Youths Drifting On Lake Rescued

Two boys were rescued on July 6 after their boat drifted out on Lake St. Clair. The two boys, Edlin Quandt, 11, of 19381 Beacombfield, Gratiot Township, and Howard Mills, 12, of 19339 Beacombfield, had gone fishing that morning with Jack Olsen, 10, of 194 Roslyn.

As the three were coming ashore at about 3:30 p.m. Jack, whose father, John Olsen, owned the boat, told the boys if they were going to take the boat to stay in the canal only. Jack went home for lunch. When he returned he found the other two drifting 300 feet from shore.

Jack called for them to return. The distressed reply was that they couldn't, they only had one oar and the waves were too strong. Things looked a little brighter as another boat came near them. They asked the man for help but he laughed at them and kept on going.

Jack finally peddled to the Shores police station where Shores police were notified. A boat was sent out and the two boys were found off Ford point. They were towed into the Ford dock and sent home.

The City sent a car to Mack and Moross, where it relieved the Woods car of its unwelcome charge.

Mr. Springer now rests in crypt No. 6 in the City's dog house-gow awaiting his owners, who are absent from the Pointe at the present writing but are expected back soon.

Michigan Coast Line Offers Tourists Myriad Delights

The so-called Lower Peninsula of Michigan is one of the country's greatest vacation play places and little wonder that hundreds of beauty-loving visitors from the 48 states troop in to enjoy its green forests, its excellent fishing — and, above all, its glorious summer climate.

Climate par excellence for Michigan's expanses are air-conditioned with water-washed breezes perfumed by the pine and cedar, and with all the exhilaration of rare old wine. The lower peninsula of Michigan lies like a great hand, Saginaw Bay cutting in on the eastern coast to form the Thumb, and the western coast and the Leelanau Peninsula representing the little finger.

Here is everything the beauty-lover and vacationist might want in natural beauty and the advantages that go with the perfect play place . . . the deep green of forest and the unforgettable blue of thousands of lakes . . . miles of white beaches and tumbling rivers in which trout gambol . . . picturesque little bays reminiscent of the Gaspé Peninsula and areas of fruit orchards as productive as anything in the Yakima country . . . cool retreats deep in the pines.

In this story we shall treat only that area extending northward from an imaginary line drawn east-west from Bay City to Muskegon . . . the area spreading in its blue-green-white splendor from almost the center of the Lower Peninsula to the Straits of Mackinac at Mackinaw City.

It's God's country for the vacationist, summer or winter, for in the cold months that entire area goes in for winter sports and elaborate carnivals, but it is in summer that the country really takes down its hair and plays wholeheartedly. And it is in summer, of course, that the millions of tourists pour in for their days of delight on the water and in the woods, with rod and camera, in lazy hours beside blue lakes and in evenings beneath a silver moon hanging so low you feel you can reach out and touch it.

It would be a bootless task even to attempt to parade a detailed treatise on where to go and what to see, so we'll just sort of skitter here and there, and hit the high spots . . . or highlights . . . in this magnificent playa which we have at our very door.

We'll start in at Bay City, with the blue of Saginaw Bay to the eastward, and northward a trail leading into the beauty that is in the Ogemaw State Forest, the Houghton Lake State Forest, the Huron National Forest and the Au Sable State Forest. Out of Bay City we follow US-23 along the coast into Tawas City and East Tawas and on into Oscoda. From Oscoda we swing inland along the Au Sable into Huron National Forest for a glimpse of the famous Lumberman's Monument.

Back in Oscoda and heading up the coast, we skirt Van Etan Lake and Cedar Lake, see Greenbush and Harrisville State Park and roll on into Alpena, on beautiful Thunder Bay. This Alpena is a beautiful spot and one of the state's outstanding vacation towns. Out of Alpena we head northward into Rogers City and on into Black Lake State Forest.

On into Cheboygan we go, the Cheboygan with its Mullet Lake and Aloha State Park, and there are Burt Lake and Douglas Lake, all favored play places. From Cheboygan into Mackinaw City we are skirting the blue waters across which we see Bois Blanc Island, Round Island and Mackinac Island in the distance.

Once in Mackinaw City we are in an entrancing place in its own right, what with Indian: strolling its streets and enthralling Michilimackinac State Park, site of old Fort Michilimackinac and scene of the bloody massacre in 1763. A replica of the old fort has been built.

Of course we park the car at Mackinaw City and take a boat for Mackinac Island, for that automobileless vacation paradise is an emphatic "must" for everyone who likes the unusual. From end to end Mackinac Island is filled with interest . . . Arch Rock where, Indian legend has it, Gitche Manitou passed through from his landing place to his home in Sugar Loaf . . . Sugar Loaf itself, where the Indians believed that the Great Spirit was by the bees . . . old Fort Mackinac, overlooking the harbor, built by the British in 1780 and restored to its original condition. . . .

Skull Cave, where Alexander Henry, one of the few survivors of the massacre, was fed by his adopted brother, famous Chief Wawatam . . . the John Jacob Astor trading post . . . the old cemetery in which sleep those identified with the early days on the island . . . the monument to Jean Nicolet . . . on and on and on until you find it hard to believe that you actually are seeing such spots in this modern world of ours.

Michigan Lake Scene

Next we'll swing southward into Petoskey on Little Traverse Bay, westward at Levering and go into Cross Village, an almost wholly Indian town, and follow the magnificent scenic highway along the bluffs high over Lake Michigan. This drive from Cross Village and into Harbor Springs is, to my way of thinking, one of the most beautiful drives in all of Michigan.

If you're interested in Indians . . . and who isn't? . . . you'll find 'em all along this stretch of country. Around Petoskey descendants of Chief Pe-tos-e-gah still till the soil, and throughout the area there are colorful individuals who might have stepped from the pages of a best seller.

The Traverse City section is a vacation paradise in its own right, notably the famous Leelanau Peninsula, with its Lake Leelanau and its Glen Lake. There are Northport and Northport Point for lake trout trolling and there are the world-famous Sleeping Bear Dunes high above Lake Michigan.

Of course you'll look in on Interlochen and the National Music Camp, for there assemble the great of the musical world through the summer months.

Right on down the coast we travel, with a little time for Benzie State Park on Platte Lake, a few hours on beautiful Crystal Lake around Beulah and a look-see at Frankfort, an important port on the western shores of the state.

Southward out of Frankfort you have more lakes and more state parks and we'll see Manistee and Ludington, with its Ludington State Park and Orchard Beach State Park at Manistee, and, just a bit inland, the great expanse of Manistee National Forest, one of the largest national forest areas in the state.

On southward out of Ludington into Silver Lake State Park and Whitehall on White Lake and then Muskegon on Muskegon Lake and on Lake Michigan, with the beautiful expanse that is Muskegon State Park and the surrounding country that is almost as interesting.

We jump over to Cadillac for a few hours in the William Mitchell State Park on Lake Mitchell and for an hour or so around Lake Cadillac itself. Just east of Cadillac are Lake Misaukee as well as a dozen surrounding lakes and, of course, Lake City State Park.

A bit farther and you are in the center of a great play place. There are Houghton Lake and Higgins Lake, both expanses of blue water in which the summer vacationist finds pleasures galore. There are fishing and boating and lazy hours along sandy beaches. There are Houghton Lake State Forest and Huron National Forest and Higgins Lake State Forest if you like spreading woodlands. There is Grayling, on Lake Margethe, and the famous Hartwick Pines State Park, with one of the few remaining stands of the giant pine which first brought settlers into Michigan.

Yes, all of Michigan is a play place . . . a land of lakes and beaches and forest . . . an air-conditioned land whose breezes are washed as they pass over the surrounding open waters . . . a country where the climate is delightful winter and summer and where the home folk are hospitable . . . the very heart's desire of the man or woman who seeks peace and beauty to heal nerves frayed by the roar of urban life. So . . . I give you the Lower Peninsula of Michigan.

Village Solons Get Chance To Study Bills and Payroll

Following the presentation of the bills and payroll for approval at the Park Council meeting on July 12, Commissioner William Gillett raised the question whether or not it would be feasible to have this list presented to the Commissioners well in advance of the meeting.

He said these figures, which always involve a considerable sum of money are, under the prevailing procedure, only seen by the Board of Commissioners a few minutes before they are asked for their approval.

There was no suggestion, he said, of their incorrectness, but it might happen that some one of the Board might desire to make further enquiry respecting some particular item.

He suggested that such a copy of payrolls and bills be sent out to each commissioner along with the notice of the meeting at which they were to be considered.

Park Sidewalks Due for Repairs

Many sidewalks, particularly along Lakepointe south of Jefferson, having fallen into a bad state of repair Village Manager Lane recommended to the Park Board of Commissioners at their meeting on July 12 that their repair or replacement be undertaken at once.

The Commissioners passed a resolution to that effect.

The sidewalks will be systematically inspected and those calling for repairs or replacement will be marked. Following this a notice will be sent to the abutting property owners. Along with this notice will go a form which the property owner may sign if he desires the village to have the work done by a bonded contractor. He may however have the work done by his own contractor, subject to the usual inspection and approval by the village.

In any event the entire cost must be paid by the property owner.

The properties are all located in the various Windmill Pointe subdivisions.

All of the commissioners, including Mr. Bloodworth, the chairman of finances whose responsibility it is to pass upon them prior to the meeting, thought the suggestion an excellent one and a resolution was passed providing for this procedure hereafter.

Park Will Buy New Equipment

Village Manager Everitt B. Lane recommended to the Park Village Board of Commissioners on July 12 that authorization be given for the purchase of a Ford Tractor and moving attachment at a cost of $1,600, and a 3 1/2 cu. ft. Jaeger Cement Mixer costing $465. The purchases were authorized.

Burglar Prefers To Work in Dark

A would-be thief was scared away from a Farms residence on the night of July 10 when a maid employed there thought it was her husband returning late.

Hoberta Dillard, employed at the J. Lawrence Buell Jr. home at 69 Vendome road, heard a noise and thinking it was her husband coming home, turned on the garage lights. When he did not appear she investigated and found that he had not returned. She notified the Farms police.

The garage door frame had been jimmied with a putty knife and the turning on of the lights had apparently scared away the intruder.

Park Finances In Good Shape

Commissioner Bloodworth submitted the report of the Park Village's audit for the year April 1, 1947 to March 31, 1948 at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners on July 12. It showed all of the village's accounts in a satisfactory condition and mentioned that after all charges against the sinking fund had been met during the year, a balance of $9300 remained in that account.

Rain Blamed for Minor Crash at Traffic Light

A car driven by George Primeau, of 2936 Lakewood, skidded into the rear of another driven by Helen Grubbs, of 4826 Chatsworth, while the latter was stopped for the light at Grosse Pointe boulevard and Fisher road at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 11.

The heavy rain was blamed for the skid. Primeau agreed to pay for the damage to the Grubbs' car, which was estimated at about $20.

ROLLS INTO CRASH

A car owned by Arthur Nannan and parked in his driveway at 128 Moran road, rolled out into the street on the night of July 11 and hit the left front fender of a Buick owned by Theodore Buttrick of 131 Moran.

HIT BY CYCLIST

Charles F. Werth, 4, 1875 Littlestone, was hit by a bicycle on July 7, ridden by Gus Mayer, 10, of 2064 Anita. Charles was treated for cuts on his face and mouth and a bruised left knee.

MRS. ROBILARD BITTEN

Mrs. Edward Robillard of 336 Ridge road was bitten on her left leg by a black and white terrier dog on July 13. She told the Farms police she did not know to whom the dog belongs.

Rooster's Owner To Extract Crow

A resident at 266 Rivard complained to the City police on July 12 that he was awakened every morning by the crowing of a rooster at an unholy hour, who seemed to have his domicile on the property of Mr. Rust at 17530 E. Jefferson.

On being notified of the volcal exercises of his feathered guest, Mr. Rust said he would "take care of that rooster."

Painter's Art Work Exhibited

Eva Doty Worchester, of Sunningdale drive, Grosse Pointe Woods, had three paintings accepted for a showing at the National Gallery in Washington and has received word that one of them, "Gloucester Harbor" received first honorable mention in the oil painting class.

The work of 228 exhibitors from all over the country was shown.

It was sponsored by the National Association of American Pen Women and to qualify the exhibitors had to be both writers and painters.

BRAKES FAIL

Weak hand brakes caused a car owned by Frank Calkins of 1035 Chalmers, Detroit, to slide down into the street near Wayburn and Hampton on Saturday night, July 10, and bump into a Buick owned by Margaret Sullivan of 870 Piper boulevard. Some damage was done both cars.

Township Health Report Released

The Grosse Pointe township report of communicable diseases and animal bites for the month of June has been released by Dr. T. S. Davies, Health Commissioner.

Measles set the high count of 82 cases in the township. In the Park 39 cases were reported, the City accounted for 27, 11 cases were reported in the Farms, and the Woods had five others.

Mumps came second with a total of 58 cases. The Park accounted for 11 cases, the City had 7, 18 were reported in the Farms, 16 in the Woods, and another 6 cases in the Shores.

Twenty cases of chicken-pox were reported. The Farms had 8 cases, the City reported 6, the Park accounted for 4, and the Woods had the other 2.

Scarlet fever took its count with one case in each the City and the Woods and two cases in the Farms. One case of tuberculosis was reported in the city.

Each of the villages reported one dog bite case with a total of 5 for the township.

Total cases in the township were 172.

HOME, SCHOOL ENTERED

Two breaking and entering cases were reported in the Park on July 7; one at 847 Barrington, where entrance was made by cutting a wire screen in a rear door, and the other in the Pierce Junior High School. In the latter case it is believed the entering was done by someone who had remained in the building after the library was closed at night. In neither case was anything of material value taken.

Neighborhoood Club News
Day Camp at the Neighborhood Club has been a busy place this last week, as any of the children attending camp will be able to tell you. All Camp activities are based on an Indian theme this year and so last week tournaments in Indian wrestling for boys and roster fights for girls were held. The young Indian braves, who proved their skill and won Camp Championships, were Stephen Cook, Mike Carrier, Larry Ryan, Hal Bailey and Robin Ryan. Francis Clark, Robin Leppard, Sally Anderson and Eileen Barbert proved their skill at balancing and won the Camp Roster Fighting Contests.
Our Indian braves added a modern touch on Wednesday afternoon by having a glider contest. There were two all camp winners—Charles Poupard taking the prize for height of flight and Robin Ryan had the longest flight in the contest.
Santa Claus came to Day Camp and was greeted by Christmas carols, trees all gaily decorated and presents wrapped in prettiest of Xmas paper. Although it was only July 9, everyone thought it was not too early to enter into the spirit of Yuletide. Campers worked on decorations and gifts and many of their mothers provided cookies to make our party complete. The Staff and Campers want to express their thanks to the mothers of the following children for their donation of cookies:
Charles and Patty Johnston, Peter and Stephen Cook, Sally Anderson, Mary Margaret Hagglund, Hal Bailey, Mary MacArthur, Elaine Barbra, Barbara Carrier, Beverly Manzelmann, Mary and Margaret Van Wassenhove, Mary Wardle, Ruth Perry, Bob Finnigan, Bob Marcereau, Barbara Kasper, and Billy Spriggett.
There are still many things to do before camp ends for this season. At present everyone is looking forward to a day packed with fun this Friday when we pitch our tepees at Grosse Pointe Park.

G & W Conducts Pointe Program
Grosse Pointe has been selected as one of the key markets for the summer newspaper campaign for William Penn Whiskey according to an announcement by Fred L. Fisher, Advertising Manager for Gooderham & Worts Limited.
G & W's aggressive ad program calls for 300 line insertions to appear in the Grosse Pointe News. This schedule began June 17 and will continue throughout the summer months. This advertising is indicative of the company's greatly expanded summer promotion now being placed behind blended William Penn Whiskey in key markets across the nation.
All ads in this series continue in the well-known cartoon style that was introduced so successfully last February. "Little Willie," G & W's new trade character, will again be featured in humorous scenes from everyday life.
Don Kuhn to Have Lead in The Simians' Play

Chrysler Dealers Help Pets Find Understanding Homes

Humane societies and similar groups dedicated to the welfare of pet animals are reporting a brisk and highly-favorable reaction to the new radio program, "Chrysler Dealers' Animal World Court," now running in Detroit and 32 other sections of the country. This five-minute transcribed program is sponsored by Chrysler dealers, either as groups or individuals, with the full approval and cooperation of local humane agencies. One of its main purposes is to find homes for pets that must be given up by their owners and to find pets for persons who are seeking them. Another purpose is to aid owners in the care, training, feeding and medication of pets. To this end, a free booklet is being given away by all Chrysler dealers participating in the program. In all cases, the actual placing of pets is done through the local welfare agencies, thus promoting contacts between these agencies and the public and giving an increasing number of persons information on the purposes and operations of these fine organizations. Although the program has been on the air a relatively short time, a large number of pets have found homes through its broadcasts. In Detroit, for example, the Humane Society reported that it has placed 48 dogs in a single day. The subject matter of the broadcasts is mainly factual stories of the courage, intelligence and devotion of animals. As there are some 18,000,000 dog-owners in the United States, there obviously is a large and receptive audience for material of this type. In almost every case, time has been secured between 6 and 7 o'clock p.m., an hour at which there is mostly to be a full complement of the average family at home. Typical of the reaction to the program is a case in Palo Alto, Calif., where a family, after turning its dog over to a welfare agency to find a new home, was so impressed by the broadcast story of another dog that had heroically saved a child from death in quicksand that it immediately reclaimed its own pet. STUDIO AWNING BURNS A fire alarm shortly after midnight on July 10 sent city apparatus screaming towards Fisher and Maumee. It was a minor fire in the awning in front of the Paul Gach studio, and was quickly extinguished. It was believed caused by someone throwing a lighted cigar.

Entering the life insurance business in 1927 as an agent at Rockford (Ill.), he made an enviable record, achieving distinction in consecutive weekly sales. He became agency assistant at the home office (Springfield, Mass.) in 1937, and served in that capacity until he was appointed general agent at Memphis in 1938. He is a director of the Memphis Life Managers and General Agents Association, a director of the Memphis Sales Managers Club, and a member of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. Active in alumni work, he is president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association of Memphis and the Tri-State area. Before entering the life insurance business, he was associated with a manufacturing company in South Bend (Ind.) for two years. He is a graduate of the School of Agency Management of the Life Insurance Agency Management Association. He received the Chartered Life Underwriter designation in 1946, having completed the course of study prescribed by the American College of Life Underwriters and passed the rigid examinations.

Baha'i Ranch Sessions Start

The first of three sessions for adults began at the Baha'i Summer School on July 11 at Davison, Michigan. Designed to acquaint people with the divine teachings for peace and unity of mankind as brought by Baha'u'llah to the world over 80 years ago, the session just starting includes such topics as "Our Religious Heritage," and "One Hundred Years in the New Age." John Faaly of Ypsilanti, formerly from Iran and of Muslim background, will teach the first course, outlining the contribution of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam to modern culture. Miss Elizabeth Cheney, who recently travelled through 14 countries of Latin America, will conduct the course on "One Hundred Years in the New Age," outlining the birth of the new civilization based on the teachings brought by Baha'u'llah. The public is cordially invited to visit the summer school at any time. All people are welcome regardless of race, class, creed, or nationality, and on Sundays at 3 p. m. the public is especially invited to hear a public talk on some phase of the Baha'i Teachings. The school is located on M-15 near Davison, Michigan.

NOT MUCH FUN Michael Clark, aged 13, of 849 Berkshire, on entering the back door of a neighbor's house at 846 Berkshire on July 5, to play with a pal, got a most unwelcome reception. A dog belonging to the family was such a good watchdog that he bit him severely on the left hand, breaking the skin and causing a severe puncture wound.

PRIVATE SETTLEMENT Daniel S. Smith, of 5892 Leitch, Detroit, ran his car against the private light pole in front of the Grosse Pointe garage on Jefferson avenue at 4:50 a.m. on July 10. The light fell on top of one of the gas pumps, causing some damage. The garage preferred not to lodge a formal charge against Smith and the damage involved was settled by private arrangement.

LAUNCHING CASUALTY Richard Wood, aged 17, of 540 Neff, while launching his boat from a trailer at the foot of Lake-land on July 4, cut his foot on some sharp object in the water.

EXPENSIVE TRANSFER Vera Wood, of 528 Vernier road, reported to the Park police at 9 p.m. on July 8 that she had lost her green leather wallet while transferring from a Jefferson Beach to a Grosse Pointe Woods bus at 15012 E. Jefferson. The bus company reported that no wallet had been reported as found in either bus. A considerable sum of money was lost.
