Rabaut Named To High Position

Representative Louis C. Rabaut (D.Mich.) is named to a new and important position on the Appropriations team which steers money bills through Congress.

Rabaut was appointed chairman of a newly-created committee known as the Central Committee on Appropriations, and composed of eight members, whose job it will be to screen the allotments of the ten or more sub-committees dealing with appropriations in the $42 1/4 billion budget.

The Central Committee is the hub of the plan inaugurated by the Chairman of Appropriations, Clarence Cannon, who also is the chief proponent of the new one-measure appropriation bill, the purpose of which is to bring a single appropriation measure before the Congress at one time. Formerly, appropriations were passed at intervals during the year. Under the single bill, anticipated expenditures will be more readily known in their relationship to the expected revenues. This was not possible under the old system.

Rabaut, as Chairman of the Central Committee, will present the new bill to the full committee and he will also manage the bill on the floor of the House. As Chairman, he will take it to the Senate in conference. This new approach to expenditures, Rabaut feels, will result in sizeable savings.

Farms Fire Loss Low in February

Fire losses in the Farms for the month of February totaled $425, according to the monthly report of Fire Chief George Dansbury. The loss was divided between a car which was damaged to the amount of $25, a building, $250; and building contents, $150.

K. of C. Honor Rev. James Clark

A class of 75 candidates, named in honor of Rev. Fr. James D. Clark, O.S.A., assistant pastor of St. Clare Parish, Grosse Pointe, will be initiated in three degrees by Gabriel Richard Council, on Tuesday evening, March 28, starting at 7 p. m., in the club building, 7375 Amity at Parkview and Kercheval.

Father Clark is a graduate of Villanova and Catholic University, Washington, D. C., majoring in sociology. He taught for two years in the Spanish College, Philippine Islands, and later in St. Rita Technical High School, Chicago, Illinois.

He has acquired an enviable reputation as a radio commentator; outstanding were his three Catholic Hour programs under sponsorship of the Detroit Council of Catholic Men.

Father Clark is active in Gabriel Richard council, and takes part in the council's degree exercises.

Lutheran Choir To Give Cantata

As a climax of the Lenten season, the stirring cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," will be presented by the Choir of St. James Lutheran Church, 170 McMillan avenue, on Wednesday, March 29 at 8 p. m.

The cantata, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Schmitz, will feature the voices of two guest soloists, Carl Zehnder, tenor, who is heard locally on his own radio program, and Vaughan Heard, baritone, well-known local soloist. Miss Mildred Litke of the choir will be soprano soloist.

Written by the late nineteenth century French composer and organist Theodore Dubois, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" is noted for its unusual dramatic quality. The choir, which will personify the mob that crucified Christ, sings in sharp and vivid contrast to the hauntingly beautiful and tender Seven Words of the soloists. The cantata ends with the triumphant chorale of adoration, "Adoramus Te, Christe." Guest organist for the cantata will be Herbert Gotsch.

The Rev. George E. Kurz, pastor of St. James Church, will deliver the sermon on the Fourth Word "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?"

Girl Scout News

Grosse Pointe Senior Scouts held their first big rally during Girl Scout Birthday Week, with 60 girls and 10 leaders attending. Six Mariner, Wing and Service troops were represented at Miller where songs, talks and specially decorated refreshments made an entertaining evening for all. Mrs. Roeglin was chairman of this event.

The St. Paul School Girl Scouts and Brownies celebrated Birthday Week with a "play-party" for all the troops—325, 846 and 847. This included games, relays, songs and treats of ice cream, cookies and candy. Mrs. J. F. McCormick was in charge.

The Mason School birthday rally took place on the evening of March 15 with six troops attending. The showing of camp slides was one of the interesting features on the program, arranged by Mrs. I. Taylor, Neighborhood Chairman.

Eighty-five Scouts and Brownies participated in the Defer School celebration last week. The musical accompanists and members of the candle-lighting ceremony were from Troop 324, while Troop 870 presented an original skit about Juliette Low. Brownies of Troops 537 and 843 did an American folk dance and Troop 249 gave a choral reading on International Friendship.

Mrs. David Stapleton and Troop Committee members served refreshments and the following leaders planned the program: Mrs. C. Reeves, Mrs. K. Pressel, Mrs. D. Gignac, Mrs. S. Smith,

Netting Warns Pointes They Must Face Sewage and Drainage Problem Eventually

At the Council meeting of Grosse Pointe City on Monday night Mayor Ralph Netting advanced the opinion that the time was drawing near when Grosse Pointe should discuss seriously the formation of an authority embracing Grosse Pointe and possibly a part at least of Gratiot township for the treatment of all its sewage and waste as a self-contained unit.

Informal but Meaningful
Netting's remarks were wholly informal but nevertheless meaningful.

He said that Detroit, whose sewage problem is already acute and which is now treating a considerable part of the raw sewage from Grosse Pointe may, within a few decades grow into a giant city of three or four million population, and be less willing and less able to assist neighboring communities in the handling of their disposal problems.

The charge it now makes, he said, for the treatment of our raw sewage will never be less and probably will be much more.

In addition, the State's Water Resources Commission is putting more and more heat on the communities lining the littoral of the Great Lakes to keep pollution out of the waters.

One Good Example
A strictly local manifestation of this problem is the current effort of Detroit to compel three of the Grosse Pointe communities to help in the cost of merely by-passing one outlet to further protect its water supply. This expense to the three Pointe communities would be in excess of five million dollars.

With the possibility of any such cost facing Grosse Pointe, the Mayor contended, we should begin to make ready to meet the problem in all its aspects on our own.

Tacit Understanding
While there was no formal action taken by the Council on Mayor Netting's suggestion, there was a tacit understanding that the City's engineers should begin to explore the idea.

Both Lester Brown and Thomas Hanson of the firm of Mason L. Brown Sons, engineers for the city, were present at the meeting. Mr. Brown said that Grosse Pointe city would be fortunately situated to take up this problem as already it had to a large extent installed separate storm water and sanitary sewage disposal systems.

This matter it is understood was further discussed among the Pointe's representatives at the meeting with the State Water Resources Commission at Haven Hill the following day, but no report has yet come from that meeting.

No New Problem
The consolidation of Grosse Pointe's sewage and waste disposal has been discussed informally for some time among civic leaders, but this is the first airing the subject has had at an open meeting of any of the Councils.

As this suggestion advances to a more serious stage the Grosse Pointe community is going to be faced with the problem of getting a suitably located site of ample size for such a project.

The City owned for many years a tract of land 200 feet wide and 5,000 feet long in the Radnor-Warren-Canyon avenue area in Detroit which was originally used for much this same purpose by Grosse Pointe City.

Valuable Site Sold
This was abandoned in 1930 when the City made its present arrangement with Detroit for sewage treatment, which was then thought more desirable and economical. After holding the property for eighteen years after its abandonment, with only temporary wartime use as a reduction plant on one small part of the property, the whole tract was sold about two years ago to the Augustinian Order for $35,000.

The Order in turn sold most of the tract to Detroit for incorporation into its park system, reserving only such part of it on the northeast side as it needed for its High School.

The deal at the time was opposed by several City officials, including City Clerk Neff, who were convinced the property would be valuable sometime for some local public uses.

Police Destroy Suffering Dog

A mongrel dog that gave evidence of having German police dog in his recent ancestry, followed Melvin Beatty the City Building Inspector to the municipal offices on Maumee on March 16 at 12:45 p.m. He wore a collar but had no license.

The police placed him in a kennel in the municipal pound but a half hour later he was found to be violently sick, foaming at the mouth and giving evidence of having rabies.

The animal, was exterminated by the police and the body kept in the pound for three days awaiting a report of any other dog or human having been bitten by a dog answering his description. In this event his brain would have been examined at the Herman Kiefer Hospital. No such report coming in, the body was disposed of.

The police said the dog might have had only a bad case of worms. No authentic case of rabies has been reported in the Pointe for some time.

Hospital to Pay For New Sewer

The building of the large addition to the Bon Secours Hospital at Cadieux and Maumee had revived the long discussed problem of increasing the capacity of the neighborhood sewer drains.

It has been decided that the installation of a 24" inch sewer line from Cranford lane to the south curb on Maumee will serve the problem for the enlarged hospital and the neighborhood.

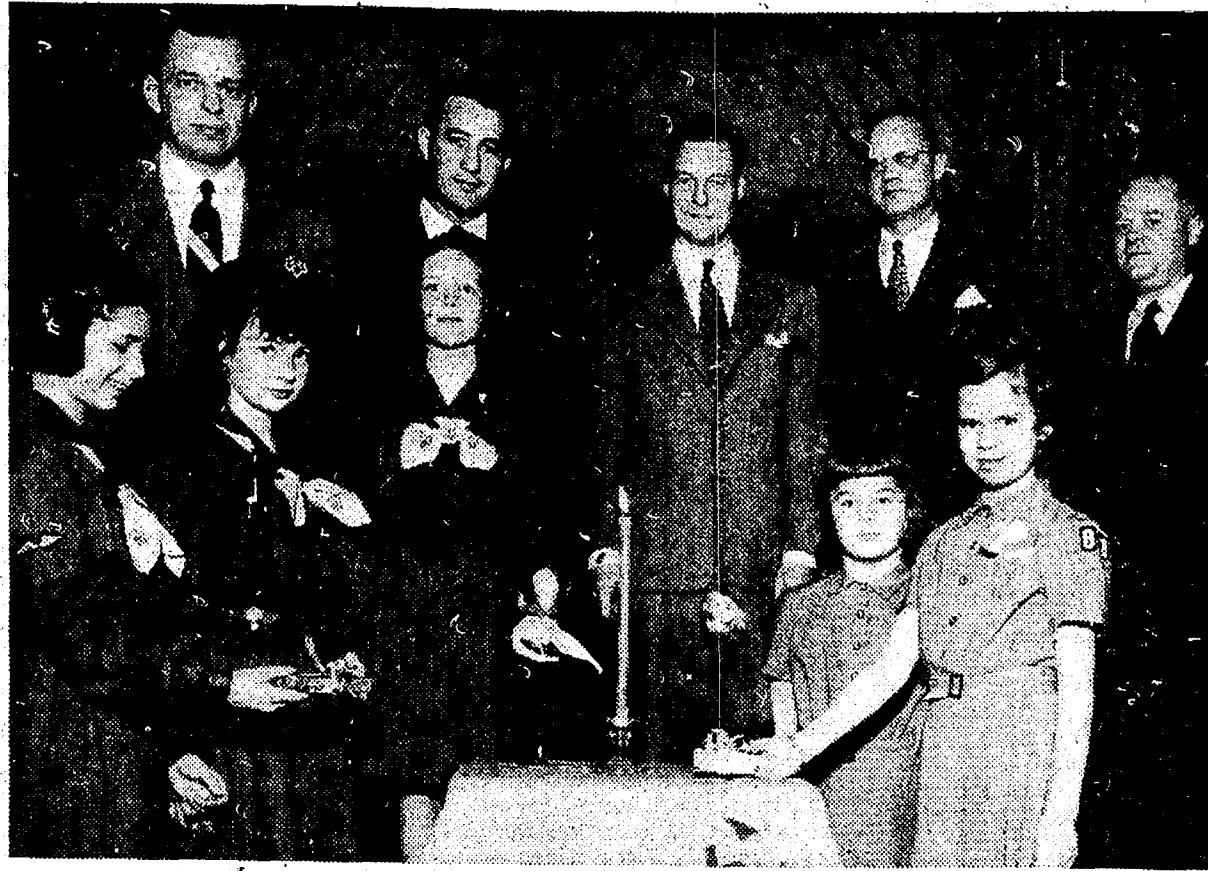

It was announced at the City Council meeting Monday night that a sewer line 309 feet long will be built between these points. The cost which will run about $15 per foot will be borne by the hospital.

Catholic Theater Plans To Give Passion Play

"The Upper Room," a Passion play, will be presented by the Catholic Theatre at the Music Hall, March 31, April 1-2-3-4. Here is a story of Christ's Passion and Death, with all the familiar scenes, The Last Supper, The Agony in the Garden, The Scourging at the Pillar, The Crowning with Thorns, and The Crucifixion.

The beauty of the play will be enhanced by the choral renditions of the St. Aloisius Choir.

Dads and Daughters Stage Big Party

These Girl Scouts, Brownies and their fathers were part of a crowd of almost 200 Kerby School participants at a father and daughter dinner in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on March 9. The event was held to celebrate the 38th birthday of the Girl Scouts and each troop gave its gift of pennies to the Juliette Low fund which is used for international friendship. Each father pinned a World Pin on his daughter as a surprise birthday gift. Left to right, back row, are: HENRY COLLINS, JOEL MASON, FRED TOEPEL, WALLACE JENSEN and DR. KENNETH KIMBERLIN. In the front row, left to right, are: ANNE COLLINS, BRENDA MASON and KARLEEN KIMBERLIN, Scouts of Troop 524, and SUSAN TOEPEL and KAREN JENSEN, Brownies of Troop 868. —E. J. Santee Picture

City Will Spend $12,000 on Pool

The go ahead signal was given Monday night by the City Council on the construction of the wading pool in the beach park. The pool is distinctly not a swimming pool but only intended for the children.

The pool will cost approximately $9,000, plus the cost of pumps and chlorinating machinery which will add another $3,000. It will be finished about June 1 or at least by the time schools close.

Reports Attack By Thief in Park

Mrs. Nell Geisler of 1328 Maryland was walking south on Maryland between Vernor and Kercheval at 10:30 p. m. on March 17 when she was approached from the rear by a young man who threw his arms around her neck in a strangling position and demanded her money.

Mrs. Geisler had no purse with her and the man thrust his hands into her jacket pocket. Finding that empty also, he ran north on Maryland.

Badly shaken by her experience Mrs. Geisler reported the affair to the Park police and they broadcast an alarm to all nearby scout cars. They picked up one suspect but Mrs. Geisler stated he was not the party. She could give only a meagre description of her assailant.

BUSINESS DEFLATED
Moses Joseph, who runs a gas station at 15200 Kercheval, reported to the Park police on March 16 that some mischievous boys had cut his air hose.

Thieves at Work Seen by Witness

At 9:17 a.m. on March 16 two colored men with a panel truck performed the quite accustomed routine of stealing a bundle of rubbish bags belonging to the City, which they found on the curb at Chalfonte and Washington.

Wesley Parrott, one of the City's street employees, saw them take the bags but was too far away to get the number of their truck. There were between 50-60 bags in the bundle.

3 Safe Robbers Awaiting Trial

Arne Lodin, who with his brother, John, and William F. Popeshil figured in the safe robbery at the Mike Carrodo home on Middlesex on Feb. 3, has pleaded guilty and at a hearing before Judge John Potter on March 16 was held in $500 bail with one surety.

In the absence of bond he is now in the county jail awaiting disposition of his case in Circuit Court. The other two are in the county jail, also awaiting trial.

Money Burglars Prowling Again

Park Police Patrolmen A. Conlan and P. Martin, in making their rounds on March 19 for examination of houses on the "watch list," found further evidence that the "money hunters" in Grosse Pointe are still at work.

The H. Ellington home at 1058 Audubon had been entered by breaking a window. A search of the place revealed that a diligent hunt for money had been made but other articles of value had been left undisturbed.

The family is in Florida.

Hit-Run Driver Damages Truck

Pat Scully, driver of a dairy truck, reported to the Farms police on March 17 that his truck had been sideswiped by a hit-run driver on Fisher road near Mack that morning.

Scully said he was coming out of a house after having made a delivery when he saw a poultry truck with two men in it, scrape the left side and fender of his truck. He said he hollered, but one of the men hurled an oath at him and the truck kept right on going, running through the stop sign at Fisher and Mack.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

The Newbery and Caldecott awards announced this month always make news in the library world.

To MARGUERITE DE ANGELI for her book, THE DOOR IN THE WALL, goes the Newbery medal for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children in 1949.

LEO POLITI receives the Caldecott award for the best picture book of the year, THE SONG OF THE SWALLOWS.

Mrs. De Angeli has written a number of books for children in the nine to twelve age range. Her newest book, The Door in the Wall, is her first with a foreign setting—thirteenth century England. It tells of the adventures of Robin, a young lad of noble family, crippled during the London plague. In all Mrs. De Angeli's books it is the illustrations that first attract. There is gaiety and beauty in their warm clear colors.

Of Italian descent, Leo Politi was born in Los Angeles and lived in that colorful Mexican section of the city, Olvera Street. His pictures and stories bear the mark of his association with the Mexican craftsmen and their families, who are his neighbors. There is a gentle quality and child like simplicity in his illustrations.

The Song of the Swallows is the story of a small boy Juan. Through his friendship with Father Julian of the Mission Church he learns of the arrival of the swallows on March 19, St. Joseph's Day and of their departure late in the summer.

About the middle of the eighteenth century a London bookseller, one John Newbery, placed over his door the surprising words, Juvenile Library. Surprising, because up to the middle of the 1700's there were few books made which children could properly think of as their own. This ingenious and versatile person was both author and publisher as well as a dealer in patent medicines. His books were made to give pleasure to children but he used them also to advertise his wares.

Because John Newbery's venture was regarded as the first milestone in bookmaking for children, the medal awarded each year for the most distinguished American book for children, bears his name.

It was in 1922 that Frederic G. Melcher, editor of Publishers

Weekly established and endowed the John Newbery medal. This was followed in 1938 by the Caldecott award, named for the early illustrator of children's books—Randolph Caldecott, to be given the best picture book of the year.

We could wish that all the Newbery and Caldecott medals had gone to top-flight material but like all prizes and awards they have sometimes fallen short of their mark. There have been many winning titles however, that have continued in popularity with youngsters over the years. Among these are The Voyages of Doctor Dolittle, Caddie Woodlawn, Smoky the Cowhorse and Call It Courage.

March seems to be the peak of the book reviewing season. Mrs. Helen Boothe of our library staff has been kept busy in her role of book reviewer. She spoke on the subject "Books and People" at a meeting of the American Association of University Women and also addressed the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church. Mrs. Boothe will be glad to give this service to any interested group in Grosse Pointe.

Miss Melitta Roemer in charge of the Main Library, attended a meeting of the Planning Committee of the Michigan Library Association in Lansing last week. Plans were made for the early Fall meeting of M.L.A. in Mackinaw.

Liberal Parking Elicits Praise

Erlend Reuter of the Farms, who took a leading part in urging that more liberal parking time be permitted on the meters on Kercheval between McKinley and McMillan, has expressed his thanks to the council for extending the parking time. One may now park a car in this block for two hours for 5c, the regular charge for only an hour's parking at the other locations on Kercheval. Mr. Reuter, who lives on McKinley, had informed the Farms council that the former one hour parking kept drivers out of that block and cluttered up the side streets which had no restrictions.

Dog Owners Given Another Opportunity to Train Pets

The Owner-Dog Obedience Training classes will start next Tuesday evening, March 28, according to Forrest Geary, Director of Community Services for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. The classes will meet in the Boy's Gymnasium of the High School.

These Owner-Dog classes have created a lot of interest during the past two years with more than 200 students taking these ten-weeks training sessions.

The opening meeting of the Spring program will be devoted to a lecture on the principles of dog training. This will be the only meeting when the student does not bring his dog. The owner will be given the scope of the course and shown what he can do to take advantage of the natural desire of his dog to please him.

Instructors for the classes will be Ray Lee, Don Dasher, and E. W. Averill. All are members of the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club.

Any breed of dog can be trained, according to Don Dasher. It is just a matter of teaching the owner what to do and how to do it. Every dog is a better companion after this type of training. All that is necessary is for the owner to work with his dog a few minutes every day.

Classes will be divided into Beginning Training as well as advanced work for former student Dog-Owners that have completed their novice work.

Advance registrations indicate that the spring classes will set a record for the number of entries. A few vacancies are open in both Beginning and Advanced classes. For reservations call TU. 5-2000, Extension 25.

Chris James Mully of 9725 Conner, Detroit, charged with speeding 40 m.p.h. on Jefferson between Buckingham and Kensington on June 17, 1947, paid a fine and costs of $20. The official record of this case was sent to Lansing on September 5, 1947.

In City Police Court on March 13, Judge Leslie Young disposed of two cases. Ralph S. Pulliam of 218 Merriweather, for failing to have car under control, resulting in an accident, paid a $15 fine and $5 costs.

George W. Gerber of 716 Berkshire, for driving at excessive speed, paid a $15 fine and $5 costs.

Coal Shortage Cases Handled

Farms City Clerk Harry A. Furtun in his report to Council on March 20 notes that during the coal shortage emergency the Farms cooperated with George Elworthy of the Neighborhood Club, who had been selected as coordinator in this work.

The Farms was only called upon to meet six emergency requests, and these were all immediately cleared.

Church to Show "Daybreak" Film

At the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Sunday, March 26, at 5 p. m. and again at 7 p. m. the film "Daybreak" will be shown to the Junior and Senior Pilgrim Fellowship Groups respectively. The Rev. Charles W. Scheid will be in charge of each program.

"Daybreak" is a new film that tells the story of the actual experiences of a young refugee who escapes to Austria after release from a Prisoner of War Camp. It is the drama of life among the world's dispossessed. It was produced as a means of telling the American people the true story of both the Displaced Persons and the plight of the millions of refugees, refugees not only in Germany and Austria, but also in the Palestine area, in Greece, India, Burma, and China.

Following this interesting program an informal social hour has been planned. Refreshments will be served by members of the groups.

Lake Nicaragua in Central America is the only fresh-water lake in the world that contains man-eating sharks.

Soils and Soil Preparation Discussed by Garden Expert

By Vincent DePatris

Garden soils may be classified into three distinct types, Sandy soils, Clay soils and Loamy soils. It will be helpful to the garden lover if he or she would consider the salient characteristics of each type, evaluating the advantages and drawbacks which they may possess.

The first type, Sandy soils, will be found to possess the advantage of being easily tilled. Sandy soils are also warmer since they dry out much more rapidly and for this reason can be worked more quickly after rains.

Its Drawbacks

The drawbacks of sandy soils are lack of humus or decayed vegetable matter. Sandy soils are also most frequently deficient in nutrients not merely because of the lack of this humus but also because of its sandy composition. The sand particles which permit the free passage of water and air will also cause the leaching of vital nutrients which are needed for plant growth.

Correction measures for sandy soils therefore consists of the addition of decayed vegetable matter such as leaf mold, peat and barnyard manure. The effect of these ingredients is to permit the retention of water which would otherwise pass freely through the sandy particles.

Chemicals are Needed

Secondly, chemical fertilizers must be effectively incorporated to compensate the greater effects of leaching caused by rain or water. Of these two remedies it must be emphasized that the first, the addition of humus is by far the most important. Chemical fertilizers alone will never correct sandy soils.

Clay soils are the diametric opposites of sandy soils. The extremely fine particles of this type of soil cause it to retain moisture over a much longer period. Clay soil therefore is not only soggy and poorly drained, but it is also colder, thus retarding growth in the Spring months.

Because leaching out of soil nutrients is much less rapid clay soils will be found to contain more fertility.

Corrective measures for improving clay soils consists of the addition of sand, slag or screened ashes to render them more porous. Decayed vegetation in the form of manures or leaf mold is very helpful.

Loamy soils consist of black earth formed by many centuries of decayed grasses and vegetation incorporated with either sand or clay.

We frequently encounter therefore what are termed sandy loam and clay loam.

Loamy soils are the most fertile. If properly cultivated and replenished they will remain fertile year after year.

Proper treatment requires the annual addition of both chemical fertilizers as well as humus. Growing plants are constantly taking these elements out of the ground and the only manner in which soil fertility may be maintained is by putting back into the soil the elements which plants take out in the process of growth.

Nature accomplishes this in the manner whereby the plant decays and falls to the ground thereby returning all its chemical components back to the soil.

Soil cultivation should be undertaken only while the ground is comparatively dry. Wet soils should never be cultivated. This is particularly true of clay soils.

Good advice therefore is to stay out of your garden when it is wet. You will do a great deal of harm which will plague you for the rest of the growing season if you try to do your gardening under damp conditions.

The wise gardener will invariably do his spading in the fall. This permits the action of frost to thoroughly disintegrate the soil particles. Later, with the arrival of spring, a second spading will leave the soil in prime condition for planting.

However you do it, do not attempt to work wet soils. Wait until they are dry and friable.

Shores Adopts Gas Ordinance

At the Grosse Pointe Shores council meeting on March 13 the ordinance regulating the procedure for installation in gas house heating or for the conversion to gas house heating was passed.

The ordinance is practically identical with the one which Detroit has in force and those already adopted by several of the Pointe communities.

At the same meeting a communication was received from the Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs Council asking the cooperation of the Shores village in the clean up campaign which is to be carried on in the week of April 23-30.

The council approved the project and promised the village would cooperate.

To Give Lecture On Landscaping

On Thursday, March 23, at 8 p.m., Andrew R. Davis, a landscape architect for 20 years, will talk on landscape design and answer questions. Would you like to know what evergreens to use for your foundation planting, so that ten years from now you won't walk through a forest to find your front door? A little exaggerated, perhaps, but some spruce and pine grow very fast and will hide a house in ten years, instead of frame and enhance it.

Mr. Davis will show specimens of the different evergreens and will help plan your new garden, or replant an old one. His talk will deal mainly with basic planting, such as house foundations and background evergreens and shrubs.

This is the second in a series of four lectures arranged by the Grosse Pointe Garden Center for all Grosse Pointe residents. There is no admission charge. The last two meetings also will deal with practical gardening and will be held after Easter.

The series opened last Thursday night with colored slides of the rivers and gardens of Kashmir, taken by Mrs. Benjamin S. Warren and Mrs. Russell A. Alger. Mrs. Warren's delightful descriptions and the beautiful pictures carried her audience on the Arabian Nights' world of the Mogal Emperors in Northern India, through the fortified Khyber Pass, and into wild and still little known Afghanistan.

Netting's Turn To Direct Radio

Under the contract governing the creation and operation of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Municipal Police Radio Service the chairmanship of that Service alternates between the respective heads of the local governments annually.

The second chairman of the Board, who starts his term of office on April 1, will be Mayor Ralph Netting of Grosse Pointe City.

At the City Council meeting Monday night Mayor Ralph Netting asked Councilman Chester L. Carpenter to represent him at the meeting of the Police Radio Service group on April 3. Mr. Netting expects to be out of the city on that day.

There are 882 Girl Scout troops in the metropolitan area.

Pointes to Join In Cleanup Drive

Grosse Pointe City is going to cooperate with the Garden Clubs Council in the cleanup campaign which will be carried through in the week of April 23-30. A similar request has been addressed by the clubs of the other Pointe councils and all will participate. The municipalities' part will largely consist of slicking up their own streets and curbs.

At the City Council meeting on Monday night there was considerable discussion about getting the use of a regular street sweeper for this occasion. The City has no such machine but the belief was expressed that the use of one might be obtained from the County Road Commission.

Such a machine is a costly piece of apparatus, running up to $5,000 to $7,000. The Park owns one but it will need its full time service for cleaning its own streets during this period.

The Farms council voted Monday night to cooperate 100 percent with the Garden Council's request. The Farms also owns a street sweeper.

Stark to Give Historical Talk

The scheduled talk by George W. Stark of the Detroit News on "History on the Home Front" at the Memorial Center on Friday evening, March 24, should be both informing and entertaining for Grosse Pointers, particularly for those who have made this their permanent home.

Mr. Stark has been styled the historiographer of the Detroit region. Many of the incidents in the early history of our old community link in closely with the Nation's story. His talk will be a treat for those interested in learning of our past.

There is no admission charge and all are welcome.

Detroit and Wayne County spend more for raw materials than any other county in the United States.

Memorial Team Wins Church Crown

To Present Play By Noel Coward

Noel Coward's three act comedy, "The Young Idea," is to be presented at Pierce Auditorium Tuesday, April 4, at 8:30 p.m. Sponsored by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and performed through special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc., the production is open to the public. There will not be an admission charge.

The delightful vagaries of two mischievous teen-agers as they maneuver their newly discovered father into difficulties with his highly sophisticated second wife, are depicted against a mosaic of staid English country life for the first two acts, then are swung into the softer, more comfortable background of Italian villa existence while the youngsters' exuberant plotting becomes ever more amusing, involving their own mother as well.

The cast of fourteen is drawn from the ranks of the adult education group known as The Masquers who now enter upon their fourth year of production. The names of the members of the cast will be announced next week.
