THE UNITED STATES bluntly warned the Soviet Union to keep its hands off Iran. Russia is angry with Iran because that nation had joined the anti-Communist Baghdad Defense Alliance, against Russian wishes.

The U. S. State Department issued a special statement rejecting Russia's charges that Iran's decision to join the Baghdad pact was an unfriendly act. Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the Iranian charge d'affaires in Moscow that Russia has the right to move troops into Iran, if Iran violates a 1921 Iran-Russian pact.

CHARLES E. WILSON, Secretary of Defense, and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, conferred with President Eisenhower regarding a boost in defense spending. Wilson said, following the conference, that military spending for the 1957 fiscal year will run "a little higher" than the $34,500,000,000 allocated for the current year. The three talked on the eighth floor of the Fitzsimons Army Hospital, where the Chief Executive is resting, for 25 minutes. Wilson said the President agreed that the armed forces will have to remain at their present level of 2,850,000 persons.

School Board Urges Public Participation

Parents and Patrons Cordially Invited to Attend the Monthly Meetings

Superintendent James W. Bushong of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools has again invited school parents and patrons to attend the monthly Board of Education meetings. "There are two good reasons," he declared. "First is to see how your public schools are managed. Second is to hear how your children are taught and what they are learning."

Prepared by Teachers

According to Dr. Bushong, certain teacher committees will continue to make oral reports to the Board on Study Guides at the monthly meetings. These guides are really descriptions of courses offered by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

"Copies of these descriptions are available to anyone who is interested," the Superintendent said. "The teachers who prepare these guides under Dr. Leroy Selmeier's editorial supervision are doing a great job and deserve to be recognized. One way in which we give this recognition is through the oral presentations they make to the Board." Dr. Selmeier is Director of the Department of Instruction and arranges for the Board presentations.

Schedule of Reports

The schedule of the study guide reports to be made at the future Board meetings is as follows: On Wednesday evening, November 2, at 7:30 o'clock in the Board Room at 389 St. Clair, Senior High School Social Studies. Mr. Arthur

City Council Agrees to Hire Crossing Guards to Protect Students at Maire School

Officials Accede to Demands From Parents; Park Expected To Be Asked to Pay Half of Costs of About $2,000

Two crossing guards are to be hired by the City of Grosse Pointe as quickly as possible to help safeguard the children and direct traffic in the vicinity of Marie School. One will do duty at Waterloo and Cadieux road and the other at Kercheval and Cadieux.

The decision of the council to hire the guards was reached at the Monday night meeting when Councilman Kenneth Bergmann pressed for immediate action. He said he had been deluged with calls for help from parents of the school children.

Police Chief Thomas Trombly said it has been "necessary" to delegate regular police officers who are needed elsewhere, to cope with this dangerous situation. He expressed great relief and appreciation for the council's decision.

There was some discussion as to whether or not the Park ought to share the cost of hiring the extra guards. Figures show that the Maire students are divided about equally between the Park and City.

Park Has Five Schools

Chief Trombly said he had already discussed the matter with Chief Arthur Louwers of the Park and that his attention had been called to the fact that the Park already has five other schools for which it must furnish traffic protection.

The councilmen agreed that they should not wait for the outcome of a lengthy discussion with the Park over who was to pay the bill of about $2,000, but should immediately see about getting the guards on duty.

Two City Streets To Be Resurfaced

Money which was to have been spent to pave the City's half of Fisher road between Grosse Pointe boulevard and Kercheval will go "instead" to resurfacing sections of St. Clair avenue and Washington road which are badly in need of repair.

The dividing line between the City and the Farms runs down the middle of Fisher road in this area, and it had been agreed that each municipality would pave its half this year.

It was brought out at Monday night's council meeting that the Farms is not able to go ahead with fulfilling its part of the agreement. The Farms is under considerable pressure and faces heavy expense to resurface all the streets which were torn up during the laying of new water and sewer mains.

Under state law, municipalities must use their portion of the state-allocated gasoline and weight taxes during the current year for street repairs. They are not permitted to carry over such sums.

The City council decided there was little use in paving half of

Halloween Parties Planned for Kids For Sixteenth Year

High School and Pierce and Parcels Junior Highs to Be Scenes of Annual Celebration; Residents Asked to Help

Many interested members of the Grosse Pointe community are again working hard to insure the success of the annual Halloween parties to be held on Monday, October 31. This is the sixteenth year for this annual celebration for all youth in the Grosse Pointe area.

1200 Women Open Annual Torch Drive

Seek $300,491 as Pointe's Contribution to 150 Health and Community Services

More than 1,200 Grosse Pointe women this week launched the annual Torch Drive, calling on neighbors to contribute $300,491 toward an overall goal of $14,450,000 for the 1956 budgets of 150 health and community services.

Mrs. Raymond Brett of 419 Lincoln road, general chairman for the Grosse Pointe Region, pointed out that this year's Torch Drive will meet the needs of all participating agencies, including the American Red Cross.

Only Red Cross Drive

"No solicitation other than the Torch Drive will be made by the Red Cross in Grosse Pointe during the coming year," Mrs. Brett said. "The United Foundation, in underwriting the Red Cross needs, has assured that organization that funds which it might otherwise raise by door-to-door canvasses will be covered by its UF allocation."

Fund Gave $100,000

"During the Red Cross nationwide drive for funds for Eastern Flood Relief earlier this year, for instance, the United Foundation allocated $100,000 to meet the quota that would otherwise have to be fulfilled by a house-to-house canvass."

"In determining the amount to be contributed to the Torch Drive, the amount that might otherwise be given to the Red Cross should be included."

Blood Collected By Woman's Club

The Grosse Pointe Woman's Club Red Cross Mobile Blood Bank Unit met at St. Michael's church on October 14, where there were 100 successful donors. During the month of September the Unit worked at the buildings of the De La Salle council, Motor Products, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Seven members of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club took the Red Cross Staff Aid Course on September 26. They are now considered "Jacks of all Trades" for the Red Cross.

They not only work on Mobile Blood Bank units, but assist in office and clerical work, as well as assist Field Directors at Veterans' Hospitals.

Police and City Judge Take Part in Capturing Speeder

Mrs. Catherine Kelly, 55, of 586 Neff road, was charged with reckless driving and placed on a $75 cash bond by Park police on Saturday, October 15, pending a court trial.

Mrs. Kelly, a police report disclosed had just dropped her husband off at Jefferson near the Park city limits at Wayburn, then turned and took off at a high rate of speed.

She was spotted by a police car officer, waiting at Pemberton and Jefferson. The officer took up pursuit.

The woman was paced at over 55 miles an hour the report said, and when the officer attempted to overtake her, she stepped up her speed. Traveling east on Jefferson, Mrs. Kelly, it was charged, cut in and out of traffic, then turned

The chairman of supervisors, J. Dunton Barlow at Pierce, Rex Johnston at Parcels, Oscar Marx at Grosse Pointe High School, urge residents to volunteer their services.

Blair, chairman, and Mrs. Leon Sweet at Pierce. Mrs. Howard Mayrand is chairman of personnel in the High School cafeteria.

Ticket sales will be in charge of Charles Leavitt and the distribution supervised by Mrs. Louis Smith. Mrs. Thomas Blackwood is handling publicity.

The finance committee includes John W. Baker, Raymond H. Berry, Herbert Buhler, Arthur C. Dannecker, Hugh J. Ferry, Homer C. Fritsch, John N. Lord, Alvan Macauley, Jr., Richard L. Maxon, Charles T. Fisher, Jr., and William M. Joy.

Mrs. Everett Roll has been appointed to act as assistant secretary of the Halloween committee.

Auxiliaries Accept Jobs

The check room at Pierce will be staffed as usual by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Alger Auxiliary No. 995 and at Parcels and the High School by the American Legion Auxiliary Grosse Pointe Unit 303.

Chief Arthur Louwers of the Grosse Pointe Park police department will be in charge of the Safety Committee, with the help of other Pointe police departments, as in the past.

Plan Open House At High School

Grosse Pointe High School will hold open house Monday, October 24, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Only one Open House is held each semester.

All parents of high school students are urged to attend to confer briefly with each of his student's teachers. Room mothers under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Cooper will be in all the rooms to assist the teachers.

Mrs. Collinson's membership committee will be stationed in the halls to collect dues. The dues and all the money collected by the neighborhood groups and the big spring bridge party all go toward the scholarship fund.

Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts will be served from 8:30 on in the cafeteria by Mrs. Paul Hykes and her committee.

During a meeting of the City council on Monday, October 17, it was brought out that the Farms lacked funds to carry out its share in the paving of Fisher.

Grosse Pointe City Clerk Norbert Neff informed the council that the Farms had advised him it could not carry out the joint paving project this year because the Farms lacks funds for its share.

The City has approximately $32,000 to carry on its paving program, allocated by the State as its share of gasoline and weight taxes, but according to State law, this cannot be held over from year to year; it must be used at once.

Rather than the City paving its half of Fisher, before the Farms is ready, the City will use the funds to take care of other streets in the community badly in need of repair.

CAR LIGHT STOLEN

Farms police took a report from Carl Halpin of 1216 Harvard, on Saturday, October 15, in which it was charged that someone had stolen the right rear back-up light from his car while

Bids Double Estimates on Resurfacing

Residents Irked Over Failure of City to Repair Damage Done by Big Projects

The Farms council will call a special meeting, possibly this week, to discuss the installation of temporary paving, curbing and general obligatory repairs along the route of new sewer and water main lines.

The decision to call the special meeting was made at a regular council meeting held on Monday, October 17.

Touching off the reason for the meeting was the fact that for the past several weeks the council has been pressed by the residents along Vendome and Ridge roads and Grosse Pointe boulevard, and other areas where new sewers and water lines have been installed, to begin paving and repairing at once.

Residents Howl

At a recent council meeting, the residents packed the council chambers in an effort to seek relief from the mud and sink holes in rainy weather and the choking dust during dry weather. They asked that the paving and repairing be undertaken at once.

The residents were informed that the paving, curbing, etc., would have to wait on the natural settling of the grounds where the lines have gone in, but a study would be made of the situation for possible temporary relief.

At Monday night's meeting, it was disclosed that bids have been studied for the work to be done on Vendome and Grosse Pointe boulevard, but none have been received concerning Kercheval.

Bids Double Estimates

It was brought out that the lowest bids received for the two projects were more than double the estimates set by the Farms Engineering Department.

City Manager Harry Furton stated that bids concerned the use of temporary surfacing with bituminous asphalt, and not that of concrete.

The lowest bid for the cost of paving Vendome was $17,265, whereas the engineer's estimate was set at approximately $8,930; for the boulevard, the lowest bid was $22,726 as against an estimate of $10,340.

Acting Eng. Sidney DeBoer said that the possible high cost might be due to special material which would be used by the bidders.

The council members agreed that the bids appeared extremely high, and called for the special meeting to discuss the matter further and to see what can be done about Mr. Furton's suggestion that special crews be hired to do the work, thereby cutting costs.

Another Problem

The problem concerning Fisher road paving is also plaguing the Farms. The dividing line between the Farms and the City runs down the middle of Fisher and the two municipalities were to share the paving costs.

During a meeting of the City council on Monday, October 17, it was brought out that the Farms lacked funds to carry out its share in the paving of Fisher.

Grosse Pointe City Clerk Norbert Neff informed the council that the Farms had advised him it could not carry out the joint paving project this year because the Farms lacks funds for its share.

The City has approximately $32,000 to carry on its paving program, allocated by the State as its share of gasoline and weight taxes, but according to State law, this cannot be held over from year to year; it must be used at once.

Other presentations—for December, Junior High School Mathematics; January, 9th-12th Grade Foreign Language; February, Art; and March, Senior High School English. Informal question-and-answer periods usually follow this part of the Board meetings.

Superintendent Bushong concluded, "Board President Lee and School Trustees Dougherty, Sampson, Weber and Wicking have repeatedly urged the citizens of this community to come out to their meetings. You will be most cordially received."

Copies are Available

The mimeographed copies of the study guides or descriptions of courses are usually six or seven typewritten pages in length. They contain statements of the purpose of the course, the scope and content, the best materials of instruction, and typical class activities.

Copies may be obtained from the Department of Instruction by teachers, students, or interested school patrons. Copies are also on file in the Central Library.

Deadline for Buying Shrubs Extended by Garden Council

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How does your garden grow?
With flowering crab, in pink and white
And crimson, all aglow,
we hope.

The balmy weather which has continued into October has made it possible for the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council to extend the deadline for ordering the Flowering Crabs until October 30th. This will enable more groups and individuals to join in this Beautification Program for Grosse Pointe.

Members of the various garden clubs, the Library, some of the P.T.A.'s and some of the municipalities are now taking advantage of this opportunity to purchase these shrubs at low cost, as well as several hundred individual garden lovers.

During the first week of November the freshly dug shrubs will be delivered to Grosse Pointe ready for distribution. All persons who have placed orders will be notified as to time and place to pick up their plants and trees.

Vincent R. DePetris plans on the week of November 7 for a mass planting of the various varieties of the flowering crabs so that next spring local gardens and public grounds will bloom with many new spots of fresh beauty.

For further information regarding the placing of orders telephone Council Board members, Mrs. Otis Walter, VA 2-0506; Mrs. Donald Stevenson, TU 5-5699; Mrs. James Ogden, VA 2-5434; Mrs. Clarence Maguire, TU 5-3332; Mrs. H. Ray Will, TU 4-1644.

The crab is suitable for all locations and types of soil, and is easy to care for. It is the perfect answer for the new house as well as the established garden which always needs replacement of older shrubs and plantings.

This is the LAST CALL for orders. If you are undecided as to which variety of crab is most suitable for your grounds or which color has the most appeal, call to Mrs. Bert Luther Lindzay, VA 2-5511, will give you the information you seek.

To Pave Streets

Fisher road while the other half remained in bad shape. So it was agreed that the money should be used elsewhere.

It was the recommendation of the city engineers and the administrative officials that the streets needing repairs most were St. Clair avenue from Waterloo to Mack, and Washington road from Chalfonte to Mack. It was pointed out the block of Washington between Waterloo and Chalfonte is also in bad shape and should be done at the same time.

It is hoped that the amount of money on hand will be enough to cover the paving of this additional block. It is estimated the total job will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Costly Pool Job Faced by Woods

The Woods must make the needed changes in its lakefront park swimming pool filtration plant, or face a summer of fun without the pool, it was learned at a Woods council meeting on Monday, October 17.

According to information from City Clerk Herbert Brauns, the State Health Department has stated it would refuse to grant a permit for the use of the pool next summer if a new filter is not installed.

It was estimated that new filtration plant machinery, walkways, and extensions to the bath house, would cost about $115,000.

City Attorney Jules Berns was requested to prepare a resolution to be presented to the council at a special meeting on Monday, October 24, at 8 p.m., whereby a proposal to raise the necessary funds will be placed before the voters during the 1956 spring election.

Ferry School's PTA Draws 400

The Ferry School P.T.A. has held its initial meeting of the new school year with a capacity crowd of nearly 400 interested parents and teachers.

Replacement of Destroyed Trees Requested of Farms

Replacement of trees destroyed during the recent sewer and water line construction in the Farms, will have to await future budget planning, it was brought out on Monday, October 17, at a Farms council meeting.

The matter of the tree plantings was taken up by the council, when City Manager Harry Furton reported on a letter from Ed Carlson of 894 Mt. Vernon avenue, in which it was disclosed that Carlson had ordered two maple trees, two inches in diameter, at a cost to himself of $17.32, to plant in the right-of-way in front of his home.

The city manager informed the council that after the awarding of the Pier Park planting contract recently, a study was made regarding the cost of replacing 35 trees which had to be removed to make way for the Vendome area and the Beupre sewers.

His report stated that if the city was to replace these trees with trees of a like character, it would cost an estimated $21,270, whereas, if modest sized trees, about three to four inches in diameter, were planted, the cost would be only $4,375.

In a recent report, the council was informed that the city was short, approximately $100,000, needed to complete the sewer and Pier Park plans, and so the future budget planning was recommended and agreed upon.

Another matter for future budget plans, is the planting of major, or fast growing trees just north of Moross road, opposite the "Mack-7 Shopping Center."

Residents across from the shopping center, had petitioned the city to plant the trees in the parking strip between the two Mack avenue roadways, to shut off a portion of the lighting and noise from the shopping area.

Mr. Furton said that inasmuch as Mack was a county road, council agreed to accept the purchase of a "White" truck at a cost of $10,182.

The vehicle will be used in the collection of garbage and rubbish.

City Manager Harry Furton stated that the members of the Public Works Department expressed a desire for that particular make of truck, because it would make their work easier.

Officials were contacted about the project. He said he was informed that the County lacked funds to make the plantings, but would like the Farms to submit a plan on what is proposed to be done. If it is acceptable a permit for the work would be granted.

It was suggested that Carlson be informed of the Farms' purpose to have the trees replaced all at the same time, so that they will be uniform in size.

This matter will be taken care of at once to give Carlson an opportunity to cancel his order if he desires.

Larceny Charge Faced by Girl

A 16-year-old Detroit girl who absconded with company funds was arrested and charged with grand larceny in Juvenile Court, it was revealed by City Det. Lt. Andrew Teetaert.

The released information disclosed that the 16-year-old was employed as a clerk at the Dairyland Store, 17640 Mack avenue and on Friday October 7, she took $114 from the store and left the city with a 15-year-old girl companion, also of Detroit.

The girl and the money were discovered missing by Julius Gabe, president of the company, who arrived early Saturday, October 8, to check the store.

Police went to the girl's home. They found that she had not come home and that she was with the other girl. Both were using a car belonging to still another girl, not implicated, who told authorities the car had been taken without her permission.

Lt. Teetaert stated that the first two girls traveled to Chicago, through Ohio and New York and then returned home of their own accord after all the money was spent. Both were arrested on their return.

The lieutenant filed charges against the 16-year-old girl on Friday, October 14. No trial date has been set but she will be detained in the Detention Home until tried.

Lt. Teetaert also stated that the 15-year-old, who was on probation for other offenses, was returned to detention as an incorrigible. She has a bad record, he said.

Mentally Retarded Children To Be Helped by Program

The Foundation for Exceptional Children, Inc. announces the opening of a Training Program for Mentally Retarded children in the Grosse Pointe area. This "Pilot Project" will begin the middle of November, with a trained Occupational Therapist directing the program. Through the co-operation of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, this group will meet in the Quonset Hut, adjacent to the High School, Monday through Friday afternoons, from 1 to 3:30 o'clock. The Foundation will finance and provide the essential services to this afternoon group, and hopes to encourage the support and interest of the community to the needs of these "forgotten children."

Pioneering in this community in establishing a Training Program for the Mentally Retarded children, the Foundation for Exceptional Children, Inc., hopes to offer these boys and girls some of the opportunities afforded their so-called normal brothers and sisters. The program will be flexible and geared to the individual's capabilities, giving each child a chance to attain his maximum potential.

Mrs. John Bockstanz, president of the foundation, says: "Most of these children with mental limitations can be helped. They can be taught to become partially self-reliant, and to participate in group activities. We hope through this socialization type of program we can help these youngsters and their families enjoy a happier and more secure life."

Any parent interested in this program, is urged to get in touch with Mrs. John Bockstanz, TU. 2-8816. Registration for this group will be announced later, but complete information can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Bockstanz.

Three Courses Offered Adults

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System is offering classes in Blue Print Reading, Personality Development and Flower Arranging to begin within the next few weeks.

The course in Blue Print Reading will be devoted to the areas covering Building Trades and Machine Trades. The study in Building Trades is designed as an aid for those interested in learning to interpret blueprints as used in building trades, and a help to those who are planning on building a new home.

Instructions on architectural symbols, floor plans, elevations, and various detail drawings are included. The instruction in Machine Trades is planned to teach all the basic information, to cover the alphabet of lines, methods of projection, relationship of views, an understanding of dimensions, and a glossary of shop terms. The instructor will be Aelred Kingsbury, who has had a broad and varied background in this field.

The Charm, or Personality Development Class, will be divided into eight two-hour lectures including methods and benefits of figure control; proper make-up and hair-styling techniques; how to develop self-confidence; vocabulary and mechanics of speech; how to build a wardrobe suited to your figure; and how to capitalize on your best features and minimize the weak ones.

Arthur K. Brooks, formerly associated with John Robert Powers as lecturer, fashion commentator and make-up artist, and at present active in television and motion picture work, will be the instructor.

A class in Flower Arranging will be conducted by Mable Kling. Meeting for three class periods of two hours each, instruction will include discussions, demonstrations and practice in all types of flower arrangements. Miss Kling will demonstrate the many variations of arrangements for fall flowers, emphasizing the manner in which flowers may be arranged to blend with certain settings and decorating patterns. Suitable arrangements for special occasions will also be discussed and demonstrated.

Enrollment in all three classes is limited. It is suggested that persons interested in joining one of these classes make their reservation as soon as possible by calling the Department of Community Services, 43 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, at TUxedo 5-3608.

Dead Sea Scrolls To Be Discussed

The Rev. William D. Hammond, minister of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, will discuss the reports on the Dead Sea Scrolls, on Sunday, October 23.

Speculation on the Essene sect, supposed authors of many of these documents, and their relationship to the Jews at the time of Jesus, has developed many interesting and startling theories concerning the origins of Christianity. Mr. Hammond will review some of these theories during the course of his discussion.

The scrolls were the subject of a recent article in the New Yorker magazine and created widespread interest.

The public is invited to attend. Crooked politicians get into office because honest men fail to do their duty.

Chairmen of Armory Event

—Picture by Santos
 MRS. HENRY BOURNE JOY of Lake Shore road and ADMIRAL LEON JACOBI of Fisher road are directing the 25th anniversary celebration for the Brodhead Naval Armory. Mrs. Joy was chairman 25 years ago when the armory was opened. Admiral Jacobi is the state's ranking naval officer. That's a picture of the old USS Yosemite in the background, aboard which so many Pointe and Detroit residents crewed during the Spanish American War.

25th Anniversary Reached By Brodhead Naval Armory

Detroit's distinguished naval history, from the days of Perry's victory on the Great Lakes, will be marked here the week of October 23-30 by the Naval Reserve and thousands of Detroit friends.

The week is the 25th anniversary of the building of Brodhead Naval Armory on the shores of the Detroit River, east of the Belle Isle Bridge.

The property was donated by the City of Detroit, and the gray limestone building, still the finest naval armory in the nation, was constructed with city, state and federal funds.

Spearheaded the drive for an adequate armory was Captain R. Thornton Brodhead, who years before was a young sailor aboard the U.S.S. Yosemite which was manned by Detroit youngsters to avenge the sinking of the Battleship Maine in 1898.

Back from the war with Spain, Brodhead and a handful of others inspired Detroit's proud Naval Reserve.

Associates, 26 of whom are still alive from the days aboard the U.S.S. Yosemite, joined Brodhead to make a living thing of the Navy in Detroit at a waterfront spot that formerly housed a carnival-type amusement park.

Today, the Brodhead Naval Armory contains $2,000,000 worth of government training equipment, from fine electronic devices and guns to a wartime submarine, the U.S.S. Tambor.

More than 2,000 reservists train there each week, keeping fit for the time America may need them on another Yosemite. Marine Corps and Navy personnel were called up from Brodhead during the Korean fighting.

The week-long celebration will be held in the Armory and aboard the submarine daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served to guests each evening by Naval reservists' wives at the conclusion of the training period. A high point will be a big navy dance, to which reservists and their friends are invited, the night of October 28.

The Navy Band from Great Lakes, Ill., will introduce dancing early in the evening after which a fine orchestra will play for the dance for this colorful occasion, where all reservists will be in uniform.

The dance is coincident with the marking of Navy Day, the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, who as U. S. President sent the Great White Fleet on a trip to every major port in the world. Roosevelt gave notice that America henceforth would never yield mastery of the seas.

The submarine U.S.S. Tambor was one of the undersea craft which proved, by sinking many Japanese ships, that Roosevelt was not shooting off steam.

Rear Admiral Leon J. Jacobi, President of the Armory Board of Control and senior naval reserve officer in Michigan, heads activities of the week. He said,

Woods Changing Collection Law

The Woods council was in accord on Monday, October 17, in having certain changes made in the present garbage collection ordinance to conform with the present collection system.

City Attorney Julius Berns was authorized to make the special changes so that the system now being used will be legalized.

The council also approved the sending of a letter and agreement form to residents and business owners, not having garbage grinders or incinerators, to send in their money as soon as possible, to cover their collection cost.

The residents were informed that the next six months' costs of collection, from January 1 to June 30, have gone up, according to a recently signed contract.

By Kitty Marriott

The Vorwald residence in McKinley avenue has been as busy as a beehive this past week. Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Vorwald have had as house guests since Saturday Mrs. V's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Foeller, who came for a visit from Stevens Point, Wis., bringing two-year-old Barbara with them.

Dr. A. T. Ornstone, medical director for the Rand Gold Mine in Johannesburg, South Africa, was their guest last week while he was in town to consult Dr. Vorwald, who heads the industrial medicine department at Wayne University.

On Sunday, they greeted Dr. Joseph Holland, who came in from the University of Rochester to attend the Monday-to-Wednesday cancer symposium of the Detroit Cancer Institute. Dr. Vorwald, incidentally, was moderator for the Wednesday morning session of the three-day program.

Here for the Week

Mrs. Arthur Gardner, wife of the United States Ambassador to Cuba, popped into town from Washington, D.C., on Friday. She's staying with Mrs. Allan Shelden of Lake Shore road, who gave a Friday night dinner to honor her guest and then carted her off to her country place, "Green Hill", near Rochester, for the weekend. . . . Another Friday arrival was Miss Marie Michau, who comes remotely from South Africa but currently is with the Reader's Digest in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Bodman, who are entertaining the attractive visitor for the week, gave a dinner party Saturday night in her honor. Dr. and Mrs. John B. Hartzell of Ridge road were Sunday luncheon hosts for Miss Michau, and Robert Edgar feted her at the Little Club on Wednesday. Miss Michau has just collaborated on a book with H. Allen Smith. At this point, business brought Mr. VanLeuven home, but 13-year-old daughter Karin flew in to accompany her mother on the remainder of her trip.

Mrs. V. and Karin drove their station wagon along the coast of Maine, through the New England states, where they

Anne Burnett Parker Weds Richard Bassler

St. Michael's Episcopal Church Scene of Ceremony, Followed by Reception in Home of Bride's Parents

Anne Burnett Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Huntington Parker of Lake Shore road, became Mrs. Richard Herman Bassler at 4 o'clock services Saturday afternoon in St. Michael's Episcopal Church. Mr. Bassler is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bassler of Detroit.

The bride wore her mother's heirloom-bridal gown of satin and duchess and rose-pointe lace embroidered with seed pearls. The bodice of lace was fashioned with short sleeves and a square neckline. The long formal train, which fell from the waist circled with a satin sash and bow, was appliqued with squares of lace. A coronet of matching duchess lace held the fingertip veil of illusion net.

White Amazon lilies and stephanotis composed the bridal bouquet. Mrs. Allan Soukup of Downer's Grove, Ill., was matron of honor for her sister. She was gowned in green silk faille and carried a bouquet of yellow fugi mum and white baby mums.

Susan Irwin Parker and Anna Dean Parker of Rochester, N.Y., nieces of the bride, attended as flower girls, wearing Nile green dresses and carrying baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Calvin Nixon of Detroit was best man for the bridegroom. Seating guests were brothers of the bride, Dean Parker Jr., of Rochester, N.Y., and Christopher Parker of Bay Shore, Long Island.

Mrs. Parker chose a pastel blue silk taffeta afternoon dress with a matching chapeau for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of white baby mums.

The setting for the reception which followed the church rites was the lovely 100-year-old Parker residence on Lake Shore road.

Against a background of a picture window showing the lake, and the charming room with its many heirloom antiques the new Mr. and Mrs. Bassler and family received their guests.

Judy Hattemer, aged 13, caught the bride's bouquet as the couple dashed off for their wedding trip through the southern states. For her trip Mrs. Bassler was dressed in a grey wool suit with a red velvet hat and accessories.

On their return the couple will make their home in St. Clair Shores.

October 22 is a red letter date on the calendar of the ROBERT P. ARMSTRONGS of Williams road. Louanne Borden of Chalfonte avenue and Richard Lee Redmond pledged their nuptial vows at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robert Borden.

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert Borden, the bride wore a gown of de-lustered satin and imported chantilly lace made on princess lines with a court length train. A pillbox of matching satin trimmed with seed pearls held her silk illusion veil.

The bridal attendants were in ballerina frocks of two-tone pastel blue dull satin. Jenny Lynn Davis attended as honor maid. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Robert Borden, Susan Armstrong and Ann Watson. Their headpieces were of pale pink carnations and ivy and they carried white fugi mums and pale pink carnations.

Tea to Honor Noted Teacher

Miss Lorena Church, who this June will celebrate the completion of her fiftieth year as a member of the faculty of Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois, will be the guest speaker at a tea which the Rockford College Club at Detroit is giving October 22 at the Women's City Club. Her topic will be "Rockford College, Today and Tomorrow."

Miss Church will always be remembered by her students because of her interest in everyone and also because of her phenomenal memory. She has said many times that she can remember all the girls' names and their married names, but sometimes has trouble remembering the children's names.

Having graduated from Rockford College in 1905, Miss Church became a member of the faculty in 1908. She began as an instructor in Latin and Greek, but soon changed to English literature, because she considered it more challenging. For over one-third of a century, from 1915 to 1948, she served as Registrar, and since her retirement from that position has been teaching on a part time basis.

Following the war, in 1946, Miss Church was assigned to teach English literature and English writing to twenty-three young men who returned from military service. The recently established Rockford Men's College at Rockford was partly the result of this introduction of men to the campus. Miss Church is very proud of the new coordinate institution.

Except for five summer school sessions as a member of the faculty of Hunter College, New York City, Miss Church has been a continuous member of the Rockford faculty. Of her years at the college she recently said, "Fifty years is little enough time to do what one wants to do, but I have had great satisfaction in staying at Rockford College. The college has always maintained a high scholastic reputation, in educational circles."

In her many years as a student and member of the faculty, Miss Church has known a number of outstanding people connected with the college. Among them are Mrs. Martha Hillard MacLeish, mother of Archibald MacLeish, nationally known poet, following Mrs. MacLeish's term of office as president of the college from 1884 to 1888; and Rockford's most distinguished alumna, Jane Addams, internationally known founder of Hull House, in Chicago.

Miss Church received her B. A. degree from Rockford College in 1905, her M. A. degree from the University of Chicago in 1911, and the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, from Rockford College in 1948.

Members of the Rockford College Club from the Grosse Pointe area who are serving on the various committees responsible for the tea are: Mrs. Stephen Moreland, 1360 Balfour, planning committee, and Mrs. Henry D. Bishop, 21501 Kingsville, publicity.

Mrs. Richard Lee Redmond

The former LOUANNE BORDEN, of Chalfonte road daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Borden, was married in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on October 15 to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Redmond of Balfour road.

College Holding Autumn Tea

Grosse Pointers active in the annual Autumn Tea honoring students of the Detroit Commercial College and their mothers given tomorrow at the Women's City Club of Detroit include Mrs. Stanley N. Muirhead, of 63 Kenwood road, who will preside at the tea table decorated with fall flowers and bronze appointments. Mrs. Muirhead will be accompanied to the tea by her daughter Martha, who is in her first year of business training.

Helen Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Frost, Jr., of 16920 Village lane, and Barbara Leonard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Leonard, of 70 Merriweather road, are members of the Committee on Arrangements for the tea.

Hostess for the affair is Lola MacLean, Director of Education at the College.

Awards Made By Red Cross

Three women, each of whom has been a volunteer in the Canteen Service of the Detroit Chapter Red Cross for 20 years, were guests of honor at an Awards Luncheon on Wednesday, October 19, in the Women's City Club. Recognition pins for this outstanding service were presented to: Mrs. R. C. Artner, 19070 Hillcrest boulevard; Mrs. Robert B. Kennedy, Jr., 4642 Pacific; Mrs. Clarence C. McBryde, 18510 Harlow.

Fifteen year service pins were presented to: Mrs. E. Aro, 1062 Victoria, Lincoln Park; Miss Elizabeth Cady, 1130 Parker; Mrs. Carl Catlin, 10527 Nottingham; Mrs. A. Cline, 3710 Dumbarton; Mrs. A. Grammens, 13013 Frankfort; Mrs. I. H. Hill, 19705 Anderson; Mrs. H. Hoyt, 1154 Garfield, Lincoln Park; Mrs. Ida Johnson, 303 Tuxedo; Mrs. S. Megarity, 1105 White; Mrs. Wm. Osborn, 1313 Russell, Lincoln Park; Mrs. Clyde Tranngmar, 572 Kitchener; Mrs. Herman Wolfe, 1153 Garfield, Lincoln Park; Mrs. Charles Kine, 12080 Elmview, Romulus; Mrs. Harold B. Tyree, 28 Provincial road; Mrs. G. Whelden, 906 Park lane.

Two hundred women attended the Award Service, at which Mrs. John F. Hering, Chairman of Canteen Service for the Chapter, presided. "Canteeners perform an important service both in the daily operation of the Chapter and in plans of preparedness for disaster in the community," she said. "We are happy to serve in the blood program, at chapter canteen and disabled veterans' dinners, and hope disaster never calls us to the duty for which we are always ready."

Mrs. Hering issued an invitation to any interested woman to prepare herself for Canteen service by attending a three-session training class starting October 26 and continuing November 2 and 9. Classes, which run from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. will be held at the Chapter Headquarters, 153 E. Elizabeth. Demonstration lunches will be prepared by the class members. A small charge will be made for materials.

Church Women Busy Preparing for Fair

Congregational Committee Hard at Work Getting Ready For Mistletoe Mart, Annual Bazaar Set for December 1

When does a social hall become a sweat shop? That's easy—every Tuesday at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, when four of the committees working on the Mistletoe Mart, the church's Christmas bazaar to be held on December 1, meet to work and lunch together and then work on in the afternoon.

Mrs. Brent Jacob, chairman of the Children's Mart, where all sorts of merchandise for children to wear or to buy will be on display, has all the members of the young mothers groups of the Women's Association working with her, but not all at the same time, snuffles and coughs have a way of curtailing young mothers' participation, but as many as can, try to get there every Tuesday to work on felt skirts to delight small hearts, or aprons just like mother's.

Some of the most faithful Tuesday workers in this group is Mrs. William Briscoe, Mrs. Robert Baxter, Mrs. John Cudis, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. W. F. Lueckhoff, Mrs. Minard Mamaw, Mrs. Calvin Stoddard and Mrs. E. W. Whitney.

Mrs. Edwin Chase, chairman of the Seamstress Shop, sees all the members of her committee fairly regularly as they busily make the luncheon sets, cocktail napkins, intriguing monkey dolls, or holiday coasters that will be on sale in her booth.

Her committee consists of Mrs. George Brigham, Mrs. Adam Cook, Mrs. Marcus Kalbfleisch, Mrs. Sidney Morgan, Mrs. Marvin Schneider, Mrs. Allen Shaw, Mrs. Oliver Morton, Mrs. Robert Weinhardt, Mrs. Robert Harris, Mrs. Glen Searles, Mrs. Wendell Fathers, Mrs. Harcourt Caverly, Mrs. Norton Ives and Mrs. H. Terry Snowday.

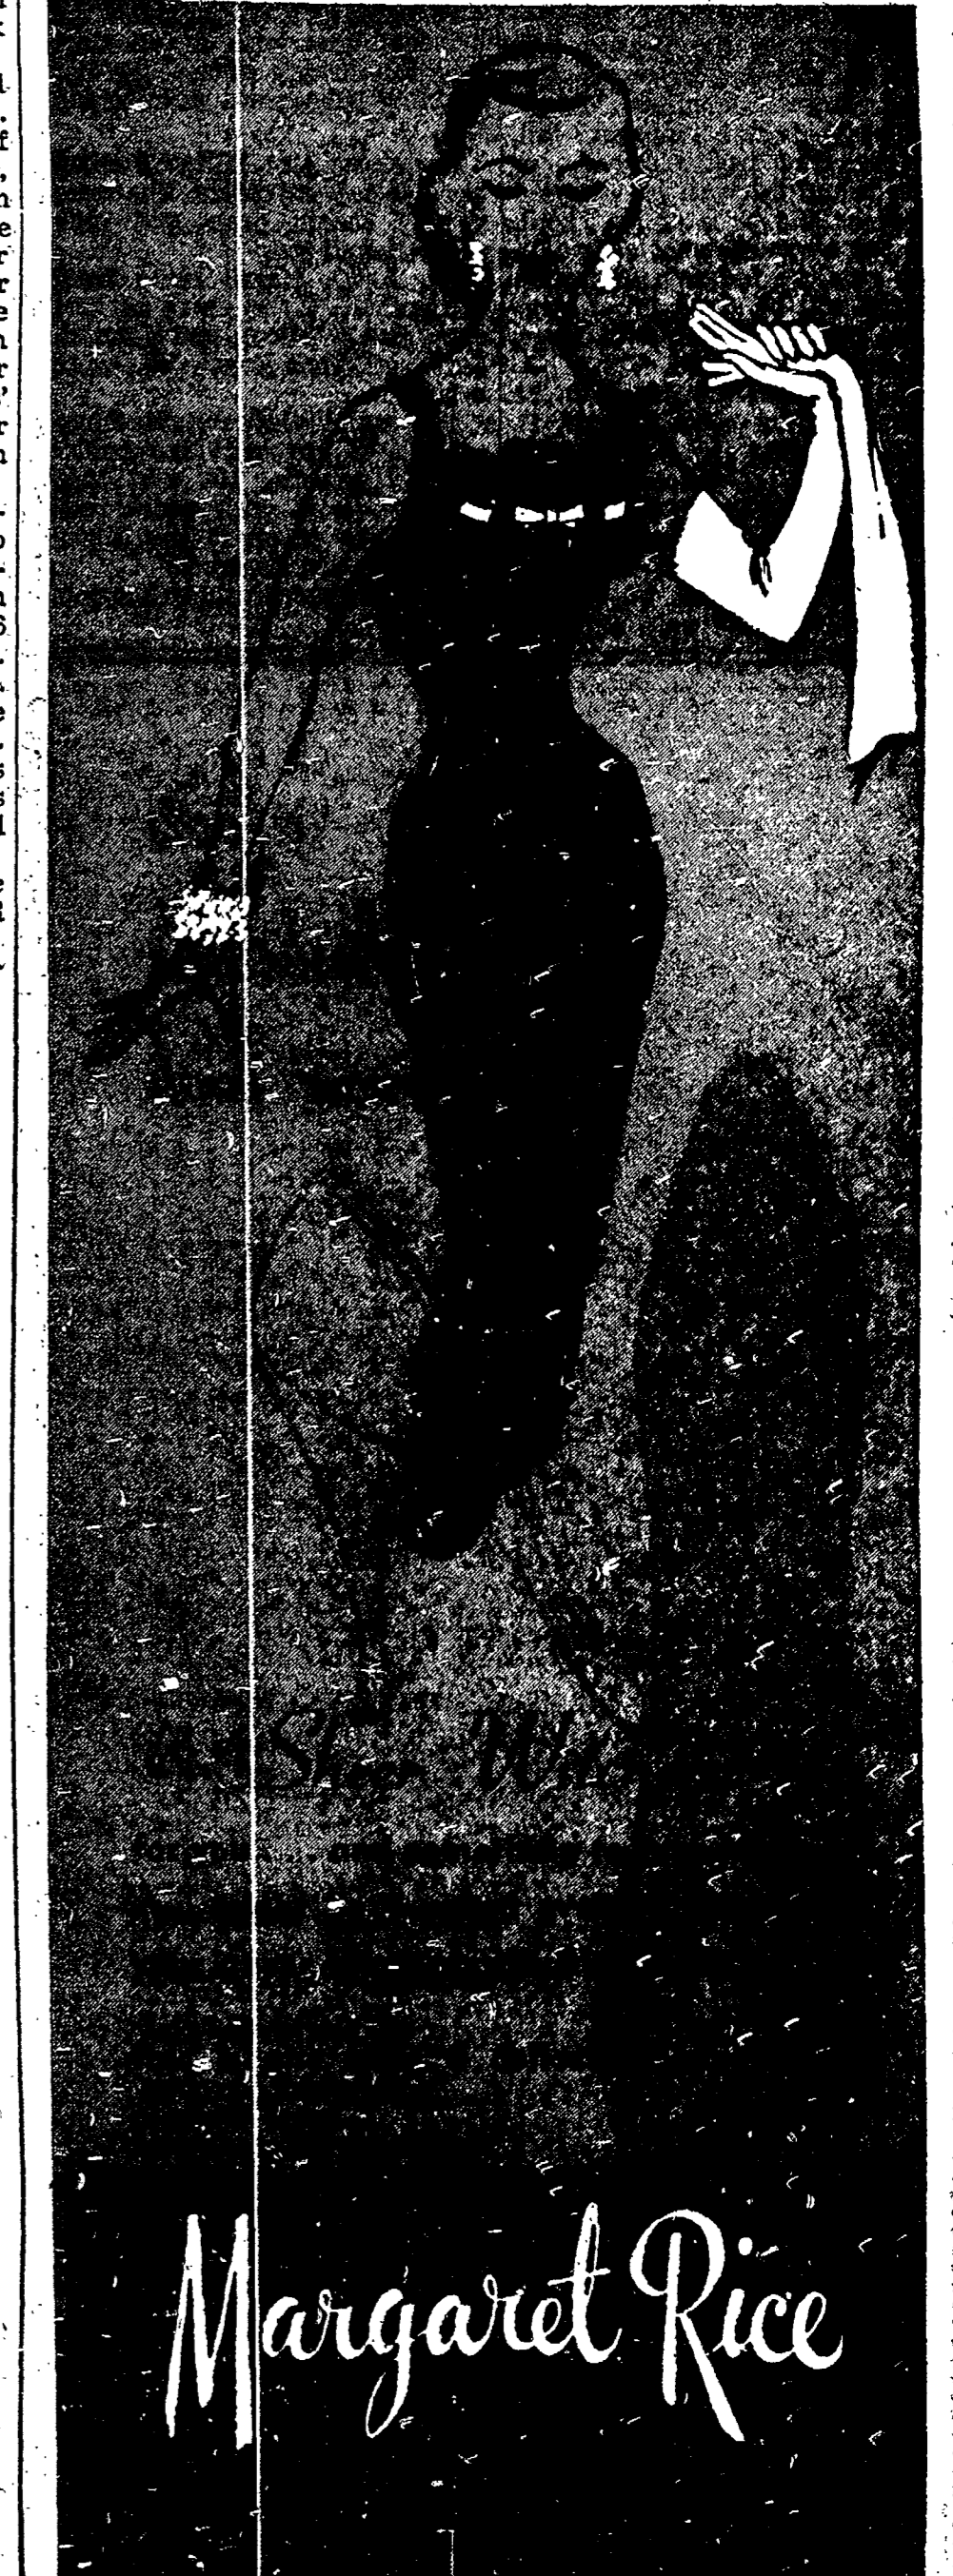

Mrs. Porter Hansen, chairman of the Doll's Closet, which is just what the name implies, dresses and accessories for dolls, has a very regular turnout of her committee which includes: Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. R. C. Diehl, Mrs. Harry McMaster, Mary Schneider, Mrs. R. L. Williams, Mrs. Emil Heinrich, Mrs. F. Wayne Sharp, Mrs. G. H. Cassidy, Mrs. Henry Lampman, Mrs. Merton Carleton, Mrs. W. Edgar Gore, Mrs. Russell Alles, Mrs. Edgar B. Cooper, Mrs. Edgar Hahn, Margaret Mitchell and Mrs. L. R. Fressel.

The Christmas decoration booth with all sorts of intriguing decorations for your home or your tree, under the guidance of chairman, Mrs. Robert Griffin, Mrs. Donald Carson, co-chairman, has been busily turning setting eggs into glamour and paper into stars.

Nancy Chapman Repeats Vows

Nancy Chapman and John W. Scott Jr. repeated their marriage vows Saturday afternoon at a small wedding in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe. A reception followed at the Provincial road home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Chapman.

A beige silk dress styled on princess lines with a full skirt was the bride's choice for her wedding. She wore a matching hat.

Her sister, Mrs. Milton Henkel, was her only attendant. She wore a blue sheath dress and blue velvet handbag.

Dr. A. D. Merritt came from Durham, N. C., to serve as best man. Hilary Mico and John B. Earle, of Front Royal, Va., were ushers.

The couple left for Washington, D. C., to visit the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Scott, after which they planned to go on to the Elbow Beach Club in Bermuda.

They will make their home in Washington.

St. Paul Altar Society to Hold Party

The St. Paul Altar Society members are planning a Hawaiian theme for the annual bridge-luncheon and fashion show which will be held in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Tuesday, October 25, at 12 noon. Inspecting the Hawaiian "mumu" and making plans for the affair are, left to right: MRS. GEORGE J. SKIMIN, co-chairman; MRS. C. E. DANIEL, fashion chairman; and MRS. MARTIN PAYE, in charge of reservations.

Youth Council To Hold Dance

The Grosse Pointe Youth Council will hold their annual Masquerade Dance, "The Beggar's Ball" at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Saturday night, October 29. The dance will begin at 9 and end at 12.

Admission is $1.50 a couple. The council will present Don Barber and his orchestra. All are encouraged to come in costume.

Shortly after the War Memorial began its functions five years ago, it was suggested that the youth of Grosse Pointe take an active part. Mrs. Charles B. Lord organized a group of students from Junior and Senior High Schools and Parochial Schools of Grosse Pointe.

Through the years the council has done much in accordance with the purposes of the War Memorial Center. It has put on a variety show for the Army Camp in the vicinity, assisted the Blood Bank when it was at the War Memorial Center and helped the Protestant Children's Home. But the Council is not just all work and no play.

There were record dances, orchestra dances and teen cantenets—the latter was a little too noisy for the neighbors.

The money raised from the coming dance will primarily pay for the refreshments and entertainment for the dance. It will also aid the council with its various functions throughout the year and those of the War Memorial Center.

The officers of the Youth Council for the following year include: Sandy McMechen, president; Bert Osbeck, vice-president; Mary Jo Gerioux, secretary; Marcia Mower, assistant secretary; Price Watts, treasurer.

Public health authorities estimate that 1,200,000 Americans need medical supervision for active or inactive tuberculosis, the Tuberculosis and Health Society reports.

Schools Offer Ikebana Class

A course in the Japanese art of flower arrangement will be given at the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, to begin on Wednesday, November 2, for eight weeks.

The Japanese word for this art is Ikebana, and the study is based on appreciation for the natural beauty, not only of flowers, but of everything that grows.

Elsa Sheridan, who will conduct the course, spent 18 months in Tokyo while her husband, Col. James T. Sheridan, was stationed there as Airforce censor for the Far East Command. During this period she made a concentrated study of this art, attending classes three times weekly at a branch of the Sogetsu School, which is the second-largest of 150 such schools in Japan.

From this school she received her teacher's certificate in this field.

Mrs. Sheridan points out that desired effects are obtained through the combinations of shrub and tree branches using as few as three flowers, and fresh materials are often combined with the old and dried. Most of the needed materials may be gathered from the arranger's own yard, which means that very little needs to be purchased from outside sources.

Simplicity and imagination are the keystones of this art, and when the fundamental techniques have been mastered, the student will find that an easy technique, simple tools, few materials—add up to an inexpensive and fascinating skill which can be enjoyed throughout the year.

For class reservations and further information, call the Department of Community Services, 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard, at TUxedo 5-3808.

They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.—Sir Philip Sidney.

Harmonie Club Scene of Party

Grosse Pointe was well represented at Harmonie's open house Saturday night, in celebration of this more-than-a-century-old organization's 60 years of occupancy of its present clubhouse in East Grand River avenue.

Dining rooms and ballrooms on all three floors were packed to capacity in order to seat several hundred guests who enjoyed one of the buffet dinners for which this club is so favorably known.

Later, party chairman Robert G. Keydel of University place introduced President Hubert R. Haessler, who greeted guests and presented the men's and women's choruses. Directed by Frank Murch, they gave a short program, opening with a medley of German songs and closing with "This Is My Country." Dancing followed.

Grosse Pointers on Mr. Keydel's committee were Mrs. Keydel, Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Baiser, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Caudle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Marr.

Other Harmonie Club members from Grosse Pointe who attended the party included the Paul F. Jeromes and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Menzies, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Capp, the Ernest W. Niggs and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rush.

Germany Offers Party Theme

Chairman Donald A. Martin and Mrs. Martin were joined at their party table by the J. J. Marshalls and Mr. and Mrs. John K. Cross.

Raulstons, of Washington, D.C., and Admiral and Mrs. Robert Morris, of Annapolis. The Allen T. McHenry, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Ronney, and Mr. and Mrs. William Champion Jr. were at a table together.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

After roasting your chicken or turkey, allow the bird to stand in the roasting pan 15 to 30 minutes so that "juices" may be absorbed. Remove the trussing equipment and place the bird on a large warm platter. Garnish and carve it at the table so everyone can enjoy its full glamour.

The restaurant will be closed to the public until the Rotarians round out their evening.

A cocktail hour will be held between 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., after which dinner will be served. There will be no alcoholic beverages served during the dinner or the meeting which will follow.

Following this regular meeting, members will be treated to entertainment until closing time.

Price of the tickets has been set at $3.50. Dress will be informal.

Rotary members wishing to buy tickets may do so by contacting Bruce Bockstanz, chairman of the affair, by calling TU 1-5342, or LO 7-9292; or his assistant, Bill McCort, TU 4-4428, TA 5-9236.

Members are urged to make this a 100 per cent attendance.

To Be Soloist With Symphony

Margaret Harshaw, Metropolitan Opera soprano, will be the first soloist of the season with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday, October 20, at 8:30 p.m. in the Masonic Auditorium. Paul Paray will conduct.

Miss Harshaw will sing the Liebestod from "Tristan and Isolde," Wagner, and the closing scene of the Richard Strauss Opera, "Salome."

Paray has also programmed Wagner's Overture to "Rienzi," "Wotan's Farewell" and "Die Walkure" and the Prelude to Act III from "Tristan and Isolde," and the Dance of the Seven Veils from Richard Strauss' "Salome."

Miss Harshaw was born in Philadelphia, studied at Julliard on a scholarship from the National Federation of Music Clubs and later worked under the noted Mme. Schoen-Rejfee.

In 1942 she won the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, making her debut at the Met that same year. A contralto when she first came to public attention, Miss Harshaw developed through experience, study and maturity to a soprano of the first rank.

Antique Show to be Conducted By Junior Group of Goodwill

A campaign for a recreational resort for Goodwill Industries handicapped employees will get a send off October 23 through October 26, when the Junior Group of Goodwill holds its Eighth Annual Antiques Show and Sale.

The show will open on Sunday at 2:00 p.m. and will be open from 12:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The show will be held at the Goodwill Industries workshop at 6522 Brush.

In the past, proceeds of this show have been used to purchase equipment for the handicapped and to improve building facilities so that the worker now has adequate and pleasant working conditions.

This year the money will start a fund for the benefit of the handicapped during vacation periods. It is hoped that a recreational center can be built in the near future, designed to give the handicapped the best in vacation pleasures.

Thirty antique dealers will participate in the show this year bringing all types of antiques, not only from Michigan, but from eastern and mid-western states.

An Americana Room is being built and will be ready for the show. Here lunches and dinners will be served to the public. This room is a 1,200 square foot addition to the Goodwill Building, and after the show it will be used as part of the Goodwill Industries retail store area. Featured in this novel room will be a fireplace above which will hang a scroll with Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. In the center of the room will be a table setting depicting a scene from early American history. On the walls of the room will be murals showing the landing of the Pilgrims. Members of the Junior Group will serve as hostesses in the Americana Room. They will wear costumes in keeping with the atmosphere of the room.

The Country Store will once again be a feature of the show. Junior Goodwill members in costume will sell old-fashioned style candies, cheese, apples and other items popular in great-grandmothers day.

At the recent Bi-annual Delegate Assembly of Goodwill Industries of America at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries was presented with an award for being the outstanding Women's Auxiliary. The award was earned by the Junior Group through their outstanding accomplishment of raising $25,000 in capital funds in the past two years at the Antiques Shows and the 1955 May Fair.

Writers' Club Hears Speaker

W. Howard Snyder of Lakeview avenue spoke to the opening meeting of the Detroit Women Writers' Club on "The Perils and Pleasures of Playwriting" at the Women's City Club on Tuesday afternoon, October 11.

A banker by day, Mr. Snyder writes his plays in the evening when, he says, his imagination is nearer to dreams and to fantasy than it is "in the cold, cruel light of morning." Not only does he write, but he also produces, having had two musical revues, "Inside Detroit" and "Talk of the Town," and a one-act play concerning a local prophet, performed by the Players on East Jefferson. Mr. Snyder told the Writers that if they write in other media they may assume that people read their words and even assume that they enjoyed them, but a playwright hears the applause "and it is indeed heart-warming."

Because the Women Writers emphasize the fact that they are a working organization, local novelist Jeanne Wylie, who leads the Prose Workshop, listed and described nine books which are works-in-progress by members. Miss Wylie, in private life Mrs. Edward Torosian of Trombley road, is herself working on a second novel, though she takes time out occasionally to write short stories, one of which will appear soon in Women's Day.

Mr. Snyder recommended to those members working on plays that they get practical stage experience "even if it is only hauling scenery around."

"For a long time I looked for a formula," Mr. Snyder said, "but there isn't one. I just get my hero into trouble, then get him into a little more trouble, and then a little more trouble—and then I get him out!"

Mr. Snyder agreed with all writing teachers that one must write what he knows. His "Inside Detroit" sketches dealt with an automobile executive, a labor-management quarrel, some old men in a downtown club, and, he admitted, some theoretical people in Grosse Pointe.

"A Gift from Warren's" is more than a phrase.

It is assurance of satisfaction. For over 50 years, discriminating Detroiters have depended upon Warren's for the highest quality and value in precious stones, fine jewelry, watches and silver. Experience has proved that they can "do better" at Warren's.

Quality to the experienced comes before price. For instance, consider a diamond. Its price does not indicate its value. A one-carat diamond may vary in price from $455 to $1155. Size alone should never influence the purchaser.

We at Warren's are proud of our reputation for sincerity. We want "a gift from Warren's" to assure both the giver and the receiver that it is truly a fine value, backed by conscientious service.

Seek Body of Man Believed Drowned in Lake St. Clair

The body of a man believed to have drowned in Lake St. Clair just off the Shores shoreline on Saturday, October 15, has not yet been recovered, according to a St. Clair Shores Coast Guard Base report.

No report has been received up to the time the News went to press on Tuesday, October 18.

A Shores police report revealed that a boat, with Walter Brower, 51, of 22615 Tireman, Detroit, owner, and Everitt Farr, 50, of 1625 Heland, Birmingham, aboard, was headed out into Lake St. Clair. The men were planning on a day of fishing and enjoyment.

Farr told Shores police that Brower had jokingly remarked, "I'm going to make you captain while I clean up the boat," and turned over the steering of the boat to him.

Farr stated after a few minutes he turned to look for Brower, calling out to him, but received no answer.

He cut the motor and began looking for his companion, thinking Brower was hiding for a joke. It was dark and he used a spotlight. His search was unsuccessful.

A smaller boat hove in view and its occupants stated they had heard a cry for help, but their search, too, was without success.

The smaller boat occupants sailed to St. Clair Shores where they made a report to St. Clair Shores police, who in turn notified the Coast Guard and the Shores police.

61 Elm Trees Killed in Farms

Farms City Manager Harry Furton presented the Farms council with a final 1955 report on the Dutch Elm Disease within the Farms on Monday, October 17.

The report disclosed that a total of 154 elm trees, public and private-owned, have been checked for the killer disease. Of these, 74 samples had been analyzed.

Of the samples analyzed, 61 trees were found to have the blight, 52 of them on private property and nine on city property.

The negative samples were listed as nine on private property and four belonging to the city.

As of October 5, the report continued, 55 elms of the 61 found to have the disease, have been removed. The remaining six were only recently reported and will be removed within the prescribed 10 days, Mr. Furton said.

Last year, it was revealed, only 40 elms were checked for the disease and of these, 30 of them were found to be positive and had to be removed.

Woods to Vote On Mayor Term

Woods voters will be given another opportunity to decide whether the term of office of mayor will be for two years instead of one.

A resolution prepared by Councilman Rex Johnston was presented to the Woods council on Monday, October 17, proposing the matter of increasing the term, be placed on the ballot in April 1956. The resolution was accepted.

The increasing of the mayor's term to two years and that of the office of councilman to four years, was turned down by voters during the election last April.

Councilman Johnston's resolution applies only for the mayor's term of office.

Elected councilman serve for just two years under the present system.

Woman Injured In 3-Car Crash

Woods police rushed a Detroit woman who was seriously injured in an accident on Wednesday, October 12, to St. John Hospital.

A police report revealed that Angelina Tocco, 28, of 3485 Kensington, was taken to the hospital suffering from an injured back and possible internal injuries following a three-car accident at Mack and Huntington. She was a passenger in a car driven by her sister, Bertha Tocco, same address.

The accident report stated that Miss Bertha Tocco had stopped for a car driven by Hazel C. Dumond, 29, of 19676 Damman, Detroit, which was being backed into a parking space, when a truck, driven by David J. Dumnigan, 24, of 5236 Chene, Detroit, going north, hit the Tocco car in the rear.

The Tocco car in turn struck the one backing into the parking space.

Dumnigan told police he was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision. He was ticketed for not having his vehicle under control and causing an accident. Court date is December 3.

Pointe Auto Wash Bids Welcome In Celebration

Marking the completion of its $90,000.00 enhancement program, the Pointe Auto Wash, Mack at Harvard, has been staging a 5-day open house celebration which will continue through today and Friday.

The firm has grown rapidly from a single wash lane of seven years ago, to its present size which covers half of the block along Mack avenue, between Cadieux and Harvard. The first lot beyond the alley on Harvard has also been acquired. It has built a second lane, widened all the turns and installed the most modern equipment for speedy, safe car washing.

Included is the so-called "Glass House" which stands midway in the washing lanes and performs several operations simultaneously. Roses for the ladies, cigars for the men and balloons for accompanying children are souvenir tokens during the celebration.

Two brothers-in-law, Cameel Hanna and Thomas Cavataio are owners of the establishment which draws nearly all its patronage from Grosse Pointe.

Pharmaceutical Association Honors John A. MacCartney

WASHINGTON, D.C.—John A. MacCartney, 50, of 917 University place, Grosse Pointe, Mich., has been named in a mail ballot as president-elect of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

MacCartney, trade relations manager for Parke, Davis & Company, will be installed at the annual convention in Detroit the week of April 8, 1956. He will succeed John B. Heinz of Salt Lake City as head of the organization representing over 30,000 pharmacists throughout the United States.

A native of Claysville, Pa., MacCartney has been with Parke, Davis since September, 1928, when he joined the pharmaceutical firm's sales force at Pittsburgh. Two years later, he became a medical service representative with headquarters at Erie, Pa., and then held the same post with headquarters at Rochester, N.Y., starting in 1935. He was promoted to trade relations manager in 1946.

He was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh in 1928 with B. S. and Ph.G. degrees. From 1923 until 1928, he had worked in retail pharmacy as an apprentice and then a registered pharmacist.

MacCartney served as 1953-54 first vice-president of the A.P.A. His World War II service included two years with the 77th Division and later as chief medical supply officer for the U. S. Military Government in Korea. A Lieutenant-colonel in the U. S. Army Reserve, he currently is on a 15-day tour of duty with the Surgeon-General of the U. S. Army in Washington. He has received numerous decorations.

MacCartney is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association, Michigan Academy of Pharmacy, Michigan Pharmaceutical Association, Kappa Psi (pharmaceutical fraternity), American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other organizations.

He is married and has a son, Allan.

Other new A.P.A. officers are Ronald V. Robertson of Spokane, Wash., first vice-president; John J. Dugan of New Haven, Conn., second vice-president; George F. Archambault and F. Royce Franzoni, both of Washington, and Robert L. Swain of New York, all members-elect of the council for a three-year term.

About 100 cases are annually recorded in which Red Cross training in first aid or water safety proved instrumental in saving life.

HOW TO PROFIT THROUGH TAX EXEMPTION

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $16,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone.

How to Make Enemies

Like most others, we have always classified bankers among the more cautious type of business individual. We have respected this trait in their personalities, and have gained no little solace from the sense of security imparted by the knowledge of this characteristic whenever we have taken our paycheck to the teller's window for safekeeping.

But an incident which came to our attention during a recent trip east made us realize that this sort of thing can be carried to ridiculous extremes.

A young man of our acquaintance, fresh out of the Army, was enrolling at Columbia University's School of Business Administration. He wanted to establish a bank account in the vicinity, so he hid himself to the 11th Street Branch of the National City Bank of New York. The lucre which he toted for the purpose of opening the account consisted of United States Savings Bonds, two paychecks from the United States Government for his army service, and a fair sized hunk of cash.

He was asked to fill out a deck or two of credit forms, listing other banking connections, business places where he had established credit and multiple other items of information for the enlightenment of the keepers of the strongbox. The proper deposit slips were executed and he turned over his bonds, his paychecks and cash.

The solemn ceremonies were concluded when he was informed that he must not cash a check against his account until he received proper notification from the bank that they had investigated him thoroughly and found that his credit was good.

Perhaps we are pretty naive, but we were forced to wonder what constitutes credit if a deposit of government bonds and checks and cash does not. It seemed fairly reasonable to us that the depositor ought to be allowed to draw against such collateral immediately. We know that if we had been in the same situation we would have blown up the bank immediately if necessary to get our loot back and get as far away from its doors as possible.

We followed up on this case and found that it took the bank a week to let the poor lad know that it was now possible for him to draw a check against his account.

This constitutes good public relations between a business concern and its customers?

One thing was accomplished for us through this experience; it made us doubly appreciative of the genuine pleasure of doing business in one's own neighborhood. Our homecoming was made ever so much more enjoyable through a new realization of what friendship in business means.

We have commented on it many times before, and shall probably have much more to say about it in the future... shopping in the Pointe community has many of the pleasant aspects of a social outing. Not only do we have fun meeting so many of our friends among the fellow shoppers, but we are given a genuine welcome by the business people in the stores and offices and banks. There we are among friends too. They have the faculty of making us feel they are really glad to be serving us, and we haven't seen a suspicious glance tossed our way by any one of them in years.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
On October 10 Mr. William H. Lange, City Administrator of Grosse Pointe Woods, talked to the Citizens Association about municipal improvement. The following examples of improvement were discussed.

1. Filters at Park swimming pool. Discussion: Mr. Lange stated that the pool cannot be opened next year until state health requirements are met. Laird and Wilcox, Parks and Playground Consultants and landscape architects, have been asked to present a plan of improvement for the pool and its facilities to conform to state health laws.

2. Municipal Building. Discussion: There has been no recent action on this. A discussion revealed that the plan as last submitted to the voters had been drawn by architects who had only built one other city hall. It was suggested that the best procedure for all projects is to first have plans drawn by experts. Second, have the Planning Commission and experts hold a public meeting for public discussion of plans. Third, the plans should be open for public discussion again in the Council. Only then should the public be asked to vote on the bond issue. It was the consensus of opinion that this kind of planning and procedure would be good.

3. Parks and Recreation Development. Discussion: Mr. Lange stated that Laird and Wilcox will also plan our city parks and recreation areas so that efficient use is made of our limited park and playground space. Grosse Pointe Woods is short more than 100 acres of playground and park space based on National Recreation Association minimum standard of one acre per 100 population.

4. Public Works Building. Discussion: This would be an extension of the present public works building. Mr. Lange emphasized that voters should be informed on all civic improvements from the planning stage to the ballot. He also stated that Grosse Pointe Woods is in sound financial shape. Assessed valuation as of January 1, 1955, was $42,586,560, and as of June 30, 1955, bonded debt was $817,000. Grosse Pointe Woods has obligated only about 20 per cent of its potential bond resources. A municipal improvement program, if financed through bonds, might bring the bonded debt up to 40 per cent. No definite plans have been made for the above improvements, but the Citizens Association, strongly recommends advance planning by experts with careful consideration given to present and future city needs. All citizens should give consideration to municipal needs, both present and future. Council meetings are public meetings held the first and third Monday at 7:30 p.m. Interested citizens are welcome. Show your interest by attending.

D. W. Jennings,
President Citizens
Association of Grosse
Pointe Woods.

Book Auction Of Interest Here

According to Dr. Alfred H. Whittaker, Chairman of the Rare Book Committee of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, an important book auction was to be held in New York at the Park-Bernet Galleries on October 18 and 19.

He feels that this presented an unusual opportunity for those interested in developing the Public Library's Rare Book collection.

Featured are several Shakespeare folios which Dr. Whittaker feels would make excellent gifts to the Public Library. These are especially important in view of the gift of a fourth folio by Mr. C. E. Delbos of 333 Lincoln Road.

Grosse- Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Count each affliction, whether light or grave,
God's messenger sent down to thee; do thou
With courtesy receive him."

Grief should be
Like joy, majestic, equitable, sedate,
Confirming, cleansing, raising, making free;
Strong to consume all troubles; to commend
Great thoughts, grave thoughts, thoughts lasting to the end."
(Aubrey T. DeVere)

If you listen very carefully when you are with a group of people, you will notice that no one ever listens to anyone else... and it can be a great source of amusement for the sharp one in the crowd. For example, recently we were present in a gathering of folks looking at television and no one could place the face of the leading character in the play. One man present had been in show business so someone asked him if HE knew who it was. He said: "No, I never remember a face but I always forget a name." Everyone in the room piped up with the information that they had the same trouble! Well, if you'll read that quote over very carefully, you'll see what we mean!

Many years ago when Miss Jane Pickens was here for a visit, we had the pleasure of meeting her. After we felt we knew her well enough to ask... we said (purposely, because we are pixie that way), "Jane, may we call you Miss Pickens?" She replied immediately, "Oh, PLEASE DO!" see what we mean... no one listens.

Years ago we remember an incident where a guest of honor and his wife were late at a dinner party given in their honor... and as they came in the door, the honored guest announced to his waiting hostess: "I'm so terribly sorry Elenore and I are late but our son-in-law was in a bad accident and we had to go to the hospital." The harried hostess, thinking only of her own affairs, replied quickly, "Oh, that's PERFECTLY all right... don't give it a second thought! Now DO come and meet the guests."

In case you don't know it... there is a local woman who has her maid WASH and PRESS her paper money before she puts it in her wallet! We don't know WHAT she does when she is out and someone hands her change or pays a debt or what. Maybe she uses tweezers to accept it from them... but in any case... the filthy lucre is washed as soon as she gets home. How chic can you GET?

A male friend of ours had a time for himself last week over sending a woman a telegram that turned up undelivered. This here now married man sent a wire to a second cousin who lives in the South... and although the wire was innocent enough... he just didn't happen to mention it to his wife. After sending it, he went on a hunting trip and was out of the City for a couple of days.

Sometime during the day... Western Union called up to say they couldn't locate the party... and where could Mr. Thing be reached. Madame answered the phone and allowed as how her husband could NOT be reached... but maybe she could help... where was the wire sent and to whom? At this point the operator got coy as a boarding school girl and hemmed and hawed about the wire to the point where Madame wife was REALLY suspicious!

In the end and very reluctantly, the careful operator broke down and gave the name and address of the supposed recipient of the telegram. Sighing with relief, Mrs. Thing said she could NOT be of help but would have her husband call the minute he got home... and she took down the number and line he was to ask for.

Husband dear, got the message when he arrived... got on the phone and asked for line Soandso. The man on the other end was doing some fancy quizzing that Mr. Thing couldn't understand just over a plain wire. Finally he felt something was wrong, so he asked: "THIS IS Western Union, isn't it?" To which the gruff voice replied:

"This is the accident division of the Police Department. Now WHERE did you say this girl was hurt?"
How mixed up can you GET???

An older Grosse Pointe woman... the type who might well have posed for that famous cartoon in the New Yorker, depicting two dowagers outside the Democratic Club in New York... one saying to the other: "Shall we his?"... gave out with a real sharp one recently. She was presiding over a table of tea and crumpets, when one of her male guests started talking to another guest about the Radio Corporation of America... but naturally referred to it (as everyone does) at RCA. Suddenly the grande dame looked up and exclaimed: "My word, I thought since Roosevelt died that all those alphabet things he invented went out of vogue!"

Leave it to the young fry to redden your face every now and again. A local gent took a small group of people to see the Michigan-Army game a couple of weeks ago... and was very proud that he had been given seats in the "M" section which is reserved for top athletes... Michigan's letter winners... and most rabid supporters of the U of M. One of the guests invited had to cancel at the last minute and asked if his 9 year old son could go in his place. Of course our hero was DYING to have sonny along... but there was nothing he could do to stave off the deal... so he dragged the kid along.

Sometime during the game, junior allowed as how he had to powder his nose or something... so he took off and came back about fifteen minutes later during a tense moment in the game... waving a Notre Dame pennant he had purchased! Our hero said what he felt like doing to the kid would have made Charles Addam's cartoons look like kindergarten stuff!

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Just about every bodily organ by improper function could cause headaches, so is it any wonder that this is the most common of ailments? You can easily understand too, why the occasional headache comes and goes without impairing health.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

A popular program with many Grosse Pointe organizations is the one given over to current book reviews.

Miss Irene Mischler of the Central Library staff is busy this fall with a number of scheduled book talks. This is a service of your Public Library which is available to all associations in Grosse Pointe.

Since the library's main purpose is to promote reading, Miss Mischler confines her talks to brief comments on many books rather than discussing one book at great length.

Included in her current list are five novels which are widely read at present.

"The Flower Girls" by Clemence Dane—A long diverting novel about the colorful and dramatic Florister family which gives an interesting picture of the British theater.

"The Dinner Party" by Gretchen Finletter—The author of "From the Top of the Stairs" writes a lighthearted tale of a dinner party given in May which sparks off events for months to come.

"The Sixth of June," by Lionel Shapiro—A romantic and yet serious novel about the Normandy invasion.

"The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit" by Sloan Wilson—A World War II veteran rebels against the anonymity of the civilian commuter with his uniform of gray flannel and brief case.

"Marjorie Morningstar" by Herman Wouk—The loves and dreams of a young Jewish woman against a New York City backdrop.

Miss Mischler's list of current non-fiction has a diversity of appeal. A few of these titles are listed below with her comments about them.

"Our Samoan Adventure" by Fanny Stevenson—the diary of Fanny Stevenson—the remarkable woman who shared with her husband, Robert Louis Stevenson, the last four years of his life on a South Sea Island.

"The Living Past of America," by Cornelius Vanderbilt—A book of 500 photographs of restored villages and great homes open to tourists.

"The House on Nauset Marsh," by Wyma Richardson—Cape Cod's changing seasons as recorded by an eminent Boston physician.

"Gift from the Sea," by Anne Lindbergh—A wife and mother shares with deep sincerity and candor, her answers to the challenges of today's life.

"The Great American Heritage," by Bela Kornitzer—A personal family biography of the five Eisenhower brothers, each a leader in a different field.

"Grandfather Stories," by Samuel H. Adams—A benign, comic piece of Americana concerning boyhood recollections of Upstate New York in the 1880's.

"Hiroshima Diary," by Michiko Hachiya—A major documentary of our times—the journal of a Japanese doctor who felt the world's first atomic weapon.

"The Better Homes and Gardens Diet Book"—A complete year-round diet and nutrition guide.

"The Frances Parkinson Keyes Cookbook"—A semi-autobiographical cookbook by one of the country's most popular novelists.

"What Is Communism," edited by Richard Ketchum—A simple, pictorial survey of the evidence of Communism in the United States and throughout the world.

"Inside Africa," by John Gunther—An immensely readable and timely book considered by many critics as Mr. Gunther's best.

Surely no one who has ever climbed a mountain and lived to tell the tale, has failed to write a book about it. The challenge, thrills and suspense, routine with mountain climbers, always finds a ready audience. "High Adventure" by Edmund Hillary and "Ascent of Alpaymayo" by Georges Kogan and Nicole Leininger are recent additions to this popular category of reading. Your ticket to adventure is waiting to be picked up at your nearest library. It will transport you in ease and comfort to whichever part of the world your whims may direct and what's more, you'll not have to mortgage the old homestead to procure it. Call us if you wish any of these tickets reserved for you.

Customers' Corner

Necessity is the Mother of Prevention!

In order to give you your money's worth of good eating, foods must reach you at the peak of freshness. And this necessity is the origin of A&P's program for the prevention of staleness.

It's called Freshness Control . . . and it requires the exercise of constant care in an unbroken chain from source to sale. This means that all items—both perishable and non-perishable—are stored at proper temperatures, inspected at regular intervals and constantly checked to insure that they meet A&P's high-quality standards.

Result? You can count on getting fresh foods at your A&P no matter when you shop. This is just one example of how A&P does everything possible to make sure you get the best value for your money . . . always. Come see . . . come save!

Blue Devil Winning Streak Shattered by Wyandotte

By Sandy MacMechan, 11A

Winning 10 games consecutively and going on to 13 games without defeat, the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils lost to a strong and fired up Wyandotte team Friday night, 7-0.

This excellent record of 13 games without a defeat started back in the last football encounter of 1953, when the Devils upset the powerful Big Reds of Port Huron, 7-0.

The winning streak stretched to nine when the Pointers won all eight of their campaigns, including the State and B.C.L. Championships last year.

The winning streak was put up one more notch when the Devils won this season's opener. The streak was brought to a close, however, when Wyandotte tied the Pointers. The undefeated record was continued though, and lasted till the fourteenth game.

This football record is the best ever posted by Grosse Pointe. Coach Ed Wernet, his assistants, and this year's as well as the past two football squads, have something to be proud of.

Al Underwood received the Bears' kickoff on his own 20 and ran the ball back to his 41-yard line. On first down the Devils lost the ball to the Bears.

With third down and eleven to go, Quarterback Younkman threw a pass to Halfback Contino on the 30-yard line. It was good for a first down.

The Bears picked up another first down to bring the ball down to the 20. Younkman took to the air again. As the evening proceeded this was the leading ground gainer for the Bears and the one thing the Devils couldn't break up! This time the ball connected on the 11-yard line with Ed Antolovic who ran the pigskin to the 1. After two unsuccessful attempts to make a T.D., Halfback Contino went around his end and over the goal line. The Bear kick was good, and the same score stood at the end of the game 7-0.

Windy Bremer intercepted a partially blocked Wyandotte pass, and with Underwood running the ball from his 35 to the Dottes 41, the Devils were on the go. After picking up a few yards on the first down Stu McDonald made a terrific run to the 6-yard line. The Devils drove within inches of the goal line in the next three plays, but with an incomplete pass on fourth down they had to give the ball up and one of the Pointers' two touchdown attempts was brought to an end.

The Bears started to march again near the close of the second period after pulling a beautiful bootleg and a long pass. This was stopped by the Devil line.

The Pointers' backfield picked up a first down, running from their 20 to the 30 yard stripe. Underwood connected on a long pass downfield with Ritter, who caught the ball on the enemy's 22. MacDonald drove to the 16, but that's as far as the Devils got as the first half ended.

To the end of the game the large Grosse Pointe rooting section saw the Devils try again and again to start a march downfield and over the Bear goal line to no avail.

Long and short Wyandotte passes kept getting by the Devil pass defense and as a result they were constantly in Pointer territory. Because of superb playing by Grosse Pointe's 200 pound line the enemy did not score again nor did they need to. Their first period score won the game 7-0.

The Blue Devils will travel to Highland Park Friday night to play the last place Polar Bears; 8 o'clock will be kick-off time.

After snapping their 24 game losing streak by beating Edsel Ford in their opening season game, the Parkers have lost the rest of their engagements.

Although they lost to Fordson last Friday night by the score of 20-0, the score does not give credit to Highland Park for the fight they put up against the Tractors.

Little League Elects Officers

At a meeting on Monday, October 10, the board of governors of the Grosse Pointe Woods Little League elected officers for the 1956 season.

Officers elected were:—Lars V. Anderson, president; Harris H. Buell, vice-president; Wesley M. Rea, treasurer; Harold A. Hyer, secretary.

Other members serving on the board are: Edward J. Fay, Howard C. Neale, George J. Heidisch, Henry F. Weitenberner, Kenneth R. McLeod, Mack J. Phillips, William G. Raven.

The highly successful 1955 season was discussed and President Anderson expressed his appreciation to the many individuals and groups of the community who contributed both financial aid and time to this worthy youth project.

Tentative plans were made for an expansion of the League in 1956. Because of the great interest shown by over 400 boys in the 8 to 12 year age group this year, it is felt that an additional four teams are necessary to do the job adequately. This would give the league a total number of 24 playing teams.

St. Paul Loses To St. Martin

The St. Paul Lakers lost a heart-breaker last Saturday night, at Mack Park, by the score of 13-6. During the first half, the Lakers played inspired ball, pushing St. Martin's all over the field, but could manage only one touchdown.

This was scored by Norv Labadie on an eight-yard dash, over left-tackle. The try for point was short by inches and at the half St. Paul left the field leading 6-0.

The Lakers were pushed into a hole at the start of the second half from which they couldn't recover. In the fourth quarter, St. Martin finally broke the ice, scoring twice within eight minutes.

The first touchdown came on a short plunge and the second on a 47-yard pass play.

After the second touchdown the game was over except for a few desperation passes. Final score: St. Martin 13, St. Paul 6.

Race Tightens In Bowling Loop

The Bruce Wigle team, moved to a 3 point lead in the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League. Led by Charlie Nash's 533 series, the plumbers made a sweep of their games with the still pointless Adam-Simms team.

Barrett's managed to hang onto second place while losing 3 out of 4 points to the Lochmoor team. Bob O'Toole had the high series for Lochmoor with 536.

This gave Lochmoor a tie for third place along with Boutin's as they whipped Belding for 3 points, and Jack Groesbeck was splitting their match with Grosse Pointe Curtain.

Andy Carroll of Boutin's had the high three game series for the night, a 547. In the remaining match Revere took Turner Buick for 3 out of 4 points. High individual games were bowled by Andy Carroll, 213; Bob O'Toole, 205; Harvey Reid, 204; Bob Kehrer, 203; Len Johnson, 201.

Pointe Sword Club Team Wins

The Michigan Open Foil Team Championship, held October 16 at Cannon Recreation Center, was won by the Grosse Pointe Sword Club team of Greg Flynn, Jim Campoli and Gerry Fitzsimmons.

The club was defending champion and this is the fourth consecutive year it has won the event. Teams from the Salle de Tuscan, Ford Recreation, Lapeer, Wayne University, Lawrence Tech and Grosse Pointe competed.

The First Annual Canadian War Heroes Memorial Tournament was held in London, Ontario, October 8 and 9. This is to be a yearly event for fencers from the United States and Canada and is sponsored by the London Sword Club. Events are held in foil, sabre, epee and women's foil.

Greg Flynn won the John Labatt Trophy for Duelling Sword, taking first place in the epee, and also placed third in the foil event. The sabre event was won by a Montreal fencer and the foil by Cliff Olsen of Port Huron.

Mr. Flynn is an engineer with G. M. Research and lives at 366 Hillcrest road.

In 1954 the American Red Cross processed 1,158,000 cases for servicemen seeking Red Cross aid at military installations and hospitals, in the states and over-

Babe Ruth League Trophy To be Shown in Schools

The James T. Barnes Trophy, symbol of the championship of the Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League, will soon be on display in schools of the Grosse Pointe area.

The trophy awarded personally by Mr. Barnes at an awards dinner in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church on October 12, will be rotated among the schools, including Grosse Pointe High School and Parcels Junior High.

The Barnes trophy was the top award among many given at the dinner for team and individual accomplishments.

The Tigers won the Barnes trophy this year, along with individual trophies presented by Mervyn Gaskin, whose company sponsored the Tigers.

State Babe Ruth Director Albert W. Bates presented awards to members of the league's all-star team, which won the runner-up spot in the state tournament last July.

The Houston Greens, winners of the farm system championship under Manager Robert Ryan, were given awards by Don DeLozier, players' agent.

Bill Rohloff, of the Senators, won the batting award with a .519 average. Bob Wheeler, of the Tigers, took the pitching trophy with an 8-2 record.

Hal Middlesworth, Free Press sports writer, and Doc Finkell, Detroit Tigers public relations director, shared speaking honors at the dinner. Also on the program were Tiger Scout Don Lund, Player Reno Bertola, and Ed Wernet, Grosse Pointe High School baseball and football coach. Mark Beltaire, Free Press columnist, was toastmaster, and Carl B. Wheeler, general chairman.

The Bon Secours Hospital has appealed to the Grosse Pointe City Council in its capacity as Board of Appeals on zoning for approval of its application for a building permit to erect an addition, which will serve as a Chapel, Convent and Science or Lecture Hall, upon the area within the hospital site at the corner of Cadieux Road and Caroline Avenue, in the place of the old frame residence now being removed.
At its regular meeting October 17, 1955, the City Council acting as Board of Appeals, pursuant to Section 5 of Act No. 207 of P. who, where and whatnot

by wboozit

They chose blue: MRS. JAMES QUELLO—a vivid and pretty picture in V-necked knit dress of royal blue with wide scarlet leather belt; careening red flower topped her matching blue felt hat; MRS. PHILIP D. DEXTER—attractive as always, wearing a wool two-piece just a shade lighter than royal blue, tucked a blue print on white scarf at the V-neckline; her pillbox chapeau in gray-blue tone edged all around with small purple and red flowers.

They chose brown: MRS. A. BODYCOMBE—in a brown taffeta dress and jacket with three-quarter sleeves, brown velvet trimming the deep neckline of the dress and the jacket collar and even a ribbon of velvet around her brown chapeau; MRS. LAWRENCE TERBRUEGGEN—her brown velvet hat reminiscent of the winged cap Mercury always wears, in handsome dark brown suit-dress, the jacket dotted in mustard yellow and bright floral tie in matching yellow at neckline.

Excuse the pun please, if we "pointe with pride" to Mrs. Bodycombe, who recently completed writing words and music for a grass-roots opera, the first written locally, and very possibly, the first nationally, for an all-woman cast. Tuesday Musicales will present the opera in March of next year.

MRS. WHITNEY COLLINS wore a suit pin-checked in black and white, and velvet golf-styled hat to a recent luncheon meeting. Tiny pearl buttons clasped the cuffs of her sheer white nylon blouse and marched down the blouse front as well.

PILFERINGS

Bennett Cerf tells of the three deaf gentlemen on a train bound for London. "What station is this?" inquired the first gentlemen, at a stop.

"Wembley," answered the guard.

"Heavens!" said the second. "I thought it was Thursday!"

"So am I," exclaimed the third. "Let's all have a drink!"

A meek little man in a restaurant timidly touched the arm of a man putting on a coat. "Excuse me," he said, "but do you happen to be Mr. Smith of Newcastle?"

"No, I'm not," the man answered impatiently.

"Oh—er—well," stammered the first man, "you see, I am, and that's his overcoat you're putting on."

More than 100 Washington notables attended a party one night in honor of Titus Oates in the Hotel Statler's South American Room. The distinguished guests were milling around, sipping cocktails and looking for the guest of honor, when each was given a slip of paper which read:

"Mr. Oates regrets he will be unable to swill with us today. If you wish to know why, we refer you to page 1111 of Webster's Biographical Dictionary which states: 'Oates, Titus, 1649-1705. English impostor and fabricator of the Popish plot.'"

The paper went on to say that Oates' forgery of the plot, whereby Catholics were supposedly pledged to massacre Protestants, burn London, and assassinate the king, resulted in the death of about 35 persons. Sentenced to life imprisonment for perjury, he was later released by William of Orange.

The party was the idea of George Dixon, Washington newspaperman, who wanted to prove that people in Washington will attend a party for anyone.

Commencing a discussion on the atomic theory, the instructor of a West Point physics class wrote an equation on the board and stated that a certain number of electrons were involved. From this he developed an entire board full of equations, winding up at the bottom with, "So you see we have five less electrons than at the start. What has become of them?"

Not a sound came from the class. Imperiously the instructor asked again, "Gentlemen, where are those electrons?"

It was time for action, and from a rear seat came a voice in gruff command: "Don't nobody leave dis room!"

On location for a picture, the entire movie company was amazed at the unflinching weather predictions made by an old Indian. He was consulted daily and his forecasts proved reliable. Then one day he refused to predict the weather.

"Is anything wrong?" the director inquired.

"Yes," said the Indian, "radio broke."

A Columbia University professor spent an evening with a colleague and his wife, and the conversation was spirited until about 2 o'clock in the morning.

After several elaborate yawns had been ignored, the colleague said, "George, I hate to put you out, but I have a 9 o'clock class in the morning."

"Good heavens," said George, blushing violently. "I thought YOU were at MY house!"

Pointer of Interest

DR. FRANK FITT OF GROSSE POINTE MEMORIAL CHURCH

By Ann Schrage

In less than three months Dr. Frank Fitt will celebrate his twenty-fifth anniversary as minister of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. For the last 15 years he has been a very warm supporter of Alcoholics Anonymous, an organization which, beginning in Akron, Ohio, in 1935, with two men, now has over 100,000 members and 4,500 branches all over the world.

His interest was aroused when a friend and parishioner, a victim of alcohol, who had been in and out of hospitals and other institutions for many years, was restored to sobriety and usefulness by A.A. Dr. Fitt decided that any movement which succeeded so markedly with an individual when his own efforts had been so unavailing was worth looking into.

Since then his interest has steadily increased. Twice a week several groups of men and women alcoholics meet in the church house. From the original group which began more than a dozen years ago have sprung a number of other groups which meet elsewhere in the Grosse Pointe area.

How A.A. Works
No outsider is permitted to attend what is called a closed A.A. meeting unless he has a special claim. The open meetings welcome the wives and husbands and friends of the members and any others who have a serious interest. Closed meetings are held on Tuesday and open meetings on Friday nights. Following the meetings there is always a period of fellowship marked by light refreshments, earnest conversation and, every now and then, hearty laughter. The atmosphere is characterized by honesty, informality, a sense of deliverance and a strong spiritual note.

Dr. Fitt asserted that more than any other type of religious meeting he has attended the A.A. group meetings have given him an appreciation of what the early Christian groups around the eastern Mediterranean in the first century must have been like.

That A.A. is badly needed is evidenced by the fact that of the 65 million persons in the United States who use alcoholic beverages, at least four million, one out of every sixteen alcohol users, are the victims of this habit. Their drinking is not merely a factor, but a problem, in their living, and a large percentage of automobile fatalities offer a tragic proof of how an alcoholic can be a social menace. Moreover, the number of problem drinkers in this country, especially among women, is increasing at the alarming rate of 250,000 a year.

The New Attitude
Formerly the alcoholic was condemned by most people as a weak person. The preacher regarded him as a sinner and the doctor was content to have him

"dried out" at the hospital. In recent years both the clergy and the medical profession have recognized that the problem drinker is essentially a sick person and the liquor which deteriorates his personality is the surface indication of conflicts and conditions below the surface, of which the victim himself most of the time is unaware and before which he is helpless.

In other words, the alcoholic, for whom one drink is always one drink too many and for whom a thousand drinks are never enough, is a sick man rather than a sinner.

Many varying approaches, medical, psychological and spiritual, generally in combination, are being worked out for this age old problem. The A.A. has probably the highest percentage of successful results. Dr. Fitt asserts that he has never known a case of complete failure when the alcoholic gave full co-operation. On the other hand, across the last decade, he has had opportunity to observe dozens and dozens of cases in which men and women, terribly harmed by liquor, have achieved sobriety with personalities transformed and renewed value as members of a family and workers for the common good.

A Book To Read

Dr. Fitt is anxious to give as wide publicity as he can to a book published only a few weeks ago which provides very full information on the liquor problem. The title is "How to Live Without Liquor." The author is Dr. Ralph A. Habas. The publisher is Farrar, Straus and Cudahy. The price is $2.50. All those who are interested in the problem of alcoholism should study this book, its tests and recommendations.

Recovery, Incorporated

About two years ago Dr. Fitt offered hospitality of space, in the church house to a group of members who belong to Recovery, Incorporated. This movement, in particular to men and women who suffer from a sense of inadequacy, are plagued by fears and seem to be unable to find a source of lasting happiness. Recovery, Incorporated, was originated by a Chicago psychiatrist who is the author of the textbook of the movement. The main resemblance to A.A. is that both make a very effective use of group therapy. The ideal number for a group is from twenty-five to thirty. Although so recent in its origin Recovery, Incorporated, is already spreading far and wide across the country. The local group meets each Monday afternoon.

Although Dr. Fitt preferred us the write about two great humanitarian groups we wish also to inject a personal note about him.

Born in Ireland

Born in the southern part of Ireland of English parents, Dr. Fitt has been in America since early childhood.

To prepare for his career he studied and was graduated from Williams College and the Union Theological Seminary, and did post graduate work in Columbia University.

His career in the church started with missionary work in the industrial section—hat factories, he recalls—of Orange, N.J.

Mrs. Fitt is a daughter of an army officer and the former Harriet Bradley. They were married in Lake George, N.Y. in 1918 just prior to Dr. Fitt's appointment to the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, Highland Park, Illinois, after which he came to Grosse Pointe Memorial Church in January 1931.

Conscience Dictates

Dr. Fitt likes to write, read and play golf—that is play as much golf as his conscience will permit. He is a prolific writer with many published articles in religious publications, and a booklet widely distributed among A.A. members. His latest effort, still unpublished, is an article on the similarity in character of two great men whom he admires:

Invention Wins Pointer Prize

Lee E. Allgood of 949 Vernier road, was recently awarded first prize in the annual cash awards made by the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation, Cleveland, O.

Allgood was first among a list of 57 student engineers in 31 different engineering schools to share the $5,000 given for 1955. The first prize was $1,250.

Allgood, a senior at the University of Michigan, designed a stamping die of welded construction suitable for low production quantities.

Winston Churchill and Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

Dr. and Mrs. Fitt have a daughter and a son, Alfred B. Fitt, who is a legal advisor to Governor Williams, and who, with his wife and three children, lives in Lansing. Their daughter Mary is now Mrs. Gerald McCarthy, who makes her home with her husband and three children in Ypsilanti.

It would take another page to write and tell of all the comments of praises we have heard from Dr. Fitt's many friends and his parishioners. But we will have to give you capsule comments: "A dynamic speaker," "He is tireless in his efforts," "He has helped our group get started," "He is a great spiritual help to me," etc.

Since we know of his many activities serving on many boards and committees in the community we wish to add our congratulations to Dr. Fitt on the approaching 25th anniversary of his service to his church and our Grosse Pointe.

Right off the bat this week we have a glitter idea. Cable stitch bolero sweaters take on an evening look when they're trimmed with jewel-encrusted lace or bugle beading. Glowing gift idea, we think. These gay sweaters are featured at Walton-Pierce, 17100-10-12 Kercheval, in the village. Tags read twenty-five dollars and thirty-nine ninety-five.

Never fail. It's always on Sunday night that your projector light burns out, isn't it? Just when you can't possibly run out and replace it. Why not get a spare from the Camera Center, the next time you are in the village? Go even further. Take your projector to be cleaned and repaired. Wonderful service.

If you are a bride, and even if you aren't, consider this. It is a pure nylon georgette gown abundantly trimmed in Alencon hand run lace . . . cut full and flowing . . . with permanent accordion pleats and costs one hundred and sixty-nine dollars. Real dreamy for a trousseau. The price includes the robe, m'chears. Sheath or bouffant petticoats and slips range in price from three ninety-five to thirty-nine ninety-five. If you haven't seen the symphony in blue, that is Florence Riley's window, this week . . . do. It is chock full of specialties of the house . . . and full of gift ideas. 371 Fisher road.

Time's wastin'. If you want the fun of putting the personal touch to your Christmas gifts . . . with monograms and scads of brilliant detailing, the time to order them is right now. Beads, jewels, fine threads . . . and the clever hands in the work-rooms at Margaret Rice's turn out handsome monogrammed gifts. Even a ribbon or a piece of tinsel dresses up a cashmere . . . and it's the hand-detailing that makes the gift more precious. It could be a sweater, a blouse, a skirt or a pair of Bermuda shorts, slacks, or a dress from her gift collection. 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

Italian designer, Countess Mara, is having a dress rehearsal at present. And it comes in handy, too . . . just prior to the big parties and the affairs when they will (as they were intended,) adorn the men's white shirts. They are showing, at Kilgore and Hurd this week, Countess Mara ties called "Trillico" because they can be worn three ways. Each one is so fine, so delicate, shows incomparable mastery of the needle. Each is twenty dollars. In passing we found some English imported wool slip overs for him. And for her we found smart warm wool gloves fashioned of cotton and wool. Good for any kind of casual gadding. 92 Kercheval.

It's almost November 1st. And we won't have to say a word after you've seen the November 1st issue of Vogue because the photograph will speak for itself. It will picture dramatic, debonaire, taper pants by Diva, superbly tailored by Evan-Picone . . . in Verona, the finest of Italian velveteens. They will be featured at Margaret Rice's. And to wear with your slacks or tapered pants we found a silk shirt with Japanese print designs shot through with rhinestones. Oh yes, three quarter length sleeves and a mandarin collar. 76 Kercheval.

New in town . . . to it's female population in any event . . . are the new match mates in the clan plaid wool shirts, berets, and scarves. The skirts pick up one color such as brown, tan, gray, blue or green. Two pleats in front and two in back leaves plenty of room for action. These are the kind of fashions you will wear skiing . . . skating . . . or in the country. This new elegance in suburban-urban fashions are currently being shown at the S. Stein and Co., in the village.

When it comes to skirts it is possible to get away from the usual at Walton-Pierce for they are DIFFERENT. There is real personality in these. For instance . . . a herringbone tweed with embroidered border; bold plaid country skirts, some fringed . . . a tweed with it's own contour belt . . . wool with all-over embroidery . . . wrap skirts . . . and Bernhard Altmann bon-bon flannels. These from ten ninety-five to sixty-nine ninety-five . . . 17100-10-12 Kercheval, in the village.

Autumn in Grosse Pointe does different things to different people. Some people get awfully peppy others get worn. We're among the people who are awfully peppy because we had our carpeting cleaned this week. It was a gentle shampoo and now it's a fresh as when it was brand new. We had it de-grimed by Queen Cleaners and Dyers. They have two branches in the Pointe 16912 Kercheval, in the village, 19834 Mack, in the woods. For pick-up call WO. 5-6100.

Shop for Handicapped Under New Management

Detroit League for the Handicapped and the Junior League of Detroit recently announced the transfer of the Junior League Shop of Grosse Pointe, Inc., to the League Shop, Inc.

Two anonymous philanthropists have taken over the new League Shop on Kercheval avenue. The project aims to aid both old and young handicapped persons who are housebound. Many others have suffered from polio, arthritis, cerebral palsy, heart disease or nerve injuries.

Under the direction of instructors from Detroit League for the Handicapped, the handicapped create handmade articles and thus provide for a part of their support. The League Shop provides an outlet for these articles.
