Sea Wall Given Lift by Removal of Old Pavement

The eroded land on top of the sea wall bordering the Farms is being braced and the wall heightened by utilizing great slabs of concrete pavement being removed from Mack avenue.

This picture, taken at Mack and Washington, shows how the old pavement, utilized as one lane of the divided highway, is being torn up to make way for the laying of a new strip of concrete. Curbs will now be installed and the roadway raised to eliminate drainage into the sidewalk area and store-fronts, which has long been a nuisance.

Youth Killed In Crash On Lake Shore

Car Skids 200 Feet Before Ramming Into Tree; Passenger Seriously Hurt

Death came to 19-year-old Richard Bugnaski, of 3208 Jacobs, Hamtramck, last Saturday, seven hours after his car skidded some 200 feet into a tree on Lake Shore drive in front of the residence at 910, near Vernier, Bugnaski died shortly after noon of internal hemorrhaging at Saratoga Hospital.

Grosse Pointe Shores police said that Bugnaski, driving at a high although unestimated rate of speed, skidded on wet pavement while attempting a slight turn, careened over the right curb, and slammed sideways into a tree. The car, a 1941 convertible Buick, was folded completely around the tree and demolished.

The impact threw Bugnaski from the car, leaving part of one leg jammed between the car and tree. His other foot was nearly severed.

Passenger Badly Hurt
Walter Dombrowski, aged 21, of 23154 Liberty, St. Clair Shores, a passenger in the car, was tangled in the wreckage. Police had to remove the steering wheel to get him out. Now in serious condition at Saratoga Hospital, Dombrowski suffered fractures of one leg and several ribs. He was home on leave from the United States Navy.

New Building Erected
In 1894 a new building was erected on the site of the present building at 16 Lake Shore road and the first resident minister hired. In the 58 years since then there have been five ministers, including the present minister.

Urge Major Improvement Of Recreation Facilities

Last Tuesday night, nearly two months and a half after angry lake waters pounded Grosse Pointe's shoreline, devastating private and municipal harbor installations, over 400 residents of the City of Grosse Pointe turned out to voice their opinions on the issue of providing improved recreational facilities at the lake-front park.

The Town Hall meeting, scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Neighborhood Club, was opened by Edward Pongracz, head of the committee that arranged the session. He suggested areas of needed improvement, the wading pool, pic-

Memorial Church to Hold Special Birthday Services On Twenty-fifth Anniversary

Present Building in Lake Shore Road Was Completed In 1927; Dr. Frank Pitt to Deliver Two Sermons Sunday

The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the dedication of its church and church house on Sunday, May 18. Dr. Frank Pitt, minister of the parish for over 21 years, will preach an anniversary sermon at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services.

This church was founded in 1885 by a group of nine men and four women and was entitled "The Protestant Evangelical Association of Grosse Pointe." Very soon a small building was erected at what is now Kerby and Lake Shore road. In 1878 this building was altered and enlarged at a cost of one thousand dollars. In 1889 its name was changed to "The Grosse Pointe Protestant Society."

Couldn't Afford Minister
Unable to afford a resident minister, the worship was conducted on Sunday nights by a preacher from Detroit who had driven out in the afternoon following the morning service at his own church. One of the present members whose memory goes back to that early time estimates that the congregations varied from about a dozen to fifty men, women and children.

Outgrew Quarters
So rapid was the growth that it became clear that a much larger building would be needed. The result was the present church and church house, a structure which was built over the years 1924-1927. The church house was built first and was paid for by the people of the parish and community.

The church was given by the late Truman H. Newberry and his brother, John S. Newberry, in memory of their parents, John Stoughton Newberry and Helen Handy Newberry. Once more the name of the church was changed. It became "The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church," a title which still stands.

Has 2,565 Members
During the last 25 years, with the growth of the Grosse Pointe area in population, there has been a very rapid growth for the parish. In fact, only one other Presbyterian parish, in the suburban area of Pittsburgh, has exceeded the Grosse Pointe parish in rate of growth during this period. The present membership now stands at 2,565 and, in addition, a daughter church founded in 1937, the Grosse Pointe Woods

Center Board Hears Plans For Canvass

Annual Drive for Financial Support to Be Conducted Within Next Few Weeks

Reports on activities and plans for future developments at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center were heard at a regular meeting of the Center board of directors Monday night. It was revealed that the annual canvass of the membership for financial support will be launched in the next few weeks.

All residents who donated last year and signed cards indicating they were willing to make annual contributions for the maintenance and operation of the Center, will be contacted by direct mail, signed by the canvassers who received their donations last year.

All Asked to Canvass
These donors will also be asked to consider themselves as appointed canvassers seeking additional members and added support. The goal was announced as being the same as last year, $18,000.

Police Marksmen In Competition

On the indoor shooting range in Grosse Pointe Park's Municipal Building, the Park Police Auxiliary pistol team last week shot two targets in the first round of competition against the regular police team.

Under the direction of Auxiliary team captain Benjamin Bazylko, the five team members fired a total of 20 rounds apiece, slow fire, at a range of 35 feet.

Out of a possible score of 100, for each target, Bazylko led his team with scores of 92 and 81. Russell L. Buchen scored 83 and 77. L. Babcock shot 78 and 73. John Macillarghi shot a 50 and a 41, and Andrew Schneider scored 46 and 41.

Sergeants Richard Mead and Stanley Enders, Patrolmen Donald Dean, Charles Slusser, and Richard Nightingale, comprising the regular police team, will step to the firing line this week.

Progress Reported In Battle Against Impending Floods

Representatives of all Pointes Tell of Steps Being Taken to Keep High Lake Waters From Causing Disaster

Last Monday members of the Grosse Pointe Flood Committee met once again at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center to hear the progress reports of representatives of the five Pointe communities. The reports showed that during the recent weeks of planning against a flood condition that could within the coming months turn the Pointe into a disaster area, sections of the shoreline from Fox Creek to the Milk River have undergone a change of face.

Everitt Lane, city manager of Grosse Pointe Park, told the committee that 1,200 feet of a proposed 2,000-foot flashboard wall had been installed along the Park lake front. Thirty feet of a two-inch thick wooden test wall has been built into existing dirt dikes along the east bank of Fox Creek, and only authorization from the city of Detroit is needed before continuation of the wall for nearly 5,300 feet along the creek is begun.

Expect Approval
Lane stated that approval may be granted on the condition that the Park assume full responsibility for damages to the old retaining wall that might result during construction.

Representatives of Grosse Pointe Woods told the committee that the diking of Milk River was proceeding rapidly; that the necessary soil was available. The resolution which set the project into motion was passed at a meeting of the Woods council, May 5.

To Enact Ordinance
According to Woods spokesmen, an ordinance authorizing mutual assistance where needed by one or more neighboring communities will be enacted at the council's next meeting, May 19. At the time of the Flood Committee meeting only the Park, City and Farms had passed such an ordinance.

The Shores has completed construction of a wood piling flood wall in the municipal park. Some of the residents, it was reported, have sandbagged their own properties. The village has not asked its lake-front home owners to dike on the theory that if they do not, only their own properties will suffer damage.

Shores Fairly Safe
It was cited by Thomas K. Jeffers, superintendent of the village, that the recorded elevation at the intersection of Vernier and Lake Shore road is 581 feet. From that point, the land rises to a crest of 590 feet along the Shores-Woods municipal line.

Although the Shores appeared to be in a position of relative safety from serious flood damage, a "mutual aid" resolution was presented to its council Monday night.

Accident Rate Drops in Park

The first four months of this year shows a reduction in automobile accidents in the City of Grosse Pointe Park compared to the same period of 1951, according to a report by Chief of Police Arthur E. Louwers.

In the four-month period in 1951 there were 117 accidents. Thirty-six persons were injured, and one person was killed.

The comparative period of this year shows 103 accidents, in which 27 persons suffered injury. There were no deaths.

Classmates and Teachers Bid Brigitte Sad Farewell

This week young Brigitte Grob, aged 11, leaves Grosse Pointe to return to her home in Stuttgart, Germany. She will sail from Quebec, Canada, aboard the "Waterman" with her grandmother, Mrs. Helene Waibel, after nearly a year in this country.

Brigitte and her grandmother arrived in the United States in mid-July, 1951, came to Grosse Pointe to spend two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Irmgard Otto, of 1470 Fairholme, and since that time have lived with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simonds at their home in 242 Lewiston road. She enrolled last fall in the

Project Aired At Gathering Of Dads' Club

Students Tell of Need; Anonymous Gift of $1000 Announced at High School Meeting

Grosse Pointe High's annual Spring Round-up held on Tuesday night, May 13, served more than the purpose of honoring the Blue Devil athletes and entertaining the huge turnout. It informed the gathering of the startling need for greater gymnasium and auditorium facilities in the community and particularly at the High School.

Norm Lasca reviewed the lengthy report compiled by a group of high school students and which appeared in full in last week's issue of the News. He in turn introduced Cynthia Netting who told of the many advantages the citizens of the Pointe would derive from a large auditorium-gymnasium. She told it with plenty of girlish enthusiasm. Tom Lister followed and told why a larger gymnasium would be a boon to varsity competition.

Coaches Add Testimony
Athletic Director Frank Banach and Coach Ed Wernet, Grosse Pointe's two full time physical education instructors, gave enlightening information on the present status of intra-mural sports at the High School and told how a bigger gym would enable them to provide an expanded program.

J. Lamar Newberry, Dad's Club President then opened the meeting to questions and answers after he told of receiving a $1000 check from an anonymous donor which with the donation by the Blue and Gold Hi-Y Club at the High School gave the auditorium-gymnasium campaign a start.

Superintendent Present
School superintendent James Bushong was a very interested spectator along with school board President Bert Wicking, and director Mrs. Marion M. Shaeffer who listened to the numerous questions raised from the floor.

For Use of All
One of the biggest questions to be clarified was "who will be able to use the auditorium-gymnasium." President Newberry informed one and all that if and when the Pointe acquires a large auditorium-gymnasium it will be open to any and all organizations in our community. And will be used for all community functions that require a spacious structure.

Center Advisors Hosts at Meeting
Directors and guests of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, at 32 Lake Shore drive, gathered in the Center Wednesday night, May 14, to hear a resume of the institution's activities during the past and current year.

Under the cloak of informality, the group, headed by Earl Holzbaugh, Advisory Board Chairman of the Memorial Association, also heard suggestions toward the introduction of new programs and rearrangement of the existing programs.

For a number of years the Center has served the Pointe as headquarters for local garden clubs, educational courses, art exhibits, dancing classes, luncheon meetings and teas, and entertainment.

At Wednesday's meeting, additional services were elaborated with the twofold intention of providing more for the public and stimulating new interest in the affairs of the association.

Accident Tosses Child Into Street
Susan Slater, aged 3, was treated at Cottage Hospital, May 6, for a possible concussion after she was thrown from her father's car in an accident at Chalfonte and Mt. Vernon.

Lewis M. Slater, of 349 Mt. Vernon, started across Chalfonte on Mt. Vernon and was struck by a truck driven by Donald Donaghue, of 19684 Washtenaw, Harper Woods. The impact, which caused $175 damage to Slater's Ford, threw Susan from the car into the street.

Results of x-rays taken at Cottage Hospital were reported as negative.

donations for furnishings and decorations, announced a new American flag has been donated to the Center by Mrs. Earl Dummage of McKinley avenue. It is expected to be received in time for use at the annual Memorial Day ceremonies which are being planned by a committee headed by Norbert Neff.

To Establish Policy

Mr. Neff was also named to head a committee to recommend a policy to be followed in the matter of adding names to the honored lists now cast in bronze in the entrance hall of the Center. There have been a few casualties in the Korean War and it was pointed out that there might be a continuing list of such casualties in this and other actions throughout the world.

Some policy will be decided in the near future as to just what should be done in these cases. It appeared to be the opinion of the majority of the directors that the name of anyone who gave his life in the armed services of this country, whether it was in training or actual warfare, should be added to the Center lists.

Bids Being Studied

Mrs. Charles Ellis, chairman of the house committee, announced that she has obtained bids on installing a new lavatory on the first floor. These bids and others will be studied and it is expected approval will be given for this addition which has been recommended.

Vincent DePetris, head of the grounds committee, reported on extensive work which has been done to improve and beautify the grounds. With the removal of the temporary memorial shrine from the lakefront, there has been a considerable program under way to fill and landscape this section of the grounds. He reported that members of the Hi-Y Clubs of the High School have been most helpful.

Boys Help on Fill

A considerable amount of broken concrete and stone fill has been obtained and the boys have been giving many volunteer working hours helping haul the debris to the site to be filled. Mr. DePetris donated the great blocks of stone which has lain for years on his property, remnants of the never-finished John Dodge home. These huge pieces of cut stone have been moved from his property along Grosse Pointe boulevard, to the Memorial Center site, and have been shoved into place by bulldozers, bulldozing the lakefront seawall against the abnormally high lake waters. Mr. DePetris also suggested that it may be necessary to build a concrete block wall on top of the seawall.

New Trial Gardens

Trial gardens have been created on the Center grounds and they will be planted with test specimens of many varieties of flowers. They are expected to be an unusually attractive addition to the grounds when they are in bloom in the summer and fall months.

The next meeting of the board will be held on June 9. By that time it is expected there will be a nominating committee appointed to nominate a list of directors to be elected at the annual meeting.

Six residents will be asked to serve on this committee. Two of them, Mrs. Edsel Ford and Mrs. Henry Hubbard served last year. Others who will be asked to serve in naming new directors include Hugh J. Ferry, the Rev. Dr. J. Clemens Kolb, Herbert Savage and Walker Cisler.

slabs along the Lake Shore road seawall in the Farms to prevent further erosion of the frontage. The shoreline lies above 581 feet and consequently causes little concern among the city's officials about direct flood threats.

The City of Grosse Pointe has taken protective measures along its shoreline, particularly at its two low elevation points, at Woodland place and the lower end of Lakeland. Neither of these points are over 578 feet.

"Almost the Rule" It was pointed out at the meeting that the opinion is held by some authorities that the predicted high water level may not be reached. It was explained as "almost the rule" that the low water points have been recorded in December and January of each year, and the highs have been reached by mid-summer. The rise, generally, has been from two to two and a half feet. Although there is still time enough, the rapid rise attained in all previous years has thus far not occurred. Since January, a rise of only nine inches has been recorded.

Douglas Krieger Gives Graduate Piano Recital

Douglas Krieger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Krieger, Jr., of 308 Moran road, presented his graduate piano recital in the Indiana University School of Music recital hall last Monday, May 12.

His program included "I Call on Thee, Lord" and "In These is Joy" by Bach, arranged by Boston; Haydn's Sonata No. 1 in E flat; and Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

Krieger is a pupil of Professor Adolph Weiser of the Indiana University music faculty.

instances, and in only one year, 1950, was the high recorded in April. An elevation of 577.08 was taken Monday, about one foot less than the predicted high.

The Flood Committee heard a suggestion by Murray Smith, city engineer of Grosse Pointe Farms, that study may prove possible the installation of steel sheeting across the mouths of the canals that create inland flood hazards.

Using pumping stations, the canals would then be kept at least 3 feet below the lake level. The cost, it was suggested, would be less than that entailed through construction of elaborate diking.

Rides Bicycle Into Side of Car

Patrick Sutherland, aged 8, of 81 Muir road, received a bad scare, but was uninjured last week when he rode his bicycle into the side of an automobile driven west on Grosse Pointe boulevard by 17-year-old George E. Parker III, of 171 Lewiston.

The accident occurred near 133 Grosse Pointe boulevard. The only damage was a slight dent in the side of Parker's car door.

Parked Car Hit By Truck On Mack

Damages of $175 resulted to the Cadillac owned by Arthur W. Semplicher, of 301 Fouraine, May 11, when it was struck by a 1949 Chevrolet truck driven by Frank Smith, 2444 Grossebeck.

Smith had been driving east on Mack avenue when he hit Semplicher's car, parked at the curb near Maison. Smith's truck received damages estimated at $25. Grosse Pointe Farms police ticketed Smith for not having his car under control causing an accident.

Friends of Library Hear Grosse Pointe's Novelist

By DON FREEMAN

The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library concluded their series of fortnightly meetings featuring prominent local speakers with a delightfully informal review session conducted by Mrs. Haldeman Finnie, Tuesday evening, May 6, at 8:30 in the Main Branch located in Pierce Junior High School on Kercheval Avenue.

Mrs. Finnie, who under her maiden name of Isabella Holt has written seven novels and several short stories, chose "The Theatre as an Art" for her topic.

After an introduction by Willis Bugbee, program director, Mrs. Finnie divided her talk between two recent books written on the stage by two genuine "artists": "The Magic Curtain" by Lawrence Langner and "Dance to the Piper" by Agnes DeMille—occasionally dipping into one or the other to quote a particularly vivid passage or bring out some special point.

While both volumes are autobiographical, Mr. Langner deals with the theatrical world in general while Miss DeMille dwells on the more restricted realm of the ballet.

Although Mr. Langner's style is "more genial and less introspective than Miss DeMille's" Mrs. Finnie stated that there were several points of agreement. Both individuals have done much financially and artistically to raise the standards of the theatre; both came from broken and unstable homes; both were frustrated in attempts at fame along one line only to gain renown along another — Langner going from a would-be playwright to a consistent producer of good theatre, DeMille from a ballet dancer to a celebrated choreographer.

Mr. Langner's story deals primarily with the years after his arrival in America from England shortly before World War I when while serving as a prominent patent attorney, he helped found and carry on the fabulous Theatre Guild. Miss DeMille's career reached its climax when she was commissioned to do the dance fashioning for Roger's and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma!"

Mrs. Finnie recommended both works as highly interesting reading, Langner's because of the light he throws on the American theatrical scene, Miss DeMille's because of its highly personal and revealing style. The meeting ended with a discussion of writing in general in which most of the audience participated.

Except for the annual meeting to be held at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church this coming Tuesday evening, this gathering was the last in this season's varied Friends program.

Reckless Drivers Pay Up in Court

Judge C. Joseph Belanger disposed of eight cases at the May 7 session of the Grosse Pointe Park Municipal Court.

Medley Hansen, of 1740 Anita, forfeited a $10 bond when she failed to appear to answer charges of disobeying a signal light, March 30, at Jefferson and Pemberton.

Sentence against Jean, Clay Neville, 1324 Bishop, was suspended. She had been involved in an accident March 24.

For running the stop street at Devonshire and Charlevoix, March 16, Frank M. Annessa, of 3336 Burns, received a $10 fine.

Norman W. Rogers, 11105 Jefferson, did not appear in court. He had been charged with running a stop street, April 6. A report was sent to Lansing.

A fine of $20 was placed against Robert K. Frye, 1851 Lancaster, for an accident that occurred on April 8, at Jefferson and Pemberton.

Judge Belanger found Burt Hagerman, 242 Muir road, not guilty of causing an accident at the intersection of Nottingham and Charlevoix. The accident took place on April 13. Robert E. Leonard, 1078 Coplin, involved in the same accident, was also exonerated.

Adam J. Miskovich, 50 Puritan, Highland Park, incurred a $20 fine for an accident, April 13, at Jefferson and Pemberton.

Visiting Couple Have Street Row

Two residents of Birmingham, Mich., after visiting friends in the City of Grosse Pointe last Saturday night, began a quarrel which was later brought to the attention of Grosse Pointe Park police.

A report came to the police that a woman was down in the street at Beaconsfield and Jefferson avenue. On arrival they found her sprawled on the rain-soaked sidewalk at the corner. Aside from being somewhat wet, she was uninjured.

After questioning the couple, the police learned that he had struck his wife several times. According to him she had tripped stepping out of the car near the restaurant. However, she explained that she had been knocked to the ground when her husband started driving the car away while she was stepping out.

Although the woman had told the police that she would file a complaint against her husband the following day, no action has been taken by her.

PARKED CAR RIFLED

David Sellers, 11706 Charlevoix, told Park police on May 12 that his automobile had been broken into while parked at the rear of the White Tower restaurant, at 15009 East Jefferson, early that morning. Sellers reported the loss of a man's brown leather jacket, a pair of sun glasses, six cigars, and a pack of cigars.

Reward Offered By Car Owner

A reward has been offered by John J. MacEwen, of 861 Beaconsfield, to anyone who can identify the person or persons responsible for damaging his automobile.

The destruction was reported to Grosse Pointe Park police in the evening of May 7. Mr. MacEwen stated that his car had been left at the curb in front of his house for a few days while he was away.

On his return home, Mr. MacEwen found the windshield badly battered. It is believed that a heavy object caused the damage. The car is a 1936 Chevrolet.

Young Tricyclist Comes Cropper

While playing near her home at 1157 Three Mile drive one evening last week, young Mary Louise Mourad, aged 3, rode her tricycle into an excavation near the sidewalk and suffered a large bump on the top of her head.

Her 4½-year-old brother yelled for help, attracting the attention of a gardener at a neighboring house. Mary Louise and her tricycle were pulled out of the hole, four to five feet deep.

According to Mary Louise' rescuer, there had been no means of protecting anyone from falling accidentally into the hole. Grosse Pointe Park police officers who later inspected the area, reported that although the hole was uncovered, there was a barricade beside it.

The report stated, however, that there was sufficient room for small children to pass under it. In the estimation of the investigating officer, the hole would not be sufficiently protected unless boarded over.

Cisler Speaker At Convocation

Walker L. Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Company, will be the principal speaker at Wayne University's annual Honors Convocation scheduled for 8:15 p.m., Thursday, May 22, in the Rackham Memorial auditorium.

The program is aimed at recognizing outstanding Wayne students for scholastic and other achievements. Dr. David D. Henry, University president, will extend greetings to the students being honored. Presiding will be Dr. Clarence E. Hilberry, dean of administration.

A faculty member whose name is still unannounced will be honored as recipient of the Class of 1946 Faculty Service Award. Established four years ago, the award is presented annually to the faculty member "whose professional or civic efforts have brought about a greater appreciation of the place of Wayne University in the community."

During a choral interlude in the awards program, Associate Professor Harold H. Tallman will direct the Wayne University choir in singing the "Echo Song" by Orlando-diLasso, the early English folk song, "O! No John," and "Russian Picnic," by Enders. Nancy Chesna, 647 Madison, Birmingham, will be piano accompanist.

A musical prelude and postlude will be played on the organ by Jason Tickton, associate professor of music at Wayne.

Contest Offers $200 In Prizes

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association is sponsoring a contest which is open to all residents of Grosse Pointe 12 years of age and over. There are prizes totaling $200 for the best suggestions on the topic "How To Beautify and Protect Grosse Pointe Communities."

This is an opportunity for every resident of Grosse Pointe to enter into a community project by presenting their ideas, whether they are old or new, on how we can maintain or improve the standard of living in the Grosse Pointe communities.

These suggestions will be appraised by the Association and then incorporated into the Association's plans for carrying out their purpose of maintaining high community standards and protecting property values in Grosse Pointe.

The rules governing this contest may be found in an advertisement in the inner pages of this issue. This contest closes Sunday, May 18. Enter now.

Annual Dinner of Library Friends to be Held May 20

By Don Freeman
The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library will bring to a close this year's program of activities on Tuesday evening, May 20, at Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, 211 Moross road.

The occasion will be the annual business meeting and dinner, held in the Community Room, and highlighted by a special address on "The Place of the Library in the Community" delivered by Ralph A. Ulveling, director of the Detroit Public Library.

Willis Bugbee, program director, stated that to have Mr. Ulveling as a guest speaker was a real honor, since he is very much in demand in this section of the country. Among other notable honors, Mr. Ulveling is a graduate of De Paul and Columbia universities, has served in the past as president both of the American Library Association and the Michigan Library Association, and has acted as advisor to the War Department and the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. with the dinner. Mr. Ulveling's address at 8 will be preceded by the annual business meeting at which time directors for the ensuing year will be elected.

Charles A. Parcels, Jr., chairman of the Fund Committee for the new Central Library, now under construction at Kercheval Avenue and Fisher Road, stated that the initial phase of the Friends' program to allow the community a part in furnishing and equipping the Library "to which response has been very gratifying so far," will be completed by the meeting and that progress to date will be reported.

Members of the Friends' organization and all others interested in attending this affair are invited to make arrangements at the Main Library in Pierce Junior High School by Saturday of this week. Reservations for the dinner are $2.25 per person.

Presbyterian Church, has a membership of 996.

To Dedicate Carillon
One feature of the anniversary will be the dedication of a carillon one week from next Sunday, on May 25. When the present building was erected in 1927 the late Colonel Frederick M. Alger and his wife, now Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, gave a carillon of eight bells in memory of those who had fallen in the First World War.

This carillon has now been amplified by a recent addition of 39 bells. Following the service of dedication there will be service featuring the newly enlarged carillon at 4 o'clock. After the service those present are invited to a reception in the gymnasium of the church house.

expressed a plea for major improvement of the park recreational facilities. The assembly listened quietly to careful criticism, but, always, applause followed appeals for lasting improvement "whatever the expenditure may be."

The expenditure certainly would be great if it was pointed out that it would be carried by a bond issue extended over a number of years, necessary because of a municipal debt of $400,000.

The meeting acted as a good sounding board on which the council could determine just how far the residents were willing to go. It would also aid in the decision as to whether the project should be approached piecemeal or in one operation. In any case it appeared that the cost would run close to $250,000.

TIRE AND WHEEL STOLEN
Albert Cameron, of 1351 Lakepointe, reported the theft of a tire and wheel from his automobile. Cameron told Grosse Pointe Park police that the larceny might have occurred any time between May 9 and May 11. He also explained that it could have happened either at his home or at his place of employment.

Annual Garden Pilgrimages Get Started This Weekend

The annual Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimages, which benefit the Garden Center on Belle Isle, will commence Saturday and Sunday, May 17 and 18, when 14 gardens in Dearborn, Wyandotte, Trenton and Grosse Ile will be opened to the public.

Tour II will take place in Grosse Pointe the following weekend, May 24 and 25, and Tour III in Birmingham, Bloomfield, Palmer and Huntington Woods on June 14 and 15.

Mrs. Frederick Schumann, chairman of the Pilgrimage committee, points out that everyone is urged to join the pilgrimages which are available to men, women and children for the price of one Tour Ticket, $1.00. No garden club affiliation is necessary. All are welcome.

The "down-river" tour will include gardens that vary in size as well as in design and plant material. "Fair Lane," the estate of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, now operated by the Ford Motor Co., will open its gates to the garden-loving public as part of this tour.

Visitors are urged to visit "Fair Lane" either at the start or at the end of the day's pilgrimage. Ford Company buses will transport visitors, free of charge, to and from the meeting place in front of the Ford Rotunda, at 12 noon and at 3 p.m., both Saturday and Sunday. There are no parking facilities at "Fair Lane," the committee points out. Several small gardens that will be open in the Dearborn-Grosse Ile area will prove the great possibilities that exist for design and productiveness in gardens even in a limited suburban space. The owners will be present to answer the questions of new gardeners who want advice on "how to begin."

In Grosse Ile several extensive and established gardens will be shown, famous for design as well as interesting in their location along the river banks.

Tour III, in the north end and in Bloomfield and Birmingham, will feature large and well known estates, some formal in design, others that are country, woodland gardens.

Whatever the type of garden or whatever its location, the Garden Center is doing the public a service in making it possible for them to visit gardens where they may learn first-hand what can be done in the simplest back-yard, as well as on large properties.

In turn, the dollars that the visitors will give to the Garden Center for their tour tickets will go to increase the daily services that are available at the Center to any resident of greater Detroit seven days a week, twelve months a year.

Rising car prices have had lots of attention and comment, and that's only natural. People of this country have a keen interest in automobiles . . . a new car is a sizeable investment under any circumstances . . . and car prices certainly have risen.

Combine this with big jumps in your personal taxes and living expenses generally, and it's easy to see how the keeper of the family budget can shake his or her head and wonder whether money's worth can justify the money price in a new car.

As car manufacturers, Chrysler Corporation is proud to say that the price of a new car never in your life got such good value as it can get right now . . . especially if you get a Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto or Chrysler.

Proof of this comes from two directions.

First . . . when you compare car prices with other prices in your life, you find they've risen less than almost anything you buy.

But the second point's the exciting one . . . when you compare today's car itself with the car of a few years ago you find mechanical value up many times more than price.

Most things you pay more for today are the same things you paid less for yesterday . . . (butter's still butter; meat's still meat). But not your car. The postwar rise in car prices covers greater car building progress and gains in value than have perhaps ever been made in so few years before.

For the best examples of this, we invite you to call on a dealer in the cars we make, and let him demonstrate to you what has happened. Especially if it's two or three years since you tried out a new car, you'll almost think you're in another world.

The first thing you'll discover is really exciting and satisfying new ideas of style and design. Outward lines that invite you to come closer are matched by interior appointment and comfort with which you can live with real pleasure for years to come. But even this is only the start.

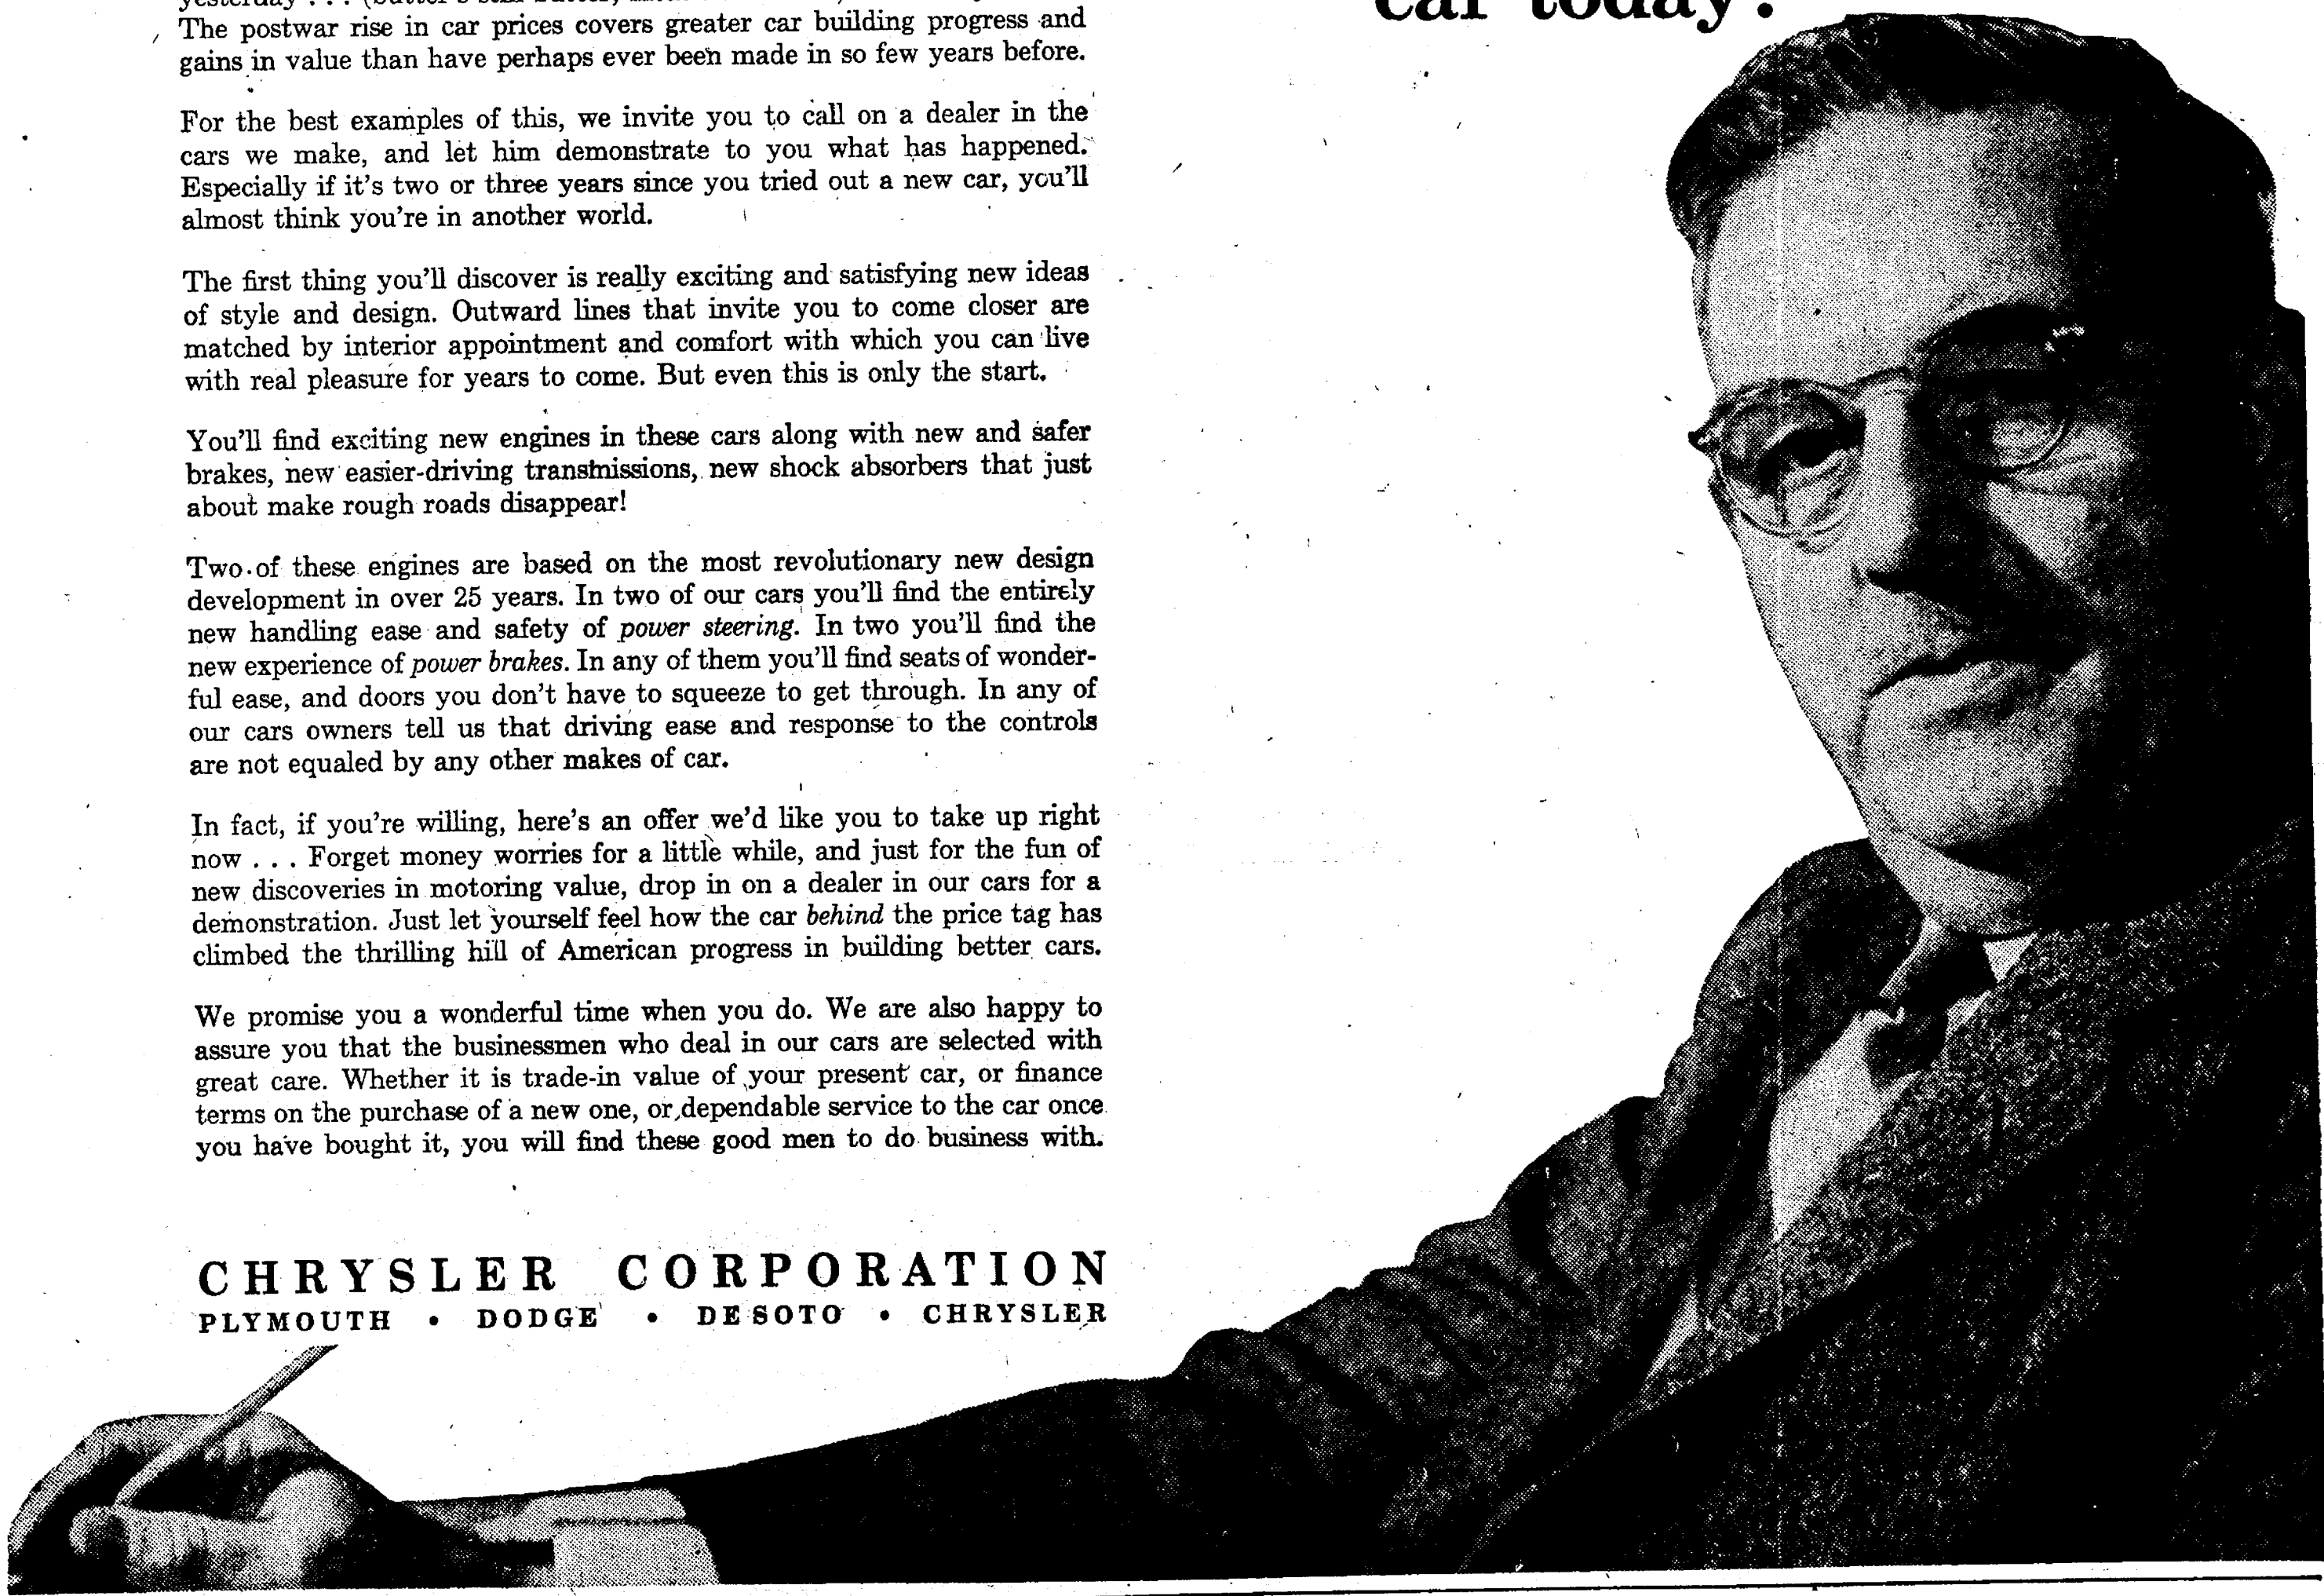

You'll find exciting new engines in these cars along with new and safer brakes, new easier-driving transmissions, new shock absorbers that just about make rough roads disappear!

Two of these engines are based on the most revolutionary new design development in over 25 years. In two of our cars you'll find the entirely new handling ease and safety of power steering. In two you'll find the new experience of power brakes. In any of them you'll find seats of wonderful ease, and doors you don't have to squeeze to get through. In any of our cars owners tell us that driving ease and response to the controls are not equaled by any other makes of car.

Welcome to New Teachers

Because of the growth of the Grosse Pointe community and the subsequent increased enrollment in the public schools, the Grosse Pointe School Board has made some 50 appointments to the different faculties.

These appointments have also been made because of the need to replace those teachers leaving the Public School system for reason of transfer or retirement.

By way of introduction to the parents of children who will attend or who are now attending the public schools, the NEWS is publishing weekly short biographies of those whose appointments have been confirmed. During the coming months until school reopens in the fall, the biographies of new teachers will appear in each issue.

School Board officials have announced that MISS ARLENE MACDAVID will teach instrumental and vocal music at the Maire Elementary School, beginning next fall.

Miss MacDavid, who took her public schooling in Lancaster, New York State Teachers College, and a Master of Arts degree in music from the University of Michigan.

She has played with the University of Michigan and other college musical organizations, and she has had three years experience teaching in New York schools.

Minute Women See Color Movie Describing Causes of Inflation

A color sound film graphically describing the causes of inflation was shown to a large audience of women at the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club last Friday. Government borrowing and spending were named the major causes.

Jack Daniels of the National Association of Manufacturers answered questions at the close of the film. Mr. Daniels told the women that they could do something about inflation by vigorously supporting candidates for public office who believe in government economy... and by letting their wishes for economy be known in Washington. They were encouraged to write Senators and Congressmen.

This film was the second in a series of four program meetings being held this month by the Minute Women, a non-partisan, non-sectarian organization devoted to alerting women to their political responsibilities.

This coming Friday, May 16, Eddie E. Adcock, for the last seven years a director of the Detroit Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, will speak on his experiences with subversive groups and suggest ways to combat them.

Mrs. Robert Looker of Rivard will give a Minute Women report. Mrs. Harry M. Sisson of Grosse Pointe boulevard, co-chairman with Mrs. Louis Huck of St. Paul avenue, of the South East Unit of Minute Women, will preside.

The meeting will start promptly at 11:30 in the Neighborhood Club.

Safety Patrols To Get Reward

All the Safety Patrol boys of Grosse Pointe, nearly 550 from both the public and parochial schools, will attend the baseball game between the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox on May 19, as the guests of Spike Briggs.

The trip will be sponsored by the Lion's Club, the Rotary Club, and the Metropolitan Club.

NOT A BAD FAULT

Girls' Friendly Society Holds Spring Meeting

Miss Frances W. Sibley and Pointe Group Travel to Pine Lake for Annual Meeting of Holiday House Committee; Was Head of Society for 50 Years

Miss Frances W. Sibley, of Washington road, and a contingent of Grosse Pointers journeyed to Pine Lake Monday for the spring planning meeting of the Holiday House Committee of Girls' Friendly Society.

The meeting, held at 11 o'clock at Rest Cottage, one of the three vacation houses on the beautiful GFS camp property, was followed by a luncheon. Presiding was the chairman, Mrs. William E. Rice, of Birmingham.

Miss Sibley, who was instrumental in getting the Girls' Friendly vacation camp established at Pine Lake some 57 years ago, again brought her zestful interest to Monday's planning for the coming season.

She is the committee's honorary chairman, having served for several years in that capacity after 50 years as active chairman. In that time, nearly 40,000 girls and women have vacationed at the Girls' Friendly camp which started with a rented farmhouse. In 1903, the present site was acquired and Holiday House built. At last Monday's business session, plans were completed for the spring refurbishing of Holiday House, for girls of the 12 to 16 age group, and Bird's Nest Cottage for those of five through 11 years.

All will be ready when the young vacationers begin tramping to camp as soon as school is out, the discussion showed. Improvements for the current year will include alterations to the Holiday House chapel.

Rest Cottage already is open, with organization groups scheduled each week-end through late May. Southwest convocation of Youth occupied Rest Cottage and Holiday House the May 2-4 week-end, and Canterbury Clubs, May 17-18; Holiday House branch of Girls' Friendly Society for May 24-25, and dinner will be served on May 23 at Metropolitan Methodist leaders.

Other Grosse Pointe members of Holiday House Committee are Mrs. Alexander W. Copland, Mrs. Joseph M. Dodge, Mrs. L. Rothe Farr, Mrs. Harry S. Fin-

Catharine Ann Cowan Marries Bruce Rogers

Reception in Harcourt Road Home of Bride's Parents Follows Evening Ceremony Held in Christ Church; Couple Motors South

A reception at the Harcourt road home of the bride's parents followed the wedding, last Saturday evening, of Catharine Ann Cowan and Bruce Frederick Rogers, in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Cowan and Mr. Rogers' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elton Rogers of Buckingham road.

The Rev. J. Clemens Kolb was the officiating minister at the ceremony.

Deeply trimmed in lace, the ivory satin wedding gown's off-shoulder neckline was filled in with silk illusion and had elbow length sleeves. A great skirt, worn over hoops, extended into cathedral train and Catherine's illusion veil was attached to a close-fitting cap of lace.

Mrs. Joseph Hayes Wimsatt traveled from Louisville, Ky., to assume her duties as matron of honor. Her waltz length frock was aqua net worn over matching taffeta and she carried a straw basket filled with white lilies and bunches of deep purple violets.

In gown like that of the matron of honor and carrying baskets of the same flowers were bridesmaids Sally Ball and Mrs. Frederick Milburn.

The bridegroom's brother, William Rogers, served as best man and the ushers comprised John A. Cowan, brother of the bride; Donald Kelly and Richard Ralph. Seed pearl embroidery at the neckline accented the champagne lace gown worn by the bride's mother. She pinned a purple orchid to her costume.

Mrs. Rogers also wore orchids with her rose lace and taffeta opera length gown. When the newly-married Rogers get home from their Southern wedding trip they will live in Sloan drive.

Mrs. Rogers' going away costume was a periwinkle blue wool suit topped with white straw chapeau and worn with navy blue accessories.

Albion College Dean's List Names Four From Pointe

Four residents of Grosse Pointe appear on the Dean's list at Albion college in recognition of the high scholarship which they maintained during the first half of the current term. They are the following: Archie Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Allen of 1625 Brys; William Casteel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Casteel of 1021 Maryland; James Higgins, son of Mrs. Edna Higgins of 331 Moran; John Stetson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erle Stetson of 331 McKinley.

To be eligible for the Dean's list a student must have a better than B average. The reason some boys don't follow in their father's footsteps is because the father's gait is too fast for them.

GAIT TOO FAST The reason some boys don't follow in their father's footsteps is because the father's gait is too fast for them.

Nancy Foster June 28 Bride

St. Paul's on The Lake will be the scene of the June 28 marriage of Nancy Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Foster of Harbor Hill, and Paul Gregory Glasmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Charles Glasmeier of Cincinnati.

The bride-elect's parents will entertain wedding guests at a breakfast and reception in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club following the church ceremony.

Ann Haggerty will be Nancy's maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Suzanne O'Leary, Mary Thompson and Mrs. William N. Maas.

William N. Maas will be Paul's best man and the guests will be seated by Robert VanderMaas, Franklin M. Hoal, John J. Robinson of Cincinnati, the bride-elect's brother, Charles M. Foster Jr., and Lee Allen.

Mrs. William Scott Wilson, Mrs. Richard S. Van Pelt and Mrs. Donald C. Van Pelt have issued invitations for a luncheon and linen shower at the Detroit Athletic Club May 24, featuring Nancy.

Ann Haggerty will give the spinster's party for Nancy on May 23. It's to take place in the hostess' LaSalle place home and on May 26, Mr. and Mrs. Foster will give the rehearsal dinner in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The bachelor dinner will be given by Bill Maas on May 26. The bride-elect has already been given parties by Mrs. John B. Maas and her daughter, Mrs. James V. Dirkes, and planning parties, dates for which have not been set, are: Mrs. Leo Kay, a luncheon and pantry shower; Mrs. William Maas and her daughter, Mrs. J. Edward Roney, a shower in the Maas home in Ingleside Gardens; Mary Thompson and Suzanne O'Leary.

When Mrs. Ernest Kanzler was hospitalized after breaking her neck in a freak fall at her winter home in Hobe Sound . . . the gracious lady insisted this shouldn't change the scheduled showing of her Lake Shore home gardens for the Garden Center in May . . .

Plans for a Summer in Europe, however, have been cancelled by the Kanzlers . . . who next December will introduce their daughter, Katrina, to society . . . And Mrs. Edsel Ford . . . will forsake Seal Harbor this Summer . . . to be near her sister . . .

A Meisen Desk

A spirited crowd of Pointers is planning a trip to the northside this coming week-end . . . when the treasures of the Henry Striker home on St. Mary's avenue are being sold. Each week-end usually brings a bevy of antiquers to the Pointe, so this turn-about is interesting . . .

However . . . the local collectors are intent upon the wonderful Capi di Monti, Sevres and crystal chandeliers, French and Venetian furniture, for which the Strikers' home has long been famed (their chandelier has been borrowed many times for the Toronto Exposition) . . .

And most unusual of all . . . there's a Meisen desk . . . combining rare and decorative porcelain with ebony . . . The Strikers are planning to move from Detroit to make their future home in California . . .

Southeastern Woman's Club Elects Officers

The Southeastern Woman's Club held its annual May luncheon at the Hillcrest Country Club. Newly elected officers were introduced to the members. They include: Mrs. Hal W. Wilson, president; Mrs. G.S. McIntosh and Mrs. Edward J. Corrick, vice-presidents; Mrs. Otto Newman, Mrs. Roy L. Braden and Mrs. Ben A. Miller, secretaries; Mrs. F. Ivor Goodrich, treasurer; and Mrs. Clara P. Bryant and Mrs. Charles L. Seely, federation delegates.

Pointers To Take Part In Gay Nineties Revue

Saturday Evening Party at Detroit Yacht Club Sponsored By Women's Association for The Detroit Symphony Orchestra; Revue Preceded by Dinner

Grosse Pointe will be well represented in a Gay Nineties party Saturday evening—as committee members, floor show participants and sponsors. Given at Detroit Yacht Club by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the affair will climax a spirited maintenance fund campaign for the orchestra.

Dinner at 7 o'clock will be followed by a Gay Nineties Revue and dancing. One of several mirth-provoking features will be Fred Kendall and his Floradora Girls—starring Mrs. Henry B. Joy, Mrs. Wilson W. Mills, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, Mrs. Griffith Ogden Ellis and Mrs. William John Parker.

The Bicycling Berrys (Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Berry) will open the program and another Grosse Pointer, Mrs. Charles C. Hicks (Lillian Beall Hicks) is on the program for one of her inimitable character songs, in costume. Mrs. John Anderson is a member of the Sextette, led by Mrs. Philip C. Baker.

Other acts include the Detroit Revelers, with the eminent Canadian pianist, George Haddad, as accompanist; the Six Symphonettes; and Mrs. Russell McLaughlin in dance specialties.

Mrs. Carl Heutel is general chairman of the party. Among the Grosse Pointe women on committees are: Mrs. Philip D. Grubbs, chairman of tickets. Mrs. Grubbs, it would seem, deserves some such special title as Ticket Seller of the Year—since she herself has a sales record of almost 250 tickets, and the joint sales of her captains just about matches it. Grosse Pointe members of her committee are Mrs. Thomas K. Fisher, Mrs. Frank Kuhn, Mrs. David Sutter, Mrs. Harold D. Gumper, Mrs. Edward A. Balmann, Mrs. Adolph Jacobson and Mrs. Irwin M. Kunerth.

Among the Grosse Pointe patrons reported by Mrs. Grubbs are: Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Anderson, Mrs. Standish Backus, Dr. and Mrs. George J. Baer, Mrs. Harry E. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. C. Grant Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Blackwood, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bodman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Baumann, Carl Breen, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Brown, Mrs. Roy D. Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Epstein, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Ferry.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ford, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John H. French, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. The First Important Step

Officials of the various Pointe municipalities have issued a plea to all non-registered voters to take care of their registrations as early as possible. Invariably there is a last minute rush that overtaxes the municipal staffs and makes the matter of getting registered much more difficult than is necessary.

All of the Pointes do everything in their power to make it as easy as possible for its residents to become qualified registered electors. An oft-repeated question is "When can I register?" The answer is that one can register any time at all that the municipal offices are open, excepting during the legal 30-day period preceding an election.

In this torrid election year the subject of getting all the voters properly registered is receiving even more attention than usual. It is, of course, extremely important in all years. Those who fail to register are ignoring one of the greatest privileges a free country has to offer. It disqualifies them from any right to criticize the manner in which the affairs of government are being run.

Many methods of getting every qualified person properly registered have been discussed. This paper has considered printing the names of every registered voter, in the hope that those whose names did not appear on the list might be shamed into doing something about it. Such a project would entail a tremendous amount of effort, transcribing the names of some 30,000 voters from the registration lists. It would mean a considerable expense to print all these names. Would it be worth the trouble and expense?

Experts in the election business are of the opinion that it wouldn't accomplish much. They point out that those who aren't sufficiently interested in the matters of government to take the very little trouble involved to get themselves registered, might be pushed into this first step . . . but would probably fail to follow up with the more important step of voting.

It doesn't matter how many persons are registered. Only those who go to the polls and cast their ballots can make themselves heard. We have some very fine examples of this in the Pointe. Statistics kept throughout the years show that ordinary elections attract less than 45 percent of the registered voters to the polls. Presidential elections, always the biggest producers of votes, have never lured more than 55 percent of the registered Pointe voters to the ballot boxes.

To explain the consequences of such apathy, it might be pointed out that the Michigan gubernatorial election results of two years ago could very easily have been settled right here in the Pointe, and the long and costly recount might have been avoided. Had all of the qualified voters in this predominantly Republican community taken the trouble to vote, Governor Williams could not have been elected.

Many other similar communities throughout the state could, of course, make the same claim. It demonstrates the tremendous importance of each individual making certain that his vote is going to be cast.

Cooperate with your local officials. Those who are not registered are urged to do so now. With the primaries scheduled for August 5, the closing date for registering comes very early this year. The July 4 holiday also intervenes. Municipal offices will be closed on that day. All registrations should be made by July 3, but don't put it off. It will be much easier to register right now than it will in the jam of the last minute.

Those away from home who will be qualified to vote by the time election day comes around, may register by applying for the forms by mail. Such requests should be addressed to the city or village clerk. Invalids and others who are unable to get to their municipal offices, can register and vote too. A request to their clerk will receive prompt attention. A qualified official will either be sent to the home with the forms, or a member of the family can be deputized to take the registration.

Getting everyone registered is the big job right now. Then comes the even more important step, which can be accomplished only with the cooperation of each individual . . . to get the ballot of every registered voter into the ballot box on election day.

A. PRYOR

"Be patient, O be patient! Put your ear against the earth; Listen there how noiselessly the germ of the seed has birth; How noiselessly and gently it unheaves its little way Till it parts the scarcely broken ground, and the blade stands up in day."

Someone sent us an article from a magazine about Phobias. The one that interested us most concerned the late Flo Ziegfeld, who (so the item sez) could never quite make up his mind about things. Apparently he admitted this and his weakness came to light when one day a friend asked him why he kept a bowl of licorice drops on his desk and munched on them all day, instead of having a variety of candies. Ziegfeld was supposed to have replied: "I'll tell you why. Every one of them is black. When I feel like having a piece of candy, I don't have to make up my mind which color I want!" We can't think of a better reason for eating licorice.

After reading the article, which contained some ten or twelve phobias, we decided we have most of them or at least a part of each. We would strongly advise the sensitive introvert to steer clear of such literature. It reminded us of the first time we got hold of one of those medical books that are fraught with "home remedies." We felt pretty good when we started thumbing through it and, by the time we finished there weren't many aches and pains listed that we didn't think we had. At least it taught us a lesson . . . we've never read a book on how to rob a bank!

If you are a bug on teaching your children to be polite, then don't blame them when they practice their social graces at the wrong time and in the wrong places. An acquaintance of ours complained to us that her eight-year-old son did just that and embarrassed the daylight out of her. Having to attend the funeral of a friend who lived in upper Michigan and not having any place to "dump" junior for the day, she took him along and admonished him en route to be quiet and polite, etc., etc. Since the trip was a long one and rather tiring, the family asked her to stay after the funeral, have supper with them and spend the night.

Junior was as polite as all get out and behaved with suitable decorum . . . except for one teeny, weeny slip. When they asked if he would have more of whatever it was they were eating, he replied, "No thank you. I don't think it's very good." However, that was passed over with delicate understanding on the part of the hosts. BUT . . . when they took their leave, sonny boy shook hands with each member of the family and said to everyone in clear and resonant tones, "Thank you SO much for a WONDERFUL time!"

While we are on the subject of the young (and you'd better hide this column from your teen-ager), a local woman gave us this bit of information concerning her fourteen-year-old daughter. Last Sunday, the family was about to depart for church when Dad noticed the appalling condition of his offspring's hands. Horrified, he picked up a hand and exclaimed, "Forsythia, LOOK at your hands! Don't tell me you would think of going to Church with such dirty hands and fingernails!" The youngster glanced at her hands indifferently . . . then said, "Don't be silly Dad, I wear GLOVES in church."

A friend of ours, once removed, who lives in a suburb of Chicago, told us of a weird and foolish experience she had recently. Some time after midnight, when she had been asleep for about an hour, she was awakened by flashlights playing around her bedroom. Thinking it might be flying saucers or some such dream nonsense . . . she just lay there doing nothing . . . when suddenly she heard footsteps and a light was shone in her face. She sat up in bed . . . scared right up to HERE, when a male voice asked, "Who are YOU?"

She managed to squeak out that she was Mrs. Soandso who lived there and added, "What business is it of yours and what are you doing in my house?" It turned out that the man with the flashlight was a policeman. Madame had gone on a trip for a few weeks and being concerned about leaving her house untenanted in her absence, had asked the local Police to keep an eye on the place. Since she neglected to inform them of her return, they were merely doing their duty . . . and having found the rear door unlocked, they proceeded to investigate with guns drawn and flashlights gleaming. Tee-hee.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

"If your nose is close to the grindstone rough,
And if you hold it there long enough,
Ere long you'll say, there's no such thing
As brooks that babble, birds that sing,
These trees will all your world compose,
You, the stone and your darned old nose."

—Anonymous

Our grandfather used to say, that whenever he had things to do he did not know which to do first, he always put on his cap and went fishing. Certainly, for the angler, that is the answer to the grindstone blues. Once the fishing virus gets into your blood, there is only one cure. . . . "Go Fishing."

Perhaps Izaak Walton did more than any one man, to popularize this art. His COMPLEAT ANGLER, whether regarded as a treatise on fishing, as a charming pastoral or as an autobiography, is one of the best loved books in the English language. Published first in 1653, Walton continued to add to it for 20 years or more after that date.

Many philosophical fishermen have followed Izaak Walton. The catch is not to be scorn but the religion of the outdoors is what makes the "Compleat Angler."

One of our favorite books is a rambling account of a fishing and canoe trip in Northern Ontario, THE INCOMPLETE ANGLERS by John D. Robbins. We are partial perhaps, because we knew "Johnny" some years ago as a popular English professor in Toronto. "No one ever skipped his classes. He was both a successful teacher and a successful fisherman with abundant patience and humor brought to both activities."

Negley Farson's GOING FISHING has an appeal not alone for the fisherman but for anyone who enjoys the out-of-doors. It tells of the author's experiences in many countries where his rod, a magic wand, has revealed to him some of the loveliest places on earth.

The practical end of this art sport or call-it-what-you-will, is not to be ignored. We do not know much about wet or dry flies or wild bait casting but our fishermen friends tell us they are delighted to see a reprint of two out-of-print classics by a pioneer in the art of dry fly fishing in North America, THE DRY FLY AND FAST WATER and THE SALMON AND THE DRY FLY by George La Branche. Alfred Miller says in its introduction "In a changing world, angling is one of the least changing of the arts. Over the years, the fish have not changed, nor have the insects. Save in detail, the tackle has not changed either. And ice and flood have never ceased

Are You Easy To Live With?

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

Not often enough do we ask ourselves that question, much less really work towards improvement! Oh, we know we are irritable at times, regretting it later, but we seldom try to find the real cause. And the cause so often is just not feeling good.

A person doesn't have to be sick in bed to benefit from medical attention. A different diet, more, or less exercise, medicine that helps glands or organs to function better, any one of these may make you feel better, easier to live with.

Letters To The Editor

The members of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council wish to express their appreciation to all those who took an active part in the Clean-Up Campaign which has just been completed in the five Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores.

We also wish to thank particularly:—
The heads of the municipalities and their coordinating organizations such as the police and fire departments, sanitation and departments of public works, for their whole-hearted cooperation and the additional use of equipment and man power.

The Board of Education, the man and Edward C. Janes. Be forewarned! Get your information in hand now. Then when you feel yourself coming down with angler fever, take your nose from the grindstone, put on your cap and go fishing!

The final event of the season for the Friends of the Library will be the annual meeting and dinner, Tuesday, May 20, 6:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church. Mr. Ralph A. Uiveling will speak on "The Place of the Library in the Community." We look forward to seeing all our old friends and many new ones.

And above all, to the Grosse Pointe News without whose sincere interest and assistance, it would have been impossible to bring this civic and educational project to the attention of our citizens.
Signed
The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council.

Fine Arts Club Holds Election

The Fine Arts Study Club held its tenth annual luncheon in the home of Mrs. Elmer R. Ross, of Lakewood, on Friday May 9. New officers were elected for the ensuing two years, with Mrs. Milman Andrews, of Neff road as president; Mrs. Robert Conrad Veit, Chalfonte; vice-president; Mrs. Jesse W. Shields, Neff road, secretary; Mrs. Miles Suttion, Cadieux, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer R. Ross, Lakewood, historian.

The project of this club is to help young musicians. A concert is sponsored early in May each year, which is also guest night. This was held Saturday evening, May 10, in the home of Mrs. L. G. Terbruggen, of Greenwood court.

The guest artists this year came from the "Detroit Opera Guild," six young men and six young ladies, with Ida Kitching Cordes as their director and accompanist. They presented a two hour concert consisting of light opera and grand opera.

In 1933, Mrs. Cordes, a voice instructor, having had an operatic career, realizing the need of Detroit vocalists in the Detroit area who would not have an opportunity to go away and study for concert or opera, conceived the idea of the "Detroit Opera Guild." At present there are 35 active and enthusiastic members. They practice in the downtown YMCA every Tuesday and Friday evening and Sunday afternoon.

Visitors are welcome to come and listen. Their night comes on June 6, when they will present an evening of opera in the Masonic Temple.

Members of this operatic guild are available for afternoon program performances, by contacting Mrs. Cordes.

Head of Trombly School Retiring

The last P.T.A. meeting of the current year will be held Monday, May 17, at Trombly School. Parents will be greeted by teachers in the classrooms at 7:30 P.M. A short business meeting will be devoted to the election of new officers for the ensuing year.

The candidates are as follows: first vice-president and membership chairman, Mrs. Walter Moon; second vice-president and publicity chairman, Mrs. Mae Fuller; third vice-president and program chairman, Harold Marsh; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles W. Gauss; corresponding secretary, George Blair; social chairman, Mrs. Charles D. Eldridge; social co-chairman, Mrs. Edwin N. Peabody; ways and means chairman, Mrs. John Malcolm; ways and means co-chairman, Mrs. Harry C. Kurtz.

Immediately following the meeting there will be a reception honoring Mrs. Ethel J. Cowe, principal of Trombly, who is retiring from the teaching profession after many successful years in the Grosse Pointe School System.

The social committee hopes to have many of the former as well as present P.T.A. members present to greet Mrs. Cowe.

Neighbors' Club To Give Tea

A book review and tea will be given on Wednesday, May 21, at 2 p.m., at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center under the auspices of the Neighbors' Club.

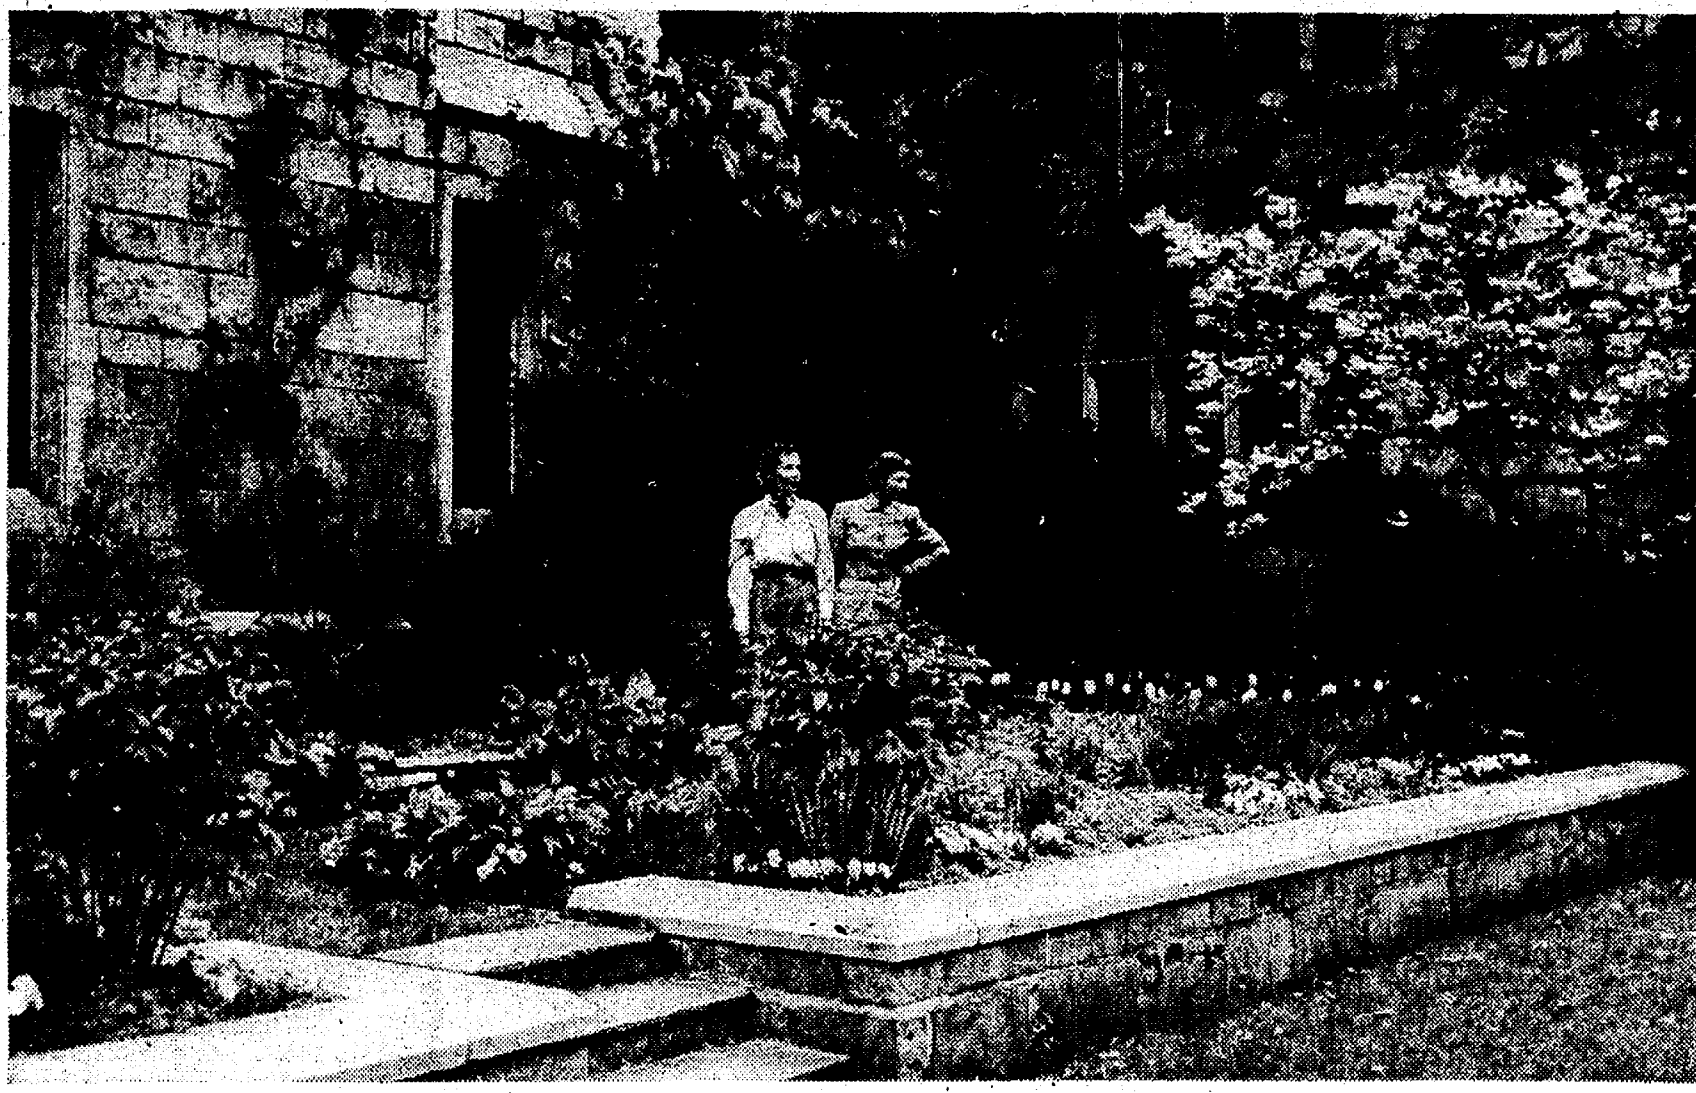

Mrs. Fred K. Hauck will review "My Cousin Rachel" by Daphne du Maurier. This book has been leading the fiction best seller lists for the past month and has just recently been sold to the movies for $100,000. Mrs. Hauck will also give a brief commentary on new books.

Mrs. Fred Hauck has done a great deal of book reviewing throughout the entire Detroit area. She was born in Switzerland but received her schooling in this country and is a graduate of Knox College. Her life long love of books and her discriminating evaluation of them naturally led her into the field of reviewing for many groups of varied interests. The Senior Center Group has been invited to attend this meeting as guests of the members of the Neighbors' Club. Mrs. Paul G. Hykes, program chairman, will introduce the speaker. Tea will be served following the program.

Masonic Lodge Planning Dinner

At the present time the Lodge has 36 petitioners waiting the granting of the dispensation.

Mrs. Paul Droege Returns From European Assignment

Mrs. Paul Droege, of 1922 Hunt Club drive, wife of the late Paul D., has returned from Europe where for the past three months she worked with the United States Displaced Persons Commission headquarters in Wendorf, Germany, a suburb of Hamburg.

Her work with the USDP, a charitable organization set up to aid in the rehabilitation of displaced persons, comprised of interviewing people emigrating from East Europe areas occupied by the Russians. Mrs. Droege described the interviewees with whom she came into contact as being generally "healthy, clean, and humble."

Mrs. Droege remarked that, "Conditions . . . were surprisingly good." She said that most of the war-ravaged areas had been rebuilt; that business was flourishing, and the shops, although beyond the reach of most Germans, were well stocked. She said the food was excellent.

Although the "spirit of the people is almost normal," Mrs. Droege warned that there still existed an element of resentment among some Germans. She explained that it arose primarily from a mistrust of the Marshall Plan and its motivation.

There was no talk of war. She was impressed by the evidence of gaiety and the prevalence of international travel. After completion of the USDP program in April, Mrs. Droege travelled extensively herself. Some of the countries she visited were Austria, Italy, Switzerland, and France. That was before the tourist season actually opened, and even then, she said, the trains were crowded. She said that the food and hotel accommodations were very good.

A new program is expected to be set up to carry on the work of the USDP next fall. The original program had been active for five or six years, until April. The commission first worked with Estonians, Lithuanians, and Latvians. Next fall, under the new title of Immigration Commission, the program expects to see the placement of 39,000 Germans, 39,000 Italians, and 7,000 Greeks in this country. "They will be primarily farming people," Mrs. Droege said.

Mrs. Droege stated that as yet she has not decided whether or not she will return with the commission.

The children have worked hard on their routines and all-in-all it promises to be a bang-up show. So parents, don't disappoint your children, be there for their night of triumph. The public is also cordially invited to attend.

The Neighborhood Club will be the scene of the monthly meeting of the Federation of Settlements and Neighborhood Centers next Tuesday, May 20. Softball Is Here
 Opening day for the Neighborhood Club Major Football League will be Monday, May 19. Game time is 6:30 p. m. and games will be played every Monday and Tuesday evening throughout the season. Several teams of last season's twelve team league are back although a few are playing under new names. This season promises to be another great year of action-packed baseball as all teams entered appear to be very closely matched.

The Bloopers Ball League will open its season on Thursday, May 15 at 8:30 p. m. This league will be greatly improved over last season. The defending champion, Southeastern Recreation, will be back to defend its title against such teams as Del Mar Cafe, Continental Aviation, Amvets, Kercheval Cafe, and Rip's Little Club. This league provides excellent spectator entertainment so come on out and help to get these teams off to a roaring start.

Girls' Sports
 Pat Patterson is back again with the news of the girls in sports at the Neighborhood Club. Thursday was the night the girls have looked forward to for the whole season. It was trophy night with all the winning teams on the receiving list. Miss Masak was there with a congratulatory speech on good-sportsmanship.

P. O. Employee Fired for Theft

Federal postal inspectors arrested a Post Office employe in Grosse Pointe Farms nearly two weeks ago on a complaint registered by one of the service's patrons. He was charged with having taken $5 from the mails.

An employe of the Motor Carrier Division delivering from the Kercheval branch, he was dismissed from the service and sentenced on the day following his apprehension to two years probation by the Federal Court. Officials have requested that his name be withheld.

The motor carrier serving Grosse Pointe will continue to deliver from the Kercheval station until the new branch office at Mack and Warren has been completed.

Soils, Plantings Important

By Vincent DePetris

The many seemingly complex rules and requirements regarding plant culture, soil fertility and gardening are quite simple and logical when properly explained and understood.

Let us refer first very briefly to soils and soil fertility. Contrary to the general erroneous belief, chemical fertilizers alone will not make poor soils productive or suitable for the growth of plants. Chemical fertilizers are of course extremely helpful in promoting healthy growth and vigor but in order to obtain their maximum efficiency there are some very important conditions which must prevail if the best results are to be obtained.

Structure Important

First, the soil must be of proper structure. If it is heavy as is the case in clay soils it must be incorporated with such materials as sand or decayed vegetation called humus or peat.

Secondly, it must be well drained. Soils which become water-logged after heavy rains and later bake into a hard mass will support only a very few types of plants.

Heavy soils of this nature permit no air to pass between the soil particles, consequently plant growth is generally retarded or totally inhibited.

It is of utmost importance to remember never to attempt to cultivate soils when they are wet. This is doubly true in the heavy and poorly drained soils.

Nature's Remedy

Note that a few lines back mention was made of decayed vegetation as being one of the essential ingredients of good soils.

Decayed vegetation has been nature's way of putting back into the soil the precious elements which are being constantly taken up by growing plants. Not only the three main elements of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, but also the very important minor elements and trace minerals.

Must Be Decomposed

Before these elements can become available as plant foods they must be thoroughly decomposed by molds and soil bacteria. In the process of decomposition vegetable matter will extract nitrogen from the soil particles. It should be obvious then that green vegetation has no fertile value until after it has become thoroughly decomposed. This may often require from several months to a year, depending on the type of vegetation.

Soil molds and soil bacteria are important agents in bringing about a rapid breakdown and decomposition of chemical fertilizers in that they contain may become available to growing plants. This process is very similar to the action of the gastric and other juices of the stomach on food taken into the animal or human bodies.

It thus must be apparent that unless the soil contains this essential bacteria the application of fertilizers will be of very little value.

Earth Gave Us Drugs

No doubt you have been awed and amazed by the potency of the recently discovered wonder drugs aureomycin and terramycin. These very helpful antibiotics are obtained from the earth where they perform the indispensable function of breaking down dead vegetation so that living plants may feed and survive.

Decayed vegetation which later becomes humus is a most important element in the soil. Not only does it possess food value for plants but it acts as a sponge by retaining moisture in the soil without water logging.

Compost Pile Important

The so-called compost pile made up of several years' accumulation of leaves and other vegetable matter is one of the best sources of humus. A good grade of spongy peat is another.

Now that spring is bringing forth its many beautiful blossoms a great many people cannot resist the desire to have some of their prime favorites in their garden or lawn.

The immediate reaction is to go to the nearest nursery dealer and order one to be planted post haste. The writer realizes that this is a good American custom of doing everything at once regardless.

Resent Being Disturbed

Unfortunately growing plants do not take kindly to being disturbed when they should be making their growth. The plants have their season for growing and resting.

To be sure digging up and planting plants when they are making rapid growth is not beneficial to the plant. By the time such a plant has recovered sufficiently from the transplanting operation it is mid-summer and it has had little chance to become sufficiently established before old man winter takes his toll.

Why not plant in the Fall? Surely if you have gone along into May, nothing will be gained in planting shrubs and trees now when they are in full leaf and possibly in bloom.

Be Patient

How much better it would be if we would allow shrubs and trees to complete their growth uninterrupted and transplant them in late October and early November then when spring comes again their full beauty may be enjoyed without all the pampering that goes with late-planted shrubs and trees.

Perhaps the best procedure would be to place the order at once while the idea is still fresh in your mind but have it marked "Fall Delivery." You will thus avoid much trouble and disappointment and more than likely save money.

This is not an indictment against spring planting of dormant material but against planting hardwood plants which are in active growth particularly at this season of the year. It has no reference to evergreen plants.

Brownell Vocal Concert May 23

By Sally Fisher
G.P.H. Journalism Student
The Brownell Vocal Concert will be held on May 23 in the Grosse Pointe High School auditorium.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Wintringham, the Brownell chorus will sing the "Nutcracker Suite." Fifteen students, under the direction of Nancy Eriksen, 12A, and Sybil Scottford, 12A, will do a ballet dance to four of the eight numbers.

Peggy Proctor, 8A, will play a flute obligato.
The scene of the concert is to be a doll house, in which the ballet dancers come to life. The chorus will be guests who join in the entertainment.
The ballet dancers will dance to the tune of the Sugar Plum Fairy, and will do Russian, Arabian, and Chinese dances.

Parcells School Concert May 21

By Elaine Burr
On Wednesday evening, May 21, at 8:15 o'clock on the brilliantly-lighted stage of the new Parcells Auditorium, the Grosse Pointe High School Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Dewey Kalember, will present its annual Spring Concert.

After receiving a second State Festival rating at the recent State Festival, which ranks it as one of the excellent "Class A" high school bands in Michigan, it has prepared a concert rich in variety.

Among its numerous selections, the band will play the three numbers it performed at the festival; John Philip Sousa's famed march "Fairest of the Fair," a tone-painting, "Sequoia," and a concert overture, "Transcendence."
The sixty-two bandmen will also offer a collection of Strauss waltzes and a band arrangement of Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine."

Appearing with the band will be a student conductor, Coby Martin, who will conduct the overture "One Beautiful Day." A sax quartet, composed of Carlene Schroeder, Jim Boardman, Ed Vance, and Con Proctor, will be featured. This group was one of several student ensembles to receive a division of excellent in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival.

For the lovers of music "in the lighter vein," the band will play a jazzed-up version of "Song of India" and other popular and semi-classical favorites.

Several novelties will be played, including one entitled "Listen to the Drummers Play," which will highlight the percussion section.

Seniors playing their last concert with the high school band will be Don Corey, Joanne Smithers, and Ray Eddy of the flute section, Coby Martin, clarinetist, Eric C. Schweizer, French horn player, Dale Petrovsky and Milt Monihan of the tuba section, and Jerry Webster, Glenn Thompson, and Conrad Proctor of the saxophone section.

Tickets for this concert are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students and may be purchased from any Brownell or Grosse Pointe High School band or orchestra member.

This will be the first opportunity for Grosse Pointe Woods residents to hear a "home concert" given by the band in their own community, as all the previous concerts have been given in the Pierce auditorium.

Brigitte

died during the war. Her mother died May 21, 1941, when Brigitte was 7 months old. Her father died in June of 1943. He had been a Lungen Doktor, treating tubercular patients at a sanitarium in Tuebingen, near Stuttgart.

Brigitte remembers that in Stuttgart, after the war, "almost all the houses were bombed down. But now they are building up pretty much." She said that the houses are different there. They are five floors high, and there are no back yards. They look like apartments with only one door.

For five years of the war, Brigitte lived in Holzheim, a suburb of Groeppingen, 52 miles from Stuttgart. She said it was funny that she was leaving next Saturday, May 17. She had left Holzheim on the same day in 1949 to return to her home.

Blue Devil Baseball Team Loses Games Nos. 4 and 5

By Kurt Ewend

Grosse Pointe's baseball team went down to its fourth and fifth defeats last Tuesday and Friday as they lost to Highland Park and Wyandotte by scores of 3-0 and 3-1 respectively. In both games the Devils got excellent pitching from Lou Hribar and Bill Palm but both losses can be accounted for by poor hitting.

In the Highland Park game the Pointers got only one hit, while in the Wyandotte game they managed to scrape together two bingles. In both games the local lads seemed to have lost their batting eyes as they let the pitchers throw perfect strikes past them and then swing at the high inside pitches.

It seems as if Grosse Pointe will never see the end of George and Charles Duncan of Highland Park, who starred on Highland Park's State Championship basketball team. It was these two boys who stopped Grosse Pointe cold.

Charles Duncan got the first hit of the ball game when he tripled with two out in the first, but died on third as Lou Hribar struck out the Highland Park first baseman to end the inning.

In the second inning Grosse Pointe got its only hit, rapped a single to center, which spoiled a no-hit game for pitcher Hollis. Incidentally it marked the second year in a row that a Grosse Pointe player has spoiled a no-hit game for a Highland Park pitcher. Last year with two out in the last inning, right fielder Red Anderson singled to center to spoil that no-hit game.

To get back to this game, Hollis has been burning up the league with his pitching. Including this game Hollis has gone 42 innings and allowed only two runs.

Highland Park scored once in the second when center-fielder George Duncan got on first on an error by short stop Jack Smith. He went to second on a sacrifice and then when he saw no one was covering home plate he scampered over the plate to score the first run of the game.

The Polar Bears tallied again in the third when pitcher Hollis singled to left, took second on a sacrifice, and scored a minute later when Charles Duncan singled to center. In the sixth inning Charles Duncan scored after he had got his third straight hit, a single to center.

At no time did Grosse Pointe threaten as Hollis struck out three and walked none. The totals for the game were Highland Park three runs on five hits and two errors. Grosse Pointe had no runs, one hit, and four errors.

The Wyandotte game was close all the way.

In the fifth inning first baseman Bob Sealy of Grosse Pointe tripled to deep right center and scored on an error by catcher Frank Nauyokas, but Wyandotte came right back with a run in the bottom of the fifth. It resulted from a walk given to Nauyokas. He took second on a wild pitch and scored from second when third baseman Dan Tucker singled to center.

The death blow came to Grosse Pointe when in the sixth inning, with one out and a man on second, Ralph Peterson of Wyandotte teed off on one of Palm's pitches for a home run. This made the score 3-1 and that is the way the game ended.

The totals for Wyandotte were three runs, four hits and two errors. Grosse Pointe got one run on two hits and one error.

Initial Defeat Experienced By St. Paul's Track Team

St. Paul's track team tasted defeat for the first time this season last Sunday, May 11, when a powerful St. Mary's of Orchard Lake, a Class C school, walloped the shorthanded Flyers, 72 to 16.

The meet was held at Orchard Lake, which accounted for the large absentee list presented by the Flyers. Only eleven Flyers showed up and not one of them was able to annex a first place. Three of these boys had not run in a meet before.

The St. Mary's lads chalked up 11 firsts which was par for the course, seeing that there were only that many events.

St. Paul's biggest point getter was Wally Hogue who finished second in both the 100 yard dash and the 220. Jack Trombly scored a second in the shot put and a third in the broad jump event to become the second highest point getter for the Flyers.

Other Flyers who captured points were: Phil Van Tien third in the 440; Glen Walter second in the broad jump; and Joe Schirilla second in the high hurdles.

St. Mary's slammed the mile run in which St. Paul had no entries, the half mile, the 180 yard low hurdles and the high jump events.

This marked the first time the Flyers had been beaten by a Class C School and the defeat dropped the Flyers' stock in the fourth coming Regional meet held at U of D stadium on Saturday, May 17.

Jack Trombly said "if it hadn't been Mother's Day all our guys would have showed up and the results would have been a lot different. I don't say we would have won but the final score would have been a lot closer than it was."

MUSEUM HOLDING EXHIBIT

The Detroit Historical Museum announces a current exhibition of eight large murals depicting "100 Years of Gas Service." This is the first showing of an educational series of murals in libraries in the area. The murals were commissioned by the Gas Company as a public service to illustrate one hundred years of community progress and the centennial of the company's participation in that progress.

In Four-Way Tie for League Lead

Picture by Fred Runnells

Having completed the first round of play in the East Side Second Division of the Parochial League, the St. Paul Flyers find themselves still in the thick of the battle for championship honors. The Flyers are currently in a four-way tie for first place with 4 wins and two defeats. Back row, left to right: COACH ED LAUER, SHEEN, WEMHOFF, BRYWA, GILLEWSKI, MCGEE, AYRAULT, BARTON and BEGIN. Middle row: LOMBARDO, O'CONNOR, MCCARTHY, LYNCH, SCHUMMER, TED MONAHAN, DAN MONAHAN and WEBER. Front row: GEIST, WADE, DOWD, GEYMAN, GRAHAM, WRIGHT, KELLER and ALLEMON.

St. Paul Flyers Beat Cavaliers

By Fred Runnells

Under bleak and dreary skies last Friday, May 9, on Grosse Pointe Farms Kerby Field the St. Paul Flyers edged their neighborhood rivals, St. Ambrose, 3 to 2 behind the four-hit pitching of Pete Schummer.

Playing a scoreless game during the first four innings in which the Flyers had collected two hits to St. Ambrose's one, the game broke wide open.

Moxley started the Flyers off when he led off with a single to center, his second hit of the day. While Eddie Lynch was at bat Moxley drove the St. Ambrose pitcher and catcher wild by stealing second and third. He scored when catcher Yuma rifled the ball into left field as he attempted to pick Moxley off third. Lynch then worked the pitcher for a walk but died there when the next three batters were easy outs to end the inning.

Two singles, a walk and a wild pitch produced St. Ambrose's only two runs. Andries led off in the fifth inning with a single. Saigh walked and both runners advanced when Schummer uncorked a wild pitch, putting men on second and third. Schummer then proceeded to pitch himself out of a hole when he got the next two batters, one on a pop-up and the other he struck out. However, Yuma, the boy who permitted the Flyers to score their first run, belted a long single to center, scoring Andries and Saigh to give St. Ambrose a 2 to 1 lead.

St. Paul collected its winning markers in the top half of the sixth inning when Begin opened with a walk and Moxley cracked a single to center for his third hit for a perfect day at the plate. The hit sent Begin all the way to third. Moxley stole second just before catcher Ted Monahan popped out. Schummer sent a screacher right at shortstop Breen's feet and it handcuffed him and the ball went scoting through his legs for an error and permitted both Begin and Moxley to score the tying and winning runs. The victory moved the Flyers into a four-way tie in the East Side Second Division of the Parochial Baseball League. The Flyers have won four and lost two in six starts this season and have six games remaining on their schedule.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

An old favorite sea queen "Flying Cloud," will be returning to the Great Lakes for the 1952 racing season in the very near future. Earl Meiniger, close friend and sailing companion of Freddie Temple, better known as the "Ringmaster," told us that "Temple is planning some big changes in his old "Flying Cloud" and expects to do big things in the Bayview-Mackinac race July 12. If we know Temple, and we think we do because we sailed the 1950 Mackinac race with him on the "Flying Cloud," we are pretty sure he will take in the Chicago-Mackinac race which comes a week after the Bayview event this year. Temple is going to take in the Bermuda race which starts June 21. He will sail on Nick Brown's famous "Bolero" a 73-foot yawl.

The third annual International Tugboat Race is definitely on, according to Captain Becker, president of the International Tugboat Racing Association. It seems that Admiral Raney, head of the Coast Guard in this district, has dropped his objections to the race, after "Cap" Becker threatened to run the May 24th race on the Canadian side of the river. Now everything is all set and this year the chug chug boats will have a definite course to cover instead of using the whole width of the river. The finish line will be off the Veteran Memorial building at the foot of Griswold.

Dave Sloss, the "Dearborn Deacon" waved goodbye to his famous Mackinac sloop "Kathmar" from the dock at Bayview Yacht Club last Sunday, May 11, as W. Jarvis, the new owner from the Annapolis Yacht Club, steered the Class B queen around the head of Belle Isle and down the Detroit River on the first leg of the long journey to Chesapeake Bay. Just for the record, Sloss will sail the 1952 season aboard Wendell Anderson's "Escapade" while waiting for plans to formulate on a bigger boat Dave has been dreaming about. "Escapade" needs a man of Sloss' sailing talent aboard like I need another hole in my head.

Incidentally, the rumors are not true about Wendell Anderson selling "Escapade" after he sails her in the Bermuda race this year. According to "Eskie's" sailing master, Clark Swart, the boat will be back here in time for the Bayview-Mackinac race to defend her title and will also take in the Chicago event. Plans have "Escapade" going back up into Lake Ontario to defend her Rochester Race title. Guess Anderson didn't want to quit while he was still winning. He cleaned up everything on the Great Lakes last year, both Mackinacs, the Mills Race in Lake Erie, the Rochester event and the Grosse Pointe Bluenose Race.

Jack Schaffer and Rex Jacobs christened their new "Such Crust IV" last Wednesday, May 14, before it was lowered into the water by the electric elevator at Bayview Y.C. It marked the first time in the history of the "salties club" on the river that such an event took place. Many many sailboats have been christened on the Bayview elevator but never a high powered Gold Cup "stink boat" before the "Such Crust IV" incident.

Hank Burkhardt, owner-skipper of the double-ender "Meteor" had the distinction of being the first to take a cruise in '52. Hank his wife Millie, Doris and Bob Brydenbach and another couple took off Saturday afternoon, May 10, sailed to Belle River and then to the Flats where they spent the weekend and returned Sunday afternoon, all bundled up in winter gear. Through, clicking teeth Hank said "it was a dandy trip."

Jr. Red Cross Officers Retire

About 100 students from high and intermediate schools attended the annual meeting of the Detroit Junior Red Cross County Council at Chapter House, 153 E. Elizabeth, to elect officers and induct new delegates. Luncheon was served in the Chapter canteen.

The occasion marked the retirement of two outstanding Grosse Pointe high school seniors as council officers. They are Tom Lister, president, and Carol Lovelless, secretary. Lister has represented the Juniors on the board of directors of the Detroit Red Cross Chapter for the last two years. Both were honored at a recent meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rotary club.

The Junior Red Cross Ham Session, organized as a special project last year to entertain patients in veterans' hospitals, wound up its first season at Percy Jones hospital, Battle Creek. The group is made up of 60 boys and girls and includes a variety of talent.

ENDOWMENT POLICY Evidently most Europeans think our foreign policy is an endowment policy.

Kopp Keglers Win Crown

Kopp's Women's Bowling team had individual and league honors heaped upon them last Wednesday night, May 14, during the annual banquet of the St. Paul Ladies' Bowling League dinner held at the Silver Crown Ballroom.

The Kopp Keglers besides receiving the league championship trophy, presented by the Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, also received individual "Oscars" for their championship efforts.

Plans Almost Unset The awarding of the trophies recalled that last night of competition when the Winnie Camacho team came within an ace of upsetting Kopp's celebration plans.

Before the teams began to roll on that last night, April 30, Kopp's had three point lead and needed one point to insure the title. And that is all Kopp's could wrest from the Tough Kirby Vacuum Cleaner quintet.

In the meantime, the Winnie Camacho aggregation and Grosse Pointe Garage, tied for second place, both needed three points and could have captured the title if Kopp's went scoreless.

Winnie's team collected the necessary three points from Socia's Landscaping team which was good for second place. The Grosse Pointe Garage team fell short with only one point given up by a tough Glen Walker Motors team. This gave them third place.

The championship marked the first time a Kopp-sponsored team had won the title and climaxed many years of sponsorship by Kopp's Pharmacy.

Eight Points Separate Devil Trackmen from Clean Sweep

By Fred Runnells

Grosse Pointe track fans will have to admit that the Blue Devil cindermen gave them scores of thrills during the recently closed dual meet season. Last week was enough to give a person heart failure as the Devils battled to finish the season above the 500 mark, only to miss by an eyelash. They dropped a thriller to Fordson on Thursday, May 8, by one and two thirds of a point, 55 1/2 to 53 1/2 for their third loss in six starts.

Just two days before the local fans saw the Pointers nick Royal Oak in the same manner 55 to 54. Both meets were on the Devils home oval.

Schaller Breaks Records In both these meets lanky Bob Schaller thrilled the fans and forced the keeper of the record book to sharpen his pencil. Against Royal Oak Schaller broke the 880 track and school record formerly held by Edison Robbins who posted his mark in 1939. Schaller's time was 2:05 as compared to Robbins 2:05.2.

Two days later Schaller broke his own 880 mark with a blistering 2:03.6 to win the event by a wide margin.

Also in the Fordson meet the three quarter mile relay combination of LaChapelle, Bock, Donahue and Boydman broke the track mark of 2:39.5 set by Anderson, Bray, Bevier and Higgs in 1950. They shaved 5 tenths of a second off the old mark.

Raetzl Blown Across Ray Raetzl's record breaking performance in the 220 dash in the Royal Oak meet is still hanging in the air. The reason is that Raetzl had the benefit of a gale blowing at his back when he made his record run. If school officials decide to write the mark into the books it will replace Bob Cudlip's school mark of 22.7 set in 1946 and the track mark of 22.7 set by Bill Baxter of Fordson in 1948. Raetzl's tentative record stands at 22.2.

Heart-Breaking Defeats Yes sir, when the Grosse Pointe track fans stop and look back over the past season they will notice that their favorite team only missed a perfect season by eight and two thirds points. That is the combined margin the Devils dropped—three meets by.

Monroe held the largest margin of victory over the Devils, winning by 5 points, 57 to 52. Highland Park came next in the list of conquerors with a 2 point, 55 to 53 winning margin and last but not least the Fordson Tract-ors who squeezed, by the Blue Devils by a mere one and two thirds points for its 55 and 1/2 to 53 and 2/3 victory.

Breaks Didn't Come

Coach Howard McAdam didn't have the breaks in his favor in his first season as head of the Pointers' track fortunes. Just a couple points here and there could have made McAdam the coach of the year at the school on Fisher road, where championship teams have become conspicuous by their absence in the past 12 months. It looks very much as if the 1951-52 season is going to be the first time in a good many years that the Devils haven't produced at least one champion.

Lack Extra Something

As Coach Ed Wernet stated "we have been coming close in all sports for the past few years but we just don't seem to have that little extra something that is needed to put us in the championship class. Maybe in a few more years that little added spark may burst into flame and light up the throne room for Blue Devil teams." Coach McAdam is keeping his tongue in his cheek and is hoping for the best when he sends his charges into the Regional meet. It is just possible that the Devils' individuals stars may be able to garner enough points to squeeze out Grosse Pointe's first Regional championship in history.

Law of Averages?

If the law of averages have anything to do with it the Devils should take it. Coach McAdam is long over due and an important win like that would do much to soothe a nervous stomach which, the coach must have after suffering through four squeaker meets in six starts. The only relief McAdam had all season was the Hazel Park meet which the Devils captured easily, 75 1/2 to 33 1/2, and the Wyandotte affair, which went to the Devils, 69 1/2 to 39 1/2.

PILFERINGS

Upon the occasion of his seventieth birthday last week, drama critic George Jean Nathan was interviewed for the New York Times by Harvet Breit.

His most impressive birthday gift came from the Marx brothers.

"It's a radio," he said with understated relish, "a radio," he then repeated with exaggerated awe, "that plays underwater."

Did it play above water?

"That's another trouble," Mr. Nathan said quietly.

"The porter stares at it with such love that I believe he'll soon own it. He wants to hear the baseball games. I haven't been much of a baseball fan. But did you ever eat the Stevens Brothers' frankfurters at the Yankee Stadium clubhouse? They are probably the best thing about baseball. Winston Churchill eats twenty-two of them at a time, without mustard. I can eat twenty of them."

Then Mr. Breit continues: It was difficult to resist—considering Mr. Nathan's calm worldliness—a timely question: what about this Presidential year?

"Oh," said Mr. Nathan politely yet disdainfully, "I take no interest in politics."

"A man who takes an interest in politics plays around with that little quicksilver toy he played with as a child. It is the diversion of trivial men and when they succeed at it they become important in the eyes of more trivial men."

READ A COOK BOOK TO LEARN:

"In olden days French chefs prepared large cakes, most fantastic, which concealed dwarfs under the crust. The dwarfs jumped out and entertained the delighted guests"—The Gold Cook Book by Louis P. De Gouy.

"I remember the final scene of a medieval Maeterlink play. The stage is strewn with those dead or dying. The sweet young heroine whimpers, "I am not happy here." Then the head of the house, or what remains of it, an ancient noble, asks quaveringly, "Will there be a salad for supper?"—The Joy of Cooking, by Irma S. Rombauer.

VIDAR LINDQUIST OF ST. CLAIR AVENUE

For a long time we had been wistful about the old days—when a glass of water from the farmer's wife provided a look-see and almost always produced a chest of drawers scorned by the family. It could be bought for a song, rubbed down and turned out to be Heppelwhite.

Well, those days AREN'T gone forever. We reckoned without Vidar Lindquist who not only has a rare talent for turning up handsome furniture in the hay loft but who can and does restore furniture, silver, crystal and just about everything. (Even fashionable ivory insulators for silver coffee pots).

His craftsmanship shines from every corner of the attractive home he and Mrs. Lindquist own on St. Clair avenue. Every piece of furniture speaks expert care and the couple delights in the fact that most everything they own was discarded as useless or brought her practically nothing at a second-hand sale.

Mr. Lindquist's way with old silver and furniture has settled his future and precious little he can do about it. In his spare hours he has restored some of the treasures in the Pointe's finest homes. There must be a very, very great list of ladies who bless him and know when junior runs over the Sheffield and leaves it unrecognizable, Vidar Lindquist can fix it and restore all its old beauty.

Old World Talent Appreciation of fine silver came to Mr. Lindquist as a lad in his native Oslo. There, he dogged the footsteps of a favorite uncle who owned a jewelry shop. He watched Norwegian artisans work on silver and antique jewelry. Before he was in his teens the works of a watch held no mystery for the youth.

When he was just 13 years old Mr. Lindquist responding to his Viking blood, set out for England and work at sea. He recalls the accents in Norway were so varied in different parts of the country that when he reached Bergen he thought he was in England. He couldn't understand his countrymen.

For seven years he worked as oiler, able bodied seaman, cook and finally left ship at New York determined to see America. He learned his way around automobiles with the motor car he bought from his savings at sea and soon found employment with the Albert Bradleys of Greenwich, Conn.

Arrives in Detroit The Bradleys moved to Detroit and that's how the young man from Oslo arrived in these parts, later to work for Mrs. William F. Connolly and to meet and marry his attractive wife, who moved to the Pointe from Kentucky when she was a little girl.

Any proper Southern girl would much rather have a high boy by some good cabinet maker than a pastel mink stole, so Vidar and Mariella immediately shared many interests. Today as Mr. Lindquist rubs down the painted surface to reach a satin lovely finish he knew the commode possessed all the time, Mrs. Lindquist pores over her library of furniture and silver books. She identifies hall marks with authority.

We admired a footed antique quilt found on one of his antique-ing stints. Tiny and designed of pale pink and white swirled milk glass, it once cast just enough shadow for some belle and her beau.

Another possession (this one cost 10 cents) is a gambler's gun so tiny it can be palmed in the hand but its 22 short bullets are deadly. It must effectively have discouraged any comment about five aces in the pack.

Whenever there's an opportunity the collector also adds to his display of flasks; not those of the prohibition era but long ago ornate silver ones, some especially shaped to be tucked in milady's bodice should need occur for a quick belt during the gavotte.

In the Lindquist kitchen (where he makes famous meat balls and Norwegian liver pudding) the lady of the house's appreciation of antiques is evident.

Her coffee is ground each morning in a walnut and iron grinder and the spices and herbs that go into Lindquist recipes are plucked from the drawers of a quaint wall spice chest.

The Lindquist Shop So you see, Mr. Lindquist's life will really begin when he retires from his regular work.

Then, in a shop here in the Pointe, he'll spend his days keeping the treasures of the beautiful homes of the community, in perfect order.

The week end doubtless will find him not far from Detroit proving that the old days aren't gone forever because... over in the corner of the barn and under endless coats of paint there's a chest of drawers that will turn out to be Chippendale.

POT ROAST PIQUANT

Contributed by Mrs. Milton Clements

- 3 pounds beef chuck
- 2 sweet onions, sliced
- 3 bay leaves, crushed
- 6 peppercorns
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. ground allspice
- 1/4 tsp. ginger
- 3 oz. glass of grape conserve or grape jelly
- 1/2 c. cider vinegar.

Trim the suet from the pot roast and fry out in heavy skillet or Dutch oven. Put the meat in and brown on all sides. Add seasonings and cover the meat with onions and grape conserve. Pour vinegar over all and cover tightly. Cook over slow flame or in 275 degree oven for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Serve with:

POTATO BISCUITS

- 2 c. mashed potatoes
- 2 c. flour
- 1 tsp. salt

Mix well, with hands, until like pastry. Roll to 1/2 inch thickness and cut into squares. Brown lightly in butter on one side and then remove to buttered sheet and bake 45 minutes in slow oven. Split and butter before serving.

With the pot roast and potato biscuits, recipes for which I received from my Pennsylvania Dutch grandmother, the only salad could be wilted lettuce.

Reflections

by paul gach

I'm always sorry for people who tell me about an unhappy incident regarding candid pictures from a wedding. The camera didn't work, the films were stolen, or there was a fire in the darkroom, etc. That's all baloney! Such incompetence is inexcusable. Those pictures can never be remade. How can you avoid such a loss?

First, call a reputable studio. Second, insist on seeing samples of the photographer who will personally shoot the pictures. No hired operator will ever be as sincere in his efforts as the owner of the studio.

I make candid myself. It's hard work, but 16 years experience has taught me not to rely on amateur help to do this very important duty for me. I'm very proud to say "Every customer a reference."
