No Cause for Worry About Thanksgiving Dinner

Alger Post Entertains AAA Soldiers

Dancing Party in St. Paul Avenue Clubrooms Attended by 75 Officers and Men

The Post and Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars, General R. A. & Colonel F. M. Alger Post No. 995, sponsored an evening of entertainment and dancing on November 21 at the Club Rooms, 17145 St. Paul avenue, for the men in the Armed Forces Anti-Aircraft Units that are stationed at the Chalfonte road and Three Mile drive encampments.

About 75 men accompanied by a number of officers were present. The evening started with a short entertainment by the pupils of the Monte Carlo School of Dancing, followed by dancing to the music of Eddie Casper's orchestra. At midnight the group enjoyed a lunch and prizes were presented.

Mrs. Mary Keller, chairman of the party, wishes to thank all those who cooperated in making the party a success. She also would like to have anyone telephone her at TUxedo 2-3443, who would like to invite one or more of the soldiers to their home for dinner.

PURSE PILFERED

Thanks Due to Noble Turkey For Shunning Price Spirals That Would Blacken Holiday

Current Prices Remind Us to Be Grateful That Texas Steers Stayed Away from Plymouth Rock and Didn't Become National Viand

Despite the price spiral that has driven government mediators to the conference tables of labor and management time and time again during past years, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public may sit down this year at their Thanksgiving table and partake of a turkey dinner that will not have skyrocketed beyond their pocket books.

Although the diastrophic rumblings of world politics has had nations walking precariously along the high wire, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. will find that Tom Turkey has accepted his role as a high wire artist with relative unconcern, and that the price in his head has not varied much in recent years.

A quick glance at comparative prices showed that in 1946 and this year, the price of a turkey per pound is about 59 cents. With prices on other items enough to have become somewhat snow-capped, it seems a bit of a blessing that no Texas steer driven by wanderlust strayed too near Plymouth Rock 332 years ago.

Slippery Street Cause of Crash

Wet pavement figured in an accident on Lake Shore drive in front of the St. Paul Church, November 22, which resulted in total damages to the two autos involved of about $300.

Paul V. Hey, 521 Hampton road, told police that he had been unable to stop in time to avoid colliding with another car that had come to a halt in front of him because of the slippery condition of the street. Damage to the Hey car was estimated at $200.

Progress Reported In Solving City's Parking Problems

Plan Approved, Nearly Three Years Ago Moves Toward Eventual Completion; Two New Stores Provide Much Additional Off-street Space

The general plan for off-street parking areas in the City of Grosse Pointe, adopted after a thorough survey and study of present and future needs some three years ago, is gradually nearing eventual realization.

Under the zoning regulations in the City, every structure, business or residential, must provide a minimum of self-contained vehicle parking or garaging. The advent during the past few months of two new, large establishments on Kercheval in the "Village" shopping center, would have posed a real problem had it not been for this requirement, officials stated. These two stores, Jacobson's and Himelhoch's, have already provided more than the minimum areas, which when completed, will assure adequate parking space for the needs of the public on clean, hard surfaced lots.

Another Lot Graded During the past week, one of the City lots, that just at the rear of the Notre Dame-Kercheval corner, was graded and the stone base put down for final completion next spring. This lot provides space for the business group in the Sjein properties, and provides access through to the Jacobson lot just west of St. Clair avenue.

The public alley north of Kercheval, between Cadieux-Notre Dame, has been resurfaced. This alley opens onto the large parking lot adjacent to the Maire school, and also serves the Maire school yard and parking lot. The Board of Education, closely cooperating with the City, has agreed again to the use of the space outlined by the tennis court at the extreme easterly corner of the Maire grounds for parking, beginning about December 5, or in advance of the Christmas shopping demands.

Acquire St. Clair Property The 60-foot property at 618 St. Clair avenue has been acquired and as soon as the buildings have been removed, the lot will be placed in at least preliminary shape, perhaps in time for much needed space for the above-mentioned seasonal needs.

The great need of adequate, off-street parking was graphically shown at the Neighborhood Club, the City's polling place, when on November 4, more than three thousand vehicles used the Club's facilities during the election day.

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver Farms police are investigating a hit and run accident which occurred on the night of November 22, in front of a Stephens road residence.

John W. Fauver, of Birmingham, Michigan, owner of the damaged car, reported the accident to the police. He stated he had been visiting at a friend's home, when someone drove into the left front door of his car.

Total damage to the buildings was estimated at nearly $10,000. The estimated combined value of the buildings was reported as $106,000. Damage to the contents of the three homes totaled slightly over $7,000.

Four miscellaneous fires caused damages estimated at $85. The department answered 30 calls during the month, Chief Newport stated.

December 8 Reserved for Pointe Males

Will Be Seventh Annual Renewal of Event Which Has Become Institution

Men's Night will be observed on "Christmas Street in The Village" on Monday, December 8. This will be the seventh annual observance of the custom that became an institution by popular demand of the Pointe's male population.

The first Men's Night was held on December 16, 1946, with 19 shops in "The Village's" business section of Kercheval avenue participating. The idea was given such a rousing welcome that it has been repeated each year, with ever larger crowds of stags taking advantage of the break given them by the merchants.

Many Extra Services On this one night of the pre-Christmas shopping season the participating business houses turn over all facilities and add many extra services to make the male's shopping devoid of the chore stigma. All women shoppers are barred.

Of course there are plenty of women in the stores, the regular employes and extras hired as models, additional clerks, gift wrappers, and personal shoppers to give aid and advice on the selections, etc.

Has Grown Greatly Since the inception of the Men's Night tradition, the opportunities for easy shopping have been immeasurably increased. New stores have been built in the neighborhood, others have expanded extensively. The selection of gifts, large six years ago, has been vastly enhanced. It would be difficult for a Pointe man to think of anything in the line of a Christmas gift which can't be found in one of more of the shops in "The Village."

Like Men's Smoker In addition to making this Christmas shopping duty pleasant and easy to discharge, there is always the atmosphere of a men's smoker attached to these occasions. Reunions can be witnessed by the score: Cigaretts and cigars are on the house. A German band gives forth with gay music as the stags wander happily from store to store.

Get Lists Ready It is time to get the lists ready, men. Make arrangements to be free on Monday night, December 8. Have an early dinner and get on down to "The Village." All your pals will be there and your shopping can be done in a hurry, with all gifts beautifully wrapped and ready to be tucked under the Christmas tree.

Approach the last usually hectic period before the holiday free from that harried feeling that accompanies the thoughts of shopping put off to the last minute, sans ideas and energy.

Adolf Rossels Both Bag Deer

Mrs. Adolf Rossel, 657 Berkshire, bagged her first deer on the season's opening day, November 15, while hunting at Mid-forest Lodge, near Houghton Lake, Michigan.

She got the buck, four points and weighing 125 pounds, within an hour after her husband brought down a spike buck which weighed 135 pounds.

They had been hunting the area separately, and Mrs. Rossel dressed and dragged the deer a quarter of a mile to the family car, where she was greeted by Mr. Rossel and her son-in-law, James Clark, with their kill.

Cars In Tangle In Parking Lot

Helen W. Cokley, of 21729 Englehart, St. Clair Shores, struck the right front fender of another automobile in the parking lot of a Mack avenue market, November 22.

Owner of the second car is Bernard A. Gawryszewski, 20601 Lancaster, Detroit. Woods police stated that $60 damage was done to his car. No damage was done to the Cokley car.

Free Barge Grounded in Lake St. Clair

Squalls Drive Craft Loaded With Slag Out of Channel Off City of Grosse Pointe

Salvage crews worked into the night, Monday, November 24, in an effort to re-float a barge loaded with 1,500 tons of slag that had been driven aground nearly a half-mile off the pier park in the City of Grosse Pointe.

The barge was being towed from Port Huron to the Peerless Cement Co. docks in Detroit, Saturday, November 22, when the towing line broke and squalls carried the barge into waters only about 10 feet deep.

The barge and tug are owned by the Frank J. Becker Towing Co.

Accident Rate Drops in Park

Accident summary reports for the first 10 months of 1952 reveal an over-all reduction in accidents in Grosse Pointe Park against the same period during 1951, Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers declared this week.

In 1951, there were 274 accidents, 76 persons injured, and one death. In 1952, the report disclosed, there were 234 accidents, 49 injuries, and no fatalities.

Stated Louwers: "Over-all accident decreases may be attributed to the traffic safety engineering program; improved street lighting; stop signs and traffic lights; marked lanes for traffic flow, and safety wise traffic enforcement and court program."

$17,000 Damage Result of Fires

William H. Newport, Chief of the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department disclosed, in his October report to the city council, Monday night, November 24, that there had been three residence fires in the community during the month.

Total damage to the buildings was estimated at nearly $10,000. The estimated combined value of the buildings was reported as $106,000. Damage to the contents of the three homes totaled slightly over $7,000.

Pointe Fencers To Meet Ohioans

The click-click, clack-clack and stomp-stomp on the hardwood gymnasium floor at the Neighborhood Club will be a familiar sound next Saturday, November 29, when the Grosse Pointe Sword Club plays host to a 12-man fencing team from Cleveland, Ohio.

This will be the first inter-club meet of the season which promises to be a busy one for the local fencers.

The local team is headed by Greg Flynn, four time State Epee champion, Dick Wegert, Jim Campoli and Dick Yasenchak. These four recently won the Michigan State Epee team title. Rounding out the male side of the team will be Art Schankin, Jim Williams and John Spitzer. The local women fencers will be headed by Donna Hill, Janet Roberts, Helen Smith and Shirley Stein.

The local fencers will have a tough job on their hands because

As secretary Shirley Stein says, "We hope to arrange more meets as the season progresses but as you know all the contestants pay their own way on these trips, which makes it a truly amateur sport."

Mary Morgan Files Report On New California Fashions

Special to the Grosse Pointe News from CKLW's Fashion Editor, Mary Morgan, Covering California Fashion Openings.

California fashion creators won new laurels during National Press Week when spring and summer collections were shown to top fashion editors of the nation.

Still unchallenged, these designers of this Golden Scissors State offer the best in swimsuits, and their fresh, newer approach to sportswear keeps it top ranking favorite with the most well-dressed women.

As the collections unfolded it was quite apparent these smart California designers have hit on just the right pitch to inflate the female ego because their clothes are definitely figure-proud fashions.

Black and White Tops

THE BIGGEST COLOR Trend from California is Black and White. Surprising, because you think in terms of color when you think of California. This smart combination has been well handled with a flavor of chic which makes these clothes right for later-in-the-summer as well as resort wear at the moment.

Equally dispersed, or with designer-planned combination effect, designers temper their extravagant designing to achieve a most dramatic effect especially with newly acquired sunbats in smart resorts.

But there will always be some color in California. . . yellow, coral, lime and pink are favorites among the pastel shades, the colors themselves varying according to the temperature they take, the whitened "cool" colors for afternoon and the "hot" shades for playclothes and late evening. The costume look is furthered by using the same, or near-match shades of a color in different fabrics.

Fabrics Create Interest

Fabrics themselves are creating much of the interest in clothes. They are smoother in texture than those of the last several seasons. Very popular among California designers is the new Straw Cloth, which looks very much like its namesake in the original, and has been cut and woven into the most exciting of the new clothes, as both trim and body cloth of a garment.

Cottons are new and different this year, too . . . with an "iced" effect. Many sculptured fabrics will be seen especially in floral prints, which are prettier this year than ever before, varying from the large bright ones to the diminutive dainty prints that Grandma knew so well.

In Winner's Circle

Stripes, checks and polka dots are also in the winner's circle, either alone or, more newly-come in combination. Stripes have new appeal when worked with different widths of the stripe into the same fabric, or treated with a sunburst effect, breaking from the waist into a full soft skirt, or upwards into the bodice.

Polka dots come in all sizes . . . from huge circus dots to the tiny pin-point, and frequently in a combination of both, starting small at the waistline and graduating into larger sizes at the hem.

Worker's fabrics have been an inspiration to many of the California designers . . . using fabrics that bear a resemblance to those worn by railroad engineers or Guatemalan plantation laborers.

Sportswear Trend

THE NEWEST SPORTSWEAR trend is the oldest story in the world . . . boy versus girl! California designers of playclothes have fashioned togs for both ladies with a leaning to the tailored, and those who are fond of being fancy!

This adds up to the Tom Boy versus the feminine in sportswear, and there are clothes from California to delight both tastes—some of them even a mixture of the two trends, like the little straight black boy shorts with a fancy ruffled pink shirt seen in one collection.

Bloomers and little short-length playskirts are being seen in the Sissy-Girl group, while pedal pushers and tapered slacks are strong for the more masculine approach.

South American Influence Many of the playclothes feel a South American inspiration, tassels and ruffles providing the excitement. Special features, like suspenders, add individuality to designs for play, and are to be seen in several collections.

PLAY CLOTHES tend more than ever to the leisure look, and indications are that a lady will be at her loveliest when relaxing.

BATHING SUITS are indeed a credit this year to the versatility of California Designers. Whether your concern is fabric, figure, or frou-frou, there's a swimsuit to suit your taste.

Tailored Look

The Tailored Look is achieved in the shorts-suits, frequently with much attention as to cuffs, both at leg and top of the bodice, as well as to the reed-slim classic number, this year glamorized with a new, low back, cut to a whistle V-shape.

The new hour glass Edwardian silhouette is doing things with stays that nature never dreamed of, and fancy fabrics are running riot on the beaches! Materials heretofore foreign to the sand and surf will be seen in quantities this season . . . little organdy jackets, water-proven velvets, and glitter for the sea are among the ocean-going favorites which will put the fanciest of fishes to shame!

They're Very Versatile

Not only the admitted leader in playtime apparel, California designers of dresses, coats and suits are not to be overlooked. This year they proclaim that the trend is to the ENSEMBLE LOOK. No longer is the mix-and-match idea first-rate on the fashion schedule, it's the outfit with a single theme that is high in your fashion future.

Dresses are the greatest example of this "put-together look," many of them giving the effect of suits, with a separate removable jacket. The coat or coat dress is seen frequently over a trim sheath. (Dusters are definitely OUP . . . costume coats being straight and cocoon-like, or fitted at the waist.

Chic and Smooth

The line in dresses is mostly chic and smooth . . . either the fitted tube, or the fitted bodice only, with a full skirt accentuating the slimmness of the top. The "exaggerated look" is no longer in vogue. In its place is the effect of natural appeal . . . the American Woman's most outstanding feature.

THE SWEATER INFLUENCE

is strong in coats and jackets this year, giving them a cardigan look, emphasized frequently by ribbing at the necklines. Sweaters themselves are much in evidence for spring and summer . . . dyed to match or with tufted flowers and jewels blended into the colors of the coordinated garment.

Shortie coats and suit jackets are boxy, tapering to the back with a smooth barrel silhouette, and fitted coats are still quite frequently in the full-length category.

Attention to Detail

SUITS of the classic type are tailored with much attention to detail, the jacket either fitted to a sophisticate's taste, or tapering gently to the back for the more casual effect. Skirts are trim and narrow. There is a definite trend to the return of smooth suit fabrics such as sharkskin and reverse twist, and suits designed from these fabrics have hit a new high in svelteness of fit and simple elegance.

With attention to tans not yet touched by the sun, but in the making for a season not yet on the calendar, California designers have made much of the neckline (Continued on Page 17)

Home in New Mexico Awaits Donald Allens

Former Jane Katherine Stewart and Bridegroom to Live in Roswell, N. M., Where He Is Stationed with U. S. Air Force; Married Nov. 15

A candlelight ceremony in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, Jane Katherine Stewart became the bride of Donald A. Allen Saturday evening, Nov. 15.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Paul Stewart of Loraine road and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Allen of North Carolina.

After the church service, the bride's parents invited the guests to a reception and dinner in Hillcrest Country Club.

The Rev. Marcus Johnson officiated at the wedding.

Jane's gown of hand-clipped ivory Chantilly lace over satin was designed with hoop skirt. Seed pearls outlined the deep yoke of imported silk illusion which finished the bodice. Sleeves were long and fitted.

From a silken coronet, embroidered in seed pearls, the illusion bridal veil fell elbow-length.

The bride carried white sweetheart roses and bebe mums.

Ruth Applegate was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Priscilla Engle and the bride's sister, Mrs. George E. Gerow.

All were in frocks with deep purple velvet bodices and hoop skirts of orchid silk net. They wore small matching hats of velvet and tiny caplets of the same material. Their flowers were sweetheart roses and butterscotch toned mums.

Little Sandy Reid, cousin of the bride, was flower girl in a miniature costume duplicating the bridesmaids. She wore a coronet of miniature mums in her hair and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Drew Colvert came from Pittsburgh to be best man for Mr. Allen and seating the guests were George E. Gerow and Kaye Wallace.

Mrs. Stewart attended the wedding in wine taffeta with opera length skirt. Her white felt hat was richly trimmed in pearls and she pinned rubrum lilies to her gown.

"For the whole earth is the sepulchre of famous men; and their story is not graven only on stone over their native earth, but lives on far away, without visible symbol, woven into the stuff of other man's lives."

The above is part of the oration by Pericles, over the dead in the Peloponnesian war. It was delivered in 431 B.C. and the context can be found on a plaque in the lobby of the National Art Gallery in Washington, D. C.

If you are as interested as we in the weekly recipes that appear in the Grosse Pointe News, you deserve to know the story about the recipe for "hash" that appeared last week. To refresh your memory, it consisted of left-over beef which had to be in the refrigerator for at least TWO DAYS; hard cooked eggs, minced onion, black bean soup, milk and garlic salt completed the picture. We were also advised that it should be baked in a moderate oven or could even be whipped together in a double boiler!

The concoction was purported to come from Mrs. A. D. Hotchkiss, whose byline the recipe carried. Our local spy tells us that not only had Mrs. Hotchkiss never HEARD of such a recipe... but she is supposed to have declared that she wouldn't be caught serving it for all the tea in China. On checking into the mystery, we found the author right in our own office!

It seems that Tom Hunter (our "man about news") who along with the rest of the office staff appears at the print shop at the unseemly hour of 6 a.m. every week, was screamed at last week by the Editor that there was no recipe. In newspaper business one doesn't argue with the editor, especially at 6 in the morning... so our hero Tom decided to GIVE him a recipe even if he had to make one up. Like most young men who dream of things they'd like to eat but never get, Mr. Hunter put his dream on paper and added his mother's name to the recipe! We hope this clears the mystery up for Mrs. Hotchkiss and we would also like to suggest that she serve this dish to her imaginative son. We tried it... and it's DARN GOOD! Happy Gastronomy Tomony!

Getting into ridiculous hassles with phone operators is not new with us but last week for the first time we found ourselves embroiled in a jigsaw conversation with an operator at a radio station. We noted in the newspaper on the evening in question that Senator Moody would speak at 10 p.m. over such and such a station. However, when we tuned in we were greeted with studio music. Not being one to take this sort of thing lightly, we telephoned the station to inquire. A cheerful sounding character answered and when we asked: "What happened to Senator Moody?" the gal replied, "He lost the election!"

We thanked her for this bit of historic information and added tartly that we wanted to know what was happening RIGHT NOW, since the paper advertised that he would be on the air. She left us then and returned a few minutes later with this: "He isn't a Senator any more." Remembering the Golden Rule just in time, we stifled our mounting ire and started over again. It was quite a speech, too. We said, in effect: "Listen lady; we KNOW Senator Moody lost the election; we also read in the paper and heard on the radio that his status as a Senator is no more. All this is old stuff and we don't need any bulletin from you. ALL we want to know is... if it sez in black and white in the evening paper that he will be on the air... WHY ISN'T HE?" That got her. Without hesitation she replied: "Oh THAT! I don't know... maybe he changed his mind."

It's Christmas catalogue time again so Pryor is up to her knee caps in pamphlets, booklets and shopping news. Among the many gadgets we came across is an indoor wind indicator that no home should be without!! After all what fun is there in life if one doesn't know which way the wind is blowing without having to go outdoors?? The instrument is pictured with the lure: "Every gust and lull in the wind is instantly shown on the handsome speedometer inside your home."

That was all very fine... until we read further on that installation is EASY and QUICK. It sez, "Simply mount the spinning cups on the roof and connect the wire to the indoor indicator." Reading that sentence hurriedly poses no problem whatsoever... BUT... we are timid enough to shy away from anything that entails our crawling around the roof placing spinning cups, then finding a spot where we can bore through our ceilings to connect a wire to the first floor. And without a Union card yet! Easy and quick our foot. We will take our wind the old fashioned way as usual... by going outside and holding aloft a wetted forefinger.

In the mail bag... and concerning VERY small fry. A Sunday School teacher asked her class of wee tots, "Who was Matthew?" Silence. She then proceeded to ask "who was Luke... who was Mark?"... etc. No answer. Finally she asked, "Who was Peter?" After a long silence, a small hesitant voice replied, "I think he was a rabbit."

We LOVE this true tale about a local business man of sizable cash who, while philanthropic enough with his dough... hates to part with his old clothes. His wife told of an incident last year when the cleaners returned his hat saying they could no longer do anything with it! Recently, she noticed that his wallet was falling apart at the seams... so she bought him a new one and suggested they put the old one in the box they keep for one of the "pick-up organizations" in town. He remonstrated that he had better hang onto it for emergency purposes! Like a true bride, she paid no attention to this nonsense and simply placed it in the give-away box.

Some days later she had occasion to phone the charity organization to call for the box. Later in the day, she noticed that the box was gone from the garage, but sitting as large as all get out on a garage table, was the WALLET! On questioning the butler, he announced that the driver who picked up the box looked at the wallet and said there was no point in his taking it, because they wouldn't be able to dispose of it!

Thanksgiving - - - - 1952

The observance of that purely American holiday, Thanksgiving, was originated in 1621 by the Pilgrims who wished to thank their Creator for their first harvest in the new land. They had survived a frightful winter of hardships after the landing of the Mayflower, and felt an expression of gratitude was due the Great Power which had given them the strength to endure.

Most of the Thanksgivings which have been observed down through the following centuries have stressed the appreciation for bountiful harvests and the great abundance of material blessings which have been heaped upon this nation. In later years, our ever-increasing emmeshment in world-wide affairs has given us cause to compare our lot with that of the other peoples of the earth.

Undoubtedly our most fervent outpourings of thanks came in 1945 just after the completion of World War II. The country had triumphantly surmounted the greatest peril which had ever threatened it. The forces of evil in Europe and Asia which preached and practiced the doctrines of human degradation, and planned and almost accomplished the destruction of the Christian civilization which had been 2000 years in building, had been overwhelmed.

Since the end of this war a new threat to the world of Free Men has developed under the goading power of our former ally, Communist Russia. There has been reason to believe that the danger from this atheistic government has overshadowed any of the great tribulations through which we have previously passed.

We should give thanks for the untold blessings which have enabled this country not only to maintain its own strength, but to contribute to the strengthening of other nations towards the creation of such combined power that the Russians have so far not dared to convert the threat into an actual full-scale attack.

We should give thanks for the enormous harvests of foodstuffs that have annually permitted us to help keep starvation from so many millions of unfortunates in far corners of the world.

We should give thanks that the trials through which we have been put have demonstrated that the inherent virtues of patriotism and patience and courage which were the sinews of our national birth, have endured to carry on for its protection and security.

As this most favored of all lands sends up its thanks today for the mercies which have been bestowed upon us, let there also be an abundance of prayers for Divine guidance and strength and a willingness to continue to sacrifice towards the end that all men shall become free.

Korean GI Bill Advice Offered

Veterans with service since the start of the Korean Campaign who are planning to go to school under the Korean GI Bill were advised today by Guy F. Palmer, Manager of the Veterans' Administration regional office in Detroit, to take along enough money of their own to tide them over for about two months.

The reason, Palmer explained, is that under the law, GI education and training allowances can't be paid until sometime after a veteran actually completes each month of training. Therefore, one month of the delay will be caused by the veteran's completing his initial month of training.

The law also required that both the veteran and his school or training establishment submit a certification to VA—after the end of the month—to the effect that the veteran actually was enrolled in training during that period. This, too, takes time, so Palmer urged schools and establishments to get the certifications in as quickly as possible after the end of the month to keep the time at a minimum.

Finally, after VA receives the certification, it must compute how much GI allowance each veteran is entitled to, and must mail out the payments. This process, Palmer said, normally will be kept down to 20 days from the date VA receives the certification.

Because of all these factors, Post-Korea veterans would be wise to allow for two months before they can expect a check from the Government, Palmer emphasized. After wards, of course, checks will come regularly each month, so long as they remain in training and their certifications are in order.

A veteran who starts GI training after the 20th of a month will have to wait several days longer for his initial payment, Palmer pointed out. The reason is that VA can't process his certification until after he has completed his first full month of training. Payments for both periods—the complete month and the few days of the preceding month—will be included in his first check.

The allowances for veterans training full-time in schools and colleges under the new Korean

GI Bill are $100 for those without dependents; $135 for those with one dependent; and $160 for those with more than one dependent. Allowances for part-time training, on-the-job training and institutional on-farm training are somewhat lower.

The GI allowances are paid directly to veterans, and are the only payments made under the new Korean GI Bill. They are for the purpose of assisting veterans in meeting the costs of their training.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Joan Taylor

Thanksgiving is not to be thought of in culinary terms mainly. It is a time, however, when families are reunited with warm feelings of gratitude and the kitchen as a focal point of interest cannot be denied.

From now until the New Year there is a festive spirit abroad that is infectious and promotes true hospitality, the sharing of our homes, be they large or small, with our friends.

According to Mr. Webster, to entertain means "to give hospitable reception to guests" and "to provide for their needs". A foreword in Blanche Halle's new book THE ART OF ENTERTAINING says entertaining is fundamentally "giving", the comfort of your foods and the comforts of your home, but of yourself, and the best of yourself."

In this comprehensive little book, you will find friendly counsel for both the novice and the more seasoned hostess.

HOME ENTERTAINING, A COMPLETE GUIDE by Charlotte Adams is an excellent all round manual. All types of entertaining are considered from the simplest to the more elaborate.

Mrs. C. R. Coggins has a new book, SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINING AT HOME, which will inspire the career girl, the bride or the experienced homemaker to drum up a party at the drop of the hat, just for the fun of it.

Amy Vanderbuilt's recent COMPLETE BOOK OF ENTERTAINING also has many up-to-date practical pointers on present day entertaining.

All of these books, in accordance with today's thinking, stress simplicity and informality. Formality and a rigid code of rules is fast disappearing. Common sense and an open-hearted desire to make people happy and comfortable are given again and again as the real basis for the best entertaining.

Your library has also a wide variety of cook books to put zest into your planning. Call us if you are interested in any of these titles and we shall be glad to reserve them for you.

We are pleased to introduce the most recent addition to your library staff, Mr. George Frederick Jones. Mr. Jones has been identified with both schools and libraries.

He is a graduate of the University of British Columbia with an economic major; has a teacher's certificate from Vancouver Normal College, a Library of Science degree from Columbia University and holds a Master of Arts degree from the University of Oregon.

With 10 years as a high school teacher, three years in the Canadian Air Force and four years professional library experience, he presents a well-rounded background which will prove valuable in his new position.

Welcome to Grosse Pointe Mr. Jones. A happy Thanksgiving to all our friends from the Library staff.

$35,000 VIOLIN LOANED

A $35,000 Guarnerius violin from the collection of The Henry Ford Museum has been loaned to Assistant Concertmaster Henri Nosco of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The priceless Guarnerius was heard in its first public appearance this year on Thursday evening, November 13 and will be played by Concertmaster Nosco at each concert this season through March 12, 1953. Mr. Nosco is familiar with the instrument, having played it last year in Detroit Symphony concerts.

How to Avoid Turkey Hangover

Avoid a turkey hangover at your house this Thanksgiving meal. Don't bring in the turkey meat after meal in its original roasted form—try some interesting variations on the traditional theme.

Dr. Pauline Paul of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department offers three ways to use left-over turkey. She suggests freezing it for later use, making a turkey loaf or heating turkey slices and covering with an interesting sauce.

To freeze turkey Dr. Paul urges you to bone the bird and have the meat ready to serve when you remove it from the freezer.

Turkey loaf will make a "company dinner". Chopped turkey, cooked noodles or spaghetti, chopped stuffed olives, chopped celery, a little grated onion, salt and pepper mixed together and moistened with turkey gravy or white sauce will do it. Turn the mixture into a loaf pan and bake with a layer of buttered crumbs on top.

Turkey slices can be heated on top of the stove in a double boiler. Or do them in the oven, but take care to avoid drying out the slices. Dr. Paul stresses. Slices placed in the oven may be covered loosely or kept moist with a sauce.

Left-over turkey gravy or stock or a little milk would give variety to warmed turkey slices the day after Thanksgiving. For deviled turkey, cover slices with a highly seasoned tomato sauce. Or Dr. Paul suggests a sweet-sour sauce or a barbecue sauce.

Week Set Aside for Handicapped

National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, October 5 to 11, inclusive, was the demonstration week of a process which has been going on for years through the branch offices of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, Max M. Horton, director of the Commission said.

"Our branch offices, working with all the other public and private agencies serving the physically handicapped, within the past 12 months have placed in employment for which they are suited 10,161 workers suffering from some degree of physical handicap. This number includes 4,239 veterans, or about 41% and about 300 women," he said.

"At present, approximately 3,300 handicapped workers are on our active file of workers seeking employment. The present labor market, with its dwindling supply of manpower, is one which lends itself admirably to the placement of these people in substantial, standard jobs at good pay, jobs for which they are qualified, in which they can be happy and have some opportunity for advancement.

"During the past eight years our agency has placed approximately 85,000 disabled workers in jobs, and during the same period, the national public employment services have placed 2,400,000 handicapped workers. This means that one handicapped worker has been placed in employment for every man and woman working in this State today.

"The national slogan of N.E.P.H. Week is 'Ready, Willing and Able.' 'This is peculiarly apt,' he said. 'Our experience in placing handicapped workers and our observation of the approximately 250,000 workers in Michigan's labor force today, who are suffering from some form of physical impairment, has shown this slogan to be very fitting.

"When placed in jobs their capacities can match, the disabled do as well or better than their unimpaired brethren. They are reliable, productive, careful, and are superior in attendance and job turnover. They take no chance on increasing their existing handicaps, so they are among the safest of employees," he said.

At noon the girls enjoyed their nose-bag lunches and hot cocoa. When they were ready to start home in the afternoon, Mr. Guillaume gave each girl a tree of her own to bring home and plant in her yard, so its growth may be checked from year to year.

TV Committee Out of Infancy

The TV committee of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and Television Council was one year old this month. Set up as a special committee of the original Motion Picture Council in recognition of the tremendous impact of television, its main objective is to evaluate programs beamed to young viewers.

Initial steps taken by the committee were to compile information from individuals and groups in other communities where similar studies had been made; discuss programming with the three television stations in Detroit and the National Broadcasting Company, and to arrange contacts with groups which would rate pictures and programs for the Council.

During the past year, the committee has been instrumental in returning to the screens some excellent programs which were to be discontinued.

To determine the TV preferences of Pointe children, Mr. James Bushong, superintendent of Grosse Pointe Public Schools, authorized a poll of children in Kindergarten through the sixth grade at Kerby School to try to get a representative sample. Simultaneously the TV committee critiqued programs of the three Detroit channels to prepare future recommendations.

Members of the Television Advisory Board of the Motion Picture and Television Council are Mrs. Bayard Kurth, Mrs. Edward Wunsch, Mrs. Kenneth Yager, Mrs. Ralph Steffek and Mrs. Wanda Daniel.

Those interested may contact Mrs. F. M. Tousley, 264 Hamilton court, at TUxedo 5-0268.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

Recently we wrote about just a few of the local sailing fleets that take the trouble to keep a record of the standings of their boats in the DRYA regattas and in some cases the fleet races they hold.

One of the fleets we failed to mention was the 30-square meter fleet that for years has been struggling along with no more than four boats at any time. We didn't know the 30-squares took the trouble to keep a sailing record but we were informed of this by a letter from "Mr. Thirty Square" himself, Ray St. John.

Said Ray, "I do read your Boat Banter in the Grosse Pointe News and enclosed you will find a letter with the complete 1952 results. On scanning the enclosed material we discovered there are nine 30-squares in the Inter-Lake area, eight in Michigan which includes four in Detroit, and one in Mount Clemens.

The season championship was won by Ray St. John's "Lill Singva" with a total of 28.6 points. Al Gregory's "Typhoon" was second with 23.2, followed by Dick Sullivan's "Starling" (St. John's old boat twice removed), 17 points; "High Winds," skippered by Les Rutter, 10.2. Harold Knubbe's "Nordic" finished fifth with 6 points and Ed Offer brought up the rear with 5 points.

Al Gregory's "Typhoon" captured the Put-In-Bay regatta by two tenths of a point over Francis Merritt's "Hell Diver" from Fort Huron. Gregory took the first two races and was forced to drop out of the final race because of rigging failure.

Missing from next summer's local sailing picture will be a familiar blue hulled Pilot. Bill Hanson sold "Marbill" last week to a Cleveland Yacht Club sailor who answers to the name of Ken Glor.

Seems Glor had been having pretty fair luck with a Malabar Junior but hadn't been winning any races so he decided to pick out a fast boat and sail in the Cruising C division in the Cleveland regattas.

He sure picked out a good one and most of the local Pilot class skippers are sorry to see "Marbill" leave the local sailing scene. She was always well sailed and was excellent competition under the experienced tiller hand of Bill Hanson and his boy Friday, Pete Beyer. Incidentally, Beyer bought a boat and promises to have her all rigged and racing in Cruising C division next summer.

"Marbill" became part of the Hanson family back in the Fall of 1947 when she slipped down the ways at Fisher Boat Works and in her first year of competition almost made shambles of the Cruising C division by winning eight races. These included the Mills Trophy race and the Hornacle Trophy for overall honors in Bayview Yacht Club's annual regatta. Despite this wonderful record "Marbill" had to take second place behind Hank Burkhardt's "Meteor" for the season championship in Cruising C. In 1949 "Marbill" managed to win seven races and the Pilot Class championship and the William P. Fisher Trophy for being the first Pilot class boat to reach Mackinac in the Bayview-Mackinac classic.

Skipper Hanson was a bit hazy on "Marbill's" performance but he did remember finishing second to Nick Geib's famous yawl "Fleetwood" in the Mackinac races in both 1951 and '52. In 1951 the Pilot Class championship went to "Marbill" but the 1952 season was somewhat of a nightmare with a disqualification in one of the inter-club weekly regattas that nullified all chances "Marbill" might have had for a season title in her last season under skipper Bill Hanson.

Bill says he wants to get a back yard boat (a Thistle) to play around with for a while and may sail on someone else's big boat in the important long distance races. He says there is too much work to do around his new house to permit him to drift around Lake St. Clair on sunny afternoons, as he did when he was a bachelor.

Bayview Yacht Club has a whale of a show on tap for the local tars next Saturday, December 1, which should provide plenty of interest. There will be movies of the Bayview-Mackinac race narrated by none other than Alf (Himself) Loomis.

Loomis sailed on Paul Smiley's "Orient," the winner, natchurally, and should have some interesting sidelights to tell about the race from where he sat. He was covering the local classic for the first time and his article appeared in Yachting magazine recently.

Race Tightens In Ladies Loop

The Kopp's Pharmacy ladies' bowling team ran into a snag in the St. Paul Ladies league last Wednesday, November 21, when they dropped four points for their first whitewash of the season. But despite the failure to score a single point they remained at the top of the standings when the second place Silver Crown Ballroom keglers also went for the cellar.

However, the third place Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation team and the fifth place Kammer Beauty Salon squad scored three and four points respectively to move into second and third places and turn the race into a nip and tuck affair.

Winnie Camacho turned in the high single individual score of the night by spilling 194 pins, which helped give her third place in the high three game individual bracket which is headed by Virginia Palombi's 468 series.

Florence Radke held down second place with a 466 three game series. Florence also won one of the Thanksgiving turkeys in the over-125-division with 97 pins and Arlene Schultz won the other one in the under-125-division with 97 pins over her average.

Court League's Clinic Draws 100

Close to a 100 Inter-Church basketball players turned out for the cage clinic held at Grosse Pointe High last Saturday, November 22, and enjoyed an instructive movie on rules and fundamental basketball provided by the Wilson Sports Equipment Company through Grays Sports Shop.

Coach Ed Lauer and his St. Paul Flyer quintet ran through basic basketball plays after league officials had measured the Church League players and verified their eligibility certificates. Managers who are entering teams in the league for the 1952-53 season, which gets underway Saturday, December 6, are urged to mail or bring their team rosters and eligibility certificates to the News office in care of League Director Fred Runnells no later than Saturday, November 29.

The teams must be officially entered by the November 29 date to enable the League officials to make up the playing schedule. Also the eligibility certificates MUST be turned in by this date to make the player eligible for the first game one week later.

Coaches, managers and players are requested to watch the Sports page of the News on December 4 for the schedule of games to be played on the opening day.

Under the direction of Robert F. O'Brien, the band presents half-time shows at each of Notre Dame's home games and recently traveled to Cleveland to perform at the Navy game. During Easter vacation the band will make a concert tour through Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and Florida.

Silence may be the only argument that can't be answered but most people would rather talk than win an argument.

Cast Casts Shadow on Flyers' Hopes

COACH EDDIE LAUER of the St. Paul basketball team holds the broken wrist of JIM AYRAULT as TIM CHAMPINE scratches his head as though wondering what will happen to the team in the coming campaign without the services of this valuable player. GLENN WALTERS, left, and BOB BARRETT are also pretty concerned over the bad break.

Two Teams Tied In Rotary Loop

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Bowling League was all tied up after the Friday, November 21, session. The Piche Barbers clipped the third place Kopp's keglers for four points and moved into a two-way tie for first place with the Middle Atlantic Transportation team that could only squeak three points out of the ninth place Grosse Pointe Camera Shop squad.

Only three 200 or better score were posted as compared to the 11 rolled on the week previous. F. Piche topped the 200 list with a 222. Marchand followed with 211 and R. Piche had a 207.

The four turkeys, extra prizes, were won by F. Piche, Thompson Patrick and Meyer.

F. Piche and Peplinski tied for the evenings high three game individual honor when both posted 568 series. Wilson was a scant 9 pins behind with a 559.

Eddie Anderson Star at Western

Eddie Anderson has been making football news at Western Michigan this Fall.

Eddie was a standout performer on the Grosse Pointe Blue Devil grid team last year and decided to carry on his football career at the school where his Blue Devil coach, Ed Wernet gained fame.

Ed was elected captain of the Western Michigan freshman football squad and it appears the choice was a wise one because the frosh beat Percy Jones, Jonia and Grand Rapids Junior College by shutout scores. The only game they dropped was a close 19 to 18 decision to the University of Detroit Frosh.

Anderson was the only 60 minute man on the Western frosh squad and the varsity coach has big plans for Eddie on the varsity squad next season at center. This marks the second Blue Devil center who has grabbed the spotlight in college ball at center position. Bayard Johnson recently completed his second season as regular center on the Dartmouth team this year.

HOUSEHOLD HINT Game meats as a rule require more attention when cooking but the result will be worth while. Young wild game will be tender and require less care, say Michigan State College home economists, while older wild animals will take additional time.

Big Name Band At Book Casino

Rafael Font, his piano and his orchestra, opened an eight week engagement in the Book Casino of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, on November 10. Candi Cortez is the featured vocalist with the band.

Specializing in Latin American rhythms, Font succeeds in preserving the authentic Latin flavor, yet produces the beat that the American public demands—that commercial touch that makes the rhythm danceable and the music listenable.

Font's engagement in the Book Casino, where the orchestra plays for dinner and supper dancing six nights a week, marks his first Detroit appearance.

Runnells Voices Objections To Basketball Experiments

By Fred Runnells We noted with much interest the report on the inter-squad game at Tulane University which stemmed from Cliff Wells' idea of playing "basketball without a clock." It was an innovation designed to lessen the strain on the fans and to keep the sport clean.

The only way the clock was used in the game was to keep track of how long the game would run. The first half, which under Wells' plan automatically ends when one team scores forty points, took only fifteen minutes and 59 seconds. The entire game, which ended when a team scored 80 points, took 37 minutes and three seconds.

Well's report stated "It was a big success. The fans, visiting coaches and the players all seemed to like the idea fine."

Maybe so, but from where we sit we would like to see the basketball rule changed and experiments come to a sudden halt for at least one year and let the players, coaches and fans get accustomed to them. Rules are shuttled into and out of the game of basketball with monotonous regularity and in some cases a rule has lasted only one season.

We can see where the elimination of the clock in basketball would relieve the strain on the fans, but isn't it better to have the fans get excited and bear a little strain while rooting for their favorite team, than to have a big crowd just sit in the stands like a bunch of dummies?

If Wells likes his basketball that way, he can have it. Let him keep his schedule a secret and play his games in an empty gym if he thinks the strain on the fans has been too much in years gone by.

As for the "eliminated clock" keeping the game clean, I can't buy that one. I have seen hundreds of basketball games in my career and the only time I have ever seen a game get dirty is when one or two of the players lose their self control. The rules are in the book for the officials to use in case a boy gets out of hand and believe me the referees I now waste no time in exercising their rights to thumb a boy out of

All Eyes and Ears

by Dorothy Phyllis Hannah

Detroit was honored at last Thursday's Detroit Symphony concert by visits of two very distinguished musicians . . . one a participant in the concert . . . the other a person who had journeyed from Columbia University to hear the world premiere of his own composition.

These two men were Leopold Stokowski, world renowned conductor . . . and Jacob Avshalomov, the composer of the new work, "The Taking of Tung-Kuan" . . .

This composition has a distinct Chinese flavor, due to the fact that Mr. Avshalomov has spent a large portion of his life in China and he has learned the varied customs, moods, and figurations of oriental music . . .

Mr. Stokowski radically re-arranged the Detroit Orchestra for this performance . . . the woodwinds and some brass sections down front . . . and strings and other brass behind . . . because he believes that the tones of the various choirs should be brought to an optimum. We believe that this orchestral arrangement has its merits . . . because the voices of each of the different instruments, turn and go off on different angles . . . this is partially due to the construction of the instruments themselves.

The remainder of the program was interesting inasmuch as the selections encompassed the 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries . . . and included such works as Bach's "Tocatta and Fugue in D-minor," Schubert's "Entr'acte, Ballet from Rosamunde," "Wotan's Farewell and The Magic Fire Music from Die Walkure," by Wagner, and Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 5 in E-minor."

Mr. Stokowski's performance as a conductor is beyond comparison and we sincerely hope that he will return to conduct another concert of our Detroit Symphony Orchestra . . . come next season.

FOUR OF A KIND

Unlike modern fathers, who are satisfied to have one namesake, the Emperor Constantine had three. They were his sons, Constantine II, Constantius, and Constans. When the emperor died in 337 A.D., the Roman Empire was divided among them, Gaul and the West going to Constantine II, Constantinople and the East to Constantius, and Italy to Constans.

News Notes From D.U.S.

Mr. Grimes was in Ann Arbor recently to take part in Principals' Day meetings. While there he visited with Donald Ohmart and David Rentschler, both freshmen at Michigan and D.U.S. grads of last June. They were asked, as is the annual practice, to look back over their high school days and to evaluate their preparation and to indicate their first reactions to college life and studies.

Following the national trend D.U.S. gave General Eisenhower a landslide victory, 110-10, over Governor Stevenson in the mock election conducted by the 9th grade Civics class of Mr. Norman Platine. Standard election procedures were followed. Registration was required in advance and voting booths with curtains, were set up.

On Thursday, Nov. 20, and Saturday, Nov. 22, the 7th and 8th graders of D.U.S. and the Country Day School presented Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe" under the direction of Mr. Neale Stahl of D.U.S. and Miss Marie Sansone of C.D.S. "Leads" from D.U.S. were "Sandy" Wiener, Daniel Goodenough, and Ned Evans.

Robert H. Isbell was chairman and parent representative at a meeting of 9th grade parents at D.U.S. last week. The parents met with the grade advisors, Paul C. Diggles and Samuel Beeler. Wellington Grimes, assistant headmaster, addressed the group.

Dr. Hugh Stalker, 25 Radnor circle, addressed the upper school assembly on Friday, November 14. He showed slides of Gloucester, Mass. and described life in the summer time at the famed fishing port.

St. Pauloscope

by KATHRYN ANDRE

Class day at St. Paul School was celebrated on Wednesday, November 24. Each class presented its history up to the present time, boasting of its accomplishments, officers, and various activities.

In the Freshmen section of the program James McCusker, president, introduced his classmates to the school. Ted Zemper, vice president, stated why the Freshmen are dedicated to Our Lady of Fatima. Carolyn Olds, secretary, explained their motto: "United we stand; divided we fall." Sandra Wines, treasurer, told why the white rose is dear to the Freshmen. Kenneth Oxley, social chairman, interpreted their colors, green and white.

James McKillop, Sophomore president, presented the program of his class. Eugene Graham, vice president, greeted the faculty. Treasurer Robert Brooks told what their colors, red and white, and their flower, the white carnation, meant to them. Secretary Regina Koch summarized the motto: "Death rather than Sin." Clyde Schwartz, social chairman, told of the class's special devotion to Maria Goretti, its patron, and Gail Gitre, social chairman, remarked on the Sophomores' cooperation in activities. The class history was given by a group of town criers.

The Juniors, proud of their numerous achievements, both as under classmen and as new upper classmen, were not to be outdone by the others. The class members placed themselves in high school activities. President Richard Dowd boasted of their class spirit. Beverly Cadieux, vice president, elucidated on the motto: "To the Sacred Heart of Jesus through the Immaculate Heart of Mary." Secretary Joan Marks explained the significance of their flower, the yellow rose, while treasurer Ted Monahan gave reasons why the class chose the Sacred Heart as its patron.

Joseph Bejin, social chairman, explained the meaning that their colors, red and white, hold for them. Barbara Unti, social chairman, gave the Junior's outlook on their future.

The Seniors completed the program with a prospectus in which the entire class recited. Edward Heck, president, introduced the seniors. Ellen Connelly paid tribute to the priests and faculty. The class flowers, the yellow and white carnations; the patron, St. Jude; the motto, "Semper Fidelis"; and the colors, gold and white, were expounded by Katharine Mullaney. The history of the class was given by William Rossman, Lawrence McCormick, Paul Geist, and Gene Kornmeier. An inventory of the class was checked by Mildred Hanzel and Syndee Smith.

As a fitting number in the senior program, a class oration, composed by Janet Wrubel, Marilyn Buehner and Elaine Barbret, was given in verse choir fashion by the class.

The Seniors then introduced a new Alma Mater song.

FOR THE HOSTESS

Every woman feels flattered when she receives a feminine gift from her guest. And when that gift is practical, too, it is doubly appreciated. So why not take a set of fragrant bath toiletries to your next week-end hostess. She'll remember you kindly for many weeks to come—whenever she has the pleasure of a luxurious bath.

Never put perfume directly on the fabric of your dress or suit. The sweet-smelling liquid might spot the material or might even injure the threads. Better to spray perfume so that a fine mist of scent clings to the fabric.

Accidents Drop; Death Toll Gains

Michigan's September highway fatality toll reached 191, a daily average of more than six, and 33 more than were killed during the same month last year. It also was the highest toll of September traffic deaths since 1937, when there were 202.

Despite the sharp fatality increase injuries and accidents were both down compared to September of 1951, according to the State Police monthly statistical report.

Injuries decreased 301, or seven per cent, 4,257 under 4,558 and accidents decreased 1,992, or 14 per cent, 12,104 under 14,096. The decreases were in both rural and urban areas while the fatality increase occurred on rural trunks.

Michigan's traffic record for the first nine months of this year includes 1,286 deaths, 34,856 injuries and 115,394 accidents. Deaths increased 35, or three per cent over 1,201 for the same period in 1951.

At a recent swank dinner party given at Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, continental customs were observed... the gentlemen had cigars and brandy at the dinner table while the ladies retired to the lounge for demi-tasse... and at dinner... great and colorful platters of vegetables were served as a separate course following the meat course...

Still at the Hunt Club... ever so many of the members are paying flying visits to New York these days... especially to see Master of the Hunt Ernie Putnam who's been in a hospital in Manhattan... and to cheer Mrs. Putnam who is remaining there to be near her husband...

Fashion Note: Mrs. William C. Ford, looking like a school girl... in a black and red tartan sheer wool... with bands of black grosgrain ribbon bands circling the bodice, ending in tiny black bows in center back...

LOVE the combination of pale blond locks and deep brown eyes possessed by Mrs. James Earl...

An early Christmas present... the wonderful wink mastered by Lisa Shelden...

A Pointe family made all manner of elaborate preparations before a GI nephew arrived from his army base for a week-end. They planned every second with fun things and plenty of wonderful food. The young man arrived; announced he hadn't had a bath in three months, took one and then took to his bed. He slept for 17 straight hours, by which time he just made it to the depot and his train back to camp.

When that distinguished Austrian Archduke Franz Josef visited in the Pointe he paid a call on another distinguished visitor Austrian... Joseph de Grimme...

Grosse Pointe realtors tell us they are sooooo glad they no longer have to listen to those pre-election plaints: "Well, we'll have to withhold our decision until we see if the Republicans get in"... and, "Of course, the sale depends upon the Democrats winning the election"...

PILFERINGS

Harold Helfer in the New York Times tells about a washing machine concern in Chicago which announced its product was a very handy instrument to use as a cocktail shaker when you have a sudden influx of 100 or so guests...

During National Education Week: Voltaire said: "The more you know, the less sure you are." G. M. Young said: "What the schools failed to teach is that a man has no more right to an opinion for which he cannot account than to a pint of beer for which he cannot pay."

They tell of the American tourist, strolling down Whitehall, who halted a British gentleman and courteously inquired, "Would you mind telling me which side the War Office is on?" "Heavens," responded the Briton, looking startled, "Ours, I hope."

Always looking on the Brighter Side: Scientist Fred Hoyle of Cambridge University is quoted: "Within a couple of years it will cost only about $2.80 a head to kill people with atomic weapons instead of the several thousand dollars a head it costs to kill people in war today."

Pointer of Interest

MARY AND MARTHA BURGESS, DAUGHTERS OF MR. AND MRS. DAVID E. BURGESS OF WASHINGTON ROAD

By Jane Schermerhorn

When you visit Grosse Pointe Congregational Church's Holiday Food Fair on Friday, Dec. 5, we are sure you'll be as enchanted by the Sugar Plum House as those two sweet little girls you see bending over it on these pages today.

The Sugar Plum House is the work of Mrs. Donald Morgan, of Nottingham road, who has been a candy architect for two years now.

Quite naturally she got into the building of candy houses to please her own pretty little daughter, Carol, who's 10 years old, and who takes a Sugar Plum House to school each year before Christmas holidays.

It's a departure from custom to have other than the day's Pointer of Interest posed atop this article but it was Mrs. Morgan's decision. We truly feel you're being cheated not to have a picture of her, too, for she's young, brumet and lovely looking—just the kind of a gal you'd imagine building Sugar Plum Houses to make Christmas merrier.

For Food Fair

When the women of the Congregational Church planned their Holiday Food Fair, they called on Mrs. Morgan to make one of these delightful conversation pieces.

A house made of Sugar Plums was certainly fitting for a Fair devoted to all good things to eat at holiday time. (That's what makes the Dec. 5 Fair different from the other Pointe Christmas bazaars this year.)

Mrs. Morgan found directions for making these houses in a Christmas edition of a national magazine.

The one she's made for the Fair uses the cardboard box which originally housed a little table radio set. Any sturdy cardboard box will do.

The four sides of the box form the house and another piece of corrugated cardboard, taped on, makes the arched roof. Still another rectangle of cardboard is used for the chimney. She pastes the house to a larger flat cardboard base.

How to Frost House

Now you are ready to frost the house.

"One side at a time," advises Mrs. Morgan, who uses for frosting: two cups of powdered sugar mixed well with two tablespoons of gum arabic (bought at any drug store) and four tablespoons of hot water. Mix the dry ingredients and add the water.

The Sugar Plum House she made this year took six times this recipe but she suggests it be made in the smaller quantity each time.

Placing the side of the house she frosts face up, she puts on the frosting, and when it is nice and sticky, begins to outline windows and doors with a variety of hard candies.

Corn candies give a cobblestone effect to roof and chimney of the sugar plum house. Windows are designed with hard white candies outlined in bright red cinnamon squares.

The roof and sides of the house are gay and bright with varicolored little gum drops.

Pop Corn Snow

The large cardboard base is also frosted and heaped with popcorn which makes it ever so snowy.

Tiny Christmas trees (clipped from the ones that grow outside at the Morgans') stand in the popcorn drifts. (Incidentally, Mrs. Morgan packed a Sugar Plum House all in popcorn for a little girl in Cincinatti last year and it arrived perfectly!) Thin pretzel twiglets make a flagstone path leading to the front door of the candy house.

Girl Scout Carol

Carol came in from school while we were admiring this Christmas-y work of art. She was dressed in her green Scout uniform (she's just graduated from the Brownies). Her mother is leader of the troop—No. 703, all fifth graders at Defer School.

She told us what fun she and her classmates have eating the Sugar Plum House on last day of school before Christmas vacation. It was only because Church's Holiday Food Fair would be a great success that she was able to resist the one before our eyes.

Roxie, handsome big boxer of the family, stood before it respectfully, too, and drooled.

Expert Knitter

Mrs. Morgan says she rarely makes two Sugar Plum Houses the same... there are all manner of variations, which is part of the fun.

In addition to this talent, the charming young Pointer is an expert knitter. She had made the attractive sweater and skirt she was wearing the day we visited her.

It was done in light gray, the circle skirt patterned with single lines of black and scarlet and the blouse top fashioned entirely of solid gray.

Her wardrobe includes several knitted dresses and dark-eyed Carol can boast that her own mama makes many of her clothes as well as a princess' treasure of sweaters.

Holiday Food Fair

But Mrs. Morgan was insistent we remind you of the Congregational Church's Food Fair. We're going to tell you more about it on the society pages next week but just a few hints:

It opens at 10 a.m., Dec. 5, and runs through 9 p.m., in the church's social hall.

You'll be able to have lunch and taste any of the wonderful delicacies being sold at a Country Kitchen.

An "Oven" will bake bread before your very eyes and you will see bread kneaded and formed into loaves and popped into the oven while you wait.

A Sweet and Sour shop will provide you with salad dressing, shrimp cocktail sauces, crepe suzette sauce, reducer's salad dressing, etc.

All the foods have been prepared by the women of the church who tasted 100 different varieties of mince meat before deciding on the one elegant one that'll go into the pies being sold.

Remember, it's Dec. 5... Grosse Pointe Congregational Church... and you'll meet the Sugar Plum House there.
