HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, August 3

THE FIRST CAVALRY and the 25th Infantry Divisions have fallen back on their left flank 15 miles to the Naktong River. Field dispatches said the general withdrawal would be the last major pull-back of the war. Members of the First Marine Division are moving up to bolster the hard pressed lines. The long awaited Allied counter-offensive will probably take place next week if the American troops can hold their present line of defense against the Communist attacks.

A NEW HYDROGEN-BOMB-MATERIALS plant will be built and operated for the Government by E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co. The site for the proposed new plant has not been revealed. Chairman McMahon (D., Conn.), of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, revealed that he would ask President Truman for a larger appropriation to push completion of the H-bomb and expand output of atomic bombs. The government will assume all costs of the H-bomb project and the DuPont company is to receive a fee of $1.

RATIONING AND WAGE-PRICE CONTROLS, to be effective automatically when the Government's cost-of-living index has reached a point still to be determined, was voted for by the Senate Banking Committee. Such action was a rebuff to President Truman who wanted to decide himself when to impose rationing and the rolling back of wages and prices to the pre-Korean war levels. Truman said he didn't want the controls unless he could say how and when to use them.

Friday, August 3
THE UNITED NATIONS Security Council rejected a Russian proposal to have the Council consider the admission of Red China before the Korean War situation was discussed. Instead the Council voted approval to discuss the North Korean aggression as proposed in a motion by the United States. The UN council has refused to put the Chinese question on its agenda. Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik called all the votes "illegal" on the grounds that they were cast without the presence of Red China.

AN ESTIMATED 600 North Koreans were killed in the heavy fighting as the United States 25th Division repulsed a Communist attack on the southern front. A naval bombardment has set after the North Korean supply center of Chusan, on the east coast, according to a Navy communique. The 25th Division had been hurriedly shifted from the northern front to the southern front in an effort to protect the vital port of Pusan. Field dispatches said American armor was reaching the South Korean battle area in great quantities.

THE HOUSE has voted tentatively to impose wage-price ceilings whenever costs rise 5 per cent above pre-Korean levels. President Truman regarded this plan as an invitation to inflation. At a news conference Truman said that he is sticking by his earlier demands for a flexible basis with standby controls. The President further stated that if prices are to be controlled at all they should be rolled back to the pre-Korean level thereby avoiding a 3 per cent general increase in prices.

Saturday, August 5
TIGERS' five-game winning streak ends when Washington Senators beat them at Briggs Stadium 5-2. Senators now have six victories in seven starts in Detroit while the Tigers have beaten the Senators all seven games they have played at Washington.

REDS' big push on Pusan expected to start today. Maj. Gen. Church, who succeeded Gen. Dean in command of the 24th division, thinks we are "going to stay just about where we are now."

RUSSIAN DELEGATES at Lake Success demand that the UN withdraw all American troops from Korea and that North Korea be called into the Security Council's sessions. British and

Dress Rehearsal for Play at War Memorial Center

The News photographer was on hand Monday night when the Pointe Simians, young dramatic organization went through the final rehearsals for Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland," which opened at the Center Tuesday night. The play is being given each night through Saturday at 8:30 o'clock. This is the third scene of the first act. Joan Lennon is the lovely Mary.

Youth Incurs Severe Burns In Explosion

Tucker Clark Finds Torch Can Be Dangerous Plaything

A 15-year-old youth was severely burned on August 4 when he and two companions fooled with a kerosene torch or "bomb" of the type used as warning signal flares on construction jobs.

Has Companions
 Tucker Clark, 15, of 190 Muir road, the injured youth, was accompanied by Marvin Goosen, 16, of 94 Muir road, and Richard Klein, 15, of 72 Mapleton road. They found the bomb at Cloverly and Williams, and nearby, a drum of what they thought was kerosene.

The boys filled the bomb with the fluid, which happened to be a curing compound used on road construction. When they applied a match the fire leaped back through the seepage and exploded the drum.

Clothes Ignited
 Young Clark's clothes were ignited. He suffered severe burns on his legs and right arm. He was taken to Cottage Hospital by Farms police and later was transferred to Bon Secours Hospital.

While he was still suffering considerable pain the first part of the week, his condition was reported good and he is recovering satisfactorily.

RAYMOND ALLOR BITTEN
 Raymond Allor, of 170 Muir road, was bitten by a dog owned by J. D. Peterson, of 309 McKinley on August 3.

Young Dramatists Giving Anderson Play at Center

The Grosse Pointe Simians are presenting the second of two plays at the War Memorial Center, in Lake Shore road five nights this week. Following close on the presentation of "Dear Brutus," which took crowds to the Memorial last week, the group of local dramatists, this week are giving Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland."

The second play opened Tuesday night and will continue through Saturday. Each performance is at 8:30 o'clock.

The beautiful Memorial Center property makes a striking setting for the Simian productions. This week's play is being staged on the broad terrace on the lake level, with the audience seated on the lawn.

The opening performances of each play, were for the benefit of the Memorial Center. Proceeds from the other nights' shows will be used for expenses of producing these and future plays planned by the Simians.

Joan Lennon has the title role of "Mary of Scotland." Other leading parts are taken by Jane Slade as Queen Elizabeth, Jim Donahue as Lord Bothwell, Don DeVries as Lord Maitland, Bob Slade as John Knox.

The beautiful ladies in waiting include Jean Gray, Carol Grylls, Bobbie Boothe and Jerry Jacobson.

Others being seen in this week's performance include Joe Van Donick, John Gale, who is both director and member of the cast, Sherb Brown, Frank and Alger Sheldon, Byron Pershing, Jim Goebel, Ralph Center, John Butterfield, George Bushara, John Sanford and Dick Tobin.

The public is cordially invited to attend any of the performances and see the fine job being done by this organization.

Park, Farms, City Expected To Continue Study of Plan For Joint Waste Disposal

Woods Definitely Out of Picture as Officials are Satisfied With Efficiency and Economy of Present Method

The plan inaugurated in the Park for a survey of the garbage disposal problem has run into a snag in the Woods' refusal three weeks ago to even be a party to the inquiry. The survey was to be paid for by a contribution of 3 cents per capita, amounting to about $1,200 for all of Grosse Pointe.

The Farms has already agreed to go along on the survey and it is expected the City will also as soon as the request comes before the Council officially at the next meeting.

Private Contract
 The Woods has all of its waste materials collected and disposed of by private contract. It now costs $40,000 per year. In addition to this the contractor is paid $1.50 per month for each family seat that comes into occupancy during the year, and the contract is let annually.

The Woods residents are highly satisfied with the service by private contract and the village authorities say they are saving from $20,000 to $25,000 annually by doing the work by private contract. In addition they claim that they have a better service. They collect their garbage twice a week as against once in the other communities. Their rubbish is collected twice a month and the collectors go directly on the premises to pick it up and the householder is not compelled to place it on the curb as in some of the other communities.

Costly Process
 The Park, City and Farms do this waste collection as a municipal function and the taxpayers are paying a high charge for this service. In some cases a municipal garbage truck travels as much as a hundred miles per round trip to dispose of a load of garbage.

The Shores problem is simpler from the fact that it carts its garbage down to one of the Detroit garbage incinerators where it is burned up at a charge of $4.01 per ton paid by the municipality to Detroit.

City Manager Everitt B. Lane of the Park, who is the proponent of the survey, expects that the plan will now take the form of setting up a common waste collection and disposal service for the Park, City and Farms.

He, as well as the authorities in the other two communities have long been aware of the unconscionable charges they have had to pay for waste disposal.

Could Use Site Now
 Recently some of the officials of the City have expressed deep regret that it disposed of its valuable property in the Mack-Warren-Radnor area to the Augustinian Order. This property was 200 feet wide by 5,000 feet long, extending out to Canyon avenue. It would have been the most valuable site for a general collection, reduction and disposal system for all of Grosse Pointe.

The City got only $35,000 for this valuable plot and the Augustinian Order immediately disposed of most of it to the Detroit Park Commission for incorporation into the City's park system, keeping only enough of the plot nearest Mack avenue for a High School site.

'Obey Signs' Plead Chiefs Of Police

Thousands of Accidents Are Caused by Drivers Failing To Heed Safety Laws

The Grosse Pointe Chiefs of Police have just issued one of their periodic letters to the people of Grosse Pointe on the subject of safe driving. The current letter lays particular stress on the necessity of obeying stop signs. It reads:

"It is an obvious fact that Stop Signs are placed at intersections to keep motorists on one highway from running into motorists on the other highway.

Many Ignore Signs
 "Every motorist understands this simple truth, but, unfortunately, many thousands ignore it. This is proved by records which show that many thousands of accidents happened because drivers did not come to a full stop at stop signs and look to the right and left before entering the intersection with caution, to cross or turn.

"Almost stopping at a stop sign is not enough. It develops a sloppy driving habit which sooner or later will cause an accident. Some day that car that isn't there will run into you because its driver expected you to stop—as the law requires.

The Safest Way
 "After coming to a full stop the safest way to enter a through highway is to wait for a gap in cross traffic that is big enough so that you can cross the intersection without causing any other driver to slow down, stop or turn aside, the Chiefs advise.

"The Grosse Pointe Police Departments are cooperating with the Michigan State Safety Commission and the Michigan State Highway Department in a program to make our highways safer. This week's slogan is 'STAY ALIVE—OBEY STOP SIGNS.'

Many Preventable
 "The State Highway Commissioner has stated that there were over 31,500 traffic deaths in the United States the past year, nearly 1500 of them in Michigan, and reminded that these casualties are just as tragic as war fatalities but many of them could have been prevented if all drivers had used good sense and obeyed Stop Signs on our highways."

Has Test Fight Before Enlisting

Word was phoned into the Park police headquarters at 1:20 a.m. on Aug. 5 by the proprietor of the Grosse Pointe Bar B. Q., at 15003 Jefferson, that a sizeable fight was in progress in a lot in the rear.

Patrolman Martin and Van de Ginst arrested six young men and that morning before Judge C. Joseph Belanger four of them were fined $5 each and two discharged.

One of the fines said he intended to enlist in the Marines that day anyway and would do the rest of his fighting in Korea. The judge thought that a commendable idea but did not see fit to reduce the reasonable sentence.

MICHAEL O'CONNOR BITTEN
 Michael O'Connor, aged 6½, was bitten on the left arm and ankle on August 4 by a dog owned by Mrs. L. Hart of 342 Ridgmont. Mrs. Hart told the police she would get rid of the dog as soon as the 10-day observation period is over.

State Law Forces Postponement of Park Charter Vote

Plans Already Made for Township to Conduct General Elections This Fall Necessitate Delay in Balloting on New City's Charter

A law in Michigan which prohibits the changing of the voting places in a municipality less than sixty days prior to the holding of a city or village election is going to make necessary the postponing of the charter election in the Park until after the general election in November.

The township which still carries on the general election uses many more voting precincts than does the Park in the same territory.

Moreover the township has included in its budget this year the cost of conducting the general elections in November. The Park will not be formally established as a city until after the approval of its charter and its subsequent approval by the Governor of the state.

The Park village authorities have reached an amicable arrangement with the township whereby it will conduct the general elections as usual in its long established voting precincts, and soon after the general election the Park will set up its own precincts, which will number only about half as many as exist in the Park's part of the township. In these booths the charter election will be held.

This means that the charter election will come later in November or possibly in December.

The Park Charter Commission has already finished its work and its major findings have been turned over to the Michigan Municipal League which is now working on the completed form of the charter as it will go before the people for approval or rejection.

Whether there will be another opportunity for the citizens at a public hearing to discuss the charter is not known, but the fact that the Municipal League which is charged with the preparation of the finished product is now at work on it, would indicate not.

In the Woods, where the village and the township precincts are identical this barrier does not exist and there the people will be able to vote in their new city charter as soon as it is ready.

Three Prowler Reports Probed

An attempted breaking and entering at the Harry B. Howenstein home at 251 Vendome road was reported to the Farms police on August 7.

Mr. Howenstein said that sometime after 11:30 p.m. someone had pushed in a screen in the rear of the house. He also found a footprint beneath the window, Entrance was not gained.

Another prowler call was received by the Farms police shortly after 9 o'clock the same night. The residents at 468 said they had seen a youth about 18, wearing a white T-shirt with dark stripes and dark pants, had been loitering about the place. He had vanished before the police arrived.

A third call was received at 11:41 p.m. that night, from the Chapman residence at 372 Provenal road.

Youths Who Turned in False Alarms to Hear Fate Today

The three older boys who took part in turning in false fire alarms throughout the Pointe on a wholesale scale on July 30, were to appear in police court in the Park today for sentencing. The fourth youth has already had a hearing in Juvenile Division of Probate Court.

The youngest member of the quartet has been placed on unofficial probation until he leaves the Pointe for school on September 10. The police also report that his father, who has been most cooperative with them, has taken away the youngster's driving license and he will be deprived of the use of the family car.

The boys turned in the first false alarm in the Farms while the firemen were fighting a large fire at Moross and Mack. A few minutes later they turned in another from a Farms box. Grosse Pointe City firemen responded to both of these alarms.

After dropping off the youngest boy at his Farms home, the others then drove to the Park and turned in another alarm from the box at Harvard and Maumee. The Park police nabbed them.

The three older boys were arraigned before Judge John Potter on July 31 and pleaded guilty to the charge of turning in false alarms. Judge Potter will hand out the sentences today.

The Farms police announced Monday they would submit a report to Judge Potter before today's session and it was expected the sentence he hands out would take into consideration their activities in the Farms as well as in the Park.

Nab Woman Found Hiding In Shrubby

Upholstery Slashed, Draperies Snipped Off in Balfour Road Residence

The cases of malicious mischief some weeks ago in which the cars of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Wenzel of 855 Balfour road had all their tires punctured with a sharp pointed instrument appear to have been solved.

At 10:03 p.m. on Friday, August 4, Park Patrolmen Vervacke and Cools were checking the Wenzel residence as both the Doctor and Mrs. Wenzel are away from home and the house is on the watch list.

Woman Found Hiding
 They saw someone lurking in the bushes by the door and arrested a woman, who later gave the name of Agnes M. Dougherty, aged 33, of 3635 Sheridan, Detroit.

The policemen searched the house after arresting the woman and found the screen on the rear door had been cut and the house entered. The upholstery on the furniture had been cut to ribbons, apparently with a knife, and most of the curtains and draperies downstairs were similarly destroyed with a knife or scissors. The damage will amount to many hundreds of dollars.

Has the Implements
 On the person of the woman when she was searched in police headquarters were found a pair of scissors, a wire cutter, a knife and a pair of canvas gloves, such as are ordinarily used by burglars to prevent finger prints. The following day Detective Stanley Enders found in her home an ice pick, not in the kitchen where such implements are usually kept, but on the dresser in her bedroom. The police say it is undoubtedly the same instrument which punctured the tires.

Will Confess Nothing
 The woman was stoical and would confess to nothing. She did say however that Dr. Wenzel had done some surgical work for her some time ago which had not turned out satisfactorily and that she hated him.

Consultation with the Detroit police records failed to show that the woman had any police record in Detroit.

Warrant Obtained
 Detective Enders obtained a warrant charging her with unlawful breaking and entering in the night time and malicious destruction of property, which is a felony.

At her hearing on August 8 Judge Belanger entered a plea of Not Guilty for Miss Dougherty and committed her to the county jail in default of $2,000 bail and fixed her examination for August 18 at 4:30 p.m.

Switched Plates Charge In Error
 An error in checking license plates which resulted in a driver being charged with driving with an improper license, was reported to the NEWS this week by the Farms police department.

Last week the NEWS carried a story stating that Robert W. Wulbrecht, 20, of 5337 Pennsylvania avenue, Detroit, had been taken to the Farms station on July 24 to explain why he was driving around in a 1939 car with license plates that belonged to another car owned by the family. The police said their check showed that he had switched the plates. He was released with a warning, according to the police report.

Wulbrecht's parents protested to the police that the correct plates were on the car their son was driving and asked them to recheck the license and registrations.

The police announced Saturday that a mistake had been made and cleared Robert of the switched license charge.

Burglar Foiled At Farms' Home
 Mrs. Ethel Clark of 47 Beaupre road reported to the police on August 5 that someone had tried to break into her home the night before.

The screen on the back terrace door had been cut, but entrance to the house had not been gained.

Thugs Hold Up Beer Store; Lock Trio in Refrigerator

Mack Avenue Establishment Victim of Bandits for Second Time Since February; Get Away With $150 in Cash

For the second time since last February the Alger beer store at 17320 Mack avenue was held up by armed robbers between 11:45 and 12 p.m. on August 7.

At 11:48 p.m. the Grosse Pointe City police station on Maumee received a call from a Bell telephone operator at the exchange at Mack and Cadieux that a hold-up was in progress at the Alger beer store.

and the Park and Farms sent a car each, Detroit, which had picked up the Grosse Pointe police radio, also sent three men.

Police Converge
The first police to arrive on the scene were informed by a passing motorist that he had seen two men run across Mack and north on Guilford, which is the Detroit projection of St. Clair avenue.

The police released Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price, the proprietors of the store, and a Mrs. Grayce Sielinski from the large refrigerator where they had been locked up by the holdup men.

Agree on Description
All three agreed that the men were between 25 and 30 and dark haired. One of them wore a mustache and was about 6 feet tall; the other smooth faced and about 5' 6" and weighed about 185 pounds.

They had come into the store, guns in hand, but not masked. At the point of the gun they had taken about $110 from the Prices and $40 from the Sielinski woman. As soon as they were locked in the refrigerator Mr. Price, using a phone he had in the refrigerator which was an extension of the outside phone called up the telephone exchange speaking in a low voice and told what was going on.

Done Quickly
The robbery consumed only a minute or two before the men left.

The Sielinski woman had a woman friend waiting outside for her in a car and she said that when the two men ran out one of them called to her that her friend inside wanted her. Possibly he feared she might suffocate in the airtight vault.

Had Getaway Car
The police say the men undoubtedly had a car waiting for them nearby, probably on Guilford, for their getaway.

Up to Tuesday afternoon the police had no clue on their identity. They believe that the men robbed the Alger store last February were subsequently picked up in Detroit on a similar charge and sent away but they were never able to prove this theory.

Recipe Brings Back Memories

Remember the mustard pickles that Mother used to make? Good, weren't they? The Visiting Housekeeper Association, a Red Feather service of the Community Chest, gives you a recipe which should bring back memories. Even if Mother didn't make mustard pickles perhaps you want to start the tradition.

- Vegetables
- 1 pt. small whole cucumbers (not longer than 2 1/2 inches).
  - 1 pt. sliced cucumbers.
  - 1 pt. small whole onions
  - 1 cup string beans
  - 3 green peppers
  - 3 red peppers
  - 1 pt. green fig tomatoes or
  - 1 pt. cauliflower

- Dressing
- 1 qt. vinegar
  - 1/2 cup flour
  - 1 cup brown sugar
  - 3 T. dry mustard
  - 1/2 T. tumeric
  - 1 tsp. crushed celery seed

Cut vegetables before measuring—tomatoes into halves, cucumbers into slices, string beans into 1 1/2 inch lengths and chop peppers. Put vegetables in brine (1 cup of salt to 1 qt. of water) enough to cover. Leave overnight and then freshen in clear water for 2 hours. Let vegetables stand in liquor of equal parts of water and vinegar for 15 minutes and then scald them in same liquor.

To make dressing, rub all dry ingredients together until smooth. Add hot vinegar slowly, stirring to make smooth paste. Cook in double boiler, stirring until sauce thickens. Pour sauce over drained vegetables. Mix well and pack into jars. Simmer pint jars for 20 minutes at 180 deg.

Bossism Rapped By Fred M. Alger

The political "bossism" of the Political Action Committee and its ally, the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), was attacked this week by Fred M. Alger, Republican candidate for Governor, in campaign speeches in several parts of the state.

In recent years, Alger stated, government has gotten away from the people and has been placed in the hands of certain interested groups and cliques.

"I am convinced," Alger said, "that the present Governor of Michigan is not serving in the interests of all the people but that he is the tool of the self-serving heads of the PAC and ADA."

"The PAC is dominated by a Mr. Gus Scholle, an able propagandist and a political manipulator of the first order. There has been few acts taken by the present governor—other than the calling of square dances and crowning of queens—which were not first approved by Scholle."

"After all, I can find no record of Scholle having been elected to public office—even by the membership of the very union he purports to represent. And that very same union represents only one segment of organized labor."

Alger also attacked statements that he once favored a corporation tax and then changed his mind.

"My position on this tax has never changed," Alger declared. "I have always opposed it because it is actually another hidden tax on consumers."

The Great Wall of Ancient China was a chain of defense with many weak links. It was partly of stone, partly of brick, and in some places scarcely more than a rampart of earth.

Ray Whyte Discusses Plans For New Chevrolet Building

Ground Broken for Beautiful Colonial Structure Extending From Park Municipal Building to Lakepoint Avenue

Ray Whyte, of the Whyte Chevrolet Company, announced Tuesday that their new building for which ground was broken on July 31 at the northwest corner of Jefferson and Lakepoint, will be ready for occupancy in the first week in December.

He also stated that on the same day ground was broken he had acquired from Veronica Phillips the one remaining home standing between his place and the Park municipal building. The possession of this property was the subject of long negotiations. The entire tract represents a stiff price for real estate for this purpose in Grosse Pointe but Mr. Whyte refused to disclose the figure.

Off-street Parking
The occupants of the Phillips property have been given until some time in October to vacate their property, as its possession is not necessary to the construction of the building. The site occupied by it will be devoted to the off-street parking facilities which his company will maintain in conformity with the requirements of the Park Planning Commission.

The proposal advanced some months ago that the Park municipality should agree to the cutting down or transplanting of the two large trees in front of its municipal building, has been abandoned, the suggestion arousing a protest from many of the citizens of the Park that the Whyte company decided to abandon it in deference to keeping public good will.

Would Bear Expense
At that time the company intended to have a large projecting electric sign in front of the

Veteran Bernard H. Hallis Recalled to Active Duty

One of the first Pointers to receive a call to active duty in the armed forces is Bernard H. Hallis, 23, of 16937 Cranford lane. "Bud" received a telegram from the Air Force on August 2 ordering him to Scott Field, Ill. He is to report for duty on August 12.

Hallis is a member of the Air Force Reserve. He served three years with the Army Air Corps in World War II, seeing service in Panama and Trinidad. In addition to the hitch with the Air Corps, Hallis also sailed with the Merchant Marine for a year before he enlisted in the armed forces.

When asked how he felt about being returned to active duty, Bud said: "At first I didn't want to go, but the more I read in the papers about the Korean situation, the more anxious I am to pitch in and do my share to exterminate those rotten communists."

A Strong United Nations

... or World War III?

At 5:45 p.m. on Sunday, June 25, one of the most important decisions of our time was made by the United Nations: FORCES OF AGGRESSION SHALL BE RESISTED BY FORCES OF PEACE.

This decision was made by the Security Council, yet actually it depended for its execution upon one resolute nation—OUR NATION—because the United Nations had no police force to carry out its determination.

The decision is a probable turning point on the path of mankind—a path that, until now, led straight toward World War III. The League of Nations faltered and failed when Japanese troops crossed Marco Polo Bridge. The United Nations acted swiftly when Communist aggressors crossed the 38th parallel.

We now, all of us together, have the opportunity to make one of the greatest decisions, not of OUR time, but of ALL time—to declare, for all the world to hear and mark, that from this moment onward it shall be the American purpose to lead mankind in the task of strengthening the United Nations so that it shall possess the power to forestall in advance all future threats to the peace.

Now, at this moment of crisis in the history of the world, we have in our hands the opportunity to demonstrate that our purpose is to do more than merely drive the North Koreans' back.

This is the time to place all possible support on the side of those of our leaders who recognize that the United Nations will permanently possess the power of peace only when it has at its command a strong, ever-vigilant world police force—

—composed in fair measure of men from all nations

—controlled by a Security Council with veto-free authority

—checked by the World Court and by explicit Charter prohibitions against any infringement of the reserved rights of member nations

—capable of arresting the individuals responsible for violating UN Assembly laws against aggression, so that weapons of war beyond those required to maintain domestic tranquility cannot be prepared secretly and used openly, as by the Communists on the Korean peninsula.

American blood and American dollars may deal with aggression in a crisis, but only a more powerful United Nations will make peace permanent. The United Nations must formally and explicitly be given the power to make world law banishing war.

The Congress, close to the American people, representing them, can now state the great objective in the clearest terms by passing the resolution placed before it by 111 Representatives and 22 Senators of both parties:

WRITE
REP. RABAUT,
MAIL
TO 927 FISHER RD.

"RESOLVED * * * That it is the sense of the Congress that it should be a fundamental objective of the foreign policy of the United States to support and strengthen the United Nations and to seek its development into a world federation open to all nations with defined and limited powers adequate to preserve peace and prevent aggression through the enactment, interpretation, and enforcement of world law." The first one, at 3:10 p.m., was at the Griffin home at 1006 Berkshire where defective wiring caused a roof and attic fire which did damage estimated at between $3,000 and $5,000. Car Suffers $800 Damage in Fire Damage estimated at $800 was done to a car owned by Harlan Horne of 334 McKinley avenue when it caught fire in the garage at the Horne residence on the afternoon of August 5. Farms firemen who extinguished the blaze believed that the fire started from a burning cigarette left in the car. It had been parked in the garage for more than two hours when neighbors saw smoke and notified the firemen.

Beach Thieves Given Hearing

The two young brothers who recently rose to the bait of a planted wallet at the Farms pier, were given a hearing in juvenile court on August 7. Both will be sent to the Wayne County Clinic to be interviewed by a psychiatrist.

The wallet was planted in an attempt to find out who was stealing purses and other items at the pier. The brothers, aged 13 and 8, were caught in the act. They admitted stealing other wallets and had four pier passes, not their own, in their possession when arrested.

Joyce of 961 Trombley were attending a wedding rehearsal in St. Ambrose Church the evening before, she had dropped her bag in a pew in the rear of the church. ### Save Fishermen In Lake Storm

Jim Hearst, 20, of 509 University place, and Clifford Loranger, 19, of 888 Lake Shore road rescued two fishermen in Anchor Bay Sunday, July 30.

Hearst and Loranger were cruising on Lake St. Clair when a flash storm suddenly developed. They spotted two fishermen in a 12 foot rowboat who were very definitely in trouble. The lake had become so choppy that it momentarily threatened to capsize the rowboat.

Expert seamanship enabled Hearst and Loranger to take their 25 foot express cruiser alongside the smaller boat. Tow lines were securely made fast and the fishermen managed to get back to shore with the help of the two Pointe lads.

Park's Streets Being Repaired

The Park is engaged in one of the largest street improvement programs this season it has had underway in several years.

The block of Three Mile from Jefferson to St. Paul will have its badly corrugated block surface covered with a smooth macadam and the contract for resurfacing Vernor Highway from Audubon to Wayburn will be let next week.

All told the Park's program for street improvement this year covers between four and five miles of streets.

Head of Legion Opposes Bonuses

Opposition to bonuses or other special veteran benefits on either a state or national level was voiced today by Gerry Barr, of Port Huron, Michigan Commander of The American Legion.

The statement came as the result of a recent meeting in Indianapolis attended by all state Legion commanders in the nation, where the organization went on record as demanding that all efforts of our country be pointed toward an adequate national security and defense.

"Now is not the time to be advocating any veteran bonuses or special benefits," Barr declared. "We are faced with a tremendous expense as it is. Our first concern is to clean up this Korean mess and provide our country with an adequate security. When that is accomplished, we again can turn our attention to fighting for veteran benefits, just as our organization has done for the past 31 years."

The state Legion commander pointed out that while the organization would go after no new benefits, it would certainly advocate and urge that benefits available to veterans of the Great Wars be extended to those entering service under the present emergent conditions.

"We feel that veterans serving in this campaign should be covered with benefits applicable to those who served in the Great Wars, but insofar as additional benefits, we feel that this is not the time to concern ourselves with such matters."

The state Legion head came out with a strong plea for adoption of Universal Military Training, a program the Legion has been advocating for many years.

Barr declared, "UMT will provide an effective backlog of trained personnel for the protection of our country. Adoption of this plan now would serve notice to the Russians that we mean business. It may not be too late to prevent World War III and the adoption of UMT might tip the balance wheel in our favor. "There could never be any more timely legislation. Every mother knows that her son, if physically able, is liable for duty if war comes. We must make all mothers understand that a trained son is a safer son if called upon to stand between the United States and its enemies.

Traffic Cases Heard in Court

The following cases were heard in the court of Judge C. Joseph Belanger on August 2.

James Russo, of 1014 Whittier, was found guilty of driving into moving traffic and causing an accident at Kercheval and Whittier on July 9. He paid a fine and costs of $15.

A bond of $15 was forfeited by Florence Grondzik, of 22929 Furlon, St. Clair Shores, when she failed to appear in court. She was charged with speeding 40 miles per hour on Jefferson on June 30.

Orvel W. Henning, of 4453 Third ave., Detroit, failed to appear in court and answer to a charge of running through a stop street at Charlevoix and Berkshire on June 24. Henning automatically forfeited the bond of $15.

Rear End Crash On Lake Shore

Two cars were damaged in a rear end crash which occurred at Lake Shore and Moross roads at 2:50 p.m. on August 5.

Marilyn Ross of 334 McKinley avenue had stopped her car for a red light at the intersection. It was struck from the rear by one driven by Frank C. Subjeck of 23719 Rausch, East Detroit.

The Ross car suffered $15 damage and the Subjeck car $75. Mr. Subjeck accepted all blame and said he would pay for the damages.

WINS TWO EVENTS

In the weekly track meet held at Culver Summer Schools last Week James G. Reindel, son of Ira H. Reindel, 1176 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan, placed first in both the 100-yard dash and the 200-yards hurdles.

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

White and gold ribbonettes imprinted with "Nancy and Paul" were used on the stems of the cocktail glasses at the Frederick C. Espers last Sunday afternoon . . .

When they gave a cocktail party which all the guests at first thought honored daughter Nancy's twenty first birthday . . .

But in reality turned out to be a dual festivity . . . for Nancy's engagement to Paul John Hillebrand was announced . . .

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hillebrand of Audubon road and the young couple have known each other since high school days . . .

The engaged girl greeted her guests in a becoming brown crepe frock worn with brief white linen jacket to which she pinned her orchid . . .

Mrs. Esper chose for the announcement party . . . a pastel pink crepe and orchids . . .

To Vacation in North

Nancy graduated from Marygrove College . . . and Paul is studying dentistry at the University of Detroit . . .

The exciting news told . . . Nancy is off any day now with her parents and her sister, Mary Ellen . . .

For a Summer holiday at White Lake Village in Northern Michigan . . . following which we'll probably be hearing wedding plans . . .

Simians Present Play

They're entertaining royalty at Grosse Pointe War Memorial all this week . . . as the young amateur thespians . . . the Simians . . . present "Mary of Scotland" by Maxwell Anderson . . . on the emerald lawns at the edge of the lake . . .

The all Pointe cast and all Pointe technical staff for the play have been active for four years now . . . having started their dramatic pursuits at meetings held in the Alger Sheldon home . . .

Even the costumes for the play are the work of the Simians . . . and we understand those Adele Heubner did for Queen Mary are lush, particularly elegant is one of white satin applied in golden flowers . . . Rae Garber has bought the materials used in the costumes . . .

Joan Lennon plays Mary . . . and Jane Slade is Queen Elizabeth . . . while Simian president, Jim Donahue is being applauded in the role of Lord Bothwell . . .

Don DeVries is Lord Maitland . . . Alger Sheldon is Lord Moray . . . Frank Sheldon, Duc de Chatelherault . . . Joseph Von Donick is Burghley . . . and Bob Slade has the part of John Knox . . .

Other important players are George Bashara . . . Dick Tobin . . . Sherb Brown . . . Ralph Genter . . . Jean Gray . . . Carroll Grylls . . . Jerry Jacobson . . . John Sanford . . . Jim Goebel . . . Dale Stephenson . . . and Bobbie Boothe . . .

Benefits War Memorial

The play opened Tuesday night . . . and that evening's proceeds went to Grosse Pointe Memorial . . . (John Gail is director).

Following the final performance on Saturday evening . . . the Simians will probably celebrate their annual dramatic season . . .

And the fun usually selected is a barn dance . . .

Many professional groups have cast a speculative eye on the work of these amateurs . . . and it's the Pointe's fortune they choose to retain their amateur status and to play for their friends here at home . . . Hope we see you there . . .

Rumneys Return from Germany

It's only a brief time Lieut. and Mrs. Mason P. Rumney Jr. are spending in the Pointe . . .

Having completed three years of service in Weiden, Germany they are having this respite before Lt. Rumney reports for duty at Fort Campbell in Hopkinsville, Ky.

This is their first visit home during those three years, too . . . so you may imagine the excitement it's been for grandparents and aunts etc, who've been becoming acquainted with the young men of the family . . . Mason III and John Charles Rumney . . .

The Rumneys are staying with his mother, Mrs. Mason P. Rumney . . . and in this too short a holiday . . . renewing Pointe friendships . . .

Mrs. Forbes Howard has entertained for them . . . Mrs. J. Rex Queeney of Maumee road had a luncheon for Mrs. Rumney . . . and this Thursday evening, Libby Archer will be hostess . . .

Alma Jean Smith's Wedding Vows Said

Becomes bride of Samuel George Fittes, Jr. in Saturday Afternoon Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church

Miss Alma Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Smith of Roland road, was married at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, August 5 in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, to Samuel George Fittes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Fittes of Provencal road. The Rev. Paul Ketchum officiated.

Alma Jean's wedding dress was charmingly lace over satin, fitted bodice ending in scallops with marquisette in the off shoulder scalloped neckline and pointed sleeves of pleated nylon tulle. The skirt fell into a majestic train.

A fingertip length veil of filmy imported illusion was gathered to a satin pleated tiara with a pearl trim. The bride's flower arrangement was a hand bouquet of stephanotis and fleur amour contrasted with streamers of miniature ivy.

Vows Exchanged By Nancy Joyce

St. Ambrose Church was the scene of the wedding of Nancy Ann Joyce to Francis Hillebrand Jr. on Saturday Aug. 5. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gregory Joyce of Trombley road. Francis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Xavier Hillebrand of Bishop road.

The bride wore a gown of sheer white marquisette over taffeta with a full skirt and a deep portrait neckline. An applique of pastel butterflies cascaded down the side and swept into a circular train. Nancy's bouquet held white orchids surrounded by stephanotis and ivy. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a headpiece of tiny pearls.

Susanne Joyce, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Jo Hillebrand, sister of the bridegroom, Madeleon Hurley, Judith Joyce, another sister of Nancy's, and Ruth Hoskin.

Bernard Kilbride Jr. was best man. Seating guests were Robert Grambo, Frank Gallagher, Joseph Tilton and Leo Hillebrand, cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Joyce chose a floor length gown of toast crepe and a charmingly eton. She wore a matching small hat and a green-bronze orchid pinned to her gold purse. Mrs. Hillebrand wore an aqua chintilly lace and crepe gown. Her hat was of multi-colored flowers. Tiny rosebuds pinned to a velvet purse muff completed her costume.

A breakfast and reception followed the ceremony, in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The new Mrs. Hillebrand wore a navy faille suit with white accessories and a white orchid for traveling. The couple will make their home in Lake Shore Village following a months trip to the West Coast.

Shores Future Government

There has been a deal of speculation throughout the Pointe as to the future government of Grosse Pointe Shores as the time approaches when it will be the only municipality in Grosse Pointe that has not converted to city status.

Speculation in the Shores case is heightened by the fact that a segment of the village to the north lies in another county and in another township.

Consultation with officers of the Shores village who have been giving close examination to the subject discloses that if the village does nothing it will have the dubious privilege of harboring within its present limits the last remaining portion of the old Grosse Pointe township, with the village's northern portion still remaining in Lake township in Macomb county. This would create the unique situation of the village remaining a part of a township whose limits were smaller than its own.

If the Shores should elect to become a city that portion of the Shores village which lies in Macomb county would automatically become a part of the new city of Grosse Pointe Shores and as such not compelled to pay taxes in Lake township as it now does. It would however continue to pay taxes in Macomb county.

There is plenty of precedent in Michigan for this situation where many cities or villages exist with portions in two counties. Among these are Milan, Northville, Union City, Hesperia, Memphis, New Baltimore, New Hudson and Mackinac City.

On the basis of present information about the only part of the proposed new Grosse Pointe Shores city that would be affected by conversion to a city is that small section of the village in Macomb. The taxpayers there would cease to pay township taxes to Lake township. That part of the new city however would continue to pay its school tax to the South Lake School district as heretofore.

While no definite steps have been started as yet to convert the Shores into a city, that course would seem to be the only way open to it.

It has sufficient population, as Michigan law permits the creation of a city in any community of not less than 750. The Shores will have a population approximating 1,000 by the late census.

On the score of paying more or less taxes by the change it is altogether likely the city would carry on with its present municipal services unchanged.

Explanations Demanded

Patriotic Americans may properly say the national is no time for recriminations and the exhibition of present weakness which such talk discloses.

Enough however has already developed in the realm of fact to justify one first class blast at our responsible leaders before we get down to the serious business of winning this "little war," which our President called in its beginning a "policing operation."

This policing operation has progressed in six short weeks into a sizeable war which we must now carry on six thousand miles away from our home shores.

We know that our intelligence department was woefully ignorant of what was going on in that part of the world or, if they knew and passed it on to our responsible authorities, they either went to sleep or were so utterly inept and incompetent they should be kicked out of office over night.

The people know that all of our movements in the foreign field, up to the moment of actual war, are under the direction of our State Department and they look to this department for the first explanations.

As for the army itself, they recall that at the end of the war it was immediately ballyhooed as the "world's greatest fighting machine." They realize that under pressure of the folks back home to "get the boys back" this fine fighting machine was dangerously weakened. They had every reason to expect that such of its forces as remained intact, and this was no corporal's guard but a sizeable fighting force even by modern standards, would remain a compact, highly trained and efficient force of the best soldiers in the world.

Instead, we learn now that the first men we sent into Korea from our forces in Japan had grown soft from the easy ways of garrison life there. This is something for our military leaders to explain. The folks back home are not greatly impressed by the glowing accounts of the "brilliant delaying actions" issued from Tokyo and the Pentagon.

They have learned from the lips of the men who have had to do the fighting that they were sent over equipped with tanks and guns that were inferior to those possessed by the men who they thought were a tatterdemalion gang led by a bunch of Kokos and Poobahs.

This is one for our military scientists to answer. Maybe our Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, who a few months ago said we, as were, could "lick anything on Earth" can brush this one off.

The people of this country have been deeply wounded and humiliated by the experience in Korea. The reverses in Korea can probably be repaired but it will take a long time for our deeds and example to restore the confidence of the people of Western and Central Europe in the efficacy of our aid in a great war which now looms immeasurably nearer by reason of the first skirmishes in Eastern Asia.

The folly of swapping horses in the middle of the stream has long been a part of the credo of American politics. The time may be approaching however when it will be wisdom and not folly to break with this old political superstition.

And now Mr. Truman has dispatched Averill Harriman to the Far East to act as his expert listening post agent. If we recall correctly Mr. Harriman has been strongly tinctured with ultra socialism ever since his days at Yale thirty seven years ago. He will find himself in congenial company in many spots on his tour abroad.

America has placed its hands to the plow in Asia and will not draw back whether we have to plow a furrow in this "little war" or in the biggest one that can come.

As President Wilson said in his message to the Congress on April 2, 1917 "God Helping her, she can do no other."

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Your greatness is measured by your kindness; Your education and intellect by your modesty; Your ignorance is betrayed by your suspicions and prejudices; your real caliber is measured by the consideration and tolerance you have for others."

You who have missed the delights of the radio commercial, have missed a lot indeed. Harken now to one we heard this week. It preceded a soap opera and went as follows:

"No doubt you have received a postal card from a friend who was vacationing in some cool spot this summer. On the postcard was pictured a girl about to dive into a cool looking sea or pool. Or perhaps you've received that burn of burns... 'we sleep under two blankets every night.' Weeeiiiil, take heart, my friend, YOU TOO can be cool all summer long if you will only use Flamjamb soap! Jump into a warm tub and lather your arms, legs, back and shoulders with Flamjamb... and see how cool you will feel, and how new and fresh you will look from head to toe!"

Always loyal to our readers, we did a little scientific research anent the above. We drooled over the inevitable postcard we received about the "sleeping under two blankets"... then we jumped into a warm tub with Flamjamb soap and followed directions to the wrapper. When we jumped out again... we were still hotter than aich... and instead of looking new and fresh (like say, Lana Turner) we still looked and felt like A. Pryor. Don't bother, folks! Better go someplace where you can sleep under two blankets and a pox on ANY kind of soap.

A local hairdresser, who we have always thought of as being on the "bright" side... certainly unbrightened himself last week with the majority of his clients. Anyone who can speak English knows that outside of Brooklyn Doger fans... there just AREN'T any fans like Tiger roofer. To be against the Tigers in THIS town, is comparable to standing on a soap box on the High School campus and announcing that you are a Communist.

Weeeiiiil, our hairdresser friend made the mistake of making a small bet last week on the Yankees to beat the Tigers! He not only made the bet and lost it... but was dumb enough to bemoan the fact to his clientele. How crazy can you be???

We horned in on a birthday party this week; a local gent celebrating his fiftieth. During the festivities and opening of packages and such... someone asked what his wife had given him. He proudly displayed a pair of gold cuff links (that matched a gold ring he had; a gold cigarette lighter and a gold cigar case. One of the male guests, eyeing the loot with some disdain, remarked to a companion: "He's probably planning on being buried in Fort Knox!"

We love this story about a little boy and his school dramatics. Junior came tearing home one afternoon and announced to his father that he had a part in the forthcoming school play. It wasn't much, he said, but it WAS important. He had to come on stage and say one line: "Cleopatra, what have you done?" His father allowed as how that was fine... but he had better put some feeling into the line, not just SAY it. He then proceeded to explain what he meant. "Make your entrance," he said, "Then say in a clear voice, 'CLEOPATRA'... then take a few breaths before you add 'What have you done?' Fine sez the boy, that's just what he'll do. Came the big night and Pa is sitting out front with a group of friends waiting breathlessly for Junior's big moment. At last the child rushes on stage in the midst of an intensely dramatic scene. He shouts, 'CLEOPATRA'... then he raises his head, and sniffs AUDIBLY three times... then adds, 'WHAT HAVE YOU DONE?' The audience was convulsed but Papa left quietly through a rear door.

A recent visitor to the Pointe said she never knew as many people to listen to soap operas as we have around here. She recalled that when she was here two years ago, she had to suffer through "Pepper Young" every day for a week, because her hostess had to listen to it, no matter what. She also remembered that the current scene in the opera was a character named "Edie" who was lost in a jungle with her husband. "THAT was two years ago," sez the out-of-town guest, "And Mimie is STILL listening to it" and by George, the two who were lost in the jungle have just gotten out!" We could have told her that isn't very surprising. We read an article on soap operas once, in which the author stated that he listened to "Helen Trent" (another opera) at one time, every day for two weeks. He said it took exactly that length of time for her to get through a revolving door!

A local couple who got stuck with a small house at a resort that turned out to be a flop... tried very hard to unload the place on some unsuspecting goop they met at a recent gathering. Dear wife was doing fine. She brought up all the good points she could think of and made up a lot that didn't exist. Meanwhile her husband was dipping his bill quietly and letting his bride do all the talking. Finally, the possible renter asked, "Are there any mosquitos up there?" Before the little woman had a chance to reply, her husband came to long enough to say "... Hell, no. There wouldn't be room for them between the raindrops." P.S. The couple is still stuck with the cottage... but they aren't speaking to each other.

Free Nations Declare Themselves

Americans will universally approve the words of their representative in the Security Council of the United Nations, when Senator Austin said "there would be no reward for an aggressor." Malik of Russia had proposed a peace in Korea by the withdrawal of all American troops.

It was unnecessary for him to remind his hearers that the United Nations was created chiefly for the purpose of curbing wars of aggression. He might also have recalled that to show the earnestness of the free and peace loving nations of the world on this matter they had hanged eleven men on one gallows in Germany a few years ago for no other reason than they had planned and carried through a war of aggression that just fell short of wrecking the world irrevocably.

It would be well for the plotters at Moscow to keep this in mind, as undoubtedly they have. If they start another war they know they have got to win it or lose their own necks. It will also be strong evidence of their belief in their ability to win such a war if they start one, and should correspondingly be a warning for us and the other free nations to make certain of our ability to win such if it starts.

One of the most hopeful signs in the present situation is that several free nations have already pledged to send combat troops to the field in Korea. The position so declared by the act is more significant than the amount of the help itself. It is a guarantee that the measure of their help will be stepped up in any coming situation.

June 12, 1950

ROLL CALL Present—Trustees Dougherty, Johnson, Sheaffer, Wendin.

Absent—Trustee Wicking. Also present—Superintendent Barnes, Attorney Coulter, Director of Business and Finance West, and Miss McElroy, Secretary to the Superintendent.

Notice of the call of the meeting and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting was read and approved as was the notice of registration.

Election officials were appointed and sworn in with instructions to open the polls of the various precincts at 8:00 a.m. and close at 8:00 p.m.

The meeting was reconvened at 9:05 p.m. in the library of the Grosse Pointe High School, 11 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan, with the following trustees present: Trustees Dougherty, Johnson, Sheaffer, Wendin, Wicking, Superintendent Barnes, Attorney Coulter, Director of Business and Finance West and Miss McElroy, Secretary to the Superintendent and Board of Education, were also present.

Secretary Dougherty was called upon to read the minutes of the annual meeting of June 13, 1949 and of the special meeting of February 24, 1950.

After the minutes of the June 13 meeting and the February 24 meeting had been read, it was MOVED by Trustee Johnson, SUPPORTED by Trustee Sheaffer.

That the minutes of the annual meeting of June 13, 1949 and of the special meeting of February 24, 1950 be approved.

ROLL CALL adopted unanimously.

ANNUAL REPORT President Wendin made a brief annual report to the electors present. His remarks included an expression of appreciation to the many persons in Grosse Pointe who contributed to the successful outcome of the February 24 special election. He paid a special tribute to three members of the teaching staff, Miss Doris Teft, Miss Mary Kremmin and Mrs. Winifred Campbell, who are retiring at the end of the current school year with service records in Grosse Pointe varying from 25 to 32 years.

Wendin's report also included brief summary statements with respect to 1949-50 budget operation, the school district's debt situation, and a report of progress in getting actual construction of auxiliary buildings under way.

The Superintendent of Schools was called upon to give his annual report.

Mr. Barnes pointed out that his report on this occasion can be only a preliminary outline of the official report which is prepared during the summer. The Superintendent expressed a conviction that the 1949-50 school year has been an unusually significant one in the history of the Grosse Pointe School District. He characterized the year as one in which citizens of Grosse Pointe and employees have been especially active in their support of the cooperative effort to improve the program of public education in Grosse Pointe.

The Superintendent's remarks also included some "then and now" comparisons of public education in Grosse Pointe in 1924-25 as compared with 1949-50. The Superintendent dwelled briefly upon the outlook for the future. He pointed out that a prospective enrollment increase of 450 pupils with no increase in the number of classrooms and repeatedly limited transportation facilities means a serious problem of auxiliary buildings in many parts of the school district.

The President then called upon Treasurer Johnson to give his annual report.

Johnson explained that since the fiscal year does not end until June 30, 1950, it is impossible to give a complete and final report at this time. Mimeographed copies of two financial statements were placed in the hands of all present. The first of these is a consolidated balance sheet of assets and liabilities of the school district as of June 30, 1949 as set forth in the annual audit of the school district's accounts. The second statement presented in written form to the electors present is a summary of the report of the Director of Business and Finance as submitted to the Board of Education at its regular meeting. This report shows receipts and expenditures in the General Fund in relation to budget estimates. It also includes a summary of the cash position of all funds and the place of deposit of all funds. It was pointed out by Trustee Johnson that this is not a complete report for the fiscal year 1949-50 since June transactions are not included in these figures.

MOVED by Trustee Wicking, SUPPORTED by Trustee Sheaffer.

That the Treasurer's report be received and approved and ordered spread on the record of the meeting in full.

ROLL CALL Adopted unanimously.

DESIGNATION OF DEPOSITORIES FOR SCHOOL DISTRICT FUNDS. MOVED by Trustee Johnson, SUPPORTED by Trustee Wicking.

That the following named banks and such others as shall be designated by the Board of Education of Rural Agricultural School District No. 1, Grosse Pointe Township, Wayne County, Michigan, shall be approved as depositories of the moneys and funds of the above named school district: Grosse Pointe Bank, Grosse Pointe, Michigan; National Bank of Detroit, Detroit, Michigan; Manufacturers National Bank, Detroit, Michigan; Industrial National Bank of Detroit, Detroit, Michigan.

ROLL CALL Adopted unanimously.

SALARIES FOR 1950-51 MOVED by Mr. Coulter, SUPPORTED by Mrs. Reflor.

That the salaries for Trustees for the ensuing fiscal year be $400.00 each.

ROLL CALL Adopted unanimously.

APPROVAL OF PUBLIC LIBRARY BUDGET. MOVED by Trustee Johnson, SUPPORTED by Trustee Wicking.

That the budget for the public library be set at $62,385.00 for the 51 fiscal year and that the same be approved and spread upon the records of the Board of Education.

The breakdown of the public library budget is as follows: Books and Periodicals $47,715.00; Operation Expense $4,950.00; Maintenance Expense $2,900.00; New equipment $300.00; TOTAL $62,385.00.

ROLL CALL Adopted unanimously.

A question was raised as to whether the Public Library could carry over any unexpended balance from 1949-50 appropriations.

Attorney Coulter indicated that this could not be legally done and Mr. Orr, Director of Public Libraries, reported that the end of the year balance in the Public Library account would be extremely small.

RETURN OF ELECTION INSPECTORS

ROLL CALL Adopted unanimously.

President Wendin called on Trustee Dougherty, who said:

"I haven't much to say. It has been a great pleasure and an honor to have been a member of the Board of Education the last three years. I deeply appreciate the opportunity of serving another three years, working with the Board in finishing the program that we started. During the past three years I would say the happiest day is today, not because of the program that we started, but because I finally see the steam shovel next to the Parcels School ready to get started on the completion of that school."

President Wendin made the following remarks with respect to his reelection for another three year term on the Board of Education:

"I have nothing to add to what Mr. Barnes, the Superintendent, said and what Mr. Dougherty said. I feel that the challenge is great and that is one interesting part of the job. I have often said I sometimes can't figure out why anybody would want to be a school board trustee. But once you get into it and you begin to feel you are taking part in solving the important problems, it becomes a real challenge. I am glad to be on the Board for another three years and that this program gets carried through. Thank you very much."

Sailoff Necessary to Pick State Star Boat Champion

By Fred Runnells
For the first time in the twelve year old history of the Michigan State Star Championship series a sailoff was necessary to determine the champion.

Bob Cameron, Pete Bennett and Bob Budeman wound up in a three-way tie for top honors at the completion of the three race series held on Gull Lake last weekend, August 5 and 6, to force the first sailoff. Cameron and Bennett represented the St. Joseph, Michigan, fleet while Budeman flew the Gull Lake fleet colors.

Champions' Race
It was truly a champions' sail-off as Cameron won the title a year ago and Budeman topped the 1948 series. Bennett is a champion in his own right, having won the St. Joseph Fleet World Championship Eliminations both last year and this year.

As the other 17 skippers and their crews watched from the Gull Lake Yacht Club grounds or from spectator boats, the three deadlocked boats battled three times around a three and a quarter mile triangular course. For seven and a half miles all three were within a short stone's throw of each other, but at the weather mark on the third trip around Cameron ran into bad luck and ran out of air while his other opponents battled it out to the finish line with Bennett nipping Budeman by 50 feet for the winning gun and the 1950 State title.

Local Skippers Outclassed
Representatives from the Detroit River Fleet didn't fare so well in the final standings except for Alex Allardycy, who won the last race to finish fourth in the series. This was the same position he captured in the 1949 series held at St. Joseph.

Next in line came the writer's "Brat" with enough points to grab ninth place despite the fact it finished the first race with a badly torn mainmast. The sail ripped shortly after the start of the race but the "Brat" managed to capture a ninth place in the first race. Following the "Brat" in the standings came Bob Reithmiller's "Para I" of the Belle Isle Fleet, who finished thirteenth just ahead of Bill Douglas' "Mondovi" in fourteenth and Jack Tighe's "Old Crow" which brought up the rear but its skipper was a gracious, smiling loser which is one of the hardest things to do in any sport.

Next Year's Race Here
The 1951 series site quite probably will be right here in our own backyard with the Detroit River Fleet as host. The St. Joseph Fleet, although one of its own boats won the title, practically assured the local fleet that it would be happy to have the series here as it has held the series since the local fleet held it in 1947.

Bennett was awarded the coveted Philip Upton Trophy which was donated by the Upton family in memory of their son who was Grosse Pointe Attorney Files for Judge's Post

Max M. Marston, a practicing attorney since 1928, has filed his candidacy for the vacancy on the Probate bench resulting from the death of the late Judge William F. Cotter.

Marston, a graduate of the Detroit College of Law, has been very active in Grosse Pointe Woods' civic affairs. He is a Past President of the County Club Woods Progressive Association and resides with his family at 1901 Severn road.

The Lone Ranger's declining radio rating may be due to the fact that with Hopalong Cassidy playing the circus circuit, Topper is winning the popularity race with Silver.

Star Series Captured by Meryl Amo

By FRED RUNNELLS
By finishing second in the final race of the Detroit River Star Fleet's five race World Championship Elimination series, sailed off Crescent Sail Y. C. on Sunday, July 29, Meryl Amo captured a narrow one point victory over the writer's "Brat" to earn the right to represent the local fleet at the Internationals to be held at Chicago August 20 to 27.

Dream Realized
The series win realized a 10-year-old dream the popular Amo had while he was in the Navy and saw the Stars racing on San Diego Bay from his post on a battleship. It was then that Amo got the burning desire to skipper his own ship in the Internationals.

For the past nine years it seemed Lady Luck turned her back on Amo's all-out efforts to realize his dream and time after time just when he appeared to be on the threshold of victory the fickle lady would smile in another direction.

Luck Almost Conquers
Even this year Amo was almost licked again by bad luck. In the first race of the series he had the misfortune of blowing all his batens out of his mainsail and was forced from the race. After that race the outcome looked pretty bleak as far as Amo was concerned. But despite his misfortune he came back to prove he has the stuff champions are made of when he piloted his new Star "Mohawk" to three firsts and a second place in the final four races.

Series Is Plagued
The series, which was sailed during the month of July, was plagued by breakdowns, sickness and disqualifications.

Probably the most disastrous disqualification was experienced by Al Allardycy, last year's elimination winner. Allardycy was disqualified by the judges for not responding to a starboard tack boat at the home mark of the third race which he won, incidentally. The disqualification dropped him from a commanding 8 point lead over the writer's "Brat" and Bill Walker's "Thistle," who were tied for second place, to third place in the standings two points behind the leaders. However, he did come back with a first in the final race to salvage a series third after finishing third in the fourth race on Saturday, July 28.

Dick Miller was forced from the series after the third race. Illness kept him out of the final two races.

County Airport To Be Scene of Big Air Show

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has ordered the Third International Air Fair, scheduled for Aug. 11-12-13, moved from Willow Run Airport to the neighboring Detroit - Wayne County Airport as a wartime expedient.

George Vest, CAA third region administrator in Chicago, delivered the order to the Aero Club of Michigan, sponsor of the three-day air show, on instructions from Washington.

It was explained that the CAA high command is moving to completely separate military, aerobatic and non-scheduled flying from operations of the regularly scheduled air lines at terminals throughout the United States.

It was understood further that the presence at Willow Run Airport of a large volume of guided missile and rocket fuel research work under military contract to the University of Michigan also influenced the CAA's decision.

Jack A. Tompkins, General Chairman of the International Air Fair, said that while the last-minute change of location comes as a shock, there are some benefits to be derived from the move. "Our show this year is to be a lot bigger than last year's performance, with more airplanes on the field and in the air, and air racing added for the first time.

"At Willow Run the Air Show schedule had to be fitted in with perfect timing with the dozens of scheduled air line movements, and the new racing events called for carefully plotted turns as well as timing.

"At Wayne County Airport, however, we will be able to close the entire field for the three days of the show and remove some of the restrictions from the competing aircraft."

Tompkins said the Wayne County field will offer just as much grandstand and standing room for spectators and provided equal facilities for parking right on the airport.

Because the airport is owned and operated by the Wayne County Road Commission, prompt action is assured in the matter of clearing extra access roads into the field, opening up fences for entrance gates and otherwise preparing the field for more than 300,000 spectators during the Aug. 11-13 week-end.

The Wayne County Airport is located at the Willow Run Expressway and Middle Belt road, only 19 miles from Detroit City Hall.

Tompkins said maps are being prepared showing the various avenues of approach to the field, and these will be offered to newspapers within a few days.

"This is going to be the biggest air show ever staged in Michigan, and the only air racing program anywhere in the United States this year," Tompkins said.

"And the last-minute change of location—while it means extra work for our staff—will not limit the scope of the show in any way. On the contrary, it may permit an even more impressive demonstration of aeronautics."

Miss Victory by Single Point

Crescent Sail Yacht Club's District Championship crew members in the Wakefield Elimination Series look forwardly at their unique sun helmets which they had hoped would cause a giggle or two at the Junior National Championship series at Cohasset, Mass., later this month. However, DON HILL, left, LYNN BABCOCK, SKIPPER RONNIE SUTTON and ERIC TIPP, kneeling, lost the Wakefield Series final eliminations by one point to the Jolly Roger Sailing Club of Toledo, Ohio on Wednesday, August 3 at the Rocky River Y. C., in Cleveland.

Crescent Sail Club Juniors Nipped in Wakefield Series

By Fred Runnells
Crescent Sail Yacht Club's Wakefield Series crew dropped a one point decision to the Jolly Roger Sailing Club crew of Toledo, Ohio, and the right to represent the Great Lakes District in the Junior National Championships, on Wednesday, August 3, at Cleveland, Ohio.

Ronnie Sutton and his crew of Don Hill and Lynn Babcock captured two firsts, two seconds, a third and a fifth to garner an aggregate 30 1/2 point total for the six race round robin series sailed off Rocky River Y. C., August 1 to 3.

Tables Are Turned
Losing to the Jolly Roger boys turned the tables on the Crescent crew as it scored a lopsided victory over them in the local eliminations held at Crescent the last week of July.

Going into the fourth race of the Wakefield series the local crew held what looked to be a comfortable margin with only three races remaining. However, in the fourth race Lynn Babcock turned her back and forced the local lads down to fourth place to tighten up the series.

Room for Criticism
Skipper Sutton had room to criticize the race committee for not having the committee boat at the right end of the finish line. This cost Sutton a first place, as he was leading on the last leg of the windward-leeward course. He figured the committee boat would be at the weather end of the finish line, where it should have been according to racing rules. The last leg of the race being a spinnaker run Sutton played the leeward end of the line, which was marked by a half submerged stake buoy. When the Crescent crew discovered the position of the committee boat they dropped their spinnaker and were forced to beat back to the boat and while this was taking place three boats sneaked over the line ahead of them.

Makes Costly Mistake
A mistake, which was readily admitted by Sutton, in the fifth race cost the local crew its chance to make the trip to Cohasset, Mass., where the Junior

National Championship will be sailed later this month. They finished third in this race. In the final race Sutton captured his second first place in the series but the Jolly Roger outfit saved its one point margin and will represent the Great Lakes at Cohasset.

Ronnie will have another chance to sail in a big event when he will crew for Meryl Amo in the Star Class Internationals at Chicago August 20 to 27. Amo will be the Detroit River Fleet representative by virtue of his one point victory in the local Star eliminations series completed July 30.

Pointe Softball Team in Front

The Grosse Pointe team continues to stay far out in front in the South Lake Softball League, with a record of 16 wins as against only two defeats. Moor's Bar, in second place, can boast 10 wins and six losses. Phillips Cleaners has the same number of victories and defeats, but also has one tie game against its record.

All of Monday's games were rained out last week. On Wednesday Moor's beat Decico 10 to 3 and Phillips downed Dean Bros. 9 to 1.

In Thursday's game Major Cab defeated Dean Bros. 2 to 1. On Monday last Grosse Pointe scored 10 runs while Decico was getting one lone tally. Ladell was the winning pitcher. The Pointers had a big eighth inning, scoring 8 runs in that frame. Two Pointe errors without a hit gave the opponents their lone run in the sixth.

The Pointe team is playing Phillips Cleaners tonight at 9 p.m.

The league playoffs will start on August 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Months of night time city driving are apt to make you unaware of the condition of your lights. Vacation time is here and with it the probability of your taking to the over-crowded highways under hazardous driving conditions.

Head lights out of focus are a menace as deadly as faulty brakes, often resulting in a blinding glare for the approaching driver or a dangerous lack of illumination of the road ahead.

For safety's sake, let us check and correct your head lights now. Having this attended to costs so little... failure to do so may cost your life.

Christian Science Lecture by Archibald Carey, C. S. B.

Given Under Auspices of the Second Church of Christ, Scientist, Detroit, Mich., July 30, 1950

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled
Christian Science: How It Works
by
Archibald Carey, C. S. B. of Detroit, Michigan

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Many years ago, near a busy city of the Orient, a blind beggar sat at the roadside begging. Not only was he blind to the light of the sun, but he could see nothing before him but endless days of sitting in the heat and dust, a beggar.

One day as he sat by the roadside he heard the noise of many feet coming toward him along the way. Jesus of Nazareth was passing by. As the sound came nearer, he heard eager voices talking of the wonderful works that were done by this new teacher. They said that he had healed leprosy and blindness, that nothing seemed impossible to him. Blind Bartimeus had heard of Jesus. People said he was like David, and that the power of God was with him. They said that he used this power of God to heal those who came to him for help. With a great surge of hope the blind man cried out, "Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me." Those who were near by tried to keep him from interrupting Jesus, but he continued to cry, "Thou son of David, have mercy on me."

Jesus heard him. He stood still and told him to get up and follow him to him. Without a moment's hesitation, Bartimeus cast away the garment that was the mark of a beggar and came to Jesus. Jesus said to him, "What wilt thou that I should do unto thee?" The blind man answered, "Lord, that I might receive my sight."

How that prayer wells up from the heart of humanity! "That I might receive my sight"—that we may see what to do, what course to take, how to meet the problems that confront us! How men are searching for the answer!

Jesus knew the answer. Realizing the presence and power of divine Love to meet the needs of men, he said, "Receive thy sight." Immediately Bartimeus received his sight and followed Jesus in the way. Not only was the physical blindness healed, but the mental blindness of indignation and unperceived opportunity was gone. Without hesitation he followed Jesus in the way—the way of loving service to mankind, of understanding, grateful obedience to God (Mark 10:46-52, Luke 18:35-43).

Let us look at this incident frankly and objectively, first to see just what took place, and secondly, to see what laws were utilized to see what could be practically useful to us. But before going into the methods used, let us get a complete picture of what Jesus did to Bartimeus. He not only healed his eyesight; he also lifted him out of what we have called mental blindness. Bartimeus saw nothing to do but sit by the roadside and beg. He was blind to any other possibility. Many blind people have seen opportunities for useful occupation and progress, in spite of the physical handicap of blindness. This man was not only physically blind, but he was also mentally blind, unable to see the possibilities of activity that could bring happiness to himself and others.

Then notice what a transformation took place. Not only was his physical blindness healed, but his mental blindness, his inability to recognize opportunities and make decisions, was also gone. He threw away the cloak of a beggar, abandoned his place at the roadside, and leaving behind him his previous associations, followed Jesus in the way.

It would be hard to overestimate the importance of this second healing. At first glance, it may not seem as spectacular as the healing of his eyes. But think what a difference it made to him! Not even the healing of his physical vision could have had more far-reaching effects.

Is not this release from mental blindness one of the greatest needs of humanity today? How often we say, or hear others say, "I can't see what to do next;" "I can't see how to get what I need;" "I can't see where to turn." Whether the need is for health or money, or a home, or for opportunities for progress and freedom, we hear the same plaintive, baffled cry, "I can't see."

If this not blindness, as tragic as the lack of physical sight? And as we see the problems before us, do we not all re-echo the cry of blind Bartimeus, "Lord, that I might receive my sight?"

Spiritual Vision
What is the mental or spiritual vision that can overcome mental blindness? You hear it said that we see only with the physical eyes and that they control our vision. But suppose two men are looking at a printed page in a book. Both have equally normal physical vision, but one is able to read and the other is not. Both can see equally well the black letters on the white page. But the one who can read sees not only the letters on the page, he also sees the ideas conveyed by the words in the book. They are both looking at the same thing; but one sees only the black and white outline of letters, while the other sees the words and the ideas. The man who cannot read is blind to the ideas that the other man can see.

How can the man who cannot read be released from this mental blindness? By learning to read. His blindness is dependent upon his eyes, could not be remedied by magnifying glasses. Only as he learns to read, to see ideas in this manner, can such blindness be overcome. As his understanding increases, his blindness disappears. The greater his understanding, the more he can see in each page of the book. What he is able to see depends upon his understanding.

Jesus referred to this mental blindness when he said, "Ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?" (Matt. 16:3.) The Palmist yearns for the mental and spiritual vision that will heal this blindness when he prays, "Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law" (Ps. 119:18).

Since what one understands controls what he is able to see, our environment is evidently largely controlled by our capacity to see, to understand. The things that are in the midst of a library of interesting and stimulating books and yet might consider his environment held nothing of interest. Let him learn to read, and he would find himself in a completely different environment, satisfying and inspiring. His environment would change as his ability to see increased. So his environment might be said to be dependent upon what he is able to see.

When we come to think of it, how practically useful we find this ability to see things that cannot be seen by the physical eye. If you are planning to build a house, your ideas take shape in thought, and you begin to think of the kind of house that you would like to build. You talk it over with a builder. He begins to see what you have in mind, and the ideas become more concrete. Plans and specifications are drawn up. Today we have carpenters and masons and those who will furnish the materials see the project more clearly. The materials are prepared in accordance with this mental picture. The building is built, and the mental concepts of the builder stand forth in visible and tangible expression. You move into a home which you had seen before. It was built on your mental vision. You have visited and established your environment.

This power of ideas to control our tangible environment has a far-reaching effect. Fifty years ago a quiet, comfortable, reliable automobile was surrounded by automobiles. What made them appear? Years ago a few men in different parts of the world were entertaining the idea that it was possible to produce a self-propelled vehicle to take the place of the horse. Most people were blind to that idea. The men who saw this idea succeeded in getting others to see it. The idea began to find tangible and visible expression—usually very noisy expression—and vehicles that could actually move themselves along the road began to appear. More people saw the vision. They were willing to buy and use cars and furnish the money to build more cars. As the mental concept of freer transportation developed, automobiles were improved, better fuels were provided, roads were prepared. Our tangible, visible environment was transformed by the mental vision of the automotive pioneers who saw something beyond the mental blindness of their day and succeeded in sharing their vision with us. Whether you drive your own car, or whether you use taxis or buses, this vision of the early automobile builders has brought to you an environment of greater freedom and opportunity. Because of the vision of these men, and because you now can see today what they saw before it was physically visible, it is possible for you to drive an automobile or ride in a bus. Their vision has produced tangible results for you individually.

How Jesus Healed
As we realize how powerful is the ability to see mentally, it is not surprising to find this explanation of Jesus' method of healing in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, pp. 176, 177: "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

Jesus beheld the perfect man. He saw something to which Bartimeus and those around him were blind. Bartimeus was reaching out for true vision. As he began to see himself as Jesus saw him, as he accepted this correct view of man, his blindness disappeared, both physical blindness and that which might be considered as mental. The ability to see clearly spiritual wholeness which Jesus shared with him brought healing and regeneration. His body was healed, and his outlook was transformed.

Can we learn to use this same method that Jesus utilized and get similar results? Yes, Christian Science gives a scientific explanation of the Christianity which was taught and demonstrated by Jesus and his apostles. The discovery of this Science is an interesting story. The Discoverer of Christian Science was Mary Baker Eddy, a woman of brilliant intellect. Her parents were devout Christians, and her intellectual attainments were balanced by a deep appreciation of spiritual Truth. As she grew up and her breadth of vision increased, she could see beyond the narrow limitations of dogma and doctrine which would describe a limited, changeable, and supernatural. She also rose above the scientific and intellectual bigotry which would describe the world as wholly material, ignoring the existence of such an essential character as God as love. She could see no reason for the conflict that seemed to exist between science and religion. A scientific approach which was based upon an honest search for truth would find its goal in a Christianity founded upon an understandable Principle, a principle which maintains and controls every fact and law in the universe.

As Mrs. Eddy sought to understand the right relationship that must exist between true science and religion, an incidental circumstance which brought a practical answer to her questions. She met with an accident which was expected to prove fatal. She took her Bible and opened it at the account of the healing by Jesus of a palsied man. As she studied this, she was instantaneously healed.

Here she gained an intuitive indication of the method of healing used by Jesus, and as she devoted herself to a study of his teachings and works, by approaching this study from a scientific point of view and looking for facts and laws rather than for miracles and supernatural occurrences, she discovered the laws that Jesus had used and the methods of making practical use of them. This was the Science of Christianity, and she called her discovery "Christian Science."

She wrote a textbook on the subject, called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." This growing numbers became interested in this Science, with their co-operation she founded the Christian Science movement. Anyone who knows what she accomplished is compelled to admire her ability and intelligence. Those who have received the benefits which come through using her teachings add to this a deep sense of gratitude and love toward the one who has done so much for them.

Christian Scientists recognize Mary Baker Eddy as the Discoverer of Christian Science, as the Founder of the movement through which healing truth is reaching to the kind of man as the great leader whose clear vision has led them out of ignorance and bondage into freedom and health, harmony and success.

Prayer
How does Christian Science explain the miracles of Jesus and give us the vision that will enable us to make use of the same laws which he used? As we begin to study the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, we find that the first chapter is on the subject of prayer, because prayer is absolutely essential in gaining an understanding of this Science. As we study this chapter, we realize that prayer, as understood in Christian Science, is very different from the popular thought about prayer. Since God is omnipotent, Mind-knowledge, there can be nothing accomplished by attempting to tell God in prayer something that He does not already know. Since "God is love" (I John 4:16), unchanging Love, having infinite intelligence, there can be no point in attempting through prayer to change His good purposes or to dissuade Him from carrying out His will. There would be no advantage, even if it were possible, in persuading God to be less than loving and wise.

But if we see prayer as a means by which, through communion with God as Mind, we can gain the ability to see and use right ideas, we realize how important is prayer. Prayer can be in bringing to us the ability to see as Jesus did when he brought the light that lifted Bartimeus out of blindness.

True prayer, then, is communion with God. In order to commune with God, we must know what God is. Believing that God is changeable and can make mistakes, or that He is sometimes unjust or unkind, or that He is limited by time or space, would hinder our communion with God. Attempting to commune with such a God, a God that does not exist, would not be prayer in the true sense. It would tend to blind us to the facts; it could not bring the clear vision of intelligent understanding.

So the effectiveness of prayer is safeguarded by an understanding of what God is. Christian Science teaches that God is unchanging Principle, governing the universe in perfect harmony. It refers to God as ultimate Truth, upon which all the facts of the universe are based. It explains that God is unlimited Mind, completely intelligent, infinitely wise, knowing everything that can be known. It shows that God, being infinitely intelligent, must fully discern and appreciate the goodness and harmony of His creation, that His very being must be Love. As He is necessarily the foundation of every thing that expresses life, God is Life itself, resisting and overcoming anything that would harm or destroy the eternal identity and perfection of His creation. And Christian Science teaches that God is Spirit. As Spirit, God is every-where, and there is no distance that separates us from Him; no space is too small or inaccessible for the operation of His irresistible power. This is the God with whom we can commune in constant prayer. As we gain through prayer a clearer vision of what God is, we find that this brings faith. This is not the mystical faith of "blind belief" that may temporarily appear to produce remarkable results but will eventually lead to disappointment and disillusionment. This is a sound faith that is founded upon facts. When you understand the multiplication table, you have full faith in it. A faith that is based upon an understanding of Truth is very different from mysticism or fanaticism. A faith that is founded on facts can never be shaken. It grows stronger with use. As we commune with God in true prayer, as we learn to see His nature as it is, our growing understanding of the unshakable power of His faith. The Bible says, "The prayer of faith shall save the sick" (James 5:15). Thus true prayer brings the ability to behold as Jesus did the perfect man of God's own likeness and with this correct view of man to heal the sick.

Gratitude is an important feature of prayer. It would be impossible to realize the nature of God, what He is doing for man, what He stands ready to do for each one of us, without being grateful. A lack of gratitude means a failure to realize what God is. One who felt no gratitude could not be conscious of the presence of God; how could he pray to God? But in the atmosphere of gratitude we can know God as He is, can realize our oneness with Him, can be conscious of His presence everywhere. "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (Matt. 5:8).

As we experience this true vision, as we see the manifestation of God everywhere, we love the beauty, harmony, and perfection that appear. It would not be possible to see the perfect man, who is Godlike, without loving this likeness of God. Through prayer we learn to understand and see the perfection of God and man and to love them. This correct view, that necessarily includes both understanding and love, exercises the power of truth over error, the power of the infinite over the finite, and thus it heals sickness. In the Christian Science textbook we read, "The Christlike understanding of scientific being and divine healing includes a perfect Principle and its laws, and a perfect man,—the basis of thought and demonstration" (Science and Health, p. 259).

But someone may say, "I agree that these things we have been considering are true, but I do not have the ability to see ideas that control our environment, that through communion with an intelligent, loving, ever-present God one can develop the ability to see ideas, but how can I see them made practically useful to me?"

"Christian Science," as Science, shows us how to make an effective application of what we know, as we deal with the facts of life. We are not dealing with abstractions, but with concrete facts. Only one who sees intelligently can really comprehend facts. The only guarantee of being truly objective is to exercise an intelligent, practical, subjective, or knowing consciousness. This intelligent, knowing consciousness recognizes spiritual or divinely mental facts, and with such facts it can destroy mistakes, in sufficient quantity, to prevent error in Christian Science to produce practical, tangible effects.

Christian Science Treatment
How is this done? The use of this power of Truth over error to heal disease and overcome every problem is Christian Science treatment. Being scientific, it is definite and effective. It can be compared to the use of the power of a fact to destroy an error in mathematics.

Until it is corrected, a mathematical mistake can make a great deal of trouble. The whole production line of an automobile factory might be shut down by a mathematical mistake which resulted in the ordering of an insufficient quantity of certain parts. And yet the mistake in mathematics can always be corrected, and when it is corrected it no longer makes trouble. The process of correcting such a mistake is very much like Christian Science treatment. Suppose you multiply one number by another. In order to verify your answer you divide it by the multiplier. If that does not give you the other number, you know that your answer is not in accordance with the principle of mathematics and therefore is not correct, is not real.

But you know that you can correct this mistake. This is a very significant thing. Even though the original calculation with the wrong answer, is in your own handwriting, you know that if it is wrong it does not really represent your thinking. In spite of what appears to be your thinking, and its product in figures on the paper, you repudiate it because you know that it is not true and accurate. You reject that false consciousness which seems to accept the mistake as real, and stand by your intelligent ability to recognize the truth. You know that the mistake in mathematics is as false and unreal as the mistake it believes. Then you proceed just as you would if you were correcting a mistake in mathematics and did not know the right answer, or as you would if you were learning to drive an automobile. You use the truth you know and patiently and persistently apply it to the situation which is before you until the power which these exercises over error produces its inevitable effect.

As we employ the counterfactual to nullify the error which is presented, gratitude to God for the truths that we already know and have experienced helps to keep these facts before the thought. If we are dealing with inaction, a grateful realization of the many ways in which we see or have seen right activity expressed, in our experience or the experience of others,

Let us take an example of Christian Science treatment and see how similar it is. A man who was seriously ill with general inactivity of the digestive tract, accompanied by inaction of certain glands, requested Christian Science treatment. In silent prayer the practitioner turned to infinite Mind for the truths that were needed to correct this condition.

Before God Spirit, always active, expressing the perfect activity of Life, and because this perfect activity is as omnipresent as Principle, it was apparent that inactivity must be like a mistake in mathematics, incorrect, untrue, unreal.

But the man said he felt sick. Just so a mistake in mathematics seems very real to the false consciousness that believes it. This false consciousness is spoken of in Christian Science as mortal man. As in mathematics, this false consciousness that seems to believe a mistake can be reversed and destroyed when it is subjected to the truth, as we replace the mistake with the correct view of man based on Principle can be true, and since real consciousness can know only these facts, both the false belief of inaction and the false consciousness that seems to experience it are unreal.

Since only what is felt that he might be justly suffering for his own sins in the past. The practitioner called his attention to the Bible statement, "Now are we the sons of God" (I John 3:2). A son of God cannot be a sinner and God cannot be a sinner and deserves no suffering. The only debt the real man owes to God is to express God, to live in obedience to God's laws. This obligation always exists and is always being fulfilled. As one accepts his truehood, which is governed by God, he not only is not compelled to undergo sickness as a punishment, but is forever rid of it. And the omnipotence of God is always ready to give him freedom and to maintain that freedom as sin is repudiated and abandoned.

Each phase and symptom of sickness or sin that appeared in this case was reversed through spiritual understanding of the specific truth that would correct it, following the method of Christian Science textbook (p. 233). "The counterfactual relative to any disease is required to cure it." The man said that there was a lack of proper glandular secretions. This was corrected by the truth that there is no chemical or biological inaction or action independent of God that can interfere with the harmonious activity of Life, the Life which governs man and everything that belongs to him. The patient said that necessary muscular action appeared to be lacking. This was met with the truth that there can be no inert substance and that no physical inaction or action can prevent the inevitable activity of Spirit, which is always operative everywhere. He said he had no appetite and no desire for right action. Since God is Love and is expressed in right activity, how could an ill man desire and fall to desire and have right action? Only the false self, mortal man, which accepts mistakes as real, could say that man lacks right desire. Man under the government of God constantly desires and expresses right, orderly activity, the intelligent expression of Life and Love.

As the false, illogical delusions of mortal man were reversed and replaced with spiritual truth, as these truths were accepted and affirmed, fear and despondency began to lift. The morbid mental attitude that he thought was the result of his physical condition began to disappear even before there was any physical change. The body, relieved of the stagnating effect of mistaken thinking, expressed free, orderly, harmless, and painless activity. The gentle, irresistible power of Love removed permanently the effect of material inaction that had seemed so powerful.

In this case, the healing came immediately. Other similar cases have required patience. Sometimes it has been necessary to apply the truth persistently, as we do in mathematics if we do not instantly find the correction. One phase of the false consciousness called mortal man is that it sometimes appears to continue after when you know that you know better. When you watch a sunset, you know that the sun does not move, that it is the earth that does the moving. The false sense insists that it can continue to see the sun moving, and you know better. When you learn to drive an automobile, you may learn from a book everything you need to know about driving your car. And yet, until you have used this knowledge in actual driving, you may not properly respond to what you know. But if you continue to use what you know, and keep on driving, before long your body will become so responsive to your thought that you immediately go through all the motions required to stop or start your car without any deliberate effort.

So in Christian Science treatment, many facts, through the work of a concentrated Christian Scientist are instantaneous. But if healings do not come instantly, you proceed just as you would if you were correcting a mistake in mathematics and did not know the right answer, or as you would if you were learning to drive an automobile. You use the truth you know and patiently and persistently apply it to the situation which is before you until the power which these exercises over error produces its inevitable effect.

As we employ the counterfactual to nullify the error which is presented, gratitude to God for the truths that we already know and have experienced helps to keep these facts before the thought. If we are dealing with inaction, a grateful realization of the many ways in which we see or have seen right activity expressed, in our experience or the experience of others, helps to keep the realization of the omnipresence of perfect action clearly before us. As we gratefully expand our appreciation of the counterfactual we are using, it is helpful in every case.

The testimonies of healing which you may read in the Christian Science Sentinel or Journal, as well as the testimonies you may hear any Wednesday evening in a Christian Science church, show how effective this method of healing has proved itself to be and that it is successful where other schools of healing have failed. The reason that it is more effective than psychotherapy, or psychosomatic medicine, or other systems that deal with what are called the mental aspects of disease, is that in Christian Science only fundamental Truth is used to heal. There is no effort to patch up the old, but human beliefs with other beliefs through the power of suggestion or hypnotic control. Christian Science develops the individual's natural, intelligent response to Truth.

Not only does Christian Science give us this powerful method of dealing with disease or discordant conditions through Christian Science treatment, but it also enables us to protect our health and progress in a very definite way. Again we learn to understand and see the Every mathematical concept which presents itself at the door of your thought is either a fact or a mistake about a fact. There is nothing else. And a mistake can always be corrected by its specific counterfactual, leaving you with the fact instead of the mistake. And there are no exceptions to this rule. There is no mistake which cannot be corrected by the appropriate fact. In Christian Science we learn to see every thought which appears at the door of consciousness, rejecting each one that is erroneous and replacing it with what is true.

Business
Christian Science is practically useful in business. Through Christian Science we learn to develop responsiveness to right ideas from infinite Mind, so that our decisions may better express both intelligence and a loving helpfulness to others. A clearer realization of the nature of human beings, as shown in Christian Science, enables us to detect and reject methods and motives that would interfere with our progress. We learn to weigh and appreciate the value of an idea, to accurately detect and reject false impressions that might do harm if accepted as true.

There are definite steps we can take through which we receive the ideas that will broaden our vision and heal both the mental and physical blindness. We need to study the foundational truths that are given in the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. The spiritual truths that are given in the Bible have been distorted and misrepresented by ignorance and misunderstanding that the Christian Science textbook is truly a key to the Scriptures as it enables us to recognize their true meaning.

Christian Science makes a distinction between the Christ, defined as "the divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error" (p. 583), and Jesus, defined as "the highest human corporal conception of the divine idea" (p. 585). The eternal Christ was so fully exemplified by Jesus that he was known as Christ Jesus. Both the Bible and the Christian Science textbook speak of the Christ as the way, and as we think of the Christ as the way of living, it helps us to understand the eternal presence of the Christ. As our lives approach more and more the divine manifestation of God, we think that oneness with God that is true salvation. Thus the acceptance of the Christ brings full salvation, not as a possible future experience, but as something to be experienced here and now, with a present release from sickness and poverty and sin. Christian Science fulfills the words of the Bible, "Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ" (Rev. 12:10).

How to Begin
How does one start to use Christian Science? You can buy or borrow a copy of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, at any Christian Science Reading Room or secure it at any public library. Read the first chapter, on Prayer. It is like lifting the window shade on a sunny morning. Keep on reading, and see how it illumines the meaning of the Bible. You can attend Christian Science church services on Sunday, and on Wednesday evenings when the meetings include testimonies of healing in Christian Science.

You can daily study the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, as well as give sufficient time for earnest, grateful prayer and communion with God.

Is not the prayer of blind Bartimeus in our hearts today, "Lord, that I might receive my sight?" We yearn for the light of understanding, the illumination of love. And the same divine Love that Jesus revealed is here to answer our prayer, to heal us, and guide us, and provide for us. We too can fling aside the garment of heaviness, of sickness and sorrow and despair, and in the dawn of a new light follow Jesus in the way. Our loving, wise Father-Mother God stands ready to help us, step by step, and with gratitude and joy we can go forward. In the words of the Christian Science Hymnal (No. 64):

From sense to Soul my pathway lies before me,
From mist and shadow into the Truth's clear day;
The dawn of all things real is breaking o'er me,
My heart is singing: I have found the way.

Gold Star Mothers, Wives, Plan Victory Day Services

Combined committees of Gold Star Mothers and Gold Star Wives are holding their Second Annual Victory Day Service—"Four Freedoms Memorial"—where over three hundred World War II heroes from every theatre of war are buried together, on Sunday, August 13, at 3 p.m. sharp, at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, East Long Lake road, in Bloomfield Hills.

Speakers will include Governor G. Mennen Williams and Major General Stanley E. Reinhart, now of Birmingham, Michigan. Major Reinhart is a graduate of West Point Military Academy, served in World War I, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal. He also served in World War II in the European Theatre with General Patton's Third Army, across Germany and Austria. At the end of the war, his division, the 65th, was farthest east of all Allied Troops on the Western Front.

Major Reinhart was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Silver Star Medal, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal, Legion d'Honneur (France), Croix de Guerre with Palm (France), Order of the Patriotic War, first class (U.S.S.R.), and a member of the Russian Guards. He also has ten battle stars.

Brigadier General Bonner Fellers will also speak. He is a World War II veteran of the African Desert and Pacific campaigns. He was on the staff of General Douglas MacArthur in Australia for three years. His reports on desert warfare won him the Distinguished Service Medal, and the promotion to Brigadier General. He set up the Civil Affairs Division for the Philippine liberation, and in addition was psychological warfare officer against Japan for which he was awarded the Oak Leaf Cluster to the S.S.M.

In the Philippine campaign, Brigadier General Fellers was personal combat observer at the front for General MacArthur, and also Secretary General to the Allied Council for Japan. His other decorations include the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Service Star of the Philippines with the Anahau Leaf, six Bronze Battle Stars, and the Bronze Arrow Head for assault landings.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Many years ago, near a busy city of the Orient, a blind beggar sat at the roadside begging. Not only was he blind to the light of the sun, but he could see nothing before him but endless days of sitting in the heat and dust, a beggar.

One day as he sat by the roadside he heard the noise of many feet coming toward him along the way. Jesus of Nazareth was passing by. As the sound came nearer, he heard eager voices talking of the wonderful works that were done by this new teacher. They said that he had healed leprosy and blindness, that nothing seemed impossible to him. Blind Bartimeus had heard of Jesus. People said he was like David, and that the power of God was with him. They said that he used this power of God to heal those who came to him for help. With a great surge of hope the blind man cried out, "Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me." Those who were near by tried to keep him from interrupting Jesus, but he continued to cry, "Thou son of David, have mercy on me."

Jesus heard him. He stood still and told him to get up and follow him to him. Without a moment's hesitation, Bartimeus cast away the garment that was the mark of a beggar and came to Jesus. Jesus said to him, "What wilt thou that I should do unto thee?" The blind man answered, "Lord, that I might receive my sight."

How that prayer wells up from the heart of humanity! "That I might receive my sight"—that we may see what to do, what course to take, how to meet the problems that confront us! How men are searching for the answer!

Jesus knew the answer. Realizing the presence and power of divine Love to meet the needs of men, he said, "Receive thy sight." Immediately Bartimeus received his sight and followed Jesus in the way. Not only was the physical blindness healed, but the mental blindness of indignation and unperceived opportunity was gone. Without hesitation he followed Jesus in the way—the way of loving service to mankind, of understanding, grateful obedience to God (Mark 10:46-52, Luke 18:35-43).

Let us look at this incident frankly and objectively, first to see just what took place, and secondly, to see what laws were utilized to see what could be practically useful to us. But before going into the methods used, let us get a complete picture of what Jesus did to Bartimeus. He not only healed his eyesight; he also lifted him out of what we have called mental blindness. Bartimeus saw nothing to do but sit by the roadside and beg. He was blind to any other possibility. Many blind people have seen opportunities for useful occupation and progress, in spite of the physical handicap of blindness. This man was not only physically blind, but he was also mentally blind, unable to see the possibilities of activity that could bring happiness to himself and others.

Then notice what a transformation took place. Not only was his physical blindness healed, but his mental blindness, his inability to recognize opportunities and make decisions, was also gone. He threw away the cloak of a beggar, abandoned his place at the roadside, and leaving behind him his previous associations, followed Jesus in the way.

It would be hard to overestimate the importance of this second healing. At first glance, it may not seem as spectacular as the healing of his eyes. But think what a difference it made to him! Not even the healing of his physical vision could have had more far-reaching effects.

How Jesus Healed
As we realize how powerful is the ability to see mentally, it is not surprising to find this explanation of Jesus' method of healing in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, pp. 176, 177: "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

Jesus beheld the perfect man. He saw something to which Bartimeus and those around him were blind. Bartimeus was reaching out for true vision. As he began to see himself as Jesus saw him, as he accepted this correct view of man, his blindness disappeared, both physical blindness and that which

Failure to Lower Living Costs Deplored by Congressional Candidate Durant

Richard Durant, World War II veteran who is running on the Republican ticket for the nomination for Congressman from the 14th District, this week lashed out at Truman's failure to do anything about the cost of living. In a series of nightly meetings which carried him all across the district—from Indian Village, the Harper-Gratiot area, and Grosse Pointe-Durant, who heads his own small business consistently pounded away at the complete lack of understanding shown by Mr. Truman on this vital problem.

"We ought to judge every law and every proposed new law by one simple standard," Durant said. "How does it affect us as consumers? Does it make our standard of living better, or does it hold our standard back? And it is my conviction," he went on, "that every time you come across a law which makes life more expensive for us, at the same time you will find that it is more expensive because the government has taken away our liberty of action.

"Take the price of food. Why is it so expensive? Is the answer to clasp on price controls? That's what Truman recommends. "How can he be so short-sighted. Has he no memory of what happened before? Doesn't he know that putting on price controls while doing nothing to stop the CAUSES of high prices is like trying to stop the water running from a faucet without turning it off.

"Does Mr. Truman ever mention WHY food prices are high? Does he ever tell you that the government insists on keeping food expensive through its farm subsidy program? Does he tell you that you have to pay for every bit of food we buy—once at the grocery store—and twice to the tax collector so that Mr. Truman can get the money to make prices artificially high.

Or, take cotton. Raw cotton sells today for about 38 cents a pound, as against about 29 cents a pound last year. People are buying more sheets and clothing and pillow cases; stores are ordering more cotton goods from the manufacturers; the textile mills need more cotton. So what do the Democrats do?

"Why, the brilliant lads down there in Washington—and this includes the Democrat who represents this district now—pass a bill which deliberately restricts the amount of cotton that can be planted and brought to market!

"Why, the brilliant lads down there in Washington—and this includes the Democrat who represents this district now—pass a bill which deliberately restricts the amount of cotton that can be planted and brought to market!

In fact, it's gotten to the point where you and I work just about one-third of our time for Mr. Truman. We may think, when we go to work on Monday morning, that we are working for our families—but we're not. We spend Monday, you and I, working to pay the taxes Mr. Truman levies on us. And Tuesday—it isn't until about 12:30 that day that we can start working for ourselves.

"Mr. Truman tells us that those taxes are necessary—that the cost of living has got to stay high. In fact, he tells us now that even MORE taxes are necessary—that to get another $10 billion the cost of living must rise still more because of new taxes.

"Doesn't he ever think it's possible to cut non-essential civilian spending? Doesn't he realize that in our present situation we have got to put first things first? Has the idea never occurred to him that to get more money for defense, the best way is to cut down elsewhere?"

"Civilian spending by the Federal Government has jumped from $5 billions to $12 billions since the end of the last war. Isn't there room for a big cut there? The nightmare program of farm subsidies costs us $2½ billion a year—isn't there room for a cut there? Actually it should be eliminated, not cut. The Hoover Commission, says Mr. Truman wastes over $4 billion a year in things like this—almost 70 per cent of the supplies on hand for civilian agencies are excess; that $2½ billion was spent buying that excess; and that we pay 70,000 employees $188 million a year just to store and check that excess!

"Who says we have to levy new taxes? Who says we can't put first things first?"

"Every action of Mr. Truman seems designed to raise the COST OF LIVING. No where has he done anything but shadow box with the problem. Just the threat of the controls he wants increases the scramble for goods, sends prices higher. And later will come black markets, under the counter retailing, swarms of price enforcement snooters, shoddy material, shortages—you remember how it was before.

"It's time to tell the truth whether it's popular or not. Civilian spending by the government must be cut in half; farm subsidies must be eliminated; inflation by deficits must end; waste must go; easy credit inflation for housing must be stopped—and we must put first things first.

"That's why I want to be your Congressman."

Shorten Tests For Renewal of Driver Permits

Licensed drivers in Michigan will hereafter not be required to submit to written and oral examinations when renewing their operator or chauffeur permits, under a change in procedure authorized by State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard.

The change will enable driver license examiners to devote more time to beginner drivers as well as eliminate the provision under which licensed drivers repeated tests which they had once passed successfully. Drivers renewing licenses, however, will still have to pass vision, color and hearing tests.

Persons seeking their first license will, of course, have to pass all of the tests as in the past.

When initiated, the purpose of the present system was to make certain that no driver was licensed who did not have the necessary knowledge and skill to drive properly.

"We feel now that the benefits from that procedure have been accomplished to the point where we can simplify renewals," Leonard said. "This will also permit giving more time to beginners to see that they get off to a good start as safe drivers."

Of the 847,886 persons who took driver license examinations in Michigan last year more than 90 per cent were renewing their applications. The total also represents an average of more than 4,000 examinations for each driver license examiner. There is an equivalent of 187 full time examiners in the state.

Only six of 43 states reporting to the National Safety Council in a special poll have any form of examination for renewing driver licenses. In addition, with the exception of Michigan the six states have required only partial examinations.

The abbreviation of renewal tests in Michigan will not affect the suspension, revocation or restriction of licenses of drivers who accumulate bad driving records. This will follow the same procedure as in the past.

Offers Advice To Stop Mildew

Muggy, warm, summer weather is the ideal time for the molds to grow that cause mildew. They thrive on cloth, paper, wood and leather, warns Olevia Meyer, Michigan State College, extension specialist. Mildew discolors, leaves a musty odor and causes decay.

First step in preventing mildew is to remove moisture. Windows and doors should be opened for airing only when the air outside is cooler and drier than the air inside. A cool night is a good time to freshen the air in the house and a little heat in a stove will speed up the drying process.

Electric fans are helpful in circulating the warm damp air out. A small electric light burning in a closet is sufficient to dry the air and a fan may be used for circulation.

One of the chemicals available to absorb moisture is calcium chloride. If a musty odor persists it may be removed by sprinkling chloride of lime in the areas, as on a basement floor.

A few simple rules will help you to prevent mildew from growing on clothing and other household articles. Never allow damp or wet articles to lie around. Stretch out to dry all moist or wet soiled clothing and unironed dampened garments. Sprinkle only enough pieces for one day's ironing. Give leather articles a coat of wax before storing. Remember to wax the soles of shoes, too.

Michigan Mirror

"An Anti-Governor Williams more is afoot in the state," reports the Grand Rapids Press.

Basis for the conclusion was an attack made by Charles F. Edgecomb of Detroit, president of the Michigan Truman club and Wayne county auditor, against the Americans for Democratic Action unit in the state. Speaking at a Grand Rapids Democratic rally, Edgecomb assailed the Michigan ADA segment of the Democratic party as being "Marxist missionaries."

We quote the Press: "Edgecomb asserted the ADA has taken over the Democratic machinery in Michigan, Minnesota and Connecticut and that it has 'unduly influenced the executive branch of our state government.'"

"The speaker, former housing director of Detroit, declared the ADA, in Michigan led by Hicks Griffiths, former state chairman of the Democratic party, had tried to defeat President Truman in his bid for the Democratic nomination in 1948 and in the state 'has left nothing undone to weaken, supersede, circumvent and in effect destroy the position of authority of our national committee man, George Fitzgerald.' Fitzgerald was elected national committeeman at the 1948 convention.

"Praising President Truman as an 'average American selling an American program,' Edgecomb likened Lt. Gov. John W. Connolly to the president.

"One breath of political fresh air you get as you pass through Lansing enroute to Grand Rapids is the honesty and the integrity of Connolly and Roth (Attorney General Stephen J. Roth) and a few others who have studiously avoided entanglements with intellectual phonies," declared Edgecomb.

"Because of the impossibility of working as Democrats under Griffiths in Michigan, a large group under the leadership of our national committeeman formed the Truman Democratic club of Michigan," the speaker added.

"It was then that Edgecomb made it clear that as long as Governor Williams associates with the ADA, he would be opposed by a segment of Michigan Democrats.

"The Wayne County auditor declared, 'We as Democrats must be re-elected. But we as Democrats must also unload our fifth column. The only way we can do this constructively is to demand that any candidate running under the Democratic banner run as a Democrat, that he denounce or renounce any affiliation, endorsement or association with the ADA. Failing to do this, we must consider these candidates regardless of how high the office, as tools using the Democratic party for ulterior purposes. . . . There is no room in this party for those who wear political cloaks that are labeled Democrat but which cover up a Marxist philosophy.'"

The reporter for the Grand Rapids newspaper then related how William H. Carpenter, state central committeeman, took the floor to "defend the name of our governor." Carpenter was quoted as follows:

"I'll defend the ADA if I have to give Gov. Williams full credit. When the speaker omitted the governor's name in mentioning the breath of political fresh air, he meant the governor creates a bad smell and a stench, didn't he?"

"Gov. Williams is the inheritor of the policies of Frank Murphy and is the only Democrat to trade blows with the Republicans. My sympathies are with Edgecomb who came here instructed in what to say by George Fitzgerald, our national committeeman."

The Grand Rapids newspaper reporter then added this interpretation: "Observers, reviewing Edgecomb's speech pointed out the Detroit left Democrats three choices in the coming election. Edgecomb implied, they declared, that Democrats can vote for Williams, vote for a Republican or 'sit tight' and not cast a vote for governor."

"They pointed out that Edgecomb and his group would probably prefer the third method of combatting Williams if the governor does not come around to their line of thinking."

The above news story from Grand Rapids is quoted as proof that Michigan Democrats, like Michigan Republicans, have their own internal family rows. It is interesting to observe, however, that the charges by Edgecomb—as president of Michigan Truman clubs—were also made by Republicans in the 1949 state campaign for state highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction.

We have a hunch that Edgecomb's attack on the ADA will intensify the Republican assault against Williams on the grounds that he is "unduly" influenced by "fifth column" socialists who pose as Democrats. The Detroit Democrat has furnished new ammunition.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

We are now sure that it's some jaded horticulturist, in the fastness of his green house (getting madder and madder as he thinks how many times he'll be asked the name of THIS unusual bloom) who makes up the English names for flowers . . . The other day, just to prove our own interest in a lovely arrangement, we asked the hostess the names of two of the prettiest flowers . . . The answer was immediate and unsmiling, "Horse Mint and Goose Neck."

A great wave of the newest South American rummy, BARRACA, (combination of regular rum AND canasta) is sweeping the Pointe. It's a slashing game so adored by the latins they get up at 2 o'clock in the morning to play it . . . At least that's what our teacher told us, baseball bat in hand.

A Virginia visitor to the Pointe tells us that Michigan's Torch Lake is regarded by lake lovers as the second most beautiful in the world. Now, it's too hot to argue, but the first is Lucerne and you may insert the name of your own favorite body of water and be perfectly safe with us.

Our Hollywood correspondent tells us that MRS. BOB KELLER, a recent visitor to the West Coast, was invited to the most star studded cocktail party of the season given by one of the most important producers in the film industry. (Even the hot hors d'oeuvre passer was to have been a silent film player . . . it was THAT star-studded). In fact Mrs. Keller was to be about the only civilian present. Missie K. was breathless with anticipation and upon entering the drawing room was presented first to . . . no, not Ingrid Bergman . . . but the Pointe's MRS. GLENDON ROBERTS . . . and one of her own very best friends . . .

PILFERINGS

A professor at a dinner was introduced by a chairman who poured on compliment after compliment. The embarrassed professor said the introduction reminded him of the story of the three bulls—a big bull, a medium-sized bull and a little bull. As they trotted down a road together they passed a green field full of Conover model cows. After one look at these beauties, the big bull said "Good-bye" and jumped over the fence. The middle-sized bull and the little bull kept going until they reached another field full of Powers model cows. The middle-sized bull shouted "Farewell" and jumped over the fence. Then the little bull went on and on and on . . .

The moral of this tale, the professor explained, is that a little bull goes a long way.

Frank Morgan was at a cocktail party, holding a scotch and soda, when the hostess suddenly appeared with a tray of silly-frilly canapés. She insisted on serving him. "No thanks," grunted Frank, taking a firmer grip on his glass. "I belong to Hors d'Oeuvres Anonymous."

Often a rushed, harassed businessman will send his secretary out to tell the visiting salesman that he may have just "five minutes." St. Louis salesman George J. Boesch takes this literally. He has a wrist watch with an alarm, and before he enters the sanctum, he pulls a tiny lever on the side of his watch and sets the alarm for five minutes later. When the alarm goes off, the startled businessman exclaims: "What's that?"

"My five minutes are up," says Boesch, snapping off the alarm. After that he usually gets another hour or more, and comes out with the order. Interested in the watch, the client relaxes, becomes more friendly—and what else does a salesman want

DOUBLE TROUBLE

While backing his car out of the driveway on July 31, John C. Bick, of 909 St. Clair, struck his neighbor's fence and then ran into a parked car, owned by Mrs. Ruth E. Bloomer, of 1320 Grayton. Bick was given a ticket for not having his car under control and causing an accident.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. EDWARD T. BARTHEL OF GROSSE POINTE BOULEVARD

Once you become interested in rug hooking, you are an addict, according to this week's Pointer of Interest. The first rug she started to hook had a black background, Mrs. Edward Barthel reports, and she was so anxious to get it finished that when she ran out of material, she took off her suit skirt, cut it up in strips and used it.

A magazine picture of a woman hooking rugs first attracted Mrs. Barthel's attention to the hobby. A year ago last October she enrolled in a class and has been rug hooking merrily ever since. "It's a fascinating pastime," she says, "because you make things that will last a lifetime."

Millions of Hooks

The hobby, however, takes a tremendous amount of wool since there are millions of little hooks in each rug. Again quoting Mrs. Barthel, "You gather material from every place and do everything but steal to get old wool. Old wool, incidentally, is softer than new and takes a better color when dyed. Luckily, word of Mrs. B's rug hooking has been passed about so that both friends and strangers regularly come to her door with old wool garments."

Mrs. Barthel's only implements are an old-fashioned rug hook (none of these new-fangled mechanical gadgets . . . she uses the real McCoy), the small cutter with which she cuts her wool into strips, and the frames on which she stretches the rugs. She does her own dyeing in the kitchen and keenly enjoys securing the "rich old colors which you can't buy."

Use of Colors

Using dark or old-fashioned colors gives hooked rugs an Early American look, Mrs. Barthel explains, but the same pattern can be made to look French by using paler colors. The hearty rug in her home employs a leaf design, outlined in a beautiful selection of shades. Two old over coats were used in its making. Her favorite rugs are floral patterns with scrolls.

Her rug patterns are obtained from New England, and Mrs. Barthel estimates that she has hooked about three good-sized rugs besides smaller chair seats and footstool covers. She dearly loves their 129-year-old farmhouse near Coldwater, and her hooked rugs add a Colonial air there against the black floors. At present, she is working on a stair carpet for the farm, and a 9x12 "Harmony" rug design. She estimates that the latter will take about two years to complete.

Men Love Them

Men love hooked rugs, Mrs. Barthel contends. Indeed, Mr. Barthel shows his approval by carting frames and equipment around for her, driving miles to get more wool when she runs out, standing 200-watt bulbs all over the house and heaps of various colored wool piled up in the living room.

Mrs. Barthel did cross-stitch and finished every chair in her house with needlepoint before she took up rug hooking, but she finds the new hobby far more fascinating. She plans to attend Mrs. William Hanford's classes again this year "because you compare your work with others' and constantly learn more, and it's a lot of fun!"

The Eternal Disease

By FRED M. KOPP, R.P.H.

No one knows when tuberculosis became a killer of mankind. It was apparently a common disease among the early Egyptians; since then it has wiped out more people than all the wars in history.

Even today it claims many victims. But unlike eras past, now there are medicines and methods of controlling T.B. if caught in the early stages.

All that is needed to virtually eliminate this disease is a chest X-ray for every child and adult periodically throughout life.

Any medicine beneficial in the prevention or treatment of T.B. can be supplied upon your doctor's orders by a conscientious pharmacist.

This is the 304th of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.
