RED CHINA DEMANDED "higher level" talks with the United States but was rejected until Peiping made good its promise to release American civilians being held by the Reds. The demand for the talk was made by Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping Nan at the six-week old conference with U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson in Geneva.

Johnson refused to even discuss the matter until China made good its promise to free the Americans. He was backed by the State Department.

OFFICIALS IN Washington eyed the announced illness of Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin for a possible shift in power in the Soviet. The Premier's illness was made known by the Soviet News Agency, Taas, after the Premier was unable to meet with a delegation from Finland. It is extremely unusual for an illness of a Soviet official to be made public.

President Eisenhower was notified by American diplomats in Geneva to expect a reshuffling which would bring Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Communist Party leader, into command.

Saturday, Sept. 17

ARGENTINA'S bloody civil war went into its second day. Government sources announced that the rebel stronghold at Cordoba City was under siege, and that rebel troops at the vital Curuzú Cuatia Military Base had given up.

However, reports from both government and rebel forces conflicted on the progress of the revolt. Buenos Aires was placed under a curfew and a feeling of tension hung in the air. A major, perhaps decisive battle, appears imminent.

Sunday, Sept. 18

RUSSIA, through its Communist Party Chief, Nikita S. Khrushchev, warned that Russia's policy toward the West is still unchanged. He stated that the smiles of Russian leaders since the Geneva conference do not mean they have abandoned Communist policy. He stated that those who expect a change might "just as well" wait for a shrimp to whistle. It was also made clear that Russia does not intend to abandon its East German allies after the talk in Moscow with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Monday, Sept. 19

HURRICANE IONE buffeted North Carolina and Virginia with winds up to 125 miles an hour. The mighty storm continued to move landward at 13 miles an hour, according to the Miami Weather Bureau. The storm was 220 miles east northeast of Charleston, S. C., and 145 miles south southeast of Cape Hatteras.

An alert was extended from north of Atlantic City to Provincetown, Mass. Meanwhile, Hurricane Hilda struck a large island below Tampico, Mexico, and deluged that flood-stricken city with new cloudbursts.

JOY REIGNED in Argentina as the regime of President Juan Peron toppled after 10 years of dictatorship. Peron and all aides resigned in the face of a successful rebellion of Army and Navy forces which began last Friday.

Loyalist supporters and rebels were ordered to cease fire by their leaders until peace talks can be concluded. The cry of "liberty, liberty" sounded in Buenos Aires, and thousands of people paraded in the streets attesting to their happiness that the dictator had been ousted.

Wednesday, September 21
JUAN PERON, ex-dictator of Argentina, was reported to have escaped arrest and fled the country. Meanwhile, the country's new Army government began peace talks with rebel leaders, whose forces ended the 10-year reign of Peron. A junta of generals took over the reins of government as a climax to the four-day revolt and quickly announced peace talks will take place.

A dog bite broke up a social function at the Alger Post of the Veteran of Foreign Wars clubhouse in St. Paul avenue for Mrs. Charlotte Hoag of 592 St. Clair.

The dog, owned by guest William Entwistle of 735 Roslyn road, bit Mrs. Hoag on the upper right arm.

Famed Carillonneur to Give Concert at Memorial Church To Observe 90th Anniversary

Dr. Percival Price, who dedicated enlarged Carillon in 1952, Coming From Ann Arbor to Provide Special Program

In connection with the observance of its 90th anniversary, the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lake Shore road, will present Dr. Percival Price, Carillonneur of the University of Michigan in a carillon concert Sunday, September 25, at 3:30 p.m.

From 1927 until 1952 the Church had eight bells in its tower. To these were added 39 bells, cast by Petit & Fritsen, Aarle-Rixtel, Holland, bell founders since 1660. The Carillon now consists of four octaves of bells weighing in excess of 40,000 pounds. The weight of the largest bell is 4,500 pounds; its diameter is 4 feet 10 inches; the smallest, 15 pounds and 8 inches.

On Steel Framework

All the bells hang on steel framework and their clappers are connected by wires and tumbler to a keyboard on the floor below the bell chamber of the tower. The keyboard is of the standard design for carillon playing, developed centuries ago in Europe, and is the only type which sounds the bells with the expressive touch of the performer.

It has a large wooden lever for each bell, and in addition, a pedal for each of the 18 depressed bells, as an alternative means of sounding them: The keys are wooden sticks which are usually lowered with a tap of the fist; the pedals are short and are lowered with the ball of the foot.

Thirty-five of the bells are also playable electrically from the console of the organ.

This carillon ranks among the top ten finest carillons of this continent.

your throat."

Mrs. Hey continued to scream and the man fled on foot east to Balfour and south out of sight.

Mrs. Hey's face was bruised and her mouth cut. "We believe the assailant probably had his car keys in the hand he clapped over Mrs. Hey's mouth," Chief Louwers said. An immediate search of the neighborhood failed to turn up the accoster.

A complete description of the man was obtained. He was said to be approximately 35, Negro, six feet tall, 200 pounds. He wore light brown striped pants and a shirt similar to those worn by Shell gas station attendants, according to Louwers.

National Bank of Detroit has two offices under construction in Huntington Woods and Lathrup Village. Another suburban branch is located in Harper Woods.

Two Presented Merit Awards

Certificate of Merit Awards, part of the Constitution Week activities that end at the War Memorial Center tomorrow, were presented to Memorial Center Director John Lake and Robert W. Betzing of the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club on Saturday, September 17, by the Elizabeth Cass Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

At an impressive 3 o'clock ceremony held in the Terrace room of the Memorial, Mrs. Jesse Shields made the award presentations for outstanding community service.

John Lake, at one time a member of the faculty of the Grosse Pointe High School, has for the past four years, been the director of the War Memorial. For his unceasing work in the formation and direction of countless community projects, he was singled out for the highest of the DAR awards.

The other recipient, Robert Betzing, has been hard at work in a number of community projects for a good many years. A Squibb Company executive, he spends most of his spare hours in Exchange Club, Sea Scout and church activities.

No tickets were issued. According to the police, the matter will be settled between the Ray D. Baker Construction Co. and Krebs.

'Drag Race' Drags Driver Into Trouble With Police

A 21-year-old Pointe man found himself in more trouble than he bargained for when he was arrested by Farms police on Saturday, September 17, for participating in a "drag race."

While two policemen were checking doors in the business district on Kercheval at about 2:15 a.m., they noticed two cars racing by, and at the light at Muir road and Kercheval, they started a "drag" race.

When the officers took up pursuit, one car turned off onto Lothrop and escaped and the other turned onto Stephens and was stopped at Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Apprehended was Eric C. Schneider of 75 Roslyn road, who police said had been drinking. This was admitted by the motorists.

In Schneider's car, police found three full bottles of beer and one empty, and on the floor, under the seat was a blackjack. The beer and the weapon were confiscated.

Schneider was given two tickets, one for speeding and one for driving with an expired license.

Farms Det. Harold Beupre said that the man might be prosecuted on a concealed weapons charge.

Court date has been set for October 28.

Schools Give Results of May Census

Growth of 1,811 or 3.2 Percent Shown Since Last Year in Local School District

School Superintendent James W. Bushong has released the annual school census data as reported by Dr. Lynn Bartlett, Director of Pupil Personnel. The tabulations are made by the International Business Machines Corporation to insure complete accuracy.

Dr. Bartlett's study reveals a total population of the school district as of May, 1955, of 57,926. This is an increase of 1,811 or 3.2 per cent over the May, 1954 figure. The increase for the past three years has been 7,126.

Comparison Made

In the table below, the May, 1955, populations of the various municipalities included in the Grosse Pointe Public School System are compared with the figures for May, 1954.

The number of children of school census age, that is, ages five through nineteen inclusive, in 1955 was 14,455. This is a gain of 843 or 6.2 per cent over the May, 1954 figure.

The number of children under age five increased 206 or 3 per cent over that of last year. The largest number of children of any one age level for 1955 was 1,229 for the eight year old group. There were 1,209 seven year olds and 1,205 twelve year olds.

Many More Youngsters

The number of youngsters from birth through 17 was 18,497. Of this number 5,433 or 29.4 per cent were in the pre-school age group, and 7,713 or 41.7 per cent were in the elementary age group. In the junior high school age group were 3,025 or 16.4 per cent while in the senior high school age group were 2,326 or 12.5 per cent.

While the total population in the Grosse Pointe School District showed a gain of 3.2 per cent from 1954 to 1955, the number of children of school census age—5-19 inclusive—increased 6.2 per cent. The May public school membership showed a gain of 8.6 per cent for the same period.

These census facts are significant since they show the great concentration of children at the younger ages who will be moving up through the public school system in the next few years.

Two Districts Intertwine

It is noted that a portion of the Grosse Pointe School District includes a part of Harper Woods. On the other hand, there is a portion of Grosse Pointe Woods which is not in the Pointe School District, but is a part of the Harper Woods School District.

A shifting of the population would affect the population figures strictly within the Pointe boundaries, to some slight extent.

Harper Woods has recently asked the Pointe School District to relinquish that part of the district which lies within its city and is served by the Poupard School. The request is now under study, with the local district officials saying they would not consider such a move unless all qualified electors in the district were given a chance to state their preference and the majority wanted the change made.

Water Pollution Ends in Shores

This year marks the first time in years that the Shores has not polluted the waters of Lake St. Clair, it was revealed by Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis.

Mr. Jefferis stated that since the new sewer in the Village has been in operation, pollution of the lake has been almost nil.

Before the installation of the sewer, the community's sanitary facilities consisted of septic tanks which emptied directly into the lake, causing the pollution.

The Wayne County Health Department has been conducting periodical checks of the water along the shoreline of the village since June and with the exception of one day in August, the bacteria count has almost disappeared, thereby making the lake extra safe for swimmers.

Engineers Form New Organization

On Monday, September 19, a group of Grosse Pointe and Macomb County Professional Engineers held an organizational meeting to establish a local society of professional engineers, under the name of the Laké St. Clair Society of Professional Engineers.

The meeting was attended by about 20 men, representing a wide field of engineering talent. Officers and committee chairmen were elected by the group, and work was done to lay the foundation for by-laws and for a fundamental organization plan.

Don Trefry, a Detroit Edison engineer was elected chairman; Frank Tousley, of the Chrysler Corporation, vice chairman and chairman of the organization committee; and Chester Ordon of Wayne University's engineering staff, secretary and treasurer.

Lawrence Einfeldt was appointed chairman of the membership and attendance committee, and William Fricker, chairman of the Program and Publicity Committee, and Carl Daniels heads the committee to draw up the constitution and by-laws.

Although all officers and committee chairmen are residents of the Pointe, any registered engineer or "engineer-in-training" of the Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods or Macomb County area is welcome to attend meetings.

Special Traffic Meeting Planned

An analysis of a Woods report in the annual inventory of Traffic Safety Activities for 1954, prepared by the National Safety Council, will be presented at Post 303 American Legion Hall, Mack near Hampton, on Wednesday, September 28, at 2:30 p.m., information released by Woods Director of Public Safety Vern C. Bailey revealed.

The analysis is based on the recommendation of the President's Highway Safety Conference and various national associations interested in accident prevention, Director Bailey's release stated.

The Michigan State Police will represent the Michigan State Safety Commission at the presentation.

Attending the meeting, circumstances permitting, will be the secretary of the safety commission, representatives of Secretary of State James M. Hare, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zeigler, and Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor, who together with State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, comprise the State Safety Commission.

Air Force Base To Honor Kids

Selfridge Air Force Base will again play host to the youngsters of Michigan on Saturday, September 24, as it participates in National Kids Day, with a full morning's schedule planned to please any youngster in another excellent example of community relations.

Kids Day is an annual event sponsored by the Kiwanis Club with full participation by the Air Force as endorsed by General Nathan Twining and 11 commanders throughout the service.

An estimated 4,000 to 5,000 children are expected to pour onto Selfridge in buses and cars. The base will hold its open house starting at 8 a.m. with the actual events scheduled to start at 9:30. Various types of airplanes including F-86D, "Sabrejets," F-80 "Shooting Stars," T-33 jet trainers, B-25 "Billy Mitchell," SA-16 Grumman Albatross amphibious and H-19 helicopter will all be on static display with walk-over stands alongside the planes so the youngsters can get a better look and feel. They will also be given the opportunity to walk inside various type planes.

Jet pilots dressed in their supersonic gear will be standing by to answer the kids' questions, as will the pilots of the cargo and air rescue type planes.

Kiwanians Set For Peanut Sale

Next Saturday is Kiwanis Kids' Day and you'll again see Riverside Kiwanians selling peanuts in the Village, on Kercheval Hill and the Moross-Mack area in its annual fund raising drive for underprivileged children.

Marvin J. Malow, 983 Lincoln road, chairman of the Kids' Day committee, announced that the expanding activities of the Club to aid unfortunate children has greatly increased the need for funds necessary to carry on the club's work.

Mr. Malow listed among the club projects the Riverside Boys' Club of fifty members, who receive full privileges at the Hanan YMCA, contribution to the Joe Prance Summer outings which give 400 kids a full day at Rouge Park every day during the summer months with food and transportation furnished by Kiwanis, contributions to the children's hospital at U. of M., the Campfire Girls, Camp Grace Bentley for crippled children, the Sigma Gamma polio hospital, Boy Scout troops and cub packs.

Traveller's Pictures to Help AAUW Projects

Possibly you have had a desire to take a camelback trip by starlight to the foot of the pyramids, or to ride in a howdah on an elephant's back to an Indian temple. If you haven't managed it so far, armchair travelers can go "Around the World with the Wallace Temples" when he shows more than 2,000 feet of color motion pictures, taken this year, at 8:15 p.m. Friday, October 7, in the new auditorium of the Grosse Pointe High School. That's Mr. Temple in the picture above.

On a three-month tour by air, auto, rickshaw, camel and elephant the Temples visited more than a dozen countries, always finding out-of-the-way corners of the earth and unusual people to record on film.

Mr. Temple, an experienced photographer, is known for successful showings of films taken on previous trips. Along with the motion pictures he gives a witty, running commentary about the places visited.

The showing is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe branch, American Association of University Women, with Mrs. Edward Gehrig in charge of the project. Tickets, at 75 cents, may be obtained from AAUW members, or at the door. Proceeds are to be used to maintain the AAUW's many local activities during the coming season.

The Temples have been residents of Grosse Pointe for many years. Mr. Temple served as captain in the Army Air Force in the South Pacific during World War II.

Mrs. Temple, who holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan, has been active in AAUW, League of Women Voters and other Grosse Pointe civic affairs.

and helped them get a clearer picture of present-day free India.

They visited two new, model villages, called Faribads, built by the Indian government with American aid, of which the Indians are very proud. Here they have attempted to set up small industries, schools, new farming methods and modern housing, all of which, though crude by our standards, are vast improvements over the Indians' former way of living.

At Bombay, as guests of other Indian friends, they took pictures of the Dancing Shiva, a carved statue at the Elephanta Caves, and of the Red Fort, built 3,000 years ago, by the same Persian shah who erected the Taj Mahal.

From the beautiful pink sandstone city of Jaipur, the Temples took their memorable elephant ride to the fabulous Amber Palace. As they sat comfortably perched in the howdah on top of the huge beast, a little native boy trotted alongside, playing weird music on a stringed instrument.

Mrs. Temple was particularly impressed with the beautiful hall of tiny silver mirrors in the Amber Palace, kept in shining condition.

Besides visiting the holy city of Benares, on the Ganges, they photographed the colorfully costumed dancers of a village festival at Unchagoan, in the Punjab.

At Darjeeling, in the foothills of the Himalayas, a high-ranking Indian friend took the Temples to visit a tea plantation and arranged for a personal meeting with Tenzing Norkay, one of the conquerors of Mount Everest. The Indian government has established a school for mountain climbers which Tenzing directs.

Other countries which the movie-viewers will see and hear about include Portugal, Spain, Tangier, Monte Carlo, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Lebanon, The Holy Land, Thailand, Hong Kong, Japan and Hawaii.

Thief Steals $60 In Church Theft

Farmington police are checking into the mystery of the disappearance of approximately $60 from St. James Lutheran Church, McMullan road, on Monday, September 12.

No clues have been uncovered since Mrs. C. M. Blank of 2081 Country Club drive, informed authorities that while she was in the basement of the church, someone took approximately $40 from her purse and $20 from a bowl on a card table in the kitchen. The $20 is part of receipts taken in during a church luncheon.

A woman who was reported to have been sitting within eyeview of the purse and the money in the bowl, claimed she had not seen anyone nearby.

Two employees of the church, who had been going in and out of the kitchen and church area, were questioned, but they denied any knowledge of the missing money.

It was revealed that there were three entrances to the kitchen, any of which the thief could have used.

Rev. George Kurz, pastor of the church, found the wallet and change purse on Saturday, September 17, belonging to Mrs. Blank, in a drawer in the sacristy, under several vestments. The money was missing.

The wallet and change purse were returned to the owner.

Woods Approves Paving Contract

The Woods council on Monday, September 19, approved the awarding of a contract for the resurfacing of five streets in the city.

A low bid of $33,658.44 was accepted by the council for the contracting in the resurfacing of five streets from Mack avenue to the city limits at Harper Woods.

Two-and-a-half-inches of bituminous concrete (asphalt) will be applied in the resurfacing of Van Antwerp, Lancaster, Country Club drive, Lochmoor boulevard and Norwood.

City Administrator William Lange informed members of the council that other streets will have to be resurfaced at a later date, but those already mentioned needed it most and had to be taken care of first.

People abutting the streets to be resurfaced will receive a letter from the city advising them of the project and how long it is expected to take.

Police Unravel License Mix-up

It was quite a mix-up, but Farmington police straightened out the ownership of a car, after stopping a driver and finding he had improper plates on his vehicle.

On Sunday, September 18, police stopped Fred P. Allen, 33, of 8797 Orchard, Van Dyke, for investigation.

In checking Allen's operator's license, it was found he had a chauffeur's license which expired in 1952. When he was unable to produce his car registration, a prototype was sent to Lansing for information.

The return answer revealed the license plate on Allen's car was listed to a James V. Elliott of 2723 Wabash, Detroit. Allen admitted to having the wrong plate.

Bobby Allen, 24, of 1212 Belvidere, Detroit, brother of Allen and a passenger in the car at the time it was stopped, was sent home to find the car registration. It showed license plate number OP 2574, listed to the elder brother.

Another inquiry to Lansing showed that there was no such series of numbers.

A bill of sale produced by Allen showed a license number, CH 7329, listed to Frederick Bopp of 11949 E. Warren, Detroit. This proved to be an error on the part of the dealer who sold Allen the car.

The motorist was ticketed for having an improper license plate and for driving with an expired license.

Kids Who Aspire to Be Cops Better Start Behaving Now

So you young fry think you want to be policemen, do you? Well, you've chosen a very honorable profession, indeed, but you'd better keep your pug noses clean.

No throwing stones through the windows of that haunted house down the block. And that delicious piece of penny candy that beckons on yonder counter; don't slip it into your pocket.

And running across the neighbors' flower beds; that's out too. Before donning that Badge 714, your record must be clean. And that record isn't just from the past employer, either. It goes back a long way.

The screening process that precedes an appointment to the Grosse Pointe Park Police Department is a good case in point. A prospective rookie is checked so thoroughly that wherever possible, his childhood habits are known before he's issued his first uniform.

"We check the neighbors and surrounding merchants not only where he lives when he applies for the position, but also where he grew up," said Park Chief Arthur Louwers. "In some cases, of course this is impossible."

His police and traffic record, if any, are checked from every angle. "We check the local, state and national files," said Louwers. "One violation can keep him out. We don't want anyone who is the least bit questionable," the Chief went on.

Besides the neighbors, the screening process includes any affiliation he's had with other employes. One of the best sources is the armed forces, Louwers pointed out.

With this done, a thorough check of his formal schooling is made. And this goes a long way, too. "We check high school, junior high school and elementary." Despite this, a thorough aptitude test is given every applicant.

To insure that the individual's integrity is above reproach, as many character references as possible are obtained.

Surprisingly, relatives are steered away from. "Many times they are biased," Louwers said. "The immediate family, of course, is checked." This relative check, though, is done more from the outside than by personal interview.

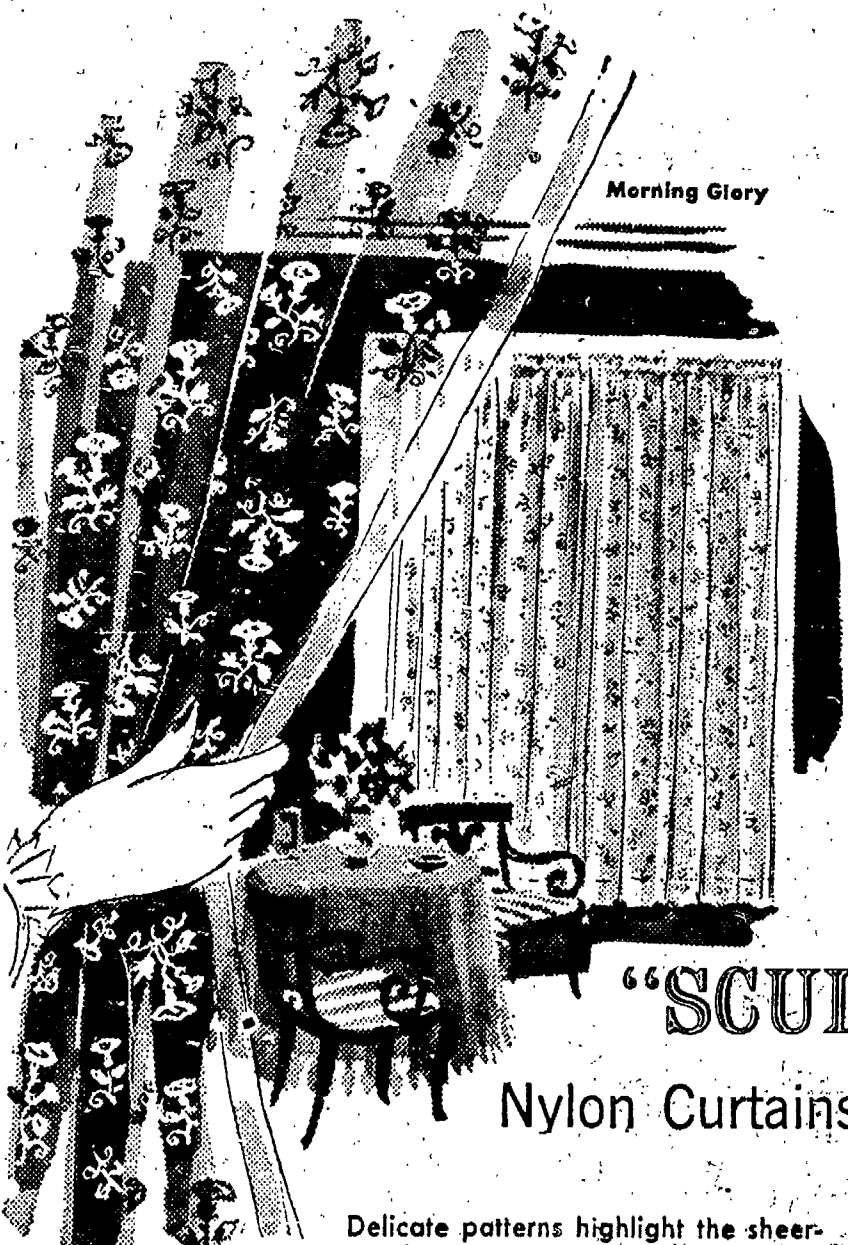

"People, whether or not they plan to be police officers, fail to realize that their record, or what is commonly referred to as their 'good name' lives with them. I've turned down applications of fellows who have been in trouble as early as first year high school," Louwers said.

Despite the thoroughness of the check, Louwers admits that occasionally a mistake is made. "We get a bad apple every once in a while. We dismiss them after their probationary period."

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

Failure to look both ways caused an auto accident at the corner of Kercheval and Yorkshire on Saturday, September 17. James Morgan pulled in front of oncoming traffic and was struck by a car driven by Carolyn Lundburg of 453 Touraine.

Mrs. Lundburg's car, which was traveling west on Kercheval at the time of the collision, was not drivable. According to the police report, Morgan said that he did not see the oncoming traffic. Morgan was ticketed for pulling into moving traffic without due care or caution.

Speeding Teenager Crashes Attempting to Lose Police

A wild chase that started as a drag-race down Jefferson and ended with a crack-up on Washington road, led to the eventual arrest of four teenage Detroit speed demons Wednesday evening, September 14. The youths fled the scene of the accident on foot.

The apprehension of the quartet came on a clue left in the wrecked car. A Detroit speeding violation ticket was found in the glove compartment. The squad car team of patrolman, William Waldecker and Duncan MacEachen spotted two cars racing down Jefferson opposite O'Leary Cadillac Sales. They gave chase.

One of the cars going approximately 65 m.p.h. veered left at Washington. Half way down the block, the car lost control, jumped the curb, flew the two right tires and piled up. The driver and passenger had fled between the houses by the time the officers arrived on the scene.

An immediate search of the neighborhood failed to turn up the two. While checking the immediate area, the second car drove up.

Driver Donald Hemme of 1366 Manistique and Joseph Mocerri of 318 Piper told the officers that they felt they were involved in the accident.

Taken to the City police station, they said that they did not know the driver or passenger of the wrecked car. They were released.

The city police staked out the address found on the violation ticket. A little after midnight, Hemme, Mocerri and Alan Manasa arrived.

Manasa, who is 19 and lives at 214 Chalmers, disclaimed any knowledge of the incident. He told police that his car had been stolen earlier in the evening.

According to the other two involved, the three had met shortly before midnight at a Jefferson avenue eatery.

After a short interrogation, Manasa confessed his implication.

He told the police that he and Hemme had been racing when the police gave chase. "He tried to get away because he was already in hot water for driving," said Det. Lt. Andrew Teetaert.

Driving on a temporary permit, Manasa has had his license revoked once for recklessness. "And with that ticket pending, he thought that if we caught him, he'd be done. And he was right," Teetaert said.

During the interim between the time of the accident and his apprehension, Manasa hitchhiked back to the Newport-Jefferson area and called the Detroit police to report his car stolen. "He thought he could cover himself that way," Teetaert said.

He later admitted to plating the false report.

Involved with Manasa was 19 year old John Murphy of 214 Chalmers. Murphy, who went home after the accident, was not picked up until Thursday.

"Murphy is not really implicated," said Teetaert.

"Charges of reckless driving will be brought against Manasa and Hemme. Manasa will face prosecution for submitting a false report in Detroit.

Stopped Car Hit At Signal Light

A minor two car collision occurred at the corner of Fisher and Maumee on Saturday, September 17.

Driver Ray Bettmer of 1516 Roslyn road was stopped on Fisher for the light when his car was hit from the rear by one driven by Thomas Motherwell of 874 Huntington.

Damage was slight and both drivers agreed to settle out of court. No tickets were issued. No one was injured.

School Maintenance Crew Busiest During Idle Months

When the school term is over and summer is on, the maintenance crew of the public schools begins an intensive improvement program in and around every building.

The men, under the direction of Harold Husband, Director of Administrative Services, receive their personal instructions from Klaas (Nick) Jongens, Maintenance Chief. Fanning out over the entire public school system, the well-trained maintenance group proceed to their various assignments.

"Besides some 42 regular summer services performed in every building," says Mr. Husband, "the men do a great number of special jobs in maintenance and repair which would be difficult to do during the regular school months. Summer gives us a chance to do these things."

Some of the maintenance projects for the summer just past, according to School Superintendent Dr. James Bushong, were such things as roof repairs on four buildings, fluorescent light installation in 40 rooms in six schools, and acoustic tile installation in five schools.

A total of 1,265 desk tops were sanded. Numerous building alterations were made and asphalt paving was done at five buildings. All flagpoles were painted as well as the exteriors of four buildings, 46 classrooms, 11 offices and 9 corridors.

Dr. Bushong said that all of these projects are laid out carefully by Mr. Husband and Mr. Jongens well in advance of the actual work. Nothing is left to chance, every project is planned and a tight job schedule is maintained.

The Superintendent feels that not only are these services necessary from the standpoint of comfort, appearance, and upkeep, but also as a morale factor for teachers and children. The learning environment is definitely better where buildings and grounds look good, it has been proven.

According to Director Husband, the present group of maintenance men are the best of a number of excellent ones he has had in the Grosse Pointe Public School System. "Whether repairing equipment, landscaping a campus, removing a tree, or pouring concrete," declares Mr. Husband, "they are 'tops' in my book."

Scout District To Be Renamed

The lower east side, District Three of the Metropolitan Boy Scouts, which includes all of the Grosse Pointe area, will be renamed according to information received this week from the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts.
District Three, which runs from approximately Eight Mile road and Van Dyke south to the lake and then west to the U.S. Rubber plant on Jefferson, will drop its numerical designation in favor of an appropriate name.
At the moment, a district wide 'Name the Area' contest is being carried on. All Boy Scouts in the Pointe are eligible.
The contest, which started last Thursday, September 15, will run through October 26, and will carry valuable prizes for the winner and runners up. Though the exact prizes have not yet been determined, they will probably consist of camping equipment.
Only one entry will be accepted from each Scout. His name, the name of his unit and the name of his unit leader must be typed on a 3"x5" card and sent to: District Three Name Contest, Boy Scouts of America, 51 West Warren, Detroit 3, Michigan.
Each of the eleven districts in the Metropolitan area are conducting similar contests.
According to spokesmen for the Boy Scouts, the renaming is "to give the Districts a more personal designation."
The judges for the contest have not yet been named, but reliable sources place at least two Pointers on the board. They are George Williams of Lakeland avenue, who is the president of the Detroit Area Council and Jerry Friesema of Colonial, another top ranking Detroit Area Scout worker.

Wins 1st Prize In Old Car Show

Winning a blue ribbon first prize for beauty and authenticity of restoration at Greenfield Village's fifth annual Old Car Festival last week was William A. Petzold, Jr., 1010 Three Mile drive, who drove his 1918 Detroit Electric.

Over 200 cars, members of three leading antique car clubs, gathered at the village to compete in contests which brought to mind the early days of motoring. Cranking, back-up, and slow-driving contests, recalled the major motoring events of 50 years ago.

Evening festivities featured a gaslight parade, with each car lighted with the crude kerosene and carbide devices of the past.

Police Seeking 'Safe Openers'

Two men are being sought for questioning by Farms police after the men told a maid at a Farms residence, that they were "there to open a safe," a police report showed.
The report disclosed that the two men approached the entrance to the residence of John Anderson, 431 Lake Shore road, on Sunday, September 18, in a car. Getting out, they informed the maid, Minah Walker, who answered the door, that they were "there to open a safe."
When they were refused admittance to the house, they got back into their car and drove off.
The maid could not give a description of the car, or its license number, but she told police that one of the men, who was dark complected, had a plumber's torch in his hand and the other man held what looked like a tool box.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Kitty Marriott

The Pointe Painters, that talented octet of feminine artists, held an exhibition and tea Monday afternoon in the Yorkshire road home of Mrs. Philip A. O'Connell. Sixty bids went out for this third invitational showing.

Each of the members submitted three or more pictures for exhibition; four included portraits of their husbands in the collection. All of the husbands stepped into the act immediately following the exhibition, joining the ladies at 6 o'clock for cocktails and a late buffet supper.

Together Three Years

The Painters, a group started by Mrs. Lucie Wetzel years ago, now have as their base of operations a studio basement apartment at the corner of Notre-Dame and Kercheval, which they have quaintly dubbed "The Paint Box."

Member artists, besides Mrs. O'Connell and Mrs. Wetzel, are Mrs. Garnet K. Cramer, Mrs. Norton S. Walbridge, Mrs. Curtis L. Moody, Miss Hazel Lane, Miss Georgina Lane and Mrs. Peter J. Gallette.

It's A Silver Anniversary Year for Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. B. Peirce of Lincoln road, who invited 120 friends in Sunday to a cocktail party marking the grand occasion.

Quite a few of the guests were people who attended the wedding of Nancy Griffith and Robert Peirce twenty-five years ago in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Among the original members of the wedding who made a point of being on hand Sunday were: R. Gordon Griffith, Mrs. Peirce's brother, who had been an usher, in from Ann Arbor with Mrs. Griffith; another usher, George Black, and Mrs. Black; the Harry Hoys, of Bloomfield, or more precisely, of Cranbrook (she was bridesmaid Nerissa Fitzsimons) . . . the John Vollertsons, of Chicago (she was matron of honor) . . . and from Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Mothershead (she served as maid of honor).

Back to California

After spending a few weeks as the guest of her fiancé, James Sterling Sanford, and his parents, the Sterling S. Sanfords of Hillcrest road, Leona Libby few back to Hollister, Calif. . . . The Sanfords and their guest spent a goodly portion of the time at "The Skidway," their Walloon Lake retreat. They'll make a final trip up to close the cottage for the season in October just when Mother Nature is doing her most colorful retouch job on the leaves.

Two Groups Will Benefit

When chic ladies of the Pointe walk across the stage at the Detroit Institute of Arts next Wednesday afternoon wearing Hattie Carnegie's creations for fall, show proceeds will be divided between the Sister Kenny Treatment Center in Pontiac and the Caro Parents Association, Inc., which aids epileptic patients at Caro State Hospital.

This is the third straight year that Mrs. Harley J. Earl has piloted the project almost up to the day of the fashion show, and then has boarded a ship bound for Europe to look over the foreign car market with Mr. Earl. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. William O. Earl, is taking over as acting chairman.

Committee members include Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, Mrs. Phelps Newberry, Mrs. Henry Hopkes, Jr., Mrs. S. Clifford Merrill, Mrs. George O. Johnston, and Mrs. Harold Raymond Boyer. Among the local models who will don the Carnegie ensembles are Mrs. John W. Anderson II, Mrs. Jerome C. Earl, Mrs. Forbes Howard, Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips, and Mrs. Frederick C. Ford, Jr.

Walton-Pierce Holds Showing of Originals

Last Thursday and Friday Mrs. William Rust Pierce presented her latest collection of made-to-order original fashions to the press and public at informal showings in the Custom Salon of the Walton-Pierce Shop in Grosse Pointe Village.

In this collection, which ran the gamut from svelte suits to "grand entrance" ball gowns, Clara Ray, formerly of New York and California, demonstrated her flair for the flattering line, her eye for the unusual fabric.

Walton-Pierce originals have gained a reputation for quality and timeless chic among Michigan's smartest women during the more than 30 years that Mrs. Pierce has been in the custom field.

Important Trends

The new season's collection emphasized several important trends—the sheath dress reigns supreme for daytime; the brighter the color the better, especially if it's red; for suits and under-furs woools; the peplum is a fashion detail with a future; floor-length dinner and ball gowns are coming back!

One stunning luncheon dress in taupe ribbed jersey with a stand-out example of the peplum treatment. The tiniest bit of a front peplum, banded in satin, added detail interest without adding one whit to the width of the silhouette. A strip of satin was also used asymmetrically on the bodice.

Parisian Fashion

A daytime stole costume, which balanced bulk against slimmness in the Parisian fashion, also boasted a peplum on its basic sheath dress. The fabric here was chartreuse and brown flecked tweed.

Surprisingly, peplums invaded the afternoon field, too. A black permanently pleated jersey gown had a weskit-look peplum of black satin.

Red appeared in a variety of shades, burgundy through Spanish tile, especially in the town clothes. American beauty satin circled the waistline and voluminous under-petticoat of a black Chantilly lace dinner dress. A narrow lipstick-red chiffon eyening gown was topped by a gold and red brocade bolero.

Gowns in Grand Manner

Walton-Pierce has long been noted for evening gowns in the grand manner. This collection boasted several. A silvered aqua brocade, elegant as a court gown, was styled with a direttore bodice, outlined in Mink, and a great skirt sweeping full to the back. A full-skirted black lace, the neckline hand-headed in turquoise, was cunningly topped by a turquoise velvet clutch stole.

The "oomph dress" of the showing was easily the sinuous black floor-length silk sheath with a narrow waterfall of lemon and lime taffeta right to the hem. Most of the fabrics used in the collection were European imports, many of them having been woven to Walton-Pierce specifications.

Red Cross to Honor Mrs. Joy At 50th Anniversary Event

The Detroit Chapter of the American Red Cross will celebrate its 50th anniversary of service in Detroit and Michigan on Friday, September 30.

The occasion will be highlighted by the honoring of Mrs. Henry B. Joy for her 50 consecutive years of service to the chapter. Mrs. Joy, a member of the first executive committee, has served the chapter faithfully throughout its entire history.

Principal speaker at a subscription luncheon to be held in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, will be Ellsworth Bunker, president of the American National Red Cross. Prior to election to his present post in November 1953, Bunker served as United States ambassador to Italy and Argentina.

The Detroit chapter dates back to June 15, 1905, when a small group of "civic-minded citizens led by the late Hugh McMillan, formed to bring the Red Cross movement to Michigan.

At that time the local organization was known as the Michigan branch of the Red Cross Society. At its annual meeting on November 9, 1909, the embryo group received a charter from the parent organization, the American National Red Cross Society and elected to call itself the Detroit Chapter.

In the formative years local activities were confined mainly to raising money for domestic and foreign disaster relief, a program which was to lay the foundation for the greatly expanded services made necessary by two world wars, the Korean conflict and their aftermath.

William J. Norton, chairman of the chapter's anniversary committee, has announced that the chapter will hold open house in connection with the anniversary celebration. Norton urged all friends of the Red Cross throughout Wayne County to visit the chapter at 153 E. Elizabeth, on Friday, September 30.

Material Needed By 'Crusaders'

White material is needed badly by the "Crusaders," a volunteer group of women who meet regularly on Mondays from 10 until 3 to staff the branch of the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Nelle Baldwin has been the chairman of these workers.

During the past year the number of patients serviced has ranged from four to 14 per month. One person received free of charge 6000 pads during a four month interval.

It is requested that those having any white salvage material available please bring it to the War Memorial Center office where it will be used by this group. There is a welcome awaiting any volunteer who wishes to sew at the Memorial on Mondays during the hours 10-3.

The work of the "Crusaders" is supplemented by sewing done by church, sorority, service clubs and scout groups.

Park Patrolman Fyfe Resigning

The Park police are losing the fourth patrolman in two months, it was announced this week by Chief Arthur Louwers.

Veteran officer William Fyfe gave notice that he will resign effective October 14.

Fyfe, who joined the force January 12, 1953, gave no reasons for his resignation. It was learned, though, that he will move to Florida where his mother now lives. He hopes to rejoin the department "as soon as possible." "Fyfe is an excellent policeman and we are sorry to lose him," said Chief Arthur Louwers. "I myself, hope he will return as soon as possible."

COMING SOON—THE FORWARD LOOK '56
THE BEST NEW-CAR NEWS FOR YOU

IT WILL COME to you in the all-new cars of Chrysler Corporation... Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto, Chrysler, Imperial.

It will come in a fresh new style concept we have named THE FLIGHT-SWEEP. Never have you seen cars that look so completely right for today... and tomorrow.

It will come in new ideas of performance and of driving response and control.

There will be new PUSHBUTTON POWER-FLITE. A touch of a finger on your left hand will push a button on the dash to give you instantly the driving range you want.

There will be still greater power, performance and economy from the finest and most advanced new powerplants in any cars today.

There will be new hydraulic braking systems that are without equal in the sureness and the ease of their operation.

There will be a kind of all-road riding comfort that is, literally in a special class all by itself among modern cars.

There will be full-time Safety-Touch Power Steering... the most advanced and enjoyable single driving control of these times.

For—and remember this—these are no ordinary "new cars."

These are the cars of the second challenging year of THE FORWARD LOOK.

In 1955, Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto, Chrysler and Imperial set out to break sharply from the past and to carve a bright new future... new for us and new for you.

Within a few short months many more than a million families have bought the cars of THE FORWARD LOOK. And again and again they tell us that till they had them, they had not dreamed such cars could exist.

Now, for 1956, these new cars of Chrysler Corporation will be still farther ahead of all others... still more outstanding in what they give you for your money.

The company that pioneered safety cushioned instrument panels, that brought you sure-vision electric windshield wipers and blowout-holding safety-rim wheels, offers you the safest cars your money can buy today.

Their bodies and frames are the most rigid and best constructed in the industry. They will have new LifeGuard door latches that hold fast under stress as none have ever done before. They will be the only cars available with two separate and independent braking systems... one for the foot-pedal, the other for the hand-brake.

On any of these cars, if you wish, you may have Safety Belts for front seat and rear.

Yes, these will be the cars to see... and to own... if you are buying for 1956.

In any price range, from lowest to most luxurious, these will be cars that bring you things other cars will not yet have for you, regardless of what you pay.

And they will be ready for you at your dealer's... very soon!

Puzzling Indecision

We were a little puzzled at the Park council's surprising move recently concerning Police Chief Arthur Louwer's request for a motorcycle to be used in traffic control.

At their meeting September 12 they voted to refer the matter to City Manager Everitt Lane for more study. They want to find out if it is possible to rent a cycle on a trial basis.

Two things left us in a quandary. First, why they balked after the bids were received for the purchase of the cycle? They voted to appropriate the necessary money when they approved the fiscal year's budget. Second, their reasons for doing so (they claimed they didn't want to be stuck with a motorcycle if the traffic plan didn't work).

Possibly we had best explain the reason for the proposed purchase.

During rush hours (7:30 to 9 a.m., noon and 4:30 to 6 p.m.) traffic is heavy and people are in a hurry to get wherever they are going. They sometimes break the law. But with the congestion, a squad car is practically useless. It cannot swing around and nab speeders two or three cars ahead. It is as much a part of the congestion, and handcuffed by it as any other vehicle.

This, the naturally more fluid motorcycle could and would remedy. It was Louwer's idea backed by Lane and Mayor Homer Fritsch.

Bids for the cycle were taken and the recommendation for award was made on the 12th. Then the monkey wrench.

Usually conservative councilman William Oddy went into a long dissertation on how the council must weigh the matter. "We don't know that it'll work, that it'll really help traffic control," he said. "Maybe it's just a quirk."

We offer that if it is a quirk, then it's a quirk that communities such as Detroit, Ann Arbor, Lansing and others have approved for some years.

It was suggested by the council that the City rent a cycle on a trial basis. This idea was flocked to by the members despite Lane's statement that properly equipped machines were not available on a rental basis.

"You can rent motorcycles, but not ones with police radios, special speedometers and other equipment," Lane said.

The move to look further into the matter, then, shapes up as a slight to Chief Louwers, who has always crusaded for stringent traffic control. We cannot imagine him taking a proposal to the council that was a quirk, and we strongly doubt that he would go so far as championing a dubious program.

"Three things never come again . . . Never to the bow that bends . . . Comes the arrow that it sends . . . Never comes the chance that passed, That one moment was its last . . . Never shall thy spoken word Be again, unsaid, unheard."

(Rose Terry Cooke)

Antique hunting must be a lot of fun because so many people go in for it. Have often wondered how there can be any real antiques left . . . but the dusty old shops throughout the country seem to thrive nicely. A friend of ours had an experience recently that is enough to make an old newspaperman's mouth water. Said friend was "antiquing" in New England and the object of her search was a certain type of highchair for a new granddaughter.

Finally she arrived at a shop which proved to be the end of her search. The little man had just what she wanted . . . except that the cane seat had apparently been removed and a tired old piece of carpet had taken its place. The carpet was so worn and ancient, that our hero asked the proprietor if he would mind removing it. When he did, there was a newspaper underneath that had been used for padding. It turned out to be "The Providence Daily Journal" of January 1885.

We were interested to note (what we COULD note on the yellowed faded sheet that the front page "news" consisted entirely of advertising! The most promising ad and one we had to use a spy glass to see was for curing baldness. It called attention to "All Ladies and Gentlemen" who wished to cure baldness with Cactus Balm, to come in for a conference!

Among the classified ads was "a chamber set and sideboard" for sale and "Two hundred dollar parlor SUITS reduced to $150. Wonder how old hat our present day newspapers will look in 75 years?"

We got quite a start the other day when we opened a letter correctly addressed to us as to name and address . . . and found inside, a bill for over three hundred dollars that we owed the sender . . . so it SED. We scanned the itemized bill . . . that turned out to be something for someone we don't even know and at the end it read "Your share of the bill is $345.72 as per contract with you."

Well, now . . . if this has never happened to you . . . you just don't know what it's like! A million ideas rushed through our head at once, after we realized it was not meant to be a gag. For a wild second we thought we may have had one coke too many at a party and made some kind of crazy bet with a passing guest . . . a horrible thought, since we are a man of honor!

After chewing on it awhile, we finally broke down and called the sender-of-the-bill and found to our relief, that a new bookkeeper had billed us by mistake because of someone by the same name but different address. Whew!

We don't know who in the family chooses the prep schools, colleges, boarding schools etc., that the young take off for from here but we dare say they don't pick them out by geography as to traveling. We were present at a small gathering last week, full of parents who were yakking about the train times and plane hours and changes for the off-going children . . . to say nothing of their distress at the prospect of having to make such trips themselves when visiting time comes around.

One man was screeching that his daughter (going off alone for the first time), had to take a night train which she had to get off at 4:30 in the morning, then sit in a bus station for three hours waiting for a bus that would take her to the school . . . a two hour drive! He allowed as how going by plane would have been just as difficult.

A woman piped up about her son's trek . . . which constituted the family taking him to the railroad station at 3:30 in the morning. This poor kid has to change trains in mid-stream . . . AND take a bus when he gets off the second one! If we were parents, we'd send everyone to Michigan State or University of Michigan. That is if we were Michigan parents.

We should like to raise havoc with the music world of today in regard to so-called popular records. True, we don't have to BUY them, but if we have the radio on at all, we DO have to listen to them. "Sh-Boom" just got out of our system (and cdrums) and up came another, "Baby," by the Coney Island Kids, "Baby" and one other word are the only two understandable lyrics in the entire endless opus and we defy anyone who hasn't SEEN the sheet music (if anything like that could be put on paper) to tell us ONE other word.

Of course, it could be that the "Coney Island Kids" are a group from Mars who have their own brand of language. Maybe that guy from the West Coast wasn't crazy after all, when he said he SAW some little people landing on top of a mountain in a queer looking saucer-like ship.

Never the one to question the other guy's word unless it can be disproven . . . we always felt this be-whiskered gentleman was telling the truth as he saw it. Now, the more we think of it, the surer we are that these ARE the "Coney Island Kids" and they must have brought that recording with them from Mars. There IS no other explanation!

MSU Library Near Completion

The huge new Michigan State University library, nation's fifth largest university library in floor space, may be ready for full use when winter quarter classes begin January 6, 1956.

University officials hope construction schedules—delayed both by tardy steel deliveries and a jurisdictional labor dispute—will be completed soon enough to allow for the tremendous job of moving a mountain of books from the old library building.

Librarian Jackson E. Towne estimates M.S.U. building and grounds crewmen will be able to transfer some 20,000 volumes a day to the new building.

With more than 370,000 volumes to be piled on book "stretchers," trucked a short distance across campus and reassembled in the new library departments, the task will require at least three weeks. More than 765,000 books, periodicals and documents will have been moved.

The impressive $4 million library building must be finished and equipped at least by December 13 if it is to be ready for second quarter use. It was begun in November, 1953.

HOW TO PROFIT THROUGH TAX EXEMPTION

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may well be repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone:

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

The novels inspired by the real life stories of extraordinary characters are legion.

When Mrs. Anna Leonowens exchanged a cloistered English life for the exotic Siamese court where she was governess to the King's children, she little thought that her experiences would live on in "Anna and the King of Siam," written by Margaret Landon almost a century later. How astonished she would have been to know too, that playgoers in the 1950's would throng the theatres to see "The King and I," and listen to her story set to music. Mrs. Leonowens' own account is told also in "Siamese Harem Life," first published in 1883 and reprinted in 1953.

That great master of descriptive prose, Daniel Defoe, gave us one of the best adventure stories ever written. The famous castaway, "Robinson Crusoe," it is generally agreed was inspired by the adventures of the Scotsman, Alexander Selkirk. Sailing on a pirate ship in 1704, Selkirk quarreled with the Captain and at his own request was left upon an island a few hundred miles off the coast of Chile. Here he remained alone for over four years until he was rescued by the British navy.

Long before schizophrenia, psychosis, pathoneurosis et al were heard in every day conversation, Robert Louis Stevenson wrote his classic "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." A living character is said to have influenced the author's portrayal of this dual nature. Dr. Jekyll, a highly respected London physician and Mr. Hyde, the personification of evil, combine in a personality, allegedly patterned after one Deacon Brodie, a prosperous business man by day and an armed robber by night.

In Clemence Dane's recent and delightful novel "The Flower Girls," a theory is expounded that the character "Othello" was inspired by none other than the founder of Virginia, Captain John Smith. Darvell, a playwright who takes a minor role in Miss Dane's book, points out that Othello's account of his youth duplicated the youth of John Smith and insists that Othello's history is Captain Smith's history.

"All Smith's adventures," says Darvell, "are recapitulated in the speech to the senate," and he maintains that there is identity of maintains that there is identity of adventure; that Captain John Smith was drawn to the gentle Pocahontas exactly as Othello was attracted to the gentle Desdemona. Darvell insists that at some time or other Smith and Shakespeare most certainly met and dates strengthen this theory since Captain Smith returned to England in 1604 and Othello was performed at Court the same autumn.

Miss Dane's parallel of the two lives is interesting. We were unable to find this theory substantiated elsewhere but Othello might conceivably have been modeled after the famous adventurer.

The recently published "Game of Hearts" was inspired by a famous courtesan of the early eighteenth century, Harriette Wilson. The private life the great and near great—the "every day" life as revealed in memoirs and journals—has always held a fascination for readers.

However, the value of the great diarists often lies in their personality than in their background. Peppy's daily jottings for example, throw light on the social life, the manners and court morals of the restoration period in England as a mere historic account could never do. It is that and not Peppy's himself, as a personality, which has given his diary a permanent place in literature.

Residents Urged to Plant Flowering Shrubs This Fall

Are you looking for a small ornamental tree with attractive flowers and colorful fruits for your home garden? Do you want a tree with a distinctive growth habit that is relatively free from insect pests and diseases? If so, you might well consider the flowering crab, whose delicate blossoms, decorative fruits and grace of habit place it among the most beautiful of spring flowering shrubs and trees.

Since spring usually finds the home gardener with an overabundance of work, and is often cold and wet for long periods, fall is becoming more and more a season for planting trees and shrubs.

The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council chose this time of year to offer residents of the Grosse Pointes an opportunity to participate in the beautification program, which is the mass planting of flowering crabs.

Some varieties, such as Malus Theifera, or Tea Crab as it is commonly known, have interesting backgrounds for their names. Its specific name is derived from the fact that in Central China, where it is a feature of the thickets and margins of woods on the mountains, the peasants collect and dry the leaves and from them prepare a palatable beverage which they call red tea.

Flowering crabs are fast becoming the most popular flowering tree in America, and it is understandable for they are adaptable to almost any soil, wet or dry, rich or poor, but, of course, responding with more growth and beauty with good soil and good culture. A memorandum of planting instructions and care will be furnished by the council.

The plants will be freshly dug in late October, and brought to Grosse Pointe. Each purchaser will be notified as to time, place and date of distribution.

Garden Club representatives of the council will be happy to answer your questions and take your orders. Please call:

Drivers Unhurt In 3-Car Crash

Three cars were badly damaged in an accident on Lake Shore road, opposite St. Paul's Church on Tuesday, September 13, but the occupants escaped serious injuries, a Farms police report revealed.

According to the report, Arthur G. Cole, 50, of 29300 Michigan, Roseville, was driving in the east bound lane on Lake Shore, facing north, when the brakes of a car, driven by Don J. Goodrow, 47, of 20738 Wicks, failed when he applied them, striking Cole's car in the rear, causing it to turn upside down.

Goodrow's car then jumped the curb of the center island, knocked down a small tree, and then smashed into the left side of another car, driven by Joseph X. Palms, 27, of 78 Lake Shore, going west on the road.

Goodrow and Larry Scheuer of 5712 Neff road, Detroit, a passenger in Palms' car, were taken to Cottage Hospital, where Goodrow was kept overnight and then released, apparently uninjured.

Scheuer was treated for a cut finger and chest x-rays were taken for possible injuries.

Cole emerged from his overturned car unscathed but shaken. His car was damaged on sides, rear and roof, to the extent of $500.

An estimated $400 in damages were done to the front end of Goodrow's car; and the left side of Palms' car suffered $300 in damages.

Goodrow, a justice of the peace in Grosse Pointe Woods, was ticketed for reckless driving and will have to appear in court on October 12.

Hill, 281 Grosse Pointe boulevard, then to the display of roses at the garden of Elmore Frank, 963 Fisher road, on to the unusual horticultural display of Charles Abbey at 18745 E. Warren avenue, and finally to the splendid home garden of Frank Sleder at 1175 Buckingham.

This tour of typical gardens of club members was arranged by Leland J. Gilmour.

Wanamakers' Grand Opening Event Set for Friday

Design Firm Opens Own New Home

On Friday of this week the grand opening of the new and greater home of Wanamaker's will take place. Now located in Grosse Pointe at 19853 Mack avenue, corner of Huntington, the new home houses a splendid collection of fine custom built furniture as well as deluxe floor coverings, draperies and lamps.

The new structure vastly overshadows the thirty-year-old firm's two earlier stores, both of which were located in Detroit.

Grosse Pointe Customers

It was a desire to bring their workrooms and design studios closer to the homes they have long served that prompted the company to select a site in Grosse Pointe and erect this beautiful home, a night scene of which is shown in the accompanying picture above.

Michael Williams, head of the firm, told the News on Monday that "this is our dream house, which having practicality also serves well to depict the Wanamaker decorating techniques. He paid tribute to the staff of decorators whose sparkling genius in doing the decors of all types of homes has brought renown to the firm.

Build Around Family

"We have always endeavored in decorating interiors to build a home around the family that is to own and occupy it, and in this instance we've been the customer as well as the designer," said Williams. "We hope the public will find our establishment a source of inspiration in their work when choosing furnishings."

The opening activities which will run all through the day and evening on Friday, will include refreshments and gifts for those visiting the home.

Woods Changes Bids Procedure

The Woods council adopted a new procedure for the receiving and opening of bids.

At a regular session held on Monday, September 19, members of the council were in accord with a recommendation by Mayor Kenneth Koppin, that bids for contract work be received and opened several days prior to a council meeting.

The purpose of this is to have the bids, excluding bond bids, tabulated and recommendations made, so that when they are presented to the council, immediate action can be taken.

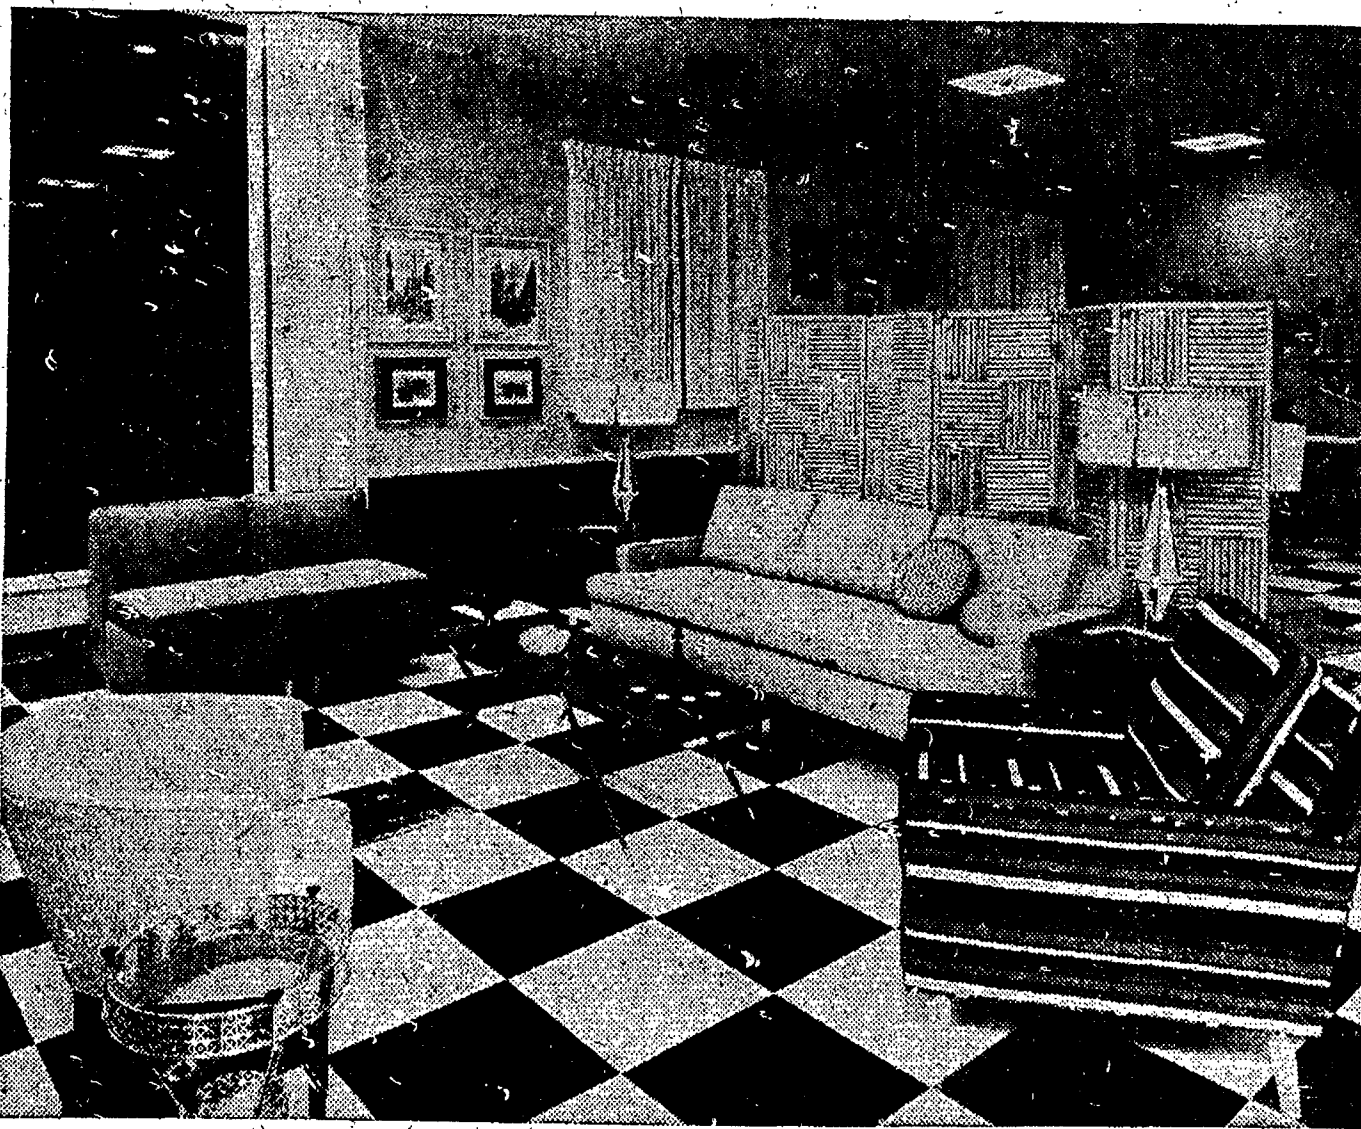

City Attorney Julius Berns, when asked, stated that the move is legal, provided the action is fully complied with. He was authorized to draw up a resolution so that the procedure could go into effect.

LOST KEYS FOUND

Farms police are keeping a set of keys, found in front of Marie Bird's beauty shop on Kercheval on Monday, September 19. The keys, in a red leather key case, will be given to the owner if they are claimed.

The portion of the Wanamaker galleries shown in the above photo, made Monday before the placement of furniture was completed, shows groupings of contemporary pieces in the foreground. The setting in the background is of French provincial.

Modern furniture, lending distinctive elegance wherever it is given proper setting, is shown in this collection. With it are draperies, special screens, lamps, and in the distance a pictorial wall covering is lending added depth to the showing.

STOLEN BIKE RECOVERED

A Woods police report disclosed that a bicycle belonging to Chris Brewett of 125 Moran road, recently stolen from the Grosse Pointe University School grounds, was recovered by the Farms police on Friday, September 16.

Detroit Police Hold Youth For Brutal Attack on Boy

A 19-year-old Farms boy, who viciously beat a 16-year-old Southeastern High School student on Friday, September 16, because he "didn't like his looks," was arrested by Detroit police for investigation of felonious assault.

Charles Morley of 123 Lake Shore road, is being held for the brutal and unprovoked attack on Robert Demrose of 4318 Somerset, Detroit, who is in Receiving Hospital suffering from several fractures of the cheek bone and bruises about the head and face.

Four companions, who were with Morley at the time of the incident, were exonerated from any participation in the beating, but are being held as police witnesses, sources stated.

One of the youths, who was at first believed to have aided Morley in the beating, is from St. Clair Shores. The other three, two boys and one girl, are from the Pointe.

Demrose's parents told police that their son had left the house at about 8 p.m., stating his intention to attend a movie. At 9:40 p.m., the attack occurred.

The Pointe girl described the incident to police. She said the car which they were in, Morley driving, stopped at Warren and Chatsworth, where they saw Demrose standing at the corner. It appeared he was trying to hitch a ride. He looked at them curiously, she said.

Morley, said the girl, looked at Demrose and remarked that he didn't like his looks. He got out of the car and went over to talk to the other youth.

After talking for several minutes, Morley struck Demrose, knocking him down and continued striking him with his fist about the face and head.

Morley's companions tried to stop him; Demrose was screaming. His screams stopped and he moaned in an unconscious state.

Demrose, who regained partial consciousness the following morning was unable to give authorities a clear picture of what had happened.

Morley told police, that when he stopped the car at the light, Demrose looked at the car and said something like "What are you looking at?"

He said he drove the car around the corner and he and the St. Clair Shores youth got out.

Morley admitted knocking Demrose down and then striking him several times. He said the St. Clair Shores youth had nothing to do with the incident, that he hid the beating.

The three boys corroborated the girl's version of the beating. They also said that they, all five, had attended a house party in the Farms prior to the beating. Beer had been served at the party.

The Corner Precinct Clean-up squad is investigating to find out who supplied the beer for the party.

Morley is still being held, pending a report on the victim's injuries. The warrant will be sought after this report is received, police said.

Academy Exams Set for Nov. 14.

Representative Louis C. Rabaut (D., Mich.) announces that a preliminary Civil Service examination will be given in Detroit on Monday, November 14, for young men residing in the 14th Congressional District of Michigan who wish to be considered for an appointment to the U.S. Military, Naval, or Air Force Academies for the classes entering in July of 1956.

"Applicants must have resided in the 14th District for two years prior to the time of the examination," said Rabaut, "and they must be at least 17 and not more than 22 years of age as of July 1, 1956."

Rabaut stated that all his nominations to the three service academies would be made strictly in accordance with the grades received in the preliminary examination. For young men who will not be in Detroit on November 14, arrangements can be made to schedule the examination at another location.

Rabaut invites applicants to write him at 1232 House Office Building, Washington, D.C., not later than October 10, requesting information regarding eligibility for admission to the academies, preliminary physical examinations, and sample question sheets. Rabaut commented:

"This is an outstanding opportunity for ambitious young men to serve as career officers in one of the services, and the education offered by the military, naval and air force academies is accepted to be the finest available. I urge the youth of the 14th District to take advantage of this opportunity."

Need Volunteers For Torch Drive

The $14,450,000 goal set by the United Foundation for the 1955 Torch Drive to be held October 18 through November 10, means that more volunteers will be needed in Grosse Pointe than ever before. Mrs. Raymond Brett of Lincoln road, Grosse Pointe regional Torch Drive chairman, has said.

"The higher goal, highest ever set for a fund raising drive of this kind, means more of us must work together, and work harder than ever before," Mrs. Brett declared.

She pointed out that this year's goal was set by a committee headed by a full-time volunteer, Meyer L. Prentiss, former General Motors vice-president, and is made up of 21 members, of whom 19 are business leaders and the other two labor leaders. The amount to be raised was determined after a careful parsing of requests from the participating 150 health and community services which totaled $14,718,000.

"The reasons why a larger goal than ever before is necessary this year were quite ably summarized by Nicholas Kelley, Jr., Chrysler Corp. secretary and president of the United Foundation, before the Corporation Gifts committee of the UF at a recent meeting," Mrs. Brett said.

"He pointed out, first, that our Metropolitan Detroit community has grown, and then, the population has decentralized into new and expanding neighborhoods and suburbs. Thus, there is a greater demand for expansion of such services as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Visiting Nurses and youth work programs. It is extremely important to fill many of these needs where public agencies aren't equipped to handle the job."

The second point cited by Kelley was that juvenile delinquency effects all kinds of neighborhoods, knows no boundaries of city or county lines.

"The fact that 150,000 youngsters less than 18 years old stole $100,000,000-worth of automobiles in 1953, accounting for 53 per cent of all car thefts, makes it imperative that the character-building and youth-training programs made possible by the UF be supported," Mrs. Brett said.

The third reason for the increased quota is the problem of the aged. Medical advances have assured practically everyone a longer span of life. But today the worker faces an earlier retirement than originally contemplated. For this reason attention must be given to leisure-time activities and health programs for the aged.

"The need for more funds at an accelerated rate for medical research to combat dread diseases is the fourth reason, and one which we all understand," Mrs. Brett said.

"The fifth reason is mental health. More than 10,000,000 Americans are effected by mental disorders. Of these, only 2,500,000 receive any treatment.

"The sixth is parental neglect. This is a growing problem, on which Torch Drive agencies have been asked to spend more time and money."

Mrs. Brett said that the seventh reason was the increasing cost of operating the Torch Drive agencies. A question often asked, she said, is why the UF needs more money to operate the voluntary health and community service agencies during a period of comparative high employment.

"It is true that direct relief, which provides for food, clothing and housing, has declined steadily for the last four years," Mrs. Brett pointed out. "These are the problems which are met by tax-supported agencies. The problems met by the services made possible by the Torch Drive are those which exist during either prosperous or depressed economic conditions."

PLACED UNDER BOND
Lloyd E. Bridge of 22414 Revere, St. Clair Shores, posted a $100 cash bond with Woods police on Friday, September 16, and they released him pending a court date. He was charged with reckless driving.

There comes a time in every man's life when the charm of living seems to lie in the past.

Owner-Dog Obedience Class Starting Tuesday, October 4

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, announces that the fall term of the Owner-Dog Obedience Training Class will be held at the High School Auditorium, starting Tuesday, October 4 at 8 p.m.

This course offers dog owners in the Grosse Pointe School District an opportunity to learn how to teach their dogs to be better canine citizens. The instruction is provided by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club.

The instructor is Donald M. Carson who will be assisted by Mrs. Carson, Messrs. Elwood Riemer, Charles Murphy, Ralph Dubois and Rodger Harris.

Only those people who are seriously interested in following through with the ten weeks of required daily practice, in addition to the class work, should apply. The successful training of a dog in the fundamental Novice exercises approved by the American Kennel Club, on which the course is based, depends entirely on the handler's interest and willingness to follow instructions and practice faithfully.

These exercises include heeling on and off leash, staying in a sitting down position and coming when called.

Hundreds of owners, and in fact their dogs, too, can testify that an obedience-trained dog is not only a happier and more satisfied pet, but also a better citizen of the community.

Owners may enroll for training if their dogs are six months or older regardless of pedigree or ancestry. Since the classes are limited in enrollment, advance reservations are required. Please call TUxedo 5-3808 for class reservations and further information.

Woods Awarded Safety Citation

Woods Mayor Kenneth Koppin, on behalf of members of the council and residents of the city, accepted a Special Citation Award from the American Automobile Association on Monday, September 19.

Presenting the award was John Trelley, traffic safety consultant of the Automobile Club of Detroit.

The citation was won by the Woods because it had no pedestrian fatalities during 1954. The city's school safety phase of pedestrian protection program was also taken into consideration in presentation of the award.

The plaque commemorating the non-fatality year has been hung on the wall of the police station for all to admire.

Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Glines of Madison avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, CAROL, to Leonard Figiel, of Chicago, Illinois.

Miss Glines is a graduate of Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, where she majored in elementary education.

Mr. Figiel is now serving with the U.S. Air Force. A November wedding is planned.

Misses Turn; Crashes Wall

A motorist who misjudged his distance, crashed into a brick wall, escaping with only a skinned nose, a Farms police accident report revealed.

The report disclosed that Jean Thomas Shafer, 69, of 180 Country Club drive, while going east on Kercheval, on Tuesday, September 13, attempted to make a left turn onto Country Club drive, but miscalculated the distance and plowed through shrubbery and smashed into a brick wall at the corner.

The motorist suffered only a skinned nose. He refused medical attention.

Police ticketed him for not having his car under control and causing an accident.

Court date has been set for October 12.

SPECIAL ROTARY MEETING

All Grosse Pointe Rotarians inducted during the past year will meet informally at the Central Library on Thursday, October 6, to discuss the function and the meaning of the Rotary organization.

Halloween Offers No Problems For This Diminutive Gardener

At least one of the Pointe's younger set has solved the approaching Jack-O-Lantern problem. In fact he's solved it for the whole neighborhood.

James Gregory, Jr., of 624 Aline drive, will have no trouble selecting that one and only pumpkin come October 31, Halloween.

The industrious young five and a half year old has cultured his own crop. And they're dandies, all seven of them.

Jim is the son of the James Gregorys, who are up to their necks in vine.

"He brought the seed he'd started at school home this spring and planted it out by the back fence," said Mrs. Gregory. "Now it's all over the back yard. Mr. Gregory was going to tear it up because it didn't look too productive, but then we found this huge pumpkin hiding in the daisies." A little more investigation uncovered six others.

Since that time, Jim has been the envy of the block. "Five other children on the block planted the seeds, but Jim is the only one with any produce," Mr. Gregory said.

Now, the seven are the object of a good deal of affection. "We're afraid he's going to kill them with kindness," Mrs. Gregory said. "He's forever pampering them."

Of the seven, two are good size and the other five are coming. "They should all be Jack-O-Lantern size come Halloween," Mr. Gregory said. "Jim told us he plans to distribute them throughout the block."

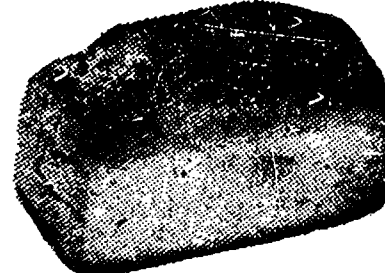

Commissioned to Paint Portrait of Cardinal

Joseph De Grimme, well known Pointe art dealer, has been commissioned to have executed a painting of Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit. Pointe Rotary Club members were informed on Monday, September 12.

Second Vice-President Robert Orr, presiding at a regular monthly meeting of Rotary, pointed out that it was an honor that a member of the club has been so commissioned.

De Grimme commissioned a prominent artist to do the actual portrait, Sascha Lautman, formerly of Vienna.

'Revelry' Wins Big Race

jibed to make the third mark of the course, which was Mrs. Chaignon Brown's sloop "Rowdy." From there the boat race took on a different complexion as the fleet worked its way to weather down the American shore to the finish line in front of Bayview, as the breeze dropped to a zephyr and then to nothing as the tail-enders fought to finish.

Rile Wigle's schooner, "Spindrift" was believed to be the pick of the race as she ghosted across the finish line at 8 a.m. Sunday morning. However, Ray Priebe's "Borealis" came in much later to gain the dubious honor of being last over the finish line.

Some claim Ray and his crew stopped too long at Idle Hour, popular stopover for sailors who aren't racing.

Hans Give Service Tom Sage and his crew of amateur radio men kept the waiting wives and sweethearts back at the club well informed with their portable radio equipment. Each boat was reported as it rounded each of the marks, which made for interesting conversation as the landlubbers partied on the home front. For the first time this year Bayview's race chairman Don Johnston had a chance to sail in one of his own races when Commodore Dave Davenport took over for him as chairman.

Dave along with Commodores Art Summerlee, Bill Wiard, Frank Martin, Hal Smith, and Lynn Stedmann waited until the last boat finished. It was a long chore for these men, who also were aboard Commodore Ted Werthmann's judges' boat "Algonkin" from 2:30 p.m. Saturday when the racing class got away.

Fires First Shot Art Summerlee got a real boot out of firing the first shell from the beautiful bronze hand made cannon which he made himself and donated to Bayview that night. Art said "I want Bayview to have this cannon because Bayview is the only really true sailing organization in this area."

Commodore Bill Wiard was speechless as he accepted the gift in behalf of the club. Capacity Crowd Delighted With Top Tennis Exhibition

By James Reindel

A capacity crowd of Pointe socialites and tennis enthusiasts gathered at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club Wednesday, September 14 to watch the cream of the court world square off in an exhibition that was marked by an exceptionally high and serious caliber of play.

Unlike last year's matches, the Aussie and American stars gave the crowd an ample taste of the type of play that wins tournaments and places the two countries at the top of the net world.

Three matches, all with an international appeal, were played. In the first, Australia's Lew Hoed and U.S. Davis cup team member Ham Richardson split two sets, Hoed winning the first 6-4 and Richardson the second 7-5.

Hoed, who runs hot and cold, started slowly in the first set, dropping the initial game on his serve. Richardson went two up but then on it was Hoed all the way. He broke the young American's serve on the fourth and tenth games to ice the set. Richardson came back in the second to reverse the order and win in the twelfth game after having two set points.

Trabert extended his domination over Ken Rosewall in easy fashion, taking both sets 6-3, 6-4. The blond haired Davis Cupper awed both the crowd and his opponent with the fury of his power game. Using his two most potent weapons, his booming serve and crisp, low volleys he never gave the down-under star a chance to get going.

Rosewall dropped out for the doubles and Rex Hartwig teamed with Hoed to oppose Trabert and Richardson.

Hartwig proved again, as he did last year, that not only is he a doubles player to be reckoned with, but also that he's a tremendous crowd pleaser. The match was won by the American combination 6-4, 6-1.

Besides a sparkling display of tennis, the exhibition rather definitely bore out a thing past ace Jack Kramer told the huge TV audience viewing the Davis Cup play recently. Said Kramer, in verification of his statement that cement courts were the fairest playing surfaces, "Any clay or composition court will favor the defense."

The match, played on the immaculately-groomed Hunt Club loose topped courts, was marked by the unusual number of service breaks.

"The loose top slows down the pace of play and gives the good scrambler a more than even chance," said Kramer. "He can force the server into errors simply by keeping the ball in play."

The offensive power of the serve was definitely cut down. Richardson lost his serve four times in the singles, Hoed four, Trabert three and Rosewall six. All were serving well with the possible exception of Rosewall, whose serve has never been his long suite.

But what was lost in service, was gained in volley. Many were long and often the crowd saw amazing corner and base line shots clip the marking tape.

tained, it is hoped in this way to eliminate waiting lists for these age groups. Tentatively, the 3rd and 4th grade girls will meet Tuesday after school. The 3rd and 4th grade boys will meet on Wednesdays, 5th and 6th grade girls, on Mondays; and 5th and 6th grade boys on Friday afternoons.

First and second grade boys and girls will continue to join small social groups under the leadership of trained volunteers or staff members. First grade boys will meet on Friday after school. First grade girls and second grade boys will have separate clubs on Thursday. Second grade girls will meet on Tuesdays. Kindergarten children will attend Wednesday afternoons.

Teen-agers, junior high and high school, will have four nights of clubs and activities this year. There will be co-ed clubs for older junior high students and high school students, and activity nights for 7th graders.

After discussion with parents and members, the board of directors voted for a slight increase in the membership fee at the regular meeting, September 13. This is the first such change in three years. The amount of income derived from membership fees last year only accounted for 2.6 per cent of the yearly budget, the rest being supplied by the Torch Fund with certain portions of building up-keep and the summer playground supervisor salary coming from the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

It was felt that this community could take a more active part in financially supporting the services of the club for the residents.

Therefore, the fall fee schedule will be $2.00 for children 6th grade and under, $2.50 for junior high school students, $3.00 for high school students, $4.00 for adult memberships, $5.00 for family memberships. Partial payments on a semester basis will be made possible.

A goal of the club this fall will be to double the number of family memberships. Under this membership plan, every member of a family joins the Community Club and it gives to the adults in the family a vote at the annual meeting. Besides being a financial inducement to families, it provides to parents who wish it, a voice in the affairs of the organization working with their membership events are being planned. This year several family planned.
