SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SETS RECORD

9,075 Pupils Now Attend Classes Here

Increase of 620 Over Last
Year Reported With 1,492
Going to High School

Grosse Pointe Public School doors have opened wide to accommodate a record 9,075 young people this Monday morning. This is 620 or 7.3 percent more than were listed a year ago at this time which was 8,455.

Superintendent James W. Bushong indicated that enrollments are well within the range predicted earlier by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, Director of Pupil Personnel.

1,893 at High School
The High School, which is being operated this year as a four-year high school, had 1,893 students including 356 ninth graders. The latter are housed in the High School Annex which has been renovated for classroom purposes, rewired for more adequate lighting, and otherwise modernized for the ninth grade classes. A year ago the High School building had an enrollment of 1,492 so the increase this year is 401 including ninth graders.

Even with the partial relief granted by sending many ninth grade students to the high school, the junior high schools continue to feel the pressure of unprecedented numbers.

Parcells Crowded
Parcells, which last year at this time had 811 on the rolls, now has 857, an increase of 46. Pierce, with 891 last year, now has 885, a decrease of only 6 despite the ninth grade transfers to the high school.

A comparison of enrollment figures for the third day of the new semester (September 12, 1955) and the third day of the first semester last school year (September 13, 1954) reveals increases at elementary, junior high, and senior high levels. The total enrollment in the elementary schools was 5,440, which was an increase of 179 or 3.4 percent over a corresponding date last year.

The total enrollment in the junior high school grade levels was 2,098, which was an increase of 298 or 16.6 percent.

The total enrollment in the senior high school grade levels was 1,537, which was an increase of 143 or 10.3 percent.

Collie Forfeits Life for Bites

An 11-year-old collie owned by Dr. Richard Connelly of 1360 Three Mile drive, bit two too many people on Monday, September 5.

A neighboring two-year-old, Susan Roubie of 1368 Three Mile, was eating a piece of candy given her by the Connellys when the dog attacked her. She was bitten on the upper part of her body.

Mrs. Connelly, seeing the attack, came to the child's aid and the dog turned on her. The owner was bitten on the right forearm. Some kinds words finally subdued the rampaging collie, and the two victims were taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment. The collie, a family pet, was put away at the request of Mrs. Connelly.

According to the Park police, Mrs. Connelly said the dog was "just too old and quarrelsome."

School District Shift Possible

The Harper Woods Board of Education recently initiated a request that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education join them in informal discussions dealing with the possibility of an annexation of the Poupard Elementary School District to the Harper Woods School District.

A meeting of the two boards was held last Tuesday, September 6. The position of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education can be stated as follows:

The Board of Education of the Grosse Pointe Public School System will not oppose the legal annexation of the Poupard District by the Harper Woods School System provided that the Harper Woods Board of Education presents clear and proper evidence that the annexation is approved by a majority of the electors of the Poupard School District.

Credit for Saving Two Lives Given To Alert Neighbor

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marshall Dragged From Smoke-Filled Home by Rescue Squads After Mrs. Rivard Sent in a Fire Alarm

A neighbor's casual observation saved the lives of the Richard Marshalls of 528 Rivard Thursday, September 8. The Marshalls, both overcome, were dragged from their smoke-gutted bedrooms by rescue squads from the Farms and City.

The blaze, started by a cigaret, was discovered by Mrs. Gerald Rivard when she noticed smoke pouring from the upstairs windows of her neighbor's home. She immediately called the City fire department.

In the Nick of Time
"A few minutes more and the Marshalls could have very well suffocated," said City Assistant Fire Chief Harold Rivard. Rivard, who is no relation to the heroine, highly commended Mrs. Rivard's quick thinking and prompt action.

Rushed to Bon Secours Hospital, the Marshalls responded nicely. "When we first got there, though, things didn't look good," Chief Rivard said. Completely overcome, Mr. Marshall had to be carried out of the house. The blaze started in his room. "It's a miracle to me how he escaped without any burns," the chief said. "His bed was burned out completely around him."

Mrs. Marshall Delirious
Mrs. Marshall, who was sleeping in an adjoining bedroom, was delirious, but was able to walk with assistance.

The exact origin of the fire was determined later at an investigation. "Mr. Marshall recalls that he was smoking in bed. The next thing he remembers is coming to at the hospital," Chief Rivard said.

Damage to the bedroom and contents was estimated at approximately $1,000. Beside the bed and cover that were completely ravaged, the rug was destroyed and the floor was badly scorched.

Fog Nozzle Used
The fire was put out with a high pressure fire hose with a fog nozzle run up through the house. "The fire and damage were not nearly as serious as the possible consequences that could have followed," said Fire Chief Thomas Trombly. "People must learn that a bed is no place to smoke."

It was learned that in accord with the now proposed mutual fire aid program under consideration, the City immediately called in the Farms department.

"It was a good thing, too, because their rescue team pulled out Mrs. Marshall," Trombly said.

Arguing Drivers Both Get Tickets

Two motorists, each blaming the other for an accident which occurred at Mack and Allard on Sunday, September 11, were ticketed for not having their cars under control and causing an accident.

Stanley Vasko, 27, of 24578 Lexington, E. Detroit and Joseph A. Alhage, 28, of 4113 Belvidere, Detroit, became involved while they were both driving east on Mack avenue.

Vasko claimed Alhage cut into his left side, but Alhage claimed Vasko was to blame because he cut into his right side.

Shopping Sheet 'Nuisance' In Opinion of Park Council

The nuisance value of door-to-door advertising distributing was the subject of some debate at the Park council meeting held Monday, September 12.

The particular item under question was "The Shopping News," distributed free of charge via paper boys twice a week.

The SN question came up as the result of a request by an advertising agency to distribute door-to-door pamphlets. The request of the agency was denied and also served to trigger a lively discussion on the worth of the ad paper.

"What can we do to get rid of that Shopping News?" asked Councilman Charles Ives. "That thing has been cluttering up my front porch and ruining my lawn for too many years now."

Ives was not alone in his feeling about the paper. The council as a body agreed that the paper was nothing but a nuisance.

"They kicked it off our street," said Councilman William Oddy, "but it was back in about a week."

A question in all of the councilmen's minds was, "Who reads the SN?" Though no figures were readily available, it was felt that a majority of the Pointe residents didn't.

Salk Vaccine Programs in Second Stage

Innoculations Were Started Yesterday and Will be Finished by September 26

The Grosse Pointe Health Department has already begun its second phase of administering the Salk Polio Vaccine in all Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods schools located in the Pointe School District.

Dr. Thomas Davies, Grosse Pointe Health Commissioner, disclosed that approximately 3,000 children in the District will have received the vaccine treatment by the end of the program. These are the children who received the first treatment last April and who are now in the second and third grades in school.

Began Yesterday
The second inoculation program began with the young students at Beacon School; Harper Woods, at 9 a. m. yesterday, September 14; all clinics will be begun at 9 a. m. on the scheduled dates, said Dr. Davies.

Students of another Harper Woods school, Our Lady Queen of Peace (including Tyrone School) will receive inoculation this morning, September 15.

On Monday, September 19, clinics will be held in the following Pointe schools: Defer (including Christian Day), Maire, Kerby, Monteith and Mason.

More on Sept. 20
Clinics for Tuesday, September 20, will be at Trombly, Gabriel, Richard, St. Paul (including Sacred Heart), St. Clare of Montefalco, Poupard and Grosse Pointe University School.

Ferry and Vernier schools will be taken care of on Wednesday, September 21.

Make-up clinic for those who missed the earlier clinics will be held in the Health Department office in Defer School on Monday, September 26, Dr. Davies stated.

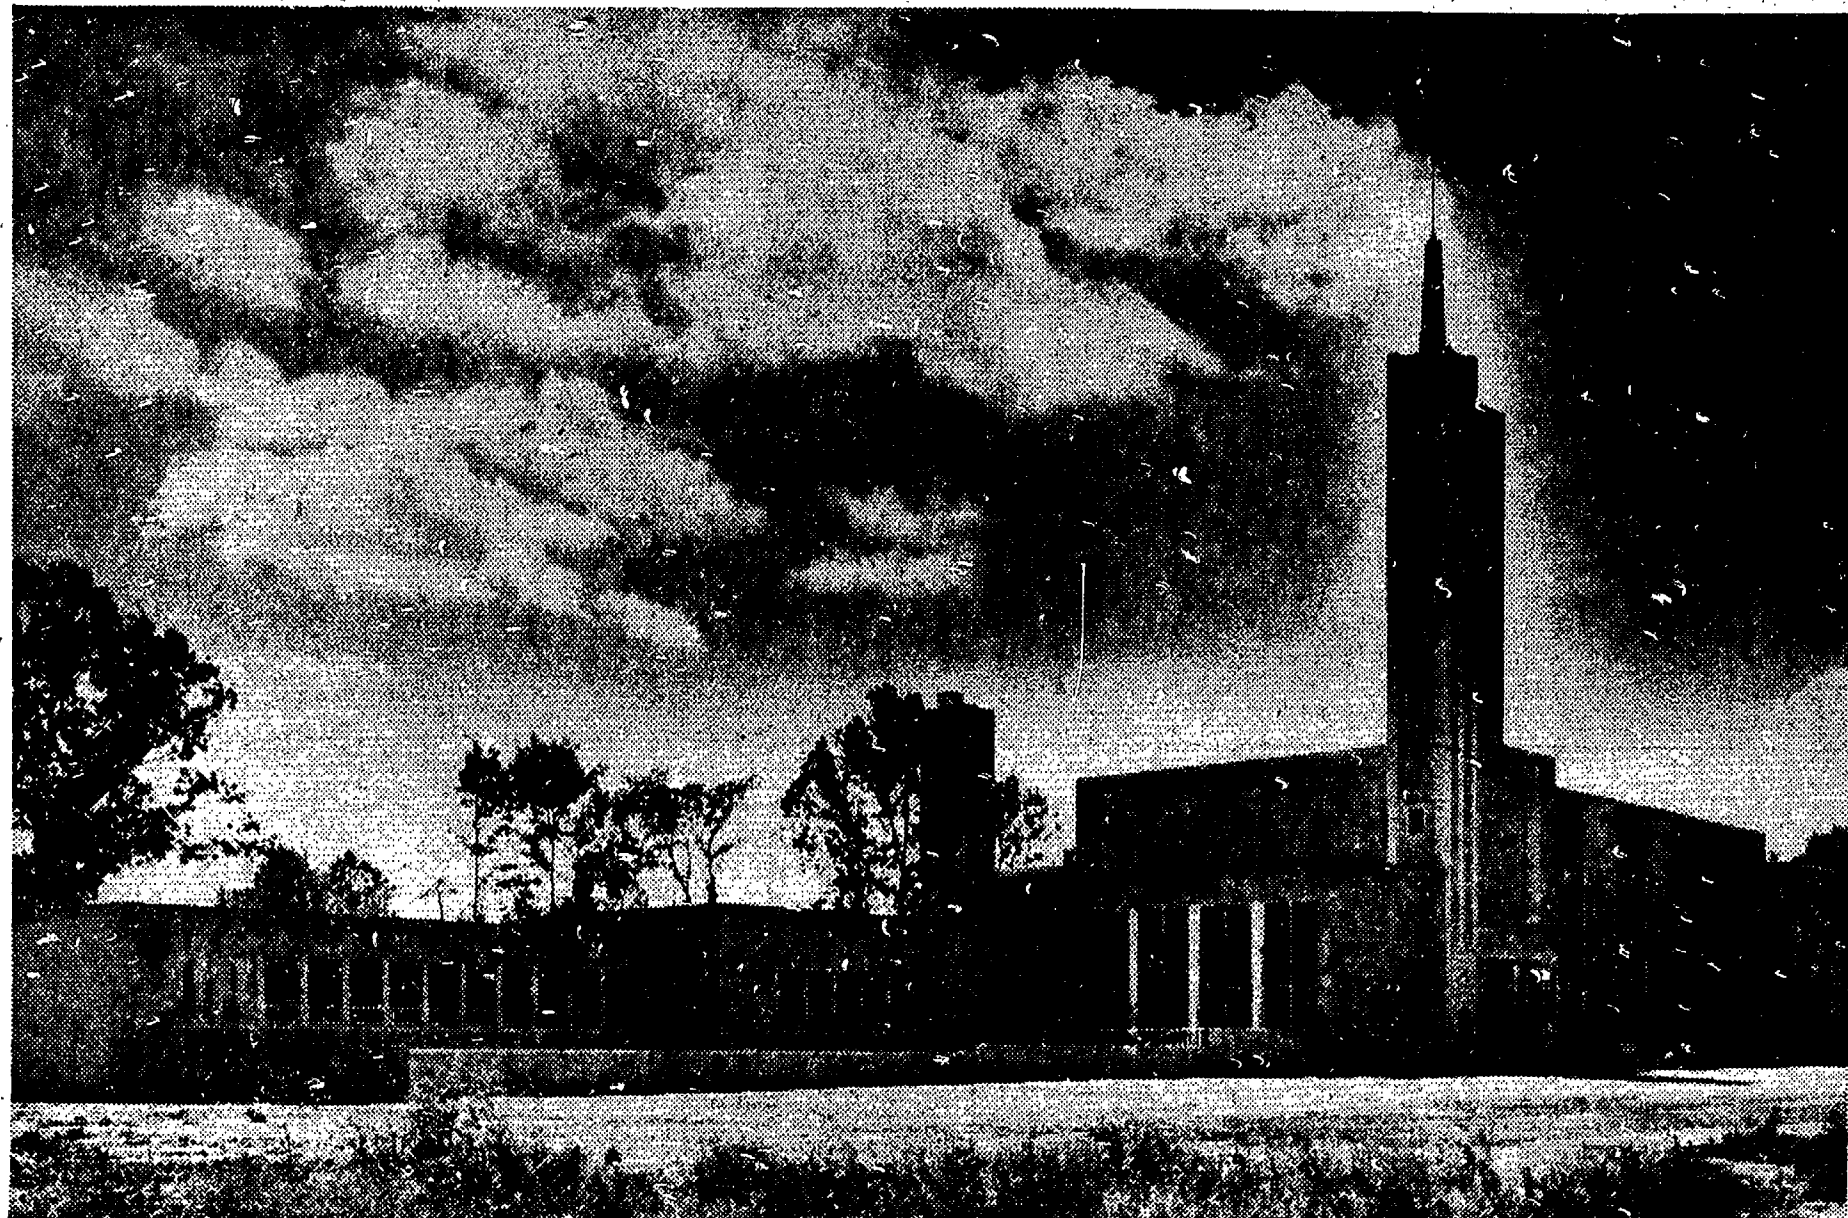

Fails to See Car Ahead Stop

Failure to keep his eyes on the road resulted in a minor two-car smash-up for driver Keith Mcintosh of 1311 Anita in the Woods.

Mcintosh was going east on Jefferson when he failed to see a car driven by Max Luft, Jr., stop for the Pemberton light. Luft lives at 797 Washington road in the City.

Little damage was done to either car and no one was injured. A violation ticket was issued to Mcintosh.

New Church Ready for Dedication Ceremonies

The Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, (formerly the Burns Avenue Baptist Church), will observe a week of dedication services of the new church building, located on the corner of Mack avenue and Base Line road, in Grosse Pointe Woods. The meetings will begin with Sunday Morning meeting, September 18 and continue throughout the week with the closing meeting on Sunday evening, September 25. Included in the program will be prominent clergymen, businessmen and city officials.

Report Three Polio Cases In District

Total for Season Now Stands At 9, As Compared With 33 This Time Last Year

Three new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Health District during the week-end, according to Dr. Thomas Davies, health commissioner.

All three cases are in the Pointe, one in the Woods, one in the City and one in the Park. None of them is accompanied by any paralysis, Dr. Davies said.

Two of the victims are boys and one is a girl. Their ages are 10, 9 and 8. The nine-year-old boy is the only one of the trio which had a Salk vaccine inoculation in school last spring. This is the first polio case in the Pointe this season affecting a patient who had had the vaccine.

The three new cases bring the total for the season in the district to nine. At this time last year there had been 33 cases, reported in the district.

None of this year's cases has been accompanied by any paralysis.

Siamese Apple On Pointe Tree

John Zogt of 1304 Grayton was surprised to find upon inspection of his orchard that a Siamese apple had appeared on the lower branch of one of his russet apple trees.

Mr. Zogt reports that two apples growing on the same stem is almost unheard of in horticultural circles.

Proposed McMillan Closing Decision Handed to Council

Whether McMillan road will be closed off and transferred to the Pointe Board of Education in exchange for a strip of land to augment the Municipal parking lot is now back in the lap of the Farms council.

At a meeting to discuss the issue of the road closing, held on Monday, September 12, it was decided that nothing had been accomplished, to date, and that the matter be referred back to the council.

Present at the meeting were members of the city council, representatives of the Richard School PTA, St. James Lutheran Church School Board, Fisher Road Committee, McKinley Avenue Committee and Traffic Engineer Oscar Gunderson.

Non-Registered Residents Eligible to Vote Offered Fine Opportunity Saturday

League of Women Voters Manning Booths in Shopping Centers Throughout Pointe To Help Observe Citizenship Week

All non-registered Grosse Pointe residents who are eligible to vote are urged to take advantage of an opportunity to register right in their own shopping district on Saturday, September 17.

September 17 is the beginning of National Citizenship Week. An intensive voter registration campaign is being planned throughout the country. Members of the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters have volunteered their services to the clerks of the Pointe municipalities to assist in the registration of voters.

They will be sworn in as deputies and will have all powers conferred by the election law upon city clerks.

To Set Up Booths
Booths will be set up on Saturday in the various shopping districts to make it easy for all voters to register. Grosse Pointe City and Park will have a combined registration booth outside of Jacobson's on Kercheval. Mrs. Stokes Gillespie and Mrs. Dunbar MacMechan will register City voters. Mrs. E. N. Morang and Mrs. Vincent Norako will take care of Park residents.

In Grosse Pointe Farms the registration booth will be in front of Wrigley's on Kercheval. Mrs. Albert Klink, Mrs. William Laitner and Mrs. Greydon Worbois will be the deputies.

In Grosse Pointe Woods a booth will be set up in front of the J. C. Penney store at Mack and Moross road. Mrs. Donald Jennings, Mrs. Eugene Most and Mrs. John Kirlin will register voters there.

According to the Clerk of Grosse Pointe Shores all eligible voters of that city are registered, a record of which Shores residents may well be proud.

All non-registered voters in the other Pointe communities are urged to visit a booth on Saturday so that they may be registered for the coming elections. The booths will be open from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

If unable to register on that date, residents should go to the office of the clerk of their municipality during the following week.

Center to Show Freedom Shrine

Francois Guizot, French writer of note, historian and statesman, once asked the beloved American poet and author, James Russell Lowell, "How long do you think the American Republic will endure?" Lowell's reply was, "So long as the ideas of its founders continue to be dominant." Guizot responded with "I agree with you."

To further publicize and support Elizabeth Cass, Chapter, D.A.R. in its recognition of Constitution Week, September 17 through 23, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial plans, as a feature for the week, a "Freedom Shrine" 20 panel exhibit. It will be displayed at the War Memorial Center.

In addition to this display the Center extends an invitation to the public to attend a program on Saturday, September 17, at 3 p. m., which will open Constitution Week in the Grosse Pointe area.

As a highlight of the afternoon's program, a Certificate of Merit award will be presented, through the sponsorship of Elizabeth Cass, D.A.R., Mrs. Donald M. Carson, Regent, as recognition of a citizen for his time and effort, given freely, to develop an understanding in his community that will "protect America's Future Through Patriotic Education."

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, September 8 A NOTE OF PROSPERITY

has been recorded by the Commerce Department in Washington. It was revealed that the public had a record income in July, running at an annual rate of 304½ billion dollars. Reports on booming employment and construction underscored the prosperity.

Private industry payrolls were also higher in July, the department said. Jobs totaled a record 65½ million in August, just a half million more than the previous record set in July.

THE UNITED NATIONS will take into consideration the fighting between Israel and Egypt along the Gaza Strip in Southern Palestine. The United States, Britain and France convoked the UN Security Council to meet today to consider the matter.

The three nations, committed to joint action on Palestine under a 1950 agreement, submitted a draft resolution calling upon Israel and Egypt to take steps necessary to bring about peace in the area. A UN report revealed that between August 22 and September 1, there were 56 persons killed and 39 injured in fighting along the truce line.

MICHIGAN JUDGES came out as opposing the Missouri plan whereby Michigan judges will be selected by the Governor and called for defeat of the plan should it reach the ballot. The Michigan Judges' Association spearheads action to defeat the measure.

Some 95 judges, including Supreme Court justices and members of Circuit, Recorder's and Superior Court benches, took opposition action in the Dearborn Inn at the opening session of a three-day meeting.

Friday, September 9
FIVE OFFICERS of the Argentine Army were accused of being rebels. Brig. Gen. Dalmiro Felix Videla Balaguer and four subordinates of the Rio Cuarto garrison were ordered to appear for a hearing before the commander of the Second Army.

The implication was that the five had disappeared several days ago. Rumors of unrest in the garrison have been current now for a number of days. The army's loyalty has been President Juan Peron's pillar of strength since the June 16 revolt.

RUSSIA ROLLED OUT the "red" carpet for West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who arrived in Moscow for momentous talks with Russian leaders. After his welcome, the Chancellor told the leaders that the peace and security of Europe and the world depended "on the normalization of relations with us."

Among things to be discussed at meetings will be the reunification of Germany and the release of German war prisoners. U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen was also on hand to greet Adenauer.

ECUADOR, claiming it faces invasion from Peru, appealed to the Council of the Organization of American States to intervene. However, the council, by a 19-0 vote, decided not to step in until it has more information. It will wait for a report from a four-nation committee investigating the situation.

Earlier, an Ecuadorean official said Peru is massing troops along Ecuador's border and naval vessels along the Ecuadorean coastline.

Saturday, September 10
KONRAD ADENAUER, Chancellor of West Germany, informed Russia that "normal relations" are unthinkable unless Russia releases German war prisoners and an end is brought to the division of the German nation. He said that economic diplomatic cultural relations are necessary for peace and security.

In his opening address of the first meeting, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin ignored the issue of the prisoner release. He repeated that the unification issue depends on West Germany dropping its membership in the NATO and the Western European Union.

Proposed McMillan Closing

(Continued from Page 1) McMillan is the most important north-south street in the vicinity. It carries approximately 2,000 vehicles daily. Daily traffic on Fisher is 1,500; on McKinley, 900; and on Muir, 700. If the street were to be closed, then its traffic would be distributed over Fisher, McKinley and Muir.

Mr. Gunderson, in the report, pointed out that this diversion would arouse complaints from the residents of these streets. The report ended with the recommendation that no action be taken toward acquiring the property in question.

At the meeting, Bert Wicking, member of the School Board, disclosed that if the exchange did go through, the Farms would benefit because the city would acquire land more than twice as large as the street, if it is relinquished.

The representatives of interested groups at the meeting became interested when one of the group queried as to how other communities financed and handled this type of parking problem.

Mr. Gunderson stated that some communities finance their lots through revenue bonds and some use the pay-as-you-go plan, that is, paying for developments through revenue from parking meters.

Mentioning of the meters brought out the question, from a member of the group, as to whether the city intended to meter the Municipal lot, to which Mayor William Connolly answered, "No, there are no plans at the present time."

In getting back to the closing of McMillan, Farms City Attorney Edward Wright said that closing of the street would bring about legal obstacles, which could be surmounted, but if the street is to be closed a public hearing would be required. A second alternative to closing of the street, that of constructing a double deck on the lot, was discussed.

City Manager Harry Furton revealed that such a project would cost $180,000 or about $1,000 per car space. Closing of McMillan, and widening of McKinley and Fisher roads to accommodate increased traffic and to develop the proposed strip at the rear of the Muir road property line, if acquired from the Board of Education, would cost about $97,000, it was estimated.

Mayor Connolly, after questions and answers were exhausted, remarked that the "ball has been tossed back to the council." He said that nothing had been accomplished during the meeting and now it is up to the council to decide what is to be done.

The result of the meeting brought out that a majority, if not all of those present, were opposed to the closing of McMillan.

Freedom Shrine

Many other groups will be participating in Constitution Week. Among these organizations will be the Boy Scouts, Eastern Detroit Exchange Club, the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club, and possibly members of the Armed Forces.

New Suspect

(Continued from Page 1) The rash of daylight entries, that saw as many as two homes a day fall victim, started back in the first week of August. The first definite clue as to the identity of the burglars came on Tuesday, August 16. An armed robbery attempt of a lower east side Detroit Bar failed.

The one gunman apprehended, admitted that he knew a Clarence Wooten, and that it was Wooten who was responsible for the suburban thefts. Property stolen from the Pointe homes was found in Wooten's room, where his gunman accomplice also stayed.

Since then, Wooten has not been located, but the entries have ceased also. Prior to the arrest of Stenson, police thought Wooten probably worked alone.

"It came as a surprise to us to find that Detroit had a suspect for our entries," said Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Stenson, who was not held by the Detroit police, was turned over to the Park, who got a warrant out against him. He is being held by the Park pending further investigation by the other Pointe communities.

INJURED AT WORK

Woods police took Pat Holtzman of 20663 Hunt Club, a waitress at Howard Johnson's, to St. John's Hospital, after she fell and injured her back on Saturday, September 10, while at work.

'Nuisance'

Though the council seemed to be in unanimous agreement that the paper should not be allowed to be distributed, it was hesitant to take any definite action until more facts were brought to light.

The discussion of the original request of the ad agency, the American Advertising Distributors, did bring to light that all permits for the distribution of pamphlets and samples door-to-door must be approved directly by the council. Prior to the Monday meeting, the permits were issued by the Public Service Department.

"I am glad that this discussion came about," said Mayor Homer Fritch. "We've had the ordinance on the books for some time, but its interpretation has been vague. I think we've cleared some things up today and I think we're approaching the formation of a definite policy."

Prior to the mayor's statement, City Manager Everett Lane criticized the application of the ordinance on the grounds that it was discriminatory. "This agency under question today appeals for the permit in the correct way and is denied while the others have been granted the right to operate door-to-door. It is not fair."

Lane's statement prodded the council to move to pass for re-emphasis the order that all permits must be directed to Council and not to the Public Service Department.

Science Church Has TV Program

A nation-wide television series recording actual documented cases of how prayer heals sickness and solves other problems was announced today by the Christian Science church.

The broadcast of the filmed series will be viewed in Grosse Pointe and vicinity over Station WXYZ-TV, Detroit, Channel 7, each Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

Two guests tell of their own religious experiences on each 15-minute program. A moderator will give brief comments of inspirational nature, designed to show how everyone can rely on God's help effectively in problems of daily life.

Included are reported healings through prayer of cancer, alcoholism, asthma, migraine headaches, brain tumor, broken bones and spinal meningitis.

The series is produced by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Will B. Davis, manager of committees on publication, is in charge of the project.

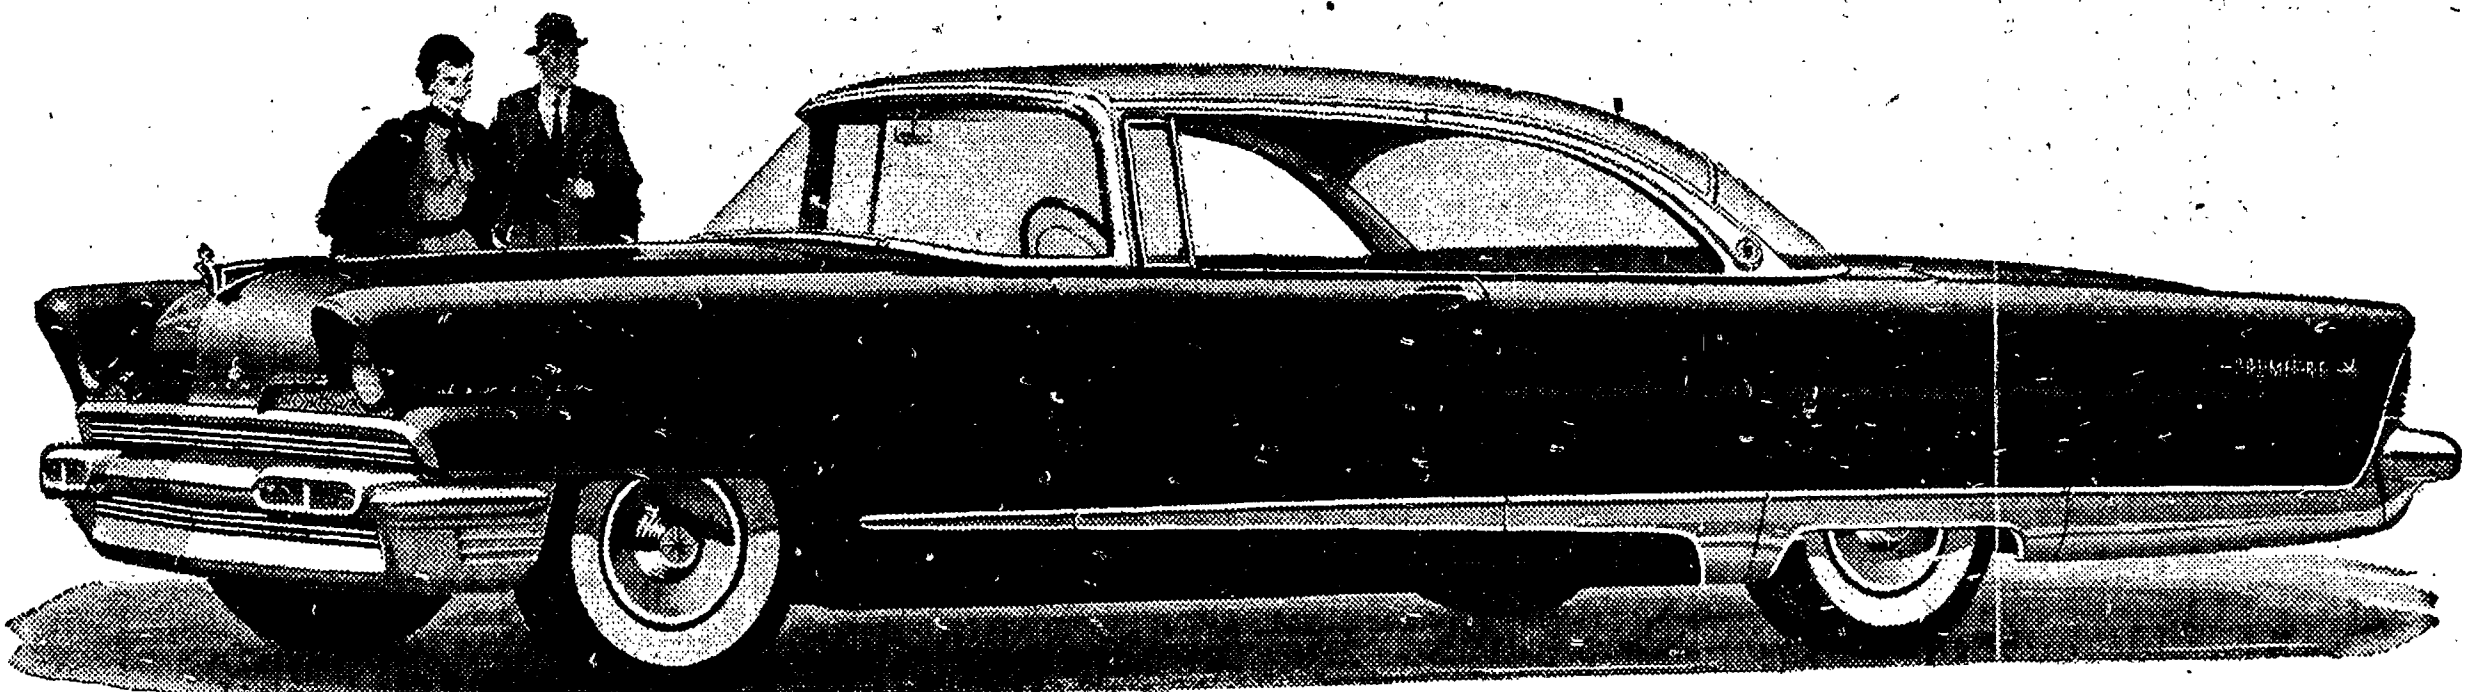

"Growing interest in spiritual healing is evident among people of many faiths," Mr. Davis commented. "The series provides actual evidence of how effective prayer can be in healing disease and coping with other problems. The programs are designed to inspire and help everyone who sees them—whatever his religious background."

The programs carry the series title "How Christian Science Heals." The Patescope Company of America supplied studio facilities for the initial group of 13 films. Robert G. Walker, TV film specialist from Hollywood, directed the production. Lee Games, Academy Award winner and chief of photography on many of Hollywood's best-known movies, was the head cameraman.

Radio programs of The Mother Church—which also carry the series title "How Christian Science Heals"—will continue to be broadcast over 800 stations throughout the United States and overseas.

AAA to Present Award to Woods

The Grosse Pointe Woods council meeting Monday evening (7:30 p.m., September 19) will be highlighted by the presentation to the city of a Special Citation Award from the American Automobile Association.

The award was won in the 16th national AAA Pedestrian Protection Program. The city was especially commended for having no pedestrian fatalities in 1954, while 500 other cities of comparable size had a pedestrian death rate of three per 100,000 population. The school safety phase of the city's pedestrian protection program also drew special praise from contest judges. Mayor Kenneth H. Koppin will accept the award for the city. Making the presentation will be John Trellay, traffic safety consultant of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Grosse Pointe Woods won a similar award last year and in 1952 received an honorable mention award.

Last year was the safest on record for pedestrians, the contest revealed. It marked the first time in nearly three decades that less than 8,000 American pedestrians died as the result of being struck by motor vehicles.

Theater to Give 'Male Animal'

James Thurber fans will spend a hilarious evening watching his famous cartoons translated into three acts of rib-ticking comedy. The Grosse Pointe Community Theater has selected "The Male Animal" by James Thurber and Elliot Nugent as its first presentation for the 1955-56 season.

A New York Times critic said about the play "... the authors have treated an ordinary uproar in a professor's domestic life in the anti-heroic style of Mr. Thurber's solemn drawings and crack-brained literary style. There is some sense mixed up in it here and there in a crisis about academic freedom. But Mr. Thurber and Mr. Nugent complicate it foolishly."

Tom Stein (1915 Kenmore), John Butterfield (970 Nottingham), Jane Duncan, Helen Roberts, Sonia Nolf, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Reeve, and Mrs. Richard Roney are also included in the cast. The play is being directed by Mrs. John Cook (781 Lorraine). Rosemary Kleffman (1100 Buckingham) is stage manager and Carol Wilson is producing the play.

"The Male Animal" will be presented at Cannon Memorial, East Warren at Cadieux on September 29, 30 and October 1 at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.25 and may be obtained by calling Ron Johnson, TU 2-9703, or at the Doubleday Book Shop in the Village.

Tickets may also be purchased at the door on the nights of the performance. Season tickets for the group's season of six plays are available at $6.00 each. Scheduled for production this year are "Glass Menagerie," "Rebecca," "Thieves' Carnival," "Come Back, Little Sheba," and "Dial M for Murder."

Injured Driver Receives Ticket

A motorist who was slightly injured in an accident on Monday, September 5, was ticketed by Farms police for reckless driving.

A police accident report revealed that a car driven by Thomas M. Campau of 323 Ridgmont was going east on Lake Shore, when it was struck in the left rear by a car driven by Everett Harper of 20034 Santa Barbara.

Campau's car was forced over the outside curb by the impact. Police estimated damages to both cars at about $250 each.

Harper was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Farms firemen, where three stitches were needed to close a nose wound. He was given a ticket for reckless driving; police said he had been drinking.

The report did not reveal if Campau had been hurt.

Church to Use Seabury Series

With the completion of the "Seabury Series" of Christian education, Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, will have this method of teaching available to children in the first, fourth and seventh church school grades.

The Seabury method has been in the experimental field for about nine years and has recently been published for these three grades.

"The series is predicated upon a new understanding of the meaning of Christian education and how it is accomplished," a spokesman said.

"It can no longer be considered the function of the church school to dispense factual knowledge of the Bible for children's use in the future. Christian education must speak to the children now, where they are, in all their relationships at home, at play, in school and the church school.

"This calls for unusual sensitivity, understanding and creativeness on the part of church school teachers, but their work will be of little consequence without equal involvement on the part of parents.

"Those families who participated last year in the experimentation for the fifth grade curriculum will attest to the necessity for this mutual involvement."

Students to Hold Dance at Center

The Youth Council at the War Memorial Center is sponsoring the fourth annual Five School Scramble on Friday night, September 16. All students in Grades 9-12 at the public, private and parochial schools are invited to attend. Busy scrambling up plans for the event are, left to right: CECILE RAINES, BOB MacDONALD, JOHN NICHOLSON, PHIL WARREN, SHELIA LEACOCK, PETE McKEE and ALICE LYNN MARTIN.

The dress will be casual, sweaters and skirts for the girls and sports coats for the boys, etc. It will be held from 9 until 12, and the admission will be $1.50 per couple.

Earl Perkins and his band will provide the music, and there will be outdoor dancing, weather permitting. During the band's intermission there will be a pep rally outside, as a send-off for the Grosse Pointe High game on Saturday, with a big bonfire and the Grosse Pointe High cheerleaders. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

The following dates are reminders for some of the Youth Council dances in the future: October 8, October 29, November 27 and December 23.

Panel to Talk On Fluoridation

Television Station WJBK has granted free time to the Pure Water Association of Detroit on Sunday afternoon, September 18, from 1 to 1:30, to present a panel of medical speakers on the topic of fluoridation of water.

Appearing on the panel will be Dr. W. F. Streit, Detroit dentist; Dr. C. J. Stringer, director of Chest Hospital, Ingham County, Lansing; and Dr. George Waldbott, allergy specialist of Detroit.

This newly formed Pure Water Association of Detroit is endeavoring to collect, analyze and make available to the public all the facts as they pertain to this vital issue of control methods for dental health for our children as well as health protection for adult citizens.

The Pure Water Association appealed to Station WJBK-TV for equal free time in the public interest following a program presented over their station by the University of Detroit Roundtable Sunday program several months ago, at which time the panelists spoke in favor of fluoridation.

The newly formed association was able to prove to the proper officials that there was another side to this topic not presented or discussed on the U. of D. TV program which should be brought to the attention of the public.

Help of Volunteers Needed

The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club once again is recruiting volunteers to serve as leaders and assistant leaders in the many youth activities which it offers on a year around basis to the youngsters and teen agers in the Grosse Pointe community.

Final dates have not been set for all of the activities but it is certain that many men and women will be needed to serve as volunteers in all areas of the fall and winter program.

The morning program will serve the pre-school age child in which mothers will serve as assistant leaders on a rotating basis. Several women are needed immediately to serve as full time leaders for two of the pre-school groups one morning a week.

The afternoon program, from 3-5, will serve the grade school age child. Parents of children in the program are encouraged to contribute one afternoon a week to serve as assistant leaders, game room supervisors or as craft assistants.

However, persons in the community are also encouraged to volunteer their time or their special skills to this worthwhile activity. Particularly needed are persons who would be able to serve as a club leader and offer club activities to a specific group of children on a weekly basis.

The evening program will serve teen agers and volunteers will be needed to help the staff offer a variety of activities including Co-Ed activities, game room, football and volleyball leadership, craft projects, special parties and dances.

The Community Club this year is designing its program to help the new volunteer to find interesting and challenging avenues of service. The club offers to all volunteers training and supervision in order that volunteers may receive greater satisfaction from their work as well as do a more effective job of leadership.

The Community Club staff feels that as the leadership for youth activities is on a volunteer basis and is recruited from the people in the community, then youth activities are truly a community project and a part of the community.

Volunteers in the past have been members of the Junior League, College Women Volunteer Service, Wayne 100 Hour Students, parents of club members and other interested persons.

The Community Club offers activities for all youth living in the Grosse Pointe School District and is a United Foundation agency. Persons interested in additional information concerning volunteer service may contact Ed Krattli at TU. 4-2050 or stop in at the Club at 20883 Mack avenue.

Drivers Told to Cut Speed To Protect School Children

"Check your driving habits now, so that you may save a life later!"

This was the advice given to Pointe motorists by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers. "The school year is but a week old today," Louwers said. "And today is the best time to make sure that the error you make is not a fatal one."

Louwers, who has always been strong for stringent traffic control, has again this year started an all out campaign to protect the school children.

"We've assigned extra men to school crossing duty. We've put out a good many rubber warning pylons on the center lanes of our through streets. We've started a heavier squad car control of school areas to help keep down speed," Louwers explained.

He pointed out that the signs that currently dot the Pointe, "Speed Kills", are no more than grim reminders of an all too true occurrence. "People would not believe the number of traffic accidents and deaths that are brought about by the Mauri Rosses of the highways," he went on.

"But where school children are concerned, I'm not so concerned with the drivers themselves, as I am with the fine young boys and girls walking to and from school. When a driver kills himself it's bad enough, but when they're harmed, it's twice as tragic."

Louwers pointed out the added cooperation that is being sought from the residents and particularly the school Safety Boys. "We've instructed all the Safety Boys to take the license number of anyone seen speeding and to turn it into the department. We'll ticket them and haul them into court." He hopes that concerned parents and residents will also cooperate in this phase of the program.

"If we can quell the speed, we can cut down the accident rate."

Besides just the Park, Louwers emphasized that the measures his department are taking are being duplicated throughout the Pointe.

"The police departments of all the Pointes are directing all the available manpower towards the apprehension of motorists who fail to recognize the necessity of keeping their driving actions within the limits of the law."

Along with the more obvious violations, those of seemingly lesser importance are also being closely patrolled. Said Louwers, "One of the most serious of the lesser errors drivers make is that of parents, who drive to school to pick their children up and park to wait in a no standing zone."

"Those zones are there so that motorists passing have a full view of the children on the walk. When cars are lined up waiting, this view is obstructed. Many times cars line both sides of the street and children dart out between them to cross the street to their own cars. This is exceedingly dangerous," Louwers explained.

"Children often don't think, and when their parents are within view, it is a natural psychological instinct for them to feel secure. They naturally run out between cars without a moment's hesitation," he went on. "We are going to enforce the no standing prohibitions strenuously."

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver

An unidentified hit-runner was reported to the City police Wednesday, September 7. The report was phoned in by the victim, Mrs. Etta Ramsay of 282 McKinley avenue.

According to the police, Mrs. Ramsay was on Mack avenue at Washington when she heard a crash and saw a car speed away.

She investigated and found that it was her car that was struck. She did not get the license number of the fleeing car.

Though there were no witnesses to the accident, the police did find good paint scrapings on the Ramsay fender. An investigation is being carried on.

Parley Planned by Fire Chiefs

The International Association of Fire Chiefs will hold its annual convention in Omaha, Neb., from September 19 through 22, it was revealed.

Happy Days Continue At Pointe Yacht Club

Never a dull moment at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, what with the annual Father and Son Party just past, and three upcoming September events to keep activities bubbling merrily in GPYC's usual fun-fest mood.

Immediately ahead is the club's ladies bridge luncheon and fashion show, the first of the fall season. It will take place next Tuesday, September 20, at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Robert F. Weber and Mrs. Thomas Fox are co-chairmen.

On Wednesday, September 21, GPYC will have its fifth annual pre-bowling party with 6 o'clock cocktails and buffet dinner in the Fo'castle, entertainment by Arthur Quatro and his trio, and open bowling on the club alleys. Paul I. Moreland is bowling chairman and Richard J. Martin, vice-chairman.

The annual Blue Nose Long Distance Sailing Race will be September 24 event. Yachting chairman is George C. Cossaboom.

Looking back to the Father and Son Party which took place last Thursday, September 8, it was fun, fun, fun! Even before the 4:30 p.m. scheduled hour, dads and their lads of all ages were on the lawn, fascinated by the display of Eugene A. Casaroll's racing cars and new, swank sports cars. The racers had been Mr. Casaroll's entries in the 1954 Indianapolis 500-Mile Speedway Race.

Greeting arrivals were Commodore William O'Neill Kronner and the party chairmen, L. George Hooper and Mr. Casaroll, as well as their committee aides, J. Earl Fraser and Bryan Chaplow.

Special guests were 16 ophans entertained by Alfred L. Gostow, Fred A. Hood, Jr., Commodore John R. Sutton, Jr., George C. Mitchell and the committee members.

Featured was a swimming, diving and trampoline act by Hobart Billingsly and Don Harper—Mr. Harper had just returned from Japan, flying in from Seattle on the party day. Too, there were cruiser rides on Lake St. Clair aboard Joel Bremer's "Mar-Jo-Win," E. M. Gregory, Jr.'s 38-foot Chris-Craft cruiser, Mr. Chaplow's "Chap-pie," and Mr. Casaroll's "Casbah."

Dinner in the big main lounge was a hubbub of jollity. Commodore Kronner presided at the speakers' table and gave a brief welcome. With him were his son, William O'Neill Kronner, Jr., and grandsons, Bill Kronner III, Bobby Kronner and Tommy and Michael Wheeler.

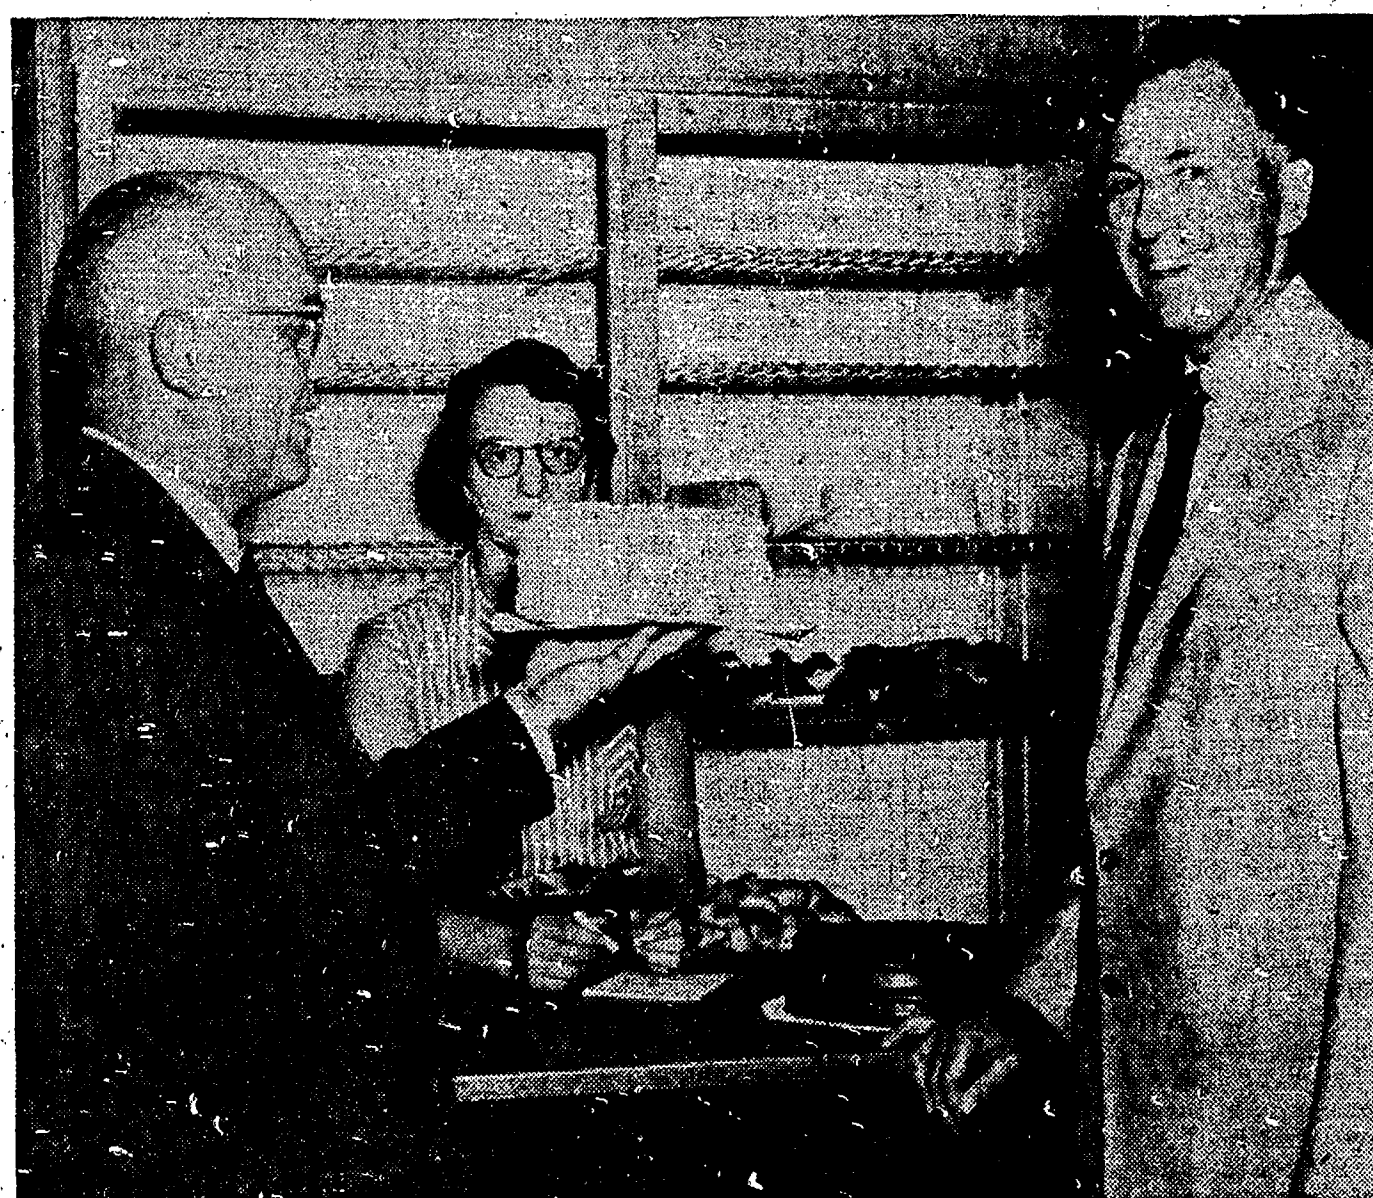

On the entertainment side were Ray Labarr, the clown; Dess Davy, noted ventriloquist who seated young Johnny Schoenherr on his knee as his "dummy" assistant; television's "Milky" the magician, who asked Kimmy McNamara to help in his magic rope and fan tricks, and Hal Hamilton, the balloon man.

In the throng were young Leonard Hooper, Tony Casaroll, Frank E. Jenney with his son Jack and guests John Huetteman, Jr. and John III; John McNamara with John Jr. and Jimmy and their friend, Jack Blum; William M. Schmidt and Bill; Freddy, Jimmy and Tommy West with their father, Fred C. West, uncle Leonard R. West and grandfather, Fred S. West.

Others there were John F. DeHayes and John, Jr.; Charles A. Kotcher and Charles, Jr.; Richard A. Wiggins with Dick, Jr. and Tom; Dr. Joseph L. Whelan and Joe, Jr.; George C. Gilfillen, Jr. and Christopher; Carl A. Berndt and Dennis; Richard J. Martin with Jerry and John.

Still more in the overflowing throng were Robert A. Hackathorn and Bob, Jr.; Edward J. Schoenherr and Blay; Jack P. Pedersen and John Edward; Richard J. Kurtz with his sons, Brad Boydell and Rik Kurtz; Dr. Stanley F. Dolega, and Walter F. Probst, Jr. and Jerry.

Allard Opening to be Sweet Affair, too!

A cake like so, but bigger — four layers high and umpteen inches across, that's what these gentlemen are ordering. It is to be presented to Grosse Pointer Walter Allard today at the beginning of the 3-day grand opening of his newly acquired Stein Hardware store at 18626 Mack avenue, next to the Post Office. Shown making the selection are President AL J. MEYER (left) and vice-president RAY HUETTEMAN of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association. The lady serving them is MRS. CHARLES MANNINO of Hawthorne House. The cake consists of 56 servings.

Cunningham Drug Having Opening

In grand opening ceremonies which began yesterday, September 14, and which are to continue through today, Friday and Saturday, the big Cunningham Drug Store, Kercheval at Notre Dame, in the Village, is marking the completion of its rebuilding program. Charles Nadeau is the manager and chief pharmacist of the store.

Elementary School News

The 1955-56 school year at the Pere Gabriel Richard School started out in real earnest when on Sept. 8 some 549 happy and eager youngsters appeared to assume school days again. Many of the children were accompanied by their parents, who especially if their children were just starting out in the kindergarten, were just as anxious as the youngsters.

Standing about the halls and at the classroom doors were 20 members of the professional staff, the secretary, custodian and principal, ready to take over their important responsibilities for what again looks like a most successful and happy year together.

An early scanning of the enrollment figures showed that some of the classrooms will be almost bulging at the seams with children. Three sections of the kindergarten each have more than 30 kiddies in them. Some of the classes in grades four and five had counts each as follows: 38, 36, 34, 32.

Several new teachers, have joined the staff this year. Miss Lois Lurndahl will teach half time in the kindergarten, spending the afternoon at the Montseith School. She comes from the state of Wisconsin and is a graduate of the Eau Claire Teachers College.

Miss Mary Edwards, a graduate of the Ypsilanti Normal, now Eastern Michigan College, joins the staff as a teacher of the first grade.

In grade two Mrs. Marian Darvill returns after a year's leave of absence in the east. Mr. Warren Morrison is a new member of the custodial staff. Colleagues and patrons of the school cordially welcome these newcomers.

The organization for the year is as follows: Kindergarten, Miss Lois Lurndahl and Mrs. Lois Arends; Grade I, Miss Mary Edwards, Miss Lillian Goodwyn and Mrs. Letrice Petree; Grade II, Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Sydney Snell and Mrs. Marian Darvill; Grade III, Miss Rosalie Tomb, Miss Lillian Koby and Mrs. Olive Wanderer; Grade IV, Mrs. Jennie Dombrowski, Miss Eiseema Naut and Mr. William Hoover; Grade V, Mrs. Marian Schwalzer, Mr. Ferrol Maben, and Mr. William Hoover; Grade VI, Miss Clara Blank and Miss Ruth Bockes.

Mrs. Patricia Birch continues on with the music program. Our secretary is Mrs. Dorothy Smith. A new nurse will be present on two half days each week. Mrs. Helen Pankow. The custodial staff includes Mr. Sydney Power, Mr. Nathaniel Anderson and Mr. Warren Morrison. Besides, as in the past, there is a group of professional workers from the central offices. They include Mrs. Gladys Gies in art, Mrs. Winifred Fenton in music, Miss Joyce Mersereau in speech correction, Mr. Bernie Falk in physical education, and Dr. Joseph Hourihan in visiting teacher. Mr. Clarence Messner is principal.

KC Council Plans Special Program

Thirty-three years of outstanding growth and progress will be celebrated on September 24, by Gabriel Richard Council, Knights of Columbus, when they will honor their 17 past grand knights with a testimonial program and dinner-dance in their club building, 9375 Amity at Parkview and Kercheval, states grand knight Harold J. Krutsch, Sr.

Metropolitan area Detroit's first neighborhood council held its first organizational meeting in Peter Connor's printing shop, East Jefferson, at Fairview, on September 19, 1922. They advanced rapidly to one of the largest councils in their order, maintaining a membership of some 2,200 over the past decade.

Having outgrown their present large club building they purchased in 1939, they now have plans well under way to build an imposing new building on E. Warren near its intersection with Mack for which they purchased a block and a half of Warren frontage over two years ago. This will allow ample private parking space.

Jerry Moore, council lecturer, assisted by James Dunn are in charge of the dinner-dance and program. Music will be furnished by Earl "Ace" Adair's orchestra.

State and metropolitan Knights of Columbus and their ladies are invited as well as the council's legion of friends. Dress is informal.

J. Gleeson Transferred By Chrysler Corporation

Appointment of Jack W. Gleeson of 798 Trombley road, as Kansas City regional manager is announced by E. M. Braden, general sales manager, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

Since March of this year, Mr. Gleeson has been on special assignment on the staff of Clarence Briggs, vice-president in charge of sales. Prior to that appointment, he had served as director of business management for Chrysler since early 1953.

A native of Minnesota, Mr. Gleeson was educated in the school of commerce and finance at the University of Detroit. After five years experience in a major automobile-financing organization, he joined Chrysler Corporation in 1942 when he accepted an executive position in the treasury department. He participated in an extensive revision of the dealer accounting system there, and in July, 1950, was promoted to the position of district manager for Chrysler Division.

In November of 1952 he was appointed Memphis regional manager, and then was named director of business management at the factory in 1953.

Mr. Gleeson replaces Fred K. Dell, who has been named Los Angeles regional manager.

Luncheon Given For Travelers

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Cotter of Merriweather road gave a luncheon Sunday honoring the David A. Wallaces of Lewiston road and Mr. and Mrs. C. Hascall Bliss of Beverly road, who will leave New York Saturday on the Cristoforo Colombo for a month in Europe.

The most troublesome man in the world is the one who never is.

GPUS News Notes

The new and beautiful Grosse Pointe University School, formerly Grosse Pointe Country Day School and Detroit University School, began its second year yesterday with increased enrollment, recently paved driveways, new tennis courts, and all construction completed.

With the physical plant finished and the vexations of last year's building problems a thing of the past, Headmaster John Chandler, Jr., and the faculty feel encouraged by the prospects of an exceptionally fine school year.

New teachers at G.P.U.S. include:—

John H. Burke, Jr., Springfield College, Athletic Director.

Eleanor B. Munger, University of Detroit, Dramatics and Speech.

Alfred C. O'Connell, Hillyer College, History.

Kaye Ruth Phelps, Boston University, Art.

H. Clare Lockhart, Acadia University and Columbia University, Sixth Grade.

Jean Tomlin Schwenk, Michigan State Normal and the University of Michigan, Kindergarten.

(Both Miss Lockhart and Mrs. Schwenk are former Country Day School teachers who are returning to teach this year at G.P.U.S.).

New assistants to Mrs. Jane Bacon at the Nursery School will be Margaret Dumaux, Louise Robertson, and Joan M. Yott.

Beginning this Saturday, September 17, at 1 p.m. at the school Field House G.P.U.S. will sponsor classes in Modern Creative Dancing for boys and girls from four to 14 with Miss Patricia Brooks of the Wayne University School of Education as the instructor.

This week's session will be considered an enrollment day so that parents and pupils may meet Miss Brooks and Mr. Luis Ybarro, who held a trial program of modern dance last spring and will continue with the fall program in an advisory capacity.

Actual classes will begin Saturday, September 24, and will be held for 45 minute periods from 9 a.m. until 1:45 p.m. The charge is $15 for the ten week term. Call Miss Brooks at TO. 9-0094 or Mrs. Bacon at TU. 2-1569 for further information.

Students from Wayne University will be observing procedures at the G.P.U.S. Nursery School this year and getting practice teaching credit for their attendance there.

The motto of G.P.U.S. is "Per Diligentiam ad Perfectionem." The school colors are Red and Blue.

MSU Expecting Top Enrollment

Michigan State University, to begin its first full school year with its new name, will enroll an estimated 16,500 students this fall to set a new record in the university's 100-year history.

The expected figure will be 1,000 greater than the 1954 fall enrollment and will exceed the previous high of 16,253 students who attended M.S.U. in 1949.

Orientation week and alphabetical registration of students on the East Lansing campus will begin Monday, September 19 and will continue through Friday, Sept. 23. Classes in more than 126 courses of study will start at 8 a.m. on Monday, Sept. 26. The fall term will end at 5 p.m. Tuesday, December 13.

America's eighth largest university, M.S.U. changed its name from Michigan State College to Michigan State University on July 1 this year under authority of the Michigan legislature.

A number of new construction projects will be noticed by returning Spartans as the university undergoes one of its largest expansion programs since the early post-war years.

Work planned or in progress includes the $4,000,000 library to be completed this year; three new dormitories for men to be completed in the fall of 1956; the $4,000,000 Animal Industries building to be finished in 1957; additions to the music building and the campus health center, and more parking facilities.

Housing more students on its campus than any other university in America, the university will turn over keys of an additional 312 apartments to married students in the fall. On-campus apartments for married students will total 1,556, of which 456 are in the new "University Village."

A colorful highlight of student activities and of the university's Centennial year will be a big homecoming celebration Saturday, October 22. Students will present a Homecoming parade, "March of Memories," depicting M.S.U.'s history and future. The parade will replace the customary decorating of living units at the annual celebration.

The huge student affair is scheduled to conclude a highly successful Centennial year which began with a major Founders' Day observance on Feb. 12.

M.S.U. students will see their football team in five home games at Macklin stadium; Stanford, Oct. 8; Notre Dame, Oct. 15; Illinois, Oct. 22; Minnesota, Nov. 12; and Marquette, Nov. 19.

Spartans also will be treated to a varied fare of entertainment presented by the Lecture-Concert series. Among the fall and winter attractions will be the Boston Pops, Chicago symphony and Mantovani orchestras; the New York Opera company; singer Marian Anderson, and many others in addition to lecturers, foreign films and World Travel programs.

Blasts From Lake Shipping Blasted By Park Residents

A number of the Park's Windmill Pointe residents have filed written complaints with the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association concerning what they deem "unnecessary noise" created by certain named lake freighters passing close to shore in transit to an from the Detroit River it was learned this week from the Association's executive secretary, Paul R. O. Marden.

The complainants, who prefer to remain unnamed, charge three specific freight carriers with "unnecessary and highly disturbing horn salutes at all hours of the night."

Besides the disturbance to themselves and their neighbors, the residents brought to light the seriousness of the noise in relation to the Marine Hospital located at the foot of Alter.

Named were the ships the "Thomas Gardner," the "Charles M. White" and the "Thomas Patton." The situation first came to light when the residents noticed a number of passing freighters sounding a whistle of three long and two short, which was not answered. After numerous occurrences, it was deduced that the ships were signaling something or someone on shore, Marden explained.

This determined, the residents began filing complaints with Marden. "I looked into the matter, and found their complaints justified," he said.

In an attempt to remedy the situation, Marden began contacting local, regional and national officials concerned with lake travel and jurisdiction.

After contacting the Great Lakes Coast Guard, Marden wrote the Lake Carriers Association, asking if anything could be done to help cut down the noise.

The letter emphasized the fact that the complaint was not against the necessary signaling required of boats, or even the daylight saluting, but rather that done at night.

The Lake Carriers Association replied that though it had no actual jurisdiction over the matter, it would publish a warning in its monthly magazine distributed to all member boats. This it did, but with seemingly little effect.

"The problem we run into is, that actually, no one has any jurisdiction over the boats. Technically, because the channel runs outside of the harbor line, the ships are 'at sea.' They can do as they please."

In a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, George M. Humphreys, Marden pointed this out and concluded by saying "... our reason for troubling you is... that the local Coast Guard unit... could better enforce the signaling rule if they knew they had the backing of your department."

One of the big factors in the residents' and the associations' concern over the situation is the fact of the coming St. Lawrence Seaway. "The situation persists because Detroit has an outmoded legal harbor line. It runs almost next to the shore for most of the length of the river. This means that though the freighters are practically in a person's backyard, they still are out to sea and governed by the corresponding rules, absurdly impracticable in such a limited area as the river provides."

"If the noise and horn problem exists now, what will it be when we have ships passing from all points of the world?" Marden questioned.

It is the association's belief that a harbor line crossing the river instead of following it, might be a plausible solution. "Then the area of jurisdiction would be defined and workable," Marden said. "Ships ridiculously close to shore would not then be out to sea."

In a reply to his Washington letter Marden was assured that the Treasury Department would do everything in its power to help alleviate the problem.

Special Program Planned By Club

Final plans for the Pre-School program at the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club were completed at a meeting held for all parents wishing to enroll pre-school age children in a Play School activity.

Due to increased enrollment, four groups will be offered instead of the two groups previously offered. Each group will have an enrollment of 15 children and will meet one day each week. One leader and two assistants will provide the leadership for each group.

Two groups will meet on Wednesdays, beginning on September 28, and two groups will meet on Thursdays, beginning September 29.

All leadership will be on a volunteer basis with the mothers serving as assistant leaders on a rotating basis, giving approximately one morning per month. A special training session will be held on September 19 and September 26 in order to provide mothers with the special information and skills necessary in working with groups of children. Sessions will include training in simple games, songs, crafts and general information concerning program planning.

A Parents Advisory Committee will be formed composed of both fathers and mothers of the enrolled pre-schoolers. This committee will work out details of the rotating leadership plan and will consider future expansion of services as well as other matters of policy and procedure related to the providing of an effective pre-school program for the community.

At this time, the Pre-School program is in need of obtaining the volunteer services of two women who would be able to assume the leadership responsibilities for two of the four pre-school groups. The Community Club is a Torch Fund agency.

Poor Mabel Spurned As Prize

Jack M. Cooley, of 37 Shoreham road won an unusual prize at the annual Parke, Davis Executive picnic last weekend.

Mabel, a full grown Mexican burro, complete with a beautiful big red bow around her neck was delivered to the Cooley residence via railway express Monday, September 12. A bale of hay accompanied the animal.

According to pre-purchase information, a special prize was to be awarded. The method of selection was to be a drawing. Of course, things went off as expected with Mr. Cooley the lucky winner.

It was announced after the drawing that the prize was a secret and would be delivered Monday. And sure enough, there was Mabel.

It was revealed Tuesday that the draw was fixed and actually Mabel was Cooley's the whole time. Parke, Davis officials assured Mr. Cooley that there was no significance in the award of a jackass. It was all in good fun.

To prove it, they also went to the trouble of lining up an eventual owner for the visitor from down Mexico way. Mabel was shipped off to Rochester, Michigan, to a family who have two young children and have always wanted a burro.

"And in a way, I envy them," said Mrs. Cooley. "Mabel was a cutie." But she left Tuesday the same way she came; via railway express, with her bale of hay.

Communicable disease appeared to be on the wane in the Health District, a monthly report from Dr. Thomas Davies, Grosse Pointe Health Commissioner, indicated.

The report showed that during the month of August, only three cases of communicable disease were disclosed, one case of scarlet fever in the Woods, and one case each of polio, in the Woods and Harper Woods.

Topping the report were the 24 cases of animal bite, of which seven were made known by Harper Woods, six by the Farms, four each by the Parke and the Woods, and three by the City.

Car Backs Into Another

A very minor auto accident occurred at the intersection of Lincoln and Charlevoix on Wednesday, September 7.

Drivers, Lloyd Schultz and Otto Mavis were headed north on Lincoln waiting to cross Charlevoix when Schultz backed up and struck Mavis.

Schultz, who lives at 656 Lochmoor in the Shores, agreed to take care of the slight damages. Mavis lives in Utica. No tickets were issued.

Aged Man Hurt When Hit by Car

A 77-year-old man was struck and injured by a car while he was walking on Grosse Pointe boulevard on Saturday, September 10, a Farms police report showed.

The report disclosed that cruising police came on the scene when Frank Frazer of 95 Muir road was struck by a car driven by Janet Van Osdol of 8100 E. Jefferson, Detroit, as he was walking west on the boulevard, about 12 feet from the north curb, because of a flood.

Frazer was taken to Cottage Hospital by Farms firemen where he was treated for abrasions on the left arm and leg. One stitch was needed to close a cut on his left elbow. He was kept overnight for observation and then released.

The woman was given a ticket for not having her car under control and for causing a personal injury. She will appear in court on Tuesday, September 21.

Wanamaker Opens New Studio Today

Wanamaker's Studios, one of the better known interior decorating firms, formerly of East Warren avenue, Detroit, and now in its own new building at 19853 Mack avenue, in Grosse Pointe, will open its doors to its customers today.

A grand opening celebration in which the entire building will be open to the public is to be announced within the next two weeks.

This old world has too many church members and too few Christians.

Elderly Extortionist Leads Victim to Bar, Not Funeral

An arrest by the Detroit police of a 72-year old petty extortionist on Friday, September 9, cleared up a similar case in the Park.

On August 23 last, Mrs. Mary Moesta of 1344 Somerset reported to the Park police that an elderly man had almost swindled her out of $5.

According to Park Chief Arthur Louwers, the man, who has been previously arrested in the Park on similar offenses, called at the Moesta home and asked to borrow $5 for gas.

He told Mrs. Moesta that he was a friend of their next door neighbor, who, not more than four days prior, had passed away. He said that he had his car parked up on Mack, but that he was out of gas and he was trying to make the neighbor's funeral procession.

In good faith, Mrs. Moesta gave the man, who she said "looked honest enough" the money, but afterwards thought better of it. Suspicious, she followed him up to Mack. Instead of going to the nearby gas station, though, the extortionist made straight for the nearest saloon.

"Mrs. Moesta followed him in and demanded the money, which he gave back to her," Louwers said, "but by the time she phoned in the report and the police got on the scene, the 'con' artist was gone."

Last Friday's arrest proved to be that of the "honest looking" Park culprit, as the Detroit police discovered after an investigation. Turned over to the Park for questioning, Mrs. Moesta made a positive identification.

Returned to the Detroit police for prosecution was Hal M. Gilbertson of Chicago. Gilbertson was arrested for the same racket by the Park police in June of 1949.

The Detroit arrest came as a result of a call by an alert housewife. Gilbertson was picked up leaving the scene of the crime. He admitted to it immediately.

With a detainer out on him by the Park, Gilbertson will face prosecution for his local crimes as soon as he is through serving the Detroit penalty.

"It is the hope of this department that he is given the maximum penalty by both Detroit and Grosse Pointe," Louwers said.

Little League To Hold Picnic

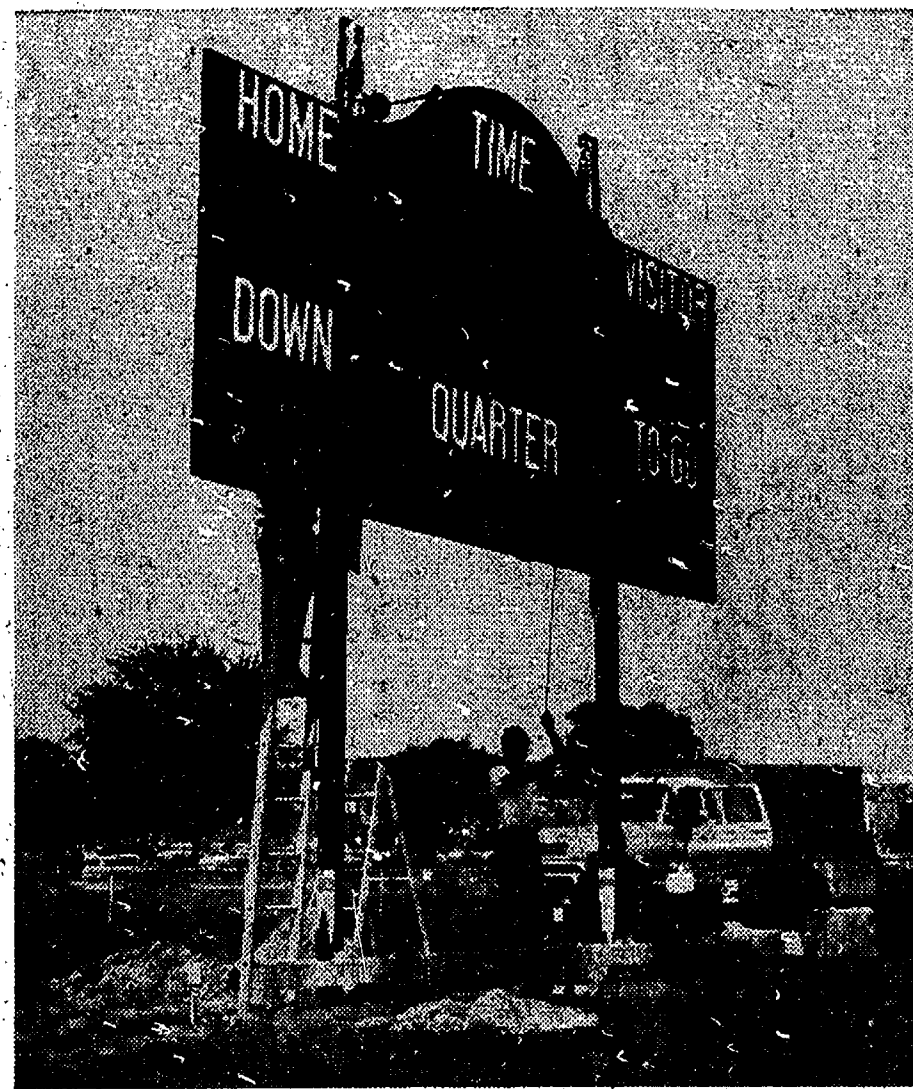

Sunday, September 25, has been set aside for a basket picnic for Little League ball players and their families.

The picnic will be held at the Grosse Pointe Woods lakefront park between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Games will be played for all members of the family, and free refreshments will be served. After the games, the Little League championship teams of both major and minor leagues will be presented with an emblem. Presentation will be made by Lars Anderson, president of the Grosse Pointe Woods Little League.

All members of the Woods Little League residing in the Shores area will be contacted and special tickets will be given for admittance to Lake Front park.

At Long Last, It's Here

For years spectators were forced to squint at an old ramshackled, hand operated football scoreboard on the Grosse Pointe High Athletic field. Last year the high scoring Blue Devils displayed such a devastating scoring attack that the scoreboard operator couldn't keep pace with the rapidly mounting touchdowns. Recently the school purchased a new electric scoreboard which practically makes it impossible for the fans or the players to forget what down it is or the time left to play. Workmen are shown hoisting it into position at the west end of the gridiron. It will be in operation when the Pointers open the 1955 season against Mount Clemens on Saturday, September 17.

Tracy to Show Newest Lincoln

Called the only completely new auto in the fine car field, the 1956 Lincoln will be up for public inspection Friday, September 16, at the Tracy Motor Sales showroom located on Kercheval in the Hill shopping district, it was announced this week.

Entirely restyled from the sharply canted front headlights back to the grill-effect rear end, the Lincoln incorporates a greater over-all length and width with a lower, more graceful silhouette.

The '56 emphasis is on the newness of the two offered models, the Capri and the more luxurious Premier, which makes its series debut.

Besides the complete body changes, the two models have undergone entire underside and inside renovations. Under the wide, flat hood, engine horsepower, compression ratio and torque power have all been increased.

The 285-h.p. V-8 engine develops a 9-1 compression ratio, the most powerful and durable engine Lincoln has built in its 33-year history. The torque rating of 401 foot pounds at 2800 rpm is the highest of any American car.

Inside, the passenger enjoys the finest luxury. Completely new from the matelasse and broadcloth trim to the banked instrument panel, the accent is on the unity of beauty and convenience.

For the debut showing of the new models, the sales room will be open from 9 a.m. until 11 p.m. on Friday and until 9 p.m. on Saturday.

Steals Draperies In Model Home

An unknown thief entered a new home in the Shores on Wednesday, September 7, and stole an expensive set of draperies, it was reported by Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling.

According to information released by the chief, Edward Russell, of 880 Sunningdale, owner of a model home at 885 Ballantyne at Edgewood, reported that someone had entered the new house and stolen the draperies from the windows. The house was open for display at the time.

Russell said they were valued at $500.

A witness stated that a woman about 35 years old, was seen to enter the home at about the time the draperies were stolen.

Faulty Brakes Cause Collision

An honest attempt to avoid one accident resulted in another, but no violation tickets were issued Wednesday, September 7 on Notre Dame in the City.

Driver Francis Hibberd of 8102 E. Jefferson approached the Kercheval intersection traveling south on Notre Dame when he applied his brakes and they didn't hold.

Rather than "plow" into the car ahead of him, Hibberd sent it out into the path of oncoming traffic. Hibberd decided to chance a collision with a truck parked along the curb. He hit a panel pick-up owned by Henry Hallman of 22156 Nevada in Detroit.

Considerable damage was done to both cars, but no arrests were made when Hibberd agreed to take care of all the damages. No one was injured.

Farms Submits Building Report

The Farms August building permit report, as presented by Sidney DeBoer, Farms Acting Engineer, showed that the value of permits granted since the beginning of the year has jumped well over the one and a half million-dollar mark.

Since January 1, the report revealed, 121 permits of various types have been issued, 10 of them during the month of August.

To date, no business building construction permits have been handed out, and only one non-assessable permit, valued at $87,000.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Kitty Marriott

After considerable shuffling of dates due to conflicts with other horse shows scheduled in cities nearby, Grosse Pointe Hunt Club has set Saturday, September 24, for its autumn horse show to inaugurate the fall and winter riding season. Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., is chairman of the fall show committee.

Daniel H. Conway, of Oswego, N. Y., is to be the show judge, and George Couzens, of Bloomfield Hills, will serve as ringmaster. Edward Henkel, Jr., will do the announcing chores.

Local Riders Participating

Classes will be run both afternoon and evening, beginning at 12:30 p.m. Outside exhibitors will come in from Northville, Battle Creek, Jackson and other Michigan cities, and very possibly from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Fashion Show Calendar

As the clock strikes the hour of 3 next Tuesday, September 20, a real flower garden (courtesy of a local florist), will be blossoming in the background for models wearing Irving's clothes in the Neighborhood Thrift Shop annual fashion show. Newest hair styles from Paris will also be shown and Phil Skillman's orchestra is providing background music. Mr. Leis Bergan, Irving's fashion coordinating manager, will commentate.

Among the attractive Pointers who will serve as models are Mrs. Lawrence Gotfredson, Jr., Mrs. Berrien Eaton, Jr., Mrs. John P. Sellas, Mrs. Forbes Howard, Mrs. Henry T. Bodman, Mrs. Anthony Moody and Mrs. Frederick S. Ford, Jr. A packet of used but still wearable clothing is the only admission ticket you need to present yourself at the Thrift Shop doors for the show.

Following right on its heels are the Junior League fashion shows on September 21 and 22 in the Grand Ballroom of the Veterans War Memorial. Mrs. Charles T. Fisher III is chairman. Madelyn Coe will serve as commentator on the fashions.

Show proceeds go to maintain Senior Center, the Junior League's recreation center for people over 60. Past fashion shows have enabled Junior Leaguers to employ a full-time professional director at the center and open a fully-equipped woodworking shop. Tentative projects, toward which members hope to earmark this year's funds, include establishment of a counseling service for the aged, expanding gardening club and music departments, purchasing more materials for crafts program, and securing transportation facilities other than costly chartered buses.

A Full Week Ahead

Mrs. James H. Quello will be lucky if she has time to catch her breath with the schedule she's mapped out for the next few days. Marking their eighteenth wedding anniversaries.

Betty Jane Amason Weds D. R. Engelgau

Honeymoon Through New England Follows Ceremony on September 3 in St. Paul's Church in Lake Shore road.

St. Paul's on the Lake, Grosse Pointe Farms was the scene of the marriage of Miss Betty Jane Amason, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Amason of Moran road, to Donald R. Engelgau on Saturday, September 3.

Miss Amason wore a gown of white satin with Applique of Alencon Lace which was re-embroidered with the seed pearls around the neck line of the gown. Her French illusion veil also contained the Applique of Alencon Lace. White Cypridium orchids were her flowers.

Five bridesmaids and a maid of honor preceded Miss Amason. They were the bride's sister, Joyce Corrine Amason, who was the maid of honor, Judith Good- rarr, Eleanor Engelgau, Sandra Strehler, Mary Roth and Carol Vollmer.

They were gowned in identical frocks of crepe baby satin which was maize in color, with the elongated bodies and the deeper maize Polonaise sashes carrying out the Dior influence.

Each girl carried cypridium bouquets starting with the gold and blending into bronze. Their tiny hats were of the same fabric and shoes also matched their costumes.

Mr. Engelgau chose Irvin Engelgau for his best man. The ushers were Don Cocco, Victor Leslie, Donald Stein, Richard Scheff and Milton Gkekas. He is the son of the Raymond Engelgaus of Port Huron, Mich.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Engelgau selected a bronze crepe dress and small bronze hat. She wore a corsage of pale bronze orchids.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. J. D. Amason, was attired in a royal blue waltz length gown of blue taffeta with a small velvet hat of the same shade. White orchids completed her costume.

The new Mrs. Engelgau attended Michigan State University. Her husband is a graduate of the same school. His fraternity is Phi Delta Theta.

Upon returning from their honeymoon through the New England States the young couple will reside in Port Huron.

Wrong Auxiliary Given Credit for Rodeo Help

"There was a slight error in the credits given for the Annual Fish Rodeo," said Henry Feys, one of the event chairmen.

The story that appeared in the September 1 edition of The News, said that assistance was given by the "V.E.W. Post 303 Woman's Auxiliary."

Though the Woman's Auxiliary of Post 303 did give assistance, it was not the V.E.W., but rather the American Legion Post 303, Feys pointed out.

Feys took the opportunity to further thank the ladies for "A job well done."

Mrs. Arthur Llewellyn Beck

Before her September 2 marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Llewellyn Beck of Roslyn road, Mrs. Beck was JUDITH MARGARET RICHARDSON, daughter of the William Raymond Richardsons of McMillan road.

ary, she and Mr. Quello left yesterday for Hidden Valley near Gaylord, where he is chairman for the Michigan Association of Radio and TV Broadcasters convention being held there today and tomorrow. Mrs. Q., as convention co-hostess with Mrs. Fred Knorr, has scheduled a card tournament and putting contest on the green to entertain the delegates' wives.

The moment the convention closes, the Quellos take off for New York to greet their 16-year-old niece, Patsy Butler, who arrives from Quito, Ecuador, on the 19th. This will be the first meeting for Patsy and her aunt. She's one of four nieces whom Mrs. Quello hasn't met, with her brother making his home in South America. Patsy will spend a few days here before going on to school in Washington, D. C., and she'll be back to spend vacations with the Quellos. What with two boys in the family now, Mrs. Quello is delighted with the idea of having a part-time daughter.

Flowering Crabs Described For Pointe Beautification

The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council is deeply appreciative of the following article by Vincent R. DePetris describing the varieties of Flowering Crab and giving suggestions for planting. Mr. DePetris is making it possible for Grosse Pointers to purchase these shrubs at low cost as part of the Council's Beautification Program.

THE FLOWERING CRABS
by Vincent R. DePetris

"From the rugged regions of Northern China and Siberia come one of our most colorful large shrubs or small trees, the flowering crab. Most generally we refer to this showy subject as the 'Crab Apple.' Actually it is the ancestor which through many generations gave rise to the most popular fruit of our northern orchards—the apple."

"Because the flowering crab is native to cold and rugged climates, it is one of the easiest plants to grow in our northern latitude."

"But beyond the characteristics of hardiness and great vigor, this plant remains unsurpassed for color and beauty in the spring months, and for the highly decorative fruit borne in the fall."

"When referring to flowering crabs one should not feel hesitant about using their true botanical name which is 'Malus' from the Latin for apple. Many people do not like to use botanical names, yet they are the only accurate means we have of identifying plants. Moreover, if you should be looking for any specific plant in a catalog you will discover that whereas the plant may have several common and ambiguous names, it will bear only one botanical name identifying it."

"Almost everyone has had the joy of seeing the masses of myriad colorful blossoms every spring produced by these plants. The color ranges from white to many shades of pink and reddish purple. They stand out by their spectacular display in spite of the tremendous competition from other spring flowering subjects."

"There are a great number of varieties of the genus Malus. Space permits mentioning only a few of the favorites. Among these Malus floribunda is one of the dwarfest and a real gem with deep pink blossoms in early spring followed by small red fruit in the fall."

"Another small variety is the Malus Sargentii or Sargent's Crab. This bears billowy snow white flowers when fully opened. Another excellent white variety is the Tea Crab Malus Thunbergii. This makes a dense bushy plant up to 15 high and is literally covered with white blossoms in the spring."

"Malus Halliana Parkmani, 'Parkman's Crab' is considered by many as one of the most beautiful of all the crabs. It has most attractive semi-double bright pink flowers and grows to a medium height."

"Malus purpurea and Malus purpurea Eleyi both have reddish foliage with myriads of reddish purple blossoms. Both these varieties are rather tall growing."

"Flowering crabs thrive best in rich soil and rather sunny exposures. They may be planted any time after the foliage has fallen, from November until April."

"Fall planting is preferable in most cases since the weather in the spring is rather unpredictable. Moreover, plants obtained in the fall are certain to be freshly dug, whereas many plants obtained during the spring months are from cold storage."

"The flowering crab by all odds ranks high as the shrub that will add much beauty to our gardens and aid immeasurably in beautifying our community."

Watch the local paper for further information regarding the placing of orders, time and persons to contact for Grosse Pointe's mass Fall planting of these shrubs.

Woman Injured As Cars Tangle

The two car collision that occurred at the intersection of Buckingham and Charlevoix Saturday, September 10, hospitalized one and made two cars undrivable.

Rushed to Bon Secours was Marie Felix of 6629 Fisher road in Detroit. Mrs. Felix was driving south on Buckingham when the accident happened.

According to the Park police report, she drove in front of moving traffic and was hit by a car driven by Andrew Maglie of 15715 Plain View in Detroit. Maglie was not hurt.

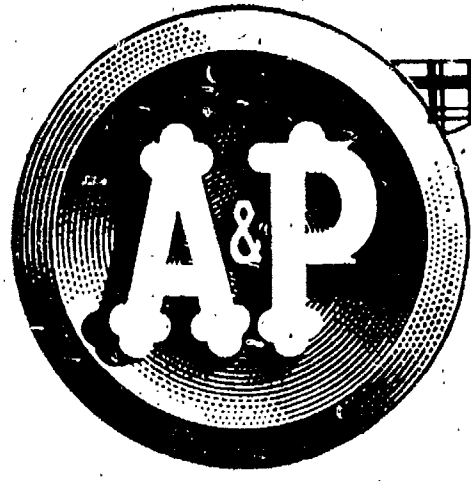

Maglie, who was driving west on Charlevoix, told the police that Mrs. Felix's car jolted out into the intersection too fast for him to apply his brakes in time to stop.

The nature of Mrs. Felix' injuries was not disclosed, but she was later released from Bon Secours. She was ticketed for entering the intersection without due care or caution.

Both cars had to be towed away.

GIANT MUSHROOM GROWS ON TREE—Connie Stark, 12, checks the growth of a three-pod oyster mushroom, located in a knot hole in an old maple tree, 18 feet above ground, in Connie's home town of Kansas City, Mo. According to young Stark, the mushroom measures approximately 16 inches across.

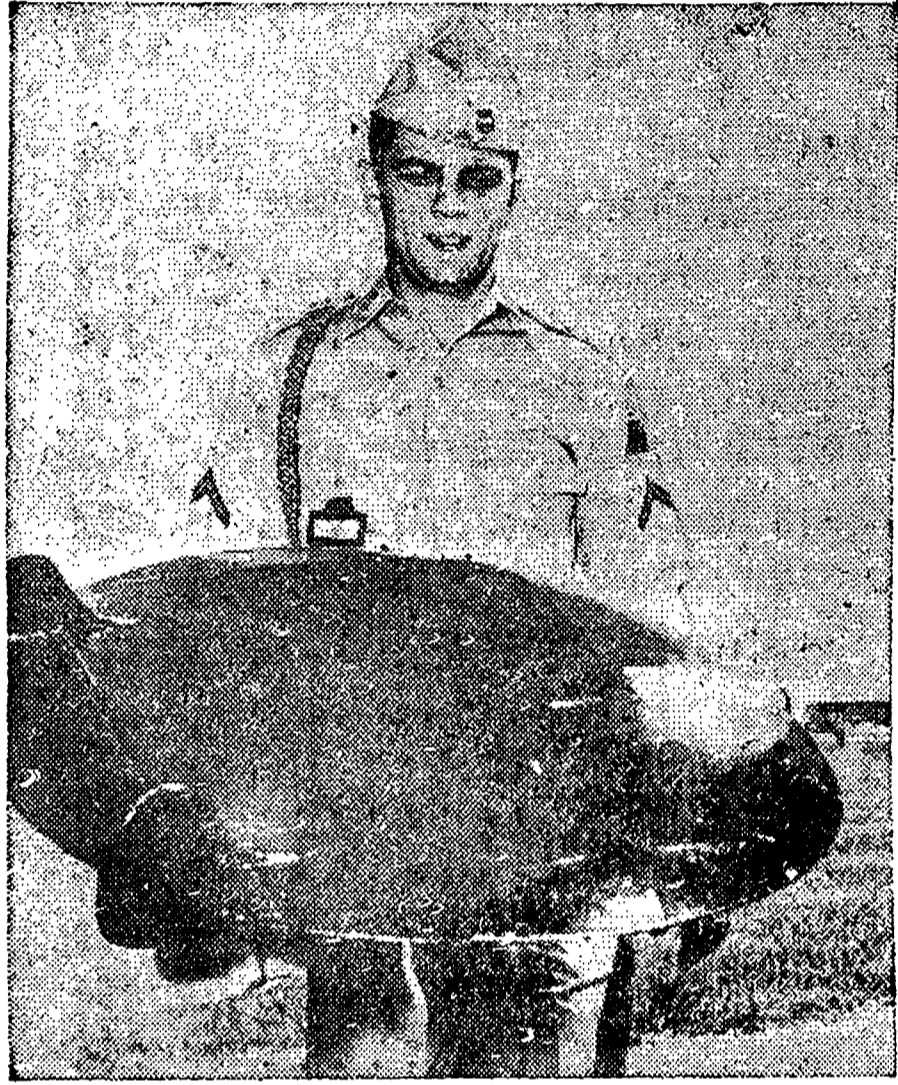

LIFE-SAVING "BLOUSE"—This portable respirator for polio victims, on display in London, is said to be the smallest in the world. Worn like a blouse, the respirator may be plugged into an electrical outlet or powered by a battery. The British-built unit is claimed to be the most advanced respirator yet developed. A special nylon fabric for the Mt. Everest expedition aided in development of the respirator.

NEW LUMINARY—Charming Belinda Lee, who plays the role of an Edwardian beauty who falls in love with Stewart Granger in the new Columbia picture, "Footsteps in the Fog," is expected to set the pattern for a new type of loveliness in the film world.

BEAUTY IN THE BREEZE—That wind-blown look does things for pretty Italian starlet Mara Berni, who's one of the attractions at the International Film Festival in Venice. She was taking in the breezes along the Lido. Films from 19 nations are entered in the festival competition.

RUMORS ARE FLYING—Flying saucers may not exist, but flying models of them do. Army Pfc. Larry G. Anderson of Westchester, Iowa, builds gasoline-powered models as a hobby at Fort Hood, Texas, where he's stationed. Here, he prepares to launch one of the disc-shaped craft. It's four feet in diameter and has twin rudders. He uses two wires to control the saucers, which fly faster than most model airplanes.

OPERATION "PORPOISE"—Sea animal trainer Adolf Frohn, assisted by William Ward, operates on a male porpoise which was wounded struggling in the net when it was caught. Brought to the Miami Seaquarium, slated to open in November, the porpoise was doctored up in a small tank, strapped to a stretcher resting on weighted saw-horses. Frohn is washing out a wound with alcohol before applying antiseptic fluid. Extra care is expected to be taken nursing the porpoise back to health, since males are caught less frequently than females.

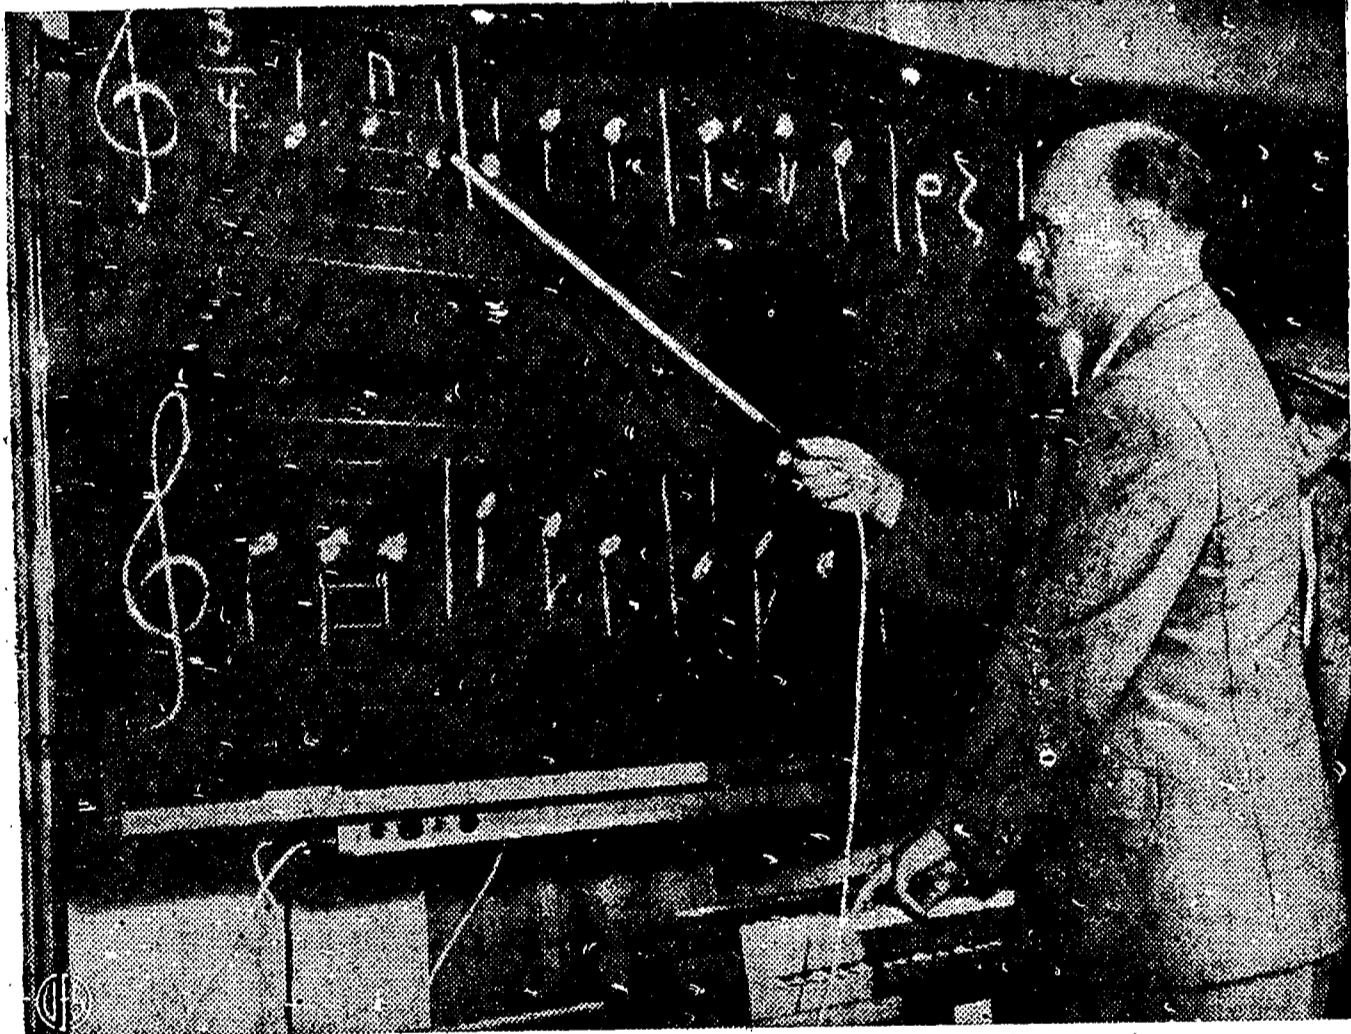

HELL-BENT FOR PAY DIRT—Whitey Rouviere, co-captain of the University of Miami (Fla.) Hurricanes and a possible All-America back, gives an action-packed demonstration of his powerful stiff-arm tactics while carrying the ball. The Hurricanes will likely be among the country's top 10 teams this year.

JUST LIKE JACK AND THE BEANSTALK—Six-year-old George Rice of Cleveland has to climb to the second story to tend his giant sunflower. The boy brought the flower home from school last spring when it was only two inches high. Now it's 14 feet high, and George's parents sincerely hope he'll take it back to school, which has just reopened after summer vacation.

PAINTING BY AMBASSADOR LUCE—United States Ambassador to Italy Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, who took up "Sunday painting" on the advice of President Eisenhower and with a kit given to her by Sir Winston Churchill, has produced this "Portrait of a Girl," which is strongly reminiscent of a Matisse style. This is one of the first paintings by the Ambassador since she "graduated" from copying postcards, her first efforts.

MUSICAL BLACKBOARD—An electronic blackboard for teaching music is demonstrated at Frankfurt, Germany, by inventor E. Ahlborn. Notes are written with ordinary chalk on the fixed lines of the blackboard. When they're touched by the pointer, an electrical contact is made and corresponding tones are sounded. The keyboard at bottom can be used to add tones for a chord.

NOMAD NEWS—War weapons are forgotten as these two Masai tribesmen become absorbed in their first newspaper. Despite Mau Mau murders and destruction in the area, civilization continues to advance, albeit slowly, in the Kenya region with newspapers now available in the tongues of many nomadic tribes such as the Masai.

THIS IS A HAT?—Looking as formidable as the bear-skin helmet of a Buckingham Palace guard is this evening chapeau by Erik of London. Made of black velvet and black ostrich feathers, it adds height as well as glamor.

GESTURE OF FRIENDSHIP—Gen. Pierre Boyer de Latour, new French Resident General in Morocco, takes milk and dates from an Arab official at the gates of Oued Zem, scene of the bloody uprising of Berber tribes in August. The offering of milk and dates is a traditional sign of friendship.

FOOTBALL CYCLE—Combining cycling skill with football prowess, Swiss players (extreme left and second from right) concentrate their attack on the Saar net during a cycle-ball match in Milan, Italy. The ball may only be "kicked" with the bike's wheels or by hand. There are two men, using special bicycles, on each team.

SECRETS—"Say, Cliff, did you ever hear this one?" And young Clifford Jorgensen is not too sure that he is going to enjoy the remarks of the calf, but he is willing to listen. Cliff and his calf were visitors at the California State Fair and Exposition, in Sacramento, where the animal took part in the livestock show.

"MASTER" CHEF—Master Sergeant Henry L. Cooke, only non-commissioned officer of the U.S.A.F. Fourth Fighter-Bomber Wing promoted to master sergeant during August, reveals the time-tested recipe that led to his promotion. According to Cooke, who's with the Fourth Food Service Squadron at Chitose Air Base, you take a large portion of job knowledge and initiative and add the expected amount of appearance and bearing. After folding in equal parts of military customs and courtesies, you let the batch age for 14 years. The sergeant says the recipe, when simmered for six years in grade, is bound to produce crisp new master sergeant's stripes.

Crash Research Given $400,000

President Deane W. Mallott of Cornell University, has announced that two grants of $200,000 each were allocated to the university by Chrysler Corporation and Ford Motor Company for expansion of the automotive crash research program centered at the Department of Public Health and Preventive Medicine, Cornell University Medical College, in New York City.

In announcing these grants, President Mallott stated that the $400,000 will be used during the next two years to further research in the interest of the traveling public and the automotive industry.

This project, initially established at the Medical College in 1942, was the first academic research undertaken to explore the relationships between impact and the production of injuries on the human body. The present program on causes of injuries in automobile accidents is an outgrowth of the basic research inaugurated by Hugh De Haven and is one of several phases of very active research in automotive safety problems carried on by Cornell University. Mr. John O. Moore became director of this project upon Mr. DeHaven's retirement in 1954.

The program has been supported by the Commission on Accidental Trauma of the Armed Forces Epidemiological Board of the United States Defense Department and the United States Public Health Service.

Mr. Moore said that major purposes of the Cornell research are (1) to obtain scientifically meaningful information on what happens to the occupants of motor vehicles at the time of an actual crash on the highway, and (2) to determine whether there are definite correlations between particular patterns of injuries and vehicular design.

An interstate cooperative research program has been established with state medical societies, departments of public health, police and traffic enforcement agencies in North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Connecticut, Indiana, Minnesota, Arizona, Vermont, and the city of Minneapolis. Texas will join this group early in October.

"Using Cornell's specially-designed research forms," Mr. Moore said, "these state groups submit specific medical and accident details on all injury-producing passenger car accidents in selected sample areas. This method employs the highway as a laboratory. Only in such a laboratory does the researcher have all the variables and factors affecting injuries produced in automobile accidents."

Reduction of the great frequencies of injuries presently seen in automobile accidents is the goal toward which the Cornell research study is directed, according to Mr. Moore.

Obituaries

MARGARET BOSSON NEWMAN

Margaret Bosson Newman, wife of the late Henry L. Newman, prominent Detroit insurance executive and civic leader, died peacefully in her sleep early on the morning of September 7 at Bon Secours Hospital in Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Newman was stricken suddenly in her Grosse Pointe home the preceding day. She was the eldest of the seven children of Margaret and William Bosson of Indianapolis, Indiana, and was born in that city on August 31, 1886, and came to Detroit as a bride in 1911.

During Mrs. Newman's lifetime in this community she was particularly prominent in church work, civic enterprises and garden groups. She was an active member of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and was twice president of its Women's Association, and general chairman of the last church fair.

She was also twice president of the Detroit Garden Center Board and served actively with the Grosse Pointe branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

She was cited particularly for her city-wide gardening contributions when she was chosen as one of the outstanding women of the year during Detroit's 250th birthday celebration in 1951.

During World War II Mrs. Newman was untiring in her work at the Naval Recreation Center. She served for years on the board of the District Nursing Association. She was a member also of the Colonial Dames of America, Daughters of the American Revolution, the Country Club of Detroit, the Detroit Club, the Woman's City Club and Clotho Club.

She is survived by two sons, William L. Newman and Henry L. Newman, Jr., of Grosse Pointe, and a daughter, Mrs. Herndon Wages of Dallas, Texas, and seven grandchildren. Also by four brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services for Mrs. Newman were held at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Funeral services were also held at Broadripple Branch, Indianapolis, Indiana, Sunday at 1:30 p.m., with burial in Union Chapel.

LILLIAN M. PALMER

Mrs. Palmer, 74, of 980 Nottingham, died on Thursday, September 8, after a short illness.

A native of Piqua, O., she has been a Detroit area resident since 1905, and had lived at her present address for 30 years.

She was a member of St. Ambrose Church and of the League of Catholic Women.

Funeral services were held in St. Ambrose Church on Monday, September 12. Burial was in Mt. Olivet.

She is survived by her husband, Charles H.; a daughter, Mrs. Wallace P. Lamb; and three grandsons.

Legion Auxiliary News

From Unit 303
By ROWENA WEAVER

Eleven years of operation of the G.I. Bill of Rights has brought very extensive benefits to the United States as a whole, as well as to the war veterans who benefitted directly. Mrs. Elizabeth Lavender, legislative chairman of Grosse Pointe No. 303 unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, has reported.

She hailed the bill as the greatest legislative accomplishment of the American Legion and Auxiliary during their 35 years of joint endeavor for legislation beneficial to veterans and the nation.

"The educational provisions of the bill have been used by 7,800,000 veterans to obtain special training and higher education," Mrs. Lavender said.

"This has given our country millions of skilled craftsmen, trained administrators, scientists and professional men vitally needed for America's expanding economy and its national security. It has been estimated that the income tax from the increased earnings of these veterans will repay the government for the cost of their education in comparatively few years.

"The heavy enrollment of Veterans in colleges and universities under the G.I. Bill resulted in the expansion of the nation's until now college education is available to a vastly increased number of young people. Training schools below the college level also have greatly expanded, providing opportunities for the training of large numbers in special skills.

"The home, business and farm loan provisions of the G.I. Bill also have been of great benefit to the veterans and the nation. Four million veterans have bought homes, stimulating the building industry and raising the national standard of living.

Food Scoops for This Week

Although many low-cost fresh vegetables are available, the recent short period of high temperatures and no rain has decreased the quality of many of them.

The anticipated improvement in the quality and color of the late variety tomatoes has been slow due to the weather conditions. Peak suppliers for canning are in the markets and prices are quite reasonable.

Economy-wise, Michigan potatoes lead the list of best values and the prices will improve because of the greatly increased acreage of potatoes planted this year.

Weather conditions have been poor for all green leafy vegetables. Although the supply of head lettuce is fairly plentiful, the quality is irregular and prices higher than last year at this time.

Now is the time to buy supplies of pickling cucumbers, from one inch to five inches in length, and of the slicers, usually running seven to nine inches long, for quantities for processing have slightly decreased.

The texture and flavor of homegrown celery has been much improved this year, and the volume on the market through most of September is expected to be at the seasonal high.

Summer squash are still abunvarieties; the favorites for processing, are past their peak and the Elbertas are in the markets. Both the Michigan honey-rock cantaloupe and the California varieties are in competition at low costs.

Prices of Thompson seedless grapes will go lower as the season progresses. Early displays of the popular Concord juice grape have made their appearance in the farmers' markets.

119-Boat Fleet Hammered By Wind in DYC's Regatta

The whistling southwester that slammed the 119 boat fleet in the Detroit Yacht Club's annual Sweepstakes regatta last Saturday, September 10, took its toll in sails and gear. Being the last of the 1955 DRYA inter-club regattas, local tars will have all winter long to lick their wounds.

To sailmakers it was a dream race—to some skippers it was a day of horrors—to the winners it was a beautiful ride.

Drean's Luck Is Worse
True, some of the skippers who saw the heavy wind rip sails and force them to withdraw were disappointed but the most disappointed skipper of all was Bob Drean, one of St. Clair Yacht Club's leading catboat skippers.

He had a grandstand seat from our "Wind Toy" as the disappointing but exciting drama unfolded for Drean right at the finish line as he paced the St. Clair catboat team in the CK team event.

Bob had worked out a very slim margin over four other competitors and had barely squeezed across their bows on a port tack as he made his bid for victory which seemed all but a certainty.

That is until he got to within 30 feet of the finish line. The judges on Bud Sinclair's "Great Bear" were all set to give him the winning gun but a terrific gust of wind capsize his boat, leaving the way clear for Pat Clancy, of Edison Boat Club, to scoot across the line the winner.

Had to Be Disqualified
Drean could have taken second place had he not been so close to the finish line and the committee boat.

The current would have drifted him across the line. But instead he drifted into the committee boat which caused the officials to disqualify him. This not only completely wrecked Drean's day but it spoiled his club's chances of taking the CK team event, which was won by the Detroit Boat Club with 25 points. Edison was second with 19, St. Clair was next with 15 and Detroit Yacht Club followed with 13 points. Bob Roger and Bill Mullen, both of the Boat Club, finished second and third behind Clancy to give their club its winning margin.

"Querida" Corners Cropper
Skip Grov's and Carter Saler's "Querida" had Cruising B class all locked up until they blew their headstay within sight of the finish line. However, no further damage was suffered except to the owners' pride and their chance to win the huge Pingree Bowl, which annually is the top prize for the schooners, ketches and yawls.

Gil Pingree saw his chance to retire the Pingree Bowl when his "Red Head" ripped her mainsail and was forced to finish under shortened canvas. Gil had won the Bowl the two previous years. Mother Nature and Bob Neesley's schooner "Malabar" saw to it the Bowl would stay in competition for at least two more years when he beat Llywd Ecclestone's "Bikini" by a mere nine seconds on corrected time. This was "Bikini's" best race since coming here two years ago.

Mistake Is Costly
Warren Jones saw his chance to win the Lightning class River championship go down the drain and it was no one's fault but his own. Warren sailed to the wrong mark on the second leg of the race while Wes Weidrick, his closest rival for the title, paced the big fleet around the six mile triangle to get the winning gun.
The victory gave Weidrick his fifth victory which tied Jones' season record, but Wes had scored more second places than Jones and that gave him the title. It was a fitting reward for Wes, who had made a hurried trip back from New Orleans, where he placed fifth in the Lightning Internationals.
"Wind Toy" captured her second consecutive DRYA river championship when she led the Privateer fleet across the finish line, beating Sid Marsh's "Indian Drum," Bill Howard's "L'Allegria" and Bobby Roadstrum's "Cotton Top" in that order. The victory also earned the class Fall Series trophy for the second year in a row.

Proves Good Purchase
"Doc" Wilson, an old six meter sailor from way back, agreed he made a good purchase when he bought "Mitar" from George and Jay Gonyea last week. He captured the 30 Square meter prize when he led George Wilson's "Pilgrim" and Ray St. John's "Lil Singya" in that order to win the perpetual Gardner Bowl.
George E. Van, defending the Edgemere trophy, depended on his 23-year-old catboat mainsail once too often. George's "Fiddler's Witch" had a sizable lead on the rest of the K class fleet when he saw his old faithful sail finally give up for good as he neared the finish line.
Bobby Lawrence, his crew, tried valiantly to hold the sail together in order to finish, but each time he grabbed a ripped seam the one just above would let go and eventually the "Fiddler's" sail looked like a Venetian blind and the defending champion was forced to accept a tow.

Peter Kremlich, using Dave Williams boat, was nearly five minutes behind the "Fiddler" at the time but went on to win by leading Duke Huber over the line by five minutes. Third place went to Fred Meno III.

Tommy Hanson Wins
Tommy Hanson's "Dauntless" gave most of the L boat fleet a pasting in the heavy going but had a time of it beating Guy McNarron's "Sally K" to the finish line. Third place went to the only lady skipper in the regatta, Martha Wells, who was a little more than five minutes behind Hanson.

Freddie Jensen's "Escape," current leader for L class season honors, didn't like the heavy stuff and finished last in the seven boat fleet. The L class still has three more races on its schedule before its champion can be determined.

Gmeiner's Stock Rises
Toot Gmeiner's "Apache" moved into contention for the Cruising A season championship when she beat Pat Collins' "Vitesse" by better than two minutes in both elapsed and corrected time to win the Brewer Cup. Clare Jacobs' "Falcon" was third.
John Millers' "Valiant" took advantage of the breakdown suffered by "Querida" and beat John Warnke's "Flying Dutchman" and Bud Clark's "Calypso" in that order for Cruising B honors.
In Cruising C Hank Dunlap's Pilot sloop "Albacore" had a terrific boat race with Karl Ness' "Happiness" before he finally squeezed in the winner by a mere ten seconds. Hank Burkard's "Meteor II" came in five minutes later for third place. Cruising C class presented the largest fleet in the entire regatta. Fifteen boats started and finished.

Other Winners
Other winners were: Jim Mog's C boat "Cayuse," Jim McCarthy's "Agnes M" and John Hutton's "Duchess" in Universal B class; Dick Hill's "We Du Tu" and F. Mitchell's "Celestial" in the Crescent class; Roy Barber's "Frolic," Boyd Benkert's "Thunderbolt" and Bob Kerr's "Chumlette" in the Raven class; Alex Allardye's "Chance" in the Star class; Pete Stroh's "Nike," Ledge Mitchell's "Alert" and Bill Fisher's "Fishboat" in the L-16 class; Meryl Amo's "Mad Finn" and Clark Taylor in the new Junior Knarr class; Josh Barnes, Jim Hughes and John Hunt in the CK Free-For-All class, and Phil Fokett's "Sprig" in the Universal A class.

Bayview Yacht Club's annual Long Distance race will hold the spotlight when the bigger yachts vie for honors next Saturday night, September 17. This event is restricted to Cruising boats and yachts that sail under the universal rule.

Small Boats Not Eligible
Small boats like Lightnings don't go, although L-16's, Privateers and L boats can play if they have a measurement certificate.

The big prize for this event is the coveted Bayview Cup, sought by many but won by few. Dick Wozniak's L-16 "Showboat" will be defending the Cup which he has won two years running.
It's awarded to the yacht having the best corrected time over the 59 mile course, which takes the fleet to the Thames River light, the St. Clair light, a mark off Huron Point and back to the finish line down river in front of Bayview.

Kiwanis Club to Hear Atomic Energy Program

The Detroit Edison Company is presenting a program of Atomic Energy by one of its atomic engineers at the noon meeting of the Riverside Kiwanis Club at the Whittier on Thursday, September 15.

This program has been presented only a few times in this area. It portrays the development of atomic energy and the potential civilian and commercial uses. The Detroit Edison Company is planning a pilot plant in the Detroit metropolitan area, some of the problems of which will be graphically presented by the engineer.

DRYA Judges Commended for Excellent Mallory Cup Series

The Detroit River Yachting Association proved to the world that its men are more than capable of handling a sailing series of national importance, such as the Mallory Cup Championships recently completed at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The eight race round robin series held on Lake St. Clair last week was handled flawlessly by the DRYA judges shown from left to right: ROBERT BENKERT, GEORGE COSSABOOM, chairman, BRUCE TAPPAN, ARTHUR SUMMERLEE, PHIL PHILLIPS, FRANK MARTIN. Kneeling, left to right: PAUL ADAM and LYNN STEDMAN, JR. All hold the title of commodore and have, for years, officiated at the local Saturday inter-club races held on Lake St. Clair, the famous Port Huron To Mackinac races and at Put In Bay during the Inter-Lake regattas.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

We ran into Hank Burkard the other day and knowing he is having a new yacht built we naturally asked "How's the boat coming?" Now it seems Hank has been asked that question before. Quick as a flash opportunist Burkard whipped out a business size card and handed it to us. That card answered our question and the talkative Burkard hadn't muttered a single syllable.

The card read: "No, she's not finished yet. The Meteor III will be completed by April of 1956. She's being built by Paul Luke, of East Booth Bay, Maine, for sixteen thousand dollars, more or less. She's a centerboard-lead keel combination constructed with white oak timbers and frames, clear cedar planking, plywood canvas decks, masthead cutter rig, has 768 feet of sail and rates exactly somewhere between .20 and .30. Paul Luke is now in the process of -" from here on the various stages of construction are listed and our eye stopped at "Framing."

Now you know so don't go pestering the patient Burkard unless, that is, to ask him for one of his cards.

Crescent Sail Yacht Club's junior crew, which won the Wakefield series in August and qualified for the Sears Cup at Booth Bay, fouled up their chances of becoming the Junior National Sailing Champion when they fouled out in the final race. They claimed it wasn't their fault but the judges decided differently. The disqualification dropped Jim Millies Jr., and his crew of Otto Scherer and Chuckie Reader, to fifth place in the final standings.

Cliff Phalen captured the Lake St. Clair Luder fleet's Sunday series championship last Sunday.

Swimming Ends At City's Pier

After a busy season, swimming has come to a close at the City lakefront park. The park staff and lifeguards have appreciated very much the interest and cooperation the people of the City have shown during this first season of new facilities and pier. The waterfront program was the biggest ever, with new records for both attendance and for aquatic events held.

The park committee has plans for an even bigger season for aquatics and other activities at the park another year. Already plans are under way for next season. Some added facilities for swimming will add to the total program for boys and girls, men and women.

The park remains open for everything except swimming. The hours remain the same and there will be opportunity for general recreation, fishing, use of boats, picnicking, and the like.

September 11, when he finished third behind Pete Stroh and Ledge Mitchell in the final race of the season.
In the light shifting breeze

Pete Stroh, who had just returned from Bermuda where he competed in the Luder International series and finished fifth, won the race by a country mile.

Ledge Mitchell made a remarkable recovery on the second time around the windward-leeward course to move from third to second place.

Pointe Yacht Club Gracious Host to Mallory Cup Races

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club vaulted this community into the national sailing spotlight last week, September 6 to 9, when it played host to the 1955 North American Sailing Championship series held on Lake St. Clair.

The beautiful club on Lake Shore road flung open its doors graciously and welcomed representative crews from the four corners of the country who came here to vie for the top honor in yachting.

The fact no local skipper was fortunate enough to sail in the series didn't matter and the eight race round robin series, sailed in Luder 16 sloops donated by Pointe skippers from the Grosse Pointe Little Club, held the interest of a huge spectator fleet that followed every race.

Beautiful Sight to See
It wasn't long before the spectators began marveling at the way the eight crack crews sailed their boats. It was very obvious to one and all why these visiting crews were selected by their various yachting associations to sail in the top sailing event of the year.

Young Bill Buchan, Jr., and his crew of Ron McFarlane and Bill Buchan, Sr., gained a huge following when he jumped into the series lead when he won the first two races on Tuesday, September 6.

Good looking Eugene Walet III, the defending champion who won the title in 1953 and '54, and his crew of Gilbert Fredrick and Gilbert Scheib, Jr., gained the plaudits of the spectators on the second day when he took a first in the morning race and a third in the afternoon race.

Handled Boat Flawlessly
Many thought after his slow start on the first day of racing that Walet was out of contention but as the series progressed there were many who believed he would be able to take the title for the third year in succession. Walet and his crew handled their boat flawlessly and never finished worse than third in any of the last six races.

This was not true of the new champion who experienced two fifth places in the final six races. But Buchan, when he was forced to, came through with a first and a couple of seconds to score an aggregate total of 52 1/2 points in the series.

While Buchan was leading the series all the way the rest of the contestants were having a dog eat dog scrap for the runner-up spot, which went to Alfred "Joe" Dowrie of the Chicago Yacht Club and the Lake Michigan Yachting Association.

Home Crowd Darling
Joe was the darling of the home crowd as he was representing the area that includes the Detroit River Yachting Association and the Inter Lake Yachting Association. They all were pulling for him to win because if he had, the Mallory series would have been sailed again next year somewhere on the Great Lakes.

Dowrie finally wound up in a tie with George O'Day of the Massachusetts Yachting Association with 47 1/2 points. Dowrie was awarded second place in the final standings due to the fact he had beaten O'Day more times during the series. O'Day had Dave Smith and Douglas Nystedt as his crew and Doug had excellent help from his crew of Tom Brockel and John Shethar.

Many Helped in Success
Although Grosse Pointe Yacht Club did a tremendous job in first getting the NAYYU to award it the series and secondly in organizing the program under the excellent and efficient hand of chairman George Cossaboom, the sailing part of the program could never have been the success it was had it not been for the able assistance of the DRYA judges.

The racing committee of Cossaboom, Commodore Art Summerlee, Frank Martin, Henry Schuck, Robert Benkert, Paul Adam, Lynn Stedman, Jr., Phil Phillips, Murray Knapp and Bruce Tappan, did a tremendous job in setting the courses and seeing to it the fleet always had a perfect beat to weather for each race. Mother Nature played an important part in the series when she provided all sorts of weather from near calms to a dandy 18 mile an hour blow. It was a true test of the skippers and their crews, and NAYRU judges, here especially for the series, George Himmann, J. Amory Jeffries, Garrett Horder and Robert Bavier, Jr., to a man agreed it was the best Mallory series yet sailed since its inauguration five years ago.

Had Comfortable Seats
They were especially high in their praise of Grosse Pointe members for the way they provided ample power boats for the spectators. These judges had the most comfortable seat on the lake on Gil Pingree's big yawl "Red Head" which acted as the NAYRU committee boat.

Bryan Chaplow's big cruiser "Chippie" was the DRYA committee boat from which all the races were started. Young Bud Lorenger and Jim Stockwell were especially helpful to the press as they used their father's boats to patrol the course with the reporters and photographers aboard each day.

Probably one of the busiest men was A. J. Dalton who corralled the necessary cruisers for the event.

Mrs. William O'Neill Kronner, the commodore's wife, and her committee of Mrs. Mervyn Gaslin, Mrs. Stark Hickey and Mrs. Paul Moreland; were busy as beavers entertaining the wives of the contestants during the races and at the social functions provided by the Detroit Yacht Club and the Detroit Boat Club.

Smiley's Crew Busy
Paul Smiley's "fix up" committee of Joe VanDerBergh and Roy Gartung was the busiest of all, keeping the boats glued together. Especially was this true on the first day when seven of the eight boats, experienced some sort of minor damage.

It was thought the second day of racing would have to be postponed but Joe and Roy worked far into the night and when the contestants appeared at the club early the following morning everything was in readiness. To those two guys should go some sort of a medal.

At the award dinner on Friday, night, September 9, Commodore Kronner couldn't praise the committees enough. But all agreed George Cossaboom was the man of the hour and all gave him a rising vote of thanks for a job very well done.

Put Pointe On Map
For the way Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and the Detroit River Yachting Association handled the Mallory Cup series Grosse Pointe can be proud, for it put our community in the yachting limelight. It will be extremely hard for any club in the country to match the program the beautiful club on Lake Shore road provided.

C'EST LA FEMME: Before I got married I knew all about women. Now, I need help. For example: Last night my darling wife, Jane, wasn't feeling too sharp. So, like any other good husband I told her I'd get her an aspirin. "Oh, no," she insisted, "don't get out of bed. I'll get it myself." Still half asleep, I mumbled something about, "That's what husbands are for." Before I could get moving, she zoomed out of bed like a kangaroo, and headed for the medicine chest. Frustrated, I sunk back into the pillows and told her, "Honey, you shouldn't have done that!" Returning from the aspirin hunt she spotted me snuggled into the covers. Obviously wounded and hurt, she said quietly, "Well, you didn't have to go back to sleep, did you?" "But," I defended myself, "what else should I do?" Without a moment's hesitation she feminine logic'd, "The least you could have done was wait in an uncomfortable position."

MARILYN MONROE, the most glamorous woman of our times, is also, believe it or not, the loneliest. Marilyn can only date men who meet the very strict standards set by her advisers. Thus, she has become an expert at such pastimes as solitaire, watching television, and being the third person in a dinner group. When she and 20th Century Fox finally agree to the surrender terms, very soon, Marilyn will make 17 TV shows to be produced by Milt Green and John Forman... While the Milt Greens were away in Europe Marilyn was so lonely that she ate herself up. Put on ten pounds... incidentally, MM is seeking an apartment. She'll soon have to vacate Leonora Corbett's Waldorf Towers flat and wants an unfurnished East Side side four roomer, preferably a penthouse. If you've got one handy, we'll pass the offer to her. Go easy on the rent, though. Remember, she's unemployed.

High School Gives Sport Fans Break

With the cost of living at its highest peak in history Grosse Pointe High School is attempting to give sports fans of this community a bargain in the form of cheaper admissions to the Blue Devil's football and basketball games; this fall and winter.

In an announcement by Walter Cleminson, principal at the High School, season tickets for football and basketball will be approximately 50 percent cheaper than last year and will be offered not only to high school students but to Junior High students as well.

In the past single game tickets sold for 75 cents for football and 50 cents for basketball and a season ticket went for $6.50. This year the season ticket will sell for $3.50.

Adult season football tickets will be reduced from $4.00 to $3.00. Later season basketball tickets will be available to adults for $3.50. In the past adults were forced to buy tickets at the gate for every game, which based on single game prices, cost $5.25 per season.

Larger gymnasium facilities have made the price reduction possible for basketball.

The season ticket is very desirable to those fans who dislike having to stand in line to purchase tickets. The holder of season tickets will be spared this tiring ordeal and avoid the jam.

SECOND BIGGEST TANK

The 360-foot-long naval tank at the University of Michigan is the second largest in the nation and the biggest in any educational institution. It is used to test ship models.

Capture Country Club Net Crown

"Soapy" Symington and George Beatty captured the crown in the annual Men's Invitational Tennis Tournament at the Country Club Sunday afternoon. They won in straight sets, beating Fudge Cavanaugh and Joe Kristofek by scores of 6-4, 6-3.

The winners whipped George Reindel, Jr. and his son, George III in the semi-finals, by scores of 7-5, 3-6, 6-3. The Reindels had eliminated Grawn and Potter in the quarter finals, 6-4, 2-6; 6-3.

Symington and Beatty got into the semi-finals by beating McBrearty and Skirski, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

In the other quarter final matches McKay and Beyer eliminated Weiner and Donovan, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5. Kristofek and Cavanaugh beat Caulkins and Finckenstadt, 6-4, 7-9, 6-0.

Women Netters In Club Tourney

The second annual Detroit Country Club's Women's Invitational Tennis tournament got underway on the club courts on Tuesday, September 13, under the direction of Tobey Hansen.

Sixteen doubles teams are vying for honors during the balance of the week with 15 of them having their sights on dethroning defending champions Mrs. Donald McKay and Mrs. Arthur Ebers, who were seeded number one.

Seeded number two were last year's runners-up Mrs. Werner Schmidt and Mrs. Edward Tutag. They are regarded as the combination which might unseat the champions this year.

The finals will be played either Saturday or Sunday, September 18 or 19, depending on the weather during the duration of the tournament. The finals are slated for 3 p.m. after which tennis chairman Jack Caulkins will award the prizes to the winners and runners up.

HOSPITALIZED BY ATTACK

Headlines (Continued from Page 1) THE THIEF got the money, anyway. In Miami, Mrs. Helen Wenner closed her restaurant early and as she walked away, she was confronted by a bandit with a pistol in his hand. Mrs. Wenner hurled a book she was carrying at the bandit. He dodged. Next, she tossed her pocketbook and the crook dodged again. Then she threw her money box containing the day's receipts of $200. The robber caught that and ran.

STEPS WERE BEING TAKEN by the French government to ease Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat off the Moroccan throne. Arafat, in turn issued the statement that "God would have to remove me." Premier Faure's plan for giving Morocco a greater measure of self rule was approved by the French cabinet. It reportedly calls for the removal of Arafat and establishing a three-man regency.

What to do when you're an ardent fisherman, but are allergic to the sun's rays? Give up fishing? Not by a darn sight! Mrs. James Huntington of Shoreham road, who can cast a line with the best of them but dares not let 'Ol' Sol touch her, has a slick hide-and-seek solution: she dons long, long white gloves and fishes smugly from beneath the shade of an expansive headpiece which closely resembles a bee-keeper's hat!

Spotted Mrs. Hansel Dwight Wilson whisking around the war memorial up to her ears in plans for the coming Garden Center flower show, and wearing a black and green plaid cotton frock, wide-belted in black... A wisp of white nylon edged the v-neck, three large white pearl buttons dotted the front and a button mate clasped each of the three-quarter length sleeves.

We won't mention names, but there's a carrot-topped freckle-faced paper boy who would probably want to know it all, if he nears one today's description of him as "the boy with the orange hair and spots."

Christmas seems a long way off, but it's all too near for committee members for Grosse Pointe Congregational Church's December 1 fair, who have been hard at work for these many moons... Advance snooping rewarded us with a description of the delectable quinine cocktail napkins which the in-lens committee is making...

A heavily sequined green felt Christmas tree two inches high s-n-a-p-s onto each white napkin (snap enables you to remove tree when napkin is laundered, OK snap on a tung decoration for other seasons or the year)... The committee at work looks like one of the motor city assembly lines. One ready cuts the linen, the next irons it, No. 3 sews on a snap, others in turn cut out trees, sequin them and snap them into place on the finished product.

PILFERINGS

In the files of the Wall Street Journal there's a service tale we enjoyed.

The paratroopers were about to have a test run, and their officer concluded his instructions with these directions, "Now as you know, these parachutes are not the new style we'll have when we go into actual combat. If you pull the left-hand cord and the chute hasn't opened by the time you've dropped a hundred feet or so, pull the reserve cord on the right."

"You'll land near the road marked 'D' on the maps we've studied. Follow the road in a northerly direction till it makes a sharp curve to the west, twenty yards further on you'll find your machine guns."

The last man to leave the plane watched the billowing white clouds of his buddies below him and yanked the second cord. Nothing happened. Pretty soon he pulled the second cord. Continuing to drop with no parachute opening above him, he muttered, "Just like the army! I'll bet there aren't any machine guns either!"

An American college initiated a special course in American slang for its foreign students after one respectfully addressed the dean with "I'm very pleased to meet you, sir. I've heard you are a wise guy."

MISS JANE SLADE OF EDMERERE ROAD

by Kitty Marriott

"Some people doodle," says pert Jane Slade. "I draw children." And she added, "Everything I do always goes back to children."

Lively Miss Slade, who entrains this week for Newton, Mass., and her senior year at Newton College of the Sacred Heart, worked as a nurse's aide this summer at Bon Secours Hospital and most enjoyed her hours in the pediatric department.

She's an education major at Newton, but the ink on her Bachelor of Arts degree will hardly be dry next summer before she presents herself at Mayo Hospital in Rochester, Minn., to begin three years of nurse's training.

A graduate of Grosse Pointe Convent of the Sacred Heart, Jane has delved into a new field every summer. One year she was a counselor at Four-Way Lodge on Torch Lake; another year she served as a volunteer group leader at St. Peter Claver Community House; and one season she took some educational psychology courses at University of Detroit summer school.

Tales of Jane's dramatic prowess were what led us to her door. She's far from a newcomer to theatrical audiences in the Pointe. Last month she played the lead in the Simians' production of "Gaslight" at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. She was also makeup chairman for their second production, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Always Liked Acting
Jane loved acting as far back as she can remember, and took part in many school plays, joining the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre when she was 15. The Simians were just being organized then, and when they gave "Mary of Scotland" the following summer, Miss Jane tried out for the part of Queen Elizabeth and got it. She has been with them every summer since for the past six years, with the exception of the year she was a camp counselor.

Last year the Pointe Miss Saw Katharine Cornell in "The Dark Is Light Enough" in Boston, and met the actress backstage afterward. Miss Cornell handed her a portion of the script, to read and commended Jane on her reading. Some time later Jane received a letter from the director of the American Shakespearean Academy at Stratford, Conn., stating that, on Miss Cornell's recommendation, she was one of 35 top drama students in the country nominated to the academy. This could have meant the summer in Stratford for Jane Slade Actress, but Jane Slade Nurse won out, and she chose to spend the summer at home.

Busy School Year

Jane has a busy year ahead. She's president of the Newton College Players and art director for the yearbook. Classes start September 20, but Jane goes back this week to help orientate incoming freshmen, and of course, to give them a pep talk on the dramatic club.

Watch for a children's book entitled "A Bed Is Not to Sleep In!" One of Jane's classmates is writing it as a senior project and illustrations will be by "Jane Slade."

Versatile Jane has sandwiched art courses into her curriculum ever since high school. She leans heavily toward water colors. As for sculpture, she loves that, and manipulated to get that in, too. In her spare time, (can't figure out when that could be), Jane writes children's poetry.

Is Also Athletic

Jane is senior representative to the Athletic Association at Newton and plays on the varsity hockey and basketball teams. Sometime later in the year she'll have to take her Massachusetts state teacher's exam.

Why is she turning to nursing when she has such a flair for art and the theater? Jane says the latter are relaxing, so she classifies them more as hobbies. "I love theater," she remarked, "and I'll always take part in it. Any place I find that there isn't a community theater, I'll organize one."

She has already combined her interest in both children and dramatics. When she was group leader at St. Peter Claver's, her youngsters won a prize for giving "Bluebeard". "Kids are wonderful in theater," Jane insists. "Tell them the story and they do the play by themselves."

Garden Center Holds Elections

Grosse Pointe Garden Center officers were re-elected for a second term at a luncheon meeting today in the War Memorial Center.
