

Proposed Swimming Pools

After the matter had been discussed thoroughly from every angle, the Board voted to propose the entire issue as a complete community facility.

Breakdown of Costs - The breakdown of the $3,475,000.00 bond issue, insofar as each of the four large items are concerned, is: $2,897,255.00 for the Chalfonte Junior High School; $230,545.00 for the proposed (regulation size) swimming pool at the Parcels Junior High School; $187,450.00 for the proposed pool at the Pierce Junior High School...

School Pay

"These additional monies appropriated by the Legislature for the purpose of paying additional compensation to school personnel will be reflected in the January, March and May State-aid payments to school districts."

Other Actions - Taylor's letter also pointed out two other actions of the Legislature's special session: "The Legislature, at my behest, allocated additional monies for both the mentally and physically handicapped children's programs. These increased allotments will make it possible for the State to come closer to meeting its full share of the excess cost of these programs."

On driver-training in the schools, Taylor wrote: "The Legislature also passed a bill which will result in the appropriation of monies for driver education and training classes."

Better Drivers - "Experience shows that these youngsters who have taken such classes in secondary schools are much less likely to be involved in fatal traffic accidents and are rated as among the more expert drivers."

Under the terms of the new legislation, local school districts will receive up to $25 per enrollee in driver training classes."

Dr. Bushong said that estimates supplied him by school principals put the number of students who will be eligible for driver-training at about 800 in the Grosse Pointe District.

That figure includes private and parochial schools. Under the legislation, the public school system is required to provide the driver training for both private and parochial schools.

See Greater Cooperation Between State's Colleges

Greater cooperation in the immediate future between Michigan's private and public colleges was expected by educators attending the ninth annual Conference on Higher Education at The University of Michigan on December 6 and 7.

The conference attracted 225 presidents, deans, and faculty members of forty-two of the state's colleges and junior colleges.

An organization has been formed of the presidents of all the colleges and universities in Michigan for the purposes of exchanging information and to achieve greater cooperation.

Speakers at this meeting as well as other educators in attendance, were in complete accord in urging emphasis of similarities of function while at the same time maintaining their unique and productive differences.

Harlan Hatcher, U-M president, said, "All of our joint efforts will be taxed to fulfill our mission. The emphasis must go on cultivation of the many strong areas of understanding and mutual responsibilities, rather than to exaggerating, over-emphasizing or propagating superficial differences."

Arthur G. Coons, president of Occidental College (Los Angeles), a Presbyterian college, stressed the danger of current competition between public and private colleges and universities developing into an unhealthy and dangerous struggle, if not open conflict.

He stated that the conflict arises out of questions of financial support, but actually concerns many aspects of institutional behavior.

He further declared that "there is no sense in an anti-public institutional viewpoint by independent institutions or vice versa. There must not be conflict between public and private higher education. They are complementary and both are needed."

The educators were in agreement with Terry Wickham, president of Heidelberg College (Tiffin, Ohio), who predicted an increasingly important role for the small independent colleges. President Wickham asserted his belief that enrollment in the church colleges will keep pace with the growth in population.

He stressed the ability of the small colleges to adapt themselves to changes in the structure of American education which are likely to occur. "Small size and freedom from external control enable them quickly to adjust their programs as new situations develop," he said.

The Rev. Celestin Steiner, president of the University of Detroit, made a plea for emphasizing similarities of the public and private institutions of learning. "I believe we should work together to make what we have in common effective," he said.

"However, a word of caution: if we ever establish it as a basis that we aren't much different, then practically all the reasons for the existence of the church-related colleges would be eliminated. The fact is we are different, and we should recognize these differences in mission and draw inspiration from them. That's America."

Youth Admits Looting Cars

A series of thefts from autos in the Grosse Pointe communities and Harper Woods have been solved with the arrest of Robert O'Connor, 18, according to Grosse Pointe Farms police.

O'Connor, of 104 Mapleton, Grosse Pointe Farms, has admitted stealing tires from two motorists and gasoline from a third, say Detective Sgt. Harold Seelow and Detective Harold Beaupre.

He has implicated two other youths, one a Grosse Pointe Farms resident, who are sought for questioning the detectives say.

Two wheels and tires were removed last September from a Ford Thunderbird owned by Wayne Long of 155 Lathrop. O'Connor admits, according to Beaupre, throwing the wheels in Lake St. Clair and putting the tires on his own car.

Two other tires on his car, which has been impounded, have been traced to a Grosse Pointe Park resident's stripped car, Beaupre said. He allegedly took the gas from a car in the garage of John Griffin of 111 Cloverly.

O'Connor has been released on personal bond. A warrant will be asked, Beaupre said, after Harper Woods police complete their questioning.

Hails GP Area Residents For Christmas Seal Help

William S. McNary, chairman of the Tuberculosis and Health Society, extends thanks to Grosse Pointe area residents for their "generous contributions to their Christmas Seal Sale."

McNary said: "You can take pride in the progress that has been made toward the defeat of tuberculosis in your community—but tuberculosis has not been conquered." As an example of the continuing battle against TB, McNary related:

"Recently a man in this town packed his bags and said goodbye to his family. He couldn't say when he would be home again. He is 48, has a wife, a boy in high school, a girl in junior high, a small house, and modest savings. He has worked for one firm here for nine years. The future looked fine, until tuberculosis struck.

"What happens now? He can be fairly sure he'll get well although TB does take 16,000 American lives a year. His case was discovered early, during an industrial X-ray program and he'll get the best possible treatment in Herman Kiefer Hospital.

"How much will it cost to get him back on his feet? The average is about $15,000, including medical care, compensation, pensions, relief payments, and loss of wages. Most of this cost is paid for by you as taxpayers.

"What about his family? You can imagine that it won't take long to eat up that nest egg. Will his wife have to go to work? What about those youngsters who need attention and care? Community agencies that you support will advise and help. But it will be difficult times for this family until the father comes home, and no one can promise when that will be.

"And when he comes home, will he have to be trained for other work? This, too, costs money.

"To put it bluntly, this family has switched from the asset to the liability column in this community. Tuberculosis is a preventable disease, an unnecessary disease, yet 400,000 Americans have it.

"The money you give to the TB and Health Society is spent to prevent TB; to teach people how to build and keep good health; to find unknown cases of TB that may be spreading infection in this community; to help former TB patients keep well

Explain Delay At High School

Reasons for delay in construction of a covered passageway between buildings of the Grosse Pointe High School were reported to the Board of Education at its December meeting.

Dr. James W. Bushong, superintendent of schools, predicted a further delay and stated:

"The continued delay in getting construction started on the covered passageway at the high school has caused additional concern on the part of parents, administrators and board members. On October 5, 1955 the board approved the bid of Taylor & Gaskin, Inc. in the amount of $9,800 to furnish and erect the steel frame and the roof deck for the passageway.

"It also approved the bid of John D. Busch and Sons in the amount of $2,645 for applying insulation . . . and roof.

"We had hoped for almost immediate construction, but the company could not get delivery of steel according to its plan at the time of submitting the bid.

"At this time the shortage in steel made it appear that we would experience a delay of approximately five weeks in getting construction started.

"The Taylor and Gaskin officials expressed a co-operative attitude in attempting to locate the necessary supply of steel at an earlier date, but they were not successful.

"Later a second deadline of November 15 was set up as the date for beginning construction. The materials were not received in time to meet the deadline.

"In all of these weeks we have continued to maintain close contact with Taylor and Gaskin. They have been well aware of the concern we feel for the safety, health and general welfare of our high school young people.

There are several ways of making money, but easy money seldom gives satisfaction.

Dr. Rieveschl Awarded Honor

NEW YORK—The New York Academy of Sciences has elected as a "Fellow of the Academy," Dr. George Rieveschl, Jr., 39, scientific assistant to the president of Parke, Davis & Company.

Eunice Thomas Miner, academy executive director, said the election was in recognition of Dr. Rieveschl's "achievements in science," and explained:

"Election to fellowship is a distinguished honor, conferred on a limited number of members, who in the estimation of the Council, have done outstanding work toward the advancement of science."

Dr. Rieveschl has been with Parke-Davis since 1943 and was primarily responsible for the chemical work on Benadryl, first U. S. antihistamine.

He was born near Cincinnati and was graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1937. Dr. Rieveschl received an M.S. degree there in 1939 and a Ph.D. in organic chemistry in 1940. He served as assistant professor at Cincinnati before joining Parke-Davis as a chemist. In 1949 he became director of chemical research for the pharmaceutical firm and last year was promoted to his present position.

Dr. and Mrs. Rieveschl and their two boys, Gary 12, and Jan, 8, reside at 232 Lethrop, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich.

Cadillac

Strangers—with a Mutual Friend!

Anyone who owns and drives a Cadillac will find this a familiar scene.

For it is not at all unusual for Cadillac owners to salute one another as they pass on the highway . . . or to exchange approving nods as they wait for the traffic light to change.

Cadillac owners, you see, know that they have at least one mutual friend . . . in the Cadillac car.

And the chances are that if these two motorists were to meet, they would find they had a great deal more in common than just their affection for the "car of cars."

For Cadillac owners, taking them by and large, are people who share a keen appreciation for the finer things in life.

And, generally speaking, they are people of unusual practical wisdom . . . who have found in Cadillac the most economical means to the finest end in motordom.

They have learned, for instance, how reasonable a Cadillac can be insofar as original cost is concerned—actually within a few dollars of many "medium-priced" cars.

They have seen for themselves how economical a Cadillac is to operate through the miles . . . and how wonderfully dependable it is through the months and through the years.

And they have savored that final reward for choosing the "car of cars"—Cadillac's extraordinary resale value.

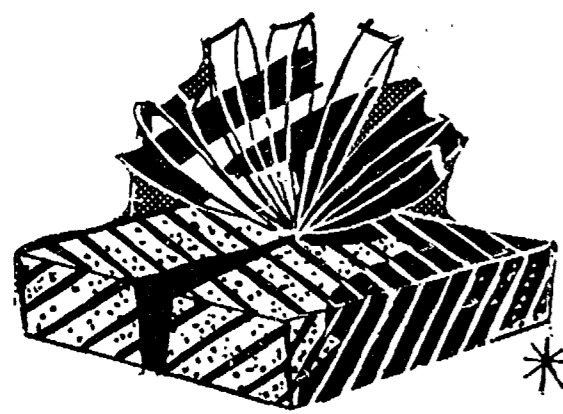

Perhaps, in view of these remarkable facts, the time has come for you to meet this wonderful friend of America's most demanding motorists.

We'll be delighted to introduce you at any time you find convenient—and to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

Why not come in today?

Anybody got an extra quarter? The price of five candy bars, or five cokes?
 The 1,700 patients of Northville State Hospital have a candy vending machine, and a refreshment counter. Just like you and me, they enjoy candy and pop. There's only one problem. No money.
 The Women's Advertising Club of Detroit has collected about 200 quarters.
 Their goal is 1,700, one for every patient.

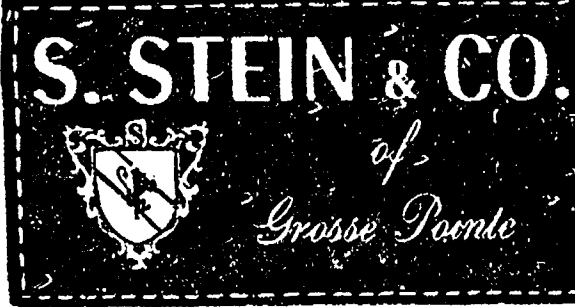

Interested?
 You can send your quarter to Hap Hazard, Campbell Ewald, General Motors Bldg. (2), or to Barbara Marx, Bielfield Agency, 740 Free Press Bldg. (26).
 Quarters anyone?
 P. S.: The club is also trying to get (for free) a "live" 30-ft. Christmas tree to be planted in front of the hospital. Anyone interested in supplying and planting the tree can contact Barb Marx, WO. 2-1577.

Woods Police Save Girl, 9

A 9-year-old girl owes her life to swift, co-ordinated action by the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Department. Alice Thomas of 2108 Hawthorne was stricken Monday, December 12, in her classroom at the Mason School. Her breathing stopped. Patrolman Robert Hyde, Woods dispatcher, got the call at 1:48 p.m. and immediately sent the Woods ambulance to the school. He then alerted St. John Hospital. Sgt. Roland Symons and Patrolman Don Collins worked over the child on the two-mile run to the hospital. Exactly six minutes after the first call was received she was delivered to the emergency entrance where alerted doctors were waiting. The child responded to treatment almost immediately.

Students Have Fun Getting Ready for Pierce Vespers

"It takes a month of Saturdays," John Mason was saying, "but we feel that it's very worthwhile. The youngsters come in on their own time—as do I—for they get such a charge out of it." We were talking with him last Saturday morning in the boys' gymnasium at Pierce. Mason, an English teacher at Pierce Junior High School, was referring to a Christmas project which he and 25 or so students are readying for the Pierce Vespers program scheduled for Sunday, December 18, at 4 o'clock in the school auditorium. The project is a unique border made of heavy paper which will completely embrace the auditorium walls. Consisting of huge Old English lettering of the words to "Silent Night," the border is being prepared on the boys' gymnasium floor by Mason and his young volunteers. "The young people are not necessarily artistic," Mason continued, "for we have invited all who care to come." Mason did his undergraduate work at Wisconsin University and took his masters at Duke. He is in his third year of teaching in the Grosse Pointe System. The Pierce Vespers is a delightful Christmas program presented annually to parents and friends of the school as a singing Christmas present to the community. Practically the entire school participates. The A and B Choruses and the glee clubs will be conducted by Miss Gwendolyn Brockmiller. Solos will be sung by: John Klock, Henry Taylor, Yvonne Pomaville, Kay Young, Jim Taug-ner, Lindsey Crooks, Bob Huestis, Janet Surginer and a duet to be sung by Jill Wilson and Barbara Ausbeck. The double quartet will include Pam Koeplin, Sandra Wilson, Adah Connor, Linda Wood, Jim Mathewson, Hank Van Luenburg, Mike Brady and Less Hudson. Besides the Old English-lettered border by Mason and his helpers, colorful tableaux will provide a very fitting and attractive background for the program. The people taking part in these tableaux are: Joseph—Steve Trowbridge; Mary—Bev Stewart; Innkeeper—Jim Verslype; Shepherds—Bill Pattae, Jeffrey Orhan and Tom Smith; Kings—Peter Mitchelson, Mike Waggon, Jim Glaser; Angels—Ann Currie, My Easterman and Tanya Morris. Mason said that Miss Brockmiller was chairman of the program. As he did so, a tall youngster came up, excused the interruption, and asked the instructor, "Mr. Mason, how do you make the letter 'H'?" "Excuse me," said Mason, "but I must make the most of our volunteers. Besides," he added, "our month of Saturdays is just about up." He hurried back to his little group who were on their knees around the unrolled wrapping paper on which the lettering was being done. "Merry Christmas!" he added, taking his place among them.

Honor 3 Youths Of Austin High

Three Austin Catholic High School seniors are among semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Examinations. The top 5 per cent of the graduating class of each of the high schools in the country is eligible to take these examinations.

This year they were taken by 60,000 seniors. Of this number 4,000 have reached the semifinals. Semifinalists will have to compete in another examination that will reduce their number to 2,000. About 400 of those finishing with the highest marks will be given four-year scholarships in the colleges of their choice. The remaining 1,600 will receive "certificates of merit."

The three Austin students achieving distinction are: Michael Bruce, of 1384 Devonshire, Grosse Pointe, a graduate of St. Clare Grammar School; Gary Bedell, of 18130 Coram, Detroit, a graduate of St. Jude Grammar School, and Anthony Kasper, of 348 Fisher road, Grosse Pointe, a graduate of St. Paul Grammar School.

These three are also members of the first graduating class of Austin Catholic and have been on the Honor Roll since their first year.

They have also been active in extra-curricular activities. All three are on the Year Book staff; Bruce was a tackle on the varsity football team and Bedell an outstanding halfback; Kasper has served three years on the "Friar," the school newspaper.

Best Cook

The Altar Society of St. Philomena Church has selected MRS. WILLIAM MOORE as its best cook. Kathryn was born in the Pointe and attended the Grosse Pointe schools.

Since her marriage, she has lived in the vicinity. She has four daughters and, as she says, keeping four youngsters and a husband well and happy requires the ability to be a good cook and homemaker.

When St. Philomena parish was established four years ago, Bill and Kathryn were charter members. She has taken a great interest in the progress of the parish and has given generously of her time and effort toward the success of every project.

She will appear on T. V. in the near future on behalf of a national food concern, and in return, this company has made a generous contribution to the church.

November Health Report Submitted

The health report for the month of November, presented by Dr. Thomas Davies, Pointe Health Commissioner, showed that the number of mumps cases has taken a big jump.

A total of 57 cases were reported, with the Shores the only community escaping the disease. Of the number disclosed, the City made known 22; the Farms, 21; the Park, nine; Harper Woods, three; and the Woods, two.

The next highest reported disease was chicken pox, which numbered 17; six from the Park; five each from the Woods and Shores; and one from the City.

There were four cases of scarlet fever in the Farms, and one in the Woods.

Measles dwindled to a mere four cases during November; three in Harper Woods and one in the Woods.

The Park, Woods, and Harper Woods disclosed one case each of ringworm.

Pneumonia struck three times; twice in the City, and once in the Farms.

The Woods reported the only case of pink eye; and the only case of meningitis (pneumococcal).

There were 11 animal bites revealed for the month; four in Harper Woods; three each in the Farms and Woods; and one in the City.

Mr. Power, advertising manager of the Chevrolet division of General Motors, was awarded the citation for his inspiring and dynamic speeches in behalf of the cancer control program. The citation read, "To William

MSU to Fete Foreign Guests

EAST LANSING—A Christmas adventure is in store for 125 foreign students at the Michigan State University campus again this year.

The "adventure" is a 10-day stay at M.S.U.'s Kellogg Center during the Christmas holiday season, beginning Dec. 20.

The foreign students, drawn from Michigan State and various other American colleges and universities, will be guests in East Lansing area homes, will go on tours, visit businessmen, industrialists, laborers, teachers and farmers.

Ten Michigan State students will serve as hosts to the group and will help organize tours.

When holidays come and most Americans enjoy the warmth of home, too many foreign students are left with nothing, says Miss Louise Carpenter, M.S.U.'s foreign student advisor and originator of the Christmas Adventure Plan.

The program costs each student $85 which includes room, meals, local transportation and entertainment. Several $50 scholarships are provided.

Last year's program included such things as the first encounter between a baked potato and a student from India, a talent show in which students mimicked one another, tours of Detroit industrial plants and reunion of old friends.

"I was amazed at how everyone learned to appreciate each other's culture," said Lou Ellen Miller, Williamston senior who participated in the program.

Events Providing Alumni With Chance to See Gym

Grosse Pointe High School alumni will have an opportunity next Tuesday and Wednesday to see the new high school auditorium-gymnasium in action.

Tuesday, December 20, is the date for a home basketball game. The dual-purpose building will play the role of sports arena when Coach Howard MacAdam's basketball team takes to the "hardwood" for their traditional encounter with the cagers from Mt. Clemens High School.

The junior varsity game will begin at 8:30 p.m. At 8 varsity competition will start. On the following evening at 8:15, December 21, the sports arena becomes a concert hall. The Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club and the Choir will take part in the annual Christmas concert.

Highlighting the concert program will be the first public appearance of the Grosse Pointe High Orchestra under the direction of Dewey Kalember, band director at the high school.

John Finch, head of the high school music department, will direct the 204 students in the glee clubs and choir.

For many G.P.H. graduates now attending college this will be a first-time visit to the building in whose realization they had a vital part.

Invitations to 200 former glee club and choir members of the past two years have been mailed and a special section has been set aside for them and their guests.

Soloists on the program will include Janet Launs, Beverly Hackey, Virginia Homler, Calvin Knorrp, Frank Mannone, and Susan Leach. Also included will be a vibraphone solo by Roberta Jay and violin solos by Leona Collins and Kaayina Waskenen. Lee Scott will do the narrating.

Telephones in the Orange Free State of South Africa increased from 13,335 in 1945 to 70,000 in 1955.

Pointe Symphony Orchestra Greeted by Large Audience

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra on Sunday afternoon, December 4, at Parcels School auditorium when music from the fairy opera "Hansel and Gretel" was featured, with soloists performing some of the major roles.

The orchestra under the baton of Wayne Dunlop, with John S. Sweeney, III, at the piano, handled the difficult score exceptionally well and the attention of the audience and the prolonged applause accorded the musicians at the end of the performance was a definite indication of how well their efforts were received.

The many children present were delighted with the gay and charming "Gingerbread Children" and the touching and tender scene where Hansel (Joan Luecke) and Gretel (Ana M. Martinez-Casado), realizing that they are lost in the forest, join their voices in the familiar and beautiful "Evening Prayer," which will long be remembered. Another highlight of the performance was their song and dance of joy at the death of the Wicked Witch, played and sung admirably by Joyce Edgar.

Robert Waterstripe, a broom-maker, Carolyn Austin, as Gertrude, his wife, and Dolores Wolson, as the Sandman, all gave excellent performances.

Hostesses at the reception held in the gymnasium following the concert were: Mrs. E. L. Korb, Mrs. James B. Blackburn, Jr., Mrs. Albert M. Fetta, Mrs. Anthony J. Vinci, Mrs. Ruth Baldwin, and Mrs. Samuel L. Tucker.

The next performance of the orchestra is scheduled for Sunday, February 19, with Emil Raab, violinist and member of the well known Stanley Quartette as guest artist. In addition to his concert activities, Mr. Raab is a professor of music at University of Michigan and conductor of the Jackson Symphony Orchestra.

Chinese Told of Rights In Post Office Notice

WASHINGTON.—The government will display in all 40,000 United States postoffices prominent notices assuring all Chinese nationals they are free to return to Red China if they want to.

Informed sources said all postmasters have been notified that the State Department will send them copies of the agreement between Red China and the United States in which each agreed to allow nationals of the other to return home.

The move is designed to persuade the Chinese Communists that the United States is leaving no stone unturned to carry out its part of the bargain and that they should release the fourteen Americans still detained on the Chinese mainland.

God and Country Award Given to Pointe Scout

One of Scouting's special honors, the "God and Country" medal, was presented to FIRST CLASS SCOUT FREDERICK HONHART III, of 264 Moran road, by the Reverend Erville B. Maynard before the congregation and members of Troop 156 at the 9:30 a.m. service held at Christ Church on Sunday, December 11. The award is in recognition of Frederick's service to the Church and special study in religion. He is the third member of Troop 156 to receive the coveted award. Shown left to right: Rev. Maynard, Scout Honhart and acting scoutmaster the Honorable Arthur W. Sempliner.

The God and Country award stems from one of the basic scout laws "A Scout is Reverent" and concerns a scout's reverence toward God.

A scout is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion. Just as a scout keeps himself physically strong by training and healthful activities, he builds himself spiritually by practicing his religion.

The award is a special recognition for a scout of First Class rank who has a record of at least one year's service to the Church, has fulfilled the basic requirements as directed by the minister, has passed an examination and has been examined by the church awards committee.

The God and Country medal is a crusader's shield with a red cross on a white background which is suspended on a blue ribbon and attached to a blue bar with inscription.

To date very few Pointe scouts have received the award and as Fritz stated "It is very hard to get. It takes a lot of memorizing of the Bible."

It takes you to make an argument.—Anna Faye.

Plans to Control Jets Under Way

WASHINGTON—Jet passenger planes will roar onto the American scene in 1959 or 1960, revolutionizing air travel and touching off a host of new skyway problems.

Already the government and air-line officials are worrying about controlling the increased numbers of high-speed planes that will be streaking across the continent at speeds approaching that of sound.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration will submit to Congress early next year "concrete plans" for improving traffic control, C. A. A. Administrator Frederick B. Lee said. The plans are expected to call for a start toward "semi-automatic" electronic systems for keeping all planes under "complete traffic control."

Parcells School Plans Concert

On Friday, December 16, at 8 p.m., students of choral music at Parcells Junior High will present a special program of Christmas music.

This Christmas Concert, which will be followed by a social hour, is the official program for the second meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association for this year.

Under the direction of Donald Simmons, music teacher, the members of the A and B choruses, the Boys and Girls Glee Clubs, and the Mixed Ensemble will present Christmas songs from many lands, as well as the familiar, favorite carols.

Some of the numbers on the program are: "The Sleigh," "Watt's Nativity Carol," "Ukrainian Bell Carol," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "We Three Kings," and "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Approximately one hundred and fifty students are contributing to this first Christmas P.T.A. program. The Christmas Story will be read by Sue Long, 8B. Singers in the Mixed Ensemble are Catherine Calcatera, Charlotte Richardson, Linda Weitzmann, Sharon Smith, Joe Green, Mike Brandt, and Jim Thistlethwaite.

Soloists with the Boys' Glee Club will include: Joe Peters, Matthew Milton, Paul Papich, John Winkworth, and Mike Tarsney.

The accompanists will be Donna Zizek, an English teacher at Parcells, and Jean Milligan, the librarian of the Grosse Pointe Woods Branch Library. Miss Milligan will play the organ, and Miss Zizek the piano.

In addition to the singers, 40 art students are at work under the direction of Mrs. Esther Meldrum and Allen Ebert. Special decorations are being prepared to add to the beauty of the program.

The P.T.A. President, Clarence Slocum, has announced that there will be no business agenda at this meeting. After the concert there will be a social hour and refreshments for parents, teachers, and students. Mrs. Winston Lancaster, Mother Vice President, will be assisted by a group of parents for this part of the evening's program.

Serving as hosts and hostesses are: Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bullard, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dossin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wenger, Mr. and Mrs. James Huntington, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman.

Men Gardeners Meet Thursday

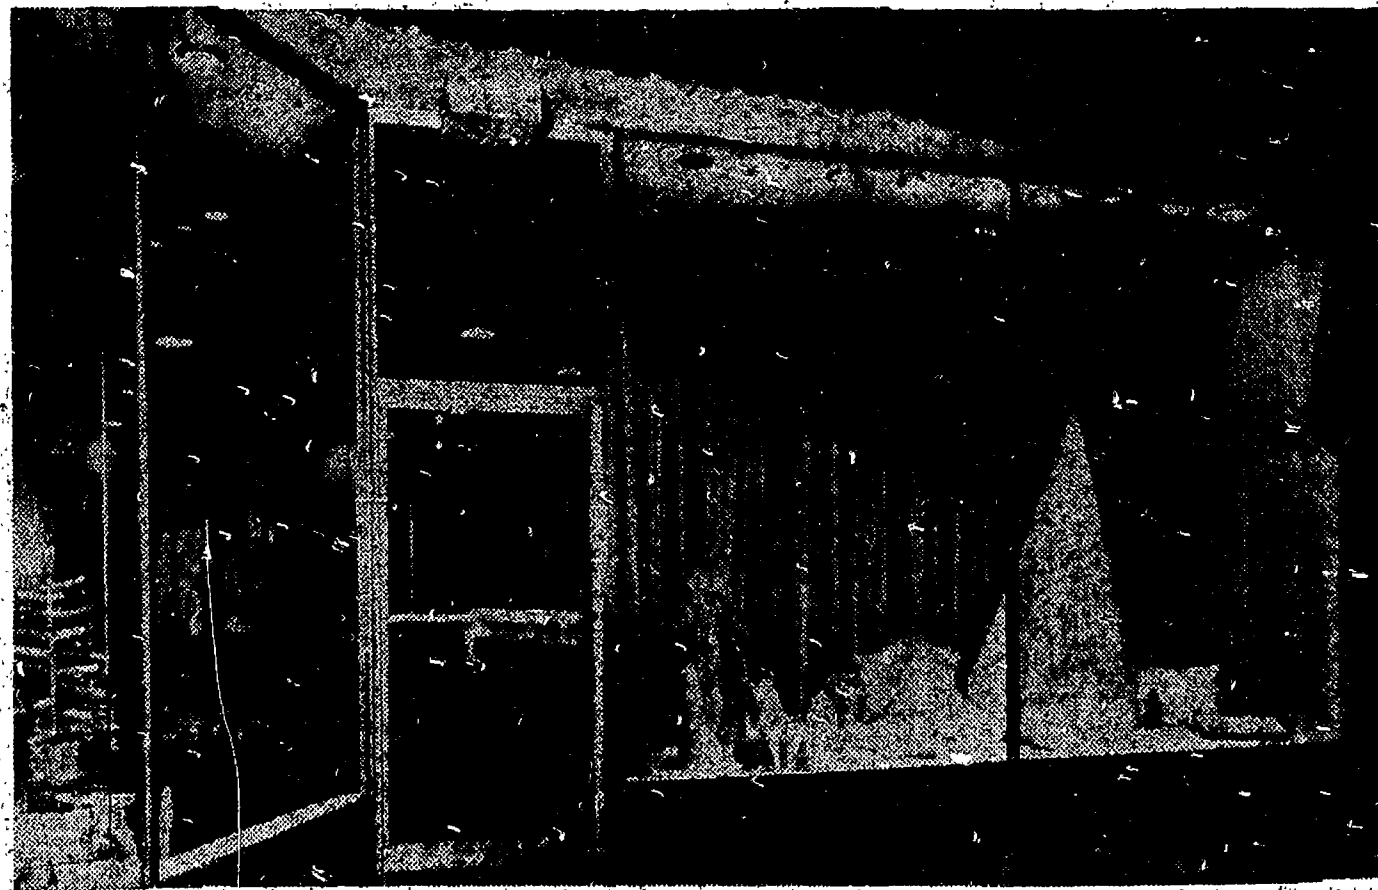

Soils and Organic Gardening are to be the topics at the December 15 meeting of the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe to be held at 8 p.m., in the Library of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

William Jones of the Roy D. Chapin Estate, will speak on the subject of soil and the use of organic matter in the garden.

Soil conservation and the importance of organic matter in the soil has not been practiced as thoroughly in our country as it has abroad. Mr. Jones is an English gardener and therefore has been practicing these methods. A short movie pertaining to soils will also be shown.

All Grosse Pointe men are cordially invited; participation in the popular question and answer period is always welcome. The chairman, Herman Hinsenkamp, will conduct this session. Coffee and cakes will conclude the evening meeting.

Museum Offering Christmas Show

Christmas came to the Henry Ford Museum Dec. 7 for a month-long visit when the extensive and colorful exhibit, "The World in Miniature," opened to the general public.

The Museum is again stressing the unusual as it presents an elaborate collection of miniatures and models representing five major categories of the Museum, including agriculture, power, transportation, architecture and design and fine arts.

Highlighting the agricultural section are scale model reapers, sowers, cultivators and plows fabricated by inventors for the United States Patent Office. Regulations at one time required that a working model of an invention be submitted along with the request for patent, and many models later presented to the Museum are included in this year's show.

Focal point of the Yuletide exhibit is a large, doll house-like model of Richmond Hill, the Ford plantation residence in Ways, Ga. The exacting prototype was built to show the late Mrs. Henry Ford how her new southern mansion would appear after construction. Interior furnishings for the miniature kitchen are based on and a scale model 18th century Greenfield Village's Clinton Inn dining room. Both tiny rooms are furnished with miniatures from Mrs. Ford's former personal collection.

Two completely furnished doll houses, one from the 19th century and the other dating to the 1920's, round out the Architecture and Interior design section.

The Museum's automotive section is remembered with a unique one-quarter scale working model of the first successful Benz car. It was presented to the late Henry Ford by the Daimler-Benz Company, famous automotive concern, on the motormaker's 75th birthday.

Items from the fabulous Charles Brady King Collection of miniatures, on exhibit for the first time, illustrate other modes of transportation. Included are accurately-constructed models of graceful clipper ships, swift two-masted schooners and other sleek and sturdy sailing ships that were built by our New England forebearers. Aircraft, locomotive and fire engine models complete the transportation display.

Representing steam and electric power are working models of steam engines, generators, and other machines, also from the King collection.

From the Museum's Fine Arts collection come many exquisite examples of the 18th-19th century craftsman in glass, ceramics, woodworking and metalwork.

Grace Hospital Nurses Hold Christmas Party

Student nurses at Grace Hospital School of Nursing sang Christmas Carols in the wards and corridors of Grace Hospital for the patients, Tuesday evening.

Immediately after, the annual Yuletide party feted members of Grace Alumnae Association was held in the big, beautiful lounge of Newberry Nurses Residence, 225 East Alexandrine Avenue, Detroit, where a huge lighted Christmas tree set the scene.

This (Thursday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, the student nurses will have their own annual Christmas festivity. Santa Claus will distribute gifts in the dining room which will be elaborately decorated with pine, cedar, holly and lighted tapers, after which a light buffet supper will be served.

The girls begin their Christmas vacation from classes at the school on December 16, returning January 2.

NO NEED TO WORRY

Hubby: Darling, you are extravagant. That electric light has been burning upstairs all day.
Wife: Don't worry dear, it's not ours. I borrowed it from next door.

From Another Pointe of View

By Kitty Marriott

A series of small dinners will precede the December 20 opening of the debutante season with the Little Club ball at which Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan, Jr., introduce their daughter, Anne Barry Phelan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Boyer will be dinner hosts Tuesday, also at the Little Club, in Anne's honor. Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. White will fete Eleanor Hawkins at a dinner in their Lake Shore road home, and Mr. and Mrs. B.E. Hutchinson of Lakeland avenue are entertaining for Valette Pingree Wright.

Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis, Jr., has invited some of the subdeb crowd to a small pre-dance dinner for her daughter, Barbara, who will make her debut next June.

Applause for Mr. Claus

Santa has a double-barreled schedule this Saturday afternoon with appearances to make at both the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Mrs. Paul I. Moreland, GYPC children's party chairman, and a bevy of helpers devoted one morning to wrapping the 400 gifts which Santa will distribute. Packages, wrappings and ribbons made a merry madhouse of the ladies' card room as they whisked through their task and then were treated to a surprise luncheon in the club dining room for their efforts.

Mrs. William J. Lilly . . . Mrs. Thomas C. Fox . . . Mrs. Robert E. Weber (whose husband was just elected club secretary) . . . Mrs. Edward Schoenherr . . . and Mrs. Howard A. Shaw made up Mrs. Moreland's committee. Others who assisted with the gift-wrapping chore were Mrs. A. D. Stuart . . . Mrs. Paul L. Barker . . . Mrs. Calvin J. Gauss, Jr. . . . Mrs. Robert J. Nixon . . . Mrs. George M. Brooks . . . and Mrs. Carl Anderson.

They Can Hardly Wait

For children of Yacht Club members, this is a long-anticipated party. Eight-year-old Chip Rohde answers the phone and eagerly tells all callers that his mother, Mrs. Arthur J. Rohde, is coming home from Hillsboro Beach, Fla., on the 16th just so that she can take Chip and brother Jim, 7, to the GYPC Christmas party on December 17.

And Ellen West, 11, has also made a momentous decision. Her mother, Mrs. Leonard R. West, has been taking the four youngsters to the Saturday morning children's concerts at Masonic Temple, and the ballet, which is Ellen's favorite, comes up on Saturday next. After due deliberation, Ellen said, "Well, I love the ballet, Mommy. But if I have to choose, I want to go to the party at the club." Luckily, the concert will be in the morning and the party from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, so Ellen can see both the ballet and Santa Claus.

And at the Hunt Club

from noon until 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, another children's Christmas party will be in progress. After a 12:30 luncheon, the younger set will enjoy a program which promises to include clowns, presents, a merry-go-round, and of course, a solemn handshake with Santa himself.

Among the 80 children, who have circled the date in Christmas crimson on their calendars are Hamilton and Marshall O'Connor . . . Tim Martin . . . Tish Roney . . . Terry, Mike and Peter Glancy . . . Bonnie, Gretchen, Heidi and Mary Ann Klein . . . Linda Bennett . . . and Pieter Hallie and Hendrik VanLeuven.

Mr. and Mrs. Navarre Bennett are in charge of Hunt Club party arrangements. Their helpers include the John Mulford . . . Don Martins . . . and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Doderhoff.

Annual Christmas Brunch

Every year at this time Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reichle give a Christmas brunch in their Hampton road home. Usually they herald the holidays about two weeks before December 25, so last Sunday was brunch day at the Reichles. Guests paid their respects to the large punch bowl in the Miss Sally Boales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Boales, 43 Edgemere road, Grosse Pointe Farms, and a senior at Pine Manor Junior College, Wellesley, Mass., took part in the oldest tradition at the college, the Christmas candle lighting service, on Sunday, December 12.

A role in the candle-lighting ceremony, one of the highest honors at Pine Manor, is awarded by vote of the entire faculty to girls who personify the highest type of college citizen.

Yule Breakfast Given at Club

Holiday breakfasts are becoming more numerous each year and one of the first hostesses to choose and popularize them was Mrs. George M. Slocum of Roslyn road. More than 300 guests gathered in the Senza Nome of Grosse Pointe Yacht Club last Sunday for her anticipated annual breakfast. Mrs. Slocum received her friends in a gown of midnight blue taffeta. Insets beneath the fine pleats of the skirt varied from palest powder blue to deep navy tones.

Following cocktails, the party moved into the main lounge, to find their places at tables set for groups of eight and ten and centered by several varieties of poinsettias and Christmas greens. The club arranged to have their huge Christmas tree and other holiday decorations in place early, especially for the party.

An organ and an orchestra alternated to furnish a background of continuous Christmas music. The program was planned by Mrs. Slocum and many of the selections were those she has heard in foreign countries on her extensive travels.

Christmas Generates Party Spirit at DAC

Many Pointers Enjoying Six-Evening Fete of Special Entertainment Provided in Pre-Yuletide Gala

Christmas certainly generates a special party spirit and it was in that special holiday mood that innumerable Grosse Pointers have been traveling downtown all week for the Detroit Athletic Club's pre-Yuletide gala. This Thursday, evening, December 15, will conclude the six-evening fete and it's a happy guess that the finale will be merriest of all.

Last Friday's opener set the pace. Groups in best bibs and tuckers dined and danced. They chortled and laughed at Jay Marshall, a very suave comedian and ventriloquist. They gave the accolade to Jean Fenn, beautiful young Metropolitan soprano who starred in the floor show part of the gala. They visited, and danced some more.

In a group that evening were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Parker, Jr., the John D. Baynes, the Frank B. Wares, Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Wishropp and the Alfred R. Glancys, Jr.

With Mr. and Mrs. Shirley T. Johnson—it was Mrs. Johnson's birthday anniversary as well as a holiday party—were the Sigurd R. Wendins, the J. C. Hurleys and Dr. and Mrs. John P. Ottaway.

The Albert A. Leclercs entertained the Edward Agopians, the Soren Sorensens and the Jay Bowens. The Lee Roy J. Scotts were guests of the Arnold W. Hartigs.

Dr. and Mrs. Leon A. Sweet were hosts in an eightsome to honor Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Hamilton, of Lincoln, Neb., who were spending several days in Detroit. The other guests were the Walter Holcombs and Dr. and Mrs. George Rieveschl.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Cunningham chose the following evening to entertain the Clarence Boydells, the Joseph E. Baynes, the Robert McKeans, the William McKinleys, the Charles B. Kemps, the Henry A. Kuhlmanns, the W. S. Teetzels, the Harold B. Tyres and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

At another table that evening were the R. Earl Milligans, the Jesse G. Vincents, the R. Bliss Wolfes and the J. Henry Picklers—their hosts were their long-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Wales, who had a group of 18.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Wilfred Harrison also entertained on Saturday, having their guests for cocktails at their Balfour road home before going down to the DAC. And during their cocktail hour there was music, with Dr. Harrison at the piano, Dr. Carroll Kennedy playing the violin and Dr. Fred B. Watts the saxophone. Besides Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Watts, the guests were Dr. and Mrs. David Richards and Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Fuller.

With the Hans Ernes were the A. Guy Ropps, the Walter Breys and the Elmer Freiwalds, and this was a Saturday group.

On the following evenings were the Fred A. Simonsens and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Don Middleton, Mrs. E. C. Watson and Mrs. Charles Crockett; the Cyril J. Burkes who entertained the Edwin Kriehoffs, the Joseph Verhelles and the Frank McGoughs; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Beckenhauer II whose party included the Harold O. Loves, Dr. and Mrs. George Fritz and the Fred Wolfs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Genter were cocktail hosts at their Yorkshire road home before taking their guests to the DAC fete. Present were the Lewis F. Browns, the Stark Hickeys, the Elmer A. Rolleys and the George Casidys.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Gallette were cocktail hosts at the club before claiming their table in the main dining room. With them were the Richard G. Dirksens, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Giroux, the Robert Kemps and the John D. Morans.

And among the Pointers this Thursday evening will be the E. Carter Laitners and their guests, the Walter Stewarts and the Robert Stewarts.

Harmonie Club Giving Concert

Grosse Pointe members of the Harmonie are making reservations for themselves and their guests, for the club's annual Christmas concert this Saturday evening, which bids fair to outshine any previous effort, both in excellence and size of audience.

More than 100 men and women vocalists, augmented by the fresh young voices of 18 choir boys from St. Mary's Anglican Church in Windsor, will present a varied program of the matchless old hymns and carols that are so great a part of the magic of Christmas. Choir master Sidney Carleton will conduct for his group, while Frank Murch will direct the Harmonie choruses.

The program will begin with two numbers in German and one in English, sung by the men and women. "Brich an du Schoenes Morganlicht" (Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light) from Bach's Christmas Oratorio; "Es ist ein Reis Entsprungen" (Lo, Hew a Rose e'er Blooming) by Praetorius; and Jungt's "While Shepherds Watched Their Sheep by Night."

An old English carol, "Wassail Song" will be sung by the men; the women following with "Winter Wonderland" by Barnard. Then all will join in that long-time favorite "Deck the Hall With Holly."

Songs by the boys choir will include "A Star Was His Candle," "Little Boy Jesus and I," "Come, Jesu, Come," "A Shepherd's Carol" and "Carol of the Little King." A brief period of community singing will follow, after which everybody who cares to may dance. A buffet dinner will be served from 6 to 8:30 o'clock.

Grosse Pointe members of the choir are J. Willard Carpenter, Herman A. Hielscher, Robert G. Keydel, Otto C. Krohn, Robert F. Murphy, J. A. Piccirilli, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlorff, Otto Strek and Mrs. Florence French.

Kenneth Carter Company Holds Christmas Party

Kenneth W. Carter and Company, prominent Grosse Pointe realtors, held its annual Christmas party for its staff last Saturday evening at the Detroit Yacht Club.

It was an occasion for the firm to celebrate a very successful year, marked by greatly increased volume of business over last year.

Christmas bonuses were paid to members of the sales staff. Bonus payments were approximately three times greater than last year's, due to the company's increased sales.

Mr. Carter thanked all the employees for their fine efforts. Raymond Lynch, local attorney, spoke briefly regarding the amazingly rapid growth of the company.

Woman's Club Fund To Help Foundation

The Grosse Pointe Woman's Club is pleased to announce that the Foundation of Exceptional Children of Grosse Pointe has been chosen to be the recipient of the club's Christmas Fund for this year.

At a recent meeting of the club, many members indicated their desire to aid in the development of the Foundation for Exceptional Children.

Under the auspices of the American Red Cross, Blood Bank units of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club continue to be active. Mrs. P. F. Hopkins, chairman for this service, has announced that:

On Nov. 17, a unit, consisting of Mrs. Joseph Schwartz, Mrs. George Funk, Mrs. Arch. Galbraith, Mrs. Gus Koester, Mrs. Erle Stetson, and Mrs. Hopkins, attended the Dodge Main Plant. Working six hours, they collected 101 pints.

On Dec. 7, Mrs. Alvin Borchardt, Mrs. Erle Stetson, and Mrs. William Rochell worked for six hours at Park Davis, where 90 pints were collected.

$16,000 Present Given Hospital

Mrs. Arthur D. Kerwin, Fontbonne Auxiliary president, presented a check for $16,000 to Mother-M. Eileen, SSI, administrator of St. John Hospital, at the annual Christmas tea last week.

The check, representing proceeds from the White Christmas Ball held at Lochmoor Club, will go toward furnishing the Marian Annex of the hospital.

The Sisters of St. Joseph, who staff the hospital, gave the tea for a auxiliary and committee members who have worked to aid the hospital during the past year. Each woman received a gift, a small scissors in a tiny leather case, perfect for milady's handbag.

A linen Christmas cloth patterned with poinsettias covered the tea table, which was flanked at each end by white candles in silver candelabra. Miniature angels sparkled beneath the glowing candles and a ceramic Santa and his helpers made up the centerpiece.

Small Michael Trees sang Christmas carols, while Patricia Canfield, musical director of St. Benedict's high school, played the piano.

ALL I WANT FOR CHRISTMAS—

"How do I go dressed as a mink?" was the big question last week for folks who were going to the Myron Lee Sherwoods' Saturday night Christmas party. Each guest was to appear at the doors of their Stanton lane home, dressed as the gift he or she wanted for Christmas . . . and they really outdid themselves.

Mrs. Karl Behr, who wants a smaller house, covered her head with a model home, using the windows to see through. Her husband pinned the fake money which he'd need to buy the house all over his suit. Cadillac ads, which J. Gordon Hill utilized, showed his wish quite plainly, and Mrs. Hill, who yearns to go to Europe by boat and return via plane, wore enchanting posters of Chet Sampson's tours.

HELLO AND GOODBYE—

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood planned the fete as a "Hello" and "Goodbye" party for the John Allmands, who have been shuttling back and forth between the Pointe and their Florida home at a mad pace, and will go south again for Christmas. Mr. Allmand hopes to make a return trip to Honolulu so he was dressed in a lei and grass skirt. Mrs. Allmand wore golfing attire and carried a disreputable looking empty golf bag to show just what she needed.

Bedecked with Varga girl calendars, Mrs. Paul Sutherland professed her wish to be a Varga girl for one night. The Jim Whins (Mary Sherwood) were dressed as football players, he wearing MSU colors and in the pink of condition; she as UCLA, swathed in bandages.

The Harold Andersons, who came in from Lansing for the party, used a football theme, too. Mr. Anderson dressed for a football game and carried a bowl of roses atop his head to signify his desire to attend the Rose Bowl game.

Mrs. Philip Kling carried the record of "I'm Not Getting Nothing for Christmas Because I Ain't Been Nothing

Detroit to Hold An Open House

Members of the Detroit Historical Society and Historical Guild are combining civic responsibility, the Christmas spirit and a large amount of ingenuity in preparing for Detroit's official Christmas Open House at the Detroit Historical Museum on Sunday, December 18, at 4 p.m.

Using an enormous amount of red ribbon, greens, popcorn balls, cranberries and dozens of brilliant baubles and lights, Guild members have transformed the museum into a giant Christmas card scene.

Directing the operation is Grace R. Fletcher as general chairman. Assisting Miss Fletcher are Mrs. Richard W. Allen, Mrs. Henry D. Brown, Barbara Frederick, Mrs. Thomas Gowanlock, Mrs. Ray Harris and Mrs. Frank Hibbler. Also included on the decorations committee are Mrs. Alvin Northedge, Jean Perrett, Mrs. T. L. Potter, Flora Reinhold and Mrs. Robert Brandon.

The entire city co-operates in preparing for the occasion. The Department of Parks and Recreation reserves one of its finest trees for the lawn of the museum. The accompanying outdoor Creche is provided and maintained by the League of Catholic Women.

The magnificent tree in the Round Hall is a gift of the Native Born Detroiters. Rare and precious ornaments for this tree are provided by the museum which carefully preserves them from year to year. An enchanting assortment of toys from the museum surround the tree and almost rival Santa's collection. The toys, many of them hand made and exceedingly rare, are displayed only during the Christmas season.

Climaxing the Open House festivities will be a Christmas concert by the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral. Robert H. Cato, director of the group, has planned a program of carols that include both ancient and modern interpretations of the Christmas theme. Coming from many lands and places the songs substantiate the claim that the Christmas spirit is universal and undying.

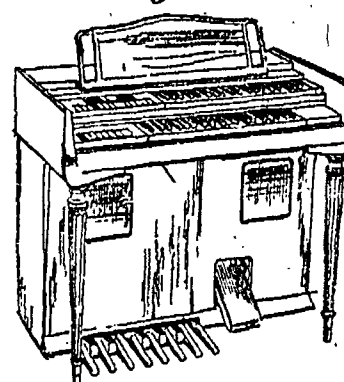

Refreshments will be served after the program, handled by the Social Affairs Committee of the Detroit Historical Society. Chairman for the Christmas Open House is Mrs. W. Louis Boyington. Acting as hostesses will be members of the Society. Included among this group are Mrs. Frank Burton, Mrs. Wilson W. Mills, Mrs. Malcolm D. MacQueen, Mrs. Donald S. Kiskadden, Mrs. Harry Lombard and Mrs. Hedley V. Richardson.

The public is cordially invited.

MARSHALL NOECKERS MARK 2 BIRTHDAYS

The party was a double birthday celebration for Mrs. Noecker's mother, Mrs. Harry Kaufmann, and Mrs. Noecker's sister, Mrs. David Richardson, of Kensington road. Mrs. Kaufmann's birthday was on December 8 and her daughter's was December 12.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Shining clean windows are like a smile on the face of a house, greeting all who come calling with a promise of order and comfort within. Don't let cold weather and heavy draperies make you forget this. Make a memo to set aside time for this particular shine-up on the next of those mild days which occur even in mid-winter.

It's a mistake to think that the man who works all the time will win the race.

AWVS Planning Hospital Party

American Women's Voluntary Services, Metropolitan Unit, is busy with Christmas presents and Christmas party plans for men at the United States Service and Health Hospital (formerly the Marine Hospital) at the foot of Alter road, Windmill Pointe.

A group met on Thursday in the McMillan road home of Mrs. H. E. Erskine, and will meet again on Monday in the Fisher road residence of Mrs. Jack Whiting to wrap gifts and fill stockings.

AWVS members will bring gifts for oldsters in the Golden Age Group which meets at the Lutheran Settlement House, when they attend the Christmas open house at the home of AWVS president, Mrs. Gordon Wrinn.

Just before Christmas, AWVS annually gives a Yuletide party at the settlement house for more than 50 elderly people providing gifts and refreshments.

Special Recipe For Christmas

For a holiday confection to tempt, not only the palate, but the artist's eye as well, make your own Christmas fudge.

Snow white fudge, colorfully dotted with bits of red do it:

- 1 c. corn syrup
- 1 c. milk
- 2 c. sugar
- 1/4 t. salt
- 2 T. butter or margarine
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1/2 c. chopped maraschino cherries
- 1/2 c. chopped walnuts

Measure corn syrup and add to milk which has been heated until film forms across top. Stir in sugar and salt. Place over low heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly.

Attach candy thermometer to pan and cook gently without stirring until thermometer registers 236° F. or small amount in cold water forms soft ball. Remove from heat; add butter and vanilla. Cool.

When thermometer registers 110° F. or candy feels lukewarm, beat. When mixture begins to lose its gloss, stir in fruit and nuts. Continue to beat until thick. Pour into buttered 8-inch square pan and cool.

Cut the candy into pieces. Serve it to Yuletide guests or pack in tiny boxes for stocking stuffing. If you prefer, package it gaily for Christmas giving.

CUT-RATE RAIL FARES

WASHINGTON — The Interstate Commerce Commission has upheld the right of the railroads to give cut-rate transportation to service men.

It dismissed a complaint by a group of non-scheduled air lines that the practice of giving rail discounts, ranging in some cases to as much as 50 per cent, tended to destroy competition in the $60,000,000 to $70,000,000-a-year business of transporting troops.

Suggestions For Desserts

Crisp cereals a la mode plus a fruit, chocolate, or butterscotch sauce are a simple answer to your dessert problem.

Here are a few easy to follow suggestions:

Arrange a layer or ring of any ready-to-eat cereal in a dessert dish. Add a scoop of your favorite ice cream. Cover with a sundae sauce.

Fresh fruits—in season, crushed berries, pineapple, sliced peaches, or bananas may be used as choice toppings.

Cereal nut-balls make good dessert dishes. Crush 1 cup of ready-to-eat cereal and mix with 1/4 cup of chopped nuts. Roll a ball of ice cream in this. Place in dessert dish and cover with fudge sauce.

To make a sugarless chocolate sauce, combine 2 squares unsweetened chocolate with 1/2 cup water. Then cook over direct heat for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add 1 1/2 cups corn syrup and 1/2 cup water. Then cook over direct heat for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add 1 1/2 cups corn syrup and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Allow it to simmer for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Tales of Romance and Chivalry Found Woven Around Gloves

There's many a romantic tale woven around a glove and it need not be of the 1955 variety where milady drops her glove and a young gallant retrieves it. In the days of chivalry, there was a language of gloves far more complicated than the language of flowers.

In those times when a young lady surrendered her glove to a man it was a token that he might expect final proof of her favor. One time, Donna Anna Mendoza, to test a suitor, dropped her glove among the lions in the arena before the assembled court of King Juan III of Castile. The incident ended in humiliation for the lady, however. The knight recovered the glove, threw it in her face, and added that he would never expect her thanks. Usually a lady gave her glove to an admirer under somewhat milder circumstances.

Many is the knight who rode into battle with a woman's glove fastened to his helmet. The Earl of Cumberland at one time caused considerable gossip in English court circles because he wore Queen Victoria's be-diamonded glove in his hat.

Naturally, there was a strict etiquette associated with glove wearing. There many times when gloves could not be worn. Judges did not wear gloves when exercising their office. A man might not appear gloved before the king, and pious people did not wear gloves to church. Gloves were laid aside on occasion of deep mourning.

To offer one's gloved hand was another unpardonable breach of good manners. A gentleman, when escorting a lady, wore gloves, but when dancing with her, he removed them. To dance without gloves was a special refinement of the court. The lower classes were made fun of by some nobles because they imitated genteel people by wearing gloves, and yet knew so little of etiquette that they put them on for dances.

The grossest blunder a well-bred man could be guilty of was to offer or accept something from another with a gloved hand. During the fifteenth century, gentlemen took to carrying their gloves in their belts to avoid giving offense, so complicated had the etiquette of gloves become!

The Couples Club of St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church is sponsoring the sale of Christmas trees at the corner of Warren and Hereford.

Christmas is Year-Round Event Where Red Cross is Concerned

"Christmas is a year-round event at the Red Cross," said Mrs. J. Dwyer Kinnucan, Chairman of Volunteer Services of the Detroit Chapter.

"It takes more than a spur-of-the-moment inspiration to have Christmas gifts and 'trimmings' ready for servicemen in overseas military hospitals and other installations.

Volunteers in selected chapters spend many summer-day hours assembling gifts purchased with money donated by the American people. Hundreds of over-size Christmas stockings are filled and made ready for shipment.

Overseas professional Red Cross staff including hospital aides, Field Service Directors and Clubmobile girls play "Santa Claus." This is a superb demonstration of the cooperation between volunteers and professional staff people.

Last year hundreds of American families had a happier Christmas because the Red Cross field service director with a portable recorder visited their soldier in an isolated post and provided an opportunity for him to record a message to the folks at home. Similar messages are beginning to arrive this holiday season.

Red Cross clubmobile girls who travel among outlying foreign posts are carrying Christmas gifts and holiday incidentals, which remind the service man that his work is appreciated by the folks at home.

"Volunteers always are welcome in the various local Red Cross activities," Mrs. Kinnucan says. "There are also many openings for overseas professional staff positions in different services . . . stenographic, hospital, clubmobile and male field service directors.

Information about either professional or volunteer opportunities may be obtained by calling Woodward 1-3800, Detroit Chapter Headquarters."

Veterans to Aid Retarded Kids

A Christmas gift for a retarded child will be the ticket of admission to a dance sponsored by the Allied Veterans Council of Wayne County, in the ballroom of the Veterans Memorial Building on Friday, December 16, at 8:30 p.m. Announcement of the affair was made by Vernon S. Palmer, president of the council, which consists of delegates from local units of 23 national veteran organizations.

The Council, for several years, has sponsored regular weekly dances for the area's hospitalized and disabled veterans.

This special event, which will be in addition to the regular weekly benefits, is projected exclusively for the aid of retarded children.

Admission at the door will be through a gift valued at $1.50 or more and marked as to whether it is appropriate for a boy or girl and the approximate age of the child.

Gifts for children up to 12 years of age will be accepted and convenient stickers for identifying each gift are being provided by the Allied Veterans Council. Persons not wishing to attend the dance, but who are donating gifts, may leave them at the office of the Allied Veterans Council, 311 Veterans Memorial Building, or at 610 Lafayette Building.

Gifts of clothing, toys and games are welcome. Prior to Christmas, all the presents will be distributed by the Council to retarded children in institutions and in their own homes.

Millions Flee Rule By Reds

Someone escapes from a Communist-occupied country every minute of the day, every day of the year. Flights to freedom across borders in the third quarter of 1955 produced that average, the International Rescue Committee reports.

The committee is a private American organization which conducts rescue operations on several continents, but mainly in Europe and Asia.

An average of 40,000 persons a month is escaping now, according to the agency, whose report is titled "Assignment: Rescue."

In the first nine months of this year, about 1,100,000 escaped, making the year's total to date larger than any previous year.

Christmas Cookies Grow on Trees

FRIEDA BARTH, Home Service Director of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, with her Cookie Christmas Tree.

By Frieda Barth

Christmas time, the most colorful and widely celebrated season of the year all over the world, is steeped in folklore and tradition. Many Christmas customs come to us from Europe, and most of them have been handed down from one generation to the next.

In Germany, one of the most interesting customs is the decorating of Christmas trees with cookies, cut into many different shapes and colored with frosting. This German custom of "cookie Christmas tree ornaments" is now becoming popular here.

Cookie cut-out patterns are available in most dime stores, hardware and department stores in the shapes of Santa Claus, snowmen, animals, birds, gingerbreadmen, angels, Christmas trees and candy canes. If cookie cutters are not available, any desired shape can be obtained by tracing on cookie dough with a paring knife around story book or cardboard cutouts.

The cover of the Gas Company's new Christmas cookbook, now available at Company offices, shows a German Christmas tree which was made in several easy steps.

First, for the tree trunk, a

1/4-inch dowel, a sawed off small broom handle or something similar can be used. After mounting the tree in wood block or cake tin, mark it off in four equal parts, cross pieces may be secured with wire or glued after fitting together. These cross pieces then become the branches. The entire tree may then be wrapped in pretty ribbon, with lollipops secured at the end of each branch. Now the tree is ready for the cookie decorations. Cookies can be used as ornaments on both the German Christmas tree or your regular balsam tree.

A standard sugar cookie dough is best for cutout cookies. This one is taken from page 28 of our Christmas cookbook.

Standard Sugar Cookies
(3 dozen—2-inch diameter)
2 1/4 cups all purpose flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. lemon extract
1/4 tsp. vanilla
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup milk

Sift flour, measure and sift twice with baking powder. Cream butter or margarine, salt, lemon extract, and vanilla. Gradually add sugar and continue creaming. Add egg and blend well. Alternately add flour mixture with milk. Chill in gas refrigerator about one hour. Roll to about 1/2-inch thickness on a lightly floured cloth. Cut into desired shapes with floured cookie cutters. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and bake at 375 degrees F. about 10 minutes. For decorating cookies see end of cookie section.

After the unbaked cookies have been cut into the shape of Santa Claus, animals or birds, make a small round hole in each one. Ribbon or string can be strung through hole for hanging on your tree after the cookies have been baked. For best baking results a modern gas range with accurate temperature controls is desirable. The shaped cookies may then be decorated in various color using our basic cookie icing.

Cookie Icing
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1-2 tablespoons hot milk or cream

Add enough milk or cream to sugar to make a thin icing. Icing should be thin enough to make a smooth surface on the cookie but not so thin that it is transparent and runs off. If desired, add vegetable coloring and flavoring.

Sunday Brunchon to Mark Opening of Village Manor

On Sunday morning, Dec. 18, Grosse Pointe's charming new Village Manor Restaurant at 665 St. Clair Avenue, just off Kercheval, in the Village, will open its doors with a special Opening Week Menu.

A Sunday Brunchon is scheduled for the hours from 10:30 in the morning to 12:30 noon. Dinner will commence at 12:00 noon and continue through to 6:30 p.m.

New Items on Menu

Both A La Carte and Special Dinners will be shown in the Sotvenies Menu. Among the items listed are several new additions at Village Manor, including Grilled Strip Sirloin Steak (12 or 16 oz.) and Chopped Beef Sirloin. The Sunday Brunchon service and the daily Tea, Snacks and Fountain Service are also new additions.

Week day schedules will be Luncheon 11:00 to 2:30, with Tea, Fountain and Snack Bar Service from 2:30 to 5:00. Dinner will be from 5:00 to 8:30.

The new building has a spacious foyer out of which are the two great dining rooms. The Food Shop, where baked goods are sold, is well placed in the foyer, as is the beautiful stairway which leads down to rest rooms and which at a later date may continue upward to a proposed second floor.

Open House Last Sunday

The public got its initial look at the new restaurant last Sunday when a thousand or more persons attended the Manor's tea and open house, in which a group of gracious Grosse Pointers served as hostesses.

The Richard Lehmans, founders and owners of the establishment, and their staff conducted the inspection tours which gave guests an insight into the restaurant's many operations and a look at the fine equipment used in serving its select patronage.

Among the ladies who gathered and handled the serving of tea, bringing along their fine silver pieces, were Mrs. Elinore Stets Kluh, Mrs. John Hering, Mrs. A. Boyd, Mrs. Al. Crawley, Mrs. James Bordeaux, Mrs. McGinty and Mrs. Robert Lily, and Mrs. A. Allison and daughter Winifred. The "Official" photographer, who snapped everyone present, was Miss Winning Fergast.

Architect Omar Bouschor who designed Village Manor and many of Grosse Pointe's renowned Early American mansions was present as was William Denler, whose firm did the beautiful interior decorations. City officials and business leaders, too, joined with the residents in the ceremonies.

The building was literally banked with flowers from friends who, like all those who came in person, were expressing congratulations and best wishes to two persons who brought a wealth of congeniality and hospitality with them when they came with their good food to Grosse Pointe.

Food Scoops of the Week Pointed Out for Pointe Housewives

All markets indicate that it is still pork time this week! Lots of pork is still coming to the market at prices lower than they have been in years—prices on most fresh cuts have decreased a few cents again this week. Because this is expected to be the low point of the year, it is an excellent time to refresh your freezer stocks with loin roasts or fresh hams.

Next to pork, frying chickens will offer one of the best values in meats. The supply of chickens is the largest on record for this time of the year which may account for the low price of 37 to 43 cents per pound on fryers.

The quality of veal is steadily improving as prices take a slight drop. To provide an economical change from some of the more popular meats, you may choose leg of veal or veal chops.

Because a stormy weather is limiting the supplies of fresh fish, the frozen packages should be the popular choices. Oysters are at their peak in quality and supply. The medium-large select oysters, ideal for frying, provide 28-31 to a pint, while the smaller standard size, fine for stewing, provide 31-34 to a pint.

Many of you will be glad to hear that large sizes of eggs are becoming the most plentiful and are now the best buy according to weight. Many varieties of cheese assortments for Christmas gift boxes may be found at more attractive prices in food markets than through other sources.

As supplies of tomatoes increase, the tomato market has taken a decided break in the price of all kinds. Look for the new plastic tubes which allow you to see the quality of all sides of the tomatoes. Both Michigan and southern cabbage are selling at very reasonable prices. Although the windy weather in Florida retarded some of the packing green beans and cucumbers, increased volume has begun at more attractive prices. Good supplies of spinach are arriving in top quality.

This is the season for citrus fruits. Grapefruit, oranges, and tangerines are moving in in large quantities. Supplies of seedless grapefruit are quite generous and reasonably priced. However, even lower prices and a superior flavor are sometimes found in the seeded varieties. The peak season is bringing heavy shipments of tangerines. Although juice oranges are still the best buy, the first shipment of California navel oranges arrived on the counters last week at moderately high prices. Abundant quantities of top quality bananas are available at unusually low costs. All varieties of Michigan apples provide economical choices for the winter fruit bowl.

ITALIAN STYLE CHICKEN
 1 frying chicken (3 to 3½ lbs.)
 ¼ cup salad oil
 salt and pepper
 1 clove garlic, sliced
 1 large onion, minced
 1 cup chopped celery
 ½ cup canned or diced fresh tomatoes
 1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce
 ¼ cup Burgundy or Chianti wine
 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 Cut chicken into serving-size pieces. Rinse with cold water and wipe dry. Brown in oil in skillet. Sprinkle with salt and pepper while cooking. When browned, add garlic, onion and celery and cook until onion is soft. Add tomatoes, tomato sauce and the wine. Cover and simmer for 40 minutes. Sprinkle with parsley. Cook 5 minutes more. Serve with sauce spooned over chicken. Serve 3 or 4.

ORANGE RAISIN MERINGUE PIE
 ¼ cup sugar
 2 T cornstarch
 2 T flour
 ¼ T salt
 1 cup raisins
 3 cups orange juice
 3 eggs, separated
 ½ cup lemon juice
 2 T butter
 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
 grated rind of one orange

Combine sugar, cornstarch, flour and salt. Boil together, raisins and orange juice about 20 minutes and gradually stir them into the sugar mixture and cook 15 minutes, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Mix together slightly beaten egg yolks, orange rind and lemon juice and add to thickened sugar-juice mixture and cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add butter. Turn into pastry shell and cool slightly. Cover completely to the edge of the crust with meringue made by gradually beating 6 T sugar and ½ T cream of tartar into stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees for about 15 minutes. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

The parking bottleneck in the Farms' Hill shopping district has been solved through the co-operation of the Grosse Pointe School Board and the Farms Council—provided all-day parkers help, too.

The school board has opened up a portion of its property directly behind the big Hill parking lot for temporary pre-Christmas parking.

Hill merchants and police urge to use this added facility, leaving the regular spaces for shoppers. By properly utilizing the school property, 50 to 75 additional spaces are available.

Book Club Plan Making Money for PTA at Maire

Maire School P-TA has a unique money-making project underway, which involves 180 of its members and the same number of books.

Eighteen book clubs were set up and began operating early in December, each with from 9 to 12 members. Each member buys one book; at the end of two weeks, she passes her book on to the next member in her club, and so the project rotates.

Each member pays 25 cents for every book she reads. In this way, money accumulates for the P-TA treasury. By the end of May, each member should have her own book back to keep and she will have read between nine and 12 books in all.

Mrs. Peter Parker of Bishop road is book club chairman. Mrs. William M. Adams of University place is the P-TA ways and means committee chairman who suggested the program. Eighteen captains are responsible for keeping the books moving on schedule in their groups.

A book club includes only people in one or two blocks, so that exchanging books presents no problem. A P-TA committee made the selection of current books to start the program.

CD Expenses Are Deductible

The Michigan Office of Civil Defense has been informed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration that a ruling by the United States Treasury Department provides that expenses incurred by Civil Defense volunteers in performance of their official duties as volunteers are deductible for income-tax purposes.

The ruling in part states that "actual unreimbursed expenses incurred by Civil Defense volunteers in the performance of their volunteer duties, such as traveling expenses... or other expenses directly connected with and solely attributable to the rendition of such volunteer services, constitute contributions or gifts and are deductible."

GM Car Sales Set New Marks

Retail sales of new and used cars by General Motors dealers during the first 11 months of 1955 established all-time records, President Harlow H. Curtice announced. During the 11 month period new car sales totaled 3,460,546 or 139.1 per cent of the same period last year. In the same period used cars sold totaled 4,531,593 or 129.5 per cent of the total used car sales during the same months last year. New and used car sales during the month of November were more than those of any previous month of November. New cars sold at retail by General Motors dealers during the month totaled 288,756 or 126.3 per cent of the total for November 1954. These record sales of new cars were established despite the fact that some divisions are just reaching volume production following the shutdown for model change. Used car sales by GM dealers during the month totaled 331,004 or 113.8 per cent of the total sold in the corresponding month of 1954. New car sales for the last ten days of November, Mr. Curtice said, showed a high percentage of increase by each of the five car divisions. During the ten-day period sales totaled 85,151 or 127.6 per cent of the corresponding period last year. During this period used car sales totaled 115,273 or 120.9 per cent of the same period in 1954.

Keller Tribute Aids Institute

A birthday gift to K. T. Keller, president of the Arts Commission of the City of Detroit and chairman of the board of Chrysler Corp., is a Christmas gift to the Detroit Institute of Arts. Edgar P. Richardson, Institute director, announced that he had received a check for $18,485.00 designated to purchase an object of art for the museum. The fund was contributed by friends of Mr. Keller and given to him to turn over to the museum at his 70th birthday celebration Nov. 28 at the Detroit Athletic Club. "This extremely heartwarming gift will be used to purchase a handsome addition to our art collection which will be a fitting tribute to Mr. Keller and his friends," Mr. Richardson said. No decision has been reached as yet as to what painting or other object of art will be purchased with the gift. TEACHER TRAINING Poupard Elementary is being used after school for the intensive Teacher Education Program of Wayne University. Students with three or four years of college in fields other than education are now preparing themselves to teach. This unique method of training more teachers is another effort to relieve the national shortage.

CARE FOR NEW NYLONS

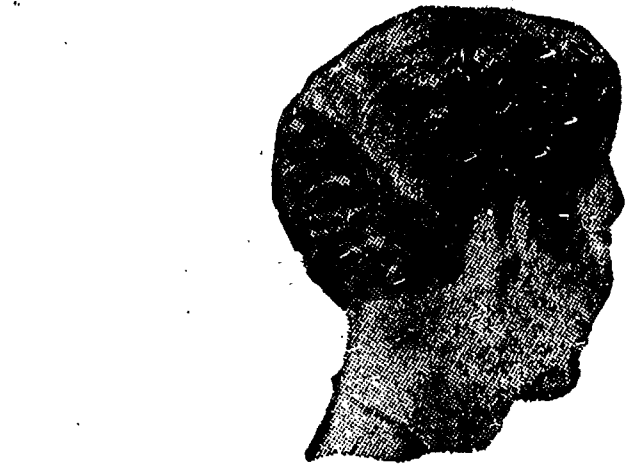

So that those nylons will last: avoid snags from rings and rough cuticles or nails and wash promptly after each wearing according to the rules. 1. Swish or squeeze through lukewarm soap suds; 2. Rinse thoroughly; 3. Blot in a bath towel and ease to shape; 4. Hang over a smooth towel rod or bar or spread flat on a towel to dry.

STRICTLY FOR SQUARES

Try squares and mitre squares often loosen where the handle joins the shank. The handle is fastened with three brass rivets which loosen with use. To tighten, place the square on a firm surface and dimple the end of each rivet with a sharp blow from a hammer on a center punch.

Mr. Floyd Clymer

"Best car manufactured in America today"

That's what Floyd Clymer, famous automobile authority, said about Chrysler in Popular Mechanics (October)

THE CHRYSLER NEW YORKER NEWPORT HARDTOP

"I have tested many fine automobiles over all kinds of terrain," writes Mr. Clymer, "and in my judgment Chrysler is the best automobile manufactured in America today."

When you compare this Chrysler with the other two major cars in its price class, you will be in for an electrifying awakening. Because this is power driving as it was meant to be.

You push the "D" on the Pushbutton PowerLite Drive and a mighty airplane-type engine whisks you away in an instant. There's a new, wonderfully easy feel-of-the-road with full-time PowerPilot Steering... a straight, sure, velvety sense of safety in the stops you get with PowerSmooth Brakes... a world of authority in the tremendous response of Chrysler's exclusive airplane-type Fire-Power V-8 engine!

Just one look at this car tells you the power's there. You see it in the flaring "PowerStyle" lines... in the flight-swept look of its rear deck and fenders.

Let us put you behind the wheel of the "PowerStyle" Chrysler for just 15 minutes this week. Compare its all-around performance with its two price competitors. Then you'll know why "the best car manufactured in America" is your best buy! Come in or call us today!

Urge Revisions In Traffic Code

Formation of a committee to survey procedures in handling traffic violation offenses was proposed in Lansing by the permanent legislative committee of the Michigan associations of chiefs of police, sheriffs, judges, prosecutors, the attorney general's department and Michigan State Police.

The suggestion will be submitted to the state bar association, traffic safety groups, enforcement associations and others having a direct interest.

Present laws, it was stated, have not kept pace with the growth in automobile traffic and the increase in violation arrests. As a result, both the motoring public and officers confront delays, inconveniences and congestion in the quick and legal disposal of such cases.

The survey might propose setting up by statute an established state-wide list of fines for ordinary offenses so that there would not be variations in penalties in different communities for like violations.

The committee voted again to have a chemical test for intoxication bill submitted to the next session of the Legislature.

Also approved for re-introduction was a bill requiring a court which has suspended a driving permit as a part of probation to report this to the Secretary of State's department so that a record can be made in the driver's file.

By resolution the committee decided to call to the attention of the Legislature the fact that the law requires two license plates for an automobile and to request that appropriations be made therefor.

Former State and Detroit Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, chairman of the committee, and State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, secretary, were re-elected.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The tuneful and enchanting Victor Herbert musical comedy, "Babes in Toyland", will be the Christmas Eve (Dec. 24) holiday highlight when the Oldsmobile Dealers of America present this colorful spectacular from 9 to 10:30 p.m. (EST) over the NBC-TV network. Such popular stars as Dennis Day, Dave Garroway, Wally Cox, Jack E. Leonard, Bambi Lynn, and Rod Alexander and the Bill and Cora Baird marionettes will be gracing the video screens as they did last Christmas when Max Liebman first presented the holiday hit.

Any car will last a man a lifetime if he is careless enough.

Among those who received degrees and advanced degrees were: Robert L. Corless, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Corless of Grayton road, B. S. Mathematics; Douglas A. Coulter, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Expect Sunspots to Disrupt TV and Radio Reception

WASHINGTON—The complexion of the sun will become more spotty in coming weeks and so will some radio and television reception.

Appearance of more of these sunspots means that television sets in Michigan may soon be picking up faint pictures and voices from foreign countries.

Police radio systems and other mobile networks may be disrupted for hours at a time and telegraph and teletype messages may arrive "scrambled."

Federal Communications Commission officials said there was nothing that could be done against the sunspots. They noted that sunspots wax and wane through an 11-year cycle and were now on the rise. The new peak is due the winter of 1957-58.

Greatest interference to television reception might be expected to be on the low-numbered channels such as two and three. These operate in the lower frequencies, which are most susceptible to sunspot interference.

When atmospheric conditions are right, programs from some foreign stations operating on low-numbered channels may be picked up here. Among the countries are Mexico, Britain, Belgium, Germany, Spain, Switzerland and Argentina.

The reception of the foreign channels, according to science experts here, may vary from a fairly clear picture, with sound, to images that look more like the fuzzy lines of test patterns.

If the foreign programs in some freakish way do manage to replace local shows, they would last only briefly.

Radio listeners, and the police and fire departments and other users of mobile radio equipment can expect more trouble than the television watcher.

Experts believe that areas where sunspots will interfere with television programs are those where the local signal may not be strong enough to keep out the freakish foreign "invader."

The FCC advised operators of mobile radio systems this week to move their present frequencies to higher ones not affected by the sunspots.

So powerful were the sunspots' influence in Alaska that the Civil Aeronautics Administration switched its radio communications network there to higher frequencies.

Carbon monoxide, which caused these 11 deaths, is a poisonous gas without color or odor. It is formed from the partial or incomplete burning of fuel.

Defective heating apparatus, too, can result in fatal accidents from poisonous gas.

During the winter months, the hazards from carbon monoxide gas are greatly increased because of poor ventilation. It takes only a small hole in the muffler of a car, or a small leak in the furnace to result in headache, faintness, dizziness and nausea which are the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Don't take chances. Follow these simple precautions: 1.—Home appliances should be well adjusted and the burners clean.

Molner Warns Of Gas Poison

Since the beginning of the year, 11 persons in Detroit have died from accidental gas poisoning, Dr. Joseph G. Molner reports.

All of them were adults and all these fatal accidents occurred during cold weather.

All except one of the victims were men, and the one woman was poisoned by a gas from a refrigerating unit.

Eight of the fatal accidents were caused by carbon monoxide gas from motor exhaust, and two from gas escaping from a stove.

- The Smart Way to Christmas . . . Fisher Road -

It's Up the Road

By Roberta Isley

SHE made him ask for a thousand and one dates. And there's why. She viewed the holiday dresses she had always dreamed about at The Clothes Line. She had a good choice from thirty-nine ninety-five. Of course, she found just what she wanted . . . so, she danced happily ever after! 397 Fisher Road.

CHRISTMAS is the Christ Child. And, the spirit of Christmas shines forth in many ways. Some of it is captured in the creche like the one we found at Gillis Modern Home Furnishings for eighteen dollars. It comes complete with the three kings . . . a shepherd . . . two sheep and a pair of bobshes with white tapers. 403 Fisher Road. TU. 2-7877.

THE queen is in the kitchen . . . not mixing bread and honey . . . but cooking the traditional turkey. The house is filled with antazing aromas whether it be a thatched roof or tile . . . before an open fireplace in the latest built-in oven. Our queen choose her well-dressed turkey at the Farms Market. And because she is so very modern this year, she will serve up Pink Champagne . . . also form Farm's Market. She ordered it ahead of time . . . before the rush of the holiday season began. She loves the service she gets from Farms Market. 355 Fisher Road. TU. 2-5100.

THE sprig of holly on the top of the tiny box that holds pamper pants means Christmas and makes it an ideal gift for the stocking. They are the pants that look small but stretch to fit. For the same purpose, stocking stuffing, there are imported all linen handkerchiefs that range in price from one to three dollars. And let us suggest a sheer pair of Haynes seamless hose or Gotham Gold Stripe. These at Florence Riley's, 371 Fisher Road. Let's remind you right here that Santa Claus will be visiting along Fisher Road, all day long next Saturday.

HAVE your buggy in tip-top shape for the holidays. They do everything from brake re-lining to winterizing at Moir's Service Station, Fisher Road at Grosse Pointe Blvd. Call TU. 5-7200 for pick-up.

UP the Road, at number 343 Fisher, you will find many handsome handmade gifts. Lingerie cases in all colors are felt and sequined trimmed . . . baby sweaters, sacques and booties . . . felt bags . . . ceramic jewelry . . . and ceramic pictures made from your photographs. Orders are still being taken for Christmas. Yarncraft.

Daniel J. Scallen Wins ROTC Promotion

HOUGHTON, Mich.—Daniel J. Scallen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Scallen, 1341 Bishop road, Grosse Pointe, has been promoted to the grade of cadet staff sergeant in the Air Force ROTC at Michigan College of Mining and Technology. The promotion, which took effect on Nov. 23, was announced by Lt. Col. Riley R. Whearty, head of the Air Force ROTC department at the college.

Scallen is a senior at Michigan Tech and is majoring in civil engineering. He is a member of the student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers and is serving as treasurer for Theta Tau fraternity.

Scallen was named as a recipient of the Republic Aviation Award at Michigan Tech last year. The award goes to outstanding Air Force ROTC students.

GIANT PINES

Pine tree stands in the Australian territory of New Guinea have an average tree height of 300 feet.

Yule Decorating Has Wide Range

Whether yours is a traditional or an ultra-modern home, Yule-tide decorations can fit right into the scheme of things. A sprig of holly, a branch of spruce and a spanking big red satin bow spell Christmas in any language.

You may decorate a forest of evergreens before your home, trim the roof with lights, or do the simplest holiday decor. Chances are you will at least decorate a tree, hang a bauble in the window, pop a festive something on the door and light a taper or two on the mantel.

In a traditional setting, you may adorn your front door with a heart-shaped della Robbia kind of wreath, wrapped with ribbon and dotted with cranberries, crabapples and pinecone roses. Star the window with snowflakes cut out by the kiddies. From the mantelpiece, hang a jaunty pair of red felt socks stuffed with green boughs, and then trim your tree with strings of colored popcorn, assorted baubles and strings of lights.

Those of you who dwell within modern walls, can make things contemporary from the front door to the Christmas tree itself. A geometric tree of shiny hammered tin will take care of the door, and a Christmas mobile is just what the window needs.

New Expansion Ahead in Area

Population of the Detroit Metropolitan area, now growing at the second or third highest rate in the country, will continue climbing for at least 15 years, a panel of utility executives predicts.

The conclusions came from E. O. George, sales manager, Detroit Edison Co.; Ray Foulkrod, chief engineer, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and Fred A. Kaiser, vice president in charge of sales, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., in a talk before the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit.

Expansion of the auto industry alone will bring a tremendous suburban growth in the next 10 years. Southeastern Michigan's status as the top steel-consuming area of the world will inevitably spur a huge expansion in steel production here.

Increased industrial capacity will result from completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway. Korean war defense plants, built generally around the fringe of the metropolitan area, now have converted successfully to peacetime production and will form the core of 15 or 16 "satellite" industrial centers, each surrounded by accessory and supplier plants and residences of about 75,000 workers to man them.

Population of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, which totaled 3,000,000 in 1950, will have increased to 4,400,000 by 1970, apportioned in this fashion: 1,900,000 in Detroit, Highland Park and Hamtramck; 250,000 in Macomb County; 665,000 in Wayne; 450,000 in Oakland and an increase from 178,000 to 400,000 in the Downriver communities.

National Bank Lists Promotions

Five new vice-presidents headed a list of 19 major promotions at National Bank of Detroit, Charles T. Fisher, Jr., president, has announced.

Keith B. Hackett, out-of-town division; Arthur H. Hupp and Herbert A. Mertens, of the Uptown office and John W. Matson, mortgage department, are the new vice-presidents in the banking department.

All were previously assistant vice-presidents, having served with the bank since its organization in 1933.

Wilfred C. Bingham, Instaloan; Ronald M. Chisholm, operations; Samuel A. Clark, mortgage, and Philip G. Moon, credit, were promoted to assistant vice-presidents. They had been assistant cashiers.

Robert K. Harbour, Plymouth office; John H. Cousins, operations; Jack W. Gurney, mortgage; Gerald B. O'Neill, foreign; Richard F. Parks, city division, and Palmer C. Pratt, personnel, were elected assistant cashiers.

In the trust department Edgar B. Galloway was promoted to

MSU Musical Groups On Important Programs

Two Michigan State University musical groups will make important holiday television and radio appearances before national audiences. Spartan Bell Ringers, the unusual group of student handbell players, will participate in President Eisenhower's Christmas tree lighting ceremony in Washington, D. C. on Sunday (Dec. 18). The Michigan State Mens' Glee Club will appear on the Ed Sullivan television program on Christmas Day.

Teacher Training Program Offered College Graduates

The teacher preparation plan which enables college alumni under 50 years of age to become school teachers will again be available to men and women in Southeastern Michigan, according to College of Education officials at Wayne University in Detroit.

The ITEP plan, as the Intensive Teacher Education Program is commonly known throughout the country, was brought to the attention of delegates at the White House Conference on Education who were interested in finding new solutions to the national teacher shortage.

Information about the program can be obtained from school superintendents in Oakland, Macomb, Wayne and other counties in Southeastern Michigan or from Dr. J. Frank Campbell, Coordinator of Off-Campus Programs at Wayne University. He can be reached at TE 1-1450, ext. 556.

The program consists of a 24-week period of intensive teacher-education leading to state certification for teaching in Michigan elementary schools.

ITEP, which is operated in cooperation with school superintendents in the greater Detroit metropolitan area, consists of 18 weeks of student teaching in or near the student's home community plus an off-campus workshop in elementary education. The workshop meets three afternoons each week in off-campus centers, and the student teaching is carried on five full mornings a week.

Applicants who join this program in the spring semester also attend a six-week summer session where courses in The History and Philosophy of Education; Survey of Public Education; and Literature, Art and Science Materials for Elementary Schools are offered.

Satisfactory completion of the program, involving the earning of at least 20 semester hours of credit in professional education, will enable participants to apply for positions with school boards anywhere in Michigan.

Qualified men and women under 50 years of age can begin their training during the spring session starting February 6 and ending on June 15. These candidates will continue the program during the summer session from June 28 to August 3, 1956.

Upon completion of the program in August, the candidates will qualify for a Michigan Provisional Teaching Certificate and will be eligible for a teaching position in Michigan schools.

POUPARD SCHOOL
The Christmas season is the time of the year children look forward to most eagerly. Homes, schools, and churches make special plans to observe this great christian holiday.

Poupard School believes that its observance should correspond closely to the true spirit of Christmas and should not duplicate Christmas activities which are more appropriate to the home or church.

During the last week of school before Christmas vacation, Christmas songs will be played throughout the school in the morning before school starts. Carols, under Mr. Ferry's direction, will sing in the halls. An assembly will be held which will emphasize the quiet, meaningful aspects of the Christmas season. On Thursday afternoon, December 22nd, parties will brighten each class room. Room mothers, teachers and children plan together for the afternoon. Children in grades three through six may exchange inexpensive gifts with their friends at these parties.

The beauty that is in Christmas can be seen in the art work that is under way in each room. Some children are making tray papers for hospital patients as part of their Junior Red Cross activities. Others are making paper tree decorations of many types. Through song, art and good will students of Poupard will celebrate the Christmas season.

KERBY SCHOOL

Dr. Custer Homeier
Students in Miss Betty Frounteller's sixth grade class had an opportunity to utilize and explore their individual artistic abilities as a result of a very interesting class project involving the tooling of copper plates. This undertaking was an integral part of "Our Heritage of Beauty," a unit of work included in the social studies program.

The boys and girls discovered from their reading in the social studies textbook RICHER WAYS OF LIVING that Greek sculptors such as Phidias used law or bas relief sculpturing to decorate the frieze on the Parthenon. Class members also learned that the Egyptians and later the Greeks used high relief or half round sculpturing.

Miss Frounteller expressed to the class her belief that one of the best ways for students to enjoy and appreciate art is to create an object of art. The class decided after some research and discussion to make copper pictures which might be used later for a gift.

Steps involved in making these pictures were to draw an original pattern if possible, visualize the height and type of relief needed, and then trace the pattern on thin copper plates which measured nine by twelve inches. The tooling of the copper was done by using a variety of instruments specifically designed for this purpose. The final procedures included cleaning, shellacking and framing the picture. Mr. Jerry Huvaere, one of the room fathers, contributed enough wood molding for each student to make a frame for his picture.

The making of the copper relief pictures possessed true educational significance for these students. As well as an appreciation of the beauty of metal products, a real concept of the uses of various types of relief utilized by artists was achieved and the students became increasingly aware of the inner satisfactions to be gained by creating an original design.

Manipulative skills were strengthened by utilizing various instruments for tooling the copper sheets, using shellac, and by finishing and staining the picture frames. A truly functional use was made of the students' knowledge of the rules and fractions in centering the design on the copper plate.

The specific steps of the tooling process were shown graphically to other students by means of an attractive exhibit placed in the main hall display case. Pictures not used in the exhibit were hung in the classroom for further appreciation by the class members.

MONTEITH SCHOOL

On Monday morning, December 12, all the children assembled in the Monteith lobby for the annual tree lighting ceremony. This year our balsam tree, purchased by the Monteith P.T.A., was lighted by Linda Robinson, a kindergarten pupil.

Linda lived with her parents for five years in Turkey. She will enjoy her first Christmas in America this year.

The child chosen each year is someone special. The first year it was a girl who had just come from Germany. The first year Monteith school was opened the first child to register was chosen.

Donna Dobbie, a fifth grader, recited the "Cradle Hymn" and Richard Pitts, a second grade pupil recited "My Gift". The fifth and sixth grade music pupils under the direction of Ivan Washabaugh led the entire school in the singing of Christmas Carols. During this week the tree was decorated with lovely ornaments made by the children.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 19 and 20, between 7 and 9 p.m., Monteith will hold informal "Open Houses" occasions. Parents and friends are invited to visit the school to see the attractive room displays. Some staff members will be on hand to greet the visitors.

The children are looking forward to Thursday afternoon December 22 when the classrooms with the help of the room mothers will have their Christmas parties. Games, singing and refreshments will climax the Christmas season at Monteith.

Statler Staging Ice Vignettes

The Statler Terrace Room is presenting a sparkling ice show, "Show Business," Musical Vignettes on Ice, featuring the world's greatest acrobatic skater, Adele Inge.

Jack Kodell, famed for his "Fantasy in Birds," has been brought especially from London for this engagement. Jack and Jean Page, sensational skating adagio team and Tony and Donna Jeanne LeMac, veterans of many major ice shows, are appearing. Also Marc Nelson, skating troubadour, plus the Statlerettes, ladies of the ensemble.

All this talent makes a fast moving show under the able production of Dolores Pallet, one of the best known names in the field of ice show choreographers.

Vaudeville, night club, musical comedy and circus are phases of "Show Business," plus the well-known and loved tunes of Broadway combining to make this show exciting entertainment not only for adults but for the whole family and for all the young at heart.

From Monday through Thursday there will be one show per evening at 9:30, and Friday and Saturday there will be two shows, 8:30 and 11:30 p.m.

Burglars Grab $220 At Connolly's Station

A burglary at Connolly's Service Station, 20675 Mack, Grosse Pointe Woods, netted $220 Thursday night, December 8.

Hampton, the owner, said the thieves had not taken tools or accessories. The thieves apparently entered through an unlocked rear window and then forced a steel cabinet in which the money was kept, according to Woods Detective Arthur E. Connolly, of 1745 Everett Plumb.

DRUNK DRIVERS GO TO JAIL

More than 15,000 posters bearing a grim holiday greeting that "Drunk Drivers Go To Jail" are now appearing on the streets and in the bars of Detroit and the Metropolitan Area.

Cleaning brightly on the mirrors of Detroit bars will be 13,000 of the posters to warn patrons that if they are driving they had better not "take that last one for the road." The remainder of the posters are being erected on street-side standards in Detroit and the area as forceful reminders to drivers while they are behind the wheels of their cars.

The program is sponsored jointly by the Detroit Traffic Court, the Detroit Police Department and the Traffic Safety Association. It has been a traditional program each year since 1941 when drunk driving accidents took the lives of 47 persons in Detroit and injured 1,774. Last year in Detroit two persons were killed and 143 injured in drunk driving accidents.

Under the drunk driving program Traffic Court policy is to send all drivers convicted of driving while under the influence straight to jail without the alternative of any fine.

Last year in Detroit 730 drunk drivers were given jail sentences, out of a total of 1,356 cases closed, an indication that drunk drivers are given stiff sentences the year around.

Traffic Court judges consider a person under the influence of liquor when his ability to drive is impaired. Too many persons consider a person's ability to drive is impaired only when he is "falling-down drunk." This is not true. A person's ability is impaired when his reactions are slowed; when he cannot respond to an emergency situation, when he can't get his foot off the accelerator and onto the brake as quickly as he ordinarily would.

LAST BIG PROJECT
Grosse Pointe school officials predict the proposed new junior high school will be the last major public school construction in the Grosse Pointe School District.

'Booby Traps' In Toys Listed

Safety first makes children last accident prevention on all fronts. So reports the Michigan Department of Health in urging shoppers to buy only safe toys for children this Christmas.

"Some toys may seem perfectly safe one minute and be dangerous the next," said Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner.

As an example, he cited a toy coated with paint which has a lead base. The toy is safe, he said, until a child chews on it, "and then he may get lead poisoning."

The Health Commissioner said picking out safe toys for youngsters is another way to reduce the likelihood of death by accident in the home. He reported Michigan last year had over 2,000 accidental deaths, including those at home, work and play—a number which exceeds the highway death toll, and, he said, "makes

Xmas Vandals Strip Greenery

Christmas vandals will soon be happily at work again stripping Michigan of its natural greenery, according to Dr. Marion T. Hall, botanist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.
 "Most people are so ignorant of the Wild Flower law," says Dr. Hall, "they do not realize they are vandals-by-association when they buy illegally cut Christmas greens and trees."
 "The Wild Flower law, adopted by Michigan State Legislature in 1933 and amended in 1941 and 1942, was primarily an act passed to stop abuse of public and private lands by Christmas tree and greenery pickers," Dr. Hall continues. "Indians, and often natives who should know better, ship greens by the barrel to markets all over this country and Europe—even to Germany, where the use of evergreens for the Christmas season probably originated."
 "Not content with 'picking' however, these vandals yank the greens out by the roots, particularly the club mosses—trailing, evergreen mosses related to ferns. This upsets the continuing cycle of development because it makes way for weeds which become a breeding place to the insect pests that attack crop plants in the area," Dr. Hall states.
 "How can you avoid being an unwitting partner in this destruction? Simply look for official identification tags on all trees or greens you buy at Christmas time, and, of course, never never cut trees or greens along the highway or in the woods unless you are cutting on your own property."

Cameras Reach Amazing Speed

High-speed cameras that record as high as 15,000,000 picture frames a second were described recently by George T. Eaton, of Kodak Research Laboratories, in a talk before the Toronto section of the Canadian Institute of Chemistry.
 Mr. Eaton said that camera units having the film wrapped on a revolving drum, or based on a rotating mirror principle, utilize high-intensity, short-duration exposure to reach "almost fantastic" recording speeds. Other cameras with conventional film-sprocket drive, are capable of speeds up to 10,000 frames a second.
 High-speed movies are finding increasing application in science and industry, he noted. Some of the uses are: measurement of mechanical and electrical effects, determination of velocities, study of welding arcs and analysis of fundamental chemical processes. They are also proving useful in study of combustion processes and explosive reactions, including guided missile, rocket and atomic bomb research.
 One superfast camera, the Hycon Sybmicro-second, has an exposure time of one ten-millionth of one second. It is used to study particle motion in blast furnaces and jet-engine combustion, Mr. Eaton said.

PARKED CAR DAMAGED:
 James F. Gougeon of 20661 "W" street, reported to City police on Wednesday, December 7, that an unknown driver had struck his car while it was parked in front of 402 St. Clair and then left the scene.

About 14 persons took part in a shoot after a brief meeting. The next shoot will be held on Sunday, December 18, at 2 p.m. At 1 p.m., a committee will be on hand to instruct junior club members, 12 to 18 years old, in the proper use of firearms.

GPUS News Notes

Word has come from Brown University in Providence, R.I., that John H. Hemmeyer, '59 has been elected treasurer of the Freshman class. Mr. Hemmeyer's home is at 507 Notre Dame. He is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree at Brown and an alumnus of Grosse Pointe University School.

David Rentschler of the class of '56 at the University of Michigan and a 1952 alumnus of GPUS has become a Group Executive and Captain in the Air Force ROTC at Ann Arbor. Mr. Rentschler is majoring in history and was a member of the Varsity Football squad this fall.

Two of the three children of Dr. Hugh Stalker, school physician at GPUS, are attending college in Massachusetts; the third is in the service. Eleanor is a freshman at Smith College, Peter is a senior at Smith, and David is in the Army in Korea.

The following boys and girls of Grades 4, 5, and 6 assist their student council by proctoring in halls and the dining room and by aiding in general supervision at recess time: Susan Adams, Happy Endicott, Tina Gram, Carol Johnson, Sarah Keys, Elizabeth Leach, Ann Pongrace, Sarah Walker, Anne Wood, Brian Ault, Lance Gottfredson, John Hofmann, John Lambrecht, Robin Marks, Donald Owens, James Page, Willis Thorp, Tommy Whyte, and Billy Wilson.

The Memorial honors the men of Detroit University School and Grosse Pointe Country Day School who gave their lives in the service of their country during the period from 1899 to 1954. It is constructed of dolomitic limestone, especially cut from the quarries in Mankato, Minn. A bronze Memorial plaque is mounted on the stone. A formal dedication will be held in the spring.

Mr. Thomas J. Ault, father of Brian Ault of the 8th grade, has made the following gifts to the school's Mechanical Arts Department through the kindness of the Detroit Gear Division of Borg-Warner: 1 torque converter, 1 automatic transmission, 1 radiator, and 1 clutch assembly.

Other speakers at the event were Alan Paton, Reinhold Niebuhr, Jacques Maritain, and Massey Shepherd.

Jack Wachter who was credited with this basket in the news story, made the basket that tied the game up at 23-23. Ronnie Kasparek was high scorer for the Lions, with 8 points.

The plant was cabled to Hope by the British stars who'll work with him in a television program to be staged in London and shown over the NBC-TV network on December 27. Hope's second overseas television program will be produced in Paris and shown over NBC on February 7. American florists expect to do an unprecedented business this year in filling wire orders for poinsettias and other plants being sent throughout the U. S. and all over the world.

Skilled Repairs Make Rugs Last

Skilled repair services offered by your professional rug cleaner can add years to the life of your rugs and carpets.

Besides regular cleaning every six to 12 months, repairs should be made as soon as frayed edges or worn areas are noticed. Post-training repairs, warns the National Institute of Rug Cleaning, Washington, may materially shorten the life of your floor covering. Binding, serging, retying, reweaving orientals, burling domestics, rehooking, sewing, dyeing overcasting and other repairs can be handled by most professional rug cleaners.

Many floor coverings are discarded years before their time, the Institute said, because of frayed edges. Binding edges normally is an inexpensive matter.

Fringes of oriental rugs are part of the backing yarn. When these wear, the hand-tied knots slip off. If not corrected immediately by overcasting, the rug will have to be shortened to the farthest point of the unravelling.

A badly worn section in a rug may be eliminated by making the rug shorter or narrower or by cutting out the worn section and sewing the good sections together. If you move to a new home, rugs and carpets may easily be altered in shape or size to fit other rooms.

Burns, moth damage and unremovable stains can be removed. Rug cleaners carry hundreds of different colors of yarns, but if yours cannot be matched, yarn usually can be borrowed from the edge of the rug, where it will

LESSON WELL LEARNED

A woman who had driven the other members of a first-aid class nearly frantic by her continual criticism of the whole idea, turned up one morning a complete convert—first-aid training was a wonderful thing, it ought to be compulsory.

a terrific crash. Two cars had turned over right in front of our gate and four people were lying on the street. "One woman had a deep cut in her arm, two men had broken legs and another severe lacerations of the face. But, thank heaven, I remembered exactly what you had taught me. So I bent over and put my head between my knees—and I didn't faint!"

The United States Department of Agriculture says that bakers are displaying interest in commercially frozen bread because it keeps well, because there are fewer losses on unsold loaves and because there is less need of costly night baking.

The Department of Agriculture finds that the maximum storage temperature for top quality bread is 10 degrees Fahrenheit for periods of about a week, but that zero degrees Fahrenheit is needed for long storage. Bread is best when frozen as soon as it leaves the oven.

It will be gift night, tonight, Thursday, December 15, as far as at least three local yachtsmen are concerned when the Cruising Club of Detroit holds its annual Award Dinner at Bayview Yacht Club.

The agenda for the meeting will start off with the feature attraction of the evening following dinner, when Commodore Gil Pingree will present Norman "Nubby" Sarns with the Cruising A season championship trophy; Skip Grow and Carter Sales with the Cruising B trophy and Jimmy Carlin with the Cruising C trophy. Carlin is the only repeater from last year.

Following the presentation of awards will be the election of officers for 1956. Dick Jeffrey will automatically move up from his vice commodore's post to take over the reins for the coming year.

Pat Collins and Hans Warnke will vie for the vice commodore post. Avery Macklem will be unopposed for the secretary-treasurer's job as he has as far back as memory serves. Seems Avery does such a magnificent job computing race results and getting the cruising boys together that no one cares to take the thankless job away from him.

Bayview Commodore Bill Wiard will explain the new scales his club has installed on its boat elevator recently and will review the past racing season in which Nub Sarns' "Revelry" brought untold glory to himself, his crew and BYC. A full color movie "Keys To Adventure" will climax the annual gathering and undoubtedly will put "sand in the shoes" of some of the boys as it will depict the cruise from Miami to Key West.

That southern sailing, especially at this time of year, makes everyone itchy to get away from the cold, cold weather and loil on the deck of a beautiful yacht in the Gulf Stream. One of the reels contains magnificent tarpon fishing. The film received the Grand Award for Professional Class Films in the Photographic Society of America Cinema competition.

Standings Announced Roy Barbier's Raven Class "Frolic" flying the burgee of the Crescent Sail Yacht Club, emerged the season champion of that class after percentages were figured for eight weekly regattas.

The following is how the class fared in the final standings announced by Secretary Barbier: Owner, Roy Barbier; boat, Frolic; club, Crescent; pct., 84.58. Robert Kerr; Chumlette; Bayview; 8.448.

Boyd Benkert; Thunderbolt; Bayview; 7.01.

Al Bortolotti; Nauti-gal; Bayview; 5.51.

Jim Mason; Waif; Crescent; 5.12.

William Nagel; Naraka; Bayview; DNQ.

Gordon McCabe; Juhuna; GPYC; DNQ.

John Williams; Will-O'Wisp; 5.12.

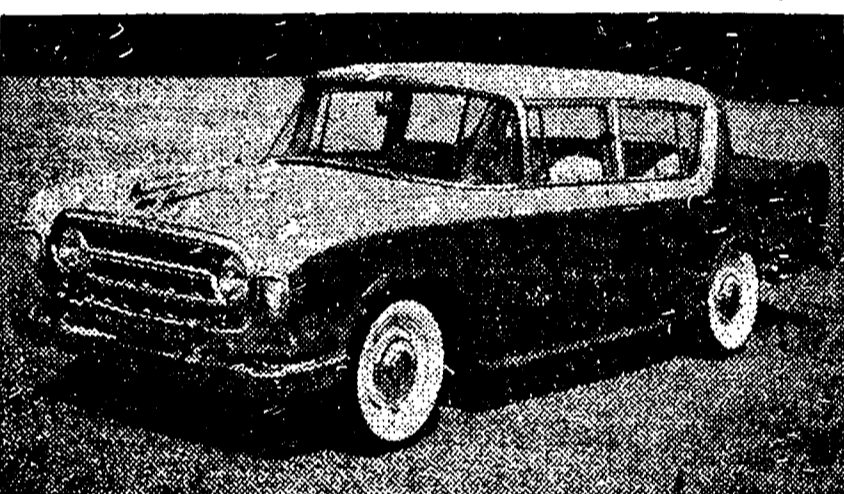

At the annual election meeting of the Detroit River Privateer Association, Wilfred Howard of 274 Williams, Grosse Pointe, was elected Fleet Captain replacing Fred Runnells who had held the post for the past two years.

HOW TO PROFIT THROUGH TAX EXEMPTION

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone.

A NEW Red pressure is being put on the Allies in travel routes to and from Berlin. East German Premier Otto Grotewohl's office issued an announcement on control of "state borders" which had the effect of cutting off travel routes, including into certain parts of the Soviet Zone.

The move boiled down to new pressure to secure recognition of the East German regime. Russia was quick to assure the West that the Berlin situation was "normal." The Communists called the border between West and East Berlin a "state border."

A WOMAN PATIENT was killed and seven other patients were injured when an American jet crashed through a roof of a hospital in Sheffield, England. Pilot of the plane bailed out safely. Firemen spent two hours bringing the flames under control. The plane, an F-84-F, tore off the roof of the Lodge Moor Hospital, where contagious disease patients are being cared for, and sliced through three cubicles before coming to a halt. Part of the plane landed in the hospital driveway. The dead woman was Mrs. Elsie Murdock, 46, of Sheffield.

Sunday, December 11
EAST GERMANY'S boast of sovereignty was contradicted when Russia acted in releasing two American GIs in Berlin. The two soldiers had been arrested by the East Berlin People's Police for assaulting a man. By its action, Russia demonstrated it had not entirely thrown off its responsibilities in what has been, since World War II, a city under four-power rule. The significance of the matter is that the East Germans have been proclaiming their full sovereignty in East Berlin for the past several days. East German was going to try the two soldiers according to a treaty with the Soviet Union.

The treaty, it was said, gave East Germany control over East Berlin.

FRANCE HAS DECIDED to postpone legislative elections in Algeria. The election was set for January 2. Voting on that day has been decreed for all of France, and Algeria, being a legal part of Metropolitan France, was supposed to have elected 30 deputies for a new National Assembly.

Because of a possible boycott by candidates and voters, a move is underway to seek to postpone the election indefinitely. A group, which includes legal and constitutional experts, was reported to have discovered a legal basis for such a postponement.

pouring artillery fire on Ein Gev, on the east shore. Israeli guns returned the fire. The five-hour battle was the biggest outbreak of fighting in the Middle East since the bloody Egyptian-Israeli warfare in the El Auja Zone early in November.

THE FATHER of three children went on a shooting rampage, killing his wife and brother-in-law, wounding his 15-year-old daughter, and then killed himself. The shooting climaxed a series of family arguments and battles in the last year or so which resulted in a separation.

Dead are Mrs. Vera Jackson, 36, of 11716 Steel; her brother, Harold Brenner, 29, of 1558 Calvert; and the killer - husband, Arthur, 38, 302 Belmont, all of Detroit. The Jackson's daughter, Barbara, is in Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY will start paying into the Ford supplemental unemployment benefit plan. First payment will be in the lump sum of $10,000,000 and it will go into the fund starting January 30, according to John S. Bugas, Ford Motor company vice president. The payment into the fund followed a ruling by the Treasury Department which cleared one of the last obstacles to the payment of modified guaranteed wages in the auto industry. Company payments into the fund will be considered tax-deductible business expense. The same Federal ruling is expected to apply also to similar plans at General Motors, Chrysler and other auto firms.

"UNSATISFACTORY" was the term used following a four-hour talk between the newspaper publishers and the powerful Detroit Typographical Union. Kenneth Hull, DTU president, made the remark, adding that it "doesn't look good." Officials of the Newspaper Publishers Association did not comment. On Monday, there had been optimism during meetings that the 12-day-old tie up of the News, Times and Free Press would set a wage pattern. Since the strike began December 1, subsequent negotiations have cleared all issues except those involving working hours and wages. Talks on these have been in recess since Saturday, subject to call by Federal and State mediators.

THE FORD FOUNDATION has given a half-billion dollars to privately supported hospitals and educational institutions all over America. The appropriation will be paid out over an 18-month period. The money will be spent as follows: $210,000,000 for grants to 615 liberal arts and science colleges and universities to help raise teachers' salaries; $200,000,000 for 3,500 privately supported hospitals to allow them to extend their services; $90,000,000 for privately supported medical schools to help them strengthen their instruction.

A GROUP of Detroiters have filed suit in Ingham County Circuit Court against State Banking Commissioner Maurice C. Eveland. The group, led by Banker Joseph T. Verhelle, claim that Eveland is giving them the "run-around" in their attempt to establish a new bank in downtown Detroit. Verhelle said that he and his group had met all the requirements necessary to gain permission to organize and that Eveland assured him there was no grounds for denial. It was charged that permission should have been granted 60 days after the petition was filed, and by not granting the request, Eveland exceeded his authority.

SKI LODGES READY
Ski lodges in eastern Canada are preparing for the early winter holiday season. New Ribbon of Concrete Into the Northland

Five miles of new 22-ft. concrete pavement 8 inches thick, reinforced with steel, from Grayling south on US-27 was opened to traffic on December 1. This section is part of the ultimate four-lane divided interstate highway from Detroit to the Straits of Mackinac, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said. This new pavement roughly parallels the old section of road which is narrow with many steep hills and poor sight distance. It is visible on the left in the picture. On the right of the picture is seen one of the State Highway Department roadside parks. The new road levels the hills, has no steep grades and affords clear vision the entire distance. Pending the construction of two additional lanes, the new section will be used during the winter months for two-way traffic. During the rest of the year it will be the north-bound lanes.

Pikes Succeed In Other States

With Michigan's Turnpike Authority pressing to solve financial problems, attention turned, too, to highway progress in other states. In Columbus, Ohio Turnpike traffic for October exceeded expectations with 956,652 vehicles using the facility paying $1,034,113 for the privilege. Revenues far exceeded operating expenses and interest. The Authority will also add concession revenue from gasoline and restaurant facilities along the turnpike to its toll income. Restaurant concessionaires pay more than 17 per cent of their gross to the Commission and gasoline stations pay about six and one-half cents on each gallon of fuel sold, and 10 per cent of gross revenue from sale of oil and service. All the income will go to pay for the cost of construction, maintenance and operation of the facility. Indiana's Gov. George N. Craig reported the 166-mile Indiana east-west toll road will open in November, 1956 linking New York with Chicago on a toll network in this state, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The Governor cited the Indiana project as an example of what a state can do without waiting for Federal aid. He said Indiana is now studying a north-south turnpike from Chicago to Indianapolis. The Illinois Toll Authority, meanwhile, has marketed $415,000,000 in toll road bonds to construct a 103-mile turnpike network to serve congested areas near Chicago, Elgin, South Beloit and Aurora. Gov. William Stratton says the toll construction, coupled with Highway Department road building, will give Illinois a billion dollars in new highways within the next few years. Commercial revenues on the New York State Thruway during October increased for the 16th straight month the Thruway Authority has announced. Thruway patrons traveled 87,763,778 miles on the toll road in October and that month's toll collections boosted the 1955 grand total to $10,873,488. Meanwhile, in New Jersey, the Garden State Parkway has the lowest traffic fatality rate among United States toll roads, the New Jersey Highway Traffic Authority announced. The Authority's report said there have been only nine fatal accidents on the parkway since it opened in August, 1954. With a volume of 39,000,000 toll-paying vehicles in the 15-month period, the fatality rate is less than one per cent and is the lowest in the nation for roads carrying similar traffic volume, the report said. The first 100-mile leg of Florida's $200,000,000 Sunshine State Parkway is under construction between Fort Pierce and the outskirts of Miami. When completed late in 1956, the southern segment of the turnpike will enable motorists to speed by heavily congested areas like West Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale and Hollywood en route down U. S.-1 to Miami.

Andrew Mellon Stamp Goes on Sale Dec. 20

WASHINGTON—Exercises will be held Tuesday, December 20, in the National Gallery of Art to inaugurate the first-day issue of the 3-cent stamp bearing the portrait of Andrew W. Mellon, who founded the gallery. The stamp is being issued during the centennial year of Mellon's birth. David E. Finley, director of the gallery, announced that Arthur E. Summerfield, Postmaster General, and Senator Edward Martin, Republican of Pennsylvania, would speak at the ceremony. Mellon was Secretary of the Treasury from 1921 to 1932, when he became Ambassador to Great Britain. He died in 1937. Stamp collectors desiring first-day cancellations of the new stamp may send addressed envelopes to the Postmaster at Washington, with money order to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Gets Under Way in Pointes

Because mailing of donation envelopes had been delayed when Grosse Pointe fire fighters, letter carriers and other volunteer workers conducted their March for Muscular Dystrophy, a special campaign is now under way. "Due to a mix-up," said Paul J. Militello, campaign director, "several thousand of these envelopes were not distributed to residents in the Pointes area. These letters are now in the hands of all residents. They can be given to the carriers on their regular rounds, or mailed without postage."

Chief William Mason, of the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department, whose men participated in the drive, urges all contributors to be generous and those who haven't so far contributed can make the campaign a success by their co-operation. "Drives conducted in previous years," Militello said, "made available orthopedic appliances, medicine and physical therapy as well as the operation of the Muscular Dystrophy Clinic under the direction of Dr. Max K. Newman. Also supported were 87 research projects which are trying to find the cause and cure of this disease."

Muscular dystrophy can strike in any family. Most victims are children. It is not contagious or infectious but is nearly always fatal. "Christmas will be made brighter in the homes of many sufferers from muscular dystrophy if every householder in the Grosse Pointes does his part. Post your contribution today or give it to your letter carrier immediately," Militello urged.

ELECTRICITY PRODUCTION

Production of electricity in the United States in the week ended Dec. 3 set a new peak for the year at 11,350,000,000 kilowatt hours, crossing the 11,000,000,000 mark for the second time on record. The total was 18.2 per cent above a year ago and compares with 10,727,000,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week. The previous top was 11,149,000,000 in the week ended Nov. 19.

SCHOOL TAX BOOST

Present Grosse Pointe school taxes for debt will be raised by less than half a mill (that's less than 50¢ per $1,000 of assessed valuation) by all of the proposals in the January 24 election.

Babe Ruth Loop Holds Election

In a meeting held at Parcels Junior High School on Tuesday, December 6, nearly 80 members of the Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Babe Ruth Baseball League elected 12 men to its Board of Governors. The board is the administrative body of the league. Earlier in the meeting the membership voted to enlarge the date for the annual meeting from December to October. Newly elected members to the board were: Charles E. Boardman, F. A. Colombo, John W. Elling, Walter E. Foraker, William R. Hill, Norbert N. Jacoby and George R. Wilson. Re-elected to the board were incumbants Vince Butterly, Thomas F. Cram Jr., John MacDonald, Fred Olmsted and Afton Sauer. Conversation in the meeting indicated the Babe Ruth League, which afforded 135 boys the opportunity to play baseball in 1955, could very easily expand to 250 boys in the 1956 season. Gossip is a deadly poison that kills the best friendships.

Oil For The Homes Of America

Here is the world's largest Santa Claus parked on the roof of one of 61,000 American homes which the old gent could supply with a tankful of oil from just one delivery by the Spyros Niarchos, the world's largest oil tanker. Launched at Barrow-in-Furness, England, on Dec. 2, the 757-foot giant joins the fleet of Stavros S. Niarchos, leading independent tanker owner. Rated 47,750 tons, with tanks for 16,800,000 gallons, this ship will provide the lowest-cost transportation yet achieved.

Juvenile Division Police to Meet

Juvenile Division officers of the Park Woods and Harper Woods will host the Juvenile Officers Association at 11:30 a.m. today, December 15, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Patrolman Robert Hyde, Woods Juvenile officer and chairman of arrangements and invitations for the affair, disclosed that guest speaker for the occasion will be Detroit Police Commissioner Edward Piggis. Other guests, not scheduled to speak, will be Nathan Kaufman, judge of Juvenile Courts; Woods Judge Don Goddrow, and Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger. Detroit Police Inspector Francis Davey, president of the association will preside at the gathering. Patrolman Hyde stated that approximately 100 officers from communities in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Huron Counties are expected to attend.

Plan Conference for Women Whose Families Are Grown

Many Grosse Pointe area women have marked Friday January 20, on their calendars to note the one-day conference, "Age of Opportunity," recently announced by the University of Michigan Extension Service. Co-sponsors of the program, which will be held at the Rackham Educational Memorial, are the Extension Service and the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs, with many other groups lending support. The opportunities as well as the problems of those who are "39" or over will be highlighted in general sessions and down-to-earth discussion groups. The general committee has been working for weeks to plan a conference that will be of practical help and inspiration to those women who want to make the most of the years that are theirs after family responsibilities have lightened and there are changes in the family circle. Keynote speaker will be Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, assistant to the Secretary of Labor for Women's Affairs, Washington, D.C. "Women and Money" will be discussed by J. Clarence Crix, assistant vice president of the Detroit-Wabec Bank and Trust Company. A feature of the conference will be discussion groups focused on topics of interest to women in various situations. Widows, grandmothers, women as job-seekers, women with older parents, and women with husbands at home, will all find a group. Nor has the single woman been overlooked—there will be a discussion group for her, too. Individuals may register for the conference for one dollar. Clubs and other women's groups are invited to take advantage of the group registration plan. Under this arrangement, a club may pay the group enrollment fee of $3, which entitles any or all of its members to attend the conference without payment of further fees (except for the conference luncheon). Group registrations must be made with the Office of the University of Michigan Extension Service (60 Fornsworth Avenue) by Monday, January 16. The general committee for the conference is headed by Irene J. Kauska, who is in charge of the University's Detroit program at the Rackham Educational Memorial, and Mrs. Ralph L. Young, president of the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs.

Gamma Rays Suggest Way To Destroy Food Germs

Instead of sterilizing food by heating or cooking it or adding preservatives, why not irradiate it? Germs that putrefy would be killed and the original flavors preserved. As yet there is no such irradiated food on the market. Some day there will be. The germ killers are the gamma rays given off by radium and by some radio isotopes. Gamma rays are like X-rays but much more powerful. The unit of measurement is the Roentgen for both gamma rays and X-rays. A dose of 200 to 500 Roentgens of gamma radiation is fatal to man. Yet it takes 2,000,000 Roentgens to sterilize food and drugs. Hence the importance of determining just when a package of food or drug has had enough radiation—enough in the sense that germs have been killed. The problem has been solved by Dr. Ernest J. Henley, assistant professor of chemical engineering in Columbia University. Dr. Henley has found that ordinary blue cellophane changes color when exposed to gamma radiation. As the Roentgens pile up, the dark blue color gradually lightens. When a certain shade is reached, sterilization may be considered complete. What will be the effect of radiation on the food inside of a package, apart from sterilizing it? Dr. Charles G. King and Robert R. Becker, two well-known biochemists of Columbia University, have been testing irradiated foods on rats to find out. The findings are regarded not as conclusive but as indicating the need for further investigation.

Supplies Fair On Yule Trees

Reported shortages of trees from Montana and Canada will not greatly affect residents of Michigan and the Midwest. Members of the Michigan Christmas Tree Growers Association are still able to supply Red Pines and Jack Pines in fair quantity, according to Eugene R. Kuhne, of the Association. There are no large stockpiles of trees on the grower level for immediate loading and shipment, but uncut stands of the pines are still available and most growers are able to get out a truck load of trees on two or three days' notice. Current prices are a few cents higher per tree than 10 days ago due to the higher labor costs involved in cutting and getting out trees. Since most of the trees have changed hands prior to the heavy snowfall and at the regular prices, little if any increase in retail prices in Michigan is expected. Most retail lots will be about five days late in getting set up this year, as loading and deliveries have been slowed by the adverse weather condition.

Campus Police Handle Big Job

A quarter of a million spectators attended Michigan State University football games this fall creating one of the special problems faced by the university police each year.

This flood of sports-loving humanity required a great many automobiles for transportation in to and out of the campus area on football Saturdays.

The problem of keeping the East Lansing area free from hardening of the traffic arteries is of such scope, in fact, that other law enforcement agencies have to be called in to assist campus police. Students are hired to help also.

The 25-member police department has other important tasks. It keeps a vigil over the 3,725-acre Michigan State campus and its nearly 100 permanent buildings and 500 temporary structures valued at $70 million. They are inspected regularly by the police.

Like most other fast growing modern communities, the University had to install parking meters to insure a flow of traffic and parking space turnover in central campus areas.

Other protective services are offered by the fire prevention bureau of the department, and its detective bureau which investigates any complaints of criminal activity.

Campus police assist stalled motorists whenever possible, sometimes relay emergency messages to students and staff members when other communication means fail. In a recent month they made 85 hospital runs for the benefit of sick and injured.

University police department came into existence in 1947 at the bidding of the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of M. S. U. East Lansing police patrolled the campus previously. It was felt that campus police would be closer to student and faculty affairs and that better service could be offered by a separate, specialized department.

Arthur F. Brandstatter, present chief of police, has headed the department since its inception. Then a member of the M. S. U. police administration department, he had headed East Lansing police and previously had been a member of the Detroit police department. He has served as U. S. government consultant on public safety and administrative problems in Germany and South Vietnam.

Testimony Shows Dealer Confused

WASHINGTON, D. C.—M. H. Yager, Albany, N. Y., Pontiac dealer, who complained to a Senate subcommittee about his treatment by General Motors, has made a total gain of over $1,000,000 in 14 years on an original investment of $5,000 of his own money, it was disclosed.

W. F. Hufstader, vice president of General Motors in charge of its Distribution Staff, revealed Mr. Yager's record in testimony before the Senate Subcommittee on Anti-Trust and Monopoly.

Mr. Hufstader submitted information showing:

1. Mr. Yager's total investment when he became a Pontiac dealer in February, 1941, was $10,000, of which $5,000 was borrowed; Motors Holding-Division of General Motors advanced him $30,000.
2. Mr. Yager's sales were good during the early, non-competitive postwar years but slipped in 1953, 1954, and 1955 despite increasing registrations of all makes in Albany. By his own admission, he devotes only about half his time to the automobile business, yet in 1954 and again in Oct. 25, 1955, he asked for additional Pontiac dealerships in New York State.
3. He testified that he has shown a "small profit" this year, but Mr. Yager's financial statement for 1955 through October shows a "small" gain for that period of $81,898, including net profit after taxes, salary, and dealer's bonus.

"Mr. Yager has been content to receive a handsome profit, without assuming the obligation of providing Pontiac with a fair share of the new car sales in this market," Mr. Hufstader said.

The ability to do without has put many a man in a position to do as he pleases.

Yard May Offer Yule Decorations

In Michigan, the most common kinds of trees that provide greenery for holiday decorations are red or Norway pine, jack, Scotch and white pine, balsam fir, white cedar, juniper, and black, white and Norway spruce.

The best of these for indoor Christmas decorations, explains Joseph T. Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University, are the pines, the first and the cedars.

Both hemlock and spruce are good for exterior wreaths and garlands, but when they are brought into a warm building, they may lose their needles within a week. Of the pines, white pine is easiest to work with, because the stems are thin and the foliage soft and bushy. Juniper provides excellent decorative material, but it is hard to use because of its very sharp-pointed scale-like leaves.

Cox suggests you don't overlook your own yard. Perhaps some of your garden and lawn evergreens need trimming. If you do this, be sure to trim them carefully with a sharp knife or sharp pruning shears. Make the cut close to the tree limb so that no ugly stub is left.

Also remember that all evergreens should be cut with a sharp knife or shears so that the wounds heal quickly. Proper trimming can improve a tree's appearance and stimulate growth. Trimming in late November and December appears to do no harm to forest or garden evergreens.

Cox warns that collecting greenery from federal or state lands is prohibited without the permission of the forester or conservation officer in charge.

UN Educational Unit Issues Student Guide

The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization has issued its 1955-1956 edition of Study Abroad, a publication listing more than 50,000 fellowships and scholarships offered to foreign students by institutions in more than 100 countries.

The publication also includes a survey of foreign student enrollments in universities and other institutions of higher education throughout the world.

This survey shows that 125,000 students were studying in foreign countries in 1954.

The United States, with 33,833, had the largest enrollment of foreign students; France ranked second, with 9,328; and Britain third, with 8,619 students.

ILLINOIS LIBRARY CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—The University of Illinois, with 3,551,292 items in its collection, has the largest state university library in the United States.

Its size is exceeded only by the Harvard and Yale libraries. The Illinois library added 112,117 books, pamphlets, maps, manuscripts and other items to its collection in 1955.

Men Gardeners Holding Session

Soils and organic gardening will be the topic when the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe meets tonight, Dec. 15, at the War Memorial Center.

William Jones of the Roy D. Chapin estate, will be the speaker. An egg-shaman, Mr. Jones will discuss the extensive soil conservation and use of organic matter in the soil practiced by British gardeners. There also will be a movie on the topic.

The nominating committee has selected the following officers for 1956:

Tom Robitaille, president; Ben W. Beyer, vice president; Alfred Tepert, recording secretary; Ralph Lombard, corresponding secretary; Harold C. Hill, treasurer; Richard Huegli, parliamentarian, and Gilbert Boucke, librarian.

It's a fact that people who hit the bull's eye are those who've spent a lot of time trying.

U. of D. Campus Is Aglow With Yuletide Atmosphere

University of Detroit fraternities, sororities and organizations have started Christmas celebrations early this year.

The McNichols Road campus took on the Yuletide atmosphere when the groups started to promote parties, dinners and shows with the theme of "putting Christ back into Christmas."

The festivities began with the setting up of the official University Christmas Tree in the lobby of the Student Union building. The ceremony and decoration was sponsored by the U. of D. Women's League.

In addition to the official tree, Delta Sigma Phi, national social fraternity, has constructed a 25-foot Greek tree in front of the Chemistry building.

Underprivileged children will have a merrier holiday due to the efforts of Sigma Sigma Sigma, national social sorority, and Magi, campus social fraternity.

Little girls at the Casa Maria Home will don new outfits for the holidays when Sigma Sigma Sigma pays them a visit this year. The clothes outgrown by the sorority members will be given to the girls in the home.

Magi fraternity will treat the little boys to a day-out with dinner followed by a show of their choice. Plans to aid a Roseville mother of four children, whose husband has been hospitalized in Pontiac for two years, are being formed by the pledges of Alpha Gamma Upsilon, national social fraternity.

Other plans for celebrating Christmas include the entertaining of youngsters at Children's Hospital by the U. of D. Red Cross Board members and the aiding of the Patna Jesuit Missions in India by the Sodality's Christmas card sale. U. of D. students have found that Christmas is merrier if they help others.

Post Office Asks For Early Mail

Reporting that his "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign is really in high gear, Postmaster Edward L. Baker gave some helpful hints on how you can be sure that your Christmas cards will reach everyone on your list before December 25.

"When you use three-cent stamps on your Christmas cards, you get first-class mail service," he said, "first class friends deserve first-class mail and the use of first-class postage makes it certain that your Christmas cards will be delivered promptly. Also, use of first-class postage insures forwarding service if the addressee has moved or the card will be returned to you if the recipient cannot be located. Then, too, on Christmas cards sent by first-class mail, you can include handwritten messages, making your greetings more personal."

It is perfectly correct, and, in fact, advisable to include your return name and address on each Christmas card envelope. This helps your friends to keep their mailing list up-to-date and insures correction of your list if the cards is returned as undeliverable. Postmaster Baker warns that if any of your Christmas card envelopes are larger than 9"x12" or smaller than 2 3/4"x4" they must be sent by first-class mail because such cards require hand cancellation.

When your Christmas cards are ready to mail, you will do both yourself and Postmaster Baker a real favor by putting the cards with local addresses in one bundle and those for out-of-town destinations in another. Then mark each bundle with special identification labels you can get free at the Post Office which read "ALL FOR OUT-OF-TOWN DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY."

Regarding the mailing of Christmas gifts, Postmaster Baker points out that right now the big double rush is beginning with the out-going Christmas mails paralleling the flood of incoming packages and Christmas cards. He urges that you get your out-of-state packages into the Post Office within the next day or two and do everything possible to mail all of your Christmas gifts for local delivery by December 15th.

The Postmaster said that he'd appreciate cooperation from all business firms to delay the mailing of circulars and catalogs not pertaining to pre-Christmas advertising until after December 25. He also suggested that they step up their regular correspondence mailings to 2 p.m. or earlier each day.

Opportunity Up For '56 Grads

EVANSTON, Ill. — Northwestern University predicts that jobs for college graduates next year will reach the highest peak in recent years and that starting salaries will be the highest in history. The university's forecast was based on its annual country-wide employment survey, in which 160 companies were canvassed by Dr. Frank S. Endicott, Northwestern director of placement. The findings, he said, indicated optimism. The employers said that they would seek about 30 per cent more college men than they hired last year. In engineering fields, the demand for college graduates is up 47 per cent.

The demand in other fields is greatest for men with training in general business, sales and accounting, Dr. Endicott said. Jobs for women are fewer in business and industry, but employers reported a need for women with secretarial training or with majors in chemistry or mathematics.

The report said that the average starting salary for engineers would be $394 a month, about $23 higher than last year. Graduates with nontechnical backgrounds will be offered about $260, employers reported. "The employers stress the importance of the job interview for college men seeking employment," Dr. Endicott declared. "They offered definite suggestions for the senior who wants to make a good impression during the interview."

The senior should understand his interests and abilities and know what fields of work he wants, the employers said. They added that some applicants could define their own interests, but were not sufficiently clear on the particular job they desired. "Knowing important facts about the company, its products and services also creates a favorable impression, they reported, and here many applicants fall short."

EMBARRASSING
A ramshackle jalopy pulled into a used-car lot with a mighty rattle and an ear-splitting grinding of brakes, and the driver asked to be shown some second-hand cars. The salesman inquired: "Tired of the old bus, I suppose?" But the motorist said it wasn't that... every time he parked his car, a policeman dashed up to make sure the accident had been reported.

Curtice Bares GM Facts In U.S. Anti-Trust Quiz

WASHINGTON — General Motors' growth in a highly competitive industry are due largely to its effective management structure and its "inquiring mind" approach to problems, President Harlow H. Curtice contends.

Curtice, testifying before the Senate Subcommittee on Anti-Trust and Monopoly, has submitted the most detailed and comprehensive statement of General Motors' history, organization and policies ever made public.

The subcommittee asked Curtice to testify in its economic study of General Motors. Curtice traced General Motors' resurgence and subsequent success from the year 1921 when Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., now chairman of the board and formerly president of GM, took charge and reorganized the corporation with a unique and clearly defined philosophy of management.

Twice in its previous history—in 1910 and again in 1920—General Motors was in serious financial difficulty.

Since then, Curtice said, General Motors has grown to be the world's foremost manufacturer and has enabled "a vast number of other people to share in its prosperity."

In a 97-page statement, accompanied by supporting charts and statistics, Curtice:

1—Listed major contributions to progress already made by General Motors, ranging all the way from electric self-starter introduced in 1911 to automatic transmissions; from "ethyl" gasoline to the panoramic windshield; from improved fractional horsepower electric motors for household appliances to the powerful two-cycle light-weight Diesel engine which has revolutionized the railroads.

To Be Soloist With Symphony

Mischa Mischaikoff, violinist, will be the soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday, December 15, at 8:30 p.m., in the Masonic Auditorium. Paul Paray will conduct.

Michaikoff will play the Tchaikovsky Concerto in D major for Violin and Orchestra. Paray has also programmed the Schubert Overture to "Rosamunde," Haydn's Symphony in D major, No. 96 ("The Miracle"), and Two Dances from "The Three Cornered Hat" by Falla.

As concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for the past three seasons, Mischaikoff has contributed much to the excellence of the organization's string section. Called "the world's greatest concertmaster," Mischaikoff brought his talents for ensemble work to the Detroit Orchestra after serving fifteen years as concertmaster with Toscanini and the NBC Symphony.

A graduate of the Imperial Conservatory at St. Petersburg, Mischaikoff received the Rubenstein Gold Medal Prize in 1912. He came to America in 1922 and was naturalized in 1927. Before coming to this country Mischaikoff was concertmaster with the Moscow Grand Opera and the Warsaw Philharmonic and soloist with all the major European orchestras.

In 1923 he won the New York Stadium Auditions and the following year became concertmaster for the New York Symphony. In 1927 he took the same position with the Philadelphia Orchestra and later the same in Chicago.

Reservations for the concert are available at the Symphony Office, Masonic Temple, TE 1-3900 or Grinnell's at $3.60, $3, $2.40, $1.80, $1.20 and 60c.

Five Pin Teams In Stretch Race

With but two nights of competition left in the first half of the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's bowling league season the battle for first place narrows down to five teams which are separated by the narrow margin of five points.

The Wigle team continued to lead the pack by splitting with Turner Buick in last Friday's December 9 match and remained one and a half points ahead of second place Barrett, who dropped three points to third place Boutin.

Revere made a strong bid to improve its standing when it clipped Belding for four points with Herb Miller pacing the sweep with a 555 series.

Adam-Simms practically assured itself of finishing out of last place when City Glass forfeited its match while Lochmoor remained in contention for the leadership by sweeping four points from G.P. Curtain behind Swede Johnson's 574-series. Currently, Lochmoor is in fifth place, just four points behind the leading Wigle team.

Auto Output Tops Forecast; What's Ahead for 1956?

This year's indicated output of 2,250,000 motor vehicles tops a post-war production achievement of fantastic proportions. Since 1900—the year the auto industry began keeping production records—150 million cars and trucks have rolled from the factories.

More than 50 million of them have been built in the last 7 1/2 years, including about 42 million cars. Final figures for the year probably will show about 7,500,000 retail car deliveries. An undetermined number of these would not have been possible but for price slashing at the dealer level. In the face of this price-cutting by dealers, almost every car maker raised prices on 1956 models. This makes the task of the retailer increasingly difficult.

The 1956 price increases, if they are passed on to the buyer, undoubtedly will send many of these prospects back into the used car market.

But nobody is predicting a major slump. Even the retailers, many of whom have been complaining about "overproduction," say the industry will sell a lot of cars in 1956.

It is agreed among analysts that price discounting at the dealer level attracted many customers who otherwise would have bought in the used car market. The 1956 price increases, if they are passed on to the buyer, undoubtedly will send many of these prospects back into the used car market.

GIFT SHOP ROBBED
Farms police were informed by Dant's Gift Shop, 88 Kercheval, that on Saturday, December 3, someone had taken two table lighters and a cup made in Italy from a gift display. The items were valued at $12 and $20 a set. The report was made on Tuesday, December 6.

UNWRITTEN LAWS

One of the most irritating and dangerous situations is where a truck for miles and passes up one good opportunity after another to get by safely. This holds up traffic behind. The resulting driver frustration tempts some motorists to chance the "long jump" and pass both the timid car and the truck.

The timid driver should "either fish or cut bait". He should either pass at the first safe opportunity, or he should lay way back of the truck. This would let a driver behind pass him and then pass the truck. This results in two safe passes instead of one dangerous one. Impatient drivers should remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"

Fashions In Rayon

RESORT RECOLLECTIONS bring all sorts of exciting things to mind—blue skies, Southern climes, gay, mad fun and fresh, sparkling clothes. But even more, they are a forecast for Spring, so those of us who can't "resorting" can dream and plan for the future. Once again, the American Rayon Institute comes forth with an intriguing new rayon fabric. A 100% rayon fabric called "Drumbeat" that is fashionably textured, nubby, with a linen look, plus being washable and available in a galaxy of wonderful colors. It's made by Reliable Textiles, and is a welcome addition to both the children's and the adult fashion market. The happy, fashion-right family pictured features little and big sister in matching suits with long torso, back-bowed jackets by June Joy, and mother in her slim beige sheath with big pockets and perky striped bow, by Dan Keller.

World Shocked by Religious Persecution

Religious persecution of Baha'is in Iran; destruction by Mohammedan Mullahs of their beautiful Temple in Wilmette, Ill.

A pickaxe blow by Mohammedan Mullah Falsafi signalled the destruction of the Baha'i Temple dome in Teheran, and the beginning of a wave of persecution against the Baha'is in Iran. Oppression started when Mullahs incited mobs to atrocities against Baha'is, the largest minority religion. They were tortured, their property destroyed, and the holiest Baha'i site in Iran looted. In sharp contrast, the beauty and serenity of their U.S. headquarters at Wilmette, Ill., reflects the dignity of the Faith and the respect accorded it in other countries all over the world. Baha'is is internationally recognized as an independent religion, and is represented in the U.S. in over 1400 cities and towns. It proclaims the divine origin of all faiths and the unity of the Prophets. Members are among the most respected people in any community. In attempts to halt the persecution in Iran, Baha'is appealed to the UN under the Declaration of Human Rights, which Iran had signed. Physical atrocities stopped, at least temporarily. But 600 Centers in Iran are still closed, Baha'is forbidden to assemble and worship, their children denied schooling, and the government has ordered discharge of all Baha'is from their posts. Independent observers agree that the situation in Iran cannot be resolved until Baha'is are granted full legal recognition and the basic right to freedom of worship.

THE STARS

AS READERS must have gathered by now, we have no particular love for soap operas. They are all a super-hyped exaggeration of life with every conceivable trouble in the world happening to the one person, be it hero or heroine (usually heroines since they suffer so much more beautifully). . . . Our award for the most ridiculous of them all, however, must surely go to "The Brighter Day". . . . Since it is the life of a minister and his family, it could be interesting fare. . . . Instead it is hum-drum material that is dragged on into months for each small episode in the good preacher's life. The first five minutes of the show is a repeat of the last five minutes of the previous show. . . . One half-hour in the lives of the persons living the story will stretch into two weeks' histrionics. . . . The various story angles are obvious and contrived. . . . For instance, at the moment there is the case of the poor woman in the clutches of her unmerciful brother-in-law. . . . He has taken an imaginary trip to see his "doctor" and returns with a wheel chair which he announces he will have to use the rest of his life. This is to produce sympathy and to his sister-in-law to him forevermore. . . . However, in real life even a morn would call the doctor direct to get all the details and learn that such a trip was never made. . . . Eventually, of course, the nasty old brother-in-law will be found out, but not until six months and many tears later. And while on the subject of soap operas, there is a character in "First Love" who we sincerely hope is not typical of our public administrators. . . . He is a district attorney whose fiancée has better judgment of people than he has.

"SAGE BRUSH" EXERCISE . . . Light tank engages in army maneuvers in Louisiana as 4th Armored Division tests men and equipment in latest atomic age concepts of war.

Opening the 1955 TB Christmas Seal sale in Michigan, Gov. G. Mennen Williams buys the first seals from Marcella and Jimmy Raff, Lansing. The annual Christmas Seal sale lasts from Nov 16 through Christmas. Funds raised will work year-round to fight tuberculosis—Michigan's greatest killer, among infectious diseases.
