HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, October 27
PRESIDENT EISENHOWER remarked that real peace, which is being discussed in Geneva today, will be up to the Soviet Union. The convalescing President said "Peaceful progress for which the world longs," can be achieved in Geneva if the Soviet matches the sincerity of the Western Powers, the United States, Britain and France.

He recalled that he said after the July conference of government chiefs that the "acid test" of Russian sincerity will come out at the foreign ministers meeting.

FRANCE'S PREMIER Edgar Faure received a double setback from the National Assembly and immediately demanded a vote of confidence. The setbacks came during debates on general government policies. The confidence ballot will be taken tomorrow.

The Premier recently called for advancing of the next national election date from next June to December of this year. The Assembly's revolt appears to stem from the call for the election and bad news for France all over the world.

SOUTH VIETNAM, during solemn ceremonies, was proclaimed a republic and Premier Ngo Dinh Diem became its first president. During a national election, in which almost five million eligible voters went to the polls, Emperor Bao Dai was ousted as head of state and Diem was put in his place.

The referendum was held last Sunday. Diem won 98.2 per cent of the votes. The new government was immediately recognized by the United States.

Friday, October 28
THE FOREIGN MINISTERS of the Big Four nations have reached a deadlock at their meeting in Geneva. The deadlock concerns issues of European security and the re-unification of Germany. However, all paid tribute to world peace. They also agreed unanimously on one thing—a message to President Eisenhower, expressing hopes for his speedy recovery.

RUSSIAN SCIENTISTS concede that their country is trailing in A-power. One scientist said that Russia is so far behind the United States, in certain types of atomic power, there was no point in discussing it.

Proclaim Catholic Youth Week at St. Paul High

Ceremonies held at St. Paul High School on Friday, October 28, ushered in the observance of Catholic Youth Week from October 30 to November 6. CONGRESSMAN LOUIS C. RABAUT discusses the proclamation with the REV. FR. A. L. MELVIN as TERRY HUTTON, left, BEVERLY GRAY and RICHARD LETSCHER look on.

Incumbents All Win in City Election

Only 20 Percent of Qualified Electors Bother to Go to Polls

Approximately 775 City electors showed up at the polls on Tuesday, November 1, to return all incumbents to another term of office.

The number of voters who took advantage of their ballot-casting privilege comprised about 20 per cent of the 4,200 registered voters of the community.

The only office challenged was for that of councilman; the other offices were unopposed.

Justice's Unopposed Returned for four year terms as justices of the peace were Douglas Paterson, who received 645 votes; and Joseph P. Uvick who was given 605.

Ceremony at St. Paul High Opens Annual Observance

Official Proclamation Presented by Congressman Louis C. Rabaut to Launch Period of Special Activities

Pauline eagerly awaited Congress Louis C. Rabaut's official proclamation which ushered in Catholic Youth Week at St. Paul High School.

All over the nation Catholic teenagers are engaged in civic and religious activities between October 30 and November 6.

Richard Letscher, student chairman for the week's program, officially received the proclamation and presented it to the student body.

Highlight of the opening rally was the group singing of "I Pledge Allegiance," sponsored by the Congressman when the words "under God" were added to our Pledge to the flag.

Farms Lets Bids to Fix Bad Streets

Approves Expenditure of $50,000 for Temporary Repairs Immediately

During an extremely brief meeting held on Monday, October 31, the Farms council accepted three low bids totaling about $50,000 for temporary repairing of streets, curbs and so on, damaged by the recent sewer and water main installations.

Farm City Manager Harry Furton disclosed that contracts were approved by the council within a matter of about 20 minutes after recommendations were made.

Mr. Furton stated that the contractors will work together, doing their respective jobs, and in hopes the entire repair project can be completed before winter sets in.

The Sea Explorer Scouts of Ship 690 are busy these days preparing their newest possession, a 52-foot ketch, for the winter and making plans for their winter's activity of seamanship study which will ready them for real sailing action next season.

Big Growth Gives Woods Estimated 16,000 Population

The Woods continues to be the fastest growing Pointe community, it was disclosed by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, in its most recent report on population estimates.

Estimates were presented for the third consecutive year for the July 1 population of units of government in the Detroit region which consists of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties (which comprise the Standard Detroit Metropolitan Area, as defined by the U. S. Bureau of Census), plus the four eastern townships of Washtenaw County that are included within the bounds of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

Woods Beats Out Park The report showed that the Woods is well ahead of the Park, population-wise, and the Woods' gains in the past five years far outstrip the Park.

Other Pointe Populations The 1950 population of the Farms was 9,410; the City, 6,283, and the Shores, 1,014. Since then, the Farms gained 2,390, or 25.4 percent; the City, 417, or 6.6 percent, and the Shores, 526, or 51.9 percent.

Wayne County's population in 1950 was 2,435,235, and in 1955 it is 2,693,000, a gain of 257,765, or 10.6 percent.

The standard Metropolitan area total for 1950 was 3,016,197; now it is 3,515,000, gaining 498,803, or 16.5 percent in the past five years.

Driver Injured In Collision A Woods man suffered head and chest injuries when his car collided with another at Mack avenue and Cadieux road, on Sunday, October 30, a Park police accident report showed.

Wayne O'Neil, 22, of 1590 Bournemouth, driving east on Mack, struck the rear end of a car driven by Jack Lucido, 21, of 2008 Van Antwerp, also going east on Mack.

Ceremonies Conducted By City, Farms

Mayors Turn on Valve Tying In Enlarged Systems at Fisher Road Border

The new 20-year water supply contract between the Farms and the City, went into effect on Tuesday, November 1, it was disclosed by Farms City Manager Harry Furton.

During ceremonies which took place at 9 a.m., Tuesday, Farms Mayor William Connolly and City Mayor Fred W. Parker, Jr., jointly turned on the valve which set the water pouring into the new main laid down by the City. The valve is located at Ridge-Waterloo and Fisher (Waterloo becomes Ridge road at the City-Farms boundary on Fisher road).

Filter Beds Finished It was disclosed that last week the Farms had completed its installation of equipment in its new filter beds at Moross and Lake Shore roads; and the City completed the installation of new water mains which will increase its water supply from the Farms.

Price Goes Up With the signing of the new contract, the City will have to pay the Farms 75.6 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of water, as against the old rate of 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, Mr. Furton said.

Park Police Nab Youthful Thieves The sharp eyes of a Park police officer, a "stake out," and a liking for a particular car, brought about the arrest of two car thieves, one 14 and the other 13 years old, on Friday, October 28.

The thieves, both boys, had stolen six cars, for joy-riding, from the parking lot of Al Green's Restaurant, Jefferson and Beaconsfield, over a period of two months, Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers revealed.

The last car was stolen on Monday, October 24, by the boys, who liked it so much, they kept it, rather than "ditching" it somewhere as they had done with the others. The other five cars have since been recovered.

Arrest Thief Who Admits 31 Burglaries

Two Austin High Football Players Capture Crook with Suitcase Full of Loot

A burglar arrested by Detroit police on Thursday, October 27, with the aid of two high school football players, turned out to be the one sought by Park police for three burglaries in that city.

Park police Chief Arthur Louwers disclosed that the arrest of Raymond Goley, 50, no known address, cleared three burglary cases in the Park.

27 Years in Prison Goley, who has spent 27 years of his life in prison, is back in jail, still held by Detroit authorities, after two Austin Catholic high school football players, Walter Mehler of 4537 Bishop, and James Hinchey of 9842 Yorkshire, both 17 and both of Detroit, surprised Goley coming out of the Mehler home.

The youths were not practicing football, so they decided to go home early. As Hinchey stopped his car near the Mehler home, they saw a man emerging from the house, carrying a suitcase.

Car Smashup Injures Two

Two persons were injured when a car crashed into a tree at the foot of Lakeland on Wednesday, October 26, a City police accident report revealed.

According to the report, Eric Manfred, 50, of 10211 Greensboro, Detroit, driver of the car, while attempting to make a left hand turn at the foot of Lakeland, lost control of the car when he stepped on the gas pedal instead of the brakes.

The car jumped the curb and smashed into a tree on the west side of the road, just south of 203 Lakeland.

Manfred and a passenger in his car, Herta Bartling, 39, of 843 Nottingham, were taken to Bon Secours Hospital, Manfred with lacerations on his head and hands, and the woman with a broken jaw.

The report showed that the car traveled 133 feet before striking the tree.

Explorer Scouts Given Sail Boat

The Sea Explorer Scouts of Ship 690 are busy these days preparing their newest possession, a 52-foot ketch, for the winter and making plans for their winter's activity of seamanship study which will ready them for real sailing action next season.

The new vessel is the gift of Judge Robert S. Marx of Cincinnati, who presented the ketch, the Panchara, III, to the Detroit Council, Boy Scouts of America, who in turn have assigned it to the Grosse Pointe Sea Explorer Ship 690, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club.

The Panchara III will be renamed the Resolute. She will be wintered at the Bayview Yacht Club, whose members are giving every assistance to the Scouts in their new venture.

Exchange Club President Clements L. Martin and Cletus A. Werthman are working closely with the club's Sea Scout committee, Albert Bertel, William Berno, James Eason, and Robert Wood, to solve the many problems that possession of a 52-foot ketch can produce.

Donald A. Martin of Berkshire road, skipper of Sea Scout Ship 690, said "A lot of fellows are going to learn real sailing aboard her. She's a fine, trim vessel and we'll have her out every weekend next season."

Decorations Vanish

Farms police took a report from James Fee of 376 Chalfonte, on Monday, October 31, in which it was complained that someone had stolen three pumpkins with electric lights inside of them from the front of his house.

INJURED IN FALL Mrs. Anne M. Warfield of 20619 Alger, St. Clair Shores, was taken to St. John's Hospital on Friday, October 28, by Farms police, after she fell in a Mack avenue supermarket and injured her right arm.

Adult Education Activities Boasting Enrollment of 1800 Enrollments in the adult education activities sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools show an increase of 20 percent over those of a year ago made to the Board by Superintendent Bushong, an increase of 300 over the 1500 who were registered at the first of November, 1954. Some 37 class sections are being taught by 68 instructors.

Although the quality of instruction and the capability of instructors has always been high, Superintendent expressed the feeling that the present staff in the adult program is exceptionally well trained for teaching.

In addition to the 1800 adults in the program directed by Forrest Geary, Director of Community Sections, seven sections of young swimmers, mostly in the 7-10 age group, have an enrollment of 550 under 13 instructors. This brings the enrollment total to 2,350 and the teacher total to 81 in 104 class sections under the program.

Traffic Light Promised At Jefferson and Cadieux

The Wayne County Road Commission will speed up the installation of a traffic light at East Jefferson and Cadieux, it was disclosed by Grosse Pointe City Clerk Norbert Neff.

The vitally needed light, which was not to have been installed until sometime in 1957 because of lack of funds appropriated in the Commission budget, was promised for this year through the intercession of Chester Carpenter, former City councilman, who represents the City on the County Board of Supervisors, and is a Councilman Emeritus because of his long service.

Halloween Kids Get Rare Treat

T. F. Endres of 727 Lakepointe avenue had a new surprise for the beggars and tricksters who appeared at his door on Halloween.

For the past three years he has been taking movies of the neighborhood children who called at his door on Halloween.

Leaves Purse at Game

Violet Zakarian of 5410 Williamson, Dearborn, called Farms police on Saturday, October 29, and asked them to look for her purse, which she had left under a seat during a football game at Grosse Pointe High School.

The search was unsuccessful. The purse contained a white gold wrist watch, a driver's license and personal papers.

Michigan State Enrollment Tops

EAST LANSING—Michigan State University begins its second century of educational service with the largest student enrollment in its history.

Enrollments during registration week rose to an all-time high of 18,729. That figure represents almost 500 more students than the previous record of 16,245 in the fall term of 1949. It is approximately 1,500 higher than last fall.

Registrar Robert S. Linton said late registrations could swell total enrollment to 17,000, compared to the final total of 15,525 last year at the same time.

And at Michigan State, it's men two to one. M.S.U. coeds found themselves outnumbered by 11,376 to 5,353 at the end of registration week.

The veteran enrollment on campus has shifted almost completely from World War II GI's to Korean War veterans. Only 97 remaining World War II veterans are enrolled at M.S.U. — there were thousands on campus following war's end—but the crop of Korean veteran students jumped from last year's 1,450 total to 2,423 this year.

Michigan was first in the nation in the development of roadside parks and picnic tables.

Arrest Thief

asked how come a professional such as he, permitted two youths to catch him. Whereupon Goley remarked that Mehler and Hinchev looked like "pretty big boys" to him.

The three burglaries cleared in the Park, Chief Louwers revealed, were at the homes of Charles Thiede, 1410 Berkshire, on August 20; Stanley Thompson, 1867 Balfour, on September 22, and F. D. Everts, 1023 Bishop road, which was entered twice, on October 4 and 6.

Goley told police that he sold all the loot and lost the money on races. "He refused to state to whom he had turned over his stolen property, other than the few items he had pawned."

Traffic Light

He said the cost will be approximately $1,200, half of which will be paid for by the City and the Park, whose city boundaries meet at Jefferson and Cadieux, and the other half will be borne by the county.

Mr. Neff also revealed that Mr. Carpenter will represent the City, which with other communities in the Detroit area, have been invited to participate in discussions with the Detroit Port Commission, to be held in the Veterans Memorial Building on Thursday, November 10.

The City Clerk said he has every confidence in the capabilities of Mr. Carpenter as the City's representative at the meeting.

Sister of Famous Author Successful Book Reviewer

Grosse Pointe Rotarians gave their rapt and undivided attention during an initial book review-lecture presented by the sister of America's foremost writer, following a luncheon meeting held in the War Memorial on Monday, October 31.

Mrs. Marcelline Hemingway Sanford of 279 Hillcrest, whose brother Ernest Hemingway, is one of America's best known writers, was the guest speaker at the Rotary meeting.

The topic of her review was the book "Mercy of the Court" by Monica E. Porter, local writer and one-time news reporter for a Pontiac daily paper.

Mrs. Sanford, who admitted that this was the first time she lectured before an all-male group, so dramatically sketched the review that her audience was held spellbound.

Robert Orr, head of the Grosse Pointe Library system, in a formal introduction, disclosed to the Rotarians that Mrs. Sanford, has for the past seven years lectured on the theater from coast to coast, under the direction of a New York lecture bureau. He said that the book review is the first she has ever given, adding that she had never reviewed any of her brother's books.

Warming to her subject, Mrs. Sanford likened the book to a play "Bad Seed" in which she pointed out certain similarities in the plots and characters. However, she stressed, the book must be read first before the play can be appreciated.

The author of the book deals with the problem of juvenile delinquency. Her material was gathered from her experience as a court reporter in Pontiac courts and of knowledge of a judge whose humane understanding and handling of one particular case of a juvenile, nearly jeopardized his judicial career.

Mrs. Sanford said the book was not written in a literary, but more in a journalistic style and recommends reading of the book by parents, lawyers and others interested in solving the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Before taking up her lecturing career, Mrs. Sanford, wife of Sterling S. Sanford, was in active social work at the famed Hull House and Firman House in Chicago; was director of Young People's work for a suburban Chicago church and worked with the out-patient clinic of Cook County Hospital.

She has been an active director of Our Friends of the Library Group of Grosse Pointe and participates in many other civic activities.

Following the Rotary lecture, President Glenn Pratt presented Mrs. Sanford with the International Rotary's book "Service Is My Business" containing the fundamentals of Rotary and what it stands for, as a souvenir of her appearance at the meeting.

Library Family Film Night To Feature Locks at Soo

Grosse Pointe Public Library's Family Film night for November is scheduled for Friday evening, November 4, at 7:30 o'clock. The showing will be presented in the meeting room of the Central Library at Kercheval and Fisher.

Featured on the program will be the color film, THE LOCKS OF SAULT STE. MARIE. Produced to mark the centennial year of the Soo Locks, it documents the story of their development, operation, and economic importance.

The film shows how in 1819 Brule, in his search for the legendary Northwest Passage, discovered the rapids of the St. Mary's River; how these rapids for many years remained a barrier to the transportation and industrial use of the vast resources of the Lake Superior area; how the early lake vessels were portaged around the rapids with great difficulty over a log road; how Charles Harvey revolutionized this process by the development of the first lock in 1855; and how in succeeding years larger locks were constructed for larger ships and greater shipping.

The locks are shown to be a concrete funnel through which pass millions of tons of iron ore, shiploads of petroleum, staggering loads of grain, and other resources which fill the demands of great industries scattered along the lower lakes. The locks are described as the key to the greatest inland water route in the world, a fabulous marine super-highway, which has played a vital role in the growth of our nation.

Second feature on the program will be TRAVEL ROYAL which portrays some parts of the British way of life as seen through the eyes of three aircraft crew members flying to Britain.

For some "home" means Scotland and the Highland Games, or Wales and its music; for others England with its greenness, Stratford-on-Avon, Royal Ascot, Wimbledon, and London Town with its lavish pageantry. The picturing of these highlights of the British Isles makes for a scenic tour of the outstanding beauty spots of the kingdom.

The Library extends a cordial invitation to its patrons to attend this program; school children are invited to attend if accompanied by a parent or responsible adult.

St. Peter's Altar Society To See Toy Demonstration

A toy demonstration will be held Thursday, November 10, at 8 p.m. by the Rosedale Group of St. Peter's Altar Society in the Parish Hall, Vernier and Beaconsfield.

The lecture is open to the members of the organization and their families, salesmen of the association, and to the general public. There is no admission charge.

Mr. Ferry's talk, complete with photographs and slides, will be held immediately after the 12 p.m. business meeting of the Association.

Eating is no longer a matter of taste—every bite becomes a matter of cost.

To Hear Songs Of Folk Singer

Earl Gormaine, well-known Detroit folk singer and his daughter, Patty, will be presented at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church at 17440 E. Jefferson on Sunday, November 6, at 7:45 p.m. There is no admission charge and everyone is welcome.

He calls his recital "Songs That Built a Nation" and sings in accompaniment to his five string banjo, songs that trace the westward expansion of our country from Ohio days, through the Appalachians, the Plain states to the discovery of gold in California and the settling of ranch country.

Mr. Gormaine says that unlike Irish folk songs that are humorous, and English songs that are witty, it is the blues content of American songs that are their distinctive flavor. Most make light of their troubles, but most are expressive of troubles.

Mr. Gormaine will comment on the historical value of the lyrics he sings.

Harper Woods Bonds Bought

A group of six firms on Wednesday night, October 26, bought $1,500,000 of bonds issued by the School District of the City of Harper Woods.

The bonds, maturing in from two to 25 years, bear coupon rates of 4, 3½ and 3 per cent and are reoffered at prices yielding from 1.85 to 3.05 per cent. They cost the district an average interest of 2.04 per cent.

The Harper Woods district consists of a major portion of the City of Harper Woods and a small portion of the adjoining City of Grosse Pointe Woods. It contains an area of approximately 2.5 square miles bordering on the northeast city limits of Detroit. Although essentially a residential area, it has substantial commercial development along Harper avenue and contains the site of the $20,000,000 Eastland Shopping Center.

Money from the sale of the bonds is to be used for construction of a new junior high school building to meet the requirements of an increase in population from an estimated 6,000 in 1950 to 15,400 in 1955.

Residents Asked to Donate Toys for Handicapped Kids

Lying around unused in yards, garages, basements or attics of Grosse Pointe homes are a number of items which would be very useful to the Foundation for Exceptional Children, Inc. of Grosse Pointe.

For this reason, an appeal is being made to the community. President Barbara Bockstanz of the Foundation's Board of Trustees has released an alphabetical list of toys and tools, equipment and various articles needed for its program. In doing so, Mrs. Bockstanz urged interested citizens to provide only items in usable condition since the Foundation is unable to repair those which are broken or badly worn.

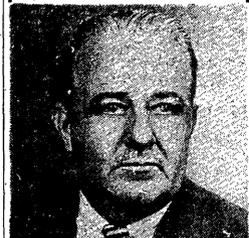

Among the things needed are: Animals, farm and wild, of wood, cardboard, rubber and plastic; Balls, large and small, of rubber and plastic; Bams; Bicycle, small; Costumes, for plays and make-believe; Jigsaw, Kiln; Playhouse, indoor and outdoor; Projectors, movie and slide; Puppets, hand; Puzzles; Recorder, tape.

The large items—such as the movie projector, record player and electric refrigerator—might be considered by service clubs or community organizations for possible service projects. "We hope," declared Mrs. Bockstanz, "that the community will look around and find most of the listed items."

For contributions call Mrs. Bockstanz at TUxedo 2-8816 or the Quonset building at TUxedo 5-8660.

It's Up the Road

EXCITING things are always happening ... not just Michigan winning all the football games ... but mums ... blue Continentals ... frost on the pumpkins. And right along with all this comes the famous Madiera Wine of Kings, Crown Sercial, the smooth, dry, rich, luscious wine that won Captain McCutchens the $64,000 question. Ah, and for Champagne-lovers there is the Hanns Kornell, third generation champagne ... this was selected by Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., to be served exclusively at a recent United Nations Banquet in San Francisco. Served at the Coronation was Crown Malmsey ... semi-sweet, smooth and delicious ... Harvey's Bristol Cream type Sherry ... found where exciting things are happening ... on Fisher Road ... at Farms Market. TU. 2-5100.

WALK right in number 371 Fisher Road and view the imports from Gustave of the Virgin Isles. They are the beautiful but practical slippers. Cha-Cha's are red velvet with gold trim ... Cathedral's are white velvet with gold ... and as pretty as the name. But should you prefer leather casuals by Rip-on find those along with delightfully hand-detailed mules. You'll warm up to the many Christmas items now being displayed ... like brushed rayon and chalis nighties ... and the endless selection of robes and lingerie. It's Florence Riley's.

WHAT'S new under the sun? It's a new line, a new movement. Swirls here will have their pretty whirl in the fast changing fashion picture. It's a new hair-do as fashioned by the hair specialists at the Ann-Louise Beauty Salon ... a swirling movement finishing in deep waves that blend into the very definite swirl pattern of the back. It's here that you can help yourself from head to toe pampering. Come see ... 405 Fisher Road at St. Paul. TU. 2-7511.

BELLS ... sequins ... snowmen ... bows ... reindeers ... in the form of sew-on and iron-on appliques make their debut at Yarncraft this week. These make the idea of do-it-yourself decorating of tablecloths and clothes most attractive. And now, they have felt by the yard. Yarncraft, 343 Fisher Road.

LET'S call it a beauty break. Take it in handsome surroundings in the care of the most expert hands. Have your tresses cut and blocked to perfect manageableness by Delpino or Milan. OF course, it's on Fisher Road that you will find the famous method for making a garment water repellent. It is called "Cravenette"... and it's not a fabric but it is the trademark associated with the water repelling preparation applied to any good cloth. If you have a garment that can be treated with "Cravenette" it will shed water, resist spots and stains... stay cleaner longer, hold its shape and press noticeably longer than if only dry-cleaned. You will know its worth if you pour a spoonful of water or a glass of water on the garment. The cloth actually sheds the fluid instead of soaking it up like a blotter. Any drops adhering will be on the surface only, hence are readily shaken or brushed off. This famous system is one of the many services of Mondry Cleaners, Inc. 375 Fisher Road. TU. 5-4800.

THERE'S nothing quite like a gift that's monogrammed for Christmas giving. And it makes it more more precious if it comes from the Clothes Line at 397 Fisher Road. There is a wonderful variety. For example... travel cases in taffeta, emerald, red, pink, blue or navy... lined... corded and monogrammed in white. Lingerie cases... sets of 3 nylon plisse with nylon val lace trim... mint green... strawberry pink, sky blue, primrose yellow... white. There is also heavenly lingerie with white nylon net or lace trim and matching or contrasting embroidery and monogram. Better order now... it takes three to four weeks for delivery.

ONE of the centers of attraction on Fisher is the Bayne Optical Co.'s accessory display. Imbued with originality and color, they give spark to your glasses. The spec bands are of grograin, leather, rhinestone, beaded chains, or coarse horsehair. In this collection you'll find lorgnettes with clips. And service is excellent... if you want simple repairs like broken temples and frames... or if you have broken your single vision lens it can be repaired while you wait. Adjustments are free. 407 Fisher Road.

Jessie Zimmerman Speaks Nuptial Vows

Becomes Bride of John Daniel Hitchens at Ceremony in St. Paul's Church; Couple Honeymooning in Canada

Wearing a chantly lace gown escalloped in front to reveal an accordion-pleated panel, Jessie Zimmerman walked up the aisle of St. Paul's on the Lakeshore to become Mrs. John Daniel Hitchens on October 29. The Rev. Fr. A. L. Melvin officiated at the 11 o'clock nuptial high mass Saturday morning.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert Zimmerman of Kenwood road wore a tulle veil secured by a rose-point cap and the heirloom rosepoint centered her cathedral length veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Elaine Zimmerman, maid of honor for her sister, wore a rose silk taffeta waltz length frock with bolero. Her tiny contrasting hat harmonized with her bouquet of rubrum lilies.

The four bridesmaids were gowned identically to the honor attendant and carried the same flowers. They were Mrs. Andrew Bato, of Forest Hills, N. Y., and Georgia Zimmerman, both sisters of the bride, Evelyn Schrage and Mary Anne Coyle, of Windsor.

Charles J. Hitchens was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Arthur Henry Hitchens of Kensington road and the late Mr. Hitchens.

Ushers were E. Parker Munger, John Donahue, John Blow, John Vismara, James Brennan and Andrew Bato.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception which followed at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Mrs. Zimmerman wore a pearl gray satin outfit embroidered with charcoal gray flowers, outlined with gray seed pearls and sequins. Iridescent feathers trimmed her charcoal gray satin hat.

Mrs. Hitchens chose a Dior blue gown with ice blue sequined neckline and matching hat.

When the couple set out on their wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec, the new Mrs. Hitchens donned a navy silk taffeta ensemble. The couple will reside in St. Clair Shores.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Zimmerman, and aunt, Miss Hel-

Congregational Fair Plans Aired at Tea

Mrs. James E. Huntington, Chairman of Mistletoe Mart, Hostess to Group in Her Home in Shoreham Road

Tea was the least important item on the agenda, at the home of Mrs. James E. Huntington of Shoreham road, on Wednesday, November 2, although that was all the invitations said anything about.

Reason: Mrs. Huntington is general chairman of the Mistletoe Mart, the Christmas fair being given by the Woman's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church on Thursday, December 1, and the tea was really a final round-up of all chairmen, both of the operation departments, whose real work is just beginning, and of the booth chairmen, who have been slaving for months to see that the Youth Building is simply jammed with three full floors of merchandise on the great day.

Attending the tea were Mrs. Edward L. Weber, co-chairman of the whole Mart; Mrs. Kenneth Koppin, secretary of the Mart; Mrs. Lloyd Weed, treasurer of the Mart; Mrs. Frank Standish, in charge of publicity; Mrs. Leonard Slowin, chairman of the layout committee; Mrs. Edward Luss, chairman of the committee in charge of decorating not only the booths but the whole Youth Building; Mrs. Clare Bryant, chairman of the luncheon committee. (There will be a delicious luncheon served from 11 in the morning until 1 in the afternoon.)

Also: Mrs. Donald Clark, chairman of the dinner committee (a roast tenderloin of beef dinner with all the fixin's); and Mrs. Howard J. Emerson, who is in Probate Judge Nathan J. Kaufman of the Juvenile Court will speak at a meeting of the Mothers' Health and Education council meeting to be held on Tuesday, November 11, at 1 p.m., at the Grosse Pointe Main Library. His topic will be "Your Juvenile Court."

The feeling is open to the public, and those interested are welcome to attend.

Delegates from each school should be present and in the event they cannot, a substitute should attend.

Church Holding Cooking Show

On Wednesday, November 9 at 8 o'clock, the Detroit Edison Company will give a cooking demonstration in the Assembly Room of Christ the King Lutheran Church at Lochmoor.

An All-Electric kitchen will be set up for this occasion.

Ladies and men are invited to attend.

The Detroit Edison will donate prizes and the Women's Guild will serve refreshments. Donations for this affair are $1.00.

For tickets call: Mrs. G. Boehling, TU 1-2518, or Mrs. W. Gelfert at TU 1-1302.

Best Buick yet

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

IT COMES upon the heels of the most successful Buick in history—and beats it on every score. In shimmering steel and solid sinew, it's Buick for 1956—and there's never been anything like it for pure automobile. You get a good hint of what we mean when you take in its sweep-ahead styling—from the air-splitting prow of its V-front grille to the robust rake of its canted rear profile. You get an even better hint when you open the doors and see the dazzle there. But it's when you put this beauty to the city streets and the open highways that you learn the best of it. For here is performance without parallel. A new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo* goes airplanes one better—steps up your getaway in normal driving without flooring the pedal to switch the pitch. But when you do need that extra surge, it's there instantly—and in extra abundance.

The might of big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines in every Series brings new record high power to all Buicks—ROADMASTER, SUPER, CENTURY, and the bedrock-priced SPECIAL. And to handle such dynamic driving power, the whole rear end has been endowed with extra brawn and heft and solidity.

We could spread before you an acre of blueprints on the engineering gems that spark the spectacular performance and ride and handling and roadability of these great Buicks for 1956. But you can get the full and magnificent story right now, at our showroom, in a face-to-face meeting with the best Buick yet—now on display, and setting a dazzling new pattern for 1956.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Two Exciting Coiffures
"Harlequin"
"Florentine Style"

Something wonderful has happened. It's the fabulous new "Harlequin" and "Florentine style" coiffures... both are elegant and practical—highly approved of the idea of taking inspiration from antique works of art and adopting the old style to the necessities of modern living.

The name chosen for the new hairdo featured here is the "Florentine Style." Its chief characteristics being: hair worn somewhat longer than last season, sometimes straight, but more often slightly waved. Very small neat heads are a must for the daytime, but more variety is allowed for the evening. The hair being sometimes lifted away from the nape of the neck and ornaments, such as strings of pearls or gold bands, used to enhance the festive note.

Convent Hockey Team Is Host

Members of the hockey team at Grosse Pointe Convent of the Sacred Heart played hostesses over the weekend to the 16-girl team from Villa Duchesne, Sacred Heart Convent in St. Louis, Mo.

The visitors left St. Louis early Friday afternoon by plane and were back there again by 9 o'clock Sunday evening, but they had an action-packed three days. The Villa Duchesne hockey team, who have maintained an undefeated record for the past 12 years in the Midwestern area, were accompanied by their coach, Thelma "Kenny" Kenefick.

The convent bus brought them from Willow Run to Grosse Pointe convent where they were overnight guests. Saturday morning, they visited Canada, after which Ann Murphy, captain of the Grosse Pointe team, and her mother, Mrs. John M. Murphy, entertained members of both teams at brunch in the Murphy home in Lewiston road.

Saturday afternoon the St. Louis team defeated the Grosse Pointers 3-1. Tea followed, and then a progressive dinner at Lawrence Avenue Convent. The Villa girls spent Saturday night in the homes of Lawrence Avenue Convent students, and then defeated their Detroit hosts 4-1 in a Sunday game. After dinner, they were escorted back to Willow run for the return trip to St. Louis.

Savings at National Bank of Detroit

Two pies every housewife should master

Apple pies are easy to make, and the housewife who has mastered the art has a sure-fire method of raising family morale around dinner time.

Budget pies are a little more difficult, but the proper recipe is even more valuable to a good homemaker.

In setting up a well-planned budget, the household manager's main job is to make the right balance between necessary expenses (food, clothing, shelter, education, etc.), other expenditures (entertainment, gifts, luxury purchases, etc.) and savings.

Now, the detailed planning of the budget pie is pretty much an individual matter, but in one respect, general advice can be offered: make the slice marked "Savings at National Bank of Detroit" as big as possible. In many ways that is the most important slice of all, for it is the one that enables you to build security and plan for the future with confidence.

And the National Bank of Detroit helps with your budget-keeping in still other ways. A well maintained checking account, for instance, not only gives you the utmost in buying and bill-paying convenience, but also provides a continuing record of your financial transactions. And your cancelled checks serve as legal receipts for every payment you make.

Then, too, at National Bank you have available complete banking and trust services to help you solve almost every type of money problem.

Maybe your budget pie could use a new recipe. If so, you'll be able to find the principal ingredients at your neighborhood National Bank Office.

Michigan State Children's Theatre Coming

—Michigan State University Picture

YOUNG MARCO POLO'S father, uncle and aunt try to dissuade Marco from going with the men on the dangerous mission to China for the Kublai Khan. Shown here (l. to r.) are Marco's father, Nicolo (Richard Proctor of Dearborn), Marco's uncle, Maefio (Jerry Flood of Bay City), Marco (Fred Brown of Detroit), and Marco's aunt Angela (Lou Parker of Detroit). The exciting drama, "Marco Polo," will be shown at the Pierce Auditorium, Saturday, November 12, by the Michigan State University Children's Theater.

When Marco Polo sets sail as a 14-year-old stowaway on an Italian galley ship bound for ancient China, Grosse Pointe children can sail right along with him.

"Marco Polo" will be presented on the stage of Pierce Auditorium Saturday, November 12, by the Michigan State University Children's Theater, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe branch, American Association of University Women.

Two performances are scheduled, at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tickets now are on sale at Fromm's Hardware in the Vil-

Jage, Punch and Judy Toyland on the Hill, in the Farms and Harkness Pharmacy on Mack avenue in Grosse Pointe Woods. Tickets also will be sold at the door before play time.

This play is designed to appeal to a wide age group, from five to 15 years of age, unlike some previous productions by the MSU Children's Theater, such as "Beauty and the Beast," which was designed for younger children.

The Polo brothers have been sent by the Great Kublai Khan to bring back some magic fire powder and return the Kahn's stolen daughter, the princess Kogatin. Both are held by the evil Tartar Chieftain, Okkadai. The Polos have a plan to get the magic powder by trading Okkadai a gorgeous scarlet robe, so dazzling that he will be blinded by it and trade away his powder before he realizes what he has done.

But the plan fails and Marco, instead, is traded for the urn of magic powder. How Marco tricks the Tartars and succeeds where his father and uncle failed leads to the breathless climax of this fascinating drama.

Mrs. Walter Kingsley, Children's Theater chairman for AAUW, states:

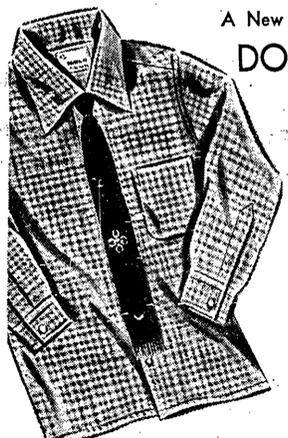

"We've been promised an exceptionally beautiful production, with costumes and scenery befitting the splendor of ancient China."

The MSC Children's Theater is recognized nationally as among the best in its field. The group for "Marco Polo" consists of a cast of 14 and a production and stage crew of 11, directed by Oriel J. Willert, who has a distinguished record of teaching and directing children's drama.

The entire group will be guests, while in Grosse Pointe, of various members of the AAUW, under Mrs. James Morrison, who is in charge of hospitality.

The players arrive in Grosse Pointe the evening before the play and stay at homes of AAUW members. Between the morning and afternoon performances a luncheon will be given for them at Pierce Junior High School, with Mrs. William J. Reaume, Mrs. Louis M. Green

Alumni of VMI Plan Celebration

Major General William H. Milton, Jr., Superintendent of Virginia Military Institute, will address the Michigan Chapter of the VMI Alumni Association November 8. The meeting will be in observance of VMI's Founder's Day, will be held at 6 p.m. at the University Club, with the chapter observing ladies' night.

The occasion marks the first visit of General Milton to Detroit as VMI Superintendent, the post he assumed in August, 1952. His address will be a discussion of present-day cadet and Institute activities.

A former industrial executive, General Milton served 32 years with the General Electric Company before becoming Superintendent of the military institute at Lexington, Va. Among the posts he held with G-E were assistant manager of the company's chemical department, and when General Electric took over operation of the Hanford Atomic Energy Plant at Richland, Wash., he was named administrator in full charge of operations.

He was named a vice-president of the company in 1947 and held the post until 1950 when he became general manager of G-E's Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory at Schenectady, N.Y. The laboratory worked on the development of an atomic power plant for submarines.

He succeeded Major General Richard J. Marshall as VMI superintendent following his retirement in 1952.

On Friday, November 11, VMI will celebrate the 116th anniversary of its founding. The Institute, which had its beginning in 1839, was burned by Federal forces during the Civil War but was rebuilt and returned to operation shortly after its destruction. Many of the nation's top military leaders were graduated from VMI.

The Junior Group of Goodwill Industries will meet on Monday, November 7, at 12:30 p.m., in the Goodwill Industries Building, 6522 Brush street, Detroit.

Sunday Concert Great Success

Those who attended the concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra last Sunday afternoon, in the Parcels School auditorium, were delighted with the diversified program, novel features, and principally with the performance of the orchestra.

Wayne Dunlap, leader, has added enthusiasm to this group and his well-chosen selections were especially appealing. He announced each number in a way to please the many children in the audience.

"Pleasure Train Polka," by Strauss, was a special feature, with the playing of 11-year-old violinists from the Richard School, trained by Miss Patricia Birch.

They were: Sharon Bockstanz, Jinny Clark, Sally McCullough, Susan Turner, Ned Bunn, Danny Cook, Tom Davis and David Robinson.

Through the courtesy of Austrian Consul Norman Burnkraut, a zither player, born in Austria and dressed in his native tyrolean costume, presented special entertainment.

The reception which followed in the gymnasium, was presided over by gracious hostesses from the Welcome Wagon Club, the Community Chorus and the Grosse Pointe Women's Club.

Mr. David Sutter, president, announced future concerts in December, February and April. Membership tickets may be obtained from Mrs. W. S. Jewell, TU 5-8861; Mrs. Robert Armstrong, TU 5-2432; and Mrs. David M. Sutter, TU 5-4159.

Parents to Pay For Vandalism

The parents of a group of boys who caused considerable damage to a new home in the Park on Saturday, October 29, have agreed to make restitution to the builder-contractor of the house.

Park Det. Sgt. Arnold Hough revealed that the boys, ranging in age from eight to ten years, invaded the premises at 1257 Whittier road, and dislodged rows of newly mortared bricks, gouged out plaster walls and created other damages.

He said that the amount of the damage, mostly the cost of labor in making repairs, amounted to approximately $300.

The parents of the boys, after talking with Sgt. Hough, promised the restitution and that they will keep a closer eye on their children in the future.

Form Debating Club at GPHS

By Judy Ladd, 11B, GPHS Journalism Student

Minds and tongues were sharpened as 33 persons appeared to participate in the organization of a debating club at Grosse Pointe High School.

The purposes of the talkative new club will be to develop new ability, teach members to think for themselves, and help them to express themselves well.

The idea for a debating club was the brainchild of two 11Bs, Pat Hawkins, who was a member of a debating team while attending Anniston High School in Alabama, and Carol Schneider. Mr. Richard Kepes, English teacher, will referee.

The high school had a debating club until World War II took its sponsor.

Until the new club gets on its feet, there will be no debating with other schools.

At the second meeting two questions were discussed. The first was, Resolved: levis should be permitted at school. On the affirmative team were Ray Deryck, 11A, and Bill Springett, 10A. On the negative were Bob Rinehardt and Pat Amicus, both 10B's.

The second question was Resolved: short hair styles are becoming. Speaking for the affirmative were Pat Kalkhoff, 9B, and Bev. Coleman, 11B. For the negative were Judy Stallens, 10B, and Pat Hawkins, 11B.

The results of these meetings may be presented at a future assembly.

Pat Hawkins finds that debating, "teaches you to stand on your own two feet, and to think while you're standing."

NOT THE ANSWER

Rotarians Plan Club Assembly

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club will hold a Club Assembly on Tuesday, November 8, at the Russell A. Alger Post building, St. Paul and St. Clair, at 8 p.m.

Thanks for the Anniversary

Such a little time it seems since the Grosse Pointe News was born in a one-room office on the second floor of the Punch and Judy building. But it will be 15 years ago, come November 7.

The years have flown swiftly, excepting when viewed in the light of all that has happened in the interim. In that fall of 1940 we were still more than a year away from the start of World War II. Defense and preparedness spending on the part of the government had just started to lift us out of the frightening doldrums of the long years of the depression. The population of the five Pointes was barely over the 30,000 mark, little more than half of today's figure.

For the fact that the community accepted us and afforded the support that enabled us to enjoy ever-continuing growth, we shall always be grateful. Without our subscribers and our advertisers we could never have attained a position where it was possible for us to serve.

At the end of 15 years our proudest possession is a crowded file of letters from individuals and organizations who say we have helped them. From our inception we have maintained that it was our principal duty to be of help to those who needed it. We hope our perspective will never take our eye off that target.

We also have a file . . . fortunately not nearly so large . . . of criticisms and lamentations from those whom we have hurt. Most of the objects of these complaints have deserved to be hurt and for them we have had no regrets. Others were the victims of bad reporting, or misinformation. In such cases we have tried to make amends.

As we pass the 15-year mark, we re-dedicate ourselves to the principles to which we always hope to adhere . . . to bring the most good and happiness to the greatest number of people; to serve all worthy causes and to be on the watch against activities which would be detrimental to the welfare of the community. Our future success or failure shall continue to lie in your hands.

Present plans call for building an addition to the News office in the spring. For these plans we must express our gratitude to all who have supported us. We hope the increased facilities will provide an opportunity to offer greater service through the years to come.

A Very Nice Gentleman

Mr. Howard Sheperd has established himself in our opinion as a thoroughly nice gentleman. We can understand why he is chairman of the board of one of the world's largest financial institutions.

Two weeks ago we took an editorial poke at his First National City Bank of New York because of the over-zealousness of one of the employees in a branch office. A customer opening a new account with a deposit of government bonds, government checks and cash, had been warned not to cash a check against the account until his credit had been investigated and approved. We called this very bad public relations.

Mr. Sheperd's diplomacy and astuteness swallow up the shortcomings of his employe as the ocean devours a tiny pebble. Somehow the editorial found its way into the board chairman's hands and we received a letter from him. We quote in part:

"Just a note to tell you how embarrassed we were to read the editorial . . . Investigation establishes quite convincingly that the customer's reaction was completely justified. It would appear that the fault of our interviewer was in following the rule book too closely; not paying sufficient attention to the equally important consideration of good public relations and sales practice.

"I would like to think it may be possible for us to correct the misimpressions we gave him and that we might one day serve him as a customer and friend of the bank. We shall certainly make our apologies to him and I know we shall benefit from this unfortunate incident. With kindest regards,

We were a bit flabbergasted that anyone with all of Mr. Sheperd's obvious duties and obligations should take the time to pay any attention to a small squawk from a small horn in the outlands. The fact that he did, causes us to make a deep salaam in his direction. It adds a great deal to our store of understanding about what makes certain men rise to the top in their chosen fields.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor: This is an open letter to the person or persons who shot a 22 rifle at a cat, probably from a window, on the night of Monday, October 10, in the vicinity of McMillan road, between Charlevoix and Ridge. We want you to know that you took the last of the nine lives of a family pet, aged six years. We grant that cats can be annoying, we grant that cats kill birds, but we do NOT grant that they need to be shot. Throw water on them, with our blessing; we've done it ourselves. Even an old shoe on occasion. But shooting, no. We do not know your name, but we do know lots of things about you. We know that you are NOT one of our neighbors. We know that you were never a Boy Scout. We know that you have no pet of your own. We know that you have no children. (How would you have told your kids their cat was dead?) Frisky is gone. But for the sake of other cats now and in the future, PLEASE don't shoot again. —The Hope Family

Training Offered To Club Leaders

The increasing need for volunteer group leaders for children's and youth activities has caused the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club to provide increased learning opportunities for the inexperienced group leaders.

An adequately trained and experienced group of volunteer leaders in the community can do much to provide the necessary recreational activities for Grosse Pointe youth, it is pointed out.

Assistant group leadership positions are available at the Community Club which permit the novice to work with more experienced group leaders. Assistant leaders are thus able to learn program ideas, how to conduct games, songs, and crafts as well as learn what activities are suitable for specific age groups.

Commemorating "America's Martyr to Freedom of the Press," Elijah Parish Lovejoy, Unitarian and Universalist churches throughout the United States and Canada will observe Freedom of the Press Sunday for the first time on November 6.

Lovejoy, a religious liberal, refused to abandon his fight against slave rackets, and saw four successive newspaper presses destroyed. He was finally shot down on November 7, 1837, as he tried to persuade a mob surrounding his home to allow his friends to leave safely.

What Causes Headaches?

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph. Just about every bodily organ by improper function could cause headaches, so is it any wonder that this is the most common of ailments? You can easily understand, too, why the occasional headache comes and goes without impairing health. Repeated headaches are the ones that need investigation. They indicate chronic disorder in the body. Your doctor will be glad to check for the cause of these headaches. The medicine he recommends will be effective in correcting the cause, and not just relieve pain. Purchase medicine with confidence from a trusted, experienced pharmacist. This is the 56th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

(Guest Columnist: George Jones) Readers with long memories for theatrical nonsense may recall a pleasant little postwar revue, "Call Me Mister." One of the more appealing items in this show spoofed the seriousness with which army top brass composed their memoirs. It suggested that the battle waited while the commander updated his diary, and that the first equipment to be set up at command headquarters was not the battle plans and maps but the general's portable and a supply of copy paper.

Following the resulting spate of soldier's stories, the literary world has had two vogues, so to speak, in the biographical field. One was the mountaineering phase when, judging from the output, it would seem that the cluster of Underwoods drowned out the roar of Everest's avalanches, and that a very real hazard to the climber was that of tripping over a movie cameraman's lead lines. With his NO-WHERE NEAR EVEREST Maurice Dolbier seems to have closed this era and left the mountain, in climber Hillary's words, "there."

If you have noticed some hesitation in the entertainment world of late—a tendency to raise the curtain late and cut the post-performance bows—this writer suggests that you revise your assumption that the performer is anxious to get back to the dressing room canasta game or to make it to Sardi's while there are still tables available. The likelihood is that your insistence on a performance has interrupted the performer in the midst of his writing for the last year has seen theatrical biography push war and mountaineering from their prominence on publishers' lists.

Mary Pickford, Ethel Merman, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and George Jessel can be numbered among some of the flashier specimens who have taken pen in hand, or ghost writer to bosom, to join what Variety terms the theatre's literati.

With the growth of press-agency in recent years, years of which one writer has described the tribal gods as being Marx, Freud, and Barnum, one might well ask what is there still to tell of the average public performer's life to justify a book? In many cases the answer is precious little. Where a small talent has been exploited by a large press department, the publication of memoirs can be little more than a first person singular recap of already overextended content.

But in other cases, where the genuinely talented performer has declined or evaded excessive personality exploitation, the biography can introduce to the reader a whole personality worthy of its delineation. Two examples of this are Marguerite Courtney's LAURETTE and John Bainbridge's GARBO.

The Courtney book brings forth Laurette Taylor, the author's mother, as a person of notable strengths and crushing weaknesses. It suggests that in the sum which is any man or woman an outstanding talent in one direction may well be accompanied by a near blank in some other; in Miss Taylor's case a superlative native sense of theatrical "rightness" was accompanied by an almost incredible witlessness in the matter of how to handle money and alcohol.

Bainbridge's study of Garbo, an unauthorized biography but an expertly composed research job, presents a fascinating study of perhaps the only enduring great produced exclusively by the motion picture. He presents Garbo and her life as a study in contradictions: the woman who earned incredible sums of money but checked the grocery bill with the frugality of a peasant; the woman who, by her statement, "I want to be left alone," being misquoted as "I want to be alone" became one of the great journalistic quarries of the age. The Bainbridge book makes good reading both for those who followed Garbo's career during her productive years and for her youngsters who ask "Why all this fuss over a gangly woman who doesn't want her picture taken?"

Two books which deal with actresses who have managed to combine the public spotlight with decent and even-keeled private lives are those of Gertrude Lawrence, (Richard Aldrich's GERTRUDE LAWRENCE AS MRS. A.), and on Catherine Cornell, (the newly published ME AND KIT by Guthrie McClintic). To the not unfounded fear that personal failure seems inevitably to be the companion of notable talent they answer with a clear and heart warming nay.

Every literary crop brings forth its disappointment—the book which promised much but delivered little. To this writer, Ethel Barrymore's MEMORIES wins hands down. As the last significant survivor of America's number one theatrical family, Ethel Barrymore would seem qualified, in the family tradition of presenting a big rosy apple to each other on opening nights, to present the biggest and rosiest to her readers. It is regrettable that publication day found her offering them one of substandard size and indifferent flavor.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett Appointed Education Parley Delegate

The Governor's office has announced the appointment of Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett as a delegate-at-large to the National White House Conference on Education to be held this fall in Washington.

This spring Dr. Bartlett was the Democratic candidate for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He is now serving as a member of the Governor's Educational Finance Study Commission.

Dr. Bartlett is Director of Pupil Personnel for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. He will be one of 27 delegates-at-large appointed by the Governor.

From each of 14 Michigan regional conferences last spring will come two elected delegates. Both the Governor and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction have been invited to the Washington Conference. This will bring a total of 57 Michigan delegates to the national meeting to be held the week of November 28 in the capital.

Conference Purpose
The chief purpose of the White House Conference on the local, state, and national levels is to acquaint the nation's citizens with the problems of educating American youth and to enlist their aid in finding solutions. Prominent citizens from the professions and trades, business and industry, church and home, representing practically all groups and interests, have been invited to the conferences on education. The idea is intended as a grass roots movement to bring all elements of the national community together.

Citizen Participation
A unique feature of the State White House Conference has been the preponderance of lay participants. In the May meeting at Lansing, there were three lay educators to every educator. Of the 1400 persons at the Michigan conference, over 1000 were not involved professionally in the business of education.

Regardless of level — local,

LYNN M. BARTLETT

state, or national — the conferences develop a number of hard-hitting possibilities. Somewhat typical was the experience in Michigan.

After 14 regional conferences had been held, a state conference was called with representation from every Michigan area. At the Michigan White House Conference on Education held in Lancing last May, the following recommendations were made under six topic areas:

Community Education Program—That school census takers be urged and encouraged to report every handicapped child. Reason: to help these children at as early a time as possible. That a study be made of the twelve-month school year.
Staffing Classrooms—That a teacher recruitment program be started during the junior year of high school; that paid teaching experience be given while teacher prospect is still in college; and that salaries range from $4,000 minimum to $9,000 maximum for regular teachers.

Securing Necessary Finances—That the amount of money for education be increased substantially by federal aid, more equitable state funds, more adequate local funds, and private sources.

Shortage of Classrooms—That federal aid be granted for school construction provided that local districts and state make reasonable effort to meet the shortage.

Organization of Adequate Districts—That the high school be centered in the community with elementary schools as neighborhood schools; that new districts have seven-man boards rather than five to allow more participation.

Citizen Participation—That school board meetings be open and citizens encouraged to attend; that a school public relations program be financed; and that a course in public relations for school people be offered in college.

These recommendations from the Michigan Conference were forwarded to Washington. Delegates to the National Fall Conference such as Dr. Bartlett will discuss these and similar state recommendations and suggest courses of action on the national, state, and local levels.

Great things may happen educationally or perhaps, only modest victories will be recorded. The idea, however, to bring the nation's citizens together in a common cause for the common good of our children, is in a basic, American pattern.

Outstanding New Movies Now Available at Library

Film users will be interested in the new films available throughout November at the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

As are the films in the permanent collection, these new titles are loaned without charge on presentation of an adult library card. Information and reservations are handled at the Central Library at Kercheval and Fisher.

Two of the films are outstanding in their category. NEIGHBORS was the winner of the Oscar in the Hollywood Academy Awards of 1953 as the best documentary film released during the year while THE STRATFORD ADVENTURE, filmed during the premiere season when Alec Guinness was the star, has an especial interest for Detroiters many thousands of whom have traveled north to see the Stratford company.

Descriptions of the newly available films follow: GUADALAJARA, 17 minutes, color. Pictures a sightseeing tour through Guadalajara, Mexico's second largest city. Gives glimpses of famous old buildings, monuments, arts and crafts, flower gardens and the coastline of Mazatlan.

GREAT NORTHERN TACKLE BUSTERS, 11 minutes, color. The rough, tough pike of northern Ontario make swift-moving sport for the fisherman. The film begins with a pike-fishing lesson—overhead and backhand casting, side cast and retrieving the line. It is followed by a fishing trip into the thick weed-beds and deep holes of a river where the savage and cagey pike are found.

NEIGHBORS, 9 minutes, color. A Norman McLaren film employing his "pixillation" technique in which the principles normally used to put drawings or puppets into motion are used to animate live actors. The story is a simple parable about two people who, after living side by side, with mutual friendliness and respect, come to blows over the possession of a flower that one day grows where their properties meet. The film has neither dialogue nor narration, but the action is accompanied by synthetic music and sound effects.

ROAD OF IRON, 42 minutes, black and white. This film documents the achievements of men who forged into the harsh, untamed wilderness of northern Quebec to lay the line of steel which brought to market the rich iron ore of the Ungava region. It is a story of strength and determination, for every man, machine and piece of equipment had to be flown in by airlift or transported by tractor caravan over the 360-mile route.

SKILFULLY YOURS, 23

minutes, color. Famed Sun Valley, Idaho, is the picturesque setting for this exciting documentary on skiing. The color and beauty of this popular winter resort with its mountains and valleys are shown in all their spell-binding splendor. For those interested in learning the fundamentals of skiing, now recognized as the world's fastest growing sport, Skilfully Yours will be particularly helpful.

THE STRATFORD ADVENTURE, 40 minutes, color. How a small Canadian city, bearing the name of Stratford and with a river Avon, realized the vision of one of its sons: the creation of a theater for the staging of the finest Shakespearean drama. The film tells how the idea grew, how a famous British director, internationally known stars and Canadian talent were recruited, and how the Stratford Shakespearean Festival finally became a triumphant reality.

Traffic Accidents Take 160 Lives

The upward trend in Michigan traffic accident deaths was again reversed during September, the Michigan State Police monthly report reveals.

It was interrupted in only two previous months this year, February and July.

After a record high of 213 persons lost their lives in August traffic accidents, the September figure was 160. This marked a four per cent drop from the 187 killed in September, 1954.

Injuries, however, increased eight per cent, or from 4,743 to 5,104, while accidents rose 11 per cent, or from 14,040 to 15,631.

The record for the first nine months of this year includes 1,410 persons killed, 43,403 injured and 136,759 reported accidents. Deaths are up 11 per cent from 1,271, injuries increased nine per cent from 39,772 and accidents gained four per cent from 131,115.

Mileage traveled for the first eight months of this year, the latest figure available, was 19.6 billion, an increase of nearly nine per cent over 18 billion in the same period last year. The death rate of 6.4 per 100 million miles of travel was up five per cent.

More than eight of the 10 persons killed during September met death in rural accidents. Traffic deaths in rural areas are up 13 per cent compared with a reduction of four per cent in urban areas.

The reversal of the upward death trend in September, it is believed, can be largely attributed to increased publicity given the accident by press, radio and television.

New Styling for 1956 Buicks

The classic beauty of Buick styling for 1956 is exemplified in this photo showing the new front end with its V-shaped grille, the distinctive rear end design of the Roadmaster and the profile of the new four-door hardtop in the Super series. For 1956 Buick offers a four-door hardtop in every series, higher compression V-8 engines that develop 255 horsepower in the Roadmaster, Super and Century, and 220 horsepower in the Special, and a new variable pitch Dynaflo transmission that improves performance without sacrificing any of Buick's traditional smoothness of operation. Numerous changes also have been made in the chassis to improve ride and stability. Dynaflo is standard equipment on all but the Special. The new cars can be seen at Turner Buick, Kercheval and Maryland.

Mary Kengel Weds Donald Champagne

Couple Honeymooning in Miami and Nassau Following Nuptial High Mass on October 22 in St. Paul's Church

Candlelight satin was worn by Mary Elizabeth Kengel on October 22, when she became the bride of Donald Edward Champagne at an 11 o'clock nuptial high mass in St. Paul's on the Lakeshire.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Walter Kengel of Colonial road. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Champagne, of St. Clair Shores, are the bridegroom's parents.

Atencon lace formed the bateau neckline and the panel which swooped down the front of the bridal gown. A satin and lace cap held the bride's fingertip veil. She carried stephanotis and a white orchid on her prayer book.

Mrs. Henry Peter Sandler, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Eleanor Wade was bridesmaid. Their waltz length gowns of Dior blue velvet with matching veiled headpieces contrasted with their American Beauty roses.

The bridegroom's cousins, Thomas Schwenk and Alvin Wunderlich, served as best man and usher respectively. A breakfast and reception followed at the Whittier.

Mrs. Kengel wore a slate blue taffeta suit with a pink hat and pinned rubrum lilies to her purse. The bridegroom's mother was attired in an ice blue brocaded dress with matching hat. She wore yellow roses.

After a honeymoon in Miami and Nassau, the couple will live in St. Clair Shores.

Exchange Vows In East Lansing

Recent rites at Alumni Memorial Chapel in East Lansing united in marriage Carolyn Elizabeth Phillips and Lt. Ernest Beckett Erickson Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Harry Phillips, of East Lansing, and the late Dr. Phillips. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Erickson of Pemberton road are the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Albert W. Connell, of Nashville, Tenn., was her sister's attendant. Ernest Beckett Erickson was his son's best man and John B. McKernan ushered.

The couple, who are Michigan State University graduates, received guests at Kellogg Center. Their wedding trip took them to Fort Worth, Tex., where Lt. Erickson is stationed at Carswell Air Force Base.

Choose your words well—you can never tell when you will have to eat them.

Club to Learn Charm Secrets

"How to Develop Charm and Personality," will be disclosed by Miss Virginia Traphagen of the Detroit Board of Education Psychiatric Clinic at the regular meeting of the Clark Women's Club on Monday, November 7, at 1 p.m. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Christ Methodist Church at 15932 East Warren.

Miss Traphagen is a psychologist and consultant for visiting teachers at the Psychiatric Clinic, and is known as a specialist in play therapy. She has given many talks on mental hygiene and child guidance to P-TA groups and Women's Clubs. At the present time, she is organizing and teaching at the School for Parents for Judge Kaufman. Included in her many achievements is a book, "Diagnosis and Treatment of Behavior Problem Children" which was co-written with Dr. Baker, Head of the Clinic.

She says, "Personality has always fascinated me. Perfectly nice people, attractive, bright, or otherwise—may be perfect blanks as far as charm and magnetism go." So she has made an extensive study to try to determine what makes some people so much more attractive, lovable, and effective than others. (their appearance, education and background being similar).

Mrs. Mack Monroe is program chairman. Tea will be served by the social committee preceding the business meeting.

New Groups Formed By Mothers' Club

Anyone Interested In Affiliating With Organization Which Provides Many Scholarships, Contact Mrs. Penz

The Grosse Pointe High School's Mothers' Club has added 21 new groups of 150 mothers to the 35 groups continuing from last year.

Three of the oldest groups have been playing bridge for years. Some have married children and are grandmothers. These neighborhood groups are a wonderful way to get well acquainted with other mothers and to better understand your own child.

Of the new groups, two are sewing and 19 are bridge. Canasta must be on the way out as no new groups were formed this year.

Each member of a group pays 50¢ per meeting, which is turned over to the Mothers' Club. For each $2 turned in a 50¢ prize is given. The rest of the money is used primarily for the scholarship fund. Last June $1,800.00 was given in financial grants to six worthy students.

From time to time there are other projects that the Mothers' Club supports in a financial way. Over $1,500.00 has been set aside for the new scorebook.

Anyone interested in forming or joining a new group should call Mrs. Perry Penz, 1373 Harvard, TUxedo 5-7546.

Party Planned By Newcomers

The Grosse Pointe Newcomer's Club will hold a bridge and canasta party on Friday, November 4, at 8 p.m., at the War Memorial Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Goll, chairman of the party, will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rose, Mr. and Mrs. James Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Court Carrier.

Contemporary Literature Group to Discuss Books

At the November 3 meeting of the Contemporary Literature study group of the American Association of University Women, members of the staff of the Grosse Pointe Public Library will discuss worthwhile books for reading and Christmas giving, at 7:45, in the Central Library.

Miss Melitta Roemer, chief of the Central Library, will recommend books for adult readers, and Miss Jean Taylor, chief of the Children's Services, will discuss books for younger readers.

Members Set For DAC Party

Many Grosse Pointe members of the Detroit Athletic Club are planning to attend the club's November dinner-floor show gala next week. The festive six-evening event will open Monday, November 7, and continue through Saturday, the 12th.

Stellar attraction of the show will be singer Lucille Norman, glamorous star of motion pictures, television, radio and recordings. On the boards, too, will be Bill Finch, agile baton-twirling entertainer in a novelty act.

Dancing will be to the music of Emery Deutsch and his orchestra who came to DAC's main dining room last Friday evening for a stay. Mr. Deutsch, a brilliant violinist and composer, will feature a number of his own gypsy airs during the week-long gala.

Among the Pointers with reservations for groups or four-somes on opening night are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley J. Peoples, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Eisman, Mrs. Edward J. Moinet, the Henry C. Weidlers, the Edwin P. Horans.

A few of those with tables for the following evenings are the Alexander E. LaPointes, the George M. Endicotts, the Peter J. Gallettes, the Edwin H. Bowers, the Frank Cavanaughs, the Raymond F. Littleys, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Thoma, the Henry Bokrams, the K. W. Cunninghams, the H. F. Siewerts, the William Tousecans, the Lawrence I. Rubys.

To Take New Members Into Archconfraternity

On November 9, new members will be enrolled in the Archconfraternity of St. Clare of Montefalco Church.

Mrs. Ellis Dodge and Mrs. Dodge McGrath are heading the committee for the welcoming tea which will be held for the entire membership immediately following the church service.

To Hold Debate At Town Hall

A sparkling, unrehearsed debate on world news headlines will be presented by the World Affairs Council when Detroit Town Hall brings it to the Fisher Theatre, 11 a.m. Wednesday, November 9.

The audience will have a chance to "quiz the experts" with questions from the floor for the best qualified panelist.

Moderating the discussion will be John C. Metcalfe, veteran newsman and syndicated writer for Worldwide Press Service.

Serving with him on the panel will be Dr. Diosdado M. Yap, authority on the Orient and editor of Bataan magazine; Arthur Webb, dean of English journalists; and Peter von Zahn, chief correspondent for the West German Radio Network.

Club at Center To Hold Party

Following a terrific season opener last month, the War Memorial's Club 32 invites all young business and professional people in the Pointe area who have not already become members of Club 32 to do so Friday, November 11, at 9 p.m.

Of course, all present members are expected.

Al Ross' music will be featured and the candlelight and cabaret setting repeated. A welcoming committee will be on hand to see that you are introduced and you can trust Al Ross to keep the party going.

GLENNA HOWELL, daughter of MR. and MRS. GLEN H. HOWELL of Faircourt road, a junior at Michigan State University, was chairman for Gilchrist Hall in the planning of a 60-unit Centennial Homecoming Parade as a salute to the school's 100th anniversary on October 22.

Unitarians Plan Dancing Party

As its second dance in its current series, the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church will present a Country Square Dance this Saturday, November 5, at 8:30 p.m., at the Kerby School, 285 Kerby road.

Wes and Julia Rea will do the calling, and all couples who understand the basic fundamentals of square dancing are invited.

Exhibit Exposes Indian Secrets

Secrets guarded jealously for generations by Northwest Indian medicine men are brought into the spotlight in the current exhibition of Northwest Pacific Coast Indian art at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Movable masks which enabled a conjurer to be first a raven, then a bear, then an ugly sorcerer, are shown to be cleverly painted and jointed carvings. "Nonlemgila," the spirit whose head flew off and then came back again is a string puppet whose arms, legs and head were moved by thongs strung over the rafters of a smoky, windowless, tribal house. Another puppet is "Olala," who played the role of the spirit of the dead in cannibalistic ceremonies on Vancouver Island.

A special exhibition of these and other puppets and movable masks is located on the ground floor corridor of the Institute, while the major portion of the Northwest exhibition occupies a main floor gallery.

Art Institute curators Francis W. Robinson and Adolph S. Cavallo scoured the leading collections of the country for Northwest Indian items. In addition to the Portland (Ore.) Art Museum which lent most of the material from its famous Axel Rasmussen Collection, other lenders are: The Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto; the American Museum of Natural History, New York; and the Chicago Natural History Museum.

Expert Offers Defrosting Tips

If summer heat and humidity have left your food freezer loaded with ice and frost, it is probably time for defrosting. Don't defrost with hot water, warns Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent. Though hot water would do the job quicker, it is taboo, because refrigerant pressure will build up and cause difficulty in starting the motor.

Instead here are some defrosting directions from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. One-half inch of frost accumulation on the walls of your freezer tells you its time to take action. About 12 hours before you begin, turn the temperature control to its coldest position. This will keep the food from thawing as quickly when it is out of the freezer during the defrost period.

If no ice has formed, just scraping the surfaces with a spatula, putty knife or other dull tool while the freezer is still running will do the trick, but ice calls for more work. Remove all the food and disconnect the freezer. Arrange the packages of food compactly on trays or in baskets and wrap them with blankets or insulating material.

Work fast so your food will be out of the freezer as short a time as possible. Ordinarily the job will take you less than an hour. Running cold water over the refrigerated surfaces or blowing an electric fan into the freezer will help speed your work.

Mrs. Mullikin instructs that the inner liner of the freezer should be cleaned with a solution of one tablespoon of baking soda to a quart of lukewarm water. Soap and water will clean the gasket, and soda and water or a wax polish will take care of the outside. When your defrosting is done, dry the freezer thoroughly inside and out and connect it. After about a half hour, food can be put back in.

Senior Center To Hold Bazaar

Members of the Senior Center, sponsored by the Junior League of Detroit at 587 East Grand boulevard, are giving a bazaar on Tuesday, November 8, from 10 until 4 o'clock.

The Seniors are undertaking the project themselves and they will administer the funds which they raise. Merchandise for the bazaar is made and paid for by the Seniors.

So far, the senior folk have purchased fluorescent lighting for their center, large fans for summertime, and a bus to take them to the country on picnics.

Junior Leaguers Mrs. William C. Loud, Mrs. R. Cabell Morris and Mrs. H. Blair Freeman have been assisting the Seniors in their bazaar preparations. Mrs. Loud is crafts chairman; Mrs. Morris, ceramics chairman; and Mrs. Freeman heads the Service Guild which makes baby layettes, cancer pads and Red Cross items.

Out of 200 regular members, over 150 Seniors are spending at least several hours weekly on the bazaar. They have written a special issue of their news sheet, are baking fruit cakes and holiday goodies, sewing baby clothes, ski mittens, felt stocking toys, and a large and clear collection of decorator's throw pillows.

A white elephant booth, a garden booth, a bargain book nook and a Christmas pantry corner are included in their plans. The Seniors have formed their own bazaar committee, and a host and hostess will be on duty every half hour throughout the day to greet guests. Refreshments will also be served to all visitors on bazaar day.

Educators Visit Military Bases

Grosse Pointe High School's Dean of Boys, Donald R. Campbell, was selected as one of a group of sixty Michigan educators who are getting first-hand information about the armed forces from October 29 to November 5.

The Michigan Secondary School Association, in cooperation with the Army, Navy, and Air Force, is conducting a defense information and orientation training tour for educators. The purpose of the tour is to give the educators accurate and up-to-date information for use in counseling high school boys about the armed forces.

The Air Force is supplying transportation, and the group is spending three days at Fort Carson, Colorado Springs, Colorado; two days at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colorado; and two days at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Chicago, Illinois.

The educators will stay at the bases, and through tours, lectures, discussions, and interviews will become acquainted with the problems and opportunities of boys entering military service. Upon their return, the educators plan to arrange a series of meetings to give this information to high school boys.

CAP Squadron Ceremony Set

The citizens of the Grosse Pointe Communities are invited to attend Civil Air Patrol ceremonies which will officially re-designate the former Frazer Squadron 633-1 into Grosse Pointe Squadron 633-1 in accordance with orders recently issued from National Headquarters, Washington, D.C. The date for this function is November 8 and it is to be held in Cannon Memorial Recreation Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Preparing today's youth for today's world—that is one of the important missions of the Civil Air Patrol. Banded together by an absorbing interest in aviation, forty-eight thousand young men and women are enrolled in the Civil Air Patrol.

These cadets participate in many interesting activities designed to give them an understanding of the air age. If you are interested in aviation, and would like to know more about Civil Air Patrol—Official Civilian Auxiliary of the United States Air Force, you will have your opportunity on November 8 to obtain first hand information.

The Civil Air Patrol today, just as when it was founded 14 years ago, is composed of citizens with their eyes on the sky and their hearts devoted to the nation.

Teeners Named JA Presidents

Two neighborhood teen-agers were named among the newly-elected presidents of the 277 Junior Achievement firms in Southeastern Michigan.

Heading JA firms that meet weekly at the organization's East Side business center in Detroit, located at 13201 Harper, are:

Frank Cody, 16, of 847 Westchester, president of Decorative Products. His concern is to manufacture bread and fruit bowls of wood and brass. The company is sponsored by Touche, Niven, Bailey & Smart.

Howard Noble, 17, of 5093

Yorkshire, president, ABC Creations, which manufactures jewelry and candles and is sponsored by the Automotive Body Division, Chrysler Corp.

JA firms are real corporations, in miniature, founded and operated by teen-agers under the sponsorship of established concerns which provide volunteer executives who work with the Achievers, advising them in problems of management, production and sales.

This year some 6,000 boys and girls in Southeastern Michigan are operating 277 concerns.

Artists Form Center Classes

Still life oil painting classes are being formed at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Center for every Monday evening beginning November 7, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Guy Palazzola, well known artist and a pains-taking instructor, will teach this class.

Mr. Palazzola will also instruct a class now being formed for Wednesday afternoons to run from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. beginning November 9.

A class in water color is also being started for Monday afternoons, the exact time will be disclosed later. Renee K. Radell, a water color artist of accepted merit, will instruct this class. These classes are being sponsored as a community service to the Grosse Pointe area by the Grosse Pointe Artists' Association in an endeavor to get the best instruction at moderate cost for anyone interested in developing or determining their talent in either oil or the water color medium.

Friendliness Can Be Taught
Reading material in the social studies textbook "Richer Ways of Living" merely served as a springboard for John Carlson's sixth grade class in their current unit of work on Friendliness. As the class discussed the textual material, ideas for enriching this unit of work were quickly forthcoming.

A number of bulletin boards was first planned for this unit, the first of which was entitled, "We Have a Friendly Class." Each student was asked to write a brief autobiography of his life and bring in a snapshot of himself.

Mr. Carlson's picture and autobiography were included among the many snapshots and autobiographies mounted on the bulletin board. These were of especial value in orienting new pupils in the group and also their new teacher.

On a second bulletin board students mounted current newspaper and magazine pictures showing friendliness. After several days of work the class divided naturally into five interest groups for the purpose of working out special projects.

David Stover interviewed all class members for their opinions as to how the class could become more friendly. A code of friendliness was formulated and printed from these suggestions and formed a major part of another display.

Mike Talcott, Joy Delaney, Jean Evenden, and Linda Ruester made an intensive study of the National Tuberculosis Association. A second group, composed of Norman Beliger, David Perkins, William Taylor, Stewart Crampton, and Glenn Koeplin was successful in making several toys for the Junior Red Cross. An original play based on the book, "Molly Pitcher," was written by Robert Reute, Ann Hock, Joanne Ropp, Nancy Peterson, Penny Henry, Jean Carlin, and Jessica Markley. A fourth group made up of Fred Gerow, Judy Schiller, William Cooper, and Kitty Snyder made puppets of papier-mache and also wrote an original play taken from the story of "The Good Samaritan." Fred Gerow's father was drawn into this activity in the construction of a stage for this play.

Ricky Brydges and Richard Delfs after doing some research regarding symbols used by such friendly organizations as the Red Cross, Salvation Army, and Rotary International made excellent reproductions for a fourth exhibit.

Further study and research in this area led to the suggestion by several students that it might be fun and of true educational value to write to several charitable and friendly organizations for more complete information. Letters were carefully composed by the students and sent to a number of organizations.

David Perkins received a letter and pamphlet from the Salvation Army; Nancy Peterson was the recipient of a letter from the Junior Red Cross; Robert Reute was happy to receive a reply and materials from the Goodwill Industries, and Mike Talcott was pleased to receive a folder and a "thank you" letter from the National Tuberculosis Association.

The interesting and informative materials received from the Goodwill Industries led several class members to inquire if it would be possible to make an educational field trip to the Goodwill Industries.

Mr. Carlson made application to Clyde L. Reid, director of the Institute for Economic Education, for the class to make this trip. A reply was quickly received from Mr. Reid stating that a bus would be furnished free of charge to the group. In preparation for this trip a more intensive study was then made of the work carried on at Goodwill Industries. A Goodwill Industries bag was obtained and members of the class filled the bag to the brim.

The class made the trip on Wednesday afternoon, October 15. Mrs. Edwin Evenden and Mrs. Joseph Henry, Room Mothers, accompanied the group on the field trip.

On the following morning a class evaluation revealed that this visit was a truly fine educational experience. Class members learned that handicapped workers can be trained to become self-supporting members of society and that 90 per cent of the 400 employees at Goodwill Industries are handicapped. They were surprised to learn that there is a long waiting list of men and women who wish to work at Goodwill Industries.

Class members also learned that some of these seriously handicapped people repair irons for Detroit Edison, clean street lamps, rebuild bicycles from discarded bicycle parts, and even run their own printing plant.

Ed P. Letscher Promoted To High Post at Dodge

Promotion of Ed P. Letscher to the position of sales manager-field operations, car and truck, was announced today by Byron J. Nichols, Dodge vice president and general sales manager.

A veteran of 19 years in the automotive field, Letscher joined Dodge in 1947 as a conference leader in the retail sales management program. He then served as assistant regional manager in Pittsburgh and Memphis, regional manager in Greensboro, Cleveland and Philadelphia, before being promoted as sales supervisor in Detroit. In 1953 Letscher was appointed assistant sales manager-western zone, and a year later was appointed assistant general sales manager of cars.

In his new capacity as sales manager-field, Letscher will direct all of the field sales and service operations for both cars and trucks.

Prior to his association with Dodge, he worked in sales supervisory capacities for the Indian Refining Company and two major automobile manufacturers.

Letscher was born in Sharon, Pennsylvania and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

$200,163 Raised In Torch Drive

Grosse Pointe had raised 66.6 per cent of its quota when reports were made at a luncheon meeting on Tuesday. The total turned in to date was $200,163 of the quota of $300,491.

Mrs. Raymond Brett of Lincoln road, head of the Pointe Regional Unit in the Women's Participation Division, was informed that her workers have done better than any other unit in the division.

The percentage raised to date by the whole division is but 44.9 per cent, as against the Pointe's 66.6 per cent. The total to date for the division is $353,090 against the quota of $786,392.

Total returns in the drive reported up to Tuesday noon were $7,988,042 raised against the quota of $14,450,000, or 54 per cent of the goal. The drive ends on November 10.

Famed Orchestra To Play Nov. 10

The first American tour of the Philharmonia Orchestra of London, conducted by Herbert von Karajan, includes a concert here at Masonic Auditorium Thursday, November 10, which seems certain to take top place among musts for music lovers this season.

Enormous advance interest in the initial American tour of the Philharmonia may be credited to the unprecedented and unanimous critical acclaim which greeted Herbert von Karajan on his American debut last winter as the director of the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra.

The youngest major orchestra in Europe, called by the distinguished British music critic Ernest Newman "by general consent, the best in England," was organized in 1945 by Walter Legge. The roster of those who have conducted the ensemble, in addition to Karajan, speaks for itself: Toscanini, Furtwaengler, Richard Strauss, Eugene Ormandy, Guido Cantelli, Rafael Kubelik, Igor Markevitch, Paul Kietzki, Issay Dobrowen, and many others.

In 1954 the Philharmonia first toured Europe under Herbert von Karajan's direction. The spectacular round trip by air from London to New York, arranged at a cost of more than $40,000 after a unique agreement between two of Europe's major airlines—B.O.A.C. and Sabena of Belgium—is of course the most ambitious undertaking in the 10-year-old ensemble's history.

Not only must air transportation for the 105 players, of whom eleven are ladies, and their luggage be provided, but the same two planes bring in some 8,000 pounds in equipment, including instruments and scores.

Deep Sea Diving Lecture Subject

The Seabury Club of St. Michael's Church will present A. Pilkington who will speak on "Deep Sea Diving in the New World" on Friday, November 11, at 8 p.m. in the church auditorium, 20475 Sunningdale Park drive.

Mr. Pilkington will show two colored films, "Shrimp Trip Across the Gulf of Mexico" and several short shots on Barricuda. He will also have on display over 100 specimens of marine life.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program which should prove to be interesting entertainment to children as well as adults. Donations are 50c for adults and 25c for children.

Warning Issued To Pedestrians

Safety Posters on the highways over the entire State are devoted to Traffic Safety twelve months of each year.

This month the poster message is: "If You Kill a Pedestrian You Will Never Forget It."

While drivers have the right of way in portions of the street other than crosswalks, they may not, of course, abuse this right by speeding, driving recklessly or by violating other traffic laws.

However, the smart motorist will constantly be on the alert, for the careless pedestrian and the wise pedestrian will always look out for the reckless driver.

Here is a pedestrian rule school children are taught: STOP at the curb, LOOK both ways, WAIT until it is safe and then WALK, not run, across the street. It is a good rule for adults, too!

Pedestrians must not abuse their right of way in crosswalks by stepping suddenly from the curb into the path of a closely approaching vehicle.

Moreover, pedestrians, when crossing a street in any place other than in a crosswalk, must remember that the drivers have the right of way. When a pedestrian violates this provision by stepping or running into the path of an oncoming car, he not only risks his own life but may cause an accident in which he is not involved by forcing the driver suddenly to stop and swerve.

Pedestrian deaths will increase with the shorter daylight periods. You as a pedestrian can help reduce these statistics by observing all the safety rules.

Ford Earnings Reach New High

Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board, said that Ford Motor Company's estimated earnings before taxes this year will "surpass the aggregate earnings of the company for the entire 21 years prior to World War II."

"For the nine months ended September 30, 1955," he added, "the profits of the Ford Motor Company, both before and after taxes, are greater than any total year's profit in the history of the company."

Mr. Breech cited these other evidences of Ford's present healthy condition:

The company's present United States employment is 193,000, an increase of more than 55 per cent since 1946.

Ford's total wage and salary payments this year—not counting fringe benefits such as pensions and insurance—will set an all-time record of more than $1,123,000,000. For the first nine months of 1955, the average weekly wage of hourly employees, including overtime, was $105.74.

By the end of 1957, Ford Motor Company will have spent or committed more than $3,750,000,000 since 1946 on new tools and new, expanded and modernized manufacturing and assembly facilities—with all of it coming from earnings, depreciation accruals and more efficient turnover of working capital.

Despite these new facilities and extensive use of overtime and extra shifts, "we still haven't been able to produce enough cars to meet demand."

Pointe Theater Dates are Set

The cast has been selected and rehearsals well underway for the next Grosse Pointe Community Theatre production "The Glass Menagerie," by Tennessee Williams.

This famous play will be presented at Cannon Memorial Center, E. Warren and Cadieux road, on Friday, November 18, Saturday, November 19, and Sunday, November 20, at 8:30 in the evening.

Director Dean Erskine has cast in the leading roles Phyllis Reeve, Robert Maxwell, Patricia Rice, and Al Montag.

Producer for the show is

Blue Devils Drop Second Game of Season to Fordson

By Sandy McMechan

On a cold and dreary Saturday, October 29, the Blue Devils of Grosse Pointe High dropped their second game of the season to a powerful Fordson team, 14-0.

Throughout the entire game great defensive plays were made by both teams; for the Pointers exceptional heads-up ball was turned in by tackle Paul Christo and end Bill Anderman.

Touchdown Nullified

The ball game got off to a good start for the Devils as the opening kickoff was caught by Dan Bauer. He handed the ball to Stu MacDonald, who sped from his 25 to go over the enemy's goal line for a spectacular 75 yard run.

The touchdown was nullified, however, by the referee's ruling that Bauer had passed the ball forward to MacDonald, an illegal procedure on receiving a kickoff. If this touchdown had not been called back the Pointers might have been hard to stop in their bid for a victory over the Tractors.

Fumble Proves Costly

Later in the first half Grosse Pointe fumbled on their first play after receiving the Tractors' punt.

GPUS News Notes

The end of the first six weeks marking period came this past week at the Grosse Pointe University School. On Tuesday the faculty assembled to discuss the progress of the students to date and to turn in marks and written comments on each pupil.

After the faculty meeting and a full discussion of any pupils who seem to need special attention the marks and comments then go to the homeroom teachers of each grade. These teachers make a sort of digest of all comments and add one of their own. They in turn pass the completed product on to either Miss Richardson or to Mr. Grimes, who review the record and write a brief comment too.

Soon the good news (or the news!) will be in the mail, and parents and children will be discussing it together.

Speaker at this week's Upper School assembly was Miss Lorene Babcock, who represented the United Torch Drive and described its work. She was introduced by Jean Dohenhoff.

Eleventh graders have conducted some very successful Bake (and Cider) Sales. Very good.

GPUS classrooms had some visitors this week. Teachers from Grosse Pointe High School, Detroit Country Day School, and Maumee Country Day School of Maumee, Ohio attended classes on Thursday and Friday.

Varsity football results so far this year are: GPUS 30, Vaughn 6; GPUS 32, Oak Park 12; Detroit Country Day School 13, GPUS 6; GPUS 14, Harper Woods 7.

Win Net Honors In Hamtramck

The Hamtramck Midget Tennis Tournament was resumed last Sunday after having been postponed because of rain. In the 11 and under division, Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club's Ronnie Burns defeated Viv Dhooge, another Pointer, 6-3, 6-3.

In the semi-finals Dhooge defeated Bob Hudson of the Neighborhood Club, 6-2, 6-3, while Burns polished off Art Daume of Hamtramck, 6-3, 6-3.

Previous to this Dhooge and Burns had reached the semi-finals without the loss of a game.

This clean sweep by the Neighborhood Club marked the first time in Hamtramck tennis history that a Hamtramckite did not win. This tourney, according to Gerry Hoxie, coach for Hamtramck.

The clinic will be administered by Joseph Hill, well known basketball figure in Detroit, former coach of Detroit Institute of Technology and now associated with Wayne University and John Higgins coach of Detroit Institute of Technology. Demonstrations of the various techniques will be done by the Detroit Institute of Technology Basketball Team.

The clinic will be held Saturday, November 19, at the Downtown YMCA gymnasium, at 7:30 p.m.

The clinic will last approximately two hours and there will be a $1.00 registration fee.

Harper Woods Little League Meeting Attended by 250

The spirit of Harper Woods Little League Baseball was well displayed at the first annual meeting held Tuesday evening, October 25, at the Beacon School. There was an attendance of 250, which included 80 adults and 175 Little Leaguers.

A printed annual report was issued and read by Gene Carter, president of Harper Woods Little League Baseball.

The Harper Woods Little League is affiliated by franchise with the national set-up, which includes over 4,000 leagues throughout our nation. Each individual league is operated and sponsored by its own Community.

Little League Baseball is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization to offer boys under 13 years of age the opportunity to play and learn the famous American game of baseball. This affords the community with a tremendous opportunity to build a sound recreational program for younger boys during their summer vacation.

Mr. Carter stressed the need for volunteers and extended an invitation for help to put this project over in 1956.

During 1955, the Harper Woods Little League had a total of 24 teams of 15 players each who played a total of 152 games. Next year because of the population of Harper Woods, the Little League will have two major leagues of four teams each, plus the minor and clinic leagues.

Mr. Carter mentioned that new proposed rules would place all 8 year old boys in the clinic group, Pacific League, where they will learn the fundamentals of baseball and how to guard against injury. Also, each boy shall play at least two innings in each game providing he turns out for practice.

The method for dividing the Little Leaguers into the two major groups will be by birthdays, that is, those boys whose birthday falls on the 1st to the 15th will be assigned to one group and the others will be assigned to the second group.

A report from the nomination committee named seven volunteers for election to the 1956 Board of Directors. Nominations were asked from the floor but none were received.

Those nominated and elected to the 1956 Board of Directors were Charles Namin, Bob Leonard, Ned Grant, Charles Decker, Don McElmurry, Harold Benson and Earl Lee.

They will serve with the present board members including Gene Carter, Bernie Pierson, Richard Krause, William Kohler, Leo Watson and Robert Dornbrook. The retiring board members are Thomas Measel, James Haviland, Van Treska, Al Chrnialawsky and Jesse Carson.

Mr. Summers asked for a rising vote of thanks to the many persons who donated their time and support to the success of Little League in 1955. Mr. Carter expressed his thanks for the fine support received and expressed special appreciation to the many wives, whose husbands were delinquent from home duties for the benefit of Little League.

A question and answer period was then held with the majority of questions coming from the Little Leaguers themselves.

The meeting finished with a colored movie showing the highlights of the 1955 season.

Dodge Launches Safety Contest

Designed to "Make America Safety Conscious," a startling contest which will provide four motorists a new car every year for the rest of their lives was inaugurated October 31 by Dodge Division, Chrysler Corp.

In support of the National Safety Council's accident prevention program, contestants will be chosen from various sections of the country in the greatest "give-away program" ever offered the motoring public.

Purpose of the contest is to promote public safety on the highway, and to reduce the number of accidents that has appalled highway and automotive industry officials alike.

Jack W. Minor, sales manager in charge of Dodge advertising and merchandising, said that winners will be named on the basis of their knowledge of driving and safety principles. Rules of the contest are simple. Applicants must be 21 or older, and must possess a current driver's license. Registrations, of three to ten word safety slogans, may be made at any Dodge dealer from October 31 to November 28. Slogans will be forwarded to the impartial contest board for selection.

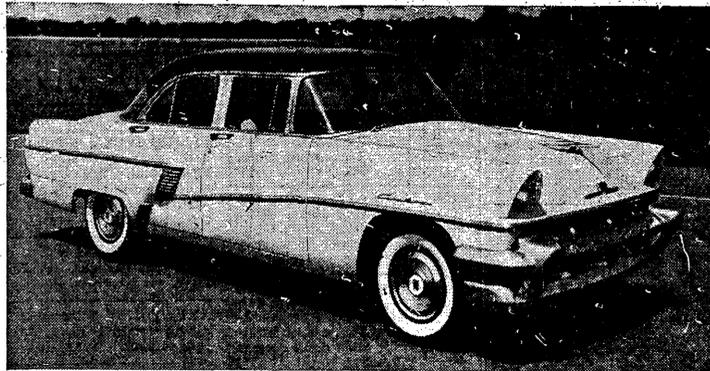

Beginning November 12, and continuing for four weeks, three different applicants, selected on basis of his safety slogan, will be flown to Los Angeles each week, all expenses paid, and will appear on the Lawrence Welk show (ABC-TV Saturdays, 8 to 9 p.m., EST).

Bert Parks, popular master of ceremonies of Dodge's "Break the Bank" program, will act as quizmaster. The winner will be awarded a new car every year as long as he lives. The two other contestants each week will receive a new 1956 Dodge hardtop.

The contestants who appear on the Welk shows will be asked questions prepared by the National Safety Council, Minor explained. A "push-button" tabulator will record the contestant's answers which will be visible only to the television audience.

"In company with every responsible citizen and officials of the National Safety Council,"

Presenting the Mercury for 1956

A more massive appearance, brought about by a new grille treatment and lowered height, is combined with a more powerful engine in the Mercury for 1956. A sweep side moulding adds to the graceful flowing lines, and accentuates the low, road-hugging characteristics of the car. Powered by a big new 312-cubic inch displacement Safety-Surge V-8 engine, the 1956 Mercury has superior acceleration and passing ability. New safety features including an improved door latch, an impact-absorbing steering wheel and safety belts are offered. Shown here is a Custom four-door sedan.

November Time For Seeing Stars

Star gazers will have a heyday in November, says a University of Michigan astronomer.

"Along with the frost and cold come added brilliance and splendor to the stars," according to Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh, who points out that some of the most beautiful stars of the whole sky light up the heavens during this month and through the winter.

And with the shortening days—only nine hours by the end of the month—you'll have plenty of time to see them.

Rising in the far northeast just about as the Sun sets is the bright star Capella in the five-sided figure of the constellation Auriga, dominating the eastern sky in the early evening.

Toward the south and coming up after Auriga is Taurus, the Bull. Part of this constellation, the little cluster known as the Pleiades, rises around sunset and about an hour later the rest of the constellation, a large "V" on its side, comes into view. At the end of the lower prong is the well-known orange star Aldebaran.

Another familiar constellation to catch your eye is Cassiopeia which appears high in the northeast, says Professor Losh, adding that many star gazers see its figure as a chair, thus its popular name, "Cassiopeia's Chair."

For anyone who's always wanted to see an eclipsing binary now's the time. The star Algol in the constellation Perseus is just such a one. And for anyone who's always wondered what an eclipsing binary is: "It's a double star in which the two stars revolve around each other," says the professor. In Algol the dimmer star eclipses the brighter one every three days.

One of our closest stellar neighbors, the bright star Fomalhaut, appears in the southern sky this month. Because Fomalhaut is by far the brightest object in that area you shouldn't have trouble picking it out, says Professor Losh. This star is the farthest south of all the bright stars that can be seen from the northern latitudes and is located, 23 light years away, in a constellation called the Southern Fish.

The Milky Way extends from the northeast to the southwest with Cygnus, the Northern Cross, practically overhead. And just a little below Cygnus to the west lies Lyra with its bright star Vega, second brightest star from this latitude.

There's still another bright star at which to point your telescope in November: Altair, in the constellation Aquila, shines in the southwest and can be easily identified because it is the middle, bright star in a distinct row of three.

And if some of the stars fall while you're gazing, don't be surprised. There are two meteor-shooting stars—showers, scheduled for the middle of the month, coming from the directions of Leo and Andromeda, the professor concludes.

Curtice Praises Builders; 10 Million Homes Since War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, today lauded the nation's home builders for the remarkable production feat of completing 10 million homes since the war, and declared the people of this country rapidly are approaching "a wonderful new era of better housing and more pleasant living."

His statement was issued in connection with the opening here today of the National Housing Center, which he described as "a living symbol of the progressive spirit of the home-building industry—an industry which is one of the economic bulwarks of the nation."

Mr. Curtice revealed that during the past several years GM and its Frigidaire division have carried on a program of research and development in the building field, seeking to help builders in their "tireless efforts to produce more appealing, higher quality homes at saleable prices."

The Frigidaire Holiday Kitchen, announced last week, is GM's first major contribution in the home building field, he stated.

"It represents a significant decision on our part to take the lead in designing and manufacturing kitchens especially for the new home market."

Winter Boosts Danger of Fire

"The coming of winter and the necessity of heavy firing of furnaces provides the acid test for fire safety in our homes, businesses and places of public assembly," Francis Hartman, head of the firemanship training program at The University of Michigan, stated this week.

Hartman, a former fire chief who has seen many a home go up in smoke because of carelessness, urged home-owners and businessmen to complete safety inspections now, before furnaces are fired up to "full blast" for the dead of winter.

Points to be checked closely, he said, are:

Furnaces—see that all connections are tight; if oil or gas is used, there should be no leaks in fuel lines; the smoke or exhaust pipe should be inspected, just in case they loosened up during the summer; if electricity is used to force heat, see that the wiring and motors are in good condition; if you have a coal-fired furnace, be sure you have ample metal containers for ashes and cinders.

Never use kerosene or gasoline to kindle a fire.

Chimneys—check them from the basement to the top of the stack for loose bricks or cracks in the masonry—escaping gases can cause extreme sickness and death; be sure that no combustibles are stored near the chimney or furnace; install a screen or spark trap at the top of the chimney.

Electricity—because of short daylight hours during the winter, a heavy strain will be placed on electrical circuits—don't overload them; if a fuse "blows out" it is an indication that the circuit is overloaded or shorted. If you reduce the load and it continues to blow fuses, call a competent electrical repairman—do not put pennies or other metal objects in the fuse receptacle! Reduce the number of extension cords in your home, they are a constant source of danger.

structural component of the house, represents an advanced architectural concept which substantially reduces builders' kitchen construction and installation problems. At the same time, it offers the home buyer a "dream kitchen," pre-engineered and pre-assembled, most in functional convenience and in harmonious, coordinated beauty," Mr. Curtice explained.

He said a tremendous challenge faces the home building industry in the years ahead.

"It may well be called upon to build as many as two million homes a year by 1970. Since more new homes mean more building materials, more furnishings, more appliances, new stores, new highways, new schools, and often more automobiles, the housing industry occupies a key position in assuring our continuing prosperity through the years," he stated.

A London daily paper said the Egyptians were moving arms purchased from the Communist bloc. It stated this information was made known by a high authority in Cairo. Egyptian pilots are reportedly testing their new MiG-15 jet fighters.

NEW X-RAYS showed that President Eisenhower's heart is now normal. The first complete x-rays taken since the President suffered his heart attack on September 24, showed no signs of any enlargement of the heart.

Another indication that the Chief Executive is getting well is that his diet has been increased from 1,600 to 1,800 calories a day. Eisenhower went into a huddle with Agriculture Secretary Benson on what to do about skidding farm prices.

TWO ATTACKS on Israeli outposts by Egyptian soldiers were repelled, Israeli sources said. Both Egypt and Israel moved reinforcements to the embattled Gaza Strip and to the border city of Nirim. The clashes which erupted two days ago threatened to start a full-scale frontier war.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry appealed to the UN truce headquarters at Jerusalem "for immediate supervisory action over Egypt's continuous breaches of the armistice agreement which now have assumed grave proportions."

RUSSIA'S anti-NATO pact for collective European security was rejected by the Big Three western powers because it poses a threat to the West. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov came under heavy criticism at the Geneva conference on the charge that his proposals would "deceive the hopes of the world."

Despite hours of debate in three sessions since Thursday, Russia and the West appeared at a deadlock on the future security of Europe. Secretary of State Dulles said Russia's tactics violated the directives the summit conference laid down three months ago.

THE SAAR will be ruled by a neutral "caretaker" cabinet until new parliamentary elections take place on December 19. The cabinet, sworn in today, is headed by Premier Henrich Welsch, a railroad man, who was approved for the post by a 36 to 4 vote.

The four opposing votes were cast by Communists. Welsch's government succeeds that of Johannes Hoffmann. Hoffmann resigned after last Sunday's referendum in which the Saar

Monday, October 31 FRANCE HAS AGREED to return deposed Nationalist Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef to France as a concession in their negotiations with Moroccan Nationalists. The ex-Sultan ended his Madagascar exile yesterday. The quickening developments concerning Morocco suggested greater strength for Youssef, who was forced to abdicate two years ago by the French Government.

He now has more backing than ever from his people, who consider him a hero and a symbol of Moroccan Nationalism. It appears that the French Government would not place too much of an obstacle in the way if Youssef is returned to the throne.

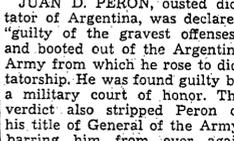

THIRTY-FOUR PERSONS escaped a fiery plane after it made a safe emergency landing in Charlotte, N. C. The passengers, all from the Detroit area; were praised for their calmness by the pilot, Capt. Dave Shriner. An engine of the plane, an Eastern Airlines sky giant, caught fire, and Capt. Shriner estimated that the blaze would have buckled the wing in five minutes, if the landing was not made. A Charlotte fire department crew and one from the Air National Guard battled the fire for an hour. None of the passengers was hurt.

THE ENTIRE FLEET of the U. S. Navy will be totally atomic-powered in the near future, it was revealed by Rear Adm. Frederick R. Furth. The admiral, research chief of the Navy, would not say how soon, but ventured that the next decade would see wider use of nuclear power and added "we will gradually build up as other types and modes of propulsion becomes obsolescent." Beyond that he said, it will take considerable time to equip fighting ships with atomic power.

Tuesday, November 1 JUAN D. PERON, ousted dictator of Argentina, was declared "guilty of the gravest offenses" and booted out of the Argentine Army from which he rose to dictatorship. He was found guilty by a military court of honor. The verdict also stripped Peron of his title of General of the Army, barring him from ever again wearing the Argentine uniform. Five generals made up the court which tried the ex-president in absentia, and which charged him with enriching himself while in office, of sowing hatred among the Argentines and inciting violence.

GOV. WILLIAMS and key legislators talked for three hours on the subjects of mentally retarded, highway safety and increased teachers' salaries. No agreements were reached on any of the three. Chief topic was a

Mrs. Henry de S. Lauve comfy and hatless, greeted bleak November by combining a perfy charcoal suit with zig zag button detail on jacket front and tailored pink coat.

Heavy wool suit of olive green — worn by Mrs. Harry L. Lipski — has unusual neckline styling: collar extends into two flaps which cross and button smartly. With it, she donned deep brown velvet hat caught across the rear with wide ribbon of tan.

If your correspondence pertaining to the White Christmas Ball for St. John Hospital has a few typographical errors, the finger of guilt points to Jonathon Mark Motschall (he'll be two in January), who has an inborn yen to type. Whenever Mama, Mrs. James Motschall, hauls out her typewriter to do publicity chores on the Ball, Jonathon stands on tiptoe and gets in an intermittent peck at the keys.

Saw Pat Motschall the other day wearing a beige wool frock with turtle-neck collar and wide belted in leopard. Matching beige hat also had wide, wide eye-shading brim and she tossed a coat of the same color over her shoulders.

A local kindergartener thinks he's really "on the job" now. He came home from his half-day class and told his mommy to "Watch the calendar because next week we go to school for four days and then we'll be laid off."

PILFERINGS

A young Baltimore debutante handed over the list for her coming-out dance to the cousin who was giving the party. Looking over the neatly written pages he came to one which severely tried his composure.

Under the heading "Divine Elderly Men", it consisted of friends of his, whose venerable ages, he knew, ranged from 25 to 27.

When a young serviceman called for his 16-year-old date, her mother engaged him in conversation and discovered that he was from Brooklyn — whereupon, she mentioned that she and her husband had lived there 18 years before when they were first married.

Next morning, her daughter said in disgust, "That certainly did it, Mother. I'd told him I was 18; so, then of course, I had to tell him I was illegitimate."

Most embarrassing moment in the life of Jane Wyman occurred when she was entertaining very special guests. After looking the house over carefully, she put a note on the guest towels, "If you use these I will murder you."

It was meant for her husband. In the excitement she forgot to remove the note. After the guests had departed, the towels were discovered in perfect order, as was the note itself.

Actress Leonora Corbett sent the following note of apology to a friend:

"Dear Gerald: Do you remember the day we met outside my front door? I had not seen you for quite a while. You came toward me with outstretched hands and beaming smile. I was in a dreadful hurry.

"Oh Gerald, I said, 'I wish you were a taxi!' You laughed and said how funny I always was, but your arms dropped rather quickly to your sides.

"Months have passed since then. Gerald, will you forgive that naughty jest of mine, if I tell you that this morning as I left my house an empty cab slowly passed me by, and half aloud I whispered, 'Oh, taxi, how I wish you were Gerald!'"

"You ain't got no cause to worry lady," the taxi driver assured his female passenger as she picked herself up from the floor while the tax continued to skid and swerve down the street one wintry day. "I ain't goin' to land back in no hospital now after 18 months in one overseas."

"How dreadful," she murmured sympathetically. "You must have been badly wounded."

"Nope," he said cheerfully, "never got a scratch. I was a mental case!"

A recent newspaper ad of the Oklahoma School of Accountancy was headed: "Short Course in Accounting for Women."

Shortly thereafter, a note reached the school's president. It read: "There is NO accounting for women."

MRS. JAMES HUNTINGTON OF SHOREHAM ROAD

By Kitty Marriott

It's hard to believe that this slim young matron with the quick smile is the dynamo behind Mistletoe Mart — until you talk to her for a couple of minutes.

Then, as you listen the pieces quickly fall into place, and it's even more difficult to realize that the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Congregational Church named Mrs. Huntington general chairman of their annual Christmas Fair (and isn't Mistletoe Mart a catchy name? without knowing anything of her personnel and fashion coordination background).

After finishing at Prince, which is the Simmons College graduate school, Mrs. Huntington went to work as fashion director for the Fair stores in Chicago, in which capacity she put on 100 fashion shows a year. She also taught costume design at a community center in the Windy City.

So, actually it's not at all surprising to watch her skillfully supervising work and workers for the 27 departments which will be operating on the fair date, December 1. (Pardon that future tense, please! They've all been going full steam since January.)

Mrs. Huntington is quite delighted with the whole thing. Mistletoe Mart, which is the church's first complete bazaar in five years, combines everything she ever liked. She has been shopping, sewing, designing, planning and cutting for months.

She has a finger in plans for each of the 17 booths, whether it's Christmas decorations, culinary department, Tutti Frutti booth which the Senior Sixteens (women in their 80's) will operate, or men's wear booth. When one unit was unable to find felt coasters for the ladies to make, Madame Huntington whipped out her sketch pad and designed what they wanted.

Something for Everyone
In line with her store experience, she is running the fair like a one-day department store so that there is "something for every age" to buy. There's a businesslike ring to her description of the work plan: "All groups that are producing straight lines of work spend one day a week on it."

But the credit, modest Mrs. Huntington insists, should go to all the vivacious women who are doing such a grand job with her. To illustrate the point, she told how one of the workers, answering an evening phone call from her child's school teacher, was greeted with the words, "Cynthia told me that I'd have to call you in the evening now that you're working, Mrs. C."

Toledo branch of the group has knitted over six dozen pairs of mittens to be sold at the fair. The Ohio help comes from Mrs. Huntington's mother, Mrs. John Reed Adams, of Toledo.

Contemporary Furniture
The handsome modern decor of the Huntington home shows the fashion-wise touch of the lady of the manor — although she says that it's a three-way proposition. She and Mr. H., who's a management consultant, and 13-year-old Michael, who's a whirlwind in his own right, shop together for everything in their home.

Their blond furniture is almost Swedish modern. Mrs. Huntington calls it "contemporary furniture with our adaptations," since they insisted on certain changes to get the effect they wanted. Two comfy rounded chairs, covered in red corduroy, lend a splash of color in the living room against gray walls and carpeting. It shouldn't have been a surprise, but it was, to learn that

Contrary to general impression, Metropolitan Beach is not closed but is open year-around for a variety of activities. The 550-acre park on Lake St. Clair is currently offering golf, roller skating, archery and shuffleboard. There is no parking or admission charge. Daily operation of the 18-hole pith-putt golf course from 11 a.m. to sundown will continue through this month. The roller skating rink is open from 12 noon to 9 p.m. on week-ends and will be opened during the week for groups on request. The archery range is open on Sundays and the shuffleboard courts may be used free of charge every day of the week. The food bar is open days and evenings. The park provides a free launching ramp for private boats. In winter, thousands use the park as headquarters for ice fishing and a sheltered rink provides space for both free skating and hockey. Recreation Director Bob Girardin supervises activities. The Metropolitan Beach telephone number is WOodward 3-3022.

Bishop of Korea To Preach Here

The Right Reverend John Daly, Anglican Bishop in Korea, will preach at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services on Sunday, November 6, at St. Michael's Episcopal Church.

Born and educated in England, Bishop Daly spent the first six years of his priesthood in that country, after which, in 1935, he was consecrated Lord Bishop of the new Diocese of Gambia and Rio Pongas, a territory twice the size of Great Britain. It is told that during his 15 years in West Africa Bishop Daly never had a house of his own, living in mud houses and once, for four months, in a tent with the R.A.F. Most of his travels throughout the Diocese were done by hitch-hiking, after the outbreak of the Second World War, with the R.A.F. and the Navy.

In 1951 the Archbishop of Canterbury, while on a visit to West Africa, transferred Bishop Daly to the See of Accra where, during his stay, he witnessed many important political changes. His Assistant Bishop was an African, and in his diocese he had 38 African priests and three English ones.

The Archbishop of Canterbury recently appointed Bishop Daly as the Bishop of Korea, to replace the Right Reverend A. Cecil Cooper, who retired in November, 1954, after having spent three years in a North Korean prison camp.

The new Bishop will leave San Francisco this month to take over his duties in Korea. He comes to Grosse Pointe, recommended for his vast knowledge of both the African and Korean situations and the need for the Church and its work in these areas.

When we looked in the windows at number 81 Kercheval we knew for sure that the gaiety and color of the holiday season is already here. All the glitter for your holiday decorations can be discovered among these miniature Christmas trees... sleighs... reindeer... wreaths... stars... most are fashioned in sparkling gold and silver. It's the Dant's.

Then there is the little miracle made from the world leader in radio sales... General Electric. They're tiny transistor portable radios. In fact they're no larger than an ordinary postcard. They weigh less than a pound complete with battery. One little battery gives one hundred hours of continuous playing. You'll like the cabinets because they are constructed of a new type plastic that will not chip, crack or break under normal handling. Earphones for private listening... and leather carrying cases are available. These are a special feature of the Camera Center, in the village, and cost around fifty dollars.

The turn of the Century's wall telephone inspired Guild's craftsmen to create a unique radio. It's the old fashioned wall telephone fashioned of solid hardwood that has been hand rubbed to a mellow finish. Combine this with all the brass fittings and you have a Country Belle radio. A turn of the crank gives you a super sensitive intercom system. Another one in the form of a good looking spice cabinet is available. Two carefully fitted drawers add to the practicability of the Spice Chest, and to the charm of a truly beautiful Provincial reproduction. These on Holiday Hill, Kilgore and Hurd, 92 Kercheval.

When you have a boutique you have a "shop within a shop." Boutiques are lots of times as gay as treasure hunts... and just as much fun. In this fascinating boutique you will find samples of the seasons glitter... brilliantly splashed scarves... tawny orange... gleaming gold or autumn green... belts will be skinny ones or wide ones... the jewels will be by Monet or Miriam Haskell... bags, unusually shaped will be by Koblentz or Joseph... they will be big satchels or smaller editions... all the chic in Christmas gifts is here at Margaret Rice's, 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

If you are just like a woman you've probably changed your mind... and the color of your hair. If you like subtle colorations and the use of improved preparations you'll like the way the colorists do any kind of coloring from silver blonding to black at Louis of Jacobson's. This is where a well trained staff specializes in eye-brown expression and make-up... where nylon hair pieces can be ordered... and where the trend is way from Italian and Boy-cuts to Oriental or Balinese movements. Have this custom beauty work done in the new Louis of Jacobson's, TU, 2-2610 for appointments.

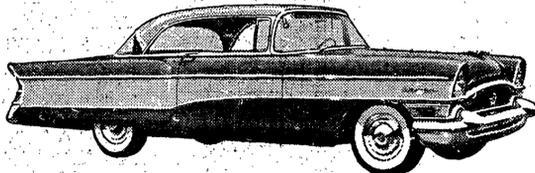

People who eat will enjoy the convenience... the atmosphere of the Snack Bar in Jacobson's. Steaming coffee... pasteries... made to order sandwiches and salads... are just meant for shopper's like you and me. In the village, and accessible by stairway or elevator to the second floor. See YOU there.

Boys love 'em... plaid button down shirts... or checked ones. These in washable cotton and in size 13 to 15 neck. Find this new collection in The Village Youth Shop at the S. Stein & Co., in the village.

It takes at least a couple of weeks to get a monogrammed gift ready. Take a washable Vievella Robe... a soft Dalton Cashmere... a pair of Bermuda Shorts... a shirt... a blouse... each could be a personalized gift... and any or all could be monogrammed in Margaret Rice's famous workrooms. Yep, you won't be wrapped up for long eating a Northern Spy... you'll be gift shopping, gal, at 78 Kercheval, on the hill.
