Top Man of the Dock

Park Fire Truck Rams Into Tree

Fails to Make Turn at Jefferson and Kensington While Answering Alarm

One of Grosse Pointe Park's fire trucks was badly damaged Sunday afternoon during a run to answer an alarm from 1029 Kensington. James Sullivan of 915 Beaconsfield, thrown from the truck, was x-rayed at Bon Secours Hospital but returned to duty later the same afternoon.

Misses Turn
Joseph Kolley was driving the 1950 American LaFrance pumper truck when it answered a call to a roof fire at the home of Elmer L. Cousino. He failed to make the left turn from Jefferson into Kensington and crashed into a tree. The entire right side of the truck was damaged.

Property Owners Open New Office; Select Secretary

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners' Association has opened a new office at 16840 Kercheval where property owners are invited to consult Lewis L. Smart, Jr., newly appointed executive secretary of the association. Mr. Smart stated that the association is anxious to assist Pointe property owners with any problems that may confront them as property owners. The association is also eager to cooperate with all existing property owners' associations. Mr. Smart added. Preservation of the present character of the Pointe is the aim of the association, which will strive to prevent any undesirable developments. The association, which plans

Obsolete Honor Roll Shrine Consigned to Oblivion By Memorial Center Directors

Much-moved Structure Now Located on Lakefront Will Be Torn Down; Carried First Lists Of World War II Servicemen

The directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association decided Monday night that the original temporary shrine of the Honor Roll Association will be dismantled.

The shrine, modeled after a Christopher Wren summer house, was first erected on the High School campus. Its panels contained more than 3,000 plastic name plates of all the Pointe men and women in the armed services during World War II.

Moved to Kercheval
When it was expected that the Pointe's permanent war memorial would be a new library, the shrine was moved to the proposed site at the corner of Kercheval and Fisher and a portion of the High School fence was moved to allow space for landscaping. When the library idea had to be abandoned and the present Center property in Lake Shore road was donated by the Alger family, the shrine was again moved and set up on the lakefront there. The first Memorial Day exercises at the Center were held around the shrine two years ago last May 30.

Becomes Obsolete
With the erection of the permanent bronze tablets in the entrance hall of the Center building, the temporary shrine became obsolete. Various suggestions have been made as to its disposition. It was at first thought it might be appropriate to use it as a summer house on the Center property. It has been found that it costs the association about $100 a year to keep it painted and in repair. There was also some talk of selling it to one of the municipal parks to be used as a concession stand, but this was deemed an inappropriate fate for something that had once been a shrine.

Mr. Sheldon Declines
Some of the directors suggested that Alger Sheldon, one of the founders of the Honor Roll Association and president since its inception of the War Memorial Association, might move it to his own grounds in Provencal road, for use as a summer house. Mr. Sheldon declined this offer.

The shrine's fate was sealed by the action of the directors at their meeting in the Center Monday. It will be torn down and, if possible, the material will be sold, the proceeds to go into the Center treasury.

Television Thieves Elude Woods Police

Two Sets Found Outside Door of Store Apparently Abandoned As Burglars Fled

Woods police came within seconds of apprehending the thief or thieves who attempted to steal two television sets from Television Engineering Associates at 210227 Mack on Friday, July 13.

Police were alerted by Herman Miller, proprietor of Shorty's Bakery, who saw a man in the television shop, which is located next to the bakery.

The scout car which just a few minutes before had checked the television shop, was in the vicinity when the call was received.

Two television sets were on the ground outside the rear door when police arrived. A crow bar had been used to cut the screen in the rear screen door. Having unlocked the screen, entry was gained by forcing the rear door. Store owners found nothing else disturbed after a thorough check of the store.

Find Crow Bar
A crow bar was found outside the rear door and a pair of gloves were found on Hampton 40 feet west of the alley. The business is located between Roslyn and Hampton.

Police had the television sets checked for fingerprints, but none was obtainable. Apparently gloves were used.

Police suggested that the thief or thieves may have watched the scout car check the establishment from a nearby field. After the departure of the scout car, the burglar went to work, it is surmised.

Recognize Technique
Woods police ventured that this breaking and entering was engineered by the same group that has broken into several nearby offices in the past two months. The method of operation is similar to that used in the other burglaries, police said. Bounding Detroit communities have also been troubled with these robberies.

No Homes Entered
Police Chief Walter Goulette of the Woods, said that an attempt was made last month to enter the House of Television on Mack. Chief Goulette in discussing the recent burglaries stated that there has not been a house entry in a year.

Impostor Cuts In on Newsboy

A boy about 15 years old approached a Neff road resident on July 13, stating that he was collecting for the regular newsboy.

The resident paid him the usual sum for the week's delivery of the paper and dismissed the incident.

The following morning the regular paper boy came to collect. It developed that he had sent no one to collect for him. The resident notified City police and gave them a description of the impostor, who has a speech impediment.

Woods Battling Pesky Mosquitos

In an effort to reduce mosquitos, the City of Grosse Pointe Woods is spraying with DDT. Lindane, an adhesive substance, is combined with the DDT.

The spray leaves a harmless residue on cars parked in the area, which will not harm the finish and can be easily washed off, City Administrator Philip F. Allard stated.

This is the second general spraying this year. The Woods' municipal parks and the Milk River are being sprayed for the third time this season, Mr. Allard said.

APPLE THROWERS WARNED
Two young men aged 12 and 13 respectively, were reprimanded by Farms police for throwing apples. Both boys are residents of Moross road. Police responded to a call directing them to Country Club lane and Lakeview on July 11.

Lake Tragedy Leads Writer to Deplore Lack of Controls

Two Killed As Mystery Ship Rams Outboard Off Windmill Pointe; Sole Survivor Picked Up By Pointer's Cruiser

The "Mystery ship" that ran down a little fourteen foot outboard motorboat last Sunday night, July 15, drowning one and fatally injuring another of the three occupants, appears to be the first hit and run case in local waters on record.

By FRED RANNELLS
Detroit police and Coast Guardsmen are searching all the local harbors for a 40-foot sailboat with a damaged bow. Unlike an automobile hit-run case where police can pick up clues such as broken glass and hood ornaments, etc., a marine accident cannot be reconstructed and authorities can only take the eye witness account of those persons involved.

Single Survivor
The only survivor was Anthony Klinicki, owner of the small boat. He told the grim tale of what occurred in the pitch black of the Detroit River near Windmill Pointe where he and his companions, Thomas Loftus, 53, of 12547 Evanston, and Hector Cornet, 53, of 12744 Camden, were going to fish.

Cornet was drowned and Loftus died of internal injuries 20 minutes later on the Detroit River Racing Association's dock after he was pulled from the water by Raymond Nutty.

Police theorized Loftus was injured internally when the "Mystery Ship" smashed in the left bow of the outboard runabout, and then suffered a six-inch cut on his back when struck by the

Fractures Back At Woods Pool

A dive from the high board at the Woods lakefront park on Sunday resulted in a broken back for Jack Weber, 17, of 14111 Alma, Detroit.

He dove on top of James Manus, 19, of 19836 E. Ida lane, who was swimming directly beneath.

Woods police took Jack to Saratoga General Hospital in an ambulance. James drove to the hospital in his own car.

Both youths were x-rayed. Jack has a fractured spine. James was treated for bruises.

Jack was released from the hospital on Tuesday and allowed to be removed to his home. His condition was described as good.

Missing Furnace Mystery Chiller

Confusion reigns as to who had the furnace removed from the old building recently occupied by St. Michael's Church at Fairway and N. Renaud.

A parishioner reported the absence of the furnace to Woods police on July 11. The building was sold recently to a Pointe resident, but police state that the furnace was not included in the sale agreement.

Three versions on the removal have been given by three witnesses. The truck used to haul away the furnace has been alternately reported as royal blue, red and green.

Bask in Hollywood Glamor On Station Wagon Cavalcade

Hollywood never ceases to provide exciting experiences for the Grosse Pointe young people who travel West each summer in Chet Sampson's Station Wagon caravan.

Latest word from the group of 51 indicates that July 2-4 was no exception, as their diary shows. After three days at the Pacific beaches and across the border in Mexico, they arrived in Hollywood on Sunday night, July 1, and slept that night in their usual manner, in sleeping bags, in one of Hollywood's parks.

The next morning they checked into the Hollywood Drake Hotel and there a transformation took place. Donning clothes sent ahead from home, they changed from their jeans and shorts into well-groomed young ladies. Their fun began right after

Goal Passed With Returns Incomplete

$19,231.05 Donated by 1836 Families; Many Canvassers Still to Report

The War Memorial Center's campaign for funds has gone over the top, with reports still incomplete, it was revealed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association Monday night. With a goal of $18,000 set for the drive, the workers have turned in $19,231.05 and many canvassers are still to be heard from.

Farms Does Best
A total of 1836 gifts has been received so far. The Farms did more than twice as well as any of the other four Pointes. In that city 638 families donated $9,333.40 to the campaign. The City of Grosse Pointe had the second highest totals, 347 families giving $4,192.

In the Park 275 families gave $3,431. The Shores, by far the smallest of the five Pointes, turned in $1,138 from 84 families. In the Woods 272 families contributed $1,135.95.

Two Fold Goal
This year's campaign had a two-fold goal. It was necessary that $18,000 be raised to carry on the present program being offered at the Center and to do necessary repairs to the building. Any additional money raised will be used to either add to the program of activities or purchase additional furnishings or equipment for the building and the grounds.

The secondary purpose of the drive was to determine just how many residents of the Pointe were willing to make annual contributions towards the maintenance and operation of the Center.

Officials Pleased
The officers and directors of the Memorial Association have expressed their gratification that nearly 2,000 of the community's more than 10,000 families have signed up as regular annual supporters of the Center. They believe the number of regular contributors will increase each year, allowing the development of the beautiful property in Lake Shore road to be continued annually.

The development of the Center to its present status was made possible by donations received in the first war memorial drive. A comparatively small number of families donated to this, but some of the gifts were very substantial.

Raised Over $200,000
The more than $200,000 raised allowed the association to put the Center property back in condition, make a number of needed alterations, buy equipment and restore the gardens. Many donations of furniture and works of art helped immeasurably.

There was enough money left over to establish an endowment fund of about $120,000. However, interest and dividends from these investments do not produce nearly enough to maintain and operate the Center.

Help Meet Deficit
To help make up the deficit a group of about 20 families agreed to make annual donations of $500 each for a limited number of years, to help meet expenses. The annual drives, the first of which is just being completed, are necessary to raise the balance of the money to keep the Center going and provide for expansion of activities and facilities.

Hope for Annual Growth
It is the hope of the association officials that each year will see a larger number of contributors of nominal funds, so that costs of the Center will be shared by the entire community and its operation will not be dependent on the large gifts of a few.

All committee chairmen have been contacted to get in their budget figures for the fiscal year which starts on August 1. The annual budget meeting will not be held until September 18.

Herbert H. Micou, chairman of the building and repairs committee, has been asked to make a report as soon as possible on just what repairs are needed, together with estimates.

PICK WRONG TARGET
The use of his home by small neighborhood boys for target practice displeased a Kensington road resident. Park police put a halt to the activity. The boys had been throwing stones at the house from a vacant field.

Lake Tragedy Points Need for Controls

Saved By Pointer
Klinicki was saved by the occupants of the 47-foot cabin cruiser owned by Clair Hiles of 251 Merriweather road, Grosse Pointe. Klinicki said the boat that ran him down was a greenish colored boat that seemed to come from nowhere and that it seemed to him the sailboat was going about 40 miles per hour.

When the News went to press, the Hiles boat had been impounded and was to be minutely examined, although those on board said the first they knew of the accident was when they heard cries for help.

Greater Mystery
The only "mystery" to your reporter is the fact it is a mystery that something like this hasn't happened before this. For years I have written articles, the latest appearing in the NEWS of June 21, about the reckless way power boat pilots operate their ships on the congested Detroit River. I urged the Detroit City Council and the state officials to force powerboat operators to learn the "Rules of the Road" and issue drivers' licenses only after the operators had successfully passed a rigid test and proven they know how to handle their crafts. Also I figured that ALL boat owners be forced to carry liability insurance BEFORE they have their first accident.

Keep Him on Land
There is absolutely no way that either city or state officials can control recklessness once the boat owner gets away from the dock. BUT they can keep him from leaving the dock.

Too many times I have personally seen an owner turning the wheel of his ship over to an incompetent guest once they are out in the river or lake, and walk away to another part of the ship to leave the novice in complete charge of the boat. This sort of practice MUST BE STOPPED and stopped before another collision occurs on our waters.

Both Are Alike
I realize in my last article I referred to only power boat operators but according to the "Rules of the Road" a sailboat under power with sail furled is just that and must abide by the rules governing powerboats.

There is only one point I must dispute in Klinicki's story and that is that the "Mystery Ship" appeared to be going 40 miles per hour.

There is not a single sailboat in this locality, and I doubt anywhere in the world, that can attain anywhere near 40 miles per hour under power.

The fastest sailboat in these waters under power is Wendell Anderson's "Escapade" and the best she can do is about 15 miles per hour. Hull speeds won't permit a sailboat to go any faster.

Sailboat in Wrong
It is true the sailboat was in the wrong, according to Klinicki's story, as it had the powerboat on its right side and was obligated to stay clear until the risk of collision had disappeared.

It is high time our city and state officials enacted some rigid laws and fast.

Federal officials quite likely will probe the accidental drowning of two persons who were pitched off a 27-foot cruiser in the St. Clair River last Sunday, July 15. According to reports there were 17 persons aboard and only FIVE life preservers. The rule states "one life preserver for every person aboard."

Raymond Novak, 30, was at the wheel of the ship owned by his mother, who has a cottage in New Baltimore, from where the excursion started.

Off for European Vacation

Fire Truck

Fire Not Serious
Lieut. John Burgess radioed the City Fire Department, which sent out its pumper. However, the fire was not serious and was quickly extinguished by the Park ladder truck which continued on to the Cousino home.

The damaged truck was towed to the Motor Service Company to have the frame straightened. Chief Edward Rector said the rest of the repair work would be done in the Park garage.

City Conducting Drive on Rats

The City of Grosse Pointe is conducting an active rat control program. Four different substances are used and the two latest methods are corn meal compounds.

The City is responding to all complaints. Discretion is employed in the substance used based on whether humans or animals will come in contact with the poisoning agent.

Shuns Stop Sign; Causes Collision

Failure of a motorist to observe a stop street resulted in his collision with another automobile at St. Paul and Lakeland on July 11.

Eugene R. Mead, of 345 Southfield, Ecorse, driving north on Lakeland, failed to stop for St. Paul and collided with a car being driven west on St. Paul by Dr. Henry H. Sadler, of 502 Lincoln.

There was no personal injury. Damage to the vehicles was slight.

Police issued Mr. Meade a ticket for stop law violation causing an accident.

Park Fire Commissioner Elmer Ulrich, who has resigned because he is moving to California, was tendered a farewell dinner by the department in the Park fire headquarters on Monday night. Chief Edward Rector was the master of ceremonies.

All members of the department were on hand to honor the popular commissioner. Also included were Mr. Ulrich's father, F. C. Ulrich of Detroit, City Manager Everitt Lane and State Fire Marshal Arnold Renner of East Lansing.

Mr. Ulrich left for the coast Wednesday. He was accompanied by Chief Rector, who is taking a vacation.

Mr. Ulrich will operate an automobile agency in Los Angeles.

For dinner that evening the girls took over the exclusive use of the hotel dining room and gave a big party for two of the Fox stars, Jean Peters and Mitzi Gaynor. Following the dinner the group provided its own entertainment until late in the evening, with both the girls and their guests taking part in the fun.

On Wednesday, they again attended the "Double or Nothing" show and managed to place one of the girls, Carol Fredericks, on the show. The broadcast will be heard on July 26 in Detroit.

After lunch, the girls were invited back to Bob Stack's for swimming and tennis and found themselves involved in a garden party being held by Bob for many of his friends.

In the evening the group witnessed the Gracie Allen and George Burns television show.

Several Pointe girls also managed to visit other studios and watched such stars as Farley Granger, Dana Andrews, Clark Gable, Gene Kelly, Debbie Reynolds, Dorothy Maguire, and many others at work.

Dancing to the music of Jimmy Dorsey at the Palladium also helped fill in the evenings.

From Hollywood the group left for Yosemite National Park, San Francisco, Lake Tahoe, and Reno. On July 11 they were guests of Bing Crosby and his four boys at the Crosby ranch in northern Nevada.

Before reaching home on July 23, they will also visit Yellowstone, the Tetons, and the Black Hills region.

328,000 MORE CARS
Because there are 328,000 more cars on Detroit and Wayne County streets and highways than there were five years ago, pedestrians were warned by the Traffic Safety Association this week to expect a car every time they step into the street.

Explain Statute To New Resident

A Notre Dame resident complained to City police on July 6 of disagreeable odors emanating from the new house of a Loraine resident who persisted in burning his incinerator in the late evening.

Det. Sgt. James Flannigan notified the family of the City ordinance which provides that rubbish can be burned in incinerators only between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Informed of the City statute, the resident expressed his willingness to comply. The Notre Dame resident can now settle down for the evening on his porch or in his yard with assurance that the night air will remain unpoluted.

Police Seeking Screaming Woman Foil Thief at Work

Park police responding to a report early Monday of a woman screaming at the rear of the Aloma Theater, located at Charlevoix and Wayburn, found one, but did thwart a safe burglary at the theater.

Park police are holding George Papskan, of 81 Parsons for investigation of robbery armed and kidnapping.

Patrolmen Donald Dean and Marcel Vervacke came upon Papskan in the alley at the rear of the theater. Papskan told police that some one had just stolen his car and pointed up the alley.

While Patrolman Vervacke drove away to search the area, Papskan thrust a gun in Dean's side and disarmed him. Papskan led Patrolman Dean to a cab station across Charlevoix ordering him to enter the cab. Patrolman Dean swung, striking the suspect with a flashlight.

The suspect then forced the cab driver to drive him away. Meanwhile an alarm was given by Patrolman Dean, which resulted in the suspect's capture after escaping from the cab and driving away in a Detroit scout car. He was finally blocked by a freight train.

Park police found a complete set of safe cracking tools in the alley behind the theater. The theater had been entered and the combination of the safe broken. Nothing was taken.

Seven suspects have been arrested in the course of the investigation. Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers stated.

Meanwhile, Park police have located the woman whose screams inadvertently alerted police to the scene of the attempted robbery. She is a resident of Maryland avenue, whose screams were caused by a nightmare.

Vacation Church School Pupils Visit Temple Israel

On Friday, July 13, the children of several denominations attending Grosse Pointe Congregational Vacation Church School boarded a bus to visit "Temple Israel." The theme of the Vacation Church School is "The Church." Mrs. Alton Huntington, director of the school stated, "We chose to visit 'Temple Israel' because we feel children should see and learn about other 'Houses of Worship.'"

Burglars Visit Realty Office

The Russell L. Parker Realty office at 18580 Mack was broken into on July 12.

A television set and a noiseless typewriter were taken. The television set is valued at $299.50.

Entry was gained by forcing the rear door. Nothing was disturbed in the office.

The American flag flew over Detroit and Michigan for the first time July 11, 1796.

She will sing the soprano solo, "Voice of the Wilderness" on the evenings of July 13, 15, 17, 19, 21 and 23. "City of Freedom" is fast-moving entertainment, telling the story of Detroit's 250 years. Twenty original songs and dances, gorgeous costumes and unusual lighting effects make the 2 1/2-hour show a thrill for young and old.

The lively story action takes place on five giant stages, the highest being 40 feet above the ground. Background scenery representing a hillside and clouds in the sky carry out the effect of a natural outdoor theater.

Nearly 200,000 Detroiters and 250th birthday festival visitors are expected to see the spectacle, which played to capacity crowds last weekend.

WATROUS COOKING SUITS TO A TEE

Watrous has the range - it's ELECTRIC!

"I wouldn't take anything in the world for my electric range," says charming Mrs. Al Watrous. "Many of my friends feel the same way about theirs, too."

"And can she cook with it!" adds Al. "Everything tastes better and she spends about half as much time in the kitchen."

"That's because I'm not forever pot-watching," explains Mrs. Watrous. "Electric cooking gives you a chance to relax. You just set the controls and after awhile, there's your meal... piping hot and cooked to perfection. And electric cooking is so much cleaner, too... but, honestly, there's just no end to the advantages of an electric range!"

You'll echo the words of this attractive housewife and her famous husband the moment you try this modern, efficient way of cooking. So don't delay. Visit your dealer and select your electric range—tomorrow!

"City of Freedom" Provides Outstanding History Lesson

"City of Freedom," Detroit's elaborate 250th birthday festival extravaganza, opened Friday night, July 13, at the University of Detroit Stadium, Six Mile road at Livernois.

Nearly 200,000 persons are expected to witness the colorful musical spectacle during its 11-night run.

While presenting the story of Detroit in song, dance and dialogue, "City of Freedom" provides the fastest-moving, most entertaining "history lesson" ever written. The $125,000 outdoor production is featuring original songs, unusual scenic and lighting effects, colorful costumes, and a cast of 1,200.

Five separate stages have been built over the stadium's south end-zone bleachers to accommodate the huge cast of singers, dancers and actors. The entire action is very easily visible from every seat in the stadium, for all stages slope forward nearly 10 degrees.

The principal stage is 60 feet wide and 30 feet deep, and the highest of the five stages is 40 feet above the ground. Two hundred footlights and 50 floodlights provide the multi-colored illumination. All scene changes are made by "blacking out" one stage while floodlights are focused on the action of the other stages.

Advance sale of tickets for the gigantic spectacle have nearly sold out several of the show's 11 nights, assistant director A. Russel Werneken stated. Many of Detroit's factories and large business firms are holding special employee nights.

The famed Don Large Chorus, Detroit Symphony orchestra members, Broadway dancer Jack Gansert, vocalists Joan Lee, Henry Kendall, Bette Adams, Wanzie Davis, Charles Woods, Colbert Mallette and others are featured performers.

Radio actor Fred Foy leads the lead role, "Detroit." The role of "Menace," depicting the obstacles overcome by Detroit in its 250 year history, is being shared by Bill Wendell and Eugene Kangas. Tiny, talented Kim Scott portrays the accomplice of "Menace."

The entire cast, which has rehearsed for nearly two months after city-wide auditions were held this spring, is under the direction of the show's nationally-known author, Daniel A. Lord. S. J. Tenth elaborate spectacle of this type produced by the 63-year-old Jesuit since 1925, "City of Freedom" is the high point of a brilliant playwrighting career.

Tickets for the spectacle are on sale at the show's Veterans Memorial Bldg. offices, at the U. of D. Stadium and at all Cunningham Drug Stores. Seats are $1.20 including tax, with reserved seats also available.

Invitational Tourney Draws Over 200

City Continuing Program For Protection of Trees

The City of Grosse Pointe, aware that its trees comprise one of the chief assets of the community on its property, is currently spraying and trimming those trees needing attention. Trees which had been damaged or were impeding the progress of City projects have been removed.

Four trees at the southeast corner of Kercheval and Notre Dame were removed last week by the City. The removal of these trees has been pending for 20 years.

The sidewalk grade will be reset on a lower level to give easy access to the alley and the parking lot. These trees were retained as long as possible, although they damaged the sidewalk and impeded the sewer. Eight other trees were removed by the City last week which had been damaged by recent storms. Of the dozen trees removed, seven were on Kercheval corners.

The City is aggressively spraying and trimming where damage from bark beetles and leaf borers is evident or has been reported, Norbert Neff, City clerk, said. Areas heavily infested are Notre Dame, St. Clair and Neff, although spraying is in progress on Lincoln, Rivard and Washington as well, Mr. Neff reported.

In order to prevent a spread of infection, the City urges residents to have the trees in their yards sprayed. This cooperation is essential to prevent a widespread infection which could reach epidemic proportions.

Mr. Neff said that a field inspector from the State Department of Agriculture has set Japanese beetle traps in the City and the other Pointes to determine the prevalence of these insects in the area.

Should Japanese beetles be found in any quantity, they will be dealt with at the opportune time, Mr. Neff assured.

Two Cars Tangle On Belanger Rd.

While driving south on Belanger on July 13, Mrs. Maida Meldrum, of 104 Muir, collided with Michael Bem, of 1768 Hampton, who was driving west on Webster.

Mrs. Meldrum was taken to Cottage Hospital, where examination revealed no apparent injuries. She was treated for shock and held until July 15 for observation.

Tickets for not having their cars under control were issued to both Mrs. Meldrum and Mr. Bem. A witness ticket was issued to a passenger in Mr. Bem's car.

Fisher Traffic Light Relocated

The traffic control signal light at the intersection of Grosse Pointe boulevard, Fisher and Maumee, has been relocated.

In place of the two four-way post lights located at opposite corners of the intersection, there is now a single light located centrally. It is suspended on a span wire cable.

Trees on the blocks approaching the intersection have been trimmed to permit an unobstructed view of the traffic light, stated Norbert Neff, City clerk.

Grosse Pointe Farms is maintaining the light.

Thief Acquires Gun Collection

Fourteen guns, many of them antiques, were taken from the home of Mrs. Lee Cassel, 271 Mt. Vernon, on July 9.

When Mrs. Cassel returned from visiting a neighbor, she noticed a dresser drawer open and one of the display cases in which her son keeps his gun collection was empty.

The boy was away at camp and she was unable to furnish police with a list of the missing guns at the time of the original report.

On July 14 the family reported to police that 14 guns including rifles and revolvers were taken. They are valued at $310.

The front door of the house had been left open during Mrs. Cassel's absence. Det. Eugene Boylan is conducting an investigation.

Florida State University's football team has won three straight conference titles and is undefeated in three years of conference play.

Bicycle and Car Figure in Crash

A bicycle and an automobile collided at Notre Dame and Maumee on July 9. Fortunately the cyclist's injuries proved to be minor.

Richard C. Morris, of 1043 Yorkshire, was driving west on Maumee when Thomas McDonnell, 9, of 456 Notre Dame, who had been riding his bicycle north on Notre Dame, rode into the path of his automobile.

Thomas, who collided with the left front fender of the car, was knocked to the pavement. Mr. Morris took the boy to Bon Secours Hospital.

He was released from the hospital on July 11 after x-rays revealed no broken bones or other serious injuries. He received treatment for cuts and bruises.

Motorist Runs Wild on Lawn

A reckless motorist, who apparently lost his sense of direction, ran over the lawn of a home at 404 Manor, hitting two trees and breaking a lawn sprinkler.

Mr. Frank Snow, of 2251 Grayling, who has been supervising the premises during the absence of the occupants, the Walter Michaels, reported the damage to police.

Mr. Snow also reported that the garage door had been damaged. The damage occurred on July 14.

Mrs. Edgar F. Trombly, Jr.

—Picture by Paul Gach

Before her marriage last Saturday in St. Paul's on the Lake, Mrs. Trombly was Mary Lou Gouin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Gouin of Belanger avenue. Mr. Trombly's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Trombly of Neff road. The young Tromblys are on a Northern Michigan wedding trip.

A quartet of pretty bridesmaids in frocks of embroidered white organdy over French white taffeta attended dark-eyed Mary Lou Gouin who was married Saturday morning to Edgar F. Trombly Jr. in St. Paul's on The Lake.

The maids topped their frothy costumes with white picture hats and carried arm bouquets of rumbrum lilies for their part in the wedding.

They included Mrs. Joseph Rollins, sister of the bridegroom, matron of honor, and Joan Beaupre, Mrs. Joseph Schmitt and Mrs. Robert Wehmeier.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Gouin of Belanger avenue was gowned in white nylon tulle and fragile Chantilly lace for her wedding day. The fitted bodice, finished in deep sweetheart neckline and flared with yoke of net, frothed into a bouffant skirt ending in a court train.

Her two tiered silk illusion veil fell from a bridal bandeau of silk illusion petals.

Mary Lou carried a white orchid encircled with stephanotis. Assisting Ed, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Trombly of Neff road, was James Williams as best man.

Groomsmen included the bride's brother, William Gouin, Joseph Rollins and Joseph Reinman.

Mrs. Gouin pinned orchids to her floor length gown of poudre blue chiffon with which she wore a matching chapeau.

Mrs. Trombly also wore orchids with her aqua faille costume, topped by a chic pink hat.

Following the wedding breakfast and reception at St. Clair Shores, the young Tromblys whisked off on a Northern Michigan wedding trip.

The diminutive bride traveled in a beige linen sheath frock which had matching Directoire jacket. Her small hat was also beige and the costume was accented with bright red accessories.

Uninvited Guests Elude Officers

The presence of uninvited guests at 417 Moross was reported to Farms police by a neighbor who observed them entering the house.

Upon arriving police found the front door unlocked and the back door standing open. The boys had vanished before police arrived.

Occupants of the house had just returned from a trip and were out replenishing the larder when the visitors arrived.

Rebuilding the glass furnace in the Ford Motor Company's Rouge plant and other planned improvements in the glass plant will increase daily melting capacity there from 75 tons to 100 tons.

Vacation Church School to Close

Stemming from the theme, "The Church" the children of the kindergarten will display a large cardboard church, which they have built and painted. The primary children will exhibit some books and mats they have made for other children, and the Juniors some flower containers they have painted for their own church.

Included in the Worship Service, which will be held in the Sanctuary of the Church, will be an offering of new toys by the boys and girls for a toy box to be given to the children of migrant workers.

These gifts will be dedicated at the closing worship service Friday.

Rites Performed At St. Clare

Shirley Ann Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Fisher, of Courville road, became the bride of Joseph J. Barton July 7 at a ceremony in St. Clare of Montefalco Church.

The bride wore ivory satin and net in her wedding gown which was finished in a long, cathedral train. Attached to the ivory satin Juliet cap was the fingertip length nylon net veil. Shirley carried a white orchid with stephanotis and Boston ivy.

Marie Elizabeth Fisher was her sister's maid of honor in a frock of white organdy over Nile green taffeta. She wore a tiara of daisies in her hair and carried a cascade arrangement of daisies, pink gladioli flurettes and ivy. The bridesmaids' gowns were like that of the maid of honor except that theirs were toned in Nile green organdy over the same shade of taffeta. They were sisters of the bridegroom, Elizabeth Rose Barton and Mrs. William C. Heels.

Two flower girls were in the bridal party, cute in their miniature copies of the maid of honor's gown and carrying tiny bouquets of daisies and ivy. The bridegroom's nieces, Barbara and Holly Heels were the flower girls.

Brother of the bride, Raymond Albert Fisher Jr., was best man and seating the guests were the bridegroom's brother, John Barton, and his cousin, Stephen Sams.

Mrs. Fisher topped her blue crepe and chantilly lace frock with a small white flower hat and Mrs. Barton was in pink sheer crepe with a matching toque. Both mothers wore coronages of pink rubrum lilies.

It's going to take a long time for us to get accustomed to the Pointe without the Elmer F. Ulrichs and their three little daughters . . .

Who earlier this month . . . closed their home on Berkshire road (the Lou Maxons Jr. have taken it) . . .

In favor of the beautiful new California ranch house they've built in fashionable Brentwood, Calif. . . . neighbors include former Pointers, the Fred Breers, as well as Shirley Temple and Tyrone Powers) . . .

Elmer dashed back here for a few days this week on business . . . and was promptly honored at a wonderful party Monday evening by his friends in the Park Fire Department.

In his six and a half years service as Councilman . . . the Park fire fighters came to know well that special brand of Ulrich loyalty and devotion with which he served his community . . .

Ten Lovely Years

While we lose this nice family, it's gratifying to report that the Joseph de Grimmes . . . whose names shine brightly in the great art circles of the world . . . are celebrating an anniversary this Summer . . .

Ten years ago they opened the fascinating De Grimme galleries on Kercheval to immediately win the confidence and friendship of Pointe art lovers. . . .

Joseph . . . a distinguished connoisseur . . . settled down over a cup of tea this week to pay high tribute to the Pointe and its appreciation of great art . . .

Some of the finest collections in the world are to be found in Grosse Pointe we are told by the colorful Viennese . . .

Although his was a dazzling existence as son of the famous Austrian locomotive builder who also headed the Graef and Stiff Automobile factory . . . he wouldn't consider trading that life for his new one in the Pointe.

Return To Beauty

Part of the credit for making De Grimme galleries the most outstanding in the Middlewest goes to the delightful Hildegarde . . .

With her quite charm, she lends an air to the Pointe . . . this daughter of the Austrian family long active in the country's diplomatic service (her uncle is Austria's present Consul General in Italy) . . .

Hildegarde could just be her beautiful self and be a most unusual person . . . but you know she is also one of the finest restorers in the art world . . .

News from The Fall Fashion Openings

Editor's Note: Mary Morgan, fashion editor of Radio Station CKLW, is in New York covering the Fall Collections of the New York Dress Institute's Press Week.

By MARY MORGAN (Special to the Grosse Pointe News)

NEW YORK, July 18—More and more I've been impressed with the impact Grosse Pointe is gaining as a Fashion Center.

While I've been here attending the previews of the Fall collections, the name "Grosse Pointe" keeps popping into conversations I have with Pauline Trigrere, Cecil Chapman, Adele Simpson, etc.

Many of these distinguished designers watch Grosse Pointe as they watch New York and San Francisco to see if "they" wear a certain fashion before following through on a trend. If such women as Mrs. Henry Ford II, Mrs. C. Henry Buhl like a new design, they feel "it is made."

Trigrere Trend So it was with the Pointe in mind that Pauline Trigrere and I talked of her pet Fall trend: the coat costume . . . a long coat and dress, or coat and skirt.

It is a change from the suit, most becoming, and most useful. Trigrere stated her preference for the new "pale" blacks and her perennial loves: beige and white, adding white for winter will be very important in high fashion.

Little Red Dress Cecil Chapman, whose creations are found in the wardrobes of America's best dressed women, believes the smart Fall wardrobe will have "lots of rust and shine."

She believes the "little red dress" will become as basic as the little black dress.

According to Chapman, this will be a season of the Theater Suit as well as the real evening ribly important by the designer.

gown, both done in the loveliest colors to be found . . . or rather the fabulously lovely colors Chapman has found. There is big news in Cecil Chapman's predictions that the new wool coats may mean more dresses for the ladies this autumn . . . and fewer wool suits than before.

Adele Simpson Suit There's a bit of contradiction on the subject of The Suit, however, once you sit down with Adele Simpson.

"The more suits a woman owns, the happier and better dressed she'll be," the dynamic and petite designer told me.

Of course, if you'll permit your reporter to inject . . . an Adele Simpson suit is more than just a suit. It's an architectural masterpiece of fashion perfection and anyone who wears one soon makes this exciting discovery.

Simpson feels that the marvelous new fabrics, the beautiful color tones will flatter milady's figure and coloring and will offer fresh inspiration to the individual—the last considered terribly important by the designer.

Nonchalant Thief Snatches Cement

Ten bags of cement from 1070 Torrey road were loaded onto a red pickup truck with such nonchalance that the neighbor who witnessed the incident on July 3 gave it no further thought.

John Potoski, of 21006 LaSalle, East Detroit, the owner of the new house, reported to Woods police that the cement was stolen.

Formal possession of Detroit was taken on July 25, 1951 and work was started on Fort Ponchartrain.

Burglar Foiled At Olson Home

The daylight attempt to enter the home of Norm Olson, 706 Lakepointe, failed when the burglar was apparently frightened away.

Park Patrolman Mouton, who chanced to be cruising in the area, was stopped on Wednesday, July 11, by Mr. Olson, who upon arriving home had discovered the attempted entry.

Police found that the screen had been torn away and a rear window forced.

Bride-Elect

Dr. and Mrs. James Ross Marshall of Lincoln road announce the engagement of their daughter, SALLY ANNE, to Douglas Adlai Long, son of the Ray A. Long of Harvard road.

Sally attended Western College in Oxford, O., and Douglas is an alumnus of Michigan State College. He was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

No date has been set for the wedding.

SHOP LIGHTS
Denny De Ninis of Denny's Men's Wear, 93 Kercheval and Dr. Ralph M. Burke, 742 Macca-bees Building, Detroit became members of Grosse Pointe Rotary on Monday.

The Perkins Radio and Television Shop, one of the oldest and best known in Detroit, is moving across Mack avenue into Grosse Pointe where its quarters will be considerably larger. The new store will be near Lakepointe.

William Mc Court, manager of the shoe department at Peter Pan's, appears to be the champion bass fisherman hereabouts. He was recently featured on T. V. for his latest catch a so-o-o-o big one.

Elmer C. Sutter, insurance broker with offices at 18451 Mack avenue, has again received the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company's coveted National Quality Award. It is his seventh consecutive win. The award was made at the company's 100th anniversary celebration at the Waldorf Astoria recently. Mrs. Sutter was with her husband when the award was made.

The new management of Capt. Shumway's Bar, 14948 E. Jefferson, was announced this week by C. A. Brunton, the new owner. The building has been newly decorated and carpeted and is air conditioned for summer comfort. Joe Alexander is featured at the piano and accordion nightly. They are closed Sundays.

The Detroit Gazette, the city's first regular newspaper, was first issued on July 25, 1817. It was a weekly.

Simians' Play Saturday Night

Grosse Pointe's own unique junior dramatic club, the Grosse Pointe Simians is swinging into high gear as opening night draws near. The Simian play, "The Male Animal" written by the inimitable James Thurber in cooperation with Elliot Nugent, will be presented Friday and Saturday nights, July 27 and 28, outdoors at the War Memorial Center.

Among the many busy Simians these days are the chairmen of the various committees: Tickets, Peggy Harrigan and Mary Ann Trombley; Publicity, Dwight Wilson; Programs, Clune Walsh; House, Mary Ann Harrigan; Lighting, Harry Hittel; Props, Sue Spurrier; Costumes, Lorraine Asmus; Make-up, Mary Boyer; Stage Crew, Bob Harbison; and Sound, Don Freeman.

Sharing in the fun and headaches are business director Jim Donahue; Technical Director, Neil Smith; and Stage Manager, Dee Clarich.

Among the busiest these days are hardworking, Dramatic Director, Hilary Whittaker, and President, Jean Gray.

With all the furious preparations, the Simians have had time to relax with a little pure fun-making. For example, the impromptu cast party at Dick Kuhn's on Thursday last, and the "Inducement Party" at Peggy Harrigan's home on Devonshire this coming Saturday. The party at Peggy's is so named because it serves as a reward for the distributors of the 5000 handbills which, again, are going out over all the Pointes this week-end.

The Simians have been fortunate in being able to welcome home several of their members in the armed forces this week. Among them are Frank Sheldon, now a corporal in the Air Force at Luke Air Force Base near Phoenix, Arizona. Sad to say, he will be in town only until the 25th of July and so will miss the opening night.

Frank, who is in the Public Information Office at Phoenix is enjoying his stay at home and finds our local heat "refreshing" after the 108 degree temperatures of the Arizona desert.

Don Kuhn, a lieutenant in the Air Corps will be arriving this week. Don has been stationed in Columbus, Ohio, but is soon to be transferred to Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Francis Gibbs has been dropping in and out of town whenever his ship the "Mackinaw" of the U. S. Coast Guard puts into port. Francis is on duty on the Great Lakes. He has special reason for loyalty to his particular ship, since interestingly enough it is one that was designed by his father.

Another "Simian-in-Arms" is Dale Stevenson, private in Uncle Sam's Army who is expected in this week also.

Margaret Roberts Bitten On Left leg by Terrier
A terrier owned by Claude House, of 801 Fisher, bit Margaret Roberts, 11, of 312 Fisher on July 11.

The bite was inflicted on Margaret's left leg between the knee and ankle. Her parents told police they planned to take Margaret to a doctor.

Police told Mrs. House to keep the dog confined for the usual ten day period. They also notified the Board of Health.

Children Given Scolding For Scattering Rubbish
Police who noted an abundance of paper scattered at the rear of businesses in Kercheval place on July 10, made a check of the neighborhood to determine the cause.

Neighborhood children, found playing with boxes which had contained the refuse, were reprimanded. Their parents were not at home.

Toyland Also Helping Marine Hospital Patient
In the issue of June 28 the NEWS carried a picture and stories of models of ancient vintage cars, which are assembled by Dale Wells, patient in the Marine Hospital.

The picture was taken at Haydon House, which has been selling the models to help Dale. It has since been learned that the models are also on sale at the Punch and Judy Toyland in the Kercheval-on-the-Hill, shopping district.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Orr of Notre Dame avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Christina, to Richard Heidrich, son of Mrs. Albert LaPri of Oscoda, and Rudolph Heidrich of Birmingham.

Chris is a Grosse Pointe High School graduate and attended Christian College in Columbia, Mo. Richard is a Second Class Petty Officer in the Navy and is stationed at Corpus Christi, Texas. A wedding date will be set in the Spring.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Edna Kittredge

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna M. Kittredge, of 1357 Beaconsfield, who died suddenly on Tuesday, July 10, were held in Ottumwa, Iowa.

Grosse Pointe Park responded to a call for a pulmotor, but Mrs. Kittredge was dead when the firemen arrived.

Mrs. Kittredge is survived by her husband, John M. Kittredge. Burial was also at Ottumwa.

Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Coleman of 292 McMillan.

The training given reservists at the center closely parallels that given the regular recruit with certain exceptions, such as drilling.

Marvin Boutin, Jr. Now At Sheppard Air Base

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE, Texas—Pvt. Marvin R. Boutin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Boutin, 1878 Newcastle, Grosse Pointe Woods, has entered the Airplane and Engine Mechanic's School at Sheppard Air Force Base, the home of the largest technical school of this type in the world.

Holder of a pilot rating, Lt. Moore served as instructor, Vance Air Force Base, Enid, Oklahoma, before entering his present assignment.

The first Methodist church in Detroit, located at Woodward and Congress, was dedicated on July 13, 1834.

Police issued Mrs. Chicoine a witness ticket. Miss Hobart was issued a ticket for not having her car under control causing an accident.

The Skagit helped move supplies and equipment ashore at Inchon during the recent Communist offensive. Her crew is now enjoying a brief respite and liberty period in a Japanese port.

Adhesive tape placed on the soles of galoshes is a wise safety measure to avoid slipping.

JULY JOTTINGS

THE JOHN CHARLES DONELLYS (Isabelle Casgrain) got right down to the train which was to carry them on their White Sulphur wedding trip . . . and changed their minds.

There was a great flurry of plan changing and they left instead for Colorado Springs where they're at the Broadmoor.

They'll visit John's brother-in-law and sister, THE THOMAS E. OAKES at Mission, Kansas, on their way back to the Pointe.

It's welcome to the Pointe to MR. and MRS. MAX B. MCKEE and their attractive family . . .

This week they moved into their new home on Harbor Hill. Got ready for the strains of m-o-v-i-n-g by giving a wonderful house party over at their Canadian place . . . Hickory Acres . . . near Harrow, Ont.

In our research on Snobbery must make a note about the lady who announced at a cocktail party last week she "must go out and get a package of cigarettes" . . .

A newspaper gal, also a guest at the party, reached for her own handbag saying,

"Won't you have one of mine?" . . . but the lady said, oh, no, she smoked a very special cheroot, one of the filtered tip type.

"Well, that's what these are" said the n.g. offering the package . . .

The society lady looked amazed,

"Do you smoke these A-L-L the time?" she gasped.

At a small editorial meeting following this Exchange, the answers that might have been given were divine. The newspaper gal, one of those who thinks of her best answers forty-eight hours later in the fastness of her own room, had, at the time, said nothing to the society lady.

"Growled the re-write man, Why didn't you tell her that you didn't smoke the dang things all the time—that your own custom made, monogrammed ones were in your platinum handbag which you had left in the car?"

PILFERINGS

From "The Cheering Section" of the Sunday Pictorial: Two modern youngsters were discussing the subject of piggy banks.

"I think it is childish to save money that way," little Mary opined.

"I do, too," Annie replied, "and I believe also that it encourages children to become misers."

"And that's not the worst of it," Mary exclaimed, "it turns parents into bank robbers."

Money: It's the husband's job to make it first and the wife's job to make it last.—Air University Dispatch.

Cocktail party host: "Are you enjoying yourself?" Guest: I feel a lot more like I do now than I did when I came in."

A producer said he gave his girl pearls for her birthday.

"Why didn't you give her something practical, like a car?" asked a friend.

"Who ever heard of a phoney car," said the producer.

MRS. C. JAMES MCKINNEY OF GRAND MARAIS ROAD

The tiny star of Greenwich Village Follies who was the toast of New York and Paris back in the mid-twenties and thirties has long since put away her toe slippers. She has settled down gracefully on Grand Marais road where at the moment she is, of all things, causing walls to be knocked down like mad.

For the former Ethel Norris . . . remember her in "Rain or Shine" with Joe Cook? . . . "Crazy Quilt" . . . "The Stork Is Dead" etc., now Mrs. C. James McKinney and the mama of three delightful children has decided to make some changes on the interior of her Pointe home.

No part she ever played on any stage had a more dramatic role than that which she assumes today as she draws herself up to her full height of four feet nine inches, raises one pretty arm majestically to yonder wall and says to the contractors, "THAT is to come down."

The amazing part of the whole thing is that the wall can come down and the house still stands. But it seems that tucked into the pretty head that could memorize lines like lightning there is a keenness for such practical matters. Mrs. McKinney not only can change the interior plan of a home but she can do magic decorative things to it. She also invents.

Inventive Star Years ago, before Lily Dache was making up things like the Thirsty Kerchief to help dry hair faster, our Pointer of Interest was patenting plans for a feather weight hair dryer that dried the most stubborn mop of hair in nothing flat.

But then along came that Stork bringing first Carlotta, now a dreamy brunet beauty of 15; C. James McKinney Jr., who has just finished his first year at Nazareth Military Academy, and Bain, the baby, who changes from a very sub deb to a poised young lady with the swiftness of a shadow.

With their family fast growing up, the McKinneys decided "more play room" was in order. There is to be a small, sunken ballroom on the home's first floor designed for parties the young set adores. On the third floor, Cadet McKinney will soon occupy the kind of quarters lads many years his senior would give a right arm for. Not only tailored and compact, it is just far enough away from the rest of the household to play the radio that blasting way young men seem to favor.

Staircases are being changed, windows closed here — opened there, — are all in the plans. And since the sunken ballroom was formerly attached to the house as the garage, a new one is to be added at the other side.

Toast of the Town It is odd to connect all this steel and structure with the diminutive star. We sat in the Chinese library at the home chatting and looking at blue prints the lady changes, daily, and our eye seized upon an interesting looking scroll that has been "unscrolled" and framed.

TELEVISION RADIO Sales and Service Complete Line of Records JACK O'CONNOR 17001 KERCHEVAL TU. 1-1655

At the top an artist has lettered, "Greenwich Village Follies, September 1923" and there behind the glass is the telegram sent on opening night to Miss Ethel Norris by the entire membership of the famous Lambs Club in New York.

Every member signed his name to the message (which was typewritten on telegram blanks) wishing luck to the dancing star on her first Broadway opening.

When Mrs. McKinney's parents, the Stephen McElroys, found their little girl was determined to have a career on Broadway they decided they'd better find out how one gets started on such things. No other member of the family had been in the theater. They found an agent and made arrangements for an interview. They were fortunate to have been directed to one of the Great Agents, Pat Casey.

When that interview was over Miss Ethel Norris was on her way with a company of four other young girls to do a singing and dancing routine in a small revue traveling the vaudeville circuit. Within a few weeks the Pointer of Interest was in a headline act, by this time doing her tricky toe work in front of a line of four young men.

Start of a Star An then John Murray Anderson, the producer whose name shines brightly on Broadway today, gave her that Big Change in the Greenwich Village Follies. She was a sensation . . . the first dancer to do toe taps (in fact the stars of today "wear the bits of metal on the tips of their toe slippers which were named "Ethel Norris Toe Taps").

Besides dancing, the star had a glorious voice (still has, except that gun fire can't persuade her to sing) and a flare for comedy that found her a featured performer immediately. She was a great friend of Helen Morgan's and for many years was called the "miniature" Helen Morgan for her styling and way with a torch song had the same heart tug.

After the follies she sang at the Ambassadeur in Paris and then traveled in Europe, returning to Broadway to do more and more shows including "Great Day," "Marching By," "Luana," "Better Times Revue."

Her last role was the lead in "The Stork Is Dead." There was a Hollywood contract when Sir James appeared on the scene and persuaded her to return to Grosse Pointe as Mrs. McKinney instead.

The name of Ethel Norris is an important one in Broadway theatrical circles though these many years its owner has lived here with us.

Why, Mama!

We glanced at the names on that yard long telegram the Lambs Club sent her and found: Thomas Meighan, Gene Buck, Vinton Freedley, David Warfield, Frank Fay, Eddie Foy, Richard Bennett (father of Constance, Joan), Edmund Lowe, Leo Carillo, Robert Woolsey, Charles Winninger, Fred Stone, William Anthony Maguire, Edward G. Robinson, Bert Lytell, Robert Strange, Billy De Beck, Rex Beach, Burton Holmes, Wallace Ford, Clarence Nordstrum, and Charles McNaughton, Richard Carlyle, Dodson Mitchell, Lew Cody, Paul Kelly . . . to mention just a few.

She's almost as well known in theatrical circles by her nickname, "Sparky" as she is by her stage name of "Ethel Norris." Producer Anderson bestowed the name upon her because of her amazing pep and energy.

She has that vitality today along with a sweetness and friendliness and a modesty that are genuine and rare.

Oh, yes . . . we almost forgot one name on the telegram. It was discovered just the other day by the McKinney children who have stood a little in awe of their famous mama ever since. Her fame was definitely established when they discovered William Boyd or "Hopalong Cassidy" had signed that scroll, too.

Truck on Loose Hits Two Cars

Two parked cars were seriously damaged when the driver of a furniture van lost control of the vehicle while driving east on Kercheval on July 12.

Lue J. Lake, of 3926 Seyburn, was the driver of the truck which sideswiped a car owned by Charles Nyberg, of 18921 Maier, Roseville, which was parked on the north side of Kercheval between Vendome and Kerby.

The truck continued on, striking another car parked about five feet behind Mr. Nyberg's, owned by H. H. Micou, of 30 Kerby.
