The former JUDITH ANN ATHMAN, daughter of Leo J. Athman, assessor of Grosse Pointe Woods, and Mrs. Mildred Athman of Brys drive, was married in St. Joan of Arc Church on Saturday morning, April 21, to the son of John T. Rauen, Sr., of Lodeyck, Detroit.

The bride's gown was of eggshell satin with long sleeves and a lace collar with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. Dolores Athman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Carol Athman, another sister, was flower girl.

Bridesmaids were Rita Leithauser and Joanne Schummer. They wore taffeta dresses in rainbow colors and carried carnations.

Carl Rauen, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers included Lawrence Gelineau and LaVerne Athman.

The bride's mother wore navy blue lace, a navy blue picture hat and navy blue shoes. The mother of the bridegroom wore a grey and green print.

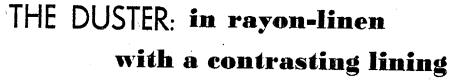

The bride's going away suit was of red gabardine with white pique trim and a red hat with the same trim, and navy accessories. Following a reception at the

Short and to the Pointe

From Another Pointe of View by

Jane Schermerborn

The handkerchief popped back into high fashion last ER of Teaneck, N. J., in Man-Thursday afternoon . . .

It all happened at the home of Mrs. Edward B. Caulkins, Jr., in Beverly road . . . where the board of directors of Franklin Settlement gave a luncheon in honor of Miss Sarah Selminski, retiring director after 30 years at the head of Franklin Settlement . . . but remaining (we hasten to add the cheerful note) to be executive consultant for the organization which continues in the experienced hands of her fellow worker, Joseph A. Beattie . . .

But, the handkerchief . . .

You'll recall it was last Thursday, too . . . that General of the Army Douglas MacArthur made his farewell address DEMING. to the Congress of the United States . . .

The General, in fact, arrived at the Capital just as the first guests started to arrive at Mrs. Caulkins' home . . .

The Handkerchief Reappears '

But board member Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Jr., had been the first of the Franklin board to arrive at the Pointe gathering . . .

And with her . . . she brought two television sets . . so that everyone could attend the party for Miss Selminski

... and still hear the historical address . .

Now you begin to understand the handkerchief . . .

"But like the old soldier of that ballad . . . I just fade away"...

About 48 feminine handkerchiefs flew to as many pairs of eyes . . . and the gentlemen board members cleared their throats and looked very gruff, indeed . . . (The press wailed.)

Tears Were Unrestrained

A lady of great dignity, who daintily had poured a glass of sherry for one of the guests just as the speech began . . . Clutched the sherry bottle all through the address . . .

And indeed presented such a bereft picture at its conclusion (unconscious she was holding the bottle) we feared she might lift it to her lips and drain every drop. The guest of honor wept openly into the beautiful orchids daughter, JANE, and son, BOB-pinned to her shoulder by her adoring board members . . . Mrs. Caulkins brushed away a pretty tear as a maid sobbed lunch was ready . . .

And that's how the handkerchief publicly regained favor in the chic world (which has been weeping into paper for years, now).

Just Make It Loud

Once again Grosse Pointe has asked the Wayne County Road Commission to do something about the deplorable state out to handle desperados and see that law and order be carried out of the paving on East Jefferson avenue. Once again the commission has said it will think about it.

The patience of local residents is wearing thin under the annual or semi-annual kiss-offs which this very reasonable plea has been receiving for too many years. The county procrastinated for a long time with the excuse that it was waiting for a right of way to be granted which would permit widening of Jefferson all the way from the present widened portion not far east of the Park limits, right through to Lake Shore road. After ducking behind this barrier for a number of years, the county road commission had to come out in the open and seek other reasons for not affording the relief to which the Pointe is entitled.

This community is not interested in having a wider Jefferson avenue, at the expense of seeing hundreds of the fine had heard mice in the kitchen . . . she was scared silly . . . and old trees which line the avenue, cut down. All it wants is didn't know how to set the traps. Muttering to himself, (we will your library for moving picture a non-pockmarked thoroughfare which will not tear the day- never know what), our hero fixed the traps, set them at strategic ratings for children, young peolights out of every car which traverses it, running up big points and left. repair bills for the owners, most of them Pointers. The street is plenty wide enough now to handle all normal traffic.

Once again the county repair gang will be with us, pouring their little cans of road oil, carefully placing their little shovels full of asphalt and gravel in the chuck holes. And a few weeks after they leave, the old chuck holes will start to to know that there are men like you we can rely on in these emeropen up again and new ones will appear and the passing motorist will be having his teeth rattled in the old familiar manner.

A completely new pave is needed and it is high time the county supplied it. There is probably no stretch of road in forms and wait 30 days for a new book. One of the arguments used for converting the Pointe villages into cities was that it would give the community mole on her wrist; that her blood type was 4; that she was a Bapgreater influence among the county rulers. We don't know what goes through a policeman's mind at that moment when he decides to become a policeman. We know that little boys go through the stage of wanting to be "cops" . . . on account of the fancy uniforms, the hero-worship, the exciting drama of "cops and robbers" and the authority wielded by the blue-coated HE-men. Soooo, we fancy copy? that when they grow up, a little of this same feeling remains ... and so they make the big decision to serve their City and protect the inhabitants thereof.

We are leading up to the case of a large-sized (and handsome) "rookie" who joined our local force not long ago. A gent well cut to the letter. One of his very first assignments promised to be an exciting one. A local dowager telephoned the police station one evening and said, breathlessly, "This is Mrs. Soandso at Suchandsuch an address; please send a policeman to my house IMMEDIATE-LY. I'm in trouble." It is known the county road commission is in the process of preparing its budget. There is money available for such projects as a new pave for Jefferson avenue. What better chided by his bride for "stuffing." His alibi was . . . "Well, I only time could there be for the six Pointe supervisors to test the power of their voices? Harmony isn't important in such a sextet. Just make it loud, and keep the refrain ringing until its sweetness or its discord become more than the road commission can bear.

They Need Our Help

We'regret that the pressure of deadlines kept us from attending the dinner given Monday night to pay honor to two Pointe women who have endeared themselves forever in the hearts of thousands of wounded veterans of World War II. The Paralyzed Veterans Committee arranged the testimonial, held in the Detroit Veterans Memorial Building, as a means of expressing their appreciation for the very great service which has been tendered them by Mrs. Glenn An- one of those programs that comes on just about the time the birds derson and Mrs. Henry Forcier.

The expenditure of effort and devotion which these two women found in themselves the power to give, is beyond the comprehension of the average person who salves his conscience periodically with a gesture of love or service towards his fellow men. Theirs is a record of 10 years of unmitigated outpouring of everything in their possession to make life a little easier for those who gave so much. The movements they fostered have brought happiness, comfort, solace, to countless thousands of servicemen and their families.

Many are the honors which have been heaped on these two Pointe women, ranging from recognition of their work by two Presidents, to decorations presented by every organization whose members have been blessed with their attention. We wager that all the awards they have received are as dross compared to the thinnest smile of appreciation granted by an amputee whose life they have touched with their gift of imparting light in the midst of pressing darkness. They would tell you they have been paid a thousand-fold for all they have given, not in honors nor decorations nor spoken words, but in the looks that have come from the eyes of men who thought they were doomed to eternal desolation.

May the works of these two women inspire us to keep ever fresh in our memory the new thousands who are now being returned to these same hospitals from the Korean battlefields. We are told they are missing many of the special attentions which were provided the wounded of World War II. There were not enough Mrs. Andersons and Mrs. Forciers. They have never relinquished their efforts nor let down the standards of their services. Too many of us forget when the hysteria of World War II was lulled into apathy when the guns ceased firing. For hundreds of thousands the war will never end and the comfort will never come without our personal attention.

We have been informed there has been a very sad letdown in the care afforded by the Veterans Administration. Not medical care, but the little attentions and special privileges which mean so much to a wounded man who wants to know that he is being thought of and that his contribution was appreciated. Economies have been effected which have cut out many of these things, it is reported. The kids from Korea are said to be coming home to a pretty discouraging tour of convalescence or permanent disability.

The cries of the Mrs. Andersons and Mrs. Forciers will be raised against any such callous cuts in the name of economy. They deserve the right to expect we shall join in the chorus of protest and that we shall rejuvenate the movements which gave the war wounded everything which a great country can give, both material and spiritual.

والمتسبية مرشقا والا

The strangest things happen in this topsy-turvy world of today. Last week, ferinstance, our best beau received a postal card from a downtown shop . . . offering him a new style permanent wave for FREE. As clear as crystal, printed on the address side of the card was MR. Sonandso. On the hinter side was a picture of a woman's head (freshly curled), with the advisement that the same thing "can be done for you at no cost whatever." We are happy to say that our beau declined the offer. The following day, WE received a card from a downtown men's store . . . asking us to make it a point to stop in to see their new two-pants suits. P.S. We also declined. * * *

There is a hill-billy act on one of the local radio stations . . start to cheep. One boy plays what sounds like a GIT-tar; one plays a harmonica and the other makes with hill-billy jokes (?). Yesterday morning, they rendered with a thing called, "I'm biting my nails over you." We didn't believe it EITHER . . . but that's what the song is called and what's more, its' a serious ballad! The idea is that the guy thinks the doll is going to give him the heave-ho and IF she is, he wants to know about it right now. But she don't tell him nothin' . . . so he sits (stands or lies down) . . . "biting his nails over you." How silly can you get on the radio? Or is it that no one expects any sane person to be listening to the radio at that hour . . . except maybe cows???

You could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the extra room, riding comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge

TAKE THE WORD of owners who know Dodge value and dependability from actual experience. "No major repairs in four years' driving" "After driving another make less than a year, I'm back with Dodge again" . : . "Driven my Dodge 150,000 miles and it's still going strong." These are not unusual comments we receive from Dodge owners coast-to-coast. Dodge dependability starts with a heavy, rugged frame, a "Get-Away" engine "speed-proofed" to resist wear, designed to be a miser on gas. There's a safe, rigid, all-steel body, rubbermounted to eliminate rattle, squeak.

We proudly invite you to the new salesroom of the Whyte Oldsmobile Company. Designed and executed for your comfort and convenience, here you will find every courtesy and attention accorded you. In the pleasant, hospitable atmosphere of a club lounge you may leisurely inspect the '51 Oldsmobiles shown in wide variety of body style and color. Here, indeed, is a jewel case of a showroom worthy of that gem of a car, the '51 Oldsmobile.

Here we introduce you to our Control Tower, an important factor in the synchronous flow of our service. Twelve major service phases appear on its board with red, green and amber lights opposite each. Depending on the color of light showing, we are in the immediate position to tell you whether we can take your car at once, that there may be a slight delay, or that we are overloaded. Just one more feature to assure you of Oldsmobile Service at its best.

Just one of three floors of Whyte Oldsmobile Service is shown here. Note the immaculate condition of our shop and bear in mind that over 30,000 square feet of space eliminates service congestion. This means that at Whyte Oldsmobile your car is always ready when promised without the usual irritating delay. Promptness and thoroughness of service, long our aim, are now an actuality. Nowhere else will your car receive better care.

And now a view of an important corner in our Service Department. Here your car goes through its examination and diagnosis to reveal any ailment that may later develop into serious, expensive trouble. Manned by trained experts, each of the precision analyzers here shown (wheel aligner, wheel balancer, ignition, distributor and compression testers) eliminates any hazard of human error, keeping your Oldsmobile at peak economic performance.

GROSSE' POINTE NEWS

te esti di seconda di provi i of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores be amended to read as follows:

Service Retirement Allowance

Section 13. Upon retirement from service, as provided in Section 12 hereof, a member shall receive a service retirement allowance (called a regular retirement allowance), subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this Section, which shall consist of:

(a) Annuity . An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions standing to his credit in the Annuity Savings Fund at the time of his retirement; and

(b) Basic Pension. A basic pension of one hundred dollars per annum; and

(c) Membership Service Pension. A membership service pension of one-one hundred thirty-fifth (1/135) of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years (and fraction thereof) of membership service credited to his service account; and

(d) Prior Service Pension. A prior service pension of two-one hundred thirty-fifths (2/135) of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years (and fraction thereof) of prior service credited to his service account not to exceed thirty years.

(e) Limitations. To be eligible to receive the pension portions provided by the Village in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this Section, a member without prior service credit must have at least ten years of service credited to his service account. In no case shall the pension portions provided by the Village in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this Section exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum, or if a member has twenty or more years of prior service credit, be less than twelve hundred dollars per annum.

And amend section 25 of Chapter XI to read as follows:

Section 25. Disability Provisions.

(a) Duty Disability Incurred. Upon application of a member, or his department head, a member in the service of the Village who becomes totally incapacitated for duty as the natural and proximate result of the actual performance of duty as an employee of the Village, without wilful negligence on his part, shall be retired by the Commission; provided, the Medical Director for the Commission after a medical examination of such member shall certify (1) that such member is mentally or physically totally incapacitated for the further performance of duty in the service of the Village, and (2) that such member should be retired; provided further, that the Commission concurs in the report of the Medical Director.

(b) Duty Disability Benefits-Retirement After Optional Retirement Age. Upon retirement for disability as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, a disability beneficiary who has attained his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12 shall receive a service retirement allowance computed according to the provisions of section 13 of this Chapter.

(c) Duty Disability Benefits-Retirement Before Optional Retirement Age. Upon retirement for disability, as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, a disability beneficiary who has not attained his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12, shall receive a disability retirement pension equal to one-half his average final compensation; said disability retirement pension to continue from the date of his disability or the date his name last appeared on a Village Payroll, whichever is the later date, to his said optional retirement age; provided, that such disability subject to the provisions of paragraphs (j) and (k) of this section.

(i) Non-duty Disability Pension Upon Attaining Optional Retirmement Age. Upon attaining his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12, said disability beneficiary shall receive a pension provided for in section 13, paragraphs (b), (c), (d) and (e), in lieu of the pension provided for in paragraph (h) of this section.

(j) Pensions Offset by Compensation Benefits. Any amount which may be paid or payable under the provisions of any workmen's compensation, or pension, or similar law, including any pensions allowed and payable by the Federal or State Governments on account of service performed in the armed forces of the United States or State to a member, or beneficiary, on account of any disability; shall be offset against any payable in lieu of any benefits payable out of fund provided by the Village under the provisions of this Amendment on account of the same disability. In case the present value of the total benefits payable under the said workmen's compensation, pension, or similar law, or the said Federal or State pension, is less than the pension reserve covering the benefits otherwise payable from the funds provided by the Village under the provisions of this; Amendment, then the present value of the benefits so payable shall be deducted from the pension reserve and such benefits as may be provided by the pension reserve so reduced shall be payable under the provisions of this Retirement System.

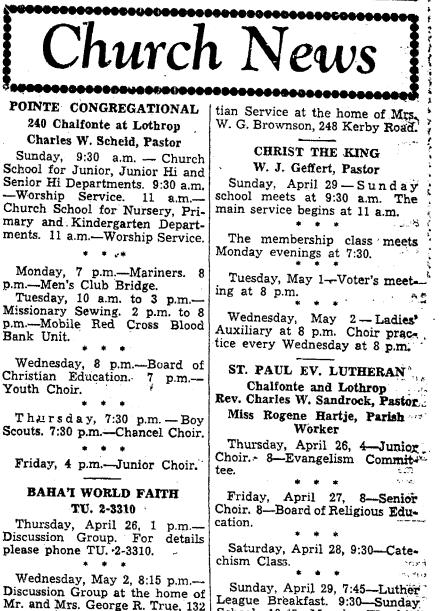

(k) Re-examination of Disability Beneficiaries. Once each year during the first five years following retirement of a member with disability retirement pension or allowance, and at least once in every three year period thereafter, the Commission may, and upon the bene-, ficiary's applications shall, require any disability beneficiary who has not attained his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12 to undergo a medical examination by or under the direction of the Medical Director of the Commission at the residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon. Should any disability beneficiary, who has not attained his said optional retirement age refuse to submit to such medical examination in any such period his disability retirement pension or allowance may be discontinued by the Commission, and should such refusal continue for one year, all his rights in and to his disability retirement pension or allowance shall be revoked by the Commission. If upon such medical examination of a beneficiary, the Medical Director reports that such beneficiary is physically able and capable of resuming employment with the Village, and his report is concurred in by the Commission, then such beneficiary shall be restored to active service with the Village and his disability pension or allowance shall be discontinued. A disability beneficiary who has been or shall be restored to active service with the Village, as herein provided, shall from the date of such restoration again become a member of the Retirement System and he shall contribute to the Retirement System thereafter in the same manner as he paid prior to his disability retirement. Any prior service and membership service credit to him at the time of his disability retirement shall be restored to full force and effect. He shall be given membership service credit for the period he was receiving a disability retirement pension provided for in paragraph (c) of this section; he shall not be given service credit for the period he was receiving a disability retirement pension provided for in paragraph (h) of this section. Should the Secretary report and certify to the Commission that such disability beneficiary is engaged in a gainful occupation, business or employment, and that the total of his pay or earnings from such occupation, business, or employment ,and his disability retirement pension or allowance, provided for herein, exceeds his annual compensation at the time of his retirement and should the Commision concur in the Secretary's report, then the amount of his disability pension shall be reduced to an amount which together with his annuity, if any, and the amount earned by him shall equal the amount of his said annual compensation at the time of his retirement. Should his earnings be later changed, his disability pension shall be correspondingly changed.

effective date of the said member's retirement, the said member may either finally revoke his previous election or substitute another joint beneficiary at any time prior to the effective date of his retirement. If any member who shall have made an election and nominated a joint beneficiary as provided in this paragraph, dies before the effective date of his retirement, then such joint beneficiary shall immediately receive the same retirement allowance as the said joint beneficiary would have been entitled to receive under the option elected if the said member had been retired, the day preceding the date____ of his death, pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter. If any member who shall have made an election of an option as provided in this paragraph, subsequently retires pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter, his said election shall then take effect in the same manner in all a respects as if said election had been made pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this Section at the time of his retirement.

You are further notified that qualified electors who have not registered with the Village may complete their registration on every secular day from 8:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. (Saturdays until 12:00 noon) to and including Saturday, May 12, 1951, which is the last day registrations may be taken for the foregoing election.

For the convenience of electors registrations will be taken on Saturday, May 12, 1951 until 8:00 P.M.

retirement pension (1) shall not exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and (2) shall be subject to the provisions of paragraphs (j) and (k) of this section.

(d) Duty Disability Benefits upon Attaining Option-al Retirement Age. Upon attaining his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12, said disability beneficiary who has ten or more years of service credit to his service account shall receive a pension provided for in section 13, paragraphs (b), (c), (d) and (e) of this Amendment; provided, that in computing the amount of such pension, membership service-credit shall be given such disability beneficiary for the period he was receiving a disability pension. In addition to his pension such disability beneficiary, upon attaining his said optional retirement age, shall receive an annuity equivalent to the annuity he would have received had he continued his contributions to the Annuity Savings Fund, said contributions to be based upon his annual compensation earned at the time of his disability retirement.

(e) Member's Contributions Suspended. During the period the disability beneficiary is receiving a disability retirement pension provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, his contributions to the Annuity Savings Fund shall be suspended and his balance standing to his credit in the Annuity Savings Fund, at the time of his retirement, shall remain in the said Fund and shall be accumulated at regular interest. If such disability beneficiary should die before attaining his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12, the amount of his accumulated contributions standing to his credit in the Annuity Savings Fund, at the time of his death, shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of section 16 of this Amendment.

(f) Non-duty Disability Incurred. Upon application of a member, or his department head, a member who (1) is in the service of the Village, and (2) has ten or more years of service credit to his service account, becomes totally and permanently incapacitated for duty to the Village as the result of causes occurring not in the actual performance of duty to the Village, may be retired by the Commission; provided, the Medical Director for the Commission, after a medical examination of such member shall certify (1) that such member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of duty to the village, and (2) that such incapacity is likely to be permanent, and (3) that such member should be retired.

(g) Non-duty Disability Benefits-Retirement After Optional Retirement Age. Upon retirement for disability, as provided in paragraph (f) of this section a disability beneficiary who has attained his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12 shall receive a service retirement allowance provided for in section 13 of this Amendment.

(h) Non-duty Disability Benefits-Retirement Before Optional Retirement Age. Upon retirement for disability as provided in paragraph (f) of this section a disability beneficiary who has not attained his optional retirement age as defined in paragraph (a) of section 12 shall receive a disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:

1. Cash Refund Annuity. A cash refund annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions standing to his credit in the Annuity Savings Fund at the time of his retirement; and

2. Disability Retirement Pension. A disability retirement pension equal to one-one hundred thirty fifth (1/135) of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years service credit to his service account, together with a basic pension of one hundred dollars per annum; provided, that such disability pension together with the basic pension, (1) shall not exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and (2) shall be

B. That Section 14 of Chapter XI be amended to read as follows:

Optional Retirement Allowances

Section 14. (a) Any member who has attained or attains his optional retirement age, as provided for in Section 12 (a); and has ten or more years of service credited to his service account, may, at any time prior to the effective date of his retirement, but not thereafter, elect to receive his regular retirement allowance, provided for in Section 13, payable throughout his life, or he may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent, at that time, of his regular retirement allowance in a reduced retirement allowance, payable throughout his life, in accordance with the provisions of op ion I, II, or III, as hereinafter set forth:

Option I. Cash Refund Annuity. If a beneficiary, who was a member, dies before he has received in pavment of the annuity portions of his reduced retire the allowance an aggregate amount equal to his accurlated contributions credited to him in the Annuity Savings Fund at the time of his retirement, the mainde shall be paid to such person or persons as he nominated by written designation duly en and and filed with the Commission. If there be no such designated person or persons surviving the said beneficiary, then such remainder, if any, shall be paid to his legal representative; or

Option II. Joint and Last Survivorship Allowance. Upon the death of a beneficiary, who was a member, his reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person as he shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the Commission prior to the effective date of his retirement: or Option III. Modified Joint and Last Survivorship Allowance. Upon the death of a beneficiary, who was a member, one-half of his reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person as he shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the Commission prior to the effective date of his retirement.

(b) Option Effective Prior to Betirement. Any member who continues in the employ of the Village on and after the date he becomes eligible to retire with a service retirement allowance may, at any time within a period of six months immediately following the said date he becomes eligible to retire, or prior to January 1, 1952. whichever is later, by written declaration duly executed and filed with the Commission, in the manner and form prescribed by the Commission, make any election provided for in paragraph (a) of this Section with regard to his service retirement allowance provided for in Section 13 of this Chapter in the same manner as if he were then retiring from service. Any election so made may be revoked by the said member prior to the effective date of his retirement only upon the death of, or divorce from, the person nominated by him as joint beneficiary pursuant to the provisions of option II or III of paragraph (a) of this Section. In the case of the death of, or divorce from, the said joint beneficiary prior to the

Look-alikes: SIR CEDRIC HARDWICK and GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR and maybe it wasn't confusing to watch "Nicholas Nickleby" the other night . . feeling a-l-l the while the General was playing the part of Sir Cedric (Uncle Ralph, you know)!... Mrs. Douglas MacArthur ... and Bea Lilly ...

These being our profound remarks about the international crisis, we can get on . . .

Don't believe we ever have seen more excitement around the GROSSE POINTE NEWS office than developed the afternoon we all took a long and admiring look at the color photo LIEUT. TOM TYREE, stationed in the American zone in Germany, sent along with the marvelous collection he took for his parents, MR. and MRS. HAROLD B. TYREE . . .

Our society department confirms this department's belief that in the world all is getting more confused daily . . (something like zis sentence) . .

They tell us one mama talked to them about the length of the bride's "Trail" on the wedding gown . . .

And then, taking the next wedding story, they asked politely where the bride and bridegroom would go on "their wedding bouquet" . . .

Everyone understood and paid not the slightest bit of attention . . .

Best looking hat we've seen this Spring . . . is worn by MRS. WENDELL W. ANDERSON . . . small and made entirely of white violets . . . two narrow chartreuse velvet ribbons drop to shoulder length in back . . . and hold a nosegay of the same lovely violets . . .

ROBERT SHAPLEN, writing for New Yorkers and reporting on Manila, says the American mark there is everywhere and it is indelible.

"The competition between merchants is American in its fierceness, and even American merchandising ruses have been copied, if not fully mastered. Some time ago, a retailer of women's dresses, having succumbed to the American weakness for names with a foreign flavor, opened a shop called 'Tres Chic'; last month a rival opened one called 'Quatro Chic'."

And MARY ROBERTS RINEHART, in her autobiography, "This Is My Story," says she and her family can laugh, even in this unhappy world.
