Babes in the Wood on Christmas Mission

MEMBERS OF THE KINDERGARTEN CLASSES at Richard School beat the snow to the punch at the yule tree headquarters across the street from the NEWS office on Kercheval. Staff photographer Fred Runnells happened to be in the office when he spotted this group, scampering in and out of the Christmas trees like overgrown rabbits.

Snow Brings Added Danger For Drivers

Police Chiefs Urge Extra Caution to Insure Safe Happy Holidays

With the arrival of the first snow of the season the police chiefs of the Pointe this week issued a warning to all motorists to be extra cautious.

Dangerous driving conditions and the hazards that always accompany a holiday season make it imperative that drivers exercise unusual care to prevent accidents that will bring injury and death.

Use Tire Chains
Use of tire chains while the streets are slippery, is urged by the chiefs. They cite that 65 percent of winter accidents are caused by snow and ice. The second major cause of mishaps at this time of year is reduced visibility.

Windshield wipers, defrosters and headlights should be checked to be certain they are in proper condition.

Orders Issued
The chiefs said they have given orders to be tough with violators of traffic laws. "Some drivers are going to be booked for negligence and carelessness," they said. "We don't want death to take anybody's holiday."

AMBULANCE IN CRASH
The Woods police ambulance, driven west on Kercheval at 12:10 p.m. on Dec. 15, went through a red light at Moross road and was struck by a car driven south on Moross by Albert M. Mitchell of 4957 Ivanhoe, Detroit. There was no injury and damage was very slight.

Farms Residents Get Break In Boosting of Water Rates

Outside consumers of water supplied by the Grosse Pointe Farms pumping station will pay a higher rate in the future, but residents within the village will not be subjected to the boost, it was announced following a special meeting of the trustees on December 14.

Outside consumers include the City of Grosse Pointe and the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores. The Farms wholesales water to both of these communities through meters at the boundary lines.

The new rate for the outside consumers will be 52 cents per 1000 c. f. The trustees point out they will still be underselling

Woods Officials Visit WRDR Much Abused For First Hand Information On Joint Police Radio Plan

Township Heads Express Gratitude for Interest Shown; Arguments Aired by Both Sides in Disputed Issue

A conference was held at the Township radio station on Vernier road at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, between the board of Woods Village Commissioners and President Alois Ghesquiere, and Frank Hartz, an employe of the Detroit Edison company, for the purpose of having a first hand demonstration of how the present township radio operates and hearing Mr. Hartz' explanation of the operations of the system which he has been asked by the Farms, Park and Shores to set up to supplant the present township system.

Explains Assignment
Mr. Hartz stated at the onset that he had been asked to prepare a plan of police radio service de novo, just as if there were now no police radio service already in operation in Grosse Pointe.

Present at the meeting also were Carl Schweikart, the township supervisor, and Don Goodrow the township clerk.

The plan which Mr. Hartz proposes is what would be called a wholly automatic system, as against the present manually operated system.

The Hartz plan permits broadcasting from all five of the Pointe police stations and also from all of the Scout cars.

One Central Station
In the present system all incoming and outgoing broadcasts are channeled through the central station on Vernier, which prevents any clash or interference of simultaneous messages. The present system provides, through the possession of receiving sets which it maintains at the central control station, a 24-hour monitoring service which covers Macomb and Oakland counties and Detroit.

Mr. Hartz says it would be necessary to keep the antennae which would be used on the station which it has been proposed to erect in the Farms, low enough so as not to get all this "interference" from the territory surrounding the Pointe. The plan proposed would be in and for Grosse Pointe. In the event of an incident which the neighboring region deemed it necessary for the Pointe to be informed of, they would be expected to call the Pointe by telephone.

"Precarious Dependence"
The township radio people claim this would constitute a precarious dependence on outside information which might be of vital importance to the local police.

Mr. Hartz said that in each one of the five Pointe police stations a "sergeant" should be on duty at all times, or fifteen such men all told. The township station now maintains such service with three men serving eight hour shifts, with a fourth or shift man always available.

Mr. Hartz did not claim that the proposed service would be cheaper to operate. It would be slightly quicker by two or three seconds than the manual service now employed. The township people, however, insisted that this 2-3 seconds interval would

Resident Takes Time Out To Express Thanks For Big Job Well Done

At least one resident of the Pointe took time out in the Christmas rush to give thanks to a group that receives only abuse at this time of year. The local Post Office employes have done a whale of a job for Pointers in the opinion of Kenneth L. Moore, whose sentiments are expressed in the following copy of a letter he sent out on Tuesday.

December 21, 1948
Mr. Leland F. Lindow, Postmaster
Grosse Pointe Post Office
City of Grosse Pointe, Mich.

Dear Mr. Lindow:
I am taking it upon myself to write you not only on behalf of my family but of all those in Grosse Pointe who have much occasion to use the Post Office. It is to wish you and Messrs. Mantell, Dodson, McDougall and Neely, who work at the windows, a Merry Christmas and to give you our sincere thanks.

Our thanks have been richly earned. You have all been unfailingly patient and good natured; your service has been fast and helpful, and you know the answers to all the questions on foreign packages.

As far as I am concerned you are, collectively, the exception that proves the rule about government and private operation of business. No one could run a better Post Office.

Again—a Merry Christmas to all of you, and a very Happy New Year.

Sincerely,
KENNETH L. MOORE

Prowler Flees Through Window

Royal Ronse, of 1434 Somerset, phoned the police at 11:45 p.m. on Dec. 14 that his wife, who had preceded him home by 45 minutes, had surprised a prowler in the house.

The thief had escaped through a rear window when he heard her coming into the house. The police made a thorough search of the premises but could find no evidence of the alleged prowler. Nothing had been taken from the house.

Victim of Robbery Clubbed With Gun In Park Residence

Alex Phillos, Wife and Daughter Bound on Bed While Vicious Pair Ransack House and Collect Valuables

A vicious case of armed robbery was perpetrated on Mr. and Mrs. Alex Phillos of 1038 Nottingham and their young daughter in their home at 9 p.m. on December 17.

Mrs. Phillos answered a ring of the doorbell to find a supposed Christmas tree salesman standing there. She said they did not desire a tree but the salesman said "I think you will want to see this one" with which he pushed the tree, top first, through the door opening. He was followed by another man and both were armed with pistols. They made Mrs. Phillos lie down on the living room floor, face down, and Mr. Phillos in the same posture on the kitchen floor.

Bound on Bed
They were there only a moment, however, when the robbers compelled them to lie down on a bed and bound both of them hand and foot and placed pillow slips over their heads. They placed the child between them and told the parents to keep the child quiet.

They then proceeded to ransack the house and went through Mr. Phillos' pockets. They got about $200 in money and other articles worth another $200, among which were two Parker Pen and Pencil sets that had cost $52, and 12 bottles of brandy.

Descriptions
The apparent leader of the two was a man 25 to 30 years old six feet tall, slim build and wore a dark blue finger tip overcoat and a dark hat. The other man was 30 to 35 years old, short and stocky, with a florid face and wore a light overcoat and a light hat.

That they had come for money or small articles of value was seen by the order given by the taller one to the other when the latter was about to take a portable radio: "leave that alone, we didn't come here for that kind of stuff."

Phillos Hit With Gun
One of the robbers struck Mr. Phillos on the head through the pillow slip with the butt of his pistol, but not hard enough to render him unconscious. No one knows which one struck Mr. Phillos, but it is believed it was the short, stocky one as he was apparently a much rougher character than the other one.

The same night that the Phillos' robbery occurred, another happened in Hazel Park which had the same characteristics. Greek merchants were the victims in both cases and both were engaged in the food business. Both were accustomed to come home on Friday night with considerable sums of money. Both were robbed by two men who answered the same general descriptions; with the exception that the shorter man in the Hazel Park case wore a beard.

Might Be False Beard
The beard might have been false or there might be a third party in the gang. The description of the tall one was the same in both cases.

Chief Louwers is convinced it was what he called a "Greek" case all the way through; both robbers and victims. The only

Urge Residents' Cooperation To Halt Robbers' Activities

Since Police Chief Walter Goulette of the Woods sent out word to the citizens of the village that they should report all phony telephone calls to police headquarters at once the police phones have carried an unusual load of such reports.

It is well known that a common technique is to call a house marked for robbery and if no answer comes the coast is presumably clear for action. The Chief's suggestion has developed the fact that there are an unusual number of such unexplained calls coming in. He urges that the citizens continue the practice even though nothing comes of 99 out of 100 calls. He also asks that any unusual circumstance in telephone calls or

Alger House Backers Hold Long Meeting

Mechanics of Township's Taking Over of Property Being Ironed Out

A two-hour meeting on the Alger House war memorial question was held in the Detroit Club at 12:30 Tuesday noon, December 21. Those in attendance were President James K. Watkins of the Farms and Renville Wheat of the Farms; Carl Schweikart, supervisor of Grosse Pointe Township; Alger Sheldon, president of the Memorial Fund Association; and Attorney Jules Berns, the attorney of the Township.

All of those present at the meeting addressed themselves earnestly to the purpose of securing Alger House for a war memorial.

Prospects Good
As one of those present said an hour after the meeting "the prospects look mighty good."

It was agreed by all that the plan must be worked out legally perfect in every detail before the Township and the Memorial Association solicit the gift of Alger House from the heirs for the people of Grosse Pointe.

No More Fiasco
They are determined that there shall be no repetition of the fiasco which followed the tender of the property to the Board of Education a few weeks ago, which led to so much disappointment and recrimination among the people and the School Board and the advocates of a memorial library.

Under a ruling of the Federal Communications Bureau, the present AM systems must be replaced by FM systems by 1950.

Holdup Attempt Clues Nebulous
As Camiel Tavery of 1339 Maryland was walking peacefully if uncertainly, on Charlevoix near Maryland at 10:30 p.m. on December 18, he was set upon by three girls who announced: "This is a holdup."

He later told the police he thought it was a joke at first but when they crowded around him in bellicose attitude he took a blind crack at the nearest one and the other three scampered away.

He acknowledged to the police he had had—well, maybe seven or eight snifters of holiday cheer and his powers of observation were somewhat dulled.

He couldn't remember any visible guns; didn't even know whether they were good looking, a query which the Park police conscientiously put. He thought they were about 19 or 20 years old.

Car Stolen in B. and E. Abandoned in GP Farms
A car stolen during a breaking and entering of a grocery store in Mt. Clemens, was found abandoned in Moran road, Grosse Pointe Farms, early in the morning of Dec. 18.

The keys had been left hanging in the car. The Macomb County Sheriff's Office was notified and Officer R. J. Pearsall picked up the car here.

Burst of Speed Ends in Hospital

Three boys in a car tried a burst of speed west bound on Windmill Pointe drive at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night, Dec. 18, and between Bonshire and Tombley jumped the curb and upset.

Donald Followfield, 17, of 2150 Philip, Richard Petre, 16, of 6311 Miller, and John Schotko, 18, of 8106 Peter Smith street, were taken to Bon Secours Hospital and patched up for miscellaneous cuts and scratches and dislocations. Schotko, as the driver of the car, got the ticket.

 that citizens be cautious about answering their doorbells at night time. It takes only a moment to inquire "who is there?" and then be satisfied with the answer before admitting the caller. Such a precaution might have saved the life of the 71-year old man who was robbed and bludgeoned to death in his home at 9185 Hayes, Detroit, on Monday night.

In recent days four young men unknown in the community have been going around in the Woods late at night, apparently peddling Christmas wreaths. They were driving a truck which belongs to a well known cleaning firm in the Detroit area. As a matter of precaution the Woods police picked them up for interrogation.

They were able to show a limited number of wreaths in their truck. But the chief was unconvinced and as a further precaution asked the Detroit police to send out men from their detective bureau to give them the once over. This was done, but the Detroit men were unable to pick out any of them as 'wanted', in the improvised line-up.

When the young fellows were released it was with binding instructions to cease trying to sell in the village after nightfall.

Officials Pleased
 The township officials were highly pleased by the presence of the Woods Councilmen, who they said were the first councilmanic body to make a personal examination of their radio station and try to become acquainted with what the station had and what it did. They claimed that the other Pointe municipalities had never taken the trouble to learn for themselves what the present system did or how it worked.

 The township officials insisted that the present system would do everything the proposed installation would do and in addition had in being equipment costing many thousands of dollars that was already paid for. They even had, they stated, some of the new FM equipment which must be installed by January 1, 1951, as ordered by the FCC.

Special Farms Committee Ends Big Pension Plan Job

Revisions Recommended In Final Report Accepted By Village Board of Trustees; Advertised in This Issue

Important changes in the Firemen and Policemen Pension plan for the Farms village have been worked out during the past year by a special committee which has labored long hours on the project. A. G. Gabriel, of Detroit an expert on the actuarial figures which form the basis for the plan, collaborated with the committee on the task.

Accepted by Board
The report itself was formally presented to the Board of Trustees on November 10 and was officially accepted by the Board on Dec. 14.

In accepting the report the Board of Trustees adopted a resolution extending its thanks to the citizen members of the Pension Plan study; Messrs. Glenn M. Coulter and John N. Lord.

600 Kids Feted By Kiwanis Club At Xmas Party

The Kiwanis Club of Grosse Pointe held its annual Christmas party for the children of Grosse Pointe Woods Saturday afternoon. An estimated 600 children under 12 years of age and 100 parents attended the festivities that were held at Mason School.

The children were entertained by cartoon movies and sport shorts, a magician, balloons and candy, which included chocolate Santa Clauses. The entertainment was under the direction of Arnold "Blitz" Diering.

The Sea Scouts of Grosse Pointe Woods were at the party in full dress uniform to keep the kiddies in order. The scouts are led by Skipper Werner Von Allman. Assistant Skipper Byron Runde and Mate Jerry Foley.

Among those present for the party were: President George Coe, Vice President Neil Huyskeus, former President Ben Brothers, and many other active Kiwanians and their wives, including Don Goodwin, Lieutenant Governor of the Kiwanis Clubs of District Seven.

Reckless Drivers Pay Up in Court

In Park Police Court on Dec. 15 Judge C. Joseph Belanger disposed of the following cases:

Lila Helen Neal of 1494 St. Clair, Detroit, for entering an intersection on Nov. 24 without due care and caution, causing an accident, pled guilty but because of her previous good record was only fined $10 with $5 costs.

Evelyn Treadwell, of 1337 Berkshire, involved in the same accident, was adjudged not guilty and dismissed.

W. E. Booth of 22600 Overlake drive, St. Clair Shores, for driving without due care and caution, resulting in an accident at Mack and Bishop, was fined $10 and $5 costs. He was given 30 days within which to make restitution for damage to property.

Mary Lynch of 1405 Devonshire, for driving without due care and caution, causing an accident at Devonshire and Buckingham, was fined $20 and $5 costs.

Jack De Cuenick, of 10008 Rademacher, Detroit, for driving with a revoked license was fined $15 and $5 costs and it was recommended by the Court to license be carried on for six months additional on the expiration of the present revocation period. For speeding on Jefferson he was given an additional fine of $10 and $5 costs.

Elsie Bertha Blome, 844 Bedford, for driving without due care and caution on Essex and Berkshire, causing an accident, was fined $15 and $5. Nicholas Ricci, 4753 Mitchell, Detroit, involved in the same accident, was fined $20 and $5 costs.

Health Commissioner Lauds Pointe Food Establishments

Dr. Thomas S. Davies, Grosse Pointe Health Commissioner, says that he tries to visit every food store in the Pointe once each week. In recent weeks he has been making these inspections on Thursdays, when he is accompanied by one of the state inspectors. They make a thorough examination of all places where food is sold, and the general sanitary regulations where food is handled for sale or sold via restaurant tables.

Encountering a NEWS writer late last Thursday afternoon the doctor was in special good humor over the results of his inspections that day. He said he doubted whether there was another community in the whole country where a higher order of sanitary service was in practice in the handling of foods and in the quality of food products sold.

He said the people of Grosse Pointe can be congratulated on the general average condition of their food emporia.

He mentioned that that day the net result of their inspection was to find a single case of eggs that were unlabeled. This is a legal rather than a sanitary violation

Farms Divides Village Duties

Duties which were performed by the late Theodore Beaupre, building inspector and pier superintendent of Grosse Farms, were reassigned at a special meeting of the village trustees on December 14.

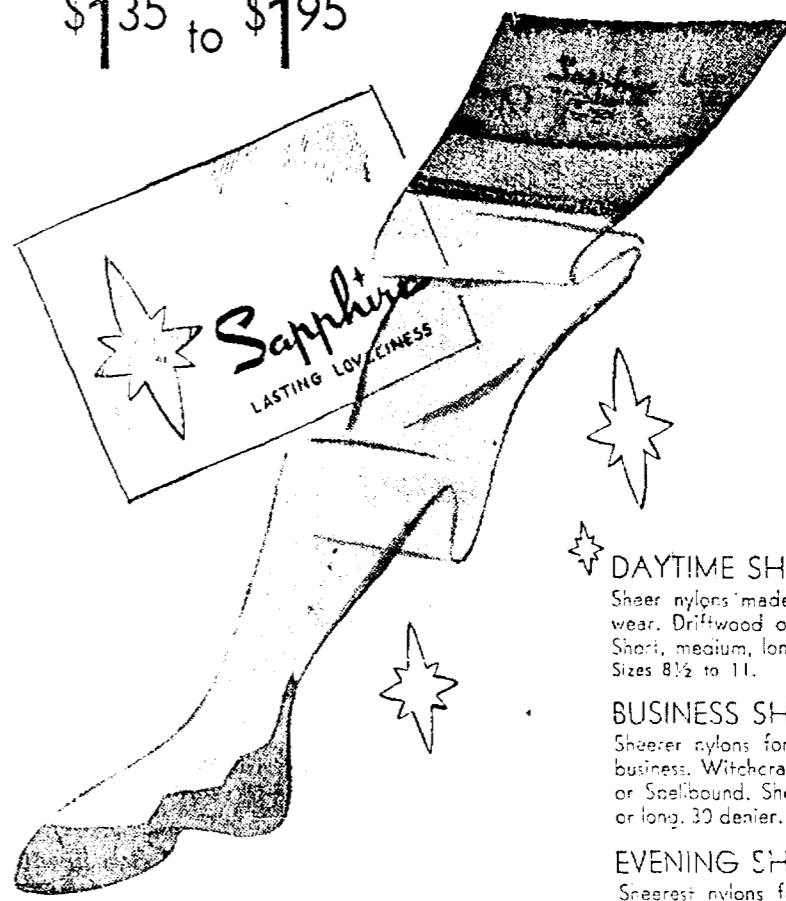

Mr. Beaupre was stricken with a heart attack and died at the municipal beach on November 13. All building activities formerly handled by Mr. Beaupre have been transferred to the Engineering Department and Murray Smith, Village Engineer, has been authorized to obtain an assistant to help handle these duties.

All recreational activities which were formerly under Mr. Beaupre's jurisdiction have been turned over to Clerk Harry Furton's office.

Hit-Run Driver Of Truck Sought

Robert Butt, of 1330 Maiden, Detroit, reported at the Park police station at 7:35 p.m. on Dec. 17 that while his car was parked in front of 1007 Notingham it had been struck by a hit-run driver.

Some unknown party who had witnessed the accident had left a note on his windshield saying his car had been struck by an oil tank truck.

He had not gotten the number of the truck, however, so the police are on the hunt for an oil truck of unknown description.

Police Keep Eye On Strange Trio

The same three strange women, each carrying large shopping bags, whose presence in the shopping district on Kercheval disturbed the merchants a couple of weeks ago, reappeared on the avenue again Monday, December 20.

There was no occasion for the police to interrogate them but the merchants were alerted to observe their movements carefully.

The three women were totally unknown to the police or any of the mercantile houses on the avenue.

The police were suspicious that they might be members of the light fingered sorority which mingles with the holiday crowds during the heavy shopping season.

George Washington breakfasted on three small Indian hot cakes and three cups of tea.

Three Car Tangle Occurs on Mack

Three cars figured in an accident which did an estimated $315 worth of damage at Mack and Lexington at 4 p.m. on Dec. 13.

William L. Heidin of 10522 East Vernor Highway, Detroit, was driving his Ford east on Mack and stopped to avoid hitting a car that was making a left turn off Mack.

John F. Sault of Mt. Clemens stopped his Pontiac behind Heidin, then was hit in the rear by a Plymouth being driven east on Mack also, by Stanley A. Clair Shores.

The Pontiac was pushed into the rear of the Ford, which suffered the least of the damage, about $15 worth. The Pontiac and Plymouth each took a beating to the extent of $150.

All parties are insured and no tickets were issued by Farms Patrolman Lyford, who investigated the crash.

HITS STREET SIGN

Lovell B. Walters of 314 Hillcrest, when driving east on Lake Shore road at 7 p.m. on Dec. 20, ran into the sign where the double road begins on Lake Shore. He pushed the sign aside, without damage to the sign, but damaged the front of his car to the extent of $25.

Promotion Given Andrew K. Foulds

Andrew K. Foulds, of Rivard boulevard, City of Grosse Pointe, patent counsel for two of the subsidiaries of the American Radiator & Standard Corporation, has been appointed patent counsel for the entire corporation, according to an announcement made by Theodore E. Mueller, president. The appointment is effective immediately.

Mr. Foulds is a native of Passaic, N.J. He received degrees in science and mechanical engineering from Rutgers University, and a bachelor of laws degree from Georgetown University.

From 1922 to 1925 Mr. Foulds was an examiner in the United States patent office in Washington, then joined Ashley & Foulds, a New York law firm in which his father was a partner. In 1926 he became associated with the patent department of the American Radiator Company, New York, a predecessor company of American Standard.

In 1932, Mr. Foulds joined the Detroit Lubricator Company, Detroit, an American Standard subsidiary, as patent counsel. He subsequently held the same position simultaneously in the American Blower Corporation, another subsidiary.

Mr. Foulds is a past president of the Michigan Patent Law Association, a member of the American Patent Law Association and the patent section of the American Bar Association. He served in the infantry during the first world war.

Fighter Pilot Now Operates Bustling Airline in Orient

Captain Wilber Robert Brucker, late of the U. S. Army Air Corps, of Meridian, Miss., who has been visiting his uncle, former Governor Wilber Brucker and Mrs. Brucker for the past week, left on December 16.

Captain Brucker is on his way back to Manila, where he and four former associates who were all pilots of P-51s during the war are operating an air line between Hong Kong, Bangkok, Siam, and Manila.

Fighter Pilot in War

He had a distinguished career as a fighter pilot during the war, serving four years in the Pacific area. He is 31 years old now and is the wearer of many honors and decorations.

Among his unique associations with the war he is a member of the "Tokyo Club," membership in which requires at least five combat flights over Tokyo. The captain had eight to his credit.

Brother With Ike

While he was fighting and protecting bombers in the Pacific area his older brother, Wallace, was serving in Europe as a colonel on the staff of General Eisenhower.

When the war ended he and four other fighter pilots conceived the idea there would soon be a profitable field for commercial flying in that nook of the world and, having flying in their blood, they formed their profitable commercial line.

Started on Shoestring

He said they started on a shoestring but managed to get hold of five planes, operating four of them and keeping one in reserve. They now operate eight planes.

When they first started their commercial venture his wife acted as hostess of one of the planes but has since retired from this duty. Captain Brucker himself is the president and general manager of the line.

Celebrated Fourth

Referring to memorable incidents of his career in the air fighter service he recalled that on the last Fourth of July of the war with the Japs they decided the enemy should be given a taste of what Uncle Sam's fireworks really meant, and that day they gave the Jap capital a terrible shelling.

Impound Ballots In Senate Fight

Don Goodrow, the Clerk of Grosse Pointe township, received a telegram on Thursday morning, Dec. 16, from William E. Jenner of Washington, chairman of the sub-committee of the Senate on Privileges and Elections, directing him to impound all ballots in the recent Senatorial election in Michigan in his township.

Senator Ferguson's election was certified on December 10, and under the law all ballots may be destroyed within seven days of the certification of election. The telegram from Washington met the deadline with only twenty-four hours to spare.

PROWLER CALL

Farms police investigated a prowler call at 276 Lewiston road at 2:52 a.m. on Dec. 18, but could find no one about the premises.

Maid Succumbs To Heart Attack

The Farms police ambulance was used on Dec. 18 to take Mrs. Dora Jenkins, colored maid employed at the George Heffernan residence at 109 Merriweather road, to Cottage Hospital. She had been stricken with a heart attack.

Mrs. Jenkins died Sunday evening, Dec. 19. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, with burial in Sycamore, Ill.

She had been employed by the Heffernans for the last six years. Mrs. Jenkins was alone in the house at the time of the attack. She was able to call the Farms police. Sgt. Allard and Patrolmen Boylan, Yacks and Sylvester took her to the hospital.

The owner of a boxer dog which leaped against a fence at 255 Moran road and broke the gate, told the Farms police he will pay for the repairs.

Escapes Serious Injury in Crash

Mrs. Victor H. Wehmeier of Gradyon road had a narrow escape from serious injury in a freak accident caused by Sunday's snow on Lake Shore road.

Mrs. A. B. Hartz, of 861 Lake Shore road, was driving her car west on Lake Shore in front of St. Paul's Church at 11 a.m. when she saw Mrs. Wehmeier step out from between two parked cars. She applied her brakes and her car went into a skid.

The Hartz car rammed into the rear of the Wehmeier car parked at the curb. Mrs. Wehmeier, who was standing in front of her car, was caught between its front bumper and the rear bumper of the car in front.

She escaped with a slight injury to her right leg. Officers Snow and Van Tien of the farms police investigated. No tickets were issued.

Treated at Bon Secours Following Auto Accident

Mrs. Eleanor Parker of 22033 Gaulker road, St. Clair Shores, figured in an automobile accident on the Detroit side of Mack near Rivard on Dec. 18.

Grosse Pointe City police happening along immediately after the accident took her to Bon Secours hospital where she was treated for cuts on her lip and a bruised nose.

GASOLINE IGNITES

A slight fire was caused at the Beaupre-Shannon service station at 18184 Mack avenue at noon on December 18, from igniting some gasoline on the floor. It was extinguished by the City firemen before serious damage was done.

Christianity's World View

The 1948th anniversary of the Christian era does not disclose the gloomy picture of the world which so many see. It is only by an overall view of the scene that the true perspective can be had. It is only from this stage that the mighty and indestructible moral forces which Christianity brought into the world stand revealed. In this view and this enlightened understanding there is with countless millions of the followers of the Christ a veritable exaltation.

When the communist state of modern Russia was established a generation ago it was the first attempt in history to found a state on a corner stone of atheism.

Since that day we have seen the persistent attempt of this government to prosecute, with its own people and throughout the world, a scheme of life which is wholly materialistic; cynically proclaiming its independence of those spiritual and moral forces which can be based only upon the lasting foundation of a religion which proclaims a belief in a Supreme Being and its interpretation of His Purpose by His Legate upon Earth. The Russian purpose runs counter to every impulse of the human heart. It is a puny and pathetic gesture to oppose, even temporarily, the spiritual progress of the human race.

This anniversary of the birth of The Christ is an appropriate moment for His followers to appraise the situation.

At the end of the second of two great wars which were brought upon the world, largely by the World's wanderings from His precepts, we have started a great organization which seeks to bring to mankind the peace which the Great Prince of Peace first proclaimed more than Nineteen Hundred and Fifty years ago.

America, at the moment the most able of the great Christian states, is putting into effect His precepts by helping to bind up the self inflicted wounds of mankind by sharing our abundance with those who are stricken and reeling. All of these material ministrations to suffering humanity which we are sending over the seven seas are the visible evidence of His teachings. They carry a lesson which cannot be long ignored. America and other CHRISTIAN states are standing firm on every front where the attack is heaviest. The Cross of Christ is planted there and there it will continue to stand.

Under American leadership the Christian states of the world stand at Armageddon and battle for the Lord.

To question the outcome is to have doubt of the ultimate triumph of the principles of Christianity.

The Pointe Wants Alger House

What started as a nebulous idea for the erection of some kind of memorial to the men of Grosse Pointe who served and died in the second World War, later took the form of a public library as the vehicle of the memorial and then came around to the rejection of the Alger House property by the Board of Education for the site of the library, has at last come down to the preservation of this fine property as the ultimate memorial.

The whole program has been beset with difficulties and misunderstandings. The campaign to raise the funds was a failure whether for lack of a sufficient buildup or the need of greater earnestness on the part of the people of Grosse Pointe to honor their soldier dead cannot be determined. That is water over the dam now.

When the Alger House decision came to be made, possibly our Board of Education took too narrow view of the enterprise. We must respect however their responsibility as dispensers of public moneys which impelled them to the view that the property had to be administered as a 'school library' rather than as a memorial and moved them to accept the adverse opinion of their professional advisers.

Public opinion, however, on one point stands out crystal clear. It wants this beautiful property preserved to this community. It is also united in the opinion that it should be a memorial of some kind to our war dead. Just how this is to be arranged has not yet been determined. The general impression is that the whole property should be in itself a memorial, with its gradual development as a beautiful civic center for the Grosse Pointe community.

The offer of Grosse Pointe Township to accept it, so holding it for the benefit of the people here for further development, seemed like a timely move.

This however has also run into complications. The threat that was put out at the Neighborhood club meeting that the Farms village might withdraw from the township and that with other villages also withdrawing there might not be any township left, has thrown further monkey wrenches into the program. This threat seems to have been further strengthened by the fact that a petition is already in circulation for a special election in the Farms to decide on setting up a city structure. The fact that the Alger House property is in the Farms village further roils the situation.

The people of Grosse Pointe however will not be content to have mere local squabbles, which have more or less of a political tinge, stand as a barrier between them and the possession of this magnificent property.

It is reported that this question is now being considered by responsible officials of the Farms, the Township and of the war memorial fund which has carried the memorial banner thus far.

Another angle of the situation which has not been settled is whether or not the heirs of the Alger property will be willing to again repeat an offer which has already been spurned once by an official body of the Pointe.

The people of the Pointe are watching proceedings with an interest which grows keener daily.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"All we want for Christmas is . . .
To keep the two front teeth we have!"

There are in Grosse Pointe, a gentleman and a lady, both happily married BUT they ought to be married to each other because they certainly speak the same language, so to speak. The gentleman, a graduate of one of the big Eastern Colleges (whose name, for the College's sake, we will not mention), has been known to come out with some of the garl-donndest pronouncements ever heard outside of Mars. To name just a few of his better known words: Henry Gibson (for Henrik Ibsen); Lowenstoff (for Lowestoft); Cher-O-kee Indian (for Cherokee); and Byron, Kelly and Sheets (for Byron, Skelley and Keats).

The lady in question has gotten off such gems as, "The book is full of pornography"; Sy-ox City (for Sioux City); naval passages (for nostrils); and "He was stroke on the Yale Football Team!"

On the other end of the stick . . . we have just heard two very clever expressions that we wish we had thought of first. One came from Mrs. George O. Johnston, who credits an out-of-town guest with this: One evening at dinner, he broke into some sort of meat concoction and found, to his surprise, a marshmallow buried deep in the middle . . . whereupon he ejaculated, "Ah! a gastronomic booby trap!"

The other we have to thank John Carlisle for . . . who in turn thanks his Doctor. It seems that between columns, the great Carlisle (sounds like a magician) had to have a series of shots for a cold. He had the shots you-know-where . . . the place the Doctor referred to as his "penicillin dart board!"

A woman who does some occasional shopping in New York (traitor that she is), recently gave quite a large order to one of the biggah and bettah stores there; received the order and promptly paid her bill. This week, looking among the myriad Christmas cards she received was the following letter (in part) from the store, which we shall call "Altadines" just for heck:

"Dear Mrs. Schmoor:
We have missed you at Altadines! It is always a matter of great concern to us when a good customer like yourself discontinues the use of a charge account. The fact that you have not been using yours lately is a challenge to our pride and we are most anxious to sustain your interest in our establishment. That is why we are sending you this little reminder that your account is still available and awaiting your use.
Cordially,
signed,
(The only way our heroine can figure it out is that the merchant, the gent who signed the letter, hasn't been in the buying department lately.)

Speaking of letters, we received one today from Mr. Busher, the horse we wrote an open letter to last week. We didn't know a horse could be so "wordy" but since WE had to plow through it, you might as well. Here it is:

"Grosse Pointe News,
Attention A. Tout.
Dear Sir:

One of my publicity agents called my attention to your column in which you had the crust to write me an open letter. So I should run my legs off all winter to be in shape next May to make your prediction come true and possibly double your circulation!

"It may interest you to know that I intend to take things very easy this winter. In fact I have engaged a stall for Mrs. Busber and myself in California. Mrs. Arden wants me to start in the Santa Anita Derby in February . . . that's what SHE wants for a hundred gees for HER, she's not rich enough! Well, maybe I'll start and maybe I won't.

"It is probably of little concern to you or to her that I hurt my foot in Chicago last summer; it wasn't enough that I had won the Arlington Futurity . . . she had to start me in the Washington Futurity, too, and I had told my trainer I wasn't feeling my oats. Ever since, I've been recuperating on a tiny farm in South Carolina that's just like living in a stable. My foot is somewhat better . . . but the Vets want to treat it and the Surgeons want to operate . . . you know how those guys are!

"I further noted in your letter that you like my face. It wouldn't surprise me if our faces had a lot in common (yours and mine), and from the bad manners you display in writing me an open letter . . . you probably do more than just peer into a feed bag. If my poor grandfather, Man O'War, were alive today he would tell you a thing or two. You tell me to stick my neck out . . . I think you did that for both of us!

Pari-Mutually yours,
Mr. Busher."

"P.S.—If you can get a little at twenty to one . . . put a fin on for me and all will be forgiven. Please excuse this writing as I'm up to my neck in hay and coldcream."

Chiang's Low Estate

There is a deep contrast between the reception given Madam Chiang Kai Shek on her previous visit to the United States and that which she has encountered now. Then the gifted lady made a profound impression on Congress and substantial help was voted for her distinguished husband. This time she was accorded nothing more than scant courtesy and, apparently, no help at all.

The whole Chinese situation seems to have come down to the hard fact that opinion now seems to be that we backed the wrong horse. This thought seems to take two angles; either Chiang is not a capable leader, even when backed with the substantial aid we have already given, or, that he is a poor champion of democracy either in belief or practice. Rumors have multiplied that corruption and tyranny is rampant in China and that Chiang is ill fitted either by disposition or antecedents to be a capable leader of a people to fight communism. Oppression of one class and favoritism towards another is poor armor for a champion of democracy.

There is a natural inquiry also why General Marshall and other American leaders in China were so long in discovering this situation.

Now the Chinese situation has degenerated to a point where it is reported that President Truman has suggested to Chiang that he should resign and give someone else a chance to offer more capable leadership.

To the Editor:
Men Only, Eh?
I salute the Grosse Pointe merchants behind the idea of a night for the men to do their Christmas shopping.

What happened?
In two of our Grosse Pointe stores I stood for a quarter of an hour each, trying to complete my shopping. I was too timid to insist on my advertised rights and elbow my way past the "lady" element present.

Sir, we love our wives and sweethearts, but can't they read your paper and abide by the signs in the windows, and allow us one three-hour period in every 365 days to make them happy on Christmas Day?

FACTS ABOUT PNEUMONIA

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.
Pneumonia often goes hand in hand with a serious illness because it thrives where resistance is low. Many times too, it follows a mild sickness such as sore throat, gripe, or a cold, and for the same reason.

Deaths from this disease have been miraculously reduced. Now the physician need no longer stand by awaiting the crisis he has the tools with which to fight . . . sulfa and penicillin.

But despite the power of these drugs the death rate from pneumonia is still great for many people wait too long before calling the doctor. Ever ready to supply your doctor with these miracle drugs is the dependable, quality druggist.

She made her debut at a tea in the Grosse Pointe Club in June 1947. She is a member of Sigma Gamma and the Dobbs Ferry Alumnae Association.

The bridegroom-elect is Richard Russell Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Anderson of Bloomington. Dick was graduated from Bloomington High School and the University of Iowa. He is a member of Sigma Chi and is engaged in business in Bloomington.

The wedding is to be in April.

Sally Thomas Bride Of Swift H. Godshalk

Ceremony in Memorial Church Followed by Reception in Country Club; Couple Honeymooning In New York Over Holidays.

A candlelight service at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church united in marriage Sally Thomas and Swift H. Godshalk, of Boston, Mass. Dr. Frank Fitt heard the exchange of vows. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Merriweather road.

Sally's gown of camellia white satin had a high neckline with round collar of French lace, and a polonaise caught up to form a double drape in back. A cloche of French lace held her silk tulle veil, which extended beyond the full length cathedral train. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and white orchids.

Nine attendants preceded the bride up the aisle. Mrs. Edward Wheeler Thomas, of Lexington, Va., was her sister-in-law's matron of honor. Sally Sears came from Omaha, Neb., to be Sally's honor maid. They wore holiday white taffeta gowns of simple design, with deep oval necklines, cap sleeves and bands of white taffeta forming scroll effects in the full skirts. They carried Christmas red carnations in cascade bouquets and wore wreaths of red carnations tied with red velvet streamers.

Identically gowned were bridesmaids Betty Bliss, Noel Baker, Miriam Aarons, Nancy Wensinger and Prim Groch. Judith and Margaret Moran, cousins of the bridegroom, were junior bridesmaids. Their frocks were like those of the other attendants, but in red. Their flowerers were white carnations and they wore wreaths of the same flowers tied with white velvet streamers.

Swift's best man was Franklin W. L. Miles, Jr., of Boston. Ushers included Sally's two brothers, Edward Wheeler Thomas, of Lexington, and Ralph Thomas, Jr., William DuPont Dahling, Joseph Dacey, Homer Redman, of Shaker Heights, O.; Richard Spaulding, of Hartford City, O., and Robert Smith, of South Orange, N. J.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. David P. Delano, came from her home in East Orleans, Cape Cod, Mass., for the wedding. The dress which she wore for the ceremony and the Country Club reception was brown lace over melon taffeta. Her brown malmie hat was trimmed with ostrich tips and she wore brown orchids.

Mrs. Thomas chose a gown of emerald green satin for her daughter's wedding, the draped skirt falling into a short train. A white flower trimmed her malmie capeau and she pinned green orchids to her white broadened bag.

The newlyweds will spend their holiday honeymoon in New York. They will make their home at Wellesley Farms, until Swift graduates in June from Babson Institute.

D'Arleene Brink Wed To Linus W. Llewellyn

Couple Honeymooning in Florida Following Saturday Marriage in Double Ring Candlelight Ceremony

A Florida honeymoon followed the Saturday marriage of D'Arleene Brink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Brink of Berkshire road, and Linus William Llewellyn. The couple spoke their vows at a double ring candlelight ceremony in Central Woodward Christian Church.

The bride chose an ivory satin gown trimmed with heirloom rosepointe lace. Applied lace touched the sheer yoke of the deep oval neckline and the wrists of the long fitted sleeves. A full straight front skirt and two puffs at the hipline which extended into a cathedral train were other features of the dress.

Her satin helmet was applied with rosepointe lace and she wore a full-length veil of ivory tulle. A white orchid centered the bridal bouquet of white stephanotis.

Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald, of Long Island, N. Y., and Tilda Thomas, of Chattanooga, Tenn., the honor attendants, were gowned in brocade pink silk tulle. They wore clusters of white carnations and stephanotis in their hair and carried matching bouquets of the same flowers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bill Brink, Mrs. John Brink and Mrs. Glenn Brink, of La Jolla, Calif., sisters-in-law of the bride, and Marjorie Nevens, Virginia Morton and Betty Funk, of Louisville, Ky. They wore dresses of royal blue sapphire and their flowers were pink carnations and stephanotis.

Small Nancy Brink, the bride's niece, wore a long white organza dress with lace edging the collar and short puff sleeves for her role as flower girl. Her headpiece was a halo of white stephanotis and she carried a miniature bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis. Barry Brink was the ring bearer.

William Halliday, of Columbus, O., served as best man. Bill John and Glenn Brink; Yandell Smith, of Louisville, Ky.; Bill Thomas and Gordon Smith, of Chattanooga, and Richard Schmidt seated the guests. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Carl Powell

Congregational Church Students Visit Temple

The children of the Junior Department of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church School have just completed a quarterly study of the early life of Jesus.

Their devotional theme for the same period was "My Brother," which included the study of all races. The climax of their study came when the children experienced a visit to Temple Bethel where they attended a Jewish service for Junior members conducted by Rabbi Akselard.

The Rabbi guided the Pointe children through the Temple and explained the many symbols of the Jewish religion. The visit was under the direction of Mrs. Alton Huntington, director of the Junior department.

The 42 children traveled by a chartered bus and were accompanied by Mrs. Howard Reed, Mrs. Wilmot Swindelhurst, Mrs. C. W. Scheid, Mrs. C. G. Schepel, Mrs. and Mrs. William McGregor, Mr. David Burgess, teachers, and Mr. Don Lester, Church School Superintendent.

 The Great Moment at the party... was that moment when beautiful little Joan LeGro (daughter of Mrs. Young LeGro) lifted her baby voice in Silent Night... we are among her most ardent audience... and admit the tears fell freely as all the beauty of Christmas time filled that great lounge in her song...
 Assisting Miss Foster at the party were several charmers from her older classes... These included Mary Johnson... Carlotta McKinney... Susan Senff... Ann Watson... Cynthia LaFond... and sub deb Joan LeGro...
 It was almost like a little May party... and to all Foster boys and girls as much a part of dancing school days... as the March of the Toys...

Congregational Church Holding Party Tonight

The Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Family Christmas party will be Thursday evening, December 23, at 7:15 p. m. in Richard School.

The program this year, under the direction of Mrs. Alton Huntington, and Mrs. Leonard Slown, will consist of scenes portraying the Nativity, enacted by members of the church school. Music by the Senior and Junior choirs will accompany the tableaux. A new Marionette show, "The Silver Fish," will be presented by Meredith Bixby.

The Congregational Santa will not follow the tradition of distributing a gift to each child, but will be on hand to receive their gifts of good used clothing which will be brought by everyone and presented to Santa by the Church School Superintendent, Mr. Don Lester, who will later help Santa to send the clothing to the needy boys and girls of Europe. Santa will stay just long enough to lead the family groups to the social hall for refreshments and community singing of Christmas carols.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Rex Regan, Mrs. Adam Cook, Mrs. Sam Toepel, Mrs. Harry Kyzivat, Mrs. Eugene Culp, Mrs. Ralph Jones, and Mrs. E. N. Benedict.

Merry Christmas

Christmas is a frame of mind
 Just look about and you will find that some folks live in such a way
 They have a Christmas every day.

For them the Christmas bells do ring,
 for them the Christmas carolers sing
 Not once, but over and again
 Of Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men.

Police Chiefs Issue Plea For Tragedy-Free Holidays

"Be careful in driving and walking."

This suggestion comes from the chiefs of Grosse Pointe Police as part of the December traffic safety program that emphasizes the holiday traffic hazards.

The chiefs of police said this is the season to be wary, as well. Traffic deaths usually reach the highest point of the year during the December holiday season. According to the National Safety Council, 3,190 persons were killed nationwide during December last year in traffic accidents alone.

Seasonal Hazards
The chiefs pointed out that seasonal hazards contribute largely to this toll. The winter months mean earlier darkness and reduced visibility. Three out of five fatal accidents occur at night, they say.

Bad winter weather, ice and snow are other seasonal hazards. Pointing to a public opinion survey conducted for the National Committee on Traffic Safety on the subject of the public's attitude on traffic safety. The chiefs said the average person thinks that driving while drinking is the greatest single cause of traffic accidents.

"While no special statistics are available on alcohol in relation to holiday accidents," they say, "it is significant that 1947 state reports show one out of five drivers involved in fatal accidents, and one out of four adult pedestrians killed in traffic accidents, had been drinking."

No Alcohol
"We must not let holiday spirits of the liquid variety dampen the real holiday spirit. Alcohol days too often become tragic days to remember."

The special emphasis program for fewer holiday traffic accidents and deaths is part of a continuing safety educational program coordinated by the chiefs of Grosse Pointe, and sponsored nationally by the National Safety Council.

Tapioca Dresses Up for Dessert

Quick cooking tapioca is back! This is an old friend known to all of us except perhaps the less-than five year old youngsters who have not had the opportunity to become acquainted with this popular dessert.

Quick cooking tapioca provides infinite variety. Tapioca Cream, of course, is its most popular use and that recipe is given right on the familiar red, white and blue box you'll soon be seeing on your grocer's shelf! To dress this dessert up, and make it more colorful, also, to add nutritive foods, try serving it with special additions.

For instance, Tapioca Cream with chocolate sauce makes a superb chocolate sundae which is especially popular with young folks. Then you can serve tapioca with any fruit—fresh, canned, or frozen. With bananas, it's particularly delightful; with orange sections, too. Cherries, blueberries, blackberries, peaches... all are good with tapioca. And if you have no fruit available and you want to dress up tapioca in a hurry, put a spoonful of jam or jelly in the middle of the serving. It's quick, easy, and gay. All things which appeal to busy mothers and hungry children.

And here's a brand new tapioca treat for you to try!

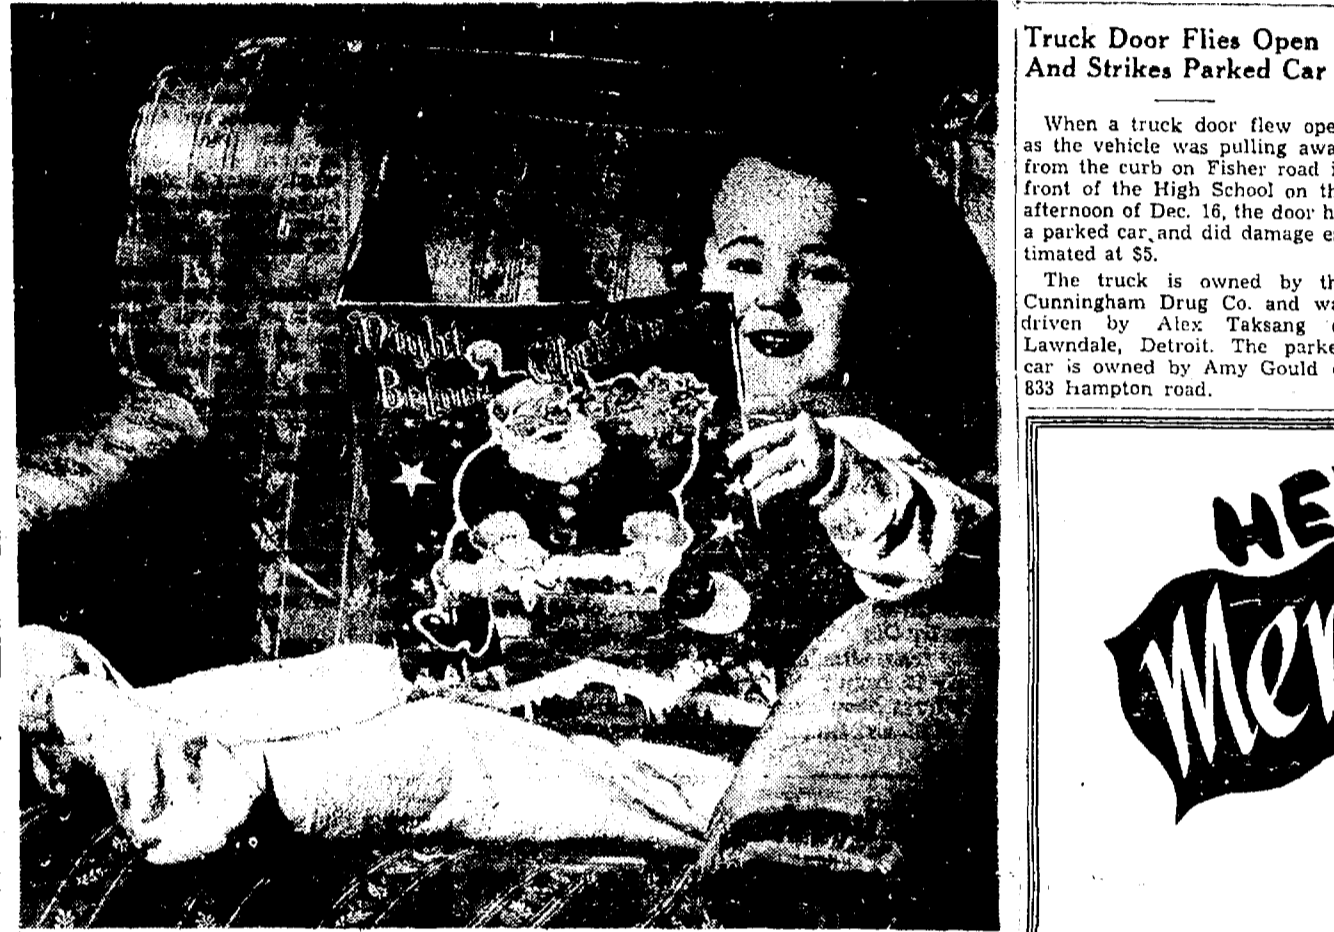

BAKED APPLE RING
1/2 cup quick cooking tapioca
6 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

1/2 teaspoon mace
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups water
2 tart red apples
1/2 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
Combine quick-cooking tapioca, 3 tablespoons brown sugar, granulated sugar, salt, spices, lemon rind, juice, and water in saucepan and mix well. Bring quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Core unpeeled apples and cut crosswise into 1/4-inch slices (makes about 10 slices). Cover bottom of greased glass baking dish with half of the rings. Pour tapioca mixture over apples in baking dish. Cream butter, add remaining brown sugar and flour, and mix well. Spread mixture over tops of remaining apple rings. Arrange apple rings, sugar-side up, on top of tapioca. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 30 minutes, or until apples are tender and browned. If necessary, place under broiler to finish browning. Serve warm, plain or with cream. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cheap Meat Cuts Can Be Delicious

Recently a rash butcher blamed the American housewife for the high price of meat by saying that she didn't know how to cook cheaper cuts so demanded only steaks and chops.

The Red Feather Visiting Housekeeper gives you here, ladies, some recipes to help prove that butcher wrong.

Beef Biscuit Roll
Stretch your budget with this tasty roll made with ground meat. Combine one pound of ground meat with ground vegetables such as carrots, onions and potatoes and spread on a rectangle of biscuit dough. Roll like a jelly roll and fasten ends together to keep filling from falling out. Place in a shallow baking pan and bake 40 minutes at 425 degrees until well-browned. Serves a family of six.

Pot Roast
The old standby, pot roast goes glamorous if seasoned with horseradish, Worcestershire sauce, garlic, chili sauce and herbs, parsley or celery tops. One or more of these seasonings can be used to liven up the old favorite. The liquid used in the pot roast may be sour cream or tomato juice instead of water for a different flavored gravy.

More suggestions to stretch the food budget:
Browned roast beef hash with grilled tomatoes.
Braised short ribs of beef with vegetables.

Hungarian goulash.
Make these meat dishes with such pieces as beef chuck, neck or flank and you will help beat the high cost of eating!

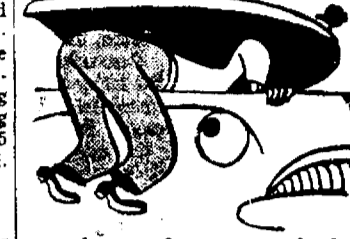

Apricots in Lime Gelatin
Use 2 cups juice drained from canned apricots as the liquid for preparing lime gelatin. Chill. When gelatin is thick, but not firm, add apricots and chill until firm. If preferred, the plain gelatin can be chilled in a ring mold and the apricots served in the center of the ring after unmolding. Top with cream cheese beaten until fluffy with a small amount of milk or cream.

Connie Comes Back A SHORT-SHORT STORY

By MAUD McCURDY WELCH

SAYING goodbye to Bill was always like this. Connie would meet his unhappy, dark eyes and she'd almost weaken. She'd almost do as she had done once before when she'd started on a vacation. She'd looked at Bill and the wistful sort of lost expression in his eyes and she'd said, "Come on, Bill, let's go home. I give up." It had been a ridiculous thing to do, but Bill laughed, given her a hug and started putting her bags back into the car. Then they were leaving the station, Bill sitting train was moving and Bill's stalwart figure had slid out of sight. "The third day after she reached Los Angeles, there was an air-mail letter from Bill. She smiled when she opened it, thinking that Bill always said the same thing in his letters. This one was no different. He wrote in that vigorous scrawl of his: "Dear-est, hurry up and get your vacation over. I'm so lonesome I stay at the office until time to go to bed at night. Tommy Longtail misses you a lot too. Every night he me-ows around the house asking me where you are. I hope you'll soon be coming back. A world of love and kisses, Your Bill."

Everyday after that Connie had a letter from Bill so much like the first one that she always smiled happily and contentedly to herself. Sometimes she thought, with a tender little giggle, that Bill just might have sent a carbon. She and Mabel had a good time going about in Mabel's car and Connie was having lots of fun, although she was getting a little homesick. Mabel teased her about it.

Then one day she had a letter from Bill that was different, so different that Connie read it with a startled gasp. It read:

"My dear little wife, I've been thinking things over, and I've come to the conclusion that you must stay in California just as long as you like. There's no reason for you to hurry home. So stay two or three weeks longer, and have yourself a splendid time. Yours, Bill."

Mabel laughed at her when she said she was going home at once. "You two kids, I never did see anybody as much in love as you are."

Connie didn't tell her about Bill's letter and what he'd said about her staying several weeks longer. This was the thing Connie simply couldn't understand. It was nice to have a vacation but home was the sweetest place on earth and when Bill didn't seem to care about her coming back so soon... well, any woman would hurry home. Bill had never been like this before in his life. He wanted her with him every possible moment, but it wasn't because he was selfish. He was the kindest, most generous man in the world. No mas-

When you've been married only two years, it's hard to say goodbye, even when one of you is just going off for a little vacation.

Bill kind, motherly Mrs. Barton, their next-door neighbor, was always saying that young couples need a little vacation from each other every so often. A woman's job of being home-maker and wife sometimes causes her to get a little stale. A woman could get just simply smothered in domesticity. Mrs. Barton said, and Connie thought that was

Of Interest To Veterans

World War II veterans holding unused certificates of eligibility for G. I. Bill education or training issued before September 1, 1948, and who are planning to enter training for the first time after January 1, 1949, should exchange them immediately for a new type of certificate.

The certificates may be exchanged in person or by mail at any VA office.

After January 1, the extent of entitlement for training of any veteran enrolling with an old certificate must, under new VA registration policies, be verified by VA before tuition and subsistence payments may be made. In ver-lying entitlement, VA must assign each enrollee a claim number and set up the initial index record for the veteran.

By exchanging the old certificates before entering training, veterans will enable VA to dispose of these actions well in advance and make possible more prompt and accurate service after training starts.

The new certificates will show each veteran the amount of training time to which he is entitled and will include claim numbers to assure speedy identification. The new certificates will be accepted by school and VA without question, whereas the old certificates are not acceptable until verified.

There will be no reduction in subsistence payments for student veterans who are out of school during the holiday recess. Veterans Administration officials in Columbus, Ohio, said recently.

Student veterans will continue to receive the full subsistence allowance to which they are entitled. The time they are on holiday vacation will be deducted from their period of eligibility.

who, where and whatnot

By whoozi

The costumes that caught our eye this week were for some reason, the costumes that were RED or GREEN, for the most part. Though we do not forget the stunning cinnamon brown suit worn by MRS. EIDSEL FORD as she lighted the great Christmas tree for Miss Annie Ward Foster's Christmas Party at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club last week. A suit so subtly cut that one just thought how simply wonderful Mrs. Ford is looking these days, and that is the epitome of attractive outfits. She wore a small cinnamon hat veiled in sculptured tulle of the same tone. Cinnamon notes were repeated in her trim pumps, her handbag and her gloves. She wore sparkling gold accessories and a milk stole.

Christmas Green colored the two piece sheer wool suit worn by MRS. WILLIAM MOORE JOY the other afternoon, and what a lovely color it is with her taffy long bob and blonde coloring. Intricate tailoring, with back of the long jacket swooping low over the hips at back, and material-covered buttons traveling down the front of the jacket distinguished the costume. She wore brown leather slippers, one strap, and carried the cunningst plaid wool roly-poly bag which held her knitting. All of which somehow belies that soft and charming impression we always have of "Tish" Joy and makes us think she is a Gal with real determination . . . for she's kept at the knitting since Fall!

The colors in a glass of still burgundy, deep Christmas red, are used in the handsome costume being worn by MRS. EDWARD WISHROPP this holiday and she's a knockout in the shade which might have been "dreamed up" specially for her brunet good looks. A burgundy wool frock peeks from beneath a costume coat of soft and rich wool. The coat is deeply yoked in black Persian lamb and completing the costume Mrs. Wishropp chooses a high, square black felt capeau.

The teacher complained bitterly to the principal that her class of young roughnecks could not read what she put on the blackboard. The principal called on the visiting psychiatrist to assist the teacher. On his arrival the psychiatrist took over the class. After a short talk to the students, the learned gentleman called for a number, "63!" shouted one of the boys, and the psychiatrist put 36 on the blackboard. Another call for a number brought "42" and 24 appeared on the blackboard. This continued for quite a while with complete attention on the part of the class and in each case the number was transposed, until one of the young doughnecks in the rear yelled, "See what you can do with 33, bub."

PAUL SLOCUMB OF LINCOLN ROAD

By Kitty Carney

Paul Slocumb will spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rolley of Lincoln road. The 27-year-old actor and playwright has been touring since September with Clare Tree Major's "Toby Tyler" or "Ten Weeks with the Circus."

Paul has the name lead in the play which is being shown to juvenile audiences in the Eastern states and Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. When "Toby" was presented in Detroit just before Thanksgiving, Mrs. Rolley entertained the 13 members of the cast at dinner. Paul's brother, Ronnie, 10, and his fellow sixth graders at Richard School also attended the play at Masonic Temple.

Studied Journalism

A graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, Paul was graduated from Washington and Lee University as a journalism major and earned his master's degree in play writing at Columbia. During his 4 1/2 years in the Army Air Force, three years of which were spent in the Pacific area, he edited the weekly service paper at Camp Lerdo, Calif. was on an Army radio program emanating from California, and served as associate editor of Brief Magazine, another serviceman's paper. After the war, Paul appeared in several plays as a member of the Laguna Beach Playhouse. Next, he studied in New York for a year with Clare Tree Major and his experience on the road, Paul is striving to obtain first-hand knowledge of play-directing and staging.

Varied Portrayals

His portrayal of 14-year-old Toby is more interesting, Paul thinks, because his last previous role was that of a man 80 years old. Mr. Stubbs, a monkey, is Paul's inseparable companion in the current production which is slated for youngsters from five to 12 years of age. "We take our cues from the audience reaction," Paul states, "and do lots of ad libbing. That keeps the play fresh."

Since the play is for children, most of the performances are matinees. The troupe once traveled for 30 days, Paul recalls, and gave 28 performances of "Toby".

Plans Summer Theater

The cast will tour until the middle of May, when Paul expects to turn to summer theater work. He wants to continue acting for a while but hopes eventually to become a producer and director. Through his study with Clare Tree Major and his experience on the road, Paul is striving to obtain first-hand knowledge of play-directing and staging.

The most recent play which Paul has written, one he hopes to have produced, is "Be It Ever So Humble", a farce comedy set in a Los Angeles rooming house. Numerous paintings on the walls of the Rolley home show that Paul has no small talent in that field, also. Mrs. Rolley is proud of her son's accomplishments, but admits wistfully that she wishes Paul had continued his splendid painting endeavors.

Approximate yield, 10 lbs. cake.

Not Lucky Week For This Driver

A Crosley driven by Irving Winkler, Jr., of 258 Merriweather road, ran into the rear of a car which had stopped at the St. Paul's School driveway at 8 a.m., on Dec. 15.

Damage was slight and Winkler said he would take care of it. The Crosley is owned by J. A. Neymeyer of 1237 Three Mile Drive.

Three days later, on Dec. 18, Winkler reported to the Farms police that while he was driving east on Williams his car had tangled with one being driven north on McKinley by Clarence Pinkston of 595 Newport.

Compares Sheet Values for The Practical Buyer

Now that we can be choosy about the kind of sheets we buy and not consider ourselves lucky just to find a sheet to buy, we are interested in their wearability.

You may be confused by the terms given sheets on the market these days. Jane Warden, department of textiles, clothing and related arts, Michigan State college, explains the meaning of these terms and compares muslin and percale sheets for the practical buyer.

There is quite a difference, she states, between utility percale and true percale sheets. A true percale sheet is made of combed yarns in a high count which means at least 180 crosswise and lengthwise yarns in one square inch.

Utility percale sheets are smoother and finer than regular muslin but not so fine as true percale. In price utility percale ranks between the more expensive true percale and the cheaper muslin sheets. "Supercalc" is a trade name which refers to true percale.

For best wear a good heavy muslin sheet will rank above any other kind. Of course if you send your laundry out and pay by the weight you have another point to consider. Percale sheets are lighter in weight and you might save in laundry bills the extra amount you would pay originally for them.

Percale sheets seem smoother and more silky than muslin because of the combed yarns used in them. Better quality and longer cotton is used so the final product is better quality for this reason. The combing process separates long from short fibers and lays them parallel so that the finished sheet is very smooth and silky in appearance. This better fiber and extra manufacturing process makes the percale sheets more expensive than the muslin.

MAILBOX STOLEN

The Farms police were notified that a small wooden mailbox had been stolen from the Farm home at 81 Moran road on Dec. 16.
