Seeking Funds for Needy for Christmas and All Year

The members of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club who are this year conducting their 21st annual Goodfellows' newspaper sale to raise money to bring Christmas cheer into the homes of the Pointe's needy and to provide needed assistance throughout the year. In addition to sending yule tide baskets of food, and toys to the children of local families, the fund provides fuel, medical care, dental care, glasses, even rent money for those in distress. The Neighborhood Club acts as a clearing house for needy cases, so there will be no duplications. Pointers are asked to dig deep and give cheerfully to banish fear from and keep faith in the homes of the underprivileged.

The Board of Education at its meeting on Dec. 7 decided to wind up its campaign of public enlightenment on the proposed school bond issue with a general mass meeting in the High School on Tuesday evening, Dec. 20. All interested citizens of the Pointe are invited. Open discussion of the subject will be urged and informed members of the school administration will be present to answer questions. Following this meeting the Board of Education, meeting as a committee of the whole, on De-cember 27, will hold a general discussion and review of the whole project. The animal, a 11/2 year old boxer, belonged to the A. G. Gill, Jr. family at 1898 Fleetwood. The township only asks for quick action to meet a situation which has become impossible from an operating standpoint. Its budget must be set up by April 3 and specific assurances must be had to enable it to make any workable provision in it for health service.

To Meet Dec. 20

This whole question will have the resultant impossibility of to be decided at the meeting on December 20, which was decided on at the recent conference in of the units covered by the Townthe Park Council chambers. County Health Director Dr. Littlejohn will be urged to attend this meeting and clarify further the possibility of the County taking over this service. If his department is ready to take over the whole health service for the Pointe at once that may be the way out. He stated to the NEWS however that he had no item in his budget this year, which began on Dec. 1 to do more than care for that of the City.

December 12, 1949 Grosse Pointe Board of Education 389 St. Clair Grosse Pointe 30, Michigan. Gentlemen:

At your meeting on December 7th, we presented a petition seeking immediate action by your Honorable Body to secure for Grosse Pointe a Central Library, and requesting that a Central Library building be included in your proposed building program.

Without in any way minimizing the urgent need for Central Library facilities nor retracting our petition for action in the immediate future, we wish to and do hereby amend our petition insofar as it requests that funds for its construction be raised as a part of the bond issue to be voted on in February, 1950. After discussing the matter with the Board, some of its members and the Board's legal counsel, we feel that funds for the Central Library building should not be included in the February, 1950, bond issue for the following rea-

The Michigan Consolidated Gas Company is installing a new main along Moross road all the way from Kercheval to Mack. The installation was made necessary by the great amount of building which has been going on in that area. Henry Ford in which the latter said that anything which is not built right will not run, whether it is a watch, a machine, a church or a political movement.

"We are living in one of the great historical periods of history." Mr. Bingay continued, "similar to the one that brought about the Renaissance in Europe. Today it has to be a revival or spiritual reawakening to age-old fundamental virtues of the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. "We must realize that it is principles that make parties, andnot parties that make principles. Some day there may come a man, who will have honesty, integrity, and character. Until we have such a man, we will only drift from one opportunity to another."

Zoning Changes Studied in City

City Attorney Albert E. Meder, Planning Commissioner George Ross and City Clerk Norbert P. Neff had a meeting in the municipal offices on December 10 to discuss the possible changes that will be necessary in the city's zoning laws in the future.

Owners of large properties may in the future be confronted with the necessity of adapting them to uses which will be economically desirable and these considered changes will in many instances run counter to present zoning regulations.

The discussion has nothing to do with any immediately contemplated change but is a subject which will appear before the city authorities in the not too distant future. The talk on the 10th was largely of an exploratory nature.

"Only four decades ago, TB was the 'Captain of the Men of Death," he said. "Since that time, the TB death rate has been cut by about 75 per cent in Michigan. Tuberculosis is now the ninth cause of death in the state. Protection from the disease is steadily growing: A coming generation may receive a heritage free from its threat."

"But the fact remains that this preventable disease still causes 30 Michigan deaths each weekkilling more people than all other communicable diseases combined. that new cases of TB are not showing a downward trend, that 87 per cent of the patients admitted to Michigan Sanatoriums last year had advanced disease, more difficult to cure, more cost-

'And it is to this basic task that major share of double-barred cross Christmas seal dollars are applied. For unless everyone understands the basic facts about TB and is able to use that information in the form of intelligent action, then all the modern case-finding, treatment and renabilitation facilities would be of attention and improvement.". "The double - barred cross Christmas Seal," Governor Williams said, "represents one of our most life-saving adventures, an adventure in which bits of colored paper are spread like snowflakes over a holiday world to close in on the cruelest disease enemy known to mankind."

Schools Require Additional Buses

The problem of school bus facilities is a growing one with the Board of Education. At the meeting of the Board on Dec. 7, directors Wicking and Doughterty were named a committee to take up the matter with the Lake Shore Coach company to learn whether or not additional facilities could be provided.

The problem is especially difficult for the bus company because eral public coincide. This is particularly difficult during the morning hours, but also materially increases the load in the after school hours. The problem for the bus company is to arrange its crews and extra facilities to meet these twice daily recurring

The buses are now carrying about 70 pupils to the Pierce School and on a recent count they found 100 pupils crowded into a Mason School bus.

The only visible solution of this problem is the early conversion of the Parcells School into its intended function as a wholly operating Junior High School, which in turn must await the provision of more school facilities for the elementry grades in the proposed Cook road, Roslyn road and Gratiot schools.

It was twenty years ago that Mrs. Sherman Morgan, MR. and MRS. A. J. FISHER. started the charming Christmas Eve party that has come MR. and MRS. ALFRED J. down through the years to establish itself as a custom for FISHER JR., MR. and MRS. the residents of Meadow lane . . .

You see . . . it's Meadow lane's own Christmas party ... when all the neighbors get together ... for Christmas carols . . . a pot luck supper . . . a Merry Christmas to

When Mrs. Sherman started the party there were about MISS VIRGINIA PADDOCK, forty Meadow laners who congregated in her home on Christ-MR. and MRS. GILBERT PIN

The Shermans usually went to their former home in Brattleboro, Vermont for the holidays and this was their one chance to say Merry Christmas to the particularly lovely brand of neighbors to be found on Meadow lane.

On the Night Before Christmas

The party was held at the Shermans until last year when of Meadow lane will have guests the 85 guests slightly crowded a home.

Then the move was made to Miller Hall. However right up until last year, Mrs. Sherman always moved all the downstairs furniture out onto her terrace leaving only chairs and tables for the supper party.

The children took over the recreation room. And before the guests went home, the furniture was moved back to the fireside, all in keeping with a neighborly Dance at the Country Club on Christmas Eve.

This year, for the first time, the men on the block have stepped into command . . . thus to give the ladies more time for all their other Christmas plans.

Santa to Be There

There is to be a Santa Claus this year . . . so authentic cale was given during the afterthat his everyday initials are actually S. C. but more than that we can't tell.

Archie Johnstone has been chairman for this year's gala . . . and Clarkson Wormer III has written the jingle which bids old and new Meadow laners to the fun . . . Committee members' wives provide the supper . .

The Health Muddle

A situation with respect to the Grosse Pointe public health service has arisen between the township on one side and the various communities of which it is composed.

For many years the township has carried on the health the wife of Henry Eighth and the sota, Anne worked for a time as service for all. That for the villages was paid out of township taxes and the City of Grosse Pointe has paid the township an annual sum of about $4,000 to attend to the public health for it. The arrangement had worked very well. In addition to the ordinary health service the township board has operated a special service and supervision for the schools which has been universally approved.

The City has already notified the township it will not need its health service after April 1. It has apparently been assured by the County Health Department that it will take century ago; this historical ro- bined with her ability to see the over for it. The Farms has notified the Township that it may mance deals with the period of humorous side of every situation, life here etc. This he agreed to do. momentarily discontinue its service.

The township board, which is synonymous with the township board of health, is confronted with the necessity of having its budget ready by April 1. It does not know yet what provision to set up for the health service.

A general talk was had with the local municipal officials on December 5 to try to come to some agreement with respect have to pare our library down to to the continuation of the service. Nothing came of that meeting and another has been called for December 20.

Meanwhile word has come from the County Health Department that it will not be prepared to take over the health service for Pointe communities other than the City this year. from America and four from Eng- of the money toward it. In view of the imminence of April first, and there being here it is. no prospect in sight for an adjustment of the situation, the township has served notice that it will be compelled to discontinue the health service on April 1.

In its resolution to this effect the township board expresses its extreme regret and adds that if the several mu- Emily Bronte. nicipalities can get together quickly to provide some carrying on arrangement it, the township, will continue the service. This action must come soon, it is hoped by the December 20

The School district is more deeply concerned with the matter than even the municipalities. The fine school service which the township has carried on has been wholly paid for out of township funds. If the hoped-for arrangement with the municipalities falls through, the school health service which has been universally satisfactory, may have to be conducted by the Board of Education making arrangements with the township in much the same manner as the city has done for many years past. This service may have to be supplemented by some additional funds from the school district as with the City and Farms definitely out of the township and paying no able to save can one be economically secure." taxes to it, this loss of revenue to the township would curtail

The situation is not hopeless but it is complicated. Quick health service of the community bogs down for the want of preliminary constructive thinking.

The progressive elimination of the township by the process of successive withdrawals has its headaches which can only be solved by the men who started the procession.

The fact that the Park is well on its way towards withdrawal from the township has simply added another complication to the Pointe's future health service. These communities getting out must either provide their own health the unfortunate but worthy persons who momentarily or service or get the county to do it for them. This latter arrangement is apparently off for at least another year.

Social Service Ideology

To read the drivel that was dished out to a conference of social service workers of Michigan in the Book Cadillac on suaded to accept relief. December 7 is enough to make a man feel like throwing his grandmother on a red hot stove.

The "Social Scientist" in question was a Mrs. Esther K. Chicago.

It is also significant of the confidence of this cult in the security of their position, that there was only one faint interrogatory squawk from a submerged male and this was lightly passed over, if noted at all.

The burden of Mrs. Schour's message was that regardless of charges and disclosures of chiselling this should be ignored and the same old free handed dishing out of the taxpayers' money should be continued. They should not grow weary in well doing.

She doubted very much whether our chiselling load here amounted to more than one percent of the whole anyway. A recent fairly accurate examination of this matter in and social picture, the Taxpayer: the Detroit welfare work indicated that it runs about 35 percent chisellers. With this expert observation on the state of the local relief load, Mrs. Schour proceeded to indicate to her fellow welfarers the policies they should pursue. They should not call these chisellers liars and cheats. "They are sick and need treatment. We must help that person who has deceived us." With regard to the investigation of applications for relief she said "Can we, as social workers go into every welfare client's home and act as detectives to see whether they are deceiving us?" The taxpayers' unhesitant answer to this question would ment from that source. be, "Yes."

She was opposed to checking clients too carefully.

A local young man who had the pleasure of traveling in Europe last summer, didn't have very much pleasure returning home. He told us about it recently, and we thought the tale might amuse our millions of readers. Among our hero's neighbors, is a young married couple ... the bride, a French girl whose family lives in France. When they heard our friend was going abroad and would be in France, the girl begged him to look up her folks and have a visit with them . . . and tell them all about her and her

Too embarrassed to retract his offer in the face of their enthusiastic and voluble thanks, the poor guy was stuck with them. Migraine Headaches

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.

Migraine is probably the most distressing of all types of headaches because the patient knows that one attack foretells another. These attacks usually occur at regular intervals but vary with the individual from a few days apart to several months. Pain is often limited to one side of the head, and most migraine victims also experience some intestinal upset.

If you suffer from migraine headaches it is important that you have the advice of a doctor. He will explain the importance of a regular physical routine, free from unnecessary emotional strain. Your doctor will also prescribe whatever medication he believes may help you.

Let a conscientious pharmacist fill that prescription! This is the 271st of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

A THOUGHT FOR CHRISTMAS is changed from the green and red Christmas at JACOBSON'S this year ... and in its place there is a pink and gold and silver holiday ... here are all the pastel gifts for the gayest little hamlet at Christmastime ... the boudoir slippers in all the tones to go with the lovely lounging clothes at JACOBSON'S this yultide ... Daniel Green, Joyce. Topps, famous names in bedroom slippers ... and the debs and sub debs will love the Oomphies ... or those lamb's wool lined suede moccasins ... in the luggage shop there is stunning ware for sub debs will love the Oomphies . . . or those lamb's wool lined suede moccasins . . in the luggage shop there is stunning ware for going places . . Kessler and Mendel luggage in all the popular leathers, including raw hide . . pullman cases just right to hold gown, slippers and cosmetics in chic calfskin, green or brown . a pullman cosmetic case to be worn over the shoulder . . covered umbrellas for rainy days . . models band boxes which the young set would m-u-c-h rather carry than the conventional handbag . . speaking of handbags, JACOBSON'S has a wonder collection including a good supply of alligator . There are Topp's gloves (on the moccasin idea . . suede and lamb's wool lined) . . pastel angora mittens . . and rollicking, gay cable knit mittens for the sub debs . . .

Candy is as gaily a part of Christmas as plum pudding and roast turkey and mistletoe, and GROSSE POINTE DRUG CO. has stocked the most famous brands for its discriminating clientele. The famed Russell Stover, Bauers, Gilberts, Sherry's, Whitman's candies in so many different assortments! All fresh as fresh and ready to be put into the candy jars of those who know and appreciate the best candies in the land. A step over to the cosmetic counter at GROSSE POINTE DRUG CO. and there you'll find a gift in keeping with this gold and pink and silver season... Corday's exquisite Tzigane or Fame fragrances in pink velvet boxes!

In the midst of the Christmas rush, WALTON PIERCE GROSSE POINTE BRANCH is unpacking exciting, filmy gowns for the holiday parties. Gowns in lace or tulle for the sub debs at their own parties or those lucky enough to make an early evening appearance at big sister's debut. They are strapless, with the Very Bare look so right this season, and some of the skirts are anklelength and others. billow right down to the floor. A deb or young matron would grace the WALTON PIERCE GROSSE POINTE BRANCH'S white nylon net, sparsley touched with iridescent sequins ... or one of the candy pink, or pale blue nylon nets with bodices sculptured in matching ostrich plumes. There are gowns priced from the sub deb's budget right up to the elegant ones for her mama and grandmother, the latter to be found at WALTON PIECE in the City Club building.

Nor has the Pointe overlooked the Veddy, Veddy young crowd They are the specialty of that divine little shop, YOUNG CLOTHES, INC., where the tots may scream with delight over the English mice toys and Mama will coo at the budget priced frocks that have just arrived. The detail is as handsome in these less expensive dresses as it is in the custom beauties YOUNG CLOTHES has. And, party dresses which look as if they had been made by someone who cared, WALTON PIERCE SHOPS know just how you feel ... worn to a frazzle trying to finish up Christmas shopping and still look fresh for all the parties . . . so they are delighted to announce the imported French cremes and parfum of Helene du Cannet at both the Grosse Pointe and the City Club shops. It relaxed us just to look at the jars of this exquisite French formula which takes just a tiny bit to work miracles on the skin. Packed with that theater for which the French are renowned, the cosmetics are: Funel Creme which the French are renowned, the cosmetics are: Funel Creme du Roses No. 222, Funel Creme du Lavendar No. 401, Funel Creme du Lilac No. 201 each of which performs its own particular task for a particular skin and Funel Lemon Balm. The parfum, Funel No. 60 is a blend of flowers grown in the gardens of distilleries in Cannet, France. It comes in red suede encased square crystal bottles in half ounce, one ounce and two ounce sizes. There are small (one dram) golden candles of the parfum for Madame's Christmas tree or a small bottle, encased in gold leather could find its way to a charming woman's Christmas stocking The cosmetics, we repeat charming woman's Christmas stocking. The cosmetics, we repeat, are at both shops of WALTON PIERCE.
