Another New Church to Serve Grosse Pointe Area

—Picture by Fred Runnels

In contemporary design the new St. Philomena church is both functional in character and beautiful in its devotional simplicity. Located at 4380 Marshall near Mack, its plan is the combined work of architect Arthur DeRosier, Edward Monahan and Father Nancy, pastor.

Its durability and practicality stem from the materials used in its construction. The exterior is Harvard brick with limestone trim. All windows and doors are of metal. The interior walls are completely of wood. The roof is a touch of cinder block. A lot of warmth is added by the wood beams covering the entire ceiling. The lighting is concealed throughout, and illumination of the sanctuary is unique. The building houses both church, northex, nave, sanctuary and choir balcony, and an assembly hall in the rear with kitchen and storage space. An unusual feature is that the assembly hall can be used in the event of overflow attendance in church merely by opening the sliding doors at the back of the altar.

The very best oil heating plant does its work through indirect and concealed radiation in a completely moisture and weather proof building. Solid, comb-proof oak is used in the sanctuary. The crucifix and statues are unusually lovely wood carvings produced in Switzerland and Italy and imported by Moser of New York.

The parish has the following boundaries: on the West, Warren, St. Clair from Mack to Warren, St. Clair from Charlevoix to Mack, Hereford from Warren to Chandler Park. On the East, Moross road from Chandler Park to Chalfonte. The Northern boundary is Chandler Park, and the South, Chalfonte (Goethe and Charlevoix from Fisher road and University Place respectively).

Civil Defense Film Shown At Center

Police Chiefs and Municipal Representatives Witness Bell Telephone Movie

Grosse Pointe Civil Defense officials headed by George Elworthy, met with police chiefs and administrative officials of the Pointe communities at a luncheon at the War Memorial Center on Monday, December 1, to see a film prepared by the Bell Telephone Co. depicting its role in the defense coordination system in the event of an air attack.

Robert K. McKenzie, former Pointe resident and Grosse Pointe district manager of the Bell Telephone Co., conducted the film's presentation and afterwards explained the technicalities of the company's newly developed air raid signal equipment.

The 30-minute film has been shown publicly in one Pointe theater already. City officials are now endeavoring to have it included in the programs of other local theaters to familiarize the public with the steps taken to maintain communications in face of all eventualities.

Entitled "Communications for Civilian Defense," the film features an atom attack on a fictitious city, and it points up graphically the need for civil defense preparations.

Municipal officers will begin a study of the company's new Bell and-Light warning system, demonstrated at the meeting, for possible future installation throughout Grosse, Pointe.

Wishes for Miserable Yule Sent Dishonest Bus Rider

Mrs. Ted Bruske of 1809 Roslyn road would like to wish a woman who lives in the Washington road-Kercheval area, a very miserable Christmas. The reason behind the wish is that the woman's apparently dishonest act has made a little boy very unhappy.

Mrs. Bruske relates that she took her son, Robert, 8, downtown on Monday to help him with his Christmas shopping. The youngster selected three scarves, to give as presents. He paid for them with money he had saved all year.

Estimate of Farms Growth Potential Sees Population Of Over 15,000 by 1960-65

Engineering Department Figures Remaining-Building Lots At 1,020, Including 126 for Commercial Purposes

The Grosse Pointe Farms engineering department prepared an estimate of the city's growth potential, after extensive study, and presented it to monthly meeting, Monday night, December 1.

A count had been made of all vacant lots in the city, including business lots, with lake front estate property being estimated separately. The lake front property was broken up into building lots on the basis that the front 300 to 400 feet would be used as lake frontage, and the balance of the property in the rear extending to Grosse Pointe boulevard or Kercheval avenue would be divided into lots having an average of 100 feet frontage and 130 feet depth.

The Breakdown
The breakdown: lake front estates, 412; balance of residential lots, 567; minimum business lots

Farms Police Nab Reckless Driver

A Farms police scout car raced at speeds up to 80 miles an hour from Fisher road onto Lake Shore drive before pulling down a speeder that had zoomed past at the Fisher spotlight, November 28.

Ticketed for reckless driving was 18-year-old William F. Boling of Ferndale. A passenger, Peter G. Kozicki, 22, of 2439 Denton, Detroit, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The youths had been carrying beer in the car.

Both were released later after being held under $50 bonds.

Alert Operator Goes to Rescue

An alert switch-board operator at Best & Co. on Kercheval avenue was responsible for getting Mrs. Steve Gutowski to a hospital in time for treatment of a hemorrhage, November 26.

Mrs. Gutowski had attempted to call a doctor, called Best's instead, and then collapsed on the floor of her home, at 1464 Cook road. Sensing something wrong, the operator called the Bell Telephone Co., and a tracer was put on the call. The telephone company then notified the Grosse Pointe Woods police department, who rushed Mrs. Gutowski to Saratoga General Hospital.

Pointe Stags To Get Break Monday Eve

Stores on "Christmas Street" To Be Turned Over to Males in Annual Event

"Christmas Street in The Village" will be the gathering place for a goodly proportion of the Pointe's males next Monday night, December 8, when the seventh annual observance of "Men's Night" is held. The hours will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

Every preparation has been made to insure that this great stag affair, now a Pointe institution, will be bigger and better than ever. The one purpose of the occasion is to make Christmas shopping as easy and pleasant as possible for the local men residents.

All Women Shoppers will be barred from the shops in the area on Kercheval from Neff to Cadieux on Monday night. There will be no night women defense lines guarding the counters to harrass the men. Instead there will be extra help in every department to make the shopping job simple.

The event attracts thousands of Pointe stags annually. Those with any flare for efficiency find they can get their whole shopping list cancelled out in these few short hours.

Chore Becomes Fun. In the atmosphere of a men's smoker, amid reunions with old friends and the happy blarney of a German band, the former tortuous chore can be converted into a pleasant event. Service with a smile is the watchword of every store, and cigars and cigarettes are on the house.

Those who haven't yet experienced one of these happy events are urged to have their lists ready. Plan to have an early dinner and get down to "Christmas Street" by 7 Monday night.

Wonderful Feeding
You can go home at 10 with all your presents beautifully gift-wrapped, completely filled with that wonderful feeling of relaxation, knocking everything is done but tucking them under the tree on Christmas Eve.

Cyclist Lands On Auto's Hood

A 15-year-old youngster was tossed onto the hood of an automobile, November 25, when he started across the Cadieux-Kercheval intersection against a red light.

David Laffrey, 1176 Grayton road, riding his bicycle, was struck by Dr. Frank N. Breidan Jr., of 11785 East Outer drive. City police said his only injury was a bruised left elbow. He was taken to his home by Dr. Breidan.

Explosion Burns Fire Lieutenant

Grosse Pointe Park Fire Lieutenant William Gray was taken to Bon Secours Hospital, December 1, for treatment of burns about his eyes.

Gray, who lives at 1365 Lakepointe, had been working with sodium and water. When they were united in solution, flames flashed into Gray's face. The burns were not serious. Gray was released from the hospital on the following day.

200 Attend Meeting To Hear Plans for Little League Ball

Another Big Step Taken Towards Formation of Four-team League in Farms Next Year; Art Houtteman Addresses Gathering

More than 200 fathers and sons from all Grosse Pointe communities attended a meeting Tuesday night in the High School Auditorium to hear the story behind Little League Baseball and to learn plans for the organization of a four-team league in the Farms this spring.

Features of the meeting included a short but inspiring talk by Art Houtteman, ace Tiger pitcher, who outlined particularly for the boys present the importance of baseball and other organized sports in teaching them the meaning of competition and teamwork.

A 20-minute motion picture, entitled "This Is Little League," pictorially reviewed how the Little League movement started and what it consists of.

A talk by John M. Lindemuth, assistant Commissioner of Little League Baseball, who was to have come from Williamsport, Pa., headquarters of the junior league, to outline the procedures necessary in order to get a Little League program underway, was cancelled. Mr. Lindemuth was Tuesday that the train he was taking out of Buffalo had been stranded behind a wrecked freight and he could not proceed.

Business Session Held
A short business session was held, presided over by Howarth Gnaus, temporary chairman of the Farms Little League Group. It was decided that the next meeting of the group would be held the second week in January. Prior to this meeting, however, Gnaus was empowered to appoint committee chairman who would begin a study of the va-

Boy Fells Buck With .22 Rifle

Murray Suppanz, of 1553 Huntington Blvd., Grosse Pointe Woods, probably can claim the title "the youngest Pointe hunter to get his buck" this year. Murray, a 14-year-old, was hunting with his dad, John, at Otsego Lake last Saturday, November 30, when he bagged his 1400 pound deer. Believe it or not he knocked it down with a .22 caliber rifle. That's what his mom told us.

Murray and his dad went up to the hunting grounds on Thanksgiving day and were hunting together when Murray got his prize. His dad has been hunting for about 25 years and has gotten his share of deer but has come home empty handed for the last five years.

Sergeant Hough Made Lieutenant

Appointment to the rank of lieutenant in the Grosse Pointe Park police department became effective on December 1 for former Detective Sergeant Arnold Hough, Chief of Police Arthur Louwers announced.

Hough, who lives at 1308 Nottingham, joined the department, as a patrolman in October, 1936. He was promoted to detective sergeant in September of 1948.

His new promotion followed completion of a competitive examination on October 9. Lt. Hough has earned five citations during his service with the department.

Wants to Buy Portion of Richard Lot

Offer Scheduled To Be Made To Board of Education At Wednesday Meeting

Purchase by the City of Grosse Pointe Farms of a portion of the Richard School playground area east of McMillan road, for additional parking space for the Kercheval avenue business district was scheduled to be proposed to the Board of Education at its meeting Wednesday night. As the meeting took place after it was not possible to report whether any definite action was taken.

The acquisition of this additional parking space has been a subject of consideration for a long time. Limited negotiations took place between the municipal officials and School Board members several years ago, without any definite accomplishments being recorded.

Wanted McMillan Closed
It has been suggested at various times that the Board of Education would be receptive to the sale of a portion of the playground, providing the Farms would close off the end of McMillan towards Ridge road. This would enable the children to get from the school to the playground without having to cross through any traffic, the educators argued.

The Farms answered this argument by saying McMillan was an important street and could not be eliminated without greatly increasing traffic on other thoroughfares. The city suggested several years ago that it would be more practical to tunnel under McMillan for a passageway for the children from one playground to another.

Want Muir Road End
The portion of the playground the Farms would like to acquire is the end towards Muir road, comparable in size to the present parking area to the north of the alley behind Kercheval towards Ridge. It would be tied in with the present improved parking lot.

It was learned that the Farms expected to make an offer of $10,000 for the piece at Wednesday night's meeting of the School Board. It was expected the offer would be followed by negotiations. It is understood there have been some informal discussions lately between Farms officials and members of the Board of Education, so the proposal was not expected to come as any surprise.

Plans Not Complete
Plans for the development of the additional parking area, if it can be acquired, have not been fully worked out. It is quite probable that an entrance would be created from Ridge road, as well as the one from the present parking lot. This would tend to relieve McMillan and Muir roads of a lot of the traffic which now uses these streets for parking.

Considerable grading would have to be done and development of the lot would quite likely be much more expensive than was that of the present lot. It would probably be necessary to erect a suitable barrier to protect the properties on the west side of Muir road, it was stated.

Damage Reported From High Wind

The high winds that ripped through the Grosse Pointe area on Wednesday, November 26, caused a few isolated instances of damage, aside from littering the streets with small debris.

City Police reported that part of the Doubleday Book Shop sign had been torn off the building at 17116 Kercheval. In Grosse Pointe Park, a 20-foot limb was blown onto a truck driving on Jefferson avenue near Woodland place. The hood, cab roof and windshield were smashed.

A large tree was reported uprooted on Jefferson between Bishop and Yorkshire, and Park police reported that numerous street light globes had been broken by the wind.

Farms Finally Approves Long-Disputed Fence Law

The Farms city council adopted the long-disputed fence ordinance at its meeting on December 1. The proposed ordinance had undergone numerous revisions during past months, and on October 20, after final revisions were suggested, it was laid on the table for action at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the council, November 17.

The November meeting, however, had been twice postponed due to the lack of a quorum, and not until last Monday night was the council able to take action. The basic provision of the ordinance limits fences and walls to four feet in height. However, controlled leeway is given to the erection of fences exceeding four and up to eight feet high. Prospective fence builders must file applications with the city offices, and permits will be issued upon determination by the authorities that the proposed construction complies with the ordinance. In case of unfavorable decision by the city, an appeal may be filed within ten days. Violators of the ordinance are subject to a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or both. Enforcement of this ordinance, officials stated, orders the repeal of the fence ordinance adopted May 10, 1937.

Park Merit Board, Council, Hear Requests of Employees

The Grosse Pointe Park Merit Board and City Council met on November 24 with representatives of the public works, police and fire departments to review a number of rules changes governing municipal employees.

The provisions aired were concerned with hours of work, leave with and without pay, sick leaves. But the considerations did not extend into the realm of monetary compensation, a problem which is the responsibility of the council. The Merit Board city manager Everett B. Lane explained, acts as a board of appeals on requests, and as a trial board on promotions and demotions.

Certain objections were raised from the floor of the meeting by union representatives. But they were described as minor. Demands for re-phrasing of some of the rules were criticized as "fly-specking."

The rules were neither accepted nor rejected. Councilman Burgess suggested that another meeting be held on December 9, by which time closer study might bring about mutual agreement.

Meanwhile pay and classification plans are being prepared, which will later go before the council for approval. The classification plan is being drawn up by the personnel division of the Michigan Municipal League, Lane said.

Week for Leader Dogs Proclaimed by Governor

December 1 through 7 has been proclaimed by Governor G. Mennen Williams as Leader Dog Week, in honor of the services they have provided the blind of the state and nation.

It is pointed out that training facilities are inadequate to meet the ever-growing demand for Leader Dogs. Only a few hundred can now be trained annually and thousands are needed.

BELL MAKES REQUEST
The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has petitioned the Public Service Commission for authorization to issue and sell $75,000,000 in common stock. Clifton W. Phalen, president of Michigan Bell, said the new equity capital was being sought in order to permit the company to carry on with its vast expansion and service improvement program.

Judge Belanger Lauded in Letter

Grosse Pointe Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers last week released a letter of commendation of the conduct of the city's municipal court.

The letter was written by William F. Smith, superintendent of plant protection at the Chevrolet-Detroit Gear and Axle Co., a division of GM.

Smith had been a spectator at the court session held November 12. His letter praised Judge C. Joseph Belanger for: "The prevailing dignity and respect... thoroughness in interrogation... which left no doubt as to (his) complete understanding of the case at hand before a fair verdict was rendered."

Smith continued: "During my 40 years in police work I have been in many court rooms, but never before was I so impressed. Judge Belanger's court is a typical example of American justice as planned by the founders of our Constitution."

Students to Get Advice On Selecting Careers

Gordon M. Trim, who is Director of Admissions at Babson Institute of Business Administration, located in Wellesley, Massachusetts, is planning to be at Detroit University School in Grosse Pointe Woods and at Grosse Pointe High School next week on Monday, December 8, to speak and to counsel those boys interested in making business their careers.

Mr. Trim, in his travels around the United States, has frequently pointed out the fact that, "There are more than 22,000 ways in which one may earn a living. Over 17,000 or 78 per cent of the jobs are in the broad areas of business and industry. The chances, therefore, are that nearly 8 out of 10 persons will ultimately find employment in the business and industrial world."

The players will troop the play for two months in schools in underprivileged areas of Greater Detroit. Youngsters from each school will be given roles in the play's "Fair" scene.

Yale Glee Club Coming Dec 20

One of the highlights of the Christmas vacation period will be the concert to be given by the Yale Glee Club on December 20 at the Music Hall.

The concert will be followed by a dance at the Country Club—a regular feature of the Yale Alumni Association's activities in Detroit.

Fifty-four Yale undergraduates, under the direction of Marshall Bartholomew, will give Detroit music lovers a program of old Yale songs, unusual variety songs and arrangements which have made these concerts so outstanding in the past.

Current plans call for the arrival of the Glee Club Saturday afternoon, December 20, the concert and dance that night, and the following day a tour of Greenfield Village, to be followed by a reception for the Glee Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ford. That night, they entrain for Chicago.

During Sunday, the Glee Club will give a concert for the Veterans at Dearborn Hospital.

This will be the last time Detroit will have an opportunity of hearing the Yale Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Bartholomew, who is retiring at the end of this season. Since 1921, the club has been under his direction and during this period has established an outstanding reputation for excellence in performance, having on two occasions, 1924, 1925, won the National Championship in the Inter-collegiate Glee Club Contests, participated in by student choruses from all parts of the United States.

Yale Glee Clubs have also taken first place in numerous regional competitions. The club has appeared in the principal cities in the United States and on five European tours—1928, 1932, 1936, 1939 and 1949—has been enthusiastically received in London, Paris, Brussels, Vienna, Budapest, Amsterdam and the principal cities of Scandinavia and Germany. Mr. Bartholomew will be succeeded by Fenno Heath, the present associate conductor of the club.

Madrigal Club Auditions Open for Women Singers

The Madrigal Club of Detroit announces its winter voice auditions. Women between the ages of 18 and 50 are invited to apply to the auditions chairman, Mrs. Otto Koch, 4212 Seneca, Detroit 14, listing training and experience. Positions are open in all sections.

Following its series of winter concerts, the Club will begin rehearsals the first of the year in preparation for its annual Spring Concert at the Institute of Arts under the direction of its new conductor, William Reddick, former director of the Ford Sunday Evening Hour chorus.

Ganci-Holt Vows Exchanged

St. Paul's on The Lake was the setting for the Thanksgiving morning marriage of Jean Elaine Holt and Joseph J. Ganci.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Harry F. Holt of Berlin, N. H., and Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ganci of Beverly road, formerly of Slemia, Malta.

Rosepointe pattern Pointe de Lyon lace trimmed the bodice of Jean's white taffeta wedding gown which had hoop skirt falling instep length. White fufu mums marked her prayer book.

A fingertip length bridal veil of silk illusion was held in place by a satin bound coronet of white braided tulle.

The bridal attendants were gowned in Copen blue velvet with bouffant skirts and brief jacket, of frothy nylon tulle. They wore matching velvet head-dresses and carried pale yellow mums and ivy.

Mrs. Edward A. King was her sister's matron of honor and Janet MacDonald was bridesmaid.

Assuming the duties of best man was John Gruppetta and the ushers were Jack Goodman and Paul Terbruggen.

Mrs. Holt was in navy blue faille for her daughter's wedding. She wore a small matching hat and corsage of yellow mums.

After the church service, there was a wedding breakfast at Hawthorne House following which the young Gancis left on a motor trip in Northern Michigan.

Speak Vows in St. Ambrose

White tulle mums and ivy were combined in the bridal bouquet carried by L'Amour Maryann Neeme who was married Saturday morning in St. Ambrose Church to Edmond John Schneider.

The bride's gown of white slipper satin was fashioned with fitted bodice and a bateau neckline edged in Alencon lace. A cathedral train finished her great skirt and her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a cap of matching satin and lace.

She wore her mother's wedding cross.

Cherie Nan Neeme was maid of honor for her sister and the maids were the bridegroom's sister, Marjorie Schneider, and Nancy Cook of Dearborn.

All wore frocks of pale green taffeta, floor length, and ivy mums were garlanded in their hair.

Cherie Nan carried bronze mums and gold ivy and the maids' bouquets were the same mums mingled with green ivy.

A gown of dusty rose lace and chiffon was worn by the bride's mother. Her flowers were rubrum lilies. Mrs. Schneider was in teal blue lace and chiffon and she pinned a gold orchid on her gown.

A breakfast for the wedding party followed the ceremony and in the evening the bride's parents entertained at a reception.

Urbans Observe Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Urban of Cranford lane, celebrated their silver anniversary on November 30, with a reception for their relatives and friends at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, Illinois. Both Mr. and Mrs. Urban are former Chicagoans.

Their daughter, Gloria traveled with them to Chicago for the event, and their son, Donald, a junior at Purdue University, also joined them for the celebration.

Another daughter, Marilyn, and her husband, a lieutenant in the Air Force, were unable to be present, as they are stationed at Albuquerque, New Mexico. The silver bride wore a rose beige lace dress over taffeta.

FAMOUS FIRSTS

The first printed book appeared in the ninth century A.D. in China, during the reign of the Tang Dynasty.

When a partner dies the surviving partner must do one of five things: (1) Liquidate; (2) Sell out to the heirs; (3) Take in the heirs as partners; (4) Find a new partner; (5) Buy out the heirs.

Most partners would like to buy out the heirs. But for how much? Don't wait until the partner dies to set the value of the business. A buy-and-sell agreement with your partner now, to take effect on the death of either one, is the sound procedure.

Where will the money come from? The simplest and most economical way to get the right amount when you need it is to have life insurance on the partner. It can be made payable in such a way that it will complete the buy-and-sell agreement, and the business will belong to the surviving partner or partners.

Meanwhile the cash value of the life insurance is a valuable asset. And if the partner lives so retirement age, it will supply pensions for them.

The Connecticut Mutual has helped with hundreds of partnership life insurance arrangements. We have a special department devoting full time to this type of work. Telephone or write today for our free booklet "Who Will Your Next Partner Be?" No cost or obligation.

Ruth Becherer Bride Of Frederic Chartier

Parisian Claims Pointe Girl at Altar of St. Paul's On The Lake; Bride Is Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maximilian Becherer of Essex Drive; to Live in France

A romance that had its beginnings on the campus of the University of Munich culminated at the altar of St. Paul's on the Lake Saturday morning when Ruth Mariele Becherer of Grosse Pointe became the bride of Frederic Jean-Marie Chartier of Paris.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maximilian Becherer of Essex drive and the bridegroom is the son of M. and Mme. Jacques Chartier of Paris and St. Tropez.

As the young couple knelt at the altar of St. Paul's, the bridegroom's family attended a special mass in Paris.

It is to Paris that Mr. Chartier will take his bride upon the completion of his post graduate studies in international law at Yale University.

For her wedding, Ruth wore robes of blush pink satin, classically severe to background the exquisite full length veil of antique Lunneville lace which fell from a Juliet of the same lace. It was the veil worn by the former Nancy Stair when she became the Comtesse Pierre de Rostang.

On her bridal prayer book, Ruth carried a spray of gardenias and ivy.

Jane Briggs Fisher and Anne Schroeder attended the bride.

They were identically gowned in waltz length frocks of teal blue taffeta worn with matching hats and shoes. They carried lace frilled colonial bouquets of yellow and white carnations.

Little Joan Baer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Baer, served as flower girl wearing yellow taffeta frock with white gloves and a blossom halo in her locks. She carried a miniature colonial bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

Hans Becherer, brother of the bride, was best man and guests were seated by Otto Krause of Bloemfontein, South Africa, classmate of the bridegroom at Yale.

Mrs. Becherer attended her daughter's wedding in gown of toast lace worn over taffeta. A tight fitting jacket completed the costume and her flowers were a spray of green orchids.

The wedding party and members of the family attended a breakfast following the ceremony. After their motor trip through the East, the young couple will live in New Haven while the bridegroom attends Yale.

The bridegroom received his degree in law at the University of Paris.

Plan Discussion On State Taxes

A panel discussion on State Taxation will be featured at the next general meeting of the League of Women Voters to be held Monday, December 8 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Burt Lindzey, 921 Balfour road. Facing the legislature when it convenes in January is a rapidly mounting state deficit. Certain local governments have begun to consider slashing their police and fire departments because of lack of funds, and there have been rumors that in some districts schools will have to close. Reasons for this crisis will be brought out by the League Taxation Chairman, Mrs. John Remillet, and her panel assistants, Mrs. Verne Sidnam and Mrs. Karl Van Leuven. Following the meeting there will be an informal discussion period and coffee will be served. All who are interested are invited to attend the meeting.

Women to Give Concert Dec. 5

Three women instrumentalists from the Grosse Pointe area will appear with the Detroit Women's Symphony Orchestra at its first concert of the season Friday, December 5, at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 8:30 p.m. They are Jane Armstrong, 266 Williams, who plays the tympani; Lorena Cole (Mrs. Walton Cole), 349 Rivard, viola; and Mary Lou Hornberger, 1572 Cook, trumpet. Victor Kolar will conduct the all-woman group and soloists will be Arlene Seaman, cellist member of the orchestra; Karl Haas, Detroit pianist and teacher, and Ernst Victor Wolf, pianist and harpsichordist head of the Piano Department at Michigan State College. The orchestra, now in its sixth year, has achieved success in fulfilling the purpose for which it was organized, that of providing a creative outlet to women musicians of the metropolitan area. Ten concerts under the masterful direction of Victor Kolar have given pleasure to more than 15,000 Detroiters. It offers opportunity to all women instrumentalists of sufficient proficiency, professional and non-professional, for ensemble training and expression in the symphonic field of music. The orchestra's 63 members include home-makers, students, music teachers, career women and professional musicians. From all parts of the metropolitan area they come each Tuesday night from September until May for rehearsal at the Woodward Avenue Baptist Church.

Church to Give Xmas Pageant

"God So Loved the World" is the title of the new Christmas Pageant to be presented by the young people of Messiah Lutheran Church in the church at Kercheval and Lakewood avenues, on Sundays, December 7 and 14 at 8 p.m. This is the ninth annual pageant to be presented by this group of more than 100 youths.

Mrs. Vera Schuessler, formerly director of the Detroit Lutheran Male Chorus, will direct a special Pageant Choir in singing arrangements of familiar Christmas carols and anthems. A children's choir, prepared under direction of Miss Evelyn Rink, will also sing in the pageant this year. Theodore Albrecht, church organist, will be at the console.

Miss Janet Miller will portray the role of Mary for the first time, and William Brock will have the role of Joseph for the first time. The Rev. A. H. A. Loeber, pastor of Messiah Church, will tell the Christmas Story as Narrator. He will be assisted by Miss Ruth Albrecht and Miss Carol Edwards who will entone Scripture prophecies relating to the Nativity narrative.

In eight colorful scenes the Pageant will portray the prophetic vision of the old Testament, the Annunciation to Mary, the arrival of Mary and Joseph at Bethlehem, the angelic announcement to the shepherds, the coming of the wise men to Herod at Jerusalem, and the visit of the shepherds, wise men, and a group of young children to the manger at Bethlehem.

The final scene depicts the naming and presentation of Jesus in the Temple, where Simeon, portrayed by Ralph Benson, plays a prominent part. In this scene a representative group from various walks of life, and another in native costumes of foreign nations pay homage to the Christ-child.

Besides the traditional Christmas carols, the Choirs will sing "The Annunciation," "The Magnificat," "The Inn at Bethlehem," "While Shepherds Watched," "Fanfare for Christmas Day," "March of the Wise Men," "Shepherds' Song," "Mary's Lullaby," and the "Nunc Dimittis." Soprano soloist is Mrs. Joyce Decker, and Mrs. Marjorie Caswell is contralto soloist.

Costuming is under the direction of a committee headed by Miss Jeanette Hanson and Miss Gwen Gillespie. Miss Charlotte Kidder and Walter Roberts, president of Messiah Young People's Society, are in charge of properties and direction.

Singers Booked By Town Hall

The Five White Guards, popular singing group of theatre and night club fame, will give a concert at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, December 10, at 11 o'clock in Fisher Theatre.

This attraction will replace the previously scheduled engagement of General Lewis B. Hershey, The Selective Service, chief, notified Town Hall management this week of his cancellation "due to unforeseen circumstances beyond my control."

Ernie McLean, well known baritone, will direct the chorists in a gay program of Christmas carols, songs from opera and musical comedy hits. A group of selected service tunes will be featured by the group.

The White Guards appeared recently at the Stevens, Edgewater Beach, and Palmer House hotels in Chicago. They have given "repeat" performances at the Roxy and Capitol Theatres in New York, and at Manhattan's Pierre and Astor Hotels. Each member of the chorus is a soloist in his own right.

Church Retires Arthur F. Neff

Arthur F. Neff, Director of Christian Education at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for more than 27 years, has retired from that position. In asking to be relieved of his duties, Mr. Neff said that illness and an impending operation caused him to make the request.

His retirement was made official at a special meeting of the officers of the church, taking effect on November 26. A committee of five has been appointed to work out a plan for Mr. Neff's retirement benefits.

In announcing the retirement the church issued the following statement:

"For more than a quarter of a century Mr. Neff has been a member of this community, a tireless and devoted worker for the common good, particularly in his position in a growing parish. Under his guidance the Sunday school work of The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church has advanced to large proportions and many week-day activities have received his helpful co-operation. He has been the friend of many and particularly of the very young. The retirement which illness has made necessary for him will make a difference to hundreds of men, women and children, in the local church and in the community.

"A little over two years ago, at the time of his twenty-fifth anniversary, Mr. Neff was honored at a banquet by the members of the parish he had served so long. The good wishes expressed at that time will convey to him now congratulations upon the service he has rendered and wish him blessing during the years of his retirement."

Since 1937 the Federal government has acquired title to about 65,000,000 acres of land in addition to 395,000,000 previously held, says the Council of State Chambers of Commerce.

May Sell Home In Palm Beach

Taxes and maintenance costs on the $5,000,000 Palm Beach home of Mrs. Anna Dodge, of Detroit, widow of Horace E. Dodge, Sr., have apparently cut too deeply into her motor car fortune, which has been estimated at $150,000,000.

Mrs. Dodge's attorneys have petitioned the city council to change the zoning laws so that the home, "La Playa Riente," may be sold for use as a private club.

One of the show places of Florida, the Spanish-type castle has 75 rooms and requires 20 servants to maintain it.

Sen. Aiken of Vermont says the U. S. Department of Agriculture probably would lose at least $5,000,000 as a result of carelessness, mismanagement, and some outright dishonesty in the grain storage program.

Mercy Students Launch Project

During Thanksgiving recess 70 Mercy College history students began gathering material for a research project in family origins designed to increase their international understanding.

By interviewing their own families and consulting family records, diaries, scrapbooks, and even cookbooks, the students hope to gain an understanding of the racial and cultural, social and economic background of the people of Michigan and the Great Lakes region.

Students will question family members about ancestry, education, and time of migration to the United States, as well as original locale of settlement. Customs concerning food, dress, amusements, hobbies, folkways and religious observances will be tabulated. Languages spoken in the home, travel abroad to the homeland and comparison of opportunities in the land of origin and the U.S. will be considered. Dr. Dora Gunderson, Chairman of the Social Relations division which is conducting the project, believes it will give students an insight into part of the larger movement of migration of peoples, the history of U.S. immigration and the different types of materials, or "historical sources" used by historians.

Students from this area who will undertake the research include: Rosemary Jankowski, 830 S. Oxford; Sharon Sullivan, 856 Barrington; and Mary Margaret Reno, 1311 Cadieux. The project will be completed by February, 1953.

Mystery Guest Nicely Behaved

Mrs. Edward Metzzen, of 266 Lewiston road, told Grosse Pte. Farms police that while she and Mr. Metzzen were attending a Thanksgiving dinner party, an unidentified man telephoned their home, asked for them, and, when told by the baby sitter that the Metzzen were not at home, said that he would arrive at 9 p.m. to wait for them.

The baby sitter admitted him to the house. She said that he stayed for about an hour, reading and watching television. He was described as about 19 years old and of medium build. He gave his name as Bud Johnson, but Mrs. Metzzen said that she knew of no one by that name. Police said nothing was disturbed in the house.

On the Subject of Giving

Thoughts on donations and contributions keep whirling through our mind, and it becomes increasingly clear that there isn't enough charity in our contemplations, especially for this time of the year. Doubtless we have been hearing and reading too many factual anecdotes and rumors about individual participants in the financing of political campaigns. And charity drives are always with us.

We have read in the columns, and we have heard of specific cases in which the owners of businesses have been direly threatened unless they contributed heavily to the campaign of a candidate favored by the concern which holds the power to dictate their success or failure.

To us this is like having the printer tell us that unless we kick in some heavy sugar for his boy, he won't get out our paper next week. The idea is more than a bit nauseating.

Wherein lies the difference between this procedure and that of the racketeer who wrecks the joint unless protection is paid? Both are completely un-American and neither should be given any more tolerance than the lice which the perpetrators personify.

We are equally annoyed with the practices of some of those who solicit in our charity drives. There is as much difference between philanthropy and being pressured into a donation as there is between black and white. What one gives should be his or her own business and the one who is most truly charitable at heart is the one who is the least anxious to have any publicity accompany the gift.

We have heard of instances where the specific amounts donated have been sneeringly bruited about at social gatherings. And we have known of several cases where this information has been carried back to the donors. The charity has been permanently scratched from the list of those who have been maligned. While this may be rough on the charity, being made to suffer for the stupidity of one canvasser, we cannot in the least blame the donor.

We knew of one outstanding case in an eastern city some years ago. A man who normally contributed $50 annually to the Community Chest Fund, had consummated a particularly profitable business deal (for one in his bracket). He decided that he would pass on to the Chest as much of the profit as he could afford, and sent in his check for $1,500, before he had even been solicited.

With the drive still short of its goal in the closing days, headquarters sent a representative around to see the man, bearing his check. He was told that it was obvious that anyone who could make a $1,500 contribution could certainly afford to step up the donation in order to insure the success of the campaign.

The man who had made what he considered a very magnanimous gesture, asked to see his check. When it was handed to him, he tore it in shreds and informed the solicitor that the Chest had had its last cent from him.

Such completely ill-advised procedures can undo in a few minutes all the educational progress that has been made to carry on our charity drives successfully. The person who has been the victim of such stupidity becomes an active opponent of the whole movement and may be lost forever as a supporter.

Let's Be Fair

It is to be hoped that the news story telling of a robbery committed in a Woods residence by two members of the Anti-Aircraft Artillery forces stationed in the Pointe, will not affect the attitude of local residents towards the other men in these batteries.

It would be eminently unfair to the other hundreds of soldiers to make them suffer for the act of two of their fellows.

It is most unfortunate that this has come up at this time. Relations between the soldiers and the residents got off to a bad start last summer, but since then much has been accomplished towards making the men in uniform realize they are most cordially welcome here.

It is indeed too bad that two of the men betrayed the trust and hospitality of some of the residents, and they should be punished to the full extent of the law. But to hold their act against all of the other soldiers who are stationed in the Pointe would be just as shameful as to condemn an entire student body for the moronic actions of a pair of misguided youngsters who happened to be pupils of the institution.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir: In December Ladies' Home Journal, "Operation Kid-Lift" is the heart-warming story of one of the most unusual landings ever made by the U.S. Marines. During some of the heaviest fighting in Korea the marines learned of 200 starving and freezing Korean orphans who were trapped in no-man's land, foraging in the snow for bark and scraps of frozen garbage. In the cruel Korean winter, it was a miracle any of them were alive. Marine Air Group 12 was stationed just below the 38th Parallel, the UN's northernmost airstrip, and every day the fighter planes roared off on their deadly mission with monotonous regularity. Yet the marines and U.S. Navy Airmen found time to risk their lives and equipment to go in and rescue these innocent children. These marines established an orphanage, found clothes and food and showered these homeless children with kindness to win them over to the American way of life. While it is not a Christmas story, it is a moving example of human compassion and it may one day be known as the most important story ever told about the war in Korea. The Marine Reserve Corps is launching its campaign to collect toys for underprivileged children during the December Journal sales period. This campaign, called "Toys for Tots" began on November 21 and will run until Christmas. The Marines executive officers feel the Journal story will prove to be a great stimulant to the launching of this campaign, so they, as well as we, are quite eager for your cooperation in bringing this story to the attention of the American public. We hope you will find it worthy of your attention. Cordially yours, Charles W. MacKenzie, Curtis Circulation Co.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Within my earthly temple there's a crowd. There's one of us that's humble; one that's proud. There's one that's broken-hearted for his sins, And one who, unrepentant, sits and grins. There's one who loves his neighbor, as himself, And one who cares for naught but fame and pelf. From much corroding care would I be free If once I could determine which is ME!" (Edward S. Martin)

If you need glasses to read this column, then it is for YOU. Or for that matter if you need glasses in order to see that the object across the street is your best friend and not a cow... then this is also for you. We have suddenly become eyeglass conscious due to a sudden flux on the part of people in general wanting to try on other people's glasses. At several parties we've attended recently, the dinner table pastime seems to be swapping spectacles to see who can see what through whose glasses. This strange new "game" is what caused us to be aware of and curious about the many varieties of eyeglass frames.

Our earliest knowledge of glasses stems from grandma's day when all glass frames looked alike. A thin gold rim around the lenses and gold hooks that went behind the ears. We remember them particularly because grandma was always looking for hers and they were always sitting on top of her head. Through the years, we were vaguely aware of new type frames usually made of tortoise shell but we paid them no mind until we were obliged to wear glasses ourselves and were surprised to find how many different kinds there are.

To get back to our dinner parties... at one, nearly everyone present wore glasses and there were no two frames alike. We were particularly impressed with one woman guest whose frames were gold and contained several REAL diamonds! The lens itself is also a fascinating object in eyeglasses. Ferinstance, all the folks who tried on OUR glasses said they could see better through them than they could through their own! This makes our optometrist look mighty special to us. On the other hand, we couldn't see a dang thing through anyone else's glasses.

The conversation that accompanies this specs exchange deal also fascinates us. One will say, "Are you far or near sighted?" THAT is something we have never been able to get straight... so being a creature of the direct line, no matter how ungrammatical... WE ask: "Can you see good close to, or far away?" Their answer tells us what we want to know whether they are near-sighted, far-sighted or hind-sighted.

One woman we quizzed looked at us haughtily (we thought) and said, "I have astigmatism!" She sounded as if she had the Hope Diamond, which made us feel rather inferior because all we have is the inability to see a phone dial without our trusty manufactured peepers. In fact we can go a step further. Not long ago the man in our life gave us a very fancy ring with a large topaz "cornered" by four small rubies and at the base of the gold setting was (and still is) a band of "glitter." A few days ago, we dropped the ring and wanting to be sure we hadn't cracked the stone, we got out a magnifying glass and found that the glitter was several chip diamonds! So much for OUR eyes!

In our intense desire to get to the bottom of this eyeglass business, we did our research with the help of Mr. George O. Johnston... the head of the Johnston Optical Company. He tells us that there are a thousand and one different style frames for glasses today. Since the advent of the laminated plastic frames there is no end to which one can go.

You no longer enter an optical emporium and hand over your prescription to be put in just any frame at all. You have a choice... a wide one... one that you might have dreamed up during a nightmare. For example, if you are ordering a laminated plastic you might have some pheasant feathers inserted in the frame just to please your bird shooting husband. You could also have miniature photographs of your aunt Tillie surrounding the frame or minute locks of Junior's baby hair. (WE HOPE this won't give you ideas!)

Anyway, whichever way you look at it (with glasses, that is), this business of helping us to see better is a wonderful thing. We have often wondered what folks did way back when there WEREN'T such things. How did the little woman sew a fine seam; keep from putting too much salt in the stew; tell the postman from her husband or on the other hand, tell her husband from the postman? It gives us pause for thought.

Winter Asthma Caused by Dust

Wheezing and coughing during the winter times are usually due to an allergic illness similar to hay fever, but caused by house dust instead of pollen, according to a University of Michigan allergy specialist.

Most hay fever and asthma sufferers experience their discomfort during the pollen seasons of spring, summer and fall, Dr. Robert G. Lovell, instructor in internal medicine and assistant in the University of Health Service allergy clinic, says.

But he explains that there is still another batch of "weezers" who pick up where the pollen "sneezers" leave off.

It is easy to understand why there is plenty of dust in the home during the late fall and winter, he explains. Furnaces are on, windows generally closed, blankets and quilts are added to bedding, and household pets usually remain indoors longer periods of time during cold weather.

Dr. Lovell asserts that often these dust-sensitive persons are unaware that it's this allergy to house dust that's causing their trouble.

Fortunately, the modern physician suspects asthma when he hears a case history such as this, he says. The doctor usually is able to establish the diagnosis with some simple skin tests and to recommend measures which often bring complete relief.

People with winter asthma, in many cases, develop additional sensitivities making the diagnosis and treatment of their condition much more difficult, Dr. Lovell adds.

All persons with shortness of breath should be attended by a competent physician he advises.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

"How do they celebrate Christmas in Czechoslovakia?" "Where did the Christmas tree originate?" "How do you say Merry Christmas in Greek?" "Any new recipes for Christmas cookies?" "The kids in our neighborhood are going to give a Christmas play. Do you have one with lots of music so that a girl with a very good voice could be the lead?"

These are samples of the many questions that are being asked these days at the library desks. All the libraries' books and pamphlets about Christmas have been gathered together for your convenience. Bring in your requests and we'll try to find the answers.

If it's a long story to read aloud, there are many books from which to choose. THE LONG CHRISTMAS and THIS WAY TO CHRISTMAS, both by Ruth Sawyer, herself a superb story teller, include many good tales. THE CHRISTMAS ANNA ANGEL also by this author tells of Christmas in Hungary. The gay colorful illustrations by Kate Serech help to make it a favorite choice with children 7 to 12.

May Lambertson Becker has edited THE HOME BOOK OF CHRISTMAS which includes stories, verse and songs for all ages.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST CHRISTMAS STORIES edited by Eric Posselt gives tales typical of 23 countries. Last year Ruth M. Elmquist edited an anthology of poems, stories and short pieces from the Christian Herald, FIFTY YEARS OF CHRISTMAS.

Among other satisfactory anthologies are STORIES TO READ AT CHRISTMAS by Elsie Singmaster, MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU by Wilhelmina Harper, THE SHINING TREE AND OTHER CHRISTMAS STORIES, THE CHILDREN'S BOOK OF CHRISTMAS STORIES by Asa Don Dickenson and a selection made by the Association for Childhood Education TOLD UNDER THE CHRISTMAS TREE.

THE CHRIST CHILD illustrated by Maud and Miska Petersham has the King James text. The full page pictures interpret all the beauty of the nativity story for the child too young to read.

There is Christmas poetry and verse for all ages including a variety of editions of that old nursery favorite A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS better known to the children as "Twas the Night Before Christmas." No American Christmas with young children is complete without that.

You need not be a Barmy more or a Laughton to read Dickens' CHRISTMAS CAROL aloud to the family. It still holds top rating.

There are many well illustrated collections of Christmas carols with words and music including the delightful SING FOR CHRISTMAS by Opal Wheeler. As well as giving the music, the author here tells how the songs came to be written or how they were sung long ago.

If you are the Martha of the household, you will be interested in THE CHRISTMAS COOKIE BOOK by V. S. Pasley. "The author has translated and revised the old traditional recipes to fit modern methods of measurement, mixing and baking."

If you are clever with your hands you can achieve wonderful results with William W. Klenke's little book CANDLEMAKING. This includes many helpful pictures and diagrams.

A book received just in time for the holiday season is DEC-ORATING FOR JOYFUL OCCASIONS by Marjorie W. Young. An entire chapter is devoted to Christmas.

We cannot begin to mention all the Christmas material which we have but there is a generous supply which we hope you will find useful. However, to insure against the well running dry, we shall appreciate having the books and pamphlets on this subject returned promptly, even before the date due if they have served your needs.

Alger Memorial Hall Dedicated

The 24th Anniversary of the founding of the Detroit Historical Museum, was marked by the dedication of the Russell A. Alger Memorial Hall of Patriotism. Members of the Detroit Historical Society and Commission and descendants of General Russell A. Alger were among the many guests who attended the ceremonies.

C. B. Burnett, chairman of the Dedication Committee served as master of ceremonies. Others participating in the program were Henry D. Brown, Director of the Museum and George W. Stark, City Historiographer who spoke on the $50,000 gift of Mrs. Charles B. Pike of Chicago.

Mrs. Pike, daughter of Governor Alger, provided the initial impetus for funds to erect the new museum and as a memorial to her father. Continuing in the ceremony, Frensis M. Brown, Detroit Historical Society Trustee commented on the significance of such gifts as Mrs. Pike's in building toward a better appreciation of our heritage.

A plaque which will mark the Hall of Patriotism as the Russell A. Alger Memorial was presented by John Witherspoon, City Controller and accepted by Dr. Raymond C. Miller Board Member of the Detroit Historical Society and Secretary of the Detroit Historical Commission. Response was made on behalf of the family by Alger Shelden and Bartlett M. Frost, Assistant Director of the museum, spoke of the exhibit program of the Hall of Patriotism.

Gal Sailor Puts Men to Shame

We thought the famous North Channel Race last September 27 climaxed the sailing season for all local skippers. Last week-end November 28 through 30, Barbara Slocum, as a member of the Michigan State College sailing team claimed the distinction of being the last local tar to pilot a boat in 1952. The Mid West Inter-Collegiate Dinghy Championship series in Chicago gave Babs this honor. Her team, which included four boys and three girls, earned seventh place in the 14 race series with 199 points. Babs' mom told us that her sailing daughter has been sailing every weekend since going back to school and has traveled to Columbus, Ohio, Ann Arbor and Chicago to follow her favorite sport. The round robin series was sailed in the harbor of the Belmont Yacht Club with four sailed on Friday, seven on Saturday and three on Sunday. All were sailed in freezing weather which made the spectators wonder "Are all sailors crazy?" Dave Kelly from Grand Rapids, Michigan acted as crew for Barbara and did yeoman service with the balling can during the series. A 21 year-old senior at MSC and a member of the Alpha Phi sorority Barbara is considered one of the best gal skippers in the school. She began sailing in 1945 in a catboat with her brother, Sonny, who is currently stationed in Tokyo as a court reporter in the Army Headquarters. Actually it was Sonny's departure for the armed services that gave Babs her first chance to prove herself as one of the top skippers in the local Luder fleet and in DRYA competition. Who said the gals are the "weaker sex?"

Little League

(Continued from Page 1) rious steps necessary to get the program underway by early spring. Was Started in 1939 Little League baseball had its beginning in and around Williamsport in 1939. It is open to boys from the ages of 9 to 12 and is played exactly like big league baseball except that it is adapted to the physical capabilities of boys of that age. The exceptions are the size of the diamond, distance of pitcher's box to home plate, number of innings, distance between bases and equipment. For example, instead of using steel-spiked shoes, boys in Little League wear a special canvas shoe with rubber cleats. All boys must also wear a specially-designed protective cap while at bat. Other Whites Enthused After hearing of the program contemplated for Grosse Pointe Farms boys, many fathers in other Grosse Pointe communities expressed a desire to get behind a Little League program in their own communities.

KID BITS

By NANCY MacDONALD

The Canteen at the Memorial Center has been a huge success so far this semester—and the one held Friday, November 21, was no exception.

Some of the kids seen dancing to records were John Bonbright and Ruth Ann Snell, Mike Luberto and Joan Carver, Kay Jameson and Marilyn Howe, Terry Snowday and Barb Marco, and Dave Cobb and Margie Payne. Bill Marsden, Larry Daniels, Sally Rae, Evie Button, Dave Carruthers, Ginny Vlietinck, Mary Manning, Fred Albrecht, Jerry Lorenz, and Barb Fisher were also seen there talking up a storm.

On Saturday, November 22, lots of kids surprised Margaret Gardner at a birthday party in her honor. It was held at Carolyn Crain's house and some of the kids who helped to celebrate it were Delphine Walgenbach, Joyce Ayling, Shirley Stopin, Nancy Bruneau, Glenda Geyer, Barb Baro, Roxanne Werbeck, Louise Hutchins, Sue Miller, Nancy Fricke, and Jackie DeClerk. All of them agreed that the chicken ala king Carolyn served was tops.

That Saturday was also the final showing of Pointe Players' play "What a Life" at the high school. The place was literally packed with kids, which is traditional for the last night of a school production. Some of the ones we saw during intermission were Bob Prince and Molly Marshall, Terry Keys and Janie Botsford, Mike Luberto and Joan Carver, Bruce Coleman and Joy Arnold, and Dick Saunders and Erno Harding. Pat Burke and Nancy Bruneau, Dave Terris and Mary Hoover, Anne Blashill and Kurt Ewend, and Nancy Thomas and Chuck Beronious were just a few more who agreed that "What a Life" is one of the greatest plays yet.

After the last night of the play, it is traditional for Pointe Players to have a cast and crew party. This year it was held at Mary Sue Morgan's house. Some of the kids who went there after the play were Sally Fisher, Midge Stapleton, Liz Mitchell, Glenn Hutchens, Bruce Jaquish, Ginny Halbrook, John Corey, Bob Richardson, Nancy Ryan, Ray Eddy, Ena Casey, Dick Craig, Karen Temple, Marilyn Maynard, Sig Olsen, Betty Sykes, and Anne Orebough. Some of the "stars" of the show who turned up at the party afterwards were Dick Gallette, Carol DeBruin, Don McCarty, Janie Hester, Millie Rowe, Jay Newberry, Bill Brabb, and Dan Leach.

Sunday, Nov. 22 seemed to be a good time for lots of us to celebrate the Thanksgiving season, and teas seemed to be the order of the day.

Diane Gabriel was one of those who highlighted the weekend with a tea at her house. Jane Condon, Ena Casey, Shirley Pressel, Janet Roberts, Mary Manning, Doris Rock, Betsy Squire, Sally Sullivan, Bev. Woods, Carol Parnall, Tina Bady, and Carol DeKorse "went ape" over the luscious sandwiches Diane served. Also sipping tea were Helen Eigeman, Donna Goodrow, Emny Galbraith and Carol Piotrosky.

That same afternoon, another tea was in progress at Meg Morgan's. Among the seventy girls to show up at Meg's Sunday afternoon were Barb Berger, Paula Mathewson, Janet Poppen, Susie Sliomon, Mary Shenefield, Joan Sluggett, Joan Friedle, Kay Martin, Barb Walden, Marilyn Mower, Barbara Bendlin, Dorothy Cullers, Nicky Treat, Irene Schiele, and Mary Ann Dominic. The Thanksgiving vacation opened officially with the annual Tuxis dance which was held on Wednesday, November 26. The name was "Cranberry Crunch" and the theme for the decorations was the way a typical boy spends his time preparing for Thanksgiving family dinner.

Dancing to the music of Earle Perkins were Carolyn Mitchell and Tom Richards, Marilyn Howe and Kay Jameson, Joanie Carver and Mike Luberto, Barb McGrath and Dave McGee, Karen Temple and Pete Wardle, Jane Botsford and Don Mendelsohn, Sally Novak and George Vollis, and Molly Marshall and Bob Prince.

Homemade cookies and ginger ale furnished the necessary refreshments for kids like Martha Hubbard and Dan Leach, Donna Robertson and Chuck Feucht, Judy Zeeb and Miller Foster, Barb Lowe and Clem Martin, Annette Danna and Bill Taylor, Audrey Gayer and Bill Tyson, Maral Molyneaux and Ernie Nigg and Marlou Koch and Dave Belmore.

They were also lots of the old "alumni" Tuxis members there that night. Some of them were Ann Watson and Frank Hagan, Peggy Moreland and Bill Rexford, Betsy Squire and Tom Pfeifle, and Patsy Barrett and Dan Webb. That same night some of the girls dropped over to Ena Casey's house. Some of the kids who nibbled on potato chips and chewed the fat were Sue Cleminson, Donna Goodrow, Shirley Pressel, Emny Galbraith, Sally Fisher, Jane Condon and Barb Eyre.

Friday, November 28, was the day of the square dance at the War Memorial. Some of the kids who "Do-si-doed and promenaded to the calls of Grosse Pointes own talented Jim Blashill were Bruce Crowley and Carol Parnell, Wayne Stavoe and Ann Blashill, Terry Snowday and Barb Marco, Clem Martin and Barb Lowe and Dave Terris and Mary Hoover.

There were lots of kids at Skip Clark's that night, too. Skip had sort of an "impromptu" party at his house for some of the kids in his grade. Some of those who spent the evening dancing and eating were Jerry Goebel, Dick Anslow, Jane Condon, Pat Smith, Karen Temple, Bill Miller, Barb Coombe, Dave McKee, Audrey Sneege, Walt Hoover, Terry Kuhn, Phil Beach, Glenna Howell, Wayne Miller and Don McCarty.

Saturday, the 29th, Jane Condon's house was the scene of another party. Just a few of those there were Skip Clark, Earle Lyon, Sally Fisher, Ginny Halbrook, and John Corey.

Problems of Aging Studied at Workshop

"The problems of aging are the problems of everyone," Dr. Frank J. Sladen, Medical Consultant, Henry Ford Hospital, said in announcing the first over-all Workshop on services to the rapidly growing group of aging persons in Detroit.

Sponsored by United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, the Workshop will provide a forum to discuss problems of aging, to describe community services now available, to study ways in which opportunities for older people can be widened and to stimulate positive thinking and develop healthy attitudes towards our aging population.

The Workshop will take up the problems of aging in the area of health, arranging, housing and living arrangements, spiritual well-being and recreation, education and income opportunities. The Workshop is prompted by the interest in the increasing numbers of persons of retirement age in the metropolitan area. According to the last census, there were 111,000 Detroiters in that age group in 1950. The Workshop is designed to take a look at services offered to this segment of the population and to make plans to attempt to extend services where gaps are found.

Keynoting the Workshop will be Dr. William A. Sawyer, medical consultant to Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y. His company is one of the pioneers in developing programs to utilize the abilities and talents of aging employees and younger employees who suffer diseases usually associated with the later years.

Leading the workshop on "Realistic Opportunities for Education, Recreation and Increased Income" will be Jerome Kaplan, Group Work Consultant to the Hennepin County Welfare Board, Minneapolis, Minn. Mrs. J. Howard Stephenson, chairman of the Executive Committee, Group

Work and Recreation Federation of United Community Services, will be the local chairman.

The "How and Where of Housing for Older People" will be discussed by Ira S. Robbins, executive vice-president, Citizens Housing and Planning Council of New York. Dr. Wilma Donahue, Institute for Human Relations, University of Michigan, is the local chairman.

Dr. E. M. Bluestone, director emeritus, Monte Fiore Hospital, New York, will lead the discussion on "Maintaining Health in Later Life" assisted by Dr. Hazen Price, chairman, Michigan State Medical Society Committee on Geriatrics.

"Counseling Centers and Community Program Planning" will be under the direction of Mrs. Lucia Bing, director, project on aging, Health and Welfare Federation of Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Dean Charles Brink of the School of Social Work, Wayne University.

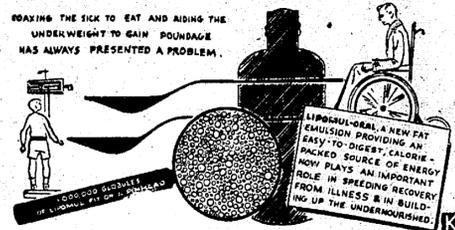

The Rev. Russell L. Dicks, professor of pastoral care, Divinity School, Duke University and editor of "Religion and Health" Magazine, will lead discussion on "Spiritual Well-Being." William J. Norton, vice-president, McGregor Fund, will be local chairman of this workshop.

Representatives of 150 United Community Services agencies and other public and private health and community agencies have indicated that they will take part in the Workshop.

Residents of Grosse Pointe serving on the Planning Committee for the Workshop are: Glenn M. Coulter, 214 Merriweather road; Mrs. Theodore Buttrick Jr., 131 Moran road; Suzanne Copland, 61 Moran road; Mrs. George Schemm, 16845 Maumee avenue; Mrs. James B. Webber, Jr., 26 Provenal road; John C. Manning, 1113 Harvard.

Dr. Frank J. Sladen, chairman for the Workshop, resides at 360 Lincoln road.

SCIENCE and HEALTH

New Aid for the Undernourished

One of the biggest problems in getting sick people well is coaxing them to eat enough. Even people who are well need a balanced diet of proteins (meat, eggs and cheese), carbohydrates (sugars and starches) and fats. Hospitalized patients require an extra heavy diet of proteins. But the best use of these proteins cannot be made without an adequate supply of carbohydrates or fats, for proper balance.

Because of the properties of fats, including them in a sick person's diet has usually presented a problem. Lipomul, a new fat emulsion which can be taken by mouth, appears to have solved this problem by providing a quick source of both energy and calories. This relatively new fat emulsion, developed by The Upjohn Company, Kalamazoo, Mich., is playing an important role in the treatment of various disease conditions such as polio, TB, cancer, severe burns, the condition after surgery, in pancreatic insufficiency in infants and children and in uremia and peptic ulcer.

Navy Offering Big Opportunity

Lieutenant R. E. Wright, of the Navy Recruiting Service, has announced that there is no waiting list at the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station in Detroit. Up to this time it has been necessary to wait for a period of four to six weeks prior to actual enlistment.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 30 can now be accepted for immediate enlistment in any of the special programs which the Navy offers, providing they are physically and mentally qualified. High school graduates who meet specified mental standards can be assured of attending one of the Navy's 34 special trade schools.

Lt. Wright pointed out that the Navy is offering young men more advantages now than ever before. Such benefits as higher pay, good food, clean living spaces, free medical and dental attention, travel and education are available to all young men, now enlisting. He also stated that the trade training available in the Navy prepares young men of today for some 4000 jobs.

"The Navy," said Lt. Wright, "is also offering the best retirement plan possible. Men who enlist now can be retired upon completion of 20 years active service with high retirement pay."

Young men who are interested in all of the advantages mentioned by Lt. Wright are requested to contact the Navy Recruiting Office in Room 429, on the fourth floor of the New Federal Building, Fort and Shelby Streets, Detroit, or by calling Woodward 3-9330, extension 402.

Employees Ask Better Working Conditions

At an executive session of the Grosse Pointe Woods city council on Monday night, December 1, council members considered an appeal submitted by employees of the city's highway department for improvement of working conditions.

The first of the requests, with which the council was in agreement, was that first aid equipment be supplied at the department garage and on some of the vehicles.

The council disapproved the proposal, however, that supervisory employees be prohibited from operating department equipment. The employees plead that supervisors taking any part in department operations in capacities other than administrative would curtail employment opportunities. The council disagreed.

The council did agree to full payment on all legal holidays (6) and payment of time and a half for work on those days.

The employees also requested that unused sick leave be accumulated and attached to regular vacation time. The council disapproved the request but did move to add half of the unused days of one year to the regularly provided number, one day each month, of the next year.

The council rejected a plea for a 20-cent hourly wage hike. They consented to an additional 5c, however, which brought the Woods level to within one cent of the highest hourly wage paid by local communities.

A few drops of toilet water or cologne in the rinse water of your lingerie will give you double pleasure: a "lift" from the scent when you are ironing the garment; a sense of being well-dressed when you wear the fragrant slip.

The council rejected a plea for a 20-cent hourly wage hike. They consented to an additional 5c, however, which brought the Woods level to within one cent of the highest hourly wage paid by local communities.

A Message to Our Customers

About the NEW GAS RATES

New gas rates authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission became effective November 21, 1952 for customers of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

The new rates will make only two changes in the gas bills of our residential customers in the Detroit area:

1. The discount provided for prompt payment of your bill is reduced from 10 percent to 3 percent.
2. The price of gas consumed over 2,000 cubic feet per month is increased by three-tenths of a cent per hundred cubic feet.

Gas rates of our industrial customers have been increased proportionately.

These changes in your gas rates were made necessary by substantial increases in wages, taxes and the wholesale cost of natural gas.

We have been paying these higher costs for many months and selling the gas to you at the old rates.

That couldn't go on for long, of course, if we were to stay in business.

Gas Still The Cheapest Fuel

These new rates will add about 21 cents per month to the bill of the average Detroit customer who uses gas for cooking and water heating. For you who enjoy the comfort, convenience and cleanliness of gas heat, the new rates will add an average of only about 28 cents a week to the annual cost of heating your home. So you will continue to buy gas heat at a bargain price. By far the best fuel—Gas will still be cheaper than coal and cheaper than oil.

Since 1941 the cost of everything you use—and the cost of everything we use to serve you—has been going up. But the price of gas is substantially the same as before World War II.

You Must Have Good Service

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company must maintain its high standard of service to its customers and continue to expand to meet the needs of a growing Community. Our revised rates will help to make this possible.

And, may we repeat, those who are heating their homes with gas will continue to do so at a lower cost than with either coal or oil.

Sincerely yours,

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY
HENRY TUTTLE
President

Art Institute Honors DaVinci

With the opening of the exhibition, "The Inventions of Leonardo Da Vinci" on Sunday, November 30, at the Detroit Institute of Arts, the world's motor city salutes the man who foresaw the airplane, the military tank, the machine gun and the cylinder gear five centuries ago.

Leonardo Da Vinci not only painted the Mona Lisa and the Last Supper. He was the most prolific inventor the world has seen.

This exhibition, commemorating the 500th anniversary of the master's birth, vividly presents his scientific side in a series of 25 working models of his inventions. Completing the picture of Da Vinci's achievements are 22 panels of enlarged photographs of his drawings, an original drawing, Caricature, from the museum's collection, and three oil paintings by his contemporaries.

Forty-four models, most of which have never been shown before in the Detroit area, have been lent by the Fine Arts Department of International Business Machines Corporation. Among the 25 selected for display at the Art Institute are the clock mechanism, two examples of variable speed drive, the helicopter, gun carriage, parachute, shrapnel, three aerial bombs, military tank, airplane, screw-cutting machine, hasty construction bridge, planetary gear system and self-propelled ship.

Others, such as the jack, monkey wrench, printing press, and differential transmission application will be displayed in other Detroit institutions and business buildings.

Co-sponsors of Detroit's Da Vinci observance are: The Detroit Institute of Arts, Detroit Public Library, Wayne University, University of Detroit, Henry Ford Museum, Cranbrook Institute of Science, Cranbrook Academy of Art, Engineering Society of Detroit, Wayne County Medical Society, and IBM Corporation.

On December 12, Da Vinci's birthday will be observed in the Art Institute Lecture Hall with a program covering his work in art, medicine and engineering.

The mid-western premier run of the color film, "Leonardo Da Vinci" will be December 26 through 30 in the Art Institute auditorium, sponsored by the Founders Society of the museum.

Big New Addition to Cottage Hospital Progressing

—Picture by Fred Runnells

With the completion of the new addition, the hospital will have space for 100 beds, nearly double its present capacity. The addition will house a new operating room, and complete facilities for the maternity department. The present maternity section will be used for medical and surgical facilities, providing three times as many beds for that department. Cost of the addition has been set at $1,400,000. It is expected to be completed by mid spring. Latest reports revealed that $61,000 of the $85,000 goal to purchase new equipment has been received.

Baha'is Plan to Attend Convention December 7

The Baha'is of Grosse Pointe will join Baha'is from over 80 cities in the state of Michigan on Sunday, December 7 at their annual State Convention in Lansing, Michigan.

The purpose of this convention is to elect the delegates to the National Convention to be held in April in Wilmette, Illinois, and also to discuss the plans for this Jubilee Year.

Many statesmen are studying the new type of election instituted by Baha'ullah, and now being used by the Baha'is in over 124 countries and territories of the world. This election is done without campaigning, without parties, without platforms, without lobbying and without nominations.

Its aim is to elect from the membership at large, the people with the highest qualities of love, justice, mercy, and service to the world of humanity.

Too many people are thinking of security instead of opportunity. They seem more afraid of life than death.—James Byrnes

March of Dimes Faces Big Challenge in Annual Drive

The 1953 March of Dimes will be launched in Wayne County and throughout the nation by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis on January 2. Thousands of volunteer workers are preparing to wipe out the debt incurred by 1952's record polio epidemic and to gird against the expected financial demands of the coming months, William R. Bernard, Wayne County campaign director for the March of Dimes, said.

"With more persons stricken with infantile paralysis in 1952 than ever before, and with the prospect of a staggering patient care bill, the 3,100 county chapters of the March of Dimes organization hope to match the record polio onslaught with a record 1953 March of Dimes."

In 1952, Bernard said, the National Foundation had:

1. Supplied more iron lungs and other lifesaving equipment than in the previous three years combined.

2. Met the costs of transportation, salaries and maintenance for hundreds of recruited polio nurses.

3. Spent $28,000,000 for patient care, a figure over $5,000,000 more than was ever expended for this purpose in any one year.

4. Allocated vast sums to scientific research.

5. Awarded more than 200 scholarships and fellowships in its professional education program.

Mr. Bernard said, "This means that the Wayne County March of Dimes, like the drive in every other county, must enlist more campaign workers to collect more in contributions than ever before in March of Dimes history."

"In addition to assisting four out of five of the record number of polio patients reports in 1952, we continued to aid 46,000 patients stricken in previous years. And all of this at a time when science is poised on the threshold of epochmaking discoveries in the field of the prevention of paralytic polio."

He said the National Foundation had allocated huge sums in March of Dimes funds to finance field trials in three epidemic areas to test the effectiveness of gamma globulin as a possible preventive of paralytic polio.

"Our hopes were realized and this blood fraction was shown to give marked protection in temporarily immunizing humans against paralysis, even though the real job—the development of a vaccine—still remains."

"It is imperative therefore that the 1953 March of Dimes ex-

Beautiful Line of New Cars Put on Display by Lincoln

America's most completely powered car, the Lincoln for 1953, was introduced to the public December 2 in dealer showrooms across the nation. Tracy Motors, Kercheval at Hall place, has a big display of new models.

Featuring a 205 horsepower engine—the most powerful ever offered in a modern production automobile—the new Lincoln Cosmopolitan and Capri models also have power brakes, power steering and a powered four-way front seat adjustment as optional choices.

A new induction system with its resultant better "breathing" results in increased acceleration and higher top speed. A speed of 60 mph can be attained in 12 seconds from a standing start, and 80 mph in 22 seconds. This fast acceleration is a safety factor which will permit an extra-fast pickup when required to avoid traffic emergencies. This improvement is effective at all speeds and under all driving conditions.

A hydraulically operated power steering unit, optional on 1953 Lincoln models, gives maximum ease in parking and in general driving. Between 4 to 7 pounds pressure is all that is required to park with this unit, compared with the 32 to 45 pounds necessary with conventional steering.

The ball joint front suspension, first introduced in Lincoln last year, adds to the car's ease of handling.

Power brakes, another option, are new with Lincoln for 1953 and require 30 to 40 per cent less pressure on the pedal. The accelerator and the brake pedal are located approximately the same height from the floor, allowing a quick swing from one to the other with a minimum of effort. A vacuum reservoir tank gives added protection for emergency use.

Original with Lincoln is the four-way power seat, which permits an infinite number of seat adjustments both vertically and horizontally by means of electrical motors activated by push buttons conveniently located on the driver's side of the seat. It is an optional item.

Exterior changes have been made in the new models to further emphasize their smart, modern lines. A new gold "V" ornament has been created for the front of the grill, and the same theme is used to add a jeweled touch for side ornamentation. Block letters have been used for the name Lincoln on the front, for easier identification.

A newly styled deck ornament and lock for the trunk compartment gives the car a wider, lower rear end appearance. A roof panel ornament between the rear door and back window on the four-door models gives a hard top look to these styles.

All Lincoln models for 1953 have a one-piece backlite, adding to the wide appearance and giving greater rear-view visibility.

Commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the Ford Motor Company, a gold medallion has been mounted on the instrument panel.

Doors on the new Lincoln Cosmopolitan and Capri have a two-position check mechanism, including an intermediate stop that holds the door partly open when necessary in confined areas. This is an added safety and convenience factor, and lessens the chances of doors closing on hands or legs.

Thirteen basic colors and 30 two-tone combinations are offered. A wide variety of upholstery fabrics to accent the exterior colors is included in the 1953 Cosmopolitan and Capri line; included are tweeds, friezes, nylon, broadcloths and leather.

Pleated cushions and seat backs harmonize with the interior moldings and instrument panel.

Lincoln again in 1953 offers five distinctive models: the Cosmopolitan four-door sedan, the Cosmopolitan sport coupe, the Capri hard-top and the Capri convertible.

The committee planning the dinner includes Joseph G. Wolber, Chairman; Edith Kovach, and Alice Sickles.

Need Extra Care On Icy Streets

More than normal amount of snow this winter was the "possible" forecast by Chiefs of Police of Grosse Pointe, following the snowfall of Tuesday.

"Snow in November and early December usually tips off a snowy winter," they said. Furthermore, this year the late summer and autumn months have been unusually dry. Abnormal dry spells are often followed by heavier than average precipitation. In winter that usually means more snow, although the police are not expected at "guesstimating" the weather.

The first snow may soon melt away, but it does serve to remind us to get ready for highly probable more snow and colder weather. It should remind all of us who must drive our cars this winter to be prepared for the worst. First, we've got to be sure of clear vision, and second we've got to be sure of dependable traction, they advised.

For clear vision, they recommended immediate inspection of windshield wiper blades, defrosters and headlights. They must work well. When the life bakes out of wiper blade rubber, the blade does a poor wiping job even if it still looks okay. Defrosters are extremely important and they should be in good working order.

For dependable traction on ice or hard packed snow, they recommended equalized brakes and tire chains. They quoted from a recent report by the National Safety Council in making the following comparisons of the same car, traveling at a speed of 20 miles per hour:

On hard packed snow, conventional synthetic rubber tires stop in about 70 feet.

Winterized tires will take about 60 feet.

Tire chains can stop in 40 feet.

Of all methods to increase traction and reduce stopping distances under snow and ice conditions, tire chains have consistently showed by far the best performance, according to the National Safety Council.

The Council also recommends that the safest and most important rule for drivers to follow in winter is to slow down, even with help of tire chains.

REMEMBER, SAVE A MINUTE, SAVE A LIFE. IT MIGHT BE YOURS.

Two Pointers Receive Taft Athletic Awards

Watertown, Conn. — Eighty Taft students received athletic insignia for participation in interscholastic football and soccer at the annual Fall Sports Awards Dinner on November 25.

Among those receiving Varsity Football Numerals was Robert Lambrecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Lambrecht, 34 Beacon Hill, Grosse Pointe.

Receiving a Varsity Soccer Letter for being manager was John W. Watling, son of Mrs. Charles B. Warren, 259 Lake Shore road, Grosse Pointe.

Lincolns Sweep Big Road Race

In winning the first four places in the stock car division of the Third Annual Mexican Pan-American Road Race, November 19-23, the 1953 Lincoln not only established a new world speed record for this type competition but also proved its durability and stamina under some of the worst road conditions in the world.

Roaring across the finish line in Juarez, Mexico, to compete five days of speed driving over a 1,938-mile course, Chuck Stevenson of Lynwood, California, racked up a new record of 90.93 miles per hour. His elapsed time was 21:15:38. During the final day's run of 231 miles from Chihuahua to Juarez, Stevenson averaged 115.40 mph, another new record.

Second place winner was Johnny Mantz, also driving a 1953 Lincoln. Mantz finished just 31 seconds behind Stevenson in 21:16:09. His average time was 90.89 miles per hour.

Walt Faulkner and Capt. Bob Kork, also driving 1953 Lincolns, finished in third and fourth positions. Faulkner's time was 21:20:27 and Kork's was 21:20:09.

All four drivers held the top positions from the second day on, the only change being between Stevenson and Mantz, the latter holding first place on Friday.

Behind the four Lincolns were C. D. Evans in a 1951 Chrysler; Marshall Teague in a 1953 Hudson; Allen Heath in a 1953 Chrysler; M. D. Kirby driving a 1952 Cadillac; and Jean Trevox in a 1952 Packard.

Stevenson finished 27½ minutes ahead of the fifth-place Evans, who trailed fourth-place Kork by 17½ minutes.

Seven Lincolns were entered in the race. Duane Carter came from 14th position to fifth on the next-to-last leg, but was forced out when his Lincoln struck a boulder and left the road. Two other Lincolns had been forced out earlier due to accidents.

The winning Lincolns were stock cars, and were among the first of the new 1953 models to be produced. They were equipped with a new 205-hp overhead valve V-8 engine which is being introduced for 1953. All had automatic transmissions.

Father-Son Banquet Given For DUS Football Players

"The best yet!" is a good quick summary of the Father and Son banquet held at D.U.S. on Tuesday night, November 25.
 Some effective innovations in procedure made the evening move along smoothly and without any of the crowding that might well occur when so large a number of boys and guests get together for an evening of celebration.
 One novelty lay in having all the fathers and sons assemble in the gymnasium first for a "visit" together and tomato juice cocktails. Music on records was provided in the background. The faculty met the fathers, and the fathers met other fathers.
 The classes were called upstairs to the dining-halls one group at a time, and the business of seating some 350 people was accomplished without any snarls.
 A really sumptuous meal pleased everybody, and the dining room staff and the volunteers who served deserve much praise. Those volunteers were drawn from the ranks of mothers of the football players, faculty wives, and the office staff.
 The presentation of letters and awards took place in the school auditorium, and all squads from midgets to varsity saw their letter-winning members go to the front of the hall to be honored for their football play this fall.
 Peter Korneffel of the 12th grade was master of ceremonies and introduced John Chandler, Jr., headmaster, and Earl Kimber, director of athletics, who spoke at the opening of the proceedings.
 The various coaches—William Yeager of the Varsity, Norman Platine of the Junior Varsity, John Suter of the Juniors, and Jack Geiken of the Midgets—spoke of the performances of their squads.
 "Duffy" Daugherty, assistant coach at Michigan State, was the principal speaker of the evening, and he completed his speech by showing films of the Michigan State-Notre Dame game and by commenting on them.
 Another new "twist" to this year's presentation of varsity letters lay in having the dads accompany their sons to the front of the assembly.
 There, they, too, received a remembrance of the evening, a handsome photograph of each father's son in his football uniform, presented through the kindness of George Jaglowicz, father of Jerry, a member of the squad. Mr. Albert Mackey and Mr.

players who made D.U.S. the winner of the Southeastern Suburban Conference title this year.
 Dr. W. A. Irwin also presented the school with a handsome pennant commemorating the conference title and a white football autographed by each member of the squad.
 Frank Boos also were joint donors of individual trophies presented to each of the varsity

Motorists Given Holiday Break

Detroit motorists driving into and out of the downtown loop area during the rush hours are now favored with longer green traffic signals.
 Heavy volumes moving into the loop area receive longer periods of green, as do heavy volumes leaving the loop in the afternoon, said A. F. Malo, Director, Streets and Traffic. The objective of the plan is to permit a more even flow of traffic into and out of the loop area during the rush hours.
 Further flexibility has been added by providing additional timing equipment to be used during periods of heavy snow or when ice or other severe weather conditions delay traffic, he said. At such times a longer cycle will be used affording longer periods of green to the heavy traffic volumes.
 "We have been working on this plan for some time in conjunction with the Public Lighting Commission," Malo declared. "We believe it will be a major factor in reducing congestion and delay in the loop area during morning and evening rush hours."
 He advised motorists that some few minor adjustments would probably be necessary during the early days of operation and asked for the patience and understanding of the driving public.
 The area covered includes the section west of Hastings to Sixth and from the river north to Vernon. The plan is also in effect on Gratiot from the downtown area to Forest.

 In addition to the floor show, there will be dancing with music provided by one of Detroit's outstanding bands by courtesy of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Musicians.
 All of the money received from the show will go to the Old Newsboys' Goodfellow Fund.

Friday Football Games Seen As Answer to Threat of TV

By Fred Runnells

Before the last shovelful of dirt has been firmly patted into place on the grave of the 1952 football season I would like to bring up a subject that is causing much concern among high school officials. The subject is television and college football and its effects on high school games played on Saturday afternoons.

Now you might scoff at the idea that television and college football could possibly affect high school games but they do to an alarming degree, and right where it hurts the most, at the box office.

Attendance Drops

I have noticed in the past couple of years that the football attendance at Grosse Pointe High games has fallen off considerably. This is not because the Blue Devils do not provide a thrilling brand of football even though they don't win championships.

Principal Walter Cleminson pointed out to me that on Saturdays when the University of Michigan plays at Ann Arbor the Blue Devil adult fans are conspicuous by their absence from the Pointe stands. Even the student body turns out in smaller numbers. On Saturdays when either U. of M. or Michigan State game is televised the Blue Devil stands are only partially filled.

True All Over

Not only is this the case at Grosse Pointe but I have heard athletic directors from all over the state bemoan the fact that television and college football is cutting down their gate receipts to a dangerous new low.

Many schools have installed lights on their gridirons and are playing their games on Friday night and although the gate receipts went up so did their trouble. The trouble came in the form of fights among youngsters and in some cases vandalism. At present many a school board is wondering "what to do."

Is Costly Sport

Football is the most costly sport of the entire athletic program because of the expensive uniforms needed to protect the players from injury. In college the football program, although the most expensive, brings the greatest monetary return and all other sports in the athletic program feed off the football revenue. This is not the case in high schools. Unless something can be done to correct the drop in attendance you can expect to see many of the smaller schools drop the sport completely.

I believe I have the ideal solution. It is one that would eliminate the conflict with television and college football but would draw bigger crowds without resorting to night football and its problems.

Part of Education

Physical education is part of a student's schooling and football is part of physical education, so I believe football games should and must be included as part of the school day. Therefore, why not schedule football games for Friday afternoons instead of Saturday afternoons?

I believe the following program would be beneficial not only from the attendance standpoint but that it would cut down the additional expenses the school incurs by having to pay teachers to come back on Saturday to handle the various chores that are related to running a football game.

In order for a school to stage a Saturday football game the school must be reopened to make the locker room available not only to the local team but to the visiting team. This means a locker room attendant must be hired for that extra day. Then teachers have to be hired to act as gate attendants, handle the box office, be in charge of the usual hot dog and soft drink and candy concessions and various other chores. All this tends to make the football program more expensive. Also it brings the students back to the school property and opens the door for some of the more mischievous youngsters to get in trouble. This means the school must request the local police to be on guard not only during the game but until all of the fans have left the school grounds.

Only Token Payment

The coaches get an extra cash allowance for their job of handling the team, but in comparison to the amount of work they do in conditioning and building a team it is a mere token payment for their trouble. Sometimes I wonder why they take the time and trouble that goes with this extra work over and above their regular job of teaching. They don't like to work six days a week any more than you or I do and if the truth were known the extra teachers who are hired on that sixth day would just as soon have the day off to follow their own desires.

To eliminate all this expense why not schedule all Blue Devil home football games on Friday afternoon. Oh yes, I know, some will say it can't be done. But if the school officials will only realize physical education is part of a student's schooling and football is part of the physical education program then the Friday afternoon games can very easily be arranged.

Let's say, just for the sake of an argument, that Grosse Pointe High officials scheduled a game for 2 p.m. on a Friday afternoon. This would mean cutting short the school day by about an hour and forty five minutes for some students. Inasmuch as all students have S.A. tickets, they would attend the game, thereby filling the Blue Devil stands to capacity at every home game. It would also give parents a chance to attend the games and still not interfere with their attending a Saturday college game if they so desired.

A game that started a 2 p.m. would easily be over before 5 p.m., and the fans would be home in plenty of time for supper. It would leave them with a full weekend in which to partake in other forms of recreation and entertainment.

It would give the coaches a five day week and give the entire team a chance to start practicing on Monday, instead just those players who didn't see action in the previous game.

The school would not have to be opened, therefore the locker room attendant could enjoy a two day weekend and the local police would not have to be on duty at the school and could perform their duties elsewhere.

I believe Grosse Pointe could lead the way with an experiment of this sort. Soon every school in the Border Cities League would follow suit when they saw the Blue Devil attendance figures drop and the football expenses gain and the sport begin to pay its own way. Of course this is just our view, and we would like to hear some comment from any interested person.

Church Loop Start Delayed

The start of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Church Basketball League season, originally slated to get underway Saturday, December 6, has been postponed until Saturday, December 13.

League officials were forced to postpone the start when some of the team managers failed to file their team rosters by the deadline date, November 29, thereby making it impossible for the league to draw up the playing schedule.

The new deadline and absolute last one has been set for noon on Saturday, December 6. This is definitely the last chance for any church to enter a team in the league. Any manager failing to file an entry by the new deadline date will automatically force his church out of the league for the 1952-53 season.

Christ Church was the only team that was officially entered when the original deadline arrived. Grosse Pointe Memorial and St. Paul's entries were received a day late. All three entered teams in both the senior and junior divisions. Don West of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian said his church was entering a team in the senior division and the official roster was in the mail.

Remaining to be heard from are Grosse Pointe Methodist, 1951-52 Junior Division champion; St. James, St. Ambrose and Grosse Pointe Congregational.

This is absolutely the last call so get those team rosters and player eligibility certificates into League Director Fred Runnells before noon on Saturday, December 6, at 323 Moross road or the Grosse Pointe News office.

Middie Keglers Grab Big Lead

"The rich get richer and the poor get poorer" as the old song goes, and so it goes in the Rotary Bowling league. At least that is what happened last Friday, November 28, when the league held its first double point night.

Deadlocked in a two-way tie with the Piche Barbers before the pins began to fall, the Middle Atlantic Transportation Keglers romped mercilessly over the Kopp's Pharmacy team for EIGHT (count 'em) big points to take a commanding lead over the second place Barbers. They annexed a lone point which dropped them seven points behind the hot leaders.

Irvin Schoof topped the 200 or better bowlers with games of 245 and 210. Dick Volpe also had two games over 200 when he posted scores of 226 and 207. These double 200 scores enabled Schoof to take the high three game individual series with a 635 total and Volpe followed with a 612 series.

Others who hit 200 or better were Jones 220, Komic 215, West and Johnson 214, G. Merts 205, Koscielniak 202 and Stemmler 200.

The tenth place DeKeyser moved into sixth place and the Camera Center team grabbed eight points to move from ninth to fourth place.

Annual GPHS Varsity-Alumni Basketball Game Scheduled for Friday, December 26

By Fred Runnells

Well it's getting around that time of the year again when those of us interested in the annual Grosse Pointe High Varsity-Alumni basketball game begin to beat the drum for this ever so popular holiday contest. This year the date is Friday, December 26.

To date the Alumni teams hold a three to one edge over the Varsity having won the first game in 1948, 45 to 23. The 1949 contest also went to the Alumni by a close 44 to 40 margin.

In 1950 the Varsity led by Al Mann and Vince Schoeck, who pumped in 15 and 16 points respectively, clobbered the Alumni 49 to 39. All three games, although two of them were of the lopsided variety, were good, clean, hard fought games which drew high praise from school authorities and game officials alike.

Last year's game was the granddaddy of them all. This game went to the Alumni by the narrowest of margins, 41 to 40, and was won in the last 20 seconds of play when big Bud McCullough stole the ball and made a court long solo dash to give the Alumni its three to one record in the series.

Last year's game was hailed by all those who saw it and Coach Wernet himself as the "Best game the varsity turned in all year." Even some of the boys themselves admitted it was the best game they played. Norm Lasca said "There was something about playing against the Alumni tonight that inspired me. I

St. Paul Gridders Select Captains

At a squad meeting following the close of the 1952 grid season, the St. Paul Flyers bestowed the honor of Co-captain on seniors Bob Taylor and Wally Hogue for the 1953 season.

Taylor was a standout center and Hogue an inspiring end despite the losing season posted by the Flyers in the strong East Side (second Division) Parochial League.

Both boys have played three years, making the varsity squad when in the ninth grade.

Coach Ed Lauer believed the selection was the best that his charges could have made, but hopes the naming of grid captains doesn't follow the same pattern as was set during the 1952 season when each time a captain was elected he was injured and lost to the Flyer squad for the balance of the season.

The Flyers finished out the last half of the 1952 season minus a captain because Lauer "couldn't afford to lose another player" from his already injury riddled squad.

just wanted to beat them more than anything else in the world."

In the first four games the rival coaches were Ed Wernet and yours truly, who had the honor of managing the Alumni squad. This year the coaching picture has changed and Coach Howard MacAdam will attempt to chalk up his first victory over the Alumni as the Blue Devils' cage mentor.

Leading the Alumni squad in its quest for its fourth win will be Bruce Allen, Grosse Pointe's only player to be selected on the All-State team. Bruce missed last year's game because of a technicality but vowed he would be on hand to play in his last eligible year against the Varsity.

A player may participate in the game only in the first two years after he has graduated from Grosse Pointe High.

Under this rule the following boys are eligible for this year's game: Alex Mann, Bud McCullough, Fred Metry, Jim Davison, Norm Harden, Ben Bray, Pat Brogran, Bill Rosstter, Lew Neeb, Bill Rupp, Danny Slowe and Norm Lasca.

Your reporter would like very much to hear from those boys as soon as possible in order to arrange a couple of practice sessions before the game. If the parents or friends of these boys would kindly direct this information to them it would be greatly appreciated.

As a preliminary game to the Varsity-Alumni contest it is hoped there will be enough of the old timers on hand to stage an All-Alumni game. George Verdonckt already has a group of the boys who were graduated in the middle thirties practicing for the game and as George says, "Runnells you get some of those other Alumni hotshots and we old timers will show you fellas how to play this game called basketball." Well not being a Blue Devil alumus I am not eligible to play but when Bayard Johnson heard the challenge his ears fairly wiggled and he made me promise I would contact some of the Blue Devils of recent years to give the old timers a lesson on the December 26 date.

I talked to Bob Olson's mom and she said that Bob might be home for Christmas from his

Private Gordon Russell Transferred to Vienna

Private Gordon Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Russell of Alford road, has been transferred from Salzburg, Austria, to Vienna.

Gordon, who is with a special drafting section of United States Forces in Austria, has served 10 months of his two year draft. He was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and attended Michigan State College.

Navy Air Corps training. Johnny Rummel is in training at Camp Breckenridge. Paul Grubbs is taking advance jet fighter training in Florida and might just get permission to zip home for the game, and Tom Willson is studying law at U. of M. Those are just a few of the boys who might make it back in time for the holiday contest. There are ever so many more former Blue Devil cagers who are eligible for this preliminary game that we could name if space permitted, but they know who they are and if they would like to play they can drop me a line at the Grosse Pointe News office indicating the desire.

I'm waiting for those letters fellas and it's later than you think.

Warns of Traffic Danger Season

Three out of four persons fatally injured in traffic accidents in Detroit from now until the end of 1952 will be struck during hours of darkness, the Traffic Safety Association said.

The Association based its prediction on past accident records compiled by the Detroit Police Department Accident Prevention Bureau, which show that nighttime fatal accidents always reach their gravest proportions during November and December. Of the persons killed, three out of four will be pedestrians, the Association said.

"This is the most dangerous season of the year for serious traffic accidents and particularly those involving persons afoot," the Association said. "More hours of darkness, making it more difficult for both driver and the pedestrian to see in time to avoid an accident, is the principal reason for the increased danger.

"Pedestrians should be doubly careful in crossing Detroit streets during hours of darkness," the Association said. "Don't place any reliance on the driver seeing you. That's a foolish risk that too often ends in disaster.

"Drivers should cut their speed at night," the Association added. "And be particularly alert at dusk and during the early hours of darkness. It's in the first three hours of darkness from 5 to 8 p.m. that the highest number of fatalities occur."

SUCCESSFUL BATTLE

No new cases of typhoid fever have been attributed to a public water supply in Michigan in the past 19 years and there were only 33 cases and one death from the disease in 1951 in comparison with 424 cases and 73 deaths in 1931, the state health department reports.

New Coach at St. Ambrose Greeted by Sparse Squad

By Fred Runnells

No one is going to blame Jim Burns if the St. Ambrose Cavaliers don't have a winning season this year.

Jim Burns is the new St. Ambrose cage mentor, having been moved up from the reserve team this season when former coach George Verdonckt found it was impossible to run his bakery and the Cavalier football and basketball teams too.

Greeting Burns in his first practice in the little gymnasium behind the Grosse Pointe Park Municipal garage were only 20 cage hopefuls. No one would believe that a school of 411 enrollment could not produce a better turnout than that, but it seems the Cavaliers go for football more than they do basketball. They proudly point to their grid team's record of six wins and two losses for third place in the strong 12-school East Side (second division) Parochial League.

Doesn't Help Burns

Pointing to a good football record doesn't help Coach Burns put together a winning cage combination and he isn't trying to paint a rose colored picture of the 1952-53 season for himself, either. Burns is looking at the situation logically.

Actually, of the 20 boys who reported, Burns figures he has 10 who could possibly develop into fair ball players before the season ends next March. What Burns is sadly lacking are two or three returning regulars from last year's squad around which he could begin to build a team.

Two Lettermen Back

The only help Burns has is from a couple of seniors who earned their "A" but were not first stringers on the '52 squad that won only two ball games. It will be around these two seniors, Vince Pellerito and Don Frisby, that Burns will build. Hal Gilmore from last year's reserve team, that had a 5 and 5 record, is the outstanding boy among the rest of the candidates, which include Mickey Enders, Bill McLellan, Dick Weber, Tom Sosnowski, Eugene Brown, Bud Damman, Joe A'Gosta and Norm Soper.

Has Excellent Background

Coach Burns has an excellent background as a player. He played varsity ball for the Cavaliers in 1947, '48 and '49, during which time he attained top cage honors. In 1948 and 1949 he was selected to the Class B All-City Parochial team and in 1949 he gained a place on the Class B Parochial All-State team.

The Cavaliers, as is the case with so many of the smaller Parochial schools, do not have a gym large enough to accommodate spectators so this year St. Ambrose will play its home games in the beautiful Cannon Memorial gymnasium on Cadieux at Warren avenue. They will play on Sunday afternoons in the big East Side Parochial League which also includes St. Paul.

Feature Page

who, where and whatnot

by whoozz

The gay life begins the minute you move to Grosse Pointe, according to the tale we heard of a young couple just settled here. It was their first night at the new address and a bright November star had started to twinkle in the sky. Their door chimes rang . . . two friends and a big bottle of welcome-to-the-Pointe martinis . . . Within a few minutes the chimes sounded again . . . two friends and champagne to warm the house . . . Again the chimes, two friends and a bottle of Scotch PLUS a banana cream pie. You'd be surprised how sick that pie made everyone.

Incidentally, if you haven't served blue Curacao you'll never make Gourmet.

All stories without names today! A wee Grosse Pointe princess had a happy birthday party last week but before the starting hour she had to go on an errand with her daddy. They arrived home in what they thought was plenty of time but a couple of early bird guests were nestled in the drawing room when they opened the door.

Baffled, but for not more than a moment, the Birthday Girl looked back over her shoulder at daddy and exclaimed, "Why, two of the customers are here already!"

The Birthday Girl's still younger brother got his first taste of life is real, life is earnest at the party, too.

Seems the schedule included a trip to the movies for all the guests. Younger brother had been kept out of sight, it having been carefully explained to him that This Was Sister's Party, until the girls were filing out the door on their merry way.

One of the guests took a look at small brother and said in piercing tones,

"Is THAT character going with us?"

PILFERINGS

The New York Times says that jokes from overseas these days sometimes have political connotations, sometimes are merely a laugh for a laugh's sake. They offer this European sampling:

From highly veracious quarters in Prague, the news is out that local scientists are being urged by Soviet authorities to invent a clock that runs twenty-eight hours a day.

In the same city, a venerable retired military man had been watching a gang of small boys shouting and running in a vigorous game.

"Well, my fine young fellow," he said to one of them, patting his head, "are you playing at war?"

"Oh, no, Sir," the boy piped up. "This is a different game. We're struggling for peace now."

And in London:

Attributed to Somerset Maugham is this summary of one aspect of the situation in the world's film capital:

"In Hollywood, the women are all peaches. It makes one long for an apple occasionally."

Did you know that in London, Scotland Yard had their emergency telephone number changed from 999 to 222, so the public could save time in dialing?

And from the late Alva Johnson's profile on Addison Mizner in the New Yorker:

"No gentleman ever feels well in the morning."

Pointer of Interest

MRS. RAY M. WHYTE OF OXFORD ROAD

—Picture by Fred Runnels

Now you might think that the young Ray M. Whytes are such constant travelers they'd never in the world have time for hobbies.

Can't blame you as society pages report: off to Nassau . . . off to Miami Beach . . . off to Chicago for the game . . . In Manhattan for a chic spell . . . wined and dined in California.

Despite all this, they are hobbyists and, paradoxically, are also rabidly devoted parents and head over heels in love with their beautiful home on Oxford road, one of the Pointe's true beauty spots.

Their hobbies revolve about their home, their two handsome sons (Peter and Tommy) and their friends.

It was just two years ago that the Whytes became interested in the orchid raising which brings them to our Pointer of Interest column, today.

The Mental Note
Visiting friends in Florida, they admired the exotic orchids their hosts raised so easily. In that tropical state, orchids are raised in outdoor gardens.

It all sounded so simple, and Mr. Whyte knowing full well his pretty wife's penchant for tucking tiny orchids in her hair, made a note to himself: "Start raising orchids the minute we get home."

So the orchids became Mr. Whyte's hobby, the dazzler taking over in arranging them for her home and continuing to tuck them in her evening coiffure.

We can claim the understatement for the month of December if we tell you that Mr. Whyte is thorough in his every interest. In the first place, he went to the Fennell Orchid Farms in Homestead, Fla., ordering plants that would bloom shortly after they reached Grosse Pointe.

Orchid Greenhouse
There was already a greenhouse on the Whytes' grounds, so those early orchids went in there to blossom radiantly for them.

But almost before they bloomed, our horticulturist and his gardener had drawn up plans for a special orchid greenhouse where today are raised 11 species of orchids, and 32 varieties.

We're fairly sure the atomic bombs isn't built in more carefully controlled surroundings than the Whyte orchids. To be sure, the orchids aren't a military secret, but the impressive array of temperature controls in the orchid house is awesome. All electrically controlled these gadgets provoke proper moisture, heat, coolth and other requisites of orchid raising.

We would tell you the orchids we saw there were breathlessly grand. The orchid experts told us the orchids we saw there included:

Cattleyas—great blossoms in pure white, deep purple and some yellow (very rare) which were transplanted from wild growth in Venezuela.

Laelias—the butterfly type—in yellow, some yellow spotted in brown.

Phalaenopsis—spray orchids—in shades of pink and pure white.

Vanda—(these are the kind Mrs. Whyte wears)—in white, red and purple.

Cypripedium—the lady slipper variety—in green, white, pink, brown, yellow and purple.

Expert Advice

Mr. Whyte told us the separate greenhouse was practically a necessity because the conditions for orchid raising are harmful to almost every other plant except ferns.

The temperature is not colder than 60 degrees and never warmer than 70 degrees. No direct sunlight should ever touch an orchid plant and therefore the panes of the greenhouse have been painted white (with an "I" this time).

Other of the Whyte orchids have come from another world famous house . . . the Baldwin Orchid Co. in Mammoth, N. Y., established in 1898 by the Baldwins who came from England. In all this time, the Baldwin has never had an orchid plant die! Here over 100,000 orchids dazzle the eyes of hobbyists.

A magnificent purple throated pinkish violet orchid (five tremendous blooms) presided in the Whyte library when we were there. In their two story loggia, a table held several and different colored orchids floated in a silver bowl.

Antique Silver

Nor are orchids the family's only fancy. The rooms of their home are filled with tall plants of stunning mums. Their African violets are a more velvety purple than any we've ever seen and there are dozens of them throughout the house.

Begonias in heavenly shades are used in still other rooms.

Carnations (a favorite of son, Tommy, who at his early age likes to stick one in his lapel!) bloom in many tones.

In the main greenhouse there is a bower of Passion Flowers, a plant that produces one bloom a day in a rich, purple hue.

Mrs. Whyte combines another hobby with the flowers. She collects antique silver, filling many of the impressive pieces with Whyte-grown posies.

We admired her dinner table arrangement in a footed silver great bowl—it held dozens of American Beauties to produce a most luxurious combination of scarlet and silver.

In the breakfast room, which looks out on the gardens, there were bebe mums clustered around a gay china turkey. Recessed wall shelves in the room hold Mrs. Whyte's collection of antique and imported china dessert plates.

Two recent additions to her silver collection include a huge silver nutshell, partially opened with silver squirrel perched at the back. At the moment, this precious bauble is tumbling over with pecans. White grapes are arranged in a sterling grape dish which has a stand especially for the fruit scissors.

The Whytes' fancy for El Morocco is to be noted in zebra touches in the spacious games room which along with a bar and a TV room make up one of the most complete recreation . . . not rooms . . . but floors in Grosse Pointe.

Just arrived from France in their bar, and sitting perkily on black lacquered cocktail tables, are a pair of oyster white saucers bearing the marking "8 1/2" which you gay Parisians know as the quaint way of showing price of your drink in France. The saucers are piled at the end of the evening added by Garcon, isn't it? Nothing so dreary as a bill! At the Whytes' the saucers are used for ash trays.

Tommy and Peter Whytes' room, in young manly tones of cafe au lait, is predominated by a complete wall size map of the world, with pins for the brothers to put in place showing each new spot they conquer.

Two other walls are filled with framed pictures of the boys with their favorite heroes in the world of baseball and football.

And from their quarters in the Springtime, you can look down to the rolling gardens at back where 8,000 tulips nod their brilliant heads.

Who said no time for hobbies!

YWCA Branches to Begin Hanging Greens Dec. 7

The YWCA's traditional hanging of the greens will take place at the Association's four branches beginning Sunday, December 7. Workshops composed of members of various YWCA clubs and other groups will decorate mantles, windows and Christmas trees in the Central Branch on Sunday afternoon.

A yule log will be lit in the Social Hall, and a Christmas program will tell the story of "Christmas Everywhere."

Mrs. Russell Smith, of 768 Lorraine road, will be in charge of refreshments at the Central Branch program.

Reflections

by paul gach

In writing a poem to fit the season,
I loose all sense of rhyme or reason;
From here till Xmas it's just a tangle,
With all our nerves a horrible jangle.

They come in late to have a portrait made,
When the proofs come back, they've begun to fade;
Fix this all up and then re-touch all that,
Don't make me haggard, don't let me look fat.

When the order is ready not a minute too soon,
And the customer is waiting ready to swoon;
I pray to heaven that I'll still stay strong,
Enough to hear that Xmas day song.

Clyma-Jones Rites Are Held

The Rev. George E. King heard the marriage vows of Gloria Jean Clyma and Allen Jones Jr. who were married last Saturday evening in St. James Lutheran Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Emerson Clyma of Severn road, donned a gown of candlelight satin and Chantilly lace for her wedding. Her illusion bridal veil fell from a pearl studded satin cap and she carried white orchids and stephanotis in her bouquet.

Louise Deely of Lima, O. was Gloria's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Myrna Lloyd of Grand Rapids, Claire Dand of Ann Arbor and Jeanne Dowzer.

The bride's little sister, Virginia Clyma, was flower girl. Serving Mr. Jones as best man was Richard Scott of Washington D.C. The ushers included Gus Carlson of Waltham, Mass., Henry Godfrey of Clewiston, Fla. and the bride's brother, James Clyma.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clyma was gowned in champagne net and the bridegroom's mother was in costume of antique green.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony.
