Whyte Giving Pointe Country's Finest Chevrolet Center

Here is a preview of Ray Whyte's new Chevrolet sales and service center now under construction at Jefferson and Lakepointe. Of Williamsburg Colonial design, the building will occupy 43,360 feet. It will include offices, specious showrooms, a modern garage and off-street parking. Whyte has invested close to $500,000 for the land and building. It is expected to be completed by mid-December. Officials of Chevrolet have announced it will be the finest Chevrolet sales and service plant in all America. Mr. Whyte has insisted that only the finest of materials be used in construction throughout, including a slate roof. The required setback of 10 feet beyond the former building line, will allow ample space for planting to beautify the front of the new development.

Thanksgiving 1950

Because it is human nature to bemoan our troubles rather than count our blessings, many Americans will fail this year to enumerate the basic causes for national thanksgiving which we possess in such abundance over any other people on earth. Our first Thanksgiving was for the food that had been assured us in sufficient quantity to enable us to carry on until the next harvest.

Three hundred and twenty-nine years after that first Thanksgiving we are giving thanks that our fertile fields and our industry are enabling us to feed ourselves and have such an abundance that we can spare vast quantities for the hun-

Our greatest cause for thanksgiving, however, at this time is that the handful of immigrants who started coming to these shores three centuries ago, moved by the common urge for spiritual and economic freedom, have grown into a mighty state equipped spiritually and materially to bind the wounds of a stricken world and keep burning the lights of

We should be thankful that we have progressed to a common mind that it is our duty to humanity to aid mankind to the utmost of our ability.

Human dignity, the priceless freedoms which bulwark human happiness, are threatened on many fronts. It is our

We are thankful above all else that our people see the truth and have the courage and wisdom to follow it.

The Winners

The reelection of Senator Robert Taft in Ohio was the most significant political development of 1950.

The fact that he had been marked for political death by the labor leaders, aided and abetted by the National Democratic administration, translated the result into a personal triumph of the first magnitude for Senator Taft. But of enormously greater moment to the country, his reelection has shown that the American people have the capacity and spirit to pass true judgment on brains and integrity.

the dash and popularity which so often substitute for gen- for taxes." uine ability in American politics.

This force that won his tremendous victory was the universal recognition that he was probably the best versed man in the processes of government of any member of the Senate, plus his courage and unimpeachable character. To this must be added the fact that there is a large and clear thinking group among American working men who insist upon making their own political decisions.

The labor leaders and that great company of Democratic politicians running on down from Harry S. Truman to the ward politicians who infest every great industrial center, American State paper and the are the real losers in the Ohio campaign.

The winners are this still greater mass of Americans who a people, by a people and for a ster, Isaac Allerton, Myles Stanplace their country's welfare above all selfish advantages, people known to history. real or imaginary.

It is one of the most reassuring incidents of the political life of the country in this generation.

Vishinsky's Needless Worry

The immediate fly in the ointment in Russia's plan for calendar. world communism is the fact that the United States has more atomic bombs than she has. The proportion is estimated now at about 18 to one.

Vishinsky has been holding forth on this issue in the UN with special vehemence in recent days and charges that we would continue to make them even if Russia should agree to a world disarmament plan which she proposes.

Mr. Vishinsky is absolutely right, unless, and if, she agrees to a plan which Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch proposed two years ago: that a World Authority on the pro-duction of atomic energy should be first set up with ample of the Christian faith and honor that first terrible winter. "Dear, the people coming home, Dear glad faces long away, Dear the merry cries, and dear All the glad and happy play. Dear the thanks too, that we give For all of this, Thanksgiving day." (Harrier P. Spofford)

We are currently fascinated with a series of advertisements in the newspapers, plugging a patent medicine. The ads contain pictures of the patients who have been cured by and Bond Surveys. this panacea . . . also giving their names and addresses and signed statements made by them endorsing the medicine.

Last week, there was pictured a portly gentleman from Libraries, "should prove helpful the West, who was described as a "night supervisor of hospital attendants." There follows a small portion of his tesmonial . . . which we trust you will read carefully:

"Before I started taking Balderdash' I had a great deal of trouble with my stomach. I had an awful hard time sleeping... and would roll and toss ALL NIGHT. It affected me during my working hours, too . . . but after taking ten bottles of 'Balderdash' . . . I feel fine."

The part we like (other than feeling fine after TEN bottles), is the fact that as a night supervisor, he rolls and tosses in his sleep all night! That's the kind of job WE'want. To aich with rollin and tossing all day at our typewriter. We'd much rather be able to do it at night . . . so it's Balderdash for us.

In this age of clipping short our greetings and salutations and sentences in general, we are often apt to run into unexpected snags that leave wrong impressions. Ferinstance, one day last week, a local "doer of good deeds" . . . who heads more committees than so far as funds and facilities you can shake a stick at . . . was having her hair done by a gent gry throughout the world whom war and devastation and who is noted for his non-volubility while working on a client's crop failures have brought face to face with the spectre of dome. Madame was chattering away about the day's activities on this and that committee . . . and making notes on a pad. Suddenly she mumbled something about "welfare" . . . and our hero hairdresser absent-mindedly showing some interest, asked, "Oh! are you on WELFARE TOO?"

For a startled moment, Madame raised her plucked evebrows way up to HERE . . . until she realized that of course he meant, "was she on the board of the Welfare dept." Proving that committee women DO have a modicum of humor . . . when our heroine left, she handed the hairdresser a small dime and said, "You know I don't get very much on welfare, but I'd like to share it with you."

We shall probably get no end of letters complaining about our "crack" (above) about the humor of committee women! So all right . . . we can take it. Our only experience with the latter was responsibility and privilege to defend these as danger some years ago when we were asked to serve on the board of some to ask how she should treat a silk local enterprise. There followed a long discussion, with checking of accounts by all parties The course of events has so shaped itself in the from various departments, but the missing five cents would not come to light. To the Editor:

The writer attended the public hearing on the proposed City Charter for Grosse Pointe Park, which was held last Monday evening, November 13, 1950, and inasmuch as very few of the residents of the Park were in attendance at this meeting, I am asking that you call their attention to two sections of the proposed Charter, one having to do with the so-called Merit System and It was obvious to me, after

As to compensation, I believe that the Judge of such a Court should be paid either on a fee or per diem basis for actual time spent in the exercise of his duties, out of the treasury of the municipality in lieu of all fees to which he might otherwise be entitled, except those for the performance of marriage ceremonies and I believe it would be a mistake to have but one Judge, since you then run the risk of having an autocrat fill an office of great importance to the public, whereas a two Judge Court would serve to temper the actions of the encumbents.

Again, with respect to compensation, I would compare Grosse Pointe Park with the City of Grosse Pointe Farms, where compensation for the Judges of their Courts does not approach the amount as presently proposed in the Charter for Grosse partment of the Park has been Pointe Park, and in the light of present living costs, it seems to me that every effort should be erning Civil Service, and it seems made to reduce rather than into me that if a Merit System is to crease the expense of govern-

Girl C. Y. O. Champions Get Tips on Shot Making

St. Paul's Girls' basketball team watches boys' basketball coach Ed Lauer as he shows the form the boys use in making basketball shots. The girls' team is practically the same one that won the Girls' C.Y.O. Parochial City championship last season with 17 victories in 18 starts. Left to right standing—Janet Hock, Judy Beaupre, Phylis Van Becelaere, Mary Van Damme, Beverly Labadie, Dee Wise, coach Peggy Hyde and Lauer. Kneeling-Mary Allor, Joan Hock, Connie Molitor and Marilyn Sutherland. The Flyers are slight favorites to repeat in the 1950-51

Legion Auxiliary News From Unit 303 By Doris. Nielsen

I do believe that the Prayer and Memorial Service held this year at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center was by far the most inspiring I have ever attended. I just wish more of the people in the Grosse Pointe community had made an effort to attend. The program under the careful planning of our president Elva Nielsen included both our Post and Unit and the Alger VFW Post and Unit. It was really a pleasure to again work with the Alger Post and Unit and we want to thank them for their splendid cooperation. Our speaker, Charlie Snyder from Geo. Washington Post No. 88 of the American Legion gave a Thursday, November 30: 7 p.m. most dynamic talk and reminde us of things concerning Armis tice Day which some of us may have forgotten. As he was speaking, I glanced around the room and believe me there wasn't a dry eye in the place. Thanks Charlie for being such a wonderful earth guy.

> We need 10 new members after we get our 75 renewals. Let's get down to brass tacks and do a little honest to goodness work on this. You know that's one committee that everyone has to work alone.

MRS. CHARLES H. L'HOMMEDIEU, who's vice president of the Michigan Humane Society (they're giving the wonderful Christmas Fair this Saturday, you'll remember) sees no reason why dogs and other pets should remain lost very long if Pointers will remember the two best ways to find them: First, call your Pointe Police Department and give a description of your pet . . . Second, call the Michigan Humane Society (TRinity 2-3400) and give the same report. Incidentally Mrs. L'Hommedieu, whose home is always welcoming a new animal or bird, is delighted with a new Cocker Spaniel she has named, Dave. The cocker's name was bestowed as a compliment to the friends who presented her with the puppy.

Last winter we met attractive ADELE HUEBNER at some event at Grosse Pointe Memorial Center and talk naturally fell to her great interest in writing . . . Just this week a Lansing friend of ours called to tell what strides Adele is making in that writing... She contributed a story to Michigan State College's humor magazine, "Spartan" and it was so top flight the editor illustrated it with four whole pages. What's more she's been asked to do another article for the December issue and will become one of the magazine's staff editors.

Our Society Department arrived at the office, shaken and pale, the evening of the Christ Church Mid-Century Fair. First glance into the crowded great room of the church house revealed D. DWIGHT DOUGLAS walking around with what seemed a live tiger cub under his arm and MRS. HEN-RY LEDYARD walking around with a woman's head tucked underneath HER arm. The head was that of a display dummy but you know how life-like THEY can seem.

GAYEST THING AT THE POINTE . . . the argyle mittens worn by MRS. JOHN HAMMOND . . .

MRS. FREDERICK CLIFFORD FORD JR. wears a pair of black kid slippers with narrowest of narrow kid bands buttoned over her trim instep.

If you are one of those persons annoyed by others who end sentences with prepositions ("Where is the hat at," etc.), you're in the market for ARTHUR GOD-FREY'S story about the little boy who definitely informed his father he did NOT wish to be read a bedtime story out of a suggested book. The father, nevertheless, arrived in his small son's bedroom with the book in hand to be greeted with, "Why did you bring that book to read out of up for!"

If you're going to succumb to radio's musical commercial, "I want a Television Christmas" then you might as well follow the New Yorker cartoon suggestion and ask Santa also for a flashlight with which the maid may light the guests into your living room.
