President Eisenhower went on record as defending the American pilots who shot down the two Communist planes several miles off Red-ruled Heinan Island. He denied that the Americans provoked the attack with Red Chinese craft, but stated that the United States planes had a right to be where they were because they were on a humanitarian mission seeking to rescue any more possible survivors from the downed British airliner, shot down by the Reds several days ago.

His remarks had a two-fold purpose, to warn the Peiping regime against further attacks and to ease the anxiety of the Western allies who felt the United States was too belligerent.

Friday, July 30

IN A DRAMATIC MOVE of "sympathy and compassion," which put the Reds on the spot, President Eisenhower offered to send American food behind the Iron Curtain to aid the victims of the Danube River flood. The offer was made known after a full-dress cabinet meeting at which European food relief was the main topic.

Aid would be extended to Communist-controlled East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and the Red zone of Austria, as well as the pro-West Yugoslavia and the western portions of Germany and Austria. American diplomats have been instructed to study the need for medical and other forms of aid.

REPUBLICAN LEADER KNOWLAND of California, Senator Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Oregon's Senator Morse joined forces briefly in a dramatic last-moment gesture on the floor of the Senate to oppose Senator Flanders' (R-Vt.) McCarthy censure motion. The block, a surprise to Senate strategists, was not a vote of confidence to Senator McCarthy, but a direct move against the inherent principles and content of the censure motion.

A SHOW OF STRENGTH along the border of Costa Rica by neighboring Nicaragua prompted the United States to send six Air Force planes to Costa Rica. Informed quarters said it appeared the move served two purposes—one, a measure of reassurance to the defenseless people of Costa Rica; and, two, to tell Nicaragua that no trouble is wanted in Central America. The show of strength came immediately after a plea by the United States to both Costa Rica and Nicaragua to keep peace.

ISRAEL ACCEPTED the recently proposed three-point plan of the U. S., Britain and France to help ease the tension along the Arab border. The plan calls for a demarcation of the border, an erection of suitable physical barriers at various points along the frontier, and a promised discussion of an arrangement to permit Arabs in the Egyptian-held Gaza strip to cross Israeli territory into Jordan, on condition that they go and stay for good. Along with the acceptance Israel also rejected Western proposals to invest the United Nations machinery with an independent authority.

FIGHTING BROKE OUT again in Guatemala as discontented Guatemalan army regulars rushed to the aid of the brawling military cadets engaged in an uprising against the anti-communist forces of incumbent President Castillo Armas. The revolt was successful in breaking up Armas' irregular "Liberation Army," but no word of direct overthrow of the month-old anti-communist junta was forthcoming.

A REPORT to the Belle Isle police station that a bare-foot lady was swinging from the bars of the zoo's elephant cage didn't turn up a fugitive from Edgar Rice Burroughs' comic strip, but rather a bare-foot wader bent on saving $18 from would-be purse snatchers.

Connie Earl Helps Beach Biggest Fish Ever Caught

Mrs. James Earl of 120 Meadow lane has some fish tale she's telling these days, and it's true, 20,000 pounds worth.

Mrs. Earl (Connie to her friends), was right on hand when the largest fish ever caught by a light-line fishing crew was pulled in off Bimini a few weeks ago. It was a 20,000 pound whale shark (Rhinedon hypus).

Mrs. Earl, described in a front page banner story of the Miami Herald as "An experienced light tackle angler, who has more blue marlin on a nine thread line, (five), than any other woman fisherman," was at her old haunts competing in the Bimini Marlin Tournament, when the huge fish was spotted.

At the time the fish was spotted, the marlin were running light and a number of the tournament boats went over to inspect. The "Alberta," owned by George Albert

Steel-Nerved Jewel Thief Makes Haul

Two Diamond Wrist Watches and Seven Rings Taken Under Clerks' Noses

What seemed last week like a routine case of shop-lifting this week developed into a spectacular theft.

A mumbling sneak thief took good advantage of the pre-closing rush hour to rob the Pongracz Jewelry Shop, of $1,383.45 worth of merchandise late Friday afternoon, July 23.

Seemingly untroubled when confronted twice by salesladies, the steel-nerved thief mumbled that he was waiting for his wife and continued to pocket his loot, then walked inconspicuously out a few moments later.

When the theft was first reported to the police, only one lady's diamond watch was said to be missing. It was valued at $362. Later inspection revealed that eight other items had also been stolen.

According to the report given to the police, one of the salesladies left the locked door of the store open for a few minutes and when she returned to close it, noticed a watch on the floor beneath the door. When she looked inside, she noticed that a watch was missing and reported it to Mr. Pongracz.

"I checked the case and verified

All Kids Invited To Metro Party

Again this year the Grosse Pointe Metropolitan Club is extending an invitation to all Pointe youngsters to their annual Children's Field Day to be held August 14 at the Neighborhood Club.

The affair will be free as in the past. Only a pier permit will be necessary for admittance.

Long a favorite of Pointe boys and girls, the 16th Annual Field Day will again offer rides, concessions, and prizes for all. Some of the 40 prizes to be awarded this year will be bicycles, fishing equipment, radios and wrist watches according to co-chairmen Bob VanTiem and Julius Degeradt.

Free ice cream, pop and ginger ale will be given away as an added attraction and cowboy Justice Colt will be around to give a helping hand to the pony riders.

The Metropolitan Club includes in its membership all members of the Pointe police and fire departments and federal employees. The party for the kids is its big single event of the year and always draws thousands.

Property Owners Enter Park's Fight For Parking Space

Association Asks Detroit Plan Commission for Approval To Use Lots Opposite Beach Site For Off-Street Parking

At a meeting of the Grosse Pointe Property Owners' Association's Board of Directors held on July 22, its Executive Secretary, Paul R. O. Marden, was instructed to address a letter to the Detroit Plan Commission in support of the request of Grosse Pointe Park for permission to use four lots at the corner of Windmill Pointe drive and Alter road for automobile parking.

Part of the lot at Barrington road and the drive, and all of the other three lots, lie in the City of Detroit, and are zoned "R-2" (two family residences).

Several months ago the Detroit Commission granted special approval for a zoning deviation which would have permitted the petitioner to erect two multiple dwellings to house 14 families on two of the four lots. Upon the filing of protests by Grosse Pointe Park and several residents in that vicinity, the matter was appealed to the Detroit Council.

Prior to the public hearing on this matter before that body on June 10, Mr. Marden addressed a letter to the Council urging the reversal of the Commission's approval of the multiple building project. He also appeared in the Council chambers along with a large number of Alter, Barrington and Pemberton residents and their attorneys.

The hearing was adjourned for 30 days upon the Council's request for a legal opinion from the Corporation Counsel's office in regard to the single residence subdivision deed restrictions. This also was to permit the residents' attorneys to put their arguments in written form.

During this interval, a second Association letter of protest was sent to the Council. A letter also was sent by Homer Fritsch, Mayor of Grosse Pointe Park.

The latter advised the Council that the Park desired to obtain the two lots there involved, and two adjoining lots, for use for automobile parking in connection with the Park's Waterfront Park. The Council thereupon referred the matter back to the Plan Commission for its consideration and action in respect to use of the property for parking.

The Park's position was not a newly conceived device to block

Speeders Spend Night in Jail

Vincent Mongogna of 81 Peterboro, Detroit and Walter Thorpe, Jr., of 15721 Glander, East Detroit, were ticketed for reckless driving and held in lieu of $100 bond Wednesday night, July 28, when they were picked up for racing on Mack avenue.

They were spotted at the Bournemouth light heading south at a high rate of speed and paced down to Moross. They were clocked at speeds exceeding 65 miles per hour.

They were pulled over one block south of Moross and taken into the station, where they spent the night. They were released on Thursday. Court date was set for August 21.

Material for Cancer Pads Desperately Needed by Unit

The Grosse Pointe unit of the American Cancer Society is in desperate need of old sheets, pillow cases, and men's white shirts for cancer pad work, according to Pointe Chairman Mrs. William Power.

The society, which enlists workers to sew cancer pads and coordinates the activities of private sewing groups, ran out of salvage weeks ago and has had to work under difficult conditions since.

"We ran out of the December collection supply and have had to borrow from the Detroit Cancer Pad Bank," Mrs. Power said.

The pads are given without cost to cancer patients who could not afford them.

In December the Cub Scouts carried on a door to door campaign for the collection of salvage and recently the society has had to enlist the scouts and other young boys to help them replenish their supply. "But we simply don't have the means for a large enough collection for our use," said Mrs. Power.

"Last week I had to go out personally and make a collection. There have been days when we have been without a single sheet."

The Grosse Pointe unit, which meets at the War Memorial, has been operating since last October. It was incorporated because of the increased need for cancer pads. "The million and a half pads sewn in Detroit last year were consumed as fast as they were sewn and still Detroit was behind the national quota," Mrs. Power stated.

Farms, City Councils Hold Joint Session

To Name Committee to Study Possibility of Expansion Program

The councils of the City of Grosse Pointe and Grosse Pointe Farms held a joint meeting on Wednesday night, July 28, to discuss the water shortage which has plagued the Pointe during a considerable portion of this summer. The City obtains all of its water through the Farms-owned system.

According to Farms City Clerk Harry Furton, the joint meeting was requested by the City of Grosse Pointe. All members of both councils and the mayors, William F. Connolly of the Farms and Frederick W. Parker, Jr., of the City, attended.

Outgrow System The tremendous growth which this section has experienced since the Farms water system was built nearly a quarter of a century ago, has caused the shortage. The present equipment is inadequate to supply all the residents during times of drought when lawn sprinkling reaches a peak. This has made it necessary to pass restrictive laws, curbing its use during the summer months.

The Farms is now in the process of building a new water intake from the lake and making other additions to the system designed to supply adequate water for its own city. These additions would not be sufficient to also guarantee the City of Grosse Pointe and a portion of the Shores which is also served, an ample supply at all times.

Has Petitioned Detroit The City of Detroit is also now engaged in a large expansion program for its water system. This will be completed by late 1956 or 57. The City of Grosse Pointe has applied for service from Detroit when this expansion is completed, which would relieve the Farms system.

However, the City council believes that the water shortage problem could best be solved by cooperative action between the two Pointe municipalities and is confident that its residents would be willing to make a substantial investment in an expansion of the Farms water system that would guarantee an adequate supply for both communities.

Mr. Furton reported that it was decided at last week's meeting that each council would appoint members to a joint committee for the purpose of studying the matter further. These appointments are expected to be made at the next regular meetings of each council.

Reckless Drivers Pay Up in Court

Nathaniel Robinson of 6032 Crane, Detroit, pleaded guilty before Judge C. Joseph Belanger on July 28 for reckless driving resulting in an accident and was fined $50 and placed on three month's probation.

James Prestinzi was fined $40 by Judge Belanger and placed on three months' probation for speeding in excess of 50 miles per hour on Kercheval.

Melba Matson of 6837 Archdale, Detroit, and Mathew Rubino of 1083 Bedford road, were each fined $11 for speeding. Odell Billel of 480 Belanger was fined $10, also for speeding.

William Lockey of 15870 Evanston, Detroit, was fined six dollars by Judge Belanger for running a stop light.

Court costs of five dollars were charged to Allen O'Connell of 1080 Alter road for an accident in front of 837 Whittier road.

Mary Massnick pleaded not guilty to a charge of owning a dog that had been running at large and the case was dismissed.

Judge Belanger handed out a suspended sentence to Charles David of 2126 Fairview, Detroit, for speeding on Charlevoix.

Leonard Mero of 20326 Moross road, Mary Jane Lyon of 3560 Gray, Detroit; Bertha Silman of 551 Philip, Detroit, and Robert Matheson of 5992 Hillcrest road, all forfeited their bonds for not appearing in court.

Parking Space Struggle

 the multiple building project. The parking lot idea has been under consideration by the Park Plan Commission since 1951. It has a number of drawings and sketches of the manner in which the lots might be developed for such use.

The Park Council approved and ratified Mayor Fritsch's letter and has appointed a committee to negotiate for the purchase of the lots involved.

In an effort to aid the Park in securing the necessary special approval by the Detroit Plan Commission, the Association addressed the following letter to that body.

August 2, 1954
 Mr. Clarence Blessing,
 City Planner
 Detroit City Planning Commission
 1214 Griswold Street,
 Detroit 26, Michigan

Dear Sir:

In support of numerous requests from our members and supplemental to our letters of June 9th and July 6th to the Detroit Common Council, we would urge the Detroit Planning Commission to grant special approval permitting the City of Grosse Pointe Park to use part of Lot 75 and all of Lots 76, 77 and 79, Windmill Pointe subdivision, for Automobile Parking in connection with its waterfront park.

Although the lots in question lie just within the Detroit City boundary, they are immediately adjacent to the Grosse Pointe Park properties, also directly opposite a portion of the waterfront park and therefore can be readily used for the purpose proposed. A large number of nearby home owners have signed petitions requesting the Park Council to acquire and use these lots for parking.

Aside from any legal aspects which may be involved, this Association feels that with the serious lack of parking facilities which exist at the present time, it is only reasonable for the City of Detroit to concede to the urgent wishes of their neighboring community.

Yours very truly,
 Paul R. O. Marden

Jewel Thief

 that the watch was missing and must have been stolen," Pongraz said. "It was late and we all wanted to get home. I called the police and reported that the watch was gone and left it at that."

SEVEN RINGS MISSING
 It was not until Saturday when Mrs. Pongraz noticed another watch missing, that a close check was made. Seven diamond rings were then discovered missing from a tray that was also on display in the case.

"From the looks of things, the thief must have spied the open case, reached in and scooped out everything he could get his hands on," Mr. Pongraz said.

Both Mrs. A. Meyer and Joan Friedli, salesladies, noticed and spoke to the thief. Miss Friedli described him as a "stocky man about the size of Mr. Pongraz (5'11") with a dark complexion and black hair, wearing a dark blue suit with a blue tie and white shirt.

BOTH NOTE MUMBLING
 Both salesladies took particular notice of the thief's speech habits in their report to the police. "He mumbled so, I had to ask him twice if I could help him," Miss Friedli said.

Stolen were: Two lady's diamond wrist watches, five identical lady's diamond rings, one platinum diamond engagement ring, and one seven-diamond wedding band.

The police are running down every available clue and have checks out on all pawn shops and second hand jewelry stores.

Park to Buy New Safety Vehicles

The Park will open bids for several new police and fire vehicles at its next council meeting which will be held on Monday, August 9, according to Park City Manager Everitt B. Lane.

The community is asking for bids for two police ambulances, four scout cars, and a car for the use of the fire chief.

Mr. Lane also disclosed that he is attempting to arrange with the Wayne County Road Commission and the DSR, to see if arrangements can be made to divide financial expense in the paving of East Jefferson from Wayburn to Pemberton.

He said this was in line with the paving of Jefferson by Detroit, when that city did away with street cars, and paved Jefferson from its city limit at Wayburn to Woodward avenue.

He said that he is interested in having the stretch of Jefferson located in the Park paved, because that area is rough, due to bad pavement and street car tracks.

Pointe Bar Paid Visit by Thieves

The Pointe Bar was broken into and looted of $769.40 early Sunday morning, August 1, according to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Entry was gained by jimmying the front door lock. The cash register was rifled of the money and the thieves also took three bottles of brandy. Other than the damage done to the door, the building and contents were unharmed.

Chief Louwers said that the police had stop orders out on two good suspects and believed that it would only be a matter of time before the theft was cleared up. He said that the suspects had previous police records.

16-Year-Old Girl Possesses Many Talents... All Bad Ones

A sixteen-year-old Van Dyke girl proved herself a reckless driver, a hit-runner, a thief and a liar to both the Park police and the Farms police Sunday night, August 1.

While driving on Lake Shore, the young girl swerved into the side of a cab as she passed and then sped on. Alfred Mitz of 7745 Spranger, Detroit, driver of the cab, took off after her but was unable to apprehend the fleeing girl. He did get a description of the car and its license number, which he turned over to the police immediately.

The Farms put out an all-Points bulletin on the car and the girl was picked up by the Park police at Kercheval and Three Mile drive.

She was taken to the Park station where she was questioned concerning the Lake Shore accident. Although the right front fender of the car was caved in, she said she knew nothing of the incident. Her missing front bumper guard was found later at the scene of the collision.

The Park police ticketed her for not having a driver's license and then turned her over to the Farms for further questioning.

When questioned by the Park police the young girl had said she was 23 years old and that the car she was driving had been lent to her by friends. When the Farms police it was learned that she was only 16 and had taken the car without their permission.

After the cab driver had identified the car as the one that side-swiped him and the bumper guard found at the scene of the accident was matched up, the girl admitted to the accident and revealed to the police that she had been drinking earlier.

The car was held and returned to its rightful owners and the girl was turned over to her parents for later disposition by the juvenile authorities.

Simians' Play Opens at Center Tonight

Hits Car Parked For Tire Change

A sixteen-year-old Pointe driver, Thomas Jeffs, of 344 McKinley, who had his license only three days, plowed into the rear of a car owned by Henry Bell of 2278 Scott, Detroit, as Bell was changing his flat tire on Lake Shore drive Sunday night, August 1.

The rear-end collision sent Bell's car, parked next to the center island heading west, across the road and over the curb. It came to rest at the breakwater just as it was about to plunge over into the lake.

Bell, who was slightly injured, barely missed being hit by the youth's car.

The passengers of Bell's car were standing on the center island and told the police that Bell's car was well lighted at the time of the accident. They set the youth's speed at somewhere around 35 miles-per-hour.

Dance to Follow Play on Friday

By MARY SUE MORGAN

A piece of rope... silent, fast working weapon... the tool of death. Grosse Pointe Simians will use such a weapon in their dramatization of the play "Rope," by Patrick Hamilton tonight, tomorrow, and Saturday night, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial lawn.

The attempt by two Oxford students to perform the perfect crime will engross the audience seated in "Theatre in the Round" not 12 feet from the acting area.

Winnie Likert and Don Howdeshell, the two murderers, do not stop with their crime, but have the stupid audacity to invite the victim's father and aunt, as well as three friends, to unknowingly celebrate the deed. Planning to leave for Oxford late in the evening following the wined dinner party, their plans are completely fouled and the slow disintegration of nerves finally brings discovery.

The cast, including Dick Tobin, Anne Rice, George deClaire, Jan Gelhaar, Bill Haring, and Vic Seegar, have, under the direction of Don Kuhn, produced a superior play which, with its startling reality, bring time to a standstill for all who watch. Still, a crew has been greatly needed to bring about special effects.

Under Bob Harbison, technical director, many eerie effects will be produced with the combined efforts of Bob Richardson, lighting chairman; Don Striker, in charge of sound effects; and Tom Donahue, as stage crew head.

Other back-stage work includes make-up under Joyce Weik; Mary Frizzel, in charge of costumes; Time Rocha and Dan Webb, who built the chest to resemble a cassone, and Judy Huntington who is responsible for all properties.

Don Freeman as business manager is executive in charge of five committees; programs under Lorry Goncz; posters, Joan Wozniak; tickets, Tish Hosmer; house, Karen Putman, and promotion; Mary Sue Morgan. Jo Garber as stage manager will have extensive direction of all back-stage personnel while the play is in production.

Friday night a special feature will be added. A college-age dance will be held following the play. Tickets for both play and dance may be purchased for $1.50. Regular play tickets may be bought at the door for $1.00.

Earl Featured In Post Article

Harley J. Earl of Touraine road, wizard of design and the boss of General Motors styling division, is the subject of the leading feature article in this week's Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. Earl, who came to Detroit from California in 1926 to take on the GM assignment, has been responsible for designing more than 31,000,000 of that company's cars.

Probably his most famous creation of mechanical art is Le Sabre, which is a familiar sight in the Pointe.

Police Field Day Opens Saturday

The biggest outdoor show of the year was assured again for the Detroit Police Field Day with 20 top attractions scheduled for the 28th annual program.

The Field Day Committee, headed by Superintendent Edwin Morgan, has put together a 20-act program for the Field Day on August 7 and August 8 at the University of Detroit Stadium, which combines the best Police attractions available with the best in the circus world. There will be two performances on each of the days at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m.

The Department will contribute to the show its top athletes who will compete in track and field events against the Toronto Police team. The tug-of-war pull between the two teams will be their chief attraction.

The Department also will present a drill by its Mounted Police and the Cadet Drill Team and marksmanship exhibition by the world's champion pistol team, captained by Lieutenant Harry Reeves, seven times national champion.

The five police officers chosen as the Department's top heroes of the year will receive their medals for valor in impressive opening ceremonies.

From the circus world will come many famous names, who will present death-defying aerial acts, cycle artistry, trained dog and chimpanzee acts, slack wire and high wire exhibitions and thrilling rocket car racing, to mention just a few. The famous Detroit Police clowns will add to the circus atmosphere.

Wayne University will contribute a musical pageant to the show. Gigantic and spectacular display of fireworks will round out each evening performance.

Each afternoon show will have as its finale a cowboy-cowgirl act, featuring Lee Clutter and his Rambling Ranchers.

As in the past, the entire proceeds for the Field Day are for the Detroit Police Benefit Association, created to provide protection for the widows and orphans of Police Officers.

Loses Car Twice Within Month

James Farrell of 1151 Paget court reported to the Woods police last week that his son's car had been stolen twice since last June 26.

According to Farrell the car is taken from its parking place in front of the house late at night and returned early in the morning. The second incident occurred Tuesday evening, July 27. Farrell did not report the first theft, that he surmised happened on or around the night of June 26.

Nothing was done, to the car either time except for marks about the door lock indicating that entry had been attempted by trying to force it.

After the second theft, jumper wires were found on the ignition. Farrell said that he had no idea who the thief could be.

Payroll Checks Taken from Car

Three payroll checks, were stolen from an auto parked in front of a new house under construction on Stephens near Ridge road, on Friday, July 23.

The checks, belonging to contractor John Nigro, were taken from Louis Gurjack's car. Gurjack is foreman of the construction crew working on the house.

The theft was not discovered until Saturday when a Woodward avenue grocer phoned Nigro to clear a check for $94 being cashed by a customer. The grocer said the check was made out to and endorsed to a John Bank. Nigro said that he had no one in his employ by that name.

The unidentified man cashing the check left before the grocer could contact the police. The grocer was able to give the Detroit police a complete description of the man.

Later Saturday the second of the three checks was traced to a downtown store. It had been cashed and no description of the man who cashed it was available. The police are trying to locate the remaining uncashed check.

It is the nature of the things involved that causes marriages to go on the rocks. The important thing in life is not how long we live but how we live.

Much of the local entertaining is occasioned by out-of-town visitors in the Pointe. The Robert F. Taylors of Colonial road gave a family dinner party last Thursday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Bolding Jr., here from Portsmouth, Va., with their four children, James, Jr., Ezie, Martha and Patrick.

The group also attended the Friday evening cocktail party for 125, given by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Danaher in their home on Colonial road. Mr. Bolding, who returned home last weekend, will return in three weeks to pick up his family. Mrs. Bolding and the children are staying with her mother, Mrs. Raphael E. Danaher, of Shadowlawn, Lake Shore road.

The Thornton E. Waterfalls of Lincoln road were hosts at a party at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club in honor of their recent guests, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Reginald R. Quarton, who stopped off en route to Washington, D.C., with young Kathy and Bruce. Lt. Col. Quarton is Mrs. Waterfall's brother.

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerborn

Paris.—At night, in the Bois de Boulogne, Paris dances at outdoor restaurants where the delighted visitor can see, twinkling through the trees, modern lanterns, the 1954 and French version of the Japanese lantern . . . Soft blues, reds and yellows. We lunched at La Grande Cascade (a rushing falls gives it the name) in this beautiful area . . . and, stooping to the vulgar, might mention that fresh raspberries were two dollars. Such outdoor restaurants have been greatly hurt by the long siege of cold, rainy weather . . . and proud courtiers as Desses, Balmain, Dior and Fath have announced "Soldes" . . . hoping to woo Madame and her umbrella into their salons.

Rating Paris Hotels

Frequent Pointe visitor John Ringling North has arrived at the Ritz, where George in the American Bar, personally supervises the mixing of M. North's favorite aperitif, Vermouth Cassis (his enthusiasm is shared by many Pointers, including Mrs. Robert McKean, son-in-law and daughter, the Phil Van Dusens) . . . We were diverted by a French newspaper's evaluation of various Paris Hotels . . . The George V attracts Broadway and Hollywood as well as U. S. Ambassador to Belgium Frederick M. Alger and his family, the Henry Fords II . . . Plaza Athenee, choice of Horace E. Dodge, Jr., was described as the place where Maharajahs and oil millionaires entertain each other . . . the Lotti, meeting place of embassy big wigs . . . and the Meurice (paging Jack Navin and Bob Burckhalter) invariably presents a soignee list of patrons . . .

International Game

Other evening at the American Officers Club at Orly, we played the popular game of "Do You Know?" . . . A handsome young air force officer (Burr Burgess) asked if we knew Capt. Tom Tyree . . . Burr passed through Michigan a few years back and was guest of Tom's parents, the Harold B. Tyrees of Provencal road. If and when Capt. Tyree should decide to retire from the regular army, we're convinced he should enter diplomatic service—he's such a popular young man with all age groups . . . For that matter, if we were Ike, Mrs. Tyree would be ambassador to France . . . Last year she kindly jotted down several note pages of "Musts in" (Continued on Page 13)

Commodore's Ball to Climax Fleet Review and Annual Show Boat Party on Saturday, August 14

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's colossal festivity slated for Saturday evening, August 14, will have all the ingredients for a colorful, glamorous party. It will combine the Commodore's Ball, to honor GPYC's Commodore Warren H. Farr, with the Commodore's Fleet Review and the annual Show Boat Party.

In planning the big fête the entertainment committee, headed by William A. Ternes, chairman, also kept in mind that this party will be another in the series of 1954 celebrations marking the club's 25th anniversary year.

The committee also evening glorious moonlight that evening, providing the weather is fair and clear. In addition, the August Show Boat Party is held on the Saturday nearest the full of the moon. This August, the full moon rises on Saturday, the 14th.

The combination fête will be almost entirely out-of-doors—again, providing the weather is clear. Setting the scene will be myriad colored electric lights strung over the lawn and the two dance-floors. Spotlights will throw a soft glow over the clubhouse and swimming pool. Silver-plated plaques centered with a large "25" will convey the anniversary theme. Yachts will be in full dress with all flags flying.

The program will start at 8 p.m. when Commodore Farr will review the fleet of members' yachts and power boats from a flagship anchored in Lake St. Clair a short distance from the club harbor. The 125 boats will come up the lake from a starting point in the vicinity of the Little Club.

Supervising the review will be Fleet Captain Bryan A. Chaplow, members of the yachting committee, chaired by George C. Cossaboom, and of the power boat committee headed by Joel Bremer.

At the same time, a simulated show boat in the mood of the glamorous old-time river boats will be moored at the club's seawall. Achieved by a barge transformed with a painted backdrop, the "show boat" will be the locale of two orchestras which will take turns playing for later dancing.

Cocktail parties with music by trios will take place from 7 to 8:30 o'clock in the main lounge and on the putting lawn. The grand march headed by Commodore Farr will form at 8:30 at the foot of the broad staircase within the clubhouse, then proceed to the lawn for a special ceremony.

At this, Commodore Farr will be presented with his official flag and pin by the immediate past commodore, Anthony R. Mottschall. In turn, Commodore Mottschall will receive an engraved, leather-bound volume from Commodore Farr who then will present flags to the club and fleet officers.

Dinner, dancing, entertainment and a surprise finale are on the agenda. Dinner will be served on the lawn, in the main dining room and on the big screened porch. At special charcoal grills on the grounds, chefs in their huge white hats will supervise the broiling of steaks.

Warn Hoodlums To Shun Pointe

The heads of the various Pointe police departments and the municipal judges are grimly determined to "throw the book" at any local or out-city gangs who violate the law or otherwise terrorize any citizen here.

The warnings by these officials followed in the wake of the out-cropping of gang fights, terrorizing, hoodlumism and so on, which have been plaguing Detroit and its surrounding communities.

Each Pointe police chief hastened to state that, to date, no "shenanigans" such as are going on within the Detroit metropolitan area, are being carried on in the Pointes. At least not to the extent that is being recorded in the big daily papers.

They expressed pride that the great majority of Pointe youths are honest and law-abiding youngsters. Of course, they add, there are some rotten apples in the barrel, but this is almost nil.

It was disclosed by one police chief that there are isolated cases wherein a group of youths are picked up, but this is mostly for having alcoholic beverages in their possession.

On the whole, the youths behave extremely well, and their parents are to be complimented, inasmuch as their behavior reflects the kind of parents they have.

There are no "hot spots" where juveniles can gather, in the Pointes that is, and make plans to carry out mischief or any form of gangsterism. There are none now, and there will be none in the future, the authorities stressed.

The local municipal courts are behind the law enforcement agencies all the way, and any gangs caught in the Pointe, bent on causing any harm to persons or property, will be given the maximum the law allows, according to the local judges.

Babe Ruth League of Pointe Holds Awards Banquet

The Babe Ruth Baseball League for 13-15 year old Pointe youths closed a very successful first season with an awards banquet in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Wednesday night, July 28. More than 250 attended, including a number of members of the Detroit Tigers. C. M. Boutell of Ridge road was host for the affair, which was presided over by H. Gordon Wood, league president.

Two Cars Tangle On Chalfonte Rd.

A two car collision at Chalfonte and Moross resulted in $225 of damage last Tuesday, July 27.

James Connolly of 7053 Elmhurst, Detroit, and Edna Mae Feuchter of Los Angeles, California collided as Mrs. Feuchter attempted to cross Moross.

Connolly was traveling south on Moross at the time of the accident. He was struck on the left side panel by the front of Mrs. Feuchter's car. Both were issued violation tickets.

The estimated damage to Connolly's car was $150. There was $75 damage done to Feuchter's car.

Family Boasts Flying Quintet

As of this summer, five of the six members of the Clark L. Bassett family in Lochmoor boulevard are fliers. Sixteen-year-old Richard soloed last week before leaving for summer camp, and Mrs. Bassett, who became interested through the flight work of her four sons, is taking her solo flight this week at Ann Arbor airport.

The three older Bassett sons have pilots' licenses. Tom came in from his Texas home last weekend for a visit and flies with the CAP in the Lone Star state.

Bob served in the Army Air Corps, and Clark Jr. was named top air cadet at the University of Michigan just a few weeks ago.

To date, Mr. Bassett remains unmoved by his family's enthusiasm for aircraft, possibly feeling that one member of the household should keep his feet on the ground.

5 Hospitalized As Cars Crash

Failure to see an on-coming car resulted in an accident that sent five people to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of minor bruises and abrasions last Sunday, August 1.

Christine Covey of 69 Handy road was ticketed for reckless driving when she pulled into the intersection at Waterloo and Washington road and struck a car driven by Robert DuPuis, of 1521 22nd street, Detroit. DuPuis was traveling west on Waterloo at the time of the collision. Both cars had to be towed to the Grosse Pointe Garage. The damage was not estimated.

Taken to the hospital were passengers Sue Ann DuPuis, 3; Mary Martin of 16509 Roberts, Roseville; Barbara Bishop, of 71 Moross road; and Sally McHenry of 1142 Bishop road.

Lochmoor Club Honors Caddies

The Lochmoor Club sponsored a Splash Party in honor of the caddies' good work on Monday, August 2.

On Sunday, August 8, the first home dual swimming meet will be held with the Detroit Golf Club from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Pointes to Receive $44,581 From Motor Vehicle Fund

Net receipts of the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for the second quarter of the calendar year 1954 amounted to $28,720,727.28 and this money is now being distributed to the State Highway Department, the Counties and the Cities and Incorporated Villages of the state as provided for in Act 51, Section 12, of the Public Acts of 1951, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

Net receipts of the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for the Second Quarter of 1953 were $26,682,633.22, representing an increase of $2,038,094.06 for the Second Quarter this year compared to the same period a year ago.

This makes a total of $86,332,639.53 in Motor Vehicle Highway Fund receipts for the first half of 1954, compared to $84,518,901.84 collected in the first two periods of 1953, an increase of $1,813,737.69.

Under the 1951 act, all of the State Gasoline and Weight taxes, the Diesel fuel tax and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, which was created by the Act.

After deductions for non-highway uses and collections costs, the rest of the money is divided as follows: 44 percent to the State Highway Department for expenditure on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37 percent to the counties for expenditure on county roads; and 19 percent to the cities and incorporated villages for expenditure on their roads and streets.

Under the above distribution formula, the State Highway Department will receive $12,637,120.00 as its share of the Second Quarter of 1954 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections; the counties will receive $10,826,669.09 and the cities and incorporated villages will receive $5,456,938.19.

The Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections during the Second Quarter came from the following sources:

State Gasoline Tax,	$22,524,584.73;
Diesel Fuel Tax,	$246,482.59;
Liquidated Petroleum Gas Tax,	$13,893.82;
Weight Tax (resident),	$5,847,028.08;
Weight Tax (non-resident),	$45,336.22;
Miscellaneous Fees,	$695,847.11.
Total Collections,	$29,363,173.15;
less Collections Cost,	642,445.87;
Net Total Collections,	$28,720,727.28.

The sum of $250,000 is being deducted from the counties' share of the Second Quarter Motor Vehicle Fund collections as a part payment of the $5,000,000 advanced from the State's General Fund under Act 50 of the 1948 legislature, which was a measure to help the counties during the serious financial situation they

"Borrowed" Ride Leads to Trouble

A stock boy took advantage of a fellow employee's kindness by stealing her car for a two hour ride on July 27.

Dolores Verhegge, Food Fair Market cashier, reported to the Woods police that she had allowed a fellow employe to sit in her car and eat his lunch and that he'd borrowed it against her wishes.

When the stock boy asked for the privilege, Miss Verhegge gave him the keys and told him implicitly not to go for a ride. He returned two hours later. She reported the incident to the police and when they picked the boy up it was found that he was on probation for car theft.

The boy was released to his probation officer.

Decrease Shown In Road Deaths

Unusual as it may seem, a reduction in both traffic deaths and injuries was recorded in Michigan in the first six months of 1954. A slight increase in accidents was accounted for at least in part by improved reporting.

This encouraging information was disclosed in the State Police monthly statistical report, which showed that in June there was a decrease of 46 deaths, or 27 per cent, under the same month last year.

There were 127 persons killed and 4,743 injured in 14,408 accidents as compared to 173 killed and 4,932 injured in 14,515 accidents in June of 1953.

Most of the June fatality reduction was in the rural areas and was attributed to a decrease in collisions between vehicles and ran-off-roadway accidents.

May was the only month during the first half of the year that showed an increase in deaths, 152 being killed or 25 more than in June.

The totals for the first six months reveal a reduction of 82, or 19 per cent, in deaths and 923, or four per cent, in injuries. Reported accidents increased 1,791, or two per cent.

Estimated mileage traveled during the first five months, the latest figures available, was 10.5 billion, an increase of four per cent over 10.1 billion in the same period last year. The death rate of 5.8 per 100 million miles was down 11 per cent.

Center Drive Short Just $466

The War Memorial Center drive for funds ended officially two months ago, far short of its goal of $30,000. But it has never come completely to a stop, as a thin trickle of donations has continued to come through the ensuing weeks.

Three more donors contributed a total of $85 during the past week, which brings the grand total just $466 short of the $30,000 goal.

Out of the Pointe's population of more than 50,000, only 2,141 subscribed to the campaign. Total raised to date is $29,533.50.

It is still hoped that enough late gifts will be received to put the drive over the top and enable the Center to balance its budget during the current year.

Among the more recent donations were a $100 check from the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club and one for $50 from the Grosse Pointe Lions.

Please Pass the Water

Water has been much with us through these long, hot days and nights of the first half of the summer season. It is unfortunate that it has been more on our minds than on our hands and faces, or having our whole bodies in a cooling shower or tub . . . or drenching our lawns and gardens.

The fact that we have such a beautiful, gigantic, perpetual puddle in the form of Lake St. Clair in our front yard, makes the mental problem the harder to solve. All that wonderful water which we can see and feel and swim in, and yet we struggle with restrictions and are subjected to periods when we can't get even a drop out of a faucet on the second floor of our homes. It doesn't make much sense.

Water has been the subject of thousands of words which have filled news and editorial columns of this and scores of other papers in the Metropolitan area during recent years. It has been the subject of myriad discussions in the council chambers, and of some action, aimed at regulating its use. Yet, its frighteningly thin film grows ever thinner and every amendment to every ordinance becomes a little more frantic in commanding ever-decreasing allotments for each resident.

We submit that the time for action arrived some time ago, and that the longer we snooze, or indulge in feeble delaying tactics, the more acute will the problem become. The water is right here, under our noses. We want an infinitesimal portion of it at our command, to run through our pipes and serve us at the turn of a spigot. Let's get it there, and stop wasting our time and energy and frazzling our nerves trying to figure out how little water we can get along with.

We understand that the Farms and City councils have held a joint meeting to discuss this problem, and that it has been agreed that each shall appoint members to a committee to continue the study. We proffer our blessings and fervently hope that this is the start of a concerted effort that will not end until a satisfactory solution has been produced.

The Farms and City have been partners in this water business for nearly a quarter of a century. When the Farms system was first created, it was intended that it should be made adequate to handle all demands for the foreseeable future. Development of the system called for a capital expenditure that made it impossible for the Farms to handle the project alone. The City was a most welcome partner as a customer, to help pay the freight.

The intervening years have witnessed an undreamed-of growth in population that has created more customers than the system could take care of during prolonged dry periods. The Farms, which owns the system, could not with any conscience toss off the city as a customer, so the residents of both municipalities have suffered during these periods.

Detroit is now in the process of greatly expanding its system, and hopes, by 1956 or 57, to be able to take on additional customers. There has been talk about the City of Grosse Pointe buying from Detroit when that time comes, and the Farms has been setting its sights on solving its own problem and kissing goodbye to the City as a customer.

It seems to us this is not the answer. The two Points have many mutual problems which have been handled satisfactorily by joint, cooperative action. This would appear to be another that could best be worked out between themselves.

Any permanent solution of this water supply is not going to be cheap, but we feel the residents are going to be most sympathetic towards this necessary expenditure. We have here two cities which within the last year have approved bond issues for nearly three-quarters of a million dollars to enlarge and improve their lakefront recreation areas. The residents endorsed these projects with no appreciable opposition.

Adequate recreational facilities are to be greatly valued, but they can hardly be compared to the inestimable worth of having an ample supply of water when and where we want it.

We trust the joint committee will be established promptly, and, with the cooperation of both councils, devote its every effort towards the goal of banishing the spasmodic droughts to which these two cities have had to become accustomed.

Art Institute Shows Oddities

A portrait drawn in chalk on old newspapers, with the print showing through, and elaborate designs made of humming bird feathers are among the oddities in the Detroit Institute of Arts collection.

The head of a charging Mexican revolutionary is the subject of a portrait titled "The Attacker," which the noted Mexican artist, Alfredo Ramos Martinez drew on a classified ad page of "El Universal," Spanish language newspaper, dated November 4, 1942, and another Martinez drawing is "Flower Girls," also on newspaper.

While this gives rise to thoughts of an artist starving in a garret, with no money for canvas or even white paper, actually the artist's purpose was to achieve an unusual texture with the newspaper background.

These pictures are on view in the ground floor galleries in the special summer exhibition of drawings from the museum's permanent collection.

The bird-feather designs were made by the natives of Peru about 1400 years ago for ceremonial robes. They are displayed in the Pre-Columbian gallery on the main floor.

Fine miniature paintings on palm leaves and smooth bark are exhibited in the gallery of objects from India.

(Emily Bronte)

Ladies: If you wish to exercise your muscles and strip a little off the upper and lower decks, it isn't fair to make your husband bear the burden of criticism. We have a specific case in mind. A rather portly gent whose wife is a wee bit younger in age but a good deal younger in looks, was grossly insulted last week by a stranger in our midst . . . due to the "fat man's" wife bent on keeping her waistline down.

Our heroine, the wife, insists upon doing her marketing far away from her house . . . so she can WALK home carting the heavy bags of supplies and thereby whittle down her waist. During one of these twice-weekly treks, her husband happened to be driving home in his Cadillac when he spied his comely wife plowing up the street weighted down with two large and obviously heavy paper sacks. He stopped the car and called to her to "hop in" and ride home. She merely shook her head "no" fashion and continued on her way. So did her husband, in his car.

However, after driving a few blocks, he decided she was being plain ridiculous, so he stopped the car and waited for her to pass again . . . at which time he again called out to her to at least let him take the heavy packages. Madame would have no part of it . . . and continued her trek after violently shaking her head at him not to bother her. The poor guy went on once more but repeated his performance after five or six blocks. STILL his wife refused to get in the car OR relinquish her bundles.

He finally gave up and drove on home. When he alighted from his auto in front of the house, a car pulled up behind him and a well dressed gent tooted the horn to get our hero's attention. When he walked over to the car, the man said: "I am a newcomer to the Pointe and I don't know who you are . . . but I think it was disgraceful the way you tried to pick up that lady who was young enough to be your daughter. I was driving behind you all the time and saw the whole thing . . . and if I ever see you do that again, I shall report you to the police."

And speaking of weight girls, someone told us a sure way to take off EIGHT pounds in three days. Each of the three days you have two hard boiled eggs and a glass of sherry for breakfast . . . as much lean meat as you can hold for noon dinner . . . and two hard boiled eggs and another glass of sherry for supper. That's it, folks. We didn't Guinea pig it personally, we're only repeating what we heard.

We seem to be concentrating on sizes and weight this week but next week we will go fat on everything. Received a postcard from our own Jane Schermerhorn from Paris. She tells us she ran into a woman from England who is in the process of breeding cats that will stay the size of five months old kittens. So far she has had great success and as soon as she perfects the deal, she will submit her findings to the Cat Fanciers Society. We can hardly wait!

For some reason or other, we think this is very funny. A local woman telephoned a neighbor last week to invite her and her husband for dinner. The guest-to-be allowed as how she was very sorry but they had already accepted another invitation for the night in question. The caller then asked where they were going and the woman said: "To Alice's house." Whereupon the first woman replied: "Oh, I might have known you were going there." Then she added: "Alice who?"

Speaking of garbled telephone calls . . . we phoned a homestead the other evening and asked the maid who answered if Mr. or Mrs. Thingamebob were at home. She said: "No." There was a small silence as we were trying to decide what message to leave . . . when the maid suddenly busted in with: "Do you want to speak to THEM?" We answered that indeed we did . . . so she left the phone and within a split second we got not ONE Thingamebob but both . . . one on the downstairs phone and one on the upstairs!

In fact no one seems to have the fun we do with telephoning and messages. Last week we were trying to track down a local gent on some story . . . so at long last pointed to the County Club, where we found he had been swimming in the late afternoon. When we finally got a little man on the phone who seems to be in charge of swimming pool activities, we said: "Can you find out if Mr. John Doe has left the pool yet?" His answer was: "I don't know, but I'll ask her."

To the Editor:
As you know, last Wednesday night, we held the annual banquet at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club for the Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe. Including the players in the league, their fathers, and players from the Detroit Tigers, Ty Tyson, Diz Trout, and others, we had in attendance in excess of 260.

It was a very stimulating affair. I think Grosse Pointe can be proud of the fact that such activities as this are encouraged and that the fathers devoted the time which they did during the summer months to supervise organized athletics. I am sure it will pay dividends in the future towards minimizing the teen age problem which at the moment is so prevalent in sections of Detroit.

All of us connected with the Babe Ruth League are going to work towards a bigger and better program for next season, not

Heart Murmurs

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Doctors tell us that heart murmurs maybe detected now and then in the normal sized heart and be of no consequence. Neither does a rapid pulse, shortness of breath, or dizziness always mean heart trouble.

But until these symptoms are diagnosed there is no way of knowing if the heart is functioning improperly. To ignore such symptoms means serious trouble later.

Doctors have ways and means of tracing heart irregularities, and the knowledge to correct or treat them.

When medicine is prescribed choose a pharmacist renowned for expert compounding of pure drugs.

D-Bar-A Scouts surprised Mr. Roy as he visited their Ranch near Metamora on Public Relations Committee Day recently. Mr. Roy, of 166 Cloverly road, is serving his seventh year as Public Relations Chairman for the Detroit Area Council's Boy Scouts of America. Excessive Horn Blowing Rapped Discouraging excessive horn blowing this week became the fourth phase of a program to promote more courteous driving in Detroit.

The Detroit Police Department and the Traffic Safety Association turned their attention to this driving irritation, which in many cases is the indirect cause of accidents. It follows the previous programs on "Let Your Courtesy Show" and keeping in lane and signaling for turns.

James A. Hoyer, director of traffic, urged drivers not to blow their horns unnecessarily. There are times when a driver, for safety's sake, must blow his horn, but there are many more times when a driver does it to express his annoyance at the driver in front of him, he said.

"There is the kind of horn-blowing we want to discourage," Director Hoyer said. "There is altogether too much of it and it makes driving an unpleasant experience."

the type of driver who at a red light starts to honk his horn either before the light even changes or with the first glimmer of the green. Stationary Traffic Bureau officers many times reprimand these drivers and in flagrant cases have issued tickets, he added.

Last year Detroit police issued 7,020 tickets for excessive noise, including unnecessary horn blowing, Hoyer pointed out. In the first five months this year 3,862 tickets were issued for the same general offense.

Hoyer singled out particularly

No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks, and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof, approving the legality of the bonds. The purchaser shall furnish bonds ready for execution at his expense. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan, or such other place as may be agreed upon between the purchaser and the School District.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Squally Regatta Takes Big Toll Among Lake Skippers

For weeks local tars had been screaming for wind. They had become tired of drifting around the Detroit River Yachting Association's regular courses in Lake St. Clair. Not since the Bayview Yacht Club annual regatta had their ships rolled their lee rails awash.

Well, today the local lads are a little bit sheepish and have had their fill of high winds and rough seas for at least another couple of weeks. Commodore Frank Krembel's St. Clair Yachtsmen's Club ordered a handful of wind for its regatta last Saturday, July 31, and 93 skippers and crews ventured forth under threatening skies.

swamped boat the cruiser skipper began to tow it too fast. The boat righted, surfaced and then plunged, knocking Ken Kessel off the bow and under the catboat.

"About this time the Coast Guard boat arrived and took the battered, bruised and water-logged Kessel aboard, administered respiration and rushed him to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment. He was released later Saturday afternoon none the worse for wear and like all good sailors vowed he will be ready to help his skipper Layton take first place in the catboat team event in the next regatta, which will be the Windsor Yacht Club's Centennial Regatta, August 14.

ONLY 64 FINISH

Sixty-four intrepid skippers brought their yachts back to the finish line in front of the host club down river. The rest either quit or suffered damaged gear.

It was quite a sight to see commodores Ken Leipprandt, Hal Smith, Robbie Robertson, Frank Martin, Bill Phillips and Bayview Race chairman Lynn Stedman Jr., working like bees in a hive, sailing in the pouring rain that prevailed throughout a good share of the race.

Fleet Captain Jim Markie was drenched as he bravely withstood the downpour to fire the cannon for the winning yacht. Lynn Stedman said, "You have often heard about these pens that write under water? Well, we found a use for them last Saturday."

ST. CLAIR TEAM WINS

As long as we are on the club catboat event we might as well tell you. St. Clair, led by Maurice DeClercq, Loren Sherry and Rear Commodore George Brewer took second, fourth and tenth to annex 25 points and win the team title. Detroit Boat Club was second with 21 points and was followed by DYC with 19 and Edison with 14.

The Cruising A boats were conspicuous by their absence, mainly because many of them are still cruising in Georgian Bay or other northern ports following the Mackinac race. However, it didn't much matter whether they raced or not, because the regatta didn't count in the season standings for the Cruising boats.

Cruising C class presented six yachts at the starting line and Jimmy Carlin kept in practice by winning easily over the syndicate-owned (Nicol, Nagel, Desmond) "Balquhiddier" who finished second, and Karl Ness' "Happiness".

ALSO-RAN BATTLE

Five of the usual also-rans in Cruising B were out doing battle for a first place prize. John Baidt's "Voyager," which didn't go to Mackinac, won with "Valiant" and "Sparkle Plenty" finishing second and third.

Allie Chapman, past commodore of North Star Saur Club, paced the big L boat fleet around the six-mile triangle to get his first winning gun of the season. Frank Hill and Freddie Jensen followed in that order.

"Port Tack" Cavthra had easy pickings in the seven-boat Lightning fleet, beating Don Fairchild and Jim Northmore in that order. Most of the regular hotshots preferred to save their boats for a more important series.

OTHER WINNERS

Other winners were: Riney Zeidler, Fred Meno III and Alberta Platte in the K class; John Hunt, L. Smith and R. Brooks in the CK Free-for-All; Dick Hill and John Hutton in the Universal B; Jay Gonyea and Ray St. John in the 30 square meter; R. Adams, W. Emory and J. B. Ford III in the 5.5 meter; John Stroh, Dick Woziak and Chuck Phalen in the Luder; Gene West in the Vineyard Haven; F. Mitchell, J. Burke and A. Pryzblovicz in the International 110; Hal Mainwaring and George Devlin in the Thistles and R. Holt and R. Birchall in the Club Sloops.

Farms Holds Swim Meet In Downpour

The Grosse Pointe Farms 5th annual Swimming Meet was held last Saturday, July 31, with a good crowd of 500 spectators present, which was exceptional considering the weather.

The races were just underway when the first cloudburst hit and scattered both spectators and contestants. After a brief pause of 15 minutes, the program was resumed. The meet was held up twice more before the Father's Race, which was the last event of the day. This race was held in pouring rain with six fathers participating.

New records were established in all events because of the new race course installed this year. The distances differ from those used in the past. It will be interesting to watch next year for these records to be broken over the same course.

A word of thanks to the starter, Henry Collins; the judges, Bernie Kolodjewski, John Pottle, John Chase, Sr., Walter Collins, and the remainder of the Committee who stayed to the last rain drop to aid in finishing the meet.

Denizens of the Deep Defeated

HECTOR COUVREUR, of 420 Moross road, experienced the thrill of his life on Wednesday, July 28, when he hooked and landed two huge Muskellunge within one hour. Hector was using a Pike Minnow in 23 feet of water four and a half miles north of Belle River to lure the monsters from the depths of Lake St. Clair. The first beauty he hooked tipped the scales at 28½ pounds and measured 49½ inches long. An hour later he hooked the second prize which weighed 24 pounds and measured 46 inches long. Couvreur has been fishing for about three years and since hooking his two giants has given up angling for pan fish.

Six Records Established At Swimming Meet in Park

Six new records were set at the Grosse Pointe Park swimming meet which was held Saturday, August 1. A dance preceded the event on Saturday evening, July 31, with Tom Saunderson's orchestra providing the music.

In the Jr. Boys' division, Robert Sherwood placed first, 17.0, followed by George Measel and Danny McCarthy.

Cathy Moran placed first in the Jr. Girls' event in 25 seconds. Second was Jane Klare and third, Mary Alice Steele.

The Boys' Intermediate saw Gene Witchger placing first, in 13 seconds, followed by Jim Norris and M. Mezger.

Barbara Bashara won first place in the Girls' Intermediate event, with 21 seconds, with Kathleen Zabinski coming in second.

Chuck Norris won the Sr. Boys' event, with a 12.9 second mark, followed by Mike Wilkinson and M. Mezger.

Catherine Schemm a first in the St. Girls' division at 17.9 with Bain McKinney placing second, and Helen Slocum, third.

All the above events were 25-yard free style.

The 25-yard breast stroke for Jr. Boys saw Tom Witchger place first with 30.0, and Mike Rogers second. David Witchger recorded

LITTLE LEAGUE

Little League Baseball once again has reached its climax in the Grosse Pointe area with champions being crowned in the Park, City, Woods and Farms. For the City and Farms the climax marked the second full season of Little League participation. The Woods and Park officials are looking back over the past season to determine where they can make improvements for the 1955 season.

FARMS AMERICAN DIVISION
Minard Muma's Yankees completely dominated both the first and second halves of the season to become the champions of the American Division in the Farms League. It was a tough battle before the Yankees captured the second half championship and Tom Kolodjewski was forced to hurl a no-hit 3-0 shut-out in the final game of the season against the second place Tigers on Tuesday, July 27.

Final Standings (Majors) (Second Half)		W	L	T
Yankees	6	3	0
Tigers	5	4	0
Indians	4	5	0
Red Sox	3	6	0

Grosse Pointers held a two game lead over the third place Senators before the game got underway. The Senators nipped the second place Grosse Pointers 1-0 behind the fine pitching of Tom McDonnell and the brilliant fielding of Charlie Munson who turned in an unassisted double play. He also continued his hitting streak with another perfect day at the plate.

WOODS AMERICAN DIVISION (Majors)
In their final two games of the season both the league-leading Red Sox and the second place Tigers won their games and left the final standings unchanged with the Red Sox winning the championship with a record of 7 victories against 2 losses.

On Monday, July 26, the Tigers whipped the Yankees 8-3 with Earl Meyers Jr. getting credit for the win. On the following day, Tuesday, July 27, the Red Sox tripped the Indians 5-4 behind the four-hit hurling of Lars Anderson.

The Tigers came back on Wednesday, July 28, to take the measure of the Indians 8-3 with Eric Zoekler the winning pitcher.

In the final game of the season the Red Sox locked up the championship with a 12-2 victory over the Yankees behind the 3 hit hurling of winning pitcher Paul Boeson.

Final Standings (Majors) (Second Half)		W	L	T
Reds	6	3	0
Pirates	5	4	0
Giants	4	5	0
Phillies	3	6	0

NATIONAL DIVISION
It was a different story in the Farms National Division when the Reds captured the second half championship and forced a playoff with the Pirates, the winners of the first half season.

During the early stages of the second half of the schedule the Reds were red hot and looked to be a sure bet to carry off the season honors in the playoff tilts against the Pirates. But something happened in the late stages of the season and the Reds' play declined while the Pirates' improved.

On Wednesday, July 28, Kenny McDonald was complete master of the Reds striking out 13 while his teammates were pounding out a 5-1 victory over losing pitcher Dick Dowdell.

On Friday, July 30, the Pirates sewed up the season championship when George Hammond and Lee Schlorff collaborated for a one-hit performance and beat the Reds 6-4. Ronnie Kasparek went the distance for the Reds and was charged with the defeat.

Final Standings (Majors) (Second Half)		W	L	T
Reds	6	3	0
Pirates	5	4	0
Giants	4	5	0
Phillies	3	6	0

Chuck Norris placed first in the 50-yard Sr. Boys' breast stroke with 30.9.

Ken Walker set a new 40.8 record in the 75-yard Open Men's free style; and Mike Wilkinson won the 75-yard Boys' free style with a 57.4.

The Women's Open Diving contest saw Barbara Bashaw place first with 24.3 scoring; and Bain McKinney second with 13.2.

In the Men's Diving contest, Jim Norris took first with 34 points; Bill Boink second with 28.8; and Bob Murphy third with 18.7.

CITY LITTLE LEAGUE (Majors)
A 6-3 victory by the Giants over the Phillies in the last game of the season on Saturday, July 31, locked up the season championship for the Giants with a record of 6 wins and 3 losses.

The defeat dropped the Phillies down to last place.

This was a thrilling ball game that was decided by an iron clad rule which states a pitcher may not hurl more than six innings in a ball game. At the end of the sixth inning the game was all tied up at 3 runs apiece and the managers were faced with the problem of replacing their starting pitchers, who had each done a magnificent job. Joe Curtin, of the Phillies, had struck out 15, walked 5 and allowed only one hit as compared to his opponent, Bob Price, who struck out 16, walked 6 and allowed no hits.

Pete Ness relieved Price and eventually became the winner when the Giants got to the Phillies' relief hurler, Dave Munson, in their half of the eighth inning and scored three runs.

The only other game in the league between the Senators and Grosse Pointers held no bearing on the final standings. The

"Marita" Clips "Escapade" In Chicago-Mackinac Race

Chuck Burbach's 40-foot Raven-like sloop "Marita" turned giant killer to win top Class A honors in the Chicago Yacht Club's 49th annual Mackinac race which ended Tuesday, July 27.

"Marita," flying the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club burgee and third to finish of the 66-boat fleet (a record for Chicago), was a scant one hour, 35 minutes and 12 seconds behind Wendell Anderson's 72-foot yawl "Escapade" who reached the turtle shaped island first.

It took "Escapade" 65 hours, 17 minutes and 10 seconds to cover the 330-mile course from the starting line off the breakwater in front of the Chicago Yacht Club to the well fertilized lump of mud in the Straits.

On corrections the big "blue pig" was knocked down to fourth in class A and sixteenth in the fleet.

JUST BEATS "MARITA" Hugh Schaddelle's new 54-foot yawl "Hilaria" had to hustle to beat "Marita" in boat for boat and did it by a mere two minutes and 53 seconds. This enabled "Hilaria" to save her time on "Escapade" and take second place in Class A behind the ghosting "Marita," sailed by skipper Burbach and his crew of Hilyard Pierce, Howard Boston, Nils Lucander, Larry Kelly and Johnny Hock.

Although "Marita" proved a little boat can beat a big boat under proper conditions in Mackinac racing, she was forced to relinquish overall honors to Ed Tolman's 45-foot cutter "Taltolna" of the Chicago Y. C., on corrected time.

The handsome cutter also won Class B honors. "Taltolna" has the distinction of having won three Mackinac races in the last six years and each time she has carried a different sail plan.

After the race skipper Jack Anderson of the "Escapade" and his crew of Clark Swart, Tommy Lott, John Longley, Bobby Bryant, Harry Watson, Al Thomas, Doc Sadler, Wendell Anderson, Jr., Ted Coggin and Bobby Symonette, from Nassau, agreed they were lucky to be the first boat to finish this time.

Clark Swart said, "We must have jibed that big spinnaker of ours a million times in an attempt to pick up the fluke air and work out a lead over the little boats that were stuck around us like so many flies."

Usually "Escapade" takes off like a "big bird" and has the rest of the fleet hull down on the horizon after the race is just a few hours old. Not so this time. "Eskie" didn't move out in front until she reached the Manitou Passage Monday night. A check of "Eskie's" chart showed her to be abeam of Gil Pingree's 60-foot yawl "Red Head" and a half mile ahead of Ken Kroehler's yawl "Manitou" in the Manitou Passage near Beaver Island at 11 p.m. Monday, July 26.

Then it happened, just as we got Beaver Island Light abeam, someone turned off the fan and the "Red Head" coasted to a dead stop in a windless sky and a choppy sea that rattled the rigging mercilessly. Five hours we sat before a waiting breeze began to fill our sails and sent us on our way once again.

In the meantime, "Escapade," "Manitou," "Marita," "Taltolna" and "Vitesse" had moved out in front and were well on their way. The latter two yachts plus "Red Head" all reached Gray's Reef at the same time and battled their way through the narrow slot in a dandy northerly squall which gradually dissipated as we neared the finish line. Later in the day the rest of the fleet came across the line flying spinnakers.

For the most part the 66-boat fleet hugged the Michigan shore during the race. Only a few lashed the dictates of the light southeasterly wind that prevailed at the start and through Sunday night. "Escapade," "Hilaria," "Manitou," "Gypsy," the ten meters "Freebooter" and "Tanya" and Gil Pingree's yawl "Red Head" were fairly closely bunched on Sunday morning, along the Wisconsin side of the lake. Around noon all but "Hilaria," "Marita" and "Red Head" abandoned the West side of the lake and went looking for wind along the Michigan shore.

From our grandstand seat on "Red Head" we saw "Hilaria" and "Marita" leave us at dusk Sunday night as they went wind hunting.

Skipper Pingree elected to stay along the Wisconsin shore just like the old-time lumber schooners used to do when they made the trip to Mackinac for business reasons. Our plan was to hold our westerly course to Lansing Shoal light, even though it meant we would have to sail 28 miles further than if we took a course through the Manitou Passage and Gray's Reef. Weather and wind reports favored this decision.

All day Monday "Red Head" romped along the Wisconsin shoreline at eight and nine knots. Late that afternoon a sudden shift in the wind forced us to abandon the Lansing Shoal course and navigators Chuck Bachus and Harold Korfel plotted a course that would take the "Red Head" between North Fox and Beaver Islands.

It was a wonderful idea until 11 p.m. that night. Charging through the black of night at 8 knots in well charted but shoal water was exciting and there was talk of eating breakfast on Mackinac Island.

Then it happened, just as we got Beaver Island Light abeam, someone turned off the fan and the "Red Head" coasted to a dead stop in a windless sky and a choppy sea that rattled the rigging mercilessly. Five hours we sat before a waiting breeze began to fill our sails and sent us on our way once again.

In the meantime, "Escapade," "Manitou," "Marita," "Taltolna" and "Vitesse" had moved out in front and were well on their way. The latter two yachts plus "Red Head" all reached Gray's Reef at the same time and battled their way through the narrow slot in a dandy northerly squall which gradually dissipated as we neared the finish line. (Continued from Page 6) Paris for us . . . and we find ourselves depending upon her suggestion more than any contained in travel books.

Cordon Bleu

It was Mrs. Tyree who gave us the address of Paris Cordon Bleu and we confess, several afternoons now, we've neglected the ancient museums, historic squares, majestic churches to tie on a big white apron and take lessons from the celebrated chef, M. Charles Narses, who leads the way to souffles, omelets, crepes, sauces, etc. M. Narses was chef de la maison for the president of the Bank of Morgan before donning the high bonnet at Cordon Bleu . . . The array of copper pots and pans, whips, balances to measure grams, the knives, is an overpowering wonderland to anyone who loves to cook.

Two fat little kitchen boys, in blue and gray outfits, run fast as the wind to bring ingredients, whisk away pots and pans when M. Narses wishes them to disappear . . . They are fat little boys because they eat what the student has cooked (after she's tasted it, of course) and modestly aside, after consuming our chocolate souffle if they felt a bit leaden they had the grace not to show it . . .

Finishing School

We met several students who are taking a Summer course at the world's most famous cooking school . . . owned and directed by Madame Brassart, but founded in the nineteenth century. These included a girl from Vancouver, a student simply because she loves French food and wishes to serve lamb chops with pop-up artichokes, and other complicated fare, in her own home . . . three young women from London, home economics teachers, adding to their lore . . . a Japanese young man whose family owns a fine restaurant in Japan. Cordon Bleu also conducts a finishing school just outside Paris attended by girls from prominent families in England, Switzerland and Italy. It is called Mont Jean and the debutante-age pupils live in the charming, rambling house during the Winter months. They are taught the arts of being a hostess, table appointments, servant management, cooking and French . . . all considered integral parts of a girl's education in Europe . . .

Dinner With Madame Coutil

Our Paris days have included reunions with Madame Pierre Coutil, who, in the Wintertime, teaches French to the students of Convent of the Sacred Heart, Grosse Pointe . . . She's vacationing with her family at their home in Des Andelys, Normandie. In Paris, her brother-in-law and sister, M. and Mme. Bernard Solomon, invited us for dinner at their handsome apartment in the delightful St. Germain district. . . M. Solomon is a scientist and his great leather-bound tomes line the walls, ceiling to floor, of the dining salon. One of the most enchanting apartments we've ever seen, the drawing room walls are embossed in gold leaf with massive cheval mirrors . . . There's a marble fireplace and furniture is that heavenly soft blue satin brocade worked onto antique ivory frames.

At dinner, a cousin of Madame's was eager to hear of the latter's experiences in America. To show her something of her adopted state, Madame fetched a huge map of the Great Lakes. But the cousin, in rapid French, said it would be better to see a map of Michigan before being shown "the details" . . . The cousin has spent the past four years studying the Gregorian Chant . . . Madame's lovely dark-haired daughter, Marie Elaine, who lived in the Pointe while attending the University of Detroit, and son, Jacques, with the bluest blue eyes, were with us that evening . . . as well as jeune fille, Francois Solomon, who'd love to travel to America . . . and has the perfect manners of all French children.

Red Velvet Elevator

A few snapshots from Paris: We've ridden in a red velvet elevator (oval shaped) to the upper reaches of the department store Au Printemps . . . Had tea at the English Tea Room on Rue de Rivoli where travelers from the British Isles make a sure dash for afternoon plum cake, scones and very strong tea while they puzzle the differences between francs, bobs and pounds. Notice that ever so many Parisiennes are wearing a pale, pale pink shiny lipstick, like the kind Madame Schiaparelli affected some five years ago when Jack Oliver brought her for coffee (the morning we were wearing ink and burlap) . . . J. Fred Muggs, the chimpanzee from the Dave Garraway TV show causing traffic jams on the Champs-Elysees as he strolls with his owners . . . The chimp wears black trousers, a red and white blazer, human shoes . . . He had smallpox shots and vaccination just like everyone else before coming to Europe.

As we've been typing these lines . . . we've paused, intermittently, to throw the odd shoe in our luggage . . . to stuff a dress into a bag (dresses seem to swell over here . . . both off and on) . . . because that old demon conscience is sending us on a slight tour . . . For a few days we'll exchange bonjour and merci boucou for pronto, grazie, hallo, danke . . . taking off for Munich, Innsbruck, Venice, Florence and Lucerne . . . When we return to Paris a new ordinance will be in effect . . . M. Andre Dubois, Prefect of Police, has forbidden taxi drivers to blow horns, klaxons, whistles, bells and hooters within the city limits . . . Ah, change!

The league leading Beavers split in two contests last week to win the Pacific Coast League championship by a one game margin over the Seals who won both of their scheduled games.

The Beavers suffered their first setback of the season on Saturday, July 24, when the Angels rapped out 17 hits and pushed across 25 runs to score an unexpected 25-17 win over the league leaders.

On the same day the Seals walloped the Rainiers 15-7 to come within one game of tying for first place. The victory put the pressure on the Beavers in their last game against the Angels on Tuesday, July 27. The Beavers won this one 6-3 behind the 3 hit pitching of Jeff Brown and killed all hopes the Seals might have had of sharing the league title.

The Seals preserved their second place, however, by beating the Rainiers 11-4 in the last game of the season.

GROSSE POINTE PARK (Majors) Grosse Pointe Park Little League fans were kept in suspense right up to the last game of the major division schedule before they knew which team would become the season champion.

The showdown game between the Athletics and Senators took place on Monday, August 2, and what a game it was. The Athletics were held to one hit by the Senators' Dick Werback, but that is all they needed to chalk up the important 2-0 victory which gave them the first Little League title in the Park. The lone hit came in the first inning after Werback had walked the first two batters to face him. Leo Langlois was the hero of the day when he belted out the lone hit and scored both base runners.

Lefthander Tommy Conrad chalked up his tenth straight win of the season when he allowed the Senators only three hits. However, Tommy's heart was in his mouth in the last inning when Phil Hamilton came within one foot of deadlocking the contest with a blast to the last field fence which was hauled down by left-fielder Tim McKinnon to end the game. One Senator was on the base paths at the time. In the last week of play the Senators split two games which put them a half game behind the Athletics and necessitated the post-season playoff game to decide the title. The Orioles, although they finished last, became a giant killer when they tangled with the White Sox and knocked them from the title picture with an 11-8 victory with an 8-run rally in the last inning.

Woods Winner Of Swim Meet

Grosse Pointe Woods won the fifth annual Life Guard Swim meet held at the Farms pier last Saturday, July 31, and dethroned the Farms guards, who won the meet last year.

Scoring first places in three of the six individual events and winning the 200-yard relay, the Woods scored 36 points to win the meet handily.

Actually the Woods' margin of victory came from its ability to not only win first places but to take second and third places in the events in which the other teams won.

Top point-getters of the meet were Hagg of the Woods and Chase of the Farms, who scored 10 points each. Dauw of the Woods and Reaume of the Farms also added important points to their team's total. Each collected 6 points.

The Farms followed in second place with 23 points and the Park guards annexed 17 points for third place. The City eked out 6 points for last place.

Dan Reaume, president of the AAU, was the official starter and was assisted by Dave Beauvais, John Cousineau and Dan Hollman.

Standings as of August 1

Table with 2 columns: Team, W, L. Dodgers 6, Athletics 6, Cardinals 5, Shamrocks 5, Eagles 3, Brooklyn 2.

With one week remaining in the Grosse Pointe Park Minor Division, two ties exist in the six-team league. The Dodgers and Athletics are tied for first place and the Cardinals and Shamrocks are deadlocked in second place, one game off the pace. Final game results can completely upset the apparent and there is a good possibility for at least a four-way tie for first place.

In last week's games the Cardinals upset the Shamrocks, 3-2, when the Shamrock pitcher hit Jerry Weiferman with a pitch and forced in the tie-breaking run with two out in the sixth inning. The Athletics remained in con-tion for the title by defeating the Eagles 11-8 but not until the Eagles staged a 6-run rally in the last inning. The Dodgers gained a lopsided 13-3 victory over last place Brooklyn which enabled them to stay in a two-way tie for first place with the Athletics.

PILFERINGS

Bennet Cerf says his English friends suggest that we restrain Mickey Rooney from portraying Eton schoolboys, and let English laddies be English laddies on the screen. In short, keep our hams across the sea.

It's said that Russel Crouse refers to his friend Frank Sullivan as his "Pillar of Jello." . . .

A long time ago, a reporter was assigned to interview Mr. Barnum's favorite midget Tom Thumb. The hotel clerk directed the reporter to Room 308, but when he knocked on that door, it was opened by a giant fully nine feet tall.

"I must have the wrong room," apologized the reporter. "Who were you looking for?" asked the giant. "Tom Thumb, the dwarf!" laughed the newsman. "Well, come in," said the giant. "I'm Tom Thumb." "Heavens," the reporter scoffed, "Why you're nine feet tall!" "I know," said the giant. "But, you see, this is my day off."

Deaf people have a little publication called "The Volta Review."

One story that this magazine made famous concerned three deaf gentlemen aboard a train bound for London. "What station is this?" inquired the first gent at a stop. "Wembley," answered the guard. "Heavens," said the second gent, "I thought it was Thursday."

"So am I," exclaimed the third. "Let's all have a drink."

John Hersey, author of "Into the Valley" and "A Bell for Adano," writes about a friendly encounter between an American Navy officer and a cannibal chief. The officer visited the chief's village, and, in the course of the ensuing powwow, pleaded, "If you see American soldiers come down from sky in parachutes, you must not eat them. They are here to protect you from Japs."

The chief replied, "No eat white men—too bitter."

Pointer of Interest

SYLVIA BENNETT OF RENAUD ROAD

By Jane Schermerhorn

Once upon a time there was a skinny little girl who could never find a skirt that fitted her. The skirts didn't hang on her waist but slid down on her hips.

So when that little girl was 10 years old she started to make her own skirts, beginning with cotton ones and gradually working in more expensive materials.

Today, Sylvia Bennett, daughter of the Navarre Bennets of Renaud road, is the envy of all her friends as she whips out a sun dress in 40 minutes and looks as pretty as any cover girl in it.

The dark-eyed beauty was graduated last June from Grosse Pointe Country Day School and next autumn will study at Garland School in Boston where she'll major in fashion design.

land School in Boston where she'll major in fashion design. One Gal Show Garland is ideal for as talented a miss as Sylvia. In addition to her work in design, she'll study cooking, chemistry, English and history.

Each year, the school features a fashion show when students model the clothes they've made. If students are permitted to make dresses as fast as they wish, and as many as they want, Sylvia will introduce the One Gal Show at Garland.

But let's go back to the little girl. Before she was 10 years old she had turned out a tie for her grandfather. She made pocket-books, little clutch bags, and cut out cardboard from boxes to use underneath the material.

Her dolls were the best dressed in Grosse Pointe. Practical Side But there's a practical side to our Pointer of Interest. She found it more fun to make clothes she could wear than just finery for dolls.

So, at 10 she started and has been going strong ever since. She likes to sew fast, finding it discouraging to have to go back to an unfinished task.

Her gift enables her to sew without a pattern and she's always been able to duplicate any frock that catches her eye. "I just guess, when I start cutting. If I'm wrong it isn't difficult to go back and restitch to make things fit." It's as simple as that!

Style of Her Own The day we talked to Sylvia, she was wearing a confection of peppermint striped cotton. The shirred bodice had a fitted midriff and the skirt swirled with yards of material dear to the fashion fancies of a sub deb.

The pretty seamstress, who majored in sewing at Country Day where she and the clothes dummy "Susie" were chums, fashions tweed dresses for winter wear. She likes the shirtwaist type and delights in thinking up new styles for the blouses. Often she takes a color from the skirt and repeats it in collar and cuffs of a solid colored blouse.

At Christmastime she danced at the sub deb parties in a white net ball gown which had 10 yards of material in its two net skirts.

Wardrobe At the moment her own wardrobe includes:

- Ten tweed skirts
- Three tweed dresses
- Three sun dresses
- Ten or 12 cotton skirts and blouses

All originals by Sylvia. She has never made hats, simply because she likes to let her chestnut hair fly free in the breeze.

It was really Sylvia's chic mama who first brought the young lady's talent to the attention of this department. She attended an afternoon sports event wearing the best looking tailored navy linen Bermuda shorts and blouse with red leather belt. We learned that Sylvia was the designer and seamstress.

Sylvia's classmates are delighted that she loves to sew, too, and she has made frocks for many of them including the lovely gowns worn by Country Day's May Queen and her honor attendants. Real works of art.

Sailor Younger sisters Gwendy and Linda have also felt the impact of their big sister's talent in things she's made for them.

This summer Sylvia is an industrious miss at a part-time job in a gift shop (most of the Country Day grads are working girls during vacation).

She hopes there'll be some time for the sailing she loves so well before school days begin again.

She has her skipper's license and last July took part in Wakefield Eliminations.

Lightnings are her favorite craft and she sails out of Crescent Yacht Club.

Her pets are little boats.

"It takes more skill to sail a small boat," says this lovely child.

CUCUMBER RING MOLD

Contributed by Mrs. William J. Young Jr.

- 1 T. (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 c. cold water
- 3 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese
- 2 c. drained, grated, pared cucumber
- 1 c. mayonnaise
- 1/2 c. minced raw onion (optional)
- 1/4 c. minced parsley
- 1/2 t. salt

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. In a mixing bowl, stir cheese to soften. Add cucumber, mayonnaise, onion if desired, parsley and salt. Mix well.

Stir dissolved gelatin into cheese mixture. Pour into 5-cup ring mold. Chill until firm.

The cucumber salad in itself is delicious. Filling the ring with shrimp, however, makes an attractive variation.

Pick Beardslee For Drive Post

John P. St. Clair of Birmingham, suburban unit chairman for the 1954 Torch Drive, has announced the appointment of Kenneth R. Beardslee, 841 Whittier, Grosse Pointe, as north suburban co-chairman.

Beardslee, general manager of the Carboly department of General Electric, was South Macomb county Torch Drive chairman in 1951. He is a member of the South Macomb advisory board of the United Foundation and of directors. As unit co-chairman, he will be responsible for organization and conduct of the 1954 Torch Drive, Oct. 19 to Nov. 11, in Birmingham, Southern Oakland County, Southern Macomb County, Hamtramck, and Highland Park.

St. Clair, in naming Beardslee as one of the four co-chairmen of the unit, said the organization of plant chapters would be stressed during the weeks intervening before opening of the sixth annual Torch Drive. Giving in homes and plants in the suburban areas is vital to success of the annual fund-raising drive for 150 health and community services, he added.

"It has been deeply encouraging to me to see the way in which the United Foundation has helped knit together our great Metropolitan community," St. Clair said. "This unity has been displayed year after year by an ever-increasing willingness on the part of each of our suburban communities to shoulder its fair share of the responsibility for the total community welfare. I, for one, am proud to be a part of the fastest-growing unit in the Torch Drive."

The suburban unit last year raised the highest percentage above quota of any of the Torch Drive units. The five geographical areas making up the northern suburbs led the eight suburban areas in percentage raised over quota, ranging from a high of 113.7 per cent in Southern Oakland, through 113 per cent in Birmingham-Franklin; 109.3 per cent in South Macomb; 106.4 per cent in Highland Park, to 108 per cent in Hamtramck.

Pointe Counter Points

One of the big August stories is from Jacobson's. It's real fan fare for the college gal. It's tops in her book. Think of the time she'll save when she picks up her Personal College Inventory Sheet. On it will be a list of everything she needs for the class room . . . her social and leisure life . . . her sports . . . and miscellaneous things like luggage, radio, clocks, etc. It even includes the list of bedding and linens. There will be counselors on hand to give advise about what they're wearing . . . understand a coke machine and potato chips will be ready and waiting. And when you pick up your inventory sheet sign the College Register. See you m' dears. P. S. Question . . . will there, be pipes for sale? They're selling like hotcakes out in L. A. Reportedly, a place called Robinson's sold 150 pipes in 10 days. Ah me!

Until this week we didn't know that it might be feasible to use a flash bulb outside with our box camera. You can actually come up with better pictures . . . the no squint kind . . . of your children and friends. Consider finding out how from the Camera Center, in the village.

It's fun keying the color of your frames to your clothes. Ever tried it? Certain shades spark your skin and hair tones. Frames in very bright colors, black or brown, or silvery colors liver a brunette skin, no matter what your hair color, pastel, gold, or deep-colored frames look best with lighter skins. Redheads find smoky colors make the most of their brilliant hair and creamy skin. And now for these frames we're suggesting you visit the Bayne Optical Co., over on Fisher Road number 407. If you break a lens usually it can be repaired while you wait. Ummm, good service.

Boudoir topics. Mais oui. The sheets most likely to succeed in being put on your bed from now on will be nylon ones. One of the best talking points for nylon sheets is that they dry almost instantly. Come in white and pastels. And as long as we're in the boudoir . . . let's stay and have a look at some new season corduroy tailored spreads. The twin size is eighteen ninety-five and fill size is one dollar more. Olive, leather, rose and blue are the attractive colors you'll find. This is of special interest . . . the Cabincraft Cavalier bedspreads are on sale for as long as they last for $7.99. You'll find a few coverlets, draperies, etc., are too. Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop, in the village.

Pretty hand-painted flowers on good-looking oval baskets with flat backs . . . and . . . bathroom brush holders to match . . . are in evidence at Fromm's, in the village. Good colors . . . black, white gray, maroon.

Today in Paris. There are 12,000 dressmaking shops in Paris ranging from top courtiers, selling models up to $1000 worth of francs, to places where party dresses can be rented for the evening. We culled this bit from a sprightly little guide. That's today in Paris . . . but in Grosse Pointe today is a shop that is almost ready to open. The opening date is Monday, August Ninth. We're sure this new face lifting . . . and the new clothes right out of New York will capture the hearts of chic Grosse Pointe's . . . because they are definitely for town 'n country . . . casual . . . living. It's Margaret Rice's, 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

The boy coat is as American as a hot dog . . . isn't it? And you know, too, that the boy look is practically always the girl outlook. For country . . . for town . . . for campus . . . these authentic tartan plaids have the casual dash you may be looking for. By name the plaids are McDonald of Glengarry, Ferguson Green, and the Black Watch. Look for the silver lining of millium . . . and remember it's an insulated fabric at Jacobson's, in the village.
