FARMS ASSESSMENT PLAN RAPPED

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, June 17

HUNDREDS OF Guatemalans were jailed as the Red terror stalked the streets there during one short week. Since the government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman suspended civil liberties last week, potential leaders of the anti-Communist uprising have been arrested in droves. Many persons have disappeared and their families have been notified by police that their whereabouts are not known. Unconfirmed reports from outside Guatemala say that several Communist leaders have been killed by anti-Communists, but it seems that the Red-tinged Arbenz government has complete control of the country at the moment.

Friday, June 18

THE MCCARTHY HEARINGS have come to an end, and with their termination, Senator Potter hurled a charge that both sides were guilty and that they were all liars. Potter also called for the dismissal of "those employees who have played top roles" for both the McCarthy and the Army side.

He dropped this bombshell immediately after the final curtain rang down and the television cameras switched off. He said that there was little doubt that the testimony given by witnesses on both sides was saturated with statements which were not truthful.

Saturday, June 19

ANTI-REDS have invaded Guatemala and other serious uprisings have been reported in that country. Reports of the fighting came from five separate sources—the headquarters of the resistance leader, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas; a tense news conference held by the Guatemalan foreign minister; the U. S. State Department; a leading Guatemalan exile in Mexico City; and reports in New York City.

Sunday, June 20

LEADERS of the invading army of anti-Communist Guatemalan exiles, stated that their forces are meeting with little resistance, and that so far they have penetrated 25 miles into the country, picking up new recruits as they went along. At invasion headquarters, established in the Honduran town of Copan, four miles from the border, officials stated they expect to win the whole country within a few days. The Guatemalan Government admitted the invasion and the penetration. It was revealed that President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman had assumed command of the army owing to the "disaffection of certain elements." The President accused the United States of encouraging the rebels against his Communist-tainted country.

Monday, June 21

AN IMMEDIATE END to the bloodshed in Guatemala was called for by the United Nations Security Council, but just before the vote, Russia cast its 60th veto to kill a Latin American move to take the Guatemalan case out of the UN and transfer it to the Organization of American States. The United States said that Russia, through its interest in the case, showed a desire to get a Communist foothold in Latin America.

Tuesday, June 22

JACOBO ARBENZ GUZMAN, president of the leftist government of Guatemala, announced that an all-out counter-offensive against the rebels who invaded his country has forced the rebels to retreat. The first fighting of any consequence appeared to be raging in the area of Zacapa, a military base of 65 miles northeast of Guatemala City.

Wednesday, June 23

WITH the first major battle in Guatemala appearing to shape up, both the Guatemalan Government and the rebels claim victories in preliminary clashes. The rebels claim to be holding 25 towns. A high command communique, issued in Guatemala City, disclosed that a 6,000-man army was thrown at the rebels at the town of Gualan near Zacapa.

Farms Lifeguards Wait for Business to Pick Up

With construction still going on at the Farms pier and swimming banned until about July 3, the lifeguards find little to do except enforce the no swimming rule. Left to right are: BILL CARRUTHERS, PAUL GEIST, JOHN CHASE and DAN REAUME. Work is progressing rapidly on the big expansion at the parksite. Paving of the pier top was to be started this week and sand is being hauled in for the new beach area. Most of the facilities should be available by the Fourth of July weekend.

by Richard Weber

Graduation ceremonies for 258 Grosse Pointe High School seniors were held last Thursday evening on the school's lawn. The seniors, dressed in the customary blue caps and gowns, filed out of the school building to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar. The music played by the high school band, was by request of the graduating class.

Dewey D. Kalember, band director, then led his group in "The Star Spangled Banner."

Gives Invocation
"May you prove faithful to your enthusiasms," petitioned the Rev. James W. Gillespie, Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, as he presented the invocation to the class.

"Holy Art 'Thou' by Handel and 'How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings' by Liddle were sung by the Girls' Glee Club under the direction of John E. Finch. Carolyn DeBoer accompanied the vocal group.

"Achieving Success—Spiritually, Socially, and Civically" was the general topic presented by Andrew Rauth, Joanne Robinson, and John Taylor, senior speakers.

Andrew Rauth speaks
Andrew Rauth, whose topic was "Achieving Success, Spiritually," listed three specific points: 1. understand and trust yourself; 2. possess self control; and 3. practice personal devotion. "Spiritual meaning varies for each," commented Andrew,

Biting Dogs Running Loose Ordered Killed in GP City

A dog which bit a City police officer who tried to capture it, was shot and killed and its head sent to Herman Kiefer Hospital to determine whether it was infected with rabies.

On Tuesday, June 15, City Patrolmen Duncan MacEastern and William Waldecker were sent to 818 Neff road, to pick up a stray dog, which was reported by a person living at that address.

As Patrolman MacEastern reached for the dog, the animal bit him severely on the left hand, and then made its escape.

A description of the animal went out over the air, because it was feared it might have rabies.

The bitten officer was treated at Bon Secours Hospital and because of the seriousness of the wound and the effects of the

New Trustee Takes Office In Shores

John Huetteaman, Jr. Appointed to Fill Vacancy Created by Election

The Shores Board of Trustees announced the appointment of John Huetteaman, Jr., of 66 Lake Shore lane, as a trustee, to fill a vacancy created by the Shores' recent election.

He will fill the unexpired term of Jack Williams, who in the Shores' last election was voted into the office of village president, succeeding Ernest C. Putnam. The unexpired term of trustee will run to May 1955.

Huetteaman, owner of a Detroit food products and dairy concern, has lived in the Shores for the last five years, and has been a member of the community's Planning Commission for a year and a half.

He received the trustee appointment on Friday, June 18.

He has been married to the former Grace Marie Carter for 18 years. The couple has two children, Grace Marie, 12, and John III, who is eight-years-old.

Juvenile Beer Thief Captured

A 16-year-old youth who had cultivated a habit of raiding garages to obtain a supply of beer, was placed on unofficial probation by the Wayne County Probation Department on Wednesday, June 16.

On June 12, the youth was seen leaving the garage in the rear of the home of John J. Blake, 1266 Lochmoor, by Mr. Blake, who gave chase. The boy had a case of canned beer in his hands.

The boy fled through some bushes in the neighborhood and dropped the beer, which was recovered by Blake.

Police were notified and a description of the boy was given to them; also the license number of a car which had been standing in the vicinity, with three boys in it, believed to have been waiting for the beer snatcher.

On Monday, June 14, the 16-year-old youth was taken to the station and questioned. He admitted taking beer from the Blake garage and from three other garages in the area.

After he was placed on probation, the boys who were waiting in the car were called in to the station, reprimanded and warned and then dismissed.

Because of the Fourth of July holiday, the first meeting under the change was to have been held on the following day, July 5.

The voters authorized a $1,225,000 bond issue to finance building a new elementary school in the Torrey Woods section, and additions to the Poupard School in Harper Woods, and the Kerby School in Kerby road.

The new Torrey Woods building will be about the same size as the new Ferry School which is expected to be completed in Roslyn road by the time school opens in September. It will have

Businessmen Pan Parking Plan Proposal

Argue That Revenue Bonds Issued for Project Would Return City Fine Profit

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms postponed action Monday night on its proposal to make the majority of the property owners in the Kercheval-on-the-Hill business district pay some $28,000 towards the development of the municipally-owned parking lot to the north of Kercheval between McMillan and Muir roads.

Postponement came after a large majority of the property owners appeared in person at the council meeting to protest the proposed plan. Their arguments were presented by H. Gordon Wood, lawyer, who is also a former president of the Grosse Pointe Property Owners' Association.

Association Lends Support
Added support to the protest was given by the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association, represented in person by David McCarron, chairman of the parking committee of the association; and by John Hannan, a former president.

The council members had been well informed in advance of the meeting of the arguments against their plan. Each councilman and Mayor William F. Connolly, Jr., had been provided with a copy of a letter which outlined the opposition. The contents of this letter are printed herewith in full.

The Letter
June 18, 1954

Gentlemen:
The 30 property owners listed at the bottom of this letter, through their attorneys, Dykema, Jones and Wheat, wish to object to the proposed Special Assessment District No. 7. These property owners represent 30 of the 34 owners of property in the Special Assessment District and will be required to pay over 80% of the proposed assessment. They deem themselves aggrieved by the proposed Special Assessment Roll for the following reasons:

1. All the property owners in the Special Assessment District are being asked to pay $28,198.33 to improve the presently existing public parking lot, which lot is planned to be metered and, therefore, will represent an income-producing property to the City of Grosse Pointe Farms. They see no reason why a restricted group of business men should be asked to purchase an income producing property for the City when its use is obviously for the general public as a whole.

2. As the proposed parking lot when metered will not only be self-sustaining, but will be a profitable operation for the City, the majority of the property owners in the district request that the City either finance the improvement through payment from its general funds or issue Revenue Bonds which would be self-liquidating over a period of less than 10 years. It is submitted that the current trend in communities similar to ours is to finance off-street parking by issuance of revenue bonds. The attached Exhibits entitled "Parking Lot Statistics from Other Communities" and "Municipal Parking Lot Trends" clearly show how this is being accomplished in other communities. The property owners in the District have informed their Committee that they are sure that the property owners in the proposed Special Assessment District would be more than willing to purchase revenue bonds issued by the City to improve the present municipal off-street parking lot.

3. The proposed Special Assessment District No. 7 does not include properties which will be benefited by the improvement of the present municipal parking lot and therefore is invalid as presently constituted. St. James Lutheran Church and the whole Punch and Judy Theatre block is not included and it is obvious they will receive direct benefits from this Special Assessment District.

4. The distribution of the Special Assessment within the proposed Special Assessment District No. 7 is inequitable and is not directly based upon the special benefits derived or to be derived in accordance with Chapter 11 of the City Charter. The Assessor road. They urged that the one-way system be retained permanently.

This program is actively-centered and regular attendance is not necessary. The program is directed by Mrs. Jane Costabile, executive director, with the assistance of 13 volunteer and professional staff members.

Some months ago, residents living on Fisher, protested a proposed widening of their street, and as a substitute for the project recommended to the Farms council that their street be made one-way from Kercheval to Mack, and the section singled out for the widening.

After several meetings and discussions, the one-way system was placed on a six-month trial, with the apparent result.

Assessment

purely used a mathematical front footage in spreading the assessment. Proximity, square footage of building or customer use were not considered nor given appropriate weight.

For the above reasons the majority of the property owners in the Special Assessment District No. 7 requests the Council:

1. To abandon the Special Assessment District No. 7.
2. To request a further study by the City Engineer and traffic experts of a proposed plan to improve the municipal parking lot and acquire other property for parking purposes, and to submit to the Council proposed plans of financing the off-street parking improvements through the issuance of Revenue Bonds.
3. That the property owners be given a copy of said proposals and an opportunity to be heard thereon.

Very truly yours, Dykema, Jones & Wheat, By H. Gordon Wood, By Earl R. Boonstra.

Enclosed with the letter were reports obtained from Lansing, Mich., Upper Darby, Pa., the City of Grosse Pointe, Royal Oak, Mich., Ann Arbor, River Rouge and Detroit, showing most profitable results from the operation of parking meters in municipally-owned lots, and plans for future development along this same line, all financed by revenue bonds which are paid off through income from the meters.

In the face of the arguments presented, the council voted to postpone any action on the matter until the next meeting, scheduled for July 19. Mr. Wood suggested that the council consult with Matthew Carey, municipal financing expert, who has had much experience in this sort of thing, and who advised the City of Grosse Pointe among others, in setting up its present parking authority.

Mayor Connolly said that not only would the Farms consult with Mr. Carey, but he would recommend that Mr. Carey be hired as counsel in this matter by the City itself.

It was agreed that by the time of the next meeting, the council would have some definite plan to lay before the property owners, so there would be no unnecessary delay in going ahead with the development of the parking area.

When they found out it was merely to reimburse the city for funds it had spent, partly in acquisition and partly in developing the existing property to its present state, they strongly objected.

Simians Disclose Greatly Expanded Summer Program

The Grosse Pointe Simians, local theater group, has launched an expanded program for this summer season, according to Donald Kuhn, president.

Three plays will be presented in July and August, Kuhn said. The first, Noel Coward's comedy-fantasy "Blithe Spirit," will have public performances the evenings of July 15, 16 and 17.

As in the past half-dozen years, "Theatre Under the Stars" will be performed on the lake front terrace of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, Kuhn stated, adding that until this season only one or two productions have been undertaken per summer.

Along with moves toward enlarged audiences and membership, Kuhn cited as part of Simian growth the addition of a special Wednesday evening performance to the customary three donation nights of each play's run.

Sharon Gates, who is Simian executive director as well as in charge of the first play, has announced the "Blithe Spirit" cast. Pamela Macpherson and Clyde Adler as Ruth and Charles Condomine, a well-to-do English couple, and Ann Charbonneau as Elvira, Charles' deceased first wife, hold leading roles.

The rest of the cast includes Richard Saunders and Emile Harding, playing Dr. and Mrs. Bradman; Junc Slade as Madame Arcati, a bicycling medium; and Nancy Hoyt as Edith, the Cockney maid. Rehearsals are now being held weekday evenings at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, with Robert Aaron as assistant director.

Also, Kuhn revealed, casting and early rehearsals are underway for Patrick Hamilton's "Rope," a psychological melodrama, to be presented the first week in August, with Kuhn and Richard Tobin directing. The third play, Kaufman and Hart's "The Man Who Came to Dinner," is scheduled for the end of August.

Business committees have begun operation early to accommodate the stepped-up program, business manager Donald Freeman noted. Tickets for "Blithe Spirit" are now available from any member, he stated. Tickets for all three plays will also be sold from special booths in shopping centers and at the entrance on performance nights.

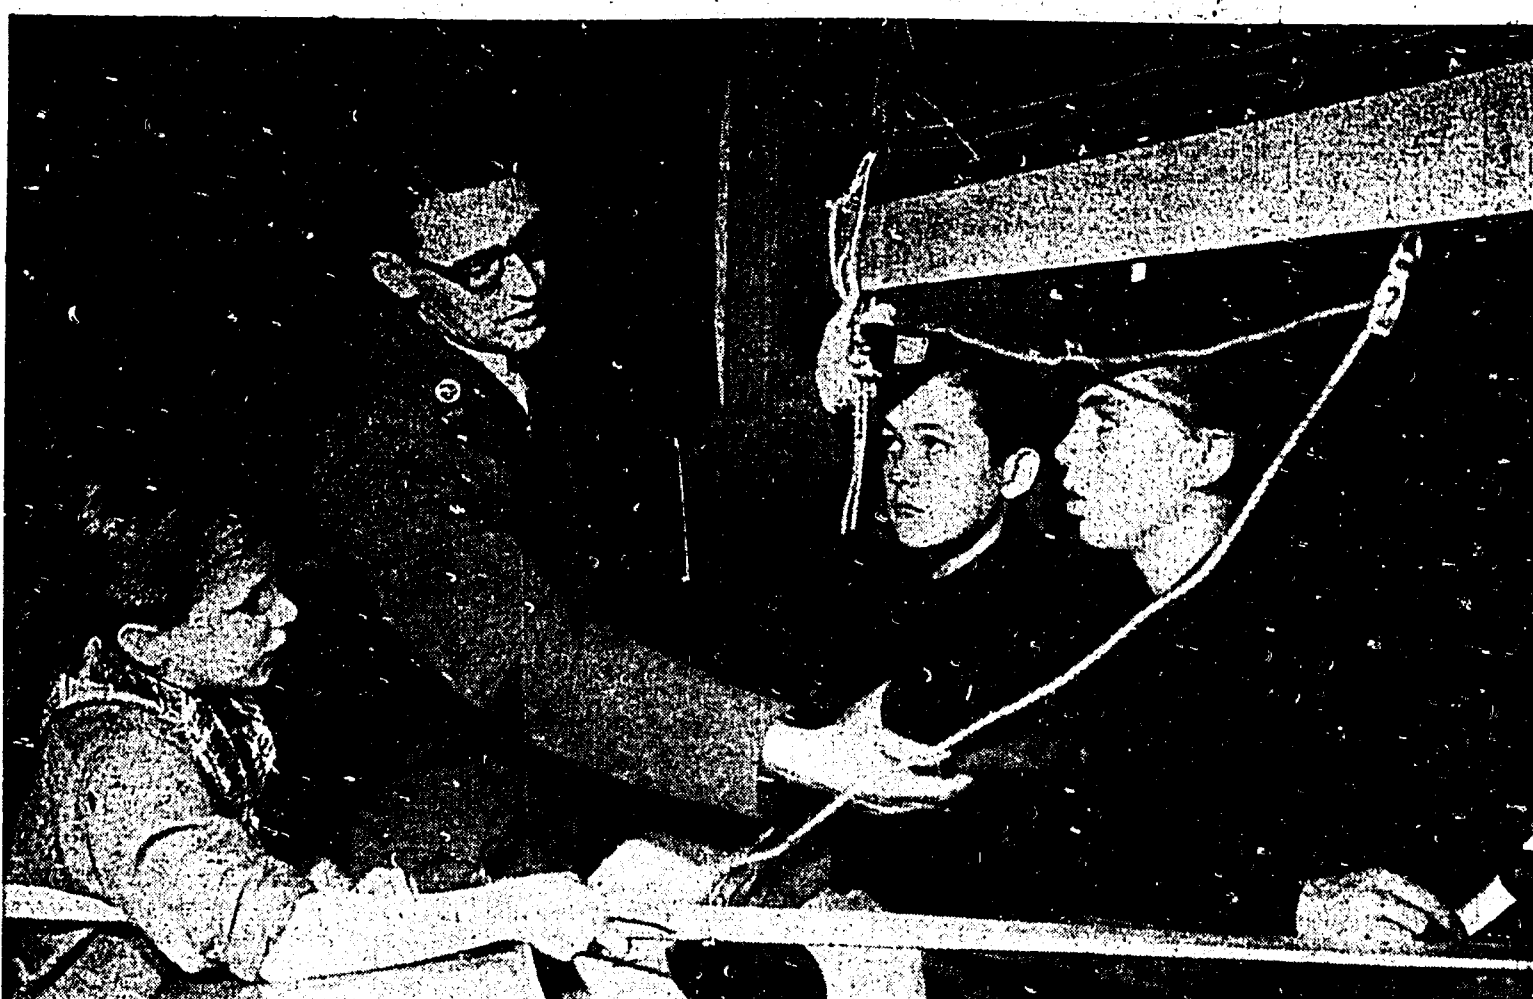

Technical work under Robert Harrison for "Blithe Spirit" and John Butterfield for "Rope," has also been started, according to Kuhn, who forecast novel stagings, especially for the latter play.

A Simian outing at Kensington State Park is planned for this Saturday night, following an executive board meeting Friday evening at Kuhn's house.

Kuhn concluded by urging interested high school and college students—and older age groups—to contact members and attend general meetings scheduled throughout the summer.

Parkview Avenue and rendezvoused at Ex-Governor Alex Groesbeck's Estate on Harsens Island. Most of the 50 private yachts were furnished by yacht owners in Grosse Pointe for this annual event. Highlighting the program were boating and sailing skills, life-saving techniques, fly and bait-casting, archery, and compass work. Commodore in charge of the Explorer Flotilla was County Court Judge Frank Fitzgerald.

Put on Probation for Taking Car

Four juveniles were called to the Woods police station with their parents on Friday, June 18, where they were lectured by a Wayne County Juvenile officer and placed on unofficial probation for an indefinite period. The four had been apprehended at Kercheval and Devonshire by Park police on Saturday, June 12, while driving around in another person's car, which they had taken without permission. The boys had taken a vehicle belonging to Brigham Aldrich of 3977 Townsend, Detroit, while it was parked in a Mack avenue super-market parking lot in the Woods. The owner of the car is an employee of the market. The lads were released to the custody of their parents and ordered to be on their good behavior.

Farms Discloses Schedule at Pier

Boat mooring facilities at the Farms Pier were made available beginning June 1.

Full swimming facilities are expected to be completed for the weekend of July 3.

The swimming dock will not be finished until later this year due to the high level of the lake. However, diving facilities will be afforded in the main harbor as a temporary measure.

There will be some inconvenience due to the uncompleted planning such as bathroom, checking facilities, etc.

Pier Park permits were mailed to the residents last week. However, residents are asked to await a further announcement on the availability of swimming before allowing children to use the Pier Park.

The Park will operate according to the following schedule: Open—for fishermen, 5 a. m.; for general public, 8 a. m.; for swimming, 10 a. m. Closes—for swimming, 10 p. m.; for all purposes, 12 p. m.

Schools to Have Supervised Activities at Playgrounds

A program of supervised activities at the Trombly, Defer, Maire, Richard, Kerby, Mason, Monteith and Poupard playgrounds will be provided this summer under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

The playground season will extend from Monday, June 21, through Friday, August 13, operating on the following schedule, daily except Saturdays and Sundays:

9:15 a.m.-12:30 p.m.—Maire only.
1:15 p.m.-4:30 p.m.—All except Maire.
6:15 p.m.-8:15 p.m.—Mason and Monteith.

Children of elementary school age will find worthwhile activities of particular interest to them. Included will be handcraft, a story period, circle games, softball, croquet and horseshoes. Special events will include picnics, costume parties, and treasure hunts.

The man who lives constantly within his income will have heirs who will bless his memory.

Bank's Parking Lot Plan Okayed

An application of the Grosse Pointe Bank to convert a lot in the northwest corner of East Jefferson and Rivard into an off street parking lot, was approved by the City council at a meeting held in the Neighborhood Club on Monday, June 21.

Norbert Neff, Grosse Pointe City clerk, disclosed that this is the first step by the City to relieve parking congestion in that area, created by the customers of the bank, members of the Unitarian Church, and those who make use of the facilities in the municipal park.

The lot will accommodate 35 cars Mr. Neff said. At the meeting the council also approved the appointment of John E. Cousino of 805 Bedford, as the new superintendent of the park.

Staelen Farm Sub Approved

The Grosse Pointe City council approved in substance on Monday, June 21, the subdivision of the Staelen Farm property.

The farm, composed of 18 acres, lies between Neff road and University place, approximately two and a half blocks off of Mack avenue, and is owned by Mrs. Joseph Staelen.

When the council gives its final approval, Lakeland will be extended north through the proposed subdivision and will provide an access-road to Mack.

At present, Lakeland ends at the South limit of the Staelen property.

Chambers spoke on "A Student Looks at Humane Scholarship" before 15,000 graduating students, alumni, and friends in the Tercentenary Theatre.

He received his Ph.D. from the Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. Chambers holds A.B. degrees from Harvard (1949), and from Oxford (1952).

An Interesting Hassle

A very interesting hassle is going on in the City of Grosse Pointe Farms between the city officials and the property owners in the Kercheval-on-the-Hill business district.

The lot is already in existence, having been acquired by the city in two parcels, the largest portion from the Newberry estate and a smaller piece from the Board of Education.

The Farms wants to improve the site further, as all agree should be done. Permanent paving, erection of bumper rails, proper space marking, etc., will add to the total cost, which is being estimated at about $52,000.

Being one of the parties involved in the dispute, (the Grosse Pointe News building is smack in the middle of this section at 99 Kercheval), we have tried to maintain a strictly unbiased attitude and weigh both sides of the arguments with no thumbs on the scales of justice.

It may well be that the eventual outcome will result in the setting up of a parking control system that will see us dropping far more money into meters than we would have paid out in one lump sum to the city as our share of the special assessment.

The side of the property owners was most ably presented Monday night by H. Gordon Wood, a resident of the Farms and a member of the law firm retained by the businessmen to represent them.

All of the councilmen had a chance to study these assertions over the weekend, and to prepare themselves with refuting arguments. We didn't hear any answers that were at all convincing, and all of those offered could have been engraved on a gnat's ear.

Basically, what the property owners object to, is that they are being asked to provide more than 50 percent of the cash which the Farms will use for a very profitable investment, receiving a very nice return through revenues taken in on the parking meters.

The businessmen use the Farms' own figures on its experience with the 100 meters now in use, as well as figures taken from the records of many other communities, to illustrate this point.

Harry Furton, the Farms clerk, had been asked by council to obtain some information on municipal financing of off-street parking developments. He produced a lengthy document that indicated considerable research on the subject, but very little convincing data.

The businessmen, on the other hand, had financial statements to show, in black and white, what had been accomplished in cities with problems similar to the one existing here.

The property owners also objected to the fact that in setting up the special assessment district the Farms had completely omitted inclusion of the Punch and Judy block and the St. James Lutheran Church.

There is no question about the parking lot being a great boon, not only to all the merchants in the neighborhood, but to all the residents of the Pointe, and of Detroit, and of places far and near who find it such a help in getting their shopping done.

It is also of great value to the Farms itself. Without ample parking space, businesses would not be attracted to the district, and improved property that is now returning tax money to the city would still be vacant land.

The Farms' next door neighbor, the City of Grosse Pointe, has had a far more difficult time in solving its parking problem. It has made remarkable progress, and from all indications in a manner satisfactory to all.

What might be even better, if the Farms can handle it out of general funds, would be to go ahead with the improvements and the installation of meters, without issuing any bonds. Then the gravy should really be thick . . . and financially fattening.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"I care for riches, to make gifts To friends, or lead a sick man back to health With ease and plenty. Else small aid is wealth For daily gladness; once a man be done With hunger, rich and poor are all as one." (Euripides)

Some women can get a lift out of buying a new lipstick or a hat or pair of shoes; others get up in the dead of night and change their furniture around, and there are some hardy souls who can chase away the doldrums by planting several rows of petunias when it's ninety in the shade.

Our heroine, who is middle-aged, has been driving a dark blue sedan for the past seven years without anything of moment happening to her. BUT, she recently acquired a bright yellow coupe with white top . . . and in the past two weeks she has had three wolf calls, two siren whistles and just the other day a truck driver called "Hi Babe!" to her.

WE put five years ON our last week when we went to buy the first new pair of shoes we have had in many moons. Our habit is to go to the same little man we have been dealing with "Ice-ber" and to purchase all we will need in the way of summer and winter footwear to last us for at least three years . . . and our three years seemed to be about up.

The shoe salesman greeted us with open arms, (and a shoe horn), and allowed as how we looked "just fine." After seating us, he asked if we were interested in the same sort of buying . . . just as we mentioned above. We nodded affirmatively . . . so he departed and soon returned with about fifteen boxes of shoes for our pleasure.

The first pair we tried in the larger size was even more sensible than the last . . . so before staggering through the lot, we took a quick look into the boxes. ALL SENSIBLE. Not a teetering heel in the bunch, nor a place for a toe or heel to bare itself to the world.

Mr. Thing gave us a long and searching look . . . then sighed: "W-e-l-I have them . . . but the older ladies," (and here he had the grace to cough), "usually prefer these nice sturdy shoes. YOU know . . . they feel more secure in this type."

We bought one pair of clod hoppers, returned home and dissolved ourselves in tears. Next week Pryor goes shopping for a shawl and perhaps we can pick up a second-hand rocking chair on the way.

We think this is a sweet story and hope you will agree. There was a private sale recently in a homestead that was being dismantled. Among the articles for sale was an old family Bible, not too worn and containing many colored pictures.

People are always telling doctor and hospital stories to a convalescent . . . so we are fraught with them and maybe this is one you haven't heard.

A man telephones the hospital and sez: "I want to find out about Joe Smith. He had a serious operation and has been there a week." He is told to hold the line that he will be connected with the hall.

Another minute and the nurse answers. Again he requests: "How is Joe Smith? He had a serious operation and has been there a week?" The nurse informs him that Mr. Smith is feeling fine and will be leaving the hospital in another two days; then adds, "Would you like to speak to him?"

Back came the reply: "No, I'm Joe Smith . . . I'm talking from a phone booth in the lobby. I just wanted to know how I felt and what is going on around here. The doctors won't tell me."

Courtesy Asked Of Car Drivers To make courtesy a byword on every street and highway of the United States is the aim of a traffic safety program now being conducted throughout the country.

The American motorist, who so often is an Emily Post as a host but a heel at the wheel, is being asked to "Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road."

Three national safety organizations have joined forces for the program, which translates into practical action one important goal of the recent White House Conference on Highway Safety.

The real solution to the highway safety problem lies in the mind of the individual," said William F. Hufstader, chairman of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee and also a member of the Board of Directors of the Traffic Safety Association.

That idea is embodied in the code of the road, which asks every motorist to— 1. Share the road by driving in the proper lane.

Check For Breast Cancer By Fred Kopp, R. Ph. If all women over thirty-five were to examine their breasts carefully each month and report any noticeable change to their physician, the number of cases of this disease could be cut in half.

Surgical treatment has proven best for this type of cancer. When the malignancy is discovered and treated in its early stage, complete cure can be expected. The mortality rate from this type of operation is very low, less than two in every thousand.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerhorn

There was everything that makes a sports event great at the 43rd annual Grosse Pointe Horse Show held at the Hunt Club over last weekend. . . Spirit and sportsmanship (which got even better when the rains came and everything sank kneedeep in mud off and on) . . . nationally known officials . . . some of the country's leading exhibitors . . . bringing headline show horses . . . and then there was the chairman of the show . . . R. Edmund Dowling, who had plans lined up and the machinery of a topflight show ready for the opening blast of the ringmaster's trumpet . . . and what a trumpet. It must have been over a yard long and was well-handled by ringmaster Vincent Wholey of Pittsburg, who also had a maddening little horn which he blew to let riders know when they had been ticked out of the class . . . There were all the Hunt Club members who had worked with Mr. Dowling . . . the doctor members who took turns sitting in on the sessions, ready if a nasty spill occurred (luckily the ambulance was never called and the meanest tumble was taken by plucky Lauren Edgar who rode in another event after everyone thought she must have a broken collar bone . . .

A Dressy Eastern Voice

There were the die-hards who sat in the unprotected boxes and grandstands during driving rains . . . applauding fine performances in the show ring . . . there was the evening entre act with Chuck Grant from Birmingham (he has a private training school) riding the two year old Palomino "Shining Gold" in a stunning exhibition . . . There was the pleasant Eastern voice of Manager of the American Horse Show Association Theodore Buell announcing classes, riders and all manner of interesting information about the various events and trophies awarded . . . and lending atmosphere with his pastel slacks and matching bow ties (even in the muddy weather) . . .

The Out-of-Towners

Then there were the good-looking out of towners: the young Don R. Motches (she was Sally Busch of the Anheuser-Busch family) and the day it looked as if they'd take all the trophies home with them to Coleswood Farm in Keene, Va. . . Their handsome tack room was a visitors' paradise during the show . . . There was brunet Betty McGuire from Chicago who wore one of those hay-seed straw fishing hats and made it look good . . . (Time and Life photographer Joe Clark had the hat's twin and HE made it look good, too) . . . The Andrew Shinkles of Bridlespur Hunt Club in St. Louis . . . He is master of the hunt and she was one of the most striking women to ride . . . especially when she appeared in the dressy Corinthian class wearing black tails with vest and collar in Bridlespur's robins egg blue with cafe au lait breeches and a silk topper . . . Mrs. August Busch whose Miss Budeweiser was one of the star performers at the Grosse Pointe Horse Show . . . Max Bonham of Battle Creek, always turning in polished performances . . . and on Sunday, the Sonny Kinzies came from Richland, Mich. to attend the show with her mother, Mrs. Butler Higbie of Grosse Pointe . . .

Four Debutantes Are Introduced

A dinner at the Country Club marked the debut of three of the season's bids on Friday evening, following which the young set were guests of Mrs. Standish Backus of Lake Shore road, the Standish Backuses, Jr., of Santa Barbara, Calif., and the debutante Virginia Backus.

Bowing at the Country Club were Lillian McMath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trent McMath of Kensington road; Rosemary Chesbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Chesbrough of Yorkshire road, and Gaynor Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Johnson of Lodge drive.

The receiving line formed on the club porch adjoining the terrace where tables were set for dinner.

Lillian's white lace gown was designed with full, waltz length skirt and a tracing of blue embroidery was a distinguishing note. All three of the debs carried bouquets of pink and white carnations and pink roses with ivy.

Mrs. McMath's pale blue nylon net gown complemented the blue in her daughter's frock.

Jaynor Johnson wore a pale flesh toned nylon net strapless dancing gown. White embroidered scallops on the full skirt shimmered with bowknotted and lily of the valley design worked in iridescent beading.

Mrs. Johnson greeted the guests in white satin and net floor touching gown.

Rosemary Chesbrough was in classic white tulle gown which had criss-crossed bodice. A turquoise taffeta sash circled her slim waist and val lace added interest to the opera length skirt.

Mrs. Chesbrough was in full skirted pale blue organza.

Yellow and white flowers were used in the rooms of the Backus home on Lake Shore for the dance introducing Virginia Backus to society.

The deb, her parents and grandmother received guests who circulated to the gardens which were gaily lighted for outdoor dancing.

Virginia wore white tulle, a floating bal gown with spangle embroidered lace. Her flowers were an arrangement of yellow spray orchids.

The senior Mrs. Backus chose for her granddaughter's debut, a gown of deep green chiffon and the deb's mother was in a paler shade of green chiffon.

Motor to Muskoka After Their Wedding

Former Marilyn Ruth Wroblos and Bridegroom, Thomas Wesley Follis Wed in Bethel Baptist Church; Leave for Muskoka After Reception at Whittier

The marriage of Marilyn Ruth Wroblos and Thomas Wesley Follis took place last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bethel Baptist Church.

Marilyn, daughter of Mrs. Edmund A. Wroblos of Bishop road, was given in marriage by her grandfather, William Krieger.

Her wedding gown was fashioned of imported embroidered organdy worn over white net and taffeta.

A sweetheart neckline finished the slim bodice which had embroidery of seed pearls, and the great skirt fell in three tiers to form a cathedral train.

Held by an embroidered organdy Juliet, the bridal veil was a cloud of imported French illusion.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of ivory roses and white lilies.

Attendants were dressed in waltz length frocks of frothy white organdy attached to snug bodices of pale blue satin. All carried small blue and white bouquets.

Mrs. Stewart Ward was matron of honor and the maids included Mrs. Douglas Krieger, Margot Follis, sister of the bridegroom; and Marion Thompson.

The bride's cousin, Janice Krieger, served as flower girl. Mr. Follis, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley I. Follis of Bishop road, was assisted by his brother, Daniel, as best man.

Ushers comprised Douglas Krieger, Carl Baumgart, Henry Buslepp, Edmund Wroblos, brother of the bride; and Ralph Allured.

Mrs. Wroblos entertained the wedding guests at a reception in the Whittier following the church ceremony.

Her gown for the occasion was champagne chiffon with bodice of Alencon lace.

Mrs. Follis wore chiffon in coffee tones with wrist corsage of tiny beige orchids.

Marilyn's traveling costume was a white linen suit with which she wore navy accessories.

After their wedding trip, the Follises will return to the Pointe to make their home in Courville road.

best man and the guests were seated by the bride's brothers, Orlando Potter, Alexander Clement and John Hutchinson, of Boston; and Dr. Henry Garretson of Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Schreiber's gown of tissue taffeta in shades of gray-green was worn with natural straw hat trimmed in tiny flowers. She pinned orchids to her handbag.

Wearing a tailleur of navy raw silk with red straw hat and white accessories, the new Mrs. Pugh and her husband left their wedding reception for a trip in the East.

Their future home will be in Boston.

Along The Roadwith Roberta Isley

Here it comes... the annual vacation... your annual chance to get away from it all... to see new places, see new things, meet new people. This is probably the peak of the entire fifty-two weeks of 1954. And if you're going to write those "having a wonderful time" postcards... well, you'd just better plan ahead. Clothes don't really make a vacation. Not quite. But how they help! The clothes at the Clothes Line do wonders for your ego... make you feel just like something might happen... and it will. To go with your shorts we feel you'll find something extremely becoming in the shape of a blouse. In fine, fine, gingham are pert round collared blouses either sleeveless or with sleeves. A blue and green paid one was outstanding. These run seven and eight ninety-five. To wear with a suit or your good skirt was a pale pink with rhinestone buttons marching up the front. There is ALWAYS more at the Clothes Line. For around thirty dollars there were 100% handknit English sweaters with short sleeves in rainbow colors... aqua, pink, blue. And smartly tailored Bermuda shorts, of course. Shopping at the Clothes Line, 397 Fisher Rd., guarantees you ahead of time that every minute you're away... your looks will be working in your favor.

Last Thursday our battery was so low we couldn't get out of the garage. Right away we dialed TU. 5-7200. And real quick like... just a matter of minutes, mind you, everything looked rosy. That's just what Moir's Service along Fisher Rd. sells, good service. Try it sometime. 335 Fisher, corner Grosse Pointe Blvd.

Harry Bertoia, an Italian-born painter, sculptor and designer has come up with an exciting new cultural design in form wire. It is a small diamond chair... planned for both indoor, outdoor and all weather use. It is made of steel wire supported on a strong steel rod frame. The rust resistant finishes and the vinyl coating is white or black... and you see, practical. The seats and back are made of foam rubber with a removable slip cover of a cotton and rayon mixture in five brilliant hues or washable canvas seat pads in four colors. We sat on one... how relaxing! Other versions by the same designer... like a side chair... a large diamond one... a high back chair with an ottoman... are available at Gillis Modern Home Furnishings, 403 Fisher Road.

Last Friday Paul Gach informed us that the initial shortage for the new Highlander Polaroid Camera is past. They have several available for immediate delivery. This is the new pocket size Polaroid camera that produces a finished picture in 60 seconds. They are sixty-nine dollars and ninety-five cents. Paul Gach offers one hour delivery service in the Grosse Pointe area. 345 Fisher Road. TU. 1-0500.

To have clean closets in summer is wonderful, isn't it? And if you haven't cleaned out yours... now is a good time to do it. Your furs, suits and dresses that you won't need during the summer are much better off at Mondry Cleaners. First, they're cleaned, then the furs are glazed with a good process called Lusterway. Stored in their own vaults, your furs and clothes are protected safely against fire, theft, and pesky moths. You don't pay until delivery next spring. Quite a beneficial idea, eh, what? 369 Fisher Rd. TU. 5-4800 for a pick-up.

Sunning and swimming gets you a perfect tan... But your hair gets sunburned, too. Your most effective counter action is to visit the Ann-Louise Beauty Salon. It is here that expert colorists put new sheen, new color into every strand. They use the Helene Curtis hair tint. The hair conditioner is right in the tint. Shades like taffy... silver pearl... or smoke pearl are available. Of course, when you do refresh the color of your sunburned hair you'll crave a reversible hair cut, we betcha. A visit to the Ann-Louise Beauty Salon means a lovelier hair color. 405 Fisher Road, TU. 2-7511.

Conversation pieces for the porch, patio, or terrace. Care along Fisher Road in the form of Italian Straw Wreaths with four vigil lights... or gay and pretty fruit and flower arrangements. With vigil lights they are ten dollars... with fruit and flower arrangements... twenty-six dollars and fifty cents. These attractive pieces are exclusive at the Clothes Line along Fisher Road.

Have you noticed grocery shelves are crowded with jellies standing shoulder to shoulder? And it is most difficult to choose one better than the next, isn't it? But just lately we discovered at Farms Market... that's the market that caters to Detroit's smart East Side... a new brand of jelly. We toted home nine jars of different kinds and proceeded to compare. What we found out about the Sweetheart brand of jelly is worth passing on to you. Many are the choices. For a new taste, thrill you might like mint flavored apple jelly... or pure elderberry. We've tried the red current... yummy. We've found that the blackberry has a bramble patch flavor all it's own. And the strawberry reminded us of the wild ones we used to eat... such a haunting taste. The pineapple preserves are almost pure of pineapple's exotic flavor. Sweetheart brand is tastier and more flavorful. You'll like the service at Farms Market, too, because they have four delivery trucks on hand every day... their phone system is equipped to handle their customers. If you seek the exotic in foods look on their shelves for oddities at 335 Fisher Road or call TU. 2-5100 for immediate delivery.

Little boxes with yarn and knitting directions for Loootees, soakers, and mittens are on hand at the Yarncraft Shop, along Fisher Rd., number 343. They are designed to help you avoid twiddling your thumbs this summer when your crew goes off on a long hike. Ann McClenahan suggests that you might even want to take to knitting a dress or a sweater. Anyway they've seeds of ideas. Why not see if there is something that appeals to you?

Summer's the season for madcaps... and never has there been the opportunity to indulge in such pretty sun glasses... silly glasses... dramatic glasses... vivid glasses... of course we're referring to the frames... not the lens. For the lens are always ground exactly to your prescription at Bayne Optical Co., 407 Fisher Road. And don't get the silly idea that Bayne Optical sell only sun specs... they don't. They specialize in regular spectacles. And if you have a charge at Hudson's avail yourself of its use in this establishment. Don't forget there are free adjustments, as always.

Fisher Road Photographer Poses Puzzling Question

Paul Gach Featuring New "Snap Shot" Department

Offering Prizes For Best Guesses

Fisher Road is the home grounds of one of Michigan's best known photographers,

PAUL GACH

Paul Gach, whose ability in photographing children is rarely if ever excelled. It does not follow though that he is not a master in doing adults, for his work in such portraits is also widely accepted.

In these recent weeks, or to be more specific, ever since he announced his new "Snap Shot" for selling cameras and supplies for amateur photographers, Gach has posed a question that literally hundreds of people are trying to answer, including students at the high school across the street.

GUESS NUMBER OF BULBS

Correct answers to Gach's question which he has posted as big as all-out doors in his window, of how many flash light bulbs are contained in a huge glassbowl, pays off handsomely in prizes ranging from $1.00 to $50.00 worth of merchandise. Mr. Gach says, every person making a guess automatically wins a prize worth $1.00.

The contest is soon to end, so you are urged to hurry along with your guess and at the same time take a peek in at the smart new "Snap Shot" one of the new things along Fisher Road.

Spring Concert Held at Maire

Under the leadership of Music Instructor Mrs. Arlene Stoll, Maire School parents Wednesday, June 9, enjoyed the combined concert given by both the 55 piece band and the 60 piece orchestra made up of youngsters from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades.

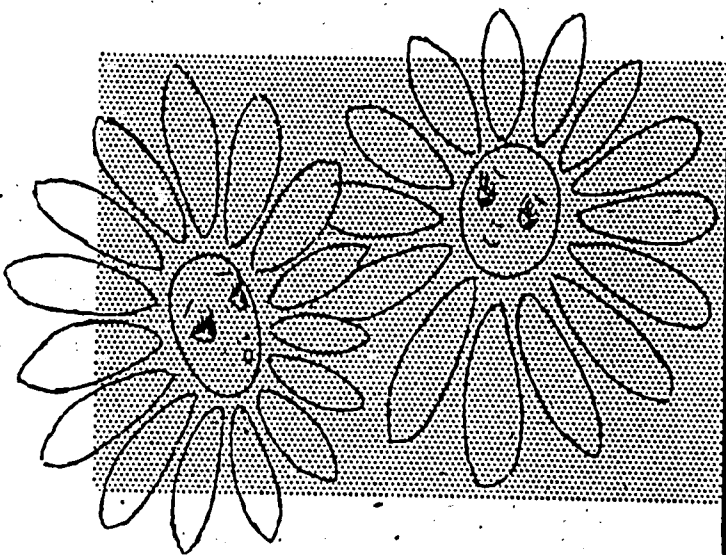

Howard E. Harrison played a tuba solo entitled "The Jolly Sailor" by Buchtel. Arthur J. Post rendered a violin solo, "Concerto No. 2, First Movement" by Seitz.

Among the orchestra's numbers was an arrangement of "The Three Bears" which was in the form of a comedy sketch and narrated by Richard Mayo.

The band's performance of a "Descriptive Fantasy of Stormy Weather" arranged by Lang, complete with lighting effects met with great enthusiasm by both the youngsters themselves and their parents.

A great many men could learn a great many things if they didn't think they already knew them.

Shores Wins First Round In Condemnation Struggle

The Shores emerged victor in Wayne County Circuit Court on Tuesday, June 22, in its battle to condemn property on Lake Shore road, between Vernier and Hampton roads, which officials assert is needed to expand municipal park and recreational facilities in the community.

Wayne Circuit Judge Lila M. Nuenfelft awarded the decision to the village, ruling that "prima facie" evidence showed that the Shores had proved a necessity in desiring the property.

Mrs. Dean Parker of 809 Lake Shore road, one of the property owners and a "last ditch" battler against the condemnation, disclosed the court's verdict.

She stated that a jury hearing the case had been out since the morning of Monday, June 21, and had arrived at a decision in favor of the Shores the following afternoon.

She said that the property owners involved will seek a retrial of the case, and if necessary, will take their fight to the State Supreme Court.

Mrs. Parker asserts that the Village does not have the funds to maintain the park once it is expanded, nor the funds to carry out the proposed development.

He will do a general real estate business.

Farms Approves Church Addition

The Farms council, after listening to an appeal from the St. James Lutheran Church, which protested a denial of a building permit, granted the church the necessary permit on Monday, June 21, so that additional construction work can be carried out.

At a recent meeting, the church petitioned the council for a permit to construct a Sunday School wing and an administrative wing to the present building located at 170 McMillan road.

The petition was denied because a building inspector contended the new construction would be too near to property lines and would otherwise conflict with the city's zoning ordinances.

With new plans submitted at the Monday meeting, the church won its appeal and a building permit was approved.

Motorists Get Courtesy Award

Three Grosse Pointe motorists have been presented with the Courteous Driving Award of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Each award has been made for a specific courteous motoring act observed by a committee member or a policeman. Grosse Pointe's award-winning drivers are: Wallace P. Lamb of 1350 Nottingham; Peter A. Maniaci, of 1037 Nottingham; and Eugene H. Mulford, of 20007 Holiday.

The award is in the form of an instrument panel sticker in blue and gold, upon which are written the words, "I Take My Manners Motoring." A citation attesting to the courteous act is also presented to each award winner.

In his letter to the winners, Committee Chairman Jan Schmedding said, "Such acts of courtesy as yours often make the difference between pleasant motoring and death. Your act brings to mind Lord Tennyson's line, 'The greater man is the greater courtesy.'"

"On behalf of the members of the Safety and Traffic Committee, may I offer my heartiest congratulations."

The courtesy campaign in the Detroit area is to continue indefinitely.

Cancer Society Offering Films

The Grosse Pointe Unit of the American Cancer Society, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, meets on Mondays from 10 to 3 to sew Cancer Pads for free distribution to Grosse Pointers and to service all groups in their own organizational groups. This unit has organized an educational committee. Chairman Mrs. William Wood announces the following ladies recruited for this committee to date: Mrs. A. B. Baylis, Mrs. Robert Colegrove, Mrs. Stephen Kozlow, Mrs. Alfred Mischke, Mrs. Paul F. McNally, Mrs. E. C. Quinn and Mrs. Ewing Stumm.

The first project will be an attempt to book showings of educational films from the national organization, designed to alert people to the necessity for more frequent physical examinations, so early detection of cancer may increase a patient's chances for successful treatment and cure.

The statistics prove one in five persons encounters a personal battle with cancer and that every other home houses a patient at some time.

Volunteers to prepare and sew and pack pads for distribution are needed for the Monday group, and white sheets or shirts or other white salvage are always needed.

Pointe Theater Presents Comedy

Grosse Pointe Community Theatre at its last meeting on June 16 presented a lively one-act comedy, "Cathedrals and Cockroaches," about a trip to Mexico by two zany and uninhibited young ladies. The meeting, held at the War Memorial was well attended in spite of the heat.

Although it was labelled a "Workshop", the play was actually given a full production, with complete scenery, makeup and lighting, and had even run a small publicity campaign of its own, featuring "wish-you-were-here" cards, (supposed to come from Mexico), to all the members of the Theatre.

It was announced that the next meeting was to be held on July 15 at the War Memorial, when Grosse Pointe Community Theatre will attend the Simians' production of "Blithe Spirit" in a body and entertain the cast afterward.

Tuesday Was Big Day For Those Debutantes

Parties Start at Goddard Reception for Sarah; Then Kittie Smith and Helen Frost Come Out at Country Club; Ferry-McElvenny Ball Ends Day

Another whirlwind day took place for June debutantes Tuesday when the young set attended a reception, a dinner, and still later a dance at the Little Club to greet a total of five debs.

At the end of all the gayety they were still blossoming and radiant, wishing the current season weren't going to end on Friday evening when Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman fetes her granddaughter, Stacey Mitchell, at a dance in Stonehurst on Lake Shore road.

Tuesday debs were, in order of their bows: Sarah Goddard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Converse Goddard of Provençal; Katharine (Kittie) Kierstad Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Chester Smith of McKinley place and Helen McCord Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Frost, Jr. of Village Lane; Marlan Ferry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Ferry of Notre Dame and Alice McElvenny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny of Cloverly road.

An early press hour makes reporting this Summer debutante party situation. It was planned by the Goddards to receive their guests in the beautiful gardens of their home, weather permitting, of course.

Sarah's gown was of white organza embroidered with blue flowers. Blue velvet tabs touched the strapless neckline of the gown which had full, opera length skirt and a double midriff banding of the blue velvet.

Mrs. Goddard's frock, fashioned in the popular afternoon length, was a printed rust and black imported cotton.

House guest at the Goddard's during the deb festivities was being David Heminway of Hastings, N. Y. who left Wednesday to return to his Eastern home.

By evening time, the debs had changed to swirly party frocks and with their escorts hurried to the Country Club where the Smiths and the Frosts received with their debutantes in the great hall. The doors were opened wide to the sweeping terraces where small dinner tables covered with pink cloths were lighted by pink tapers in hurricane lamps. Pink geraniums bloomed as pink nosegays for the tables which also had pink match packets printed with the two debs' names.

Kittie wore strapless white tulle, its draped bodice touched with narrow bands of flesh pink velvet. The bouffant skirt fell floor length and she carried sweetheart roses with shatterer pink carnations and rose geranium foliage.

Her only jewel was a tight rope of seed pearls with pearl pendant, the gift of her grandmother, Mrs. Vernon Griffith.

Helen's picture gown, also floor touching, was pale lime shербert striped nylon chiffon flecked in tiny white dots. It was strapless with draped bodice. Her bouquet was a duplicate of Kittie's.

When the receiving line broke up, Helen's dinner partner was George O. Johnston Jr. and Kittie's escort was J. Laurence Buell III.

As the Smith-Frost guests lingered over coffee, Mr. and Mrs. Ferry, the McElvenny and their deb daughters were taking their places in the sun room of the Little Club, preparing to greet their guests at the dance presenting the girls.

Fan-shaped floral arrangements were used throughout the club and pastel fans were tucked in their blossom bouquets. Guests passed down the receiving line, through the front porch of the club, down to the lakeside dance floor which was flooded with pink lights.

Marian was in an opera length gown of white organza with embroidered organza panels, over pale blue taffeta. She carried white stephanotis and blue delphinium intermingled with ivy.

Alice's white organza coming-out gown was frosted in pale yellow daisies and etched gray leaves. It was an off the shoulder frock with material swept to bustle effect at back and the deb's slim waistline was cycled by yellow satin sash. Her flowers were yellow roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Ferry was in rose beige tucked organza and alternating bands of lace, a slim bodice with bell shaped opera length skirt.

Mrs. McElvenny wore sea foam silk organza with moulded bodice and full waltz length skirt.

The debs' ushers for their coming out dance were Clifton Phalen, Henry H. Hubbard III, Peter Kornneff, Tom Mackley, Dick Jackson, John W. Watling III, Peter Bayne, Peter Fink, George Reindel III, George O. Johnston Jr., J. Laurence Buell III, Russell Goddard, William K. Kier Jr., Terry Williams and David Herrington of Los Angeles.

Mr. Herrington has been the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Frost, and will leave on Saturday to return to his California home. Here for the debut, visiting Marian, has been Jean Ramsay, of Forest Hills, L. I., the deb's roommate at Vassar.

Mason School Room Mothers Give Luncheon Honoring Staff

Mason Room Mothers concluded a most active and successful year with a luncheon at Al Green's June 17, honoring Principal Miss Ethel M. Tucker and her entire staff. Luncheon chairman was Mrs. Arthur Walker.

During the past year, Mason Room Mothers have helped in many ways, strengthening the ties between parents and teachers. Mrs. Frederic Steiner has been general chairman during the year, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Cecil Conway.

In December the Room Mothers conducted Santa's Cookie Shop bake sale, proceeds of which provided room gifts for each student group.

During January, Mason Room Mothers, again cooperating with the PTA, arranged for the Mason School 25th Anniversary Celebration. This highlight of the year honored Miss Ethel M. Tucker, who has been principal of Mason during its entire 25-year history, and Miss Pauline Sagala, who had completed 25 years of teaching at Mason. Over 400 alumni and friends attended the festivities.

June was another active month for Mason Room Mothers when they organized a house-to-house visit with all parents who have children in Mason, for the purpose of soliciting support for the school proposals at the June 14 school election. On election day, Mason Room Mothers held open house in the school library and served refreshments to over

Museum Exhibit Honors Cadillac

The third in a series of exhibits entitled "Motor Album" featuring the Cadillac automobile can be seen at the Detroit Historical Museum through June 27. This exhibit relates the past, present and future of the Cadillac automobile.

Beginning the chronology is an original 1903 one-cylinder engine. A 1908 Model M reflects the Cadillac as it appeared under the leadership of Henry M. Leland.

The 1912 Touring Car was made during the early years after Cadillac became part of the General Motors family. This model loaned by Everett E. Fisher was one of the bigger cars of its day built well for wear on the rough roads of pre-World War I America.

The 1954 sedan shows the advanced styling and engineering which have made Cadillac the "Standard of the World" and one of America's most sought after cars. However, changes are in the immediate future.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Louis Burns Motor to Pennsylvania After Their Marriage Saturday in St. Paul's on the Lake Shore; Reception at Hillcrest

The Rev. Father LaSalle Lenk officiated at the 10 o'clock nuptial mass in St. Paul's on the Lake Shore last Saturday morning when Ann Marie Reed became the bride of Donald Louis Burns.

Wedding guests attended a reception and breakfast, after the ceremony, at Hillcrest Country Club given by parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Reed of Kerby road.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Burns of York-shire road.

Ann's bridal veil, of pure silk illusion, fell from a cap of Alencon lace and she had white flowers on her wedding prayer book.

Deep purple head dresses were affected by the attendants whose waltz length frocks were of pale blue crystallite. They carried purple flowers.

Ann asked Mary Margaret Van Damme to be her maid of honor and bridesmaids were Sally Johnson, Nancy Mason and Donna Mayo.

Little Sharon Reed was flower girl.

Tric of Buds Attracts Society

A trio of debutantes occupied the interest of society on Wednesday, June 16. They were Nan Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. Bodkin of Muskoka road, who made her debut at a Little Club dinner party; and Ann Sherer, daughter of the Joseph S. Sherers, Jr., of Ridge road, and Elise Fink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Fink, of Cloverly road, who shared bud honors at a ball in the Country Club.

The Bodkins and Nan selected the theme for their party from their mutual favorite sport: sailing. Members of the young set walked into a nautical atmosphere created by white and blue ships' wheels, anchors, burgees, code flags and ships' lanterns.

Even the dinner table centerpieces carried out this decor with modern arrangements of sea weed in cork containers.

For her coming out party, Nan donned a pale pink nylon net gown, the full skirt fashioned with apron effect embroidered in vari-colored sequins. Her flowers were garden blossoms reflecting the tones of the gay butterflies in her gown.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodkin and the deb received guests in the club's sun room. Mrs. Bodkin was in ginger nylon net evening dress with pearls, rhinestones and sequins etching the bodice.

Nan's escort for the evening was Walter Fisher. Following the Maxwell dinner the deb crowd went on to the Country Club where the scene was transformed into an Oriental courtyard. The use of Chinese characters spelling out "Ann and Elise" was found on a large white silk banner which floated over the entrance to the great hall.

Chinese silk screens and dozens of Chinese lanterns added to the picture and the out-of-town orchestra played from a black and red Chinese pagoda.

The receiving line formed in the club's green room. Ann's gown was white illusion tulle with accent of blue satin at the waistline. She carried valley and blue delphinium.

Blue embroidery detailed the full skirted white French organdy ball gown worn by Elise and her cascade bouquet was composed of butterfly orchids and blue delphinium.

Mrs. Fink chose pale blue chiffon and fleurs d'amour for the debutante and Mrs. Sherer's electric blue peau de soie had taffeta accents.

Red carnations were the badge of the ushers who included Sam Sherer, Joe Sherer, Stan and Rusty Muirhead, Bill Fisher, Paul Marden, Peter Fink, Jim Fitzpatrick, Louis Fisher, Frederick M. Alger, III, Larry Buhl, Tom Eskin of Cleveland O.; Harry Jewett, Don King, Peter Connolly, Jamie Taylor, Bob Hostenliff, Henry Earle and Hank Caulkins.

Jennie Hagen Makes Debut

In the Green Room of Grosse Pointe Yacht Club last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. H. John Hagen, of Trembley road, and their debutante daughter, Jennie, received members of Detroit society. An orchestra played for dancing.

White peonies and delphinium formed a floral background for the afternoon party.

The debutante was gowned in white Swiss organdy, the simple bodice pointed up by off-shoulder double fold of the filmy material. Delphinium blue edged the collar and the frock burst into a full waltz length skirt.

Jennie's flowers were a demure arrangement of white daisies and blue delphinium.

For her daughter's debut, Mrs. Hagen was gowned in poudre blue chiffon and spray orchids.

Among the guests at the party was Margot Zimmelman of Buenos Aires, who is the debutante's classmate at Bryn Mawr College.

Ushers for the deb wore bachelor buttons in their jacket lapels and included Keith Smith, Richard Robbins, James Degman, William Haring and Hugh Ryall.

Symphony Series Draws Students

By Marcia Loush
G.P.H.S. Journalism Student

Seventy-five Grosse Pointe High School students have made their reservations for next winter's Masonic Temple Symphony Series.

Mr. Ralph N. Deal, music appreciation and literature teacher, takes ticket money and makes transportation arrangements for the interested students.

Students do not have to be enrolled in music classes to join the group attending. Adults interested may order a season ticket from Mrs. Harry Hartwick, of the Masonic Temple.

Season tickets range from $8 to $15, according to the seating arrangement.

The series, which offers five concerts a season, includes some of the finest orchestras in the world.

The program will include: the Boston Symphony, Charles Munch conducting; the New York Philharmonic, Dimitri Mitropoulos conducting; the Philadelphia Orchestra with Eugene Ormandy conducting; and the Cleveland Orchestra with George Szell conducting.

Because of contract obligations the Berlin Philharmonic, conducted by Wilhelm Furtwaengler, could not be presented in the series but will be presented as a separate attraction March 17, 1955. Series ticket holders will be given the opportunity to purchase their same seat locations for this concert.

"The symphony series is a great maturing experience for the student. It will aid him in college and later life. I also appreciate all the interest and cooperation from the parents," said Mr. Deal.

The Farms' dogs had an off month. Only five of them bit their best friend, man. But man, on the other hand, didn't spend such a quiet 30 days according to the Farms police report for May, submitted by Chief Walter R. Hoyt.

In spite of the 68 traffic violations issued there were 28 traffic accidents amounting to a damage cost of $2,600. Six people were injured.

St. Joan of Arc Plans Addition

A cornerstone for a school and mission chapel, new additions to the present school and church buildings of St. Joan of Arc parish in Mack avenue, will be laid on Sunday, June 27, at 3 p.m.

The school will house additional classrooms, from the first to the eighth grades, and adjoining it will be a mission chapel, capable of holding 800 persons.

Laying the cornerstone will be the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry E. Donnelly, pastor of St. Catherine Church, and dean of the Eastern Deanery of Detroit.

The Rev. Fr. John C. Jordan, pastor of St. Joan of Arc, revealed that the school will be ready for use when the school session opens in the fall.

Attend Sessions At Girls' State

Three hundred state high school girls gathered at the University of Michigan for the 12th annual Wolverine Girls' State (June 15-23).

The event is a training program in citizenship, leadership and educational guidance. The girls were organized into groups, which elected representatives to a Girls' State government. A constitution then was drawn up by the delegates to govern the State.

Meetings discussing vocations for women were held by the U-M faculty in addition to a recreational program.

The girls are sponsored primarily by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Voters to Pass On Bonus Plan

One of the important issues to be voted on at the Nov. 2 general election is a constitutional amendment authorizing a bond issue to pay a bonus to Korean War veterans. If the people approve the proposal, $80,000,000 in State bonds will be issued to pay the bonus to all Michigan men and women who were in service during the active fighting in Korea. The plan follows that of the bonus payment to Michigan veterans of World War I and World War II. It was placed on the ballot by the Legislators for a vote by the people. Under the amendment, an individual must have served in the armed forces for at least 90 days between the dates of June 27, 1950, and December 31, 1953, to be eligible for a bonus. He must have been a resident of Michigan for at least six months before entering service. Rate of pay would be $10 per month for each month of service within the United States and $15 per month for each month of service outside the continental limits. Maximum payment to any one individual would be $500. The heirs of a deceased veteran would be eligible for the maximum payment. In other important actions relating to veterans, the Republican Legislature extended to Korean War veterans the benefits of the $50,000,000 Veterans Trust and the facilities of various veterans institutions. Korean War veterans now will receive the same consideration accorded to former servicemen of other wars.

Chief Submits May Fire Report

According to William H. Newport, Farms Fire Chief, the city fire damage for the month of May was negligible. Of the 19 calls answered, only one was a residence fire, resulting in a total building and content damage cost of $4,520. One call was due to smoke and the other 17 were emergency calls, eight of them ambulance cases. Co-operative ownership is sometimes a poor policy — we all own the highways and look what happens.

Third DRYA Regatta Draws Largest Turnout of Season

The third DRYA regatta of the season drew the top entry to date when 156 sail yachts scooted across the starting line set in front of Crescent last Saturday, June 19.

The regatta offered something different than the majority of DRYA events when all the triangular courses were set entirely on the American side of the steamer channel. The skippers weren't faced with the prospect of losing hard earned positions due to converging freighters, as they normally are when the fleet sails the regular DRYA courses, all of which cross the steamer channel at some point of the race.

Nice Easy Breeze

A 6 to 8 mile an hour easterly breeze gave the fleet a dandy reach up the American shore to the first mark, an easy beat to weather to the second buoy near the channel and a spinnaker run back to the starting point.

It was the spinnaker finishes that gave the judges fits. In numerous cases the yachts weren't identified until after they crossed the finish line because too many of the skippers had neglected to comply with the rule of having their identifying numbers marked on the following headsail.

Ken Leisprandt said, "We even discussed the possibility of disqualifying the neglectful skippers just to teach them a lesson." Art Summerlee, needless agreement, said, "and we would have been strictly within our rights to do so because those guys are supposed to know the rules."

All In Agreement

The other judges, Murray Knapp, George Cossaboom, Dave Davenport, Buell Doelle, Bruce Tappan, Bill Phillips, Robbie Robertson and Hal Smith, all agreed with the dean of judges.

Outspoken Summerlee again piped up and said, "the next time we see a yacht finishing a spinnaker run and it doesn't have a number on it we will disqualify the yacht whether its first or last course because he must sail by the rules if he wants to compete around here."

Actually the judges are right and whether you believe it or not they have a tough time in keeping track of more than 100 yachts in the 30 classes that compete. It is a particularly tough job when two or more classes are finishing at the same time. All isn't beer and skittles on the judges' boat as some of the sailors think it is.

Late Wind Shift

The easterly breeze that prevailed hauled to the south later in the day and forced some of the late finishing class boats to douse their spinnakers as they neared the finish line. This made for at least one beautiful close finish between Dick Jeffery's "Last Straw" and Nubby Sarns' "Revelry."

"Last Straw" found herself caught before the finish line and was forced to flop on a starboard tack to make the line. In the meantime, "Revelry," with her huge mast head spinnaker straining at every sheet was barreling down on the line on a port tack. At the very last instant "Revelry" bore away to let "Last Straw" cross her bow by an eyelash.

Jeffery quickly came about on a port tack and the two beautiful yachts raced for the finish line with "Last Straw" squeezing in with about 20 feet to spare. Neither of these yachts were in the money; in Cruising A division, but they certainly provided a thrilling finish for the spectators who crowded the docks of the club.

Clare Jacobs Wins

Clare Jacobs' black hulled "Falcon II" copped Cruising A honors by beating Toot Gmeiner's "Apache" in a boat-for-boat scrap. Gil Pingree's yawl "Red Head" was first to finish in this class but was knocked down to third on corrected time. Pat Collins, Jeffery, Sarns, Dave Sloss and Arvid Lundell followed in that order in the final standings.

Jack Booth's "Voyager" topped Fritz Leydors' "Joanne," both on elapsed and corrected time. Chuck Coe and Joe Osborn were jumping for joy after learning they had brought their Baltic 8 "Aquavil" in early enough to capture third place honors. This is the first time since Chuck and Joe acquired their yacht last summer from Sweden that they had placed in the money. Joe said, "That new rig we

Pitcher Hurls Perfect Game

Lars Anderson, 12-year-old ace of the Woods Little League Red Sox mound corps, chalked up a perfect, no-hit, no-run, 8 to 0 victory over the Yankees in Ghesquiere Park last Thursday, June 17. The perfect game enabled the Red Sox to take over second place in the Grosse Pointe Woods American League (Major) standings.

Only 18 Yankees faced Anderson in the regulation six inning game. The only blot on Anderson's performance was an error that allowed a Yankee batter to reach first base. He was erased when the next batter hit into a double play.

Anderson struck out 13 and contributed to the 8 to 0 victory by blasting out a home run in the fifth inning, with the bases empty. Fathers of the Woods Little League are getting into the act as grounds keepers. The dads will work under the direction of the team managers in preparing the diamonds prior to game time.

The City of Grosse Pointe Woods is expected to erect a tool shed at the Little League Stadium in Ghesquiere Park on Mack Avenue, but for the present the tools will be kept in the Shannon garage at the rear of 1953 Hunt Club.

Little League Draws Rooters

Park residents turn out en masse to support the new Little League which has been formed there for the first time this year. This picture shows a portion of the crowd watching the Athletics at bat against the Red Sox in the Defer School playground.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

Next Saturday, June 26, a burning question will be answered when local yachtsmen take their choice of competing in the Detroit Boat Club's annual regatta or the Toledo Yacht Club's Mills Trophy race.

Ever since DRYA Commodore Frank Martin held the spring gripe meeting at Edison Boat Club, that question has been kicked around more than a soccer ball in a national tournament. At that meeting the Toledo Yacht Club, at the insistence of its commodore, bolted the DRYA and told the local officials it was going to stage its annual race on June 26 because "it would be exactly six months from Christmas."

Personally we can't fathom the point taken by TYC on that Christmas deal and neither can anyone else. TYC came up with a rather weak explanation that it didn't want to interfere with the Russell Trophy race held in Cleveland on June 19, which has always been the date of the Mills. TYC figured it was strong enough to grab the Boat Club's regular regatta date and pull the Detroit fleet down to Lake Erie plus getting some boats to come up for the race from Cleveland.

The Toledo Y. C. is a babe in swaddling clothes compared to the Boat Club, which has been holding regattas since before the turn of the century. In addition to holding a wonderful regatta year in and year out, the Boat Club opens its doors to all the competing skippers, crews and their wives and sweethearts for the Commodore's Ball in the evening. By a proclamation local yachtsmen hail the Boat Club regatta and evening festivities as among the best if not the best of all events in the DRYA sailing schedule.

At this writing it is rumored that all but two of the Cruising A fleet will forsake the Boat Club in favor of the Mills Race.

Babe Ruth Loop Ends First Half

Philadelphia has won the pennant in the first half-season in the National Division of Babe Ruth League, and the Chicago White Sox are the winners in the American Division.

The second half will start at once with the American League teams playing all games at Kerby Field on Kerby road between Mack and Chalmers. The Collegiate League will play at the High School, and the National Teams will continue at Neighborhood Field.

Beach Offering Varied Program

Free swimming lessons for adults and youngsters are among the daily features of the summer program at Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair. Advance registration is required for the "Learn to Swim" program to be held daily from 10:30 to 12 noon starting June 28.

Water ski exhibitions at 3 p.m., Wednesday through Sunday, callisthenes daily at 3:30 on the beach and turtle races at the same hour near the Children's area, began this week. National champion, Dick Sligh of Macatawa Park, and Joe Grimaldi of Detroit are putting on the afternoon ski shows and conducting a water ski school daily.

Special week-end events will be held during July and August. honors in the team event with Harold Waldo, of the Boat Club, and Fred Grimshaw taking the two remaining spots.

The Other Winners

Other winners were: 30 Square Meter, Ray St. John, George Wilson and Jay Gonyeau. C-K Freer-For-All, Joe McHugh, Lucy Branta and Art Hollar. Thistle class, George Devlin, H. Wheeler and Tom Rochford. Club Sloops Dave Cowles, Ed Kelly and Ken Smith. Vineyard Haven, John French, Leydard and No. 27 (why doesn't that guy register that bucket?); Universal B, Jerry Jenkins, John Hutton and R. Livingston Class. Bob Dodds, Tom Hansen and Guy McNarron.

Hollow victories were awarded to Cliff Gray's eightmeter "Pintail" and Bill Berry in the 22 Square Meter class. They were the only starters and cruised around the course.

Beck Leads Ravens

Junior Beck claimed it was his turn to win the Raven class and proceeded to lead Gordon McCabe, Boyd Benkert, Roy Barbier and Joe Mason around the triangle.

A couple of former big boat sailors, Ledge Mitchell and Johnny Pottle, are finding the going tough in the hot Luder class, which was won by Bobby Ford. Dick Wozniak took second ahead of Dexter Ferry who in turn edged C. Phelan, F. Fisher, Mitchell, P. Fink and W. Pawluk for third place.

For weeks Jim Mog, fleet captain of the C boats, has been trying unsuccessfully to get the rest of his class out to race. Today we guess Jim is a little sorry that three of his playmates finally accepted his invitation. Jim finished last behind Bob Schroeder, Chuck Dickinson and R. Kanner, but said, "I don't mind being last so long as I have someone to sail against."

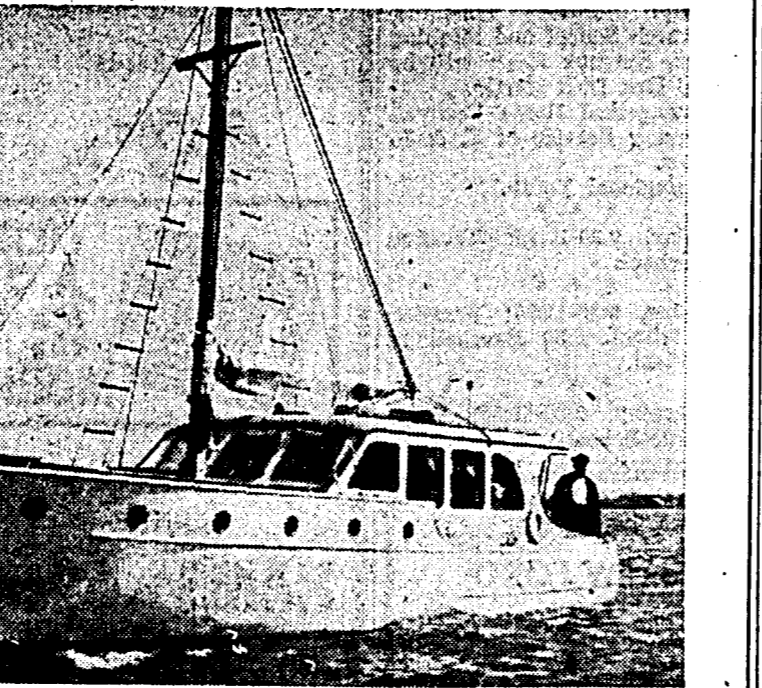

Zeldler Tops K Class

One of the biggest turnouts in the K class found one of its long time hotshots, George Van, winding up in the cheap seats. Riney Zeldler got the gun ahead of Fred Meno, III, Duke Huber, Ed Darling, Van and Norm Stockton.

"Wind Toy" had a good scrap with Jimmy Trudell's "Gin Jam" and Al Thomas, sailing Doc Sandler's "Bandi," before she emerged the winner in the Privateer class. Trudell took second place, Sid Marsh's "Indian Drum" edged into third place ahead of Don Pixley's "Maybe," "Bandi," Bobby Roadstrum's "Cotton Top" and Chuck Haug's "Naid."

The Detroit Yacht Club captured the CK team trophy with 27 points. Edison Boat Club finished second with 25, Detroit Boat Club 19 and St. Clair Yachtsmen 8. Pat Glancy, of Edison, again took the top cabboat

How to Profit Through Tax Exemption

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.43% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How to Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL

GROSSE POINTE WOODS American League (Majors)

A full schedule, which saw all four American League teams play two games each last week, jumbled the standings for three of the teams. Only the league leading Tigers remained unbeaten and currently are unbeaten in six games.

On Monday, June 14, the Tigers squeezed past the Yankees, 2 to 1, to give pitcher Larry Englehardt credit for the victory. The winning run was scored when Yankee catcher Chip Waite, let a pitch slip past him which allowed the deciding tally to score from third.

Englehardt allowed only two hits but an error by a teammate gave the Yankees their only run of the game. In the meantime the Tigers were able to collect a meager four hits off the offerings of losing pitcher Mike McDonald, whose teammates contributed two errors to the Tiger cause.

Tuesday, June 15, the last place Red Sox began to move up in the standings with a 6 to 1 victory over the Indians. Winning pitcher Paul Beson limited the Red Sox to a stinky four hits and the almost airtight defense put up by his teammates, who committed one error, kept all but one Indian from crossing the plate. Losing pitcher Bob Bianco allowed eight hits and the four errors committed behind him didn't help his valiant effort.

The Tigers came back on Wednesday, June 16, to chalk up their second win of the week, a 7 to 5 decision over the Indians. Pitcher Larry Englehardt won his own ball game in the sixth inning when he belted a four-run homer to clinch the win. Russ Cramer was the losing pitcher, although he allowed the same number of hits as did Englehardt.

Both teams collected six hits. The Indians made a bid to overhaul the Tigers but the rally fell short, due to some fine defensive play on the part of the Tigers when the chips were down.

Second place was the prize plump for the Red Sox when they walloped the Yankees on Thursday, June 17, 8 to 0, behind the no-hit, no-run game hurled by Lars Anderson. The losing pitcher was Jerry Buttnick who allowed most of the eight hits. Bob O'Brien relieved after the damage was done.

The Senators continued their winning ways last week as they swept two games. The first was Ronnie Solterisch led the way for the Senators in their second win of the week as he banged out four hits, including an important one in the last of the sixth inning when the Senators scored four runs to overcome the second-place Athletics by the score of 10-7.

The White Sox won their second game of the season Wednesday, 6 to 5, on the pitching and slugging of Louis Ewald. He slammed out a three-run homer, his second of the season, and struck out 11 Orioles. John Lindquist drove in Dave Cameron with the winning tally in the last of the sixth to break a 5-5 tie.

The Athletics regained second place, one game behind the Senators, as Tom Conrad allowed only seven hits while his teammates were helping him to a 12 to 9 win over the White Sox. Louis Ewald slammed out his third home run of the season and his second in as many nights to put him on top in this department.

DUS, Country Day Merge Into GP University School

As of July 1, 1954, the Grosse Pointe University School will be officially established. Assuming this name will be the final step in the consolidation of the Detroit University School and Grosse Pointe Country Day School, a consolidation which began in 1951 when the two schools combined under one headmaster and one Board of Trustees.

This next fall the school, consisting of a college preparatory division (grades 7-12), a lower school (Kindergarten through grade 6), and a nursery school, will occupy the newly constructed buildings and the renovated plant on the Cook road campus of the former Detroit University School.

This change in name and the move into new quarters represent the final steps in a merging process. The Detroit University School was founded in 1899 by Henry Gray Sherrard and Frederick Leroy Bliss; Grosse Pointe Country Day School was organized in 1915 by a group of community leaders.

In 1939 the Board of the Grosse Pointe Country Day School, then co-educational, approached the Board of the Detroit University School with a merger proposition, but at that time the proposal was not accepted. Two years later, in 1941, Edsel Ford, President of the DCS Board, went to Dr. John G. Mateer, President of the Country Day School Board to discuss the merger proposition.

After careful consideration the two schools were combined under the leadership of Lambert F. Whetstone, who had been Headmaster of the Country Day School from 1936. From that time until now DUS has been the boys' division for grades four through twelve, while Country Day has been co-educational from Nursery through third grade and has been a girls' school from grades four through twelve.

In 1949, John Chandler, Jr., assumed the leadership of the schools. It has been under his guidance that the merger of the two schools has become a reality, academically and now physically. The former quarters of the Country Day School have been sold to the Board of Education and will be annexed to Grosse Pointe High School.

The new facilities constructed on the 43 acre Cook road campus consist of athletic fields and facilities for both boys and girls. The new, modern buildings are grouped around the former DUS building, and are joined together as a unit, with the exception of the nursery school. Each division of the school will have its own headquarters surrounding the central unit which is made up of the main offices, an auditorium, cafeteria, double-gymnasium library, art, music, and drama rooms.

The new buildings and the remodeling of the old facilities have been designed by the architects, Leinweber, Yamasaki, and Hellmuth, and are being constructed by O. W. Burke & Company. The school will enroll 650 students, 3 to 18 years of age. The faculty numbers 63, and comprises 19 men and 44 women. The

Art Institute Holds Exhibit

The Detroit Institute of Arts is one of the "coolest" spots in town these summer days, both in temperature and artistic atmosphere. Summer exhibitions divide emphasis between the work of old and modern masters.

Starred in the Recent Accessions Gallery are these exceptionally beautiful paintings from the 15th, 17th, and 19th centuries, while the "Art of Our Country" is represented in the feature summer show of that name in the exhibition of contemporary color prints from the museum's collection, the Detroit International Exhibition of Photography, and the gallery of modern paintings and sculpture offered for sale as "Collector's Opportunities."

A portrait of the Holy Family by the great 17th century French artist Nicholas Poussin, a painting of his wife and child by Sir Thomas Beechey, one of the best English portrait painters of the late 18th and early 19th centuries, and an excellent example of 15th century Flemish art, "Adoration of the Christ Child" by the artist known as the "Master of the St. Catherine Legend" will be enjoyed by gallery-goers both for their appealing subjects and their artistic beauty.

These important additions to the Institute's collection are the gifts of Mrs. A. D. Wilkins of Grosse Pointe who inherited them from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Whitcomb, and her grandfather, James E. Scripps.

Something usually goes wrong when you let things happen instead of making them happen.

MR. and MRS. ANTHONY CARLONI of GRAND MARAIS BOULEVARD

By Jane Schermerhorn

When the beautiful Italian ship Andria Doria, crossed the Atlantic last March, distinguished passengers were members of the Anthony Carloni family, bound for Detroit where Mr. Carloni was to take over post of Italian consul.

The family were five with Mrs. Carloni and six year old Eleanora, seven year old Bernardo and nine year old Francesco. In addition there was the governess, Miss Angelica Mancini.

Now settled in the comfortable consulate residence on Grand Marais boulevard, we learned just the other day what at least two of the passengers thought about during the ocean crossing. Mrs. Carloni thought constant-fell in love with the young Florentine doctor, married him in New York, and returned to live in his native land. (He was one time physician to the great Eleanora Duse who inscribed a stunning photograph to him).

"This is a portrait of my beautiful American mother," said Mr. Carloni, showing us another picture of a lovely young girl. When he was six years old, Mr. Carloni was brought by his parents for a visit to his grandfather in Rye. His memory of America, up to last March, therefore, was very vague but he always had a great love for this country.

Among their friends in Rome, where the family had lived, the United States was a faraway land with New York, Boston, Chicago and San Francisco the established places. Of Detroit, it was known that Henry Ford made his automobiles here and that a great many lakes were to be found in the surrounding territory.

There was another important thing about Detroit shared by the Carlonis. Their friend, the daughter of Count Passerini of Florence had married Charles Gilmore of Detroit. That was a warming feeling for the family coming to a strange city and they count it a great stroke of luck that now they are practically neighbors of the Gilmores in Grosse Pointe.

As we chatted of machines where you can drop quarters and receive packages of ice cubes without ever seeing a human being during the operation (this enchants the Carlonis), the three bright-eyed youngsters with their governess came in for a polite handshake.

They are having their regular lessons at home at the present and in the fall will enter Grosse Pointe schools. By that time they shall have their English ready to use—for schooling also includes sessions with an American tutress who teaches the children and governess our language.

Impressions The green gardens, the expanse of lawns, the tall trees have all endeared the Pointe to its new residents. With the park and the lake but a few steps from their home, they find no need of a Summer holiday which was part of life in sun-drenched Rome.

Now here almost four months, the Carlonis still are thrilled by the quantity of shiny, big motor cars. Ever so many Pointers have traveled to Italy to buy a Fiat but the Italian consul and his family are in love with their new American car and the mysterious something or somebody who shifts gears for them.

They already have enjoyed the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, have attended a concert given by Tuesday Muscalle, and were in the audience for the graduation recital of several young singers at Detroit Institute of Art's auditorium this Spring.

Mrs. Carloni is learning to cook. She came prepared with her favorite cook book from home and has found a grocery store which specializes in Italian delicacies.

The long noon hour has disappeared from the Carlonis' life now that they are in America. For the most part, 5 o'clock finds them at tea in their living room looking out into the gardens. The silver service sparkles and slices of lemon are paper-thin while in a handsome heavy crystal box are their familiar amarettis

Lime Whipped Cream Pie

Contributed by Mrs. Daniel W. Hambel

Crush chocolate wafer cookies and mix with 1/4 cup of melted butter. Line bottom of buttered 9 or 10 inch pie tin. Stand whole chocolate cookies around sides of pan. Mix: 1 box lime jello 1/4 c. sugar 1/2 c. hot water 1/4 c. lemon juice grated lime of 1 lemon small amount of green coloring Let cool but not harden. Whip one can of evaporated milk until stiff (if you keep in ice making part of refrigerator a while before whipping, it works fine) and add the jello mixture. Pour into pie shell and let stand in refrigerator overnight.

(wonderful almond paste macaroons).

Dinner is a bit earlier than it was in Rome (rarely before 9 p.m., then) and the family still prefers a continental breakfast.

The Busy Life Mrs. Carlonis is kept busy with her social duties in connection with her husband's diplomatic work.

She likes to limit her dinner parties to eight guests and the 5 to 7 cocktail hour is another favorite form of entertaining. Most recently the Carlonis received guests in their gardens on June 2, Italian Republic Proclamation Day.

Another day they will observe is October 12, the discovery of America and a great glory for Italy; there are several national religious holidays. On June 29 comes the celebration of Saints Peter and Paul.

Mrs. Carloni who is of English and Italian parents was educated in Paris and Florence. Her French is truly Parisian. She was Isabella Guadagni whose family traces back beyond 1600 in Florentine history.

The Consul And now the consul.

The consul does everything with a great burst of charm. He appears on television, speaks over the radio; he attends countless luncheon meetings, he runs the consular office, working diligently for the continued friendship of Italy and America. He is here to remind us of that friendship back from the terrible war years.

Today Italy is fifth in the world's merchant shipping and sixth in the manufacture of automobiles. It has made great strides in high fashion. His dark eyes grew thoughtful and serious when he stated these figures and he added:

"We are profoundly grateful for the generous help of America which has aided us in these accomplishments."

What Marvels Then with a bustle, the Carlonis were ready to take off for Willow Run where they were greeting a fellow consul (from Seattle), their good friend Baron Ferdinando Quaranta di San Severino who stopped to pay them a week-end visit on his way to New York.

"You know," said back the Italian consul as he settled behind the wheel of his American motor car, "I've never seen the fuel man since I've come to America. We just push a little switch and the house gets warmer! And the disposal! What a marvel!"

The Carlonis called goodbye in English to the waving little Carlonis. They were answered in careful English in turn.

How nice it is to have them here with us.

VACATION TIME

At this time of the year people leave the comforts of home for the discomforts of a summer resort—and call it a vacation.

Opportunity to a great many people means a chance of getting something for nothing.

Pointe Counter Points

by Roberta Isley

Little girls are made of sugar 'n spice . . . but summer is made of long lazy days and nights. Just count them from Decoration Day week-end through Labor Day. We believe in not missing one ray of sunshine. And summer just wouldn't be summer without the proper outdoor furniture to enjoy it. We've done some comparison shopping and frankly we believe here is folding aluminum furniture worth the price. For around thirty-five dollars, for example, is a Chaise-O-Matic (Chaise Lounge). It opens and closes in one easy motion. But more important to us was the cover or pad. It can be cleaned with soapy water or cleaning fluid and dries quickly. This handsome fabric that cannot mildew, is hard to find. You see it's rainproof, light and strong . . . packs so easily. Also on display at Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop, in the village, is the clubhouse chair . . . the perfect extra chair. Good for lawn use because the legs are fashioned of one inch round aluminum tubing . . . and won't mar the grass.

Here are two ideas that will interest you this summer. For absolutely no charge you can look over all your movies or slides in the Camera Center's projection room. And here's something worth remembering . . . you can buy all the color film you want for your vacation and return what you don't use. A good service. Period.

Summer is a garden. Summer is a rose . . . a peony . . . an iris. But, alas . . . and alack . . . summer is weeds. And for those of you who have a green thumb in summer here are Betsy Boss canvas gloves. They're cut from white canvas . . . then covered with yarn designs in which five shade of one color are used . . . especially for depth and brilliance. It has been said that the flashing plumage of tropical birds inspired the colors. They wash like fine woolsens in Lux and tepid water. One Grosse Pointe keeps hers hanging near the fireplace all winter long. Y'see they're always ready. Find these at Jacobson's, in accessories, for three dollars and fifty cents.

They're sale-ing at that air-conditioned shop . . . Margaret Rice's, on the hill. It's quite an important event . . . and exciting because we can still find something wonderful to wear before the fourth. It means that everything . . . but everything . . . dresses, blouses, skirts, shorts, accessories will be marked way down. In addition . . . for one week only . . . is a special scilling of cashmere sweaters . . . by a well-known manufacturer. Because they're marked 1/2 to 1/3 off you'll surely be interested in two or three. 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

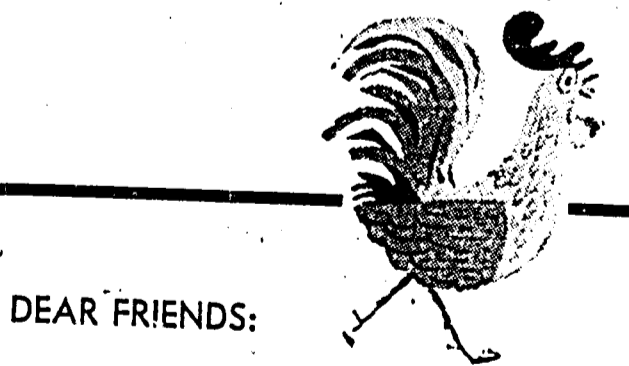

And summer wouldn't be summer without that special fan to keep you cool when the temperature soars. G E puts out a good floor circulator for around sixty-five dollars and a twin-fan ventilator with thermostat for around seventy-five. Other fans from $18.95. Fromm's, in the village.

Maybe you're new in the Pointe. Maybe you wear specs. Maybe you need a new pair. If you do we recommend that you take your prescription and yourself to Johnston's Optical Co., on the hill. For it is here they grind them in Orthogon single vision or Orthogon bifocal types. And if you agree with us that you shouldn't miss a ray of sunshine whether at the beach or right in your own backyard . . . have them grind sun glasses to your prescription. The frames can be color splashed or gem studded or flower covered. You might choose Clair McCardell's pared down ones. Well, summer just wouldn't be summer without a gay, pretty pair of glasses from Johnston's.

Oftentimes summer offers some wonderful little individual buys like handbags. They can be made of almost anything . . . but these are made of leather or plastic and you can exploit them to the hilt for the linen shirts can be taken on and off at will. They wash like a hankie. One type of envelope bag comes in white, navy and pale pastels. In a box style with a handle was a luggage brown and white or black. A really good-looking one had a removable rose red casing . . . looked wonderful. You'll find these practical bags at Jacobson's in accessories starting at around three dollars and fifty cents.

Elections Held by Exchangites

The Grosse Pointe Exchange Club has held an election of new officers. The following will take over as of July 1. Arwood S. Bedell, president; William S. Bero, vice-president; Morris R. DeFour, secretary; Robert W. Betwing, treasurer. Clemens L. Martin was elected to fill the unexpired term of six months of Arwood Bedell; on the Board of Control, Howard C. Neale, W. R. Scott Orr and Donald Miles were elected to the board for one year terms. Mr. Bedell is also editor of the Grosse Pointe Exchange, official publication of the Pointe branch of the service organization. The club will hold a party at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Friday, June 25.
