

Gratiot Township Asks to Join New Police Radio Setup

Interference Encountered On One-frequency System Causes Points Officials to Decide to Shift to Two-frequency As Soon As Possible

Additional information has been released following joint meeting of the administrative and operational groups of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Municipal Police radio system on Monday, July 18.

The meeting was called to determine the proper solution of a number of questions which had arisen since the beginning of the new installation, and to recommend changes in the original specifications which seemed important after discussion with Frank Hartz, who is supervising the installation, and also with Warren Carson the village radio technician who is aiding in the installation.

Those Attending

Those in attendance at the meeting were: for Grosse Pointe Park, Arthur E. Louwers, chief of police; for the City of Grosse Pointe, Norbert P. Neff, city clerk, and Tom V. Trombly, chief of police; for Grosse Pointe Shores, Ernest C. Putnam, president, Thomas K. Jeffris, superintendent, and Orville C. Ingalsbe, chief of police; for Grosse Pointe Woods, Harold Gregory, asst. chief of police; and for Grosse Pointe Farms, William F. Connolly, president, Walter Hoyt, chief of police and Harry A. Furton, clerk. Radio technicians present were Frank M. Hartz, Warren Carson, Harold Campau, chief operator of the Wayne County Sheriff's Station and Dewral Morrison, radio technician for Macomb County.

To Change Frequency

The original specifications for the Inter-Municipal radio service called for a two-frequency system should it be found that it encounters outside interference on the one-frequency system. The Farms station which has been in operation about a month has encountered a great deal of outside interference and it was decided to change over to the two-frequency system as soon as possible. This will involve an additional expense of $600 but is guaranteed to eliminate all outside interference.

Monitoring Question

Although it was not indicated that car to car transmission was of serious importance, it was decided that all car units be left equipped for such use during emergencies. It was also decided that no monitoring facilities of car to car transmission would be installed at the base station, i. e. the Farms, at this time.

No decision was reached on the question of how much outside monitoring should be done or to whom it should be assigned.

Channel Allotted

It was announced that an inter-city channel has been allotted for communicating between cities on important police work. Radio technicians report that the channel is now being used for all sorts of services and is a source of nuisance if left in an operating condition. It was recommended that the channel be left idle until such times as it is found to be operating satisfactorily and is necessary.

Gratiot Wants In

Gratiot township has asked to come into the Inter-Municipal system. The opinion of the local chiefs of police was that efficient police radio service would be better promoted by the inclusion of Gratiot. The technician said it could be arranged without difficulty.

The lockout device whereby the base station could have complete control of the transmitter and could lock out all other stations in an emergency, which was originally intended, will not be recommended. Abandoning the idea will eliminate considerable additional equipment.

To Go Ahead

After some discussion as to whether the complete launching of the radio service for all of Grosse Pointe should await the installation of the two frequencies, it was decided that all of the communities should be permitted to use the system as soon as possible. The Woods and the Shores were to be in operation on July 22, the Park by July 25 and the City about a week later.

It was announced that the Inter-Municipal service is nego-

Parking Meter Bids Received

Seven concerns submitted bids to the Farms for parking meters for the Kercheval avenue business district between Muir road and Fisher road. The village will buy 70 of the meters. The bids were opened on July 25 at the meeting of the village trustees. They were referred to the police and fire committee, which will study samples of all seven meters before reaching a decision.

Drivers Escape Injury in Crash

A car accident, fortunately not accompanied with any personal injury, occurred at 11:23 a. m. on July 18 at the intersection of Fairfax and Lakepointe. The two cars were driven by Joan Flinterman of 109 Touraine and Andrew Devon of 17875 Stahelin, Detroit. There was considerable property damage and both got tickets for driving without due care and caution.

Speeders Called Gambling Suckers by Police Chiefs

"DEADLY, PENNY-WISE, ECONOMY!" This is what Chief Ingalsbe, who leads the July campaign against excessive speed, calls the mental attitude of many drivers. "This attitude," he said today, "is what makes so many motorists who would never risk money gambling, go out on the highway and stake their lives, and other persons, against five or ten minutes of saved time."

According to the State Safety Commission, if the speeding motorist has an accident at 60 miles an hour while gambling in this way, the odds that he will kill or seriously injure himself, his passengers, someone in another car, or perhaps an innocent pedestrian, are so staggering that few professional gamblers would touch it with a 10-foot pole.

Emphasis on excessive speed, and its consequences, is the keynote of July traffic safety program, which is being conducted with the cooperation of the National Safety Council. With the slogan, "Speeders Are Losing Their Licenses" Chief Thomas A. Trombly said, it is hoped to impress upon motorists the importance of the driver's responsibility toward himself and his passengers. Since one out of every three fatal accidents involves a motorist driving too fast for conditions as a contributing factor, the State Safety Commission and the National Safety Council feel that excessive speed, although recognized by the public as a dangerous practice, has become obscured by other, more dramatic accident causes.

"It's one of those things that a motorist can get away with for a long time... almost until he has convinced himself that he's built up an immunity to death," Chief Goulette said. "But even if he gets away with speeding, aside from the risk—it costs him more in money. In comparison of top cruising speeds of 65 miles an hour and 40 miles an hour," Chief Walter Hoyt said. "Prof. R. A. Moyer of Iowa State College, reports that at the greater speed, gasoline consumption was more than 30 per cent higher than at the lower speed; oil consumption was almost four times as great, wear on tires was approximately two and a half times as fast, and the gain in the average speed was only 15 miles per hour."

In face of the evidence, the State Safety Commission again reminds motorists that excessive speed is a sucker's gamble—his life versus nothing, actually but further loss.

During the past several years, literally millions of Americans have been lifted from bare living to middle income brackets.

Grosse Pointe Simians Plan Evenings of One Act Plays

Following their last week's production of "Night Must Fall," the Grosse Pointe Simians will present an evening of one act plays on August 1 and 2. The plays are given at 8:30 at 485 Lake Shore. Tickets sell for 50 cents to adults and 25 cents to children.

One of the three plays to be given was written by Richard Tobin of 16900 Cranford lane, a member of the Simians. This is a satirical farce on an undertaker who suffers from a particularly stupid wife. The play, "A Wake in the Morning," was first produced at the University of Detroit where it met with great success. Playing the leads in this production will be Larry Hittel and Janice Skillman.

"Overtones" by Alice Gerstenberg, concerns two women who are having tea together and whose real thoughts and feelings are revealed by the presence of two other figures who represent their inner selves. The play is directed by James Donahue and Barbara Boothe and Patricia Ford head the all girl cast.

The third offering of the evening is a work by Anton Chekov, "On the Harmfulness of Tobacco." John Gale, who directed "Night Must Fall," will present this dramatic monologue, doing the jobs himself of cast, director, and producer.

Watchman Shoots Robbery Suspect

LeRoy Bryant, aged 29, of 870 Hancock street, Detroit, who was one of the suspects held on both the Houston Brothers and Gulf Gas station robberies, but released because of lack of evidence to hold him, has run into further trouble along the same line, on which he is certain to be held.

On the night of July 18 the night watchman in a laundry in Ferndale saw a hand stealthily reach into a window to open it. The watchman took a quick shot with his pistol and shot the man in the hand.

Taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital he gave the name of LeRoy Bryant. He was kept in the hospital until Wednesday when he was seen by Detective Flanagan of the City force.

He would say nothing, even protesting his innocence of trying to burglarize the Ferndale laundry. His story here was that he was trying to escape from white boys who were trying to beat him up.

At the time of the Houston burglary last May Bryant was working for the Farms Market and Harry Cherry, the other suspect, was working for Houston's.

The night of the Gulf Gas station robbery Harry Cherry was seen on Kercheval by Patrolman Andy Teetsert, who talked with him less than an hour before the burglary was discovered.

Thus far the police have not been able to definitely hook up either with the crimes, but have their own thoughts on the matter.

Pheasant Chaser Jailed by Police

A citizen telephoned into the City police station late in the afternoon of July 19 that a big red setter dog was chasing and generally frightening the pheasants on the Staelen farm of the foot of Lakeland on Mack.

The police gathered in his dogship, who was a fine animal but momentarily decided out of bounds. He was placed in the municipal pound and his master, G. E. Essington of 630 Neff, notified. Mr. Essington paid the usual impounding fee of $2 and the dog was turned over to him.

He promised to keep his dog out of pheasant territory hereafter.

TRAFFIC RELIEF ASKED

A petition from the residents on Bournemouth protesting against traffic conditions there and on Mack avenue was read at the Woods Council meeting on July 19 and referred to the Police Committee for study.

S. A. Dances at High School Started Way Back in 1936

By Martha Watkins
Grosse Pointe High School Yearbook Student

Back in 1936 something new was tried out at Grosse Pointe High, something that has become a custom now and an important part of school life.

On March 7, 1936, the first Student Association dance, (it was called an "All-School Party" then) was held. Admission was only 50 cents a couple, and "The Music Goes Round" was the hit song of the evening.

Grosse Pointe High had had dances before, but they had been given by clubs for their members or by classes for their grade. Now, for the first time, all the members of the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades were invited.

Dance Great Success

The dance was a success; plans were made immediately for another S. A. party. As one student put it, "It filled a void in school life."

For thirteen years S. A. dances have continued "filling a void." But they do much more than offer students a good time.

The purposes of the dances have been explained by Mr. Ralph Steffel, Student Association adviser: "They provide a place for G. P. H. students and their guests to enjoy themselves, and at the same time they teach them how to put on a big social affair. S. A. dances are the students' dances, and, therefore, they are the students' responsibility."

Plenty of Workers

At first the Senior High grades took turns sponsoring the dances, but in recent years interested students—and there are waiting lists of willing workers—have merely signed up for committee jobs. They may work on decorations, invitations, music, refreshments or entertainment.

Since the dances are no-profit, each committee member must learn to live within a limited budget. He learns, also, to plan his dance in relation to other dances; i. e., most dances which have expensive orchestras lose money, while those with "juke-box" music come out ahead. Dance plans must be made to include income decreases or increases.

As in every worthwhile activity, dance workers get a great deal out of their work. Mr. Steffel has discovered that those who worked on S. A. dances in high school are especially busy in college activities; they have the advantage of experience in planning and organizing social affairs.

Park Lets Pave Repair Contract

At the Park Council meeting on July 25 the contract for resurfacing the village streets contemplated in this season's program was let to the Cadillac Asphalt Paving Company for the figure of $28,198.30. The high bid for the job was $34,800.

The streets that will be resurfaced, with varying types of treatment, are: Vernor Highway from Cadieux to Audubon; Beaconsfield from Holly to Essex; Wayburn from Vernor to Jefferson; Hampton from Maryland to Wayburn; Beaconsfield from Vernor to Kercheval; Lakepointe from Mack to Kercheval; Yorkshire from Mack to Jefferson; Audubon from Jefferson to Charlevoix; Beaconsfield from Charlevoix to Mack; Harcourt from Jefferson to Windmill Point drive; Trombly road from Jefferson to Windmill Point drive.

323 Calls Keep Police on Jump

The Grosse Pointe Farms police department answered 323 calls during the month of June, according to Chief of Police Walter R. Hoyt. In this period $335.00 was collected in fines, $251.00 of which was for traffic and parking violations. Traffic court cases accounted for $170.00, of the total and other court cases for $160.

According to Chief Hoyt's report there were 21 traffic accidents resulting in damage amounting to $3,937.00 and three personal injuries. Police recovered the three automobiles that were stolen during the month. There was one case of grand larceny with a loss of $75.00. Of the $200.00 lost in cases of simple larceny $113.00 were recovered.

There were 39 complaints made about dogs, and nine made about boys' pranks. One juvenile had his driver's license suspended while the department issued 218 operator's and chauffeur's licenses.

During the month 45 juveniles and 25 adults were arrested. The great majority of these arrests were for miscellaneous offenses such as illegal swimming and damaging private property.

Losers End

Charles Fink, night watchman at the City waterfront park, while pumping out a boat at the park on July 19 cut off the end of his left thumb and seriously injured the same hand at the first joint.

Motorist Shears Off Light Pole

An electric light pole in front of 1801 Oxford was sheared off on July 20 when Paul Jankowski drove his car over the curb and into the pole.

Jankowski, of 5305 Oxford, told police that he had leaned over into the back seat of his car to get his glasses, and the car careened up onto the lawn. Aside from the broken pole and damaged lawn, about $500 damage was done to the car.

Community Relations

S. A. dances serve the high school itself in the field of community relations. Many parents who have been invited to be guests at the dance have left with a much clearer idea of the behavior of normal teenagers.

Although the dances were started originally at the insistence of students who wanted "a place to go where there isn't drinking," only 500 students come to the average party.

How to get the other 500 ninth grade and senior high students to come is one of the main problems of the Student Association today. Too many boys, it has been discovered, stay home because they can't dance; too many girls because they haven't dates.

Plan Being Studied

Under a plan now under consideration, couples, stags, and hags may be admitted to dances in the future. At present, "hags" are admitted only to the semi-annual hag dances; the times when girls ask boys and pay the bill, too.

In recent years, ten S. A. dances—one each school month—have been held, but like other things, their cost has gone up since the 50 cents admission charge in 1936. Most students, however, agree that the dances are well worth a $1.00 for S. A. members and a $1.50 for non-members.

S. A. dances offer a great deal: pretty decorations, nice music, good refreshments, and—fun!

Park to Spend $2700 on Trees

The contract for tree trimming in the Park village this season was let to the All State Tree Expert Service company by the Park Board of Commissioners at the meeting on July 25 for a figure of $2700.

Five bids were received and showed the startling variation between the high and low bids from $8011 down to the All State's figure of $2700. They were the low bidders.

3-Foot Snake Slain in City

The area around Cranford lane was thrown into a mild panic on the morning of July 21 when Postman Edward Kretzhman almost stepped on a three-foot snake while he was making his rounds.

Dick Tobin of 16900 Cranford lane beat it to death with a hoe. The snake is believed to have been a blue racer, not dangerous, but a snake rarely seen in the residential area.

Woods Approves Number of Bids

The last meeting of the Woods Council, held on July 19, was largely taken up with passing on bids that had been received at the previous meeting and deferred for recommendation by committees.

The bid of the Siporin Construction Company of Detroit for the alterations of the executive office and the redecoration of the council chamber for $14,377, was accepted. Four bids had been received for this job. The enlarged quarters for the Police and Fire departments was a separate project which was completed some time ago.

The bid of Vito Vingi and company, of Grosse Pointe Woods, for the repair and replacement of the village sidewalks was accepted. This is a varying figure depending upon the location and extent of the repairs to be made, but was the average lowest figure of all the bids submitted.

The order for three new scout cars was given to the Boos Motor Sales company on Mack avenue. They will be Dodge cars. This too was the lowest bid received in consideration of allowances for turned in cars.

The order for a street sweeper was given to the Telford Engineering company of Detroit at the figure of $6,950.

Boys Blamed Again

A. E. Trubey, of 7724 E. Jefferson, reported that materials had been stolen from the new home he is building at 332 Stephens road. He reported to police that paint, a brush, and a wallpaper cutting tool had been taken, presumably by boys, on July 17.

Site of Late John Dodge's Dream Estate Being Cleared For New Pointe Subdivision

Magnificent Property on Lake Shore Road Being Split into Lots for 20 Homes; Will Have Private Beach and Boat Wells on Lakefront

The announcement of the subdivision of the Dodge estate on Lakeshore road into 20 lots to be known as Harbor Hill, marks the final end of the fabulous dream of John Dodge to build the showplace of Michigan. Vincent DePetris, who originally was the landscape architect for the multi-million dollar project, has supplied numerous details about the story of the property.

In about 1917 John Dodge bought the property, which comprised about half of the Lothrop property, from the Lothrop family, and in that year started the excavations for the mansion. At the time the house was torn down and the basement filled in in the fall of 1941, trees and brush had covered the land and hidden the almost completed house from view.

Death Halted Project

At the time construction was stopped on Dodge's death in 1920, about 2 1/4 million dollars had been put into the property and building exclusive of the cost of the land. The building itself had cost about a million and a half when construction was stopped.

While the massive Virginia granite house was being built and the formal gardens being laid out, there were about 1150 workers employed at one time. The waterfront area was yet to be built up, but a tunnel under the old Lake Shore road had been finished. The stable, paddocks, and gardener's cottage had not been built, but plans were complete.

Granite from Virginia

The granite for the house had been brought from Virginia and the construction followed the natural seams in the stone. The facing had no chisel or hammer marks as the stone was put up to follow the natural design and coloring of the granite. At one time there were 135 stonemasons and about 80 stonemasons from Scotland working on the place. The house had about 10 chimneys, each of which was of different design and hand workmanship. The Dodge Brothers Construction Co. had been in charge of the construction of the great English Gothic structure.

Formal Gardens Moved
After Dodge died and Mrs. Dodge became Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, she decided not to finish the house but to build a home in Rochester, Michigan. It was then that the formal gardens were taken out and moved to the Wilson place, and the Dodge estate began to deteriorate. DePetris bought the greenhouse and four acres of land fronting on Grosse Pointe boulevard. The greenhouse, DePetris believes, is one of the finest in the country.

Plan Private Beach
Although local ordinances prevent any building on the property on the lake side of the Lake Shore road, the owners of the lots in the new subdivision will have riparian rights to that property, which contains about three acres. It is expected a private bathing beach and boat wells will be developed there.

The portion that is being subdivided for homes comprises a little more than eight acres. The smallest lot will have a 100 foot frontage. All improvements are now in the process of being installed.

J. F. Maley Recovering After Being Stricken

J. F. Maley of 1138 Lakepointe, was taken violently ill with hemorrhage of the stomach on Tuesday morning, July 19, shortly after 9 o'clock and was removed by the police ambulance to Bon Secours hospital. The latter part of the week he was reported as much better but may be confined to the hospital for some time.

Work Starts on Harbor Hill Subdivision

Steam shovels and bulldozers are clearing out the underbrush on the John Dodge estate on Lake Shore road as development starts on a beautiful new subdivision of 20 exclusive properties. The clearing process is revealing many of the magnificent trees on the estate, some of which were full grown when they were brought here from Europe 30 years ago. There is a 50-foot easement at the rear of the parcel which extends to Grosse Pointe boulevard, making it convenient for bus transportation.

Jet Plane Acrobatic Pilots To Perform at Big Air Fair

As many as 60 and "probably more" 600 mph Jet fighter aircraft will perform in the Aero Club's Second International Air Fair, August 6-7, at Willow Run Airport, it was announced by Colonel Jim McKinney, chairman of the Fair. Included in the spectacular demonstrations will be three of the world's greatest jet acrobatics teams, the Navy's Marine Phantoms, the Royal Canadian Air Force Blue Devils, and the Air Force 4th Fighter Group team will perform in the event.

Also an "attack" of the airport will be made by two full squadrons of F-80's, which will include a dive bombing demonstration. Along with the jet fighters will be every Air Force Bomber presently in use, including the B-50 and B-36. The Navy's giant passenger Constitution, plus a demonstration of carrier landing and take-off with 60 planes participating will feature Navy participation. In addition there will be the world's largest commercial planes including the Boeing Stratocruiser, DC-6's and others. The Constitution will be open for public inspection throughout the two-day show, from cockpit to galley, bedrooms to spiral staircase linking the upper and lower decks.

Once each day, the Constitution will roar off the flight deck in a cloud of white smoke from its JATO (jet assisted take-off) units mounted on either side of the fuselage, in the first JATO demonstration ever staged at a commercial airport in this area. Running a close second for public interest will be the Lockheed PV-2 Neptune long-range bomber, the Truculent Turtle, holder of the world's distance record for non-refueled flight of nearly 12,000 miles. The Turtle, which by no means lives up to its name in the speed department, will demonstrate a JATO take-off, leaping from the ground and climbing at a neck-racing angle after only a few hundred feet of take-off run. Equally startling—and shown for the first time in Detroit—is the Navy's sensational twin-motor

Religious Literature Distributors Quizzed
A resident of Lincoln road phoned the police shortly after noon on July 17 to report that a couple of men were trying to sell her a religious book. The police found the men were Jehovah Witnesses. They told them they could not sell literature in the City without a permit. The men insisted they were not trying to sell the books but were trying to persuade the customers to take them as gifts. They said however they would leave the City at once. It is recalled that this sect got tangled up with municipal authorities in another town some years ago. Before its final adjudication the case had reached the U. S. Supreme Court. Here the decision was favorable to the Jehovah Witnesses, since which time the emissaries of this sect have been regarded by all police with considerable respect.

Roslyn Paving Plan Postponed

A public hearing on the proposed paving of Roslyn road west of Mack to the village line was held at the Woods Council meeting on July 19. Such a strong difference of opinion developed among the property owners along that street that the Council decided to defer action on the pavement for the time being.

Robert E. Stapleton Assigned to Guantanamo

Robert E. Stapleton, hospitalman, USN, son of Chester B. Stapleton of 1770 Hawthorne road, Grosse Pointe Woods, has recently been assigned to the Naval Hospital on the Naval Operating Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. He entered Naval service Feb. 9, 1948, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

EXPENSIVE TARGETS

The builder of a new home at 1050 N. Renaud reported that costly damage had been done on the site on July 20. BB holes had been put in some large windows that were on the site. The cost of replacing the windows was $290.

Park Approves Church Addition

The First Christian Reform Church at Goethe and Maryland presented a request to the Park Council for permission to build an addition to the church school at the meeting on July 25.

It will be recalled that this is the church which fell heir to the one-half block on Goethe which the village abandoned as a highway a couple years ago. The church owned the property on both side of the abandoned street and under the law the street land reverted to it.

In making ready for the school addition it was found that the property would run counter to the present village zoning law which was recently adopted. As a prior tenant and in view of no objection being raised by nearby residents and the impingement being of only minor degree the council gave permission for the school extension.

Probably one out of every four Swiss knows how to ski.

Theft Reported At Country Club

Mrs. Charles Creedon of the Whittier Hotel reported to Farms police that on the night of July 23 her car had been rifled while it stood in the Country Club parking lot.

Taken was a small wicker basket containing her wallet with a small amount of money, driver's license and AAA card, and some needle work. She had been working on the latter for several weeks and had it nearly completed to donate to a church sale.

The next day Father Ulenberg of St. Philip Parish called Mrs. Creedon to say that one of the small boys of his parish had found the AAA card in the school yard at Lenox and Charlevoix. There has been no sign of the other articles.

Red Cross Has Suggestions for Summer Meals

During really sweltering summer weather most people cut down on physical activities, at least theoretically. But reasonably moderate temperatures bring an increase of energy expenditures in the forms of gardening and sports.

Freedom from school gives the youngsters unlimited scope for lay-out-of-doors. Sometimes others find it hard to curb excessive tearing around on extremely hot days to prevent over-heat.

Obviously then, there is a need for as much or maybe more food as during the rest of the year, meet the requirements of the day. A change in the usual form serving gives the whole family break and makes meals more appealing.

Cool, crisp salads with piquant dressings, interesting sandwiches with fillings of meat, fish, cheese, eggs, and smooth creamy desserts can supply the protective foods needed for good health, a mistake to think that only starchy foods are nourishing. Sandwiches are happy choices in the main dish of summer meals. Make them regular "Dag-dog" affairs and you'll serve the family something that is completely satisfying. The American Red Cross Nutrition Service suggests using enriched white bread or rolls or whole grain breads at the base of the sandwiches. Biscuit dough made with enriched flour is an interesting variation.

Suggestions for Summer Meals

Serve the sandwiches with simple salads or crisp sticks of raw vegetables, choosing them to balance the particular combination you've chosen. For example, broiled tomato, bacon and cheese on a toasted hamburger bun needs something like cole slaw for tart contrast. If this is served for lunch, top off the meal with fruit and cookies, but if it's the heartiest meal of the day plan a heavier dessert such as plain cake topped with sliced peaches and ice cream.

Here are a few more suggestions for easy to prepare main-dish sandwiches with foods to serve with them.

Frederick Bahr Dies at Age 62

Services were held yesterday afternoon at Christ Church for the late Frederick C. Bahr, 62, who died on July 25 at the Henry Ford Hospital. Burial was in the Woodlawn cemetery.

For the past 12 years Mr. Bahr had been vice-president of the Chrysler Motor Parts Corp., having joined the organization in 1934. Mr. Bahr, a native of Stroudsburg, Penn., was in telephone engineering in Cleveland, Cuba, and Detroit until 1913, when he shifted to industrial engineering and finance. He later became president of the Arrow Head Steel Products Co. in Minneapolis.

During the first war Mr. Bahr was a major in the Air Corps. During World War II, he served with the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Fairfax Griffith Bahr, a son, Frederick; and two daughters, Mary Armistead and Jean Tyler Bahr. The family home is at 41 Renaud.

Albert A. Heckendorn Dies After Long Illness

Mr. Heckendorn had undergone two serious operations three years ago and had lost his wife in 1943, since which time he had failed appreciably.

He had been employed by the E. D. Speck family for 43 years. The funeral will be held in the Verheyden Funeral home at 10 a. m. on July 29 and burial made in the White Chapel cemetery.

He is survived by sons, George W. and Clark, and daughters, Mrs. Alberta Cornelius and Mrs. Dorothy Hyme, all of Grosse Pointe and a daughter, Mrs. Jane Williams of Cincinnati.

Postal Workers Need Pay Raise

(An article issued by the Detroit Postal Organizations Committee)

It seems the task of getting proper salaries for postal employees is one never ending.

Year in and year out, since 1925, postal people have engaged in campaigns to acquire equitable salary adjustments. Some few were granted but many others were not. Those granted, in every case only partially brought salaries up to the level provided in private industry, and only partially up to the existing standards of living costs.

Each succeeding year it has been necessary for them to engage in another campaign, not only to attempt to gain part or all of what they had previously tried to get the previous year, but also enough to compare with the additional upward trend of wages and living costs.

There are no bargaining rights or privileges for postal employees, and threats by strikes are entirely eliminated by a pledge upon entering the postal service.

Salary adjustments are only made through legislation enacted by Congress. Postal people can only appeal to Congress and then hope for the best. In nearly every year case their cause has been blocked with technicalities by some few Senators and Congressmen who, unthinkingly or stubbornly, without knowing or learning all the true facts, refuse to concede to the consensus of opinion of their colleagues in Congress.

Bills for slight salary adjustments approved by postal employees are now tied up in committees of Congress—HR 4495 in the House, Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and S 1772 in the same committee of the Senate.

These two bills provide a salary increase of $150 per annum, slightly liberalized longevity features, vacation and sick leave comparable to that provided to employees of other government agencies, and $100 ad-

Permit Request Holly Debated

Realtor John C. Staudt was before the Park Council on July 25 with a renewal of his request for permission to put up a speedy-wash car-cleaning establishment on Kercheval at Beaconsfield next to the Wigle plumbing establishment.

There was a protracted argument between Mr. Staudt's counsel, Glenn Coulter, and Village Attorney Pierre Hettler whether the 25-foot set back required for such establishments should be figured from the curbline, the established roadway right of way or the building line.

As the argument got nowhere fast the council asked Mr. Coulter to discuss the matter further with the village attorney and come back with their findings.

LIQUOR FEES
 The Farms collected $3,163.70 in liquor license fees during the four months ending June 30. It was estimated that about $3,500 would be collected in these fees during the entire year.

EXCLAMATION POINTES !!!

If they weren't such perfect leddies those gals That indignant about the Pointer who feels Ezio Pinza is portly and too old would form a mob and march on the Quoted One . . .

Folksiest item of the week occurred when one Pointe couple called on another . . . found them eating in the kitchen . . . howed as how they had just done the same . . . What Would the Society Departments Say! . . .

How's That Again (with apologies to several smart periodicals):
"I think Henry Ringling North is a circus!"

So long as there is breath in our dear body, we shall never forget the Pointe matron who moved out here so that her dog could associate with better doggies !!!

Nothing too good for the Points !!!
Even the Toddle House out here has a gold canopy. . . .

You'll have to go way out to Bloomfield Hills for this Exclamation Pointe . . . but your good friend, MRS. GRAHAM JOHN GRAHAM whose blessings are many (ditto charms) . . . owns a darling little Swedish lodge which she carefully named "Cabin in The Sky" . . . Her Japanese houseman after many tries pronounced it "CaBINski" . . .

Mary, tiny daughter of MR. and MRS. EDGAR BLACKMAN GALLOWAY of Oxford road is nicknamed LITTLE MISS MUFFET !!!

Milk and Quackers.

Alan Young: Say, I didn't know you were a fashion expert.

Hotbreath Houlihan: Oh yes, I just designed a dress that's strapless, backless, topless and sideless.
Alan Young: What's it called?
H. H.: Good morning, Judge.

Judy Canova: When I go to bed at night I always see black spots in front of my eyes.
Mr. Hemmingway: Did you ever see a psychiatrist?
Judy: No, only black spots.

Frankie: Phil, what's a Chinese urn?
Phil Harris: That depends on how long he works.

Finnegan: My uncle invented the horseless carriage.
Archie: The automobile?
Finnegan: No. He invented a carriage without a horse.
Archie: But if the carriage ain't pulled by a horse, how does it run?
Finnegan: Goats.

SARAH GODDARD OF PROVENCAL ROAD

Grosse Pointe News doffs its cap today to Sarah Goddard, 14-year-old daughter of the Wendell C. Goddards of Provencal road, who has raised her Irish Terrier from a pup to owner of a gold cup and seven of the most heart nipping puppies you've ever seen.

The poet said "give your boy a dog" but the Goddards reversed it and presented the Terrier to their daughter on Christmas a year ago. The family had had a Cocker but losing it, decided to try a New Model and it was Sarah who had held out for Irish Terriers.

She persuaded the Goddards as she did your reporter with: "An Irish Terrier is full of pep. She's affectionate and fond of children," . . . and then her clear blue eyes turn velvet when she adds, "And a terrier's cute."

BRIDGET SHAMROCK III
And so the Christmas present arrived and was named, immediately, Bridget Shamrock III (third because two dogs preceded her in the household and Bridget and Shamrock because that's about as Irish as one can get.)

Sarah took over from the very first. The feeding and mopping went right along with the cuddling and companionship. The young mistress taught herself how to pluck her dog and keep its coat a shining dark red. Then when Bridget reached proper age, it was off to Southern Michigan Obedience Training Class here at the Pointe . . . and Sarah went along to learn her part, too.

The result was an exemplary terrier and a third place gold cup for excellence in heeling on and off leash, the sit down, stay down, the recall and jumping over bars.

SEVEN PUPPIES

It was high time, Sarah decided, that Bridget should become a mother. Any dog who whisks through a six weeks course in beginner's and advanced training as the terrier had, was quite ready to assume this adult responsibility.

A playhouse, long since converted into storage place for garden tools, was cleaned out by the mistress and in due time (six weeks ago) became headquarters for Bridget's seven adorable puppies.

With quiet efficiency, Sarah stepped up her own schedule. Right now it includes four feedings a day (diet: pabulum and milk, just milk, hamburger); a great deal of mopping up; the tall-cutting episode with which all childhood memories seem to be marked but Sarah says science has come a long way and puppies don't make as much fuss over this ordeal as babies do when getting a regulation shot.

Named for Dwarfs

Excitement prevailed among Sarah's friends over the blessed event. One sent a china perambulator gaily filled with flowers and the usual card of love and congratulations to Bridget.

The puppies have been named after the Seven Dwarfs: Grumpy, Sleepy, Dopey, Happy, Doc, Sneesy and Lazy. To date their personalities haven't shown sufficiently through the pabulum to make Sarah believe she's named each one properly.

The little beauties will be sold, we hope to owners as competent and considerate as Sarah. And there'll probably be other litters of puppies but at the moment Sarah and Bridget are thinking a bit about the Dog Show at the Coliseum next Spring.

Sarah has an older sister and brother, Margery and Russel, and a two year old brother, Wendie, (who is a bit sorry that the puppies aren't the same size as Bridget).

This autumn she will be a freshman at Grosse Pointe Country Day School and a few years hence hopes she'll be majoring in child psychology at Vassar. That's her real ambition—some kind of nursing, preferably having to do with children.

Until then she and Bridget will be occupied with many plans and Sarah will be content to be the "Family Nurse" right here at home.

Pointe Counter Points

By JANE

Do your guests whisper (while you're stretching gin for re-fills) "She serves soggy potato chips?" Do your pretzels collapse when you serve them with tall beers this Summer? It's all right, kid, just hurry down to GROSSE POINTE DRUG CO. and ask Mr. Shook for some of the brand new STA-DRY he's stocked. Handily packed in bags, STA-DRY contains magic crystals which absorb moisture and keep everything dry as the desert. Wonderful, in the large size, to leave in rooms at the cottage to help prevent rust, mildew and mold. Smaller bags just the thing for shoes, food tins, tackle boxes etc. The Medium sized bags are the answer for trunks, basement, piano, hampers etc. In the refrigerator one of these magic bags absorbs excessive moisture and undesirable odors. It is absolutely harmless and can be safely placed in closed food containers. It has so many uses YOU'RE sure to need it . . . even the bowlers may use it to keep their hands dry!

Personally we're a bit on the weary side about wearing cottons and August black takes on wonderful interest. At JACOBSON'S milady's moods are anticipated and the dress department is glamorous with jet black frocks for late Summer wear. There are failles (two piece) for cooler days; beautifully soft and sheer crepes buttoned in licorice drops and Heddy LaMarrish jet chiffons. The One Step Ahead The Season gals will be enchanted, too, with the muted jewel-toned satin frocks that, though veddy Fall-ish, are cut in cool lines so you can sparkle at August cocktail parties in town. And over in the millinery department, JACOBSON'S first Fall hats have arrived. Sattins to match the dresses we talk about and scads of the velvets New York insists upon. Incidentally it's teddibly chic to wear a velvet hat with your cottons from August on.
