Farms Moves Step Nearer To Conversion Into City; Joint Police Radio Urged

Committee Report Indicates Citizens Will Be Asked To Approve Ultimate Divorce from Township

The Village of Grosse Pointe Farms moved a step nearer a conversion to city status with a report submitted Monday night to the Board of Trustees by the City Government Plan Committee. The committee unanimously recommended that the present police radio system, (operated by the Township for four villages, with a separate system owned and operated by the City of Grosse Pointe), be changed in favor of a modern police radio system serving all five Pointes on a cooperative basis.

The committee called attention to the fact that according to the statutes, action on the question of changing from a village to a city can only be initiated by qualified electors who are freeholders residing within the village to be affected.

A very potent paragraph in the report says: "The committee has not prepared its final report on the question of the adoption of a city form of government for the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, but it has not found any valid argument against such a favorable report."

Adoption of a cooperative police radio system for the five Pointes has been strongly recommended by the Michigan Municipal League and Engineer Frank M. Hariz of the Detroit Edison Company, who submitted a technical report supported by cost estimates, prepared for the committee last December.

Under a ruling of the Federal Communications Commission, the present Pointe radio systems must be changed to FM by 1950. It is estimated if a cooperative system is installed, the capital cost of installation will be paid for in two years by the savings in operating expenses.

After hearing the report of the committee, the Farms trustees adopted a resolution recommending in it, that the village council notify the authorities of the township to withhold any major capital expenditures for equipment to change over the present radio station to FM unless requested to do so jointly by the municipalities.

Bottle Popper Grabs Purse From Victim

Young Woman Treated in Bon Secours Hospital After Attack in Park

Shortly after midnight on Friday morning, May 14, as Lila Van Curen, aged 24, of 1321 Wayburn, was walking south on Wayburn, she was struck violently on the head with a glass bottle wielded by a young man who jumped out of a car, also going south on Wayburn. The car was running without lights. As she was struck, her assailant grabbed her purse out of her hand and jumped back into the car and went on at high speed down Wayburn.

Miss Van Curen staggered to the door of the nearest neighbor and they phoned the police.

She had only a fleeting glance of her assailant and the car before she was rendered almost unconscious by the blow. She said he was a young man apparently about 22, 5' 10" tall and weighed about 150 lbs.

The car was black and she thought it was probably a '38 or '39 Buick. The man had dark hair and wore dark gray pants and a jacket.

The police took Miss Van Curen to the Bon Secours hospital where it was necessary to put four stitches in her scalp. It is uncertain whether there was another party in the car.

An alarm was sent out over WRDR to halt and examine any car and driver answering this general description.

Miss Van Curen said she had only a small amount of money in her purse but there were many papers and memoranda only of value to herself.

The bottle with which she was struck was found by the police near the scene.

Store Employee Eludes Molester

Mrs. Crothers of 640 Notre Dame, reported to the city police that on the nights of May 10, 11 and 12, as she was on her way home from work in the Grosse Pointe Drug Store between 10 and 10:15 o'clock, a man, usually standing by the iron door at the rear of the store, had attempted to grab her.

Residents Prefer Cluttered Street to New Parking Lot

Many residents of LaSalle place and Kerby, Cambridge and Muskoka roads attended the Farms council meeting Monday night to voice protests to a village plan to relieve the parking congestion in the vicinity of the Municipal Building in Kerby road.

The village contemplated condemning a piece of property across Beaupre lane and to the rear of the Municipal Building for the purpose of providing an area for parking cars owned by the village and its employees.

The consensus of the residents attending was that such a move would lower property values in the neighborhood and, by adding to the size of the village plant, make it harder to move municipal headquarters at some future date.

LaSalle place takes the brunt of the parking burden at present, but the property owners there said they would rather take the beating of cluttered entrances to their homes than have a public parking lot established across the street.

City Parking Row Reaches Fever Pitch

Vociferous Group of Citizens Attends Council Meeting to Air Views

An earnest and vociferous group of citizens stormed the City council meeting on Monday night, May 17, with a grievance over the parking lot provisions the city has recently made in its efforts to relieve the parking congestion on Kercheval in the village for a block or more north and south of that thoroughfare.

Just what they wanted done about it was not too clear, but they all were loud in their innuendoes that some skulduggery had been put over on them by the council or city officials.

Many of them professed complete ignorance of the recent zoning ordinance which largely covered this question, despite the fact that the measure had been liberally advertised and at least two public hearings had been held on the matter. One of these meetings was so largely attended that it had to be held in the fire department.

One of the loudest complainants was Valere Van Dam, who lives at 618 St. Clair. Mr. Van Dam's home is now and has been for the past 11 years on land which is available for parking lot use. The old parking lot limits extend about 40 feet beyond the southerly line of his property.

His isolation in a sea of parking lot space has not been improved any by the addition of 70 feet in depth for available parking which the amendment to the zoning ordinance recently passed, provided. This additional depth is provided for both sides of Kercheval from Notre Dame to within 156 feet of Neff road. The intention of Reaume and Silloway to provide a greatly enlarged space has led to the excitement of the affected residents.

One of the complainants threatened if they couldn't reach some satisfactory arrangement with the parking lot developers they would bring in Negroes, which they were sure the people of Grosse Pointe would not want.

This threat led to a bitter exchange between the city officials and the complainants.

Mr. Van Dam said Reaume and Silloway had offered him only $9,000 for his property. He did not say what he wanted, but information from other sources after the meeting disclosed that $30,000 is his price.

The residence he now owns and occupies was formerly located several lots nearer the corner of Kercheval and St. Clair, and when Reaume and Silloway wanted more parking space back of the James S. Holden company properties fronting on Kercheval, they moved it to its present location and reportedly paid him $15,000 for the deal.

Reaume and Silloway are reported to have promised the city authorities one of the most attractive and complete parking lots in the whole country if they can arrange to get possession of the needed land. They have already bought several properties south of Van Dam's place, and Van Dam loudly claims they are trying to freeze him out.

Nothing came of all the discussion, chiefly because the property owners had nothing concrete to discuss.

On the suggestion of City Clerk Neff, a meeting will be held with them in the near future to try to iron out the problem, and they are requested at that time to come in with something definite in the way of suggestions.

Farms' Permits Total $462,400

Building permits issued in Grosse Pointe Farms during April totaled 24, of which 19 were for residences valued at $280,000, and five for miscellaneous structures valued at $13,000.

Youthful Drivers, Auto Desecrators, Warned by Judge

Exasperated by the multiplying cases of reckless driving by teen aged boys that come before him in traffic court, Judge C. Joseph Belanger has decided hereafter, he says, every such case that comes before him will result in the revocation of the license for a fixed period. This is to be a hard and fast rule, he says, in his court.

The Judge started the practice in his court on May 12 when he gave one such case a license revocation for three months and another one for six months.

As a warning to some of these daring youngsters who essay to drive during the suspension without a license, he reminds them there is a state law which makes it mandatory to impose a jail sentence, and he says this law will be adhered to. He advises parents to take notice.

He says there are many parents in Grosse Pointe who will heartily approve of the suspended license plan. In some cases they have frankly admitted to him their inability to control their boys. They have repeatedly paid bills of damages resulting from the reckless driving by their children, and the youngsters, conscious of the fact that father or mother will pay the freight, continue their accustomed road deviltry. It is believed they will be sobered up by the knowledge that they will lose their license and even land behind the bars if they attempt to drive without it.

Another type of juvenile offender that is due to come under the special notice of Judge Belanger's court are those youngsters who do malicious mischief to parked cars. In such cases where the culprit is caught tampering with cars, papa or mama is going to be in for a robust bill of damages or see their young hopefuls sent down to the Juvenile Detention Home where the associations are not of the best.

Now They Call Him Grandpop

You can call him Grandpop Hoyt now. The Chief of the Farms Police Department, Walter (Tex) Hoyt, became a grandfather on Friday, May 14, when a daughter was born to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoyt of Farmbrook.

The baby, Sandra Lee, weighed seven pounds two ounces when born in Cottage Hospital.

Home Ransacked In Fisher Road

Robert Harris, of 801 Fisher, reported to the police at 11:25 o'clock p.m. on May 12 that the family had just returned home and found that the house had been ransacked. On investigation by the police it was found that nothing of value had been stolen and the belief is that the thieves were in search of money only.

Many articles of value were left undisturbed. Entrance was gained by cutting the screen in a rear window.

Unpleasant Surprise Slows Cleansing of Park's Pool

The contractor doing the dredging work at the Park swimming pool has run into an unusual accumulation of mud and filth. He doubts whether the place had been cleaned out since it was first built. It is estimated that this slime and sediment is about 30 inches thick, and it will probably make the cleaning out process somewhat more expensive than first calculated.

This accumulation has to be placed on barges and towed out to the dumping ground in the lake as established by the harbor authorities. Each load is accompanied by an inspector of the harbor service who designates the exact spot where the dump is to be made.

The village authorities had hoped to have the pool cleared out and the machinery installed by Decoration Day, but fear now that the unusual conditions encountered may delay this somewhat.

More Service Asked Before Hike in Fare

Municipalities Also Demand Full Appraisal of Company's Worth

City Councilman Gerald E. Miller, chairman of the City's special committee representing it in the negotiations with the Lakeshore Coach Lines, Inc. relative to fares and general conditions of operation, presented a report to the Council at a meeting on May 17. The other members of the committee are Councilmen Carpenter and Mack.

The occasion of the report was the fact that the Lakeshore Coach Lines has recently served notice of its intention to increase its fares between Detroit and the Park, Farms and City from 12½ cents to 18½ cents. Sales of tickets will also be limited to books of ten.

There had been a meeting on Saturday, May 15, in the Grosse Pointe Park Municipal Building, of the representatives of all of the five Grosse Pointe municipalities to consider the matter and presumably the reports they will carry back to their respective council bodies are similar in general purport to the one submitted by Chairman Miller to the City.

The details of the arrangement existing between the Pointe and the Coach Lines were published extensively in the NEWS in the issue of April 29.

Chairman Miller's report recommended that the City oppose the proposed increase in fares until the bus company had first submitted to an appraisal of its worth, to be paid for by it, and also had placed in service the additional buses promised.

Both of the provisions were explicit in the agreement of October 28, 1947.

The Miller report states that instead of placing the ten additional new buses in service, as promised, the company had merely used them as replacements for ten old buses which were withdrawn from service. This had resulted in no increase in the frequency of the bus service and had given only such additional seating capacity as represented by the larger new buses over the old ones which had been withdrawn.

The right of appraisal of the company at its expense by some impartial organization to be agreed to by the municipalities, was a provision in the original agreement, of which the municipalities could avail themselves at any time within a three-months period of the date of the agreement. This three months' period was subsequently extended by the municipalities for another three months, without prejudice to their rights.

The City Council unanimously adopted the recommendation of the committee.

Mr. Miller said the area committee, meeting in the Park Municipal Building, was in general agreement that the bus company should not be opposed in its right to obtain a reasonable fare, but this question in turn could only be determined by a complete knowledge of its worth and operating costs.

Formulate Plans For Tennis Club

Tennis enthusiasts are urged to attend a meeting in the Neighborhood Club at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, May 26, called to discuss plans for the organization of a new Pointe tennis club.

A group of about 30 are rounding up others interested in the idea and it is hoped plans can be made to build at least four fast-drying courts with a provision for future additions.

FARMS FIRE LOSSES
The total fire loss in the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms during the month of April, $1050 to buildings, and $3500 to contents, according to Chief George Dansbury's monthly report. There were 23 calls answered, two residence fires and two auto fires.

TO ATTEND PARLEY
Farms Police Chief Walter Hoyt will attend the Michigan Association, Chiefs of Police Conference at Sioux Ste. Marie from June 27 to 30, inclusive.

New Woods Chapel Holds Dedication of Memorials

MARTHA ARMSTRONG

Inter-collegiate National Championship Dinghy races at Annapolis on Saturday and Sunday, May 15-16.

Martha's boat and the other Michigan boat won in the elimination races at Ann Arbor which made them regional representatives in the national races. The East Coast, Middle West and Far West were all represented.

She was one of only four girls who participated in the races. The girls were all "crew" and were selected because they were light, nimble, good swimmers and with a good knowledge of things nautical.

Martha's boat didn't win but did make a good showing. Brown University won with Yale second.

She phoned home to her mother on Monday morning that they had had a "perfectly glorious time." It can be imagined; four girls in an ocean of He-Men.

Martha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Armstrong of 642 Lincoln road.

Torch Explodes Injuring Youth

The explosion of a blow torch injured one person and blew windows out of a house at 191 Muir road on the afternoon of May 12.

Gene Clock, 16, of that address, was working in the basement, burning paint off a wooden box when the accident occurred. It is believed the torch leaked and the drippings caught fire, setting off the explosion.

Young Clock was rushed to Bon Secours Hospital by Farms Policemen Beupre and Roland and Fireman Snay. He was treated for burns of the face and neck and was released but told to report the following day for further treatment.

The Navy has developed a sea-plane dock which can be carried to advanced bases by the planes that are to use it.

Ten Pay Fines In Police Court

In Park police court on May 12, Judge C. Joseph Belanger disposed of the following cases:

Donald D. Sarvis, 904 Lakepointe, for driving without due care and caution in front of 1124 Beaconsfield on May 1, paid $10 fine and $5 costs.

Joseph A. Sidzina, of 5025 Chene, Detroit, for driving 60 m.p.h. on Jefferson on May 2, paid $40 fine and $5 costs.

Gerald C. Raedner, 2659 Chalmers, for driving at excessive speed on Kercheval on May 1, paid only costs but had his license revoked for six months.

Melvin P. Rushman, 3889 Fairview, for not having his car under control, resulting in a minor accident, was let off with $5 costs.

Miles O'Brien, of 1025 Buckingham, owner of a dog which bit a child on April 14, paid $5 costs and was placed on probation for six months during which time the dog is to be kept confined or taken out only on a leash.

Edward Montague Hook, 5655 St. Clair, for driving left of center of road on Jefferson on April 22, was fined $5 and $5 costs.

Charles David Martz, 228 Merriweather, for reckless driving on April 27, was fined $15 and $5 costs and had his license revoked for three months.

Joseph Cusimano, 1005 Verner Highway, for speeding on Jefferson on April 14, paid $15 fine and $5 costs.

Gordon Frederick Wilkinson, 562 Chalmers, for failure to stop at Mack on April 28, was fined $5 and $5 costs.

Frederick A. Tessanne, 7313 Kingsley, Dearborn, for speeding on Mack on April 9, was fined $10 and costs.

You knew
the moment you saw it—this was your car. New, all-new, every inch and pound of it. A big, brawny frame under a sweeping, curved-arch silhouette. Longer, wider, lower—with a road-hugging look that beckoned you to get in and go! When you saw it, you said "This is it! This ALL-NEW 1949 Mercury is for me!"

You heard the proud, soft-spoken, 8-cylinder, V-type engine murmuring gently. You'd heard that sound before. Where? In cars far beyond your budget's reach. But here it was in an engine designed and built exclusively for Mercury... and in a choice of superb body styles, including Mercury's all-new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

You held the wheel easily, because Mercury didn't "wind-wander," didn't "over-steer." Its sure-footed balance and down-to-earth roadability let you hold all roads securely. Its new, bigger, super-halloon tires let you skim over the bumps without a tremor.

You touched the brake pedal—just a slight touch—and Mercury's new super-brakes brought you gliding to a swift, sure stop. It was then you knew for sure that Mercury had made an all-new car—from top to tires—for you! Your car had finally come along. It was Mercury!

You sat
in a wide, "comfort-zone" seat that shaped itself to you—above all-new, road-smoothing spring suspension. You filled the car with a controlled flow of fresh, filtered air from the leakproof "Fingertip Weather Control." This was the comfort you wanted in your car. This was Mercury.

Pointes Awaiting Detroit's Demand on Drainage Costs

Attorney Meder Advises Council to Sit Tight and Watch Developments; Possible $6,000,000 Points Expense Involved

At a City council meeting on May 17 Attorney Albert E. Meder advised the City to sit tight on the suggestion that Grosse Pointe should bear a great part of the expense in carrying the drainage now going into Fox Creek down to the Conner outlet. The City will await a specific demand from Detroit.

The possible amount involved in Detroit's major surface water disposal problem runs up to an estimated $6,000,000 for Grosse Pointe, a sum utterly beyond the capabilities of the three communities involved to bear. The Pointe municipalities involved are the Park, City and Farms.

All of these communities already pay Detroit for the treatment of their sanitary sewage, as well as the additional pumping charges involved.

The whole proposition is tied up with the efforts of the Michigan Health authorities, as well as the United States and Canadian governments, to drive sewage matter out of Lake St. Clair and the lower reaches of the Great Lakes system.

Much the same sentiment was expressed in a report of the Drainage Committee of the Farms submitted at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Trustees. The committee headed by Henry Hubbard, with Richard Maxon, E. P. Wright, I. E. Skeith and H. G. Goebel as members, expressed the unanimous opinion that the proposed change was Detroit's affair and no official action should be taken by the village.

Veteran Groups Unite for Sale

The Disabled American Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion have again joined hands for a single poppy sale effort. Poppy days in Wayne County and Michigan will be May 27, 28 and 29, the Thursday to Saturday preceding Memorial Day.

"The fine spirit of co-operation shown by all Veterans groups make Detroit an outstanding example of how they can work together for this worthy cause" said E. (Chris) Christensen, chairman for the American Legion. Probably in no other large city is there but one Poppy Day effort on a co-operative basis.

The committee composed of Christensen, A. C. Hamaker for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Michael Whalen for the Disabled American Veterans, met Tuesday to complete the poppy days publicity projects.

Featured are the array of facts of service supported by the sale of poppies; service to the hospitalized Veterans, the widows and orphans, and the great rehabilitation programs being carried on. Surplus funds, if any, are applied to local welfare for needy or hospitalized Veterans.

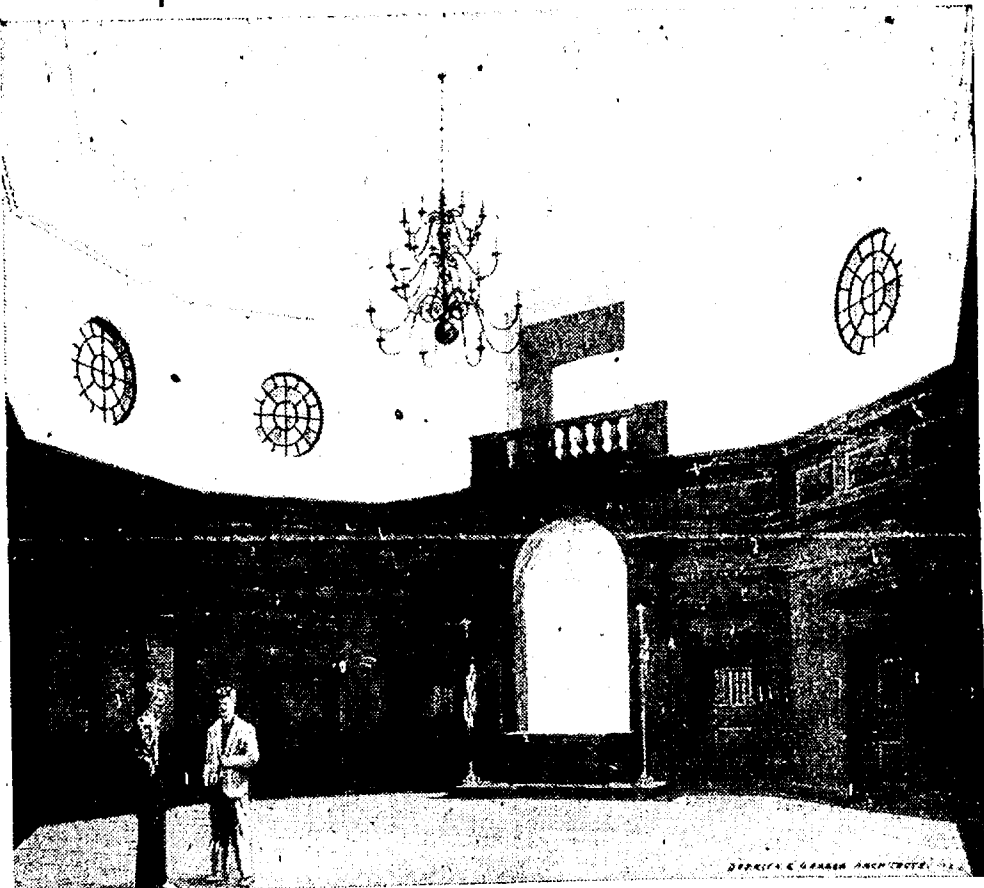

The sale of Poppies starts at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, May 27, and the public is requested not to purchase or display poppies prior to that time.

Rotarians Name Drive Committee

President Dave Burnett, of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, named the following committee as the club's special gifts committee for the coming Memorial Library Fund drive which starts on May 30:

E. J. Pongracz, Jr., chairman; Frank Crum, William B. Hurley, Ernest J. Graham, John P. Pagel, William Wahl, Dave McCarron. President Burnett will be a member ex-officio.

Proposed Interior of Memorial Rotunda

Architect Robert Derrick has submitted this drawing to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Library organization. It is an interior view of the proposed rotunda entrance of the building to be erected at Fisher road and Kercheval avenue. The drive to raise funds for the memorial will start on Memorial Day and end on the Fourth of July.

City Fathers Reluctantly Grant Permit for Banner

It took several minutes of desultory debate at the City Council meeting on May 17 before the City fathers could make up their minds to give permission for the War Memorial Library organization to string a banner across Kercheval at some point between St. Clair and Cadieux.

Councilman Gerald Miller promptly declared in favor of granting the permission without further ado, but the others, including Mayor Nelting, were hesitant about taking any steps which would be a violation of their own existing ordinance. All expressed themselves as in deep sympathy with the memorial purpose.

Attorney Meder apparently cut the Gordian knot by proposing that the city amend its "no banner" ordinance so this could be done "strictly legal."

With an audible sigh of relief all the others agreed and the banner will go up.

It was the earnest presentation of the worthy and unusual purpose of the request by John Kenower, captain of the drive for the city, that induced the final favorable action.

The city has never before retreated from its position against across-street-banners, even for Red Cross, Community Chest or Bond drives.

FARMS BUYING TRUCKS

Grosse Pointe Farms has issued purchase orders for two new dump trucks and two half-ton trucks, on the recommendation of the Public Works Committee, Trustee Richard Maxon, chairman.

Mack Widening Disrupts Buses

At the time the widening operations on Mack avenue fronting the City were about to start, the DSR requested permission to detour its buses around that part of Mack between Neff and Washington. The residents immediately raised a protest.

They claimed the passage of these numerous heavy buses on Charlevoix would constitute a danger to the lives of the children in that area and the City officials themselves charged it would break down the pavements on the City streets.

The result has been that the big buses now stop at Cadieux. The DSR claimed it had no lighter buses available to continue a shuttle service beyond that point, as had been suggested by the city officials.

For those travelling beyond

Cadieux it will therefore be necessary to walk one block over to Charlevoix and there take another bus carrying them on to the north and east. Inexpensive drawer handles—the kind you can get your fingers into—can be nailed to baseboard or garage doors and walls. They make good holders for tools.

Mary Madison

The hotel dining room being on the unbusy side, Henri the Headwaiter sidled up to our table, agreeable to a bit of conversation—which Henri usually conserves so cautiously he gives off an aura of wearing a Reserved sign like the ones on his pet tables.

"How's business, Henri?"

"Better," said he, non-com-mittally.

"Just—better," he summed up that topic.

"Henri," we said, "you're one of the world's memory wizards. Have you been catching up with this psychologist, Samuel Ren-shaw, who can teach practically everybody to remember every-thing?"

Henri shrugged. "I've heard about him. But why should every-body want to remember every-thing?"

"You do have a point there," we admitted. "Still, with you it's a business. Do you ever forget a face?"

"I wish I could forget some of them," he sighed.

"Do you ever forget a figure?"

"You mean a money figure or a—honey figure?" he asked.

"Well, either—or both," we told him. "Because you can't laugh it off, Henri—you do have some slick trick for remembering people and places and particular things. What's your theory? GIVE!"

He smiled, slowly basking in the sesame of our flattery, which opened the subject as we knew it would.

"I do have a theory," he ad-mitted. "I believe that one re-members only what one wants to remember; and one forgets only what one wants to forget."

"Very comforting. Very. Then you don't go in for any of these association-of-ideas techniques? I gather Renshaw and the other brain masters have also dis-carded them."

"They're too tricky," said Henri. Especially with names or num-bers. For instance, if I try to remember your name is Madison by associating it with the name of some president's wife, I might be apt to come up with Lincoln or Wilson. Numbers are even trickier if you hook them up with an associated idea."

"Like what?" we demanded.

"Well, there's the classic case of the gentleman in this hotel who could never remember his own room number when he was in a New York Hotel. Last time he was there he and his wife got a tower suite—Number 1776. That number, he concluded was a patriotic pip to remember. The date of the American Revolution. But that evening, after a serious session with the Rover Boys in The Bistros, our hero returned to his hotel—gassed to the gills. He still remembered a patriotic date as the number of his rooms. But it had blurred into the date of the Civil War, Number 1861. And what fun! By the dawn's early light, he found himself fighting the Battle of 1948 with the lady in Suite 1861. The scar over his left eye bears witness to the fact that he was wounded, starting from scratch. Since then, I've been off the association idea."

"But how does your own theory work—remembering only what you want to remember?" we prodded Henri.

"Well," said he, "I like to re-member the newspaperman who always over tipped me when in his cups. And always—but always—borrowed back ten dollars from me to take a cab home when we closed. He was—and is—a chap after my own heart."

"Can't see how that could be," we said and we didn't see.

"No? It may require a bit of explaining. After the war, this newspaperman was a corres-pondent, stationed in Paris. I was trying to get my mother, who was old and ill, over here to the United States where she wanted to come and die happy in this happy land. We'd tried everything. Somehow this chap found it out—and got her over here—as a registered correspondent for some high school paper. When I tried to thank him he just said it always gave him a kick to outwit those officials suffering with red-tape-worms."

"A very wry guy," we con-ceded. "Now, coming down to figures, do you remember Dottie?"

"Dottie Devine?" Henri blew a kiss in the air, bound direct-by-male to the devastating Dottie in New York.

"How I remember her!" he went on, "sitting right over there at my best twosome table, when she was modelling here in town. I knew her diet as well as if I were on it myself. And I knew she liked her cokes with a straw in the bottle, like the schoolgirl she was. But the thing I remember best about her is her method of Trapping the Wolves. By her a chap was either a lamb or a wolf. But sometimes even a lamb changed into a wolf-in-sheep's-clothing."

"So? So Dottie would excuse herself, with exquisite apologies, to go out and make a phone call. The signal that she was leaving for good was when she passed me with That Big Look of hers. Always I cooperated. The wolf sat waiting. Fifteen minutes. Wait an hour. An hour. By that time he was squirreling around the hotel looking for her. And Dottie: By that time Dottie had taken her cab home and was dreaming like a Sleeping Beauty. Ah! what a girl!"

"The one model who really led a model life," we agreed. "Henri, there must be a lot of Nature Boys just waiting, waiting, wait-ing in various parts of the world, for Dottie to come back from her phone calls."

Henri nodded and smiled his slow, shrewd smile.

"Ma chere petite!" he told us. "Right here in this hotel alone there are so many I sometimes thing of hanging up a sign. NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR HUSBANDS LEFT OVER 30 DAYS." —m.m.

Celebrate Birthday At Children's Home

Founders' Day Being Observed on 112th Anniversary of East Jefferson Avenue Institution; Building Drive Planned

The annual Founders' Day program today will celebrate the 112th birthday of the Protestant Children's Home in East Jefferson avenue. At the board meeting conducted by Mrs. Frederick S. Ford, first directress of the home, the new building fund drive will be discussed.

More than a century ago when the first building was erected, board members feared that the present location was "too far out in the country." Today, however, with the projection of the building fund campaign, directors are offering tentative plans to move the home to a less industrial part of town.

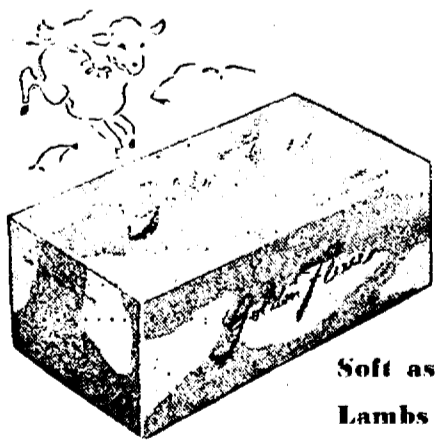

Youngsters of the home will dramatize its founding. Among the significant Detroit names which they will utter are Mrs. Eurotas P. Hastings, Miss Eliza Trowbridge, Mrs. C. C. Trowbridge, Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mrs. Mason Palmer, Mrs. Sarah Macomb, Mrs. Robert Stuart, Thomas Palmer, Mrs. Lewis Goddard, Mrs. Ruel Ambrose, Mrs. William Crocker, Mrs. John Farmer and Mrs. Henry Hunt. Mrs. Earl Holley will handle arrangements for the tea following the board meeting and program.

Board members who expect to be present for the annual program include Mrs. Ford, Mrs. E. Olney Jones, Mrs. Ernest Brier, Mrs. Albert A. Griffiths, Mrs. Standish Backus, Mrs. Edgar A. Guest, Jr., Mrs. E. P. Wright, Mrs. Wallace S. Mackenzie, Mrs. J. Burgess Book, Jr., Mrs. Fred L. Smith, Mrs. Mark B. Stevens, Mrs. Theodore H. Hinchman and Mrs. Roy D. McClure.

Other directors include: Mesdames George Wiley, John R. Scarles, Frederick C. Bahr, C. Theron Van Dusen, Ford Ballantyne, Daniel Wells, Arthur G. Reeves, Don M. Dickinson, Jr., James B. Webber, Edward C. Parker, Douglas Donald, Herbert

Wisdom from Ford

The Ford Motor Company, through its Director of Industrial Relations, John S. Bugas, has spoken out with greater frankness on the general theme of wages, living costs and inflation than has any other great industrial concern in many a day. The company says it will resist to the last ditch the union's demands for a 30-cent hourly wage increase which, it says, would total 50 cents an hour if all the union's collateral demands were complied with. The union itself acknowledges the total increase would be 35 cents per hour.

Furthermore, an unnamed official of the Ford company when asked whether this meant the company was proposing cuts in wages instead of the increase the union demanded, said "it certainly does."

Mr. Bugas' statement was accompanied by such supplementary observations on the wage subject as: "We think the American people are tired of negotiations which seem to have no other aim besides gain for all parties except the consumer," and, "public security should have top priority in this year's negotiations," and, the union's demands had been drafted "without concern for public security," and, "a third round of wage increases would again result in increased prices and decreased buying power for the consumer's dollar."

He said, moreover, that "no provision had been made in existing prices on Ford products for an increase in labor costs."

It was almost unnecessary for Mr. Bugas to have reiterated these well known truths. They have been recognized by all intelligent persons ever since prices and wages have been discussed.

The vicious circle of wage-price spiralling which we heard prophesied so often immediately after the war, seems in course of fulfillment with this third round of wage increases already demanded or threatened for the early future.

The process seems to be one in which employer and employee are both victims and offenders. It is impossible for public opinion to place its finger of condemnation and say "here is the nigger in the woodpile."

Right after the war the excuse for high prices was the scarcity of commodities which had largely gone out of production during the war. This vacuum has already been filled in most instances, but still the orderly leveling off process of supply and demand has not operated as expected. The immense volume of unsatisfied buying power that had accumulated with high wages and enforced wartime savings has been acting as a battering ram at the wall of economic stability.

This poses the query how much of this skyrocketing of "living costs" has been due to natural causes and what proportion to the insatiable demands of the people themselves for an ever widening range of spending. The luxuries of a short time ago have become the insisted upon necessities of the present day.

The ever higher scale of American living which the politicians promise and with which everyone seems to agree, has grown into an orgy of spending on luxuries and non-essentials. The waves are mounting beyond our ability to breast. We have aimed at eating our cake and having it too.

There is no natural disposition in any strata of society in this country against high wages, per se. The country is always best off when wages are high and every employable person is employed. The government itself certainly wants high wages as it is only by this route that the enormous national debt can be carried and eventually liquidated. But when the level of wages and general employment reaches such a height as to tempt millions of people to launch onto a scale of living utterly beyond their needs or even their honest contentment and happiness the national economy is thrown off balance to the harm and suffering of all classes.

The plain truth is that no element of society is in actual distress now even with the high living costs, except those unfortunates who already relatively poor, can neither increase their present incomes nor engage in gainful occupations because of age or infirmity.

The nation's welfare calls for less spending on dewdabs and jimcracks, and on all non-essentials in general. If the wasteful and demanding American people could be persuaded to a recognition of their own individual responsibility to the common welfare the clouds that now lower on the national house would quickly break and let through the sunshine of a common welfare and contentment.

Many will argue this is a spiritual miracle which cannot happen in this country. Maybe so; but a glance across the Atlantic discloses a people that have accepted the route of self denial and sacrifice for the common welfare. Whether England will succeed in her race against economic chaos only the future can tell, but at least they are trying. If we in America had the spiritual fortitude to individually make common cause with the nation's welfare we could win in a walk without again being self thrown into the old time maelstrom of boom and bust from which we have suffered so many times in the past.

More Light from Russia?

The people of this country are still in a fog over the latest exchanges between their government and that of Russia.

The Russians sought to interpret a single passage out of a communication from our ambassador as inviting conferences between the two countries over the issues between them.

Our authorities were quick to take this as a gesture of bypassing the United Nations organization which we insist is the established medium for discussion of all matters of world import. This presupposes that all issues between the United States and Russia, due to their paramouncy in world affairs, must be as such of world concern.

Since then the Russians have given it out over their government controlled radio that they welcome discussions between themselves and any other independent states.

The urgings of Henry A. Wallace, the self appointed spokesman in our Russian relations, have drawn a friendly reply from Stalin. We must not be so narrow as to spurn rapprochement with Russia, whatever its source, but neither must we permit ourselves to be weaned away from the UN, our first choice for settlement of great international issues.

Madame! If you are lucky enough (?) to be chosen by your organization, league, club, or charity group to be its publicity chairman, you would do well to take a page from the very neat notebook of Mrs. Christian Henry Hecker. Mrs. Hecker, who amazed and delighted our editor with her neat, concise, clear and clean "copy" for Planned Parenthood publicity, told us her secret. She took a course for publicity chairmen at the Rackham Building and a lot of women might well follow her example.

Nothing is more of a headache to an editor than a scribbled, hardly readable item where important names (that THEY want printed) are listed as: Mrs. L. Smith, Mrs. Phoebe Picketlysen, Mrs. M. Frobisher, etc. Sometimes it takes a copy reader an hour with a phone book, or 17 telephone calls, to find out WHAT Mrs. L. Smith the article refers to. Sooooo, come on, you publicity gals... tie yourself to the classroom and find out what's what.

Gentlemen: If you have been astounded of late by the sight of an office neighbor or acquaintance warbling or kicking up his heels in the men's wash room of your office building, pay no attention. Remember, the Junior League Follies is coming up in June and the guys hafta practice SOME TIME! Time was when the tired business man confined his scale trilling to his own shower, but no more. You'd be surprised at the number of gents in the Blue Book who have been caught lately, tap dancing, singing or grimacing in front of the mirror in that public place where he should be washing his hands!

Ladies: If you need a seamstress (and who doesn't?) we know where you can get dozens of them... all together or one at a time. Just call Mrs. William K. Williams, that arranger of all things domestic (Hourly Aid), and presto! the seamstress will be at your door. Of course, if you don't know a fine seam from a whalebone, then be slap-happy and let down your own hems. But if, like us, you are so elegant that you won't even eat your pancakes unless they are monogrammed... well, we've told you what to do.

For eons and eons we have been confounded by those picturesque ads in lady mags and newspapers, depicting a smiling young woman all dressed and ready for a bout of Spring gardening. She might be wearing any or all of the following, depending upon the trend in styles: Overall, a dirndl, blouse and shorts, blouse and slacks, cute pinafore, or backless sun dress. ALWAYS a large floppy hat, careless like... and a too large pair of mannish looking gloves; on her feet anything low-heeled and comfortable.

Well, we've never been able to manage it... no more than we can manage to look like the ads when we cook or clean house or do the laundry. We always look exactly as if we were cooking or cleaning house or doing the laundry. One day, the Fuller Brush man caught us washing the dishes while dressed in our bathrobe and wearing old bedroom slippers. Had our hair up in curlers, too. See what we mean? NEVER fresh and starched looking like the ads.

BUT, last week (Sunday to be exact) we took heart. In one of the dailies, we saw, in the sassiest section just what we've been looking for. A pretty young woman was photographed pushing a wheelbarrow complete with rake, hoe, shovel, trowel, flower pots, et al. The caption advised that she was all set for a day of planting and pruning. And guess what? She was wearing a good looking Spring (or Fall) suit... buttoned way up to here... and on her feet was or were a nice looking pair of high-heeled pumps. That's more OUR speed... ads notwithstanding.

If we ever get off our back and out of our brace and get rid of our canes, we are going to devote our time to writing all advertisers in National magazines exhorting them for stimulating our imaginations with products they don't have... and probably never did or will. Having heard of other people's disappointments, we poo-pooed their complaining and at the risk of making the local merchants hate us... ordered a belt from a New York store.

True, it was a belt the like of which we have never seen in a local store... so, feeling like the rat we turned out to be, we wrote a nice letter to Store, enclosed our check and said we would like the belt in beige, size 26. (The belt was advertised in every color you can think of... so we thought of beige.) Since we received the magazine it was advertised in while the ink was still wet... and since we sent the letter airmail, we just knew we wouldn't have any trouble at all. That's what YOU think! Back came our nice green check along with a letter advising us that they didn't have any beige belts LEFT and besides, they didn't have anything at all in size 26... and they would just LOVE to be of service to us at any time in the future! Baaa.

Honors or Salt Mines?

Gromyko, Russia's ambassador to the United States and her representative in the United Nations, has been recalled. Whether this means he is to be the recipient of high honors at home or be sent to the salt mines, is anybody's guess. The iron curtain operates here also.

But one guess is that his chronic opposition to every proposal for practical advance in the development of the United Nations quest for stable world peace may have been partly a reflection of his own predilections and not always a clear exhibition of the stand of the Russian state.

His recall however at the moment when Russia appears to have been making some tentative advances towards American goodwill, looks significant.

After 2000 Years

The Jews in Palestine stand at their Armageddon. They have courageously declared themselves an independent nation and taken the ancient name of Israel as their national caption.

England, in despair, has given up that mandate she has held since the end of the First World War. During this time she has faithfully sought to develop and establish the Balfour declaration which committed her more than thirty years ago to the reestablishment of a Jewish state in the Holy Land, but with the clearly expressed proviso that such state should not impinge on the rights and privileges of other existing nationals in that country.

Since that distant day she has been beset with a thousand and one considerations of vital importance to her world flung empire. She herself has suffered well nigh mortal wounds and has had to let go a large part of her then empire.

The Jews at times have shown little consideration for her problems and have hampered and opposed in innumerable ways her attempts to maintain the status quo under the mandate.

The freedom loving peoples of the world however by and large have a deep sympathy with the Jews' struggle to gain a homeland and doubtless will find ways to translate this sympathy into practical expression.

The instant recognition of the new state by President Truman is an index of the direction of American feeling. President Truman doubtless was well aware of the million or more Jewish votes in the pivotal state of New York and what his act might mean in the election this November.

This however should cast no cloud on the sincerity of the American sympathy with the Jews and their heroic purpose to recreate their ancient state after a hiatus of two thousand years.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

MARY and JIM BECK gave a party the other day and I had the pleasure of meeting a most attractive and famous young couple — KING PETER and QUEEN ALEXANDRA of YUGOSLAVIA. They have an adorable blonde baby whose picture — with them — you have probably seen in the newsreels THEIR MAJESTIES are in their early twenties—natural, full of fun and utterly charming. KING PETER said they had been looking for a small house on Long Island for the summer, but "Wow," said he, "they asked us 2000 dollars a month for only a very little place." They were spending the next Sunday with the RICHARD PATTERSONS at Locust Valley on the Island and expected to look around a little more. Our mutual friend, DICK PATTERSON, was ambassador to YUGOSLAVIA when PETER was on the throne.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA said, "We love it over here—everyone is so friendly. We should like to live here." "Until," said PETER, significantly, "we go back to YUGOSLAVIA." When the butler was passing drinks, HER MAJESTY said "I shall have one of those delicious drinks I have discovered in this country. They are called daiquiris, I think. I believe it is of interest to mention here that the most widely publicized and dramatic picture ever secured by a newsreel cameraman, was the one taken of the assassination of KING ALEXANDER of YUGOSLAVIA—the father of KING PETER. The picture was taken by my husband's ace European cameraman, GEORGES MEJAT, who was in Marseilles covering the arrival of the KING for a goodwill visit to France.

At ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, last week, the National Society of Autograph Collectors held its first meeting. There are only about 3000 serious collectors in the U.S. That number of course doesn't include the SILLY SCHMOS who rush up to anybody with a clean collar and get his name scrawled on a bit of dirty paper snagged from a comic book. Serious collectors are those who acquire 50 or more autographs of a collated nature I filched that word "collated" from a very tasty writer in the Herald Tribune. Real autograph addicts specialize. They pick a favorite subject, turn all their affection and interest on it or him and start collecting. I suppose their LITTLE ONES go without shoes and their LOVED ONE goes creeping around in the OLD LOOK, but daddy goes right on collecting. Persons with statistical minds tell me that collecting gets to be a very vicious habit — some people even steal for it. Look

Don't Encourage High Blood Pressure

FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.

High blood pressure is a common ailment, especially in recent years when working hours are long, living conditions are trying and anxiety is ever present. Fortunately it is a condition that can be corrected when the cause has been determined. People with high blood pressure should have regular physical examinations, then follow the doctor's orders until the condition is improved. Only by strict adherence to the doctor's advice can serious consequences be avoided. Never take medicine unless the doctor prescribes it, then select a trusted druggist to compound the prescription. at the fellow who "collected" the MONA LISA and kept her under his bed for years. The poor man probably only wanted the autograph in the right hand corner. Now I doubt that MR. WILLIAM SPENCER of Chicago has ever so much as stolen a quill pen in his entire life, yet he is the TOP COLLECTOR in the country. He has 25,000 Napoleonic items. Items are the books, maps and manuscripts — in other words, the COLLATED subjects. The National Society, to a man, hates "hoarders." Hoarders are untidy people who have attics and cellars full of manuscripts which might be of historical importance. Hoarders never get around to doing anything about it. They just let the stuff disintegrate.

Supping at 21 the other night after the theatre, were IRIS and TED HUSING. They have done over an old house on Gramercy Park and have been trying for weeks to get it in, but the threatened railroad strike wouldn't let them. Their bathroom utilitarian appointments are to come from Kohlers, out Wisconsin way—but they haven't. TED feels a slight hesitancy about building a Chic Sale in Gramercy Park. As a matter of fact, they'd never have a moment's peace if they did; a crowd collects in New York at the drop of a lath, to watch the simplest projects. IRIS says that their three year old DUKE always speaks to her of his father as "TED," or "your husband." DUKE also chews bubble gum which he plasters firmly over his stomach. He has the unique idea that it will hold his clothes on. She dreads the day DUKE discovers glue.

The JOHN JACOB ASTORS had a new-apartment warming yesterday. GERTIE looked lovely in taffeta, plaided in shades of coffee and gold to blend with her blonde hair. She is one of the most unassuming, natural and good-looking girls in the young married set. The apartment on upper 5th avenue is very modern, with handsome crystal chandeliers and delicately painted, mirrored walls. For fun there was a recording machine which played back whatever the guests wanted to use their voices for—jokes or songs. The buffet was SIMPLY ELEGANT and so were such guests as EVANGELINE and ALEXI ZALESSKY, ADELAIDE and KYRIL SCHERBATOFF, the IGOR CASSINIS, BOB CUTLERS and ERNIE RICES.

Woods Ready To Dedicate New Church

Special Services to Be Held Sunday Afternoon at Building on Mack

Dedication Services of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will be held on Sunday, May 23, at 3:30 p.m. This is the first permanent church building to be dedicated in Grosse Pointe Woods. The structure to be dedicated is the Church proper, the first unit of a three unit building of the English parish type, located at 19950 Mack avenue, at Torrey road.

Two acres of land were given to the Church on May 13, 1940 by Mrs. H. N. Torrey of Lake Shore Road, and the late Dr. Torrey. This property is located in a natural wooded area with plenty of room for expansion and an area for off-the-street parking.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church had its beginning on Palm Sunday, March 21, 1937, when the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and its minister, the Rev. Dr. Frank Pitt, and interested residents of the area started a church school. The organization of a Church and the adoption of a name came on October 2, 1939. Church school and church services have been held in the Mason School on Vernier Road.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held on March 23, 1947. Cornerstone laying ceremonies were held on Sunday, July 27.

The following persons will take part in the services of dedication on May 23: Dr. Leslie A. Bechtel, executive-secretary of Detroit Presbytery; Dr. Pitt, the Rev. Lowell M. McConnell, minister of Lakeshore Presbyterian Church; and the Rev. Andrew F. Rauth, minister.

The following committees and persons have been responsible for the building of the church: Executive committee, A. A. Ghesquiere, Chr.; C. J. Ghesquiere, sec.; William F. Beckley, Hugh W. McTavish and Sidney J. Bockstanz. Building committee: Hugh W. McTavish, Chr.; Joseph A. Paxton, sec.; George Couillard, M. Stephen Fischer, Carl W. Asmus and Max Luce. Finance committee: William F. Beckley, Chr.; Roy M. Nelson, sec.; Frederick B. Robinson, Hugh Fitzsimons (deceased). Daurence D. Marr, Herbert N. Savage, Charles W. Schank, Jr., Olaf B. Stavoe and Maxwell E. Salisbury. Memorial committee: Dr. Frank Pitt, Sidney J. Bockstanz, Chr.; and George Couillard.

The following church officers have been responsible for the arrangements for the service of dedication: George Couillard, representing the session; Roy M. Nelson, representing the board of trustees; and John H. Butcher, representing the board of Deacons.

Vernier P-TA Meets May 25

May 25 will be the last meeting of Vernier P-TA for the year. Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Wild are in charge of the program at 8 p.m., which will present Daniel L. Beck as speaker. Mr. Beck is head of the Executive Selection and Training Institute.

His talk will be on the value of using scientific methods when hiring people, as well as for proper placement and promotion of those already employed. He will also stress the value of aptitude tests in helping to determine the course of study for young people.

Those present will have an opportunity to take some of the shorter tests, score themselves and note how the test depicts the individual.

The annual election will also take place at this meeting. Mrs. Harold Frederick and her committee will provide refreshments.

Pointe Masquers to Present Third Production May 27th

With the curtain rising promptly at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, May 27 at the Grosse Pointe High School Auditorium, the Grosse Pointe Masquers will present a third production of one-act plays.

Formerly known as the Grosse Pointe Woods Players, this organization has been hard at work for a year and a half under the direction of M. Haythorn Bambas. Since this acting group is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Adult Education Program, no admission fee will be charged and no invitation is required.

The program is quite varied. "Star Struck," a sophisticated comedy, depicts an amusing morning of intricate complication for Cordelia Diers, who portrays the wife of a famous Hollywood movie star. Ably assisted by Jean Schaller and Marjorie Horn, Mrs. Diers repels the attacks of a variety of notoriety seekers played by Ann Apple, Arlene Salaman, Lois Kosanke and Opal McRury.

"The Ghost Walks Fast" is a vigorous mystery farce wherein Stuart Hooey, Dolores Edwards and Melissa Hart foil the evil designs of Wesley Wietoff in the person of a surly stranger.

"Live At Home And Like It" presents a comedy of suburban life. Howard Reese enacts the part of a business executive who attempts to build the ideal home and present it to his fiancee and her mother, parts played by Jacquelyne McRury and Philena Davis. Opal McRury as the perfect secretary acts as buffer and efficient coordinator, only to be completely enmeshed in the everlasting vagaries of suburban existence.

Joan Hall as the housekeeper, Lois Kosanke as the distraught maid of all work, Dolores Edwards, Mary Jones and Wesley Wietoff as the typical neighbors upset the careful planning, and

Mr. Reese begins his education into the life of suburbanite.

TO ATTEND PARLEY

Controller William J. Johnson, of the Park village, was voted a leave of absence with expenses paid, to attend the convention of the Municipal Finance Officials Association of the United States and Canada, which will be held at Denver, Colo., from June 7 to 10 inclusive.

Fifty-three U. S. Navy hands are at present stationed on ships and at shore stations over the world.

Farms Officers Get Promotions

Sergt. James Furton has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant and Patrolman Lester LaBroski has been made a sergeant as the result of recent examinations taken by members of the Farms Police Department.

George Van Tien has been hired as a patrolman, with the usual customary probation period. The promotions and hiring of the patrolman were made necessary by the retirement of Lieut. William Rice from the department.

Guy Lyford has been hired as a patrolman to fill the vacancy which will exist when Patrolman James Roberts resigns on June 7.

Brownell Junior High Concert Friday Night

The Brownell Junior High School Band and Vocal Concert will be presented on Friday, May 21 in the Grosse Pointe High School auditorium and is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Ellen Shipman Returning to Pointe

Famed Landscape Architect Who Designed Many of Loveliest Local Gardens, to Lecture Here on May 25

Mrs. Ellen Shipman, the nationally distinguished landscape architect who has done many of Grosse Pointe's most beautiful gardens, will speak on "The Evolution of a Garden" Tuesday evening, May 25, at 8:30 in Pierce High School auditorium. Her talk will be illustrated with colored slides. Mrs. Shipman, who is considered the dean of American women landscape architects, is coming from Bermuda (where she spent the winter), for a dual purpose—to create a garden for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kanzler and to lecture for the benefit of the Alger Museum Garden fund. Mrs. Benjamin S. Warren is chairman of a committee representing all the garden clubs of Grosse Pointe interested in sponsoring the evening.

Mrs. Longyear Palmer is vice-chairman of the committee of which Mrs. William H. Fries is secretary and Mrs. Clarence Avery is treasurer. Mrs. Henry L. Neyman is chairman of publicity, assisted by Mrs. David Dunlap. Mrs. Wendell Wheelock is ticket chairman.

Others serving on the committee are: Mrs. Russell Alger, Mrs. Standish Backus, Mrs. J. Lee Barrett, Mrs. J. Lawrence Buell, Mrs. Arthur Buhl, Jr., Mrs. David Dunlap, Mrs. Harry Finkenstaedt, Mrs. L. Rothe Farr, Mrs. Leslie Green, Mrs. A. E. Gehrke, Mrs. Gervys Grylls, Mrs. Richard Jackson, Mrs. George Hefferan, Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, Mrs. Charlton Newborn, Mrs. Lynn McNaughton, Mrs. Herbert Micou, Mrs. Jerome Remick, Jr., Mrs. Frederick Schumann, Mrs. Allan Sheldon, Mrs. George Villerot, Mrs. Wood Williams, Mrs. Sidney Miller, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. C. L. Brownell and Miss Isabelle Weadock.

Since the former Alger residence has passed into the hands of the Detroit Museum of Art, the garden clubs and various interested individuals have been contributing to the upkeep of the gardens which are among the finest of their kind in the country. Mrs. Shipman designed them in 1936 and proof of her continued interest in her brain child is her desire to help with their preservation now.

How many people who enjoy the beauty of the landscaping along Lake Shore drive know that Mrs. Shipman was responsible for the layout and choice of material there? After the lecture there will be a question period for any who wish to inquire about special varieties used.

Many Grosse Pointers are cognizant of the distinction of numerous local gardens either through pilgrimages or casual visits, but few are aware that Mrs. Shipman designed many of the most beautiful ones.

Included among her work were those of the late Mr. and Mrs. Truman Newberry, Mrs. John S. Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Barbour, the late Esther Longyear Murphy, now owned by Mrs. James O. Murfin; Mr. Murray Sales, Mrs. Horace Dodge, Mrs. Louis Mendelssohn, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lord, Mrs. Standish Backus, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Russell Alger, and Mr. Oscar Webber.

From Maine to Texas, Mrs. Shipman's work is well known. She did the gardens at West Point where the graduates have their farewell tea; the memorial gardens at Duke University, the Art Museum gardens at Colorado Springs and the Fenimore Cooper gardens at Cooperstown.

John W. Finkenstaedt's Covering Graduations

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Finkenstaedt of Rivard boulevard will leave early in June to visit Mr. Finkenstaedt's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. John T. Finkenstaedt, in Boston.

From Boston, they will continue on to Middlebury, Conn., arriving in time for the June 9 graduation of Mrs. Finkenstaedt's daughter, Sally Watters, from Westover School. They plan to be in New Haven, Conn., on June 22 when Ted Watters is graduated from Yale.

MR. and MRS. LESTER F. RUWE gave a dinner party Thursday in their home in Willow Lane in honor of MR. and MRS. JOSEPH DONOVAN, just back from a Palm Beach holiday.

When young PAMELA NORTHROP was christened at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Sunday, all her grandparents were present. MR. and MRS. W. F. B. HENDERSON came from Chicago for the ceremony, and MR. and MRS. H. MURRAY NORTHROP of Three Mile drive also attended.

Several parties were given in honor of MRS. WALTER J. DOSIN of Vendome road, before she left to visit her daughter and son-in-law, the JOSEPH V. WADES, in California. MRS. MAMIE TOLSMAN ZELOFF gave a luncheon at the DYC and another luncheon at the Statler Hotel was hosted by MRS. ROBERT MACDUFF.

A tea on Saturday, June 12, will introduce CONNIE NAUMANN, debutante daughter of MR. and MRS. ARTHUR P. NAUMAN of Moran road; and MRS. GUY G. WEDTHOFF will be hostess at a June 22 luncheon at the Country Club, at which her daughter, ANN BLACKBURN WEDTHOFF, will make her debut.

MRS. HAROLD PALMER of Manchester, Mass., is the house guest of her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. WILLIAM J. CROUL of Lincoln road.

At a buffet supper in her Balfour road home, Sunday, JEAN RETZLAUF feted the bridal party of MARY MARGARET WALSH, who will become the bride of THOMAS C. GIRARDOT at Gesu Cesu Church on June 5.

SENORA VIVE LISMORE, of Havana, Cuba, was the guest of MR. and MRS. GEORGE R. TRUE several days this week. (Continued on Page 10)

Francis Goodhue, Jr. On Island Honeymoon

Mary Elizabeth Brier and Bridegroom Leave for Bermuda Following Their Saturday Wedding in Christ Church

Honeymooning in Bermuda this week are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Abbot Goodhue, Jr., who exchanged nuptial vows Saturday afternoon at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe. The bride was Mary Elizabeth Brier before her marriage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brier of Touraine road. Mr. and Mrs. F. Abbot Goodhue, of New York, are the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Frederick S. Ford, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor in light green dotted swiss. White daisies formed her headpiece and bouquet. The seven bridesmaids wore yellow dotted swiss and their flowers were also white daisies.

Mary Elizabeth's attendants were Mrs. Gerish H. Milliken, Jr., sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Samuel J. Lanahan and Mrs. Ward Chamberlain, both of New York; Mrs. Edmund F. Lunken, of Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Traver C. Smith, Mrs. John H. Wardwell and Elizabeth Derrick.

John T. Goodhue served as best man for his brother, Stephen V. R. Goodhue, another brother of the bridegroom; Gerrish H. Milliken, Jr., Frederick S. Ford, Jr., Hooks Burr, E. Browning Marcean, Jr., C. Meredith Talbot and Herbert Jaques, Jr., all of Boston, Mass., were ushers. Also seating guests were Charles S. Bellows, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Myron A. Wick, Jr., of Greenwich, Conn.; Robert A. Little, of Cleveland, O.; A. J. Drexel Paul, Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa., and F. Sewall Gardner, of Lake Forest, Ill.

Mrs. Brier wore a floor-length gown of powder blue crepe with tiered skirt for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother chose a gray gown. Both had orchid corsages.

The couple will make their home in New York.

Parties Honor Ohio Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Myers of Cleveland, Ohio, were toasted at a series of parties last week-end at when they were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson C. Wormer III of Evendale road.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Donovan were hosts Friday evening at a dinner party in their Merriweather road home. Their dinner guests included Dr. and Mrs. Carl Shelton, the Wormers, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Jehle, the John Gardners and Mr. and Mrs. H. Gordon Wood.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Wood entertained at a small luncheon for Mrs. Myers at the Country Club, and the same evening the Wormers were dinner hosts. Sunday breakfast in the Haverhill road home of the Gardners rounded out the busy weekend.

CRASH ON ST. PAUL

Woman's Page . . . by of, and for Pointe Women

From Another Pointe of View

by
Jae Schermerhorn

To get Eastern for a few paragraphs—

The Pointers one hears about most in New York include such dazlers as the Ernest Kanzlers . . . Mrs. Edsel Ford . . . the Buhls . . . the Henry Fords II . . . Mr. and Mrs. Les Ruwe . . . the Chapins . . . the Fishers . . . the Briggs . . .

And it goes without saying . . . that those Pointers who are New Yorkers by residence . . . such as Mrs. Louis Mendelssohn . . . the Edmund Andersons (Gwen Seyburn) . . . and Mrs. Seyburn McLivain . . . are to be included . . .

The day last week-end that we lunched at the Colony (made famous by Constance Hope and Iles Brody and the thousands of folks who go there to be classified socially by the management), captains and others in charge were buzzing about to have one of the best tables in readiness for the Kanzlers . . .

ROYAL MILLINERY

We saw Stuart Whitmarsh (of Philadelphia Social Register . . . Annapolis . . . and Debutante Register fame) lurching at the Colony with his Michigan editor, Vincent Gage . . .

And were delighted by the personable Mr. W.'s anecdote about another regular Colony patron . . . the Duchess of Windsor . . . who visited a fashionable milliner, asking suggestions for a new Spring bonnet . . .

The designer said:
"For the Duchess, I would suggest something in Royal blue . . . without a crown . . . and trimmed in three bows" . . .

Every fashionable restaurant and rendezvous has its special stories about the Duke and Duchess who now frequent their Waldorf Tower quarters only when they come to town from the country place they've bought on Long Island . . .

At the Colony . . . the Duke's appetite impresses the staff . . . for such a slender fellow . . . he enjoys enormous meals . . . and the Duchess, generally admired by all who meet her . . . religiously follows a sparse and strict diet . . .

THE GREATEST OF THEM ALL

Of all the restaurants in New York . . . our favorite (but more importantly the Ruwes' . . . the Fords' . . . and the Fishers') is Chambord down on Third street . . .

Where the most elegant luncheons and dinners in all the world are served . . .

There . . . to place yourself in the capable hands of M. Paris, the captain . . . is to experience food at its very best (and make yourself offly unhappy about the restaurant situation at home) . . .

Roger Chauveron . . . handsome owner of Chambord . . . is the dream come true of that school of gourmets who keep wishing for a restaurant where only the best wines . . . and the best foods . . . and the best liquors are served . . . and beautifully served . . .

Many Pointers wouldn't think of visiting Manhattan without setting aside at least one night for Chambord . . . (for its luxurious dinners are not to be enjoyed between cocktails and theater) . . .

M. CHAUVERON'S APHORISMS

We persuaded M. Chauveron to let us copy his list of "aphorisms for a restaurant" which show how important it is to reserve PLENTY OF TIME for a Chambord luncheon or dinner . . .

We quote M. Chauveron:

"Take your time to eat!"
"It is as silly to eat in a hurry as it is to try to sleep in a hurry."
"It is not only pleasant to eat slowly and calmly, it is necessary and wholesome."

"Why rush things that the dead ones are missing so much and regret."

"The first step forward that we make in this world, is a step toward death, so why hurry!"

"Time is money, they say. Yes, indeed, if you spend it the proper way."

So it was far from a world of hurry and deadlines . . . that we let our theater tickets lapse to have:

Dinner that started with Escargots Bourguignonne and ended with cordon from that province in France where M. Chauveron's family have been restaurateurs for three centuries . . .

MAY PARTY BELLE

When we saw our last week's column in print . . . we were dashed to find that one of the loveliest moments of the May Party . . .

Had gone unrecorded by this typewriter . . .

And we bow now to one of the sweetest, most talented and graceful little girls in all Grosse Pointe . . .

Joan LeGro . . . daughter of Mrs. Young LeGro . . . and cherished granddaughter of Mrs. William J. Young . . .

Whose lovely young soprano voice . . . singing Annie Laurie was a May Party innovation . . .

And whose Viennese Waltz with young Bill McHattie was inspired with grace . . .

It's a safe observation . . . when we say little Joanne LeGro is as popular and lovely a girl as her own mama has always been . . .

Colony Town Club Holds Meeting in Yacht Club

Mrs. Millard C. Toneray, president, conducted the annual meeting and luncheon which the Colony Town Club held last week at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Among the reports given was that by Mrs. Joel L. Lette of Devonshire road about monthly meetings to sew articles for cancer patients.

Ohioan Visits League Clinics

Mrs. Horace Orser, president of the Board of Directors of the Planned Parenthood League of Toledo, Ohio and Mrs. Florence Tanner, executive director came to Detroit May 17 to visit the Planned Parenthood clinics in Harper and Woman's Hospital.

The Detroit clinics are the first intra mural clinics in existence, established in 1931 and have been so successful that other Planned Parenthood organizations are looking to Detroit for leadership in establishing similar clinic patterns.

Mrs. John Shallcross, chairman of the Detroit League for Planned Parenthood, was in charge of planning for the visit.

Other Board Members taking part in the day's activities were: Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman, Mrs. J. Howard Stephenson, Mrs. Christian H. Hecker and Mrs. Melville S. Welt.

Schmidts Return To West Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schmidt, Jr., who headed back to their home in Bel Aire, Calif., Friday, are making plans for a return visit. They accompanied Mrs. Schmidt's parents, the J. Bell Morans of Windmill Pointe drive, home from the West in time for the announcement of Jack Moran's engagement to Joyce Skelton.

The Schmidts will return in July for Jack's wedding. At the same time the bridegroom-elect's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Moran, will come East from their home in San Marino, Calif.

Immediately following the July rites, the senior Morans plan to leave for their summer home, Longue Vue, in Whitefield, N. H.

Gertrude Harris To Wed in July

Gertrude Iren Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Harris of Lochmoor boulevard, has set Saturday, July 17 as the date of her marriage to Alvin Earnest Buetel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buetel of Rohms avenue, Detroit.

The ceremony will take place in the Harris home at 4 o'clock with Rev. Hugh White officiating. A reception will follow in the bride-elect's home. Trudy has asked her sister, Vyda Mae, to be her maid of honor. Beatrice Buetel, sister of the bridegroom and Lois Somerville of Iowa, cousin of the bride-elect, will be bridesmaids.

Robert Kunkel will be best man, and the ushers will include Harvey Hintzman and Bob Somerville.

Dinner Given in Honor Of Mrs. James W. Sneed

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Robinson of St. Clair avenue entertained at a dinner on Saturday, May 15, in honor of their daughter, Mrs. James W. Sneed, who arrived last week from her home in Los Angeles.

Among the 14 guests invited were Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Simpson of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Vogt, Huntington Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Jetter of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eldridge and Betty Creek.

Mrs. Sneed and her parents spent the previous week-end in Muskegon, visiting relatives.

Mrs. Eugene Mathew Rogers

The former ROSALINE ELAINE MILLENBACH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew N. Millenbach of Riverd boulevard, whose wedding to the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rogers of Chicago, was solemnized Saturday in St. Ambrose Church, Grosse Pointe Park.

Dolores Weber Exchanges Vows

At a recent ceremony in St. Ambrose Church, Dolores Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber of Pemberton road, became the bride of William Bretz, son of Mrs. John Bretz of Lakepointe road. The Most Rev. Msgr. John Mies, uncle of the bride, officiated at the nuptial rites.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of candlelight satin, the bodice trimmed with Chantilly lace. Her colonial bouquet of carnations, lilies of the valley and stephanotis was centered with an orchid.

Maid of honor Bette Ann Hayes wore lemon yellow satin. She carried fuchsia, lilacs and white spring flowers. Marlis Engels, Florence Sexauer, Mary Clair Sullivan, Kathleen Watters and Barbara Miriani were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Robert, to be his best man. Another brother, James Bretz, Gilbert Engels, Richard Van Goethem, Carl Froehlin and Earl Greisheimer seated the guests.

After breakfast at the Van Dyke Club, a reception was held at the Alger Post. When the couple return from Miami Beach, Fla., they will be at home on Anita road.

Old Club Group Set for Holiday

Memorial Day week end will see a large contingent of Pointers traveling to the Old Club on land and on sea. Mr. and Mrs. Alger Sheldon, the Leo Fitzpatrick, the John T. Allmands and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lynn Pierson, Jr., are among those planning to open their cottages on the season's first week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Rohde, the George Slocums, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mulford and Mr. and Mrs. William Slaughter also plan to open cottages for Memorial Day.

With their daughter, Gloria, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Roberts will go for the week end aboard their cruiser, the Glori-Bee.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Olson will travel in their El Sueno and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fruehauf in the My Kay IV. Guests of Mr. and Celeste W. will include Henry Mrs. Ray Whyte on their boat, Forester, Jr., and the Bernard Powells.

Among the decoration schemes are Ann Marie Cavanaugh, Rosemary Weston, Virginia Cliff, Mary Jo Walsh and Mary Claire Dwyer.

Rosaline Millenbach Weds Eugene Rogers

Ceremony in St. Ambrose Church Followed by Reception for 300 Guests in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

At a double ring ceremony Saturday, May 15, at St. Ambrose Church, Rosaline Elaine Millenbach became the bride of Eugene Mathew Rogers, of Chicago, Ill. The Rev. Father Francis Van Antwerp officiated at the nuptial rites.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mathew N. Millenbach of Nottingham road. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rogers.

For her wedding Miss Millenbach selected a gown with Chantilly lace bodice and skirt of net with queues of ruffles. Her floor length veil of net and lace trim fell from a Chantilly lace bonnet. She carried a prayer book with orchids and stephanotis.

The bride asked her sister, Mary Pat Millenbach, to be her maid of honor. Wearing light blue organdie with appliqued white felt flowers, Mary Pat carried an arm bouquet of roses.

Similarly gowned in light green and yellow were the bridesmaids, Mrs. James F. Farrell and Mrs. William O'Neil Kronner, Jr., both sisters of the bride. Another sister, Stephanie Millenbach, was a junior bridesmaid, and she wore pale pink organdie.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Millenbach selected a champagne crepe dress and, cocoa hat. About 300 guests attended the reception which followed at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

For traveling, Mrs. Rogers wore a gray faille suit with gray hat and green accessories. After a motor trip through New York state, the couple will be at home in Detroit.

Coach Schultz Gives New Players Chance to Compete

Only Three Regulars See Service as Tractors are Downed in Second Meet of Season with Pointe by 6-1 Score

BY FRED RUNNELLS

Stripped of most of its first string players, the league-leading Grosse Pointe Blue Devil tennis team trounced the Fordson Tractors, 6-1, for the second time this season on the local courts Wednesday, May 12.

In an effort to give some of the younger members of his team a chance to play, Coach Schultz scratched Dan Guy, Jon Walton, Marv Weaver, George Kennedy, Bruce Kirchner, Alex Mann and Jim Barker from the starting lineup.

Only three regulars saw service in this match. Hugh Dill, Bob Stritzinger and Bob Schneider.

Dill played in an unfamiliar spot when he teamed up with sophomore Fred "Skip" Pessel in the number one doubles match.

Stritzinger and Schneider, the regular number one doubles combination, played number one and two singles matches respectively and won easily.

Two newcomers, Jim Swift and Leroy Johnson, had surprisingly little difficulty in winning the number three doubles.

Don Drader, playing his first singles match, was the only Pointer to lose. He dropped his match in three hard fought sets, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Coach Schultz ventured a guess as to how the league standing would appear at the end of the season. He figures Grosse Pointe on top, with Monroe, Wyandotte, Royal Oak, Fordson and Highland Park following in that order.

The Blue Devils at full strength in the first meeting between the two schools earlier in the season, were only a shade better than the makeshift lineup. G.P.H.S. won first meet, 7-0.

Boat Banter

by Fred Runnells

Henry E. Bodman of McKinley place, Grosse Pointe Farms, lover of fine sailing yachts, has done it again. Bodman recently purchased one of the East's better ships "Red Head," a 59-footer yawl, and will bring her to Grosse Pointe by the end of the month.

In the past he has owned such queens as "Abenaki," a schooner which won the Nassau race; "Brilliant," another schooner which raced across the Atlantic to glory in two trips and "Stormy Weather," 55-foot yawl which holds the consecutive win record for the Nassau ocean race, winning five times before the war.

"Stormy Weather," recently won in the news when Freddie Temple, well known yachtsman from Toledo, sold her to F. W. Davis of New York. "Stormy" was purchased by Bodman in 1945 but he never raced her in local regattas. It wasn't until her sale to Temple in 1946 that the magnificent ship came out and played with the other "big girls" of the local fleet. Despite her great record she never did much in the way of winning races against the local "hot shots."

Owners Bob Kerr and Eddie Wunsch will turn their eight meter sloop, "Shamrock" over to Russ Pouliot for the 1948 racing season here. Pouliot, a skipper who commands a great deal of respect for his racing know-how, should prove the much needed shot-in-the-arm for the revival of the once hot eight meter fleet here.

Charley Beck of Bayview Yacht Club says he has "Conwego" all set for the fleet's first series as is Milt Cross' "Venture." Gordie Saunders and Bruce Tappan have "Armidia" in the water but without her spar. Clyde Palmer and rotund Perce Darnell are getting the once famous "Pintail" ready for another active season—in cruising. "Pintail" acquired a motor a couple of years ago, and since has done nothing in the way of winning races.

With two of the biggest boats in the local fleet, John B. Ford Jr.'s "Royono" and Wendell Anderson's "Escapade" going to the Bermuda race June 19 you hear more Bermuda talk than Mackinac racing around the clubs.

Competition in the Bermuda event is going to be rugged this year. Englishman John Illingworth is bringing over his "Myth of Malham," a 39-footer, which won last year's Fastnet and several other well known British off-shore events and proved herself phenomenal in every kind of weather.

Crescent Sail Yacht Club's fast growing Lightning fleet, 20 boats at this writing, will again be the king pin of the Detroit Lightning fleet, which most likely will boast upward of 40 boats before the first DRYA regatta on Memorial Day. Energetic Gene Howard will have quite a problem on his hands keeping all those skippers in line this season.

That ever popular Star fleet is shaping up into the biggest fleet in the 27-year-old history of the Detroit Fleet with 11 new boats completed or nearing completion. Alex Allardyce, Arno Streit, Ken Wright, Meryl Amo, Eino Nurme, Bob Beck and Bob Reithmiller will own the new American boats. The other four new boats will be sailed by the Canadian members of the fleet. These coupled with six active Stars promises to make a spectacle at the starting lines of DRYA regattas.

Fleet Captains of the Lightning, Luders, Lawley and Star fleets are talking over ways and means of settling racing protests within the four fleets this summer.

The best proposal probably the one to be adopted is the forming of a race committee made up of one member from each fleet to settle all protests. Only the three members whose fleets are not involved in the protests will act on the cases. In this way the committee member whose fleet is involved cannot be accused of being partial.

That little Penguin fleet started at Crescent two years ago is toying with the idea of racing in DRYA regattas. These little plywood boats are about eight feet long and remarkable sailors for their size.

Past Commodore Cal Sutton, Fred and Skip Pessel, Hank Wubbe and Jerry Jenkins already have boats finished and several others are under construction.

It looks now as if Judd Ross and his high school boys, who left the Boat Club last spring in a huff, will have a site for their newly organized outfit.

Ross suggested three places to Councilman George Edwards, president of Detroit's city council, who in turn instructed the DPW to investigate the possibility of the oarsmen using one of the three, the old Belle Isle police boathouse near the bathing beach, the canoe shelter and a spot in Grayhaven near the head of the river. The last Ross' first choice.

Pointers Beaten By Wyandotte

By JOE FROMM

Grosse Pointe High's baseball squad lost its fourth game of the season Tuesday when it was downed 3-2 by Wyandotte on the local diamond. This is the third game that the Pointers have lost by a one run margin.

Bob Hafer of Grosse Pointe and John Jaciuk of the winners shared batting honors with three hits apiece. Ferris of Wyandotte connected with two hits a double and a single, to drive in all three Wyandotte runs.

Bob Ruck started on the mound for Grosse Pointe and was relieved by Bryant in the fourth. Gresser pitched the entire distance for Wyandotte and struck out 13 batters. He got only one on strikes in the last two innings.

The Pointers will have two more games this week and one next Thursday they will play one of their three rain-out games, Friday they play host to Monroe, and Tuesday they travel to Highland Park.

Don Hartlage Bats St. Paul To Victory

Catcher's Two Triples Account for Six Runs as Flyers Score 9-5 Win Over Annunciation

By Joe Fromm

Don Hartlage, St. Paul catcher, batted in six runs on two triples with the bases loaded as his team came from behind twice to down Annunciation, 9-5, Thursday at the Neighborhood Club diamond.

With St. Paul trailing 3-0 and the bases loaded in the first inning, Hartlage connected with a solid hit to right to bring in three runs and tie the score. Hartlage came to bat again in the fifth with his team trailing 4-3 and the bases loaded again. He connected with another triple to right, sending in three more runs to put St. Paul in front to stay.

Annunciation wasted no time in getting at St. Paul pitcher, Bob Berg, nipping him for three runs in the top of the first. Annunciation once more took the lead with a run in their half of the third. St. Paul came back in their fifth with six runs. John Bingham helped out the Hartlage assault with a double to drive in two runs. Bingham also collected another single.

St. Paul outhit Annunciation, 10 to 6, and received help on four walks and four errors. St. Paul backed Berg with three errors. Berg struck out seven and walked two.

St. Paul will be out for its fourth win in five starts Friday when it meets St. Philip at Chandler. St. Philip captured the East Side title last year but its star pitcher is now signed with a major league club.

St. Paul Netters Whip De LaSalle

By Fred Runnells

St. Paul High School's slowly expanding athletic program took a definite turn for the better when the Flyer netters scored a 4-0 slam victory over De LaSalle last Wednesday afternoon, May 12, on the Neighborhood Club courts.

In winning, the Flyers didn't drop a set and lost only seven games in capturing the three singles and one doubles matches.

Larry Reynolds, playing number two singles, scored the most decisive victory by beating J. Taylor, 6-0, 6-0. Later in the afternoon he teamed with Jerry Rauer, winner of the number three singles, 6-1, 6-2, to score a straight set victory over Joe Picarilli and Jack Cannon, 6-0, 6-1. Jerry Hollerbach scored his number one singles victory over Joe Picarilli, 6-1, 6-2.

Flyers Seventh In Track Meet

By Fred Runnells

A picked group of cindermen from St. Paul High School traveled to Belle Isle last Friday, May 14 to participate in the first East Side Parochial League Track Championship Meet.

Of this group only two boys, Jim Law and Pat Hamlin, were able to capture points, but the points they did get enabled St. Paul to finish in seventh place among ten schools represented.

Jim Law sloshed his way around a very muddy track to win the mile run in the slow time of 5:20. Law's time was 25 seconds better than the fastest time turned in in the second heat of the event, but only one second faster than the time in the third heat.

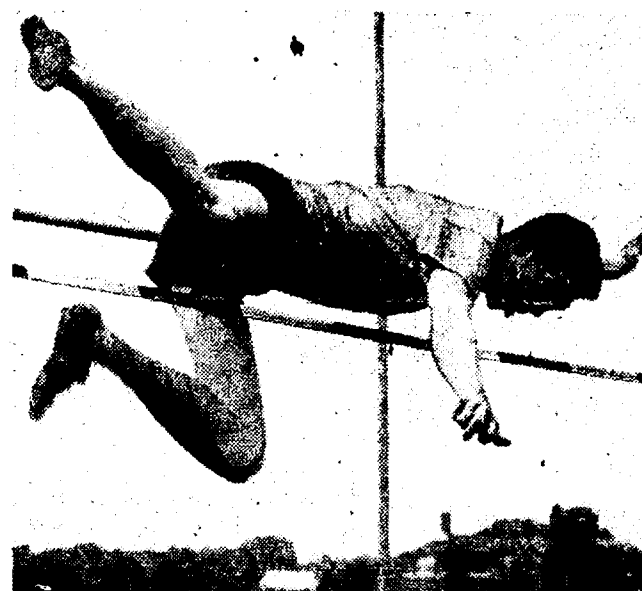

Law jumped into the lead with the crack of the gun and led all the way. Only Ward of St. Joseph offered any serious threat by hanging on until the last 100 yards. It was here that Law poured on the coal to win going away by 20 yards.

Pat Hamlin placed third in the shot put event with a toss of 38 feet 10 1/2 inches, which was 9 1/2 inches short of the winning toss of 39 feet 8 inches by a boy from St. Mary's of Orchard Lake.

By winning, Law and Hamlin qualified for the City Championship Meet at U. of D. Stadium. Here is how the teams finished: De La Salle 34 1/2, St. Charles 31, St. Stanislaus 14, Mt. Clemens 13, Mary 12 1/2, St. Joseph 11 1/2, Catholic Central 10, St. Paul 9, Orchard Lake St. Mary 7 1/2, St. Rose 4 1/2, Annunciation 1 1/2.

U. OF M. CONCERT The annual spring concert by the University of Michigan Extension Service Orchestra at 8:30 p.m. on Friday, May 21, is one of the many musical events being held at the Rackham Educational Memorial this month. The program is open to the public without charge. Arthur John Sternmens of 17130 E. Jefferson Avenue, is member of the orchestra.

Mumford Goes Over the Top

TED MUMFORD, Grosse Pointe High's best high jumper, clears the bar in the Fordson meet here Friday afternoon. When Ted leaps, he puts everything into it, even his tongue. His best performance to date is five feet six inches.

Final Event Gives Fordson Track Team Win Over Devils

By Fred Runnells

A powerful, title-bound Fordson track team, wealthy in dash men, squeezed out a 57 1/2 to 51 1/2 league victory over the much beaten cindermen from Grosse Pointe High last Friday afternoon on the local track.

It wasn't until the last event, the 880 speed relay, was run, that the final outcome was determined. It was in this event that Fordson's multitude of dash men climaxed a successful afternoon of victories in the dash events with an eight yard victory for the all important five points which decided the meet.

The meet was one of those nip and tuck affairs all afternoon with neither team commanding a sizeable point margin. The Tractors, at one point in the meet, held a ten point margin by winning the four dash events of the first five races.

Grosse Pointe's only victory in the early stages of the meet came in the mile run when Fred Duemling and Jerry Braund finished one-two for a sizeable eight points which placed the Pointers one point behind, 14-13, in the running score.

The Blue Devils star shot put, Tom Follis and his teammate Lee Walker, won the first field event. Follis' toss of 43 feet 11 inches was shy of his school record which he established in the Wyandotte meet a couple of weeks ago. Follis is unbeaten in his specialty this season and stands an excellent chance of winning the regionals and placing high in the state meet at East Lansing later this month.

Lanky Bob Hays and Jim Hosking finished one-three in the 880 event and tied the meet up at 26-11.

Grosse Pointe moved into the lead for the first time when the three quarter mile medley relay team of Lee Walker, Bill Joop, Bill De Graw and Jerry Jenkins scored the Blue Devils' third win.

"Butch" Edgar, Grosse Pointe's star broad jumper, gave his team a 49-46 lead when he scored the Blue Devils' last win of the meet. Edgar easily outdistances his opponents with a leap of 19 feet 9 1/2 inches. Edgar has been improving consistently and should place in the regionals later this month. In practice he has turned in leaps of over 20 feet and has his eye on the track record.

I might point out at this time that Coach Banach had notions of cutting "Butch" from the squad earlier in the season because he wasn't fast enough for the dash events, but that was before Edgar tried his hand at broad jumping. Today he is one of the Blue Devils' most consistent point getters.

Fordson's three-quarter mile relay combination, which gave the Tractors the meet were: Wren, Morgan, Sheppard, Baxter. The latter two were the Tractors' biggest point getters. Sheppard won the high and low hurdles, finished second in the broad jump event and ran anchor on the winning relay team. Baxter scored victories in the 100 yard dash and the 220. Wren was second to Baxter in the 100.

St. Ambrose's Nine Defeated By St. Vincent

Pointe Parochial School Baseball Team Beaten by 5-1 Score at Neighborhood Club

By Joe Fromm

St. Ambrose High's baseball squad lost its second game of the season Friday to St. Vincent, 5-1, at the Neighborhood Club diamond. St. Ambrose's only run came in the fourth when it bunched together two hits, a walk and a hit batter.

Jim Burns led off the inning with a single. McFarland walked and Truman Willis singled, scoring Burns from second. Gallo and Kramer flied out and Joe Landry was hit by a pitched ball, loading the bases. Jim Bentley ended the inning by grounding out.

St. Ambrose wasted three other hits, two by freshman Buzz McAndrew in the fifth and seventh, and one by Gallo in the sixth. Symanski, the St. Vincent hurler, walked three and struck out two in getting credit for the win.

Bob Breen pitched all the way for Ambrose and nipped for 10 hits. He struck out three and walked one. St. Ambrose had the edge on fielding, making only one error to three for the winners.

St. Vincent opening the scoring with three runs in the fourth. McGrown, Macrisroe and Alcala singled in succession to lead off the inning, the latter hit scoring a run.

Seykell walked, filling the bases. Maliche grounded out, scoring Macrisroe, and sending Alcala to third, from where he scored when Grys' grounded out. Symanski ended the rally by grounding out.

Two hits, a fly ball and an infield play scored two more runs for St. Vincent in the top of the seventh.

St. Ambrose Summary table with columns AB, R, H. Rows include McAndrew, Burns, McFarland, Willis, Gallo, Kramer, Landry, Bentley, Breen, and Totals.

Trackmen Swamp Highland Parkers

By Fred Runnells

Smarting from three successive close decision defeats, the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils gave vent to their wrath by trampling the Highland Park Polar Bears, 82-27, last Tuesday afternoon on the local track. It was the Pointers' last dual meet of the season.

Highlights of the meet were the Pointers' slam in the mile run, "Butch" Edgar's winning leap of 20 feet 1 1/2 inches in the broad jump event and Jimmy Williams' grudge race in the 220-yard dash. Fred Duemling, Jerry Braund and Dick Spei finished in close order well in front of the Polar Bear runners with Duemling getting the nod over Braund by a yard in the mile.

"Butch" Edgar's winning leap in the broad jump was the longest recorded on the local track since Al Berris set the present track record of 20 feet 11 1/2 inches back in 1942.

Jimmy Williams dropped a very close decision to Highland Park's big colored boy, Jonathan Gallimore, in the 100-yard dash. The defeat made Jimmy so mad that he went all out in the 220-yard dash event and ran Gallimore right into the ground with a good winning time of 23 seconds. Gallimore collapsed at the finish after trying to catch the flying Williams.

There was much talk among the Blue Devil cindermen about what they were going to do in the coming Regional Track Meet to be held at Monroe Saturday, May 22. This overwhelming victory might be just what the Pointers needed to make them a serious contender for regional honors.

The Regional Meet will get under way at 10 a.m., with the running of the preliminaries. The finals will start at 1 p.m.

Church Building Group Calls May 25 Meeting

The Building Enterprise Commission of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will meet on Tuesday evening May 25 at the Parsonage, 2049 VanAntwerp road. Dr. Gordon Phillips, executive secretary of the Methodist Union of Greater Detroit will be with the group. Plans for the building enterprise will be carried forward.

Pointe Legion Team Suffers First Defeat; Briggs Winner

Starch Taken Out of Local Nine When Umpire Calls Home Run Which Tied Score in Eighth, Foul; Edsall Hurls Well

By Fred Runnells

Grosse Pointe's Post 303 American Legion Baseball team suffered its first setback at the hands of Briggs Post, 6 to 3, last Sunday, May 16, at Waterworks Park, despite fine pitching by Harry Edsall, who went the distance. Edsall allowed 6 runs, 7 hits, walked 2 and struck out 15 which ran his strikeout record to 48 in three games. This is tops in the league.

Lax officiating cost Grosse Pointe a chance to tie the game up in the eighth inning when the umpire behind second base called Hil Pierce's terrific drive to left field foul. The disputed circuit clout scored Gregg from first base and Pierce tied the score at 4-4 as he crossed the plate. However, the umpire called the smash foul without bothering to move over to the third base line to substantiate his decision. Many spectators emitted a howl of disapproval and even the Briggs catcher said the drive was fair, after the game was over.

This unfair decision took the starch out of the Pointers bid for the lead even though Pierce on his return trip to the place reached first on an error by shortstop Stefani Gregg scored on the error with the Pointers last run.

Briggs scored its last two runs in the ninth inning to clinch the game.

Grosse Pointe scored in the first inning when Winkler walked, advanced to third, on two infield outs and scored on Hil Pierce's single to left field.

The Pointer's second run also came in the first inning and was scored by Knope when he singled to center, took second on a sacrifice and scored on Von Arx' single to center.

Briggs scored its first run in the eighth inning when Sherghezan walked, stole second, went to third on Jump's long fly to center, and scored on Cameron's single to left. Briggs took the lead, 4-2, in the seventh inning on two hits, two walks, a fielder's choice and an error, which netted 3 runs. Edsall walked pitcher Kolpe to open the inning. Sherghezan singled, Kolpe taking third. Richardson doubled to left center, scoring both runners. Jump was safe at first on a fielder's choice. Knope throwing out Richardson at third. Cameron was hit by a pitched ball and Satterfield walked, filling the bases. Miller struck out. Jump scored when Pierce overthrew first base trying to pick off Satterfield.

Grosse Pointe scored its final run in the eighth inning when Winkler, first man up, singled to right. Duffy then sent a screeching liner to center field that was labeled extra bases, but a fine running one-handed catch and throw by Miller killed the hit and doubled Winkler off first base. Grosse Pointe has won two and lost one in three starts. New York Central will be the Pointers' next opponent next Sunday, May 23, at Belle Isle Diamond 5. The game will start at 1 p.m.

Dads' Club Sports Roundup Draws Capacity Audience

By FRED RUNNELLS

The Grosse Pointe Dad's Club really outdid itself on Tuesday evening, May 11 at its bi-annual All-Sports Roundup by providing a full evening of entertainment and a scrumptious roast buffet banquet which preceded a two hour program in the auditorium.

Figures on the number of diners served were not obtainable but it was the first time a Sports Roundup claimed a capacity crowd of dads and their boys.

The entertainment was given a rousing sendoff when Dewey Kalembar, Grosse Pointe high school music director, and his school band turned in a beautiful job. This was followed by the Boys' Glee Club under the direction of John Finch who, later in the evening, was commended by the guest speaker, Mr. Bo McMillan, when he said, "you have a real coach in Mr. Finch. I just hope next fall I can get my Detroit Lions to perform half as well as his boy singers." And of course there were the usual cheers led by the cheerleaders.

Dads' Club President Harry Phillips, acting as master of ceremonies, called on Athletic Director Frank Banach to introduce the coaches of the various teams in both the senior and junior high schools.

Apparently the coaches were too shy to make speeches and they just took a bow from their seats as their names were called. It was at this time some one should have given the audience a short sketch on each coach and what his teams had done in competition. This was the only weak spot in the program.

Just as a matter of information I would like to go on record as congratulating each and every one of the coaches for the marvelous job they have done since last fall in putting Grosse Pointe on top of the standings for the Border Cities League All Sports Sweepstakes Trophy which is awarded each year to the school in the conference garnering the most points in all sports throughout the year.

The most outstanding job was turned in by Coach Frank Banach, whose swimming team annexed the only BCL championship to date this year and stretched the school's swimming record to 30 consecutive meets without a defeat.

Coach Ed Wernet also turned in a marvelous job when his basketball team tied Fordson for second place behind the Wyandotte Bears. His job, in my estimation, was an outstanding piece of coaching because he took a green, inexperienced bunch of boys and molded them into a winning combination. Only Fate prevented Wernet from annexing his second basketball title in as many years.

A matter of 11 points stood between the team and the title and only two points kept it from tying for the championship. Those two points came in the two Fordson contests which the Blue Devils dropped by one point decisions. In the first game between the two schools the Fordson schoolboy timer robbed the Blue Devils of victory when he failed to start the clock in the crucial last eight seconds of the game, thus permitting his team enough time to score the game-winning basket. The second Fordson game was a legitimate loss. The other nine points were accumulated when the Pointers dropped the first Highland Park game by five points, their biggest margin of defeat, and a four point defeat by Wyandotte. Harold Fisher, assistant football and basketball coach, is probably the most overlooked coach in the entire high school athletic system. It is Fisher's job to take any and all candidates and put them through their paces and determine which boys most likely will eventually be the best athletes the following year. So far he has turned in a swell job of training new candidates for the Blue Devils' always competent cage squads. Bo McMillan, coach of the Detroit Lions professional football team, climaxed the evening with a catch-as-catch-can talk which amused the guests no end, especially his stories of his coaching days at Indiana University. The members of the varsity swimming team and the reserve basketball team presented their coaches Frank Banach and Harold Fisher with presents. Banach's boys gave him a beautiful sport coat and Fisher's lads presented him with a smoking stand. Your reporter, representing the News, presented the members of the championship swimming team with medals, a policy started by the News two years ago to give gold medals to members of any Grosse Pointe High School team that wins a BCL championship outright. At the last Sports Roundup the swimming and basketball teams received this honor.

Pointers Ready For Long Race

The crew of the Escapade, the Wendell Anderson's 72-foot yawl, sailed to Buffalo last week-end preparatory to the annual race to Bermuda on June 19, and flew back to the Pointe on Sunday, on Friday, June 11, they will leave for Newport, starting point for the annual race. Crew members include Mr. Anderson and his son, Jack; Edward S. Wunsch, Clark Swart, Harrison T. Watson, Jack Longley, Theodore R. Buttrick, Jr., Albert D. Thomas, Jr., Thomas Lott and Trent McMath. Mrs. J. B. Ford, Jr., will fly to Bermuda with Mrs. Anderson to await the finish. Mr. Ford will be skipping the Royono III, second entry from the Pointe. In the Royono's crew will be Howard Finch, John Pottle, Bob Bryant, John Detwiler, Jack Scranton, Carl Meurer, Harry Peterson and Russell Pouliot.

STREET REPAIRS
The Farms has invited bids for the purchase of between 20,000 and 24,000 gallons of tar and asphalt and from 800 to 1000 tons of 3/4-inch limestone for the summer street repair program of the village.

Ticket Office Scene of Fire

When a small fire started in the ticket office of the Grosse Pointe High School on the night of May 11, the alarm box No. 41, at the corner of St. Paul and Lincoln failed to work. A phone alarm was sent to the Farms fire department and the fire was quickly extinguished. The damage was slight and the cause of the fire unknown.

To Honor Trio At Club Dinner

Carl Schweikart, Supervisor of Grosse Pointe Township, Chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and candidate for the office of County Clerk, will be one of three guests of honor at a dinner in the University Club tonight, Thursday, May 20. Judge Miles Culehan and Probate Judge Thomas Murphy will be the other two guests of honor. The hosts will be Judge Victor H. DeBaeke, John Potter, attorney of Grosse Pointe Park, and Judge George Beauchamp of Grosse Pointe Woods. Guests will include Burke Montgomery, Chief Clerk of Records Court; Walter Schweikart, Judge Paul Krauss, former Detroit Corporation Counsel; Clerk Harry O'Neil of Records Court; Ralph Genter, C. P. A.; Trustee Ernest Putman of Grosse Pointe Shores; George W. Trendle, candidate for trustee of Grosse Pointe Shores; Ken McCormick of the Free Press; Pat McDougal of the Times and Robert Edgar of the Grosse Pointe News.

U. S. Navy scientists expect, soon to be able to produce temperatures within .001 degrees of absolute zero (-459.7 degrees Fahrenheit).

ALFRED BURKE, Director of the "JUNIOR LEAGUE FOLLIES" (Music Hall June 2 through 4), explains the script to Miss Lydia Kerr and Mrs. James S. Harris while lunching at the Indian Room in Sammy Sofferin's Wonder Bar.

Four to Receive Albion Degrees

Among those receiving the B.A. degree from Albion college on June 7 will be four Grosse Pointe residents: Robert Louis Beyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Beyer of 1173 Kensington road; Patricia Ann Jaekel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Jaekel of 1023 Nottingham road; Donald Aldrich Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Moore of 332 Moran road; and Shirley J. Searles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Searles of 437 Cloverly road. At Albion, Beyer has been president of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and at one time served as its treasurer. He was also president of the Interfraternity Council and a member of the YMCA. Miss Jaekel has been secretary of the Kappa Delta sorority; secretary of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary; treasurer of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary; vice president of the Association of Women Students; a member of the German club, of the YWCA and of the board of the Women's Athletic Association. At the time of graduation she will receive her state teacher's certificate in addition to her B.A. degree. Miss Searles has been a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic honorary; Kappa Mu Epsilon, national mathematics honorary of which she served as secretary-treasurer; a member of the Zeta Epsilon Lambda cabinet, social service fraternity; the Chemistry club, French club, the YWCA, and the Women's Athletic Association.

Blended Whiskey 40 Proof. 35% Straight Whiskey, 65% Grain Neutral Spirits. Gooderham & Worts Ltd., Peoria, Ill.
To commemorate Penn's Treaty with the Indians—one of the most significant treaties in American history—this popular, mellow, fraternal whiskey is named: William Penn, The Treaty Whiskey—Gooderham & Worts Ltd., Peoria, Illinois, U. S. A. (Gooderham & Worts Ltd., a Canadian business since 1832).

Since your generator was checked?

Once a year is the recommendation of automobile manufacturers — and here's why — The generator is the basic part of a car's electrical system. If it charges right, and is in proper adjustment — no trouble for you!
However, a generator does not signal trouble like other mechanical parts. It operates and charges or it doesn't. There's usually no gradual sign that the generator needs attention. By having periodic adjustments made, a generator should cause no trouble. By catching generator mal-adjustment early, serious damage can be avoided and your car kept running.
Ray Whyte Chevrolet Company maintains a complete automotive electrical department is staffed by men who know Chevrolets and Chevrolet service. Be safe — be sure. A generator check and adjustment is just low cost trouble prevention.

HERE'S WHAT WE DO:
Remove and clean generator.
Check brushes for wear and mal-adjustment.
Check and adjust brush spring tension.
Check commutator for wear, scratches or damage.
Fix commutator if required.
Under cut mica separators if required.
Test armature and field for short circuits.
Lubricate.
Reassemble and install.
Test.

Death Takes Mrs. Maire

Mrs. Florence Davis Maire, aged 89, a longtime resident of Grosse Pointe, died at her home in Dexter, Mich., on Sunday night, May 18.

Mrs. Maire was the widow of the late Dr. Lewis E. Maire, prominent in the life of Grosse Pointe a generation ago. The family home at 16710 E. Jefferson avenue, was one of the earlier fine homes of the region. The Maire school was named after him.

Mrs. Maire had nine children, eight of whom are still living. These are: Lewis Maire, Jr., of Dexter; Julian F. of Detroit; Dr. Edward D. Maire of Detroit; Lincoln of Grosse Pointe Woods; Stephen F. of Muskegon; Mrs. William Donaldson of Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. Charlotte Parker of Grosse Pointe; and Mrs. Lewis Wright of Dexter. Mrs. Amy Gray of California, a sister, who also survives.

There are also 23 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. The funeral services were held on Wednesday and burial was made in Roseland cemetery.

Judy Fordon Hurt In Fall from Tree

As Park Patrolmen G. Boone and Crandall were cruising at 8 o'clock on Saturday night, May 15, they found a young girl lying on the ground at 1060 Whittier who had apparently injured herself. They learned later she had fallen out of a tree.

The girl, Judy Fordon, aged 12, of 1371 Oxford road, was a visitor at the residence of Charles B. Eisenhower, 1060 Whittier, and they asked the officers to take her to Bon Secours hospital for examination. She had hurt her left leg falling from a high limb.

Children Look To Us for Help

It is not too late, says Jack Schaefer, campaign chairman, to send in your contribution to the Crusade for Children.

The $1,500,000 campaign, part of a national drive for $60,000,000 is still going on all over Wayne County. If a solicitor has not called in your neighborhood, the contribution may be sent directly to campaign headquarters at the Book Cadillac Hotel.

Twenty-six private American agencies are participating in this one campaign, with 250 million children abroad waiting desperately for rescue from starvation. In addition to providing supplementary food for these children, money will be spent to combat the 80 per cent rise in the incidence of tuberculosis all over Europe.

Pointe High Graduate Honored at Rutgers

John I. Shields, Grosse Pointe High graduate now living in Plainfield, N. J., was one of 13 students recently inducted as members of the Philosophian Society, oldest honorary organization of Rutgers University. The Philosophian Society had its beginnings in 1825.

Shields, a married army veteran, is a sophomore at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey. He is editor of the Anthologist, student literary magazine, a member of the varsity debate team, and the Rutgers chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary debate society. At Grosse Pointe High School he was active in dramatics, on the staff of the literary magazine, and in various clubs.

Parents Probably Stuck For Price of Driveway

The builder of the new house being erected at 806 Washington road reported to the City lot on Saturday, May 15, that a lot of young children playing about the premises had almost ruined his cement driveway by running over it while it was still soft.

The police gathered up eight of the youngsters, all between the ages of 9 and 12, and took them home, telling the parents at the same time they would probably have to pay a sizeable bill of damage.

Plan Discussion On Family Life

Dr. David B. Treat, director of the Clara Elizabeth Fund for Maternal Health, Flint, Michigan, and a member of the recent White House National Conference on Family Life, will be one of the speakers at the public mass meeting in the Pierce Junior High School Auditorium on Monday, May 24.

Other speakers at this mass meeting include: Mrs. Marjorie Cosgrove, of the Highland Park Schools; Mrs. Helen Jenkins of Pershing High School, Rev. John C. Ryan, Arch Diocese of Detroit; Mr. Carl Bachman, of Wayne Elementary Schools, and Mr. Leroy Selmeier, of the Grosse Pointe Schools.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting and learn what is being done in other communities towards strengthening family life. The meeting begins at 8:15 p.m. and free tickets should be obtained at any Grosse Pointe school or the Grosse Pointe libraries.

Directors Named By Colony Club

The annual meeting of the Colony Club was held at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Tuesday, May 12, where a luncheon was served on a table decorated in pastel flowers. Mrs. Bernard Koehler was chairman of decorations and Mrs. Donald Melville, chairman of the day.

Mrs. Millard H. Toncray, president, presided at the meeting where six new members were elected to the board of directors to replace six retiring members. The new members are: Mrs. Galen B. Ohmart, Mrs. Philip C. Baker, Mrs. Harold L. Richeson, Mrs. A. W. Sempliner, Mrs. Joel L. Leece and Mrs. Roger V. Walker.

Jack Burns Initiated Member of Psi Upsilon

Jack Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Burns of 36 Colonial road, Grosse Pointe Shores, has been initiated into the Psi Chapter of Psi Upsilon Fraternity located at Syracuse University.

Jack is a junior in the school of Liberal Arts, having transferred from Northwestern University in the fall of 1947. He is currently chairman of the Junior Prom committee, president of the Sales Forum of Syracuse University, contributor to the college humor magazine, the Syracusean, and announcer, newscaster, and disc-jockey on the campus radio station.

Pointe University Club Has Picnic in Rochester

Members of the Grosse Pointe Club chose a Saturday night picnic in Rochester for their recent outing.

Marilyn Meier and Phil Keith, Nancy Eccleston and Wood Giest, Dorothy D'Haene and Bob Frear, Norma Hanson and Don Van Baccalaere and Frankie Kretschmar and Bill Merrill were among the picnickers.

Others included Jane Thibodeau and Bob Tobin, Gloria Laughna and Jim Barker, Rosemary Siebert and Joe Padell and Marge Holland and Jim Dirke.

City Council Bans Late Registrations

The City Council has adopted a resolution prohibiting registration on election days. This regulation was taken to make the city's regulation conform to the recent action taken by Wayne County and also by the State of Michigan.

The practice of many persons to postpone registration until the last minute, often until they go to the polls to vote, has resulted in an insuperable amount of work for the registration officials on the day of the election.

Women's City Club Holds Party for Mother's Day

Mrs. Donald C. Stevenson of Berkshire road and her daughter, Suzanne, were co-chairmen for the Mother's Day subscription luncheon given May 8 at the Women's City Club.

Mrs. Lloyd Grinnell and Helen, Mrs. Peter Dolese and Mrs. Thomas Courts, Mrs. Howard Walton and Dorothy, Mrs. Eugene Smith and Elizabeth, Mrs. T. A. Boyd and Elinor and Mrs. J. P. Johnston and Margaret, were some of the mother-daughter combinations present.

Mrs. Edward Cope Smith and Rosalie Packard, Mrs. Frank D. Boynton and Mrs. Frank D. Boynton III and Mrs. Hedley V. Richardson and Mrs. Horace McKnight were also on hand.

Richard Selden Spencers Planning Family Reunion

The Richard Selden Spencers of Handy road will have the equivalent of a family reunion this summer at their home at Frenchman's Bay near Bar Harbor, Me.

Mr. Pierre will accompany them on the initial trip, and they will be joined later by another son, Richard, Jr., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Noyes, Jr., of Washington, with young Howie and Terry Noyes.

Another son-in-law and daughter, the James Kent Patersons, of Princeton, N. J., will have a summer home just ten miles distant, and the two families are certain to exchange a number of visits.

Evangelical Home Group Plans Benefit Card Party

The Auxiliary of the Evangelical Home for Orphans and Old People will sponsor a benefit dessert card party in Kern's auditorium on Monday, May 24 at 1 p.m. Guests are invited.

Mrs. F. H. Albrecht is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Walter Reed, president; Mrs. G. Winkler, Mrs. William Ludwig, Mrs. John Seng, Mrs. Dupuis, Mrs. Russell Winkler, Mrs. Schmarz, Mrs. E. Radtke, Mrs. F. George, Mrs. Albert Dietrick, Mrs. D. Kern, Mrs. H. Brandstetter, Mrs. William Hoffman, Mrs. H. Path, Mrs. Carl Schroeder, Mrs. Garpow, and Mrs. Alfred Boerner.

The proceeds will go to the Orphans Home.

Methodist Men's Club Will Meet on May 19

The Men's Club of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will hold its regular monthly meeting in the home of Willis Bugbee, 36 Beacon Hill on Wednesday, May 19, at 8 p.m.

Thomas Munson, 3842 Courville, and Clarence Stocum, 2057 Lancaster road, are in charge of the program. The men will receive the visitation reports and will discuss the plans for the Ice Cream Social, to which the public is invited, which will be held Wednesday, June 23, on the church lot.

SHRINERS

Nobles interested in an East Side Shrine Club, are advised that a meeting for organizing will be held at 8 p.m., Friday, May 21 in Ladies' Room at Pillar Temple, 14523 Kercheval.

Emery Hatch's To Live in West

The Emery Hatch family, formerly of Lincoln road, will embark on a new adventure Monday, June 21. That is the date when they will leave Grosse Pointe for Montana with their children, Peggy, Mac and Bob.

From Oct. 1 to May 1 each year they will live at their Sahuaro Lake Ranch near Phoenix, Ariz., and the summer season will be spent at the 4-K ranch near Billings, Mont.

Two big dates on the schedule when they depart are June 17, when Peggy is graduated from Grosse Pointe Country Day School, and June 19, the day on which she rides in the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's show.

Laurence King to Wed Cleveland Girl May 22

Laurence Gale King, son of Mrs. Curtis King of Moran road, Grosse Pointe Farms, and of Col. L. G. King of Cleveland, will be married on Saturday, May 22, to Miss Yvonne Siegenthaler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Siegenthaler of Cleveland.

The ceremony will be performed in the Old Stone Church in Cleveland, with a reception following in the Lake Shore Hotel. W. Fritz DeFries will be best man for his brother-in-law and Geoffrey King, brother of the bridegroom, will be an usher.

Attending the wedding from here will be Mrs. King, Mr. and Mrs. William Gale Curtis of Iriquois avenue, grand parents of the bridegroom; and his sister, Mrs. DeFries.

Drunken Driving Spree Costs $100

A man giving the name of Howard Honeycutt, aged 36, of 625 Alexandrine W., and his wife were taken into custody by the Park police at 4:45 o'clock on Sunday morning after some hectic driving about the Park. They had jumped the curb at Tom Boyd's Sales and Service at Jefferson and Nottingham, but without damage to the property.

The police found a whiskey bottle between the two, with three fourths of the contents gone.

The next morning Honeycutt was honored with a special session of traffic court in which Judge Belanger fined him $95 and $5 costs on a drunken driving charge, and revoked his license for a year.

International Institute Holds Recruitment Party

The Volunteer Visitors Corps of the International Institute held its recruitment party Friday afternoon at the institute. Mrs. James S. Simft handled the party arrangements.

Vincent DePetris gave a talk on "Some Best Known Flowers with Their Roots in Other Lands". A tea and coffee hour followed.

Mrs. Frederick C. Ford heads the Visitors Corps.

Special Service Planned by VFW

The annual memorial services in remembrance of all war dead by Alger Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 995, will be held in the Bethany Lutheran church, East Outer drive at Chatsworth avenue.

The procession will begin at 10 a.m., Sunday, May 23, at Whitier and Outer drive. The Wayne County Drum and Bugle Corps will lead the parade, to terminate at 10:30 a.m. in time for services at the Bethany Lutheran church, Reverend Pastor Riess officiating.

The Alger Post membership has invited all veterans of the Bethany Lutheran Men's Club and neighboring veteran organizations to participate. It is expected the organizational colors of the 330 Field Artillery Post 3775; Fairview VFW Post 393; Lt. Hoffman Post No. 116; and Fort Gratiot Post 254 will accompany those of Alger Post Veterans of Foreign Wars in a solemn tribute to their comrades who have passed away.

More Radiator Ornaments Taken

The theft of two more radiator ornaments from late model Buick cars was reported to the Farms police during the week.

Mrs. Robert L. Hesse of 381 Merrivether road, said her loss had occurred while her car was parked near the Punch and Judy theater on the night of May 7.

J. L. Senkowski of 4331 Chatsworth, said his ornament disappeared at 10:30 a.m. in time for services at the Bethany Lutheran church, Reverend Pastor Riess officiating.

School Builders Irked By Downright Devlry

Five panes of glass in the workers' shacks at the new school being built on Kerby road at Beaupre, were smashed on the night of May 12-13, the contractors reported to the Farms police.

They further complained that the miscreants had poured sand in the gasoline tank of the cement mixer.

Ciaramitaros Fly to Bermuda

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Ciaramitaro left for New York following their Saturday morning marriage at St. Clare of Montefalco Church recently.

The bride is the former Ninfa Pellerito, daughter of Mr. Paul Pellerito of Berkshire road and the late Mrs. Pellerito. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Ciaramitaro of Bedford road.

A slipper satin white gown with long train was the bride's choice for her wedding. Seed pearls and rhinestones trimmed the neckline.

Maid of honor Anne Pellerito, sister of the bride, wore an ice blue dress fashioned like the bride's gown. Rose Ann Ciaramitaro, Josephine Prizola, Vita Blonde and Rose Bastone were bridesmaids. They were gowned in identical powder blue dresses.

The newlyweds spent several days in New York before leaving by plane for a two-week honeymoon in Bermuda.

Malicious Kids Damage Building

The Walter Mast building concerned to the city police on May 14 that some malicious youngsters had done considerable damage to a new house the firm is constructing at St. Paul and University place.

They reported 25-30 panes of glass broken and damage done to the new plaster on the walls that would require $200 to repair. They had also thrown plaster on the roof of the house.

Ditch Cave-In Snares Worker

Carlo Cucheppi, aged 60, of 3650 Lakepointe, an employee of the C. Bastoni plumbing concern of 17840 Mack, while working at 869 Loraine was caught by a cave-in in a ditch where he was working.

He was gotten out of the ditch with some difficulty and taken to Bon Secours hospital where he was treated for badly bruised and lacerated legs.

Weather Delays Playground Work

Work on the Farms new recreation field were progressing satisfactorily until the big rain of May 8, since when it has not been possible to continue the improvement program.

The baseball infield has been completely sodded and additional strips along first and third baselines will be sodded when weather permits. The sod has been taken from the old Kerby field with the permission of its purchaser, Mr. Thiron.

The laying of the copper water pipe has been delayed by the weather. The backstop has arrived and will be erected immediately. It is hoped all the work will be done before school vacation starts.

The first two aircraft ever ordered by the U. S. Navy were Curtiss "Triads". The planes, one a landplane and one a hydroplane, were ordered by the Navy on May 8, 1911.

Combined Choirs To Sing Service

From time to time throughout the past year the Combined Choirs of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church have presented evening musical services on Sunday nights. With over 100 voices singing under the direction of Mrs. Grace Samson, the minister of music, they have been appreciatively heard by many.

Sunday evening, May 23, at 7:30 p.m., they will present the last of these services for the year. The service and music will be built around the theme, "Come We, Who Love the Lord." It will include such numbers as "Who So Dwelleth," by Martin; "O Love of God" by Bach; "Thy Hymn of Joy," "The King of Love," "O Ye Mighty" by Richter, and "Almighty God," by Pears from the great music of the church.

Those who enjoy an evening of such music are cordially welcomed to attend.

Rabbi to Speak To Kiwanians

On Tuesday evening, May 25, Rabbi Leon Framm of Temple Beth El in the City of Detroit will address the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club on "The Palestine Situation."

The Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club which meets at the Early American Restaurant on Tuesday evenings at 8:30, has been sponsoring a series of speakers on current topics by authorities in the field.

Shores Actor Given Role in Production

Lew Wood has the role of Sandy Lord in Philip Barry's "The Philadelphia Story," a Robert F. Hampton Production, which will be presented Friday and Saturday, May 28 and 29 at the Institute of Arts Theater.

Mr. Wood, who lives at 83 Vernier road, Grosse Pointe Shores, is new to the Hampton Group but he has been active in theater for sometime. He played the role of "Danny" in the Cranbrook production of "Night Must Fall" and appeared in the production of "What Price Glory." He also worked with the Civic Light Opera Company in "Bittersweet."

His interests definitely tend toward the artistic for he is rapidly achieving prominence as a portrait painter.

THIS SCIENTIFIC TREATMENT Insures 100% Accurate Ignition

Smooth, dependable car performance depends greatly on accurate ignition.

Our new Distributor Stroboscope permits us to restore the originally perfect ignition of your car. This amazing machine quickly:

- Regulates the automatic spark to correct firing position.
- Puts the finger on shorted or weak coils or condensers which prevent starting or causes uneven firing.
- Insures hot, fat sparks needed for complete combustion.

It will spot:

- Burnt or worn distributor points and measure the cam action for perfect synchronization.
- A worn distributor shaft (or bushing) causes intermittent firing; this trouble is promptly located and corrected.

Our new Stroboscope:

- Eliminates all guess work in retiming distributors—a common cause of poor engine performance.
- Come in and watch the operator restore the pep and power of your engine.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

BETSY HOLTON is wondrously slimy in one of the veddy chic "corset frocks" . . . of black Grosse de Landre, the gown features a tiny boned waistline. The full skirt touches the floor as Betsy twirls over the dance floor . . . neckline is cut extremely low and the gown is sleeveless . . .

MRS. JOHN OWEN impresses even the cocktails when she wears that sheer black crepe with gracefully panelled harem skirt. The blouse of the dress is close fitting and Mrs. O. relieves the smart black by a single strand of oh-so-luscious Oriental pearls . . . real, we suspect . . .

MRS. WILSON W. MILLS is wearing one of the very first-since-the-war handwoven trigere outfits . . . a hand loomed French tweed designed by Pauline Trigere and colored in the most heavenly Parma violet shade. The coat is full length, fitted at the waistline with a wide belt and boasting a modified circular skirt. Under this she wears a jumper of the same lush wool, the waistline stiffened with crinoline and a high necked violet pure silk blouse. Needless to say, Mrs. Mills wears the costume with her usual dash.

MRS. SIDNEY R. SMALL danced at a recent evening party in a striking gown of violet, deep blue and white printed pure silk. A boat neckline was effective on the draped bodice of the gown which was cut with long, narrow skirt. Tiny above elbow length sleeves finished the frock.

THE VILLAGE IDIOT

Bought a book describing inexpensive fabricated houses and became so fascinated with the subject that he drew his last penny out of the bank and ordered a house by mail. Some weeks later he wrote a bitter note of protest to the manufacturer, his house was a complete failure. An inspector came to investigate, and roared, "You loony, you've put up the whole thing upside down!" "Oh, that's the trouble, is it?" pondered the befuddled customer. "No wonder I kept falling off the porch!"

A YOUNG BANKER

Picked up the telephone. His end of the conversation went as follows: "No. No. No. No. No. No. Yes. No. No. No. No." Finally, with a last explosive "No" he hung up the phone. The vice president of the bank overheard him and grumbled, "what d'ya mean by saying yes to that fellow?" "I had to," explained the other. "He asked if I could hear him."

FREDERICK H. ROBINSON OF BUCKINGHAM ROAD

By Kitty Carney

Switching from photography to hematology as a hobby sounds like a big jump, but Attorney Fred Robinson says that the change came about quite naturally. His camera study had led him deep into photographic detail involving color, and he contends that blood chemistry consists largely of matching colors.

About four years ago, because of his own mild diabetic condition, Mr. Robinson became interested in the study of the sugar content of the blood. So absorbing was the new study of hormones and corpuscles that he changed his second floor photographic lab into a limited clinical laboratory.

Using capillary (fingertip) blood, he watched with a medical microscope and became fascinated by the problem of illumination of the lenses to obtain the best view. Accordingly, he obtained a more advanced type of microscope with which to study stained blood.

Although he laughingly admits that he has learned nothing that men of medicine have not known about the baffling diabetes, Mr. Robinson probably has a better understanding of the disease than most people whom it touches. Besides making the capillary tests, he has set up in his laboratory sufficient equipment for a variety of other clinical tests, and he frequently checks the results of his experiments with those of regular hospital laboratories.

Mr. Robinson's extensive medical library which includes some 50 volumes is divided between his home and office. Hematology, however, ranks only as a hobby with him.

"The good thing about a hobby is that it takes your mind off your work," Mr. Robinson said. So many men when they decide to retire have nothing to which they may turn. This Pointer, when his retirement day arrives, will have a wide assortment of hobbies from which to choose.

A music lover since boyhood, Mr. Robinson has played every type of musical instrument. In recent years he has turned to the accordion, and whenever he can steal the time he plays the pipe organ type of console which stands in the living room of his home.

Contrasting with the musical side of his nature is his interest in mechanics. Some years back he had a shooting range in the basement for revolver target practice, and this led him to experiment with the manufacture of his own ballistics.

Many people in the area should remember the model train which Mr. Robinson and the Shaw brothers constructed on the John T. Shaw estate in Bloomfield Hills more than a decade ago. Built on a scale one-eighth of normal size, the tracks ran for perhaps three-quarters of a mile around the Shaw property. Many a child's heart thrilled with pleasure over the train rides during the heyday of that hobby.

Despite his leaning toward mechanical and scientific subjects, Mr. Robinson took only the required amount of physics and chemistry during his school days.

He attended Williams College and Harvard Law School, and his law office today is in the Penobscot Building. With Mrs. Robinson, he lives at 1134 Buckingham road.

ESKIMO PHILOSOPHY

by Margaret Codd

The Polar Eskimos have based their ideas of life on a series of legends and customs which have been handed down by oral tradition for untold generations. This philosophy had its beginnings long before the white man even dreamt of the lands to the west, and to the north; and none of the white man's influences can be noticed in their beliefs, though much influence has been dealt the Eskimo by the white man in regards his clothing, food and manner of livelihood.

In their belief of Creation, the earth dropped down from the heavens. Then people came up out of the earth; and all these people were babies. However, a man and a woman were already there, who dressed them and brought them home. The babies wanted dogs. So, the man went out and called "hoc, hoc, hoc," and dogs sprang out of tiny mounds. The men increased, for there was no knowledge of Death. But then, there came a mighty flood, and the men grew fewer. (The Eskimos prove the authenticity of this by showing the traces of the mighty flood—shells on top of the hills.)

These first men lived in darkness, but when Light came with it came Death. When the first man died, they covered up his body with stones; but he did not properly know how to die. He stuck up his head, and tried to get up. But an old woman caught him and pushed him back, saying, "We have enough to drag about with us, and our sledges are small." So the corpse had to return to its stone grave. With Death came Sun, Moon, and Stars because when people die, they go up to Heaven and grow luminous.

A variation on the theme of Creation is the less-popular belief that in the beginning the world was inhabited by only two men, both great magicians. These two men were lonely and wanted more people. Thus one of them changed his body so that he could have children; and so, they had many children.

Originally, all men were Eskimos. But it happened once that a girl married a dog. From their offspring other races were given to the world; for this Eskimo girl gave birth to 10 children: 2 dogs with men's heads, 2 Eskimos, 2 white men, and 2 white men with warlike disposition. The mother put the white men in the sole of a boot and sent it out to sea. They sailed to the white man's country, and, subsequently, became their forefathers. The proof of this belief lies in the fact that on the island where the girl and the dog lived there is a grave in which there are human bones and the bones of a dog. So the story MUST be true.

The Eskimo religion centers around a belief in their magicians. If they did not believe in their magicians, the animals they hunt would make themselves invisible to them; if they did not follow their advice, they should fall ill and die. This religion vests itself in a belief in Evil, in a dim perception of certain mystical powers who are easily offended and whose anger is dangerous. Amulets are worn, and magic formulae, passed down from mouth to mouth, are used for protection from danger.

Every man is, at his birth, endowed with a certain supply of vital force which is to be used up on earth. When this supply is exhausted the person grows old and, by death, passes over into another existence.

There are certain rules laid down to be observed after a death. The body must be buried as quickly as possible, with only the closest relatives on hand. The corpse must be laid with his head towards sunrise, with the body under a heap of stones, fully dressed with all his implements. This last rule is to be observed because the soul continues to live, and so, might need the implements.

After the death of a body, the name of the person takes up its abode in a woman who is about

THINKING of a basic wardrobe to sweep you smoothly through the dress-up moments of the summer months? WALTON-PIERCE in the Women's City Club, Park Avenue at Elizabeth, has been thinking along the same lines . . . and three ready-to-wear classic suits and suit-dresses are the Walton-Pierce solution to your problem.

A two piece faille suit with fitted jacket, gilet of black chiffon and lace sash lined with turquoise velvet is Number One on your summer list . . . in navy, black or brown. The rayon crepe done in that hard-to-find small English foulard type print you'll find equally pleasing. Pockets and turnback cuffs have braid print trim . . . you can obtain this two-piece with either dress or skirt plus jacket.

Stitched-down collar and flared jacket distinguishes the last of the trio, a linen suit in luscious raspberry set off with jade green blouse of silk pongee. Three-quarter sleeves with turn-back cuffs lend a quaint touch, and the jacket buttons to the waist.

EST you forget . . . For an exclusive original model designed especially for you alone, visit the Custom Shop at WALTON-PIERCE downtown. The smart simplicity of a Walton-Pierce made-to-order garment draws instant attention in fashion circles.

With WALTON-PIERCE originals or ready-mades in your wardrobe, you'll be a well-dressed Miss or Mrs. this summer. Hasten right away either to the downtown store or the Grosse Pointe branch, at Kercheval and St. Clair.

IT'S plantin' time in the Pointe, so gardeners galore are hastening to GROSSE POINTE FLORISTS, 174 Kerby road, for the wherewithal to begin their garden activities.

Many a flower and vegetable garden in the area owes its existence to the tender care lavished on the seedlings in the warm greenhouses of GROSSE POINTE FLORISTS during the cold winter months. Thanks to this forethought, you can get plants of snapdragons, petunias, carnations, zinnias and geraniums . . . ah yes, in every color and every variety . . . to enhance your garden.

Slim green tomato plants and all types of vegetable seedlings are lined up in neat rows awaiting transportation to the famed Pointe vegetable gardens.

Of course, GROSSE POINTE FLORISTS can always take time from their garden products to whip up the beautiful bouquets and corsages for which they are noted. For anything in the flower or garden line, ask the advice of your reliable GROSSE POINTE FLORISTS.

STEP forward to greet summer with comfort and confidence wearing casual shoes from JACOBSON'S. In Jacobson's modern shoe department, you'll find names known nationally for casual footwear . . . Joyce, Oldtown Trotters, Shenanigans and Sandler of Boston . . . and you'll be choosing your summer shoes from the best.

Colors to match every costume are a feature of JACOBSON'S sandals (you can also get matching bags) for wear with playclothes or evening clothes. Veddly attractive are Joyce's Midas sandals with ankle strap and wedge heel, available in gold calf, white buck, red, green or purple fabric. The Inca sandal (from the Indian of the same name) is smartly cut off to leave the toes completely free. Terrace Stripe is the intriguing name for an intriguing ankle-strap pump (yes, we said bag to match) for street or beach wear.

Ordained for sports are Double Talk and Triple Play by Joyce . . . the former with two straps across the instep, the latter with three. An ankle strap also enhances the loafer-type Square Dance anklet.

Familiar brown red loafers and Kilties bear the Oldtown Trotter trademark. JACOBSON'S Sandler selection includes the popular saddle shoe, red strapped loafer and black ballet shoes.

Brown alligator trims Shenanigan's white pigskin shoe, slingback and toeless, for dressier wear. Another genuine lizard with medium slingback heel can be had in red, brown, black, blue and green.

HAVE you visited CECIL GORDON'S GALLERIES since she moved to the Pointe? Quiet dormer windows and sloping roof set the proper atmosphere for her collection of fine old English silver and Sheffield Plate. Like a breath from the Old World are the pieces handmade with few exceptions, and all earlier than 1830.

Every piece for the dining table can be found at CECIL GORDON'S where there is a fine selection of silver, inexpensive and up. Latest innovation of the modern world to protect the beauties of former years are the Pacific silver cloth rolls and bags which actually p-r-e-v-e-n-t tarnish. Stop in at 399 Fisher road. CECIL GORDON will be glad to show her treasures to you.
