Architect's Drawing of Enlarged Bon Secours Hospital

Bon Secours Hospital on Cadieux road has more than $700,000 on hand to enlarge its present structure to one of 73-bed capacity. Eventually it will have a capacity of 100 beds and present enlargement plans include the installation of machinery and equipment for the final structure. The present enlargement would include all of the building shown in the picture excepting the extension of the main entrance section back along Maumee. The present existing building is shown on the extreme right. Contracts have been let and construction will start as soon as the City of Grosse Pointe issues a building permit. It is understood that the very few objections which were registered against the enlargement have all been withdrawn.

Solons Cold To Farms' Heat Problem

Suggestion to Convert to Gas in Two Buildings Meets With Little Enthusiasm

Suggestions that the Farms convert two of its municipally owned heating systems to gas burners met with little enthusiasm at a meeting of the village council Monday night. It was pointed out that the coal stoker in the Municipal Building has caused a good deal of trouble for a number of years, and it is difficult to obtain uniform heat.

The oil furnace in the sewer pumping station on Chalfonte has also been a source of trouble and engineers have recommended installation of a whole new unit, according to Murray Smith, Village engineer. Clerk Harry Furton said he had obtained an estimate of $750 to convert the boiler in the Municipal Building to gas. There has been no estimate of the cost of converting the oil burner in the pumping station. The trustees expressed skepticism as to ultimate fuel costs and voted to obtain cost studies of the various types of fuel before any decision is reached.

Thief Ransacks Park Residence

There was a breaking and entry case at the residence of Dr. I. T. Pohle at 1330 Audubon sometime during the day on September 23. The family had been away all day and when they returned in the evening found a rear door had been opened by cutting a hole in the panel and opening the catch from the inside. The house had been ransacked. A shotgun and a small sum of money had been taken, and jewelry and rings to the value of more than $1500.

Farms Council Hears Pleas For Zoning Law Exemptions

Meeting as a Board of Appeals, the trustees of Grosse Pointe Farms met Monday night to act on various petitions which had been received asking for exemption from some of the village zoning ordinance requirements. The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, which is about to start construction on a building on Moross road, had asked permission to build to within 25 feet of the westerly lot line. The ordinance calls for a side yard with a minimum of 40 feet. The petition was denied. The church will be permitted to construct a green barrier around its off-street parking area instead of a permanent masonry barrier, with the understanding that the permanent barrier will be built at any time the council decides it is necessary. Burglar Football Player's Footwork Good, But Not Good Enough To Escape From Pursuer Flannagan Who Gives Chase With Pistol Blazing

The ordinarily quiet hum of commercial activity which characterizes the vicinity of Kercheval and Notre Dame, was rudely shocked by pistol shots with all the trimmings as Detective Jim Flannagan of the City police chased to earth a car rifter between 11:30 and 12 noon on last Friday, Sept. 23.

Complaints had been made by customers on two successive Friday mornings of losing packages of groceries from their cars while parked on the lot next to the Kroger grocery store.

On Friday morning just before the rush hour set in, Flannagan wheeled his car into the parking lot, and crouching out of sight, awaited developments. He waited only a few minutes when a likely looking suspect drove his car into the lot, parked it and immediately began to try the doors of cars. Some of these were locked and others evidently had not yet taken their load of purchases aboard. He actually tried the doors of the cars immediately behind and in front of Flannagan's car. The suspect then walked away and Flannagan trailed him at slow motion in and out and around the vicinity for five to ten minutes, and eventually lost him.

Adopt Rules Governing New Center

Memorial Association Cites Terms and Conditions For Use of Lakeshore Property

The curiosity of the Pointe community as to the general conditions and terms which surround the use of the Memorial Center was answered at the directors' meeting on Monday night.

A resolution was adopted setting forth the conditions which obtain in the Center's use. These are subject to change and amendment as experience progresses in the conduct of the place.

- The rules as now standing provide:
1. The Center and Grounds will be open for use by the Grosse Pointe Community Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays and evenings by arrangement.
 2. Fees for the use of the Center and other charges are payable at the time the premises are used. A deposit may be required.
 3. Equipment brought in is to be removed in 24 hours.
 4. The furniture of the Center is not to be moved except by the staff on special application.
 5. The Association cannot be responsible for loss of, or damage to, equipment or other property of persons using the Center.
 6. Five days' notice will be required to cancel reservations at the Center, which involve the providing of food or special services; if shorter notice is given, a charge may be required.
 7. No gambling will be permitted on the premises.
 8. The use of alcoholic beverages will not be permitted on the premises.
 9. The Association expects that persons using the Center will conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the character of its objectives, and reserves the right to limit the use of the premises to persons conforming to this standard.

Speeder Lands In County Jail

Victor J. Green, aged 28, of 21722 Sunningdale road, St. Clair Shores, who had been given a ticket for speeding, failed to appear for his hearing. He was picked up for ignoring his court summons and had a hearing before Justice John Potter on Friday night, Sept. 23. On his failure to put up a cash bond of $30, the judge gave him a sentence of three days in the county jail. He had already been in a Park cell for one night.

Tomato Throwing

That season is here again. The Farms police were notified on September 23 that boys were throwing tomatoes in the 100 block of Moran road. They had fled when Patrolmen Hilgendorf and Roland arrived to investigate.

State Police Urge Local Officials to Adopt General Plan

Chiefs, Justices and Clerks Attend Meeting in Park to Discuss Unification of Regulations and Enforcement Policies Under Michigan System

A meeting of police authorities which may have a far reaching effect on the problem of traffic regulation and punishment for violations in Grosse Pointe, was held in the Council Chambers of Grosse Pointe Park on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 22.

The meeting of the local authorities was called by the Michigan State Police to discuss the unification of the traffic and enforcement policies of Grosse Pointe, with the idea of having them conform to a general plan that is being urged on local authorities throughout the state by the State Police.

Van Blankenstein Presides
Sergeant C. F. Van Blankenstein, who is the recognized authority of the Michigan State Police on the traffic problem and all associated matters relating thereto, presided at the meeting and in an introductory talk explained clearly and informally the program which the State Police have under way.

The movement for uniform traffic laws, he said, has been considered by police authorities throughout the nation for some time, but it was only on the earnest recommendation of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police made some two or three years ago that the movement was taken up in earnest by the State Police Department. Michigan has since become recognized as the leader throughout the nation in this movement, and the result of its work has already spread beyond the boundaries of this state.

Prophesy Seen In Baby Talk

That first word was spoken by the young man this week. He looked out his nursery window to the driveway below and with a nice feeling for the short quote, said, "Car."

Recently the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey, under the constitutional powers which vest in him in that state, directed that the New Jersey police should get together and formulate a uniform traffic and enforcement code for that state and suggested that such a code might well follow that already widely adopted in Michigan. The police of Seattle, Washington, have already adopted the Michigan plan and in Michigan 47 different municipalities have put it into practice.

Involves Problems.
Sergeant Van Blankenstein explained that the adoption of the common plan involved both engineering and educational problems; the one for the practical working out of the plan from the police standpoint and the

Pointe Women's Republican Club to Be Conference Host

Republican women from all over the state will attend as delegates the Republican Women's State Federation Fall conference with the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe acting as hostess, in the War Memorial Center on October 4 and 5. The president, Mrs. Peter Gibson of Monroe, with the help of her board, has arranged a very fine program. These conferences when held outstate have been attended by delegates only, but the Grosse Pointe club has extended the invitation to all members of the Republican clubs who wish to attend. Committee chairmen are drawn from various cities. Grosse Pointe women serving as chairmen are Mrs. F. W. Pearce, at NL 5833,

Public Asked To Help with Center Plans

Suggestions Solicited For Comprehensive Program of Varied Activities

At the meeting of the Directors of the War Memorial Center Monday night the Program committee made a report which suggested a line of activities that might be carried on in the Center under the direction of the organization itself, and of ways and means of developing the composite opinion of the people of the community as to the character of these activities.

The report was presented by Mrs. Charles B. Lord, vice-chairman of the committee, and was strongly endorsed.

THE REPORT
The Program Committee of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association would like to make a contribution toward the enrichment of the entire community. It has been suggested that it develop and sponsor a program of its own at the War Memorial Center along civic, cultural, recreational and educational lines.

"However, it only wants to do this if it can develop a set of activities which will not in any way conflict with similar functions carried out by other organizations, but rather will be supplementary to them. Would you be good enough to give us your thoughts about this?"

"Do you think that the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association should undertake any of the activities listed below? If so, which ones? If you have any other suggestions or comments would you please put them on the back of this page? Would you also be good enough to fill in the information, about yourself, although it is not necessary for you to sign your name?"

"We are anxious that the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center be a real addition to the community, and you can help us by giving us your thoughts here. Thanks so much!"

Scared Burglar Injures Self

At 9:47 p.m. Monday night, Sept. 26, neighbors of the James Passanante home at 1022 Buckingham heard the burglar alarm ringing in the house and called the police.

When the police arrived they found that a would-be burglar had cut a hole in the side of the front door and had reached in and unlocked it.

As he did so the burglar alarm went off and he jumped back in such a hurry that he cut his hand. This was shown by blood on the glass. The thief never actually got into the house.

The Passanante family is in Florida and the house is on the police watch list. Mr. Passanante had recently had his house wired for the burglar alarm.

Regular Parties
Regular dances to be held either each month or occasionally and Card Parties, also each month or occasionally, were mentioned.

Paul I. Moreland, treasurer, reported the finances of the organization to be in a healthy condition. More than $23,000 had been received on pledges since August 1 and a number of new subscriptions had been received, including one for $1,000.

The Committee on Parking and Grounds reported that the plans for parking arrangements on the property indicated that space will be provided for from 80-100 cars.

Armistice Day Program
The present plan is to have the formal opening of the Cancer on Armistice Day. This will be in a sense the first general invitation to the public to come in for an inspection of the place. It will not be the formal dedication, as that will occur when the memorial names are unveiled.

There was a lengthy but unofficial discussion of the plan that is to be followed in the selection of the names for display on the honor rolls in the building. Those names which have already occurred on the tablets in the Temporary Honor Roll Shrine, will be repeated in the building, but for those added since then and to be added in the future it is the intent to follow the practice recommended by the War Department.

Passenger Hurt In Park Crash

In midafternoon on Sept. 22 Max Lucas of 956 Lake shore, driving east on Jefferson, attempted a left turn into Bishop and collided with a car coming east on Jefferson driven by William Salmoni of Park View.

Walter W. Holt, aged 47, of 11528 E. Jefferson, a passenger in the Salmoni car was taken to Bon Secours with a badly lacerated head and a leg injury.

Two More Dog Bites Reported in Farms

Katherine Hoey, 3 1/2, of 234 Merriweather road, was bitten on September 21 by a dog owned by John Renchard of 192 Charlevoix.

Janet Groshko, 4, of 404 Cloverly road, was bitten on September 20, by a Boston terrier owned by Ernest Haines of 413 Cloverly.

Center Rules

War Department Rules
Briefly this rule is that only those in the service on or prior to V-J Day will be admitted for display, and only those in the combat forces or directly allied with the actual combat forces.

Mrs. Frederick C. Ford, chairman of the Program Committee is in charge of the arrangements for the opening on November 11.

She mentioned in her report that the growing popularity of the Center is seen in the fact that the place is scheduled for meetings and functions throughout October, with the exception of three or four days, and that on several occasions will be two meetings on the same day.

Mrs. Charles Ellis, chairman of the House Committee, showed the directors the good progress that is being made in the completion of repairs and decorations in the interior of the property. The new tile work in the kitchen has been finished, and most of the rooms have been painted. The quarters for the Garden Clubs are finished.

Pointe Theatre To Do 'Claudia'

Grosse Pointe Theater will offer its depiction of "Claudia", Rose Franklin's popular comedy of an adolescent's romance at the Pierce School auditorium, dates to be announced.

The Board of Directors of this non-profit theatrical organization selected "Claudia" as their next major production in accord with the recommendation made by Jane McClure, chairman of the Play Reading Committee, which read and screened many popular three-act plays. Franklin's comedy was selected as most appropriate for Grosse Pointe.

Time and place for casting will be announced.

Other developments at the board meeting held at the Center home on Yorkshire last Thursday saw the directors:

1. Agree to cooperate with the Grosse Pointe Optimists in the presentation of that club's musical revue.

2. Elect Mrs. Frank Standish and Mrs. Malcolm Barnum to the Board of Directors.

SLIGHTLY OFF LINE

Dr. Fred C. Worthy of 1450 Grayton reported to the police at 2:59 a.m. on Sept. 24 that someone had just run a car onto his lawn damaging the lawn and hitting a light pole.

Seek Uniform Traffic Laws

other for the education of the public to its acceptance and advantages. He also said that the plan involved the cooperation of the police magistrates and justices of the peace to assure the uniform application of the code.

He acknowledged that the Michigan State Police have undertaken a vast program, to bring about a nationwide practical acceptance and enforcement of the plan, but the clarification of the project both from the standpoint of the traffic police and the understanding of the public well warrants the effort.

Conflicts Exist
Since automobiles first appeared on the highways of the nation these conflicts of understanding and enforcement have existed. This plan offers the first practical step, Sergeant Van Blankenstein said, to bring order and system out of the habitual chaos.

Chief of Police Richard Rogers of Maitland City, Mich., which has been operating under this plan for some time, gave a most informing talk on the satisfactory working out of the plan there, both from the police department's standpoint and that of the public.

Resolution Adopted
At the conclusion of the discussion, in which all of the local officials generally participated, a resolution was adopted accepting the plan, subject to its approval by the respective council bodies.

When this approval is given, which is confidently expected, a school of instruction will be set up in Grosse Pointe, which will begin on January 2, which every Grosse Pointe police officer will have to attend for 12 hours instruction.

Uniform Tickets
Meanwhile the uniform violation tickets will be received and studied by the local police.

This uniform violation notice has been prepared by the Traffic Institute of Northwestern University, which has been acting as adviser to the movement since its inauguration.

The local police and other officials attending the meeting were most enthusiastic in their approval of the plan. As Chief Arthur Louwers, quoting a chief in another Michigan city which has the plan in operation, said: "It looks like the traffic officer's answer to a long standing prayer."

Those Attending
Those from Grosse Pointe who attended the meeting were: Chief Louwers of the Park, Chief Tom Trombly of the City, Chief Walter Hoyt of the Farms, and Chief O. C. Ingalsbe of the Shores. Chief Walter Goulett of the Woods expected to attend but was unable to do so at the last minute.

Other officials of the Pointe attending, were Manager Everitt Lane of the Park, City Clerk Norbert Neff of the City, Village Clerk Harry Furton of the Farms and Township Magistrates Victor DeBaeke, George Beauchamp, John Potter and Joseph Belanger.

Adopted by Park
At the Park Council meeting on Sept. 28 Manager Lane made a detailed explanation of the move for uniform control of traffic violations and their punishment.

The Park Board of Village Commissioners unanimously endorsed the measure.

Delay Action
Police Chief Walter Hoyt and Clerk Harry Furton asked the Farms council for action on the proposal at the meeting Monday night, both endorsing adoption of the plan. The council referred the matter to the police committee and asked that a report be brought in at a future meeting.

The City and Shores have had no council meeting since the session in the 22nd and the Woods was not represented there.

Reckless Drivers Pay Court Fines

In Park Traffic Court on Sept. 21, Justice John L. Potter disposed of the following cases:

Leonard Wisniewski of 3508 Cadieux, for speeding on Charlevoix between Three Mile and Whittier on August 24, paid a fine and costs of $20.

Raymond R. Brodeau, 888 St. St. Clair, for not having car under control causing an accident at Audubon and Charlevoix on Aug. 21, paid a fine and costs of $16.10.

Frederick A. Coleman of 1432 Audubon, for driving into moving traffic causing an accident at Audubon and Charlevoix on Aug. 21, paid a fine and costs of $20.

William F. Lane of 115 Grandolph, Toledo, O., for stop street accident at Vernor and Buckingham on Aug. 30, paid a fine and costs of $10.

Florence J. Schaller of 1140 Yorkshire, charged with driving into moving traffic causing an accident at Kercheval and Yorkshire, pleaded not guilty and complaining witness refused to prosecute. Case was dismissed.

Galileo invented the pendulum.

Chief Dansbury Submits Report

According to a report submitted by Chief George Dansbury of the Farms Fire Department, the fire loss in the village during August totalled $2043.

A building valued at $35,000 suffered $2,000 damage, with but a $3 loss to the contents. There were four automobile fires, with total damage of, but $43.

The department only had 14 calls during the entire month, two of these being in answer to false alarms.

Fire Prevention Group Appointed by Governor
Elmer F. Ulrich, Commissioner of Fire of Grosse Pointe Park has been appointed to the Governor's new Fire Prevention and Protection Committee by Governor G. Mennen Williams.

For the purpose of considering the various factors involved, a conference will be held in Grand Rapids on October 21 and 22.

This conference would be a follow-up of President Truman's Fire Prevention Conference and its objective would be to make recommendations and outline a program for reducing Michigan's annual fire loss.

Commissioner Ulrich is also a member of the Fire Prevention, Fire Record and Membership Committee of the National Fire Protection Association. He is also a member of the Box 12 Associates.

Misinterprets Man's Greeting

Mrs. Charles R. Ludeke of 1376 Lakepointe phoned the police at 4:12 p.m. on Sept. 24, that a young girl had just run into her house and said she had just been accosted by a man who was then walking towards Vernor Highway.

Patrolman A. Boone and Mouton brought in a man, 29, from Hilger, Detroit. He was held for investigation. On further examination of the young girl, she said the man had only said "Hello!"

Nothing was found against the prisoner on the Detroit records and the parents of the girl were unwilling to pursue the matter farther. The man was discharged.

Sex Offender Held for Trial

At 12:19 a.m. on Sept. 25 the Del Mar Cafe at 15412 Mack phoned the police it was holding a man for indecent exposure on the complaint of a woman customer of the place.

The police brought in the accused party, a man 43. The prosecuting attorney's office issued a warrant for the man and he is being held for trial.

BELLS DISCLOSE THEFT
Officers Dereadt and Moffat picked up four boys in the evening of Sept. 20 on the complaint of residents in the terrace at St. Clair and Charlevoix for ringing the doorbells. The boys were from 12 to 15 years old. One of the older boys had in his possession a flashlight that had been stolen from a car parked on the Woods theater parking lot.

Demonstration to be Given By Obedience Trained Dogs

A demonstration of Obedience Trained Dogs will be held Tuesday evening, October 4, at 7:30 p.m., in the boy's gymnasium of the Grosse Pointe High School. All dog owners are invited to attend. This will open the Owner-Dog obedience training classes for the year.

These obedience classes, under the sponsorship of the Adult Activities Program of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, have created a lot of interest during the past two years. More than 100 Grosse Pointers have trained their dogs in this program.

To Enjoy Pet More. "The demonstration is designed to show dog owners what they can accomplish through these classes," according to Don Dasher, head of training. "An obedient dog is a better dog. You will enjoy your pet more and he will be happier because of this training."

"Any breed of dog, regardless of size or age can be trained," said Ray Lee, trainer in the Pointe classes. "The dog's problem is to understand what the owner wants him to do. That's where the obedience classes come in; we teach the owner to teach his dog."

Graduates to Appear Dog owners from last spring's classes will show what they accomplished during the 10-week course. In this part of the demonstration will be Mrs. J. A. Mullin and her Dachshund, Mrs. A. F. Neef and her Boxer, Sally McKernan and her Brittany Spaniel, Robert Looker and his Springer Spaniel, and John Drake and Charles Liddle with their Collies.

Advanced training will be demonstrated by Edgar W. Averill, who will show International Champion Diane de Beauch, the first Brittany Spaniel in America ever to achieve the American Kennel Club's Utility Dog degree. Don Dasher will also show Harkaway, his famous Pointer, the first of its breed to reach the Utility Dog goal.

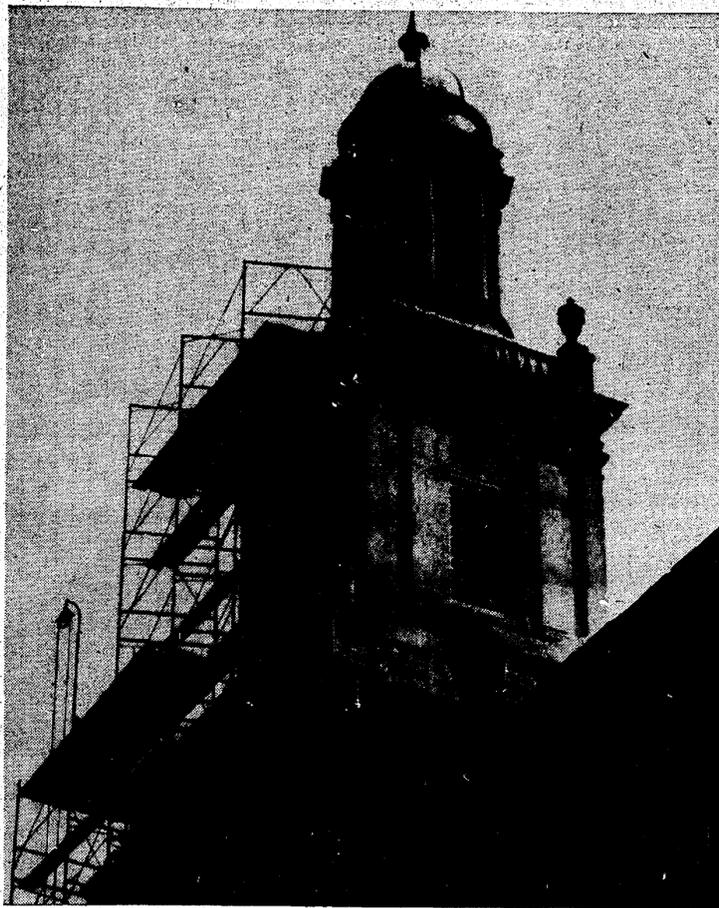

Mr. Dasher will also show Brandy, a flashy Springer Spaniel currently winning obedience honors at dog shows.

Varied Demonstration These dogs will work on voice commands and hand signals, do obstacle retrieving, exhibit scent discrimination, seeking lost objects, etc.

The demonstration will be handled by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club, the group that furnishes trainers for the Grosse Pointe classes. Frank Grant, the founder of obedience dog work in the Midwest, will be on hand to discuss the dog's point of view in training. Joseph V. McQuillen and Ed J. McKernan, local Grosse Pointe members of the club, have been handling class arrangements.

Groups to be Small The Owner-Dog classes will be limited to small groups so that individual instruction can be given. Classes will be scheduled for beginners as well as for more advanced work. Reservations for these classes can be made by phoning the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, TU. 5-2000, extension 25. All dog owners should attend the demonstration whether they are enrolled in the classes or not.

Face Lifting Job for High School Tower

The stone trim on the upper and lower towers of the High School Building is being replaced. It has been 21 years since the school was built and the exposure to the elements has eroded much of the trim to the point of danger. Some of the trim fell off recently and might have caused serious injury to anyone walking beneath. The job is expected to be completed very shortly, at a cost of about $1,500.

Park Sidewalks To Be Repaired

The periodic resolution concerning sidewalks for repair or replacement was passed at the Park Council meeting on September 26.

Two hundred and seventy seven places were reported by the manager as needing attention. Property owners may make such repairs themselves by making arrangements with the contractor doing the general job, or if they neglect to do so after reasonable notice from the village, the village does the work and charges it back against the assessment of the property owner.

CHAPTER A. O. TO MEET

Chapter A. O. of P. E. O. will have its opening fall meeting at 8 p. m. on October 3 in the home of Mrs. F. J. Asmus, 336 Merriweather road.

Police Handle Unsavory Task

The residents at 1000 Kensington reported to police on Sept. 23 that there was a suspicious looking metal box in their driveway, which they asked the police to investigate.

The officers found a metal box about two feet long from which emanated a decidedly "ripe" odor. It had in it about 50 lake perch which some oversupplied fish-men had apparently thrown in the driveway as the most convenient means of disposition. The Park police had to do the unsavory job.

Car, Motorcycle Tangle on Fisher

A car and motorcycle tangled on Fisher road in front of the High School on the afternoon of September 25. John Becelaere of 844 Loraine, rider of the motorcycle, was treated in Cottage Hospital for injuries to his knee. William F. Ahearn of 1375 Somerset, had stopped his 1949 Ford to make a left turn into the high school driveway when the car was struck on the left front side by the motorcycle. Ahearn and Becelaere were given tickets by Farms patrolman Dhaveloose for appearance in court on October 5.

Theodore Roosevelt once said, "In the Whitehouse you do not live; you are just Exhibit A."

Halloween Party Group to Meet

The Grosse Pointe Halloween Committee will meet on Monday, October 3, at 8 p.m. in the Neighborhood Club to discuss plans for the 11th annual Community Halloween celebration.

Representatives from all the public and parochial schools, the PTA's, Mothers' Club, Dads' Club, police departments, Boy Scout and Girl Scout organization, the Metropolitan Club, University of Michigan Alumni Club, Rotary Club, American Association of University Women, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliaries, Kiwanis Club, Optimists Club, Lions Club and other interested residents will attend the sessions to formulate the plans for the event which has taken a traditional place in the lives of the children of the Pointe community.

Tax Commission Hearing Appeals

Word has been received at the Grosse Pointe Township offices from the Michigan State Tax Commission that it will be in session from Sept. 26-Sept. 30 inclusive on appeals from the various county assessments.

The only case that comes up from Grosse Pointe Township at this session is from the Packard Motor Company which is appealing the assessment on its property at Jefferson avenue and Lakepointe. This hearing was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on September 27.

Another scholastic year has rolled around, and a new group of bright green Freshmen tour the halls of St. Paul in search of learning. An equally new group assume the lofty role of Seniors to cast their spell of wisdom on the lower classroom. Another eye is at the key-hole to record the activities—scholastic and social. Another Polly Pry with her gestic group is watching Fresh and Senior, alike and recording the doings of the Doldrum Groups, the Sophs and Juniors, who are too big to haze and too little to get away with it.

The Seniors handled the pep meeting last Friday preparatory to Sunday's game with Annunciation. A skit, on a hillbilly theme, was presented by Pete Belanger, Larry Reynolds, Denny Roehl, Ray Bleski, Bill Huetteman, Jack Trombley and Bob Modat. Top songs were sung and new cheers were introduced to the student body. Coach Ed Laurer then related the game prospects.

Monday the 1948-1949 Scholastic Honors Convocation was held for St. Paul High students. Chairman of the event was Senior president, Jim McCarthy. Father

Vincent Horkan, the guest speaker, who was an assistant at St. Paul's for several years, presented honor certificates to the following students: Seniors, June Allard, Betty DiPaola, Ann Dungan, Margie Heldt, Bill Huetteman, Gloria Luffy, Sally McKernan, Marilyn Smith, Kay Sutherland; Juniors: Judy Beaupre, Richard Cameron, Pat Cook, Marie Couvreur, Emiel DeCocker, Raoul Fett, Jerome Froehlich, Audrey Haley, Joan Heckendorn, James Keller, Bill Murphy, Pat O'Grady, Carl Rauhen, Sharon Sweeney, Diane Zemper; Sophomores: Margaret Carrier, Donna Mayo, David McCarron, Joe Meier, Thomas McLaughlin, Connie Molitor, Rey Moxley, Ann Reed, Mary Margaret Van-Damme, and Dolores Wise.

We know there are a lot of fall parties in the making—and many more we haven't heard of as yet. Let us know about your plans so we can give the news to the NEWS.

Pointers Hosts To Newly-Weds

Right in the midst of the Pointe's own busy wedding season, two young newlyweds came to pay a visit while on their wedding trip. They were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowles Jr. (Margaret Lindstrom) of Green Bay, Wisc., who spent two days here. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph de Grimme of the Whittier for one of those days and the other they spent with the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy of East Jefferson avenue. They were married in Green Bay Sept. 17. Bob's father, Dr. Robert C. Cowles and Mr. de Grimme have been friends for a quarter of a century having known each other first in the latter's native Vienna.

800 Attend Big Fashion Show at Thrift Shop

This year's Thrift Shop Fashion Show to benefit Neighborhood Club was the greatest success in its 12 year history.

Admission to the fashion show was a bundle of used clothing or bric-a-brac to be sold in the Thrift Shop where all proceeds go to maintenance of the club. Eight hundred persons attended the fashion show and contributed 1000 bundles.

Members of Neighborhood Club and Thrift Shop, this week

heaped praise upon Walter Irving whose Paris collection highlighted the fashion parade and whose artistry made the show Irving's generosity has always been a strong factor in the show's success.

The Irving fashion show occupied one enchanted hour which was run off smoothly and beautifully.

Those working on the show expressed appreciation also to Kanzer Danzer for the flowers on the stage; to Radio Station

WXYZ for the music; to the Detroit Edison Co. for the stage lighting.

POPULARITY GROWS

In commenting on the growing enthusiasm of the Pointe Community for the Memorial Center as a meeting place, Mrs. Frederick C. Ford stated at the directors meeting on Monday night that the applications for the use of the place had increased from 32 to 42 within the last two weeks.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Whenever our pure emerald telephone putred this week... we greeted another Pointer full of plans about her pet charity's Big Autumn Do...

And we can tell from here... it's going to be a May, Gad season... with mornings, afternoons and evenings filled by fashion shows... specialty exhibits... teas, etc... all helping A Cause...

Just to enchant you all the more... The Detroit Historical Society has stepped into the picture... inviting you to spend next Tuesday afternoon in the country.

You are invited to a country home "pilgrimage" and to be guests of the Society at a luncheon at Metamora Hunt Club... besides watching a Schooling Show if your interest runs that way...

A Metamora Afternoon

All of this is to win new members for the society which was founded 28 years ago to emphasize the challenging and significant past of our community...

If any of this is news to you... it's going to crush Sir George Washington Stark, Historian for the City of Detroit and the gentleman whose future plans have to do with the 1951 opening of the new Detroit Historical Society Museum Building...

The opening must take place in 1951 because that marks the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Detroit (there have been times when we thought we must be m-u-c-h older).

Detroit Historical Society Committee

Mrs. Hedley V. Richardson, is chairman for the Metamora afternoon...

Either before or after the Hunt Club luncheon... guests and members are welcome to visit the country lodges of Mrs. Wilson W. Mills... and Mrs. Fred T. Murphy...

And of course there's the schooling show, to watch... On Mrs. Richardson's committee are Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Wallace S. MacKenzie, Mrs. Malcolm D. MacQueen, Mrs. William P. Black, Mrs. Prentiss M. Brown, Mrs. E. F. Schneider.

You'll Be Greeted By:

Hostesses... some of whom will greet you at the country homes... others at the Hunt Club... will be headed by Mrs. Prentiss M. Brown and include:

- Mrs. Raymond H. Berry... Mrs. Henry P. Williams...
- Mrs. Harold Browne... Mrs. C. Haines Wilson...
- Mrs. Leo M. Butzel... Mrs. Alfred H. Whittaker...
- Mrs. William D. Buick... Mrs. Donald C. Stevenson...
- Miss Sara E. Burnham... Mrs. William H. Rhea...
- Mrs. Harold R. Boyer... Mrs. Reuben Ryding...
- Mrs. Oscar L. Buhr...
- Mrs. Loren T. Robinson, Mrs. James Cumiskey...
- Mrs. J. Harold Peters... Mrs. Raymond K. Dykema...
- Mrs. Gilbert B. Pingree... Mrs. Joseph M. Dodge...
- Mrs. Ray A. DeVlieg... Mrs. Frank W. Morrison...
- Mrs. William A. Evans, Jr... Mrs. J. Bell Moran...
- Mrs. James Q. Goudie...
- Mrs. James S. Holden... Mrs. Alvan Macauley...
- Mrs. Paul F. Jerome... Mrs. Julius F. E. Huebner...
- Mrs. Thomas Y. Leonard...

Join Today

Each present member of the Detroit Historical Society who attends the fête... will be admitted by bringing a new member to the society...

And of course to be "numerously admitted" will be considered lovely and historical by these workers on the membership drive...

The new museum will house a collection of historical treasures telling the kind of a Detroit story we're sure all our readers stand for... and therefore will want to participate in.

So... if you aren't a member and if you don't know any members... why don't you call one of the executive committee members we've named... to join today...

Be sure a warm welcome awaits you... plus that delightful country afternoon all for Detroit Historical Society... next Tuesday...

Short and to the Pointe

Mrs. Thomas White-McGohey

The former SHIRLEY ANN HEWITT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hewitt of Lewiston road, who was married on September 24 in St. Paul's Church, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. X. McGohey of New York.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD J. DONOVAN of East Jefferson avenue (Josephine Trenth) are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, JOHN CONNORS DONOVAN, Sept. 9.

DR. and MRS. JOSEPH L. WHELAN will arrive this week from Minneapolis to make their home on Ewald Circle. Mrs. Phelan was the former GLORIA ANN REWOLDT, daughter of MR. and MRS. WILLIAM J. REWOLDT of Sunningdale drive. The Wheelans have been living in Minneapolis ever since their marriage in June 1948. Arriving with them is their infant son, Joseph, born July 25.

MR. and MRS. ALFRED E. BRUSH of Carson City, Nev., are the guests of Mr. Brush's brother-in-law and sister, MR. and MRS. FREDERICK CLIFFORD FORD of Bishop road.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM MOORE JOY and MR. and MRS. LEDYARD MITCHELL JR. were hosts at cocktails Saturday evening in the Cloverly road home of the Joys. The party moved over to the Little Club later for the regular subscription dinner dance.

MRS. FRED T. MURPHY has returned to her home on East Jefferson avenue following a brief visit in St. Louis.

MRS. HENRY B. JOY is expected to return to her home, Fair Acres, on Lake Shore road sometime this week-end following the Summer spent at Watch Hill, R. I.

The first of a series of autumn dinner parties was given last Saturday evening by DR. and MRS. ELDON C. BAUMGARTEN in their Windmill Pointe drive home. Guests included MR. and MRS. J. EDGAR DUNCAN, MR. and MRS. WILLIAM BECKENHAUER, DR. and MRS. CLIFFORD LORANGER, DR. and MRS. ANTHONY LANGE and MR. and MRS. PHILIP LAUX.

ROBERT C. BREER, son of MR. and MRS. CARL BREER of Windmill Pointe drive, who has been studying art in France this past Summer, has decided to remain in Paris to continue his work. He plans a Paris showing of his paintings next spring.

Following the U. of M. Michigan State football game, MR. and MRS. WILLIAM E. SLAUGHTER JR. of Birmingham entertained at a steak roast in their home. Among the guests were MR. and MRS. ARTHUR J. ROHDE, MR. and MRS. RAY M. WHYTE, MR. and MRS. GLENDON H. ROBERTS, MR. and MRS. OZZIE OLSON, MR. and MRS. FREDERICK K. CODY, MR. and MRS. SEMON KNUDSEN and MR. and MRS. RUSSELL STRICKLAND.

BETSY PEABODY, who has spent the past year studying at the University of London, was welcomed home last week by her parents, DR. and MRS. CHARLES W. PEABODY of Washington road. Besides studying in London, this young Pointer took a child guidance course in Scotland. Before returning to this country, Betsy vacationed on the continent for two months.

Pointers joined merry-makers at the opening of the New Casino at the Book Cadillac last Friday night. Horace Flanagan of New York, who is a Pointer by adoption, came on for the opening and was host at dinner to MR. and MRS. HAROLD R. BOYER and MR. and MRS. ADDISON HOLTON.

Also noted in the New Casino were MR. and MRS. EDWARD A. SILLIERE of Riverdale-on-the-

Hudson with Mrs. Silliere's mother, MRS. RAYMOND H. BERRY and former Pointers, JUDGE and MRS. DEWITT MERRIAM.

A six year old luncheon host has a good chance of becoming one of the Pointe's leading Bon Vivants not too many years hence. This social accomplishment is claimed by GEORGE MOFFETT, son of MR. and MRS. GEORGE D. MOFFETT JR. of Nottingham road, who entertained eight of his classmates from Trombley School at luncheon in his home last week.

Mlle GENEVIEVE de LIGNY of New York and Paris has returned to Manhattan following a visit here with her cousins, COMTE and COMTESSE PIERRE de ROSTANG of Trombley road.

MR. and MRS. W. A. BUTNER of Grosse Pointe boulevard have returned from Hudson, Ohio, where they motored with their son, RICHARD, who is attending Western Reserve Academy. Another Pointer-enrolled there this year is JOHN ALLMAND, son of MR. and MRS. JOHN T. ALLMAND of Fouraine road.

Mr. and Mrs. EARL G. KIRBY

DR. and MRS. JOHN M. MURPHY of Lewiston road have been at the Homestead in Hot Springs, Va.

A bridge group which has been meeting every fortnight for nine years gathered last week for the bi-monthly session with MRS. JOHN BENFIELD at her home in Lake Shore road.

MRS. JOHN W. MCEACHREN of Renaud road has been named official alumnae representative of Bennington College for this district.

MRS. FREDERICK S. FORD of Windmill Pointe drive and MRS. BETHUNE DUFFIELD are to return Monday from a short visit to Edgartown, Mass.

U. of M. Bulletins: SALLY FROST, daughter of the J. CRAWFORD FROST, JR., of Merriweather road, is rooming this term with SUZANNE ANDERSON of Bloomfield Hills. Sally, with her father and sister, JUDY, was in the Michigan cheering section at the opening game of the season.

PAT BAUMGARTEN, who is attending Michigan this year, working on her master's degree in music, is sharing an apartment with PEGGY ELLINGWOOD of Evanston.

MR. and MRS. PAUL F. SANBORNE, JR., and their son, PETER, of Red Bank, N. J., will arrive next week to visit Mrs. Sanborne's father, BERNHARD STROH, JR., of Rivard boulevard.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES WRIGHT, III, have moved into their new home on Vendome road.

MR. and MRS. BENJAMIN H. LINNIG of Haverhill road have announced the engagement of their daughter, BEATRICE, to ROBERT WHITEHEAD MARSHALL, son of MR. and MRS. JOSEPH R. MARSHALL of North Bay, Ont. Both Beatrice and her fiance attended the University of Michigan. She is a member of Alpha Delta Phi and Bob's fraternity is Phi Kappa Psi.

MRS. GERALD SCHNEIDER of New road and MRS. E. LLWYD ECCLESTONE of Lincoln road left last week for a Manhattan visit following which they'll go down to Melbourne, Fla., to join Mr. Ecclestone.

MRS. EVA DOTY WORCESTER returned to her home in Sunningdale drive after a six weeks' motor trip through the east. She attended the music festival at Tanglewood in the Berkshires, and painted at East Gloucester, Rockport and Marblehead, Mass.

Shirley Hewitt Wed To Thomas McGohey

Daughter of The Charles H. Hewitts Married To Easterner At Ceremony in St. Paul's-on-the-Lake; Reception Follows At The Country Club.

At mid-morning, Saturday, cars purred up Lake Shore road to St. Paul's to attend the wedding of Shirley Ann Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hewitt of Lewiston road and Thomas W. McGohey, son of the John F. X. McGoheys of New York City. Their wedding took place just three days before the Hewitts' wedding anniversary.

The Rev. Father Albert Melvin heard the young couple's vows.

The bride's gown was fashioned with bodice and front panel of lace and a great skirt of ivory satin extending into a long formal train. Her bridal bonnet of heirloom rose pointe had three-quarter length veil, down each side of which cascaded deep borders of the lovely lace. Shirley carried a white orchid with stephanotis.

The square, tiered wedding cake centered its own lace cloth covered table. A base of ivy greens, decorated the cake and stephanotis blossomed from its top layer.

All the bridal attendants were gowned alike in aqua satin frocks with deep square necklines outlined in flat, pleated collars. The basques buttoned at back and the floor length skirts fell in unpressed pleats. They wore brown velvet half-caps touched with aqua ostrich tips and carried arm bouquets of autumn beige Fugl mums blended with apricot bebe mums.

Following their wedding trip the young couple will make their home in New York City.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McCauley and his aunt, Miss Anna White of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dowling came from Northville for their granddaughter's wedding and still other out-of-town guests were an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Dowling and another aunt, Mrs. Stephen King, all of Owasco, Mich.

The bridegroom, who met Shirley when she was at Tarrytown and he a student at nearby Fordham, served three years with the Navy during World War II. One of those years he was based at Grosse Ile but the young couple did not know each other then.

Society Circles Oct. 1 For the Autumn Market

Annual Country Market Benefiting Girls' Friendly Society And Summer Camp To Be Held At Pine Lake; Pointers Planning To Attend

Preparations are just about complete for the annual Autumn Market this Saturday at the Girls' Friendly Society's vacation camp on Pine Lake. Now one of those mellow days of October is awaited to make everything perfect. Market hours will be from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In various kitchens, preserving kettles have been simmering these past few weeks with delectables for the jams, jellies and canned goods booth.

On Washington road, Miss Frances W. Sibley pressed her house guest, Miss Edith Hadley of New York, and her housekeeper into service "putting up" jars and jars of mixed pickles, chutney made from an old family recipe, pickled peaches, pears and watermelon-rind.

A rose geranium leaf for flavor was Mrs. Fred J. Kennedy's final touch before sealing her glasses of crabapple jelly. The wonderful, rosy crabapples were sent by Mrs. Grant L. Cook of Touraine road, from her country home at Puce, Ont.

MRS. MILLS' JEWELRY
The Pine Lake Camp, at Middlebelt road north of West Long Lake road, will be much like a country fair on Saturday's Market Day. Brilliantly-hued vegetables, fruits and flowers will be arranged on the broad lawns.

Among the interesting articles at the country store will be hand-wrought metal trays made by Miss Myrtle Armstrong and children's knitted mittens by a group of assistants.

Mrs. Wilson W. Mills will help stock the white elephant booth with costume jewelry . . . this booth always offers exciting re-sales of such jewelry, bric-a-brac and books. Miss Margaret Hendrie, with Mrs. William Graham of Birmingham, is in charge.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Richard S. M. Emrich, Mrs. Russell S. Hubbard, Mrs. William B. Sperry, Miss Sibley, Mrs. Alexander W. Copland, Mrs. Henry Ford and Mrs. Heatley Green.

Among those attending from Grosse Pointe will be Mrs. Green's daughter, Miss Kathleen Green; Mrs. L. Rothe Farr and Mrs. Joseph M. Dodge, who will go out with Mrs. Mills.

The Market is sponsored by the Holiday House Committee and benefits the vacation camp and the Girls' Friendly Society.

Mrs. Rogers I. Marquis, of Birmingham, is general chairman.

Parties Honor Miss Carnaghi

The rehearsal dinner on October 20 will conclude the month-long round of pre-nuptial fetes honoring the October 22 marriage of Lorraine Carnaghi to Lawrence Francis Einheuser.

Lorraine, the daughter of Mrs. Joseph P. Carnaghi of Three Mile drive and the late Mr. Carnaghi, and her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Einheuser of East Grand boulevard, will be married in a 10 o'clock ceremony at St. Clare of Montefalco Church in Grosse Pointe Park.

The bride-elect was honored at a late August miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. A. H. Einheuser and her daughter, Kay. Mrs. F. L. Einheuser, the mother of the prospective bridegroom, was hostess at a luncheon in her home on the boulevard.

The bride-to-be was feted by her sister, Mrs. Joseph R. Kramer at a linen shower in her home in Grosse Pointe Woods.

A crystal shower was given for Lorraine by another sister, Mrs. Philip Coulson, the mother of the flower girl, Claudia.

Zena Amico honored the bride-elect at a kitchen shower on Thursday, September 22.

On Sunday, September 25, Mrs. John Martin entertained the bride-to-be at a china shower in her new home on North Renaud in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Eleanor Camisa will feté Lorraine at an around-the-clock shower in the early part of October.

On October 9, Mrs. Robert Smythe and Mrs. John Klein, aunts of the prospective groom, will honor Lorraine at a tea in the latter's home on Lincoln road.

The bride-elect will also be the honor guest at a spinster dinner on the following Thursday. The hostess will be Joann Carnaghi, who will be the maid-of-honor for her sister.

Also attending the bride-to-be will be Zena Amico, Eleanor Camisa, Mrs. John Martin, and Kay Einheuser, a cousin of the prospective bridegroom, as brides prospective bridegroom, as bridesmaids. Claudia Ann Coulson, a niece of the bride-elect, will be flower girl.

Joseph Herbon will be best man and the ushers include John Carnaghi, brother of the bride-to-be, Robert Klein, an uncle of the prospective bridegroom, John Martin, and Lawrence McElwee. The Whittier will be the scene of the breakfast after the ceremony and an evening reception.

Four Pointe Students Enroll at Alma College

The following students from Grosse Pointe are enrolled at Alma College:

Robert Stebbins, 289 Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stebbins, has enrolled as a Freshman.

Donald Osborn, 314 Beaupre road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osborn, has enrolled as a Freshman.

James Sanford, 279 Hillcrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Sanford, has enrolled as a Sophomore.

Harry Mack, 1027 Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Mack has enrolled as a Freshman.

Busy With Benefit Plans

MRS. WENDELL W. ANDERSON of Vendome road derives much satisfaction from the work she is doing as a co-chairman of the Starr Commonwealth Benefit, which will be held in the War Memorial Center on October 6. To help raise funds for the center, which does so much for underprivileged boys, the famous Howard Greer, one of the world's top fashion designers, is bringing his fabulous autumn and winter collection from Hollywood.

Debutante List Grows Longer

Promise of a gay and whirly Christmas season was given impetus this week with the debutante list.

Joan and Susan Sattley, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hale V. Sattley, of Vendome road, will be introduced to society at a reception, Dec. 18, in the Country Club.

Mary Waterfall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton E. Waterfall of Lincoln road will be the Dec. 20 debutante. She is to be presented at a tea at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Virginia Yeger Robb, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Milton Robb of Lakeland avenue makes her bow on Dec. 21 and Dec. 23 with Frances McMahon being presented at a Country Club by her grandmother, Mrs. Francis J. McMahon. The bud is the daughter of Francis E. McMahon of East Jefferson avenue and the late Mrs. McMahon.

Albert Conkeys Hosts At Cocktails For Guest

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Conkey entertained Sunday afternoon at a cocktail party in honor of their houseguest, Mrs. Vincent J. Strei of Sacramento, Calif.

Pointe Girl Sets Wedding Date

Patricia Barbara Kronner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Neill Kronner of East Jefferson avenue, has chosen Oct. 15 for the date of her marriage to Owen Charles Creteau, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Creteau of Detroit and Paw Paw.

The ceremony will take place in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Pat's sister, Mrs. John T. Wheeler, Jr., is to be matron of honor and the bridesmaids comprise Mrs. William O'Neill Kronner, Jr., the bride-elect's sister-in-law; and three Marygrove classmates, Margaret Mary Schoell of Monroe, Mich., Sheila O'Toole of Pittsburgh and Ruth Jean Flynn of Detroit.

Alfred C. Gonyea will be Mr. Creteau's best man and bridesmaids are to be the bride-elect's brother-in-law, John T. Wheeler, Jr., Henry Hafell and Lawrence Nightingale of Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kronner will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner Oct. 14 in their East Jefferson avenue home. Other parties feting the bride-elect are those being given by Mrs. E. E. Wemp and Mrs. H. O. Milton, a luncheon and miscellaneous shower at the D.A.C.; Mrs. Albert Teetzel and Mrs. H. E. Walton, a linen shower and luncheon at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club; and the spinster dinner at which Mrs. Wheeler will be hostess in her Grosse Pointe Woods residence.

Elizabeth Cass Chapter Plans Meeting on Oct. 3

Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold the first meeting of the season at the Women's City Club at 1:30 p.m. on October 3.

Mrs. Harry Stearns, regent, will preside at the business meeting. Miss Laura Cook, organizing secretary general of the DAR, will be the guest speaker.

Couple Motor in East After Fashionable Rites

Nancy Hughes Weds John Robinson Bowers at Ceremony In Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Reception At the Boat Club Follows.

The altar of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church was decorated for a bride Saturday. Beautiful frosty white mums filled the two great silver urns and cathedral candlelight played on the soft backing greenery.

The bride was dark-haired Nancy Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hughes of University place who spoke her vows with John Robinson Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenne James Bowers.

Nancy wore an exquisite gown combining ivory satin and chantilly lace. The square necked, fitted bodice was backed in satin and had front of the misty lace. A long and informal train extends from the back of the full skirted wedding dress with which Nancy wore a Princess of Holland Chantilly lace bridal cap with fingertip length veil of silk illusion. Her bouquet was of all white stephanotis.

Barbara Hughes was her sisters' honor maid in mist green satin with matching satin used in her Princess of Holland cap. A brief jacket with deep bertha collar was used over the strapless picture gown and Barbara carried pale burgundy fugi mums mixed with ivy.

Maids in Green
The bridesmaids wore gowns matching that of the maid of honor and their flowers were the same. Nancy was attended by another sister, Mary Margaret Hughes, Helen and Mary Owen, Suzie Stoepel and Sara Tiedman.

The bridegroom's four year old niece, Mary Ann Bowers, was the flower girl in a dusty pink long taffeta frock with inserts of matching lace used on the bodice, carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink and white rosebuds and wore the same blossoms in her hair.

The best man was Kenne J. Bowers Jr., the bridegroom's brother, and the bridesmen were Fredrick W. Hughes, brother of the bride; Clinton R. Clark, Fredrick J. Winter, William H. Hassard Jr., Robert B. Sweitzer of South Bend, Ind. and Donald C. Longyear.

Boat Club Reception
A gown of light green crepe was chosen by the bride's mother for the fashionable wedding. Floor length, the gown was severely tailored and designed with long, tight sleeves. A matching toque with coq feathers at either side of the face and a lavender orchid completed Mrs. Hughes' costume.

Mrs. Bowers was in soft blue chiffon, also floor length, with matching chapeau and pink orchids.

Wedding guests motored to Detroit Boat Club for the reception following which the newly-married Bowers left on an Eastern motor trip. When they return they will live at the Chateau Frontenac.

The bride traveled in a brown and white houndstooth tailored suit with which she affected a small brown felt hat and brown accessories.

First words spoken over the telephone were, "Watson, come here; I want you," spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant.

Growing Memorial Center

The fast growing use of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center is confirming evidence of the claims made by the proponents of this project that it would fill a long felt need for such a place in this community.

This newspaper is happy to publish each week the information of coming events which are to take place in it. The continuing story of the Center is the best portrayal of the people of this community have ever had of the wide range of community interests and activities which make up the social, political, patriotic and cultural life of Grosse Pointe.

The wide use of the place, even before the property is completely organized and equipped, is gratifying assurance to the men and women whose vision and enthusiasm persevered to its establishment.

Two or three groups like the Garden Clubs and Veterans organizations have been allotted permanent quarters in the building but the remainder of the interior is to be reserved for groups and organizations that can properly qualify for its use on their occasional or periodic visits.

The property will never be employed as a place for purely private functions. The whole spirit of its administration is to be community-wide. It is the earnest hope of its directors that no other interpretation will ever be placed on the allocations which must be constantly made. These conscientious men and women who have taken over its control are most anxious that there should never be ground for the assumption that any social group or clique has preference in its privileges.

While this whole project was primarily conceived as a memorial to our soldier dead and as a tribute to those who served, it is not difficult to foresee it will soon grow into a fine expression of a living memorial serving a broad and useful purpose for all.

The money contributed by the people of Grosse Pointe was given and pledged at a time when it was expected a memorial library was to be erected. There was deep disappointment when the Board of Education could not see its way clear to accept the Alger House for such a purpose. Since then, however, it has been universally expressed that the School Board's action has turned out a happy disappointment. The project as now planned and operated offers a much wider basis of usefulness and enjoyment to the community than it could have as a single purpose project.

Despite the rejection of the library plan the Directors of the Memorial Fund were always anxious that the School Board should cooperate in the memorial enterprise, and still are. It has always been the hope that there could be provided in the memorial, whatever form it might take, a repository for valuable books and manuscripts, of which there must be a large number in the private homes of Grosse Pointe. This might be a fitting enterprise for the School authorities to undertake within the Memorial. It could probably be maintained there at Board of Education expense.

This might also be maintained jointly by the School Board and the Grosse Pointe Historical Society as both would have a common motive in preserving valuable books, maps and manuscripts.

Great Line of Defense

The announcement made by President Truman the other day that the Russians now possessed the secret of the application of atomic energy and had actually exploded a bomb on Russian soil stirred anew the anxiety that has possessed humanity since the first bomb was set off on Hiroshima in August, 1945. This dread anxiety penetrated the whole world of freedom and human rights and dignity from North Cape to the Cape of Good Hope and from the western frontier of Russia to the shores of the Pacific. Wherever men are free and hope to remain so this fear extended. For long we have been lulled into a qualified sense of security by the belief that our country was the sole custodian of this fateful secret. This has been shattered officially by the statement from the White House.

Since the President's statement information has come from many quarters that our scientists and high government officials have known for some time that Russia had the basic bomb secret. It took the President's statement, however, to bring the full impact of the fact to the national consciousness. It is impossible that the President would have made such a statement on rumor or hearsay. The fact is too charged with solemn implications for him to trifle with the nerves of the world and the anxieties of his own people.

Tass, the great Russian News agency, has confirmed her possession of the atomic secret but sidesteps a direct answer to the question whether or not a bomb has actually been exploded. Much to the surprise of many Tass's statement advanced the necessity of world control.

This is at direct odds with the reception of the recommendation of the Baruch Commission a couple years ago which the Russian Government spurned. She was unwilling to submit to examination by a world authority. It is improbable that Tass would have ventured such a suggestion without the permission of the Soviet Government. In this we may read some comfort. It implies that the Russians are at last willing to get together with the western countries and seriously consider absolute control of atomic energy for the mutual protection and benefit of humanity. This is a result devoutly wished by us and all the world. Such an arrangement has already been endorsed by us provided satisfying assurances are given of the good faith and honor of all subscribing signatories.

If, however, this ray of hope is eclipsed by Russia's next move, there is no occasion for us to spin into a dither over this news.

We have now a large stockpile of bombs in hand. A high government authority says we are far ahead of Russia "and will remain so." Moreover, the bomb we are now pre-

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Friend, of my infinite dreams
Little enough endures;
Little bower it seems,
Is it yours, all yours,
Faith bath a fleeting breath,
Hopes may be frail but fond,
But Love shall be Love till death,
And perhaps beyond."

(Arthur Christopher Benson)

Some time ago we wrote a series of paragraphs entitled: "You're Old WHEN . . ." and unless our spies deceive us, we were given to understand that the ladies and gentlemen of our vintage got quite a kick out of them. Well, we are a goodly year older now and have a brand new crop. See where YOU fit in.

You are over the hill when:
Your bridge club sighs in a chorus, "Millie . . . you TOLD US THAT ONE LAST WEEK."

You swear up and down to yourself and others, that you KNOW you put that list of things you meant to do RIGHT THERE ON THE DESK! SOMEONE ELSE must have moved it!

The size fourteen dress you can't get into causes you to blame the House that manufactured it. After all you've been wearing size fourteens for years . . . so YOU OUGHT TO KNOW better than any salesgirl.

Same thing goes for shoes.
You start LOOKING for the obits in the newspaper! You used to glance at them if you happened to be on that page . . . but now you go hunting for them . . . and take especial note of the ages.

That's it, kids. And sister, if the above fits you at all, you'd better start doing kind deeds and patting small children on the head. More next year.

Canasta fans will no doubt throw their hats in the air and rah, rah, rah, over the news that Otille Kelly (herself, in person, as they say in movie burles), is coming to town! Roland Gray, ex-tennis pro and now Storekeeper, first class, had a letter from Mrs. Kelly in which she informs him she will be in Detroit and its environs on October 18th, on which date she is scheduled to do a stint some place. She also informs him that she will be FREE (so to speak) on the nineteenth, in case any group in the Pointe would like to have her tell them what's what!

For a small (to Mrs. R., no doubt) stipend . . . she will give a lecture or a lesson or just let you look at her. If your Canasta Club is interested, we'd suggest you telephone Mr. Gray at his Sport Shop for further details.

With apologies to "Alice" . . . this true tale might be called "The Mad Hatter."

A gentleman from out of town was here recently, combining business with pleasure as the guest of a Grosse Pointe Family. His business meeting being at one of the downtown hotels, his host got the first peek at the little man when he called for him at the hotel to drive him out to the Pointe. Just as our hero was about to step into the car he said, "By jove" (or some such thing), "I've forgotten my hat. Do you mind waiting a minute while I run back and get it?" The host (who probably minded very much but didn't say so) promptly parked his car and accompanied the hatless one. They went to the checkroom in the lobby, where after much fumbling in all pockets, our hero discovered he had no hat check. The obliging hat check girl told him to describe the hat, give the name of the manufacturer and the initials in it and she'd have a look. Since there were numerous other folks trying to collect their hats also, the process of searching for this one was a rather lengthy one. After about twenty minutes of hunting, no such hat turned up.

It was then suggested that the hat-hunter try the OTHER check room in the hotel. This he did, and after following much the same procedure as before . . . the hat was STILL missing. Cussing inwardly and shrugging it off outwardly, our hero said, "Aw to heck with it . . . let's go" . . . so they went, back to the car. Again as they were about to step into it, he suddenly remembered that he had left it in the room he took for a few hours on arrival that morning. Did his host mind terribly if he just took a run up to that room? After all it WAS a new hat. Soooooo, both men hike back to the hotel, get the key and elevate their way to the umpteenth floor. A thorough search was made of the room . . . but no hat! This time, the host agreed heartily when his guest suggested they forget the whole thing and get on home.

In the car on the way to the Pointe, dear guest allowed as how he now REALLY remembered that he had left it in the berth on the train. Soooooo, when they arrived at their destination, La Host telephoned the lost and found at the Railroad station and reported the missing hat. That seems to be that, except for the last chapter.

At the dinner party honoring the guest that evening, his host overheard the little man talking to a lady guest about the weather . . . a harmless enough subject to say the least. The lady seemed to be complaining about the Michigan climate . . . and the man was defending it with all his might. He even went as far as saying that people outside Michigan think the climate here GREAT. But the thing that made Mr. Host really go for his shotgun, was when he distinctly heard his absent-minded guest say, "Why when I left to come on this trip I didn't even bring a HAT. Even my wife agreed with me that I wouldn't need one."

That is exactly how it turned out, too. He never DID have a hat with him!

ducing is more powerful than the type with which we knocked Japan out with two explosions in a matter of hours.

We may still rely on the truth of the adage propounded by Michigan's own poet, Will Carleton, more than sixty years ago, when he said:

"The power to defend holds many a friend,
Force off shows clear the right;
The surest lease of comfort and peace
Is a sturdy strength to fight."

Another great American's advance can also be followed. Teddy the Great said "Speak softly but carry a big stick," and still another who told us to "Trust in God but keep our powder dry."

Russia's menace to the world is more apparent than real. What she herself may do to upset the peaceful course of humanity is not too appalling. She has been uniformly unsuccessful as a military power. The English and French defeated her in the Crimea in the 1850s; the Turks humbled her in 1877; the Japs defeated her in 1903 and the Germans, while facing Britain and France on their western front in 1915, reached through their back door and kicked her into military impotency. She would have been defeated in the last war by Germany had it not been for the help the United States and Britain were able to bring her. She has peculiarly lacked the military genius which makes for victories in war.

The real menace of Russia to the peace of the world lies in the fact that she has set herself up as the titular ideological head of a worldwide political, economic and social culture which is worldwide and which daily coalesces into a close-knit band which takes its guidance from her.

The defense against this threat to freedom and human dignity which the true democracies of the world must engineer, lies in the hearts and minds of their own people. Here lies their great line of defense.

Letters To The Editor

September 21, 1949

Grosse Pointe News
Grosse Pointe, Michigan,
Gentlemen:

I appreciate the fair manner in which you dealt with the tax suit ruling by Judge Vincent M. Brennan on my property, at 15440 Windmill Pointe Drive, both on your front page and in your editorial section.

Since you quoted Supervisor Carl Schweikart's comment on the case you are no doubt equally interested in giving your readers the other side of the story. I note too, with interest, that Mr. Schweikart, on the front page of the same issue, announces his candidacy for the presidency of Grosse Pointe Park.

To begin with, few people start court proceedings, time, effort and costs being what they are, unless they think they have a pretty good case. I purchased this property from the State Land Board in 1945 for $40,000. This house, of the mansion type, had been empty for two years. During that time almost every real estate office in Michigan had been trying to sell this place without success and anyone could have bought it that wanted it, but until I made an offer no one did except a State Veterans' group that wanted to make a hospital of it for veteran neuro-psychiatric patients. If the latter group had gone through with purchasing the place, likely no taxes for the township could be levied.

Suppose you were to buy a piece of property from the State itself in an open sale for $40,000. Suppose you opened your first tax bill and discovered an assessment of over $132,000! What would you think of it? It's enough to make one's hair stand on end. Naive that I am, it had never occurred to me that property so purchased could possibly be assessed for more than its true cash value. This was written into the constitution of the State of Michigan, Article X, Section 7 states that no property can be assessed in excess of its true cash value. This was written into the constitution to protect all of us from the arbitrary decisions of property assessors and this was a wise provision. If not written, what could one do if his home was over-assessed? Is not the United States the land of justice for all?

Complete records of the leading real estate companies in the Grosse Pointe area reveal, if I remember the testimony correctly, that offshore properties are assessed at less than 35% of their true selling or cash value. Since the constitution of the State of Michigan clearly defines the basis for assessed valuations and limits them to their true cash value what right has Supervisor Schweikart or any one else to adopt and enforce his own set of rules against any minority group of property owners? Would Supervisor Schweikart pick the constitution of the State of Michigan into the waste basket—the constitution that protects Schweikarts from the Helms and, if I may add, vice versa?

According to Mr. Schweikart, candidate for the presidency of Grosse Pointe Park, it is right and proper for a piece of property on the Lake Shore with a true cash value of $40,000 to be assessed at $132,000, while a similarly valued piece of offshore property should be assessed at $13,000 and it may be right across the street. This is a 1000% discrepancy. How does his look to any one that believes in fair play? That such a condition has been allowed to exist up until the good Judge Vincent M. Brennan's decision shows how much justice has backslid in these United States, the past 16 years.

This cannot be excused on the basis of someone's ignorance of the true facts but we proved it was fraudulent assessment, $90,000 was still too high. So what does Mr. Schweikart, candidate for the presidency of Grosse Pointe Park, have to say about the fairness of Judge Brennan's decision? Nothing, except that it helps keep assessments down on the offshore properties by keeping up the assessments on the few lake shore properties. With 3,200 dwelling and 120 business places it couldn't make much difference when divided up compared to the few lakeshore places.

Perhaps it is only an accident while Mr. Schweikart announces his candidacy for public office he also brings up the above admission or disproportionate taxes levied against lake shore properties knowing that there are less voters on the lake shore. This sort of campaign oratory has elected candidate after candidate for public office though if there is a 'common man' in Grosse Pointe Park I wish he would introduce himself to me.

I, myself, was a factory worker for 16 years. I found out that by using one's head and by making full use of one's time, one can acquire, without robbing widows, orphans or banks, under system of free enterprise, sufficient income with which to acquire the luxuries of the ambitious man. In my case it happened to be a large roomy house. Should these homes be taxed out of existence? Should the politicians be allowed to tax Americans into living in smaller and smaller homes, as the trend due to high taxes has been, until we are all living in quonset homes or New Deal Housing projects where one may well have neighbors on all four sides and top and bottom as well?

I challenge Mr. Schweikart, or any one else to find a sane man in the whole United States that will offer me, for my house as I bought it, the present assessment of over $132,000. Not only that, but for any lake shore properties, most of which are for sale for any decent figure.

The yearly tax on my place has been over $5,500 a year. How long can such taxes continue before we are living in piano boxes? What makes a political office holder tax crazy? Will we eventually be taxed until we have reached the level of life in foreign countries? Haven't enough of these fine homes been torn down already because of excessive taxation? Grosse Pointe Park is a fine community—probably the best in the state—has it sunk to the level of slumtown politics by assuming that there are here certain 'able to pay' groups that should be penalized because of their affluence?

I do not believe offshore Grosse Pointers would accept this philosophy if it was handed them. Nor do I believe they would vote for a candidate whose platform rested on it. Even if it were legal. Neither do I think that if it were placed on a Grosse Pointe Park ballot, that these voters would vote for special assessments for lake shore property owners beyond that already created by actual increase in true cash value established by their desirable location, and assessed accordingly.

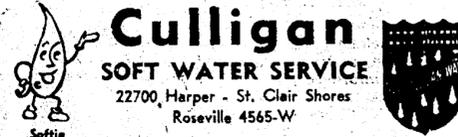

Yours very truly,
CHARLES HELIN

Eat Your Way To Health

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

Doctors today know that the food an individual eats has a good deal to do with his state of health. Poor diets over the years are a direct cause of certain bodily weaknesses that make people susceptible to disease.

Sometimes through concentrated doses of the elements lacking, damage is repairable. However, the nutritious diet followed daily is less expensive and makes you more physically fit and mentally alert through the years.

Ask your doctor to recommend a diet and check with him yearly.

Rely on an experienced prescriptionist for all drug needs. This is the 280th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

The Richmond "Mr."

The popularity of Queen Victoria, and perhaps the desire to attract royal patronage, prompted attaching her name to the creative designs of that day. The chair shown here is an improved reproduction of a choice French Victorian piece. It was named "The Richmond," after the capitol of Virginia. It is a man's chair 39" high, 24" wide and RANDALL and LEON, 9100 Cadieux, are showing it with a companion lady's chair, both in high grade velvets and imported tapestries. Each sells for slightly more than one hundred and twenty five dollars.

Local Gallery Shows Antique Clock

The Camille M. Gresser fine art shop, 20527 Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods, is displaying an elaborate clock with companion candelabra recently brought here from France. The pieces, made before the French Revolution, are done in bronze and black marble and because of their age and fine artistic value are believed to be of museum caliber. Mr. Gresser who brings two score of years in experience to his new gallery here deals in fine paintings and etchings and also accepts orders for portraits in oils.

Danger?

There's danger in lamps when the wiring is even slightly impaired, even if the lamp is turned off, so says John Ollig of Ollig Electric, lamp repair specialists whose shop at 15243 Mack, serves Grosse Pointers.

Mr. Ollig was in the electrical division of the army and served the Atomic Bomb commission at the testing fields in New Mexico during the war. His shop, where his father and he operate, often receives as many as 20 lamps at a time from a single family for wire and other repairs. They also remake and wire old oil lamps.

Lode Van Dessel To Give Concert

A committee (backed by all local Flemish Clubs, with the Belgian Consul, Peter Boeye, as honorary president), is making plans for the first Van Dessel evening concert. The event will take place in the Auditorium of Our Lady of Sorrows located at Benson and Meldrum avenues, on Saturday, October 22 at 8:30 p.m.

Lode Van Dessel recently became organist and choir master at St. Aloysius Church, and also professor at the Palestrina Institute for ecclesiastical music. Hailed by the press of his native country, (Belgium), as "a young brilliant composer and outstanding musician" whose fame would spread beyond the narrow boundaries of the old continent, the composer has chosen this country as the adopted land of his new endeavors.

The greater part of the program of this first public appearance in Detroit will consist of his own most outstanding compositions. Talented local soloists will lend their cooperation with selected vocal numbers from his repertoire.

There will be no charge for admittance.

Pointers Ready For Ingathering

The annual Ingathering of the Detroit Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will take place Oct. 24 in Jefferson avenue Presbyterian Church. As usual Pointers will be well represented in the basement of the church as layettes and other articles are sorted and packaged for needy mothers.

Mrs. Henry B. Joy is honorary president of the Detroit branch and other officers are: Mrs. Albert Schloss, honorary vice-president, Mrs. Edward R. Doyle, president, Mrs. Alfred Marks, Mrs. George M. Black Jr., Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr., vice-presidents; Mrs. Otis U. Walker, treasurer, Mrs. Henry Ledyard, secretary, and Mrs. Allan Sheldon III, assistant secretary.

Included in the business of the annual meeting Sept. 27, will be the election of a new first vice-president, a post now vacant.

Pointers Score Tough Win By Outstanding Team Work

Bayard Johnson Stands Out With Fine Defensive Play; Hard Tackling Produces Fumble and Intercepted Pass Stops Another Threat

By Fred Runnells

While Madame Autumn was busy applying brilliant colors to the surrounding landscape, Coach Ed Wernet's fast-moving Grosse Pointe Blue Devils were busy fashioning a hard fought 12 to 7 grid victory over a rugged Ferndale team on its own well lighted gridiron last Friday night, September 23.

The win was the second in a row for the Pointers and was by far one of the best games played by a Pointe team in many a year.

Fine Team Work
Unlike most high school games where one or two boys stand in the spotlight alone this game was won by brilliant team work on the part of the Blue Devils.

Fighting an uphill battle after an early score by Ferndale in the first quarter, this Pointe team didn't know the meaning of defeat and instead of laying down on the job fought back savagely until it emerged the winner.

After Ferndale's colored half-back Ben Davis climaxed a 39 yard drive with a 3 yard plunge over the Pointer's right tackle, and Don Harnish kicked the extra point halfway through the first quarter, the Blue Devils got mad and rocked their opponents with thunderous tackles.

Quick Kick Blocked
Early in the second period the Blue Devils fast charging forward wall blocked a Ferndale quick kick and recovered on the opponents' 39 yard line.

Devil backs Brogan, Jenkins, Peterson and Knowles began their onslaught and drove to the Ferndale 9 yard line on a series of line plays. Peterson almost stopped the Ferndale fans' hearts when he reeled his way toward the goal line. But they began beating again when the little redhead was knocked out of bounds on the 2 yard line.

Founded Jerry Jenkins, climaxed the 39 yard drive with a two yard plunge over center for the Pointers, first score.

Miss Extra Point
Every finger and possibly a few toes were crossed in the Grosse Pointe stands as Pat Brogan stepped back to try for the game tying conversion point. It was blocked and the Pointers were still on the short end of a 7 to 6 score as the half ended.

Coming out for the third period the Blue Devils were as sharp as razors and repeatedly cut down the Ferndale runners with vicious blocking and tackling.

Early in the fourth quarter quarterback Pat Brogan and Don Shaw electrified the crowd with a magnificent pass play which put the Pointer out in front and eventually proved to be the game winning score.

Pass Clicks
Brogan rifled a 45 yard bullet-like heave to end Don Shaw who gathered in the pigskin on the dead run on the Ferndale 15 and stepped off the remainder of the chalk lines to the goal.

Blue Devil cheers were tre-

Have Still to Taste Defeat After Three Meetings of Rotary Club Bowling League

Bowling at the G. P. Woods Recreation last Friday night, Auto Club gained considerable ground by winning over Earl Holzbaugh, 3-1. They are now tied with Motor City Tires who lost a three-pointer to Kopp's Pharmacy. The tiremen copped the opener but the "champs" fought back and led by Fred Kopp and Carl Allemang, took the next two and total pins.

Freddie Temple's eight meter "Thisbe," with Joe Snay aboard, was the third boat across the finish line and nipped Milt Cross' "Venture" by 5 seconds to take the racing laurels. Gordie Saunders' "Armda" was fourteen minutes behind "Venture" for third place.

Probably the most exciting tussle of the entire race took place between Toots Gmeiner's "Apache," six time D. R. Y. A. champion, and Commodore Cleve Wellings' "Vitesse."

Were Tied Till Then
These two boats were in a virtual tie for first place for the 1949 title at the start of the chilly classic.

"Apache" finished third on corrected time behind Paul Smiley's "Orient," to win her seventh River championship in the last eight years.

"Vitesse" was fifth on corrected time.

Harold McGregor's "Balquid" topped the Cruising C class, beating favorite Bill Hanson's "Marbill" by 21 minutes in the light going which prevailed as the sun dipped behind the horizon. Actually the 21 minutes represents approximately a hundred yards.

Vic Ravioia Wins
Ray St. John's 30-square meter "Starling," last year's winner, took it on the chin by more than 28 minutes behind Vic Ravioia. Bob Roadstrum squeezed out a victory in the Privateer Class after a good tussle with Jim Trudell's "Gin Jam."

As usual Bob Nesley's big black schooner "Malabar" topped this division having a four hour lead over F. K. Johnson's "Black Hawk."

Wind Gives Out
The 10 to 15 mile westerly wind pushed the 39 boat fleet on a spin-maker run down the first leg to the Thames River light, 20 miles away. The fresh breeze held steady and made for a cold, wet beat to the second mark, which was buoy number 29 above the St. Clair lights, but it dropped fast after the bigger cruising boats started their close reach to the finish line off Grosse Pointe Y.C. dock and practically eliminated the hopes of the smaller boat skippers of winning on corrected time. By 6 p.m., the wind disappeared completely and the lake became a mill pond.

Many of the boats finished late Saturday night and the dandy buffet supper provided by the host club had to be reheated. But, gosh, it was good.

Anderson's Big "Escapade" Annexes Bluenose Regatta

By Fred Runnells

It was "Ladies Day" on "Escapade" and Wendell Anderson's big 72-foot yawl stepped lively over a bouncing Lake St. Clair to score an impressive victory to win all honors in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's Bluenose regatta last Saturday, September 24.

It was "Eskie's" second appearance in competition against the local fleet on Lake St. Clair this season—the first being a week ago when she won all honors in the Bayview All-Night race.

"Thisbe" Beats Racers
Freddie Temple's eight meter "Thisbe," with Joe Snay aboard, was the third boat across the finish line and nipped Milt Cross' "Venture" by 5 seconds to take the racing laurels. Gordie Saunders' "Armda" was fourteen minutes behind "Venture" for third place.

Two Club Tennis Matches Played
The long drawn out Country Club Championship tournament almost reached its conclusion over last weekend when the mixed doubles and girls doubles were played. Only the ladies doubles final remains on the docket.

Bill Croul and Ann LaFerte defeated Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford in straight sets, 6-6, 6-2 to take the 1949 title.

Joan Dryden and Ann Woodhouse closed out the junior tournament when they beat Ann Sherer and Sara Goddard, 4-6, 8-6, 7-5, in a closely contested championship match.

Club professional Tobey Hanson, director of the tournament, was positive in his statement that "the finals in the last match of the ladies doubles WILL be played next Saturday, October 1.

The Detroit Lions were set to spring a theatrical billing of Wheeler and Woolsey on their National Football League opponents this fall. The act blew up when Halfbacks Lloyd Wheeler of Southwestern (Kansas) College and Max M. Woolsey of Indiana State Teachers College both were cut from the squad.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

Actually the Grosse Pointe Bluenose regatta is the end of the D. R. Y. A. racing season but there is a hardy band of die-hards, who, believe me, have ice water running in their veins and drink their beer warm. They are getting ready to sail in the North Channel race next Saturday, September 30.

Originally this race was the baby of the late Morrill Dunn, who was at the starting line off the Little Club dock in a snow storm one year but found no one to play with.

The race is open to C boats, L boats, Luders and Privateers. The first few years only C boats competed, but in the last three years the L boats, led by that old master, Ted Kuhn, have given the C boat boys more than they bargained for. Kuhn has won the Morrill Dunn Memorial Trophy for the last three years.

As mentioned before the race will get started off the Little Club dock and the boats will sail up the Middle Channel to the light off Algona and then back down the ship channel, back to the finish line off Bayview, Y. C. dock. In all the course covers approximately 70 miles and is the longest the local yachtsmen sail excepting the Mackinac race.

Alex Allardyce won the final Star class trophy, the "C" Series, last Sunday, September 25, with three firsts in the three race series. Winning this trophy Alex made a clean sweep of all the hardware in the Star class this season.

Pat Clancy, one of the original local Star boaters, but now sailing catboats for the Edison Boat Club, won three firsts in the DRYA catboat championships held at Crescent Sail, Y. C., Saturday, September 25.

By winning three straight firsts, he made it unnecessary to sail the fourth race.

Maurice de Clerq of St. Clair Yachtsmen finished second and Emmett McCoy of the Detroit Yacht Club took third.

Wrong Picture

This isn't a fake. That's really a 39-inch, 18-pound muskellunge being held by FARMS POLICE CHIEF WALTER (Tex) HOYT.

The only trouble is Tex didn't catch the fish. It was landed by City Patrolman Andy Teetaert at the mouth of the Thames river on September 15, with a spinner as the lure.

City Police Chief Tom Trombly was official photographer of the junket. Somehow he missed count on the number of fish in his camera. After taking three pictures of Tex with the fish, he took four of Andy. The real catch wasn't discovered until the pictures came back from the processing plant. Tom had had only three fish left in the camera. Andy is considering suing.

Annunciation Beats St. Paul By Pointe After Touchdown

Game Featured By Long Runs and Fancy Passes; Penalties Nullify Other Chances Flyers Have to Score Victory

The St. Paul Flyers dropped their second football game of the season by the margin of one point, 7 to 6, to Annunciation last Sunday September 25. It was the Flyers' initial start in league play.

The game was featured by some fancy runs and passes by both teams and penalties which kept both teams from registering bigger scores.

Coach Ed Lauer's Flyers were the first to threaten the opponents' 31 yard line and run it back to the 21. An end run by Berg netted another 10 yards to the 11, but Annunciation stalled the attack after Belanger cracked down on the pass.

Score on Pass
A heartbreaking holding penalty nullified a beautiful 50 yard run by Belanger. On the following play the Flyers scored on a well executed twenty yard pass from Berg to Marchand who raced the remaining thirty yards for the Flyers only score of the game. The conversion was no good and eventually meant the ball game as far as the Flyers were concerned.

Annunciation's winning marker came in the third period when Jollimore intercepted a Flyer pass on St. Paul's 37 yard line and ran it back to the 12.

On the first play from scrimmage Annunciation ran the ball to the 5 yard line but it was cancelled when Annunciation penalized 5 yards back to the 17 yard line. This setback delayed Annunciation goalward march just slightly, as on the next play it completed a pass to the Flyer's 8 yard line. Mullerin smashed over from that spot to tie the game up at 6-all.

Jollimore is Hero
Jollimore became the hero of the day when he ran the ball over for his team's winning point following the touchdown.

In the fourth period the Flyers fought back savagely but just fell short of scoring on two occasions. Once St. Paul was on the Cougar's 17 when it had a pass intercepted and the local lads were goalward bound as the result of two nice passes by Berg when the time ran out.

St. Paul tackles a tough, opponent next Sunday, October 2, when it meets a strong St. Charles team. Kickoff time is slated for 2:30 p.m., at the Neighborhood Club field.

Villanova College, in Detroit for a game with University of Detroit Sept. 30, defeated the Titans last year but had to bounce back from the longest touchdown run in collegiate ball for 1943 to gain the win. Wally Gruber had given Detroit a 6-0 lead on a run that covered 97 yards from scrimmage, but the Mainliners came back to score four times to wind up on the long end of a 27-6 score.

Christian Science Lecture by Robert Stanley Ross, C.S.B.

Given Under Auspices of the Christian Science Churches of Detroit, Mich., Thursday, Sept. 22, 1949

A Lecture
on Christian Science
Entitled
Christian Science: It Reveals Man's Dominion over Evil
by
Robert Stanley Ross, C.S.B. of New York, New York

Member of the Board of Lecturers of
The Mother Church, The First Church
Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

If you were to enter an unlighted room, you would probably feel a bit uncertain about your surroundings. Unable in the darkness to locate objects in the room, you might, in moving about, collide with them. But by turning on a light the uncertainty would disappear, the objects in the room would become plainly visible, and the danger of moving about would be gone.

To mankind as a whole, human experience is much like being in an unlighted room. Unable to see their way clearly in the uncertainty of material sense, men are fearful and believe themselves liable to disappointment and danger, sorrow and pain. But once they learn through the teaching of Mary Baker Eddy how to turn on the light of spiritual understanding, the darkness and uncertainty, the disappointment and danger, the sorrow and pain, begin to fade out of the mental picture. They begin to learn that human problems are not so much outward conditions to be struggled with, as they are unreal mental concepts to be dispelled by knowing the truth about God and His wholly good, wholly spiritual creation as recorded in the Scriptures.

In other words, students of Christian Science are learning that there is a sure and living way out of human want and woe. This way is the Christ-way, and was exemplified by Christ Jesus, who came to show that obedience to the law of God, based upon perfect God and perfect man, frees mankind from the supposed presence and power of evil. The Psalmist sang, "Great peace have they which love thy law: and nothing shall offend them."

Unity of Love and Law

Because the spirit of our time is peculiarly scientific, you can readily see how the appearing of practical or scientific religion was inevitable. It would come because a practically based religion was ready to receive it. Many years ago, I heard a speaker say that the world's social, political, and economic unrest would experience no lasting relief until the scientific demand, and the spiritual potency outside it, in a religion that is science and a science that is religion. In the light of healings already accomplished, there should be little room for doubt that this unity of science and religion is Christian Science, revealing the liberating law of God, infinite good, even that law to which Paul refers in the words, "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

Into the very consciousness of modern times is woven this idea of law, and by law we persons obey to the fixed rules that under certain conditions particular results will be brought about in a particular way. Law signifies also that nothing occurs without a cause and that a given cause will always produce a given effect. Law means mode of action; presupposing some potency outside itself. It indicates the way in which the potency may be expected to manifest itself.

However, there are some persons, religious and otherwise, who object to Christian Science because its teaching and practice are based upon fixed rules. They argue that they highly prize their right to think and act independently of rules of any sort. But, my friends, let us consider, for example, how this line of reasoning would work out with reference to the science of numbers. Would those same persons object to the fixed rule that two times two makes four, instead of five, seven, nine, or whatever else they might find it convenient to believe? Does "two times two makes four" prevent originality of thought, circumscribe one's freedom of action, or make one the automaton of a system? I need not tell you that such reasoning would only lead to chaos and confusion. Similarly, the fear, sickness, and self-indulgence that seem to be so rampant in the present-day world are the result of a material, scientific thinking instead of thinking that is in accord with undeviating divine Principle.

There are other persons who hesitate about embracing Christian Science because they fear that it would deprive them of things which they would like to have and do. But let me assure you that Christian Science is not a dour, drab, colorless religion. It is not a religion of negations and inhibitions. On the contrary, Christian Science shows one how to grapple with and successfully overcome the wrong thinking or material-mindedness which alone leads to sickness and unhappiness, frustration and failure. To be sure, Christian Science is exacting in much the same way that mathematics is exacting, but who ever heard of obedience to mathematical law depriving one of anything but the discord and confusion due to numerical mistakes? Obedience to spiritual law is not bondage, but liberty—a truth which holds good throughout the entire realm of legitimate human endeavor.

Some time ago, for example, a fearful mother attended a lecture on Christian Science. She had left her small child at home on account of an illness that had resisted all efforts to overcome it. She said the situation had then become desperate. Among other stimulating things, she heard the lecturer say that parents needed to give their loved ones to God—that is, they needed to surrender the belief that man, God's idea, is a material person either sick or well, or that he is at war on land, at sea, or up in the air, but that he is—in God's likeness always incorporeal, always spiritual, hence always safe in the "secret place of the most High," the awareness of the divine ever-presence, or the kingdom of heaven. Later, the mother said that she had hurried home, only to hurry back to report with joy and gratitude that she had found the child well. Was not this convincing proof that Christian Science is scientific and demonstrable?

Discovery and Discoverer

Now, the Bible (the New Testament in particular) teaches Christianity implicitly but not explicitly, in general, but in the particular. Had the reverse been the case, the art of Christian healing need not have been lost to the world for so many centuries. However, in accordance with prophetic expectation, the full and explicit revelation of Christian Science made its appearance in the latter half of the nineteenth century. It came by way of the only person who was spiritually prepared to receive as well as to expound it. That person was Mary Baker Eddy, the beloved Discoverer of Christian Science and author of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

To those of you who may be unacquainted with her background, let me say that Mrs. Eddy was born of an illustrious ancestry. She spent her childhood and youth in a home that was permeated by high moral and spiritual ideals. She grew to womanhood in an atmosphere that pulsated with political independence and freedom of thought. Inevitably, these exalting influences helped to mold the character and direct the career of the coming Discoverer of Christian Science. Endowed with keen intellectual ability and impelled by an intense spiritual longing, trained in the school of adversity and purified in the furnace of affliction—all of these influences helped to prepare Mary Baker Eddy for the reception of what she later referred to as the "final revelation of the absolute divine Principle of scientific mental healing."

By referring to the closing chapter of Mrs. Eddy's notable book, as well as to the Christian Science text (weekly) and The Christian Science Journal (monthly), you will find authenticated testimonies by persons from nearly every walk of life who were healed by Christian Science after either material medicine, or humanly mental methods, or both, had proved to be inadequate. In view of these and other benefits which have accrued to them through her teaching and example, should anyone wonder why the hearts of Christian Scientists overflow with gratitude to this great woman? Christian Scientists neither deify nor worship Mrs. Eddy; but they do reverently accord her the honor that is rightly due her as the Discoverer of Christian Science and Leader of the benevolent, world-wide movement which she established. Would any fair-minded person have them do otherwise?

Through her rare spiritual insight, Mrs. Eddy has given to mankind the true interpretation of Jesus' teaching. She has defined the nature of God and man as divine Principle and divine idea. She has established the Church of Christ, Scientist, on the demonstration of Love's healing and saving power. With extraordinary wisdom, she has ordained the Bible and the Christian Science textbook as the only pastors of the Christian Science denomination, thereby skillfully avoiding the pitfalls of conflicting opinion and personal interpretation and clearing the way for the reign and rule of world-wide, unified Christian endeavor. Writing on page 35 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy says: "Our church is built on the divine Principle of Love. We can unite with this church only as we are new-born of Spirit, as we reach the Life which is Truth and the Truth which is Life by bringing forth 'the fruits of Love—casting out error and healing the sick.'"

God Is Good

According to Christian Science, Jesus came to teach mankind that God, the divine Principle of being, is changeless Love; that God's will in behalf of His creation is therefore invariably good; and that the only way to prove that to be true is by freeing ourselves and others from the fears, discords, and other limitations of so-called material sense. Baffled by the seeming prevalence of evil, however, the world, taken as a whole, has sought to explain its existence by assuming that it either proceeds from God, or is permitted by Him. This tragic mistake has tended to shut out the hope that salvation includes freedom from bodily suffering, here as well as hereafter. But Jesus not only said that Christians should heal the sick as he did, but he said that their ability to do so would be the measure of their Christian discipleship.

Pointing to the scientific nature of this healing and saving power, the Master said, "If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." According to this statement, there was to be nothing mysterious nor supernatural about Christian healing. On the contrary, it was to be the natural and inevitable effect of understanding the truth about God and man—the truth that existence is spiritual, harmonious, and changeless. Instead of teaching that the only way to be thoroughly happy was to be thoroughly dead, Jesus taught his students to exercise now man's divine right of dominion over the mesmeric belief of existence apart from God. When he said, "The kingdom of God is within you," Jesus indicated plainly that heaven or harmony was not a place to be entered through the doorway of death (the Bible refers to death as an enemy), but by habitually acknowledging the omnipresence of God, who is infinite Life and Truth and Love, and of man as an omnipresent idea. Is not this true prayer?

If, for example, you had a mine from which you could at will procure precious gold, you would not pray for gold. Instead, you would confidently help yourself to that which you know is already yours in abundance. Similarly, the Christian Scientist does not petition God for what the infinite good has already bestowed upon the infinite idea, or divine likeness. In the words of the parable, so graphically employed by Jesus, Christian Science declares that the divine Principle is saying to all of us all the time, whether we are aware of it or not, "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." Therefore, the Christian Scientist's prayer of petition and affirmation is for the humility, wisdom, and love that will enable him to throw off the sense-dream of both pleasure and pain in matter—and to rejoice over spiritual man's oneness with God, infinite good.

Love the Enlightener

When I was a child, I learned a lesson that has stayed with me throughout the years. To a town in an adjoining State came a man and a woman, nearly everyone in the local gossip began to weave fantastic tales about them. When either of the newcomers passed by, housewives would not uncommonly elicit tiptoe to their front doorsteps to whisper their conversations, or carry on over back-yard fences. Children became so frightened by what they heard their elders say that they would move well out of the way whenever the new neighbors approached.

One night, however, disaster vented itself upon that community, and the need for volunteers to help the sick, the injured, and the sorrowing was great. Among the first to respond were the stranger and his wife. With little consideration for their own interests, they provided food and shelter for many of the homeless, and worked day and night to aid and comfort others. All this unselfish service quickly compelled the neighborhood to recognize that they had permitted prejudice and intolerance to separate them from two inoffensive, noble-minded, lovable persons. About a year later, the community honored that man and that woman by acclaiming them publicly as two of the town's most useful and most respected citizens.

Similarly, owing to blinding prejudice born mainly of religious and medical intolerance, mankind has permitted itself to be deprived of the blessings which attend the understanding of God's true nature and purpose. Through the teaching of Christian Science, however, we are beginning to know Him aright—in being controlled by fear, ignorant, superstitious beliefs in Christian Science about divine law. Accordingly, in the very midst of all this, he began to assure himself that he was not in the least afraid, that in the initial of good there was no fear, nothing to be afraid of, and no one susceptible to fear nor any other frailty; that no circumstance, however threatening, could becloud his thinking nor prevent him from invoking in his own behalf the law of infinite Spirit or omnipresent good. Again and again, he prayerfully acknowledged that, although to personal sense he was in the wrong place, in fact and in truth he was in his right place—that is, in the presence of an all-wise, all-powerful, ever-present good. Quickly the fear subsided, his body relaxed, and he was able to work his way back to the floor above. Like Paul, he had learned that supposed physical conditions could be changed by the renewing of the mind, or spiritual understanding.

Unreality of Evil

Now, the Bible tells us that God, infinite good, created man in His own image and likeness, thereby endowing His infinite idea with dominion over all the earth—that is, over the entire belief in a material or suppositional sense of existence. But, are you acquainted with anyone who is adequately experiencing this divine dominion? Instead, do you not find that most persons are still the more or less helpless victims of fear and worry, wrongdoing and sickness, and want and woe? Why? Simply because most persons still believe in the reality of the unreal; they still believe that there can be something else, in addition to, or besides the all-presence and all-power of God, good. This belief in the reality of matter or material sense means bondage to an unreal master—bondage to that which has no part in one's life in error's false claim to be mind opposed to God, infinite good.

Scanning recently the headlines of a metropolitan newspaper, I came upon an item which especially arrested my attention. It said that in a particular American city a man became the victim of convulsions while at his place of business. Solicitous friends had him hurried to a local hospital, where he haltingly told attendants that, during the preceding night, he had swallowed while asleep a bridge of artificial teeth. Although the hospital authorities assured him—following an X-ray examination—that there were no teeth in his stomach, the convulsions continued. An hour or two later, however, the man's wife appeared with the news that she had found the teeth at home where her husband must have left them the night before. This announcement quickly dispelled the man's fear; whereupon the convulsions ceased. Soon, he and his wife were happily on their way home.

Now, I ask you, was that man suffering from anything real or true? Was he the victim of teeth in his stomach? Of course not! The suffering was entirely and erroneously believed to be real because of the belief that something had occurred which had not occurred. Consequently, from the moment he learned that the teeth were at home instead of where he believed them to be, he was healed. Again, I ask you, what would have been the use of teaching that man, by any method, for teeth in his stomach? Obviously, it was not a physical condition that needed to be healed, but a fearful belief that needed to be dispelled. And it was dispelled by the wife's assuring announcement.

Similarly, Christian Science has come to show, on the one hand, that all mortals are the victims in one form or another of the world-wide belief—claiming the status of reality—that divine Mind's idea is a material person, living in a material world, and subject to material law. It has come to show that, owing to this deep-rooted, traditional, and heretofore unchallenged belief, men have involved themselves in a finite, personal, bodily sense of existence. This involvement has disintegrated them of that dominion over material sense which the divine Principle, God, bestows upon the infinite idea, the spiritual idea, or divine likeness. It has come to show, on the other hand, that this compound completely satisfied, perfect idea is already immortal, at one with infinite Mind, subject only to divine law. Hence, the Christian Scientist's prayer of petition and affirmation is for the humility, wisdom, and love that will enable him to throw off the sense-dream of both pleasure and pain in matter—and to rejoice over spiritual man's oneness with God, infinite good.

Divine Law Always Available

No doubt many of you can recall trials, disappointments, and failures which seemed to be utterly beyond your ability to overcome. This is because those experiences were in accord with divine law. Was it because they were inevitable? No; it was due in part to human ignorance of the fluctuating nature of all material conditions, whether classified as matter or mind. It was due in part, also, to human ignorance of the Science which would have enabled you to cope successfully with those humanly mental conditions by invoking the law of harmony or ever-present good. This law of infinite substance, omnipresent Spirit, or all-pervading Love, is universal in its scope and application. Although not yet generally understood, it has always been available to everyone, at all times, and under all circumstances.

For example: Several years ago, a friend of mine decided to build a week-end house at a wooded spot several miles from his home and business. During the building process, he made frequent trips to the site in order to see that the work was being done according to plan. One of these trips occurred later than usual, after the workmen had quit for the day. The owner thereupon found himself alone in the unfinished house. While walking about in the semidarkness, the end of a loose plank gave way and let him down into a large open central-heating grate. The woman by whom the house was being built, which the plank was supposed to be safely covering. In every way, the predicament seemed so desperate that my friend became very much afraid. But the more he feared, the more he realized that he was in the predicament. Soon, he was unable to move.

After several minutes of this self-mesmerism of fear and helplessness, my friend concluded that it was high time for him to put into practice what he had learned in Christian Science about divine law. Accordingly, in the very midst of all this, he began to assure himself that he was not in the least afraid, that in the initial of good there was no fear, nothing to be afraid of, and no one susceptible to fear nor any other frailty; that no circumstance, however threatening, could becloud his thinking nor prevent him from invoking in his own behalf the law of infinite Spirit or omnipresent good. Again and again, he prayerfully acknowledged that, although to personal sense he was in the wrong place, in fact and in truth he was in his right place—that is, in the presence of an all-wise, all-powerful, ever-present good. Quickly the fear subsided, his body relaxed, and he was able to work his way back to the floor above. Like Paul, he had learned that supposed physical conditions could be changed by the renewing of the mind, or spiritual understanding.

According to appearance, of course, the material universe includes innumerable persons and things, all of which are supposed to exist quite apart from one's own mentality or consciousness. However, the teaching of Christian Science is making it clear that without human mentality or consciousness there would be to one no material universe, no personal sense of existence, no problems. This doctrine declares that whoever and wherever play a part in one's life is one's own exclusive mental experience. Accordingly, it is in the realm of belief, mentality, or consciousness that one's problems must be solved. We need to keep this clearly in view when we investigate the nature of Christian Science practice; for how, otherwise, could we naturally expect a spiritually mental treatment to change anything? Does spiritual understanding launch forth into space and come to grips with material persons, circumstances, and things? No; spiritual understanding, and things, false concepts and reveals the true view of the spiritual universe, including man.

Changeable Conditions

We know, for example, that a moving picture could not be changed by doing something to what we see on the screen. Why? Because, what we see on the screen is not cause but effect. To be sure, the picture could be changed, but only by going to the cause, which would be the film itself. Similarly, what seem to be material conditions, whether they be what we call the material body, or what we call concepts of suppositional mortal mind, and finite concepts are changed only through the recognition and acceptance of the one infinite Mind and its reflection.

To illustrate, only recently a successful saleswoman who was working on a commission basis found her receipts steadily falling off. Upon prayerful investigation, she learned that others in her department had become resentful because so many more patrons had turned to her than to them. The outcome was that they were enviously leagued against her. Now, this particular saleswoman was a wide-awake Christian Scientist. She therefore methodically analyzed the situation and came to the conclusion that only through thought or mentality could she be aware of this or any other circumstance. She saw also that the only way a humanly mental problem could be solved was by spiritually mental means—that is, by invoking divine law, the law based upon perfect God and perfect man, upon perfect Principle and perfect idea.

Accordingly, instead of going to her fellow workers in person to change their attitude towards her, she began to change her mental attitude towards them by declaring to herself that there was one infinite Mind and its universe of spiritual ideas, and that this infinite, spiritual compound, complete, and fully satisfied idea was the truth about man. Instead of the suggestion calling for mental warring minds and persons many, the effect of this scientific, right knowing was impressive; for soon thereafter receipts from her own sales began to pick up, the other salesfolk became busier than heretofore, and the atmosphere of the entire department changed from discord to harmony. She had demonstrated in human experience that God's ideas are not competitive, but co-operative.

Material conditions being basically mortal and subject to change, the Christian Scientist shows that material conditions can be changed to the extent that one's finite concept or mental outlook changes from matter to Spirit from belief in minds to belief in understanding, and from the oneness of finite Mind and its infinite manifestation or universe of spiritual ideas. Although unrecognized generally, this illuminating, healing, liberating truth is as applicable to one's sense of community, country, and world as it is to one's sense of body, home, and occupation.

Plainly, therefore, the solution of human problems, whether separate or collective, is not accomplished outwardly, but inwardly—in the secret place of consciousness—through individual communion with God, the infinite Mind, to whom there are no minds, persons, nor problems many, but only God and His infinite spiritual manifestation. Evidently, Jesus meant this; for he said that the kingdom of heaven is not a locality, but an individual, spiritual state of consciousness. And, evidently, Mrs. Eddy means this in her Message to The Mother Church for 1901, where she writes (p. 20), "The Christian Scientist is alone with his own being and with the reality of things."

Limiting Beliefs Dispelled

Had supposed material conditions been other than mental, Jesus could not have exercised his dominion over them by spiritual means. But because all such conditions, including war, are primarily mental, the scientific spiritualization of one's thought will eliminate them and their effects from one's consciousness and, therefore, from one's experience, irrespective of what others may continue to experience. In other words, man's dominion over the belief in discord and limitation, whatever its particular manifestation may be, is a spiritual fact which each one is privileged to demonstrate by invoking the law of infinite Spirit or ever-present good.

To illustrate: Several years ago, a friend of mine decided to provide a rectangular play yard for his dog. The play yard was to be surrounded by heavy wire mesh, and the wire was to be supported by wedge-like iron posts driven deep into the ground. Because the fencing had to be both joined up at the meeting place and bound to the several posts, the builder unthinkingly went inside the enclosure and, with the aid of pliers and binding-wire, made everything fast. Having now completed his work, the builder looked about and, much to his own embarrassment, found that he had made no provision for getting out of the enclosure. He found that he had imprisoned himself in his own creation. The outcome was that he had to call for a stepladder in order to get out of his self-imposed predicament.

Later on, this incident enabled a student of Christian Science to understand clearly how material belief first accepts and then inevitably finds itself the victim of the very discords and limitations which it unwittingly imposes upon itself. He saw also that in order to be free from self-imposed limitations, the human mind must appeal to the divine law for help. Referring to this self-imposition, Mrs. Eddy says on page 251 of Science and Health, "Inharmonious beliefs, which rob Mind, calling it matter, and deify their own notions, imprison themselves in what they create."

The Apostle Paul writes, "Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law." Obviously, the apostle is here referring to those who believe themselves to be one of many persons living in a material world and subject to the fear, discord, and limitation inseparable from that belief. But Christian Science comes to show that we are under no such law, but under grace, which is the law of God, infinite good. It comes to show that infinite Mind expresses itself individually as infinite idea and that this individual expression or idea is the truth about you and me and all. To recognize, claim, and live this immeasurable idea as your true, spiritual, individual self means the utilization of divine law. It means freedom from bondage to material sense. It means the demonstration of man's dominion over evil.

Conclusion

And so, notwithstanding the imprisoning, beclouding, and restricting parables before thought and calling themselves time and space, latitude and longitude, heat and cold, war and bloodshed, disaster and death, there truly exists only the atmosphere of Love, the kingdom of heaven, the realm of infinite Mind. Therefore, in order to have peace and unity within and without, at home and abroad, we need spiritual enlightenment; we need to invoke the liberating law of measureless Mind; we need to remind ourselves frequently that the mesmerism of finite sense cannot hide from us the fact that God is omnipresent and that only limitless Love is occurring anywhere at any time. Writing on page 14 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy says, "Entirely separate from the belief and dream of material living, is the Life divine, revealing spiritual understanding and the consciousness of man's dominion over the whole earth."

Learn Spanish the Pointe Way

Want to speak Spanish? Learn to read seven sentences and you have learned Spanish pronunciation. A 12-year-old can be taught to do it in an hour, and an adult in about 30 minutes; so says Clarence V. McGuire, former motor executive who took up Spanish teaching as a hobby and developed the Grosse-Pointe method, now nationally known.

While Mr. McGuire's evening classes which start at Grosse Pointe High School October 6 are favored by business executives and professional men, they usually include people from all walks of life and of all ages, there being no educational requirements nor age limits. The seven sentences? Dealing with such widely diversified items as razor blades, donkeys and your daily mail, they contain every sound and combination of sounds in Spanish, and having learned to read them smoothly no Spanish word need puzzle you thereafter.

Some idea of the speed maintained in the classes may be gained from the fact that while some textbooks allot 25 or more pages to Spanish phonetics, the subject is taught in a half hour by McGuire and his assistant, Mrs. Gertrude James. And the method is easy, too. Verbs and verb forms are the nightmare of language students, but in the Grosse-Pointe classes they are taught at the rate of a tense in four minutes without home study. (It is all done in the classroom.)

Rules of grammar are almost universally hated by everyone but textbook authors. In the classes at Grosse Pointe they are taught by simple conversational exercises, and there is a new educational "twist" to make things doubly easy for the student. Spanish and English sentences are printed in opposed columns, so you don't have to waste time looking up words. An "inflectograph," used in the classes, is a gimmick invented by McGuire, who is himself an inventor associated with various rubber and shoe factories.

Audio-visual instruction now is being introduced in the classes and is of special value in rapidly expanding the speaking vocabularies of the students.

With drudgery almost wholly eliminated and a friendly atmosphere prevailing in the classes, the grown-ups find that learning Spanish can be a lot of fun.

Until you've experienced the silent, gliding restfulness of this roomy Packard—you're just not up-to-date on fine car comforts!

Packard calls it the "Limousine Ride," because many of its advancements were first developed for the magnificent Packard Limousine. But the first and foremost secret of its superiority lies in Packard's costly "self-controlling" suspension system.

"Self-controlling" means it compensates automatically for changes in load and road. "Self-controlling" means it combines leveling smoothness with firm, level-keeled roadability. "Self-controlling" means it won't develop "baby-buggy bounce" in its later years!

Mary Garden's Lecture Oct. 5

Mary Garden, whose career was as spectacular as the Roaring '20s in which she performed, will open her first American coast to coast speaking tour at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, October 5, at 11 o'clock. The former opera star, at one time the highest paid singing actress in the world, will talk at the Fisher Theatre. Miss Garden has been in retirement in her native Scotland for ten years. She was persuaded to return to the scenes of past triumphs by Carleton Smith, director of the National Arts Foundation, and is scheduled to reach New York Sept. 27, arriving in Detroit the day before her Town Hall appearance.

Garden's singing career covered 30 years, beginning in Paris when she was 19. She sang for 20 years in Chicago where she became the first woman director of a major opera company. Her most prominent roles were as Melisande, Sappho, Thais, Marguerite, Carmen, and Salome. All Paris was at her feet. Once, after a performance of "Aphrodite," King Edward VII called on her in her dressing room.

"Salome" is rated as the Diva's greatest role, and was so daring that it involved her with the police of a half-dozen cities. She kept herself before the public continually, one vehicle used being "Mona Vanna," an opera said by some to be "shocking."

Now 72, Miss Garden hopes to revitalize opera, and to encourage young singers

Hospital Guild Party October 5

The Marine Hospital Guild will hold its annual party at 1:30 p.m. on October 5 in the Nurses' home of the hospital. The event will be a dessert bridge party. Proceeds will be used for the many projects which the guild carries on for the benefit of the hospital patients, many of whom are war veterans.

One of the costs the guild assumes is maintaining the more than 125 radios and television sets which it has obtained for the patients.

Mrs. Paula Mark of Mapleton road is chairman of the event, and her co-chairman Ruth Bowser of Kenwood court. Mrs. Helen Rosier of Lincoln road is secretary. Local merchants have donated prizes for the party. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Mark at TUxedo 1-3444.

GROSSE POINTE UNIT 303

By Doris Nielsen

What an installation! I have been to all of Grosse Pointe's installations but this one topped them all with an attendance of 180 people. Though we were kinda cramped for space, the Past Districts Presidents Installation Team did a wonderful job and Nell together with her newly installed officers wish to thank Elva Nielsen and her team for a job well done.

We were most happy and proud to have President-elect Elda Giberson, 1st vice-president-elect Helen Sitter and 2nd vice-president-elect Viola Starkey with us. These girls, together with the many other dignitaries present, helped make our evening an important one.

Our thanks to Hildegard Korff and Danny Hamilton for the beautiful singing they both did.

It sure did my heart good to see so many of our old members present and so many people from the other posts and units. I heard many favorable comments on our being so lucky as to be able to meet at the War Memorial Center. Maybe some of our old members will return, hm?

On our sick list we have Neuma Wilson who has been in Marine Hospital for some time. I heard about it just too late to make last week's news, so let's get busy and send those sick cards, how about it?

Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. "Tony" Koinis who lost her mother, Mrs. Saros, on September 16.

Guess that's all for now except a reminder to keep that October 27th date open. I promise you won't be sorry.

Hickey Opens Nash Agency

Mike Hickey, one of Detroit's popular young men of the motor industry is this week announcing his new Nash Agency for the Grosse Pointe area.

The new firm, Mike Hickey, Inc., is at 14811 Kercheval, near Ashland, and succeeds the former Grosse Pointe Nash Company of the same location. Its staff includes Charlie Rennie as manager of service and R. J. Rennie as head of used cars.

Mr. Hickey, formerly in the firm of Hickey-Seymour, stresses that the company will feature the kind of service that keeps the public's confidence. "I'm proud," he says, "of two things—quality in workmanship and the fine cars we sell, for there is more value per inch in today's Airlight 'Statesman' or 'Ambassador' Nash cars than in any cars our firm has built in its 46 years of fine car manufacture."

ADVERTISEMENT Storage Building and Alterations to Present Municipal Garage

Grosse Pointe Park, Mich. Notice to Contractors: Sealed proposals will be received by the Village Clerk in the Municipal Building, 15115 E. Jefferson Avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, 30, Michigan, up to 1 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, on October 10, 1949, for the construction of a storage building for pick-up trucks, and alterations to the present municipal garage. Immediately thereafter they will be publicly opened and read.

The proposed storage building and the municipal garage to be altered will both be located on Maryland Avenue immediately north of the present fire department building. The proposal and contract forms and the plans and specifications under which the work will be done are on file and may be examined and obtained at the office of the Building Inspector, Municipal Building, 15115 E. Jefferson Avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, 30, Michigan, or in the office of Ralph A. Main, Consulting Engineer, 320 Wabek Building, Birmingham, Michigan. A certified check or a satisfactory bidder's bond for a sum of not less than 5% of the amount of the proposal will be required with each proposal.

The Village of Grosse Pointe Park reserves the right to waive any informality in any bid, to accept any bid, or to reject any or all bids, should it be deemed for its best interests to do so. Village of Grosse Pointe Park, Everitt B. Lane, Municipal Manager.

Local Plymouth Dealers Sponsor Grid Broadcasts

Local Plymouth Dealers are sponsoring the U. of M. football game radio broadcasts over station WWJ. Ty Tyson—the mid-west's famous sports announcer—will preside at all nine games—at home and away. All Plymouth Dealers are distributing free football schedules that include Big Ten and local team games plus seating diagrams of U. of M. U. of D., Michigan State and Briggs Stadium.

The Plymouth Dealers are also sponsoring a 15-minute "Football Lineup" television show over WXYZ, preceding the National Football League "Game of the Week". Lyall Smith, sports editor of the Detroit Free Press, and Fred Wolfe, will discuss events with sports celebrities.

FAMOUS BY-LINES

In the current Vogue former Pointer FAY CAULKINS, daughter of Mrs. L. H. Stevens and Dan Platt Caulkins, shares her European travel with you all in an article entitled, "France in the Eyes of the Young." Pretty picture of Fay and her traveling companion, PAYNE PAYSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, accompanies the reverie.

WE VOTE FOR:

MRS. TIEDEMAN'S Jawhja accent . . . her trim waist-line . . . and the head hugging black velvet Juliet she's wearing this Autumn . . .

The way the CHARLES HEWITT BROWNS spared their daughter's new father-in-law, New York District Attorney JOHN F. X. McGOHEY any reference to the trying and important role he's playing at the communist trials in New York City. Their efforts made it possible for him to enjoy his son Tom's wedding.

THE NEW SQUARE WEDDING CAKES which are appearing at the fashionable receptions . . . DEEDEE DWYER FOX had one of the first . . .

MRS. FREDERICK S. FORD JR's imagination . . . and the way she built a chapeau as background for two stunningly plumaged birds fresh from Paris . . .

MRS. JAMES J. PHELAN JR's slim ankles . . . and the twinkle in her blue eyes . . .

MRS. WILLIAM H. FRIES' message of welcome opening the recent Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Show . . .

"Nowadays, it's not much of a compliment to tell a girl she looks like a million dollars" . . . Tom Clifford.

"Whether by design or accident, the fact remains that, with one small exception, no girl with a fancy Christian name has ever diverted the eye of a President of the United States to the matrimonial altar" . . . Critic George Jean Nathan.

"I've been from Banff to Painted Post,
From Harrisburg to Monterey,
From Cedarhurst to San Jose,
From Santa Cruz to Valley Forge
And yet on all my witless way,
I've never called a waiter 'George'."
—F. F. Adams.

"Here lies John Knott:
His father was Knott before him,
He lived Knott, died Knott,
Yet underneath this stone doth lie
Knott christened, Knott begot,
And here he lies and still is Knott."
—Epitaph in a Perthshire Churchyard.

"Yc I'd take my chance with fame,
Calmly let it go at that,
With the right to sign my name
'Casey at the Bat'."
—Grantland Rice.

"The same old charitable lie
Repeated as the years scoot by Perpetually makes a hit—
'You really haven't changed a bit!'"
—Margaret Fishback.

"I think that I shall never see
A Billboard lovely as a tree.
Perhaps, unless the billboards fall,
I'll never see a tree at all."
—Ogden Nash.

Kid Bits

By JANET GREGORY

A "super-de-luxe" Senior Prom is in store for G. P. H. seniors with Wayne Peterson, Dan Man-son, Judy Nellis and Leroy Pegg-lenski leading the way. These new 12B officers deserve hearty congratulations.

"Surprise!!! Happy Birthday". These were just a few of the comments heard flying around the Kihen household Saturday night when Ann Purdy and Elaine gave Ann Busby and Sally Horn a sweet sixteen sendoff. Watching Ann and Sally blow out the candles were Barb Westcott, Joan Hollister, Joanie Johnson, Margaret Foote, Elaine Otto, Bambi Wigton, Diana Nylund, Jane Rippe, Marcia Boothe, Carol Kretschmar, Bev Fairchild, Gail DeGurse, Peggy Fisher and Joan Merrill.

Friday night's football game at Ferndale won't be forgotten by its many Pointe spectators. Watching the Blue Devils pull through for a 12-7 victory were Jim Rogers and Mary Hodges, George Turnbull and Carolyn Hahn, Larry Schwartz and Barb Westcott, Bob Platt and Barb Drinkhaus, Harold St. Peter, Roy Vandekerchove, Dave Hamilton, Lu Neeb, Joyce Danneker, Katy Nebel, Donna Hendrikowski, Marian Ortol and Bob Peters, Johnny Mack and Janet Joyce, Maryanne Schmidt and Jerry Strek, Terry Donahue and Ginny Hitt.

More loyal Pointers included Margaret Weaver, Trudie Klie-man, Janet Ratcliffe, Barb Tur-rel, Alden Edgar, Jim Leszynski, Dick Rydberg, Ted Shannon and Judy Brenner, Bruce Johnson and Jean Morrison, Bob Hafers and Joyce Shepard, Betsy Huette and Don Striker, Judy MacMahon and Brenton Fuger, John Drake and Sally McKeirnan, Alice James, Fanny Townsend, Mollie Murphy, Robbie Roberts and Marilyn Brown.

Slumber parties seem to be the thing after night football games. Following this idea was JUDY RICHARDSON who invited Mary Ellen Hiener, Carolyn Smith, Sally Mehrer, Diane Schleicher, Sally Shepler, Maggie Madigan, Joan Abrash, Janet Weinheimer and Marlene Houchen over for an all night session.

Another gal with the same plans was MARGIE WALLING. On her list were Kathy McCormick, Joanie Mohr, Marilyn Wyckoff and Betsy Huette.

Over Middlesex way Ann Carter opened her doors to Jim Davison, Sallie Lemon, Bill Ty-son, Joanie Smitters and Bob An-derson Saturday nite. Also in-cluded in ANN's "get-together" were Greachen Becker, Bob Kopf, Pat Barrett, Turill Clark, Jane Lundgren, Mickey Rosen, Herb Abrash, Don Becker and Mick Share.

Don't forget this Saturday's big event "The Kickoff" . . . the first S. A. dance of the semester. (Skirts and sweaters for the gals.) Suzie Martin and Kenny Rice, co-chairmen, are prophesying a swell turnout, so let's not disappoint them.

MRS. MILLARD A. BROWN OF WASHINGTON ROAD

That significant timing bell on the oven rang out as we talked to Mrs. Millard A. Brown this week about the four blue ribbons her baking brought at the recent Michigan State Fair. Mrs. Brown had a cobler baking for dinner.

Baking cakes and pies have been Mrs. Brown's hobby since she was an eight year old back in Albany, Kentucky. While her contemporaries were still in the "licking the bowl" stage of cake baking Mrs. Brown was plumb-ing the mysteries of a Lady Washington Cake, chosen because it looked by far the most elaborate and elegant in the whole cook book.

But in her haste, the young baker pushed too hard when she put her cake in the oven. Spilled batter resulted. Naturally the house was filled with the unhappy fragrance of burning batter and the oven had to have such a scrubbing her family renamed the burnt offering and called it (all too frequently) their daughter's "Lady Wash The Stove Cake."

Well, it's not like that now. As we said, the oven timing bell rings out, and maybe the Pointer of Interest will excuse herself once during the interview to make sure all is browning well, but now baker and family k-n-o-w the result will be perfection.

Consumer Demand
If Mrs. Brown's own enthusiasm didn't run to baking cakes, she'd be doing it, by persuasion of her family which includes Mr.

Brown, a retired inspector of the Detroit Police Department (one of the earliest officers to be attached to the radio division of the department), a daughter, Doris, who is an X-Ray technician at Grace Hospital, and son Don, who just left for Harvard where he'll work on his master's degree. The Harvard term is a scholarship for that young man's impressive grades.

There's Doris's wife, who'll be with him during their Cambridge residence, and she shares her new family's appreciation of Mrs. Brown's cakes and pies and cobblers.

In small towns the County Fair comes into its own. Everyone takes part and takes an active part.

Thus it was that Mrs. Brown as a young girl listened to neighbors and her mother's friends talking about their Blue Ribbons. She decided she'd try her luck and for three consecutive years she captured top honors for her apple jelly.

First Prize

Back in 1939 Mrs. Brown entered her first Michigan State Fair. Those entries were rewarded with blue ribbons for a jelly roll and a white cake. But then the war intervened and the 1949 Fair was the first one in which she found time to compete.

10 Years Old Woods Church

Marking the tenth year since its inception, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will be the scene of a festive service Sunday morning, Oct. 2, at 11 a.m. Dr. Joseph A. Vance, author of "The Upward Way" and for many years pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will preach the anniversary sermon.

Prior to this an all-congregational observance of the anniversary will be held on the evening of Friday, September 30. At this time, special recognition is to be given the 48 families who initiated first services in Mason School auditorium. Around this nucleus has been built the present congregation of 112 members and over 700 Sunday School children, meeting now in the recently completed church unit on Mack and Torrey road.

The evening will feature the presentation of the church's history, written and read by Alois A. Ghesquiere. Greetings will be brought from the parent church, Grosse Pointe Memorial, also from the Detroit Presbytery.

In charge of arrangements are Marshall Jamieson, James Alexis, Robert Smith, Mrs. John Easton and the Reverend Andrew Raith.

Blue ribbons and a gold trophy went to Mrs. Brown's doughnuts (once she and a friend fried 360 of them for a skating party); a silver cake, a graham cracker pie and an upside down cake.

The day she baked the cakes and had them all frosted, ready for the Fair, she set out alone for the drive across town. On beds of folded newspapers she carefully set the cakes on the car's back seat and then a fearful storm came up. She pulled the car into the garage, waited until the rain stopped and then the cakes were driven in state to the Home Arts Building.

Jitters Gone

When she has an entry trying, Mrs. Brown likes to visit the cake room at the fair all by herself—just to see how she did. She isn't as jittery now at prize time as she used to be.

The prize winner is an indefatigable reader of recipes. Searches magazines, newspapers and cook books for them. Once she finds the new recipe, she improvises to make it her own and then tries it on her delighted family. They meet about 30 new cakes or pies a year and call for more.

Her hobby is keeping her busy on two new enterprises at the moment. She's "re-doing" her cook books and she's having a special shelf built to hold her new gold trophy.

She combines a natural gift for baking with a preference for vegetable shortening in her cakes and usually puts ingredients together by hand rather than by an electric mixer. She likes to make butter cakes better than the sponge variety and thoroughly enjoys the intricate but effective icing job.

We persuaded Mrs. Brown to share with Grosse Pointe News readers the recipes of the four cakes which brought her ribbons at the Fair this year. You'll find them elsewhere on this page.

Mrs. Millard A. Brown's Prize Recipes

DOUGHNUTS
4 c. sifted all purpose flour
1/2 teasp. mace
1 1/4 teasp. salt
1 teasp. soda
2 T. vegetable shortening
1/2 teasp. nutmeg
1/4 teasp. cinnamon
1/2 teasp. cream of tartar
1/4 c. sugar
4 egg yolks (well beaten)
1 c. thick, sour milk
Sift flour, spices, salt, soda and cream of tartar together three times. Cream shortening and sugar until well blended and add egg yolks. Mix well. Add milk and mix thoroughly. Add sifted flour and dry ingredients and mix until smooth, with as little handling as possible. Roll dough on floured board to 3/8 inch thickness. Let dough stand 20 minutes (this is important). Cut with 3 inch doughnut cutter. Fry in deep shortening (350 degrees) until brown, turning when first crack appears. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes 2 dozen.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST
1 1/2 c. graham cracker crumbs
1/2 c. powdered sugar
scant 1/2 c. sugar
Crush graham crackers and mix with butter. Pat mixture into pie pan. Place in refrigerator. Allow to stand for several hours and then fill with lemon chiffon filling and chill again. (This is Mrs. Brown's son's favorite!)

SILVER CAKE
2/3 c. vegetable shortening
1 teasp. vanilla
2 1/4 c. sifted cake flour
1/2 c. milk
1 teasp. salt
1 1/2 c. sugar
1/4 teasp. almond extract
2 1/2 teasp. baking powder
4 egg yolks
1/4 teasp. cream of tartar
Cream shortening, add sugar, one fourth cup at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flavorings and beat until light and fluffy. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, beating until smooth. Add salt and cream of tartar to egg whites, beat until stiff but not dry. Fold into batter. Pour into two 9 inch cake pans and bake in moderate oven about 350 degrees, for 25 minutes or until done.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE
(Filling for one 9 inch pie)
1/4 c. cold water
1 teasp. grated lemon rind
1/2 c. lemon juice
4 eggs
1 c. sugar
1/2 teasp. salt
Add 1/2 cup sugar, lemon juice and salt to beaten egg yolks and cook over boiling water until of custard consistency. Pour cold water in bowl and sprinkle gelatin on top of water. Add to hot custard and stir thoroughly. Add grated lemon rind. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which the other half cup of sugar has been added. Fill baked pie shell or graham cracker crust and chill. Just before serving spread a thin layer of whipped cream over pie.

ORANGE FILLING
1/2 c. unsifted cake flour
1/4 teasp. salt
1 1/4 c. orange juice
2 T. grated lemon rind
1 c. sugar
1/4 c. water
1/4 c. lemon juice
2 T. grated orange rind
4 egg yolks
Mix flour, sugar and salt together in heavy saucepan. Add water and mix until there are no lumps. Stir in orange and lemon rinds and juice. Cook over low fire until mixture thickens and becomes transparent. Beat egg yolks slightly and slowly add to hot mixture, stirring constantly. Return to sauce pan and cook slowly, always stirring, for about 5 minutes or until sauce thickens again. Cool thoroughly.

FROSTING
2 c. sugar
1/2 c. boiling water
1/4 teasp. cream of tartar
1/4 teasp. salt
2 egg whites
1/2 teasp. almond extract
Mix sugar and water and cream of tartar in sauce pan. Cover and bring to boil. Uncover and cook until syrup spins a thread. Add salt to whites and beat stiff. Then pour syrup over whites and beat while pouring. Two cups of coconut may be sprinkled over this frosting when on cake if you wish.

UPSIDE DOWN CAKE
(One-half of recipe is used, remainder may be made into loaf cake)
3 c. sifted flour
1/2 teasp. salt
4 eggs unbeaten (place in cup and finish filling with milk)
1 c. milk
4 teasp. baking powder
2 c. sugar
10 T. melted shortening
Sift flour once, measure and add baking powder, salt and sugar. Sift together three times. Add milk and egg mixture, and one more cup of milk. Then melted butter. Beat vigorously for three minutes.

Before mixing the cake, place pineapple rings in tube pan, add 1/4 c. butter and 1/2 c. light brown sugar. Place in warming oven while mixing batter. Pour batter over this and bake in 350 degree oven.

GRAHAM APPLE BETTY

Contributed by Mrs. Sterling Dockson

Mix together:
2 c. graham cracker crumbs
1 c. brown sugar
3/4 c. butter
1/2 teasp. apple pie spice.

Butter a baking dish and place in it: sliced apples, enough to make it about 1 1/2 inches deep. Sprinkle apples with 2 tablespoons of water and cover with the graham cracker mixture. Bake about 45 minutes (or until apples are done) in a 300 degree oven. Serve with whipped cream.

Mothers of 7B Students Meet

A tea and visitation of classes held yesterday, September 28, at the High School for the mothers of 7B students in Brownell Junior High, and for the 7B staff of teachers. More than 100 persons attended.

This event, which occurs once every term, affords the mothers of new students, the teachers, and the 7A mothers who act as hostesses, an opportunity to become acquainted. Sponsorship is by the Mothers' Club in cooperation with the High School.

Mrs. Alton R. Huntington, Junior High School Chairman, was in charge of plans for yesterday's function, and introduced Mrs. Harold S. Davis, president of the Mothers' Club, who welcomed the new mothers.

Mrs. Huntington was assisted by Mrs. Elbert Langworthy, Mrs. William Nelson, and Mrs. George Villerot. Mrs. L. M. Elliott, chairman of refreshments and decorations, was assisted by other 7A mothers, Mrs. Gerald Baker, Mrs. A. J. Grundy, Mrs. K. W. Hooker, Mrs. Sidney DeBoer and Mrs. J. W. Eskridge.

January 1 became generally accepted as the first day in the year in 1752.

The costume . . . a subtle bit dressier than the suit . . . has arrived at WALTON PIERCE GROSSE POINTE BRANCH to make you know you simply have to own at least one in your autumn wardrobe. The black wool jersey for instance which has long, slender skirt flecked in two shades of rose; a waistline jacket with long sleeves and interesting brass hook and eye detail and a blouse of pin flecked rose and white tie silk. Of course the jacket boasts a 1949 shawl collar. Then there's the important costume of black broadcloth, its waistline jacket finished in a bramley collar; its skirt divinely cut with the intriguing dip in back, and a blouse of scarlet surrah silk with dude ranch treatment at the neckline. Jackets of both these costumes are lined in the blouse material to give that added tech. Still another costume . . . really divine! . . . a wool crepe in camel shade. The dress is divinely tailored with short sleeves and high straight neckline, material belt. The long sleeved jacket, nipped in at the waist and flaring ever so slightly, is buttoned with three powder puff sized beaver buttons!
