Richard School PTA Starts 21st Year, on October 9th

The first meeting of the Richard School Parent Teacher Association will be held on Monday evening, October 9 at 8 p.m. The program will be divided into three parts.

Guests will meet in the auditorium, where the president, Dr. Rudolf Noer, will conduct a business session and the principal, Clarence Messner, will discuss some problems of the school and introduce the staff.

For the second part of the program the parents will go to the several rooms where they will have an opportunity to discuss briefly the work of their children and be informed about matters of school policy.

For the final events of the evening, parents will have a social period in the lunchroom with refreshments being served. Besides the president, Dr. Noer, the officers for 1950-51 are: vice-president, Mr. Risk; secretary, Miss Norris; and treasurer, Mrs. Warren.

This is the twenty-first year for the association and over the span of years a great variety of programs and projects have been attempted with no particular pattern being traditional. The organization has had a large membership annually, at least 400, and excellent average attendance at the gatherings, about 200. Presidents, and there has been a distinguished list of Grosse Pointe citizens, have served one year, usually moving up from another position on the board.

All kinds of programs have been experimented with. The basic philosophy of the group put into a few words is; to become informed of the nature of the work of the school and to cooperate with the system in all of its many activities. The most common type of program has been that of inviting an outside speaker in and the most common topic of such speakers has been, "Understanding the Child."

There have been modifications of the speech idea with panel discussions, participated in by parents, teachers and outsiders. Occasionally the speech has had to do with modern social problems and even travel. Often and with great success and interest, members of the staff have demonstrated in some way an aspect of the program of the school. For example, they have discussed the reading program, the audio-visual work, demonstrated art, physical education and music.

Several times a year the parents are invited to visit in the rooms, to see what is going on and to discuss their children's work.

The association has earned funds from two sources, annual dues and proceeds from a bake sale or bridge party. The budget totals about $500 annually. The money has been used to pay for programs, refreshments and then balances are used to buy something for the school. Over the years some of these purchases have included playground equipment, works of art, draperies, lounge furniture, library books, flags, photographic equipment, and audio-visual aids.

A very challenging program for the present year is now being organized by Mrs. Hillegas, the chairman. The association will meet five times, October, December, February, April and May. All meetings are not on the same week night.

For the second meeting of December 14, the speaker will be Dr. Hudnut of the Central Presbyterian Church and his topic will be "Human Relations." A very cordial invitation to attend is being extended to all Richard School parents and their friends.

School Buses

ber of school children should present themselves for transportation at any particular point at certain hours along the regular routes this fact would quickly become known to the bus authorities and they would have to furnish the necessary equipment to carry them.

Staggered Hours Unpopular.
 It was with respect to the special school bus service whereunder the children are carried from home door to school door and return that the suggestion was made that even this could be done if it could be arranged by the school authorities and the parents that the loads of children could be staggered at quarter-hour or half-hour trips. This suggestion, however, did not seem to suit either the parents or the teachers.

Mr. Schweikart says the hard nut for the company to crack is the getting of the necessary manpower to man these buses to carry large loads of the children to and from school at a specified moment.

Shores Seeks Federal Loan To Pay Cost of Sewer Plans

At the meeting of the Grosse Pointe Shores Council next Monday night, the papers will be signed which will complete the application for an advance from the Government to pay the costs of the engineering plans for the approved big sewer project.

A year ago when the Government thought it would be wise to encourage the starting of non-government participation municipal projects, Congress passed an act on October 13 to advance, not donate, the initial plan-preparing costs of such projects.

It is under the authorization of this act that the Shores is asking for an advance of $9300, the engineering cost of the new sewer project.

For a long time the project was held up by the slothfulness of the Lansing authorities to approve the plan, but that was obtained some weeks ago.

When the Government advance is obtained, which is confidently expected, the village will advertise the $342,000 bond issue which will have to be approved by the vote of the property owners.

The bond issue will include the $9300 item which has to be returned to the Government.

The project provides for the building of a main sewer along the Lake Shore and the hooking up with the county interceptor to serve the back end of the village.

As soon as this project is underway it is expected there will be a large scale opening of new subdivisions in the northeastern end of the village. The fact will probably give greater courage to the Shores voters to endorse this sewer project which so alarmed them formerly.

One observing resident of the Shores believes it will have a population in excess of 3,000 within the next five years.

Garden Clubs Launch Fight To Protect Pointe's Elms

The article carried in the NEWS some weeks ago proposing that a Tree Authority should be set up in Grosse Pointe, which was suggested by an opinion expressed by Norbert P. Neff, Clerk of Grosse Pointe City, has borne early fruit.

The appearance of the Dutch Elm Beetle Disease in the Detroit area has moved the Garden Clubs of Grosse Pointe to the realization that steps must be taken at an early date to protect our beautiful Grosse Pointe elms from the ravages of this blight which has already done so much havoc in the northeastern part of the United States.

Professor Makes Survey

On Friday, Sept. 29, Professors H. L. Chapman and Henry Strong of Michigan State College were in Grosse Pointe making a survey of the trees in the Pointe, particularly in the City of Grosse Pointe, for signs of the disease. They remarked on the large number of elm trees in the Pointe and commented on the fertile field offered in this community for the ravages of this disease once it made its appearance here. They counted more than 2,000 elms in the City alone.

14 Hit By Blight

Fourteen elm trees have already been spotted in the Detroit-Windsor area which have been hit by the blight.

Mrs. Thomas B. Mann of Meadow Lane, who is active in the Garden Club movement, was interviewed by the NEWS on Monday and she consented to give her opinion on the subject. She said:

Alerted to Danger

"Some weeks ago Mr. Norbert Neff, through the Grosse Pointe News, alerted us to the imminent danger and since then it has been revealed that 14 diseased trees have been found in the Detroit-Windsor area. Publicity in Grosse Pointe and Detroit papers immediately brought requests to the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council to promote some kind of protection and prevention program to save our elms. With the help of Mr. Neff and other interested officials the groundwork has been laid and information gathered as to how such a program could best be conducted.

Just Initial Step

"Friday's survey was the initial step and although the college experts found no evidence of Dutch Elm disease in Grosse Pointe yet, they pointed out that it is moving westward rapidly and is approaching this area from Ohio and Indiana as well as Ontario.

"A diseased tree was recently spotted north of Mack avenue and as the Dutch Elm beetle is no respecter of city limits it will be up to the residents of Grosse Pointe to marshal their forces for the coming battle."

Gimpel Concert To Aid Veterans

Many Pointe women are taking part in the presentation by the Tuesday Musicale of Jakob Gimpel, internationally famous Polish-born pianist, in concert. Gimpel will play in Music Hall on October 27.

The concert will be a benefit performance, proceeds to be used for maintaining music rooms in Veterans' Hospitals and establishing others throughout the state.

Mrs. McKee Robinson is chairman and members of her committee include Mrs. William J. Coulter, Mrs. Philip D. Dexter, Mrs. Frank Goldie, Mrs. Wilson Mills, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, Mrs. Joseph N. Jennings and Mrs. J. Milton Setzer.

Tuesday Musicale was instrumental back in the early 1940's of furnishing and equipping a complete music room at Percy Jones Hospital. When it was announced that this hospital would be closed, it was found out that the equipment was to be sent piecemeal to various other hospitals throughout the country.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Glenn Anderson, president of the Sunshine Club which did so much for veterans in hospitals, officials in Washington were contacted and permission obtained to move the room intact to the Veterans' Administration Hospital at Fort Custer in Battle Creek.

As the new room is much larger than the first, additional furnishings were needed. The Disabled Veterans of Foreign Wars have contributed funds and are giving a ball in the Veterans' Memorial Building on October 6 to raise more funds.

Anyone interested in helping this project is urged to attend the ball or send donations to Mrs. McKee Robinson at 1746 West Boston boulevard, Detroit 6.
