Enlargement Of Fox Creek Looms Again

Pointes May Have to Build Own Sewage Disposal Facilities

At an adjourned meeting of the Park Board of Village Commissioners held Saturday morning, Oct. 15, there was a further discussion of the Fox Creek diversion scheme which the City of Detroit is seeking to foist on three of the Grosse Pointe communities, the Park, City and Farms, at a cost to them of more than $5,000,000. Since the State authorities placed a stop on the Detroit scheme to divert the Fox Creek flowage into Conner Creek there looms the possibility that the plan to enlarge the present Fox Creek opening may be revived.

If this happens, the cost of sewage overflow for the Park and its neighbors may again come up in figures that would be impressive to Grosse Pointe taxpayers.

Has Contract
The Park, for its part, however, has a contract with Detroit whereby the cost of Fox Creek widening would be borne by Detroit. Whether the other Pointes have similar arrangements is not clear.

The Grosse Pointe communities may have to get down to the serious consideration of providing their own sewage disposal facilities, as things are developing.

The reply of the three Pointe communities to the Detroit plan which had been scheduled for October has been postponed by mutual consent of the Detroit and Pointe communities until about Nov. 7.

Already Agreed
This reply has already been agreed upon as the composite answer of the three and will contain the arguments which the Pointe marshals against the costly Detroit proposal. The Michigan State authorities contend that the Fox Creek diversion will in no manner mitigate the larger problem of water pollution with which they are chiefly concerned.

Pointe Beauty Recognized

The beauty and good citizenship of PAT MARTIN, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Martin, of 61 Hawthorne Blvd., was recognized by more than 1,500 students at Michigan State College whose votes last week elected her "Harvest Queen." The petite home economics freshman, who was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School last January, will reign over MSC activities during National Flower Week in November. Eldest of five children, Miss Martin was a commencement speaker and received a citizenship award at Grosse Pointe High.

Jimmy Wade Dies of Polio; Autopsy Discloses Cause

The sudden death from polio of young James A. Wade Oct. 11 was a distinct shock to the Pointe community.

Jimmy, one of the popular ninth grade school boys of Grosse Pointe was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ainsworth C. Wade, of 292 Merriweather. He complained on the morning of Oct. 6 of having a little headache. He felt better by the end of the day but the following morning had a slight fever and the family physician was called. He apparently responded to treatment and the following Saturday and Sunday was apparently all right and even took a dip in the High School pool. Monday, however, he felt worse and the doctor again attended him.

On Tuesday morning, when his mother went into his room, she was alarmed by his appearance and hastily summoned the doctor. Before he could arrive, the boy had died. The exact cause of his death was not definitely determined until an autopsy established that he had died of bulbar poliomyelitis, a type of the disease which attacks the base of the brain and paralyzes most of the functions of the body. The lad was buried in the family burying plot in Sturgis Oct. 14.

Falls from Roof, Injures Shoulder

Alfred Prevots, 48, of 3879 Lakepointe, Detroit, suffered painful shoulder injuries when he fell from a ladder Oct. 13 while staining the roof of the Clarence H. Booth residence, at 101 Lewiston, according to Farms police. Police were told that Prevots slipped while getting off the ladder onto the roof and then "rode" the ladder to the ground, doubtless saving himself much more serious injury. He was X-rayed and treated at Cottage Hospital.

He apparently responded to treatment and the following Saturday and Sunday was apparently all right and even took a dip in the High School pool. Monday, however, he felt worse and the doctor again attended him. On Tuesday morning, when his mother went into his room, she was alarmed by his appearance and hastily summoned the doctor. Before he could arrive, the boy had died.

Polio Death Closes Pool

Dr. Thomas S. Davies, Director of the Grosse Pointe Health Department, directed the closing of the swimming pool at the High School Oct. 14.

Dr. Davies says that while the association of swimming pools with polio has been pretty well discounted in recent years, the fact that the Wade youth, who died of the disease Oct. 11, had been in the pool only a day or so before his death, he deemed it wise to close the pool until further orders from him.

The doctor says he took this step largely to allay public anxiety rather than from any cause based on established medical science.

LEARNS PAINFUL LESSON
Two-year-old Lawrence Oleska, of 1170 Elford Court, learned the hard way not to play with electric wall sockets. According to Woods police, he put a plug, with no cord, into such an outlet Oct. 13. He was treated at Cottage Hospital for burns of the hand and wrist.

Work to Commence 'At Once' On Pointe Auto Club Office

Colonial-Type Building Will Be Most Modern of Any AAA Setup in America, Says President Vincent

Contracts have been let and construction will begin at once on a Grosse Pointe office of the Automobile Club of Michigan at the northwest corner of E. Jefferson and Somerset in Grosse Pointe Park, according to Col. Jesse G. Vincent, Club president.

The office will serve motoring needs of 15,000 Auto Club members in the Pointe area.

"This will be the most modern Auto Club office of any American Automobile Association-affiliated club in the United States," Vincent said. "We have inspected club offices all over the country and taken the best ideas from each to include in this one."

The first Grosse Pointe club office was opened two decades ago. The colonial-type building of face-brick construction will be one and a half stories high with basement for storage space and off-street parking space in the rear. It will have 79-foot frontage on Jefferson and 89-foot frontage on Somerset.

Twenty-five club employees will make the office their headquarters. Division office manager will be George Measel.

The office will accommodate an enlarged world-wide travel department with seating arrangements so members can plan trips on table-top maps with aid from travel counselors.

Membership counselors, claims and insurance departments of the Detroit Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange also will be housed in the building.

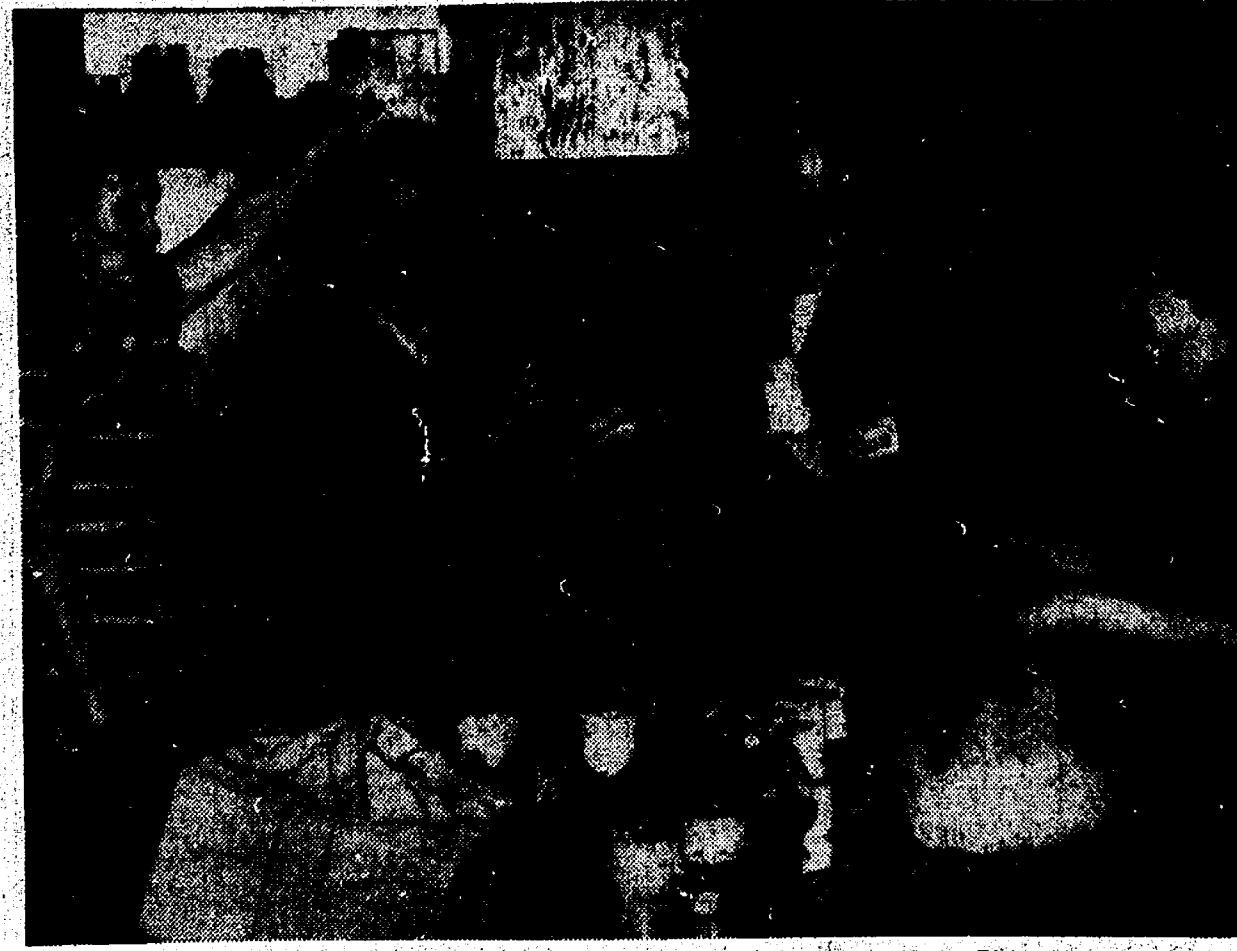

Members of the Auto Club's board of directors who live in Grosse Pointe include Vincent, J. Lee Barrett, Charles T. Bush, Ralph Thomas and Edward Weeks.

General contractor will be Barton and Malow, with electrical work being handled by Shaw and Kauth, and plumbing, heating and ventilation by R. L. Spitzley, O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach were the architects.

DOGS CAN'T READ

Evidently dogs can't read. At any rate, Farms police got a complaint of dog tracks in a fresh cement driveway at Chalfonte and Belanger Oct. 15.

Planning Pantry Party

MRS. FRANK UNTI, MRS. JOSEPH BEAUPRE, MRS. VICTOR TAYLOR and MRS. LEO O'BRIEN (left to right) busy at the shelves with last-minute preparations for the pantry shower. St. Joan of Arc Mothers' Club is sponsoring tonight in the school auditorium. Time is 8 p.m.

Falling Leaves Deluge Police

All over the Pointe last week complaints poured into the different police stations of burning leaves.

The usual nature of these complaints was against the dense volumes of smoke they caused. In some instances the complainants mentioned the size of the piles of leaves which a good breath of air might scatter to the peril of adjoining property.

The police wrestled with the problem as best they could. The usual practice is to permit citizens to burn the leaves on their own properties conditioned on there being no complaint from neighbors.

Burning leaves on the street is prohibited, as it is a nuisance to vehicular traffic and does serious damage to certain types of pavement.

Many private property owners regularly employ lawn service companies who cart away the raked leaves. For properties without such privately employed service the municipality will carry the leaves away, but this service cannot be done daily.

The leaf cartage problem is a major one for the municipal authorities during this season and has been stepped up noticeably with the heavy fall of dead leaves in recent days.

St. Joan Party Set for Tonight

A pantry shower and dessert bridge will be sponsored at 8 p.m. this evening by members of the St. Joan of Arc Mothers' Club in the school auditorium.

Guests will bring gifts for the pantry as the price of admission, and proceeds will go to the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Chairman is Mrs. Leo O'Brien, club president. Working with her have been Mrs. Joseph Beaupre, Mrs. John Blake, Mrs. Frank Unti and Mrs. Victor Taylor, as well as 32 room-mothers.

Engineers Give Creek Report

Leslie Brown and Thomas Hanson, Engineers for Grosse Pointe City, presented a report to Council Oct. 17, which was in effect representative of the composite opinion of the engineers of the Park, City and Farms on the engineering angles of the City of Detroit's Fox Creek diversion project.

Hanson stated that Grosse Pointe had scored a definite victory in the refusal of the State Health Department to grant permission to Detroit to go ahead with its project.

For the time being, at least, the three Grosse Pointe communities have been taken from under an overhanging liability amounting to several million dollars.

The issue maybe raised in some other form at a future date and the local engineers stand ready to battle out the project further from a purely engineering and sanitary standpoint.

Woman Periled By Stray Shot

A Farms woman narrowly missed injury at 8:47 p.m. last Saturday in what Farms police believe may have been a brief spree of "target practice," malicious or otherwise, by one or more persons.

Mrs. W. J. DeGraft, of 368 Ridgmont, reported that what proved to be a .22 caliber rifle bullet crashed through a window, ricocheted off her chair and fell dead against her arm as she sat in the chair.

Police believe it may have been fired by the same person, or persons, who did considerable damage to a new house just completed by the C. W. Babcock Organization, at 425 Hillcrest, the street just behind the DeGraft home.

They also are hopeful that some clues they have, the nature of which they're not disclosing, may lead to apprehension of the guilty parties.

A total of 15 bullet holes were found in various parts of the new house. Some slugs also were found in the woodwork. Ballistics tests are to be made.

Chief Dansbury To Attend Fire Safety Session

Veteran Farms Fire Chief George F. Dansbury has been authorized to attend a conference called by Gov. Williams for tomorrow and Saturday at Grand Rapids to study fire protection and prevention problems.

Dansbury, whose department has maintained an enviable record in saving Farms residents from excessive fire loss, also attended a similar conference called by President Truman in Washington two years ago.

Fire officials from all over the State will attend the meeting, Dansbury said, to pool their ideas on ways to cut the heavy losses in property and lives which have been suffered by Michigan residents.

Dansbury said the Governor called the meeting in line with a recommendation by Mr. Truman at the conference two years ago that the several States concentrate on the fire problem.

More Concrete 'Artistry' Noted on Police Blotter

J. J. Barney, the contractor engaged in laying concrete sidewalks in the 1100 blocks of Grayton, Harvard and Cadieux, reported to the police on Oct. 14, that the green concrete artists were again at work in his territory.

Children and even dogs were busy leaving their footprints in the freshly laid concrete.

City Council Orders Letters To Citizens on Pool Action

The City Council decided at the meeting Oct. 17 to send out at once the letter that has been prepared to mail to the individual citizens of the City explaining the negative action on the swimming pool project.

The net argument is that the project would cost a large sum which the councilmen deemed it unwise to saddle on the taxpayers at this time. This project could only have been met by a bond issue.

At the same time Councilman Chester Carpenter, chairman of the park and recreations committee, brought in a proposed plan for a wading pool for the smaller children.

This would be planned to tie in with the larger project for an enclosed swimming pool for all ages. Its estimated cost would be only $15,000 which could be provided without recourse to a bond issue.

The matter was referred for further consideration and Mayor Netting added Councilman Morgan to Carpenter's committee.

E. H. Stolzenfeld Dies Suddenly

Erwin H. Stolzenfeld, 38, of 812 Barrington, died suddenly in his office Oct. 10. Mr. Stolzenfeld was a well known businessman of Grosse Pointe.

He is survived by his wife, Geraldine and two young sons, Merten and Thomas.

The funeral was held Oct. 13 from the Verheyden Funeral Home and burial was in Mt. Elliott cemetery.

Faneuil Hall in Boston was erected with lottery money.

Unitarian Chief Talks Sunday

Dr. Frederick May Eliot, president of the American Unitarian Association, with headquarters in Boston, will be the guest speaker at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church Sunday, Oct. 23.

Dr. Eliot will preach the 10th Anniversary sermon of the founding of the church. Special music has been arranged by the chairman of the music committee, Mrs. Clarence Messner.

A family supper at 8 p.m. under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. C. Vail, will honor Dr. Eliot. Mr. Galli is in charge of an educational program of moving pictures for the entertainment of the children.

On Sunday evening, Dr. Eliot will speak briefly on "Religious Education."

Rat Complaint Given Blondell

The residents at 933 Rivard complained to the police that the vacant field in the rear of their place was infested with rats.

On examination, police found that in the rear of this lot on University, there was a collection of broken concrete and brush. Rat complaints frequently have come from similar causes in the City in the past.

The matter was turned over to Bob Blondell, superintendent of highways, to abolish the source of the complaint.

Saks Fifth Ave. Opens New Children's Floor

Cradle to College Clothing Shown in Beautiful Surroundings; All New Decor

All last week-end on the second floor of Saks Fifth Avenue paint-brushes slapped and hammers banged, but all signs of the workmen's activity were cleared away by Monday morning and shoppers got their first look at the new Saks' Children's Floor.

A series of delightfully-decorated rooms, the Children's Floor contains a maternity shop, layette shop, children's department for sizes 3 to 12 and 12 to 18.

Each department is decorated to express the nature of the merchandise displayed there. Petal pink and hyacinth blue tints form the decor of the Layette Dept., for the very youngest Saks customers. The Maternity Dept., next to the layette shop, is an intimate room with swags and cherubim bordering the pale gray and striped walls near the pale pink ceiling. Furnished with French Provincial pieces, it resembles a cozy sitting room.

Tiny horsemen march around the pale blue walls of the Infants' Department, giving an effect of embroidery, and natural birch moldings blend in softly with the walls and showcases, which are lined in pink. Upholstery here is gray.

The Teen Age Shop at Saks caters to the beginning sophisticate, with mauve walls, bleached birch furnishings and gay Victorian figures painted by Eva Vincent. Louis XV imported furniture sets the style for the impressive Debutante Suits and Coats Department, where panelling is adorned with garlands of flowers surrounding off-white walls.

Lighting and mirrors are important features of the Petit Salon, where debutante millinery is to be shown. Panelling here is in the antique manner and a "transported to the Continent" feeling is created by the imported-from-Italy Rosa Dama marble and Hans Helwig murals.

From the ultra-feminine, atmosphere changes abruptly to the masculine upon entering the new Saks Boys' Department—and there is no mistaking the change. English oak panelling, deep blue-green walls and sturdy chairs upholstered with a textured fabric will give the male element a sense of belonging.

The last room in the new children's floor is devoted to infants' and children's shoes, and here again furnishings are in keeping with clientele; fairy tale murals by Eva Vincent adorn the heavy linen walls, while a fitting banquetette holds infant seats alternating with parent-sized chairs.

Saks Fifth Avenue's new "Wonder World" for children evidently will carry out the store's pledge of outfitting the youngster from cradle to college—and all in the most delightful of surroundings.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerborn

The Pointe's been whirling with houseguests now that Autumn's here. From all points... they arrive to cocktail and sup with Pointe friends of their hosts. Traveling the greatest distance to visit us... is Miss Bridget Hastings... who has come all the way from Dublin to visit her nephew and niece, the William Bickels of Rivard boulevard. Miss Hastings... who was born in Scotland but who has spent a great part of her life in Ireland... hasn't paid a visit to her relatives in America for twelve years. And the family gatherings... and other galas in her honor... have been prodigious.

Visitor from Dublin

Even so many cocktail parties have feted this charming guest (she calls them Sherry Parties in an accent that enchants!)

And tomorrow evening... Bill's parents... Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bickel... will be hosts at a dinner party in their home on Cadieux for their daughter-in-law's aunt. Before she leaves the first of next week... The young Bickels will give an open house on Sunday afternoon in their home. After that Miss Hastings will be thinking of the homeward journey... which will include a visit with relatives in Canada... and then New York... to plane back to Dublin.

Leave for Hunting Trip

Overnight guests at the home of the Harley G. Higbies on Lake Shore road. Were those popular visitors... Mr. and Mrs. Steve Royce of Pasadena, whose host of Pointe friends had a chance to greet them... when the Higbies entertained at Sunday night buffet supper and cocktails.

Dinner for Easterer

Tha C. Henry Buhls... home from Europe... stayed prettily put last week-end just long enough to welcome their overnight guest. Pierre Barbey of New York City... Who was guest of honor at the dinner party they gave Saturday evening in their Ellair place home. The first of the week Mrs. Buhl left for a week in New York. And Mr. B. joined the hunters at Mikado, Mich. Incidentally, did you know it is pronounced Mickaydo? We have a vague recollection... that the incensed townsfolk did their durndest to have the name changed during the last war. So we couldn't recommend pronouncing it that other way within the city limits. Especially... with the hunting season on!

CAROLYN DAVISON TAYLOR, whose engagement to Henry T. Ewald, Jr., was announced this week by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Taylor of Grosse Pointe Boulevard.

Sea Island Honeymoon Choice Of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Shea

In a ceremony at SS. Peter and Paul Jesuit Church Saturday Oct. 8, Mary Elizabeth Kelly became Mrs. John Patrick Shea.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Burrows Kelly of East Jefferson Avenue and the late Mr. Kelly, while John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Shea of Northlawn Avenue.

Mary's gown was of ivory duchess satin, with imported alencon lace overlaying the bodice, which had a high tudor collar. A matching lace coronet fastened her full-length veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids mixed with white stock.

The maid of honor, Betty Springstead, was gowned in striped iridescent green taffeta, with which she wore white kid gloves and a crown of dotted ivy leaves.

Elaine Bonfield of Ottawa, Ont.; Theresa Sorman, Louise Anhut and Marilyn Faber were bridesmaids and were dressed the same as the honor maid. They all carried bouquets of small yellow and rust chrysanthemums with trailing ivy.

John's best man was Addison Bartush, Bob Carroll, Clarence McLeod, Jr., Charlie Allegrina and Jack Ryan were ushers.

Carolyn Taylor Engaged to Wed H. T. Ewald, Jr.

At a small family party in their home on Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Taylor of Grosse Pointe Boulevard announced the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Davison Taylor, to Henry T. Ewald, Jr.

Henry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Ewald of Iroquois Avenue.

Pretty, brunette Carolyn is a graduate of Grosse Pointe Country Day School, Bradford Junior College and the Barnmore School of New York. She is a member of Tau Beta and the Junior League.

The bridegroom-elect was a graduate from the Detroit University School, Phillips Exeter Academy at Andover, Mass., Yale University and the Detroit College of Law. At Yale he was a member of Beta Theta Pi.

The pair are planning a summer wedding.

How to Talk At Town Hall

An up-to-the-minute report on the latest news at home and abroad will be presented at Detroit Town Hall by Quincy Howe, distinguished author and radio commentator. He will speak at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 26, in the Fisher Theater.

The speaker is a member of a famous New England family, the elder son of the biographer and historian, M. A. DeWolfe Howe. He, himself, has won a worldwide reputation as a historian and is at present working on a history of the Twentieth Century. Howe's concise analyses of complicated international situations have won him a large following on the air, both in radio and television.

Rummage Sale Shaping Up at Christ Church

Baby clothes, stoves, lamps, antiques, furniture, glassware and clothing are being left daily at Christ Church in response to post cards with the slogan "Send us your Want-nots. We take Anything. We Want Everything". Once again October has rolled around, and with it rolls the traditional rummage sale at Christ Church. Many new activities are getting under way in the Women's Auxiliary under the direction of the president, Mrs. Alexander Wiener.

This year the sale will run for two days—Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 26 and 27, from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Julius Huebner, whose name is practically synonymous with the success of rummage sales, is again chairman of this undertaking. Mrs. David James and Mrs. Richard Sterr have been busy many weeks sorting and marking the material received. Mrs. Simpson Leonard already has signed up many women to assist with sales, while Mrs. Josiah Scobell is training her helpers in the mysteries of the cash register. Many signs and posters will appear soon as a result of Mrs. Clark Basset's skill and ingenuity, while Mrs. H. Ray Will is handling the publicity. Mrs. J. Clemens Kolb, wife of the rector, has expressed her enthusiasm and desire to assist wherever she is most needed. The money raised each year by this project is used for special missionary work, so Christ Church's sister, St. Michael's Chapel, is cooperating vigorously. Mrs. Aaron Evans, president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Wm. Mack's, vice president, Mrs. Fred Mosdale, treasurer, Mrs. Donald Scobie, secretary, and Mrs. Edgar Yoeman, wife of the vicar, report fine response and interest. The sale, which is open to all, will be held in the assembly hall of Christ Church.

Candidate

Among the 10 candidates for the title of queen of Central Michigan College's homecoming schedule Oct. 29, is the Pointe's BETTY BROOKS, pretty English major in her junior year. Nominee of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority, Miss Brooks was presented to the student body of the Mt. Pleasant educational institution at a special assembly yesterday along with the other nine hopefuls. The election was scheduled for today.

FARMS MEETING POSTPONED

The regular Farms Council meeting, scheduled last Monday evening, was postponed until next Monday, according to Clerk Harry Furton, because there was no pressing business, and a couple of councilmen were out of town.

Alert Chief Aids In 'R-D' Capture

Alertness on the part of Woods Police Chief Walter Goulette and the police radio-aided in the capture and ticketing of a driver by Shores' police on a reckless driving charge recently.

According to police records, Goulette saw a 1935 model car with only one headlight run a stop street and proceed on its way at high speed. He reported it on the police radio and Shores' Police Car 44 picked up the trail on Lake Shore.

Scheduled to answer the "R-D" charge is Robert Efb, 17, of 20707 Rosedale avenue, St. Clair Shores.

Juvenile Fashion Show Scheduled Tomorrow

Highlights of the juvenile fashion world will be presented at a special fashion show for the Grosse Pointe younger crowd to be held at 8 p. m. Friday, Oct. 21, in the Peter Pan store on Kercheval. Grosse Pointe children will model the latest styles in youth wear from infants through teenagers.
