A Preview of Grosse Pointe's New Central Library

This is just one end of the beautiful new main reading room, showing some of the comfortable chairs and sofas which will be available for users of the new library. The whole left wall of this room is solid glass, looking out over Kercheval avenue. Recessed cold cathode lighting in the unusual ceiling treatment affords brilliant but glareless light. The broad expanse of panelling overhead is teakwood, which has been used extensively throughout the building.

163 Donors Give Blood At Center

Red Cross Pleased With Response to Latest Pointe Plea; 209 Tried to Contribute

The Red Cross Bloodmobile collected 163 pints of blood from Pointe residents when it came to the War Memorial Center last Friday. The collection has been termed a great success by Red Cross officials.

Donors appearing to make blood contributions totaled 209. Of these 46 were rejected for various reasons.

It was pointed out that while the total number of pints obtained did not approach the 232 pint record set on the last collection in the Pointe, there are a number of contributing factors which made the campaign very gratifying.

There have been numerous concentrated drives for blood recently and many local residents gave their donations in other locations. The Red Cross main headquarters in Elizabeth street, Detroit, was jammed on New Year's Day when a special appeal was made.

The winter months are also noteworthy for the prevalence of colds and it was explained that collections are always smaller at this time. Many persons who either are still ill, or who have taken penicillin shots for recent illnesses, are unable to appear.

Farms Council Recommends Spending Half Million for Improvements at Pier Park

Proposed Bond Issue Will Be Submitted to Voters at General City Election Scheduled for Next April 6

The Farms council recommended a bond issue not to exceed a half-million dollars for the development and extension of the municipal pier park last Monday night. The proposal will be submitted to Farms voters at the general city election, April 6.

In a report to the council, city engineer Murray M. Smith traced the development of the pier park since the first wooden pier and concrete breakwall were built in 1925 under a bond issue of $50,000.

Greatly Expanded
The width of the original park was 269 feet. Two land purchases since June of 1945 have expanded the park area along Lake Shore road to 800 feet.

City officials have long been concerned with providing adequate recreational facilities to meet the demands of the community's growth.

Two plans have been developed for the lake front park. The total area included in the plans is 25 acres, of which one-half is land area.

Two Plans in Mind
The first plan was developed on the basis of maintaining all the swimming facilities on the north side of the property and greatly enlarging the harbor and boating facilities to the south.

The second plan uses the existing harbor with some extension of boating facilities in its present location, and the development of extensive swimming facilities on the south side of the property.

Auto Club to Reward Four Alert Safety Patrol Boys

The average boy can't stick his finger in a leaking dike any more to save his village from the Zunder Zee and win the plaques of his neighbor. But four Grosse Pointe boys did the next best thing by guarding an open sewer for more than an hour and a quarter after school had ended last December 2.

The four, all Safety Patrol Boys, will be honored by the Automobile Club of Michigan at a Tromby School ceremony at 11 a. m. Monday, January 26.

Remembering a series of tragedies that have occurred across the nation, as children have fallen into open drains, pits or wells, Grosse Pointe Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers wrote to school authorities, thanking the four patrol boys for their work. Chief Louwers will also attend the school ceremonies.

Patroler Robert Schafer, 12, of 934 Westchester, first noticed the missing sewer cover on Fairfax near Nottingham road. He stood guard until other patrolers came by after their safety duties. Then as Patrol Boys Henry Dretman, 11, of 706 Westchester, Ronald Monahan, 12, of 1012 Nottingham, and Daniel Brown, 11, of 952 Nottingham, took over, he called the school.

Country Day School May be Purchased By Public System

Decision Believed Near on Matter of Acquiring Property to Enlarge High Facilities in Future

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education is expected to reach a decision this week on whether or not it will ask the voters to approve the purchase of the Country Day School property, located next to the High School on Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The decision was postponed at a special meeting held last Tuesday night, when two directors, Mrs. M. M. Sheaffer and Sigurd Wendin were absent. It was felt the entire board should be present before any action on such a question was taken.

Long Under Consideration
Consideration of the acquisition of the Country Day property has been going on for some months. The board of Trustees of the Detroit University School and Grosse Pointe Country Day School Corporation, has signified its willingness to sell, with certain provisions.

The corporation has long wished to move the Country Day School to Cook road, opposite the Detroit University School, so both institutions would be on the same campus. A drive for funds to accomplish this was launched three or four years ago.

Faced With Certainty
The Board of Education is faced with the certainty that within the not too distant future, estimated at between five and 10 years, the High School will not be able to accommodate the students now coming up through the elementary schools.

It will then be necessary to either construct a whole new high school, with another facility, or be able to expand the facilities on the present site. It is the belief of the board that it will be far cheaper in the long run to take over the Country Day School site and be able to expand the facilities of the present high school there. In the meantime the Country Day building could be used for the adult education program.

New Gym Is Factor
Another consideration that pertains to the acquisition of the CDS property is the belief of the school board that in the event the voters approve the construction of a new auditorium-gymnasium for the High School, the building would best be located on the Country Day School property, with the entrance from Grosse Pointe boulevard.

A price of $710,000 has been set on the CDS property. This figure was arrived at through an appraisal made by the Detroit Real Estate Board. The Board of Education and officials of DUS-CDS shared the expense of the appraisal.

Thief Gets $200 In Boehm Home

Woods police investigating the robbery said that $200 in bills had been taken. Entry had been gained through a side door.

Driver, Passenger Injured in Crash

Two persons suffered minor injuries on January 18 in an auto accident on Moran road. Clarence Becker, 4108 Wayburn, ran into a parked car while driving south on Moran and received injuries about the face.

Passenger Nancy Doherty, of 280 Moran, received cuts on one leg and her right hand. Police estimated total damages to the autos to have been $300.

Symphony Artists Playing At Center on Monday Night

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will again afford the people of the community an opportunity to hear outstanding musical talent. On Monday evening, January 26 at 8:30 p. m. Mischa Kottler, pianist, and Georges Miquelle, cellist, will give a joint recital. Both men are nationally known artists as well as distinguished members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The two artists will play the Sonata in D major by Mendelssohn as well as a Sonata by Grieg. The introduction and Polonaise Brillante by Chopin and seven variations on the theme of Mozart's Magic Flute will be included in their program.

All Residents Asked to See New Building

Presentation Ceremonies To Be Followed by Open House for Community

Grosse Pointe's new Central Library will be dedicated at ceremonies in the magnificent modern structure at Kercheval avenue and Fisher road from 3 to 6 p. m. Sunday afternoon, January 25. All residents of the community are extended an invitation to attend by the Board of Directors of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Made possible by gifts of Mr. D. M. Ferry, Jr., and the late Murray W. Sales, the building is designed to serve the large central area of Grosse Pointe and to house the administrative offices for the library system, as well as the basic book collection.

Many Contributed
Funds for most of the furnishings for the building were contributed by Grosse Pointe organizations and individuals. In addition to the special appropriation by the Board of Education to strengthen the book collection for the new library, the Friends of the Library have received a number of gifts that will be used also for the purchase of books.

The new library represents a realization of dreams and the meeting of a need that has existed since the Public Library was organized in 1929. Under Miss Florence Severs, Director until 1949, library service was developed in all the Pointes, with the first modern building erected in 1939.

Facilities Now Adequate
The opening of the new Woods Branch in January, 1952, and the opening for service of the new Central Library next Monday, will provide Grosse Pointe with modern library facilities comparable to any similar community in the County.

An elaborate program has been planned for the occasion. It will open with a presentation of a flag by Walter G. Albrecht, general contractor of the building. This and the raising of the colors by a Color Guard of Boy Scouts will take place in front of the building at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Ferry to Cut Ribbon
Dexter M. Ferry, Jr., chief benefactor, will preside at the ribbon cutting ceremony and then will be presented with the keys to the building by Mr. Albrecht. Mr. Ferry will in turn present the keys to Bert H. Wicking, president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, under whose supervision the structure will be operated and maintained along with all the other library facilities of the Pointe.

Kellogg to Preside
The assembly will then adjourn to the meeting room on the second floor of the building, where Marion K. Kellogg, president of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library, will preside.

The Rev. Dr. Frank Fitt of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will give the invocation. The formal presentation of the building will then be made by Mr. Ferry, followed by Carter Sales, Jr., grandson of the late Murray W. Sales.

Junior League Helped
Presentation of the furnishings of the Children's Room will be made by Mrs. John N. McClucas, president of the Junior League. Presentation of the furnishings of the Adult Room will be made by Charles A. Parcels, Jr.

Presentation of the furnishings of the Friends' Room will be made by Renville A. Wheat. Presentation of the furnishings of the Meeting Room will be made by Cyril F. Payne, president of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club.

Presentation of art objects will be made by Hawkins Ferry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter M. Ferry, Jr.

Mrs. Hooker to Speak
Presentation of gifts of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library will be made by Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker, founder and first president of the Friends.

Acceptance of the buildings, furnishings, art objects and gifts, on behalf of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, will be made by Bert H. Wicking, president of the Board.

William F. Connolly, mayor of Grosse Pointe Farms, will speak on behalf of the heads of all the Pointe municipalities.

Princeton Grads Hear Director

Charles William Edwards, Director of Admissions of Princeton University, addressed the annual meeting of the Princeton Club of Michigan at the University Club in Detroit, Wednesday evening, January 21.

Mr. Edwards arrived in Detroit Tuesday, January 20, to interview Michigan boys who have applied for admission to Princeton University next fall. Among the schools he visited were Grosse Pointe High School, Birmingham High School and Cranbrook School.

Edwards is a native of California and has been associated with Princeton since 1946 when he joined the University as Assistant Director of Admissions following two years of duty with the American Field Service in the Mediterranean. Edwards was in the class of 1936 at Princeton and following graduation, taught history at the Noble and Greenough Schools in Dedham, Mass.

At Princeton he was manager of the hockey team, president of the Tiger Inn Club, and earned his numerals in both track and cross-country.

Edwards' duty with the Field Service included training in Syria with the British Ninth Army, and then participated with the Eighth Army in the African and Italian campaigns until after the fall of Florence, when he was relieved of combat duty and assigned to A. F. S. Headquarters in Naples.

Blaze Damages Woods Garage

What was described as "extensive damage" resulted to the Marshall Van Assche's garage, at 1610 Hawthorne road, when fire broke out in the evening of January 15.

Woods police and fire volunteers removed the Van Assche's two cars, a 1951 Plymouth and a 1952 Cadillac from the garage, but not until some smoke and paint damage was done. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Knock-Down Frames Now Available for Artists

The people who popularized the art plan whereby almost anyone with artistic taste can do a smart job in oil painting, are now introducing a line of inexpensive knock-down frames which will be available in many sizes at a number of local stores.

The oil painting fad is most sweeping in its appeal to old and young alike and is proving to be a highly effective means of obtaining really fine art for decorating the home. It is expected the frames will further boost the fad.

Music Course Offered Adults

A course in Music Appreciation will be offered at the Grosse Pointe High School starting Tuesday evening, February 3, at 7:45 sponsored by the Adult Education department of the Board of Education. Ralph Deal, who organized the Music Appreciation program for students of the High School, will be the instructor.

Mr. Deal has had a varied background in music including formal music instruction at the University of Iowa, work in harmony, music appreciation and methods of teaching music, four years as staff pianist at radio station WSUI with programs broadcast over WOI and KSO in addition to a program for NBC.

Anyone interested in music and having a desire to learn to appreciate good music is eligible for membership in this group. Excellent equipment will be available for the course including a custom built high fidelity record player with speaker in separate cabinet which was recommended by the University of Michigan. A new acoustic piano is also available.

A brief description of the course is as follows: The mechanics of notation are omitted as well as most of the technical aspect attached to learning music. The recognition of thematic material in all media of music expression is emphasized. Briefly the course starts with a discussion of the basic elements of music, rhythm, melody, harmony, timbre. Selected recordings are used to illustrate these elements.

Hence an awareness is created as to why we like certain types of music, etc. With timbre (tonal color of each instrument) we learn to recognize and appreciate the four choirs of an orchestra: Brass, percussion, strings and woodwinds. Illustrative recordings and films will show the importance of each instrument in its proper setting.

After becoming fully acquainted with the orchestra, time is spent on program music (music which tells a story or suggests a mood). Hence a repertoire of musical compositions which become familiar to the ear is developed. This affords a lot of enjoyment and personal satisfaction.

Next, the development of traditional music form is studied: first the simple folk song, then the rondo, the theme and variation, minuet and trio (scherzo) and finally sonata forms.

Use is made of the programs available in the area and listeners are prepared for the concerts. A review of a few important symphonies and opera concludes the course.

To enroll in this class or to obtain additional information about it, call the Dept. of Community Services, Board of Education, TU, 5-2000, extension 25.

May Buy Country Day

$74,000 and improvements at $636,000.

The Board of Education received a letter from James McEvoy, Jr., secretary to the board of trustees of the DUS-CDS corporation, dated December 24, saying that the corporation was willing to sell the property at the $710,000 price.

However it was specified that CDS should have the use of the building and part of the land, rent free, until June 1955, with the corporation providing its own utilities, janitor service, maintenance and repairs. The Board of Education would have the right to use the land at the rear of the property up to within 30 feet of the nursery school.

It was also stated that the sale would be contingent upon the ability of the corporation to finance the erection of new facilities in Cook road to replace CDS.

Bushong Favors Purchase

In a report to the School Board, under date of January 7, Superintendent of School James Bushong stated that he thinks the Country Day property is needed for future expansion of the High School and that he is in favor of one senior high school for the Pointe.

Mr. Bushong called the attention of the Board of Education to the fact that it is now in a rather undesirable position, because the Vernier Parent-Teacher Association has been promised that a bond issue vote for the proposed Roslyn road school would be held in the near future. It was also the intention of the board to ask for a vote on the proposed auditorium-gymnasium at the same time.

Force Heavy Costs

It has been estimated that the new Roslyn road school will cost about $800,000. The new auditorium-gymnasium might cost as much as a million dollars.

The Roslyn road school has been needed for some time and should be under construction now, the Board points out. Going in that district is congealing to make it necessary to transport pupils from there to the southern end of the school district this fall.

Mr. Bushong says it may be March 15 before the DUS-CDS corporation knows whether it will be in a position to sell the property. He urges that a decision be made now as to whether to wait for this decision, or to go ahead with the bond issue proposal immediately.

He suggests that meetings be held with the Vernier PTA group on the matter of the Roslyn road school, and with the Dads' Club of the High School, sponsoring the auditorium-gymnasium project.

The sermon of the morning will be delivered by the new Church School Superintendent, Otis M. Dickey, administrative assistant for the Grosse Pointe School District.

The club now calls for more volunteer workers to help, especially with two groups of four-year-olds, one group of 8 and 9-year-old girls, and one of 10-year-old girls.

The need also still exists for men volunteers whose business will allow them to help with a boys' recreational group from 3:30 to 5 p.m. These are needed by the second week in February with make-up sessions in the leadership training to be provided.

The course is under the direction of the Volunteers Committee of the Community Club with Arthur J. Byles, staff member, serving as adviser. Included also are Mrs. T. H. Stahl, chairman; Charles P. Rogers, and Mrs. Charles McFeeley.

Ready Music Hall For 'Cinerama'

The Detroit Music Hall will shortly undergo conversion to accommodate necessary special equipment for an early April showing of "Cinerama" films. The premiere of this revolutionary method of projecting motion pictures will mark Detroit as the first city outside New York to show Cinerama. The movies are made with a three-lensed camera which encompasses 180 degrees, approximating the normal area of human vision. Cast on a curved screen by three synchronized projectors, the film gives the illusion of three dimensions. Music Hall owner, Mervyn Gaskin, of 731 South Oxford, said that Cinerama had signed a two-year lease with an option for seven more years. ### Unique Scholarship Offered Girls Interested in Beauty

By Nancy MacDonald
Grosse Pointe High School

How many graduating seniors in Grosse Pointe's public, parochial or private high schools are wondering, "Where do I go from high school?"

A year ago, another Grosse Pointe girl had the same problem hundreds of seniors in high school experience. Since she didn't plan to go to college, she worried all through school about the type of work she would follow after graduation. She enjoyed meeting and talking with people, but besides this, she wanted a job which would give her the chance to do something artistically creative with her hands.

Then one day before graduation last spring, she began discussing the problem with her hairdresser. And this is how Beverly Labadie, recently graduated from St. Paul's, learned of the Marie Bird Scholarship Fund, which will ultimately give her the chance to launch an exciting new career.

Beverly Labadie is the first recipient of the scholarship, which will be awarded annually to the Grosse Pointe high school graduate selected by Miss Bird who is most sincerely interested in seeking a career in the hair-dressing profession.

The winner will be selected from the list of applicants on the basis of appearance, personality, and ability to get along with people. Other important factors are evidence of self-help, as shown by some sort of employment during the student's junior or senior year, and an interest and some ability in the fields of art, design, and fashion.

The scholarship provides for full tuition to a beauty school, plus all expenses (uniforms, transportation, lunches, and incidental expenses.) The training is extended over a period of fifteen months and is divided between the beauty school and Marie Bird's Salon, where the student assists at the desk and can observe the actual running of a beauty salon.

While at school, Beverly studies all phases of beauty culture. "Actually, the classes are very similar to college courses, since we spend regular periods during the day learning how to give manicures and facials, as well as thoroughly studying the hair and hair problems," Beverly said.

She added that science plays a big part in her education, as certain phases of anatomy, electricity, bacteriology, and chemistry are studied in their relation to cosmetics and beauty treatments.

On alternate weeks, Beverly spends her time in the beauty salon where she acts as a receptionist and observe real beauticians at work. "This enables me not only to learn the mechanics of hair-dressing, but gives me the experience of actual business environment, so that when she becomes a licensed operator, she won't have to go into the usual period of orientation."

After Beverly completes her schooling, she will be employed as an operator of the Marie Bird Beauty Salon. Her education won't stop here, though: at the end of her first year of employment, she will attend Marguerite Buck's advanced summer classes at Sutton, Quebec, for one week with all expenses paid.

This same plan will be followed by all future recipients of the scholarship.

Although a regular course in beauty school takes only seven and a half months, the course takes just twice as long under this scholarship. During this time, the student receives the invaluable aid of experience, as well as an education entirely free, and a guaranteed job upon completion of her education.

This is the first scholarship of its kind in the country, and at the present time is being set up as a national pattern for others in the profession to follow.

Miss Bird encourages any girls who are in their junior or senior year and are interested in this field to see her. Candidates for this year's scholarships are already being accepted.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

When shopping for lamp shades, consider ease of cleaning. Michigan State College home economists recommend the following materials as easily cleaned: parchment, fabric of hard finish, plastic, metal, simulated wood and especially treated paper.

More Bedside Nurses Needed by Hospitals

With the opening of new hospital beds in the Detroit Area scheduled through 1954 one important step to increase the number of bedside nurses is the expansion of the practical nurse training program, which is open to 300 girls and women in 1953.

For the young woman who is seeking vocational rather than a professional nurse education, and for the older woman seeking employment as she approaches middle age, practical nursing is an excellent choice.

The one year of training to become a practical nurse includes four months of class instructions at the Practical Nursing Department of the Goldberg School of Nursing and eight months of supervised bedside experience in Providence, Henry Ford, Woman's, Harper, Herman Kiefer and Receiving Hospitals and with the Visiting Nurse Association.

Practical Nurse applicants must be between 18 and 50 years of age. Educational requirements vary: for those over 25 years of age, 8th grade; between 20 and 25 years of age, 10th grade; between 18 and 20 years of age, complete high school. Good health, good character, aptitude and ability are personal prerequisites.

Six classes are admitted in the Detroit Council on Community Nursing, a Red Feather agency, Box 886, Detroit 31, Michigan or call Temple 1-1600, Ext. 278.

For further information write the Detroit Council on Community Nursing, a Red Feather agency, Box 886, Detroit 31, Michigan or call Temple 1-1600, Ext. 278.

Anthropologist To Debunk Fears

Fears and superstitions will be analyzed by Claudia De Lys, noted anthropologist, who will speak at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, January 28, at 11 o'clock in Fisher Theatre.

Superstitions expert, Claudia De Lys, has spent many years spoofing the cobwebs off some 80,000 of the world's favorite phobias. Her best-selling book, "A Treasury of American Superstitions," explains why fear is always the underlying reason for these phobias.

The popular anthropologist is well known on radio and the movies. Her new television program soon to appear on a major network will present a panel of outstanding personalities on the subject of our customs and superstitions.

World famous Sigmund Freud said of the anthropologist, "I've spent many fascinating hours with Claudia De Lys discussing early religions and symbolism. She seems to have been born with an understanding of these things, a penetration I'd call innate."

A huge movie marquee greeted Senior Prom goers as they entered the High School gym, Saturday, January 17, where the big dance of the semester was held. Over the door was the name "Top Hat," the theme of the dance.

Street signs saying "Fifth Avenue" and "Thirty-second Street" lined the halls of the school and directed the party goers to the gym, which was decorated to look like a penthouse in New York. A metropolitan sky-line complete with third dimensional buildings and lighted signs covered one entire end of the gym.

The opposite end was covered by an enormous top hat and cane, and on the other walls hung huge novel murals. The band played in a lighted orchestra pit especially made for the occasion.

Parties were scattered far and wide before the Prom.

Dick Anslow and Karen Temple, Jerry Goebel and Martha Slowin, Don McCarty and Carol deBruin, Wayne Miller and Bee Burrows, Earle Llon and Mary Jane Clemente, Dave McKee and Diane Quinlan, Skip Clark and Jane Condon and Dick Naragon and Janet Roberts. ## From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerborn

Well, we had a wonderful time at Detroit Town Hall last week . . . when John Mason Brown paid his annual visit to the ladies . . . telling them all about books and plays . . . Besides delivering a profound theory or two on the world in general . . .

We were interested . . . and gratified . . . to note that Mr. Brown's packed audience included many masculine listeners . . .

It would be too bad if the boys missed him . . . for besides being a wonderfully intelligent person . . . Mr. Brown is a stimulating experience . . . takes you out of the doldrums with his own brilliance . . . and his platform presence is a joy . . .

The ladies seem to dote, too, on his cultured enunciation . . . We've been a little self-conscious about our own faltering pronunciation ever since his appearance . . . How does he say it, now . . . liter-Ah-toor . . . So much nicer than our lazy literchur . . .

Profiled by New Yorker

Mr. Brown was recently "profiled" by New Yorker magazine . . . this is a top honor . . . and we imagine a harrowing experience . . .

If you are a fan of the readable "Profile" . . . you know what a searching job is done on the subjects . . .

This, according to Mr. Brown, requires that the young man from the New Yorker practically comes to live with the person being interviewed . . . and stays for about six months . . .

Nothing misses his eye . . . he asks several billion questions . . . and finally retires to write his piece . . .

Inasmuch as a Profile isn't a piece of promotional writing for the subject . . . lots of innocent bystanders get cuffed about in the printed story . . . This, usually, is highly regretted by the Hero of the piece . . . who, none-the-less, knows the value of such publicity . . . and can read, with dry eye, the piercing and brutally frank analysis of himself on the slick pages . . .

Like others who are profiled, Mr. Brown didn't see the story until it appeared in print . . . in fact he didn't have the remotest idea of what the "young man got" . . .

Talked of Many Things

His audience seemed to agree with his preference for the King James version of the Bible as opposed to the revised text . . .

He touched on Chaplin . . . and confessed he had started worrying about the famous mimic that day when he had his billing changed from Charlie to Charles Chaplin . . .

He defended George S. Kaufman, who was fired by his sponsors when the public protested his remark, "Let's make this one program where they don't sing 'Silent Night'" . . . Kaufman, as you know, was re-instated because, praise heavens there seems to be an equal number of fair, rational souls who watch television and they understood that the remark wasn't irrereligious but comparable to their own distaste for those who use Christmas carols and even hymns in selling commercial products . . .

He ambled gracefully from Hemingway to Hayworth . . . from Shakespeare to Stein . . . from "The Time of the Cuckoo" to "Two's Company" . . . and then we all had lunch.

Pointers at Luncheon

Clyde Beck, dean of Detroit book critics and just retired from the Detroit News . . . introduced Mr. Brown at the lecture . . . and again for the question period which followed lunch at Laiglon . . .

At the speaker's table were Mrs. Beck . . . Mrs. William P. Harris (her daughter is the theater's bright and lovely star, Julie Harris) . . . Mrs. J. Burgess Book . . . Mrs. Mark K. Edgar . . . Mrs. Frederick W. Parker, Jr. . . . (she hasn't

Inauguration Draws Pointers to Capital

Many From Grosse Pointe Board Train to Washington To Attend Ceremonies; Arthur Gardner Hosts at Dinner Party; Guests Include John Foster Dulles

It was all very Republican at Michigan Central station last Sunday afternoon as a good many Pointers joined hundreds of folks from over the state going down to Washington for the big Inaugural doings.

Many were headed for the Capital home of former Pointers, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gardner who, on Monday evening, were hosts at a brilliant dinner party.

Their guests included Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles, former Ambassador to the Republic of Ireland, George A. Garrett and Mrs. Garrett.

Pointers at the dinner party were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Anderson (he is Mrs. Gardner's brother), Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II, Mrs. Edsel Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Firestone of Akron, O., and Hearst executive Dick Berlin and Mrs. Berlin.

Passengers for the Michigan Inaugural Special started arriving at the station at 4:30 p.m. and among the last to board the train were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Anderson who appeared shortly before its departure time, 6 o'clock.

The Kanzler's, ardent Ike supporters, were in merry mood as they stepped briskly down the station ramp. Mrs. Kanzler wore a black suit under her mink coat and pinned a stunning diamond brooch to one lapel.

Political reporters closed in on the Frederick M. Alger when they arrived at the station. Although rumors have placed Mr. Alger in diplomatic posts at Mexico and in Canada both he and his wife said the newspapers seemed to know more about these things than they did; that their chief interest, at the moment, was to see Gen. Eisenhower inaugurated (Mr. Alger was the first political candidate in Michigan to support Eisenhower's candidacy) and then to get some sunshine and rest.

This last was going to be beautifully taken care of since, after the Algers will go to Cat Cay with Mr. and Mrs. Anderson for a long session of deep sea fishing and ultra violets.

Mrs. Alger's mink coat covered a burgundy suit and she wore one of her favorite small, becoming black felt chapeaux. In Washington the Algers were to be the guests of her parents, Hon. and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey at their home in the Capital.

Charles Creedon was at the station to see the Algers off. Then he drove up to Lansing to be "secretary of state" for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Freeman Smith of Provencal road, she in gray suit and silverblue mink jacket, boarded the Special along with Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan Jr. of Moross road, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Brucker, Barbara Simonds, daughter of the Ralph W. Simonds of Lewiston road; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schafer, Alger Sheldon Jr. and Dr. Lawrence A. Pratt.

Country Club Rinks Attract Skating Set

Outdoor Ice Skating Rink at The Country Club Is Crowded Each Afternoon With Jolly School Crowd Skaters Who Are Joined By Their Parents

Ice skating at the Country Club is a favorite pastime these wintery evenings. The school set arrives almost as soon as dismissal bell is sounded at local academies and later in the evening young marrieds may be seen testing the rinks.

One of the nicest things about ice skating . . . the hot dog and hamburger stand—is elegantly provided by the Country Club and there's music for the figure eighters. Incidentally the winter snack stand at the Country Club is called the Ice House.

Costumes are gay as anything seen at Otsego Ski Club and sking has loaned the fast cap, a gay knitted Dutch cap affair, to togs of the ice skaters.

Some of the regulars include: Ann Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Fisher, Betsy Howenstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Howenstein, Suzy, Freddie and Tony Schiapp, children of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Schiapp.

Nancy and Bobby Posselius join the afternoon skaters and the other night glimpsed on the ice were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Posselius with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Caulkins.

Little Sue Earl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Earl, performs nimbly on her skates; so do Karla and John Scherer who are delighted that their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Scherer of Lake Shore road join them in the sport.

Newest Boyer to take to the ice is three-year-old Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Boyer of Cloverly road whose brothers, David, Douglas, Frank Jr. and sister, Mimi, are old hands on the blades.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bishop of Rivard boulevard retire to the bowling alleys at the Country Club while sub deb Emmie whizzes off with the skating set and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Buell III are other of the Country Club members who delight in spending a wintery evening on skates.

Newcomers Club To Play Whist

A Court Whist party is planned for the members of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club on Friday evening, January 23, at 8 p.m. in Miller Hall at Christ Church.

According to the card fans of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club, this card game is an excellent means of promoting good fellowship, because the rules of the game change as each hand is played. In fact the card fans point out, this is one of the few card games in which women are sometimes not permitted to talk, and if the women forget the ruling and talk across the table, a penalty is imposed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sedam of McKinley road are chairmen of the committee on arrangements. Serving on their committee are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith of McKinley road, Mr. and Mrs. Eileen Stahly of Neff road, Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath of Yorkshire road, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Judkins of Country Club road.

AAUW Sponsors Talks on Taxes

That Federal taxes greatly affect our personal estates, our joint property, our families and our business is common knowledge, but are we aware of the degree to which this is accomplished, and how the results may be modified or even avoided.

This will be the subject of the second and third lectures in the series on "Preservation of Capital" to be held at Memorial Center on Friday, January 23, under the leadership of Miss Lillian Hogue, president of the Detroit Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters.

She will discuss taxation in relation to:

- a) Federal estate taxes.
- b) Michigan inheritance and estate taxes.
- c) Analyses of estates to disclose tax inroads.
- d) Jointly held personal property and real estate.
- e) Corporation, partnership and sole proprietorship interests as part of estate assets.

On the following Friday, January 30, Miss Hogue will talk on "How Finances of Families and Business Agreements" as follows:

- a) Need for suitable wills.
- b) Uses of living and testamentary trusts.
- c) Results of making "Gifts."
- d) Purposes of business "buy and sell" agreements.
- e) Successor-guardianship of Business can be preserved through Wills, Trusts, Gifts and minor children.

This lecture course is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe AAUW, but is open to all women in the community who are interested in the preservation of their capital. They may subscribe to the remaining five lectures in the series, or may attend only one.

The time is from 10 a.m.-12 noon, every Friday through February 20, and reservations may be made through Mrs. Edward Gehrig, VA. 2-6614 or Mrs. Sheldon Drennan, TU. 2-8984.

"Protest by Taxpayers," says a headline. That's not news—it's perpetual motion.

An election should be held to decide which group of us is to reform the rest of us.

Skidmore Dean Pointe Visitor

The George Richardson family had a good chance to renew its old and pleasant association with Skidmore College last week. Miss Mary Louise Charles, Dean of Admissions at the Saratoga, N.Y. college for women, was in the Pointe to interview girls at the High School and Country Day and to attend a number of social functions.

Daughter Gayle Richardson received her bachelor's degree from Skidmore last June. Her father headed a group of enthusiastic dads who, with the help of alumnae, arranged for a new and additional dining hall. This was originally called "Fathers Hall," but has since become known as "Dads' Diner."

Dean Charles was honor guest at a tea, with time out for color slides, at the Country Club on January 14. She is program chairman for the American Association of University Women and a past membership chairman of AAUW.

Inauguration Draws Pointers

Inauguration were Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Powers and their daughter, Cherry; Mrs. Charles A. Dean Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Whyte, Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Fisher.

The hour-and-a-half at Michigan Central went especially fast for it had the attraction of Negro preacher, Prophet Jones or the Rev. Dr. James F. Jones, Dominion ruler of The Church of the Universal Triumph and 200 of his devoted followers (Lords and Ladies of the Dominion).

A sort of local Father Divine, Prophet Jones wore a white overcoat, a teal blue suit, terra cotta fedora, yellow suede gloves, a diamond wristwatch which sparkled dazingly, a gold bracelet, a pound and a half topaz ring, and dark glasses.

Wherever he went in the station, his flock rushed after him. The feminine members chanted, "Bless that man!" The Prophet told reporters that on his way to Michigan Central the Lord had whispered in his ear saying the Eisenhower Administration was going to be the greatest since the states united.

When he boarded the train he was accompanied by his international executor and personal secretary, Prince Douglas T. Rogers; two press secretaries, his private cook; some 15 or 20 masculine followers and 24 pieces of luggage. His $15,000 beige Cadillac was driven to Washington by his chauffeur.

This Is the New Library You Are Asked to Visit Next Sunday

MISS JEAN TAYLOR, head of the Children's Library services and author of the popular column "What Goes on at Your Library," which appears each week in the Grosse Pointe News, poses prettily in her lovely new office on the second floor.

This picture doesn't do justice to the Meeting Room, which will seat more than 100. Furnished by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, it has also been equipped by the service organization with a projector and lens. The window curtains run in grooves, which black out the room for the showing of movies and slides. The special podium was designed by the building architect, Marcel Breuer.

This is a section which will be pretty much reserved for the students of high school age. All the books they will need in their studies have been segregated in this area and spacious teakwood work tables and comfortable chairs are ready to make their lessons easier.

Delight of all Pointe youngsters will be this beautiful Children's Room, furnished by the Junior League. Brilliant colors have been used here in the leather upholstery and everything has been done to attract the younger intellectual set.

The beautiful Adult Room will look even lovelier when the rest of the furniture arrives. Here adults will be allowed to smoke while they peruse books and magazines. This room was furnished by the family of the late Charles Parcells, honoring the memory of the former president of the Board of Education. Teakwood panelling is again used lavishly.

Meet the Boss. ROBERT ORR, chief librarian of the Pointe system, is as happy as four stuffed clams with the new building. This is his office, the nerve center of the strikingly modern library which will serve all the Pointes. He is inordinately proud of that new desk, which he says "has everything."

Officer Deraedt Doubles As Public Relations Man

Officer Jules Deraedt of the City of Grosse Pointe Police Department was given a unanimous vote of thanks by the City Council at its meeting Monday night. Reason for the acclaim was the reading of the following letter, a copy of which had been sent to Mayor Ralph B. Netting.

January 27, 1953
Mr. Thomas V. Trombly
Chief of Police
Grosse Pointe, Michigan.
Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Cub Pack No. 19 of the Maire School, we wish to extend and to express our deep appreciation to you and your department for its excellent cooperation in lending to us the fine assistance of Officer Jules Deraedt in our Christmas pack party which was held at the school gym.

Acting Sergeant Deraedt made the party a complete success in his role of Santa Claus. He passed out Christmas presents to every kiddie; helped to lead in the singing of Christmas carols, and gave the children a fine talk on the value of believing in Christmas. It was a job well done.

We wish also to report that this is not the only instance where Officer Deraedt has performed admirably on behalf of the citizens of Grosse Pointe. His patient and understanding manner in dealing with school children has made him their friend. As a result, he has been a long-time favorite with the children of Maire School. By his example the children are learning to look up to and respect Police Officers rather than to fear them.

Again, we wish to thank you for your fine support and cooperation.

Very truly yours,
Don Lescohier,
Pack Chairman.

Neighbors' Club To Hear Chorus

The Briggs' Men's Chorus will present the program at the Men's Night of the Neighbors' Club, January 28, at 8 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Center. As program chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Ruby will introduce the group.

This group is made up of 16 men who sing because they love to sing. The chorus is four years old and is sponsored by the Briggs' Management Club and made up of office workers and supervisors. William Sutar, 14 year old violinist, will present a group of three numbers, accompanied by his sister.

Mrs. Prudence Butterfield, the director and accompanist of the chorus has been active in musical circles of Detroit for a number of years. Mrs. Butterfield directed the Navy Anchorettes during the war.

A social hour will follow the program, and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Richard Henderson and her committee: Mrs. Walter Anderson, Mrs. W. A. Richardson, Mrs. E. K. Smith, Mrs. Fred Adams and Mrs. Hinzman.

Tickets are priced at 75 cents each and may be purchased at the Memorial Center. Mrs. George Mensing is in charge of ticket sales, assisted by Mrs. Alvin Borchardt. For further information call the Center, TU. 1-6030.

FAST PERFECT

Manufacturers of household furnishings and appliances today would have found business good among the Ancient Mayas. The Book House for Children tells how "the Mayas renewed all their household possessions every New Year's Day. But first, plates, beds and mats that had been used during the year were taken outside the city and thrown away so that none of the evil of the old year might remain. Even the temple utensils were removed and destroyed."

Reckless Drivers Pay Up in Court

Judge C. Joseph Belanger dismissed four of the 16 cases heard at the January 14 municipal court session in Grosse Pointe Park. Each of the four defendants, Edward Bazylido, of 857 Beaconsfield; Evelyn C. Pichea, 8839 Louis; Amelia L. Parsons, 16031 Chester, and John L. Taylor, 22938 Allen court, St. Clair Shores, had been involved in auto accidents.

Burt Hamilton, 1616 Merrick, was found not guilty of an accident in which he had been involved.

John Hoard, 20363 Sunningdale, and John MacMahon, of 21756 Moross, forfeited bonds of $20 when they failed to appear to answer individual charges of speeding. A $7 bond was forfeited by Robert J. Phillips, 159 Laupre. Phillips failed to appear to answer a charge of running a stop street.

Fined for reckless driving were William T. Morrison, 667 Washington; Albert E. LaBelle, 79 Lakeview, and Eugene Mancini, 21120 Hunt Club drive. They paid fines of $65, $20 and $25, respectively.

Court costs of $20, 5 and $5 were paid by Earl Anderson, of 284 East Grand boulevard; Jack Giacalone, 2173 Hurlbut, and Dr. Charles W. Harling, of 1018 Harvard, respectively. Each had faced charges of causing an accident.

A $25 fine was handed down to Arthur Listeman, of 4499 Seminole, for causing an accident.

For failing to stop for a stop street, William E. Funke, 2018 East Jefferson, was fined $10.

Judge Joseph P. Uvick, presiding at the Grosse Pointe municipal court session on January 13, handed out fines to four of the six defendants who appeared before him.

For driving with a revoked license, Paul G. Gianopoulos, of 987 Fisher, received a fine of $50 and was charged $15 in court costs.

Charged with reckless driving, Bruce D. Schofield, 1026 Hawthorne, paid a $3 fine and costs of $2; Phillip Wright, 16901 East Jefferson, paid a $10 fine and $5 in costs; Gene Milar, of 22734 Millanbach, St. Clair Shores, paid a fine of 25 and costs of $15; Patricia Ann Steffenlane, 22904 Gary lane, St. Clair Shores, and Earl Gudenuau, of 14805 Lappin, Detroit, were found not guilty.

News Notes From D. U. S.

The boys of the 7th grade reading class of Mr. H. Jack Geiken have been working on a project to aid the March of Dimes. They have published a little "newspaper" containing short compositions that they have written. Proceeding to sell these to parents and school mates, they have amassed more than $32 for the polio fund.

"Brigadoon's" rehearsals are moving forward these days. Among those from D.U.S. playing prominent parts in the musical comedy are Peter Kornfeil, George Black, Robin Ryan, Jack Hoey and Hans Becherer.

Special assemblies made it possible for all boys at D.U.S. to watch "history in the making" on Tuesday when they saw the Eisenhower-Nixon Inaugural ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Merrell are among 6th grade parents who are planning a field trip for the boys of that grade to the Detroit Institute of Arts.

St. Joan of Arc Wins Two
Thursday night, January 8, was a gala night for the boys' basketball teams of St. Joan of Arc, St. Clair Shores.

The sixth grade team won its opening CYO League game against St. Mary's of Mt. Clemens by defeating them, 29-2. To add insult to injury, the eighth grade team followed by taking its opening CYO League game from St. Mary's of Mt. Clemens by a score of 26-22.

Grosse Pointe High Senior Prom Workers

—Picture by Fred Runnells
Anne Leete, left, and Nancy Thomas were just two of the scores of Grosse Pointe High School seniors who spent all Saturday, January 17, transforming the boys' gymnasium into a night club scene for the Senior Prom which took place that evening. The young men and women worked like beavers all day and finished just in time to race home, slip out of blue jeans and sweaters and into beautiful formals and return to the Prom like so many Cinderellas. However, the Cinderella angle disappeared when most of the girls' escorts borrowed the old man's car and took their lovely ladies to the dance in style.

Pointe Theater To Help Center

The Grosse Pointe Community Theatre's second production of the current season—"The Curious Savage" by John Patrick, is being presented at Pierce Auditorium on Friday, February 6. It will benefit the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Tickets at $1.50 may be purchased at Doubleday's in the Village, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on and after January 26, or call Carol Wilson, TU. 5-4217.

The action of the play all takes place in a home for mildly mental cases. The Cloisters. Mrs. Savage, who only wants people to be happy feels that the entire fortune left her by her wealthy husband should be devoted to this end, is placed in the home by her irate family, who have other uses for the money.

What happens when Mrs. Savage puts her philosophy to the test with the other inmates, whose phobias range from that of Florence, who is convinced the doll she drags around with her is her young son, to Mrs. Paddy, who hates everything including electricity. This results in all sorts of confusion, since she snaps off the lights every time she comes on stage.

The cast includes several newcomers to the group as well as old favorites.

Evelyn Greathouse, who was first seen in one of the workshop plays, is the lead, Mrs. Savage. Her family include Titus, played by John Wilson, remembered for his fine portrayal in "John Loves Mary"; Samuel, played by Lee Allen; and Lily Belle, played to the hilt by Undine Sturdevan, last seen in "I'll Leave it to You."

Dr. Emmett is played by William Dance, doing his first work for the theatre. Miss Willie is played by Rosemary Wrubel, and Jeffery is played by Darwin Ley.

The inmates of The Cloisters conclude the list of characters as follows: Fairy May, Ann Sexton; Mrs. Paddy, Lynne Girard; Florence, Phyllis Cardoze, well remembered for her outstanding portrayal of Claudia; and Hannibal, played by Dick Tobin.

At the beginning of 1952 there were 300 privately-owned electric utility companies in the U. S. with total assets of 22½ billion dollars and installed capacity of more than 60 million kilowatts, with 83% of their total power generated by steam, two-thirds supplied by coal.

Farms December Fire Loss Light

A month of light activity was reported in the Grosse Pointe Farms fire department during December.

Fire Chief William H. Newport revealed that although the department received 20 calls, only five proved to have been fire calls. There were two automobile fires and three miscellaneous fires. Total fire damage was estimated at $55.

The department answered 14 emergency calls and one call to an outside community.

Speeder Caught Without License

Farms police ticketed James Coniff, 27, of 1610 Ford court, for reckless driving, January 17.

The police chased Coniff at speeds over 70 miles an hour from Kercheval to Mack avenue on Moross road before apprehending him.

Investigation also revealed that Coniff had never acquired a Michigan driver's license.

This country's original and most worthwhile endurance records were set by its pioneers.

Discovery of new sources of revenue has always been the politician's way of lightening the tax burden.

The New Library

A dream nurtured for many years by many residents will be realized Sunday when the beautiful new Central Library will be dedicated. The dedicatory exercises are scheduled for 3 to 5 p.m. and all interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

While the new library building itself is the gift of one very community-minded person, Mr. Dexter M. Ferry, Jr., its opening marks the culmination of years of ambitious effort on the part of many Pointers.

Back in the years of World War II when a Study Group was set up to determine just what form the Pointe's War Memorial should take, it was decided that a new central library would best meet the memorial idea and serve the largest number of residents as a living testimonial to those serving under arms and those who had made or would make the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Although some $225,000 was raised in the War Memorial Library campaign, the amount was far short of the required goal and the idea had to be temporarily abandoned. Much of this money was diverted, with the permission of the donors, to be applied to the development of the War Memorial Center which was given to the community by the family of the late Russell Alger.

Even before the Memorial Library drive was launched, the late Murray W. Sales had offered his property at East Jefferson avenue and Lincoln road, to be converted into a new central library. A study by librarians and architects resulted in the decision that the property was not adapted for library use, but the old Pointe landmark was accepted by the Board of Education as a gift.

With the announcement by Mr. Ferry that he would donate a building for the much-needed new library, the Board of Education, under which a public library must be operated here, announced that the Sales property would be sold and the proceeds would be used to help furnish and equip the new structure. This has been done, and Mr. Ferry has always been most insistent that much of the credit for the magnificent new building be given his life-long friend, Mr. Sales.

It was originally intended to call the new structure the Ferry-Sales Library, but it was Mr. Ferry's suggestion that this be changed simply to the Grosse Pointe Public Library, the name which now graces the facade of the modern building at Kercheval and Fisher.

We were given a pre-view tour of the new library Saturday night, under the personal direction of Robert Orr, chief librarian of the Pointe library system.

If, as we have always thought, the public library is the keeper of the torch which lights the goal for the intellectually curious, the Pointe can have no possible excuses for lack of inspiration towards continuing education and learning.

"We believe that we have here the most functional, public library in the country today," said Mr. Orr. We could find no disagreement, but could add that the functional part of the library was made doubly effective because of the beauty of the furnishings and the atmosphere that has been created within the new structure.

The noted modern architect, Marcel Breuer, has not only done the building itself, but has had much to contribute in connection with the furnishings, color schemes, designing of new fixtures, all of which combine to make a library which has attracted attention from coast to coast.

The Pointe will be presented Sunday with a gift of which the residents may be inordinately proud. It is one which will affect the lives of a very large majority of present day citizens, and which can affect the lives of each and every one of us, now and in the future, who avail ourselves of the multitude of services it offers.

The new building should be an inspiration to all to have a share in this great new acquisition. The major donations have been made by Mr. Ferry and Mr. Sales, but a great many other residents have already had a part in its creation, and there is opportunity for all to partake in the continuing growth and ever-enhancing value of the library as a vital Pointe institution.

Taking out active memberships in the library and making use of the some 45,000 books, the tools, recordings, films and periodicals available for users, is the primary way in which we can become a part of this great organization. Individuals and groups have shown us a good many other ways in which we can share in insuring the steady development of the library system.

The new building itself has many aspects which are the result of special donations. The Friends of the Library, an organization devoted to its welfare, has collected over $21,000, which has been spent towards furnishings and equipment.

The Junior League assumed the responsibility of furnishing the Children's Room and deserves the thanks of the entire community for helping to create this most beautiful portion of the new structure.

Friends of the late Kenneth L. Moore, respected and beloved Pointe historian, have taken over the furnishing of a board room, which is outstanding for the loveliness of its architecture and furnishings.

The family of the late Charles Parcels, long one of the Pointe's outstanding advocates of a new central library, has furnished the Adult Room, a section of the new building where the more mature residents may browse through the books of their choice, smoke and pursue their intellectual leanings in surroundings of luxurious comfort.

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, adding to its gift of some years ago of the famous Tool Library, has furnished the meeting room, where groups of more than 100 can gather, and has also given a new projector and screen for the showing of motion pictures and slides.

These are some of the outstanding gifts which have enhanced the beautiful property which is being given to the whole community on Sunday. The building provides ample room for development of all its facilities. Anyone wishing to contribute, be it a new book, or something more substantial, can obtain advice on this subject either from the library officials or from the Friends of the Library.

Plan to be on hand Sunday afternoon for this memorable occasion. It marks an important milestone in the cultural and educational life of the Pointe.

"My heart has grown rich with the passing of years,
 I have less need now than when I was young
 To share myself with every comer,
 Or shape my thoughts into words with my tongue."
 (Sara Teasdale)

If you are looking for something to help curb that mid-winter madness, or if you want some fireside occupational therapy until the robins return, we have found the very thing. Painting sets that can be bought, not for pros . . . but for poor frustrated folk who can't even draw a straight line or paint a small barn. There are many choices, including flowers, winter scenes, bull fights, ballet girls, ships, dogs, etc. Each subject is outlined and divided into sections for color and each color numbered so only a moron could go wrong on it. The colors are already mixed in small capsules and the directions are easy to follow.

We have only one complaint to make to the manufacturer. The brushes are not too hot . . . but for not too much one can buy either a camel's hair or sable brush in any hardware store . . . and that will do the trick. Which reminds us. A woman we know who is working on one of these projects, asked her absent-minded husband to pick up a sable paint brush for her on his way home. He arrived home with something quite different and when Modom asked WHY . . . he replied that the salesman told him they didn't make any MINK brushes!

You may not get much information from the general run of quiz programs, but if you listen to enough of them, you're bound to get a few laughs. One day last week we were listening to a woman answering questions about the monetary units of different countries. She got the American "dollar" . . . the French "franc" . . . the English "pound" . . . so she was pretty sure of herself when the question turned to Italy. She beamed quite a beam as she announced that the monetary unit of Italy was "guineas."

We find a chuckle in this circumstance of events that has taken place between a local woman and a sister living in the south where the television ain't so good yet. (A sentence we dearly love!) When our heroine's sister was visiting here last summer she became interested in a continued story on t.v., so asked her hostess to PLEASE keep her posted (by mail) as to how the story progressed. Our local gal, true to her promise, wrote a weekly letter of details about the thing . . . then found that letters seemed a little long for what she had to report . . . so she took to sending the information on post cards. The first time she did this, the card read something like: "Joanne's in-laws are trying to run her out of town but I think Mr. Tate will find a way to prevent it."

A few days later she sent another postcard reading: "Mr. Wilcox has hired Rosa to put some poisonous medicine in the soup at Joanne's tea room so the customers will become ill and the Board of Health will have to close the place." About this time, our G. P. friend received a letter from her sister asking her to please not send any more of the story on postcards. She said her postman was beginning to give her funny looks when he delivered the mail, and, while she hated to accuse him of reading the cards (which she would do by explaining to him), she was sure he thought there was something funny going on.

Local sister post-pooched that idea and sent another card recently reading: "Rose put the poison in the soup yesterday and Joanne's CHILD was there for lunch and ate some of it! I hope she doesn't die . . . she's so adorable." About a week later our heroine received a wire from her Southern sister demanding that she stop her postcard nonsense. It seems that the poor gal had a call from the FBI asking her about her Detroit connections and if she knew of any trouble there!

Oldtimers in these parts will remember a weekly newspaper called "The Detroit Saturday Night." It was no doubt called that because it came out on Friday afternoon and devoted its shiny sheets mostly to the doings of Society with a capital S. We happened to see a book of the issues of 1938 the other day and got quite a nostalgic kick out of it. Sassy in those days consisted of cut and dried reporting of events (with details), and held none of the flippant tone the columns often carry today.

For example . . . first names were used only for the young and unmarried group and a formal Tea was announced as such and not referred to as a "social pour." The word "swank" was never used and a ferretation of how the Editor felt about Society reporting showed itself clearly when he wrote an editorial castigating a Society reporter on one of the dailies for referring to a local socialite's "painted toenails."

We were entranced with the many photographs of such lovely looking women as Mrs. Harold R. Boyer, Mrs. John B. Ford, Jr., and Mrs. Edwin B. Henry and many others. Most of the pictures in those days were taken by Alice Elizabeth Whitt, who certainly knew her stuff . . . an expression we are sure would never get us a job on the Saturday Night!

All in all, thumbing through the pages of this slick paper gave us an insight into the past that will not be again. So many names have disappeared from the news and so many faces have retired from the limelight of those days. Along with them has gone the dignity of newspaper reporting just as the Horatio Alger books, Elsie Dinsmore and Alice in Wonderland have been replaced by Comic Books, Space Patrol stories and box tops for obtaining Junior's air rifle. So be it.

March of Dimes Asks Your Help

You Can Help, Too!
 Under the slogan the 1953 March of Dimes got under way in Wayne County and throughout the United States on January 2.

"We look to every citizen to support this humanitarian work," William R. Bernard, Wayne County Campaign Chairman said. "Little did we know last year that 1952 would record the worst polio epidemic of all time. Here in Wayne County, since last January 1, 1,102 new cases of poliomyelitis have been recorded. Two out of every three were severely paralyzed or needed an iron lung—it was a record-smashing year both in the number of cases and severity as well."

"The March of Dimes is not primarily a fund raising organization. Funds are raised once a year, in January, to make possible the wonderful service program that goes on for 12 months," Bernard emphasized.

"The March of Dimes is a unique Foundation," he pointed out, "because it is a partnership of the American people, men of science, and doctors, fighting an epidemic disease, polio; a disease still on the increase, an unpredictable disease that is nothing short of a menace to the health and welfare of Americans.

"We must realize that this is a time of crisis. The 1953 March of Dimes will serve three great purposes. First it will pay off the bills for patient aid that have accumulated during the terrible epidemic of 1952. Secondly, it will guarantee that the great program of research, now showing tremendous gains, is not halted for lack of funds to strike the knockout blow at polio in the laboratories. Thirdly, it will provide the funds to make sure that any victims of polio in 1953 will have the best medical care available, plus all the necessary equipment and personnel," Bernard said.

"We need more money and we need more volunteers to put over the 1953 March of Dimes than ever before. Don't wait to be asked. Volunteer your services now—even if you can give only one hour of your time to help with the Mothers' March on Polio."

Send contributions to the East Wayne County Chapter, 158 East Elizabeth, Detroit 1, Mich. To volunteer in Detroit write to that address or telephone WO. 1-7724.

What Goes On at Your Library
 By Jean Taylor

About 16 months ago, a group of interested citizens gathered on a sunny September morning at Fisher road and Kercheval avenue, to witness the groundbreaking for the new Central Library, designed by Marcel Breuer, well-known New York architect.

Among them was the man who so generously donated the money for the building but who remains unobtrusively in the background, disclaiming much credit, Mr. Dexter M. Ferry Jr. With him was his son, Mr. Hawkins Ferry, an enthusiastic supporter of the project.

Present also on this occasion was Mr. Carter Sales, grandson of the late Mr. Murray W. Sales, who gave his home a few years ago to the Board of Education to be used in the best way possible to benefit the public library. These two beneficent donations have culminated in a library building of which the residents of Grosse Pointe may well be proud.

But a building however fine, to function as a library, must have books and equipment. The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library under the leadership of Mr. Marion K. Kellogg, are not friends in name only. They have contributed generously toward the furnishings and books and have given a great deal of time, effort and thought to the project, interesting many other organizations and private individuals, who have helped in various and sundry ways.

And now the last book is arranged; the last chair is placed. The stage is set, and the curtain due to rise, Sunday, January 25 for the dedication. The time is 3 to 6 p.m. The users of the library are all members of the cast and we think it's an all star one! A library that is not used is a poor thing indeed.

Invitations have been sent out to members of "The Friends," to representatives of other organizations, to City officials, et al. These invitations were limited however and will reach comparatively few. We wish to make it clear that EVERYONE is invited.

S. A. Elections Held at GPHS

By Donna Smith
 G.P.H.S. Journalism Student
 The semesterly Student Association elections at Grosse Pointe High School were completed last Monday.

Dave Terris will automatically assume the president's duties, since he was unopposed for the office.

Winner of the office of vice-president is Jerry Goebel, who defeated Dave Baifors. At the high school the Student Association vice-president has the full responsibility of the Service Club.

Carol deBruin defeated Bev Clinie for the office of secretary. Carol's responsibility next semester will be to take careful minutes at each Senate meeting. The responsibility of the Student Association finances will be handed over to Wayne Stavoe, who defeated Skip Clark for Student Association Treasurer.

One of the main jobs of each S. A. Officer is to be chairman of one S. A. dance.

Successful candidates for the Senate positions were Peter Gall, Jean Leete, John Hammond, Steve Mulliken, Madison Morrison. These senators represent their grade in each Senate meeting.

The Student Association of Grosse Pointe High is run on the same basis as the federal government. The S. A. officers act as the executives, while the senators form the Senate part of the legislature. "Each homeroom elects a representative in the Forum, which is comparable to the lower house in Congress. The judicial branch of the Student Association is the Honor Court. Its members are appointed for each grade by the grade's senator."

Cataracts

By FRED M. KOPP, R.Ph.
 A cataract is a cloudy formation that develops on the lens of the eye causing partial or complete blindness.

Cataracts may appear at any age, they are common among elderly people. Complications before birth, heredity, and injury are all sources of such a condition, doctors tell us. Surgery restores eyesight in about ninety per cent of all patients, and it is a necessity, for should the cataract be allowed to remain it will in all probability destroy the entire lens of the eye.

Visits to a doctor should be a regular at least a once a year appointment. And always have in mind a druggist upon whom you can depend for prompt action in an emergency.

Through continued information to the public we can cut down the number of TB cases—and tuberculosis is still the No. 1 killer among the contagious diseases—and we know that we can count

GPHS Losing 14 Lettermen

By JACK MURRAY
 GPHS Journalism Student

Among the 56 boys in the graduating class of Grosse Pointe High School are 25 seniors who participated in varsity sports, and of this group 14 are lettermen.

Coach Howard MacAdam will lose the services of Bob Warner from his star-studded quintet when this term ends. Don Schmidt, Dave Cobb, and John Finch starred on the '51-'52 team, but more of these boys went out for basketball this season.

The tennis team will lose Bob Warner, who starred on the doubles teams.

The Devil fimmens will be hard hit when this term ends. Coach Frank Banach will have a king-sized job on his hands when he attempts to find suitable replacements for Pat Burke and Tony Pear.

Jim Boardman, Al Billups, George Cope, and Jerry LaChapelle will be missing from the '53 track team when the call comes for first practice.

The Pointe Diamondmen will lose John Finch, Jerry Lorenze, and Don Schmidt.

The '53 football team will be the hardest hit of all sports. The Grosse Pointe football fans have had their last chance to cheer Don Schmidt, Jerry Lorenz, Mike Luberto, Dave Carruther s, George Cope, Pat Burke, Dave Cobb, Al Billups, John Finch, Fred Albrecht and Jim Boardman.

Blue Devils' Record Intact After Conquering Wyandotte

By Fred Runnells

Grosse Pointe High School's basketball team continued as one of the few unbeaten Class A teams in the state when it tripped up the Wyandotte Bears, 45 to 34, last Friday, January 16, on the downriver court. The victory gave Coach Howard Mac Adam's Border Cities League leaders a perfect mark for the season with three league wins and four non-league victories in seven games.

Wyandotte, a decided underdog, gave the Pointers quite a scare in the first half of the contest when it held its vaunted opponent to a 7 to 7 deadlock at the end of the first period and trailed by a lean two points, 19 to 17, at half time.

Poor at Foul Line
The Blue Devils' complete failure at the foul line in the rough contest almost cost them the game. Forty-six times the Pointers led the foul line and cashed in only 17 times.

Peterson broke the first period deadlock with a bucket to start the second quarter and the Bears were in command for seven of the eight minutes of the period. With one minute remaining to the halftime intermission, Dave "Stretch" Johnson pushed a jump shot through the hoop to give the Devils an 18 to 17 lead, and Jerry "Bulldog" Goebel collected a free throw for the Pointers' two-point halftime margin.

Pointers Go To Work
After being thoroughly frightened in the first half by a team that was supposed to roll over and play dead when the Devils took the floor, the Pointers went to work in earnest.

Johnny "Tweedle Dee" Diccico climaxed the Devils' third period surge, which left them on the long end of a 30 to 24 score. Center Jerry Goebel sparked the Pointers in the last stanza, scoring 8 of the Devils' 15 point fourth quarter production to keep alive the Pointers' unbeaten season for another week.

Eying Parkers
It's possible the Blue Devils were thinking past the Wyandotte game and looking forward to meeting the once-beaten Highland Park Polar Bears on Friday, January 23. This game promises to be the top Class A game in the state and undoubtedly will command attention from all the daily sports writers in this area.

Actually, if tickets were sold in advance for this game they would have been gone long ago. It is reported Highland Park fans will follow their State Champions in droves, and getting a seat for this game in the Blue Devils "Cracker box" gym will be a major chore.

Educators Invited
Again we hope the members of the Board of Education will be on hand to witness the Highland Park game. Not only will they see the "game of the week" but will see the walls of the "inadequate Pointe gym" bulge. If as many Highland Park fans show up for this contest as Pointe fans did last year over at Highland Park, the spectators will truly become engaged in the "Battle of the Bulge" when they try to find a place to sit down.

I think it would be a wonderful gesture on the part of Grosse Pointe High School officials to reserve enough seats to accommodate the members of the Board. It would be an education in itself if the Board members could, or should we say, would be on hand.

Boutin's Service 1st Half Champs

The winner of the first half split season of the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League was decided last Wednesday night when the Boutin's Service five managed to stave off the last game surge by the Testa Cement legklers to hold onto a slim one point margin.

Testa Cement came from behind after losing the first game to Boutin's Service to capture the last two games but fell short of winning total pins and had to settle for second place.

While the first and second place teams were battling for the top spot, Norm Hall was having a field day when he toppled over 662 pins with games of 248, 180, and 234. Norm set a new series record for the season with his 662 and his 248 was good for the second spot in single games.

Other 200 or better scores were posted by Baker 235, Carroll 214, Caprini 211, Schuster 211, Mortson 209, Gross 208, Petz 201.

Little League Baseball Committee Heads Chosen

Grosse Pointe's first Little League Baseball is well on its way to a successful season this summer and it is all due to the hard preliminary work of a small group of Grosse Pointe dads.

At a meeting held at Grosse Pointe High School last Tuesday, January 13, President Howarth Gnuau greeted 53 men who were invited to be on hand to hear the most recent developments in the plans for organizing a four team league within the boundaries of Grosse Pointe Farms. At this meeting President Gnuau announced his selections for the various committees to handle the multitude of work that goes with providing Little League baseball for the community's youngsters from the ages of 10 to 12.

Committee Heads Picked
Walter Connolly was chosen as head of the field procurement committee; R. M. Waterman, Finance; Herb Bumpus, Team sponsors; Dr. Robert Swanson, Managers; Robert Ayrault, Equipment; James Dingeman, Constitution; and Burgess Book, Rules committee. This last committee was suggested by Ted Chapman, head of the Farmington Little League, who has been working hand in hand with the Grosse Pointe group in setting up the local Little League.

President Gnuau informed the group that in other cities and towns the success of the Little League seems to stem from the spreading of the work among many men.

Spread Like Wildfire
The Little League was first started in 1948 in six states which had 94 leagues made up of 416 teams. In five short years the Little League spread like wildfire and in 1952, 44 states were represented by 1,788 leagues which were made up of 7,562 teams.

These figures are impressive, but when one remembers that each of those 7,562 teams has fifteen boys between the ages of 10 and 12, simple arithmetic shows that 113,230 had the opportunity to play organized baseball in the United States last year who wouldn't have had the chance if hundreds of hard working fathers, like our own Little League men, had turned their backs on the chance to organize and build their own Little Leagues.

All to Have Chance
Under the strict league rules every Grosse Pointe Farms youngster between the ages of 10 and 12 will have a chance to try out for one of the four teams in the league.

Each team will be made up of five boys 10 years old, five 11 years old and five 12 years old. To date the league hasn't figured out how the tryouts will be handled, but every boy will get a chance. Once all the boys have reported and the team managers have been selected and had a chance to look over the material, then the teams

Again as in the St. Rose game, the St. Paul defense showed the way, allowing Annunciation an average of 6 points per quarter. The defense was not only in first gear but also the offense.

Although Coach Ed Lauer allowed his first string Varsity to play only half the game, it was ample enough time for Glen Walters to score 23 points and Bob Barrett, 11. Other scorers for St. Paul were made by Tim Champagne 5, Bob Wright 4, Jim Ayrault 4, Ted Monahan 3 and Phyl Van Tien 1.

Among the players on the bench who look like good bets to see more action this year are Joe Lenz, Bob Keller, and Joe Shirillia.

Final score in this second contest was St. Paul 51, Annunciation 23. These two victories bring the Flyers to a season record of 5 wins and 1 loss. Setting the pace in the Big Twelve is St. Florian with 5 wins and no losses.

will be organized on an auction basis.

Bargaining Basis
It works this way. Each manager will be given 36,000 credits with which he can use to bid for a boys service. For example, if there is one boy who is extremely good, a manager can go as high as he wishes in the bidding, but the higher he bids the less credit will he have left to buy the rest of his players.

The eligibility rule states a boy can play in the League if he doesn't reach his thirteenth birthday during the year he wishes to play. For example if you live in the Farms and your son will not reach his thirteenth birthday during 1953 he can play in the Little League this year.

Shun Commercialism
Little League officials have steered completely away from commercialism. A sponsor, which is selected by the Team Sponsor Committee, donates $250, which is the limit, for outfitting a team. For this the sponsor is entitled to put the name of his business across the front of the uniforms. With four teams in the Grosse Pointe Farms Little League the league will operate on a $1,000 budget.

In the Farmington, Michigan, Little League, officials raised an additional $1,000 and operated on a $2,000 budget but found this extra cash was not necessarily needed and will go back to the $1,000 budget in 1953.

Usually Pass the Hat
There is no admission to any Little League contest but the usual practice is to pass the hat and the proceeds collected go into the local League treasury.

By playing in the Little League a boy gets a chance to travel if his team is fortunate enough to win in its own league and in the following district and regional playoffs.

The Little League World Series is held each year at Williamsport, Pennsylvania, the birthplace of the Little League, and is attended by almost 10,000 spectators who jam every corner of the Little League Stadium.

Gets Chance for Fame
Not only does the League give a youngster good, wholesome organized baseball but by playing in the League he has a chance to be selected as the "Boy of the Year" by the Boys' Club of America.

It is very possible that Grosse Pointe may see more than one Little League organized by 1954. There are some City of Grosse Pointe dads' interested already.

Swim Marks Fall as Pear Paces Pointers to Victory

Walter Pear's star ascended high in the sports heavens last Friday, January 16, as the Grosse Pointe swimming team chalked up its fourth win in six starts by beating Wyandotte, 56 to 24, in the local pool.

Two records went by the boards and Pear shared in both record breaking performances which easily made him the star of the meet, his last before a home crowd. Walter will get his sheepskin from the school on Fisher road this month and will be ineligible to compete for the Blue Devils after the Highland Park meet on January 23 in the Polar Bears' home pool.

Henry Adams had a chance to take a third in the diving but missed by the narrowest of margins when Bill Timms of Wyandotte edged him by one tenth of a point in the final tabulation of points.

Banach Apologizes
Coach Bob Walke promised Blue Devil coach Frank Banach a much more interesting meet when the two teams meet later in the season in the Wyandotte pool. Banach in turn apologized for having the Blue Devil lineup stacked but pointed out that the lineup, as is the practice, was made up long before the visiting team arrived for the contest and could not be changed.

Banach pointed out, that on paper, Wyandotte was strong enough to push his Blue Devils to the limit and inasmuch as the Devils have already dropped two league meets he couldn't take any chance of starting a weakened lineup.

Relay Team Disqualified
The Blue Devils could have had an almost perfect meet if a makeshift relay team of a couple of divers, Bruce Crowley and Henry Adams, and teammates Pat Lamb and Tyrre had not disqualified themselves when one of them jumped the gun.

Wyandotte cracked the Blue Devil monopoly when Chuck Reynolds edged Walter Eversman for second place in the 100 yard backstroke.

It should be pointed out that Wyandotte was weakened considerably when two of its stars were unable to compete because of the flu.

Other Winners
Other winners were Walter. They have been getting data from the Farms dads' who are behind the organization of the first Grosse Pointe Little League.

Original Group
The original five men who started the organization of the Little League in the Farms were Howarth Gnuau, Robert Ayrault, Robert C. Chope, John Pingel and Dr. Robert Swanson. Since the first meeting of these men they have been joined enthusiastically by scores of other Farms dads who want to help give the little kids a chance to play ball.

From this corner we doff our chapeau to everyone connected with the Farms Little League and for unselfishly giving their valuable time so Pointe kids can play ball under adult supervision.

3-Way Tie Shattered in Church Loop

Manager Sandy Wiener was jumping for joy last Saturday, January 17, and his coach Lee Clancy was smiling from ear to ear after their Christ Church Tiger basketball team had whipped Woods Presbyterian 30 to 16 to crack a three-way tie for the senior division lead in the Inter-Church Basketball League.

Paced by Dave Lamb, who notched high point honors with 11, the Tigers charged into a 11 to 7 first period lead which they never relinquished. Their defense limited the Woods star Dick Miller to a mere 6 points. Miller, the week previous, chalked up the season high individual scoring total when he notched 24 points against a small Methodist team.

Miller suffered an eye injury, the first injury experienced in the four years the league has been in operation, and had to leave the game early in the fourth period while his team was trailing 21 to 12.

Alex Forrester's Memorial Die-sels remained tied for the League lead with the Tigers when sickness forced the Methodist squad to forfeit because of the lack of the necessary five players.

The Methodist forfeit firmly entrenched coach Dick Nutt's squad in, last place with coach Bob Evans' big St. James quintet which lost a thriller to Coach John Auckland's fancy St. Paul Flyers 39 to 34.

Matt Dowd Stars St. James, having a terrific height advantage, jumped into an early lead and held a 9 to 4 advantage going into the second period. Matt Dowd annexed individual scoring honors with 14 points. Dick Dilloway personally made it a battle and put St. James out in front once late in the ball game.

In the Junior Circuit the Christ Church Lions whacked down the Memorial Juniors 20 to 14 behind Neddy Evans' 5 point splurge, which was good for high point honors. Bob Wood and Dan French of the Lions tied with Memorial's Rick Champion for runner-up honors with four points apiece.

Official time keeper while yours truly had the leg saving job of score keeper.

Next Saturday's games, January 24, will pit the league leading Christ Church Tigers against St. James in the 9 a.m., game. The St. Paul Flyers will meet Grosse Pointe Methodist at 11 a.m., and Woods Presbyterian will tackle the first place Memorial Die-sels at noon.

The Junior circuit game at 10 a.m., will see the last place St. Paul Midgets trying to knock off the league leading Christ Church Lions. Every game is important in the Junior circuit because the three team division will play a nine game round robin to determine the Junior champion instead of splitting the season in half like the Senior circuit.

Boat Banter

By Fred Rumlens

That was quite a show Ira P. Fulmore put on down at Bayview Yacht Club on Friday night, January 16. The purpose of Fulmore's showing his beautiful color-sound films of the Honolulu race was to excite the local sail boys into making applications for a berth in the 1953 Honolulu race next July.

From the various ones we talked to there wasn't anything keeping them from sailing in the Pacific classic that about two months vacation and a couple thousand bucks couldn't remedy.

Fulmore, representing the Trans-Pacific Yacht Club, gave the Bayview members and their guests one of the best sailing movies seen around these parts in many a month.

The second film was taken aboard the 40-foot sloop "Gossip" in the 1951 race. That was the race that one of the ships "L'Apiche," I believe, lost a man overboard and who was rescued after being in the Pacific almost 30 hours by a Navy ship.

have any varnish on the bright work?" Said the man "You didn't have time." Nagel "We shipped her over on a freighter didn't you?" Man "Yes." Nagel "Well, why didn't you put a coat of varnish on her on the way over?" "Golly, nobody thought of that."

Incidentally, if you're interested in the "Matilda" with finger-marked bright work you can buy her for $14,300.

It is rumored that this will be the last year the boat show will be held in the Grand Central Palace. Rumors have it the U.S. Bureau of Internal Revenue is going to take it over.

I see where Federal Judge Frank A. Fieau ruled last Wednesday, January 14, that the owners of the cruiser "Fourth Marie" can be sued for unlimited damages.

Kopp's Ladies Retain Lead

The Kopp's Pharmacy ladies bowling team clung to a narrow one point margin to lead the St. Paul Ladies bowling league last Wednesday evening, January 14.

On the heels of the leader was the Glenn Walker Motors quintet with 44 points who in turn was followed by the Woods Florists with 42 points.

Jerry Jaglos posted the high individual game with a 179. She was followed by Estelle Fitz, 174; Toni Kraussman, 169, and Eudine Adams, 164.

The high three game series went to Jaglos with a 470 total. Mary Jacques posted a 454 series and was followed by Estelle Fitz, 453; Hilda Martin 453 and Ann Riegler 452.

Former Leader Occupies Cellar

The long holiday layoff, imposed on the St. Paul Bowling League, made for some interesting changes and the first half season championship quintet led by Al Gouin found itself residing in an unfamiliar spot . . . the cellar . . . after dropping four points in the first night of the second round of competition.

Ice Skippers In Hard Luck

Mother Nature is playing tricks on the local ice boat skippers but the local lads did something about it last weekend, January 17 and 18. Fourteen skippers, their wives and children loaded their boats on top of their cars and traveled to Houghton Lake, Michigan and found seven inches of ice on which to sail.

Because the Detroit Ice Yacht Club rules forbid its trophies to be competed for outside a 50 mile radius sailmaker Howard Boston whipped up the "Caravan Trophy" which the group sailed for over the weekend.

Elmer Millenback in his "Rene-gade II" captured all three races that counted and carried off the prize. The fourth race was won by John Jacobs, but because of a protest the race was thrown out of the final standings. The fleet sailed two races on Saturday and two on Sunday in fluky winds of 12 miles per hour which whipped four inches of snow across the ice by the end of the second day.

This was to have been the week the International Skooter Association regatta was to be held at Fox Lake, Illinois but lack of ice forced its cancellation. No date has been set.

This weekend, January 23-24 and 25, the D.I.Y.C. is supposed to stage the famous Northwest regatta but Commodore Chuck Grant just shakes his head when asked if he thinks the event will be run. At press time Lake St. Clair was practically void of ice and long range weather forecasts don't promise enough freezing weather to form a safe sheet of ice over the race course at the foot of Crocker boulevard near Mount Clemens.

If the Northwest regatta has to be canceled more than once it will then be transferred to some other section in the midwest where there is ice.

Plan to Tighten Driver's License Exams Drafted

A tentative draft calling for the revision of the rules and regulations governing the issuance of drivers' licenses and a tightening up of examinations has been agreed upon by the Secretary of State and the Michigan State Police.

The revision has been under study for a considerable period of time and was discussed at a conference of Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., Secretary of State-elect Owen J. Cleary and State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

The next step will be the presentation of the proposal to a representative meeting of all interested governmental and police agencies, public safety groups and others who have a primary concern in the problem.

It is hoped to hold this meeting the latter part of January. The proposal, with such modifications as may be made at that time, will then be ready to place in effect.

The program is aimed primarily at those applying for driving permits the first time. The written examination will be expanded and the vision test made more complete. The road test also will be more thorough.

Lunar Eclipse Due January 29

A total eclipse of the moon January 29 will be a feature of the astronomical events for this month.

The eclipse will take place when the full moon becomes totally immersed in the cone-shaped shadow cast by the earth, which means the earth will be right between the sun and moon.

Such an eclipse happens about every six months.

According to Miss Hazel M. Losh, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, the first part of the eclipse will not be favorable for observation because the moon will first contact the shadow at 4:54 p.m., before the moon rises.

It will take more than an hour for the moon to go completely into the shadow. The middle of the eclipse is timed for 6:45 p.m., while 7:30 p.m. is when the moon will begin to leave the shadow.

Scouts Sponsor Children's Play

"Hansel and Gretel," the classic always popular with children will be presented by the Wayne University Players on Saturday, January 24 at Pierce Auditorium.

There will be three performances—10 a.m., 12:30 and 3 p.m. This production is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Girl Scout Council to raise money to help carry on the Girl Scout program in Grosse Pointe.

At this time of year, it has become a regular tradition for the Girl Scout Council to sponsor a children's play of this type. "Cinderella," "Jack and the Beanstalk" and "Alice in Wonderland" were some of the past successful productions.

Tickets are 60 cents each. They can be purchased from any Brownie Scout or any elementary school troop. If you do not have a Brownie Scout among your friends, call the ticket chairman, Mrs. E. W. Scanes at TU 1-0066.

And if you find you can go at the last minute and have no ticket, try the box office at Pierce auditorium at the time of the performance you wish to attend. There may be a few seats left. All children are invited to come. You don't have to be a Scout or Brownie to attend.

We got a big kick out of the story of Ed Desmond and Nagel collaborated on. It was about the 30-foot 3-inch British built motor sailer "Matilda." It seems "Matilda" arrived for the show at the last minute minus varnish on her bright work. Nagel was standing on the inspection platform looking over what Desmond call a "big" when he spotted a fair inside the ship through the porthole. The man looked at Nagel and Nagel looked right back. Shortly, both became courteous and struck up a conversation. Said Nagel "Why don't you

Jack Moran, recently discharged from the U. S. Air Corps, got back into action with his ice-boat last week end, January 18, when he competed with the Detroit Ice Yacht Club in the Caravan Trophy series sailed on Houghton Lake. Jack had his pretty bride, Joan, with him, Joan was heard to say she wasn't sure whether she liked the cold winter sport or not but was willing to give the exciting sport a fair trial before passing judgment. Jack was out of competition both on "hard" and "soft" water sailing for two years while in service and was discharged shortly before the New Year.

Reserves Also Beat Wyandotte

By Art Wible
Grosse Pointe's reserve basketball team chalked up an impressive 51 to 27 victory over the Wyandotte Bears on the Wyandotte home court last Friday, January 16.

The victory was the third in a row and the fifth in six starts this season under the new coach, Bob Kurvink. All 12 players saw action in the massacre as Coach Kurvink cleared his bench early in the fourth period after victory was assured.

An airtight defense enabled the Devils to build up a 23 to 8 lead at the halftime intermission and behind the sharpshooting of Gordon "Goose" Nelson, who annexed high point honors for the night with 10 points, the Devils surged into a 35 to 20 lead at the end of the third stanza.

The efforts of Nelson and Tom Barry put the game on ice in the fourth quarter and gave the second stringers a chance to work up a sweat against the harassed Wyandotte quintet.

With the exception of poor foul shooting the Devils outclassed their rivals in every department. The Pointers, like their varsity counterparts, are looking forward to a wing-ding game when they bump up against Highland Park in the preliminary game next Friday, January 23, on the local court.

The New, All-Silver Room at Valente's

Newly completed is this all-silver room at Valente Jewelry, East Warren at Kensington. The many displays include the fine sterling lines of Gorham, Wallace, Smith and other famous houses. The Valente store, formerly located on East Adams avenue, is one of the largest in the Pointe area.

Richard School Cubs To Meet on January 27

The Richard School Cub Scout Pack 74 will hold its monthly pack meeting on Tuesday, January 27 at 7:30 p. m. in the Richard School gymnasium.

The program will include an impressive Indian ceremonial, bidding farewell to those who are 11-years old, and greeting the newcomers, eligible at eight years old.

Those who will receive their parting arrows are: Charles Adams, Robert Barnes, Philip Dulmage, Jack Watson, Ross Wilcox, Paul Gilliland, Charles Frew, Pat Meath, Andrew Critchfield, and Robert Niederost.

Being welcomed into the pack are Carl Holler, James Bristol and Michael Heaton.

Woods Church Women To Meet January 26

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will meet on January 26 at 1:15 p.m. at the church.

Mrs. Robert Smith will make the dedication. The Deborah Group, under the leadership of Mrs. Velda Gamble, will be the hostess group.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. David Neely, a missionary on furlough from Metet, West Africa.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

The E. A. Batchelors, over on Moran, are dashed. Their lovely blue parakeet Blair (because he's so Moody, remember?) flew out the door on New Year's Eve and hasn't been heard of since. Only the Batchelors, of course, would have become so involved in a parakeet-hunt. Parakeets being parakeets, this has even resulted in telephone connections (we think that's what we heard) with possible Blair parakeets.

"None of the parakeets we interviewed could speak as well as Blair," said Mrs. Batchelor. Things are looking up now, though. A new parakeet has come to stay. They've put Harvard locks on the doors (to aitch with Yale) and call the bird, Ringold Lardner Batchelor.

Checking up with Chet Sampson we learn that Pointers are passing up the Coronation this year. They are booking European trips well after the great event because everyone wants to avoid the crush.

They tell us that Florida is more fabulous than ever this Winter. Drop us a card.

As if grandmother weren't dotty enough about young grandsons, this is what happened to Mrs. Frederick J. Madel. She mentioned to Mr. Madel, who at the moment, was income-taxing, that her allowance was sadly depleted only to have that nice gentleman roar, "Not a cent!"

She walked down the hall to find a small hand grabbing hers, and the voice of her grandson, young Rickey Peterson, comforting, "Never mind, Grandma, if Grandpa hasn't got it I will sell my collection of sea shells and give you ALL the money."

FILFERINGS

When John Mason Brown was in town the other day he told about the two Brooklynites who were surprised that Gen. MacArthur and Elder Statesman Herbert Hoover saw eye-to-eye on almost every subject.

"Maybe it's because they live at the same boarding house," suggested one. They do. At the Waldorf Towers.

Five-year-old Christopher went to a party in a brand new suit. When he got home, ragged holes had been cut into it with a pair of scissors.

His mother was amazed. "What did you do to your beautiful new suit?" she gasped. "We played grocery store," explained Christopher. "I was a piece of Swiss cheese."

A very agitated lady got her doctor on the telephone. "Come quickly," she cried, "My ten-year-old boy just swallowed a fountain pen."

The doctor remained calm. "I will get over as soon as I can," he said, "but there are several patients in the office now and you may not see me for three or four hours."

"Three or four hours," shrieked the lady, "What will I do in the meantime?"

"I am afraid you will have to use a pencil," said the doctor. A cub reporter in Iowa reported that a local farmer had been robbed of 2,025 pigs. The night editor thought the figure pretty high and phoned the farmer to check up. "Is it true that you lost two thousand twenty-five pigs?" "Yeth," sighed the farmer. The editor thanked him and changed the copy to make the loss read, "two sows and twenty-five pigs."

JANE AND SUSAN HARPER OF MORAN ROAD

By Jane Schermerhorn

Don't bother to look for Coronation news in the newspapers; just dash over to Moran road, where Jane and Susan Harper, young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. Harper, Jr. will answer any and all questions.

For seven years, they have been keeping scrap books on the royal family. At least Jane, now 15 years old, has been at it that long. Her young fancy was struck when Elizabeth, a princess, was engaged to Philip.

Susan, who is seven years old, yawned about the whole affair until Elizabeth became Queen of England and now she's catching up in great shape! Her special one is the Princess Margaret Rose who like herself, is a younger sister.

The attractive living room of the Harper home might have been a drawing room at Buckingham Palace when we visited the girls. We wouldn't have been surprised if the Dowager Queen had paid a visit during the afternoon, so completely English did we all become!

In front of a crackling fire, armloads of scrap books were piled. Besides these Jane and Susan placed a veritable library of books on Elizabeth and Margaret. Then we made room for a young China collection, cups and saucers commemorating royal tours or weddings or coronations which friends here gave Susan and Jane, well-knowing their devotion to Elizabeth and Margaret.

Royal Competition

Now, as you know, there is always a lot of good natured rivalry between sisters and when they are sharing the royal family of England competition almost gets out of hand. They have divided the morning and afternoon papers, one claiming all the Royal Family stories in the morning paper, the other having sole rights to those in the afternoon editions.

Recently a friend brought over a calendar "straight from England." Its cover bears a picture of Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh. Each month is topped with different picture of Elizabeth and members of her family.

Well, there was just ONE calendar and there are TWO young Harpers. Everything was resolved when Mr. Harper presided at a card-cutting ceremony. Susan won. To go back to the beginnings of this true love, Mrs. Harper set an alarm clock for 6 a.m. when Elizabeth and Philip were married. She roused her young beauty who drank in every impressive word and every beautiful note of the majestic music.

Sees Elizabeth The next time the Harper alarm clock was set for an early date with royalty was when Elizabeth and Philip, on their tour of Canada, paused at Windsor.

That time Mr. Harper joined the cause and, with Jane, was whipping through the tunnel to Canada at a neat 5:30 a.m. He took time-out from royal love to have breakfast although his daughter was all for getting to the Ford Oval immediately "to find a good place so we can see her, Daddy." Maybe the fact that they breakfasted at the Prince Edward was the thing that did the trick.

"She was so tiny!" Jane remembers, "and very beautiful." But she was still a bit worried, too, that her own eyes seemed glued to Philip who is "wonderful."

Movies in England

The next best thing to visiting England themselves, was for Susan and Jane's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Preston Jr. of Media, Pa. who formerly lived in Detroit, to make the trip.

They took movies of the Duke of Edinburgh and the Princess Margaret Rose as they rode to the wedding of the latter's cousin, Gerald Lascelles and Angella Dowding last August.

At this point the girls brought out Coronation tea towels which their aunt bought for them when she was in England. It was the only memento of the great event to be found in England at the time (so much of the really lovely ware is being exported). The towels are marked with "Coronation" and imprinted with the thistle, the York rose, a sheaf of wheat and a shamrock.

China Collection

Their china collection includes cups and saucers marking the Coronation of Elizabeth. They are splashed with the shamrock, thistle, York rose, daffodil and the royal cipher. Another bears the pattern of Elizabeth's wedding dress, with its raised white York roses, and the bottom of the cup, orchids which formed her wedding bouquet.

There are cups and saucers from the tour of Canada and one that was made when the Queen Mother and the late King George VI visited Canada.

Many years ago, their grandmother Mrs. William J. Sinclair, gave their mother a picture of the Dowager Queen and King George V which now belongs to the girls and also might imply that this addiction for the Windsor could have been inherited.

Letters From England

Last Christmas, Jane's most cherished gift from her parents was a miniature book, covered in red morocco, lettered in gold and containing the stirring words delivered by Winston Churchill upon the death of King George. There are only 50 of the books in Detroit.

Their treasures include letters from ladies in waiting of the young Queen and Princess Margaret Rose, thanking them for birthday cards and sending warmest greetings, in return. One was written by Jennifer Bevan, lady-in-waiting to Margaret Rose. Another Iris written by lady-in-waiting, Iris Peake.

The scrap books cover the Royal Wedding, the Births of Bonnie Prince Charles and Princess Ann, the Royal Tour of Canada, the trip to Kenya, the Death of King George (Jane attended the memorial services at Christ Church) and Elizabeth's Ascension to the Throne. The Coronation scrap books are getting fat already.

The Big Wish

Their teachers at school save clippings on the subject and Mrs. Spour of J. L. Hudson Company's book department is marvelous about letting them know when a new magazine or book containing royal stories arrives. Jane has a pen pal in Ireland, Margaret Lloyd, who also has sent contributions to the scrapbooks. Margaret is "North of Ireland" and a loyal subject of Her Majesty. She's only fourteen but has already completed high school, and is looking forward to beginning her career in the working world; Sue worries a little about Princess Margaret's beaux all getting married.

And both find room in their young hearts for Edward, Duke of Windsor. They wish he could go home to England to live. They hope they can be excused from school on the day of the Coronation for it would be unbearable to miss it.

"I think it would be lovely to spend the day in Windsor. It will be a holiday for Canadians and most exciting!" said Jane.

Reflections

by Paul Gach

Oh, the power of advertising! After making a candid shot recently of a very well known and often impatient individual, he said in a joke (I guess), "Now show it to me."

The woman next to me turned with wide eyes and very excited exclaimed "Oh! Is that a Polaroid?" Of course, she meant Polaroid but at least she reads the ads.

Last week at a lunch counter my eight-year-old heir and miniature Super-man was reprimanded gently by me over his slightly obnoxious actions. He turned to the woman sitting across from us and said casually "He's been with me for eight years now." Aren't kids wonderful?

KENTUCKY BLACK CAKE

- 1 pound blanched almonds
- 1 Tbsp. rosewater
- 1 pound shredded citron
- 3 pounds seeded raisins
- 1 pound crystalized ginger
- 1 glass grape juice
- 1 pound shortening
- 1 pound sugar
- 12 eggs
- 1/2 Tbsp. allspice
- 1 Tbsp. nutmeg
- 1 tsp. cloves
- 1 glass grape jelly
- 2 tsp. melted chocolate
- 1 pound flour, browned

This is my great-great-grandmother's recipe. Soak almonds overnight in the rosewater, the fruits in grape juice. Cream shortening and sugar and add well-beaten egg yolks, then spices, grape jelly and chocolate. Next add stiffly-beaten egg whites and part of flour. Roll fruit in remaining flour, mixing into batter in small amounts. Add nuts and mix thoroughly. Bake in a moderate oven (275 degrees) for three and one-half hours.
