Alley Vacating Request Studied by Park Council

The petition of Charles Verheyden, of 16300 Mack, to have an alley vacated, was heard before the Park Commission at an open meeting on June 26.

The petition was a declaration of Verheyden's intent to provide off-the-street parking facilities for 20 cars if the Commission would declare the alley behind the Verheyden funeral home vacant. Mr. Verheyden's attorney stated that residents in the immediate area were misinformed when they were led to believe a parking lot, as such, would be erected. He said Verheyden merely wishes to build a driveway, 20' wide, which would have the effect of alleviating the present congested parking conditions in the neighborhood. In addition to the "parking lot" Verheyden plans to enlarge his present establishment with the addition of a new chapel.

In opposition to the plans proposed by Verheyden, George F. Mehling, of 1142 Audubon, representing the Scripps Subdivision Property Owners Association, declared that Verheyden's proposal was an encroachment on the right of the property owners in the immediate area.

His contention was that Grosse Pointe is a residential area and should not be made to suffer because of business reasons. He said Verheyden proposed to penetrate south with his building plans. (Three of the six lots to be immediately affected are owned by Verheyden). Mehling suggested that if any further expansion is to take place it should be along Mack, which is zoned for business frontage, and not south, which is a residential area, and must remain so.

Dr. Horton Kimball, of 1358 Harvard, told the assembled group that if Verheyden were permitted to expand, precedent would be established and no assurance would be given the taxpayers against further encroachment by business.

The meeting closed without any definite action taken on the issue. The Commission would like to have more time to study the proposal.

Pole on Kerby Hill Halts Milk Truck Meanderings

Ray Cannarts, of 1205 Lakewood, was making a routine milk delivery Sunday morning, June 25, at 256 Kerby. When Cannarts returned to the street, he was quite startled not to find his truck where he had parked it.

In that particular location on Kerby there is a hill . . . and the emergency brake on the truck didn't hold. The milk truck was found at the bottom of the hill, lovingly nudged up to a light pole. Fortunately the only damage done was to the globe which had been knocked off the light pole.

Gerald was riding north on Maryland when the hit-run car swerved around the corner of Hampton onto Maryland, going south. The boy said he tried unsuccessfully to get out the path of the oncoming car.

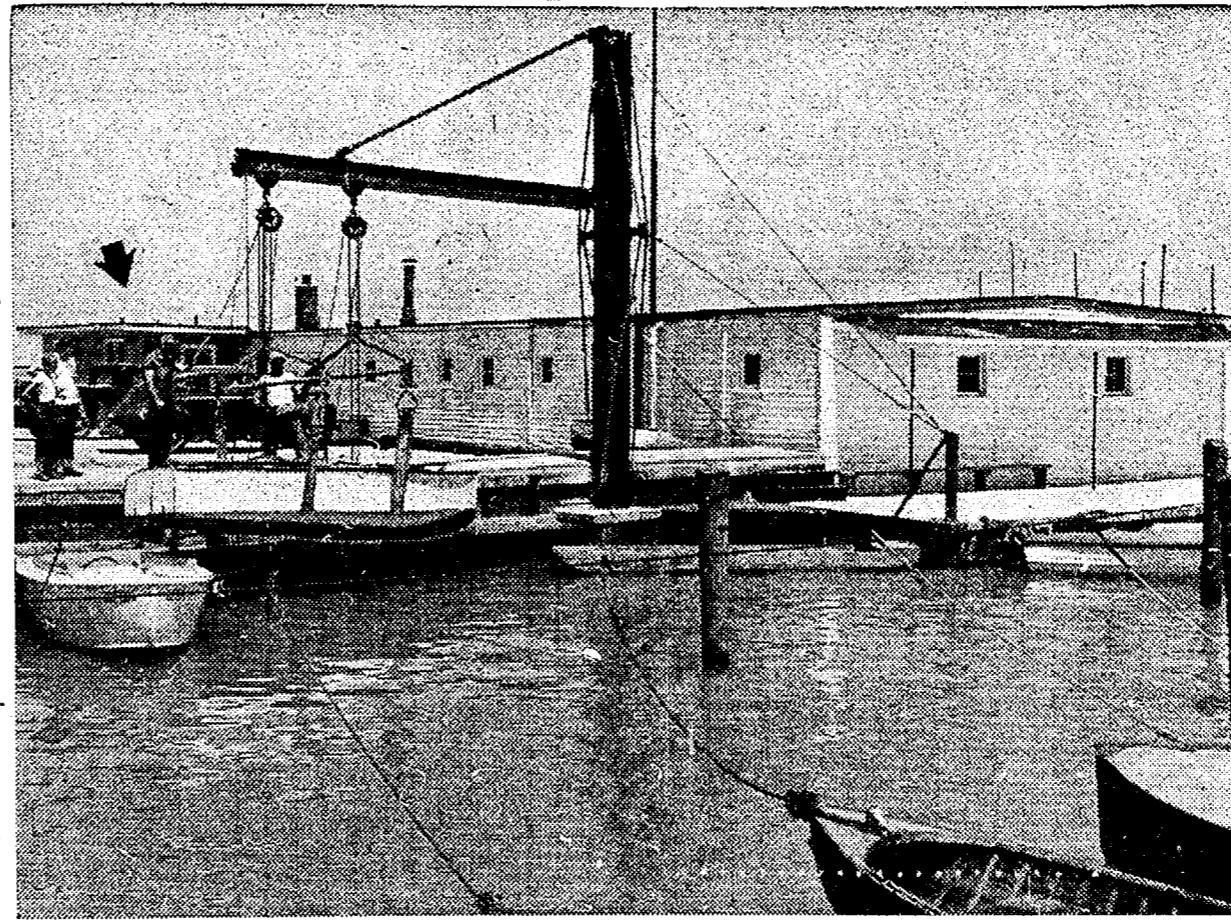

The car struck the rear wheel of the bicycle and Gerald was hurled to the pavement. Although his injuries were not serious, he received a bruised right elbow, scratches and bruises on the right portion of his chest, and bruises on the calf of his left leg. The bike Gerald was riding at the time of the accident is owned by David Cook, of 1037 Maryland.

Park police are still seeking the driver of the hit-run car.

Carolyn Thomas, 12, of 509 Lincoln, was struck by a car while riding her bicycle on Lincoln, on June 22. Carolyn was on the sidewalk proceeding north on Lincoln. A car pulled into a driveway to turn around and accidentally struck Carolyn's bike.

The driver of the car backed out of the driveway and sped away. Carolyn received bruises from her fall. Her bike was badly damaged. Police are still seeking the driver who left the scene of the accident.

Pointers Get Their Share Of Ribbons at Horse Show

By Barbara Cornwell

Although many top show horses were vanned in from all parts of the midwest, Grosse Pointers had no trouble in picking off their share of the blues in the thirty-ninth annual horse show held at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club on Cook road.

Blond-haired Janet Allen, of 750 Westchester, up on Bebe, was tied second to Dick Fruehauf's Good Deal in the Amateur Working Hunter class Friday evening.

E. C. Putnam, of 81 Sunningdale, saw his chestnut gelding, Beldale, tied for third by Judge Christopher Greer, of Middlebury, Virginia.

The Hunter Hack class, open to members only, was won by Gumdrops, ridden by Mary Mulford. Janet Widerman rode her chestnut gelding, Scotch n' Soda, to second place, and Garfield Style was third.

Robert McCray, up from Barbourville, Kentucky, judged the gaited and fine harness classes.

When a five year old black mare, operating under the tag of Black Symphony, won the Three-gaited Stake June 18, her owner, Miss Jeanne Vance, of 32 Hendrie Lane, was naturally pleased, but when she came back to win the model walk-trot class the next day, her owner was doubly happy. Miss Vance was up both times.

Several other Grosse Pointe riders included Julianne Chapman, whose mount was Missy's Precision, Barbara Fruehauf, up on Dandy Dick and Sur Breton, and Karen Christianson, of 515 Middlesex, Grosse Pointe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Boyd, of 662 Sunningdale, brought their three-gaited black gelding, Guardsman, to compete in various events, and were rewarded when he won the three-gaited class Sunday afternoon. He was also tied second to Dama's Rose Denmark, in another walk-trot class.

Guardsman was also shown at the coliseum this spring, but was defeated by Mrs. Jack Feat's Fay Cozette, with Mrs. Dewey Cobb in the saddle.

Trained by the expert Henry Jennings, who has made many excellent horses in the past, Fay Cozette was given a fine ride by Mrs. Cobb, but the horse was

Council Studies Parking Requests

Business discussed by the members of the Park Village commission on June 26 included review of the petition from the residents on Beaconsfield requesting the elimination of parking on the west side of Beaconsfield. A similar petition was submitted by residents on Barrington, requesting no parking or limited parking on that street.

The commission has decided to study the proposal further before action will be taken. The study will be done in conjunction with the police department, who it is felt, will be able to offer many helpful suggestions.

A proposed garbage disposal system to service the five Grosse Pointe communities was discussed by the commission. A draft of the proposal will be submitted to the councils of all the Pointe communities.

The commission has made the recommendation that the Park Fire Chief, Edward Rector, be permitted to attend the International Association of Fire Chiefs at San Francisco, September 12 through 17.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

After last week, society was talking about two beautiful girls... the one a debutante... Lydia Buhl... the other a deep-lashed bride, the new Mrs. Ted Ewald...

By this time pages of copy have been written about the wonderful dance the C. Henry Buhls gave for their debutante last Saturday evening...

We can only add a note or two...

One... the Milk Bar... with a dairy maid and a real, live cow who chewed its cud rhythmically to Meyer Davis' music... while the dairy maid dispensed little bottles of milk to the Young Set...

The other... the hamburger stand with its white capped chef who stood over his hot little grill all evening long... browning hamburgers for eager takers...

And maybe you hadn't heard... that after the fireworks display (for which the Buhls got special permission from the Fire Dept... and incidentally, following the magnificent burst of beautiful colors in the sky Charlie Creedon, of the Box 12 Creedons, was told that the fire dept. switchboard lit up almost as brightly as calls poured in wondering WHAT had happened in Grosse Pointe!)

But after the fireworks... a veritable parade of maids carrying breakfast plates filled with scrambled eggs, tiny sausages, corned beef hash (which made THAT great a hit with the gentlemen!)... marched onto the terraces where hundreds of guests were served in an unbelievably short time...

The Littlest Debutante

When we think of the hamburgers at the Buhl dance... we are reminded of the conversation we had with Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson at the wedding reception of Carolyn Taylor and Ted Ewald at the Little Club on Saturday...

Seems as if after her auntie Barbara Wilson's coming out party very young Judy Johnson (daughter of the former Frances Dodge) asked her grandmother how soon SHE could have a debutante party...

She knew right then what she wanted... three orchestras and hot dogs!

Bouquets of the Year

The bridesmaids' bouquets of the year were carried at the Taylor-Ewald wedding... (and Ted's sister, Mrs. Brewster Loud Jr. now of Saratoga, Calif., was an elegant matron of honor)...

Small round bouquets, they were formed of extra large deep purple violets and encased around the outer circle in the violet's green leaves... forming perky leaves within the bouquet were small shoots of amethyst net... streamers from the bouquet were caught at the ends of tiny clusters of violets... real French nosegays!

Carolyn and Ted flew out to the coast following their wedding reception... and will spend a few days with the Louds at their California home... before sailing for their Hawaiian wedding trip...

And of course young Teddy Loud will never know how many of his mama's friends... were exclaiming that "Shirley simply can't have such a young man son!"... for he's grown tall to belie his fourteen years...

As one of his uncle's ushers... he had a marvelous time... and one of his proudest moments was when he offered his arm to his beautiful grandmother, Mrs. Henry T. Ewald... and they marched down the aisle together... with another proud as punch gentleman, Mr. Ewald, right behind...

Wedding Guests

Just a few we glimpsed on the lawns in front of the Little Club at the Taylor-Ewald reception were Mrs. J. Stewart Hudson (her daughter, Mrs. Robert Rorick of Perrysburg, O. kept the beauty standards of the bridesmaids high)... Mrs. Chisholm Macdonald being complimented right and left for the ball on Friday which introduced daughter, Mary Stuart, to Detroit Society... Mrs. Wesson Seyburn... Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson Browning and their daughter, Mrs. Bachelor Browning... Mr. and Mrs. Christian Henry Hecker... Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fitzpatrick...

Two of Season's Loveliest Debutantes

MISS LYDIA BUHL, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Buhl of East Jefferson Avenue, who bowed to society at a dance Saturday night at the home of her parents. MISS MARY STUART MACDONALD, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm N. Macdonald of Mirabeau place, was presented Friday night at a dance at the Country Club.

C. Henry Buhls and Chisholm Macdonalds Introduce Daughters at Gala Balls on Friday and Saturday Evenings; Highlights of Debutante Season

Friday and Saturday evenings, long double-starred on Pointe calendars as the highlights of this year's debutante season, came and went—leaving behind them lovely memories of the two lovely debs who made their deep courtesies at gala balls, Mary Stuart Macdonald and Lydia Buhl.

Fair-haired Mary Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm Macdonald, was presented by her parents at an all-golden ball at the Country Club, on Friday.

Arrangements of yellow roses brightened the room where Mary Stuart and her parents received, and adorned the tables from which a continuous buffet was served beginning at 1 a.m.

The deb wore a frothy frock of white Swiss organdy for her debut, with the wide, off-shoulder neckline outlined in Irish lace and a band of the lace circling the fitted waistline. She carried a bouquet of white spray orchids, the gift of her father. Mrs. Macdonald's gown was contrived of layers of lime and yellow nylon net, with draped shirring forming the shoulder straps. The full skirt cascaded over a motif of yellow roses at one side, and her corsage was yellow spray orchids.

Mary Stuart's ushers were headed by Henry F. Rust and included her cousin, Truman Talley of New York; her brother, Ross Banks Macdonald; Henry M. Woodhouse, Benjamin H. Paddock, Jr.; Joseph S. Sherer III, Peter Paddock, Robert Palms, Harold R. Boyer, (Continued on Page 8)

Carolyn Davison Taylor Speaks Vows Saturday in Christ Church; Eight Attendants Precede Her Down Aisle; Reception at Grosse Pointe Club

When a Hawaii-bound liner sets sail from San Francisco on Friday, aboard her will be the new Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Ewald, Jr., their destination a month-long, fairy-tale honeymoon.

They were married at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon in Christ Church, with the Rev. J. Clemens Kolb officiating.

Md.; Mrs. Robert Warwick of Ferrysburg, O.; Bebe Woods of St. Louis, Mo.; and Eleanor Buell.

The bride is the former Carolyn Davison Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Taylor of Grosse Pointe boulevard. Ted's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Ewald of Iroquois avenue.

The attendants' frocks were fashioned of lavender organdy, with fichu necklines and full, ballet-length skirts. Their organdy hats were in a deeper shade of organdy, with halo brims and crowns of dark green violet leaves. They carried tight nosegays of deep purple violets.

Carolyn's ivory satin gown was fashioned with a wide sweetheart neckline, outlined in unpressed folds of the satin, a yoke of netting, fitted sleeves and a very full skirt, ending in a full-length train.

Ted's best man was Ernest Kratzet, Jr. Guests at the wedding were seated by Albert Manion of Chicago, Ill.; Charles McKean, Theodore Loud, Richard Gushee, Paul Everett of Exeter, N. H.; Paul Eaton of Pleasant Ridge, Jerry Dykema and Herbert V. Book, Jr.

The long veil of point de Venise lace which floated over the train was the one worn by Ted's sister, Mrs. Brewster Loud, Jr. of Saratoga, Calif., at her wedding. The pretty bride carried a bouquet of white spray orchids and stephanotis.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Grosse Pointe Club.

To receive guests at her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Taylor chose an afternoon-length chiffon gown shading from delphinium to a soft sky blue.

Beachcombers Take Over G.P. Yacht Club for Annual Frolic

Leis and garlanded bedecked the revellers at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's South Sea Beachcomber's Party Saturday and strains of dreamy island music drifted out to greet them when they entered the Fo'Castle.

Rex B. Regan originated the party three years ago and his decor was such a hit then, that it has been faithfully reproduced each year.

Rush mat huts and bamboo fences lined the walls of the informal room and its pillars were transformed into palm trees for the occasion. The bobber bordered fishing nets draped about the scene were studded with bits of coral and starfish. And for the final flourish, the Hawaiian orchestra was perched atop the heavy pillings of a pier.

Authentic Hawaiian cuisine featured such native delicacies as fried shrimp, Cantonese, wild rice, tropical fruit salad and almond cookies, so not a thing was overlooked in creating the exotic atmosphere of the South Seas.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Biggs were among those who were reminded of their own trip to the Islands. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rose, Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Donnelly and the Hi Dawsons.

Dr. and Mrs. Christopher Smith made use of the party's theme to play the records they brought back from their recent visit as background music for their cocktail party preceding the main event. Leis of orchids were the host and hostess' gifts to Mrs. N. B. Goodnow, Mrs. A. V. Owens and Mrs. Edward A. Biederman who with their husbands were the Smith's guests.

At Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rousseau's table were Mr. and Mrs.

Donald Walcott, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Powers and Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Warren, who very recently returned from Europe, counted Beachcomber's as another stop on their itinerary. Their guests on the legendary cruise included Mr. Warren's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Warren and Arlie Latham, both of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. A. John Bloodworth.

Other hosts at the favorite party were Mr. and Mrs. John DeHayes and the Howard Simons who brought Mr. and Mrs. E. Richard Holtz to make up their foursome.

Driving over after cocktails at Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schultz's home on Three Mile drive was their party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Cueny, the Ray Navins and Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Donnelly.

Others who counted Hawaii a part of call Saturday were the Carl Smiths, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Snure, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duff, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Vansol, the Leroy Paynes and Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Williams.

Pointer Wed To Flint Man

Mary Louise Leszczynski's marriage to Linus Michael Shea was solemnized at nuptial high mass in St. Clare de Montefalco Church at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Leszczynski of Whittier road and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shea of Flint.

Mary Louise was married in a gown of ivory satin with fitted bodice and long, fitted sleeves of Chantilly lace. Satin scallops edged the off-shoulder neckline, which sparkled with rhinestones and bugle beads. The full skirt swept into a circular train, with folds of the skirt forming a butterfly bustle in back. A close-fitting cap of Chantilly lace fastened her silk illusion fingertip veil, and Mary Louise carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Maid of honor for her sister was Joan Barbara Leszczynski and bridesmaids were Alfreda Sowa and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Jack Cummings. They wore identical dresses of sea-foam marquisette. The honor maid wore a garland of yellow daisies in her hair and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The maids' flowers were white daisies.

Linus' best man was Carl J. Makowski of Flint. Edward Zick and the bride's brother, James C. Leszczynski, ushered.

Following a reception in the home of the bride's parents, the newlyweds left on a cruise to Georgian Bay and other points in Canada. Mary Louise traveled in a light-weight pink suit with variegated pastel accessories. She pinned her wedding orchid to her suit.

Lester Lannin and his New York orchestra played for the dancers on a floor constructed over the club's bowling green, overlooking the eighteenth hole.

The following evening belonged to beautiful, dark-haired Lydia Buhl, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Buhl, introduced her at a ball held in their home on Ellair place.

Lydia, the season's most-feted deb, received with her parents in their blue and white living room, wearing a dream frock of clouds of delphinium blue net, with a sparkling overlay of pink and lavender sequin flowers.

Mrs. Buhl's gown was of the same pink-and-lavender tones, cut from taffeta, with a diagonal cuff of the material reaching from one shoulder diagonally across the skirt.

A green marquee was erected on the terrace, with a white lining in satin stripes, held aloft by two plastic-covered center posts. Saturday night's brief showers failed to dampen the dancers, who moved to the music of Meyer Davis and his orchestra. For the occasion, Davis introduced a song he had composed, "Lydia's the Girl of the Year."

ANOTHER DOG BITE

With it she wore a pale delphinium meline hat and spray orchids in the same shade.

Mrs. Ewald wore ashes of rose chiffon, with a velvet and tulle chapeau in lighter tones. Her corsage was of pink orchids.

For her plane trip to the West Coast, Carolyn changed to a navy linen dress with a double Peter Pan collar in red and white, with a red and white monogram on the left side. Her white straw hat was distinguished by a red-and-white emblem and her accessories were navy.

When the young couple return from their Hawaiian trip, they'll move into their new house on Touraine road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Meyer of Bishop road and their daughter, Dorothy, have left for a European tour which will keep them abroad until September.

The former PATRICIA MCKEAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McKean of Bishop road, who became the bride of Phillip Buick Van Dusen at Grosse Pointe Memorial church on Thursday, June 22. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theron Van Dusen of Metamora.

Annapolis Men Feted at Dance

Pointe beauties helped to open the summer social season at the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station last week, and a gay occasion it was. Guests of honor were a contingent of midshipmen from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, in town for a three-day stop on their annual air cruise, designed to give them a first-hand picture of the country's social and economic life.

Middies and officers broke out their summer whites for the dance in the station's Officers' Club, for which Earl Perkins furnished the music.

Capt. J. P. Walker, commanding officer of the station, was host and Mrs. Ernest E. Wemp and Mrs. Neill E. Graham arranged for the midshipmen's partners.

These included, from the Pointe, Patricia Osborn, Mary Elizabeth Fisher, Lois Holtz, Janice Fisher, Peggy Wortley, Ann Schroeder, Mary Jane Wortley, Judy Hennecke, Mary and Frances Boyer and Janice and Beverly Skillman.

More were Rosemary Dingeman, Jean Collinson, Jane Wortley, Shirley Davis, Sue Rogers, Mary Doelle, Patricia Murphy, Ann Hicks and Jacqueline Montie.

Chaperoning the young people were Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, Mrs. James O. Murfin, Mrs. Benjamin S. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Wemp, the John N. Lords, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Braur, and the Frank A. Wickhams, in addition to officers and their wives.

The visitors took off again on Friday.

Bride Chooses White Organdy

MRS. WILLIAM SILBERBERG

Wearing a frock of imported organdy trimmed with eyelet embroidery, Dorothea Clare Wallace became the bride of William C. Silberberg on Saturday afternoon in Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church.

A cap of lace fastened the bride's fingertip illusion veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. Dorothea is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wallace of Beaconsfield avenue.

She was attended by her sister, Barbara Wallace, as maid of honor, and bridesmaids Patricia Kerr and Carol Russell, sister of the bridegroom. The honor maid was in blue marquisette and carried yellow daisies, and the maids' gowns were yellow marquisette. Their flowers were white daisies.

Bill is the son of Mrs. Hiram Russell of Westbury, N. Y., and Herbert Silberberg of New York City. He asked his brother, Alfred Silberberg, to be his best man. Ushers were Rudolph Ranke of Buffalo, N. Y.; Edward Miller of Chicago and George Young.

A reception in the church auditorium followed the ceremony. Mrs. Wallace chose a frock of soft rose crepe and matching hat for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Russell, was in periwinkle blue, with which she wore a matching hat.

When the pair departed for their honeymoon in Canada, Dorothy was wearing a navy dress with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Blames Accident On Stopped Bus

Valerie Miller, 17, of 1842 Hollywood was driving east on Beaufre approaching Moross on June 28. At the intersection she turned right on Moross and bumped into a car being driven by Lempi Lampi, or 678 Selden, Detroit.

While making the turn Miss Miller had her vision impaired by a Grosse Pointe bus that was taking on passengers. The damage to the Miller car was estimated at $15 and Lampi car was damaged to the extent of $50. No tickets were issued by the police.

Our doubts are traitors, and make us lose the good we oft might win, by fearing to attempt.

DOG OWNER ON PROBATION

In court on June 22, Judge J. Burgess Book, 3rd, placed William Ruel of 485 Lakeshore, on probation because of trouble with Ruel's dog. The dog bit John Peacock, Jr., 2½, on June 11. Judge Book warned Ruel that if the dog is picked up again, it will be impounded.

Unexplainable Apathy

It is difficult to understand the failure of the Pointe to adequately support its War Memorial Center. It appears incredible that so few of the local residents have participated in the creation of this magnificent gift to the community, and are continuing to pass up the opportunity to help develop this Center towards its so obvious possibilities.

It was to be supposed that residents of an area boasting such a high per capita wealth, would make easy the task of raising sufficient funds to create a fitting memorial to those who made such sacrifices in World War II. This has been far from the case.

The first campaign for a War Memorial Library failed dismally. With a goal of $525,000 set, less than $250,000 was raised, and this amount was largely donated by a few of the more wealthy families. The spontaneous response of the entire population which should have been forthcoming to such an appeal, has never manifest itself.

The whole memorial project would have been abandoned and the money raised returned to the donors had it not been for the gift of the Center property on the lakefront by the Alger family. The funds on hand from the original drive were sufficient to do necessary reconiditioning of the building, partially restore the beautiful gardens and grounds and buy equipment and furnishings that were needed to make the Center a going concern. The money left over has been put into an endowment fund to produce income to help maintain the Center.

With this fine nucleus for a memorial that could suitably bespeak the gratitude of the Pointe to its war dead and survivors, it might once again have been expected that the very great majority of the residents would rally to the movement and make certain that the development of the Center would progress in keeping with the vast possibilities which had been opened up. But not at all.

The endowment fund was far too small to produce the needed income for maintenance, let alone any further development. A small group of patriotic and civic-minded Pointers pledged annual gifts of $500 each for a limited number of years to help meet the deficit. That this should be necessary in a community like Grosse Pointe is little short of a public disgrace.

The War Memorial should not be kept alive by a small group. It should be the happy privilege of every single resident of the Pointe to make some annual donation to this project which could make such a worthwhile return in pride of sharing and in its possible immeasurable addition to the patriotic, cultural and educational life of the community.

The Center has already made more than a fair demonstration of the part it can play in the lives of all the residents. The degree to which it could be developed is almost limitless. Yet it is still necessary to have to beg the large majority of the residents of the Pointe to participate in this program.

Two weeks ago between 7,000 and 8,000 solicitations were mailed to Pointe homes which so far have contributed not a penny to the War Memorial. To date the response has been a mere trickle of donations. It is difficult to understand.

There are scores of drives every year, for funds to support every conceivable type of charity and project. In this area it is very often the large contributions of Pointers which make these campaigns successful. To our knowledge this is the first project that has ever been undertaken which should have a great appeal for every resident.

The War Memorial Center is not only the Pointe's opportunity to pay tribute to its war dead and its surviving veterans; it also presents a selfish appeal in that it can be developed into a lasting source of enjoyment for all Pointers, present and future.

If every resident who so far has donated nothing, will contribute to the best of his ability now, the future of the War Memorial Center will be assured. No solicitation is being made at the present time from anyone who has made any previous donation. If additional help could be obtained through voluntary gifts from those who feel they have not yet given all they should, the tremendous possibilities of the Center could begin to be realized.

*"Who walks with Beauty has no need of fear;
The sun and moon and stars keep pace with him;
Invisible hands restore the ruined year,
And time itself, grows beautifully dim."*

(David Morton)

It isn't odd when misunderstandings arise when an American and a foreigner who doesn't speak "so good English" are conversing. But it can be funny when two Americans are talking . . . and one is from the deep South. Here is a perfect example. Last week, a couple from the South arrived in town to houseguest with a Pointe couple. While waiting for their host at the airport, they ran into an old school tie of the husband's . . . and started to chat. The school tie immediately observed that the little woman was from the South. He then observed that the pair were toting golf bags . . . so he said, "If you aren't too tied up with your hosts while you're here, how about a game of golf someday? My wife and I play in the nineties."

The little woman drawled, "Weezie's in the eighties." Our hero turned a slight pink and mumbled that maybe they'd get together sometime . . . and took his departure. What happened was this: The guests were under the impression that the school tie knew their hosts . . . so the wife was referring to the hostess, whose name is Louise . . . and who is called "Weezie" by her friends. Just tossing off a remark that Weezie played in the eighties, led the poor goop to think the "Weezie" referred to her husband and herself! Just how far South does the guy think you can GET???

On that same subject, we were reminded of an evening spent some time ago in the company of a group of Russians and their wives who were passing through Detroit and were being entertained by some of the local gentry. Not one of them could speak English . . . so the attempt at conversation was a little on the ridiculous side. One man had learned to say "down the hatch" as he drank his vodka . . . so he said it every ten minutes, then laughed like crazy.

As we sat there listening to all the guttural sounds . . . a young Grosse Pointe man in our midst was talking to a tall, very dark-haired woman who was gazing at him intently. He was talking VERY loud, as one does when trying to make a foreigner understand; and he was using his hands in futile gestures about something or other. Finally he ended by asking in a scream, "HOW DO YOU LIKE DETROIT?" The guest smiled at him sweetly and in soft tones replied, "I love it. I was born here." She happened to be the wife of an interpreter and just came along for the ride!

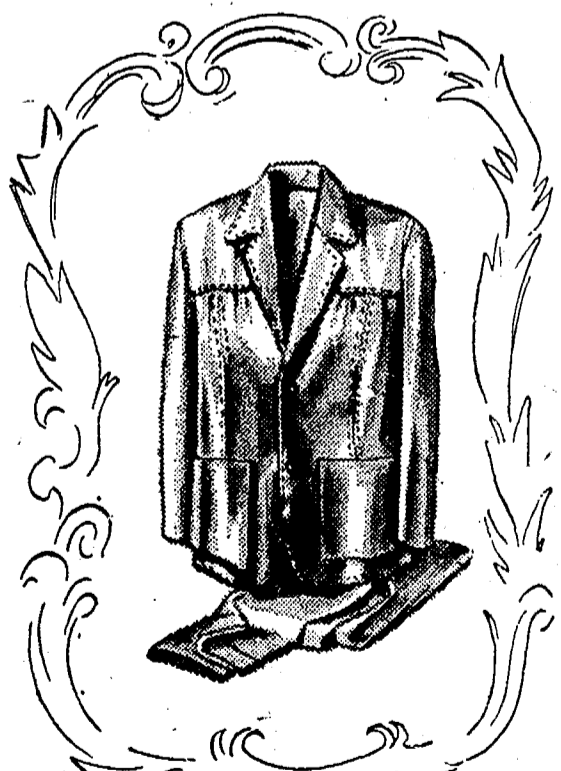

A lot of amusing incidents probably took place during that galaxy of parties that covered the Pointe last week. One we heard came right from the horse's mouth . . . so to speak. A middle-aged woman who attended one of the dances, had had quite a whirl for herself and at about two a.m., she decided she'd better call it a day. Besides, her feet hurt. Just as she was about to satchet off to the cotroom, a teen-aged boy, the son of one of her friends, spotted her and asked her for a dance. "Touched" . . . but tired she thanked him and said she thought she'd better not . . . that she was just about to leave, etc., etc. He then grasped her arm and said, "Oh come on." With that, he'd pulled her onto the dance floor and off they went. In a few minutes, the orchestra started to play one of those, (as she called it), "new-fangled" things that sound all off beat. At this point she REALLY did remonstrate and insisted she must leave . . . and that she couldn't dance "that thing" anyway. The boy wouldn't let go. He just held on and said, "Aw . . . don't be so stuffy . . . come on!" He then proceeded to hop her around the floor with a bee here and a bop there until happily, one of her own age friends cut in!

Another local woman told us she ended up in a predicament she would like us to explain to anyone who might have seen her. It seems she and her husband also attended one of the parties and came home about two a.m. Unable to sleep because her children were still not home, she slipped a sheer negligee over her sheer nightgown and descended to the living room to read until they came in. After awhile she began to doze in her chair . . . and suddenly a slight noise awakened her. She discovered it was five-thirty a.m. and the sun was coming up. Still no children home. Then it occurred to her that the morning paper might have arrived . . . so throwing caution to the winds, she went out the front door, noted that all was quiet on the street . . . so padded her way to the mailbox at the curb, nightgown notwithstanding!

YEP! You're way ahead of us. She locked herself out of the house . . . had to walk up the street and into the driveway and call to the maid (who was fast asleep) to come down and let her in! One look at the maid's face when she saw Madame in the back yard at 5:30 in her nightgown . . . decided Madame not to even TRY to explain!

Psychosomatic Medicine

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.

Here is a comparatively new name for a branch of medical study that has long been regarded by doctors as important in medical treatment. It is concerned with the relationship of the mind to physical disorders.

Mental reactions to work, environment, and people are often reflected in illnesses of many kinds. And as our civilization becomes more complex these illnesses become more prevalent. Doctors today stress the importance of a happy frame of mind in keeping good health.

Robert C. Shaw Wins High Honor

Wellesley, Mass. (Special to the Grosse Pointe News)—Prominent among the 150 graduates of Babson Institute of Business Administration, which held its 31st commencement on June 17, was Robert C. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin B. Shaw of 797 Rivard boulevard, Grosse Pointe, Mich.

He was one of the eight seniors to receive the prized Student Activity Key from President E. B. Hincley—his citation reading as follows: "His easy leadership as President of the Student Council has frequently enabled that organization to resolve differences which under either circumstances might have resulted in serious proportions! In addition to his various elective offices in the Student Council, he has participated actively in the Skeet Club (which he helped to found), dramatics, A.D.S., the Cutting Club, the Finance Club, and in intramural sports. He has been an unusually successful Student Council president and a leader in all organizations of which he was a member."

Shaw, a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, entered Babson in the fall of 1947, following three years in the Army Corps of Engineers during the war. He majored in the study of Finance and Distribution, and was on the Dean's List for scholarship for three terms. He will be employed by the Forbes Lithograph Manufacturing Company of Chelsea, Mass., with headquarters at the Cleveland office of the company.

Navy Jets to Be Seen in Air Show July 2

The Blue Angels, Navy's famous jet flight team, are shown as they will appear when featured at the open house and air show to be staged at Grosse Ile Naval Air Station Sunday, July 2, from noon until 5 p.m. The Blue Angels will participate in the air show with precision formation maneuvers at speeds in excess of 600 miles an hour. Pointers who will participate in the air show include: John Brown of Kenwood road, John B. Ford, Jr., of East Jefferson avenue; Thomas I. Nuemann of Lakepointe avenue; Kenneth R. Woodruff of Yorkshire road; Norman J. Cummings, Jr., of Lakepointe; and Joseph M. Duster of Roslyn road.

Naval Air Station Plans Open House

An Open House and Air Show will be held at the Naval Air Station, Grosse Ile, on July 2, from noon to 5 p.m. The public is cordially invited. This show will be in celebration of the Silver Anniversary of Naval Aviation in Michigan.

Among the features will be: 1. The "Blue Angels," Navy's famous jet flight exhibition team. Composed of four jets giving demonstrations of precision flying at low levels with speeds in excess of 500 miles per hour. During the demonstration they will "shoot" down a Navy SNJ Basic Trainer. The trainer has been painted a bright yellow and has been the victim of the "Blue Angels" for more than four years. 2. A JATO demonstration by the Navy's P2V Neptune Bomber. This is a jet assisted take-off within a space of about 400 feet. The Neptune, a sister ship of the Truculent Turtle, has actually been launched from the deck of a carrier. The Truculent Turtle, it will be remembered, holds the world's record for long distance flight—having flown from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio, non-stop.

3. More than 100 planes, including those manned by civilian-reserve pilots, will participate in the show. They will simulate carrier deck maneuvers and attacks upon the field.

4. Static displays of aircraft and training devices will be set up in the main hangar where visitors will be permitted to examine them at close range.

Ample free parking space on the station will be provided. Police have been alerted to insure a smooth flow of traffic to and from the island. Parking attendants will be on hand to assist visitors.

Adams Serving on Sub With US Pacific Fleet

Charles C. Adams, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Adams, of 256 Ridgmont, recently reported aboard the submarine USS Bergall with the Pacific Fleet.

Adams, who was graduated from Madison High School in Madison, N. J., joined the Navy in November, 1948, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Before reporting to the Bergall, Adams was graduated from the Naval Submarine School at New London, Conn.

SHOP LIGHTS

The most delightful air conditioning we've run across is in use at the well appointed Woods Barber Shop, 19471 Mack avenue, at Severn road in the Woods. And, by the way, we discovered Jack the Barber, who was with Sam in the bank building for ten years, is now at the Woods shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wright who operate the delightful Wright Gift and Lamp shop on Mack avenue where East Warren avenue intersects, are leaving this weekend to attend the big New York show of the nation's lamp manufacturers.

Charles Verheyden is chairman of the special July event of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association which will be a trek to Briggs stadium Friday night of next week to see a Tiger-Indian game. One hundred will be in the party.

A. P. Halliday whose big East Warren avenue hardware store of the same name, where there is already a goodly size hearth department will open a far more complete Hearth Shop within the store sometime in August.

Reaction on the part of Grosse Pointe merchants to the recent announcement that downtown merchants will develop a large shopping center on Eight Mile road in Gratiot Township is that the decision substantiates the contention they've long held, that you ought to be handy to the people you aim to serve and, they usually add, "we like to serve Grosse Pointers; that's why we're in Grosse Pointe."

Jacobson's Grosse Pointe's fine speciality store, is breaking records for a second consecutive month in volume of business. It will soon expand its floor space again.

The Penthouse Dress Shop, in the Village is remodeling its store and enlarging its display windows.

Two bicycles were stolen from in front of the Pointe Coffee Shop, 17008 Mack, around 10:30 p.m., June 19. The theft was reported by Charles Lamb, of 1350 Nottingham, owner of one of the missing bikes.

An hour later, Dr. E. B. McCollum, of 1408 Harvard, called the Park police and reported two bicycles had been abandoned on his front lawn. The bikes were the same ones that had been reported missing earlier in the evening.

Vitesse Wins Mills Trophy

By Fred Runnells

"Vitesse," a boat that was claimed by Davey Jones' locker five years ago but was later salvaged, captured the Toledo Yacht Club's annual all-night Mills Trophy Race last Sunday, June 25, on Lake Erie.

Clete Welling's New York-32 sloop carried off two trophies and the victory on corrected time, winning the Merrill V. Mills trophy for the best corrected time in the Cruising Division and the Governor Harmon cup for the best corrected time in the Cruising "A" Division.

Paul Smiley's big blue "Orient" of Grosse Pointe Y.C. was the first boat to finish and won the Dwight Kelsey bowl for the best elapsed time. However, "Orient" was forced down to third place after time handicaps were tabulated after the fleet had finished.

Toot Gmeiner's, famous "Apache," another N.Y.-32, five time Detroit River champion and former Mills Race winner, finished second on corrected time.

The Sandusky Yacht Club came in for a share of the honors when E. F. Emmons brought his "Tiburon" home first in the Cruising "B" division.

Jim Carlin's Privateer "Glory Be" of Bayview Yacht Club, scampers in the winner in the Cruising "C" Division and Marsh St. Clair gave the host Club a share of the honors when he won the Racing Division title with "Sprite."

"Vitesse's" victory further proved her skipper's faith in his ship.

It was just five short years ago in the "Big Blow," the Port Huron-Mackinac race, that "Vitesse" was given up for lost by all but her skipper Clete Welling as she lay on her side in the shallow waters of the beach at Lexington, Michigan, at the mercy of the sea after running aground.

On that stormy night, the worst in Mackinac race history, "Vitesse" was driven on a sand bar by the mountainous Lake Huron waves and pounded unmercifully further up on the beach as the crew swam and waded ashore.

When the storm subsided "Vitesse" lay on her side with split planks and a gaping hole rent in her side. Every one except Welling wrote the beautiful ship off as a total loss.

Welling started an extensive salvage operation which took the remainder of the summer and most of the following winter to return the craft to the local big boat fleet.

Fisher's Boat Yard undertook the operation to float the ship and bring her back to Detroit where she was repaired.

If memory serves me right "Vitesse" had sixteen planks replaced before she was made ready to return to the local sailing battles.

There is an unbreakable bond between a skipper and his ship no matter how small the ship may be. Usually a racing skipper's wife is forced to take a back seat to another sweetheart, his boat during the summer season.

Some people have a perfect genius for doing nothing, and doing it assiduously.

Lochmoor Invitational Golf Tourney Won by Collegians

By Fred Runnells

Bob Olson and Tom McMahon, both college golfers, swept to a spectacular sub-par victory to win the annual Lochmoor Invitational best ball tournament last Sunday afternoon, June 25.

Olson and McMahon, both Detroit District stars, whipped the Grand Rapids veterans, Harold Brink and Rube Jordan, with their fifth straight sub-par round in the final round to take the crown.

The match ended on the fifteenth hole of the final round with the champions' score was six under par, raising their total sub-par score to 23 strokes for the 81 holes in the tournament. Olson and McMahon held a 5 and 3 advantage when they were declared the winners.

Twenty year old Olson has been one of the better young golfers in the Pointe for years and this Spring was the University of Michigan's number 1 player. McMahon, 22, held down the number 3 spot on Dartmouth's golf team this year.

Olson also holds the distinction of being the youngest player to ever win the Lochmoor club championship. This victory was scored four years ago.

The champions' closest call in the Invitational tournament came on Sunday morning when they whipped the pre-tournament favorites Ben Smith and Kent Zimmerman 1 up in the semifinals.

Brink and Jordan reached the final match by defeating Tom Crews and Bob Barnes in the other Sunday morning semi-final 2 and 1.

Await Opening Of Camp Cavell

This week 150 excited school girls are busily packing shorts and skirts, sun tan lotion and tennis rackets, and counting the days until July 1—the opening date for the YWCA Camp Cavell on Lake Huron.

Forty-five camp staff and counselors who have been at Cavell for a week's orientation are now all set for the big day, according to Majorie Magee, camp director. The camp itself is ready too—every cabin has been cleaned and scrubbed, and the 40 acres of woods and meadow have had a double spraying, once for poison ivy and once for mosquitoes.

Girls 10 to 17 are separated by age into three units at Camp Cavell. The season consists of four periods of two-weeks each. Girls may still register for the last two periods, according to Miss Magee. The registration office at Central Branch, Withereil at Montcalm, is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and Saturday until 12:00 noon.

Girls from Grosse Pointe who will be on hand for the gala opening of Camp Cavell's 37th season are: Mari Zambas, 1131 Lochmoor; Maralyn Winter, 600 Lakeland; Denise Whitney, 77 Muskoka road; Mary Wardle, 836 Washington; Barbara Until, 1346 Hampton; Jane Thompson and Gail Thompson, 2017 Beaufait; Diana Tesch, 358 Hillcrest road.

Pointe Team Boosts Lead

Grosse Pointe knocked off the second place, Moor's Bar team with a 2 to 0 shutout decision last Monday, June 26, to increase its league lead to three full games in the South Lake Softball League.

The Pointers outhit Moor's 4 to 3 with Lodell getting credit for the win.

On the same night Dean Brothers and Major Cab played to a 6 to 6 tie. It was Major's first tie game of the season and Dean's second.

Dean Brother's had the game pretty well sewed up until a costly error in the sixth inning committed by Julian, of Dean Brothers, that let in one run and gave Major's a chance to score two more in the same inning.

Ten hits were collected by Dean's as against 5 for Major.

Last week, Thursday, June 22, Moor's Bar belted Diccoco's 9 to 2, for 9 hits to win, 8 to 3. Moor's attack was paced by Hanrahan's home run.

In Thursday's second game Dean Brothers found themselves outhit 10 to 9 by Phillips Cleaners but managed to gain a 8 to 8 tie.

The tying run was driven in by Julian's double with two on in the fifth inning, making him the hero of the game as far as the Moor followers were concerned. Five nights later it was Julian's error that cost his team a victory.

Plans have been made for the annual tennis tournament at Grosse Pointe Park, according to David J. Beauvais, director of recreation at the park.

The tournament will take place Saturday, July 15. The events scheduled will be mens singles and doubles games; womens singles and mixed doubles. Junior boys and girls under 18 will be able to enter the events for the junior group. Prizes in the form of trophies and medals will await the victorious contestants. Beauvais said the last day entries will be accepted will be Friday, July 14th.

Cubs Organize Softball Loop

Softball in the Indian League, made up of Cub Scouts of Pack 290, Mason School, got off to a flying start last week on the Mason playground.

In the opener Tuesday night, June 20, the Comanches defeated the Navajos, 14 to 13. On Thursday night, June 22, the Mohawks beat the Chippewas, 38 to 20.

The games are being played weekly. The schedule of 12 games will end late in July.

Next week the Navajos will meet the Chippewas on Wednesday, instead of Tuesday, which is the Fourth of July. On Thursday night, July 6, the Mohawks will tangle with the Comanches. Ernie Chielens, an umpire with Detroit Baseball Federation experience, is handling the games.

Record Holder In Gold Cup

Local speedboat fans will have a rare treat in store for them when they bend their way to the banks of the Detroit River for the running of the Gold Cup regatta next Monday, July 1.

Last Monday, June 27, automobile dealer Stan Sayres set the motorboat record when he cracked the world speedboat record of 141.74 almost by 19 miles per hour with his 28-foot hydroplane "Slo-Mo-Shun" on Lake Washington.

In the early hours of Monday morning Sayres zipped over the measured mile course on his first run in 21.98 seconds or 163.785 miles per hour. After refueling Sayres was clocked at 22.95 seconds or 156.862 miles per hour. The combined speeds established the new world record at 160.3236.

After the amazing performance Sayres refused to try to break his own new mark and said the next time the boat would run would be in the Gold Cup races. The boat will be entered in the Harmsworth if it performs as expected.

The old world mark was set by England's Sir Malcolm Campbell back in 1939 on Lake Conestoga, England in "Bluebird II."

The North American record of 138.60 miles per hour set by Harold Wilson's "Miss Canada" at Pictou, Ontario in 1949 and the U. S. mark of 127.063 established by Dan Arena in Jack Schaffer's "Such Crest" on Gull Lake, Michigan are also wiped from the record book.

Sayres riding mechanic on the record breaking run was Ted Jones, designer of "Slo-mo-shun" which was built in Seattle, Washington.

The ship is powered with a w/s surplus 12-cylinder Allison aircraft engine with a stepped up gear which boosts the propeller r.p.m.'s.

Terris Takes Tennis Crown

The week long United States Lawn Tennis Association tournament came to an end at the Neighborhood Club last Saturday afternoon, June 25 with champions being crowned in five divisions.

Bruce Terris, a member of the Grosse Pointe High School Border Cities League undefeated championship squad, covered himself with glory when he annexed the Boys Singles title by defeating Jim Leszczynski 6-1; 6-1.

Terris captured his second championship of the tourney when he teamed up with Fred "Skip" Pessel, another High School teammate, to defeat Neil Kaake and Bob Peterson 6-2; 6-3. Both these matches were for boys 18 years-old and under.

Bob Hardies was crowned as champion of the 15 year old and under Boys Singles tourney when he whipped George Nicholson 6-1; 6-1.

Elaine Kihen was forced to go three sets before emerging the winner in the championship match for girls 18 years old and under. She roared to victory over Ann Busby with 6-0; 7-5 scores in the final two sets after Miss Busby had captured the first match 6-4.

Mary K. Tracy had a battle on her hands in the singles match for girls 15 years-old and under before she emerged the champion. Cecelia Bombright was the beaten opponent, losing by the scores of 6-4 and 7-5.

Trust not the flatterer: in the days of sunshine he will give three pounds of butter, and in dry need deny thee a crust of bread.

Fishing Contest Getting Support

Pointe fishermen, mostly youngsters, flocked to Gray's Sport Shop last Monday, June 26, with their entries for the third annual angling contest.

Early Monday morning several youngsters appeared to record their catches, but they were turned away until the evening when the contest actually started. Anyone wishing to record fish is asked to do so between the hours of 5 and 6 p.m. each day at the back door of the Sports Shop.

One little guy had a fourteen inch perch and was disappointed when turned away in the morning but returned at the appointed hour.

This contest is open to all Pointe anglers who try for Perch, Bass, Pickerel, Pike, Lake Trout and Muskies. There are prizes in each of these divisions, both for the longest and the shortest within the legal size.

It is wiser to run away when there is no remedy, than to stay and die in the field foolishly.

Eastern and Jackie's Lead Respective Softball Loops

Lowe of Eastern Heating hurled a no-hit game against Hudson A.A. on Tuesday, June 20, to win a 3 to 2 decision and vault his team into first place of the National League in the Neighborhood Club Softball League.

Lowe had a shutout victory within his grasp until his teammates committed three errors in the final inning to allow Hudson to score its two runs.

Eastern garnered all its runs in the first inning on a hit batsman, a single, triple and an infield out.

The three other games played in the National League the same evening saw Bella Bar belt Mt. Oliva, 10 to 2, Riley Motors wallop Wilson Agency, 12 to 5; and Federal Mogul down Hanson Chevrolet, 7 to 1.

In the American League,

Jackie's Bar maintained its hold on first place and a perfect record of four straight victories with 6 to 1, win over the Hornets on Monday, June 25.

Bob's Bar shut out Lochmoor Hardware 10 to 0 behind the no-hit performance of pitcher Blumke, who allowed only two walks for the seven inning contest.

Pitcher Carvel was the luckiest hurler of the week when his Cooper Brother team mates scored two runs in the last of the seventh to beat the Clover team 8 to 7.

Carvel allowed the Clover batters only four hits but was guilty lacking in control and gave up 11 walks which were instrumental in the majority of the Clover runs.

Shaw, the Clover pitcher, was just the opposite of his hurling opponent. He allowed 8 hits but gave up only five walks.

Cooper Brother's tying and winning runs were put on the base paths by walks and were driven across the plate when Rousseau's single which broke up the exciting contest.

Sunshine Bar capped off the four ply bill with a 7-0 forfeit over Al's Bar.

Dart Inn and Amvets Deadlocked

The Dart Inn and Amvet teams continue to run up lopsided scores in the Neighborhood Club Bloopers Ball League to maintain their perfect records while remaining deadlocked for first place.

On Thursday, June 22, the Dart Inn squad shut out Turner Buick, 18 to 0, while the Am Vets swamped Tom Boyd, 23 to 1.

The third game of the day saw the Wildcats squeeze out a 10 to 5 win over Ratskeller to create a two-way tie for third place between the two teams.

This type of softball is probably the most hilarious next to Donkey Ball.

The rules state the pitcher must toss the ball so it travels in an arc not less than ten feet high toward the batter. Just to make it a little more difficult the ball must land in an 18 inch by 30 inch rectangle surrounding home plate. If the ball lands outside of the rectangle it is a ball, thus making for many walks during a contest.

Unlike the game of Fastball where the pitcher throws underhand with amazing speed, thus reducing the possibility of many hits, the Bloopers Ball game is one of many hits which emphasizes fielding.

Usually this game is played by older men and some of the old "college try" put out by slow footed former athletes makes for plenty of laughs for the spectators.

improve on the perfect?

Trying to improve on the 1950 CHEVROLET is like attempting to "gild the lily". Public preference this year as in the past has again demonstrated that CHEVROLET is far and away the most desired car of any make.

Therefore, from the standpoint of design, appearance and performance, CHEVROLET must be as near perfect as human ingenuity can make it.

Nevertheless, the RAY WHYTE CHEVROLET CO. believes that through their traditional high standard of sales and service they are contributing and adding a "Certain Something" that sets a RAY WHYTE CHEVROLET above all others. Our ever increasing volume of customers would seem to bear this out.

If your neighbor is a CHEVROLET owner, he is doubtless a RAY WHYTE CHEVROLET customer. Ask him why he bought his present CHEVROLET from us, why he comes back to us repeatedly for CHEVROLET service, and why he plans on making his next CHEVROLET a RAY WHYTE CHEVROLET.

Then, come to us for the proof of his reasons.

Home Reception Follows Rites

A garden reception at the home of the bride's parents followed Shirley Ann Hahn's wedding on Saturday afternoon to Horace Robert Rathbun in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

Shirley Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar August Hahn of Three Mile drive and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. Grant Paker of Toronto and the late Horace R. Rathbun.

The bride's gown was of crisp organza, designed with a dropped shoulder line, great puffed sleeves and pleating down the front. A wide satin sash cinched her waist above a full skirt which ended in a train. Shirley Ann's fingertip veil fell from a pleated organza cap with a row of lattice-organza organza. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Myra Hahn was her sister's maid of honor, in a chartreuse organza frock with a deep pointed collar and full skirt. Her mitts and slippers matched the dress, and she wore a circlet of white daisies in her hair. Her bouquet was of daisies and ivy.

The bridesmaids included another sister of the bride, Carolyn Hahn, and a cousin, Carol Joyce Hahn of Mt. Clemens. Their gowns were identical with the honor maids', in French blue organza.

Charles Parcells was best man and ushers were Robert Straith, and Jack Kruse of Chattanooga, Tenn.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hahn wore a navy lace dress with a straw hat in a lighter shade of blue. Her corsage was of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Parker, chose gray marquisette. Her corsage was also of pink roses.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Rathbun are on an Eastern motor trip. For traveling, Shirley Ann wore a white summer suit and navy accessories, with an orchid corsage. They'll live on Hillcrest road.

Pat McKean becomes bride

Patricia McKean was a summery bride in Swiss organza as she spoke her vows on Thursday, June 22, to Phillip Buick Van Dusen in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McKean of Bishop road and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theron Van Dusen of Metamora.

The bride's gown was embroidered with tiny pink rosebuds and she wore a wreath of the same flowers in her hair, fastening her illusion fingertip veil. Following the rose theme, dark-haired Pat carried sweetheart roses in her bouquet.

Margaret McKean was her sister's maid of honor, in pink pique with a short, full skirt and bolero jacket. She wore a large pink straw hat. The bridesmaids were dressed similarly, except that their hats were small and edged with starched veils.

They were another sister, Mary McKean, Louise Gale of Buffalo, Suzanne FitsSimons, Anne Merryweather of Denver, Ann Stringer, Mrs. John H. Swan of New York, Isabel Baxter, and Charlotte Simpson of Milwaukee.

Steven C. Miller of Birmingham was Phil's best man, and five of the bridegroom's brothers acted as ushers. They were Charles T. III of Philadelphia, Richard C. James B. David B. and Bruce B. Van Dusen, A. Randall Thomas of Rye, N. Y. and Jeremiah B. Gillette of Birmingham also helped seat guests.

Florida Guests Are Feted

Comte and Comtesse Pierre de Rostang will be hosts at a dinner party this evening in their Trombley road home to compliment their houseguests, Miss Inez Graham and Miss Evelyn Eckes of Palm Beach, Fla.

Last Spring, Miss Graham and Miss Eckes honored the memory of Comtesse de Rostang's mother, the late Mrs. E. D. Stair, when they dedicated a new boys' dormitory at their Palm Beach school, The Grace Stair House.

Also at the dinner this evening will be Mrs. Harry McGiverin who is Dean of the girls school at Graham-Eckes.

Legion Auxiliary News

From Unit 303
By Doris Nielsen

We missed a lot of you gals at the last meeting but guess you were either on vacation or getting ready to go. Anyway, we are very grateful to all who came out and especially to the members of the Initiation Team under Initiation Officer Elva Nielsen.

On the team were district president Eida Giberson, 1st vice-president Helen Sitter, 2nd vice-president Viola Starkey, 3rd vice-president Evelyn Snyder and department historian Gertrude Hildebrandt. We were also most fortunate to have district chaplain Hildegarde Korff as pianist.

To all these girls we do say a most grateful thank you. Spied a few other distinguished guests in the persons of districts historian Antoinette Fontanave, Secretary Hazel Smith, executive board member Elmira Curlett and past president Ann Myr.

May we say congratulations to our newly initiated members, Ethel Loughlin, Jean Odgers and Ann Smith.

Many thanks to Sue Hamilton, Jenny Ford and Ethel Loughlin for a very delicious lunch and to Nell Baldwin and her sister for the cute little favors they made while on vacation.

Welcome home to Alice Marrs who has returned from her jaunt to Chicago.

Don't forget chairman—I must have your reports no later than July 1 for the history book. I'm staying home on my vacation to make this book so you will cooperate, won't you?

Just heard that Pearl Adleman went and fell down. At last reports she was right in bed so I think maybe a card would cheer her up. The address is 14849 Riverside—near, Zone 15.

A grand, glorious and safe 4th of July is wished for each and every one of you.

Mr. Pleasant Scene of Rites

Walter Alvan Albrecht, Jr., claimed Gretchen Winifred Battle as his bride in a ceremony at 1:30 Saturday afternoon in St. John's Episcopal Church, Mount Pleasant, Mich.

The bride is the daughter of the John F. Battles of Mount Pleasant, and Walter's parents are the Walter A. Albrechts of Balfour road.

Gretchen's gown, styled in the colonial period, was of pearl white duchess lace, with an off-shoulder edged with applied lace. The applied lace also formed points at the end of the long fitted sleeves. A bouffant skirt edged in natural lace scallops fell softly over three tulle underskirts. A matching lace Flemish cap fastened the fingertip veil of silk illusion, and the bride carried a prayer book covered with streamer-tied white orchids.

For the reception, which was held in the Doherty Hotel, Clare, Mich., Mrs. Battle chose a gown of white nylon, with which she wore sapphire blue accessories and a corsage of yellow baby orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore an opera-length frock of blue nylon lace and pinned white baby orchids to her handbag.

Gretchen set off on her two-week honeymoon trip through Canada and northern Michigan in a black-and-white checked suit.

Expert DePetris Discusses Gems of Summer Gardens

By Vincent DePetris
Spring with its vast array of beautiful blossoms is over, yet nature continues to be kind to us with its many beautiful blooms, which will come throughout the summer.

The summer flowering plants include many annuals and bulbous plants plus a goodly number of excellent hardy perennials. Among the latter delphinium phlox veronica, hemero collis and platycodon rank among the best.

Delphinium, including its many hybrids are not only among the most desirable garden perennials, but they provide that rare blue color which we admire so much both in our gardens and in bouquets. Moreover, if plants are cut back after the first blooms have matured and given a liberal amount of plant food and water they will produce a second crop of blossoms in late August.

Delphinium plants will maintain themselves in the garden for several years. However, to obtain vigorous plants a sowing of reliable strains of seeds is recommended each year. This sowing should be made in mid-August. The young seedlings may then be lined out in an open spot and lightly mulched during winter.

They may be set in their permanent quarters the following Spring and allowed to remain there for two or three years.

These young seedlings will produce the best flowers. One may save his own seed selected from the healthiest as well as the most desirable specimens.

Although all of the resulting seedlings will not be at all identical they will nevertheless be very much the same. It is possible by this process to develop your own strain of these beautiful plants. If a certain plant appears which may be preferred to all others, it may be kept nearly true to its type by the following procedure:

1. Cover the flower spike as soon as the first florets have opened but while the rest of the spike is still in the bud stage, with a paper bag or cheese cloth. This is done in order to prevent cross-fertilization by bees and other insects.

2. Allow the seed to form by occasionally shaking the spike so as to disperse the pollen grain.

3. After seed has formed cut the spike and allow to dry completely in a dry and well ventilated place.

The seed may be sown as soon as it is thoroughly dried and ripened.

The above process is known as that of selection. It is not cross-pollination nor hybridization since the technique for this differs radically, in-as-much as there must be an emasculation of each individual floret before cross-pollination could take place.

Do not use fresh manure for top-dressing delphiniums. Chemical fertilizers are much more preferable since their use does not involve the risk of transmitting many diseases.

Phlox is an easily grown as well as a very colorful and showy perennial. This summer flowering species is known as Phlox decussata. This perennial is very hardy, and easily grown.

Phlox should be divided when clumps are large. The division is best done in the Fall or early Spring.

Veronica commonly called Speedwell is an excellent perennial to combine with Phlox. The Summer flowering Veronica is the species known by the long name Veronica longifolia subsp. siliis. It grows to a height of two feet and produces showy and lasting bluish violet spikes during August and September.

Combined with the pink and white tones of the Phlox it lovely blue spikes of the Veronica are very striking in the Summer garden.

Hemerocallis are the common day lilies. The new hybrids such as Hyperion, Saturn Linda and Tasmania among many others are very unusual as well as beautiful. All varieties are of easy culture, requiring no special care.

Platycodon's are known as Chinese Bell Flowers. They are extremely easy to grow. Their only requirements being an open position and a sandy well drained loam.

During August and September they produce an abundance of lavender blue or white five pointed bell-shaped flowers.

Platycodon grandiflorum is very hardy. It is not susceptible to many diseases or insect attacks. For this reason as well as for their striking beauty they should be better known.

Among a few other very beautiful and easily grown Summer flowering perennials the old, fashioned Monarda or Bee Balm deserves mention. It produces an abundance of coral pink blossoms during July and August. Being a member of the Mint family its foliage has a pleasing aromatic fragrance. Monarda do best in full sun although they will also thrive in light shade.

Two distinct plants of great merit for their colorful blooms during mid-Summer and early Fall are actually shrubs which however may be treated as herbaceous perennials in this climate. The first of these are the Buddleias or Butterfly Bush, so named because of the many butterflies which hover over their blossoms.

They are easily grown and although freezing to the ground during the Winter they come up freely after being cut back.

New Buddleia Hybrids
There are a number of new Buddleia hybrids including the pure white variety, Peace the lavender, Fortune, the purple variety, Purple Prince and the so called Flaming Violet, which is actually a flaming magenta.

The other shrubby plant which is similar to the Buddleia insofar as it freezes to the ground each year, but which comes up vigorously from the basal roots is little known here. It is given the common name of Blue Spirea. Actually it is no relation to the Spirea but a member of the Verberna family. Its botanical name is Caryopteris. It produces graceful masses of soft blue blossoms between the axils of lush pubescent foliage.

The flowering period is mid-August through September. Caryopteris Blue Mist is the hardest variety. Caryopteris incana is also recommended. The plants will grow up to two feet. They require sandy loam and a sunny exposure.

Hardy lilies rank high as ornamental garden plants. The hardier and more easily grown varieties provide both beauty and fragrance to the garden.

The list of lilies as well as the good number of hybrids is quite extensive. We shall consider here four which undoubtedly are the best from the standpoint of quality of bloom and ease of culture.

Lilium candidum the Madonna lily is one which may easily grow and which is very striking with its very pure white blooms. The fragrance of this lily is both distinctive and delightful.

The bulbs should be planted in September since they will come into growth before becoming dormant. For this reason they should be planted early enough to form foliage before cold weather. Incidentally this white lily is the original lily of the Virgin Mary so frequently that it became known as the lily of the Madonna.

Lilium myriophyllum is commonly called the Regal lily. This lily was discovered in an isolated region of China by the late E. H. Wilson.

It is not only very beautiful but one which may be easily grown in any garden. It is absolutely hardy and will remain healthy and vigorous a long time. The large white lilies have a distinct yellow coloring at the throat. The lilies are produced in great abundance and possess a heavy fragrance.

The true Easter lily which originally came from Bermuda and also from Japan was not hardy in our gardens. However a little more than twenty years ago the late Dr. Griffith of the United States Department of Agriculture was successful in cross pollinating the Easter lily

Michigan Mirror

"Before you buy eye glasses, shop around; get comparative prices."

Such is the recommendation of the Better Business Bureau of Detroit.

Behind the advice is an interesting story of how ethical practitioners in the field of medicine are trying to clean up price padding by unethical oculists, ophthalmologists and optometrists.

Among some practitioners it has been customary to accept a hidden profit in the consumer price of eye glasses. In other words, the difference between the wholesale cost and retail cost was pocketed by the doctor as part of his professional revenue. The Wayne County Medical Association denounces this practice as "just as unethical as the splitting of fees" since the consumer was not aware of the kickback with another species. He sent these seeds to be grown experimentally on the Pacific coast. Out of many useless varieties two were found to be excellent. One of these became known as the Estate lily and has proven quite hardy in the garden in Michigan. The lily is almost identical to the Easter lily and comes into bloom during late July.

The last of the four best garden lilies, but by no means the least desirable is the Lilium speciosum. These lilies are either pink or white with recurving petals. They are very showy as well as very hardy. Their flowering season is from late July through August. The blooms have a delightful fragrance.

I consider Lilium speciosum as the best all around hardy lily. It possesses a rugged constitution; is very hardy and will thrive for years without much care. In addition it is very beautiful and lasting. The many candelabra-like blooms open slowly over a long period of time.

All lilies prefer light well drained soil. They enjoy well rotted manure but are not tolerant to chemical inorganic fertilizers. They prefer a sunny exposure although a few will thrive in shade.

Lily bulbs should be planted to a depth of two or three times the average diameter of the bulb. If the ground is heavy or water logged it is recommended that sand or gravel be placed at the bottom of the hole to provide drainage.

In planting lilies the best effect is obtained if they are planted in groups of five or more plants. Very light feeding with organic fertilizers will be found beneficial. Do not use strong chemical fertilizers. They may do more harm than good.

This article concludes the series of garden subjects begun last March. It is hoped that a new series of articles may be started next Fall if popular demand is forthcoming for the Garden Page. The Autumn season will be the planting season again and it is hoped that there will be sufficient interest to warrant a series of timely articles. The writer appreciates the courtesy and solicitude shown by the publishers of the NEWS for making this space available for garden lovers. To our readers we wish to extend our gratitude for the keen interest shown over the Garden Page. It is hoped that the series of articles may have been both helpful as well as enlightening, and given further impetus to gardens and gardening in our beautiful community. To these readers may I close by saying "Happy Gardening."

payment from the optical house to the eye doctor.

The Better Business Bureau's advice is this:

"In an apparent effort to retain merchandising profits previously realized through 'kickbacks' some doctors have recently changed their methods of operation. They now have the patient pay for his glasses at the doctor's office—instead of the optical supply house—as was heretofore the custom.

"This switch facilitates the continuance of price padding and if you find that your doctor has made such a change, by all means shop for your glasses just as you would for any other merchandise which sells at widely varying prices!

"Don't accept a 'lump sum' quotation, but ask for a breakdown giving you the separate cost of your examination, any fitting or service fee, and the price of the glasses themselves. Having paid for your examination, and you are free to take it where you choose and where you find you can buy the glasses you want to the best advantage."

Eye doctors who accept hidden rebates or kickbacks from optical houses are called "parasites" by the American Medical Association.

Boy Scouts Depart for Jamboree

Pointe Being Represented At National Gathering at Valley Forge by 35

At 12 noon, June 27, Grosse Pointe Boy Scouts, 35 in number comprising Troop 34, assembled at Defer school, preparatory to their departure for the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America at historical Valley Forge.

The Boy Scouts, under the leadership of Lee R. J. Scott, clambered aboard the bus which took them to the railroad station. While on the train enroute to Valley Forge, Pa., the scouts donned T shirts and blue jeans, in order not to wrinkle their jamboree uniforms.

Addressed by Truman

The ceremonial address officially opening the jamboree, was delivered by the President of the United States, Harry S. Truman.

A portable city of over 25,000 tents will pock the landscape. The population of "Tent-City" will exceed 46,000 scouts. The national encampment will continue until July 8 when boys from all over their country will return to their homes.

The Post Office Department estimates 300,000 pieces of incoming mail and 500,000 pieces of outgoing mail will be handled. The 60 tons of food consumed daily by the hungry scouts will require 2,000 tons of charcoal.

Plenty of Pancakes

If all the pancakes eaten at one breakfast were put on one stack, the "pancake pillar" would be three times higher than the Empire State Building. Plumbing too, will be of major proportions, with 750,000 gallons of water daily, necessary to service the needs of the encampment. The Boy Scouts will eat from paper plates, the total cost of which will be around $40,000.

Activities and displays by scouts will be in an arena which has a seating capacity of 50,000. Assisting Scoutmaster Scott with the supervision of the Grosse Pointe contingent, will be Ben Kushner and Bob Dingwall, assistant scoutmasters.

Everything but Bagpipes

Pointers are still talking about: The dresses from shoulder to waist worn by MARY STUART MACDONALD'S sixteen uisters at her debut ball on Friday night . . . in the Macdonald clan tartan . . . which made the occasion even more festive.

The beautiful photograph of LYDIA BUHL and little FRANCES CARSON MERKEL in Sunday's Free Press, which we dub not at all jealously the Society Picture of the Year . . . and perhaps of all time. It's one photograph which will be treasured by many Pointers.

The Power of Hoppy

We watched her progress all down Kercheval . . . that trigly dressed, dignified Pointe matron . . . Said progress was somewhat erratic. Every few feet she would stop, bend down and pick up a scrap of paper, only to discard it . . . When she reached the spot where we were standing, she stooped and latched onto an Old Crackerjack wrapper. She finally spotted our fascinated stare, and turned several shades of crimson . . . "Oh," she blurted, "My little grandson saves Hopalong Cassidy gum wrappers, and I—" . . . and with that she fled, having explained fully.

PILFERINGS

On Women

"She emerges from the shop. She is any woman, and the shop from which she emerges is any shop in town. She has been shopping. This does not imply that she has been buying anything or that she has contemplated buying anything, but merely that she has been shopping—a very different pursuit from buying. Buying implies business for the shop; shopping merely implies business for the clerks. "As stated, she emerges. In the doorway, she runs into a woman of her acquaintance. If she likes the other woman she is cordial. But if she does not like her she is very, very cordial. A woman's aversion for another woman moving in the same social stratum in which she herself moves may be readily appraised. Invariably it is in inverse ratio to the apparent affection she displays upon encountering the object of her disfavor. Why should this be? I cannot well. It is not given for us to know.

"Very well, then, she meets for the other woman at the door. They stop for conversation. Two men meeting under the same condition would mechanically draw away a few paces, out of the route of persons passing in or out of the shop . . . but this woman and her acquaintance take root right there. Persons dodge round them and glare at them. Other persons bump into them, and are glared at by the two traffic blockers. Where they stand they make a knot of confusion.

"But does it occur to either of them to suggest that they might step aside, five feet or ten, and save themselves and the pedestrian generally a deal of annoyance? It does not. It never will. If the meeting took place in a narrow passageway or on a populous staircase or at the edge of the orb of a set of swinging doors or on a fire escape landing upon the front of a burning building, while one was going up to aid in the rescue and the other was coming down to be saved—if it took place just outside the Portal Gates on the Last Day when the quick and the dead, called up for judgment, were streaming in through the portals—still would they behave thus. Where they met would be where they stopped to talk, regardless of the consequence to themselves, regardless of impediment to the movements of their fellow beings."

BOB CARDOFF OF MUSKOKA ROAD

There is a 16-year-old boy in Grosse Pointe who owns not one, but four Rolls-Royce automobiles. In addition, he has a controlling interest in four railroads and maintains a standing army of more than 700 men. Affairs of state bother him not at all, however, and he has no concern for Wall Street's current bull market, for his peaceful kingdom contains nary a citizen above three inches high, and their accoutrements are scaled to fit.

Bob Cardoff, son of the Earl F. Cardoffs of 78 Muskoka road, is a young man with a highly developed collecting instinct which shows no immediate signs of abating. The third floor and basement of the Cardoff home are almost entirely devoted to his hobbies, and Bob is blessed with parents who take as much interest in his collections as he does.

Starting at the top, in preference as well as preference, a converted linen cupboard adjoining Bob's third-floor study provides quarters for his army, a colorful and impressive array of lead soldiers ranging in representation from a set of B.C. to Egyptian, circa 4000 B.C., to American commandos of World War II.

Bob has plans for glass cases to display his prizes, but currently he draws them up in force on the dining room table, for the benefit of visitors.

BRITISH IMPORTS
The soldiers, faithful reproductions in the uniforms and arms, are for the most part, made in England or Ireland. They include movable arm-joints and have a great variety of postures.

Among his troops are the Royal Musketeers of Louis XIV, Gauls from 44 B.C., the French Foreign Legion, the Coldstream Guards, complete with shakos; Prince Albert's 11th Hussars, 14th century medieval knights and World War I forces of France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Scotland and Turkey. There are tiny warriors afoot and on horseback, playing bagpipes and wielding lances, and Bob has also acquired a good many of their impediments, such as cannon, field quarters and tanks.

The young collector often re-enacts famous battles, and when any of his men is injured, does a skillful job of retouching with "dope"-based paint. He acquires new models every chance he gets, and last summer, having saved his money, went on a buying trip to New York—and "came back broke."

The next sets on his list are Roman gladiators and English knights—and such is Bob's enthusiasm that he has his sights set on surpassing the 6,000-piece collection of a Hollywood actor.

In Bob's study, a workroom and completely masculine room, are displayed more of his collections. Among them is a group of miniature automobiles, including the aforementioned Rolls-Royces, a Jaguar, a Fiat, a number of trucks and tank models. As Bob tells it, "Most of my models are made in England, because the English seem to put more attention to detail into their work. The doors on the cars really open; the cranks crank and the scale is accurate."

A lethal-looking wall board holds another of Bob's collections: at first glance, it contains five business-like pistols, but their owner hastens to explain that they are merely exact casts of a Mauser P.38, German Luger, Czech, Italian and Spanish guns.

Pointer of Interest

He does, however, own a number of antique guns, among them a pioneer cap and ball pistol (which took seven minutes to load) and a 150-year-old double-barreled musket.

A chest of drawers houses still another hobby—an assortment of more than 20 sheath knives, throwing daggers (which Bob demonstrates effectively), a dragon sword from the time of George Washington, and Swedish whittling knife.

TRICKS, AND TRAINS
Prize of the knife collection is a vicious-looking steel dagger with a 10-inch blade. "This," Bob told us, "is a knife with a story. It's a knife which was part of regular equipment Hitler doled out to German youth during the war. This particular dagger belonged to a 10-year-old boy, and I was told that at the time of the U. S. occupation, when a friend of mine used it for me, the boy had obtained it to kill his father for refusing to resist the enemy."

Before we left for the basement tour, Bob also pointed out a suitcase filled with magic tricks, a carefully catalogued box of playing cards and a few ship models.

Below stairs, Bob and his father have converted a ping-pong table, plus an addition, into a scale-model military railroad depot. With four engines and dozens of assorted cars, and an elaborate control panel which contains several transformers, operation of the trains is no simple job.

The platform is a Cardoff design, landscaped with artificial grass and trees and dotted with scale-model warehouses and depots. Nearly every model railroad, including magnetic apparatus, a coal loader, lumber piler, flood lights, scrap iron gondola and a milk platform onto which a tiny milkman pops out of a car, deposits a milk can and returns for more.

Soon, Bob says, he and his junior partner, Mr. Cardoff, will build still larger facilities for their railroad enterprises.

Barbara Miller Saturday Bride

After their return from a honeymoon in the Muskoka Lakes region of Ontario, the new Mr. and Mrs. Richard George Krauthofer will live in Whitefish Bay, Milwaukee, Wis.

They were married at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, with Dr. Frank Fitz officiating.

The bride is the former Barbara Jean Miller, daughter of Mrs. W. Leslie Miller of Lincoln road and the late Mr. Miller. Dick's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emery W. Krauthofer of Milwaukee.

Barbara's wedding dress was of white organza, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and embroidered bodice. Her fingertip veil was of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Samuel Cutler of Milwaukee, was maid of honor, dressed in a gown of sheer organza of light purple, sweet peas and sweetheart roses. Elizabeth Ann Hicks and Margaret Barie, the bridesmaids, were dressed in turquoise faille.

MRS. KRAUTHOFER
The Mrs. Krauthofer's friends and Mrs. Anne Hollars. They were matching halo headresses and carried all-pink shower bouquets, also.

Dick's best man was his brother William Krauthofer, G. E. guests were seated by Charles McConnell of Minneapolis, Minn.; Eisten Neuffer of Evanston, Ill.; Samuel Cutler and Arthur Jordan, both of Milwaukee.

A reception was held in the bride's home. Her mother received in a gown of powder blue chiffon with matching hat and black velvet accessories. The bridegroom's mother was in aqua lace, with which she wore a matching hat and flowered veil.

PLANT 9,500,000 TREES
During 1949, nine and one half million trees were planted in Michigan by schools, 4-H clubs, communities and private forest planters. Supplies of trees still do not meet demand, states Paul A. Herbert, head of the forestry department at Michigan State College.

He believes that Michigan again surpassed all states in the northern part of the country in tree planting as it did in 1948. That year, Michigan tree acreage planted was ten times that of Minnesota and twice the acreage planted in Wisconsin.

Pointe Counter Points

At JACOBSON'S this week, we sighed over the filmiest, wispiest breaths of nightgowns ever to grace a bride's trousseau or a Pointer's boudoir . . . in nylon, of course. One dream, in palest coral or aqua, is notable for permanent, tiny accordion pleats about the skirt and forming the bodice, which has an off-shoulder neckline. Our thought when we looked at it was that was JUST too pretty to waste in a bedroom, and we were told that some have been bought for hostess gowns, so there! (Negligee to match.)

We discovered the perfect thank-you gift for a thoughtful hostess at the new PEPPE'S On the Hill . . . designed by Mrs. P. herself, it's a satin, summer sachet, made to duplicate exactly a lovely nosegay of roses. You'll find them in pink, blue and white, pink, yellow and white, or almost any combination . . . and Mrs. Peppet has touched with water color to give a realistic tinting. Scented with tropical white freesia, the sachets, are also perfect gifts to a shut-in, a deb or for tying with a very special package . . .

The new air-conditioning plant at WOODS BARBERS, Mack and Severn, has been drawing patrons to the roof-top to see how it works . . . seems it's not the frosting type, and permits doors and windows to be open, making families who patronize the finely-appointed shop very happy indeed . . . like having your hair cut in a gentle breeze, they say!

Looking of chaste women (who make a particular Pointe of seeking ever-charming) have discovered that one of the coolest and most successful ways of achieving a sleek new hair style is by trekking up The Hill to MARIE BIRD'S BEAUTY SALON, where summer comfort is the by-word. In Miss B.'s they've found restful, tree-surrounded decor, soft colors and upholstery . . . AND complete air-conditioning. The top-flight stylists at MARIE BIRD'S let their work speak for them—you'll see their creations all over the Pointe. P.S.—Parking's no problem here, either.
