat assuaged by the fact that I won. I made up for my derelictions later in the week, however—I appeared at the Brearley School at a MOTHERS MEETING. I should like to state quite simply that I have never been known as a VISITING MOTHER. As a matter of fact I might just as well confess here that when my daughter, then aged six, was taken firmly in hand by a large yellow bosom and ground grip-per shoes, to test her IQ, and the simple question, WHAT IS A MOTHER FOR, was put to her, my deranged offspring said, just as simply, FOR GOING OUT NIGHTS.

Well, we mamas discussed with the headmistress how to beat down the doors of the various colleges and institutions of learning so that our graduating daughters can get a toe in. It is a very tricky thing these days. If you say, My daughter is a normal, well rounded character, they don't like that; if you say my child is absolutely fantastic in math and smells in science, they say no, we don't want such a lop-sided candidate. If the girl doesn't get in the school of her first choice, then she tries her second. The second has a slight chip because it wasn't the first. If she misses the two and laughs it off for the third, there is a distinct coolness. It is touch and go whether they word their admissions sheet to please the committee. Among the interesting mamas with daughters in the class are the beautiful MRS. WILLIAM RHINELANDER STEWART with NANCY, who would rather do a problem in chemistry than do a social column, and MRS. RICHARD RODGERS with MARY, who doesn't care a thing about the piano and would like to tinker with back-stage lighting effects.

I also sprained my ankle this week—at CARNEGIE HALL, of all places. If I had been pitching the body around Rockefeller Centre on skates, or Vermont on skis, I'd have gotten more fun out of it. GEORGE SZELL conducted a magnificent PHILHARMONIC concert of TSCHAIKOWSKY and HAYDN and I suppose I was floating, at least spiritually, on the way out. Physically I stepped on a piece of ice. I find so often it's the physical that does it! Don't you agree? The next night I was going to a dance, but instead, hobbling along like an old goat, I went out to eat with a man who loves me for my finer qualities. I say EAT because that's what we did. To DINE conjurs up the Ritz.

We went to the RED DEVIL, a restaurant which has the best Italian cooking in town. MARIO, the maître and part owner, is a friend of mine. If you can bear it, I'll tell you what we had so you, too, can go there some day and get the same thing. First we had snails in hot garlic butter, then manicotti, which is thin, thin pasta rolled around a mild cheese and covered with tomato sauce. Then there was spaghetti al dente, which means "spaghetti to the teeth." The spaghetti was covered with chopped clams, chopped parsley, and bits of fresh tomato. With all this we drank red wine by the glass. Then we had mixed green salad with coarse black bread and gorgonzola cheese, and espresso coffee in little glasses with a slice of lemon peel. By that time the place had pretty well cleaned out, so MARIO joined us. MARIO bought us a drink and then we bought MARIO a drink and high-ho, that's the way it went.

Everyone here is talking about a new JEAN-PAUL SARTRE play put on down in the VILLAGE, by an Experimental Group. It is called THE RESPECTFUL PROSTITUTE. I munched down the other night, through the ice and sleet, and found myself surrounded by such hardy critters as that beautiful GARY COOPER, MARGALO GILMORE, in a cute RED RIDING HOOD, COLE PORTER and BURGESS MEREDITH. MERE-DITH told us that a film he did recently, in London, will be here any day. It is called MINE OWN EXECUTIONER, from the book by the same name written by NIGEL BALCHIN. "THE RESPECTFUL PROSTITUTE" is a sizzling number. It's a satire on SOUTHERN CHIVALRY, SACRED WOMANHOOD and THE RACIAL THING. The play producers are moving it uptown. It's a pretty hot potato. It may prove too hot to handle.

Don't you wish you knew how to write a good, earthy little book with a lot of earthy situations, so an earthy firm like SIGNED would publish it for a quarter? I do. It makes you so feebly reech. Look at ERSKINE CALDWELL. Just because he wrote GOD'S LITTLE ACRE—which they refer to several times in MR. ROBERTS, and also wear out two copies of it in the play, a week—he not only has money pouring out of his eyes, nose and ears, but they give him also, parties, yet. I went to a party for him and his attractive young wife the other day. I thought MR. C stayed slightly aloof, but maybe he was just mentally counting up the royalties on the eight million of his books PEN-GUIN—SIGNED has sold for him. I'd look dreamy, too.

Letterbox

To the Editor: Can you get some action from the D. P. W. to fill the chuk-holes from Wayburn easterly on Kercheval, or are you handcuffed politically?

A Taxpayer.

Editor's Note: No, the NEWS is not handcuffed politically. Had the taxpayer, who hesitates to sign his name, read his issues of the NEWS of the last month more thoroughly, he would have seen two editorials on this subject, demanding action; and news stories of statements issued by the Wayne County Road Commission. As part of the Commission's system, Kercheval is maintained by the county, not the Village of Grosse Pointe Park. The Commission has explained that the severe winter has raised particular havoc with all its roads and that repairs are being made as fast as manpower and materials are available.

DELINQUENT TAXES

The City Council on March 22 took the routine annual action of authorizing the County Treasurer to receive the delinquent taxes that have accumulated on properties that have passed into the hands of the State Tax Board, and return to it its proportionate share.

City Studying Mack Lighting

In the discussion at the City Council meeting on March 22 as to the provision the City will have to make for street lighting of its frontage along Mack avenue, Council was informed that the Detroit Edison company has offered to install the lights on wooden poles and maintain them for a charge of $4.50 per month per light.

The lights will be rated at 10,000 lumens each. It is said that the County Road Commission looks with favor on this type of lamp as it is not ready, to go in for ornamental light standards at this time.

The City will have 39 lights along its side of Mack and the total charge for maintenance will run about $1,650 a year, with no expense for installation. The matter was referred to the street lighting committee with power to act.

The GAS SHORTAGE

What caused it? What is being done about it?

STATEMENT BY HENRY FINK, PRESIDENT, MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY as a Witness under oath in the Congressional Investigation of the Natural Gas Shortage before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, in Washington, D. C., February 10, 1948.

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee:

My name is Henry Fink. I am President of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company which is the distributing company serving gas to 625,000 customers in Detroit and other large Michigan cities.

The reason it is impossible to furnish an adequate supply of natural gas in severe winter weather to Detroit and other areas served by Michigan Consolidated Gas Company can be explained in a few words.

Michigan Consolidated is entirely dependent for its natural gas supply upon Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company. We have a contract for a daily maximum delivery of 125 million cubic feet in Detroit. Since our demand in winter months runs frequently more than 200 million cubic feet per day, we have sought in vain to obtain an increased supply of natural gas from Panhandle. We have been unable to get an agreement to supply more gas from Panhandle for three reasons:

1. It has been the announced consistent policy of Panhandle to sell as much gas as possible direct to industries on its lines instead of through distributing companies, such as Michigan Consolidated, because such direct sales have not been regulated as to rates by any public authority and were more profitable to Panhandle than sales at regulated rates.
2. It has been Panhandle's policy to operate its lines at as nearly 100% load factor as possible, that is, at uniform full capacity, and therefore to avoid supplying distributing companies with their peak winter requirements. This has forced Michigan Consolidated and other distributing companies to maintain expensive manufacturing equipment and storage capacity so as to be able to manufacture gas in the winter to meet peak loads. This requires distributing companies to sell large quantities of gas at a loss since, for example, Michigan Consolidated's manufacturing costs are approximately $1.65 per thousand cubic feet, which gas is sold at an average of 70c.
3. Panhandle has failed to increase the capacity of its lines, although during the last two years its lack of capacity to serve customers has been so serious that, under authority of the Federal Power Commission, sales under firm contracts for industrial users had to be curtailed in order to supply domestic users with essential service.

After fruitless efforts to obtain an increased supply of gas from Panhandle, Michigan Consolidated and its parent, American Light and Traction, were forced to undertake the project of bringing a new supply of gas into Michigan. Application for the construction of the Michigan-Wisconsin pipeline from Texas to Michigan and Wisconsin was filed with the F. P. C. early in 1945 and a certificate granted by the Commission November 30, 1946. At the present time, the pipelines from Texas to Austin Field, Michigan, and from Austin Field to Detroit are under construction. The operation of these lines offers the only prospect of relieving the customers of Michigan Consolidated from annual serious shortages of gas. Yet, Panhandle has fought and is fighting the construction of this pipeline. Panhandle fought us before the F. P. C. and now on appeal in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Panhandle fought us before the Securities and Exchange Commission, trying to stop the financing of these pipelines. Panhandle has claimed and still claims a legal right to maintain a monopoly of natural gas supply into Michigan, despite its utter inability and unwillingness to supply enough gas necessary to meet the essential requirements of Michigan consumers.

Michigan Consolidated has tried every winter to manufacture enough gas, at excessive cost, to supply its consumers on days when the natural gas supply was pitifully inadequate. We planned carefully to meet these needs this winter. We had the necessary oil under contract, but we have been unable to obtain prompt deliveries because of transportation difficulties. We will continue to suffer the heavy losses caused by manufacturing gas and selling it at less than half of its high cost, but no company can serve customers at a loss indefinitely. The hope of Detroit and other Michigan communities to obtain an adequate supply of gas at reasonable rates rests entirely upon the early construction and operation of the Michigan-Wisconsin pipeline—which Panhandle is doing its best to prevent.

Seymour Speaks At Yale Dinner

George B. Hefferan received the presidential nomination Saturday when the Yale Alumni Association of Michigan met for their annual dinner at the University Club. Nominated for secretary and treasurer were B. Courtney Rankin and William G. Lerchen, Jr., respectively.

Charles Seymour, president of the university, was the principal speaker, and Prof. Benjamin Nagle traveled from New Haven to address the alumni group.

Among Pointe alumni attending were Alexander L. Wiener, Ledyard Mitchell, Jr., Dr. Frank J. Sladen, Alvan Macauley, Jr., Hiram H. Walker, Henry Ledyard, William H. Ledyard, James McMillan, Charles L. Film Depicts Snake Worship

Hitherto unfilmed scenes from the ritual of snake-worship in Tibet were shown in a motion picture travelogue "Wheels Across India," to members of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council at the March meeting.

The film is one of 1,000 such sound motion pictures available free to schools, churches, clubs and other organizations through the Vis-U-Aid Co.

This motion picture was regarded as a good example of a film suitable as a supplement to certain courses in schools, being both educational and high in entertainment value.

Denis Armand and Leila Roosevelt, leaders of several Asiatic expeditions into little-known lands, made the film. Their search for the snake-worshippers led them to Ceylon, Burma, India and Tiber.

Following her up a narrow mountain defile they were able to take thrilling pictures of this dangerous form of worship, in which the woman hypnotized a giant, poisonous cobra.

Chally Blue Boy Feline Champion

Champion Chally Blue Boy, a blue Persian male cat, owned by Mrs. Walter C. Meyer, 1417 Beaufield, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan, has been named the All-Midwestern champion in his color, breed and sex classification, according to the rankings published in the April number of Cats Magazine.

Chally Blue Boy is one of 53 such cats in the rankings representing the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Minnesota and Ohio. It marks the second successive year that this pedigree show cat has carried off this particular honor.

By winning the All-Midwestern blue male title, Chally qualifies for the title of All-American cat later this summer, when he will be pitted against the finest bluebloods representing the East, South, Far West, Northwest and Canada. The rankings are made by a mathematical system applied to the results of cat shows throughout the United States and Canada.

Last year, Chally was nosed out for the title of All-American by Champion Wimauma Masterpiece, owned by Charles Victor of North Hollywood, Calif.

Seven Michigan cats have been awarded the Midwest title, but the Meyer feline ranks highest of all the 53 cats given awards for this year. He earned his award by outstanding victories in Detroit and Buffalo during the past season.

"Her feet beneath her Petticoat
Like little mice stole in and out

But oh, she dances such a way
No sun upon an Easter Day
Is half so fine a sight."
—Sir John Suckling

GIRLS WHO GO IN FOR COMPLETE NEW EASTER ENSEMBLES ALWAYS REMIND US OF A LONG Distance Beau we once had—a sort of Champagne Charlie. Now Charlie had what can only be described as an acute Holiday Complex. Regularly a week or so before the upcoming holiday, Charlie would long distance for a date. The formula was this:

"Put on your new Easter Bonnet with the Paris ribbons on it—and we'll celebrate—upon and champagne at the club."

The bid varied only with the seasonal holidays, but it was always a champagne and clothes horse race. This might have gone on for centuries, had not a blessed fate intervened.

Before one holiday the long-distance lines failed Charlie—or to be exact he couldn't seem to catch up with us. That telephone ring had become sort of a fire bell to us.

Undaunted, the Last of the Beau Brunnels breezed into town and tracked us to our lair. Poor Charlie—he who so loved those fabulous little French models found us in our fatigues clothes, in the merciless noonday sun. Charlie was, however, equal to the occasion.

"Let's," he began, "just dash down to the club for lunch—"

"Charlie, this hurts me more than it does you. But how can we celebrate in broad daylight, with us in a jumper, and sipping cokes?"

"We'll both sip cokes," said he manfully.

He did. And we did. And that did it.

After that luncheon we knew we were a free woman. Without the clothes, caviar and champagne, a child of ten could tell that Charlie was just another over-stuffed shirt . . . In fact, a child of ten DID tell us as we left the club.

In the gaga saga of Champagne Charlie, there seems to be this maulin moral: A Fly-by-Night may be a Louse-by-Day.

THIS WEEK, JUST AS WE'D DECIDED THAT IF WE SAW once more in print that persistent pest the New Look, we would quietly reach for our old Borgia poison ring—a new and nefarious one hit us where we live. Literally hit us when the postman tossed in that magazine that is ten pounds of encyclopedic information on masculine fashions for spring. Known guilelessly as "Men's Wear," it is the Male-Vogue of gentlemen who take their clothes seriously—in contrast to Esquire readers who take their telephone temptresses more seriously.

And whad-dye know! The lads have come up with a challenging phrase of their own, competing chic-to-chic with The New Look. Then men call theirs THE BOLD LOOK. And when The New Look and The Bold Look get together, kiddies—LOOK OUT!

Both of the current Looks are more than meets the eye. They are, this zingy, springy season a state of mind—not to mention a state of finance.

In our book, The New Look stands for a sort of Last Stand to be Ladies of Leisure; Tea on a Tight Rope over a grand canyon of world chaos; Bonnets and ad writers rhyme with Sonnets; Dior of Paris' new Zig-Zag Dress; Dior Sequins - on - Gingham and Gold Slippers with Slacks coming up from Palm Beach; colored silk hose flashing under taffeta petticoats of ankle duster skirts; the contrast of those G-String swimming suits that turn Puritans into Palm Beachers. All this—and peace about as permanent as your new permanent wave.

Browsing about for The Bold Look in manly attire, we found two contenders. One, the visiting Adolphe Menjou who was autographing his new book, "I Took Nine Tailors" for ladies who were wishing he'd autograph his shirt front instead for them. Monsieur Menjou, we must, alas, nominate as the Pessimist-of-the-Year because he claims a man should wear BOTH suspenders and garters. The suspenders to assure the current hang of the trousers and the garters to hold up socks smoothly. Oh well, maybe Menjou is just an Optimist who owns a rubber plantation. The other contender for The Bold Look is President Truman, who on St. Patrick's Day slipped a Green Carnation in his lapel and told the Russians to go to—well!

The Bold Look stands for Dusting off the Top Hat, Waistcoat and Cutaway on Easter Morn; gathering galore those new English-patterned silk ties that are putting the hysterical ones on the ropes; A Blue Suit for a New Suit; letting those California Clothes cross the country for summer—for what they call "solid" comfort but ought to be called "limpid" comfort since who wants to feel solid in summer; grabbing off the gaudiness; taking a final fling on being well-Bride-groomed before your number turns up; And THAT is the blessing we wish you all. —m.m.

Park Decides to Join Water Works Ass'n.

On the recommendation of Village Manager Everitt Lane the Board of Commissioners of the Park voted Monday night to make the village a member of the American Water Works Association.

This organization is exclusively an association of municipal or privately owned water organizations engaged in the public water supply business.

The advantage of membership in that those affiliated with the organization are kept fully informed of all of the scientific advances in the business and also with acts or proposed acts of the various legislatures affecting the business.

It was Mr. Lane's wish that the municipality should hold the membership in its name rather than that he personally should be so listed.

JET RACING RESULTS Friday, March 12. Among the officials making the race a huge success was Lon Backman of Lakeview avenue, general chairman; Harry Campbell and Tim Bernard, timers; Bus Miller, announcer and recorder and James Drake as starter.

In Class A for Cars under 2 ounces taking 1st place with the time of 1.2 seconds, was Dick Craig. Second place with 1.3 seconds was Bob Backman and tied for 3rd with 1.4 seconds were Don Huvaere and Arthur Vernier.

In Class B for cars weighing 2 ounces and over, Bob Backman's Jet racer came in first with the time of 1.8 seconds. Alan Gieche was second with 1.7 seconds and Richard Tucker and Tom Tapert tied for 3rd with 2.1 seconds.

First Prize for originality, (that is the most unusual model), went to Million Guiche of 733 St. Clair, and the prize for his most outstanding workmanship on his model went to Don Huvaere of 1366 Maryland. Each of the boys were presented with an Exacto knife set by Lon Backman—organizer and sponsor of the event.

Mr. Drake is presenting a trophy to the Jet-racer who accumulates the most number of points at the end of the season.

Standings of the boys in the Jet racing events will be listed within the next two weeks.

CARD PARTY

Card Enthusiasts will want to "X" April 9 as their opportunity to mingle, munch and massage the decks at the Neighborhood Club. The 8 p. m. party, nurtured by the femme basketweavers, promises a diversified evening for all fans of the fifty-two, age and sex, regardless. The party blueprint, etched by the committees, specifies that each card quartet elect its own games, the table award going to the couple with the most consistent wins.

Pressed to preview the prizes, Prize Chairman Gladys Constantine, revealed that they are ceramic pieces made by members of the Basketball team.

To ice the cake, door prizes will adopt holders of four lucky tickets. The admission, which includes refreshments as well as the prizes, will be to help outfit the Girl's Basketball Team which represents Grosse Pointe and the Neighborhood Club in the Detroit Parks and Recreation League. Tickets are available at the Neighborhood Club.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The femme basketweavers terminated their court tilts last week by trouncing Madison Building 44-11. Out of ten league encounters, the sextet scored four victories. Though the statistics seem dismal, observers point out that time ignited the girls prowess, the team invariably providing formidable opposition after the second quarter. Members of the team are now looking forward to Baseball. Just as soon as the weather permits, weekly workouts will be held on the athletic field of the Neighborhood Club. Any girls interested in keen competition on the baseball diamond are urged to contact Miss Masak by calling NI. 4600. The team will enter its second year of active competition in the Detroit Parks and Recreation League.

3 Pointers at Kenyon Given Athletic Awards

Among the members of the Kenyon College basketball and swimming teams who received athletic awards before an assembly of the college student body this week were three boys from Grosse Pointe.

George G. Mantho, son of Mr. Frederic G. Mantho of 364 Fisher road, a member of the Freshman basketball squad was awarded his class numerals.

Edwin A. Schaub Jr., son of Mr. Edwin A. Schaub of 1427 Nottingham road, and Charles O. Bartlett Jr., son of Mr. Charles O. Bartlett of 470 Lincoln road, received class numerals as members of the Freshman swimming team. Charles Bartlett was further honored as the recipient of the Weiant Trophy, voted by the Kenyon Department of Physical Education for the outstanding Freshman swimmer.

It was particularly fitting for Athletic Director Pat Pasini to present the trophy to young Bartlett since Bartlett's father had been manager of one of Coach Pasini's champion basketball teams at Case School of Applied Sciences, Cleveland, Ohio.

WANTED:

Help to spread a miracle

You heard a lot about it during the war—the miracle of blood.

Men snatched from certain death by battlefield transfusions. The saving surgery permitted, the "impossible" cures effected by blood in its many life-giving forms.

Now—in peace—we all know what a boon to humanity blood can be . . . in accidents and operations to prevent fatal shock . . . in treatment of severe burns . . . in fighting dread diseases . . . as a surgical aid in delicate brain and nerve operations . . . in preventing hemorrhages . . . as a wound dressing . . . and in childbirth.

Blood may be needed to save your life. Or your child's.

WILL IT BE AVAILABLE? When? How?

It will be available to all eventually—with your help.

For your Red Cross is starting one of its greatest projects—the new National Blood Program. Ultimately whole blood and its priceless derivatives will be made available . . . without cost for the products . . . to the nation's entire population, through physicians and hospitals everywhere in America.

It's on its way—for all!

Starting at selected places across the nation . . . expanding gradually over a period of years . . . including certain scattered local and state programs . . . it will grow until the estimated 3,700,000 pints of blood needed annually can be procured.

But only through your contribution to its present Fund Campaign can your Red Cross accomplish its task. Won't you help this great plan to success?

Remember, you're not giving just dollars.

You're giving mercy . . . and health . . . and life itself!

IT'S YOUR RED CROSS . . . KEEP IT GOING

Give Generously!

House Heating Now Controlled By Electronics

A new method of controlling home heating by electronics, said to be man's closest approach to simulating the temperature control system of the human body, was demonstrated in Detroit for the first time.

The revolutionary device, known as Electronic Modiflow, makes instantaneous adjustments for the slightest change in outdoor temperature, eliminating the time lag that occurs with ordinary control systems. Three thermostats, one located outside and two inside, "take the temperature" of a house continuously and signal the heating plant to increase or decrease its output, just as the nerve system controls body metabolism, it was pointed out.

The thermostats are up to 100 times more sensitive than older types.

"Through the science of electronics, which is bringing comfort into our lives more and more all of the time, we have been able to simulate the human body's system of temperature control," said Hal Chamberlain of the Detroit office of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, which developed Electronic Modiflow.

"The new system actually is an adaption of airplane cabin temperature control developed during the war. In that application it was necessary to provide comfort in a plane which might experience a temperature of 110 degrees above zero on the ground and 40 degrees below in the air five minutes later. Naturally, the system would have to make compensations for variations every split second of flight."

Detroit was selected for one of the first domestic applications of the new system because of its extreme and sudden weather changes, according to Mr. Chamberlain. The first instruments were flown here from the plant in Minneapolis in the company plane immediately after tests were completed so they might be installed for the current heating season.

Grace McGraw Elected Phi Beta Kappa Member

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur B. McGraw of Lakeland avenue have received the glad tidings from Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., that their daughter, Grace McGraw, has been chosen to the Vassar chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Grace, who will graduate in June, won academic honors in her first and second years at the college. A physiology major, she previously attended the Ethel Walker School.

Of Interest To Veterans

Veterans are prohibited from receiving subsistence allowance and readjustment allowance for the same period, officials at the Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus (O.) emphasized today.

VA officials point out that only veterans actively seeking and willing to accept any suitable work may legally receive unemployment allowances. Even then, veterans are not eligible for unemployment pay during any period for which they receive subsistence allowances under the educational and training provisions of the G. I. Bill.

Concurrent receipt of both benefits is a violation of the law and subjects a veteran to prosecution.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Does the age of World War I and World War II veterans affect the amount of compensation or pension paid to them?

A. Compensation is not affected, but pension for non-service-connected permanent total disability is increased upon reaching age 65.

Q. I have completed my job training course and find that I still have entitlement time left under the educational provisions of the G. I. Bill. Will I be permitted to go to another school for the remainder of my entitlement?

A. If you have entitlement time left, you may use the remainder either for job-training or for educational training with VA prior approval.

New York Cavalcade

By LOUIS SOBOL

A DAY AT A STUDIO!

HOLLYWOOD — Anywhere else, and I would have been the envy of the multitudes—well, at least of some of the wolves—but here at a table in the Metro commissary, scarcely anyone threw an eye—blue, brown or jealous-green, in our direction—and yet there she was, glamorous herself, Lana Turner, sitting there and reaching over to press my hand—not in an absent-minded way—but affectionately and warmly—and pleading with me to please come back Monday and see her.

Of course, she didn't say she wanted me to come and see her in time in her home, just the two of us dawdling lazily over our pink ladies. No—she merely wanted me to come back to the Metro lot to see her work out as Lady de Winter, which is her role in the new remake of "The Three Musketeers."

Also, the divine Lana mentioned Bob Topping three or four times too often. Still and all—she was there at a table, alone with me—for a few seconds—before Keenan Wynn and Richard Whorf and Joe Pasternak and Arlene Dahl and Irving Berlin joined us—which made it a party.

That tall, young beauty, Arlene Dahl, with sunset hair, who sat with our group for a short time, is, let's face it, this season's major excitement in Hollywood. They have great hopes for her around here—and at the worst, the very worst, she certainly has the face and figure to launch a thousand jet planes.

While we sat there, Producer Arthur Freed came over, too, and had a sudden inspiration. "How," he asked Lana, "would you like to play the part of one of the most exciting personalities we ever had in show business—Gaby Delays?" The Turner gal said: "My, that sounds wonderful. I think I would." Freed said: "I think that's for you, if we can arrange it. What a Gaby you'll make."

I had my own casting ideas at this point. Watching Richard Whorf as he chattered away, it occurred to me he would be the perfect chap to play the part of Eddie Cantor—the resemblance is startling from the lip line up. "Just call me Larry Parks Whorf," he agreed. "And give me 10 per cent."

We wandered over to the "Julia Misbehaves" set—and I thought to myself what a field day for those little pestiferous screwballs—the autograph pests—if I had them here in tow with me, Heaven forbid—for sprawled around—or sitting up—all on the one set, were Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Caesar Romero, Peter Lawford, Nigel Bruce, Elizabeth Taylor, Lucille Watson and Mary Boland.

As for that Elizabeth Taylor, now blossoming into womanhood—16 years old—Metro put itself on the back for possessing the most valuable property to come along in years. A ravishing young beauty, self-poised, but modest, oozing talent—there is no doubt that she is destined to be Moviedom's No. 1 star very shortly.

We moved on to "The Three Musketeers"—which brilliant George Sidney is directing—arriving in time to observe Messrs. Gene Kelly, Van Heflin and Keenan Wynn valiantly fighting off a horde of attackers even more bravely than Errol Flynn. This is a costume picture, of course—and an expensive one—the costs going high above $3,000,000—which makes me wonder what became of those virtuous plans to keep these productions on low-figure budgets.

Irving Berlin crossed our path about this time and told us he was off to Arrowhead with Norman Krassa to complete the musical the two are writing, and we left him to proceed to the recording dungeons where Kathryn Grayson was letting loose in sweet high notes. Frank Sinatra joined our group, at this point—and urged us to leave before he started recording. "An hour with Sinatra's voice today,"

Ross Mulholland Bringing Bandstand Caravan April 2

WXYZ's traveling show, Bandstand Caravan starring Ross Mulholland, is en route to Grosse Pointe. Organized by station WXYZ and the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation, the Bandstand Caravan is loaded to the hilt caps with music, stunts and gimmicks, all for the teen-agers. The Caravan has been scheduled for weekly appearances at recreation centers throughout Detroit and suburbs.

On April 2, the Bandstand Caravan will stop at Pierce Jr. High School under the auspices of the Pierce Jr. High School Parent Teachers Association. This show is designed to give teen-agers a night of fun and frolic plus a glamorous atmosphere.

With Ross Mulholland as emcee, the Caravan is actually a variety show within a dance. The music will be supplied by a studio record player and the program will include audience participation stunts and amateur contests, with record albums awarded to the winners. As an added feature, the Arthur Murray dancers will present a dancing exhibition.

All proceeds from the dance will go into the sponsoring club's treasury to be used for the group's needs.

he remarked glumly, "is like a weekend with a buzzsaw. Take a tip—and breeze."

We did—but not before Riccardo Montelban explained the book he was carrying. "My next part calls for me to be a solo player, so they give me this book and tell me the best thing is to learn polo by studying this book. See what it says in the very first line here." We read: "Polo is a most difficult game to learn."

So with the sun sinking slowly in the West, we said our reluctant farewell to the lot of the Roaring Lion—aware, with a sunken feeling—that for once in this annual visit to the studio, we had not run across Clark Gable.

The Snowsuit Chorus: Lee Kysler, Conrad Hohman, Carl Chamberlain, Mary Lou Wilkins, David Kalember, Billy McDougall, Pat Egan, Lloyd Phillips, David Lowry, Richard Tyler, Mike Scanlon, and Frank Oliverio. The finale was a song by the ensemble, "We Like the Wintertime," but the last line said, "We like it best of all when winter goes away."

Children in Miss Hall's 2A room at Mason School sent out posters saying that "The Circus is Coming to School." But the circus had already been at school, or so it seemed to their teacher. Children had been reading about the circus in their readers, "Friendly Village," and "Good Stories," and in many library books. They had seen a movie on the safe use of tools so that they could cut with jack knives and fashion paper cartons to resemble cages.

These had been painted gay colors and put on wagons brought from home. The children had been making paper mache masks for the lion and the tiger and a whip for the animal trainer. Many other things had been brought from home including clown suits, and a gay red and white beach ball.

Children had been working hard in the gymnasium where Mr. Falk helped them to become more skilled in tumbling. Finally the great day came. The gymnasium was the arena and when the circus parade, led by the band, marched in, many parents and children were in the audience.

"Join the Junior Red Cross" was the rallying cry for pupils at Trombly School last week. To augment the Red Cross contributions made by individual classes, the 6-A class sponsored a White Elephant Sale.

The idea of the sale germinated in a discussion led by the class president, Jean Carter, in which various means of group participation in the Junior Red Cross Drive were under consideration. An affirmative decision by the class was soon followed by plans for enlisting the cooperation of other pupils and organization of committees to prepare publicity posters and announcements, to price the "white elephants," and to prepare sales slips, price tags, and counter display signs for the store.

Prior to the sale, the pupils demonstrated and practiced sales techniques and store management with groups within the class. The class prepared sales record slips to assist them in proper accounting of receipts. The student body was enthusiastic in its support of the sale and the proceeds to the Red Cross fund netted $44.90.

School News

MASON SCHOOL

"Come to our Snow Show" read the invitations issued by Miss Johnston's first grade. School-mates, the kindergarten and first grade enjoyed the performance in the morning. Afternoon guests were parents and friends of the group and the afternoon kindergarten children.

Winter songs which the children had learned formed the musical background of the show with dramatization of these songs forming the theme. Robert Sainsbury, a realistic snowman with a broomstick gun and a pan for the hat, sang a solo, "I'm a Wonderful Man of Snow." David Kalember sang a solo part in a tone matching song, "Coasting."

Nine little girls in a costume did a snowflake ballet to "Snowflakes" and "Dancing Snowflakes." These were: Donna Brunna, Susan Higley, Una Harms, GERALYN Jameson, Shirley Neuenfeldt, Jean Crookes, Adafaye Smith, and Donna VanHouteghen. William LaFrance as Jack Frost did a pantomime which finished when he pinched the nose of Mary Lou Wilkins, in the role of a little girl who ventured too near him.

A Snowsuit Chorus presented two verse choir selections, "My Zipper Suit" and "Mitten Song," a song "We Made a Snowman" and did a pantomime to several winter songs, "We'll Pick Up Snow," "Make a Snowman," and then joined the Snowflake Chorus for rhythmic interpretation of "The Skaters."

According to Frank J. Welcenbach, the 6-A teacher, "The work and problem solving experiences inherent in the sale provided a unique opportunity for combating worthy spiritual and educational objectives."

Pupils of Trombly School are busily engaged this week in the Junior Red Cross Drive in addition to their "3R's."

The pupils heard short talks by local Junior Red Cross officials. Mrs. David Vivien was introduced by Mrs. Alice M. Sheaffer, in the school auditorium. They saw a motion picture depicting the work of the Red Cross in action.

In addition to organizing their individual class participation, pupils and teachers discussed and studied the many activities carried on by the Red Cross. Later in the week Fifth and Sixth grade pupils joined efforts in staging a Junior Red Cross rally. Pupils outlined in talks and skits the friendly work performed by the Red Cross, the history of the organization, and biographical sketches of personalities famous in Red Cross work. Class representatives reported on the progress of individual class campaigns.

The lower grades at Trombly also had a pep meeting at which time children gave reports on the work of the Red Cross. Each room reported on one phase of the Red Cross work and the group left the auditorium singing a Red Cross song which was written at Trombly.

As a part of this drive the students of the 6A class are sponsoring a White Elephant Sale, the proceeds of which will be reported as a part of the total pupil contribution to the Red Cross.

Sweet spring music pours forth from the second grade room at Trombly school, for at last after winning several prizes for the most parents attending P.T.A. in that room, the 2B children have their much longed for canary. He is six months old and has a beautiful song. He sings practically all day and sometimes he has to be taken to the principals office because he is so full of song. Joann Sweet brought her lovely cage to make him feel more at home. The children take turns learning how to clean the cage and give him the proper amount of food.

The children discussed ways to make friends with him. Some of the things they learned were never to point a finger into the cage or move suddenly because it frightens him.

After much discussion it was decided to call him "Chirpie".

National Guard Seeks Students

A National Guard recruiting team from the 425 Infantry Regiment ("Detroit's Own") National Guard Unit will visit all high schools in the Detroit area within the next two months, it was announced by Col. George Stapleton, Commanding Officer of the 425th.

Captain William Hanifan, who heads the recruiting group, stated that his recruiting talk is designed to clearly point out the young citizens' part in the future defense of America.

"We will attempt to inform high school students, 16½ years of age or older, the role they may have to play in future military operations; how duty in the National Guard might effect their UMT status, and the advantages of joining the Guard now," Captain Hanifan said.

The current campaign, known as "Operation Grayling," is part of a recruiting drive to swell strength of the Guard for the annual summer encampment at Camp Grayling from August 7 to 21, 1948. One thousand six hundred seventy-four new men will be inducted on August 21. With the assistance of first Sgt. A. G. Kehiss and several non-coms from the 425th, Captain Hanifan will present an interesting program, including sound films, equipment displays, and plain talk on the military future of America.

Should the governor of Michigan have new and additional powers over departments, commissions and bureaus? Is the governor, as has been recently charged, merely a "glorified clerk"?

Vernon J. Brown of Mason, former lieutenant governor, auditor general and state legislator, does not think so. During his 40 years of public service, half of which was as either a legislator or a state official, Mr. Brown served along with eight different governors in succession.

"THERE ARE TWO DISTINCT theories of government," observes Mr. Brown. "They are in direct opposition one to the other, and one must choose between them. First, and the one on which the American way is founded, is government based on the theory that the closer it is kept to the people the better. This implies strong local units and a division of authority and responsibilities so that the manifold duties of administration may be divided among as many capable administrators as may be required. In a state so diversified as Michigan, no individual can hope to attend to everything and no person should be expected to undertake to do so. Neither should he be entrusted with so great responsibilities."

"THE OPPOSITE THEORY IN GOVERNMENT is found at its highest development where Hitlers and Mussolinis and Stalins are produced. Under such a government all authority is centered at the top where every decision is made. Everything below must bend either the knee or the neck. There are those in this country who evidently yearn for the power and the obedience that go along with this last described type of government. "It is noted that there are certain public officials in Michigan who do not like the Michigan way. They like neither the laws nor the restrictions imposed upon them."

"MOST OF THE RESTRICTIONS complained of have been imposed and put into effect since the days of Alex. Groesbeck. There are some left who will recall the primary campaign of 1928 when the Groesbeck autocracy was the prime issue. Evidently the people of that day had become tired of Groesbeck bossing. In any event they chose Fred W. Green in preference. And beginning then and continuing until this day there has been a trend in Michigan resulting in sorting out first one function and then another for independent administration, free of interference by the governor and free from partisan politics.

"The first notable example was the establishment of the department of conservation which long had been a political football. The revenue department, the mental hospital group, veterans affairs and several others have followed. Even before this there was the independent highway, the colleges and the university and several lesser boards and commissions.

"IT IS TRUE THAT IN MICHIGAN the governor has not the power and authority he once had nor has he as much as the governors of some of the other states now have. But this by no means is accidental. It has come about because of a public demand. "Nevertheless from my observation over the years I have never known of an instance where any commission, bureau, board or other agency has snapped its fingers at the governor or ignored his wishes—except when to do so would have been against good public policy. I have known of instances where certain boards have refused to do the bidding of the governor but in every such instance I can recall, time proved they were correct and not the governor."

"THERE IS A DIVISION OF AUTHORITY in Michigan. None will deny that. Making up the list of all the good citizens of Michigan now serving on some eighty-odd such boards appear the names of more than half a thousand good citizens. But let us remember that most of them are serving the people without reward or pay and that each is a man or woman of good repute in his own locality. Moreover, each has been selected for his intimate knowledge in the special field served by his particular group. The public receives many thousands of dollars of free service from these board and commission members.

"No such system should be disturbed merely to satisfy the ego of one person or his demand for more power. Governors come and governors go, but government must carry on and that is why most of the boards and commissions of which the present governor now complains were created."

Don't kick the farmer or the food retailer in the pants in all the current discussions regarding high food prices! They aren't responsible for high food prices. Who is? Listen to Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc. We heard him recently at a newspaper advertising convention in Chicago. Here is an excerpt worthy of careful consideration today, even though there appears to be some current trend toward lower prices:

"When will food prices come down? When all the elements of cost come down. If we wish to send vast quantities of food to the rest of the world . . . and I assume we do . . . then we must accept the inevitable consequences: scarcity and high prices at home. "If we wish labor to have high wages and shorter hours, to enjoy a higher standard of living, then we must remember that this increases the cost and we must pay for it.

"If we want the government to engage in the multitudinous activities which it now supports, then we must accept that this costs money and means high taxes here, and higher taxes mean higher prices. If we want lower prices, the farmer, the manufacturer, the working man, the distributor, the transport industry and the government must put their heads together and see what each is doing, which may be eliminated, which each is charging which may be reduced.

"It is really very simple to figure out why food prices are still comparatively high. The

Belanger Fines Reckless Drivers

Lockridge, of 295 Rivard, for reckless driving and car not under control causing accident on March 11, was fined $10 and $7.10 costs. Allen Roy Reed, of 216 Ashland, Detroit, for failure to have car under control causing an accident on Feb. 11, fined $10 and $5 costs.

Presbyterian Association Hears Miss Alice Suckles

Miss Alice Suckles, of the International Institute, told the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church about the institute at a meeting Monday evening in Memorial Church. The Esther Group members, headed by Mrs. George Eason, were hostesses. On the committee were Mrs. William Marr, Mrs. Charles Schank, Mrs. R. P. Lehman and Mrs. Ray DeGraw. Mrs. K. W. Higgs gave the dedication.

Are high food prices the result of high profits? Food manufacturers' profit on the sales dollar was 4.6 cents in 1939, 3.9 cents in 1946, and 3.5 cents in 1947. Retailer profits are smaller, too, amounting to about 1.5 cents on the dollar. If both the manufacturer's and retailer's profits were wiped out on a can of beans, the consumer saving would be six tenths of a cent. "What's the answer then?" you ask. "If the American people really want to help themselves and their country," added Mr. Willis, "then they must discard the philosophy of easy work and easy money, and substitute the hard work and hard money philosophy which enabled our forefathers to build this country to its present strength. "All of the American people . . . industry, press and public . . . are in this thing together. All segments of our economy are responsible in one way or another for present high prices, and all must work together to bring about the adjustment necessary. "The trouble with this advice is that it's too old-fashioned, it's too sensible. It's easier to blame the farmer, the food retailer, than yourself."

Bands Rate High In Competition

The Fifteenth Annual Band and Orchestra Festival which was held at Pierce Junior High School last Saturday, fill the auditorium and gymnasium all afternoon and evening.

In the Junior High division, Pierce received a No. 1 rating, which is superior, and Brownell received No. 2 rating, which is excellent. Grosse Pointe High School won a No. 2 rating for the Class A division, and in the same division, Pontiac holds the superior rating. Class B honors were taken by Oxford, and in the Class C High School division, there were no superiors. Ferndale and Mt. Clemens orchestras finished with superior ratings.

CAVE-IN FIXED
A cave-in occurred about 8 o'clock in the evening on 16 along the east side of the curb on Maryland, where sewer work is in progress. The police roped off the hole and placed red lights over it. It was attended to the next morning by the contractor.

Farms Only Municipality Which Provides Diamond

Sale of Kerby Field Leaves Enthusiasts with Hopes Centered on Quick Completion of New Recreation Area Further East

By FRED RUNNELLS With the announcement of the sale of Kerby Field by Grosse Pointe Farms, baseball fields throughout the Pointe have been reduced to three, Mason, Vernier and the High School.

Pointe baseball players are wondering just where they will be able to play their favorite game this coming summer now that the best field has been sold.

Of three remaining diamonds only one, the High School, can be classed as playable and in no way can be labeled "Good," because of its rough, clay infield.

Mason affords enough space to play ball, but is unplayable for days after a rain because it is so low the surrounding area drains into it, making it a veritable clay swamp.

Vernier field is small and is undesirable because any ball hit down the third base line falls into the street or gets lost in the trees that border the sidewalk. Power hitters often become a line drive off the school because of a short left field.

You can scratch the High School diamond off the list after the middle of August. The Board of Education is planning to close this diamond and rebuild it for the following spring. The plans call for raising the pitcher's mound a foot and a half and tapering the diamond to afford good drainage. The infield will be seeded after this is done and a fence will be erected to protect the infield through the fall and winter months.

The Board of Education is also planning a huge baseball diamond at the new Parcels Junior High, but it will not be ready until 1949 or later.

Where will Pointe ball players indulge in their favorite sport this summer?

Word comes from Farms Engineer Murray Smith that work on the new Kerby Field will start just as soon as the weather dries out enough to permit heavy equipment. Mr. Smith wouldn't venture a guess whether the new baseball diamond would be ready

Baseball Call Sent Out At High School

1948 Season Launched with Meeting Addressed by Coach Pat Kaulitz

By JOE FROMM

The 1948 baseball season opened at Grosse Pointe High School Monday with a meeting called by Coach Pat Kaulitz. Actual practice on the field began Tuesday.

Kaulitz opened the meeting by explaining his system of keeping only those boys who played baseball during the summer on the squad. "I feel that baseball is one sport that you must play continually," he told the aspirants, "and those boys who played on teams during the summer have shown interest in playing and in wanting to improve."

He will divide the players into three groups with about 15 on each squad. The first squad will be composed of returning lettermen and outstanding candidates. It will practice every night, weather permitting.

The other two squads will contain the remainder of the candidates and will practice alternately every other night. By this method Coach Kaulitz hopes to produce a winning team and build a team of younger players for next year.

Coach Kaulitz will have five returning players from last year's team which finished the season with four victories and five losses.

Those returning will be pitcher Al Bryant, infielders George Kyros, Vince Schoeck, and Herb Gerhard, and outfielder Jerry Allen. The team will have vacancies at second base and in the outfield. Allen, who played the outfield last year will in all probability be switched to catcher.

The first game will be at Fordson on Tuesday, April 28. All 10 games on the schedule are league games.

April 30 Wyandotte Here
May 4 Monroe Here

Blue Devil Track Prospects Look Anything But Bright

By FRED RUNNELLS

With only nine returning lettermen Coach Frank Banach could only issue this statement, "We will have a typical Grosse Pointe track team this year and will have to depend upon the new candidates to provide a miracle to make us a contender for the title."

This statement may sound like sour grapes on Banach's part and if your writer didn't know what the track situation is, I would believe Banach was holding back information. BUT his statement is true blue. Grosse Pointe has few boys who are of championship caliber and who can be figured on to provide enough points to win track meets.

Up to this year Grosse Pointe has depended mainly on depth and balance in both the track and field events. This year the Blue Devils have only a skeleton crew since the graduation of such stars as Dan Beck and Mac Fraser, who many times last season pulled the Pointers through a tough meet.

The returning boys Banach must build around are: Jerry Braun, miler; Jim Flom, Dale Stevens, hurdlers; Bob Hays, Jim Hoskings, Dick Spei, middle distance; Jerry Jenkins, sprinter, and Tom Hollis, shot put.

Of the 114 candidates who reported for the first practice a week ago the most outstanding are: the Pierce twins, Hil and Bill, Bob Borden, Bob Coleman, Tom Dewey, Cal Purdy and Jim Williams.

Bill Anderson, a member of last year's football team, is out for the first time and will be trying for the sprint events. Although tall and rangy his speed is an unknown quantity.

Practice has been limited to the gymnasium during the first week but the team will move out doors as soon as the track dries up.

Former Pointe Net Stars Tour With College Teams

Three members of Grosse Pointe's 1946 Border Cities League championship tennis team are now on southern tours with college tennis squads.

"Ax" Jemal and Bob "squeaky" King are team mates at Kalamazoo College and are making their second southern tour with the team.

Both boys made the varsity squad in their freshman year after clinching a brilliant high school tennis career which helped the Blue Devils run their undefeated streak to 69 consecutive matches.

Kalamazoo's southern trip will cover about 2400 miles.

Jim Kennedy, a teammate of Jemal and King on the Blue Devil squad in 1946, is a member of the University of Cornell tennis team and will accompany the team on its southern trip.

The three boys have hopes of staging a reunion this spring as their paths are scheduled to cross.

Kennedy won his freshman numerals in 1947.

Kalamazoo's schedule will pit it against seven of the leading southern schools.

Parochial Loop Undergoes Shift

By JOE FROMM

St. Paul and St. Ambrose, Grosse Pointe parochial schools, will find the competition in sports tougher beginning with the next basketball season. The Parochial League's second division will undergo a complete change.

The greatest change will come in the division of the schools into four sections instead of the present two. They will be the East, West, Central, Suburban. They are divided into East and West now.

St. Paul and St. Ambrose will remain in the East section. The change will not take effect until the next basketball season because the football schedule for next year is already drawn up.

Some of the weaker schools in the present East side division will be shifted to other divisions. St. Philip, St. Rose and St. Bernard will be moved to the Central division and St. Vincent will be moved to the West division.

St. Catherine, a first division team, will be moved down into the second division East. St. Paul, St. Ambrose, St. Martin, St. Charles and Annunciation will compose the other East side schools.

St. Leo, a first division, and St. Andrew, third division, will be shifted to the second West section. St. Andrew recently defeated St. Gregory, Catholic School champions for Detroit, and reached the finals in state competition.

The Central section will get the addition of three third division schools. The Suburban will include Parochial schools from Pontiac, Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens and Wyandotte.

East section will include six teams and two playoffs games

Reserve Officers Elect New Officers

Tennis Clinic to be Held For Youngsters 10 to 17

The Neighborhood Club has cooperated with Gray's Sport Shop to conduct a tennis clinic for boys and girls from 10 to 17 years of age. There will be no charge for the clinic but a fee of 25c will be charged for tennis balls used in the course of instruction.

The clinic will be held at the Neighborhood Club April 10, 17, and 24, 9-10 a.m. for ages 9-12, and 10-12 a.m. for ages 14-17. The following instructors will conduct the clinic: Roland Gray, 19 years professional at the Detroit Country Club; Jean Hoxby, who has developed national champions in the past ten years, and Merlin Schultz, now tennis coach of the Grosse Pointe High School. There will be a limit of 100 entries. Entries must be made before Thursday, April 8 at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterlool, or at Gray's Sport Shop, 106 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Leaders Falter In Rotary Loop

Harrison Carpets, fighting to get out of last place in the Grosse Pointe Rotary pin league, upset the league-leading Houston Bros. Inc., 3-1, at the Woods Recreation last Friday night. Ken Maidment's "Magic Carpeters," led by Pagel, who by the way is leading the league with a fancy 182 average set the Fisher-Maumee boys back on their heels.

Houston avoided being shut out for the first time this season, when they luckily won the middle game by a scant five pin.

Martin Outboard Motors, in second place, met the same fate when Holzbaugh Motors, led by Bamberg's 553 series, stalled the Mariners, 3-1. The "Silver mechanics" needed this series to stay in the race as they have Houston and Middle Atlantic to bowl on successive weekends. Of course Earl's boys will have to hurdle Forrest Piche's Barbers when they meet to-morrow night.

Ed Taub's Farms Market, coming out of a bad slump, upset the third place Middle Atlantic Transp. Co. team, 3-1. Capt. Tony Volpe shooting a nice 582 series for the losses.

Farrest Piche's Barbers, going like a house after now, had Motor City Tires to face. Farrest's 214 and Bill Goss's 232 in 579, helped make their team along. Bob Smith in Motor City, coming up with 242 in 565, tried hard to stall the White Guts but his buddies let him down.

G. P. Rowley, banned back after going ten out of the worst slump a team could have, only six weeks ago, hit a new high for second five pins out of 1987. They outscored the Punch & Jack Cocktail Lounge 3-1, last Friday night. Capt. Henry Pichinski rolling 595 a nice contribution.

Monday's fixtures, led on by them as Bill Meier, who rolled a sizzling 597, registered a clean sweep. Wednesday's fixtures, led by them as they have only lost five points in the last seven weeks and should make things very interesting if not, troublesome for the front runners. To-morrow night they cross alleys with the Motor Bros, then take on the Middle Atlantic the following week. Anything can happen and possibly will. Watch Monday in the street.

Pro Team Conquers Pointe's All-Stars in Thrilling Game

Jerry Lynch Basketball Five Threatened in Closing Minutes by Fighting Aggregation in Neighborhood Club Tilt

By JOE FROMM

Jerry Lynch, Detroit's only professional basketball team, edged out a 65-62 victory over an all-star team picked from the seven teams in the Neighborhood Club League Friday night.

Jerry Lynch seemed to have the game on ice when they held a 65-57 advantage with two minutes left in the game but the fighting Grosse Pointe team came to within three points with less than a minute remaining.

Grosse Pointe took possession of the ball on a jump but lost it on a bad pass to end its threat with less than 30 seconds left in the game. Lynch stalled until the game ended.

The Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club All-Stars were selected by popular vote of the managers of the teams, the referees, and athletic director Bill Destrocher.

The list of players included Bob Messner, Glenn Holt, Bob Brown, and Tom Ireland of Hanson Chevrolet; Ed Lauer, Red Mason and Tom VanTiem of St. Paul; Tom Wilson, Leroy Guaresimo, and Woody Giest of Francos.

Representing AmVets were Tony Verdonek and Jack Betz. Action started out fast in the first quarter with each team matching basket for basket. Coyle started for Jerry Lynch with a basket in the opening minute but haskets by Red Mason and Charlie Doerner put the local All-Stars in front.

At the end of the initial period Jerry Lynch took a 21-20 lead that they held for the rest of the game. Keeler led Lynch scoring with 12 points in the first quarter, all of them long shots from the middle of the court.

Grosse Pointe fell behind in the second period as Keeler continued to sink nine more points to give him a total of 21 points in the first half.

In the second half, Coaches Fred Runnell of Francos and Knoll of AmVets assigned Ed Lauer to guard Keeler and Lauer held him to only two points.

Grosse Pointe opened the final period with a rush and scored 11 straight points to put them back in the game 54-51. At the automatic time-out Lynch led 64-57.

Keeler took scoring laurels with 23 points, 21 points scored in the first half. Red Mason of Grosse Pointe ran second with 18 points.

Hanson Chevrolet defeated St. Clair Shores in a non-league game preceding the All-Star event 41-32. This was the fifth loss in 31 games for St. Clair, which the runner-up in the St. Clair Shores League.

Bob Messner and Glenn Holt of Hanson took scoring honors with 15 and 11 points respectively. Hanson's is leading the Neighborhood League standings.

Apache Quintet Wins Junior Division in Club Court Loop

By FRED RUNNELLS

The high-flying Apache quintet closed out its season in the Neighborhood Club (Minor Division) Basketball League last week with 11 victories and two defeats to win the Optimist Club trophy, emblematic of league supremacy.

The rest of the teams in the league still have games left to play, but none can overtake the Apaches regardless of their outcome.

The Hirs squad was the only one that had an outside chance to tie the leaders if the Apaches had dropped their last contest.

On Thursday, March 18, St. Clair No. 1 whipped St. Paul, 34-22, to hand the red shirts their tenth loss of the season. Tom Bailey led the winners' attack with 16 points.

The finest show of sportsmanship of the year was displayed by Gabriel Richard, Tuesday, March 16, when it allowed St. Clair to continue the game with two players who had five personal fouls.

By rights these two players should have been ejected from the game and because of Richard's sportsmanship the St. Clair outfit went on to win, 44-41.

Richard not only lost the game but lost an excellent chance to take over third place alone in the standings.

Tom Molitor captured high point honors with 21 points for the losers.

In the first game of a double bill on Monday, March 22, St. Clair, opening an upset on St. Paul, when he names its star "law-abiding" Red Mason, 38-29. St. Paul's defeat dropped it into a tie with Gabriel Richard for third place in the standings.

Paul Messner was individual high scorer with 12 points for St. Clair.

In the second game of the night Hanson Chevrolet defeated St. Paul, 46-35, to take the lead in the league.

Gordon Holt was the big gun in the Hanson attack with 21 points for a total of scoring honors.

Apaches Awarded Optimists' Cup

The Optimists Club of Grosse Pointe had a special presentation ceremony at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Alger Post VFW clubhouse on St. Paul avenue Tuesday noon, March 23.

The club presented a cup in the Apache basketball team, winner of the Junior Division in the Neighborhood Club court league which ended its season last week. Members of the team were 210-24 of the service organization at the luncheon.

A movie was shown following the presentation.

Enjoy Tasty Ice Creams
 Pineapple Mint Ice Cream (Automatic Refrigerator)
 Dissolve one rennet tablet by crushing in one tablespoon cold water. Mix two cups light cream, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup corn sirup, 1/4 teaspoon mint extract and few drops green food coloring (if desired). Warm slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When comfortably warm (110 deg. F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Add dissolved rennet tablet and stir quickly for a few seconds only. Pour at once, while still liquid, into refrigerator tray. Do not move until set—about 10 minutes. Place in freezing compartment and freeze until firm. Remove from tray to a bowl, break up with a fork and beat with an electric or rotary beater until free from hard lumps, but still a thick mush. Add pineapple sauce, beat quickly into the mixture. Finish freezing.

Improve Look Of Kitchens
 For a very small investment, the homemaker can change the appearance of one major room—the kitchen.
 That investment is in new shelf paper, which is plentiful this year. Picking out shelf paper is like selecting new wall paper for the living room. Material for bedroom drapes or new furniture covers—only it costs considerably less.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES (Florida Edition)

MRS. C. HENRY BUHL attended a recent house dance at Hobe Sound in strapless, misty yellow starched organdie dotted in large black discs. The skirt was full and ankle length. A wide midriff of black taffeta distinguished the frock with which she wore her elegant topaz jewelry. Incidentally, Mrs. B. is affecting one of the new look hair cuts... cap effect, very short and soft!

MRS. GEORGE O. JOHNSTON danced at the same smart function, (given by Mrs. Wilson Wing of Providence) in a white eyelid embroidered organdie frock worn over turquoise taffeta. Ankle length and designed with the veddy 1948 pushed-up sleeves, the gown was banded at the waist in a huge wide turquoise taffeta sash which ended in a large, loose bow at the back. Showed off her smooth sun tan.

MRS. HAROLD R. BOYER... glimpsed at the Everglades Club Circus Ball... in a heavenly soft pink lace bal gown splashed, sparingly, with pink crystal paillettes. Off the shoulder, the gown had cut-out medallions of the lace forming tiny sleeves. The full, gored skirt fell to the floor in graceful folds. With her radiant dark good looks—dramatic!

MRS. ROBERT MARTIN... dining with friends in Palm Beach... and looking soignée in a Carnegie afternoon frock. Extremely simple, the gown had a soft blue background for navy scroll tracings. The tracings and the neckline were outlined in iridescent blue sequins. Wispy sleeves. Great chic.

PILFERINGS

Bennet Cerf on Samuel Goldwyn:

"Goldwyn wants topflight men working for him and will pay any price to get them. He is responsible for the presence of some of the world's greatest authors in Hollywood. One of his earliest importations was Maurice Maeterlinck. 'I know you don't understand picture technique,' Goldwyn assured him, 'You don't have to. Just go home and write your greatest book over in the form of a scenario. I don't care how long it takes you.'

"Some weeks later Maeterlinck came back with the finished script.

"Now we'll see something," beamed Goldwyn, and took it into his sanctum sanctorum. Two minutes later he rushed out tearing his hair.

"My God," he screamed, "the hero is a bee!"

Punch says:

"Members of an Essex Women's Institute had a competition to decide who could whistle the shrillest note. The winner disclosed that she had concentrated her thoughts on the current price of everything."

The New York Times tells about an applicant for a Federal Job who wrote this on her Civil Service form:

"I was principal of a two room school and I taught all the subjects in the upper four grades. I also fixed the furnace, swept the floor, fixed the fences, carried the water and washed the windows. It was a very intellectual undertaking and the main thing I learned was never to do it again."

Pointer of Interest

RICHARD R. TOBIN OF BALFOUR ROAD

By Kitty Carney

An interest in history which naturally led him to study philosophies of various countries is responsible for his unusual Oriental art collection, believes Richard R. Tobin.

Carvings, mostly of Chinese teakwood in dark brown and black, are displayed in a large niche near the entrance hall of the Tobin home. A large goat-skin panel from Tibet forms the backdrop for these prized pieces of the collection.

This is the same picture panel before which the Buddhist monks pray, says Mr. Tobin. In fact, the National Geographic Magazine in an issue some months ago carried an article on Tibet with pages of color reproductions. Hanging in one of the ancient Buddhist temples pictured was a replica of the goatskin hand painting which is on the wall of his room.

ORIENTAL CARVINGS
Dragons, war dogs, Oriental deities and men are among the delicately carved figures in the Tobin collection. The striking fact about each of these works of art is, that, whether it is a foot high or only a couple of inches, it has been carved from a single block of wood.

Some of the carvings may take the artist as long as six or nine months, so intricate is the detail work, Mr. Tobin states. Among those which he considers exquisite pieces are a tiny dragon, a water buffalo, and a fisherman. The fine lines on the back of the water buffalo, he asserts, are comparable to those on a steel engraving. The Chinese fisherman leans upon his slender staff, but the rod has not been inserted between his hands—it also is carved with the rest of the figure from the solitary block of wood.

THE ORIENTAL TOUCH

The Oriental touch is not limited to one niche in the Tobin home, however. Inside the front hall stands a carved teakwood chest lined with camphor wood. A teakwood book rack, hand painted pictures of dragons, mandarins, carvings of Ming horses and tiny jade figures adorn the house.

An antique dinner bell and gong which graced some mandarin's home once, upon a time, and a tiny tear vase are other prized items. Behind the bejeweled brass tear vase is a unique story. In its spoon-shaped top, the Chinese widow is supposed to catch each of her tears, and she is obliged to mourn until she has filled the bottle to the brim.

CHINATOWN VISITOR

Where has he acquired this collection? Mr. Tobin, who operates the R. R. Tobin Tobacco Company in Detroit, "heads for Chinatown anytime I'm in a large city." While some of his treasured items have been gifts, he himself has collected most of the several hundred pieces in his home.

Reading Chinese history interested Mr. Tobin in Oriental philosophy, and from there he branched out into Chinese carvings which embody the ancient teachings. The sayings of Confucius impressed him so deeply that one of his packaged tobaccos bears a quotation from the Chinese wise man.

Two large book-ends on Mr. Tobin's office desk portray an Oriental man seated with a pair of dogs. These, he explains, are a commercialized form of the art, made by Philippine mountain tribesmen at the behest of American manufacturers.

VALUE SOARS

Because importations from China were held up during the war, the value of the Tobin collection has increased greatly in recent years. Today, Mr. Tobin is in quest of a book which will tell him the complete history behind each of the carvings he owns.

"The Chinese artist puts in the wood carving the character of the person," Mr. Tobin explains. "For instance, I have figures of the goddess of love and the goddess of sin. The moment you know what the carving represents, you can see that the artist has characterized the goddess exactly."

Mr. Tobin stresses, however, the difference between a carving by an experienced artist and one by a student. "After you've been collecting, you can tell at a glance whether an accomplished artist has made the figure," he says. Likewise, "fake" carvings, which are made in the United States and sold as imports, can be detected by the collector.

Besides liking Oriental art, Mr. Tobin is an ardent baseball fan. Right now he has a hobby which is far removed both from the Orient and baseball. Around the yard he has planted 410 rosebushes, including over 60 varieties of roses, and he's hard at work each Saturday in preparation for the beautiful rose display which graces the Tobin home each summer.

With his wife and daughter, Pat, Mr. Tobin lives at 1246 Balfour road. Pat is known in the metropolitan area for her work in radio and television.

TRANCE
by Mary Fiske Bryant

"I hate to ask you to work at night, but this woman is under contract with her publisher not to go into a trance without a stenographer there to take down every word she says." Mr. Neeting had explained to his secretary that his wife was giving a dinner party and had asked Faith Windsor to be there to entertain her guests, only to find that her regular secretary was out of town.

After assuring him that it was perfectly all right, Miss Rand went back to her desk and sat there trying to remember what she knew about Faith Windsor. Her curiosity prompted her to buy the book by that name on her way home that evening. The preface surprised her. It said that Faith Windsor had been an English girl who had lived in the seventeenth century, had come to America, married, and had been killed by Indians while still very young. The preface explained that a simple uneducated woman from the foothills of the Ozark Mountains had started on a Quija Board receiving messages from Faith Windsor and later had been able to go into a trance and the spirit would speak through her. The words came forth in the English spoken in the seventeenth century and although the spiritualist had never been abroad, descriptions of the small town in Sussex where the English girl had lived had been checked and found accurate in every detail.

Faith Windsor had been very romantic and poetic and the stories and poems she had spoken through her medium had been published. Miss Rand found her curiosity whetted but felt very skeptical about anything resembling spiritualism.

Mr. Neeting sent his chauffeur to pick up Miss Rand the night of the dinner, and also, to pick up Faith Windsor, who turned out to be, not simple and uneducated, but thoroughly common and unattractive, fat, middle-aged, and untidy. She seemed out of place in Mr. Neeting's gracious home among his well-groomed guests, and at cocktails drank more than her share. The champagne added further to her vulgarity.

After dinner, however, when she went into her trance her very voice changed and her thick alcoholic bass became a very clear and pleasing voice. She spoke in poetry, prose, or blank verse, and it seemed that more than one spirit was trying to get into the act. Much of the monologue, however, was in old English and Miss Rand had the feeling she was taking down a pseudo Shakespearean play in shorthand and began to feel tired. She had lost interest in this strange woman, feeling sure she was a fraud of some kind, although quite an actress.

The group became restless after an hour or so of this spurring kind of talk, jumping from poem, to story, to description, and in a trance or not, the woman was sensitive to her audience, and at the end of a poem became her own unattractive self again. She told the party that if someone would give her the name of a "loved one" she would see if Faith Windsor would make a poem about him. Various people mentioned names, mostly just first names, and once a little poem which everyone would say was very appropriate. Miss Rand thought the group very polite about what seemed to her perfectly uninspired poetry.

Then a young woman gave the name "James Short," and instantly the whole room was shocked by the unexpected outburst of groans, moans, and weeping which came from the spiritualist as she writhed and swayed in her chair, her eyes closed. "The clouds are black.

They cover the whole sky. The world is dark and full of fear and grief. The STORM is breaking." Then, gradually the demonstrations stopped and in a calm sweet voice a poem came forth to the effect that everything was wonderful now. "All the agony and the sorrow and the darkness had been well worth going through to earn and deserve this perfect happiness, this beautiful day. The clouds had lifted. The sun was shining, and joy was here."

Miss Rand was glad she had not given way to an impulse to laugh as she bent over her notebook because a great sob came from the girl who had given the name as she rushed out of the room weeping uncontrollably. Her husband followed her. The rest of the party learned that the name "James Short" was the name of her father, who had committed suicide five months before her baby had been born, and that she had named her baby after her father.

HOUSEHOLD INT

Cooking over coals or wood may begrime your frying pan with smoke. To prevent this, when cooking out of doors or over a coal or wood-burning range, rub the outside of the frying pan first with a heavy coating of laundry soap. Then rinse in water, and the soap and grime come off quickly.

It's not the bunch of flowers you give but the reason you give it.

JANE SCHERMERHORN

Those ladies of glamour who follow the beauty edicts of Miss Elizabeth Arden will hold on to their Easter bonnets and rush right over to SCHEITLER'S on Fisher road when we tell them there's a s-p-e-c-i-a-l on Arden cleansing cream.

Because the house of glamour overstocked on war time jars, Arden is offering you her cleansing cream packed in these jars for $2 instead of the usual $3. The cream is exactly the same as packed in past war containers and for your two dollars you get eight full ounces. This great bargain may be had starting March 29 (next Monday) at SCHEITLER'S on Fisher road.

To the gentlemen: You are really missing the Easter boat if you haven't called PASELK, the Grosse Pointe florist, and given your order for Her Easter posies. All types of corsages from single, smashing orchids to quaint Colonial nosegays... besides an elegant variety of cut flowers and Easter Sunday plants. Join this number down right now... for flowers at Easter and every season it's PASELK, NI. 8224.

The Easter Bunny has made TITUS DRUGS his headquarters for Easter candies and gifts this year! Gilbert's famous chocolates, in post war lushness, have arrived in one and two pound boxes. For the hard candy fans, there's another delicious assortment. Easter baskets will make your dimpled darlings pound their paddies in glee and Titus also has Easter baskets with gifts for adults. TITUS suggests you remember your wife, mother or sweetheart at Easter with some of the lovely perfumes and cosmetics from Chanel, Elizabeth Arden or Rubenstein (many are Easter gift packaged). A special hint too, to Easter shoppers, be sure to see the snappy combination compact and cigarette case, a chic accessory for Madame's new Spring handbag, if ever we've seen one. In gold or silver tones (no luxury tax!) the compacts and cases come in many different sizes and styles. All this Easter thought at TITUS on Kercheval.

HAWTHORNE HOUSE'S deservedly famous Easter Lamb Cakes are once more in our midst. These cunning (AND delicious) cakes are used by Pointe hostesses to center their Easter tables as well as for Easter dessert. Usually, the Lamb Cakes have a spice body and then are covered with coconut frosting, giving a fluffy, wooly effect with eyes, nose and ears especially contrived in some contrasting frosting. This year, in addition to the spice lambs there will be chocolate cake lambs. Take your choice but hurry, for these are made special and come in either large or small size. Order one today and don't forget that HAWTHORNE HOUSE will serve a bountiful Easter Dinner this Sunday, complete with the delicacies of the season, from 12:20 to 8 p. m.

And now about the Easter YOU... highly recommended are the WALTON PIERCE GROSSE POINTE BRANCH suits pointed-up with one of the stunning alligator, lizard or kid bags which have just arrived (l-o-v-e-d a gray alligator bag... a dashing red lizard number... and a handsome navy kid).

About the suits, WALTON PIERCE is showing a fascinating and effective navy sheer wool jumper (with great medallion in the very front center) worn with a long sleeved white silk blouse and a trim bolero. The bolero is lined in spicy red. The ab-so-good Egyptian cotton prints make their appearance, vividly, in two-piece Chalet frocks designed by C. L. Chapman.

New, long slips straight from fashion heaven have arrived in time to give a smooth and lovely backing for your Easter finery. Saw them in white with dainty blue binding at hem, blue insets at top... also blue with white trim and veddy Frenchy pink with blue.

The WALTON PIERCE jewel box is enchanting with a great collection of new note jewels... white mist and blue mist moonstones! There are jobs, offly smart with suits this Spring. Moonstone and gold pins. Earrings and necklaces using the misty stones. Trijari treasures (one a pin formed like a gold flower pot with coral stone flowers dangling.) Also WALTON PIERCE has Hattie Carnegie's wine colored rhinestone necklace and earrings which you'll want immediately for your own jewel box.

Spring (it's here!)... romance... weddings. And may we step right up and say JACOBSON'S, here at the Pointe, supplies everything for the wedding ideal, with the possible exception of the blushing bridegroom.

YOU must supply the bridegroom but Jacobson's Jessica Chariot, secretary of the new and really wonderful bridal salon, carries on from there. All the details of a charming wedding are off your pretty shoulders... and onto Missie C's.

With a great deal of imagination plus many years of experience Miss Chariot not only takes over the details of the bride's gown and those of the entire bridal party but is even prepared to send out your wedding invitations, arrange your photographic appointments. Another service—Miss Chariot finds out exactly what clothes you will need for that divine locale you've chosen for your wedding trip.

To give you an idea of what dreamy things JACOBSON'S can do for your wedding, we'd advise a look-see at the wedding window (starting Saturday) at the smart shoppe. Chantilly lace, mellow satin for the bride... mist marquisette touched in Easter yellow for the maids.

So for valuable help with all your wedding details, and the bridal glamour you'll remember your whole life through, be sure to see Miss Chariot at JACOBSON'S.
