MOHAMMED MOSSADEGH, iron-willed premier of Iran, was swept out of office with a bloody and violent nine-hour coup that claimed at least 300 lives. Iran's king, Shah Reza Pahlavi, was forced to flee the country with his queen, when Mossadegh assumed virtual dictatorial powers. The uprising, which will return the Shah to his throne, was led by Maj. Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, who was named premier by the Shah just before he fled the country. Two of Mossadegh's henchmen, Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi and Col. Ezzatollah Montaz, were torn to pieces by an angry royalist mob. The premier escaped and his whereabouts are unknown.

Friday, August 21
THREE HUNDRED inmates of the Washington State Reformatory, in Monroe, Wash., rioted suddenly, setting fires to five buildings and a cell block. The riot broke out while most of the men were in the prison yard for a recreation period. State police from all Northwest Washington and police from four cities were summoned. The prisoners appeared sullen and stood by while firemen battled the fire. The Washington State National Guard was alerted.

CHAIRMAN COLE (R., N. Y.), of the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee, stated that in the atomic and hydrogen bomb development field, the United States is still far ahead. He said the Committee has been informed fully on the Soviet atomic test of August 12 involving both fission and thermonuclear reactions. Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission is in accord with keeping the public posted on developments as long as they do not compromise military information.

Sunday, August 23
AFTER A SHORT EXILE Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi returned in triumph to his Peacock throne in Iran. His subjects wept, shouted, flung themselves at his feet and offered sacrificial lambs. He returned to a throne from which he fled last Sunday after a bloody revolution overthrew his arch-enemy Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. When he was welcomed home by the new premier, General Fazollah Zahedi, who led the revolution, the Shah immediately asked to see Mossadegh. Former French classmates of the deposed premier wrote and asked the Iranian ruler to spare his life.

THE RUSSIANS signed a far-reaching treaty with the East German Communist Government, wherein the East Germans were given more sovereignty, food, raw materials and tangible production assets. Moscow also absolved them of all debt and war reparations and even promised to return some of the lesser war criminals held in Soviet jails. Western Germany viewed the pact with caution. They said it is so double-edged that it could eventually be used for a separate peace with a newly acquired satellite.

Tuesday, August 25
CHINA'S Peiping radio made the announcement that 400 Allied war prisoners refused to be repatriated despite Red efforts to "persuade" them to go home. The broadcast of the Communist radio confirmed reports from freed Allied prisoners that some refused to be returned because they had either embraced Communism or were afraid to return. Recently released soldiers stated that at least 135 Americans and British had chosen to stay behind.

THE STATE ATTORNEY general's office ruled that Michigan's lawmakers jumped the gun when they voted themselves social security benefits at taxpayers expense. The 1953 legislation appropriated $30,000 of the taxpayers money as an employer contribution to social security, with the stipulation they would add to it from then on from their salaries. The Attorney General ruled that this would amount to a decrease in the legislators' pay and therefore it was unconstitutional.

Top Prize Winners in Annual Fishing Rodeo

Champions were crowned Saturday when kids from the Park, City and Farms vied for fishing honors in the annual rodeo staged along the Lake Shore road seawall between the Farms pier and the Crescent Sail Yacht Club. Left to right are: Mary Liz Spueshai, Michael Carrier, Gary Hinz, Joyce Furton, George Measel and Cynthia Curtis.

Polio Cases In District Now Total 9

Only Two Reported in Pointe With Balance in Harper Woods Area

Nine cases of infantile paralysis had been reported in the Grosse Pointe - Harper Woods health district by this week, according to Dr. Thomas S. Davies, health commissioner. Only two of the cases were in the Pointe area, the other seven being in Harper Woods.

Four of the nine victims are 10 year-old children. One child in Harper Woods has died of the disease.

Baby Stricken
A 16-month-old girl and a 10-year-old boy are the Pointe victims, the little girl a resident of the Woods, the boy a resident of the Farms. Gamma globulin is given to all children and parents not over 30 years old, in the households which have been stricken with polio. Dr. Davies said he had been requested by a Harper Woods woman to administer gamma globulin to all the residents in one area there where four cases were concentrated. He pointed out that there is not enough available to do this.

Better Than Last Year
At this time last year there were 11 cases of polio in the Pointe and seven in Harper Woods. During all last year there were 24 cases in the Pointe and eight in Harper Woods. The first frost usually brings a sharp curtailment in the number of polio cases.

EFFECTIVE DISPLAY
An undetermined amount of damage was caused by flames and smoke at the Leidy Beauty Shop on Wednesday, August 19. Park firemen, called to the scene, used a high pressure fog spray on the fire which was contained to a window display. The fire was caused by a short circuit in the window neon sign.

Farms Receives $600 Break In Slip On Truck Appraisal

The Farms council was informed on Monday, August 24, that the city was $600 ahead in its purchase of a new dump truck from the International Harvester company. City Engineer Murray Smith told council members that an agent for the company had appraised a city truck for an estimate on its trade-in value, and offered $1,500 for it towards the purchase of a brand new truck worth $5,665.

When the bids were submitted, the International Harvester was the low bidder, offering to

Record 7800 to 7900 Pupils To Return to Public School Classes Thursday, Sept. 10

Parents of Children Not Now Enrolled Urged to Register Them During Week of August 31 to September 4

According to an announcement from Dr. James W. Bushong, Superintendent of Schools, all public schools in Grosse Pointe will open the new school year for pupils on Thursday morning, September 10. This will be a regular school day and all pupils will attend school a full session.

Parents of children who were not enrolled in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools last year are strongly urged to enroll such children between the hours of 1 and 3:30 during the week of August 31 to September 4. All school offices will be open during this time for this purpose. At this time, assignment will be made of the half-day which children will attend in Kindergarten.

Urge Early Enrollment
School officials pointed out that it is especially desirable for all pupils enrolling for the first time at the Junior and Senior High School levels to take advantage of this early enrollment period. For pupils at these levels, enrollment will be greatly facilitated if official transcripts of credit covering work completed in other schools are sent to the proper school office prior to the time of enrollment. Transcripts of credit are not necessary for new elementary pupils, but parents of elementary children should bring with them written evidence, such as a report card, of the child's proper grade placement. Lack of such evidence will seriously interfere with efficient and prompt enrollment of new pupils. Parents of new enrollees at all levels are urged to bring with them birth certificates as an essential record in the enrollment of their children.

Health Check Needed
The local school and health officials also urge parents to have their children given a careful physical examination prior to the opening of school. This is particularly desirable for all new pupils or for pupils who have had any serious illness during the summer. All schools as well as the Board of Education Offices will be glad to supply parents with a form on which the findings of such physical examinations may be recorded. These should be brought to school at the time of initial enrollment. Superintendent Bushong stated that all elementary schools will include Grades Kindergarten through Six with the following exceptions: The Vernier School will contain Grades Kindergarten through Fifth, and Sixth Grade pupils from the Vernier District will be transported to the Trombly School. The Mason School will contain Grades Kindergarten through

Water Sprinkling Law Disregarded

Farms residents are not adhering to the Water Sprinkling Ordinance of the city, according to City Clerk Harry Furton. The city's water pressure gauges show that the water pressure is at a dangerous low. This constitutes a fire hazard as the pressure must be up to a certain point to combat a blaze in the event of a fire. The ordinance states that even-numbered houses may sprinkle their lawns on even-numbered days, and odd-numbered homes on odd-numbered days.

Police Chief Walter Hoyt stated that his men will warn any person who violates the ordinance, and if this is not effective enough, he will instruct his men to issue tickets. There is a maximum of $25 fine for any person ticketed.

Annual Fish Rodeo Draws 300 Anglers

Kids Have Great Fun and Win Many Prizes in Annual Event on Lake Shore

Three hundred Pointe youngsters from the Park, City and Farms flipped fish lines into Lake St. Clair from the seawall along Lake Shore road between the Farms pier and Crescent Sail Y. C., last Saturday, August 22, to start the third annual Fishing Rodeo.

Just minutes after the first line had hit the water one small fry came trudging up to judges George Measel, City Police Chief Tom Trombly and Harold Beaupre to have his catch weighed and measured. Before the 10 a.m. deadline was reached 23 fish had come under the scrutiny of the judges.

George Measel Wins
Final tabulations showed George Measel, 905 Pemberton, had caught the largest fish, a 22½ inch northern pike. He got the boys' grand prize in the Park competition. Michael Carrier, 788 St. Clair topped the boys' division in the City with a 17 inch sheepshead, and Gary Hinz, 410 Roland Court, landed a 11½ black bass, which won for him in the Farms.

In the girls' division Mary Spueshai, 1230 Bishop, was the Park champion and Cynthia Curtis, 599 Lakeland, was best in the city. Joyce Furton, 59 Mapleton, walked off with top honors in the Farms contest.

The runners-up were Richard Ciaramitaro and Mary Measel in the Park, Louis Meyers, 776 Cadieux, and Jean Cook, 781 Lorraine, in the City, and Chuck Thorn and Ann Collins in the Farms.

Receive Fishing Equipment
The grand champions received complete fishing outfits which were donated by Better Fishing, Inc., of Chicago which provides

City Rezoning Plan Meets Opposition At Public Hearing

Majority of Residents Attending Gathering in Neighborhood Club Against Multiple Dwellings South of Jefferson

At least 120 residents of the City attended a public hearing held at the Neighborhood Club on Friday, August 21, to present their views on proposed changing of Ordinances 67-68, effecting rezoning of the Kercheval business district and the subdividing of plats south of E. Jefferson avenue to Lake St. Clair.

Most of the residents of the area embracing the section south of E. Jefferson, were present at the public hearing, which was held to gather data concerning acceptance or rejection of the City's proposed subdividing amendment, which would permit the construction of multiple dwellings and terrace-type buildings.

Calls Upon Riley
The first person called upon by Grosse Pointe City Clerk Norbert Neff, was Russell Riley of St. Louis, representative of Harland Bartholomew and Associates, city planners, of St. Louis, Mo., the firm engaged by the city late in 1952 to conduct a survey and report on the recommended future development of the area in question, and on that area which lies between E. Jefferson and Maumee.

Mr. Riley stated that the survey disclosed that the area lying between Jefferson and the lake was interesting and unusual and should be preserved as one of the most valuable areas of the community, as well as among the most desirable. He stressed that multiple dwellings on both sides of Jefferson would be more advantageous to the city, because no one wants to live in single dwellings along heavily travelled thoroughfares.

Sees Great Opportunity
He said owners of the properties have an unusual opportunity to develop and preserve the value of the area. John P. Frazer of 285 Washington road, voiced objection to the building of multiple dwellings and terraces on the properties in question, and pointed out that the city has gotten along without such dwellings for many years. He capped the City for paying $10,000, the cost of the survey, to the St. Louis firm, claiming the sum spent could better be used for the purpose of expanding fire-fighting facilities of the community.

More Opposition
Another south of Jefferson resident stated that the properties could be bought for construction of single dwellings without any trouble. He said that if the multiple dwellings went up, 375 families, numbering about 1,200 persons, would live in them and therefore constitute a burden to municipal services and existing schools. He went on record to state he opposed development of the area for multiple dwellings and was in favor of preserving the land for future single home building.

Mr. Frazer demanded to know why the survey was made in the first place, and Mr. Neff's answer was that several residents of the area interested in the future development had requested the survey on March 1, 1952, and so it was made.

Stand Causes Surprise
Mr. Frazer's objections to the erecting of multiple dwellings and terraces brought about comments of surprise. City records showed that he, as a builder, was the first in the community to build terraces, and several people wondered why he was against them now. When a resident asked Mr. Neff what effect the meeting will have in regard to the proposed amend-

Bicycle Safety Campaign Lauded by Judge Edwards

Probate Judge George Edwards, in charge of the Juvenile Division in a letter sent on Thursday, August 20, commended Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, for the important part he played in spearheading the bicycle safety campaign. "I read with interest the article that appeared in the Grosse Pointe News of July 23, 1953," wrote Judge Edwards, "in relation to the program you are sponsoring to enforce safe bicycle driving in your community." The judge stated he was in accord with the chief in that it is important for youngsters riding bikes not only to observe safety rules for their own protection, but to instill in themselves respect for the law. He added further that inasmuch as these youngsters will be driving cars within a few years, they cannot be impressed at too early an age with their responsibilities in the use of vehicles on public streets and highways.

Population Of District Now 53,518

Increase of 2,718 or 5.35 Percent Shown Over Count Made Last Year

The population of the area comprised in the Grosse Pointe School District is now in excess of 53,000. This was indicated in a report just issued by Dr. L. M. Bartlett, Director of Pupil Personnel for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, based on the annual school census taken last May.

To Convert Fisher Road To One-Way
According to Bartlett's report, the exact population of the entire school district as of last May was 53,518. This is an increase of 2,718 or 5.35 per cent over the 1952 population. The table given below shows the population for each of the municipal units included in the Grosse Pointe School District for May 1953 as well as comparable figures for 1952.

Biggest Growth in North
As has been true for the past several years, the greatest growth has taken place in the northern end of the school district. The fastest growing area is that portion of Harper Woods which is in the Grosse Pointe School District. This section increased 465 or 13.62 per cent in the one year period.

The next most rapidly growing area is Grosse Pointe Woods, which showed an increase of 1,211 or 8.88 per cent. The Farms showed an increase of 483 or 4.30 per cent. Grosse Pointe Shores showed an increase of 23 or 2.04 per cent, the City of Grosse Pointe, an increase of 101 or 1.54 per cent, and the Park, an increase of 435 or 2.93 per cent. Each of the past three years has shown the greatest increase over the previous year of any years for the past 20 year period. The increase in total population for the past three years has been 9,754.

12,574 of School Age
The number of children of school census age, that is, ages 5-19 inclusive, in 1953 was 12,574. This is an increase of 950 or 8.17 per cent over the May 1952 figures. The number of children under age five as of May 1953 increased 218 or 4.6 per cent over that of May 1952. The breakdown of the data for these ages according to elementary school census districts shows that the greatest gain over last year in terms of percentage for children from birth through four is in the Torrey Woods census district, which showed a gain of 33.0 per cent.

Roslyn District Next
The Roslyn census district showed the next largest gain with an increase of 13.3 per cent. In the age group 5-19, the greatest gain was in the Poupard census district with an increase of 20.6 per cent. The next largest gains were in the Torrey census district with an increase of 13.2 per cent, Roslyn census district, 12.6 per cent, and Monteith census district, 12.5 per cent.

According to this report there were 16,228 children from birth through 17 years of age. These ages include the pre-school through the senior high school age groups. Of this number, 4,928 or 30.4 per cent were in the pre-school age group, 6,959 or 42.9 per cent were in the elementary age group, 2,275 or 14.0 per cent were in the junior high school age group, and 2,038 or 12.7 per cent in the senior high school age group.

Many Coming Along
These facts are particularly significant as they show the great concentration of children at the younger ages who will be moving up through the school system in the next few years.

At the time the census was taken last May there were 15,629 completed residences in the school district. With a population of 53,518, this is an average of 3.42 persons per residence.

MISSING BIKE FOUND
Farms police recovered a bicycle belonging to Michael Mohn of 382 Hillcrest, Wednesday, August 19. The bike was reported missing from the Farms Municipal Pier on August 11.

CAR RADIO STOLEN
Joseph A. Dugan of 5093 W. Outer drive, Detroit, reported to Farms police on Wednesday, August 19, that someone had stolen his car radio while his vehicle was parked in the Grosse Pointe Club lot. The radio is valued at $90.

District now includes all of the area served by the Kerby and Richard Elementary School Districts as well as that of the Defer, Maire, and Trombly Elementary School Districts.

All Junior High School pupils new to the Grosse Pointe Public Schools in Grades Seven-B through Nine-A residing in the above described area should enroll at the Pierce Junior High School. Pupils now enrolled in the Brownell Junior High School will continue there throughout Junior High School.

Age Requirements
 Dr. Bushong's announcement also stated that under the present policies of the Board of Education, in order for children to be eligible to enroll in Kindergarten they must be five years of age on or before December 1 of the current school year, except that children who will be five years of age between December 2 and January 31 of the current school year, may at the request of their parents be given certain tests by the Department of Pupil Personnel of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools to determine the readiness of such children to enter Kindergarten.

Parents Notified
 Parents of all children of these ages who were listed on the May 1953 census have been informed of this policy by letter. Parents of children of these ages who did not receive such notification may make an appointment for testing by calling the Board of Education, TU. 5-2000, Extension 33.

School officials estimate that this year will see an all time record enrollment of 7800 to 7900 pupils. This will be an increase of 100 to 700 pupils over last year.

City Zoning Plan Opposed

 Mr. Neff explained that the meeting was held to gather the opinions of the people directly concerned and that these will be presented to the council, who have the final say as to whether the amendments will go through or not.

Mr. Neff called for a showing of hands, and those who opposed multiple dwellings and terrace-type buildings were clearly in the majority. After making a record of the count, he stated that the council will be notified of the opposition.

An amendment to Ordinance 68, regarding the rezoning of the Kercheval business district, also met with opposition, this time from residents on St. Clair, from Kercheval to Waterloo.

The amendment of this ordinance would permit the extension of business buildings, both north and south of Kercheval, between St. Clair and Notre Dame, by adding about 40 feet of business space to the present limits.

Merchants in the area, cramped for space, are seeking to add to their buildings, and in doing so, build a rear entrance that would be more attractive than that of the front, a sort of dual-front effect.

Willing to Pay
 Mr. Neff stated that expansion would mean higher taxes and more rent to the business men, but they, if permitted to expand, would gladly pay. The alternative, he continued, if business is not given a chance to grow, might force many of the merchants to move from the city to another community, which would bring a drop in tax revenue for the City.

A resident of St. Clair remarked that this would be good for business, but what about the area, and the value of their property and so on, and he was told that the business expansion and improvements will add and not detract from the value of property.

A request for showing of hands showed objection to the expansion and Mr. Neff said this, too, would be given to the council.

Several residents said if business wanted to expand so much, all the property on St. Clair from Kercheval to Waterloo should be purchased for that purpose.

The City Council held a meeting Tuesday night after receiving copies of a transcript of the entire proceedings of the Friday night meeting.

Recognizing the overwhelming opposition to the multiple dwelling plan for East Jefferson avenue, the council members voted unanimously not to establish any more zones for multiple dwellings there. The Riley report was adopted excepting for this recommendation. All of the land in question will now be reserved for single residences only.

The council then approved amending the ordinance having to do with the extension of the business districts on both sides of Kercheval, which will allow more business frontage on these side streets.

Police Arrest Tanked Teeners

Woods police called to Fairholme and Holiday to investigate a group of disorderly teenagers on Monday, August 24, arrived at the scene to find them in various stages of intoxication.

One, a 15-year-old girl, was so intoxicated she could not stand. When her companions, two boys and another girl, saw the police arrive, they boosted the fallen girl to her feet and tried to put her in their car which was at the curb.

The police arrested them and took them to the station, where under questioning it was admitted that one of the boys had a bottle of Scotch, partly full, and they consumed it among themselves. Then feeling that they wanted more to drink, they went into the basement of the home of one of the girls and took a bottle of rum from a recreation room bar and drank that.

The parents of the teenagers were called, and when tickets were issued they were permitted to take their children home. A court date is pending.

 top prizes each year to each community entered in the nationwide contest.

Each of the three cities in the contest donated to a general fund out of which scores of prizes were purchased and given to each and every youngster entered. Also provided were ice cream, hot dogs and soft drinks in abundance. An extra prize went to Billy Mauw, 91 Muir road, who caught himself with his fish hook. It was a consolation to the tearful Billy, but once he had the prize in his hot little fist the painful wound was soon forgotten.

The rodeo was open to the three Pointe youngsters of the three communities under 17 years old. Roland Gray, general chairman said the object of the rodeo was to teach the kids how to fish and have fun, mostly to have fun. Gray, Del Page, Jr. of the City and Dave Beauvais of the Park and their hard working committees made the third annual rodeo the grand success it was.

Simians' Play Opens Tonight

Stage and props will adorn the lawn-terrace of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center for the last time this summer when the Grosse Pointe Simians present Moss Hart's and George S. Kaufman's hilarious comedy, You Can't Take It With You, beginning tonight through Saturday.

The odd assortment of characters in the play includes Grandpa, played by Dick Tobin, who originates the title philosophy; his daughter, Emily Harding; a romantic couple, Lois Murphy and Neil Smith; two fire-works fixers, George deClaire and Dan Webb; a ballet student, Eilee Frizzell; the Russian teacher, Dick Saunders; and a stuffy Wall Street banker and his wife, Chuck Reno and Sharon Gates.

Others in the cast are Dan Leach, Joan Wozniak, Patricia Hosmer, Bert Spurrier, Don Kuhn, Ann Charbonneau, Ralph Lang and Don Freeman.

Directing is done by Don DeVries with Sharon Gates assisting. Stage manager is Sue Spurrier and Jo Garber is prompter.

Technical direction is by Bob Richardson; Bob Harbison, sets; Neil Smith, lighting; Patti Lee, make-up; Madeline de Ropp, props; Don Freeman, business manager; Peggy Harrigan, tickets; and Mary Carey, posters.

The Simians, now in its seventh year, is a group of high-school and college age young people who spend their summers working on plays. Proceeds this year go to the Cancer Fund.

In case of rain, ticket holders may come to the following evening's performance. If Saturday night is rained out a Sunday performance will be given.

Pelkey Honored On Retirement

In a simple ceremony, John Pelkey, retired Farms policeman, was presented with a resolution expressing the thanks of city officials and the community, and a gold retirement badge, by Mayor William Connolly on Monday, August 24.

Pelkey, who retired from the Farms police department earlier this month after 25 years of service, was paid tribute for his faithfulness to duty and being a good police officer.

Immediately following the ceremony, the retired policeman, escorted by Farms Police Chief Walter Hoyt and Fire Chief William Newport, left the council chambers to attend a party celebrating his retirement.

The affair was attended by personnel of the police and fire departments and the officials of the city.

Two separate purses, containing nominal sums, one each from the police and firemen, were presented to Pelkey at the affair.

Plan to Expand Big Shopping Center

The enlargement and completion of the Moross-Mack Shopping Center was announced by Saul Sloan, owner and developer of the project. The largest co-ordinated shopping center in Detroit, this development, located at the strategic corner of Moross road and Mack avenue, will service some 689,000 people within a radius of five miles of the center.

According to Mr. Sloan, the exceptionally rapid growth of the area has forced him to enlarge the shopping center to meet the needs of the expanded community. Stores are already occupied by the F. W. Woolworth Company, Kinsell Drug, Graysons, Boston Shoe, Wrigley's, Lloyd Davis Menswear, A & P Food Store, Wood's Drugs, Aristocrat Photo Shop, and Lochmoor Jeweler.

New units will make the Moross-Mack Center a unique one-stop and shop center in the Northeast section of the city. The following chain stores will be added to this development: J. C. Penney Company, department store; Lerner Shops; S. S. Kresge; a new and much larger Wrigley Market; Winkleman's largest unit; newest large Fred Sanders; Cotton Shops; Brous Millinery;

Nobil Shoe; Singer Sewing Machine Company; and other outstanding quality local and national tenants.

Adjacent to the development is the beautifully landscaped new modern St. John Hospital. Part of the development is set back from the street to afford front parking as part of the 2,500 car paved parking area which will serve the development.

Construction on the additional portion of the shopping center will commence within 90 days. Architect for the project is Louis Redstone.

Police Chief to Pick Jury Panel for Shores Hearings

The jury which will sit at the condemnation proceedings planned by the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores, is expected to be chosen at a session on the night of September 1 in the Shores Municipal Building.

The village, on the recommendation of its Planning Commission, wants to condemn a group of homes adjacent to the Municipal Building for the purpose of creating a civic center and additional recreation space in the shore road.

According to Thomas K. Jeffers, village superintendent, the construction of the new municipal sewer system is expected to open up the village for large scale developments. Under state law, it has not been possible for any new homes to be built in recent years, unless a complete sewer system was also constructed.

The residents have approved a bond issue to pay for the new sewer system and work on it will be started shortly.

Mr. Jeffers said the increased population will need added recreation space and it has been deemed advisable to acquire the property now.

The residents affected attended a public hearing on Tuesday night, August 18, and protested vigorously against having their homes taken from them. They have threatened to fight the move in the courts.

The jury will be selected from a panel of 24 residents, to be named by Acting Police Chief Fred Duemling, in his official capacity as marshal. Six can be eliminated from this panel by representatives of the affected parties, and six by representatives of the village. The remaining 12 will sit as the jury in the proceedings.

No definite date has been selected for the condemnation hearings to start.

No Farms Fires During July

The Farms Fire Department answered 22 calls last month, according to a report by Chief William H. Newport.

Nineteen emergency calls for ambulance and Ford were reported and one call to an outside community. Two false alarms were turned in. There were no fires.

Chief Newport reported 62 days of vacation taken by Farms firemen and six days of sick leave. The chief will attend the 80th Annual Conference of the International Association of Fire Chiefs to be held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, Canada, September 14 through 18.

Council Votes to Shine Up Park's Municipal Building

The Park council, at a meeting held on Monday, August 24, approved a bid to have the exterior of the Park Municipal Building restored and cleaned.

The Allied Building Service company, lowest of six bidders, was awarded a contract to clean and restore the exterior of the building at a cost of $4,480.

Another bid was approved, giving a contract to the Cadillac Asphalt Paving company to pave more than a mile of Park streets for the sum of $21,437.

The streets to be resurfaced are: Maryland avenue from Hampton road to Vernor Highway; Charlevoix avenue from the alley west of Lakepointe to the west city limits; ad Korte avenue from Westchester road to west city limits.

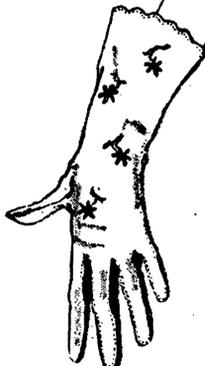

At the meeting, the council also accepted a petition bearing 47 names of residents living on Audubon, in which they protested the installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Audubon and Kercheval.

They claimed that installing of the lights would make their street as much a thoroughfare as Kercheval and traffic would be just as heavy. It was also stated that lights were already up at Mack, Charlevoix and Vernor Highway, intersecting at Audubon, and this created a safety hazard in that drivers were wont to speed to try and beat the lights.

The council tabled this matter for further study.

50 Years of Service

No one could have foreseen back in 1903 the Detroit we know today. That turn of the century period coincides with the beginning of the development of the automobile.

It coincides, too, with the Hornung idea of specializing in selecting and expert fitting of children's shoes. This idea was as startling in the field of merchandising as the horseless carriage was in transportation. A specialty shop for children's shoes was quite an innovation. It continues to be a valuable service to parents and to Detroiters of the future.

Luncheon Held At Boat Club

Aquatic activities set the theme for the monthly women's bridge luncheon at the Detroit Boat Club on Wednesday, August 18. Appropriately, a blue and white color scheme was used.

A large white sail boat surrounded by shells of various sizes and star fish rested on the fish-net covered foyer table. Throughout the various rooms of the clubhouse, arrangements of blue bachelor buttons in white shell containers further carried out the blue and white theme.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Edgar Martner, and including Mrs. William Rodgers, Mrs. Milton Rueger, Mrs. Lawrence Pace and Mrs. Arthur Schmidt, also used mounted sail fish, caught by a committee member in Florida waters, as part of the lobby decor.

The new blue and white awnings of the "side walk cafe" on the ground level tied in nicely with the party theme.

Luncheon was served on the balcony overlooking the blue and white pool, and some of the bridge and canasta games were played on the other verandahs of the clubhouse.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerhorn

Before you shut the suitcase lid down on the baby and take off for the pleasures of Labor Day, we should correct a rumor we quoted last week . . .

It evidently was wishful thinking on the part of pals who told us Emile Bischofberger would be taking over management of Les Gruber's new London East (opening before Christmas at the Punch and Judy Bar site) . . .

It isn't true . . . We caught up with Emile this week . . . only to find him simply distracted because he must make a choice between two entirely different and terribly wonderful new undertakings . . .

In one, everyone who likes good food could share . . . so naturally we're thumping for his nod on that one . . .

Such a master of cuisine . . . and one who understands all the subtlety of food perfectly served . . . should have the appreciation of a wide audience . . . and in this Sahara of decent restaurants . . . his public appearance is long past due . . .

An Edge on Cuisine

London East . . . Les Gruber tells us . . . will be quite English in tradition . . .

It will be open daily . . . including Sunday . . . from luncheon on . . . and while some of the decor will be English . . . there'll also be exotic brie-a-brac about . . .

With Al Green's maintaining its always high standards . . . Driscolls broiling those steaks just down the road a bit . . . and Little Harry's not too far for Pointers' . . . the East side seems to have the edge on our town's good restaurant-bar establishments . . .

Room for More

But there is still room for more fine restaurants . . . and, by the same token, there's much room for improvement in service . . .

The other day . . . filled with thoughts of Italy . . . some friends headed for an Italian restaurant . . . only to have the waiter ask, as they ordered, "Don't you know you're in Detroit?"

One look at the waiter . . . and they did . . .

He was just "a temporary", he said . . . really worked at another restaurant and was simply pinch-hitting for a friend on vacation . . .

"Food is much better over at the place where I work regularly," he confided while the poor, unsuspecting owner hummer contentedly in the next room . . .

Those who serve the food can make or break a restaurant even though the food may be ambrosian . . .

"Don't Eat the Eggs"

And while we're on the subject we're reminded of our visit to a bakery when we stood next to a lady who was buying some sweet rolls . . .

"I certainly hope they're better than they were last week. I've gotten sweet rolls here for twenty years but they aren't as good as they used to be."

The baker's little helper, plunked the sweet rolls in the paper box, and agreed.

"You know if they don't improve the baked goods around (Continued on Page 7)

Garland Wrights Sail On Caribbean Cruise

Former Mary Ellen Esper and Bridegroom Will Live in Fort Lauderdale After Caribbean Honeymoon; Bride Is Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Esper

Headed toward the Caribbean today are the newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Garland Porter Wright who spoke their wedding vows last Saturday at 11 o'clock in St. Clare of Montefalco Church.

Mrs. Wright was Mary Ellen Esper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Esper, of Whittier road, and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion A. Wright of Asheville, N. C.

There was a delicate pink background for the lovely August wedding. There was a center-aisle runner of pink satin at Montefalco; the wedding cake rose to delightful heights in pink icing at the breakfast reception; and on the Wrights' return from the Caribbean cruise, they'll live in a pink house at Fort Lauderdale.

The bride even chose pink for her wedding robes. Rose point lace over satin was toned to the delicate shade and formed the molded bodice which had bateau neckline. The frock's bouffant skirt was of nylon tulle with lace panel used in front and back.

Mary Ellen's fingertip length bridal veil, in plush pink silk illusion, was secured by cap of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart rosebuds and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Arthur J. Rhode was her niece's matron of honor and Jane Kay served as bridesmaid.

Both wore waltz length frocks of Dior blue taffeta with full skirts. On their heads were pink blossom coronets and their flowers were pink bebe mums.

Gordon Kay of New York City, was best man and the bridesmen included George French, Dr. Sherwood Moore and Frank Gerner, all of Fort Lauderdale; and Dr. Paul J. Hillebrand of Grosse Pointe, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Esper's pink silk opera length gown was distinguished by all-over embroidery and her flowers were gardenias.

The bride's parents were hosts at a breakfast reception at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club after the wedding.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. G. Russell French and Mr. and Mrs. W. Palmer Van Arsdale of Hillsboro Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Gordon Kay of New York City.

In the days preceding the wedding, the bride was widely feted here in the Pointe. Among parties in her honor were a shower given by Mrs. Clarence Edward Carroll of Bedford road;

Kuhn-Wood Wedding Solemnized in Pointe

Richard Donald Kuhn Claims Dorothy Wood of Indian Village as His Bride at Services in Grosse Pointe Memorial; Reception at Detroit Boat Club

A back-to-college wedding couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kuhn whose home will be Hanover, N.H. while the bridegroom completes post graduate studies at Dartmouth.

They were married last Friday afternoon at a 4 o'clock ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The bride was Dorothy Ann Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford C. Wood, of Seminole avenue, and Mr. Kuhn is the son of Mrs. Leo Warren Kuhn of Faircourt road and the late Mr. Wood.

Following the church ceremony, the bride's parents gave a reception at the Detroit Boat Club.

For her marriage, Dorothy chose white Chantilly lace over antique taffeta. The bodice had deep V neckline and was fashioned of lace while bustle-effects gave interest to the full skirt which swept into a cathedral length train.

A stylized lace bridal cloche held the waist length veil of imported silk illusion and Dorothy carried white orchids and staphanotis in her bouquet.

Mrs. William George Wood, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Francis Peck were matrons of honor.

Their gowns, of pale forest green silk taffeta, were set length with strapless bodices and matching shoulder shrugs. Their headbands repeated a thread of gold motif used in the bride's jewelry and they carried bouquets of gold and rust Fugi mums.

Dressed in the same fashion, but with headbands to match their frocks, were the bridesmaids: Nancy Ruedemann, Joanne Quandt, Patricia Tousecan, Molly Kerr, Alice Jane Hooker and Joan Dryden.

Assisting the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Donald Kuhn, and the guests were seated by Forman Johnston Jr., Edward Nicholson, Howard Kay, William Hamilton, Warren Babcock, William Wood, brother of the bride; and Tom Brandt.

A gown of gold shantung worn with brownish rosebuds and a gold and green chapeau was chosen by the bride's mother while Mrs. Kuhn's costume was aqua taffeta and bronze mums.

The new Mrs. Wood left on her wedding trip in a brown hat and matching accessories.

The Woods traveled to Lake Placid, N.Y. for their honeymoon and will go to their Hanover home from there.

Library Offers Films for Kids

The Public Library's Children's Program this week will feature three films. "The Woodthrush," in color, begins with nest building and continues with raising a family.

In the "Princess and the Dragon" puppets tell the story of a hero who slays the dragon and wins the beautiful princess. "The Zoo" is also in color. Wild animals are featured in a zoo which resembles their natural habitat.

The films were shown Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Park Branch, and will be shown

Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Woods Branch, and Friday at 2 p.m., at the Central Library.

This will be the final program of children's films for the summer. Weekly story hours will be held during the fall and winter months. Details of this will be announced later.

Malcolm Bingay Taken by Death

Malcolm W. Bingay, whose friends included businessmen, industrial and civic leaders and those who only knew of him through his writings as the editorial director of the Detroit Free Press, died on Friday, August 21, in Grace Hospital, of cerebral hemorrhage.

Floral tributes and messages of condolences to his family, as his body lay in state at the Verheyden Funeral Home, attended to the esteem and friendship in which he was held. Many of the cards tucked in the floral pieces bore names of international figures.

Mr. Bingay lived at 20383 Sunningdale. He is survived by his wife, Celia; a daughter, Mrs. Frank P. Gill; and a sister, Mrs. George Sherrin.

Services were conducted at the Verheyden Funeral Home on Tuesday, August 25. Burial was in the family plot in Parkview Memorial cemetery.

Pointers Feted by Movie Stars

Hollywood has again provided its share of thrills to 55 Grosse Pointe young men touring the West with Chet Sampson. The new movie stars entertaining the group brought to 125 the number who have met the caravans over the past seven years.

This summer's group was fortunate to be able to visit the three largest movie studios where they watched movies being shot, sets being prepared, and stars appearing before the cameras.

Bing Crosby arranged for the tour of Paramount, where the boys visited Bob Hope on the set of his new movie, "Casanova's Big Night," and also met several other stars, including William Holden.

Jeff Hunter pointed out all of the interesting sets at Twentieth Century Fox Studios. At MGM Studios, the boys saw Gene Kelly, as well as the hundreds of permanent sets on the 185-acre lot.

Another highlight of the Hollywood visit was the luncheon the boys prepared for Debbie Reynolds and Tab Hunter. Still another was their visit with Piper Laurie at RKO Studios.

Keith Andes visited the boys at their hotel and answered many more of their questions about Hollywood.

Many of the boy's parents were watching their TV sets in hope of seeing the group on Art Linkletter's "House Party." They did appear on the screen when Art interviewed Chet and asked questions about the tour.

The boys are now heading back home, stopping at national parks along the route. They will return to Grosse Pointe in time for the opening of school.

Cullen Sweeney Killed in Crash

Cullen Brown Sweeney, 20, was killed Monday in Nantucket, Mass., when his sports car overturned. He apparently lost control of his car as it rounded a curve, according to police.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Sweeney, Jr., of 122 Morang road, he was a student at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

A friend, John Bell Moran, Jr., of 240 Vendome road, found Sweeney pinned beneath the car. Moran and Robert Benchley, Jr., son of the late Bob Benchley, humorist and actor, were following another car.

Benchley heard the crash as he was leaving his mother's home nearby. He and Moran jacked up the car to remove Sweeney, who died a half-hour later in Nantucket Cottage Hospital.

Sweeney was employed as caddy master for the summer at the Nantucket Golf Links.

He attended Country Day School and Detroit University School and was graduated from Taft Preparatory School in Waterford, Conn.

Also surviving are a brother, John III; and two sisters, Mrs. William M. Swan, Jr., and Mrs. Elizabeth S. Stephens, of Grosse Pointe.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Well Earned Thanks

Requests frequently come to our desk from organizations asking help in giving recognition and extending thanks to the volunteer workers who have made their programs possible. This week's plea is from the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club.

An abundance of non-paid, volunteer help is an absolute essential to these organizations which play such a vital part in the life of any community. The Pointe is particularly fortunate in having so many of them.

The Woods Community Club has just terminated another very successful season. The building has been enlarged and all facilities greatly expanded. The rapid growth of this section of the Pointe has put a constant strain on the club to keep pace with the demands for activities and services, and the building facilities are still inadequate, but it has been doing a very fine job.

Public spirited citizens and business organizations have pitched in to help with the expansion of the club, which is a member of the United Foundation.

No matter how great the physical plant of such an organization might be, it cannot carry out its programs without the essential factors of human interest, labor and devotion. The volunteers who teach and supervise the classes and do the many menial chores which have to be done are the life blood of such movements.

More than 300 boys and girls have been active in three programs at the Woods Community Club during the summer. The afternoon program for boys and girls from 6 to 12 attracted more than 100 and average daily attendance was between 30 and 40. Under the leadership of 20 volunteers the youngsters met for two hours each week day afternoon and had their choice of varied activities.

Eighteen volunteers guided a program for 50 children between the ages of four through six two mornings a week. A new group of older junior high and younger senior high youngsters used the club on Monday evenings. Three teenage groups that were organized last winter continued their meetings through the summer.

Monthly attendance figures of this one organization have gone into the thousands. The programs could not have been carried on without the volunteer workers. Nor could all the activities provided by the Pointe's churches, the Neighborhood Club, the Boy and Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and other organizations which provide training and supervised recreation for so many youngsters.

The community is indeed fortunate to have so many adults who are willing to devote so much of their time and energy to such worthwhile projects as building the character of the leaders of the future.

An Added Service

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms is to be complimented for enclosing in its tax statements a leaflet which contains a comprehensive explanation of where the city gets its revenues and how they will be spent during the fiscal year of 1953-54. It is one of those extra services, not required, which should be appreciated by not only the taxpayers, but by any Farms resident who is interested in how his municipality is run.

The year's budget amounts to $841,451.89 as against $818,082.59 for last year. Despite this increase in estimated expenses, there has been a reduction of $1.10 per thousand of assessed valuation this year, the 1953-54 tax rate being $14.90 as compared to last year's $16.

This reduction in the tax rate is made possible principally due to an increase in total valuation resulting from a reassessment of real property on an equalized level. Had assessments not been adjusted, it would have been necessary to raise the tax rate 20 cents per thousand this year.

Despite the continually rising cost of municipal operations, additions to the tax roll from new construction of homes and business establishments has made it possible to meet the rises. The Farms will spend $145,000 this year on its police department, an increase of about $15,000 over last year. The fire department will cost $101,000 this year as compared with $95,000 in 1952. Administrative expenses have been paid by about $2,000, down to $51,449.

Public Works costs have gone up almost $15,000 and sewer pumping will cost some $2,000 more this year. Total operating costs for 1953-54 are estimated at $683,350, or about $50,000 higher than last year.

Assessments on real property have risen from $34,445,010 last year to $39,678,090, which largely accounts for the expected increase of some $36,000 in tax revenues, up to a figure of $642,481. It is also estimated that the Farms' share of state taxes on gasoline and weights and measures will be increased by some $5,000 this year.

Extraordinary expenses, which include such items as City Hall improvements, street and sewer improvements, refuse incineration authority, etc., have been cut from $131,000 down to $91,000 in the estimates for the current year. The back of the leaflet contains some interesting figures of comparison, showing the growth of the city in recent years. In 1935 there were but 838 homes and 19 commercial establishments in the Farms. Now there are 3,227 homes and 79 business places. The population has grown in the same period from 3,750 to 11,750.

Debt service has dropped from $137,773 in 1935 to a present $66,558. The tax rate in 1935 was $17.50 as compared to this year's $14.90.

Issued by the Farms council, the booklet closes by saying any additional information on the cost of the city government may be obtained at the clerk's office.

Grosse Exaggerations

"And we beg Thee freely to bestow

And a bear: turning in unison with truth,
And a language adorned with veracity,
And style supported by conclusiveness,
And accuracy that may exclude incorrectness,
And firmness of purpose that may overcome caprice,

Abu Mohammed Kasim Ben Ali Hariri

One of our readers told us a cute little story about her teen-aged daughter and very timely it was too the incident happened LAST CHRISTMAS. It seems that Junior Miss, while adoring all the things that go with traditional Christmas, felt that she ought to add a little zip to the holiday by doing something crazy, so she sent a Christmas card to Winston Churchill, signing her name and address. The card was one of those dillys that can be bought at the rate of 30 cards for five cents an impressive gesture to send the great Statesman!

Christmas came and went and the incident was forgotten until one fine day came an "elaborately simple" card from England thanking the youngster for "the good thoughts of you American girls" and with his best wishes for the New Year. It was signed personally by the Honorable Winston Churchill! A fine thing! The kids get everything. We've sent an number of letters to Churchill telling him how to run his country and have never even received an acknowledgement. They probably ended up in the royal wastebasket.

If anyone knows where we might buy a dream book we'd appreciate their letting us know. It isn't often that we feel inclined to share our dreams with the rest of the community but we had one last week that bears repeating. We received (in our dream) an invitation to the wedding of Princess Margaret. We don't recall who the bridegroom was but the "card" was about the size of a large menu card and was engraved in gold on white on BOTH sides! Somewhere in the right hand corner of the front side was written in ink, the following brief and personal message:

"Due to YOUR presence, this wedding reception will not be as exclusive as we had hoped."

No one can tell us that dream doesn't portend something or other. It was a very vivid dream so much so that when we awakened we made a bee-line for the desk to write Princess Margaret a curt note of regret and to tell her a thing or two about the snide remark inked in on the invitation. In fact the dream was so upsetting that even if she does ask us now we won't go.

The mind-workings of earnest house frau are oft times things to wonder about. We got the following true tale from the small daughter of a local woman and find it fascinating. The child told us her mother had decided to have one of their library chairs re-upholstered. The chair in question was known in the household as "Daddy's chair." The reason for this was two-fold. It had to be his chair because it sat in front of a desk he uses constantly and it was also his chair because he was always in it when at home.

The youngster overheard her mother talking to the decorator about it and from their back and forth conversation, she gleaned the fact that the little salesman had sold Ma on the idea of a more expensive material than she had planned on BUT she WAS sold!

In due time, the chair came back upholstered in a beautiful figured satin (just what a man wants for a desk chair!) with a light cream colored background. Mother was so enchanted with it that she called some of the neighbors in to ooh and aah over it. That night, the poor tired business man came home and as usual made for the library. His wife, who was upstairs at the time, called down to him: "John Don't you DARE sit on that desk chair in the library. I just had it done over for you and the material is very fragile and expensive."

Some thoughtful person left a pamphlet with us on the care and feeding of cultivated blueberries! Just what we've always wanted. But never the one to look a gift pamphlet in the mouth, we read it from stem to stern and we are sticking to asparagus. The opening paragraph on the actual raising, reads something like this: "To grow cultivated blueberries successfully on a large scale, you must have acid soil, a favorable water table, an equable temperament, and a little money because it is fully four years before you get back a few berries for all the bounty you have put out. The upkeep in the meantime is disturbing."

In another section of this prosey little booklet we find: "If you were the father of a large number of blueberry plants you would regard with affection the Rubel and Jersey. The others you would want to send away to military school if you could." (It does not say how you would feel if you were the mother of these plants so we can be of no help in that direction.)

We are very much afraid that our reader interest waned when we came to the following: "The blueberry pickers are principally migrants who prize their deftness and pass it on to their children. They are wedded with firm vows to their vocations. The only other job a blueberry picker would consider is the nomination for the presidency on the Democratic ticket."

We felt kinda hurt that these blueberry pickers slied the Republican ticket so we went back to reading the Kinsey Report.

Michigan Guardsmen Take Annual Field Training

Michigan Army and Air National Guardsmen, 9,500 strong, travelled from cities and towns in all corners of the state on Saturday, August 15, to three sites in northern and western Michigan for their 1953 field training, it has been announced by Brigadier General George C. Moran, The Adjutant General of Michigan.

Scheduled to rendezvous at Camp Grayling were the 11th units of Michigan's own 46th "Iron Fist" Division along with several non-divisional Army National Guard units. Five miles away Grayling Air Base was brought to life again as Michigan Air National Guardsmen from Detroit and Battle Creek moved in for their first field training since 1950 and reorganization after their active military service in the Korean emergency.

Across the state at Camp Claybanks, some 35 miles north of Muskegon, the 146th Antiaircraft Artillery Automatic Weapons Battalion and 222nd Antiaircraft Artillery Detachment (Radio Controlled Airplane Targets) from Detroit and the 300th Antiaircraft Gun Battalion of the Upper Peninsula and Manistee settled down for their two weeks of intensive field training.

Two last and one first for top commanders will mark the 1953 field training. Major General Ralph A. Loveland, commanding general, and Brigadier General Harold T. Weber, assistant commander, 46th Infantry Division, will be attending their last field training as active Michigan National Guard officers. General Weber will reach retirement age in November and General Loveland the following January.

Colonel Magnus B. Marks, veteran Air Force officer and recently appointed commander of the 127th Fighter-Bomber Wing, will be attending his first field training as a Michigan Air National Guard officer.

Training of junior officers and non-commissioned officers in leadership, small unit tactics, capabilities, employment of weapons, and marksmanship in individual and crew served weapons will be stressed during field training at both Camp Grayling and Camp Claybanks. Recruit schools will be conducted at both sites for men who joined the Guard recently.

For the second consecutive year Army Field Forces tests will be used during field maneuvers to test as well as to train personnel of the Michigan Army National Guard.

Reorganized last November following its return from service during the Korean emergency, the 127th Fighter-Bomber Wing will coordinate its field training with Air Defense Command, USAF, in carrying out its mission of training pilots to take their place in the nation's air defense system. Some 30 tactical pilots assigned to the three fighter-bomber squadrons of the wing

Growing Pains or Rheumatic Fever?

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Picture a child who cannot run or jump, who's every move must be watched by anxious parents so there will be no danger of overexertion. That is the child suffering from rheumatic fever.

You can understand then why doctors urge yearly examinations for children, why it is so important to find out if those growing pains are just that and not symptoms of rheumatic fever.

When medication is required you will find it worth while to purchase the best in drugs from a reliable pharmacist.

Shock Follows Traffic Mishap

Frank W. Lindeman, 43, of 937 Harcourt, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital on Sunday, August 16, where he was treated for shock, following an accident at Kercheval and Beaconsfield, in which he was involved.

According to the police report, Lindeman was traveling south on Beaconsfield, when he pulled into traffic at the intersection, causing a car driven by Norman L. Ahee, 16, of 2174 Springdale, Detroit, to strike him on the right fender, causing him to go over the curb and strike a stop street sign, bending it.

Both drivers were ticketed, Lindeman, for pulling into moving traffic and causing an accident; and Ahee, for not having his car under control and causing an accident.

Farms Receives Dirty Donation

Farms City Engineer Murray Smith informed the council at a meeting held on Monday, August 24, that the city will receive 34,000 yards of rubble and dirt for the back filling of the north wall of the Pier-Park seawall, without any cost to the city.

Mr. Smith stated that the fill-in needed to complete the work in that section requires at least 42,000 yards of dirt, therefore this offer of free fill-in may save a considerable sum of money.

He said that he approached a friend of his, asking him if he knew where the city could obtain the dirt, and was directed to the Oak Cartage company, which his friend represented.

The company, which is contracting the building of a sewer on Leib street, from E. Jefferson to the Detroit River, in Detroit, offered to give the city the dirt, gratis, provided it received exclusive rights to the dumping at the Pier Park. This was agreed upon and the first load was reported to have been dumped Tuesday, morning.

The dirt dumping will require three months to be completed, the estimated time Mr. Smith had previously informed the council would be needed before that section of the project will be finished.

Expanded Program Planned For Junior Achievement

Some 600 business executives, both male and female, are "going back to school," for six hours at least, to acquaint themselves with the workings of teen-age Junior Achievement companies.

The executives, each of whom will serve as advisers to the multitude of Junior Achievement companies operating in South-eastern Michigan from September through next May, represent Detroit area business firms that are sponsoring the JA firms.

Adviser training sessions are being conducted throughout August at Junior Achievement headquarters at 12956 Woodward Avenue, Highland Park.

J. C. "Larry" Doyle of Ford Motor Company, president of Junior Achievement of South-eastern Michigan, Inc., said material advances have been made in the Junior Achievement program here.

"When business organizations send their executives to attend the training sessions and devote their personal time to advising achievers in the operation of their miniature business enterprises, it can be readily seen how valuable a public relations program Junior Achievement is," Doyle said.

"Businessmen have spent a great deal of time and money getting over to the public an understanding of business operation, and our free enterprise system," he added. "Through

SPORTS POINTES

Edison Boat Club's Regatta Draws 128 Racing Skippers

Likeable, efficient Ken Leppand, one of the top Detroit River Yachting Association officials, was modestly receiving the plaudits of most of the 128 skippers who turned out for the Edison Boat Club's 39th annual sailing regatta last Saturday, August 22.

As race committee chairman, Ken, and his group of judges, which included such DRYA regulars as Dave Davenport, Frank Martin, Art Summerlee, Robbie Robertson, Bill Phillips, Hal Smith, Ray Daley, George Cossaboom and Phil Phillips, turned in a magnificent job in getting the 23 different classes out to a good start in a light nor'easterly breeze which all but went to bed before the last of the boats finished.

Breeze Fairly Steady
Generally speaking, the breeze was steady, but some of the late starters experienced slight wind shifts as they beat to the weather mark along the Canadian side of the ship channel. A tantalizing spinaker run down the second leg left the skippers and the crews wringing wet with perspiration as they rounded the second mark off the American shore as they fought to keep the stubborn chutes filled.

The final leg of the triangle found a difference of opinion among the skippers. Some flew the spinakers and others hoisted genoa jibs for the run down the American shore and into the confused and powerboat infested Detroit River, where Leppand and his crew set up the winning gun on the lawn of the Edison Boat Club, where they made like the Fourth of July as the class winners bobbed across the finish line off the club dock.

Wozniak Pulls Surprise
Dick Wozniak sprung the surprise victory of the day when he topped such sailing wizards as Ledyard Mitchell and Barb Slocum in the five foot Luder fleet. It was Dick's first race in his "Show Boat," which he purchased from Charley Beck a few weeks ago, along with seventeen bags of canvas. Boy, was Dickie happy. There was no holding him at the whoop-de-doo party Commodore Maurice Heimbecker and his wonderful entertainment committee staged that evening following the regatta.

Incidentally, Dick's little 26-foot ship is a beauty, as are all the boats in the Lake St. Clair Luder fleet. They're picture boats from the world over.

Oh yes, Ledge Mitchell, John Stroh, Barb Slocum and W. Pollock followed the winner in that order.

Ravens Stage Fight
Boyd Benkert and Bob "Chum" Kerr staged a knock down drag out affair in the Raven class with Benkert getting the winning gun by a mere 19 seconds over Kerr. Charley Beck was third. All three will be taking off for the Raven Internationals to be held at Sandusky, Ohio this weekend August 29-30.

Chuck Burbach finally got his "Marita" going and topped the seven boat Cruising A class both on elapsed and corrected time, beating Clare Jacobs' "Falcon" boat for boat by 8 minutes and 3 seconds. Toot Gmeiner's always well-sailed "Apache" was third to finish and saved her time to wind up third in the corrections.

Host Club Wins
Pat Clancy, Heinie Schuck and Bob Williams placed first, third and seventh respectively in the CK-Catboat Team event to earn 28 points which enabled the host club to retain its most cherished award the Jack Wilde Trophy. Detroit Yacht Club was second with 24 points and Detroit Boat Club and St. Clair followed with 14 and 12 points respectively.

Hank Burkard's mighty mite "Meteor" scored a resounding victory over the 10 boat Cruising C class getting the winning gun 13 minutes and 20 seconds ahead of Jim Carlin's "Gloria Bea II" and Jack Cullen's "II-YA" champion "Albacore," which took the next two places.

McGuire is Winner
"Mac" McGuire's Mackinac Sloop (the only one left around here), "Kandu" took the small Cruising B fleet on corrected time. "Kandu" followed Jack Booth's "Voyager" over the finish line by 2 minutes and 53 seconds and won by one minute and 43 seconds on correction. J. Miller's "Valiant" was third.

Jim Mog, the hard working fleet captain of the C boat class, was the only starter in that class again and rightfully got the winning gun although later Jim said "It was a holy victory, we just cruised around the course but it was a nice day for sailing and we enjoyed it."

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

For years the local weekend vikings have complained about downriver finishes in the Detroit River Yachting Association weekly club regattas. But they knew they owed the host clubs something for staging the annual regattas and went right on finishing downriver and continued to gripe.

Actually, the fleg officers of clubs liek Bayview, Edison, St. Clair Yachtsmen and Detroit Yacht Club knew that river sailing is a combination of luck and skill, especially in the usual flukey airs that funnel between the river banks.

But they also figured they had an obligation to their non-sailing members who like to see the spectacular sight the huge local fleet makes as it winds its way down through the river to the finish line. What these non-sailing members do not know is how tough it is threading a path through the powerboats, fishermen and the tricky winds.

So many time leading boats in the various classes have claved out slight leads in the lake, only to see an also-ran skipper scooted along in a private little breeze to get the winning gun. Oh yes, there are some who will say he deserved to win because he figured out where the wind was. Whether the winner deserved the gun or not every one of the local skippers will agree that river sailing is NOT GOOD.

Earlier this season, race committee chairman Art Summerlee of the DYC realized that the only good sailing in the lake and he set the finish line in the lake instead of in front of the host club. Even though the fleet finished in the lake the majority of them showed up for the party following the race. A good many of them sailed their boats down to the club but that was all right because they could do it without jeopardizing the place they had won in the race in the lake.

The downriver clubs will point out that most of the fleet has to go down the river to reach their clubs. To this we will agree. BUT they don't want to race down the river because of the powerboats and the terrific wash they create, which makes for sloppy racing. There must be an answer to these downriver finishes but when someone will come up with a constructive answer is anybody's guess.

Bobby Roadsrum tells us that his wife Flo, who broke her elbow after the Port Huron-Mackinac race, will be coming home next Tuesday from the hospital in Petosky. Bob says, "I have driven up there and back so many times since Flo has been in the hospital that I can do it blind folded. Incidentally, I have cut the running time down to five and a half hours." Johnny Nicol was listening in and piped up with "What did you do stop and change tires?"

We've been wondering whappien to Bob Raleigh this summer. Hadn't seen him sailing with Jimmy Trudell in the weekly races. Found out the other day at Lake Macatawa near Holland, Michigan and has been spending his weekends with his family. Bob told us he is getting in his share of sailing and of all things Lightnings. But even that has its good points. Bob has an all girl crew. Hmm-m, nice work if you can get it.

Bobby Ford took off last Saturday, August 23, for Indian Harbor Y.S., in Greenwich, Conn., to represent the Lake St. Clair Luder Fleet in the 9th International Regatta. Bob won the right to represent the local fleet when he topped Ledyard Mitchell, Barbara Slocum, Fred Fisher, John Stroh, Aaron Evans, Peter Fink, Cliff Phalen and Walter Pawluk in that order, in the fleet elimination series sailed here this summer.

It marked the second time Bob and his crew of Jack Hendrix and Bruce Davenport had earned the honor. Davenport was able to make the trip East and he was replaced by Gene Howard. This marks the first International Bruce has missed. When he was skipping "Alert" he represented the local fleet four times and being such a wonderful sailor was invited to join the winning crews in the years he didn't have a boat.

Bobby was anxious to get another creek at defending Champion Vic Coudert, who took the title back East last year after he scored a clean sweep in the Internationals sailed off Grosse Pointe Y.C. The Internationals will be sailed over a Gold Cup type course which Bob says is mighty rugged and something different than we sail around here in our weekly club regattas. The series started Monday, August 24 and finished Friday, August 28.

At the time Boat Banter went to press Cliff Gray's eight meter "Pintail", Detroit's 377 mile race on Lake Ontario, was rounding Stony Island, 81 miles from the finish line, in third place. Van Voorhis' big 12 meter "Mitena" was in first place but the apparent winner Eric Moor's 46-foot cutter "White Squall" was in second place. Only seven boats started the race which was won by Wendell Anderson's "Escapade" the last two years. Originally it was in Eskie's plans to take in the race but skipper Anderson lost interest when he learned that Gil Pingree wasn't going to take in the event with his 60-foot yawl "Red Head". Actually, Rochester doesn't have the competition to offer such a packet as "Escapade" so there wasn't much sense of going to the trouble and expense of taking the big 72-yawl around to Rochester just for a lark.

Bob Neesley, owner of the big schooner "Malabar VI" which has also made the trip East for the race, said: "It's a wonderful race. The folks at Rochester knock themselves out with their hospitality. They give the best prizes for any race in the Great Lakes. But it's a long way to go to race the same boats we race against in our Mackinac races."

The first Rochester race was held in 1948 and Freddie Temple took the Rochester Bowl that year with his 44-foot "Avilion". Since that time Detroit boats have dominated the race. Toot Gmeiner won the Barrows trophy, a divisional bauble, with "Apache" in 1951 and George Bass won the schooner trophy both in 1950 and 1951 with "Ben Bow" and then came "Escapade".

Could be with a break here and there Gray's "Pintail" might add to this wonderful record established by Detroit owned boats.

Don't forget the Crescent Sail Y.C., regatta next Saturday, August 29. It's always a dandy affair.

Boy, did you see the publicity your reporter got in the News last Sunday? Is my face red. And don't think my good friends the DRYA judges let me forget I pulled a "boo-boo" before the start of the Edison Boat Club regatta.

I'm making no excuses for anchoring the "Wind Toy" on the starting line. It was strictly an oversight on my part because I was so anxious to go overboard and scrub the hair off the waterline prior to the start of the light air race. Can't blame a guy for trying to make his boat go faster can you?

You know, pulling a stunt like that is almost as bad as a skipper running aground on the Canadian side of the Detroit River during a race. Anyone care to join our club?

If we would have pulled something like that aboard Nubby Sarns "Revelry" we would have been called "Harry". If you don't know that story ask Doris or Nubs or any of the "Revelry" crew.

It is much easier to stand one's own poverty than to stand another's prosperity.

Winning Coach

Bill Reaume scored another coaching first last Sunday, August 23, when his Detroit Boat Club swimming team captured the Michigan inter-club swimming championship in the Oakland Hills Country Club pool.

It was the fourteenth annual meet between Detroit Boat Club (102 points), Detroit Golf Club (89), Detroit Yacht Club (87), Oakland Hills (61) and Grosse Pointe Y.C. (57).

It marked the second year in succession Reaume's teams had captured the title and his fourth championship team since he took over the Boat Club team.

Bill is also the national AAU president this year. During the winter months he works magic with his Denby High School tank teams. Bill also is well known to Grosse Pointe Blue Devil swimmers as the official starter and judge for the Blue Devils' Border Cities League meets during the winter.

Old St. Ambrose Stars to Reunite

St. Ambrose letter men held a meeting last week at the Alger Post in Grosse Pointe, a preliminary to the second annual reunion to be held on October 11.

Some of the old-timers attending the last meeting were Ray Snay, Emmett Carroll, Gene Besigneul, Bill Ruthenberg and many others from the east side neighborhood.

Big plans are underway for the October 11 meeting, which will include attending Mass in a body at St. Ambrose Church, a reunion breakfast to be followed by the entire group attending the St. Ambrose-St. Paul football game at the Grosse Pointe High School field at 2 p.m.

All letter men are urged to contact as many other letter men as possible to get them "pepped up" over this big event to take place this fall.

For further information contact Bill Ruthenberg or E. J. Doonan.

Baseball for Forgotten Kids Earns Praise for Desrocher

Just about now Bill Desrocher and Bayard Johnson should take some well earned bows for their tireless work in directing the newly formed Neighborhood Club Major League baseball program which recently climaxed its first season with a hard fought three game final playoff. The final game was won 6 to 4 by the Phillies over the Pirates.

Credit for the organization of the league should go to one of the most tireless and energetic workers we know, Bill Desrocher. It was Bill's idea to provide baseball for the Pointe's youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15.

He got the idea from the fact that the Little League enables 9 to 12 year olds to play ball and American Legion baseball is for youngsters from 16 to 17 years old. As you can see there was a gap of three years when a boy didn't have an opportunity to play ball.

Using the same idea he did when he formed the successful Neighborhood Club Midget Basketball League, Desrocher worked with Ed Trowbridge, Jim Millies, George Gillis, Earl Peters, Mitchell Andrews, Robert Wright, John McGrath, Anthony Manardo and George Ewald to draw up rules and regulations under which the League was run this year.

Seeing the dire need for some financial aid this committee contacted Post 303 of the American Legion, The Grosse Pointe City Firemen and Police, Grosse Pointe Optimists, V.F.W. Post 995, Verheydens and Doc's Kercheval-Cadieux Service and pointed out what they were attempting to do. All the above mentioned including a generous person who just signed "Anonymous" came through with financial aid which amounted to seventy dollars which was used to provide the players with lettered T-shirts and caps.

It is the hope of Desrocher and his committee that they can get the League underway earlier next year and obtain sponsors for each team in the league. Managers and coaches will be needed for next season and Desrocher is accepting all applications from adults who wish to help make this worth while venture a huge success next season.

At the first meeting of the League Anthony Manardo was elected temporary president and Robert Wright treasurer. Bayard Johnson, generally regarded as the second best all-around athlete to graduate from Grosse Pointe High and currently the captain of the Dartmouth football team, acted as secretary and was in charge of running the league schedule.

On Monday, September 21, the league will hold a business meeting at 8 p.m. for the express purpose of setting up a constitution and by-laws, electing permanent officers for the 1954 season, and discussing possible changes in the rules to equalize the player personnel of the teams in future years.

From this corner all we can say is "Thanks, thanks a million for seeing the need for providing baseball for kids in the Pointe who are ineligible for Little League and too young for American Legion baseball. We know your service gained for you personally not one red cent financially and probably gave some of you plenty of headaches as the League suffered through its first year of growing pains. Congratulations for a job well done.

Farms Little League Head Appreciative of Cooperation

Appreciative Farms Little League President Howard Gnaou saw the first season come to a successful close recently and he presents his views and appreciation to all Grosse Pointers in the following letter which is reproduced in full.

The first of Little League Baseball in Grosse Pointe Farms has come to a very successful conclusion. The foundations have been laid for a long and enduring future for this fine and constructive recreational and civic program. The movement engendered, as the season progressed, a greater and greater interest, not only in the boys actively participating, who reacted with tremendous enthusiasm right from the very beginning, but also by the parents, friends and citizens of Grosse Pointe Farms and the surrounding cities. By the time the schedule was nearing its end, the whole community had become very Little League conscious and the residents and others were watching the games in great numbers.

At this time, therefore, I want to take this opportunity on behalf of the Governing Body of Grosse Pointe Farms Little League, the nearly two hundred boys playing on the teams and their parents to thank the citizens and residents of Grosse Pointe Farms and the surrounding communities for their heart-warming interest in and support of this movement and to point out that without it, it would not have been possible to have launched and carried through this activity in the successful manner in which it was accomplished.

Next year the planning will be developed further toward the goal of a smoother organization and an even finer season for all concerned. We feel sure this will be accomplished with the continuing interest and support of those living in the entire Grosse Pointe area.

Yours sincerely
Grosse Pointe Farms

ASK ANY USER You'll find that Timken Silent Automatic Oil Heat costs less... and here's why!

The famous Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Oil Burner blankets walls of the heating plant with a natural-burning, blue-hot flame. This scientific placement of the flame at the furnace or boiler walls, where it does the most good, is one of its biggest fuel-saving features. Furthermore, no pressure blasts the flame into the combustion chamber with the Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Burner. Because there's no pressure, there's no noise, no dirt, no costly wasted fuel. The wall-flame oil burner is guaranteed to save up to 25% on fuel—often more—over ordinary gun-type burners. A respected name in automatic heating for more than 25 years, Timken Silent Automatic is your most economical oil heating buy. Just ask any of its hundreds of thousands of satisfied users!

The wall-flame burner is the heart of every Timken Silent Automatic oil-fired unit. There's a complete line of furnaces, boilers, conversion burners and water heaters from which to select the right model for your home. Easy terms—free surveys and estimates.

Pointer of Interest

MARY PATRICIA SHERWOOD OF STANTON LANE

by Jane Schermerhorn

Now a bride-elect is usually described as being "up in the clouds" but with our today's Pointer of Interest, the story is reversed.

Mrs. Adams never does anything in a small way and she vowed as she took over the camp she'd have something not only for the Brownies but for the Girl Scouts as well.

Back in charter again she learned how important it is to keep count of your passengers, how to check them in and out of the plane, how to make the welcoming announcement once the ship is airborne...

These were divided into ten units each. Mrs. Adams' contention is that Girl Scouting does not end with the last day of school but that it is an all-around program for the entire year.

Her instructions called for boarding a special constellation out of New York headed for Minneapolis. The Very Important Passenger was Republican candidate for the U. S. Presidency, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

She was to be in charge of the Cloud Room, the lounge on the Constellation, when Eisenhower, his staff and the accompanying newspapermen and photographers came aboard.

"He's just the most softly-spoken, kindly gentleman you can imagine," she reminisced the other day. "He was terribly tired and, after a stiff schedule in Minneapolis, he was on his way to New York to address the American Federation of Labor's convention."

"I helped him take off his coat, fished his glasses out of his pocket for him, and he sat right down in his shirt sleeves to work on his speech. He took a nap before dinner."

Dinner was more elaborate than usual that night: shrimp cocktail, filet mignon with mushrooms, baked potatoes, peas, tossed salad with Roquefort, ice cream with chocolate sauce, coffee.

She certainly made it obvious, after her description of the man who is now our president, that he must have picked up votes every trip he took—just because he was such a nice person.

In turn, Capitol passengers the past two years must have heartily enjoyed being welcomed aboard by the Pointe's lovely Mary. She looks like the kind of girl you want your daughter to grow up to be and she "does" just as handsomely.

In mid-September, when she makes her last flight as a hostess, she'll be wearing the silver wings Capitol gives its hostesses with two years service. She thinks she'll miss telling at what altitude the plane is flying, where the stops will be and how long the plane will be in the airport, what the weather is like in the cities ahead, announcing the names of the crew.

Naturally she thinks flying's the only way to travel and she tells a pretty convincing story about how precious each passenger is considered by the airline, to what detail they go to make his journey cradle-safe and completely comfortable.

She's going to miss it all—even the long trips from her home in Grosse Pointe to Willow Run.

The really intelligent person is one who knows where knowledge ends and ignorance begins.

Girl Scout News

Two hundred thirty-four Girl Scouts, 14 Aids and 30 adults just ended Grosse Pointe's day camping program for 1953. Before we give you an account of the fun and the girls' achievements we must first say thanks to Grosse Pointe Woods for allowing Girl Scouts the use of the Park.

Emphasis this year was on outdoor activities. There wasn't anything done that could be handled except out-of-doors. The 14 Aids were made up of Senior Girl Scouts, 14 years of age and over who had had six hours of training under Mrs. Harry Crooks.

This year's group of 234 girls was evenly divided between Brownies and Girl Scouts. Girl Scout officials said this was the best camp of all the Districts. It was surprising to find so many Girl Scouts but the thought of the overnight camp-out appealed to them, and of course, to Mrs. William Adams endless hours of planning activities that would interest the older Scouts.

Mrs. Adams never does anything in a small way and she vowed as she took over the camp she'd have something not only for the Brownies but for the Girl Scouts as well.

Back in charter again she learned how important it is to keep count of your passengers, how to check them in and out of the plane, how to make the welcoming announcement once the ship is airborne, what to do in bumpy weather, and how you had to be at the airport always one hour before a scheduled flight.

bound them into books. They made weather charts so that the girls were able to tell when they'd have dry or unpleasant days. They also pressed leaf prints on scarfs—the outline made with crayons. Then, of course, the outdoor cook-outs were enjoyed no end.

The 10-14 group learned to make neat bed rolls, pitch a tent and take it down. All this prior to their camp-out at Utica Park. Badge requirements for Girl Scouts was also part of the program. First aid was taught by Mrs. Myra Taylor, who was the nurse in charge, aided by Mrs. Carl Bratton.

Mrs. Carl Scantonbrand did the bulk of the purchasing before the Camp opened. Mrs. Anthony Colett was the business manager. But transportation was provided by the Lions Club—the three buses were used to take the girls in and out of the park. Mrs. Donald William Quinn, Chairman of the Day Camp.

Grosse Pointe was the only day camp that offered swimming. Each child brought a doctor's certificate of health.

The highlight of all was the camp-out. Forty-three of the girls went to Utica, plus 7 aids and 8 adults. They hiked, cooked all meals, had camp fires and camp sings plus the camp fire snacks all the girls adore so much. One whole unit slept under the stars under Mrs. William Adams' guidance.

Another highlight was the backwards day. The day started with taps and ended with flag raising. All clothing was on backwards—ate dessert first—came into camp backwards saying "Good-nite." At the end of the day it was "Good-morning."

A coffee pot was brewing at all times for the leaders and a regular staff meeting was held each day. An evaluation meeting will be held September 14 for the purpose of evaluating all experiences so that next year will be even better.

Pointe Counter Points

Pretty-Quiks are pure linen rag tissues. They quickly blot up excess facial oils without disturbing make-up. Press one against your skin... presto, the glisten is gone.

Northport called last week. One of New York's loveliest sub-debs wanted an appointment at Marie Bird's atop the hill. It was the smart and easy to care for hair style of one of the Pointe's more glamorous gals that created the impression.

Blazers are back with a bang! And they fit into the fashion picture because the "classic look" is very important this year. The classic blazers we viewed this week are typical of the jacket story... for either on or off campus.

The newest member of the Wearever family is Hallite. These quality aluminum utensils have a beautiful copper-colored cover that will never tarnish! They glisten. The pan itself is easy to care for. Look in on these beautiful pieces at Fromm's.

Your features are bequeathed to you by your parents and grandparents. Lucky you, if you've good looking ancestors. Now, if you're not satisfied with your inheritance, there is plenty you can do about it. The color of your hair can be changed. You can glamorize your complexion. Your eyebrows can be remodeled.

That man will make your heart skip a beat... that is, if he wears an imported French flannel shirt from Jacobson's Men's Bar. Bartlay, Ltd., is the manufacturer. They're the people who first came out with a sport shirt... way back when.

D. J. Healy's brings to the Pointe the spanking new "Kahara-Tartan Hi-Slax"... you'll wear them with shirts or sweaters. There is a trim casual air about these new longer length pants... not as short as Bermuda's and not as long as the slack. Good news... they're lastingly moth-proofed... possess man-tailored pockets... reversed front darts. The material is crease-resistant. Pick up a skirt to match in red or green plaid.

Newspaper people... especially shoppers... may not always meet the most interesting people in the world, but it's an odds-on bet they see some of the world's most interesting geggaws, and fashions. Not just clothes, however. Take for example, Tamis Keeffe's new hand printed on pure linen kitchen towels. Tamis is the gal who has been a successful designer of women's handkerchiefs. She hails from California. Bird Cage... Fruit Bowl... Herbs... Candy Jar... Pewter, and Banana plus Butterfly... are a few of the designs you'll find among the great variety of linens in Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop.

Candlelight... a twinkling melody of enchantment. Candles are dramatic counterfoils for the centerpiece... in mantle, console or buffet groupings. There are dripless candles in profusion at Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop. In this collection, you'll find candles for your food warmers, too!

Reflections by paul gach. I'm reminded of the story of an intoxicated individual who opened an elevator door and stepped in. The car was not at that floor. After falling about eight floors straight down, he picked himself up, brushed himself off, and in a very indignant manner exclaimed "I said, UP!"
