St. Clare de Montefalco Church Nears Completion

The magnificent new Augustinian Church of St. Clare de Montefalco is now nearing completion, and the pastor, the Very Rev. Philip A. Colgan, O. S. A. announces that arrangements have been made to have it open for inspection by the general public on Sunday, November 16, from 2 to 6 p. m. It is located at Mack and Whittier.

Construction of random size fieldstone in gold and buff tones on the exterior, and boasting many unusual features on the interior, it is one of the most beautiful churches in Michigan. A sound-proof Mothers' room where mothers may attend Mass with infants or small children and the Brides' room are two of the many unusual features. The very artistic double altar is situated in the center of the sanctuary. Over the altar is a magnificent canopy, dome-shaped and studded with huge emerald reflectors to catch the rays of the indirect lighting. The organ console is placed behind the altar and the sanctuary is lined with choir stalls for the all-male choir. The entire sanctuary floor is finished with Rosata marble imported from Northern Italy, as are the side walls. The plan of the building is in the form of a Latin Cross, and the architectural style is contemporary. Seating capacity of the main floor of the church is 1100 people.

In addition, the auditorium of the new structure will seat 900, and is equipped with a complete kitchen, projection room, and a large stage, on which is another stationary altar. This altar can be isolated by means of fireproof folding doors during social functions.

Complications Found in 12 Victims This Year as Against Two in 1951

Twenty-seven cases of infantile paralysis had been reported in the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Health District up to November 1, according to Dr. Thomas Davies, health commissioner. Nineteen of the cases were in the Pointe area and eight in Harper Woods. There were six each in Grosse Pointe Woods and the Park, five in the Farms, two in the City and none in the Shores.

Most Over 15 Years Old
Dr. Davies said that there were eight patients in the 15 and under age bracket and 19 above 15 years old. The youngest victim 32 months old and the oldest, 44 years.

Worse This Year
This season's history as compared with last shows that there have been almost twice as many cases (total of 14 in the entire district last year), and last year there were but two cases accompanied by paralysis.

Friends of Library Foresee Year of Greatest Activity; $14,000 in Gifts Received

Looking Forward to Opening of New Main Building in January; Series of Discussion Meetings to Start November 17

(Note by the Director of Public Libraries: This is the first of a series of articles this winter on the activities of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library by Ben Sharp, a Junior at Grosse Pointe High. He was selected for this post on the recommendation of Miss Doris Trotter, head of the Journalism Department.)

The Friends of the Library started their seventh year of service to the community with their meeting of Wednesday, October 29. The organization was founded for the purpose of furthering the services of the library to the community and to familiarize people with the library.

Largely through the efforts of the Friends, the new library at Kercheval and Fisher, for many years a dream, is now becoming realized.

Gifts Given $14,000
The Friends have already raised $14,000 in special gifts for use in connection with the new library, plus the proceeds obtained from the Murray Sales home, which will go towards paying for the furnishings. The new building, which will be the Central Library, is expected to

Mayor Donates Pay to Police
Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers announced last week that Mayor Homer C. Fritsch had contributed his office's annual salary to the Police Department Benefit Fund.

The amount, Louwers said, may be used to help defray some of the expense of the officers' uniforms. There are 33 in the department.

"Prayer for Peace" Theme Of Services at Memorial

The War Memorial Center will hold a ceremony on the Saturday preceding Armistice Day, to which the public is invited. The service will be held in the library. In keeping with the sentiment of the occasion the theme will be "A Prayer for Peace."

Norbert Neff, Chairman of the Memorial's Veterans Committee, has asked George Elworthy, Civilian Defense Coordinator, to act as chairman of the day. Contingents from Alger Post V.F.W., American Legion Post 303, Girl and Boy Scouts, and Campfire Girls will present the colors. Mrs. Gladys Charrier, president of the Women's Auxiliary of American Legion Post 303, will lead the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, followed by an opening prayer delivered by Mrs. Margaret Berfeltz, chaplain of the same organization. Mrs. Ida Lawrence, pianist of V.F.W. No. 995 Auxiliary, will then lead the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

The principal speaker will be Lt. Col. Fred W. Jacks, Jr., Korean veteran commanding the 99th A.A.A. Gun Battalion whose batteries are stationed in the Pointe.

Following brief remarks by the leaders of the participating units, Mrs. Bertha Haslett, chaplain of V.F.W. No. 995 Auxiliary, will give the closing prayer. All residents interested in honoring those who have served are invited to the Memorial to participate in this service.

4,500 Attend Kids Parties On Halloween

Annual Community-Sponsored Events Staged in Public School Buildings

Nearly 4,500 Grosse Pointe youngsters attended the Halloween programs sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Halloween committee last Friday evening.

Each of the elementary schools provided professional acts, movies and costume parades for the entertainment of the children. The junior high and high school programs offered dancing to the music of local orchestras, as well as movies and a number of professional acts.

Food For All
Members of the Mothers Clubs and the Parent-Teacher Associations served food at each of the parties.

Members of the Grosse Pointe American Legion Auxiliary and the Alger Auxiliary, V.F.W., served in the checkrooms at Pierce, Parcels and the High School. More than 185 men helped Dr. Robert O'Neil in supervisory positions.

Attendance Figures
A breakdown of the attendance at the participating schools is as follows: Mair, 350; Richard, 275; Trombly, 350; Defer, 500; Pierce, 900; Parcels, 650; Grosse Pointe High School, 1450.

The Halloween committee is representative of many Pointe organizations: women's clubs, PTA, veterans organizations, local service clubs, and the schools. Many interested individuals also gave their time to the success of the program. Funds to finance the parties were donated by service clubs, civic organizations, the various Pointe municipalities, patriotic groups, business men and private individuals.

Find Stolen Car In Alley in Park

Edward Kelly, 1641 Wayburn, reported to Grosse Pointe Park police that while attending a party at a nearby residence on Friday night, October 31, someone had driven his 1952 Chevrolet from the driveway at his home.

The police recovered the car in an alley near St. Paul and Maryland on the afternoon of the following day. The keys, they said, had been left in the ignition.

Pointe Nears Goal In Charity Drive; 89 Percent Raised

Figures Released At Beginning of Week Indicate Area Should Go Over Top By Time Campaign Terminates

Mrs. Richard Jackson, Grosse Pointe regional chairman of the United Foundation Torch Drive reported that at the beginning of this week some 800 solicitors had collected about 89 per cent of the Grosse Pointe area quota for the Torch Drive. With approximately $246,448 received, it appeared certain that the $288,490 goal could be reached by November 6, the close of the drive.

Mrs. Jackson urged each of the solicitors to turn in additional funds at the regional headquarters, the Neighborhood Club, as soon as possible.

Team 9 Does Well
It was also revealed that of the 12-team Major Industries Unit, Team 9, the "Blazers," captained by William J. Anthanson, of 941 Sunningdale, had raised 104.7 per cent of its quota ($506,130) by last Thursday. For this team's efforts, Mr. Anthanson will be awarded the Walter Avery prize for the greatest contribution of the unit.

Unit Way Over Top
The Major Industry Unit had by October 31, surpassed its quota, $5,529,476, the largest of the drive, by about 8 per cent. Mr. Athanson is General Manager of the Briggs Beauty Ware division. Also serving on his team was Ernest O'Matgomery, of 332 Hillcrest, representing Packard Motor Co.

Mothers Sought For Traffic Job

Woods Director of Public Safety, Verne Bailey, has proposed to the city council that they also attempt to recruit outside help in traffic control at the various school crossings in the municipality.

Grosse Pointe Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers two weeks ago announced that such a campaign had been launched in that city. The program calls for mothers between the ages of 25 and 40 to guard the crossings during the morning, at noon and in the afternoon.

To date, Louwers stated, a few applications have been received. Volunteers are needed at crossings in the Park at Jefferson and Wayburn, Kercheval and Wayburn, Nottingham and Kercheval, and Vernor and Kercheval.

The inception of such programs would release police officers who perform that duty now for more important patrol work.

Drinking Driver Nabbed by Police

A motorist stopped Farms police officers Backman and Field on Mack avenue at Lexington last Friday evening and reported that an unidentified car had just run him off the road.

At that moment, Backman and Field spotted a car behind them, weaving from one curb to the other. They arrested Ray H. Tobias, of Colony, St. Clair Shores, for reckless driving. Tobias, they said, had been under the influence of alcohol. They took him to the Farms police station and released him a few hours later.

Medical Supplies Received By Local OCD Organization

Grosse Pointe area Civil Defense head, George Elworthy, announced last week that approximately $2,000 worth of medical supplies in the form of instruments and drugs had been received from the Federal Government.

Urging a strengthening of the organizational structure, Mr. Elworthy explained that "people have fire extinguishers for their homes, although they do not necessarily expect them to burn down."

He cited the apathy of the populace and the various levels of government toward establishing a fully prepared Civil Defense system. He revealed that Wayne County has not as yet contributed financial aid to the organization. Although Michigan has been described as a "hot spot" in the nation's defense picture, the state government has cut the program's budget.

He added that the medical organization are a number of graduate nurses. However, a great need for nurse's aides has been expressed.

Pointers Turn Deaf Ears to Memorial

1300 Who Signed Pledges Fail To Give Financial Aid

Grosse Pointe's War Memorial Center has been very badly let down this year by the residents of the community, figures released this week indicate. The fund-raising campaign which was launched last June 26 with a quota of $18,000, had produced but $15,715 up to Tuesday.

Other statistics on the drive are even more disappointing than the actual amount raised. Last year, when a door-to-door canvass was conducted by volunteer workers, some 2100 residents signed pledges along with their donations, stating they would be willing to give an equal amount each year.

1300 Fail to Repeat
Up to Wednesday the Center had received but 1095 individual donations. It was also learned that some 350 of these gifts came from new donors, who had not contributed previously, which means that more than 1300 who signed pledges last year have failed to give their support this year.

It also means that there are some 9,000 Pointe families which have made no contribution to the upkeep of this memorial which is operated and offers services and varied programs for the entire community.

Hoped to Swell Roll
When the drive was launched in June, hope was expressed that this year would see many additional residents added to the roll of regular supporters of the Center. There seemed no reason to doubt that those who had signed pledges last year would renege, although the pledge cards stated that they could be cancelled at any time.

The $18,000 is needed to meet a budget deficit. It was hoped that this amount would be oversubscribed, so that the endowment fund could be increased. It now appears certain that just the opposite result will be obtained. It will be necessary to dip into the endowment fund, to sell some stocks or bonds, to meet the budget and carry on the present program.

All Should Share
It has been pointed out many times that the ideal method of operating and maintaining the Center would be through the 100 per cent participation of all the residents. Even a dollar gift from every Pointer would insure ample funds to not only carry on the present program, but to keep increasing the services and facilities and adding to the endowment fund.

The Center has been developed to its present state very largely through most generous gifts of a very small percentage of the population. Attendance figures show that many thousands use it every year. But the list of financial supporters is dwindling.

It is not too late to rectify this shabby record. If everyone who has not donated to the Center this year would send but a single dollar to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association at 32 Lake Shore road, a sad situation could be converted into a very happy one.

Reports Assault Attempt in Park

Park police are investigating a complaint of an attempted assault against a Detroit woman that took place in Grosse Pointe Park early in the morning, on Sunday, November 2.

The woman, who gave her residence as north of Mack avenue on Devonshire road, told the police that while waiting for a bus on the corner of Conners and Vernor, she was approached by a man who asked her help in starting his car, stalled nearby.

After getting the auto started, she accepted a ride to her home. She told police that after being driven past her street, she attempted to leave the car but was locked in. Then she was driven into an alley where the stranger attempted to assault her.

She struggled from the car and ran into a nearby home, where she reported the incident to the police. Police said they have only a meager description of the car.

Travel Expert Opens Bureau

By Chet Sampson
The opening of a new travel bureau in Grosse Pointe by CHET SAMPPSON marks one more step in making Grosse Pointe a self-sufficient community. This new office, providing assistance in making all travel arrangements, opened on Saturday, November 1, on the main floor of Jacobson's in the village.

His fourteen years of association with travel make Mr. Sampson uniquely qualified to operate this new service. He has covered almost the entire world on his travels and has taken more than 2,000 of Grosse Pointe's young men and women with him on his 85 tours to all parts of this continent.

Mr. Sampson came to Grosse Pointe after receiving his degrees from the University of Michigan, to teach in Grosse Pointe High School. Within just a few months his Boy Scout troop was busy earning money to carry on its extensive mapping program which soon took them to all parts of the country.

At the requests of other parents in the community, these tours were then opened up to other boys and then later to girls. Even before the war, four station wagons were being used in this program; seven are required today.

After his four years of service in the Navy, most of it as the officer-in-charge of recreation for

CAR CATCHES FIRE

Approximately $75 damage resulted in the auto fire reported to the Woods fire department on Monday, November 3. Clemens, extinguished the flames before Woods firemen arrived at the scene.

AAA Soldiers Feted at Party

One-half bushel of apples, 120 doughnuts and 8 gallons of cider were consumed Wednesday night, Oct. 29, by 70 soldiers stationed next to the Congregational Church on Chalfonte, in the Church Social Hall.

Every two weeks on Wednesday night is "open house" for the soldiers. The aim of the Congregational Church is to provide simple recreation: cards, ping-pong, shuffle board, reading and writing facilities.

This project was started by the Rev. Mr. Marcus Johnson, himself an Army Chaplain in Australia and New Guinea during World War II. Through the summer and fall various members have provided home-made baked goods and coffee for the boys. For the coming winter months a welcomed support of the "open house" venture is given by the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association.

To Address Club

DR. FRANK L. HUNTLEY

The Neighbors' Club of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday, November 19, at 1 o'clock at the Center.

Mrs. Fred Adams, program chairman, will introduce the speaker, Dr. Frank L. Huntley, Associate Professor of English, at the University of Michigan, who will speak on several phases of our foreign policy in the Far East and will give a background of the war in Korea.

While professor of English at Doshisha University in Kyoto, Japan, from 1929 to 1935, Dr. Huntley published three textbooks of English literature for use in Japan.

Dr. Huntley came to the University of Michigan in 1944 as an instructor in Japanese on the staff of the Army's Civil Affairs Training School, and in 1946 he was appointed secretary of the committee for the Barbour Scholarships for Oriental Women.

Following the program tea will be served by Mrs. Frank Hoder, hostess, and her committee members, Mrs. R. C. Stoner, Mrs. L. E. Kelly, Mrs. E. L. Wayman and Mrs. L. J. Lucia.

A great and immortal speech is one that is short enough for school boys to memorize.

The cases against Zelma I. Nichols, 15025 Alma, and Ralph J. Peters, 2975 Gladwin, were dismissed. Both had been charged with improper passing, causing accidents.

Apparent Theft Proves Prank

Chris Mannino, 262 Ridgmont, reported to Grosse Pointe City police last Saturday that two hub caps and two rear fender skirts had been taken from his 1949 Oldsmobile sometime on the previous day while the car was parked on Jefferson avenue.

The police ended their search when, a short time later, Mannino informed them that he had recovered the hub caps and fender skirts in a field near the location where he had parked his car.

Jacobson's Opening Home Decorative Shop

"All in the Detroit area who love beautiful homes and gracious living will be happy to learn of the opening of the Jacobson Home Decorative Shop in Grosse Pointe, according to a statement made by John Hannan, manager of the Jacobson fashion apparel store at Kercheval and St. Clair. The new store will be 17141 Kercheval, diagonally across the street from the Jacobson apparel store. In addition to featuring a broad assortment of curtains, draperies, linens, towels, bedspreads, domestics, closet accessories, and gifts for the home, the Home Decorative Shop will offer a fine selection of imported and domestic draperies and slip covers tailored in Jacobson's own work room.

Center to Host AAA Soldiers

Soldiers of the 99th A.A.A. Gun Battalion stationed in Grosse Pointe will be guests at an "Open House" in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Lake Shore road Sunday, November 9, from 2 to 5 p.m. This will be a weekly event each Sunday at the same time.

The Memorial Center will also be opened each Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Available recreation will include ping-pong, television, cards, reading matter and dancing. Light refreshments will be served. Hostesses will be young women from the Junior League, teaching staff and church groups.

Sponsoring the canteen for the open house on Sunday will be the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

With 15,000 square feet of space, the functional interior arrangement allows merchandise to be displayed as it would appear in the home. Each classification is provided with its own background and supplemental accessories so that the customer is spared the usual store distractions while attempting to visualize the effect of decorative materials in her home. A closet shop features the newest in space-saving for the storage of men's and women's clothes.

Monogramming is available for many items, including the extensive trousseau selections.

The custom work room will be under the direction of Bernie Rawling of Grosse Pointe. Henry Natelson will merchandise the entire store, assisted by Edward Anderson. As an integral part of the Jacobson organization the Home Decorative Shop will be an annex of the present Jacobson Fashion Apparel store, under the management of John Hannan. The use of charge accounts and all other regular Jacobson services will, of course, be available. The architect, Arthur O. A. Schmidt of Grosse Pointe, assisted by Mrs. Wallace John Erlich, combined crab orchard stone and brick to produce a strikingly beautiful facade that contains six display windows.

The building is entirely air-conditioned and features many devices to insure pleasant and comfortable working conditions for employees and shopping convenience for customers. A spacious private parking area for the convenience of patrons adjoins the rear of the store. Two entrances are provided — one from Kercheval and the other from St. Clair.

Grosse Pointe contractors were: masonry, Richard C. Schultz & Sons; electrical, Maryland Electric Co.; painting, Cecil Cooke & Sons; plastering, Service Art Plastering; plumbing, Joseph P. Kropp, Inc. Others were: Kulka Engineering Co., who installed the air conditioning; Milbrand Roofing, and store fixtures by Max Sabaroff & Co.

KID BITS By NANCY MacDONALD

Halloween weekend furnished a good enough excuse for most of the kids around Grosse Pointe to have lots of parties. Although traditional ghosts and goblins were present at some of the social functions, the weekend was by no means limited to Halloween parties.

Ilene Bryant, celebrated by having a pot-luck dinner Friday night, October 31. Janie Hester, Anita Hatch, Annette Dana, Audrey Gayer, Jeremy Conway, Theresa Gazarato, Sue Fairchild and Sally Rae were just some of the kids seen there at the hag party. Still more were Peggy Guinane, Barb McGrath, Evelyn Button, Barb Lowe, and Marietta Cashen.

The Halloween Party at the high school turned out to be a huge success. Dancing in the gym and entertainment in the auditorium went over big with Jane Condon, Liz Mitchell, Sally Fisher, Nancy Murphy, Wayne Miller, Phil Beach, Jerry Harden, Donna Smith, Marylou Tanner, Ann Langs, Jim Blashill, Janet Rae, Rickey Berard, Dave Terris, Margo Knoch, and Al Forester.

Seen at the refreshment booth were Ena Casey, Robin Barr, Tony Pear, Martha Hubbard, Barb Eyre, Mike Lubbert, Marilyn Maynard, Ken Webb, and Dave Belfore. Still more: Walter Hoover, Jean Clemens, Bill Castle, Bob Bevin, Doris Medel, Betty Sykes, Chuck Lamb, Susie Johnson, Dianne Quinlan, and Carol Vollmer.

Saturday, the first of November, turned out to be Janie Botsford's lucky day. She was surprised by a party given her by Joan Carver in honor of her seventeenth birthday. Sue Clemenson, Nancy Naragon, Karen Temple, Jackie Peters, Donna Goodrow, Sally Tripp, Carol deKorse, Ginny Hallbrook, Gloria Bopp, Ena Casey, Dorothy Vermuellen, Barb Coombe, Tina Barty, Francene Bernest, Marylou Koch, Anne Leete and Sally Fisher were all on hand to present Janie with a pink cashmere sweater and cut her birthday cake with her.

Some of the senior girls got together that same afternoon to make plans for the Senior Informal Assembly, and, of course, gossip a little. Those who met over at Joy Arnold's house for the afternoon were Dot Higbee, Nancy Fricke, Nancy Bruneau, Sherry Davis, Sue Lindberg, Roxanne Webeck, Louise Hutchins, Barb Baro, and Lois Engle.

That same night the Gold Hi-Y had a hayride for its members and their dates. A few of those seen there were Art Wible, Sue Johnson, Jack Adams and Carol Parnell, Bob Richardson and Emmy Galbraith, Al Mendelson and Lee Macey, Don Schmidt and Frannie Crowley, and Nancy Cal Boch and Nancy Vanderbushe.

WALLS HAVE EARS
By Wednesday, October 29, the political campaigns had entered their final week, and hotly contested issues had reached the boiling point. Late that afternoon, a Woods resident reported to the police that a fire had broken out in a voting booth on the corner of Broadstone and Mack avenue.

Harper Woods Has New Masonic Lodge

Shown examining the dispensation recently issued to them by the Grand Lodge of Michigan, F. and A. M. are the three top officers of a new Masonic Lodge to be known as Harper Woods Lodge, the formation chairman, and two Harper Woods city officials. They are left to right: MAYOR EDWIN WENGER; WALTER EICHHORN, Past Master of Pillar Lodge No. 526, Formation Chairman; ALFRED HIRT, Senior Warden; ALLEN MIGLIO, Harper Woods Chief of Police; LESLIE SEIBERT, Junior Warden; and BUDD R. MARTIN, Worshipful Master. The new group, which consists of 34 Masons from Harper Woods, will meet each Wednesday in Jefferson Masonic Temple, Harper and Eleven Mile Road.

Many Protesters on Hand As Woods Adopts Ordinance

The Woods city council adopted a new zoning ordinance last Monday night after months of study and preparation by the city's Plan Commission. It will take effect in 20 days.

Such an ordinance need not be submitted to public referendum, but permitting certain discretion on the part of the planners and municipal authorities, must be based on "reasonableness."

Residents Protest

A group of residents of Grosse Pointe Woods gathered at a public hearing, at the same meeting at which the ordinance was passed, to contest certain ramifications of the council's reasonableness exercised in its passage.

The most bitterly protested section of the ordinance dealt with a Vernier road district zoned for two-family dwellings. Over 10 property owners appeared at the hearing to voice objections to the intrusion of such "housing projects" in the neighborhood and presented a list of some 90 signatures of other objectors.

Appeal Ignored

Some of the group had made an original appeal against two-family dwellings in the area in 1948. Their appeal was ignored. Meanwhile, a number of permits had been issued for the construction of such buildings, and now they could not be rescinded.

It was cited, however, that in one area designated for two-family homes, a block containing over 15 plats, there had been no permits issued. Why would the council not restrict these plats against "undesirable" housing? Considered Illegal

One of the reasons offered: so-called "spot zoning," heterogeneous housing grouped in one area, was considered illegal. With the existence of some two-family dwellings in the area, the vacant plats could not be restricted to one-family houses.

It was also stated that certain plat owners in the area might have purchased property with intent to exercise their right to construct two-family dwellings, under the existing ordinance. Dates of purchase would have to be checked.

Objector Countered

One objector countered that seen in the context of the entire community's housing, the specified area might in itself constitute a "spot zoning."

BACKFIRE

Park police filed charges with juvenile authorities last Friday against a Grosse Pointe Park youth after receiving complaints from Whittier road residents that the boy had been throwing firecrackers at other children on the street. Although the firecrackers landed dangerously close to the youngsters, police said, no injuries were reported.

Runs Stop Sign; Hits Other Car

Peter A. Howorko, of Hamtramck, ran the stop sign at Kerby road and Chalfonte last Sunday, and crashed into the side of another automobile, driven by Elinor J. Wuebolt of 925 Lincoln road, as it crossed the intersection.

Damages to Howorko's car amounted to about $100; to Miss Wuebolt's, $150.

Wild Ride Halted By Bay Window

Thomas J. Turner, 31, of 6324 Dubois, suffered a fractured jaw, laceration of the right eye and minor abrasions early Saturday morning, November 1, when his car hopped the curb on Bishop road near St. Paul, crossed two lawns and slammed into the bay window of the Arthur L. Evans home at 1101 Bishop.

Turner told Grosse Pointe Park police that something had blown in his eye as he approached the slight curve in Bishop road, causing him to lose control of his car. His injuries were treated at Eon Secours Hospital.

Ruwes to Visit Missouri Lodge

Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Ruwes set out next Wednesday for St. Charles, Mo. where they'll be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Orthwein at their hunting lodge.

The Ruwes Thanksgiving plans this year contain more of their favorite sport—duck shooting. They will spend the holiday week at their lodge, The Marshes at Amherstburg, Ont.

Joining them will be their son, Nick, who'll be here from his studies at Brown University and Mrs. Ruwe's sister, Virginia DeVoy of Washington road and her daughter, Leslie, who will be vacationing from Fox Hollow School.

Supper Party Follows Opera

Tuesday night marked the opening of the New York Opera season in Detroit and many Pointers were in the audience.

One such group included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thornbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trapp, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Denton Kelble, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Kinsey and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Van Gallow.

Following the evening's performance the group were supper guests at the Ridgemont road home of Mr. and Mrs. Van Gallow when interest turned to election returns.

Engaged

At a cocktail party for some 100 guests at their home in Bal-four road, Mr. and Mrs. Langdon G. Davis announced the engagement of their daughter Shirley June, to Miles P. Merwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson M. Merwin of Shorham road.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Michigan State and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. Miles was graduated from Ohio State and is affiliated with Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity.

Wedding plans are contingent upon the assignment of Miles after his completion of Marine Officers Training School.

Mrs. Maxwell Honored at Tea

Over a hundred guests wished Mrs. Elizabeth Maxwell a Happy birthday on her eightieth anniversary Wednesday afternoon when her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hannah complimented her at a birthday tea.

The party was given in the Hannah home on Radnor Circle. For the afternoon, Mrs. Maxwell wore a gown of navy taffeta with a birthday orchid perched jauntily at one shoulder.

Mrs. Hannah greeted the guests in a black crepe frock and corsage of pink carnations.

Corsages of carnations were worn by Mrs. Hannah's friends who assisted her during the afternoon. They included Mrs. Clifford Loranger, Mrs. George Mensing, Mrs. Carl Swanson, Mrs. Glenn Wilkerson and Mrs. James C. Bolles.

A three tiered birthday cake with the numerals "80" swirled on its top occupied place of honor on the silver damask covered tea table. Pink carnations and silver candelabra holding silver tapers were also used on the table.

That special twinkle in the Birthday Girl's eyes might well have reflected her special birthday gift: a trip to Florida in the Spring.

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerborn

Politics back in mothballs for another four years . . . Pointe ladies fair turned their thoughts . . . with amazing vigor considering what we've all been through . . . to other interests . . .

It is toys, for instance, which interest Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis Jr. of Lewiston road . . .

Specifically the toys she and her committee will begin collecting next Monday for re-sale at the Neighborhood Thrift Shop . . .

The girls rejuvenate, when necessary, discarded toys, dolls, doll houses and books . . . and sell them for very little at the Thrift Shop to families who otherwise could not possibly afford to provide a Merry Christmas morning for their children . . .

For years and years this drive and sale has gone on . . . one of the nicest projects at the Pointe . . . and a charming way to impress upon your own little darlings that sharing is a happy experience . . .

Collect Toys For Thrift Shop

Volunteers who work at the Thrift Shop . . . will collect any toys you may have . . .

And, of course, if you wish you may take your toys directly to the Thrift Shop, Waterloo and St. Clair if that is convenient . . .

From this Monday through Nov. 17 the collection drive continues . . . and then by Thanksgiving time, the Thrift Shop workers have everything ship shape and the sale begins . . .

Volunteers working with Mrs. Lewis include: Mrs. Berrien Eaton Jr. . . Mrs. Walter B. Ford II . . Mrs. William Finkenstaedt . . Mrs. Henry M. Campbell III . . Elaine Wallace . .

Mrs. H. James Gram Jr. . . Mrs. Mary Reynolds Morris . . Mrs. William Delbridge . . Mrs. John Corliss Holley . . Mrs. Daniel L. Johnson . . Mrs. Sherman Mitchell . . Marian Wilbur and Mrs. Walter Scotten II . .

Women and Horticulture

Mrs. William H. Fries of McKinley place has turned her thoughts to the visit of a gentleman . . . who is a world famed authority on azaleas . . . past curator of the National Arboretum at Washington . . . and who will be guest speaker next Tuesday (Nov. 11) afternoon at War Memorial Center . . .

B. Y. Morrison has been invited to the Pointe by the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club . . . and his audience will be composed of Pointe affiliates of the Garden Club of Michigan . . .

Local garden club members first met Mr. Morrison in Washington last May when they dedicated a teakwood bench to the memory of the late president of the National Farm and Garden Association . . . Mrs. Francis King . . .

Mr. Morrison will speak on "What Women Can Bring To Horticulture" next Tuesday afternoon . . . and there'll be a tea following the talk . . .

Mrs. Fries will introduce the gentleman from Washington . . .

Margaret Clemens Is Bride of Laverne Ellis

Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Unites Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Clemens and Son Of The Bert Ellises; Honeymoon in Florida

At an evening ceremony in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, Margaret Helen Clemens became the bride of Laverne George Ellis last Saturday.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Clemens of Merriweather road, parents of the bride, were hosts at a reception in their home.

A floor length gown of ice blue Alencon lace and tulle was worn by the bride who carried a cascade arrangement of white Fuji mums centered by a white orchid.

Lace fashioned the moulded bodice and long, fitted sleeves of the wedding gown which had skirt frothing in layers of tulle. An ice blue illusion three tiered veil, fingertip length, fell from a Juliet cap of the lace.

Joan Clemens was her sister's maid of honor.

She wore a waltz length gown of stiffened, antique satin toned in shrimp. The frock had halter neckline and brief, fitted jacket.

A chapeau of leaves of the satin complemented the dress and she carried green Fuji mums. Barbara Ellis, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Robert Downey were the bridesmaids. They were dressed like the honor attendant with the exception of their headresses which were garlands of satin leaves. Their flowers were caramel tinted Fuji mums.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis of Troester avenue, was assisted by his brother, Bert W. Ellis Jr. as best man.

Guests were seated by Robert Downey and James Wilsona. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clemens chose floor length turquoise crepe with tucked bodice. Her small hat was in a matching shade of velvet and she wore an orchid.

Mrs. Ellis was in opera length poudre blue lace with close fitting blue hat. She also had a corsage of orchids.

Following the wedding reception, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip in Daytona Beach, Fla.

The bride traveled in a two-toned gray wool suit accented with black accessories. She pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet on her suit.

When the Ellises return from their honeymoon they will make their home in Flanders avenue.

Methodist Fair Set for Nov. 21

On Friday, November 21, it will be possible to step back 60 to 80 years right into a typical general store at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church's Country Fair. The General Store, feature of the fair, will be representative of the middle and late 1800's—from the wooden Indian beckoning customers inside, to an open checkerboard beside a pot-bellied stove.

Planned partially as an educational feature, the store will have on display clothing of that era, lanterns, a spinning wheel, an old coffee grinder, etc. Old fashioned candy will be sold and the store also will have a section of antiques for sale.

Antiques already collected, according to Mrs. Charles E. Shanks, chairman of the General Store, include a complete silver plated wash stand set, a Chinese vase, Canton-ware plates and an open hearth cooking pot. Other booths in the store will offer usable white elephants, jewelry, books and a school clothing exchange counter.

Fair Will Have Market Motif

It will be just like a trip to the Farmers' Market of Los Angeles on Friday, December 5, to visit the social hall of the Congregational Church on Chalfonte.

The Women's Association has planned its annual autumn fair on the "Country Village" theme and the booths around the side will be the Jam Shoppe, the Pickle Barrel, the Sweet and Sour Shoppe, the Holiday Center, the Pastry Counter, the Old World Shoppe, the Modern Delicatessen and the "Oven." The entire fair this year will feature just foods . . . not just a bake sale . . . but thousands and thousands of jars of jams, jellies, sauces, and relishes. Pickles by the barrel . . . pounds of fruit cake and shortbread . . . and a loaf of home made bread for every one who attends.

At the "Oven" visitors may watch the kneading of the bread and enjoy the drama of it baking while they tour the shops where they may secure small portions of all the foods for a snack to eat at the "Country Inn." Through this unique way of serving the tempting samples everyone will be enticed to return to the shoppe to purchase a larger supply to take home.

Because of the tireless efforts of Mrs. Donald C. Clark and her committee, practically every woman of the church has joined one group or another to prepare the scientifically tested recipes found to be the best.

Kuhlman-Sites Nuptials Held in Port Huron

Pointers Travel to Port Huron for Marriage of Elizabeth Grace Sites and Henry Malcolm Kuhlman; Services Followed by Reception at St. Clair Inn

Pointers motored to Port Huron last Saturday to attend the evening wedding of Elizabeth Grace Sites and Henry Malcolm Kuhlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Kuhlman of Lakeland avenue.

And after the ceremony, which took place in the Congregational Church, a golden harvest moon lighted the way to St. Clair Inn for the wedding reception which was given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Currie Sites of Port Huron.

Eighteen attendants were in the wedding party grouped at the altar around the bride and bridegroom.

Elizabeth was gowned in robe of ivory Italian antique satin. The fitted bodice had portrait neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The gown's skirt of unpressed pleats swept into a cathedral length train and full length veil of applied Belgian lace was attached to her tiny Juliet cap.

She carried a small bouquet of white fleur d'amours.

Two honor attendants were dressed in willow velvet floor touching frocks. Necklines were boat-shaped and the girls wore small caps of willow velvet. All the attendants carried arrangements of bridesmaids and croton leaves.

Seater of the bridegroom, Jane Kuhlman was maid of honor and the honor matron was Mrs. John Wilson of Floral Park, N.Y.

The bridesmaids' gowns were in forest green velvet. The maids included: Diane Mellish of Williamsport, Pa.; Mrs. Nicholas Martin III of Birmingham; Jane Dodds; Mrs. Jack Campbell and Mrs. Herbert Campbell of Port Huron; and Mrs. Thomas Wright of St. Clair.

Patsy Nelson of Port Huron, in a persimmon velvet frock, was flower girl.

Robert Kittredge of Kalamazoo was Mr. Kuhlman's best man and the groomsmen were: Robert Byerly of Owosso; Charles Hutchinson of Cleveland, the bride's brothers, Edgar and William Sites; Robert Gustke of Ann Arbor; Harold Jackson of Grosse Ile, Herbert and Jack Campbell of Port Huron.

Mrs. Sites was in wood taffeta, with portrait neckline and long, full skirt. The mother of the bridegroom chose for the evening a deep green taffeta gown. Both wore orchid corsages.

After their Florida wedding trip, the young Kuhlman will live in Lake Shore Village.

When they left on their wedding trip, the new Mrs. Kuhlman had changed to navy wool jersey frock with cashmere coat to match. She wore a red velvet chaperu and silverblu velvet scarf.

Girl Reported as Missing Located in Speeder's Car

An arrest by City police officer John Onstwedder on Sunday Morning, November 2, resulted in the location of a 15-year-old Detroit girl who had been reported missing from her home on the previous day.

Onstwedder had given chase to a speeding car on Jefferson, stopped it near Edgemere road, and ticketed John T. Green, aged 24, of 1784 Holcomb, Detroit, for reckless driving.

Investigation revealed that his passenger, the girl, had been wanted by Detroit police as a missing person. She was turned over to the Women's Division of the Detroit police department.

Green was released under a $100 bond pending further investigation.

In a breach of promise suit the woman expects to transform a soul-mate into a check-mate.

Hot Ashes Fire Leaves, Garage

Hot ashes dumped on a pile of leaves near the garage at the Frank Quail residence, 1114 Balfour, caused a fire that destroyed the back wall and roof of the building last Saturday.

The Park fire department received the call only in time to save the side walls of the garage. Total damages have not been estimated.

Named Blood Drive Chairman

To coordinate the Red Cross blood program in local communities, Mrs. William K. Muir of 211 Ridge road has accepted appointment as blood program chairman for the entire Grosse Pointe area. All bloodmobile visits to the area in future will be cleared through Mrs. Muir. Interested groups are requested to call TU. 5-4034.

Mrs. Muir also is the new secretary of Detroit Chapter, American Red Cross. She was elected by the Board of Directors to succeed Mrs. William J. Turner, of 261 Merrivether, who has retired after seven years to devote her time exclusively to her duties as chairman of the Red Cross Regional Blood Center.

As chairman of the Grosse Pointe area blood program, Mrs. Muir will work in close cooperation with Mrs. Turner in scheduling mobile visits to collect blood for the Armed Forces, the need for which is still great.

Since November, 1950, there have been 7 bloodmobile visits to Pointe communities, and they produced a total of 1,028 pints of blood for military uses. By their voluntary contributions, local residents have contributed directly to saving the lives of many American soldiers wounded in the Korean fighting.

Cast of 1150 In Extravaganza

Fourteen Grosse Pointe residents are taking an active part in Fr. Daniel A. Lord's musical extravaganza "Light Up the Land," which chronicles the growth of American education, and which will be presented in the University of Detroit Memorial Building from November 15 to 25.

Featured in the production are Judy Huetter, 65 Hawthorne road, who has acted in "Snafu," "Pygmalion," "The Taming of the Shrew" and several other plays; Ann Charbonneau, 1044 Kensington, who has appeared in several plays staged by the Grosse Pointe-Simians; Barbara Kennedy, 5752 Three Mile Drive, who has danced in many Dominican high school shows; and Gail Gitre, 405 Hillcrest, who is a concert soloist.

Mary Frances Laige, 1257 Audubon; Allen Verbrugge, 882 St. Clair; Alphonse Susalia, 1070 Roslyn road; Jean Stuet, 6200 Grayton road; Muriel Hallubach, 1360 Whittier; Mary Lou Fisher, 351 Moross; Armany Delisle, 2646 Kenmore; Sheila Gallagher, 1824 Hawthorne; Marie Couvreur, 420 Moross; and Jacqueline Murphy, 773 Balfour road, are also members of the cast, which number 1,150.

"Light Up the Land" will be presented on a four-level stage, and will employ the talents of two orchestras, a vocal chorus and groups of professional dancers.

Says Fr. Ford, who produced and directed the "City of Freedom" dedicate to the 250th anniversary of the City of Detroit, "Although the theme of 'Light Up the Land' may sound solemn, it is a gay musical with everything from the little old red school house to a mammoth sports ballet depicting athletic events from the first days of football to the streamlined games of today."

More than 7,000 seats will be available for each performance. "Light Up the Land" will run for 11 nights, with two matinees scheduled for school children through the ninth grade.

All seats for the evening performances are reserved and tickets are priced at $1.50, $2.50 and $3.50. Matinee price is 50 cents, and teachers accompanying the school children will be admitted free of charge.

Tickets may be obtained at the University of Detroit Memorial building ticket office; Grinnell Brothers, 1515 Woodward, and the University of Detroit Dental School lobby, 630 E. Jefferson.

WITH THE 25TH INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA—Two Grosse Pointe, Mich., soldiers serving in Korea recently spent five days in Japan on rest and recuperation leaves.

Both assigned to the 69th Field Artillery Battalion of the 25th Infantry Division, they are: Cpl. John W. Lang, Jr., of 282 Kercheval, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ware, a section chief, and Cpl. Douglas A. Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Long of 1041 Harvard road, a fire direction center computer.

They visited a Japanese resort city in which the Army has set up an extensive recreational center for combat soldiers.

Long's wife, Sally Ann, lives at 3559 Jackson street, San Francisco.

Attend Parley At Ann Arbor

Principals and teachers from 173 high schools and nine junior colleges of Michigan are making their annual pilgrimage to the 24th Principal-Freshman and Junior College conference at the University of Michigan on November 5 and 6. Representatives of the Grosse Pointe High School and Detroit University School are among those attending.

Talking to their graduates currently registered in University of Michigan classes, they are reviewing the students' progress reports and learning their problems in the university.

Sponsored by the University Registrar's office, which seeks a better correlation between high school and university instruction, the program includes a round table discussion between the high school principals and university deans and academic counselors of the university. They consider questions about high school preparation, orientation and counseling.

Following luncheon and talks by the various deans, the group attended a coffee hour in the residence halls, where they met students informally.

The program was originated in 1927 by university Registrar Ira M. Smith and is now being carried on by other colleges and universities.

Blaze Damages Big Transformer

A possible "short" or "over-heating" of the transformer in the municipal electric substation at the rear of the Grosse Pointe Park municipal building caused a fire last Friday that resulted in approximately $800 damage to the transformer.

Fire Chief Edward Rector said that the transformer was valued at $1500.

One for the Books

You chroniclers of political history can put this one down in the books and call on us if there is any argument.

We were informed on Monday night, (Election Eve), that the State of Pennsylvania limited its absentee ballots to the military... period. Reflecting on the lengths to which the State of Michigan goes to enable everyone to cast a vote, we couldn't believe this was true.

Here, (in Michigan), the college student who must necessarily be away from home, the invalid and temporarily ill who cannot possibly get to the polls, the businessman who finds it imperative that he be out of town on Election Day... all are permitted to cast an absentee vote for the candidate of their choice. It seems to us that all of this is entirely fitting and proper.

We were so completely incensed at the projected thought that such equal privilege should not be extended by the Great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that we immediately put in a telephone call to a relative living in Pittsburgh, seeking vindication for the home state which we deserted 18 years ago.

The first degree of dismay set in when the relative, who has always been a resident of the Keystone State, couldn't give us an instantaneous, reassuring answer. When we sensed the great depths of abysmal ignorance to which we were being subjected, we suggested, rather heatedly, that it would be a nice idea if he called a Pittsburgh newspaper, obtained the correct information and called us back.

The answer came within a fairly reasonable period. It was no less startling than the first assertion, but it had two component parts. In the first place, our relative had called what is considered the leading newspaper in the second largest city in Pennsylvania. Whoever answered the phone in the City Room replied to his interrogation with the astonishing query:—"Gee... that's a good question, isn't it?"

Following this profound ejaculation, the pundit of the press left the phone to seek counsel of more learned brethren and returned to announce that it was indeed true that no one but the military could vote by absentee ballot in Pennsylvania. (End, first component part.)

A little groggy at this point, from the accumulated haze of ignorance in his own homestead and in the headquarters of the purveyors of intelligence and advice, our tardily avid relative hastened to call the Second Greatest Pittsburgh newspaper. Here, (and we rush to note, with no hesitation), the information he had previously received, was confirmed.

We were left with a dull gnawing at our sense of righteousness. And a feeling that the politicians who spent so many millions repeating themselves ad nauseum, had missed a great bet in not going to town on the shortcomings of the Great Commonwealth.

"Vote as You Please... but Please Vote." Don't tell us they used that same slogan down in Penn's Woods.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Listen to the water-mill, Through the livelong day, How the clicking of its wheel Wears the hours away... And a proverb haunts my mind As a spell is cast... The mill cannot grind With the water that is past." (Sarah Doudney)

If the chef of a certain Club wonders why there was so much lobster left over after the luncheon hour of a certain day last week, we can tell him the why and wherefor. We happened to be picking at our lettuce and blackstrap sandwich, when two elegantly dressed matrons entered the dining room and sat themselves at a table near ours. The waitress hovered about them as they eyed the menu and finally both decided on the lobster.

At this point, the waitress leaned a little closer to the table and said confidentially, "You ladies don't want the lobster. That's so messy to eat and you'll get it all over your nice clothes!" The ladies took her advice and ordered chicken pie!

A Chicago friend of ours, who has undoubtedly forgotten about our shortcomings, telephoned us long distance last Thursday to ask what the daily papers had to say about Doak Walker playing in the Sunday Lions game. He wasn't getting all the information he wanted from the Chicago papers and thought we could help him out. What we know about sports and sport pages shouldn't happen to a dog; but wanting to be helpful, we told him to hold the line and we'd read him from the Free Press. While the poor goop held the line, we dashed from the room, grabbed a paper and scurried back to the phone. It took us a goodly three minutes to find the story on the Lions, due to ambiguous headlines that only sports fans understand. Finally we found a column on it and started to read aloud.

When we were half through it, our pal said, "Hey, are you sure that's today's paper?" We looked at the masthead. It was Tuesday's paper NOT Thursday's. Off we went again while he held on, and returned with the right paper. This time our eye lit on what looked like the right dope, but it said "continued from page 1." Our now littered floor held nothing that looked like the front sport page, so we had to admit we were a jerk and could tell him nothing. He politely thanked us for NOTHING and hung up, a lot wiser man and a LONG, long distance cost poorer one.

One of our spies reported the following incident to us after having had it signed by a Notary Public. She SEZ she was in one of our foremost fur establishments seeing about having an old fur coat made over, when in sailed a Mrs. Gotrocks, who was greeted by the "staff" as if she were about to present them with the Hope Diamond. The owner of the house of furs promptly took over, and while he discussed the business at hand with Mrs. Gotrocks, our little heroine gave with the eavesdropping.

She heard them discussing different type furs and watched as the proprietor displayed several varieties of skins to Madame... who was obviously having HER coat made to order. Finally, Mrs. G. decided on the skins she wanted (good mink, too!) and our pal waited breathlessly to find out what type coat Madame would order. Then came the shocker! She heard the Fur Maestro say: "Just to be on the safe side, I think you'd better bring Trixie in for a fitting. After all we want this to be just right and if it doesn't fit properly around the legs, it would be most uncomfortable."

At this point our spy thought, "How sweet. No doubt a present for a daughter... but why does a fur coat have to fit around the LEGS?" The next thing she heard was Madame's voice saying: "But I don't want to bring her in. I could have done that today had I wanted to. This is a Christmas SURPRISE for her." The shop owner shrugged his shoulders with a "that is entirely up to Madame" expression... and the latter departed. Our spy then said to the underlying salesgirl assigned to wait on her: "My, I'll bet her daughter will be surprised and happy to get THAT coat." Whereupon the girl answered: "DAUGHTER?... She hasn't any children... that coat is for her DOG." We checked this and found that Madame was indeed having a coat made for Fido to match her own lush mink job! We can only hope that Fido WAS duly surprised.

Having had sleep trouble, as many of us did during the election activity, we were pleased to come upon an article on HOW to sleep. The idea of telling people who are old enough to read how they should sleep was intriguing in itself so we read, digested and put into practice the instructions that were given.

The first requirement was to RELAX... not just plain everyday relaxing but a bone by bone relaxing that would take some concentration. The article advised that we start by relaxing our ankles! Try this sometime. Next, we bend our knees slightly, just SLIGHTLY mind you, not as if you were executing the Mazurka. Following that, you relax your BACK... and believe us... this is the neatest trick of the week. When ankles, knees and back are in a limp doll condition, you then concentrate on un-laxing your neck. By this time, you are supposed to be asleep, or a reasonable facsimile thereof.

All we can say is that we were awake half the night trying to concentrate on this four point program. Just as we felt we had mastered the ankles and the back... the knees tightened up. In trying to correct this... everything else tightened up and we had to start all over again. Just as the sun crept under our curtains and the refuse collectors crept (?) into our driveway, we turned over and said to aich with it and went to sleep, tight all over.

Which reminds us, OUR advice to all insomniacs is to take a big hooker of whiskey and fall into bed with a copy of "The Evolution of Literature" and promise yourself you will finish it if it takes all night. P.S.—You will be asleep before you get beyond the first page.

Heard on the bus: Two women yabbering away... one saying to the other: "You know what I mean... she's the type you wouldn't think of even calling on the phone until you'd powdered your nose and combed your hair!"

Hear Lecture On Antiques

An interesting lecture on antiques was given at the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, last Wednesday night by Miss Alice Winchester of New York City. A representative audience including many from Grosse Pointe enjoyed an inspection of the museum from 7:30 to 8:30, and the lecture followed with refreshments and a social hour in the attractive foyer. This affair was the first in a series of five lectures on various subjects of interest to art lovers. The next date scheduled is Tuesday, November 25, when the noted Hansleigh Wedgwood will speak on fine china. Anyone interested may get information by calling Logan A. K. Mills, of Lincoln road,

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

At the opening meeting of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library, Wednesday, October 29, Mr. James C. Bushong, Superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Schools, discussed a subject vital to us all, "Libraries and schools."

In this election year it is brought home to us urgently how gravely important is the need for education in a democracy. Mr. Bushong stated that the library and schools are two of the most powerful forces in promoting the right type of life today. Since no one actually finishes his education, a good library system is imperative.

The power of the world, commented the speaker, can be controlled only through education. Good schools and libraries are essential if we in America are to take the lead in the educational program. The most valuable resources we have are our children. By saving them, continued Mr. Bushong, we save our own lives.

The library staff is appreciative of the excellent work the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library are doing to promote the best possible library service in the community. A stimulating program is planned for this winter. Watch this paper for details regarding this. The meeting will be held the third Monday of each month commencing November 17. Everyone interested is invited.

The request made by the library staff for books and magazines for the men at the Anti-aircraft bases in Grosse Pointe has been answered with tremendous enthusiasm. Thanks to the many generous donors, a great amount of reading material has been passed along to these young men and has been most gratefully received.

We are now terminating our library drive, since our goal has been achieved and other community groups are now forwarding this program. The Y teens and Hi-Ys of the Grosse Pointe High School are formulating plans for a similar project. Anyone interested may call the chairman of this drive, Hal Drinkaus, TU. 5-4167.

Last spring in this column, we called the attention of the Grosse

Do you know what apple grades are? U.S. Fancy apples are perfect with high color; U.S. No. 1 grade apples are perfect with 30 percent color or better, report Michigan State College home economists. U.S. No. 2 are perfect apples with no color requirements while U.S. Utility grade has defects that do not speed up decay. Utility grade is often called "orchard run".

They will be pleased however to know the reason which prompted this... her marriage to Dr. Ray Walmoth of Bloomfield Hills, to take place Saturday, November 8 at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

Mrs. Boothe has been with us five years and has made many friends, taking an active part in community affairs. She has devoted much of her time to book discussions and reviews with various groups and organizations. The staff expresses its appreciation of this work well done and its sincere good wishes always.

Tractors' Homecoming Game Wrecked by Hot Blue Devils

By Fred Runnells There used to be a time when Fordson had only to take the field to chalk up a football victory over the "Millionaires from Grosse Pointe." But that was "BW" (before Wernet).

Last Saturday afternoon, November 1, Coach Wernet's Blue Devil football team practically wrecked the Fordson homecoming game when they humiliated the Tractors in the first half and then let up enough in the second half to allow the Tractors to score a couple of "face saving" touchdowns and lose by a respectable 28 to 19 score.

Indian Summer Dance Wernet's little Devils pranced and danced all over the dusty Fordson gridiron on this leftover Indian Summer afternoon. When they weren't running around and gumming up the Tractors' engine they were playing "Basketball on the Grass" with a football.

Quarterback Don Schmidt flipped a great big monkey wrench into the Tractors' machinery when he connected 10 times in 17 passing attempts with three of his aerials going for touchdowns and another setting up a touchdown.

Others Help Out Louie "Tweedle Dum" Hribar and Jim Mueller helped out the Devils' passing average when they tossed three passes between them with Hribar hitting one for one and Mueller two for two to give the Pointers an aerial mark of 13 out of 21 attempts.

In all, 36 passes were tossed by both teams. Fordson tried 15 and connected on 7, two of which were for touchdowns. Five of the 36 passes went for scores.

Start Off Badly The Blue Devils got themselves in a hole on the first play from scrimmage after receiving the opening kickoff. Ron Haldeman fumbled and Fordson recovered on the Pointers' 40 yard line... The 75 Devil fans (actual count at start of game) groaned and became glum as the Tractor stands went wild with the first break of the contest.

The Tractors drove to the Devil's 27 yard line before fullback Dave Carruthers intercepted one of Melvin Hopp's aerials and scampered back to the Fordson 48 before being dented.

Corrects Error Three lines plays netted a first down with Haldeman correcting his first error by busting over right guard to the Tractor 36. The Devils then picked up an expensive six yards when Johnny "Tweedle Dee" Diccico bowled over left guard. He hurt his left ankle and was forced from the game. Bob Moran replaced "Tweedle Dee" and immediately endeared himself with the small band of "LOYAL" Blue Devil fans when he took quarterback Don Schmidt's second aerial on the Tractor 5 yard line and stepped into the end zone unscathed.

Beautiful Sight It was a beautiful sight to see the way Schmidt rifled a perfect peg to Moran who just as prettily took the ball over his left shoulder on a dead run. Bob Brown booted the extra point and the Pointers were off and running to their lopsided victory.

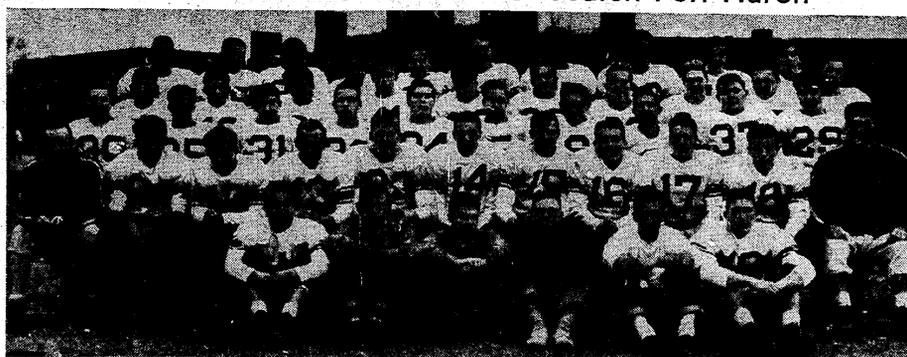

Left tackle Jim Boardman set the Devils up for another chance at the Tractors' goal line but the Pointers failed to capitalize. Jim racked up Gerold Matteson, who took Jerry Goebel's kickoff, with a bruising tackle and forced the Tractor end to fumble. Boardman recovered the fumble on the Fordson 29. Three successive penalties halted the scoring threat this time.

Forced to Kick After the Tractors had marched to the Devils' 36 they kicked into the end zone and the Pointers took over on their own 20. On the third play from scrimmage Schmidt's Luftwaffe attack blitzed the Tractors. He flipped a 22 yard pass into the stretched arms of "Tweedle Dum" Hribar, who turned the aerial into the Devils' second touchdown by outracing the Fordson secondary for 58 yards. Bob Brown again split the uprights to give the Pointers an early 14 to 0 lead.

Tractors Score On Pass Three plays after Jerry Goebel kicked off the Tractors collected their first tally to the contest when quarterback Melvin Hopp hurled a 36 yard strike into the arms of his end, Gerold Matteson who took the ball on the Devil seven and carried three Pointers defenders on his back into the end zone. Matteson then converted to make the score read 14 to 7 in the visitors' favor.

Schmidt Is Versatile Schmidt showed his versatility when he scampered 11 yards on a keeper play and then followed with a perfect aerial to Bob Moran on the Fordson 15. Moran went to the six before being stopped. However, Schmidt abandoned the airways and sent Hribar around his own left end to score the Pointers third touchdown. "Automatic" Brown, who was not so automatic in a couple of ball games, made good on

Blue Devils Who Will Test Unbeaten Port Huron

Despite a record of four wins and three losses this season the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils are rated by many to be the best football team to come out of the school on Fisher road in the last 19 years. They are given a good chance to upset Port Huron's undefeated eleven in the last game of the season on Saturday, November 8, on the local gridiron. First row, left to right: FORESTER, Student manager SCOTVILLE, MCCARTY, EWEND, LORENZ and SEALBY. Second row: Line coach HOWARD MACADAM, HALDEMAN, MORAN CLANCY, GOEBEL, BROWN, VERBECKE, FLOOR, SILVESTRI, FINCH and Head coach ED WERNET. Testa Keglers Bound Back Up

Testa Cement five bowled over Boutin's Service for three points last Wednesday night to regain possession of first place in the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling league.

Baret's Flowers knocked Banks Archt. from the top by blanking them four to nothing. At this point in the season only five points separate the first ten teams in the league.

Individual honors for the evening went to Stan Small who rolled games of 212, 192 and 205 for a neat 609. Crowding him was W. Genca with games of 205, 174, and 221 for an even 600 series.

Other 200 or better scores were made by Gross 222, R. Kehrer 220, Maison 212, Engel 211, Waybrant 211, E. Lundberg 210, Baker 209, Neagle 208, Star 207, Pety 204, Gogolin 204, Sarkison 201, and Karas 200.

Scouts Very Busy There were a couple of fellows recognized by us in the press box as the football coaches from Port Huron high, Grosse Pointe's next opponent. Both these men were very busy making notes and diagrams for the next weeks contest.

Port Huron is one of the four undefeated Class A teams in the State and they are out to preserve this distinction. On the other hand the Blue Devils figure Lady Luck has been against them for a good share of the season and hope she will smile next Saturday, November 8, on the local gridiron.

Most any LOYAL Blue Devil fan will quickly point out the fact that their team has lost a few squeakers this season and that only seven points stand between the Blue Devils and the undefeated distinction enjoyed by Port Huron. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Missed Great Game I have been trying to hold off saying anything about the poor showing of the Blue Devil students who didn't take the trouble to watch their team roll over a strong Fordson team. You not only missed a good game with plenty of scoring and thrills but you missed seeing the BEST Grosse Pointe football team in action since way back in 1933 when the Devils coach Wernet was carrying the pigskin for the Blue and Gold.

There were 75 LOYAL fans in the stands at game time and they will attest the Fordson game was every bit as good as the high-scoring, spine-tingling Royal Oak game, but this time their team wound up on top. Tacklers Outstanding Particularly outstanding in the Devils' cause were the Blue Devil tackles, Reese McFarlane and Jim Boardman. Jerry Goebel played a beautiful game both on offense and defense besides doing the punting. Guards Westrick, Silvestri and Finch wore the Tractors line down to a nub and practically made them holler "Uncle" before the afternoon was over. End Sean Fraser, although he didn't catch a touch-down pass made some beautiful snatches of the pigskin and helped raise Don Schmidt's passing average, as did Jack Smith at the other end. Right end George Cope was a tower of strength on defense.

St. Paul Flyers Draw Blank Against St. Thomas Eleven

Coach Eddie Lauer's St. Paul football team bumped into a tough second place St. Thomas eleven last Sunday, November 2, and suffered a 13 to 0 shutout, which dropped the Flyers to sixth place in the East Side (second division) Parochial League standings.

The victory enabled St. Thomas to remain in a two-way second place tie with St. Catherine, which also holds a record of five wins as against one loss. Both teams lost their mathematical chance to overtake the unbeaten league-leading St. Charles which wrapped up the league crown with a 60 to 6 trouncing of St. Bernard.

Cavaliers Have Chance St. Ambrose remained as the only Pointe team with a chance to finish near the top of the league. The Cavaliers have two games remaining on their schedule and with a victory over St. Florian next Sunday, November 9, at Kenworth Stadium (Conant at Caniff, Hamtramck), could move into a two-way tie for second place with Florian which on the following weekend has a tough game while the Cavaliers have an apparent easy victory in their last game against seventh place St. Rose.

St. Ambrose kicked off to Annunciation and after three plays Annunciation was forced to punt. The kick was partially blocked and the Cavaliers took over on their opponents 35 yard line. Touchdown Nullified On the first play Dick Vivian rambled all the way but the touchdown was called back because of a penalty. Left half back Mary Peeters faded back on the first play looking for a receiver, but when he found none he ran with the ball to score. Again Soper's kick was blocked and St. Ambrose held a 12 to 0 lead with less than five minutes gone in the game.

Soper provided the only score of the second quarter when he gathered in a 30 yard pass from Peeters in the end zone. He saw his third conversion attempt blocked and the Cavaliers led 18 to 0. Soper Runs Again In the third quarter Soper set up the Cavaliers fourth touchdown when he scampered to the Annunciation 40 yard line. Don Heden, a senior fullback, carried the ball on the next four plays going 15, 10 and 8 yards before plunging through for the final 7 yards and the fourth score. Soper's fourth conversion was blocked putting the Cavaliers out in front 24 to 0 early in the quarter.

Soper cracked over his own right tackle for 19 yards late in the third period to score. Norm proved he was one of the top ball carriers in the East Side second division Parochial League when he wiggled away from three would-be tacklers to notch his touch down. Coach Verdonck instructed the Cavaliers to abandon the kick from placement for

Norm Soper Gives Stellar Display as Cavaliers Win

By Fred Runnells One of the greatest individual displays ever seen on the Grosse Pointe High football field was turned in by Norm Soper before a huge St. Ambrose Dads' Day crowd last Sunday, November 2.

Soper, a senior right halfback on Coach George Verdonck's St. Ambrose squad, scored five of the seven touchdowns racked up by St. Ambrose as it swamped an injury riddled, victoryless Annunciation squad, 44-7.

Wasted No Time Soper wasted no time in thrilling the crowd when on the first play of the game he skirted his own left end behind four blockers and rambled 27 yards to score the key block when he rocked the line backer with a bruising cross body block that paved the way to pay dirt. Soper attempted to convert from placement but it was blocked and the Cavaliers were off to what turned into a rout.

St. Ambrose kicked off to Annunciation and after three plays Annunciation was forced to punt. The kick was partially blocked and the Cavaliers took over on their opponents 35 yard line. Touchdown Nullified On the first play Dick Vivian rambled all the way but the touchdown was called back because of a penalty. Left half back Mary Peeters faded back on the first play looking for a receiver, but when he found none he ran with the ball to score. Again Soper's kick was blocked and St. Ambrose held a 12 to 0 lead with less than five minutes gone in the game.

Soper provided the only score of the second quarter when he gathered in a 30 yard pass from Peeters in the end zone. He saw his third conversion attempt blocked and the Cavaliers led 18 to 0. Soper Runs Again In the third quarter Soper set up the Cavaliers fourth touchdown when he scampered to the Annunciation 40 yard line. Don Heden, a senior fullback, carried the ball on the next four plays going 15, 10 and 8 yards before plunging through for the final 7 yards and the fourth score. Soper's fourth conversion was blocked putting the Cavaliers out in front 24 to 0 early in the quarter.

Soper cracked over his own right tackle for 19 yards late in the third period to score. Norm proved he was one of the top ball carriers in the East Side second division Parochial League when he wiggled away from three would-be tacklers to notch his touch down. Coach Verdonck instructed the Cavaliers to abandon the kick from placement for the extra point and this time Soper passed to end Don Frisby for the extra point to give his team a comfortable 31 to 0 lead. Pass Paves Way Marv Peeters set up the sixth St. Ambrose touchdown early in the fourth quarter when he connected with quarterback Fred Saad with a 20 yard pass and then followed with a 15 yard pass to Saad to place the ball on the Annunciation 15 yard line. Soper then worked his favorite reverse play to negotiate the final yardage and the Cavaliers sixth touchdown. Soper then tossed a pass which was gathered in by end Dick Yuma in the end zone and the Cavaliers chalked up their 38th point of the contest.

Only Soper Stays in Coach Verdonck substituted freely and replaced the entire Cavalier team with the exception of Soper. The lineup was made up of freshmen and sophomores when Soper and Saad worked a criss cross play on an Annunciation punt and the pigskin was put in play on the Annunciation 45 yard line. Fullback Tom Motherwell cracked the line twice for 7 yards before Soper flipped a 10 yard pass to quarterback Bill Deets who was stopped on the Annunciation 21 yard line. The last Cavalier score and Soper's fifth of the day followed on the next play when Soper faded back looking for a receiver. When he discovered all his eligible receivers covered he tucked the pigskin under his arm and drove right up the middle for 21 yards and scored standing up.

Soper attempted to hit end Louie Sock with a pass for the extra point but it fell for the ground incomplete and the Cavaliers led 44 to 0. Desperation Pass Scores Annunciation scored its lone touchdown in the last minute of play on a desperation pass. The victory put St. Ambrose in third place in the league standings and set the stage for a second place battle with once beaten St. Florian next Sunday, November 9, at Kenworth Stadium. A Cavalier victory will create a two-way tie for second place with St. Florian.

The huge Dads' Day turnout was a fitting tribute to the Cavaliers new athletic director Father Ruzman, who has reorganized the St. Ambrose athletic system and received the high praise of all concerned.

Christian Science Lecture by Mary C. Holloway, C. S.

Given Under Auspices of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, Detroit, Mich., October 26, 1952

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled Christian Science: The Meeting of the Letter and the Spirit

Mary C. Holloway, C. S. of Shreveport, Louisiana

Member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows: Christian Science, in accepting the challenge to prove its faith by its works, challenges you this evening to focus your attention and open your heart to the spirit and the letter of its teaching to the end that you may be healed by the spiritual understanding it imparts.

We hope that your very presence here indicates that you have come for the lecture expecting—yes, even demanding—answers to some of the questions involved in this challenge.

It will be the purpose of the lecture to give answers which all can understand. Such inspired questioning and answering, bringing healing and enlightenment to everyone here.

The word "science" refers to scientific or systematic knowledge. Such knowledge is provable and includes factors of cause and effect, which, as in logic, establish a right conclusion.

Christian Science is based on a good God as cause, and perfect man, or spiritual image and likeness of God, as effect.

A few years ago a woman whom I know was sent home from a hospital in a dying condition, due to a heart trouble pronounced incurable by several physicians in the hospital where she had received treatment.

During her visit her healing was completed. When she returned home with faith and gratitude to thank her helper, the practitioner gently mentioned discerned a sense of grief in the patient's consciousness and explained something to her of the workings of Christian Science as the Comforter promised by Jesus the Christ.

These words again and again, so simple yet tremendous in their import, setting forth the underlying law of cause and effect in Christian Science healing, a law that may be understood and used by each one of us.

"Jesus beheld in Science"—discerned spiritually through provable knowledge—a man who was perfect because of his likeness to his creator, of whom Jesus said to know Him aright was life eternal.

The effect of Jesus' realization unveiled the spiritual selfhood of man and revealed it to human understanding. This realization corrected the erroneous condition, and the result was healing. The same law and its application is being utilized in Christian Science today, proving man's spiritual perfection as the image and likeness of God, Spirit, in the destruction of sin, disease, and death on the basis of their unlikeness to the demonstrable facts, or knowledge, of God as man as understood in Christian Science.

Mrs. Eddy's inspiration and discovery of this Science came about solely through the inspiration of the Bible; so her teachings are based entirely upon it. Again and again throughout her teachings we find this insistence upon a spiritual understanding of the Scriptures, wherein are found the inspiration and divine logic needed for our work in making the Word flesh, that is, in making it practical as Jesus taught.

On page 241 of Science and Health we find these words: "The Bible teaches transformation of the body by the renewal of Spirit. Take away the spiritual significance of Scripture, and that compulsion can do no more for mortals than moonbeams that melt a river of ice."

So my friend's experience came about through her belief in God and faith in material medicine, neither of which partook of spiritual understanding, hence her disappointed hope. When she turned to the higher idea of being healed by the inspired Word made flesh in the meeting of her need through spiritual understanding of God and man in His image and likeness, she found the answer in the instance of what is called healing—whether it be of sin, disease, lack, or any other form of human discord—each healing takes place through a meeting of the law or letter of Science and the grace, mercy, and love of spiritual understanding. Jesus clearly indicated that he came to fulfill the law, not to destroy the law, in bringing the new dispensation of grace and truth to ensure a full, not a partial, salvation for mankind.

Inspiration and Understanding Mrs. Eddy says on page 319 of Science and Health, "The divine Science taught in the original language of the Bible came through inspiration, and needs inspiration to be understood."

Let me read to you the true and beautiful definition of God given by Mrs. Eddy on page 587 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" as follows: "God, the great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence."

reject the theories concerning the opposite of God. Evil and its material creation are foreign to, and no part of, God and His kingdom. To exchange one's personal desire involving material things for a willingness to be blessed with that which is spiritual and good, thus glorifying the Giver of all good, brings the wine of spiritual inspiration to all consciousness. He not only receives that which he desires but is being fitted to receive those higher bestowals for which he has not asked. A knowledge of God brings with it all the good that man can desire. A knowledge of God is true Science that never fails in working out the human problem. A knowledge of God will introduce you to your true selfhood as His perfect child, wherein all your needs are already met. It will teach you to acknowledge and affirm this fact as stated by Christ Jesus in Mark (11:24), "What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them."

Spiritualization of Prayer On the first page of her textbook, Mrs. Eddy says, "Desire is prayer; and no loss can occur from trusting God with our desires, that they may be moulded and exalted before they take form in words and deeds." How often it has been proved that "no man can see the Lord," by drinking that wine of inspiration whereby one trusts God with his desires! Cases of healing of every description have been accomplished through obedience to that one simple precept, for it destroys the sin of human willfulness. Right desires and spiritual motives are never defeated. But when a man's Science teaches us to bring our human motives and desires into alignment with God's good will for us, and through this spiritualization comes the inspiration and receptivity whereby we are enabled to receive an abundance of good. We must cease to limit ourselves with human outlining. Jesus said (Luke 12:32), "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

The disciple of Christ Jesus once humbly begged him to teach them to pray. The great cry of the human heart is to know how to approach God. Jesus knew how and taught us this yearning. He knew the solemnness of the practical practice of prayer, based as it was on the law of the Commandments, honoring the letter only, without use or acceptance of the spirit of love. With tenderness he gave these few meek men that prayer which is called the Lord's Prayer; its words are few and simple, and Jesus explained the importance of understanding it at its very beginning.

Not until humanity had risen in its degree of spiritual receptiveness to know God as both Father and Mother could Mrs. Eddy have given her exquisitely beautiful interpretation of this prayer in Science and Health—that sublime spiritual summary wherein the Comforter proves God to be the divine Principle which is both Life and Love. Surely here is the meeting of the inspired Word and the letter of divine Love. No wonder this prayer heals the sick instantaneously.

The Christian Scientist can pray with consecration and inspiration. First with intercession, spiritualizing desire and pleading his case for truth against the argument of error; then with affirmation of God's goodness and illness and man's likeness to God as His reflection; finally with exaltation and gratitude to God, who is Life, Truth, and Love, expressing perfect man, who embodies every spiritual attribute. Prayer in Christian Science denies reality or power to evil, to material mentality or matter, thus obeying the First Commandment, namely, to worship one God and one only.

God as Reflected in Science Some of you are questioning our repeated use of the word "reflected," because it is a word with a different meaning to each of us, according to the differing states and stages of our growth and enlightenment. Because Christian Scientists understand that they can know God only to the extent that they prove His presence and power in their lives by reflecting Him, they approach Him through the manifestation of His qualities and attributes, as did the great Way-shower, Christ Jesus, and did Mrs. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

Let me read to you the true and beautiful definition of God given by Mrs. Eddy on page 587 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" as follows: "God, the great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence."

Is any good thing missing that man could wish for in these two definitions? The second definition seems to me a description of man's consciousness when it reflects God as described in the first definition. That state of mind or consciousness described as heaven is your real consciousness and mine. Humanly, we must realize this fact step by step, lest we seem presumptuous in our statements. Christ Jesus said that the kingdom of heaven is within you; not only did he say this, but he helped men to an understanding of themselves by his beautiful parables concerning the kingdom of heaven. "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear," he would say (Matt. 11:15). In other words, "Realize the truth of the spiritual facts which I give you."

truth, let me tell you of a simple instance which illustrates that Christian Science meets you just where it finds you and lends omnipotent power to your smallest effort.

In my early days of study I had been timid about trying to work out a problem for myself because I felt my understanding was so small my work would be of little account. There was a small debt that represented a problem only to myself, since it was a well-secured mortgage loan, and the other member of the family laughed at me for finding it burdensome.

I had been trying to familiarize myself with the various aspects of God given in Mrs. Eddy's beautiful definition. Life, Truth, Love, Spirit, I could easily accept because of former Bible study. My deduction and affirming the qualities of wisdom and understanding and Paul's use of the word "mind" as a derivative, it was not hard for me to see God as divine Mind. But the other two definitions, Soul and Principle, were aspects of Deity I could not easily understand.

On the day I decided to give myself a treatment for debt, I went to the bank to pay my debt alone. I got together my books and a pad and pencil, having a vague notion that working out a problem in Science might be very hard since I knew so little. How to go about it? I was told that, for I had only to remember Jesus' statements, "I can of mine own self do nothing" (John 5:30), and "The Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works" (John 14:10). Truth knows nothing of a big problem or a little one; it needs only the stillness of reflection to express itself. I remember I did look up and write down two notes before I began to work. "Owe no man any thing, but to love another" (Rom. 13:8), and, "Forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors" (Matt. 6:12), and then something of the meaning of the word "debt," as I had just read upon me. Paul and Christ Jesus each had lived to give and bless the whole of mankind with a knowledge of good in accordance with their spiritual understanding of God and His law. The great God that I could see His man as reflecting all the attributes of God. There came pouring into my thought more qualities of Principle and Soul than of the other synonyms of God. You can imagine what a joyous occupation was this kind of debt-paying. Several hours slipped away, and then my telephone bell rang.

It was an inquiry about sale of the property which was mortgaged. Since the property was not for sale, I returned immediately to my work. The telephone had been answered several times with the same refusal to sell the property before I awakened to the fact that the man who had come to my problem and the result of the treatment I had given. It was, and it not only paid the small material debt and left a generous amount over, but within a few hours it had removed me to a wider sphere of usefulness. Subsequent events proved that this unforeseen move was of great value for many reasons at the time unknown to us.

Do not underestimate the power of your individual work to reflect your true selfhood as the image and likeness of God. You are already His reflection; you do not have to work to make yourself so. But while in a state of human consciousness, you must work to work to realize the spiritual reality of your being, and in your approach to God you can go a great way in the strength of even a small demonstration, as the prophet of old went in the strength of a little food "forty days and forty nights" and came "unto Horeb the mount of God" (1 Kings 19:8). Remember again, Jesus said, "The kingdom of God is within you" (Luke 17:21). Use to each one of us to lay hold on this fact just where we are, and prove it by knowing the truth concerning man and claiming our spiritual heritage, that "that which is heard of him hear." Only spiritual understanding is required; our Father that dwelleth in us "he doeth the works." Even the required spiritual understanding to the extent that they prove His good pleasure to give it to us without measure whenever we are ready to receive it.

An Inspired Life Mrs. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, drank so deeply of the inspiration of spiritual love that she became the greatest benefactor of the human race since the schools of the East. She taught those qualities of heart and intellect, even as a child, which prepared her for her great mission. So outstanding were her mental endowments that she was able as a young child to receive instruction in Hebrew and Greek, the original tongues of the Bible, a study which she loved.

Her sensitivity to the needs of humanity caused her to rebel at the stern teachings of the religious schools of the East, a teaching which accepted suffering as an agency in man's salvation and other doctrinal points that were harsh enough to cause the young girl to become ill when she could not accept them. When she turned away and prayed to God as Love, she was healed of a burning sense of fever and was never troubled again about the harsh doctrines of scholastic theology. Close study of the Bible continued to strengthen her hope and faith in the concept of God as Love and to develop her early conviction that the spiritual healings of Bible times were a present possibility, a natural to anyone possessed of enough spiritual understanding of God to grasp the law underlying these so-called marvels.

It was not, however, until she experienced an accident and appeared to be near death that she gained the final clue to the law of spiritual healing. When the real significance of a Scriptural passage dawned on her receptive thought, there came a coincidence of the letter and spirit of the Word in her consciousness which so inspired her that it brooded over her that it was not even this that was the most important part of that event to Mrs. Eddy nor to the world. The great discovery of that hour, waiting for one momentous fact, namely, that what appears as a physical condition needing correction is simply a state of thought, which can be corrected as man is restored to his original status as the image and likeness of God. Healing thus considered becomes revelation, the revelation to man of his own pure and perfect self-spirit, into which nothing has ever entered, or can ever enter, "that defileth... or maketh a lie" (Rev. 21:27). How easy it is to see, therefore, why such healing incidents full salvation from sin as well as freedom from physical suffering. Having founded The Mother Church to reinstate primitive Christian healing in direct obedience to Christ Jesus' command, "raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, and heal the sick, cast out devils, defileth... or maketh a lie" (Matt. 10:8). Mrs. Eddy also founded The Christian Science Publishing Society to publish and send her great discovery throughout the world, and the good news is dispensed through weekly and monthly publications, as well as by the daily issue of The Christian Science Monitor. The alert reader of the Monitor finds unmistakable evidence of the work of Christian Science at work in all the affairs of mankind, and it brings encouragement and refreshment to those in the watch-towers of world progress, pointing to those who have eyes to see.

Jesus the Christ "Follow your Leader, only so far as he follows Christ," says Mrs. Eddy on page 6 of her textbook to The Mother Church for 1902, and elsewhere in her writings she repeats this command. Her teachings enable one to do his best, because Christian Science throws away the great Way-shower of all time, Christ Jesus, enabling humanity to avail itself of the rich blessings of his example and to put into actual practice the law and gospel he enunciated.

Not Adam But Inspiration What, then, is the false creation we read about in the second chapter of Genesis? Perhaps some of you would ask more questions on this subject than any other. We read there concerning a kind of man made of dust with the kind of mind that was liable to know both good and evil—the kind described by James as "double minded"—the kind that certainly bears no resemblance to the Mind that was in Christ. Now a whole system of belief has grown up around this kind of man. You and I are not now accepting as law the beliefs of this Adam-dream of his so-called consequences. All false theological, medical, and scientific laws are based on the belief that the one perfect God, Spirit, created Adam. This belief is a lie because the truth is that God created man in His own likeness and governs man by spiritual laws.

A boy in a Christian Science Sunday School class was asked about Adam. In his own childlike way he said with a grin, "Why, he's the little man who was there!" Would that all our dusty illusions might be so easily dispensed; but the fact remains that we have to prove that the man of the Bible is not a spiritual man of Spirit, the real man, even where Adam seems sometimes to be.

Conclusion Now as we come to the conclusion of our discussion, may we return for a moment to its beginning. We have seen that healing in Christian Science is brought about through the inspiration and love that come from a spiritual understanding of God and of what He creates. We have seen that this creation includes man in his perfect, immaculate, upright, spiritual selfhood, well, happy, free, affording the best of health and the spiritual understanding casts out fear, for it reveals to you the allness of God as Love and His infinite willingness and power to care for us, holding each of us in perfection eternally, Christian Science heal you in the measure of your acceptance of the spiritual understanding it imparts.

Is it strange that those who have caught a glimpse of the glorious privilege of Christian Science should desire to come to learn and apply more of it? All over the globe the daily study of this truth goes on. Whether in the quietness of home, on the battlefield, on the high seas, or in the blessed refuge of public Christian Science Reading Rooms, hundreds of thousands of individuals turn for daily spiritual sustenance, refreshment, and healing to this study. They study, in common with most other Protestants, the King James Version of the Bible. But they have also the joy and profit of spiritually understanding the Scriptures because the Christian Science textbook is not only a study of the Bible's deep meaning. The results of this study are shown in multiple healings, in sinful lives regenerated, homes established in harmony, lack replaced with abundance, pain and bodily decay dispelled, and health and peace restored.

You who have felt tonight the touch of this truth are happier and more peaceful and confident for having learned somewhat of God's allness and man's forever likeness to Him as Christian Science reveals it. May you go forth to greater vistas of understanding, to higher fields of demonstration, in the full assurance of the Bible promise, "Behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it" (Rev. 3:8).

From the moment the accident occurred, his consciousness was flooded with God-sent ideas about the perfection of God and the man of His creating. Clear conviction came to him that since he was that man of God's creating, he could no more fall than could God, for reflection is always true to its original. His work, therefore, was to disprove this lie of the fallen man or Adam and replace it with the reality of man, the unfallen pure consciousness which is the embodiment of every quality of good.

He had been previously engaged, in working with the verse in Hebrews (4:12), "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart." It had helped him separate from his consciousness many unlovely traits and habits such as irritation, bad temper, impatience, resentment, replacing them with their opposite spiritual qualities and so gaining in harmony and self-control. Now this verse came readily to mind, and he thanked God that here was an opportunity to prove that the Word of God operates effectively in a case of surgery. The first thing he noticed was that it does not take time for the Word of God to operate, but that it is in ceaseless operation, throughout eternity giving all good to those beloved sons of God who trust in His love. He knew this operation is as quick as well as timeless—as two times two is four is effortless—and forever present. He knew that this spiritually mental operation can never interfere with any other kind of what is called matter, and that it is by laws supposed to govern such substance. He rejoiced and gave thanks that real substance is comprised of just such qualities as he had been striving to banish, and express loving-kindness, honesty, patience, and so forth.

In a short while, all pain had ceased. By two in the morning such peace was his that he fell asleep. Awakening in the daylight, before he remembered what had occurred, he was standing, and a short time later met the company physician on his way to the office. At his request, they stepped into the doctor's office and an X ray was taken. It gave evidence of a full fracture which had been most beautifully healed, and to this day the good doctor delights to give Christian Science credit for a remarkable piece of mental surgery. In this way, the Word of God, Christ come to the flesh to destroy error. It reveals the real man, your perfect spiritual selfhood and mine, and destroys the incarnate error of materiality.

Not Adam But Inspiration What, then, is the false creation we read about in the second chapter of Genesis? Perhaps some of you would ask more questions on this subject than any other. St. Paul Sodality Conducts Party

On Thursday, October 30, the sodality of St. Paul School held its first social event of the season, a "Saints Alive" party, to celebrate the true meaning of Halloween.

The Paulite sodalists appeared in costumes representing their favorite saints. Among the saints depicted were: St. Peter, St. Isabel, St. Agnes, St. Joan of Arc, Don Bosco, Maria Goretti, the children of Fatima, St. Lucy, St. Sebastian, St. Bernard, the heavenly choir, and a score of priestly saints.

Mixers, ballroom dancing and other entertainment were enjoyed throughout the evening.

Last week the Catholic Action committee of the Sodality made favors for the trays of the patients at St. John Hospital for Halloween. Books are being collected from the students to send to children's homes and hospitals to brighten the lives of the inmates.

St. Paul Church Club Plans Tea

A book Review Tea sponsored by the Mother's Club of St. Paul Lutheran Church, will be given November 13 at 1 o'clock.

The congregation and friends are invited to attend. Mrs. Fred Hauck, well known reviewer and critic, will present "Forty Odd", the new book by Mary Bard.

The author, sister to Betty MacDonald of "The Egg and I" fame, has already established herself as a humorist with her earlier book, "The Doctor Wears Three Faces."

Indians Increase Pin League Lead

The Indians pulled farther into the lead in the Painters' Bowling League by taking all 4 points from the Yankees. This sweep puts them six full points ahead of the second place Senators, who lost all four points to the White Sox.

Bill Hickey took over the high single game for the season when he rolled a 251, which went a long way in making up his 605 series. However, Bob Pfeffer, who rolled a 245, put together a 624 series which enabled him to take over the season's high three spot.

News Notes From D.U.S.

John Chandler, Jr., headmaster of the Detroit University School, has received word from Brown University that two graduates of the D.U.S. class of 1951, Fred Fordon, 1032 Seminole, Detroit, and Dick Sutherland, 90 Colonial Road, Grosse Pointe, have recently been initiated into Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Fordon participated in freshman swimming, and Sutherland played freshman tennis and was on the Class Council.

David Green, who attended D.U.S., is building up an exceptional academic record at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. Green has won a place on the first honor roll. He was part of the cast of "The Merchant of Venice". Also he won the Donald Carr Award for skill in oral English for his reading of T. S. Eliot's "The Hollow Men". In addition he has won prizes for excellence both in English and Latin composition.

Green's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Green, now live in Dearborn. Their home formerly was in Indian Village.

D.U.S. boys who attended the opening session of the American Junior Red Cross of Detroit were Thomas Hartzell, Dan Goodenough, and Lloyd Semple. This was a planning session, and representatives from most of the schools of the metropolitan area were present.

On Wednesday, October 29, Wellington Grimes, assistant headmaster of the Detroit University School, took a group of students from D.U.S. and Grosse Pointe Country Day School to the Michigan High School Conference on Citizenship at Ann Arbor.

Students attending from the two schools were Peter Bogle, Hans Becherer, Sarah Goddard, Eleanor Johnson, and Judy Richards.

H. O. "Fritz" Crisler, Director of Athletics, University of Michigan, spoke on "Leadership." Stanley E. Dimond, Professor of Education, spoke on the topic, "What Can Your Council Do to Improve the Citizenship of Your School?" There were panel discussion groups also in which the students participated.

At the Fall Institute of the Detroit Roundtable of Christians and Jews three students represented D.U.S. They were David Wark, Thomas Hartzell, and Edgar Howbert.

Three hundred outstanding pupils from public, private, and parochial schools took part in group discussions and listened to Father Daniel J. Lord, S. J., as the main luncheon speaker.

Gouin's Pinmen Take Lead Again

Al Gouin's bowling team cracked out of its two-way first place tie with Tom Trombly's outfit in the St. Paul Bowling league last Thursday, October 30, with a sizzling four point sweep.

Trombly's keggers didn't give up without a fight though. They took three points of a possible four to remain one point off the pace of the leaders and three points ahead of the third place Eddie Lauer team which scored three points and jumped from fifth to third.

Tom McLaughlin's and Jim Sweeney's teams deadlocked for fourth place at 21 points each.

Murray Smith's bowlers got tired of the damp basement apartment they have held a lease on almost since the start of the season and turned it over to Al DeRiemacker's outfit, which went for the cellar. Smith's bowlers gobbled up three points to move into a two-way tie for tenth place with Ed Corbett's squad.

DCW Fall Tea Set for Nov. 13

The active interest of Mrs. Henry B. Joy in Frontier Nursing Service, Inc. over a period of years is well known. In Mrs. Joy's honor, this made the philanthropic project of the National Society of Daughters of Colonial Wars two or three years ago, and Michigan Chapter contributed generously, complimenting Mrs. Joy. Some Michigan members have gone to Kentucky to observe the work of Frontier Nursing for themselves.

This year, the procedure is being reversed. Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, who initiated this Frontier Nursing Service more than 25 years ago, will be honor-guest at the fall meeting of the Michigan Chapter, Daughters of Colonial Wars, followed by tea, at the home of Mrs. Henry B. Joy, in Lake Shore road.

At the tea, at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Thursday, November 13, members will have an opportunity to meet Mrs. Breckinridge, and have her autograph copies of her book, "Wide Neighborhoods." The title of the book comes from the sentence stating that, from small beginnings, this service in the Kentucky mountains has become like "The banyan tree of the forest, yielding shade and fruit to wide neighborhoods of men."

One of the Pointe's most memorable rooms . . . the drawing room of Mrs. Benjamin O. Shepherd's charming French town house at Seventeen Lake Shore road . . . its soft and beautiful mauve, gold and abussion tones stay in the mind . . . and we like to picture it at the tea hour . . . when the hostess presides at a marble topped table . . . and pours amber brew into gold touched white china cups . . .

And speaking of France . . . a gay bit of it may be seen zipping along Pointe boulevards this autumn . . . in the black felt beret Mrs. Harold B. Tyree wears . . . Now comes a legend our way . . . that busy as Mrs. Ford is, she's wearing one of the season's b-e-s-t looking outfits . . . skirt, jacket and blouse . . . the separates that fashion writers are raving about . . . but the legend: Mrs. Ford bought hers in three different stores! PILFERINGS

The New York Times, in a column on English humor, reports a gentle old lady sitting in a suburban train for some time watched with the kindest interest the young American soldier who was seated opposite her, chewing gum.

Finally she leaned across, patted him on the knee and said, "I'm terribly sorry, but it simply isn't any use trying to talk to me, young man. I'm terribly deaf."

Talking of the High Cost of Living, Reader's Digest tells of the Arkansas sheriff, B. O. Dalton, who was in Phoenix, Ariz. on business. The visiting sheriff entertained the local deputy and his wife one night. The evening was in high style, best restaurant, steak and all the trimmings.

The lavish meal over Dalton called for the check. When it arrived he glanced at the staggering total, replaced it with great dignity on the table and murmured quietly, "Suh, in our country, we w-i-n-t-e-r on that kind of money."

And back to London—
Trialogue, during a session of the House of Commons: First Backbencher, whispering, "His memory seems to be failing somewhat."

Second Backbencher: "Yes, and sometimes he falls asleep during a debate."

Mr. Churchill, turning around brusquely in his seat: "And I suppose my hearing's gone to pot, too."

Pointer of Interest

MRS. NORWOOD MEYER OF MOROSS ROAD

By JANE SCHERMERHORN

The first big snowflakes of the season were drifting down from the skies the day we went over to chat with Mrs. Norwood Meyer. It was just the right topic for a gray afternoon—home-making, slip covers, and other especially feminine arts, the things gals like to gab about over coffee.

We had the coffee, too. In a bright and cheery breakfast kitchen, we settled down to find out how Mrs. Meyer became so skilled in making slip covers that she now conducts classes every Friday morning and afternoon at the Board of Education Building, part of the adult education program the Pointe loves so dearly.

Mrs. Meyer was born in Toronto, graduated from the University of Toronto in Dental Hygiene but liked best the courses she took in art and decoration. Her mother is one of those blessed women who, with a pat here and there, can make a house a home and her father was an international builder. He was also an authority on teakwood.

So in this childhood setting Mrs. Meyer absorbed love of home making and a deep interest in woods and design.

An Analyst
When she came to Detroit she became associated with the decorating department of the largest department store. Ten years of this experience now give life and color to the courses she teaches in the adult education classes.

She learned, for instance, that a good background in psychology is a handy gadget for a decorator. In her occasional consultations on decoration she first analyzes the person who will live in the home being discussed and she is uncanny in finding the colors they will agree with most easily and those they prefer.

She doesn't ask, it's all applied psychology and analysis. Anyone can do a decorating job, starting from scratch, Mrs. Meyer believes, but "making do" and "making over" take ingenuity. One of her fundamentals in decorating is to consider the fancies and preferences of everyone who is going to live in that house and that's where slip-covering comes in.

Demand Answered
For instance there is that terrible chair your husband treasures more than any other piece of furniture in the house. It doesn't have to spoil the eye-appeal of your decor—you don't have to have tug of war battles about it. Just slip cover it.

When slip-covering became almost as expensive as buying new furniture, the ladies of the Pointe sought help. They wanted to learn how to make their own slip-covers and that is why this year, Mrs. Meyer concentrates on the art in her classes.

It's a 10 week course and pupils may enroll for either a morning or afternoon session. They bring the chairs they want to cover and don't take them home again until they have reached the final sewing stage.

Mrs. Meyer shows them how to measure chairs for covers and they find the color and materials each student wishes. The next lesson involves placing material on the chair (the block system), cutting materials, naturally—a chic flair for color . . . wore the most becoming chamois toned blouse when we saw her) what the master of the house does with all this feminine etc., and then they get down to basting. Not long ago the students had a "show" of their finished work and pictures we saw of it looked like the chair display of a fine furniture store.

As long as you can sew a seam and have patience, Mrs. Meyer can teach you to make a slip cover.

She Loves to Hang Paper
Somehow we touched on wall paper during our chat only to learn that every bit of the lovely papers that help make Mrs. Meyer's Cape Cod Colonial home so attractive has been put on by the lady herself.

Designs Wallpaper
She also has designed wall paper. A paper suitable for bedrooms she designed with clusters of grapes and amethyst crysanthemums ("it was in the days when lavender and green were the rage for bedrooms"). A paper designed to make a room look larger had diagonal diamond design.

Musical
And tucked into all this fun with walls and chairs and helping other people furnish their homes, there was a stint on radio, too.

Mrs. Meyer played the piano and sang for a year and a half on one of the local radio stations.

Now, however, her musical interest all centers in a darling little daughter, Christina, who's eight and a half and who goes to Kerby School.

This young lady takes singing and piano lessons and is very serious about them. Since a tot she has loved to draw and model in clay. Some of her baby handiwork has been carefully preserved by a doting mama and we saw perfectly scaled miniatures of little baskets filled with flowers and characters from a wee artist's imagination.

On the walls of the Meyer living rooms are oils Mrs. Meyer has done. They show favorite scenes captured by her talented brush.

Masculine Touch
And when we asked pretty Mrs. Meyer (she has warm brown eyes that sparkle with enthusiasm and

With the election over, let's talk about my favorite subject, kids. I am not a psychiatrist so cannot suggest a remedy, but here is some food for thought. Every so often we meet a youngster whose smile is so pinched or forced that it becomes obvious at once that the child has worn dental braces. They become so self-conscious while wearing them, that after they are removed the smile is warped for years or even for life. This is almost always the case.

Now it seems to me, that if so much cash is spent to make the child look pretty, something should be done to protect that smile, which in itself, is the essence of beauty.

The knotty pine panelled recreation room, complete with handsome wall cupboards, is his work.
