Four Pointe police chiefs attended the 60th annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police at the Statler Hotel in Detroit. The convention began Sunday, September 13 and ended today, September 17.

More than 1,000 police chiefs of the nation heard Col. Charles W. Woodson, Jr., superintendent of the Virginia State Police state that they must prepare their forces to operate under atomic attack.

Police forces, he pointed out, must be prepared to remove and identify the injured and the dead speedily, stop looting, prevent panic and do all the other things necessary in an emergency.

He stressed that present police mobilization plans are little more than skeletons.

They also heard Senator Homer Ferguson declare himself opposed to a Federal police department, and stress his faith in local police agencies.

Delegates to the conference were guests of the Ford Motor company at the Statler Tuesday, September 15, and at a test of police interceptor cars yesterday, September 16.

Attending the conference from the Pointe were, Chief Arthur Louwers of the Park, Chief Walter Hoyt of the Farms, Chief Thomas Trombley of the City, and Director of Public Safety Vern Bailey of the Woods.

Acting Chief Fred Duesmeling of the Shores was absent because he was attending another conference.

Tree Colorama Can Be Planned

It won't be too long until Mother Nature begins her annual Fall exterior decorating.

That's why it's a good idea to consider the Autumn color effects of trees if you're transplanting this Fall. Besides choosing trees for their size, shape, Summer foliage and longevity, many home owners wisely select trees which provide fine Autumn colors.

Young trees which are planted this month or later will not put on their most colorful grab this year but will noticeably improve each season as they become established, advises J. L. Heston, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

For the colors you want in Autumn leaves, learn to know your trees and which ones put on the best display.

The maples, for example, are among the most spectacular. The sugar maple, for instance takes on hues of scarlet, crimson, yellow and even purple. The red maple, as its name implies, is predominantly red to scarlet, often in shades some what darker than those of the sugar maple and includes other tints ranging to fine, clear yellows.

The oaks are excellent, too. The pin oak blushes a brilliant to deep scarlet, sometimes mixing green and crimson leaves in startling contrast on the same branches. The scarlet oak, which well deserves its name, features bright red and crimson tints. The eastern red oak varies from maroon to rich, brownish red.

The American sweetgum, another of the fine Fall trees, runs the gamut from yellow and red to darkest purple. The black tupelo is an eye-catching sight with its glowing orange, red and purple shades. Gorgeous yellow to gold tints are frequently displayed by the Norway maple, the ginkgo and by most of the birches.

They're Having a Party

MRS. WILLIAM A. BICKEL greets MRS. EARL MOSSNER, MRS. THOMAS B. MCCARTHY and MRS. CLAYTON ALANDT as they arrived at St. Clare of Montefalco Church to make final preparations for the Arch-confraternity's annual Autumn Dessert-Card Party next Tuesday.

Sparrows Find A New Friend

Among a flock of sparrows enjoying the bread crumbs and bird bath provided for at the home of Mrs. Grace Metsch of 1412 Nottingham road, is a tame green and yellow parakeet.

Mrs. Metsch first noticed him several days ago with a flock of sparrows in her backyard. She has followed the lost and found columns in hopes of finding the little fellow's owner but has had no luck.

Contrary to Mother Nature's plan, this little fellow has survived the heavy rain storm of last Saturday night, the cool weather, and his greatest danger, wild birds.

Upon calling a veterinarian it was discovered, that wild birds can immediately sense a tame bird and will kill it.

Neighbors claim they have noticed him in the vicinity for two weeks, however, no one has been able to coax him down.

Girl, 13, Drives; Father Fined

Wallace Murray of 4007 Somerset, Detroit, was fined $50 by Woods Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, September 12, for permitting his 13-year-old daughter, an unlicensed driver, to drive 50 miles an hour on Mack avenue.

Fines of $25 were levied against Henry Gildner, Jr., of 484 Lincoln road, for reckless driving; and against Walter E. Smith, of 22234 Bon Heur, St. Clair Shores, for a like offense.

George R. Young of 15303 Seven Mile road, was fined $15 for reckless driving; and the same amount was paid by Donald J. Toffolo of 19129 Fairport, Detroit, for speeding.

Two Vernier road speeders, Thomas H. Duga of 15016 Rossini, Detroit, and Louis A. Schlosstein, Jr., of 7363 Denton road, Belleville, Mich., were fined $10 each.

It cost Raymond G. Bruett of 19265 Beaconsfield, Harper Woods, $35 and a six-month license suspension for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Erma McGuire of 2111 Country Club, was fined $5 for causing an accident, while a similar charge against Gary Kahn of 1340 Oxford road, was dismissed.

to active duty billets which represent all branches of the Navy. Many of the new officers will report directly aboard ship to assume duties as junior officers.

The remainder of the group will be assigned either to Naval activities ashore in the United States or on foreign stations.

Some will go to service for further training as aviators, aviation ground officers, underwater demolition team leaders, explosive ordnance disposal experts and other specialties.

He was striking back at a Pentagon spokesman's charge that he flaunted security regulations when he released one such report as just "a sample" of what he can produce. The senator charged that the document he showed was an analysis of Soviet life prepared for military use only and labeled "restricted" was clearcut "Communist propaganda."

DRILLERS, testing the depth of the layer of salt at the Wayne County Airport, struck oil for the first time in the history of the metropolitan area. Operations ceased immediately and the strike was kept secret. The value of the oil found in the limestone at a depth of 1,400 feet, remains unknown until drilling is resumed and geologists give their verdict. It was later reported that the quantity and quality of the oil may be slim for commercial use.

Garden Expert

The Grosse Pointe Shores Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, Mrs. Earl J. Failor, President; the Pointe Garden Club, Mrs. Robert E. Anslow, President, and the Windmill Pointe Branch of National Farm and Garden, Mrs. Gerald Queen, President, will meet for luncheon at 12:30, Tuesday, Sept. 22, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Following the luncheon the combined Garden Clubs will hear Mrs. Alice Wessels Burlingame, lecturer and gardener. Her topic will be "Be a Flower and Plant Specialist in Your Own Home." In this informal discussion she will explore the field in all types of plant material, stimulating interest in the study of flowers, shrubs, plants, trees and soil conservation.

Mrs. Burlingame attended the University of Michigan. In addition to her lecture work she teaches classes in gardening and also writes her own garden column.

This is the first time these three garden clubs will have met together for a luncheon meeting.

THE ANTI-COMMUNIST East German underground was reported to have sabotaged 100 tons of Red Army ammunition, caused $50,000 damage to barracks and newly-built ammunition bunkers and killed 20 Russian soldiers. If this is true, it would be the East German people's return to East German Premier Otto Grotewohl, who attacked West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his American allies by calling them Germany's worst enemies. He said East Germany will be made a bulwark of freedom with the aid of Russia.

THE ORE CARRIER Maryland's crew of 32 men was removed by helicopter and breeches buoy, after the ship ran aground in a gale that hit Lake Superior. Several hours later, two Coast Guard vessels were rushing to the rescue of nine sailors adrift on a tossing, helpless dredge, the Howard M. Jr., reported to be 11 miles west of Caribou Island off Whitefish Bay. The Coast Guard reported the dredge in no immediate danger and that two steamships were standing by. The men were later removed from the dredge.

RED CHINA'S demand for an expanded round table for the Korean political conference was sharply rejected by the United States. The rejection was voiced by Robert Murphy, United States assistant secretary of state for United Nations affairs. He also called on the UN to deny the Red Chinese demand to be invited here to discuss inclusion of Russia, India and three other Asiatic nations as neutrals in the conference.

IRAN'S SHAH formerly called a court-martial to try Former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh on charges of treason. The former premier must defend his actions during the four days he defied the Shah's decree removing him from office in favor of Fazollah Zehedi. A government spokesman said the ousted official has already undergone questioning in secret. The trial itself will not be in secret unless the court rules otherwise.

EGYPT ordered the release of a 946-ton Greek freighter, whose cargo included 35 American made automobiles, which was seized last week. Egyptian officials said they thought the cars were destined for Israel. The ship, The Parnon, will be permitted to continue its course through the Suez Canal to the Red Sea. The captain of the ship insisted that the cars were for private purchasers at Mombasa, Kenya, and Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC Bishop of Kielce, the Most Rev. Czeslaw Kaczmarek, told a Polish military court that he has been fighting Communism since the Russian revolution of 1918. The bishop, on trial as a spy, was charged by Poland's Communist Government with organizing a spy center for the United States and the Vatican. He was also charged with directing anti-state activities, conspiring to bring back capitalism, sabotaging Poland's economic plans, black market activities, and wartime collaboration with the Nazis. Three priests and a nun also face a fight for their lives on the same charges.

MALE PRISONERS of the Maryland State reformatory, near Hagerstown, rioted for the third time in 24 hours, but State Police sent to the scene, brought everything under control. Inmates broke lights, smashed chairs and splattered ink all over the walls. The first uprising was blamed on a baseball umpire's decision. It took 90 minutes to quell the latest uprising.

AT LEAST 250 anti-Communist Chinese prisoners of war, thinking they were about to be turned over to the Reds, angrily hurled rocks at Red observers and grappled with Indian custodial guards. The guards restored order without bloodshed. The Indians were in the Korean neutral zone and are troops of a neutral nation assigned to handle repatriated prisoners who refused to go home. Several truck loads of the prisoners became hysterical and jumped out of the trucks when they thought they were being sent back to the Reds. Almost 8,000 North Koreans and 41,700 Chinese were shifted from Allied camps to the neutral zone.

A BOMB wrecked a barber shop at 11936 Gratiot, Detroit, and broke windows in four nearby stores. The dynamic explosion which woke residents for half a mile around left no clue as to those responsible. The shop, one of four in a chain operating at cut prices, has had no complaints from the barber's union or nearby barber shops, according to the owners. Despite the bomb, they are not going to change their prices, they told police.

Consolidated president Henry Tittle, who made the announcement, explained that the addition of new business depends on the company's ability to store 12,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas in its underground storage fields before the 1954-1955 heating season begins. This volume of storage would depend in turn on an uninterrupted supply of gas from Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. plus additional amounts from American Louisiana Pipeline Co., starting 1956.

Police Have More Pull Than Woods Business Men

The Woods police proved they have had more "pull" than the businessmen of their community on Sunday, September 13.

Two months ago, William Baiocchi, Woods hardware store owner, in the name of the businessmen of the city, challenged the police department to a tug-of-war.

Sunday, hundreds of persons lined the banks of Milk River at lakefront park, scene of the battle, to watch the out come of the contest.

The rules stipulated the rivals were to stand on the opposite banks of the river and each team would tug in an attempt to give the other team a ducking. The losers were to buy the winners a dinner.

There were supposed to be eight men on each team, but came the day of the contest, two businessmen did not show up, so the teams were cut down to six men each. Two policemen, Sgt. Roland Symons and Patrolman LeRoy Tobian, husky six-footers, graciously withdrew.

This did not bother the policemen one bit when the battle began.

The police team gave a mighty tug, and the anchor man and three others of the businessmen team got a taste of Milk River.

Members of the police-fire department who participated in the actual test of strength were: Sgts. Wilbert LeDuke, and Henry Marchand. Marchand and Patrolmen Jack Eberst, Everett Plumb, William Entwistle, and volunteer Fireman Buster Lucido.

The businessmen's team was composed of William Baiocchi, Carl Joyner, John Fratze, Ray Weishaupt, Earl Mohan and Marv Hansen.

The merchants renewed their challenge for next year.

Optimist Club Seeking Talent for Musical Show

The forthcoming Grosse Pointe Optimist Club, musical extravaganza "To The Point" to be presented October 12, 13, 14 at Parcels Auditorium will afford an opportunity for a large number of our younger people to receive valuable professional training and direction in choral work, dancing and dramatics, it was pointed out by Mr. Marvin Boutin, chairman of the committee recruiting the cast for the show.

Mr. Boutin stated, "We have engaged the services of the John B. Rogers Producing Company of Fostoria, O., who have received national recognition in many magazines including the Saturday Evening Post, to stage our show. They are furnishing beautiful and colorful costumes, elaborate scenery and special musical numbers, and in addition are sending a professionally trained Broadway director to rehearse and stage the show.

"Anyone with any theatrical talent or ambition will be missing a great opportunity for improving themselves if they don't participate in the show" Mr. Boutin declared. "The type of show we are giving makes it possible for us to use both dancers and singers, people with a flair for comedy and anyone with any specialty number or act. All are welcome."

Rehearsals are scheduled to begin September 29th at Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo, and all will be under the guidance of the Rogers Company's professional director. Mr. Boutin also explained that since a professional director has been employed, only a few rehearsals will be required for each group and that those can be held at any time during the day or evening at the convenience of those taking part.

Anyone interested in trying out for a part in the show is asked to contact, Mr. Marvin Boutin at ED. 1-9077 or TU. 2-6808 or Mr. Ernie Hobbs at VA. 1-5855 or WO. 2-3615.

U-M Freshmen Set New Mark

ANN ARBOR — Many of the approximately 17,500 University of Michigan students enrolling for the fall semester this week are finding the process easier than had anticipated, especially some 3,000 newcomers who make up the largest freshman class in history.

For University officials and faculty, members have worked throughout the summer to institute two new systems for helping the students over this, their first hurdle.

Biggest job for freshmen always lies in choosing their courses, a task quite often left until the week before school, when it has to be done along with numerous other duties.

This summer, however, a new setup was established by which freshmen, and their families, could consult leisurely with their academic counselors months before classes began. This enables both students and the University to do a better job.

Upperclassmen also are benefiting from a new procedure which enabled them to fill out their several registration blanks at home during the summer. This meant that they didn't have to come to the University ahead of time to do the job.

While this new service of the Registrar's Office was carried on with just students in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, largest of the University's schools and colleges, indications are that, if all goes well, the routine will be expanded.

St. Michael's Auxiliary To Hold Paper Drive

Alice Weot, gowned in emerald green, was her sister's maid of honor. Dortha Ornstvedder and Janet Kirsch, the bridesmaids, wore similar gowns. The trio carried autumn flowers.

Announce Date For Cancer Parley

The Conference theme is "Behind the Scenes in Cancer Control", and representatives of the medical specialties concerned will discuss the various steps in the diagnosis and treatment of the cancer patient.

Trim Down College Gear

If Joe College, class of '57, is smart, he won't bring all his worldly goods to the campus this fall, and he'll take a good look around before adding to his wardrobe.

That's the advice given in a special freshman edition of the Michigan State College "News", M. S. C. student newspaper, by senior editor Phil Gunby.

He points out that "whether you're a freshman or a senior, it's wise to bring only the clothes and equipment needed for the season at hand. 'The average college man—at Michigan State or any school—is lucky to have half a closet and two or three drawers in a bureau," Gunby said. Unused gear takes up valuable space. If a 'vital' item is left behind, Mom can always send it in the laundry case or it can be locally purchased."

MacCartney, first vice-president of the A.P.A. and trade relations manager for Parke, Davis & Company, left New York by plane Sept. 11. Following the assembly, he will visit the Parke-Davis laboratories at Hounslow, England, and return to New York Sept. 22.

More than 1,000 pharmacists from 40 nations will attend the assembly sessions in Palais de Chaillot. All phases of professional pharmacy will be discussed. Besides talks of general interest by outstanding authorities, there will be sessions for specialists, including directors of control laboratories, pharmaceutical editors, hospital pharmacists, pharmaceutical historians, military pharmacists and teachers.

MacCartney said Parke, Davis & Company would have an assembly exhibit featuring full-color art prints of oil paintings in the unique "History of Pharmacy" series. Commissioned by Parke-Davis as a tribute to the traditions of pharmacy, the paintings depict dramatic highlights from "Before The Dawn of History" until about 1825.

Others will be completed at a rate of six a year, and the unusual project is slated for completion in 1956.

A trip to Versailles will end the assembly program, MacCartney said.

Ford Museum Sends Train To New York Power Show

The famous DeWitt Clinton train from the Henry Ford Museum has gone "home" for a short stay. It is on public view in New York City's famed Grand Central Station for a special motive power exhibit sponsored by the New York Central System, ending September 26.

The diminutive train, first to run on a New York State railroad and the third in the United States, is shorter in its entire length than a modern two-unit diesel locomotive. Including the locomotive, tender, and three 18-passenger coaches, the DeWitt Clinton is only 65 feet long and weighs 12½ tons.

Named after the seventh governor of New York, the DeWitt Clinton made its maiden run on the Mohawk Hudson Railroad, first line of the present New York Central System, on July 30, 1931.

It was not until ten days later, however, that it made its first "Grand Excursion" from Albany to Schenectady, traveling the 17 miles in one hour and 45 minutes carrying numerous state and local officials on board.

Although it could attain speeds of up to 30 miles an hour, frequent stops to take on wood and water lowered the primitive locomotive's average speed to just over eight miles per hour.

History records that although the trip was a success, it was far from the "Grand Excursion" that handbills of the time proclaimed it. Sparks from the out-sized smokestack, belching a continuous plume of jet black smoke, burned holes in frilly dresses, parasols, dress coats and beaver hats worn by the guests and dignitaries.

Chain connecting links between the cars nearly jerked passengers from their seats. Nevertheless, the little train's arrival in Schenectady was greeted by enthusiastic crowds and a noisy brass band.

For 14 years, the DeWitt Clinton faithfully carried out its duties for the Mohawk & Hudson until it was finally honorably retired. It was not until 1920 that it was taken from a New Jersey warehouse, rebuilt from original parts and moved to Grand Central Station, world-famous passenger depot of the New York Central.

The De Witt Clinton has been a focal point of The Henry Ford Museum's extensive transportation section where it has been since 1935, except for infrequent public appearances at railroad expositions.

Some say there are many things money won't buy—but still you can get some very satisfactory substitutes with it.

Noted Artist to Instruct At War Memorial Classes

"Almost everyone can paint," says Marvin Beerbolm, well known local artist, who has been engaged to teach the oil classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for the coming Fall and Winter seasons. When asked what painting or sculpture brings to the average amateur, Mr. Beerbolm said: "Almost everyone has some talent for some type of art. Most people don't realize this. When doctors talk of improving mental health through hobbies, they usually refer to patients whose needs are urgent. Not enough is said of the need of the average business man or housewife for self-expression beyond his or her regular work."

one's own hands; the picking up of nature's quality of light and color and recording this permanently on canvas." Mr. Beerbolm says of latent talent, "It's there." Regardless of his fine record as a painter, Mr. Beerbolm regards himself as, primarily, a teacher. Mr. Beerbolm's paintings have been exhibited in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Virginia Biennial, Corcoran Gallery and others. Among his awards are the Scarab Artist Award, the Anna Scripps Whitcomb award and the Michigan Artist Show award. Mr. Beerbolm's most recent work, the murals in the Michigan post offices, have caught national attention and praise. The newest type of artificial lighting has been installed in the War Memorial to aid these art classes which will begin on Sept. 21, in the afternoon at 1 o'clock and in the evening at 7 o'clock.

Courses Offered In Engineering

Five courses applicable to the program leading to a master's degree in engineering mechanics, offered in Detroit by the University of Michigan, open at the Rackham Memorial the week of September 21, it is announced.

This program, inaugurated in the fall of 1950, makes it possible for students employed in industry to complete the work for a master's degree in this field without going to the campus.

By special arrangement, such students may petition the dean of the Graduate School of the University to substitute a comprehensive written or oral examination on their studies for the usual requirement that those earning a master's degree from the University of Michigan must spend at least one summer session in residence on the campus in Ann Arbor.

The complete program in engineering mechanics is offered in Detroit in a two-year cycle. Courses scheduled this fall include Advanced Stress Analysis, Vibration Analysis of Rotors and Reciprocation Engines, both of which may be used as electives in the program.

Others are Advanced Fluid Mechanics, Introduction to Differential Equations, and Advanced Calculus, Part II.

Inquiries about this program are welcomed by the Metropolitan Detroit Center of the University Extension Service (telephone, TEmple 2-7400) and special announcements are available on request.

A number of other courses in engineering are also being offered in specialized fields. These include Electric Welding, Review of Statics, Geometry of Strength of Materials, Geometry of Engineering Drawing, Blueprint Reading, Principles of Technical Writing, and Television Circuits.

"MARRIED HOUSING"
Construction has begun on three apartment buildings designed for married students at Michigan State College, officials have announced. The three brick-veneer buildings, each costing approximately $100,000 and containing 12 apartments, are scheduled for occupancy sometime next autumn. The building will be "pilot" models in the college's over-all program to replace M.S.C.'s "trailer village". Each apartment will contain a built-in range and refrigerator. Rent will be about $60 a month.

New Gadgets Fix Leaks In A Jiffy!

Have you been bothered with a leaky faucet—and ugly brown basin stains? There's no need to worry now if the male of the household is too busy to fix it. Snap-in faucet seats and swivel washers are the newest help for homemakers. They'll do the trick in but minutes... and you, little lady, can do it yourself!

If the faucet seat is rough and gritty, it will wear out conventional washers in no time. Here's all you have to do to correct this situation: Take the faucet apart, then, using a pencil, stick of wood, or handy insert tool, slip the new snap-in seat into place. If the old washer is also worn, throw it away, and snap a new swivel washer into the end of the faucet stem. Replace the faucet and... Presto!... the leak is gone! And you'll be saving money, too, for according to a large city water department, a faucet leak as small as a pin-prick can waste 95,000 gallons a year. Metered at the average of 1/2 cent per gallon and heated, this would result in a loss of $95 annually for one little leak. That would buy you a fancy new fall costume!

27 Animal Bites Reported During Month in Area

Animal bites for the month of August reached a total of 27, according to a report submitted by Dr. Thomas Davies, Grosse Pointe Health Commissioner.

It was disclosed that this number was not unusual for this area, as previous reports bear out. A spokesman for the health department stated that there were times when animal bites equaled, more or less, the number listed last month. A few of the bites reported were inflicted by pet cats. Other communicable diseases made known for last month were at a new low. Not one single case was reported in either the City or the Shores.

The Park, Woods and Harper Woods disclosed one case of measles each, with mumps striking twice, one in the Park and one in the Farms.

Two cases of pertussis were revealed in the Woods and a like number in Harper Woods.

Mrs. O'Connor Feted at Party

Mrs. Rowan O'Connor of Kenwood road was feted last week at a DAC luncheon and bridge party given by Mrs. Frank J. Ortman, of Birmingham, and Mrs. James Vernon, of Bloomfield Hills. The occasion was Mrs. O'Connor's birthday anniversary and the co-hostesses staged the festivities as a surprise.

Charming arrangements of summer flowers decked the luncheon table in the club's private dining room. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. O'Connor's sister, Mrs. R. M. C. Glenn, visiting from Palm Beach, and Mrs. Austin Young, also of Palm Beach, who with her husband has been spending the summer at the Old Club.

Grosse Pointers present included Mrs. J. Edgar Duncan, Mrs. J. Henry Pichler, Mrs. Clyde A. Buck, Mrs. James T. Keena, Mrs. Jesse G. Vincent, Mrs. William O'Neil Kronner and Mrs. Edward J. Moinet.

Rounding out the group were Mrs. Edwin F. Holtzman and Mrs. Carl Wells, of Detroit, and Mrs. Neil Talmage, of New York, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Vernon.

Girl Scouts Search Soil To Aid in Scientific Test

such as Aureomycin-chlortetracycline.

There, they will be processed along with other soils gathered from unlikely places throughout the world—deep frozen glaciers, the ocean floor, bottoms of deep oil wells, and previously unexplored jungles.

Although thousands of soil samples from remote corners of the globe are processed each year, the sample which produced aureomycin was taken from a Missouri farm.

When processed, an interesting golden mold appeared. Test tube experiments showed this new mold effectively prevented the growth of staphylococci, streptococci and a variety of germs called bacilli.

This new golden mold saved thousands of lives by acting against many diseases that had long plagued both animals and humans. Scientists believe that a new soil sample may be found any day which will contain a strain of micro-organisms which may prove effective in the war on disease as Aureomycin has.

To avoid duplication in types of samples which waste the precious time of scientists, the search for samples is carried on through universities, oil companies with world wide holdings, and groups interested in public service, such as the Girl Scouts.

Blood Donations Still Needed

The need for blood for civilian use today is as urgent as ever, the Michigan Department of Health emphasized in announcing its return on September 1 to the 1951 quotas that were in effect before it stepped up collections of blood to help meet defense needs.

The Michigan Department of Health will revert to its former program in the 64 counties in which it operates its bloodmobile. All blood collected in these counties will be used to supply the blood products so vitally needed for civilian use.

There is an ever-increasing demand for blood products for the saving of lives, and each community must be responsible for supplying enough of this precious fluid to meet the needs of its residents, Department officials said.

Under the state health department's program, blood collected in each of the participating counties is processed in the department laboratories and plasma and other derivatives are returned to the communities in proportion to the number of pints of blood collected.

In order to assure adequate supplies of these products to meet the emergencies that arise almost daily in every community, all eligible donors are urged to volunteer to give blood whenever the bloodmobile is in their area.

Products made from the whole blood which are available to the communities in proportion to the amount of blood donated include: irradiated liquid plasma, used widely in preventing shock from accidents, childbirth, burns and surgery, and also to sustain a patient until whole blood can be given; antihemophilic globulin, used to control bleeding in persons suffering from hemophilia, often called "bleeders' disease," and to help control hemorrhage associated with childbirth and surgery; normal serum albumin, used in the treatment of liver and kidney disease and for use as an emergency plasma substitute.

Gamma globulin, used to prevent paralytic polio and for the modification or prevention of measles and infectious hepatitis, is made by the health department laboratories and is distributed according to a plan outlined by the office of Defense Mobilization.

Grid Teams Lined Up For Saturday TV Debut

The football teams of the Universities of Nebraska and Oregon will romp in living rooms across the country on the opening day of the 1953 collegiate season September 19 as their intersectional clash is nationally televised as the General Motors TV Game of the Week over the 84-station NBC network direct from Memorial Stadium here.

Millions of televisioners throughout the land will have "50-yard-line" seats as Coach Len Casanova's Oregon Webfoots try to avenge a 28-13 defeat suffered in 1952 at the hands of the Cornhuskers, coached by Bill Glassford.

Mel Allen and Lindsay Nelson, NBC sports commentators, will describe the game action and color. Telecast time is 1:45 p.m. (CST).

The return of the one-planet system, with its 60-minute net and triple-threat backs, promises one of college football's most exciting seasons. The Nebraska-Oregon contest will be the first one-planet college game ever telecast.

Throughout the 12-week season, the General Motors TV Game of the Week series will include games in all sections of the country on a schedule set up by the NCAA.
