BETWEEN 340,000 and 350,000 East Germans fled their Communist-controlled homeland in 1953, to seek refuge in the West, a report from the West Berlin Economic Research Institute stated.

At the same time, American officials revealed that the United States helped to resettle 7,000 Iron Curtain refugees in other lands during the year.

The West Berlin Institute said the flow of refugees to the West resulted in a net drop in the East Zone's of almost 300,000.

GOV. WILLIAMS, in his last official act of 1953, fired the secretary and two of the three members of the state board of cosmetology. Dismissed were Mrs. Evelyn Hickman of Flint, secretary; and Mrs. Florence Van Zee of Grandville, and Mrs. Dorothy M. Watt of Lansing, board members.

All were Democratic appointees of the governor. He stated that the board should be reorganized if for no other reason than the unfortunate clash of personalities between Mrs. Hickman and the board members.

FOUR DETROIT police officers; members of the Bethune Station clean-up squad, were charged with illegally invading three private apartments on a so-called raid, and were given suspensions. In addition, Sgt. Thomas Watson, head of the squad, was accused of confiscating a typewriter, from one of the apartments and taking it to his home without making a record.

The suspensions were handed out after an all night investigation ordered by Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard. The officers insisted they were raiding well known gambling establishments. They had no warrants.

THE UNITED STATES informed Russia that it is prepared to enter promptly into private, informal talks on the international use of atomic energy, any time the Soviet wishes. According to diplomatic sources, Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen called on Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, to determine how Russia wishes to proceed in view of its agreement December 21 to enter the talks.

President Eisenhower advocated the discussions in a speech December 8, to the United Nations. The next move is up to Russia.

THE UNITED STATES is reported discussing military aid agreements with Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Pakistan, as well as plans for sending a flow of American weapons to Iran. The United States is making this move in order to erect a defensive shield against any possible Russian attack in the oil-rich Middle East and South Asia.

At present, the State and Defense Departments are moving slowly because they have been unable to decide what to do about Pakistan's request for American arms.

Tuesday, January 5

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, addressing the nation as individuals and families, solemnly assured the American people that he will do everything in his power to help maintain the country's prosperity.

He made his speech in a nationwide television-radio talk. He stated that prosperity does not depend on war. He also asserted that sound planning and aggressive enterprise must be accompanied by faith in America's growth and progress.

SCIENTISTS in London announced that they are planning to launch a rocket to the moon to take photos and return. Dr. John G. Porter, an official of the Royal Greenwich Observatory, told a student audience that it will be possible to take a trip to the moon in the future, as well as a trip to Mars. He said a trip to the moon may be made in five days if a speed of 25,000 miles an hour can be attained. However, he did not elaborate too much on the plans.

Police Ignore 'No Parking' Violations for Xmas Gifts

Now it can be told. City Police Chief Thomas Trombly disclosed on Monday, January 4, that 80 meter violation tickets issued by his department on December 24, for overtime parking, were the City's Christmas presents to the drivers of the cars.

City police spent the day before Christmas looking for cars parked before meters having expired time and placing a ticket on such cars. This was done of course, along with their regular duties of the day. However, these tickets were

Head of Public Libraries Reports Tremendous Growth In Activities, Membership

Robert M. Orr Talks of Great Increase in Use of Three Buildings, Staff and Physical Plant Enlarged

By Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries
In January, 1952, the writer had the pleasure of announcing the dedication of the new Woods Branch on January 12. A year ago, in a similar letter, announcement was made of the dedication of the Central Library on January 28 of this year. While we have no such exciting news to announce as 1954 begins, the public library staff can look back on a year that has broken all records of library service to the community.

As the Public Library approaches its Silver Anniversary July 1, it is better equipped than ever before to perform its mission. Physically, its three libraries in attractive, modern buildings are well located to serve their respective areas.

Its staff has grown with expanded facilities, but has retained the kind of service that has given the Public Library its enviable reputation. The library through the years has been blessed with a loyal and devoted staff who have established high standards as public servants.

Helen Finster, Chief of Book Processing, and Jean Taylor, Chief of Children's Service, are both completing their 25th year, an outstanding record by two women who have contributed tremendously to every phase of the library's development.

Melitta Roemer, Chief of the Central Library, is completing her 23rd year of service, another fine record.

Statistically, 1953 has set new records for library use in Grosse Pointe. In the first eleven months, 43,303 more books were loaned than for the same period a year ago. Even more important, 3,048 more men, women, and children were registered users, December 31, than for January 1 of this year, a 25 percent increase. At present, there are 15,334 registered users; almost one-third of our residents, or an average of better than one for each family.

One of the past year's highlights has been the excellent use made of the new Central Library. During its first 11 months of use, through December 31, 131,850 books were circulated, compared to 73,589 for the old Main Library for the preceding year. As of December 1, there were 7,855 registered users compared to 5,571 users registered at the Main Library (in Pierce Junior High) a year ago. Also very encouraging, 190 meetings were held at the new library during 1953 with 5,800 persons attending.

The Public Library's reason for being is Service. Its primary objective is to become a true community library. One of the best ways of measuring how well a library is achieving this is through community interest manifested in gifts.

On the basis of all three criteria, the writer believes that the Public Library made much progress during 1953. Few libraries have ever been the recipients of such gifts as have been granted your library this year, either in size or in number, ranging from the building to furnishings, art objects, books and money for special books.

Hold Teeners In Felonious Assault Case

Pair Charged with Using Broken Bottle in Attack on Other Youth

Two teenagers, held in custody since January 2, have been formally charged with felonious assault, according to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

A warrant stipulating the charge was obtained from the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office on Monday, January 4, by Det. Lt. Stanley Enders.

Used Broken Bottle

Information released by Chief Louwers disclosed that the two youths, Richard Kline, 18, of 72 Mapleton, and Robert Dorsten, 17, of 2551 Ashland, Detroit, were accused of assaulting Donald Waggoner, 18, of 15463 Windmill Pointe drive, with a broken beer bottle, for an alleged offense committed against a friend of theirs.

Kline and Dorsten went to the Waggoner home, they told arresting officers, with the intention of administering a beating to Waggoner, whom they asserted had beaten up one of their friends.

Found Bottle on Lawn

Seeing the bottle on the lawn of the Waggoner home, Kline picked it up and placed it in his pocket, and then they both called on Waggoner to come out.

When Waggoner came out onto his porch, the three apparently had a few words, before Kline and Dorsten made the beating accusation, and during the course of the argument, Kline pulled out the bottle, and flung it at Waggoner's face.

Arm Breaks Blow

The attacked youth threw up his arm just in time to prevent possible injury to his face.

Waggoner, accompanied by Lt. Enders, went to the Prosecutor's office to swear out the warrant.

Both Under Bond

Both of the accused were arraigned before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger, the same evening. They stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered for them. They waived examination. Judge Belanger placed each under a $2,000 personal bond, pending trial in Wayne County Circuit Court. They face a maximum of four years in prison if convicted.

Woods Solons Take Steps to Restrict Power of Council

Governor Asked to Approve Charter Amendment Which Would Protect Wishes of Voters in Matters of Law Changes

The Woods council unanimously approved an amendment to the city charter on Monday, January 4, and directed that it be sent to the Governor of Michigan for approval.

The amendment, which provides that any ordinance adopted by the voters may not be amended or repealed by the council, but must be amended or repealed by the electorate, was submitted by Councilman Waid McKnight.

Action Follows Debate

The amendment was presented to the council following a debate at a public hearing held in the Parcels School auditorium on December 21, and which was deferred until Monday night's regular meeting.

The change was recommended by Councilman McKnight, after a controversy regarding the issuance of a liquor license in the Woods, in which joint-owners of a restaurant in the city sought council approval of a Class C license.

However, public opinion manifested itself at the December 21 meeting, when the council sought to repeal an amendment voted for by the majority of electors in November 1952, in which it was stipulated that no more liquor licenses were to be issued, and the repeal vote collapsed.

Would Void Power

As the charter now stands, the council has the power to repeal ordinances or amendments six months after they have been passed.

The amendment now to be submitted to Governor Williams, if it meets with his approval, will prevent any future controversy which may arise by stripping the council of the power to repeal or amend any ordinance passed by the citizens' consent.

A challenge of the constitutionality of the November 1952 amendment will be made in the Wayne County Circuit Court by the restaurant owners, latest reports disclosed.

Youthful Driver Rams Into Pole

A youthful driver, whose car struck a pole at St. Clair and St. Paul, on Wednesday, December 30, and his passenger were taken to Bon Secours Hospital by City police for cut faces and noses.

A city police accident report disclosed that James D. Meier, 16, of 1181 Bishop road, approached the intersection of St. Clair and St. Paul while traveling southward on St. Paul.

As he approached the stop street on St. Paul, his companion, David Clark, 16, of 709 Berkshire road, cried out a warning, but not in time to prevent Meier's crashing into a pole on the northeast corner, damaging the car and pole.

The car was towed off to a garage for repairs, and after the two boys were treated at the hospital, police ticketed Meier for reckless driving and causing an accident.

REPORTS DOG BITE

Omer Mortier of 15300 Mack, reported to Park police on Thursday, December 24, that a dog owned by Philip Costea of 1437 Nottingham, bit him. The dog was placed under observation.

Erect Four-Way Stop Signs To Reduce Traffic Hazards

Holiday road residents who jammed the Woods council chambers on Monday, January 4, to demand that four-way stop signs be placed at Torrey and Fairholme, left with a feeling of satisfaction after their request was met, at least temporarily.

A large delegation of the residents attended the regular council meeting to advocate that the Woods establish a traffic control on their street to curb speeding.

A petition bearing 50 names of residents of Holiday road, and a few from along Cook road and Fairholme, asked that the four-way stop be instituted as the best means of bringing about a curb on speeders, who have been endangering the lives and limbs of the children of the neighborhood.

Ray Buck of 19876 Holiday, the first to speak, stated that at a previous hearing when the matter of speed control was brought up, action was taken for 10 days after, but as time went on, this became lax, and speeders were at it again.

He pointed out that the request was not only for the safety of the neighborhood children, but also for the 200 children who attend Month School located in Cook road.

Fred Tew of 20047 Holiday, remarked that the recent traffic

Mobile Unit Coming Here On January 15

War Memorial Center Will Again Be Scene of Collection from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The Red Cross Mobile Unit will come to the War Memorial Center on Friday, January 15, for the first blood collection of the new year in the Pointe. The hours for the collection will be from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The cooperation of all residents has been urged to make the campaign a success. The need for blood is more vital than ever, according to the Red Cross. The cessation of war in Korea was followed by an apathy which has greatly depleted stocks of plasma and whole blood.

Need Gamma Globulin

The great necessity for additional whole blood to make gamma globulin for immunization against infantile paralysis, is another main factor in making current collections more important than ever.

The January 15 collection will again be sponsored by all the Pointe churches, the Memorial Center, Board of Education and Marine League. Mrs. Wendell Goddard is general chairman of this drive. She will be assisted by Mrs. Frank P. Lister, Mrs. Harther Kelm and Mrs. C. Q. Swenson.

To Provide Supper

Mrs. Swenson's committee will be in charge of preparing the supper which is supplied to all volunteer workers and the Red Cross professional staff which accompanies the unit.

Transportation will again be provided by the Center for all desiring it. Nursery facilities will be available to all parents who are accompanied by their small children.

The Center has proven an ideal location for blood donations. The spaciousness of the building provides ample room for registering prospective donors and for handling the actual donations with a minimum of time and effort. Parking space is adequate.

Hope for Big Turnout

With the last few collections here falling short of expectations, it is the hope of all concerned that a large turnout will be on hand on January 15. Appointments for giving blood and for transportation may be made by calling TUxedo 1-6030.

Thief Extracts Car Drive Shaft

Herman Denzler of 237 Lake Spore road, was unable to drive his daughter's car on Thursday, December 31, for the simple reason that some culprit had stolen the drive shaft.

Denzler told Farms police that he had attempted to move the car, which has been parked in the street overnight, but when the car refused to function, he got out to investigate, and discovered the drive shaft had been stolen.

A further check of the car, he said, showed that the culprit or culprits had helped themselves to a wallet, containing only personal papers and car registration, which was left in the glove compartment of vehicle.

Believe Burglar Netted Nothing

Although they are not certain, Park police are inclined to believe that the burglar who broke into the home of Dr. Gordon Myers, 789 Westchester, went away empty handed.

According to Chief Arthur Louwers, a call was received from Mrs. Edward Audreux of 773 Westchester on Sunday, January 3, stating that she found the door of the doctor's residence open. The doctor and his family away, she said.

Police sent to investigate discovered that the house had been ransacked, but as far as is known the thief had not taken anything.

They surmised that the burglar was only interested in trying to find money, but had failed. This was based on the fact that several pieces of expensive costume jewelry found in the home, were left untouched.

Chief Louwers assigned investigation of the case to Det. Lt. Stanley Enders.

tion disclosed a definite need for the reestablishment of a social group for young married couples. Many of the new residents attending indicated great interest in such a group.

To Form New Group

Mrs. Frederick C. Campbell, who recently returned from Bermuda where she decorated Government House for the arrival of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, was in charge of arranging the tea table at the many lovely flowers which filled the Center.

Nursery facilities were provided to care for small children, but most of the guests preferred to keep their youngsters with them in their tour of the Center.

Refreshments Popular

The refreshment table with its wassail bowl, holiday cookies and tea and coffee was one of the popular attractions.

Janice Gelhaar, former Grosse Pointe High student now attending Wayne University, played piano music, throughout the reception, from 3 to 6 p.m.

Stop Signs

survey conducted by the Woods resulted in the installation of 25 miles an hour signs, which was not had before. Now, there are no speed reductions as drivers tend to ignore the speed limit, he said. He stressed that enough surveys have been conducted on Holiday, and the people do not want any more delay in the putting up of the signs.

City Manager Ray MacArthur, asked by Mayor Paul Rowe to comment on the situation, said that two surveys have been conducted on Holiday, one of which is now underway and expected to be completed within the week.

He explained that some enforcement measures have been taken to curb speeding, including the use of the electric speed timer and the erection of 25-mile speed limit signs which are being enforced as much as possible.

He disclosed that because of a survey conducted last year, four-way stop signs have been installed at Oxford and Holiday.

He informed the residents that the entire matter is that of enforcement and that a solution would have to be worked out.

Councilman Waid McKnight asked the residents if they considered the intersections of Torrey and Holiday as bad spots, and when he received an affirmative answer, recommended that the matter be referred to the Public Safety Committee at its meeting which will be held on Saturday, January 16.

He made a motion that the residents concerned elect a delegation of five to attend the meeting, and then anyone interested can attend the regular council meeting, on Monday, January 18, to find out the results.

Director of Public Safety Vern C. Bailey, asked to comment on the survey being done by his department, said that the present survey was still in progress, and because the report is not complete, he cannot comment fully on the matter. However, he added, the study of the situation disclosed that some of the speeders are people from the neighborhood concerned.

Before terminating the hearing, the council approved the placing of four-way stop signs at the intersections of both Torrey and Fairholme on Holiday, and authorized that they be installed the following day, Tuesday January 6.

The signs will remain, at least until the final outcome of the survey or the meetings.

'Young People Best Hope,' Student Told by Kefauver

By Ben Sharp

Grosse Pointe student Are high government officials unwilling to meet the general public? This question arose in my mind while I was spending Christmas in Washington. I wished to interview Senator Estes Kefauver, father of four children, on what he thought the youth of America could do to prepare for the leadership that must someday be theirs.

I was doubtful as to whether I could get to see the Senator, since he was undoubtedly busy and this was the day after Christmas. Upon telephoning his home, however, I was pleasantly surprised when I told that Senator Kefauver would see me in an hour at his office.

When I arrived at the Senator's office I knocked on the door, and was at once greeted very cordially. Since I had never previously interviewed a senator, I was naturally quite nervous. But he soon put me at ease by introducing me to his young son, David, about six or seven, and autographing a copy of his book, "Crime in America" for me.

Not wishing to leave David out, I requested that he give me a personally autographed drawing, seeing that his past artistic works now adorn the walls of the senator's office. David politely complied with my request.

"Our greatest hope for peace and international understanding lies in our young people," stated Senator Kefauver. He went on to say, "They don't have the prejudices that older people have."

The Senator feels that the student exchange program, by enabling our young people to understand those of other lands, is helping us to gain international understanding. In connection with this aim he believes the study of languages is very important.

Senator Kefauver believes that this is an important time for young people because of the fine educational facilities open to them. However, increased opportunities bring added responsibilities, since young people are viewed in a more critical light.

Television and types of literature are blamed for the rise in juvenile delinquency. "However," the senator commented, "young people should understand and be on the alert for things whose influence is bad."

Senator Kefauver thinks that young people should take an interest and an active part in politics, and that certainly everyone should be well informed.

"What can just one person do politically?" I asked. "One person can do a lot," was the reply. The senator pointed out how even before a person can vote he can work in political offices, wards, precincts, and be active in clubs and discussion groups. Above all, he should learn the principals for which the political parties stand.

With our increased opportunities, Senator Kefauver believes that more young people today should consider careers in government and foreign service.

Capt. Treester Reported Dead

Capt. James L. Treester, jet pilot who was reported as missing on his 47th mission on October 11, 1951, has been officially declared dead as of that date. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Treester of 1781 Anita, received the official word from the government on Monday, January 4.

Captain Treester was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in the Class of January 1942. He was graduated from West Point in the Class of 1945.

He served in Europe for five years after the close of World War II and took part in the Greek guerilla campaign. After a trip back to the States, he was sent to England for about five months before being ordered to Korea in April 1951.

Survivors besides his parents, include his wife, Mary Quincy of Sumter, S. C., a 21-month-old daughter, Mary James, whom her father never saw, and a sister, Mildred Treester.

Captain Treester and his wife were married in Japan in May 1951. They had met in the States and Mrs. Treester later went to Japan as a civil service worker.

Mothers' and Dads' Clubs to Present Play and Panel

The Mothers' and Dads' Clubs of the Grosse Pointe High School will present an evening program to which all parents are invited, on Monday, January 11, at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium. Among those taking part, pictured above, are, left to right: RICHARD SPINDLE, DAVE NETHERTON, SANDRA DICKELY, PAT NELSON, REESE MacFARLANE, JUDY FORDON, JEANE LEETE and JIM CLYMA.

The program will stem from "The In's and Out's," a play about a teen-age boy trying to get into a clique.

Don Howdeshell, 11B, will play the boy, and Marilyn Zarodowski, 10A; Dan Leach, 11A; Betty Snell, 11B, and Jim Blashill, 11B, will play members of the clique.

Director of the play, Mr. Fredrick Nelson, commented on its unusual form. The second part is a flashback to the first section. The thoughts of the boy are dramatized while the other characters remain motionless and frozen.

The attitude of the adolescent, as shown in the play, will then be discussed by a group of effective living students, Judy Fordon, 12B; Jean Leete, 12B; Pat Nelson, 12A; Sandra Dickely, 12A; Dave Netherton, 12B; Reese MacFarlane, 12B; Richard Spindle, 12B, and Dick Hammond, 12A.

Dr. Joseph Hourihan, visiting teacher, will lead the panel discussion.

Although the play is primarily entertaining, Mrs. Peter Duerksen, program chairman, said the panel hopes to draw out points in the play which will give parents an insight into the feelings of the adolescent.

Bill Power to Speak On Saturday TV Show

William G. (Bill) Power of 1653 Renaud road will be the speaker at 8 p.m. Saturday, January 9 on the Detroit Trust Company's weekly television show on Channel 4.

Mr. Power, noted as an outstanding speaker, is president of the Adcraft Club and advertising manager of Chevrolet.

The television series, "Meet the Future," is presented as a public service by the Detroit Trust Co., in cooperation with the Junior Achievement movement.

Y-Teens Discover It's Fun Giving Pleasure to Others

By Carol Measel, GPHS Journalism Student

In the spring of 1950 Grosse Pointe High School opened its first Y-Teens Club. In the next two years the Y-Teens of Grosse Pointe High grew from one club of 25 members to four clubs of 197 members.

In these early stages of the organization the members were chosen by their homeroom teachers on the basis of personal achievement.

As the organization grew in membership and development, the clubs began to feel that this was not an entirely fair way of acquiring new members and so they changed from this old method to the one they use today.

The girls who are interested in joining the clubs today must place their names on an application sheet and then the clubs, at the beginning of each semester, choose from this sheet, in the order in which their names appeared, the number of girls which they are allowed to add to their club.

The Y-Teens Clubs, which act in association with the YWCA, share a common purpose. That purpose is to build a fellowship of girls devoted to the task of realizing in their everyday lives those ideals of personal and social living to which they have been committed by their faith as Christians.

The Y-Teens Clubs of Grosse Pointe High School have realized this purpose specifically by continually giving aid and enjoyment to many underprivileged groups.

Besides giving help to the needy, the girls plan for themselves a great deal of enjoyment. At their semi-monthly meetings they have programs that range anywhere from the problems of a foreign country to the importance of keeping well groomed.

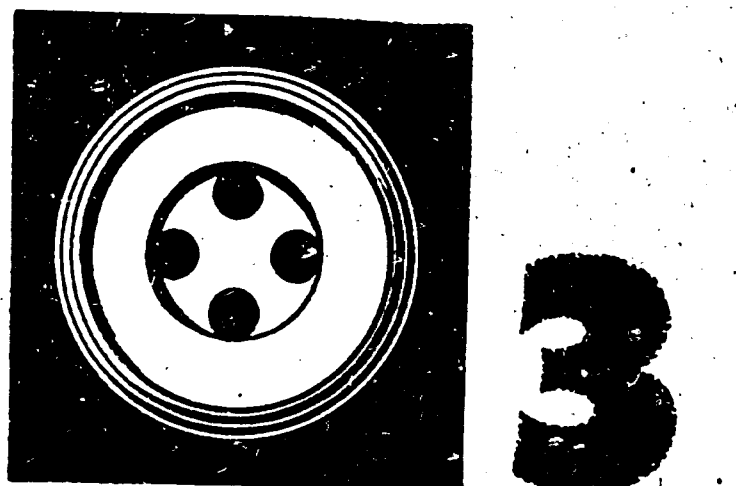

They also enjoy acquiring new friends and they have the fun of working jointly with the Hi-Y Clubs on Grosse Pointe High's annual Hi-Y Y-Teen Carnival.

The officers of each of the four Y-Teens clubs are: Beta Y-Teens: President, Martha Slowin; vice-president, Beverly Clime; secretary, Nancy Seydler; treasurer, Mary Dahlin; chaplain, Karon Jacobs; I.C.C. representative, Carolyn Elliot.

Theta Y-Teens: President, Mary Shenefield; vice-president, Jean Stunyo; secretary, Nancy Boyle; treasurer, Barbara Eisenhower; chaplain, Suzie Silmon; I.C.C. representative, Sally Snowday.

Alpha Y-Teens: President, Joan Friedli; vice-president, Jane Thompson; secretary, Sandy Halford; treasurer, Joan Sluggitt; chaplain, Paula Mathewson; I.C.C. representative, Cathy Corey.

Delta Y-Teens: President, Irene Schiele; vice-president, Merwyn Keys; secretary, Barbara Bendlin; treasurer, Bee Burrows; chaplain, Sandy Taylor; I.C.C. representative, Dorothy Cullers.

Yes, if we return a shirt with a button missing, we will launder that shirt, plus two more!

Palace Model's regular guarantee, printed on each shirt band, reads as follows: "Should the laundering of this shirt not meet with your entire satisfaction, or if a button is missing, please don't wear it. Return it together with this band and we will refinish it at our expense."

NOBODY CAN LAUNDER A SHIRT BETTER THAN PALACE MODEL

Since this guarantee was put into use, we have laundered over 2,500,000 shirts. Because you want your shirts and linens handled away from home is no reason for worry about their safety and care.

We'd welcome your comparison of our laundering with your present method, whether you "do it at home" or "send it out." Phone Woodward 1-8080 (or local toll free interzone number) and have our courteous routeman call to explain our money saving services. We'll pick up as few as 5 regular shirts.

Nursing Society Plans Tea Honoring Founder

Mrs. Mary Breckinridge of Frontier Nursing Society Inspires Tea Tuesday at Lake Shore Road Home of Mrs. Ernest Kanzler; to Report on Hospital Progress at Heyden

A tale of woman's humanity to woman will unfold next Tuesday afternoon when members of the Frontier Nursing Society gather at the Lake Shore road home of Mrs. Ernest Kanzler to greet the society's founder, Mrs. Mary Breckinridge.

For the past twenty-five years Mrs. Breckinridge has kept a post holiday date with Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield and Detroit women who have contributed toward the maintenance of the Frontier Nursing Hospital at Heyden, Ky.

Difficult to realize, but true, is the fact that in 1854, here in the United States there are seven hundred square miles in Kentucky almost impossible to reach except by foot or horseback. To the families living in this district, the Frontier Nursing Society has been a beacon light and a life saving agency over a quarter of a century as it has pursued its visiting nurse services.

The moving story of the Society and its work is told in Mrs. Breckinridge's book, "Wide Neighbors" now in its fifth edition. Gathered to hear her Tuesday will be old friends of the Society as well as prospective new friends and workers.

One of these will be a staunch and loyal supporter Mrs. Henry B. Joy who usually gives this very tea.

Because she was in New York to see her daughter, Mrs. Helen Joy Lee, off on a trip to South Africa, Mrs. Joy this year had to content herself with being just a guest instead of hostess.

She this year asked Mrs. Kanzler, Mrs. Charles H. Hodges, Jr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Ford Jr. to do the honors in their own charming fashion. Nevertheless she's hurrying back to attend the tea and as always lend her enthusiastic backing.

Mrs. Henry B. Joy Jr. and Mrs. Arthur McGraw will also serve on the committee for the afternoon. Dr. McGraw for years and years held an annual clinic at the Kentucky hospital, giving his services for a month to the worthy cause.

Other Pointers have been actively associated with the Society serving as volunteer couriers, visiting the humble shacks far back in the hills, helping families in need and sickness.

Julie Chapman Makes Debut

For the first time in many years, Detroit society greeted a debutante on Christmas Eve.

She was Julie Chapman, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Chapman, introduced her at a tea dansant in the Country Club.

The club was decked in Christmas greens for the occasion. Julie's white silk waltz length gown had narrow sapphire velvet sash and she carried her father's gift bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and ivy.

Mrs. Chapman chose for the afternoon, a gray-blue silk taffeta waltz length frock.

Benjamin G. Chapman was his deb sister's head usher and the others were Angus Goetz Jr., Peter Whitman, Gary Symington, Harry M. Jewett, Fenton C. Renfick and Robert K. Howenstein.

Welcome Club's Party Success

The Christmas party held at the War Memorial Center by the Grosse Pointe Welcome Wagon Club on Wednesday, December 16, was acclaimed a huge success by all those who attended.

Luncheon was served in the Veterans Room with a cheery fire in the fireplace. The tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion by Mrs. J. A. McNello and her committee, with Christmas greens and red candles.

The speaker's table was adorned with a lovely flower arrangement of red carnations, white mums and greens.

A bouquet of flowers was given Mrs. Alfred Zastrow.

Entertainment for the occasion was furnished by the Junior Red Cross Volunteers. There was a skit on the life of Clara Barton, by Bernice Lahr, Alan Roth and Pat Prosser.

Pat Prosser also gave a humorous reading entitled, "Brother Can You Spare a Pint". Two carols were sung by Susan Stallard, Marie Affer and Mary Lou Bruneau, who were accompanied on the piano by Caroline DeBoer.

Mrs. Jean Sargeant gave an inspired reading of "The Littlest Angel," and punch and cookies were served.

Among the members present at the party were Mrs. Lucille Hutchenreuther, Mrs. George McCarthy and guest, Mrs. Robert Sheehan, Mrs. F. Clayton Miles, Miss Mary Lou Hurley, Mrs.

R. K. Smith, Grace Donovan, Mrs. Alfred Zastrow, Mrs. Arno Rouch, Mrs. W. L. Brown and two guests, Mrs. J. R. May, Mrs. Clifford Alpaugh, Mrs. Samuel Mitchell, Mrs. P. J. Dalton, Mrs. Florence Walsh, Mrs. Richard Gorman, Mrs. William Lyman,

Mrs. W. M. Tallafiero, Mrs. Marjorie Bell, Mrs. William Hurly and Mrs. Phyllis Day.

Debut Dinner for Kitty Crane

Still another Christmas season debutante who made her curtsy on the evening of Dec. 28 was Kitty Crane, blond daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lyman Crane of Lincoln road.

The Cranes chose a dinner party at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club to present their daughter. The club on the lake was lovely with holiday decorations as the Cranes and Kitty welcomed guests in the Commodore Room.

In a tulle gown shading from melon pink to gray the deb had a smile for each guest passing down the receiving line.

Her frock had bodice of criss-crossed folds of the soft material and its skirt poufed over hoops to fall floor length. She carried her father's gift bouquet of violets.

Repeating the violet tone was the taffeta opera-length gown chosen by Mrs. Crane who threw a net stole over her shoulders.

Following the debut dinner, Kitty and her guests went on to the ball in the Country Club which Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Fitzpatrick gave for their daughter, Sandra.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerborn

Can't remember a holiday season when the salespeople seemed wearier by the time it was the night before Christmas . . .

But a few of our friends confide that the days the shops opened for the "returns" all was even madder . . .

One Detroit jeweler found a Christmas girl waiting at the front door the morning after Dec. 25 . . . with a ten thousand dollar bracelet she was returning for c-a-s-h . . .

And a local haberdasher has been talking to himself ever since he greeted a lady who was returning fifty-three dollars worth of Christmas ties . . .

"My husband doesn't wear neckties," was all she said . . .

Now He Parlez Vous

U. S. Ambassador to Belgium Frederick M. Alger, Jr., and Mrs. Alger will be leaving the Pointe on Sunday . . . for the return to Washington . . . a few days with Mrs. Alger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dewey . . . and then will fly back to Brussels . . .

This crossing should be a lot more peaceful for Mrs. Alger . . . who, on the first trip last Summer, checked off thirty-six pieces of personal luggage for the family . . .

When we read recently . . . that young David, who stayed on in Brussels during the holidays, had mastered an awesome amount of French in his first six European months . . . we like to remember the day we called the Alger apartments at the George V in Paris last July . . .

The phone was answered not with a "hello" . . . or a "yes" . . . but with young David announcing immediately, "This is David Alger and I can't speak a word of French" . . .

We had never heard more pleasant words in our life! . . .

Ballet Theatre Draws Pointers to Masonic

Week-end in Store for Balletomanes With Saturday and Sunday Performances; Hemingway Ballet Is of Special Interest to Sterling Sanfords; John Hoags to Attend

This week end the magic of Ballet will lure thousands of enthusiasts of all ages to Masonic Auditorium, where the Ballet Theatre company is booked for three performances, two of them matinees, on Saturday and Sunday; the other, Saturday evening.

Of the scores of Grosse Pointers who will attend, there's a special reason why the names of two families head the list—the Sterling Sanfords and the John W. Hoags.

The new ballet on Saturday night's program is based on a short story about bull fighting by Ernest Hemingway, famous brother of Mrs. Sanford, who was Marcelline Hemingway. Its title: "The Capital of the World." Mr. Sanford, who shares his wife's enthusiasm for the Ballet and the Drama, will accompany her Saturday evening.

John W. Hoag, Jr. is proud of kinship with Lucia Chase, the company's accomplished administrative director. Not only must she attend to much of the vast detail of the company's tours; she must juggle the programs so that modern dances are balanced by enough classical ballets to satisfy even the most traditional-minded balletomanes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoag are planning to attend a matinee with their small daughter Phyllis. Two young ballet enthusiasts, Josephine and Victoria Joy with their mother, Mrs. Schlotman Joy will leave the thrills of skating at Otsego, in order to be home in time for a week end of ballet. They have invited several of their friends to join them for Saturday afternoon's performance.

Other Grosse Pointers who are planning to attend one or more ballets include: Mr. and Mrs. David M. Sutter, John S. Newberry, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Simonds, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Forsyth and their guest, Daniel Quirk of Ypsilanti (father of Mrs. G. Menen Williams), Robert Tannahill and Mr. and Mrs. Philip D. Dexter. The list continues with Mrs. J. Rex Queeny and Sharon Ann, Mrs. James E. Scripps III and Ann, Mrs. George Roumell with Martha and Anthony, and Thomas C. Gillis. Heading Ballet Theatre's roster of solo dancers is Igor Youskevitch, other stars being Alicia Alonso, John Kriza and Melissa Hayden. Also popular with Detroit audiences are Ruth Ann Koesun, Eric Braun and Lillian Lanese. Brilliant new additions are Lupe Serrano and Roy Fitzell, whose dancing in the Hemingway premiere at the Metropolitan Opera House on December 27 was reported as sensational. The Detroit schedule: Jan. 9 (matinee)—"Les Sylphides," "Peter and the Wolf" and "Graduation Ball." Evening—"Aleko," by Leonide Massine (a revival), "The Capital of the World," "Black Swan" pas de deux and "Fancy Free." Jan. 10 (matinee)—"Theme and Variations," "The Combat" (new), "The Nutcracker" pas de deux and "Gala Performance." Miss Chase—a woman of diversified abilities and great charm—found in Ballet the art-form that synthesized for her, as it does for so many others, the best features of music, dance and drama. First she became an accomplished dancer, then an actress. When the Mordkin Ballet was formed in 1938 she joined the troupe and toured the country with it. And when Richard Pleasant and a group of enthusiasts proposed a new kind of ballet company in 1940—one that would be American in character and international in scope—she joined them wholeheartedly. The new organization was named Ballet Theatre.

Young Educator To Give Lecture

"What are your children being taught?" is the controversial subject chosen by William F. Buckley, Jr., brilliant young educator, for his lecture at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, January 13, at 11 o'clock in Fisher Theater.

Buckley has been called "one of the country's most provocative speakers on modern education." His first book, which stirred the nation, was the effective, "God and Man at Yale," an expose of Leftist influence in the schools. Born in New York, and educated at Yale, Buckley is now an editor of American Mercury magazine.

Garden Club's Meeting Jan. 12

The Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club will hold its annual subscription luncheon and meeting on Tuesday, January 12 at 12:30 p.m. It will be held in the Grosse Pointe Club. Hostess for the afternoon will be Mrs. Eugene D. Lewis. Mrs. E. Doty Worcester will be co-hostess.

According to an old saying, there is a time for all things—but the wise man prefers to tackle one thing at a time.

Events Planned By Ixex Club

Two general meetings, instead of the customary single one, are on the Ixex Club calendar for the month. The first will take place on Wednesday, January 13, when members lunch at Devon Gables and tour the portrait studio of John S. Coppin in Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Richard Wunsch will be hostess to members and their husbands at the second meeting, on Thursday evening, January 28, when Karl Haas of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will speak on "The Well-Tempered Listener." His talk will be illustrated by recordings and piano selections. Mrs. George Dickey has made arrangements for this meeting.

The club's Arts and Crafts Group, of which Mrs. James Stevenson is chairman, is planning a series of five classes in enameling, to begin on Friday, January 15 at the Eagen Studio in Nottingham road.

Members of the Drama Group will have their first session of the season under the direction of Mrs. George V. Candler on January 18 at the home of Mrs. David D. Williams of Grosse Pointe boulevard.

This is the time of year when we all regret that we don't have another vacation to spend in the sunny south.

Betty Lewis Makes Debut at Dinner Party

Country Club Dinner Marks Debut of Daughter of A. Ingersoll Lewis Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zimmerman Give Ball Same Evening for Their Daughter Jessie

A tiny blond debutante, whose distinguished ancestry goes far back beyond the founding of the City of the Straits, bowed to society on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, at a dinner party in the Country Club.

The debutante was Betty Lewis (Marie Elizabeth), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis, Jr., of Lewiston road.

Betty is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. Edmund Delbos, of Lake Shore road, and of Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis, of Vendome road. Among her forebearers are Palms and Fugers and Halls, long important names in old Detroit society.

The Lewis reception and dinner was followed by a ball given by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zimmerman to introduce their debutante daughter, Jessie.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and Betty greeted the guests in the Blue Room at the Club.

The debutante donned for her coming out party, a gown of pale blue chiffon over white taffeta stitched in blue silk. A girdle of blue taffeta encircled her tiny waist, ending in a bow at the back and falling to the floor-touching hem of her bouffant skirt.

Her father's gift of pink camellias were worn at her waist. Mrs. Lewis's strapless evening gown was fashioned of gray blue silk taffeta, silver beads scattered over the molded bodice. She also wore pink camellias.

Members of the young set dined at a huge E shaped table which was decorated with prancing reindeer pulling silver sleighs filled with holly and snowmen and pine. Holiday red tapers glowed in crystal candleabra.

Mrs. Delbos attended her granddaughter's debut in a frock

GPYC Juniors Frolic at Annual Holiday Gala

Out of Town Band Adds Zip to Evening Party for College and Boarding School Set at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club; Breakfast Served to Partygoers

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's Junior Prom on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, brought together a large number of the prep school and college set, and it was a real reunion for many who were home for the holidays from their schools in other cities.

Groups began gathering around 8 o'clock for dancing in the main lounge to the music of Pee Wee Hunt's Orchestra. Blue and silver streamers formed a high canopy in the beautiful lounge and rich blue velvet draperies screened the huge bay window.

Cola bars were arranged in the lounge and adjoining Green Room for refreshing soft drinks between dances.

A tall Christmas tree gleamed in the club's rotunda and Yuletide greens keyed the party to the season.

The prom wound up with breakfast which was served in the main dining room from 11 to 12:30 o'clock.

In one group were Louanne Nelson, Fred Keyes, Lizette Nelson, Phil Mutschall, Lucille Carmichael, Chuck Sorenson, Bonnie Louanger, Bill Dutton, Nancy Stuart, Phil Hutchinson, Susie Wiggins and Fran Mutschall.

This group joined at 5 o'clock at the James Nelson home on Hampton road for a cola party and then went to Lucille Carmichael's on Grayton road for a buffet dinner before going on to the GPYC Prom.

Bill Wachter and Janice Jacoby were in a group with Lucy Asmus, Janet Turner, Ken MacDonald and Peggy McKibbin. Judie Nelson's date was Hays Rockwell and their party included Ann Stevens, Howard Nash, Jean Ellen Martin, Hal Bailey, Gail Webster, Lee Johnston, Ann Hardy and Leonard Johnston.

In another party were Ann Reeves, Bruce Rockwell, Margo Miller, Chuck Norris, Ella Mac Harrison, Kelsey Stewart, Mary Ogden, Tom Kaser, Joan Hoover and Charles Buell.

Donna Wartena and Jay Jeffries attended together and Dick DeGenero, Jr. and Elizabeth Schemm double-dated with Bob Scofield, and Rosemary Schultz.

Twin Debut Ends Season

The only thing that could be nicer than a beautiful debutante dressed in portrait frock of champagne toned antique taffeta would be . . . two debutantes.

And that was what happened at the final debut of the season 1953-54 when Joyce Mitchell and Eleanor Carol (Susie) Barie dropped pretty curtains in their crowning out reception in the Country Club, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 30.

Presenting their daughters were Mrs. Charles Mitchell of Hendrie Lane and Mrs. Robert F. Barie of Radnor Circle.

The debs dressed alike in the lovely champagne toned frocks that were smart with molded bodices, deep sweetheart necklines and waltz length pouf skirts. Both carried hand bouquets of tallismen roses with velvet ribbons of champagne.

Cocoa brown silk damask gown was chosen by Mrs. Mitchell whose flowers were green orchids and Mrs. Barie greeted guests in deep brown peau de soie and green orchids.

The mothers and daughters met guests in the club's French Room which had been done in blending tones of apricot and champagne for the afternoon. Assistants for the debs, wearing flowers in their locks, included Cammy Doe of Carmel-

"The daisy lives, and strikes its little root Into the lap of time; centuries may come And pass away into the silent tomb, And still the child, bid in the womb of time, Shall smile and pluck them, when this simple rhyme Shall be forgotten."

(John Clare)

No matter what else is recorded for the annals of time, a MUST is the crack made by the ex-Barbara Hutton on the occasion of her most recent marriage. In case you missed it...

While we are on the subject of many marriages, have you heard the latest fairy tale ala Hollywood? Here 'tis: "Once upon a time there were three bears; a papa bear, a mama bear, and a baby bear by a previous marriage."

We like the story of the bachelor who dropped in on some people he knew quite well... to pay a late call on New Year's eve. Although they were pleased to see him his opening remark did nothing to further endear him to their hearts.

Here is a holiday note to cheer the hearts of the management at WWJ. Bill Kennedy, who was so unceremoniously "canned" from that station, is soon to appear on the Hallmark Theatre...

Now let's move over to CKLW. We wish they would stop announcing "800 on your dial." We have three radios in our abode and "800" isn't on any of them.

We received a snazzy bottle of perfume for Christmas and would tell the name but there isn't any name on the bottle. With THIS scent, we hope to be smelled for miles around.

We have heard the top in teen-age excuses. A friend of our's received a thank-you note for a Christmas gift she sent her 14-year-old niece. The note was completely typewritten...

Final Plea Made For Seal Sale

Have you answered your Christmas Seal letter? If it has been forgotten in the rush of holiday activity, sit down now and make your contribution to the health of your community.

Wayne County residents have contributed $138,000 to this year's drive thus far, Richard L. Lea, executive director, announced. "While it is encouraging that more people are contributing this year to the fight against tuberculosis, there still is a long way to go to raise the $220,000 which we will need to maintain a full program of service to every community in the county."

Basic Steps In Diagnosis

By FRED M. KOPP, R.Ph.

When you consult a doctor about a serious condition he usually advises a blood test, urine analysis, X-rays or fluoroscopes of the area in which pain is felt.

While this involves more expense and time in the beginning it means surer and swifter control of the illness. In the long run it is less costly in time and health than the methods doctors had to follow before the development of these valuable aids.

One Good Step Deserves Another

The Woods council has made a highly commendable move in voting unanimously to curb not only its own powers, but the powers of any future council that may sit in office.

The charter amendment was proposed by Councilman Waid H. McKnight. His idea was born through his disgust over the recent fiasco which resulted from an attempt to repeal a city ordinance having to do with the number of liquor licenses to be approved within the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

The liquor license question proved to be such a controversial matter in council proceedings that it was decided more than a year and a half ago to submit the matter to the electorate. As a result, there was a special ballot at the national election in November of 1952, through which the voters could state whether or not they wished any more liquor licenses to be issued in the Woods.

Under the state law a city cannot designate the number of liquor licenses to be issued by the State Liquor Commission. But the state body has long followed a policy of respecting the wishes of the city officials in such matters.

Under the present Woods charter, the council has the power to rescind any ordinance any time following six months after its adoption. Armed with the information that the growth in Woods population had given the city the right to a number of additional liquor licenses, a move was launched to nullify the ordinance which reflected the wishes of the people against the issuance of further ones.

When the matter was put to a vote, the council voted four to three for the nullification. Mayor Paul Rowe and Councilman Rex Johnston, Herbert Savage and George Heckendorn voted in the affirmative. Councilwoman Elsie Friedrich and Councilmen Harry Pratt and Waid McKnight were against the nullification and held that the wish of the people should be respected.

Fortunately, the voiding of the ordinance could not be officially accomplished until a legal notice of the intention was published. There was an unmistakable attempt in this matter to conceal from the residents just what was being contemplated.

The public meeting held in Parcels Junior High School on December 21 was a fine demonstration of democracy in action. The large turnout was so opposed to the proposal that the council had little choice when the matter was put to a vote.

The three who had been opposed to the proposal from the start, voted against the rescinding ordinance. They were joined by Councilmen Savage and Heckendorn, both of whom maintained they had voted for the publication of the intention simply to bring the matter out in the open.

Thus, with a vote of five to two, council went on record in favor of not repealing the ordinance which the people had so overwhelmingly supported at the polls.

Monday night's action, taken unanimously by the council, is one more step in the right direction. It is to be hoped Governor Williams will see fit to approve the proposed amendment to the charter.

The next action we should like to see the Woods council take, and get down officially on the record, is some provision that would make it mandatory to make available all the information to which the voters are entitled.

We refer of course to the publication of legal notices such as the one which had to do with the attempted repeal of this ordinance. Instead of announcing proposed action on Ordinance Number So and So, being Code Number So and So, etc., the exact wording of the ordinance or subject under consideration should be published.

And, further, if an open meeting is to be held for the debate of any such subject, every effort should be made by the city officials to see that all the residents are notified of the exact time, date and location of such a meeting.

First 1954 Baby Born to Starrs

The first baby to be born to Grosse Pointers in the New Year 1954, was a girl, Elizabeth Anne Starrs, weight 9 lbs. 10 oz., who made her appearance with the aid of Dr. Vincent Turcotte at St. Johns Hospital at 1:28 p.m. on January 1.

Florence Estelle Rouillard was the second, Pointe citizen to arrive. She was born in Deaconess Hospital on January 2 at 3 a.m. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Rouillard of 943 Fisher road.

In the Grosse Pointe area hospitals the following babies arrived with the New Year as follows: On January 1, at 2:53 a.m. a boy was born in St. John Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaiser of 18760 Kenosha road, Harper Woods.

At Bon Secours Hospital, the first-of-the-year arrival was a boy, born on January 2 at 4 p.m. to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Laviere of 214 Manistique avenue, Detroit.

Dr. Katherine Greene to Talk To Mothers' Health Council

If your shining New Year's resolutions to be a happier, better mother and wife already are looking slightly tarnished, they may be given new highlights by a talk on "Family Living" to be given by Dr. Katherine B. Greene at a meeting for all Grosse Pointe mothers sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Mothers' Health Education Council. The meeting will be held Tuesday, January 12, at 1:30 p.m., in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Dr. Greene, listed as one of Detroit's 12 outstanding women for 1953 in an annual poll conducted by a Detroit daily newspaper, recently was appointed marriage counselor of the Wayne County Circuit Court. She is the first person ever to be appointed by a public body to try to prevent divorce proceedings before court cases are started. Should you be annoyed because your dinner-table talk is mere trivia, with the small fry contributing "knock-knocks" while the adolescents wolf their food, Dr. Greene may be able to reconcile you to your situation by pointing out that you share the same problem with countless other parents. "Our civilization has a terrible gap so far as the protection of young families is concerned," Dr. Greene said recently. "The young wife is tied at home 24 hours a day with the young children. If she has any interest of her own, she cannot carry it out. The housework does not keep her mind busy; she gets restless. A "Be Neighborly" program might be a solution, Dr. Greene said. The idea would be to get people in a neighborhood to be friendly with one another and to work together. A mother should be out in the neighborhood enjoying the friendship of other adults. The Jan. 12 Mothers' Health Council meeting is the only one of the season to be open to all mothers. Members decided on the open session because of Dr. Greene's prominence, and because it was felt that her talk will be of great interest and benefit to all who attend. An open discussion period will be held at the end of the formal talk. Dr. Greene speaks about children and family living from a background of full experience both in her home and in her career. She raised five children of her own while serving as teacher and child psychologist in a wide variety of positions. Born in Laramie, Wyoming, Dr. Greene received her bachelor's degree at Vassar College and her Ph. D. at Columbia Uni-

Miss Seymour Bows at Tea

The deb with the delicate air, Kathleen Seymour, her arms filled with happiness roses and her dark eyes shining, greeted society at a tea Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 29, when she made her bow to society. Mrs. Batholomew A. Seymour, of Edgemont Park, gave the reception and tea for Kathleen. The Seymours had transformed their home into a Springtime scene to the delight of the holly and pine weary guests. Great urns of white snapdragons, happiness roses and saucy jonquils were used in the drawing room where Mrs. Seymour and Kathleen received. The debutante wore a heavenly gown of white faille and tulle, its wasp slender bodice touched in Chantilly lace and brilliants. A court train, trimmed in the same lace, distinguished the bouffant skirt. Mrs. Seymour's gown, of pure silk taffeta, reflected the deep soft rose of the happiness roses her daughter carried. A long line of assistants for Kathleen included her sisters, Marcelle, Isabel and Dorothy. From out-of-town came Mary Rittling of Buffalo; Rica Kane of New York City; Kathleen O'Brien of Worcester, Mass.; Audrey White of Boston and Jane Mathieu of Evanston, Ill. Still other debts, former classmates of the deb at Manhattanville College, were Joyce Plante, Betty Lewis, Rosemary Fenech, Kitty Crane and Fay FitzSimons. Mr. and Mrs. Seymour and the debutante's sisters entertained out-of-town guests and their escorts at a dinner party in their home following the debut reception. Kathleen went on to the Lewis dinner at the Country Club, escorted by Henry Crapo. On Wednesday evening the Seymours again entertained at a small open house for their out-of-town guests who returned to their respective homes on Thursday.

survey conducted by the Woods, resulted in the installation of 25 miles an hour signs, which was not had before. Now, there are no speed reductions as drivers tend to ignore the speed limit, he said. He stressed that enough surveys have been conducted on Holiday, and the people do not want any more delay in the putting up of the signs.

City Manager Ray MacArthur, asked by Mayor Paul Rowe to comment on the situation, said that two surveys have been conducted on Holiday, one of which is now underway and expected to be completed within the week.

He explained that some enforcement measures have been taken to curb speeding, including the use of the electric speed timer and the erection of 25-mile speed limit signs which are being enforced as much as possible.

He disclosed that because of a survey conducted last year, four-way stop signs have been installed at Oxford and Holiday.

He informed the residents that the entire matter is that of enforcement and that a solution would have to be worked out.

Councilman Wald McKnight asked the residents if they considered the intersections of Torrey and Holiday and Fairholme and Holiday as bad spots, and when he received an affirmative answer, recommended that the matter be referred to the Public Safety Committee at its meeting which will be held on Saturday, January 16.

He made a motion that the residents concerned elect a delegation of five to attend the meeting, and then anyone interested can attend the regular council meeting, on Monday, January 18, to find out the results.

Director of Public Safety Vern C. Bailey, asked to comment on the survey being done by his department, said that the present survey was still in progress, and because the report is not complete, he cannot comment fully on the matter. However, he added, the study of the situation disclosed that some of the speeders are people from the neighborhood concerned.

Before terminating the hearing, the council approved the placing of four-way stop signs at the intersections of both Torrey and Fairholme on Holiday, and authorized that they be installed the following day, Tuesday January 5.

The signs will remain, at least until the final outcome of the survey or the meetings.

'Young People Best Hope,' Student Told by Kefauver

By Ben Sharp
GROSSE POINTE, Mich. (Special Staff)

Are high government officials unwilling to meet the general public? This question arose in my mind while I was spending Christmas in Washington. I wished to interview Senator Estes Kefauver, father of four children, on what he thought the youth of America could do to prepare for the leadership that must someday be theirs.

I was doubtful as to whether I could get to see the Senator, since he was undoubtedly busy and this was the day after Christmas. Upon telephoning his home, however, I was pleasantly surprised when told that Senator Kefauver would see me in an hour at his office.

When I arrived at the Senator's office I knocked on the door, and was at once greeted very cordially. Since I had never previously interviewed a senator, I was naturally quite nervous. But he soon put me at ease by introducing me to his young son, David, about six or seven, and autographing a copy of his book, "Crime in America" for me.

Not wishing to leave David out, I requested that he give me a personally autographed drawing, seeing that his past artistic works now adorn the walls of the senator's office. David politely complied with my request.

"Our greatest hope for peace and international understanding lies in our young people," stated Senator Kefauver. He went on to say "They don't have the prejudices that older people have."

"The Senator feels that the student exchange program, by enabling our young people to understand those of other lands, is helping us to gain international understanding. In connection with this aim he believes the study of languages is very important.

Senator Kefauver believes that this is an important time for young people because of the fine educational facilities open to them. However, increased opportunities bring added responsibilities, since young people are viewed in a more critical light.

Television and types of literature are blamed for the rise in juvenile delinquency. "However," the senator commented, "young people should understand and be on the alert for things whose influence is bad."

Senator Kefauver thinks that young people should take an interest and an active part in politics, and that certainly everyone should be well informed.

"What can just one person do politically?" I asked. "One person can do a lot," was the reply. The senator pointed out how even before a person can vote he can work in political offices, wards, precincts, and be active in clubs and discussion groups. Above all, he should learn the principals for which the political parties stand.

With our increased opportunities, Senator Kefauver believes that more young people today should consider careers in government and foreign service.

Capt. Treester Reported Dead

Capt. James L. Treester, jet pilot who was reported as missing on his 47th mission on October 11, 1951, has been officially declared dead as of that date. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Treester of 1781 Anita, received the official word from the government on Monday, January 4.

Captain Treester was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in the Class of January 1942. He was graduated from West Point in the Class of 1945.

He served in Europe for five years after the close of World War II and took part in the Greek guerilla campaign. After a trip back to the States, he was sent to England for about five months before being ordered to Korea in April 1951.

Survivors besides his parents, include his wife, Mary Quincy of Sumter, S. C., a 21-month-old daughter, Mary James, whom her father never saw, and a sister, Mildred Treester.

Captain Treester and his wife were married in Japan in May 1951. They had met in the States and Mrs. Treester later went to Japan as a civil service worker.

Mothers' and Dads' Clubs to Present Play and Panel

The Mothers' and Dads' Clubs of the Grosse Pointe High School will present an evening program to which all parents are invited, on Monday, January 11, at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium. Among those taking part, pictured above, are, left to right: RICHARD SPINDLE, DAVE NETHERTON, SANDRA DICKELY, PAT NELSON, REESE MacFARLANE, JUDY FORDON, JEANE LEETE and JIM CLYMA.

The program will stem from "The In's and Out's," a play about a teen-age boy trying to get into a clique.

Don Howdeshell, 11B, will play the boy, and Marilyn Zardow, 10A; Dan Leach, 11A; Betty Snell, 11B, and Jim Blashill, 11B, will play members of the clique.

Director of the play, Mr. Fredrick Nelson, commented on its unusual form. The second part is a flashback to the first section. The thoughts of the boy are dramatized while the other characters remain motionless and frozen.

The attitude of the adolescent, as shown in the play, will then be discussed by a group of effective living students, Judy Fordon, 12B; Jean Leete, 12B; Pat Nelson, 12A; Sandra Dickely, 12A; Dave Netherton, 12B; Reese MacFarlane, 12B; Richard Spindle, 12B, and Dick Hammogd, 12A.

Dr. Joseph Hourihan, visiting teacher, will lead the panel discussion.

Although the play is primarily entertaining, Mrs. Peter Duerksen, program chairman, said the panel hopes to "draw out points in the play which will give parents an insight into the feelings of the adolescent."

Bill Power to Speak On Saturday TV Show

William G. (Bill) Power of 1653 Renaud road will be the speaker at 6 p.m. Saturday, January 9 on the Detroit Trust Company's weekly television show on Channel 4.

Y-Teens Discover It's Fun Giving Pleasure to Others

By Carol Measel, GPHS Journalism Student.

In the spring of 1950 Grosse Pointe High School opened its first Y-Teens Club. In the next two years the Y-Teens of Grosse Pointe High grew from one club of 25 members to four clubs of 197 members.

In these early stages of the organization the members were chosen by their homeroom teachers on the basis of personal achievement.

As the organization grew in membership and development, the clubs began to feel that this was not an entirely fair way of acquiring new members and so they changed from this old method to the one they use today.

The girls who are interested in joining the clubs today must place their names on an application sheet and then the clubs, at the beginning of each semester, choose from this sheet, in the order in which their names appeared, the number of girls which they are allowed to add to their club.

The Y-Teens Clubs, which act in association with the YWCA, share a common purpose. That purpose is to build a fellowship of girls devoted to the task of realizing in their everyday lives those ideals of personal and social living to which they have been committed by their faith as Christians.

The Y-Teens Clubs of Grosse Pointe High School have realized this purpose specifically by continually giving aid and enjoyment to many underprivileged groups.

Besides giving help to the needy, the girls plan for themselves a great deal of enjoyment. At their semi-monthly meetings they have programs that range anywhere from the problems of a foreign country to the importance of keeping well groomed.

They also enjoy acquiring new friends and they have the fun of working jointly with the Hi-Y Clubs on Grosse Pointe High's annual Hi-Y Y-Teen Carnival.

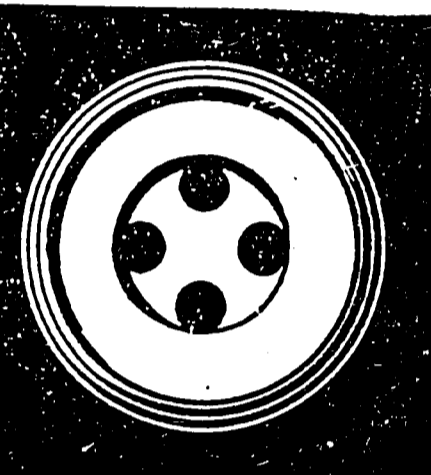

The officers of each of the four Y-Teens clubs are:

Beta Y-Teens: President, Martha Slowin; vice-president, Beverly Clinier; secretary, Nancy Seydler; treasurer, Mary Dahlin; chaplain, Karon Jacobs; I.C.C. representative, Carolyn Elliot.

Theta Y-Teens: President, Mary Shenefield; vice-president, Jean Stunoy; secretary, Nancy Boyle; treasurer, Barbara Elsenhower; chaplain, Suzie Simon; I.C.C. representative, Sally Snowday.

Alpha Y-Teens: President, Joan Friedli; vice-president, Jane Thompson; secretary, Sandy Halford; treasurer, Joan Sluggett; chaplain, Paula Mathewson; I.C.C. representative, Cathy Corey.

Delta Y-Teens: President, Irene Schiele; vice-president, Merwyn Key's; secretary, Barbara Bondlin; treasurer, Bee Burrows; chaplain, Sandy Taylor; I.C.C. representative, Dorothy Culvers.

Nursing Society Plans Tea Honoring Founder

Mrs. Mary Breckinridge of Frontier Nursing Society Inspires Tea Tuesday at Lake Shore Road Home of Mrs. Ernest Kanzler; to Report on Hospital Progress at Heyden.

A tale of woman's humanity to woman will unfold next Tuesday afternoon when members of the Frontier Nursing Society gather at the Lake Shore road home of Mrs. Ernest Kanzler to greet the society's founder, Mrs. Mary Breckinridge.

For the past twenty-five years Mrs. Breckinridge has kept a post holiday date with Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield and Detroit women who have contributed toward the maintenance of the Frontier Nursing Hospital at Heyden, Ky.

Difficult to realize, but true, is the fact that in 1854, here in the United States there are seven hundred square miles in Kentucky almost impossible to reach except by foot or horseback. To the families living in this district, the Frontier Nursing Society has been a beacon light and a life saving agency over a quarter of a century as it has pursued its visiting nurse services.

The moving story of the Society and its work is told in Mrs. Breckinridge's book, "Wide Neighbors" now in its fifth edition.

Gathered to hear her Tuesday will be old friends of the Society as well as prospective new friends and workers.

One of these will be a staunch and loyal supporter Mrs. Henry B. Joy who usually gives this very tea.

Because she was in New York to see her daughter, Mrs. Helen Joy Lee off on a trip to South Africa, Mrs. Joy this year had to content herself with being just a guest instead of hostess.

She this year asked Mrs. Kanzler, Mrs. Charles H. Hodges Jr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Ford Jr. to do the honors in their own charming fashion. Nevertheless she's hurrying back to attend the tea and as always lend her enthusiastic backing.

Mrs. Henry B. Joy Jr. and Mrs. Arthur McGraw will also serve on the committee for the afternoon. Dr. McGraw for years and years held an annual clinic at the Kentucky hospital, giving his services for a month to the worthy cause.

Other Pointers have been actively associated with the Society serving as volunteer couriers, visiting the humble shacks far back in the hills, helping families in need and sickness.

Julie Chapman Makes Debut

For the first time in many years, Detroit society greeted a debutante on Christmas Eve.

She was Julie Chapman, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Chapman, introduced her at a tea dansant in the Country Club.

The club was decked in Christmas greens for the occasion. Julie's white silk waltz length gown had narrow sapphire velvet sash and she carried her father's gift bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and ivy.

Mrs. Chapman chose for the afternoon, a gray-blue silk taffeta waltz length frock.

Benjamin G. Chapman was his deb sister's head usher and the others were Angus Goetz Jr., Peter Whitman, Gary Symington, Harry M. Jewett, Fenton C. Remick and Robert K. Howenstein.

Welcome Club's Party Success

The Christmas party held at the War Memorial Center by the Grosse Pointe Welcome Wagon Club on Wednesday, December 16, was acclaimed a huge success by all those who attended.

Luncheon was served in the Veterans Room with a cheery fire in the fireplace. The tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion by Mrs. J. A. McNello and her committee, with Christmas greens and red candles.

The speaker's table was adorned with a lovely flower arrangement of red carnations, white mums and greens.

A bouquet of flowers was given Mrs. Alfred Zastrow.

Entertainment for the occasion was furnished by the Junior Red Cross Volunteers. There was a skit on the life of Clara Barton, by Bernice Lahr, Alan Roth and Pat Prosser.

Pat Prosser also gave a humorous reading entitled "Brother Can You Spare a Pint." Two carols were sung by Susan Stallard, Marie Affer and Mary Lou Brunson, who were accompanied on the piano by Caroline DeBoer.

Mrs. Jean Sargeant gave an inspired reading of "The Littlest Angel," and punch and cookies were served.

Among the members present at the party were Mrs. Lucille Hutchenreuther, Mrs. George McCarthy and guest, Mrs. Robert Sheehan, Mrs. F. Clayton Miles, Miss Mary Lou Hurley, Mrs.

R. K. Smith, Grace Donovan, Mrs. Alfred Zastrow, Mrs. Arno Rouch, Mrs. W. L. Brown and two guests, Mrs. J. R. May, Mrs. Clifford Alpaugh, Mrs. Samuel Mitchell, Mrs. P. J. Dalton, Mrs. Florence Walsh, Mrs. Richard Gorman, Mrs. William Lyman,

Mrs. W. M. Tallafiero, Mrs. Marjorie Bell, Mrs. William Hurly and Mrs. Phyllis Day.

Debut Dinner for Kitty Crane

Still another Christmas season debutante who made her curtsy on the evening of Dec. 26 was Kitty Crane, blond daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lyman Crane of Lincoln road.

The Cranes chose a dinner party at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club to present their daughter. The club on the lake was lovely with holiday decorations as the Cranes and Kitty welcomed guests in the Commodore Room.

In a tulle gown shading from melon pink to gray the deb had a smile for each guest passing down the receiving line.

Her frock had bodice of criss-crossed folds of the soft material and its skirt poufed over hoops to fall floor length. She carried her father's gift bouquet of violets.

Repeating the violet tone was the tulle opera length gown chosen by Mrs. Crane who threw a net stole over her shoulders.

Following the debut dinner, Kitty and her guests went on to the ball in the Country Club which Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Fitzpatrick gave for their daughter, Sandra.

The wedding took place in the South Park Presbyterian Church in Rock Island. A reception for 350 guests followed in the church parlors.

Mrs. Robert Youngberg, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Virginia Zandbergen and Lois Schrage.

John W. Wood was best man; and James H. Wood was usher. Both are brothers of the bridegroom. Other ushers were Robert Youngberg of Waukegan, Ill.; and Edward E. Bolle of Detroit.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerborn

Can't remember a holiday season when the salespeople seemed wearier by the time it was the night before Christmas . . .

But a few of our friends confide that the days the shops opened for the "returns" all was even madder . . .

One Detroit jeweler found a Christmas girl waiting at the front door the morning after Dec. 25 . . . with a ten thousand dollar bracelet she was returning for c-a-s-h . . .

And a local haberdasher has been talking to himself ever since he greeted a lady who was returning fifty-three dollars worth of Christmas ties . . .

"My husband doesn't wear neckties," was all she said . . .

Now He Parlez Vous

U. S. Ambassador to Belgium Frederick M. Alger, Jr. and Mrs. Alger will be leaving the Pointe on Sunday . . . for the return to Washington . . . a few days with Mrs. Alger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dewey . . . and then will fly back to Brussels . . .

This crossing should be a lot more peaceful for Mrs. Alger . . . who, on the first trip last Summer, checked off thirty-six pieces of personal luggage for the family . . .

When we read recently . . . that young David, who stayed on in Brussels during the holidays, had mastered an awesome amount of French in his first six European months . . . we like to remember the day we called the Alger apartments at the George V in Paris last July . . .

The phone was answered not with a "hello" . . . or a "yes" . . . but with young David announcing immediately, "This is David Alger and I can't speak a word of French" . . .

We had never heard more pleasant words in our life! . . .

Ballet Theatre Draws Pointers to Masonic

Week-end in Store for Balletomanes With Saturday and Sunday Performances; Hemingway Ballet Is of Special Interest to Sterling Sanfords; John Hoags to Attend

This week end the magic of Ballet will lure thousands of enthusiasts of all ages to Masonic Auditorium, where the Ballet Theater company is booked for three performances, two of them matinees, on Saturday and Sunday; the other, Saturday evening.

Of the scores of Grosse Pointers who will attend, there's a special reason why the names of two families head the list—the Sterling Sanfords and the John W. Hoags.

The new ballet on Saturday night's program is based on a short story about bull fighting by Ernest Hemingway, famous brother of Mrs. Sanford, who was Marcelline Hemingway. Its title: "The Capital of the World." Mr. Sanford, who shares his wife's enthusiasm for the Ballet and the Drama, will accompany her Saturday evening.

John W. Hoag, Jr. is proud of kinship with Lucia Chase, the company's accomplished administrative director. Not only must she attend to much of the vast detail of the company's tours; she must juggle the programs so that modern dances are balanced by enough classical ballets to satisfy even the most traditional-minded balletomane. Mr. and Mrs. Hoag are planning to attend a matinee with their small daughter Phyllis.

Two young ballet enthusiasts, Josephine and Victoria Joy with their mother, Mrs. Schlotman Joy will leave the thrills of skiing at Otsego, in order to be home in time for a week end of ballet. They have invited several of their friends to join them for Saturday afternoon's performance.

Miss Chase—a woman of diversified abilities and great charm—found in Ballet the art-form that synthesized for her, as it does for so many others, the best features of music, dance and the drama. First she became an accomplished dancer, then an actress. When the Mordkin Ballet was formed in 1938 she joined the troupe and toured the country with it. And when Richard Pleasant and a group of enthusiasts proposed a new kind of ballet company in 1940—one that would be American in character and international in scope—she joined them wholeheartedly. The new organization was named Ballet Theater.

"What are your children being taught?" is the controversial subject chosen by William F. Buckley, Jr., brilliant young educator, for his lecture at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, January 13, at 11 o'clock in Fisher Theater.

Betty Lewis Makes Debut at Dinner Party

Country Club Dinner Marks Debut of Daughter of A. Ingersoll Lewis Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zimmerman Give Ball Same Evening for Their Daughter Jessie

A tiny blond debutante, whose distinguished ancestry goes far back beyond the founding of the City of the Straits, bowed to society on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, at a dinner party in the Country Club.

The debutante was Betty Lewis (Marie Elizabeth), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis, Jr., of Lewiston road.

Betty is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. Edmund Delbos, of Lake Shore road, and of Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis, of Vendome road. Among her forebearers are Palms and Fugers and Halls, long important names in old Detroit society.

The Lewis reception and dinner was followed by a ball given by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zimmerman to introduce their debutante daughter, Jessie.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and Betty greeted their guests in the Blue Room of the Club.

The debutante donned for her coming out party, a gown of pale blue chiffon over white taffeta stitched in blue silk. A girdle of blue taffeta encircled her tiny waist, ending in a bow at the back and falling to the floor-touching hem of her bouffant skirt.

Her father's gift of pink camellias were worn at her waist. Mrs. Lewis's strapless evening gown was fashioned of gray blue silk taffeta, silver beads scattered over the molded bodice. She also wore pink camellias.

Members of the young set dined at a huge E shaped table which was decorated with prancing reindeer, pulling silver sleighs filled with holly and snowmen and pine. Holiday red tapers glowed in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. Delbos attended her granddaughter's debut in a frock

GPYC Juniors Frolic at Annual Holiday Gala

Out of Town Band Adds Zip to Evening Party for College and Boarding School Set at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club; Breakfast Served to Partygoers

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's Junior Prom on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, brought together a large number of the prep school and college set, and it was a real reunion for many who were home for the holidays from their schools in other cities.

Groups began gathering around 8 o'clock for dancing in the main lounge to the music of Pee Wee Hunt's Orchestra. Blue and silver streamers formed a high canopy in the beautiful lounge and rich blue velvet draperies screened the huge bay window.

Cola bars were arranged in the lounge and adjoining Green Room for refreshing soft drinks between dances.

A tall Christmas tree gleamed in the club's rotunda and Yuletide greens keyed the party to the season.

The prom wound up with breakfast which was served in the main dining room from 11 to 12:30 o'clock.

In one group were Louanne Nelson, Fred Keyes, Lizette Nelson, Phil Mutschall, Lucille Carmichael, Chuck Sorenson, Bonnie Loranger, Bill Duttman, Nancy Stuart, Phil Hutchinson, Susie Wiggins and Fran Mutschall.

This group joined at 5 o'clock at the James Nelson home on Hampton road for a collie party and then went to Lucille Carmichael's on Grayton road for a buffet dinner before going on to the GPYC Prom.

Bill Wachter and Janice Jacoby were in a group with Louis Asmus, Janet Turner, Ken Macdonald and Peggy McKibbin. Judie Nelson's date was Hays Rockwell and their party included Ann Stevens, Howard Nash, Jean Ellen Martin, Hal Bailey, Gail Webster, Lee Johnston, Ann Hardy and Leonard Johnston.

In another party were Ann Reeves, Bruce Rockwell, Margo Miller, Chuck Norris, Ella Mac Harrison, Kelsey Stewart, Mary Ogden, Tom Kaser, Joan Hoover and Charles Buell.

Donna Wartena and Jay Jeffrey attended together and Dick DeGener, Jr. and Elizabeth Schemm double-dated with Bob Scofield and Rosemary Schultz.

Twin Debut Ends Season

The only thing that could be nicer than a beautiful debutante dressed in portrait frock of champagne toned antique taffeta would be . . . two debutantes.

And that was what happened at the final debut of the season 1953-54 when Joyce Mitchell and Eleanor Carol (Susie) Barie dropped pretty curtsies at their coming out reception in the Country Club, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 30.

Presenting their daughters were Mrs. Charles Mitchell of Hendrie lane and Mrs. Robert F. Barie of Radnor Circle.

The debs dressed alike in the lovely champagne toned frocks that were smart with molded bodices, deep sweetheart necklines and waltz length pouf skirts.

Both carried hand bouquets of tallman roses, with velvet ribbons of champagne.

Cocoa brown silk damask gown was chosen by Mrs. Mitchell whose flowers were green orchids and Mrs. Barie greeted guests in deep brown peau de soie and green orchids.

The mothers and daughters met guests in the club's French Room which had been done in blending tones of apricot and champagne for the afternoon.

Assistants for the debs, wearing flowers in their locks, included Cammy Doe of Carmel-

"The daisy lives, and strikes its little root
Into 'the lap of time; centuries may come
And pass away into the silent tomb,
And still the child, hid in the womb of time,
Shall smile and pluck them, when this simple rhyme
Shall be forgotten."

(John Clare)

No matter what else is recorded for the annals of time, a MUST is the crack made by the ex-Barbara Hutton on the occasion of her most recent marriage. In case you missed it... when her husband placed the ring on her finger after the ceremony (as an after thought)... his bride exclaimed: "Mon Cher! You shouldn't have done it!" Just what it is that he shouldn't have done is not explained either by Barbara or the newspapers. Maybe she meant that he shouldn't have married her. One can hardly suppose that she meant he shouldn't have put a wedding band on her finger. Such an old and established custom even the many-times-married Miss Hutton can hardly have forgotten???

While we are on the subject of many marriages, have you heard the latest fairy tale ala Hollywood? Here 'tis: "Once upon a time there were three bears; a papa bear, a mama bear, and a baby bear by a previous marriage."

We like the story of the bachelor who dropped in on some people he knew quite well... to pay a late call on New Year's eve. Although they were pleased to see him his opening remark did nothing to further endear him to their hearts. It was: "Most of my friends are busy or away this New Year's eve so I thought I'd call on YOU!" Now THERE is a guy who really needs Dale Carnegie!

Here is a holiday note to cheer the hearts of the management at WWJ. Bill Kennedy, who was so unceremoniously "canned" from that station, is soon to appear on the Hallmark Theatre... also he will be seen in one of Adolph Menjou's "Favorite Story" shows. Even WWJ can't keep a good man down and Kennedy is THAT good. All interested fans can find Bill on Hallmark... we believe, January 17.

Now let's move over to CKLW. We wish they would stop announcing "800 on your dial." We have three radios in our abode and "800" isn't on any of them. One gives us station CKLW on about 78... another on 82 and the third about 85. Maybe they are talking about crystal sets or maybe the wrong kind of radio... but something with 800 on it we ain't got. Nevertheless, we enjoy listening to many of their programs no matter what the dial number. So there.

We received a snazzy bottle of perfume for Christmas and would tell the name but there isn't any name on the bottle. With THIS scent, we hope to be smelled for miles around. And that brings us to a problem we have faced since we first wore high heels. We can always smell the other gal's perfume but never our own. When we first put it on, our small niece will call from down the hall, "Geeee, do YOU smell!" (She means this nicely, of course!) Soooooo, we KNOW we've used enough... but one hour later when we arrive at a gathering we can't smell our own perfume for being drowned out in everyone else's. Where do women put it anyway? We have overheard men say, "What is that lovely scent you are wearing?" but never to us... no matter how much we bathe in it. If any woman reading this knows the secret of staying perfumed all evening, we shall pay several hundred Kopeks for the information. We thank you.

We have heard the top in teen-age excuses. A friend of our's received a thank-you note for a Christmas gift she sent her 14-year-old niece. The note was completely typewritten... including the signature... and part of it read: "I'm sorry I didn't thank you for your present last year but I didn't have any suitable writing paper."

Another youngster who has just turned 16 and got her driver's license, had the family car out one day and was told by her mother to have it back at 4 p.m. SHARP. The child arrived home in the neighborhood of 6 o'clock with the excuse that she had stopped in to see her grandmother and that venerable old lady had asked her to do some shopping for her. Mad as hops, our heroine telephoned grandma the next day and asked what an earth she had sent Junior Miss shopping for... that took over two hours. It came to light that grandma had asked the youngster to get her just three things. Namely, a loaf of bread, a dozen oranges and a bottle of cleaning fluid!

Final Plea Made For Seal Sale

Have you answered your Christmas Seal letter? If it has been forgotten in the rush of holiday activity, sit down now and make your contribution to the health of your community, the Tuberculosis and Health Society said Wednesday.

Wayne County residents have contributed $138,000 to this year's drive thus far, Richard L. Lea, executive director, announced.

"While it is encouraging that more people are contributing this year to the fight against tuberculosis, there still is a long way to go to raise the $220,000 which we will need to maintain a full program of service to every community in the county, Mr. Lea pointed out. "Please do not neglect to do your part and add your bit to the crusade against disease."

"To people who have delayed sending in money for their Christmas Seals, I would like to say again, that when you make a contribution you are buying services for the prevention and control of TB. No one, rich or poor, young or old, can say that TB could not touch him. It is a contagious disease caused by a germ. We cannot keep one home in this country safe unless we can cut down TB throughout the country."

The TB and Health Society

Basic Steps In Diagnosis

By FRED M. KOPP, R.P.H.

When you consult a doctor about a serious condition he usually advises a blood test, urine analysis, X-rays or fluoroscopes of the area in which pain is felt. It may even be necessary to take one or more tests that will show if certain areas or organs are affected.

While this involves more expense and time in the beginning it means surer and swifter control of the illness. In the long run it is less costly in time and health than the methods doctors had to follow before the development of these valuable aids.

This is the 48th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

Dr. Katherine Greene to Talk To Mothers' Health Council

If your shining New Year's resolutions to be a happier, better mother and wife already are looking slightly tarnished, they may be given new highlights by a talk on "Family Living" to be given by Dr. Katherine B. Greene at a meeting for all Grosse Pointe mothers sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Mothers' Health Education Council.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, January 12, at 1:30 p.m., in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Dr. Greene, listed as one of Detroit's 12 outstanding women for 1953 in an annual poll conducted by a Detroit daily newspaper, recently was appointed marriage counselor of the Wayne County Circuit Court. She is the first person ever to be appointed by a public body to try to prevent divorce proceedings before court cases are started.

Should you be annoyed because your dinner-table talk is mere trivia, with the small fry contributing "knock-knocks" while the adolescents wolf their food, Dr. Greene may be able to reconcile you to your situation by pointing out that you share the same problem with countless other parents.

"Our civilization has a terrible gap so far as the protection of young families is concerned," Dr. Greene said recently. "The young wife is tied at home 24 hours a day with the young children. If she has any interest of her own, she cannot carry it out. The housework does not keep her mind busy; she gets restless. A "Neighborhood" program might be a solution," Dr. Greene said. The idea would be to get people in a neighborhood to be friendly with one another and to work together. A mother should be out in the neighborhood enjoying the friendship of other adults.

The Jan. 12 Mothers' Health Council meeting is the only one of the season to be open to all mothers. Members decided on the open session because of Dr. Greene's prominence, and because it was felt that her talk will be of great interest and benefit to all who attend. An open discussion period will be held at the end of the formal talk.

Dr. Greene speaks about children and family living from a background of full experience both in her home and in her career. She raised five children of her own, while serving as teacher and child psychologist in a wide variety of positions. Born in Laramie, Wyoming, Dr. Greene received her bachelor's degree at Vassar College and her Ph. D. at Columbia University. After several teaching positions she came to the University of Michigan in 1927 as assistant professor of educational psychology. From 1940 to 1946 she was director of education at the Sherwood School in Bloomfield Hills. Following that she returned to the University of Michigan as lecturer in education. In 1952 she was appointed director of a marriage counseling service for the Washtenaw County Court, and was appointed, to a similar position for the Wayne County Circuit Court last September.

Miss Seymour Bows at Tea

The deb with the delicate air, Kathleen Seymour, her arms filled with happiness roses and her dark eyes shining, greeted society at a tea Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 29, when she made her bow to society.

Mrs. Batholomew A. Seymour, of Edgemont Park, gave the reception and tea for Kathleen. The Seymours had transformed their home into a Springtime scene to the delight of the holly and pine weary guests.

Great urns of white snapdragons, happiness roses and saucy jonquills were used in the drawing room where Mrs. Seymour and Kathleen received. The debutante wore a heavenly gown of white faille and tulle, its "wasp slender bodice" touched in Chantilly lace and brilliants. A court train, trimmed in the same lace, distinguished the bouffant skirt.

Mrs. Seymour's gown, of pure silk tulle, reflected the deep soft rose of the happiness roses her daughter carried.

A long line of assistants for Kathleen included her sisters, Marcella, Isabel and Dorothy. From out-of-town came Mary Ritting of Buffalo; Rica Kane of New York City; Kathleen O'Brien of Worcester, Mass.; Audrey White of Boston and Jane Mathieu of Evanston, Ill. Still other deb, former classmates of the deb at Manhattanville College, were Joyce Plante, Betty Lewis, Rosemary Fenech, Kitty Crane and Fay FitzSimons.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour and the debutante's sisters entertained out-of-town guests and their escorts at a dinner party in their home following the debut reception. Kathleen went on to the Lewis dinner at the Country Club, escorted by Henry Crapo.

On Wednesday evening the Seymours again entertained at a small open house for their out-of-town guests who returned to their respective homes on Thursday.
