

Farms May Buy More Park Land

Farms Council is considering the possibility of enlarging the Farms Pier park area 300 feet. The action came after an offer from the Woodhouse Land Co. which owns the lake front property adjoining the pier. The company asks $30,000 for the plot. The Council has 30 days to reach a decision.

Found in Lake

Hoyt said it appeared Wisniewski had been in the water 16 to 18 hours. There is no current at the point where the body was found, it being protected by the Dodge dock. There was no sign of any foul play, he said. The Coroner's Office performed an autopsy, which threw no further light on the mystery. Officers of the club arranged funeral services, which were held at Hamilton's Funeral Home at noon on Monday.

Two Molesters Nabbed at Beach

Grosse Pointe Park police seek the cooperation of residents to curb molesters at the Waterfront Park. Two men found guilty of disorderly conduct and indecent liberties are held under bond pending further investigation. Police said that one was found clothed completely in feminine attire and the other molesting women while they were sunbathing at the park. Police Chief Arthur E. Louwers said that the department has received several complaints pertaining to such conduct. "We would appreciate hearing from others who have been accosted," Louwers said.

Schools

boundaries are subject to change and that none can be guaranteed permanently. The Board wished it announced that as shifts in pupil population occur, school district boundaries may need to be changed.

While this is true, the Board agreed that continuity of attendance in a particular school is desirable and that everything possible will be done to keep boundaries as fixed as possible. On the other hand, if the best interests of the greatest number in any area demand it, school district boundaries may be changed at any time. For your information a map showing the location of all public schools in the district and the boundaries for all elementary school districts appears in this paper, on the Editorial page.

Report Submitted By Police Chief

The Farms police department collected a total of $614 in fines during the month of June and answered 236 calls, according to the monthly report of Chief Walter Hoyt. Traffic violations numbered 54 and produced $185. There were 124 parking violations, which added $160 to the coffers. The dog ordinance added another $109, collected for 37 violations. Ten traffic court cases brought $135 and eight other court cases, $25.

There were three juvenile traffic cases, all referred to juvenile court. The operators' licenses of two adults and one juvenile were suspended.

A total of 21 traffic accidents were reported, with total damage of $2,173 and no personal injuries. Two cars were stolen, one of them being recovered by Detroit and the other by St. Clair Shores. There was one breaking and entering case, with a loss of $75. Three cases of grand larceny are listed, with the loss totaling $542.40. Twelve cases of simple larceny accounted for a total loss of $282, with $175 being recovered.

Six bicycles were stolen, with six recovered, one from the previous month. Four persons were bitten by dogs, three missing persons were all found, eight dogs were found left open.

The department made six ambulance runs and responded to five fire calls. Complaints totaled 135 and 14 adults and 23 juveniles were arrested. The department issued 20 chauffeur's licenses and 172 operator's licenses.

Open Hearing

velop this site by building three separate four family residences, to house a total of 12 families, with a side driveway serving the three buildings.

30-Family Development
The third proposal was to change the zoning ordinance to allow the erection of three and four family units to house a total of 30 families on tract north of St. Paul, between Cadillac road and Notre Dame avenue, with ample off-street parking spacing to be provided. There were no objections heard to either of these proposals.

The fourth matter up for discussion was the proposal that all the rest of the City area south of Kercheval avenue be immediately restricted to single homes only.

Might Harm City
Mayor Netting explained that the reason for this proposal was that there is considerable property, particularly south of Jefferson, which could be used for the location of schools, churches, hospitals, sanatoria, rest homes, businesses, etc. Under the present ordinance developments might be started there which would detract from the general character of the City and the council wants the power to be able to refuse any such requests which might be made.

A proposal was made that the ordinance be applied to all the remainder of the City, both south and north of Kercheval, but it was pointed out that there is no area left in the north side of the City which would be suitable for such undesirable developments.

Council Then Meets
Immediately following the public hearing, which lasted until 11 o'clock, the council adjourned to the Municipal Building to hold a regular council meeting.

On the motion of Councilman John Kenower, the council unanimously passed a resolution directing that the Staelen property be kept in Zone AA, for single dwellings only, and that the ordinance be changed to allow the approval of Proposals 2, 3 and 4.

Protection for you alone is not enough...

That's why FULL FAMILY MEMBERSHIP is an important and valuable feature of Blue Cross-Blue Shield!

CHANCES ARE one in four that you will be faced with hospital and medical bills this year for yourself or a member of your family. And the chances are even greater that, if you are among the one in four, the bill will be for a member of your family. BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD records show that family dependents use two to four times as much medical treatment requiring hospital care as the employed subscriber himself.

That's why the hospitals and doctors who run BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD have provided a program of Full Family protection that offers the subscriber the opportunity to enroll his wife and children for exactly the same comprehensive benefits as he himself receives.

In addition, BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD provide many other family protection features. For example: under the Full Family Contract, the newborn child is covered from birth. In addition, all eligible children under 19 years of age, no matter how many in the family, may be enrolled and receive the same full benefits without additional cost to the subscriber.

Yes, the family is important to BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD and BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD are important to your family. Protection for you alone is not enough.

Alga Michael, of 22911 Gary Lane, St. Clair Shores, was fined $10 and $5 court cost for reckless driving causing an accident at St. Clair and St. Paul on June 23.

Accidents Claim Quintet Of Victims in G. P. Woods

Five persons, including three children were injured in accidents in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Patricia Morley, 8, of 2086 Ridgmont, suffered a broken left arm when she fell off the bars at the Community Club Recreation Field, Ridgmont at Mack, Monday, July 30.

Patricia was taken to Saratoga General Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morley. Mr. Morley is with the Woods City Highway Department.

Also injured Monday was Ruth Lane Kredell, 6, of 2087 Ridgmont. Ruth suffered head and face bruises when she ran in front of a 1½ ton truck near her home.

The driver, Alfred McElroy, 55, of 20240 Nesbit, Harper Woods, was exonerated by Woods Police.

Jackie LeDuke, 9, the son of Woods Police Sgt. Wilbur LeDuke, of 21407 Mack, broke his left arm when he fell off his bike at Mason School, Thursday, July 26.

Two adults were injured in freak mishaps.

James Jannetts, 29, of 17472 Omira, sustained cuts on his eyes

4 Lose Licenses In Farms Court

Four persons were placed on probation and four others had their licenses suspended by Judge J. Burgess Book III, during a session of Grosse Pointe Farms Traffic Court recently.

Placed on 90-days probation were Charles G. Vervisch, of 20048 Kenosha and George Ray Huey, of 3549 Bluehill. Both were found guilty of reckless driving.

Vervisch was also fined $25, Huey, $20.

Leonard A. Jakielski, of 1059 Lenox, drew a 30 days probation term and a fine of $25. Howard A. Socia, of 1129 Wayburn, was placed on 60 days probation and fined $10.

All four were found guilty of reckless driving.

Judge Book revoked the license of Willard R. Maier, of 18420 Oakland for six months for speeding on Lake Shore. He was also fined $50.

Harold Lloyd Ketchum, of 6633 Maple Drive, Clarkston, Mich., lost his license for 60 days for reckless driving.

Albert H. Craig, Jr. of 12755 Sidonie, East Detroit, will not be able to drive, legally for 30 days. His license was revoked for reckless driving.

Anna Lyczynik, of 1217 Coplin, will not be permitted to drive again until she attends three sessions of traffic school. She was found guilty of cutting into oncoming traffic, causing an accident.

Young Thug Given Long Jail Term

Joe Snay's Bar Was One of More Than 10 Places Held Up By Joseph Moran

A 19-year-old thug who admitted taking part in the holdup of Snay's Bar, 18666 Mack, last March 20, was sentenced to 7 to 15 years at Jackson Prison by Recorder's Court Judge O. Z. Ide.

The sentence was imposed on Joseph Moran, of 6030 Malcolm, for the $6,000 armed robbery of the Highland Park Bar and Recreation Center earlier this year.

Police linked the youth and two accomplices to at least ten other holdups.

Moran was identified by Joseph Snay in the Detroit Police show-up as one of the two bandits who took $125 from him and several customers at gunpoint.

When James K. Polk was President, Mrs. Polk abolished dancing at White House parties.

To Hear School Progress Reports

Reports on just what progress is being made on the four big school projects under construction, are expected to be heard at a meeting of the Board of Education scheduled for next Wednesday night, August 6.

Neither of the two new buildings, John Monteith School in Cook road, nor Charles Poupard School in Gratiot Township, will be completely finished by the time the fall terms start in September. Neither will the big additions being built on the Parcels Junior High School and New Kerby school.

It is certain however that all four of the buildings will be able to be put into partial use when the schools open in September. At least a number of classrooms will be ready and will help relieve the crowded conditions of schools in the north end of the district.

The four new projects are being built at a total cost of more than $4,000,000.

Youths Caught Destroying Sign

After completing their paper selling chore at Moross and Mack on July 26, two teen age boys sought diversion by destroying the sign in front of a dentist's office at 20551 Mack.

Woods police officer Tobian sighted the vandals engaged in the destructive activity. As he was off duty, he alerted the station.

Police apprehended the boys who admitted their guilt. Police will insure that restitution is made.

Playful Antics Cost Driver $10

If he is prudent enough to profit from experience, Albert H. Craig, Jr., 18, of 12755 Sidonie, East Detroit, will not trifle with young lady motorists in the future.

Mr. Craig appeared in Farms traffic court on July 25 on charges of improper driving on the complaint of a young lady who objected to his motoring antics.

She told Farms police that while driving west on Lake Shore road on July 10, two young men in a car kept pace with her car and prevented her from passing them.

She recorded the license number of the offending car and told police that she would be able and willing to identify its occupants.

Judge J. Burgess Book III found the youth guilty of reckless driving and fined him $10. Insuring that other motorists would not be annoyed for at least 30 days, the judge suspended his driver's license for that period.

Farms Building Boom Continues

The Farms issued 11 more building permits for new residences during the month of June, the report of Murray Smith, city engineer, reveals. Total valuation of the buildings was estimated at $204,000.

Permits were also issued for building 13 miscellaneous building projects, valued at $24,500.

Since January 1 the Farms has issued permits for 105 residences valued at $2,552,000, for 69 miscellaneous projects valued at $113,000, and three non-assessable properties valued at $108,000.

The total value of the 177 permits issued to date this year is $2,773,000.

Famed Designers' Fall Collections Are Covered by Mary Morgan

(Editor's Note: Mary Morgan, fashion editor of radio station CKLW and a brilliant reporter on the women's world, has returned from New York where she covered the Fall openings of the New York Dress Institute. Her special dispatches to Grosse Pointe News will appear for the next two weeks.)

By MARY MORGAN

Now that New York Dress Institute's Press Week has finished for the season, let's review the highlights in a round-up of what to look for in fashions for fall.

Obviously, fabric is the focal point of every costume from fabulous brocaded silks, to dozens of wonderful wool textures.

Tweed leads the parade of fabrics, never more effective than when teamed with brilliant capucine red velveteen by Sondheim in an evening theatre ensemble.

The elegance of velveteen was shown by Wragge for the exciting fall showing seen during Press Week. Far superior to any was the B. H. Wragge interpretation of colorful velveteen combined with pure silk and soft English flannel in dark grey.

Generally the excitement of a B. H. Wragge collection revolves around color and fabric, this time the framework of the clothes has precedence. It's the shape that counts. Just as a building takes on exactness and lithic grace from its steel underpinnings, a Wragge suit or dress is perfected from the inside out.

Thus the woman whose figure is not quite up to any new shape in fashion, gets the benefit of this superb designing. The well-bred-looking fabrics, the exclusively dyed colors for Wragge brings the customary nods of approval from fashion's amen corner. The imported flannels and tweeds are most amenable to tailoring.

Fashion Essence

Another outstanding collection is by Originalla. Nobody wants a coat that lasts forever, even the most cherished coat becomes a tiresome item in a wardrobe. But real fashion demands true balance between styles and staying-power and such is the essence of Originalla's fame.

The pure Vicuna wool coat priced at $1100 made you do a double take, in all its classic elegance. Vicuna's are a gal's best friend, or something.

But the fact that Originalla still is able to include its fabulous pure white cashmere in the collection made you realize here is a collection of coats that can go anywhere with the grand air of a white mink or broadtail. The white cashmere was designed with a sweeping loose cloak, small shawl collar, and in the classic sport coat. Shoulders natural with sleeves varying from wide cuffed, and full length.

Hansen Bang

You will want to turn your new Fall coat wrong side out if you buy a Hansen Bang.

His collection shows beautifully brightly colored linings for those divinely elegant dark-toned costume suits of his. The suits are even lovelier because the dress and lining match—same material, same color.

For evening wear, Hansen Bang paces his color differently as he features a stunning magenta colored fleece coat worn over a slate gray taffeta dress... or the black velvet coat, styled as only Hansen Bang can, worn over a flame-red dress.

Inside Story

Anthony Blatto also goes in for the colorful inside story of fashion... but he calls it "Beauty from within"—and proves it by designing brightly beautiful brocades to line the rather sober grey or brown skirts. Makes you want to whirl around the floor, just to show your skirt's lining.

But leave it to Emily Wilkens... she who caters to the younger set (we're not so adult). Miss Wilkens goes all out creating a full-skirted daytime wool jersey dress, with layers and layers of ruffles underneath, better known as the "Can-Can."

Speaking of the undercover story... Designer Brigance does a smart job of using a bright taffeta petticoat lining for one of his afternoon coats.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerborn

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Molyneux returned to their Fisher road home last week-end and, stopping long enough to take a deep breath, announced . . .

That daughter, Barbara Jane, had been married Monday, July 23, to Staff Sergeant John Joseph McCormick . . . the ceremony taking place in Minneapolis.

If this comes as a surprise to the Pointe . . . (the wedding date was previously set for Sept. 1) . . . you can imagine how it affected the Molyneuxs . . . not to mention the bride and bridegroom.

But everyone reckoned without the air force and its startling way of sending a young man overseas without notice . . . and without a whit of attention to the matter of his approaching wedding in Sept.

All Unsuspecting!

On July 21, the bride was a happy-go-lucky counsellor at Camp Playfair near Lexington, Mich. . . and the bridegroom was going about his duties at Selfridge Field . . .

Then his overseas notice came . . . (he leaves Aug. 11 for Japan) . . .

He telephoned Barbara Jane . . . at her camp . . . They decided to be married immediately . . . and inasmuch as her parents were in Minneapolis visiting Mr. Molyneux's mother, Mrs. Joseph W. Molyneux . . . it was there the bride-elect dashed . . . followed a few hours later by the bridegroom-elect . . .

Her own wedding gown . . . and the bridesmaids' dresses . . . remained behind in the local dress salon . . .

And Barbara Jane stopped in Detroit just long enough to borrow her cousin's, Mrs. Jack Carrier's white organdie wedding gown . . . (busy gown it's been, too . . . Mrs. Carrier wore it in April 1950 . . . another cousin, Mrs. James Stephenson (Mary Andrus of the Pointe) wore it this past June . . .

There wasn't even time to notify members of the original wedding party . . . all of whom were away on Summer vacations . . .

Grandmother Gives Reception
Sister Maral Molyneux was on hand to be the only bridal attendant . . . and Barbara Jane's uncle, John Travis of Minneapolis, acted as best man for Staff Sergeant McCormick . . .

Because the ceremony took place in Minneapolis, there were only members of the families present . . .

But Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Purdy of Grosse Pointe who used to live in Grosse Pointe but who now make their home in the Indiana city . . . were on hand for the ceremony in St. Luke's Episcopal Church . . .

And later joined the reception guests at the home of the senior Mrs. Molyneux . . .

June Lanier Is Bride Of Daniel G. McIntosh

Our Savior Evangelical Lutheran Church was the scene Sunday evening of the candlelight ceremony at which June Lanier, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy M. Lanier of Torrey road, became the bride of Daniel G. McIntosh.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. McIntosh of Mt. Clemens.

Lieut. Commander Russell Marks came from New York to give his niece in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. H. Buchheimer. June wore a gown of Chantilly lace over gleaming white satin. Its off the shoulder neckline was finished in scallops and the tight bodice was attached to a voluminous skirt ending in short train. Miniature seed pearls finished the edge of a Juliet cap which held in place her fingertip length illusion veil.

She carried a bouquet of stephanotis encircled with Easter lily petals.

The bride's twin sister, Mrs. Edward Monahan was matron of honor and the bridesmaids included the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. James Ingram and Mrs. Robert LaVoy.

The bridal attendants were gowned alike in white embroidered silk net over Nile green. They carried bouquets of deep purple violets and the honor matron's bouquet combined violets with stephanotis.

Donald Clark served as best man and guests were seated by James Ingram and the bride's brother, Stewart Lanier.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lanier chose a costume of peach taffeta and chiffon with gamelia corsage. Mrs. McIntosh wore a floor length gown of yellow chiffon and stephanotis were used in her corsage.

Mrs. Lanier entertained the wedding guests at a reception in her Grosse Pointe Woods home, following which the young couple left on a wedding trip to Northern Michigan.

The bride traveled in two piece beige linen frock and pinned brown orchids at her waist.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William Horn of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Marks of Davenport, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cowan and Chaplain and Mrs. Russell Marks of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton James Kodidek Leave for North After Marriage in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Bride Former Dolores Edith Herschleb

Dolores Edith Herschleb and Milton James Kodidek chose a double ring ceremony for their marriage last Saturday evening in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The rites were performed by the Rev. Paul Ketchum before an altar glowing with cathedral tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin William Herschleb of Lochmoor boulevard and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kodidek of Dearborn. Following the service, Mr. and Mrs. Herschleb were hosts at the wedding reception in the church parlors where white flowers formed a background for the receiving line.

Dolores was wed in a gown of off-white satin, its Queen Anne collar scalloped and embroidered in seed pearls. Tiny satin buttons closed the bodice from its deep neckline to the slim waist. The full skirt had a short train and Dolores wore a close fitting satin headpiece with pearl trimmed crown which held the fingertip length veil of imported tulle net.

The bridal bouquet was composed of stephanotis and variegated ivy centered with a white orchid.

Charlotte Kodidek, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor in a frothy white organza frock worn over deep turquoise. A short veil headpiece was ornamented with daisies and Charlotte carried pink daisies.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Loyal Jodar and Mrs. Joseph H. Schnur Jr. wore gowns like that of the maid of honor, their bouquets were arrangements of white daisies.

Democracy in Action

Democracy in action was given a thorough demonstration Monday night when an overflow crowd jammed into the City Fire Hall to participate in discussions over proposed changes in that municipality's zoning laws. It was a healthy and a heartening experience.

Details of the various proposals are covered in a news story on Page One of this issue and need not be gone into minutely here. The important aspect of the public hearing was the large turnout and the spirit shown.

Only one of the proposals produced any real argument, but that was a dandy. It lasted for more than an hour and a half. A group of residents living in Lakeland avenue and University place in the north end of the City, came to protest against what they saw as a threat to their homes. The fight they put up was good to see, and so was the manner in which the council heard the arguments and supplied all the requested information it possessed.

All the flavor of an old-fashioned town meeting was there and the issue was thrashed out with vigor and conviction. There were outbursts of bitterness and flurries of jeers and some flashes of selfishness which would have been better omitted, but on the whole the questions and answers were extremely intelligent and courtesy was far from being completely absent.

It was most encouraging to hear these people express their appreciation of the fine advantages for better living which the Pointe area has to offer, and to see their eagerness to do battle to perpetuate these advantages.

As long as the residents of the Pointe maintain such an interest in the affairs and conduct of their community, there need be no fear of deterioration setting in.

"Within a garden once there grew
A flower that seemed the very pattern
Of all propriety; none knew
She was at heart a wandering slattern.
And so it criticized each flower,
This supercilious seed;
Until it woke one summer hour,
And found itself a weed."
(Mildred Howells)

Appropos of our mistaken identity story of last week... about the young man from the drugstore and the hornets' nest, a reader telephoned to tell us she had much the same experience on a smaller scale. This character was trying to rent her house and at the same time, sell some of the furniture. A real estate agent was handling the former and newspaper ads took care of the latter.

One fine afternoon her doorbell chimed and in walked the real estate agent with two women. He announced to Madame that there were a couple of women there to see her... so without giving anyone a chance to say anything, our heroine busted out with, "Well, good afternoon! It was nice of you to come. Now I want you to see the view from this South window; then I want you to be sure to rap on these walls and see how firm the construction is..." and on and on, while she piloted them around the various rooms. When she stopped for breath, one of the women said, "It IS a nice house, but we came to see about buying the loveseat you advertised for sale."

While we're on the subject of houses, (not that this has anything to do with them exactly), we are reminded of an incident that happened in the East many years ago, that caused the woman involved to become locally famous, thanks to her husband telling everyone what she had done. This was in the days before new-fangled coffee makers, when most people ground their own coffee in a mill attached to the kitchen wall... and poured it into the cup by way of using a small hand strainer. Sooooooo, the little woman was potzing around the kitchen getting breakfast, when the handle broke off the coffee strainer. She called her husband that she would be RIGHT back, that she was going to run to the corner catch-all store and buy a strainer.

Off she went into the wild blue yonder while her husband waited for his coffee. He waited and waited and had they had a phone he would have telephoned the store, he was that anxious. FINALLY his wife returned looking flushed and excited as a school girl. Naturally her husband inquired as to where in heck had she been so long and WHERE was the coffee strainer? She looked at him blankly for a minute, then exclaimed, "Oh! the coffee strainer! I clean forgot it! But I bought a PIANO!"

And what's more she HAD TOO! She ran into a friend on the street who was on her way to put an ad in the paper to sell her almost new piano. When our heroine heard about it she marched the woman right back to the latter's house, where she examined the piano, closed the deal and came home piano rich and strainer poor!

Many years after the above incident, we heard of another woman who did something equally as nutty. This happened in Florida where the woman's husband had been dilly-dallying around trying to make up his mind to buy a lot there, where they would subsequently build a small house. On this particular day, the pair AGAIN went with the real estate agent to look at the lot for the fortieth time. At last the little man made up his mind, said he thought he'd buy it and settle on the details, (such as paying for it), that afternoon. Ecstatically happy, Madame asked, "Oh Don, do you REALLY mean it?" Yes, he really meant it, so she asked if he minded her leaving him for a few minutes because she had something very important to do. Not at all, sez he... so she jumped in her car and was off... telling him she'd see him later at their hotel.

That afternoon while Pa was sitting in his socked-feet, crying quietly over a bottle of schnapps... to console himself for having to shell out so much dough, in rushed his bride, staggering under the load of a large square box.

As her husband watched through misty eyes, Milady unwrapped the box, babbling the while about her excitement over it all... how happy he was going to be when he saw what she bought... and ad infinitum. At long last, the box was open and the contents laid bare for his inspection. TWELVE very nice looking finger bowls! WHAT in sam hill are THOSE FOR? You mean to say we have to lug that great big box up North when we leave?" bellowed dear husband.

The little woman gave him a withering glance... then said, "You just bought some property, didn't you? We intend to build a house on it, don't we? Well, THESE finger bowls are for the new house. Now what's wrong with THAT?" The poor guy went quietly back to his bottle! Who are WE to analyze the machinations of a woman's mind??? Ho-hum.

Samoa's banana industry is languishing, partly because of Fijian competition.

Keep Your Age From Showing

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

Wrinkles or gray hair won't reveal your age, for we all know people with both who still appear younger than their years.

Retaining a youthful appearance seems to be fundamentally a matter of keeping active and healthy, day to day, and as we grow older making concessions for the sake of our health.

Sound medical advice by a qualified physician each year will keep you on the right path.

Good medicine plays an important part in keeping you healthy if you choose a trusted pharmacist to fill your doctor's prescriptions.

Bee Hive Keeps Things Humming

John Law is not taking any chances of getting stung. So when George Skimin, of 363 Neff, called City Police and declared there was a hive of buzzing bees in his back yard, police called for help.

Professional bee-master Roy Havish, of 5758 Philip, came to the aid of Skimin and the police. Havish removed the bees without anyone getting stung. That is with the exception of Skimin. He got the bill.

Pretty Wedding

The wedding was quite as pretty as if it had been planned for months.

Barbara Jane in her all white organdie frock and silk illusion wedding veil... carried white bridal blossoms in her bouquet.

And Maral Molyneaux wore a shirred pale blue organdie frock as maid of honor... and carried a nosegay of white flowers.

Mrs. Molyneaux took from her vacation luggage a pretty white linen frock touched with raspberry and combined it with a small white hat for the wedding.

Her flowers were gardenias.

In 1951 Tradition

After the reception the young McCormicks (he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCormick of Pontiac)...

Drove off for their wedding trip in Northern Michigan... They're due back in the Pointe this Friday.

On Saturday... the bridegroom leaves again for California... to sail to his new post in Japan.

Barbara Jane... in the tradition of the little brides of 1951... will remain behind with her parents.

Until her soldier husband returns to these shores once again.

Special Happiness

Of all the weddings we've written this Summer of 1951...

That of Barbara Jane Molyneaux and Staff Sergeant John J. McCormick seems to be the most typical of the times in which we're living.

And we're sure you want to wish with us... a special happiness to them along with other young couples... faced with the same predicament.

Who so good naturedly and uncomplainingly shift plans and have brave hearts for a future which can't even begin for them until freedom really rings around the world.

AUGUST INCIDENTALS

Much eyebrow-raising over there on Audubon road when new neighbors moved in the other day . . . After all the regular vans a farm truck drove up and led out of it was a white sheep with red bow around the neck . . .

News traveled fast around the neighborhood that, attached to the bow was a note which read:

"More animals to follow, you old farmers" . . . The new residents, MR. and MRS. KING BLAIR, have spent these past few days explaining it is all just a friend's p-e-c-u-l-i-a-r sense of humor . . . they are NOT farmers . . . and that nothing is to follow.

We've been wondering all week if the Michigan girl upon whom was bestowed the title, "Onion Queen" is really happy about it all . . .

We have a candidate for Miss Dill Pickle of Michigan if anyone is interested.

MRS. ELWOOD BAYNE is a gourmet . . .

GOV. G. MENNEN WILLIAMS blew a kiss to his mother, MRS. HENRY P. WILLIAMS when he spotted her in the reviewing stand at the Birthday Parade the other day . . . at the time, the governor was riding with PRESIDENT TRUMAN . . .

MRS. JOHN S. GOODMAN'S penchant for color is evident in a dashing scarlet and white Summer frock which she wears well these August days . . .

PILFERINGS

How the Ladies Magazines are Making 'Em Smile: A cartoon in Better Homes & Gardens: The little monster, aged about four, is glued to the television set while behind him, his mama pleads, "Leo, dinnertime! Leo, honey, time to eat! Dinner's on the table! Come on, it'll get cold . . . Leo! Dinnertime!"

The second picture shows Leo in the same position. Before him is the little table with his steaming dinner.

Ladies Home Journal: Two debs are sitting on the garden wall, Confides one: "I'd think a lot more of him if my parents didn't like him so much."

Harlan Miller, writing "There's A Man in The House" for the Journal declares,

"I've argued against glass tumblers in the tiled bathroom for years, without a dent on my Dream Girl. Plastic cups won't break and cut your feet!" I roar with tender ire.

"She merely murmurs that when glasses break in the bathroom, I'm the one who breaks 'em."

Also from The Journal: "In calm water every ship has a good captain." An old Swedish proverb.

Boston is noted for its winding, picturesque streets. An English visitor arriving late at a reception at Henry Cabot Lodge's house complained of getting lost. "I don't see how anybody finds their way around these crooked streets." "It is rather difficult," Lodge cheerfully admitted. "Why, I remember a friend—lived all his life in Boston—who once took a cat he wanted to lose down to the river." "And did he lose it?" asked the Englishman, politely, but somewhat confused at the turn of the conversation. "No," Lodge replied, "and he never would have found his way home if he hadn't followed the cat."

Pointer of Interest

Picture by Fred Runnells

HESTER WRIGHT (Mrs. E. A. Batchelor) of MORAN road

Rarely is the gal with the twinkling brown eyes (known—and very well, indeed . . . as Hester Wright) asked to pull anything as hum drum as a mere rabbit out of a hat.

For as head of her own model agency she's daily expected to produce far greater wonders for her clients who include radio, and TV networks, motion picture companies, automobile companies and national advertising agencies.

She's expected to come up with Chinese coolies, goats, beautiful girls, 10 men five feet seven inches tall—all in a matter of minutes. She always does.

Now perhaps you know the unprofessional Hester Wright . . . or Mrs. Edward A. Batchelor; as charming a matron as you'd want to meet. You've waved to her at the Country Club as she sets out for golf or you've worked with her in the Grosse Pointe Little Theater group.

But today we're talking about the business executive which she becomes as soon as you call for Hester Wright. With years of background for heading a model agency, Hester now directs her thriving business from her Grosse Pointe home with the help of her telephone, the most modern and complete file of pictures (men, women, children), the Hester Wright catalog and her amazingly photographic mind.

Although she established her own model agency because she was insulted by the salary offered for her valuable services by a national agency, she has succeeded because her clients always get exactly what they want in record time.

Take those ten men we mentioned earlier for instance. They were sought by one of the automobile companies for a float in the Birthday Parade last week. The efficient files were called upon, and not only did Hester provide the 10 gents but she got yet one more lad, five feet seven inches tall, to stand by in case disaster overtook any of the original ten.

"Wright Ideas" Usually you think of a model agency just supplying pretty girls or handsome men for fashion shows or photo posing. That's where Wright Ideas begins. And that's why all models hereabouts try to be registered with the Hester Wright Agency. She supplies props, styles sets,

SWEDISH MEAT BALLS

- Contributed by Mrs. Sigurd R. Wendin
- 2 lbs. beef, ½ lb. pork — ground together
- 10 slices white bread, without crusts
- 1 medium onion, chopped fine
- 1 tbsp. sugar
- 1 tbsp. flour
- ½ tsp. black pepper
- 2 eggs
- 1 tbsp. salt

Pour cold water over bread and beat until it has consistency of cereal. Add sugar, flour and eggs. Add meat and beat in electric mixer if possible until soft. Make meat balls the size of walnuts if they are being served at a supper or smorgasbord and the size of eggs if they are to be main dish. Fry in butter and serve with gravy.

(Ed. Note: This recipe pilfered from Junior Goodwill's cook book, circa 1938.)

Burglars Foiled At Wilson Dairy

Weather stripping apparently thwarted the breaking and entering attempted at the Ira Wilson Dairy, 21035 Mack, on Thursday, July 26.

Seven holes, starting at the door frame and centered around the lock and door knob, had been drilled by the burglars in their attempt to force entry.

The door 2½ inches thick is equipped with a Yale lock and a barrel bolt. A large pile of shavings were found between the door and the screen.

Leon Ricci, manager of the dairy, discovered the condition of the door when he opened the store on the morning of July 26. He told police that he had worked until after midnight on July 26.
