HEADLINES

of the WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, November 29

A COLLISION in Boston Harbor between the 102-foot fishing trawler "Lynn" and the 504-foot tanker "Ventura" cost the lives of three men with another 13 listed as missing. The three crewmen from the trawler died in a Boston hospital shortly after being fished from the icy waters. No one aboard the tanker was reported killed or injured. Only Captain James C. McNamara of the "Lynn," which sank in less than three minutes after the impact, was saved from the trawler.

Friday, November 30

U. S. FIFTH AIR FORCE reports sighting astonishing total of 7,765 Communist trucks in North Korea, more than twice the previous record. Attacks 3500 and says it destroyed some 300. Obvious the Reds are making big build-up despite "ease-fire" orders which are in effect. Practically no ground fighting.

Saturday, December 1

EIGHT PERSONS injured, and three critically, when a Chicago-bound passenger train out of Detroit, traveling at 80 miles per hour, crashed into a tractor with two trailers loaded with 7,390 gallons of gasoline, just outside of Kalamazoo. Diesel locomotive sheared off second trailer and the gas exploded, covering the entire 10-car train with burning gasoline. Spectator dies of heart attack.

Sunday, December 2

SENATE SMALL BUSINESS committee returned to Washington yesterday after airing Detroit gray market steel dealings. One witness tells of a profit of $3,000,000 from sale involving surplus nuts and bolts from Civil War, which had been stored in warehouse until Senate investigating committee learned about it and raised such a holler the government sold them.

Monday, December 3

OFFICIAL RUSSIAN news agency Tass says that an American C47 transport, missing since November 16 on a flight to Belgrade, was forced down by Russian planes in Hungary. Says it violated Romanian border. Dispatch indicates at least some of the four man crew are safe.

Tuesday, December 4

THE BLACKED-OUT Ford Motor Company plant in Windsor is under control of pickets after 7500 employes walked out in protest of the firing of 26 A.U.W. (CIO) members. An estimated group of 80 unionists stormed the plant power house and shut down the generators, plunging the plant into darkness.

Wednesday, December 5

HIBOKHIBOK volcano blew its top today, killing at least 141 villagers in the central-Philippines. Rescue workers clawed frantically in the smoking ashes which covered a half dozen settlements, and expressed fear that the casualty toll might reach several hundred. The Red Cross said the figure was growing hourly. Scores of Filipinos burned by red hot lava or streams of molten lava were treated at makeshift hospitals on Camiguin Island.

FRESH FIGHTING broke out in the Surz Canal zone, a British military spokesman reported. Unconfirmed reports listed 20 Egyptians as dead and two Britons wounded. One Cairo newspaper put the dead at 50 and stated it was the worst yet in the two-month-old conflict between the British and Egyptians.

The Knight Before Christmas in the Pointe

—Picture by Fred Runnels

For the sixth year in a row the stores in The Village are making it easy for local knights to dispose of their Christmas shopping lists with dispatch and delight. Monday, December 10, will mark the sixth annual observance of Men's Night, the event that became a Pointe institution by popular demand. Put yourself in the position of the bright young man above. Within three short blocks on Kercheval between Cadieux and Neff, he has completed all of his yuletide shopping except that last and most important gift, the present for his wife. While he relaxes, impervious to the charms of the young ladies attempting to interest him in a handbag or a negligee, he is engrossed with a purchase he just made across the street . . . an electric train for junior.

Shoplifter's Tour Costs Total of $85

Second Offender Mary Cornelius Pays That Amount in Fine and Court Costs

Judge L. P. Young cracked down on Grosse Pointe's first shoplifter of the Christmas season last Wednesday, November 26, when he fined Mary M. Cornelius of 16316 Eastburn, Detroit, $75, $10 costs and placed her on one year probation through the Wayne County Probation Department.

Her Second Offense
Mary is a two-time loser in the shoplifting racket, having been arrested in the Pointe in 1947. At that time she was caught with an expensive ring she had lifted from a local jewelry store. On that arrest she got off lightly because it was Christmas time, she had a baby and it was her first offense and the judge was touched with the Christmas spirit.

With Three Children
When City police picked her up this time on October 26 she had three little kids in tow while promoting her taking ways. On inspecting her purse for other possible stolen goods the officer discovered her husband's weekly pay check which amounted to $125.00.

SEARON DEL PLACE BITTEN
Sharon Del Place of 324 Kerby road, aged 5, was bitten on the face on December 3 by a dog owned by Reuben Dragovich of 320 Kerby road.

Pointers' Long Island Home Seriously Damaged by Fire

Bad news from the east arrived Monday afternoon for the Chisholm Macdonalds of Mira-beau place. They were informed by telephone that a serious fire had badly damaged their summer home at East Hampton, L. I. The beautiful property was just completed this past season. It was named Petite Pointe because of the small point of land on which it is located and as a counterpart to the Macdonald's Grosse Pointe winter address.

Pointe Males Stand Poised For Traditional Observance Of Men's Night in 'Village'

Merchants Go All Out to Banish Bugaboos of Christmas Shopping; Women Barred From Area For Three Precious Hours Monday

Men's Night will be observed for the sixth straight year this coming Monday, December 10, by a group of some 30 merchants in "The Village," that popular shopping center in the City of Grosse Pointe which stretches from Cadieux road to Neff road. The hours are from 7 to 10 o'clock.

The institution of Men's Night, launched as an experiment back in 1946, proved such an immediate success that within the next two years it had assumed the proportions of an indispensable Pointe tradition. The local males have taken to the event like ducks take to water.

Merchants Go All Out
The participating merchants go all out to make it easy and pleasant for the men to whip that major portion of their Christmas buying chore in these few short hours. The lucky fellows whose lists are not too long can easily clean up the whole deal during this painless peregrination up and down "Christmas Street in The Village."

Stocks Are Plentiful
The stores report their stocks have never been as plentiful nor the quality of the merchandise as high. They defy local shoppers to mention anything outside of a steam yacht or a maharajah's palace which can't be purchased in or through one of the Kercheval establishments.

Extra help has been hired to help the men make their selections and complete their purchases quickly. Special gift wrap-

Truck Fire Extinguished

A truck owned by Virgil Beaupre of 268 Ridgmont, caught fire at Mack and Kerby on the afternoon of November 30 when its carburetor overflowed and the gas ignited. Farms police officers Killes, Parsons and Field reported the blaze had been extinguished before they arrived on the scene.

Community Theatre Play Tonight

Talented Cast To Be Seen In "The Corn Is Green"; 2nd Performance Tomorrow

The Grosse Pointe Community Theatre is opening its 1951-52 season with Emlyn Williams' outstanding comedy, "The Corn Is Green," scheduled for December 6 and 7 at the Grosse Pointe High School Auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

"The Corn Is Green" is a fast-moving, humorous, three-act story built around Miss Moffat, an English school teacher who, through her educational efforts, brings a new meaning to the lives of the inhabitants of a desolate mining town in Wales.

Mrs. Bambas in Lead
M. Haythorn Bambas takes the lead of Miss Moffat. Mrs. Bambas is noted for her ability in both directing and writing plays. She has had the privilege of playing and working with Director Ben Iden Payne at Pittsburgh, Dean of Shakespearean Theatre. Mrs. Bambas has also taken active parts with summer stock groups and in radio. Recently she has been noted for her work as director of the Junior League Children's Theatre group.

Hildebrandt Also Starred
Richard Hildebrandt takes the second lead of Morgan Evans, the young ring leader of the miners, in whom Miss Moffat discovers literary talent. Hildebrandt has had many years of experience in community theatres, including the Center Players in Dallas, and the Pasadena Playhouse.

New Discovery
"The Village" will be a gay place Monday night for the Knight before Christmas. Those who haven't experienced one of these events are strongly urged to get into the swing and find out how easy it is to put what used to be a frightening ordeal, right in the background. It's a fun deal, and all the Christmas holidays will be made merrier by it.

Luella Wertz Has Part
Luella Wertz, who played in Grosse Pointe Community Theatre's "State of the Union," and has done radio work in Chicago, will take the part of Miss Rogge, a stuffy old maid still trying to get her man.

Other members making up the cast include the following: James Hamilton, who has done vaude-

Plans for Reviving Community Council Heard at Meeting

Representatives of 21 Organizations Discuss Needs and Problems at Gathering Held in Neighborhood Club

Representatives of 21 Grosse Pointe organizations last week presented a variety of new activities for the Grosse Pointe Community Council to

These ideas will be studied by a special committee, headed by Mrs. Robert B. King, aided by Mrs. William M. Adams and Chet Sampson. This committee is to plan the program for the Council's next meeting Jan. 31, and to submit a report based on their study so that the attending Council members can vote on concrete projects it wants launched.

Wide Representation
The suggestions were made at a Council meeting on November 29 in the Neighborhood Club, attended by representatives of organizations typifying a cross-section of Grosse Pointe community life. They were from garden clubs, churches, parent-teacher associations, clubs interested in youth recreational activities and voters' organizations. The discussions ranged from the protection of Grosse Pointe from A-bomb attack to tree damage by the Dutch elm disease.

There was general agreement on the advisability of renewing the Council's weekly Calendar of Events, for publication in the local press, and of publishing a new issue of the Directory of Grosse Pointe Organizations.

Kept People Informed
"Listings in the calendar serve to inform people of current events on schedule," said Forrest Geary, under whose direction the calendar previously was compiled. Geary pointed out that since the Calendar is compiled for months in advance on major Pointe activities, including all those of the schools, it serves as a date clearing bureau. It does not attempt any jurisdiction on when functions should be held, however, he said. Organizations wishing to clear dates may call TUxedo 5-2000 for this service.

Will Seek Information
The Council voted to mail a monthly post card to all Grosse Pointe organizations asking them to list in advance both regular and special events on their calendar.

Construction Started
The fund had reached a point where it was considered feasible to go ahead with construction. It is estimated the completed building will cost a million dollars. When this intensive campaign was started six weeks ago, it was announced that $250,000 was needed to assure that construction would not be halted. The parish arose to answer the threat. The triumphant note of complete victory was sounded at Monday night's meeting.

To Build Youth Center
The beautiful new building is expected to be completed by late summer of 1952. When the church moves into its entirely new home, the space it formerly occupied in the combination school and church building will be converted to a youth center, a project the parish feels is highly to be desired.

Father Colgan Pastor
The Rev. Father Philip L. Colgan, O.E.A., is pastor of the church and served as honorary chairman of the building fund campaign. Father Edward J. Sweeney, O.S.A., was honorary assistant chairman. Frank A. Alter was general chairman of the drive.

Women Injured In Auto Crash
Two women were taken to Cottage Hospital on the morning of December 4 as the result of an automobile accident at Charlevoix and Touraine.

Angela Luymes, of Willenstadt, Curacao, was driving south on Touraine and failed to heed the stop sign at Charlevoix. Her car was struck on the left side by one being driven west on Charlevoix by Mrs. Dorothy Rogge of 286 Moran road.

Both women were taken to the hospital by Farms police officers. Mrs. Luymes suffered a fractured pelvis. She was visiting Mrs. Elja Seyhouwer of 376 Chalfonte road, whose car she was driving at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Rogge suffered bruised knuckles, a bruised chest and cuts on the knee which required stitches. She was released after being given treatment.

Damage to the Seyhouwer car was estimated at $200 and to the Rogge car at $150. Both cars had to be towed from the scene of the crash.

Bangs Into Everything But Police

Canny Burglar's Reputation Suffers In Escaping From Woodhouse Residence

"The Cat" has pounced again, but this time he made his escape in such an ungraceful manner that he has practically ruined his reputation for carrying on his depredations with all the agility of an adagio dancer. In fact he may be in hiding for a time, nursing severe bruises and other possible injuries he must have suffered in his last mad dash to freedom.

The John T. Woodhouse residence at 325 Lake Shore road was the latest target of the burglar who has been preying on Pointe homes too long to please the police or the citizens. He was discovered there at 4 a. m. on November 30.

Used Unlocked Door
As usual, entry was gained through an unlocked opening in this instance the kitchen door. "The Cat" seems to pride himself on getting into homes without having to force locks, slash screens or break windows.

He may just go from house to house until he finds one where the careless residents have left a door or window unlocked. The police have cautioned all Pointers to be doubly certain that no such welcome signs are hung out at their homes.

Uses Flashlight
It is believed "The Cat" uses a flashlight to find his way about the houses he enters. In past cases he has made such graceful exits that it was thought he was either previously familiar with the layouts of the homes, or else has a phenomenal faculty of being able to memorize every detail of his path of entry and beat a retreat over the same route without making a false move.

Sees Shadowy Form
Mr. Woodhouse awakened to see a shadowy form by a bedside table. Thinking it was Mrs. Woodhouse, he called out to her. "The Cat" darted out the door and down the hall.

The staircase in the Woodhouse home is one of the elaborate type found in many of the large mansions along the lake shore. The first descent leads to a landing extending to the left. Another left turn is required to start down the second descent. Just before the bottom is reached, there is another landing blocked off by a railing in front, with several more steps going down on the left to reach the first floor level.

Ponderous Pachyderm
"The Cat" was suddenly transformed into a ponderous pachyderm trying to negotiate the tricky stairs in the dark. With Mr. Woodhouse yelling in pursuit behind him, he made the first turn, dashed across the landing and smashed into an oil portrait on the wall at the end. Then he careened to the left and rushed pell mell down the second descent.

Apparently he forgot all about the final turn at the bottom. Sergeant Elmer Labadie of the Farms police says he is certain "The Cat" plunged over the bottom railing and onto the top of the piano just beyond. A fine china cup and saucer and a framed picture which were on the piano, were both found on the floor, the cup and saucer smashed to bits.

Another Cropper
The usually terephorean thief then dashed across the large entrance hall and through the dining room, where he came another cropper when he plowed into a heavy armchair at the head of the table. He scrambled out of this tumble and through the pantry and kitchen, gaining his freedom through the door which had given him entry.

Mr. Woodhouse called the Farms police and while their scout cars were on the way, the Woods, Shores and City police were contacted by radio. Within a few minutes a swarm of officers was on the scene, but "The Cat" had made his escape.

Mud Tracks Plentiful
He had tracked an inordinate amount of mud into the house, and through his footprints it was fairly easy to follow his meandering course through the upstairs (Continued on Page 2)

Gerry Nay Makes Swimming History at Naval Academy

Gerry Nay, former Grosse Pointe Blue Devil swimming star, is making history at the United States Naval Academy where he is a Plebe (freshman). Gerry is the first Plebe ever to make the varsity swimming team at Annapolis and under the training of Coach Johnny Higgins, ex-Big Ten champion and Olympic breast stroke swimmer while at Ohio State, he has broken all the pool records at the Academy in this event. Nay entered Annapolis last summer after attending the University of Michigan for one year. Gerry's records of two years ago still stand at Grosse Pointe High and are the standard which all future Blue Devil tankers will shoot at until they are broken. Nay holds the majority of the pool records at the school on Fisher road and several still stand around the Border Cities League. While in high school Gerry didn't specialize in any one event but at Annapolis he is concentrating on the breast stroke events.

Oldest Wayne University football rival on the Tartar schedule this year is Michigan Normal. The Tartar and Hurons have met 23 times. The length of the rivalry is topped only by the Wayne-Central Michigan series which is 26 games old.

Hope for Reviving Council Seen Following Discussion

Aiding in the civil defense program to prepare Grosse Pointe for possible atomic air raids was discussed with interest, as a timely project for possible Council sponsorship. George Elworthy, director of civil defense, told of attending a state conference, called by Governor Williams, to discuss defense problems.

Blood Typing Program
Elworthy said the blood typing program will start in Grosse Pointe in January, so that residents' blood may be typed in the event they need plasma or whole blood during a possible air raid. He suggested there might be a program for Council co-operation in the registration service it will entail.

"School children in Grosse Pointe have learned their air raid preparations well," said Elworthy. "The schools, under Superintendent James Bushong, are co-operating in the program. But, unfortunately, among adults there is apathy. There are more iron curtains in Grosse Pointe, when it comes to civil defense activities, than there are in all Russia."

OCF Film Available
The motion picture, "You Can Beat the A-Bomb," is owned by the Grosse Pointe OCF, and will be loaned free for showing by any Grosse Pointe organization, Elworthy said.

Mrs. George True, speaking for the Friends of the Library, suggested that there would be increased need for active community participation in library affairs with the construction of the new building. Aid from the Council in this great civic project would be appreciated, she said.

The report of Mrs. Jane Kostabile, director of the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, of the inadequate facilities for "teen agers' recreational events caused a lively discussion on the entire subject of recreation for youth in Grosse Pointe. It was brought out that a greatly improved and enlarged program for after-school recreation might be instituted.

Sampson Cites Needs
Chet Sampson, member of the Board of Education, pointed to the need for a new swimming pool and gymnasium to serve Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann, speaking for the League of Women Voters and the Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club, suggested that the Council sponsor an institute to enable every Grosse Pointe organization to show what it is doing, and to exchange ideas about community improvement.

What Others Are Doing
Examples of what other, larger councils in other Michigan cities have accomplished were described at the meeting in the opening report by Mrs. Edward Kay. She spoke for a committee of four. Council members who had attended a conference at the University of Michigan.

"Interest in the Grosse Pointe Community Council has been revived, it is obvious," said President Grant E. Armstrong. "We would like to see the Council become an important force in Grosse Pointe."
Council members determined to launch a concerted drive for increased membership, based on a telephone campaign.

Need More Members
Many of the 30 members at the meeting represented more than one organization; a few as many as five or six. It was believed important to enlist the active support of a greater number of organizations and individuals to insure the success of the Council as a potent force in community living.

Representatives of some organizations made no special request for Council action, but were interested in finding out what the Council planned to do. All these representatives were urged to consult with their organizations so they could submit ideas for Council sponsorship either to Mrs. King's committee, or to the next Council meeting, Jan. 31.

Decorator Dorothy Draper Spends Day in The Pointe

Mrs. Thomas J. Little III of Meadow lane was hosts at a cocktail party last Friday afternoon honoring Dorothy Draper, the well known decorator who was in town for the day. Following the cocktail party Mr. and Mrs. J. Widman Bertsch gave a dinner at the Country Club for Mrs. Draper.

rooms seeking the money which is always his sole interest. He had been in every bedroom and closet on the second floor, after turning out a light which is always left burning in the hall. He takes no chances on having awakened occupants of a house being able to recognize him.

He obtained an undisclosed sum of money from the purse of Mrs. Richard Macauley, Mrs. Woodhouse's mother, and more from the wallet of Mr. Woodhouse. He took additional cash belonging to Mrs. Woodhouse from the night table, but ignored her jewelry which was in plain view beside the money.

The police believe he made his escape down the driveway which leads onto Lake Shore road, and that he approached the property down Old Brook lane which leads off of Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Inebriates Seek Lake Air Cures

Two youths who had over-indulged were discovered by Farms police wandering around the lake front early in the morning of December 1. Although they were picked up within a few minutes of each other, the cases were not related, the police said.

Officers Van Tien and Kerbrat first found a 22-year-old youth on the vacant property next to the municipal park at 3:40 a.m. He had left his car in a cross-over of the two lane highway. He said he had been on a fraternity party and had had too much to drink and was trying to sober up before he went on home. He was released from the station at 4:20 a.m.

The officers had hardly deposited the first youth and returned to their patrol duty when they discovered another lad, this one just 15, wandering along Lake Shore road.

He said he had taken a bottle of whiskey from his home and he and some friends had partaken of it too freely. They had had a flat tire and he got out of the car and started walking to clear his head.

The police called his father, who went to the police station to pick up his son and take him home to finish the recuperative process.

Building Boom Comes to Halt

The bottom dropped out of building activities in Grosse Pointe Farms during the month of November, according to a report just issued by City Engineer Murray Smith.

Only three permits were issued for residential construction, and three for miscellaneous construction jobs. Total value of the three new residences has been placed at $76,000, and for the three other projects at $8,000.

Government regulations and shortages of materials have caused the big drop in building. Up to and including September the Farms had enjoyed a tremendous building boom.

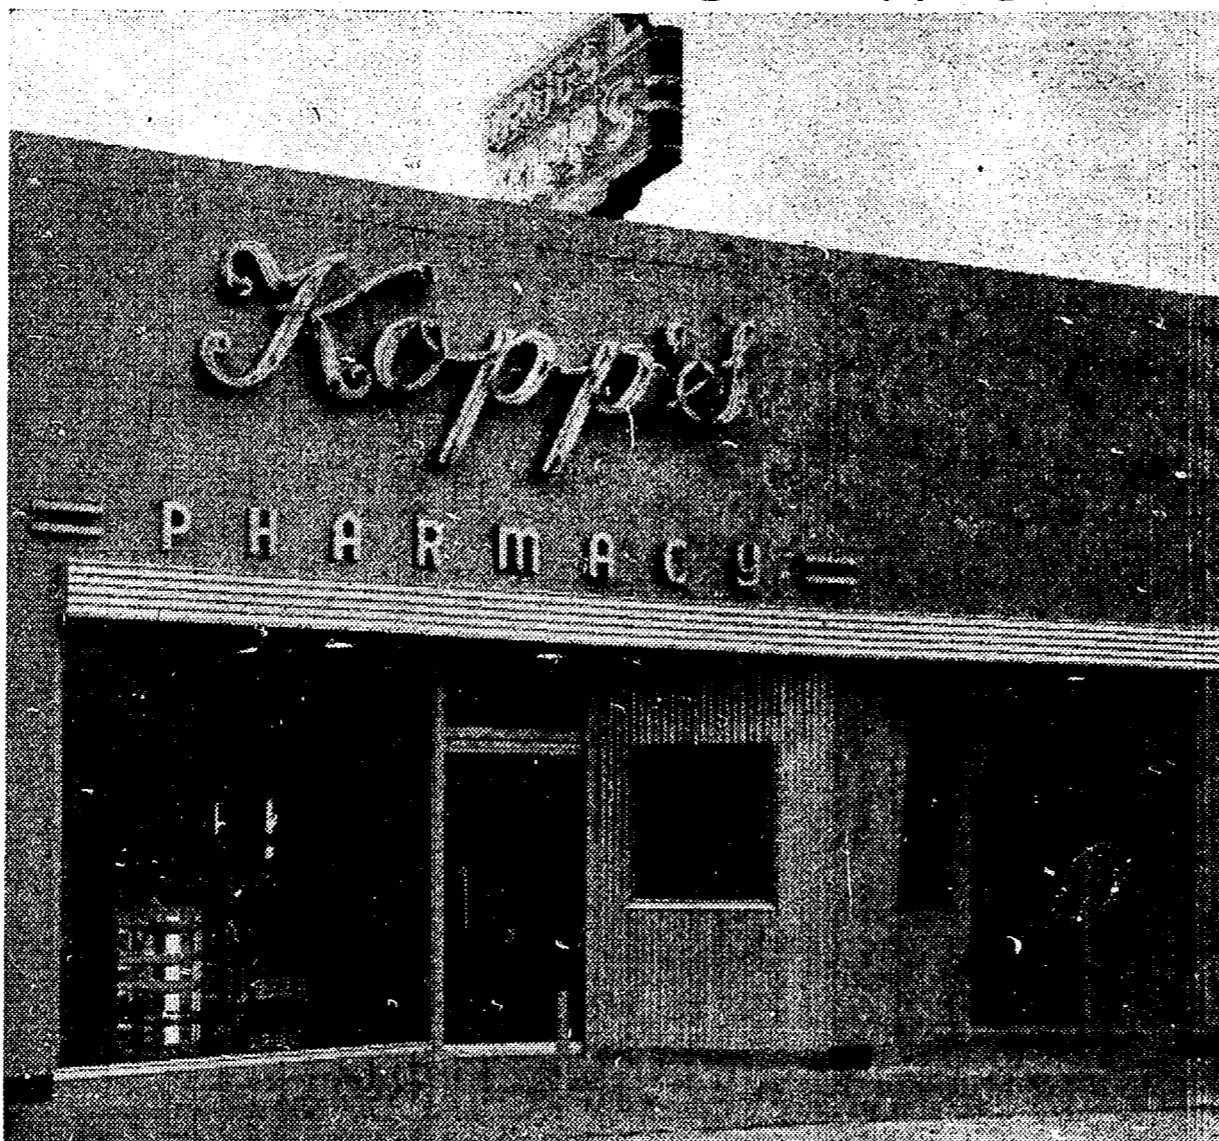

Total number of permits issued for the 11 months since January 1 show 181 for residences valued at a total of $4,369,000; 137 for miscellaneous building projects, valued at $205,000; and four non-assessable buildings valued at $358,000.

The grand totals show 322 permits issued, having a valuation of $4,932,100.

No permits for commercial building have been issued in the Farms this year.

Added Lustre for the Village Shopping Center

Kopp's Pharmacy brings another piece of Fifth Avenue right into the Pointe with the grand opening of its entirely done-over store this Saturday, December 8. Even the oldest friends of Helen and Fred Kopp wouldn't recognize the completely new establishment as the transformed version of the spanking new drugstore they opened exactly 12 years ago on the same location at 16926 Kercheval, between Cadieux and Notre Dame.

For 11 years before that, the Kopp's maintained their drug store in the next block, near the corner of St. Clair. That makes a total of 23 years that this popular couple has been serving the residents of the Pointe and surrounding area. . . . since 1928, or the year before the big boom which went crash.

In appreciation of the steady growth of their establishment, made possible by a loyal and ever-growing clientele, the Kopp's are now giving the Pointe one of the finest stores of its type to be found anywhere in the country.

The property next door has been acquired and converted into an amazingly attractive and efficient prescription department. All fixtures and decorating here and throughout the entire store are brand new. The prescription department is light and colorful and provided with easy chairs and magazines for the customers waiting for their prescriptions to be filled by experts.

The acquisition of the new property has allowed the Kopp's to greatly enlarge the interior of the original store. Space formerly used for storage and offices has been converted to extra display use. The liquor department has been magnified many times and is beautifully done in chestnut.

The entire rear of the store has been made into a gift shop. Here the discriminating shopper will find everything from Dresden china to the finest of stationery. There are Italian ceramics, Hyalyn and English bone china, hosiery, pens and pencils, lighters, clocks, wallets, pottery, dolls and myriad other items.

All Pointers are cordially invited to drop in and see Helen and Fred on Saturday and help them celebrate their grand opening.

As an added incentive they are giving away some 75 door prizes. The first prize will be a $100 gift certificate and the second a $50 gift certificate. It isn't necessary to make a purchase to have a coupon making you eligible for a prize.

When you have invited friends to a buffet supper, serve the early arrivals promptly. It is that kind of a party—perfectly correct to have a small group to eat as they arrive, and then take care of the late-comers without any feeling of apology. It is simpler for everyone, suggests Miss Helen Widick, of the institution administration department of Michigan State College.

Clerk Victim Of Old Trick

The old "shell game" now you see it, now you don't was enacted in part last Friday, November 28, at Wilson's store on Mack avenue in Grosse Pointe Woods.

The manager of the store reported to Woods police that light haired man about 5 feet nine inches tall, weighing 160 to 170 pounds, and about 38 to 40 years old, came into the store and purchased a quart of milk. He paid for his purchase with a five dollar bill and received $4.76 in change from the female clerk.

He then asked for a five dollar bill in exchange for five ones. The transaction was okay up to this point, but then he asked the girl clerk for a ten dollar bill in exchange for the five he had just received and by this time the clerk had become confused by the fast exchange of the folding green stuff and handed him the ten for the five.

The customer then left the store with not only his original five dollars but an additional five plus the quart of milk.

Woods officers checked the stores in the vicinity but the short change artist could not be found.

Mrs. Hartman Lichtwardt To Host DAR Committee

Mrs. Hartman A. Lichtwardt will open her home in Edison avenue to the Service Committee of Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, D.A.R., on Friday, December 7.

Mrs. Harry R. Matheny, Mrs. Donald G. Robinson, Mrs. Paul J. Meiser, Mrs. Neil Cameron, Mrs. Robert H. Peterson, and Mrs. Fred T. L. Grimm will assist the hostess.

Christmas gifts for the mountain schools will be wrapped following the luncheon and business meeting.

Uniform Traffic Ordinance For Area Up for Approval

The police chiefs and representatives of all of the Grosse Pointe communities along with Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores are meeting with the Traffic Safety committee today, December 6, at the Harvard House for the approval of the uniform traffic ordinance for those communities.

After the chiefs and their representatives approve the ordinance it will be submitted to the City Councils of the communities for the final approval.

Chief Arthur Louwers, of the Park, points out that once the uniform ordinance is formally approved and is put into effect it would give the communities mentioned an identical safety and traffic ordinance for the entire area.

It would also have a great advantage in the driver instruction program and the future driving instruction program which will be launched at Grosse Pointe High in the near future.

The new ordinance is a bit confusing inasmuch as children who live in the Park and go to the Mairre School, which is in the City, must conform to two sets of bicycle ordinances.

For instance if a cyclist in the Park conforms to the rules of his community he immediately is out of order when he pedals across the boundary line between the Park and City because of the differences of the two ordinances. The new ordinance eliminates this as all bike owners would be governed by one rule.

Symphony Plans Thanks Concert

This Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock the Detroit Symphony Orchestra gives thanks to the many people of Detroit who have contributed to its rebirth with a special concert in the Scottish Rite Auditorium.

With Walter Poole conducting, the orchestra presents a concert of rare and unusual works not to be performed at any other time during the season at no charge to those who have contributed to its maintenance fund.

Contributors may have two tickets each by calling the Symphony office immediately, TEmple 1-3900.

Programmed are Rimsky-Korsakov's "Capriccio Espagnol," Ibert's "Divertimento," Glinka's Overture, "Russian" and Lud-

Car Catches on Fire In Middle of Jefferson

Calvert Morgan of 511 Beaubien, Detroit, stood helplessly by, watching his car burn in the middle of Jefferson avenue near Beaconsfield last Saturday afternoon, December 1, as the Park fire department sirens howled their arrival.

The firemen quickly extinguished the blaze under the hood of the car. It was believed the fire was caused by defective wiring or alcohol fumes. No one was injured.

Archery Contest Draws 27 Kids

Twenty seven youngsters from ages 8 to 14 made like "William Tell" last Monday, December 3, in the Grosse Pointe Sports Shop's first archery contest.

Eight year old George Hickens, of 23221 Clairwood, St. Clair Shores, beat off the challenge of his only rival in the 8 to 9 year-old division after several ties occurred during the shoot. He scored 29 points.

In the 10 to 11 year-old division eleven year-old Phillip Davis of 1970 Emery court bested 14 other contestants with a score of 64 points while Danny Handlon of 1854 Allard topped the 12 to 14 year-old division with 88 points, which also gave him overall honors.

All three youngsters will be awarded trophies at the Sports Shop today.

Proprietor Norm Archer was enthusiastic at the turnout and promised the gathering another contest in the near future.

Two Christened By Rev. Ketchum

A double christening was held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Sunday, December 2, with the Rev. Paul Ketchum officiating. Little Peggy Jo Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Campbell of Maryland avenue, who was born last May 17, was baptized first. Her godparents were her aunt and uncle, Joan Mae Ellen and James D. Campbell.

Joan Mae Ellen was baptized after Peggy; she is 22 years old. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Campbell of St. Clair avenue, who were her sponsors. Also attending the ceremonies were Mrs. Jack Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Townsend. A reception followed at the home of the baby's parents.

Young Imbibers

Two carloads of Detroit teenagers were stopped for investigation by Farms Patrolman Van Tiem on November 30 at 10:50 p.m. The officer discovered a case of beer in one of the cars and 14 of the bantam bottles had already been consumed.

The 17 year old driver of one of the cars, admitted he had stolen the beer from a market where he was formerly employed as a stock boy. He said the girls with them had not had any of the beer.

The driver of the second car said his group had just happened to meet the other car at Merriweather and Ridge road.

Yule Decorations Governed by Law

Rules governing Christmas decorations, established for the purpose of preventing fire hazards, have been revealed by Chief William Newport of the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department.

The rules governing institutions, stores and all places of gatherings include:

1. No paper decorations to be used.
2. All decorations must be eight feet above floor.
3. All decorations must be flameproofed.
4. All decorations must be kept a safe distance from lights.
5. No natural decorations which must be spaced at least 10 feet apart.
6. No Christmas trees will be permitted without special permission from the Fire Chief. Where permission is granted, trees must be treated to reduce flammability and all ornaments must be non-inflammable. The following formula for the reduction of flammability of Christmas trees is accepted by this office:

Combustion can be reduced by allowing the tree to absorb a solution of calcium chloride. This is done in the following manner: Use calcium chloride to one-fourth the weight of the tree in pounds and mix this in one and one-half pints of water to the pound of calcium chloride.

Then cut the tree at the bottom on a diagonal slant and place the tree in the solution for a few days so that it will absorb this chemical mixture. Also, use a Christmas tree stand with a container for water in which the base of the tree is placed. This keeps it moist during the time it is used for decorative purposes.

If these regulations do not fully cover your plans for Christmas decorations, kindly contact the Fire Chief for assistance and approval.

Board of Education Action Poses Interesting Question

By Fred Runnells

It was learned recently that the request for a curbing around the running track on the Grosse Pointe High School athletic field was voted down by the Board of Education.

Mr. Shirley Johnson, former Board member, made a motion to seek estimates on various types of curbing around the track last June. The estimates were obtained and the highest was approximately $4,000 for a concrete curb.

After careful consideration and the reading of a letter from Principal Walter Cleminson, the Board elected to vote the motion down because it didn't seem advisable to spend that kind of money on the track when so many more important things are needed in the school system.

Your reporter learned that it was Principal Cleminson's letter that actually did the trick in killing the motion. In all probability the negative vote was for the best, in view of the fact the track is only used for four meets a year and a limited number of students.

However, we have a bone to pick and we'll let the scraps fall where they may.

To the best of my knowledge there was approximately $900.00 placed in the Student Association Fund when the student body elected to withdraw that amount from the War Memorial Library Fund Campaign when it failed. If memory serves me correctly this amount was approximately fifty percent of the total donated by the Grosse Pointe High students to the campaign.

Again if memory serves, the student body placed this $900.00 in the Student Association Fund earmarked for either a curbing around the track which would make it legal as far as records were concerned and enable the Blue Devils to play host to a Regional track meet, or a down payment towards an electric football scoreboard.

This was approximately three years ago when the money was earmarked for one or the other of these projects, and long since, those students have left the school.

What I would like to know, now that the track curbing idea has been cancelled out, is if the money is going to be spent on the football scoreboard? Probably this idea, if it is ever brought up for discussion and a vote by the Board members, will be cancelled out also due to the fact the Blue Devils only play four football games at home.

Cider in a glass pitcher becomes something special when you add a few unpeeled apple slices, sliced across the apple, to the drink. Some hostesses add mint leaves, too.

Strenuous Week For Ibex Club

Members of the Ibex Club and their guests will meet for luncheon at the University Club on Friday, December 7. Mrs. Robert M. Hamilton, program chairman, has arranged a book review to be given by Mrs. Gail Jordan Tousey, and reservations are being taken by Mrs. Forbes Henderson, house committee chairman.

A block of seats has been reserved for the club tonight (Thursday) at the Grosse Pointe

Community Theatre's production of "The Corn Is Green."

Earlier in the week (on Monday), the House and Garden group met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Caskey of Stanton lane to hear a talk on Christmas decorations by Robert Jean, and on Tuesday the board of directors, with Mrs. Robert F. Weber presiding, met for tea with Mrs. Francis Van Deusen of Harvard road.

Joan Scherer Hostess At Holiday Reunion

Joan Scherer was hostess at a post-Thanksgiving reunion to a group of college freshmen, all Grosse Pointe High graduates. Among those comparing notes on college life were—Elaine Otto, Bambi Wigton, Linda Maire, Suzie Sharrer, Peggy Fisher, Carol Kretschmar, Joan Merrill and Elaine Kihen.

Sorosis to Hold Christmas Party

The fifty-seventh annual Christmas party of Detroit Sorosis will be held in the home of Mrs. Fred Studer, of 54 Roslyn road, Grosse Pointe Shores, on Tuesday, December 11. To be received at the door will be gifts for the patients of Children's Hospital, food stuffs for a needy family, and also gifts which Santa will distribute among the members.

Assisting at the luncheon meeting will be Mrs. C. R. Chandler, Mrs. Donald Jenkins, and Mrs. W. G. Eversman. Co-chairman for the program will be Mrs. John Engstrom, and Mrs. Elmer Norman.

In caring for the sick person at home why not raise the bed by use of wooden blocks? It is much easier for the nurse Mrs. Alice Thorpe, of the home management department at Michigan State College, suggests.

Charles G. Williams Announce Birth of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Casgrain Williams of Silver Springs, Md. have announced the birth of a son, Charles Casgrain Williams Jr., born Nov. 30. Mrs. Williams was the former Henrietta Kernan. The young man's grandmother, Mrs. William K. Williams of Beaupre, left on Friday to spend a few days in Silver Springs.

League of Women Voters Pushes Children's Services

"Remember the bond issue and the Mental Hospitals we are waiting for? Let's not forget the children! They have never had their own facilities for mental care."

This cry from the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters went out to legislators after four months intensive study of the unmet needs of children, and the gaps in services to them throughout the state. They discovered that many children who are badly disturbed cannot receive treatment, and too often there is no foster home or adequate institutional facility for this child. This is the child who could be returned to his family and society without needing to be hospitalized.

The League's State Program is to "support legislative measures for greater coordination of existing services and the establishment of new services."

After intensive study of mental health needs, the Grosse Pointe members, decided to take two steps: to recommend that the Board of Education add two additional visiting teachers to the present staff of two; and to bring current children's services before the citizenry through the local press and public discussion.

The first open meeting will be held Friday, December 14 at 1:30 p.m. at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, with the central topic, "Is Ours the Best Mental Health Program for Children?" Featured on the program are five specialists, including Mrs. Ruth Hayes, Grosse Pointe Visiting Teacher, whose topic is, "How Does a Visiting Teacher Prevent Mental Illness?"

Other panel members are Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, Assistant Director of Children's Center of Metropolitan Detroit; Mr. Bernard Segner, District Supervisor of Gratiot Family Service Society; Mr. Lynn Bartlett, Director of Pupil Personnel, Grosse Pointe Board of Education; and Mrs. Mary Gwynn, State Chairman of the League of Women Voters' Children's Services Committee.

Among the subjects discussed will be legislation, mental health needs on local and state levels, mental health resources, and projected community mental health programs.

This meeting is open by invitation to representatives of the local press and 40 organizations in Grosse Pointe, including churches, police courts, P-T-A's, schools, the Protestant Children's Home, and the Wayne County Child Study Clinic, in addition to the community at large.

The League hopes that the community members who attend this meeting will not only be better informed, but will take back to their groups ideas for promoting expanded preventive and remedial mental health services for children.

Recreational services, necessarily part of a mental health program, will be discussed in a February meeting.

William Durbin Receives Honor

William A. Durbin, of Neff road, has been elected a director of the Public Relations Society of America for the Central Region of which Michigan is a part.

Mr. Durbin first came to Michigan in July, 1947, to join the Ivy Lee and T. J. Ross organization, national Public Relations Counsel firm, and stayed with it until 1950 when he became director of Public Relations for the Burroughs Adding Machine Company.

A graduate of St. Louis University with a Bachelor of Arts in 1938 and a Bachelor of Laws in 1941, Mr. Durbin served from 1937 to 1942 as staff announcer on various St. Louis radio stations and in 1941 was named chief announcer of Radio Station KXOK.

From 1942 to 1946 he served as a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and for approximately half of that time served as an administrative assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in Washington, D. C., handling public relations matters.

From January, 1946, to July, 1947, he served as director of public relations at St. Louis University, and was elected vice-president of the American College Public Relations Association.

Mr. Durbin is a member of the advisory committee of the Economic Club of Detroit, member of the board of directors of the USO of Metropolitan Detroit, a member of the Adcraft Club of Detroit, and secretary and a director of the Detroit Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America.

GPHS Juniors To Hold Prom

By SHIRLEY ULRICH
G.P.H.S. Journalism Student

Grosse Pointe High School's class of June '53 is maintaining traditional secrecy concerning the decorations for their Junior Prom on December 8.

Al Ross and his band will provide the music from 9 to 12 o'clock in the high school gym. The 11A, 12B, and 12A classes have received invitations to attend the prom.

The 11A class officers, George Cope, president; Nancy Bruneau, vice-president; Jane Fildew, secretary, and Tony Pear, treasurer, will lead the grand march. Their parents and Miss Bertha Scherper, class sponsor, will be the chaperones.

The class officers also take charge of committees: Nancy Bruneau, decorations and publicity; Tony Pear, refreshments, and George Cope, entertainment.

The 11A artists on the decoration committee are: Betty Rietz, Delphine Walgenbach, Vyda Mae Harris, Joyce Ayling, Nancy Fricke, Shirley Stoppin, Tom Downing, Terry Messner and Bill Marsden.

Church Adults To Hold Dinner

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will hold a Christmas dinner in the Community room of the church on Friday evening, December 7, at 6:30 p.m.

This is in accord with a policy laid down by the program planning committee last spring at which time it was decided to have one dinner a year for the adult members of the church to become acquainted with each other free from the responsibility of their children. At all of the "Family Night Dinners" of the church the children are most welcome and are usually the chief source of entertainment.

The Briggs Chorus will sing the Christmas program and will lead the group in carol singing. Dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. with appetizers in the parlor and the main course will be served in the Community room. For reservations, call Mrs. Kenneth Kimmel at TU, 2-3282.

This Is Why Mr. Smith Went to Washington

Murray Smith, engineer for the City of Grosse Pointe Farms, went to Washington last week seeking permission to use steel sheeting to save the pier at the Farms beach park from complete destruction. The city can obtain the needed material, but local officials of the Controlled Materials Department, Division of the Department of Commerce, said they could not grant permission to use it as there is a federal regulation against the use of such materials for recreational purposes. The Farms took the stand that the material is needed to protect its investment in the pier. Washington did not question the validity of the request and assured Mr. Smith that the project would be allowed.

Dr. Thomas Horan Dies Suddenly

Dr. Thomas Neil Horan, 49, was found dead beside his car in the driveway of his home at 93 Handy lane, early in the morning of December 11.

The Farms police were notified by William E. Reinholdt of 4126 Cadillac, Detroit, a distributor for the Detroit Free Press, that he had seen a man on the ground there. Officers Van Tien, Martin, Kerbrat and Backman investigated.

Dr. Horan was rushed to Cottage Hospital in the police ambulance. He was pronounced dead by Dr. George Graf. Death was due to a heart attack.

The police could find no one at home at the Horan residence, and telephone calls were not answered. They got into the house and found an address book which contained the telephone number of Charles D. LaFond of 467 University place, a friend of the family.

Mr. LaFond told the police Mrs. Horan was in Saginaw visiting her mother and said he would notify her.

Dr. Horan is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Curtis Horan; daughter, Rosemary; son, James; his mother, Mrs. James E. Horan; and a brother David.

Services were held on Monday, December 3 at 11 a.m. from the Chapel in the Hamilton Funeral Home. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

GPHS Swimmers Break Record

The Grosse Pointe swimming team swamped the Hazel Park Vikings 67-17 in the Grosse Pointe pool, last Tuesday afternoon, December 4. To top off the one-sided victory, the Devil 160-yard relay team broke the pool record with a time of 1 minute and 17.1 seconds.

The record-breaking team was made up of Bob Wibleman, Stewy Smith, Tony Pear, and Robin Hesse. The old record of 1 minute and 17.6 seconds, was set in 1948 by the team of Machris-O'Connell-Murphy-Jenks.

All Eyes and Ears

by
Nelle and Dick Spencer

The program presented by Sir Ernest MacMillan and the Toronto Symphony Orchestra on November 27 was unusual if not entirely rewarding from a musical point of view. The major offering of the evening was the Pastoral for Voice and Orchestra by the Cleveland composer and critic, Herbert Elwell. This work, based on the "Song of Songs," is an interesting experiment in orchestration, but it loses much of its effectiveness because of its excessive length.

Lois Marshall, the Canadian soprano, revealed much warmth, understanding and fine control in her singing of the solo line.

Also included on the program were Smetana's Overture to "The Bartered Bride," Two Sketches for String Orchestra on French Canadian Airs, tastefully arranged by the conductor, Elgar's "Enigma" Variations, and "The Swan of Tuonela," by Sibelius. Throughout the program, and especially in the playing of the Sibelius work, there was a ponderousness in Sir Ernest's style which gave the music a labored quality.

Jonel Perlea, after only five rehearsals with the Detroit Orchestra, made his first of six appearances as guest conductor last Thursday. The program was an ambitious one, opening with Beethoven's Third ("Eroica") Symphony, and closing with Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," as arranged for orchestra by Maurice Ravel. The third offering, two Debussy Nocturnes ("Clouds" and "Festivals") revealed Perlea's fine appreciation of the impressionistic school with its freedom of expression.

The Beethoven was lacking in brilliance, and moved too slowly in all four movements. These same faults were observed in the playing of the Moussorgsky work, though to a lesser degree.

DRAMA

"The Corn Is Green," the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre's first production of the season, will be presented tonight and Friday night at the Grosse Pointe High School. (Curtain time: 8:30.) Advance information indicates that this is a fine production, and we are looking forward to seeing it.

To Award Medal To DeNavarre

The 1951 Medal Award for contributions to the art and science of cosmetics will be awarded to Maison G. deNavarre, vice-president in charge of manufacturing of Cosmetic Laboratories, Inc. (Division of Beauty Counsellors, Inc.). The Society of Cosmetic Chemists sponsors the award.

Mr. deNavarre, one of the outstanding writers on the science of cosmetics, published in 1941 the now famous "The Chemistry and Manufacture of Cosmetics," which filled a long-standing need in the industry. In attempts to share his knowledge, he has written scores of articles in technical, professional and scientific journals on pharmaceutical and cosmetic subjects.

He is technical editor of the "American Perfumer and Essential Oil Review," one of the leading trade journals of the industry. He was instrumental in organizing the Society of Cosmetic Chemists and founded the Drug and Cosmetic Association of Michigan.

Mr. deNavarre, whose particular cosmetic interests have been in sunscreens, antiperspirants, preservatives, hair preparations, and emulsions, introduced into cosmetics such compounds as cetyl alcohol, lecithin, sorbitol syrup, and hexitol fatty esters.

Mr. deNavarre will receive the award at a dinner meeting of the Society of Cosmetic Chemists in his honor on Thursday, December 6 at the Biltmore Hotel.

He lives at 404 Lothrop road, Grosse Pointe.

George Trues to Host Meeting of Baha'i Group

At 8:15 p.m. Friday, December 7, Mrs. Wilma Ridley of Detroit will present a summary of chapters V and VI of the book, "Prescription for Living," at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George R. True, 132 Moran road.

Mrs. Ridley, a student of sociology, has been working for a number of years with youth groups in this area, and has had considerable experience in community center work. Chapters V and VI of the book which she is reviewing deal with the chapters on "Death" and "Work" and answer such questions as "What is your purpose in life—are you fulfilling it?" and "What are the mental and spiritual effects of work?"

This meeting is sponsored by the Baha'is of Grosse Pointe as one of a series of meetings held the first Friday of each month. They are open to anyone wishing to attend.

Wanted . . . Better Mail Service

The fact that the Post Office Department has acknowledged the need for a new, large headquarters to serve the Pointe area, nourishes another hope to which we have clung for a long time . . . better mail delivery service.

The haphazard, irregular deliveries to which the area has long been accustomed, were probably all right in the days when the Pointes were little more than segregated villages. But the community has now grown to contain more than 40,000 residents and a multitude of thriving business establishments.

It is the home of a great number of prominent industrialists and executives, many of whom are forced to carry a portion of their business transactions into their homes, to be tended to in the hours which formerly would have been devoted to leisure.

It would be most helpful to individuals and businesses alike if they could count on regular, earlier mail deliveries. This paper may or may not be a typical example, but mail deliveries play a most important part in the carrying on of the business of getting out a newspaper.

A great volume of both news and advertising matter arrives in the mail. Sources of both are notorious procrastinators and very prone to put off to the last minute the act of getting the news or advertising copy to the newspaper office.

Printers do not work on Saturday, so no type can be set from Friday night until Monday morning. In order to get a newspaper ready to be delivered to the readers in the first mail on Thursday, it is necessary to place a deadline for all copy at late Tuesday. Final mechanical preparations are done during the night and the paper is released to the pressmen Wednesday morning, comes off the presses in the early afternoon and gets to the mailers immediately for processing through the post office. It then has to be sent from the Roosevelt Station out to the Kercheval Station to be placed in the hands of the mailmen for delivery.

All of this means that the editorial and advertising staffs of the paper have little more than two days, Monday and Tuesday, to get out a week's edition. There has been considerable scratching for news and advertising copy on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. And on Sunday most of the staff is in the office making a desperate attempt to scrape together a little more copy to lighten the frantic rush of Monday and Tuesday.

Monday morning is counted upon to produce a great deal of copy via the mail. The weekly prayer is that the mailman will arrive early, so the copy can be edited and prepared and rushed to the compositors, whose machines are hungry for it. Idle machines in the morning mean overtime that night and the printing costs pyramid.

Sometimes the mailman does arrive early on Monday and Tuesday. But this is the exception and calls for cheers. More often he gets nearer noon, and sometimes even later. Precious hours are lost, the pressure is on to try and catch up, and costs have risen tremendously.

We do not blame this situation on the local postman, nor the postal authorities in Detroit. We have found both amazingly cooperative. They have gone far out of their way to be of service when we have been faced with emergencies.

We blame it on the post office system, which is guided by the lawmakers who control the appropriations for this vital service. And we insist that it is a service to which the people of the country are entitled.

Millions are spent for rural free delivery to the farmers, at a terrific loss. The farmers are entitled to this service, far more than they are to be paid for crops they do not grow and work they do not do.

If the government would divert a fraction of the millions it spends on subsidies, unappreciated gifts to ungrateful nations and for the perpetuation of not only useless, but harmful bureaucratic agencies and departments, the Post Office Department could afford to pay wages that would attract sufficient help and provide the facilities to give the American people the kind of postal service they are entitled to expect.

Take Your Pick

The total population of Grosse Pointe, according to the figures of the 1950 census, just published in a tabulation made by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, is 40,181.

The Pointe is grouped in Area 12, which also includes Harper Woods, the latter city being credited with a population of 9,148. The total population of all of Area 12 is listed at 49,329.

A breakdown of the figures for the various Pointes, shows: Grosse Pointe City, 6,283 in 1950 and 6,179 in 1940; Grosse Pointe Farms, 9,410 in 1950 and 7,217 in 1940; Grosse Pointe Park, 13,075 in 1950 and 12,646 in 1940; Grosse Pointe Woods, 10,381 in 1950 and 2,805 in 1940; Grosse Pointe Shores, 1,032 in 1950 and 801 in 1940.

The Shores figure for 1950 includes 18 persons living in tiny Lake Township, which embraces the Edsel Ford estate. Harper Woods has grown from 858 in 1940 to 9,148 in 1950. The new City of Harper Woods comprises practically all of what was formerly Gratiot Township.

The 1950 government census figures show a vast difference from the figures of the annual school census completed in May. Figures taken in this census were released this fall and printed in the October 4 issue of the NEWS.

The Grosse Pointe School District includes all of the Pointes and a small portion of Gratiot. The 1951 census showed a growth of 3,684, or 8.42 percent over the 1950 school census figures.

The school census this year showed the total population of the five Pointes to be just under the 45,000 mark.

There is also a noticeable difference between the 1950 government census figures and the figures obtained in the 1950 school census. There are many who believe the annual school census is a much more accurate one than that made every 10 years by the federal government. The school census is taken for the purpose of deciding the allocation of school

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"She comes not when noon is on the roses . . . Too bright is Day. She comes not to the soul till it reposes From work and play. But when night is on the hills, and the great voices Roll in from sea, By starlight and by candlelight and dreamlight She comes to me." (Herbert Trench)

Recently, we have had the dubious pleasure of reading some of the mail the college students are sending home to their parents . . . and from some of the grammar (to say NOTHING of the spelling), we wonder how they got in in the first place. Things have certainly changed since grandma shuffled off the mortal coil. An example of the mistake most common to all kids from all colleges . . . reads as follows: "Alice and myself went to the football game." Ouch!

By no means are we picking on tender youth alone. We've heard some old school ties, (from big shot colleges), who are now big shot businessmen, use the most atrocious grammar in the world. An outstanding example is the guy who said, "it don't count" and when we raised our eyebrows, he said "don't" is perfectly okay to use in that manner, due to its having become popular through common usage!!! Another howling example . . . and one we've used here before . . . is the gent who referred to something or other happening to "Charlie and I." When his loving spouse gasped . . . "Charlie and EYE?" . . . he shrugged and said, "All right then, I and Charlie."

On our desk at the moment is a letter from a Southern gentleman whose college background we know nothing about . . . but we do know that he has enough money to buy a college. His letter starts out, "Dear Blank, Thank you for the beautiful vase you sent to both Eva and I." GET US OUT OF HERE! Maybe there ought to be less Latin taught in schools and more of the King's English. One thing is apparent . . . getting a diploma has nothing to do with the way you speak or write. That's for sure . . . and we can say "that's for sure" because we didn't GO to college!

The biggest thrill of the week for us was receiving a postcard from Inchon, Korea, from E. B. Rall, who apparently receives and reads the Grosse Pointe News. The picture on the card shows a group of native women carrying large bundles on their heads . . . and one woman, whose back is to the camera, has her small son "strapped" to her back. On the card, he has written the following: "Dear A. Pryor, You think you've got troubles with vendors, wasps, etc. Come on over here. Rice, raw fish and Chinese cabbage three times a day. The little fellow in the 'rumble seat' is the only one who has it easy here." Bless you dear boy. Let's hear from you again . . . and how about an address?

In the mail bag: This correspondent tells us the following really happened. An eleven year old girl heard her neighbor was expecting an addition to the family. When the woman returned from the hospital, the child decided she'd like to see the new arrival . . . and got her mother's permission to call . . . however, mother neglected to tell the youngster that their neighbor had identical twin girls. Tip-toeing in to see the "new baby" . . . the mother was amazed to see the look of horror on the girl's face . . . just before she exclaimed, "Gosh, two heads!"

The president of an Optimist Club, attended a meeting in New York and for the occasion, wore his club button in his lapel. In a crowded subway, he noticed a drunk staring at him and squinting his eyes in order to see what was printed on the button. Soon, the inebriate weaved his way toward our friend and poking at the button, said, "Well now, I've seen a lot of optimists in my day but this is the first time I've seen the president."

For obvious reasons, we cannot use names in the following incident so we shall improvise as gooder as we can. (That "gooder" we are going to pass on to the colleges.) There is a veddy rich local woman whom we shall call Mrs. F. Thaddeus Gotrocks . . . and there is also a veddy modest income bracket woman, who is the heroine of our story . . . and whom we shall call Mrs. Cyrus Blockhead. The two women have a nodding acquaintance and that's about as far as it goes.

One day, last week, both were downtown shopping and ran into each other in the same store. They greeted each other and since they were both waiting at the same counter, they fell into desultory conversation about the weather and such. Mrs. Blockhead bemoaned the fact that Christmas shopping was always so hectic and besides, she had an AWFUL time thinking of something to get for Mr. Blockhead. Mrs. Gotrocks murmured some polite nothing . . . indicating that she didn't give a hoot what Mr. Blockhead got for Christmas, if anything. But our heroine was not one to be thrown out of conversation so easily. Suddenly she said brightly . . . as if it might help HER in the choice of a gift, "By the way, WHAT are you giving Thaddeus for Christmas?"

Everyone has in his or her life, a friend or neighbor or acquaintance who can best be described as the "bright twittery" type of creature. The kind of woman whose nature it is to be polite and kind to everyone, smile and "twit" and gush and overdo her thank you's. Well, just such a woman attended the funeral of an old friend of the family some years ago . . . and as she entered the church (alone), a small quiet man in charge of things, whispered to her, asking if she'd like him to accompany her to the casket to see "Mr. Soandso." She turned her bright look upon the poor man and gushed heartily, "Oh! Thank you SO much . . . but I don't think so . . . not today."

taxes by the state, and is most carefully checked. Local school officials are also most anxious to make an accurate tabulation, because the greater the population the more money is obtained from the state for school purposes.

A comparison of the 1950 government census figures with those obtained by the school canvassers in the same year is most interesting.

The Park, for instance, had almost 1,000 more residents in 1950, according to the school census, than the government census credits it with. The Woods showed a variation of more than 400. The difference in the Farms was almost 400. The City was credited with almost 200 more by the school census than by the government one. The Shores, with by far the smallest population, only showed a difference of 12 between the two censuses.

According to the school census the total population of the five Pointes in 1950 was 41,992, whereas the government census credited them with only 40,181.

Letters To The Editor

December 1, 1951.
Dear Mr. Edgar:
The Blood Bank Committee, headed by Mrs. Lyndle R. Martin and co-chairmen Dr. David Davidson, Congregational Church; Mrs. Joseph G. Rhein, St. Michaels Chapel; Mrs. J. M. Easton, Jr., Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian; Mrs. Donald Schurr, Grosse Pointe Memorial; Mrs. Truman Brown, Christ Church; Mrs. Willis Bugbee, Grosse Pointe Methodist, and Mr. Bernard Williams, Faith Community Reformed, wish to express to you their sincere thanks and appreciation for the cooperation received from the Grosse Pointe News. The outstanding success of the project was due to a considerable extent to the very effective publicity which appeared in your paper. When important projects of this nature are supported wholeheartedly by all members of the community their success is assured. Sincerely, Catherine M. Browne (Mrs. W. M.)

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library and friends of the Friends constituted an enthusiastic audience last Tuesday evening at the Main Library when Mrs. Fred K. Hauck discussed noteworthy current books. Mrs. Hauck's book talks are always characterized by a buoyant enthusiasm which is readily transmitted to her listeners.

Well up on Mrs. Hauck's list of favorites was Hesketh Pearson's DIZZY: THE LIFE AND PERSONALITY OF BENJAMIN DISRAELI, EARL OF BEACONSFIELD, Harper, $4.00. This is not a profound interpretation of the great English statesman's life and work but an eminently readable one. Disraeli's keen wit, coupled with his showman propensities, provides the book with many quotable lines. There is entertainment here for a wide audience.

If you enjoyed OF MEN AND MOUNTAINS, by William O. Douglas, you will find his STRANGE LANDS AND FRIENDLY PEOPLE, Harper, $4.50, a worthy companion. In his wanderings through Greece, Persia, Arabia, Israel and India, he meets high and low but is ever aware of the dignity and humanity of the poor and of those who live close to the earth. We should, he believes, learn about the standard of life instead of talking about the standard of living.

THE FORRESTAL DIARIES, edited by Walter Millis, Viking, $5.00, provide excellent background material for the understanding of today's issues. This informal record made during Forrestal's term as Secretary of the Navy 1944, then as the nation's first Secretary of Defense, gives evidence of the contribution which he made and the ability which he brought to a taxing role. At no time is it a personal diary.

MOSES, by Sholem Asch, Putnam, $3.75, is not a book to be skipped through lightly. "If," to quote Mrs. Hauck, "you take it as you should, slowly, you will find it rewarding reading." The story of Moses follows the Old Testament closely and succeeds in bringing these remote Biblical times to life.

In GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD, Coward McCann, $3.50, Elizabeth Goudge tells the story of Christ from the Annunciation to the Resurrection. Here the author keeps close to her source, the gospels. There is amplification of the narrative in description and characterization but the dialogue is in Bible text. This is another rewarding book.

If you read that engaging family chronicle LITTLE BRITCHES by Ralph Moody, you should not miss MAN OF THE FAMILY, Norton, $3.00, which continues the tale of Little Britches after the father's death, when with his mother and sister he carries on as the man of the household. There is courage, resourcefulness and a sense of togetherness here that is appealing, yet the book is never forced.

Followers of Lloyd C. Douglas will welcome his last book, TIME TO REMEMBER, Houghton Mifflin, $2.75. Here he tells of his early life in small midwestern country parishes where his father preached, and of his college years. The book has a homespun quality, the interest lying rather in the picture of that day, than in the author's own story. Death intervened before his second volume was written. In it he had planned to tell of his later life as a novelist and a minister.

MY HOME ON THE RANGE, by Marguerite Kennedy, Little, $3.50, Mrs. Hauck recommended as a gay and high-spirited tale of

Drunk Drivers Go to Jail

"Drunk Drivers Lose Their Licenses" is the slogan adopted by the State Safety Commission for its December program of traffic safety education, which is a part of the current, nation-wide effort to postpone the country's one millionth traffic death due this month.

"It is ironic," the Grosse Pointe Chiefs of Police say, "that December, which is traditionally the happiest time of the year, is also the deadliest. This is particularly true this year since National Safety Council statisticians estimate that the country's one millionth traffic fatality will occur sometime around Christmas."

Unfortunately, at no other time of the year are we less prepared by weather and physical conditions to slow down mounting traffic fatalities than in December. Besides the usual reduced visibility, bad weather and slippery road surfaces are characteristic of winter in general.

It was pointed out that the presence of large numbers of drinking drivers on the street constitutes a menace that reaches its height during the Christmas season.

"The drinking driver," the chiefs say, "isn't a problem unique to the holiday season by any means. But his prevalence during the season's festivities points up the desperate need for widespread public education to the hazards he creates."

The State Safety Commission pointed out that about one in six drivers involved in fatal accidents has been drinking. About a young ranch wife in Arizona during the early nineteen hundreds.

Mention was made, too, of the English novelist, Graham Greene, an acknowledged craftsman, whose recent book, THE END OF THE AFFAIR, is being widely publicized.

Space permits us to comment on a few only of the thirty or more books which were discussed at Tuesday's meeting. The complete list of these, however, is available at your library. This list we hope will provide ideas for Christmas giving as well as suggestions for your own reading program. Telephone your library if you wish to reserve any of these books.

one in five of the adult pedestrians killed have been drinking. These figures mean that there were about 6,000 fatal accidents last year in which either a driver or a pedestrian had been drinking," the chiefs stated. "And the holiday season had more than its share of these accidents."

The chiefs asked all Grosse Pointe citizens to keep off the streets and highways this month if they have been drinking, and to watch out for those who have failed to do this.

"If you are planning to attend a Christmas or New Year's party," they say, "make your transportation plans before you leave home—either in terms of public transportation or with a non-drinking friend."

The chiefs also asked all employers in Grosse Pointe to emphasize the dangers of drinking and driving to their employees when laying plans for office Christmas parties.

"Drunk Drivers Lose Their Licenses" is the slogan selected by the State Safety Commission for its December program of traffic safety education. It is being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

Two Aids To Success

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

With the beginning of a new school year, you no doubt hope that your child will be able to get a good start and continue with the class to complete a successful year.

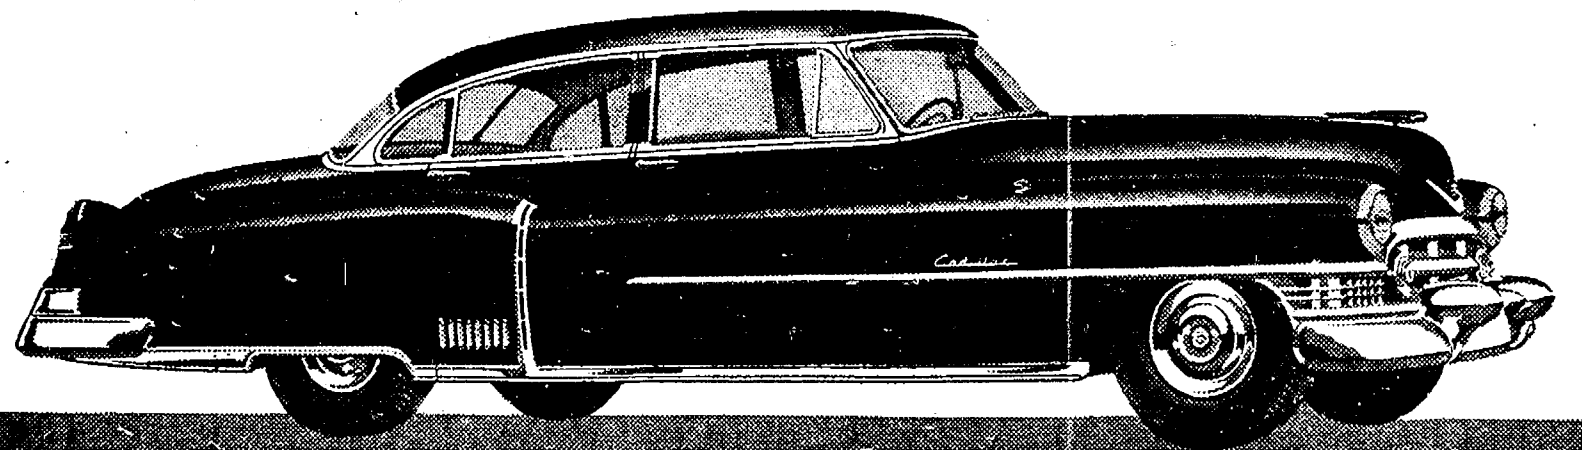

You can't foresee the cold or illness that might delay studies for a week or two, but you can make certain that your child is not being retarded by poor eyesight or poor hearing.

An examination by the doctor at the beginning of every school year is a safeguard. Good eyesight and good hearing will aid your child immeasurably now and in later life.

His Fifteenth Cadillac!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

Put a man behind the wheel of a Cadillac—and he's very likely to stay behind the wheel of a Cadillac!

Many add many a man is driving his fifteenth Cadillac—and it is not unusual to encounter an owner who goes far beyond that figure.

Naturally, a car must offer many things in order to have such an enduring hold on the affections of those who own and drive it.

It must be as faithful and dependable as a mechanical creation of its type can be.

It must be so pleasant to drive and so easy to handle that the hours at its wheel bring rest and relaxation.

It must be so beautiful and so highly respected that it is a compliment to its owner wherever he drives.

And it must be economical, both to operate and to maintain—for luxury brings a dual pleasure when it comes with no extra penalty in cost.

In short, if a car is to have such a hold on the regard of its owners, it must be a Cadillac!

If you have already ordered this distinguished car, and are awaiting its delivery, hold firm to your purpose—for each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.

But if we don't yet have your order, better come in and see us today. The sooner you place your order, the sooner you'll have those many wonderful things which only a Cadillac provides.

International Party Planned

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will sponsor a Christmas party for the Nationality Group on Sunday, December 16, from 5 to 9 p.m.

A cordial welcome is extended to all those who have come to Grosse Pointe from foreign lands. The meeting will provide an opportunity for the group to meet new friends and exchange experiences in a friendly atmosphere.

Members will participate in a talent program with singing and dancing to be featured in skits. One interesting act will be the singing of Christmas carols, first in the language of their native land, then in English.

Chet Sampson will show his movies of the far West just prior to the arrival of Santa Claus.

Mrs. Frederick C. Ford will preside at the tea table. The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. Ben Beyer, Mrs. Harry Friessma, Mrs. Edward Gehrig, Mrs. Nathan Goodnow, Mrs. David Moore, Mrs. Robert Patterson, and Mrs. R. E. Smith.

For further information call the Center, TUxedo 1-8039.

Y-Teens Work For Settlement

All Fall the Y-Teens of Grosse Pointe High School have been working on projects for the Neighborhood House Settlement of Detroit at Fourth and Porter, the oldest Settlement in the area. Now they are in the midst of their most important project of the year, collecting toys of every possible description for the little children at the Settlement.

Carol Ford, who is in charge of the dolls is busily painting, sewing, washing dolls and their clothes, with the help of her committee who are: Susan Armstrong, Jeanne Rydholm, Louise Hutchins, Nancy St. Peter, Graechen Becker, Kay Catchick, Susan Senff and many others.

The goal they are working for comes December 16. This is a big day at the Settlement when they have their annual "Hanging of the Greens."

Six girls have been chosen to go down on the merits of their work to present the toys and assist with serving the refreshments after the program.

They are: Laura Lou Smith, president of Y-Teens; Ann Watson, chairman of all the Y-Teen settlement work activities; Carol Ford, Susan Armstrong, Sally Browne and Betsy Squire.

Any additional toys new, used or repairable would be greatly appreciated. Call Ann Watson at TU. 2-8048.

Metropolitan Club to Give Kids' Party

Seventy eight youngsters at the Protestant Children's Home on Cook road in Grosse Pointe Woods will be the honored guests of the Metropolitan Club's last function for 1951. On Monday, December 10, the Metropolitan Club members under the direction of Jack Burnett, Child Welfare chairman, will entertain the youngsters with movies which will be followed by refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Jim Fannigan of the City of Grosse Pointe police department is the co-chairman.

The Party will be the final function directed by Mr. Burnett who has held the Child Welfare Chairman's job for the past five years.

A Capella Choir To Give Concert

By Shirley Ulrich
The A Cappella Choir of Grosse Pointe High School, directed by Mr. John Finch, will present its annual Christmas Concert on December 19 at Pierce Junior High School auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

The soloists will be Frances Crowley, 11A, singing "Ave Maria" by Gounod; Bonnie Glasgow, 11A, singing "He Shall Feed His Flock Like A Shepherd"; Gayle Ashton, 12A, singing "O Holy Child" and Lee Macey, 11B, singing "Cantique De Noel."

Featured on the program will be "The Song of Christmas" arranged by Fred Waring, with narration by Bob Howe, 12A. Other narrators will be Sherry Davis, 11A, Phil Beach, 11B, and Don McCarty, 11B.

Other selections will include the "Hallelujah Chorus," "The Lord's Prayer," "The Christmas Story," "The Little Christ Child," a Russian hymn "Jospodi Pomilui," (translated "Have Mercy, O Lord") and "Silent Night."

The choir has also sung at a Pierce Junior High assembly and at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Tuxis Club. They have been requested to sing for three assemblies at the high school, the Mothers' Club Tea, the Women's Association at Memorial Church, and The Marine Hospital.

Stolen Car News Is Big Surprise

The Lexington, Kentucky police department picked up a 1948 4-door Chrysler as an abandoned car and upon investigation discovered it belonged to the Fisher Record Motor Sales at 15000 Kercheval in Grosse Pointe.

This information was forwarded to the Pointe company and came as a complete surprise. They didn't know the auto had been stolen from there sometime between November 15 and December 1.

The car will be returned to the Pointe by a company representative.

Troth Revealed In Virginia

The marriage of Mary Elizabeth Langs to Malcolm Lee Holekamp, Sept. 29, has been announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Langs of University place.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holekamp of Western Grove, Mo.

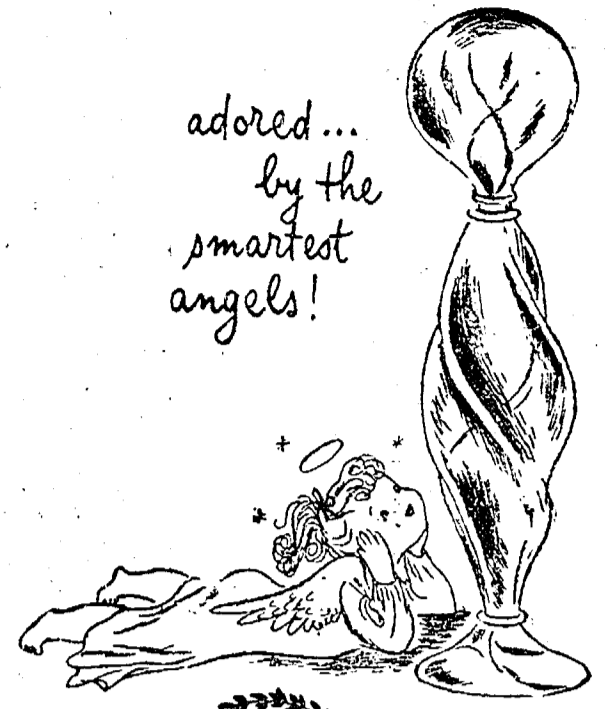

The Holecamps and Langs are Summer neighbors at Gratiot Beach where both families have vacationed for many years.

Announcement of the marriage was made last Saturday at the Sigma Chi House on the campus of Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Va. Malcolm is attending W. and L. and Mary Elizabeth will continue her studies at Sweetbriar College.

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

The Ernest Kanzlers of Lake Shore road, are getting ready to welcome home their own out-of-town contingent when sub deb daughter, Katrina, and the two young men of the family, Ernest, Jr., and Bobby arrive from their schools for the Christmas holidays.

Katrina, who will make her debut in December, 1952, is coming from Miss Porter's School on Dec. 21, Bobby arrives from Yale on the 20th and Ernest, Jr., gets in Dec. 18, coming from Deerfield Academy.

Summer Home Burns

The Chisholm Macdonalds, of Mirabeau place, received the distressing news that the new Summer home they built this year, Petite Pointe, at East Hampton, Long Island, was almost completely destroyed by fire on Monday afternoon.

They had been preparing to leave Wednesday to close the lovely home for the Winter season but instead left to inspect the damage.

The effervescent Mrs. Macdonald, after the first bad shock, started optimistically on plans for the new Petite Pointe.

She went ahead, too, with details of the breakfast she and Mr. Macdonald will give Dec. 22 to fete two of the season's debutantes, Mary Johnston, daughter of the George O. Johnstons, and Judy Frost, daughter of the John Crawford Frosts, Jr.

Mary Stuart Macdonald is arriving in the Pointe Dec. 20 (she attends Vassar) and son, Ross, is coming home the same day from Yale. After Christmas post deb Mary Stuart will be off on a round of visits in the East with her school mates.

Gardner Wedding Jan. 12

The Wendell W. Andersons returned to their Vendome road home last week and immediately prepared to greet Mr. Anderson's sister, Mrs. Arthur Gardner of Washington, D. C., and Watch Hill, R. I., who arrived Tuesday to spend a few days with them.

The Gardner's son, Arthur, Jr. (who is in the U. S. Coast Guard outside of Norfolk, Va.), will be married in New York (Continued on Page 31)

Looking beyond Christmas are Pointers, MR. and MRS. HENRY FORSTER JR. who have a mid-Winter reunion date in Nassau with their friends MR. and MRS. OZZIE OLSON and MR. and MRS. BERNIE POWELL. The couples have visited Nassau together for the past several Winters.

Dinner guests of MR. and MRS. LLOYD E. WITHINGTON in their Hampton road home last Friday evening included MR. and MRS. HOWARD ASMUS, GEORGE SMITH and MR. and MRS. J. C. HUYSKEN.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES C. CREEDON of Gray Haven will make their annual junket to Akron, O. to spend Christmas. Leaving the Sunday before the holiday, they head for the home of Mrs. Creedon's brother and sister-in-law, MR. and MRS. CARL MARKLE. Joining them in Akron will be Mrs. Creedon's son, DEWITT E. TAYLOR JR. who'll come from his studies at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn.

MR. and MRS. LEWIS FISHER BROWN and their daughter, Sandra, will be spending their first Christmas in their new home on Lothrop road this year. They moved in about three weeks ago. Shortly after the first of the year they will leave for Fort Lauderdale, Fla. where they will visit Mrs. Brown's parents, MR. and MRS. LOVELL R. KRAUS, of Berkshire road, who will be occupying their Winter home for the season.

MRS. LEAVITT J. BULKLEY, of Edgemont Park, is in Hinsdale, Ill., where she is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. WILLIAM W. WOTHERSPOON.

Betsy Holton Is Wed To John Buel Warren

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison E. Holton of Bishop Road Becomes Bride of John Warren at Dec. 1 Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church

Married on the first day of December, Betsy Holton who became the bride of John Buel Warren, chose a pastel pink and ivory motif for her afternoon wedding in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Her own gown was fashioned of pale plush pink satin, its moulded bodice finished with a low, scoop neckline, and long sleeves. Orange blossoms were tucked on the long full skirt which fell in cathedral train and her hair was held in place by the snug bridal cap of rosepointe, attached to floor length veil of the same lace. Betsy carried white spray orchids in her bouquet.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison E. Holton, of Bishop road, and John is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beecher Warren.

Five bridal attendants, led by Betsy's sister, Mrs. A. Frederick Kammer, Jr., as matron of honor, wore gowns of the same soft pink tone. The frocks were of pink faille, with deep V necklines outlined by wide collars of the material. Slight cap sleeves were used on the fitted bodices which were attached to floor length skirts.

Mrs. Kammer wore a crownless picture chapeau of stiffened pink tulle and carried a cascade bouquet of deepest pink camellias.

The bridesmaids wore bonnet effects of pink tulle combined with pink velvet bands and carried variegated pink and white camellias.

Maids were Sammy Chapin, Mrs. Alfred L. Marks, Mrs. Robert M. Surdam and Mrs. W. Warren Shelden. Elizabeth Holton Kammer, three-year-old niece of the bride, was flower girl in a short white organdy frock embroidered in pink rosegays. She carried a basket of sweetheart roses and wore a garland of the blossoms in her hair.

Charles Beecher Warren, Jr., was his brother's best man and the bridesmen were: William E. Weiss, Jr., of Oyster Bay, Long Island, Benjamin S. Warren, Jr., Joseph G. Standart Jr. and Edmund P. Lunken of Cincinnati.

For the wedding, Mrs. Holton donned an opera length gown of star sapphire blue taffeta with bodice of matching lace. A short jacket was worn with the frock and her matching velvet cloche was encrusted with jewels. She pinned a purple orchid on her purse.

A reception for the wedding guests in the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. When the Warrens left on their

Holidays Taken Over By Season's 50 Debs

Receptions, Dinners and Balls Fill Christmas Holidays For Winter Debutantes; Parties Begin on December 20 and Continue Through December 28

The official debutante list for Winter, 1957, lists 50 young ladies among the "buds of the season."

This announcement foretells what a merry season it will be for the young folks here at the Pointe.

The Grosse Pointe Club and the Country Club have scarcely a date left open from Dec. 20 to Jan. 1. Florists are making preparations for the biggest Christmas business in years. Pointe shops are putting last stitches on the beautiful gowns to be worn by debs and mamas and feminine guests. Pointe mailmen are already feeling the added weight of engraved invitations in their mailbags.

Listed as debutantes for the Christmas season are the girls who bowed during June including: Betsy Stevens, Doreen Booth, Gay Buhl, Lee Wadsworth, Ann Woodhouse, Mary Johnston, Judy Frost, Betty Lou Givens, Anna Louise Hinchman, Judy Gehlert, Barbara Barnum, Mary Roberts McKean, all of Grosse Pointe; Patricia Texter of Indian Village; Cynthia Booth, Julie Otter and Maryknell Anderson of Bloomfield Hills.

Annette Torrey, who was presented to society at a ball in September by her grandmother, Mrs. Harry Norton Torrey and her father, William Ford Torrey and Mrs. Torrey, is also on the list.

Added are the names of the girls who'll bow during the enchanted days of Dec. 20 and Dec. 28.

On the first day of the deb season debuts will be made by Sally Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Woodruff of Lewiston road, a dinner at the Country Club Dec. 25 (when for the first time feminine guests will invade the sanctum sanctorum of the Men's Grill for the party); Elsa Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson Barr of Merriweather road, a tea being given by her grandmother, Mrs. Gregory Butler of Lewiston road, and her mother, in the former's home; Patricia Tousey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amond H. Tousey, a ball at the Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stroh of Lewiston road will give a dinner party on Dec. 21 at the Country Club for their daughter, Bettina and later that evening the young set will go on to the ball being given by Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan Jr. in the Little Club for their daughter, Florence.

Ann Bross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl O. Bross of Grosse Pointe boulevard, and Elise Hahn, daughter of the Gerald Hahns of Rivard boulevard, will make their debuts together at a reception at the Country Club on Dec. 22. A supper dance that same evening in the Little Club will introduce Sylvia Foughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McMillan of Woodland place.

The evening after Christmas will find Alice Jane Hooker, daughter of the Lloyd G. Hookers, bowing at a Country Club dance on Dec. 27. Mrs. Julius F. E. Huebner of East Jefferson avenue, will present her daughter, Adele, at an afternoon reception in the Huebner home.

As the date book now stands, the final debut of the season will be on Dec. 28 when Miriam Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart Baxter, Rivard boulevard, and Sidney Ann Boales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Boales of Edgemere road, share debutante honors at a reception to be given by their mothers at the Detroit Boat Club.

Yule Decorating Lecture Booked

The Detroit Garden Center will present Mrs. Ernest V. Knoblock in a demonstration lecture entitled "The Night Before Christmas" in which she will create original decorations for the door, hall, mantel and table.

All pieces constructed will be available to those in attendance. Mrs. Knoblock is an accredited judge of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, lecturer and teacher and author of the basic instruction booklet, "Flowers and The Three Bears."

The lecture will be given on Wednesday, December 12, at 1:30 in the Women's City Club auditorium, 2110 Park avenue. Proceeds will benefit the Detroit Garden Center on Belle Isle.

Mrs. Harry J. Miller is chairman of this event. Mrs. Jack LeFebvre is ticket chairman with Mrs. Frank S. Howell and Mrs. William J. Boustead her assistants.

Mrs. L. Wallace Thayer is chairman of arrangements. Mrs. Vaughn Schooley is in charge of the auction. Mrs. George Coulton, hostess.

Publicity is being handled by Mrs. T. Knight, Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. Ray Hunter, Mrs. Frederick Linscheid and Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann.

Center to Hold Dance on Dec. 22

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be the center of activity for the annual Christmas dance on December 22.

The Grosse Pointe Young Adult Council will sponsor the dance, which will begin at 8:30 p.m. and continue until 12 midnight.

Music will be provided by Fred Crissey and his orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

Red Feather Pin Won by Pointer

Mrs. A. George Abbott, of Touraine road, is the newly elected chairman of the Red Feather Motor Aides of the Central Volunteer Bureau, and this week's Red Feather "Volunteer-of-the-Week" for her many years of service to Detroit's social agencies.

Mrs. Abbott has been active in doing social service work for more than nine years. She has served as staff assistant in many agencies. She has worked for the TB and Health Society during their Christmas Seal Campaigns. She has volunteered in the office for the Save the Children Federation.

She has helped out at the Selective Service offices when they have been swamped with new applications.

Recently, she has devoted many hundreds of hours to the Red Feather Motor Aides—a group which helps the ill, the handicapped, the aged.

Motor Aides, as volunteer workers, give their time and cars to take persons who have no other way to get to clinics and outpatient hospital departments for their regularly needed medical attention. One volunteer, for example, now sees a little "Susan" who was hit two years ago by a truck and has since had to be driven to weekly clinical care, walk and run again.

The Central Volunteer Bureau, a Red Feather service of United Community Services, salutes Mrs. Abbott, who has received her Red Feather lapel pin.

Give Luncheon At Yacht Club

Mrs. C. Joseph Belanger, of Bedford road, and Mrs. Arthur Ruthven, of Berkshire road, will be hostesses today (Thursday) at a bridge luncheon in the Detroit Athletic Club.

The party was originally planned to honor a former Pointer and neighbor of the hostesses, Mrs. Glen Critton who moved to Manistique two years ago. The guest of honor, unable to attend, will come on to the Pointe in February and another party will be given in her honor then.

Today, the luncheon table is being centered with a white Christmas tree surrounded by Santa Claus head candles. Lights will twinkle from the tree and at each guest's place will be card made by Mrs. Belanger. They are red cards with guests' names lettered in white, tied in green yarn and further decorated with Santa Claus faces.

Silver candleabra with green and white candles and silver bowls of Christmas tree ornaments will add further holiday note to the table.

Among the guests will be a group of friends with whom Mrs. Belanger and Mrs. Ruthven have met for 15 years for a monthly pot luck dinner and bridge party. Their husbands join them at the parties. They are Mrs. Jess Lobb, Mrs. Louis Stone, Mrs. Marion Sheaffer and Mrs. Martin Vierling.

Community Theatre Players Ready for Opening

DIRECTOR WILLIAM M. MERRILL, left, of the Will-o-Way Playhouse points out a change in the script to leading man RICHARD HILDEBRANDT and leading lady M. HAYTHORNE BAMBAS. The group will present the play "The Corn Is Green" at the Grosse Pointe High School auditorium tonight and tomorrow, December 6 and 7. Performances start each night at 8:30 p.m. Admission is $1.25.

Newcomers Club Conducts Party

Nine new couples were introduced to the membership of the Grosse Pointe Newcomer's Club at their recent progressive bridge party.

The bridge party which was organized by Mrs. Lewis Leisinger, assistant social chairman of the club, was held in the homes of the committee members; Mr. and Mrs. Jud Hattemer; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pawsat; Mr. and Mrs. Woody Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warmbold; and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kelly.

At the end of the bridge party the entire group assembled in Miller Hall, Christ Church, for refreshments.

The party was attended by 92 members and guests.

The names of the new couples who were introduced are: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen of E. Ida Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Corson of Broadstone road; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Koester of Fairway lane; Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath of Yorkshire road; Mr. and Mrs. John Nolan of Chalfonte road; Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Stahley of Neff road; Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart of McMillan road; Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan of Neff road; and Mr. and Mrs. William Williams of University place.

Motion Picture Council Lists Approved Movies

The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council recommends the following pictures for the month of December:—

For children: "Hurricane Island," "My Friend Flicka," "Magnificent Yankee," "Blondies' Hero," "Her First Romance," "Tall Target," "Francis goes to the Races."

For Teen Ager: "No Highway in the Sky," "Jim Thorpe, All American."

Barbara Kitson Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Herbert Kitson of Sunningdale road announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Ralph W.

McPhee Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McPhee of Ann Arbor.

Barbara is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and Ogontz Junior College.

Buffet Luncheon Fetes February Bride-Elect

Mrs. Ray M. Whyte, of Oxford Road, Begins Pre-Nuptial Parties for Bride-Elect Gloria Roberts; Miss Roberts to Wed Stevenson Lewis Edwards February 15

The minute Gloria Roberts, daughter of the Glendon H. Roberts of Berkshire road, and Stevenson Lewis Edwards, son of the Cyril J. Edwards of Provincial road, set their Feb. 15 wedding day, friends started claiming dates for pre-nuptial galas in their honor.

Mrs. Ray M. Whyte of Oxford road was Gloria's first hostess. On Tuesday she gave a buffet luncheon and linen shower for the bride-elect. The rooms of the Whyte home were filled with wedding-white flowers and the little bride-elect was almost lost in the cloud of tissue paper and ribbon as she unwrapped the beautiful linens.

Attending the party were the mothers of the bride-elect and the bridegroom-elect; Mrs. William Roberts, Mrs. John Spencer, Mrs. Allan Templeton, Mrs. Arthur Hoffman, Mrs. William Downey, Mrs. Jess Chamberlain, Mrs. Tom Paddock, Mrs. W. Dean Robinson, Mrs. Jewett Dwyer.

Still others were: Mrs. George Lackey, Mrs. Mont Wickham, Mrs. Bingham Eblen, Mrs. Newman Halvorson, Mrs. Abram vanDerZee, Mrs. Fred M. Zeder, Mrs. Charles Creedon, Mrs. Charles A. Dean Jr., Benjamin H. Paddock, Mrs. Emory Moran Ford, Mrs. Yates Smith and Mrs. Harry Robeson.

Another hostess will come all the way from Phoenix, Ariz., to give a kitchen shower for Gloria on Dec. 19. She is Mrs. Sidney T. Miller III, who with Mr. Miller is arriving to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gale Curtis Jr. of Harvard road.

Mrs. Edward Henkel, a recent bride herself, will be Gloria's matron of honor in the wedding Feb. 15.

The bridesmaids are to be Carol Kelly of Charleston, West Va. (a former classmate at Mount Vernon Junior College); the bride-elect's roommates at Mount Vernon: Joan Jordan of New York and Margaret Wheland of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. Law McCabe of Lebanon, Pa.; Jane Kuhlman and Gloria's cousin, Patricia Spencer of Birmingham. Carl Stroh Jr. will be Steve's best man.

The bridesmen include: Joseph Pool of Wilkes Barre, Pa.; William H. Roberts (the bride-elect's uncle); Edward Henkel, David Vander Kloot and the bridegroom-elect's brothers: Cyril J. Edwards Jr. and William Stanley Edwards.

The wedding will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

Virginia Rich To Be Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Rich, Jr., of Mount Lebanon, Pa. with their daughters, Virginia and Barbara, and son, Michael, will spend Christmas in the Pointe this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich with three year old Michael, will be with Mrs. Rich's mother, Mrs. Clarkson Wormer Jr. of Ridge road during the holidays.

Their daughter Virginia will be with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sigurd R. Weidm of Cloverly road and Barbara Rich will be with another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. David Wormer of Vernier road.

Virginia's grandmothers, Mrs. Wormer and Mrs. Herbert M. Rich, of the Parkstone, have planned a luncheon in her honor at the Country Club on Dec. 22. Invited are about 16 members of the young set, many of whom were Virginia's playmates when the Riches made their home here.

Methodists Plan Christmas Party

The party for all the women of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service each year, will be on December 12, at 1 o'clock, when luncheon will be served. As usual, a nursery attendant will be there to care for any children who are brought along.

Myrtle Labbett, Women's Commentator for Radio Station CKLW, will be the guest speaker, discussing the Christmas customs of the Scandinavian countries of Europe.

Mrs. William Montgomery designed and executed the hand-made invitations, an artistic piece which was mailed to each woman of the church.

Mrs. Willis Bugbee will conduct the devotional period and provide special seasonal music. Mrs. V. Drill would like reservations for all women of the church to be made with her as soon as possible. Her phone number is TU. 5-4056.

Gifts for the TB wards at Herman Keifer hospital are to be brought to this meeting, wrapped and marked whether for man, woman or child patient, and having two blank cards attached for hospital officials to personalize by adding the patient's name to each. Anything but candy, cigarettes or handkerchiefs is acceptable.

Farms Police Report Issued

Twenty-seven traffic accidents in Grosse Pointe Farms during October cost the driving public $5,345 and seven injuries. Because of these accidents one juvenile and four adults had their driving licenses suspended.

The total arrests made for the month of October stood at an even 40, which included 19 adults and 21 juveniles.

From 51 traffic violations the Farms collected $245 and $121.00 from parking violations. Under the dog ordinance there were 22 violations which brought $40.00 in fines.

In 13 traffic court cases a total of $256.00 in fines was collected. Fourteen thefts were reported, two of grand larceny with a loss of $311.75, and nine simple larceny with a loss of $113.00, of which $55.00 was recovered. There were three stolen bicycles, which were included in the larceny report. Two of the bikes were recovered by Farms police.

Farms officers answered 222 calls which included 146 complaints besides the traffic accidents, violations and miscellaneous.

One hundred and forty-seven operators' licenses, along with 10 chauffeurs' licenses were issued, and nine duplicate drivers' licenses.

Chief Walter Hoyt was happy to announce there was no appreciable increase in the destruction of property due to Halloween.

Mr. and Mrs. Doak Walker are expecting their first blessed event in March, 1952. Mrs. Walker is the former Norma Jean Peterson, a college sweetheart of Walker's at Southern Methodist. Walker is the Detroit Lions' leading scoring halfback and defending scoring champion of the National Football League.

Progress Made by Woods Is Cause for Celebration

Restless City Soon Will Assume Title Of Largest Pointe

History of Development Since Days of Lochmoor Village Is One of Growing Pains and Great Accomplishments

A spate of newness, as fresh as the bloom on the cheeks of a bride, lies on the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

The "Woods", which became one of America's newest cities when it dropped the outworn rank of "village" in December, 1930, was known as the Village of Lochmoor previous to 1939.

The area, which in enticing families by the scores, has long stirred restlessly under the pangs of growing pains.

Gets Lakefront Park
 Even as a village, it stretched its muscles and acquired a 40-acre section of the Edsel Ford estate in Macomb County because its people felt the need for an outdoor recreation center.

Here the "Woodsmen" and their wives and children developed facilities for outdoor fun. Swings and slides were installed for children, fireplaces for dad's amateur steak fries, an outdoor swimming pool on the 600-foot lakeshore and a fleet of small boats anchored in an inlet.

Mack Avenue ties the village together with an artery of shops and stores.

The municipal building, housing the City's police and fire departments, and offices, had to be enlarged recently.

Back in 1927, when the Village of Lochmoor was incorporated, there were but 200 homes scattered about. The Woods was really a woods. Last year 3,100 homes were tallied in a count around the City limits. This year's school census showed the population had jumped past 12,500 and the Woods was firmly established as the second largest Pointe and pushing the Park.

Valuation Climbs
 Valuation in 1927 was $7,861,000. It slipped down a mite during the crushing years of the depression and then began a steady climb which has not yet shown signs of sagging. Last year, valuation was figured at $20,414,000.

A drive through the city re-

Wider Mack Mushrooms Into Great New Shopping Center

This picture shows but one short stretch of the new Wider Mack, which now extends, excepting for two short bottlenecks, all the way from Moross road to the Macomb County line. The new highway is bordered with myriad new buildings housing new businesses which have located to serve the residents of this fastest growing section of the whole Grosse Pointe area.

Kids Miss Show Awaiting Movie

In full view of approximately 100 Saturday afternoon matinee youngsters waiting to get into the Woods Theater, a robbery occurred.

Driver Nat Totske of the Sparcrab Company reported to Woods police that his truck had been broken into while he was servicing a soda pop machine in the theater. He said he left the truck for only about five minutes and when he came back he discovered the left ventilator window had been forced and five metal boxes and a canvas bag with an unknown amount of cash had been taken.

Officers Russell Allard and Everett Plumb questioned most of the matinee patrons but none of the children had noticed anyone near the truck.

Cavanaugh Helping Plan Meeting of Round Table

W. R. Cavanaugh, C. L. U., of Oxford road, has been appointed to the general arrangements committee of the Million Dollar Round Table. This committee is making arrangements for the annual meeting at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, in June, 1952.

Mr. Cavanaugh is a qualified member of the Million Dollar Round Table, 1951 being the fifth consecutive year in which he has qualified.

He started to sing as he tackled the thing. That couldn't be done, and he did it.

Business Men are Backbone Of Expanding G. P. Woods

The sturdy growing body of Grosse Pointe Woods is developing itself a rugged backbone. It is peculiarly American, according to sociologists, that the neighborhood businessmen, through their organizations, eventually form the backbone of communities, both large and small.

And whether the community progresses or stagnates down to the status of a mere rough spot in the crossroads, usually depends upon the progressiveness or lethargy of its business leaders.

Perhaps this is because in new communities, businessmen are first to get together. "Shop talk" gets underway faster than gossip between a couple of strange housewives.

So while residents are still eyeing each other warily on the streets, the businessmen have already gotten through the preliminaries and are deep in their favorite topic of "conditions."

The other day some odd dozen of the Grosse Pointe men who have signified their intention to become vertebrates met at the new Howard Johnson Restaurant.

They organized themselves as the Greater Mack Avenue Business Men's Association and named Druggist Russ Harkness to lead them.

This action came as the climax of five informal meetings at which the men sounded each other out and exchanged views on projects for the betterment of the City.

"This organization will take time to build," Harkness said. "But by next year, at the time of the anniversary of the 25th year since the founding of this community, we will hold our rightful place in its affairs."

Harkness pointed out that the organization aims purely at projects in the community interest. "Already there's a better feeling in the community," he said. "People tell me they've heard about us—it seems to help people think better of each other."

Harkness said that the association expects to take the lead in civic enterprises. And the tightly-knit organization will carry more weight and power in bringing about these enterprises.

"If we need a new traffic light, or a street zoned off limits for traffic for the kids periodically, or some new facility for the good of us all, then a lot of businessmen all talking at once carry a lot of weight," he declared.

A member of the City Charter Commission, Harkness pointed out that Grosse Pointe Woods has grown to a total of over 12,500 persons.

"An organization of business leaders can do a lot for a community of that size. And this is my town; the people here are the best anywhere, and we're going to do all we can for them."

And already the weight of the group is being felt. Alvin Sherman, of the Howard Johnson Restaurant, has promised the men top priority on the privacy of the new dining room, the Grosse Pointe Room, which will be open in time for their weekly 1 p.m. luncheon meeting Thursday.

Edmund R. Sutherland Honored at Brown U.

Edmund R. Sutherland, son of Mrs. Paul H. Sutherland of Colonial road, has been named to the freshman council at Brown University in Providence, R.I. Sutherland, a candidate for B. A. degree, is a graduate of Detroit University School.

The 33 members of the class council were chosen by the class officers from a group of approximately 65, on the basis of their high school and preparatory school records and they promise they have evidenced since attending the university.

PROWLER VANISHES

Farms police investigated a prowler call at 35 Dyar lane at 3:30 a. m. on November 30. They reported they were unable to find any trespassers.

Report of Stolen Car Fizzles Out

City police received an excited call last Friday, November 28, from an unidentified customer of the Big Bear Market. "My car has been stolen."

Officers cruising in the vicinity made a fast run to the scene of the reported theft. The mystery man had found his car and left.

The police had two theories on the case. Either the man had misplaced his car and forgotten where he had parked it or someone had discovered the vehicle unlocked and taken it for a short joy ride around the block and returned it while the owner was making the call for police assistance.

Car Accessory Burglars Busy

Car accessory thieves put in a busy evening in the parking lot behind the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on the night of December 2.

Steve Marcus, 16, of 705 Fisher road, said that the two front hubcaps were stolen from his father's 1950 Oldsmobile, which he was driving.

Robert McClean, 17, of 453 McMillan, who had parked his father's 1949 Olds next to the Marcus car, reported that someone had gone through the car and stolen cigars from the glove compartment.

F. E. Lyons of 1185 Audubon told the Farms police that two hubcaps were also stolen from his 1950 Oldsmobile.

George Rieveschl Honor Candidate

The name of George Rieveschl, Jr., of Vernier road, Grosse Pointe, Director of Chemical Research of Parke, Davis & Co. of Detroit, has been submitted by the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce as a candidate for one of the ten outstanding young men of the United States.

The ten outstanding young men of the nation will be honored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in Dayton, Ohio, on January 19, 1952.

Each year, the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce conducts a search for the nation's ten outstanding young men of the year. Any young man, 21 through 35 years of age who has been of service and is an outstanding example of this precept to the people of the nation, is eligible to be nominated as a candidate for recognition.

A panel of distinguished American leaders representing all fields of endeavor will act as judges. Their selections will be based on the answers to the two principal questions.

1. What outstanding contribution has the nominee made in his work or profession?

2. What outstanding contribution has the nominee made to the general welfare of the people?

The top ten young men will be honored at the traditional banquet held each year in commemoration of the founding of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce on January 21, 1920.

He is happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home.—Goethe

Restless City

veals the huge majority of new homes which realtors say average about $14,000 per copy. Some areas still have unpaved roads, but surfacing them is a painstaking job.
Little Frontierish
"But the newness really gets the people here," a realtor grinned. The new shops on Mack are the most modern—but that little strip of mud between the stores and the street—that's frontierish. People know they're in a new community, and can grow with it."

Teachers Meet To Discuss Art

As part of the Grosse Pointe "in-service" teacher training, an art meeting was held in Defer School auditorium recently for all elementary teachers.
The theme of the meeting was "Art Is For Everyone." Mrs. Gladys Gies, art counselor in charge of the program, had prepared excellent exhibits of work done by the children in the various Grosse Pointe schools and she explained how art is a splendid means of developing personality.
By providing many opportunities for art experiences and by making use of the many resources on hand such as: children's interests, filmstrips, movies, books, and the counselor's service, art work helps the child to grow individually and socially and is as important in process as when finished, she said.
Mrs. Gies was assisted by the following teachers: Miss Pauline Sagala from Mason School who explained how teachers, through art, help children to express their own ideas, to learn from observation, and to use imagination.
Mrs. Martha Graham from Trombly School, who exhibited a mural which the children in her group made showing how art helps children to participate effectively in group activities.
Miss Clara Reed from Vernier, who showed how her children learned to evaluate their own work and to recognize qualities of good creative art.
Meetings such as this are held regularly throughout the school year and all Grosse Pointe teachers are given opportunities to learn from specialists in their fields, how to help children learn and grow in various subjects such as art, music, physical training, etc.

"I only served one term," Vanderbush said in his swift, clipped speech, "Come the end of it, we all favored Albert E. LaBelle for the job. He was a Grosse Pointe policeman. Got his leg broke. We figured the job would ease his leg."
In those days, Edmund C. Vernier was township supervisor.
"He was in and out of office a lot," Vanderbush declared. "Must have been supervisor 15 years, off and on."

Edward Vanderbush Looks Back Into Woods History

One of Oldest Living Former Officials Still Operates His 33-Acre Farm Along Vernier Road

A look back into history, when Mack Avenue wasn't even a good place to fly a kite, was offered by Edward Vanderbush, one of the oldest living former officials of the era.
Vanderbush, a touch-muscled 67-year-old farmer, still operates his 33 acres in full-scale farming off Vernier Road a half-mile from the lake shore.

He Speaks Freely
His cheeks ruddy, eyes sparkling and hands hardened by years of toil, Vanderbush spoke freely in the yard behind his rambling two-story frame farmhouse. Neatly stacked cords of trimly saved wood bespoke warm fires for the coming months of cold.
Called from a chore, "filling in a little ditch," Vanderbush was dressed in rough trousers, a red-checked shirt and heavy boots.
Was Township Clerk
Vanderbush was township clerk in the area now dignified as the City of Grosse Pointe Woods. But during his two-year term in office, which began April 10, 1916, the region was called Grosse Pointe Township.
It wasn't until 1927 that someone dreamed up the name "Lochmoor," with its romantic connotation of bonnie braes and kilts.
Do Favor for Pal

Cottage Hospital Addition Started

The preliminary work has been started for the great new addition to Cottage Hospital. The United Hospital Fund of Metropolitan Detroit has allocated $700,000 for the addition.
A new sewer to serve the new portion is being dug and the old orchard is being cleared away to make room for the big new wing.
It is estimated it will take from a year to 18 months to complete the building.
Rocking Chair Makes a 'Comeback'
That exclusively American invention, the rocking chair, is appearing again in the smartest furniture collections.
The return of the rocker might be attributed to the recent trend to modernized versions of American pioneer designs—or it may be that people have discovered anew the homey charm and relaxing comfort of the rocking chair.
The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few.

Art Institute's Events Are Free

The Detroit Institute of Arts announces another talk in the Symphony Discussion Series designed to facilitate listening for the average person attending the Detroit Symphony Orchestra programs.

This informal talk will be presented Tuesday, December 11, at 8 p.m. It has been arranged by Karl Heas, noted Detroit pianist and Virginia Harriman of the Art Institute education department.

The talk will be illustrated on the piano and by recordings. A discussion period will follow.

The public is also invited to attend a free showing of the experimental film "Le Sang d'un Poete" which is being presented, in cooperation with the French Department of Wayne University, at the Detroit Institute of Arts on Tuesday, December 11, at 8 p.m. The film will be preceded by a half-hour concert of organ music. Tickets may be obtained at the Publications Desk of the Art Institute.

Thoughtless Yule Charity Can Hurt Instead of Help

With the spirit of Christmas already in the air, millions of generous citizens will soon be burrowing into pockets and purses for holiday giving, not only for family and friends, but, in the noblest tradition of the season, to less fortunate neighbors in the communities.

The outpouring of money to brighten the Christmas season in otherwise bleak homes probably represents millions of dollars. Unfortunately, says the Family Service Society of Metropolitan Detroit, the giving sometimes proves often of less real benefit than the giver intended.

The old fashioned Christmas basket, once deposited each Christmas morning on the doorsteps of thousands of "poor families" by well intentioned benefactors, is now obsolete. Its good contents were too often spoiled for the family it was supposed to cheer because it made them feel singled out as an "object of charity." Today, more and more generous people are learning in a way which carries no stigma and which brings more lasting benefit to the recipients.

Family service agencies through their many contacts with fathers, mothers and children throughout the year, understand especially well the effect, for good or bad, that Christmas giving can have on family morale. Out of its experience, the Family Service Society, a Red Feather service of United Community Services, offers the following guides to wise Christmas giving.

1. When you give directly, consider the effect of your gift on the recipient, as well as your own pleasure in giving. Will your gift be one which creates embarrassment, or a sense of being set apart from other people in the community? This kind of gift is often typified in the Christmas party for "underprivileged children" which conveys to the boys and girls present the feeling that in the eyes of the community their families are looked on as failures.

2. When you give to a person, try to visualize the effect on other member of her family as well. To give to one favored child in a family and overlook the others could make your gift a source of bitterness, rather than joy. In the same way, when children are presented with gifts which their own parents are unable to provide, the effect may be to make parents feel inadequate and weaken family solidarity. The better way is to give through an agency which will transmit gifts or money to parents so that they can fill their natural role as the family providers.

3. Make your gift provide the greatest and most lasting good. Your contribution toward a big dinner at a children's institution may help make a Christmas merry, but a contribution to pay for braces for a crippled child might be of more permanent and satisfying value.

4. Give in ample time for your gift to be well used. A toy manufacturer sent his truck around to a social agency door the day before Christmas with a load of unsold toys and asked that the toys be distributed to homes in the community in time for home celebrations on Christmas Day. A more practical request, still in keeping with the season, would have been to ask that the toys be distributed for use in settlements and community centers through the rest of the year, as the need for them arose.

U. of M. Singers To Give Concert

Distinguished choral music will be presented at the Rackham Memorial next Tuesday evening (December 11) when the Michigan Singers will come from the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor to sing for Detroiters. The concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. and is complimentary to the public.

This mixed choir of a hundred select young voices is conducted by Maynard Klein, director of the University of Michigan choirs and of the University's Rackham Choir in Detroit which meets weekly at the Rackham Memorial.

Christmas music will, of course, be a featured part of the program.

Nab 66 Percent Of City Thieves

With the present wave of breaking and entering cases that has hit the Pointe in recent weeks the City of Grosse Pointe has had its share of them.

Burglaries so far this year have reached 11 which is eight more than experienced by City of Grosse Pointe residences for all of 1950.

However, Chief Tom Trombly reports that 66 percent of the cases have ended with the arrest of the culprits.

Church Presents Yule Pageant

One of the most elaborate choral pageants ever presented in the east side area is being presented this week. The pageant takes approximately 50 minutes to perform. The cast consists of 100 characters, a choral ensemble of 30 voices, a narrator and organ.

Since the first Christmas mankind has constantly sought for and found the manger. Now, surrounded by those, who in the past worshipped there, the manger is again revealed.

To it come all sorts and conditions of men. The men, women

Fire Epidemic Brings Warning

An alarming number of home fires occurring throughout the state in recent weeks has brought a safety warning from State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state fire marshal.

"During the first week-end in November eleven persons perished in home fires in Michigan," Leonard said. "There also have been many other such fires recently which fortunately involved no deaths, but nevertheless were costly to the families concerned."

"Most home fires are the result of oversight or carelessness. Defective heating equipment is a leading cause. Faulty electrical wiring, misuse of flammable liquids and carelessness when smoking or lighting matches are also high on the list."

"The principal cause of deaths in home fires is the use of kerosene or other flammable liquids to start fires in stoves and furnaces. The practice continues despite the numerous examples of its great danger."

"Accumulations of rubbish and other forms of neglect also contribute their share to the fire toll. The sad part is that many home fires not only leave families without shelter of their own, but also destitute."

"Fire safety in the home is a responsibility that should not be ignored. Defective heating equipment and electric wiring should be repaired without delay and all other safety precautions observed. It is too late to think of preventive measures when the house is gone."

Guard Against Carbon Monoxide

In the wintry months last year 12 persons in Detroit died from accidental poisoning by gas, Dr. Joseph G. Molnar, commissioner of health, said. Five of these deaths were home accidents caused by gas escaping from furnaces and 7 were from auto exhausts from parked cars or from running a motor with the garage door closed.

Carbon monoxide gas, which caused these poisonings, cannot be tasted or smelled. It is caused by an incomplete burning of fuel oil, gasoline, heating gas or coal. To persons in a tightly closed room or car, this can be fatal.

When your stove or furnace smokes, it is not burning as it should and carbon monoxide is escaping into the house. Houses today are more completely airtight through the use of storm windows and closely fitting windows. This increases the likelihood of carbon monoxide poisoning in case the furnace is not properly adjusted and, in every instance, it increases the need for intelligent understanding of how to fire a furnace.

If basement storm windows are used, make sure that enough air gets into the basement to supply the amount the furnace needs for proper combustion.

Make sure that flues are clean and do not check the draft so completely that fumes from the furnace come back into the house.

If odors are coming from the register or hot air furnaces have fire pot and fire dome examined by a good furnace repair man. The fire should burn with a clear flame and not be smothered so that it will form gas. When you add coal keep it on one side and leave a free burning fire on the other side to prevent the formation of smoke and gas and to get the greatest amount of heat from the coal. All gas fired hot water heaters should be properly connected to a flue.

When you run your car inside the garage, make sure the door is open. If you are in a parked car with the motor running, have the window open. If you drive long distances, keep a window open. If you feel sleepy or your head starts to ache and you feel ill or dizzy, stop driving immediately and get out of the car.

Church Club Addressed By Count Niezychowski

Count Alfred Niezychowski of Neff road, author of "The Cruise of the Kronprinz Wilhelm," a German sea raider of World War I, was guest speaker at the Calvary Lutheran Church Men's Club meeting on Friday, November 30.

He was introduced by the chairman, Linden Lindow. Count Niezychowski spoke of his experiences in the first world war and at some length of the futility of wars, and placed the blame on selfishness of racketeering politicians of many nations.

Lochmoor Cabin First Business in Woods

The old Lochmoor Cabin is a historic establishment in the business world of Grosse Pointe Woods. Construction on the building was begun back in 1927 when the "Woods" was an unheard of stretch of forest and prairie known as Lochmoor Township. The late Charles Lownds, owner and builder of the Cabin, was his straw-hatted natty best in those days, as this picture shows. The Cabin, at Vernier and Mack, still retains much of the rustic atmosphere that made it a popular rendezvous among the early settlers.

Woods' First Business Place Still Under Same Owner

Back in the days when Mack Avenue was a dirt road with holes in it that would hide a horse and rig, The Lochmoor Cabin was built.

The building housed a restaurant on the first floor, living quarters above, and had the atmosphere of a way station for a stagecoach line.

The builders, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lownds, were somewhat marooned during their first years there, especially during winters that halted all travel except strong-legged horses and light sleighs.

Back in '27, the Lochmoor Cabin jettied out of the brush-covered prairie at Mack just beyond Vernier like a landmark. It was the first business establishment in the area.

By 1928, when there were still less than 500 families in all of Grosse Pointe Woods, businessmen began to appear. The first luncheon club began taking a weekly meal at the Cabin.

In those days they sat down to a "lunch" of T-bone steak, French fries, vegetable, salad and coffee for half a buck per man.

"I remember when I tried to get a nickel extra for a glass of milk," Mrs. Lownds recalled. "I nearly started a riot."

A few names remain in her memory of those early luncheon customers. Matthew Goebel, for instance, Pete Brodell, the plumber, and the late Henry Lavers.

"In those days Mr. Mason was the township policeman," she said. "His police headquarters was a shed at Anita and Mack where Matur's Market now stands."

Ed Vernier, the late township supervisor, was a customer of the Cabin.

In those days, the Cabin with its frontier atmosphere was known from coast to coast. White owls adorned the walls, and flintlock rifles. The bar mirrors are still trimmed with birch, and the wagon-wheel chandeliers still gleam.

Lownds, who died in 1941, was a recognized sportsman. He made the cabin the center of social life in the area. He converted the Cabin from a restaurant to a bar in 1933.

"When we first came out, in December, 1927, we got caught in a blizzard and turned back at the Seven Mile Road," Mrs. Lownds said. "We thought we were really on the last frontier. "Across the street was one of the first gas stations. Mr. Lownds and I used to run across and get the owner, Mr. Howard, to cook us pancakes on his tiny wood stove."

Mrs. Lownds resumed ownership of the famous Cabin six months ago after an absence of two years.

"Mack Avenue has changed so much," she said. "Even in those two short years, the 'Woods' has grown up."

SCHOOL WINDOWS BROKEN
Farms police were called to the Country Day School in Grosse Pointe boulevard to investigate six broken windows in the lower gymnasium. School officials said the damage had been done between 5 and 6 p. m. on November 29. The gymnasium overlooks the Christ Church parking lot.

St. Pauloscope

by
MARY MARGARET VAN DAMME

The "Miss Take Hop" was very definitely a success. A testimony of this fact was given by the happy look on the faces of Sandy Smith and Bill Kerich, Arlene Froelich and Mickey Endres, Janet Wrubel and George Brady, Pat Monahan and Dennis Reynolds, Dee Athman and Ronnie Holder, Blanche Finney and Bob Barrett, Janet Hock and Pete Schummer, Rita Fincham and John Brady, Nancy Mason and Lee Elsey, Sydnee Smith and Paul Giest, Mary Ellen Beaupre and Jim O'Connor, Joan Hock and Gene Kornmeier, Katherine Mullaney and Ed Heck, Pat Besceglia and Jim Haley, and Marie Iannarelli and Ed Brasseur as they danced to the soft sweet music of Earle Perkins and his orchestra.

More couples tripping the light fantastic were Alice West and Deiter Liestner, Kay Addy and David Duncan, Claire Jablonski and Joe Meier, Shirley Fincham, and Dick Tapert, Pat Kingston and Don Behringer, Carol Plourde and Tom Tapert, Margaret Wade and Lee Fallieres, Pat West and John Frasz, Reatha Geyman and Steve Singer, Ria O'Grady and Paul Heymes, Louie Galouche and Marion Nigra, and Lynn Van Tiem and John Barton.

Dee Wise gave a "cocktail" party preceding the dance. Drawn to her home by the beaoning porch lights were Gloria Wancour and John Everett, Bev Labadie and Ivan French, Carol Courtney and Bernie McGavin, Connie Molitor and Joe Loeffler, Lou Ann Moxley and Louie Geist, and Skip DuCastel and Tom McLaughlin.

Date, George DeSchepper and I also saw Donna Mayo and Jack Trombly, Diane Getlinski and John Huettman, Peggy Wade and Bob Magee, Ann Reed and Don Burns, Marilyn Sutherland and Glenn Walters, Rosemary Jankowski and Eppie Cunningham, Joan Besceglia and Jim Hoskins, and Jerry Heckendorn and Sheila Gallagher eating potato chips and drinking the very tasty punch. Dee was squired by Joe Weber.

Barb Unti also started the evening off by having a few of her friends in. Those who stopped at Barb's home were Joan Heidt and Dick Faber, Barb Stein and Tom Kingsbury, Joyce Zemper and Bob Taylor, Gail Dodge and Joe Bejin, and Claire Lenz and Mike Shean. Host for the evening was Wally Hogue.

Another gal who treated her friends to cokes and lots of food before the dance was Julie Jones. Gathered at the Jones' home were Barb Wines and Karl Keifer, Joan Dirkes and Pat McEachen, Marilyn Blondell and Jerry Slater, Janet Kubitsky and Chris Hammeleit, and Marilyn D'Hoooghe and Dick Schlaff. Julie's date was Jerry Fitzgerald.

Still another party given was Kay Andre. Her guest list included Joan Hackenburger and Ed Wilt, Ellen Connelly and Graham Totzke, Charlotte Klein and Larry "Lush" Eppers, Mary Ellen Beaupre and Jim O'Connor, Mildred Hanzl and Dave Dawkins, Denise Olds and Tom Backman, Rose Ann Blondell and Bob Columbo, Jane Pelkey and John Cuter, and Jeanne Sharrow and Jim Gallagher. Assisting Kay with the "cocktails" and food was John Mehall.

Even the Freshmen came up with a beforehand party. Host and hostess for the affair were Jim McKillop and Gail Gitrli. The group that dropped in at Gail's home were Marily McEachin and George Heckendorn, Joanne Meier and Gene Graham, Joyce Gissell and Bob Keller, Dolores Krause and Dan Monahan, Rosemary Hanzl and Bob Byrwa, and Sandra Paradynski and Paul McCarthy.

Since November is Vocation Month St. Paul's has had some very interesting visitors among whom were Sister Patrick Jerome from Siena Heights College, and a senior student, nurse from the Nazareth School of Nursing. The purpose of the speakers was to aid the girls in choosing life careers. Both visitors were well received and don't be too surprised if you see a great many female Paulites trooping off to Adrian or to Nazareth College next fall.

Blue Devil Basketball Team Defeats Hazel Park, 43 to 27

Norm Lasca, Only Returning Letterman, Leads Five to Victory in Opening Contest; Several Newcomers Show Promise

By Fred Runnells

Led by its only returning letterman, Norm Lasca, Grosse Pointe chalked up its first cage victory of the 1951-52 season over Hazel Park, 43 to 27, before a capacity, partisan crowd, on the local court last Friday, November 30.

Playing raggedly for the most part, the Devils found a weakness in the Vikings' defense early in the third period, after Hazel Park tied the score at 20-all, and pushed into a five point advantage at the end of the third period.

Reserves Shine In First Game

By Fred Runnells

Grosse Pointe's reserve basketball team may take the play away from the varsity team in the early games of the 1951-52 season if its first non-league game is any indication of how it will play this year.

In the opening game against non-league Hazel Park Coach Howard McAdams' reserve gang chalked up an impressive 43 to 27 win on the local court last Friday, November 30.

Led by bespectacled Bill King, who topped both teams in scoring with eleven points, the reserves jumped into a 12 to 3 first quarter lead and were never threatened.

It was particularly pleasing to this reporter to see such boys as King, Lee Clancy, Dick Spindle, Dave Belfore and Alex Forrester take the play away from the Vikings throughout the contest. These boys played their basketball last winter in the Inter-Church League before moving up to the reserve squad this year.

Forrester was particularly impressive with his fire horse style of play. He was by far the most impressive player of the night, and that includes the players in the varsity game that followed. Alex wasn't too strong in the scoring department but he continually harassed the Vikings into many mistakes that gave the Devils control of the ball. He was all over the court and never stopped running until Coach McAdams benched him for a substitute when the game was all but won.

Bob Sealby and Dave Belfore of the Devils and Shelmut of the Vikings finished the game in a three-way tie for third place in scoring with 8 points. Spenser of Hazel Park captured second place scoring honors with 9 points.

Dickie Spindle didn't get into the game until the late stages of the contest but while he was in there he chalked up 6 points, which made his sportsminded dad proud.

It is my prediction that Spindle will become one of the top reserve players before too many games have gone into the record book and don't be surprised if he becomes a starter real soon.

Spindle was the top boy for Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian team last year in the Inter-Church League and he has a burning desire to become the top man on any team he plays on. This year's victory over the Vikings reversed last year's decision, which found the Devils on the short end of a 37 to 34 count.

Coach McAdams will send his charges against Highland Park on Friday, December 7, in hopes of reversing last year's 46 to 24 loss.

Rookie Plays Well

It was in the final quarter that the Blue Devils began to click behind the fine play of veteran Lasca and rookie Jack Smith, who notched eleven of the Pointers' last 16 points.

The Devils' first game produced no individual star like it did last season in lanky Bruce Allen. Allen paced the Pointers to a lopsided 78 to 44 opening victory. Allen collected 28 of the Devils' 62 points in the first three quarters and added another field goal early in the final period for a new Grosse Pointe individual scoring record which he broke several times later in the season.

Surprises Promised

As we promised you before the season got underway, this year's Blue Devil team is going to produce plenty of surprises but no one can tell if they will be good or bad. There is plenty of room for improvement and every position is wide open and any one of the 15 boys on the squad has a chance to become a regular.

Coach Wernet started one senior and four juniors and early in the game substituted bespectacled John Taylor, an out of town transfer student.

Taylor, playing his first varsity game, showed up well in collecting two field goals and two free throws in as many tries.

Wardle Looks Good

Pete Wardle, a junior, the carbon copy of the great Bayard Johnson of the 1950-51 team in style of play but lacking the competitive spirit that made Johnson great, collected 9 points for the Devils' cause to finish third in individual scoring behind Hazel Park's Clyma and the Devils' Lasca.

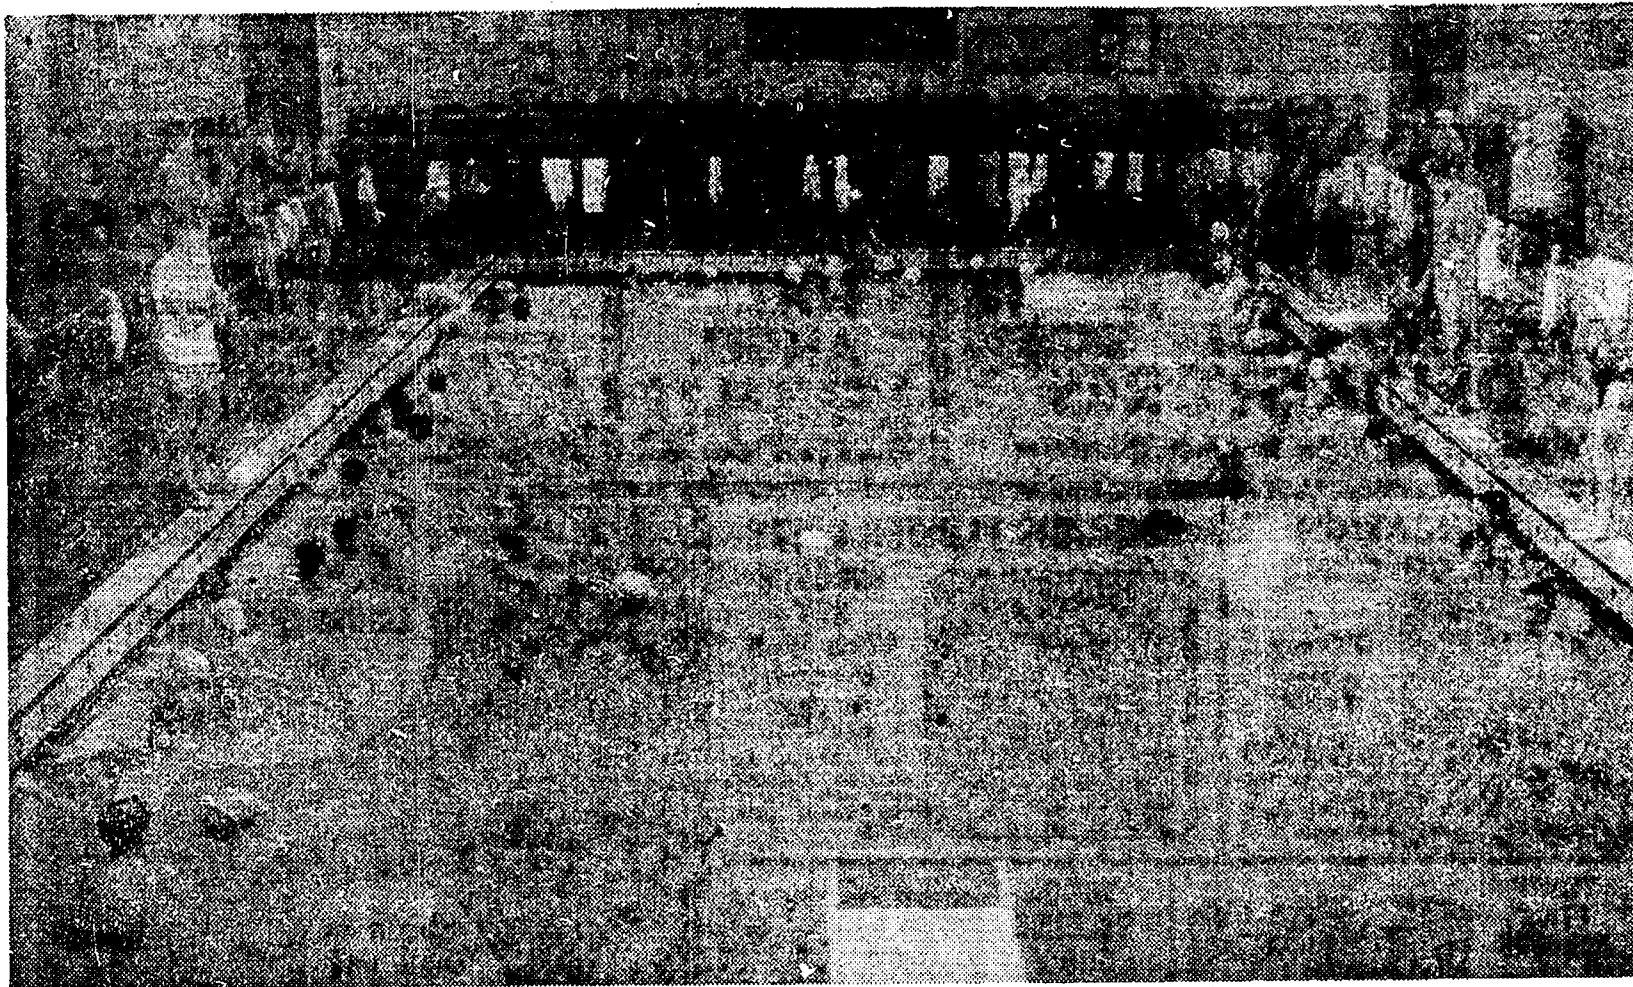

Lanky Jack Smith, a junior, showed spurts of promise. Johnny Dicicco, another junior, was a freeball for the Devils and it is just this sort of thing that could make him the leader of the 1951-52 edition of Coach Wernet's sixth basketball team since coming to Grosse Pointe High.

May Be Great Team

I believe this year's team is going to be great once it gets rolling. It will not be a team with an individual star but a team with great team spirit and team play.

The Pointers will open their Border Cities League season against defending champion Highland Park on the Parkers' home court Friday, December 7. The Devils will be a definite underdog in this contest as the Parkers have practically their entire squad returning this year.

Youngsters Commence Swimming Instructions

—Picture by Fred Runnells

Two hundred and thirty-seven lucky Pointe youngsters began swimming instructions on Saturday morning, November 17, under the guidance of eleven instructors. It marked the eighth year that beginner and advanced swimming classes had been held in the Grosse Pointe High School. The first year these classes were held only forty boys and girls enrolled. Over two hundred late applicants were disappointed due to the limited facilities of the Pointe's only indoor pool.

Lack of Swim Facilities Augmented by Cost Factor

By Fred Runnells

With the increasing population of Grosse Pointe this community's indoor swimming facilities are shrinking with each succeeding year.

It was only eight years ago that the Grosse Pointe High school pool was opened on Saturday morning for instructions to beginners and advanced swimmers. At that time 40 youngsters enrolled.

On Saturday, November 17, 237 youngsters received instruction in three classes. However, there were more than 400 kids who enrolled for this popular Saturday morning recreation, but because the pool is closed on Saturday afternoons the rest of these youngsters were denied the opportunity to learn to swim or learn the art better.

Puzzled by the fact that the pool was closed on Saturday afternoons when so many youngsters wished to take swimming instruction, I made a visit to the office of Harold Husband at the Board of Education building.

Mr. Husband stated "we have never had such a demand for the use of the pool as we have this year, but there is no reason why the situation cannot be remedied if the demand of the citizens warrants it." He continued,

"there is no problem so impossible that it cannot be remedied."

Mr. Husband pointed out: (1) To keep the pool open would require the circulation of the water which in turn requires the services of an engineer.

(2) If the pool is open the school must be kept open and that requires the services of a janitor to clean up the locker rooms, and if girls use the pool the heat must be kept up to provide warm air for the hair driers.

(3) If more instruction classes are provided it would necessitate the hiring of more instructors.

(4) Someone other than Mr. Forrester Geary would have to be in charge over the afternoon program because the uniting Forrester Geary is doing one "whale of a job" all week long in running the Adult Education classes plus the Saturday-morning swimming classes.

These are the reasons the Board of Education has not opened the pool or the school on Saturday afternoons.

Mr. Husband pointed out that "if the public wants Saturday afternoon swimming classes they will have to pay a fee to help defray the cost involved in keeping the pool open."

The individual fee apparently is of no consequence to the parents who wish to have their children learn to swim.

This year the fee was boosted to $2.50 per person for the ten week period, due to the increased cost of operation of the pool.

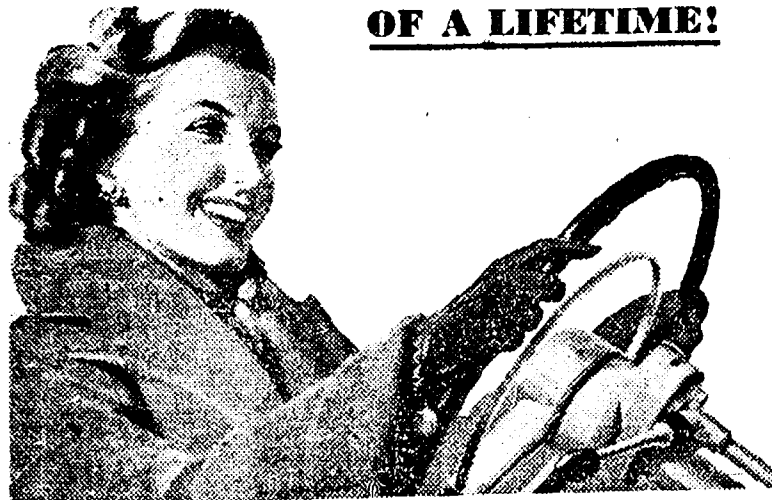

If the school could be kept open it would pave the way for additional gymnasium facilities. At present the Badminton Club uses one of the two gymnasiums, but they do not use the shower room facilities. But they pay a fee.

If the pool was kept open the Badminton Club would be able to have shower facilities and it would also make available the other gymnasium for kid basketball, namely the Inter-Church League, which also has grown by leaps and bounds over the past three years.

There is no doubt in my mind that if the facilities at the high school were made available on Saturday afternoons, a sufficient number of people would take advantage of the opportunity.

As Mr. Husband stated, "there is no situation so impossible that

DUS Drops First Basketball Game

The D.U.S. basketball quintet lost its first game to a sharp Lakeview squad on November 30. The score was 45-31.

The game was hard fought with Lakeview controlling the ball most of the time. The DUS five didn't start to roll until the last period when they gained 12 of their 31 points and held the Huskies to 5.

The star for DUS was Dave Rentschler with 8 points. Boothman of Lakeview paced the Huskies with 12. The first half ended with Lakeview leading by a score of 22-15.

These teams meet later in the season and it should prove to be a very good game.

Girls' Basketball

Opening night of the Girls' Basketball season got off to a flying start with the following results:—

Junior League—St. Paul Freshman took the Teen Queens by a score of 20-7 helped by the 12 point shooting of M. Moxley.

The Pepperettes egged on by Marilyn De Hooghe's shooting spree defeated the Owl's Club spree defeated the Owl's Club by a score of 27-17.

The Tom Boyd Starettes drew a bye their first night.

Senior League—Cannon girls ran into difficulties when two of their girls were disqualified by fouls leaving only four players and despite the fact they were leading by the score of 30 to 25 the game had to be called a forfeit, thus giving the East Side Sporting team a 2-0 victory.

The Senior Grosse Pointe Athletic Club got off to a good start by defeating the Z.Z.Z. with the score of 27-14. Marilyn Jones of the Senior G.P.A.C. was top scorer.

Marilyn Sutherland of the St. Paul Senior Team was outstanding scorer of the night with 18 points to her credit, which was enough to defeat the Metro Club by the score of 31-24.

Annual Varsity-Alumni Tilt Scheduled for December 27

Pre-Game Prognostications Indicate Graduates Should Run Away With Contest, But Blue Devils Retain High Hopes

By Fred Runnells

In just about three weeks from now Coach Ed Wernet's Blue Devil varsity basketball team will play the toughest game of the season. The occasion? You guessed it, it's the fourth annual Varsity-Alumni game which will be played on the local court Thursday, December 27.

Coach Wernet isn't looking forward to this game with the same enthusiasm as he did a year ago when he had a powerhouse squad all primed for the returning alumni. Last year the varsity broke into the victory column after two successive defeats in the first two games played in this popular series made possible by John Barnes, who was then superintendent of the Board of Education.

Mann and Schoeck Star

Alex Mann sparked the varsity to a 49 to 39 win with 15 points. However, lanky Vince Schoeck copped the individual honors for the night with 16 points for the Alumni. The highlight of this contest that stuck in the minds of loyal Blue Devil followers was the battle between Bayard Johnson, star of the 1949 squad, and Bruce Allen, Grosse Pointe's only All-State player. Johnson held Allen to his lowest game total of the season, 11 points.

On the surface this year's game looks like a walkover for the alumni team with such outstanding stars as Bruce Allen, Bayard Johnson, Alex Mann, Bud McCullough, Spike Quirk and Bob Hafer.

15 More Eligible

This sextet has 15 more alumni performers eligible to play. Wayne Peterson, Jim Schoeck, Dick Lowery, Leroy Pepinski, Bill Isbey, Glenn Coury, Dick Rydberg, Fred Metry, Jim Davison, Norm Harden, Ben Bray, Pat Brogan, Bill Rossiter, Lew Neeb and Bill Rupp round out the squad.

All of these boys should get in touch with your reporter as soon as possible, preferably by mail, and indicate their availability for the December 27 date. Should the parents of these boys see this notice the writer will appreciate it if they would convey the message. Letters should be addressed to Fred Runnells, 99 Kercheval Ave.

Great Combination

Many Pointe basketball fans are looking forward to seeing Johnson and Allen team up once again. They both played on Grosse Pointe's team that won the Border Cities League title in the 1949-50 season.

Allen at present is playing for the University of Michigan while Johnson has confined his sports activity to football at Dartmouth where he was the first-string defensive center for the Big Green.

Varsity Is Hopeful

Despite the fact they will be facing a team of skyscraper proportions the current edition of Blue Devils are far from giving up the ghost. As a matter of fact the locker room talk indicates the alumni will be hard pressed to preserve its one game advantage in this series. Anything can and usually does happen when present and past Blue Devil cagers get together in the annual Varsity-Alumni game.

Remember the Blue Devils' gymnasium has not been enlarged YET, so get your tickets early and assure yourself a seat and an untold number of reunions with old classmates.

HIT-RUN ACCIDENT

A hit-run driver side-swiped a car owned by Robert Lamb of 80 Moross road while it was parked in front of his house on November 30. Damage to the 1951 Ford, estimated by Farms Patrolman Harold Beaupre at about $30.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell of Rathbone place, and their daughter, Marion, leave this Thursday evening for Providence, Rhode Island.

On Saturday they will attend the wedding of their son, Douglas, Jr. and Elizabeth MacColl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacColl of that city.

Mrs. Francis C. Farwell of Lake Forest, Ill with Mr. Farwell and their daughter, Marion will attend her brother's wedding.

Still other Pointers who are leaving for the Providence nuptials are Mrs. D. Dwight Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munroe Campbell III.

Himelhoch's to Open Branch in Pointe

In line with their policy of opening branch stores in well established communities, I. Himelhoch has announced a lease has been signed for a new store to be constructed in Kercheval avenue near St. Clair in Grosse Pointe. Adequate parking space will be available in the rear. The building will be a one story modern semi open front comprising 7,000 square feet and a balcony. Construction has been under way for some time, and the opening of the store is planned for late spring. A year ago Himelhoch's opened their first branch store in Birmingham and this new store represents a part of their expansion program in suburban districts.

Northeastern Woman's Club to Meet Dec. 10

Northeastern Woman's Club will meet in St. Mark's Methodist Church.

There will be a board meeting at noon, a dessert luncheon and Christmas gift exchange at 12:30 and a business meeting at 1:30.

Lucy Corbett will speak on "Life in a Wheel Chair Can Be Fun."

Patricia Burns Engaged To Harvey Kenyon Glor

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Milstead Burns, formerly of Rivard boulevard and now of Chicago, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Harvey Kenyon Glor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenyon Glor of Lakewood, Ohio.

Patty and Harvey are both seniors at the Principia College in Elsah, Ill. No date has been set for the wedding.

Group at Center To Hold Party

The Senior Group of the War Memorial Center will hold its Christmas meeting at the Center on Wednesday, December 12 at 1:30 p.m.

This is to be an old-fashioned party with a program arranged by co-chairmen Mrs. S. L. Dole and Mrs. Edwin Denby. Mrs. Walter O. Joachim will read "Holy at the Door" by Agnes Trumbull, with Mrs. John G. Seales singing the musical interludes. Mrs. O. D. Anderson will accompany at the piano.

Tea will be served after the program. Each member is asked to bring a Christmas gift to be given to the Children's Hospital for neglected and orphaned children. There will be a charge of 50c for each member to cover the cost of refreshments.

The Senior Group, sponsored by the War Memorial Center, is for women 60 years of age or over. They meet the second and fourth Wednesday of each month. Since its inception the group has become a happy organization for fellowship and service. New friendships are formed and old ones renewed. A great deal of useful work is accomplished.

Interesting programs are followed by refreshments and canasta, bridge or other card games. The Children's Hospital and other organizations are the grateful recipients of the lovely scrap books and hand sewn articles made by the group.

New members who wish to join can call the Center, TUxedo 1-6030 for information, reservations and transportation if desired, which is supplied by the Neighbors Club, another Center sponsored group.

Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Party to Aid Hospital

This Friday, December 7, the Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Chapter will give its annual tea in the Pine room of Harper Hospital.

The event will benefit the library project which has been maintained by the sorority in Harper Hospital for the past 12 years.

Each member will bring a recent "best seller" to augment the patients' library collection.

Christmas favors for pediatric trays will be made at the tea.

Mrs. Ethelbert Spurrier is chairman of the tea. She is assisted by Mrs. C. C. Andrews, Miss Jean Carr, Mrs. Arthur Bartholemew, Mrs. Erwin Haass, Mrs. Harry Longstaff, Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Mrs. Ray Sibbert, and Mrs. Russell Weichl.

Salvation Army Auxiliary To Hold Christmas Tea

The Auxiliary of the Salvation Army will meet at Evangeline Residence on Tuesday, December 11 at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Charles W. Wing will preside.

Hazel Boyington will narrate "The Littlest Angel" and Christmas carols will be presented by the Central High School Concert choir, Dr. Harry Seitz director.

The tea following the program is in charge of Mrs. Michael Weisman of the Social Committee.

Police Take King-Sized Headache Right in Stride

The opening of the latest segment of wider Mack Avenue, which increased advantages to Grosse Pointe Woods merchants and toned up the city with a look of modern maturity, was a king-sized headache to the local police.

"Throughout the whole of last summer, that brand new strip of highway was regarded by the kids as their own personal cement playground," Chief Walter Goulette said. "Then at 2 o'clock on an afternoon in mid-October, without any warning, down came the barricades and traffic came piling through."

For six tough weeks, every officer on Goulette's force preached, warned, cautioned and stormed to break the summer-long habit that the kids had acquired.

"We were scared sick," Goulette recalled. "Kids usually go around operating on their subconscious minds—not thinking too much about what's right around them. And with traffic streaming through, all we had to do is let one of them forget—just once—that their playground was out of bounds for hopscotch."

And that wasn't all. There was still another section of the super highway under construction when school opened in September.

"We had six school crossings where the road was under construction, and 1,000 kids to handle four times a day," he said.

"We routed them over, and under and around ditch diggers and dump trucks. We had crews

To Take Part In Coed Show

Sophomore coeds at the University of Michigan will offer the campus a night "On the Town" when they present their annual Soph Cabaret Friday and Saturday, Dec. 7 and 8.

Set in a New York atmosphere, the affair will provide dancing on the Astor roof, Coney Island gambling dives and walks through Central Park. Highlight of the evening will be an original musical comedy entitled "Tickets Please," involving the life and loves of a pawn shop proprietress and her patrons.

Virginia H. (Sue) Spurrier, of 261 Kenwood, Grosse Pointe, will appear in one of the lead roles in the musical production. She will play "Mr. Creditor," a rich visitor to the pawn shop. She is a sophomore in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Wilma S. Martin, of 61 Hawthorne, Grosse Pointe Shores, is in charge of special booths at the cabaret, with Mary E. Hodges, of 442 McKinley, Grosse Pointe, as her assistant. Both are members of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Goulette isn't too worried about next summer, when another link of the remaining Mack Avenue bottleneck will be dug away.

"We've been through it," he grinned. "We know how to handle 'em now."

The quiet orderliness of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods which has been a factor in luring householders and business residents to the work of Goulette's officers.

The 18 men double as firemen and police officers. Each is trained to handle each piece of the City's emergency equipment.

They have established a reputation among local physicians and answer a startling number of home emergency calls—whether for a broken arm or a heart attack.

Goulette revealed that the ambulance and rescue wagon can reach any point in the community within one and a half to two minutes.

From a safety standpoint, Goulette considers 1951 their best year since 1947. So far, fire losses are at a negligible minimum, and not a resident has suffered a serious injury.

"We have two programs upon which we concentrate heavily," he pointed out. "First is the safety and security of a man's family. We try to care for a wife and her children with the same vigilance the husband and father would if he were home."

"Our second point is the kids; we've built up friendly relations with the small fry for years now—and that's a policy that's really paying off."

Wm. D. Hammond porter says.

If it is a hopeless task, then the Christmas dream of Peace on Earth among Men of Goodwill is also hopeless. But in typical fashion the reporters have looked for big stories, failing to see some of the small beginnings that promise much. Unitarians are sponsoring such efforts through their UNITARIAN SERVICE COMMITTEE. Hear

IS IT A HOPELESS TASK?

Many cynical and defeatist reports are heard about American efforts to teach Democracy in Germany, Japan. "It's like trying to move a mountain with a teaspoon," one reporter says.

Among the guests invited were Ex-President Alexander G. Ruthven and Mrs. Ruthven; President Harlan H. Hatcher and Mrs. Hatcher; Registrar Ira M. Smith and Mrs. Smith; Dean of Women Deborah Bacon; Dean of Students Erich A. Walter and Mrs. Walter, and Associate Dean of Students Walter B. Rea and Mrs. Rea. Peggy Harrigan, Ann Hagan, Barbara Wandram and Barbara Cremers will assist at the tea. Gerry Maraulo, social chairman, will be in charge of the affair.

Faculty Feted By Alpha Phis

After two months of exchange dinners, open-houses and a Panhellenic dinner, Theta chapter of Alpha Phi (Ann Arbor) invited 90 members of the University faculty to a tea Sunday afternoon, December 2.

Judies Top Rotary League

Despite the absence of their captain, Irv Schoof, Kopp's Pharmacy breezed through a 4-0 win over Wolverine Potatoe Chips at the Woods Recreation last Friday night in the Rotary Bowling League. Their steady progress was halted on the week previous by Piche's Barbers who came up with their best effort this season.

P & J Cocktail Lounge had to call on their best to ward off another upset (the week before they lost four to the Middies) as Earl Holzbaugh Motors took the opener by 70 pins. They came through in great style, taking the middle game and aided by Miner Wilson's 237 in the finale also won total pinfall by 13 pins. Jack Gardner contributed 602 including a 238 opener for Holzbaugh. Village Wine Shop didn't have it last Friday and bowed to Steiner Ford, 1-3.

Piche's Barber Shop, who have only lost two points in the last five weeks, kept right on going.

Mondry Cleaners bowing this time, 3-1.

Farms Market, a team that doesn't belong 'way down there in the standings, was on the losing end again. The Middies with their sites set on second place, made good by winning 3-1. Of course, that 916 opener by the Middies didn't help the "farmers."

Auto Club, unable to get any kind of a break this season, dropped three to Motor City Tires. Russ Piche's fine series was a big factor in this win for the "farmers."

Candidate

Picture by Fred Runnells. Freckled face, carrot topped 12-year-old MATTHEW DOWD of St. Paul grade school has been selected as a candidate for the Midget All-American football team to be selected by the Pop Warner Foundation, of Philadelphia, Pa. in the near future.

His outstanding play and sportsmanship along with excellent school grades gave him the inside track over the rest of his teammates for the chance at the All-American honor. This is the first time a Grosse Pointe boy has been selected as a candidate.

Permanent Date Set for Regatta

At the fall meeting of the Inter-lake Yachting Association last Saturday, December 1, the delegates set a permanent date for the annual I.L.Y.A. regatta held at Put-In-Bay.

The new date will be the second weekend in August, which will see the 1952 regatta get underway on August 9 and run to August 13.

Earl V. Seitz, of Sandusky, Ohio, was named the new commodore, succeeding Stanley Pudford of Crescent Sail Yacht Club. Dr. Leonard Stack, of Lorain, Ohio, became the vice-commodore and Albert Grundy of Grosse Pointe was elected rear commodore.

Town Hall Books Famous Dancers

The brilliant dance team of La Meri and di Falco will give a gala program at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, December 12, at 11 o'clock in Fisher Theatre. This will be the last Town Hall event before the holiday season.

In their repertoire, the team will give the colorful native dances of Spain, East Indies, Arabia and Hawaii. All will be presented in the authentic costumes of the countries.

La Meri has danced in most of the great theatres of the world and has been acclaimed "Dean of the Ethnologic Dance." A feature of her performance is her outstanding castanet-playing, which she perfected in Seville.

Di Falco, American born Sicilian, has appeared with Ted Shawn, Alexander Danilov, Rosella Hightower, and other "greats" of the ballet. Both stars are well known on the concert stage, movies, and television.

Our grand business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand.

Harry Meanwell Heads Star Fleet

Harry Meanwell became the first Canadian in the 20-year history of the Detroit River Star Fleet to be elected fleet captain. He succeeds Fred Runnells who has held the job for three of the past years.

George Richardson, another Canadian, was elected fleet secretary, and Alex Allardyce, of Grosse Pointe Woods, became the new treasurer. The new officers were elected at the annual meeting Sunday, December 2.

Also at the meeting the various trophy winners of series races held last summer were announced. Meryl Amo won the Fleet Championship Trophy with a percentage of 9.857. Alex Allardyce captured the coveted Burton M. Smith trophy by barely edging Amo in the World Championship Elimination five race series. Both Amo and Allardyce tied in this series but Allardyce was declared the winner on the "horse race" method employed to break the tie.

Allardyce also won the Brat Memorial trophy and the Gregory Marine trophy by annexing the most points in Detroit River Yachting Association regattas. He also carried off the "A" Series—Miller trophy—and the "B" Series—Thomas Hardware trophy. In the "B" Series Allardyce was forced to win a three boat sail-off between Amo and Dick Miller to crack an unprecedented three-way tie.

St. Paul High School's Varsity Football Team

St. Paul High School's varsity football team wound up one of its worst seasons in recent years but not due to lack of spirit. The Flyers finished the 1951 campaign with a league record of three wins and three losses for an even 500 percent for fourth place. The overall season record stood at three victories and four defeats. Front row, left to right: CORNMEIR, P. GIEST, WADE, F. VAN TIEM, SLOPH, BERINGER and HOUGH. Second row: HALEY, GRAHAM, ALLMON, LOMBARDO, REYNOLDS, WEBER, MOXLY, KELLER and P. VAN TIEM. Third row: BARRITT, CHAMPINE, HOULIHAN, KERICH, SCHUMMER, CAPTAIN TROMBLY, HUETTEMAN, WALKER, L. GIEST and GOULETTE. Back row: COACH ED LAUER, ELSIE, MONAHAN, KIEFER, FABER, BEJIN, FETT, SHEAN, TAYLOR, FITZGERALD, HOYE and AYRAULT.

Greenfield Village Exhibit Offers Holiday Amusement

During the holiday season when the children—and their children, too—come home to visit with Grandmother and Grandfather, there is an increasing demand for something different in the way of amusement.

Both grown-ups and children will be delighted with the current exhibition, "TOYLAND," now being shown at Greenfield Village—a world of make-believe ruled by children, scaled to their size and ideas, and populated by toy soldiers and dolls living in three-walled houses.

More than 1,000 of these "little people" and the tools of their existence which represent the playthings children have known and loved from the 18th century to the present day fill half of the Museum's long colonial halls.

Specially featured in the unique show are Jean LeRoy's famous miniature Ringling Brothers Circus, Mrs. Imogene Anderson's prized collection of historic dolls, the King George VI Coronation procession owned by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and a group of World War I mechanical toys loaned by L. B. Gaeke, of Plymouth, Michigan.

The extensive Greenfield Village permanent collections of toys and miniature silver and furniture were presented by the late Mrs. Henry Ford and Susan Stebbins Clark of Lansing, and Mrs. E. G. Douglas, of New York.

"TRAVELS THROUGH TOYLAND" will remain open through New Year's. Don't miss it! Every child of these modern, restless times will profit by this actual picture of what constituted the toys, the amusements, and the life of youngsters long ago.

Another attraction is the program of Old Time Great Movies, shown week-ends through December 21, 22, 23, 24, to mark the Yuletide.

The old favorites, William S. Hart, Will Rogers, the Marx Brothers and W. C. Fields, Harold Lloyd and Buster Keaton, Laurel and Hardy, all come alive again on the silent screen with the nostalgic piano accompaniment to dramatize the moments of pathos, climax and rapture.

These programs will continue through March 15, 1952, and offer an opportunity to see the movies of the nineteen-twenties and thirties when humor and action were the principal components rather than the sophistication and exaggeration of the productions of today.

The holidays and winter week-ends can be very diverting, thanks to the opportunities provided by Greenfield Village.

Painter Injured In Basement Fire

The fire house in the City of Grosse Pointe was as bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard last Saturday, December 1, when both trucks answered a call to 577 St.
Clair.

The house was occupied only by a painter, Mr. Julius Vandenbergh, who was doing some decorating. When the fire broke out among the paint cans at the bottom of the basement stairs Van-denbergh became panicky and rushed to the back of the basement and succeeded in breaking a window only to discover the opening was too small for him to escape through. In the process of breaking the window Vandenbergh cut his right forearm but in the meantime composed himself and made a dash through the flames on the basement stairs to safety.

Officer Blair Martin took Van-denbergh to Bon Secours hospital, where he was treated for the laceration. He also had a patch of singed hair.

In the meantime City firemen extinguished the flames with little fire damage although the house suffered smoke damage of an undetermined amount.

Over-cooking of vegetables in the cabbage and turnip flavor will result in a strong flavor.
Cook for a short period of time.

on Jan. 12 to Joan Aylsworth, daughter of Mrs. Finney Landor of Sharon, Conn.

The wedding will take place then if the Coast Guard doesn't produce unexpected orders for the young man.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, who'll go East for the wedding, will be hosts at a luncheon for the bridal party and out-of-town guests on the day of the wedding.

Denver Stock Show

Christmas Day will find the Wendell Andersons, Jr., and the John W. Andersons at dinner with the senior Andersons.
The former, incidentally, had been at their Bermuda home since early November before the Pointe return last week.

Following their junket to the Gardner-Aylsworth wedding next month, they'll go to the stock sales in Denver, Colo. (they raise Hereford cattle at their ranch in Wyoming).

They'll keep an expert eye on the Wyoming scene until May, when they plan to journey to Bermuda again. During their last residence there, Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Emory Moran Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Bodman were their guests.

Seyburns To Give Party

The Wesson Seyburns are planning a Dec. 23 gala to fete their daughters who'll be arriving with husbands and all grandchildren "able to walk" (that makes about 11) for the holidays.

Mrs. Dodge Sloane is coming from her New York home to be with her brother-in-law and sister for Christmas and the Seyburn daughters and their families include:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Appleton Meyer of Highland Park,
Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Quintana of Locust Valley, Long Island, Mr. and Mrs. John de Braganza of Mill Neck, Long Island, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harte, Jr., of North Easton, Mass.

The Seyburns' daughters will be arriving in the Pointe on Dec. 20 and Dec. 21 and the Dec. 23 guest list will be devoted to their friends.

Mrs. Seyburn will leave shortly after the first of the year to open her home in Palm Beach for the Winter season.

who, where and whatnot

by uboozit

Mrs. Henry Ford II always wears closed toe and heel pumps . . .

Real sentimentalists are Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Anderson, whose Bermuda acres include a guest cottage and beach house which they turn over to sons and daughters of their friends for honeymoons! This has been going on for quite a spell. In fact, this year the Andersons were enchanted when a tenth anniversary couple occupied the beach house.

John de Braganza, husband of the Pointe's Peggy Seyburn, is a grandson of the Rhineclander Stewarts of the very social Eastern set . . . His mother, an American, first married the Prince de Braganza, pretender to the throne of Portugal, and the family lived in England for many years . . . Young Mr. Braganza dropped his own title when he became an American citizen . . .

Hardly a telephone conversation this week without reference to the Cat Burglar and must say the gals had some of the calmest suggestions. To wit: Why don't the Grosse Pointe Police have a general meeting with all the families who have had visits from the thief, and then sift the information and descriptions until they have a general idea of the man they're looking for?

Detroit police files have a complete Rogue's Gallery which could possibly include a picture of the criminal who is breaking into Pointe homes. Another gal thinks all money kept in the home should be marked and its serial numbers recorded by the owners just in case . . .

The most estatic lady in the Pointe is one who bought the contents of an entire room for two dollars and a half at a recent auction sale . . . The booty was bundled into her car and every day she turns up with new treasures from the lot!

PILFERINGS

A business man tried to read Browning. After struggling with a page for an hour he submitted it to his secretary, with the anxious question:

"What do you make of that?"

"Not a blamed thing," said the secretary.

"Thank God!" exclaimed the business man. "I thought I was going mad!"

"What did the folks say when they heard I had been chosen for a seat in the National House of Representatives?" the new M.C. asked of the village hack driver as he rode up from the station on a visit to his birth-place.

"Aw, they didn't say much—jes laughed! Giddip," answered the whip of the town coach.

"What was the driest yarn you ever heard?"

"It was about an Irishman and a Scotchman. They went into a tavern to get a drink and the Irishman discovered he had no money."

When a Westerner was doing the zoo in New York he came upon the kangaroo exhibit, and the placard, "Native of Australia."

"Great Godfrey's Cordial!" he cried. "Just before I left home my sister wrote me that she had married a native of Australia!"

Pointer of Interest

MRS. BARBARA WICK HENRY OF NEFF ROAD

Mrs. Barbara Wick Henry, a lady of rare wit and humor, has spent the better part of the past two years girdling the globe with long, lush stopovers out there in Palm Springs, Calif. But in her new role, chairman of Metropolitan Detroit for Minute Women of the USA, Inc., she confesses she's seeing more, learning more right here at home than she ever did in her travels.

In the first place, this is Mrs. Henry's first serious organization work. It's a gigantic one. She is quick to say that her interests ran more to riding, golfing and the lighter side of life until this autumn.

It was then that she got a letter from one of the country's richest personalities, Suzanne Silvercrus Stevenson, who was the Little Belgian Refugee of World War I. Today, after 29 years of American citizenship, Mrs. Stevenson is donating all her time and effort in delivering a message to the women of America.

That message, Mrs. Henry tells us, is one of Americanism. It is so vital that she dropped everything to plan the appearance here of Mrs. Stevenson Dec. 10 in the Italian Room of the Book Cadillac Hotel.

At that time, the noted sculptor, author, world affairs student will tell the women of Grosse Pointe and Greater Detroit that this is freedom's darkest hour in America; that the country's women must join a great national crusade to guard the land they love.

Telephone Mileage

It's almost impossible to reach the slender, attractive "Barb" Henry on the telephone. She's chatting long distance with Minute Women of Cincinnati, Dallas, New York, Indianapolis, Dallas, exchanging ideas with them and learning how women in their cities are really getting behind this non-partisan crusade to preserve constitutional government for the United States.

"Minute Women put the onus squarely on the individual," Mrs. Henry told us as we sat in her boudoir-transferred-into-office, the other day.

"For the job of fighting corruption in government, communism in its every insidious form, rising costs and inefficiency in government agencies has its biggest punch in that good old American ballot."

"So Minute Women of the USA are pledged by honor to vote in every election. That, coupled with a newsletter which keeps members informed on important bills coming up before the Congress and Senate is the big 'all there is' to the Minute Women."

Operation Barbara

The Detroit chairman has been missing from her usual haunts for the past three weeks. If you traveled very fast you could find her explaining about Minute Women to leading Greek American women, urging their membership into the crusade.

You might find her in an interesting little restaurant down Dearborn way, lunching with another nationality group and answering their eager questions. University women, friends at the Pointe, church women, business girls all come under the spell of the enthusiastic Missie H.

The gracious living room of her Neff road home rarely resembles its orderly self these days. Friends arrive to sit on the "meeting chairs" borrowed to take care of all those who want to hear more about the Minute Women.

They find the chairman's enthusiasm contagious and even before the Dec. 10 meeting, the number of confirmed Minute Women is growing by leaps and bounds.

Determination

She supposes, and daughter Joanie Henry hopes, that the day will come when she'll return to the slower life of trying out the recipes she's collected across the length and breadth of the land (some wonderful soups from the secret collection of a noted author of cook books); pick up a bridge hand again and maybe even plan another trip to some far away land.

But she is positive that the day won't come until a great, great number of Pointe and Detroit women are solidly working at Americanism with the Minute Women.

You see, after the crusade has been started here, the work rests with each member as an individual. There will be study groups for some of those who wish to discuss together the national and local scene but the big job is done all by oneself.

So, as Sam Goldwyn is quoted, you'll have to include Mrs. Henry out of everything (unless it has to do with Minute Women) until

Dec. 10, when she'll have finished a mighty task.

Surely she'll get a patriotic thrill that moment when Mrs. Stevenson (daughter of the late Baron Silvercrus who was Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Belgium and sister of the present Belgian Ambassador to the United States) steps to the platform in the Italian Room at the Book Cadillac to speak on "Guarding The Land We Love."

Mrs. Richard A. Forsyth will give Christmas readings. The members are asked to bring donations for Christmas gifts to Marine Hospital.

Farms police were informed on Dec. 3 that a fence had been damaged at the M. H. Heywood home at 348 Kerby road. Mrs. Heywood said children could not have done the damage.

FRENCH VANILLA ICE CREAM

Contributed by Mrs. Tom Boyd
8 eggs, beaten
2 c. sugar
1 1/2 pt. whipping cream
3 large cans Pet milk
1 T. vanilla

Heat the milk and cream in double boiler until it reaches boiling point. Add eggs and sugar, which have been beaten together. Cook for 30 minutes. Cool. Add vanilla and freeze in an old fashioned ice cream freezer.

Farm and Garden Club To Hold Candlelight Tea

The Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club will be entertained at a candlelight tea in the home of Mrs. Standish Backus at 725 Lake Shore road on Monday, December 10 at 4 p.m.

Co-hostesses will include Mrs. Frederick W. Campbell, Mrs. William H. Fries, Mrs. Lynn McNaughton and Mrs. Eva Doty Worcester.

Mrs. Richard A. Forsyth will give Christmas readings. The members are asked to bring donations for Christmas gifts to Marine Hospital.

Farms police were informed on Dec. 3 that a fence had been damaged at the M. H. Heywood home at 348 Kerby road. Mrs. Heywood said children could not have done the damage.

Reflections

by paul gach

I think a few words are in order about the old familiar "Retake". Most photographers resent them, try to discourage it, or make an additional charge. I don't feel that way. If perchance I have failed to bring out the best in my subject, then it is my responsibility to try again. On the other hand if the subject unfortunately wore the wrong clothes, fixed the hair badly, or maybe just felt punk that day; then it seems again that a retake is in order. I certainly wouldn't want anyone to pay cash for a portrait which they dislike. If a retaking isn't made I become the big loser. I have already made an investment, I get no order, and probably lose a very fine customer as well. After all, the customer has to spend double time also. Retakes are inevitable once in a while. I like to make the patron happy, then I'm happy.
