POINTERS GET CHANCE TO HONOR 113 WHO GAVE LIVES FOR THEM

On Their Shields

Memorial Day in Grosse Pointe this year carries a double significance. In addition to our local observance of the nationwide custom of expressing our gratitude to the heroic young men who served and died for our country in the days of its peril, we are launching a campaign to raise a substantial sum of money by our free will offerings to perpetuate in enduring masonry and bronze the memory of those from our own community who served and died in World War II.

The monument is to take the form of a beautiful public library in the entrance of which will be enshrined the names of those who died and of all who served. Ten per cent of the entire population of Grosse Pointe honorably served in the combat forces in this war and one hundred and thirteen of them sacrificed their lives.

Never has an appeal gone out to this community which so universally touches every heart and home. The gauge of the patriotic quality of any community is largely determined by the manner in which it remembers its fallen heroes.

The people of Grosse Pointe will make certain that this memorial library movement shall be handsomely supported. To make it truly representative of the whole community every Pointe household should be represented in its building. The whole purpose and spirit of the enterprise would fail if it were left to the large contributions of a few wealthy persons. As we are loyal to our common country we must be loyal to the memory of those who died in its defense.

Memory and gratitude are not rationed. We all share in the benefits and privileges which their sacrifices secured to us.

It was a happy thought that this memorial should take the form of a public library. None will benefit more from its functioning in the years to come than the children of the men it is built to honor. Through this medium they will be led to the enjoyment of a fuller and happier life. Through it the men and women of Grosse Pointe of the future will grow into a finer citizenry.

It is appropriate also that this splendid contribution to the cultural life of the community should be supported in perpetuity as an arm of our public education system whereby each taxpayer, by an infinitesimally small addition to his school taxes, will assure its maintenance.

The structure itself has to be provided by the individual contributions of the people. If it was done otherwise it would wholly fail of its spiritual purpose.

The plan for the payment of subscriptions has also been wisely made. The subscriber will have three years in which to complete his contribution. This will make it relatively easy for families of modest means to make substantial donations.

We give generously every year to many movements, all worthy and necessary causes, but this Memorial Library movement, designed to enshrine in loving memory the names of our own sons is a call that comes but once. It is distinctly for and within our own.

Let us do it generously, accepting the occasion as a privilege to thank forever the young men of our own flesh and blood who died that we might continue to enjoy the precious heritage of freedom and the way of life near and dear to all of us.

They were our heroes when they marched away to war. Let us treat them now as heroes who returned with their shields or on them.

Proclamation

RESIDENTS OF GROSSE POINTE: Please take notice that the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Library Fund will from June 1 to June 15 conduct a campaign for funds for the building of a war memorial library. This structure will in a dignified and useful manner honor those who served us so well in World War II and will give tangible evidence that Grosse Pointe remembers her own. Every citizen is urged to display the United States flag during this period and to give unsparingly of his time and money, thus insuring the success of this laudable undertaking of which we are heartily in favor.

Rotarians First To Make Pledge

The first pledge to the Memorial Library Fund was made by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club. The exact date of the pledge could not be determined but it was made at an early meeting of the proponents of the move for a library, held in the High School library room more than two years ago.

Since that time the Club has turned over to Paul I. Moreland, the treasurer of the Library Memorial Fund, a check for one thousand dollars as payment on account of its pledge. The total amount of the pledge is $2500.

All Pointers Urged to Keep Flags Flying During Drive

All patriotic citizens, who ordinarily display the flag on Memorial day, are urged this year to have their flags flying daily throughout the course of the Memorial Library drive. The flag should be flown from morning until sundown.

This community has grown somewhat tardy in recent years in the rite of the flag display on the two great national patriotic holidays. Revive the custom this year. It brands you patriotically as real and aggressive and this year will strengthen the move-

List Leaders Of Areas in Drive Set-Up

Division and District Chairman Will Furnish Pertinent Information to Residents

Because the campaign organization period for the War Memorial Library drive has been brief, the News publishes below the names and addresses of the leaders in the geographic campaign. Although questions about the campaign can always be addressed to campaign headquarters, 16840 Kercheval—TU. 2-7400—residents can get information or offer their services in their neighborhood to the following Division and District Chairmen:

Park Division: F. Clifford Ford, Jr., 1032 Bishop, chairman; Dist. 1—James F. McDonnell, 1036 Berkshire; Dist. 2—John R. O'Dell, Jr., 910 Edgemont; Dist. 3—Lansing M. Pittman, 935 Three Mile Drive; Dist. 4—Earl I. Heenan, 45 Dyar Lane.

City Division: John L. Kenower, 16844 Village Lane, chairman; Dist. 1—Ed J. Hickey III, 357 Rivard Blvd.; Dist. 2—Harvey A. Fischer, 551 Fisher; Dist. 3—Ed T. Ives, Jr., 16836 St. Paul Ave.; Dist. 4—Mr. Marion Kellogg, 29 Fisher.

Farms Division: Wm. C. Roney, 44 Provincial, chairman; Mrs. Lester Ruwe, 37 Willow Lane, co-chairman; Mr. John K. Worley, 389 Merriweather; Mr. R. Gerveys Grylls, 271 Hillcrest; William H. Fries, 24 McKinley.

Shores Division: Ford Ballantyne, 599 Lakeshore, chairman; Robert Hackathorn, 37 Hawthorne, co-chairman.

Woods Division: Mervin Gaskin, 731 S. Oxford, chairman; Elmer Benzin, 762 Lochmoor, co-chairman; Dist. 1—George Beauchamp, 1676 Stanhope; Dist. 2—Marshall Jamieson, Vernier 1391 Oxford; Dist. 3—David S. Burnett, 1391 Oxford.

Non-Residents May Donate Too

While geographic solicitors are expected to reach every home in the Pointes asking for their contribution to the Memorial Library campaign running from June 1 to June 15, it is hoped a number of non-residents will wish to participate. They may do so by mailing their contribution to campaign headquarters, 16840 Kercheval or by giving their contribution to any authorized campaign worker.

It is entirely possible, according to Norbert P. Neff, vice-chairman of the campaign, that many former residents of Grosse Pointe would be interested in the success of this drive. Certainly the relatives and friends of Grosse Pointers killed in service would like an opportunity to give to this memorial. In addition, a good many of the Grosse Pointe servicemen who are no longer living here are particularly interested in this project.

PLEAS FROM PULPITS
All Pointe clergymen have been asked to mention the approaching Memorial Library Drive from their pulpits during the services in their churches on Sunday, May 30.

Lest We Forget

Of the more than 3700 Grosse Pointe men and women who served in World War II, 113 of them were called upon to give their last full measure of devotion by laying down their lives.

Plan Service For Heroes At New Site

Memorial Day Program to Be Held at Kercheval and Fisher on Sunday

The Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association will hold the usual Memorial Day services at 12:30 o'clock, Sunday, May 30, at the new Honor Roll site on the corner of Fisher road and Kercheval avenue.

Father James D. Clark, O.S.A., of St. Clare de Montefalco Church, will give the invocation. The Rev. Francis B. Creamer of Christ Church will give the benediction and Mr. Bert Wicking, superintendent of Pointe schools, will read the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice. Taps will be sounded by a bugler from the Alger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Drive Volunteers Have Busy Week

In order to train the solicitors for the Memorial Library campaign taking place in Grosse Pointe from June 1-15th attempting to raise $25,000, a number of instructional meetings have been and will be held throughout this week.

On Monday, Division Co-Chairmen Elmer Benzin and Mervin Gaskin held a special meeting of their workers from the Woods to distribute their material and give final instructions. Grosse Pointe Shores workers under the leadership of Ford Ballantyne and Robert Hackathorn were also present at this meeting to receive their supplies.

City Chairman John L. Kenower called his workers together on Tuesday, May 25 at the Neighborhood Club. He outlined their specific territories and planned campaign strategy with his District Chairmen and Zone Captains.

The workers from the Park Division under the leadership of F. Clifford Ford, Jr., held their training session this evening at the Pierce school.

On Friday evening, May 28, Co-chairmen Carsten Tiedeman and Harold R. Boyer have invited all workers in their Special Gifts Committee to a 6:30 p. m. meeting at the Grosse Pointe Club in order to emphasize the importance of the work of the special gifts solicitors.

Next Tuesday evening Chairman William Roney of the Farms Division will meet with his district and zone leaders and workers to open the drive officially in the Farms.

Ben Marsh, Jr. First Casualty

Grosse Pointe's first casualty in World War II came before the residents here at home knew the country was at war.

Ensign Ben R. Marsh, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Marsh of Rivard boulevard, was killed in the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941.

Marsh was a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and attended the University of Wyoming, University of Michigan and United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. He starred in basketball.

Three Years to Pay Make Larger Pledges Possible

At all of the instruction meetings for workers in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Library campaign, to be held June 1 to 15, the workers have been impressed with the importance of asking for contributions on a three year basis.

In his instructions General Chairman Alger Sheldon pointed out that not many families can afford a large cash contribution in one year, even though the contributions to the Library Fund

Intensive Drive to Raise Funds for Fine Memorial To Be Held June 1 to 15

Chairman Alger Sheldon Stresses Importance of 100% Cooperation of All Pointers to Insure Success of Project

The long-awaited campaign to raise funds for a permanent war memorial to the sons and daughters of Grosse Pointe who served in the armed forces during the last war, gets under way June 1 to continue for 15 days. 700 solicitors from all the Pointes will approach their neighbors and ask for their contribution to this purely local campaign.

"A good many individuals have had a hand in the planning of this war memorial library," reports Alger Sheldon, chairman of the campaign. "By June 15 every Grosse Pointe family will be and must be included among the active supporters of this project. $25,000 as a goal is a lot of money for a community this size, but I believe the residents believe in and want this combined memorial and civic center to insure the success of the campaign."

The campaign organization has been divided into seven major divisions. A Special Gifts Division, led by Carsten Tiedeman and Harold R. Boyer, will seek larger contributions from a selected list of individuals. Included in this division are two special teams of workers. Mrs. Edward Bahn has recruited a small committee to assist her in approaching the families of the 113 servicemen who were killed in action. The Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe has also organized a special team for the solicitation of a select group of prospects.

The five Pointe communities have been divided into five divisions, fifteen Districts and 112 zones with five or six workers in each zone for the geographic campaign reaching every household. The success or failure of the campaign will depend almost entirely upon the work of this crew of solicitors and the reception they receive from their neighbors, according to Chairman Sheldon.

Mrs. M. M. Schaeffer and Jean Taylor have accepted the leadership of the public and private Schools Division. Because the campaign comes so close to the end of the school year, it is expected this division will not complete its assignment until some time in the fall when school has reopened and activities have been resumed. Indications are that the school children are anxious to take an active role in the support of the drive.

Special Cards For Veterans

Gold embossed cards to the Grosse Pointe Memorial Library will be issued, after the building is erected, to every Pointe World War II veteran and his family, as an added indication that the structure has been built in their honor.

Murray Sales Tendered Honor

Murray W. Sales, whose gift of his home on East Jefferson avenue at Lincoln had been an outstanding donation to the Grosse Pointe Memorial Library, has been named honorary chairman of the memorial campaign special gifts committee.

Plan to Preserve Names of Donors

Every contributor to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Library who so wishes, can have his name preserved forever in the cornerstone of the building to be erected, it has been announced. Canvassers are being instructed to ask all donors if they wish to submit their signatures to be added to a scroll of all those supporting the drive.

Arguments Over Bus Fare Increase Settled as Line Promises Better Service

Schweikart Produces Figures to Show Necessity of Raising Rates One Cent Per Trip; Improvements Due June 17

Protests by the Pointe municipalities over a proposed increase in fares charged by the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc., before the bus concern provided better service, appear to have been eliminated during the past week. There has never been any real argument as to whether or not the coach line was entitled to a higher fare, but the municipalities insisted that better service be provided.

President Walter Schweikart of the bus company met during the week-end with various municipal officials and the differences involved are reported to have been ironed out. There will be a fare increase amounting to one cent per ride, and the service will be greatly improved.

story of the bus company's situation. He produced the company's books to substantiate his statements.

Figures show that the Pointe buses have been operating on a revenue basis of about 28 cents per mile. This revenue produced a loss of about $1,100 in February after insurance rates had been advanced by approximately $1,000 per month in January. The purchase of 10 new buses brought additional financing charges at the same time.

Traffic increased in March and the concern showed a profit of $1569.25 that month. In April the profit increased to $3243.21, bringing a total profit for the three months of about $3600.

Mr. Schweikart points out that the company must show a profit of at least $15,000 per year to keep going without any return on the investment. During the five year period of 1943 to 1947 inclusive, the concern earned $150,086.97, out of which it paid about $70,000 to the stockholders. He said it is necessary for the lines to earn $30,000 per year to keep going and pay stockholders a minimum return.

He pointed out that while the Pointe buses have been producing revenue of 28 cents per mile, the DSR has stated that it cost 37.4 cents per mile to operate without figuring in depreciation or interest on indebtedness. At this rate the DSR would lose $15,000 per month if it was operating in the Pointe.

Mr. Schweikart explained why service has not improved as he promised it would after the delivery of 10 new buses around the first of the year. The gas shortage in February, which nearly closed down the DSR, also kept the Pointe lines from adding buses to their routes. The gasoline companies were unable to supply any more fuel.

The closing of schools on June 16 will give the company an abundant supply of drivers for additional buses. Mr. Schweikart is loath to hire more men now, when in three weeks it would mean laying off or cutting hours of old employees. He has agreed to increase the service starting June 17. Included in the improvements he promises are:

"To reduce the number of standees transported on week-days during the rush periods a.m. and p.m., or from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m., and from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., we propose to correct this situation on Thursday, June 17, 1948, the day following the closing of all schools in Grosse Pointe by more frequent service summarized as follows:

CHARLEVOIX ROUTE

"Presently, we maintain a ten minute service via Charlevoix during the rush periods, a twenty minute service originates at Grosse Pointe Woods (Brys Drive), and another twenty minute service originates at Seven Mile Road, thus a ten minute service from Seven Mile Road to Grand Circus Park, Detroit. Our new service will operate a fifteen minutes service from Grosse Pointe Woods via Charlevoix, and another fifteen minute service will originate at Seven Mile Road and Chalfonte, thus rendering a seven and one-half minute service during the rush periods from Seven Mile Road to Grand Circus Park, Detroit.

JEFFERSON ROUTE

"Presently, we operate a thirty minute service from Jefferson Beach to Grand Circus Park, Detroit, from 6:15 a.m. to 12:45 midnight. Our new schedule renders a twenty minute service from Jefferson Beach from 6:20 a.m. to 1:00 a.m.

KERCHEVAL ROUTE

"By increasing the service originating in Grosse Pointe Woods via Charlevoix from twenty minute service to a fifteen minute service, we will eliminate nearly all passenger stops in Grosse Pointe Woods by Kercheval coaches, thus making more space available to patrons of the Kercheval route.

The increase in rates proposed is from 12½ cents to 13½ cents per trip between Detroit and the Park, City and Farms; and from 17½ cents to 18½ cents per trip between Detroit and the Shores and Woods.

Double-Header Will Open New Farms Field

Grosse Pointe Farms' new reception field is being completed this week and will be officially opened on Monday, May 31 with appropriate ceremonies and a double-header baseball game.

The ceremonies will start at 12:30 p.m. Village President James K. Watkins will give a short address and throw out the first ball to start the initial game. There will be music and flag-raising.

Members of the Farms recreation committee of the Board of Trustees will be present. Neil McEachin is chairman and the members are William G. Kirby and George Schlaepfer.

The Grosse Pointe American Legion baseball team of Post 103 will oppose the New York Central Post Legion team in the opening game, which will start promptly at 1 p.m. The night cap will see a bitter battle between the teams of St. Paul and St. Ambrose High Schools, the two Pointe members of the parochial league.

Bar Acquaintance Assaults Woman

What can happen to a woman who makes a practice of going into beer gardens unattended and associating with chance male acquaintances was pointedly illustrated by a case that came under the notice of the City police at 1:55 a.m. on Thursday, May 20.

At that hour a woman went into the Maumee station in a high state of agitation. She said she had been assaulted by a man in an automobile on Cadieux road near Mack. She had met the man in a Detroit beer garden and together they had visited several similar places. Early morning found them in the purloins of Grosse Pointe.

She is a woman 34 years old. She said she was the mother of three young children and the police said she is soon to have another.

The police told her to come around the next morning and they would take her down to the place where she could lodge her complaint and get a warrant.

This suggestion, the distressed woman avoided like the plague. Just why she reported the matter in the first place was not clear to the police unless she had some faint hope they might waylay the fiend and give him a beating.

1812 Daughters Install Mrs. Harold M. Hastings

Mrs. Harold M. Hastings, chairman national of mountain schools, was installed as the new president of Gen. Alexander Macomb Chapter, U. S. Daughters of 1812, at the recent annual meeting of the chapter in the home of the chapter parliamentarian, Mrs. Henry B. Joy. Mrs. Hastings will entertain her chapter officers at a luncheon at her home on Wednesday, June 2, at 12 o'clock. Following luncheon, plans will be outlined for the coming chapter year.

Effort to Beautify Pointe Gateway Meets Opposition

Hilda Brandau, who lives at Cadillac and Jefferson and owns the lot at the southwest corner of Pemberton and Jefferson in the Park, was greatly agitated by the suggestion carried in the NEWS last week that eventually all that array of vacant, unimproved property on the south side of Jefferson might be converted into an attractive entranceway into Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Brandau doesn't want this to happen and told the Commissioners in a letter, she addressed to them at their meeting on May 24. She has been trying to sell the lot for the past twenty years, the Park authorities say, and fears its sale will be more difficult if the Park people do it up.

President Homer Fritsch previously asked the NEWS present if

Park Budget Up; Tax Rate Same

The Commissioners of Grosse Pointe Park adopted the budget for 1948 at their meeting on Monday afternoon, May 24. The total budget is $962,725. It is a slight increase over last year but there is no increase in the millage.

Tentative Farms Budget $536,469

The tentative budget for 1948 was submitted to the Farms Board of Trustees Monday night by Clerk Harry Furton. Approval of the budget will be made sometime early in June.

The total tentative budget is for $536,469, which includes $95,121 for extraordinary expenses covering the addition to the sewer-pumping station at Chalfonte and Kerby, pier improvements, completion of the new athletic field and additional sewer work.

The village officials reported that this extra work can be handled with an increase of two mills on the tax rates, which will bring the 1948 tax rate to $15.33 per thousand of assessment.

Three Pointers Attend Unitarian Gathering

Attending the 123rd Anniversary Week meetings of the American Unitarian Association in Boston, Mass. from May 22-28 are three delegates from the Grosse Pointe Unitarian church. Delegates beside the minister, Rev. Merrill Otis Bates, are Miss Florence Adams, president of the Woman's Alliance and Mrs. John Fiancher.

MORE REPORTS

With the Fourth of July still more than a month away, the fire-cracker complaints are getting more numerous. Two were reported in the Farms during the last week. Pointe police warn all youngsters there are strict ordinances forbidding even the possession of firecrackers and the laws will be strictly enforced.

Park Safety Record Tops

Grosse Pointe Park has won an award from the National Safety Council for having gone through the entire year of 1947 without a single death arising from traffic accident.

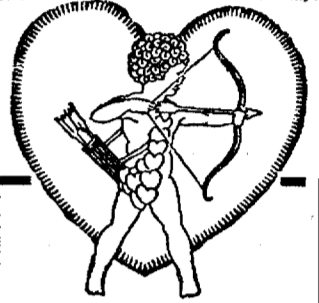

The award was read at the Council meeting on May 24 by Police Commissioner James McMillan, who publicly thanked Police Chief Arthur E. Louwers for the excellent record of his department.

Reports Reports At Park's Park

Joseph Rossi, the watchman at the Park municipal beach park, called up the police early in the morning of May 23 saying he had just heard three shots. He was certain they were not backfires from a truck.

The police made a thorough examination of the nearby premises and even interrogated residents in the neighborhood but none of them had heard the shots.

Arrest of Gang of Eight May be Solution to Long Scourge of Car Pilfering

Detroit Youths Rounded Up by Park Police Confess To Perpetrating Number of Robberies; One Carries Gun

What may lead to the solution of the epidemic of parked car pilfering that had plagued the Pointe for many months past was started Monday night, May 24 by the arrest of eight youths in the Park. All of the parties were residents of Detroit. They ranged in age from 16 to 26. Three of them were under 17 and will have to be handled as juveniles.

They were picked up by Patrolmen Stanley Johnston and Donald Dean on Beaconsfield south of Jefferson at 11:35. The officers spotted an old '37 Buick sedan with five boys crowded inside and held them up for a look-see. On examining the youths at headquarters they learned the names of two other members of the gang, who had become momentarily separated from the main bunch and these were also quickly gathered in by the police.

The boys have confessed to many of the car robberies that have happened recently in the Point and one of them was also held for carrying concealed weapons. The names of their five booked at the Park station are: Donald Pinsonneault, 18, 1040 Coplin; James Sunday, aged 16, of 943 Tennessee; Hugh Perry, 26, of 698 Beniteau; Ben Walker, 17, 1063 Drexel; Walter Saidler, 17, of 506 Piper; John Vance, 15, 850 Piper; James Phillips, 15, 556 Piper; and Robert Diederich, 14, of 833 Piper.

In addition to car pilfering Walker was charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Putnam New President of G. P. Shores

Elroy Jones and Associates in Old Administration Beaten at Polls

The hurly burly of politics which is ordinarily conspicuous by its absence in the quiet village of Grosse Pointe Shores, raised its head for an airing in the municipal elections on Tuesday, May 18.

The old administration which has directed village affairs for a long time past, was unhorsed all along the line.

The most notable overturf was in the defeat of Elroy O. Jones, the village president who was defeated by Ernest C. Putnam. The vote was 188 to 142.

The winners for Trustee were John K. Roney, who led the list of the competing candidates with 284 votes; George W. Trendle, 185, and Herbert J. Woodall, 184.

The losing councilman candidates were Jack Williams with 168 and Alger Shelden with 151.

Mr. Shelden recently purchased a new home on Provencal and when he moves into it in the near future he will be a resident of the Farms village. It was only at the earnest importunity of his friends that he consented to run for re-election to finish the few remaining months of his Shores' residence.

Dr. Clifford B. Loranger, unopposed for Village Clerk, received 312 votes.

The charter amendments voted on were all carried. They were (1) To eliminate professional hourly paid employees from the benefits of the pension system: Yes, 264; No, 51.

(2) To reduce the age of optional retirement for policemen and firemen from 60 to 55: Yes, 287; No, 69.

(3) To add a new section to the charter to include disability benefit while in line of duty. This passed by 229 to 68.

MOTORIZED SHEPHERD

A boy on a motor scooter operating on the Pierce School grounds on the afternoon of May 18, had the children herded about like cattle being herded by a shepherd dog, until the police broke up the pastime.

RIFLE CONFISCATED

Two boys with an air rifle were taking pot shots at another boy at Yorkshire and Mack at 8:30 p.m. on May 18. The police stopped the amateur sniping by confiscating the rifle.

Firecracker Fans Warned

Chief Tom Trombly of the City says the perennial paigue of fire crackers is starting in unusually early this year. He is thinking of calling the chiefs of the five Points together to consider taking a common line of action in suppressing the nuisance.

It is against the law to sell firecrackers or even to possess them. Trombly warns that local merchants found selling them will be in for trouble. The point is however, he says, that some of the local boys have been sending down to Ohio and getting them in case lots.

Another cause of police complaint is that the larger boys are using an unusually big cracker this year. They go off with the sound of a miniature atomic bomb.

Several instances have arisen lately where the police have been called in to clear the school grounds of these noisy young pests. They are frightening the smaller children badly.

Tired Travelers Caught Napping

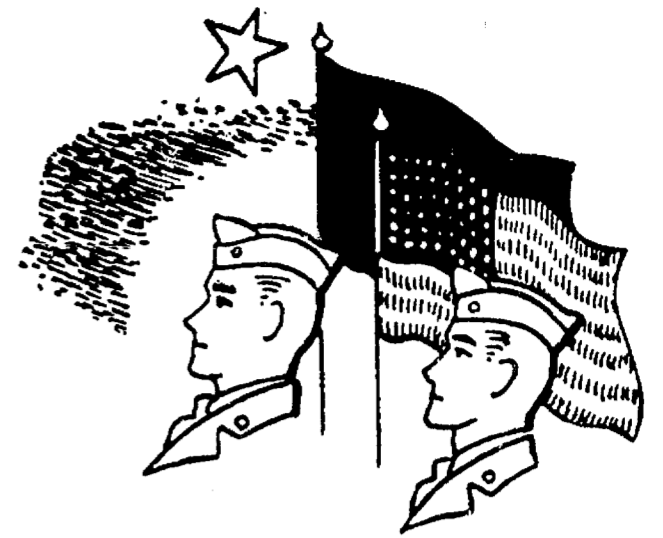

The residents at 306 Roosevelt place phoned the City police shortly after midnight on May 21 that a suspicious looking car had parked in the driveway of the house across the street at 307.

When the police arrived they found the driver of the car, who gave his name as Willard Manuel of 4627 Prairie avenue, Chicago, and two other men, who had just completed a drive in from Chicago. They had run into a handy driveway for a little sleep.

The police were convinced of the truth of their story but told them to pick out a less conspicuous place than the private entrance to a home for their rest.

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver

George J. Wilson, of 1215 Beaconsfield asked the police on May 18 to help him find a maroon car that probably has its nose smashed in.

PRE-SCHOOL CHECKUP

He had left his '47 Ford parked in front of 1211 Beaconsfield for a short time the night before, and found it had been bashed in in the rear by some hit-run driver. Neighbors nearby heard the crash and saw a maroon car drive hurriedly away, but could not get the number.

Pre school children who will enter kindergarten for the first time this fall should be taken to their physicians now for a complete health check-up, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

League Directors Pick Committees

At a directors' meeting of the Grosse Pointe Woods Civic League held Monday, May 24, the following committees were appointed:

Civic Affairs: Ben Brothers, chairman; Franklin Daugherty, Arnold Liebhold.

Membership: Russ Stankrauff, chairman; Lawrence Westerville, Mrs. Frank Nutto, Thomas Blackwood.

Program & Publicity: Gene Hanna, chairman; Howard Gandelot, Al Siegmund.

Park & Recreation: Sam Barr, chairman; Lincoln Maire, Howard Gandelot, Howard Davenport.

By Laws: Harry Pratt, chairman; Rex Johnston, Bill Kaiser, Arnold Diesing, Al Beaver.

The topic of the next regular meeting which is scheduled for Wednesday, June 16, will be the most immediate solution to the parks and recreation problems as they affect the Woods area.

Amorous Rider Haunting Buses

A man who is reported to live in the Park has been annoying women riders on the bus between here and Detroit. A young woman who lives in the City reported to the Maumee station on May 1 that a man, apparently between 40 and 45 years old, of stocky build with dark hair and wearing a blue pin-stripe suit, had gotten on in the Park and sat down beside her. He annoyed her by pawing her most of the way down town.

Later in the afternoon the same fellow was on the bus again and repeated the same process. He got out when they reached the limits.

The police told her if this happened again she should report the matter to the bus driver who would inform the police. After that the police would discourage his amorous maneuvers.

GOOD FOR DRYING PAINT

A house—still under construction at 35 Radnor place weathered the cold wave in good shape over the week end. The owner, R. Moxley, told the Farms police that someone got in the building on May 23 and turned the thermostat on the heating system up so high that the thermostat registered 90 degrees.

A Victim of High Pressure Saleswomen

David Templeton, of 437 Washington and Allen Merrill of 424 Rivard, brought into the City police quarters on May 22 a contraption they could not decipher. They had found it in a nearby field.

The police figured it out as a photo enlargement machine, made in Germany, and bearing the trade name of Praxidos. It is being held in the police quarters for identification by its owner.

Pierce Students Organize Company to Sell Pencils

When the members of the Higher Arithmetic II classes at Pierce Junior High reorganized the Pierce Pencil Company this week, it was decided to introduce a new line of pencils which would be of particular interest to graduating 9A's. This new line of pencils is known as the Blue Devil pencil and is dated 1951 for the present 9A's, as this is the year which will be their graduating year from the senior high school.

Members of the board of directors are Joanne Johnson, James Reindel, Crystal Gregory, Joy Chamberlin, Barbara Ion, William Medley, Ross Marr and Tom Stein.

After applications were received from prospective applicants for holding offices of the company, the following students were hired by interview: Mary Ann Hagg, president; Joy Chamberlin, vice-president in charge of sales; Joanne Johnson, vice-president, in charge of advertising and publicity; Barbara Ion, secretary for Miss Hollins' branch office; Carolyn Dill, secretary for Mr. Jackson's branch office; Joan Hemme, treasurer for Miss Hollins branch office; Marian Vlietinck, treasurer for Mr. Jackson's branch office, and George Holme was hired as auditor.

One-hundred fifty shares of stock were sold with a par value of 10c each. Each pupil was entitled to buy one share of stock on subscription at the par value; the remaining stock was sold at auction at various prices depending upon the supply and demand.

Radio announcements over the public address system added to the publicity and a display in the corridor has attracted much favorable comment.

Earlier in the year the Pencil Company sponsored a radio quiz show at assembly, the title of which was the "Pencil Box." Prizes of pencils were given to contestants who participated in the show by trying to answer questions pulled out of the pencil boxes on the stage.

Several salesmen prepared red and yellow bell-hop hats and carried boxes as vendors and sold pencils before classes in the mornings and at noon. Nancy Dibble, Crystal Gregory, Lois Auchmutey and Vernita Smith carried out this plan with very successful sales records as evidence that it pays to advertise with novel ideas.

The company will function until the sale of all the pencils at which time the activity will be terminated and dividends will be declared.

Board members and officers of the company plan to visit the Detroit Stock Exchange as a follow-up of this activity and to discuss their observations upon their return with their fellow classmates.

It is hoped that the members of the Higher Arithmetic classes will have a greater appreciation of how a company is organized and the meaning of stock certificates, dividends, etc. Activities of this kind are stimulating as they motivate the class and create interest in subjects which might otherwise be meaningless or dull.

New Step Taken In Radio Tangle

The Farms Board of Trustees Monday night adopted a resolution calling on all the other four Pointes to join with them in building a joint police radio system for the entire community.

Last week the village passed a resolution calling on the Township to withhold all purchases of new radio equipment until jointly requested to do so by all the Pointe municipalities.

It is reported the Park has already signified its willingness to cooperate fully in the joint radio project. At present the Township maintains and operates one system for the four villages and the City has a system of its own.

The FCC has ordered that both these present systems must be changed to new FM radio by 1950.

Judge Releases Trio of Drivers

In Park police court on May 19 Judge C. Joseph Belanger disposed of the following cases:

Henriette Marie Laridon, 5038 Harding avenue, Detroit, for driving with car not under control, was dismissed with no fine and $5 costs because of the driver's excellent record in the past.

Arthur Morgan Slayden of 13944 Kercheval, who was ticketed for entering an intersection without having car under control, causing an accident, was dismissed for lack of evidence, there being no witnesses to the accident.

Bernardo Licata, 3837 Cadillac, who was ticketed in the same case was also dismissed for the same reason.

Church May Buy Site in Farms

The Grosse Pointe Congregational Church has requested a hearing of the board of trustees of Grosse Pointe Farms, on the proposed purchase of a church building site at the end of Belanger road, near Chalfonte.

The site the church is considering buying measures 549 by 355 feet, which is ample to also provide off-street parking. The church has had a site on St. Paul avenue near Neff road in the City, but apparently has decided this is not suitable for a permanent building such as it proposes to construct in the future.

To Fix Parkway On Middlesex

The reconditioning and maintenance of the parkway on Middlesex between Essex and Windmill Pointe drive, which Park Manager Lane estimates at $3067, was left to the discretion of the Manager by the Board of Commissioners on May 14.

Mr. Lane says it is not his intention to proceed with the entire improvement this year but the village will do considerable work preparatory to completing the job next season. The entire linear measurement of the parkway is 2112 feet by 30 feet width.

The detail of the proportion of the maintenance cost that will be assumed by the abutting property owners has not yet been worked out.

Mother Reports Son Attacked by Youths

Mrs. Mary Whittaker, of 17000 E. Jefferson avenue, called the police at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon of May 18 and said her son James had just been stopped in front of the Grosse Pointe Bank and been severely pummeled by a couple of youths about 17-18 years old.

Her son did not know either of them but gave the police a general description.

Honors Heaped On Bob Fosmoe

Honors have been flying thick and fast in the direction of Bob Fosmoe, one of the outstanding students in the Grosse Pointe High School June graduating class.

Several weeks ago Bob was awarded a Regents-A.L.U.M.I. scholarship by the University of Michigan. During the past week he has received offers of scholarships from both Yale and Princeton. The Michigan scholarship covers tuition only. The ones from Yale and Princeton are worth more than $1000 per year for four years provided the student maintains at least a C average, and cover tuition, room and board.

Bob says he hasn't yet decided which one he will accept. His scholastic average at Grosse Pointe High during the four years has been A-. He has won three swimming letters, was editor of the Tower, school weekly paper, and treasurer of the Student Association.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Fosmoe of 895 Fisher road.

A large reception in the English room of Webster Hall followed. Tommy entered Wayne University following a year in Japan with the Army of Occupation.

Looming Vandenberg

The late Tom Lane of Kansas once said "there are two things beyond the foreknowledge of God; where lightning will strike and the verdict of a petit jury." If the redoubtable protagonist of "bleeding Kansas" was alive today he could have added a third to his list of imponderables; what a national political convention will do in the way of selecting its candidate for the Presidency.

Anyone attempting to predict what the Republican party will do in Philadelphia next June is placing himself out on a limb if he presumes to place his finger on the man. Nevertheless the results of the various preferential elections have already jelled into a form where some reasonable guesses may be ventured.

The battle of the Big Three, around whom most of the shouting and tumult revolves, may have already pretty well worked themselves out of the Philadelphia picture. Taft, Dewey and Stassen have been waging an old fashioned hammer and tongs fight until each may already have unwittingly, but certainly unwillingly, maneuvered himself out of the area where lightning strikes. Any of these three are still a long way from a position where he is assured of going into the convention with a commanding lead.

MacArthur who waited as long as he could for the "draft" call that never came, permitted himself to be pushed into the active canvass for delegates and saw his candidacy die aborning in his own home state.

General Eisenhower has to date steadfastly refused to be listed as a candidate although what he would do if a nomination was actually tendered him from the floor of the convention is still a question to which all national politicians would like to have the answer. Thus far our national history discloses only one name where the man has absolutely quashed his possible candidacy by his pre-convention stand. General William T. Sherman said he "was not a candidate, would not run if nominated and would not serve if elected."

Warren, of California, has an impressive political record but the question that haunts his candidacy with the politicians and the people in general is whether the country is ready to accept a President who comes from the extreme western side of the nation. He is geographically off balance.

This is the first presidential period in which our foreign relations are monopolizing the public mind to the near exclusion of domestic problems. Employment is high, business is good, production is fast catching up with demand and the only real cloud that lowers on the national house is the yet unsettled question how far demands for higher and higher wages and special privileges for the workers may upset the national economic balance and precipitate inflation and business prostration. The general feeling is that as truthful information penetrates deeper and deeper into the public mind this question will be answered safely.

In the foreign field the results of two world wars have resulted in this nation being forced, willingly or otherwise, into the position of world leadership in the realm of free enterprise and true democracy. The rapid disintegration of the British Empire as a world power, which had stood as the great international arbiter for two centuries, has operated to thrust this responsibility upon us almost overnight.

Now we stand face to face with Russia and the near future will determine whether the world of free enterprise, of human dignity and real democracy is to endure or to be succeeded by a world of state capitalism, despotism and atheism, robbed of all those spiritual values which lifted the world from the Dark Ages of a thousand years ago.

In such a pass the quest for national leadership points significantly towards a man who has exhibited his grasp of these great issues and has already become our most acknowledged leader on these great questions of foreign policy and national conduct in this highly charged field.

Arthur H. Vandenberg, the senior Senator from Michigan, has repeatedly shown his capacity to divorce himself from the political restraints of partisan politics and look abroad with an eye single to the national welfare and for the security and well-being of the world of freedom.

The ascending importance of foreign affairs in our world outlook points unavoidably to him as a man qualified at this time to take the reins.

No other man in sight seems so well fitted for this task. Moreover, coming closer to the items of political considerations in the home field we find that Vandenberg of Michigan seems to be the one man upon whom all of the other candidates and political leaders at large can agree as a compromise candidate next month.

It would appear that Senator Vandenberg by withholding his name as a candidate for the presidency has steadfastly drawn nearer the great prize while lesser men have been battling themselves out of the convention arena.

Goose and Gander Sauce

John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, seems to have the same yen for defying the government and its courts as formerly. Another coal strike looms as an early possibility. This time he walks out of a meeting with the coal operators because they have within their circle representatives of the Southern Operators' Association. They were instrumental in sacking the courts on him in the last round and tickling him up with robust fines for a second time. So John L. takes a walk.

Lewis was the first man to insist on the unionization of all the employes of a single industry, regardless of the companies, departments or crafts into which they were divided.

Now, facing a group of soft coal operators who mine probably a fourth of the total soft coal tonnage, he prefers to deal with them in separate groups, because one of them made faces at him.

Total unionization of a given industry is part and parcel of the union creed that Lewis preached but total cooperation of those who oppose him is outrageous, says Lewis.

Maybe if there was not a presidential campaign in the immediate offing a way might be found, somewhat more vigorous than any yet attempted, to convince Mr. Lewis that coal can be dug and the national economy maintained, whether he likes it or not.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

This is the true saga of a pair of shoes . . . and we hope you enjoy its twisted circumstances as much as we did when it was told to us. We will call our hero Al Ferret and any similarity between Mr. Ferret and any living person is not the coincidence you think it is.

It seems that one evening during the war Al and a gentleman neighbor, decided to go on the town and look for some whoopee while their wives were busy at a sewing bee. They covered a few bars for a starter and forgot to eat dinner, so by the time they passed a certain flower shop they were fairly well anesthetized . . . enough to think it a good idea to take the little woman some flowers. They entered the florist's, weaved in and out among the petunias and finally settled on four dozen American Beauties. (Nothing too good for the little woman stuff!)

While waiting for the flowers to be boxed, they spotted a woman coming in the shop and found they knew her. In fact Al knew her "pretty" well from days of yore. The three started chatting together about old times and as they did so, the woman placed a shoe box she was carrying, on one of the tables. The box was still in its unopened mailing wrapper and was addressed to the woman . . . who explained to the boys that she lives upstairs over the shop . . . had just stopped in on her way up . . . and would they like to come up for a snort. They WOULD have liked to but thought better of it so the woman departed . . . leaving the box behind.

When the boys gathered up their roses preparatory to leaving, they noticed the shoe box and decided "whatthehell" . . . they might as well return it to good old Helen. However, by the time they got out of the florist's they changed their minds again and decided they'd go to another bar first. This they did . . . first, second, third and fourth. At the fifth bar they lost complete track of the roses but Al was still clutching the shoe box. He was STILL clutching it when he tip toed into his apartment at three a. m. and fell into bed, tossing the shoe box on a nearby chair.

CHAPTER 2

In the morning, Mrs. Ferret's ferret-like eyes lit on the shoe box. She picked it up, noted the name it was addressed to and immediately flew into a female rage. Leaving Al to his happy dreams, she got into her car with the shoe box and drove all over the place trying to make up her mind about something or just anything. After she cooled off, she stopped at some alley way, got out of the car, threw the box in a trash can and started for home.

While Mrs. Ferret is driving home . . . let's go back and look in on Al. The phone rings, Al answers and hears an excited Helen. She understood from the florist that Al picked up her shoe box. What did he do that for? Where was it? She wanted it and she wanted it RIGHT NOW. She explained that it contained a pair of shoes she had seen advertised in a New York newspaper. She had sent them a precious coupon and told them to send her a pair . . . and sent along an old pair of shoes for size. She hadn't even opened the box herself yet and she was anxious to see her new shoes and she wouldn't wait another minute and what's more she was mad as hell. Al said he vaguely remembered picking them up and bringing them home . . . but he didn't see them at the moment . . . but Madam Ferret was out and maybe she had put them away someplace . . . and Helen wasn't to worry about it a bit . . . he'd call her back as soon as the little woman returned. Nothing to it at all.

In due time, a still annoyed Mrs. Ferret poked her nose in the door and was confronted by a scared rabbit. They both talked at once and somewhere in the verbal melee the Mrs. got the bare and horrible facts through her head . . . then she was scared. She told him the dastardly trick she had perpetrated. Al allowed as how maybe she'd been a little hasty but he was, after all, an understanding husband . . . and all they had to do was drive quickly to the trash can and retrieve the shoes. No one would be the wiser. That's what HE thought. Mrs. Ferret couldn't remember where the trash can was . . . she had driven in and out and up and down streets . . . it could be ANY trash can!

CHAPTER 3

The phone was ringing again as Mr. and Mrs. Ferret hustled out the door for a try at locating the elusive dumping spot. Needless to say they weren't speaking in anything except grunts. They drove, but no luck. They peered into can after can . . . no soap. Finally they just had to go home and face it. Al telephoned his ex-Helen, full of apologies, telling her he must have left them in one of the numerous bars he visited, none of which he could now remember. He offered to pay for them and toss in a fifty dollar bill to boot . . . but Helen, mad as a hatter, said all the money in the mint wouldn't get her another pair of shoes without a coupon. Didn't he know there was a war on? What kind of a blasted heel was he anyway . . . and by George she was going to sue. She slammed up the receiver.

EPILOGUE

The Ferrets barricaded themselves behind locked doors for days. In the night, they would stealthily sneak around darting in and out of alleys, hoping against hope. They both lost weight and finally took to drink. Helen, cute kid that she is, received a letter the day following the shoe box episode. A letter from the shoe store in New York advising her that since they didn't have her size in the shoes she wanted they were returning her coupon, AND "under separate cover" her old shoes. Helen smiled maliciously to herself and never has told the Ferrets how the story ended.

Oil and the Jewish State

Oil has been an abrasive rather than a lubricant for England in her plague-beset journey in the maze of current world politics and economics.

She labored earnestly to assist the Jews to rehabilitation in their ancient homeland since the days of the Balfour declaration and during all the years of her mandate in Palestine. For a long time this process promised to work out successfully with the gradual penetration of the Jews into Palestine by legitimate purchase of land and settlement thereon but when this process began to take on the form of persistent agitation for the creation of a separate sovereign Jewish State therein the trouble began. For a long time the relations of the Jews and Arabs were amicable but the growing demand for political sovereignty solidified the whole Arab world into a growing opposition.

Meanwhile she had obtained oil concessions in the heart of the Arab world which were vitally necessary for the support of her industrial and commercial life. Her weakened position as a world power, caused by the two great wars in which she had bent a laboring oar, made her task of defending these holdings more difficult if force had to be the determining factor, and that is the situation which confronts her today.

She cannot be blamed for insisting first upon safety for her own even at the expense of seeming abandonment of a people and a cause she had hoped to champion.

The spectacle of a handful of people putting up a heroic struggle to repossess a homeland that was once theirs moves liberally loving people throughout the world, but neither must this circumstance dim our vision to the struggle underway by another great people to survive.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

GEORGIE PRICE, who has been on and off the stage for a good many years, is doing a thoroughly nice thing. He has just given away his 15th television set. It went to the children, ill with joint diseases, at the Far Rockaway Hospital. GEORGIE gets up a Sunday lunch. He pre-arranges for people to donate things like the hall, the band, and printing tickets free. Show people help with the entertainment. Everything is on the house but the food and that's at cost. You can buy your way, if you can shove in, for $3. At the last one, GEORGIE banded himself out for an hour, imitating and singing and generally coveting to the delight of his audience. At the end he had 638 bucks in the pot and the little invalids had a television set to push the dreary hours past.

I never knew there were so many JENNYs in the world. This afternoon I went to cock-tails at a party. WALTER VARNEY gave me HARRY ELLERBY, of Hollywood and points East. WALTER has been working with JOE COTTON on a picture to come out this Fall called "PORTRAIT OF JENNY." To publicize it, WALTER and JOE decided to round up a few well known JENNY portraits for a show. You can't believe; two of JENNIFER JONES, by BRACKMAN, JENNY LIND, JENNY TOUREL of the Opera Comique, JENNY DOLLY by JEAN-GABRIEL DOMERGUE, a couple more just plain JENNYs, and JENNY AT THREE, by Hollywood's own JESSIE LASKY. The pictures are to be exhibited in the larger cities; the money to go to charity. The publicity gleaned will be modestly accepted by MR. VARNEY and MR. COTTEN. HARRY ELLERBE hadn't a thing in the world to do with the project. He is a magnificent actor whom you have seen in support of NAZIMOVA and BANKHEAD. He is also a first class director. Besides that, he makes a very handsome GUEST OF HONOR. Among the NAMES at the party, were TONIO SELWERT, MARGARET DOUGLAS, ERIN O'BRIEN MOORE, NEIL FITZGERALD, MICHAEL STRANGE, DIANA BARRYMORE and HARRY MINES.

Last Thursday was really filthy. The thunder rolled, the lightning cracked and the rain sure did come right on down. At 5:30 the phone rang with detectives on the other end—"just checking up—you are expecting the KING and QUEEN of YUGOSLAVIA—yes, yes,—okay." At 6:30 they arrived. As a fashion note, girls, the QUEEN wore a black woolen shawl with fringe of twisted yarn—like a stole. It is the most delightful thing to entertain them. They are so amiable and free of SIDE. I don't suppose for a minute that everything went according to protocol. Everyone was delighted to see them and if there were any errors in procedure THEIR MAJESTIES, I am sure, laughed them off with the rest of us. They circulated very informally among the guests and drank their favorite daiquiris. The pretty QUEEN said to her spouse—even as you and I—"I had two, how many did you have?" They looked through my guest book with great interest and signed it with red crayon. When they were leaving I asked if they would like to dine some night, very informally. QUEEN ALEXANDRIA said, "Yes, that would be nice—a foursome. Let's go to 21."

The OPERA SEASON is over but let's talk about the old MET for a moment. I heard some people discussing opera clagues the other night and I couldn't believe my little pink ears. I thought clagues went out with celluloid collars. It seems I am mistaken. Clagues were merely resting up during the war years. We weren't importing any Italian tenors then. Now we are, and Italian tenors crave applause—even if they have to pay for it. The clague is back in full force. VIRGIL THOMPSON, the critic, says that at LA SCALA, in Milan, the rate per man in a clague, in 1919, was 5 to 60 lira. This season at the debut of DI STEFANO, his clague went wild. At one point they got so excited they made a mistake and applauded LEONARD WARREN. DI STEFANO was in full cry and hell bent by that time. He did not gnaw the proscenium or burst into tears, so it is taken for granted that he did not notice the slip. Clagues perform their duties in teams of 10. VIRGIL THOMPSON says a good team these days costs the singer $750 a night. Besides that, he supplies his own gargle water and spaghetti.

Spring Concert Friday Night

The annual Spring Concert will be presented by the Grosse Pointe Concert Band in Pierce Auditorium tomorrow night, May 28, starting at 8:15 o'clock. Dewey D. Kalember will conduct the program which will feature the Blue and Gold Swingmasters, the high school's familiar popular music ensemble. Under Mr. Kalember's direction, the band recently won the excellent rating of 2-plus at the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Festival held at Michigan State College. In this festival the group was in competition with the cream of the state's bands.

A group of selections on the current hit parade will be played by the Swingmasters. They include "Now Is the Hour," "In a Little Book Shop," and "Johnson Rag."

It is a custom at the spring concerts of the band to have a soloist. This year Paul Terbruggen, first baritone of the band, will bid farewell to the ensemble with the solo, "Beautiful Colorado." Paul will graduate next month.

PRIZE TULIPS STOLEN Mrs. Ralph Harman Booth, of 315 Washington road, reported to the City police on May 22 that some time the night before some miscreants had stolen 43 of her prize tulips. They had also trampled down her fern bed.

Two Injured In Car Crash

An auto accident on Jefferson avenue just east of Notre Dame in the late afternoon of May 23, resulted in the injury of two persons. Anthony Taormino, of 3616 Hendrick, Detroit, was driving west on a police car driven by Lieutenant Van Beelaere. The officer had slowed down to warn some young men who were trying to jump a ride, and were occupying an inordinate part of the highway.

A third car, driven by Curtis Ray Webster of 2131 Baldwin, Detroit, following behind, did not stop quickly enough and ran into the Taormino car with considerable force. Mrs. Webster, who was riding in the car with her husband was taken to Bon Secours hospital with severe but not dangerous injuries.

Mr. Webster also was taken to the hospital for treatment for a cut on the hand and bruises on his mouth. He was given a ticket for not having his car under control. His car had to be towed to a garage.

Farms Considers New Parking Lot

The Village of Grosse Pointe Farms is considering another site for a municipal parking lot as the result of complaints voiced last week against the establishment of one on Beaupre lane in the rear of the building.

The new site is also said to be to the rear of the building, but it is believed it would not as objectionable to abutting property owners.

The U. S. Navy donated 557

small craft of various types to the American Sea Scouts during 1946 and 1947.

Don't make any plans for June 2, 3, 4 (because that's Junior League Follies time) . . .

And ditto . . . June 5 . . . date chosen by the University of Michigan Alumnae Club for its June Fair . . . at the Women's Building on the State Fair Grounds . . . starting hour . . . 10 a. m.

To take these festivities in order: We've heard exciting fragments of the fun to be had at the Cabaret following the Junior League Follies . . . and being held at the Book . . .

Reservations are limited . . . and the cabaret usually finds the "stars" of the Follies . . . obliging by doing the hits they've done in the Follies themselves . . . Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kammer are in charge of these plans . . .

JUNIOR LEAGUE FOLLIES

The reserved seats for the Follies go on sale today . . . at Music Hall . . .

You'll want to get the best seats possible . . . to catch every second of the Tom Paddock Skit . . . which features the whole family . . . Tom, Nancy, and daughter Nancy and Homer Bigelow . . . wearing Gay Ninety costumes . . . and giving forth with expert hoofing (Tom has been practising for weeks in front of the games room mirror at his home and is well prepared to make his initial bow as a tap dancer . . . Wall St. Journal, please copy) . . .

A ballroom melodrama . . . "Virtue's Own Reward" will star Dan Buell as the villain . . . Merrill McClintock as the swooning heroine . . . Mrs. Frank Sladen as the mama . . . and Bill Robinson as the Big Brother . . .

Our special drama critics also have told us especially to watch for the Shoe Store sequence . . . featuring Dan Buell and Mrs. Don Woodruff . . .

SEATS ON SALE TODAY

The Follies boasts 845 patrons this year . . . a smart increase over those who sponsored the event in 1947 . . .

So remember . . . we warned you . . . get those reserved seats early . . . they went on sale today at Music Hall . . . hurry, hurry . . .

MICHIGAN ALUMNAE FAIR NEXT

Ever so many Pointers are taking part in the Michigan Alumnae June-June Fair . . .

For instance . . . the specially designed jewelry booth is in charge of Mrs. Harold H. Smith . . . who confides it is really Sumpin! . . .

WANTED: A WORRY SITTER, ON THE EIGHT-HOUR NIGHT SHIFT, MUST BE EXPERIENCED IN WORRY-ING INTERNATIONAL, NATIONAL, LOCAL AND PERSONAL PROBLEMS. ONLY THOSE NEED APPLY WHO ARE WILLING AND ABLE TO WORRY WHILE WE SLEEP.

Well, we hope that settles the matter. There are sitters for everything and everybody. Baby Sitters. Husband Sitters. Dog and Cat Sitters. Why not a Worry Sitter? Some bright and shining young thing to lift the load off other sagging, dragging, haggling minds? Are your shoulders getting bow-legged from brooding? Are you a bed-hopper who keeps trying out different rooms for rest? Do you have it in for the birds who get up — or stay up — till dawn? Does daylight slaving time just give you more time to take on the worries of the world? Come out of your brooding and sulking tent! Just hire a Worry Sitter to do the dirty work of worrying for you.

Personally, we're out to get the jump on Dale Carnegie who is leaping into print with a yet unpublished book entitled: "How to Stop Worrying."

Mr. Dale Carnegie says the way to stop worrying is to keep busy. But if we keep busy all day, we're just not in the market for the job of keeping busy all night. That's one of the troubles with insomnias. They're too darn busy all night. We believe our solution is simpler. Just let somebody else—Dale Carnegie if you can get him—keep busy, brooding, all night. And just to be big hearted about the whole thing, we'll even turn over to you our own personal, patented Worry System. This is a new speed-up technique that enables the Worry Sitter to stave about more subjects, guaranteeing that by morning the sitter will be shaking like an aspirin.

This Worry System consists in breaking the thing up into International, National and Personal Problems. Take them up in order and drop them in disorder. To have a really sensational night of nerve-jerking, tune in on two or three news commentators on the radio but works just before crawling into bed. They're bound to have a gory little story about the whole situation.

Russia is a match for the Nerve Jumpers. The OGPU has taken the place of The Gestapo as the prize bogeyman of the boudoir. One otherwise solid character startled us the other night by remarking that if and when the Russians came over she wouldn't be able to go to Windsor without asking the OGPU and getting a secret-police visa. "Oh, quit Stalin," we told her. But she was really shaking and quaking about the black outlook of her life.

Russia is sure a match for the booby hatch. Starting the Worry System around midnight, you should be ready about Three A.M. to switch to some gnawing National nerve-jerker.

Prices! Politics! Strikes! Stocks! All these subjects are required study. But the prize, of course, is Prizes. Anyone—but anyone—can get mixed up as a mad, mad thing sit and worry now to get hold of about money. If you haven't any, sit and worry how to get hold of some; if you have too much, sit and worry how to hold on to it.

What this country needs is a good Five-Cent Nickel. And what this country doesn't need — and is getting — is going to a new $3 bill. With Roosevelt's picture engraved on it. The matter is pending before Congress. This new $3 bill will, obviously, take the place of your worn out $1 bill. And whatever became of those silly $2 bills that were good for nothing except placing a bet? Money is honey for any worthwhile worry sitter.

About 8: A.M. our patented Worry System calls for slowly slumping into Personal Problems. Around this witching hour, that blooming little bird who thinks he's the Sinatra of the Swallows swings into that Yah-ta-ta, Yah-ta-ta tune of his and you can sit bolt upright swearing and screaming. You're in the mood to brood, pet.

Clothes, children, clubs, house cleaning! Diet! Should you try it? Bills! They give you the chills. But the prize problem for every woman's foolish fretting is men, men, men. Genus homo. That's the answer to her woes. Where is he? How is he? And why is he always buzzing around your brain like some great big horse fly?

Well, that's the set-up of our Worry System, pet. Now before you apply for the wise solid character startled us

ALICE ANNE SICHLER

The last S. A. Dance of the year was held over Grosse Pointe Highway last Saturday. The decorations, carrying out the Paul Bunyan theme, were complete with the axe Paul Bunyan shaved with in days of yore, blood and all!

More seen around the refreshment stand in their cute dined skirts and Paul Bunyan formals were Norma Neeb 'n Barry Monroe, Joe Fromm 'n Corky Schwem, Polly Wilton 'n Milt Setzer, Doug Turnbull 'n Sigrid Koebel, Betsy Waldbott 'n Hill Pierce, Gloria James 'n Ted Laitner, and Alice Neville 'n Bill McBride.

Some of the kids piled over to Burt Spurrier's afterwards to munch tasty hot dogs and play cards. Among them were Burt's date Lois Buck, Carroll Grylls 'n John Cobane, yours truly 'n Bill Isbey, Shirley Davis 'n Mike Merwin, Jean Dowzer 'n Hugh Dill, Doris Dising 'n Bill DeGraw, Peggy Hatch 'n Jim Hoskins.

Seems as if the gals are going in for teas these days. Katie Wieland was a lovely hostess to one last Saturday afternoon. She asked Marti Watkins, Alice Sichter, and Joyce Wiek to help serve the punch, which was in a huge out-glass punch bowl once owned by her grandmother, and as I wandered in and out I spied Gail Wright, Nancy Voorhees, Eunice Jodar, Nan Georgi, Peggy McCarten, Alice Savage, Janet Hobson, Maryanna Larsen, Carol Briggs, Jeanne Smith, Annie Candler, Martie Fairless, Janis Woodruff, Mary Stover, Meeky Van Zanen, Marilyn Mathewson, Gerry Jacobson, Carroll Grylls, Barb Otto, Mary Whitcomb, Jan Walker, Pat Perrone, Joanie Rollings, Janice Skilman, and Cathie Greig chatting over their tea goodies.

Marilyn Bower and Carol Briggs hosted another tea Sunday at the Bower home. Barb Gregory, Peg McCarten, Marilyn Mathewson, and Mary Whitcomb were the four lucky gals who poured tea for their classmates.

One of the big events of the

Fashion Show Held for High School Girls

season was the Tuxis picnic Sunday. The kids jumped into their cars, not forgetting the lunches, and headed out to Rochester for an afternoon of fun. Some of them seen starting merrily off were Peg Dickens 'n Fred Lineman, Sallie Hoyt 'n Stu Ward, Julie Bowman 'n Dan Guy, Marti Watkins 'n Jim Mast, Katie Wieland 'n Bob Peters, Nancy Voorhees 'n John Weed, Lois Buck 'n Burt Spurrier, Tom Follis 'n Marilyn Wroblos, and Genie Salmon 'n Bill Soap.

More kids in on the fun, some even anticipating their first dip of the season were Alice Savage 'n Clarence O'Dell, Shirley Davis 'n Mike Merwin, Annie Candler 'n Gary Langsoth, Ginny Granse 'n Bob Stritzinger, Janet Zschmiede 'n Dave Donnelly, and Barb Otto 'n Jim Sanford.

The Detroit Boat Club is planning its annual spring dance, the Quad Hop, this Friday, with the music of Bill Gail. With this in mind, Joe Manning has planned a dinner party beforehand for some of his special friends! A few of the lucky guests will be his date, Janie Bundy, Bob Armstrong and Elaine Buhrer.

Bill Carruthers and Beverly Bolin, Bob Bolo and Nan Pierrot, and Dick Augustine and Mary Ellen Antrim.

Another big doing on the same night is the Band Concert in Pierce auditorium. Some of Cole Porter's music and a rendition of the Stars and Stripes Forever will be the high points of the evening, and the doors will open at 8:15. See you all there! Congratulations, Barry, Ted, Sally, and Annie on your success in the S. A. elections!

Ralph Simonds Hosts at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Simonds entertained at a cocktail party in their home on Lewiston road for their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Seelbach, Jr., who motored from their Louisville, Ky., home last week for a brief visit.

Greeting the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Lansing M. Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright III, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Whitehead, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. Irving Book, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome C. DuCharme, the Charles A. DuCharme II, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gotfredson, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Traver C. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Stearns, the Lyle A. Devlins, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John K. McEvoy were also on hand.

Spanish Class Tendered Party

Forty members of Clarence V. McGuire's adult Spanish class were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis X. Nutto in their home, evening, May 19.

The recreation room and bar of the Nutto home were decorated with many posters and placards which had been obtained by the members of the class during their visits to various Latin-American countries. The guests enjoyed games and talking motion pictures of Mexico in technicolor, shown by Robert J. Stauffer and Clayton Bennett. A unique game originated for the occasion and given the name 'peny-ante Mexicana', in which all guests participated, tested the Spanish-speaking ability of all present. A buffet supper was served. The committee on arrangements consisted of Mrs. Eric M.

Bird, Mrs. R. J. Muckle and Mrs. Nutto. The Spanish class will resume its recitations at Grosse Pointe High in the fall.

LAWN MARKERS DESTROYED

You had to listen hard to hear the mellow, fine-car purr of that heavenly, made-for-Mercury motor. You had to hear it to believe that this 8-cylinder, V-type motor was not in a car far beyond Mercury's price class.

You sat on a flying easy chair with a luxurious "comfort-zone" seat cushioning you. You made your own "weather" inside the car—with something they called "Fingertip Weather Control." A controlled flow of fresh, filtered air—no fog on the windshield—no opening to drip water on your stockings. That was comfort you'd dreamed about. That was all-new. That was Mercury!

You saw something exciting!

An all-new kind of car beauty—longer, lower, wider—with a poised, graceful silhouette. It was not a "new model" looking pretty much like last year's with its face lifted. You saw the ALL-NEW Mercury in a choice of superb body styles—including the new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

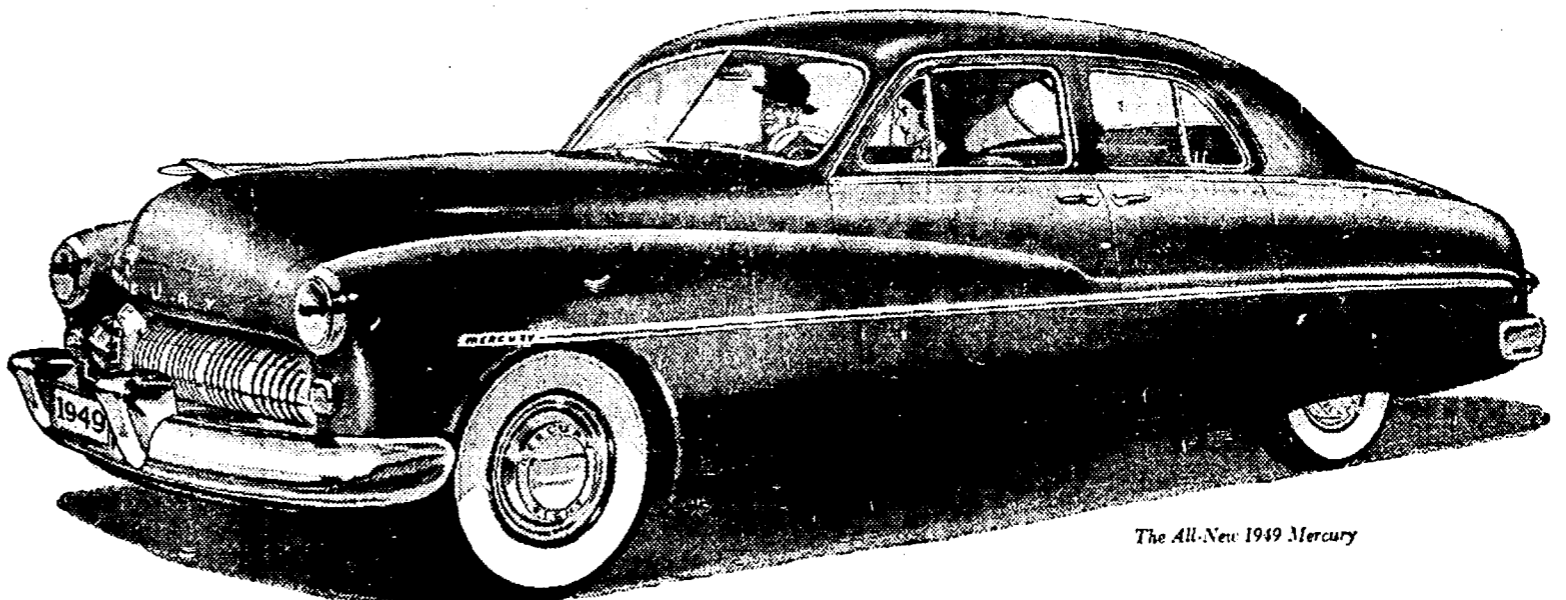

You were happily married to the steering wheel!

You felt so safe, so secure, because Mercury didn't "wind-wander" or "over-steer." Mercury took the curves with ease. Its perfect balance, the way it hugged the road, and its fat new super-balloon tires gave you a ride that was smooth as satin.

You tiptoed into a new world of driving pleasure!

You knew thrills that—until this year—came only to the owners of the costliest cars. You learned about big new brakes that bring you to a swift, sure, yet gentle stop... about all-new beauty, comfort, performance... about how really new a car can be! That's Mercury, 1949 Mercury, the ALL-NEW Mercury!

Now you know how new a car can be!

Education Council on Tuesday, May 18. The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Charles Wade.

Mrs. Shaeffer spoke on her trip to Atlantic City where she attended the American Association of School Administrators' Annual Convention. She was accompanied on her trip by Mrs. Ethel Cove, Mr. Bert Wickling, Mr. John Barnes and Mr. Charles Leavitt. During their five day stay, they enjoyed a Grosse Pointe breakfast with Dr. Paul Essert, Dr. Samuel Brownell, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Trickey and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Nichols, all former Grosse Pointe school administrators. This meeting was the annual and concluding meeting of the year.

New officers elected for next year were: President, Mrs. T. R. Springett; Defer, vice president; Mrs. Earl Meyer; Kerby; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Max Sievers of Masson.

Former Pointer Weds on Coast

Cleveland Elbert, of Los Angeles. The wedding was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Crilly, Jr.

Mrs. Clark, the sister of Mrs. Chisholm N. MacDonald of Mira-beau place, attended Liggett School and the National Cathedral School in Washington. She made her debut here in December, 1927, and accompanied her family to California in 1942.

Mr. Elbert attended Gonzaga Preparatory School in Spokane, Wash., and Columbia University. They will reside at Palm Springs for the summer.

STRAY PARAKEET

Mrs. David M. Suttler of 46 Pine court, found a stray parakeet resting on her front porch on the morning of May 20.

Burke-Beever Vows Exchanged

At a double ring ceremony Friday evening, May 21, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Reverend Andrew Rauth united in marriage Anne Marie Burke and Donald Jay Beever, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beever of Hunt Club drive.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke of Ishpeming, Michigan. For her wedding, Miss Burke chose a white lace gown with a veil of illusion falling from a halo of pearl rosettes. She carried a satin covered Bible adorned with a white orchid.

Miss Lynne Stevenson, the bride's only attendant, wore a pale green faille gown and carried yellow roses. Rudy Kamischke served Mr. Beever as his best man. Herbert Beever and Robert Beever, both brothers of the groom, served as ushers.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Mr. Beever's home.

For traveling, Mrs. Beever wore an eggshell gabardine suit with forest green accessories. After a motor trip to the Smokies, Mr. and Mrs. Beever will reside in Detroit.

Wm. LaForests Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. William LaForest of 1080 Maryland avenue will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, May 30 with a High Mass at 10 o'clock in St. Ambrose Church, Hampton and Wayburn avenues.

Commemorating the occasion with their parents will be two daughters; Mrs. Mel Crandall of 1073 Maryland, Mrs. Warren J. Landry of 2144 Ashland; and their son, Willard J. LaForest of 1080 Maryland.

Three sisters of Mrs. LaForest will come from out of the city, Mrs. Bert Leach of Travers City, Mrs. Goldbach of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Fred Graham of Petoskey, Michigan. There are also four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The La Forests were married May 24, 1898, in Traverse City where they resided until they came to Detroit thirty years ago. Mr. LaForest was employed at Hudson Motors for twenty-eight years, and has now been retired for two years.

Patriotic Societies Plan Joint Luncheon

Since the membership of the Michigan chapters of the Daughters of Colonial Wars and Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, are practically identical, they will hold a joint spring luncheon-meeting Friday, June 4, at the Detroit Boat Club. Luncheon reservations should reach Mrs. Henry B. Joy, by Wednesday, noon, June 2.

Elly Lore Bareiss Wed To Eugene G. Nicolai

In a noon ceremony at St. Catherine's Church on Saturday, Elly Lore Bareiss became the bride of Eugene C. Nicolai, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nicolai of Ruedisale court.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Erwin Ehinger of Pittsburgh, Pa. She is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Bareiss of University place.

Elly's white satin gown was designed with an off-the-shoulder neckline, long sleeves, peplum front and full-length train. Her veil was of fingertip length and fell from a bonnet-type headpiece. The bridal bouquet was of calla lilies.

Virginia Corr of Amherst, O., was maid of honor and Margaret Lossing was bridesmaid. They were gowned in identical gowns of tissue taffeta, the honor maid in yellow and the bridesmaid in tea rose. The dresses had off-the-shoulder necklines, and three-quarter-length sleeves. The attendants wore crowns of roses and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Norinan Forster was best man and Charles Seip seated guests. For the wedding trip to Baltimore, Md., the new Mrs. Nicolai selected a melon wool crepe two-piece suit, with which she wore navy accessories. The pair will make their home in University Place upon their return.

Hospital Guild Elects Officers

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Bon Secours Hospital was held last Tuesday in the hospital at Cadieux road.

Standing committees for the coming year are: publicity, Mrs. Harold G. Frear; courtesy, Mrs. Fred Burns; First Friday, Mrs. Fred Baker; NCCW chairman, Miss Mae Willemien; social, Mrs. Joseph Walsh; sewing, Mrs. John Campbell; and membership, Mrs. Dalton Snyder.

League of Catholic Women To Meet Friday, May 28

Mrs. Frederick S. DeGalan will preside at 1:30 p. m. Friday, May 28, when the governing board of the League of Catholic Women meets in the Shamrock Room of the League Building. Chairmen of all standing committees will give their reports. A social hour and tea will follow in the English Lounge.

Junior League Kept Busy Preparing for Big Show

Probably the most unsung heroines of the Junior League Follies are the members of the Ticket Committee, ably organized under the ticket chairman, Mrs. Stuart H. Smith, who have been hard at work selling seats for June 2, 3 and 4 when the Follies will be presented at Music Hall for the benefit of the Junior League Welfare Fund.

Mrs. Smith is assisted by two co-chairmen, Mrs. William Ledyard, and Mrs. Ernest Kern of Bloomfield. Their ticket chairmen include Mrs. Robert Shaw, Anne Lilly, Mrs. Woodruff Crouse, Mrs. William Barringer, Jr., Adele Connolly, Mrs. Henry Kohring, Mrs. James McCintock, Peggy Couzens, Mrs. Gordon Wood, Justine DePetris, Mrs. Donald Walker, Mrs. Allan Sheldon III, Christine Caulkins, Mrs. Walter Meek; and from Bloomfield, Mrs. Frederick S. Ward, Mrs. William Rose, Phoebe Otter, Mrs. Morgan Douglas, Mrs. Donald Wilson, Mrs. John Stevenson, Patricia Floyd.

Each of these captains has 12 girls selling tickets who report sales to their particular captain. Tickets are also available at the Junior League Shops and may be obtained at the Music Hall box office after May 26. Mail orders for exchange tickets are now being handled at Music Hall. Eight hundred forty-five patroness seats have been sold by the Patroness Committee headed by Mrs. Ingersoll Lewis, Jr., with Mrs. Eric Ramstrum as co-chairman.

Many of these intrepid ticket sellers are leading a double life these days, rehearsing for various parts in the show—either preparing and singing in the chorus lines or declaiming from behind rehearsal footlights in dramatic and humorous skits.

Mrs. Henry Kohring is listed in the program as one of a group of "6 Glamour Girls," while Phoebe Otter, who will sing a solo called "Tall Girl," is one of a group of "8 Show Girls." Mrs. Donald Wilson will sing a song entitled "White Gown," accompanied by the Glamour Girls, and Chris Caulkins is listed as a member of the boy-and-girl chorus, all of whom can be found rehearsing every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evening to the strains of the provocative new music of the show.

Gretchen Carhart, who is also a member of the boy-and-girl chorus and who is on one of the ticket-selling teams, has written a song with her own original music and lyrics which will be sung in the "Follies" by Prim Groch and Robert Barit. Gretchen is also taking the part of Katherine Parr in a scene about H.R.H. Henry the VIII, who will be played by Richard Forsyth. Playing Henry's other wives will be Mrs. James McMillan as Anne Boleyn, Molly Williams as Jane Seymour, Mrs. Charles DuCharme III as Anne of Cleves, Barbara Simonds as Catherine of Aragon, and Mrs. Daniel Buell as Kathryn Howard.

The program will go to press some time this week, as a result of the gargantuan efforts of its chairman, Mrs. Harry J. Mack and its editor, Mrs. James J. Phelan. The cast and scheduled scenes and acts will not all be definite, however, until the very moment of printers' deadline, although it is certain that a radio skit will include Jane McNaughton, John J. Gorman, Jr., Mrs. W. K. Williams, Jean Harris, Elizabeth Murphy, John Hill, and Bob Cudlip, Angus Wright, Roger

Pointe Legion Team Wins With Edsall in Star Role

By FRED RUNNELLS
The Grosse Pointe Post 303 American Legion baseball team got back on the winning track by defeating New York Central, 2-1, behind the fine six hit pitching of its star hurler, Harry Edsall, last Sunday, May 23, on diamond 5 at Belle Isle.

Edsall struck out 12 and allowed one walk to stay far out in front in the strike-out department in the league. He has registered 60 strikeouts in four league games.

Grosse Pointe jumped into an early one run lead in the second inning on an error and two singles.

Edsall, first man up in the second inning, was safe at first on an error off his ground ball to the third baseman. Gregg grounded out pitcher to first. Knope singled to center, advancing Edsall to second, from where he scored on Hill Pierce's single to left field.

Central tied up the ball game in the eighth inning when Hasse opened the inning with a double along the first base line and advanced to third while Gregg tossed to Knope, who was covering first, for the first out. Gerald Harris then singled to center, scoring Hasse from third with the tying run.

Grosse Pointe took the lead in its half of the ninth inning. With one out, Bill Winkler singled to center for his second hit of the game. Winkler advanced to third when Central's second baseman booted Clair Wemer's grounder.

Edsall drove a screaming liner over second base to score Winkler with the game winning run.

Central threatened in the last half of the ninth when the first two men singled. Edsall saved his own game by forcing the next batter to ground out to first base and then proceeded to strike out the next two batters to end the game.

Grosse Pointe has won three games in four starts this season.

William Heath, son of Mrs. Parker Delos Heath of 340 Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, with the 357 pound sea bass he snagged to win a rod and reel in the tournament sponsored by the Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Chamber of Commerce. William, 14, attends Deerfield Academy at Deerfield, Mass.

Want Education On Family Life

An enthusiastic audience of between 400 and 500 attended the community meeting on "Family Life Education in Grosse Pointe Schools", on Monday night, May 24, in Pierce Junior High School.

Mrs. Morgan Sherman presided and presented the panel of six educators, each of whom spoke on various phases of the education program.

H Leroy Selmeier of Grosse Pointe High, local educator on the panel, explained that the local school tested carefully any new ideas before incorporating them in the school system. He said that two years ago a study had been started by the staff along Family Life Programs, that during the past year the curriculum committee had given it special consideration, and that for this summer several teachers had enrolled in workshop classes for further study. By February 1949 if it has the approval of the PTA council, and the Mothers and Dads club, an elective course in Family Life will be offered to Senior High boys and girls.

Following the scheduled talks, several two minutes speeches were given from the floor, all very much in favor of incorporating in the Grosse Pointe School System courses along these general lines. Speakers included: Dr. Babcock, clinical psychologist, Mr. Newberry, Richard PTA; Dr. Davies, Grosse Pointe Health Dept.; George Elworthy, Mrs. William Adams, Judge Leslie Young, Mrs. James Blain.

A resolution was then presented by Mr. Melvin Huffaker, which after further discussion, and comments by members present including Mr. John R. Barnes, Superintendent of Schools, was passed by an overwhelming majority.

Mrs. H. Ray will keep a record of the meeting for reference, and Mrs. Robert B. King, and Mrs. Edward H. Kay, timed the speakers. Other members of the committee, including Mrs. Melvin S. Huffaker, Mrs. Leslie P. Young, and Mrs. M. B. Hutchinson, and Mrs. George R. True, assisted with tickets and ushering.

The resolution reads: Whereas this community meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing a proposal to inaugurate a plan of Family Life Education in the Grosse Pointe School System, and, whereas, it is believed that such a plan will be generally beneficial and will strengthen family life;

Resolved that this Grosse Pointe Community Meeting respectfully requests that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education continue its investigation of plans for Family Life Education in the Grosse Pointe Schools, with the view of adopting a plan and putting it into effect at the earliest possible date.

THE BEST Lubrication COSTS NO MORE

So why accept less than the best?

A lubrication is more than changing the oil and grease. It's a job of lubricating and greasing many points that are subject to wear. Knowledge of these points, knowing how and what to do, having the proper equipment, materials and experience, make the difference between ordinary lubrications and factory specified lubrications.

Ray Whyte's lubrications cover the following operations: Lubricate and change oil, pack front wheel bearings, pack rear spring covers, fill shock absorbers, change axle and transmission grease. The lubrication department at Ray Whyte is open from 7 in the morning till 12 midnight for your convenience.

As part of this Decoration Day Special, a wash job is included. You save $2.07!

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

MRS. B. E. HUTCHINSON has always had an important place in our fashion note book . . . Her Parma Violet double cape (a la Sherlock Holmes) makes her the owner of one of the Pointe's most dramatic cloaks. Fashioned of Grosse de Landre taffeta, the long cape boasts a shorter cape which ends in a high stand-up collar. We have glimpsed her in this glamor wrap at cocktails, and at the theater.

The Fashion spotlight turns steadily on MRS. FRANK P. BOOK when she appears in a clinging gray silk dinner dress. Veddy 1948 cape sleeves are used on the frock, which is designed with a tight skirt, slashed smartly at each side. Down one side of the plain bodice there are velvet bows toned from amber to banana to olive. Lush colors.

The cocktail hours are brightened dazzlingly by MRS. EDWARD BUTLER (she keeps impressing us with her wardrobe!) who is affecting a long, tight black silk skirt with a long sleeved basque jacket printed in heavenly shades of green, peacock blue and black. The frock has bustle of the printed material at the back and one side of the skirt is distinguished by a side godley drape of the print.

You'll know why we wrote "must for Personal Appearances" if you have seen the chic MRS. HERMAN WECKLER in the cinnamon, black and white diametrical printed silk worn with a trim black wool jacket, which is lined in the print. With this she chooses a marvelous cinnamon felt, off-the-face chapeau, the scalloped brim of which is bound in black velvet.

PILFERINGS

Allen Churchill writing about Harold Ross, editor of The New Yorker . . . in the May Cosmopolitan says: "Ross once caused a sensation in the exclusive Riggs Sanitarium at Springfield, Mass., where he had taken refuge from the tumult of his editorial office. The other inmates were entranced by the wild and woolly Westerner who claimed to be the editor of The New Yorker. They considered this much more ingenious than posing as Napoleon. Ross was the center of attention until a fat man arrived from Texas and announced that he was an elephant. The Texan was even more of a novelty than Ross, who left the place in disgust."

According to Constance Hope:

One morning Bruno Walter walked into rehearsal, bowed a courtly good morning to the musicians, then raised his hand for silence.

"Now, gentlemen," he said, "the opening of this symphony must be piano—softly, but very, very softly. It opens like a whisper. Now!"

He raised his baton. Tensely, the men placed their instruments in position, but before even a single note was played, Walter lowered his baton.

"No, no, gentlemen," he said solemnly, "already too loud."

Jack Haley, star of the current Broadway hit, "Indiana U.S.A.," writes of his pal, Frank Allen, also in the current Cosmo (didn't we read it kiver to kiver, though!):

"One thing I'll say for Allen—except when he was singing he always knew what he was doing. In that period after World War I he never took a chance of not getting applause. Whenever he appeared in a theater, he made an agreement with the operator of the movie projector. Just as Fred finished his act, on the screen would flash pictures of the American flag, Woodrow Wilson and George Washington. With this assist Allen could take bows indefinitely."

Pointer of Interest

MR. CLARENCE D. FLOER

—Picture by Fred Runnells

By Kitty Carney

His boyhood interest in hunting and fishing gave ample background to Mr. Clarence Floer, who has imparted to his own and other men's sons his appreciation of the great outdoors. His proficiency in this field is attested to by his Scoutmaster's Key, a certificate and key of honor which only the most skilled men gain.

For more than five years during the war, Mr. Floer served as scoutmaster for troop 61 at St. Paul's-on-the-Lake. During his 11 years of scouting he took all the training courses required to make him eligible, (five years as scoutmaster is another requirement) for the highest award which scout leaders can achieve.

Outdoor activity, of course, was his specialty and he took the scouts, (two of his sons were in the troop), to his own lodge for camping trips, teaching them conservation and good scouting techniques. Today, the St. Paul troop is noted for extensive outdoor work.

In charge of camping activities and advancement for Troop 61, Mr. Floer simultaneously handles camping for District 3, Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. As merit badge counselor, he gives exams to scouts of District 3 on camping, taxidermy, wood carving, staking, carpentry and electricity. These six subjects are a portion of the courses which he himself studied, and scouts who fail the tests study with Mr. Floer until they can pass with flying colors.

Makes Equipment

This outdoorsman makes practical use of his science by manufacturing outdoor equipment for his own use. He has an outstanding collection of fish flies which he hand ties, and fish nets and snowshoes are among the other items he makes. His proudest works, however, are his guns. The prize is a handsome deer rifle which he smoothed and filed to its present beauty from an old Army gun.

As for taxidermy, of which he has made considerable use, Mr. Floer doesn't have much time for that anymore. In his cabin at the Lost Lake Woods Club near Alpena are mounted specimens of pheasants, squirrel, deer, almost any kind of bird in Michigan and other types of wild life.

He also owns a number of skins, and a red fox which he shot near Romeo, Mich., he had made into a fur scarf for Mrs. Floer. One of the bobcats which he killed last winter is now at the tanner's. He holds the record for twice having shot the second largest pheasant in the state.

Built Lodge
The comfortable log lodge at

Lost Lake was built entirely by Mr. Floer and his four sons. In fact, they have a snapshot record of each of the 13 consecutive days, from the first day that they put in the foundation to the 13th when they moved into the building, complete with doors and windows. About 65 miles distant from this lodge, Mr. Floer also maintains a fishing shack on the Rifle River.

Last summer with a small party of friends, Mr. Floer went on a camping trip into the Upper Peninsula, exploring all the rivers from the Soo to Munising. This year the group hopes to complete exploration in the peninsula as far as the Porcupine Mountains.

The Floer family of nine ranges from Clarence, Jr., 23-year-old Navy veteran, to small Rosemary. In between are Donald, Richard, Betty, Charles and Carolyn. On June 12, the head of the house will celebrate his 30th anniversary with the Detroit Edison Company with the Detroit Edison Company. He is in the office of the central system supervisor, from which the entire electrical system is operated.

One notable feature of this hobby is that Mr. Floer confines his sportsman's activities to his state. His reason reads like a Chamber of Commerce release, for he says, "Michigan offers as much for the outdoorsman and more than any state in the Union."

LITTLE GEMS OF WISHLFUL THINKING

By Mary Baldwin Van Doren

Someday I'm going to write a short story for a woman's magazine, but it will never be accepted because it "won't conform."

My central characters will be named plain Bill, Jane, or Bob (and spelled accordingly). My heroine will be twenty eight or twenty nine and not referred to as the village spinster or on the verge of middle age.

In order to have any kind of a plot I will have the inevitable two men in love with her; but Bill, whose father is the richest man in town, will be a normal likeable sort of boy who drives a plain business coupe with a solid top. He also has a good job. His father, instead of being the town banker, made all his money when he bought the local bar and pool room during the war, but is none the less a respected citizen.

The poor boy, Bob, who also loves her, is the son of a farmer and full of noble ideals. But since he arises at an unusually early hour in the morning he is rather dull company in the evening; in fact he's rather a bore.

My heroine will be plain and not the sole support of her family, a father who hates his work and a mother who dyes her hair. They have a fairly substantial income left to them by an uncle who died. He swindled people in Australia in order to make an honest living. My heroine's family consider themselves quite lucky to have inherited this money and don't consider it especially tainted.

Ann Macaulay talked on the meaning of Arbor Day. John Bennett, Chrissie Hatch, Phillip Warren, Susan Klinger, and Ann Terris presented the story of Arbor Day. Peggy Proctor played a flute solo, "Trees". A skit was presented by Tom Jeffs and Ann Wells.

Susan Baker gave a talk on the origin and meaning of Arbor Day. Poems were recited by Carolyn Elliott, Sandra Zick, Elsa Purdy, Nancy Hill, Helen Nelson, Mary Frizzell, and Joan Grundy. Richard Noer told the group the correct procedures for the planting of trees.

My dialogue will be sprinkled conversation as, "Oh go lose yourself," and "Mother, hand me the aspirin bottle, will you—I've got a terrible toothache," and "Is that pill Bob coming over again tonight?"

No one will have amnesia, a split personality, or a hidden hatred of their parents. They will live in a small city which has good government and a minimum of local "characters."

In the end our heroine will be faced with the choice between the rich boy and the honest poor boy and, being a sensible girl, she will choose the rich one, naturally, since the noble boy is a bit of a pill, and anyway she's always wanted a good fur coat and a maid.

This decision doesn't come to her with "sudden realization" as she is washing the dinner dishes; she's known it all along and the only reason she encouraged Bob at all was to add a little interest to her life. After all, two beaux are more exciting than one.

Women Helping In Poppy Sale

It's Poppy time again! Plans for the 18th Annual Poppy Drive have been launched with volunteer workers enlisted to cover all the neighborhoods of Metropolitan Detroit and the downtown section.

Here is your chance to help the disabled veteran who is faced with the task of rebuilding a life under physical handicap. The veteran has earned and is entitled to our continued support. Funds raised by the drive will be used for welfare purposes for the boys, needs not provided by their government compensation. Ten per cent of the receipts, according to General Chairman Michael Whelan, will go to "We Remember Inc.," a woman's service organization formed to help hospitalized veterans, the only one of its kind in the country.

About 10,000 women will work on the three-day Poppy Drive from midnight May 27 to midnight May 29. Mrs. Henry Eddy is serving as Commanding General of the Women's Division with Mrs. A. Warren Brock and Mrs. James R. Walsh as her aides.

Buy your poppy! Keep it to wear on Memorial Day as a tribute to those who have fallen.

Honor the service man in your family by enlisting to help in the drive headquarters, room 1371 Hotel Statler. Telephone Woodward 2-1878 or Woodward 2-2784.

B-U-L-L-E-T-I-N . . . direct to the junior miss, average miss, half-size miss and matronly Mrs. . . . from WALTON-PIERCE, which has two stores of distinction, one in the Women's City Club in downtown Detroit, the other a GROSSE POINTE BRANCH smack on the corner of Kercheval and St. Clair.

But getting back to the big bulletin, the fashion scoop at Walton-Pierce this week concerns prints and still more p-r-i-n-t-s, all markedly similar in quality and smart design, yet each a masterpiece apart from the others. You won't have to search for hours for the type of dress you want either, because those neat small prints on dark backgrounds, (usually so hard to find), are a WALTON-PIERCE specialty.

In rayons and silks are the one and two-piece ensembles . . . jackets are either of wool or matching soft print. These superbly tailored creations start at $29.95. A few which we'll fashion prevue for you are:

Colorful feather print on navy with nice detail on the belted and bowed print jacket (only $59.95) . . . Another two-piece, one of those ob-so-mart Egyptian prints, modernistic with peacock blue against a black background. Slip off the long-sleeved fitted jacket (with darling round black collar), and you have a distinctive dress, short sleeves, skirt fullness achieved by unpressed box pleats. (This one is found only in the WALTON-PIERCE junior department. ($59.95))

Number 3—white polka dots on cocoa brown, white waffle pique collar and cuffs, bracelet sleeves . . . Matronly black foulard print with solid conventional figure. An embroidered white crepe jabot gives a smooth touch, and a gold medallion holds down either collar tip. Jacket to match. $98.95.

For Country Club or resort wear, WALTON-PIERCE can also give you a striking dinner dress in print. We noted a tomato red print on navy at $110 with dainty matching dinner jacket.

If you're looking for something out-of-this-world, designed for you alone, then the WALTON-PIERCE Custom Shop downtown is the answer to your dreams. Stop in and have your exclusive costume made to order from a choice assortment of imported silk prints and chiffons.

Just in case it's slipped your mind, the Grosse Pointe Branch shop carries sizes 9 to 18 only. If you come before, after or in-between sizes 9 and 18, visit Walton-Pierce downtown, at Park and Elizabeth.

"Ohs" and "Ahs" echo in the footsteps of the Pointe man-about-town who strolls down the avenue smartly attired in a trim sports coat from PROPER'S, 17016 Kercheval. Wise is the gentleman who knows about PROPER'S, 1-h-e men's store in the Pointe . . . and wiser still is he who heads for PROPER'S sport department immediately, if not sooner.

A wondrous assortment of tweeds and hand woven Shetlands head the sport coat field at PROPER'S. You can pick your own distinctive sport jacket from the choicest patterns in whatever style suits you best. And don't delay, 'cause this is the finest array we've seen in a long time. Prices on the handsomely tailored coats range from $37.50 up.
