

Employers Plan Big Night For Employees Next Tuesday

The Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association announces the highlights of the Employee-Employer Dinner to be held Tuesday, May 25, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

On arriving at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, cars should be driven to the club entrance—complete arrangements have been made for their handling. The doorman will park cars and give tickets which owners will present to him upon leaving the club. It is not necessary for anyone to find a parking space nor to go for his car afterwards.

Upon entering the club guests will be greeted by the past presidents and their wives who will help with the checking of wraps and direct wives, sweethearts and feminine employees to the table where they may obtain their corsages, which are being provided for them by the 1952-53 Board of Directors.

The following very handsome members of the association will be on hand to present the corsages. Messrs. Ashton, McCarron and Shannon.

Close at hand will be several desks where guests will receive table numbers. As they ascend the grand staircase to the Main Ballroom, they will be greeted by the strains of Ella Mae's Trio and glamorous ushers who will escort them to tables.

After a superb dinner there will be greetings to employees and guests, the installation of officers, (which will take less than 15 minutes), then the awarding of wonderful prizes.

Wm. G. Stammen To Retire June 1

William G. Stammen, Park City Clerk, will retire June 1, after slightly more than 30 years of service to his city.

Mr. Stammen will retire under the Park's system which makes retirement mandatory when anyone in the city's service reaches 70 years of age.

He was born in Detroit, May 16, 1883, and was educated in the Detroit public schools. He took up residence in the Park 35 years ago, with his wife, Emma.

The Stammens, who live at 924 Barrington, have been married for 47 years, and have one son, Edward W., who with his wife, Mary, and two children live at 282 Lothrop.

Mr. Stammen began his career in the Park as a plumbing inspector in 1923; in 1937 he was made tax assessor.

He was deputy clerk under City Clerk Waldo J. Berns, whose unexpired term he filled, following the latter's death, December 31, 1938, and was elected city clerk in his own right in the 1939 election.

When the office of the clerk was discontinued as an elective position, subject to the approval of the mayor and council, he was given the job and has held it ever since.

He has been offered positions with two firms after his retirement which he said he will not consider until fall. This summer he plans to do needed work around his home.

"I have been very fortunate since I began working for the city," he said, "and I have moved right along. I have had my ups and downs, but that is to be expected. I will miss my work and all my associates."

March of Dimes Figures Revealed

The 1953 March of Dimes, held in Wayne County in January, was the most successful ever conducted in the 15 years since the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was founded. It was announced today by William R. Bernard, campaign chairman. The audited total reached $681,552 and of this amount $321,886 was raised in one hour by volunteers in the Mothers' March on Polio.

The Wayne County Chapter owed more than $300,000 for patient care at the year's end. The National Foundation's Epidemic Aid Fund showed a deficit of seven million dollars at the end of 1952—worst year of all time both in the number of polio cases reported and severity of the disease.

Tremendous success of the March of Dimes throughout the nation as well as locally ensures that children and adults alike may continue to look with confidence to their National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis when polio strikes, Bernard said.

Part of the money raised in Wayne County will be used to further scientific research which has made giant strides and now promises victory over poliomyelitis through the development of a vaccine. This vaccine is still in the testing stage and will not be available this year.

Expressing gratitude to "every man, woman and child in Wayne County," Bernard described the 1953 March of Dimes as a true community project in neighborliness and kindness. More volunteers worked harder than ever before, newspapers, radio and TV stations gave generous cooperation and the public response was wholehearted and voluntary.

Final returns from communities within the county, outside of Detroit, each of which conducted a March of Dimes under its own local chairman included: Grosse Pointe $2,461; Grosse Pointe Farms, $4,598; Grosse Pointe Park, $3,527; Grosse Pointe Woods and Shores, $5,671; Harper Woods, $4,942.

Friends of Library Close Season With Annual Dinner

The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library completed their seventh year of service to the library with the Annual Business Meeting and Dinner, Monday evening, May 18.

The program was held in the Community Room of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, 211 Moross road, and featured as guest speaker, Coulton Storm, Director of the Clements Library of the University of Michigan, whose topic was "Fakes, Forgeries, and Facsimiles."

Seated at the speaker's table with Mr. and Mrs. Storm were Charles A. Parcels, Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent R. De Petris, Miss Melitta E. Roemer, Mrs. Robert M. Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sarge, Rev. Hugh White, and Mrs. Helen H. Finster.

In the absence of the president, Mr. Parcels, vice-president, presided. In view of the publication of the annual report, reports of committees were dispensed with. Mr. Parcels gave a brief summary of the past year and plans for the coming year.

Following his introduction by Jay W. Sarge, program chairman of the Friends, Mr. Storm gave a most interesting and informative talk on rare books, and manuscripts, fakes, forgeries and facsimiles. Mr. Storm depicted the sorry introduction most people have to history and emphasized the contribution that libraries with carefully selected materials can offer in making history come alive.

Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker, founder and first president of the Friends, reported for the Nominating Committee. By unanimous vote, the following directors were elected for a period of three years: Lee Crooks, Vincent R. DePetris, Haldeman Finnie, Miss Melitta E. Roemer, and Mr. Sarge.

Other members of the Board of Directors are Marion K. Kellogg, Charles A. Parcels, Dr. Frank Pitt, Mrs. Russell Lucas, Dr. Alfred H. Whittaker, Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker, Mrs. Kenneth L. Moore, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford, Mrs. William J. Young, James W. Bushong, Bert Wicking, and Robert M. Orr.

Mr. Parcels closed the meeting by expressing his appreciation to those who had worked hard to make the Annual Meeting a success, and to the Friends membership of 650 who had enabled the organization to make such an excellent contribution to the Public Library during the past year.

Mr. Parcels said, "I am particularly proud of the dedication program and the reception for Mr. Breuer which the Friends sponsored. These, with the annual meeting, constitute highlights for the year." Following the meeting, the large and enthusiastic audience examined the exhibits which Mr. Storm had brought to illustrate his talk.

Tuesday Tea For Carmelites

Next Tuesday, from 2 until 6 o'clock, Mrs. Anthony Mot-schall of Lake Shore road, will open her beautiful lake front home and gardens to the members of the Auxiliary of the Discalced Carmelites and their friends.

The occasion is the Annual Donation Tea and Garden Party which this organization sponsors to help reduce the indebtedness on the new convent building at 16630 Wyoming Ave. When the Carmelite Nuns came to Detroit to establish a monastery in 1926, they temporarily occupied an eight room cottage on Burlington game avenue obtained through the help of the late Bishop Michael J. Gallagher.

These little Sisters who spend their lives in the cloister in prayer doing penance and performing good works were able through the help of friends and benefactors to move into a small monastery on Webb avenue in 1928. The community expanded to such proportions that the quarters were inadequate and the sisters were obliged to turn away applicants to the Order.

For the past ten years the Sisters have been looking forward to a new monastery and in 1952 with the aid of friends and the Auxiliary they moved into their new convent on Wyoming, happy but much in debt.

Mrs. Michael Kearsins is general chairman for this party. Assisting her as co-chairman is Mrs. Frank J. McGinnis. Mrs. Walter Bauman with the assistance of Mrs. Richard Rheauem, Mrs. Thomas Joyce, Mrs. Waldeman Sorenson took over the task of addressing invitations. Mrs. Daniel Tindall and her assistants are making arrangements for the tea table. Mrs. Frank Gorman is arranging for those pouring. Mrs. Claude Cruscoe and other board members will receive the guests. Publicity for the event is in charge of Mrs. Maurice James Mrs. Charles Culhane, and Mrs. Emmett Tracy.

The Rev. Father Clark officiated at the 11 a.m. double ring ceremony in St. Clare de Montefalco Church.

Four attendants garbed in waltz length frocks of blue lace, with brief shrug jackets in the same lace, attended the bride. On their heads they wore coronation tiaras of blue blossoms finished in brow veils. All carried baskets filled with delicately toned Spring flowers.

Mrs. Lawrence McShane as matron of honor wore a slightly deeper shade of blue in her gown. The bridesmaids were Sally Reynolds, Marlyn Brelaw, of East Chicago, Ill. and her bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Ralph Strutz of Menominee.

A floor length gown of lace and nylon robed the bride whose finger tip length illusion veil was secured by a crown of lace and pearls.

She carried a bouquet of stephanotis with a white orchid in the center.

Serving as best man was Jules J. Boudhuin of Kingsford College, former classmate of the bridegroom at College of Mining and Technology in Houghton. The ushers were Ralph Strutz and Blaine Schaczenski of Marinette, Wis.

Mrs. Banach's gown was short length pale blue lace with half hat of blue flowers. Mrs. Lemke was in poudre blue crepe pointed up with navy chapeau and navy accessories. Both mothers had corsages of rubrum lilies.

The wedding reception took place at the Stockholm following which the newlyweds left for a fortnight's motor trip through the West. When they drove off, the bride had changed to a light

Health Council Has Busy Year

By BILL GRANSE
H. S. Journalism Student

The last meeting of the current year was held by the Mother's Health Council at the War Memorial Building on Tuesday, May 19.

Annual reports showed that the accomplishments for the year included a fashion show staged at Parcels J. High School in September, which helped to support the Council project, dental fluoride treatments for all school children who desired them in grades 2, 5, and 8.

Donations were also made from this fund to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association and the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Center.

A total of 736 fluoride treatments were given at the fee of $5 to students in the public and parochial schools of Grosse Pointe, during school hours.

Assistance in this program was given the dentists by the Council delegates who set the programs up in each school and sometimes enlisted the help of room mothers.

The Mother's Health Council financed treatments for all needy cases and supplied one half the fee for the treatment of the children in the Protestant Children's Home.

Church Circus-Carnival to be Held Saturday

Looking intently at Ernest Hall, one of the "roving clowns" who will be at the St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church's Circus-Carnival, is MELINDA SEYLER, aged 3. Melinda, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Seyler of Balfour road, was the first baby to be baptized in the church.

The Circus-Carnival will be held on the church grounds at Lothrop and Chalfonte, on Saturday, May 23 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Acting as the "roving clowns" are the members of the St. Paul Usher's Club. And they will have charge of no less than the pony rides for the small fry.

Armond Voss of the Usher's Club and his committee members, Clarence Illsley, Robert Porret, Arthur Berns and Robert Brandau, are being very mysterious about a stall of novelties which the club will feature at the Carnival, they have named it "The Novelty."

To round out the fun for the children the Mother's Club of St. Paul, which is sponsoring the carnival, promises a lively puppet show, and has not forgotten balloons and popcorn.

The members cordially invite all their friends and families in the Pointe to come and have fun at their first fair.

On Saturday evening some of the girls will attend the theater and others will be in the "live" audiences at the big TV and radio shows. After church on Sunday they'll do Central Park, Harlem, the Cathedrals, Grant's Tomb.

On Monday the trip home begins. That night will be spent in Geneva, N. Y. and on Tuesday the girls will have lunch at Niagara Falls arriving in the Pointe by evening.

Mr. Sampson takes a staff of nine with him on this tour (which is using the largest fleet of station wagons ever to make a Sampson junket) and the gay travelers include Judy Westphal, Betty Sykes, Sharon Davis, Linda Larson, Susan Hays, Maralyn Winter, Vicky Vidal, Mary Lou

Suzie Hoffman in Party Whirl

The paths connecting Northside Detroit and the Pointe are bordered in orange blossoms as parties begin for one of June's most popular brides-elect, Suzanne Hoffman who'll be married to Jerome Courtney Earl June 24.

Suzie, daughter of the Arthur Hoffmans, lives on Covington drive w-a-y across town. The parties which will be given for her and her fiance will keep guests zig-zagging from the Pointe way to Bloomfield Hills and back again.

Last Saturday evening Josephine Scherer was hostess at a Country Club cocktail party and dinner for Suzie and Jerry. The guests stayed on for the regular Club dance.

Yesterday (Wednesday) Mrs. Henry T. Ewald of Iroquois avenue gave a family dinner party for the bridal couple and the next party will take guests out the Lake Shore to Oxford road on June 3 when Mrs. Raymond M. Whyte entertains at a luncheon and personal shower for Suzie.

It'll be a luncheon and kitchen shower on June 6 with Nancy McKenzie as hostess.

Jerry's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Earl, and the C. Hascall Blisses have issued invitations to a dinner dance at the Earls' home in Kenwood road on June 13 for the couple.

Guests will be Detroit Golf Club bound on June 16 when Beatrice Bard is hostess at a luncheon and recording shower for the bride-elect. Hostesses on June 17 at luncheon and a kitchen shower are to be Mrs. Bigham D. Eblen and Mrs. Clarence H. Batchelor of the Northside.

Party Honors Fund Raisers

Mrs. Edward A. Baumann, of Lochmoor boulevard, entertained six guests at luncheon Friday in Hawthorne House. They were members of Tuesday Musicale's Ways and Means Committee of which Mrs. Baumann has just completed a two year chairmanship.

This was the second luncheon Mrs. Baumann has given for women who sold four or more tables for the luncheon and card party held last month to benefit the Percy Jones Hospital Organ Fund (several of the guests had from ten to fifteen tables to their credit).

As a result the money thus raised, added to a similar fund from the Lansing Matinee Musicale, was sufficient for the purchase of an electric organ which will be dedicated at Percy Jones the last of this month—date to be announced.

Mrs. Baumann's financial report, given at the recent annual meeting of Tuesday Musicale, revealed that since last fall, her committee's total receipts for cultural and philanthropic projects amounted to $4676.65. This is the largest amount any Ways and Means Committee of Tuesday Musicale has ever raised.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

Short and to the Pointe

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerhorn

The Ernest Kanzlers... having made a full year of it... presenting daughter, Katrina to Society at a Venetian Ball which will long be remembered... and now preparing to take their places in the "bridegroom's family pew" at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, June 26 (when son Robert Hudson Kanzler and Judith Ann Frost are married)...

All Engagements Cancelled

For at least the feminine world, the ladies have stolen the show at Ford Motor Company's Golden Anniversary, currently being celebrated. The anniversary pictures being looked at twice are those in which the Feminine Fords appear. And lovely though the younger Ford Foursome (Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Henry II, Mrs. Walter Buhl, Mrs. William Clay) may be, the photogenic one is Mrs. Edsel Ford. Incidentally the wives of her three sons have taken a leaf from her "book", cancelling, for the time being, practically all their own personal engagements this busy year so they may be ready to dash to any of the four corners of the world to which their husbands are called, without upsetting board meetings, charity drives etc.

Well-Behaved Tulips

Saturday looked so gloomy, decided we'd wait until sunny Sunday to do the Garden Pilgrimage. We were tiptoeing through 8000 tulips at the Ray Whytes when the rains came which made it imperative to swim back to Grosse Pointe News foregoing the pleasure of the other picture gardens in the pilgrimage. But as the rain came down in buckets, well over a hundred visitors called at Whyte gardens, which are dazzling rain OR shine. Young Peter Whyte, who with brother, Tommy, was taking in the whole affair... watched attendants stroll through the gardens in the downpour. "Are those people all right?" he asked his parents... and he meant "a-l-r-i-g-h-t." Sterling Dockson (Missie D. was ticket-taker at the garden entrance) looked out over the rolling lawns with perfect borders of tulips arranged in blocks of color... puzzling just why the tulips were so well-behaved that a rebel pink or white one didn't pop up in the bed of deep purple variety... but that's one for the horticulturists... Trilium... dogwoods (like great trees of white spray orchids)... rhododendron about to burst into bloom... begonias... white violets... bougainvillea joined the tulips to delight pilgrims at the Whyte gardens... Mrs. Whyte, in a handsome charcoal suit, worried about her callers getting drenched... more than a few stopped in to admire the elegant new room the Whytes have just done... it's a glass-jalousied terrace (but by Steuben) with wheat and turquoise furniture and an assortment of beautiful baubles pointed up by an oval raspberry rug... and two walls are ready to reflect the sunlight in chalk white paper engraved in gold scroll...

Water-Resistant Chairman

Garden Pilgrimage Chairman Mrs. Alan P. Beebe made all the gardens... and could tour them in the rain... like a movie star... emerging in band-box shape... Even her natty navy trench (or drench) coat didn't seem to have a drop of rain on it...

Evening Ceremonies For Two Pointe Girls

Una Elaine Carstens Marries Winthrop Reed Cass at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Christ Church Scene of Rites Unitng Gladys Ostermann, Franklin J. Bogard

Wedding guests arrived at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Saturday evening for the 8 o'clock ceremony at which Una Elaine Carstens and Winthrop Cass Reed of Providence, R. I., spoke their nuptial vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Keath Carstens of Beaconsfield avenue and Mr. Reed's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Reed.

A chapel train distinguished the lovely bridal gown of Chantilly lace and silk tulle with which Una wore a Chantilly lace half hat. Her fingertip length veil was of silk illusion.

She carried a white taffeta Order of Rainbow Ritual which was marked with a white orchid and streamers of ivory.

The bride's membership in the Rainbow Girls gave motif to the taffeta frocks worn by her attendants. They were shaded in colors of the rainbow: aqua, pale green, yellow, pink, blue and orchid. All wore matching toned headbands of carnations and ivy and carried carnation bouquets.

Mrs. Keith Schneck was matron of honor with Shirley Pressel, Judy Roach and Carol DeKorse as bridesmaids; the bride's cousin, Shirley Ahrens as junior bridesmaid, and Nancy Cary was flower girl.

Mr. Reed was his son's best man and the groomsmen included the bride's brother, Norman Carstens, James DeKorse, Douglas Robertson and Ronald Hopkins.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carstens was in light blue taffeta chiffon over tulle with small blue velvet hat and purse. Her flowers were rubrum lilies.

The bridesgroom's mother chose a gown of navy lace with tiny white hat. She pinned a purple orchid to her purse.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained wedding guests at a reception in the church parlours.

When the young Reeds return from their wedding trip in Canada they will make their home in Providence.

For traveling, the bride donned a gray flannel suit with chapeau of mimosa straw and matching accessories.

Another evening wedding at the Pointe last Friday was the one which united Gladys Berry Ostermann, daughter of William R. Ostermann, of Fisher road, and the late Mrs. Ostermann, and Franklin J. Bogard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Bogard of Rathbone avenue.

Their marriage took place at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe and was followed by a reception at the Harmonie Society.

Chantilly lace over white satin fashioned the bridal robes and a short imported silk illusion veil frothed from a Juliet of lace. Gladys' bouquet was designed with white roses and centered by a white orchid.

Three shades of pink roses were used in bouquets carried by the attendants whose frocks were identical in mint green silk chiffon, waltz length with slim bodices and full skirts.

Betty Ostermann was her sister's maid of honor and Betty Gray and Rose Lietke were the bridesmaids.

Best man for his brother was Earl J. Bogard and seating the guests were another brother, James Bogard, and Leroy DeYoung.

For going away, Mrs. Bogard affected a beige suit with small matching hat in straw.

Dedication Ceremonies Held At Woods Community Club

The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, a community service made possible by contributions to United Foundation's Torch Drive, Sunday dedicated its enlarged building at 20883 Mack.

About 200 club members and representatives of cooperating agencies and civic organizations attended despite the downpour.

John A. Hammel, of 1874 Hunt Club drive, presided at the ceremonies as his first act as new president of the club's board of directors.

Mervyn A. Caskin of 731 S. Oxford, chairman of the building committee, presented the building after a prayer of invocation and dedication by the Rev. A. F. Rauth of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

The staff was presented by Mrs. Jane Constable, director, and guests were taken through the building.

A resolution adopted by the board of directors on May 12, expressing appreciation for contributions to the building by nearly 70 firms and individuals was read as part of the ceremonies. Altogether more than 400 persons had a part in enlarging the clubhouse from one to seven rooms.

One of the special features of the enlarged building is a shop room equipped by the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club.

Mrs. Constable, in the club's annual report, pointed out that the total cost of operating the club this year is $19,687. Of this amount, $18,331 comes from funds raised in last year's Torch Drive. The City of Grosse Pointe Woods provides $900 as its part in the jointly sponsored gym and recreation programs at Parcels and Mason Schools.

The remainder of the budget, she said, comes from membership fees and other donations.

Money and materials for construction of the building are not included in this figure. They were contributed by the community.

The club's activities include a junior program for children under 12 years and a junior high and high school program, family nights, and participation in city-wide activities.

Three family nights have been held at the club during the past year. They are usually made up of an entertainment put on by the children, square dancing by parents and children together, and refreshments.

The club participates in United Community Services, United Foundation, Detroit Federation of Settlements, and is a training center for the Wayne University Graduate School of Social Work. It cooperates closely with Grosse Pointe schools and Parent-Teachers' Associations. The City of Grosse Pointe Woods maintains the property on which the clubhouse is located.

In addition to Hammel, who was elected to succeed Marshall C. Jameson as president, the club elected Charles F. Rodgers of 1858 Lochmoor as first vice-president and Leon D. Ratcliffe of 1080 N. Oxford as second vice-president. Mrs. Harry N. Watson of 1512 Roslyn road, secretary, and Mrs. Jean Myers of 2008 Anita, treasurer, were reelected.

13 GPHS Students Receive Honor Awards from U. of M.

Regents-Alumni Honor Awards at the University of Michigan have been awarded to 13 Grosse Pointe students in Michigan high schools, it was announced May 20 by Erich A. Walter, dean of students and chairman of the Committee on University Scholarships.

Regents-Alumni Scholarships have been granted to 488 of the honor award winners. Only applicants who had qualified for an honor award were considered for a scholarship. The committee did not have enough funds available to award a scholarship to each honor award winner. Therefore, in selecting the scholarship recipients, the committee considered particularly the present financial need of each candidate as presented in the application form.

This is the second year that the Regents-Alumni Honor Awards have been made. They are in the form of certificates, designed to recognize outstanding high school seniors throughout the state who have been accepted for admission to the University of Michigan. Honor awards have no monetary value.

Eligibility for an award is based upon the following factors: (1) the record made in high school; (2) information provided by University alumni and other citizens of the community; (3) recommendations of the high school principal and teachers; and (4) results of the special aptitude test taken by candidate.

Regents-Alumni Scholarships have been awarded since 1945. They carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees and are renewable for the students' undergraduate program at the University, provided that the record made by the holder warrants a continuation of the privilege.

The University has notified each scholarship winner individually by mail and is not identifying the scholarship winners among the honor award recipients. Award winners were selected from 1248 applicants representing 309 high schools.

Work of high school officials and University of Michigan alumni clubs throughout the state in helping to select award winners was of invaluable assistance to the committee, Dean Walter declared.

Students of Grosse Pointe High School who received the awards include: Richard Davies Anslow, 286 Kenwood court; Philip Watson Beach, 281 Kenwood court; William Bruce Coleman, 1263 Hampton road; Frances Margaret Crowley, 39 Fisher road; Carol Lee deBruin, 1261 Harvard road; Barbara Leslie Eyre, 2158 Hawthorne; Jane Carolyn Hester, 1161 Balfour road; Cynthia Hobart, 1731 Littlestone; Nancy MacDonald, 53 Radnor circle; Jeanne Charlotte Newell, 1883 Country Club drive; Frank Albert Rizzo, 1379 Berkshire; Karen Sue Temple, 184 Fisher road; Rena Delphine Walgenbach, 888 Barrington rd.

Because of the growth of the Grosse Pointe community and the subsequent increased enrollment in the public schools, the Grosse Pointe School Board has made some 50 appointments to the different faculties.

at exceptionally low prices

After thirteen years of successful business on East Jefferson Ave., our lease expired and we must vacate the premises by May 31, 1953. It seems unfortunate that we have to leave the present location, having accustomed our friends and customers to come to it almost without effort. However, our new location should prove just as convenient and just as suitable for our clientele.

It is necessary that we sell as much as possible from the present stock and start afresh with new selection in the new store. The stock consists of hundreds of choice pieces ranging from the smallest door mat to the largest practical room size, including both Persian and Chinese rugs of almost every conceivable pattern and color. You are sure to find what you like and need. Having spent forty-three years in the floor covering business in Michigan, it seems needless to dwell on the genuineness or bona fideness of this sale; yet I should tell you that real bargains and savings are awaiting you—not just a few dollars, but substantial reductions that make it worth your while.

Domestic carpets are selling at top dollar prices right now; therefore it would pay you to acquire that rug which you longed to own. Lo! These Many Years! Come in and see for yourself; it will pay you to do it. Bring your measurements with you.

Many Reasons Listed Why All Pointers Should Support Their Memorial Center

The Center is a magnificent piece of property with a handsome edifice. These could not be duplicated under two million dollars. This is a fitting War Memorial, but it is much more.

Pointers think first of their young people.

In a setting which few private clubs can duplicate, supervised and controlled activities free from the presence of liquor are open to all Pointers. On informal evenings, date aren't needed. Games, cards, T.V., dancing and jam sessions make the Center a good place to meet friends over coke and chips.

Frequent special dances (held on the terrace-by-the-lake in good weather) provide Big Nights for dates. Art classes, dancing recreation outdoors are always available to the kids.

The college crowd makes the Center their hub of activities when they're home at vacation time and for the Freshmen send-off each year.

The Center Club introduces the Pointes young business and professional people to each other and from social activities channels their interest to service projects.

The Neighbors Club for Pointe women welcomes newcomers and packs the Center calendar with programs of interest to women. These range from current affairs, travelogues and book reviews to musicals and child guidance.

The Garden Center including the Men's Garden Club maintains a Trial Garden and schedules weekly lectures on different phases of gardening.

A garden reference library is housed in the Center and a consultant is on hand three days a week to help Pointers with their backyard problems.

The Center provides a meeting place and activity for the Senior Ladies of the Pointe (those over 60 years of age). They in turn make many things for the Children's Hospital.

Men can join a sport car club, a men's chorus or a men's gardening club at the Center. Exchange, Kiwanis, Optimists and Rotary all make the Center their home.

The kitchen which feeds the service clubs, caters admirably to over a hundred other Pointe groups, serving in a first class manner over 20,000 meals, teas and refreshments a year.

University of Michigan Extension Courses are held at the Center each spring and fall. In between, outstanding lecturers and concert artists are brought to the Pointe by the Center.

Miss Fricker's Center School for Ballet is famous, as is the

The Grosse Pointe Artists' Association welcomes to the Center both young and old in their painting and sculpture classes.

The Grosse Pointe Community Theatre, meeting at the Center, welcomes adults interested in the theatre; the Simians take in their younger counterparts.

Veterans Groups and their auxiliaries always have a home at the Center and are urged to use the facilities. These groups frequently cooperate with the Center in helping to welcome and entertain the soldiers stationed in the Pointes.

Pier-Park Bonds Sold by Farms

The Farms council, at its regular meeting, Monday, May 18, accepted the joint bid of Shannon and Company, and Hornblower and Weeks, for the city's $500,000 pier-park improvement bonds.

Young Detective Recovers Bicycle

A 16-year-old Woods boy, was his own detective, Friday, May 8, when he recovered a bike alleged to have been stolen from in front of his house four days previously.

Edward Kredell of 2087 Ridgmont, told Woods police he had finished painting the frame of his bicycle with an undercoat of red paint, May 4, and had left it in front of his home. When he returned the bike was gone.

On May 7, he saw a 12-year-old girl riding a bike, which he recognized as his, west on Ridgmont, and when he tried to stop her, she pulled out a small pocket knife and cut the left sleeve of his jacket, he stated.

Nothing daunted, Edward followed the girl to her home, 21258 East Eight Mile road, Harper Woods, and then notified Woods police, who arrived to talk to the girl's mother, Mrs. Anna Short. She stated that the bike was found in a creek near her home by her children, who notified the Harper Woods police, and said they were told to keep the bicycle if no one claimed it.

Edward insisted that the bike was his, and to prove it, scratched the surface paint, and sure enough, the bottom paint was red. He took the bike home.

Spring Concert at Parcels Set for This Friday Night

The students of music at Parcels Junior High School will hold their annual Spring Concert in the school auditorium on May 22. Participating in the program will be the glee clubs and choruses, directed by Miss Fisher, and the band and orchestra conducted by Mr. McNew. The program will start at 8 o'clock.

The orchestra will play selections by Handel, Grofe, Schubert, and selections from operettas by Romberg and Herbert. The choral groups will sing a variety of songs, from early folk tunes to songs from popular shows.

The three student accompanists will be Judy Alliston, Catherine Steffik, and Marjorie Reins.

The big trouble today is that too many motorists believe that the right of way belongs to the one who gets there first.

Featured with the band will be a trumpet trio who call themselves the Three Jacks, Roy Krause, Eugene Gregory, and Lillian Kellogg.

Tickets will be available at 40 cents. All seats are reserved. It is hoped that a large audience will give encouragement and support to these young music enthusiasts.

Woods Church Women to Hear Presbyterian Society President

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will have a luncheon on May 27 at 12:45 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

The Mary Group, under the leadership of Mrs. Andrew Campbell, will be the hostess group. The dedication of the day will be made by Mrs. Arthur Juechenmeister. Two specially invited guests are Mrs. Bruce Fleming, the former president of the Detroit Presbyterian Society, and Mrs. Donald Zimmerman, the present president.

The guest speaker for the day will be Mrs. Charles B. Macdonell of Evanston, Illinois. Mrs. Macdonell is president of the Chicago Presbyterian Society. She will speak on "The Christian Family." She has served on the faculty of Presbyterian Summer Conference for 10 years, conducted a course at Macalester College and served on settlement house boards in Chicago.

Provisions have been made for a nursery for small children at the War Memorial.

Dearborn had 11 deaths from tuberculosis in 1952 while the remainder of Wayne County excluding Detroit had 48 deaths. Everyone over 15 years of age should have a chest examination regularly.

Kid Bits

By Nancy MacDonald

Campaign posters and slogans have been plentiful around Grosse Pointe High of late, as would-be politicians marshalled their forces together in spirited competition for school-wide elections to be held soon.

One such pre-election group got together Friday night, May 15, at the home of Nancy Seydler for one of those ever-popular poster-painting parties. Manned with paint-brush and paper were Betty Sykes, Sue Squire, Liz Mitchell, Nancy Venderbush, Pat Heinrich, Penny Schneider, Pat Orebaugh, Lou Hribar, Al Forrester, Hal Drinkhaus, Reese MacFarland, Chuck Mueller, Randy Fitch, Dave Balfour and loads of others.

Saturday, May 16, was the scene of a party at Phil Beach's, Carol deBruin and Don McCarty, Martha Slatin, and Jerry Gobel, Bee Burrows and Wayne Miller, Anne Leete and Skip Clark, Carole Siedel and David McKee, Marilyn McKee and Lee Scott, and Lee Scott and Terry Kuhn and Dick Anslow had loads of fun dancing that night. Phil's date was Diane Quinlan.

An open house was in session on May 16 at Josie Bensin's, and some of the kids seen there were Janet Wita, Jeremy Conway, Bill Irwin, Jerry Jaglowicz, Gail Climie, Mary Zambas, Margie Payne, Sally Rae, Bob Bevan, Marylou Koch, Sean, Razer, Dennis Berman, Calk McMann, Sandy Forsyth, Peggy Guinane, Dick Newkirk, Francene Clement, Barb Eisenhower, Patricia Bernest, Bill Cassel, Tony Morse, Nancy Clowe, Bob Stockwell and Barb Fisher.

You are never too old to have tuberculosis. A chest X-ray is the best method of determining that you have no abnormalities in your lungs. Have an examination regularly.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Troop 940 of Richard School held a tea and flag ceremony for their mothers April 30. It wasn't just any run-of-the-mill tea party... no, indeed! The girls made all of their refreshments themselves, going to the different homes to bake the cookies and mix the punch. "Then they put on the whole 'show' alone."

Their leader, Mrs. Louis Smith, after three and one half years of extensive training thought "it's now or never," so she just sat with the mothers and let the girls carry on alone.

Mrs. Smith isn't one to brag, but you could detect a note of sheer delight over the 'phone when she told how the girls went through their flag ceremony without one mistake, and, also, how well they served.

Now the girls are busy with "Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week." They'll even try washing the windows of Richard School. (A.F.L. Window Washers Union, pls. don't note).

The girls of Troop 940 are: Edith Hope, Janet Sue Kaler, Caroline Krebs, Barb Luss, Carol Massey, Marg. Quigley, Susan Sadler, Winnie Thomas, Carol Lee Stoner, Frances Vaughan, Mary Lee Wilcoxon, Lois Blackburn, Susie Cooper, Katie Collins, Kathy McDonald, Nancy Cowan, Susan Burgess, Martha Herdegen and Patricia Smith.

24 hour call. The standards of the American Red Cross are enforced for all waterfront activities. All counselors and campers must present a satisfactory record of medical and dental examination by a licensed doctor of medicine taken between June 1 and arrival at camp.

Services for the three major faiths, Catholic, Jewish and Protestant are held in camp. Girls may attend the Service of their faith.

The Girl Scouts of Troops 579, 325, 847 and 257 of St. Paul School, made a pilgrimage to Lansing, Michigan, by bus and private cars on Wednesday, April 29. The first stop was the Michigan State Police Post, where they were shown through the fingerprinting and identification bureau, the ballistics department and pistol range, the communications department and even the gymnasium with its magnificent swimming pool.

The girls and their leaders had lunch at the Michigan State College cafeteria and then went through the Michigan State Historical Museum. Arriving at the Capitol at 2 o'clock they each met and shook hands with the Governor and were shown through his offices.

Then after being seated in the gallery of the Senate and listening to some very active debate on various bills, they were introduced from the floor of the Senate by Senator Harold M. Ryan. The Senator asked the girls if they would like to receive the American Flag which is now flying over the Capitol and is to be replaced soon and, of course, all agreed that it would be a signal honor for St. Paul's school to own such a treasure.

They were conducted all through the Capitol building and the various departments were explained to them.

The girls on the trip were: Troops 579: Susan Becker, Maryann DeMeulenaere, Kathleen Eagan, Rosemary Floer, Patricia Foster, Susan Foster, Peggy Mason, Patricia McCormick, Patricia McKillop, Jean Montpetit, Nancy Schick, Christine Schulte, Mary Elizabeth Schulte, Mary Sepic, Sally Thorn, Sherryl Walters and Nancy Westrick.

Troop 325—Carol Messacor, Lois Letscher, Barbara Guerrero, Mary Kotscher, Mary Lou Crowther, Ewa Fuger, Claire Huebner, Patricia Kalphoff, Louise Wilson, Suzanne Schreiber, Dolores Cox, Patty Baker, Susie Simmerer, Ann Stone, Annette Urso, Ellen Houlihan and Diane Gunner.

Troop 847—Marietta de Navarre, Judith Desmet, RoseMarie DiLaura, Patricia Dingeman, Kathleen Geymann, Jeanne Jarrett, Carol Johnson, Barbara Kolodziejski, Patricia Meldrum, Theresa Perrino, Allison Shick, Mary Jo Schlaff, Margaret Rumora, Natalie Schulte and Martha Simerer.

Troop 257—Sally Brovarney, Jane Cable, Mary Campau, Margaret Crowther, Valerie Diem, Sharon Devos, Joan Follmer, Virginia Ghesquiere, Angela Guerrero, Grace Marie Huettelman, Diane Kasper, Karen Koerber, Marie McLaughlin, Frances Randazzo, Susan Roehl, Lucette Vincent and Mary Jean Yaklin.

The leaders who accompanied the girls were, Mrs. John Huetteman, Jr., Mrs. John McCormick, Mrs. Emmett Eagan, Mrs. DeMeulenaere, Mrs. Fred Schreiber, Mrs. Edgar Huebner, Mrs. Joseph Cox, Mrs. Carl P. Roehl.

The food that I share with others is the food that nourishes me. Is the food that nourishes me. Well, it was a perfect weekend, April 22-24. The girls had an alpine hike (that's at night and all the girls hold onto a rope so they won't get lost). They also had a songfest and folk dancing.

Several more troops will be able to go week-end camping this next year because their leaders have taken the time to learn the whys and wherefores of camping at Metamora and Holly. The Campcraft course requires three full days of discussion and instruction in town, followed by a week-end at camp for on-site training.

The first week-end in May proved that the weather is not always sunny and beautiful, but that there is beauty in dripping oak trees and warmth in good companionship and that food cooked over glowing embers has a special flavor.

The graduated campercraters who enjoyed the week-end are Mrs. Nelson McLaughlin, Mrs. William T. Shealy, Mrs. W. F. Lancaster, Mrs. Gerald Connelly, Mrs. Don J. Goodrow, Mrs. F. J. Amus, Mrs. S. L. Drennan, Mrs. W. L. Quinn, Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt and Mrs. Charles Hubbard III.

Trainers on hand to help were Mrs. Harry Findlay, Miss Muriel Reams, Miss Elizabeth Wright and Mrs. Edward H. Kay.

Troop 898 is one of the new Intermediate Girl Scout Troop's at Maire School, so this spring the girls and their leader, Mrs. Marion Henderson, had their first camp out at Metamora. Great plans were made weeks in advance so that everything would be letter perfect—what to do if

Box Social Held By Newcomers

Using an old time gimmick the Box Social—for a means of getting new residents of this area better acquainted with their new friends, the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club held its Spring Box Supper and Card Party, Friday night, May 8, in Miller Hall. Mrs. Helen Evans is the Newcomers Club Social Chairman.

The men bid for the box supper in keeping with the regular custom of the old fashioned Box Social and plenty of fun was enjoyed by all who attended. The Spring Box Supper and Card Party Committee members were: Bill and Jane Williams, University place, Chairmen, Phyllis and Walter Greenholt, Country Club drive; Minerva and Irwin Kunerth, Harcourt drive; Sandy and Eph Smith, Washington road; and Dorothy and Jim Ely, Ridgeport road. The Grosse Pointe Newcomers is an organization of civic-minded Grosse Pointers who assist new residents of the area to become better acquainted with their new neighbors.

Trio to Receive Degree From Wellesley College
Miss Alice S. Coyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coyle of 27 Lochmoor boulevard, Grosse Pointe Shores, and Misses Mary S. Livingstone, daughter of Mrs. Wilkins Livingstone of 606 Lincoln road, and Elizabeth Waldbott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Waldbott of 1144 Balfour road, will be among the 355 candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree at Wellesley College's 75th annual commencement on Monday, June 15. Miss Coyle, a graduate of the Academy of Sacred Heart, has majored in political science. President this year of the Newman Club, she has previously been active in the social service and dramatic organizations and has served as an officer in her dormitory.

News Notes From D. U. S.

The 11th annual summer school conducted by the Detroit University and Grosse Pointe Country Day School will be held this year from June 22 through August 8. Earl L. Kimber is director. The two schools are very proud of the fine record of work accomplished in previous summer sessions, and the same experienced teachers who have taught in the past will comprise the staff again this year. The feeling is that the small classes and the opportunity for individual attention makes maximum achievement possible. Subject matter in grades 4 through 12 is taught. Opportunities exist for accelerating a student's scholastic program, for "strengthening" in difficult subjects, and for preparing for either boarding school or college requirements.

Monday, May 18, was definitely "Field Trip Day" for grades 10 through 12 at D.U.S. The Junior and Seniors went to Greenfield Village and Edison Institute on a visit directed by their history and science teachers. They had lunch at the Village, too. 10th graders under the guidance of Mrs. Wellington Grimes and Mr. H. Jack Geiken visited the Federal Reserve Bank and the Stock Exchange in Detroit.

"Tragedy" dogged this year's D.U.S. Field Day. Originally scheduled for Wednesday, May 13, it was cancelled when the weather bureau forecast a frost. Then on Thursday the forecasts were half-and-half, undecided; Miss Livingstone, who prepared for Wellesley at the Liggett School, has also majored in political science. She has served as chairman of the freshmen portrait directory and head of refreshments for Carousal, Wellesley's winter weekend, and has participated in sports, dramatics and the Service Organization. Miss Waldbott, a graduate of Grosse Pointe Country Day School, has majored in English. The Cosmopolitan and French clubs and the Wellesley chapter of the National Student Association have been among her extra-curricular interests.

Friday also was going to be just about the same, they said. So many events were lined up for the following week and so much reshuffling of the schedule would have been required that we though we'd cross our fingers and go ahead with Thursday. The boys got into their baseball suits and went out on a spirited exhibition. The various races—from "sack" to "75 yard unplimited"—began, and it looked as if we might get through our show, but with about a half-hour still to go the showers came, and moist but hardy spectators and participants withdrew to the snug warmth of D.U.S. Parents had some coffee in the dining room, and the boys went to the gym where they received their awards.

Over the last ten years we've had very good luck with the weather for Field Day, so sooner or later this had to happen. Mr. Kimber had planned everything in a most precise fashion, but the rain was not to be denied. (Friday, of course, turned out to be an ideal spring day, but no one knew that on Thursday.)

Among recent special assembly programs at D.U.S. have been two industry-sponsored shows that interested the boys very much. One was the General Motors Preview of Progress demonstration in which G. M. representatives staged a scientific show with examples of all kinds of recent experiments. The other, conducted by Mr. Herbert Bumpus of Grosse Pointe, was sponsored by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and presented a stageful of equipment that showed how radio waves, the coaxial cable, and related mysteries actually work.

On Wednesday, May 20, Mr. John Conley of the D.U.S. faculty was one of a group of four Detroiters to be made honorary members of Pi Delta Phi, the National French Honor Society, at the University of Detroit.

Mr. Conley has for three years been chairman of a group of French teachers who have sponsored monthly French language meetings open to the public.

Donations at the meetings have benefited the scholarship fund of the local chapter of the American Association of the Teachers of French.

Others to receive the award were Mr. Donat Gauthier, French Consular Agent at Detroit, Mrs. Rosina Roy of Highland Park High School, and Miss Hazel O'Donovan of Chadsey High School, Detroit.

The oral reading contests for both Upper and Lower Schools take place this year during the weeks of May 11 and May 18. Two representatives of each grade compete in three separate groups—Grades 4, 5, and 6; Grades 7, 8, and 9; and Grades 10, 11, and 12.

Boat Banter

By Fred Rummels

The C Class boys, under the sparkplugging of Jim Mog, are making a very definite effort to revive the once popular class for the 1953 season.

So far the C boat boys have held three meetings at Mog's home at 2529 Seminole avenue, and have another planned for May 26 just four days before the DYC regatta which opens the current season.

According to Mog there are 12 C's in this area with eight on Lake St. Clair, one unattached and three at Grosse Ile. Incidentally Earl Heldt was appointed Fleet Captain of the Grosse Ile fleet. The Detroit fleet hasn't selected its leader as yet but it is our guess they will give the job to Jim Mog as a gesture of appreciation for his work in re-organizing the class.

At the three previous meetings the C boys altered the Class by-laws which will now permit the use of L boat spinnakers which are 64 square feet larger than the present C boat spinnaker. Also the spinnakers will be flown in the conventional manner instead of behind the headstay like the C's used to do.

Probably the most famous C in these waters is the one owned by Mog. She is "Cayuse", formerly owned by that grand old gentleman Morrill Dunn who slipped his moorings and set sail for the sailors' Valhalla just a few short years ago. It was Mr. Dunn (everybody called him Mr.) who founded the famous North Channel race along with Joe Mattee III and Bill Nagel.

And it was Mr. Dunn who one year showed up at the starting line of the Little Club in a snow storm expecting to start the race only to find none of the other boys came out to play. Snorting with disgust at the softness of the present day sailors he tied his boat to the dock and proceeded to make a phone call to Bill Nagel (now vice commodore of Bayview). The conversation ended very abruptly amid some good sailors language. Nagel gently placed the receiver back on the hook after saying he didn't think it was wise to go sailing in a snow storm.

Mr. Dunn won that race by default because he was the only skipper at the starting line. But Mr. Dunn won more than his share of the North Channel and DRYA races. His record for the 67 mile "Poor Man's Mackinac Race" (North Channel) still stands and there is talk of changing the race slightly so the record can never be equalled or broken. Besides all of us who knew Mister Dunn don't want to erase his record.

One of the best and prettiest eight meter sloops left Detroit when her new owner, Norman Walsh, and his Canadian crew sailed her away from the Detroit Yacht Club bound for the Royal Canadian Yacht Club in Toronto, Ontario.

Undoubtedly Milt Cross had a tear in his eye as he watched his "Venture" slip gracefully out of sight down the Detroit River. Milt, one of the oldest active skippers in the Midwest, probably recalled fond memories of the ship he brought here six years ago and sailed to numerous victories in Great Lakes competition. However, Milt still has his pretty R boat "Ardette" to play with this summer.

With "Venture" joining the ever-expanding fleet of eights in Toronto it gives the RYC the distinction of having the largest eight meter fleet in the Midwest. The Detroit fleet of eights consists of "Pintail", "Shamrock" and "Thisbe". We can remember when the Detroit fleet was one of the hottest in the country.

All Eyes and Ears

By John S. Sweeney, III

A very impressive debut was had by the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus for its first annual spring concert in the auditorium of the Parcels Junior High School on May 14. Although the chorus is a newly organized group, it shows a remarkable degree of skill and a very high standard of singing.

Mr. Malcolm Johns has trained them diligently and carefully. He has a real gift for choral conducting, a thorough knowledge of music and the power to inspire.

The chorus sang with great firmness of attack, precision of release and faithful attention to note values, so often neglected by amateur choruses. And with it all, they sang with an infectious spirit of enthusiasm that was transmitted to everyone present.

The program was carefully chosen. The chorus opened with a rousing performance of "With a Voice of Singing," then "I Heard a Forest Praying," "No Man Is an Island," and "One World."

Mr. James Moore, bassoonist, and Mrs. Esther Behner Dickey, pianist, performed Telemann's Sonata in E Flat for Bassoon and Harpsichord, and Mr. Moore followed with a comic piece, "Rastus Ryan," which he played with wry humor.

The chorus continued with a sprightly version of "It's a Grand Night for Singing" and "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair." They sang next an arrangement by Gearhart of a movement entitled "Tears" from Rachmaninoff's First Suite for two pianos, and had the whole house chuckling with "The Deaf Old Woman."

Three young artists, Waltraut Warwell, violinist, William Leo Graham, cellist, and Milton Setzer, pianist, gave a fine performance of the first and Scherzo movements to Mendelssohn's D minor Trio.

The final group was by the chorus, which sang with great gusto "Country Style" (which they repeated after much applause) and "Sleep, Baby, Sleep," their only A Cappella number on the program. Then came "Russian Picnic" and a very beautiful performance of "You'll Never Walk Alone."

The applause was hearty, and the group sang a very appropriate encore, "A May Day Carol," by Deems Taylor.

The accompanists were Mrs. Elizabeth Sladen and Mrs. Esther Behner Dickey.

An interesting effect was provided by altering the stage lighting during the songs by the chorus to correspond with the mood of the music. Thus, when the piece began softly, the color would be a deep blue, and as the music grew louder, the color would become brighter, with more reds and whites.

The evening was an outstanding success in all respects, and we hope it is the first of many more to come.

Now that the record market is swamped with LP's, nobody ever mentions those relics of the past, the old-fashioned 78's. The truth is, however, that most record dealers still find their shelves well stocked with 78's, which they are only too happy to sell at cost, or even at a sacrifice. With a little scouting around, the music lover can find some really superb albums, which five years ago would make anyone prick up their ears, and which now can be had for next to nothing.

For example, at Jack O'Connor's in the village, hidden behind the counter and covered with dust, are the following:

Brigg Fair: An English Rhapsody by Delius, performed by Sir Thomas Beecham and the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra (Victor, DM 1206). Beecham is renowned for his interpretations of Delius, and his performance of this work, which was inspired by a Lincolnshire folk song, is tender and poetic. The outstanding recording gives him full justice.

Hindemith's Symphony, Matthias the Painter, performed by Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra (Victor, DM 854). Those of you who heard Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra perform this work in Detroit on April 29 will have a good idea of how excellent the performance is. The tempi, particularly in the first movement, are slightly faster than those of the Detroit performance, probably because he had to squeeze the symphony onto six sides. The recording is very good, but marred by occasional surface noise in the first few sides.

Symphony No. 4 of Mahler, performed by the New York Philharmonic and Bruno Walter (Columbia, Set MM 589). Walter, besides being one of the greatest conductors of our time, was Mahler's friend and disciple, and is the ideal exponent of his work. Needless to say, it is a profoundly beautiful performance. Desi Halban sings the soprano lines in the finale with purity and simplicity. The recording is excellent.

And last, but hardly least, is a priceless collection of songs by Marlene Dietrich (Decca Album 675). She sings off key better than anyone I know. The album contains such specialties as: "I've Been in Love Before," "You Go to My Head," "Falling in Love Again," etc., etc. And when you hear "You Do Something to Me," I think you will agree that the feeling is mutual.

Orville Aronson was unanimously elected to the post of fleet captain of the Detroit River Privateer Association last Thursday, May 14, at the annual Spring meeting of the Association. Your reported was unopposed for the secretary-treasurer's job because none of the other guys know how to type, I guess.

It is reported that Dave Sloss' new boat has arrived from Sweden and was placed on a flat car in Baltimore, Md., and is enroute here and should arrive any day now.

Sailmaker Meryl Amo dropped his pretty red Star boat "Moghawk" in the water last Saturday, May 16, and lo and behold, what do you suppose he hung on the spar—RED SAILS. What a picture it made even in the murky overcast that shrouded Lake St. Clair. Pretty good advertisement, too.

On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, at the Neighborhood Club, Pauline Masak and George Holley will give tennis lessons to anyone interested. Individual private lessons will be given upon request by calling the Neighborhood Club at TU. 5-4600.

GPAC will meet this evening, Thursday, May 21 at 7:15 o'clock at the Neighborhood Club. At this meeting plans will be made for a tennis match, or softball if preferred, with a near-by community. All girls interested in joining the club are welcome to come to this meeting.

Louise Lockeman, physical education instructor at Grosse Pointe High School, informs your reporter that the girls challenged the teachers last Monday, May 18 to a baseball game.

It seems that the students suffered a 10-8 defeat but really gave the teachers a hard time. At the end of the first inning the score read 10-3 in favor of the teachers. Muriel Kreski pitched for the faculty and Pat Patterson for the students.

Miss Karpinski, who played first base, was continuously complaining that everyone was always throwing things at her so she continuously dropped them (Them was the ball). One hero of the game was Mr. Fox who pounded a log home run into the football field. It seems that
