Young Fry Mourn Passing of Their Favorite Season

These youngsters appear to be placing a wreath on the pier of Christmas, most beloved holiday of childhood. Most of the Pointe's yuletide attire had vanished by this week, although Christmas lights still burned on trees in some houses and a few doorways were still festively illuminated. Ornaments were stored away for another year and trees were tossed out to be carted away by the rubbish collectors. The kids sorrowfully watched the passing of another season and settled down for the long pull until Santa Claus' next visit.

Pointe in Better Position To Press Arguments Before County Supervisory Board

Delegation of Six Members Gives Community Louder Voice; May Even Be Able to Get Jefferson Avenue Paved

As soon as Grosse Pointe Woods appoints its representative to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, Grosse Pointe will have six members on that board.

Already Named
Those already named to the county board are Councilman Peter D. Burgess and Attorney Pierre Hettler, Grosse Pointe Park; Councilman Chester Carpenter, Grosse Pointe City; Councilman William Kirby, Grosse Pointe Farms, and Ernest Putnam, Grosse Pointe Township.

Putnam is president of Grosse Pointe Shores, automatically became a member of the county board when he was elected Township supervisor.

Enhances Chances
This added representation on the County Board is expected to enhance the chances of "getting a few projects done" for Grosse Pointe.

One particular objective is the paving of Jefferson Avenue, which has been a "sore" spot for a number of years.

Before the Farms, Park and Woods converted to city status, the Pointe area was represented on the county board by but two members. Carl Schweikart, former township supervisor, represented the township. He served one term as chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

The city was represented by one member, Chester Carpenter has filled this office for a number of years.

Cab Company Head Fights Union Move

Webb Says He'll Close Concern Before Paying Local 902 to Run It For Him

James Webb, president of the Grosse Pointe Cab Co., said he would "close-up" rather than submit to union pressure to organize his cab drivers.

"The American Federation of Labor, Teamsters Local 902, wants to run my business and have me pay for it," he declared. "But I won't do it."

Webb said he called the Local 902 bluff on New Year's Day when he closed for five days.

Elections Shunned
The cab company president charged that the Local 902 balked out of several elections scheduled to see how the drivers felt about the issue.

He said that his cab company has been operating from 15003 Charlevois since 1944 without any labor trouble.

"I have 35 drivers and not one of them wants a closed shop or union affiliations," he stated.

Would Forfeit Bonds
Webb said that he spent $800 for 1951 bonds and licenses but he would rather lose that money and close-up his office before submitting to the union demands. Local 902 would have Webb hire a man to act as steward and also contribute to a welfare fund.

"I would go out of business anyway," Webb said, "if I had to operate under those conditions."

Just First Step
He charged that the Local was using his company as a "starter" to get at Checker Cab and the other large cab companies in Detroit.

Webb's company operates 16 vehicles.

Grosse Pointe's other cab company, Veterans Cab Service has not been approached by Local 902.

Walter Michalevak, company president, said that he had not been contacted by any union men.

Veterans Cab Co. operates nine cars.

GPHS Schedules Near Completion

Next semester's schedules are near completion at Grosse Pointe High School. As a result of the combined efforts of W. R. Cleminson, principal, C. E. Saltzer, assistant principal, and the grade counselors and the office staff, the students' schedules are about ready to go into operation.

As early as October the counselors began questioning students as to what they wanted to take next semester.

Then the students' choices were tabulated to see how many wanted to take each subject. Mr. Cleminson lined teachers up with classes.

The next step was up to Mr. Saltzer, who decided which rooms the classes will be held in and on which hour they will fall. This data he compiles in a large "master schedule" of which copies are distributed to each teacher.

After the counselors finish scheduling the students to their respective classes, the office and pupil copies of schedule cards are made by Miss Kimmich and Miss Godfrey.

Drive to Protect Pointe's Fine Elms to Start Jan. 15

The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council, under the auspices of the War Memorial Garden Center and the War Memorial Association, will launch the campaign against the Dutch Elm disease on Monday night, January 15, at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Center.

Dr. H. L. R. Chapman, noted horticulturist from Michigan State College, will introduce the principal speaker, Dr. Forrest C. Strong, foremost authority on the disease in the area.

Dr. Strong will show the only slides available in the country and will discuss the symptoms and diagnosis of the disease and the best methods for its control. He will conclude with suggestions for setting up a control program in the community.

Dr. Strong will be followed by C. A. Boyer of the State Department of Agriculture, who will emphasize the practical standpoint of such a program in the Pointe and the need for cooperation with other communities on the east side, where diseased trees have already been found.

Grosse Pointe garden club women are backing this battle on the homefront against the beetle, and urging all homeowners and civic-minded citizens to learn more about this enemy before he destroys the thousands of elm trees which are among the Pointe's greatest assets.

Park Appointments Made as New City Is Named in Suit

Civil Action Believed Instigated By Members of Fire Department Who Oppose Dropping of Civil Service System

Councilman Peter D. Burgess and Attorney Pierre Hettler were named Grosse Pointe Park representatives on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors at a Park City Council meeting Monday, January 8.

The Council also named three members to the Board of Review and two men to the Merit Board.

Review Board
Named to the Board of Review were J. Dunton Barlow, Bruce Tappan and Capt. Milton Wortley.

The members of the Merit Board are Stanley Pildow and Earl Graul. Two other Park residents were elected by members of the Grosse Pointe Park police and fire departments to represent them on the Merit Board. They are Thomas Cotter and Walter Moesta.

Civil Service Dropped
The Merit System replaces Civil Service jurisdiction of municipal employes in accord with the new city charter.

At the meeting Monday, Attorney Hettler was notified of a civil-law suit against the municipality filed by Norman Bohrer of 1230 Lakepointe and Marvin L. Visger, of 987 Nottingham.

Hettler felt the pair represented members of the Fire Department who opposed the merit system.

Bohrer and Visger charged in their suit that "once a community adopts a civil service system it cannot be replaced."

$26,718,427 Spent During Year of 1950

Building in Grosse Pointe reached an all-time high of $26,718,427 during 1950, officials of the five municipalities reported. Grosse Pointe Woods led the construction boom with 635 permits for new houses; 19 for commercial buildings and 194 for garages.

New Schools Help
The value of all these buildings was fixed at $12,764,070 by Philip Allard, Woods clerk. It includes $500,000 for the Protestant Children's Home; $1,344,000 for the Parcells School addition and $1,740,000 for the new Monteith School.

Two church buildings valued at $115,000 were also included.

Farms Sets Record
Grosse Pointe Farms set a record figure of $7,436,070 for construction of 308 houses, four commercial establishments, and the new Kerby School.

An addition to St. Paul's School and additions and improvements to 129 dwellings were included.

Over Five Million in Park
Everitt B. Lane, Grosse Pointe Park municipal manager stated that building in the community passed the $5,000,000 mark.

This figure includes the estimate for the Ray Whyte Chevrolet Center on Jefferson. Mr. Whyte has stated he has invested about $500,000 in land and building.

Grosse Pointe City recorded new building at $773,287 during the 12 months in 1950.

Thomas K. Jefferis, Grosse Pointe Shores superintendent, said that permits were issued for buildings valued at $581,000.

Farm's December Report
The Farms is the only one of the Pointes which has issued its building report for December. Despite the natural slowdown of construction caused by winter weather, there were 17 residential permits issued during that month, representing a total value of $444,000.

Park Approves Rent Increases

After being petitioned by 125 landlords Monday, January 8, for rent de-control, the Grosse Pointe Park Council passed a resolution approving rent increases.

The resolution provides for a 33 1/3 per cent hike for all rent of $60 a month and under, and a $20 increase for rent over $60 a month.

However final action for rent de-control remains in the hands of the Wayne County Advisory Board, which must act on the council's resolution.

Find Stolen Car, But Wrong One

Grosse Pointe Woods police recovered a stolen car, but it was not the one they were looking for.

The object of their search through the residential area was a car stolen from Richard C. Guimond, of 22425 Ardmore Park, St. Clair Shores, while he was visiting his parents at 1838 Hawthorne, Wednesday, January 3.

Police found a car that tallied with the description of Guimond's auto parked at Mack and Elizabeth, St. Clair Shores.

However, a check revealed that it was not Guimond's car but one that had been reported stolen by Detroit police last week.

Special Meeting Held in Woods

At a special meeting Saturday, January 6, the Grosse Pointe Woods City Council streamlined city administration functions by placing the Water Department and the Parks and Recreation Department under the direction of the superintendent of Public Works.

This position is currently held by Fred J. Hansen.

Under Hansen's supervision, the three departments are expected to coordinate for "better progress in civic programs and projects."

The personnel at the water pumping station was also placed under the jurisdiction of the Public Works Department.

Though no action was taken on the matter at the special meeting, the Council is negotiating for a city administrator.

Several applications have been received but no decision has been reached.

Clerk Philip Allard has been named acting city administrator. But he will continue to draw the clerk's salary of $5,600 annually.

The council has not fixed a salary for the city administrator.

"The pay will be in accord with the qualifications and background of the man," the council agreed. They doubted that it would be anywhere near $10,000 as previously reported.

Defense Heads Ask Change In Air Raid Warning Code

Local directors of civil defense or their assistants representing 12 key cities in Michigan have urged that the U. S. Air Force, through the new Federal Civil Defense Administration, reinstate the "blue" signal in the air raid warning code.

Meeting with State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state civil defense director, the group asserted the "blue" signal was the only means of mobilizing civil defense volunteers before a raid. Likewise, it would give the public greater warning to prepare for an attack.

The code, announced by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, contains only two public signals, the "red alert," which is a notification that a raid is imminent or at hand, and the "all clear," which indicates the danger is past.

The "blue" signal, which preceded the "red," was a public warning that an air raid was probable. It was eliminated last September by the air force without any explanation being given.

The signal was intended to give the public more time to get ready for a raid and as a notice to civil defense volunteers to report at their stations. The "red alert" cannot be used for mobilization as it is too close to the raid.

The directors discussed extensively the organization of mutual aid in key areas. These areas will be approximately 20 miles in diameter and automatically go into action as a unit in event a bomb falls within. Beyond the perimeter mobile support will be organized to send in equipment and personnel if an area needs outside help.

Surveys of equipment requirements, fingerprinting of volunteers and signing of loyalty oaths, training programs and other matters also were considered.

Leonard reported that organization work in Michigan is proceeding very satisfactorily and had gotten a head start last July when local civil defense directors were appointed at the governor's request and a basic emergency plan was established because of the start of the Korean war.

Leonard urged that cities open enrollment offices for civilian defense volunteers to speed up their recruitment now that the general program is being expanded.

Cities represented at the meeting included Jackson, Saginaw, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Flint, Port Huron, Jackson, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Bay City and St. Joseph-Benton Harbor.

Similar meetings are planned for the Detroit Area and directors of other cities.

GPHS Seniors Break Precedent

Lincoln Godfrey
GPHS Journalism II

For 25 years graduating classes of Grosse Pointe High School have had a masculine president.

Never has a class been graduated in all these years with a feminine president—at least, not in any teacher's memory.

In an unprecedented election last fall a girl, Bonnie Reitz, turned the tables on the boys by running against and beating out all competition for the office of president of the January, 1951 class.

Bonnie's election climaxed a long career of participation in school activities. She has taken part in the student government, has worked at football and basketball games selling hotdogs, and has been an enthusiastic and active member of the Girls' Athletic Association.

The election of Bonnie was not the only good news that the girls had. The class elected Mary Ann Waggoner, vice president, and Marcia Olen, secretary. The only thing that kept the class from having a complete petticoat rule was the election of Bill Johnson as treasurer.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Scherberborn

We were dashing down Kercheval the other afternoon . . . and our haste was arrested by sight of M. Joseph de Grimme standing outside his own galleries with the most puzzled smile on his face . . .

So we took a quick look (our tempo is strictly glissando for '51) into the always beautiful windows of de Grimme Galleries . . . and noted a handsome old master . . . in somewhat sombre mood . . . absolutely nothing to bring the odd smile to M. de Grimme's interesting face . . .

Then, forgetting the admonition of The Little Princess (more about Her later) . . . we started asking "those foolish questions" again . . .

"You see," explained the famous Pointe art connoisseur, "it is this way. Mr. Beauchamp, who has a smart bistro on Six Mile road, bought eight paintings from me not long ago. They caused much comment among his patrons. One of these was also a friend of mine who has just left. He said to me, 'Last night I had dinner at Beauchamp's and now I want to know is Beauchamp's a branch of de Grimme galleries . . . or vice versa?'" . . .

Et Tu, Brute

The Little Princess happens to be a member of our own family and we know it is the most loathsome height of personal journalism to ever tell tales out of family . . . but she made us stop and think this week . . .

She sat, with a degree of patience dazzling in a just turned seven year old, while we did some "society department" telephoning . . . She was more attentive than we noticed (being naturally confused as we went through the intricacies of how to spell Smith for our item . . .)

When we had finished and turned to her, she was wearing Miss Prim's most disapproving face.

"I think that was a very silly conversation," she scolded, "asking a-l-l those silly questions. How many guests will you have? . . . What are you wearing? I don't see why you waste so much time asking those foolish questions!" . . .

She isn't All-Wise, however, because she immediately forgot the scolding and asked exactly what all was in a Banana Split . . .

"Usually a whole banana, cut in half . . . three scoops of ice cream . . . covered with pineapple . . . maraschino cherries . . . chocolate syrup . . . chopped nuts . . . and a bit of marshmallow sauce if you like."

"No onions?" she exclaimed.

Sally's Favoritism

A slightly older young lady . . . (12 to be exact) . . . exerted her influence in the Favoritism column of this week's Grosse Pointe News, we understand . . .

She's Sally . . . daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan T. McHenry of Grayton road . . . whose mama was asked to do a Favoritism for us . . .

When it came to the "Favorite City" . . . Mrs. McHenry, in a burst of civic pride . . . wrote "Grosse Pointe" . . .

A dark cloud settled on Sally's brow . . . because she thinks Fort Lauderdale is the world's most wonderful city . . .

So, for Sally . . . GPN added "Favorite Vacation Spot" . . . in which spot Lauderdale fitted beautifully . . . and the smile turned on again . . .

The McHenrys, with Sally to be sure, will be off to Fort Lauderdale for their annual Winter holiday . . . come mid-March . . .

We think the Fort Lauderdale Board of Commerce should greet their Littlest Booster with a band at the station! . . .

Adopted Sister

The column is growing in age with each paragraph . . . For now we want to talk about an eighteen year old

Devils Avenge Last Year's Court Defeat by Ann Arbor

By Fred Runnells

Coach Ed Wernet and his Blue Devil cagers traveled to Ann Arbor on Tuesday, January 2, to whip the once beaten Ann Arbor quintet 63 to 59 and draw even in their series with the University town team which started a year ago.

The Blue Devils, usually unaccustomed to a large court, found the Yost Field House floor much to their liking. The Ann Arbor quintet had only tasted defeat once in four previous contests this year, that coming at the hands of Battle Creek.

Allan Top Scorer
Bruce Allan topped both teams with 24 points and moved a step closer to all-state recognition with his all around play which has made him a marked man in the Devils' contests this season.

Big Bud McCullough also was very instrumental in the Pointers' win as he connected for 14 points. The rest of the scoring was pretty much evenly distributed among the rest of the team.

In Top Form
The game was one of the best the Pointers have played to date and according to Coach Wernet the Devils could have beaten any team in the state that night.

With nine seconds remaining, the Pointers held a slim two point, 61 to 59 advantage. At this point Coach Wernet's strategy paid off big dividends and set up the final field goal of the night which was beautifully executed after the Pointers had been fouled and elected to take the ball out of bounds in an attempt to stall out the clock. Bruce Allan netted the final basket when a beautiful pass found him alone under the Ann Arbor basket.

Wants Two Games Yearly
It is no secret that Coach Wernet would like to make this series a home and home affair instead of the one game a year series it is at present. The pur-

Club League Quintets Tie For Top Spot

Last Tuesday's action in the Neighborhood Club's Major League saw undefeated American-Italian Club register its fourth victory of the current season by downing Tom Boyd Ford 60 to 45 in the first game of the night's twin bill.

Joe Altobelli, star of the upset victory over Grosse Pointe Valet, again led his team in individual scoring with 14 points. However, top honors of the game went to Herb Gerhard, who rang up 16 for the losers.

In the night's finale, Grosse Pointe Valet stormed over a hapless Monday Cleaner five, 68 to 33, to register their third victory against one defeat.

Roy Lombardo counted 24 points for the winners to jump into second place in the league's individual scoring race. Roy is now only 9 points behind league-leading Dale Erikson of St. Clair Shores.

Lop-Sided Scores Feature Church Court Loop Openers

By Fred Runnells

The inter-church basketball league got off to a flying start in its second year of competition with a triple header program at the High School last Saturday, January 6.

Lopsided scores featured the opening day but this can be traced to the fact the losers had less opportunity to practice during the Christmas holidays than their conquerors.

The veteran team of Christ Church rolled up the largest score of the day when it defeated the St. Paul Rockets, 53 to 6. The Rockets' poor showing can be attributed to the fact that the team was only organized four days ago and coach Eddie Lauer had no opportunity to work with the boys to find a winning combination. You can rest assured that before another week passes the Rockets will be a stronger contender for league honors.

Johnny Dryden racked up 26 points on 13 field goals in leading the Christ Church aggregation to victory. The Christ Church coaches attempted to open the gates of mercy after their team had rolled up a commanding 32 to 3 halftime lead, but even the substitutes had the range and hit consistently for scores. Christ Church had better lap up the gravy while the mopping is good because they will lose two of their better players within the next couple of weeks and will be no better than the other five teams in the loop.

Grosse Pointe Memorial wall-poled the St. Paul Jets 44 to 10 behind the sharpshooting of Bill King, who annexed the individual scoring honors with 22 points on 10 field goals and two charity tosses.

The Jets also have the same story as their church's other team. They were organized just four days prior to the opening of league play. The Jets are the smaller of the two St. Paul teams but what they lack in size they make up for in ball handling and shooting, although the first game score doesn't indicate this. It was just a case of a bunch of boys not having had the chance to play together before. Ed Lauer also handles this team and he will see to it that the Jets win their share of the games.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian quintet had the boys who could hit the basket and

St. Paul Five Defeated by St. Ambrose

The St. Paul Flyers received a surprising defeat at the hands of their neighborhood rival St. Ambrose, 56 to 40 last Friday, January 5 on the winner's home court.

Favored 2-1
The defeat was a surprise because St. Paul had previously whipped De LaSalle, a first division team, who in turn had trounced St. Ambrose only a week ago. Prior to the St. Paul-St. Ambrose game the Flyers were a 2 to 1 favorite to take their league opener in stride.

St. Ambrose jumped into early lead and held a narrow 21 to 19 margin at the halftime intermission. Apparently the rest midway through the contest was just what the doctor ordered for St. Ambrose, for it came back stronger than ever to build up its commanding advantage.

Felky Leads Attack
Tom Felky led the Flyers' attack with 16 points.

On Sunday, January 7, the St. Paul girls quintet, 1949-50 C.Y.O. champions, began the defense of its title by swamping Nativity 41 to 4.

Nearly 22 per cent of all Ford Motor Company employees participate regularly through voluntary payroll deductions in the U. S. Savings Bond program. These employees are investing a total of nearly $960,000 monthly in bonds.

Girls' Basketball League in Action

By Fred Runnells

This past week saw the opening of the Annual Girl Basketball League at the Neighborhood Club with eight teams in the Junior League and four in the Senior.

Following are the results in the Junior League:
Metropolitan Club 29, Nash Ramblers 9. Jane Rowe of the Metropolitan Club was top scorer with 12 points to her credit.

The Bloomer Girls defeated the Starettes 14 to 3.
The St. Paul Juniors gave the Owls Club a drastic time, the score being 53-7. Connie Molitor scored 26 points for the St. Paul Juniors.

Agile Angies defeated the Bouncing Debs 12-5 with Nancy Mason of the Agile Angies being the leading scorer.

Jameson Letter Answered By Sports Editor Runnells

Dear Mr. Jameson:
In your "Letter to the Editor" which appeared in the December 14 issue of the News you questioned the statements I made when I wrote the article about the "New Kerby Safety Patrol boys being the most fortunate kids in the Pointe" three weeks ago.

You said you could not accept my findings and wished to know with what justification and proof I could write such a story. You claimed I did not make a survey of how the other schools recognize their safety patrols. Also you stated my article "makes the other elementary principals appear to be a little apathetic and unwilling to provide for their Patrols".

Let's take that last statement first. The intention of the story WAS NOT to make the other principals appear "apathetic and unwilling". On the contrary, I was just giving credit where credit was due in lauding Principal Vernon Hicks for giving his boys something that will aid them later on in their school careers.

Mr. Hicks, as I stated in my story, ingeniously converted a large classroom into a gymnasium to make possible basketball instruction for the Kerby boys.

To my way of thinking I believe basketball instruction for grade school boys is valuable in as much as the physical education program in the Pointe schools falls far short of equaling the youngsters' academic studies.

It is true I did not make a survey of the other elementary schools because I do know that the principals do provide suitable recognition for their patrol boys. It was not necessary because I already knew.

No matter how great a program the other principals provide for their boys I still believe physical fitness is the best thing that could happen to anyone, especially young grade school boys who are just beginning to develop their bodies.

I have been in sports all my life as a player, coach and sports writer. I know how valuable organized competition can be in developing bodies, teaching sportsmanship and team work, all of which are important in building good citizens.

A group of safety patrol boys can be entertained in various ways such as going to baseball, football and basketball games or enjoying a rousing good picnic, but do the boys build their bodies up by being spectators? They do

Legion Auxiliary News

From Unit 303

By Doris Nielsen

Our New Year's Resolution for 1951 is to have more meetings like the one we had in December. We had a fine turn-out with a short meeting followed by lots of fun with the white elephant game and the nice gifts that Santa gave out.

All I have for this week's column is our grateful thanks to the following: June Landen, Department Rehabilitation Chairman at Veterans Hospital in Dearborn and Districts Secretary, who gave us some highlights on the Gift Shop and how it is handled.

Agatha Schulte, Past Districts President and Chairman of the Shoppers at Veterans Hospital in Dearborn, who told us of the interesting work done by the volunteer shoppers at the hospital.

Pearl Adelman, who acted as Santa Claus and distributed the gifts.

Nell Baldwin, for making all the favors for the table and planning the delicious lunch which ended our party; Nell's refreshment committee which included Isabelle Thoman, Gladys Charrier and Ethel Loughlin.

Ernie Hapke, (who doesn't belong to the Unit but we wish he did), for all the helpful things he did.

Everyone who was present and helped to make the party so gay and festive.

We will have an Executive Board Meeting at President Elva Nielsen's on Friday evening, January 12 at 8, by being present and on time.

Don't forget our regular Unit Meeting on Monday evening, January 15 at 8.

Would like to suggest you all put a ring around the January 30th date and plan to attend the card party Ethel Loughlin is planning at her home. More about this later.

As we all know, the Korean and Communist situation at present couldn't be much worse, so thought you might be interested in the following:

Granting of full war benefits to veterans of the Korean conflict and their families is being urged by the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mary Del Barba our Rehabilitation Chairman. The Auxiliary is supporting the Legion's demand that Congress give the Korean war veterans the same consideration extended to veterans of other wars, and the same protection to their families and the families of the dead. "During World War II, the Legion and Auxiliary worked for the passage of the G. I. Bill of Rights so the veterans of that war would find America's helping hand extended to them when they returned." Mary said, "We believe that the full help of a grateful nation should also be extended to the boys fighting in Korea and we are working toward that end."

Home-front Communists will find the one million women of the American Legion Auxiliary arrayed actively against them during the coming year, Hazel Allour our Americanism Chairman stated. "The Auxiliary will work with the American Legion in exposing and stopping Communist activities throughout the country," she said.

"Every Unit will be alerted to watch for Communist infiltration and propaganda in its community, especially in schools, churches, youth organizations and women groups. We cannot permit a communist fifth-column to operate here in America while our boys are dying in battle against Communists overseas."

Library Friends To Hear Korean

Harry Whang will address a community meeting of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library on Tuesday, January 30, at 8:30 p.m. in the library.

A native Korean, Mr. Whang was brought up in Korea and received degrees at the University of Chicago and Columbia. With a visit to Korea during the past year, during which he interviewed President Syngman Rhee and General MacArthur, Mr. Whang is very well qualified to speak on this subject.

With Korea the key to the world situation today, and a source of increasing concern to all Americans, the Library Friends feel that many local people will want to take advantage of this opportunity. Everyone is cordially invited.

Kid Bits

By Janet Ballentine

Looking back on the Christmas holidays we see two weeks crammed full of good times.

The Snow Ball at G. P. H. was the big event of the holidays. Modernistic snow figures carried out the theme of the December 28 dance. In the wintery scene we saw Dave Pethick and Ginny Steenrod, John Tower and Carol Fredericks, Frannie Townsend and Chuck Gardella, Marcia Block and Ray Eddy, Tom Stein and Sally Seiber, and Peg Moreland and Carl Lecklider.

Before the dance JANIE JOACHIM entertained 50 classmates at a coke-tail party. Bob Howe helped Janie welcome Patti Lee and Ralph Cross, Alice James and Bill Rexford, Donna Steenrod and Bill Rupp, Alice Robertson and Lyndon Babcock, and Nancy Ramsay and Jack Newman.

Then off to the ball were Donna Hewitt and Glenn Thomas, Elaine Brodeur and Dave Carr, Ellee Frizzell and Dick Scales.

DEFER SCHOOL
The three aspects of Christmas were portrayed by the fifth and sixth grade pupils of the Defer School.

The children marched into the auditorium to the music of "Jeannette Isabella." The first aspect "PEACE" opened the program. "PEACE" was symbolized by a young girl standing on a pedestal, surrounded by the Four Freedoms and groups of children who represented the various organizations such as the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Cubs and the Brownies. The choral group sang the lovely favorite, "Noel," assisted by a clarinet trio, Ross Robb, David Zuehliker and Nancy Donovan.

The second aspect, "JOY," depicted the 12 days of Christmas. The girls of Miss Brogan's class executed a delightful dance to "The Skater's Waltz." The scene was closed with the singing of "Echo Hymn" and "Joy to the World."

The third and last aspect, "NATIVITY," opened with the singing of "Little Town of Bethlehem" by the choral group. At the close of the song the curtains opened on the manger scene at the arrival of the Three Wise Men. During this pantomime the children in the choral group sang "Silent Night." The children taking part in the Nativity pantomime were: Jacqueline Cignac, Billy Cameron, Leigh McEbern, Dan Dyer, Otto Scherer, Harry Bowlin and David Zuehliker.

The recessional music was "Good Christian Men Rejoice." The musical part of the program was staged and directed by Miss Ernst.

After the program a doll sale sponsored by the P-T-A Council drew the attention of children and parents. The dolls had been dressed by the mothers in the P-T-A.

MAIRE SCHOOL
A meeting of all elementary teachers and principals was held at Maire School on January 4. The topic for discussion was "Reading." The meeting included a panel discussion on issues involved in the use of basic readers in Grosse Pointe Schools.

A committee of elementary teachers has been meeting with Mrs. Cowe, principal, and Dr. Selmeier during the past four months to examine basic reading series from first grade through the sixth grade.

The selection of twelve series were considered and now have been narrowed down to three series. These series are now available for inspection in all the elementary school buildings. Each teacher has the opportunity to examine the books, workbooks, and manual in each of the three series selected by the committee. The teachers' analysis will determine the most useful series for teaching reading.

AAUW Literature Group To Hear Book Reviews
Mrs. Edward F. Gehrig of Bal-four road will be hostess on January 17, at 8 p.m. to members of the Contemporary Literature Group of the AAUW.

Mrs. George True will review Will Durant's "Age of Faith" and Mrs. Paul Baldwin, "New York Holiday" by Eleanor Early. A preview of current and forthcoming new books will be given by Mrs. Morrison Booth.

St. Pauloscope

St. Paul is once again in full swing, after a long-remembered vacation. The whirl of fun enjoyed by the Paulites consisted of parties, dances, and in general, one good time after another.

The annual Varsity-Alumni basketball games were "must" for the sport-loving members of both the students and the Alumni. The varsity girls proved their skill with a score of 35 points to the Alumni's 22. The boys' contest resulted in the close score of 36-30 in favor of the Alumni. Following the games, a dance was held in the gym which added to a full and entertaining evening for all.

Some of the former students attending the game were Sally Walker, Chuck Willie, Tom Marchand, Betty DiPaula, Chuck Alaska, Harry Hammond, Pete Blanger, Carl Staub, Peg Worlily, Barb Slocum, Jack Hutton, Rita Liethouser, and Rose Mary Wruble.

Cel Blondell threw a skating party for the Seniors on December 30. Among those having a rollicking time on the ice were Judy Beaupre, Dene Sweb, Jerry Kirsch, Kath West, Raul Felz, Hans von Bernthal, Cathy West, Marie Couvreur, Sally Vaide, Jim O'Connor, Kay Rauen, Rita Blondell and Tom Backman. Weary, but happy, the gang returned from the rink to Cel's home for refreshments.

The Holiday spirit was very evident at the sleigh-ride held by Dick Schlaiff, Bernadette Thi-

Girl Athletes Play Hostesses

By Nancy Crowe
High School Journalism Student
The feminine athletes of Grosse Pointe High School have been busy playing hostess on "Play-day" in swimming, badminton, and volleyball.

For the volleyball playday on January 5, the guests came from across the river, when the local girls met two teams from Riverside High School in Windsor. Grosse Pointe High School was represented by the winning team of the school's intramural tournament captained by Jane Rippe, 12-B, and the second place team of Carol Lundgren's 11-B.

The top three teams of the intramural badminton tournament were hosts to three teams from Ferndale, Michigan on Tuesday December 19. The Grosse Pointe players were Barbara Westcott and Elaine Kihnen, 12B's, who won first place in the high school's tournament; Marlene Climie and Elaine Turrel, 11B's, who were second in the intramural results; and Anne Busby and Jane Rippe, 12B's, who placed third in intramural badminton.

Ferndale was also the recipient of Grosse Pointe High Schools hospitality when a swimming meet was held between the two schools on Tuesday, December 12.

The results of the twelve events, which were all twenty yards, showed the ninth grade on top with 38 points. The eleventh grade was close on their heels with 37 points. The tenth grade swam to third place with 25 points, and the twelfth grade wound up in last place with a total of 23 points.

Among the events were a race between the four grades, two crazy relays, and the individual races in each grade.

The first place winners were: the ninth grade, backstroke; Carol Sober (G. P.); breaststroke, Lorraine Hansen (F.); freestyle, Margaret Turill (F); Nikki Treat (G. P.); Lorraine Hansen (F); the tenth grade, backstroke, Shirley Eckwall (F); breaststroke, Jo Minkler (F); the eleventh grade; freestyle, Diana Retzlaff (G. P.); and the twelfth grade; freestyle, Pat Putman (G. P.); backstroke, Audrey Amos (F).

To close each of the playdays the participants are treated to refreshments in the high school cafeteria.

We know exactly how Free Press society editor MARGUERITE RILEY happened to announce the engagement of Detroiters GLORIA MORRISON and QUENTIN REYNOLDS last week-end. Our own society department, holiday slappy, confessed it couldn't bear to read the GPN's society section last week for fear of finding it had married off the wrong couples and otherwise upset High Society on its ear. Debs and brides and engagements have arrived too thick and fast, much, much!

MRS. WILLIAM DENLER is noted for her chic, rain or shine. Saw her the other rainy, rainy day looking, to coin a phrase, the picture of fashion... not a hair of that smooth coiffure out of place! Two gold edges of her combs shone brightly in her dark hair and below her black, shortie coat was visible a dashing toned skirt in red, blue, green, yellow and creme plaid (or tartan, if you must). Her green sweater peeked from the open neckline of her coat and she wore green shoes.

Weather-proof, too, is the natty appearance of MRS. LLOYD MARENTETTE, who smiled at the pouring rain in a tan colored rain hat and belted short coat to match. The plaid skirt she wore was boldly splashed in red and creme blocks.

What a beeeeeeeg red pocketbook MRS. GEORGE NUGENT MONRO II carries these days!

No one enjoys the cocktail hour more than MISS ANNIE WARD FOSTER'S wee dancing pupils. It is a special occasion... when someone has a birthday... or the Christmas party is in session... Miss Foster announces the cocktail hour... and the guests are served ICE CREAM CONES.

PILFERINGS

Said the little fat pastor as he fell down a flight of stairs: "It's amazing the words one can recall!"

WORD STUDY, published by G. & C. Merriam Co. and edited by Max J. Herzberg, takes up the Smiths in a recent issue:

"A person named H. Allen Smith has done a book titled PEOPLE NAMED SMITH, which Doubleday & Co. recently published. Smith's book adroitly mingles research and humor.

"Nobody knows how many Smiths have changed their names, but H. Allen Smith has done considerable research on the baptismal names people select to add individuality to the common surname. His favorite is Light Green Smith, which isn't quite fair because it is the name of a prize pig. Others are Oceanwave Smith, Wanton Q. Smith, 5/8 Smith (not Five-eighths written out, but 5/8 Smith), Xenophon P. Smith, who is head of the Public Library System in Peoria, Ill., and Leonidas D'Entrecasteaux Smith, a Tennessee lawyer who has named his children Keillash and Ucal. But the man who went the furthest in finding a first name no other Smith possessed was Glenn E. Smith when he was pondering what to name his son. Finally he found it: Smith. What other member of the Smith family had that first name?

"Glenn Smith, mentioned above, is founder of the TNSDUNSPHI society. (The National Society to Discourage the Use of the Name Smith for Purposes of Hypothetical Illustration.) The society grew rapidly as eager Smiths demanded membership cards which they could pull out indignantly whenever a friend began a story: 'Now this fella, Joe Smith...'. Incidentally, Glenn E. Smith is a Super-Smith because his father married a Smith which gave him four Smith grandparents."

And from the same publication, a cartoon with Wife asking her husband what to say when she reviews a novel for her literary club. He suggests, "Jot down these words and phrases—Typed, Significant, Impact, Documentary, Motivation, Cohesive, Mature, Lush, Flamboyant, Trivium, Esences, Perceptive, Vivid, Intimate and Moving, Adroit Manipulation, Flashbacks, Dramatic Urgency, Vigor and Warmth, Flights of Lyric Beauty, Emotional Excesses, and Mature Tenderness and Sensitivity. Scatter 'em through your article. Doesn't make much difference what else you say. Might use Trivium a couple of times. It will knock the girls right off their chairs." The cartoon's by Webster, and originally appeared in the New York Herald Trib.

GPHS Seniors Set for Prom

Roston Clark's band will provide the music when the 12B's of Grosse Pointe High School entertain the 12A's at the semi-annual senior prom on Saturday, January 13, from 9 to 12 o'clock.

The officers of the 12B and 12A classes and their dates will lead the traditional grand march. They are: Bonnie Reitz, 12A president; Dick Mackenzie, 12B president; Mary Ann Waggoner, 12A vice-president; George Beauchamp, 12B vice-president; Marcia Olen, 12A secretary; Joannie Johnson, 12B secretary; Bill Johnson, 12A treasurer; and Gordon Maitland, 12B treasurer. The parents of the 12A officers have been invited as chaperones: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Reitz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waggoner, Dr. and Mrs. Alex Olen, and Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Johnson.

The decorations committee has succeeded in keeping the seniors from learning the theme of the prom, which will be kept secret until Saturday night, when the gym will be changed into a party setting.

The committee heads in charge of decorations are Joannie Hollister, Bambi Wigton, Diana Nylund, Elaine Kihen, Marcia Boothe, Nancy Crowe, Mary Carey, Russ Etter, and George Beauchamp.

Karen von Reis and her committee have taken care of invitations, and refreshments are being planned under the direction of Elaine Deckert. Electricians are headed by Bob Morgan, and Lee Eskridge is in charge of publicity, while Dick Mackenzie and his committee will come back Sunday morning to clean up.

All the members of the 12B and 12A classes can attend, and each may bring a guest.

Party Marks Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Renchard marked their sixth wedding anniversary Saturday night at a cocktail party for 50 guests in their home on Charlevoix avenue.

Pointer of Interest

MISS MABEL DURHAM OF WASHINGTON ROAD "I have always enjoyed my teaching." In these simple words Miss Durham refers to her "wonderful half century of teaching." She retired in June, 1950, after 49 years in the classroom.

"When I was graduated from high school at 17, I really had no idea of teaching," recalls the gracious and good-looking Miss Durham, who looks as if she still hasn't passed the 50-year age mark herself. "However, I took the teacher's examination with my girl friend in Ontonagon county in the Upper Peninsula where we lived. I taught there for four years before going to Ypsilanti Normal Teachers' College, where I got my life certificate."

Her First Assignment
Her very first teaching assignment was a country school in which she had a total of four pupils. In her third year of teaching, she had a one-room school consisting of 70 pupils in the first through eighth grades. After teaching for six more years in Rockland, Mich., she came to Detroit in 1911 and has taught here ever since. She earned her Bachelor of Science degree by attending classes through the years at Wayne University.

She Wore 'Them Out
Miss Durham taught at many of Detroit's old public schools. She says with a chuckle, "Usually they tore down a school after I left." She was assistant principal at the old Washington School, where Hudson's warehouse now stands. She always taught in elementary schools, and was an assistant principal from 1920 on. She spent her last 22 1/2 years of teaching at the Cooper School, refusing many promotions during that time because she preferred to remain at that particular school.

Her Service Appreciated
"I came into teaching very quietly and I intended to leave the same way," she says. However, when she retired in June, her fellow teachers gave a banquet and presented Miss Durham with a handsome diamond ring which she naturally cherishes. She still returns to the school for various parties and gatherings.

Miss Durham hastens to explain that she can find plenty to do now... there is no time on her hands. She intends to catch up on her traveling and many other things that she has never had time for. She began by spending last summer at Copper Harbor at the tip of the Upper Peninsula, where she looked after her sister's gift shop.

Pointer for 20 Years
Miss Durham is a member of the Woman Principals' Club and the Women's City Club. A Grosse Pointe resident for 20 years, she makes her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Zell.

American Designers Stage Their Openings

By Mary Morgan

Women's Editor of CKLW (Special to Grosse Pointe News)

Editor's note: Mary Morgan, women's editor of Radio Station CKLW, enjoys an international reputation as an authority on beauty and fashion. A copper haired beauty herself, she has a flair for sensing what women want most to know about the two subjects she pursues in her career. She is in New York for the semi-annual openings of foremost American designers, sponsored by the New York Dress Institute. A series of three articles written especially for readers of Grosse Pointe News will appear on this page.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Unlike some cities in America, New York is strictly "in season" year round and this week is playing fabulous host to fashion editors of America and other continents here to inspect the Spring and Summer collections of America's top designers. We begin a familiar schedule which makes the expression, "Out of This World" an understatement.

With limitless hospitality the showings begin at 8 o'clock in the morning. Somehow we retain our sanity and still manage to be on time at the various salons... a new show every hour on the hour.

Pre-opening showings and fun included those of Sally Victor, whose chapeaux are as fresh as Spring and t-w-i-t-e as beautiful; the Puritan Frocks showing at the Plaza with vivacious Dora Miller, hostess, just back from Paris; Forstmann's lovely Dee Ellis giving a Sunday night supper at the Carlyle's Victoria Room, the scene of so many New York debutante balls.

Jottings from the Herbert Sondheim, Pauline Trigere, Elizabeth Arden, Maurice Rentner collections revealed these highlights:

Watch for one of the most satisfactory seasons of fashion with two distinct silhouettes— ultra slim for suits and dresses, superfull for coats and afternoon and evening clothes.

Two colors to every costume, with the monotone ensemble a rarity, and the charming combinations of two fabrics, usually contrasting thick and thin, or soft and stiff fabrics. Smart example is Pauline Trigere's black silk tulle vertically tucked dress with white linen stole. Or Herbert Sondheim's navy silk shantung dress accented with the navy and white checked silk organza flange. The flange—so wispy soft, is detachable.

The curving arched neckline will be an important point of interest on spring suits, because almost all new spring suits feature the slim to tight skirt. The arched hip gives the illusion of skirts being tighter than they are.

Enter the chemise dress introduced more than three seasons ago but shown in a number of ways.

Other popular favorites will be the simple classic shirtwaist, and the sleeveless dress which crushed the fashion scene so successfully last season.

What about colors?... Less black, brown and navy, more mauve, red, rose, citrus shades of yellow, orange and lime. But don't throw your pet navy away, it's still a classic fashion.
