HEADLINES

of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 19

IN AN INFORMAL speech to the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Committee, President Eisenhower aimed a new blow at members of Congress who advocated tax cuts. He renewed his opposition to tax cut before a balanced budget is "in sight" and also warned that prices will be on an upturn, but the Government must steer clear of controls in hopes that "plain workings of economic laws" will keep the economy in balance.

IN A CLOSED session, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia. The session lasted three hours, and the 15-0 vote cast assured his confirmation by the Senate itself by a heavy majority.

IN A NOTE to Moscow, the United States said it "expects" quick word on disciplinary action taken against the Russian flier who attacked an American plane off Soviet Kamchatka. The diplomatic note was a follow-up to word from the Pentagon that the United States Air Force will keep right on flying wherever it wants in the world's free-air space.

A CHALLENGE, voiced by United States Ambassador Ernest A. Gross, called on Soviet Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov to show his sincerity in desiring peace, by starting constructive negotiations on disarmament in the United Nations.

Friday, March 20

REP. REED, (R. N. Y.) chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee abandoned his fight for early House action on his 10 per cent tax cut bill with a bitter attack on President Eisenhower and Republican Congressional leaders. He accused his party's leadership of betraying the people and obtaining office under false pretenses, by promising the people a cut in taxes and reneging.

GEN. VASSILY CHUIKOV, Soviet commander in Germany, in a conciliatory reply to an Allied protest against Red attacks on British aircraft, said it was regrettable that seven British fliers were killed when their bomber was shot down by Soviet MIGs. He proposed a conference to "avoid undesired air incidents" along the Iron Curtain borders.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER raised a question about the sincerity of Soviet peace talk. He said that the Kremlin's expressions of an intention to seek peaceful settlement of cold war issues, now that the regime has changed, will never be met less than half way. No overtures have reached him through the proper channels, he said.

A PERMANENT AGENCY for industrial and economic mobilization is close to completion at the White House. A new reorganization plan, officials said, may be sent to Congress next week by President Eisenhower, to follow up his program for streamlining the Agriculture Department. The plan calls for a merger of the Office of Defense Mobilization and the National Security Resources Board and possibly some other offices.

Saturday, March 21

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Charles E. Wilson said he believes cuts can be made in military manpower and spending without weakening combat strength, even though we are not fully prepared to defend this country. He forecast that there will be a reduction of the 3,500,000 persons in uniform by July 1, and stated that the monthly rate of defense spending has been frozen at the January level of nearly four billion dollars.

SENATOR FLANDERS (R. Vt.) denounced as false a report by the Air Force, in which it was stated a United States bomber fought a brief air battle with a Soviet plane off Siberia, while on a routine weather reconnaissance flight. He said that in giving this report, the

Corner in Park Drivers' Nemesis

The corner of Kensington and Jefferson was the scene of two accidents in three days, according to Park police.

Gladys L. Hannush of 3908 Gladwin, Detroit, while driving west on Jefferson, Saturday, March 21, attempted a right hand turn into Kensington. She lost control of her car and knocked down a stop sign.

She was ticketed for not having her car under control and for making an improper turn. Donald E. Leydet of 2189 Dickerson, Detroit, driving west on Jefferson, Monday, March 23, fell asleep at the wheel. His car veered out of control and struck a fire alarm box on the northeast corner of Kensington, shearing it from its foundation.

He was ticketed for not having his car under control.

Teen-Ager Gives Boy Friend Bum Steer and Rams Tree

Two Detroit teenagers were taken to Bon Secours Hospital, Thursday, March 19, for injuries received when their car crashed into a tree on Windmill Pointe drive.

Betty Rumble, 16, of 3211 Coplin, driver of the car, suffered a fractured nose and contusions of the right shoulder, and Richard Paul, 16, of 1274 Drexel, whose mother owned the car, received contusions of his left shoulder.

Another 16-year-old, Charles Dragas of 1120 Drexel, who was in the back seat of the vehicle at the time of the mishap, escaped without injuries. According to Park police, the

City Set to Launch Annual Dutch Elm Disease Battle; Asks Residents' Cooperation

Motorists Advised to Avoid Parking Cars on Streets in Areas Where Spraying Is in Progress

The battle against the Dutch elm tree disease will cost Grosse Pointe City approximately $5,100 for spraying services. City Clerk Norbert Neff revealed. The spraying, which will be done by the Suburban Tree Science and Service Company is scheduled to start tomorrow, March 27, and will not be completed until about May 1.

Cooperation Asked

Motorists and car owners are asked to cooperate by keeping their cars off the streets where the spraying is taking place. Car owners in the locale of the spraying are requested to put their cars in the garage and keep the doors tightly closed. Otherwise, they may have the task of removing spray from their vehicles at special expense to themselves.

A special solvent is required to remove spray chemicals from automobiles unfortunatly enough to be parked out in the streets at the time of spraying.

Time Element Involved

A time element is involved to protect the city's elm trees, reputed to be the largest seen in any of the Pointes. Wind and weather conditions can greatly affect the spraying program.

The spraying crew must work fast, with constant pressure from a motor running an equivalent of 150 miles an hour, causing the spray at a certain point to become invisible. The work must go on 24 hours a day without let up, and as a consequence, workers cannot take time out to remove cars or other obstacles from their path.

The spray must be applied when the wind is low and the temperature is above 40 degrees, and above all, before the trees begin to bud.

According to Mr. Neff, spraying of the trees saves time and money. To remove an elm tree with the disease or after it is dead, will cost from $130 to perhaps more than $500, depending

Motorist Dies In Park Crash

Meredith C. Smith, Jr., of 427 Ashland, died in Bon Secours Hospital of injuries received in an accident Saturday, March 21, at Middlesex and Avondale, and his mother, Georgia, 44, was on the critical list with head injuries.

The car driven by Smith, approached the intersection of Middlesex and Avondale, simultaneously with one driven by Coast Guardsman John D. Fife, 20, of 1010 Renaud, with neither slowing down, and they crashed.

According to a police report, Fife claimed to have approached the intersection at a speed of about 25 or 30 miles and had not seen the car driven by Smith, until it was too late. He crashed into the rear of the other car, tipping it over.

Fife admitted to police that he had been drinking about three hours before the accident. Officers at the scene said they did not detect the odor of alcohol on his breath and that he was in full use of his faculties. They said that immediately after the accident he went to the nearest house and asked the occupants to call police.

Park police sought a warrant against Fife, for negligent homicide, from the prosecutor's office, Monday, March 23, but it was refused pending further investigation.

182 Contribute In Blood Drive

In the six hours that the Red Cross Bloodmobile remained at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wednesday, March 18, the unit collected 182 pints of blood.

In response to the appeal for blood, 288 persons appeared at the church to donate, but only 182 were accepted.

In the last blood collection, which was held at the War Memorial Center, 209 persons offered their blood, but only 163 were allowed to donate.

Seventeen postmen from the Grosse Pointe Branch contributed to the United States Post Office blood bank, and 33 soldiers from the bases at Three Mile drive and Chalfont road arrived to give their share of blood.

Dr. C. L. Becklein, a member of the church and Dr. Lyndle R. Martin of the Congregational Church, volunteered their services and assisted the Red Cross doctor on duty throughout the day.

Mrs. Samuel Moorhatch was chairman of the Red Cross Volunteer Unit of eight workers who assisted the Red Cross nurses.

Mrs. Wayne Wellman was chairman of the collection, with Mrs. Arnold Diesing and Mrs. James Marcetti acting as co-chairmen.

After five years of building sets, outdoors if the weather permits, inside the cramped quarters of half the garage at the War Memorial if not; holding monthly meetings here, there and everywhere and having no permanent home of their own, the group feels that the time has come to find permanent quarters of some kind. The performance Friday night is the first step in that direction.

Reports Say Alger to Be Ambassador

Pointer Believed Slated for Appointment to Important Post in Belgium

Frederick M. Alger, Jr., of East Jefferson avenue, former Secretary of State of Michigan and twice candidate for governor, will be the new ambassador to Belgium, according to newspaper and radio announcements. It is believed the official announcement of the appointment by President Eisenhower will be made some time this week.

First Ike Backer

Mr. Alger was the first high official in Michigan to come out openly in support of the candidacy of General Eisenhower. He had previously visited the General in Europe.

Soon after the inauguration it was rumored that Mr. Alger would receive an appointment as ambassador to either Canada or Mexico. There was also a report that he might be assigned to the Navy Department. He served in World War II and is a commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Backed by Dulles

It is reported that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has recommended Mr. Alger for the important post of Ambassador to Belgium. Michigan's Senators Ferguson and Potter are backing the appointment.

Mr. Alger served in the American Embassy in Poland after attending Phillips Andover Academy and Harvard University. A former Pointe resident, Arthur Gardner is also slated to be named the new ambassador to Cuba, according to information emanating from Washington, where he now makes his home.

Lane Appointed To Authority

The appointment of Park City Manager Everitt B. Lane, as trustee to represent the Park as a member of the proposed Garbage and Refuse Authority, was unanimously approved by the Park council, Monday, March 23.

Mayor Homer Frisch recommended the appointment because of his interest and the hard work Mr. Lane is doing to form the Authority.

The council also approved appropriation of $2,000, as the Park's share in any expense which may occur in the proposed establishment of the Authority.

Pointe Community Theater Seeking to Fulfill Dream

A barn, a vacant garage or store, or even an abandoned house but is the goal of Grosse Pointe Community Theater's benefit performance of "Death Takes a Holiday," Alberto Casella's moving drama, which the group is presenting Friday night, March 27, at 8:30 o'clock at the Pierce Auditorium.

After five years of building sets, outdoors if the weather permits, inside the cramped quarters of half the garage at the War Memorial if not; holding monthly meetings here, there and everywhere and having no permanent home of their own, the group feels that the time has come to find permanent quarters of some kind. The performance Friday night is the first step in that direction.

"Death Takes a Holiday" is one of the most ambitious enterprises the Grosse Pointe Theatre has ever undertaken and it is hoped that the community as a whole will rally round and fill Pierce Auditorium Friday evening.

They will see a finished production, from the beautiful setting of the interior of an Italian villa, to the fine acting of the cast headed by Dean Arskine as "Death" and Grazia, his beloved, played by Luella Wertz.

New Fire Alarm Protects Bank

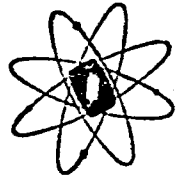

A new automatic fire alarm system, installed by the American District Telegraph Company, in the office of City Fire Chief Ledger L. Chauvin, has been connected to the Grosse Pointe Bank, and is set to go off automatically in case of fire.

Tests for the new system were completed early last week. It was installed for added protection of the bank, in the event a fire should break out, especially after closing hours.

"This is a good system and assures added protection," said Chief Chauvin. "It is hoped that other places of business will receive the same type of service in the near future."

The system is rented out by the alarm company on a monthly basis.

Fritch Unopposed
In the Park, Homer C. Fritch, present mayor, is unopposed. Seeking election as council are: Charles F. Ives, William C. Oddy, Bruce N. Tappan and Stephan A. Walker.
Fred J. Potvin is seeking to unseat incumbent C. Joseph Belanger for the Municipal judge bench.
Following the primaries in February, Potvin was asked to withdraw his candidacy on the grounds that the city charter required a resident to reside in the city for two years before he is eligible to run for city office.
Took Fight To Court
Potvin challenged the constitutionality of the clause in the city charter and took the issue to court, where Judge B. Ferguson of the Wayne Circuit Court, ruled, Thursday, March 12, that the municipal judgeship was technically a justice of the peace office, and any legal resident of the state may seek election for that capacity.
The City holds its elections in November and will only be concerned with the biennial spring election April 6.

Festival Chorus To Sing Requiem

The Brahms' German Requiem will be sung on Tuesday evening, March 31, at 8:30 o'clock, in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe Farms, by the Christ Church Festival Chorus under the direction of Robert Hawksley, F.A. G.O.

The Christ Church Festival Chorus is a community group of young singers who are devoted to bringing to the people of Grosse Pointe religious choral works of the great masters. In the last two years, they have presented the famous Manzoni Requiem of Verdi and the Grand Mass in C minor by Mozart.

Added to the beauty of the music is the atmospheric setting in which it is sung—the beautiful Gothic structure on Grosse Pointe boulevard with its symmetric arches, handsome wood carvings and deep-colored stained glass windows.

Completed in 1888 when Brahms was 35 years old, the German Requiem is one of the master's greatest compositions as well as being one of the most imposing choral compositions since Beethoven. The German Requiem is a departure from the traditional form of the Latin Requiem where we find God's terrible justice awaiting the sinner on the Day of Judgment.

Instead, the words are drawn from the German translation of the Bible and stress the everlasting joy and gladness which is the lot of the redeemed of the Lord. The mood which is created by the music is one of confidence in the rich harvest to come as a result of man's redemption—bringing peace to the departed and comfort to the mourners.

The soloists will be Martha Gard, soprano, and Donald Bliss, baritone. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The relative value of health and wealth always depends on which one you had last.

Police, Fire Chiefs of City Observe 16th Anniversary

The chiefs of the fire and police departments of the City, had good cause to reminisce on Sunday, March 22. Fire Chief Ledger L. Chauvin and Police Chief Thomas V. Trombly marked their sixteenth year as chiefs of their departments.

They were appointed March 22, 1937, when the office of Superintendent of Public Safety was abolished following the retirement of Joseph T. Brisson.

Chief Chauvin, who lives with his wife, Madeline, at 672 University, was born in the City, and has lived there all his life.

He joined the City fire department in December of 1920, as a pipeman and driver of a pumper. In May of 1926 he was made captain, and two months later, became the assistant chief.

Police Chief Trombly was born in Detroit and moved to the City at the age of 12. He lives at 532 Notre Dame, with his wife Marion and family.

He joined the police department in 1925 as a patrolman and was promoted to uniform sergeant in March of 1932 and then to detective sergeant in April of 1935.

The Tromblys have four children, Mrs. Ray Elliott, 21, wife of a Selfridge Field lieutenant; John, 19, a University of Detroit freshman; Thomas Anthony, 15, St. Paul High school sophomore, and Barry, 6, who is in his first year of school at St. Paul.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By

Jane Schermerhorn

It's beginning to look as if Grosse Pointe News will have to open branch offices all around the globe . . .

To keep up with its prominent sons who are being named to diplomatic posts . . .

We left town a few days (soc note) . . . and came back to find folks chatting about the new Ambassador to Belgium, Frederick M. Alger, Jr. . . . and the new Ambassador to Cuba . . . Arthur Gardner, formerly of the Pointe and more recently of Washington, D. C. . . .

We hope Ike won't mind if we protest that this is getting to be unfair to a certain organized society foursome back in Grosse Pointe . . . robbing us of as nice a coliseum as we've ever known . . .

But we do have to agree . . . it's good to realize this is the kind of favorite son who's getting the appointments nowadays . . .

And our bruised feelings could readily be mended were the editor to send us on a globe-girdling tour to check up on what Pointers are doing (hint) . . .

Star-Studded Luncheon

We were more than a little interested in a group lunching at the City Club on Tuesday . . .

Never saw a threesome having more fun . . .

The Pointe's Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford (Marceline Hemingway . . . who knows a mething or two about the theater as witness her crowded schedule for the lectures she gives on Broadway, its plays and stars) . . .

Was hostess to two members of the cast of "Mrs. McThing," now at the Cass Theater, starring Helen Hayes . . .

The Sanford guests were none other than Enid Markley, who went from movie ingenue to the theater, becoming one of its truly great comedienne . . . and the wonderful Minstie Barrett, who plays the gangster's mother, and beautifully, in "Mrs. McThing" . . .

Helen Hayes was guest of honor at the luncheon . . . and she spoke on polio at the Celebrity Club . . .

Mrs. Sanford Meets the Ewells

It's a job catching up with Mrs. Sanford these days . . . what with her frequent trips to Manhattan where she's checking up on the new plays constantly . . .

But we did manage to learn that on her last junket . . . she had a wonderful time interviewing Tom Ewell, star of "The Seven Year Itch" . . .

The Ewells were in the process of moving to a new apartment . . . and Mrs. Sanford arrived at the agreed hour . . . interviewing as all three moved furniture, hung pictures and decided what looked best where . . .

Mrs. Sanford, a charmer according to Mrs. Sanford, came into the living room at one point to find her husband, unwrapping a picture . . .

"But did you buy a new oil?" she asked him . . .

No, he had rented this one . . . from the New York Public Library . . . and it had cows in it . . .

Lonesome For Cows

Mrs. Ewell was relieved to find that the oil wasn't a permanent possession and laughed to her husband, "Well, did you have to pick one with cows?" . . .

Yes, Mr. Ewell did . . . he was lonesome for cows. Seems the couple had had a farm in Buck's County and once in New York, the celebrated actor found he missed the cows . . .

Finally . . . all decided the painting had just the blue in it the room needed . . . and at this pace . . . the interview went gaily along . . .

Pointer Is Honored On Fiftieth Birthday

Friends Give Surprise Party for George E. Schenck Marking His Golden Anniversary; Mr and Mrs. John T. Woodhouse, Henry F. Rust Hosts at Cocktails and Supper

There's a group of close friends, here at the Pointe, who for years have celebrated important milestones together. In the past couple of years they've joined to observe a flurry of golden birthday anniversaries and the most recent took place Monday evening.

George E. Schenck, of Lake-land avenue, was the guest of honor upon this occasion. Although the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Woodhouse of Lake Shore road, and Henry F. Rust of East Jefferson avenue, may have hoped it would be a surprise party, the Birthday Boy probably well realized why he had been invited for a before dinner cocktail at the Rust home.

However, no one could have been more surprised than the honored guest when a wheeled television set was wheeled in for him, complete with birthday scroll, which bore the names of all those present.

The guest list numbered over fifty and all were waiting when Mr. and Mrs. Schenck arrived at Mr. Rust's.

After proper ceremony in presenting the gift, there was supper and dancing.

Among the guests was Mrs. Schenck's mother, Mrs. C. Harold Wills and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Book.

The Woodhouses' son, Mac (Mr. Schenck is his godfather) and his fiancée, Joan Neuberger of Redbank, N.J. had special invitations to the party. The attractive young lady returns Sunday to her classes at Sarah Lawrence College.

Still others present included: Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Sherer Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Theodore D. Buhl, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril J. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Forman S. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brook Bogg.

Mrs. Jewett Dwyer, Robert E. Edgar, Edward Lee, Mrs. Ralph Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Rust, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Budman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Wills Jr., who came up from their home in St. Clair for the birthday party; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee Wadsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stroh, Mrs. McAlpine Merry, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wallace Toley, Mrs. Wills Nester.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale V. Sattley, Mr. and Mrs. Yates G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Padock.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Dickson, Dr. and Mrs. John B. Hartzell, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Black Jr., and David A. Wallace.

Most humans could improve their minds by doing more listening and less talking.

"Far Better to Give..."

Another "successful" blood collection was conducted here on Wednesday, March 18, but the Pointe, as a community of some 50,000 persons, hasn't much cause to throw out its chest. Only an infinitesimal proportion of the residents bothered to turn out to roll up their sleeves, so the others may as well keep their vests buttoned.

What has been left unsaid about the tremendous importance of this ever-continuing campaign to keep a supply of whole blood and plasma flowing to the wounded in Korea, and to build up the banks at home to take care of everyday needs and prepare against possible emergencies? It seems incredible that there can be anyone who has not been convinced of the need.

Thousands upon thousands of the veterans who have returned from Korea and from World War II have been most anxious to testify that they would not have lived to come home were it not for the transfusions of blood which were available to keep life in their wounded bodies. So important has the transfusion technique become in modern medicine and surgery that all of us can recite numerous cases of relatives and friends who have recovered because blood was there when it was needed.

And we all know that it is a rare case when one pint (the amount we are asked to give) is sufficient to save a life or produce the desired results. Chest surgery cases require seven pints. Many of those dangerously wounded in battle, or afflicted with unusually dangerous ailments, require many, many, pints during their fight back to life.

Those of us who have given, know how painless the process is and how little time it takes. We know the great satisfaction that comes from having done this little bit for someone to whom it will mean so much. We had gone to press before last week's collection had ended, so we had to wait until now to report on the results and some of the interesting details we learned in connection with this latest drive.

This particular collection was sponsored by some 14 organizations, including a preponderance of the churches, the War Memorial Center and all its affiliated groups, service clubs, Marine League and the Board of Education. The number of contacts which this combined group of sponsors control is enormous. It would seem a lead pipe cinch that a minimum of effort on the part of each would produce a turnout that would not only delight the Red Cross, but would keep its staff on the merry-go-round, trying to process all prospective donors. But let's look at the record.

After weeks of publicity, announcements from the various pulpits and at luncheon meetings, written notices to members, etc., the total number of appointments which had been made just a few days before the actual collection, was 116.

It was rather amazing to us to learn that in one of these churches, with more than 500 of the congregation present, after a special appeal had been made for volunteers to sign up for the collection, a total of four stepped forward. This, despite the fact that the blood committee representing the church had gone to the trouble of having nurses in Red Cross uniforms present to stimulate the enlistment of the blood donors.

A common excuse heard from those ducking the blood collections is that they have already donated at Red Cross headquarters in Detroit. They aren't fooling the active workers, who often have occasion to check the lists on Elizabeth street.

Of course there are a great many residents of the Pointe, and of every other community, who are not eligible to give blood. They may be ill at the time of the collection, or have had penicillin shots recently, or may at some time have had jaundice or malaria. There are a good many things which will disqualify a prospective donor. But in a population of 50,000 persons, eliminating children and all the others who might not be eligible, there must be at least 15,000 to 20,000 Pointe residents who could give blood every 12 weeks.

All of which adds up to the reasons why we say last week's blood collection was not a howling success. There were 228 volunteers who appeared and a total of 182 pints were obtained. In order to attain this achievement it was necessary for the committee workers to call on the Anti-Aircraft Artillery soldiers stationed in the Pointe. And it is the ever-lasting credit of these boys that 33 of them showed up to give their blood.

This is a very high percentage when one considers that a number of the soldiers are Korean and World War II veterans. Some of them have had malaria. They camp have been ankle deep in mud and many of them have had colds. Many have had penicillin shots and were ineligible to volunteer. Had the same percentage of Pointers turned out, the church where the collection was being made would have been swamped.

A notable assist was also given by 17 employees attached to the new Grosse Pointe Post Office, which is building up its own blood bank. Few if any of these men are residents of the Pointe, but their contributions helped immeasurably towards making the Pointe collection a "success."

Keep this in mind... if you ever need blood, you are going to feel a whale of a lot worse when accepting it than you would while giving it. This is an outstanding example of the old axiom, "It is far better to give than to receive."

To Demonstrate Rose Pruning

The Detroit Rose Society, affiliated with the American Rose Society, invites all those interested in the spring care of roses and companion gardening to its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, March 26, at 8 p.m., in the new conference room of the Detroit News Building, 615 W. Lafayette.

A complete demonstration of spring pruning with all types of living rose bushes will be conducted by F. M. Alexander, blue ribbon winner for commercial displays at the Pointe Memorial Center, titled "Spring Pruning for the June Show," assisted by a question and answer discussion among experts in the audience.

This will be supplemented by two 20-minute color motion pictures titled: "Phosphorous the Key to Life" and "How Does Your Garden Grow," narrated by Lowell Thomas.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Work thou for pleasure... pain, or sing or carve... Who works for glory misses off the goal... Who works for money misses his very soul... Work for the work's sake, then, and it may be that these things shall be added unto thee." (Kenyon Cox)

There is something fiendish in the way a guy in line at the bank will concentrate his attention on the business of the man ahead of him. (We used the word "man" editorially. Women are even worse!) Admittedly there isn't much else to do while waiting in a long tiresome line, than take stock of your fellow depositors and check cashers... but you don't have to breath down his neck and peer into his bank book when he arrives at the window.

It is merely politeness to look up at the ceiling and plan your week's menus or (if a male) you might concentrate on that new weed killer you intend to try this Spring. All this has been brooded through an experience we had last week at the bank... when the old goat behind us listened and watched every move we made; moves that should have been strictly between the bank teller and us!

We can vouch for the fact that this character knows our name and address, how much we make a week, how much we've saved over the past two years, how we sign our checks and how much cash we had on leaving the bank. What do we know about HIM? NOTHING! However, we COULD tell you a few things about the woman who was ahead of us in the line!!

Since our editor claims he is getting bored with our comments on radio and t-v programs, we have decided to jump into the field of homemaking hints this week just to keep him quiet and incidentally to collect our pay check. First, we will take up the gourmet department. Last week we attended a dinner party and for the main course had what we thought was squab... until we tasted it! Never have we devoured a more succulent bird... After twisting the hostess' arm, we finally found that we were eating a "Rock Cornish Game Hen".

The queer sounding bird is something new; a cross between a Pheasant and an African Guinea Hen. The breeder of this wonder has his farm at Pomfret Center, Connecticut, and up until three years ago he couldn't tell a chicken from a turkey except when it was on the table. He became interested in the farm and fowl life and experimented with amazing results. If you old man likes to eat game of any kind, then this is a must for your table.

Our next household hint has to do with your medicine cabinet. Due to an unfortunate experience last week, we have discovered that no self respecting home should be without a tube of "Amatan" for emergency purposes. We were doing a little writing and minding our own business when Ruffy the wild cat spied a squirrel outside the window. He darted across the desk, upsetting a pot of boiling hot tea all over our best arm! We said a few words not mentioned in the Bible and ran for the Amatan, which we slathered all over the burnt area. Within three hours the pain had subsided and it eventually prevented a lot of future trouble. Nice thing to know... especially if there are kids about.

We were having afternoon tiffin with a friend recently, when her maid entered the room and, handing her a package, said voodoo grandly: "Your Social Security book has arrived, Madame." Our eyebrows shot skyward until our hostess explained that the maid's eyesight is faulty and she apparently misread the Social Security label on the outside of the package. We spent the remainder of the afternoon yawning over the numerous clubs that people list. Have often wondered what difference it makes.

A male acquaintance of ours went to a local book shop to purchase two books for his host and hostess of the past country weekend. After much looking about he decided on "The Greatest Story Ever Told" (which as you know is the story of the Bible) for MRS. Thingamebob... and "Over Sixteen" was his choice for the host. He handed them to the salesgirl, asking her to wrap them as gifts. She glanced at the titles and asked: "Are both these books for the SAME PERSON?"

It behoves all of us to think twice before making with the smart-aleky jokes... cause they sometimes backfire. Last week, one of the local gentry ordered a load of dirt for his lawn yard and told the soil man to dump it on the edge of his front back where he could get it easily. In due time the load arrived and was dumped.

Later in the day, a friend of our hero's stopped in for a quick one and during their conversation, said: "I see you have your dirt in a nice handy place. I only need about half that amount so I think I'll sneak around tonight after you go to bed. Ha, ha, ha."

That was the last "ha" the little man will give out with for quite some time. The following morning the owner of the black dirt gazed out of his bedroom window and found that just about all the dirt had indeed been carted away in the night. His pal is STILL trying to explain that it must have been a coincidence... HE certainly didn't take it... and he wishes he'd kept his fat mouth shut. Hi-ho.

Warning Issued To Pedestrians

Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, in a memorandum to all Detroit pedestrians, warned them to be more alert in crossing streets and to be doubly alert at night.

The memorandum was contained in a poster erected at 1,000 locations in the city and it dealt with the sharp increase in Detroit motor vehicle fatalities—particularly those involving pedestrians—in the first two months of 1953 compared with the same period last year.

Prepared by the Traffic Safety Association, the poster is being erected by police department precinct safety officers and by the Sign Shop of the Streets and Traffic Department.

The text of the memorandum follows: 1. In the first two months of this year, 42 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents in Detroit—an increase of 50 per cent over last year.

2. Of this number, 28 were pedestrians. 3. Twenty-four of these pedestrians were killed at night, while four were killed in the daytime. For every fatal accident in daylight, six occurred at night.

4. Friday and Saturday nights accounted for 14 of the pedestrian deaths—half of the total.

5. Accident Prevention Bureau records show that 22 of these pedestrians were to blame for their own deaths. The major violation was stepping suddenly from the curb into the path of a closely approaching vehicle.

6. The Police Department warns pedestrians to be more alert in crossing streets AND BE DOUBLY ALERT AT NIGHT.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

This week Mr. George Jones of the Central Library gives us—

Three Inside Views

How a finished work of art comes to be is a topic which whets the curiosity of the reader or viewer or hearer of the end result. What were the proportions of inspiration and perspiration? How were the artistic demands of honest art reconciled with the sound financial basis on which continuing production depends? Through what commercial labyrinths had the artist to find his way so that his product could reach an audience?

Your library has these new books describing this gestation period for the novel, the motion picture, and concert.

Harrison Smith has edited a volume of correspondence between Sinclair Lewis and his publishers, Harcourt Brace. The letters span the period of Lewis's greatest productivity—from the conception and publication of Main Street, through Babbitt, Arrowsmith, and Elmer Gantry and culminating in his receiving the Nobel prize in 1930.

Smith, an editor with Harcourt Brace during the period covered, has made a selection which brings out in proper perspective the combination gift in observation and diligence in research which makes a successful novelist. The letters, by pointing up the minute research which underlies the deceptively simple portrayal of a typical person or locale, convey to the reader the labor behind the simple rightness of a first class social satire.

From Main Street to Stockholm gives a well balanced and sympathetic view of one of the great literary iconoclasts of the United States.

Through all author to editor correspondence runs a theme of the professional loneliness and isolation of the writer. The case of the creative artist engaged in the motion picture field is almost the exact reverse. Combining as it does artistic, technical, and financial skills of high calibre and frequently volatile temperament, serious motion picture production can represent an almost hopeless struggle to reconcile these groups of ideas.

Lillian Ross, the gifted New Yorker writer, presents this struggle in an admirably detailed case study, the history of the production of "The Red Badge of Courage." Miss Ross is fortunate in having chosen to dissect a worthy skeleton, a picture neither airily inconsequential nor self-consciously arty, but one attempting to convey an idea common to all men.

She follows the course of the picture from its first-consideration until it has braved that terrible bar of judgment, the sneak preview, observing its trials with an intimacy possible to few writers. In her utilization of this preferred view, Miss Ross has written with sharpness and tolerance; she has accepted fact that a business as complex as the production of a motion picture must attract all types—the hard-headed financier and the perfectionist director, the spineless yes-man and the producer of integrity and determination. Picture makes a fine addition to the literature of Hollywood and the motion picture.

The new book dealing with the musical arts is not a case study of a single artist or a single production, but rather a comprehensive view of the business of live musical performance over the entire land. Cecil Smith's Worlds of Music is a compendium of the inside workings of the American scene in contemporary America; it is not a concerned with the artistic aspects of American music but focuses on the means and routes by which artistry while presenting. Securely a hearing little that is new, it gathers together in one place much useful and significant knowledge of the basis on which has been built the most comprehensive and widespread musical industry the world has seen.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

There seems to be quite a controversy about the proposed gymnasium. Though I have heard and read about this project, no action seems to have been taken. How long do the boys and girls have to wait for the right decision? It is quite obvious to the public that the gym is needed by both the participating athletes and the spectators.

Grosse Pointers have learned all about the problems of the Varsity, which is even more outstanding than that of the girls. However, my daughter, a January graduate, has often told me about the inadequacy of the girl's gym. The following is just a small percentage of their difficulties.

The gym is built to accommodate twelve badminton players. That is, there are three courts. However, much to the surprise of the teacher, she finds herself with 25 students. How can she teach 25 girls the finer points of badminton in a gym equipped to accommodate a twelve?

As a result of this disturbing feature, she must place girls in between the courts so that they can practice while the games are being played. A visitor, looking into the gym, may observe a "mad house" with birds flying and racquets swinging. It has been the misfortune of many of these swinging racquets.

During the average basketball season the gym is divided into three sections, into small courts, which are not large enough for proper instruction. By this division, there is room for thirty six girls. The teacher usually finds an enrollment of about fifty or more. How can an instructor improve skills and help girls who are learning, when she has to rotate them in and out of the games in order to give everyone a chance to play? This must be done in a forty five minute period.

My daughter has often related how embarrassing it was on playdays. Instead of being proud of a nice large gym, they were forced to ask their guest to "sit out" part of the time. When the physical education department decides to have a playday, they must limit their invitations to a very small number. The fact that they only have the use of one gym also enters into the situation.

When the students of Grosse Pointe High are asked to participate at schools in other communities, they can use two gyms, both larger than ours. Sometimes as many as four schools are represented, while Grosse Pointe is lucky if it can invite one. As a chaperon at a few of these playdays, I know how much they are enjoyed by the girls, who at the same time are getting lessons in good sportsmanship and friendliness towards their neighbors.

The girls and teachers are much happier in outdoor sports, particularly in the winter months. There is no lack of space. Intramural activities are also hampered. Many more sign up than can be accepted. A much wanted (and needed) Badminton Club cannot be formed. Why? Not enough room. Sport's Club has to limit its members. Isn't it a shame when a potential athlete has to step aside, just because he needs a little more coaching or practice? Sports give boys and girls an outlet for their energy. Busy after school, they have no time to be on the streets, which is always an asset to a community. Would we like our cars designed to fill the needs of twenty five years ago? The school deserves better gym facilities.

In conclusion, I would like to say that it is time we had a gym worthy of Grosse Pointe and its children. Thank you. Sincerely, Mrs. M. E. Hargis

To The Editor:

The entire membership of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women wishes to thank you for the fine cooperation you've given our publicity chairman. We really appreciate the numerous articles you've recently published on our presentation of "Heidi" March 14.

We feel that the project served a dual purpose, rendering a community service and enabling us to complete our "Grosse Pointe International Study Grant" which will be used by a foreign member of the International Federation, of University Women, for study in this country.

The attendance at "Heidi" was excellent, the parent-response most gratifying and the enthusiasm of the Michigan State Players for Grosse Pointe, heartwarming. We hope to bring them back again next year.

Thank you again for your part in the success of our project. Sincerely, Martha B. Morrison, President of the G.P. Branch of A.A.U.W.

All Eyes and Ears

By John S. Sweeney, III

"Affairs of State," which opened for one week at the Cass on March 16, is a delightful little comedy by that clever man, Louis Verneuil. One of France's most successful playwrights, M. Verneuil came to our shores in 1940 and after a stay of about a decade became sufficient master of the American idiom to write this very good play in very good English.

It's all about a rising young senator who enters into a marriage of convenience to appear in a more favorable light with the voters. His wife, at first in name only, through feminine wiles and wit, makes the marriage a real one. An ex-Secretary of State, in truly diplomatic fashion, shapes the whole situation in order to prevent a romance between the senator and his own wife.

It is a Verneuil's favorite theme of success by means of a little sly trickery, although with a wary eye to American ideals and mores. The play is written with a fine sense of balance, and the most is made of all the situations.

Haila Stoddard plays the senator's artful wife with imagination and originality, although I must say (rather ingenuously) that she looks a few years older than the girl of 28 the part calls for. Donald Woods makes a fine, energetic young senator. George Brent, however, does not seem to have anything definite to give to the role of the ex-Secretary of State and is somewhat eclipsed by all the vitality around him. His erring wife is played by Irene Hervey, and Harry Bannister is very good as the present Secretary of State.

This week, beginning the 23rd of March Helen Hayes appears in Mary Chase's comedy "Mrs. McThing."

Health and Safety Advice Offered for Clean-Up Drive

Grosse Pointe has been applauded for the successful clean-up campaigns which have been carried on in the past, by Elliot L. Swartz of the Wayne County Department of Health. He states he has watched the annual activities with admiration and hopes that the 1953 clean-up campaign will continue, as it has in the past, to make great strides in maintaining Grosse Pointe as one of the most beautiful residential areas in the country.

A list of precautions to take while doing your part in the annual clean-up program is offered by the Wayne County Department of Health:

- 1. When lifting heavy objects be sure to keep your back straight, knees bent and feet apart so that your leg and not your back muscles do the work. 2. Carry objects in such a way that they do not block your view. 3. Place ashes in metal containers. Avoid use of pasteboard cartons or wooden boxes for this purpose. 4. Hang your rake on a hook when you are finished using it. 5. When burning rubbish and trash, use a wire-mesh basket or metal container—and keep it covered to prevent sparks from flying about. 6. Don't start a fire on a windy day. 7. Don't start a fire near wooden structures or buildings. 8. Keep fires attended at all times. 9. Be sure to avoid over-exertion. Take your time and do a complete job cleaning up. A check-list of home hazards may be procured at the Grosse Pointe District office of the Wayne County Department of Health, 15425 Kercheval in Grosse Pointe Park.

Confine That Cold

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

When one member of the family comes down with a cold it usually means a lot of extra work for mother. In there are several children in the family they have a tendency to pass their cold around.

Keeping a sick person isolated from the rest of the family, and sterilizing dishes and silver, makes additional work; but it doesn't take nearly the effort and strength of nursing several sick people in succession.

Make certain the prescription your doctor writes is compounded of fresh, pure drugs.

Mel Santmyers in French Movie

A/2c Mel W. Santmyers, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Santmyers, of 383 Hillcrest, can now take a bow with the rest of the movie stars of America.

Santmyers, who has been overseas since November of 1952, was one of four men from Michigan who took part in a French social comedy, "Jeunes Mariés" (Just Married), and which stars France's top stage star Francois Perier, and film star Ann Veron, who recently played in the American film "Shakedown."

The soldier is a lineman in the communications division in the Moulins sub-depot (France), which specializes in the maintenance of the motor vehicles which are a part of the American commitment to the Allied Air Forces in Central Europe.

"Of all the things I figured might happen to me when I came to France," said Santmyers, "I never figured on being in the movies."

He is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High school and has been in the service since March of 1951.

Move to Vacate Bishop Cancelled

A petition bearing the signatures of 25 persons who objected to the closing and vacating of Bishop road, south of East Jefferson, was accepted by the Park council, Monday, March 23.

Residents on and around the disputed road, voiced their objections, through the petition, claiming that the closing of the road would inconvenience travel to and from their homes, and besides some who might want to fish on the lakefront property at the foot of the road, would be denied the privilege, if the plans to vacate were followed.

In order to effect easier acceptance of the closing of the road, the city offered the road to the Stroh and Buhl estates, on the condition that the owners grade in the property and landscape it.

The Stroh estate was in accord with this agreement but the Buhl estate objected to the expense which would be involved, and refused to accept the conditions set forth by the city.

Mrs. C. Henry Buhl agreed to the closing of the street, but objected to taking over the property and the expense of grading, landscaping and erecting a fence through the centerline of the road, which would be her share of the property.

The Park wanted to close the road because it was considered a blight to the beauty of the city. It was contended that many petters parked at the end of the road, and that it was difficult for the police to patrol, being a dead end street.

The council has decided to leave the road as it is.

Snag Halts Plans For New Clinic

A request for a permit to build a medical clinic at 722 Notre Dame, was refused by City Building Inspector Melvin Beatty, Friday, March 20, pending state investigation of building plans.

According to Richard Van Praag, chief investigator for the Michigan State Board of Registration for Architects, Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, who appeared at the City Building Inspection office, plans drawn for the medical building must be delayed until a complete investigation has been made, to determine the status of the architect who drew the plans.

Investigator Van Praag challenged the claim of Ray Ponkey of 17415 Mack, to the right of calling himself an architect. He said that an amended state law stipulates that no one shall call himself an architect, or affix the title to his name, unless he is qualified to do so through a state board examination.

Ponkey, said Praag, has applied for his license several times, but in each case had failed to pass an examination, and therefore, has no registered professional architect or engineer seal, which must be placed on plans of any building over 2,500 feet, or commercial buildings.

If witnesses can be produced to show that any one claimed to be an architect, and had drawn up plans as such, the guilty party can be subjected to a misdemeanor charge and sentenced to pay not more than $500 and imprisoned for not more than 90 days, or both.

Governor Presents Awards To Park for Voting Record

A large turnout of residents gathered in the Park council chamber in the Municipal Building on Monday, March 23, to witness the presentation of a plaque from the South Haven Chamber of Commerce, and an American Heritage award, for the city's outstanding Register and Vote campaign in last fall's election.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams attended the affair as guest of honor, and made the presentation of the awards.

Governor Presented
Prior to the presentation, the Governor was presented to members of the council and to visiting dignitaries from South Haven, and then shook hands with about 75 members of the League of Women Voters, who were present, and others among the audience.

Mayor Charles Tate of South Haven read a resolution from the people of his city, in which the Park was commended for its outstanding achievement in the last national election, and in which it was stated that the Park was entitled to hold the plaque until 30 days before the next national election in 1954.

Accepted By Fritsch
Park Mayor Homer Fritsch received the plaque, which was formally presented by Gov. Williams.

"I am proud to accept this plaque as Mayor of all the people in Grosse Pointe Park," said the mayor. They have demonstrated their exceptional interest in making democracy work by going to the polls and voting."

Credit for the turnout of voters was given to the 14th Congressional District Republican Organization, Grosse Pointe Women's Republican Club, League of Women Voters, 14th District Club, Republican Voters Association, the Wayne County Precinct Organization, elected precinct delegates, the four Boy Scout troops of the city, and all the local service and business men's clubs, in particular the Kiwanis Club, which had handed out lapel hangers all day long as people left every voting booth. They had printed on them "I have voted, have you?"

Following his speech and presentation of the plaque, the Governor then presented the American Heritage award, one to the city and one to the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Bert Luther Lindsay, president of the league which has its headquarters in the Park, ac-and its officials were beyond reproach and that the city had a fine police department, and drew a laugh when she pointed out that the city was also the cleanest for a community of its size, even to the number of its bathtubs.

KID BITS

By NANCY MACDONALD

Last Saturday, March 21, proved to be the big night for most of the kids in Grosse Pointe. First on the agenda was the War Memorial Dance, called the Normal-Formal, which was anything but "normal."

Some of the kids who went to it dressed in odd combinations of jeans in formals were Marylou Hornberger and Tom Saunders, Carlene Schroeder and Hal Bay, Margaret Measel and Bob Stinson, Bee Borrowes and Dave McKee, April Cameron and Bill Brabb, Jeannette Cameron and Dave Johnson, Ronnie Kelly and Jack Smith, Margaret Ann Luck and Ray Putman, Barbara Fischer and Larry Gutoski, Phyllis Boccia and Wendy Birdsall, Mary Shenefield and Bruce Crowley, and Carolyn Stoup and Stu Smith.

Still more: Corky Cross and Fran Striker, Nancy Ault and Tom Richards, Arn Stevens and Cal Boch, Maral Moluneaux and Dave Belfore, Molly Marshall and Bob Prince, Barb Bendlin and Hal Windsor, Emmy Lutton and Pete McKee and Peggy McKibbin and Bob Moreland.

Afterwards, some of John Corey's friends went over to his house to visit with him and his date, Shirley Neson. Some of the ones seen there "talking up a storm" were Sally Fisher and Bob Butler, Dianne Quinlan, and Phil Beach, Barb McGrath and Dick Anslow, Harlene Ingram and Skip Clark, Maureen Keilor and Lee Scott, Frances Butterfield and Wayne Slavov, Mary Hoover and Jerry Harden, Bee Borrowes and Dave McKee, Nancy Thomas and Wayne Miller, Bobbi Williams and Earl Lyons, and Sandy Taylor and Bill Miller, Mary Shenefield and Bruce Crowley, and Pat Smith and Ted Johnson, and Judy Zeeb and Miller Foster.

Fewer accidents would occur if tires were inflated more and the ego at the steering wheel less.

41st Anniversary of Founding Celebrated by Girl Scouts

Thursday, March 12, marked the 41st birthday of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. Starting with a handful of girls in Savannah, Ga., back in the era before World War I, the Girl Scout movement has grown in scope and service until today it proudly claims two million active members.

The girls who have learned cooperation, friendship, community responsibility and special skills through scouting number seven million. Girl Scout officials tell us. Along with them must be numbered the millions of adults who have given of their time and energy through the 41 years, as volunteer leaders and professional workers.

These adult workers have demonstrated that maturity and youth can work effectively together to create "a growing force of freedom," the objective summarized in the current slogan of Girl Scouting.

Skills, hobbies, interests developed in Scouting—from conservation to cookery to dramatics, serve well in later years. Among the millions of women who were Girl Scouts are outstanding leaders in the arts, in politics, in community activities, in education, in welfare—among them, too, are wives and mothers whose first training in homemaking was acquired in connection with the familiar brown and green uniform.

Time has broadened the interests of Girl Scouts. Still giving part of her attention to woodcraft, nature study, and outdoor life, today's Girl Scout is more and more a participant in the civic and welfare activities which make her community a better place in which to live. She studies child care and serves as a playtime supervisor for children in hospitals and institutions. In many areas, Girl Scouts are playground assistants at parks, day camps, and schools.

During the 1952 election campaign, 180,000 Girl Scouts acted as baby-sitters, releasing mothers for trips to registration centers, primary balloting, and the polls.

The Girl Scout gives regularly of her time to lighten the burden of overworked librarians, hospital workers and school administrators. In time of disaster she helps with first aid, with community feeding with distribution of clothing and supplies and with other service to the injured and destitute.

She cooperates with fund raising campaigns of the Red Cross, the March of Dimes, the Red Feather service, and many other worthy community enterprises.

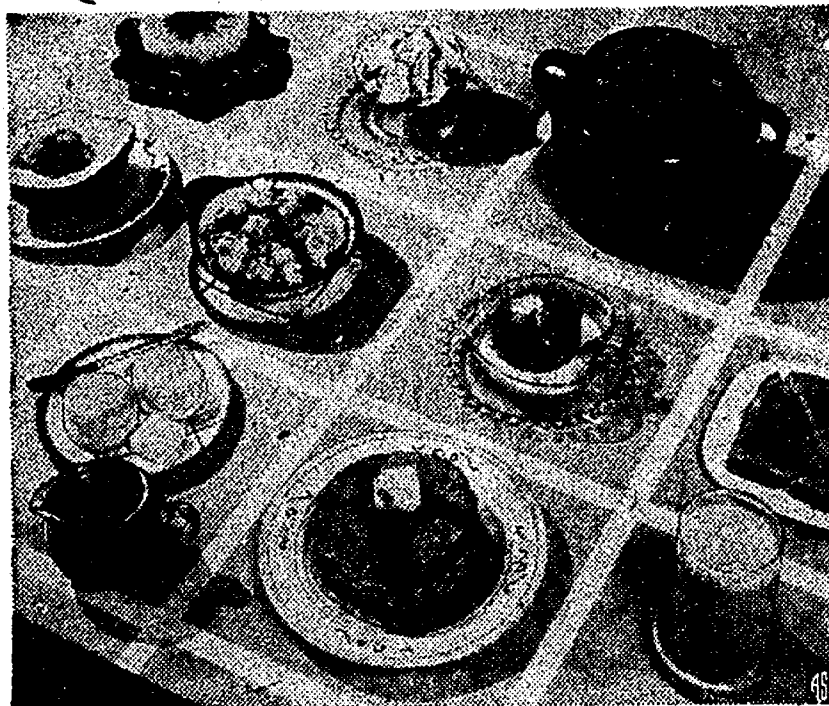

For additional emphasis on preparation for informed and active citizenship, the Girl Scouts are marking their 41st birthday by the inauguration of a new "My Government" badge. While working for this badge, the "intermediate" Girl Scout, in the age group from 10 through 13, will acquire a knowledge about her community, her government, her legislators and her responsibility as a citizen.

But the Girl Scout of today is not merely a citizen of her community and her country—she is a citizen of the world. Stretching out the hand of friendship across the seas and the lands, she shares her interests and her experience with her sisters in 31 countries of the globe. Girl Scouts and Girl Guides all over the world are learning that girls everywhere, like people everywhere, are moved by common aspirations, enjoy common interests, seek common objectives.

Almost a million and a half girls in the 7 through 17 age group, meeting in 88,000 troops from coast to coast, open every Scout gathering with a reaffirmation of the Girl Scout promise—"On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people, to obey the Girl Scout Laws."

As America fulfills her responsibilities of leadership among the free nations of the world, the Girl Scouts will be needed to increase their contribution to the national and international understanding. So, on their 41st birthday, we salute the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. and their friends. May they long continue to grow in strength, in service and in numbers.

Quick Flavor Tricks With Molasses

Ten-to-one your family will go for these ten ways to season foods with old-fashioned molasses. This "unsulphured" molasses contributes sweetness, because it's the concentrated juice of sugar cane, and distinctive flavor.

Molasses Quickie Baked Beans
 Combine 4 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add alternately with 4 cans baked beans to bean pot. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 45 minutes. YIELD: 8-12 servings.

Molasses Acorn Squash
 Halve acorn squash; remove seeds. Place in baking pan. Fill each half with 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and a dash of salt, and cinnamon. Cover the bottom of the baking pan with a small amount of hot water; bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour, or until tender.

Molasses Baked Apples
 Wash, core and pare apples 1/2 of the way down from stem end. Mix equal parts of unsulphured molasses and sugar; fill center of each apple. Add enough water to cover bottom of dish. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 30 to 40 minutes, or until tender. Serve hot or cold with cream.

Poor Little Hill!

You're looking at a very discouraged hill! Ever since that ribbon of paving outlined it, it has been a challenge to motor cars. For miles and miles it winds up the side of a mountain; and it has sharp curves, and steep grades that spring out of the curves so a driver can't get a start. Half-way up, there's a watering place—put there so drivers can stop and refill their radiators. Yes—it has been quite a hill. But not any more!

The driver of the car in the picture above took off at the base and sailed right up to the top—and never gave it a thought. You see, he's driving a 1953 Cadillac—with its great 210-horsepower engine—and its vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive.

We heard recently of two men who drove from Florida to Detroit—in a 1953 Cadillac.

The driver of the car had made this trip before—and as they left Knoxville he said to his passenger: "Man, are we going to find a hill between here and Lexington?"

After an hour or so, the passenger said: "Where is the hill?"

And the driver said: "Just wait!"

So they waited—and presently they saw a sign which read: "Lexington."

The driver was simply dumbfounded.

"I just can't understand it!" he said. "There used to be a hill there—a big one!"

Naturally, this great car gives you more than the ability to master hills.

When you float along with a tremendous reserve like this, you have the smoothest, quietest, easiest ride it's possible to imagine.

It makes the whole car a symphony in motion. In fact, the ride is so soothing and relaxing that, not infrequently, passengers sleep as they ride.

Come in and try it for yourself. The car is waiting—and it's an experience you ought not to forego.

Driver Training Education To be Expanded in State

Definite plans for the expansion of driver training education in Detroit and Michigan high schools and colleges were outlined by James Mason, chairman of the Michigan Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee at the Detroit Athletic Club. Mr. Mason told representatives of the auto companies, dealers and automobile insurance companies that their continued support of the program is needed to make it a success.

The driver training programs have already been inaugurated in more than 600 high schools and colleges in 350 communities of the state through the co-operation of the committee and the Detroit Auto Dealers Association.

Urging greater public support of the program, Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, told the industry group that learning to drive safely is of no less importance than any other subject now on the teaching curriculum.

"Auto manufacturers realize that something must be done to curb the accident rate on highways if their future plans are to be successful," Hannah said. "Driver training courses," he added, "can be inaugurated in schools without eliminating other subjects." He urged that parents approach their school boards in support of the training program.

"One of the major problems is a shortage of teachers, but these are being trained as rapidly as possible," said Leslie R. Silvernale, professor of driving training at Michigan State, who predicted the time when every high school and college student in Michigan will have a chance to take the course.

U-M Anticipates Enrollment Boom

Just as residents along the Great Lakes worried about high water levels during 1952, the leaders of the University of Michigan are concerned about the prospective high levels of college enrollments in Michigan.

Those concerned with higher education have some advantage over the shore line residents who had to hurry around and improve protection as the lakes pounded at their property during the year.

There have been ample warnings to expect college enrollments surpassing the post-war peak not later than 1960. The fall of 1952 brought some signs that the upward trend may be getting earlier. The University found the number of freshmen admitted this September was 30 per cent higher than in 1951.

Regardless of the future significance of the freshmen enrollment, the Regents, President Harlan Hatcher and other University administrators now feel that the University's current 17,000 resident students represent the low point of enrollment and that the future years, perhaps even 1953, will see a steady upward trend.

In an effort to prepare adequately for this oncoming rush of students, the University will seek during 1953 to improve its physical plant and to maintain and improve its faculty and staff.

Two new units in the Medical Center, an Outpatient Clinic and the Kresge Medical Research Center, will become available during the year. The clinic, costing $3,726,800 and built from the funds appropriated by the Legislature, will be ready in January,

Youthful Beer Drinkers Caught

Woods police took two Detroit teenagers into custody when they were found drinking beer in their car Friday, March 20, at West Williams and Fairford.

The boys told police that they purchased the beverage from a grocery store in East Detroit. Police in that city were contacted and the store will be cited before the Liquor Control Commission.

The teenagers were released to their parents, pending further questioning.

The course offers basic training in the technical phases of photography including optics, operation and maintenance of various types of equipment employed throughout the Navy.

Upon completion of the schooling, some students are selected for additional training in aerial photography.

Pointes' Planning Council In Process of Formation

Because the Pointe communities have many problems in common, City Clerk Norbert Neff recently proposed that each municipality appoint two members of their respective councils to an over-all community planning council.

Previously, many of the problems confronting the five Pointes have been worked out through representative committees, but now the problems have grown out of proportion and are too numerous.

Mr. Neff's plan calls for the community planning council to study all matters common to the Pointes, and have each member report to his city council with recommendations on legislation. The purpose is to formulate uniform laws, so that the cities will unite and solve their mutual problems through combined knowledge.

The City, as the originator of the plan, already has named its representatives, Councilmen John Kemower and Kenneth Bergmann, and the Woods has delegated the mayor to appoint its members. The Shores, Farms and Park have not as yet acted on the idea. The Farms council felt it should wait until after election to name anyone.

This step is not designed to strip the cities of their individualities or deprive them of their local powers, but to attack their problems as a unit. There would be no coercion.

The Pointes already have joined to form committees for the study of flood controls, safety and traffic, and garbage disposals. The schools and libraries, and the War Memorial Center are cited as examples of this unity.

Students Shown Voting Machine

How to vote with a machine was demonstrated last week by Blue Hi-Y members for the history classes of Grosse Pointe High School. The students had an opportunity to cast a practice vote with the machine.

The machine was on display at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Arrangements were made with John Lake, director of the War Memorial, to demonstrate the machine at the High School as a Blue Hi-Y project.

Stiffer Tests Planned to Get Driver Permits

A five-point program to strengthen driver license examining procedures to eliminate incompetents at the wheel was approved at a conference on revision of Michigan rules and regulations for operator and chauffeur licenses held at State Police headquarters in East Lansing.

Although administration of the driver license law is shared by the State Police Commissioner and the Secretary of State, representatives of more than 23 state departments and associations having an interest in the problem were called in to offer comments and suggestions on the proposed changes.

Their recommendations follow:

1. A new and more comprehensive written examination for beginner drivers.
2. More rigid vision tests for all drivers.
3. A two-day training program for the 1,500 licensed examiners in the state and close supervision thereafter. Those who did not attend the school would be disqualified.
4. No temporary driving permits to be issued to beginners until a check has been made of the file in the secretary of state's office containing the names of persons who have previously been adjudged by probate courts as insane or idiots, imbeciles, epileptics or feeble-minded and who have not been restored to competency by judicial decree.
5. A program to obtain more complete reporting of the foregoing mental cases to the department of state.

Implied approval was given to the proposal that there be no written examination for license renewal applicants unless an examiner believes it advisable in an individual case. This is the present procedure.

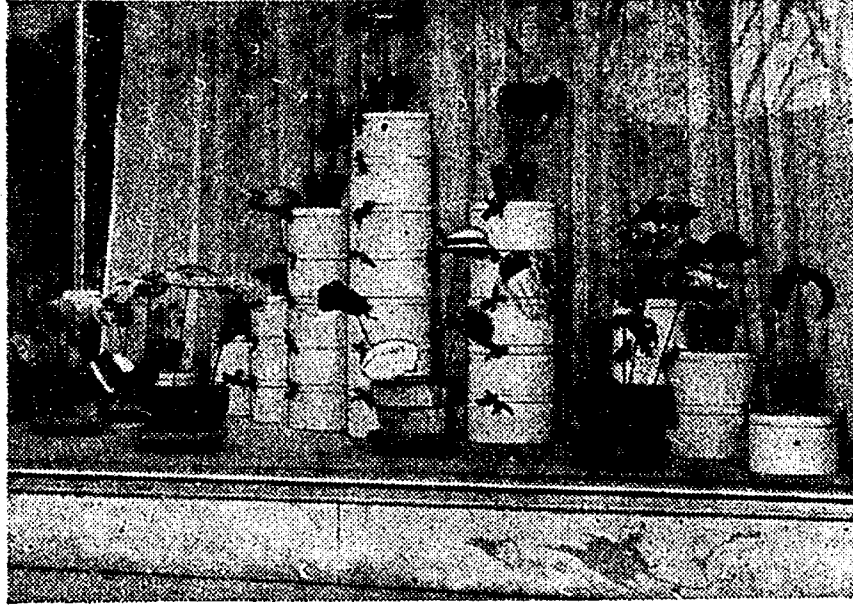

A committee of conference members was appointed by State Police Commissioner Childs to study the recommendations and adapt them so that they can be placed in effect soon.

The conference was arranged by Commissioner Childs and Secretary of State Owen Cleary, both of whom spoke to the group. Childs pointed out that the meeting had no connection with reports that legislation to revamp the entire licensing administrative plan may be introduced. He said the purpose was to make improvements in driver licensing examination that are impossible now under existing law and that the new program was designed to fit in with whatever the legislature might do later.

Capt. C. F. Van Blankensteyn, commanding officer of the State Police safety and traffic bureau, presided, assisted by Frank Kelley, supervisor of the driver licensing division of the secretary of state's department.

Eventually they may have the round-the-world tours to a basis where the two-week vacationer may take them.

Grads of GPHS Fine Students

The 67 recommended graduates from Grosse Pointe High School who entered the University of Michigan and Michigan State College during 1952 made outstanding marks.

The average grades for the 47 students who were recommended at the University of Michigan were better than two B's and 2 C's. It is not expected for a first semester student at college to receive such high grades.

In the history of Grosse Pointe High School there have been only seven years when the first semester averages for recommended students at the University of Michigan were higher than this. This is the first year that a group exceeding 38 students has made such fine grades.

At Michigan State College the 20 students who were recommended averaged almost a straight B average. This, too, is exceptionally good.

The high school grades for all 67 recommended students in these two colleges were slightly better than a straight B average. Aside from the recommended graduates, two students not recommended entered the University of Michigan, and 22 students not recommended entered Michigan State College.

A man is never a failure until he delights in naming the men who made their mark after sixty.

Great Progress During Year Reported by Phoenix Project

Dramatic progress in developing new peacetime applications for atomic energy under auspices of the Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project have been reported in Ann Arbor.

Research advances during the past year in both the physical and social sciences were described by Dr. Ralph A. Sawyer, director of the University of Michigan's unique undertaking.

Campaign-wise, the Phoenix Project is over the $6,250,000 mark towards the initial goal of $8,500,000. To date, he said, 54 research projects bearing on some application or implication of atomic energy have been approved, with 14 brought to successful completion.

It would be impossible, Dr. Sawyer pointed out, to describe all the outstanding investigations that have been carried on over the past 12 months. A sample of Phoenix-sponsored studies would include the following:

1. A new technique for measuring thyroid activity in newly born infants through use of "the radioactive iodine uptake curve." This method makes it possible to distinguish between a cretin, a baby without thyroid function, and a mongoloid idiot, whose condition is in no way related to thyroid activity.
2. "By using radioactive iodine," Dr. Sawyer said, "it is possible to distinguish between these two conditions very early in the child's life and proper therapy can be instituted without delay."
3. The Phoenix study—now completed—of the effects on bacterial metabolism of radiation from radioactive atoms, that is, the ability of penetrating radiation to kill micro-organisms; sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission and the University's Engineering Research Institute.
4. Research in cancer has been initiated in the newly dedicated Alice Lloyd Cancer Therapy Research Laboratory in University Hospital—named for the late Dean of Women, Alice Crocker Lloyd, who was a victim of the disease.
5. "An outstanding event of the year was the 1952 summer law institute on 'Atomic Energy—Industrial and Legal Problems' which was planned by the Phoenix Project and Law School," Dr. Sawyer pointed out.

"It achieved national recognition as one of the most important forums yet held on the social problems of atomic energy," he said.

Dr. Sawyer, who is dean of the University's Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies, described the research program as "the heart" of the Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project.

Atomic research sponsored by the project is being conducted in several specialized laboratories in different parts of the campus. The $1,000,000 Phoenix Memorial Laboratory on the North Campus is scheduled for construction during 1953, and a 10 kilocurie source of radioactive cobalt, the largest single concentration of radioactivity for research purposes in the United States, will be utilized for Phoenix investigations in a specially built "radiation cave."

Administration of Phoenix studies remains essentially unchanged, Dr. Sawyer said. Twice each year a Faculty Executive Committee reviews applications for grants and awards funds for projects. Dr. Henry Gomberg, who teaches nuclear engineering in the College of Engineering, was appointed assistant director of the Phoenix Project last December.

Nearly 60 University faculty members are active in Phoenix research, Dr. Sawyer said, and an equal number of full or part-time employees, many of whom are students, also are participating in study projects.

"In all, nearly $500,000 has been spent on research, fellowships and educational meetings, and for laboratory construction and equipment," he explained. Some $650,000 has been set aside for the coming year.

"All who made the Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project possible through their efforts and their generous gifts may well be proud of the way their memorial to the heroes of World War II has developed," he said.

Through researches, institutes and educational meetings, Dr. Sawyer declared, "the Project is beginning to exert a real and growing influence on all phases of the development of nuclear energy."

Additional street lighting was approved in the following locations:

The Council also authorized the obtaining of an option on certain properties in Macomb County for a refuse disposal site.

An audit report on Ridgeman Road improvements across Lots 36 to 46 was approved and the owners authorized to receive pro rata refunds of excess money deposited to secure the improvement installations.

A plan of settlement of proceedings in connection with Condemnation Project No. 1, being the extension of the alley from Kerby Subdivision to Calvin Avenue, was recommended by the attorney and approved.

The meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

Plan Open House At High School

Brownell Jr., High and Grosse Pointe High School will hold "Open House", Monday, March 30, from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m.

An invitation has been extended to all parents to attend and meet the teachers of their children. The teachers will be in their rooms for short conferences with parents.

"Open House" has proved to be the most satisfactory means of teachers and parents knowing each other, and in that way understanding the students a little better. Discussing the students sometimes proves such an interesting topic, time runs out, and it has been suggested that each parent restrict his conference with the teacher to a maximum of 3 minutes, so that all parents will have an opportunity to meet each teacher.

April 6, 1953, from 7:00 o'clock in the forenoon until 8:00 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of electing the following officers:

- 2 Justices of the Supreme Court

St. Paul's Basketball Team Sees Tourney Hopes Blasted

It was a long bus ride back from Flint last Wednesday March 18, for Coach Eddie Lauer's St. Paul basketball team and the three bus loads of fans after the Flyers absorbed a crushing 70 to 44 defeat by St. Mary of Saginaw in the State Class C quarterfinal played in the huge Industrial Mutual Association auditorium.

It was the first defeat suffered by the Flyers, who had swept to six straight victories while capturing the Harper Woods District and the Pontiac Regional cage titles to vault into the Class C title contention in the annual State tourney.

Was Strange Affair
The St. Mary game was a strange affair that had most of the reporters and officials at the press table shaking their heads. Throughout the entire first two periods and three and one half minutes into the third period the referees, George Gary of Pontiac and George Mason of Clio, failed to call a single foul (personal or technical), against the Saginaw quintet. It seemed almost fantastic that two supposedly competent officials could miss glaring rule violations for more than 19 minutes of championship competition. During this time they called eight personal and one technical fouls against the Flyers.

Amazing Accuracy
In the meantime the St. Mary quintet rattled the Flyers basket with unbelievable accuracy and piled up a commanding 39 to 18 lead at the halftime intermission. The unofficial shot chart for the Saginaw quintet gave St. Mary an amazing 74 percentage. Even college and professional quintets don't equal this percentage.

Coach Lauer and the many St. Paul fans admitted that their Flyers couldn't win against shooting like that. There is no denying St. Mary's was the better team in this contest. However, Coach Lauer was positive his team could turn the tables if the Flyers could have another crack at the team from Saginaw.

Basis of Reasoning
St. Mary carried a 64 point average, compiled in six previous games, into the quarterfinals. He based his opinion on the fact his quintet hadn't been schooled in a man to man defense and it was too late to switch from the zone defense, used all year by the Flyers, after the game got underway.

Denny Troester paced the winners with 18 points, which gave him individual scoring honors of the night. Glen Walters paced the Flyers' attack with 15 points for runner-up honors. However, Walters wasn't the star of the St. Paul quintet. It was Bob Louwers, who took over for Jim Ayrault late in the second period.

Louwers Changes Picture
Louwers notched 13 points for third place in the scoring race and it wasn't until after Bob entered the game that the Flyers began retrieving its share of the rebounds off both backboards, which incidentally were made of glass and very poor. Every time the ball bounced against them they wobbled on their pipe frames making it difficult for both teams to tap in rebound shots.

After the game one cuted loyal little St. Paul girl offered condolences and congratulations to Coach Lauer by saying "Our team played a good game and it was too bad we lost but they won two trophies for us (the District and Regional), and this is the best any St. Paul team has ever done."

On the ride home the coach's wife confessed she was glad the basketball season was over because "Now, I can get a good nights sleep. That's something I haven't enjoyed since Ed and the team started battling for basketball honors last December." I guess the pressure of championship competition effects more people than most of us realize.

Only once in the history of the State cage tournament has a Grosse Pointe team progressed further than the Flyers did. Grosse Pointe High, under the leadership of coach Bill Healey, succeeded in reaching the semifinals only to lose out. That is one game further than the Flyers went.

Father Lenk Confident
Father LaSalle Lenk, St. Paul athletic director who sat on the Flyers' bench throughout the crushing defeat, consoled his boys and said "There is always another year and we'll be back and next time we will go all the way." It was Father Lenk who arranged for transportation for three bus loads of students and adults who followed the team and saw Captain Tim Champine, Glen Walters and Bob Barrett play their last game for the school on Grosse Pointe boulevard.

From this corner we congratulate every member of the Flyers' team, Coach Ed Lauer and the school officials who helped bring so many basketball honors to our community. You all were great and even in defeat the Pointe considers you all true champions and sportsmen.

Cadet James Wallace Wins Letter at Culver

Cadet James Wallace of Grosse Pointe Parke, has been awarded a varsity letter at Culver (Ind.) Military Academy for his work on this year's undefeated cadet swimming team.

With five straight wins over leading Indiana high school swimming teams, the Culver tankers completed the Academy's second undefeated season in three years. The Academy team was undefeated in 1951 and previous to that they had not had an undefeated season since 1944.

Cadet Wallace is the son of Newell B. Wallace, 1033 Kensington road, and is a sophomore in the Cavalry ROTC organization at Culver.

Rex and Betty Pulford will be missing from the L class competition this summer according to secretary Tom Hansen. He says the Pulfords sold "Southwind" to a skipper up in Bay City, Michigan. This reduces the L class fleet to 15.

St. Paul Flyer Girls Champions for Fifth Time

has annexed its fifth consecutive division championship and first time in the history of the school that any team CAPRA HEALY, JOYCE ZEMPER, JOAN HEIDT, NANCY ARBARA ANTI. Second row: MARILYN D'HOOGHE, IN ROSE ANN BLONDELL, JOAN HOCK, MARY ELLEN ack row: MARGIE WADE, JOAN DUKES, LYNN VAN OTTE KLIEN, BARBARA STEIN, SANDRA KNACK and he Finney, Evelyn Piche, Barbara Wines and Josie Zimmers.

Flyers Honored By Service Club

The Grosse Pointe Optimist Inc., honored the St. Paul varsity basketball team at its weekly luncheon meeting at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial last Tuesday, March 24, under the direction of President A. J. O'Connor.

The service club members praised the team which won the Class C district and Regional championships before bowing out of the recently completed State Basketball Tournament in the quarterfinals held at Flint. President O'Connor pointed out that the Flyers were beaten in the quarterfinal contest by the team that went on to capture the State Class C crown.

Each of the 15 varsity players and student manager Paul Giest received gold basketball tie clasps and Coach Eddie Lauer was given a leather wallet provided by the Optimists.

Following the presentation the group was entertained with a movie of championship basketball games played in Madison Square Garden. Then the boys returned to classes.

President O'Connor told the boys about the newly formed Junior Optimist Club and invited them and their friends to join. The eligible age group is from 16 to 21.

It was the first time in memory that any organization had honored any Grosse Pointe team for championship efforts. When Grosse Pointe High captured the Border Cities League and Regional titles the community took it as a matter of course and nothing was done by any organization to honor the successful Blue Devil cage team. However, Chet Sampson did give those teams and the 1952-53 Blue Devil cage team a dinner in his own home.

Boat Banter

By Fred Rummels

First things first, we always say, so let's tie up the loose ends of the iceboating season, such as it was this year, and believe me it wasn't much around here. The local lads were forced to take their boats as far north as Houghton Lake to follow their favorite sport.

As the winter progressed they were able to move down to Cass Lake, just west of Detroit. That's where the DN-60 National regatta was held late in February and 31 boats from five clubs were on hand.

Members of the Detroit Ice Yacht Club carried off the first four places. Jack Moran won the regatta and was followed in the standings by Bill Sarns, Skip Boston and George Hendrie. Stewart Pond of the North Star Sail Club was the first outsider to place.

Johnny Jacobs, past commodore of the DIYC, informs us the 60 boys are jumping with joy over being accepted by the Northwest Y. C. as a member. The Northwest Y. C. is the granddaddy of all ice yacht clubs.

Following the regatta the DN boys held an organizational meeting and elected Bill Sarns as secretary. Delegates from each member club were selected to draw up the constitution and by-laws of the local class, to be voted on by all the members at a later date. The member clubs are Detroit Ice Y. C., North Star Sail Club, Anchor Bay Y. C., Cass Lake Y. C., and the Grand Rapids Y. C.

Information received about these fast little one design boats is that they can be built in about three weeks of spare time for a cost of $170. That includes a nylon sail. Cheap off $30 if you want a cotton sail. Interested "hard water" sailors can contact Bill Sarns in Mount Clemens, Michigan.

Bob Degowski, secretary of the DIYC, and Chuck Grant sold their E class boats to Harold Warshawer of Pewaukee, Wisconsin. Both will build new boats for the 1954 season. . . . Elmer Millenbach, designer of the Renegade class, captured his fifth straight national Renegade title.

The big Detroit River Lightning Squadron held its annual banquet at Edison Boat Club last Saturday, March 14, and needless to say it was a gala affair. When you get 56 boat owners together under one roof the boat talk flies thick and fast. That goes for the ties too.

Warren Jones, of Bayview Y. C., is the Squadron captain for 1953 and Jack Sickman, of Crescent, is secretary. The Detroit Squadron belongs to the DRYA as an association which makes it unnecessary for a Lightning owner to belong to a member club of the DRYA to be eligible to race in the weekly regattas or any regatta for that matter.

The local fleet is dropping in B division this year. It was a noble experiment to get more boats out to race but didn't pan out as expected. The boats that sailed in the B division couldn't use spinakers. This year all the boats will compete under the Lightning rules. Bert Jones will bring the fleet total to 57 when he completes his new boat, which will carry number 5115.

The Michigan District championship will be sailed on Saginaw Bay, under the sponsorship of the Saginaw Bay Y. C., August 25 and 26. The Lightning International was set for September 3, 4 and 5 and will be sailed at Port Albino, Ontario, with the Buffalo Canoe Club the host.

Detroit's Raven fleet, headed by Bayview's past commodore, Bob Kerr, is weighing the possibility of holding the 1953 Raven National series sometime late in August. At present it's a toss-up on one of three places, Detroit, Put-in-Bay or Sandusky, Ohio.

Two Teams Tied In Bowling Loop

By Fred Rummels

For the fifth straight week, the lead of the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League was changed again last Wednesday night.

The lead is now shared by Boutin's Service and Dr. Tuttle. Boutin's Service gained a tie for the lead when they bowled over Belding Cleaners for four points, while Dr. Tuttle was taking three points from Kennelly Catering.

Bruce Wigle Co. lost the lead when they failed to take a single point from Bankes Archt.

High individual games hit a new low when only nine games over 200 were registered. Fety led the list with a 231 game, followed by Boutin 225, Lawson 215, Gross 211, Beaugrand 208, Baker 207, Reid 201, and Heise and Neagle 200.

Records Broken By Doris Rock

Doris Rock, Grosse Pointe High's record-breaking mermaid, added new swimming laurels to her already long list of achievements when she cracked two of her own State records in the Michigan A.A.U. championships held at Michigan State College, Saturday, March 14.

Doris cracked her own 100-yard breaststroke 1:16.3, established in the same meet last year, with a sizzling 1:16.1 and then came back to break the 90-yard individual medley by shaving one and six-tenths seconds off the old mark of 1:04.1 which she set in 1952. The new standard for the event was written into the women's record book at 1:02.7.

Inter-Church Basketball Title Goes to St. James

St. James' vastly improved basketball team took the measure of Woods Presbyterian 39 to 30 last Thursday, March 19, and captured the 1952-53 Inter-Church League championship before a surprisingly big crowd of spectators at Grosse Pointe High.

A 13 point second period scoring spree was the turning point in the all important contest which gave St. James the Gray's Sports Shop perpetual championship trophy in its first year in the League.

Paced by the Sachs brothers, Leonard and Gordon, who notched 11 and 8 point respectively, St. James jumped into a two point, 4 to 2, lead early in the first quarter, which it never relinquished to a determined Woods Presbyterian quintet paced by its star Dick Miller who annexed scoring honors with 12 points.

Excellent defensive strategy set up by Coach Bob Evans halted the Woods cagers in their tracks during the second period while the St. James scoring-guns boomed out a monotonous tattoo to give them a comfortable 21 to 8 advantage at the halftime intermission.

Turning Point
The big second quarter spurge proved to be the turning point in the contest. The Woods quintet was playing without the services of its coach, Don West, who was forced to miss the game because of illness.

Out scored in the third quarter, 11 to 8, St. James lead dwindled to 10 points and it held a 29 to 19 advantage going into the final stanza. At this point the Woods lost the services of its biggest scoring gun, Dick Miller, who became ill and had to leave the game.

With all the cards stacked against them the Woods cagers made a determined effort to pull the championship out of the fire and pulled to within four points of a tie with three minutes left to play. Trailing 33 to 29, Woods Presbyterian tried down court pressing tactics in an effort to rattle its opponents, but the strategy backfired when Dick Dilloway, Len Sachs and Bob Moreland pumped in five quick baskets to insure victory for St. James.

Besides winning the 1952-53 championship St. James also earned the right to hold the annual banquet, which according to John Wressell's mom, will be staged shortly after Easter. More about this later when everything is arranged.

Consolation Game
The preliminary consolation game between the Memorial Diesels and Christ Church Tigers was a dilly that had the fans standing and cheering right up to the final whistle. The Tigers won, 36 to 34.

Memorial, playing without one of its stars, Bruce Chambers, who had suffered a painful neck injury earlier in the day, staged a terrific fourth period rally which fell short by just two points.

Memorial jumped into a 9 to 6 first quarter lead and held a 14 to 12 margin at halftime. The Tigers came to life in the third period with a 17 point spurge to take a comfortable 29 to 15 lead going into the fourth period.

Staging a 21 point spurge paced by Dick Douglas the Diesels came roaring back and were on the verge of tying the game up in the last ten seconds, when the Tigers' Bill Leonard was fouled in a melee under the basket. Leonard promptly and calmly pumped in both charity tosses to tie the game and third place in the league's final standings.

Bill Squire paced the Tigers with 16 points for individual honors and his teammate Bill Leonard annexed 11 points for the second place scoring spot. Douglas led the Diesels' attack with 10 points, good for third place.

Now that the fourth Grosse Pointe Inter-Church League season has become history, I would like to take this opportunity to hand out orchids to the many people who made the 1952-53 season the big success it was.

First, orchids to Walter and Henry Collins who donated their valuable services in officiating the final two contests. Both these men are paid referees and work high school games during the winter months. Both offered their services free of charge and without any urging from the director.

Second, I wish to thank George Neirnick, Gordon Lindblom and Bill Beckinhuur who acted as assistant directors and did yoman service during the past season. Without their help the league could not have operated efficiently.

Grateful for Help
An ocean of thanks to the League commissioners Roland Gray, George Elworthy, Forrest Geary and Harold Husband for their support and assistance. Had it not been for these men the league would not have had a place to play. The Board of Education gave the Boys' gym at Grosse Pointe High to the league every Saturday morning free of charge.

Last and by no means I wish to thank the churches for supporting the league in grand fashion, and the boys who played the games for their wonderful sportsmanship which enabled the season to pass without a single disagreeable incident.

Thanks too, to the coaches who gave so much of their time to teach the boys the game.

You all were wonderful and made my job as league director a happy one during the past season.

See you all at the annual banquet.

Plans Started for Annual Better Fishing Contest

Plans for the 1953 National Better Fishing Program, sponsored by Better Fishing, Inc., are being formulated by the City, Farms and the Park, for boys and girls under 16 years of age.

To date, it is estimated that at least 448 cities and towns throughout the United States and its territories, will participate in the fifth annual summer fishing contest, under the auspices of local communities.

The Pointe communities taking part in this activity, will contribute about $75, which will go towards expenses of providing two grand prizes, consisting of rod, reel, line and lures.

Millions of boys and girls have enjoyed this fun while learning to fish, especially in the State of Michigan, where fishing licenses are granted only to those 17 years or older. The purpose of this contest is to permit competing enthusiasts the thrill of competitive fishing.

This educational, recreation activity is co-sponsored by local civic service organizations, sports clubs, veterans' posts and others interested in the welfare of youth.

Michael Collins of 204 Moross road, was national champion two years ago, for catching the largest and heaviest fresh water drumfish in the 12-year-old class.

Del Page of 770 Cadeux road, will be chairman of the affair for the City; Roland Gray of 432 Calvin, will act for the Farms; and David Beauvais of 14393 Piedmont will do the honors for the Park.

Though the actual date for the contest has not been set, the affair when it takes place, will be near the Farms Municipal Pier.

Slim Lead Held By DeRiemacker

Al Deriemacker's bowling team clung to a slim two point, 30 to 28, lead in the St. Paul Bowling League after the last maple had been spilled last Thursday, March 19.

Tromping hot on the heels of the leaders remained Lane Donovan's quintet which has ambitions of overhauling the leader in the final weeks of the season. The second half winner will qualify to meet Al Gouin's outfit for the season championship at the end of the season.

Al Gouin's team, winner of the first half of the season, currently is residing in 11th place and 13 points behind the loop leaders. However, Gouin isn't worried about the forthcoming championship match and said, "Threatening me with baseball bats won't do any good because I am immune to them." And then laughingly stated "the little woman has been using one on me for years."

That baseball bat reference came when Harry Furton's team used baseball bats to threaten the Gouin keggers in the first round of competition when "Skippy's" boys were real "hot". That night Furton's boys captured four points and pushed the skids under Gouin's outfit for the next three weeks, but they recovered enough poise to take the first round title.

Girls' Athletic Events Planned

A new summer program is now being organized at the Neighborhood Club. It will furnish an opportunity for Grosse Pointe girls who are interested in sports to go to the club one night a week and be able to join in organized games.

Volleyball, badminton, and tennis will be the three main sports. Softball will be considered. All the sports will be played outdoors, starting at 6:30.

The summer canteen will be sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Athletic Club. At the present time, G.P.A.C. is sponsoring the girls' volleyball league, and next winter plans to take charge of girls' basketball. Individual trophies are awarded to the winning team.

The club hopes to get the G.P.A.C. group started again since it was not active when teams playing under its name acquired new sponsors. Unlike the Midnet League which is furnished with uniforms, the G.P.A.C. teams have always had to stand on their own two feet.

Miss Masak, who heads the girls' sports, is very enthusiastic about this organization. She hopes to have at least 50 girls present at the first meeting April 16. Miss Masak emphasized the fact that it was an opportunity for those interested to plan a sports program for girls throughout the Pointe.

The sports will be played on a "round robin" basis, whereby each girl will get a turn at the different activities. In time they hope to sponsor playdays with nearby communities, as well as having small tennis or badminton tournaments within the group.

The main object of the summer canteen is to promote girls in sports in Grosse Pointe and to give them an opportunity to learn and improve their games. It will also provide good competition by playing against girls of one's own athletic ability.

Christian Science Lecture by Evelyn F. Heywood, C.S.B.

Given Under Auspices of the Tenth Church of Christ, Scientist, Detroit, Mich., March 8, 1953

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: The Law of Divine Intelligence to Man by Evelyn F. Heywood, C.S.B. of London, England

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, has defined intelligence in the following words (p. 469): "Intelligence is omniscience, omnipotence, and omnipresence. It is the primal and eternal quality of infinite Mind; that which is Principle—Life, Truth, and Love, named God."

If we accept the fact that God, who the Bible declares, "saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good" (Gen. 1:31), is the law of divine intelligence to His creation, then everything in His universe, including man, must be governed intelligently. Nonintelligence cannot exist where intelligence is in possession. The finite has no place in infinity.

The Inspiration Which Reveals God

In Job we read (32:8): "There is a spirit in man; and the inspiration of the Almighty gives them understanding." This spirit in man is that which reveals the presence and nature of God. The actual meaning of inspiration is breathing in; spiritually interpreted, it means an awakened spiritual sense. Without spiritual inspiration, the true life of man is not expressed. This comes only with the exercise of divine intelligence. What wonder that the wise man declared, "With all thy getting get understanding" (Prov. 4:7). This lecture is to set forth what spiritual inspiration or divine intelligence does for him who lets it take possession of his thought and so rule his life.

In Christian Science we learn that man is the idea, expression, or manifestation of Mind; God; that it is ignorance or false knowledge which accepts the theory of a man alternately intelligent and non-intelligent, harmonious and discordant, good and evil. Christ Jesus bore witness to spiritual dominion over evil in every aspect of his human experience. The basic explanation for the love and wisdom he manifested is to be understood as the result of his unerring and invariable conformity with the divine will. This might be summed up in a statement such as this by the Master: "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for the things which he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise" (John 5:19).

The Spiritual Cause As we perceive that the will of divine Love is omnipresent good, the assurance of this divine presence to deliver us from sickness and sorrow, the spiritual cause of all that is created and maintained is seen to be of God, and man to be one with it, then whatever does not emanate from this one cause must be acknowledged as without origin or intelligence. Any other seeming cause or effect is recognized as the unreal illusion of material sense. Its suppositional power, based on false premise and conclusion, is to be dealt with as all false knowledge must be dealt with by those who value and adhere to what is true. It must be replaced with what is actual and therefore real.

In Science and Health Mrs. Eddy writes (p. 313): "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause." Profound scholars and men of physical science have worked and sacrificed, dedicating their lives to delving "beneath the material surface of things," not in search of the spiritual, but of a material cause. Perceiving material effects, they have sought, along every channel of material learning and experiment, for causes which would alleviate ignorance and suffering. Nevertheless, while they have made great discoveries, while they have accumulated and disseminated knowledge, and while they frequently have willingly admitted that the fundamental cause of all remains unrevealed. They still stumble and feel their way amidst much darkness. But way amidst much darkness, the scientific man, Christ Jesus, found the spiritual cause of all reality; he uncovered the fallacy of so-called causes, separating the truth from the false he revealed. Truth, Christ Jesus looked to God, Mind, divine intelligence, and accepted no other direction.

A Mistaken Sense of Intelligence

The human mind has continued to regard understanding as connected with the brain; and, further, it has largely focused its ambition and industry on the imbibing and application of human knowledge. It has not turned to the divine direction and guidance in human affairs. In the Glossary of the Christian Science textbook (p. 588) we find the following interpretation of intelligence: "Substance; self-existent and eternal Mind; that which is never unconscious nor limited." All that is rightly termed intelligent, therefore, is conscious of good. In the spiritually scientific sense, consciousness of good is intelligence. All limitation is seen in the same sense to be nonintelligence, since Mind is limitless and is the Mind of man. With this interpretation of intelligence, the nonintelligence, is there not an added meaning to the words of Paul, "In due season we shall reap, if we faint not" (Gal. 6:9). Fainting is losing consciousness. As we maintain the consciousness of good, there will be no fainting, no faint-heartedness, but continuously the expression of that divine intelligence which, in its awareness of omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience, bears witness to the infinite Mind of the true God. Let us realize that there is only one Mind is ability lifted out of the realm of the mortal into the spiritual. The basic teaching of Christian Science is that Mind is God, all-power, all-essence, all-knowing, governing His idea, man, and the universe, and that he who accepts and makes practical this teaching does so in obedience to the words and acts of Christ Jesus.

The Human Evidence of Divine Intelligence

Mrs. Eddy tells us that "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe" (Science and Health, p. 313). This implies that he was the most divinely intelligent. He was also the most practical. He proved in human ways what he taught. There was nothing of the mystic, the doctrinaire, the recluse, about him. His purpose was twofold, and he gave the three years of his public life to its accomplishment. First, he aimed to teach men what is Truth; and, secondly, to show them how to prove it. His words were always accompanied by his deeds. Spiritually, he is spiritual knowledge and is the result of understanding. "I will come and dwell in me," said Jesus. "Be whole." "Thou art loosed from this iniquity. Be not afraid." Why should he say this? How could he prove it? He could say it because he knew that God is the only cause and creator. Spiritual sense had shown him that there is none other, and that its result is a spiritual man. He knew that he was a divine law, who obeyed it as wholly, as selflessly and consistently, as did Jesus, understood how to bring the power of the Christ to every situation that presented itself.

Divine Science Now Revealed

Divine Science, which Mrs. Eddy has given to this age, is the Science of Life; it is the exemplification of the allness of Mind, revealing the law of divine intelligence to humanity. How close, how intimate, Mrs. Eddy recognized her relationship with God to be, is evidenced in all she wrote and accomplished. After searching for God through years of suffering and invalidism, she found herself, as the result of a severe illness, that this was believed to be her deathbed. Spiritual light from the New Testament—from one of Jesus' miracles—brought her sudden healing. She arose and joined her household. Mrs. Eddy knew that this was what the human mind would term a miracle. To her, in her own words, it was the falling away. She was to bring to the world, as the result of her discovery, the understanding that the law of God is ever present and the Science of Christianity. The Science of her discovery of the spiritual laws of being and the greatness of her work in establishing the Christian Science movement throughout the world, bringing healing, redemption, enlightenment to mankind, are sufficient evidence of her enduring energy, wisdom, and love. She sought nothing for herself; she waited patiently, trusting on God, praying always that every step she took be in line with the divine will and purpose.

He who has proved, as many thousands have done and are doing, what Christian Science can do for him, in transforming his life, in teaching him how to know God, in healing, in regeneration, in deliverance from fear, is ready at all times to testify gratefully to what Mrs. Eddy has done for mankind. He rests assured that his majesty, the profound significance of her accomplishment on behalf of the human race, will become ever increasingly apparent in its influence upon the history of mankind.

Man's Heritage of Peace

Looking out upon the world today we cannot but be aware that universal peace born of righteousness, such as spiritual seers fore-saw, such as Jesus promised to his followers, is not yet made generally manifest in human thought. There is strife, individual and collective, among men and nations; there are fear and distrust in the minds of many as to what lies ahead; as to what thoughts of violence, tyranny, and hatred may evoke; as to what mortal invention and discovery may precipitate, in the hands of the reckless or irresponsible. Nevertheless, all down the ages comes the divine assurance of Isaiah, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee because he trusts in thee" (34:3). Jesus foresaw the evils which would befall mankind, "men's hearts failing them for fear" (Luke 21:26). But he saw also, and offered to his followers, the eternal remedy—peace and peace which is deeper and calmer, and underneath a deep-settled calm. Awakening to the world's great needs, with understanding, with compassion, with unselfed love, may we continually maintain within ourselves this deep-settled calm. As we do so, the troubled sea of mortal thinking will be seen as the unconsciousness of true intelligence; it will cease to disturb or to deceive. Above its turmoil we shall hear the voice of Truth, saying: "My peace I give unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid" (John 14:27).

However fierce and menacing, however near or far the conflict and strife of mortal thinking may appear to be, he who maintains the fact of man's at-oneness, or oneness with God, does not lose sight of spiritual being. Thus amidst the threatenings and predictions of evil, he neither warms nor retreats; he knows that everything which truly exists—all reality, permanence, and power—emanates from, is sustained and directed by God.

The Meaning of Prayer

Man, governed by God, by the light and might of divine intelligence, is conscious of the true meaning of prayer. He knows what prayer is, as it is taught in Christian Science. We find it set forth throughout the writings of Mrs. Eddy. Prayer, we learn, is the affirmation of the truth of being; it is the knowledge of spiritual being, and reliance upon the ever-presence of divine Love. Prayer is the understanding and the exercise of divine power on behalf of humanity; it is the preservation of thought in line with Principle, expressed in purity and integrity, in compassion and gentleness. Prayer which reflects the divine nature, no less in giving than in receiving, finds its motives an impulse in the heart of infinite Love, the purity and fragrance of spiritual inspiration; it reveals and demonstrates man's individuality, illumined by the intelligence which divine Mind imparts, upheld by divine Principle, uncompassed by divine Love. This individuality is radiant with the beauty, the harmony, of Soul, where peace reigns supreme; it expresses the strength and authority of Spirit, the eternal vigor and animus of Life, because in God, it reveals His eternal nature and thus reveals man, made in His likeness.

The Exercise of Divine Intelligence

To exercise divine intelligence in knowing what we are, is imperative. Belief will not give it to us. The intellectual, the learned, the brilliant, the talented, who do not plunge beneath the material surface of things, are not truly enlightened. Only the knowing of God and man brings right thinking, human testimony is demanding of us that we believe in the actuality of mortal phenomena. Often these demands appear as vested in the law, with tradition, custom, authority, law, necessity. On the basis of belief, they may appear irrefutable, inexorable. But he who knows the divine fact of what neither accepts nor submits to, neither accepts nor submits to, "Who or what is it that believes?" (Science and Health, p. 487.) This is one of the searching questions which we find in the Christian Science textbook. And the answer is given as follows in the author's words: "Spirit is all-knowing; this precludes the need of believing."

A student of Christian Science found himself afflicted with a discordant physical condition which was particularly trying, as it was on his face and therefore aroused much anxious comment and speculation amongst his associates, who asked continually whether he would not take steps to have medical treatment.

Then one day his employer entered his office. With him was a medical man. Looking at him searchingly, the latter at once began to describe the grave and perhaps fatal results of neglecting the condition from which he was suffering. As the Christian Scientist listened to the alarming predictions which were being voiced, he heard himself saying, "I do not believe that." And all at once it was as though he felt the rock of Truth beneath his feet. He did not believe what was being said, because Christian Science had taught him otherwise. It had taught him that knowing precludes the need of believing. The interview came to an end with his quiet assurance that the situation would be dealt with, not ignored, and he was once more alone.

The Law of Spirit

What Christ Jesus did has appeared mirrored in the life of the man who had been blind and by his beliefs in material sensation and evidence. But with the advent of Christian Science, men are learning to understand the spiritual, eternal law which lay back of the man's blindness, enabling him to heal sickness and destroy sin. Everywhere, and for each one, however fiercely the evidence of disease, sorrow, and of any other material condition, the presence of health, of happiness, of righteousness is here today as it was in Jesus' time. Thus it is that, in the understanding of God's true government, men and women have found, and are finding, that the iron gate opens, "opens of his own accord, and they are free."

The Christ-Mission

How few have been ready to accept that which has been revealed in the message of full salvation which Jesus taught and lived; how few have been able to even faintly to perceive the vast import to the whole world, throughout all time, of this coming of the Christ in the flesh. Is it apathy, indifference; is it ignorance of the priceless value of the divine ideal; is it resistance; is it fear of the demand to relinquish the indulgences, the habits, the practices of materiality, which begets such blindness of spiritual perception? Is it the argument of personal sense, which all through the ages has made men unwittingly choose bondage and darkness rather than freedom and light? Many of these states of thought must have been involved in the reluctance to recognize or acknowledge the mission of Christ Jesus, for human will and mortal desire have ever been loath to yield in their struggle for supremacy, however great the promise of spiritual reward. Nevertheless, then as always, he who was prepared to give up the material way of thinking and lay hold of the divine ideal found what alone could bring true satisfaction, security, and peace.

Mrs. Eddy has stated that the privilege of eternal quality of Mind is revealed today by the presence of the Christ are here to be intelligently acknowledged and demonstrated. In the Science of Christianity we see that man is not fallen; he is never vulnerable to sickness and sin, to loss, to failure, to destruction. He is not in a dangerous world with the prospect of a hypothetical heaven. He who reasons rightly does so from the evidence of Spirit, which belongs to time nor to space; where the unconscious and the limited are unknown; "God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him" (John 3:34). He who perceives this will not permit himself to outline or to qualify in human terms the quality of that gift.

God, the Mind of Man

A Christian Science practitioner was called to a house where the sufferer appeared to be in a state generally termed as out of her mind. It was a case of a disorderly brain, which would be medically diagnosed as insanity. Amidst so much that appeared distressing, fearful, and confusing in the patient and in the frightened attitude of the family, the practitioner opened the Christian Science textbook, and these words stood out as though they were the only ones on the page (p. 372): "Remember, brain is not mind." This was what she had to remember, that brain, the belief of matter-substance, is not the seat of intelligence, which is in God. She knew that the Mind of man, dependent upon no mortal laws, compressed within a time, expresses the order, the continuity, the divinity, which dwell in God. And then she remembered another passage in the textbook (p. 151): "The blood, heart, lungs, brain, etc., have nothing to do with Life, God. Every function of the real man is governed by the divine Mind." Quickly and uninterruptedly the seeming distress and agitation grew less. In a little while, that which had been so much remembered, the consciousness of the presence of divine Love, took possession of the situation, and health of mind and body was restored.

To remember that man is the idea of God, that he is never vulnerable to sickness and sin, to loss, to failure, to destruction, whatever the material testimony or argument; to know that God's law is the law of omnipresent good, this is to reflect true intelligence; this is to refuse to submit to or be intimidated by the material testimony or argument; this is to find and abide with the light and might which are man's. He who refuses to search below the material surface of things and find the spiritual cause which underlies the so-called causes and their effects. Only as we learn that cause is vested in divine Mind and nowhere else, do we build on foundations which cannot be removed. The great aim of the Christian Science, was to make this observation after many years of "profound study: "There is nothing in material science that reaches the origin of anything at all."

The Ever-presence of Intelligence

The understanding of the infinite and continuous availability of the law of divine intelligence to man, dawned for the most part slowly, but with a consciousness of freedom, it is to look to mortal intelligence for enlightenment, for reasoning, for judgment. Yet the child who is early taught that the divine Mind is available in every undertaking, replacing ignorance and uncertainty with clarity and decision, turns to it as naturally as the flower turns to the sun.

Expectation of disappointment, of failure, of opposition, how often these delay or paralyze the forward progress of progress. Let progress be the inherent right of each one; it is the prerogative of him who knows himself to be the son of God. While human knowledge and human ability may achieve results which for a time win admiration and applause of the world; yet they do not endure. Only progress born of spiritual apprehension does this.

Depressing one, exalting that which is based on the material sense of things, regarding it as the acme of achievement, must eventually end in what the writer of the book of Ecclesiastes perceived (Ecc. 1:2): "Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it, yet farther; though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it."

In every experience, at every turn, with regard to every decision, small or great, men need to know that they are governed by divine intelligence. They need it for their own affairs and immediate relationships; they need it no less urgently in their attitude towards and their useful participation in the affairs of the world, where dis-crepancy must bring enduring peace to men and nations. Only the finding of the spiritual cause will accomplish this. "No man," wrote Cleero, "was ever great without divine inspiration." If we accept these words to be true, we realize why Christ Jesus was not only the most scientific but the greatest man that ever trod the globe. And further, we see why it was that Job discerned it to be the inspiration of the Almighty which gives understanding.

He who perceives this will not permit himself to outline or to qualify in human terms the quality of that gift.

He who knows that the laws of health are spiritual laws, and that they are maintaining the universe and man in perfect order, is not in any doubt as to where cause or origin belong. He knows why Mind is all-knowing. He knows why Soul is divine consciousness, expressing God in His oneness and allness. He knows also why the "angels" and the "whatsoever which Jesus declared had been given him of the Father belong eternally to man. This knowledge is what Jesus called upon his followers to exemplify in individual spiritual living. In the Palmers we read that David, amidst much persecution and distress which threatened to overwhelm him, sought the divine Presence. He had believed his enemies were altogether too strong for him, "until, in his own words, 'I went into the sanctuary of God, then understood I their end'" (Ps. 73:17). Truly, David chose the only certain way, whereby he could intelligently and finally discern the unreality, the causelessness, of the error, and so be victorious over it.

As men set forth to deal with the problems and responsibilities which beset human existence, the ability to deal calmly and confidently with them will be present when they remember that the sanctuary of God is the presence of God and that His omnipresence, Arguments of incapacity, frustration, opposition, of sickness, sorrow, and fear may assail. The temptation may arise to grow weary, discouraged, fainthearted. Essential is it to preserve a hearty Non-Intelligence, thoughts which are unconscious of the all-power, presence, and knowledge of God, will perhaps tell us that this is not possible; will suggest that we listen to what is directing and offer in comfort, in advice, in relief. Be assured that the angels which ministered to the Master in the wilderness, because he refused any way but the way of Spirit, will not fail to lead us to him who follows his example and waits on God.

"Jesus' true and conscious being never left heaven for earth," Mrs. Eddy reminds us (No and No, p. 36). This is the consciousness of the Christ which can never become unconscious of God, which can never be robbed of the Mind which divinely and continuously equips and sustains its own idea.

He who perceives and maintains in consecrated thought or prayer his oneness with divine Principle will find that it is directing and preserving his affairs at all times, in all ways. "Behold," John wrote in the book of Revelation, "the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them and be their God." This new heaven and earth which appeared to John, this tabernacle of God with men, revealed to him that "God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain" (Rev. 21:3, 4). "When you read this," writes Mrs. Eddy (Science and Health, pp. 573, 574), "remember Jesus' words, 'the kingdom of God is within you,'" and she adds, "This spiritual consciousness is therefore a present possibility."

The writer of Ecclesiastes had beheld all the works of God, and then, in the light of the true meaning, he had seen the passing nature of all that is done under the sun. He had seen that though men labor in seeking for it, yet it is not to be found. He had beheld reality, the works of God, and there they had come to John centuries later, the realization that that which is of God, and therefore divinely created, replaces all that is materially conceived and brought forth. And this because, in the words of the Revelator, "The former things are passed away" (Rev. 21:4).

The law of divine intelligence, forever preserving and maintaining the truth of being, bringing order, harmony, health and freedom to those whose thoughts are governed and controlled by it, is here. Its availability depends wholly upon our recognition of and obedience to it. Would we prove its present reality, let us relinquish the former things and accept the new. The law of divine intelligence will be our law as we hold to its omnipresence, omniscience, and omnipotence. Rising to see what it is that is ours from God, and then taking possession of it, these words, written by her who gave Christian Science to the world, will be made evident in our lives, for we shall find that we are God-endeavored to prove them true.

Michiganians, Michiganese, Michigananders All the Same

Are they Michiganians, Michiganese or Michigananders who claim Michigan, originally Michiguma, as home?

Just such problems are faced by Albert H. Markwardt, University of Michigan professor of English, who for ten years has been conducting research on such words.

He says that the state got its name from Lake Michigan. Originally called Lake of the Illinois because of the Illinois Indians living on its banks, it was renamed Lake Michiguma, or "big water," by French explorers when the tribes moved away.

He points out that the state's citizens originally were called Michiganians or Michiganese. The latter name was used first in 1837 by a New York newspaper editor, who wrote in praise of the beauty of the "fair Michiganese" women in comparing them with Kentucky and Ohio residents.

The well-known term Michiganander probably was first brought to public notice in an 1848 speech by Abraham Lincoln in the House of Representatives, the professor says. At that time Lincoln was fighting the nomination of Michigan's Gen. Lewis Cass as the Democratic presidential candidate. Lincoln accused the Democrats of "dovetailing on to the great Michiganander."

Professor Markwardt believes that the term "Wolverine" for Michigan first started in the 1830's, along with the "Sucker" of Illinois and the "Badger" of Wisconsin. At the time, it probably was not a complimentary term. The wolverine was known to be stealthy and to possess a voracious appetite, he explains, reputedly just like the French trappers of the area, for whom the nickname was probably adopted.

These and other words peculiar to Michigan currently are being discussed by the professor in a series of broadcasts over the University's radio station, WUOM-FM.

1952 Was Year of Progress For Ford Motor Company

Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Company, today made the following year-end statement: "The story of Ford Motor Company in 1952 is a story of the pursuit of two major objectives simultaneously — one under a check-rein, the other under a spur. The demands of a nation bolstering its defenses and of the people of that nation striving for peaceful stability offered a challenge to our entire organization. We accomplished many of the difficult readjustments dictated by events of the previous year. Our efforts, primed for the long-awaited economy of free competition, were devoted in considerable degree to the necessities of war. Yet we continued to expand our civilian productive capacity while increasing our production for defense. The beginning of 1952 was noteworthy for us in at least one important respect. It signaled wide acceptance of the new Ford, Mercury, Lincoln passenger cars and Ford trucks that made important news in the automotive industry. Production was curtailed, however, by government controls and by a crippling strike in the steel industry. Even so, we were able to produce more than one million passenger cars and trucks and 82,000 tractors—as many as the National Production Authority would permit, but not enough to satisfy the demand. Sales value of our production for defense in 1952, exclusive of passenger cars and trucks for the military, was about 12 times as great as in the year before. The total value of all our defense business now on order is more than one-and-a-half billion dollars. The prospect that unit controls may be further relaxed or eliminated during 1953 is encouraging. It may mean that we can approach our post-war goal and still continue to serve the cause of freedom. This goal is to offer our customers improved products at lower cost in an atmosphere of full production and free competition. Such a situation would be a welcome event in the coming year, when we will observe the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Ford Motor Company. During 1952, our passenger car and truck production totaled about 1.25 million units. This compares with 1.5 million units in 1951 and with 1.9 million units in 1950. Although our production for civilian purposes declined in 1952, employment increased under the requirements of defense, and our payroll was about 100 million dollars larger than in 1951. The total number of hourly and salaried workers now employed by Ford is about 159,000 in the United States—the peak for 1952 and an increase of about 14,000 over the 1951 peak and a record number since World War II. The total payroll for hourly and salaried personnel combined was 726 million dollars in 1952, compared with 625 million dollars in 1951 and 582 million dollars in 1950.

The factors influencing this rise in total payroll were increased employment, increased wages and increased salaries. Ford energies directed toward the defense program have had these results: Production of reciprocating aircraft engines and the preparation under a contract to build J-57 jet engines at Chicago; completion of a Ford-owned plant at Wayne, Mich., part of which will be used to manufacture J-40 jet engine components; a Navy-owned assembly plant for the J-40 under construction at Romulus, Mich., to be operated by Ford; mass production of the 3.5-inch "bazooka" rocket; production of the Patton 48 tank; production of the 500-horsepower GAA medium tank engine originally designed and produced by Ford in World War II; creation of prototype models of a new quarter-ton utility vehicle; production of wings for the B-47 bomber; and experimental work on an automatic weapon. While meeting defense requirements, we have attempted, at the same time, to anticipate the peacetime needs of the future.

At the start of the year, automotive facilities programs exceeding 500 million dollars were under way. A majority of these were completed. At the end of the year, additional plans for new construction and for expansion and modernization of existing facilities were under consideration, awaiting the availability of materials and a let-up in building restrictions. Ford engineers continued their search for better ways of developing better products, with the knowledge that they will soon have a research and engineering center and scientific laboratories unsurpassed in the industry. Begun five years ago, work on this project is still continuing. In retrospect, we regard this record as noteworthy. We would have been proud of it in a normal year. That it was written in the turmoil of 1952 is sufficient assurance that 1953, with a greatly improved line of products and a more favorable national climate in which to do business, will not only mark another important milestone in our history—it will, we confidently hope, continue the new era of achievement for Ford Motor Company.

Lincoln Statue Given Institute

A bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln by the famous American sculptor Saint-Gaudens is among the most important of recent gifts to the Detroit Institute of Arts. This statue of the "Standing Lincoln" is a smaller cast of a portrait executed in heroic size for Lincoln Park in Chicago and unveiled there in 1887 and is considered by authorities to be the most famous and most satisfying of all statues of the great statesman. A replica stands in London facing the Houses of Parliament, the gift to the British in behalf of the American people from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Augustus Saint-Gaudens, the sculptor, had seen Lincoln twice in person and also used the life mask by Leonard Volk in creating the magnificent head for the statue. The statue is the gift of Mrs. Walter O. Briggs.

Many notable art works have been given the Institute by members of the Detroit Museum of Art Founders Society in the past year. Gifts for the year totaled $302,640.66, of which $99,672.91 was in cash and $202,967.75 in works of art. Among the art works added were a painting by Frans Hals, a notable 17th century Italian masterpiece by Gentileschi, a group of world-famed sculptures by the Italian master, Bernini, and many other important gifts of paintings, decorative arts and furniture. "Acquisitions have well accomplished our two aims of keeping our most notable sections in the fore and building sections where additional objects were needed," Institute Director, Dr. Edgar P. Richardson said. Additions to the collections of American paintings, sculpture and decorative arts have made this the most representative of any museum in the mid-west, the director said. The Institute was not only strengthened by important gifts in the past year, attendance at exhibits and educational programs totaled 513,619 visitors, an increase of 10 per cent over 1951.

Today's Fashions by Betty Rose

SOFT VARIATIONS BEGET A "NEW FEMININE LOOK" IN PARIS-INSPIRED FASHIONS FOR SPRING

Soft and romantic variations—pre-viewed here in an excitingly feminine duet of Betty Rose suits—dramatize Paris-inspired overtones of the theme melody for 1953 spring fashion. This spring, fashionable suits and coats achieve a soft and naturally feminine look. Expect it in all features which contribute to style. The slender silhouette. Pastels in color. Subdued surface interest in fabric. Pretty details. Midway will discover thrilling extras, too. The two Betty Rose suits shown here, for example, are Milium linen. This metal-insulated iridescent rayon taffeta lining is tailored into these budget-priced spring suits to provide the extra which labels them "Transeason"—season-spanning suits, impervious to the fickle springtime weather vane. The impression: A slim, flattering, buxom and elegant look. The advantages: Lightweight warmth on chilly days; cooler comfort when the sun shines. The flattering and feminine allure of the suit on the left is emphasized in each fashion facet of the garment: The longer skirt; the "pretty" details; sculptured curves in virgin wool boucle twist; popular spring colors of blue, pink, champagne and lime. Again, in the suit on the right, the style-conscious shopper will note simple and graceful detail which accents all that is easy and natural, all that is feminine. Again the long skirt, to emphasize the slender silhouette. There also is elegance in the fabric: Kanmak's virgin wool KaMaTwist. Popular colors are blue, spice, gold and pink.

Furniture Fashions

The low silhouette, which makes small rooms look larger, is the big furniture fashion news this year. These new low pieces—and it goes for living room tables as well as sofas and chairs—appear to occupy little room area but provide maximum seating and surface space.

Elementary School News

MASON SCHOOL The children in the second grades at Mason School became greatly interested in the way the U. S. Post Office is operated at the time Valentines were being exchanged.

During the study of the Post Office, the Grosse Pointe Department of Instruction of the Board of Education sent out to Mason a film entitled "The Mailman." This answered many of the children's questions.

Mrs. Jean Strachan's second grade group visited the new Grosse Pointe Branch Post Office and while there actually saw what happened to a letter which they had mailed to the principal of Mason School, Miss Tucker.

In two of the second grade rooms the children, with the parents' help, built post offices. Here they learned about stamps of all kinds and denominations, the cancelling of stamps, the duties of the postal workers, and the fun of receiving mail when children of these rooms exchanged letters.

"His Church—Its March." Reception of new members at both Services. 7:30 p.m. Chancel Choir will present an oratorio, "The Holy City" by A. R. Gaul. Dr. Vernon Fay will be guest baritone soloist. At the close of the service a reception will be held in the Church dining room honoring the new members received at the morning services.

Tuesday, March 31-4 p.m. Bluebird Group meeting. 4 p.m. Campfire Girls will meet.

Wednesday, April 1-4 p.m. Children's Choir rehearsal.

Thursday, April 2-10 a.m. 3 p.m. Women's Association Service Sewing Day. 7:45 p.m. Annual Maundy Thursday Communion Service.

DOG BITES BOY Maynard Wilkins, 7, of 2072 Anita, was treated at Receiving Hospital for a dog bite, Monday, March 16. The dog, which had been picked up by Woods police, in the Wilkin's neighborhood, is being held for a 10-day observation. The Board of Health was notified.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

The other evening a Pointe couple, who wish to remain nameless, were entertaining their out-of-town uncle... He's a pretty special uncle and they wanted everything to be especially nice for him...

He had confided there was nothing he liked better than a piping hot supper on a tray before the TV set... and then plenty of peace and quiet to enjoy his favorite programs... All day preparations went on in the household to affect just this climate for Unkie...

He arrived... and was settled in the most comfortable chair... and just as niece was about to carry his supper tray to him she heard an odd, whirring noise... In this day of the atom bomb a woman can't be too careful... she listened intently, set the tray down and took a fast turn around Uncle in the TV room... where the noise persisted.

Uncle watched neice's odd actions, and took his gaze from Arthur Godfrey long enough to enquire, "What's the matter? Smell something burning?"

"No," said niece, "I hear something. I'm afraid something's gone wrong with an electrical connection and we might have a fire."

Now husband and little daughter joined the mad search. Next they called Edison who obligingly sent out wagons and dozens of efficient repairmen. They could hear the whirring but couldn't find the source. Uncle would give an exasperated grunt every once in a while and warn them no matter what happened not to turn off the current that controlled the program he was watching.

Supper was ruined. A private electrician was called. Niece had used her smelling salts half a dozen times. She carried Uncle's cold and soggy tray to him, sat it down and said, "Uncle, where's your hearing aid tonight?"

"Dang thing's in my pocket. I can hear without it... if I'm not disturbed..."

Niece reached into his vest pocket... the whirring sound grew deafening. She turned the hearing aid off. The man returned to Edison. The private electrician went home.

Hours later, uncle was ready to go back to the club for the evening.

"Ever find out what was burning?" he inquired as he bid the little family goodnight.

PILFERINGS

Stop us if you've heard the one about the famous author who was autographing copies of his new book in a local department store.

One gentleman delighted him by bringing up not only his new book for signature but a reprint of two of his previous ones as well.

"My wife likes your stuff," remarked the gentleman apologetically, "so I thought I'd give her these signed copies for a birthday present."

"A surprise?" suggested the author.

"I'll say," agreed the customer, "She's expecting a Cadillac."

When the famous composer Shostakovich was looking forward to a trip to America as a guest of Koussevitsky and the Boston Symphony, in his thorough Russian way he studied English assiduously.

The door of his Russian home had a sign on it marked "Door." The curtains were labeled, "Curtains." Stalin's photograph, instead of his name, bore the inscription, "Picture." And at Shostakovich's table was a big placard that read, "I deeply appreciate your magnificent reception and am very sorry I am so late."

Mrs. Taylor thought the doctor was overcharging for seeing her son through a siege of measles.

"Don't forget," the doctor reminded her, "that I visited your son eleven times."

"But don't you forget," she countered, "that he infected the whole school."

Pointer of Interest

VIRGINIA HOELZLE OF UNIVERSITY PLACE

By Jane Schermerhorn

There have been an awful lot of changes at the Little Red School House since last you looked. Maybe then teacher wore shirtwaist and skirt, high button shoes and a pompadour.

Well, the teacher were thinking about... Miss Virginia Hoelzle... is so chic her students, seventh graders at Pierce Junior High, tell us she always looks as if she's going to keep a luncheon date with a best beau. Her dark hair is worn short and softly curled and her dark eyes sparkle and she's very pretty.

And while she's every bit as conscientious about correcting "papers" as the schoolmarm of yore, this modern teacher goes off on a Grand Tour every Summer vacation and has taken a whole library of colored slides and pictures of her travels.

Besides indulging her pet hobby... photography... her pictures of South America and Europe have proved helpful to her history students. She also teaches English and dramatics at Pierce. Junkies to Hawaii, the Canadian Rockies have been faithfully recorded on film and this summer as she cruises the Mediterranean her camera, naturally, will go with her.

This hobby got its start when Miss Hoelzle was a little girl. Eastman Kodak, celebrating an anniversary, gave every child of a certain age, a small box camera as a gift.

"I was so delighted with a camera all my own that I started then taking pictures and guess I've just never given it up," Miss Hoelzle told us. Today, she uses a small candid camera, a Bolexy, originally made in Switzerland but now manufactured in the United States. It's the kind that is slung over the shoulder and long ago, ours photographer found a way to "wear" hers so that it's always ready for use.

Evidently there's nothing so frustrating to a photographer than a camera not ready and set when the big scene comes along. Miss Hoelzle's enthusiasm is so highly developed she belongs to the class that sticks its head out the bus window to catch the passing scene, should it enchant.

It was ten years ago the Pointer of Interest received her own diploma from University of Michigan. Before that she studied at Wittenberg College and Grosse Pointe High.

She majored in English and speech and later took graduate courses at University of Southern California with emphasis on history, social studies, and education.

When she was at Columbia she had opportunity to pursue another hobby — the theater. And now, she sees all we are offered in our comparatively skimpy season.

She even does something about a theater season of her own. Her students at Pierce present two evening performances, one in the Spring and one in the Autumn.

This week the pupils are trying-out for the one act play, "Elmer and The Love Bug" which will be given at Pierce Auditorium on May 1. At the same time, the eighth and ninth grade pupils of Mrs. Florence Miller will be seen in, "Ten Percent Tommy."

The two plays, for which pupils sell tickets, will swell the Student Association Fund. It helps finance the school's athletic activities, assembly programs, and the dramatic productions.

When Miss Hoelzle first started teaching, she worked at Grosse Pointe High School. While she enjoyed that she believes the enthusiasm, ideas, and interest of seventh graders makes her like teaching junior high best of all.

"They certainly keep me on my toes," she remarked of her students. During the war she worked in Washington in the code ofices, or Security Agency, of the Army Signal Corps. She was one of the workers trying to break enemy codes and trying to create new unbreakable ones for the United States.

Working on the Japanese codes proved fascinating to her although she does not speak the language. Still hush-hush, she could only tell us a mathematical system was used to break codes.

Then, before returning to Grosse Pointe, she served a stint as an editorial assistant in American Red Cross headquarters, also in Washington. The task she liked best, in connection with this work, was the directive she wrote to Red Cross field workers, overseas, in which the first instruction was given to American G.I.'s on steps to take to expedite bringing home with them their foreign-born war brides.

Miss Hoelzle, who looks like a co-ed today, guesses her own pupils are pretty sure she's a teacher.

Whenever there's an election in Grosse Pointe, her classroom is turned over to voters and Miss Hoelzle packs pupils and books off to another room.

During the last presidential election a group of small boys gathered outside the "voting room" and were very busy campaigning. They reminded Pointers to vote for "Ike" as they went in the room and pressed them with "Did you vote for Ike?" as they left.

The electioneering got pretty noisy and finally Miss Hoelzle felt it her duty to tell the boys they must move on and stop the noise.

It came back to her, staunch republican that she is, that all over junior high word was bruited about she was a democrat.

"She must have voted for Stevenson to make us stop boosting Ike," was the erroneous belief.

Special note to you soon to be brides.

The candid camera at a wedding has become a tradition of its own. Almost every average wedding today will have a photographic record. When anything becomes terribly popular, the wolves jump in to skim off the gravy. In photography more than anywhere else there is great opportunity for fraud and inability.

Where else, other than in medical practice, do you buy a product which you cannot inspect; in fact, purchase it before it is ever made?

Humorous reports reach me of flagrant misrepresentations and failure to produce even usable pictures. For your protection, look not only at samples in a studio, but ask for references and then investigate them. Don't listen to verbal high pressure, low dollar price quotations. Insist on a printed price list. Check it carefully for small extras which may be added later. If you have any problems regarding candid albums won't you please call TUxedo 1-0500. I'm sure we can help you.
