Council Acts On Complaints

that some of the real estate dealers, who have been guilty of violating the sign ordinance, have paid for advertising and gotten good results, and the placing of signs is just free advertising.
The matter of the signs, and that of burning of rubbish on public property, and the use of homes to conduct businesses, was referred to the Public Safety Committee for study and recommendation.
Would Waive Ordinance
Councilman George Heckenroth asked that the ordinance be waived pending its interpretation, that the signs could be used, but City Attorney Berns pointed out that if this is done, other businesses could take advantage of this.
In the matter of burning of rubbish on public property, Ed Schultz claimed that the only things burned were logs and weeds and other burnable material. This was done he said, to save the city the bother of collecting the rubbish. Some of the material burned, he added, were large trees, but if the city wanted, he will deposit the trees at the curb to be picked up.

Not City's Job
The city attorney pointed out that it is not up to the city to haul away trees from private properties.
The Public Safety Commission and the realtors may get together to discuss the problems against which the complaints have been issued, to see if something cannot be worked out.
The sign ordinance was completely revised and has been law in the Woods since November, 1952. In order to permit the real estate dealers to place signs on other than private property, the ordinance must be amended.

Scouts and Leaders Enjoy Most Successful Camp-Out

Last Saturday and Sunday, October 3 and 4, approximately 130 Boy Scouts and Scouters from troops in the Grosse Pointe community attended the Camp-O-Ree at Camp Rotary about 12 miles north and west of Mt. Clemens.

Saturday was a beautiful day for camping and the coloring of the trees in the woods lent an added accent to an already perfect day. The leaves from butternuts had fallen and green butternuts hung prominently in clusters from the limbs. Some maple trees displayed their beautiful red coloring, and sassafras showed their usual good yellow and red coloring. God in His Heaven surely was present.

The afternoon competitive events for Saturday, under the direct supervision of retiring Scoutmaster John Glaser of Troop 19, were as follows:

Nature and Morse Code—King Clifford Scoutmaster Troop 546. Winners—1st, Troop 61, Pine Tree Patrol, 99%; 2nd, Troop 703, 430 out of possible 500 points; 3rd, no entry.

First Aid—Ed Vernier, Scoutmaster Troop 61. Winners—Tied—Troop 61, Flying Eagles, 97%; Troop 86, Red Arrows, 97%; 2nd, Troop 546, 375 out of 400 points; 3rd, Troop 703, 350 out of 400 points.

Measurements—Porter Strother, Troop 86. Winners—1st, Troop 147, Seminole Patrol, 92%; 2nd, Troop 61, 380 out of possible 500 points; 3rd, Troop 156, 315 out of possible 500 points.

Observation—John Glaser, Scoutmaster Troop 19. Winners—1st, Troop 619, Black Panthers, 95%; 2nd, Troop 85, 240 out of possible 400 points; 3rd, Troop 61, 200 out of possible 400 points.

Sunday Morning Events

Firebuilding and string burning contest: Ed Vernier, Scoutmaster Troop 61. Winners—1st, Troop 147; 2nd, Troop 86; 3rd, Troop 619.

Log Chopping—Porter Strother, Troop 86. Winners—1st, Troop 61; 2nd, Troop 147; 3rd, Troop 65.

Tent Pitching—John Glaser, Troop 19. Winners—1st, Troop 61; 2nd, Troop 147; 3rd, Troop 19.

A Commissioner's Certificate was awarded for the following:

Best Impromptu Skit at Saturday Night Camp Fire went to Troop 86.

Best Camp, Troop 19.

Best Display of Camp-Craft, Troop 96.

The Saturday night campfire was ably conducted by Doug Simpson, assisted by Explorer David Kushner, Acting Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, Troop 147. Numerous songs were sung and jokes were told as well as new skits by the Troops. They were scored on originality, props and delivery, and applause from the crowd.

On Sunday morning Doug Simpson conducted a short church service under a beech tree, during a drizzly rain. His lesson was short and to the point. All of the boys and men entered into the hymn singing with gusto and if they ever sing that well in church they will drown out the choir.

Following the campfire on Saturday night it really poured and most of the boys and men hit the sack but by 9:45 it had cleared up, and coffee and doughnuts were served by the Commissioner staff, after which a "Bull Session" was held and various items of Scouting interest were really "kicked around" by Scoutmasters and Committeemen.

This Camp-O-Ree demonstrated that the troops enjoy and want a competitive camp-out on a community basis, so keep this date open on your camping program, Mr. Chairman—late September or early October next year. We expect 100% Troop participation and a turn-out of over 300.

Paul L. Kolvoord, Community Commissioner, asked that a special thank-you be given to Director George Ewald, Registrar C. Whit Rinker, and Director of Events John Glaser, and all of the scoutmasters and committeemen who ably pitched in to make this event such a huge success—everything clicked.

Some troop inadvertently picked up an axe and folding camp stool belonging to Mr. Kolvoord. Will you kindly return them to 1248 Lakepointe?

Mr. Stotter, Camping Chairman, Troop 86, lost a fine army type compass. Who has it?

Motion Picture Council Lists Approved Movies

The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and Television Council recommends the following pictures for the month of October.

For Teen-agers: "Shane," "Lili," and "Below The Sahara."

At this time of year many people realize that spending one's vacation means spending one's money.

Branch Post Office at Jacobson's Proving Great Boon to Pointe Residents

To better serve the City and the public, Jacobson's now has a full-time staff to service Post-office Station No. 3.

The volume of business at the new substation is increasing steadily day by day, attesting to the popularity of the service.

When first opened, the postoffice did practically no business at all, but as time went by, and as the public became aware of the service, more and more people began to use the station's convenient facilities.

Now it is estimated that at least 1,500 packages a month are brought to Jacobson's No. 3 postoffice, besides the countless amount of everyday mail.

It is interesting to note that the packages are mostly for overseas shipment, and that the post-office handles at least half as much foreign mail and packages as much larger postoffices throughout the country.

Phone calls are made almost daily to Jacobson's, by many residents complimenting the management for the fine service the organization is rendering to the public. Customers who bring their letters and packages in person, are also lavish in their praise. Although no official word has been yet received by the station regarding the early mailing of Christmas mail and packages, it is urged that residents do their mailing as early as possible. It was pointed out that this was asked because the station is not equipped to handle the huge volume of mail expected for this peak time of year. Mail trucks make two pickups a day from the station.

The Northeastern Women's Club is holding a dessert luncheon at 12:30 p.m. on October 9 in the Detroit Edison building at 2000 Second avenue.

Nacy-Ullrey Nuptials Are Held at St. Paul's

Sally Marie Nacy, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson F. Nacy of Hillcrest Road Becomes Bride of Son of Mr. Lyle P. Ullreys; To Live in Pointe Wedding guests drove along the Lake Shore Saturday afternoon, on their way to St. Paul's on the Lake and the marriage of Sally Marie Nacy and Marvin Eugene Ullrey.

The rites took place at 11 o'clock and the couple chose a double ring ceremony.

Sally is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson F. Nacy of Hillcrest road and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle P. Ullrey of Stockwell avenue.

After the wedding, there was a breakfast for the bridal party and still later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Nacy greeted the guests at a reception in their Pointe home.

The bride was gowned in white satin, nylon tulle and lace with a headpiece of lace trimmed in seed pearls holding her fingertip length veil of imported silk illusion.

Her flowers were white carnations, stephanotis and ivy centered with a white orchid.

Dolores Gurney was Sally's maid of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Marlene Ullrey, and the bride's cousin, Mary Lou Meininger, were bridesmaids.

They were gowned alike in floor touching frocks of blue velvet and taffeta. All carried cascading arrangements of autumn toned mums.

Donald Pikula was best man and seating the guests were a cousin of the bridegroom, Duane Ullrey, and Robert Turner.

A gown of blue lace was worn by the bride's mother and Mrs. Ullrey was in beige costume. Both had orchid corsages.

When the young Ullreys left on their honeymoon in Quebec the bride changed to a poudré blue sheer wool suit with accessories.

They will live in Notre Dame avenue upon their return to Grosse Pointe.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Orlie Ullrey, Mr. and Mrs. Ebon Ullrey, Anr and Janyce, all of Niles, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ullrey of Albion; Mr. and Mrs. Clare Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Chapman of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. George Lampert of Ypsilanti.

Michigan League for Crippled Giving Big Party on October 28

It's almost time for the big once-a-year, annual fund-raising event which the Michigan League for Crippled Children gives to help support the Grace Bentley camp above Port Huron. It is to be this year at the same place and again on Wednesday. Write this date down and then do something about getting there, October 28, at the Masonic Temple.

Right after last year's party the league began plans for 1953. The administrative groups simmered and sipped, the senior and junior sewing groups culled and cut as they met regularly to build up their stock for the need-dewk tables.

The senior group met last Tuesday for all-day sewing and luncheon at the home of Mrs. Dean Parker on Lake Shore. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ray Trombley on Hawthorne, and at that time the year's creations will be priced, pressed and prettied for October 28.

This party gives much for the money. Tickets are in the mail now and can also be bought from Mrs. R. Schott, TU. 2-0554; but many will be bought at the door of the Fountain Room in the Masonic Temple.

Some will come just to help the cause along and know they are sharing in the summer outings of 500 children who are handicapped but happy at the league's camp. Others will come strictly for the fashion show which is an excellent part of the program for the party.

Yet others may come bargain hunting for unusual Christmas gifts at the bazaar, which is a vivid sideshow of the party. Then too, there will be delicious honey foods—if you get there when the doors open at 12.

Many of the chairmen are Grosse Pointe residents. For instance, the president is Mrs. W. Kramer; cards and tables, Mrs. H. Carlson; advertising, Mrs. J. Conway; fashion show, Mrs. C. Brooks; prizes, Mrs. E. Miller; white elephants, Mrs. W. Pfaller; china, Mrs. C. Johnston; senior sewing, Mrs. R. Trombley.

Beautiful Travel Agency Building Opens Saturday

For people going places this is the biggest news in the world: Chet Sampson's Travel Agency opens its handsome doors this Saturday at 100 Kercheval avenue.

By merely turning the handle of the great glass front door you are half way to your destination, be it Ann Arbor or Casablanca, for this ultra modern travel agency is Pointe headquarters for the world's transportation lines... the ships that take you to Europe, to South America, to Hawaii... the airlines that whisk you through the clouds to any place in the world.

And, of course, there's the Sampson touch from stem to stern in the whole travel agency. If it's your wish, you may merely reserve transportation tickets but if you'd like, you may see a travel movie of the spots you'll visit, listen to a travel talk on the fascinations of your holiday choice.

Architect for the attractive quarters, in keeping with the general mood of shops on the Hill, has been Arthur O. A. Schmidt who also has done the modern interiors of the Sampson Travel Agency.

World On Window
Facing Kercheval is the glass facade that has the world outlined in silver leaf on it. The canary yellow of the word "Travel" and the cherry red of "Chet Sampson," along with gray bricking sets the color decor of the interior. There is to be planting both inside and out at the window.

The reception room, in black porcelain, canary yellow and white, has a cherry red throw rug. In it will be the desks of owner Chet Sampson and his assistant, Miss Mary Gorenflo, who has had eleven years' experience in travel business.

There is a tall display screen in this room that should become one of the favorite conversation pieces in the Pointe. On its geometrically arranged shelves there will be objects from all around the world. If Chet can persuade some of his travelers to display for a week or two their prized shopping items when they return from their travels, then the shelves will be devoted to these.

Two small conference rooms, where maps and timetables can be rolled out on the table, are off the reception room. They are walled in the new peg board which permits such a variety of treatment.

A long hall with floor covered in chartreuse, gray and white marbled rubber tile panels, takes the visitor to the Agency on a trip: First it leads to the Travel Lounge, to be used for travel consultation. Here the decor is gray with one wall done in charcoal. Another wall is en-

GPYC Dads 'Adopt' Sons

Ten deserving orphans from two Detroit orphanages are going to remember Sunday, Oct. 18, as one of the most enjoyable days of their childhood, according to plans of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's entertainment committee.

Five boys from St. Frances Home for Boys will be selected by Sister Marie de Lourdes, and five boys are to be chosen from the Evangelical Home for Orphans by William J. Kuhlman. These ten will enjoy a day of fun with Grosse Pointe Yacht Club "dads."

Selection is on a merit basis, according to the boy's standings in scholarship and deportment. So you may be sure the boys are studying just a little harder and being good little boys for all they are worth.

John F. DeHayes, chairman of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club party, is planning a full day's fun for the guests as well as sons of Grosse Pointe Yacht Club members.

The highlight will be the football game between the Detroit Lions and the Los Angeles Rams. A block of 150 choice seats has been reserved at the game. At 11:30 a.m. a pre-game breakfast is scheduled at the club. Four buses will be chartered to carry the group to Briggs Stadium and each of the boys will be given an official league football as a favor.

Charles A. Glasgow, William A. Ternes, George Mitchell, Howard Shaw, Bryan A. Chaplow and chairman DeHayes will "adopt" the boys for the day. Another "dad" will be Commodore Anthony R. Mutschall who's also bringing his sons, Francis, Tony and Billy.

T. Jack Henry will bring T. J., Jr.; Ted Nielson will have Donald with him; Homer Pharis is bringing Bruce; George Zimmerman and Louis will be there,

Plan Open House At Pierce High

All parents of the pupils of Pierce Junior High School are invited to attend the Open House and first P.T.A. meeting of this year on Friday evening, October 9 at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Dr. Albert Law, the new P.T.A. president, will conduct a brief business meeting. Following this a program co-chaired by Nancy Ruby, Karin Van Leuven, and Betsy Hammond will be presented.

This second portion of the program is entitled "A Tale of Tomorrow". Some visitors from Mars (Kin Essington and David Law) come to earth in a rocket ship and find a 7B, (Jeff Winkless), asleep in a chair after watching TV. Their language causes difficulties, so Chris Johnson, as the interpreter, translates Martian to the audience.

The two Martians want to take the 7B back to Mars as a specimen, but the four Student Government officers prevent them from doing it.

These rescuers are Robb Smith, president; Jim Arnold, vice-president; Jim Norris, treasurer; and Sue Cooper, secretary. They offer the Martians each a Student Activity ticket as ransom for the captive, but the weird creatures demand to know what it's good for.

Then follow a series of scenes representing the various activities supported by the S. A. ticket. Representing sports are: Bob Correa, Don Gretel, and Bob Hawley. Presenting the assembly skit are Vicky Deneweth, Joyce Nixon, and Michael Magee. Band members who display their talents include Peggy Armstrong, Don Cowles, Martin Henke, Richard Hudson, Don Hughes, Don Leeson, and Donna Garber. The dramatics playlet is being presented by Pirie Gall, Betsy Hammond, Janet Brunner, Patty Bernard and Pam Putnam. The A Chorus will also sing a number, under student direction.

The program ends as the Martians, who don't believe anyone could get such a bargain for so little money, accept the tickets and release the 7B.

The final portion of entertainment in the auditorium will be the presentation of the entire 7B class of 250 members singing the selections, "Autumn" and "The Scissors Grinder". They will be accompanied by Irene Gianaris at the piano as well as some of the orchestra members under the direction of Mr. Jim Moore.

Mr. Owen Middleton is the counselor for the 7B class and he and Miss Virginia Hoelzle, dramatics coach, produced the evening's entertainment.

After completion of the auditorium program the entire school will be opened to all visitors with the staff on hand to greet them. Refreshments will be served in the gymnasium.

Girl Scout News

The thirty-second Girl Scout National Convention will be held this year at the Cincinnati Gardens, Cincinnati, Ohio. It is one of the newest and largest arenas in the country. The convention will open on Sunday, October 18, at 2:55 p.m. and run through October 21.

With over 140 registrations so far, a "sea of Girl Scout green" is expected to move into the city of Cincinnati. International guests will include the Lady Baden-Powell, World Chief Guide.

Grosse Pointe is represented by Susan Newton, Beaconsfield avenue, Senior Scout of Troop 385, and Mrs. Henry Walker, Village Lane, vice-chairman of the Grosse Pointe District.

Mrs. Roy F. Layton, National President of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will open the convention with a pageant titled "A Dream and a Promise," written by Mrs. Robert Van Fossen of Cincinnati. Participating will be the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Thor Johnson.

Metropolitan Detroit delegates and alternates have spent many hours in preparation for convention sessions and discussions. Guiding information about our community, our local council and how this ties in with the Girl Scouts nationally, was prepared and presented by the Education Committee with Mrs. Horace Weston, Chairman.

One of the recommendations to be discussed is the "Age of Leaders." It has been recommended that young women 18 years old be permitted to take on troop leadership providing they are sufficient mature in their thinking and prove themselves capable of taking on responsibility. Certain revisions in the Constitution will be made; also certain changes in charter requirements will be voted upon. A change is to be voted upon on several articles including annual membership dues, finance, board of directors and officers, national committee and insignia. There will also be revisions in some by-laws.

Senior Scouts will get together at the Senior Center at the Netherlands Plaza Hotel. All others will meet at the Sheraton Gibson Hotel the opening night of the convention. Men of Scouting who attend the convention will have a sight seeing trip of some of Cincinnati's industries and a special luncheon.

Many of us must remain behind when trains, planes, buses and private cars pull out for Cincinnati, but we send our best wishes to the lucky convention-bound members. Grosse Pointe is proud with their selection of delegates who will represent the 30,000 girls and adults of our Council and eagerly await their reports.

Mrs. Vincent M. Laporte

At a nuptial high Mass in St. Ambrose Church on October 3, at which the Reverend Harry F. Hoover of Indianapolis, Indiana, officiated, MARY LOU COBURN became the bride of Vincent M. Laporte. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin W. Coburn of Lakepointe avenue. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Laporte of Lemay avenue, Detroit.

For her wedding the bride chose an antique silk taffeta gown, appliqued at the neckline and sleeves with Pointe de Lyon lace. She wore a mantilla of the same lace and carried a colonial bouquet of camellias and ivy.

Jo Ann Coburn was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Terence K. Glynn of Chicago and Mary Dugan. All wore floor-length gowns of deep purple velvet and carried colonial bouquets of lavender and ivory chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Patrick, as his best man and Donald Burwell and Frank Edgeworth as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a waltz-length gown of blonde silk brocade with bronze accessories and a gold orchid. Mrs. Laporte chose a blue satin gown and wore matching accessories and an orchid.

The bride is a graduate of

Preston Slosson Talks At Center

Leading off in the series of lectures by the University of Michigan Extension Service, which is being held each Wednesday night at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, Professor Preston W. Slosson, widely known as an expert on foreign affairs, told his audience, "The present United Nations is little more than the old League of Nations with this difference—the United States is an active member."

"We have no more enforcement machinery than the old League had. Lacking this important feature, the United Nations could fail just as the old League failed," he added.

"Without enforcement machinery of an effective nature, peace is, as it has always been, at the mercy of any aggressive nation. We must find means to work around the Russian veto or get rid of it. NATO may prove to be the base of the new answer, if we have to work without Russia. But this is certain, we cannot have an assurance of permanent peace while we include the powerful veto. We need more than an honor system among nations—we need real enforcement power."

"The present United Nations is weak in enforcement—but it is a machinery set-up, and should be used, if possible. If it is not possible, we could switch to NATO as a new base. Awareness of the citizenry of the world to this answer to our problem could bring about a real United Nations with real power for the preservation of Peace."

Seldon Retains Lead in League

It was a sad night last Thursday when seven teams blanked seven for four points and one team took three from the other team.

H. M. Seldon kept the lead by beating Belding's for four points, and very close ones at that. Boutin's was the lone team to miss taking four, but had to settle for three while rolling a second high three game series of 2759.

A. Comyn of Pete Moors and C. Bosco of Testa Cement rolled identical high individual three game series of 615. D. Lazarus of Revere Cleaners rolled a high single game of 254 and Bruce Warren moved into a tie for second with a 245.

Members of this week's 200 Club are: Rose 200; Keley 219-220; Warren 245; Nash 214; Louwers 203; Bartalone 204; C. Bosco 234-225; Sarkisan 208; D. Lazarus 254; Grabowski 203; D. Borkowski 207; Higgins 231; Comyn 218-204.

A new faculty member at D.U.S. is Graham S. Cragg, B.S., University of Michigan, who will teach mathematics, coach track, and assist in both the upper and lower school athletic programs. Mr. Cragg was a three-time letter winner in hockey at Michigan and won the Fielding Yost award there. Last year he was a Fellow at the University.

Others who are new among D.U.S. teachers this year are Miss Patricia Ann Texter, who will teach dramatics, and Samuel Shreeman, who will assist in the industrial arts department. Representing D.U.S. on October 24 (United Nations Day) at the High School Institute for Democratic Living will be Tom Hartzell of the Senior class. Students from high schools throughout metropolitan Detroit will attend.

Iceberg Series Taken by Beck

Charley Beck, the man of many boats, captured the revived Iceberg series last Sunday, October 4, when he won the "Blue Chip" final race and edged Commodore Bob "Chum" Kerr by a quarter of a point 19 1/4 to 19 3/4 in the final standings of the three race event.

Kerr was leading by a scant one point by virtue of a first and second in the first two races, which had been sailed on previous Sundays, as the five boat fleet hit the line in the final race.

Beck was faced with the fact he had to win and not just beat Kerr if he hoped to take the series. With Nils Lukander, Gordon Gow and Warren Jones as crew, Beck worked out a beautiful lead and rounded the weather mark with a commanding lead and coasted home on a spinnaker run.

Kerr finished second with Boyd Benkert third, which gave him third place in the final standings with 14 points. Al Thomas was fourth in Jim Mason's fiber glass Raven and fourth in the final results with 13 points. Jack Williams sailed only two races and finished last in both to acquire 2 points.

Larry Hope was dismasted in the first race due to a fitting failure, and didn't sail the last two races.

The Raven fleet has already made plans to hold a Spring Iceberg series which will be sailed the last three Sundays in May next year.

Following the final race the Raven skippers and their crews climaxed the series with a cocktail party and a winners' dinner at Bayview, at which time Beck was awarded the beautiful silver bowl donated by Carter Sels.

Originally the Iceberg series was started by the eight meter boys back in 1942, but died gradually as the eight meter fleet passed out of the local sailing picture. It was Bob Kerr who revived the series with the help of the hot local Raven fleet.

who, where and whatnot

by wboozit

In these maid-less days it is becoming more and more popular at the Pointe to just call a dreamy caterer and have the whole thing done that way for big cocktail and dinner parties.

The Tom Cashin family which goes in for unusual pets now has a snail!

Dark-eyed Mrs. Nelson W. Schlaff's new hair-do is tres umphy.

Friends of Mrs. Harold L. Wadsworth met Lenore Smith, who'll marry Tom Wadsworth, at a "mama-daughter" luncheon last week.

Wonder if Mrs. Fred T. Murphy realizes how much her presence and support means to the younger matrons working on the city's various cultural and philanthropic projects?

OCTOBER... Named after the Latin word octem or eighth... although it's actually the tenth month on the calendar the Roman braintrusters overlooked this discrepancy.

Gardeners rake up the leaves so they won't smother those plants in the corners of their gardens... Pointers drain and put the hose away.

This is THE month for hunters and around and about the U. S. nimrods are aiming for quail, grouse, pheasant, partridge, rabbit, elk, deer, bear and the die-hards are still fishing.

Pointer of Interest

JANET JOHNSTONE OF MEADOW LANE

By Jane Schermerhorn

Every morning at nine o'clock, a trim young Pointer steps up the walk of a big stone house on Woodward avenue, over near the Art Institute.

Once the house was the residence of the Dwight Cutlers but today it is the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic, sponsored by Sigma Gamma.

And our young lady, whose arrival brings light to little patients' eyes and coaxes childish lips to break into smiles, is Janet Johnstone, who graduated from Northwestern University last June, a major in speech correction.

A staff member, she sets to work at once on her particular facet of helping children with cerebral palsy (some have had polio, are spastics or suffer from muscular dystrophy), which is working with them on speech.

Sigma Gamma Project This branch of the clinic, for physical and occupational therapy, is located in a stone cottage at the back of the grounds of the former Cutler home (the home, incidentally, was purchased with the aid of the George H. Cummings estate by Sigma Gamma).

The average person might fall back a step or two when entering that clinic, for here are some sixteen children whose illnesses have left visible physical marks. Few can walk, few can make themselves understood and it seemed to us that if it weren't for the work of this clinic, here would be sixteen lost lives, doomed lives.

Instead our young Pointer whipped off her sport coat, greeted a little girl named Larveda, picked up the child, and carried her into a tiny room. This is Miss Johnstone's "laboratory."

It is equipped with small green wood chair that has removable tray which serves not only to keep the child in the chair (some haven't enough muscle control to achieve this by themselves) but also as a work table, holding the various objects used in the therapy.

The Beautiful Horn Larveda is working hard to increase her speech volume. It is far from a dreary task for Miss Johnstone presents her with a little plastic horn and it's fun to try to sound a beautiful note on it. Plosive blows is the technical term, but to Larveda it's a little girl's game and she isn't aware Sigma Gamma with, in addition, a small grant from The United Community Fund. Your gifts to the annual Torch Fund drive beginning Oct. 20, will help the clinic along with all the other worthy causes on the long list.

Total care for children and young persons with orthopaedic diseases, whose parents for the most part are unable to meet the cost of treatment, is the great service of D.O.C. Since its beginnings, thirty years ago, the case load has been increasing each year and, as one Sigma Gamma member put it:

"When I attend a consultation of staff workers, surgeons and doctors on some particular case at the Clinic, my pride is always renewed in the work we're doing. For here I watch literally millions of dollars of talent devoting itself to the hopes and future of a child who never could afford to have the treatment and advice without Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic."

"We of Sigma Gamma founded the clinic, our trustees manage it, and our members help wherever they can in voluntary capacities."

When Miss Johnstone isn't involved in her busy day at the Clinic, she's fast at the interests typical of a pretty young girl.

Vernier P.T.A. Meets Oct. 13

The initial meeting of the 1953-54 Vernier Parents-Teachers Association is scheduled for Tuesday evening, October 13, at 8 o'clock at Vernier School located at Vernier road and Lake Shore drive.

After a brief business meeting, Dr. James W. Bushong, superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Schools, will be the principle speaker.

Dr. Bushong will discuss the relationship of parent, teacher and student relative to the early grades; such as kindergarten through grade three, now located at Vernier School. He will also discuss present and future progress of our excellent school system.

Gerald Schroeder, Vernier P-T-A president, reports several innovations will take place at the initial meeting. The half-hour to 45 minute home-room visitation usually held prior to the business meeting will now be held during and after the social hour. The business meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock. Also to speed up the serving of a light lunch, allow parents to become better acquainted with each other and the teacher of their children, each home-room will be a social center under the direct responsibility of Social Chairman Mrs. A. Bryce Stearns. She will be assisted by assistant-room parents.

The officers for the coming year are Gerald Schroeder, 509 Shoreham road, president; Robert Weber, 992 Lake Shore drive, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Love, 56 Lochmoor boulevard, secretary; Donald Marshall, 1109 Roslyn road, treasurer; and Miss Florence Cumings, Vernier principal.

Pointe Counter Points

by Roberta Isley

It is one of the youngest stores in the Pointe. Just started to grow Sept. 21. Yet it's personality is full blown and many sided... it offers visitors from morning 'til 6 p.m. an extraordinary range of things that are good in modern furniture. For example... if it's a den you're furnishing or refurbishing you'd choose an easy to care for birch desk... not an ornate and heavy one... but light and free... you'd choose a modern swivel leather chair on wrought iron legs... a long low sofa (using your own choice of fabric)... a modern lamp from a collection of many... or a shadow-box like fireplace that screams, "this IS different".

Have you heard? There's a new wrinkle in SOUND movies. During the month of OCTOBER the Camera Center, in the village, will put a sound track FREE on any 16 mm. movie film up to 400 feet long.

Everybody is in love with the body... and everybody is showing it off in molded dresses... suits... and coats. And it doesn't stop there... for with every pulse beat... the warmth of your body brings to life the fragrant Jacqueline Cochran's beauty treatment. Start with her new Lotim deodorant... she's perspiration safely. The applicator sponge supplies exactly the right amount. Wash and refresh with Skin Lotion. Her's is unique in that it is filtered through herbs! Then moisturize with Flowing Velvet, which can and should be kept on under your make-up for 24 hour service. Gay gift ideas, too, at Trail's Pharmacy, on the hill.

Preceding the buffet dinner and coffee it's a high-ball... a glass of wine... but in a curio designed Libby Glass. Fromm's have gift-boxed glasses for Old Fashioneds, Pilsner's for beer... shot glasses... or what will you have?

Accessory boutiques (that's a shop within a shop) are humming... because they rate both first and last with the customer. The lady is eager for new accessories... to brighten up last season's clothes until she decides what new outfits she'll buy. Once she's made her choice of coats, suits, dresses... she needs the new accessories designed to accent the particular "look" of the clothes. First we looked at saddle leather belts by Roger Van S... rich and colorful. Heraldic... metallic belts you'll be seeing more and more of. There's a bandbag in proportion for every customer... be she large or small, short or tall... an unusual fold-over clutch, we liked in Lappin... satin lined... red, beige, black. Fur was all over the place... collars were of beaver, mink tail, fox. And to achieve a total costume look... devastating little clips for the head of white mink with a tiara effect that fits snugly on the crown... also clips in velvets, feathers, gold. You can spend hours snooping around Jacobson's Accessory Department, Main Floor.

"Try them on," he said. We did. "Now take them off," he said. We wouldn't. We never had it so good. We never "looked" so good. That's why we didn't want to take off Lily Dache's sunglasses. There are two models... the Lily Dache in mint green... cocoa... demi-blond... black. In a style called "Aloha" there's black frost... South Sea Twill... mock tortoise... plaid... all have attractive matching cases. Wonderful gift idea... especially if she wears glasses regularly because the lens can be ground to her prescription in Orthogon single vision or Orthogon bifocal types. See them at Johnston's Optical Co., on the hill.

A long time ago imagination and fancy were jotted down in the pages of a diary... and kept there... hidden. Today... not so... we have a freer, more light-hearted attitude. Our decorations are experimental... our colors are clear, even bright and brighter. And for those of us who love exquisite linens in clear, bright colors... these tablecloths and napkins for the holiday season are as welcome as Christmas... as right as Santa Claus. "Treasure" a cloth with twelve napkins, comes in gold or silver and retails for around sixty-five dollars. "Festival" in pink... gold... silver... white... green... or red, is a lot less. Festival is fashioned with gold and silver threads of lures... the kind of thread that never tarnishes. Christmas tablecloths are in this week... they're oblong... come in three lengths... and in either a traditional or modern design. Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop.

The know-how girls and boys in the design rooms have been conscious of over-coming the skimpy look in skirts... that's why you'll find panel pleats that are "dressmaker designed"... deep inverted pleats at front or back, and skirts with taffeta linings... to prevent wrinkling across your derrière... in this collection at D. J. Healy's, in the village. First of the Sloat skirts are stalk-slim... in tweeds and solids. Gold wools were accented pleated all the way round. Another beauty was an Evans Pileon... wool flannel... taffeta lined to guarantee no sag... hand finished details... that rates this skirt right at the top... comes in toast, navy, black, red, light blue, and gray.

Come fall, color is important... in the great out-doors, in the clothes you wear. But this year, more than any other, color in your hair is important. Now you can change the color of your hair as often as you do your hat... and remember at Marie Bird's Salon you can be sure of sound professional advice concerning the color problems of your hair. Without damaging the hair, you'll find tinting and bleaching done in a special way. On almost every visit to Marie Bird's we see several of the Pointe's lovelies have beautiful silver locks... that are such high fashion this season. It can be natural too... with just a slight platinum on silver white rinse to bring out it's true beauty. Encouraging isn't it... to see gals with premature gray hair come into their own in the fashion picture?

Turian... THE makers of smart wedgies have come up with the smartest pigskin wedgies. Natural pigskin is a tough leather. Even after it's wet it dries out and becomes soft... pliable. The new thing about these light-weight wedgies is their built-up leather wedges. Available right here in Grosse Pointe at Jacobson's.
