Pointe Blanketed by Blizzard

Next winter when the Pointe looks like this again, we'll forget all about the heat wave which has been the main topic of conversation for the past several weeks. Once again we'll be wishing the snow would vanish so we could enjoy the swimming, boating, tennis and golf which summer brings. Of course this picture was taken some months ago.

Child Badly Hurt When Hit by Car

Susan Wormer, 4, Suffers Broken Thighs, Rib and Head Injuries

A child, aged 4, rushed out into the street from behind a parked car at the intersection of Kercheval and Lakeview on June 29 and was struck down by a car driven by William Braybrook, 68, of 500 Lakeshore road.

Condition Satisfactory
The child, Susan Wormer, was taken immediately to the Cottage Hospital by Farms police, where doctors found that the child had suffered two fractured thigh bones, a fractured rib and clavicle, and head injuries.

Dr. C. M. Wilson of the Cottage Hospital reports that the girl is out of danger and improving satisfactorily.

Exonerates Driver
Susan's mother, Mrs. Clarkson Wormer II, of 260 Provençal road, witnessed the accident and exonerated Braybrook, who was driving a car owned by his employer, J. B. Schlotman of Lakeshore road.

Donald Salkowski Hit
As Thomas G. Emmenecker of 816 S. Park street, Saginaw, Mich., was driving a 1949 Packard south on Nottingham at 11:45 p.m. he struck Donald Salkowski, aged 4 1/2, of 1010 Nottingham.

Donald suffered bruises and lacerations of the body and was taken to Bon Secours Hospital where his injuries were found not critical.

On the testimony of witnesses the child ran out in front of the car when it was less than 25 feet away. Emmenecker was exonerated.

Robbery Averted by Alert Resident of Lincoln Road

As Mrs. Eunice Marshall of 926 Lincoln road was sitting on her back porch at 9:43 p.m. on June 29, she saw a man come out of the yard at 932 Lincoln.

Recalling that her neighbors were away from home she called out, asking what he wanted. With that the man started to run, but slipped and fell violently on his face on the concrete driveway.

The police believe that if they ever catch up with the party he will be found to have a badly bruised face.

Mrs. Marshall says the man, who appeared to be 28-30 years old, ran to a car parked three doors from the house and got in and drove rapidly away. She says

Park Planning Commission Submits Report Reviewing Accomplishments to Date

Mass of Detail Covered in Compilation Turned in by Chairman Harold Ellington; Thorough Study Made Of Bus Transportation Needs

The Village Planning Commission for Grosse Pointe Park presented its annual report for the year ending June 30 at the meeting of the Board of Village Commissioners on Monday, June 27.

The present Board of Planning Commissioners as now constituted dates only from October 1948, when it came into existence succeeding an old board which had fallen apart because of lack of statutory authority and what that board called lack of cooperation by the six Park Village Commissioners who were ex-officio members of the old board.

The report covers a mass of detail of the work initiated by the present planning commissioners. It is prefaced by a statement of its present constitution. The report in full follows:

To the Commissioners of the Village of Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan:

The Plan Commission was formed in October, 1948, by authority of the State Enabling Act, P.A. 1941-285, and the Village Ordinance No. 146.

The members of the initial board as appointed by the Village President, Mr. Homer C. Fritsch, are: Citizen Members—7 year term expiring July 1, 1949, George E. Goddard and Richard C. Hill, both reappointed for 3-year term ending July 1, 1952.

William R. DeBaeke and Harold S. Ellington, 2-year term expiring July 1, 1950.

C. W. Boydell and William C. Oddy, 3-year term expiring July 1, 1951.

Ex-Officio Members: Homer C. Fritsch, Village President; William Gillett, succeeded by Peter D. Burgess, Village Commissioner; Everitt B. Lane, Village Manager.

The officers of the Plan Commission, as elected in October, 1948, are: Harold S. Ellington, chairman; C. W. Boydell, vice-chairman; Everitt B. Lane, secretary.

Regular monthly meetings, together with other special meetings have been held and various aspects of planning as pertaining to particular problems of the Village of Grosse Pointe Park have come under the scrutiny of the Village Plan Commission since its inception. These include a bus transportation study, the proposed civic center development, off-street parking, set-back along Jefferson Avenue, and various other planning problems, all with the object of completing a Master Plan for the Village of Grosse Pointe Park.

BUS TRANSPORTATION
A thorough study has been undertaken of the bus requirements for the Park and of the extent and type of such travel within and through the Park, from which it is expected to determine the need for and the best location of a bus terminus and transfer point, together with street and time routing of all buses.

CIVIC CENTER DEVELOPMENT
Several studies for a proposed Civic Center have been made and submitted by the planning consultants. Two sites were considered—one at Somerset Road and Jefferson, which would have provided a central, accessible site for the fire station, a general treatment of the building group, and vacant land to the rear suited to combined community use; the other, the present municipal building site, on which it was decided a desirable solution should be sought inasmuch as the Village already has a considerable investment there in buildings and land. A program of land acquisition is being studied to provide, while still available at nominal cost, necessary sites for future public and service buildings and other public uses in the proposed Civic Center area and elsewhere in the Village.

OFF-STREET PARKING
Studies have been made of the

Police Sober Up Teen-Age Inebriates

Rowdies Make Shambles of Station; Arrested At Country Club Lot

Three Detroit teen-age boys are paying dearly for their destructive celebrating on the night of June 30. The three youths, aged 16 to 18, and their 18 year old girl companion were reported for creating a disturbance in their automobile near the Country Club parking lot just before midnight.

The boys were extremely abusive to the police and all four were taken to the Farms police station, where it was determined that the boys had been drinking heavily.

Made to Officers
The boys were surly and rude to the officers and were retained at the station while the girl, who had not been drinking, was sent home. In their cell the boys continued their abusiveness and rowdiness, tearing the screens and destroying the fixtures.

When they flooded the floor of the cell and part of the station with water, the police separated them, taking the eldest to the City of Grosse Pointe station. Their car, a 1938 Ford, was kept at the Farms Station.

Persuaded Strangers
It was found that the boys had persuaded strangers to buy the liquor and beer for them and had been drinking through most of the evening.

The two older boys, aged 17 and 18, have been sentenced by the Farms Justice Court to two years probation and fined $100.00 each, plus $5.00 costs. The youngest boy, aged 16, has been turned over to the Wayne County Juvenile Probation Officers because he was subject to their jurisdiction as a probation violator.

QUICK WORK
Mrs. Donald G. Wright of 419 Lincoln road missed her small daughter, Laurel, aged 2 1/2 years on Thursday morning, June 30, and called the City police at 8:25 o'clock. At 8:26, one minute flat, Patrolmen Teebert and Keller located the wandering Miss at Lincoln and St. Paul, only a few feet from her home.

Philip D. Casgrain, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred V. Casgrain of 33 Willow lane, was killed when a gun he is presumed to have been examining went off in his room in their home at 12:29 a.m. on Friday, July 1.

Philip had been at a party and when he returned had visited with his father in the latter's bedroom before going to his own room. He and his brother, Wilfred, Jr. have a large collection of firearms and it is believed he was preparing to clean the weapon which killed him. His father heard the shot and found

Bus, Car, Crash At Intersection

A bus and car collision at Charlevoix and Bedford was reported to the Park police by the Detroit police on June 28 at 4:36 p.m.

The car driver and one passenger in the bus received only minor bruises but both refused medical attention.

SWIMMER ROBBED
Leroy Johnson of 1345 Marlborough, Detroit, complained to the Park police at 8:30 p.m. July 2 that somebody had stolen a wallet containing $9 from his pocket while he was bathing in the municipal pool that afternoon.

Community Holiday Program Sponsored By Pointe Kiwanis

Between 15,000 and 20,000 Attend All-day Program and See Magnificent Fireworks Display On Mason School Grounds

For the seventh successive year the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club sponsored the community Fourth of July celebration in the Woods, on the Mason school grounds. The present year was probably the most successful of all that have been carried off, there being between 15,000 and 20,000 persons present.

Ball Games Played
The day started at 10 a. m. with ball games for the clubs of junior members. In the afternoon there were drawings for three television sets valued at $400 each. The concession for refreshments was given to a group of boys and the profits were turned over to the support of their several ball clubs.

Magnificent Fireworks
The evening was climaxed by a magnificent display of fireworks on the Mason School grounds.

The general program chairman was John Fritze, Arnold Dising had charge of fireworks and George W. Gardner kept the program moving through the public address system.

The township FM transmitter is on the same wavelength as the Farms' new setup, Hoyt said, but there is little danger of any confusion since the Farms dispatchers always can tell if the township is on the air and vice versa.

Woods Expedites Project Paving
Coe and Company which is interested in the development of the subdivisions along Allard and Stanhope in the Woods, was before the Woods Council meeting on June 21 regarding the sewer work and paving needed on the plot.

The promoters are willing to pay their share of the work. There is no sewer line at present tapping the property. To help solve the situation, the village has created a special paving and sewer district.

To smooth out further details of the project, the Council directed Attorney Burns to bring in the necessary resolution to implement the arrangements with the subdividers.

Roof Fire Does $5,000 Damage
A roof fire touched off by sparks from an incinerator at the home of Dr. Harry G. Lyons at 236 Kenwood court at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 30, did an estimated damage of $5,000.

When the firemen arrived the flames were shooting 20 feet above the roof and Chief Dansbury sent in a call for the City firemen for assistance, if needed.

The damage to the roof was figured at $4,500 and from water at $500. The Farms firemen were there until 6:50 p.m. and the City men returned to quarters after 45 minutes.

City Surveys Its Parking

A survey of the general parking problem in the City is being made under the direction of City Clerk Norbert P. Neff.

The results of this survey which will be reported to the City Council, will have a direct bearing on any future provision of more parking space and also whether land where parking meters will be installed.

The Farms already has approved the installation of meters in the commercial area from Fisher to Muir road.

There is a general belief among the councilmen and city officials that the car-parking privilege in the City will never be satisfactorily settled until adequate parking space off Kercheval between Neff and Cadieux has been provided and meters installed along Kercheval to minimize the overcrowding nuisance along the curb in that section.

INTERNATIONAL INCIDENT
Colonel James J. Hurley, of the Canadian Consulate at 881 Fisher, reported to the City police at 10:30 p.m. on July 1 that someone had taken his steel sectional flag pole and the Union Jack it proudly displayed, out of his yard where it was flying on the front lawn.

Before midnight a citizen returned the pole and flag. It had been located on a nearby property.

Philip D. Casgrain Killed In Home Shooting Accident

Philip D. Casgrain, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred V. Casgrain of 33 Willow lane, was killed when a gun he is presumed to have been examining went off in his room in their home at 12:29 a.m. on Friday, July 1.

Philip had been at a party and when he returned had visited with his father in the latter's bedroom before going to his own room. He and his brother, Wilfred, Jr. have a large collection of firearms and it is believed he was preparing to clean the weapon which killed him. His father heard the shot and found him on the floor. The bullet had gone through his head. He was pronounced dead on admittance to Bon Secours Hospital.

He was a Junior at the University of Michigan and had planned to study in England next year. Services were held in the Casgrain home Monday night and in St. Paul's Church on Tuesday morning. Besides his father and brother, Wilfred, Philip is survived by his mother, who was at their summer home at Sugar Hill, N. H. when the accident occurred; another brother, Charles W. Casgrain, 11; and two sisters, Josephine and Isabelle.

Accident Toll Reported As Very Light

City, Shores and Woods Free Of Mishaps; 7,000 At Park's Beach

The Fourth of July accident toll in Grosse Pointe was remarkably light, in view of the thousands of cars that crowded the highways, particularly Lakeshore road and Kercheval and Mack and the thousands who crowded the public beaches to cool off in the torrid weather.

7,000 on One Beach
The Park reports that more than 7,000 persons were in its park. The number in the City, Farms and Shores was also great. Swimming has not yet been started in the Woods lakefront park, awaiting the final installation of pool machinery, although many were there for picnics.

No Accidents
Not an accident of any description was reported in the City, Shores or Woods. The Park had only five, two of which resulted in personal injuries.

In the Farms there was only one traffic accident, when five cars successively bumped into each other at the pier stop light at Moross, with no personal injuries. One 11-year old boy cut himself at the pool.

Cabbie Caught Cooling Carcass

Residents in the neighborhood of Trombly and Jefferson were much disturbed by the presence of a Checker taxicab that was parked a few feet south of Jefferson on Trombly, minus driver or occupants at 8:50 p.m. on July 3.

When the police investigated they found that the driver of the cab, Detroit-bound from delivering a fare in Grosse Pointe, had decided it was too hot to drive any further and had gone down to the lake for a quick dip, without the encumbrance of a bathing suit, or anything.

Like the Spartan youth who was taught the art of stealing; there was no fault in this, if he wasn't caught.

Bandit Returned From California

Park Detective Stanley Enders arrived from California early Sunday morning with Herbert Williams, the second captive in the Phillos robbery.

He is to be arraigned in a day or so and then taken down for the lineup in Detroit police headquarters, in the belief that he will be identified with other stickup operations in this region.

Among those who will give him the once-over will be Mr. John Kraus of Algonac. It is strongly believed by State Police that Williams was one of a pair that held up Mr. and Mrs. Kraus on Armistice Day '48 and robbed them of $483.

The robbers had expected to make a haul of $50,000, believing that Mr. Kraus had that sum of money in his home safe. Kraus denied that he ever kept that much money in his house at any one time but acknowledged that he had frequently kept as much as $25,000.

One of the things the police hope to get out of Williams is specific information on the whereabouts of Sammy Leveigne, the third party in the Phillos holdup. He was known to be with Williams on the coast before Williams was picked up. The police believe he is either in Seattle, Wash., at this time or in another town in California, which they do not disclose.

Enders made no effort to quiz Williams on the way back from Santa Cruz, Cal., devoting his time to giving Williams an agreeable ride back, and watching him. Leveigne is supposed to be the master mind back of the holdups.

The Phillos home in the Park was robbed by the trio in December 1948.

GENERAL NUISANCES

After throwing beer bottles on the street, three young men in a 1937 Ford Side-swiped a car driven by Edward Smith of 5137 Connor on the evening of June 30. The three youths sped away from the scene of the accident on Lake Shore road.

Park's Plans

 requirements for off-street parking facilities in Grosse Pointe Park, and of the vacant property suitably located for such use. Action on this matter is under consideration at the present time.

BUILDING SET-BACK
 One of the early planning considerations was the problem of what building set-back requirements to make for Jefferson Avenue, due to the fact that no set-back had been previously established. Figures varying from twenty-five to ten feet have been considered by the Plan Commission as a minimum for front yards in the proposed Civic Center area on both sides of Jefferson. The Plan Commission has authorized a Registered Civil Engineer's survey of this area so as to have data for final action, to be taken at an early date.

LAND FOR RECREATION
 Based on a conservative use of estimated minimum requirements for park and recreation land in American communities, a land acquisition study is being made with a view to recommending certain properties for retention or acquisition in order to provide the Village with a minimum well balanced system of parks and playgrounds. This study includes the lake front property owned by this Village south of Essex Blvd., between Bedford and Grand Marais.

NEIGHBORHOOD DEVELOPMENT
 In keeping with the trend toward creation of protected, integrated neighborhoods, studies are being made to explore the possibilities of maintaining and improving neighborhood values through long-term re-development and the constant preservation and expansion of neighborhood and community amenities.

OTHER ITEMS OF STUDY
 The Plan Commission has studied and submitted reports to the Village Commission on matters of zoning and re-zoning, opinions on zoning requirements for speedy car wash building, closing of Maumee Ave. from Cadieux to Kensington and other land use problems. It is to be expected that a comprehensive Master Plan will be completed and submitted for approval by the Village Commission before the end of June 1950, and the second term by the Plan Commission.

Respectfully submitted,
 Harold S. Ellington,
 Chairman.

 requirements for off-street parking facilities in Grosse Pointe Park, and of the vacant property suitably located for such use. Action on this matter is under consideration at the present time.

BUILDING SET-BACK
 One of the early planning considerations was the problem of what building set-back requirements to make for Jefferson Avenue, due to the fact that no set-back had been previously established. Figures varying from twenty-five to ten feet have been considered by the Plan Commission as a minimum for front yards in the proposed Civic Center area on both sides of Jefferson. The Plan Commission has authorized a Registered Civil Engineer's survey of this area so as to have data for final action, to be taken at an early date.

LAND FOR RECREATION
 Based on a conservative use of estimated minimum requirements for park and recreation land in American communities, a land acquisition study is being made with a view to recommending certain properties for retention or acquisition in order to provide the Village with a minimum well balanced system of parks and playgrounds. This study includes the lake front property owned by this Village south of Essex Blvd., between Bedford and Grand Marais.

NEIGHBORHOOD DEVELOPMENT
 In keeping with the trend toward creation of protected, integrated neighborhoods, studies are being made to explore the possibilities of maintaining and improving neighborhood values through long-term re-development and the constant preservation and expansion of neighborhood and community amenities.

OTHER ITEMS OF STUDY
 The Plan Commission has studied and submitted reports to the Village Commission on matters of zoning and re-zoning, opinions on zoning requirements for speedy car wash building, closing of Maime Ave. from Cadeux to Kensington and other land use problems. It is to be expected that a comprehensive Master Plan will be completed and submitted for approval by the Village Commission before the end of June 1950, and the second term by the Plan Commission. Respectfully submitted, Harold S. Ellington, Chairman.

Seek Final Resting Place For Historic Farms Bell

An old picture hanging on the walls of the police department in the Farms shows the original "paid" fire department of that village. Its date is 1912 and pictured are the men who succeeded the old "volunteer" department.

Even at that date, however, and for several years thereafter the village used to keep extra reels of hose located at different strategic points throughout the village and when the old bell, just removed, sounded its alarm the volunteers living nearest a reel of hose would drag it to the fire.

Not any of the Grosse Pointe villages ever had to use pumps, or steamers, as the earliest engines were called. The buildings were all low and ordinary by-drant pressure was sufficient to throw the water as high as needed.

In the earlier days when a fire of importance occurred it was a common practice to call on Detroit, which would send out a steamer which could throw a greater volume of water on the "big fire."

It is the wish of the Grosse Pointe Historical Society to have the bell, (which was cast in 1913), as a museum piece for display at some suitable point, possibly in the War Memorial Center. Messrs. Norbert P. Neff, Kenneth L. Moore and Lincoln G.

Maire, a committee from the Historical Society, are taking the responsibility of finding the old bell's final resting place.

At the time the fire quarters were set up on Kerby road it was regarded as one of the most modern and well arranged fire stations in this part of the country. The Farms Village was incorporated in 1897 and was taken from the old village of Grosse Pointe. The latter was incorporated in the early 1870s.

Three Fined In Park Court

In Park Police Court June 22, Judge C. Joseph Belanger disposed of the following cases:

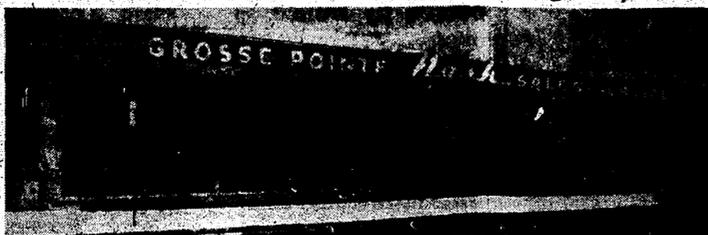

Peter Cavatiao, 4714 Drexel, Detroit, for disorderly conduct, fined $25 and costs or 20 days in jail.

Jack Diamond, 1214 Merrick, Detroit, for speeding 40 m.p.h. on Jefferson, paid fine and costs totaling $10.

George R. Hawkins, 9624 Arlington, Detroit, for speeding 40 m.p.h. on Jefferson, failed to appear and forfeited $15 cash bond.

Nash Announces New Pointe Agency

Four Nash dealerships have been added to the Detroit Metropolitan area, bringing the total to 18. B. E. Thompson, Detroit zone manager for Nash Motors, announced last week. The new Nash dealerships include Grosse Pointe Nash Sales and Service, 14811 Kercheval Avenue, Grosse Pointe; Grosse Pointe Nash, owned by J. DeKorse, has 8,300 square feet of floor areas, with 4,200 devoted to service and 1,000 to parts.

Recovers Purse Minus Currency

Miss Adele Shaub of 27943 Glenwood, St. Clair Shores, reported to the police at 10:45 p.m. July 1 that the night before she had participated in a musical recital at the Pierce School and that a purse containing $45 or $50 dollars had been stolen.

The purse had been taken from her bag and she had not missed it until 24 hours later when a citizen over on Chandler Park drive had found it, minus the money, but containing her card and other papers which identified the owner.

Methodists Plan Eight Injured Trip to Algonac As Cars Crash

The members and friends of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church are going on a boat ride to Algonac and back on the SS. "Put-In-Bay" Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

The trip leaves from the foot of First street at 2 p.m. and crosses Lake St. Clair and into the region which has been described as "The Venice of America" or the "Bosphorus of America."

The Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and St. Clair River region is a never ending source of wonder to visitors to Detroit. Nowhere else in the world is so much marine tonnage handled so efficiently.

Police Capture Insistent Drunk

Mrs. Cyrus Baganz of 500 Barrington phoned to the police at 11:16 p.m. on June 27 that a man had just tried to force his way into the house representing himself as a Western Union messenger.

The police picked up Clifford Robinson, aged 46, of 3537 Fourteenth st., Detroit. He was drunk. At a hearing before Judge Belanger on June 29 he disclaimed any recollection of the incident. He was held on a charge of attempted B. and E. He will be examined by a psychiatrist.

In the Packard car, Herbert Krug, Sr. of 1160, wrenched back; Donald Krug, 16, facial lacerations; Herbert Krug, Jr. driver of the car, a wrenched neck.

All were taken to Bon Secours Hospital for emergency treatment and later the occupants of the Pontiac were removed to the Detroit Receiving Hospital.

On June 29, George Julius Stoia, 3413 Jefferson, appeared before Judge John Potter for speeding 42 m.p.h. on Kercheval on April 4, paid a fine and costs of $25.

A 1948 Packard car driven east on Kercheval by Herbert F. Krug, Jr., of 1160 Chalmers, Detroit, struck a 1939 Pontiac driven south on Yorkshire at 9:01 p.m. July 4 by Bass Baker of 5663 Roosevelt, Detroit. Baker had failed to stop at the sign at Kercheval.

Occupants of the Pontiac who were injured were Bass Baker who suffered a skull fracture; Francis Reed, aged 23, of 3150 Hendrick, leg lacerations; Cynthia Davis, 3368 Hendrick, concussions of the right leg; Dianne Davis, 6, facial lacerations; and Catherine Toesman, an adult, of 3368 Hendrick, facial and leg lacerations.

In the Packard car, Herbert Krug, Sr., of 1160, wrenched back; Donald Krug, 16, facial lacerations; Herbert Krug, Jr., driver of the car, a wrenched neck.

All were taken to Bon Secours Hospital for emergency treatment and later the occupants of the Pontiac were removed to the Detroit Receiving Hospital.

Police Capture Insistent Drunk

Mrs. Cyrus Baganz of 500 Barrington phoned the police at 11:16 p.m. on June 27 that a man had just tried to force his way into the house representing himself as a Western Union messenger.

The police picked up Clifford Robinson, aged 46, of 3537 Fourteenth st., Detroit. He was drunk. At a hearing before Judge Belanger on June 29 he disclaimed any recollection of the incident. He was held on a charge of attempted B. and E. He will be examined by a psychiatrist.

PATROLMAN INJURED

Patrolman Francis Kerbrat of the Farms Police suffered slight injuries in an unusual accident while on duty on June 30. Officer Kerbrat was jacking up the rear of his car in order to fix a flat when the lid of the trunk fell on his head. Fellow officers took him to the hospital where three stitches had to be taken in his head.

X-ray pictures to test metals can be taken at a speed of 100 per second.

Corrupt Practices

The noise and furor of indicting eleven prominent businessmen in Wayne County for making contributions to Republican campaign funds in the last two general elections will be received by most persons with a sardonic grin.

It would be refreshing to find a few Democrats in this list, but that is almost too much to hope for. The pure and sanctified Democrats are never known to do such things.

The common understanding now of the Corrupt Practices Act is that it's a legal vehicle whereby a political party in power may punish its late opponents.

Nobody ever heard of a victorious political party biting the hand from which it had received its financial nourishment. That simply isn't cricket.

When John L. Lewis handed out the tidy sum of $400,000 to help elect Franklin D. Roosevelt president, Lewis' handsome largess was advanced with a quid pro quo handle to it which, unhappily for Lewis, was never cashed in on. All he wanted was to be the next Vice President of the United States with a fine prospect of reaching the White House via the vice presidency.

Lewis, although a nominal Republican, had the sagacity to place the UMW's funds on the winner, but that winner was ungrateful enough to refuse to pay off and accept Mr. Lewis as his running mate next time.

However, nobody recalls Mr. Lewis ever being prosecuted for his little donation.

The Corrupt Practices Act was a measure probably honestly conceived to prevent the undue use of money in elections. Its latterday applications however have tended to make it a mere bludgeon for revenge and, incidentally to implant in the public mind the impression that all the skulduggery in politics is concentrated in the other party. This is a worthwhile bid for the perpetuation in power of the party of purity, sweetness and light.

The practice of rewarding big contributors to presidential campaign funds with appointments in the diplomatic service is almost as old as the Republic itself or, at least as old as the pronouncement by that Democratic stalwart of stalwarts, Andrew Jackson, who first enunciated the political doctrine that "to the victor belong the spoils."

Mr. Truman himself has done his full part to maintain this hoary tradition.

All this however is far removed and away below that of the business man who makes a contribution to a party because he believes in the general policies of that party and honestly thinks these policies best contribute to the business welfare of the country.

And at what point does a campaign contribution cease to be a civic virtue and become a heinous offense against the common welfare; when he has contributed $5, $500, or $5,000?

The Greater Mass

The Detroit community and the whole country are momentarily happy that the UAW has reconsidered its ultimatum for the conclusion of a new agreement by July 15 and have consented to continue negotiations on a day-to-day basis with the Ford Motor Company.

It is to be hoped that this is indicative that the great automobile industry union has begun to have a belated understanding of the trends in unemployment, and related problems, which point to the necessity of moderation in labor demands for higher wages or special benefits.

The Ford company has flatly refused the pension demands of the union officials and has intimated that it will be unwilling to consider anything else unless and until the union agrees to an 18-months' guarantee of freedom from strikes and walkouts.

It is a bad time for a great labor union to start pressuring for either higher wages or any special benefits.

The effect upon business is to make its problem of steady work and production the harder, and, with the general public, to implant in its mind the vision of certain sections of the workers gaining increasing advantages for themselves while the less fortunate are fearfully anxious over their own prospects for holding on to what they have; i.e., work at living wages.

These moves militate against the prospects for lower living costs, so necessary now for the great mass of the population.

The working people of America must stop, look and listen. They must divorce from their minds the selfish idea that a small group of the whole working world can obtain for themselves advantages in wages or their equivalent that are, in present trends and conditions, beyond realization by the greater mass.

Everybody from the highest to the lowest are all a part of the same outfit which must stand or fall together.

Thoughts From The Fourth

The 173rd anniversary of the founding of this nation calls for something more than the singing of "Yankee Doodle" and boasts of our material greatness for its proper celebration.

There should be a solemn review in the minds of every thinking American of the great ideals which were set forth in the launching of the Great Declaration. We should note that our birth as a nation was predicated upon our firm belief in certain inalienable rights conferred upon us and all men by

A change of mood

(Robert Frost)

(Don't we have the imagination though???)

These being the sort of days when one makes no physical move more violent than the turning of a page, we have mused through every magazine in sight and we are about to have another feud with the "ad" men. (The exceptions being the guys who dreamed up any ads showing people sitting on cakes of ice . . . and the dream prince who concocted that "Four Roses" ad, which we carry around in our back pocket.)

Our main objection centres around the "testimonial" ads. You know . . . "I always soak my dentures in crabtree acid," says Mrs. O. D. of Denver, Colorado. How can we check on that, please? One magazine displays an entire page of obscure little faces so blurred by the camera they don't even look like people. Each face is labeled by . . . Miss I.F.B. of Jersey City or Mrs. McM. of Providence, R.I. or Mrs. C.O.D. from Detroit, Michigan . . . ad nauseum. They each have something elegant to say about the product but we notice they're being awfully hush-hush about it. We have the ridiculous feeling that they were sandbagged into giving the testimonial . . . if indeed THEY gave it at all . . . or that they don't even exist.

Last week we made a request (via the column) and Lo! who comes up with the happy grant? None other than our fervent, irresponsible, persistent, quondem, zealous fan . . . C.K.L. (Just like Miss P.T.Q. of Trans-Jordan, South Africa!) Anyway, if any of you doubt we HAVE such a fan, we keep his letters in a file on our desk marked, "screwballs" . . . in case you want to see his mental meanderings in the "flesh." Here's the current one:

"Dear Pryor:
"Your search for a person who does not know anyone who gave up his seat in a plane that crashed is a commendable hot weather enterprise, as well as a wily stratagem for filling a column during the doldrums."

"Reminded me of an incident that took place in a saloon in Kitty Hawk, N. C., on Dec. 18, 1903. The barkeep had just set out a fresh bowl of Tom and Jerry to celebrate the successful culmination, the day before, of a series of experiments by a couple of fellows named Wright."

"Well, it seems there were two Irishmen (stop me if you've heard this one) names Joseph W. Corrigan, Route 3, Saluda, N.C., and Juan F. McNamara, of 1721 North Main street, Charlotte, N.C., and it's darned seldom you'll get a story as well documented as this one. One word led to another, and one Tom and Jerry to another, and finally Joe said to Juan, or maybe it was Juan who said it to Joe (my memory is a little foggy, after all those Tom and Jerrys, or is it Toms and Jerrys), well, anyway, somebody said (I remember now, it was Joe): "I'm going to take a ride on one of them things some day."

"Time flies, too, and one day in 1937 Joe went down to Spartanburg, S.C., where Juan was now living, to make this story hold together, and they decided to take the airliner to Washington. They called for reservations, and then one thing led to another and along about half-way down the second bottle they said the heck with it, let some one else fly around with the dang birds."

"The plane crashed and I guess this qualifies me as the guy you're looking for, because I didn't know either of these guys. Where else will you find a reader who doesn't know TWO persons who gave up their seats?"

CKL

This is strictly for the men who wear "shorts" on the golf course. Gents: Have YOU ever wondered what people thought about your appearance as you trudged from hole to hole sporting shorts only slightly longer than your bathing trunks? Well, maybe this will give you an idea. A tired business man of some local note was discussing hobbies with a group of friends the other night. He told them his hobby was raising mosquitos! When his incredulous pals asked the WHY thereof, he replied, "When I have enough full grown ones I'm going to take them to the Club and train them to follow (around the golf course), men who wear shorts while playing." Does that answer your question boys???

SUMMER SEEN

Six of the most bedraggled looking moppets ranging in ages from about 8 to 11, passed our front door a few days ago, bent on whatever the young are bent on these days. Their clothes(?) were uniform in style . . . no shirts, blue jeans that had seen far better days, and bare tattle-tale gray feet. Their hair was done in Robins' nest style and as they shuffled along in a desultory manner, they seemed to be discussing something of great moment.

As they reached the corner and before they were out of sight, they stopped and held a conference. Finally, the spokesman of the group fished a small blue comb from his pocket and began slicking up his hair. He combed and patted down his pompadour even as you and we. Then he passed the comb to the next boy who did the same thing. Each boy in turn got a crack at the comb and groomed himself with great care . . . then the comb having been returned to the owner's pocket, all six boys started off on a brisk canter bound for a definite destination! No doubt there was a "woman" in the picture some place . . . the girl of their dreams was probably about to receive callers, gray feet and bare chests notwithstanding. But she certainly couldn't complain about their hair!

our Creator and that chief among these were the right to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.

The impact of this great statement should give us a sharp turn in our contemplation of the political and social cult that has been adopted in Russia within the present generation which is not being actively proselytized throughout the world.

The right to Life, which we hold as basic to our political existence, is denied to those who actively disagree with principles of Communism.

Liberty is completely and utterly refused in all its expressions found in human society. The only happiness permitted to the individual is that which is directed and arranged for him according to the uncontested judgment of his self appointed rulers.

Every Freedom to which we cling and which was enunciated in the Declaration of Independence and thirteen years later implemented in our great Constitution are denied by Communism.

The Divinity which we acknowledge in the first paragraphs of the Declaration in our reference to the Creator, is spurned and ridiculed at every turn in the practices of Communism.

The struggle between these utterly opposed forces now occupies a world field. It has fallen to us to be the great leader of the forces opposed to Communism.

Now more than ever before should we study and apply the precepts our great pioneer-statesmen forebears so bravely declared to the world at our beginnings.

We can equip ourselves with no better armor for this struggle than to think and act upon the great ideals embodied in our Declaration of Independence, which has become the Star of Hope for bewildered and confused humanity throughout the world.

It is the duty of every loyal American to orient his present day thinking to the principles set forth in this Great Document.

Servant Problem Solved by Police

Mrs. Fred W. Rinshed of 1020 Kensington, had trouble in dismissing a man servant on July 1, and asked the police to step in. The man, aged 60, and his wife have long been servants in the Rinshed household, and recently she had to go to the hospital.

After she left Mrs. Rinshed had so much trouble with the husband she had to dismiss him. The police calmed him and he left. He returned later in the day but this time only to remove his car.

Careys Injured As Boat Burns

A Pointe couple and their two children were injured when their motorboat exploded and sank in Mullet Lake on July 4.

Those who suffered burns are D. J. Carey, 31, of 934 Nottingham, his wife, Nancy, 28; and their sons, Don, 4, and Joseph, 3. All were treated in the Cheboygan Hospital.

Boys Promise to Cease Noise at Bon Secour

The Bon Secour Hospital authorities were compelled to complain to the police at 10 p.m. June 25 of a gang of boys in cars, making a noise at the corner of Maud and Cadieux.

The police found three car loads of boys, and explained to them the necessity of quiet in the hospital neighborhood. The boys expressed regret at the noise and assured police it would not happen again.

Pays Visit to Dunquerque While on Navy Cruise

William J. Wayne, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Fred J. Wayne, of 1460 Maryland, Grosse Pointe Park, is scheduled to arrive at Dunquerque, France, July 7, as a crew member aboard the Destroyer USS O'Hare for a six-day visit in the French port from whence the British Expeditionary Force was evacuated during the last war.

Bomb sites and rubble are the principal landmarks of Dunquerque, and leave parties have been arranged to Paris so the crew members can make the most of their visit to France.

Polio Must Have Early Treatment

By Fred M. Kopp, R.P.H.

There is more danger from polio during the months of July, August, and September than any others.

Parents need to be on guard for symptoms of the disease so that they can get their child under treatment immediately. For it is early treatment that helps bring children through the illness without lasting paralysis.

When children have the "sniffles", a fever, or complain of pains in arms or legs a visit to the doctor is a wise precaution. More than fifty per cent of the children who contract polio recover completely with proper treatment.

This is the 248th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

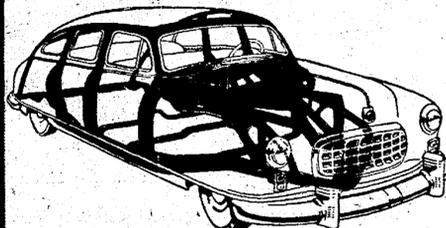

WOODS CHANGES HOURS During the months of July, August and September the Woods village municipal offices will open at 8 a.m. instead of 9 a.m. and close 4 p.m. instead of 5 p.m.

Before proceeding in any venture, it is advisable to secure the advice of experienced men. Our field covers financial and business. Mr. Rust, recently retired from the banking business, is in a position to offer his services to the public.

Fashionscope Dates Set for September

University of Michigan Alumnae Association Will Sponsor Eagerly Awaited Fashion Review in Music Hall; To Have Three Performances

There's going to be an all out ticket sale this Summer, and come Sept. 27, 28 and 29 members of the University of Michigan Alumnae Association mean to sit back and enjoy the show, too.

We mean Fashionscope, the semi-annual all star fashion show that society regards as A Must. This year the U. of M. gals are sponsoring the chic extravaganza for the first time and it will again take place in Music Hall.

Mrs. Harold R. Smith of Merriweather road is the moving spirit of the Grosse Pointe alums. Today, Thursday, she is giving several members of her committee the all important coupons which early birds may buy.

Among those on the Grosse Pointe committee for Fashionscope are Mrs. Glenn M. Coulter, of Merriweather road (Mrs. S's assistant); Mrs. Frank A. Reid Jr. of McMillan road, Mrs. H. S. Walker of Village lane, Mrs. Ethelbert Spurrier of Kenwood court, Mrs. Manfred G. Wittingham of McKinley road, Mrs. Henry Hubbard of Muskoka road and Mrs. William Coddington of St. Clair.

Proceeds from ticket sales will be turned over the Alumnae Council, which in the past 30 years, has earned and turned back to the University over a million dollars.

Mrs. Raymond T. Perring is general chairman of Fashionscope and Pointers who hold key jobs in the huge benefit also include:

Mrs. Stuart G. Baits, Mrs. James O. Murfin, Mrs. James Lafer and Mrs. Robert M. Drysdale.

From Detroit, on the executive committee are Mrs. Lewis B. Sappington, Mrs. Samuel R. Post, Miss Frances Brown, Miss Hope Petrouleaus, Mrs. Daniel Grouse, Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Marcus E. Cunningham, Mrs. Max Tunnicliffe, Mrs. Earl R. Perkins, Miss Natalie Mattern, Mrs. William B. Crawford, Mrs. John Kohl, Mrs. O. W. Pickard, Mrs. Douglas Dow, Mrs. Edward D. Maire, Mrs. Henry J. Morton, Mrs. Walter V. Holcroft, Mrs. Iris Becker, Mrs. Lawrence S. King, Mrs. Mark V. Yost, Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott and Mrs. D. Edward Martine.

Top Talent Helping Direct Pointe Theater Productions

The Grosse Pointe Theatre has called upon some of its most experienced talent to take over the directorial duties for the organization's forthcoming evening of one-act plays, scheduled for Thursday, July 14, at 8:30, in the Neighborhood Club.

John F. Carrico, who only recently moved into the Pointe area, has been named director of "Suppressed Desire," a play that delves amusingly into the effects of psychoanalysis. Mr. Carrico performed his first similar duty nearly 30 years ago, and almost continuously since that time the greasepaint world has been his first and foremost hobby. He even moved into the field professionally, for a few years, as a theatre manager.

Five seasons ago Mr. Carrico founded the Little Theatre Inc., whose play-producing activities are a vital part of the cultural program of the International Institute. Mr. Carrico's own original Lenten drama, "The Shadow of the Cross," will be presented during the coming Little Theatre season.

Miss Sally O'Connor, director of the second Grosse Pointe Theatre play, "Spring," teaches dramatics at Liggett School. A member of Fine Arts, Theatre Arts, as well as the AWVS acting group, she is currently working for her master's degree in theatre at Wayne University. Among Miss O'Connor's other interests is the Detroit Radio Community Theatre, an organization to which professional radio people, as well as hard-working aspirants, belong.

The participants in this activity are afforded an opportunity to improve their broadcasting techniques under kindly and skillful guidance and to actually appear on the air in types of dramas that are not usually done in local commercial radio.

Dallas Chapin, the Grosse Pointe Theatre's third director-of-note, is responsible for "The Flattering Word," a George Kelly opus. Even as a student Mr. Chapin was up to his chin in dramatic activities, for at Michigan State, during his senior year, he was president of Theta Alpha Phi, the campus theatre group. Now a member of both the Players and Fine Arts, Mr. Chapin was a Grosse Pointe Theatre pioneer. Those who attended the organization's first effort, "Clarence," will remember Mr. Chapin as co-director, as well as a member of the cast.

The fourth offering of the evening of July 14 will be a "A Letter to Jackie," a serious bit of drama by Maxwell Anderson, which should balance nicely a program that is otherwise heavy on the comedy side. Mrs. Virginia Cassil, who has been directing this sketch, is well known to Grosse Pointe Theatre fans. A tireless worker, she belongs to the Board of Trustees, was Production Co-ordinator for the first Workshop program in May and has been acting in the same capacity for the current enterprise.

A richly varied professional background, including everything from touring in stock to dancing in movie musicals, has helped to give Mrs. Cassil her interest in and her zest for anything and everything pertaining to the theatre—especially the Grosse Pointe Theatre!

Those enacting roles in the plays are as follows: "Suppressed Desire"—Miss Jane McClure, Mrs. John Bayard, Karl Dumas; "Spring"—Miss Jane Slade, Christopher Parker, Charles Hicks; "The Flattering Word"—Miss Mary Lou Stefani, Miss Phyllis Cardoze, Miss Ruth Markly, Donald Thurber, Vincent Dicklars; "A Letter to Jackie"—Mrs. Clark Wells and Peter Gall.

Admission to the Grosse Pointe Theatre's second Workshop evening, Thursday, July 14 at 8:30 in the Neighborhood Club, is 60c, including tax. Those interested in attending are urged to telephone their ticket requests immediately to Mrs. Maryanne Genter, TUxedo 1-4586.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Before Mrs. Ralph Harman Booth motored off to Aspen, Colorado last Sunday morning...

Her intimates were heartened to hear... that when she returns "The House"...

And that means a round of parties of Mrs. Booth's own dashing brand... a brand so internationally famous that Eastern society writers once said the Fishes and the Belmonts would gape with envy at Mrs. B.'s soirees.

So society awaits its bid in late August to The House...

Attend Cultural Event

In the meantime Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Henry P. Williams of Provençal road... who saw much of each other in Honolulu this past Winter...

Are off to Colorado together... They will attend the Goethe Bi-Centennial Convocation and Musical Festival which attracts to Aspen great names in the arts and of state from all over the world...

Herbert Hoover is vice president of the Convocation which will absorb this distinguished gathering's attention for eight days...

Thornton Wilder... Thomas Mann... Arthur Rubinstein are but three of the eminent personalities who will be heard...

Naturally Mrs. Booth is interested in the appearance of her own curator, Dr. Ernest Scheyer, head professor of art at Cranbrook and Wayne University...

A Salzburg Memory

A dozen years ago Mrs. Booth was privileged to attend Max Rinehart's production of Goethe's "Faust" in Salzburg. We recall hearing her speak of the performance as one of those experiences she will never forget...

She was with her great friend Princess Viggo of Denmark (who has visited her here at the Pointe) and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett...

Mrs. Booth is modest about her German and Tibbett does not speak the language although he sings in it... yet they thrilled to Faust...

And this is another reason she is so intensely interested in the Bi-Centennial...

Colorado Salon

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Booth will have a manor cottage in Aspen Block... and you may be sure that this combination of hostesses will provide a salon for the great speakers and others who will be attending...

They plan to motor leisurely back to the Pointe... and probably visit en route...

May Visit Detroit

We have also heard that Detroit is being considered for a "repeat performance" on a smaller scale of this Goethe inspired event...

The month suggested has been November... and Mrs. Booth will be one of the sponsoring patrons...

Mrs. Booth Meets Dali

When you consider that Mrs. Booth and her husband the late Ralph Harman Booth, are the most generous donors to Detroit's Art Institute...

It would follow that Mrs. Booth in her travels would meet Salvador Dali...

Who quite upset this charming lady when he confided he had just spent two weeks painting the twelve seasons...

No one in the party ever learned what the eight less familiar seasons would be... spring, summer, fall and winter being accounted for...

But Dali... his amazingly waxed mustache and all... will probably present them to the world of art some day soon...

The Rumor

Inasmuch as we have devoted this column today to a lady who requires volumes to do her justice...

We think we mention also the provocative rumor which persists in art circles... that sometime after her return... Mrs. Booth will take one of the most important steps in her brilliant history as a patron of the arts...

Short and to the Pointe

Mrs. John Nelson Lilygren

At an altar banked with white gladiolus and ferns, MARILYN RUTH SCHULTE and John Nelson Lilygren were united in marriage on Saturday, July 2 at Peace Lutheran Church. The Rev. Eano G. F. W. Campbells Jr. Will Live in East

Former Marjorie Smith and Her Bridegroom Will Make Home in New York City After Sept. 1; Bermuda Trip Follows Church Ceremony

Long noted for her artistry Mrs. Frederick W. Campbell probably never planned a table decor with more devotion than when she gave her touch to the bride's table for the Smith-Campbell wedding reception.

The bride was Marjorie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Yates Gorman Smith of Edgemont Park and the bridegroom was Mr. and Mrs. Campbell's son, Frederick W. Campbell Jr. who were married last Saturday afternoon in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Their wedding reception took place in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Hal H. Smith of Windmill Pointe drive and the wedding table was set with handsome cloth of linen and lace. Both families agreed that Mrs. Campbell must do the bride's table and she topped the tiered wedding cake with stephanotis and made a garland of ivy at its base. Because of the July heat, she omitted candles, instead placed at either end of the table a graceful Steuben crystal cornucopia filled with arrangements of white roses and snapdragon.

The Rev. Frank Fitt married Marjorie and Fred at a 4 o'clock ceremony.

Marjorie wore antique ivory satin with illusion net shadowing the deeply cut neckline. The gown had swirling skirt and train and her French illusion veil fell from a cap of rosepointe from her mother's wedding gown. She carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mary Moriarity of Winchester, Mass., classmate of the bride at Smith College, attended as honor maid in heather rose silk frock with deep square neckline, snug bodice, and bouffant skirt. Hers was a crownless matching net picture hat and she carried deep shading to light pink carnations with ivy.

Bridesmaids gowned like the honor maid except in shades of blue and carrying Virginia carnations (palest pink) were Margaret Ann McKean, Gertrude Wheldon, Mrs. Victor Sorrell of Chicago and Ann Kirkpatrick of Dayton, Ohio.

Bertram Fleming of Toronto was best man and bridesmen comprised John B. Ford III, Stephen Smith, brother of the bride; William Gleystone of Jenkinstown, Pa. and Peter Arnold of Kentfield, Calif.

Gray nylon net gown with lace top over flesh background was worn by the bride's mother who completed her costume with a matching net picture hat and a corsage of peche cleaners. Mrs. Campbell's hyacinth blue crepe gown was worn with halo band of shaded roses.

The bride traveled in a navy silk suit, the red and white taffeta of the blouse being repeated on the brim lining of her pert blue straw chapeau. The young Campbells left for Bermuda following their wedding reception and after September 1 will make their home in New York City.

Out of town guests at the Smith-Campbell wedding were Gordon Campbell of Toronto, an uncle of the bridegroom, and his sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Happer of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grody of Wheeling, West Va., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Avery of Atlanta, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick of Dayton and Mr. and Mrs. P. Schuyler Church of Dayton, Ohio.

Martha Hahnke Exchanges Vows

At 8 o'clock Thursday evening, June 30, on the wedding anniversary of her parents, Leon, Martha Marie Hahnke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hahnke, became the bride of William Cummings Nichols, son of Mrs. William Nichols and the late William Nichols of Windsor. The ceremony was held at the Messiah Lutheran Church, the Rev. August Loeber officiating.

The bride wore a gown of chartreuse taffeta with an overskirt of orchid organza. She wore a matching headress with shoulder length veil and carried orchids. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Norman Alandt, who was gowned in pink taffeta. Mrs. Bernhard Hahnke wore an orchid marquisette and Mrs. William Hicks wore blue marquisette. The flower girls were Pamela Alandt in pink taffeta and Karen Hahnke in yellow taffeta. The attendants carried arm bouquets of yellow tea roses and summer flowers.

The best man was Howard Witt and the ushers were William Mabley and Gerald Green.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held at the new home of the couple, 19722 Blossom lane, Grosse Pointe Woods.

The newlyweds left for a short wedding trip to Mackinac Island to be followed by a trip to Florida and Cuba during the winter holidays.

Society En Route To Country Wedding

Pointe aux Barques Wedding of Merrill McClintock and Frederick C. Ford Jr. Draws Four Hundred Guests To Northern Michigan Resort

Society, highly approving of Saturday's bridal couple, Merrill McClintock and Frederick Clifford Ford Jr., decided that this was THE perfect wedding of the Summer and gave an additional blessing to the planning that takes the ceremony to windswept Pointe aux Barques.

Over 400 Grosse Pointers will attend the wedding and a great number of these already have gone to the Northern Michigan resort to relax on the beach, the tennis courts or the golf links, all part of the McClintock's delightful consideration.

The beautiful bride gives credit to the generosity Pointe aux Barques neighbors who have turned rooms of their summer homes over to members of the wedding party and the guests.

Tomorrow evening the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clifford Ford and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Bell of Chandler, Ariz., will be hosts at the Pointe aux Barques clubhouse at the rehearsal dinner and dance. A special orchestra has been hired to play the liveliest tune for the dancers and the bride-elect will wear a picture gown. It's of stiff white marquisette dotted in palest pink velvet disc. A frosty ruffe outlines the extreme décolletage and the skirt is bouffant in a wondrous degree. Pink ballet slippers complete the dancing costume.

The ceremony takes place at 4:30 o'clock Saturday and the Rev. Paul Ketchum is going up from Grosse-Pointe Memorial to perform the marriage.

Vital statistics of the wedding party: Merrill's sister Martha is to be maid of honor with bridesmaids Gloria Rickel, Lucy Nauman, Betsy Cadwell, Midge Oberbauer, Mrs. Woodruff B. Crouse, Mrs. Henry Distin II of Philadelphia, Mrs. John Possellus and Mary Martin Semmes. Walter Buhl Ford II will be his brother's best man and the wedding guests will be seated by bridesmen J. Otis Wardwell, Jim McDonnell, Jr., Sibley Moore of Los Angeles, Travon Smith, Howard Freeman Smith, Jr., Benson Ford, Bob Stinchfield, George Caulkins and Carlton Higbie, Jr.

The McClintock Summer home is situated on a high bluff overlooking Lake Superior. One section of the home (which was once the coast guard house) will be used for the wedding ceremony and the reception will take place on the other side. From the outside stairway the bride will throw her bouquet to her bridesmaids. Saturday, before the wedding.

Masons Leave For Cruise

A cruise on the Mason yacht followed their marriage ceremony for Joan Armour and Lowell Blake Mason June 25.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Armour of Rivard boulevard and Lowell is the son of Mrs. Grace Mason of Oak Park, Ill., and Lowell B. Mason of Washington, D. C.

Their wedding took place in St. James Lutheran Church with Rev. Charles W. Schied of Grosse Pointe Congregational Church officiating. A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents.

Joan wore a white satin gown trimmed in lace and ending in a long, formal train. She carried a gold prayer book with white orchids and streamers of Stephanotis.

The bride's twin sister Ann, was maid of honor in a white taffeta frock with which she carried a colonial bouquet of red and white carnations. Bridesmaids, all of whom were dressed like the honor maid, included another sister of the bride, Mrs. Benjamin T. Schiek of Chicago, Loel Diamond of Kankakee, Ill., Margaret Vierling of Grosse Pointe and Jan Laven of South Bend.

Mary Council, who was the bride's college roommate, sang before and during the ceremony. Best man was Edward Rowlett of Oak Park, Ill., and groomsmen were Hugh Woolverton, Jr., of South Bend, William Tonkin of Terre Haute, Jack Wallbillich of Birmingham, Mich., and James W. Armour, Jr., brother of the bride.

When they return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Mason will live in South Bend.

Gibson-Potthoff Ceremony Held

Another of June's lovely brides was Jessie Elizabeth Gibson who on the eighteenth of the month was wed to Ted Leslie Potthoff at a 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon ceremony at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The Rev. Frank Frank performed the marriage ceremony. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson of Cadieux road wore a gown of ivory nylon net with matching bonnet. Her flowers were stephanotis and white orchids.

Mrs. Sandy Potthoff of Ann Arbor was matron of honor, wearing shell pink nylon net the tone of which was picked up in her crown of pink daisies. She carried a basket of the same pink blossoms.

The maids in Dior blue nylon net gowns, wearing circlets of blue daisies in their hair, were Nancy White, Rosetta Kraus, Mrs. Irene D. Sredinski, Emma Jean Orr of Chicago, Jean Penman and Dorothy Craig of Toronto. Junior bridesmaid, Ann Gibson, wore a modified gown of pink nylon net.

Edward H. Potthoff Jr. was his brother's best man and ushers were Harland Dodge of Ann Arbor, George Lloyd, Robert Rollins, Bruce Potthoff, Robert Potthoff, Don Dodge of Toledo and Alfred Nucklas of Kentucky.

Mrs. Gibson chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of gray lace and she pinned an orchid to her shoulder. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were hosts at the wedding reception in the St. Clair Civic Center.

The newly married couple motored to Ipperwash Beach Canada, on their wedding trip and will make their future home in Lansing. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Potthoff of Fordson drive, Dearborn.

June Bride and Her Attendants

The beautiful lawn of the D. D. McGinty's home on Grand Marais was the setting of the reception following the marriage of their daughter JOAN WINIFRED MCGINTY to John Arthur King, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. King of University place. The wedding took place at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on June 25. White marquisette and chantly lace fashioned the bride's gown, ivy streamers hung from her bouquet of iris and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were Jean Collinson, maid of honor, second from left, and Bridesmaids PATRICIA MCGINTY of Oregon, left, CHRISTINE BOOMER, JUDY HARGER and as junior bridesmaid was JUDY JANNER, niece of the bridegroom. They were all gowned alike in aqua taffeta under white eyelet gandy with bouffant skirts. Wide taffeta sashes were tied at the waistline.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, William Janner was best man. Ushers were John McGinty, Richard Winkler and Lt. Richard Burns.

Mrs. McGinty wore an aqua crepe gown. Her hat was of dusty rose straw trimmed with dusty pink roses and aqua french lilies and her corsage was light pink Briar Cliff roses with white stephanotis.

Mrs. King chose for her son's wedding a gown of mocha Alencon lace with matching picture hat. Her corsage was tan spray orchids.

For traveling, the new Mrs. King wore a grey linen suit with white accessories and a white orchid.

Enroute to the Black Hills the newlyweds stopped at the Potawatomi Inn on Lake James in Indiana. The bridegroom plans doing some research work in South Dakota in connection with his thesis for his Ph.D. In the Early Fall they will return to Ann Arbor, where both Mr. and Mrs. King will resume their studies at the University of Michigan.

The bride is affiliated with the Kappa Delta Sorority, the bridegroom with Sigma Xi Fraternity.

Vawters Hosts At Old Club

The George H. Vawters of Buckingham road are anticipating a series of week-end week-parties which started last week-end and will continue through mid-August. They have taken the John W. Mulford cottage at the Old Club and this will be the scene of their fun.

This week-end they will be hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Watson, Mr. and Mrs. James Truella and Larry Snodgrass of New Orleans. Over the holiday week-end their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hall and their daughter, Stephanie and Joseph Parsons.

The Mulford family, including their three daughters, Joan, Mary Andrea and Susan are spending the next six weeks at their Colorado ranch.

Mrs. John Mazer Honors Husband at Open House

Mrs. John Mazer of 867 Loraine road, was hostess at a recent open house, in honor of her husband, John, Sr., who has just passed the Michigan State Bar Examination.

Invitations were extended to the following: Mr. and Mrs. John Paris, Anthony Tashnick, Finley Allen, Frank X. Martel, Jr., George Menendez, Juste Rosati, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Withchurch, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Erickson, George Squire, Jerry Harness, Howard McCarthy, John Applegate, Henry Barnard, Paul Hohenstein, Frank Lister, Frank McDonald, Herb Schollenberger, William Tyler, Keener Wallace, William Wybo, Dr. and Mrs. E. Pointer Wed In Virginia

The Post Chapel at Fort Myer, Va. was the scene of the June 18 wedding of Elizabeth M. Crane, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Richard Zeigler Crane of Falls Church, Va. and James Wallace Armour Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace Armour of Rivard boulevard, Grosse Pointe.

The post chaplain, Gregory J. Lock, officiated.

A stole of rosepointe that had belonged to her great, great, great grandmother distinguished the bride's ivory satin gown. French illusion veil extended the length of the train and she carried valley lilies and white gladioli.

Jane Spence of Arlington, N. J. was maid of honor for her former Wellesley classmate. She wore a frock of hyacinth blue marquisette and carried blue delphinium and iris intermingled with white snapdragons. A band of blossoms was in her hair.

Bridesmaids Ann Armour, sister of the bridegroom, and Dorothy Crane, sister of the bride, wore gowns like that of the honor maid and carried similar bouquets.

Three year old Helen Hayes, a cousin of the bride and daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. T. J. Hayes of Washington, was flower girl. Her white gandy Kate Greenway frock was sashed in hyacinth blue ribbon and she wore flowers in her curls.

John Hyde Williams of Grosse Pointe was best man and the ushers, all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom at Cornell, were William Chappell Jr. of Wellesley, Mass., Edward Smith Jr. of Westfield, N. J., Edward Daly of West Hartford, Conn., Frank Olsen of Long Island and Jack Foley of Washington, Lieut. J. G. Theodore R. Hartly, USN, a cousin of the bride, also was an usher.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents after which the Armours left for their wedding trip to the New Jersey seashore. Last week they attended the wedding of Jim's sister, Joan Armour to Lowell B. Mason at the Pointe. They will make their home in Ithica, N. Y. until Jim finishes his electrical engineering course at Cornell.

Summer Busy Time For Eva Doty Worcester

Guests and travel and painting are making the Summer a busy and highly engaging one for Mrs. Eva Doty Worcester of Sunningdale drive.

Last week Mrs. Worcester was hostess to Dr. Miriam Van Waters of Framingham, Mass. who was here to speak to social workers at Christ Church. Dr. Van Waters is head of all of the reformatories in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Worcester, who is occupied now with her painting, plans to leave later in the Summer for Cape Cod and the North Shore, particular favorites of her gifted brush.

Little Debut Season Comes to Close

Last Week of June Ends Summer Presentations for Pointe Young Set; Ruth Joan Marcus and Sally Watters Bow in Final Parties

The final Grosse Pointe debutante of the Summer season was dark-haired Ruth Joan Marcus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Marcus of Oxford road.

She was introduced to her mother's friends at an afternoon reception at Lochmoor Club by Mrs. Marcus last Wednesday afternoon.

The debutante greeted the guests in a charming ballerina length frock of yellow mouseline de soie, embroidered in white thread.

Mrs. Marcus chose for the occasion a printed green sheer with which she wore ramburn lilies. For the debutante there were assistants from the young set: Kay Bartemeier, Sue Scully and Barbara Kearins all of whom wore the deb's gift corsages of palest pink carnations.

Assisting Mrs. Marcus were another daughter, Mary Anne, Mrs. John J. Corbett and Miss Irene Elliott.

Another debutante of the closing days of the season was Sally Watters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Finkenstaedt of Rivard boulevard.

A ball at the Little Club introduced this pretty miss to society. She danced in a lovely ball gown of Dior blue tulle over pink taffeta. In the receiving line, Sally carried her father's gift bouquet of shaded delphinium.

Mrs. Finkenstaedt wore a deeper blue chiffon and white orchids. Floor committee for the debutante included her brother, Ted Watters, Peter Prince, Bob Cudlip, Mac Woodhouse, Ed Baker, Dave Dillon, Bill Moll and Bill Dahlberg.

Before the ball, Mr. and Mrs. William Tefft Barbour were hosts at a dinner in the Country Club for their granddaughter, Carrie Carter.

Arriving from out of town for the ball were Sally's houseguests, Suzanne La Roe of Bronxville, N. Y., a Vassar classmate, and Marjorie Beach of Saginaw.

brother Richard, aged 11, and told them kindly but firmly that that part of Grosse Pointe waters were rigidly preserved for boys and girls of Grosse Pointe City.

Pointer Takes Bride in Iowa

In a simple, impressive home wedding Thursday afternoon, June 30, Joyce L. Muilenburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Muilenburg of Maurice, Iowa, and Alfred W. Bender, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Bender of Washington road, were united in marriage. Rev. John Roggen of the First Reformed Church of Maurice, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a long white satin dress with sweetheart neckline and bustle back, a finger-tip veil, edged with lace, and a pendant necklace, the gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of yellow calla lilies. The bridegroom's mother wore sheer gray, while the bride's mother was in navy crepe. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses and Esther Reed Daisies, as did the bride's sisters.

As a surprise feature a wedding cake was also presented to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Bender, the day being not only the marriage of their only child, but their own thirty-fifth anniversary.

The bride's going away outfit was a red suit with black and white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Following a two weeks honeymoon, part of which includes a camping trip on Isle Royale, off the upper peninsula of Northern Michigan, the couple will be at home at Batavia, New York.

Mrs. Bender is a graduate of the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, Chicago, Ill., and of Hope College, Holland, Mich. Mr. Bender is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton, Mich., and has taken some graduate courses at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich. He is now employed as an engineer in the Batavia Metal Products Corp., Batavia, New York.

Confusion Reigns as Race Week Comes to Conclusion

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's Regatta Called "No Contest" After Skippers Lodge Myriad Protests Over Finish Line and Drifting Markers

By Fred Runnells
The DRYA third annual Race Week ended in confusion and protests from many local skippers and crews when the botched up Grosse Pointe Yacht Club regatta, the last in the four race series, was called "no contest."

The GPYC officials got off on the wrong foot way back when the official Race Week program was printed and stated all boats must finish in the opposite direction of their starts. This would have worked out all right if the fleets had been sent around the course to port instead of starboard.

Argue Over Finish
The finish line was the greatest bone of contention. This caused several skippers to storm the judges stand in protest. Drifting marks, something GPYC has always had trouble with in its regattas, made for plenty of confusion and resulted in many more skippers filing protests both in writing and verbal. All this caused the GPYC officials to call the regatta "no show" and cut Race Week short with the winners being determined on the first three races of the series.

To Get Double Prizes
Winners of the Grosse Pointe regatta will be determined in next Saturday's July 9 St. Clair Yachtsmen's regatta. In other words the skippers who place in next week's contest will be awarded double prizes.

Race Week Winners
Cruising A—Clare Jacobs; Cruising B—White-Dodenhoff; Cruising C—Hank Burkhard; Eight Meter—Saunders-Hahn; Universal A—George LeMaire; Universal B—Lynn Babcock; International 210—Hank Cawthra; CK Team—St. Clair Yachtsmen; CK Free For All—Josh Barnes; Liders 16—Bruce Davenport; International 114's—Charles Spydell; L Class—Ted Kuhn; Lightnings—Walt Rooney; Privateers—Bob Roadstrom; Stars—Alex Allard; 22-Square meter—Harold Mistle; and Thistles—Howard Boston.

Fishing Is Good for Man; Here Are a Few Hints

Rally 'round all you would-be Isaak Waltons! Drop your lines, baits, weights and bobbers in your tackle box and listen. You SHOULD go fishing. Pan fishing is good for a man. This is on no less authority than the Michigan Department of Health. The department, right at the start of the bass and pan season, came out with a half dozen good solid reasons for going fishing. A man needs a hobby, pleasure, and escape from routine. He needs relaxation and out-of-door exercises. The fish he catches are good for him, too, the department said.

Helps Happy Living
Fishing, with its enthusiasm, anticipation, fresh air, sunshine, exercise, relaxation and good companionship, helps a man live happily and work well. As usual, the Health Department tacked on a few precautions, but they may "bring US back alive."

Check your boat to be sure it doesn't leak and that its motor is in safe working order. Then don't overload it, stand up in it, or lean way out of it. Don't smoke while filling your motor or near anybody's leaky motor. If you can't swim, take along that old inner tube. Get for shore if a storm comes up. Wear a hat, long sleeves and long trousers. They protect you from sunburn, sunstroke, and mosquitoes.

Carry Water Supply
Maybe you'd better take along a bottle of insect repellent, too, and have a first aid kit in your car just in case somebody snags you with a casting plug or your hands get blistered. Don't drink lake water—it's got "bugs" in it. Carry your own cool, safe supply. If you're bound to drink something stronger, drink it with your fish dinner and not while traveling to the lake or on the lake. Rowing and hauling in those big ones takes a strong heart. Don't overdo and don't get over-excited. Take your time coming, going and fishing. It is better to lose time, fish and tackle than to lose your life, the department reminded.

Thomas Riching Receives Babson Institute Degree

Wellesley, Mass. (Special to the Grosse Pointe News) — Among the Michigan men graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Babson Institute on June 18, was Thomas E. Riching, Jr., son of Mrs. Thomas E. Riching and the late Thomas E. Riching of 1237 Nottingham road, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan. He had majored in the study of Distribution during his course at the Institute.

Riching, who entered Babson in January, 1947, following three years' service with the Navy, including 21 months in the Pacific theater, is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, and was active on the advertising staff of the Babsonian, the school year book. He is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, and spent one year at Wayne University before entering Babson. He is married to the former Ellen Cherubini of Schenectady, New York.

Two From Pointe Gain Honor Roll at U. of D.

It has been announced by Dean Clement J. Freund, of the engineering college of the University of Detroit, that two students from this area were named on the honor roll for the past semester. They were John L. Harned, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark L. Harned, of 1335 Bedford Road, electrical engineering; and Paul Terbruggen, son of Mrs. Lawrence Terbruggen, of 252 Kenwood, who is a mechanical engineering student.

Boat Banter

In all probability I will be about as popular as ants at a picnic and will be severely criticized by local speedboat owners for the statements I will make in the following article. But the opinion is entirely my own and I fell there are many speedboat fans who will agree with me.

Once again the Gold Cup and the Detroit Memorial (formerly the Ford Memorial) races have come and gone and with the same results. Local sports writers labeled the Gold Cup race the best in the 49 year old history of the event. True, lap records, heat records and the ninety mile records were erased from the books when Wild Bill Cantrell drove the Gregory-Schoenherr-owned "My Sweetie" to victory over R. Stanley Dollar's "Skip-A-Long", Jack Schaffer's "Such Crust", Guy Lombardo's outclassed "Tempo VI", the Dossin brothers "Miss Pepsi" and Al Fallon's "Miss Great Lakes".

Of the six boats to start the race only four completed the ninety mile distance. "Miss Pepsi" completed only the second heat and "Miss Great Lakes" the first heat. Cantrell overcame a bad break in the first heat of the Gold Cup when his foot throttle got stuck and the boat almost flipped over the lower turn by the Belle Isle bridge. Cantrell fixed the trouble to finish third to gain what proved to be his winning margin eventually.

Again it is true the boats that did complete the three heat ninety mile distance gave the spectators plenty of thrills and a good show but would it not have been a whole lot of a spectacle if all nine qualifiers could have been in the race at the finish?

Every year there is much ado about this boat and that boat that is being built to win the Gold Cup and this year was no different than the rest. Thirty six owners filed entries. Of the thirty six two withdrew without getting their boats in the water, one of the withdrawals coming three weeks before the qualifying trials last week. One by one other entries dropped by the wayside due to mechanical failures or structural accidents, such as was the case of Lou Pageol's "So-Long", which hit an object in the water and ripped a huge hole in her bottom. Pageol in turn bought Bill Stroh's "Nuts 'N Bolts" in an attempt to get into the race but mechanical failures kept him from qualifying.

Other entrants such as Horace Dodge and Henry Kaiser, to name the two most prominent, were unable to iron out mechanical difficulties and failed to qualify. Both these men have poured a pot full of gold into two boats which they hope to get on the American team in the Harmsworth Race July 29-30.

Day by day hopeful entrants saw their boats eliminated through these failures and by race time only nine had qualified. Of these nine only four started the first heat. It is true the disappointment was great to the owners but can't you imagine the spectators' disappointment when only four boats put in an appearance at the starting line after they had been led to believe this year's race was going to have a record number of starters?

Gar Wood, the silver haired wizard of speedboat racing who went to England way back in 1920 to defeat the Englishman Sir Edward McKay Edgar and the Frenchman Despujols in the Harmsworth, and who made eight successful defenses of the cup, hit the nail on the head. Said Wood: "Owners anxious for a place on the United States team are trying to do too much in too short a time."

Wood pointed out that some owners announced they would have as many as three boats to enter the trials, which he termed as "foolish". He said it would have been so much better if these owners had concentrated on one boat, perfected it and made sure of having one good boat instead of trying to do too much in too little time and ending up with nothing for the race. Speedboat owners today talk of nothing but speed and more speed, forgetting reliability, which was Gar Wood's uppermost thought in his famous "Miss America".

Wood set the Harmsworth record with an average of 86.393 with "Miss America", when he won the 1933 race at Algonac, Michigan. Present Harmsworth favorites and "Such Crust" were quite a bit off Wood's record in their performance in the Gold Cup. "Skip-A-Long" holds the Gold Cup record with an average speed of 75.599 and "Such Crust" is close behind with 75.149. "My Sweetie" only averaged 73.610 M.P.H.

In view of these facts it might be well if Wood would bring "Miss America X" out of retirement and try for a place on the American team. I will make a prediction right now that the Harmsworth race will see only three boats cross the finish line and Harold Wilson's Canadian representative "Miss Canada" will not be one of them.

Wilson, in past years has never had any luck on the Detroit River. His boats always have generator trouble and are forced out of the race. If the new "Miss Canada" with her much publicized Rolls Royce motors, doesn't stand the gaff the Harmsworth race will lose all of its international flavor and turn into an All American rout.

If by making these statements I have stepped on somebody's toes I am sorry, but deny them if you can.

Award Pointers U. of D. Letters

Three residents of Grosse Pointe, Pitcher Pete Viviano, Pitcher Al Thielemans, and Tennis Star Bob Kleinsmith, were on the list of letter winners at the University of Detroit, Lloyd Brazil, athletic director has announced.

The award was the fourth for Viviano, veteran righthanded relief pitcher. This year, in his first starting assignment in four years, Viviano showed Coach Brazil that he had been missing a good bet, for he set down a visiting Cincinnati club with six hits to win easily, 12-3.

Pete acted as Brazil's coach when he was not pitching, and was the holler-guy of the squad throughout his career. He prepped at St. Bernard high school, lettering in football, basketball and baseball, and made all-city basketball squad in his senior year. Viviano lives at 1333 Grayton road.

Kleinsmith was a Titan squadman for four years also, but the letter was only his third, for no letters were awarded for tennis when Bob was a freshman. He starred in singles and doubles, teaming with Al Reunart for the past two years to form one of the Detroit area's most respected doubles combines. In his junior year Kleinsmith captained the Detroit net squad.

A resident of 1341 Bedford road, Kleinsmith played his high school tennis at St. Paul, captaining the team in 1942 and 1943. He also lettered in football and basketball at the Grosse Pointe school.

Al Thielemans, of 1256 Wayburn, won three letters at St. Ambrose High School and captained the baseball team there in 1942 before entering the army. Entering the U. of D. in 1946, he served as a relief pitcher in 1947 and 1948. This year he won two games and lost one as first string pitcher, holding an earned run average of .367. Thielemans earns his letter as he enters the Junior class.

Symington Wins Tennis Tourney

Charles "Soapy" Symington walked off with top honors in the mens singles at the annual tennis tournament of the Country Club. The competition began Saturday, July 1, with Soapy defeating Wally Ford 6-1, 6-0.

Next to yield to Symington's racket was Bill Crowley, who went down 8-6, 6-2. Monday brought a close to the tournament, when young Soapy finished off Bill Ford, 6-2, 6-3 to end three days of hot tennis.

Simians Again to Present Play in Circular Theater

On July 21, 22, and 23 at 8:30 p. m. the Simians are presenting their third annual production "Night Must Fall" by Enilyn Williams. This year's production is again going to be held in an outdoor circular theatre at the Emory Ford Estate, as last year's outdoor production was such a success.

"Night Must Fall" is an unusual type of mystery which only Emily Williams could write. The early part of the play leaves one completely unprepared for the sensational killing that takes place. All the characters are very unique and will long remain in the memory of the audience.

To those who are not familiar with the Simians it might be mentioned that the proceeds from last year's production went to the War Memorial, and the proceeds of the year before to the Red Cross and the Neighborhood Club.

"Bet you can't do this in your house!"

Mary: "Heavens, no -- the drafts would sweep me away! How'd you ever get it so warm and cozy in here?"

Jane: "We had a LENNOX Heating System installed! The LENNOX man made sure to select the right unit for our house -- then he put it in and connected it up with LENNOX controls."

Mary: "And that ended cold floors and drafts for you?"

Jane: "Yes -- and it also ended temperature variations in all our rooms, too!"

Mary: "Wait! I tell Frank about this! We're seeing the LENNOX man right away!"

Writers' Club Elects Pointer

Louanna Wilcox of 831 Loraine, Grosse Pointe, was elected vice-president of the Michigan Writers' Club recently, at a combined board election meeting, and buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Beattie, St. Paul avenue, Indian Village.

Daniel C. Beattie, network radio writer-producer for the Lone Ranger and Green Hornet mystery-serials, was re-elected president; James P. Sexton, story analyst and author of technical books, treasurer; Mary Holt, secretary. Mrs. Georgia Sexton was elected chairman of the board.

The new board members were elected at the last general meeting of the club, Sheraton Hotel, Detroit. Other members of the new board include Dr. Kathryn Robb, poet and playwright, Marygrove College; Jeanne Abele Duran, fiction writer; Lenore Upton, fiction writer; and Katherine Leiber, research analyst.

The Michigan Writers' Club is a non-profit organization of professional writers and those interested in the professional field. During the club year, meetings are held every second and fourth Thursday of the month in the Kirby room of the Sheraton Hotel, Detroit. The Club will not be in regular session during the summer months.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conover B. Sarvis of Lakepointe.

The Rev. Paul Ketchum will officiate at the ceremony which is to take place in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Ruth will be attended by her sisters, Mrs. Earl Hoyt and June Sarvis while four-year-old Michael Hoyt, is to be ringbearer. Between now and her wedding date, Ruth will divide her time between Grosse Pointe and her parents' summer home at Higgins lake.

AAUW Leader On World Tour

The Grosse Pointe branch of the American Association of University Women has received word that the national president of AAUW, Dr. Althea Kratz Hottel, dean of women at the University of Pennsylvania, is representing the Association in a "Round the World Town Meeting" and "World Town Hall Seminar" sponsored by the Town Meeting Program.

Starting June 26, from New York City, 20 leaders of American organizations accompanied the Town Hall Staff on a tour by air which includes 12 world capitals.

At London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, Istanbul, Cairo, Ankara, New Delhi, Tokyo, and other capitals, Town Meetings, each on a different subject, will be recorded with two citizens of the country visited and two Americans presenting the problem.

Their talks will be followed by comments and questions from the accompanying American group and members of the local audiences.

The records will be flown back to New York for broadcast on the regular Tuesday evening Town Meeting program.

Since most of these countries have organizations of university women similar to the AAUW, Dr. Hottel will take this opportunity to make contact with leaders of these associations.

She will ascertain particular needs which the AAUW might help to supply through its program of educational and personal aid to university women in displaced persons camps and in war-devastated areas.

PROWLER ESCAPES

A prowler was reported at the home of Miss Frances Booth of 101 Lewiston road on June 30. When police arrived no one could be found, and everything was in order.

Gach to Attend Photog Meeting

Paul Gach, well known Grosse Pointe photographer, has accepted an invitation to attend the 58th annual convention of the Photographers' Association of America which will be held in the Stevens Hotel, Chicago, August 15 to 19.

This convention serves as an idea exchange for the entire photographic world. New trends and current problems in the industry are clarified and discussed in talks and demonstrations by top-flight photographic artists.

Highlights of the 1949 convention will include the display of equipment and materials by photographic manufacturers, lectures and demonstrations on portrait and commercial photography, a picture exhibit and numerous other features.

Discussion groups will explore problems of portrait coloring, reception room practices, and commercial photography. A feature entitled "Facing the Future" will point up the ethical business practices to which association members are pledged.

Membership of The Photographers' Association of America includes more than 7,500 portrait and commercial photographers.

Georgian Visits In Torrey Home

Johns-Mansville Company, the nation's largest producers of roofing and siding materials has appointed the Lockhart Roofing and Siding Company, 12558 Filbert, as exclusive-approved representative for the sale and installation of its roofing products in Grosse Pointe and the East Side of Detroit.

The Lockhart Company is among Detroit's oldest and largest residential re-roofing and siding dealers and has specialized in Grosse Pointe residential work through the years and this new official tie-in with the Johns-Mansville firm brings added opportunity to them to serve with the world's best known materials.

Carl Shields Graduated From Rutgers University

Carl Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shields, was graduated from Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J. earlier this month and is now in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields traveled east to attend their son's graduation. Carl was one of the most active men on campus during his senior year and besides leading in many literary and debating activities was graduated cum laude.

In New York he'll be a member of the Radio Research department of the McCann-Erickson Agency.

U. of M. Club Picks Franseth

The University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe was entertained at a club picnic in the home of Joseph H. Parsons, 1006 Buckingham road, June 12. Approximately 85 attended.

The annual business meeting of the Club was held at the same time. The Club elected the following new members to the Board of Governors:

Mrs. William George Belanger, 211 MacMillan road; Mrs. Sanborn Brown, Meadow Lane; Howard D. House, 1134 Yorkshire; Dr. John H. Cobane, 151 Merriweather road, and Paul Franseth, 321 Merriweather road.

The Board of Governors met and elected Paul Franseth, president; Mrs. Joseph A. Murphy, vice president; Bernice Moore, treasurer, and Mrs. Sanborn Brown, secretary.

Youth Committee To Hold Dances

The Youth Committee which was active at the time of the Family Life Institute last April, has decided to hold a series of dances at the Grosse Pointe High School, the first of which will be held Friday, July 15.

Peggy Dicken is chairman of the dance. Everybody is welcome to come and have fun. The price of admission is 25c and your park ticket to show you are a resident of Grosse Pointe.

Reckless Driver Forces Motorist to Hit Pole

Kirk Waish, 19, of 263 Roosevelt place, reported to the police at 2:30 a. m. July 2, that as he was driving south on Rivard a few minutes before, a car without lights coming in the opposite direction and on the wrong side of the street, compelled him to run into a city light pole to avoid a head-on collision.

The front of his own car was badly bashed in. He did not learn the identity of the other driver.

Areas of Relief For Hayfever Sufferers Listed

Approximately half of Michigan may offer relief to ragweed hayfever sufferers, and at least five areas in the state are virtually free from ragweed pollen concentration, according to report of the Michigan Department of Health's 1948 ragweed pollen survey, now being distributed.

Five of the 52 pollen-collecting stations set up by the Department's laboratories reported no day with a ragweed pollen concentration of more than 100 grains per cubic yard of air. Six others reported no more than five days with pollen counts of more than 100.

Boyne City, Charlevoix and Petoskey in the Lower Peninsula and Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace in the Upper Peninsula reported no day with significant pollen count.

Only One Day
Frankfort had only one day with pollen count of more than 100; Manistee, three days; Cryst-tal Falls and Marquette, four days; and Mackinac Island and Mt. Pleasant, five days.

Additional areas whose total seasonal count remained under 2,000 grains per cubic yard of air were Cadillac, Cheboygan, Gladwin and Munising.

August 11 was the first date that a station (Sturgis) reported a pollen count of more than 100. Most of the stations attained that level between Aug. 18 and 23. Counts at all stations had dropped below 100 by Sept. 20.

Highest at Lansing
Highest total pollen count was reported from the Lansing station which had a seasonal count of 16,583.

Other stations with high seasonal counts were: Sturgis, 15,291; Mt. Clemens, 14,705; Bay City (North Shore), 13,638; Saginaw, 13,573; Grand Rapids, 13,500; Midland, 12,566; Jackson, 12,081; South Haven, 11,618; Bay City, 10,477, and Kalamazoo, 10,259.

The Michigan Department of Health has published detailed reports of the 1948 pollen survey including a map and weekly counts for each of the 52 collecting stations which may be had, without charge, by writing to the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

Michigan Mirror

In making your plans for summertime recreation, don't overlook Michigan's 80 state park and recreational areas.

Free to everyone, they attracted more than 12,000,000 visitors last year.

Leading in attendance was the Holland State park. It is estimated that 1,800,000 people enjoyed its facilities. Forty-four thousand permits to camps (tent and trailers) were issued by all parks. Camping is free, too. A small charge is made for electricity.

These parks are administered by the parks and recreation division of the state conservation department. Arthur C. Elmer is division chief.

Because of their popularity with Michigan residents and out-of-state tourists, the park system has plenty of headaches. For one thing, the parks range in size from 11 acres to the 60,000-acre Porcupine Mountains State Park at Ontonagon and Geogebic counties. They include bathing beaches at Grand Haven, Holland and Warren Dunes; historic sites such as Fort Wilkins in the Copper County's scenic Keweenaw peninsula; natural phenomena such as the Kitch-iti-kipi Spring in the Palms Book State Park.

Michigan's state park system has grown like Topsy. A 32-acre tract of timber and dunes in Leelanau county near Glen Arbor, the gift of David H. Day (then chairman of the state conservation commission) started the ball rolling in 1920. Other picnic and camping spots were added from time to time. Michigan now has 80 parks—all sizes, some good, some poor.

The conservation department would like to return 20 to counties for local recreational use. But local legislators howl to the heavens whenever the suggestion is made. And so the department spreads the legislative appropriation around the best it can.

The state park division, now with 144,000 acres of park and recreational land to administer, asked the legislature for $2,344,000 to make possible long-planned capital improvements. Much of this money was to be used to develop the southeastern Michigan recreational program in Metropolitan Detroit area.

The legislature was on the spot. Twice the voters had voted to return 78 per cent of the state sales tax revenue back to local governments. With insufficient money in the state treasury to meet even the growing needs of the university and colleges, the legislature sliced the $2.3 million request down to $500,000—almost nothing.

On paper the state park system has a development program which would put Michigan well into the lead nationally. The parks would attract more tourists to Michigan; the $18 million cost would be more than repaid by additional out-of-state dollars received by businessmen everywhere. Yet, to date, the legislature has appropriated only $1.75 million in the past four years.

The state treasury squeeze, caused by earmarking of state funds for local government spending, is wrecking the state park plan. The $991,000 maintenance budget, cut from an original $1,165,000 request, must be spread over 60 parks.

Fishermen and hunters contribute to development of special facilities through purchase of licenses. Yet the state park system, outnumbering the fishermen and hunters six to one in total attendance, has no revenue of its own derived from those who enjoy it.

The state department was again rebuffed by the legislature in 1949 when it asked discretionary authority to charge admission and use fees, if and when and where needed. Legislators were skeptical, hesitant and reluctant. The bill died in committee. The department is about convinced that broad discretionary power is not the answer to the park financing problem. Perhaps use fees, limited to specified facilities, would be more acceptable.

The Straits of Mackinac state park, administered by the Mackinac Island park commission, is self-supporting through small use fees for camping and electricity. No charge is made for parking or for admission. Here is perhaps a partial answer to the lack of money to develop the state park system as the legislature originally planned.

"We have the lands and waters, the physical features and the climate," said Elmer, state park chief. "We need funds to develop the facilities needed for public recreation and for the proper maintenance and operation of these facilities."

During your leisure-time travel on Michigan state highways this summer, don't be surprised if you encounter miles of worn-out roads.

In fact, be surprised if you don't!

The state 3-cent gasoline tax and other sources afford about $36 million in road money for the fiscal year ending this June 30. That seems like a lot of money, but it really isn't so much, as Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler readily proves.

"From this amount $700,000 are required for general administration, $5 million for engineering and supervision, $14 million for highway and bridge maintenance and operation, and $500,000 to cover operating loss of state ferries at the Straits of Mackinac," says Commissioner Ziegler.

"This leaves a balance of only

$15,750,000 of state funds for highway and bridge new construction and reconstruction, as well as to meet unforeseen emergencies not in our program such as the immediate replacement of three bridges which collapsed this year.

"The legislature has approved a budget of $2,500,000 to start construction of a double-ended ice-breaker ferry needed to handle adequately the increased traffic volume across the Straits of Mackinac, both winter and summer. Money spent on construction of this ferry must also come out of the funds available for highway construction."

Lack of finances do not permit the state highway department to provide for normal depreciation of its trunkline system of 9,400 miles. "We should be spending $25 million each year in order to take care of depreciation only," said Ziegler. "We still have about $160 million of highway deficiencies today. Finances have not been adequate."

"From 1942 through 1945 regular highway construction was impossible because of war restrictions, but depreciation was stepped up by unprecedented traffic made necessary by wartime emergencies. Government statistics show that 73 per cent of all war production transportation in Michigan moved over Michigan highways.

"In 1946, immediately after the war, we expected to get our post-war construction programs underway. We could not do so because of the impossibility of getting cement, steel, new equipment and other materials. Therefore, we had four years of war, plus 1946, or five years when there was no new normal highway construction.

"Cost of Michigan Highway work has risen steadily from 1941 through the war years to 1949. Today our highway costs are 110 per cent above the costs of 1941. One dollar today purchases less than one-half what it did in 1941.

"Two lane 22-foot pavements, which carried traffic satisfactorily in 1941, are inadequate to handle properly and safely the greatly increased volume. In 1941 we were building these normal two-lane pavements, including preliminary grading and drainage structures, for from $40 to $45 thousand dollars per mile. A mile of the same width of concrete pavement today, increased some in thickness and more heavily reinforced to stand the heavier industrial traffic, is costing about $100 thousand dollars per mile.

"Ordinarily divided highways with a two-lane pavement in both directions cost about $200 thousand dollars or more per mile in a rural section. Because the number of railroad and street grade separations and the high cost of necessary right-of-way in Detroit, the 10 1/2 mile section of the Ford and Lodge expressways we are now working on costs around 6 1/2 million dollars per mile. The state must pay $2 to match $1 of federal aid for right-of-way purchases."

There is inflation also in highway use. Passenger car traffic is up nearly 25 per cent compared with 1941; industrial traffic is up 50 per cent. More heavy trucks and busses pound the pavements.

Commissioner Ziegler has favored the Good Roads Federation program for an increase in the state gasoline tax. He points out that Michigan is one of three states which have a 3-cent gasoline tax; that the average tax of all states on Jan. 1, 1949, was 5.7c per gallon; that since Jan. 1, 1949, a total of 14 states increased the gas tax load so that the average is now approximately 6c a gallon—double that of Michigan.

If all state roads are not ideal, just remember this: Better roads and higher taxes go hand in hand.

Bruce Kittredge Visits England on Navy Cruise

Bruce J. Kittredge, fireman apprentice, U.S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce J. Kittredge of 2081 Lancaster, Grosse Pointe Woods, visited Portsmouth, England, aboard the Destroyer USS New, one of the ships of the Midshipmen Practice Cruise.

The New remained in Portsmouth eight days during which time he and his shipmates visited many parts of Great Britain.

The visit followed an intensive training period during his crossing from Annapolis, where the Midshipmen were embarked.

The squadron is commanded by Rear Admiral Allan E. Smith, USN, whose flag flies on the battleship USS Missouri. Upon the arrival of the squadron the Admiral was greeted by the Lord Mayor Portsmouth and the local British Commander-in-Chief, Admiral of the Fleet, Sir Algernon U. Willis, GCB, KBE, DSO.

Theatre Arts reprints a yarn by the late Raymond Hitchcock on the hazards of trouping in the old era of One Night Stands.

Hitchie, like all real troupers, loved the road although he pretended to hate it.

This story concerns a long and gritty tour with a fourth rate company, during which everything possible went wrong. "In one town the county fair outdrew us," Hitchie recalled.

"In the next town, through a mistake, the hall had been rented over our heads to a morticians convention.

"In another spot they ran us out of town because a month earlier the Simon Legree in a Tom show had jilted the banker's daughter, etc., etc.

"Finally, we were going into Greenville, S.C. and they wired us we were sold out solid for two nights if we'd stay over. Our spirits revived. Our hearts sang.

"We got off the train at Greenville about 5 p.m. and entered the hotel bus.

I sat on the top with the driver. I was happy as a lark. The birds sang sweetly. I inhaled the perfume of magnolia and fried chicken along the way.

"I said to the driver, 'This is a lovely town.' He said, 'Yap.' "I said, 'Isn't that a beautiful sunset over yonder?'"

"He said, 'Sunset, hell; that's the opry house burnin' down.'"

RUTHIE

Hamilton Howlett

The girls in the office "just loved" Ruthie. She was in every sense of the word a girl's girl. Mousy, admiring, and a good listener, sympathetic, tireless, and breathless with interest. She had a very even disposition and never competed with them. Could anything be more ideal?

Margie was curvaceous and a little too blonde, but definitely attractive; Jeanie was small, red-haired, and roguish; black-haired Rita was sultry—and knew it; but Ruthie had soft brown eyes and soft, wavy brown hair and seemed to be all pastels and indistinct lines.

When Margie, or Jeanie, or Rita had dates and sneaked out of the office early, Ruthie always covered up for them, she straightened their desks, and lent them money, and did their shopping for them. Ruthie was truly a wonderful girl. Every year when she went up to "the cottage" for her two weeks with pay, the office was in terrible shape, and Margie and Jeanie and Rita sniped at each other till mounting tension almost blew the walls out.

One extremely jungle-like July day with Ruthie away and a gruesome atmosphere of open hostility pervading the office, Jeanie, who was the most alert of the three, looked up from her gummy typewriter to see standing in the doorway the most attractive male she had ever laid eyes upon. He had green eyes and reddish-brown hair and broad shoulders. His teeth were white, his eyes sparkled and his air was jaunty. He watched them with a very merry eye.

"Why—good morning," Jeanie gasped. "Hi!" the vision responded. "Is this the office of 'Stonebridge, McKesson & Lippincott?'"

"Yes—

"Well, I'm Hank Barnard, the new partner."

That was how it had begun. Before the week was out, Margie and Jeanie and Rita were all violently in love with Mr. Barnard. Their worshipping eyes never left him from the moment his banana-colored convertible drew up in front of the office in the morning, till its tall light whisked around the corner into the sunset and who knew what glamorous rendezvous. They yearned and pined and wore their best clothes, and were utterly charming all over the place.

As soon as Ruthie stepped into the office, fresh and bright-eyed from her two weeks at "the cottage", they drew her excitedly behind a file cabinet.

"Did you get my postcards?" she asked.

"Postcards!" they hissed in decision. "You talk about postcards

when the most colossal thing has happened!"

They bleated out the tale of the arrival of Hank Barnard. They absolutely drooled. Ruthie listened calmly. They were always drooling over somebody and the feverish intensity of the poor dears was probably attributable to the fact that they had been shut up in this stifling office all the time, while she had been absorbing cool lake breezes with her restful little family at "the cottage". But when they raced to the window at exactly nine-thirty to await the arrival of the long, shining banana, she knew that something momentous had indeed occurred.

Mr. Barnard flashed through the office exuding vigor and impartial charm, and, of course, didn't notice Ruthie till the day was half over.

"Who's that?" he asked Rita.

"Who?"

"That little thing over by the filing cabinet—"

"Oh, you mean Ruthie."

"Yes, that new one—"

"She's not new; she's been here longer than any of the rest of us."

"Well, I can't ask her out to lunch without an introduction, or can I, Ruthie?"

He was walking toward her with his hand outstretched and that remarkably warm smile.

As soon as they had left the office, the clamor and squawking was frightful to hear. Suffice it to say that Hank Barnard was labeled a black-hearted wolf and poor little Ruthie an innocent dove, who would be deeply hurt and shattered in the long run.

But, somehow, it didn't happen that way. Margie and Jeanie and Rita told Ruthie over and over and over that she was "not his type", "much too low-pressure", and surely "riding for a fall". They warned her terrifyingly about wolves; they told her she was a fool; and still she glowed rosily and went out with Mr. Barnard. When he gave her a beautiful diamond ring, they were horrified and stoutly maintained that he would never marry her, and when he married her, they said he'd never stay with her.

It's been ten years now and he's still there; and whenever the luxuriously clad Mrs. Barnard calls her husband at his office and is coldly greeted by Margie, or Jeanie, or Rita, she smiles to herself. For she knows that as long as she has the hatred of her friends, she still has the love of her husband.

Dance Planned For Teen-Agers

The first of the dances for Grosse Pointe youth scheduled for the Memorial Center under the auspices of the Board of Directors will be held on Saturday night, July 9. This dance is for the teen-agers.

Tommy Welton and his Band will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served.

The dancing will be in the first floor rooms facing the lake and also out on the terrace.

The co-chairmen of the committee are Jean Parfit and Tim Leach. The other members of the committee are: Carroll Grylls, Di Thompson, Bob Evans, Mary Nohr, Sherb Brown, Jim Mast, Myrna Troden, Pat Patvin, Sue Mercier, Norma Need, Jim Swift and Clarence O'Dell.

Dancing will be from 9-12, and tickets are $1.50 per couple.

Ens. Arthur Moesta, Jr. To Visit Crete on Cruise

Ens. Arthur W. Moesta, Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Moesta, Sr., of 60 Sunningdale drive, is scheduled to arrive at the island of Crete, July 16, as a crew member aboard the Destroyer USS McCord for a five-day visit.

In his peaceful "invasion" of the island, whose history is traced to 2000 B. C., he followed in the footsteps of Greek, Roman, Byzantine and Turkish invaders of old.

More recent history found Crete the scene of paratrooper landings in the last war that made airborne invasion history. It was there that ex-heavyweight champion Max Schmeling was injured during a jump with Nazi paratroopers.

Rotarians to See Tigers, Yankees Tangle July 22

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club has reserved 100 seats for the Tiger vs. Yankee baseball game July 22. Rotarians who desire to go can notify Forrest Geary, chairman of the committee on arrangements, at 389 St. Clair avenue.

The seats are in the upper deck, back of third base. Tickets will be picked up at the Rotary meeting in the Whittier July 11.

FISH HAVANA

Contributed by Mrs. Alexander L. Wiener

Cut a white fish in thick filets and fry in a great deal of butter until golden brown.

In another frying pan, and again with a very generous amount of butter, saute almonds until golden brown.

Grate the almonds and sprinkle thickly over the cooked fish. Over this pour the combined fish and almond butters, to which have been added worcestershire sauce (to taste), salt, pepper and fresh lime juice.

Juniors Leave For Camp

The beginning of summer time for the quite the younger generation, means packing vacation togs for camp.

Ta-Wa-Ma-Na, a popular summer camp on the shores of Lake Charlevoix in Northern Michigan will be the address of several Grosse Pointe juniors for the next eight weeks.

Connie Degnan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Degnan, of Cadieux road, who attends the Convent of the Sacred Heart in the winter time, will be a first year girl Ta-Wa-Ma-Na, which, when translated from the Indian tongue means "Maiden in the Sun." Her camp mate will be Jane Ellen Gage, a northend junior, whose parents, the Edward Anthony Gages of Parkside Ave., have a wide circle of friends here. Jane's a Sacred Heart girl, attending the Lawrence Avenue Convent and this is her second Ta-Wa-Ma-Na season.

The Henry Drettmann's 13-year-old daughter, Marilyn, will be at the camp for her first year. Marilyn's camp mate is a G. P. junior, is another first year camper.

Nancy Anderson and Dorothy Robertson, also Pointers, will be counselors at the camp this year.

LOWERS AT CONVENTION Park Police Chief Arthur E. Louwers attended the Michigan Chiefs of Police Association at Harbor Beach last week. He is now on his annual two weeks vacation.

Pointe Counter Points

By JANE

Pointers are shopping for coolth. It's the most marketable item any Pointe merchant can offer these July days. And to shop close to home is one of the best ways of avoiding the temperature.

While it's always fun to go to JACOBSON'S we find that it's one way to hang on to Sanity, too. The frosted interior makes one forget that July is just outside, puffing and panting and making the best groomed gals look like Gravel Gertie. But in the cool and smart regions of Jacobson's there are ideas galore on how to keep cool. Lingerie is an important item! Keep your brow placid by choosing one of their sheer pastel cotton gowns for summertime sleeping. Stock up on washable panty girdles that are feather weight. Do try the strapless cotton bras, cooler and so dippable. Pure silk is cooler for Summer wear than other materials used in slips and lingerie. JACOBSON'S suggest any of their expertly cut pure silk slips. And do stick to white lingerie as another bid for coolth. They'll tell you at JACOBSON'S that it works wonders!
