HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, September 3
THE WORST non-aerial military training tragedy since World War II occurred at Fort Bragg, N. C., when an assault craft loaded with trainees capsized, drowning 20 soldiers. Most of the men on the craft were recruits undergoing basic training. The drownings were blamed when confusion, fright and panic broke out when the raft tipped over, and many of the soldiers were pushed under the raft by their buddies who fought frantically to reach the surface. Only two of 22 men survived.

THE UNITED STATES announced it is giving Iran $23,400,000 in technical aide between now and next June 30, and is pondering additional help to bolster the Middle-East country. The money was made available under an agreement with Iran's new Prime Minister Fazlollah Zahedi, who recently ousted Mohammed Mossadegh. A special economic grant is under discussion between Iran and United States officials, following a plea from the Shah for aid.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES, secretary of state, warned Red China it might provoke war between itself and the West by aggression in Korea and Indo China. He made this statement at an American Legion convention, where the Legion demanded full action, even to the use of the atomic and hydrogen bombs to drive out the Chinese Communists in the event that Korean peace talks fail. Dulles pointed out that China is training, equipping and supplying Communist forces in Indo-China, but stated the forthcoming peace conference would lead to peace in that strife torn country.

Friday, September 4
THE COMMUNISTS' top Allied prisoner of war in Korea, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, was finally freed by the Reds along with 94 other American prisoners. Wilfred Burchett, Communist correspondent, who interviewed the general several times during his captivity, said the Korean hero plans to retire from the service when his 30 years are up on October 18. The general, while in prison camp, revealed that he had intended to kill himself rather than be captured as a prisoner of war, but for the treachery of a South Korean betrayer who led him into an ambush and held his arms so that he could not fight.

JAMES H. DOUGLAS, acting secretary of the air force, revealed the service is reducing its production program by 965 aircrafts costing about 750 million dollars. He pointed out that this will not affect America's air power, and that this was not an economy move. He reported this is a revised estimate of requirements for the Eisenhower Administration's goal of a 120-wing Air Force. Officials said some of the money saved may be used for other types of air defense.

MICHIGAN city officials are on guard against possible cuts of their grant-in-aid due to economy drives at higher government levels. At the Michigan Municipal League's 55th convention held at Mackinac Island, the Legislature was asked to set up a statewide study of inter-governmental relationships. Proponents were against withholding of State or Federal aid, as well as any changes in the sales tax diversion. They insisted on a review on the best way to pay for essential services.

Saturday, September 5
MARSHALL TITO, massing his army along the border, in an apparent showdown action, sent a stiff note to Italy over disputed Trieste. He threatened to march troops to the Italian-Yugoslav frontier north of Trieste unless Italian troops maneuvering on the other side of the border are withdrawn. Yugoslavia charged that Italy sent two divisions to the area on the pretext that Slavs intended to annex the Italian occupation zone of Trieste. This was denied by the Italian Foreign Ministry in Rome.

Third Brother Receives Church Award

The award going to Scout ROGER ALLEN HARDEN, son of MR. and MRS. HAROLD HARDEN, of 433 Maison road, brings back memories to Roger's two brothers, left to right, JERRY and NORMAN HARDEN. Roger was the third brother in the family to receive the coveted "God and Country Award." Presenting the medal, which is given to Boy Scouts for meritorious service to the church, is the REV. EDGAR H. YEOMAN, pastor of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe Woods. Norman recently returned from Air Force duty in Korea and Jerry, member of the 1953 Grosse Pointe High School graduating class, will attend Virginia Military Institute this fall.

Ban Lifted On Watering Of Lawns

But City, Farms Officials
Request Continued Saving
Measures Until Good
Rainfall

The ban on sprinkling of lawns in the Grosse Pointes has been lifted, according to official notification. Residents, however, are asked to use discretion in the use of water for sprinkling purposes until the first rainfall in order to avoid another emergency order. The lifting of the ban does not mean that the use of water for other than household purposes is unlimited. Heads of the Farms and City governments announced that the enacted ordinance, which permits residents living in odd numbered houses to sprinkle on odd numbered days, and even numbered on even numbered days, is still in effect.

The citizens are asked to cooperate fully. The Park and the Woods, the communities receiving their water from Detroit, can sprinkle all they want, as the ban has been completely lifted by the larger city.

The Shores, which receives part of its water from Detroit and part from the Farms, has lifted the ban completely.

ARM BROKEN

Warren Vaughn, 15, of 1405 Brys drive, was taken to Dr. Clarence Candler by Woods police on Sunday, September 6, when he fell from his bicycle and broke his arm.

Community Theater Group Continues Hunt for Home

Grosse Pointe Community Theatre board members have tentatively scheduled a general membership meeting for Sept. 22 at 8:30 o'clock at the War Memorial. Failure to find a permanent home after countless tries at barns, stores and houses has temporarily stymied the theatre group although another barn is on the horizon. At a board meeting Tuesday evening at the Yorkshire Road home of Mrs. Ralph Center plans were broached for theatre in the round production for part of the 1953-54 season. The services of a professional director have been secured with the hope that the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre will be able to present a professional type of theatre-in-the-round to its audiences at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The theatre is disappointed that the various Pointe councils do not share their vision of a

Largest Religious Mural In State Now Completed In Pointe Catholic Church

Painting 94½ Feet Long, 16 Feet High Done in Rome
by Detroit Artist, Then Flown in Sections to the United States

Finishing touches have been applied on the largest church mural in Michigan at the St. Clare Montefalco Church, Mack and Whittier, and it is now ready for public inspection, Father P. L. Colgan, O.S.A., pastor, announced.

The painting, which depicts the religious theme of Creation, Redemption and Judgment, is 94½ feet long and 16 feet high. It was done by Andrew R. Maglia, well known Detroit ecclesiastical painter and covers the sanctuary wall behind the altar of the Grosse Pointe Park church.

The mural, which Catholic archdiocesan authorities called the largest in the state, completes the work on the newest Catholic church in the Detroit area. Cost of the structure, which with its blending of religion and art, makes it one of the outstanding houses of worship in the country. New features of the church include a soundproof room where mothers can attend services with their children without disturbing the ceremonies; a circular choir area behind a semi-screen in back of the altar and mosaic decorations throughout.

The church has concentrated on art, Father Colgan explained, because "it is a medium which goes hand in hand with religious ideals."

The job of painting the huge mural required one year. Mr. Maglia traveled to Rome, where he did the painting after sketching the mural and designating the colors that would be used. The project was then approved by Father Colgan and Mr. Maglia began his task.

The mural was painted on heavy canvas, especially woven for the job. The artist used colors handground in linseed oil and thinned with poppyseed oil. After completion, the mural was flown to the United States in sections because of its huge size. The canvas was then attached to the wall of the church with a mixture of molasses and paste. Next came the job of applying the finishing touches.

Mr. Maglia's work is not new to the Detroit area. He has done 20 such murals locally, though none of such size. One of the most outstanding jobs he has performed is the 781-figure work in the St. Brigid Church. His work also can be seen in tapestries and murals in St. John's seminary, Gesu Church and the St. John the Baptist Church in Ypsilanti.

An Italian by birth, Mr. Maglia came to the United States in 1922 at the age of 17. He fled Fascist Italy, after he already had shown considerable artistic talent, because of his open opposition to the Italian dictator Mussolini. After a series of factory jobs in the United States, Mr. Maglia became a technical director for a movie company. But this job

Drive Slated To Clean Up Area Debris

By Elli Jackle
Have you waited for a bus on the corner of Mack and Seven Mile road?

The sidewalk is littered with gum and ice cream wrappers, cigaret papers, and tissues. And this corner is not an exception. There are many areas in Grosse Pointe where bottles, cans and paper mar the sidewalks, beaches, and vacant lots.

Camapiga Ready
Garden Club Council members of Grosse Pointe have been actively combating this situation and recently met to discuss plans for a fall cleanup campaign.

Tentative plans include the distribution of "Litter-Bug" signs in municipal parks and in schools. These metal signs appeal to children with the plea "Don't be a Litter-Bug."

Plans have been discussed for supplying gas stations with refuse bags which they can give drivers. The drivers can deposit their refuse in the bag and drop it off at the next station instead of littering streets and highways with papers.

"Cleanest City" Goal
Club members hope to enter the Cleanest City contest next year which is sponsored annually by the National Cleanup Bureau in Washington, D.C.

Immediate concentration will be on schools in the Pointe. Children will be reminded of the need for neatness by signs. During the summer months members of the Clean-Up committee made an informal survey of the five Pointes. In general they found the community especially beautiful and well-kept.

Some Sore Spots
However, certain sore spots still exist due to the carelessness of pedestrian and motorist. Heavily traveled streets like Mack, Kercheval and Lake Shore are often neglected. Bus corners and vacant areas in the back of stores were found to be heavily littered with debris.

Drive Suggestions
Other suggestions for improving the general situation are: a porter to pick up litter in business blocks; the words "Improve Your Aim" painted in large letters on public trash containers; signs at beach exits above a receptacle—"Enjoy your snack, but leave us the wrapper"; and more swinging type receptacles at strategic corners.

When the householder as well as the motorist assume a personal responsibility in cleaning up the streets and community, the Pointes will be more than GENERALLY beautiful and well-kept.

Start Crackdown On Violators of New Fisher Rules

Farms Police Chief Says Drivers Are No Longer Being Warned of Change to One-Way;
Tickets Now Being Issued

Farms Police Chief Walter Hoyt said Tuesday that tickets are being issued to motorists who fail to observe the one-way strip on Fisher between Kercheval and Mack. The chief said the warning period had expired on the newly changed Farms street and that from now on his officers have been instructed to ticket motorists who do not abide by the rules.

Sticking to Change
The Farms officials said it was too early to determine how effective the change in the routing system has been but said that "we are sticking with it and intend to give the change a fair trial."

Increased traffic on other streets had presented a new traffic hazard of the switch, Chief Hoyt said. Lincoln, McKinley and other streets in the area are forced to carry more cars.

Bring Speed Tracks
"Whenever we make a street one way, the action forces other roads to carry a heavier load," Hoyt said. "We are, of course, on the lookout for any driver who intends to make the new one-way Fisher a speed path. One-way streets are too frequently inclined to bring about such a situation."

Hoyt said he was particularly concerned about the extra flow of traffic around Richard School. "With the change in the route, the streets around Richard are getting more traffic," he said. "And now that school is in session we want to urge motorists to be on a continual lookout for children — particularly in that area."

Pointe Schools Get Under Way

The first day of school in the 1953-54 season Thursday saw some 7,800 students file into their classrooms when the doors of the Grosse Pointe Public schools opened.

On hand to welcome students into classes were 306 teachers. One hundred and sixty-seven are in the elementary schools, and 139 in the secondary schools. School hours for the year will be the same as last year in all schools.

Parcells and Pierce Junior High Schools open at 8:45 a. m. and close at 3:30 p. m. with staggered lunch hours for the students. Activities in the High School Building will start at 8:30 a. m. and close at 3:20 p. m. with a rotating system for lunch periods.

All elementary schools will open at 8:45 a. m. and close at 11:30 p. m. for lunch. They will reopen for afternoon classes at 12:45 p. m. and close at 3:30 p. m.

May Reach 7,900
Dr. James W. Bushong, superintendent of Schools, said that enrollment figures may reach as high as 7,900 by the end of the second school month.

New residents coming into the Pointe in the future may enroll their children by inquiring at the nearest school or call the Grosse Pointe Board of Education office TUxedo 5-2000 for more information.

Park Police Teach Lesson To Young Bicycle Thiefs

Park police believe in that extra measure when it comes to righting a wrong. Arthur Brooks, of 1305 Berkshire, had reported the theft of his bicycle to police on Monday, Aug. 31, and on Wednesday, Sept. 2, he noticed a youth peddling his own bicycle. As the youth, a Detroit juvenile, rose in his seat, apparently to give, that extra hard pump with his feet, young Brooks thought that particular seat looked mighty familiar. He somehow was able to examine that object at a closer range, and positive that that seat was from his bike, called police. The Detroit juvenile was brought to the police station by

Bar Association Honors Brucker

Former Governor Wilber M. Brucker, of Vendome road, has been notified of his appointment as chairman of the Committee on Professional Ethics and Grievances of the American Bar Association.

The appointment was made by William J. Jameson, elected president of the Bar Association at the group's recent convention in Boston. Mr. Brucker succeeds Henry S. Drinker, of Philadelphia, retiring after 10 years in the position. Mr. Brucker has been chairman of the Michigan State Bar Association on Professional and Judicial Ethics for the past 12 years. He has been a member of the American Bar Ethics Committee for the past four years.

Democrat Club Hears Officials

Guest speakers at the local Democratic Women's Club meeting last week were State Representative Edward H. Jeffries and Mary B. Beck, Detroit Councilwoman.

Miss Beck stressed the importance of women in politics, saying that women held the balance of power in the last election. By making each vote important, she said, they can improve the community in which they live.

A supper card party is being planned by the entertainment committee for Oct. 29 at the Metropolitan Building, 33 John R. Table and door prizes will be awarded.

Mary Carney, chairman, urges members to bring friends. The club's next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 6 at the Hannan YMCA, Garland and Jefferson.

Many a man has a kick coming that never reaches him.

Memorial Church Choir Audition Dates Announced

The Junior and Senior Choirs of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will hold their fall auditions the week of Sept. 14. There are vacancies for both boys and girls in each of the choirs.

All Junior Choir old members and new applicants are to report Monday or Tuesday, Sept. 14 or 15, between 3:45 and 5:30 p.m. in the Men's Lounge. Those reporting for Senior Choir (senior high school age), both old members and new, are to report Thursday or Friday, Sept. 17 or 18, between 3:45 and 5:30 p.m.

Old members are required to take only a brief test for voice classification while new applicants must pass a complete audition which tests one's basic musical aptitude and adaptability rather than previous training.

The opportunity is not only for those of exceptional talent but also for those of average ability and a willingness to cooperate. Upon arrival for the test, everyone is requested to secure a number immediately to assure being taken in proper order.

Parents of boys and girls 10 and 11 years of age who have been planning to apply for the first time this fall, should send their child's name, year of birth, address and telephone number to Miss Marie Joy Curtiss, the director, at the Church office at once and then await further information. New applicants in the 12-14 year age group are to report at the above time given for Junior Choir.

Regular rehearsals begin Saturday, Sept. 19: Junior Choir, 9:15-10:30 a.m.; Senior Choir, 10:30-12:00. Rehearsals continue every Saturday morning without interruption through the second week in June.

Each choir sings every other Sunday at the regular Church Services. The Junior Choir will begin Sept. 27 at the 9:30 a.m. Service and the Senior Choir on Oct. 4 at the 11 a.m. Service. At the festival seasons of the Church year more work is required.

These choirs have been noted for the large number of boys which they attract to their membership. Miss Curtiss has had years of experience as a choral director and voice teacher and has given particular study to boys' voices.

In the past through careful individual guidance it has been possible for boys to begin choir work at the age of 10 and continue on through high school with only a few months interruption at the most during voice change.

During the past season the Junior Choir Boys achieved distinction through their fine work at the Christmas and Holy Week seasons when they appeared as a special unit.

For those who are interested in knowing more about the Grosse Pointe Memorial Youth Choir Organizations, the 1954 edition of "The Youth Choirs" may be found in the narthex of the Church or by calling at the Church Office on week days.

Since parental cooperation is very essential, it is wise for every parent to read this folder before sending a child for an audition.

The Junior Choir is limited to 60 members and the Senior to 53. As soon as the vacancies are filled names are placed on waiting lists. New members should join with the idea of remaining the entire season and being in town for the Christmas and Easter Special Services. The dates of these are announced over two months in advance so families may plan accordingly.

Parents who have their young people in these choirs for a year or more have expressed themselves as feeling that this experience has been a tremendous influence for good in the lives of their children.

The members, themselves, have shown their enthusiasm by the numerous sacrifices they have made to maintain a high standard of performance. Every effort is being made this coming season to not only maintain but improve the quality of the training and the musical work of these choirs.

Headlines of the Week as the man who upset the Red timetable in Korea, received the Order of Taeguk, Korea's highest military decoration, from the hands of South Korean President Syngman Rhee. Gen. Mark Clark and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, United States 8th Army leader, watched the ceremony as it took place in a hospital ward, where Dean was taken for a physical check after his release at Panmunjon. Rhee paid high tribute to the American general, for his valorous action in slowing down the Communists long enough for the Allies to build an effective fighting force.

DEFYING Soviet threats, more than 27,000,000 West German voters kept Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his pro-Western government parties in office for another four-year term by a landslide. In addition, they threw all the Communists out of the lower House of Parliament, crushed a feared Nazi comeback and refused to heed a Socialist plea to remain neutral in the East-West struggle. The election outcome was a catastrophe for the Kremlin and a triumph for the United States.

Sunday, September 6
AN ESTIMATED 33,000,000 West Germans went to the polls to decide the fate of the Western Defense Alliance. The voters will vote for a new lower House of Parliament, and pro-Western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to emerge victorious in the crucial voting. The campaign ended Saturday night and was marked throughout by Communist attempts to sabotage the elections with violence. Adenauer pledged to keep his country on the side of the West if he is returned to power.

ON THE FINAL DAY of Operation Big Switch, the Communists returned 111 American prisoners and claimed that all that so desired have been released. The UN challenged the statement of the release, citing as an example, the Reds' failure to release jet double-ace Capt. Harold Fischer, Jr., of Swea City, Ia., whom the Communists admitted capturing after he was shot down over Manchuria.

LEE STILES, a deputy sheriff of Cushing, Okla., was questioning a suspect about forged checks. The suspect pointed out that he was a stranger in town, and that the checks were earned while working on a farm. Questioned further, the suspect stated he worked on a farm just outside of Cushing. When the deputy demanded a more exact location, he was told the spot was three miles west on highway 33. That was all the officer needed to jail the suspect who gave the location of the deputy's home farm.

IN an off-the-cuff speech, former President Harry S. Truman, at a joint AFL-CIO dinner in his honor, called on labor to follow his lead and go after the Eisenhower Administration and correct its bungling. In an earlier address, made in Cadillac Square in Detroit, the former chief executive denounced the Republican goal of balancing the Federal budget at this time a dangerous philosophy that threatened the nation's security and safety.

THE MARGIN which elected Adenauer was so great, that it

West German Chancellor Konrad even startled the leaders of his party, and brought out the cry of "dictator" from his enemies. Backed by the power of his victory, the Chancellor pressed for quick enactment of his pro-American policies, which include the re-arming of West Germany.

FRED M. VINSON, chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at the age of

63. He was a personal friend of President Eisenhower and was appointed chief justice by another good friend, former President Truman in 1946. Vinson's death creates the first vacancy which President Eisenhower will be called to fill. Gov. Warren of California and Gov. Dewey of New York are considered top candidates for the spot.

The meeting will open with Holy Communion at 10:30 a.m. followed by luncheon and speaker. The hostess for this meeting will be St. Mary's Guild.

The junior William J. Youngs returned to Touraine road Tuesday after a boat trip to Georgian Bay.

Church Marks Milestone

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will celebrate its eighth anniversary and the beginning of its ninth year as an organized church on this Sunday, Sept. 13.

It was on Sept. 9, 1945, that the first Methodist service was held in Grosse Pointe in the Old Kerby School between the fire house and the municipal building in Grosse Pointe Farms.

There were 58 people present at that first meeting in the Old Kerby auditorium which is three flights of stairs up. The Old Kerby School, even then scheduled for condemnation, has since been turned into a store house.

The church soon outgrew Old Kerby and met for a while in the New Kerby School but just one week past its fifth anniversary it moved into its present sanctuary which with its educational facilities is the first unit of an eventual $750,000.00 plant on Morross road.

As the church begins its ninth year of existence and its third year in its new building it looks forward with eager anticipation to another year of service to the community.

With its frontage of 400 feet on Morross road and its depth of 500 feet, its location offers limitless possibilities for expansion within its more than five acres of area.

The pastor, the Rev. Hugh C. White, who has been with the organization since its inception, joins with the official family of the church in a cordial invitation to the community to make use of the facilities which have been erected on Morross road.

Lifetime Span At 68.4 Years

The average lifetime of the American people reached a new high of 68.4 years in 1950, according to figures released by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. This represents a gain of 21 years since 1900. During the prior half century—from 1850 to 1900—the increase was only seven years.

As a result of the increase in longevity since the start of this century, the average American who now reaches age 25 has as many years of life before him as did the average newly born baby of 1900.

The gain in expectation of life since the turn of the century is attributed by the statisticians to "striking advances in the medical and allied sciences, the greater number and wider activities of public and voluntary health agencies, and the rapid rise in the standard of living."

Women have not only had a longer average life time than men during the past half century, but they have also made the more rapid gains in longevity.

In 1950, the expectation of life at birth for white females was 72.4 years, as compared with 66.6 years for white males, a difference of nearly six years.

The improvement in longevity, the statisticians note, has increased greatly the chances of survival to midlife and to the threshold of old age.

With the mortality conditions around 1900, only 66 out of every hundred newly born babies could be expected to reach age 40, and their remaining lifetime then averaged 28.3 years.

Under current mortality, the chances of survival to age 40 are 92 in 100, and the expectation of life at that age is 33.1 years. Similarly, the chances of living from age 40 to age 65 have risen from 62 to 74 per 100.

"It is not likely that the second half of this century will equal the accomplishment of the first half in improving the average length of life," the statisticians predict.

"There are still substantial margins for improvement, however, and it probably will not be long before the population of our country reaches an average lifetime of 70 years."

Choir Director Organist Named

The Reverend Edgar H. Yocman, Rector of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, has announced the appointment of Mr. William Gard as Director of the Choirs, and Miss Jeanne Hurst as Organist.

Mr. Gard, member of a well-known Grosse Pointe family of musicians, has studied church music for many years. He was prominent in musical circles at Yale University, and is currently director of the Grunions, a group of singers enjoying an enviable reputation.

Miss Hurst, a pupil of Mr. MacKelberge and of the late Dr. Edward Manville, holds Bachelor and Master degrees in music, and is an Associate of the American Guild of Organists. For several years she was organist of St. Raymond's Roman Catholic Church and until recently was associated with the Woodmere Methodist Church.

St. Michael's will begin its fall schedule on Sunday, Sept. 13, with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a.m., Family Service at 9:30, with instruction for all children of first grade and over, and Morning Prayer and Sermon at 11 a.m. at which time Nursery and Kindergarten classes will be held.

Book Fines Won't Change

The Grosse Pointe Public Library will not at the present time increase the charges for overdue books, announced Mr. Robert M. Orr, director of the Library on Tuesday.

This announcement was made following an action taken by the Detroit Public Library to increase charges for overdue books from two to three cents a day.

However, an increase of a non-residents fee from $1.50 to $3.00 is under consideration and will be studied by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Mr. Orr said. The Detroit Public Library has had a non-resident fee of $300 in effect for some time.

Mr. Orr hoped that the announcement made that no increase would be made in overdue books at the present time would remind patrons that they should not hold books over the due date.

Pointer Wins Godfrey Contest

Instead of singing for his supper, Airman 3/c Edward Baumann, formerly of Grosse Pointe Woods, played without his piano practice was more important to him than eating. He was rewarded by winning the talent contest on Arthur Godfrey's TV show last Monday night.

Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Baumann of Lochmoor, has been playing piano for many years. After graduating from Cass Tech he enlisted in the Air Force and was stationed at Sampson Air Force Base, New York. But his love of music enlisted with him.

For a while Edward practiced on the piano in the company area. When the piano was moved he was forced to go to it. For some reason it was available only at the same time as his dinner. The piano won.

Monday night an air force buddy acted as talent scout for Edward. After playing Chopin's Fantasy Impromptu, the audience chose Edward and another contestant as a tie for first place.

Since Monday he has appeared on four radio and TV programs for Godfrey.

Before enlisting, Edward soloed with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Soon after his enlistment he was chosen to appear on NBC's program, Stars in Khaki and Blue, for the Air Force.

After his discharge in December, 1955, he plans to attend college and eventually reach the concert stage.

His parents feel he should do this on a full stomach, so they are buying a piano for his quarters.

Woods police, sent to Vernier road and "E" street on Saturday, September 5, found Thomas Rains, 29, of 2587 Hurlbut, Detroit, standing on the corner with a bloody face. Rains was taken to Dr. Clarence Candler for treatment and where it was discovered that he was suffering from a broken nose. The victim told police that he had been drinking in bars in the St. Jean area in Detroit, and while making the rounds, met another man, who he said took his wallet and watch. He added that he did not know how he

Young Thieves Looting Cars, Clothing at Beach

Don Hallman, superintendent of the Park's waterfront park, reported to Park police on Wednesday, Sept. 2, that several citizens have complained of losing valuables.

Hall furnished a description of an 11-year-old boy who was seen in the vicinity where the articles were taken. Acting on this the police picked up the lad.

The boy confessed his part in the taking of several wallets, a lady's and man's wrist watch and $2.65 in cash, and implicated two other boys, one 12 and the other 13 years old.

All the loot was recovered, except the wallets, which the boys claimed to have deposited of by throwing them in the lake.

In view of the few remaining days that the park may still be open after Labor Day, Chief Arthur Louwers asks that users of the park check their valuables, which is the safest way of preventing them being stolen.

He said that one method used by unscrupulous persons, young or old, is through the use of a bath towel. The person bent on a thieving spree walks around looking for away-owners of wallets and other valuables, the towel over his shoulder.

Spotting a valuable left by the unwary owner, the thief would approach and pretend to drop the towel which very conveniently falls over the article, and when the towel is scooped up, the wallet or what have you is picked up with it.

Bird Travels After Storm

Somewhere on Moross road there's a very happy little bird named Buzzy Davis.

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. John B. Davis of Moross, the 15-month old parakeet flew from his home one day two weeks ago. His owners placed an ad in the paper and waited.

They had taught the bird, whose vocabulary is over 100 words, his name and address. If anyone found him they hoped he would repeat it.

Four days past and no bird. After the heavy storm in the Pointe someone on Piper called the Davises. It seemed impossible Piper is seven miles away from Moross. The bird looked the same but the Davises couldn't be sure.

Then he began talking. "My name is Buzzy Davis. You're so cute I just love you, you're a pickle puss," he said. They had the right bird.

Tree Experts Blast Myths

Myth - understandings about things arboreal are having harmful effects on many trees.

Tree myths, like old wives' tales have been repeated through the years until many home owners take them for the literal truth.

Here are a few common myth-conceptions about trees and the true story, as related by L. F. Irvine, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.:

Fiction: Trees should be pruned only when they are in full leaf.
Fact: This may be true of a few ornamental species, but most deciduous trees may be pruned any time. Orchardists usually prefer to prune fruit trees in the dormant season.

Fiction: Trees should be planted only in the spring.

Fact: With reasonable precautions most deciduous trees can be planted throughout the fall and winter, if desired, and there is a long autumn season in which most evergreens can be planted successfully.

Fiction: Lightning never strikes a beech tree.

Fact: No known tree species is immune to lightning. Many beeches have been hit by stray bolts.

Fiction: Tree sprays must be plainly visible to be effective.

Fact: Insects don't go by the color, even if humans do. Some of the most effective spraying techniques use air instead of water to spread the insect-killer. The result is an almost-invisible mist which covers effectively.

Troubles that prey on some people's minds run a great risk of dying from starvation.

A Fall Surprise

What's this, have the Easter lilies been looking at the wrong page of the calendar. MRS. ELEANOR NEBESINI, of Balfour road, thinks that is exactly what happened in her garden. The lily plant bloomed for the second time this year last week and, though confusing to Mrs. Nebesini, she's not a bit displeased.

Cancer Benefit Program Laid

All Detroit area volunteers of the American Cancer Society will join in sponsoring an elaborate fur fashion show for the benefit of the Southeastern Michigan Division of the ACS on Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 1:30 p.m., in the Krim Theatre in Highland Park.

The show will be a preview of the year's top fur fashions, as well as an entertaining review of fur styles past and present. Musical and comedy acts will also be included in the program.

A four-skin fur scarf, donated by Richland Furs, and several matched sets of costume jewelry, designed and donated by Schiaparelli, head the list of door prizes. Many local merchants have also donated additional gifts.

All proceeds of the show will be contributed to the American Cancer Society to help carry on its program of cancer research, education and service. The use of the Krim Theatre has been donated by the owner.

Center Club To Hold Dance

Unitarians Enlarge Chapel

Grosse Pointe Unitarians will enter a newly enlarged Chapel Hall for their first service of the 1953-1954 season Sunday, Sept. 13. By the removal of a partition and the purchase of additional chairs during the summer, the church has increased the seating capacity of its worship center by almost 50 per cent.

"We are happy to be able to say that the expansion was made necessary by more-than-capacity attendance through much of last winter—and spring," says Rev.

William Hammond, minister of the church.

At the service this Sunday, which will begin at 11 a.m., Rev. Hammond will present a sermon entitled "The Time of Our Lives."

Although the regular program of the Unitarian Church School will not commence until Oct. 4, supervised entertainment and recreation will be provided for children up to 12 years of age during the worship services on the next three Sundays.

Red Cross Seeks Paid Personnel

It's not so far to the Far East and other interesting places if you have a few qualifications the National Red Cross is seeking, according to Leslie, This, Director of Personnel, Red Cross, Midwestern Area Office. The Red Cross, in a nationwide search for qualified paid personnel to serve with its staff at military installations all over the world, is combing the country for eligible persons.

In its traditional responsibility of service to the armed forces, the Red Cross has been charged with the task of supplementing the Army's special services program with a club and clubmobile program of its own to provide leisure-time activities for able-bodied servicemen.

Ever present with the armed forces in the emergency of war, the Red Cross remains with American troops in peacetime, maintaining vital, morale-building recreational facilities for GIs, wherever they are stationed. The cessation of hostilities in Korea has created an urgent need for prompt expansion of these facilities.

To be eligible, women must be between 23 and 40 years of age, with college training or special aptitude in recreation, education, music, dramatics, speech, and art. The salary scale will be determined according to background and experience. In addition, the Red Cross pays maintenance and travel for all of its overseas personnel.

Women selected will receive two weeks orientation at Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D.C., and then go overseas. They will also be entitled to a short training period in Japan, after which they will be given their Far Eastern assignment.

Openings are also available for young men, preferably veterans who are college graduates between 25 and 35 years of age as assistant Red Cross field directors for service with troops. Two important qualifications for this position are world-wide mobility and physical fitness.

Men who qualify will serve for a year in a domestic station as counselors to servicemen, advising them and lending assistance on such personal problems as emergency leaves, dependency discharges, medical reports, and emergency financial assistance. Then they will receive two-year assignments abroad, either in the Far East or Europe.

Married men are entitled to take their families overseas. Red Cross pays travel and maintenance for its personnel, and will pay transportation and maintenance en route for dependents joining employees overseas.

Men and women interested in receiving further information on these openings should write to the Director of Personnel Service, Midwestern Area Office, American National Red Cross, 4050 Lindell Boulevard, St. Louis 8, Missouri.

The commendation read as follows: I take pleasure in commending you for the unhesitating action and courage demonstrated by you on March 9, 1953 for reasons as set forth below:

"The U. S. S. Bennington (CVA-204), while engaged in aircraft recovery operations off the coast of Guanamao Bay, Cuba, on March 9, 1953, and in the process of taking aboard jet aircraft of Marine Air Group 14, sustained an A9F failure to make an arrested landing thereby crashing in number one elevator atop a plane lowered to the hangar deck level.

"You immediately without thought of personal safety went to the aid of injured personnel even though high octane gasoline was being spilled from ruptured tanks and the engine of the crashed plane continued to run. Your actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Naval service."

Airman Baro is the son of Mr. Martee J. Baro, 1427 Howard road, Grosse Pointe.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerhorn

This being a banner year for golden anniversary celebrations... the Pointe has special reason for noting that Holiday House, gracious and stately senior vacation cottage at Girls' Friendly Society's camp on Pine Lake, is marking its fiftieth year in 1953.

Miss Frances Sibley, who has been associated with the organization since its beginning in Michigan, is honorary chairman of the Holiday House committee.

Members have chosen Golden October for a vast, friendly Homecoming to mark the great occasion... Holiday House itself will be the scene of the affair, on the campsite's broad acres, with trees beautiful in the autumn haze and Pine Lake's blue waves glistening in the sunlight—provided the weatherman cooperates.

It will really be a twofold celebration... for this is also the 25th year that Miss Myrtle Armstrong has been G.F.S. camp director.

Date of the Homecoming is to be Sunday, October 4, from 2 to 4 o'clock... It will be not only a meeting for former Holiday House guests, but a reunion for all Girls' Friendly Society members... and an introduction for new friends of the Holiday House program.

Grosse Pointe members of the Holiday House committee include Mrs. Alexander W. Copland... Mrs. Joseph M. Dodge... Mrs. L. Rothe Farr... Mrs. Harry S. Finkenstaedt... Miss Margaret Hendrie... Mrs. Wilson W. Mills... and Mrs. Alexander L. Wiener.

Sphire-Baker Rites Solemnized Saturday

Jean Lois Baker Marries Dr. Raymond Sphire at St. Clare of Montefalco Church; Newlyweds Will Make Their Home in Boston

Wearing a chantly lace wedding gown, Jean Lois Baker walked up the aisle of St. Clare of Montefalco Church to become the bride of Dr. Raymond Daniel Sphire. The pair exchanged vows at an 11 o'clock double ring ceremony Saturday morning.

A scooped neckline and empire waist were features of the bride's gown. Her French illusion veil was secured by a Juliet cap of Venice lace and she carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered by a white orchid. The new Mrs. Sphire is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Emerson Baker of N. Renaud road.

The three attendants wore champagne ballerina-length frocks of silk taffeta. Coral velvet leaves formed their headpieces; their flowers and shoes were in matching coral. Mrs. Merrell Baker, Jr., was her sister-in-law's matron of honor, Shirley Ann and Gloria Ann Sphire, twin sisters of the bridegroom, attended as bridesmaids.

Robert Tapler was best man for the bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sphire of Yorkshire road. Thomas Byrne and Earl Lapp ushered guests to their places.

After a wedding breakfast at the DAC, the couple left for their home in Boston. Dr. Sphire, who is doing graduate work at Harvard University, is with the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Ann Arbor is Scene Of Wettlaufer Rites

Patricia Doyle Marries Lieutenant in St. Thomas Church; Pair Leave for His Texas Base; Plan Honeymoon in Mexico Later

Lt. Albert J. Wettlaufer claimed Patricia Doyle as his bride Saturday morning in St. Thomas Church, Ann Arbor. White shaggy mums and gladioli banked the altar for the wedding.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard H. Doyle, of Simcoe, Ont., recited her vows wearing a light blue silk waltz-length gown with a sweetheart neckline. A small velvet band held her veil and white orchids were centered on her prayer book.

Carol Wettlaufer was maid of honor for her sister-in-law. Her gold silk taffeta frock, also waltz-length, had an off-shoulder neckline and elbow-length sleeves. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

Malcolm J. Sutherland served as best man for the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Wettlaufer of Lincoln road. Ted Laird, Dorr Grover and Hugh Worcester, all Zeta Psi fraternity brothers of the bridegroom at the University of Michigan, ushered. For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Detroit Athletic Club. Mrs. Doyle chose a gray-blue suit with matching accessories. An ice-blue silk suit dress with navy accessories was Mrs. Wettlaufer's choice. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

The newlyweds left for Pickwick, Tex., a suburb of Houston. Lt. Wettlaufer is stationed at Ellington Air Force Base, in Houston. For traveling the bride donned a blue cotton tweed suit and navy accessories.

The pair plan a honeymoon in Mexico over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Rummage Sale Work Begins

With vacations and lazy summer days rapidly becoming memories, the women of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, in Grosse Pointe Woods, are hard at work sorting and marking articles which have been accumulating all summer, for their fall rummage sale.

The sale will take place on Friday, Oct. 2. Mrs. Paul Rowe is chairman this year, with Mrs. Gerald Dewhurst co-chairman.

Others who have been working hard to make this year's sale a success are Mrs. Robert Chandler, Mrs. Armin Mueller, Mrs. Harold Harden, and Mrs. Robert Bell.

Any contributions will be most welcome. Call TU. 4-1297, or TU. 2-2159 for pick-ups.

The faith that used to move mountains now lets them stand as an attraction for tourists.

New Line from Zagri

This year the complete fall and winter collection of distinguished dress designer Zagri styles is an exciting combination of lines of elegance and new angles, and includes the finest imported and domestic woolen suits — cocktail ensembles and theatre suits—which Lois Zagri brings to Michigan at Jacobson's as one of the most important classifications of her line and a flattering contribution to cruise-wear.

In designing this year's collection, which is definitely the finest of anything before, she puts emphasis on line, while most of the French and top American coutoure designers are building a new line around a basic silhouette. To determine the style trends of a new season, Lois Zagri also builds her collection around many different style characteristics, thus producing in one season that which foreign designers would accomplish in three or four seasons.

The skill and cleverness of the line make a decided contrast to the basic simplicity of the 1953-54 fashions. The complete new Zagri collection will be informally modeled in a special trunk showing at Jacobson's on Wednesday, Sept. 16 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This life would be one of contentment if it were possible to limit one's wants to his needs.

Janet Reid Bride Of Peter Klaver

At an informal wedding for members of the families, Janet Kay Reid became the bride of Peter Roberts Klaver, Wednesday morning in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The Rev. Paul Ketchum heard the young couple's vows at 11 o'clock following which the bride's parents entertained at a wedding breakfast in Lochmoor Club.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Templeton Reid, of Maumee road, and Peter is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Garrett Klaver of Lincoln road.

For the wedding Janet donned smoke blue suit trimmed with navy blue velvet collar. She wore navy accessories, and a white orchid.

As the bride's attendant, Mrs. Charles E. Exley Jr. of New York City was in bicy green (a green combining blue and yellow in its tone) suit with yellow and brown Vanda orchids.

Charles E. Exley Jr. was best man.

Mrs. Reid's pleated pearl gray shantung gown was trimmed in white and her flowers were red camellias. Mrs. Klaver chose a navy shantung costume and her flowers were pink camellias.

Former Elizabeth Jane Bishop and Bridegroom, Francis J. Stoffels, Will Leave Today On Travels Taking Them to Their New Home in Sacramento, California

A new bride and bridegroom were called today at the Mount Clemens home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Bishop, who formerly lived in Grosse Pointe.

The bride is their daughter, Elizabeth Jane Bishop, who became Mrs. Francis J. Stoffels Wednesday evening at a ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The couple returned for "one more goodbye" before continuing on the wedding trip which will take them to their new home in Sacramento, Calif.

Mr. Stoffels is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stoffels of Roseville, Calif.

The Rev. Frank Fitt performed the ceremony last evening. The church was decorated with blue and white delphiniums for the wedding and the altar was lighted with cathedral tapers.

A white floor length gown of faille was chosen by the bride. Its brief lace jacket had long, fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands.

The wedding veil fell from a pearl embroidered tiara and Elizabeth carried a white orchid surrounded by yellow and white mums.

Mrs. John S. Burchenal of Moross road was her sister's matron of honor.

She was dressed in floor touching gown of sheer iridescent brown silk over gold and the bridesmaids' frocks were fashioned in the same style in brown silk over lettuce green.

Park Police Nip Burglary Spree

Two would-be teenage parking meter thieves, arrested at the scene of their crime, at 4 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 2, turned out to be burglars who pilfered a church poor box a few hours earlier and were wanted by authorities for other crimes.

According to Police Chief Louwers, the youths both of Detroit, were noticed by Park Police Sgt. Hazen Hennig, as they attempted to remove several parking meters at Nottingham and East Jefferson.

The police officer, noticing that the cement at the base of the meters had been loosened, acted on the evidence and placed the two boys in custody.

At the station, the teenagers were questioned by Det. Sgt. Stanley Enders, and at first refused to admit their guilt. During the course of the interrogation, a phone call from the Rev. Fr. Philip Colgan, pastor of St. Clare Montefalco Catholic Church, revealed that someone had broken into the church and tampered with the poor boxes.

Acting on a hunch, Sgt. Enders asked the boys about the church burglary, and after intensive questioning, they confessed to the attempted stealing of the meters and the breaking into the church.

They admitted taking $8 in bills which were stuck near the slots of the poor boxes.

Further questioning by Sgt. Enders brought out the fact that the boys were already wanted for the burglary of the old St. Clare church in 1952. They finally broke down and admitted several other burglaries committed in Detroit, which also included robbing an other church poor box that same night.

They were arraigned before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger, the same day. They pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking and entering at night, and were remanded to the Wayne county jail, pending trial.

Chief Louwers commended the two sergeants for their night's work.

Don't Run Over My Little Girl

With the opening of schools in the Pointes, thousands of young folks will be returning from camps and cottages in rural resort areas where they considered the automobile as an occasional convenience, when they considered the auto at all.

But back on city streets this thinking changes. The car becomes a hazard that these young people must continually watch as they walk to their schools five days a week.

The police chiefs of the Grosse Pointes have announced once again that they are cooperating in the nationwide traffic safety program to "Watch Out for Kids."

Motorists are urged to use extra caution when passing school areas and to keep in mind the common rules of safety at all times. With shorter periods of daylight and a haze drifting through the air, Autumn traditionally has been a period where the accident rate mounts steadily. The matter of safety cannot be left up entirely to school children—particularly those early grades. It is the task of every motorist to keep constantly alert and to be on the look out for every boy and every girl as expressed so aptly in the widely used safety letter from a father which follows in these columns pleading with drivers: "Don't Run Over My Little Girl."

Dear Driver:

Today my daughter, who is 7 years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker-spaniel whose name is "Scout" sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "Good-Bye" and started off to the Halls of Learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her—the girl with the yellow curls—and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher who has eyes in the back of her head—and about the trees in the school yard—and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital unimportant things; then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic and—then to bed.

She's back there now—back in the nursery—sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's a doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken, or her finger is cut, or her head gets bumped, I can fix it—but when she starts across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer and dart about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and bike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time—I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So—please drive slowly past the schools and intersections—and remember that children run from behind parked cars.

But Not a Drop to Drink

The recent shortage of water in the Grosse Pointes calls our attention to a paradoxical situation. And the situation is typical of many communities in this great state that has been blessed with so much.

Here we sat, we Pointers, on the banks of a large and lovely lake. We enjoy the fruit and pleasures that this lake offers us. From it, through the Detroit River, our neighboring metropolis reaps the benefits of another valuable system.

But with each dry period of weather the cry goes up to save water and many cannot understand why with all these liquid blessings that this area must do without.

The answers—and we find many who are ignorant of this—is not the supply we have at hand, but the means of getting this water into filtering plants and through channels into our homes.

Detroit and the Pointes have seen this problem grow with the increase in population. And projects have been under way to correct this problem. But such an undertaking—such a HUGE undertaking—requires time. And we can rest in assurance that within not too many years to come this problem will be whipped and our friendly and sometimes fickle lake will serve us to the fullest extent of which it is capable.

Stay in School, Youths Advised

A call was issued to all parents, everywhere, to encourage their teen-age youths to give up their summer jobs and return to school this fall.

"Nationally, the call was issued by Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin. I would like to emphasize the need for every parent to heed his request," commented William S. Singley, Cleveland regional director of the U.S. Labor Department's Wage-Hour Division.

"One-third of the nation's 16 and 17-year-olds failed to return to school last fall from their summer jobs," he said. "This was an increase of 20 per cent over the number which failed to return in 1951. Prior to last year there had been a steady decline from 1944."

Singley pointed out that the Federal child labor law prohibits 16 and 17-year olds only from employment in any of the 11 hazardous occupations. Of the 11 truck drivers and helper and elevator and lift-truck operator are the ones in which the Division most often finds violations. Youngsters under 14, he added,

"There shall never be one lost good; what was shall live as before; The evil is null, is naught, is silence implying sound; What was good shall be good, with for evil so much good more; On the earth the broken arcs, in the heaven a perfect round." (Robert Browning)

This would seem to be parakeet week. Last issue of the G.P. News carried a classified ad concerning the loss of a parakeet who could say his name, give his address, etc. We followed up on the story after finding the bird had been returned. It seems that his owner could hear him talking high up in a tree but birdie dear refused to come down. Finally came the heavy rain last week and our little hero couldn't take it. Feathers soaked and bedraggled, he slowly marched up the walk of a neighbor's house and asked to come in. The woman told him to jump on her finger, which he did. She then telephoned the owner, who came for him, cage in hand.

Our next parakeet story starts in a mysterious manner. It seems that a family living on Harvard road bought a new car recently . . . always a conversation piece for the neighborhood. Therefore it was not surprising that the neighbors noticed after a week or so, that in spite of the fact that the new car owners had a perfectly good garage, they were leaving their car parked on the street all night.

One of their nosier acquaintances also noted that Junior's bicycle was being left on the porch at night instead of in the garage as usual. This was TOO much, so when the word got around, a couple of intrepid block dwellers decided to investigate. They peered into the garage and found it seemingly empty . . . so, not to be thwarted, they rang the doorbell and just plain ASKED the owner why he didn't park in his garage at night! He showed them why.

The garage was being used by an infant cardinal they had found . . . a poor little orphan who came to their door for shelter. They took it in, fed it and even put their parakeet in the garage to keep the little fellow company. The last we heard both birds were doing well . . . and Pop's car is STILL being left in the street so as not to disturb the two feathered boarders. Pretty cute, eh?

Lucien Lelong has come out with another new and fancy package that would be any girl's dream come true. It is called the "Royal Box" and contains a veritable treasure chest of Lelong perfumes . . . done in the manner of the Royal Box in London. Indiscreet has the star spot (as it should) and is surrounded by smaller bottles of Tailspin, Orgueil, Sirroco and a baby Indiscreet for good measure. A heavenly gift with which to send Junior Miss back to College. P.S. Your grandmother would like it, too!

On one of the 99 in the shade days last week, a local woman hastily wrote out the supper menu and left it with her cook before going out for the afternoon. She was more than mildly surprised when the cook telephoned her during a bridge game and asked what the main dish she ordered was supposed to be. Our heroine said: "What did I write?" The cook then announced that in perfectly clear script Madame had written "creamed sweaters." She added that she had shown it to everyone in sight, including the neighbors next door but no one could figure it out. Madam said her mind must have been on the days when she would again be comfortable in a sweater . . . but she had meant to order creamed sweetbreads!

On the same hot day, a friend of ours hailed a cab in front of the hotels and noticed that another woman standing nearby was anxious to get the same cab, so she graciously offered to share it with her after finding they were going in the same direction. As they settled themselves in the taxi, our pal introduced herself by saying, "I'm Mrs. Soandso." The woman said she was pleased to meet her and returned the compliment by introducing herself with: "I'm the wife of the owner of the Bon Ton Tea room." Our informant blames it on the heat . . . but nevertheless she answered: "Well, I'm glad to meet you Mrs. Bon Ton."

If it weren't for children we would probably never be able to fill this column. Therefore we are going to foster a be-kind-to-children week in their honor. This week's child is the ten-year-old daughter of a Pointe couple . . . who recently returned from Europe. They took the child with them and "boated" abroad out of New York. After seeing everything there was to be seen in N. Y. and on the ship . . . they toured all over Europe visiting all the old standby places of interest. The youngster seemed genuinely interested in all she saw, made some rather sage comments and asked many intelligent questions while sight-seeing.

When the family returned home, they had a small celebration after the purpose of regaling their friends with travel talk. Being rather proud of dear daughter's absorption in the "finer things in life" . . . they encouraged their friends to ask little Lindy what impressed her most on the trip. (Mama had an idea the kid would say the Louvre in Paris.) But who can count on the young and active mind?

Little Miss, when asked to think back and tell them what she liked best on ALL the trip, said: "I don't have to think. I liked the horse in front of Central Park in New York. The one, with the hat on." You just can't win!

This is a tip to a little woman who lives in the vicinity of the Village. Apparently she thinks her nearby neighbors enjoy her voice . . . because she has taken to singing at the top of her lungs these hot nights when all windows are open. What's more . . . she usually starts about midnight and keeps it up until the wee hours and she aint no Lily Pons. Her latest rendition seems to be "Doggy in the Window" . . . and we are told that her "Yip-Yips" are ear-splitting. If she doesn't cut it out . . . she may have to change her tune to "Lady in the Hoosegown" . . . yip, yip.

may not be employed in any occupation at any time, except those few which are exempt. Boys and girls 14 and 15 years of age may work only in non-mining, nonmanufacturing and nonhazardous occupations outside of school hours. And then their hours of work are limited. The 1950 census disclosed that every year of schooling adds to adult income, said Singley. Men high school graduates, 25 years of age and older, averaged $752 a year more in 1949 than 8th grade graduates. High school graduates make almost as much at 25 as 8th graders at 45.

Docks Given to Children's Camp

Mr. and Mrs. J. Alex Park of Lewiston road are at their summer home on Lake Huron. Nearby is Camp Grace Bentley, sponsored by the Michigan League for Crippled Children, of which Mrs. Park is an active member. Two docks for the camp were a recent gift from the Parks. Mr. Park is supervising construction of the docks, which will be a substantial addition to the equipment of the children's camp.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

With Labor Day late this year we were able to extract the last drop of pleasure from those precious vacation days. All good things have an end, however. As Alistair Cook observes in One Man's America . . . "The real end of the American year is not the thirty-first of December but the old festival of Labor Day.

It is the day when summer is put away, the swimming trunks squeezed in the country cottages filled with mouse-seed and rat paste, the storm-doors hammered into place, the lock turned for the last time on your private world of sun and sand and picnics.

Labor Day brings you back to the world of schools and offices. To stifling colds and insurance policies, to taxes and radio commentators, to dark nights and the dark horizon of politics. You paint a bleak picture for a few bright spots on the fall horizon. We return . . .

To schools: To thousands of parents the first day of school is not unwelcome. The responsibility of Johnny's every waking moment can be safely shifted for a part of the day, at least, to the wise guidance of his teacher.

To offices: With the mercury soaring, even the unenthusiastic worker can be wooed back to the job if the office is air conditioned.

To taxes and radio commentators: taxes . . . let's forget about them until the Spring, and as for radio commentators, after a long summer in the sticks, they as well as their listeners appear to take on new life.

To dark nights: the nights begin to close in early and the theatres are losing no time trying on their bright lights. Those who made the pilgrimage to Stratford for the Shakespearean festival in July and August have their appetites whetted for a good season of drama. We're looking forward to the first theatre guild production at the Cass this week, the Seven Lear Ith, to determine for ourselves whether it comes up to scratch!

To the dark horizon of politics: If we have been away from newspapers and television, we've much to catch up with on the political front. We've agreed that some understanding of world affairs is essential these days and for the great majority of us, that understanding can best come through reading. Books on politics, international relations and economics provide perhaps the most vital information but travel, biography and fiction can give a wealth of understanding as well. Up-to-date books of this type are available at all your public libraries. Start the fall rolling with a well-planned reading program . . .

The small fry this summer have had fun at a film hour held each week at all three libraries. The total attendance for the ten

Anemia Occurs In Pregnancy

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

One of the reasons medical attention is so important in the early stages of pregnancy is to make certain that the mother's health remains consistently good.

More than a third of all pregnant women suffer some degree of anemia. By prescribing additional blood-building foods or drugs a doctor can correct the condition.

Certain drugs do a remarkable job of building blood in a very short time.

Have prescriptions filled by a pharmacist who can be relied on for quality products and service.

'53 Silver Cup Regatta One of Best on Record

By FRED RUNNELLS

One of the best of the seven Silver Cup regattas was held on Labor Day and thousands of speedboat spectators enjoyed thrills aplenty.

Reams and reams of copy have been written about the actual race for the big unlimited (Gold Cup) type boats which was run in five twelve mile heats from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. which saw youthful Lee Schoenith drive his daddy's boat "Gale II" to a narrow victory over Chuck Thompson in Jack Shafer's "Such Crust III" to retain the beautiful Silver Cup. Danny Foster won it last year with "Gale II" while Lee was playing soldier in Korea.

9 Boats Entered

Nine boats were entered and eight started. However, Danny Foster in "Miss Great Lakes" failed to finish the first heat and pulled the badly leaking hull into Memorial Park with a huge hole in the planking. It was in the first heat that Lou Fageol rode "Slo-Mo V" like a western cowboy. The first pitch "Slo-Mo" made came near Memorial Park when he hit the wash from "Gale" and bounced high in the air.

But the veteran of 27 years of racing was too foxy and pulled his boat out of the dangerous gyration and took after Schoenith who was barreling down to the far turn at the Belle Isle bridge.

As the two whizzed past the judges stand on the DYC dock "Slo-Mo" again leaped high in the air and the Grim Reaper could have swung his scythe between the boat and the water. That's how high Fageol was off the surface. It was thrilling to all except Fageol and to him it must have been grim. However, Lou brought his craft out of this dangerous situation with flying colors and shot "Slo-Mo" into the lead to stay.

Grueiling Pace

The first race was so grueiling that Fageol and Schoenith gave up their seats in their boats for the second race. Joe Taggart took over "Slo-Mo" and the dejected Foster slipped behind the wheel of "Gale".

Foster thrilled the fans as he copped the lead at the start and scored the first victory over Stan Sayres "Slo-Mo".

Foster thrilled the fans as he copped the lead and led all the way to take the second race. This made the points fairly even between "Slo-Mo", "Gale" and Shafer's two "Such Crusts" which were very much in the running.

Tension was high as the boats came out for the start of the third race at 3 p.m. This was the crucial contest. This could go a long way in determining the Silver Cup winner. The starters gun boomed and "Such Crust V" with Wild Bill Cantrell at the wheel was over first but "Gale", "Slo-Mo" and "Such Crust III" were close behind in a blanket start. As the four zipped past the judges stand the 16 mile per hour northwest wind blew the rooster tail spray across the dock drenching writers, radio men and photographers alike.

Drowns Out Motor

This was just a sample of what Fageol got when he hit the first turn as SC V threw a tremendous spray back on "Slo-Mo" and drowned out his motor then "Gale" came along and made the job complete as Fageol sat dead in the water drenched and done for the day it was learned later. "Gale" went on to win and take the lead in points.

The fourth race was all Chuck

Snatched Purse Found in Field

A lady's white purse was turned over to the Farms police on Thursday, Sept. 3, when it was found in a vacant field by Felix J. Tatajewski, of Feranworth, Detroit.

The purse is the property of Ina Baker, 67, who is a resident at the Country Club, and from whom the purse was snatched on Aug. 24 by two young hoodlums.

The woman was set upon by teenage assailants, who struck her and grabbed her purse and a shopping bag she was holding, as she neared her home.

The police had found the shopping bag in front of 205 County Club.

The purse contained $80, a bank and check book, a folder containing citizenship papers, and a downtown department store charge account plate.

When found, the purse contained only the citizenship papers and miscellaneous articles.

The police still have no clues leading to the hoodlums.

Driver Falls from Car; It Plunges Into Lake

Thomas Travers, of 23722 E. Jefferson, St. Clair Shores, suffered bruises and pavement burns on Wednesday, Sept. 2, when he fell out of his car on Lake Shore road, just before he lost control and it went over the seawall into the lake.

According to Farms police, Travers was traveling east on Lake Shore, when he lost control of the vehicle and it hit a curb on the south side of the road.

The impact caused the driver to fall out of the car and to skid on the pavement causing bruises and burns.

The driverless car continued on its way over the seawall and into the lake up to its fenders.

Travers blamed the incident on a faulty steering wheel, but a witness, John Sullivan of 343 Beaure, who was driving east, told police that the car involved was driving in a very erratic manner for about 300 or 400 feet before the accident happened.

Travers was given a ticket for reckless driving.

New State Rules Bans Inter-School Scrimmages

A new state ruling banning inter-school scrimmages threw another "road block" in the short preparation plans of the high school coaches for the opening of the prep football season around the middle of the month.

With only three weeks to whip a mixture of returning lettermen and green hopefuls into a winning combination for the fall schedule the coaches find themselves shorn of the only method of finding their best players. In past years the first ten days of practice the squads went through preliminary drills and toughening up exercises. The balance of the training period was consumed with inter-school scrimmages. This was the all important part of the program for it gave the mentors a chance to see their boys in action under game conditions.

The larger Class A schools like Grosse Pointe, which have more manpower, don't figure to miss the inter-school scrimmage too much. Although Coach Ed Wernet has always worked in at least a couple of pre-season scrimmages just to get a line on his charges.

The ban also includes basketball. Actually, the schools forced the state representative council, which sets the rules governing prep sports in Michigan, to vote for the ban last May. State prep director Charles Forsythe said, "We were getting all kinds of complaints about teams staging scrimmages under virtually game-like conditions. I haven't seen our council so angry on a matter in a long time." He continued, "In many cases in football, schools would face one another in a scrimmage at night with fans permitted to watch. Even regularly approved officials would be used, although it was explained the referees, like the players, were just working themselves into shape."

Forsythe added: "The schools themselves have decided we establish a rule stating teams must practice three weeks before opening contests. Yet with the scrimmages so game-like, schools were violating the intent of our state regulation."

Forsythe felt that by banning inter-school scrimmages it would help cut down the number of football injuries.

There you have it. Two different schools of thought. It will be interesting to watch the progress of the teams and the caliber of play in the early contests. The majority of the prep coaches are in favor of returning to the pre-season inter-school scrimmage.

It is possible the prep governing body used this method of slapping the schools on the wrist for past violations and may repeal the ban in 1954.

New Insurance Coverage For High School Gridders

Something new has been added to the State football prep scene this year. For the first time virtually all Michigan high school football players will automatically be insured against injuries from the time they slip into their cleated shoes until their first game.

Under a change in the code of the benefit plan operated by the State Prep Association, a school no longer has to file a list of football players the first day of practice and then add or subtract from the list during the first three weeks of September as has been the practice in past years.

Current regulations automatically protect a griddier provided his school was a member of the benefit plan last year and the players name and a nominal premium is automatically sent to the state office by Sept. 15.

Under the new setup the athletic directors of the schools have more time to get their paper work in order and it will eliminate the possibility of a player missing the first practice session because he failed to get his insurance card and permission slip signed by his parents back before the initial practice.

This has happened in the past and the new ruling helps the coaches to have their full squads on hand from the first day of the training grind.

Detroit Crew Captures Sailing Trophy

—Picture by Fred Runnells

Five members of the six man Detroit crew which won the famous Barthel Trophy for the second time in the seventeen year history of the series tenderly touch the famous trophy as they pose for their history making picture at Bayview Y.C. after returning from Toronto, where the series was sailed. Left to right: BILL NAGEL, HEINIE SCHUCK, SKIPPER MAURIE deCLERQ, JACK BODKIN and DICK BRANDT. CARTER SALES, the sixth member, was unavoidably detained and couldn't make the victory party. The last time a Detroit crew won the series was back in 1947 with EDDIE WUNSCH, BOB KERR, TED COGGIN, BILL DENNES, JOHN POTTE and TOMMY LOTT.

Tennis Champs To Play Here

Grosse Pointe tennis fans are in for some top notch entertainment at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club next Sunday, September 13 when four members of the Australian Davis Cup team and two outstanding U. S. players will take part in an exhibition.

Ken Rosewall, Lewis Hoad, Rex Hartwig and Ian Ayre are the four from "down under" and Billy Talbert and Budge Patty are the U. S. Stars. The exhibition marks the first time in over two decades that a group of top flight amateurs have played in Grosse Pointe.

Rosewall currently holds the Australian and French singles titles and with Hoad, the Australian and Wimbledon doubles crowns. Hartwig recently beat Vic Seixas for the Eastern singles title.

The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club is now taking mail orders for the exhibition under the direction of Frank Donovan who is chairman of the Club's tennis committee.

Beef will be plentiful in the markets during September—especially beef of the intermediate and lower grades from grass-fat animals from the range country. This meat is particularly well suited to stews, pot roasts and the wide variety of dishes made from ground beef.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

For years we have been yelling bloody murder about the way the majority of powerboat operators defy and ignore the basic "rules of the road" but the other night while we were sitting on the front lawn of Bayview Y.C. we discovered violators more deadly than a gun man. We refer to the owners of the little outboard boats and the fishermen.

At the time we wondered why more accidents do not occur on the river after dark. We saw fishermen chugging and trolling back and forth against the current, continually crossing the paths of the multitude of cruisers and sail boats. Some had lights but for the most part the fishermen completely ignored the rules on running lights and as though this wasn't bad enough they didn't have the sense to display even a white light so they could be seen by other skippers. Common sense would seem to dictate to the fishermen that some sort of illumination on their small craft would be for their own safety.

We noticed that for the most part the small boats that did display running lights were extremely hard to see because the lights were not of sufficient candlepower.

The hot-rodgers of the river, those guys with the small row-boat type craft, were completely oblivious of cautious piloting. On numerous occasions they would cut in and out of the traffic with their high powered outboard motors roaring wide open. Even these flagrantly defied the rules of safety and in our estimation are more dangerous than the unlighted fishing boats because of the high speeds the hot rodgers whip their boats over the water.

Even though we have yelled and screamed and stomped our feet like martyring Sam at a Dogpatch wedding about the big cruisers for years we must admit these pilots, and we do mean ALL of them, rigidly observe the rules on proper lighting on their crafts.

That warm night last week made us begin to wonder if the ruling against the "Fourth Marie" was correct last Spring. Could it be that the fishing boat the "Fourth Marie" ran down a year ago was unlighted like most of the fishing boats we saw that night. Actually, there wasn't enough left of the fatal fishing boat to determine whether it had had lights or not. It was one man's word against captain and his passengers on the "Fourth Marie" and the courts ruled against the bigger boat.

Whether it was fair or not it is not for us to decide BUT we can wonder if the fatal fishing boat was properly lighted and being piloted in a safe manner. Too many times we have seen the fishermen hold their course and run right across the bow of bigger boats just because they don't want their lines to become slack and sink to the bottom of the river.

This is a dangerous maneuver and the fishermen should for their own safety keep out of the way of the larger and harder to handle craft.

Everyone has equal rights to use the waters of our land BUT EVERYONE should observe the "rules of the road" which are designed to safeguard life and limb of those who take to the water for recreation whether it be for cruising, racing or fishing.

Last Spring Detroit purchased a fast Police boat which is reportedly supposed to attain speeds up to fifty miles per hour. We have seen it tearing up and down the river during the week days when boat traffic is light but not once have we seen it in operation during the hours after dark. Where do they keep it. We believe it could be put to better use after dark and pick up the violators. Just a few violators would have to be picked up and you will very soon see ALL boats display the proper lights and be handled in a safe manner.

The Coast Guard could help tremendously if it would patrol the river between the head of Peche Island and the Belle Isle bridge. That is where most of the traffic is and besides it is Federal waters over which the Coast Guard has complete jurisdiction.

Last Sunday's squall, August 31, cancelled out the final race of the Detroit Lightning Squadron championship series which was won by Bayview's Wes Weidrick.

Using Crescent's regatta, on August 29, as the first race the series was supposed to be concluded on the following day with two races. In the morning race CSYC Commodore Cawthra led the big fleet home with O'Hara and Weidrick following in that order to place in the money. Weidrick the previous day had taken the lead by winning the Crescent regatta by the narrowest of margins over Warren Jones who finish fifth in the first race on Sunday.

The Sunday afternoon race was when the squall hit with winds estimated up to 50 mph. The fleet was on a spinnaker run. The smarter skippers immediately dropped the chutes and some even dragged down all sails. This is what O'Hara did but the wind was so strong that he capsized under bare pole. Weidrick, who was leading at the time, dropped his spinnaker and estimated his "Wee Dee" was doing nine miles per hour while dragging the chute in the water behind him using just his main which he eventually hauled down and rode out the storm.

Cawthra, two time Michigan State Lightning champion, elected to carry his spinnaker through the squall in an attempt to catch the fast moving Weidrick but Cawthra, of all people, CAPSIZED. That one is going to be hard to live down.

Jim Northmore experienced the same treatment from the squall because he DIDN'T HAVE HIS SPINAKER UP.

After the squall passed all but one skipper pulled into the club

Barthel Trophy Back In Town at Long Last

There was lotsa whooping and ahollering last Friday night, Sept. 4, following the Barthel Series, September 1 to 3, when Skipper Maurie de Clerq and his crew of Bill Nagel, Heinie Schuck, Jack Bodkin, Dick Brandt and Carter Sales walked into Bayview Y.C. with the famous old Barthel Trophy. This marked the second time in the 17 year history of the event that a Detroit crew had captured the trophy which is supposed to be a miniature replica of an eight meter sloop on a marble base.

According to Russ Pouliot the replica is not an eight meter but an R class boat. We won't dispute the authenticity we'll let the old salts argue over that one. We just know the Detroit guys were plenty happy to add it to the Bayview trophy case once again.

Birthday Celebration
To make the occasion all the more hilarious, it was Bill Nagel's birthday and everyone joined in the merry making and celebration which lasted until the wee hours of the next morning.

Forgotten was the fact the Royal Canadian Y. C., the acting host, didn't act like a host should act; that the Detroit gang squeezed out the Queen City crew from Toronto by a mere one point; that the fabulous Bill Dreher and his South Shore Y.C. crew from Chicago disqualified themselves in the first race and gave our guys a chance; that the weather was hot (104 degrees) and the scarcity of beer aboard the loaned boats wasn't ample and the social events after each day of racing was conspicuous by their absence. Our guys were just plain happy that they had won the elusive trophy.

Heaps of Praise
According to skipper deClerq had nothing but praise for the gang he picked to help him win. Many local tars figured deClerq had chosen too many chiefs and not enough Indians to make up a successful crew but he fooled them all. The praise was terrific that he heaped on Jack Bodkin, Heinie Schuck and Dick Brandt who worked the foredeck and light canvas. He said "Bodkin brought that jennys around each time and practically dove through the snatch block as Bill Nagel and Carter cranked it in on the weather legs of the six races.

Nagel, all 234 pounds of him, sweat like a horse as he cranked the big winches and at the end of the series he stepped on the scales and he hadn't lost an ounce. deClerq figured Nagel had dripped 234 pounds of perspiration in the bilge and was amazed when the Bayview vice commodore tipped the scales at the exact figure he did before the series started.

Disqualified by Accident
Where Detroit got its big break was in the first race when Skipper Bill Dreher and his crew of Norm Hundt, Carl Mueller (he used to sail around here sometime ago) Neil Tanger, Robert Batey and Sonny Sorce pushed their bow up on the stern of the Toronto boat as she tacked in front of them. Dreher was disqualified under the new rule for not avoiding a collision.

Using three borrowed boats, two from Toronto, "Venture" and "Invader" and one from Rochester Y.C. "Iskarine", commonly referred to as the "pig" of the three, the series was a round robin affair. In the first three races the boats finished exactly the same no matter who sailed them. "Venture" was first, "Invader" second and "Iskarine" last.

It was in the fourth race that the Detroit crew broke the magic chain when they pushed "Iskarine" over the line in second place. This was the big break, coupled with the fact the Chicago crews disqualification, of the series. It gave Detroit a one point lead which they maintained.

Boats Mismatched
All the crews agreed that the boats were mismatched and poorly equipped for racing. "Iskarine" didn't even have spinnaker sheets aboard and the Detroit-er weren't informed of this until after they had started the race and went to use them. A fast makeshift deal with the jenny sheets sufficed to see them through to the finish line.

Later at the dock deClerq asked the Toronto crew of Skipper Arn Gorman, Bill Inrig, John Lapp, Mel Harris, Ken Purchase and Al Rae if they knew the spinnaker sheets were missing and they said they did and explained they had used their own lines. It was the same with the Chicago crew. Our guys were like babes in the woods. They didn't take anything but themselves to the series.

Not Up To Par
Last year when the Barthel was sailed off the Grosse Pointe Y. C. in Pilot class sloops the best canvas was left aboard along with all the necessary running gear to sail a race.

Yes sir, according to reports this years series was a far cry from the one the Detroit gang put on last year. Next year Bill Dreher and his bunch promised the series would be a heck of a lot better than the Canadians put on this year. It will be sailed in Milwaukee where Eddie Wunsch and his boys won it the first time for Detroit.

Robert Ver Heille captured the Junior division with a score of 363.2 which gave him a wide margin over second place winner Ronnie Johnston who had 341.8. Third place was taken by Linda Taylor with a score of 303.7.

The Senior division was topped by George Hoffman with a mark of 323.2 and Harold Cotton finished close behind in second place with 321.0. Gus Keller took third with 302.9.

The club has twenty-one members with seven youngsters making up the Junior division. All of the Juniors competed and eight seniors vied for top honors in the event.

Rid Your Lawn Of Pesky Moles

Early fall—as well as early spring—is a good time to do something about that unwelcome underground visitor—the mole.

You can trap the lawn destroyers if you're careful, advise Michigan State College specialists. Moles will clear and repair tunnels which have been matted down or become clogged.

So, the specialists say, leave the trap in the matted earth where the mole can dig into it before he realizes the trap is there.

The MSC men also recommend taking care of the moles by destroying their food supply—with an application of chlordane or lead arsenate. The insecticide kills grub worms which moles feed on.

Packard's Sales, Earnings Doubled

Packard Motor Car Company's sales and earnings for the first six months of 1953 were approximately double those for the same period in 1952. The company's operations for the first six months result in earnings, before income taxes, of $16,474,251 with net earnings after tax provisions of $6,027,251, as against $3,091,473 for that period of 1952. Sales for the period were $22,281,062, as against $9,881,441 the first half of the previous year.

In a statement accompanying the report to stockholders, James J. Nance, president, said that the new Packard program, which is returning the company to the luxury car field and establishing the Packard Clipper in the medium priced field, had kept pace with the schedules announced last fall. Approximately 60,000 automobiles were produced in the first six months of 1953 compared with 33,000 for that period last year.

While the consolidated sales of Packard Motor Car Company has continued high, the message pointed out that an Air Force cut-back on jet engines had reduced sales volume somewhat from the first quarter rate.

"It is expected that the annual season drop in demand for cars will be experienced during the second half," the message said, adding that a strike affecting Detroit tool and die makers had delayed the planned introduction date of the company's 1954 models. "In view of the highly competitive market facing the automobile industry, it was felt that your company would be well advised to watch inventory levels and adjust production accordingly in the period ahead," Nance said.

The six months' statement showed that the company's financial position has been strengthened during the year.

Your neighbors take very little interest in your problems—but expect a great deal of loyalty from you.

RICHARD SCHOOL

Richard School halls resound Thursday to the sounds of work and play, laughter and conversation, for more than 500 children in the kindergarten through the sixth grade. For about 100 little five years olds in the kindergarten it is an event of great importance.

For the 20 regular staff members the 1953-54 school year presents a real challenge. Coming from homes of many types, with varying kinds of experiences, each youngster is accepted as an individual with important potentialities. In the coming weeks the children will daily be having many experiences in order to make them best possible citizens of their community.

During the past summer months the school building and grounds, under the general supervision of Dr. James W. Bushong, superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Schools, have been put in excellent shape. Playground equipment has been painted. Several of the classrooms have been re-decorated.

Due to increased enrollment an additional room has been made ready for use as a regular classroom. This is the room formerly used as a movie room and museum. Custodians for the school will include Mr. Power, chief, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Pollock. The last is new to the staff, replacing Mr. Schmidt, who retired in July.

U. of D. Alumni To Honor Three

Brian O'Keefe, 2065 Fleetwood, Grosse Pointe Woods, has been named to a committee of 13 University of Detroit alumni who will be in charge of a Testimonial Night on September 10 to honor the Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, S.J., U. of D. president, John J. Cronin, past alumni president, and Michael "Dad" Butler, trainer emeritus of the Titan athletes.

Dr. J. Raymond Delaney, committee head, stated that they are planning a "snowball" campaign to turn out a minimum of 2,000 alumni to honor these three men.

The committee members are pledged to bring seven friends to an attendance committee meeting Tuesday, August 25.

"We will ask each of the 100 attendance committee members to account for 10 friends at the Testimonial Night and each of the 'friends' to bring a friend," Dr. Delaney explained.

In addition to the presentation of the testimonials at the September 10 meeting, the alumni will hear Fr. Steiner's "Fifth Year Report," covering his first four years at U. of D., and plans for the present year and the future.

returning are: Mrs. Arends, Miss Snell, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Liddicoat, Mrs. Dombrowski, Mrs. Drew, Mrs. Schwalbe, Miss Blank, Mrs. Stringer, Miss Bockes, Miss Nault, Miss Bourg, Miss Tomb, Miss Arenz, and Mr. Maiben. Mrs. Smith acts as the secretary.

Four new staff members join the Richard School organization. Mrs. Darvil, who comes from Maine, will assume charge of one of the first grade sections. Miss Goodwyn, who hails from Lansing, also takes over a first grade group.

In the absence of Mrs. Johnson, who is at her husband's army camp in the east, Miss Koby has a third grade section. Miss Koby has recently been teaching at Long Beach, Calif. Mrs. Schmult, a Grosse Pointe resident who has been a regular substitute in our schools in the past year, will have a fifth grade class.

In addition to the regular staff members a number of other professional people will give their services part time to the school. Mrs. Gies will give counseling help in art, Mrs. Fenton in music, and Mr. Falk in physical education.

The speech correctionist is Miss Buell and the nurse Mrs. Davis. Dr. Hourihan will act in the capacity of visiting teacher. Mrs. Dombrowski is the first assistant and Mr. Messner the principal.

The instructional program will begin in earnest and in the coming weeks new activities will be added. Among these is a very successful Parent Teacher Association. All of the staff members at Richard welcome the children and patrons of the school and everyone looks forward to a most successful and happy year.

Group Attends Football Game

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. McCormick of Audubon road were dinner hosts at the Detroit Athletic Club Friday to Mr. McCormick's brother, Fr. John McCormick, and Fr. John Duhart. After dinner the quartet continued on to Briggs Stadium for the Detroit Lions-Cleveland Browns football game.

The two priests are Redemptorist missionaries who are home after assignments abroad. Fr. McCormick returned this summer after 10 years in Brazil, and Fr. Duhart has just spent several years in Siam.

$150,000 Given For UD Building

A gift of $150,000 from the Fisher Brothers Youth Activities Fund, Inc., was added to the University of Detroit Student Activities Building fund yesterday.

The gift was presented to the Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, S.J., U. of D. president, by Edward F. Fisher, president of the Youth Activities Fund.

"This gift—one in a long series of benefactions by the Fisher family to the University of Detroit, is a generous testimonial to the value of the work being carried on at the University of Detroit for the youth of the community," Fr. Steiner stated.

"While the physical result of this investment will be seen in a structure of brick, mortar and steel," he continued, "its unseen and spiritual significance will make itself felt throughout the years in the good wrought by thousands of young men and women who will pass through the portals of the University ready to take their places in the commercial, industrial and civic life of our community."

The Fisher $150,000 gift brings the Activities Building fund to the $780,000 mark. The cost of the proposed structure will be $1,700,000. The Burroughs Corporation gave $30,000 to the fund last week to move the total to $630,000 before the Fisher gift was received.

Students at the University have raised more than $275,000 for the fund through their own efforts.

More than $125,000 was raised on four Spring Carnivals and Student Union gifts totaled more than $39,000.

Students also voted a $1-a-semester per capita tax upon themselves for the fund. This has added $24,000 during the past three years.

Welcome to New Teachers

Because of the growth of the Grosse Pointe community and the subsequent increased enrollment in the public schools, the Grosse Pointe School Board has made some 50 appointments to the different faculties. These appointments have also been made because of the need to replace those teachers leaving the Public School system for reason of transfer or retirement. By way of introduction to the parents of children who will attend or who are now attending the public schools, the NEWS is publishing weekly short biographies of those whose appointments have been confirmed. During the coming months until school reopens in the fall, the biographies of new teachers will appear in each issue.

William D. Booth worked his way through school to obtain his education. Born in Kentucky, he received his BA degree from Ball State Teachers College. Last year he taught in the schools of Indiana. He is married and the father of an infant son. He will teach English at Pierce Junior High School.

PILFERINGS

"Looks like rain," said the tourist to the old-timer at the filling station in an arid part of the West.

"I sure hope so," sighed the old man. "Not for myself," he added quickly, "but for my grandson here. I've seen rain."

A well-known Broadway producer was listening to a young author who explained that he had a new play which was going to have the whole town cheering. It had everything—glamorous sets, good character parts, sex, violence, excitement.

"And not only is it a great play," exulted the writer, "but it carries a message as well."

The producer grunted. "I want a play, just one little play," he said. "Let Western Union carry the messages."

Some quiet evening when your girl has stayed home to wash her hair and there is nothing at the movies you haven't seen, why don't you sit home and figure out how many different bridge hands can be dealt to four players? If you'd like to work it out by yourself, don't read that E. V. Shepard in Auction Bridge magazine says that 635,013,359,600 different hands may be dealt.

Leo Rosten, who wrote the "Hyman Kaplan" stories as Leonard Q. Ross, ruefully tells this story about his first secretary.

After many interviews he had hired a young lady who was cultured and grammatically perfect. He gave her the first Hyman Kaplan story he had written, in longhand, and asked her to type clean copies for him.

When she had finished he found his painstakingly accurate dialect had been translated into dull and perfect English while his original story, which had insulted her intelligence, had been ripped up and thrown away.

MRS. GEORGE RUSSEL TRUE OF MORAN ROAD

By Jane Schermerhorn

Very soon, now, the George Russel Trues will be bidding the Pointe au revoir for several years.

Theirs is indeed a different kind of journey for they leave for Nigeria, Africa, in behalf of Bahaism—just to be ready to answer any questions the natives may have on this religion which has so influenced their lives.

The Trues are the first to admit that this statement of the facts usually brings a baffled "They're WHAT?" but the story unfolds logically, interestingly and leaves the listener inspired for having found a couple who are leaving the comforts and luxury of life in the United States just because they want to share a way of life in which they believe.

Perhaps you're first question concerns Bahaism.

The Trues were introduced to the philosophy back in 1935 when friends invited them to attend an evening discussion group of Bahaisms in Detroit.

At that point, they, too, were looking for a one-sentence explanation of what it was about.

"It was quickly apparent," Mrs. True said the other afternoon, "Bahaism was simply living religion. We learned it was man's attitude toward God as expressed in his every day life; that a simple good deed is the highest form of worship."

"We found its philosophy stimulating and also were impressed that Bahaism is not only the teachings of Jesus, Moses, Mohammed, the Krishna, the Zoroastrians but that it is progressive since every thousand years a new leader appears to reveal and interpret divine laws essential to the world and the people today."

For the Trues, Bahaism was so satisfactory they soon became regulars at these gatherings at the homes of fellow Bahaisms. In turn their home was the scene of similar discussion meetings.

Friendship's Hands They met Bahaisms from all over the world, for it is a world religion. They have welcomed Bahaisms from Turkey, Greece, Iran, China, Japan, Sweden, Holland, Austria, Albania, France, Alaska, Norway and even Korea.

In the recreation room at their Moran road home (it is being sold and Mr. True is resigning his engineering post for this new life) the walls bear imprints of hands of the friends they've made. The friends have signed their names beneath the impressions and the Trues have filled them in, in color.

When they look at the walls they are reminded of the first meetings with these friends, the fascinating exchange of thoughts.

The last time they counted "hands," there were 250.

Crusade The Trues' African safari is part of a ten-year crusade being conducted by Bahaisms all over the world. The present day "Pilgrims" were those gathered at the recent World Conference. The Temple, in Wilmette, Ill., was dedicated at that conference and then the plan was outlined to the assemblage.

Bahaisms are traveling to all parts of the world where an active group of their faith does not yet exist. They are not going to "convert" because it is part of their belief that each person must accept faith for himself. (Other "bahaisms" include no regular Sunday "church" meetings . . . no paid clergy . . . no collections. When the Baha Temple was built, funds for it came from followers all over the world but contributions from outside were not even accepted.)

They are merely going to these remote parts of the earth to live as Bahaisms and if the natives like what they observe and if they have questions, they will be answered. In effect, those who volunteered to accept an active part in the Crusonic disease); the prohibitions, all on a personal basis, decree a Bahai must have only one wife.

The leader Baha-u-Laah (Glory of God), who lived in the nineteenth century, interpreted the teachings of previous holy leaders as advocating a world legislature made up of all the nations of the world, consisting of an executive and a judicial body; a world federal system; world communication and transportation systems; universal system of weights and measures; one world economy and currency system; elimination of trade barriers; a world education system; the recognition of the oneness of mankind and the elimination of racial barriers; the recognition of one common revelation.

Long before the United Nations, or the League of Nations, Baha-u-Laah told his followers that in aggression, if one nation advances against another, all the other nations must rise to quell the trouble.

Sentimental Journey It all made sense to the Trues. They are young and true, and you'd have to question them closely to receive the information we asked.

As they set out on the Crusade, they are making a sentimental journey or two on the way to Africa.

They will tarry in Madiera, where Mr. True's father was born. It was there that Great-grandfather True was United States Consul under Abraham Lincoln.

They're going to visit England for a few days, spend a month or so in Las Palmas, in the Canary Islands, and then push on to their new home and their new life.

They leave a host of friends and well-wishers in the Pointe who will think of them often and wish them Godspeed.

Ann Fogarty, dress designer, draws her inspiration for her fall collection from the Far East. "Oriental Fan Fare" possesses the stepped-up tempo of Fall . . . the wrapped look of the Orient. All this adds a spark of excitement. The "Obi" silhouette is very evident. It's like a sashed kimono, has a high, wrapped bodice, closely fitted midriff and loose, three-quarter Pagoda shoulder emphasizes width through the upper bosom . . . a subtle handling of the rounded or draped shoulder line. The dresses are so well fitted through the waist that belts are worn only as a decorative accent. We looked at many Anne Fogarty designs this morning in Jacobson's Better Dresses. The skirts are gracefully full . . . BUT with less ripple. And the slim ones are as willowy as a Chinese reed.

You'd be up in the clouds, too, if you were able to have as one of your models the famous Ponsigraves . . . the most famous model in the world. Surely you remember the spread in Life Magazine calling her "The Million Dollar Baby." Quoting Bea and Carmen, two of Marie Bird's top stylists, "Lisa is simply wonderful . . . out of this world." They think, here is a person whose beauty and charm far exceeds all the copy that has been written about her. Now you may ask, "How did this happen?" It was during the week that Bea and Carmen spent with Madame Buck on fabulous Fifth Avenue . . . after her recent trip to Europe. It is activity such as this that makes Marie Bird's, on the Hill, the choice of discriminating Grosse Pointe Women.

There is the familiar excitement . . . of a new season . . . at Young Clothes, Inc., on the hill. The boxes we peeked into this week are bulging with new Ship 'n Shore blouses. They're really a pre-teen girl's and mom's, too) pet economy. They always carry sizes 7 to 14, and in these blouses sizes 32 to 36. A monogram will make your Ship 'n Shore blouse even more distinctive.

These are the outlines of Autumn . . . these are the texture of Autumn. Once you step into a suit from D. J. Healy's you'll see yourself meeting people . . . doing things . . . going places . . . and how right you'll feel. You might choose a suit for under thirty dollars. We mean it! There is a fine tailored gray wool Sacony or a brown belted tweed. Both have lean skirts. Or you might have your eye on a suit for just under one hundred dollars. One like that sported the walking stick, skirt . . . and a loosely fitted jacket with a mere bent of curve holding the jacket close. Lots of tweeds, too. In many of the costume suits the lining matched the blouse. Wool and fur combinations are important in this collection at D. J. Healy's.

Have you discovered how hard it is to find genuine Levis? Headquarters for Levis in the Pointe is Fromm's. They have stacks of these selected 10 ounce denims in sizes 8 to 42.

If Betsy and Junior are going away to school this year you'll want to share some of their most precious moments, won't you? Then choose a camera for your children from the Camera Center, in the village. Every wonderful moment can be lived again . . . in the snapshots they send back home to you. At the Camera Center they have styles that students love . . . at prices you parents will appreciate.

Expect to find your head in a whirl. For never . . . NEVER have you and Butch and Sissy had such a wide and wonderful choice of frame styles to choose from. After you have your child's eyes tested and the prescription, see all the frames that Johnston's Optical Co., have on hand. You can depend on their precision ground lens . . . right in their own skilled laboratory. Or if you want a lens duplicated . . . they can take care of you. Open your eyes to a new world of beauty . . . visit Johnston's Optical Co., on the hill.

Sure signs of the new season are short Chesterfields . . . either for campus or town use . . . they're fingertip length . . . double breasted front with smart wide lapels and lustrous weatherized Mouton Chesterfield collar . . . body-lined with Alpaca pile . . . set-in sleeves with cuff tabs . . . two lower flap collars . . . AND, in back, is a button-on-or-off half belt. Red only. Under forty dollars. Jacobson's Sportswear.

The good fairy is at work at Young Clothes, Inc. . . . on the hill. "Saturday Specials" are just made for people like you and me. We know value and a bargain when we see one. Look over Young Clothes . . . "Saturday Specials" next Saturday . . . you just might be surprised.

Snug-as-a-bug . . . that's you even in the rain or snow if you should own this unusual Troy Caperoe. It's almost unbelievable . . . you can WEAR it . . . poncho style . . . it covers your shoulders and zips up the front . . . as a cape hood style it fits over your head . . . and if the cold settles in your legs it can be worn middle-go-round! At home you can use it as a warm rug or couch throw . . . or a gay blanket spread on a boys' or girls' bed. Gosh! It's versatile . . . use it at school . . . in the car . . . at the beach in the boat . . . on picnics at football games . . . skating parties . . . for hunting skiing, camping. It's a MacLean of Lacklin Clan Plaid . . . 100% wool. Bags to carry them in are available at Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop . . . in the village.
