HENRY FORD II, of Lake Shore road, giving the keynote speech at the ceremonies marking the opening of the annual United Foundations campaign, on the High School grounds last week, asked his fellow residents to get behind the effort which supports most of the charities in the Metropolitan Detroit area. He told his neighbors that the degree of success the Pointe achieves in meeting its obligations in the drive will be a true measuring stick of its community pride.

Farms Plans Parade for Taxpayers

Municipally-owned Equipment Will Be Displayed In Procession Sunday Afternoon

Residents of Grosse Pointe Farms will see a parade of the city equipment on Sunday, October 28, starting at 2 o'clock. The Farms Council, a special meeting Monday, October 22, voted to hold the parade to show the people what their money is being used for. The Council has named the display "Your Equipment On Parade."

The parade will start in front of the Municipal Building on Kerby, proceed down Kerby to Chalfonte, Beaupre, Charlevoix, Kercheval and then onto Lake Shore road and back to the Municipal Building. Orville Thrives in Hospital While Police Chief Beams

No clues have yet been found to the parentage of the baby which was found on October 11, abandoned on the steps of the William B. Cudlip home at 900 Lake Shore road. But he is not still nameless.

The infant, who doctors estimated was but four to five hours old when discovered by Miss Mary Cudlip, has been given the first name of the Grosse Pointe Shores police chief, Orville Ingalsbe. Chief Ingalsbe was one of the officers who answered the call to the Cudlip home and removed the infant to Cottage Hospital.

State law requires that a birth certificate must be registered within five days of a baby's birth, and it is desirable that a name be included. Faced with complying with this requirement, officials of the Children's Aid Society decided that it would be fitting indeed to name the youngster after the Shores chief. So

Campaign to Raise Funds For New Church Launched By St. Clare of Montefalco

Drive For Minimum of $250,000 Gets Under Way As Cornerstone of Beautiful New Edifice On Whittier Is Laid

Plans for a parish-wide building fund campaign directed at a minimum goal of $250,000 and to be conducted by the parishioners of the Augustinian Father's Church of St. Clare of Montefalco, 1401 Whittier, Grosse Pointe, have been announced. Father Philip L. Colgan, O.S.A., pastor of the church and honorary chairman of the drive, said that the proceeds of the campaign will be used to help defray the cost of the new St. Clare Church.

The church will be in the form of a Latin Cross and of contemporary architectural style. The seating capacity of the main floor of the fireproof building will be 1100, in addition to the seats in the gallery, choir and a basement, seating approximately 900. A clear view of the altar will be provided for every seat in the church.

Nursery to Have P. A.

There will be a separate room at one transept for mothers with babies. This will be enclosed with glass, and equipped with a public address system. The basement will be so arranged, it will alternately be used either for church, educational or general assembly purposes.

While the basement will have a permanent sanctuary with a stationary altar, part of the sanctuary will be able to be isolated by means of a fireproof curtain, thereby providing a large area that may be used as a stage. Heat will be provided through mains from the central heating plant in the school building. Both the upper and lower floors will be air-conditioned.

Statement by Pastor

In announcing the campaign Father Colgan, O.S.A., said: "We know that the construction of a new church will be a valued asset to the community in many ways. At this time when God and religion are so urgently needed in the life of our nation, this new church will make a far-reaching contribution in moulding the lives of young and old with a deep love for God and for their country. It will also serve to attach our people more firmly to their community."

The campaign will be an intensive drive during which teams of volunteer workers will visit their fellow parishioners. Local businesses, former and present friends of the parish will also be invited to participate. Preparations are moving rapidly ahead under the leadership of Fathers Philip L. Colgan, O.S.A., and Edward J. Sweeney, O.S.A.

Meetings Held

Initial campaign organization meetings have been held during the past three weeks. Father Colgan, O.S.A., has announced the selection of the leaders who will constitute the executive committee and spearhead the campaign. He announced the appointment of Frank A. Alter as general chairman of the drive with Joseph E. Bejin, Frank J. Coyle and Philip K. Mebus as associate chairmen.

Robbed of $25 For His Role Of Samaritan

Jack Wills Strongarmed By Pair of Soldiers For Whom He Provided Lift

In return for a good Samaritan act, Jack Willis, 38, of 19708 Lancaster, Gratiot Township, suffered the loss of $25 and received rough treatment from two soldiers.

Mr. Willis related his experience to Grosse Pointe Park police at 4:25 a. m. on Friday, October 19. He had stopped at the White Tower restaurant, 15009 East Jefferson, at about 3 a. m. for a cup of coffee.

Offers Them Ride While in the restaurant, he struck up a conversation with two soldiers and offered to take them to their base at the foot of Three Mile drive.

Upon arriving at their destination, the two soldiers, with the help of a third, strongarmed Mr. Willis. They stole $25.

When Park police checked at the base, they were told that all personnel was being transferred to Fort Custer. The authorities told police they would furnish the department with photographs of those soldiers who had been on leave at the time of the strong-arming.

Will See Pictures

Mr. Willis will attempt to identify his assailants from the photos. In the event that identification is made, police will secure warrants for the arrest of the identified parties, Chief Arthur E. Louwers, stated.

Beer Purchase Proves Costly

One of the trio arrested by Park police on October 20 for drinking beer in the rear of Defer School was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The juvenile involved, a 16-year-old boy, testified that the defendant had purchased the beer at a store in Detroit and had suggested the rear of Defer School as the place to consume it. John McMillan, 26, of 1507 Alter road, was arraigned before Judge C. Joseph Zelanger on October 20. He was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and ordered to pay a $35 fine or spend 30 days in jail.

Although he paid the fine, McMillan, on probation for robbery not armed, was held for the Probation Division of Recorder's Court.

Also involved was an 18-year-old soldier, who police permitted to return to his base. The juvenile, who had been driving the car, had consumed three bottles of beer, police said.

Police were alerted to the drinking session by a member of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. Police Chief Arthur E. Louwers cited this as an example of what an important part alert citizens play in aiding the police department.

Council Meeting Dates Changed

A resolution was passed at the last meeting of the Woods City Council, October 16, to change the day and time of the City Council meetings.

The approved resolution will change the meeting to the first and third Mondays of each month, at 7:30 in the evening, effective December 1.

This is the first change in the meeting time of the Council in 24 years. The council meetings are held at the Municipal Building, Mack at Anita avenue.

LUCKY YOUNGSTER

Richard Huggson of 92 Muir road, age 3, ran between parked cars Sunday, October 21, into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Mary O'Leary of 615 Lincoln, who was driving south on Muir road. Mrs. O'Leary rushed Richard to Cottage Hospital. He was released after examination.

Air Raid Wardens Given Instructions At First Meeting

Organization Must Function on Premises That Detroit Will Be Attacked, Says Lansing Pittman, Pointe Area Chief

The Pointe Civil Defense Organization should function on the premise that Detroit will be bombed, Lansing M. Pittman, Chief Air Raid Warden for the Pointe area, told the group assembled at the air raid warden meeting held Tuesday night at the Neighborhood Club.

Mr. Pittman cited the case of England, which if it had not been prepared would have been bombed out of existence. He also made reference to the equipment and personnel stationed by the Army in residential areas as evidence that a serious threat exists.

Show Sound Movie

A sound movie on survival under atomic attack was shown at the meeting. This film is owned by the Grosse Pointe civil defense authorities.

The meeting included a discussion of what progress has been made to date and an explanation of the muddle which has characterized the Pointe civil defense effort for some months.

Other Wardens Attended

Present at the meeting were Oscar Marks, chief air raid warden of Grosse Pointe Park; William Dunn, assistant air raid warden for the City of Grosse Pointe; William L. Newman, newly appointed civil defense director for Grosse Pointe Farms; Bill Marr, chief air raid warden for Grosse Pointe Woods; and Col. Walter Allard, assistant chief air raid warden for the Pointe area.

Gratiot Township, which is included in the Pointe civil defense program, was unable to send a representative to this meeting.

Separate Directors

The organizational plan for civil defense in the Pointe specifies that each municipality is to appoint its own director. The director in turn is to appoint a chief air raid warden. The air raid warden will then appoint two assistants. Therefore, each municipality will have a basic air raid warden group of three.

Block Wardens

Following the selection of the specified personnel, each community is to be cut into districts on the basis of population. The next task will be to enlist a volunteer warden for each block.

George Elworthy is civil defense coordinator for the Pointe and Lansing Pittman, chief air raid warden, Grosse Pointe Shores is not participating in this overall Pointe program.

Cooperation Needed

The cooperation of each citizen is needed for successful execution of the civil defense plan, it was stressed. The apathy of the general public in regard to civil defense has been cited throughout the nation as the chief impediment to progress.

An air raid warden organization meeting has been scheduled for Monday, November 5.

Garbage Disposal Ordinance Studied by Woods Council

An ordinance to require the installation of garbage disposal units in all the residential buildings in the City of Grosse Pointe Woods was proposed before the Woods Council by Councilman Arnold Dising at the October 16 meeting.

The proposed ordinance would require builders and residents to install one of these units in each home at a cost of $95.

They would be purchased through the City Engineer. The retail cost of these units is about $152. Payment would be either in cash or by paying on tax bills.

Garbage disposal now costs the Woods about $63,000 a year. This means it costs each resident an

News of Lieutenant Townsend's death was not made public until the details could be checked, the file on which is not yet complete.

Was Lead Bombardier

A lead bombardier with the 5th Air Force, he had completed 34 missions over Korea before his death. The night before the accident his plane had crashed landed after two motors had burned out. The crew made its way back to the base the following afternoon.

After dinner that night the crew was in the barracks, congratulating each other on their good fortune in escaping death. The famous Korean rats were particularly active and Lieutenant Townsend reached for a gun (Continued on Page 2) on the barracks wall, intending to kill one or more of the boldest vermin. He thought the gun was not loaded.

It discharged while he was taking it off the rack. Lieutenant Townsend died shortly before midnight.

Married in March
The Townsends had just been married in March before the lieutenant was sent to Korea. Of the 10 in his group which went overseas at that time, he is the fifth to have been killed. All of them have been buried in Korea and will not be brought back to this country, in accordance with an agreement made among themselves before they went into action.

Lieutenant Townsend was scheduled to get his captaincy appointment momentarily. He had recently foregone a rest period in Korea so it would shorten the time to his release and his return to his bride. He served three years as a bombardier in Italy during World War II.

He attended Valparaiso University in Indiana, and Concordia Seminary in Illinois. Other survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Townsend of Lake Worth, Fla., and a brother, Lieut. Stanley R. Townsend of Houston, Tex.

Scout Leaders To Hear Daume

Selden B. Daume, president and general chairman of Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner meeting of District 3, Boy Scouts of America.

The dinner meeting, to be held Wednesday night, November 7, in the cafeteria and auditorium of Denby High School, Kelly road at Grayton, is expected to attract 1,000 guests. It will be attended by leaders and their wives, representing all Boy Scout units in District 3, Detroit's second largest Scouting area.

District 3, on Detroit's East Side, is the triangle formed by the waterfront, Eight Mile road, Outer drive, and Bellevue. The district embraces five communities: Denby, Jackson, Western, Southeastern, and Grosse Pointe.

Lee J. Scott, 562 Sunningdale drive, Grosse Pointe, Chairman of District 3, will preside. Ben Marsh, president of the Detroit Area Council of Boy Scouts, will assist Mr. Scott.

Highlighting the meeting will be a tribute to the 41 Eagle Scouts of 1951, presentation of Scouter Awards, and two awards of the Silver Beaver, one of Scouting's highest honors.

Antique Exhibit To Help Needy

When the curtains go up on the fourth annual Goodwill Antique Show and Sale on Nov. 4, collectors and others interested in early Americana will see one of the most unusual exhibits of its kind ever held in Detroit.

In addition to what promises to be the largest Goodwill Antique Show to date, with about 35 exhibitors displaying their antiques, the show will be also embellished with an unusual atmosphere of by-gone days. A booth certain to attract attention will be the Country Store with its display of merchandise which intrigued the shopper at the turn of the century—pointed shoes, corn cob pipes, old-fashioned candies in striped paper bags, an assortment of cheeses, red flannel underwear and scores of other articles.

The candy display will be particularly reminiscent of the mouth-watering sweets which captivated the eyes of youngsters many years ago. Twisted horehound, maple sugar drops, divinity fudge, licorice sticks and seafoam are just a few of the many delicacies which will be sold in that particular booth.

Another welcome addition will be dozens upon dozens of floral arrangements dotting the entire first floor of the new Goodwill plant at 6522 Brush, where the show will be held.

This year tasty pastries will be added to the usual snack menu at the refreshment booth, to be known as The Dutch Oven. Serving the customers will be Junior Goodwillers garbed in red and white Dutch caps and crispy, snowy aprons.

Proceeds from the four-day show will be used to buy needed new equipment for the handicapped employees at the Goodwill training shop. This year the Goodwill members hope to top previous returns and are adding an extra day to the usual three-day exhibit, which will get underway Nov. 4 and continue through Nov. 7.

State Building $52,000 Bridge Over Vernier Road

Construction on the Milk river bridge over Vernier road began last week, it was announced by Fred R. Russell, project engineer for the State Highway department. Mr. Russell said the new $52,000 bridge will be under construction until sometime in January.

He hopes there will be no delays due to the steel shortage. If this happens, Mr. Russell said they will put in a temporary structure until steel is available.

Vernier road traffic has been re-routed to keep heavy commercial traffic off the residential streets. Philip Allard, Woods city administrator, has received a few complaints of trucks using the residential streets. Woods police have been instructed to stop all heavy commercial vehicles from using them.

The new bridge will be of T-beam construction and will be built level with the road. This new construction will increase the flow of water during flash storms about 250 per cent.

The State highway department said it will remodel other bridges in the Woods area. This is in cooperation with the Woods flood program. The State has not announced any definite plan it will follow.

The cost of the new bridge will be paid for by the State Highway Department.

Police Catch Up With Motorist

A witness supplied Park police with the license number of Edward E. Davis, of 13025 East Jefferson, Detroit, who police have charged with leaving the scene of a property damage accident on October 16.

Davis, who had been driving west on Charlevoix, made too wide a right turn onto Somerset road, causing the car to jump the northwest curb.

After knocking down a stop street sign, the car continued north between the sidewalk and the curb and damaged a city-owned tree in front of 1403 Somerset, witnesses told police.

The car then careened to the opposite side of the street, coming to rest on the side drive of 1410 Somerset.

Protect your paper even BEFORE hanging

We are pleased to announce a new and guaranteed method for the protection of all wall coverings. This entirely different approach to the problem of coating or "treating" your wallpaper is based on experimentation and test proven findings of men who have devoted a lifetime to the hanging of fine wall coverings. They believe, and we concur in this belief, that it is a far wiser policy to test and also coat your wallpaper before hanging than to find out after hanging that a coating cannot be applied. Now what happens after coating? Well, we have personally tested papers with COMMON DIRT, OIL, LIPSTICK, BUTTER and other usually harmful materials and just one washing with regular household cleansers restores the surface to its original beauty and color, and it can be washed and washed.

May we have the pleasure of showing you coated samples in our display and further explaining the wonderful advantages of this new and unique process of WALLPAPER PROTECTION. The charge for this service is very nominal.

Village Merchants Announce Fall Pageant of Fashions

The shop owners of Kercheval avenue, in the Village, are devoting a page in the NEWS today to tell the story of Grosse Pointe's fashion eminence and to emphasize the completeness of the selections always available within a few minutes from home. Twenty-two shops are represented in this effective presentation of "The Village's" shopping advantages.

Four great apparel shops invite your attention to their extensive stocks of fall fashions... Walton-Pierce, Jacobson's, Penthouse and Winkelman's. Nowhere in the Detroit area will you find more comprehensive selections of high fashion apparel.

Proper's and Young's... the Village's shops for men... have brought their stocks to a peak for late October and early November.

Ryon's cosmetic and drug establishments... Kopp's Grosse Pointe Drug, Notre Dame Pharmacy and Cunningham's... are prepared at all times to provide items for your personal needs.

For home furnishings in the best of taste, turn to Haydon House; for jewelry of excellence, it's York's.

Ryon's features juvenile footwear and women's sport shoes; Ethel K. Donovan specializes in children's fashions.

The Village has two widely famed beauty establishments with large clientele. They are Louis, Hair Stylist, and the Yvonne Salon.

Jerry Harden's was the scene of an after-the-game party. Joyce Blashill and Nels Jensen, Nancy Hall and Don Bulton, Pat Danaher and Glenn Thompson, Margie Cantalupo and Joe Buehl, Susie Slimon and Mae McNair, Janet Miles and Ronnie Beatty, and Audrey Rheame and Craig Campbell discussed the game back at Jerry's.

Another party after the game was a slumber party given by Barb Houston. Those who spent the night at Barb's were Sigrid Olsen, Judy Zeeb and Sally Sealby.

Lillian Bundeson was surprised at a dinner party last Saturday night when she came home from M.C. Carol Fredericks, Emo Harding, Janice Gelhaar, Patti Lee, Janet Holtz, Loaz Zay Sheridan, Ellie Frizzell, Jimmie Ewart, Hank Hubbard, Dale Ewart, Bruce Crowley, Bob McClean, Lyndon Babcock, Don Coury, Dick Groening are just a few who enjoyed seeing Lillian again.

For tempting foods and delicacies, Davidson's Market is well known throughout the Pointe. The outstanding restaurant is Village Manor, with a reputation for the excellence of its cuisine. The Village's one and only television and radio store is Jack O'Conner, who specializes also in phono records and reproducers. Fromm's has large stocks of general hardware, together with sporting goods and tools, as well as a section of special gifts.

The shops we have mentioned, along with others, go to round out Kercheval Village as a most complete and closely concentrated shopping-center, all within a few steps of the Village's free parking facilities.

Methodists Plan Family Supper

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will hold another of its regular family night suppers at the church, 211 Moross road, on this Friday, October 26, at 6:30. This is a Halloween dinner and children can come in costume, if they wish.

HOW MICHIGAN'S MOST POPULAR HEALTH PLAN WORKS

It protects 2,400,000 people in this state against hospital and surgical bills for a few cents a day per person. Here are the facts:

- When sickness or accident strikes... if you are a member of Blue Cross-Blue Shield Comprehensive Group Plans, you need only to show your membership card to be admitted to any one of 192 Michigan hospitals participating in these plans. There's no delay—no red tape—no advance deposits. You are free from financial worry—and all because you have paid just a few cents a day.
- You get more benefits with Blue Cross-Blue Shield Comprehensive Group Plans. For example, Blue Cross covers up to 120 days of hospital care... no cash limit for a wide range of hospital "extras" including drugs and dressings, physical therapy, etc. Blue Shield pays liberal stated amounts to your doctor for more than 480 surgical procedures.
- This year one out of every nine persons will go to the hospital. Unexpected bills can mean the end of hard-won family savings. Often it's necessary to go into debt to meet them. That's why no one can afford to be without Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection—protection that costs so little and can save you hundreds, yes, even thousands of dollars.

Ask your employer today about installing the Blue Cross - Blue Shield program where you work. No physical examination or health statement required. Companies with as few as five employees may be eligible for Blue Cross - Blue Shield Comprehensive Group Protection.

Michigan's hospitals and doctors themselves run Blue Cross - Blue Shield. Guard against today's high cost of sickness—with Blue Cross - Blue Shield. It's the best protection at lowest possible cost—the hospitals' and doctors' own NON-PROFIT HEALTH PLANS for the welfare of the public.

Mrs. Thomas T. Petzold Opens Her Edgemont Park Home Today for Last of Report Meetings Preceding Detroit Opera Week; Pointers on Committees

Grosse Pointers are taking an active part in Detroit's music revival and the latest interest—Opera Festival Week opening Tuesday, Nov. 13, at Masonic Auditorium and continuing through Nov. 18—has inspired four progress report teas by an energetic women's committee.

The last of these is being held today (Thursday) at the Edgemont Park home of Mrs. Thomas T. Petzold for Grosse Pointe members of the women's committee.

The Opera Festival this year brings to Detroit for the first time the widely heralded and astonishingly successful New York City Opera Company, directed by Laslo Halasz, to be heard in seven operas during the local appearance.

Mrs. James J. McEvoy, Jr., and Mrs. William M. Walker, Jr., are general chairmen of the women's committee. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Philip D. Dexter and Mrs. J. S. Leszynski while Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom and Mrs. John N. McLucas are serving as vice-chairmen.

Grosse Pointe members of the advisory board include Mrs. John Lord Booth, Mrs. John Conway Cook, Mrs. Frank W. Coolidge, Mrs. James W. Lee, II, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, Mrs. Reginald T. Murphy, Mrs. Thomas T. Petzold, Mrs. J. Rex Queeney, Mrs. Charles Z. Terris and Mrs. William C. Tost.

tickets to the operas, orchid corsages, sets of librettos for the operas in this season's repertoire, opera albums, records autographed by opera stars and autographed copies of Milton Cross' book, "Complete Stories of the Great Operas."

Mr. Cross, incidentally, is returning for his third consecutive engagement as commentator during Detroit's Opera Festival Week. He is a favorite with Pointers who have long been in his audience when he comments during Metropolitan Opera radio performances.

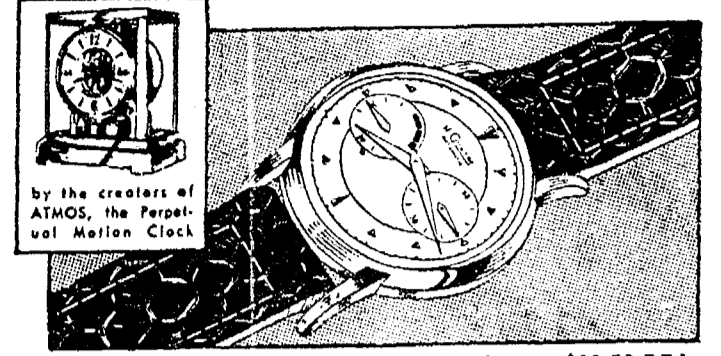

Detroit's annual opera week is made possible through civic-minded business and professional people, private citizens and women's groups—all members of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, a non-profit organization.

Grosse Pointe is further represented on the association's roster of officers and board of directors. James McEvoy, Jr., is secretary. Board members include Steven J. Jay, Laurence V. Britt, Robert L. Bass and vice-chairman of the financial committee and Earl I. Heenan is Donald Thurber.

What a terrific game! The St. Paul Flyers played their best game of the season last Sunday when they trounced St. Mary's of Mount Clemens, the league leaders, 6-0. Congratulations Team!

Watching with awe the spectacular display of football strategy were Diane Cetlinski, Lou Ann Moxley, Jeanne Sharrow, Connie Molitor, Jim Hoskins, Dee Athman, Pat Westrick, Julie Schumaker, Mary Ellen Beaupre, Tom Tapert, Shirley Finchman, Carol Plourde, Dee Wise, Blanche Finney, Gene Kornmeier, Rosemary Hanzel, Janet Wruble, Sydnee Smith, Donna Mayo and Bob Backman.

Also entranced in the game were Lynne Van Tien, Mary Southerland, Sandra Smith, David McCarron, Evelyn Piche, Arlene Froelich, Marilyn McEachin, Joan Marks, Audrey Hillebrand, Jim Haly, Lou Ann Nelson and Barb Stein.

Last Saturday Joan Heidt invited some of her sophomore friends over for a slumber party. Those who really didn't get much slumber, but did get a lot of gossiping in were Marilyn Blondell, Claire Lenz, Barb Stein, and Sandra Knack.

Munching potato chips and hot dogs Marilyn, D'Hooghe, Joyce Zemper and Barbara Unti seemed to enjoy the unusual pastime of watching the sun come up.

On Friday the annual Boys Town-Catholic Central game took place. Those who saw wildly cheering the visiting Boys Town team on were Mary Allor, Dee Wise, Peg Sharpe, Ann Reed, John Barton, Louie Giest, Gene Reynolds, Bob Galette, Mary Del Barba, Rosemary Janowski, Joe Meier, Jim Houlihan, Bob Walker and Tom Tapert.

Also making the stands ring with their cheers were Jack Trombly, Gary Fett, Tim Champagne, Rose Ann Blondell, Lee Elsey, Janet Wruble, Alice Weot, Sydnee Smith, Don Behringer, Jerry Heckendorn and Bob Magee.

Since our Senior-Freshman dance was so generously patronized by many of our friendly rivals from St. Ambrose, some of the Paulites thought they'd return the gesture. As a consequence, Marilyn Sutherland and Glenn Walters, Arlene Froelich and Mickey Endres, Connie Molitor and Joe Loeffler, Bev Rago and Pete Schummer, and Ann Haculla and Marv Goosen enjoyed an evening of dancing last Friday at which the St. Ambrose Seniors were the hosts.

Remember Sunday we play our last football game of the season. Let's see you all there!

Barbara Jean Wood, Daughter of Mrs. Logan Thomas Wood, and Bridegroom to Live on Farley Drive Following Trip; Ceremony in Wesley Chapel

Mr. and Mrs. Chester John Myers will be at home before the end of October in Farley drive just this side of Mt. Clemens.

Their marriage took place last Saturday afternoon (a particularly beautiful and golden day for a wedding) at an informal ceremony in Wesley Chapel of the Metropolitan Methodist Church.

Members of the two families were present when the former Barbara Jean Wood, daughter of Mrs. Logan Thomas Wood of Lake Shore lane and the late Mr. Wood, was given in marriage by her brother, Walter W. Wood.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Charles Robert Cook and the late Mr. Cook.

Barbara's ice blue taffeta frock had a high neckline finishing the tucked bodice. A fan shaped accordion pleat distinguished the front skirt. Her hat was a tiny navy affair encrusted in ice blue sequins and bugle beads with wisp of a shaped veil. She carried white stephanotis surrounding a white rubrum lily with trailing ivy and tufts of ice blue tulle caught in the bouquet.

Mrs. Williams J. Champion Jr. was her sister's only attendant. As matron of honor she donned a winter white moire gown with tiny and demure high collar of black velvet. Her flowers were champagne toned rubrum lilies. Barbara's brother, Donald C. Wood, assisted as best man.

For the wedding, Mrs. Wood chose a jacket frock of navy faille, its small black velvet collar scrolled in black silk braiding. Her corsage was composed of pink rubrum lilies.

The mother of the bridegroom wore an all black costume and her flowers were gardenias. Following the ceremony, the wedding party came back to the Pointe and at Lochmoor Club were entertained at a wedding dinner by the bride's mother.

Members of the family sat at a U-shaped table covered with embroidered white cloth and centered by a crystal candelabra holding white tapers. Cut crystal vases held arrangements of all white mums and snapdragons.

The bride's table was also in all white.

When the young couple left on a Northern wedding trip, the new Mrs. Myers traveled in a pale blue and brown houndstooth check wool suit with small pale blue velour hat and brown accessories.

When they return they will occupy their new home on Farley drive.

Among family members who came from out of town for the ceremony were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Charles P. Jones of St. Clair, Mich., and Mrs. R. W. Boston of Franklin, Mich., and her cousin, Mrs. Donna Saunders of Windsor.

attending Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., has been pledged by Tau Alpha fraternity.

NANCY CHAPMAN of Provençal road was appointed to represent the alumnae at an autumn tea honoring the students of the Detroit Commercial College and their mothers, held in the Woman's City Club on Wednesday, October 24.

To Offer Advice On Decorating

Bruce B. Bradshaw, counselor on decorating and fine furniture, will be the speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Doris White Groups of the Methodist Church on November 6 at 8 p.m. at the church, 211 Moross road, in the social hall.

Mr. Bradshaw has chosen "Home Highlights" as his topic—an informal discussion covering the principles which should be applied in choosing the style and furnishings for a home.

It is his opinion that attractive rooms are not so much a matter of how much you spend but rather applying good taste in the selecting of colors, style, fabrics and accessories—then blending all elements together into a pleasing effect. Fabrics rich in texture and color and decorating accents are used in illustrating the talk.

Protestant Reformation Festival Set for Sunday

The Fifth Annual Protestant Reformation Festival will be held at the Masonic Temple auditorium on Sunday, October 28 at 4 p. m. The principal speaker will be Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, world renowned radio preacher, president of the Hall of Fame and pastor of Christ Methodist Church, New York City.
Admission will be free; no tickets being required. Doors will be open at 3 p. m.

Congratulations

MRS. SALOME CHIERA, who was 102-years-young yesterday, is gravely concerned about the chaotic state of world affairs. Her most fervent hope is that nations will see the light and that peace will reign on earth.

Mrs. Chiera, who resides at 832 Notre Dame with a niece, Miss Julia Jolian, celebrated her birthday with a family dinner at her home. Later in the evening a host of friends stopped in to celebrate with her.

In preparation for the event, she had a permanent wave. This year a new great, great granddaughter, Sally Lou Charvat, born August 2, was on hand for the celebration. Mrs. Chiera has three other great, great grandchildren, Richard and Thomas Manardo, children of her great granddaughter, Mrs. Virginia Manardo; and Linda Charvat, daughter of her great grandson, Louis Charvat, of Allard road.

Mrs. Loris Charvat of York-shire road, Mrs. Chiera's granddaughter, is the daughter of Mrs. Chiera's only son, William, who died in 1909 in an automobile accident. Robert Charvat is another great grandson.

Grant-D'Hondt Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. Julius D'Hondt, of St. Clair avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bernice Mary, to Robert Gerald Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Grant, of Fisher road.

Both are graduates of Grosse Pointe High School. The bridegroom-elect is a senior in metallurgy at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. He is affiliated with Theta Tau Fraternity.

A date has not been set for the wedding.

Tippet Switch Causes Tizzy

The switch of the fur jackets is Grosse Pointe's most baffling mystery and the Country Club is trusting that autumn's next chill day will bring a solution.

One of the ladies, attending the Washington Cathedral Association luncheon at the club, last Friday, in the haste of leaving took a jacket which looked much like her own but which belonged to another of the guests.

She left her jacket, which is being held at the Country Club. The manager will gladly give the Mystery Lady's own fur back to her in exchange for the ones she wore home by mistake.

Congresswoman To Speak Nov. 2

The Honorable Katharine St. George, Congresswoman from New York, will address Republican women of Wayne County at a meeting to be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on Friday, November 2, at the Veterans Memorial Building.

The meeting will be attended, by leaders of the party and Mrs. Homer Ferguson will be the honor guest.

The meeting is sponsored by the women of the Wayne County Republican Committee, presidents of all Wayne County Women's Republican Clubs, women members of the State Central Committee and women representatives of congressional districts.

Newcomers Club Holds Elections

At a recent smorgasbord at Memorial Church the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club elected officers for the coming year and laid plans for the coming social season.

The new officers are: president, Charles F. Trapp; vice-president, Dr. V. E. Kinsey; secretary, Mrs. Robert Sutton, and treasurer, Lewis Lesinger. Mrs. Clare Goodsell will be the social chairman, and Mrs. James Vaughan the membership chairman.

The new officers have planned the following parties for the remainder of this year; October 26 a bride party in Miller Hall under the chairmanship of Mrs. Goodsell; November 16, the Alumni dance with Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Blackwood as chairman; November 30 to be announced, and on December 14 the annual Christmas dance.

The success of the first party of the year was enhanced by the presence of four new couples, Mr. and Mrs. George Cutler of Fairway lane; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kinzey of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sinclair of Grayton road, and Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of Littlestone road. Any residents who are new in the Grosse Pointe area and are interested in obtaining information concerning the Newcomers organization may call Mrs. James Vaughan at TUxedo 1-8912.

Red Cross Asks For Volunteers

Mrs. Torrey Shallcross, volunteer chairman of Red Cross Nurse's Aide Service, is making an earnest appeal to women interested in volunteer work to join a new nurse's aide class starting Monday, November 5, at the Red Cross building, 153 E. Elizabeth.

It is a six weeks' course, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and is open to women 18 to 35 who can give one day a week, or 300 hours a year, for volunteer service in a hospital or at the Red Cross blood center.

Mrs. Shallcross, a former Grosse Pointe, is devoting most of her spare time at present to building up an adequate corps of volunteers in her department.

"There is a tremendous need for nurse's aides both in the hospitals and at the blood center," said Mrs. Shallcross. "We are trying to bring back as many former aides as possible as well as train new ones, but still we have been unable to meet the demand. It is a wonderful opportunity for service. Not since World War II has the need for additional volunteers in the Red Cross been so great."

Those interested are asked to call Nurse's Aide Service, WO. 1-3900, and arrange for an interview any week day between 10 and 4.

Special Showing At Jacobson's

The superb tailoring and rich woollens of Great Britain come to Jacobson's Monday in a special trunk showing of the entire 1952 Spring line of famous Chester Barrie coats and suits.

This quality line of loomed-in-England casual clothes is noted for those two outstanding fabrics—Pashm Cloth, a special blend of the finest cashmere and imported woollens; and Victoria Covert, a remarkably long-wearing fabric originally woven for the livery of Queen Victoria and later adopted by the royalty of continental Europe for personal wear.

This special showing, under the direction of Miss Muriel Albert, Chester Barrie's New York representative, will feature buttersoft tweeds and checks in classic styles with that timeless quality that is so definitely British, yet carefully patterned to please and flatter the most discriminating American women.

A limited number of advance orders will be accepted at the showing Monday.

FOR SALE

The Beach Rambler was designed for good and easy living with little or no strain on the lady of the house. Furthering this same idea, The Bedell Co. carefully planned the color schemes and selected fabrics to complement and harmonize the interior with the lovely view of the lake.

One enters a slate floored hall from which the living room, activities room and three bedrooms are easily accessible. The combined living and dining area is decorated in the refreshing colors of aqua-grey for the walls, grey carpeting and white antique satin floral draperies.

Our master bedroom is startling in coral and white and here again the fabric was chosen for beauty and wear. The antique satin draperies have a non-tarnishable metallic thread running horizontally throughout.

The Boys' room is a young cowboy's dream in green and yellow with ten gallon hats and six shooters on the cornice.

Lovely Treasure Island pattern draperies complement the chartreuse guest room.

Be sure to notice the lovely window treatments and unusual cornices. We might mention even the garage has not been neglected at is has leather cornices and traverse leather draperies.

How Is Your Conscience?

Some discouraging tales have come to our attention concerning the apathy with which canvassers for the United Foundation Campaign are being greeted in some Pointe houses.

One woman, the mother of three young children who give her pretty crowded days at home, volunteered to help out and was assigned a list of 15 homes in her neighborhood. She has completed her report, having spent several hours of each day during a full week, making call-backs on request and repeat visits to residences where she found no one at home. After finally succeeding in making contacts at every house on her list, she was able to report a total of one dollar collected.

A canvasser could do better making the rounds of Skid Row flop houses. And this happened in Grosse Pointe.

It is true that we are still called upon to support many charitable movements that are not affiliated with the United Foundation. Solicitations seem endless. But they would be far more frequent were it not for the joining of some 150 health and community service organizations in this one campaign. So far, the Detroit Plan of combining these many individual drives into one great campaign has been a tremendous success. So much so that it is being copied in many other cities.

But unless all the people stay behind the idea and support it to the very best of their ability, it will fail and we shall be forced to return to the old system of each organization conducting its own plea for funds. This is the selfish side of the picture.

On the other side lies the fact that countless thousands of the unfortunate are depending on us for help. The maimed and the halt, the blind, the aged and the crippled, the destitute widow, the mentally ill, the abandoned children and the many others who are always a part of the society in which we live, cannot exist, let alone live useful lives, without the aid which the Torch Fund provides.

It may never be known by others than the canvasser who comes to your door, whether or not you have given some concrete expression of the compassion which should lie in every heart. And you can probably fool the solicitor by saying you have already given at your place of business. But you cannot hide from your own conscience.

Service on Parade

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms will conduct an interesting experiment this Sunday afternoon when it will give its residents a visual demonstration of how a good many of their tax dollars are used. The city will put practically all of its rolling stock into a parade which will traverse most of the main streets and give the whole community a view of the municipally-owned equipment.

"It should be more interesting and certainly more understandable to the average person than a financial report," said Clerk Harry Furton.

In addition to conveying to the public an idea of what it costs to equip a modern city, the parade is also expected to make the citizenry appreciative of the many fine pieces of apparatus which are provided for their protection and service.

Rolling around the Farms for approximately an hour will be the city's two administrative cars, five police scout cars, the new ambulance, the two big new pieces of fire apparatus, emergency fire pickup truck, eight big trucks used for collecting garbage and rubbish, three tractors, a street sweeper, a semi-truck and a combination loader and tractor truck. In all, the rolling stock represents an investment of at least $150,000.

The residents need have no fear of their fire and police apparatus being tied up in a parade when it might be needed for an emergency. All of the police cars and one of the fire trucks are equipped with radio and they will be in constant touch with the central radio transmitter in the police headquarters in the Municipal Building. If the need arises, any piece of equipment would simply have a flying start towards the place of emergency.

"O rose thou art sick:
The invisible worm
That flies in the night,
In the howling storm,
Has found out thy bed
Of crimson joy,
Does thy life destroy."
(William Blake)

Last Saturday afternoon when all the stay-at-home football addicts were watching their favorite sport on television, we found a t-v station that carried Western Movies instead of the ball. TWO whole Westerns we saw, complete with cowboys, saloons, dancing girls, guns, crooked deputies and honest marshals, the villain with the black moustache and the hero with his guitar, white Stetson and fancy vest. It was more fun than you can shake a stick at and we felt, particularly at home when during the "half" a nice motherly announcer appeared and said, "Now wasn't that a good movie boys and girls?" She then produced (for her sponsor) a large bologna which she proceeded to convert into "man-sized" sandwiches . . . telling the "kiddies" the while, to be sure to get mother to buy some of Thingamebob's bologna. We felt so y-o-u-n-g! A pox on football.

This is for beauty shop owners and operators. Last week we met a young woman who had the loveliest dark, soft, "glossy" hair we have ever seen. Not the one to mine words when it comes to information, we asked her bluntly what she used for a shampoo. She told us just as bluntly, that she uses and always has used . . . Fels Naphtha! When we picked ourselves up off the floor, we were advised by other women present, that a LOT of people use Fels Naphtha soap for washing their hair. Where have we been all these years? When we were a girl in short pants, F-N was used exclusively in the kitchen for dishes, pots, pans, floors, sinks and what have you . . . but HAIR, never!

When we think of all the things on the market for shampooing, that contain special ingredients that are necessary for the hair and scalp . . . to say nothing of the personalized mixtures in the salons de beauté all over the world . . . well, our eyebrows are WAX UP TO HERE! Fels Naphtha indeed. However, the result looked so good on this little woman, that we are seriously thinking of not only trying IT . . . but also dumping a little "20 Mule Team Borax" in our hair water to see what that will do for our skin instead of million dollar bath oils. Never can tell. We might even brush our teeth with Bon Ami. If anything good comes of it, we'll let you know.

Gas station attendants are called upon to do many things, but the following is the oddest we've heard yet. Last week, two charming matrons of the local lobster and caviar set were scheduled to appear at a "good works" gathering downtown. They decided to lunch at Al Green's on the way down, and while there, had themselves a couple of martinis to fortify them against the rigors of the afternoon's work. On leaving the place after lunch, they suddenly thought that breathing gin down the neck of a stiff dowager might not sit so well with their reputations, so they stopped in a drug store and bought some of those new fangled pills that are supposed to make you "reek" like a lady instead of like a skid row bum.

After taking the pills, the "girls" were still not sure of themselves, so they stopped at a gas station to get loaded . . . (the car this time) and asked the station attendant to take a nose test to see if they would pass muster! That good man did as he was bid, then gave them a clean bill of health. They tipped him generously, and went merrily on their way to the good works project!

The other night we looked at a television program called "Strike It Rich." It seems that poor folk with problems and no money write in to be helped and if the "answerer" chosen by the program answers the questions correctly (for the person writing in), that person gets the cash. A very nice idea but a badly staged show. For instance, the night we heard it, some woman had written to say that she had several children, her husband couldn't earn enough money to support them, she was ill to boot . . . and they all lived in a one room shack with one window, etc., etc., etc.

The person chosen to answer the questions for . . . we'll call her Mrs. Dokes . . . had the correct answer on the tip of the tongue almost before the question was out. That's okay, too . . . except that in the middle of the quizzing, the emcee looked right out at us and you and you and you . . . and said, "Listen carefully now Mrs. Dokes . . . this is for YOU!" Several things entered our mind.

With all that poverty, could it be that Mr. and Mrs. Dokes and their children were huddled around their television set? Twenty-inch screen, maybe? Or had they gathered at the home of friends who have a television? If so, could not these friends lend them a helping hand to tide them over, by selling their t-v set? Or could it be that Mrs. Dokes wasn't listening at all and our emcee was just making sport . . . or maybe old man Dokes hid himself down to the corner saloon to see the show? It gives us pause for a lot of thought and what we're thinking . . . we don't like!

A Grosse Pointe woman giving a small but (to her) rather important dinner party recently, was thrown for a curve when the after dinner coffee was served in the drawing room. Coffee in an old Queen Anne silver service, to be poured in old Sevres china cups. Madame asked each guest in turn what he or she would like in the coffee . . . and proceeded to dispense the sugar and cream as ordered. When she started to pour the coffee (NOT wearing her glasses), one of the guests remarked, "My that coffee looks weak!" Madame donned her glasses. It was indeed weak. The maid had filled the coffee urn with hot water to warm it up first and forgot to remove the water before bringing the coffee tray into the drawing room. And so it goes.

Burning Leaves Burning Money

"Burning leaves is burning money." Leaves you rake up this fall can go to work for you in your garden producing stronger plants or bigger vegetables next year—saving fertilizer money and getting more from your gardening efforts.

A compost pile of decayed leaves is recommended by Professor Harlow C. Whittemore, chairman of the University of Michigan Department of Landscape Architecture, as an ideal much.

Wire screen can be set up to hold the leaves or, if you prefer a digging chore, a pit about four or five feet deep will serve, Professor Whittemore said. The enclosure or pit should be six to eight feet in diameter for large gardens and for small ones five to six feet across.

Pile the leaves about a foot deep in the enclosure. Scatter an inch of black soil over the leaves mixing them a little. The Michigan professor explained that the soil contains bacteria—the bugs that will work on the leaves and speed decay.

Next cover the leaves with a generous application of chemical fertilizer, use about 25 pounds for this layer. Then over this a thinner layer of finely ground limestone or sifted coal ashes. Eight to ten pounds of lime or ashes will be enough for each layer of leaves.

Repeat these layers until the pile is about four feet high. Dampen it down, but don't soak it too much, Professor Whittemore cautioned. After this wetting down the rains will keep it moist.

Corn cobs, twigs and small branches, vegetable garbage that is not greasy, and weeds can be thrown into the mixture.

"Don't worry about the weed seeds in this fertilizer, the weeds will come up in the garden anyway," he said.

In the spring dig or plow the compost into the ground. Use this about two inches thick, he reported. It can be used on top of the ground in summer around shrubs and trees to save watering and cultivating; then dig it into the ground in the fall for fertilizer.

By repeating the process every year the soil will be built up enormously, Professor Whittemore said.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

"This is the night o' Hallow'en
When o' the witchie might be seen;
Some o' them black, some o' them green,
Some o' them like a turkey bean,—"

And here we are with Hallow'en just around the corner.

The Hallow'en customs of today have several alleged origins, which reflect Roman, Druid and Christian influences.

On November 1, the Romans had a feast to Pomona, the Goddess of fruits and seeds and it was then that the stores laid up in the summer, for use in the winter, were opened. Hence nuts and apples are appropriately used at this time.

The Druids also celebrated a great autumn festival the first of November, known as Samhain or "Summer's End." Huge fires were built to honor the Sun God and the bon-fires and torch parades of today are no doubt a reflection of this ancient custom.

With Christianity, the Eve of Samhain came to be known as Hallow'en. Originally this festival burgeoned an atmosphere of fear. All sorts of rituals were performed to keep off evil spirits. There was a strong belief in the supernatural. A Welsh proverb goes—"On November Eve there is a bogey on every stile."

But what was once a ceremony of belief has now become a thing of sport. Its observances today are all a jest with the young people, a welcome excuse to make merry.

For a time a spirit of rowdiness superseded the kindly old customs. To offset this a committee is formed each year in Grosse Pointe to make Hallow'en a night of fun for youth. The members are to be commended for the excellent job they are doing.

Perhaps you are planning a Hallow'en party at home this year. If games and good things to eat pose a problem, or if you are struggling with costumes for Junior, your library will be glad to help you.

There are several books on the subject of costumes and in addition there are pictures and pamphlets in our files to provide suggestions.

HOMEMADE DOLLS IN FOREIGN DRESS, by Nina Jordan, gives the native costume of fifteen countries.

A LITTLE BOOK OF HALLOW'EEN, by Elizabeth Sechrist, contains ideas for games and stunts as well as some Hallow'en stories.

HEIGH HO FOR HALLOW'EEN by this author has been on order for some time and we hope will be on our shelves in time to be of use.

In Joseph Leeming's HOLIDAY CRAFT AND FUN there are easily followed plans for Hallow'en decorations, invitations, favors, costumes, masks and games.

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS; stories for Hallow'en and other times by Wilhelmina Harper is a collection of tales with a shiver in them.

Last Hallow'en a group of merry costumed youngsters with baskets on their arms paused outside the Woods Branch Library. Said one, "Jeepers! Here we are at the library. Now . . . I can pay my fine."

Whereupon they all piled in, rummaged among the apples, oranges and candy for enough pennies to make our hero solvent and went off shouting . . . "Help the poor—to help the library!"

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Speaking of Courtesy: I was in a position, a standing position, at the Punch and Judy first performance showing on a recent Saturday night. The movie being shown was a musical, always a good spectacle for young teenagers; and they were all there.

The usher said we would have to wait 50 minutes for a seat unless we wanted to try down in front. My husband went down front and I decided to stand at the back. Before I could take a leaning position, the little girl on the aisle of a row of young people, stood up and offered me her seat.

She insisted she liked to stand. Smiling sparks of surprise and pleasure went back and forth until I accepted. Several times during the next 50 minutes, I went back to where she was standing and suggested we take turns. But she carried through her kind act.

I learned that the girls in my row were ninth graders at the high school. They were conducting themselves very nicely. I learned that the name of the one that gave her seat to a staid grandmother was Janet Donnelly.

This pleasant experience of

Moderation Is Medicine

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

No secret elixir could do as much to improve health and prolong life as moderation in living.

There are many powerful drugs that restore health to some extent, but they can't rebuild organs weakened by years of overwork, indulgence, or worry.

Maintaining good health is a complex business and the more medical science learns about it the more intricate it grows. That's the reason professional advice is so important.

The services of a recognized physician and a recognized pharmacist are very necessary in this complex age.

Prize for Torch Race Winner

HENRY FORD II

BOB MARCEREAU

There were twelve very happy Boy Scouts at the finish line of the Grosse Pointe Torch Rally relay race on October 16. They were the runners who made up the winning team from Troop 61 of St. Paul's Church, under Ed McKernan, and from Troop 74 of Gabriel Richard School, under Jack Beever. All received tickets to a Detroit Lion's football game, and the anchor man (who actually crossed the finish line) received a special prize from the hands of Henry Ford II.

The winners were—Troop 61, Bob Marcereau, Jerry Lynch, John Dansbury, Ed Goosen, John McKillop and Lawrence Law.

Troop 74—Bill Hembel, Bob Hembel, Tommy Hoder, Charles Mihalik, Dennis Hykes and Mike O'Neil.

The anchor man, Bob Marcereau, was chosen at the starting line by drawing lots. Spectators agreed, at the height of the exciting rally, that no one could have looked happier in victory than young Marcereau. His radiant face reflected the pride of his 11 team mates who had been picked up by car from their various finishing posts along Lake Shore road, Moran road and Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Bob was given the honor of lighting the huge torch on the High School campus, and a flag for his scout troop headquarters. So long as the giant United Foundation torch burns—through November 9—a smaller torch will be paraded through the streets of the Pointe on a huge trailer. This project is being handled by Eric Ramstrum, designer of both torches, and Edward R. Grace, Jr., in charge of sound engineering. George P. Richardson, Jr. has charge of coordinating all arrangements.

Survey Ordered In G. P. Woods

A complete analysis and survey will be made of the Woods Police and Fire departments manpower problem. Mayor Leon Ratcliffe will appoint the committee to make the study.

The committee will report to the Council not later than November 20. The committee will be under the supervision of City Administrator Philip Allard.

Flooring Stolen From New House

About 500 feet of hardwood flooring was reported stolen from a house under construction at Notre Dame and Jefferson on October 20.

Francis Flieger, of 8441 Siebert, Detroit, a sub-contractor, told police the lumber had been taken from the second floor of the house. The theft occurred between the late afternoon of October 19 and the morning of October 20, he said.

Police found fresh tire tracks at the scene of the theft. They also found footprints on the ground near the door of the house.

Neighbors were unable to supply police with information concerning the theft.

The flooring is valued at $125.

FRIENDLY COMBAT

On the report of a St. Clair resident, City police picked up two youths at the corner of St. Clair and Kercheval on October 16. The youths stated their alleged fight was merely a friendly wrestling match. Police released the youths.

Two Autos, Truck Figure in Crash

Two automobiles, one parked, and a dump truck were involved in an accident at Jefferson and Lakepointe on October 15.

Mrs. Madeline Romig, of 797 Lakepointe, and James B. Montford, of 6391 Woodrow, Detroit, were both driving west on Jefferson avenue. As they slowed down for a traffic light, Montford, who was driving a dump truck, pulled into the wrong traffic lane, causing Mrs. Romig to strike a parked car.

The car, a 1951 Chevrolet, owned by Charles J. DeFever, of 22600 Manor, St. Clair Shores, was parked at the curb in front of 15175 E. Jefferson.

The right lower side of Mrs. Romig's car was damaged. The left rear fender of the parked car was damaged.

Mr. Montford was issued a ticket for pulling into the wrong lane of traffic. Police issued Mrs. Romig a ticket for not having her car under control causing an accident.

Christian Science Lecture by Thomas E. Hurley, C. S. B.

Given Under Auspices of Sixth Church of Christ, Scientist, Detroit, Mich., October 12, 1951

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled "Christian Science: The Practical Way to Health, Happiness, and Security"

by Thomas E. Hurley, C. S. B.

of Louisville, Kentucky

Member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Perhaps the three things that people in general are most assiduously seeking today are health, happiness, and security. The reason for this is quite obvious: most people are greatly in need of one or more of these three important elements of well-being. Even if one is not actually seeking them, he is definitely interested in finding a way to keep them, since at best his possession of them seems insecure and precarious. For the fact remains that men have not discovered a practical material way either to attain or to keep them, although untold wealth and effort have been expended in the search. It would seem that this very lack of success would cause mankind to question whether the search was being made in the right direction, and today there is increasing evidence of such questioning. Thinking people are becoming more and more dissatisfied with the empty promises of materialism and are beginning to look more and more to God for a satisfactory solution to their problems.

Christian Science offers a reasonable and logical explanation as to why mankind has fallen so far short of the desired goal, and what is far more important, it reveals the truly practical and effective way by which health, happiness, and security may not only be attained, but retained. This Science shows conclusively that they are not material conditions derived from, dependent on, and governed by matter, but they are man's God-bestowed heritage, derived from, dependent on, and governed by Spirit, God, who is constantly giving them to man without interruption and without limit. It is mankind's failure to discern the basic fact that health, happiness, and security are not material qualities that has rendered the search so fruitless.

God the Source of All Good
On page vii of the Preface of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," its author, Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes: "The time for thinkers has come. Truth, independent of doctrines and time-honored systems, knocks at the portal of humanity. . . Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith. . . It is not ignorance of God which would claim to reverse the facts of being and argue that it is impractical to look to Spirit for the good which men naturally desire? The Bible tells us that God is Love and why should it be thought impractical to look to eternal Life for health and to divine Love for happiness and security? The Bible also tells us that God is Spirit, true substance, the source of all supply, and that He is Truth, the source of all freedom and power. The Scriptures clearly indicate, that God is Soul, the source of all bliss and joy, and that He is Mind, the source of all knowledge; and that He is divine Principle, the source of all law, creating and controlling man and the universe. Surely it is practical to look to the source of all good for the good one rightfully desires.

The student of Christian Science finds that the afore-mentioned seven synonyms for God—Mind, Soul, Spirit, Principle, Life, Truth, Love—are invaluable, since they reveal to him the true nature of Deity and thus enable him to worship God aright. Knowing the true nature of the Father makes it possible for us to understand correctly the true nature of man. His beloved son, and that He is Truth, the source of all freedom and power. The Scriptures clearly indicate, that God is Soul, the source of all bliss and joy, and that He is Mind, the source of all knowledge; and that He is divine Principle, the source of all law, creating and controlling man and the universe. Surely it is practical to look to the source of all good for the good one rightfully desires.

and narrow way" of spiritual understanding which illustrates the only practical and right way to health, happiness, and security. But collective mortal belief aggressively opposes this teaching and argues that matter's devious ways, or byways, are not only more practical, but also much easier and more attractive. Since each individual must choose for himself the way he is to follow, let us consider briefly the claim that matter, not Spirit, God, is the source of all good.

The Unreality of Matter
It stands to reason that if health, happiness and security are to be found in matter, they must be attributes of matter; and if they are attributes of matter, they cannot be attributes of matter's opposite, God, and heaven. This simple reasoning has sufficed to show many thinking people the absurdity of looking to matter for these things of health, happiness, and security.

Mrs. Eddy discerned and proclaimed the unreality, the nothingness, of matter. This revolutionary teaching she firmly based on the revelation of the infinitude, the allness, of Spirit, God, which is clearly implied in the Bible, and on the Scriptural teaching that like produces like. Since Spirit can do no more create or include its opposite, matter, than light can create or include its opposite, darkness, and since there can be nothing outside of the infinitude of Spirit, God, matter must be unreal, an illusion. As we read in Science and Health (p. 223), "If Spirit be all, and everything else, what and where is matter?" And in "No and Yes" (p. 17) Mrs. Eddy states: "Matter, or evil, is the absence of Spirit or good. Their nothingness is thus proven; for God is good, ever-present, and All."

Perhaps there is someone in this audience who is thinking, But I can feel matter. I can also hear, see, taste, and smell it, and to me this proves that matter is present and real. It may come as some surprise to you, but the scientific method to discover that he is out on a limb that even physical science has now sawed off. Today the physical scientist admits that the so-called material universe—the universe of matter—is a false mental concept, the counterfeit of God's man. This counterfeit is never man, nor does it become man. It is a false belief, or myth, that would claim to hide or deny the presence of the perfect man of God's creation. Christian Science teaches us to reject the myth and to identify ourselves with the real or spiritual man, and our success in doing so determines our health, happiness, and security. In the degree that one accepts the myth, or counterfeit, as true and identifies himself with it, he experiences its discords, limitations, and imperfections. To the extent that he rejects the counterfeit and identifies himself with God's likeness, he brings into his experience the health, harmony, happiness, completeness, and security which the real man forever possesses and expresses as the perfect reflection of God.

Individual Redemption or Salvation
This teaching of Christian Science is in perfect accord with Paul's letter to the Ephesians in which he urges "That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; And be renewed in the spirit of your mind; . . . But a curious order runs through our perceptions, as if indeed there might be an underlayer of objective reality which our senses translate." However, he seems to have little to say about the "underlayer of objective reality," for he says (p. 28): "When he tries to divorce this 'real' world from his sense perceptions he is left with nothing but a mathematical scheme. . . It is indeed somewhat in the position of a blind man trying to discern the shape and texture of a snowflake. As soon as it touches his fingers or his tongue it dissolves."

While the physical scientist admits the subjective nature of the universe of perception, he does not accept this universe as reality, but feels that there must be something real back of it. As Mr. Barnet puts it (p. 14), "But a curious order runs through our perceptions, as if indeed there might be an underlayer of objective reality which our senses translate." However, he seems to have little to say about the "underlayer of objective reality," for he says (p. 28): "When he tries to divorce this 'real' world from his sense perceptions he is left with nothing but a mathematical scheme. . . It is indeed somewhat in the position of a blind man trying to discern the shape and texture of a snowflake. As soon as it touches his fingers or his tongue it dissolves."

Christian Science denied the reality of the world of perception long before the physical scientists arrived at the conclusion that it is mental and began to question its reality. Over seventy-five years ago Mrs. Eddy not only declared the so-called material universe to be mental, but falsely mental, the counterfeit of the spiritually mental universe of God's creating. In "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 60) she writes: "The only declared teaching on this point: 'Evil in the beginning claimed the power, wisdom, and utility of good; and every creation or idea of Spirit has its counterpart in the same matter belief. Every material belief hides the existence of spiritual reality; and if mortals are instructed in spiritual things, it will be seen that material belief, in all its manifestations, represents a false type and representative of verities priceless, eternal, and just at hand.'"

It stands to reason that no one will look to what he knows to be false, or a counterfeit, for good of any kind. Nor is there anything to be learned from studying a counterfeit or trying to find out where it came from. We need only to understand that it is a counterfeit in order to reject it. But in order to replace it with the true idea we must have a clear understanding of reality, of God and His creation.

The Christian Science Textbooks
The spiritual understanding of the truth of being may be gained by carefully studying the Bible and Science and Health, the well-loved and well-thumbed textbooks of the Christian Scientist. These two books are also essential to the investigator if he truly wishes to find out what Christian Science teaches. Science and Health contains the complete statement of Christian Science in its clearest and most accurate form; hence it includes the most simple and most profound statements of divine metaphysics. The latter require study and spiritual growth to be understood, but the beginner will find that he can easily grasp the more simple statements and even demonstrate them, for children study this textbook and are helped and healed.

I recently had a letter from a friend of mine which illustrates the point I am now making so important it is for the Christian Scientist to be alert to the opportunity to present the textbook to inquirers or those in need. My friend writes that she had a neighbor who had a daughter who was confined to her bed with rheumatic fever. The neighbor mentioned her daughter's condition to my friend, who offered her a copy of Science and Health. She accepted it, saying that while her daughter could not hold the book to read it, she would gladly read it to her. Shortly after this, my friend met the mother and daughter on the street and was told that the girl was well and was as active as any other girl her age. The mother could not understand how the healing came about, but said her daughter was still reading the little book.

The Real Creation and the Counterfeit
The Bible teaches, and Christian Science reaffirms, that God is infinite and perfect, that He is Spirit, that Spirit is the only cause or creator, and that like produces like. Therefore the creation of Spirit must be infinite, spiritual, and perfect. Spirit is Mind, and Mind creates ideas. Hence the creation of infinite spiritual ideas, Spirit, must be comprised of infinite spiritual ideas. As we read in Science and Health (pp. 502, 503): "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God."

It is most obvious to any thinking individual that the concept of man as the highest idea of God, the image of Spirit, Life, and Love, must be quite different from the sick, sinning, corporeal mortal that seems to be an integral part of the world of perception. But let us remember that if the world of perception is subjective, hence mental, or as we have seen, falsely mental, this so-called material man must also be a false mental concept, the counterfeit of God's man. This counterfeit is never man, nor does it become man. It is a false belief, or myth, that would claim to hide or deny the presence of the perfect man of God's creation. Christian Science teaches us to reject the myth and to identify ourselves with the real or spiritual man, and our success in doing so determines our health, happiness, and security. In the degree that one accepts the myth, or counterfeit, as true and identifies himself with it, he experiences its discords, limitations, and imperfections. To the extent that he rejects the counterfeit and identifies himself with God's likeness, he brings into his experience the health, harmony, happiness, completeness, and security which the real man forever possesses and expresses as the perfect reflection of God.

Individual Redemption or Salvation
This teaching of Christian Science is in perfect accord with Paul's letter to the Ephesians in which he urges "That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; And be renewed in the spirit of your mind; . . . But a curious order runs through our perceptions, as if indeed there might be an underlayer of objective reality which our senses translate." However, he seems to have little to say about the "underlayer of objective reality," for he says (p. 28): "When he tries to divorce this 'real' world from his sense perceptions he is left with nothing but a mathematical scheme. . . It is indeed somewhat in the position of a blind man trying to discern the shape and texture of a snowflake. As soon as it touches his fingers or his tongue it dissolves."

Christian Science denied the reality of the world of perception long before the physical scientists arrived at the conclusion that it is mental and began to question its reality. Over seventy-five years ago Mrs. Eddy not only declared the so-called material universe to be mental, but falsely mental, the counterfeit of the spiritually mental universe of God's creating. In "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 60) she writes: "The only declared teaching on this point: 'Evil in the beginning claimed the power, wisdom, and utility of good; and every creation or idea of Spirit has its counterpart in the same matter belief. Every material belief hides the existence of spiritual reality; and if mortals are instructed in spiritual things, it will be seen that material belief, in all its manifestations, represents a false type and representative of verities priceless, eternal, and just at hand.'"

It stands to reason that no one will look to what he knows to be false, or a counterfeit, for good of any kind. Nor is there anything to be learned from studying a counterfeit or trying to find out where it came from. We need only to understand that it is a counterfeit in order to reject it. But in order to replace it with the true idea we must have a clear understanding of reality, of God and His creation.

The Christian Science Textbooks
The spiritual understanding of the truth of being may be gained by carefully studying the Bible and Science and Health, the well-loved and well-thumbed textbooks of the Christian Scientist. These two books are also essential to the investigator if he truly wishes to find out what Christian Science teaches. Science and Health contains the complete statement of Christian Science in its clearest and most accurate form; hence it includes the most simple and most profound statements of divine metaphysics. The latter require study and spiritual growth to be understood, but the beginner will find that he can easily grasp the more simple statements and even demonstrate them, for children study this textbook and are helped and healed.

to redeem or evangelize it. It would have been a Christian Scientist to believe that he can take short-cuts to salvation by ignoring error. But the alert student knows that such a short cut is really a dead-end road, since it is always error that argues that the student be left alone. When Jesus was about to heal the man with "a spirit of an unclean devil," error "cried out with a loud voice, saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, Jesus? She said, saying, 'Thou come to destroy us?'" (Luke 4:34, 35.) Jesus did not ignore error, but he rebuked and destroyed it, thus healing the man.

Another outstanding difference between the Christian Science way of salvation and all others is that one does not labor in the hope of being saved at some future time; he proves that, as the Bible states, "now is the day of salvation" (II Cor. 6:2). When Christian Science is applied, it is not only free of the sin, but also of the penalty that is inseparable from the sin. When this Science heals the sick, it does not heal the disease, for he is well. In like manner, one knows when he has been saved from unhappiness, lack of supply, limited ability, and false traits of character, that the healing process, every healing is a step forward and upward in working out one's salvation, for every healing must bring some measure of redemption, or spiritualization of thought.

Redemption and Healing Inseparable
It is vitally important to think of healing in terms of redemption. Mrs. Eddy often speaks of "health and holiness," and this combination of terms is significant. Unless human thought is spiritualized or redeemed in some measure, real healing has not taken place, even though the physical body may have vanished. The Christian Scientist is never engaged in healing a physical body, but rather in healing or correcting the wrong thinking claiming manifestation as a sick and suffering mortal. Beliefs are replaced by spiritual ideas in individual human consciousness, the body manifests health and harmony, and, what is more important, the individual has been regenerated and is free from material law. It is this redemption of individual human consciousness which Christian Science healing brings about that distinguishes this healing from all other modes and methods and explains why Christian Science alone really heals.

It may be helpful to examine in more detail how Christian Science removes the wrong thinking that is manifested as disease. For example, let us consider a case that occurred in an extreme form a few years ago. A woman was suffering from cancer and had been given up by the doctors. She went to see a Christian Science practitioner, who quickly discerned that the leading error was an extreme fear that cancer had been inherited and that it would prove fatal, as it had in the previous case, a fear which the doctor's diagnosis had confirmed. The Christian Scientist obliterated this fear from individual human consciousness and heal the disease? By proving to the patient that her fear was really baseless. Through her study of the Bible, Science and Health, together with the practitioner's helpful counsel and treatment, she came to understand God as infinite divine Love and man as His perfect reflection. The error of Love's infinite blessings. She clearly saw that God, who is Love, never made a cancer or any other disease, never imposed it on His likeness, and never made man capable of experiencing or manifesting any such thing. She saw that since man really "lives, moves, and has his being" in God, Life, Truth, and Love, as the Bible states, disease could not possibly be inherited, nor could it be passed on or destroy his health, life, or substance. In the infinitude of Love, there is nothing unlovely, nothing harmful or destructive to man's eternal, immortal, and immortal law of heredity, nothing for man to fear. As she thus gained the understanding and assurance of the allness of Love and its manifestation, her fear vanished, for as John says, "The love that is perfect love; but perfect love casteth out fear" (I John 4:18). When the fear was removed, there was no vestige of the disease. As we read in the textbook (pp. 411, 412): "If you fear, your patient is healed."

The Discoverer and Founder
When we remember that equally convincing and well-authenticated testimonies of healings of all types of sin and disease, appearing in the Christian Science periodicals for almost seventy years, and are still to be found each week in the Christian Science Sentinel and each month in The Christian Science Journal, we cannot fail to be impressed with the tremendous influence Mrs. Eddy's revelation and demonstration of the Christ, Truth has had and is having in redeeming the human mind. In view of this, it is not natural that she should be regarded with deepest gratitude and love by an ever-increasing multitude of those who have been healed and regenerated by her teaching. I am glad to be one of this multitude. When one has been healed of deafness and restored to a life of usefulness, as I was, and when one has been restored to health, understanding, and individuality, as Mrs. Eddy had said he was dying, which was also my experience, he is not only grateful for the healings and for the spiritualization of thought that accompanies them, he is naturally desirous of helping others to do her great work in making the healing Christ available to him and to all who are willing to accept it.

We often hear it said that to know a certain individual is to love him. No one could possibly know Mrs. Eddy, who has healed and regenerated one of this multitude, and who has been healed of deafness and restored to a life of usefulness, as I was, and when one has been restored to health, understanding, and individuality, as Mrs. Eddy had said he was dying, which was also my experience, he is not only grateful for the healings and for the spiritualization of thought that accompanies them, he is naturally desirous of helping others to do her great work in making the healing Christ available to him and to all who are willing to accept it.

and the motives that animate him. If we do not know these things about our nearest friend, then we do not really know that friend. We can know these things about Mrs. Eddy, for they are clearly evident in her writings, and we may wish to do so for the sake of understanding of Mrs. Eddy's revelation, it is imperative to know her aright, just as it is necessary to have a correct concept of Jesus in order to comprehend his teaching. One who believed the Master to be a follower of Beezlebub could not possibly be a Christian. In like manner, a false concept of Mrs. Eddy would prevent one from demonstrating Christian Science. As one looks for Mrs. Eddy in her writings and begins truly to know her, he understands why she was the one divinely appointed to fulfill the prophecy of Jesus in bringing the promised Comforter to the world, which was Mrs. Eddy's spiritual-mindedness, her clear expression of spiritual understanding, discernment, wisdom, purity, love, and other spiritual qualities, all of which were manifested in her, God, that appointed and anointed her God's messenger in this age.

The Healing Christ
Jesus taught and demonstrated the Christ, the true idea of God and man. Mrs. Eddy has given to the world the Science of Christ, the divine rule and law which make possible accurately and scientifically to understand and demonstrate the Christ in daily life. In her writings, Mrs. Eddy brings out various aspects of the Christ, and there are two distinct ones which we should carefully consider in relation to each other. On page 332 of Science and Health we read, "Christ is the true idea voicing God, the divine message from God to man speaking the human consciousness directly from page 583 of the same book we find this definition of Christ: 'The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy in carnate error. The divine message of the spiritual idea that unfolds to one right where he is, meeting his present need by replacing and destroying the false belief that is manifested as discord or disease. This divine manifestation is absolute authority, the irresistible power of God. Consequently, it banishes false belief as light banishes darkness, and with no more effort. The divine message of divine manifestation must be coincident. They are inseparable, since Christ is one and indivisible. Where the divine message is accepted and understood, the divine manifestation must be. Where the message is not accepted, it can have no appearance.'

The inseparability of the divine message and manifestation was beautifully illustrated by the healings wrought by the Master. Through Jesus' clear understanding of the nature of the error of every description were immediately destroyed, and the manifestation of the presence and power of God was instantly apparent. It is helpful to understand that the coincidence of divine message and manifestation in healing the sick. It is the perfect answer to error's argument that thought can be corrected and the erroneous manifestation remain.

Jesus, the Great Exemplar
In Christian Science it is important to understand the distinction between the Son of God and the Christ. Jesus was a human being, spiritually conceived by the Virgin Mary, but born of the flesh. His spiritual origin resulted in his being the most spiritual of earth, but as a human being, he was faced with working out his salvation, just as you and I are. He worked it out perfectly and completely, affecting every spirit, mind, and soul, and providing a perfect example. To defy Jesus, or to conceive of him in any way other than as the most spiritually-minded of men, is to lose the true concept of the Christ Exemplar. It is a way-shower, since it would then be impossible for humanity to follow in his footsteps. For the same reason, Christian Scientists do not defy Mrs. Eddy or conceive of her other than as the most spiritually-minded individual since the time of Jesus.

The Master clearly understood the Christ to be the Son of God, the full expression of divine Mind, the image, or image, of spiritual consciousness. He further understood that the Christ individualized, or the individual Christ-idea, is the true selfhood of each individual man, and I are the same as that he was known as Jesus the Christ, or Christ Jesus.

Jesus was the Son of God, not as a human being, but in his true selfhood as the Christ-idea. In like manner, we are the sons of God. John understood this, for he boldly declared, "Beloved, now are we the sons of God" (I John 3:2). John did not mean that human beings are the sons of God, since it is impossible for God, who is Spirit, to have sons so unlike Himself. John meant that we are not really human beings, but that right now is the likeness of his true identity as the likeness of God, the Son of God.

In speaking of spiritual reality, John refers to "the sons of God." Sometimes the student of Christian Science has difficulty in understanding how each individual can be the image of God, perfectly affecting every spirit, mind, and attribute, and still maintain his identity. We have seen that Christian Science teaches that God is infinite; hence one and individual. This infinite, individual God expresses Himself in infinite ideas, all of which must be individual since they reflect the infinite individuality of God. Now an essential characteristic of this infinite, individual God is that He expresses Himself in infinite variety; otherwise He would be finite. Hence His every expression or idea must be distinctly individual. Consequently, as we discern our brother's individual expression of divine qualities, we are recognizing his eternal individuality and identity as a son of God.

Healing Prayer

We have seen that the Christ is the true idea of God, the spiritual understanding of God and man. Prayer in Christian Science is the utilization of this spiritual understanding. Jesus' words to the Jews that belied of the Jews describe this healing prayer: "If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31, 32). Here we see that the first essential of prayer is to follow the teachings of Jesus according to our highest understanding, endeavoring to demonstrate the life of Christ, Truth, more in our daily lives. In the degree that we accomplish this, our knowing the truth will be effective. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," is a very simple statement, and this was Jesus' definition of the effective prayer by which we are freed from sin, but also sickness, death, and every other phase of error that denies the present perfection of man's true selfhood. If this is so, and every Christian should admit that it is, then ineffective prayer must result from one, or both, of two things. Either we are not continuing in the word of the Master in a scientific way, or we are not knowing the truth. In Christian Science, we learn that we are knowing the truth only to the extent that we are acknowledging the present perfection of God and man and the spiritual fact. Therefore the prayer of Christian Science is the acknowledgment or affirmation of the spiritual fact and the denial of the material sense evidence that we read in it is as simple as that. But it must be remembered that one's affirmations and denials are effective in the degree that one is living in obedience to divine Principle. On page 149 of the textbook we read, "If you fail to succeed in any case, it is because you have not demonstrated the life of Christ, Truth, more in your own life—because you have not obeyed the law of the spiritual fact, the Principle of divine Science."

Patients should not assume from this statement that the entire burden of the demonstration rests with the practitioner, since this statement applies equally to them. The patient must express honest obedience to the rules of Christian Science, such as absolute reliance on God, co-operation, willingness to study and work to the best of his ability. When such right action is taken on the part of the patient, the effectiveness of the practitioner's prayer or treatment may be limited. Prayer should always be inspirational and spontaneous, never a hackneyed process. We must be true to the fact that one often has to use a certain amount of argument, affirming the truth and denying the error, in order actually to know or realize the truth, this should never be a stereotyped or set formula. The patient should one feel that he must do a certain amount of arguing each time in order to get a clear realization of the truth. This would be a subtle form of ritualism, which has no place in Christian Science prayer or treatment. Effective prayer destroys whatever would deny the present perfection of man's health, happiness, and security. We have seen that man as the son of God normally has no thought limit. It is never necessary for him to acquire them; the only need is to obliterate the claims of error that deny his present possession and expression of them as the son of God. This is accomplished by knowing the truth. Since Christian Science reveals the truth we are to know, instructs us how to apply it, and illumines the way by which we may continue in it, it is demonstrated that the practical way to health, happiness, and security—to the realization and demonstration of the infinite good that is man's eternally as the image of God.

True Security
Christian Science is therefore the religion that is destined to bring the true sense of security to this troubled world. Recently several leading statesmen and physical scientists have declared that the world's greatest need is a religion that will keep men's spiritual development abreast of human invention. The Christian Scientist knows that a religion that is capable of spiritualizing the thought of mankind was given to the world some seventy-five years ago by Mrs. Eddy and that men need only to avail themselves of this Science and make use of this Science of Christ in order to enjoy the freedom that is true security.

When we contemplate the world situation today, it may seem difficult to recognize that our individual right thinking can accomplish much in solving a problem that seems so vast and complex. But our Leader tells us on page 4 of "Pulpit and Press": "You have simply to preserve a scientific, positive sense of unity with your divine source, and daily demonstrate this. Then you will find that one is as important a factor as duodecillions in being and doing right, and thus demonstrating divine Principle. A developer reflects the arguments of Christ, little ones reflect the infinite One, and therefore is the seer's declaration true, that 'one on God's side is a majority.'"

Reflecting the infinite One, we dwell in the secret place, and most High and truly abide under the shadow of the Almighty" (Ps. 91:1). We dwell in a mental state of confidence and security while we are actively engaged in demonstrating the Christ, Truth, which must obliterate the arguments of error that would claim to destroy the peace of the world. In this great work we are encouraged by our Leader's inspiring assurance: "The Science of omnipotence demonstrates but one power, and this power is good, not evil; not matter, but Mind" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 101).

Listless Devils Defeated By Highland Parkers, 14-7

Danny Slowe Heroically, But Is Unable to Whip Foe Single Handed; Duncan Stars for Victors With Runs and Passes

Highland Park handed Grosse Pointe its second consecutive football defeat, 14 to 7, last Friday night, October 19, and snuffed out the last spark of hope the Devils had of gaining at least a tie for the Border Cities League crown which they were favored to win before the season started.

It wasn't a case of the Polar Bears being that good; it was because the Devils were that bad. Slowe Stands Out Only one boy played football for the Devils and he tried to carry the entire Devil team on his back. Halfback Danny Slowe turned in a superb performance, scoring the Pointers' only touchdown by sheer brute force on a smash through the line from the Highland Park 3 yard line late in the second quarter. Slowe had no help whatsoever in his touchdown plunge and wound up in the end zone with three Parkers riding on his 140 pound frame. Ed Anderson's conversion was good to give the Devils an early 7 to 0 advantage.

Slowe continued his one-man performance throughout the remainder of the game but it was too much to ask for one boy to carry the team to the Polar Bear team that played as a unit. Dale Ewart Injured Highland Park's game tying touchdown was of the electrifying variety and came exactly forty seconds after Slowe had put the Devils out in front and after quarterback Dale Ewart was forced from the game with a shoulder separation.

The Parkers' tenth grader, Charles Duncan, the same boy who knocked the Blue Devils out of the State Basketball tournament last winter, nipped the Devils once again. This time he rifed a sixty yard pass into the waiting arms of Jim Engram on the Devils' 15 yard line from where Engram, one of the fastest track men in the league, stepped off the remaining distance untouched for the tying touchdown.

Duncan's pass came on the second play from scrimmage after the Devils had kicked off to the Parkers after Slowe's touchdown. Duncan had tried six unsuccessful passes previously and none had come anywhere near their mark but the touchdown pass was perfect.

Bowling Loop Lead Shifts

In the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League, Testa Cement Company made a clean sweep in its series with the league leaders—Barrett's Flowers. Led by John Bosco's 562 series, the Testa team knocked Barrett's from the lead and Boutin's Service took over by virtue of a split for the evening with the Funston Chevrolet five.

The evening featured a third game tie between Pointe Insurance Agency and Revers Cleaners, necessitating a rolloff eventually won by the Pointe Insurance five after two extra frames to give them three points.

Other three point winners were Belding Cleaners from Better Made Chips, Cramer Electric from Frank Eger, Jack Cross from Hank McCuen, and Kennelly Catering from Turner Buick. Splitting even were Bruce Wigle and Tom Boyd, Inc.

Two hundred scores were rolled by De Santis with 215, Caprini 211; Kurk, 209; Ford 207; Beckley, 207; Lumberg, 203; and Bob Kehrer, 201.

State Marine Safety Study Results in Same Old Story

The state legislative study committee concluded its public hearings on Marine safety at the Veterans Memorial Building last Friday, October 19, under the direction of Councilman Del A. Smith.

The only concrete decision that came out of the public hearings and the state wide inspection tour by Representative Herb Clements, of Deckerville, Michigan was the fact that "the waterways of this state have become highways for water craft of all types to such an extent that regulatory measures must be adopted to enforce safety measures." And that "the people of the state want such a law."

It seems odd to your reporter that it should take several months of investigations, public hearings and several thousands of the taxpayers dollars to discover this fact. The waterways were highways for watercraft when they founded Detroit. Cadillac didn't come to this town by mule train; he

Marketeers Score Sweep

Auto Club fell victim to Cap't Ed Taube's up and down but always dangerous Farms Market team last Friday night in the Rotary Bowling League. Howard Ewald's 243 opener and 634 series topped these two teams in their struggle to overtake P & J Cocktail Lounge, who seem to be almost impossible to stop.

Village Wine Shop had the Indian sign on them in the first game but the Judies came right back in the second. Don Kammer's 244 and the teams 921 accounting for the equalizer. In the last game Jack Jaekle supplied the ammunition, exploding 235 and a 3-1 win for the leaders.

Piche's Barber Shop sprang a mild upset over Wolverine Potato Chips, winning 3-1. The Wolverines averted a shutout by taking the middle game on Pepsinski's 243.

Mondry Cleaners continued its winning streak by outscoring Steiner Ford, 3-1. With a few breaks here and there, Mondry could climb very fast.

Kopp's Pharmacy had a chance for second spot all alone but muffed it when they dropped three to Middle Atlantic Transp. Co. The Middies are now tied for second place with Kopp's and Wolverine.

Earl Holzbaugh Motors, with more spark this year, rode to a 3-1 win over Motor City Tires. The tire men haven't been getting the breaks which accounts for their position.

Inspired St. Paul Eleven Conquer Mountaineers, 6-0

Pete Schummer Plays Brilliantly As Flyers Score Upset Victory Over St. Mary's Team of Mt. Clemens

By John Engelhard An inspired St. Paul "eleven" scored early in the second period and went on to upset a previously unbeaten Mt. Clemens St. Mary's team, 6-0, on the Mountaineer gridiron Sunday before a colorful Dad's Day crowd. Coach Ed Lauer's aggregation, in gaining their second straight success threw a monkey wrench into the title ambitions of the rugged Mountaineers, who now must share first place in the Parochial East Second Division with St. Ambrose.

The brilliant play of Pete Schummer sparked the Flyers throughout the game. The 6 ft. 168-pound fullback made his first of two spectacular one-handed interceptions on the Mountaineer 19-yard line as the second period got under way. Pete popped up from his linebacker position to snatch the pigskin like an apple on a tree. With the help of a penalty, the Flyers moved to the two and Schummer bucked over for the lone tally of the day.

Plenty of Thrills Although only one touchdown was scored, this game had more than its share of tension and thrills. Joe Mastro took the opening kickoff to his 19 from where St. Mary's drove all the way to St. Paul's seven. Mountaineer end Don Griffin, caused a few new gray hairs to come to Lauer's head when he juggled a pass in the end zone before dropping it for St. Mary's only serious threat.

The Flyers also flirted with Mr. Touchdown on several occasions but could not reach pay-dirt. Schummer recovered a Mountaineer fumble late in the third period on his own 30 and the Flyers fought to the St. Mary's two yard line before Bob Walker's fumble was recovered by Mountaineer end Ed Thaxton.

Grabs Another Schummer picked off his second enemy aerial in the third quarter on the St. Mary 27. The Flyers made it to the 15 but could not go beyond. Quarterback Jack Trombly intercepted a Mountaineer desperation pass in the last minute of play on St. Mary's 30 and scampered back to the six. Time ran out before the boys could push a score across.

The red and white by virtue of their triumph still have a mathematical chance of capturing the divisional crown. This Sunday, the Flyers play host to Annunciation, who are looking for their first win of the season.

As a safety measure to avoid fires keep all matches in a metal container.

MUSIC

Thursday evening at Masonic Auditorium was one of considerable excitement. Detroit enthusiastically welcomed the return of its symphony orchestra, and paid tribute to the ability and musicianship of its first guest conductor, Paul Paray.

Monsieur Paray is a man of warmth, vitality, and great charm. The fact that the orchestra gave a very creditable performance after only ten days of rehearsal is proof that he is also an excellent musician and a great conductor.

It is too early to pass critical judgment on the orchestra; a great symphony orchestra is not built in ten days. It will be several weeks before an honest appraisal of the group can be made.

The inclusion of Beethoven's Symphony No. 6 ("Pastoral") in the first program was an ambitious undertaking, for this is a virtuoso work. While M. Paray's interpretation was more French than traditionally classic, the orchestra showed a commendable precision and clarity in the execution of it.

The last half of the program was devoted to the works of Ravel, Faure, and Dukas. It was here that M. Paray showed his intimate understanding and mastery of interpretation of the composers of his native land. "La Valse," by Ravel, was perhaps the high point in the evening, but Dukas' "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" was pleasing as well, for it presented an opportunity to enjoy the conductor's light humorous touch.

The enthusiastic reception Thursday night was directed not only toward Monsieur Paray and the orchestra, but also toward Mr. John B. Ford, Jr., Mr. Jerome H. Remick, Jr., and the many others who made possible the rebirth of Detroit's Symphony Orchestra.

The Masonic Auditorium Concert Series presented the world-famous Boston Symphony under the direction of Charles Munch Saturday evening in a program of French and Russian music. The first offering, Rameau's Suite from the Opera "Dardanus" revealed the warmth, subtlety and beautiful tone of the string section.

Symphony No. 5, by Arthur Honegger, a contemporary French composer, followed. This work was completed only last December and was introduced in Boston by Mr. Munch. It is a composition of considerable depth and power, and Mr. Munch conducted it with authority. Here the immense precision and vitality of the orchestra was most clearly revealed.

The Tchaikovsky Sixth Symphony ("Pathetic") which concluded the program was a disappointment. Mr. Munch's direction was uneven and the tempi were distorted throughout. The second movement was stiff and without grace, while the third movement was played rapidly. The last movement, though it was better directed, still failed to convey the feelings of "gentleness and devotion" that Tchaikovsky intended.

DRAMA

We have little to add to what has already been written and said about "Mister Roberts." This is a wonderfully entertaining play, indeed. Not only is it vastly amusing, but an accurate and sensitive representation of reality, as well—the reality of men at war (although the war is thousands of miles away) with all the accompanying humor, compassion, toughness and tenderness. Therein lies its real worth.

The company viewed at the Shubert Sunday evening was without exception an excellent one.

"Death of a Salesman" turns up next Sunday at this theatre, to be followed on November 11 by "Black Chiffon." Three cheers for the Shubert!!

"The Happy Time," number three in the Theater Guild Subscription Series, opened a two-week engagement at the Cass Monday night. It is quite possible that no other play this season will so successfully create a mood of warm-hearted well-being. The title is apt indeed.

It is a play about a French-Canadian musician, his Scotch-Presbyterian wife, their young son, his father who has far more vitality than his age should warrant, and his two brothers—one of whom drinks too much white wine, while the other has too much charm with the ladies. But most of all, it is the story of the son, Bibi, who loves his whole family and finds the security he needs in the love they show for him.

Bibi is precariously close to adolescence. He questions; he is curious about life and about growing up. His grandpere has told him, "To be truly a man, one must know two things. One must know love, one must know truth." We watch Bibi learn something of both truth and love, and it is amusing, sad, moving and beautiful. But above all, it is happy.

Farms city officials are the captains of the two teams on top of the St. Paul Men's Bowling League to date, and to add to the coincidence their individual averages are only one point apart.

Harry Furton, Farms clerk, bowling 166, has the pleasure of seeing his boys in first place with a three point lead. Murray Smith, Farms engineer, with a 167 average, has his team in second place.

Pete Martin, Farms policeman, has the top average of 174 to date, among those who have bowled at least 18 games. Ed Sexton, rolling for Al DeRemacker's team, has had but six games. He knocked over 238 pins in one of them last week to set a new high individual game for the season and give him a neat average of 188.

The first performance of the "Gay Nineties Musical Revue," being staged by the Optimist Club, will be presented tonight, Thursday, October 25, at 8:30 p.m., in the Pierce Junior High School auditorium.

The cast includes more than 200 local performers. Dr. Walter L. Tuttle, general chairman, announced. The revue is under the professional direction of George "Peppy" Elias.

The revue consists of two distinct parts. The first half is a fast moving Broadway type musical revue. The second portion portrays an old fashioned minstrel show with a new twist.

DUS Gridders Defeat DCDS For Third Straight Victory

D.U.S. retained the coveted cup that is presented to the winner of the D.U.S.-D.C.D.S. game, for the fifth straight year. These traditional rivals met on the D.C.D.S. field and, as usual, the game was a thriller. The score, 31-7, doesn't show the slight difference between the two teams. The only edge was in the D.U.S. defense.

Country Day won the toss and elected to receive. The D.U.S. defense held in the first set of downs, and Country Day was forced to punt. Rentschler received the boot and reversed to Garbutt, who went 16 yards to the D.C.D.S. 49. Ten plays later, Don Ohmart shoved his way over from the one for the first D.U.S. touchdown. The attempt for the extra point failed, and D.U.S. led, 6 to 0.

Defense Too Strong
Becherer again kicked off for D.U.S., and once again the line play of Dick Bingham, Pete Stalker, and Sylvere Coussement forced the opposition to punt. Bruce Garbutt received the punt and carried it 8 yards to his 30, where he fumbled, and Country Day recovered. After a series of seven plays, D.C.D.S. went over for a touchdown, their fullback carrying over right guard. They converted, and the scoreboard then read—D.C.D.S. 7, D.U.S. 6. At the time, that one point looked as though it might really be a big one.

Penalty Epidemic
D.C.D.S. then kicked off to D.U.S., Rentschler returning the ball 29 yards to the 50. Two plays later, a clipping penalty against D.U.S. moved the ball back to their own 38, and they were forced to punt for the first time in the contest.

Country Day quick-kicked to their own 30, and Ohmart ran it back to the 22. Then, after moving the ball to the D.C.D.S. one yard line, D.U.S. was penalized 15 yards for holding. Rentschler then passed to Becherer on the 4, and Hans was dropped immediately. However, another penalty, again against D.U.S., this time for having an ineligible man down field, meant the loss of down and ball.

Forced to Punt
Mackey, Coussement and Stalker teamed up to throw the right half for a nine yard loss. Bingham then threw an attempted reverse for another substantial loss, so again D.C.D.S. was forced to punt. Garbutt received the boot on the Country Day 45, and raced between, through, over, and around would-be tacklers to the 11 yard line. On the next play, Ohmart went over right tackle for the second D.U.S. touchdown. Again the extra point failed, and D.U.S. then led, 12 to 7. Two minutes later the half ended.

Wark Goes for 29
D.C.D.S. punted again, this time to Garbutt on his own 35, and he was able to return it only 4 yards. Dave Wark then took a reverse and went 29 yards to the Country Day 32, before being knocked out of bounds. Ohmart and Rentschler combined for 10 and 16 yards respectively, to put the ball on the D.C.D.S. 6. Becherer was trapped behind the line for a four yard loss, and then a pass from Rentschler to Garbutt scored the third D.U.S. touchdown. Ohmart made good the extra point, to put D.U.S. ahead, 19 to 7.

Interception Helps
In the fourth quarter Garbutt intercepted a Country Day pass on his own 29, and returned it to the Country Day 49, but it was nullified because of a D.U.S. interference penalty. However, on the very next play, Garbutt again made an interception, and raced 85 yards for a touchdown, with the aid of a spectacular key block by Stalker on the D.U.S. 42. The try for the extra point failed, and Country Day found themselves behind, 25 to 7.

Jerry Jaglowicz intercepted a pass on the Country Day 43, and scampered to the 12, where he was finally caught from behind. Four plays later, Paul Brown plunged over from the one, for the last touchdown of the game. The extra point failed, and the final score was 31 to 7—D.U.S.

DSR OPERATED at a loss of nearly $123,000 in September. This deficit brought the DSR's net loss for the first nine months of 1951 to $3,128,000. Loss blamed on an unexpected drop in patronage because of the shutdown of several large industrial plants. Last September the system showed a profit of $103,685. There has been a drop in patronage of 19 per cent from September of last year, according to a report of Leo J. Nowicki, DSR general manager.

MR. PETTINGILL, this week, did n-o-t-h-i-n-g constructive in his campaign to be Grosse Pointe's Social Bell Cow. Likewise his mate.

WILLIAM CLAY FORD received one of those chic "Special Achievement Awards" for being a proud papa... It's a china trophy with signature plate engraved in his and new daughter Sheila's name. The fad originated in the East where pals of new papas felt there should be SOME attention paid in the masculine direction... The trophy is filled with cigars...

Glipped in a gentleman's store... the last gasp in masculine gifts... a tiny electric fan for his desk... Keep cool, cold boy!...

Overheard at AL GREEU'S: Well, all right, we'll all go back to our house but if you boys wake up the children YOU'LL HAVE TO TAKE CARE OF THEM ALL DAY TOMORROW...

PILFERINGS

Perusing "What To Eat and How To Cook It," published in 1865:

The perfect bill of fare, to suit every purse, everybody at any time, includes:

Seven kinds of dishes... a dinner, no matter how grand, is composed of three courses...

The first course comprises dishes of four kinds, viz: soups, relishes, hors-d'oeuvres and entrees.

The second course comprises dishes of two kinds, viz: rots and entremets.

The third course comprises dishes of one kind, the dessert.

ADDED HINTS

The size of the relishes and rots should be according to the number of guests.

Breakfast: We are of opinion that everybody ought to eat as little meat as possible, and drink no wine, beer, or any other liquor at breakfast, no matter what the sex or age.

Evening Parties: Lemonade is a good drink in the evening. Bavaoises, bichofs, creams, punch, wines and fruit and served at evening parties, besides the supper.

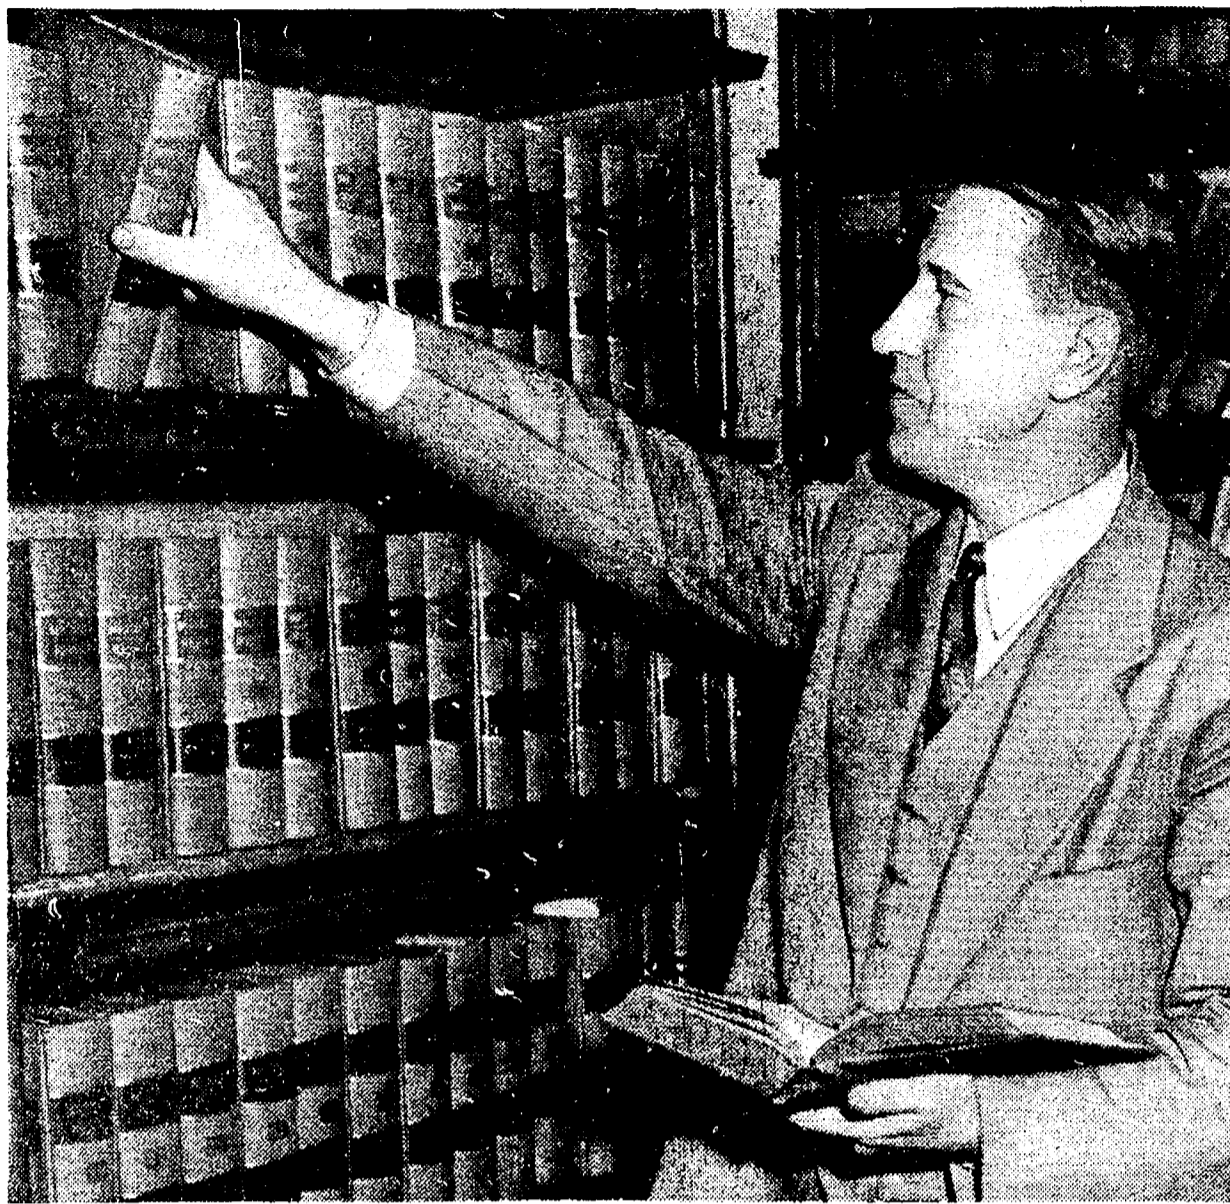

HOW TO MAKE A BICHOF for the gang this week-end: Put in a crockery tureen two bottles of white wine, with an orange and a lemon, both cut in slices; cover, and place it in a warm place for about 10 hours (well, make it for them week-end AFTER this). Strain into a vessel and mix well with the liquor about a pound of loaf sugar, and a little grated cinnamon. It may be served warm or cold but is really best when served not at all.

Pointer of Interest

HARRY C. TURRELL OF BARRINGTON ROAD

Our own Guys and Dolls story revolves around a charming Britisher who 23 years ago first came to America and found more to suit him in Grosse Pointe, New York's breathless skyline notwithstanding.

He is Harry C. Turrell, long since American citizen who has retained much of his English accent, and who lately has been buying dolls by the dozens.

Mr. Turrell has settled so neatly in our way of life that Autumn 1951 finds him general chairman of International Institute's twenty-first annual Old World Market (Dates: Nov. 15 through Nov. 18 at the Institute's beautiful new building, Kirby and John R.) and that's also how Mr. Turrell happened to go on the doll shopping spree.

He spent a bewildering day at Horsman's on Fifth Avenue buying little baby dolls, big baby dolls, dolls that say "Mama" and dolls that squeak, etc. All the dolls will be dressed by women in the 44 nationality groups, taking part in the Old World Market and sold to the throngs who each year attend the event.

First Step

He bought twenty-three and a half dozen "undressed" dolls and one fully-costumed "gorgeous pink thing, a bridesmaid I'd say" for his own eleven-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Jane.

Mr. Turrell's seems a deft method of interesting American girls and boys in the costumes and culture of boys and girls in far distant places of the world. It's a gentle, human step in understanding and after all that's one of the first principles of International Institute.

For seven years, International Institute has operated as a separate entity (it was formerly part of the YWCA) and under the keen guidance of Mrs. Alice Sikkels, executive director, has become Detroit's beacon light of friendship, shining for all the foreign born who have come to live among us.

Neighborhood meet on social occasions and it is there, too, they attend regular classes in citizenship. The Institute has done a superb job with displaced persons and, by government notification, meets trains and buses whenever a d.p. arrives in De-

- 1/4 c. powdered sugar
- 2 3/4 c. all-purpose flour.
