School Plans Announced

students may meet their teachers and gain some familiarity with the building which they will attend.

Most Hours to Be Same
School hours for the 1951-52 school year will be the same as last year with the exception of those for the Parcels and Pierce Junior High Schools. Pierce will open at 8:45 a.m. and close at 3:30 p.m. with staggered lunch hours for the students. The elementary sessions will be from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3:45 p.m. School activities at the high school building will start at 8:30 a.m. and close at 3:20 p.m. with a rotating system of lunch periods.

Change at Parcels
It was announced in this paper last week that the new Parcels Junior High School, while not completed, would have enough rooms available so that it would open on Thursday, September 6, for full day sessions for all pupils. Due to certain unavoidable delays, Superintendent Bushong stated today that it is necessary to change the original plans as follows:

All pupils enrolled in grades 7B, 7A, and 8B will attend in the morning from 8:45 to 11:45. All pupils enrolled in grades 8A, 9B, and 9A will attend in the afternoon from 12:45 to 3:30.

The sixth grade group from the Vernier District will attend for a full day session from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m. and 12:45 to 3:30 p.m.

No Cafeteria Yet
During the period that Parcels is on the half-day program, no cafeteria provisions will be possible. It is expected that as soon as the school is able to go on a full day schedule that the cafeteria will be ready and that hot lunches will be available.

Superintendent Bushong stated that it was regrettable that this step has to be taken, but that there is no alternative. The contractors are making excellent progress on the building and it is hoped that it will be possible to go on a full day schedule within a few weeks.

Boy Injured in Fall Gets Ambulance Ride

Farms police responding to a call to Handy road on August 24, found that William Mumaw, 4, of 91 Muir road, had cut his head in a tumble from his bike.

The boy was taken to Cottage Hospital in the new Farms ambulance. He was administered treatment for the cut and released.

PAGING DIOGENES
Two honest boys, Roger Jaron, 11, of 485 Bournemouthe, and Tom Piche, 12, of 445 Moross, turned in a man's watch which they found at the Farms Pier on August 19, to the Farms police

BIKE BONERS KILL

RIDE SAFE!

500 people killed and 75,000 injured in bicycle accidents in 1950—most of them less than 18 years old.

The greatest cause—CARELESS RIDING—has an eye for an eye—hanging on trucks—riding off over the road—crossing intersections without stopping—no "cut" sign—no "cut" sign—no "cut" sign—no "cut" sign.

DEPEND ON YOURSELF
IT'S UP TO YOU. Don't depend on the car or truck driver's skill. He doesn't want to hit you, but don't expect him to jump over your head. Brakes don't always work.

STOP AT ROAD CROSSINGS—drivers can't see around corners.

Caution your friends about riding two or more abreast, hanging on trucks and riding double. Keep way over to the right whenever you ride and—RIDE STRAIGHT.

YOUR SAFETY IS YOUR BUSINESS
If you're skillful and smart enough to be careful, you'll get along. If not, you had better work.

See reverse side of this sheet for detailed information.

Special Meetings For New Pupils

For the instruction and guidance of students new to Brownell Junior High School and Grosse Pointe High School, the high school principal, Walter Cleminson, has announced two meetings to be held on Wednesday, September 5.

All 7B Brownell pupils and any pupils new to Grosse Pointe who will attend Brownell Junior High School for the first time are requested to attend a meeting in Room 218 at the Grosse Pointe High School building at 1:30 o'clock and should come prepared to pay deposits on locks.

The purpose of these meetings is to assign pupils to home rooms and to help pupils new to the community or new to the school to become familiar with the practices and policies of the schools so that their school beginning September 6 will run smoothly for them," said Mr. Cleminson.

The bookstore will be open for all high school students on Wednesday, September 5.

The deans and principal have enrolled many new students this week. They will be available again tomorrow, Friday, August 31. The next opportunity to enroll new students transferring to Grosse Pointe High School from a school other than a Grosse Pointe public school will be Thursday afternoon, September 6.

All staff members will attend faculty meetings and new student orientation meetings Tuesday and Wednesday, September 4 and 5.

Classes will begin 8:30 a.m. Thursday, September 6.

Speeder Eludes Second Charge

Robert Micklewright, 23, of 5900 Hurlbut, appeared before Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Monday, August 20, on charges of speeding and of driving with a revoked license.

Micklewright was apprehended driving 40 miles an hour on Mack avenue August 18.

Micklewright produced evidence that his financial obligation had been met and that he had made application for renewal of his license.

Although he was not qualified to drive before having received his license, he was not in direct violation. Judge Belanger ordered him to pay a $15 fine on the speeding charge.

Taxi Service Provided Dog

The pet of a City resident was the subject of a call received on Wednesday, August 22, by City police requesting that a scout car meet a Farms scout car at Fisher and Waterloo.

At the rendezvous site Farms Officer Lyford transferred a dog to City police. A passing motorist had given the dog to the Farms officer.

The license tag on the dog's collar revealed it to be the pet of a Neff road resident.

Officer Mauck returned the dog to its owner.

Coin Purse Found On Parking Lot

A black coin purse containing a $5 bill, a diamond earring and keys was turned into the Farms police station on Thursday, Aug. 23, by James M. Flaherty, of 20044 Holiday.

The coin purse was found on a municipally owned parking lot in Kercheval avenue.

Out of every tourist dollar spent in Michigan, only 17 cents is spent for lodging.

Legionnaires Play Host at Children's Home

American Legion Post 303 in conjunction with Voiture 102 gave the kiddies of the Protestant Children's Home on Cook road the time of their lives last Saturday, August 25. The Voiture's famous locomotives and genuine French box car took the children for a long ride around the Pointe before returning to the Children's Home, where some forty youngsters enjoyed a candy, ice cream and pop corn treat. The occasion was arranged by Farms Police Chief Walter "Tex" Hoyt and was under the supervision of Howard Whitecarver, commander of Post 303. The Legionnaires hope to make this an annual event.

Simians Elect Dwight Wilson

The Grosse Pointe Simians officially closed their 1951 season Sunday night, August 26, with a meeting in the Kenwood court home of Sue Spurrier during which annual elections were held. Dwight Wilson was selected to be president of the theatrical group for the coming year. Other officers elected include: Larry Hittel, vice-president; Rae Garber, secretary; Dick Kuhn, treasurer; Don DeVrier and Peggy Harrigan, members at large.

The year's work was reviewed and reports heard on the success of the presentation of "The Male Animal" at the War Memorial Center.

The members were entertained at a party in the Spurrier home following the close of the business meeting. It was a farewell event for two members who are leaving to join the armed forces, John Butterfield and Bob Harrison.

Children's Theater Group Raises $100 for Polio Fund

The Morning Glory Club has done it again. For the third straight year this group of neighborhood children, ranging in age from eight to 13, has presented a play to benefit polio sufferers. A check for $100 has been sent to the Infantine Foundation as a result of their efforts this year.

The group was organized three years ago by Beverly Gray and Michele Boccia. Present members also include Peggy Wassenhove, Judy Boca, Mary Edith Burge, Marion Keifer, Holly Hurt, Mary Ellen Jarrett, Phyllis Boccia and Barbara Bendlen.

The girls decided they would present "Puss in Boots" this season. For weeks they gathered costumes and props and scenery and carried on rehearsals. The young ladies also canvassed local merchants for prizes and received considerable cooperation. Mr. H. C. Burge had the tickets printed for them and soft drinks were donated to be sold during the show.

The play was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Boccia at 420 Calvin road, with more than 100 in the audience. Gardenia corsages were presented to the mothers who had been the most help in staging the show. Mrs. Boccia, Mrs. Burge and Mrs. R. H. Gray, all of Calvin road.

Mrs. Gray topped off the great occasion by giving a luncheon for the entire cast and crew.

Barricade Takes More Beatings

The wooden and metal barricade located at Mack and Severn was struck by motorists on both Sunday and Monday, August 20 and 21. The collisions occurred in the early morning hours, before sunrise.

Elmer Freed, of 3455 Devonshire, driving south on Mack Sunday plowed into the barricade, which he saw too late to avoid.

The motorist who collided with the barricade on Monday was gone when police arrived. A witness told police the car was slightly damaged.

The barricade, which is 12 to 15 feet wide, has since been repaired. It is located at the point where Mack becomes a double highway.

Police said the barricade has withstood many a ramming.

Reckless Driver Loses License

Joseph Mayea, 18, of 2965 Beniteau, was arraigned before Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Monday, August 20, on charges of reckless driving.

While racing another vehicle on August 19, he attained a speed of between 55 and 60 miles an hour, police said.

The other vehicle turned north on Balfour and pursuing police were in best position to apprehend Mr. Mayea, who they stopped at Jefferson and Lakepointe.

Police held both Mr. Mayea, who they said had been drinking, and his companion while they checked ownership of the car.

The companion was released upon finding the car in proper possession of the youths.

The judge fined Mr. Mayea $25 or 20 days in jail and revoked his driver's license for three months.

Pointer Among First Grads Of Unique Television School

Jack Burns of 36 Colonial road, Grosse Pointe Shores, will receive his master of science degree in Television at Syracuse University, August 31. He is one of 15 graduate students who comprise the first class in the country.

Burns has recently been selected by the National Broadcasting Company to enter the one year executive training program in New York. He was one of six men chosen to work in all the major departments of the network. Upon completion of this training he will enter the television division that he is best suited for.

The training that the students received at Syracuse was very inclusive. This unique class began its work in September, 1950. The students were given facilities that no other university in America could offer. They had a complete set of studios to work with and a big-time commercial station WSYR-TV (NBC) to broadcast their products.

WSYR has no TV studios of its own so it traded the use of its transmitter for the use of the University studios. The budding TV executives spent every morning in classes. They studied specially planned courses in radio, television, cinematography, advertising and research. Their afternoons and evenings were spent on crew. These 15 students eventually did everything there was to do in a commercial studio: writing, producing, directing, projection, lighting, and even acting.

Brothers Play Hosts at Summer Gathering

Theater Group Has Big Plans

At a meeting at the home of Mrs. George Candler on August 22, final details for the monthly meetings of the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre were whittled into shape.

On the third Tuesday of each month, beginning September 18, the entire group will meet at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church in Moross road for an evening of fun and instruction. If you are interested in how a play is put on, plan to join the group.

At the first meeting the Workshop Committee, headed by Louise Candler and Undine Sturdevan, will cast for a workshop play to be given at the October meeting, and this will be the procedure for alternate meetings each month through June.

Other plans for the monthly meetings, under the chairmanship of Frank Standish, include demonstrations of the various phases of theatrical work such as the designing of sets, making of costumes, how different type of lighting and make-up are achieved.

All the various committees are working closely with the Workshop chairmen on these meetings. Anyone interested in any phase of play production from directing to props is urged to participate. Be sure to come to the September meeting and meet the chairman of the committee you are most interested in.

Committee chairmen are: Production, John Sinclair; Make-up, Jean Justice; Costume, Peggy True; House, Anne Lang; Box-office, Barbara Roney; Publicity, Louise Wertz; Membership, Joan Hall. Lenore Marshall will direct the first Workshop play.

The Theatre also plans three major productions for the coming year—"The Corn is Green," to be given in November, "The Willow and I," in February; and a comedy to be selected later, in May.

William Wallace Fatally Stricken

William Henry Wallace, 64, of 503 University place, died Thursday, August 23, following a heart attack. He had lived in the Detroit area for 27 years.

Vice-president of the Eaton Manufacturing Co., Mr. Wallace was also general manager of the concern's spring division.

He was a graduate of Rutgers University and a member of the Society of Engineers, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and Lochmore Golf Club.

Survivors include his wife, Beatrice; two sons, Paul K. and William, Jr.; a daughter, Nancy Linda; and four sisters, all of New Jersey.

Services were held Monday, August 27, at the Verheyden Funeral Home. Burial was in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

BABY SITTER SENDS S-O-S

A teen-age girl baby sitting at 412 Lothrop on August 24, requested Farms police to suppress three young men who sought to annoy her by knocking on windows and doors and by ringing the door bell. Police delivered a lecture on etiquette to the young men and sent them homeward.

Tire and Wheel Taken by Thief

The left front tire and wheel were stolen from a car owned by Gerald G. Flynn, of 2249 Allard, on Tuesday, August 14.

Mr. Flynn told police the car had been parked on the street over night.

Police think the thief jacked the car up with a bumper jack leaving the car to rest on the brake drum, after removing the wheel.

Mr. Flynn didn't hear any unusual noises during the night.

Fire Destroys Store's Awning

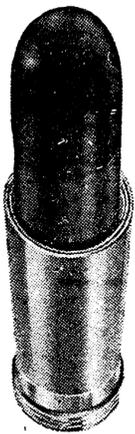

A carelessly discarded cigaret was blamed by City Fire Chief Ledger Chauvin as the cause of the fire which destroyed an awning across the front of the S. S. Kresge Co., 16931 Kercheval.

The fire department was notified of the blaze on August 20, by the Kopp Pharmacy at 16926 Kercheval.

Chief Chauvin said the building was not damaged.

Plans Discussed By School Heads

A meeting of all members of the Administrative Staff of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools was held at the Board of Education Building on Tuesday morning, August 28. This meeting was conducted by James W. Bushong, Superintendent of Schools. All principals, deans, and directors were in attendance. At this meeting plans for the opening of the new school year were discussed. Superintendent Bushong stated that all teachers will report for duty on Tuesday, September 4, and that school for pupils will start on Thursday, September 6.

Geary Addresses MSC Workshop

Forrest L. Geary, of Cadijeux road, Director of Community Service for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, was a speaker at the first annual Michigan Workshop on Adult Education. The conference was held at Michigan State College, August 28 and 29. Mr. Geary talked on developing techniques and leadership training for organizations. Approximately 300 people attended the two day session. Board of Education members, school administrators, adult teachers and leaders and lay citizens met in Kellogg Center for Continuing Education to discuss "Strengthening Democracy Through Adult Education."

Kids Making Use Of Bus Service

Many Woods youngsters have been taking advantage of the free transportation provided to the Woods lakefront park on the bus presented the city by the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club. The bus makes four scheduled daily trips to the park. Phillip F. Allard, city administrator, said the bus is crowded at noon and at two o'clock but that few ride during the 10 a.m. trip. The schedule will be adjusted within the next week or ten days to fit requirements more adequately, Mr. Allard stated. The bus does not operate on Sunday.

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerborn

Everyone at the Pointe is so happy to know that Miss Annie Ward Foster, who had a mean seige this Summer . . . Is up and about . . . making peppy arrangements for her famous dancing classes at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club (Lansing and Battle Creek, too) . . .

And that her littles darlings will gather on Sept. 25 for the very first class of the season . . .

Three days later . . . the sub debts and the stag line will be on hand for evening classes at the Yacht Club . . . and autumn will really be here . . .

Miss Foster's "Bar"

Naturally Miss Foster's phone is ringing constantly these days with mamas and papas calling to find out dancing class dates . . . Lovely Mary Johnson is assisting at the classes this fall . . .

(Where else in the world are left such enchanted classes . . . where good manners . . . poise . . . social graces are instilled in the pupils . . . as ONLY Miss Foster can perform these gracious miracles! No wonder "Life" went to her May Party a few seasons back) . . .

One telephone call particularly tickled Miss Foster . . . Seems the parents of a Grosse Pointe miss, aged seven, were sounding her out on how she'd like to take dancing lessons this fall . . . "Now, we think you'd love Miss Foster's class," suggested the parents . . .

"What would I learn?" said the young one . . .

"Well . . . ballroom dancing" . . . the samba . . . the rhumba . . . You know how mother and daddy dance when they go out. Miss Foster teaches things like that."

The baby brow furrowed a second.

"Would I have to stand at the bar?" she wanted to know.

Tau Beta Fair Sept. 9

Many former Foster girls are involved in our next bit of news . . . that gala Circus Fair being staged by the Tau Beta Juniors Sept. 9 (a Sunday), from 1 to 8:30 p.m., on the grounds of Mrs. John Caulkins' home on Fisher at St. Paul avenue . . .

This is the way the girls raise money for the scholarship fund they support at the Tau Beta Community House . . . a fund which sends worthy young men and women to college they couldn't otherwise afford . . .

Cynthia Keydel and Beezie Smith are co-chairmen of all the fun and they tell us some lucky guests will walk away from the fair with a brand new puppy dog . . . a marvelous record player . . . and other dreamy objects.

The Tau Beta Juniors, according to drum beater Mary Carey, hope YOU will arrive early and stay late . . . and here are some of the things they've set up to entertain you:

MR. and MRS. HARLEY G. HIGBIE are back in their Lake Shore road home after a fishing trip in Grayling, Mich., where they stayed at the lodge of THE SEABOURN R. LIVINGSTONES.

MR. and MRS. ERNEST KANZLER with KATRINA, BOB and ERNEST, JR., are planning to return to their Lake Shore road home in early September. They've been spending the Summer at their Seal Harbor, Me., home.

Metamora, a Summer-long attraction for many Pointers, will be the choice of THE HAROLD R. BOYER family for the holiday week-end.

MR. BOYER is coming from Washington to join his family at their Summer place, Helter Shelter.

MARY BOYER, ALGER and HAROLD, JR., went out last week to the Metamora home. The last of September will find Mary returning to her studies at Vassar and Alger leaves around Sept. 18 for Andover.

MR. and MRS. JEAN T. SHEAFOR, who are living on Neff road, will move in October into their new home being built on Country Club drive.

Occupying the devoted attention of MR. and MRS. JOHN PALMER FRAZER of Washington road, at the moment, are their young house guests, MARY MOORE and ANNE THOMPSON, who also happen to be their granddaughters.

The Frazers have been entertaining the young ladies at the Old Club and will drive them to their Cincinnati home when the visit is over. They are the daughters of MR. and MRS. CHARLES DABNEY THOMPSON of Cincinnati.

MRS. WADDELL CATCHINGS of New York has been the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. VICTOR FRANCIS of Harvard road.

MRS. E. WILSON WARDELL of Merrivether road, who has been attending a Summer school of painting while she vacationed at Saugatuck, Mich., is returning to the Pointe this week-end.

MR. and MRS. HARRY MILLER are back in their Neff road home after a holiday at Crawford Inn near Kingsville, Ont.

MR. and MRS. ELMER CARLESS, their daughters, KITTY and MARY, have moved from their home on Grayton road to a new residence in Country Club drive.

MISS SHIRLEY FORSYTH will return shortly after Labor Day from Ogunquit, Maine, where she has spent the summer at the Manhattan Theater Colony.

MISS JOAN VON ROSENBERG, daughter of DR. and MRS. HILTON O. VON ROSENBERG of Bedford road, is leaving on Friday for a month's vacation in Texas. Joan will then enter Newcomb College in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Juniors of Chi Omega To Meet September 5

Mrs. Glenn Coulter of Merrivether road will be hostess to the newly formed Junior group of the Detroit Alumnae Chapter of Chi Omega on Wednesday, September 5, at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be primarily social, but there will be some discussion regarding activities and projects for the coming season.

All Chi Omegas who have been graduated since 1940 are invited, and can make reservations by calling Mrs. Donald Benham, KE. 2-5280, or Mrs. Richard Roeder, TY. 4-4171 not later than September 3.

Nancy Lou Esper Wed To Paul Hillebrand

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Esper of Whittaker Road Married in St. Clare de Montefalco Church; Father Verstyne Flies Here for Ceremony

Gowned in a floor length frock of filmy white dotted Swiss, Nancy Lou Esper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Esper of Whittaker road was married to Paul Hillebrand Saturday morning at a 10 o'clock ceremony for members of the families and close friends in St. Clare de Montefalco Church.

The Rev. Father Robert Verstyne officiated at the nuptial mass which was followed by reception and wedding breakfast at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Father Verstyne flew from his parish in Chicago to perform the ceremony for Nancy Lou and Paul, returning that same day.

Nancy Lou's frock was fashioned with slim bodice, short sleeves and a full skirt. Her tiny waistline was girdled in white taffeta sash which fell in floor length streamers at the back. She wore white dotted Swiss gloves.

Her bridal cap of imported silk illusion secured a fingertip length veil and she carried an arrangement of gardenias and white stephanotis.

Mary Ellen Esper was her sister's maid of honor in a white gown identical to the bride's only worn over yellow taffeta. Yellow taffeta sash and streamers were used at the waistline.

She wore a picture hat of yellow maline and carried white and yellow bebe mums.

Fred Boyle was best man and the bridesmen were Robert Bishoff and Merrill Baker.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Esper chose a becoming pale yellow silk shantung frock, its full skirt applied in imported white lace which was repeated over the bodice. Her chapeau was contrived of tiny yellow blossoms and she pinned gardenias to her purse.

Mrs. Hillebrand, mother of the bridegroom, also wore gardenias and her beige crepe gown was accented by an aqua straw toque.

At the wedding breakfast in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, the wedding party was seated at a white satin covered table which was centered by the tiered wedding cake flanked by low bowls of white bridal flowers.

When the young Hillebrands motored off on their wedding trip, they headed for Northern Michigan and upon their return will occupy an apartment on East Jefferson avenue.

The days before the wedding were filled with parties for the lovely, amber-haired bride.

Mrs. Clarence Carroll of Bedford road gave a luncheon and miscellaneous shower . . . Mrs. Louis Fox and Mrs. Keith Roach joined forces to fete Mary Lou at a shower and tea.

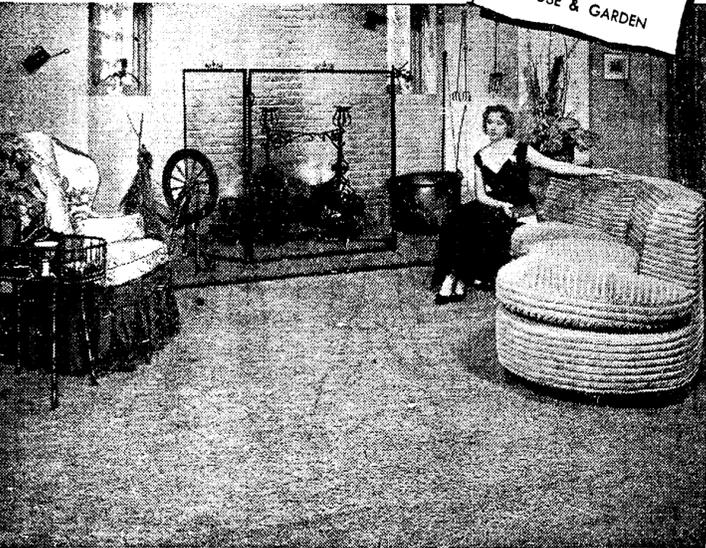

Mrs. John Hillebrand of Kensington road was hostess at a dinner party and shower and Mrs. Arthur J. Rohde of Oxford road feted her niece at a garden party and luncheon.

Mary Ellen Esper gave her sister's spinster party at their Whittaker road home and Mr. and Mrs. Hillebrand were hosts to their son and his bride-elect at the rehearsal dinner in the Detroit Yacht Club.

Blow That Reveille

The Army put an end to the Park council meeting Monday night, as far as the press is concerned. Which is perfectly all right with this extremely modest representative of the press. The more things the Army can put an end to in the complicated maze of today, the better we shall like it.

And that includes Korea, which we are prone to think the Army, with the Navy and the Marines and the Air Force, could chalk up in the "finished business" column in fairly short order if they were given their heads and not subjected to asinine restrictions ordered by an asinine administration.

But to get back to the Park council meeting (which had proceeded along routine lines until the Army marched in, immediately following which Mayor Homer Fritch requested that the press vacate the chambers), there is but to surmise.

And this infinitesimal portion of the press surmises there is some tie-up between the sudden requested exit at the Park council meeting and the month-long industrial air defense exercise being conducted in this area by the 51st Army Aircraft Artillery Brigade Headquarters in Chicago. A concurrent exercise is being carried on in the Chicago area.

The whole Detroit metropolitan district began bristling with military defense preparations on Monday. Anti-aircraft guns were being set up and mechanized units were poised to conduct road marches from outlying bivouac areas. Troops equipped with radar were ready to set up gun emplacements and to keep them under constant guard.

An Army announcement from the 51st Brigade Headquarters stated: "The exercise will be conducted to test supply and communications techniques and to acquire facility in the conduct of road marches through populated areas." It did not disclose the number of troops to be used, nor the number of gun placements to be set up, but it said the main bivouac area would be in Dearborn.

It appears to be sound reasoning that any adequate defense of the Detroit metropolitan area must be spread throughout and beyond the entire district, and that in the event of an attack there would be many interception units set up in the Pointe and in every other community in the whole general vicinity.

The advent of the Army, or any other branch of the armed services for a preparatory exercise for defense should be good news indeed. It may waken a good many of us from a lethargy that is not healthy. The Pointe would seem to be one of the sleepest hamlets in these United States when it comes to the matter of Civil Defense.

Before we get any further we want to make it plain that we do not in the least blame the local director of Civil Defense, George Elworthy. If ever a man had to wrestle with a highly important public assignment, with less cooperation, we haven't heard of him.

The issue of the Grosse Pointe News dated August 24, 1950, carried a 2 column headline on Page One, "Progress Reported by Group Planning Civilian Defense." The story had to do with the setting up of a plan following a general pattern laid down by Washington, Dr. Leonard Gaydos had been specially designated for the Pointe by the Wayne County Medical Society, to head up the organization to care for medical and surgical work in the event of a bombing. Bon Secours and Cottage Hospitals were being readied for large scale emergency work, with The War Memorial Center designated as a third place to care for the seriously wounded. A school in each area was to be designated as an evacuation center to which the less seriously hurt would be taken instead of to a hospital.

During the next few months it appeared that good progress was indeed being made in marshaling the Pointe's civil defense facilities. A survey had been made to determine what equipment was available to remove rubble after a bombing, to fight fires, to transport the wounded, to feed and shelter the homeless. Drills had been instituted in the schools, volunteer firemen and policemen were being recruited, too slowly, but a program had been started. Red Cross first aid classes were drawing fairly large attendances and there were many other signs of an awareness of the potential danger and the value of being prepared in the event that it should strike.

Two highly capable chief air raid wardens, Lansing Pittman and Col. Walter Allard, had been enlisted and were ready to start lining up their organizations. Then the internal bickering with its inevitable tangle started.

Whereas all those residents of the Pointe who had given the matter any thought at all, had taken it for granted that all five municipalities were united in their support of a single civil defense program, it suddenly developed that this was far from the true situation. The Park announced it would set up its own civil defense organization, independent of the other four Pointes. It was revealed that the Shores had never done anything about civilian defense and had no plans for any definite action.

Those Pointes which had been trying to do something called a halt until it could be determined just what course should be followed. Mr. Elworthy was placed in a completely embarrassing and helpless position, as were the air raid wardens who had volunteered to do their important work. A sprag was thrown into the entire movement of the program locally.

Since then there has been some progress made in straightening out the mess, but developments have been far from startling when viewed from the achievement angle. Mr. Elworthy has been on a well-earned vacation during the month of August and the well of information on civil defense matters is noticeably dry during his absence. We hope there will be more to report shortly.

War hysteria is something to be shunned as the plague, but there can be no condoning a failure to prepare on these grounds. To turn one's back on the possibility of war and its accompanying horrors is as senseless as refusing to be vaccinated when surrounded by a smallpox epidemic.

Civil Defense is not a job for one man or for one group. It must be participated in earnestly by all of the population, by both sexes of all ages. If we are too occupied or too selfish to devote any of our time to those branches of the program which will be charged with the general welfare in the event of an attack, the least we can do is take every precaution to see that we are not personally going to be dependent on the

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"From quiet homes and first beginning,
Out to the undiscovered ends,
There's nothing worth the wear of winning
But laughter and the love of friends."
(Hilaire Belloc)

One afternoon last week, we were sitting in our backyard minding our own business and counting the pollen when a young man called to us over the hedge, that he came to see about the venetian blinds. We rose to the occasion just as if we knew what he was talking about and asked him politely, WHAT BLINDS? He informed us that he had had a call to look over some blinds at our address. Since neither we nor our handmaiden had telephoned anyone about the blinds, we assured the little man that there must be some mistake. But he was persistent. When he realized we were not going to fall for the telephone call act... he offered to look at them ANYWAY, as long as he was there! He then went on to scare us with the information that from now on venetian blinds were going to be scarce... etc., etc., etc.

We sent him packing in short order... and noticed when he left, that he drove slowly down the street peering into windows... and very shortly stopped at the house of a neighbor... no doubt with the same story. We can now add venetian blind men to our list of tree experts, roof repairers, chimney addicts and magazine salesmen... all of whom think we are a sucker for a quick sale.

Now that the Hearty story is fresh in everyone's mind, we have a true tidbit to add to it, that hasn't been published heretofore. Some years ago, a local couple visiting in California, met Miss Davies, who invited them to spend a weekend at the famous San Simeon. On arriving, they were informed of the meal schedule... part of which was that breakfast would be served in the large dining hall from seven until nine. On their first morning at the "ranch"... they happened to be the last guests downstairs for breakfast, appearing at about quarter to nine. Six flunkies in white mess jackets were lined up against the wall, waiting patiently to serve the latecomers. One asked what Monsoor and Madame would like for breakfast... and among the repast they ordered orange juice. He left the room on the double and returned shortly with everything EXCEPT the orange juice. As he placed the sumptuous breakfast before them, he explained, "We are very sorry about the orange juice, but the man in charge of squeezing the oranges has gone off duty."

We had occasion to telephone a woman who was spending a few days at Harbor Beach last weekend and in doing so, we learned that come hades and high water, there are still some amenities that are being observed in these here United States of America. We called our little woman at about 12:30 noon... at the Inn where she took her meals. The Inn-keeperess allowed as how she wasn't there... but added, "She is SURE to be here before two o'clock." We didn't ask WHY... just hung up and called again at about quarter to two. This time, the gal informed us again that our heroine was not there but that she WOULD be there "before two."

By this time we were intrigued as all get out about this two o'clock deal—so we asked why she was so SURE Madame would be in, before two. Her answer: "Well if she doesn't get here BEFORE two she don't eat. We close the dining room at that time, see?"

If any of our readers are contemplating writing a book, pamphlet or magazine article, we will be glad to sell them the title for same. Being a frustrated novelist, we have resorted to writing titles... which we think are important in selling the product. It is all very well to abide by the old saying "you can't judge a book by its cover"... but many folks DO judge one by its title. Here are a few examples of our stock... in case you're interested:

If you are writing a book about a fussy housewife... we offer: "The Human Household Hint" as a title. If your story is about a snob... we suggest "The Earnestness of Being Important." For an article on what to do about a hangerover, how about "Party-ing Is Such Sweet Sorrow." How about it indeed??

We will thank the citizens of Grosse Pointe not to water their lawns COLLECTIVELY when we are trying to take a shower. The other morning, we forgot about this dearth of water and had the bad sense to wash our hair while in the shower. RIGHT AFTER we had our head soaped up to HERE... and ready for the rinse... down went the water pressure and what we got out of the faucet was reminiscent of the Chinese water chair. THAT was one drop at a time... in case you've never been tortured by a Chinese water chair. We wrapped our soaped head in a towel and stayed that way for two hours until the water came on again. SOCH A BUSINESS!

There is a new (to Detroit) radio team on the air that will lay you flat... if you like zany comedy. They are called Bob and Ray and do their stint at quarter to six every evening on WWJ. Every character on the program is portrayed by either Bob or Ray and between them, they have more "voices" than Godfrey has fans. The only thing we regret is that the program is only fifteen minutes long. On Saturday nights, however, they do an hour show starting at 9:30. The other evening, in saluting the State of Kentucky, one said, "This is the place where Ichabod Crane came from... where he made his famous midnight ride, to warn the Yankees that the Red Sox were coming."

help of others if a bombing comes. Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, State Civil Defense Director, recently told members of the Michigan Civil Defense Council, "When killers roam the neighborhood, the wise man guards his house."

We can pray there will be no war, which the experts say would inevitably bring devastation to a great portion of this vital defense area. Near misses on the target of the arsenal of democracy could be bull's eyes where the Pointe is concerned. An efficient civil defense organization and a well-prepared and stocked refuge in the basement would be worth a million prayers if hell were suddenly loosed from the heavens.

Cancer Tests

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.
If doctors had a means of detecting cancer before ordinary symptoms appear, it would enable them to learn more about the disease and to control or cure it much sooner.
So for sometime medical researchers have been working to develop such a test. Recently one called the Penn has been used with considerable success in a limited number of cases.
Should further research prove its reliability the Penn will be used generally by the medical profession.
Keeping in touch with a physician is the surest way to receive all the benefits of medical science.

Governor's Weekly Report

LANSING—Many of our old people who are getting state old age assistance may be cruelly disappointed by the Legislature's indecisive action on old age benefit payments. I certainly hope it does.

I recommended to last week's special session that it increase maximum old age assistance benefits from $60 to $70 a month, effective immediately. Instead the Legislature adopted a highly deceptive piece of legal language which seems to conform to my recommendation but actually does not.

Actually, the new law does NOT mean any immediate increase in old age benefits. It MAY result in an increase if Uncle Sam raises his contribution to the cost of old age assistance—a point on which Uncle Sam is yet undecided.

In any event, the Legislature's action undoubtedly will NOT result in an increase to $70. The most that can be hoped for is a top of $66.

WHAT HAPPENED: I recommended that the maximum old age benefits be raised to $70 a month, without waiting for Uncle Sam to act. I pointed out in my message that the last raise (from $50 to $60) was made in 1949, in response to my recommendation.

Since the $60 figure was set in 1949, the cost of living has gone up so sharply that many of our old people are severely pinched. I pointed out in my message last week that this has become an emergency situation, warranting action by the Legislature without delay.

LEGAL DOUBLETALK: The Legislature responded with some legal doubletalk. It amended the old age assistance law to provide that the state will "match" federal contributions to old age assistance, up to $70 a month.

This means that no increase whatever is made at this time. Old people who have read about the Legislature's action and are expecting an immediate increase will get no raise unless and until federal contributions are raised.

There is a bill in Congress which would increase federal contributions, but only enough to bring the maximum to $66, not $70.

"MAYBE": So the Legislature's action does not mean $70 a month for destitute old people. It doesn't mean any increase for sure. The most it means is a raise to $66—maybe!

That, of course, is NOT what I recommended. I urged an increase to $70 now, regardless of what Congress may later do to offset part of the added cost.

are in Wayne County. In the face of these facts, the Legislature granted Wayne County less than 10 per cent of the available funds.

I have signed the bill, because if all the "ifs" and "maybes" in it should work out, it MAY result in a $8 increase in monthly old age assistance maximum payments. I certainly hope it does.

STATE FLAG: The Legislature also refused to make any appropriation for state flags to be flown on state buildings and sent to Michigan military units that request them.

This is a shame. The policy of the state should be to encourage the display of the flag in Michigan. There is no excuse for denying the few thousand dollars necessary to have an adequate supply of state flags.

I have asked the Highway Commissioner to see if there are some funds available in his department which could be used to provide state flags for the Straits of Mackinac ferries. There may be other ways we can encourage the display of the state flag without the appropriation the Legislature refused.

NATIONAL GUARD: It was a great satisfaction to spend a weekend with the Michigan National Guard at Camp Grayling, where the state's militiamen have been engaged in annual training.

The spirit of these citizen-soldiers is inspiring. They know they may be called upon at any moment to defend their homes and liberties in battle. They are eagerly working to make themselves into a more efficient fighting force.

When you're with these men you feel a deep certainty that the heart of America is sound and strong.

The annual review and memorial service at Camp Grayling is something I wish every Michigan citizen could see. I think next year we ought to make some plans to encourage people to drive up to Grayling and see this wonderful pageant of American citizenship.

TB SAN QUESTION: The Legislature, after long debate, refused to appropriate the $2,000,000 which I recommended to meet the tuberculosis sanatorium needs of Southeastern Michigan.

Instead, the lawmakers granted Wayne County a paltry $300,000. With all due respect to the needs of other areas, which we certainly do not want to neglect, this action was certainly unfair.

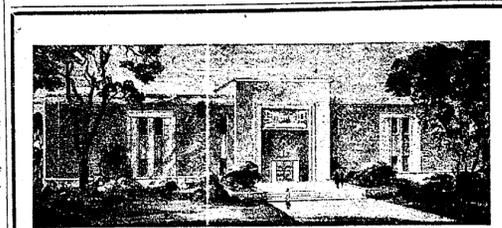

Southeastern Michigan has the worst TB problem in the state. Two-thirds of deaths from this disease in Michigan in 1950 occurred in Wayne County. And 69 per cent of patients on the waiting list for sanatorium care

Pointer Alger Chaney Takes Bride on Coast

Son of Mrs. D. Dwight Douglas Is Wed to Barbara Ellen Knowles in San Marino; Former Florence Spalding Married to Harold Larry Sharp in Pointe

At a ceremony in San Marino, Calif. Alger Chaney of Grosse Pointe and Portland, Ore. took as his bride Barbara Ellen Knowles of Claremont, Calif. last Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Charles Alexander Shreve officiated at the candlelight ceremony in St. Edmund's Episcopal church before family members and a small group of close friends. The bride's mother gave the reception in the gardens of the Huntington Hotel.

Alger is the son of Mrs. D. Dwight Douglas of Rathbone place and Henry F. Chaney of Portland. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Raymond Vincent Knowles of San Mateo and the late Mr. Knowles.

Harley Earl of Grosse Pointe flew to the coast to give his cousin in marriage.

The charming blond bride was gowned in white marquisette and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was finished with portrait neckline and a voluminous skirt ended in cathedral train. The bride's illusion veil was attached to lace Juliet cap and she carried white orchids, valley lilies and stephanotis.

Only bridal attendant was Alger's sister, Mrs. Harry H. Kem Jr. of Deer Island, Ore., who wore an opera length frock of white nylon net. Pale green streamers finished the waistline and complemented the picture hat. Her flowers were golden carnations.

William E. Weiss Jr. of Oyster Bay, Long Island, was best man and seating the guests were D. Dwight Douglas Jr. of Grosse Pointe, Raymond V. Knowles, brother of the bride; Harry H. Kem Jr., Dixon B. Livingsome of Portland and George Wilhelm of Eureka, Calif.

The young Chaney will make their home in Portland.

The Pointe lost one of its lovely daughters last Saturday afternoon when Florence Spalding became Mrs. Harold Larry Sharp and left to make her future home in Rockford, Ill.

Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Spalding of Cloverly road, was married at a ceremony in the gardens of her parents' home, to Harold who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp of Hartwell avenue.

The bride chose a gown of ice blue lace for her garden wedding, its off-shoulder neckline was finished in modified bertha which formed cap sleeves. The skirt was bouffant. Florence wore elbow length lace gloves and her tinted illusion veil fell from a Juliet bridal cap. She carried a tiny bouquet of shell pink tea rose buds.

The trio of bridal attendants wore gowns of aqua marquisette and carried yellow roses in their bouquets. They were Florence's former classmates at Albion College: Mrs. Theodore Hoag of Gaylord, Mich.; Nancy Beard and Mrs. Newman Dave.

The bride's sister, Harriett Spalding, was maid of honor. She wore a short length frock of yellow marquisette over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of rosebuds.

Legion Auxiliary News

From Unit 303
By Doris Nielsen

Now that the convention is over and we're nearly back to normal, let's see what's new.

First: Congratulations to Edith Bryan of Pittinger Unit and Tommy Rounell of Hellenic Post who at the convention were elected Department President and Commander respectively. We're extremely proud of our leaders and know success will follow both of them all through the year.

A nice surprise was received by our Sgt.-at-Arms Betty Hoyt at the Post installation when she received her bugle from the Post completely reconditioned and a looking brand new. Also from Briggs Post she received a beautiful case in which to carry her bugle—this in appreciation for all the times she has blown taps for their burials and reburials.

The Post installation was indeed very nice and as always the 40 et 8 Ritual Team did their usual fine job. Again congratulations to all the new officers for 1952.

Won't each and everyone of you be sure to set September 17 aside and plan to attend our regular Unit meeting. This is a most important meeting as their will be election of officers.

Good news regarding Mary Del Barbal She has had her second operation and is now at home well on the way to recovery. Wouldn't be at all surprised to see her going at her usual busy pace within a very short time.

Lucky Isabelle Thoman is at present vacationing with her two daughters in California. They drove out but Isabelle and her one daughter will return home by train while the other daughter stays out there to work.

Still looking for news—call TE 1-3023 if you have any.

Telephone Calls Travel by Radio

For the first time, telephone conversations are being sent across the country by radio rather than by wire or cable. A new microwave radio-relay system placed in service recently by the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company provides this new voice skyway, vital to the civilian and military needs of the nation.

Built in about three years at a cost of $40,000,000, the project is the longest microwave system in the world, relaying calls along a chain of 107 towers, spaced about 30 miles apart.

This radio-relay route is the seventh telephone highway to cross the great western expanse of the country. Telephone engineers point out that the relay system will not replace other types of communications but will be used to supplement those now in operation.

The first transcontinental telephone system was an open wire line which was opened for service January 25, 1915. Since then, three other open wire lines, each capable of carrying dozens of calls simultaneously, and two cables, each containing hundreds of circuits, have spanned the continent over diverse routes.

In addition to the thousands of telephone calls which can be handled over the new microwave system, network television shows can also be transmitted. The system is already carrying TV programs as far west as Omaha, Neb., midway point in the 3,000-mile New York-San Francisco route. The western half of the route is expected to be equipped to handle coast-to-coast television by the end of next month.

With all of the different types of facilities now available—open wire, cable, and radio-relay along different routes—the nation is assured of continuous communications from coast to coast.

Kid Bits

By Nancy Kaser

On August 23 a bunch of kids gathered over at Glenna Howell's to wish Jack Demorest farewell, as he is moving to California. Besides Jack, those there included Sigrid Olson, Bill Taylor, Nancy Ault, Barbara Stoeckel, Pat Smith, Dale Petrosky, Annette Dana, Gary Dickson, Audrey Sneyge, Chuck Lamb, John DeGurse, Ann Blashill, Tom Schaible, Clem Martin, Barb Lowe, Stan Woodruff, Nancy Thomas, Dick Gallette, Marty McCormick, Eddie Wrobles, Mary Hoover, Midge Stapleton and Don Van Denbusche.

Recently Pat Smith entertained a group of girls at a swimming party and weiner roast at the Woods Park. Among those celebrating Pat's birthday were Nancy Thomas, Nancy Ault, Audrey Sneyge, Julie Trombley, Jane Boisford, Terry Kuhn, Glenna Howell, Ginny Halbrook, Mary Hoover, Sigrid Olson, Barbara Stoeckel, Bert Shaw, Ann Blashill, Lillian McMahon, Barb Lowe and Carol DeKorse.

Carol Lovelless' was the scene of a surprise coming-home party for "The Pfeiffer" given by Betsy Squint, Janet Delaney and Carol on Thursday night, August 23. Audrey Rheum, Craig Campbell, Nancy Ramsey, Bob Law, Janet Miles, Ronnie Beatty, Carol Ford, Chuck Sweet, Jean Witterker, George Bashara, Sue Squire, Dave Belfour and Bob Morgan are just a few we saw there.

To mark her 16th birthday, Barbara Lowe gave a luncheon Saturday, August 25, for several of her classmates. Julie Trombley, Bert Shaw, Sally Rae, Theresa Gozarrato, Margaret Stapleton, Mary Hoover, Pat Smith, Ann Blashill, Margie Payne, Janet Wotta, Nancy Thomas, were some invited to help celebrate. Others were Evie Button, Barb McGrath, Joan Carver, Jeremy Conway, Jane Boisford, Audrey Gayer, Nancy Ault, Barb Coombe, Donna Guimond, Ginny Halbrook, Virginia Scully, Audrey Sneyge, Glenna Howell, Sigrid Olsen, Ilene Bryant, and Barb Stoeckel.

On Sunday, August 26, Sue Armstrong, Carol Ford, Margaret Weaver, Maral Molyneux, Elaine Berard, Ann Watson, and Marilyn Stahl journeyed up to see Ginny Wieland, a former Grosse Pointe, who now lives in Fenton, Michigan, gave a picnic for the girls.

On Saturday, August 4, John Brabb invited Jim Davison 'n Elaine Kihen, Bob Walker 'n Ann Watson, Joe Murphy 'n Maral Molyneux, up to a beach party at his cottage. After dinner the kids played baseball on the beach.

Pat Smith served ice cream and cake at the Woods park on Tuesday, August 14, to mark her 16th birthday. Mary Hoover, Nancy Thomas, Barb Stoeckel, Audrey Sneyge, Glenna Howell, Margaret Stapleton, Barb Lowe, Roberta Shaw and Lillian McMahon were those there to enjoy it.

Another dinner-on-the-beach was given by Janet Fildew at her Canadian cottage Wednesday, August 15. Those there to enjoy it and who afterwards went into town to hear Vaughn Monroe were Louise Hutchins and Bill Whitney, Carolyn Wood and Harvey Keith and Janet's date Tony Lagamarsino.

Mary Hoover, Nancy Thomas, Barb Stoeckel, Audrey Sneyge, Sigrid Olsen, Nancy MacDonald, Joyce Ayling, Ann Blashill and Nancy Ault are just a few

If you enjoy guessing games you must find a divorced couple (whose last initials are the same at the moment) and theirs, They Say, will be one of the most popular remarriages soon...

Aren't we c-o-m-p-l-i-c-a-t-e-d!

The BEN WARRENS have an iron figure of a New Orleans coach boy standing near the entrance of their Edgemere road home... the kind often used as a hitching post 'cept where they use it, it's kind of close to bring the hoss... so we rode on by...

One of the chicest splashes of color at the Pointe can be found in the green gardens of MRS. DONALD DROLL whose home is at the corner of Williams and Moselle...

The gardener has caused a white wheelbarrow to be filled with spanking pink geraniums and ivy for wonderful effect!

We also vote for Mrs. Droll's touch... she decided she didn't want this Summer spoiled for her by the hammering and banging of a new home being built on the vacant lot across the street from her home... So she bought the vacant lot herself just to make sure!

Real Conservation Piece: The tiny walnut and cane rocking chair in the living room of the DONALD WARTENA home... belonged to the lovely Mrs. Wartena's Grandmother Calvert... Incidentally Missie W. is a Hollander...

We'll never see a more stunning woman than MRS. CHARLES F. NAVIN of Yorkshire road... and such a dazzling Contradiction!... She stepped from her home one evening last week Paris smart in dark suit and wonderful jewelry... She held the door open just long enough for us to get a whiff of the most heavenly perfume... Chili Sauce... which she had been cooking all afternoon...

One of the most maddening things which can happen to Whoozit is to be given a book the day before copy deadline...

Open on our desk as we try to do our work today is a volume, "English Society" (From the Time of Queen Elizabeth to the Present Day) written by a Mrs. Stone, who also authored, "The History of the Art of Needlework" it sez here.

Because we are so conscientious we must not do anything but perhaps glance for the smallest second through the subtitles of the chapters... hoping to start Pilfering for you next week from the fascinating volume... (Incidentally that "To the Present Day" we spoke of earlier means 1846)...

Mrs. Stone is The One, we can tell... for subtitled in her very first chapter we find "The Courts of William and Mary and Anne, not fashionable!... The Ignorance of Fashionable People!... Miss Tabitha Bramble's Letter... Men of Intrigue Preferred by Ladies... Marriage a Mere Tie of Convenience... Fashionable Ladies Supping at Tavern..."

Next Chapter:

Gaming Table, An Acknowledged Resource of People of Fashion... Fashionable Lady and Mr. Bickerstaff... Ladies of Rank Gamblers... Young Men of Fashion Ruined by Gaming... Whist and Loo... Loo at its Zenith... Lady Mary Wortley Montagu Introduced by Father at the Kit Kat Club... Belinda's Petticoat... A Pair of Hips... Death of Mrs. Selby... How Little is Known of Her... Outcry Against White Stockings... Gentlemen's Stays... Artificial Canary Birds... Industrious Fleas No Novelty... Dirty Habits of the Time... High Price Paid for Fine Hair... Lady Suffolk Sells Hers... Ingenious Mode of Stealing Men's Wigs... Slovenliness of Dress... Mode in Which Ladies Attended the Bath...

No, you may NOT borrow it until Whoozit has read every single drop...

MRS. STARK HICKEY OF TOURAINE ROAD

—Picture by Fred Runnels

It was like fitting the final piece into a jig saw puzzle when Mrs. Stark Hickey held up a pumpkin-toned leather cigaret box for the approval of Jack Navin and Bob Burckhalter the other day.

The dramatic moment took place aboard the Hickeys' 54 foot cruiser Star-Kick-Ee as it left the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club for the Old Club and Mrs. Hickey's eyes twinkled for she knew she held a prize.

You see Jack and Bob recently finished "doing" the cruiser for the Hickeys and there had remained just one object they all wanted for the main cabin—a cigaret box in the same pumpkin color used in the salon (along with a milk chocolate overtone).

The crowd aboard appreciated that the Star-Kick-Ee was really launched in that moment and toasted its future on the merry main.

New Star-Kick-Ee

Last winter when Mr. and Mrs. Hickey, Jack and Bob spent an evening together in Florida they described the new boat they had ordered.

They asked Jack and Bob to give some thought to what they could do to the main deck and interior cabins that would depart from the same old anchor, blue and white motif. The boat was to be different but (and this a charge from Mr. Hickey) not to be TOO different.

Through the Spring the youthful interior design team kept the Star-Kick-Ee in mind wherever they went and the result is that they have faithfully fulfilled the ideas of the artistic Mrs. Hickey... and produced the most delightful, practicable and modern cruiser interior imaginable!

So adaptable is the decor that it is a charming background for business stag sessions... afternoon canasta cruises... picnics up the lake... for guests who are invited for cocktails aboard and cruise smoothly to the Old Club for dinner and dancing.

Inviting

Guests are greeted by the captain at the flyaway steps of the cruiser anchored at the yacht club. They find the teakwood after deck an immediately inviting place with its reed chairs (cushions of striped pumpkin and creme shades) grouped before a wonderful deck chair done in leopard sailcloth. The deck chair was specially built of air-light aluminum but has the fascinating appearance of heavy white wrought iron.

The highlight of the after-deck is the custom built bar which precludes all the old going below for refills, etc., and never-ending Hickey hospitality is right there in a magic mahogany affair.

Incidentally, the captain did his best to explain to this unmechanical mind the electric-eye device which the Star-Kick-Ee boasts permitting controls to be set in such a fashion that the craft automatically pursues its course through the lakes!

Porch on Lake

Below, the main salon is like an informal terrace. Panelled in a fine light wood from Africa, portholes are covered with antique cotton taffeta beige-gray, blending with the same toned carpeting.

In one corner of the salon there is an arrangement of bamboo furniture in pumpkin and creme linen toile. The over-size aluminum coffee table has been covered in a contrasting kelly green leather and the same color is repeated in a Pewabic pottery lamp.

Across the room are specially built aluminum chairs, Chippendale style, with pumpkin corduroy seats.

The galley opens directly off the main salon, built-in table seats are done in bright yellow leather and at the portholes are white glazed chintz curtains spatter dashed in black, gray and brown.

Gray beige carpeting is carried through to the staterooms of the Star-Kick-Ee. A small guest cabin has black sailcloth covered bunk, with throw pillows and curtains of white chintz sprinkled with black, yellow and pumpkin snowflakes.

Pumpkin raw silk spreads cover the bunks in the master stateroom and on a dressing table are two magnificent antique metal figures. So perfect are they that Mrs. Hickey feels they must be antiques Jack "had built" to please her.

The figures (one a maid standing in half a boat... the other a sailor lad standing in the prow of a boat) have been sprayed white and made into lamps with yellow and pumpkin parchment shades. Nothing could be more appropriate for a craft as proud as the Star-Kick-Ee! Brilliant yellow drapes complete this cabin.

Mrs. Hickey performed the impossible in finding tailored though handsome heavy cigaret boxes and ash trays ideal for use on a cruiser and fully appreciated by the menfolk.

Two more things we feel are nautical news about the cruiser. First there are the steps leading below to the main salon. Mrs. Hickey decided it was just a bit of male whimsy that these are always built so that anyone larger than the seven dwarfs can't get down them without bending.

She and Mr. Hickey talked to the ship builders and lo! no more stooping and who can tell a land lubber from those with sea legs now.

Then, Mr. Hickey agreed with Jack and Bob that something of the interior of the craft should be found in its exterior so the hull has been painted cream and the topside is done in pumpkin.

SUMMER SQUASH AND ONIONS

Contributed by Mrs. Mark A. Beltaire III

To pep up a long time favorite hot weather vegetable, slice several tender Summer squash in quarter-inch-thick discs. For about four squash use as many silver skinned or sweet onions, sliced the same thickness.

In a skillet melt a generous amount of butter and then add the two vegetables. Simmer for a long time, till the vegetables are beginning to turn a golden brown, then season with salt and pepper and see how many servings the menfolk ask for.

Michigan is the nation's fourth largest producer of maple sugar and syrup. In one recent year, the value of these products from the state's sugar bush country totalled nearly one million dollars.
