too bold before the control program began. Some had so much nerve they wouldn't try too hard to hide when anyone walked through the alleys.

Gives Citizens Credit
He credits Woods citizens with making the drive effective. "They kept their garbage cans covered, eliminated many of the rats' favorite hiding places, and didn't leave any food around. Take away food and there is nothing for the rat," MacArthur said.

Now, catching sight of a rat in the Woods is a rare thing. In the last two months, only two complaints have been received. The rodents have disappeared, even from their favorite haunts along the Milk River.

Not Difficult or Costly
MacArthur and other city officials would like to talk neighboring communities into a similar program. They say it is not a difficult project and it isn't costly, either.

The city will renew the program next month, just to let the rats know that the Woods is on guard against them and that the community is not a healthy place for them.

The man with the pull is mightier than the man who gets pulled.

day sessions. An actual count of the May, 1952, school census revealed a very large increase of children under five, and a substantial increase of children in the five to 14 age bracket living in the school district as compared with May of the two preceding years.

According to this, larger groups of children will be enrolling in school each year for the next five years, and larger groups of children, from the kindergarten on, will be advancing through the school system. As a result, increased enrollment will be an added strain, even if there is no further growth caused by building of new homes in the district.

In May of 1952, the number of children under five was 4,710, whereas 10 years ago there were only 2,566, an increase of 84 per cent. There has been an increase of more than 2,200 children under the age of 12 in the last two years alone.

In the last six years, 5,294 permits for new dwellings have been issued, with the greatest part concentrated in the northern part of the school district. During this period, 65 per cent of the homes constructed were in the area which includes the Mason, Monteith, Poupard and Vernier districts. Current indications show that the greatest growth will be in the Poupard and Roslyn Road districts.

The Board of Education revealed that next year five classrooms of pupils will be transported to Trembly, leaving only one unused classroom in the Trembly School. If the Roslyn School is not available by 1954, rooms at Trembly and Defer will not be sufficient to house the overflow.

Unless additional junior high schools are provided, Defer will be used to house the overflow from Pierce by September, 1954.

J. L. Buell, Jr. of Vendome road was one of eight employees of the Reliance Electric and Engineering Co. of Cleveland, who was awarded a gold wrist watch on March 7 after completing 25 years of service to their company. Mr. Buell is Detroit district sales manager for the company.

for the last two years, hesitated only long enough to remove his coat and shoes, and dove into the icy water. He saw Ball half out of the car door and ducked under and pulled him loose. He pulled Ball's unconscious form to the shore and handed him up to his brother, John.

Ray, meanwhile, had gone to a near-by residence to call police. As William turned back to see if anyone else was trapped in the car, Sylvester's head bobbed to the surface. He was unaware that his brother-in-law had been saved. The last he knew, he had tried unsuccessfully to bring him to the surface.

Farms police took rescued and rescuer to the Bon Secours Hospital, where doctors told Huetteman that a few minutes more and Ball would have been beyond reviving.

As it was, he suffered only a minor scratch on his left wrist from smashing the car window, and was weak from shock and exposure. He was kept under observation.

Huetteman and Salkawskas were released from the hospital after treatment.

The only comment the modest hero made, as he hurried home to change into dry clothing was "Boy, I'm really late for church now."

basement window. As he hurried towards the building, a young boy dashed out and into his arms.

Lets Boy Escape
Faced with the decision of holding the boy for police or allowing serious damage to be caused by the fire, Maxwell was forced to let the boy go. The youngster made his escape on a bicycle, while the man ran into the house and put out the flames. The copper tubing damage was discovered later.

Acting on a description of the boy and his bicycle, Patrolman William Fyfe, questioned several boys seen with their bikes on Park streets, the following day. The boys revealed seeing someone fitting the description and were able to place his residence fairly accurately and the police did the rest.

Identity Established
Det. Sgt. Stanley Enders and Det. Donald Dean, who handled the case, after painstaking investigation established positive identity of the boy.

The police officers questioned the parents of the boy, and it was revealed that on three separate occasions, the youngster had attempted to set fire to their home.

Authorities revealed that between the time of the fire at the new house and the time he was picked up, the boy was responsible for the theft of two bicycles.

Will Be Examined
The complaint was filed only on the arson charge, Police Chief Arthur Louwers said, adding that the boy will be examined to determine if he is mentally retarded.

Companions of the boy under detention, are still being investigated at the present time.

License Plate Reported Stolen

Archie J. Allen of 1625 Brys drive, reported to police that someone had stolen his license plate sometime Friday or Saturday, March 6 and 7.

The license plate number WG-7679, was stolen either while he was visiting in Detroit or from in front of his residence, Allen said.

Police have sent out a teletype of the theft.

BAD DRIVERS BEWARE

Due to an alarming increase in motor vehicle accidents in Detroit, Traffic Court Judges George T. Murphy and John D. Watts have adopted a new policy of more severe penalties for drivers convicted of traffic violations. Nighttime violators in particular are being given heavier fines and longer jail sentences because of the 41 fatal accidents in Detroit in the first two months of the year, 34 occurred at night.

The high cost of living wouldn't be such a problem if the luxuries of yesterday hadn't become the necessities of today.

times as to the identity of the men she claimed to have seen, and was asked to point them out. She first pointed to Woolsey and then Tricomo.

"You claim that you saw these men in your home and outside of your home," questioned the defense attorney. "Can you tell the court what the two men you claimed to have seen were wearing at the time?"

One Had Mustache
Mrs. Walters described the apparel of both men in minute detail, and added that at the time, Tricomo was wearing a mustache and was in need of a haircut. In court, Tricomo was clean shaven and his hair trimmed.

When pressed, she admitted she was extremely frightened when she saw the two men in her house and when Woolsey grabbed her by the arm.

"Will you tell the court how you were able to give such an accurate description, especially when you were in such a frightened state?"

Trained to Notice
"I may have been frightened," retorted Mrs. Walters, "but I know what I saw. I am a beautician and am trained to notice things."

Det. Sgt. Wilbert LeDuke, who with his partner, Patrolman Albert Abend, had worked unceasingly since the start of the case, took the stand.

He said that when he and his partner had gone to Detroit Police Headquarters to question Woolsey, following his capture, the suspect refused to talk about the man alleged to have been seen with him, and referred to him only as the "other man."

Both Admitted Burglary
Questioned by Ritchie, the detective said Woolsey, mentioned the name Sam, only after Tricomo was captured. Both suspects admitted the burglary, he said. Sgt. LeDuke said Woolsey had confessed to having opened the side door of the Walters home with a screw driver, when attempts with a knife failed.

He also said that Woolsey admitted he was the one who had seized Mrs. Walters, and that as he chased after her, he grabbed a hat from Tricomo's head and put it on his, in an attempt to confuse any possible identification by the woman.

Snatched Wallet
It was brought out that as the alleged burglar took off after the woman, he passed a snack bar in the house, and snatched a wallet from a purse which was lying there.

When he first questioned the suspect, the detective said, Woolsey denied any knowledge of the burglary, but later signed a confession which also implicated Tricomo.

Tricomo signed a confession admitting his part in the burglary when he was apprehended by Detroit authorities.

Protests $5,000 Bond
Attorney Ritchie protested when $5,000 bond was set for Tricomo, claiming it was too high for a man being tried for his first offense, but Judge Goodrow refused to be swayed.

When the high bond was placed against Woolsey, the prisoner, in a low voice, asked the judge why Tricomo's bond was so much lower than his. It was stated it was because he had been convicted of offenses twice before, and too, he was wanted by Detroit Police on other charges.

If convicted on the burglary charge, Woolsey faces a mandatory life sentence under Michigan's Habitual Criminal Law.

Husband Spots Pair
The two burglar suspects were arrested by Detroit Police, March 4, two days after the burglary when Joseph C. Walters, husband of Mrs. Walters, spotted a car fitting the description of that used in the get-away by the men who robbed his house, as he was driving east of Jefferson at St. Aubin. He followed the car to a tavern at Joseph Campau and Atwater, Detroit, and summoned police.

"I wasn't looking for the car," he said. "It was just luck that I sighted it. It was a 1951 Buick with a black top and green body, just as my wife described to police. I took a chance that it might be the one and notified the authorities."

Solves Many Thefts
The subsequent arrests and confessions followed. Police said the pair admitted breaking and entering into about 40 homes in the Detroit area; four in the Woods, four in the Park, one in the Farms and the rest in Detroit.

They said the men operated as window washers, and while on the job kept an eye on adjacent homes to watch when owners would leave. When they were sure no one was home, they forced an entrance and took what they wanted.

Director of Public Safety Verne C. Bailey of the Woods, was lavish in his praise of the two police officers of his department who were assigned to the Walters case.

"Both Det. Sgt. Wilbert LeDuke and Patrolman Albert Abend are to be commended for their exceptionally fine police work and their devotion to duty," he said. "I am going to recommend them for citations."

He added that in all his years as a police officer he had never heard anyone give as accurate a description of persons, as did Mrs. Walters under questioning while on the witness stand.

Pointe Veterans May Marry In War Memorial Center

The Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, at a recent meeting established a policy regarding future wedding receptions which may be held in the Center.

No private social functions will be permitted at the center, except in the case of wedding ceremonies and wedding receptions where either the bride or bridegroom, being a resident of Grosse Pointe, is either a veteran or an active member of the armed forces.

It is believed that this exception will prove consistent with one of the basic purposes of the Center, to honor veterans and active members of the armed services. The directors felt that this policy will not clash with the strict enforcement of the general rule against private functions.

A second exception under consideration, but not presently recommended, concerns private social functions given in connection with public exhibitions or events and intended to promote attendance at the shows. These affairs must be approved by the house committee as to feasibility of service, and the executive committee if such attendance is promoted for the public interest.

Burglars Foiled At Farms Home

Farms police were called to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Groening, 311 Merriweather, Friday, March 5, when two youths attempted to force an entrance into the home.

The Groenings' son Richard, who had called police, said that he was home alone looking at television, when he heard someone trying to enter the front door.

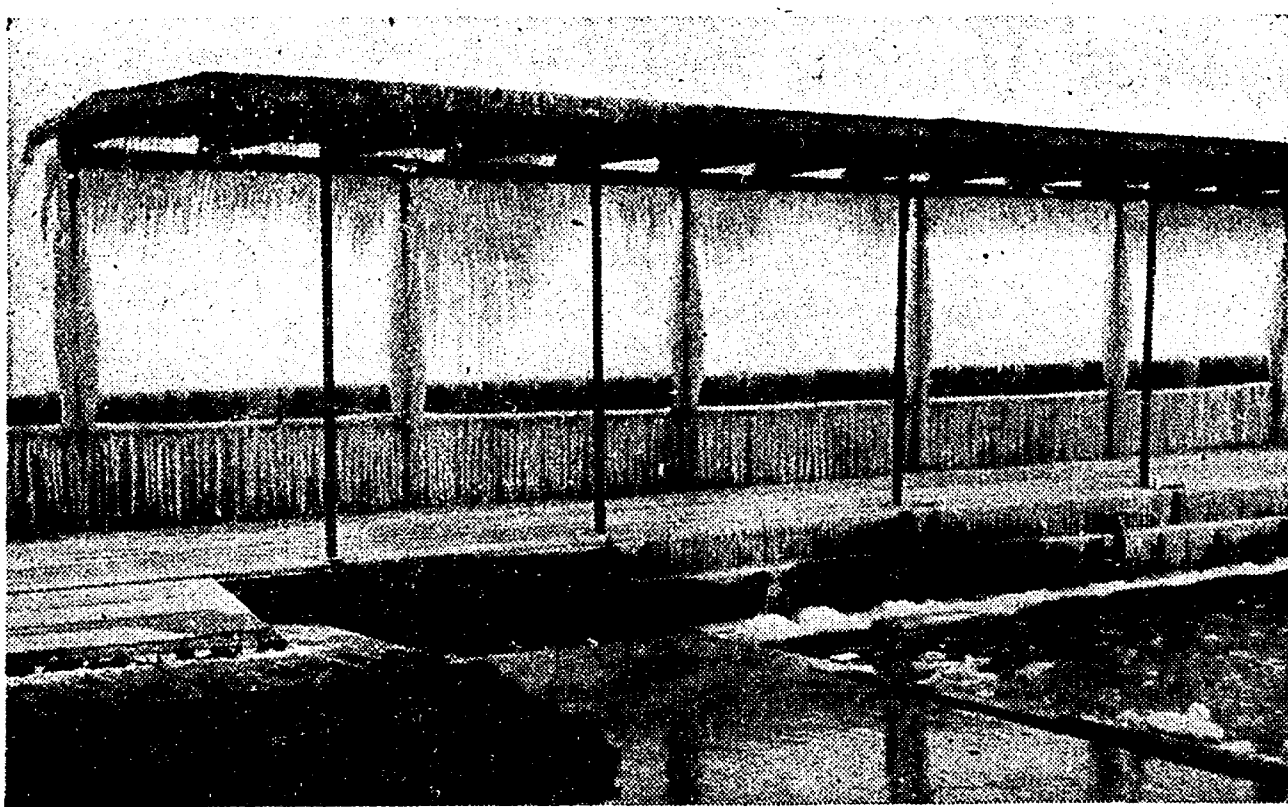

When he turned on the outside light, he saw two young men running south towards Beaupre road, but he was unable to give police a description of the pair.

Investigating officers found that the front storm door, which had been locked, had broken glass between it and the house door. Police believe the persons who tried to enter broke the glass with a heavy object.

Richard stated that his parents are in Florida, and that he is home alone at night on weekends and attends Hillsdale College during the week.

When questioned, he told the authorities that some time ago keys to their car and house were stolen, but that the locks in the house were changed when this happened. Police think that whoever tried to get into the house might have had the old keys to the former locks.

Rotary Sponsoring Bicycle Inspection Safety Campaign

A Bicycle Inspection Safety Program, under the sponsorship of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, has received the wholehearted approval of the Grosse Pointe Traffic and Safety Committee, the chiefs of police of the Pointe communities and the principals of elementary schools in this area.

Prizes will be awarded to the young cyclist with the highest number of points for complying with required safety regulations during the inspection. Prizes include four boys' or girls' bicycles donated by the Rotary Club, and 21 bicycle accessories, which will be donated by the Metropolitan Club, composed of police, firemen and federal employees of Grosse Pointe, who are enthusiastically behind the program.

An outline for the related agencies whose combined efforts are needed to bring this safety program to a successful conclusion are: bicycle inspection will occur in each elementary school in Grosse Pointe. The inspection will be conducted by the Police Department of the city in which the school is situated; inspections will occur during the last two weeks of April and the first two weeks of May, and will take place on the school grounds between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. of a school day, unless other arrangements are made.

Each agency will be required to see that the following must be complied with: each bike must have a current license plate; equipment, such as tires, spokes, chain, handlebars, fenders, brakes, rear red reflectors, should be in safe working order.

After inspection has been approved, inspectors will place a safety first reflectorized sticker on the rear fender; issue a safety first pledge card to the child, with detachable perforated tab containing child's name and address, to be given to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, chairman of the program, which entitles person to a chance to win a bicycle; give each child a bicycle safety pamphlet, and issue a city bike license if it is required during inspection.

If the child does not pass the test, the police inspection officer will advise the child to repair the bike and have it re-inspected at the police station later. Passing the test will permit entry in the contest.

On Monday, May 25, the Safety Patrol Captain of each participating school will be the guest of the Chief of Police of his city at a luncheon provided by the Rotary Club in the War Memorial Center, at which time the prize winners will be announced. The program will begin at 12 noon and will be devoted to the Bike Program and the Safety Patrol Boys.

The police will be responsible for notifying the principal of the school to have inspection, at least two or three weeks in advance, and will deliver placards to public, private and parochial schools immediately upon receipt of the same. They will supply schools with local ordinance material for pre-inspection day safety talks, and obtain the assistance of Safety Patrol boys on inspection of bicycles.

On completion of the inspection program, police will follow up with enforcement on all bicycle violations.

The Pointe communities will conduct a Bicycle Traffic School on the second Saturday of the month, where bicycle instructors will be given to all violators.

Teenagers Admit Car Tamperings

Within 15 minutes after Woods police sent a wanted message over police teletype, Farms police apprehended three Detroit teenagers accused of tampering with cars in the Woods Theater parking lot, Wednesday, March 4.

Patrolmen William Fowler and Francois Belanger while in their scout car heard the wanted notice for the teenagers at 9:45 p.m., and at 10 p.m. sharp stopped a car fitting the description given as being driven by the boys.

In the car, police found two Cadillac and two Ford hub caps, a seat cushion and cigaret lighter. The officers said the youths admitted thefts from other cars in Detroit. They also implicated another youth, who was not with them at the time, as being part of the gang. He was picked up later.

Pointe Theater Production Takes Big Back-Stage Crew

More people are working behind the scenes at a theatrical performance than appear before the foot-lights. This is especially true in Grosse Pointe Community Theatre's performance of "Death Takes A Holiday."

Eleven persons appear in the cast of this moving drama by Alberto Casella, which has been translated from the Italian by Walter Ferris; 13 have important jobs backstage. All are almost busier before the night of the play than they are at the actual performance.

Busiest of all is Louise Candler, (Mrs. George V.), who is director. Assisting her as stage manager is Lee Yeager, (Mrs. William), who directed "The Curious Savage," and June Erskine, wife of the lead, Dean Erskine, is assistant stage manager.

Next busiest and most harassed in Undine Sturdevan, producer. Her job is to coordinate and make sense of all the committees that are necessary to put on a play, from arranging places to rehearse, to checking on publicity, turning the set designer to have plans ready in time, seeing that the costumes don't clash with the backdrop.

Underscoring all the women's parts and in charge of hand-props is Rosemary Wrubel, Understudy for all the men's parts is Jim Hamilton. Elizabeth Livingston is in charge of costumes, Mary Louise Fitzsimons has designed the set and Mark Reeves is building it. Lois Potter is in charge of the house and Carol Sanford is doing the program, which includes selling the ads, too.

Mary Koebel, is doing metropolitan publicity, as well as taking part in the play. Jean Standish is dressing the set, no mean job to get authentic Italian antiques and she would welcome word from anyone who would like to loan a chair or two and a table. Betty Cook is in charge of tickets.

All these people back-stage are required so that the audience may see a finished performance on the evening of March 27, when the play is presented as a benefit for Grosse Pointe Community Theatre. Time, Friday, March 27, 8:30 p. m. Place, Pierce Auditorium. Price, $1.50 per ticket. Play, "Death Takes A Holiday."

Vandermarliere Wins New Honor

39TH AIR RESCUE SQUADRON, Japan.—First Lieutenant Gilbert E. C. Vandermarliere, of Grosse Pointe Farms, has been awarded his second Air Medal for meritorious achievement in the Korean effort.

Lieutenant Vandermarliere, a 31 year old veteran of World War II, was recalled to active duty in June, 1951, and assigned to this unit in Japan in October of this year.

Since becoming a member of the 39th Air Rescue Squadron, he has flown numerous missions over enemy territory as the pilot of a Grumman SA-16 Amphibious aircraft. He is also Squadron Engineering Officer.

Married and the father of three children, Lt. Vandermarliere first entered the Air Force in 1942. He flew combat missions over Germany and for 13 months was a prisoner of war. During this period he was awarded his first Air Medal. Returning to civilian life in 1945 he worked as building contractor in Detroit until his recall.

The citation awarding the decoration reads in part that "Lt. Vandermarliere distinguished himself by meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight as pilot of an SA-16 aircraft, 39th Air Rescue Squadron, 3rd Air Rescue Group. . . . These flights were exceptionally hazardous because of long distances over water and the number of hours spent over enemy territory during which time enemy contact was probable and expected. These missions were Air Rescue missions consisting of behind the line pick-up, orbit and search missions. . . ."

The 3rd Air Rescue Group has been credited with saving the lives of over 8,000 UN personnel since the outbreak of Korean hostilities.

3 Commissioned Ensigns at NOCS

NEWPORT, R. I., March 6 (FHTNC)—Eight hundred forty enlisted men traded their white hats for the gold trimmed caps of commissioned ensigns, as the Navy's only Officer Candidate School graduated its ninth and largest class here today.

Among those graduated were three Grosse Pointe, Mich., men; Benjamin H. Paddock, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Paddock of 83 Vendome road; Richard D. Rippe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walker L. Cislis of 1071 Devonshire road, and John F. Beyer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Beyer of 725 Hollywood avenue, and husband of the former Miss Patricia A. Ford of 410 McKinley avenue.

These new officers will join other OCS graduates already serving on every type of combatant and non-combatant ship in the fleet.

Many will go to specialist schools where they will be trained further as pilots, aviation ground officers, beach masters, underwater demolition team officers or "frog men," and some will serve with the Marines in Korea as gunnery liaison officers.

These men, in four months of intensive study and training, have covered the same Naval subjects that college NROTC students do in four years. Foremost in their study was gunnery, navigation, seamanship, engineering, damage control and operations.

To qualify for line officer's candidate school, a person must be a college graduate, be between the ages of 19 and 27, and pass a rigid physical examination. The only exception to age limitation are candidates for restricted line commissions, who may be between the ages of 19 and 33.

Work never hurts a man unless he keeps away from it.

Police Chiefs Warn Drivers Against Abusing Privileges

The Chiefs of Police have announced that the Grosse Pointe City Police Departments are actively participating in the March state-wide emphasis program sponsored by the State Commission to make motorists more aware of the responsibilities that go with a driver's license.

"According to our records," one chief said, "we have checked 25 licenses since March 1, and found three cases where the driver did not have his license with him, two cases where the license had expired, and one case where a motorist was driving at a time when his license was suspended."

In commenting on the importance of the driver's license the chiefs said their departments realize that "When an examiner qualifies an applicant this is a very serious thing, and if we fail to discover weakness in driving ability or an unwillingness to obey traffic laws this may result in such a driver being involved in a serious accident. In an effort to reduce traffic accidents we are studying each new applicant even more carefully than we have in the past."

"Our departments believe that any motorist who repeatedly commits hazardous moving violations should have his license suspended and whenever we shall recommend that he be re-examined by the state authorities."

In conclusion the chiefs urged all motorists to realize that they do not have a right to a driver's license but must qualify for the privilege by examination and that they must drive safely to continually justify their retain-

Organizing Trip To Scout Ranch

A summer expedition for explorer scouts, to the Philmont Scout Ranch near Cimarron, New Mexico, is being organized by Doug Simpson, former Scoutmaster of Trombly Scout Troop 86.

The contingent which will consist of 30 explorers and three adult leaders, will leave Detroit Monday, August 3, spending six days in travel and sight-seeing, and 13 days on the ranch. While on the trail, the group will cover approximately 80 miles of Philmont's 200 square miles of rugged, mountainous countryside, both on foot and by horseback.

The trip will afford excellent opportunity for development of scouting skills in horsemanship, marksmanship, fishing and woodlore. The ranch is also rich in interesting rock and mineral deposits, and counts buffalo, wild turkey and mountain lions among its existing wild life.

The expedition, which will arrive home Friday, August 21, will travel in a private railroad coach equipped with reclining chairs, and will include a stop-over in Chicago one full day in La Junta, Colorado and one day's sightseeing in Taos, New Mexico.

Interested explorer scouts and parents may obtain further information concerning the trip by calling Doug Simpson, TU, 2-0812, or L. Robert Kilmer, TE, 1-1600.

War Memorial Center Revises Personnel Policy

A new personnel policy was passed by the Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, at their March 2 meeting.

The new policy, which supercedes that formulated December 17, 1951, establishes that the Executive Director will henceforth be responsible to the Board of Directors. His duties will include general administrative responsibility for operation of the Center; coordinating activities of the various committees and see to the general maintenance of the building.

He must also carry out the policy decisions of the Board of Directors; is placed in charge of advertising and promotions; cooperate and assist in the solicitation of funds through annual Family Participation Campaign or other methods. He is solely responsible for reports and operational facts, and for making com-

ANNOUNCEMENT of the new Packard CLIPPER was bound to make news!

People who love the sturdiness and elbow-room of a truly big car—but don't quite feel they can afford one—are looking at this big new Packard CLIPPER, riding in it, and ordering it!

In all truth, the new Packard CLIPPER is enjoying public response—far beyond expectations—and has, since the first day it was shown!

Because the value is there, and the price is right.

How can Packard do it? Deliver so much big-car value and performance at medium-car prices?

FIRST: It's Packard engineering—traditionally fine, historically dependable. Packard, you remember, is the oldest maker of fine quality cars in America.

SECOND: Packard occupies a unique manufacturing position, for Packard alone with 54 years' experience in fine car building, combines craftsmanship of the highest character, and modern mass production techniques, to produce greater dollar for dollar values.

In addition to greater values, you get Packard's contour styling that is setting the new trend in automotive design. Contour styling means not only a handsomer car, but better visibility—any way you look! You get the smoothness and comfort of the famous Packard ride, too—real big-car ride!

You get the unforgettable kitten-smooth, whip-quick pull and zoom of the Packard Thunderbolt-8 Engine—real big-car power!

In all, you get more than 70 big-car features that Packard has built into the medium-priced CLIPPER!

If you plan to buy a car in the $2500 price-class be sure to see and drive the new Packard CLIPPER and compare it with other medium-priced cars. Surprisingly enough the CLIPPER costs only a few hundred dollars more than cars in the lowest-priced field. And, of course, there's a wide range of new beautiful CLIPPER models, any one of which will give you a lift, as well as a ride, anytime you drive it!

In addition to the new CLIPPER, Packard of course continues to build one of the finest cars in the world, sold under the single name PACKARD—America's new choice in fine cars. Now—Ask the man who owns one!

Voters' League Sponsors Movie by Christophers

"Government is Your Business," a film produced by the Christopher Group headed by Father James Keller, will be shown at 2 p.m. Friday, March 13, in the War Memorial Center at an open meeting of the League of Women Voters.

The Christopher Society is active in promoting Christian principles in fields which touch the lives of all—education, government, television, newspapers, books. The chief point stressed in lectures, books and films of the group is the stimulation of individual responsibility for good government.

Father Keller has written "You can Change the World," "Careers that Change the Day," and a book entitled "Government is Your Business," from which the picture was made.

Professional entertainers who have contributed their talents in this project include: Eddie Anderson (Rochester), Irene Dunne, Paul Douglas, Loretta Young, Bing Crosby, and Jack Benny.

Mrs. Taylor Seeber, program chairman, says the film is outstanding.

Health Council Hears Plans for Drive to Cut Down Number of Home Accidents

Sanitarian for Wayne County Also Talks About School Lighting, Rat Menace and Food Inspection Methods in Pointe

Because "There's no place like home" for accidents, a campaign for safety in every home was urged upon Grosse Pointe residents by Elliott L. Swartz, sanitarian for the Wayne County Department of Health, in a speech before the Grosse Pointe Mothers' Health Education Council.

Mr. Swartz, who was assigned part time to Grosse Pointe by the County organization to meet the needs of the increasing population, was enthusiastic in launching the drive. He appealed to the Mothers' Health Education Council and other Grosse Pointe organizations for assistance.

Too Little Attention
"Traffic safety has been emphasized for many years in nationwide programs, but too little attention has been focused on promoting safety in the home," said Swartz. "Some 35,000 men, women and children are killed accidentally in American homes every year, and about 5,000,000 people are injured."

Mr. Swartz hopes to kick off the campaign by distribution of a booklet, "And All Through the House," to every Grosse Pointe home. This booklet, which is filled with cleverly humorous illustrations, is a check list of common hazards which are to be found in every room of the house.

Urges All to Study It
"Every family should study the booklet conscientiously, then set about inspecting the entire house, preferably with all members of the family present," said Mr. Swartz. "Every hazard that is found in the house should be checked in the booklet, then steps should be taken to correct them immediately. In this way residents would be going a long way toward complete elimination of potential accident spots in the home."

Plans for circulation of the booklet, as proposed by Mr. Swartz, would include cooperation of schools, so that children may take them to their parents. Another possible method of distribution might be through the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Mr. Swartz said. Members of both these organizations may include home safety as a project for a merit badge or achievement award.

Movie Available
Mr. Swartz also offered a motion picture produced by the National Safety Council, entitled "Home Safe Home," for free use by any interested Grosse Pointe group. Sound film strips dealing with home accident prevention also are available free and projectors for both the motion picture and the film strips can be borrowed. Individuals or groups wishing to obtain the free home safety inspection booklets or the films may apply in person to the Board of Health office in the Defer School.

Need Data for Survey
Mr. Swartz urged prompt return of the booklets to this office upon completion of the first home inspection, so the data may be used in a survey to uncover the most prevalent dangers. Further preventive steps can then be pointed up in a continuing educational campaign.

One of the major results of any successful home safety drive in a large area would be the reduction of fire hazards, with possible lowered insurance rates. A broader goal would be for the community to accept the challenge of such a drive as a matter of civic pride. The children of Grosse Pointe have a proud record of lessons learned for safety outdoors. Their parents could well follow the lead to reduce the number of lives lost inside the home.

Some Corrections Needed
In discussing the work of the sanitarian, Mr. Swartz enumerated some health conditions in County community where it has been tried, and until it can be proved, his department does not wish to endorse it.

Mr. Swartz said that one of the desirable effects of the joint study of the whole garbage-rubbish disposal problem might be the putting into effect of a uniform collection system.

Group Meetings

On Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. the following groups of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet.

The Doris White group will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur Lee, 870 Trombley road. The Sussannah Wesley Group will meet at the home of Mrs. M. H. Kennedy, 19799 Ida Lane West.

Grosse Pointe which he has found in need of correction. These included below-standard artificial lighting in some school classrooms, incomplete ordinances for control of sanitation in food stores and restaurants, presence of rats in certain Grosse Pointe sections and unsanitary sewage disposal systems.

Of particular interest to the Mothers' Health Council, which is made up of representatives from all the local Parent-Teacher Associations, was the school lighting. Swartz said that the artificial lighting which has thus far been tested was found to be below acceptable standards.

In some cases this was due to individual teachers' insistence on drawn shades and use of artificial illumination even on bright days, he added. When questioned about lighting in the newer schools, he said it was superior to that in the older ones. Optimum advantage of daylight and new principles of architectural design were naturally employed in the newer structures.

Woods Has Ordinance
Grosse Pointe Woods is the only city which has passed the model Wayne County Health Department ordinance, which provides for satisfactory control over sanitation in food stores and restaurants. Grosse Pointe Farms is considering this identical ordinance, which also has been submitted to the other Grosse Pointe cities for study. Mr. Swartz hopes for speedy action.

Rats are a distinct menace in some segments of Grosse Pointe, Swartz said, and they can be eliminated only by a process of educating citizens to assume their proper share of the job. Home dwellers should remember that the best way to get rid of rats is to starve them.

Cites Bird Feeders
Often the bones playfully hidden on the back lot by Fido provide a tasty meal for the sharp-toothed rodents. Even the bird feeding stations which attract those beautiful cardinals and bluejays to yards in daylight may have night time rat visitors.

The County Health Department and municipal offices cooperate on rat complaints, Mr. Swartz said. Grosse Pointe Farms and Woods have relatively good control measures. In the Farms, rat complaints are followed by letters not only to the complainant but to surrounding neighbors with detailed instructions for getting rid of the pests.

Park Provides Poison
The Park, upon request, gives residents a rat-killing poison which is virtually harmless to pets and is most effective. This carefully packaged compound is the product of scientific research at the University of Wisconsin. It is called Warfarin, and is available commercially.

In response to a question on garbage disposal, Mr. Swartz said he favored incineration as the best method. He said somposting of garbage had been found unsatisfactory in another Wayne

From Another Pointe of View

By

Jane Schermerhorn

For the past five weeks, a number of Pointers have been attending a circus. They've been backstage at the Cordon Bleu cooking school in the Art Institute.

The act started at the first of the series sponsored by the Seven Eastern Women's Colleges when Mrs. Allen Lomax proudly presented Dione Lucas, a cooking expert whose creations are as mouthwatering as Dickens' description of roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, with a garlic press.

Mrs. Lomax, chairman of the whole affair, and justly proud of the gadget which had been imported from Italy, was nonplussed at Madame's pained expression.

It seems that one never presses garlic. One uses a mortar and pestle, and gently squeezes the more than fragrant essence from the pungent clove.

Second Boner Pulled

Another boner pulled by an unseasoned novice assisting with the clean-up chores in the tiny kitchen was that of thoroughly scrubbing an omelet pan which Dione was to use the next day for her demonstration.

One just doesn't wash omelet pans in the best cooking circles. The pan is seasoned with butter by bringing it to a melting point and rubbing it into the pan, over and over again.

In that way, an omelet can be cooked in the pan without greasing. Well the error was remedied, only after the dismayed victim had spent the whole night reconditioning it.

But the omelets that Mrs. Lucas turns out are well worth any extra effort on the part of volunteers who do the buying and assisting backstage.

She Knows Where

Mrs. Hall Lippincott, who can tell you where to get live lobsters, truffles, Italian cottage cheese made from goat's milk, or any other trifling delicacy, almost fainted one day when Dione casually dumped 30 eggs into a sauté, using eggs reserved for the four other dishes scheduled on the program.

As purchasing agent for the project, and she filled the trunk of her car with groceries every week, she was responsible for seeing that sufficient supplies were on hand.

Fortunately a corner grocery had the eggs. But one day a sudden demand from the stage for mushrooms found her stranded. Where to go? Ingenuity paid off. The chef at the (Continued on Page 10)

Fishy Theme Selected For Hunt Club Party

Many Reservations Received For Dinner Dance to Be Held in Clubhouse in Cook Road Tomorrow Night

Comic sketches of lobsters, clams and other denizens of the deep, along with fishing nets and lifebelts, will carry out the "fishy" theme of Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's dinner dance tomorrow evening at the Club.

Even though committee members realized that tomorrow would fall on the 13th, (and you know how any mishap taking place on Friday the 13th can be magnified), they went blithely ahead with their plans.

They have no qualms, because this semi-annual affair has already occurred on just such a day, and if anything, the event was more successful than ever.

Responsible for the clever sketches which will line the walls of the dining room is Mary Mulford, talented daughter of the John W. Mulford.

Mrs. Mulford, who has just returned to the Pointe from a visit in Carbondale, Colo., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Murphy, will be on hand for the funfest.

While in Colorado Mrs. Mulford became acquainted with her new granddaughter Reily Nan, born on Feb. 11.

Also attending the dinner and dance which will follow will be Thomas Sheahan, chairman, the Frank Donovans, Joseph Vance Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. McMahon, the J. L. W. Segimonts, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McElvenny, the Walter H. Schmitts, Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Dodenhoff and the R. E. Dowlings.

Others include the Herma Petzolds, Ernest C. Putnams, Jack Williamses, Dr. Walter Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Bull, the Otis Walkers, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Trapp, the Herman Wocklers, L. M. Dentons, W. W. Bryans and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ostus.

Boat Club Plans St. Pat's Party

"'Twill be the wearin' of the green" on Saturday, March 14 when the Boat Club is transformed into the Boat's Tavern—"Where the elite meet to eat"—for the St. Patrick's cabaret dinner dance.

In attendance at a huge mahogany bar centering the lobby will be, not Mr. Cruify himself, but three of his cronies in the persons of a trio of club-members whose identity is being kept a deep secret until that evening.

It may be a little difficult recognizing them, also, all done up as they will be with slick center-parts, handle bar moustaches, large white aprons, green ties and such. Recorded barber-shop harmony will set the mood for arriving guests.

The ballroom will have the tavern look with its green-and-white checkered tablecloths, green bowler hats and clay pipes will be ready for all sons of the sod.

Hors d'oeuvres will be served at 8 p.m. followed by dinner and dancing to Eddie Shick's orchestra from 9:30 to 1:30 a.m.

Working out arrangements for the party are chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Harrigan, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Knox Hearne and Dr. and Mrs. Cyril R. DeFever. Preceding the party, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Kross are entertaining a group of friends in their new home on Moran road at cocktails, and a similar affair is scheduled at the Winfield S. Jewell, Jr. home in Washington rd.

Anyone watching youngsters entering Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center the evening of March 21, will probably head right for the oculist, thinking he or she is seeing double.

Because the lads and lassies attending the "Normal Formal" dance will be wearing half formal and half sports attire.

Bill Miller, chairman, has been most emphatic about cautioning couples to follow suit in the dress theme. He suggests attire for the Beau Brummels consisting of a tuxedo coat and blue jeans. Gals might wear a swish, frothy skirt with an old sweater.

View Of Young's Greater Store For Men

The growth of Young's Men's Wear store, in the Village, has been outstanding in Grosse Pointe since its establishment here some six years ago. The store is approximately twice its original size and extends from Kercheval avenue back to Kercheval Place, with customer entrances from both streets. Much of the floor area of the new and greater store is beautifully carpeted and all wall and floor display cases are new and of latest design. There are two departments, one containing shoes for men, where the famous French Shruiner and Urner shoes are featured. The other is a smart innovation featuring outfits for young men still in their 'teen years. Robert Shannon, the manager, has been connected with the store since its inception in 1947 and is active in local civic affairs.

From Another Pointe of View

Park-Shelton was most obliging. His price—to be taught Madame's technique of fluting mushrooms.

To Top It Off

Last Tuesday, with all her other foodstuffs, Mrs. Lippincott had to deliver two live lobsters, king size. The lobsters, with their seaweed, arrived in one piece. We can't speak for the delivery gal.

To top off the hectic pace backstage (Mrs. Lucas spends four hours preparing the dishes before her demonstration proper), this cook par excellence was suddenly stricken with a migraine headache.

A quick trip to the hospital, a shot for the affliction, and the quick lass was ready with her best smile for the audience of more than 500 eager neophytes.

But Madame's eyebrows flew to her hairline in horror when one innocent abroad asked "Can shrimps be cleaned in the shell before boiling?"

Airs Pet Peeve

Her pet peeve in using margarine for cooking was exploited when another winsome babe in the woods broached the subject. Her feelings on the subject are either butter or clarified chicken fat are the only decent substances to use in cooking.

In fact her liberal use of butter in cooking has caused astonishment amongst those-in-the-know. Just the other day she whipped through six pounds for five dishes.

It also caused the dairy representative, donating products, to blanch on their first meeting. To his question of her needs, Dione airily ordered for one demonstration, six dozen eggs, three quarts of heavy cream, two quarts of light cream, six pounds of butter, et al.

Already Clamoring

Still, Mrs. Lucas is one of the most popular characters in this town. Women are already clamoring for another Cordon Bleu school next year.

And the Seven Eastern Women's Colleges committee is delighted with its culinary mentor. In its books she's tops, and if TV doesn't capture her wholly (she now broadcasts from New York two days a week) maybe there will be a five week funfest next year.

Assisting with the Cordon Bleu activities were Mrs. Eugene Hawkins, Mrs. James W. Lee II, Mrs. Herbert P. Bartlett, Mrs. James Graves, Mrs. Henry C. Kohring, Mrs. C. G. Browne, Mrs. Roger Bellows, Mrs. C. Allison Monroe, Mrs. Edward Schutte, Mrs. H. James Gram and Mrs. John J. Remillet.

Two firemen from the City of Grosse Pointe indulged in a bit of a busman's holiday on Saturday, March 7, and were credited with saving the life of a man whose clothing had caught on fire.

Frank Dansbury and Joseph McEachern were driving on Eight Mile road at Schoenherr when they saw a man running from a rubbish fire, with the entire lower half of his clothing ablaze.

Dansbury, who was driving, hollered for McEachern to grab something with which to smother the flames, as he jammed the car to a stop. McEachern jumped out with a seat cushion and Dansbury with an old jacket he had in the car.

They grabbed the panicky man, Thomas Blinko, of 4797 Crane, Detroit, and as Dansbury enveloped his legs in the jacket, McEachern beat out flames with the cushion.

They took Blinko into the office of the Jerry Lynch used car lot close by, removed his coveralls and slit the legs of his trousers. Blinko was so badly burned the skin was hanging off the legs in places. Jerry Lynch employes rushed him to Saratoga Hospital.

The firemen were told Blinko works at the parking lot and had left the office but a minute before to go out and burn some rubbish.

The hospital reported Monday that Blinko was responding sufficiently to treatment to be released.

About Those Farms Taxes

Accusations have been arriving via the mails, insinuating that we have been most derelict in our duty in not reporting in full on the revised tax assessments which have been put into effect in the City of Grosse Pointe Farms. There have been unweilded implications that we ought to take someone, preferably the city officials, apart, limb by limb, for what has been done.

The Park and the Shores having gone through the same metamorphosis within the last few years, we were not entirely unfamiliar with what was going on. However, the Grosse Pointe News building being located in the Farms, and we also having received a notice of an adjustment of assessment, upwards, we decided to take up the matter personally with City Clerk Harry Furton and allow him to speak his piece for us and all the other taxpayers who may think they are being 'beaten to a pulp.'

We came away with our brain awl with figures, a few of which we shall try and unscramble for the benefit of our readers. To interject a hasty note of encouragement and reassurance, let us start by saying we also came away convinced that the Farms has made a forward step and that it has not embarked on a career of tax gouging, nor is it hiding any malevolent manipulations.

Tax schedules which have been in force in the Farms were adopted in 1935 and have not been changed until now. As might be expected, many inequalities and injustices developed. The only one which need be mentioned (to keep this as simple as possible) is the change wrought by the inflation brought on by the war years. Large, mansion-type houses, too large to staff and too expensive for any but the very wealthy to maintain, dropped perceptibly in value. Small houses, built just before inflation set in, increased greatly in value. The cases of those who bought a brand new house for from $7,500 to $10,000 and have been offered up to $30,000 for them are so numerous as to be commonplace.

While the city sets its own tax rate, based on the budget requirements, the county has always had the right to set its own assessments. In the case of the Farms, it has been the practice for years for the county to add a flat 21 percent to the assessment figures on residential values submitted by the Farms tax officials. Property owners have paid their county-school taxes on the Farms assessments, plus the county's added 21 percent.

One by one the cities and villages in the county which have encountered the same accumulating discrepancies which the Farms has known, have gone over to the county equalization system. It has always been recognized that the county has highly trained experts for these tax matters, which the individual municipalities could not afford. The sensible way to get the inequalities righted was to have the county take over and revamp all assessments. This has been done in the Farms this year, just as it has in many other municipalities before, and will be done in others as time goes on.

Assessments have been increased this year on some 2,500 pieces of property in the Farms. Which, undoubtedly, is the cause of much of the furor.

The fact that the furor comes in a concentrated storm actually reflects credit on the charter commission which did such yeoman work when the Farms converted to city status a few years back. Most municipalities advise their taxpayers of a change in tax rates merely by inserting a legal notice in some bona fide publication. Most property owners don't know about the change until they get their tax bills.

But the Farms charter commission, going out of its way to be fair to the taxpayers, inserted a clause in the charter specifying that property owners must be notified individually by mail of any change in the tax structure. Thus it is that now, every single taxpayer in the Farms has been mailed a statement, by Assessor Dawson F. Nacy, telling him of the change in assessment and giving him the chance to go to the city offices and make an appeal or get a satisfactory explanation.

And they have been doing just that, in droves. And another pat on the back goes to the full-time municipal staff whose members are taking the great influx of outraged taxpayers in stride. They welcome the opportunity to explain the complicated situation and take the attitude that their first duty is to give full service to those who foot the bill for all the city's expenses.

A comparison of figures is the only way to show what the shift to the equalization system means to the average taxpayer. These figures have been compiled by the Farms officials and are most interesting.

Last year, without equalization, the city tax rate was $16 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. Had the rates been adjusted to equalized values, the city rate would have been $14.57.

Last year the county-school rate paid by Farms taxpayers was $24.03 per thousand. Had the rate been adjusted to equalized values, it would have been $21.46.

Last year's total tax rate was $40.03. Adjusted, it would have been $36.03, or a saving of $4 on each thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

These figures show that new assessments will not cost any property owner any more taxes this year under equalization, unless the new assessment is more than 12 percent higher than last year's. Any taxpayer can figure out by simple arithmetic whether he is going to get stung or not, by comparing his new assessment, sent to him on a blue slip on March 2, with last year's assessment. If the increase isn't more than 12 percent, he is just as well off as ever.

Mr. Furton tells of many residents who have come boiling into his office, irate at having their assessments raised $1,000 or more. When the picture is explained to them and they find they are paying no more taxes, or maybe just a very slight increase, they leave happy as clams.

Then, of course, there is the case of one of the members of the city council. He apparently made a bargain buy in acquiring his homestead years ago. Inflation and the many improvements he has had added to the house have caused the assessment on his property to go way up. He has been "Gone is the long, long winter night; Look, my beloved one! How glorious through his depths of light, Rolls the majestic sun! The willows, waked from winter's death, Give out a fragrance like thy breath... The summer is begun!" (William C. Bryant)

The "Bed Board" set will appreciate the following tale but everyone is welcome to join in the fun. For lucky novices who aren't acquainted with the "bed board" . . . it is a light weight, strong board about five by three, made for the purpose of placing between the mattress and spring to keep the sleeper afflicted with sacroiliac (bad back to tyros), from sinking down into a soft slump of trouble! Since the sacroiliac alumni body is one of the largest in America . . . it is not surprising to find you may obtain a bed board on a minute's notice in any hotel, plane, train or well run household. Sooooo, begins our story.

A Grosse Pointe man who is a lecturer of no mean proportions, was scheduled to do his stint in Texas recently, when BANG went his old sacroiliac trouble. However, with the spirit of the "show must go on," our hero decided to go through with it and back he hanged. He trained his way to Texas and was duly met at the station by a small reception committee, who carted him off to lunch at the hotel where he was to give the lecture. During the meal, one of the committee members asked if there was anything he wanted especially. Our hero said he wanted a few things very much . . . but most particularly he would appreciate their arranging to have a board put in his bed so he might rest his back after the lecture. The little man told him everything would be taken care of . . . and dashed off to give the order to a lesser light.

An hour or so later, Mr. Lecture man strode painfully onto the podium in the auditorium, where a "packed house" awaited his message. While he waited for the applause to fade away, he took a quick and sly gander around the platform to see if all his props were in place. They certainly were. His slide stand was just where he wanted it, his speaker's table was centered perfectly, containing the usual water pitcher and glass AND just to the left of the slide stand, leaning gracefully against a side wall was the bed board!

Our hero regained his composure and ignoring the unsightly board, went about his business. When it was all over, he found the gent who was going to fix him up with the board and asked if he could PLEASE have it put in his BED between mattress and spring. Why of course he could. Tsk, tsk, tsk. It would be taken care of immediately. The rest of the day our poor Grosse Pointer was carted all over the place from festivity to festivity that wound up with a rip snorting dinner at the hotel.

Near midnight, the poor guy climbed the two flights of stairs to his room (no elevator of you please), and on opening the door, the first thing that hit his eye was the bed board . . . leaning up against a wall! P.S. If anyone in Texas wants to hear a lecture they can look to someone other than our local pal.

One evening last week some friends of ours took their ten-year-old son to one of the local clubs for dinner. The first course they had was oysters on the half shell with some gooey hot sauce poured over them. Junior asked the waitress if he could have the shells and she allowed as how he could have as many as he wanted since the kitchen was full of 'em that night. Good, he said. He'd take a great big bag full. When she asked what he wanted them for he said he was "making something" . . . so she advised that he had better wash them well first because they were so messy.

When the family arrived home, father dear told junior he could darn well take his dirty shells to the basement for the washing process . . . then paid no more attention to the matter. Sometime later, his mother worried about the length of time her offspring was taking at his bedtime bath, so she betook herself to the bathroom and found junior sitting in his bath surrounded by the oyster shells which he was carefully scrubbing with his bath brush! Our friend said she would rather not try to describe the water he was sitting in.

The same woman told us a cute incident concerning her two-year-old niece, a precocious child who seems to be way ahead of herself in walking as well as talking. About three weeks ago she had her curls trimmed by the famous Sam Barker and, as all children do, made friends with him immediately. Well now, one day last week her mother had the child in tow on a shopping tour and as they passed the Grosse Pointe News . . . the little tot pointed to the picture of Mr. Barker in our window and called out excitedly: "There's Sam! There's Sam!" We think it was darned smart of her and also darned smart of our photographer to take such perfect likenesses.

We listened to quizdown last Saturday morning (WXYZ t-v) and got quite a kick out of some of the questions asked such SMALL children. For instance do YOU know how many books are in the Bible or what body of water contains no fish? Neither did we. But these questions were asked of children in the fourth grade! (Incidentally, the answers to above are "sixty-six" and "the Dead Sea." Never can tell when this information might come in handy.) Another quiz was "from what did the old Egyptians make paper?" The answer is "papyrus," and by Georgi the kid got it, but we didn't. Ho hum.

getting away with murder for years and now realizes it. Besides that, he was one of the first and staunchest supporters of the adoption of the equalization plan, so his kicks would fall on deaf ears if they were ever voiced.

The new schedules correct factors which have changed since the inception of the original schedules in 1935. In some cases there are reclassifications. They allow depreciation on a systematic basis. They produce an equitable relationship between all assessments in the Farms.

If you want to know anything else about the change, go right to the Municipal Building at 90 Kerby road. The entire staff will welcome the chance to make everything lucid and try to keep you as happy as anyone can ever be about taxes.

What Goes on at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

A long time favorite children's book will come to life next Saturday, when HEIDI will be dramatized by the Michigan State Children's Theatre. Sponsored by the American Association of University Women, this production will be given in the Pierce School auditorium, twice Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

What makes a book live through many generations is always a matter of conjecture. Certainly, Johanna Spyri's well loved story of the Swiss Alps is remembered with affection by parents and by grandparents, yet we doubt if a week goes by at the library without requests for it from today's children. It has a timeless quality and the popular Cinderella theme, more convincing than most modern Cinderellas.

Heidi is a little girl filled with the job of living. Her affection embraces the old grandfather, the goats, the mountains and the countryside, yet she smacks not at all of the saccharine Polyanna.

Will That Medicine Help?

By FRED M. KOPP, R.P.H.

Thousand of people ask thousands of druggists this question every year. If it is a prescription written by a qualified, experienced physician the druggist can be confident that it will.

If it is medicine being purchased on the advice of a friend, or because it is the popular tonic of the day he cannot recommend it. To expect results from medicines you must be taking a specific medicine for a specific ailment. Such medicine is only found in an individual prescription written by your doctor, and compounded of pure, potent, effective drugs by an experienced pharmacist.

Copyright This is the 439th of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

Uprooted from her mountains to live in the town as companion to an invalid child, she is understandably homesick but all ends well when she returns to her home bringing with her the little invalid who finds health in the mountains. Without being moralistic, there is an underlying spiritual quality to the story that fosters faith and hope. HEIDI was written in German by Johanna Spyri, the quiet unassuming wife of Bernhard Spyri, town clerk of Zurich. It was translated into English about 1884, shortly after its publication. Mrs. Spyri was a doctor's daughter with a great compassion for the ill and those less fortunate than herself. The delight she felt for the Swiss countryside is reflected in Heidi's joy in the outdoors.

Garden Club Council Busy Planning Clean-Up Week

Although the Pointe's annual Cleanup Drive doesn't begin until May 23, the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council, piloted by Mrs. James Cope, has already swept into action.

Plans have been made to distribute some 500 posters advertising the drive in business houses throughout the five Villages.

These posters will be made by school children and those selected will earn the children a certificate for their fine work. Also underway are plans for a Slogan Contest with three prizes being offered for the snappiest, catchiest and most sure-fire phrase informing citizens of their responsibility in keeping their town beautiful and clean.

The contest, scheduled to start early in April, will be open to all Pointe residents. Organizations are being invited to participate. The cash prizes might well swell their treasuries.

Besides the advertising approach, there will be an educational program. Essays will be solicited and talks given by various members of the Council to clubs, schools and church groups.

Assisting Mrs. Cope with this concentrated effort to make the fourth annual Cleanup Drive an overwhelming success are Mrs. Burt L. Lindzay, Mrs. James Ogden and Mrs. H. R. Will.

Architect's Conception of Expanded Farms Pier and Beach Park

If Farms voters approve the bond issue on April 6, this is what they may expect to have for a lakefront park within the next two years. Some details of the plan are subject to slight revision, but this is substantially what the proposed expansion would produce. Moving the beach swimming area to the south of the pier would greatly aid in protecting the waters from pollution coming down the lake, the engineers say. The old beach, on the right in the picture, would be filled to make a large picnic area.

Just Celebrating His Discharge?

George Irving Udell of 21797 Moross road, found out Saturday March 7, that driving a car is a serious matter.

While cruising south on Kerby road, Patrolman Earl Field, glancing into his rear view mirror noticed a car swerving from side to side. When the officer stopped at Grosse Pointe boulevard for a stop street, the swerving car stopped behind him, and the patrolman got out to investigate. Udell was found to have alcohol on his breath and was taken to the station with a passenger who was in the car.

When questioned by Sgt. E. Boylan, Udell stated that he was only fooling around, and did not expect that the officer would get out of his car to check on him. He said that he was just discharged from the armed service and had been drinking, but not enough to impair his driving.

When this was proven to police satisfaction, he was reprimanded and released.

Parkers Pummel Pointers In Clinching Loop Crown

By Fred Runnells

Highland Park made history last Friday, March 6, when it whipped Grosse Pointe 65 to 44, for the seventh time in succession and captured its third consecutive Border Cities League basketball title.

Coach Jim Wink's "Perfect Parkers," last year's State Class A champions, left no doubt in anyone's mind which was the better team on that particular night. Using a devastating down court press and a fast breaking offense the Parkers completely outplayed the Blue Devil quintet which was stymied from the start.

Duncan Top Scorer

Led by its two stars, George "Baby" Duncan and George Lee, who scored 19 and 16 points respectively for individual honors, the Parkers piled up a 24 to 13 first period lead and increased this margin to 37 to 20 at half time. With their third Border Cities League cage title just 16 minutes away, the Polar Bears never let up and continued to beat a monotonous tattoo against the backboard defended by the Blue Devils. The Parkers built up their biggest lead in the fourth quarter when they pulled 21 points out in front, 65 to 44 which was the final.

Outcome Is Surprise

The outcome of this second game between these two teams came as a complete surprise to the huge turn-away crowd. Everyone was expecting another thriller like the first meeting, when the Parkers snatched a one point, 51 to 50, victory from the fire on a tip-in shot in the last ten seconds of play.

No high school team in the whole state could have touched Jim Wink's well balanced, well coached quintet of Duncan, Lee, Anderson, Jones and Ingram last Friday night.

Localities Wise Up

More than 700 Blue Devil fans sought admittance but only those, about 600, who arrived at the Parker gym before 6 p.m., got in. You see the Highland Park fans remembered the time last year when the Grosse Pointe fans descended on their gym like a swarm of locust and gobbled up all the seats and forced the majority of the Parker fans to stand in their OWN GYM. This time it was different. The Parker fans were already there when the Pointers arrived and it was the Devil fans who found standing room. Two bus loads of Pointe followers weren't so lucky and were turned away.

Devil Strategy Upset

Highland Park's pressing tactics completely upset Grosse Pointe strategy and before the game was barely underway each Blue Devil became an individualist and tried to win the game single handedly. Consequently the Pointers' smooth team play disappeared completely and the Parkers ran rampant over their foe.

Even before the Pointers' bus left for the game the team was plagued by misfortune. Coach Howard MacAdam was involved in a three-car collision at Vernor and Lakeland on his way to meet the bus at the high school. The coach's wife, Betty, was riding with him at the time of the head-on collision and suffered numerous cuts and bruises on her face and knees.

Can't Blame Coach

This upset Coach MacAdam and no one could blame him if his mind wasn't completely on the game. The accident delayed the departure time of the team bus, which added to the evils before this all important contest.

There still is a chance the Pointers may get another crack at Highland Park yet this year. Both teams are playing in the same Regional Tournament at Ferndale. Highland Park is just another of the six underdogs which will be trying to tumble the "Perfect Parkers" for their second State Class A cage crown.

Blue Devils Reserves Lose, But Win BCL Cage Crown

By Fred Runnells

Highland Park's reserve basketball team hung a 46 to 39 defeat on Coach Bob Kurvink's Blue Devil reserve quintet last Friday, March 6, on the Parker home court before a sellout crowd.

The defeat was the second league loss for the Pointers but left them with a league record of 8 wins against two losses, which gave them the unofficial Border Cities League reserve crown. Actually there is no official reserve championship.

The Parkers started fast and jumped into a 14 to 10 lead in the first quarter and then spurred in the second period to pull out in front, 30 to 16, at the half-time intermission, and then coasted to their revenge victory. The Pointers whipped the Polar Bears in the first meeting of the home and home series. The Blue Devils had one consolation in defeat. Blond Johnny Russel captured the individual scoring honors with 14 points. Zill took runner-up honors with 12 points, which paced the Parkers' winning drive.

The Blue Devil cagers were jubilant in defeat because they had given their coach a winning season in his first year at Grosse Pointe High. Kurvink will now take up his duties as head tennis coach and attempt to get the Pointers back in the winning groove which they slipped out of last year when they suffered their worst season since 1941.

Unfortunately there were four Highland Park non-athletes who gave their school a "black eye" last Friday after the varsity game when they jumped four Grosse Pointe players as they walked to the team bus. Three of the Pointe lads were lucky enough to get away unharmed. However, the four Parker lads severely beat up little Jay Hooker so that his face was covered with blood from multiple abrasions caused by bare knuckles.

We would like to take this opportunity to warn Highland Park students that incidents such as these endanger their schools position in the league. Too many times there have been similar incidents involving Highland Park, and one of these times might well be the last.

League officials will not tolerate this kind of nonsense. The beating was absolutely uncalled for because both the Highland Park reserve and varsity teams won their games and there was no reason for Highland Park students to be unsportsmanlike.

Blue Devil Swimmers Beat Highland Park by 60-24

By FRED RUNNELLS

Grosse Pointe's swimming team capped off a winning season last Friday, March 6, with a 60 to 24 shellacking of the Highland Park Polar Bears in the local pool before a meager gathering of spectators.

Slamming three individual events besides capturing the diving and both relays, Coach Frank Banach's lads added league victory number 6 to their record, which included two ties and two losses. This gave the Blue Devils third place in the final standings behind defending champion Fordson and second place Royal Oak.

The Pointers' overall season record stands at nine wins, two losses and two ties. The two tie meets came against Fordson and Royal Oak in the second half of the season and were instrumental in giving the Blue Devils third place in the final standings. The high point of the season was the 42-42 tie meet against Fordson. That tie meet was the only blemish on the Tractors' 1952-53 season record.

Winners in the Highland Park meet were: Stuart Smith in the 40 yard free style, Walter "Skip" Clarke in the 100 yard breast stroke, Henry Gildner in the 200 yard free style and Bruce Crowley in the diving event. Adamski, Clarke and Gildner teamed up to win the medley relay and Morrison, Gall, Bayne and Smith combined efforts to take the 160 yard speed relay.

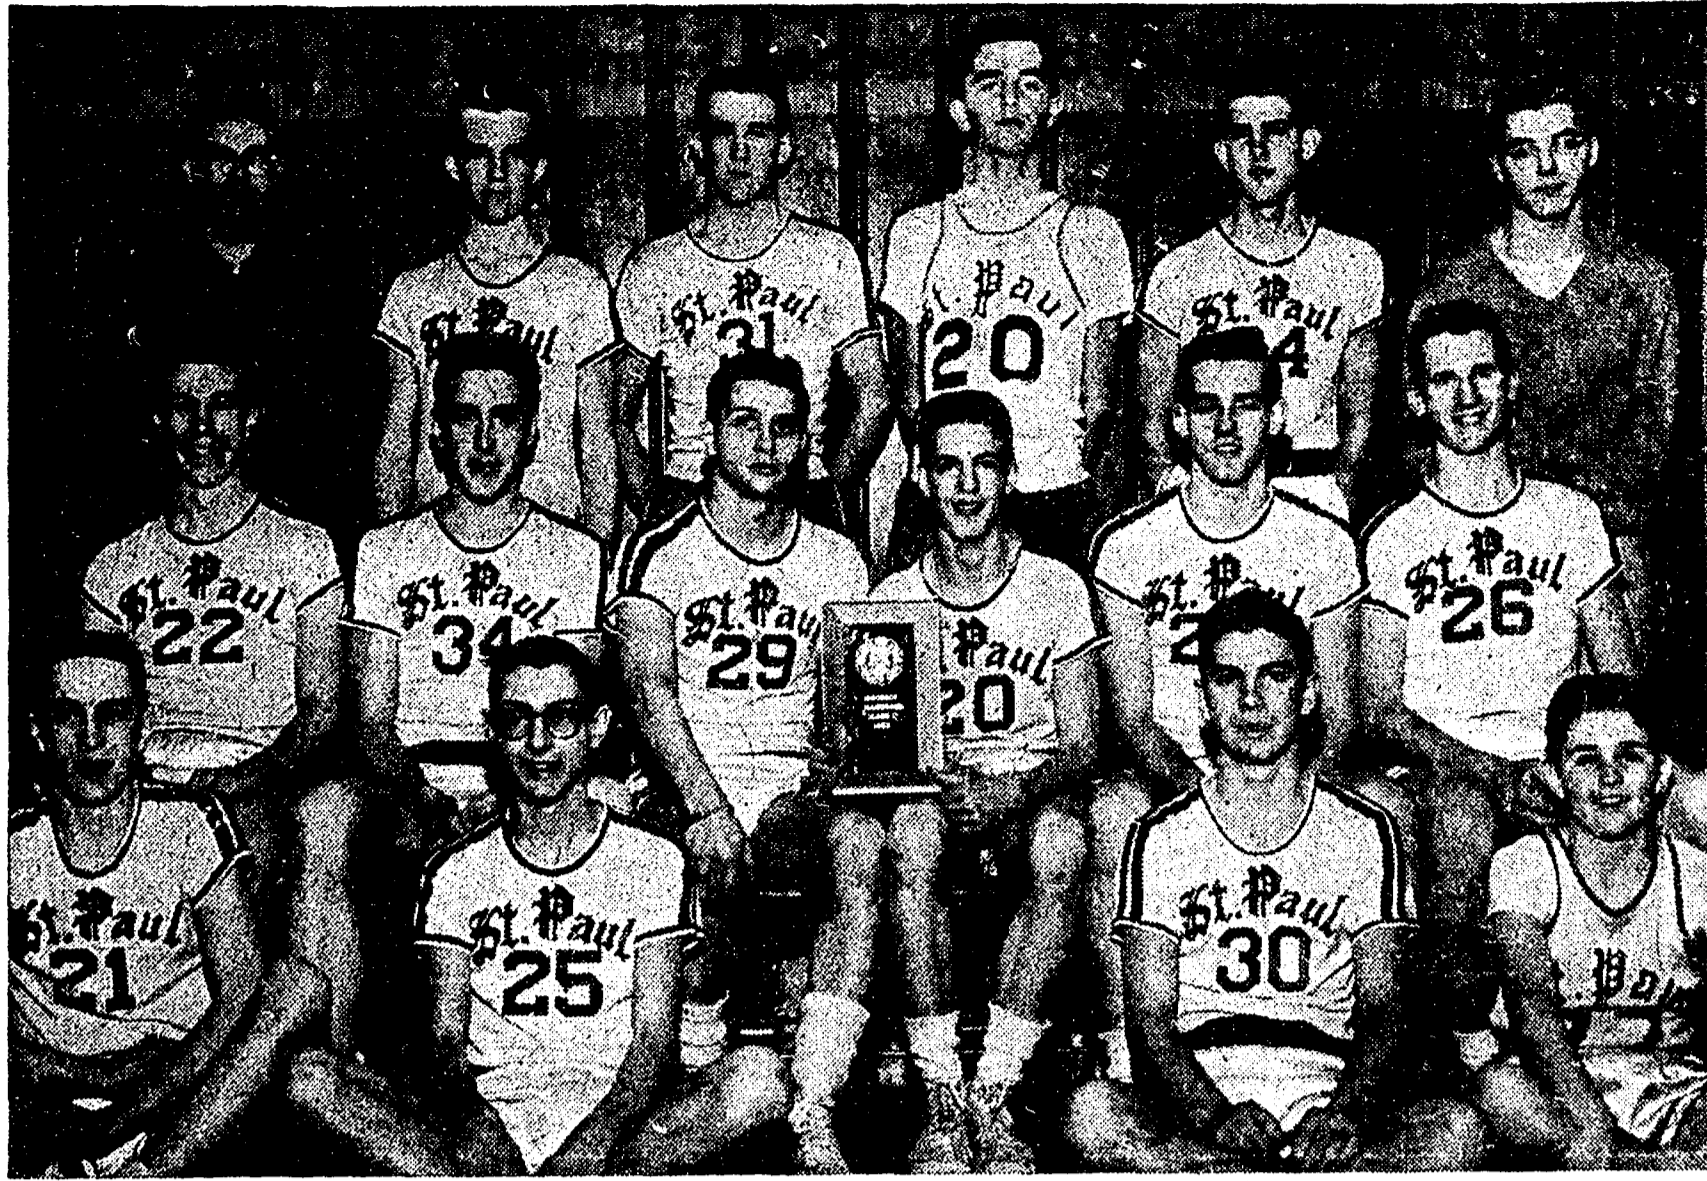

has named twelve boys to carry the blue and gold colors of the school on Fisher road.

Officially entered are Stuart Smith, William Morrison, John Bayne, Walter Clarke, Dave Hulbert, Dan Reaume, Walter Eversman, Don Adamski, Peter Gall, Henry Gildner, Bruce Crowley and Jack Adams.

Coach Banach isn't fooling himself when it comes to the State Meet. Says the coach "In order to capture the Big One a team must have three or four outstanding individual performers. That is something we have never been fortunate to have in all the years I have coached at Grosse Pointe."

He continued "We have always had a well balanced team which is the prime requisite for dual meet competition but that is as far as it goes. The State meet is one for individual performers and this year as in the past we don't have the necessary stars to turn the trick. We are going to the meet at Lansing to give our boys, valuable experience which will help us greatly when next season rolls around and we go back into dual meet competition."

St. Paul Flyers Win District Cage Crown

Scoring three impressive consecutive victories the St. Paul Flyers captured the Harper Woods District Basketball Championship and advanced to the Regional Class C Tournament to be held at Pontiac High School March 11 to 14. This marked the second year in succession the Flyers, under the direction of Coach Ed Lauer, gave St. Paul a District Title. Left to right, front row: TED MONAHAN, JOEL SHIRILLA, BOB KELLER and JOHN WADE, Second row: JIM AYRAULT, BOB LOUWERS, Captain TIM CHAMPINE, BOB WRIGHT, GLENN WALTERS and BOB BARRETT. Back row: Coach LAUER, Dick O'CONNOR, BOB TAYLOR, JOE LENZ, JOE BEJIN and Student Manager PAUL GEIST.

St. Ambrose Hires New Head Coach for Major Sports

The athletic department at St. Ambrose got a tremendous shot in the arm with the announcement of Athletic Director Father Ruzman announced the hiring of John S. Thursby as head coach of the Cavaliers.

John S. Thursby moved to Handy High School in Bay City, Michigan in 1947 as head coach and assistant basketball coach.

Coach Thursby will succeed George Verdonck in football and Jim Brown in basketball for the Cavaliers. Both these men were part time coaches for the past two years. Besides coaching football Thursby will take over the other two major sports for the Cavaliers.

This move is an important part of the Cavaliers' recreational program started by the energetic Father Ruzman when he came to St. Ambrose last year.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

John Stetson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erie Stetson, received the scholarship award for last semester from Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at Albion College. Stetson, a senior, is majoring in education.

Flyers' District Victories Get Them in Regional Tilts

By Fred Runnells

For the second year in succession the St. Paul Flyers captured a District Championship and qualified for the State Class C Regional Tournament which gets underway, for St. Paul today, Thursday, March 12, at Pontiac High School.

Last Monday, March 9, Walter Hogue represented St. Paul at the drawing for the Pontiac Class C Regional tourney and picked St. Benedict High as the Flyers' first opponent in the opening round of play.

The scheduled tip-off time for this game is 6 p.m., and a goodly crowd of Flyer fans already have made plans to travel to Pontiac to watch their favorite team battle for the Regional crown and a chance in the quarter finals.

Have Won Three

In reaching the District tourney Coach Eddie Lauer's squad swept through Fraser, Eastland and Lakeshore to win the Harper Woods District crown.

In the opening game on Thursday, March 5, the Flyers were pretty much off their usual game, but the height of Jim Ayrault, Glenn Walters and Bob Barrett was just too much for the smaller Fraser quintet to cope with and the Flyers walked off with a comfortable 46 to 34 decision.

Was Merciful

Actually Coach Lauer could have made this score more impressive had he left his regulars in the game during the final quarter. Instead of running up a lopsided score Lauer cleared his bench and the second string team finished out the contest.

When the regulars left the game St. Paul had a commanding 38 to 17 advantage.

Bob Wright Stars

In the second game on Friday, March 6, the Flyers had to really hump to come off on the long end of a 48 to 42 decision. It was little Bob Wright who started for the Flyers when he pumped in 21 points to lead the attack which carried the Flyers into the final game against Lakeshore on Saturday, March 7.

Barrett is Jinx

Bob Barrett's unorthodox antics completely threw the Lakeshore quintet off stride and the Flyers went on to chalk up an impressive 48 to 36 victory in the title winning game.

Glenn Walters paced the Flyers' attack with 16 points to capture the individual scoring honors.

POLICE BALL MARCH 17

Queen Emma Jean I, will reign over the 7th Annual Detroit Police Officers Association's Ball Tuesday night, March 1, at the Graystone Ballroom. Her St. Patrick's Day crown will be placed on her head by Governor G. Mennen Williams.

The Ball will be cabaret style. Tickets are still available from any police officer at $1.25 per person.

Browns Leading Pointers League

Holding a three point lead in the Pointers' Bowling Loop, the Browns, unlike their namesake, top the Yankees who are currently residing in second place after last Wednesday, March 4, competition.

Not much can be written about this league and the fortunes or misfortunes of the teams because weekly results aren't turned in regularly. How about someone getting on the secretary's back and get the results to us each week. We will run them if we have 'em.

Two Get Tickets Following Crash

Farms Police ticketed two drivers, Monday, March 9, for not having their cars under control and causing extensive damages in an accident.

Joseph Mork, 63, of 22544 Lange, St. Clair Shores, was making a wide left hand turn at 365 Lake Shore road, when a car driven by Ronald Lanna, 19, of 356 Kerby crashed into his car.

The entire left side of the vehicle driven by Mork, was damaged to the extent of $400, while that driven by Lanna, was damaged on the left side and front, with damage set at $350.

Both were found to be at fault and were ticketed for not having their cars under control.

Were there no agitators there would be no progress.

Memorial Church Diesels Upset in Final Court Game

Grosse Pointe Memorial was upset, 31 to 30, by the Christ Church Tigers in the final game of the Inter-Church Basketball League last Saturday, March 7. The Diesels' defeat cracked a three-way first place tie for the second round championship which was won by St. James and Woods Presbyterian, who won their final contests.

Paced by Bill Squire, who notched 12 points to tie Bruce Chambers of the Diesels for individual scoring honors, the Tigers jumped into a 10 to 7 first quarter lead and held a 16 to 12 margin at the halftime. The Diesels took command in the third period and held a scant one point, 22 to 21 lead going into the final stanza.

The victory helped the Tigers move into second place with the Diesels.

St. James defeated the winless Methodist Mustangs, 48 to 21, in the first game of the three game program last Saturday, and Woods Presbyterian whipped the St. Paul Flyers in a thriller, 34 to 31.

Pacing St. James to victory was Gerald Olsen who tied the Mustangs' Johnny Asmus for scoring honors with 12 points each.

Methner Is Star
Larry Methner notched the individual scoring honors while leading Woods Presbyterian to victory with 10 points. The runner-up laurels went to Dick Miller and Ken McDonald of the Woods and Brecht of St. Paul. All had 9 points for the day.

Last Saturday's contests were the last of the regular schedule and the playoffs will start next Saturday, March 14, in the boys' gym at the high school.

Four Teams in Playoffs
Four teams qualified for the playoffs. In the first round the Memorial Diesels and the Christ Church Tigers finished first and second respectively to qualify. St. James and Woods Presbyterian, by finishing tied for first place in the second round of competition, round out the four eligible teams to compete for the season championship.

League officials believed it would be more fair if the names

Pointer of Interest

MRS. GEORGE N. MONRO III OF TOURAINE ROAD

If, for nothing else than that mischievous twinkle in her merry brown eyes, and the sprightly sense of humor which animates her conversation, Mrs. George N. Monro III is a Pointer of Interest.

And it is this very spirit of fun, combined with a talent for leadership, that has made Mrs. Monro the ideal president of the Thrift Shop, for the past two years, a position which from its very scope, carries with it numerous problems and as many headaches.

Many Responsibilities As you know, there's always the responsibility of staffing the Shop with volunteer help, planning and carrying through to a

Trombly P.T.A. Meets Mar. 16

The Trombly P.T.A. meets Monday evening, March 16. Harold Marsh, program chairman, has arranged for Earl M. Brink, well known Detroit photographer and world traveler to show his most recent color travelogue of "Portugal".

Immediately following the travelogue, Bert Wicking, President of the Board of Education, will discuss the special election proposals in the forthcoming school bond election.

Mrs. Charles Eldridge, social chairman, and Mrs. Edwin Peabody, co-chairman, announce that it will be "Dad's Night" during the social hour following the business meeting.

Male members of the P.T.A. Executive Board and Room Fathers will be hosts for the evening in serving friends and guests. Refreshments will be a surprise and a real treat.

Welcome Wagon Club Plans Show

Members and guests of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club will gather on Thursday evening, March 12 at 8 p.m. for a fashion show at Miller Hall. Fashions will be modeled by members of the club.

Mrs. James Peary of 564 St. Clair will be moderator for the fashion show and hostesses for the evening include Mrs. William Hagstrum of 2000 Anita, and Mrs. David MacLerie of 10994 Roxbury. After a brief business meeting, refreshments will be served. Members are urged to make reservations for the evening by calling Mrs. Hagstrum at TU. 1-6721.

successful conclusion the annual Fashion Show, and seeking contributions of clothing, jewelry, furniture, etc., to raise funds for the Neighborhood Club.

Of course, Mrs. Monro has the full and wholehearted cooperation of the members of the Thrift Shop, but still, in time, became beset with the myriad details entailed in the smooth operation of an organization.

Donations Needed Right now Madame President is in the midst of urging prospective good samaritans to carry out their good intentions and hurry with their donations to the Shop.

All articles contributed through this weekend, will be sold during the next two weeks to raise funds for the Summer Camp at the Neighborhood Club.

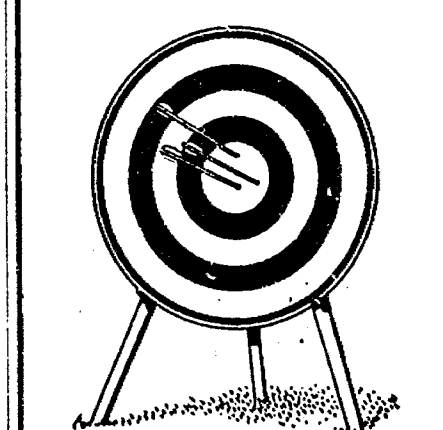

Mrs. Monro hopes the sale will exceed the $500 mark so that the 150 boys and girls attending the five week Day Camp at the Club will have the necessary materials for handicraft classes, equipment for athletic games, the services of a registered nurse, and supervision of several contemplated additions to the counseling staff.

Also Helps Red Cross Aside from this fine work, Mrs. Monro is also serving as the captain of a Red Cross team soliciting special gifts. She's active in Tau Beta and the Junior League and is also treasurer of the Garden Club of Michigan.

She's no mean gardener. Her house in Touraine road is as cheerful as her smile. Bright daffodils which she forced, spill sunshine into every nook and cranny.

Potted hyacinths forming a lavender and white phalanx before the large picture window in the dining room, are fragrant with the perfume of spring. But this is only half the story. Mrs. Monro revels in the kitchen.

Center Offering Drama Lectures

The opening lecture of Professor Windt's drama series held at the War Memorial Center last week, was much enjoyed by his audience. Director of the Professional Season in Ann Arbor as well as the University of Michigan productions, he is considered outstanding in the theatre.

Reflections

by paul gach

Are you curious about the new "strob" flash light used for candid and press photography? I started using this type of light over six years ago so feel like old stuff about it. People often ask me "Is that the kind of light where you don't have to change the bulb?" Right. Basically it's very simple. Electrical energy from batteries is stored up in a condenser (sort of a reservoir). This energy, when released, passes through a gas filled spiral tube much the same as a neon sign. The gas in the tube glows (it does not burn) and light is given off. The electric discharge lasts only about 1/1000th of a second and that is the speed at which the picture is recorded.

Final score: It stops almost any action. It is a heavy box to carry around but well worth the trouble. The light is much softer than old fashioned flash bulbs, and there are no messy burnt out bulbs dropped all around.

Big caution: Some of those units are poorly insulated and contain up to 2000 volts which can often be lethal. Keep the children away and never take the cover off of one yourself, or it might be later than you think!
