The spokesman said they usually do not switch to emergency operation until the dial-tone lag is a good deal longer.

Edison Defends Performance

The Edison spokesman, when charged with a delay in getting lines repaired, said that everything was done in the quickest possible time. "We could have gotten additional manpower from neighboring states," spokesmen said, "but we figured we'd have everything cleared up before they could get here."

The third major field of criticism to be brought up was that of high eschelon handling of the disaster.

"Though it was handled in a top flight manner by all the officials concerned, we did find that the people to make the decisions, cannot be out in the field," Furton said.

Officials In Field

Furton went on to report that in many cases during the last storm it was necessary for officials to accompany scout cars on calls.

"This is to be avoided. We need all of those people inside at the phones to coordinate things."

Furton brought this point up in connection with the need for additional volunteer help.

Another meeting yet to be scheduled, has been agreed upon by all concerned.

"We'll take more definite action then," Furton said. "This meeting was just to get things into the open."

Furton and Civil Defense Director George Elworthy praised every one present at the meeting for pledging their cooperation.

scene and had the necessary apparatus set up," Mrs. Cordose said.

Residents of Roseville, Mich., the Cordoses are keeping their in-laws' home open for the summer. Mrs. Cordose is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Connolly.

"We certainly were grateful for such service," Mrs. Cordose said. "They took me over to Bon Secours, waited and then took me home again. They were so nice."

Young Stevie spent the night at the hospital for observation, but was released in good health Friday.

"Thanks to Mrs. Roubie, our baby's alright," Mrs. Cordose said.

tend to create traffic hazards by waiting cars, etc.

When Ball voiced the objections of the interested citizens, representatives of the building firm agreed to make certain changes if it would lead to erection of the edifice.

Committee Named

Whereupon, Acting Mayor Richard Maxon appointed three councilmen, William Kirby, chairman, Neil McEachin and George Lang as members of a committee to check the property and to see if the structure would be a blight on the area and to see if it would conform to the city ordinance.

Ball was appointed a citizen member of the committee to work with the councilmen. He will pick two other fellow residents of the area.

The findings of the six-man committee will be presented to the Board of Appeals at a future meeting. These findings will decide whether the permit will be issued or not.

Asks to Build Garage

The second case before the board concerned the construction of a garage at 366 Kercheval avenue, in the Charles Moran Sub-division, to be used in conjunction with a hardware store business.

The owner, Alvin M. Gouin, contended that the garage would improve the general condition of the area as well as being good for his business.

No voices were raised in objection. As a matter of fact, one person agreed that the construction could not make the area any worse than it is at present, and that it would be an improvement.

The Board granted Gouin the right to obtain his permit.

SWIMMER INJURED

Mary Lou Cody, 14, of 264 Lewiston road, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital on Monday, August 1, by Shores police, after she dislocated her shoulder while swimming at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Mother, Daughter Hurt in Accident

A Detroit mother and her 3-year-old daughter escaped serious injuries when their car crashed into a tree at the curve opposite the Edsel Ford estate on Lake Shore road on Tuesday, August 2.

A Shores police report disclosed that Mrs. Rose Mary Lechner, 27, of 1708 Shepherd, Detroit, in rounding the curve, lost control of her car, which leaped over an island curb and traveled 118 feet before smashing into a tree.

Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling stated that the woman was concentrating on her daughter, Martha Rose, while making the curve, apparently concerned with the child's safety, when she lost control. She was driving north.

The chief said that a witness revealed that the woman must have been going slightly faster than the 35 miles per hour speed limit, because she passed the witness who was driving in the same direction.

Mrs. Lechner and her daughter suffered multiple cuts and bruises about their faces, heads and arms. They were taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment by police.

The woman was ticketed for not having her car under control and causing an accident. Court date was set for Tuesday, August 30.

Chief Duemling estimated damages to the car at about $500.

And for a bird, it's got quite an appetite.

According to Suzan, it'll eat just about anything. "We give him cereal, fruit, vegetables, and he loves ground steak."

Though not quite as fond of them, Thursday it lunched away with the Wallners and pecked happily at its own minute serving of mashed potatoes.

In the process of learning to fly at the moment, it contents itself in off moments to either sitting on Suzan's shoulder or riding around the neighborhood perched on her handle bars.

Admits Series Of Sex Offenses

Last week the Park police cleared up a series of lewd incidents that have been plaguing the residents in the Esquire theatre district.

An AWOL Army Private, Richard Welsch, confessed to a long string of "peeping tom" and indecent exposure charges.

Welsch was partially identified by one of the complainants.

The police have been on the trail of Welsch since middle spring when the first of the incidents occurred.

"We arrested him once, but because we had to turn him over to the army, this is the first time we've been able to get at him," said Police Chief Arthur Couwers.

Welsch made a full confession last Wednesday. He will be tried August 10 in Municipal Court.

After the Park trial, he will stand further court martial from the army. He has already been tried once for sex offenses.

11,652 ARRESTED

Michigan State Police made 12,784 arrests in June, of which 11,652 were for motor vehicle violations. The figures do not include the arrests of 523 juveniles. In addition, the troopers made 20,854 property and 3,382 liquor inspections. Total mileage traveled in all activities of the department was 1,082,714.

Total of 245 Home Building Permits Issued to June 30

Report of Metropolitan Planning Commission Shows Switch In Boom Localities; Shores and Woods Lead, City Third

The Shores and the Woods tied in the number of new residential building permits issued for the first six months of the year and the City issued more permits than the Farms or Park, a Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission report showed.

Since the beginning of the year, the Shores and the Woods issued 72 permits each; the City gave out 41 as compared to 31 handed out by Park and 29 by the Farms.

Total of 245 Issued Here

The total number of new building permits issued throughout the Pointe since January 1, came to 245.

None of the Pointes made the first 17 list of municipalities with the largest volume of home-building, during the first half of the year.

"During the first half of 1955, residential building in the Detroit Region has been running at higher rates than in any similar period except the record year of 1950," said Paul M. Reid, planning analyst for the Commission, in releasing the agency's building permit report.

Drops in Second Quarter

"But, it should be noted," he warned, "that although the first quarter topped 1954 by 8.8 per cent, the second quarter was only 5.1 per cent above the number of residential building permits issued during the second three months of 1954. In other words the high level of home building attained in the first quarter is now beginning to decline."

Of the four counties in the Detroit Region, Wayne ranked first in the number of permits issued.

A breakdown of the count is as follows: Wayne County, 9,288; Oakland County, 5,748; Macomb County, 5,279; and Washtenaw County (four townships), 287, making a grand total of 20,602 permits.

Drinking Driver Put Under Bond

Shores police placed Ellis Bratt of 2257 Lemay, Detroit, under $100 cash bond on Wednesday, August 3, pending a trial on Tuesday, August 16, on charges of driving while intoxicated and causing an accident at the Kercheval exit gate at 485 Lake Shore road.

The accident was witnessed by Farms Patrolman Frank Kerbrat who signed the complaint.

Doctors seem to prescribe rest and change only to those who already have the change.

Farms to Buy Voting Machines

The Farms council approved the taking of bids for 10 voting machines for three voting precincts, at a meeting held on Monday, August 8.

Upon recommendation of Farms City Manager Harry Furton, the council took the action which would provide the machines for Precincts 2, 3 and 5. Mr. Furton told members of the council that a minimum of 25 machines will be needed for the seven voting precincts in the city, and that eventually all voting will be done by machine.

Rear End Crash Occurs in Park

A minor rear end collision occurred at the intersection of Jefferson and Maryland Sunday, August 7.

Roy Conley was hit as he slowed for the light. The colliding car was driven by Thomas Clinton of Roseville. Both were traveling east on Jefferson at the time of the mishap.

According to the police report, Clinton applied his brakes, but not in time. He was issued a ticket for not having his car under control. A September 7 court date was set.

Shooting Stars To Stage Show

Heavenly fireworks will be the feature attraction in the August sky when the Perseid meteor shower begins this month.

This annual display of "shooting stars" reaches its peak around the nights of August 10 and 11, says University of Michigan Astronomer, Hazel M. Losh.

"You can expect to see about 50 of these meteors an hour under favorable conditions," she says. They may be found in any direction but their paths when traced back will seem to intersect in the northeast where the constellation Perseus rises at about 10 p.m. This explains the name given to the event.

These pieces of iron and stone become visible only when they enter the Earth's atmosphere. They come in at very high speeds, their flight is slowed by the atmosphere and the resulting friction sets them burning, the professor explains. Most of them burn out during their plunge, she adds, so you needn't duck when you see one falling.

Among the bright planets this month will be Saturn in the southwest sky until midnight, and the Milky Way will appear in its full half circle running as nearly north and south as it ever does. You'd never believe that summer is gradually on the wane, but Professor Losh points out that the sun is rapidly dropping from its high June position and this means that by the end of the month we'll be having a 13 hour day instead of the June high of 15 hours.

Dr. Elwood Sharp Promoted by P-D

Dr. Elwood A. Sharp, 63, widely known blood authority and director of clinical investigation for Parke, Davis & Company since 1929, has been promoted to medical assistant to the firm's president, Harry J. Loynd.

Dr. Sharp gained international attention when he instituted the sulfone treatment of leprosy with Promin, a Parke-Davis product and the first agent used with any real success against the disease. He also was instrumental in developing Ventriculin for the treatment of pernicious anemia. He has played an important role in other new medicines, including the hormones, Antuitrin and Theelin. He and his staff conducted field trials for scores of new drugs, including Dilantin and Chloromyetin, before they were made available to physicians for prescription.

Dr. Sharp was born at Council Grove, Kan., and graduated from high school there in 1908. He received an A.B. degree in 1913 and an M.D. degree in 1915 from the University of Kansas. He served 13 years in the Medical Corps of the United States Navy, including three years of overseas service, and was a lieutenant-commander when he joined Parke-Davis in 1929. Dr. Sharp was awarded an honorary D.Sc. degree by the University of Detroit in 1936. Two years ago, the University of Kansas gave him an award for "distinguished service in medicine."

He is a member of numerous professional groups and lives at 635 Neff road, Grosse Pointe. Usually a man has to reach a "don't care" state of mind not to be prejudiced.

Blame Cigaret For Tree Fire

The Pointe had its own kind of forest fire Friday, August 5. Careless picnickers were blamed for setting the rotten insides of an old willow afire at the Park pier.

It took almost a half hour to douse the blaze. "It had quite a start," said Fire Chief George deCaussins. "Probably started last night by a stray match or cigarette butt."

The fire was put out with a booster line from the pumper. Though considerable damage was done to the tree, there was no other property destroyed.

Gardeners Pay Honor to Cheney

John Cheney, 88, of 184 Grosse Pointe boulevard, gardener for the Edwin S. Barbour estate, 147 Lake Shore road, for 40 years, has retired and will return to his native England on Wednesday, August 17.

Following an August 4 regular meeting of the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society, of which he has been a member for 39 years, Cheney was presented with a traveling bag, with his initials in gold, as a farewell gift from the members of the society.

The gift, presented by G. C. Crain, a member, on behalf of his fellows, came as a surprise to the retired gardener.

Cheney is well known for his many outstanding exhibits at Detroit Spring Flower shows and has served as a judge at many flower shows.

At one time he was an officer of the society and during his entire membership in the horticultural organization has brought credit to it and to the community in which he lived.

Cheney plans to return to Bournemouth, England, from whence he came 40 years ago.

He has three children, a son in Milwaukee, Wis.; another in Waipapa, Manitoba, Canada; and a daughter, who lives in the Pointe.

Two ROTC Cadets Back From Artillery Camp

Fort Sill, Okla. The summer Reserve Officers' Training Corps Artillery summer camp closed on August 5, and two ROTC cadets from Grosse Pointe returned to their homes after six weeks of intensive training at the Artillery and Guided Missile Center.

While at camp, the students took training on the M-1 rifle, which they fired for record. They participated in extensive maneuvers in which they worked through the various assignments in the field artillery. They actually loaded and fired the famous 105-millimeter howitzer and later observed and adjusted artillery fire on simulated enemy targets. They had the opportunity to observe the firing of the 280 mm gun and the new "Honest John" Rocket. All in all, they had a most interesting summer.

Recreation was taken into consideration and planned tours to the Wichita Game Refuge, Craterville Park (Dude Ranch), and various scenic and historical spots were conducted by the Army Special Services. A sports program was set up to include baseball, golf, tennis, volleyball and swimming.

While at camp the students were assigned to firing batteries made up of students from all over the United States. Friendships made at camp will be renewed later on Army Posts in all parts of the world.

The cadets are: Fenton M. Remick son of Mr. Jerome H. Remick, Jr., 157 Ridge road and George A. Nicholson, III son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Nicholson, Jr., 1017 Cadieux.

Farms Council Gets Yearly Report From Police Chief

A yearly report submitted to the Farms council on Monday, August 8, by Farms Police Chief Walter Hoyt, showed that 3329 traffic accidents during the fiscal year of July 1, 1954 through June 30, 1955, resulted in $50,336 in property damages.

The report stated that two of the traffic accidents resulted in deaths; two other deaths were recorded by the police department, one as accidental and the other a suicide.

A total of $10,443.30 in fines for various violations were collected and turned over to the city treasurer.

A breakdown of the fines is as follows: in 211 traffic cases heard in court, $3,598.30; 19 other court cases (drunk and disorderly, violation of dog ordinances, etc.), $409; violation bureau fines and 371 traffic violations, $4,020; 1,340 parking meter; $1,508; 255 other parking, $561; and dog ordinance violations, $347.

In 107 simple larceny cases, loss or damages amounted to $1,756.65 of which $791.15 was recovered; 20 grand larceny cases showed loss and damages at $5,304.77, and of this, $107.19 was recovered; 18 breakings and enterings caused owners a loss of $3,620.34, and they got back $655.

Holdups and strong-armings netted thieves $1,560 in five reported cases in which nothing was recovered; and 63 cases of malicious destruction of property brought about $1,003.30 in damages, with $122.30 in restitution made.

Eight cars were stolen in the Farms during the year and recovered including eight for other communities; 339 bicycles were stolen and 29 recovered; 42 persons were reported missing and 45 were found.

The record showed that 58 persons were injured in traffic accidents which was outnumbered by the 65 injuries brought about by accidents at home.

Approximately 203 dogs were found open; and 83 fire calls and 67 ambulance calls answered in conjunction with the fire department.

Police were called upon to handle 139 bank details; answer 115 prowler calls; investigate 171 suspicious cars; take home 222 sick children from school and take reports of 42 persons bitten by dogs.

The number of police calls answered came to 2,976 and the number of complaints received came to 1,861.

Adult arrests, other than traffic, came to 183; juvenile arrests, 101.

Approximately 2,982 licenses were issued by the police, 2,009 drivers' licenses, 166 chauffeurs' licenses, 173 duplicate licenses, 56 restricted licenses and 529 bicycle licenses.

Chief Hoyt said that 138 more police calls and 98 more complaints were received than in the previous year; and there was an increase of 485 operator's licenses processed.

There was an increase of 30 accidents and 17 injuries over that of last year, due to the increase in traffic volume; and $295.30 more in traffic fines were realized.

A public auction of unclaimed bicycles was held in September, 1954, netting $147.50, which was turned over to the city clerk.

Five police cars and one dog wagon traveled 193,536 miles on 17,528 gallons of gas.

Coupled with that of the fire department, it was stated that a total of 16,680 gallons of gas were pumped for all city-owned vehicles.

It was revealed by the chief that each scout car averaged about 11 miles per gallon of gas, and that the savings in gas over that of last year amounted to 3,399 gallons.

John W. Matheus Named To Post at Parke-Davis

Parke, Davis & Company have announced the appointment of John W. Matheus of Ottumwa, Ia., as employment manager.

Harold E. Daniels, director of personnel relations, said Matheus, 31, would succeed W. A. Earl, who recently resigned.

In addition to directing the employment of all hourly-paid and salaried personnel, Matheus will have charge of various employee activities, including the recreational program, Daniels said.

Matheus, who prior to joining Parke-Davis was employment manager for the Ottumwa plant of John Morrell & Co., was born in Racine, Wis. He is a graduate of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and joined the Morrell company in 1948 in the personnel department.

He is a veteran of World War II and active in Boy Scout work.

Mr. and Mrs. Matheus and their two children, John Robert, 6, and Jeffrey Alan, 4, will live at 18284 Raymond, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Speeding Youth Posts $100 Bond

Marvin Burchett, 20, of 1518 Dickerson, Detroit, was placed under $100 cash bond on Saturday, August 6, pending a court hearing on charges of being drunk and disorderly and being in possession of alcohol.

Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling stated that the youth was apprehended while speeding on Lake Shore.

In checking over the car, police found a beer case which contained 24 beer bottles, two of them full.

A juvenile who was a passenger in the car, was turned over to his mother pending his connection in the case.

Last year the American Red Cross awarded an average of one certificate every two minutes to persons completing Red Cross Home Nursing courses.

Last year following disasters approximately 62,000 persons were given Red Cross emergency mass care, which included free feeding and sleeping accommodations.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

A minor accident occurred at the intersection of the alley north of Kercheval and Maryland on August 1.

A dash to cross Maryland failed for Anton Valade of 2126 Anderson, Detroit. His car was hit on the left rear side by a car driven by James King of 1310 1/2 Wayburn.

King was slowing down for the Kercheval stop, or the damage could have been considerably more. As it was, both cars were drivable.

Valade was given a ticket for entering a thoroughfare without due care or caution.

Since January 1, various types of building permits given out came to 111; of which 70 were of the miscellaneous kind, valued at $222,600; and 40 residential, valued at $1,296,000; and one non-assessable permit, worth $57,000.

For the month of July, 11 residential building permits were applied for and received. The assessed valuation of these amounted to $319,000.

There were 17 miscellaneous permits, valued at $21,500, given out during the month; no non-assessable or business permits were issued during July.

No business building permits have been applied for so far this year.

Award Contract For Beach Lawn

Two bids, totalling $18,520, were awarded to separate contractors with the approval of the Farms council on Monday, August 8.

The largest bid, that of $17,950, is for subgrading, top soiling and seeding the Farms Pier Park, according to plans set by the city architect.

The other bid, for $570, is for the installation of floor tile in the Fire Department, to complete improvements which were begun last year.

City Manager Harry Furton also disclosed to the council that he desired confirmation of his action in awarding a contract for the installation of a fence at the park, which will cost $4,214, and another contract for the installation of asphalt curbing to protect the fence. This will cost $455.40.

The council gave its approval.

Home Canning Advice Offered

Although many home freezers are now in use, home canning is still an important method of food preservation. Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne County Home Agent answers some of the questions most often asked by the homemaker who is inexperienced in canning.

Q. Why is the open-kettle method not recommended for canning fruits and vegetables?

A. In open-kettle canning, food is cooked in an ordinary kettle, then packed into hot jars and sealed without processing. When the food is transferred from kettle to jar, bacteria may get in and cause food to spoil. And for vegetables, the temperatures obtained in open-kettle canning are not high enough to destroy all the spoilage organisms that may be in the food unless it is cooked for an excessively long time.

Q. Is it safe to process foods in the oven?

A. No, oven canning is dangerous. Jars may seal during processing and explode, wrecking the stove and seriously cutting or burning persons. The temperature of the food in the jars during oven processing does not get high enough to insure destruction of spoilage bacteria in vegetables without exceedingly long processes.

Q. Must glass jars and lids be sterilized by boiling before canning?

A. No, not when boiling-water bath or pressure-canner method is used. The containers as well as the food are sterilized during processing. But be sure jars and lids are thoroughly clean; and to prevent breakage, have jars hot when filling them.

Q. Why is liquid sometimes lost from glass jars during processing?

A. Loss of liquid may be due to cooking food too short a time to drive out the air that's in it before packing it in the jars—packing jars too full—leaving air bubbles in the jars—not keeping pressure steady in a pressure canner—lowering pressure too suddenly at the end of the processing period.

Q. Should liquid lost during processing be replaced?

A. No, never open a jar and refill with liquid—this would let in bacteria and you would need to process again. Loss of liquid does not cause food to spoil, though the food above the liquid may darken.

Q. Is it all right to use preservatives in home canning?

A. Do not use canning powders or other chemical preservatives—some of them may be harmful. Sterilization by heat is safer and more certain.

Q. What causes cloudy liquid in canned fruits and vegetables?

A. Cloudy liquid may be a sign of spoilage. Or it may be caused by the minerals in hard water, or by starch from over-ripe vegetables.

Q. How can you tell whether food with cloudy liquid is spoiled?

A. Boil the food and note the odor. Do not taste or use any food having an off odor.

Q. Is it safe to leave food in tin cans after opening?

A. Yes, but like fresh-cooked food, food in tin cans needs to be covered and kept in a refrigerator or other cold place.

Our Lady Queen of Peace Parish Completes Convent

"Our Lady Queen of Peace" Parish has completed its new convent, the second structure to rise on its 11-acre campus in Harper Woods since the parish opened its school in 1950. The first building which still contains the church hall, besides the classrooms, originally housed also living quarters for the teaching nuns who belong to the Sisters of Divine Providence. Located approximately 100 feet east of the school building, the new convent has living quarters for 25 nuns and allied facilities, such as chapel, office, recreation room, infirmary, refectory, kitchen, laundry and garage. It is a one-story building about 120' x 150', with provision for possible addition of future bedrooms, should the need require same.
The design, materials, and all fixtures and furnishings are in keeping with the contemporary trend. From the very start of the project, Father Emil A. Capano, pastor, instructed the architects, Giffels & Vallet, Inc. and L. Rossetti, to employ a good contemporary design on their work, and to provide a real home for the nuns with all the functional advantages and improvements of modern living. The final result corresponds to the original intent: a building with clean, crisp lines and a dignified simplicity, giving it both a residential as well as ecclesiastical character.
The tangerine colored iron-spot brick of the interior, matching the brick of the school building, in contrast with the somewhat subdued sage green of the exterior woodwork sounds a quiet, yet cheerful note, well accentuated by the restful setting of the landscaping. The interior has a very pleasant atmosphere, with all rooms light and airy and well coordinated color schemes.
From the reception rooms and offices to the chapel with its cathedral glass windows, the common room with its stone fireplace alcove, the refectory, and on to the recreation room and the bedrooms we find all details and refinements necessary for a perfect harmony in a beautiful home atmosphere. The real highlight of the project is the cloister garth, about 60'x100', around which all the other rooms are placed. This interior court, with its beautiful pool and stone pyramid, flagstone walks, stations of the cross, Shrine of Our Lady of Fatima, and landscaping, permits the nuns to have all the privacy needed for outdoor meditation, recreation and rest.
All floor and wall finishes, as well as furnishings, were selected for economy, utility, durability and to blend with the contemporary exterior design.
Lighting in general is recessed, with fluorescent in administrative and work areas, and incandescent in indirect wall urn type, with fluorescent strip and spot lighting at altar. Outdoor perimeter lighting is time switch controlled. Schedules are maintained by a master clock and program signal system. A paging system makes it possible to locate or direct the occupants to telephones in the various areas.
Heating is by radiant floor and ceiling panels, supplied with varying temperature. Hot water from a gas-fired boiler controlled by outdoor temperature. Copper piping for water, cast iron waste pipes, the latest kitchen equipment with exhaust hood, dishwasher, garbage disposal unit, laundry with dryer, washer, extractor and ironer, individual lavatories and cabinets in each bedroom, and all these and other items have been incorporated, not as a luxury, but merely as considered necessary in this home for the Sisters who have devoted their lives to the services of God and the teaching of humanity.
The total construction cost was $274,000.00 for an area of 14,300 square feet.

Cut Speed Limit On Lake Shore
The Farms will install new speed limit signs along Lake Shore road, specifying 30-mile speed limit between Fisher road and the divided road.
The action to lower the speed limit from 35 to 30 miles an hour, was approved by the Farms council on Monday, August 8, to conform with the limits set by both the Park and the City.
The Shore still maintains a 35-mile speed.

Park Authority Cites Need For Help to Save Elm Trees
Individual participation by every land-owner in the battle against Dutch Elm disease will decide whether or not Michigan saves its elms. That is the opinion of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, five county park and parkway agency, which pioneered the fight in 1950 and is now spending upward of $70,000 annually to save the elms on 9600 acres surrounding Detroit.
Unless land-owners in rural and fringe districts comply with State Department of Agriculture Regulation No. 613, which declares diseased elms a public nuisance to be eradicated and burned within 10 days following discovery, the fight will probably be lost. That is the prediction of Hugh A. Lamley, chief landscape architect of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.
"Spraying and sanitation measures in our property in Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland and Macomb counties cost us $38,000 in the first six months of 1955 and may well be doubled by year's end. But although the incidents of the disease is far less in treated areas, there is constant reinfection from uncontrolled tracts along the boundaries," Lamley said.
"In spite of all being done to protect public lands and by cities and smaller communities, the disease will not be blotted out without protective enforcement in unincorporated districts," he emphasized.
"Immediate and total action is vital," he pointed out, "because while present spraying and sanitation measures are fairly effective, it cannot be determined how long it will be before insect carriers of the disease develop an immunity to chemicals currently in use."
Lack of personnel and funds is currently hindering both rural enforcement and experimental lab work, he added.
While the worst incidence of the disease on H-C-M-A holdings is in Lower Huron Park near Belleville, all of the agency's property is covered by the spraying and sanitation program.
Since 1951, all elms, including new plantings at Metropolitan Beach, have been sprayed as a precautionary measure. The spraying begins in March and covers all areas and is resumed in mid-July with a repeat coverage to protect new branches. It is a night and day operation, machines being equipped with flood lights to permit spraying when there is less interference from wind and traffic.
Intensive sanitation measures mean the removal and destruction of all dead or dying elms, the pruning of dead limbs from healthy trees, and the burning of all wood piles or litter and debris containing bark-covered elm wood favorable to the propagation of insect carriers.
During the past 18 months, 1639 such dead and dying trees, many over 30 inches in diameter, have been eradicated on Authority property and pruning has been done in 1738 others in good health to safeguard their survival. "Without cooperation from land-owners in fringe districts we can only foresee a long, grim battle with the total loss of all the elms at the end," Lamley predicted.
He warned: "Conditions are rapidly building up into a disaster far worse than that caused by the Chestnut Blight which within a few years killed practically all the native sweet chestnut in the Eastern United States. Elms are among our most common and best known shade and ornamental trees and their passing would create a void impossible to fill."

Petty Cash Box Goes to Dump
The Kinsel drug store, in "The Village" on Tuesday, August 2, reported to the City police that the cigar box in which it keeps sales invoices and petty cash was missing.
Investigation revealed that it was thought to be thrown out with the rubbish.
When the police put in an immediate "hold" on all rubbish, it was found that the morning's pickup had already been dumped. The cigar box contained about 10 invoices and a little under $50 in cash.

First Inboard, then outboards, and finally sailboats will pass before the Review Committee and Judges grouped on the new observation stand at the end of the Pier, and will then return to their respective berths. A special prize will be awarded for the best decorated boat in the parade.

Farms Policemen Pick Up Jackson Prison Escapee

A 25-year-old man was picked up by Farms police while he was walking on Lake Shore road on Tuesday, August 9, and taken to the police station after he could not produce identification papers, turned out to be a Jackson Prison escapee. Farms Det. Sgt. Harold Seelow revealed that Patrolmen Marvin Krebs and George Van Tiem, while cruising on Lake Shore, noticed John Stafford as he was walking just east of Fisher road, about 5:45 a.m. and stopped to question him. When Stafford could not produce any means of identification, said Sgt. Seelow, the two officers took him to the station, where it was found that he had escaped from Jackson. A teletype, bearing Stafford's description and stating he had walked away from a parole camp at the prison on Tuesday, August 2, kept on file in the station, aided in the identification. Stafford told police he was on his way to Algonac, in hopes he might meet several friends who he believed lived in that city. He said he did not dare to hitchhike a ride, for fear he might have been recognized. He was sentenced in Detroit to a term of two to five years for a breaking and entering and was in the parole camp awaiting a parole, at the time of his escape. The family of the escapee lives in Detroit, but he had not seen them for several years.

Bacteria Count in Woods' Pool Hits Alarming Stage

The bacteria count in the swimming pool at the Woods lake-front park has reached such a critical stage the Woods has been forced to take temporary emergency measures to permit swimming for the rest of the summer, according to information released by Woods City Administrator William Lange.

It was stated that letters, advising the Woods residents of the situation, have been mailed to every home. The letter points out that the increase in bacteria is due to more and more people using the pool. This is borne out by the weekly samples of water taken from the pool and analyzed by the Grosse Pointe Health Department, Mr. Lange said.

Residents have been notified in the letter, that emergency steps are being taken. This includes fencing the pool so "that the sand is not carried into the water, thereby creating high turbidity (brown discoloration) of the water." It was also stated that because the present circulating pumps and piping system are not adequate to introduce enough chlorine into the pool so that the bacteria count can be kept at a safe level, an auxiliary pump has been installed as a temporary system.

It was pointed out that these measures are only for the present so that the citizens can enjoy the pool for the balance of the summer. However, the Health Department has advised the Woods that before the pool can be permitted to operate next year, a permanent adequate filtering and chlorinating system must be installed.

Every effort is being made by the Woods council to study the problem in order to have the pool operating "in an improved manner by next summer."

Simians Play Opens Tonight

A 15-year-old, unsolved murder, a man trying to drive his wife insane and a suspicious detective go to make up the plot of "Gaslight," that suspense-filled Victorian melodrama which will be presented by Simians tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. "Gaslight," by Patrick Hamilton, tells the story of a homicidal maniac who murdered an old woman for her jewels. He was unable to find the jewels though, and, as the play starts, he has just moved into the woman's house to hunt for them. However the maniac, played by Winston Litert, feels that his wife, played by Jane Slade, is in his way and he decides to drive her insane.

From there on the action builds swiftly to a tense and exciting climax. The entrance of the maniac will be heralded by the tinkling of a 150-year-old music box amplified by a high-fidelity sound system. The stage of the circular theater will be lighted in eerie tints and shades to add to the aura of suspense. The play starts at 8:30 and tickets can be purchased at the door or from any member of Simians.

Lt. Joseph Daniel Burke, Jr. Marries Nancy Cole in Iowa

Miss Nancy Cole, daughter of President and Mrs. Russell D. Cole of Cornell College, and Lieutenant Joseph Daniel Burke Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Burke of Delaware, Ohio, formerly of the Pointe, repeated marriage vows Saturday evening, August 6, at 8 o'clock in the candle-lighted Methodist Church of Mt. Vernon.

President Cole escorted his daughter to the altar and with the assistance of Dr. Hugh B. Fouke performed the double ceremony.

The bride's Victorian gown was of imported embroidered organdy. The bouffant skirt and flounced train worn over hoops were accentuated by a tightly fitted bodice with a scalloped off-the-shoulder neck line and tiny band sleeves. A crown of seed pearls secured her veil of silk illusion. She carried a white bible topped by a single white orchid.

Miss Shiria Archibald, maid of honor, from Boulder, Colorado, and the four bridesmaids—Miss Barbara Beckheim of Mount Vernon, Miss Leonora Norris of Jonesboro, Illinois, Miss Rosalyn Johnson of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Miss Joan Elisha of Utica, New York, wore identical gowns of ballet-length white organdy over pink taffeta. The multiple rows of tucking that formed an off-the-shoulder V-neckline were repeated above a deep ruffle at the bottom of the full skirts, extended by crinolines. Pink taffeta sashes and shoes matched braided coronets of taffeta studded with pink geranium blossoms. A rosette of pink geraniums trimmed the base of their white lace, folding fans from which fell a cascade of white satin ribbons.

Joseph Burke, served his son as best man. G. Gordon Galbraith of Newark, New Jersey, J. Alfred Grow, Jr. of Grosse Pointe, William E. Golberg of Tucson, Arizona, and Richard Nelson of New York City were groomsmen. Richard and Julian Hartzell, twin sons of Dean and Mrs. Karl Hartzell, were candle lighters and junior attendants.

The bride's mother wore a gown of rose beige lace and pleated nylon tulle. Her small bow-knot hat and sandals were of the same color.

The groom's mother wore polished cotton in a floral design with a leaf hat in deep violet to match her shoes and veil. Neither wore flowers. The bride's grandmother wore navy blue lace with bead trim and a corsage of purple orchids.

Four hundred guests were received at the President's Home following the ceremony. A three-tiered white wedding cake, rectangular in shape and scaled to the proportions of the dining room table, was topped by a white lace fan like those carried by the bridesmaids.

White flowers were clustered at the front of the fan and arranged in a garlanded decoration around the base of the cake. Tall silver candelabra and twisted white candles provided the table lighting.

Mrs. J. Alfred Grow of Grosse Pointe, Michigan attended the guest book.

For traveling the bride chose a brown suit of Italian silk with dove gray hat and gloves. Dark brown accessories completed her costume. Following a week at Coledale Farm in northern Minnesota, Lt. and Mrs. Burke will live in Phoenix, Arizona where Mr. Burke is stationed with the Air Force.

Lt. Burke is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and Mrs. Burke received her degree from Colorado University this June.

America. They drove up to the hotel in the longest pearl gray Chrysler station wagon we've ever seen. It had a Michigan license on it, too!

Le Boeuf Mode

Before you drop all your francs at the Casino, hurry to Monte Carlo's Le Boeuf Mode, where the cuisine is faithful to the highest French standards. That was one thing we learned on the trip to the French Riviera—that the greatest cooking is not necessarily in Paris. Le Boeuf Mode, for instance, outshines most of the heralded Paris restaurants and your bill will be just half the size. Monsieur Matiano, patron and chef, himself presides in the kitchen. From maitre d'hotel to bus boy, there is fierce pride and devotion to every morsel served at Boeuf Mode, and the wines are from their own caves. We had an artichoke heart done with mushrooms and wine that surely would have drawn praise from Escoffier.

Let's Be Alp-less

There was the Corniche Trail . . . Juan les Pins, Cap d'Antibes, Nice, Monte Carlo, and finally Menton, just at the Italian border. The we retraced our path to St. Raphael, St. Tropez (truly a painter's Eden with its picturesque harbor). The Alps in their places, we chose the flatter route via Aix-en-Provence, Orange, Avignon (a slight tour to have a look-see at Dijon) to return to Paris. And today, when our thoughts are too slow, we get up from this typewriter to look from our windows. At one side we can see a line of slate roofs, old world with their chimney pots, and the dormer windows all have window boxes filled with gay, saucy flowers. Leading up to one window there is a short "2 x 4." It is the entrance (and the exit) of the owners' coal black cat. We watch his antics, see him paw his stealthy way up the steep roof, arrive at the very top, and suddenly begin to descend the other side. Finally, we can see only his long black tail disappearing, inch by inch.

Japanese Philosopher

For Pointers en route to Paris there's just one more word before we begin to stuff our swollen clothes into luggage for the homeward journey. That word is Laperouse, a restaurant at Quai des Grand Augustins on the Left Bank, one you'll not want to miss. It's one of the last restaurants with small, private dining rooms (for your romantic moments, we read someplace) and service is very pre-war. There are maitres, sommeliers, and we swear there was even a crouton man there last night. We became absorbed with the table next us; two French gentlemen and a Japanese, all in the sugar business. Their conversation was conducted in precise English but the menu was all French. Trout en Gelee with green mayonnaise (Montrachet); Chateaubriand with Bernaise Sauce (a ruby Beaujolais); Pears Laperouse, baked and then masked in celestial lemon cream sauce (champagne). Forgive our poor manners, but we learned that the Japanese gentleman painted for avocation, that he yearned to bring his oils to Europe some day, and he declared to his companions that "to succeed one must not be too serious." That brought us up with a start for we had always been told just the opposite: That the man who can make light of his own efforts is most likely to be taken lightly. Ah, well. And now, it's going home time . . . just a few minutes to make the plane at Orly and it will be wonderful seeing you again!

Moore's Return To Coast Home

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian S. Moore Jr. have left for their home in LaJolla, Calif., after spending several weeks visiting friends and relatives here.

Mr. Moore and Harold DuCharme boarded the "Natoya" for a two weeks' fishing trip to Lake Superior. Mrs. Moore stayed two weeks with Miss Susan D. Copland of Moran road, and then visited her brother-in-law and sister, the Gaylord W. Gillises of University place.

With her sister, Mrs. Kirkland B. Alexander, and Miss Copland, Mrs. Moore also went to Stratford, Ont., for the Shakespearean festival.

During her stay in the Pointe she was feted at parties given by Mrs. Roy D. Chapin and Mrs. Hiram H. Walker.

Boat Club Plans Western Party

In bandannas, sombreros or ten-gallon hats the Detroit Boat Club members and their guests will celebrate their Traditional Western Party on Saturday evening, August 13. Although "Cowboy Hardware" is taboo, cap pistols may be substituted.

In a life-like ranch setting, complete with corral fences and saddles, the guests will enjoy a delicious dinner and dance to the melodious rhythms of the Dave Farley orchestra.

The committee, chairmanned by Dr. and Mrs. Cyril DeFever, and consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Haford Kerbawy, Mr. and Mrs. Lane Donovan, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Carne, feels confident that this party will certainly provide the "Peel of the West."

George Allens Stage Reunion

A family reunion was the highlight of last week's social doings for the George B. Allens of Lakepointe avenue. The younger generation gathered at the Allens for the weekend, and it was a full house all the way around.

Daughter and son-in-law, the Carl Kellers, came all the way from Omaha, Nebraska, with their four young fry, Michael, Carl, Thomas and James.

They were joined for the weekend's festivities by the Cleveland edition of the Allen clan, the Robert G. Allens and their son, Robert G. Jr.

While the right to talk may be the beginning of freedom, the necessity of listening is what makes the right important.—Walter Lippman.

To brighten your heatproof-glass baking pans boil them in a solution of 2 tablespoons vinegar to one quart of water. It takes just a few minutes and they'll really shine.

Legion Auxiliary News

From Unit 303
By ROWENA WEAVER

Women of the American Legion Auxiliary have joined with the men of the American Legion in asking for a three-point revision of the United Nations Charter, according to Mrs. Ruth Allan, president of Grosse Pointe No. 303 Unit of the Auxiliary.

These revisions, which Mrs. Allen termed essential if the United Nations is to be able to prevent aggression, are:

1. Reorganize the Security Council with representation on a larger basis and fuller recognition to free-world nations, which would mean the veto can be safely discarded in matters of aggression and preparing for aggression.
2. Create an international control of scientific weapons, and inspection by international teams of inspectors of all nations possessing the ability to produce A-bombs, H-bombs, germ warfare or other scientific weapons of destruction.

3. Establish a United Nations policy authority composed of international contingents capable of stopping all minor aggressions or preparations for aggression.

"We want the experiences of the United Nations in the first ten years of its life to be used to make it into a more effective instrument for world peace," Mrs. Allen said.

"We are vigorously opposed to 'world government' in any form or fashion, and will oppose any attempts to amend the United Nations Charter in the direction of making the UN into a super-government of the world."

Nothing is particularly hard if you divide it into small jobs.—Henry Ford.

THIRST COME, THIRST SERVED—These Bronx (New York) Zoo Hippos vie with each other for a thirst-quenching squirt of water that's just big enough to dampen their tonsils in the sweltering New York weather. It would take a fair-sized portion of Niagara Falls to satisfy this pair.

NEW FACES OF 1955—A couple of sad Sakis—that's what these new arrivals at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo are! Unhappy about being so far from their home in South America are the white-faced Saki monkey (left) and the grizzled Saki.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS—The horse and buggy days are here again for 91-year-old George H. Clark of North Belle Vernon, Pa. A retired well driller, Clark purchased his pre-auto-age transportation when the state refused to renew his driver's license. He had been driving a car for 47 years without a serious accident but could no longer pass the special eye test. Clark outfitted himself with the buggy and a pony, Sally Ann, so he could ride each day to the cemetery with seven-year-old grandson Bobby to visit his wife's grave.

THAT'S NO COWBOY—A peaceful farm scene is brightened by the presence of shapely Anna Paukani, one of the new crop of Italian starlets. Perched on a fence with cows in the background, she's in no danger of being mistaken for a cowboy, at any distance.

JUST LOOK AT THOSE TURTLES! — One of nature's greatest spectacles—the annual turtle migration on the shores of the Orinoco River, 200 miles south of Caracas, Venezuela, is now taking place. Thousands of giant turtles come to the spot to lay their eggs (60 to 120 each) on the snow-white sands of the river bank. Under strict regulations hunters and merchants are allowed to catch what turtles they can (by hand) and each turtle brings about eight bolivars ($2.40). Rounded up (above) the turtles are turned on their backs, making them helpless, to await shipment down the river.

PUTTING UP A FRONT—Bank guard? No, some practical joker just put this cardboard advertising figure in the doorway of the National Bank of America in Salina, Kansas. Apparently, the figure was stolen from some service station.

COOL, COOL PASTIME—Hildegard Schneider, Pan American Airways, cools off in the snow as Georgia Murphy, Northwest Airlines and Claudie Benault, Air France, pelt her with more of that cool snow. The girls were guests of Panagra's pre-inaugural flight of its El Inter Americano service to South America. While the girls were in Sanitago, Chile, they made a trip high into the Andes to do some skiing.

LUCKY GIRL — Glamorous Joan Greenwood steps from her plane at Idlewild Airport, in the U. S. for her role in NBC-TV's Producers' Showcase "The King and Mrs. Candle," on Aug. 22, none the worse after being saved from possible death. She carried with her a highly dangerous prescription, made up by mistake, and was only saved from taking it by the quick action of the plane's pilot.

PEACH OF A PAIR—Soaking up the sunshine at a Miami Beach hotel are Joan Denton (left) of Jefferson City, Tenn., and Diane Rowland of Asheville, N. C. The 17-year-old brunettes are rhododendron queens of their respective states and won the Florida trip as a prize in the ninth annual Rhododendron Festival at Roan Mountain, Tenn.

GETTING HIS GOAT — A goat's gotta keep on his toes or some buttinsky like this dog will make trouble. Billy the Kid, a young goat with a rodeo at Rochester, N. Y., soon fixed this nosy cocker spaniel, however. Rearing up, he rammed the rambunctious cocker with a broadside the pooch won't soon forget.

ORCHIDS TO ANN—Actress Ann Blyth admires an orchid named for her by producer Arthur Freed, who developed it. The "Ann Blyth" orchid recently won two top honors in the Southern California Orchid Growers Association competition. Miss Blyth is starred in Freed's production of "Kismet."

ANTS AIN'T FOR THEM—Two anteaters from West Berlin's Zoological Garden are turned loose on a city lot to rid it of an invading army of ants. To the amazement of keepers and the annoyance of city officials, but to the amusement of onlookers; the odd pair merely sniffed the ants and turned up their long noses in disgust. They'd been fed too long on a diet of honey, egg yolks and ground beef to go grubbing around for their natural food.

SWISH YOU WERE HERE — A disembodied head appears to be swishing through the waters at Florida's Cypress Gardens. Actually, one water skier is riding another's shoulders and they are both getting a thorough dousing from an aqua-plane expert at left.

IT'S LOOKS THAT COUNT—Two pretty girls adjust the symbols of his title for Angelo Casanova after he was elected "Mr. Ugly of 1955" in a unique Pinerolo, Italy, contest. A jury of six beautiful girls picked the famous lover's namesake from 28 contestants. Casanova was judged devoid of non-ugly features.
