Students Gather Names for Crusade for Freedom Scrolls

Picture by Paul Gach

While the mobile unit of the Crusade for Freedom was visiting in Grosse Pointe last Thursday, students of Grosse Pointe High School helped canvass for signatures and obtained 1,500 to add to the scrolls which will be sent to Berlin. PRINCIPAL WALTER CLEMINSON of the High School, left, looks on while SKIP PESSL presents the signatures to BETTY REGAN of WJR, member of the mobile unit staff. LOIS TONGENS, right, high school student, appears pleased with the results of their efforts.

School Fight Approaching Fever Pitch

Vernier Parents Circulating Petitions to Have Board Reverse Its Decision

The parents of the second grade children in the Vernier School who have been relegated to half day sessions by the Board of Education, are actively pushing their efforts to have the Board reconsider its action and restore all-day sessions.

Petitions are being circulated and these are being freely signed parents of all grades.

Pointers Place Signatures On Scroll for Berlin Shrine During Crusade for Freedom

Mobile Unit Obtains Thousands of Names During Visit to Community; Rotary Club Sponsors Event Locally

The Crusade for Freedom rolled into Grosse Pointe in high gear at noon on Friday, September 15, when the big broadcasting mobile unit of WJR took its stand at the northeast corner of Kercheval and St. Clair.

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club sponsored the journey of the big unit about the Pointe area. Most of the officers and directors of the Rotary Club were on hand to assist in the work of obtaining signatures to the Freedom Roll.

Wherever the unit stopped, one or more stands were set up on the curb with the Freedom Roll displayed with pencils available for the signers. These were manned by men and women volunteer workers who came out with WJR-Detroit Times, or by local workers.

Chief Arthur Louwers of the Park and Chief Tom Trombly of the City were on hand to see that proper police escort was available on the journey through the City and Park.

Mr. McIntyre was well pleased with the results of their Grosse Pointe visit. He estimated that 3500-4000 names would be obtained on this trip. About 4,000 were actually received.

The Crusade for Freedom is headed by General Lucius D. Clay, who was our former supreme commander in Germany and in direct charge in Berlin during the trying period of the Red's blockade of Germany and the successful retaliatory airlift which the American Air Transport set up. He knows, if anybody does, of the prospect for the success of the movement to deposit millions of names of free Americans on the Freedom Shrine which will be erected in Berlin.

Carnival Proposed To Raise Funds for Memorial Center

Directors Holding First Meeting After Summer Recess, Discuss Plans to Boost Finances and Hear Fine Reports

The first meeting of the Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association following the summer recess was held at the Center on Monday evening, Sept. 11.

The meeting was taken up with the study of the audit of the association for the first full year of its operation, August 1, 1949, August 1, 1950; with hearing the annual reports of the standing committees with their recommendations for the future, and the consideration of ways and means to further strengthen the financial structure of the association.

No Charge for Audit
The audit was made by Price, Waterhouse and Company who made no charge for their valuable services. It was announced moreover that this firm would continue to make the annual audit of the Association without charge.

The audit covered four main divisions; Statements of Assets and Liabilities, Income and Expenses, Cash Receipts and Disbursements and Stocks and Bonds owned by the association.

Lossing $1,300 a Month
The Center is operating at a loss of about $1,300 a month and the most urgent immediate problem confronting the Center is to permanently bridge this gap.

The report on payments on pledges to the association submitted by Treasurer Paul I. Moreland offered a very satisfactory picture. Ernest Kanzler was especially pleased with this showing, saying it indicated that the association was getting in about 96 per cent of its pledges which he said compared very favorably with the record of similar public projects.

Double Coverage Is Unintentional

Earl Mossner of 1168 Buckingham road appears to have a justified gripe against publicity received in connection with an automobile accident.

The issue of September 7 contained a one-paragraph story stating that Earl had been involved in an accident at Mack and Nottingham on August 31. All the facts were correct excepting for the date. The accident happened last December 31. Earl paid a fine in January and considered the case closed.

When friends chided him for being involved in two accidents at the same location, he naturally investigated.

An error was made in pulling police accident records from the files and last December's sheet became mixed up with that covering August. Fortunately this was the only case which received double billing.

Apologies to Mr. Mossner for the repeat performance. We suggest he clip this to show the next acquaintance who attempts to kid him.

Safety Patrols and Service Squads to be Honored Guests

Officer Edison Storing of the Detroit Police Department, who has appeared before thousands of Pointe school students with Safety Girl, his magnificent Doberman Pinscher, thinks not nearly enough is done to show appreciation for the boys and girls who serve throughout the school year as members of the Safety Patrols and Service Squads.

Storing thinks businessmen and service organizations should provide more entertainment for them as a method of thanking them for the great safety work they perform.

The policemen of the Pointe, who greatly appreciate the help the youngsters provide, give them an outing at a "baseball game each year."

Storing has arranged for all the Patrol boys and girls and members of the Service squads to be admitted free to the All Breed Dog Show being held at the State Fair Coliseum this Sunday, September 24, from 1 to 6 p.m. Their white belts or arm bands will be all that is needed for them to get into the show.

Poor Health Forces His Resignation

Former High School Principal Has Been Superintendent Since 1947

John R. Barnes, superintendent of Grosse Pointe's public schools, has tendered his resignation, to be effective January 1, 1951, or before if the Board of Education can find a successor before that date. He has asked to be relieved of his duties as soon as possible.

Mr. Barnes' resignation was announced Tuesday in a letter to the NEWS by School Board President Franklin D. Dougherty. The letter follows:

The Letter
BOARD OF EDUCATION
Grosse Pointe 30, Michigan
September 19, 1950

The Editor,
Grosse Pointe News.

Dear Sir:
It is with deep regret that I announce the resignation of John R. Barnes, Superintendent of Schools, effective on or before January 1, 1951. Last June the Board of Education was advised by Mr. Barnes that due to the state of his health, he did not feel he would be able to carry on his duties as Superintendent of Schools longer than the end of the present year.

He now feels because of his health it is imperative that he terminate his services as soon as a suitable person can be found to fill his position and has asked that he be relieved of his duties not later than January 1.

In tendering his resignation, Mr. Barnes stated that he had come to this decision only after the most careful consideration and on the advice of his doctors. He indicated that it was most unfortunate that he had to leave before the close of this school year, but that there was no alternative.

Mr. Barnes' resignation will result in a most serious loss to the Grosse Pointe School District. This is particularly true because of the immense building program which was approved by the electors last February and which is just now well under way. While this is true, the Board feels that because of Mr. Barnes' health, his resignation must be accepted.

At the present time no plans have been made for the election of a successor for his position.

Yours truly,
Franklin D. Dougherty,
Principal.

Came Here In 1930
Mr. Barnes came to Grosse Pointe in 1930 from Teachers' College of Columbia University, to become principal of Grosse Pointe High School. He served in that capacity until 1937 when he was made director of instruction of the entire Pointe school system, with an office in the Board of Education Building.

In 1942 Mr. Barnes was made assistant superintendent of schools, and held that title until 1947 when he was advanced to full superintendent when Superintendent Paul Essert resigned.

Holds Two Degrees
Mr. Barnes holds AB and AM degrees from the University of Kansas and had served as principal of both junior and senior high schools in Kansas before he went to Columbia in 1929 to take advanced graduate study.

Mr. Dougherty stated that Mr. Barnes wanted to resign last year on account of his health, but said the board had prevailed upon him to stay for at least another year, when it was hoped the school building program would be far enough advanced so it would no longer require his personal guidance.

Property Owners Form Association

The Kensington Road Property Owners Association has been formed to protect the interests of residents between Kercheval and Mack avenues, it was announced last week.

The association, which has been chartered by the state of Michigan, is headed by Pete Wemhoff, of 1353 Kensington, who is editor of the trade publication Automotive News. Vice-president is Lyle J. Hicks, of 1335 Kensington.

School Fight

for Bert Wicking, voted against by a large proportion of school the half day sessions when the matter was first voted on, when asked by the NEWS whether the Board might reconsider its action, said the Board was always ready to listen to the arguments of the parents, but questioned whether or not there could be any other action taken now.

The matter of bus transportation is the biggest problem.
Two Different Matters
It will be recalled that when President Walter Schweikart of the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc., said they could handle the transportation it was on the basis of their being taken down to the lower end of the district in staggered loads, which meant the rearrangement of the hours of school openings down there. If these children could be carried in bus loads at fifteen minute intervals for example, he said they could carry 400 of them. To get them all down there at the same moment each school morning was a different matter.

The parents had argued also that the Greyhound Bus company had agreed to take the children down, but the details of this were never clearly set forth. Mr. Dougherty said he understood it had been determined this would cost $50 per day or $250 per week.

The feeling on the matter has run so high in the Vernier district that some of the more strenuous ones have been suggesting getting out petitions calling for a recall election against the entire School Board. It would appear improbable however that the fight would go this far.

The parents of the second graders now state that one of the three men who went before the Board as parents of sixth graders and urged the half day sessions so that their children might not have to ride on buses, has now taken his child out of the public schools entirely and is sending him to the Detroit University School.

There is no question of the deadly seriousness of the opponents of the half day sessions and the outcome of their new effort will be watched with keen interest by the parents of school children throughout the Pointe.

The results of this fight may have a determining effect on the whole question of part time sessions hereafter throughout the whole school district, when and if that question ever arises in other parts of the district.

Dougherty Sympathetic
Mr. Dougherty called attention to the fact that he himself has a child in Mason School who is restricted to half day sessions, and he doesn't like it either.

Kids' Carnival Aids Palsy Fund

On Saturday afternoon a group of McKinley and McMillan road children staged a carnival at 233 McMillan for the benefit of the United Cerebral Palsy Foundation.

Plans for the carnival originated early in August and Peggy Young, Diane Koebel, Jean Coover, Carol Hopkins, Carol Reed, Mary Young, Patty Berard and Martha Parker worked enthusiastically to promote the project.

Neighbors contributed generously with white elephants for the auction sale which proved very profitable. The net profit from the carnival amounted to $17.65, which has been turned over to the Palsy Foundation.

Memorial Directors Meet

has obtained many pledges from citizens who have offered to give a specified sum annually for a term of years to support the operation of the Center during the period in which it was becoming established on an enduring basis. Director John L. Kenower reported for his committee which was named some weeks ago to consider ways and means of building up the income of the Center to a point where it would be assured of balancing its operating costs.

Five Possible Plans
He said that the committee had explored five possible plans. First to appeal directly to the Torch drive. But brief consideration was given to this source. The Chest now already contributes to the Neighborhood Club, which is a Grosse Pointe institution, and there was doubt whether the Fund would consider making contributions to another such strictly local institution as a memorial to the Grosse-Pointe war dead and service men and women of the late war. This in any event was a direct responsibility of the Grosse Pointe Community.

The idea of appealing to the five Pointe municipalities to make an annual prorated contribution to the support of the Center, was deemed inadvisable to approach at this time.

Might Rent It Out
Another plan considered was to increase the income of the Center by renting out the property for weddings and large scale private social functions. Some of the women on the Board have held that a substantial sum could be realized annually by this course. It was not believed by the committee however that such a method of maintaining the Center, even in part, would be approved by the community.

The fourth plan considered was one that had been suggested several months ago of holding an annual Fair or Carnival. This plan it was argued would enlist the interest of the widest circle of persons on a community-wide basis and would contribute to the popularity of the Center, and held the prospect of raising a large sum of money each year. It would have the additional advantage of breaking away from the old routine method of asking the people to perpetually make money contributions to the Center without offering any return in personal enjoyment.

This plan, Mr. Kenower said, should be seriously studied during the coming winter but as such an enterprise would require many weeks or months for development it would be impossible to undertake such a project earlier than next spring or summer.

Private Contributors
The final plan considered was to build up a body of private contributors who would pledge to give a specified sum annually towards the operation of the Center.

The campaign recently conducted by letter appeal for contributions to the endowment fund exclusively was not a success, and the probability seemed to be that this fund would have to be built up from the occasional contributions from well-to-do citizens.

In this connection Mr. Kenower mentioned that the income from the endowment fund had now reached almost exactly $6,000 a year, and had a present value of $121,420.

Nash Shows Newest Models

Committee of the Program Committee presented a fine report of their activities in the past year. The affairs of the Teen-aged, College and Young Married groups and more Mature groups had all been conducted under the direct supervision of the Center and had been self-supporting financially and had even returned a substantial sum of money into the Center's treasury.

Mrs. F. C. Ford, the General Chairman of the Program Committee strongly urged that arrangements be made to keep the Memorial Building open on Sundays, at least on Sunday afternoons. Normally the building has remained closed all day Sunday although during July and August it was kept open a part of the day on Sunday.

Wants Other Arrangement
This arrangement had been made out of deference to the help, but Mrs. Ford argued that some other arrangement should be made, and quickly, which would keep this property available for visit and inspection by the people of Grosse Pointe. There are many persons here who can come to the Center only on Sunday and the wishes of these should be promptly considered, Mrs. Ford urged.

While no formal action was taken, it was obvious from the sentiments of the directors, both at the meeting and immediately after, that something would be done on the matter of Sunday opening at an early date.

Blood Bank
The Young Adult Group, through Mrs. Lord, requested that arrangements be made whereby facilities could be set up in the Center for the collection of blood for a blood bank of 100 pints which Grosse Pointe has immediately. The need for this is imperative.

The directors were heartily in favor of the move and such arrangements will be made at once. The building has quarters which are well adapted to the work.

out that in order to support this regional campaign it will be necessary to stimulate the highest possible interest within Grosse Pointe and to emphasize the responsibility of the community itself in supporting the total United Foundation effort.

The 1500 solicitors needed in the Grosse Pointes alone, to help raise the grand total needed this year of $10,500,000, will require the co-operation of every individual, man, woman and child during the next few weeks and during the actual campaign, October 17 to November 9. More definite plans for the kick-off meeting and promotion activities in which the entire community will be asked to participate, will be announced shortly, according to Chairman Standart.

Passenger Hurt As Cars Crash

George W. Thomas of 278 Lakewood, Detroit, driving west on Kercheval on Sept. 16, attempted a U-turn at Neff and was run into by a car driven east on Kercheval by Donald Reno of 338 Ridge. Both drivers afterward claimed they thought the other was going to stop.

Norman Settle of 223 Moross, a passenger in the Reno car, suffered a fractured nose, bruises on the head and had several teeth loosened.

Both drivers received tickets. When the children pull the metal tips off their shoe strings, dip the exposed ends in clear nail polish, or varnish, twist and let harden and the strings can still be used.

residents of the Macomb County-Grosse Pointe Shores spot is for the Shores to become a city.

As the last remaining segment of the Lake township community, that township would cease to exist, just as the Shores relates to the Grosse Pointe township.

It would not however relieve these persons of continuing to pay taxes to Macomb county and to the South Lake School district.

This situation is not remarkable in Michigan, where several cities exist which lie in two counties.

is not yet disclosed nor even definitely known by the Commission.

John Iglauer of the Michigan Municipal League has the preliminary draft of the park's charter drawn. The Charter Commission had a meeting on Monday, Sept. 11 and will have another meeting tonight.

Neither the Park nor Woods will hold charter elections until after the general election in November, and both will be held as special elections with no other issues before the people.

There will be public hearings in both communities as soon as the completed drafts of the charters have been decided upon by the Commissions. After these public hearings, with the possibility of certain changes to be made at the suggestion or insistence of a considerable group of the citizens, the final drafts of the charters will be published and the dates of the elections named.

Bountiful America Amazes Pointe Guest from Norway

"Just like Norway," said Albert Boe, from Larvik, Norway, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George True of Moran road, this past week. "It rained almost all of August in Norway. It rained all the two days in New York." And when Mr. Boe arrived in Detroit, he found two days of rain also.

Mr. Boe, who is now enroute to the University of Denver, is studying business administration. "But there is such a struggle for living in America," he commented. "And the people are in such a hustle."

Another thing which impressed him was the great number of cars on the road both in New York and in Detroit. "And they even look to see if you have oil when you don't ask," he said. In Norway, the attendant at the service station doesn't check the oil, water or battery unless requested, although he does wipe the windshield.

A great surprise to Mr. Boe was a fresh peach, in fact, the opportunity to eat many fresh peaches. "We never have fresh peaches—only canned," he commented. "Little children never had bananas or oranges until lately." When asked if he had ever had a banana split he replied, "What is banana split?"

At the present time, shoes, meat, sugar, tea, coffee are all rationed, and cocoa is not to be had. Candy and fruit are reserved for the very young, and only for birthdays or Christmas.

During his visit in Grosse Pointe Mr. Boe was very busy experiencing things he had not seen before: a tape recorder, comic books, popicles, peanut butter, ("very good," he commented), French toast, fresh peaches. He hopes to return at the end of his school term for another look at the lives of people in the Pointe.

Mary Bird, maid of honor, carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of chrysanthemums in brilliant autumn shades. Miss Orleman Bride Of George V. Rowe, Jr.

Honeymoon at Sea Island, Ga., Following Wedding Ceremony Held on Saturday, September 16, in St. Paul's Church on Lake Shore

Emerald taffeta frocks were worn by the six attendants who preceded Joanne Frances Orleman, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Orleman of Merriweather road, to the altar of St. Paul's Church on the Lake Shore, where she met the bridegroom George Vincent Rowe, Jr., on Saturday, September 16.

They exchanged marriage vows before the Rev. Father Albert L. Melvin. The attendants' gowns were designed with fitted bodices, deep sweetheart necks outlined in fresh net, large cuffed dolman sleeves and full skirts. They wore small green veiled cocktail hats and carried bouquets of faded bronze daisy mums, and blending furs.

Barbara Kearins was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Aylene Roy, Mrs. George V. Chandler, Jr., Mrs. Thomas P. McWilliams, Jr., of Ann Arbor, Susan Ward Duffy of Chicago, and the bridegroom's sister, Muriel Rose of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin designed to fit the rose pointe lace from her mother's wedding gown. From the fitted bodice fell a circular skirt cascading to a fan-shaped train. Her fingertip veil of silk tulle was held in place by a rose pointe lace cap and her bouquet of stephanotis was centered with four white orchids.

Joseph LePage was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Rowe of Poughkeepsie, New York. The guests were seated by John Owen Look, Jack Wettenstein, William Carter of Warsaw, Indiana, Donald Berndsen of Lakewood, Ohio; William Covens of Alliance, Ohio; Robert Beatty of Jackson, Michigan.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Orleman chose a ballerina length brown taffeta ensemble. With it she wore a matching hat and corsage of bronze orchids.

A royal blue cocktail dress was the choice of the groom's mother. With it she wore a small black velvet hat and a corsage of white orchids. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Daniel A. Sullivan, chose a steel gray crepe dress with a matching hat. She wore an orchid corsage given to her by the groom.

Following the ceremony there was a reception and breakfast at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. When the bride and her husband left for Sea Island, Georgia, where they will stay at The Cloisters, she donned a cinnamon brown gabardine suit with a small matching hat caught up with soft maline above her face. Her accessories were brown. To complete her outfit, she wore two of the orchids from her bouquet.

Now That School's Open... have your child's eyes checked!

The importance of good vision during a child's school years cannot be over-emphasized. The condition of the eyesight over this period can mean much in determining future success.

See to it that your child's eyes are thoroughly examined before school opens. Then, if glasses should be needed and prescribed, bring the prescription to the Johnston Optical Company, where for 74 years the highest standards of the optical profession have been a tradition.

The police information was that he was riding in a car that was travelling 90 miles per hour and the car turned over six times. It was not stated whether he was driving the car.

He is survived by his widow and one son in Grosse Pointe.

Pointe Theater Full of Plans

John Dykema, who was elected president of the Grosse Pointe Theatre last spring, will preside at the organization's first official meeting of the 1950-51 season, Tuesday evening, September 26, at 8 o'clock in Miller Memorial Hall on Grosse Pointe boulevard behind Christ Church.

This kick-off is open to members and those interested in future membership. Complete plans for the coming season, to include three top-quality full-length plays and two workshop evenings, will be announced, as well as tentative dates and the name of the auditorium in which the shows are to be presented.

Kathryn Vincent Mayer, well-known in Grosse Pointe and Detroit theatre circles, will be guest speaker for the occasion. Miss Joan Broadbridge is chairman of arrangements.

YOUNG HOODLUMS

Four 11-year-old pupils at the New Kerby School reported that they were stopped on the way home on Sept. 14 by some older boys who demanded money and roughed them up when they said they didn't have any. A passing motorist chased the older boys away.

Mobile Unit To Be Here For 5 Weeks

Will Arrive October 9 and Spend First Week at High School Building

Community leaders will meet today, Thursday, September 21, at 3 p.m. in the Board of Education Building, 389 St. Clair, to discuss plans for another Chest X-ray campaign which is aimed at X-raying every adult in Grosse Pointe. George Elworthy, Director of the Neighborhood Club, has accepted the general chairmanship of the project.

Mr. Elworthy said that he had had word from Dr. C. P. Anderson, Assistant Director of the Wayne County Health Department, that the mobile X-ray unit will arrive in Grosse Pointe on October 9 for a stay of five weeks. It will be set up at the High School during the first week for the participation of the High School students. Following that it will be open to the public at various locations.

Community Program
The project in Grosse Pointe is a community program with all civic groups and leaders participating. It is being sponsored by the Wayne County and Michigan Departments of Health in conjunction with the TB & Health Society and the Wayne County Medical Society.

Dr. Anderson reported that 9600 Grosse Pointers took advantage of the program two and one-half years ago. Although there is not much tuberculosis in Grosse Pointe, a number of new cases of tuberculosis and other chest conditions were found in 1948 and placed under treatment.

All Urged to Participate
Dr. Anderson pointed out that tuberculosis still takes the lives of close to 50,000 Americans a year, 1,000 of them right here in Wayne County. It is still the first disease cause of death in the age group between 15 and 44. All adults are urged to take advantage of the free chest X-ray survey.

Burglars Visit Aloma Theater

The janitor at the Aloma Theater reported to the Park police at 6:46 a.m. on Sept. 16 that there had been a burglary at the theater some time the night before.

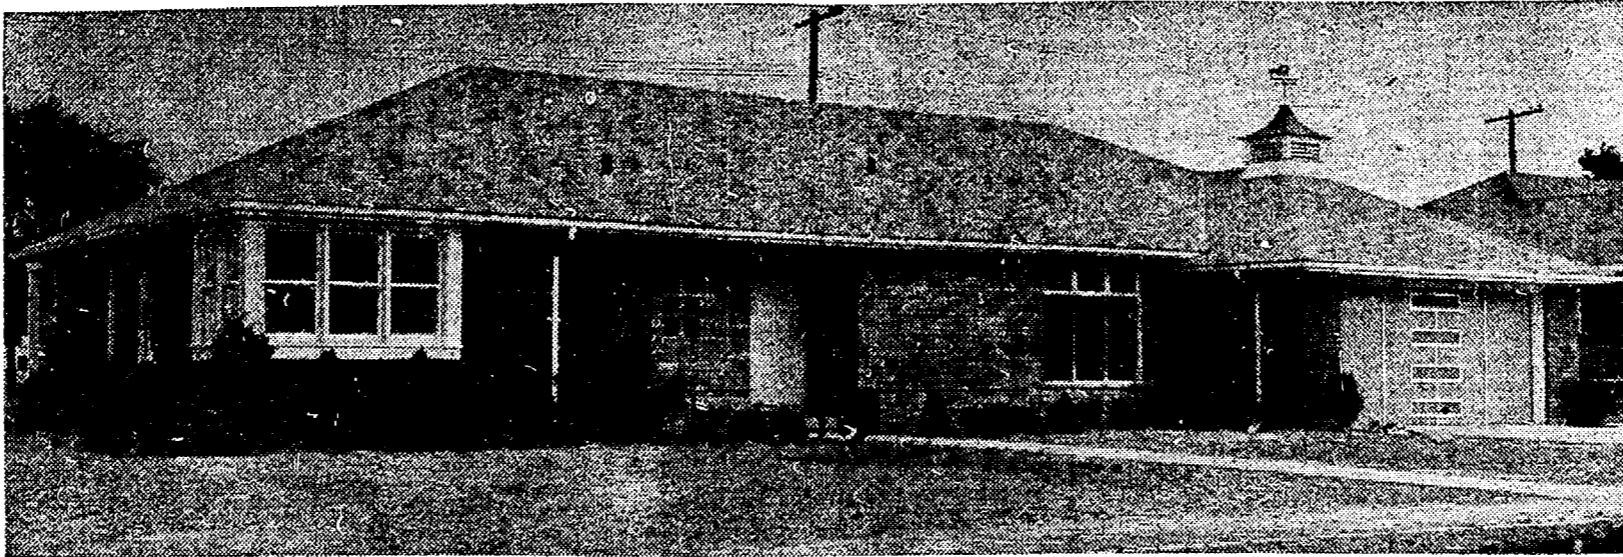

The thieves had ransacked the office and other places about the theater but as far as could be learned they had gotten only a few dollars. The police say the job was the work of teen aged boys.

Mrs. Mary Miller Dies In Home of Daughter

Mrs. Mary Miller, aged 84, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ward H. Peck, 860 Lake Shore road on September 18. She was born in Ann Arbor and was the widow of the late George H. Miller, long a prominent merchant in that city.

There are 85 feet of easily accessible cupboards in the stream-lined kitchen . . . and one entire wall is devoted to storage cabinet.

Furry Intruder Gets Smoked Out

A busy little squirrel at 860 Lincoln road gave the police and the household plenty of action on Sept. 16.

A call came in at 3:25 p.m. that there was a squirrel in the fireplace. When the police came the squirrel was there alright, but he ran up the chimney and refused to be either coaxed down or go farther. Giving up, the police said if he made any more noise to call them again.

The second call came at 6:40 p.m. Again the same tantalizing results. The police left with the advice to start a fire in the fireplace.

They opened this would make him move up and out.

Ground Broken For Mausoleum

Forty-one years ago Salem and St. Paul's Lutheran Churches joined to organize a new corporation, known as the Gethsemane Cemetery Association, located on Gratiot avenue, near Conners.

During this time over 9,000 burials have been made. Seven years ago they built a new entrance, one year ago they completed a new Administration Building at a cost of $124,000.00.

During the past five years they have been planning a Mausoleum, which will now come to be a reality. Ground was broken on Sunday, September 17, at 2:30 p.m. The first unit is to be a two-story building and will cost $450,000.00. There will be further units, four in all, to cost a total of $2,000,000.00 when completed.

Unlike other Mausoleums that have been placed to the rear of cemeteries, this will be placed at the front, where it will be accessible by bus or street car the year around.

The first unit will have a capacity of 1,600 crypts, the ultimate will be 6,000.

A window of the Last Supper in color, illuminated at night so it will shine onto Gratiot avenue, will be a feature on the second floor.

Scrolls Signed By 1500 Students

"1500 signatures is something!" said the volunteers working on the Crusade for Freedom in Grosse Pointe.

That's approximately the number of students and teachers who signed the Freedom Scroll in Grosse Pointe High, Friday, September 15.

W. R. Cleminson, principal, and Skip Pessl were given copies of the Freedom Scroll. These copies were sent to all classes and signed Friday afternoon. Approximately 1500 kids signed up.

They pledged themselves to "resist oppression and tyranny wherever they appear on earth." The scrolls will be sent to Berlin, Germany, where they will be dedicated with the Freedom Bell on United Nations Day, October 24. The bell will symbolize "the free world's determination to resist Communist aggression."

It is the cause and not the death, that makes the martyr.

Motorcycle, Car, Tangle in Park

There was a motorcycle and automobile accident at 11:10 p.m. on September 15 at Vernor Highway and Maryland. Joseph Landry, 17, of 2144 Ashland attempted to pass an automobile driven by Henry D. Shives of 1248 Maryland, on the right side.

Landry was somewhat shaken up but refused to be taken to the hospital. Landry was given a ticket for trying to pass a car on the right side and for driving with an expired motorcycle license.

KIDS ADMIT DESTRUCTION

A group of six youngsters, all seven and eight years old, admitted to the Farms police they had been in a house in Hall place where a considerable amount of damage was done, including the breaking of windows. They were reported to their parents, who will have to pay for the damage.

Support Given To Federalists

A growing list of organizations are sponsoring the September 29 community meeting being held by the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the United World Federalists.

Among those who are definitely behind this worthwhile project are the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis, and the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church.

As previously announced, the principal speaker will be James Rouse, who is coming from Baltimore, Md., especially for the event. He will highlight the program that the United World Federalists advocate in the present world crisis.

The meeting will be at 8:15 o'clock in the War Memorial Center. All residents of the Grosse Pointe are cordially invited.

Sunday Opening at the Center

The people of Grosse Pointe should consider themselves deeply obligated to Mrs. F. C. Ford for her courageous outspoken opposition before the Board of Directors of the War Memorial Association to the practice that has obtained of keeping the Center closed on Sundays. Mrs. Ford is herself one of the members of the Board of Directors and as chairman of the Program Committee most directly concerned with the events and uses of the Center.

She claims that this fine property which belongs to the people of Grosse Pointe should be open for their visiting and inspection and enjoyment at all reasonable hours. Sunday, she rightfully claims, is the only day on which many residents of this community can visit the Center. Many would like to go there to see the names of their loved ones on the beautiful bronze panels in the front hall. Others would like merely to roam through the building, see the objects of art, visit the many interesting rooms and others, in good weather would like to wander through the grounds and enjoy the unsurpassed lake view.

With the exception of July and August when, on Sundays, it has been kept open a part of the day, this place has been kept tightly closed on other Sundays.

This was a mistake which many of the directors have since realized. The Sunday closing arrangement was originally made out of deference to the employees who object to working more than five days a week. They now have Thursdays off. The Board felt that for financial reasons it would be imprudent to engage the extra help which Sunday opening would apparently make necessary.

There is now a good prospect, thanks to the agitation Mrs. Ford has started, that the Board will find a way to keep the building open on Sundays, and that reasonably soon. It is unfortunate that provision was not made at the very outset in the first year of its operation for Sunday opening, but we will hope that this error will quickly be corrected.

Hymn of Hate

The internal propaganda which the Russian Government wages against America offers a striking parallel to that which the Germans waged in both the First and Second World Wars. Got straf England in the first war was succeeded by an out and out hymn of hate against all who stood in Hitler's pathway in his journey to world conquest in the second war.

It is all of the common pattern followed by all would be conquerors.

Some slight evidence of the efficacy of engendered hate as a part of the technique of war was manifest on the Allied side also. General Bishop of the Canadian Air Force said that the Allies needed to put more first class hate into their war effort. Later Henry Morgenthau advocated the destruction of Germany's capacity to ever be an industrial state and that she be permanently reduced to the level of a single agrarian economy. These, however, were the expressions of single individuals and were far from the general spirit and policy of the English speaking countries.

Dangerous features of the current Russian hate effort are that the move has gone too far in its easement or recall as government policy. This fact coupled with the abysmal ignorance of the common Russian people and the utter absence or toleration of any mass opinion among the people there offers a discouraging prospect for the success of the American Voice of America and Crusade for Freedom movements. The latter will probably prove most effective as a stimulant for the patriotic spirit of our own people. There are two generations of fighting men already in this country who went through two great world wars and came home from them strongly disillusioned on the efficacy of war to accomplish anything. To pep up this element and stiffen the old fashioned brand of patriotism now so greatly needed in this country the movement may be worthwhile.

As evidence to Russia and to all the world of the solidarity of the American people in support of freedom and human dignity, the movement may be of great value. As addressed to the Russian people it will probably be interpreted more as a threat than a sincere effort to win them to a way of life of which they have no historic or present understanding.

It is water on a duck's back and the giving of medicine to the dead to argue with these semi-Asiatic peoples of the advantages to human welfare of the American way. The language they and their government can and will understand is a show of force in being, and to this fact apparently our Government is waking up.

The promise to annihilate their cities en masse, plus the reminder that the Nurnberg War Crimes trials laid down the principal that those who start wars of aggression will be held personally responsible with their lives, may make the Russians stop, look and listen.

It is strong talk but apparently the only kind that will hold the promise of a pause by a people and a Government that can appreciate no other.

Secretary of Defense

Such questioning as has arisen on the wisdom of placing General Marshall at the head of the now all important Department of Defense undoubtedly occurs from two main factors: the fear that the General is now too old to undertake the discharge of such arduous duties as lie ahead in this department and the fact that he made a failure of his two attempts to stop the Communist fire in China.

All realize now that probably the General did as well as any other man could have done in the China case but nevertheless in a world and in a period in which there is no twilight ground between success and failure it is not a strong recommendation for his selection.

General Marshall proved a genius in organizing for war. In his new assignment he would be taken out of the field of diplomacy in which he failed and reinstated in his old line in which he was so successful.

He may prove to be the answer to the Nation's prayers in this hour and, despite his advancing years, do again the masterful job he did so well a few short years ago.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"To all the gossip that I hear I'll give no faith; to what I see But only half; for it is clear All that led up is dark to me. Learn we the larger life to live, To comprehend is to forgive."

(Henrietta Heathorn)

From now on we are going to emulate the Duchess of Windsor. Not that we intend to snag a King for ourselves, nor do we expect to be mistaken for the Duchess as we plow through the avenue . . . it is just that we are going to think about clothes as she SEZ she does. A recent article advises us that La Duchess gives clothes in general only a passing thought. It isn't her "fault" that she has off been selected as the best dressed woman in the world . . . she sez.

She thinks every woman should have one good suit with a smattering of accessories. We agree, so we are going to have ONE suit. She also believes in dressing to suit herself, no matter WHAT the current trend in styles. Same with her hairdo. Same with hemlines. There is a woman after our own heart. We are sick and tired of our hemlines flying up and down each season like an express elevator. We are doubly fed up with furs. We get a fur jacket once every twenty years . . . and as soon as we buy a waist-length job (as we did last year), the style is five inches BELOW the waist.

It took six years for our hair to grow to page boy length and in three weeks the trend moved to the 1926 and 7 era and we had to have it cut off. Bah! and a pox on "current modes" . . . as we've said, from now on we are going to be just like the Duchess.

Speaking of styles, men are the lucky ones. Father buys a suit every ten years. He comes home one evening with a box under his arm . . . surreptitiously sneaks the suit out, puts it on, struts around in front of his family and says, "How do you like my NEW suit?" Everyone has to go into ecstasies over it. Sure they like it. It looks just like the others he has, only this one is blue instead of the usual brown. As for his "hair-do" . . . what a break! There are only two sides to THAT story. Either he needs a hair-cut or he's just had one, period.

SHOES! They wear the same styles and often the same danged shoes for years and years and no one gives it a second thought. HATS! They scream about paying $10.00 for a hat that will last them ten years. The sweater the hat-band gets . . . the better they feel about wearing it . . . but if a woman buys a hat for a special event in December . . . the hat is out-moded by February. Aside from dashing young George Calkins, who is such a fashion plate he is even ahead of Esquire, MOST men have a cinch when it comes to sartorial elegance.

A hillbilly, going to Night School to take lessons in grammar, had begun to exasperate the teacher on the subject of declining verbs. She went over it and over it and finally said, "Listen carefully, Sam. 'I am not going, you are not going, he is not going, they are not going.' DO YOU UNDERSTAND?" The hillbilly grinned his complete understanding at last. "Sure," he said, "None of 'em aint going."

Things we like about living in a small town. Last Saturday, a couple of exponents of the out-door grill . . . the Pagliacci of the al fresco dinner, invited about a dozen guests to partake of freshly shipped in lobsters, which they were going to charcoal grill in the back yard. The guests were asked to be on hand promptly at seven and believe it or not, they appeared on time. At seven thirty, the lobsters hadn't even arrived . . . so in desperation, the hostess telephoned her butcher . . . who obligingly left home and opened his store, so Madame could pick up a couple of steaks!

Who says Grosse Pointe is in a rut? We had a peek at a menu sent out last week by one of the local Clubs . . . and in spite of the fact that probably not more than two percent of the membership understands it . . . it looks chic as all get out. Here 'tis:

Vol-au-vent de Homard, Parisienne. Tournedos de Boeuf Grillee, Rossini. Petit Tomate, Farcie, Rachel. Pommes de Terre, Julienne. Endive et Coeur de Palmiere. Glacé aux Citron, Courvoisier.

The menu carte also advises that a "Bar Voiture" will be open only during dinner! See youse all on the Champs Elysee, folks!

We admire the "push" that recording companies are putting on to get the public to buy records for the kiddies. The blubs read something like this: "Enrich your child's life forever with wonderful records like these." They include the right kind of songs, music and stories for kiddies from two years old up until they get bored . . . which in most cases is probably two and a half. An admirable gesture, this, in the light of 40 mystery stories a week on the radio . . . to say nothing of Western movies, Hop-a-Longs, How-de-Doodies, et al, on television.

We can still remember way back when it required special dispensation to allow a child to sit up until nine o'clock to listen to a Lewis Carroll story. Just the other night, we were part of a small group at a friend's house . . . a small group who wanted like crazy to listen to a musical program on the radio. The kids were in the living room looking at television (around ten o'clock) . . . and every once in awhile, one of them would dash into the library and scream, "Hey Mom, turn your radio down a little . . . we can hardly hear our program." Music for the young, INDEED!

The National Lawyer's Guild

There are undoubtedly some lawyers still members of the National Lawyer's Guild who are patriotic Americans but when the dominant faction of a group which openly pursues a code of professional ethics which places the privilege of choosing their own peculiar brand of clients above their country's welfare the whole group is justly subject to suspicion.

This is the professional gang which engineered the defense of the eleven New York communists and which tried to make a travesty on justice in Judge Medina's Court.

They harp much about constitutional civilian rights but their insincerity is exposed when they rush to the defense of a cult which denies these same claimed rights in the very fountain head of their world structure.

The rebutting claim advanced by some local jurists that it is like assuming a lawyer who defends murderers or thieves to be a murderer or thief himself is ill taken.

In this country a criminal is presumed to be innocent until his guilt is proved. In the case of the communists and all who follow their lead we are reckoning with a group which is already dedicated to human slavery and, still more to the point, are openly sworn to destroy us and the entire scheme of life which is a part of our heritage.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

"Will you please read me a recipe for tartar sauce?" said a voice over the wire. "We have a new cook who knows nothing about baking fish and the guests will be on our doorstep any moment."

Cook books are all year favorites at the library but as the canning season advances, they are increasingly popular. For those battling with the preserving problem, there is the COMPLETE BOOK OF HOME CANNING by Demetria Taylor. This includes preserving, pickling, dehydration and jelly making.

Fannie Farmer Ousted

As a good general standby the JOY OF COOKING by I.S. Rombauer appears to have nosed Fannie Farmer out of first place, although the Farmer classic THE BOSTON COOKING SCHOOL BOOK is still in demand. From its first publication in 1896 to its Golden Jubilee Edition in 1946, it has made a spectacular sales record.

Cooking as a hobby is by no means confined to the female sex. Consider such male gourmets as Alfred Lunt, Alexander Woolcott and, coming closer to home, Detroit's Sydney Corbett, Mr. Corbett and his wife Lucy have many suggestions to offer the epicure in POT SHOTS FROM A GROSSE ILE KITCHEN and LONG WINDS.

For That Planned Party

If there is a party in the offing and you crave gastronomic adventure you might try COOKING FOR COMPANY by Ruth Teague or De la Torre's SIXTY MINUTE CHEF.

Of the books entertaining to read as well as tempting to the appetite, well place at the top of the list CLEMENTINE IN THE KITCHEN by Samuel Chamberlain. As one critic put it, "You may loan this book but you'll never get it back. It should be fastened to the kitchen shelf by a chain." Others in this category are HOW TO COOK A WOLF by Mary Parrish, "a book with casual recipes scattered lightly in like raisins in a bun," and FEEDING THE LIONS by Frank Case; "recipes for some of the foods served at the Hotel Algonquin, liberally sprinkled with comments by celebrities who have eaten at the hotel."

A letter from a recent bride says, "You would be amused to see me defrosting my refrigerator by the book." The book to which she refers is THE WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION in its field, according to home economic critics. This is on order at the library and should be available soon. Another book helpful in the housekeeping realm is MAIDCRAFT by Lita Price; practical and to the point.

If you were exposed to all the chills and thrills of "The Innocents," at the Cass last week, you may be interested in rereading Henry James TURN OF THE SCREW, the story on which the play is based. This may be found in various collections, among others, THE MIDNIGHT READER by P. V. Stern; stories of haunting and horror, recommended for insomnia victims.

The late Mrs. Hettie B. Speck, of Lake Shore rd., has bequeathed to the library in her will, her own book collection. The Grosse Pointe Library staff appreciates the thought that prompted this generous gift.

Since fewer persons used the library last Saturday, than normally on this day of the week, we believe the word about reopening has not yet reached everyone. May we mention again that the Main Library, the Woods and the City Branch have resumed their former Saturday hours, 10 to 6 P.M.

Youth Choirs Have Openings

The Youth Choirs of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will resume their regular rehearsals on Saturday, September 23. There are a limited number of openings for boys and girls in both Junior and Senior choirs.

The Junior Choir rehearses at 9:15 a.m. and the Senior Choir at 10:30 a.m. New applicants are requested to report 15 minutes before the regular rehearsal time.

The Junior Choir is open to boys and girls from 10 to 14 years of age, while the Senior Choir is for high school students. Anyone who likes to sing is welcome to apply for membership providing they are not already a member of another church choir.

A booklet containing complete information about the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Youth Choirs is available at the Church office, or copies may be found in the nathex at the Sunday 11 o'clock Service. These booklets have been specially prepared to give a picture of how the choir operates so that prospective members and their parents may understand the program.

The Senior Choir Board for the current season is made up of the following members: Joyce Dannecker, Judy Rice, Nancy Hoesch, Pat McKinney, Nancy Newton, Nancy Hall, Ilene Bryant, Myron Ranney, Dick Scates, Bob Smith, Bill Rexford, and Don McIntyre.

At the first board meeting this fall plans for the season were discussed including the Annual Choir Banquet in February. The Senior Choir will continue to sing once a month at the Sunday Service at the Marine Hospital. Other special services include the Presbyterian Old People's Home, and the Tuxis Club of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Members of both choirs who give outstanding service for the whole year are given recognition at the close of the season. For the first year of outstanding service members receive a church hymnal; for the second, a gold cross; the third, a prayer book; and the fourth, a Moffat Bible. Fifty-five members from the total membership of 120 received awards last June.

The choir will sing in church beginning October 8 and continue every Sunday through June 10, 1951, the Junior Choir alternating with the Senior Choir, under the direction of Marie Joy Curtiss.

Heads Up!

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

In school days the expression "Heads Up!" was often heard and while it wasn't appreciated by us as children it did help to give us better appearance and posture.

How much more alert, active, and poised appears the individual with good posture and actually he does have a greater sense of well-being because of his good appearance.

You would be surprised at how much good posture can contribute to your health, too. Speaking of your health, have you had your physical examination this year?

Letters To The Editor

September 13, 1950

Dear Sir: Your recent articles on the Grosse Pointe school situation have been both interesting and timely. The problems of overcrowded school conditions at one end of the community and empty classrooms at the other do not appear to be so complicated that a solution is impossible.

Certainly, the answer cannot reasonably be half-day sessions for children of any grade except as an absolute last resort. Having attended the Board of Education meeting of August 9, at which the three-to-two vote favored half-day sessions, I am firm in my belief that the alternatives proposed by the parents did not receive adequate consideration. No consideration was given to the parents' proposal of arranging bus service for those children of higher grades to the empty facilities of other schools within a reasonable distance, despite the fact that the parent group had definitely found bus service to be available. Past proposals to this effect had brought the response from the Board that Buses were not available; thus, transportation of the older pupils was out of the question. However, since it is now known that this service is available and inasmuch as it was presented to the Board of Education at the meeting of August 9, why was this factor not considered prior to the rendering of a decision affecting the educational standards of our schools?

The meeting of August 9 appeared to degenerate into a series of parent proposals and Board rebuttals, thereby losing sight of the basic problem—that of the best possible education for our children. It was my feeling that the decision in favor of half-day sessions was rendered prematurely, more for the purpose of disposing of a distasteful issue and curtailing arguments, than in consideration of the basic educational issue at hand.

Further, at this meeting Mr. Barnes stated that if the Board elected to transport the sixth grade students to Trombly or Defer schools, the Board would be faced with a protest from the sixth grade parents. Naturally, parents of sixth grade children prefer attendance at nearby local schools, but those who do so at the expense of the education of lower grade children do not deserve consideration. I am certain that the great majority of sixth grade parents do not fall into this category.

The education of our future Grosse Pointe citizens is at stake. Cutting instruction time in half during the formative years of basic learning is short-changing our children. Experimenting with the education of our children unnecessarily when facilities are available is to be viewed with alarm.

Very truly yours, J. D. Adair 83 Hawthorne Road Grosse Pte. Shores

Prayer and Reparation Offered as World Cure

Hundreds of persons from various parts of the country will be gathering next month for a common cause, that of furthering the belief that our world can be saved solely by means of prayer and reparation.

Using the theme "The World Will Be Saved By Reparation," they will gather in the Book-Cadillac Hotel on Oct. 6, 7 and 8 for a special Congress of the National Laywomen's Retreat Movement.

Residents of the Grosse Pointe area who are assisting on committees are: Miss Josephine Abdoo, 1412 Beaconsfield, finance and youth committees and speaker's bureau; and Miss Barbara Schuler, 181 Beaupre, who will deliver a paper, "Winning Friends," at the youth session Saturday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Christian Science Lecture by Arthur C. Whitney, C. S.

Given Under Auspices of the Sixth Church of Christ, Scientist, Detroit, Mich., September 12, 1950

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: The Foundation for World Brotherhood and Peace

By

Arthur C. Whitney, C.S. of Chicago, Illinois

Member of the Board of Lecturership of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Do you recall these words of a well-loved poem and hymn by Jane Bowditch?

"Now is the time approaching, By prophets long foretold, When all shall dwell together, One Shepherd and one fold, Now Jew and Gentile, meeting From many a distant shore, Around one altar kneeling, One common Lord adore."

"Let all that now divides us Remove and pass away, Like shadows of the morning Before the blaze of day. Let all that now unites us More sweet and lasting prove, A closer bond of union, In a best land of love." (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 196.)

World Brotherhood
This is the ideal that enlightened men and women look forward to in world relations. Paul in the Scriptures tells us, "Ye are all one in Christ Jesus" (Gal. 3:28). In truth, we are all sons of one creator and parent, our heavenly Father—Mother, God. His likeness is forever the same—spiritual, perfect, and Godlike. That is the man Christian Science presents. That is the man you really are.

During this hour let us seek for an increasing awareness of God's infinite presence, power, wisdom, and love right here with us now. Let us become more conscious that man is the child of God, and therefore Godlike and spiritual. Let us reject as counterfeit the mortal sense of man, which is carnal, material, selfish, and untrue.

In order to tell you how Christian Science is aiding world brotherhood and peace let me turn to "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. This book and the King James translation of the Bible are the two textbooks used by students of Christian Science. Christian Scientists constantly study these two books.

What Is God?
Let us find there what Christian Science teaches about God. An understanding of God's nature and allness is the key to brotherhood and peace. Mrs. Eddy explains the nature of God in these words: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (Science and Health, p. 465). In another place she adds (p. 340), "Divine Love is infinite. Therefore all that really exists is in and of God, and manifests His love. . . . Infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scriptures: 'Love thy neighbor as thyself'; . . . and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed." The fundamental teaching of Christian Science is that God is All-in-all. The Bible speaks of God as divine Spirit, or, we might say, infinite spiritual consciousness. This spiritual consciousness is the permanent realm of the real to Christian Scientists, and it is right here, now.

survival. The good old days of billiard-ball atoms, Euclidean geometry, and the indestructibility of matter are now gone. . . . Matter in the old sense indeed has ceased to be. The universe in which our fathers felt so comfortably at home has vanished. . . . Great things are in the air, exciting new ideas in the sciences which may still further modify our understanding of the universe. This is no day to be dogmatic or complacent for almost anything can happen now. The idealist who follows the ancient highway of the spirit toward reality has gained a more respectful audience than was his half-century ago. . . . Belief in something constant and unchangeable, call it by whatever name we will, is a necessity not only for religion but equally for science and the arts, and forms a common meeting-ground and starting point for men who travel on the highway of the mind and those who use the road of the spirit."

He continues with this alert observation: "Man, no God, is the chief problem of the world today."

True Concept of Man
Christian Science offers the right answer about man and his relationship to God. God is the sole creator of the universe, including man. He is the divine Father-Mother of all. All men are united by God in the natural brotherhood. Peace is the natural consequence. Man is the permanent expression of Spirit and, hence, is spiritual. Man is not what the material senses present to him, but that is, a mortal with a separate mind of his own and dependent on material things for his existence. That concept of man is but a counterfeit of the real man, who is wholly spiritual and dependent alone on God for life, health, intelligence, and harmonious control. Man is eternally inseparable from God. If you will study Mrs. Eddy's clear two-and-a-half-page explanation of man in Science and Health, beginning on page 475, you will gain a clear understanding of man, the son of God, the man you really are.

John says in the Bible, "Beloved, now are we the sons of God" (I John 3:2). We are brothers. Let us begin to know ourselves through spiritual understanding, rather than through the perverted carnal mind's material sense testimony. Christian Scientists accept the Bible teaching that man is the son of God now. Therefore we all have one Father-Mother. We are spiritual, not material.

Brother
One day a Christian Science practitioner went into his new office in a building that was not completely finished. The workman appeared to be of foreign extraction and who spoke with an accent. The practitioner asked casually, "Well, brother, how is the work going?" The man stopped his work, looked up in amazement and asked humbly, "What did you call me?" The practitioner replied, "I called you 'brother.'" The man said, "I have been in this country a long time, and no one has ever called me that before." How surprised the man was for even a small expression of love and brotherhood!

Effectual Prayer
Prayer to God is the most vital force in the world today, because it is the very presence and power of God expressing itself. Never underestimate the power of the prayer of spiritual understanding to meet any human need. The key to effectual prayer is to follow the inspired instructions of Christ Jesus, our Way-shower. In the Bible he tells us with directness and simplicity how to pray. He says, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32).

Prayer in Christian Science is first and foremost a matter of the heart. The Bible and Mrs. Eddy's writings are full of them. For instance, when you acknowledge that God is limitless, spiritual presence or consciousness which is right here with us now, then ponder that truth and seek to comprehend and understand it. You will gain a conviction that it is the truth. You can acknowledge it with divine conviction and authority. Should you be tempted to believe that something contrary to God, such as contagion of disease, is present, it will then become natural to repudiate the mental picture claimed by material sense. Mentally and verbally repudiate and reject it as false and untrue. Just as you would reject a counterfeit bill. Then peacefully rest in that spiritual consciousness. You have known the truth. You have prayed. Knowing the truth does its part in fulfilling Jesus' statement, "and the truth shall make you free."

You do not need to rouse yourself mentally from the mortal or material sense of things to become conscious of the wonderful spirit that meets that exist right here and now. God has endowed man with dominion over whatever is mortal, material, or unlike God. Man is included in God. All that God created is good, permanently and unchangingly. To realize and know such spiritual truths is to pray. Never believe that you are far from God, nor think that you are merely close to Him. You are actually inseparable from God. Never think of yourself except as a full expression of God, evidencing true being. Science and Health reveals the law underlying Jesus' teaching and healing method. It contains a seven-page chapter entitled "Prayer," devoted to understanding and applying prayer. Christian Scientists continually study this chapter with the purpose of making prayer more practical.

Never forget the fact that God is supreme and ever present. Just as the nature and power of God or Truth are infinite, so the nature and power of the prayer of Truth or spiritual understanding are likewise universal in scope. It is just as effectual to heal and transform thought in every other part of the world as it is right here, now, in this auditorium. Jesus said, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel."

How can each one of us go into all the world more effectually than through universal prayer? All true prayer is universal in its very nature. God's Word cannot be limited. Truth and Love are infinite. Omnipotence and omnipresence cannot be confined. All the presence and power of God are right here—and everywhere. Truth and power, as is your brother man, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mark 16:15). How can you preach the gospel to every creature? Universal prayer is the only way I know, and it is an effectual way.

Five Steps
There are five steps in your effectual work of bringing the love of God and true brotherhood into operation. (1) This step is to begin in the quiet of your own thought to look to God for the peace of God that is your divine birthright and your continuing inheritance. (2) The next is to carry this peace of God into your home with sufficient patience, tolerance, love, and forgiveness and to let the peace of God be active there. (3) Next, extend this same basis of thought to your fellow church members and friends until no one of them can be to you less than a perfect son of God, a brother. This basis dissolves all feuds, and we see the true brotherhood of man expressed. (4) The next step is to reach out in your thought to your community, and then to the nation, cleansing from your thought any divisions, partiality, sectional or historical prejudice. (5) The fifth step is to extend your understanding of love and peace to the very uttermost parts of the earth, to all nations and all men. See God's allness and man as wholly Godlike and loving. Don't let go until the peace of God and the brotherhood of man are existing in reality, universal and permanent. That is universal prayer, or prayer for the world.

"Beginning with me"
A consecrated Chinese Christian, a leader in his nation, used to pray for the church in China and for those whom it was endeavoring to serve. He prayed for the spiritual quickening of its members and would always end his prayer for spiritual enlightenment. He said, "beginning with me." What an example for each one of us, "beginning with me." Those words have become indelibly fixed in my thought.

Man is God's child, Love's spiritual issue, governed and controlled by divine Love and depending only upon divine Mind, not on man. Therefore, you must love your neighbor as yourself—and your neighbor may be in Russia, China, or any other part of the world. Your spiritually true concept of him is your brother. He truly is your brother, whether his name is Jones, Rubloff, or anything else. Take him to your heart with great compassion. Let us remember that the only real race is made up of the sons of God; the only real nation is the kingdom of God on earth, here, now. We are all brothers. It is not necessarily what men seem but what they really are as God's likeness. Proportionately as we recognize and love man in his true selfhood, we discern more evidence of it.

Mary Baker Eddy
The beloved revealer of Christian Science to this age, Mary Baker Eddy, has given us the key to the Master's teaching about God, man, and prayer in such form that it can be understood and applied practically. Through her consecration to God, Mrs. Eddy was enabled to lift and enlarge and enlighten the spiritual understanding of the world. It is a joy to realize that today her inspired writings are reaching out through the whole world and are lifting, enlarging, and enlightening the lives they touch. How arresting is the message of this "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 279), spoken to a class of students: "We, to-day, in this class-room, are enough to convert the world if we are of one Mind; for then the whole world will feel the influence of this Mind."

Let us here tonight resolve to consecrate ourselves wholly to the service of this one Mind, which is God; to pray daily for the world and for all men with unwavering spiritual conviction that the influence of this truth which we effectually realize in prayer will be felt universally; to know that all ungodlike beliefs that would oppress and separate men do dissolve under the impulse of this truth of spiritual understanding; to expect now the eternal reign of God's infinite government of universal, divine Love; and to see at hand the brotherhood of man evidenced among all nations. Let us make the prayer for the fulfillment of world brotherhood our individual task right here now—and let each one of us add, "beginning with me."

Through her unselfed love and her wholehearted desire to make the Science of Christ Jesus' teaching which she brought to the world, Mrs. Eddy labored many years to establish the Church of Christ, Scientist, and her first pasteur. She taught many others the Science of Mind-healing, and herself performed many remarkable able healings, before she devoted her energies more largely to the leadership of this great movement which embraces the whole civilized world.

Don't Start a War
A Canadian religious periodical during the last war brought out a helpful thought, which I printed the following item under the heading, "Don't Start a War." It reads: "A lot of people pray for peace and hope that the peace after this war may be permanent, but never dream of ending the little wars in their own lives. They tolerate feuds in their family circles and in their business and social circles. If all who read this yearned enough to put an end to these little wars, and they will occur to you as you read this, they should be doing something concrete to make the coming peace permanent. We shall never help to get peace in the world as long as we let things that make war abound in our own lives."

What we need is a change in the hearts of men first more than a change in governments. Government will improve in the measure that we improve.

The Christian Science Monitor
While God's weapon of universal prayer is being used increasingly, another weapon our Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, gave us is flooding the world daily with facts about true government and the universal brotherhood of man. It is The Christian Science Monitor, an international daily newspaper, whose purpose is "to injure no man, but to bless all mankind" (Miscellany, p. 353). Through its far-flung circulation, this newspaper is enlightening and preparing thought throughout the world for the acceptance of world brotherhood and all that goes with it. Its alert, unselfish purpose is bearing much fruit. The news appearing in The Christian Science Monitor offers a basis for loving, world-wide prayer for peace and brotherhood. It should be so used.

Every earnest Christian Scientist prays daily, and may Thy Word enrich the affections of all mankind, and govern them." This is a portion of the "Daily Prayer" given in full in the Manual of The Mother Church, page 41. It demonstrates Christian Science, the practical religion of love and brotherhood.

"Only the dawn wind"
In some places today hysteria, fear of war, fear of the atom bomb and of inconceivable destruction grip many unnecessarily. Civilization is not headed for destruction. Be not afraid, even if the horizons of material sense grow more black and threatening. Once a traveler was crossing the Pyrenees with a trusted guide. In the dead of night, as day was approaching, a howling wind arose, growing more terrifying and seemingly more devastating in each moment. At last, in his blind terror, the traveler cried out, "Oh, this must be the end of the world!" Replied the guide: "Have no fear. This is only the dawn wind." The universal prayer of spiritual understanding is gradually bringing into the open and then dispelling the vicious beliefs of the carnal mind which would keep the Christ, constituting the eternal, unchanging, spiritual facts which divine inspiration unfolded to Jesus and which he realized in order to nullify and dissolve all that he encountered which was unlike God. Only as we obey his command, "Follow me," are we walking in the sure way of salvation. Truth in Jesus' consciousness was the law of God counteracting every evil belief with which he came in contact. As Paul told the early Christians, ". . . the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds; casting down imaginations, and every high thing, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ" (II Cor. 10:4, 5).

Conclusion
The one each of us needs to be concerned about primarily in this activity is himself. Remember that the truth is "beginning with me." Don't wonder too much about what anyone else is doing. Just think of what you can do "with God." Put God's love, wisdom, and power into active expression through prayer. Live it in every contact today, and every day, letting God work through you. Never belittle what God can do through you. Mrs. Eddy once said, "Man is God's image and likeness; whatever is possible to God is possible to man as God's reflection" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 183). Have faith that God's Word can do any needful thing through you. His Word is the spiritual truth you know and apply. Have such confidence in your utilization of His Word. It is prayer that makes Christian Science a practical religion.

Brotherhood and peace are realities to us now. Let us live them in our hearts and lives through love. Let us steadfastly walk and talk with our Father-Mother God, divine Love. In conclusion ponder how comforting and reassuring these words from our Hymnal (No. 139) can be to you tonight:

"I walk with Love along the way, And O, it is a holy day; No more I suffer cruel fear, I feel God's presence with me here; My joy that none can take away Is mine; I walk with Love today."

HOUSEHOLD TIPS
When turning food in the frying pan or broiler, use two forks or a fork and a tablespoon, one under and the other over the food. This prevents spatter of fat and avoids breaking the food by sticking a fork into it.

Enemies to Be Dealt With
The real battle lines are clearly drawn today. They are never between the spiritual and Godlike on the one hand, and the carnal and ungodlike on the other. There are no limiting boundaries to God's kingdom on earth. God's kingdom includes all men and nations without discrimination.

Then there appears to be the worldly kingdom of the carnal mind; that false, mental state of materiality with its apparent evidence of all that is unlike God. It includes such false beliefs as selfishness, aggression, domination, viciousness, greed, envy, jealousy, malice, hatred, revenge. These are the enemies we need to deal with in our own consciousness through prayer. No lust for power and control can permanently dominate nations and peoples. Christian Scientists recognize the necessity of great alertness and watchfulness at this stage of the world's growth in understanding. We stand ready to take proper human footsteps in dealing with the apparent evil in the world. Obedience to love will fulfill the vision that faith and spiritual understanding have given us.

The Christian's Weapon
The Christian's weapon is prayer. Praying with spiritual understanding and giving that prayer every waking hour, seven days a week, checks the errors which are impelled by ignorance and fear. This prayer knows the deception, impotence, and unreality of every evidence of the carnal mind. It is the prayer that replaces errors in consciousness with the opposite spiritual realities, the things of God; prayer that sees all men as perfect, spiritual, the sons of God, and wipes out the concept of man as mortal, material, and unlike God. Our weapons include prayer that realizes that all nations are in reality part of the great universal kingdom of God, infinite, divine Mind or intelligence; prayer that sees all men as free subjects of the kingdom of God and happy members of the universal brotherhood of man, today and forever; prayer that recognizes that prayer has one Mind and that that Mind is God, and one nature and that nature Godlike; prayer that sees that the spiritual consciousness alone is real and that the mortal, material, carnal sense of things, although apparent, is false, impersonal, impotent, and unreal; prayer that knows that nothing is impossible to God, who is All-in-all, and includes man and all that is good.

This truth is the Christ, constituting the eternal, unchanging, spiritual facts which divine inspiration unfolded to Jesus and which he realized in order to nullify and dissolve all that he encountered which was unlike God. Only as we obey his command, "Follow me," are we walking in the sure way of salvation. Truth in Jesus' consciousness was the law of God counteracting every evil belief with which he came in contact. As Paul told the early Christians, ". . . the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds; casting down imaginations, and every high thing, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ" (II Cor. 10:4, 5).

Be at Peace
Daniel got out of the lions' den by understanding the control which divine Love held over all, not by fighting with the lions. The prophet Isaiah speaks these words: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee [on God]; because he trusteth in thee [in God]" (Isa. 26:3). Be at peace. All will be well. But do your part faithfully, daily, with the universal prayer of spiritual understanding. Know it. Remember the "dawn wind," and have no fear! Our beloved Leader once said, "No evidence before the material senses can close my eyes to the scientific proof that God, good, is supreme" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 277).

Pray with Expectancy
Today demands action on the part of every one of us, spiritual action, prayer, active partnership with God. Christians need to do more than they have ever done before. It has been said that Christians are often the greatest enemies of the Christian church, because they are feeble examples of their cause. Let there be none such among us.

Recent increasing recognition of the power of universal prayer and its more active use today opens up a bright prospect for preventing war and bringing permanent brotherhood and peace among men and nations. We are men of the same unwavering confidence and expectancy as was exhibited by a young lad on a sand-lot baseball team. A passer-by, seeing the two teams playing, asked, "What's the score?" The lad confidently answered, "We're behind, twenty-eight to nothing." "Well," said the passer-by, "you don't sound very discouraged with a score like that." "Discouraged?" replied the boy; "we're not discouraged. We haven't come to bat yet."

Let us face the world situation today with the same unquestioned assurance that we Christians haven't come to bat yet. Never mind what the score so far appears to be. With God we shall win the permanent peace and prove that, as Jesus said, the kingdom of heaven is at hand. Remember, "beginning with me." Love God with your whole heart and your brother heart, and you can have the fulfillment of the promise both here and now. You can have the fulfillment of the promise both here and now. You can have the fulfillment of the promise both here and now. You can have the fulfillment of the promise both here and now.

Blue Devil Gridders Fumble Away Season's First Battle

Slippery Fingers and Mechanical Errors Cost GPHS Football Team Victory in Its Opener Against Mt. Clemens

Butterfingers backs fumbled away Grosse Pointe's opening football game last Friday night, September 15, on Mount Clemens' beautifully lighted Memorial Field before a capacity crowd.

The record shows Mount Clemens as a 7 to 6 victor over the local lads and that is the way it will stand for all time. But what the record doesn't show is the fact that the Devils beat themselves instead of being beaten by the Bathers.

Statistics Tell Story
A look at the game statistics give the story in a nutshell with all its glaring mistakes. The Devils outrushed and outpassed the Bathers, 203 yards to 91, but the Bathers recovered 5 of 6 Devil fumbles and intercepted 2 of 8 Pointe passes. Both passes intercepted halted Devil touchdown threats.

Time after time Pointe quarterbacks made glaring mechanical mistakes that robbed their team of scoring chances. For example, late in the game the Devils were trailing by one point with time running out rapidly. Usually a quarterback will call for successive pass plays to gain yardage and gain extra time by stopping the clock after each incomplete pass. The Devil's quarterback elected to call two pass plays on the first two downs which gained exactly four yards. With six yards and two minutes remaining he called for two line plays, the first went for no gain and the second netted an eleven yard loss when the ball carrier was nailed by infiltrating opponents.

Fumbles Are Costly
Two successive fumbles stalled the Devils' first threat and almost produced a Bather score. Shortly after the opening whistle the Pointers drove from their own 6 to the Mount Clemens 15. Pat Brogan spearheaded the attack to that point with a 15-yard end run after Jimmy Barker, who incidentally was the Pointers' workhorse for the night and believed by many to be the best running back on the field, had smashed the opponents' line for repeated gains.

At this point the Devil backs failed to hang onto the ball and on the second play of the series Dick Carstens picked up a Pointe fumble on his own 25 and raced to the Pointers' 28, where he stumbled and fell after being tripped up by Bray, the only Devil near him.

Averts Touchdown
Mount Clemens rammed its way down to the Devils' two-yard line, where Gene Stockwell committed the only Bather fumble of the night and Jimmy Barker recovered and averted a touchdown. Late in the second quarter

Mount Clemens recovered Halbrook's fumble on the Devil 40-yard line and it was here the Mount Clemens team caught fire long enough to score its game winning touchdown.

Six running plays put the ball on the one-half yard mark where Catton saved, temporarily, a touchdown by bringing down Glen Weideman short of the goal line. On the next play, however, Stockwell made up for his earlier fumble by scampering around his own left end into pay dirt. Three Devil tacklers had their hands on him but he shook free to score standing up.

Mike Krivens smashed over his own right tackle to score the conversion point which eventually was the winning margin.

Makes Beautiful Run
Grosse Pointe's only score came late in the third period on a drive that carried 92 yards and was climaxed by Pat Brogan's beautiful 56-yard run. Brogan's conversion boot was wide to the left of the uprights and that meant the ball game as later developments proved.

The Devils' line play was outstanding for this early in the season. Once Coach Wernet can get his backfield men to hang onto the pigskin, the Devils are going to be a rough team to beat. The team is in good condition and the show they have learned their plays well. This can be attributed to the many long hours the squad has spent in strategy meetings since last winter.

The Blue Devils' next opponent will be Ferndale on the local gridiron next Saturday, September 23. Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m.

Tennis Tournery Held in Shores

Jim Hartman, recreation director for the park at Grosse Pointe Shores, has conducted classes in tennis this past summer season for many of the children of the Shores. The season in-so-far as tennis is concerned, was climaxed last week with the playoffs of the Junior and Senior Tennis tournaments.

The Shores provided trophies for the winners and runners-up in both the junior and senior events. In the senior event the gold trophy went to Belinda LaHood and the silver to Christine Roney. First place in the junior event went to Margo Englehardt, with Linda Martin claiming second honors.

Children showing best form in service, forehand and backhand were also awarded trophies. These were awarded to Lucille Carmichael for best form and progress in service, to Lizette Nelson for forehand and to Louanne Nelson for backhand.

Interest in tennis has never been so high among the Shores children, and next year promises to see a resumption of progress in the game.

Bayview Night Race Sleigh Ride for Big Fleet of Boats

Cooperative winds made Bayview Yacht Club's All-Night race last Saturday September 16 and easy ride for the night riders of the local sailing fleet.

Jim Carlin, formerly of the Privateer Fleet, sailed his new Pilot class "Glory Bea" to top honors in the event, beating such famous ships as Paul Smiley's "Orient", Doc Dodenhoff and Ted White's "Medic", Toot Gmeiner's "Apache", Ernie Grates and Murray Knapps "Blitzen" and a host of other supposedly faster, bigger boats.

Carlin sailing in Cruising C division wasn't the first boat to finish but corrected time gave him overall honors and division honors. Smiley's "Orient" was the first ship to finish navigating the four leg 59-mile course in 7:05:43 but finished fourth in the overall standings after time corrections.

The Dodenhoff-White "Medic" was only two seconds off "Glory Bea's" winning time but won the Cruising B honors. Toot Gmeiner's "Apache" won the Cruising A honors and took the lead for the season in points over Ledyard Mitchell's "Soubrette" which finished second just ahead of Clare Jacobs "Revelry."

Bill Berry's 22-square meter "Fyrvaplinge" sailed off with the Universal title. For the first time in the history of the event all the boats were required to carry a white light on their sterns. This was done,

Officials of DRYA Deserve Credit for Fine Race Week

Member Clubs Criticized for Failing to Supply Much-Needed Cooperation; Changes Forseen in Next Year's Events

By Fred Runnells
If ever there should be credit given to a group of hard working, sincere men it should go to the 1950 Detroit River Yachting Association officers who promoted this year's Race Week despite overwhelming odds.

Commodore Buell Doelle, Vice Commodore Cal Sutton and Secretary-Treasurer E. P. Robertson and their efficient staff of workers turned in a grand job in putting over this year's Race Week program despite the lack of cooperation of the member DRYA clubs.

Only Bayview Helped
Only one club in the association came to the front with much needed assistance and that was the sailing club in this area, Bayview Y. C.

Bayview officers turned their club over to the DRYA for the entire Race Week, which ran from September 1 to 4, as headquarters out of which Commodore Doelle and his staff worked. Without this valuable assistance from Bayview the Race Week program would have fallen flatter than a new bride's first biscuits.

Not only were Commodore Doelle and his crew faced with the task of promoting the event without the cooperation of the member clubs but they also had the misfortune of having bad weather for two of the four races which made up Race Week.

Event Four Years Old
Race Weeks was inaugurated four years ago by the DRYA in hopes of building it up to rival the famous Larchmont Race Week down East.

The first two Race Week programs had the full support of all ten member clubs and were accepted by the local tars with much enthusiasm and the program appeared to be well on its way toward the hoped for success in future years.

But in 1949 the DRYA clubs began to lose interest and although they did support the 1949 event they finally withdrew this year and this year's program lacked much of the enthusiasm and social color displayed in the previous three years.

Social Events Missed
This year's program lacked the after race social functions which has been proven to be a vital factor in making the program successful from all angles.

In the inaugural Race Week every club took an active part. There was the choosing of a queen, wonderful entertainment each evening following the races and beautiful sailing weather.

In my opinion the DRYA committee made only two mistakes in his year's program. First, they switched the racing dates from July to September. This in itself kept many local skippers from sailing. Many skippers have had almost enough sailing by the time Labor Day rolls around. Secondly, the new scoring system used in this year's program left room for much crabbing by the tars.

This, I have been informed, will be corrected before the next Race Week rolls around. That just goes to prove the committee is open minded and is open to constructive criticism to make the program better.

Bad Weather Break
One unfortunate occurrence during this year's program was the fact the committee tried to put on a night race to start the series. This night race would have been a wonderful thing if the weatherman would have cooperated and dished up a nice balmy, moonlight night.

But instead he tossed the book at the local boys with a whistling Nor'easter that whipped Lake St. Clair into a frothing chop and made for some wangerous sailing as far as the small boats were concerned. However, the small boat skippers who took a chance to gain valuable points toward class championships, suffered no serious breakdowns. The only serious accident was suffered by Hans Hatcheck's eight meter "Shamrock," which lost her spar shortly after the start of the race off the head of Peche Island.

For safety sake the committee should have called off the night race and cut the series to three races. But how were they to know the wind would increase to over 25 miles per hour?

Did Masterful Job
All in all Commodore Doelle and his crew turned in a masterful job in handling the entire program which was climaxed with the Trophy Award dinner at Bayview last Thursday night, September 7.

Next year's job will fall to Crescent Sail Yacht Club's past commodore, likable Cal Sutton and if I know Cal all of this year's mistakes will be corrected and some new ideas added.

Possibly Sutton will try and switch the Race Week date back to July but before anything can be done the member clubs of the DRYA should offer their complete cooperation to insure the success of their own association's Race Week program.

After all, aren't the yacht clubs primarily for the yachtsmen?

You can acquire a good Spanish accent and know next to nothing about Spanish.

This paradox is vouched for by Charles V. McGuire and Gertrude James who conduct the adult evening Spanish classes which are scheduled to re-open on October 5 for the fall and winter season at the Grosse Pointe High School.

In a single evening you are well on your way to "speaking Spanish like a Spaniard" because of a unique method which first was introduced by Mr. McGuire a year ago and met with such success that it has attracted widespread attention among modern language teachers.

Instead of merely telling you to "imitate the instructor" — sometimes a very difficult if not impossible thing to do — the instructor very patiently, syllable by syllable, teaches you to speak seven brief Spanish sentences. First thing you know you not only can say all of the words but actually can string them together into smooth-flowing sentences with the crisp accent of a native.

Mrs. Harper Sibley from Rochester, New York, will address the members of the East Side Convocation at their meeting which will be held at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe on Monday, September 25.

Mrs. Sibley has been president of the United Council of Church women, was one of four women on the National Council of the Episcopal Church, is trustee of the Central China College, president of the Northfield League, was visiting expert to Germany with the educational and cultural division of the American Army. She was named American Mother of the Year in 1945 by the Golden Rule Foundation.

With her husband, who is chairman of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association and president of the Church World Service, Mrs. Sibley has travelled around the world to foreign missions and conferences. She is a delegate to the Conference of Church, Community and State at Oxford, England; and attended the World Conference of Churches in Amsterdam.

Mrs. Sibley's primary interest is what the women of Japan are doing in the reconstruction program and their outline for the future.

The meeting of the East Side Convocation begins at 11 a.m. with the service of Holy Communion, followed by luncheon at 1 p.m.

St. Pauloscope

by AUDREY HALEY

The brisk weather of September, announcing the first days of autumn, found groups of boys and girls, merrily chattering as they carried new books over the familiar paths to St. Paul's school.

The question, "Where have you been all summer?" brought thrilling answers from various people. For Leo Kennedy, Dick Gallagher, William Murphy, Connie Molitor and Diane Zemper, the answer was an exciting trip to Notre Dame for the Student Missions Convention.

Another group of Paulites, including Judy Beaupre, Celestine Blondell, Mary Lou Fisher, Joan Swartz, Kathleen West, Jerome Froehlich, Jerry Kirsch and Bob Schneider, took a wonderful trip to Chicago.

For a group of Senior girls the most exciting event of their summer was the wonderful cottage they rented for two weeks in Algonac, Michigan. Attending were Mary Lou Cavanaugh, Carolyn Floer, Sharon Sweeney, Joyce Zemper, Barbara Clark, Sharon Sweeney, Theresa Lyford, Mary Jo Trombley, Dick Gallagher, Larry Reynolds, Glen Walters, Joyce Zemper, Phyllis Van Becelaere, Jean Sharrow, Anne Reed, Jerry Marshall, Carl Rauen, Lee Elsey and Sally McCarron could be heard cheering loud and long for their football favorites.

Joining in on a chorus of "Red and White" were Joan Hock, Mary Margaret Van Damme, Marilyn Southerland, Janet Hock, Dee Wise, Donna Mayo and Janet Oxley.

One of the approaching days of October will bring St. Paul's traditional initiation of Frosh Day. This is the day that Seniors have awaited four long years. But don't worry, Freshmen, it always constitutes a wonderful time for the whole school. "Especially for you!" Incidentally — no private initiation permitted. Breaking in the Frosh is a Senior privilege and takes place before the whole school assembly.

After almost two full weeks of school, the business of study is once again in full swing at St. Paul.

At this particular time of year the common interest among all the students is football. Every night after school you can see St. Paul's lettermen practicing calisthenics and scrimmages. Going through the rigorous exercise of practice are Dave Sherwood, Jerry Froehlich, Tom Berg, Jerry Kirsch, Pat Champagne, Pete Schummer, Duane Streb, Jack Trombley and many others.

The football season officially opened for the Flyers on Friday, September 15, at De LaSalle's beautiful athletic field. Although this was an "away game," a fine turnout of Flyer fans crowded the stands. Kathleen West, Diane Zemper, Joanne Rabaut, Carolyn Floer, Barbara Clark, Sharon Sweeney, Theresa Lyford, Mary Jo Trombley, Dick Gallagher, Larry Reynolds, Glen Walters, Joyce Zemper, Phyllis Van Becelaere, Jean Sharrow, Anne Reed, Jerry Marshall, Carl Rauen, Lee Elsey and Sally McCarron could be heard cheering loud and long for their football favorites.

Joining in on a chorus of "Red and White" were Joan Hock, Mary Margaret Van Damme, Marilyn Southerland, Janet Hock, Dee Wise, Donna Mayo and Janet Oxley.

Never thought we'd pick up the Daily Racing Form to read of those always popular visitors to the Pointe... the A. E. RUEBENS... of Metamora and Toledo!... Their Hasty House Farms Entry won the Charles W. Bidwell Memorial Handicap last Saturday at Hawthorne, netting them a pert little prize of $17,800 besides a cluster of flowers and a trophy presented by MISS MARY BIDWELL, granddaughter of the late Mr. Bidwell for whom the race is named...

MRS. JOSEPH S. SHERER... looking as if she herself should be on the way back to college this Fall... wardrobe shopping with one of her young... she tailored in a navy suit and tiny toots to match... Trimming the suit on each side of the deep collar... a pair of white bone buttons as big as demi-tasse saucers...

STARR COMMONWEALTH WOMEN'S AUXILIARY equalled their 1949 financial triumph at the recent IRENE fashion show at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club... and we can't help wondering if anyone sent a cable to MRS. HARLEY EARL who always follows the same pattern when she's "on a job." (She was one of the co-chairmen of the show.) She makes sure everything is all ready and set... that there can't possibly be a hitch... works like fury... turns smash ticket salesmen out of introverts... and THEN departs on the eve of the show. This time she sailed for Europe.

MARTHA McCLINTOCK should have offers from Vogue and Harpers to model for their more elegant ads after that stunning photo in one of the daily papers publicizing the Irving fashion show for Neighborhood House!...

TIME MARCHES ON... photographer to society reporter: Gosh, are those girls really debutantes, they seem so darned young!

Soc. reporter to photog: Debs are the same age they've been for a decade... it's just that we're getting so darned old!...

A western bookseller wrote to a house in Chicago asking that a dozen copies of Canon Farrar's "Seekers after God" be shipped to him at once. Within two days he received this reply by telegraph: "No seekers after God in Chicago or New York. Try Philadelphia."

For people in advertisements, the name of Susan for girls is most often used. For men, the name most used is John.

The legend is told that in the days of ancient Rome an officer called away to the wars locked his beautiful young wife in armor and gave the key to his best friend with the admonition, "If I don't return in six months, use this key. To you, my dear friend, I entrust it." He then galloped off to the wars. Ten miles away from home, he saw a cloud of dust approaching, and waited. His friend, on horseback, galloped up, saying, "You gave me the wrong key."

A Southern librarian finds, she says, that single girls enjoy fiction more than married women. A wife, of course, detects it sooner. —Portland Oregonian.

Although good titles are supposed to be money makers for motion picture companies, one exhibitor with the word "Alterations" on the theatre marquee had 40 people offering money at the closed box office in one evening.

Two psychoanalysts are riding down the elevator of their office building on a sizzling hot day. One is an old man, the other a youngster. The old man, despite the heat, looks spruce, fresh, and full of pep. The young man is perspiring heavily and he is limp and fagged.

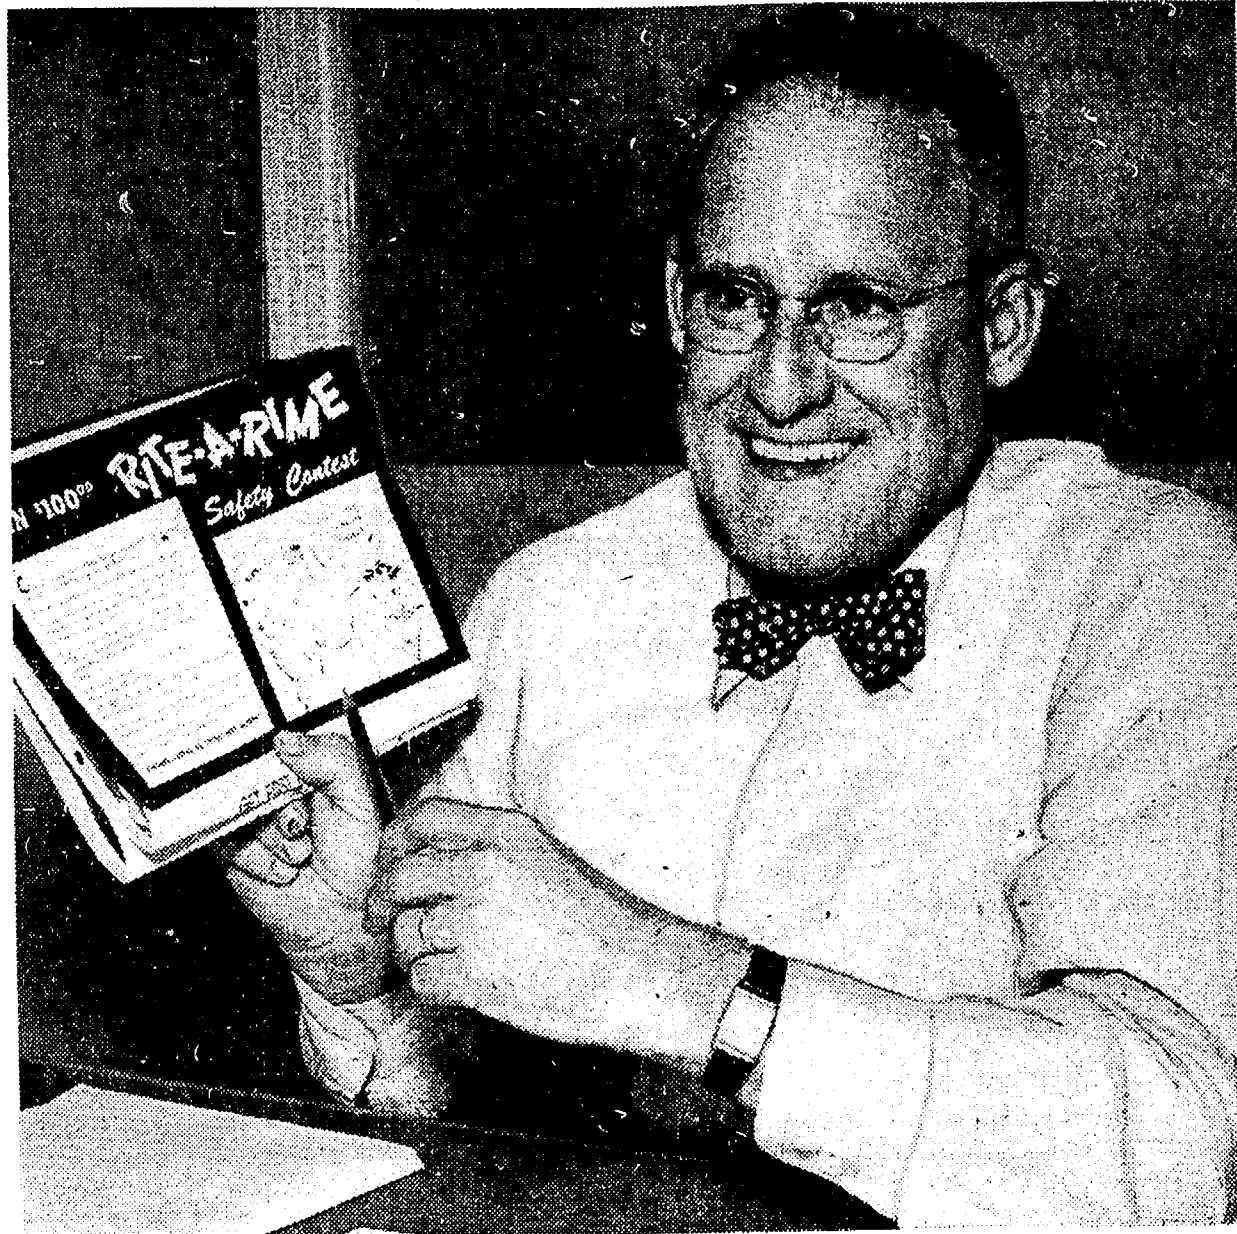

"How do you do it?" he ask his his old colleague. "How do you stay so fresh on a day like this after eight hours of grueling listening to all their troubles?" "And who listens?" the old man replies.

Pointer of Interest

RALPH S. FARNUM OF LOTHROP ROAD

"I'm not a poet, just a safety engineer from New England," Ralph S. Farnum, safety supervisor for United States Rubber Company's Detroit plant, remarks with a smile. Striving to interest employees in the National Safety Council's monthly jingle contest, Mr. Farnum recently dropped in a rhyme of his own and captured a cash prize.

Since his plant has won six awards so far in this, its first year in the NSC contests, Mr. Farnum is proud of its record... and justly so, when one considers that there are 40,000 entries monthly from plants throughout the country.

"Human Failure" "My job consists in making workers safety-conscious," Mr. Farnum explains. "Ninety per cent of accidents are due to human failure rather than machinery breakage." He has been supervisor for 17 years, carrying on his work of safety education.

Mr. Farnum has a finger in many Pointe activities. One of the first members of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club, he became interested in cameras in 1919 while serving with the U. S. Army of occupation in Germany

Sergt. William VanBuskirk To Marry Oklahoma Girl

Sergt. William R. VanBuskirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy VanBuskirk of Lakepointe avenue, will be married in Enid, Okla. on Sunday, October 1, to Carletta Beryl Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart of that city.

Sergeant VanBuskirk enlisted in the Air Force in 1947 and has been stationed at Vance Air Base since 1948. The bride-elect was graduated from Carrier High School in Enid in 1949.

in the section where fine German lenses were being made. Photography is still his favorite hobby, although he has had little time to devote to it lately.

Packard Prexy Waits for Car

For Hugh J. Ferry, the genial Irishman who heads Packard Motor Car Company, there will be an additional "wee bit o' green" in his 1951 Packard WHEN he takes delivery of the car.

Occupying a prominent place in Ferry's office is a green plastic steering wheel with the traditional Packard crest set in a deep green background.

However, public demand for the 1951 Packard is so great, a spokesman explained, that it will be sometime before Ferry or any company official takes delivery of a new model.

"Packard dealers and their customers quite naturally are our first consideration," the spokesman said, "and until their demand is satisfied, no Packard executive will take delivery of his new car."

So the green steering wheel waits for the time when Ferry takes delivery of his green 1951 Packard, which will be trimmed with green seat covers.

A beautiful collection of coats and suits can be found in JACOBSON'S select salon these days. Famous and familiar names... Carmel, Kraus, Amy Linker, Monarch, Kay Saks... are on the labels of smartly tailored and superbly styled costumes.

Pyramid coats, particularly the modified pyramids which boast some rounded shoulder padding, are very good... and it seems as if 9 out of 10 coats are fitted and have flared skirts. These are styled with deep armholes and soft waistlines to fit smoothly over suits. Color tones at Jacobson's range from the Nocturnes done in Town Browns, Stage and Parade in beige tones, Pantomime shades from the grape family, to greens, wines, cinnamons, grays, black and, last but not least, navy.

Alert beauticians at MARIE BIRD'S beauty shop notice that the Pointe's busiest ladies are making their beauty appointments for Mondays.

Why? Because these local smarties have discovered an ideal time-saver... setting aside Mondays for their waves, facials, manicures and pedicures leaves the rest of the week free for other business and social activities.

More than a few mothers in the area also find the first day of the week a fine time to take small daughters to MARIE BIRD'S salon atop the Hill on Kercheval for their haircuts and beauty work.

"Happy Birthdays" are in order this week for DON PIERNO - DON... OF FIFTH AVENUE - who is celebrating his first year in his salon at 19583 Mack, in the Woods. To mark the anniversary, Don announces opening of his new department for ladies and children's hair cutting under direction of Mr. Roberts, formerly with leading downtown beauty salons, and introduction of the Willat Dynacuri, newest thing in antiseptic permanents.
