The cost of tuberculosis in the United States is more than $350,000,000 annually. Early discovery of the disease through chest X-rays can reduce this cost.

Progress Made In Lighting Drive

Mr. R. V. Wright, chairman of the Street Lighting Committee for Renaud Road Subdivision in Grosse Pointe Woods, reported excellent progress in obtaining signed petitions for ornamental street lights. Thus far, 70 signatures have been received out of 95 required to obtain 51% majority, he said.

"It appears that there are some residents in the subdivision who do not understand that the City Council proposes to install wooden poles with overhead wires in the event a sufficient number of petitions in favor of ornamental lights are not obtained," Mr. Wright pointed out. "It is not a case of ornamental lights versus no lights—it is ornamental lights vs. wooden poles and overhead wires."

From the standpoint of property valuation, it is important for Renaud Road to have street lighting comparable to the streets on either side, Oxford Road and Lochmoor Boulevard, he said.

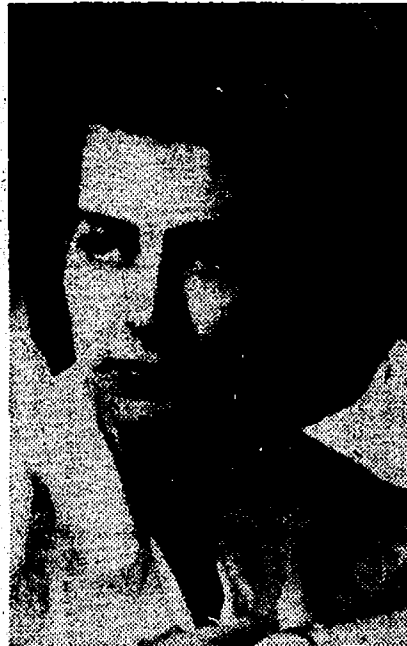

The Street Lighting Committee urged all residents in the subdivision to send a signed petition to the Chairman of the Committee. Copies are available at the chairman's home, 1629 N. Renaud Road.

Welcome to New Teachers

Robert D. Welch received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Rochester, New York, received her B.A. from Northwestern University, where she has also nearly completed her M.A. in music. During the war she served a year and a half in the Women's Marine Corps. This fall she will begin teaching music at the Kerby School.

Marie Stageman, a native of Rochester, New York, received her B.A. from Northwestern University, where she has also nearly completed her M.A. in music. During the war she served a year and a half in the Women's Marine Corps. This fall she will begin teaching music at the Kerby School.

Mrs. Irma Mann, of 2033 Oxford, will teach household arts at the Grosse Pointe High School with the beginning of the fall term this year. She received her degree in household and industrial arts from Stout Institute. She has also attended St. Paul Luther College in St. Paul, Minnesota, and has taught school in Bayport and Medford, Minnesota. Mrs. Mann later attended Northern State Teachers College in South Dakota, and has had extensive experience as a home demonstrator for a number of household appliance manufacturers.

Mrs. Josephine S. Gronley, a graduate of the University of Detroit, will teach the first grade at the Monteith School this year. Married this summer, she spent last year teaching in Melvindale, Michigan.

German-Engineers View Detroit-Area Construction

Last Friday a German Construction Engineering Productivity Team, composed of six men, brought to this country by the U. S. Mutual Security Agency, arrived in Detroit to make a study of the operational methods of construction in this country and the types of materials used.

Mervyn Gaskin, resident of Grosse Pointe Woods and president of Taylor & Gaskin, Inc., steel fabricators and erectors, named chairman of the reception committee by the Detroit Board of Commerce, conducted tours for the Productivity Team which gave them an opportunity to view construction of local housing projects, and the Ford and Lodge expressways.

Mr. Gaskin remarked that they seemed particularly interested in housing projects and electrical appliances, since there are few individual units in large German industrial cities, nor do they have the modern appliances available in this country.

On Sunday the engineers were the guests of the Stark Hickeys during a cruise on their yacht, and later the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gaskin at a dinner.

It Means So Much - To So Many!

In all the history of commerce, it is doubtful whether another manufactured product has ever had such a hold on the affections of its owners as the Cadillac car.

There is a well-to-do gentleman in a southern state, for instance, who will permit no one to minister to his Cadillac except himself—other than for its mechanical needs. He washes it, polishes it, cleans it and drives it... himself.

There is a family in New York which has owned a long series of Cadillacs to which have been given the names of people—because they regard their cars as all but members of the household.

There is a professional man in the mid-west who insists that his whole life changed for the better when he got his Cadillac.

These are but typical of innumerable instances of the deep regard in which Cadillac owners hold their cars. The loyalty and respect a Cadillac engenders are extraordinary indeed.

What can there be about a motor car to make it mean so much to so many? The answer is not far to seek.

Because of its world-wide standing as one of the better things in life, it reflects credit upon its owner and indicates that he is a person of substance and good taste.

Because it performs so well and so dependably, it is conducive to his desire to travel and to see the world—an inspiring companion for his daily movements among his fellows.

Because it is beautiful and luxurious, it is a joy to own and a pleasure to contemplate.

Standing in his driveway, rolling down the streets of his favorite city, or parked at the entrance to a distinguished club or hotel—it is a credit to his judgment and a testimonial to his work.

No wonder he cherishes it, and thinks of it as all but a part of his own personality.

Don't you think that a car which can mean so much to so many could mean a great deal to you?

Better come in today—and talk it over.

part-time professional librarians, made excellent contributions, as did Miss Joyce Woodcock and the clerical staff.

As president of the Michigan Library Association, the director had a busy year, in addition to the planning of the new Woods Branch and of the General Library, Friends' activities, and library administration.

More Used Libraries
Statistically the past year was impressive, with more people making more use of the libraries. Even without the Farms library, closed when the new Kerby School library was opened, there was an increase in circulation of 3,878 over the previous year.

There was an adult circulation increase of 6,349, and a non-fiction gain of 7,000. Three thousand and five hundred books were reserved for patrons during the year, and 321 books borrowed from Wayne County Library.

Another excellent record was set by 957 more registered borrowers, a gain for every library, all more equally adult and juvenile. In addition to the gift of the new Central Library building by Mr. D. M. Ferry, Jr., and the proceeds from the Murray W. Sales home which are to be used towards the furnishings, $13,975 was received by the Friends of the Library in gifts to the Central Library Fund.

Branch Opened

During the winter, the Friends held a series of fortnightly meetings which were interesting and well attended. The opening of the new Woods Branch on January 14 and dedication on March 16 were important events in the Library's history. The new lighting in the Main Library has not only given the place a "new look" but it has corrected a very bad situation. As of this writing, the Central Library is approximately three-fourths completed, with a good possibility of opening January 1.

All library agencies had an excellent year, with gains in circulation and registered users. In her last annual report on the City Branch, Miss Taylor has the following comments:

"This annual report is the swan song of the City Branch. It has had a chequered career and physically speaking we have been handicapped. On the sunny side of the ledger there is the fact that in its various locations it has been accessible to a great many people and those borrowers have given it a friendly, small town, non-institutional atmosphere which we have appreciated.

"They have appeared to enjoy their library and without question we have enjoyed them. We feel sure the added facilities in the new library will more than offset the additional distance it may be from their homes. We hope all our old friends will make good use of the new Central."

In the past year the Public Library budget of $81,665 was provided from the following sources:

Source	Amount
Taxes	$72,466.64
Library Fines	4,500.00
State Aid	3,425.07
Penal Fines	1,273.28
Total	$81,665.00

It is interesting to note that $6,000 was received from library users in fines, record and book rental. Of this money, $4,500 was contributed towards the budget, and $1,500 was spent on books and records.

Unique Revenue

Michigan libraries have a unique source of revenue in penal fine monies. According to the state constitution, all penal fine money is turned over to libraries, over $1,200 being received from this source during the past year.

In closing, Orr said he would like to acknowledge his obligation to the many people who have contributed to the development and service of the Public Library during the past year:

To Mr. D. M. Ferry, Jr., for the most important gift ever made to this community; to the Superintendent of Schools and the Board of Education for their interest in and support of the Public Library, and for their dedication to the best interests of the community; to the Public Library staff for their devoted service during a trying period; to the Friends of the Library for their active support through gifts and service.

Cornelius Brogan Sails On Navy Training Cruise

Midshipman third class Cornelius P. Brogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius R. Brogan of 285 Merriweather road, Grosse Pointe Farms, has embarked in the light cruiser USS Roanoke for a summer training cruise in European waters, the Navy announced.

Midshipman Brogan, a student at the University of Mississippi, is a member of the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps.

The Roanoke is one of a ten-ship squadron headed for Antwerp, Belgium; Lisbon, Portugal, and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The task group will return to Norfolk, Va., September 5, the Navy said.

Training on the cruise will stress navigation, gunnery, communications and tactics.

Hours Same

School hours for the 1952-53 school year will be the same as last year for Parcels, Pierce and the High School Buildings. Parcels and Pierce will open at 8:45 a.m. and close at 3:30 p.m. with staggered lunch hours for the students.

School activities at the High School Building will start at 8:30 a.m. and close at 3:20 p.m. with a rotating system of lunch periods.

There will be a slight change in the school hours of the elementary schools this year. All elementary schools will open and close fifteen minutes earlier than last year. New hours start at 8:45 a.m. and close at 11:30 a.m. for lunch. They will reopen in the afternoon at 12:45 p.m. and close at 3:30 p.m.

There are several reasons for this change in the elementary school hours. One of them is to make the hours of the elementary schools more uniform with those of the secondary schools.

Avoid Fatigue

Another important reason for the earlier starting and closing hours is to avoid the fatigue which takes place in small children in the late afternoon and to allow for more after school time for dental and medical appointments, private dancing and music lessons, and other activities.

Reckless Drivers Pay Up In Court

Judge C. Joseph Belanger heard three cases at the Grosse Pointe Park municipal court session held August 20.

Donald D. Unwin, of 1346 Cadillac avenue, Detroit, received a $10 fine for backing without proper observation onto a thoroughfare.

John R. Mabarak, of 1258 Three Mile drive, was placed on probation for six months, ordered to attend driver's school, and charged $7.20 in fine and court costs, for pulling into moving traffic and causing an accident. The case against Eugene Flood, of 1483 Montclair, Detroit, was dismissed. He had been involved in an accident with a streetcar on Jefferson avenue.

Even in cold weather cotton has a place in the wardrobe, say Michigan State College home economists. Dark cotton dresses or cotton blouses with suits are wise buys for business girls who work in overheated offices.

Neighbors Lend Helping Hands

Neighbors, young and old, have been giving a helping hand to the Alvin Russells, of 1952 Norwood, during the past week and a half. Their 5-year-old son, Johnny, was stricken with polio on August 18, and until last Monday had been receiving physical therapy at the Henry Ford Hospital.

Johnny is home now and it is expected that he will enter the Monteith School next week. But during his convalescence at the hospital, the Russells received gifts of flowers, fruits, vegetables, and dinners from people with whom they had not been previously acquainted, as well as their close friends.

Younger friends of Johnny, and his brother and sister, Tommy and Margaret Rose, got together to trim the hedges and cut the lawn at the Russell home. Said Mrs. Russell, "It is wonderful to know that old-time neighborliness has not been forgotten."

Performance on your automatic washer will depend upon proper loading, sufficient hot water supply and suitable detergents. Check those factors if your automatic washer is not operating efficiently, suggest Michigan State College home management specialists.

Pointe Teachers Attend Education Workshop

Leona Weier and Ernest J. Hurst, teachers at the Grosse Pointe High School and the Parcels Junior High School, were among the more than 50 school teachers from all parts of Michigan to attend the annual Workshop on Economic Education that was held at Michigan State College through August 22.

The three-week session was designed to train teachers in the economic structure of American democracy. After completing the course, the teachers return to their own communities to hold similar workshops on a local level.

The workshop is sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction, the Michigan State College School of Education and Department of Economics, and the Michigan and National Councils on Economic Education.

List 14 Cases Of Polio in Area

Fourteen cases of polio have been reported in the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods area to date, Dr. Thomas S. Davies, health commissioner for the district, recently stated.

The present incidence equals the number of cases that occurred last year through December. Said Dr. Davies, "It is possible that by the end of the year we may have had 20 to 30 cases."

He added, however, that the incidence decreases with the coming of cooler weather. Last year only four cases were reported in October through December.

Five of the cases this year were diagnosed in July; nine in August. The severity of the existing cases, however, is less than normally expected, according to Dr. Davies. Only three of the 14 cases have been accompanied by paralysis.

The breakdown: Park, 3 cases; City, none; Farms, 2 cases; Grosse Pointe Woods, 5 cases; Harper Woods, 4 cases.

Victims of hay fever find very little comfort in the fact that it never kills anybody.

In some cases happiness consists merely of forgetting the past and ignoring the future.

Ballot Proposals To be Discussed

The League of Women Voters will present Senator Creighton Coleman, Mr. Ed Carey, and Mr. Donald Thurber at an open meeting Friday, September 5, at 8 p.m. in Memorial Center, in a discussion of three proposals which will be on the ballot November 4.

Senator Coleman, of Marshall, author of the Coleman Bill on Reapportionment, will explain how his bill differs from that sponsored by Mr. Carey, commonly known as the CIO Plan. The Senator is chairman of the State Election Commission, and is on both the Labor and Appropriation Committees.

The Search and Seizure Proposition, which will also be on the ballot in November, will be described by Mr. Thurber, who is Executive Secretary of the Mayor's Committee for the Rehabilitation of Narcotic Addicts. This bill is an attempt to plug loopholes existing in laws controlling dope traffic.

Representative Ed Carey is the House Minority Leader. He is completing his third term in the Michigan House of Representatives, and is at present nominated for a fourth term from the Wayne County First Legislative District.

All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting and to participate in the general discussion following each talk. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

James D. Kennedy Takes Naval Reserve Training

James D. Kennedy, fireman apprentice, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris F. Kennedy, of 17121 Maumee road, is taking a two-week reserve training course at the Great Lakes Illinois, Naval Training Center.

Kennedy is a member of Organized Surface Division 9-81 in Detroit.

Upon completion of his training he will return to his job at the Thomas E. Currie Company.

The training given reserves closely parallels that given the regular recruit, the Navy pointed out. But certain subjects are stressed and others are eliminated due to the shortness of the course as compared to the 11 weeks afforded the regular Navy recruit.

Meetings Will Familiarize New Students With Schools

For the instruction and guidance of students new to Brownell Junior High School and Grosse Pointe Senior High School, the high school principal, Walter Cleminson, has announced two meetings to be held on Wednesday, September 3.

At 1:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the Grosse Pointe High School, the faculty will receive all 102 pupils and high school students, grades 10-12, new to Grosse Pointe. These students should come prepared to pay the deposit on locks, Mr. Cleminson added.

"The purpose of these meetings is to assign pupils to home rooms and to help pupils new to the community or new to the school to become familiar with the practices and policies of the schools, so that their school beginning will run smoothly for them," Mr. Cleminson said.

The bookstore will be open for all high school students on Wednesday, September 3.

The deans and principal have enrolled many new students this week. They will be available again tomorrow, Friday, August 29.

The next opportunity to enroll new students transferring to Grosse Pointe High School from a school other than a Grosse Pointe public school, will be Thursday afternoon, September 4.

All staff members will attend faculty meetings and new student orientation meetings Tuesday and Wednesday, September 2 and 3. Classes will begin at 8:30 a.m., Thursday, September 4.

The beautiful lace was edged with seed pearls in a Juliet cap and held in place by Mary's veil of imported silk illusion. Her antique ivory wedding gown was fashioned on princess lines with folds of satin forming a bustle at back. The gown had circular cathedral train and the neckline had pointed sleeves were outlined in seed pearls.

Baby cala lilies and ivy marked the bride's prayerbook. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald T. Murphy, of Balfour road and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Harry F. Greer of Fremont, Mich., and the late Mr. Greer.

Mrs. Carl Edward Sisk of Cleveland was her sister's matron of honor in a gown of mist gray nylon tulle over taffeta. The bouffant skirt was waltz length and a wide sash of American Beauty crushed taffeta finished the waistline. She carried a shallow garden basket of American Beauty roses.

Lois Ann Murphy, another sister of the bride; Patricia Ann Lytle, Jeanne Porter of New York City and Mrs. Neil F. Murphy, all former classmates of the bride, attended her as maids.

Bride Wears Heirloom Ring

Diamonds and rubies from her grandmother's wedding ring were re-designed into the wedding band George Frederick Bellows slipped on the finger of Betty Ann Woodson last Friday evening.

The jewels were saved for the bride by her mother (Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Woodson of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Sombra, Ont., and formerly of Detroit) for her wedding day.

In fact Betty proved just how sentimental the modern bride is when she had her bridal veil fashioned especially to be trimmed with pearls and iridescent beads which had been worn on the veils of both her mother and grandmother.

Her gown was of Chantilly lace over ivory satin and the bridal veil fell from a dome cap to fingertip length. She carried white orchids with stephanotis streamers atop a prayer book which also has been carried by her mother and grandmother.

The Rev. Russell D. Hopkins officiated at the double ring ceremony in Christ Methodist Church and a reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mrs. William R. Howard was Betty's honor matron and the maids were Mrs. Jack Cassady, Mary Egans and Mrs. Arthur Williams.

All were gowned in white embroidered organdy waltz length frocks over pink taffeta. The frocks had off-shoulder necklines and at the waists were finished in pleated taffeta sashes of blue pink. Demi caps matched their dresses and they carried white ribbles topped with pink carnations.

Harry G. Bellows was the bride's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bellows of Roland road.

Guests were seated by Walter Gassman, Hans Meyer and J. Ralph Chammess.

Mrs. Woodson chose for her daughter's wedding dusty pink Chantilly lace and chiffon studded in rhinestones. Her hat matched her gown. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of pearl gray lace and crepe with matching cue chapeau.

The young Bellows are on their wedding trip in Northern Michigan, after which they will return to Battle Creek, where for another month the bridegroom will continue to serve as corporal in the U. S. Army at Fort Custer.

The bride's going away costume was a gray and orchid checked jacket combined with solid gray skirt. She wore a small black hat and a corsage of orchids.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white bridal orchid.

Mrs. Leonard A. Duval of Cleveland, O. was her sister's matron of honor while Mrs. Richard Randolph and Shirley Bue-the, cousins of the bride; Joan Leszczynski (with whom Mary Elizabeth roomed at University of Michigan) and Helen Reaume were bridesmaids.

Work Begins on Addition to Community Center

Men, machines and materials move in as construction begins on the five-room addition to the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club at 20883 Mack avenue. The $10,000-$12,000 expansion program, including relocation of playground equipment, was made necessary by tremendous increase in attendance at the Club.

State Health Department Urges Pre-School Check Up

It's time to check up on the health needs of your youngsters who will enter school for the first time this fall, the Michigan Department of Health advises.

The children born in 1947—160,000 strong—will be starting school this fall. It will be the biggest kindergarten in the state's history and parents should see to it that every one of these children is in the best possible health and has had "booster shots" for protection against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough before taking his place in the schoolroom. Close association with many children in school-rooms and on the playgrounds greatly increase the chances of exposure to communicable diseases.

The Department reminds parents that the immunizations their children received as infants may have "worn off" by the time they are ready to enter school and "boosters" are necessary to assure continued protection.

Those who had their shots as infants require only a single booster to raise their level of protection to where there is no danger of their contracting the illnesses. If, through some oversight, the child has not been immunized as an infant, the complete series of protective treatments should be given.

The Department makes the products for the prevention of whooping cough, diphtheria, smallpox and tetanus in its laboratories. These products are distributed to your local health department and the physicians of the state without charge so that no child need be without this vital protection.

Your family physician will give the immunizations. In many communities, preschool immunization and booster clinics are set up through the cooperation of the local medical society and the local health department.

If your youngster who is to enter school this fall has not had a physical examination within the last six months, he should be taken to the family physician and dentist for a thorough check-up now so that whatever treatment is required to bring him up to optimum health can be completed before the opening of school.

The health department recommends, too, that parents show the child the safest route to school and take him over it, pointing out any hazards. Present day protection against the communicable diseases makes accidents the greatest threat to the lives of school-age youngsters.

Domestic Help Earn Insurance

Many people in Wayne County who have been regularly employed in private households have now earned the right to old-age and survivors insurance, Francis L. Pendergast, manager of the East Side social security office advised.

This insurance protection was made possible for regular household workers, regular farm hands, self-employed individuals, and some other groups by the 1950 amendments which extended social security coverage to them. This provision began operating January 1, 1951, and properly reported workers since then may now have sufficient credits to give survivors insurance protection in the event of death.

Those workers nearing or past age 65 may qualify for old-age insurance benefits when they retire, if as much as a year and a half of coverage has been gained, Pendergast said.

Social security payments serve to replace lost earnings due to old age when many people are no longer able to work or get a job. Also, family income may stop when the worker dies, leaving children or other dependents. In many such instances survivors benefits help keep the home together.

The local social security office at 8720 Mack avenue, Detroit 14, will answer your questions and a new booklet, number 24, "Do You Work in a Private Household?" as well as other important pamphlets, can be had upon request at that office.

Community Club Expansion Program Well Under Way

Construction of the five-room addition to the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club has gotten well under way during the past three weeks. Mervyn Gaskin, chairman of the Building Fund, said that by week's end the walls will have been completed, and the roof will have been completed by the end of the following week.

The expansion program is the result of a group of civic-minded people who had become concerned with the increasing inadequacy of the present club facilities to meet the needs of the fast-growing community. During the past two years the increase in attendance of organized groups has brought more than 7,500 persons.

To date, Mr. Gaskin estimated, about $4,000 has been donated to the project. Among the more recent contributions: Mr. and Mrs. John Gulevich, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wolff, Dr. Chester Bogan, Frank Brodell, Peter Brodell, Adolph Rossel, and Clemens L. Martin.

Also: Horn Fuel & Supply Co., American Roofing Co., Schevren & Mok Lumber Co., of Roseville, VanZanen & Son, Frazer, Mich., Detroit Steel Products Co., Grosbeck Lumber Co., J. H. Heberling Co., O. W. Burke Co., and Darin & Armstrong, Inc.

The special election to be held at the Neighborhood Club in the City of Grosse Pointe on September 10 for the purpose of voting on a proposition to borrow $280,000.00 to be used for building harbors, providing dockage for boats, cruisers, lockers for marine gear, and purchasing additional land for the lake front park, turns on many considerations which may not only affect your pocketbook, for the next 25 years much more seriously than you have been led to believe, but may also change the characteristics of the entire neighborhood in question.

Moreover, a look at the plans prepared by Mason L. Brown & Son will prove to you that the main objective behind the whole project is to build a dock primarily for the purpose of harboring, accommodating and servicing boats, and that swimming is to take a secondary and very minor position in the overall plan.

Monarch Was Inventor Of Modern Bathroom.

You can thank an old Babylonian for the modern bathroom you enjoy today.

Five thousand years ago, a wealthy monarch of Babylon, named Urnimar, started a trend. He had the first clay tile bathroom in history built in his palace.

For those times it was a sensation, and only a fellow as rich as the old king could afford it. Today, waterproof clay tile is available to the average man at moderate prices. In fact, it is expected to go into at least half a million American rural and urban bathrooms in 1952 alone.

Moderns have still another bathing advantage over Urnimar. Archeological records show that the ancient Babylonian had no tub, much less a shower, both of which are standard equipment in bathrooms today.

State Traffic Deaths Increase

Michigan traffic accounted for 166 deaths during June, bringing the toll for the first six months of the year to 728. This was an increase of 18, or three per cent, over the 710 in the same period last year and, on the basis of previous trends, indicates the 1952 fatality record may exceed the 1951 total of 1,640 by at least 100.

According to the State Police monthly statistical report, it was the highest June death toll since 1941, when 178 were killed. Compared with the same month of the previous year, it was an increase of 29, or 21 per cent, over 1951. On the other hand, injuries dropped 403, or nine per cent, 4,057 under 4,460. Accidents decreased 2,090, or 15 per cent, 12,313 under 14,403.

The traffic record for the first six months of the year also included 21,657 injuries and 77,255 accidents. Injuries decreased 498, or two per cent, under 22,155, and accidents decreased 8,128, or ten per cent, under 85,383. The gain in fatalities was attributed largely to an increase in multiple death accidents.

State Police accident statistics for the past five years show that, on an average, 41 per cent of each annual fatality toll occurs during the first six months. On that basis it has been estimated 1952 deaths will total about 1,750. The highest traffic death toll ever recorded in Michigan was 2,175 in 1937.

Estimated travel for the first five months of this year was 9.4 billion miles, an increase of one per cent over the 9.3 billion miles last year. However, the death rate of 5.99 per 100 million miles of travel was two per cent below the 6.13 for the same period in 1951.

Bicycle Safety Very Important

Learning to operate a bicycle safely is good proving ground for operating an automobile. With that in mind, Lennah K. Backus, child development specialist at Michigan State College, urges parents to prepare their children for that exciting moment when they have their first two-wheeler.

"Is your youngster thoroughly grounded in traffic rules of his community?" she asks. He must know that a bicycle rider is as responsible for the rules as the driver of any motor vehicle—and in ignorance of the law is no excuse. He will need to learn to obey all traffic signs and signals and ride cautiously at all times to avoid sudden stops or turns.

Mrs. Backus recommends that parents and children both study up on local rules, too. In some communities riding on sidewalks is prohibited and certain light specifications are required for night riding. Too, bicycle licenses must be purchased in many places. In addition to knowing the rules and riding cautiously, his bicycle should be checked at least once a year to keep it in safe riding condition. Check the brakes, the tires, lubricate all moving parts and keep the bell, horn and lights in good working order. Perhaps the parent can encourage children to park their bikes away from driveways and off sidewalks where they might cause minor accidents," Mrs. Backus said.

JULIE HARRIS OF "I AM A CAMERA"

By Jane Schermerhorn

Monday, Sept. 1, is an exciting date for Grosse Pointe. That is when its very own first lady of the theater, Julie Harris, arrives at the Cass for a two weeks' engagement in the starring role of "I Am A Camera."

When the curtain rises on the play next Monday evening, it will be the first time Julie has played in her own home town.

But her meteoric rise to stardom has been a favorite subject here at the Pointe. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Harris of Windmill Pointe drive (who are quitting their Summer home at Huron Mountains to be in town for the opening), Julie started her climb to stardom when she was in her teens.

It was then she attended the Perry-Mansfield Workshop in Steamboat Springs, Colo., studying acting under Charlotte Perry and dancing with Valerie Bettis.

Climb to Stardom
When she was 17 the tiny actress, who this year was acclaimed the stage's "Most Promising Actress" in the New York Drama Critic's Poll, went to New York to the fashionable finishing school, Miss Hewitt's Classes.

Her love of acting took her next to Yale's School of Drama, and she devoted her Summers to volunteer work at Mt. Clemens Hospital (writing letters, reading and walking with crippled children.)

Her first New York role was offered her in 1945, while she was still at Yale. She was given a role in "It's A Gift" and after five days was given her termination notice. However, the play's short run she returned to Yale.

Walk on parts at the Old Vic in the Laurence Olivier productions of "Oedipus" and "Henry IV" occupied her time in 1946 and the following year, Julie played the part of the White Rabbit in the American Repertory Company's "Alice in Wonderland." She was one of the three weird sisters in "Macbeth" produced in 1947. The course of

by paul gach

Speaking of Customer references, I swear the following letter was unsolicited: (After a pleasant greeting) "actually, the purpose of this letter is to thank you for the beautiful set of candidos you made for Carol. I have seen many of these books in my day, but even though this was my own daughter's wedding, I have never seen better taste in choosing backgrounds or in the finished product. So many friends have said the same thing about our book. Two mothers told me they didn't even have pictures finished after seeing their proofs. So just add another feather in your cap, and accept my felicitations on a beautiful piece of work. Cordially, Mrs. R. K."

Some people go so far out of their way just to be nice. Just one of the many reasons I love my profession.

Decorating Hints For Your Bedroom

Good taste and comfort in a bedroom highlighted by a distinctive, colorful bedspread with matching draperies, Cannon's "New Regency."

Your bedroom is your own personal sanctuary. Behind its door, you find a restful haven from the world, and, at times, from members of the family. In decorating your room, it is important that the color and furnishings express your individuality and create an effect of serenity.

For modern or traditional rooms, new ready-made decorator-type fashion bedspreads and matching draperies in glamorous colors create brilliant accents. You can contrast or harmonize them with your wall and floor covering. You can even upholster or slip cover your bedroom chairs with the same fabric, using an extra bedspread. This is often more economical than buying drapery material. Many decorators also use bedspreads for upholstering headboards.

DANCING ON SKATES

Nothing new under the sun? The old fashioned square dance will be put on wheels for the 1952 Michigan State Fair. Harper and Minnie Spencer of Flint have trained several teams of roller skaters to the square dancing routine. The event will be held in the Old Timers' Grove and western garb will be worn by the dancing skaters to add more grace to "swing your partner."

Mildew spots on fabrics must be treated when fresh, before the mold growth has a chance to weaken the cloth, say Michigan State College home economists.

More people are injured in the home than any other place, so check home safety measures. Now.

FIGURES ON FIDO
Recent estimates indicate there are 15,000,000 pet dogs in the United States, approximately one for every three families. To sustain, these friends of man eat more than $225,000,000 worth of special dog food annually and are said to consume also some $200,000,000 worth of leftovers. There are now about 2,000 hospitals and boarding houses for members of the canine population.

FLORA, FAUNA, FLYING BUGS

People whose gardens are giving them trouble will find scant comfort in the news that scientists, each year, manage to discover some 5,000 insects they had not known about before, as well as two or three new varieties of birds and "some 2,000 new plants—some of the latter, more than likely, nothing but weeds to the amateur horticulturist.
