THE NAVY sent every available ship to search the rough waters just off Beaufort, N. C., for an undetermined number of men who were thrown into the water when their Navy Ducks capsized. The Ft. Macon Coast Guard station reported that three Ducks capsized as they made their way to a ship offshore.

It was made known that four men were rescued and that "several others" are missing. The crafts can carry up to 30 men each. It was believed that Marine personnel were aboard the ships which sank.

A RECOMMENDATION that the nation's highway construction total be increased to 101 billion dollars over a 10-year period, was made by a special advisory committee headed by General Clay. The increase was asked to erase a tremendous deficit of needed roads.

The committee adopted a report which was submitted to President Eisenhower urging that 54 billion dollars be added to the 47 billion dollars earmarked for additional highways. The main part of the report outlines a plan whereby the Government will pay 25 billion dollars, and the remaining be paid by states, cities and other local governments.

AS RUMORS of an impending invasion from Nicaragua grew, President Jose Figueres of Costa Rica ordered all local flights of the Lasca Airline grounded. The President ordered the country's troops alerted; took security measures at key communication centers and at all Government offices.

POLITICAL TENSION is mounting in the coalition government of President Jose Ramon Guidao, who is now making an all out effort to find out who assassinated President Jose Antonio Remon. Touching off the tension was the resignation Saturday, of Prof. Catalino Arrocha Gaell, as Minister of Government, the top Cabinet post.

Gaell stepped down so that Alejandro Remon, 45, younger brother of the machine-gunned President, could be named to the post to conduct the hunt for the killers.

RED CHINESE PLANES, in the greatest air raid of the civil war, pounded the Tachen Islands from dawn until late afternoon. The latest reports disclosed that at least 100 Red planes participated in the attack. Nationalist defenders on the vital outpost islands, 200 miles north of Formosa, threw up fierce anti-aircraft fire. They claimed two attackers destroyed and two damaged. There was no report on whether Nationalist planes were engaged. More than 300 bombs were dropped on the islands, but most of them splashed into the sea.

JOHN H. NOBLE, 31, released only last week after nine and half years in Russian labor camps, revealed to United States authorities that he had heard that American airmen shot down in the Baltic area and captured in Korea, are being held by the Russians. He said that approximately 110 men were killed immediately and 50 to 60 died of wounds later, and 400 more were wounded when Soviet guards fired on prisoners in the 1953 rebellion at Vorkuta camp. The Americans shot down in the Baltic were pilots during World War II. Noble did not know any names.

Arrest By Farms Detectives Expected to Solve Mystery Of 93 Stolen Draft Cards

One of Them Found on Youngster Picked Up During Routine Check of Bars; M. Clemens Man Under Bond Awaiting Trial

Farms police made the initial arrest in what may result in the clearing of a case in which 93 Selective Service cards were stolen from a draft board office at 1020 W. Fort, Detroit, last August.

Farms police officers, Det. Sgt. Harold Seelow and Det. Harold Beaupre, while making a routine check of bars on Mack avenue, noticed a 16-year-old youth in one of the bars, whom they recognized and arrested him before he could escape.

Had Card on Person

Taken to the station, the youth was searched and the officers found a draft card, genuine in itself, but bearing obviously misleading information, in his possession.

In questioning the youth, who lives in the Woods, Sgt. Seelow and Det. Beaupre uncovered the fact that the boy had purchased the card from Francis Neil Clark, 24, of 34428 East Jefferson, Mt. Clemens, for $5.

The information obtained was given to the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation whose agents, with Sgt. Seelow as the guide, went to Mt. Clemens on Thursday, January 6, and placed Clark under arrest.

Clark Denies Crime

It is believed that Clark is responsible for the theft of the cards from the draft board office. However, the arrested man denied any knowledge of the crime.

He was arraigned before Federal Judge Theodore Levin on Friday, January 7, on the charge of selling a card. He entered a plea of not guilty and was placed on a $1,000 bond pending trial.

Under-age youths seek draft cards for use in bars. Conviction in the sale of a draft card brings a $10,000 fine or 10 years in prison.

Voice Objections To Traffic Light

Objections to the year-round operation of the traffic light at East Jefferson avenue and University place are expressed in a letter addressed to the council of the City of Grosse Pointe, a copy of which has been received by the NEWS.

The letter is signed by J. H. Hunt and B. M. Cork, whose address is given as Lake Shore terrace in St. Clair Shores.

The writers place the blame for the operation of the light during the winter months on City Police Chief Thomas Trombly. They claim it is not necessary when the lakefront park there is not being used, and that it delays hundreds of cars.

This matter has been discussed by the council at various meetings, and Chief Trombly points out that the light is kept operating with the complete sanction of the councilmen. At one time there was much discussion pertaining to the need for another traffic light just two blocks away, at E. Jefferson and Rivard.

With the completion of the Grosse Pointe Bank parking lot, and the banning of street parking on the south side of Jefferson in this area, the need for the second light has been eliminated, he says. A very dangerous situation has been largely corrected by the off-street parking area, but there is still need for a light to break the flow of steady traffic. Without the light at University there would be too much of a tendency to speed from the light at Fisher road all the way to the one at Balfour, and drivers trying to get out of the side streets onto Jefferson would be hopelessly bottled up, the police and the council agree.

FOOTBALL PLAYER HURT

Herman F. Zerweck, 26, of 1347 Beaconsfield, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital on Sunday, January 9, when he dislocated his ankle while playing football in Gabriel Richard playground with some friends.

Woods Home Yields $250 To Burglar

Makes Third Robbery in That City Since First of Year; Thief Evidently Surprised

A third home in the Woods has been entered by a burglar since the beginning of the year, according to information released by Woods Det. Everett Plumb.

Det. Plumb revealed that a burglar entered the home of John Stuyvesant, 1899 Lochmoor, and took $250 in cash, on Thursday, January 6.

A burglarly report disclosed that Stuyvesant had left his home for the better part of the day, and had returned at about 8:30 p.m., to find that someone had broken into his house. He called the police immediately.

Broke Glass in Door

Det. Plumb stated that the culprit had entered the house by breaking the glass of the rear door of the back bedroom and reached in and tripped the lock.

He said that the burglar had only time to search the back bedroom, from which he took the cash. He added that the owner of the house had other large sums in the house, but the burglar missed them, probably because he heard Stuyvesant putting his car in the garage and fled.

The front door was ajar and this might have been the avenue of escape taken by the robber, said Plumb.

A next door neighbor, Walter Russell of 1881 Lochmoor, told police that no one in his house heard glass breaking, or noticed anything out of the way.

On New Year's day, the homes of Anthony Venimiglia, 608 Hollywood and Nick A. Battista, 596 Hollywood were broken into. Both homes were believed to have been burglarized by the same person.

Two Other Losers

Venimiglia lost $375 worth of jewelry and $450 in cash, and Battista lost $55 in cash and several items of jewelry and a Christmas gift portable radio. The value of the articles were undetermined.

Thieves Pay Visit To Three Business Places in Farms

Employees and Customers Among Victims; Park Residence Also Ransacked During Three Day Epidemic Of Burglaries

Within a three-day period, thieves invaded a home in the Park, and two beauty salons and an apparel shop in the Kercheval-on-the-Hill business district in the Farms, netting $384 in cash and $108 in checks.

The amount taken during these three days may be even higher, when the owners of the Park home, now absent from the city, return and determines if anything was taken by a burglar who ransacked the house on Thursday, January 6.

Spotted By Neighbor

According to Park Lt. Stanley Enders, a next door neighbor had noticed that the door of the home of Charles Schmidt of 1317 Beaconsfield was ajar, and he notified police of the matter.

Officers at the scene discovered that an unsuccessful attempt had been made to enter the house by the rear kitchen door. Failing in this, the culprit made a forced entry, by breaking a panel of the grade door at the rear of the house and completely ransacked the place.

Lt. Enders stated that it will not be known what has been taken, if anything, until the Schmidts return on January 15.

Beauty Salons Visited

In the Farms, a thief visited the Yvonne Beauty Salon, 84 Kercheval on Wednesday, January 5, and removed $200 in cash from the purse of one of the establishment's patrons.

A police report disclosed that Mrs. Dan J. Stock, Jr., of 776 Westchester, had cashed a check at the Grosse Pointe Bank and then had gone to the beauty salon to keep an appointment with her hair dresser.

The report stated that Mrs. Stock placed her purse on a table behind the receptionist's desk at the rear of the salon and then hung up her coat.

When finished with her appointment, she returned to find her purse empty.

Speeder Captured After Wild Chase

Samuel J. Riggio, 22, of 22600 Trombly, St. Clair Shores, was fined $55 by Woods Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, January 8, and had his driver's license permanently suspended, after he was found guilty of reckless driving.

A police report showed that Riggio was spotted by Woods Patrolmen Russell Allard and Homer Gysel, as he was speeding past the Woods police station, Mack and Anita.

The officers gave chase at speeds up to 70 miles an hour, during which Riggio's car almost collided head-on with another on Mack avenue near the St. Joan of Arc School in St. Clair Shores.

When the speeder swerved to avoid a collision, his car hit the right side curb of the street and bounced into the center of the road and into the path of oncoming traffic, and then bounced off of the curb on the opposite side.

He was finally stopped at Mack and California and taken to the Woods station, where he was placed on $100 bond pending trial.

Riggio was on probation in another traffic violation and his license had been restricted.

Farms Says They Comply With Laws

Ordinance Allows Out-Pouring of Black Smoke for Periods up to Five Minutes

Tests taken by the Farms Engineer's Office last week and on Monday, January 10, showed that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, as pertaining to the High School and Gabriel Richard School, is complying with the Smoke Abatement Ordinance of the city, according to Farms Engineer Murray M. Smith.

Mr. Smith revealed that he and Harold Husband, director of administrative services of the Board of Education, checked the smoke volume of the High School from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., Monday, and black smoke came from the chimney for a period of from four to five minutes, which was within the limits prescribed by the city ordinance on smoke abatement.

BUSHONG ASKED FOR TESTS

Dr. James Bushong, superintendent of the Board of Education, had maintained that the schools in the Farms were not in violation of the ordinance as the Farms charged, and requested that a test be conducted. The first test lasted three days, beginning on Tuesday, January 3.

The Superintendent stated that the schools may have been in violations of the law as of last March, but not now.

He revealed that since Mr. Smith's letter last year, in which the Board was cited for permitting excessive smoke in the schools, every method conceivable has been done to put a stop to the nuisance.

SUBMITTED REPORT

He also stated that at a meeting held on Wednesday, January 5, he submitted a report on the progress made in abolishing the smoke.

Dr. Bushong disclosed that each of the engineers of the various schools in the School District, attended 30 hours of classes to learn smoke control. The classes were taught by the head of the Detroit Smoke Abatement Department.

"In my opinion," Mr. Smith stated, "the two tests conducted showed that the Board of Education is cooperating in helping to rid the community of excessive smoke. Two men from the Detroit Edison company verified that the Board is complying with the city ordinance."

LAST TEST ON TUESDAY

Mr. Smith referred to the men from Edison, who were asked to check the firing units of the public schools in the Farms with up to date equipment, and who gave the Board a clean bill of health. This test was conducted on Tuesday, January 11.

As far as the other alleged violators are concerned, remarked Mr. Smith, he and Mr. Husband had noticed that the Punch and Judy building while conducting the test on Monday, and saw black smoke coming from the chimney for a four-minute period of the hour check.

He said that so far, no complaints had been received against Cottage Hospital, which at one time was one of the worst offenders in producing excessive smoke.

Chronic Speeder Nabbed at Home

Herbert C. Joyner of 586 Ashland, Detroit, was arrested at his home by Shores police on Saturday, January 8, on a warrant signed by Shores Judge John Gillis, according to Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling.

Joyner was fined $65 on two counts of traffic violations, and his driver's license was suspended for a period of 60 days, during which time he is forbidden to drive.

Chief Duemling stated that Joyner had been ticketed by Shores police on two separate occasions and in each case he failed to appear in court to answer charges.

He said that following the conviction by Judge Gillis, Joyner was turned over to State Police, who took him before a Farmington judge to answer a speeding charge in that community. The State Police had signed the complaint and served the warrant against the man.

pointment, she looked into her purse and found the money gone. The receptionist stated that there were no strangers in the place.

Cash Box Stolen

On Thursday, January 6, police took a report from Miss Margaret Rice, of Margaret Rice, Inc., 76 Kercheval, wherein she revealed that a cash box, containing $140 in cash, was missing from its accustomed place on a shelf in the backroom of her store.

She told authorities that four men had been installing a new furnace in her store basement, but when police questioned the men, they denied taking the money, or having seen anyone else take it. A check of the premises failed to find the box or money.

On Friday, January 7, Anthony's, 115 Kercheval, also a beauty salon, was invaded by an unknown.

The police report on this, stated

LAY CAMPAIGN PLANS

Plans for the annual family participation drive for funds were also discussed at length. The drive will be conducted during the same dates as last year, from April 15 to May 30, and the quota will be the same, $30,000.

Last year the campaign produced 2,180 donations, a new high, totalling $30,387.50. Campaign expenses were listed at about $5,000 last year, but it was pointed out that this sum included the printing of much promotional literature and pictures having to do with the regular programming of activities, which should not really be listed as campaign expense.

It was decided to cut down the number of mailing pieces in this year's drive, in the hopes that the expense can be considerably reduced.

GIFTS ACKNOWLEDGED

Mr. Russell Alger, whose family donated the property to the community, has made two additional contributions of money, the directors were informed by John Lake, full time director of the center. She has given another $2,000, which is expected to be added to the endowment fund, and a separate gift of $100 to keep fresh flowers in the hall for the next five months.

Mrs. Alger has sent back a number of antique pieces which were originally in the house. These include an Italian bench, a table and chairs, which have been placed in the terrace room. Marion Kellogg, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

given them the articles to return, but did not say who. Lt. Teetaert stated that he was of the opinion, after the facts were put together, that there were five persons involved in the ring.

He said that the articles were "lifted" during the Christmas buying rush, by members of the ring.

He pointed out that no prior reports or complaints of the thefts were brought to the attention of the police.

City Police Chief Thomas V. Trombly asked that merchants keep a closer check on returned items, to determine whether sales of the articles have been made or not, and if records show that no sale has been made, call the police department.

Lt. Teetaert said that an investigation will be carried out to try to find the actual members of the ring.

They represent only an insignificant number of all those which must exist because none of these cases were diagnosed by their local physicians. Dear Sirs:

I understand that your Public Health Committee voted to continue to endorse fluoridation after I had told them of the contradictory nature and controversial statements of the key propaganda material provided by dental and health authorities; namely: The Bartlett Study by the National Research Council, The St. Louis Medical Society

Report and the highly inadequate statistics of "Mortality Rates and Fluorides."

At least one member of your committee acknowledged to me that they have no time nor inclination to critically analyze the original articles referred to in this material, nor is your committee apparently interested in examining the details of the eight cases of chronic fluorine poisoning from artificially fluoridated water in Highland Park and Saginaw at the so-called "safe" concentration of 1 p.p.m. which foreshadows much more serious effects to come. Instead they prefer to echo the political endorsement of the array of authoritative groups and the Michigan State Health Department whose duty it should be to do its own investigating of such cases instead of ignoring the few clinicians who have done the investigating for them.

I should be glad to submit to you an analysis of the above named propaganda pamphlets and an account of my own cases should you have any further interest in this matter.

Yours sincerely,
George L. Waldbott, M.D.

Members of the Future Business Leaders Club of Grosse Pointe High School were guests of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company at a luncheon recently held at the Whittier Hotel. The luncheon was a tour of the Whittier Street offices of that company.

The girls watched service representatives answer questions from customers, take orders for telephones, and remind customers that their bills were overdue.

The service representative almost never comes in direct contact with the public, the students learned. Her work is done by telephone and therefore she must have a very good telephone personality.

In the cash office the girls were told of some of the common errors people commit when paying their bills by mail. Some date their checks as much as a month in advance. Others put two different amounts on the check, and some people even send in bills from other companies.

Another interesting feature the girls were shown in this office was how the money and bills are sent in from various substations.

In the switchboard room each girl was given a pair of earphones and was allowed to listen while the guide placed calls to the weather bureau in New York and Miami. Operators also called San Francisco to ask for the time.

Miss Mary Ann Vethecke talked to the group on the advantages of working with the telephone company and the requirements for various positions. They were told what kind of training each position required and the starting salary.

The Future Business Leaders Club is composed of girls majoring in commercial courses. The sponsor is Miss Frances French, commercial instructor.

Earlier this semester the club visited the Burroughs Adding Machine Company where they were allowed to try some of the new Burroughs machines.

Guides for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company were J. R. Potz, Mrs. Jean Cope and Miss Vethecke.

Historic Documents Copies Displayed at High School

By Carole Dimitry
GPHS Journalism Student

On display in the Grosse Pointe High School library are two exhibits of enlarged copies of famous American historical documents.

These exhibits, which have been arranged for the Grosse Pointe School system by the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club, will be circulated among the Grosse Pointe schools so that students may visualize some of America's documents as they were when they were written.

"We tend to forget our great good fortune in being Americans," said Mr. W. R. Cleminson, Grosse Pointe High School principal, "and these documents bring it to our attention."

Some of the original documents date back to the 18th century. Probably the most inspiring of those written in the 1700's are the Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence.

A copy of Benjamin Franklin's epitaph, which he wrote himself, appears in his own handwriting.

A copy of a set of instructions sent by Patrick Henry to George Rogers Clark, commander of American forces in the Illinois country, stresses the importance of friendship between the French and the Indians to the cause of the American Revolution.

A letter is shown that is written by Deborah Gannett, who served as a private in the Revolutionary War under the name of Robert Shurtleff.

One of the most famous speeches ever written, Washington's first inaugural address, is exhibited just as it looked when

Washington wrote it out in his own hand.

The famous Treaty of Paris of 1783 is also on exhibition.

Nineteenth century documents include the Monroe Doctrine, the Emancipation Proclamation, a rough draft of the words of the Star Spangled Banner written in Francis Scott Key's own handwriting, after the unsuccessful British attack on Fort McHenry, and a letter describing the battle of New Orleans.

A recent American document is the letter Theodore Roosevelt wrote to William Howard Taft, then Secretary of War, saying the United States should withdraw from Cuba.

Two widely known documents that may be examined are the United Nations Charter and the 19th Amendment to the Constitution.

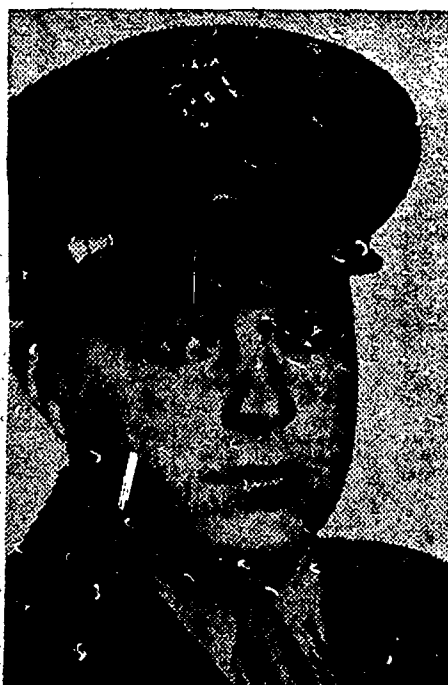

A written agreement from the Tehran Conference for the invasion of Western Europe is written in Franklin D. Roosevelt's own handwriting.

A letter written by President Roosevelt to Marshal Stalin, stating that the immediate appointment of General Eisenhower to command Allied invasion of Western Europe had been decided on, is also of great current interest.

"I think that these documents are a starting point for a Grosse Pointe Museum," commented Mrs. Bernice Stoltenberg, Grosse Pointe High School librarian.

The original documents may be seen at the National Archives at Washington.

With Marines

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (FHTNC)—MARINE 2ND LT. RICHARD R. BIGLEY, son of Mrs. and Mr. George A. Gibley of 194-Merriweather, Grosse Pointe, Mich., reported for duty at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here December 7, and has been assigned as a company commander with the 2nd Recruit Training Battalion.

Before entering the service in March, 1951, he graduated from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

LOT OF ICE CREAM

Did you know that Americans ate about five and one-half billion pints of ice cream, sherbet and other frozen dairy foods last year? That's the second highest amount ever recorded.

Plan Discussion Of Proxy Fights

Everyone interested in current happenings should enjoy the Sunday afternoon meeting of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library to be held at 3 o'clock on January 23, at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

The program will be a panel discussion on the subject "Corporate Proxy Fights." Jay W. Sorge will act as moderator of the panel and will discuss certain legal aspects of proxy contests. The members of the panel will be a representative of a New York firm, and Charles A. Parcells, Jr.

The discussion will cover what proxy contests are, the underlying reasons behind them, the maneuvering and grouping of various factions in order to get control, and interesting incidents which have occurred in connection with recent proxy contests.

Mr. Parcells has represented his firm in many recent proxy contests. He will discuss such contests from the financial standpoint.

This subject was chosen because of the increasing number of proxy contests which are occurring in large and small companies and the public interest and curiosity which has arisen regarding them. In addition, the topic was chosen because of the importance of these proxy contests on the relationship between management and stockholders and the influence which stockholders have on the affairs of corporations.

The Friends cordially invite everyone interested to attend. Tea and coffee will be served after the discussion by the social committee whose chairman is Mrs. Bert H. Wicking.

Cadillac

A Great Discovery Is About to Be Made!

The hand you see here is about to turn the ignition key in a new 1955 Cadillac.

It is the hand of a man who has never driven a Cadillac before—but who finally decided to see for himself if all the wonderful things he's heard about the car are true.

Well, he's about to make an important discovery! He's about to learn that, in 1955, Cadillac actually surpasses its own great reputation!

He'll sense it the instant he turns the key—and hears the eager answer of that 250-horsepower Cadillac engine.

He'll sense it again when he touches his foot to the accelerator—and brings that dynamic engine into action. It will set him instantly in motion—and will carry him forward with a surge of power that is a revelation all in itself.

And then—out on the open road—the full proof of Cadillac's greatness will begin to unfold itself!

He'll discover its incredible ease of steering and handling—so marvelous that the car seems almost to read his mind.

He'll discover its amazing levelness of ride—so great that even the road's roughest spots are difficult to perceive.

He'll discover its marvelous balance on the curves and corners—its incredible quietness of operation—its extraordinary agility in the traffic lanes—and the reassuring action of its big, powerful brakes.

And so it will go—mile after mile—and revelation after revelation—until the discovery is complete... and the drive is ended.

And even then, one final, confirming fact will await him. For he will find that his travel has scarcely moved the needle on the fuel indicator!

Yes, the evidence will be abundant—and the verdict without question: This is the greatest motor car performance of all time!

If you haven't as yet taken a drive in a 1955 Cadillac, you ought to do so soon.

It's an education in all the things a motor car should be and do—and you owe it to yourself to get the report firsthand.

Stop in soon, won't you? We'll be most happy to give you the keys—any time!

Ibex Club Plans Three Meetings

Ibex will initiate the New Year with many informative meetings. The first is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on Friday, January 21, at the Grosse Pointe Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

Miss Irene Mischler will open the visit with brief sketches of ten best-sellers in current fiction. Robert Orr, Director of the Library, has arranged a complete tour to designate the outstanding design elements incorporated into the Library.

American Foreign Policy in Europe will be the topic of the lecture Jean Beliard, French Consul to Detroit, will speak on at the first meeting of the World Study Group of Ibex. Ibex members and their husbands will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crow, 784 Berkshire road, on Tuesday, January 11, at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Beliard, who studied at the University of Strasbourg and Paris, holds a doctor's degree in both Law and Economics. During World War II he was a member of the Free French Forces; later, after 26 months imprisonment, he escaped to join the Allied Forces in North Africa.

Having passed the Foreign Service Exam in 1945, Mr. Beliard was attaché at the French Embassy in Washington. By 1950 he had become First Secretary to the French Delegation to NATO and Deputy Head of Information for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Mr. Beliard's experiences qualify him as an authority in the field of foreign affairs.

On Thursday, February 10, at 2 p.m. for those in Ibex whose decorative schemes and home inspirations need rejuvenation from a winter decline, Mrs. William J. Young, Jr.'s House and Garden Group is planning a tour of the William Denier Studio, 77 Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe.

Mr. Denier will discuss the various fabrics, colors, and interior motifs which he has coordinated in different rooms of his studio.

The sting of defeat is well rewarded by consciousness of having fought for the right.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerhorn

When Gene du Pont and his wife came out to the Pointe to live during World War II, they organized a Club Limited which now has taken on national aspects. There are members from Palm Springs to Newport, all devoted to hunting. Mr. du Pont, whose originality we miss, had the thing set up as a sort of Hunt of the Month Club. It's members of this select group who are moving toward Havana, Cuba this week for a spot of dove shooting. Pointe Club Limited members going include Mr. and Mrs. Carsten Tiedeman, T. D. Buhl and Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Wadsworth. In the party as guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Macauley Jr. (their friends, the Brooks Walkers of California are meeting them at Veradero), Sammy Chapin, Ernest Kanzler, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Moran. Mr. and Mrs. Emory Moran are flying the Tiedemans over to Cuba in her plane.

Gaiety Continues

Busier and gayer than Christmas has been the past week in the Pointe. The Charles A. Deans Jr. gave a Sunday luncheon at their home, Ridgeland, for a trio of travelers: Ernest Kanzler, Mrs. Alian Shelden and Mrs. Roy D. Chapin. Mrs. Chapin and Mrs. Shelden have February plans for a trip to Greece and Turkey. Everyone is emerald-eyed over the wonderful travel plans of the Joseph S. Sherrers Jr., who will leave next month for a two-months cruise in the Mediterranean. The David A. Wallaces, of Lewiston road, Saturday evening gathered a group of friends most of whom will scatter soon toward the sun spots. It was dinner at the Wallaces. This Thursday evening, Mrs. T. D. Buhl's dinner at her Ridge road home also culls its guest list from many who are soon to leave on winter holidays.

The Walkers' Brunch

It was gloomy outdoors but Spring-like inside the Hunt Club Sunday afternoon for the post-holiday brunch given by Mr. and Mrs. Otis U. Walker of Balfour road. This is one of the Pointe's vintage parties, the first Sunday after the New Year long having been chosen by the Walkers for a big gala. The hosts and their sub deb daughter, Paula (a titian haired beauty) greeted guests in the club's lounge and everywhere you looked there were beautiful Spring flowers. Mrs. Walker's gown, a Christian Dior, was caramel taffeta, its full skirt widening smartly at the hem.

Toast

The wine industry will soon vote Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Vance Jr. their favorite Pointers... since at every appearance of the recently-wed couple, champagne is produced and a toast is drunk... In a very gracefully worded toast given by Mr. Walker, the Vances showed their prettiest smiles at the Sunday brunch. She wore a becoming gray frock with crisp white collar and small white chapeau. Then the Terry Kuhns were cause for another toast: their twelfth wedding anniversary. Mrs. Kuhns' trig black wool costume suit had tiny, round collar embroidered in crystals and pearls. With the Kuhns was her sister, Madelon Mitchell of Sunland, Calif. and in one of those exchange of addresses we watched take place at the party (someone said when this begins it's

Sorority Hears Marriage Talk

Mildred E. Perlis, Marriage Counselor, addressed Kappa Delta Sorority on Wednesday, January 12, at the home of Mrs. Russell Smith, 768 Loraine, Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Perlis drew from her broad experiences as a marriage counselor and spoke on: "Understanding Ourselves and Marriage."

Articles about Mrs. Perlis' work have appeared in the Cosmopolitan magazine, the London (England) Evening Standard, and in professional journals. She is a member of the National Council on Family Relations.

Mrs. Perlis pointed out, "Frequently the two parties in marriage need a new focus on the relationship. Marriage counseling can relieve tension and release each partner's potential to make a stronger, more satisfying marriage."

The person who is too busy to take care of his health is like a workman too busy to take care of his tools.

Club to Hear Dr. H. M. Merker

Dr. Harvey M. Merker, Director of Scientific Relations, Parke Davis and Company, will speak on "Medicine on the March" before the Grosse Pointe Women's Club on Wednesday, January 19, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

He will discuss the great strides and improved health that have resulted from the progress of medicine and pharmacy during recent years, including the latest on polio.

Last year, Dr. Merker was awarded the honorary degree of Engineering of the University of Michigan, his alma mater. This was in recognition of the great contributions he has made in the field of chemical engineering and his devotion to civic and scientific projects for the betterment of mankind.

Methodists Plan Benefit Party

The Martha Mary circle of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church has plans under way for an interesting benefit luncheon at the church on January 27 at 12:45 p.m.

Mrs. Dwight Struthers will review the book "The First Fifty Years in the White House." The entire afternoon will be built around the 12 months of the year theme, in that the tables will be placed in the social room in the pattern of the 12 numbers on the face of a clock. Starting with number 1 as January, each table for 12 will have a centerpiece depicting the things that happen and are celebrated that month.

The women are having great fun with friendly competition to see who can think up the most original table setting.

Mrs. Ernest Scherer is chairman for the day and Mrs. W. S. King is her willing assistant. Tickets are for sale.

Post Holiday Cocktail Party

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Carey again were hosts at their annual post holiday cocktail party held Sunday in their University place home.

Over a hundred guests were invited for the "first Sunday after the holidays" party. The Christmas greens had been replaced by spicy and pastel Spring flowers throughout the house.

The party also marked somewhat of a tenth anniversary for the Careys who moved in 1945 from Indian Village to the Pointe.

Mrs. Edwin Grant Scribner

At a late afternoon ceremony on Saturday, January 8, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, the Reverend Paul Ketchum united in marriage JANET FAY WEINHEIMER and Edwin Grant Scribner. Janet is the daughter of the Claude Weinheimers of Somerset road. Parents of the bridegroom are the Harvey A. Scribners of Winnetka, Illinois.

The bride wore a floor length gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle with a chapel train and a fingertip veil of silk illusion held by a cap of Chantilly lace. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Identical cocktail frocks of peacock blue crystalet and matching pumps were worn by the four attendants. Dusty pink carnations and camellia leaves formed the bridesmaids' bouquets and headbands.

Maid of honor, Mary Lou Schweizer came in from Lansing for the wedding. The three bridesmaids were Carolyn Smith of Grosse Pointe, Joan Weaver of Birmingham and Mrs. Robert Dusan of Clawson.

On the esquire side, the men in the wedding party were King MacBride of Hartland, Mich., best man. Ushers were Ronald Turnbull of Clio, John Frakes of Cleveland, Ohio; Richard Morches of Columbia City, Indiana; Dean Stoppel of East Lansing and Robert Mast of Grosse Pointe.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Weinheimer chose a navy blue street length lace dress and a pink hat. Pink camellias were pinned to her blue silk purse. ## Dance Planned By Center Club

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial opens its doors on Friday, January 14, at 9 p.m. to all who would like to join the Center Club in an evening of dancing to the Don Miller Trio.

Any young business or professional person in Grosse Pointe in the twenties or thirties is invited.

Dates are not necessary but all are welcome to bring a guest. There is a charge of $1.00 per person including refreshments.

Olps Enjoy Sun Tanned Holiday

Someday, Mr. and Mrs. M. Robert Olp, of Harvard road, and their young daughter, Mary Jo, are going to spend a Christmas in the Pointe.

But for the past several years, they've enjoyed the season in some far-off place. For a while it was cruises that tempted the Olps out to sea at Christmas.

More recently they've preferred Florida.

This year, Mr. and Mrs. Olp picked up Mary Jo at her Monroe Academy studies and headed for Florida. They fell in love with Atlanta, Ga., and had Christmas dinner at Ormond Beach's Eleanor Village.

Visits in Golden Beach and Key West rounded out the Southern travels and the Olps came back to the Pointe last week-end.

Square Dancing Class Starting

A class for beginning square dancers will start on Wednesday, January 19, at the Monteth School, Cook road and Chautauque, at 8:15 p.m. Wes and Julie Rea, Grosse Pointe's popular callers will be the instructors.

This will be the last opportunity for beginners until next fall. Grosse Pointe probably has more square dancers per capita than any other area in the State of Michigan. A large majority of the dancers received their original instruction in classes taught by the Reas and sponsored by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

The class will meet every other Wednesday, January 19; February 2 and 16; March 2, 9 and 23. It will be limited in size. You may make your reservation by calling the Department of Community Services, TU. 5-3808 or TU. 5-0271.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Tests show that filberts, almonds and peanuts keep better than pecans and walnuts. All nuts keep best unsalted, at cool temperatures and in tight containers.

Fortnighters To Hold Dance

"Swing your partners, do-si-do, 'round and around and around you go" will be heard from all parts of the gym at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Friday evening, January 14, when the Fortnighters hold a square dance with popular Julie and Wes Rae doing the "calling".

Dancers of all ages will be welcomed at 8:30 for three hours of continuous fun. Rae Garber and Donald Kuhn will collect tickets at the door of the gym.

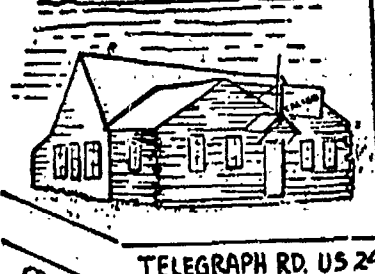

Robert Knell heads the refreshments committee. Mrs. Knell, David Coolidge and John Duncan will assist him.

A gay atmosphere for the party will be provided by the decorations committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O'Dell.

Publicity is being handled by Mrs. Wallace Ehrlich and Mrs. David Coolidge.

Admission to the square dance is $1.00 per person and tickets may be purchased from any members of the Fortnighters, from the church office on Lake Shore road, or right at the door the night of the dance.

Father and the Christmas tree never suffer from lack of trimming.

Parents of Exceptional Children Holding Third Meeting Jan. 20

The Parents of Exceptional Children in Grosse Pointe, will have its third meeting Thursday evening, January 20 at 8:30 p.m. The parents will meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drake, 668 St. Clair avenue, and any parent interested is cordially invited to attend.

Upon realizing that there was no such group in the community to deal with the better acceptance of the exceptional child, several families met to organize the parent organization.

Great strides have been made so far and with research being conducted by interested doctors as well as many people, much is being done to improve the general condition of these children. But therapy and education are not enough, for in order for these children to accept themselves, the public must do so.

Given the opportunity, these handicapped children can do a great deal, and in many instances become more intelligent and capable in certain fields than their normal brothers and sisters.

It is the desire of the parent organization not only to better inform the community of the educational and social needs of these youngsters, but to help other parents with similar situations to a better understanding and to acquaint them of the help there is to be given.

Fortunately Grosse Pointe does not have too many exceptional children, but there are many different types of handicap represented.

There are those parents whose children have cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, hemiplegia, and mental retardation, not only to mention a few.

These parents are joining forces, not limiting their group to any one type or degree of limitation, feeling that something can be done for all. The satisfaction derived from knowing other families with an exceptional child, has in itself been most beneficial and certainly a stimulating experience.

Any parent interested in this group is cordially invited to the January 20 meeting or is urged to get in touch with Mrs. John Bockstanz, Tuxedo 2-8818, or Mrs. George Wedge, Valley 4-3013.

Mothers' Health Education Council Hears Psychologist

If your nine-year-old boys builds a tree house, he isn't necessarily aspiring to be Tarzan — "it's just his age," according to Miss Doris Forsythe, psychologist for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

Speaking at the last meeting of the Grosse Pointe Mothers' Health Education Council, she pointed out that though each child is a distinct personality, certain characteristics are typical of every age. Messy bedrooms and poorly-made beds, for example, are the rule for the busy nine-year-old.

As background material for her talk, Miss Forsythe used a mental hygiene movie titled "From the Social Sixes to the Noisy Nines," which showed the lives of two families in a suburban community similar to Grosse Pointe. The film was jam-packed with noisy, normal children's activities which the movie parents handled with all the deftness, patience and wisdom that could be shown. The parents' good humor and tolerance seemed to come not from a rule book, but from their innate understanding and love.

One of the finest impressions the movie left was that the parents were happy to do things with their children, even to Mom's taking her turn at bat, and Dad playing parcheesi when he would have preferred reading the evening paper.

The film pointed out that complete family harmony is an utopian ideal. Where there is a family there is bound to be conflict, which is not all to the bad. The conflicts, when freely discussed, lead to growth and progress in character development.

To accomplish this, the movie families held weekly councils in a relaxed atmosphere around the dining table, where they discussed grievances, one against the other, put in requests for new shoes, raises in allowances, and the parents pointed out certain flaws in the way chores were left undone and new ones were assigned. Plans for fun also were made.

Reading aloud to the children at bedtime is especially important, Miss Forsythe felt. She said that up to the age of six, children find it easy to be demonstrative in their affection for their parents, but gradually this natural warmth is withdrawn and "opportunities to show affection grow less." Sharing reading experiences develops an intimacy which can supplant overt display. Some children and adults who seem "cold" and show "forced affection" may easily have been repressed early with no normal channels opened for them.

The children in the movie liked the trips to libraries, museums, the zoo and picnics immensely because the parents tried to let them "enjoy them in their own way." They did this by not imposing adult standards, wisely recognizing that "childhood has values for itself." In her only criticism of the film Miss Forsythe said she challenged the statement that "childhood is not a preparation for adulthood" as being too extended a concept.

To Grosse Pointe parents Miss Forsythe made a special plea. Here we have parents who for the most part have made great successes in their work professionally, or in business endeavors. Father is a top-notch in his field. Mother has perhaps had a successful career. The general social, economic level inclines to higher than average. Parents are apt to build up "Self-images" in setting the pace they would like to see their children keep up, and sometimes foolishly prod their children, making comparisons with friends' children or brothers and sisters.

Speaking earnestly, Miss Forsythe said "We have a continually higher goal that we set for them" instead of finding satisfaction in their special talents and individualities. When a child continually is measured against others, as in the matter of school grades, number of social engagements and approved friends, he can't help suffering from a feeling of inadequacy. Miss Forsythe stressed that as parents "we need continually to help build up a feeling of adequacy in the child."

Mrs. S. M. Skeen, president of the Council, and Dr. Mary Stelhorn, program chairman, both voiced the members' feeling in thanking Miss Forsythe for her fine talk.

"We can all go home with the happy feeling that our children are pretty typical of their ages, and make a new try at being ideal mothers," said Mrs. Skeen.

Park Projects Nearly Finished

The Park council on Monday, January 10, approved payments of two large bills for construction jobs done in the city.

One bill, for $29,891.40, was authorized to be paid to the construction company which had been engaged to build a new east seawall in the waterfront park. However $100 of the payment was withheld until the company completes minor repairs on the wall.

The other bill, for $20,055.10 was ordered paid for the installation of a new 16-inch forced drain sewer, which was tapped in to the west gate on East Jefferson on the Detroit side.

The new sewer runs from the Park pumping station, on the Maryland side to west of Jefferson, where it is connected to the Detroit sewer.

The council okayed payment now of $16,486.29 on the sewer job, and the balance when the construction company repaves the sections of the streets which had to be dug up to install the pipes. In connection with the installation of the new sewer line, the Park received two letters, one from the State Water Resources Commission and the other from residents in the vicinity of Fox Creek in which the city was complimented on having the sewer line installed.

Both letters, read by City Manager Everett B. Lane, stated that as a result of the new line, pollution of Fox Creek, long a menace to health and sightliness, has been cleared up.

Let's Keep It Clean

Smoke nuisance is in the limelight once again, though it has never been obscured for those who have had to live with it. It has regained the local news headlines because the Board of Education, some of whose school buildings have been among the chief offenders, has announced that it will do everything in its power to get rid of the nuisance.

It is high time, and it is to be hoped that the board and all other owners of buildings which contribute to this unnecessary evil, will press action until a complete elimination has been accomplished.

Those residents and business owners whose properties are located within the blighting circle of these smoke blankets have exhibited an exemplary patience which should be tried no further. If it was possible to lift the haze from a city the size of Pittsburgh, with all its manufacturing plants, including myriad steel mills, it should certainly not be a back nor budget-breaking job to accomplish the same thing in a residential community that boasts complete freedom from industry.

This paper has commented editorially on the subject previously, and has urged action on the part of the municipalities towards the end of enforcing existing smoke nuisance ordinances.

The High School building has been cited as one of the chief offenders, partially because it is the largest piece of individual architecture in the Pointe area and its tall chimney constitutes a landmark that makes its offensive belching most noticeable.

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms, in which the High School is located, conducted a survey last March. In April, Murray Smith, city engineer, sent a letter to the Board of Education, citing this and other sooty emanations such as from the Richard School. The city served notice that if corrections were not made, the board would be cited for violations of the ordinance. Nine months later, some assurance is forthcoming that everything possible will be done to eliminate the nuisances.

It has been learned that during the early summer months two residents of Lincoln road, in the direct line of the filthy blast from the High School chimney, did something more concrete than merely lodge objections with the powers that be. They devoted a considerable amount of their personal time to looking into the matter to see what remedies were available for such a situation.

They conferred with authorities of Detroit, talked with smoke abatement engineers and visited plants devoted to the manufacture of equipment which will get rid of such nuisances. They turned all their information over to the president of the Board of Education and followed up with phone calls, asking for relief.

School officials report they have consulted with heating engineers to learn about the proper coal and best stoking methods to reduce the smoke nuisance, but as far as the residents of Lincoln road are concerned, there has been little improvement. As of this week they could still see heavy, black smoke billowing sickeningly from the school tower, and the women in the neighborhood were still complaining bitterly about the grit and grime deposited in their homes.

The Mondry Cleaning establishment is located in Fisher road, even closer to their homes than the High School. It too, was guilty of besmirching the surrounding area. But, contrary to the non-action of the school board, this company rushed to remedy the situation as soon as it heard the complaints of the neighbors. At great expense, it ripped out its coal-burning boilers and installed oil-burning equipment and the nuisance has been eliminated.

The School Board says the High School boilers have but a few years' use left in them and they will be replaced by oil burners. They say it would cost $18,000 to install a precipitator which is guaranteed to eliminate all the smoke and soot. They do not see any justification for spending this money now, when the nuisance will be eliminated in a few years by the change-over to oil furnaces.

This makes sense, even to the residents of the neighborhood who have been the chief sufferers, providing they can count on a termination of their troubles that soon. They aren't completely assured, because of their knowledge that after they had gone to all the trouble last summer to get facts and figures for the educators, the schools went right out and bought another year's supply of just about the cheapest coal available. The firing-up of the boilers in the fall started the black plague all over again.

The schools, of course, are not the only offenders in this matter. They are the most vulnerable to criticism because of their numbers, and because the Board of Education has to come back fairly regularly to the taxpayers, asking for more money to build new structures. Such pleas find a sorry reaction among those residents whose mouths and minds are full of the bad taste of foul smoke.

Modern engineering has provided methods to eliminate the smoke nuisance in such a community as the Pointe. We have no industry, and no geographical pocket such as Los Angeles, where heavy air can trap all the contamination that gets into the atmosphere.

There is simply no excuse for such a condition to exist here. All of the municipalities have laws which prohibit such offenses. It is time they were used to completely clear our air. The residents will expect their elected officials to crack down on every violator, be it a public building, a private enterprise, or a private home. Let's have a good clean fight.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"But still, when the mists of doubt prevail,
And we lie becalmed by the shores of Age,
We hear from the misty troubled shore
The voice of the children gone before,
Drawing the soul to its anchorage."
(Francis Bretton Harte)

We know something Bud Guest would probably like to know... so we shall beat him to the draw unless he sneaks it in before the Grosse Pointe News is on the street. Writing for a weekly newspaper often has its drawbacks. For instance, we will hear a printable joke on Monday nights and before we can get it in the column, some joker on a daily has already used it. Ye olde editor has his headaches also. His editorial, which is at the print shop and all set in type by Monday night... is apt to contain the same material that some writer on the dailies hits on and come out with before we have a chance.

Anyways... to get back to what we know: How did the Detroit Tigers come to be known as "Tigers"? Give up? Weeeeeee!!!, in 1830 the 425th Infantry Regiment was formed in Detroit and was known as the "Light Guard of Detroit." Their symbol was a Tiger... and that's where the ball club picked up the name for the team. Now isn't that exciting? Pryor knows but EVERYTHING!

One of our resolutions for '55 is to pick on everyone else's mistakes as our's are hopped on. Our first "pick" is on Dick Osgood for an item in his Sunday column which reads: "Now it can be told: 134,679 people responded to Steve Allen's one-time invitation to get into a drawing for five free appliances." Now then, if Mr. Osgood would read our column as faithfully as we read his, he would have seen that item in Grosse Exaggerations about a month ago and he would also have seen that the figure was 441,976 cards that Allen received. We heard the program the night of the drawing and they announced the number at that time. Tsk, tsk, tsk, Mr. O. (We ought to change the name of this column to "Much Ado About Nothing!")

The guy who started the "How to read properly" school is going to get us all into trouble if we don't watch out. We saw some of these examples on t-v and they are just about as scary as an antique moustache cup. According to their theory, you don't have to read every word... you just read down the left or right side of the page and the other words are supposed to sink into your subconscious without your knowing it!

We tried this method out on a small paragraph in the New Yorker. What we ACTUALLY read was: "Southern Colonial Virginia, called 'Adult' one admitted old." The rest of the story must have slipped so far down into our subconscious that it never did penetrate the surface. We STILL don't know what it was all about, so it looks as if we will have to go back to the old system of reading every word.

Another example of this atom-age reading and what the world will come to if it continues... made itself clear to us the other day while we were riding on the bus. We sat behind two women... one of whom was talking about some murders. There is nothing like a murder to cock Pryor's good ear. We listened in horror as she told her companion about this "girl" who killed three people by horrible methods... and she wondered what would happen to her. When the other woman asked "How old is she?" the relator answered: "Only NINE years old."

This was too much for even US... so we butted into the conversation and asked the gruesome twosome where this dastardly thing occurred. "Right here in Detroit," answered our informant. When we protested that we hadn't read any such tale in the newspapers, she said the whole story was written up in Life magazine, and with PICTURES yet!

We left the bus at the next stop, dashed to a magazine emporium and bought the Life she said the story was in. It WAS all right... and if we had the woman with us now we'd give her an arsenic cocktail. The TRUE story in the magazine, complete with pictures, was a review of a play in New York called "Bad Seed" in which a nine year old child did indeed kill three "actors" and is finally bumped off by her foster mother who sees no hope for her. The article describes the child's wonderful acting and on and on and on. Short cut reading, indeed!

Since acquiring our new and plushy rugs throughout the house, we have formed a peculiar and Chinesey habit of asking people to take their shoes off before entering a room! We got this fantastic idea because the first day the rugs were down, some jerk came in and tromped mud all over the light beige dream. We could have screamed... in fact we did. Fortunately our neighbors (who have probably always suspected us of being a little odd anyway), don't seem to mind complying with our request.

HOWEVER, dealing with workmen and messengers is something else again. Last week, on a particularly muddy day, a man came to return our fixed radio. He was just about to put his foot on the first carpeted step, when we yelled, "PLEASE take your shoes off." He put the radio down and stared at us as if we had just blown a gasket. Then he picked the radio up again, looked at his feet and announced "I sin't gonna take my shoes off for no one!"

We explained in careful school teacher (first grade) tones, that the rugs were new, they were light in color, it was rainy outdoors, feet pick up dirt, etc. etc. etc. While we were speech-making, Ruffy the wild cat and Mr. Dickens BOTH strode into the hall to see what was going on. The little delivery man took one look at them and said: "What about them cats?" It began to be too much. We took the radio from him and ushered him out the door. Now, we wish we hadn't been so hasty. It would be satisfying to know what he meant. That the cats muddy up the joint so why shouldn't HE? Or, if he DID take his shoes off would the cats claw his feet to pieces? OR could he have had a hole in his sock that he didn't want them to see? There are all kinds of possibilities in his question, "What about them cats?" but alas! we shall never know.

This meeting will be held in the War Memorial Center starting at 8 p.m. on Thursday, January 20. The election of officers for 1955 is to be made from a slate selected by the Club's nominating committee augmented by the additional nominations presented at the December meeting. ## What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

From the earliest times, inns and inn-keepers have been surrounded by an aura of romance, color and drama and writers have delighted to pen their chronicles.

In the middle ages Chaucer used the Tabard Inn as a framework to hold his tales together, tales told by a company of 29 pilgrims on a journey to the shrine of Saint Thomas a Becket in Canterbury. This might be said to correspond to the time in that trip was a popular one of the day and the travelers who took it represented all walks of life.

The agreement made by the company, you will recall, was that each member should tell one tale, both going and returning and the one telling the best tale was to be treated to a supper at the Tabard upon the return. It's a far cry from the Tabard Inn of centuries ago to the Hilton Hotels of 1954 but the ingredients which together make up the successful inn-keeper would appear to be much the same, then as now. Biographers of these colorful characters concur that the maitre d'hotel who achieves greatness, even though he may work his way to fame and fortune, must to some extent be born to his calling.

Much has been written in periodicals about Conrad Hilton, one of the world's greatest hoteliers and two biographies about him have been published within four years' time. "The Silver Spade" by Whitney Bolton is a recent publication which gets its title from the spade with the silver plaque on its handle that was first used to break ground for the Hilton Hotel in Dallas in 1925 and has been used ever since for each new site.

The author points out that to write an up-to-date biography of such a person is well-nigh impossible because he moves so quickly that "within a lone day after the book has been published he may accomplish a feat which pales all the preceding and recorded feats." This is, of course, exactly what happened. Just as the book was to go to press Hilton announced the acquisition of all the Statler Hotels. World-wide expansion of his dreams is happening so fast with plans ranging as far as India and Pakistan that his managers joke among themselves "Which one of us will be assigned to open and manage the North Pole Hilton?" The Silver Spade is the interesting life story of the creator of a fabulous hotel empire.

The earlier biography of Conrad Hilton, "Man Who Bought the Waldorf," by T. E. Dabney was published in 1950. This biographer had the same problem of timing as did Bolton. Hilton's purchase of the Waldorf Astoria came after the book had started through the press and the publishers held up publication to change the title and include the story of his purchase of that hotel.

"Oscar of the Waldorf" by Karl Schriftgiesser tells the life story of the famous maitre d'hotel who for over 50 years greeted the celebrities at the Waldorf Astoria until he himself became a celebrity. This has the Horatio Alger theme of a Swiss immigrant boy who becomes one of the world's most famous hosts. Your library has a copy of this, although it is now out of print.

A landmark at the corner of Pennsylvania and Fourteenth street in Washington, just a stone's throw from the White House, is a notable hotel which dates back a hundred years or more. Garnett L. Eskew in his recent book, "Willard's of Washington," tells the story of this colorful institution which has seen history made within its walls since before the Civil War and which has served as a backdrop for gatherings of the great and near-great. The two Willard brothers are distinct characters and the book abounds in humorous and lively anecdotes. The hotel passed from the hands of the Willard heirs about eight years ago and is now owned by Maxwell Abbeil.

Written over 15 years ago and now out of print, "Tales of a Wayward Inn," by Frank Case, the genial and engaging proprietor of the Algonquin Hotel in New York remains one of the most amusing books in hotel lore. Your library still has a copy.

K. P. Abbott's "Open for the Season" is also good for many a chuckle. These reminiscences of one who with his father before him completed the 130th consecutive season of their resort hotel have a touch of New England flavor.

Many a man fails because he keeps too big an account with bad luck in his mental book-keeping.

Cataracts

By FRED M. KOPP, R.P.H.

A cataract is a cloudy formation that develops on the lens of the eye causing partial or complete blindness.

Cataracts may appear at any age, they are common among elderly people. Complications before birth, heredity, and injury are all sources of such a condition, doctors tell us.

Surgeons restore eyesight in about ninety per cent of all patients, and it is a necessity, for should the cataract be allowed to remain it will in all probability destroy the entire lens of the eye.

Visits to a doctor should be a regular at least once a year appointment. And always have in mind a druggist upon whom you can depend for prompt action in an emergency.

This is the 426th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

How to Profit Through Tax Exemption

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.
If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investing the savings of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How to Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone.

proof the party is a success!) we learned that the lovely Mitchell of California lives on Florida street!

Intercepted Conversations

Overhears are always best at a brunch. One exchange between two of the feminine guests has us wondering: Lady A—"How's your bowling these days?" Lady B—"Just wonderful. I won a turkey last week." And tones, emanating through the hall from the gentleman's powder room: "You know we're world-wide now."

Brunch Chatter

Al Quator's Orchestra provided peppy tunes for the guests... Isn't it fun, dancing on a Sunday afternoon!... and on the dance floor we glimpsed: Mr. and Mrs. James Trudell... the Walter S. Clarks (she in navy silk coin dotted in white with white crushed mousseline de soie an attractive trim at the low neckline)... Mr. and Mrs. M. Chalmers Redfern... Walter Halla... Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mulford... Mr. and Mrs. Boniface Meli (He just got back from Europe)... Mr. and Mrs. Dick Degener (she looked wonderful in slim black frock and bittersweet velvet hat)... Dr. and Mrs. Laurence A. Pratt (doctor spent the New Year's week-end at Manitou in a real wilderness lodge)... at midnight he and a doctor friend turned on TV and watched how Times Square was taking it... then snapped off the set and listened to the winds of the north h-o-w-l)... Mrs. Pratt's radiant emerald frock was worn with knock-out velvet hat of the very same shade... Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porritt... Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Leisen... Mr. and Mrs. David Ireland Jr. (he couldn't be coaxed to sing but we got a series of reports on his wonderful tenor!)... Mr. and Mrs. W. O'Neill Kronner having a lot of fun on land for a commode (GPYC) and his lady... the James Quellos (her father, the famous Dad Butler is celebrating an eighty-fifth birthday in March)...

In Good Voice

When cute Paula Walker had finished receiving with her parents, she and her friends Carole Williams and Carol Laird took off for sub deb fun... and we went back to the guest list to note that the over one hundred guests included, too: Mrs. and Mrs. Theodore G. Osius (beaming as friends said again what a beautiful wedding son Ted and the lovely Katherine Watkins had in Ann Arbor)... Mrs. John Bowes, in black velvet and mink, leaving early to hurry home to the ailing Mr. B., a flu bug victim... Dr. and Mrs. Elden C. Baumgarten... Tom Sheahan... the Edmund Bradys... Mr. and Mrs. Harrison T. Watson... the Richard B. McMahon who drove in from Jackson for the gala... Mr. and Mrs. John T. Allmand... the William Teeters... Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Maguire... the J. F. Forsters... Mr. and Mrs. George T. Jerome... the James Ogdens... the George Eversmans... And the guests were in very good voice indeed when they gave out with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" to honor their host...

Dearborn auto worker says, "No family should risk being without Blue Cross-Blue Shield"

"If every family knew what we know about Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mr. Hernandez, "no one would be without it. It's just that good! Look what happened to us this year. Our 10-year-old son, Peter, had a terrible accident in the backyard. He had burns all over his legs. He was in one hospital for 88 days, and then in another for 32. Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered the entire hospital bill—all but sixty cents in phone calls. And Blue Shield paid $300 to our doctor. We would have been out $3,000 if we hadn't had Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

Your family could be the 1 in 3 that will have an unexpected hospital bill in 1955! If so, how would you pay it? Wouldn't you be a lot safer with protection like the kind that saved over $3,000 for Mr. Hernandez?

Join the over 3 million Michigan people who have Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost group coverage. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Call or write: Blue Cross-Blue Shield, 441 E. Jefferson Ave., Detroit, Michigan. Phone WO. 5-2700.

Nuptial Vows Spoken By Barbara Slocum

Flowers promising Spring were used at the wedding of Barbara Leone (Lee) Slocum and Alan F. Mayer, who spoke their vows Wednesday, Jan. 5, at a ceremony in Old Christ Church on East Jefferson avenue.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Larry Slocum, is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Werner Slocum of Lake Shore road. Mr. Mayer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick Mayer of Taunton, Mass.

White Spring flowers were used in vases at either side of the altar at the 11 o'clock ceremony.

Over a background of blush pink satin, Lee wore a full-skirted opera-length gown of all over white lace. Its off-shoulder neckline was filled in with illusion yoke and sleeves of the fitted bodice were elbow length.

The bridal veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by tiny Juliet of lace and she carried white camellias and ivy in the wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Philip A. MacKelvie, of Riverside, Calif., as matron of honor was her sister's only attendant. Her pastel gold taffeta frock had tucked bodice attached to very full, waltz length skirt and she wore a band of deep brown velvet ribbon in her hair.

Repeating the Spring flower motif, Mrs. MacKelvie carried blue iris and daffodils.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, W. Chester Cobb, of Providence, R. I., was best man and seating guests was Lieut. Philip A. MacKelvie.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Slocum chose a silver-gray wool costume suit with beading.

Dearborn housewife says, "Be without Blue Cross-Blue Shield? Not my family!"

"After our recent experience," says Mrs. Pebley, "my husband and I know that the best investment any family can make is Blue Cross-Blue Shield. I went to the hospital last September. Stayed for 27 days. You have no idea how quickly the costs can run up. Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered almost $1,300 in hospital bills, and all we had to pay was around $50. Blue Shield paid $340 to my doctor, too. The costs would have been a terrific blow to us if we hadn't had Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

It could happen to your family! In fact, 1 in every 3 Michigan families will have an unexpected hospital bill in 1955! That's why it's so important to be protected against the cost of hospital and doctor care! And, for the little it costs you, there's none finer than Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Join the over 3 million Michigan people who have Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost group coverage. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Call or write: Blue Cross-Blue Shield, 441 E. Jefferson Ave., Detroit Michigan. Phone WO. 5-2700.

outlining the blouse neckline and used again on the jacket collar. She pinned green orchids to her handbag.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. William J. Werner, was in navy silk with small navy chapeau and white orchids.

Following the church service, Mrs. Slocum entertained at a reception and wedding breakfast in the Detroit Yacht Club. Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding and reception was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. W. Chester Cobb.

When the newly-married Mayers left for their wedding trip to Florida, the bride changed to a mauve tuxedo suit with which she wore a small navy velvet cloche and navy accessories.

The Mayers will make their future home in Chicago, where the bridegroom is a chemical engineer with the Arthur Hoffman Co.

Blue Devils Move to Top Of B.C.L. Basketball Heap

Grosse Pointe's basketball team rang a bell all around the Border Cities League last Friday, January 7, with a 67-55 victory over Monroe on the Trojans' home court.

The victory coupled with Fordson's surprise win over unbeaten Highland Park enabled Coach Howard MacAdam's surprising quintet to move into sole possession of first place in the red hot B.C.L. race. Currently, Grosse Pointe, Fordson and Highland Park are ranked in that order behind unbeaten Dearborn in the State Class A standings.

Barry, Follis Star
Sparkling the Blue Devils' surge to victory over the Trojans were Tom Barry and Dan Follis, who scored 38 of the Pointers' total, with Barry getting 21 points on 10 field goals and a free throw. However, Barry was forced to share scoring honors with Monroe's tenth grade hot shot, Jerry Oney, who paced the Trojans with a like amount.

Follis was particularly impressive both on offense and defense, driving the backboards with the ferocity of a young bull and giving the Pointers the edge in the rebound department. Veteran Johnny Russell had a bad night in the scoring department, getting only 13 points, but he was there when he was needed and contributed much to the Devils' defense.

MISS OPENING CHANCE
Grosse Pointe grabbed the opening tip off on a lightning-like play but missed the score which enabled the Trojans to chalk up the first point of the game on a free throw. This was the only time the Trojans held the lead, as the Devils charged back for four quick baskets and held an 8 to 1 lead after one minute of play.

The Pointers continued their attack throughout the first half and after holding a 20 to 11 margin at the end of the first period managed to leave the court at halftime with a 37 to 27 lead.

The third quarter saw the Pointers move into an eleven point, 52-41, lead at the end of the period and then sag a bit while the Trojans gave their followers a chance to yell when they moved to within 5 points of a tie, with a couple of minutes remaining in the game. The Trojan spectators' cheering only seemed to spur the Pointers on and they came out of their shell to surge to their important 12-point victory.

McGinty Shows Spark
Lanky Denny McGinty helped the Devils' cause in the first half with ten points and appears to be coming into his own.

The Devils' outshot their rivals from the floor, 26 to 16, but fell a little short at the foul line percentage-wise. The Trojans clicked on 13 of 23 charity tosses while the Pointers connected 15 times in 28 attempts. Guard Hal Sommersfield was the best foul shooter for the Pointers, making good on 4 of 6 tries, but he had to take a back seat to Monroe's Bud Turner who made 4 for 4.

Even though the victory vaulted his team to the top of the

Reserves Win Over Trojans

It took three league games before Grosse Pointe's reserve basketball team could chalk up a league win, but they turned the trick against Monroe by rushing them off their feet, 58 to 47, on the Trojans' home floor. The win gave the reserve team a record of two wins and two losses and a two and one record in B.C.L. play.

It was strictly a team victory with Coach Bud Kurvink using all 12 players on his squad.

MacDonald Paces Devils
Kenny MacDonald paced the Pointers with a 14-point production to capture individual scoring honors on five field goals and 4 free throws. MacDonald's teammate Bob Gilbert, notched runner-up honors with 10 points. As a matter of fact every member of the squad with the exception of two hit the nets for scores.

It was an even ball game in the first quarter with the Pointers winding up on top, 9 to 8. The Devils broke the game wide open in the second period and left the court at halftime holding a 23 to 17 margin.

POINTERS CONFUSE RIVALS
A full court press was employed by the Devils throughout the last two periods and it completely confused the Trojans who fell behind 42 to 32 in the third stanza and even farther during the last eight minutes of play.

The Trojans had only one consolation and that was at the free throw line where they collected on 11 of 20 attempts while the Pointers were missing 13 of 21 tries. However, the Pointers were far superior from the floor, outshooting the Trojans 25 to 13.

Coach Kurvink is still looking for a center and when he finds a lad who can play the position the Pointers' attack will really jell into a unit. The Devils will next meet Wyandotte on the Bears' home floor on Friday, January 14.

Ahh, but here is where the plan begins to jell. Highland Park is figured to be a much weakened team the second trip around, and will be figured to lose to both Grosse Pointe and Fordson. That would create a three-way tie for the title. As it stands now the Blue Devils must beat Highland Park in both games of the home and home series. If they can do that, it will mean another championship coming the way of Grosse Pointe High.

FEAR ROYAL OAK
However, there's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip and Royal Oak appears to enjoy the role of "spoiler" and could knock off any one of the three top teams, thus throwing the race into a mad scramble right down to the wire.

Blue Devil players aren't figuring any farther than the next game, which is with Wyandotte on the Bears' home floor next Friday, January 14.

This year's squad is using the same formula the Devils' football team did while it was moving to the State championship last fall. The players are holding meetings on their own to discuss the next ball game. This is something the kids thought up all by themselves.

The coach has nothing to do with it, but he is happy the practice has carried over from the Pointers' successful football season and so far it is working like a charm.

Delta Gamma Alumnae
To Meet on January 18

The Delta Gamma Alumnae Chapter of Grosse Pointe will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Hubbard, 61 Musfoka, on Tuesday, January 18, at 8 p.m.

Speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Stuart Bais, Regent of the University of Michigan, who will discuss "Modern Trends in College."

All Delta Gamma members are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Girls' Cage Loop Full of Action

The St. Paul Jr. Varsity must have practiced hard over the Yule holidays as they almost whipped the mighty St. Paul Sr. Varsity in the first game of the Girls' Basketball League at the Neighborhood Club last Thursday, January 6.

Center Christine Geist led her team to a 23 to 14 victory over the younger set, with Mary Sutherland pumping in most of the Jr.'s 14 points. Runner-up in scoring honors for the Sr.s was Pat Cavanaugh, while Joyce Barton and Joan Hinz (with her sprained finger and all) shared the rest of the Jr.'s' points. Both teams committed nine fouls.

The Dribblers who went on to an easy 35 to 8 victory over the Streamliners are now in a second place tie with the St. Paul Jr. Varsity. Janet Wesner set the scoring pace for the Dribblers while Sandy Loynd racked up most of the losers' points. At half time the Streamliners had their total score and the Dribblers had 15. Six fouls were called, two on the Dribblers and four on the Streamliners.

This evening's games in the Junior Division will feature the St. Paul Jr.s vs. the Dribblers at 6:30, with the victor stepping into the second place mark. The Streamliners and the St. Paul Sr.s will play at 7:15.

The league's big upset occurred when the CYO-A girls defeated the hard-working Hoppers, 20 to 19, with a half time score 6-16 to 9 favoring the victors. Leading the Hoppers in high scoring was some of her usual beautiful long shots was Suzanne "Pepsey" Pepinski. Gloria Strehlau led CYO-A rough and tough game was witnessed by all who watched even though referee Carol Gates only called 12 fouls.

The WAFs from Selfridge Field had an easy victory over the CYO-B team and only had to play three quarters to get it. The final score sheet showed a 46 to 4 decision. However, according to the rule book the game is officially entered as a 2 to 0 victory for the WAFs, as the CYO-B girls with 14 fouls and not enough substitutes, were forced to forfeit the game. Sharing the WAFs' scoring honors were Ruth Bragg and Jean Keener.

St. Paul Flyers Conquer St. Thomas Cage Quintet

By Dan Wemoff

It took almost three full basketball periods for the St. Paul Flyers to get their big guns centered on target, but when they did the result was an exploding 58-44 victory over St. Thomas in the Big Ten Parochial Conference opener played at the Neighborhood Club last Friday, January 7.

The Flyers' stunning performance in the latter stages of the third quarter turned the trick after both teams had utilized near football tactics throughout the first half.

A 20 point machine-like production in the third stanza vaulted the Flyers far out in front.

Two Giants Collaborate
Coach Eddie Lauer's giant forwards Jim Ayrault (6 feet 4) and Tim Trombly, standing a half inch taller, collaborated for 29 points, with most of their shots coming on rebounds directly beneath the St. Thomas basket.

Ayraul tallied 15 points and Trombly hooped 14 but both had to take a back seat to Bobby Wright, the Flyers' flashy play maker, who notched 20 points for individual honors.

The game opened on a fast pace that was telling to both teams. Because of the speed with which both outfits operated, the first half was packed with personal fouls and Timmy Trombly was almost lost to the Flyers in the first period when collected his fourth personal.

Makes Strategic Move
Coach Eddie Lauer pulled his lanky forward from the contest in hopes he would cool off a bit and it was a strategic move, as when Trombly went back into the game the teams had settled down to some serious basketball.

game will feature the two CYO teams followed by the Hoppers vs. Metropolitan Club at 9. The WAFs will draw the bye.

Keglers Battle In Second Half

Last Thursday night the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League got its second half under way. Biggest upset of the night was pulled by the first half cellar dwellers, the Grosse Pointe Curtains who knocked off the power-laden Barrett's five for two points.

The curtainmen had only won seven points in the first 16 weeks of bowling.

Big gun for the winning team was E. Greishelmer who came through with a big 604 series on games of 165, 185 and 254.

DeRonne's, the first half winners, were bowled over by the Miller team for three points. The Bruce Wigle team, runners-up in the first half, also lost three points to the Hermann team.

Although there were no season marks broken, twenty-two 200 or better scores were posted. They were made by DeRonne 235, D. Bookwala 225, DeYonker 222, DeRider, Altobelli 221, Anderson 220, Simon 218, Bernard 214, 205, Steiner 213, Petracci, Boyer 209, Hobbs, Capozzoli 208, Hall 207, Bell, Stanley 204, Baeten 202, Curtin, Sarcona 201, and Kelley 200.

Eversman Breaks Record As Devil Swimmers Win

The Grosse Pointe swimming team got back on the winning side of the overall ledger when it scored its first Border Cities League victory of the season by beating Monroe, 50 to 34, last Friday, January 7.

The win gave the Pointers a record of three wins against two losses in the current season. Both losses came at the hands of league opponents Fordson and Royal Oak.

TAKE EARLY LEAD
The Devils jumped right off to a lead in the first event and continued to increase it until Brad Boydell, the transfer student from Florida, won the 120-yard individual medley, with his teammate Bennett churning in for a third place to clinch the meet.

The final two relay events were strictly anti-climax and only served to cap off the successful meet for the Pointers.

BEATS ADAMSKI'S MARK
The highlight of the meet was veteran Wait Eversman's record-breaking performance in the 100-yard backstroke event in which Eversman clipped one-tenth of a second off Don Adamski's old mark of 1:01.6 set last January.

Eversman was a happy kid and his teammates almost beat his back to a pulp with congratulatory slaps. Wait will be lost to the Devils after January graduation exercises and has two more meets before that time.

One of them will be a home meet against Wyandotte on January 14. This will be Eversman's last chance to drop the mark even lower in hopes it will stand as long as Ed Oliver's record in this event did before Adamski cracked it last year.

Oliver set his record in 1936 and it was the only mark on the Pointers' record book that withstood hundreds of attacks over the 17-year period.

DEGNER WINS OPENER
Dick Degner and Dan Braden got the Pointers off on the right foot in the first event, the 40-yard free style, when they finished one-three with Monroe's Warren Sauer taking second.

Jim Ketzler and Russ Whittenberg scored one of the two slams scored by the Pointers when they turned the trick in the 100-yard breast stroke event, with Ketzler being the victor. Dave Williamson grabbed third place for one point to make the score read 14 to 4 in the Devils' favor.

Brad Boydell splashed his way to an easy victory in the 200-yard free style event, beating Monroe's Bob Owens, with John Hammond coming in third to add another point to the Devils' total.

GUENTHER GETS SECOND
Then Eversman thrilled the crowd with his new record and in the excitement everyone lost sight of the fact his teammate Bob Guenther had done a job on the other two Trojans by finishing second ahead of Eric Heikka. At this point the Devils held a very comfortable 28 to 8 lead.

Bill McGraw snapped the Devils' strangle hold on individual victories when he captured the 100-yard free style, beating Dave Bayne, Dick Howard took a third for the Trojans.

Dick Stafford and Rich Jeric had a dandy battle for second place in the diving event with Stafford giving the Pointers a second place behind the Trojans' Harold Smith, who scored 85.7 points in winning. Stafford had a total of 58.1 while Jeric scored 56.2 for third place.

GENEROUS JUDGE
Stan "Red" Bryda, swimming coach at the Detroit Yacht Club, ran the meet and if it hadn't have been for his red hair the fans would have thought he was Santa Claus from the generous way he was handing out points for each dive. One spectator was heard to remark "I wonder what he will do if one of the boys does a real good dive." His friend was quick with an answer and said "That's easy—he will run out of fingers and ten points will be tops."

On one beautifully executed dive Smith almost made Bryda take off his shoes but the judge decided 9 points was good enough. Maybe the judge had a hole in his sock. That was the only logical explanation because the dive was executed perfectly and brought cheers from the partisan crowd.

NEVER LET UP
The Pointers, with the meet already clinched, didn't let up in the 180-yard medley relay and Eversman, Ketzler and Ed Nicholson won it handily.

The Trojans climaxed the meet with a victory in the 160-yard speed relay with Bill Smith, Joe McBee, Warren Sauer and Bill McGraw doing the paddling.

An exhibition 160-yard speed relay was won by Grosse Pointe with Harry Huffaker, Mike Collins, Rich Schlieker and Dave Whittingham showing the way.

The defeat was only the second for Monroe but it put them right down at the bottom of the standings, with the Devils with a record of 2 losses and one win. The Trojans overall mark is the same as the Devils, 4 victories and 2 losses.

FRIEND IN NEED

Ever have your car break down on the highway in the dead of night, miles from the nearest town or service station?

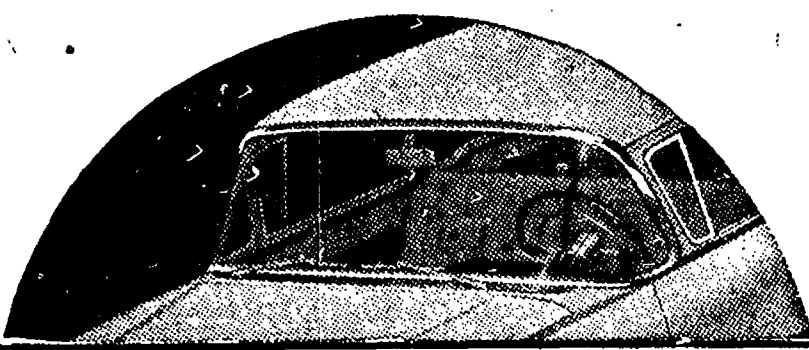

If you have, the odds are heavy that it was a truck driver who came to your rescue. For up and down this great State of ours, with its miles upon miles of fine roads, the truck driver has rightfully earned a reputation as the gentleman of the highway. He brings you all the things you eat, wear, and use, but he also serves as your friend in need when trouble catches up with you on the road.

He stops when others pass you by.

Ever hear of the Grosse Pointe Exchangers' Club? It has only five members, all male, and meets once a year—the first part of January. Into the general pool go the ties . . . and each member is permitted to make a new choice, taking as many as he contributed . . . You can understand why the membership list is top secret stuff . . .

PILFERINGS

Did you ever know that Arthur Godfrey had collected some of his favorite stories and published them in a volume? Neither did we until this week. Here are a few of the smites:

This may be a little gruesome, but when you've spent as much time in a dentist's office as I have, you develop a sort of perverse fondness for this type of joke. Seems there was a man who was worried about his general dental health, so he visited his dentist for the first time in three years. The dentist examined his crockery thoroughly, straightened up and said:

"Your teeth are fine, sir. But those gums will have to come out."

They say women are flighty and have no ability to remember details. But I don't know, it all depends. How about the lady who was crossing a busy street and got hit by a car? The cop came running up, saw that she wasn't seriously hurt, and said: "I hope you got the license number of that car."

"No," said the lady. "But the woman driving it had on a three-piece tweed suit lined with canteen crepe, and a periwinkle hat trimmed with artificial flowers."

Dorothy, learning to dress herself, tearfully approached her mother with the remark, "I can't fasten my dress. The button's in the back, and I'm in the front."

A father, angry at his daughter for being too modern in manners and appearance, stormed, "You girls of today don't mind if your hair looks like a mop?"

To which the daughter replied, "What is a mop?"

Mrs. Patterson was entertaining "the Girls" in her bridge club. At 9 o'clock the patter of tiny feet was heard at the head of the stairs. Mrs. Patterson put down her hand, smiled proudly and announced in a whisper that the children were about to say "goodnight" to everybody.

There was a second of silence, then the voice of a little girl said shyly but clearly:

"Mama, Billy found a bedbug."

Pointer of Interest

HILARY WHITTAKER OF EAST JEFFERSON AVENUE

Closely associated with something new and wonderful happening to television this May is the Pointe's vivacious, mahogany-haired Hilary Whittaker.

The something new and wonderful will be Channel 56 sponsored by the Detroit Educational Television Foundation with programs supplied by eighteen educational and cultural groups including Wayne University.

Wayne especially is mentioned because our Hilary is continuity supervisor of the university's television department and, as such, will have much to do with the fourteen hours weekly it will contribute to the new channel.

This young miss will then become a pioneer in a form of television which will put education at the tips of the fingers of dialers.

There will be art, drama, etiquette, health, history, hobbies, home economics, music, philosophy, science, sports, travel, vocational guidance on 56.

A NEW DAY

It is not improbable that someday high school and college degrees may be earned through stations such as this one.

It is now a fact that schools and colleges will be able to enroll many thousands more students because through television a professor easily can lecture to hundreds instead of yesterday's number limited to confines of small classrooms.

All ages will have programs on channel 56 and in case you'd like to know the other affiliates of the foundation: Cranbrook Academy of Art, Cranbrook Institute of Science, Detroit Historical Museum, Detroit Institute of Technology, Detroit Public Library, Detroit Public Schools, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Edison Institute, Lutheran Schools of Detroit, Marygrove College, Mercy College, the Parochial Schools of the Archdiocese of Detroit, the Public Non-Urban Schools of Wayne County, the Public Schools Systems of the Communities Contiguous to Detroit and University of Detroit.

New TV sets will be turned for the new station and old ones may add converters at modest cost.

INTO TV

Hilary got into television quite by accident. She had graduated from Vassar, where she was a drama major, when she decided to get right after that master's degree.

The field of communications interests her so, she enrolled in a television class at Wayne. It was so much her dish of tea that soon she was offered a part-time job as publicity director for the University's TV department. She has that master's tucked into her back-ground now and the part-time job has turned into a very full-time one with the title of continuity supervisor added.

This means that all scripts come over Hilary's desk for programs Wayne now airs over commercial stations; will continue to do so on channel 56.

Another step in the preparation for today's exciting job was a course last summer at Michigan State College. Eddie Stasheff (U. of M. instructor in TV) and Rudy Bretz (TV director and consultant whose important commissions have included helping Germany set up its television system) were the "profs."

Hilary attended the course through a Ford Foundation Fellowship.

We had a visit to the new RCAthat a couple Summers ago when she and five college friends went to Europe together.

She had been intent on doing the museums and is grateful that such a variety of interests were represented in that sixsome, she did much more than that. Their burning passions, that summer, included skiing, sociology, government, social work, art and economics.

Young People's Concert Planned

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present its second Young People's Concert of the season Saturday morning, January 15, at 11 a.m. in the Mason Auditorium. Valter Pohl will conduct and Miss Laurette Collins will act as commentator on the works performed.

Theme of the program will be "Stories in Music." Featured soloists of the day will be two young pianists, Misses Lois Pachuki, 15, and Isabella Becker, 18, playing the solo lines of "Carnival of the Animals" by Saint-Saens.

Charles Sirard, Detroit Symphony bassoonist, will also be featured playing the "Adagio" and the "Rondo, allegro" from the Bassoon Concert by Weber.

Mr. Pohl has also programmed the Overture to "William Tell," Rossini; "The Magic Circle" and "Ritual Fire Dance" from "El Amor Brujo," Falla; and "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," Dukas.

For parents as well as children, this concert will display the great Detroit Symphony in a once-upon-a-time mood. Miss Collins will tell the famous stories related by music and tell what to listen for in the works performed.

The series is sponsored by the Junior League of Birmingham and Detroit, the Women's Association and the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Reservations for the program are available at $2, $1.25 or 75c at the Symphony Office, Masonic Temple, TE 1-3900.

Will Discuss Election Laws

Michigan's present election laws and the need for improvement will be discussed this month at the various meetings of Unit groups of the League of Women Voters.

The results of a survey of local election administration which has been made jointly by Mrs. R. B. Swegles and her committee on Election Laws, and Mrs. Charles Scott and her Voters Service Committee, will be presented and discussed. A skit entitled "Elections in Operation" will be given at each Unit meeting.

How does this community measure up to the national and state level of election administration? What percentage of eligible voters are registered here? How are election officials chosen and trained? How may one volunteer for work in an election booth? Answers to these and many other questions will be given.

Members and guests are invited to visit any of the following Units:

January 17, 10-12 a.m., Hostess and Unit Leader, Mrs. Walker Cislser, 1071 Devonshire.

Pointe Counter Points

by Roberta Isley

Right now we have a piece of news that's as right as a feather. It helps take the drabness out of January. Cocktails and champagne are not flowing as freely this month as in December are they? That is why you might be terribly interested in the refrigerated stainless steel milk bar that Jacobson's will be using on the second floor during their annual Baby Week event. Milk and cookies will be served regularly beginning next Monday. The new things for baby will be in readiness then . . . This merchandise was bought especially for the sale. Practically everything you see will have a new low price tag . . . like candy striped receiving blankets. Jacobson's own diapers are more than a dollar cheaper . . . all wool blankets are around four . . . gay and delicate flowers adorn the beautiful satin comforters with pillows for around five. Well, just everything for infants can be had for a song during this coming week at Jacobson's.

All eyes are on cotton this time of year. And vivid lustrous cottons have replaced winter clothes at the Town 'n Casual Shop, in the Woods. Variety is the good news here. If you like fine gingham done in abstract fish patterns . . . if you think linen is divine . . . or if you like the ripple fabric . . . the kind that needs no ironing you'll find them all there. Good travelers, these camisole tops, peddle pushers, bermuda shorts, short shorts, sleeveless blouses, squaw skirts. Reasonable. These pieces range from three dollars and fifty cents to ten dollars and ninety-five cents.

Why not have a wedding? Marry your favorite dress to a current cashmere from Margaret Rice's current resort group. They are full fashioned of the softest, purest imported cashmere available. They are the sweaters you'll carry to wear over your sleeveless sheaths at night. We liked the blouses we saw this week, too. They fit the new suit lines to a T. We recommend fine ribbon, thread, or lace detailing AND monogramming. This done in their own work rooms. 76 Kercheval on the hill.

Yellowstone in mid-winter . . . the by ways of the West Indies . . . island hopping the Caribbean. All wonderful and perfect for either summer sun or winter fun. Fun begins with taking pictures . . . especially when you are talking about the Camera Center, in the village. Look in the windows this week . . . notice the demonstrators' second-hand cameras. We spotted Poloroid's . . . Lecia's, Eastman's and other good makes along with slide projectors and exposure meters, etc. All are in good, good, shape . . . good, good buys! 17114 Kercheval.

Are you going to bike, sight-see, or sista? It really doesn't make a whit of difference . . . for whether you are bound you'll always want to look and feel fresh . . . undaunted by travel. Tip. Carry a Safari Travel box. It's a convenient package that contains four products in capsule form . . . "Foam Rich" for easy laundering . . . "Nylomex," a nylon whitener . . . "Shampoo-ets" for shampoos and "Holiday Mouth Wash" . . . so clean tasting. Trail's Pharmacy, 121 Kercheval, on the hill.

It's simple. Like that. Just referring to a new leg-o-matic card table and chair set we saw last week. At first glance it had the look of fine permanent furniture. We finally got real nosy and inquired. We discovered that one touch . . . yes, ONE little touch opens and closes each piece. Very compact. They are available in ivory, mahogany and ash. The five pieces are sixty-nine dollars and ninety-five cents. Hold one now, because there are more new things in Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop, in the village. Have you seen the Morgan-Jones reversible ivory bedspreads . . . these in either twin or double size for around thirty dollars? King Size eggies just don't stand a chance next to the King Size McWhorter sheets on display . . . 100x120. Inexpensive . . . around seven dollars.

Gillis Modern Home Furnishings over on Fisher Rd. is featuring a special sale. The floor samples of modern divans and chairs harmonize with the unusual ceramic based lamps. Rosewood cabinets designed by George Nelson for Herbert Miller can also be used for buffet serving . . . white porcelain accents are on these. Each piece is functionally designed and especially styled, it adapts itself to any modern decor. Everything we've mentioned is marked down  $\frac{1}{3}$  . . . 403 Fisher Road.

Here's a treasure trove of wonderful clothes for children . . . and all on SALE! Young Clothes, Inc., on the hill, are making room for all the enchanting Spring clothes that are beginning to arrive . . . SO . . . they've marked down for a special selling . . . robes . . . dresses . . . sweaters . . . pajamas . . . blouses . . . and snow suits in the smaller sizes. We noted a few things lend themselves to Southern Wear. If you browse around you're sure to find a treasure here at 110 Kercheval.

January 20 is a date to remember. Mr. Kasper is coming in from New York for a trunk showing of Arnold Fox originals. Women who love designers clothes can have these at a very modest price . . . forty-nine ninety-five to sixty-nine ninety-five. He is bringing in enough to sell. Usually they just have enough to take special orders. Arnold Fox designs young sophisticated clothes . . . and we know you won't be disappointed. They range in sizes from 8 to 16. We've only seen a couple of the dresses . . . one stressed the long torso. It was white and the pleated fullness, of course, began at the hip line. Tropical enchantment in pure silk print . . . tucked bodice . . . scooped neckline and a soft full skirt . . . wide belt. It would be lovely to own. View Arnold Fox originals from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Jacobson's, Better Dresses.
